CENSUS OF CANADA, 1911.

INTRODUCTION.

VOLUME II.

This volume, the second of the series, deals with Religions, Tables I to VI; Origins, Tables VII to XIV; Birthplace and Citizenship, Tables XV to XXVII; Literacy, Tables XXVIII to XXXVIII, and Infirmities, Tables XXXIX to XLVI.

The Manual of Instruction in providing for the enumeration of all information required under the provisions of the Census and Statistics Act, 1905 (4-5 Edward VII, c. 5), contained regulations according to which the enumerators were to collect the information from which the tables of this volume have been prepared. They are as follows:—

Religion. "The religion of each person will be entered according as he or she professes, specifying the denomination, sect or community to which the person belongs or adheres, or which he or she favours. If the sons or daughters belong to, or adhere to, or favour another denomination, or profess a different religious belief to that of their parents or either of them, the fact should be so recorded."

Racial or Tribal Origin. "The racial or tribal origin is usually traced through the father, as in English, Scotch, Irish, Welsh, French, etc. A person whose father is English, but whose mother is Scotch, Irish, French or other race, will be ranked as English, and so with any of the others. In the case of Indians the origin is traced through the mother, and names of their tribes should be given. The children begotten of marriages between white and black or yellow races, will be classed as Negro or Mongolian, (Chinese or Japanese), as the case may be.

If the person was born in Canada the name of the province or territory in which born should be given.

If the person was born outside of Canada the enumerator will enter the name of the country in which he or she was born.

Instead of Great Britain or British Isles, the particular country should be given, as England, Ireland Scotland, Wales, Channel Islands, etc.

In the cases of persons born in the double kingdom of Austria-Hungary care should be taken to give the particular provinces, as Austria, Bohemia, Hungary, Galicia, etc.

In the case of persons born in Poland, which is no longer an independent country, inquiry should be made whether the birthplace was in what is now known as German Poland, or Austrian Poland, or Russian Poland, and the answer should be written accordingly. Similarly for persons born in what was formerly Lithuania, the answer should be written Russia (Lith) or Germany (Lith). "Finland" and not "Russia" should be written for a person born in Finland.

If the birthplace given is Turkey, the enumerator should ask whether European or Asiatic Turkey and record accordingly.

If the person was born "at sea" his birthplace should be so recorded.

To prevent errors and to facilitate the work of compilation in the Census Office, the names of the place of birth of persons born out of Canada must be written "in full."

Education. "If the person can read in any language the question will be answered by writing "yes" and by "no" if unable to read.

If the person can write in any language the question will be answered by "yes" and by "no" if unable to write."

Infirmities. "The enumerator is especially enjoined to use great care and tact in obtaining the answers to the questions relative to defectives. People as a rule are sensitive as to the existence in their family of infirm persons, especially those designated as insane or idiotic. Usually the idiots and nearly always the insane are cared for in "homes" or "institutions."

It is not necessary that the degree of infirmity should be absolute or total, but that it should be so sufficiently marked in any one of the classes as to have reached the stage of incapacity. The answers to each of the questions concerning the blind, deaf and dumb, insane and idiotic will be given by entering the age which the person became incapacitated because of the infirmity. If the infirmity is born with one, or dates from childhood, the entry will be made by writing the word "child" for childhood. Persons who are deaf but not dumb are not to be reported on this schedule."

RELIGIONS. The various religions, or, more properly speaking, sects or denominations according to which the people designated their religious belief are given in Tables I to VI. Table I gives by provinces the numbers in 64 specified religions and by totals for Canada for 31 more. In addition to these there are persons recorded as belonging to one of 108 other sects, making a total of 203 sects or denominations, an increase of 46 over the number reported in 1901. Of the new religions specified the more important as regards numbers are Shintos, Sikhs and Hindus and Socialists. The term Socialist may be taken objection to as expressing a religious belief, but as the Census Office is not concerned with the name by which a number of people designate their sect or denomination, every person was classified as he or she gave the information to the enumerator.

The population grew in the thirty years from 4,324,810 to 7,206,643, being 508,429 in the first decade, 538,076 in the second, and, 1,835,328 in the third. The Roman Catholics grew in the thirty years from 1,791,982 to 2,833,041, the Presbyterians from 676,165 to 1,115,324, the Methodists from 742,981 to 1,079,892, the Anglicans from 577,414 to 1,043,017, the Baptists from 296,525 to 382,666 and the Lutherans from 46,350 to 229,864. The increase of 1,835,328 in the last decade included 603,441 Roman Catholics, 361,523 Anglicans, 272,882 Presbyterians, 163,006 Methodists, 137,340 Lutherans, 72,877 Greek Church, 64,661 Baptists, 58,163 Jews, 12,814 Mennonites and 9,180 Mormons. The religion classed as Protestants shows an increase of 18,653, but these probably comprise several other sects as the name is not usually given to a religious denomination. So also the name Christian may include another body known in some places as Disciples or Christians.

The Roman Catholics comprised in 1911 39·31 per cent of the population, having fallen from 41·43 per cent in 1881, 41·21 per cent in 1891 and 41·51 per cent in 1901. The Presbyterians were 15·64 per cent in 1881, 15·63 per cent in 1891, 15·68 per cent in 1901 and 15·48 per cent in 1911. The Methodists were 17·18 per cent in 1881, 17·54 per cent in 1891, 17·07 per cent in 1901 and 14·99 per cent in 1911. The Anglicans were 13·35 per cent in 1881, 13·37 per cent in 1891, 12·69 per cent in 1901 and 14·47 per cent in 1911. The Baptists were 6·86 per cent in 1881, 6·29 per cent in 1891, 5·92 per cent in 1901 and 5·31 per cent in 1911. The Lutherans were 1·07 per cent in 1881, 1·32 per cent in 1891, 1·72 per cent in 1901 and 3·19 per cent in 1911. The Greek Church grew from ·29 per cent in 1901 to 1·23 per cent in 1911, and the Jews from ·06 per cent in 1881, to ·13 per cent in 1891, to ·31 per cent in 1901, to 1·04 per cent in 1911. All other religions are below one per cent for each of the four decades. The Anglican, the Lutheran and the Greek Church, which show the greatest increase of percentages, are apparently indebted to the arrival of immigrants during the last decade.

Table II gives the details by townships, parishes or other local municipal entities; Table III by totals for provinces; Table IV by Electoral districts; Table V gives comparative statistics for 1891, 1901 and 1911; and Table VI gives the population by 53 different sects in the principal cities.

In the following table is given the ratio per cent of principal denominations to the total population by the census years 1881-1911.

ORIGINS. The racial or tribal origins of the people are given in Tables VII to XIV.

The increase in population in the ten years 1901-1911 amounted to 1,835,328, being an increase of 34.17 per cent. Of this increase the English contributed 562,251 or 30.63 per cent, the Irish 61,663 or 3.36 per cent, the Scotch 197,726 or 10.77 per cent, the Welsh 11,713 or 0.64 per cent, the French 405,519 or 22.09 per cent, the Germans 82,819 or 4.51 per cent, the Austro-Hungarians 110,925 or 6.05 per cent.

The British races (English, Irish, Scotch, Welsh, etc.), make up 833,790 or 45.42 per cent of the total increase, and with the French and German account for 1,322,128 or 72 per cent of the total increase in the decade. The Scandinavians, Jews, Italians, Poles, Dutch and Finns stand in the order named.

In Table XI the origins of the people are compared by totals and proportion per cent of each origin to the total population in each census year.

Persons of British origin constituted 54.08 per cent of the total population in 1911, as against 57.03 per cent in 1901. The proportion of the English to the total population increased from 23.47 per cent to 25.30 per cent in the ten years, whilst the Irish fell from 18.41 to 14.58, and the Scotch from 14.90 to 13.85 per cent. The population of French origin was 28.51 of the total in 1911 as against 30.71 per cent in 1901, of German origin 5.46 per cent in 1911 as against 5.78 in 1901. The Austro-Hungarians, comprising Austrians, Bukovinians, Galicians, Hungarians and Ruthenians, were 18,178 or .34 per cent of the total population in 1901 as against 129,103 or 1.79 per cent in 1911. Japanese, Chinese and Hindus made up 39,137 or .55 per cent of the people in 1911 as against 22,050 or .41 per cent in 1901.

Persons of British origins were 3,896,985 in 1911 as against 3,063,195 in 1901, being a gain of 833,790 or 27.22 per cent in the decade. Of this increase the population of English origin makes the best showing, with an increase of 562,253 or 41.59 per cent over the figures of 1901. The Irish gained 61,663 or 6.24 per cent and the Scotch 197,726 or 24.71 per cent. The population of French origin was 2,054,890 in 1911 as against 1,649,371 in 1901, being an increase of 405,519 or 24.59 per cent. The population of German origin numbered 393,320 in 1911 as against 310,501 in 1901, being a gain of 82,819 or 26.67 per cent; Austro-Hungarians were 129,103 in 1911 as against 18,178 in 1901, being a gain of 110,925 or 610.22 per cent in the decade. Chinese increased by 10,462 or 60.43 per cent; Japanese by 4,283 or 90.39 per cent; Italians by 34,577 or 319.15 per cent; Jews by 59,550 or 369.16 per cent; Scandinavians by 76,493 or 246.42 per cent; Japanese and Chinese numbered 22,050 in 1901 as against 39,137 in 1911. No Hindus were reported in the Census of 1901. In the last Census 2,342 are reported, of which 2,292 are in British Columbia.

BIRTHPLACE AND CITIZENSHIP. The birthplace of the population living in Canada on June 1st, 1911, is given in the first ten tables of the third part, being Tables XV to XXV. Tables XV, XVI and XVII give the nativity of the population by electoral districts, certain cities and towns and by provinces. Comparative statistics by census years and the relative and per cent ratio of the people according to country of birth are given in Tables XIX to XXI. Table XXII compares the relative numerical importance of the population as classified according to country of birth. Tables XXIII to XXV deal with the inter-provincial movement of the native-born.

Of the total increase of 1,835,328 in the population in the decade the Canadian-born contributed 947,867 or 51.65 per cent, natives of the British Islands 394,507 or 21.50 per cent, other parts of the Empire 13,324 or 0.73 per cent, making a total increase of British-born, including British unknown, of 1,360,577 or more than 74.13 per cent of the total increase from 1901 to 1911. The increase of 474,283 in the number of foreign-born includes 279,392 European-born, 17,366 Asiatic-born, exclusive of Hindus, and 175,781 persons born in the United States.

The population born in each of the provinces and living in Canada as shown by the censuses of 1911 and 1901 was as follows:—Alberta and Saskatchewan 186,722 and 65,784; British Columbia 87,935 and 60,766; Manitoba 209,186 and 110,742; Ontario 2,228,470 and 1,928,099; Quebec 1,937,914 and 1,620,482; New Brunswick 345,253 and 317,062; Nova Scotia 476,210 and 442,898; Prince Edward Island 103,410 and 105,629. From the foregoing it will be seen that Prince Edward Island is the only province that shows for the decade a decrease in the number born in the province and living in Canada, and that the greatest increases were made by the Western provinces, being 183.84 per cent for Alberta and Saskatchewan combined, 88.89 per cent for Manitoba and 44.69 per cent for British Columbia. Of the four original provinces of the Dominion the greatest increase in population born in the province and living in Canada was made by Quebec with 317,432 or 19.59 per cent; followed by Ontario with 300,371 or 15.58 per cent. The net increase in the native population in the ten years 1901-1911 was 947,867 or 20.29 per cent.

The number of persons born in the United Kingdom and resident in Canada in 1911 was 784,526 as compared with 390,019 in 1901, being an increase of 101.15 per cent. The English-born increased by 309,389 or 153.71 per cent; the Scottish-born by 85,760 or 102.55 per cent; the Welsh-born by 6,209 or 246.58 per cent. Persons born in Ireland and living in Canada in 1911 were 92,874 as compared with 101,629 ten years previously, being a decrease in the decade of 8.61 per cent. Comparing one census year with another this was the smallest decrease for any decennium since Confederation. The Census of 1901 showed a decrease of 31.88 per cent as compared with 1891, and 1891 a decrease of 19.59 per cent as compared with 1881 and 1881 showed a decrease of 17.33 per cent in the number of persons born in Ireland and living in Canada as compared with the Census of 1871 which gave statistics for Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces only. For further details regarding the birthplaces of the people see Tables XVIII and XIX, pages 444 and 445.

The number of persons born in the British Islands and resident in Canada in each census year since 1871 is given in Table 2.

The foreign-born numbered 752,732 in 1911 as against 278,449 in 1901, a net gain of 170.33 per cent in ten years. The population of European nativity resident in Canada increased by 279,392 or 222.54 per cent, while that of United States origin increased by 175,781 or 137.44 per cent in the decade. The oriental born, (including Hindus which in the tables are classified under British Possessions) increased by 20,781 or 84.28 per cent from 1901 to 1911.

The population classified according to geographical divisions of birthplace is given for 1901 and 1911 by totals and by per cent ratio in Table 3.

