The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Such resolution must refer to the proposed new or existing street or portion of street or other public way, the general nature of the improvement proposed and the nature of the aid to be furnished by the county and the fund or funds from which it is to be paid.

Thereafter and in accordance with such resolution the county may give aid in one or more of the following ways, viz, it may contribute money, acquire material and deliver the same, furnish engineering services or labor, or loan its road building machinery. [Approved by the Governor April 30, 1925.]

expense of such improvement," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. Before ordering any improvement to be made which is authorized by section one of this act, the city council shall pass an ordinance declaring its intention so to do, which said ordinance shall briefly describe the improvement and the land necessary or convenient to be taken therefor, and shall, in general terms, describe the district to be benefited by said improvement and to be assessed to pay the expense thereof, to be known as the assessment district, and refer to a plat or map, approved by the city council, which shall indicate by a boundary line the extent of the improvement and the land necessary or convenient to be taken therefor and shall indicate by a boundary line the extent of the territory to be included in said assessment district, which plat or map shall be on file in the office of the city engineer before said superintendent of streets shall proceed with the publication and posting of the notices of public work, and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the improvement and the land necessary or convenient to be taken therefor and as to the extent of the said assessment district. The city council may include in one proceeding, under one ordinance of intention, any of the different kinds of improvement mentioned in section one of this act, on any number of any public streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts or places, within such municipality, or any portion or portions thereof, whether contiguous or otherwise. Said city council may, in its discretion, order and declare that the whole or any percentage of, or any sum toward the expense of said improvement be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, in which case the sum or percentage to be paid shall be stated in said ordinance of intention.

Declaration

SEC. 2. Section four of said act approved March 24, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1913,

Sec. 4. Any persons interested, objecting to said improvement or to the extent of the assessment district, described in said ordinance of intention, may file a written protest with the clerk of the city council, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice required by section three of this act. Every such protest must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify the same, and must set forth the nature of his interest therein, and must be accompanied by the affidavit of one of the signers thereof that each signature thereof is the genuine signature of the person whose name is thereto subscribed; and in case any signature is made by an agent, there must be attached to the protest the affidavit of the agent that he is duly authorized to sign such protest. Any protest not complying with the foregoing requirements, shall not be considered by the city council. In the case of property held by tenancy in common, if any cotenant sign such protest, only the proportionate share of the frontage thereof represented by his interest therein, shall be counted in determining the amount of frontage represented by such protest. The clerk shall indorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him, and, at the next regular meeting of the city council, after the expiration of the time for filing protests, he shall present to said city council all protests so filed with him. If such protests are against said improvement, and said city council finds that the same are signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district, all further proceedings under said ordinance of intention, excepting in the cases hereinafter otherwise provided, shall be barred, and no new ordinance of intention for the same improvement shall be passed within six months after the presentation of such protest to the city council, unless the owners of a majority of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district shall in the meantime petition therefor, or unless at the time of hearing such protests the same shall be overruled by an affirmative vote of four-fifths of the members of the city council, in which event the decision of the city council shall be final and conclusive, and it shall immediately acquire jurisdiction to order the improvement described in the ordinance of intention.

When

frontage.

For the purpose of passing upon and determining the sufficiency of such protests in cases where by a resolution of intention it is declared that the city shall pay a percentage of the expense of the improvement, the city shall be deemed to be the owner of frontage within the assessment district bearing the same proportion to the whole frontage therein as the proportion of the expense which it is to pay, and the actual frontage of property within such district shall be increased by the addition of such amount as is necessary to produce said result, and the amount of frontage as so increased shall be the total frontage to be used in determining whether a protest is signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district.

Protest not signed by majority.

If such protests are against the improvement, and the council finds that they are not signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district, or if such protests are only against the extent of said assessment district, or if the proposed improvement is for the opening or extending of a street for a distance of not more than two blocks intervening between the terminations of two different streets, or two portions of the same street, existing at the time of the passage of the ordinance of intention for the proposed improvement, each of said different streets or said portions of the same streets being at least five blocks in length, and the opening or extending of the street described in the ordinance of intention through such intervening block or blocks will, together with such different streets or portions of the same street so existing, make one connecting or continuous street, as nearly as may be practicable, or if the proposed improvement is for the opening or extending of a street into a different street, for a distance of not more than one block intervening between the termination of such street so proposed to be opened or extended and such different street, when the street so proposed to be opened or extended through such intervening block exists, at the time of the passage of the ordinance of intention, for a distance of at least five blocks, or if the proposed improvement is for the opening or extending of a public street, lane, alley, court or place through the remainder of a block when such public street, lane, alley, court or place exists, at the time of the passage of the ordinance of intention for the proposed improvement, for at least one-half of the distance through such block, the city council shall thereupon fix a time for hearing said protests, not less than ten days after the meeting of the council at which such time is so fixed, and shall cause notice of the time of such hearing to be published for at least five days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or if there be no such daily newspaper, by at least two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated, the city council shall hear said protests at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If any such protests are sustained, no further proceedings shall be had under said ordinance of intention, but a new ordinance of intention for the same improvement may be passed at any time. If the protests are denied, the proceedings shall continue as if such protests had not been made. At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none are filed, or if protests are filed, and after hearing are denied, as above provided, then upon such denial, the city council shall acquire jurisdiction to order the improvement described in the ordinance of intention.

proceedings.

SEC. 3. Section five of said act approved March 24, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1903,

Sec. 5. Having acquired jurisdiction, the city council, shall, by ordinance, order said improvement to be made, and direct an action to be brought by the city attorney, in the proper superior court, in the name of the municipality, for the condemnation of the property necessary or convenient to be taken therefor. Such ordinance need not describe the property to be taken, nor the assessment district, but may refer to the ordinance of intention for all particulars.

made, as provided in this section, then and in that event, the said ordinance ordering the improvement may refer to said action and direct the city attorney to continue prosecution of the same, and said action shall then have like effect and be in lieu of and serve all the purposes of the action herein referred to, and shall thereafter be carried on in the same manner and subject to the provisions hereinafter stated, provided that the complaint in said action shall set forth or state the effect of the ordinance of intention in such proceedings but need not set forth or state the effect of the ordinance ordering the improvement. In the event that the complaint in such action shall omit to state the effect of the ordinance of intention in such proceedings, said complaint may be amended as of course to set forth said matters at any time before trial and shall thereupon satisfy the requirement as to reference to the ordinance of intention.

tion and

SEC. 4. Section ten of said act approved March 24, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 10. For the purpose of assessing the compensation and damages, the right thereto shall be deemed to have accrued at the date of the issuance of summons, and its actual value at that date shall be the measure of compensation for all property to be actually taken, and the basis of damages to property not actually taken, but injuriously affected, in all cases where such damages are allowed by the provisions of this act, provided, that in any case in which the issue is not tried within one year after the date of the commencement of the action, unless the delay is caused by the defendant, the compensation and damages shall be deemed to have accrued at the date of trial.

Interest.

If an order be made letting the plaintiff into immediate possession and the plaintiff shall take immediate possession upon commencing eminent domain proceedings and thereupon giving such security in the way of money deposits as the court may determine to be reasonably adequate to secure compensation to the owner, as provided in section fourteen of article one of the constitution, then the compensation and damages awarded shall draw interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of such order.

Subsequent improvements.

No improvements placed upon the property proposed to be taken, subsequent to the date of the publication of the notice of the passage of the ordinance of intention, or subsequent to the date of the filing of a notice of the pendency of an action brought for the condemnation of such property, shall be included in the assessment of compensation or damages.

The referees, or court, or jury, as the case may be, shall find separately:

Second—If any parcel of property sought to be condemned is only a part of a larger parcel, the damages which will accrue to the portion not sought to be condemned, and to each separate estate or interest therein, by reason of its severance from the portion sought to be condemned, and the construction of the improvement in the manner proposed by the plaintiff. Such damages must be fixed irrespective of any benefit from such improvement.

