

highlights

U.S. Government
Printing Office

August 1976
Number 17 GP 3:27:17

Assistant Public Printer
(Superintendent of Documents)

OCLC Searching For Monthly Catalog Entries

In June's HIGHLIGHTS, retrieval of Monthly Catalog data was introduced to readers. This has encouraged many depository librarians to begin learning OCLC terminal use. Now some are asking: "What is the best way to call up document entries?"

The procedures previously set forth for calling up documents by LC card number and OCLC number present no problems. Title call-up presents few problems. But author call-up and the author portion of author/title call-up have odd byways. Let's consider the author aspect as it relates to documents appearing in Monthly Catalog and entered by Library Division catalogers into the OCLC data base.

If a search is made by corporate or conference author, the terminal operator will run up against the "stoplist" which applies to the author area. This is simply a group of words to be passed over when occurring at the beginning of an entry. One goes on to the first significant word, then picks up everything. The present "stoplist" at the time this article is being written is as follows:

a	Gt. Brit.
an	Gt. Brit.
the	House
of	India
on	International
American	National
Association	New York

To be continued on page 2

Monthly Catalog In A Revolutionary Format

The July issue of the Monthly Catalog is as revolutionary as 1776! New dimensions of 10¼" x 7⅞" frame a MARC style format proceeding from the OCLC data base.

Content consists of six parts: a text and five indexes. Entries in the text are blocked into two columns. Headings separate the larger organizational groupings. Text is arranged by order of SuDocs classification.

Indexes include: (1) Author; (2) Title; (3) Subject; (4) Series/Report Number; (5) Stock Number. Pending implementation of MARC tags, the first two catalogs will lack the Stock Number Index. Subject and Author appear in bold print. Type size is 7 or 8 point. Along with better spacing, this will make for ease in reading.

Missing from the first few Catalogs will be the "bullet," so familiar to a generation of documents librarians. But it will reappear as soon as OCLC implements a new MARC tag.

On the cover, in the upper right hand corner, appears the International Standard Serial Number, 0362-6830. It has been assigned to Monthly Catalog by the National Serials Data Program.

During the remainder of this Bicentennial Year, refinements of the new Monthly Catalog will continue. They will include margin bar guides to assist index use.

HIGHLIGHTS welcomes your comments and suggestions as we improve the Monthly Catalog in the weeks ahead.

Questions and Answers

Depository Library Council To Meet October 21st & 22nd

QA

Q. A documents librarian in Binghamton, New York, writes expressing concern on the change in coupon policy reported in the April HIGHLIGHTS. She asks: "I am curious to know the rationale behind such a change, as a documents librarian and as a taxpayer. It seems to me that the mechanics involved in issuing checks rather than coupons would be most costly and cumbersome. Perhaps you would be kind enough to enlighten me?"

A. The coupon system was very carefully studied at GPO and found to be surprisingly cumbersome and costly. The use of pre-paid deposit accounts with refunds by check can supply items to libraries even more efficiently and at less cost to the taxpayer. Libraries which ordinarily purchase $50 to $500 in coupons per year, should now request that such amounts be sent to their pre-paid accounts. To establish such an account, just send a check for a minimum of $50 to:

Superintendent of Documents
Government Printing Office
ATTENTION: Special Accounts
(SAOS)

Washington, D.C. 20402

The new account will be given an order number; a receipt and special order forms will be provided.

To be continued on page 3

The Depository Library Council to the Public Printer (previously called the Advisory Council), will hold a two day meeting October 21-22, 1976. The place will be:

Ramada Inn—Rosslyn
1900 North Fort Myer Drive
Arlington, Virginia 22209

Anyone interested in the Depository Library program is welcome to attend. Among the items on the agenda will be a revision of the "Proposed Standards and Guidelines."

For additional information, contact Norman Barbee at GPO's Library Division. His phone number is: (703)-557-2146.

21& 22

Continued from page 1

Bureau	Senate
California	Symposium
Committee	United Nations
Conference	U. N.
Congress	U.N.
Council	United States
Department	U. S.
Dept.	U.S.
Great Britain

In order to search using a corporate or conference author, compare the first word in the author's name to the "stoplist." If the word appears, omit it from the search and compare the next word to the "stoplist." Continue comparing until the first significant word not on the "stoplist" is reached. Begin the search with that significant word and include each succeeding word even if on the "stoplist."