The movement of population from the eastern to the western provinces as given in Table 4 shows that of the 482,059 persons who have migrated from their native province 352,735 or 73.17 per cent of them have taken up residence in the prairie provinces and British Columbia, the largest number having chosen Saskatchewan as their home. It is significant that a greater number of natives of the Atlantic provinces are to be found in the Pacific province than in any one of the Prairie provinces.

Table XXI shows on a per cent basis the component parts of the population in the cities and towns of Canada which have a population of 7,000 and over. In only two of these do the foreign-born reach 25 per cent of the population. The Canadian-born are 96 per cent of the population of Quebec city, over 80 per cent in St. John, Halifax, Ottawa and Montreal, and less than 62 per cent in Toronto. In Western cities of 20,000 and over the percentage of Canadian-born ranges from 40.95 per cent in Victoria to 50.10 per cent in Edmonton.

In the cities and towns of the West which have a population of 20,000 and over, natives of the British Islands constitute 35·21 per cent of the population of Victoria; 33·80 per cent of Calgary; 30·57 per cent of Vancouver; 26·98 per cent of Regina and 25·80 per cent of Edmonton. In the smaller cities and towns of the West, given in the Table, the proportion runs from 15·93 per cent in St. Boniface to 46·69 in North Vancouver. The foreign-born are nearly 30 per cent of the population of Ft. William and Port Arthur and over 20 per cent of Winnipeg, Vancouver, Calgary, Victoria, Regina and Edmonton.

Table XXII deals with the sources of population in each province and shows that of the total population nearly 78 per cent were born within the Dominion and 22 per cent were immigrants; of the latter 11·6 per cent were British-born and 10·4 per cent were of alien birth. The proportion of the population Canadian-born by provinces was 43·14 per cent in British Columbia, 43·30 per cent in Alberta, 50·51 per cent in Saskatchewan and 58·13 per cent in Manitoba. In the eastern provinces the proportion of natives was larger, being over 90 per cent in Quebec and the Maritime provinces and 79·87 per cent in Ontario. Prince Edward Island stands at the head of the list as having the greatest proportion of Canadian-born, being 97·25 in every 100.

Table XXIII shows when read from left to right the residence of the population born in each province; for example, of the Canadian-born 78,573 were born in Alberta and of these 73,813 lived in province of birth, 2,604 in British Columbia, 491 in Manitoba, 24 in New Brunswick, 37 in Nova Scotia, 549 in Ontario, 10 in Prince Edward Island, 96 in Quebec, 908 in Saskatchewan, 7 in Yukon and 34 in Northwest Territories, and when read downward the table shows the number living in each province who were born in each province, that is to say of the 162,237 Canadian-born population living in Alberta 73,813 were born in that province, 1,441 in British Columbia, 5,530 in Manitoba, 2,876 in New Brunswick, 5,003 in Nova Scotia, 57,530 in Ontario, 1,846 in Prince Edward Island, 10,112 in Quebec, 1,743 in Saskatchewan, 11 in Yukon, 261 in Northwest Territories and 2,071 whose birthplace in Canada was not recorded.

In Table XXIV persons born in each province are distributed on a percentage basis according to the province in which they were resident in 1911, and Table XXV shows what percentage of the native population resident in each province was born in that province and in each of the other provinces.

Statistics relating to citizenship are given in Tables XXVI and XXVII. The first of these shows that of 752,732 persons of alien birth resident in Canada at the date of the census 353,588 or 46·98 per cent had acquired the rights of Canadian citizenship. In table XXVII the male population of voting age is classified under two main heads—British-born and Foreign-born; the former includes 1,442,618 native-born, 382,133 born in the United Kingdom and 26,472 born in British possessions; the latter numbers 346,523 males of voting age of whom only 135,906 or 39·22 per cent had become British subjects within Canada. Thus the total voting strength of the electorate in 1911 was 1,987,129.

It is probable that the figures giving the number of foreign-born naturalized in both tables are much too low owing to a misunderstanding or lack of acquaintance with the section of the Canadian Naturalization law respecting minors, which reads as follows:—"If the father, or the mother being a widow, has obtained a certificate of naturalization within Canada, every child of such father or mother who, during infancy, has become resident with such father or mother within Canada, shall, within Canada, be deemed to be a naturalized British subject." R.S., 1906; c. 77, s. 36.

There were 7,567 foreign-born males of voting age in the Maritime provinces, of whom 2,866 or 37.90 per cent were naturalized; in the Prairie provinces the foreign-born numbered 163,823 of whom 82,524 or 50.37 per cent had acquired citizenship, British Columbia had 68,963 foreigners, of whom only 13,044 or 18.91 per cent had become naturalized.

LITERACY. The statistics of the educational status of the people are given in tables XXVIII to XXXVIII.

The number of persons under five years of age was 887,483, leaving 6,319,160 persons whose educational acquirements were recorded in the census of June, 1911. The increase in the population five years of age and over from 1901 to 1911 was 33.63 per cent; during the same period the numbers of those who could read and write increased by 43.48 per cent, while the numbers of those able to read only decreased by 74.64 per cent. In 1901 there were 680,132 persons in Canada who could neither read nor write, in 1911 the number was 663,453, a decrease of nearly $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent in ten years.

Persons who can read and write constituted 88.98 per cent of the population of five years of age and over in 1911 as against 82.88 per cent in 1901; those who can read only were 2.74 per cent in 1901 as against one-half of one per cent in 1911, and the illiterates, classing as such persons who can neither read nor write, were 14.38 per cent of the population five years of age and over in 1901 as against 10.50 per cent in 1911, a betterment of 3.88 per cent in the decade.

In table 5 a comparative statement of the educational status of the population five years and over is given by totals and by provinces for the census years 1911 and 1901.

NOTE.—The minus sign denotes a decrease.

Of the native-born population of Canada five years of age and over 880 males and 896 females in every 1,000 of each sex can read and write. By provinces the ratio per 1,000 was, British Columbia 868 males and 834 females; Alberta 851 males and 797 females; Saskatchewan 874 males and 822 females; Manitoba 885 males and 875 females; Ontario 926 males and 939 females; Quebec 845 males and 882 females; New Brunswick 836 males and 861 females; Nova Scotia 887 males and 890 females and Prince Edward Island 912 males and 914 females in every 1,000 of the population of each sex were able to read and write.

The educational status of the population classified as Canadian-born, British-born (Canada excepted) and Foreign-born is given on the basis of a proportion per 1,000 in Table 6.

The educational ability of the male population of voting age is given in Table XXXV for Canadian-born, in Table XXXVI for British immigrants and in Table XXXVII for the Foreign-born population. A comparison of the figures of these tables shows that of Canadian-born 95 in every 1,000 were unable to read and write, of British immigrants 30 in every 1,000 and of the foreign-born 165 in every 1,000 were illiterate. In Table XXXVIII the literacy of the population, male and female, 5 years of age and over is given for cities and towns of over 7,000.

INFIRMITIES. The statistics of the defective classes in Canada are given in Tables XXXIX to XLVI by electoral districts and provinces. For the first time in Census taking in Canada an effort has been made to differentiate as between the Insane and Idiotic or feeble-minded. In previous censuses the records for the latter class were either not obtained or were included with the records of Insane under the general heading "Unsound Mind."

The returns of the enumerators for the census of 1911 have been compared carefully with such other data relating to these classes as were available. There is always a probability that the full numbers of any class of defectives are never obtained in a census, owing to a natural aversion on the part of parents to, as they think, advertise the presence of a defective in the family, especially if the infirmity dates from childhood, and on the part of the enumerator to enquire for such infirmities.

A strict comparison of the number of defectives, particularly in the case of the insane, cannot always be made between provinces. For example, the Insane of Saskatchewan and Alberta are to be found in some instances in the hospitals of Manitoba and British Columbia.

The number of blind in 1911 was 3,238; of deaf and dumb 4,584; of insane 14,702; and of idiotic 5,387; making a total of defectives of 28,611, of which 15,530 were males and 13,081 were females.

In Table 7 is given the totals for all Canada of defectives for each class by census years 1881, 1891, 1901 and 1911.

(1) Idiotic not reported as a class. The term used in previous censuses was "unsound mind" and comprised the idiotic and insane.

From 1901 to 1911 the population increased by 34.17 per cent, for the same period the total number of infirm increased from 26,148 to 28,611, being an increase of 9.42 per cent in the decade.

In Table 8 is given a summary of the number of infirm by totals and by sexes, and their relative proportion per 10,000 of the population.

Tables XXXIX to XLII give the statistics of the infirm by electoral districts. Table XLIII gives a summary for Canada and the provinces. Table XLIV, gives comparative statistics of the number of infirm persons by totals and by proportion per 10,000 of the population by provinces in 1891, 1901 and 1911.

For the Unsound Mind there have been increases both in actual numbers and in proportion in every province excepting for New Brunswick. The highest proportion of Unsound Mind per 10,000 of the population is shown by Prince Edward Island with 41·717, followed by Ontario with 34·998, Nova Scotia with 33·615 and Quebec with 32·443 per 10,000.

Table XLV, page 639, gives on a per cent basis for male and female the Infirm classified according to conjugal condition, age at date of census, age incapacitated, origins, birthplaces and occupations. The table needs but little explanation. For example, it shows that of the total number of 1,850 blind males 41·95 per cent were single, 42·11 per cent were married and 15·41 per cent widowed, and of 1,388 blind females 44·53 per cent were single, 23·70 per cent married and 30·91 per cent widowed, and considered by age groups 4·60 per cent of males were under 10 years of age; 8·05 per cent between the ages of 10 and 19; 17·68 per cent between the ages of 20 and 39, etc., and similarly for age incapacitated, origins, birthplaces and occupations for males and females for each kind of infirmity.

The proportions of infirm per 10,000 of the population by each conjugal class, age group, origin and birthplace are given in Table XLVI. As stated in the foot-note to the table, page 640, the rate is in each case computed on the total population in each class. The table, which is to be read horizontally, for example, shows for single males that 3·275 in every 10,000 of total of 2,369,766 were blind, 7·562 deaf and dumb, 21·112 insane and 13·740 idiotic while for single females 3·182 in every 10,000 of total of 1,941,866 were blind, 7·807 deaf and dumb, 19·213 insane and 11·736 idiotic. The statistics relative to the classification of the infirm by ages, origins and birthplaces have been computed similarly and are to be read in like manner.

The statistics of the Blind as summarized in Table 9 show that their number is steadily decreasing. For each census period there was a greater number of males than females. In 1911 for Canada there were 1,000 males to every 750 females incapacitated through blindness.

| 1911..... | 3,238 | 1,850 | 1,388 | 4·493 | 4·840 | 4·101 |

In Table 10 the results of the census of the Deaf and Dumb are given. In 1891 for both males and females there were fewer of this class than in 1881; in 1901 the figures presented a very heavy increase over those of the previous census, whilst in 1911 the figures show a falling off. The decreases for males and females are about level.

The number of persons of unsound mind for this census are classified under two heads—Insane and Idiotic. The greater number of insane are in public institutions, as are also the majority of the idiotic. It will be seen from Table 11 that although the total number of unsound mind, (insane and idiotic), are greater in 1911 than in 1901, yet the proportion per 10,000 in 1911 was 28.847 as against 31.014 in 1901, and that for Canada there were 858 mentally unbalanced women to every 1,000 men.

RECENSEMENT DU CANADA, 1911.

INTRODUCTION.

VOLUME II.

Ce volume, le second de la série, se rapporte aux religions, tableaux I à VI; aux origines, tableaux VII à XIV; aux lieux de naissance et à la citoyenneté, tableaux XV à XXVIII; à l'instruction, tableaux XXIX à XXXVIII, et aux infirmités, tableaux XXXIX à XLVI.

Le manuel d'instruction aux recenseurs, conformément aux dispositions de la loi du recensement et des statistiques, 1905 (4-5, Edouard VII, chapitre 5), contenait les règlements suivants d'après lesquels ont été recueillies les statistiques données dans les tableaux de ce volume:

Religion—“Le recenseur inscrira la religion que chaque personne professe et indiquera la secte ou la communauté à laquelle elle appartient ou qu'elle préfère. Si les fils ou les filles appartiennent à une autre dénomination ou préfèrent ou professent une autre foi religieuse que celle de leurs parents ou d'un de leurs parents, le recenseur devra l'inscrire au tableau.”

Race ou tribu d'origine—“La race ou la tribu se retrace ordinairement par le père, soit Anglais, Ecossais, Irlandais, Gallois, Français, etc. Une personne dont le père est Anglais, mais dont la mère est Ecossaise, Irlandaise ou Française ou d'autre race sera classée comme Anglaise, et ainsi pour toutes les autres races. Dans le cas des Indiens l'origine se retrace par la mère, et les noms des tribus doivent être donnés. Les enfants nés de mariages entre une personne de race blanche et une personne de race noire ou jaune seront classés comme nègres ou mongoles (Chinois ou Japonais) selon le cas.”

“Si la personne est née au Canada, le nom de la province ou du territoire où elle est née sera inscrit.