Sec. 16. The city engineer shall deliver said diagram to the street superintendent and shall indorse thereon the date of such delivery. The street superintendent upon receiving the said diagram shall proceed to assess the total expenses of the proposed improvement (first deducting from such total expenses such percentage thereof or sum toward the expense of said improvement, if any, as the city council may have declared by the ordinance of intention that the city shall pay) upon and against the lands, including the property of any railroad or street railroad, within said assessment district, except the land to be taken for such improvement, in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said improvement. The street superintendent shall complete said assessment within sixty days after the receipt by him of said diagram; provided, however, that the city council may by order extend the time for completing said assessment for a period not exceeding ninety days additional. The total expense of the improvements so to be assessed shall include the amounts awarded to the defendants by the interlocutory judgment in the action for condemnation, together with their costs, the compensation and expenses of the referees, as allowed by the court, and all other costs of the plaintiff in such action, the expenses of making the assessment, and all expenses necessarily incurred by said city, in connection with the proposed improvement for the publication of ordinances, posting and publication of notices, for maps, diagrams, plans, surveys, searches and certificates of title to the property to be taken, and all other matters incident thereto. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said ordinance be omitted from the assessment, then the total expenses of said improve- Public ment shall be assessed on the remaining lots lying within the boundaries of said assessment district, without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event the city council shall, in its ordinance of intention, declare that the said lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be included within the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, then such sum or sums as thereafter may be assessed against such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, shall be payable by the city out of the general fund, unless the city council shall in its ordinance of intention designate another fund; provided, however, that any such sum or sums which may be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and used, shall not be payable by the city when such sum or sums are paid by the owner of or the governing body controlling such lots, pieces or parcels of land.

The city treasurer shall, on receipt thereof, place the same in a special fund, designating such fund by the name of the improvement for which the assessment was made. The city council shall on or before the time when said assessments become delinquent, cause to be transferred from the general or other appropriate fund of the city to said special fund the percentage of, or the sum toward the total expense of such improvement to be paid by the city as and when so provided in the ordinance of intention.

Such citation shall notify the applicant when and where the charges of said unprofessional conduct will be heard, and that the applicant shall file his written answer, under oath, within twenty days next after the service on him of said citation or that default will be taken against him and his application for a certificate refused. The attendance of witnesses at such hearing may be compelled by subpoenas issued by the secretary of the board under its seal. Said citation and said subpoenas shall be served in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to the service of citation and subpoenas generally, and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force relating to subpoenas and to citations are hereby made applicable to the subpoenas and citations provided for herein. Upon the secretary's certifying to the fact of refusal of any person to obey a subpoena or citation to the superior court of the county in which the service was had, said court shall thereupon proceed to hear said matter in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to contempts for disobedience of process of the court, and should said court find that the subpoena or citation has been legally served, and that the party so served has wilfully disobeyed the same, it shall proceed to impose such penalty as provided in cases of contempt of court. In all cases of alleged unprofessional conduct, arising under this act, depositions of witnesses may be taken, the same as in civil cases and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force as to the taking of depositions are hereby made applicable to the taking of depositions under this act. entered against him, and his application refused. If the charges on their face be deemed sufficient by the board, and issue be joined thereon by answer, the board shall proceed to determine the matter, and to that end shall hear such proper evidence as may be adduced before it; and if it appear to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant is guilty as charged, no certificate shall be issued to him.

In the event of such suspension, the holder of such certificate shall not be entitled to practice thereunder during the term of suspension; but, upon the expiration of the term of said suspension, he shall be reinstated by the board and shall be entitled to resume his practice, unless it shall be established to the satisfaction of the board that said person so suspended from practice, has, during the term of such suspension, practiced in the State of California, in which event the board shall revoke the certificate of such person. If the court finds the evidence sufficient to sustain the judgment of the board, said judgment shall be upheld and affirmed, and if the court deems such evidence insufficient to justify the judgment of the board of medical examiners in revoking or suspending the license of the petitioner, said superior court shall have full power to annul or reverse said judgment. Any such application shall be in writing and shall set forth the amount of the authorized capital stock, the amount of the subscribed capital stock, the total value of the assets and the total amount of the existing indebtedness and shall further state, that after such creation of indebtedness, or division, withdrawal, payment, or distribution, the assets of the corporation taken at their reasonable value will be not less than the amount of the subscribed capital stock over and above the total indebtedness of the corporation; provided, however, that in the case of a corporation in liquidation applying for a permit to distribute a portion of its assets in lieu of this last and further statement the application shall state that the corporation is in process of liquidation, that it is not engaged, and does not propose to engage in business other than such as is appropriate or incidental to such liquidation, and that after such distribution the assets of the corporation taken at their reasonable value will be at least sufficient to pay and discharge the existing indebtedness and all future anticipated indebtedness of the corporation. The application shall further state that the holders of at least two-thirds of the subscribed capital stock have consented thereto either by instrument in writing filed with the secretary of such corporation or by vote at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose. Any party to said proceeding may appeal from the judgment therein as in other mandate proceedings except that notice of appeal shall be filed within ten days after notice of entry of judgment, and if not so filed said judgment shall become final. Any permit granted to a corporation in liquidation shall state on its face the amount of the subscribed capital stock, the amount of the assets and indebtedness which will remain after such distribution is had thereof, and the amount of the capital stock which said corporation shall thereafter be deemed to have until changed by law, which said amount of capital stock shall be the total value of such remaining assets; provided, however, that in case the articles of incorporation of said corporation provided for shares of stock of different classes or preferences such provision therein shall be applied and be as effective as though there had been no reduction or change in the amount of the capital stock. This company may, at its option, take all or any part of the property for which insurance hereunder is claimed at its ascertained or appraised value, and may also, at its option, in satisfaction of its liability hereunder, repair, rebuild, or replace any building or structure or machine or machinery used therein, with other of like kind and quality, within a reasonable time, upon giving notice within twenty days of its intention so to do after the receipt by it of the preliminary proof of loss, or, if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or, within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments. There can be no abandonment to this company of any property.

An action may also be brought and maintained against this company by members thereof for losses sustained if payment is with-

(b) There is hereby appropriated out of such fund all moneys received as operators' license fees and chauffeurs' license fees and duplicate operators' and chauffeurs' license fees and in addition thereto such portion of the remainder of such motor vehicle fund not exceeding in any registration year twenty per cent thereof as may be necessary for the maintenance of the division of motor vehicles to be expended by the division in carrying out the provisions of this act. There shall be deducted from the sums which the division is allowed to expend hereunder such amount as may be allowed to said division in each calendar year under budget appropriation by the state legislature. The division may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, sums not to exceed in the aggregate ten thousand dollars, said sums so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and by the controller. pheric conditions, produce ample driving light for the use of the operator of such vehicle but will not project a glaring or dazzling light to persons approaching such lights or to persons whom such headlights may approach.

Headlights shall be presumed to comply with this section if they comply with the following requirements and limitations when the vehicle upon which they are affixed is fully loaded; such compliance shall be presumed if such headlights are affixed to such vehicle in the manner required by this act and are of a type, or are equipped with lenses, reflectors or control devices which have been found to meet such requirements and limitations by the laboratory test provided in section one hundred two and when used in accordance with the instructions of the testing agency.

The light projected by such headlights shall be as follows:

1. In the median vertical plane parallel to the lamps on a level with the centers of the lamps, not less than one thousand eight hundred apparent candle power.

When the division of motor vehicles shall determine that any such device, when so operated during the times and under the conditions mentioned in section ninety-nine, will project a glaring or dazzling light to persons in front of such headlights or that such headlights when equipped or constructed with such

(a) The driver of any vehicles upon a public highway before starting, turning or stopping such vehicle shall first see that such movement can be made in safety, and if it can not be made in safety, shall wait until it can be made in safety; then, if the operation of any other vehicle may reasonably be affected by such movement, the driver shall give a signal plainly visible to the driver of such other vehicle of the intention to make such movement. Such signal may be given either by the use of the hand and arm in the manner hereinafter provided, or by means of a mechanical or electric device which meets the requirements hereinafter set forth and which has been approved by the division of motor vehicles as hereinafter provided.