Here are a couple of illustrations. United States. Energy Research and Development Administration. To call this up, using the basic author sequence 4, 3, 1, outlined in the previous article, one types the 4 letter keys ENER, the comma, the 3 letter keys RES, the comma, and the letter key A plus DISPLAY and SEND.

Another example would be: Conference on Canadian-American Relations, 7th, University of Windsor. To call this up, one types CANA, REL, 7 plus DISPLAY and SEND. Keep in mind that the "stoplist" applies only to author search and not to title search. The one present exception which does apply to title search consists of ignoring as first words the articles "a" "an" "the."

If applying the stoplist to a corporate author leaves no text for a call-up, the "stoplist" can be ignored and all words in the name searched. By way of example: United States. Congress. House. This types in as: US, CON, H plus DISPLAY and SEND. An important new point here is that United States is now typed US for author, but typed in for title just as it appears.

Again, your Editor suggests getting acquainted with a friendly OCLC terminal operator who will have many pointers for beginning searchers. HIGHLIGHTS will keep you posted on call-up procedures as they apply to Monthly Catalog entries.

Happy searching!

Returning Books

Sometimes depositories are sent items they did not request. This is the result of a margin of error from the huge volume of material that goes out daily to over 1,000 libraries. Our people filling boxes do their very best, but mistakes occur.

What should depositories do with these unwanted items? A good rule of thumb is to note whether or not the work appears to be an expensive item (a bound serial set volume, for example). Such items are frequently in short supply, and we would appreciate their return.

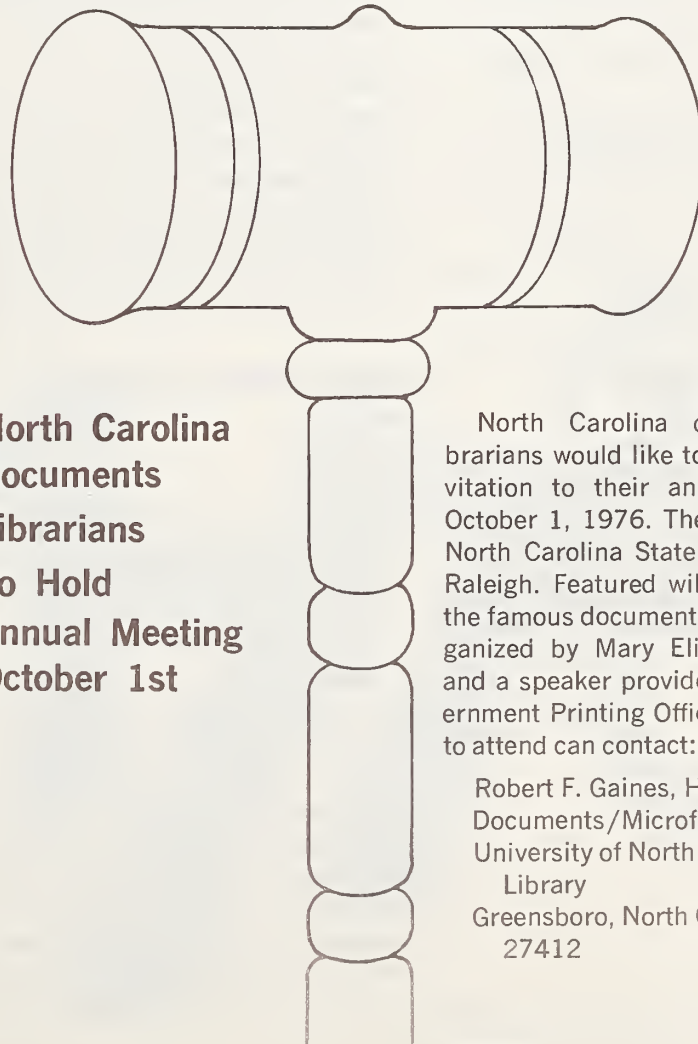

If you happen to receive an unselected work of this kind, drop us a note describing the item and requesting a postage free shipping label. We will confirm if we do need the volume and send you the label. If you can add a slip of paper to the book with an item number, it will also be helpful to us.

Unbound, inexpensive items, can be treated in the same manner as unselected survey items. That is: kept as samples, given away, or disposed of through paper recycling, etc.

Continued from page 2

What is the reason for switching the classification number for the Census Bureau back to the old C 3. numbers from the recently established C 56. numbers?