“Si la personne est née ailleurs qu'au Canada, le recenseur inscrira le nom du pays où elle est née.

“Au lieu de Grande-Bretagne ou Îles Britanniques le recenseur doit donner le pays même de naissance, savoir: Angleterre, Irlande, Ecosse, Galles, Îles de la Manche, etc.

“Pour les personnes nées dans le Royaume-Uni de l'Autriche-Hongrie, le recenseur doit prendre soin de donner les noms des provinces de naissance, savoir: Autriche, Bohême, Hongrie, Galicie, etc.

“Pour les personnes qui donnent la Pologne comme leur lieu de naissance, ce pays n'étant plus un état indépendant, le recenseur doit demander si le lieu de naissance est la Pologne Allemande, ou la Pologne Autrichienne, ou la Pologne Russe, et la nationalité doit être désignée selon le cas. De même pour les personnes nées dans le pays qui était autrefois la Lithuanie, la réponse doit être “Russic” (Lith), ou “Allemagne” (Lith), et non pas simplement “Russie” ou “Allemagne”. Pour les personnes nées en Finlande l'inscription doit être “Finlande” et non pas “Russie.”

Si le lieu de naissance est la Turquie, le recenseur doit demander si c'est la Turquie d'Europe ou la Turquie d'Asie et écrire le nom donné.

“Si une personne est née “en mer” son lieu de naissance sera ainsi désigné.

“Pour éviter les erreurs et faciliter les travaux de compilation au bureau du recensement le recenseur écrira tout au long le nom du lieu de naissance des personnes nées ailleurs qu'au Canada”.

Education—“Si la personne sait lire dans une langue quelconque, le recenseur répondra “oui” à la question, et “non” si elle ne sait pas lire.

“Si la personne sait écrire dans une langue quelconque, le recenseur répondra “oui” à la question, et “non” si elle ne sait pas écrire.”

Infirmités—“Le recenseur devra faire usage de tout le tact nécessaire pour obtenir les réponses aux questions se rapportant aux infirmités. Les gens ressentent généralement l'existence d'infirmités dans leur famille, particulièrement quand ces infirmités sont de la catégorie désignée comme aliénés ou idiots. Généralement les idiots, et presque toujours les aliénés, sont internés dans des “asiles” ou “institutions”.

“Il n'est pas nécessaire que le degré d'infirmité soit absolu ou total, mais il suffit qu'il soit assez accusé pour que la personne soit incapable de travailler. On répondra à chacune des questions se rapportant aux aveugles, aux sourd-muets, aux aliénés et idiots, en entrant l'âge auquel la personne a été rendue invalide par son infirmité. Si la personne est infirme de naissance ou est devenue infirme dans son enfance, on écrira le mot “enfance”. Les personnes sourdes mais non muettes ne doivent pas être entrées dans ce tableau.”

RELIGIONS. Les diverses religions, ou en termes mieux appropriés, les sectes ou dénominations d'après lesquelles les gens désignent leur foi religieuse, sont données aux tableaux I à VI. Le tableau I donne, par provinces, les nombres dans 64 religions spécifiées, et les totaux pour le Canada dans 31 autres religions. En dehors de celles-ci, des personnes ont été inscrites comme appartenant à une des 108 autres sectes, formant un total de 203 sectes ou dénominations, soit une augmentation de 46 sur les chiffres correspondants rapportés en 1901. Des nouvelles religions spécifiées, les plus importantes quant au nombre, sont les shintos, sikhs et hindous et les socialistes. On s'objectera peut-être au terme "socialistes" comme religion, mais les recenseurs n'ont fait qu'inscrire les dénominations données par les personnes inscrites.

La population s'est accrue dans les trente ans de 4,324,810 à 7,206,643, soit de 508,429 dans la première décade, de 538,076 dans la deuxième et de 1,835,328 dans la troisième. Les catholiques se sont accrus dans les trente ans de 1,791,982 à 2,833,041: les presbytériens, de 676,165, à 1,115,324; les méthodistes, de 742,981 à 1,079,892: les anglicans, de 577,414 à 1,043,017; les baptistes, de 296,525 à 382,666, et les luthériens, de 46,350 à 229,864. L'augmentation de 1,835,328 dans la dernière décade comprenait 603,441 catholiques, 361,523 anglicans, 272,882 presbytériens, 163,006 méthodistes, 137,340 luthériens, 72,877 adeptes de l'Eglise grecque, 64,661 baptistes, 58,163 juifs, 12,814 mennonites et 9,180 mormons. La religion classée comme "protestants" indique une augmentation de 18,653, mais ceux-ci comprennent probablement plusieurs autres sectes vu que ce terme n'est pas donné à une dénomination religieuse. De même pour le terme "christians" qui peut aussi comprendre un autre corps connu en certains endroits comme "disciples" ou "christians".

Les catholiques comprenaient 39.31 pour cent de la population en 1911, ayant tombé de 41.43 pour cent en 1881, de 41.21 pour cent en 1891, et de 41.51 pour cent en 1901. Les presbytériens étaient 15.64 pour cent en 1881, 15.63 pour cent en 1891, 15.68 pour cent en 1901 et 15.48 pour cent en 1911. Les méthodistes étaient 17.18 pour cent en 1881, 17.54 pour cent en 1891, 17.07 pour cent en 1901 et 14.99 pour cent en 1911. Les anglicans étaient 13.35 pour cent en 1881, 13.37 pour cent en 1891, 12.69 pour cent en 1901 et 14.47 pour cent en 1911. Les baptistes étaient 6.86 pour cent en 1881, 6.29 pour cent en 1891, 5.92 pour cent en 1901 et 5.31 pour cent en 1911. Les luthériens étaient 1.07 pour cent en 1881, 1.32 pour cent en 1891, 1.72 pour cent en 1901 et 3.19 pour cent en 1911. Les adeptes de l'Eglise grecque ont augmenté de 0.29 pour cent en 1901 à 1.23 pour cent en 1911. et les juifs de 0.06 pour cent en 1881, à 0.13 pour cent en 1891, à 0.31 pour cent en 1901 et à 1.04 pour cent en 1911. Toutes les autres religions sont au-dessous de un pour cent dans chacune des quatre décades. Les plus fortes augmentations sont apparemment dues à l'arrivée des immigrants durant la dernière décade.

Le tableau II donne les détails par cantons, paroisses ou autres divisions municipales; le tableau III, par totaux pour les provinces; le tableau IV, par districts électoraux; le tableau V donne les statistiques comparatives pour 1891, 1901 et 1911; et le tableau VI donne la population des principales cités et villes répartie entre 53 sectes différentes.

La proportion pour cent des principales dénominations, par rapport au total de la population, est donnée dans le tableau I, pour les années 1881-1911.

ORIGINES. Les origines selon la race ou la tribu sont données dans les tableaux VII à XIV.

L'accroissement de la population dans les dix ans, 1901-1911, s'élevait à 1,835,328, soit une augmentation de 34.17 pour cent. Les Anglais comptaient 562,251 ou 30.63 pour cent de cette augmentation; les Irlandais, 61,663 ou 3.36 pour cent; les Ecossais, 197,726 ou 10.77 pour cent; les Gallois, 11,713 ou 0.64 pour cent; les Français, 405,519 ou 22.09 pour cent; les Allemands, 82,819 ou 4.51 pour cent, et les Austro-Hongrois, 110,925 ou 6.05 pour cent.

Les races britanniques (Anglais, Irlandais Ecossais et Gallois, etc.) forment 833,790 ou 45.42 pour cent de l'augmentation totale, et avec les Français et les Allemands, constituent 1,322,128 ou 72 pour cent de l'augmentation totale durant la décade. Les Scandinaves, les Juifs, les Italiens, les Polonais, les Hollandais et les Finlandais viennent ensuite dans l'ordre nommé.

Le tableau XI, page 367, contient les origines comparées par totaux et proportion pour cent de chaque origine par rapport au total de la population dans chaque année de recensement.

Les personnes d'origine britannique constituaient 3,896,985 ou 54.08 pour cent de la population totale en 1911, contre 3,063,195 ou 57.03 pour cent en 1901. La proportion des Anglais par rapport au total de la population a augmenté de 23.47 pour cent à 25.30 pour cent dans les dix ans, tandis que celle des Irlandais est tombée de 18.41 à 14.58 pour cent, et celle des Ecossais de 14.90 à 13.85 pour cent.

La population d'origine française était de 28·51 pour cent de la population totale en 1911, contre 30·71 pour cent en 1901, et la population d'origine allemande, de 5·46 pour cent en 1911, contre 5·78 en 1901. Les Austro-Hongrois, comprenant les Autrichiens, les Bukoviniens, les Galiciens, les Hongrois et les Ruthènes, comptaient 18,178 ou 0·34 pour cent de la population totale en 1901, contre 129,103 ou 1·79 pour cent en 1911. Les Japonais, les Chinois et les Hindous comptaient 39,137 ou 0·55 pour cent de la population en 1911, contre 22,050 ou 0·41 pour cent en 1901.

Les personnes d'origine britannique étaient au nombre de 3,896,985 en 1911, contre 3,063,195 en 1901, soit un gain de 833,790 ou 27·22 pour cent dans la décade. La plus grande partie de ce gain revient aux Anglais avec une augmentation de 562,251 ou 44·59 pour cent sur les chiffres de 1901. Les Irlandais ont gagné 61,663 ou 6·24 pour cent, et les Ecossais, 197,726 ou 24·71 pour cent. La population d'origine française était de 2,054,890 en 1911, contre 1,649,371 en 1901, soit une augmentation de 405,519 ou 24·59 pour cent. La population d'origine allemande comptait 393,320 en 1911, contre 310,501 en 1901, soit un gain de 82,819 ou 26·67 pour cent; les Austro-Hongrois étaient au nombre de 129,103 en 1911, contre 18,178 en 1901, soit un gain de 110,925 ou 610,22 pour cent dans la décade. Les Chinois ont augmenté de 10,462 ou de 60·43 pour cent; les Japonais, de 4,283 ou de 90·39 pour cent; les Italiens, de 34,577 ou de 319,15 pour cent; les Juifs, de 59,550 ou de 369·16 pour cent; les Scandinaves, de 76,493 ou de 246·42 pour cent. Les Japonais et les Chinois comptaient 22,050 en 1901, contre 39,137 en 1911. Il n'a été fait rapport d'aucun Hindou dans le recensement de 1901; dans le dernier recensement 2,342 ont été rapportés, dont 2,292 dans la Colombie-Britannique.

LIEU DE NAISSANCE ET CITOYENNETÉ. La statistique de la population du Canada par lieux de naissance, d'après le recensement du 1^{er} juin 1911, est donné dans les dix premiers tableaux, XV à XXV, de la troisième partie. Les tableaux XV, XVI et XVII donnent les lieux de naissance par districts électoraux, par principales cités et villes et par paroisses. Des statistiques comparatives par années de recensement, ainsi que des proportions pour cent relatives aux pays de naissance sont données dans les tableaux XIX à XXI. Le tableau XXII compare les chiffres de la population classifiée selon le pays de naissance. Les tableaux XXIII à XXV se rapportent au mouvement migrateur interprovincial des personnes nées au Canada.

Sur l'augmentation totale de 1,835,328 dans la population du Canada durant la décade, les Canadiens de naissance comptaient 947,867 ou 51·65 pour cent; les natifs des Iles Britanniques, 394,507 ou 21·50 pour cent; les natifs des autres parties de l'Empire, 13,324 ou 0·73 pour cent, formant un total de naissances britanniques de 1,360,577 ou 74·13 pour cent du grand total de l'augmentation de 1901 à 1911. L'augmentation de 474,283 dans le nombre de naissances étrangères comprenait 279,392 Européens, 17,366 Asiatiques, les Hindous non-compris, et 175,781 Américains. Le nombre de personnes nées dans chaque province et vivant au Canada, d'après les recensements de 1911 et 1901, était représenté de la manière suivante:—l'Alberta et la Saskatchewan, 186,722 et 65,784; la Colombie-Britannique, 87,935 et 60,766; le Manitoba, 209,186 et 110,742; Ontario, 2,228,470 et 1,928,099; Québec, 1,937,914 et 1,620,482; le Nouveau-Brunswick, 345,253 et 317,062; la Nouvelle-Ecosse, 476,210 et 442,898; l'Île du Prince-Edouard, 103,410 et 105,629. On voit par ce qui précède que l'Île du Prince-Edouard est la seule province qui montre une diminution dans le nombre de personnes nées dans la province et vivant au Canada durant la décade, et que les plus fortes augmentations reviennent aux provinces de l'Ouest, soit 183·84 pour cent dans l'Alberta et la Saskatchewan réunies, 88·89 pour cent dans le Manitoba, et 44·69 pour cent dans la Colombie-Britannique. Des quatre premières provinces de la Confédération, la plus forte augmentation dans le nombre de personnes nées dans la province durant la décade, se trouve dans Québec avec 317,432 ou 19·59 pour cent, suivie d'Ontario avec 300,371 ou 15·58 pour cent. L'augmentation totale dans la population native, durant les dix années 1901-1911, était de 947,867 ou 20·29 pour cent.