The division may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, sums not to exceed in the aggregate twenty thousand dollars, said sums so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and by the controller. highway
fund.

(f) All moneys remaining in the motor vehicle fund after the expenditures hereinbefore in this section authorized, together with all sums that have been heretofore or that may be hereafter appropriated by the legislature for the same purpose, shall be paid into the state highway maintenance fund and shall be expended under the direction of the state department of public works for the maintenance, repair, widening, resurfacing and reconstruction of state roads and highways under the jurisdiction of said department and for the maintenance, repair, widening, resurfacing and reconstruction of roads and highways in state parks, subject to the approval redemption.

In all cases where a lot, piece, or parcel of land contained in any assessment has been sold or may hereafter be sold for delinquent taxes to the state, and the state has not disposed of the same, a partial redemption may be made, separately from the whole assessment, of any such lot, piece or parcel of land as follows:

If land has separate valuation.

If such lot, piece or parcel of land has a separate valuation on the assessment roll, such partial redemption shall be made in the manner following: In the estimate provided for in the preceding section, the auditor shall estimate the amount of state and county taxes due on such lot, piece or parcel of land, together with a proper proportion of the taxes due on personal property under such assessment, and of the taxes due each school, road, lesser or other taxation district; and such redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in the preceding section.

If such lot, piece or parcel of land does not have a separate valuation on the assessment roll, the auditor shall submit the description of the fractional part of the lot, piece or parcel of real property upon which redemption is requested, to the county assessor, who must place a valuation thereon. The auditor shall then estimate the amount of such taxes due on such lot, piece or parcel of land according to such relative or proportionate value and the taxes due on any improvements on the portion sought to be so redeemed, together with a relative proportion of the taxes due on personal property under such assessment, and of the taxes due each school, road, lesser or other taxation district; whereupon such redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in the preceding section; provided, that no lot, piece or parcel of land owned or claimed under contract by the person so redeeming shall be divided for the purpose of such redemption. In cases where written protest is filed within said twenty days to said division, the auditor shall withhold his estimate and refer the matter to the board of supervisors for decision. The board of supervisors shall set a time for hearing said protest, and cause a notice of the date of said hearing to be mailed by its clerk to the person or persons who have filed a written protest with the auditor, as above provided, at the post-office address named in such protest, at least five days prior to the date of such hearing, and at the termination of said hearing may confirm the act of the assessor or modify or set aside the same and its decision in the premises shall be final. In the event of such reference to the board of supervisors and of their dividing the assessment, the estimate of the auditor shall conform to the action of the board. A partial redemption may be made, in like manner, separately from the whole assessment, of an undivided interest in any real property, if such property has a separate valuation on the assessment roll; the auditor estimating the amount of taxes due on such undivided interest according to the proportion which such interest in said real property bears to the whole assessment. The recorder shall note, on the margin of the record of the certificate of sale a description of the property or undivided interest redeemed under this section, and shall specifically set forth the several amounts of taxes paid upon such redemption.

If no separate valuation.

Whenever any owner or owners of any lots and lands fronting on any street shall have heretofore done, or shall hereafter do any work (except grading) on such street, in front of any block, at his or their own expense, and the city council shall subsequently order any work to be done of the same class in front of the same block, said work so done at the expense of such owner or owners shall be excepted from the order ordering work to be done; provided, that the work so done at the expense of such owner or owners shall be upon the official grade, and in condition satisfactory to the street superintendent at the time said order is passed.

Sub. 10. Whenever the resolution of intention declares that the cost and expenses of the work and improvement are to be assessed upon a district, the city engineer shall make a diagram of the property affected or benefited by the proposed work or improvement, as described in the resolution of intention, and to be assessed to pay the expenses thereof. Such diagram shall show each separate lot, piece or parcel of land, and the dimensions of each such lot, piece or parcel of land, and the relative location of the same to the work proposed to be done. all within the limits of the assessment district; and when said diagram shall have been approved by the city council, the clerk shall certify the fact and date thereof. Immediately thereafter the said diagram shall be delivered to the superintendent of streets of said city, who shall, after the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets or city council on appeal, proceed to estimate upon the lands, lots or portions of lots within said assessment district, as shown by said diagram, the benefits arising from such work, and to be received by each such lot, portion of such lot, piece or subdivision of land, and shall thereupon assess upon and against said lands in said assessment district the total amount of the costs and expenses of such work, and in so doing shall assess said total sum upon the several pieces, parcels, lots or portions of lots, and subdivisions of land in said assessment district, benefited thereby, to wit: Upon each respectively, in proportion to the

In other respects the assessment shall be as provided in the next section, and the provisions of subdivisions one, two, three, four, five, six and seven of this section shall not be applicable to the work or improvement provided for in this subdivision.

Sub. 11. The terms, lot, lots, lands, piece or parcel of land wherever mentioned in this act shall be deemed to include and shall include property owned or controlled by any person, firm or corporation as a railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way, and whenever a railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way shall front on or abut or parallel or be included with or divide longitudinally any street improved under the provisions of this act or shall be included within any district to be assessed for the cost of any improvement provided in this act, such railroad right of way (whether the same is owned in fee or as an easement) shall be included in the warrant, assessment and diagram and shall be assessed in the manner and with the same effect as other lots, lands or pieces or parcels of land are assessed as provided in this act, and such railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way shall be subject to sale for nonpayment of assessments as in this act provided. Charge terminable by death.

(9) When more than one transfer, within the meaning of any of the preceding subdivisions of this section has been made, either before or after the passage of this act, by a decedent to one person, the tax shall be imposed upon the aggregate market value of all of the property so transferred to such person in the same manner and to the same extent as if all of the property so transferred were actually transferred by one transfer.

Urgency
measure.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section seven and to read as follows:

SEC. 7. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section one of article four of the constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately.

The facts constituting such urgency are as follows:

Foot and mouth disease exists among the deer in the Stanislaus national forest and until it is completely eradicated it is liable to be transmitted to domestic animals from time to time. If any legal obstacles prevent the maintenance of adequate quarantines or the destruction of infected animals the disease will spread among other animals to such an extent as to cause serious injury to the live stock industry of this state. Such a condition would also result in severe injury to general business from the establishment of embargoes by other states.

An act to provide for the growing of one variety or species of cotton, to wit, Acala, in certain prescribed and defined districts in the State of California; to prohibit the picking or harvesting of any variety or species of cotton other than that known as Acala in such districts; to prohibit the possession within such district for the purpose of planting any seeds or plants of any variety of species of cotton other than that known as Acala in such districts; to prohibit the ginning of any variety or species of cotton other than that known as Acala in such district; defining such districts; and fixing the penalty for a violation of this act.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1925.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Purposes of act; and advantages of restrictions upon planting and growing of cotton.