- A. The Superintendent of Documents classification system is based on Government organization and should reflect reorganization when it takes place. For many years, the Census Bureau was reporting directly to, and was subordinate to, the Secretary of Commerce, and the publications were classified C 3. A few years ago, Commerce reorganized and placed the Census Bureau under the Social and Economic Statistics Administration, so we changed the class to C 56. This only lasted a few years, and the department was again reorganized. Census went back to its former position, so the class was changed back. Had we known in advance that this was going to happen, we could have made an exception and used the C 3. designation during the interim.

North Carolina Documents Librarians To Hold Annual Meeting October 1st

North Carolina documents librarians would like to extend an invitation to their annual meeting, October 1, 1976. The place will be North Carolina State University, in Raleigh. Featured will be a tour of the famous documents collection organized by Mary Elizabeth Poole, and a speaker provided by the Government Printing Office. Those able to attend can contact:

Robert F. Gaines, Head
Documents/Microforms Division
University of North Carolina
Library
Greensboro, North Carolina
27412

Special Needs

If your depository library has some special needs of a general or specific nature, let us know. Below are some recent requests. If you can offer discards, write the requesting depository a letter (sending a copy to your regional). The library accepting the material agrees to pay any postage and packing costs that may be necessary.

Specific needs

U.S. Code, 1970 edition, all volumes.

U.S. Statutes at Large, 1923-71, vols. 43-85.

Discard & gift lists, pre-1973 items.

Ms. Patricia Sloan
Federal Documents Librarian
Nebraska Library Commission
1420 P Street
Lincoln, Nebraska 68508

Specific needs

Statutes at Large, 1969-72, vols. 83-86.

U.S. Reports, vols. 398-407.

Tom Reynolds
Business/Documents Librarian
University of Houston Library
2302-C Red River
Victoria, Texas 77901

Specific needs

Cumulated Index Medicus, 1975, vol. 16, sections 5, 6, 8.

U.S. Treaties & Other Agreements, 1972, vol. 23, part 2.

Ms. Louise Rurode
Government Documents
Devereaux Library
South Dakota School of Mines & Technology
Rapid City, South Dakota 57701

Specific needs

Congressional Globe, 1833-50.

Congressional Record, vols. 1-27.

Document Catalogue, 1893-1940.

Smithsonian Institution. Annual Report. 1846-83; 1889; 1896; 1899; 1918; 1920.

Alden Rollins
Depository Librarian
Consortium Library
3211 Providence Drive
Anchorage, Alaska 99504

Specific needs

Federal Trade Commission Decisions, vols. 59-62, 64-66, 68-70.

Ms. Patricia A. Rodi
U.S. Court of Appeals
Eighth Circuit Library
1114 Market Street, Room 503
Saint Louis, Missouri 63101

Documents Librarians Retire

Two stalwart veterans of the Depository Library System in the State of Washington have retired this year.

They are Ms. Corinne B. Ackley of Washington State Library and Ms. Margarete E. Chalfant of Seattle Public Library.

May they now find ample time to visit their many friends in depositories across the country, passing on some of the vintage wisdom gleaned from decades among documents!

Public Documents Highlights is circulated bi-monthly by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402, and is mailed at first class postage rates. Public Documents Highlights is intended primarily for librarians of the Federal Depository Library Program. Material proposed of circulation may be submitted to the Editor,

Public Documents Highlights, Library and Statutory Distribution Service, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20401. The Superintendent of Documents, however, retains the right to accept such material, to edit it, and to assign priorities of circulation.

highlights

U.S. Government
Printing Office

August 1976
Number 17 GP 3:27:17

Assistant Public Printer
(Superintendent of Documents)

OCLC Searching For Monthly Catalog Entries

In June's HIGHLIGHTS, retrieval of Monthly Catalog data was introduced to readers. This has encouraged many depository librarians to begin learning OCLC terminal use. Now some are asking: "What is the best way to call up document entries?"

The procedures previously set forth for calling up documents by LC card number and OCLC number present no problems. Title call-up presents few problems. But author call-up and the author portion of author/title call-up have odd byways. Let's consider the author aspect as it relates to documents appearing in Monthly Catalog and entered by Library Division catalogs into the OCLC data base.