Le nombre de personnes nées dans le Royaume-Uni et résidant au Canada en 1911, était de 784,526, comparativement à 390,019 en 1901, soit une augmentation de 101·15 pour cent. Les personnes de naissance anglaise ont augmenté de 309,389 ou 153·71 pour cent; de naissance écossaise, de 85,760 ou 102·55 pour cent; de naissance galloise, de 6,209 ou 246·58 pour cent. Le nombre de personnes nées en Irlande et vivant au Canada en 1911 était de 92,874, comparativement à 101,629 dix ans auparavant, soit une diminution, durant la décade, de 8·61 pour cent. Comparée avec les recensements précédents, cette diminution est la plus faible d'aucune décade depuis la Confédération. Le recensement de 1901 indiquait une diminution de 31·88 pour cent comparé avec celui de 1891, le recensement de 1891 une diminution de 19·59 pour cent comparé avec celui de 1881, et le recensement de 1881 une diminution de 17·33 pour cent dans le nombre de personnes nées en Irlande et vivant au Canada, comparé avec celui de 1871 qui ne représentait que les provinces d'Ontario, de Québec, de la Nouvelle-Ecosse et du Nouveau-Brunswick. Pour plus de détails quant aux lieux de naissance voir les tableaux XVIII et XIX, pages 444 et 445.

Le nombre de personnes nées dans les Îles Britanniques et résidant au Canada, pour chaque année de recensement depuis 1871, est donné au tableau 2 suivant:—

Les personnes de naissance étrangère comptaient 752,732 en 1911, contre 278,448 en 1901, soit un gain de 170·33 pour cent en dix ans. Le nombre de personnes nées en Europe et résidant au Canada a augmenté de 279,392 ou 222·54 pour cent, tandis que le nombre de celles qui sont nées aux Etats-Unis a augmenté de 175,781 ou 137·44 pour cent durant la décade. Les personnes de naissance Orientale (y compris les Hindous qui sont classifiés sous les possessions britanniques), ont augmenté de 20,781 ou 84·28 pour cent de 1901 à 1911.

La population classifiée d'après les divisions géographiques des lieux de naissance, est donnée numériquement et proportionnellement, pour les années 1901 et 1911, dans le tableau 3 suivant:—

Le mouvement de la population des provinces de l'Est vers les provinces de l'Ouest, tel qu'illustré dans le tableau 4, indique que, des 482,059 personnes qui ont émigré de leur province natale, 352,735 ou 73·17 pour cent d'elles ont établi leur résidence dans les provinces des prairies et la Colombie-Britannique, le plus grand nombre ayant choisi la Saskatchewan. On remarque aussi qu'un plus grand nombre de personnes nées dans les provinces de l'Atlantique se trouvent dans la province du Pacifique que dans les provinces des prairies.

Le tableau XXI montre, sur une base proportionnelle, les parties constituantes de la population dans les cités et villes du Canada ayant une population de 7,000 et plus. Dans deux de ces cités ou villes, seulement, le chiffre des personnes nées à l'étranger atteint 25 pour cent de la population totale. Les Canadiens de naissance comptent 96 pour cent dans la cité de Québec, au-dessus de 80 pour cent dans St. John, Halifax, Ottawa et Montréal, et moins de 62 pour cent dans Toronto. Dans les cités de l'Ouest ayant une population de 20,000 et plus, le chiffre des Canadiens de naissance varie de 40·95 pour cent dans Victoria à 50·10 pour cent dans Edmonton.

Dans les cités et villes de l'Ouest ayant une population de 20,000 et plus, les natifs des Iles Britanniques constituent 35·21 pour cent de la population de Victoria; 33·80 pour cent de Calgary; 30·57 pour cent de Vancouver; 26·98 pour cent de Regina et 25·80 pour cent d'Edmonton. Dans les cités et ville de l'ouest moins peuplées, données dans la liste, la proportion varie de 15·83 pour cent dans St. Boniface, 46·69 dans Vancouver Nord. Les natifs de pays étrangers forment près de 30 pour cent de la population de Fort William et de Port Arthur, et plus de 20 pour cent dans Winnipeg, Vancouver, Calgary, Victoria, Regina et Edmonton.

Le tableau XXII se rapporte aux sources de la population dans chaque province et montre que sur le total de la population environ 78 pour cent étaient de naissance canadienne et 22 pour cent des immigrants; de ces derniers, 11·6 pour cent étaient de naissance britannique et 10·4 pour cent de naissance étrangère. La proportion de la population native du Canada par provinces, était de 43·14 pour cent dans la Colombie-Britannique; de 43·30 pour cent dans l'Alberta; de 50·51 pour cent dans la Saskatchewan et de 58·13 pour cent dans le Manitoba. Dans les provinces de l'Est la proportion des natifs du Canada était plus élevée, soit au-dessus de 90 pour cent dans Québec et les provinces maritimes, et 79·87 pour cent dans Ontario. L'Ile du Prince-Edouard est en tête des provinces ayant la plus forte proportion de naissances canadiennes, soit 97·25 pour cent.

Le tableau XXIII montre, en lisant de gauche à droite, la résidence de la population née dans chaque province; par exemple, sur le nombre total de personnes nées au Canada, 78,573 sont nées dans l'Alberta, dont 73,813 vivant dans la province natale, 2,604 dans la Colombie-Britannique, 491 dans le Manitoba, 24 dans le Nouveau-Brunswick, 37 dans la Nouvelle-Ecosse, 549 dans Ontario, 10 dans l'Île du Prince-Edouard, 96 dans Québec, 908 dans la Saskatchewan, 7 dans le Yukon et 34 dans les Territoires du Nord-Ouest; et en le lisant du haut au bas, le tableau indique le nombre de personnes résidant dans chaque province par provinces de naissance, c'est-à-dire que sur les 162,237 personnes natives du Canada résidant dans l'Alberta, 73,813 sont nées dans cette province, 1,441 dans la Colombie-Britannique, 5,530 dans le Manitoba, 2,876 dans le Nouveau-Brunswick, 5,003 dans la Nouvelle-Ecosse, 57,530 dans Ontario, 1,846 dans l'Île du Prince-Edouard, 10,112 dans Québec, 1,743 dans la Saskatchewan, 11 dans le Yukon, 261 dans les Territoires du Nord-Ouest, et 2,071 dont le lieu de naissance n'a pas été inscrit.

Le tableau XXIV donne le nombre de personnes nées dans chaque province et distribuées, sur une base pour cent, dans leur province de résidence en 1911; le tableau XXV montre quel pour-cent de la population native résidant dans chaque province est né dans cette province et dans chacune des autres provinces. Ces deux tableaux doivent être lus aussi du haut au bas.

Les statistiques relatives à la citoyenneté sont données dans les tableaux XXVI et XXVII. Le premier de ces tableaux montre que sur les 752,732 personnes de naissance étrangère résidant au Canada à la date du recensement, 353,588 ou 46·98 pour cent avaient acquis leurs droits à la citoyenneté canadienne. Dans le tableau XXVII la population des hommes d'âge à voter est classifiée sous deux en-têtes principaux, savoir: de naissance britannique et de naissance étrangère; les premiers, comprenaient 1,442,618 nés au Canada, 382,133 nés dans le Royaume-Uni et 26,472 nés dans les possessions britanniques, et les derniers comptaient 346,523 hommes d'âge à voter, dont 135,906 ou 39·22 pour cent étaient devenus sujets britanniques au Canada. Et ainsi la force votante de l'électorat était de 1,987,129 en 1911.

Il est probable que les chiffres représentant le nombre de personnes de naissance étrangère naturalisées dans les deux tableaux sont beaucoup trop bas, ceci en vue du fait qu'un grand nombre ignoraient l'article de la loi de naturalisation qui se lit comme suit: "Si le père, ou la mère étant une veuve, a obtenu un certificat de naturalisation dans le Canada, tout enfant de tel père ou de telle mère qui, durant son enfance est devenu résident au Canada avec tel père ou telle mère, sera considéré comme sujet britannique, S. R. 1906, ch. 77, art. 36".

Il y avait 7,567 hommes de naissance étrangère d'âge à voter dans les Provinces maritimes, dont 2,866 ou 38·90 pour cent étaient naturalisés; dans les provinces des prairies le nombre d'hommes de naissance étrangère s'élevait à 163,823 dont 82,524 ou 50·37 pour cent avaient acquis le droit de citoyenneté; la Colombie-Britannique comptait 68,963 hommes de naissance étrangère, dont seulement 13,044 ou 18·91 pour cent étaient devenus naturalisés.

INSTRUCTION. Les statistiques du degré d'instruction de la population sont données dans les tableaux XXVIII à XXXVIII.

D'après le recensement de juin 1911, le nombre de personnes au-dessous de cinq ans était de 887,483, laissant 6,319,160 personnes dont le degré d'instruction a été inscrit par les recenseurs. L'augmentation dans la population de cinq ans et au-dessus, de 1901 à 1911, était de 33·63 pour cent; durant la même période le nombre de personnes sachant lire et écrire a augmenté de 43·48 pour cent, tandis que le nombre de personnes sachant lire seulement a diminué de 74·64 pour cent. En 1901 il y avait au Canada 680,132 personnes qui ne savaient ni lire ni écrire, et en 1911 le nombre était de 663,453, une diminution de près de $2\frac{1}{2}$ pour cent dans les dix ans.

Les personnes pouvant lire et écrire constituaient 88·98 pour cent de la population de cinq ans et au-dessus en 1911, contre 82·88 pour cent en 1901; les personnes sachant lire seulement formaient 2·74 pour cent en 1901, contre la moitié de un pour cent en 1911, et les illettrés, classifiant ainsi les personnes ne sachant ni lire ni écrire, représentaient 14·38 pour cent de la population de cinq ans et au-dessus en 1901, contre 10·50 pour cent en 1911, ou un progrès de 3·88 pour cent durant la décade.

Le tableau 5 suivant donne un état comparatif du degré d'instruction de la population de cinq ans et au-dessus, par totaux et par provinces, pour les années 1911 et 1901:

Du total de la population native du Canada, de cinq ans et au-dessus, 880 hommes et 896 femmes dans chaque 1,000 de chaque sexe peuvent lire et écrire. Par provinces la proportion par 1,000 est ainsi représentée: la Colombie-Britannique 868 hommes et 834 femmes, l'Alberta 851 hommes et 797 femmes, la Saskatchewan 874 hommes et 822 femmes, le Manitoba 885 hommes et 875 femmes, Ontario 926 hommes et 939 femmes, Québec 845 hommes et 882 femmes, le Nouveau-Brunswick 836 hommes et 861 femmes, la Nouvelle-Ecosse 887 hommes et 890 femmes, et l'Île du Prince-Edouard 912 hommes et 914 femmes dans chaque 1,000 de la population de chaque sexe pouvant lire et écrire.

* Le degré d'instruction de la population classifiée selon les naissances canadiennes, les naissances britanniques (le Canada excepté), et les naissances étrangères, est donné sur la base d'une proportion par 1,000 dans le tableau 6 suivant:

TABLEAU 6. INSTRUCTION PAR LIEUX DE NAISSANCE.

Le degré d'instruction des hommes d'âge à voter est donné dans le tableau XXXV pour les Canadiens de naissance, dans le tableau XXXVI pour les immigrants britanniques et dans le tableau XXXVII pour la population de naissance étrangère. En comparant les chiffres de ces tableaux on voit que 95 sur chaque 1,000 Canadiens de naissance ne pouvaient ni lire ni écrire, contre 30 sur chaque 1,000 émigrés britanniques, tandis que 165 sur chaque 1,000 émigrés étrangers étaient illettrés. Le tableau XXXVIII donne le degré d'instruction de la population de cinq ans et au-dessus pour les cités et villes de 7,000 et plus.

INFIRMITÉS. Les statistiques des classes infirmes du Canada sont données dans les tableaux XXXIX à XLVI, par districts électoraux et par provinces. Un premier effort a été fait au dernier recensement pour établir une différence entre les aliénés et les idiots, ou simples d'esprit. Dans les recensements précédents il n'a été tenu aucun compte de ces derniers, et ils ont été ou omis ou inclus sous l'en-tête générale «aliénés».

Les listes des recenseurs de 1911 ont été comparées soigneusement avec d'autres données se rapportant aux mêmes classes de statistiques. Mais il est toujours à craindre que le nombre des infirmes ne soit pas donné dans un recensement, à cause de l'aversion naturelle chez les parents à faire connaître la présence d'un infirme dans la famille, particulièrement si l'infirmité date de l'enfance, et aussi chez le recenseur à s'enquérir de ces infirmités.

Il est difficile d'établir de justes comparaisons, entre provinces, quant aux statistiques des infirmités. Les aliénés de la Saskatchewan et de l'Alberta, par exemple, se trouvent, dans bien des cas, dans les hôpitaux du Manitoba et de la Colombie-Britannique.