SECTION 1. The legislature hereby declares that the purposes of this act are to promote, encourage, aid, and protect the planting and growing of cotton in the State of California; that it believes this purpose best can be accomplished by restricting within certain areas hereafter defined the planting and growing of but one variety or species of cotton, to wit: "Acala"; that by this means alone is it possible to bring the cotton growing industry in the state to its highest possible development and to insure the growing of the most superior and economically most profitable variety or species of cotton; that the planting of pure seed is essential to the production of a more merchantable and better grade of cotton and cotton seed and for the production of a grade of fibre best suited for manufacturing purposes; that the planting of impure seed or plants other than that permitted in the areas hereinafter defined is an economical harm and loss to the planter thereof and an irreparable injury to the adjoining or neighboring growers; that the restriction of the use to which cotton lands may be used, as provided in this act, is essential to the highest development of the cotton growing industry and of benefit even to one who would violate the provisions of this act; that it is essential that but one variety of cotton should be ginned in the districts in this act defined, otherwise the gin will mix the different kinds of seed, crossing takes place in the fields, the varieties are mongrelized, and cease to be uniform, the fibre deteriorates in quality, and the seed rendered unfit for planting; that solely by restricting the growing of one variety or species of cotton in certain areas can the fibre be grown of uniform length and quality, and the highest price paid for the cotton thus obtained, and the production of fibre of different lengths or grades be prevented; that fibres of different lengths and grades are commercially inferior and when assembled in one lot or grade are classed and given the value of the lowest grade in the lot or sample; that Acala cotton is now the variety or species of cotton that has been most highly developed and improved and most suited commercially for growing in the districts in this act defined; that if future experiments should develop an improved variety or species of cotton, this bill can be amended to designate it; and that the districts in this act defined can be altered, restricted or extended.

SEC. 2. This act shall be so interpreted and construed as not to be considered the taking of private property without due process of law; nor disturbing the owner in the control or use of his land for lawful purposes; nor restricting his right to dispose thereof, but as a declaration by the legislature that its use for the purposes herein forbidden is prejudicial to the public interests and an economical loss to the state and an irreparable loss and injury to the cotton growers. Construction of act.

SEC. 3. In the districts in this act defined, it shall be unlawful to plant any seeds or plants of any variety or species of cotton other than the seeds or plants of that variety or species known as "Acala." Planting of cotton.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful in the districts in this act defined to pick or harvest cotton of any variety or species other than that known as "Acala." Picking of cotton.

Possession of cotton seed or plants.

SEC. 6. It shall be unlawful for any gin located or operating in any one of the districts in this act defined to gin any variety or species of cotton other than that known as "Acala." Ginning of cotton.

Penalties.

SEC. 9. If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this act shall, for any reason, be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act irrespective of the fact that any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality.

2. By securing from the commission a certificate of consent to self-insure, which may be given upon his furnishing proof satisfactory to the commission of ability to carry his own insurance and pay any compensation that may become due to his employees, the commission may, in its discretion, require such employer to deposit with the state treasurer a bond or securities, but not both a bond and securities, approved by the commission, in an amount to be determined by the commission. Such certificate may be revoked at any time for good cause shown after hearing had, such good cause including among other things, the impairment of the solvency of said employer, the practice by such employer or his agent in charge of the administration of its obligations under the workmen's compensation act of any of the acts denounced by sections 596 (b) or 633 of the Political Code, with respect to the conduct of insurance companies, their officers or agents. So long as the certificate of consent to self-insure has not been revoked, and the self-insurer has deposited with the state treasurer such bond or securities, the self-insurer shall not be required or obliged to pay into the state compensation insurance fund any sums covering liability for compensation, excepting life pensions; but shall be permitted, and such permission is hereby given the self-insurer, to fully administer any and all such compensation benefits assessed against the said insurer.

(b) If any employer shall fail so to secure the payment of compensation, any injured employee or his dependents may proceed against such employer by filing an application for compensation with the commission, and, in addition thereto, such injured employee or his dependents may bring an action at law against such employer for damages, the same as if this act did not apply, and shall be entitled in such action to the right to attach the property of the employer, at any time upon or after the institution of such action, in an amount to be fixed by the court, to secure the payment of any judgment which may ultimately be obtained. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except in so far as they may be inconsistent with this act, shall govern the issuance of and proceedings upon such attachment; provided, that if as a result of such action for damages a judgment is obtained against such employer in excess of the compensation awarded under this act, the compensation awarded by the commission, if paid, or if security approved by the court be given for its payment, shall be credited upon such judgment; provided further, that in such action it shall be presumed that the injury to the employee was a direct result and grew out of the negligence of the employer, and the burden of proof shall rest upon the employer to rebut the presumption of negligence. In such proceeding it shall not be a defense to the employer that the employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence, or assumed the risk of the hazard complained of, or that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow servant. SECTION 1. Section two hundred seventy of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

to provide child with

other remedial care for his child is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding two years or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both. This statute shall not be construed so as to relieve such father from the criminal liability defined herein for such omission merely because the mother of such child is legally entitled to the custody of such child nor because the mother of such child, or any other person, or organization, voluntarily or involuntarily furnishes such necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for such child, or undertakes to do so.

Proof of abandonment or desertion of a child by such father, or the omission by such father to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his child is prima facie evidence that such abandonment or desertion or omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care is wilful and without lawful excuse.

In the event that the father of either a legitimate or illegitimate minor child is dead or unable by reason of physical or mental infirmity to furnish the necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his minor child, the mother of said child shall become subject to the provisions of this section and be criminally liable for the support of said minor child during the period of inability on the part of the father to the same extent and in the same manner as the father would have been had it not been for his physical or mental infirmity.

The provisions of this section are applicable whether the parents of such child are married or divorced, and regardless of any decree made in any divorce action relative to alimony or to the support of the wife. A child conceived but not yet born is to be deemed an existing person in so far as this section is concerned.

Where bonds of such water storage district have been issued as herein provided, no act or conduct on the part of the board of directors of said water storage district or any officer mentioned in said water storage district act, or in this act, shall invalidate any assessment herein authorized to be made after the same shall have become a lien in the manner herein provided.

Said commissioners shall thereupon view and assess upon the land within said reclamation district unit the said sum apportioned to such reclamation district unit by the state irrigation board in its final order of apportionment, and shall apportion the same according to the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land in said irrigation district unit respectively by reason of the expenditures of said sums of money, and shall estimate the same in gold coin of the United States, and shall file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the main county of said reclamation district an assessment list in the manner and form required by the Political Code for reclamation district assessments where the reclamation district is situated wholly outside of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district. or waste; to establish grades to which the fish or other fishery products offered for delivery to canners or preservers or to the fresh fish market must conform; to make regulations to insure the proper handling and delivery of fish or fishery products to canners, preservers or fresh fish dealers; to regulate and control the use of fish or other fishery products for reduction purposes, and to provide penalties for any violation of any of the provisions of this act," approved May 25, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Jurisdiction

Section 1. The fish and game commission is hereby vested with jurisdiction to regulate and control fishing boats, barges, lighters or tenders, receptacles or vehicles containing fish, commercial fishermen, fish canners, packers or preservers, fish reduction plants, plants where any fishery products are manufactured, dealers in fish, mollusks or crustaceans or other fishery products, in so far as it may be necessary to insure the taking, catching and delivery of the fish or other fishery products in a wholesome and sanitary condition to canning, packing, preserving, or reduction plants, or any plant where fishery products are manufactured, or to any fresh fish dealer, and to prevent deterioration and waste of any products or of any fishery products. Any fish and game commissioner or assistant or employee of the fish and game commission shall have the authority to enter any canning, packing, preserving or reduction plant, or place of business where fish or other fishery products are packed, preserved, manufactured, bought or sold, or to board any fishing boat, barge, lighter, tender, or vehicle or receptacle containing fish, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, and any person denying such right of entry shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Establish-
grades.

Sec. 2. The fish and game commission may establish grades for different varieties of fish or other fishery products, which said grades must be reached and conformed to by the commercial fishermen who deliver fish or other fishery products to canners, packers or preservers of fish or to fresh fish dealers, or to a reduction plant, and every canner, packer or preserver of fish or fish dealer or owner of reduction plant, or manufacturer of fish products, must conform to such grade.

Regulations.

Sec. 3. The fish and game commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to make and enforce such regulations as may be necessary or convenient for carrying out any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred under this act.

"Reduction plant."

Sec. 4. (a) Reduction plant—where used in this act, applies to any plant engaged in the reduction of fish into products which are not intended to be used, and are not, in fact, used for human consumption. Any plant where fish are put through a reduction or extraction process shall be deemed to be a reduction plant, and shall be subject to all provisions and limitations of this act, unless a permit shall have been obtained as in this act provided.