If a search is made by corporate or conference author, the terminal operator will run up against the "stoplist" which applies to the author area. This is simply a group of words to be passed over when occurring at the beginning of an entry. One goes on to the first significant word, then picks up everything. The present "stoplist" at the time this article is being written is as follows:

a	Gt. Brit.
an	Gt. Brit.
the	House
of	India
on	International
American	National
Association	New York

To be continued on page 2

Monthly Catalog In A Revolutionary Format

The July issue of the Monthly Catalog is as revolutionary as 1776! New dimensions of 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ " x 7 $\frac{7}{8}$ " frame a MARC style format proceeding from the OCLC data base.

Content consists of six parts: a text and five indexes. Entries in the text are blocked into two columns. Headings separate the larger organizational groupings. Text is arranged by order of SuDocs classification.

Indexes include: (1) Author; (2) Title; (3) Subject; (4) Series/Report Number; (5) Stock Number. Pending implementation of MARC tags, the first two catalogs will lack the Stock Number Index. Subject and Author appear in bold print. Type size is 7 or 8 point. Along with better spacing, this will make for ease in reading.

Missing from the first few Catalogs will be the "bullet," so familiar to a generation of documents librarians. But it will reappear as soon as OCLC implements a new MARC tag.

On the cover, in the upper right hand corner, appears the International Standard Serial Number, 0362-6830. It has been assigned to Monthly Catalog by the National Serials Data Program.

During the remainder of this Bicentennial Year, refinements of the new Monthly Catalog will continue. They will include margin bar guides to assist index use.

HIGHLIGHTS welcomes your comments and suggestions as we improve the Monthly Catalog in the weeks ahead.

QA

Q. A documents librarian in Binghamton, New York, writes expressing concern on the change in coupon policy reported in the April HIGHLIGHTS. She asks: "I am curious to know the rationale behind such a change, as a documents librarian and as a taxpayer. It seems to me that the mechanics involved in issuing checks rather than coupons would be most costly and cumbersome. Perhaps you would be kind enough to enlighten me?"

A. The coupon system was very carefully studied at GPO and found to be surprisingly cumbersome and costly. The use of pre-paid deposit accounts with refunds by check can supply items to libraries even more efficiently and at less cost to the taxpayer. Libraries which ordinarily purchase $50 to $500 in coupons per year, should now request that such amounts be sent to their pre-paid accounts. To establish such an account, just send a check for a minimum of $50 to:

Superintendent of Documents
Government Printing Office
ATTENTION: Special Accounts (SAOS)

Washington, D.C. 20402

The new account will be given an order number; a receipt and special order forms will be provided.

To be continued on page 3

The Depository Library Council to the Public Printer (previously called the Advisory Council), will hold a two day meeting October 21-22, 1976. The place will be:

Ramada Inn—Rosslyn
1900 North Fort Myer Drive
Arlington, Virginia 22209

Anyone interested in the Depository Library program is welcome to attend. Among the items on the agenda will be a revision of the "Proposed Standards and Guidelines."

For additional information, contact Norman Barbee at GPO's Library Division. His phone number is: (703)-557-2146.

Continued from page 1

Bureau	Senate
California	Symposium
Committee	United Nations
Conference	U. N.
Congress	U.N.
Council	United States
Department	U. S.
Dept.	U.S.
Great Britain

In order to search using a corporate or conference author, compare the first word in the author's name to the "stoplist." If the word appears, omit it from the search and compare the next word to the "stoplist." Continue comparing until the first significant word not on the "stoplist" is reached. Begin the search with that significant word and include each succeeding word even if on the "stoplist."

Here are a couple of illustrations. United States. Energy Research and Development Administration. To call this up, using the basic author sequence 4, 3, 1, outlined in the previous article, one types the 4 letter keys ENER, the comma, the 3 letter keys RES, the comma, and the letter key A plus DISPLAY and SEND.

Another example would be: Conference on Canadian-American Relations, 7th, University of Windsor. To call this up, one types CANA, REL, 7 plus DISPLAY and SEND. Keep in mind that the "stoplist" applies only to author search and not to title search. The one present exception which does apply to title search consists of ignoring as first words the articles "a" "an" "the."

If applying the stoplist to a corporate author leaves no text for a call-up, the "stoplist" can be ignored and all words in the name searched. By way of example: United States. Congress. House. This types in as: US, CON, H plus DISPLAY and SEND. An important new point here is that United States is now typed US for author, but typed in for title just as it appears.

Again, your Editor suggests getting acquainted with a friendly OCLC terminal operator who will have many pointers for beginning searchers. HIGHLIGHTS will keep you posted on call-up procedures as they apply to Monthly Catalog entries.