Le nombre d'aveugles en 1911 était de 3,238; de sourds-muets, de 4,584; d'aliénés, de 14,702, et d'idiots, de 5,387, formant une totalité d'infirmes de 28,611 dont 15,530 hommes et 13,081 femmes.

Le tableau 7 suivant donne le nombre d'infirmes pour tout le Canada, dans chaque classe d'infirmité, pour les années de recensement 1881, 1891, 1901 et 1911.

(1) Idiots non-classifiés. Le terme « aliéné » employé dans les recensements précédents comprenait les idiots.

De 1901 à 1911 la population a augmenté de 34.17 pour cent; durant cette période le nombre total d'infirmes a augmenté de 26,148 à 28,611, soit une augmentation de 9.42 pour cent durant la décade.

Le tableau 8 donne la totalité des infirmes par sexes et leur proportion relative par 10,000 de population.

Le tableau 9 suivant indique un décroissement constant dans le nombre d'aveugles. Chaque période de recensement accuse un plus grand nombre d'hommes que de femmes. Il y avait au Canada, en 1911, 1,000 hommes pour chaque 750 femmes aveugles.

TABEAU 9. NOMBRE D'AVEUGLES ET PROPORTION PAR 10,000 DE LA POPULATION POUR LES ANNÉES 1881-1911.

Le tableau 10 contient la statistique des sourds-muets. Le nombre d'infirmes des deux sexes appartenant à cette classe, était moindre en 1891 qu'en 1881; les chiffres de 1901 représentent une très forte augmentation sur ceux du recensement précédent, tandis qu'en 1911 les chiffres indiquent une diminution à peu près égale pour les deux sexes.

Le nombre de personnes atteintes d'aliénation mentale d'après le présent recensement sont classifiées sous deux en-têtes, savoir: Aliénés et idiots. Le plus grand nombre d'aliénés sont dans les institutions publiques ainsi que la majorité des idiots. On voit par le tableau 11 suivant que malgré que le chiffre total des aliénés (y compris les idiots) fût plus élevé en 1911 qu'en 1901, la proportion par 10,000 en 1911 était de 28.847 contre 31.014 en 1901, et que, pour le Canada, il y avait 858 femmes mentalement dérangées pour chaque 1,000 hommes.

TABLEAU 11. NOMBRE D'ALIÉNÉS ET IDIOTS ET PROPORTION PAR 10,000 DE LA POPULATION POUR LES ANNÉES 1881-1911.

Les tableaux XXXIX à XLII donnent la statistique des infirmes par districts électoraux. Le tableau XLIII donne un résumé pour le Canada et les provinces. Le tableau XLIV donne les chiffres comparatifs des infirmes par totaux et par proportion par 10,000 de la population pour chaque province en 1891, 1901 et 1911.

Il y a eu des augmentations, numériques et proportionnelles, dans le nombre d'aliénés dans toutes les provinces, excepté le Nouveau-Brunswick. La haute proportion d'aliénés par 10,000 de la population revient à l'Île-du-Prince-Edouard avec 41,717, suivie d'Ontario avec 34,998, de la Nouvelle-Ecosse avec 33,615 et de Québec avec 32,443 par 10,000.

Le tableau XLV indique, sur une base pour-cent, le nombre d'infirmes classifiés par sexes selon l'état civil, l'âge à la date du recensement, la date de l'invalidité, l'origine, le lieu de naissance et la profession. Ce tableau ne demande que peu d'explication; il indique par exemple que sur un total de 1,850 aveugles du sexe masculin, 41·95 pour cent étaient célibataires, 42·11 pour cent mariés et 15·41 pour cent en veuvage, et que sur 1,388 aveugles du sexe féminin, 44·53 pour cent étaient non-mariées, 23·70 pour cent mariées et 30·91 pour cent en veuvage. Considérés par groupes d'âges, 4·60 pour cent des hommes étaient âgés de moins de 10 ans; 8·05 pour cent, entre les âges de 10 et 19; 17·68 pour cent entre les âges de 20 à 39, etc., et de même pour les âges d'invalidités, les origines, les lieux de naissance et les professions, par sexes, pour chaque classe d'infirmité.

Les proportions des infirmes par 10,000 de la population, selon l'état civil, l'âge, l'origine et le lieu de naissance, sont données dans le tableau XLVI. Comme l'indique la note au bas du tableau, la proportion est calculée dans chaque cas sur la population totale pour chaque classe. Le tableau, qui doit être lu horizontalement, indique, par exemple, pour les hommes non-mariés, que 3·275 dans chaque 10,000 d'un total de 2,369,766 étaient aveugles, 7·562 sourds-muets, 21·112 aliénés et 13·740 idiots; tandis que pour les femmes non-mariées, 3·182 dans chaque 10,000 d'un total de 1,941,866 étaient aveugles, 7·807 sourdes-muettes, 19·213 aliénées et 11·736 idiotes. Les proportions se rapportant à la classification des infirmes par âges, origines et lieux de naissance ont été calculées sur la même base et doivent être lues de la même manière.

NOTE.—The rate per 10,000 in the above table is computed in each case on the total population of a class. For example the rate for blind males is computed on the whole male population, the rate for single males on the whole single male population. The rate in each age group is computed on the population in that group, etc. La proportion par 10,000 dans ce tableau est basée dans chaque cas sur la population totale d'une classe. Par exemple la proportion pour les aveugles du sexe masculin est basée d'après la population totale de ce sexe, tandis que la proportion des aveugles non-mariés est basée sur la population totale des célibataires, la proportion du groupe de chaque âge est basée d'après la population de ce groupe, etc.

APPENDIX.

CENSUS OF THE FAR NORTH OF CANADA.

The census of regions in the Far North of Canada was taken by special officers who had been appointed for that purpose in 1910 and early in 1911, owing to the great distance of the localities and the want of mail accommodation in reaching them and of procuring reports of their work.

The posts of the Hudson's Bay Company from Mackenzie River eastward to the Labrador boundary were assigned to their several factors, with Mr. R. H. Hall, Fur Trade Commissioner of the Company in general charge; but posts on the Mackenzie River and its tributaries were taken by Henry A. Conway of the Indian Department.

Archdeacon R. J. Renison of the Church Missionary Society had general charge of the mission stations of that Society, including Agomaska, Attawapiskat, Brunswick House, Charlton Island, Eastmain English River, Flying Post, Fort Albany, Fort George, Fort Hope, Great Whale River, Hope's Welcome, Little Whale River, Marten's Falls, Matagami, Moose Factory, Nemaska, New Post, Nichequon, Osnaburgh, Rupert's House, Waswanoby and other parts.

Rev. Father Prevost of the Oblate Fathers' Mission, Hull, had charge of the census at mission stations in the unorganized parts of Nipissing, Pontiac, Abitibi, Mistassini, Champlain and the Lake St. John country, including among other places the Grand Trunk Pacific line, Abitibi, Metagami and Lake Opasatika in Ontario, Albany and other places on James Bay, Renard, Longue Pointe, Grassy Lake, and Hunter's Point in Pontiac, Grand Lake Victoria, Lake Barrière, Rapid Post, Lake Farm, Sturgeon, Lepine Farm, Lake Caymar, Lake St. Ignace, Lake Desert, Lac Bras Coupé, Lake Carrière, Fort Hope, Kikandatsch, Kou-kou-cache, Weymontaching, St. Maurice, Masagamous, River Manawan, Labelle Lake Vert, Lake Baskatong, etc.

Mr. Courtlandt Starnes of Fort Churchill was appointed to enumerate the Indians and Eskimos of the region west and northwest of Fort Churchill. He held the position of commissioner of Customs at Fort Churchill and was besides superintendent of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in that region.

Mr. Fabien Vanasse, who was historiographer of the Canadian Government steamship Arctic under Captain Bernier, was appointed to take the census of Baffin Island and took in addition the census of Kilkènek or Port Burwell on the south side of Hudson's straits. The five divisions of his work were Arctic Bay at the south end of Admiralty Bay, Topic-Vink, and the islands of Kekerton, Blacklead and Kilkènek or Burwell.

Report of the Archdeacon of Moosonee.

Rev. R. J. Renison of Moose Fort, Archdeacon of Moosonee, wrote under date of May 8, 1911: "I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letters of January 21 and 26 and March 4, with very complete instructions as to the census in this district. I have already made several winter trips in order to insure that the work would be properly carried out over the entire district. Some of the districts are very remote, but I think that I can obtain a complete return. I find that acting under general instructions from Winnipeg the Hudson's Bay Co. officers are going to take a census of their own people. I find that the only satisfactory method will be for me to make a complete census of every soul, leaving excision to the head office. I am preparing an estimate of the population of the far north on both sides of the straits where we have missions. I shall supply some information about the Eskimos from our missionaries. I am leaving on June 1 for the completion of the work. I shall visit the entire Moose and Albany rivers in person and arrive at Dinorwic about August 1." On September 28 he wrote from Chapeau: "I am sending you by registered mail the census returns of Rupert's House, Eastmain, Charlton, Stratton's Island, Namiska, Waswanoby, Mistassini and Nichequon. Rev. J. E. Woodhall has made a very complete return. Even Nichequon has been reached, which is the most secluded spot in the entire country. I have had a letter from Rev. W. G. Walton, who is forwarding the Fort George and Whale River returns by H. B. Co. packet. I expect to return to Hudson's Bay about November, and if possible I should like to have the accounts settled before that time, that I may be able to remunerate those who have assisted me."

Rev. W. G. Walton, the missionary to the Eskimos, writing from Fort George on August 31, said: "It is reasonably thought that there are altogether 600 Eskimos living on the east coast of Hudson's Bay, but I have only managed to get 542 names. It would be impossible to make a complete census unless one spent four or five years on the work, since those people do not visit the trading posts as regularly as the Indians. Sickness prevented me from visiting them last winter, and it is only in the winter time that we come in touch with them. My catechist did the work for me, and the names are thoroughly reliable. But the ages would be pure guess work. In calling most of them pagans it must be remembered that they are so in name only, since all of them have their religious books and practically every one from the age of ten can read them. Heathen practices are a thing of the past. The majority of the people live in the most squalid conditions and are destitute of proper clothing through the failure of the deer, which long ago were numerous along the east coast of Hudson Bay. I would be glad to make a more complete census during the next few years if it was thought necessary. The present one is the largest ever taken."

Report of Mr. Courtlandt Starnes.

SIR—I have the honour to forward herewith my returns of the census of that part of Canada adjacent to the western shore of the Hudson Bay from Fort Churchill to the northern extremity of Melville peninsula, with the reports of the enumerators.

For the better carrying out of the work I divided the district over which I was given charge into three parts, for each of which I appointed an enumerator.

The first was given to Doctor T. N. Marcellus. It included Churchill proper and vicinity, and the country west and northwest through which the Chippewyan Indians are scattered, trapping, fishing and hunting. Those Indians have no settled camps, and move about according to where they can best find their food. They have no habitation except deerskin tents. This section of the work was done thoroughly, every lodge was visited, Indians were seen by the doctor, and none have been omitted. I had the means of checking this work. The doctor was away 12 days from the 5th to the 17th of January. I had given him a half-breed interpreter, a constable from the force, an Indian guide, a dog team and camping outfit. The farthest Indians were about 120 miles from Churchill. The trails were heavy with snow and the weather never above 40 degrees below zero.

The second was given to Sergeant A. F. Borden, and covered the country between Churchill and Ranken Inlet. The only inhabitants of this part belong to a tribe of Eskimos called Padlimuits. They have no fixed places, but build snow houses wherever their hunting takes them. Sergeant Borden put on the list all those whom he actually saw; the others are included in a statement attached. These natives every spring come to Churchill for a couple of months to seal-hunt at the mouth of the river, and last spring, before I had heard of the census being taken, I had started getting through our interpreter a complete list of the tribe for my own information. It is from that list that the statement is completed.

Sergeant Borden left here on the 2nd of February with two natives and a team of ten dogs. He arrived at Ranken Inlet on the 22nd, where he made connection with Sergeant Hayter, receiving from him the Fullerton returns, and arrived back at Churchill on the 11th of March. The trip occupied 38 days 33 of which were actual travelling; the other five were taken up by three days resting and two days stambound. Seven hundred and fifty miles were covered. The weather was very cold and an almost constant wind and drift blew from the northwest which made the trip particularly arduous on the way north.

The third was given to Sergeant C. N. C. Hayter. This covered all the country north of Ranken Inlet. The ground covered by actual travelling by this officer was one patrol from Fullerton to Wager Inlet, one from Fullerton to near Baker Lake and one to Ranken Inlet. Owing to the nomadic character of these natives in that part of the country it was useless to try and fill up the regular census forms, and a statement was made as accurately as possible from information obtained. These people have no idea whatever of their age. Old and young is as near as they can get at it, and of course they know nothing of our divisions of time. They are sometimes polygamists, sometimes polyandrists. They are fond of children but change them about, adopting some or giving their own away according to convenience, so that it is hard to reckon by families.