(b) Packer, where used in this act, means any person, firm, association or corporation using fish by canning, or preserving by the common method of drying, salting or smoking.

"Packer."

(c) Wet weight, where used in this act, means the weight of the round, whole fish, uncleaned.

"Wet weight."

(d) Hearings—Wherever, in this act, hearings are required to be held by the fish and game commission, the following notice and method shall be used: Notice of time, and place shall be served on the party interested at least five days before the date of hearing. At such time and place designated in said notice testimony under oath shall be taken by any member of the board of fish and game commissioners or by any assistant or employee, designated by them, who shall have the power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses. The testimony shall be taken down in shorthand and transcribed and shall contain all rulings and offers of evidence whether or not the same are permitted.

Hearings.

Each witness at the hearing shall be allowed for his appearance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in a civil case and the amount shall be paid, together with the costs of advertising by the party making application for a permit.

Witness fees.

Sec. 5. No person, firm or corporation shall suffer or cause any preventable deterioration or waste of any fish caught or taken in the waters of this state, or brought into this state, and no person shall use any fish except fish offal in a reduction plant, except of the species, in the manner and to the amount allowed by the provisions of this act.

Disposal of waste.

(a) It shall be lawful for a packer of sardines, actually engaged in packing sardines, to take and use in a reduction plant in each calendar month, sardines to the amount of twenty-five per cent of the monthly capacity of the packing plant; such capacity shall be determined by the fish and game commission after a hearing is held, as in this act provided. In determining such capacity, the fish and game commission must take into consideration and base its findings upon the following facts, namely:

Use of sardines in reduction plant.

The number of can closing machines for one pound oval cans of sardines actually installed in said plant and ready for and intended to be used therein during the season immediately following the making of the application hereinafter mentioned; provided, that the other equipment of said plant necessary for canning to the capacity of said closing machines is likewise installed and ready for operation. For each closing machine so installed the fish and game commission shall make a monthly allowance of sardines to be used in the reduction plant of one hundred fifty tons for each calendar month.

Prior to each seasonal run of sardines, packers shall make written applications to the fish and game commission to hold a hearing and determine such capacity.

Products fit for human consumption.

In order to regulate plants other than packing plants and reduction plants, where by a reduction or extraction process, the fish or the oil therefrom is manufactured into products which are fit for human consumption, the fish and game commission shall have the powers hereby granted to make a determination as to whether the products of such plants are intended to be used for human consumption. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation, except packers as above specified, by a reduction or extraction process to use sardines without obtaining a permit from the fish and game commission.

Application for permit.

In order to obtain such permit, written application must be filed with said fish and game commission, setting forth the quantity of fish to be used, the location of the plant, process used and the nature of products to be manufactured out of the sardines to be received.

Hearing.

Thereupon the fish and game commission shall hold a hearing and the applicant shall furnish proof that the product to be manufactured out of such fish is fit for human consumption, is intended so to be used, and will, in fact, be used for human consumption and that either fifty per cent of the wet weight of such fish or all of the oil extracted from such fish will be used in the manufacture of such product within the State of California. If the commission is satisfied that the product so to be manufactured is fit for human consumption, and will, in fact, be used entirely for human consumption and that either fifty per cent of the wet weight of the fish will be used in the manufacture of such product or that all of the oil to be extracted from such fish will be so used, and within the State of California, then the commission shall issue a permit authorizing applicant to use in its said plant the quantity of fish requested in said application for the purposes therein specified. If at any time it shall appear to the commission that neither fifty per cent of the wet weight of the fish received at said plant under such permit nor all of the oil extracted from such fish is being used to manufacture within the State of California a product fit for human consumption or that all of the product manufactured at said plant from such fish under said permit is not being used entirely for human consumption then the commission shall issue an order requiring the permittee to show cause before the commission at a time and place to be fixed by said commission why said permit should not be revoked. The time of the hearing shall be not less than five days after the service of said order to show cause. At such hearing, the commission shall take testimony and if the commission finds that any of the terms of the permit have been violated, it may revoke said permit or suspend the same for such period of time as to it may seem proper.

Revocation or suspension of permit.

Review of order.

Within thirty days after the rendition of an order by the fish and game commission refusing or revoking a permit, any party affected may apply to the supreme court of this state or to the district court of appeal of the appellate district in which such person resides for a writ of certiorari or review, hereinafter referred to as a writ of review, for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the order inquired into and determined.

Such writ shall be made returnable not later than thirty days after the date of the issuance thereof and shall direct the commission to certify its record in the case to the court. On the return day, the cause shall be heard in the court unless for good cause the same may be continued. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in such court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the commission as certified to by it. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether:

1. The commission acted without or in excess of its powers.
2. The order was procured by fraud.
3. The order was unreasonable.
4. Whether the findings of fact support the order under review.

The findings and actions of the commission on questions of fact shall be conclusive and final and shall not be subject to review. The commission and each party to the action or proceeding before the commission shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing, the court shall enter judgment, either affirming or setting aside the order, or may remand the case for further proceedings before the commission.

The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure in this state relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable and not in conflict with this act, apply to the proceedings of the courts under this section. No court of this state, except the supreme court and district court of appeal, to the extent herein specified, shall have jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct or annul any order or decision of the commission or to suspend or delay the operation or execution thereof, or to restrain, enjoin, or interfere with the commission in the performance of its duties: provided, that a writ of mandamus shall lie from the supreme court or the district court of appeal in all proper cases.

The filing of the application for, or the pendency of the writ of review shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order of the commission subject to review, but the court before which such application is filed, may, in its discretion stay or suspend, in whole or in part, the operation of the order of the commission subject to review upon such terms and conditions as it may by order direct.

Sec. 6. The use of any fish or any part thereof contrary to the provisions of this act is hereby declared to be a nuisance. Whenever the existence of such nuisance is shown to the satisfaction of the court or judge thereof by complaint filed in the name of the people of the State of California, the court or judge shall allow a temporary writ of injunction to abate and prevent the continuance or recurrence of such nuisance. If the existence of a nuisance be established in an action as provided herein, an order of abatement shall be entered as part of the judgment in the case, which order shall direct the closing of the building or place where such nuisance was maintained for a period of three months, and during such time, said building or place shall be and remain in the custody of the court.

Chutes,
tanks, etc.,
to be open to inspection.

Sec. 7. All chutes or conveyors used for the purpose of conveying fish or fish offal to any tank, bin or receptacle, and all such tanks, bins or receptacles containing fish or fish offal to be used for reduction purposes must be so constructed and maintained that at all times the fish or fish offal thereon or therein is open to view and inspection. Any violation of this section is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor.

SEC. 2. Section twelve of said act approved December 24, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Powers of board.