Happy searching!

Returning Books

Sometimes depositories are sent items they did not request. This is the result of a margin of error from the huge volume of material that goes out daily to over 1,000 libraries. Our people filling boxes do their very best, but mistakes occur.

What should depositories do with these unwanted items? A good rule of thumb is to note whether or not the work appears to be an expensive item (a bound serial set volume, for example). Such items are frequently in short supply, and we would appreciate their return.

If you happen to receive an unselected work of this kind, drop us a note describing the item and requesting a postage free shipping label. We will confirm if we do need the volume and send you the label. If you can add a slip of paper to the book with an item number, it will also be helpful to us.

Unbound, inexpensive items, can be treated in the same manner as unselected survey items. That is: kept as samples, given away, or disposed of through paper recycling, etc.

Continued from page 2

2. What is the reason for switching the classification number for the Census Bureau back to the old C 3. numbers from the recently established C 56. numbers?

A. The Superintendent of Documents classification system is based on Government organization and should reflect reorganization when it takes place. For many years, the Census Bureau was reporting directly to, and was subordinate to, the Secretary of Commerce, and the publications were classified C 3. A few years ago, Commerce reorganized and placed the Census Bureau under the Social and Economic Statistics Administration, so we changed the class to C 56. This only lasted a few years, and the department was again reorganized. Census went back to its former position, so the class was changed back. Had we known in advance that this was going to happen, we could have made an exception and used the C 3. designation during the interim.

North Carolina Documents Librarians To Hold Annual Meeting October 1st

North Carolina documents librarians would like to extend an invitation to their annual meeting, October 1, 1976. The place will be North Carolina State University, in Raleigh. Featured will be a tour of the famous documents collection organized by Mary Elizabeth Poole, and a speaker provided by the Government Printing Office. Those able to attend can contact:

Robert F. Gaines, Head
Documents/Microforms Division
University of North Carolina
Library
Greensboro, North Carolina
27412

Special Needs

If your depository library has some special needs of a general or specific nature, let us know. Below are some recent requests. If you can offer discards, write the requesting depository a letter (sending a copy to your regional). The library accepting the material agrees to pay any postage and packing costs that may be necessary.

Specific needs

U.S. Code, 1970 edition, all volumes.

U.S. Statutes at Large, 1923-71, vols. 43-85.

Discard & gift lists, pre-1973 items.

Ms. Patricia Sloan
Federal Documents Librarian
Nebraska Library Commission
1420 P Street
Lincoln, Nebraska 68508

Specific needs

Statutes at Large, 1969-72, vols. 83-86.

U.S. Reports, vols. 398-407.

Tom Reynolds
Business/Documents Librarian
University of Houston Library
2302-C Red River
Victoria, Texas 77901

Specific needs

Cumulated Index Medicus, 1975, vol. 16, sections 5, 6, 8.

U.S. Treaties & Other Agreements, 1972, vol. 23, part 2.

Ms. Louise Rurode
Government Documents
Devereaux Library
South Dakota School of Mines & Technology
Rapid City, South Dakota 57701

Specific needs

Congressional Globe, 1833-50.

Congressional Record, vols. 1-27.

Document Catalogue, 1893-1940.

Smithsonian Institution. Annual Report. 1846-83; 1889; 1896; 1899; 1918; 1920.

Alden Rollins
Depository Librarian
Consortium Library
3211 Providence Drive
Anchorage, Alaska 99504

Specific needs

Federal Trade Commission Decisions, vols. 59-62, 64-66, 68-70.

Ms. Patricia A. Rodi
U.S. Court of Appeals
Eighth Circuit Library
1114 Market Street, Room 503
Saint Louis, Missouri 63101

Documents Librarians Retire

Two stalwart veterans of the Depository Library System in the State of Washington have retired this year.

They are Ms. Corinne B. Ackley of Washington State Library and Ms. Margarete E. Chalfant of Seattle Public Library.

May they now find ample time to visit their many friends in depositories across the country, passing on some of the vintage wisdom gleaned from decades among documents!

Public Documents Highlights is circulated bi-monthly by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402, and is mailed at first class postage rates. Public Documents Highlights is intended primarily for librarians of the Federal Depository Library Program. Material proposed of circulation may be submitted to the Editor,

Public Documents Highlights, Library and Statutory Distribution Service, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20401. The Superintendent of Documents, however, retains the right to accept such material, to edit it, and to assign priorities of circulation.