It has been impossible to get any statistics regarding furs or fisheries from those people; they do not keep track. What adds also to our difficulty in obtaining information is the want of proper interpreters; there are none obtainable. We can get along for ordinary purposes in our work, but when it comes to figures, time, or anything out of the everyday things it is not possible to make ourselves understood.

The following is a summary of the population in the territory covered by the census taken by me.

| Districts. | White. | Half-Breed. | Indian. | Eskimo. | Total. |
|--------------------------------|--------|-------------|---------|---------|--------|
| Churchill and vicinity..... | 20 | 26 | 180 | 23 | 249 |
| Churchill to Ranken Inlet..... | - | - | - | 236 | 236 |
| Ranken Inlet North..... | 2 | - | - | 1,101 | 1,103 |
| | 22 | 26 | 180 | 1,360 | 1,588 |

Sergeant Hayter had omitted to enumerate himself and the constable with him at Fullerton. I added a sheet for them to his statement. The unused forms are too bulky a package to send by the overland patrol which takes this return. I will send them by first ship.

(Sgd.) COURTLANDT STARNES,

Superintendent.

Churchill, March 18, 1911.

Report of Mr. Fabien Vanasse.

SIR,—On the 8th July, 1910, I received on board the Dominion ship "Arctic," at Father Point, instructions from your Department authorizing me to take the Census of the Northwest Territories. The ship was then on her way to the Arctic regions of Canada, whence she returned on the 24th of September last. I have had the honour since that date to forward to your address the schedules containing the information asked for by the Census Act.

In the course of that voyage I have had occasion to visit parts of the coast of the immense Island of Baffin, and according to instructions I made it a duty to reach the shore and take the census of each of the villages which it was possible for us to visit. A few nomadic tribes are met with on the islands of King William, Prince of Wales, Victoria and Bank. But these children of the desert are only there travelling solely for hunting purposes.

The Innuits (improperly called Eskimos) seemed to have adopted the Baffin Land as their home. They live there permanently and only leave the place for hunting, but always with the intention of returning back. Some of their villages are met with on almost every point of the coasts.

In the course of the last voyage we have visited four of these villages, of which two on the north coast of the island (Arctic Bay and Topik-Vink) and two in Cumberland Sound, those of the Kekerten island and Blacklead island. But at a distance from the shore we have seen many others along the coast of the straits of Davis, namely at Adair Cape, Scott Inlet, Clyde River, Durban Head, New Grinnell Bay and Cornelius Grinnell Bay. According to information gathered at the village of Blacklead relating to the population of each of these villages, which information I have reason to believe correct, the population of the villages can be estimated at about one hundred souls. I have not been able to visit them on account of the ice. There are moreover a dozen of such villages on the southern coast along the straits of the Hudson, on some of the islands along the coast. As to these latter habitations I have been unable to obtain the necessary information to enable me to furnish the approximate population. On the whole however I do not think that the total population of Baffin island is over 1,200 souls.

Of the four villages that I have visited I have found only two white families, and even they are of mixed blood, those of Jean Racine and Paul Racine. Another one is also found of French and German descent in the village of Durban Head, that of William Duval,—all the rest of the population being of pure Eskimo origin.

One man alone could not, unless he spent three years in those regions, take the census of all these camps on the coasts of Baffin island and the islands which border their coasts.

The Eskimo hunter is essentially nomadic, he having no special domicile. It is the game which leads him, and thus he travels continually. His daily bread is of predilection the seal. When this manna of the desert becomes scarce about the isles the hunter and his family get quickly into the omiak (family boat) if in summer; if in the course of the winter he has soon harnessed his 10 or 12 dogs to the comelik (sledge) and, bag and baggage, away he goes at a venture along the coast in search of a place where the game is more abundant. From week to week, and month to month, the hunter will travel hundreds of miles in order to find sustenance for his family—an example witnessed by us in the course of the cruise which has just been completed. The Arctic went into her winter quarters on the 13th

September, 1910, in the Arctic Bay on the east coast of Admiralty Entrance. We found at that place a camp of seven hunters. The total population of the village was then 19 souls; now, at the end of December 1910, the population was over 100 souls. This sudden increase had been caused by the immigration in a body from a number of villages scattered along the eastern, western and southwestern coasts of Baffin island; some came from a distance of more than three hundred miles from our winter quarters. These hunters had heard of the wintering of the Government ship at Arctic Bay, and they had come bag and baggage to our quarters for trading purposes; some came during the whole course of the winter. I took the census of Arctic Bay. I did not think that I could distinguish between the new comers and those found on our arrival. After all, the latter had only been there themselves since the month of August 1910. At the present moment this population is perhaps scattered all over the different points of the coast of Baffin island.

Having received no schedule from the Department on which to take the Census of animals, as well as of households and hunting articles, I have taken upon myself to make an inventory of each island. These sheets will show the means of existence of this brave little people who live on the outskirts of the Canadian lands in the polar regions. I believe these data will be of some interest to the Canadian public, and will even interest our members of Parliament. This is why I am sending them to you.

The Arctic came into the harbour of Burwell on the 5th of September 1911. The census of this village was taken on the 7th of September. There is an important part of the Moravian Missions at this place. It is also a trading post where the hunters of the northeast extremity of the coast of Labrador go to exchange their furs for biscuits, tobacco and clothing. The Government of Newfoundland had the census of this village taken in 1910. This land belongs indubitably, however, to the Ungava Territory, and consequently to Canada.

The following is a table showing the hunting plants for this village. The Eskimo name of the village of Burwell is Killenck.

Each iglo is supplied with what are generally called kitchen utensils, but these utensils, few in number, do not really deserve any special mention.

The lamps which are used by hunters to light and heat their iglos as also to cook, are nothing more than a stone block of about eight to ten inches in circumference in which is carved a semi-circular cavity about three inches deep. This cavity is filled with seal oil, then a wick made of dry moss is placed around this bowl and when this primitive wick is well soaked with oil it is lighted. The lamp gives a dim light and produces a heat of about two or three degrees. This affords all the light and all the heat which is enjoyed by the Eskimo during his existence in his house of snow.

The above tables are interesting in this sense, that they show the restricted means of the hunter to carry on the struggle for life.

By looking over the schedules which contain the results of his work one can see with what success, conceding the slight means of action at their disposal, he manages to get through his task.

I do not think that I am over the mark when I place the yearly value of the hunt for each Eskimo hunter at $800 or $1,000 on the premises.

If this forsaken one of civilization were living in the proximity of our competitive markets, if he knew the value of the products of the hunt, if he was more concerned about the future, he might live in modest comfort, in spite of all the inconveniences he has to suffer from the inhospitable climate where God has placed him. But unfortunately the Eskimo has no idea of the economical values he holds in his hands, after his slaughter of 10 or 20 polar bears, his capture of 25, 30 and sometimes 100 foxes, of two three or four narwals, of eight to ten wolves, of hundreds of large salmon each weighing 10, 20 or 30 pounds and which he throws to his dogs. Besides this he is cheated odiously each year by the skimmers of the sea who visit him to collect his furs. At the trading counters he exchanges for a few pounds of biscuits and tobacco, a few quarts of molasses, pipes, matches and some few yards of showy cotton goods, his heavy furs of the greatest economical value.

It would be a great pleasure for me to be able to say here that the Eskimo hunter was being treated with more justice and more equity by the Canadian Government's ship which visits the Arctic regions each year, but I am unable to pay this compliment.

Is the population of Baffin land increasing or decreasing? Actual information is lacking to make a comparison between the number of births and deaths. In order to get this information it would be necessary to consult the archives of the old trading posts of Topek-Vink, Kekerten and Blacklead; but I have not had the time.

The first nominal census, incomplete as it is, will serve as a basis for the future to make comparisons between the births and deaths of the Eskimo people of Baffin island. It is however shown, by the actual data, that the deaths have exceeded the births by a few units in 1910 throughout the camps visited. In spite of the want of care given the children by the parents, by reason of the condition of things in the Arctic regions, it is seen that the ratio of deaths is higher for adults than for children. Lung and bowel diseases are the most prevalent among the Eskimos. Phthisis, consumption, inflammation of the lungs and inflammation of the bowels are the most common causes of death. There is no physician in Baffin island.

Generally speaking the Eskimo does not attain a very advanced age. I have met some however aged 60 to 65 years. The average length of life of this little people is from 35 to 40 years. There is no settled age for domestic pairing. I have met couples of nine and twelve years; then children live together in the iglo as man and wife. The chief provides regularly for the wants of his companion. After a few months, and even a few years of this apprenticeship in married life, if any friction occurs under the iglo between the two apprentices, the couple separates, without noise, and for the two life has to begin over again. A Christian can hardly honour with the name of "marriage" the unions formed under the iglo of the Eskimo. These unions are for the most part simply promiscuous pairings. Bigamy and polygamy have been during centuries one of the forms of those pairing of a bestial kind. But I must say, to the honour of the Eskimos of Baffin island, that this sad state of affairs tends more and more to disappear among these tribes. The zealous work of the Anglican unions among this people during thirty years has largely contributed to diminish, I might even say extirpate entirely this pagan vice, destroyer of the family and its domestic happiness. I have met with only one case of polygamy in taking the last census, and yet the Isky who acknowledged it seemed to be ashamed of it.

It may be interesting to know the difficulties which I met with in taking the census of this little people of hunters. I will only say a word of it. It was not always easy to obtain the information asked for by the census schedules. The visit to the domicile, or the iglo, is not what one may think. The iglo is of circular form, eight feet in diameter and as much in height. It is made of blocks of snow, the door is at the bottom, on a level with the ground, it is about one foot and a half wide by two feet high. It is not every one that can pass through it easily. To get in one must at first get on his knees, then lie flat on his stomach and slide in, snakelike, for a distance of about ten or twelve feet in this tube of the same dimension as the door. One never gets in and comes out of it spotless, for this vestibule is not kept in an exaggerated state of cleanliness. Once in the iglo you are asked to sit on a block of snow, which is covered with a deerskin. In less than five minutes you are covered with the white hairs of this fur. But after a few visits to the domicile one does not notice these small details. The interpreter is alongside of you. Naturally this brave man, the sage of the village, has no idea of what constitutes a census. I had to make him understand at first the questions I had to put to the head of the iglo. There are English and French words which have no equivalent in the language of the Eskimo. Thus, for example, the words "years," "months," "days," "hours" are denominations of time absolutely ignored by the natives. These are so many mysteries to them.

"What is your age," was invariably answered by "none save mi." Then I had to enter into a conversation, carried on much more by gestures than by the voice, with the interpreter, in order to make him understand my question. This done, the interpreter and the hunter, or the wife of the latter in his absence, made endless calculations. It was a review of all the important events in the country from as far back as the hunter could remember, and the farthest away event was used as a basis to determine as near as possible the date of his birth. There is another difficult point for the Eskimo to elucidate. I had a great deal of trouble in the beginning to ascertain from the head of an iglo if he was married or single. The word marriage is absolutely unknown among the natives. The same with the words "child" and "family." I could manage to make myself understood by asking first if they had an iglo, a koney, a pik-ki-nini. Now the head of the iglo is Osky; koney is the wife, and pik-ki-nini the children. Each child has his name and constitutes by himself a separate unit. Here is an example: The Osky Nassou has three sons, namely, Ik-ton-ta, Kak-ton and Pro-mik-ton. We do not say Ik-tou-ta Nassou, etc.; as we say in the Christian world John Smith, etc.

In twenty years from this, when a new generation will have grown up, who will know that Ik-ton-ta and his brothers are the sons of old Nassou?

With such a system it is difficult to preserve family traditions.

As to the month of their birth, it is a mystery to themselves, they don't know this subdivision of the year. In reality there are only two seasons for the Eskimo—"summer" and the ice season—"winter." As the winter lasts nine or ten months of the year the greater number of births is in winter.

The same difficulty exists as to the number of animals slaughtered or captured by the hunter during the year. The Eskimos count easily up to ten, above that their mode of calculation is long.

Generally speaking, a hunter harpoons from 250 to 300 seals during the year; he slaughters as many deer and captures as many salmon in the many salmon rivers all around the land of Baffin island. When I would ask a hunter how many seals he had harpooned during the year, he would laugh and say "mi non save"—"A-ni-shoute," meaning "it is incalculable," "there is no number to express it."

To them the hundred is infinitely great and in those cases the interpreter would make me write 200, 250 or 300.

On the whole, in spite of all these inconveniences, I believe that I have succeeded in collecting, as near as possible, correct information as to the population of the villages visited, and on the conditions of existence of this interesting little people of Baffin island.

If the Government of Canada wants to preserve these relics of primitive humanity they will very soon have to put a stop to the depredations, plunders and thefts of which the Eskimos are the victims on the part of the rovers of the sea. The Government of Denmark has shown a noble example in this respect in favour of the Greenland Eskimos.

The preceding remarks are perhaps too long, but the novelty of the subject seems to authorize and justify them.

APPENDICE.

RECENSEMENT DE L'EXTRÊME NORD DU CANADA.