Sec. 12. The reclamation board shall have power to acquire either within or without the boundaries of the district, by purchase, condemnation or by other lawful means, in the name of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, from private persons, corporations, reclamation, swamp land, levee, protection or drainage districts, or other organizations or associations, all lands, rights of way, easements, property or material necessary or requisite for the purpose of by-passes, weirs, cuts, canals, sumps, levees, overflow channels and basins, reservoirs and other flood control works, and other necessary purposes, including drainage purposes; to construct, clear and maintain by-passes, levees, canals, sumps, overflow channels and basins, reservoirs and other flood control works; to construct and maintain ditches, canals, pumping plants, and other drainage works and to operate the same; to make contracts in the name of said district to indemnify or compensate any owner of land or other property for any injury or damage caused by the exercise of the powers by this act conferred, or arising out of the use, taking or damage of any property for any of such purposes; provided, however, that the reclamation board shall have no power, authority, or jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly, except as hereinafter provided in section thirteen of this act, to hereafter incur any indebtedness or expend any money or adopt or carry into effect any plan or project or to acquire any lands, rights of way, or easements, or to do any work, or cause any work to be performed, for which any land lying within the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district shall be assessed, save and except to maintain, repair, and operate its existing works of reclamation and flood control and to complete, maintain and operate any project adopted by said board prior to April 1, 1923, with the existing powers to levy assessments therefor; and provided further, that the reclamation board shall have the same power, authority and jurisdiction in reference to the adoption and carrying to completion of any work or project involved in or contained in the report of the California debris commission dated January 5, 1925, and now in the course of transmission to the congress of the United States as is hereby conferred in the case of projects adopted by said board prior to April 1, 1923. The board shall also have power to maintain actions in the name of the people of the State of California to restrain the doing of any act or thing that may be injurious to any of the works necessary to said plan of flood control or that may interfere with the successful execution of said plan or for damages for injury thereto, and any damages so recovered shall be deposited with the state treasurer to the credit of said district and shall be applicable to the payment of warrants against any assessment for the particular portion or project affected by such injury; to establish a standard of levee construction; to do any and all things necessary or incident to the powers hereby granted or to carry out the objects specified herein; to maintain actions in the name of the people of the State of California to compel by injunction the owner or owners of any bridge, trestle, wire line, viaduct, or embankment or other structure which shall be intersected, traversed or crossed by any by-pass, drainage canal, or overflow channel, so to construct or alter the same as to offer a minimum of obstruction to the free flow of water through any such by-pass, drainage canal, or overflow channel, and wherever necessary in the case of existing works, to compel the removal or alteration of any such embankment or other structure; to maintain actions in the name of the people of the State of California to restrain the diversion of the waters of any stream that will increase the flow of water in said Sacramento or San Joaquin rivers or their tributaries, and such diversion of the waters of any stream into said rivers or either of them or any of their tributaries, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance which may be prevented or abated by the reclamation board; to dispose, by sale, exchange, in payment for work done or services rendered, or for any other purpose which the reclamation board might deem advisable, of any land, property, material, equipment, or any other thing in the possession of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, which, in the opinion of the reclamation board, is no longer needed for the purposes of flood control works or other necessary or convenient purposes.

In case any land, right of way or easement is or shall be needed for any work of channel excavation, enlargement, rectification or control, or for the construction of any weir, which is a part of the plans to be carried out as contemplated by this act, and which is to be done or constructed in whole or in part by the United States or by the State of California and estimates.

SEC. 3. Section thirteen of said act, approved December 24, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 13. Whenever in the opinion of the reclamation board it shall be necessary to levy an assessment upon any lands within said drainage district for any of the purposes herein specified, including the expenses of bonding said assessment if authorized by law, other than an assessment to pay the costs and expenses necessary for the maintenance, repair and operation of its existing works of reclamation and flood control, and the costs and expenses necessary for the completion, maintenance and operation of any project adopted by said board prior to April 1, 1923, or to pay the costs and expenses necessary for the adoption and carrying to completion of any project or work involved in or contained in the report of the California debris commission dated January 5, 1925, and now in the course of transmission to the congress of the United States, said board shall adopt plans therefor and shall make careful estimates of the costs and expenses thereof. The plans to be carried out shall be divided by said board into separate portions or projects in such manner as will in its judgment best facilitate the levying of assessments for each particular portion or project in a just and equitable manner according to benefits upon the lands in said district affected by such portion or project; provided, however, that each separate and particular project or unit shall include all by-passes, cuts, canals, sumps, levees, pumping plants and other works of flood control and drainage as shall be necessary by reason of the carrying out and construction of the particular project, to properly conduct the water of any stream, natural or otherwise, the outlet of which has been intercepted by the construction of any levee or embankment included in such project or unit into such by-pass.

Said board shall enter in the minutes of the board a resolution to the effect that the execution of each such separate portion or project which they may determine upon is a public necessity. Each such particular portion or project shall be designated by the board in such resolution by name and number. All assessments, plans and funds intended for or connected with the execution of each particular portion or project shall be designated by such name and number and shall be kept separate and shall be used only for the purpose of carrying out such particular portion or project. Thereafter the board shall appoint three assessors who shall be disinterested persons, and shall have no interest in any real estate within said drainage district, and each of whom, before entering upon his duties, shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested in any real estate within said district, directly or indirectly, and that he will perform the duties of an assessor to the best of his ability. Said assessor shall be exempt from the provisions of the civil service laws of this state. After said assessors have examined the plan or plans of the works contemplated and the estimates of the cost, they shall make a preliminary report to the reclamation board indicating the exterior boundaries of the lands that in their opinion will be benefited by the expenditures. The assessors shall then appoint a time and place in each county in which any of said lands proposed to be assessed are situated, when and where they will hear objections to the said report and also evidence concerning the manner in which said assessment should be apportioned. They shall give notice of such hearing in each of such counties by publication in a newspaper published in such county once a week for three weeks, the first publication to be not later than the twenty-first day before the day of hearing, which notice shall contain a general designation of the lands which will in their opinion be so benefited, as aforesaid, and shall refer to said preliminary report on file in the office of the reclamation board for such exterior boundaries. Said assessors, may amend, modify or change the exterior boundaries of the lands that, in their opinion, will be benefited by such expenditures.

Consent to project.

If, within six months after the completion of said hearings there is filed with the board, written consent to such contemplated project, signed and acknowledged by the owners of land representing sixty-six per cent of the value of the land excluding improvements within the district, as described in the preliminary report of said appraisers, or as modified thereafter, as such value is shown by the last preceding county tax assessment roll of the county in which said land is situate, and also written consent to such contemplated project, signed and acknowledged by sixty-six per cent of the owners of land within said district as described in said preliminary report, or as modified thereafter, the board shall cause an assessment to be levied in the manner and form hereinafter provided.

Levy of assessments.

Said assessors must assess upon the lands within said drainage district proposed to be assessed for the plans adopted by the reclamation board the said sums included in the estimates of said board, and shall apportion the same according to the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land in said district, respectively, affected by any particular portion or project by reason of the expenditure of said sums of money.

Determination of benefits.

In determining the benefits that will or may accrue to each particular tract of land by the construction or maintenance of the works contemplated by any particular project or unit, the works of such project or unit shall be considered as a whole and lands shall be assessed for the works embraced in such project or unit only in the proportion that they will or may be benefited by the construction of the entire works embraced in the said project or unit, and no lands shall be considered as benefited by the construction or maintenance of the works embraced in such project or unit, or any part or portion thereof, nor shall any lands be assessed for the expense of the construction or maintenance of such project or unit or any part or portion thereof, because such lands have been or may be first endangered or flooded, or the natural drainage thereof obstructed by the construction or maintenance of any part or portion of the works embraced in such project or unit in advance of or prior to the completion of the construction of the entire works embraced in such project or unit.

Assessment list.