Le recensement de l'extrême nord du Canada a été confié à des officiers spéciaux nommés à la fin de 1910 et au commencement de 1911, à cause des grandes distances à parcourir pour atteindre les endroits à être recensés, et du manque de communication postale pour en recevoir les rapports.

Les postes de la Compagnie de la Baie-d'Hudson, à l'est de la rivière MacKenzie jusqu'aux confins du Labrador, ont été assignés aux facteurs de cette compagnie sous la direction du Commissaire du commerce des pelleteries, M. R. H. Hall; mais les postes situés sur la rivière MacKenzie et ses tributaires ont été recensés par M. Henry M. Conway, du département des Indiens.

Le recensement des missions appartenant à la Church Mission Society a été confié à l'archidiacre R. J. Renison; ces missions comprenaient Agomaska, Attawapiskat, Brunswick House, Ile Charlton, Eastmain, English River, Flying Post, Fort Albany, Fort George, Fort Hope, Great Whale River, Hope's Welcome, Little Whale River, Marten's Falls, Matagami, Moose Factory, Nemaska, New Post, Nichequon, Osnaburgh, Rupert's House, Waswanoby et autres points.

Le révérend Père Prévost, des Pères Oblats de Hull, avait la direction du recensement dans les parties non organisées du Nipissingue, de Pontiac, d'Abitibi, de Mistassini, du St-Maurice et du Lac St-Jean, comprenant les endroits suivants: la ligne du Grand Trunk Pacifique, Abitibi, Metagami et le lac Opatatika dans Ontario, Albany et autres endroits sur la Baie James, Renard, Longue Pointe, Grassy Lake et Hunter Point dans Pontiac, Grand Lac Victoria, Lac Barrière, Rapid Post, Lake Farm, Sturgeon, Ferme Lepine, Lac Caymar, Lac St-Ignace, Lac Désert, Lac Bras Coupé, Lac Carrière, Fort-Hope, Kikandatsh, Coucouache, Weymontaching, St-Maurice, Massagamous, Rivière Manawan, Labelle, Lac-Vert, Lac Basketong, etc.

M. Courtlandt Starnes, de Fort Churchill, commissaire des douanes et surintendant de la gendarmerie à cheval du Nord-Ouest dans ces régions, avait la direction du recensement des Esquimaux qui habitent à l'ouest et au nord de Fort Churchill.

M. Fabien Vanasse, qui s'était embarqué sur le steamer «Arctie» en qualité d'historiographe du gouvernement canadien, sous le capitaine Bernier, avait reçu ordre de faire le recensement de l'île de Baffin; il prit de plus le recensement de Kilkenek ou Port Burwell au sud du détroit de Hudson. Les cinq divisions de son recensement étaient: la Baie Arctique à l'extrémité sud de la baie Amiraauté, Topic-Vink, et les îles de Kekerton, Blacklead et Kilkenek ou Burwell.

Rapport de l'archidiacre de Moosonee.

En date du 8 mai 1911, le révérend R. J. Renison de Moose Fort, archidiacre de Moosonee, écrivait: «J'ai l'honneur d'accuser réception de vos lettres datées les 21 et 26 janvier et le 4 mars, avec instructions très complètes quant au recensement de ce district. J'ai déjà fait plusieurs voyages dans le but de m'assurer que le travail sera poursuivi efficacement dans toute l'étendue du district. Plusieurs des districts sont très éloignés., mais je crois que je pourrai en obtenir un rapport complet. Je vois que, sur des instructions reçues de Winnipeg, la Compagnie de la Baie-d'Hudson a décidé de faire le recensement de ses propres gens. Je trouve que la seule méthode satisfaisante pour moi à suivre, c'est d'inscrire tout le monde, laissant les excursions au Bureau central. Je suis à préparer une estimation de la population de l'extrême nord des deux côtés du détroit où nous avons nos missions. J'obtiendrai de nos missionnaires les renseignements sur les Esquimaux. Je partirai le 1er juin pour compléter le travail. Je visiterai personnellement les rivières Moose et Albany, et arriverai à Dnorwic vers le 1er août.» Le 28 septembre il écrivait de Chapleau: «Je vous envoie sous pli enregistré les rapports du recensement pour Rupert's House, Eastmain, Charlton, Stratton's Island, Namiska, Woswanoby, Mistassini et Nichequon. Le rév. J. E. Woodhall a fait un rapport très complet. Même Nichequon a été atteint, bien que ce soit le point le plus isolé de tout le pays. J'ai reçu une lettre du rév. W. G. Watton qui a expédié les rapports de Fort George et Whale River par le vaisseau de la Cie de la Baie-d'Hudson. J'espère retourner à la baie d'Hudson vers le mois de novembre, et, si la chose est possible, je désirerais voir les comptes réglés avant ce temps-là, afin de pouvoir payer ceux qui m'ont aidé.»

Le rév. W. G. Watton, missionnaire chez les Esquimaux, écrivant de Fort-George, à la date du 31 août, disait: «On croit avec raison qu'il y a en tout 600 Esquimaux qui habitent sur la côte est de la Baie d'Hudson, mais je n'ai pu en trouver que 542. Il serait impossible de faire un recensement complet de cette région, à moins de consacrer quatre ou cinq ans à ce travail, vu que les Esquimaux ne visitent pas les comptoirs pour la traite aussi régulièrement que les autres sauvages. La maladie m'a empêché de les visiter l'hiver dernier, et c'est seulement l'hiver qu'il est possible de les rencontrer. Mon catéchiste a fait le travail pour moi et les noms sont dignes de créance. Mais les âges ne semblent que simple conjecture. En nommant la plus grande partie d'entre eux payens, on doit se rappeler qu'ils le sont seulement de nom, vu que chacun a son livre de prières et que pratiquement parlant, à partir de l'âge de dix ans, tous peuvent lire. Les coutumes payennes sont une chose du passé. La majorité de cette population vit dans la plus grande malpropreté et est dénuée des vêtements nécessaires, vu l'absence du chevreuil qui abondait sur la côte est de la baie d'Hudson. Je serais content de faire un recensement plus complet de cette région dans quelques années. Le présent recensement est le plus complet qui ait encore été fait.»

Rapport de W. Courtlandt Starnes.

Afin de mieux faire le travail, j'ai divisé le district qui m'avait été assigné en trois parties, pour chacune desquelles j'ai nommé un recenseur. La première, donnée au docteur T. U. Marellus, comprenait Churchill même et ses environs, ainsi que le pays adjacent situé à l'ouest et au nord-ouest, à travers lequel se trouvent les sauvages Chippéouans faisant la pêche et la chasse. Ces sauvages n'ont pas de campements fixes et vont à l'aventure là où ils peuvent mieux trouver leur nourriture, n'ayant d'autre habitation que leurs tentes en peau de chevreuil. Le travail de cette division a été fait d'une manière très complète, chaque habitation a été visitée par le docteur qui a pu voir tous les sauvages et n'en a omis aucun. J'avais d'ailleurs un moyen de vérifier son travail. Le docteur a été absent douze jours, du cinq au dix-sept janvier. Je lui avais donné un métis pour interprète, un gendarme, un guide sauvage, des chiens et tout un équipement de camp. Les sauvages les plus éloignés étaient à environ 120 milles de Churchill. Les pistes étaient couvertes de neige et la température ne fut jamais au-dessus de 40 degrés de froid.

Le sergent A. F. Borden avait été nommé pour la seconde division qui comprend le pays entre Churchill et Ranken Inlet, dont les seuls habitants appartiennent à une tribu d'Esquimaux appelés les Padlinuits. Ils n'ont pas de demeures fixes, mais se construisent des huttes de neige là où la chasse les appelle. Le sergent Borden a inscrit tous ceux qu'il a rencontrés, et les autres sont donnés sur une liste à part. Ces sauvages viennent à Churchill tous les printemps pour une couple de mois pour faire la chasse au loup marin à l'embouchure de la rivière, et l'an dernier, avant qu'il fût question du recensement, j'avais commencé à obtenir, avec l'aide de notre interprète, une liste complète de la tribu, pour mon propre compte. C'est au moyen de cette liste que j'ai pu compléter mon rapport.

Le sergent Borden est parti de ici le 2 février, avec deux sauvages et dix chiens. Il est arrivé à Ranken Inlet le 22, où il rencontra le sergent Hayter, qui lui remit les rapports pour Fullerton, et il revint à Churchill le 11 mars. Le voyage dura 38 jours, dont 33 à voyager, trois à se reposer et deux à se protéger contre la tempête. Sept cent-cinquante milles furent parcourus dans ce trajet. La température fut très froide et un vent presque constant souffla du nord-ouest, ce qui rendit le trajet particulièrement difficile en route vers le nord.

Le sergent C. N. C. Hayter avait été nommé à la troisième division, qui comprenait tout le pays au nord de Ranken Inlet. Le trajet parcouru par cet officier consiste en une course de Fullerton à Wager Inlet, une de Fullerton à près de Baker Lake et une à Ranken Inlet. Vu le caractère nomade des habitants de ces régions, il était impossible de remplir les formules du recensement, et un rapport aussi fidèle que possible a été préparé d'après les renseignements obtenus. Ces sauvages n'ont aucune idée de leur âge; «jeune» et «vieux» est tout ce qu'on peut obtenir d'eux, et, naturellement, ils ne connaissent rien de nos divisions de temps. Ils sont quelquefois polygames, quelquefois polyandres. Ils aiment les enfants mais les échantent entre eux, en les adoptant ou les donnant selon qu'il leur convient, de sorte qu'il est très difficile de faire un dénombrement par familles. Comme ils ne tiennent compte de rien, les statistiques des pêcheries et des fourrures n'ont pu être obtenues. Ce qui ajoute encore aux difficultés d'obtenir les renseignements, c'est l'absence complète d'interprètes compétents. Dans le cours ordinaire des choses on finit toujours par se comprendre, mais lorsqu'il s'agit de chiffres, de temps, ou quoi que ce soit en dehors de l'ordinaire, la chose devient alors impossible.

Le tableau suivant est un sommaire de la population pour le territoire dont le recensement a été fait sous ma direction:

| Districts. | Blancs. | Métis. | Sauvages. | Esquimaux. | Total |
|--------------------------------|---------|--------|-----------|------------|-------|
| Churchill et ses environs..... | 20 | 26 | 180 | 23 | 249 |
| Churchill à Ranken Inlet..... | - | - | - | 236 | 236 |
| Ranken Inlet nord..... | 2 | - | - | 1,101 | 1,103 |
| Total..... | 22 | 26 | 180 | 1,360 | 1,588 |

Le sergent Hayter ayant oublié de s'inscrire, ainsi que le gendarme à Fullerton, j'ai ajouté ces deux noms à son rapport. Les formules non remplies qu'il me reste en main forment un paquet trop lourd pour en charger le postillon qui doit emporter ce rapport. Je les expédierai par le prochain vaisseau.

Churchill, 18 mars, 1911.

Rapport de M. Fabien Vanasse.

MONSIEUR,—Le 8 juillet 1910, j'ai reçu, à bord du Dom. Gov. S. S. Arctic, à la Pointe-au-Père, des instructions de votre département, m'autorisant à prendre le recensement de la population dans les territoires du Nord-Ouest. Ce navire était alors en route vers les régions arctiques du Canada, d'où il est revenu le 24 septembre dernier. J'ai eu l'honneur, depuis cette date, de vous faire parvenir les tableaux contenant les informations requises par l'Acte du Recensement.

Au cours de ce voyage j'ai eu l'occasion de visiter une partie des côtes de l'immense île de Baffin (Baffin Land), dans le territoire Franklin, et conformément aux instructions qui m'avaient été données, je me suis fait un devoir de descendre à la côte, et de prendre le recensement de chacun des villages qu'il nous a été possible de visiter.

De tout le territoire Franklin (dont l'étendue dépassera un million de milles carrés quand on l'aura scientifiquement arpenté), la terre de Baffin est, pour ainsi dire, la seule qui soit actuellement habitée. On rencontre quelques tribus nomades sur les îles King William, Prince de Galles, Victoria et Bank. Mais ces enfants du désert n'y sont qu'en passant, et uniquement pour les fins de la chasse.

Les Inuits, (improprement appelés Esquimaux), semblent avoir adopté la terre de Baffin pour leur home. Ils y passent leur vie en permanence. Ils n'en sortent que pour la chasse, mais toujours avec l'intention d'y retourner. On rencontre de leurs villages sur tous les points des côtes.

Au cours du dernier voyage, nous avons visité quatre de ces villages, dont deux sur la côte nord de l'île, (Arctic Bay et Topik-Vink), et deux dans le golfe de Cumberland, (côte est de Baffin), celui de l'île Kekerten, et celui de l'île Black-Lead. Mais, du large, nous en avons vu plusieurs autres, le long de la côte du détroit de Davis, notamment au Cap Adair, à Scott Inlet, à la Rivière Clyde, à Durban Head, à la Baie New Gummuit et à la Baie Cornelius Grinnell. Des informations prises au village de Blackhead, au sujet de la population de chacun de ces villages, et que j'ai raison de croire exactes, me permettent de porter au chiffre d'une centaine d'âmes, la population de chacune de ces bourgades. Je n'ai pu y descendre à raison de l'état des glaces.