Said assessors shall make a separate list of the lands so assessed in each county, which list shall contain a description of the tracts of land assessed by swamp land surveys, legal subdivisions, or other boundaries or references sufficient to identify the same, the name of the owner, if known, or if unknown, that fact, and the amount of the charge assessed against each tract. The name of the owner of land which is or is supposed to be the property of the estate of a deceased person in course of administration may be stated as estate of (such person, naming him), deceased. When there are two or more owners or supposed owners of any tract of land, partly known and partly unknown, the assessment may be to such known owner or owners by name and to other owners unknown. No mistake in the name of the owner, or supposed owner, of any real estate shall invalidate the assessment. In the assessment list for any county the assessors may make use of any abbreviation in common use in that county, without explanation thereof. The assessors may also in the assessment list for any county make use of other abbreviations, provided a schedule and explanation thereof with reasonable certainty shall, unless printed on each page of such assessment list, be prefixed to said assessment list and a reference thereto written, printed or stamped on each page of said assessment list whereon any such abbreviation is used. In case any land shall in the assessment list for any county be described in whole or in part by reference to a map, plat or survey, which map, plat or survey shall be on file or of record in any public office, it shall be sufficient in such description to designate such map, plat or survey by name, number or other designation sufficient to identify the same in a schedule of such maps, plats and surveys, which schedule shall be prefixed to said assessment list and shall set forth with reasonable certainty where each such map, plat or survey may be found, and shall be referred to by a reference written, printed or stamped on each page of said assessment list whereon such method of description is relied upon. The assessors appointed for any assessment may also prepare or cause to be prepared a map or maps of the whole or any part or parts of the lands to be assessed with sufficient detail to indicate thereon and identify the several tracts of lands to be separately assessed or any of them, each of which such separate tracts shall be designated on such map or maps by a distinctive number. Each of such maps shall be inscribed and designated as "reclamation board assessment map No.----," giving each map a distinctive number. Any such map may consist of any number of sheets attached together and designated as one map. Such map or maps when approved by the reclamation board, shall be certified by the secretary of said board as having been so approved, and shall be filed for record in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein the land indicated on such map or maps is situated. Thereupon and thereafter, for the purpose of said assessment or of any future assessment levied by said reclamation board, the assessment list for any county may, for the description of any tract of land so indicated on any such map, refer to such map and to the number by which such tract is designated on such map, and such reference, if used for that purpose, shall be a sufficient description of such tract for the purposes of such assessment list, and for the purposes of the notice of delinquent sale, certificate of sale and deed in pursuance of such sale, and all other proceedings under this act based upon such assessment. No provision of any other statute of this state relative to the filing or recording of maps in the office of the county recorder shall apply to the maps in this section referred to; provided, however, that the maps herein referred to shall have no legal effect for any purpose except for the convenient reference to and description of the tract of land indicated thereon for the purposes of description of such tracts of land by reference thereto in the matter of assessments levied by the reclamation board and acts and proceedings based thereon as herein provided. No fee shall be charged by any such county recorder for the filing for record of such map as in this section provided. Said lists when completed shall be filed with the secretary of the board and said secretary shall forward to the county treasurer of each county in which any lands so assessed are situated, the assessment list for such county, and the same shall be open for inspection by the public for at least sixty days. The compensation of said assessors shall be fixed and allowed by the board. The reclamation board shall appoint a time and place not less than sixty days after said list has been filed with the county treasurer when and where it will meet in each county wherein any of the lands so assessed are situated for the purpose of hearing objections to said assessments, and notice of such hearing in each county shall be filed with the county treasurer and published once a week for four weeks in some newspaper published in such county. At any time before or during such hearing any person interested in any land upon which any charge has been assessed, may file in the office of the reclamation board or with any member thereof, written objections to such assessment, stating the grounds of such objections, which said statement shall be verified by the affidavit of such person or some other person who is familiar with the facts. At such hearing, the board shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the correctness of such assessment or the manner of its apportionment, and may modify or amend the same, and may reapportion all or any part of the entire assessment. Unless the aggregate amount of the whole of such assessment shall be modified or amended by the reclamation board so as to cause a difference of more than two and one-half per cent greater or less than the original total amount of said assessment, it shall be deemed that the assessment has not been substantially modified and no necessity shall exist for a reapportionment thereof.

Hearing
of objections
by reclamation board.

In event of reapportionment.

If said assessment shall be reapportioned the board shall give two weeks notice as before and proceed to hear objections in each county affected, as before, and shall then reconsider said assessment and make an order approving said assessment as finally fixed; and the decision of said board shall be final, and thereafter said assessment list shall be conclusive evidence, except in the suit hereinafter provided, that the said assessment has been levied and apportioned according to law. Any person interested, as aforesaid, in any land upon which any charge has been so assessed, aggrieved by the decision of the board approving said assessment, may commence an action against the district in the superior court of the county in which said land or the greater part thereof is situated, to have said assessment upon such land modified or annulled.

Action to change
assessment.

Such action must be commenced within sixty days after the reclamation board has approved such assessment and the assessment list for such county has been deposited in the office of the county treasurer as provided in the next section, and shall have preference over all civil actions in fixing the time of trial.

Whenever an assessment has been levied by the reclamation board upon lands in said district for general administrative expenses and other expenses not pertaining to any particular project, and the boundaries of said district have been or shall be extended so as to include lands other than the lands included within said district at the time such assessment was levied, the reclamation board shall make an estimate of the fair and equitable amount which should be contributed by the lands so included in the district by such change of boundaries for the purposes of such assessment previously levied by said board for general administrative expenses and other expenses not pertaining to any particular project, and shall levy and cause to be assessed, equalized and collected in the manner in this act provided, an assessment to the amount of such estimate upon lands so included in the district by such change of boundaries, according to benefits in the manner in this act provided.

Special
assessment
on annexed territory.

In the event that consent in writing be not filed in the manner and at the time hereinbefore provided, no further expenditures for said project shall be made, nor shall any obligations be incurred therefor; provided, however, that the board may cause an assessment to be levied in the manner hereinbefore provided for the purpose of paying the necessary engineering and other expenses in preparing the plans for said project, in making the preliminary report of said assessors and in holding the hearings thereon.

Effect of nonconsent.

Sec. 15. All money collected upon sales or otherwise shall be paid to the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated, and said money, together with all other money collected by the county treasurer shall, within one month after its receipt by the county treasurer, be by him deposited in the state treasury to the credit of said drainage district in a fund which is hereby created and known as the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district fund, specifying the name and number of the assessment from which such money was derived, and shall be paid out upon warrants of the state controller, and the controller is hereby directed to issue warrants upon said funds whenever drafts of the reclamation board shall be presented to him, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay such controller's warrants when there is sufficient money in the fund of said drainage district; provided, that all moneys collected from assessments shall be paid out only on warrants issued for works or other expenses covered by the assessment from which such money was derived, which assessments must be numbered consecutively, to the end that all moneys raised by assessment upon any of the lands embraced in said drainage district, shall be expended only for works of reclamation or other expenses, beneficial to the lands so assessed, and for the payment of warrants issued for the construction of the works and other expenses for which such assessment was levied, and each warrant must designate the name and number of the assessment from which it is to be paid. Drafts of the reclamation board may be presented to the controller and warrants drawn as aforesaid, against the funds to be raised by an assessment as soon as the reclamation board has passed its order or resolution for the levy of such assessment and appointed the assessors therefor. In case there are not sufficient funds applicable thereto for the payment of such warrants when presented to the state treasurer, he shall endorse on such warrants the date of presentation and register the same, and thereafter such warrants shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, and must be paid in the order of their registration. All such warrants, whether heretofore or hereafter issued, shall be considered as contracts in writing for the payment of money, and the period described for the commencement of an action based upon any such warrants, or connected therewith, is and shall be four years from the date of the first publication of the notice specifying such warrants published by the state treasurer pursuant to the provisions of this section; and no statute of limitations shall be deemed to have run against any action upon or affecting any warrant heretofore or hereafter drawn against any assessment under this act by reason of the lapse of time during which funds adequate for the payment of the outstanding warrants against such assessment were not available. Said warrants shall, at any time within said period of four years, be received in payment of any assessment for work or expenses for which such warrants were issued. The reclamation board may, at its option, at any time before payment of any warrant renew the same upon application of the owner or holder thereof by an endorsement thereof of the fact and date of such renewal and notice thereof to the state treasurer and controller. When even there is sufficient money in the treasury applicable to the payment of any outstanding warrants of the district, the state treasurer shall give notice that there is money in the treasury to pay certain warrants, giving their numbers in the order of their registration; said notice shall be published for ten days in one newspaper published in the city of Stockton and one published in the city of Sacramento. After the last publication of said notice the warrants therein mentioned shall cease to bear interest. The reclamation board shall designate a paper in each of said cities which shall be the official papers of said district for the purpose of such publication. Whenever in the opinion of the reclamation board it shall appear that the total amount of any assessment previously levied and assessed and which has become a lien upon lands in said drainage district will be greater than required for the purposes for which such assessment was levied, the

the State of California, in addition to the amount assessed by reason of the flood control features as hereinabove provided, opposite each sum assessed for each particular tract of land, in a separate column, the amount that they shall determine each tract is so assessed by reason of the severance of any lands not included in the assessed area which would have been included but for the location of a by-pass channel or channels provided for by another separate portion or project of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, adopted by the reclamation board. The amounts so stated and placed opposite each assessment charged shall be no part of said assessment and shall in no way affect the assessment charged against each tract of land as the same may be fixed, but shall be subject to review and readjustment in the same manner as the assessment itself.

Sec. 6. A new section is hereby added to said act approved December 24, 1911, as amended, to be numbered thirty-seven, to read as follows:

Disposition of federal funds received.

Sec. 37. All or any part of, moneys which may hereafter be reimbursed or released by the federal government to the State of California, on any appropriations heretofore or hereafter made by the State of California in compliance with the provisions of that certain act of congress of the United States entitled: "An act to provide for the control of floods of the Mississippi river and of the Sacramento river, California, and for other purposes" approved March 1, 1917, together with all amounts which the State of California has already appropriated or is now obligated to appropriate and which may hereafter be reimbursed or released by the federal government to the State of California by reason of the assumption by the United States of all work involved in the rectification and enlargement of the Sacramento river shall, unless otherwise provided by the act of congress under which reimbursement shall be made, be paid over to the reclamation board to be applied by said reclamation board in the manner, and for the purposes as hereinafter set forth, to wit:

Maintenance
and operation of flood control
works.

The reclamation board shall, at its first regular meeting next succeeding the commencement of each fiscal year when any money shall be so received by the reclamation board, estimate and set aside the amount that may, in the discretion of the reclamation board, be necessary for the purpose of maintaining and operating all flood control works provided for in said flood control plan of the State of California for the period of one year; provided, however, that not more than one hundred thousand dollars shall be set aside or spent in any one year for this purpose. And said amount shall be deducted from the amount to be paid over to the state treasurer as hereinafter directed and shall be expended as determined by said reclamation board for maintenance and operation of said flood control works.

Payments on assessments.

The remainder of the amount so received shall be applied by said reclamation board on the assessments of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district based on projects adopted by the reclamation board prior to April 1, 1923, against which obligations have been incurred, as follows:

(1) To the pro rata payment of such portions of said assessments as are based upon flood control benefits in the amount determined and designated in the assessment rolls, as finally fixed and determined, and

(2) To the pro rata payment of such portions of said assessments on land included in the assessed area of a project which would have been applied on lands not included in the assessed area (but which were not so applied) because of the severance of these lands from the assessed area by the location of a by-pass channel or channels provided for by another separate portion or project of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district adopted by the reclamation board; provided, further, that such portion shall be determined by the assessors who apportioned said assessment as hereinbefore in section thirty-two of this act, provided.

The reclamation board shall prepare and furnish to the several county treasurers a statement of the several amounts so applied to the pro rata payment of such portions of the several assessments by reason of the credits hereinbefore provided and the several county treasurers shall enter such amounts on the original assessment lists as payments or credits on account of the several assessments. In making its calls or orders for the collection of installments on said assessments the percentage to be called and paid shall be calculated upon the original total amount assessed against each tract, but no such call or installment need be paid upon the assessments on any such tract except for the excess of the total of such calls over the total of payments so credited to such tract from application of such money received as aforesaid, or otherwise paid thereon.

Statement to county
treasurers.

The money so received by the reclamation board shall, after deducting the amounts required by the reclamation board for maintenance as hereinbefore provided, be by the reclamation board paid over forthwith to the state treasurer and by him credited, applied, used and expended in the manner herein-after provided, to wit:

Deposit with state treasurer.

If, at the time of the receipt of any such money by the reclamation board, bonds based upon an assessment entitled to a credit as hereinbefore provided shall have been authorized by law and sold, the amount of said money to which said assessment shall be entitled as hereinbefore provided shall, under the direction and as required by the reclamation board, be applied to the payment and cancellation of such bonds in the manner following:

Payment of outstanding bonds.

The said reclamation board shall proceed to advertise, at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, in at least one daily newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco, and one daily newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, calling for bids or offers for the sale to said reclamation board of sufficient of the issued and outstanding bonds to cover the amount represented by said money so received; provided, however, that said reclamation board shall not purchase any bonds at a sum in excess of par plus accrued interest. And if the said reclamation board shall receive bids or offers at par plus accrued interest, or less than par plus accrued interest, then the said reclamation board shall purchase a sufficient amount of said bonds to make up the sum of money so received by them and shall proceed forthwith to cancel said bonds so purchased, together with all interest coupons attached thereto.

But, if the said reclamation board shall not receive bids or offers of a sufficient amount to cover the money so received, then as to the balance thereof, the said reclamation board shall pay bonds in the order of their numbers, beginning as to the first payment, at bond number one, and continuing in numerical order, in a sufficient amount to cover said first payment, and upon such subsequent payments, shall pay the said bonds according to the next succeeding numbers.

Cancellation
bonds.

If, however, bonds based upon an assessment, entitled to a credit as hereinbefore provided shall have been authorized, but said bonds, or any of them shall not have been sold, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of and under the direction of the reclamation board, cancel such number of said bonds so authorized, but not sold, as will, at par, equal the amount of money then on deposit in the state treasury to which said assessment shall be entitled, and the total of the bonds to be issued shall be reduced by such amount, and no bonds shall be sold to an amount in excess of the amount originally authorized, as reduced by the bonds so cancelled at par. The money on deposit in the state treasury at the time these bonds are so cancelled and to the amount thereof, shall be by the state treasurer credited to the funds of said assessment to be used and expended in the payment of warrants or other obligations against the assessment as hereinbefore provided.

Where bonds
authorized.

If, in the case of any assessment entitled to a credit as hereinbefore provided, no bonds shall have been authorized, the moneys so received in the amount to which said assessment is entitled as hereinbefore provided, shall be by the state treasurer, credited to the funds of the assessment to be used and expended in the same manner as funds collected from land-owners upon said assessment.

Claim not assignable.

Sec. 24. (a) No claim for compensation shall be assignable before payment, but this provision shall not affect the survival thereof, nor shall any claim for compensation, or compensation awarded, adjudged or paid, be subject to be taken for the debts of the party entitled to such compensation, except as hereinafter provided. No compensation, whether awarded or voluntarily paid, shall be paid to any attorney at law or in fact or other agent, but shall be paid directly to the claimant entitled to the same, unless otherwise ordered by the commission. Any payment made to such attorney at law or in fact or other agent in violation of the provisions of this section shall not be credited to the employer.

(3) The reasonable value of the living expenses of an injured employee or of his dependents, subsequent to the injury.

(4) The reasonable burial expense of the deceased employee, not to exceed the sum of one hundred fifty dollars.

(5) The reasonable living expenses of the wife or minor children of the injured employee, or both, subsequent to the date of the injury, where such employee has deserted or is neglecting his family, to be allowed in such proportion as the commission shall deem proper, upon application of the wife or guardian of the minor children.

The commission may, in its discretion, order the amount of such claim as fixed and allowed by it paid directly to the person entitled, either in a lump sum or in installments. Where it appears in any proceeding pending before the commission that a lien should be allowed if the same had been duly requested by the party entitled thereto, the commission may, in its discretion, and without any request for such lien having been made, order the payment of such claim to be made directly to the person entitled, in the same manner and with the same effect as though such lien had been regularly requested, and the award to such person shall constitute a lien against unpaid compensation due at the time of service of said award.

Notice

Award by

(e) A claim for compensation for the injury or death of any employee, or any award or judgment entered thereon, shall have the same preference over the other debts of the employer, or his estate, as is given by law to claims for wages. Such preference shall be for the entire amount of the compensation to be paid, but this section shall not impair the lien of any previous award.