On compte de plus, une douzaine de semblables villages sur la côte sud de l'île, le long du détroit d'Hudson, et sur quelques-unes des îles, le long de cette côte. Au sujet de ces dernières habitations je n'ai pu avoir des renseignements assez précis pour pouvoir donner le chiffre approximatif de leur population. En somme, cependant, je ne crois pas que la population totale de la terre de Baffin dépasse de beaucoup 1,200 âmes.

Des quatre grands villages que j'ai visités, je n'ai trouvé que deux familles de race blanche, et encore sont-elles d'un sang bien mêlé; celle de J.-Bte. Racine et celle de Paul Racine. Il en existe une autre de descendance française et allemande, au village de Durban Head: celle de William Duval. Tout le reste de la population est de pure origine inuite.

Un seul homme ne pourrait faire, à moins d'un voyage de trois ans, le recensement de tous les campements sur les côtes de Baffin et sur les îles qui bordent ces côtes.

Le chasseur inuit est essentiellement nomade; il n'a aucun domicile privilégié. C'est le gibier qui le mène. Où abonde le gibier, là se porte le chasseur. Aussi voyage-t-il continuellement. Son pain quotidien et de prédilection c'est le loup marin. Cette manne du désert se fait-elle rare dans les environs de l'iglo, vite le chasseur et sa famille montent dans l'omiak (bateau de famille), si c'est en été; si c'est au cours de l'hiver, il a bientôt fait d'atteler ses 10 à 12 chiens sur le cometik (traîneau); et, armes et bagage, on s'en va à l'aventure, le long de la côte, à la recherche d'un endroit plus giboyeux. D'une semaine, d'un mois à l'autre, le chasseur se transportera à des centaines de milles, pour trouver la nourriture de sa famille. Un exemple dont nous avons été témoins au cours de la croisière qui vient de finir.

L'Arctic est entré en hivernement le 13 septembre 1910, dans la baie Arctic, sur la côte est du goulet Amiraute (Admiralty Inlet). Nous trouvâmes à cet endroit un campement de sept chasseurs. La population totale du village s'élevait à 19 âmes; or, à la fin de décembre 1910 le chiffre de la population passait 100 âmes. Cette augmentation subite avait été causée par l'immigration, en masse, de plusieurs villages éparpillés sur les côtes est, ouest, et sud-ouest de la terre de Baffin; il en vint d'une distance de plus de 300 milles de nos quartiers d'hiver. Ces chasseurs avaient eu vent de l'hivernage du bateau du gouvernement à Arctic Bay, et on s'était rendu, armes et bagages, à ses quartiers dans un but de traite. Il en arriva durant tout le cours de l'hivernage.

Quand j'ai pris le recensement de la population du village d'Arctic Bay, je n'ai pas cru devoir distinguer les noms des nouveaux venus de ceux que nous y avions trouvés à notre arrivée. Au reste, ces derniers n'y résidaient eux-mêmes, que depuis le mois d'août 1910. A l'heure actuelle toute cette population est peut-être déjà dispersée sur différents points des côtes de Baffin.

N'ayant reçu du département aucun tableau pour prendre le recensement ou l'inventaire des animaux et articles de ménage, et de chasse, j'ai pris sur moi de faire cet inventaire dans chaque iglo. Ces tableaux démontreront les moyens d'existence du courageux petit peuple qui habite les confins des terres du Canada, dans les régions polaires. Je crois que ces données pourront être de quelque intérêt pour le public canadien et même pour les honorables membres du Parlement. C'est pourquoi je me permets de vous en envoyer

L'Arctic est entré dans le havre de Burwell, Territoire Ungava, (côte-nord), le 5 septembre 1911. Le recensement de la population de ce village a été pris le 7 septembre. Il y a dans ce village un important poste des Missions Moraviennes. C'est aussi un poste de traite où les chasseurs de l'extrémité nord-est de la côte du Labrador vont échanger leurs fourrures contre des biscuits, du tabac, des vêtements, etc.

Le gouvernement de l'Isle de Terre-Neuve, a fait faire le recensement de la population de ce village en 1910. Cette terre appartient, cependant, indubitablement au territoire Ungava, et par conséquent au Canada.

Voici maintenant le tableau indiquant l'outillage des chasseurs de ce village. Le nom innuit du village de Burwell est Killenek.

Chaque iglo est pourvu de ce que l'on appelle communément « la batterie de cuisine », mais ces ustensiles sont en très petit nombre, et ne méritent, vraiment, aucune mention spéciale.

La lampe dont se servent les chasseurs pour éclairer et chauffer leurs iglos, comme aussi pour cuire leur nourriture, n'est rien autre chose qu'un bloc de pierre, de 8 à 10 pouces de circonférence. Le chasseur pratique, à la surface, une excavation demi-circulaire, de deux à trois pouces de profondeur. On remplit cette cavité d'huile de loup marin; puis un cordon de mousse sèche est placé autour de l'ouverture, et quand cette mèche primitive est bien imbibée d'huile on y met le feu. La lampe donne une demi-clarté, et dégage une chaleur de deux à trois degrés. C'est toute la lumière et toute la chaleur dont jouit l'Innuït au cours de son existence, dans sa maison de neige.

Les tableaux ci-dessus sont intéressants, en ce sens qu'ils font voir les moyens restreints du chasseur pour conduire sa lutte pour la vie de chaque jour. En consultant les cédules qui contiennent les résultats de ses travaux, on verra avec quel succès le chasseur réussit malgré les pauvres moyens d'action à sa disposition.

Je ne crois pas outrepasser la note juste, en disant que les chasseurs innuïts dans la terre de Baffin font en moyenne, chaque saison, des chasses d'une valeur, (sur place), de $800 à $1,000.

Si ce délaissé de la civilisation était à proximité de nos marchés de compétition; s'il connaissait la valeur des produits de sa chasse; s'il était plus soucieux de son avenir, il pourrait encore vivre dans une modeste aisance, malgré tous les inconvénients des climats inhospitaliers où Dieu l'a placé. Mais, malheureusement, l'Innuït n'a aucune idée de la valeur économique qu'il a entre les mains, après ses abatages de 10 à 20 ours polaires; sa capture de 25, 30 et quelquefois 100 renards; de 2, 3, 4 narvals; de 8 à 10 morses (walrus), de centaines de grands saumons, de 10, 20, et 30 livres et qu'il jette en pâture à ses chiens. Pour comble de malheur, il est odieusement pillé, chaque année, par les écumeurs de la mer, qui le visitent pour la cueillette de ses fourrures. Il échange au comptoir de traite, pour quelques livres de biscuit et de tabac, quelques pintes de méléasse, des pipes, des alumettes, et quelques verges de cotonnade aux couleurs voyantes, ses fourrures les plus soyeuses et de la plus grande valeur économique. J'aurais beaucoup de plaisir à dire, ici, que le chasseur innuït est traité avec plus de justice et plus d'équité par le navire du gouvernement canadien qui visite les régions arctiques, chaque année, mais je suis incapable de faire ce compliment.

La population de la terre de Baffin augmente-t-elle, ou diminue-t-elle? Les renseignements nous manquent pour faire aujourd'hui des comparaisons entre les naissances et les mortalités. Il faudrait pour cela consulter les archives des vieux postes de traite de Topik-Ving, de Kikerten et de Blacklead. Je n'en ai pas eu le temps. A l'avenir, on pourra se baser sur ce premier recensement nominal, tout incomplet qu'il soit, pour faire des comparaisons entre les natalités et les décès chez le petit peuple innuït de Baffin.

On constate, cependant, par les données actuelles que les décès ont excédé les naissances par quelques unités, en 1910, dans les campements visités. Malgré le peu de soins que les enfants reçoivent de leurs parents, à raison des conditions de l'existence dans les régions arctiques, on remarque que la proportion des décès est plus considérable chez les adultes que chez les enfants. Les maladies de la poitrine et des intestins sont les plus fréquentes parmi les Innuïts: la phthisie, la consommation, les inflammations de pomons et des intestins sont les causes les plus fréquentes des mortalités.

Il n'y a aucun médecin dans la terre de Baffin.

En général, les Innuïts n'atteignent pas un âge très avancé. J'en ai rencontré quelques-uns, cependant de 60 à 65 ans. La moyenne de la vie chez ce peuple paraît être de 35 à 40 ans.

Il n'y a pas d'âge déterminé pour l'accouplement domestique. J'ai rencontré des couples de neuf et douze ans; ces enfants vivent ensemble sous l'iglo, comme mari et femme. Le chef pourvoit régulièrement à la nourriture et à l'entretien de sa compagne. Après quelques mois, quelques années même de cet apprentissage pour la vie commune s'il survient quelques frictions sous l'iglo, entre les deux apprentis, le couple se sépare, sans tambour ni trompette, et pour les deux le noviait est à recommencer.

Un chrétien peut difficilement honorer de nom de « mariage », les unions qui se forment sous les iglos de l'Innuït. Ces unions ne sont pour la plupart, que des simples accouplements passagers. La bigamie et la polyandrie ont été pendant des siècles une des formes de ces accouplements d'un genre bestial. Mais je dois dire à l'honneur du peuple innuït de Baffin, que ce triste état de chose tend de plus en plus à disparaître parmi les tribus. Le travail zélé des unions anglicanes, parmi ce peuple, depuis plus de trente ans, a largement contribué à diminuer, je pourrais même dire extirper radicalement ce vice payen, destructeur de la famille et de tout le bonheur domestique. Je n'ai rencontré qu'un cas seul de polygamie en premanant le dernier recensement, et encore semblait-il avoir honte, l'Osky qui m'en faisait l'aveu.

Il sera peut-être intéressant de connaître les difficultés que j'ai rencontrées pour prendre le recensement de la population de ce petit peuple de chasseur. Je n'en dirai qu'un mot. Il ne m'a pas été toujours facile, d'obtenir les informations demandées par les cédules du recensement. La visite à domicile, c'est à dire à l'iglo, n'est pas, « ce qu'un vain peuple pense ». L'iglo est de forme circulaire, il a environ huit pieds ø diamètre sur autant de hauteur. Il est fait de blocs de neige; la porte est au bus et rase le sol. Elle a environ un pied et de 21 de largeur sur deux pieds de hauteur. Tout le monde n'y peut passer facilement, pour y entrer, on doit d'abord se mettre à genoux, puis à plat ventre et se glisser, un peu comme un serpent, sur une longueur de 10 à 12 pieds, dans un couloir de même dimension que la porte. On n'y entre, et on n'en sort jamais indemne, car ce vestibule n'est pas tenu dans un état de propreté exagérée.

Une fois dans l'iglo, on vous fait asseoir sur un bloc de neige, que recouvre une peau de chevreuil. En moins de cinq minutes on est tout couvert des grands poils blancs de la bête. Mais après quelques visites à domicile on ne fait plus attention à ces détails. L'interprète est à côté de vous. Naturellement, ce brave garçon, le savant du village, n'a aucune idée d'un recensement. Aussi fallait-il d'abord lui faire comprendre la question que j'avais à poser au chef de l'iglo. Il y a des mots anglais et français qui n'ont pas leurs équivalents dans la langue des Inuits. Ainsi, pour exemple, les mots «année», «mois», «jour», «heure» sont des dénominations de temps absolument ignorées des naturels. Ce sont autant de mystères pour eux.

Quel âge avez-vous? Invariablement on répondait «non savé mi». Alors j'étais obligé d'entamer une conversation, beaucoup plus par les gestes que par la voix, avec l'interprète, pour lui faire comprendre ma question. Cela fait, l'interprète et le chasseur, ou la femme de ce dernier, en son absence, faisaient des calculs à n'en plus finir. C'était la revue de tous les événements importants arrivés dans le pays, depuis son âge de connaissance, et le souvenir le plus lointain du chasseur était considéré comme la date la plus rapprochée de sa naissance.

Un autre point difficile à élucider, pour un Inuit: j'ai eu bien du trouble, au commencement, pour savoir d'un chef d'iglo, s'il était marié ou s'il était libre. Le mot mariage est absolument inconnu parmi les naturels.

Il en est de même du mot «enfant» et du mot «famille». J'arrivai à me faire comprendre en leur demandant d'abord, s'ils avaient un iglo? une koney? des Pik-ki-nini? Or le chef de l'iglo, c'est l'Osky; la koney, c'est sa femme, et les Pik-ki-nini, ce sont les enfants. Je constituais ainsi la famille. Ni le nom de l'Osky ni celui de sa koney, ne passent à leurs enfants. Chaque enfant a son nom et constitue une unité à part. Un exemple, l'Osky Nassou, a trois fils, savoir: Ik-tou-ta, Kak-tou, et Pio-mik-tou. On ne dit pas Ik-tou-ta Nassou, etc., comme on dit dans le monde chrétien, John Smith, etc.

Dans vingt ans d'ici, quand une génération nouvelle sera levée, qui saura que Ik-tou-ta et ses frères, sont les enfants du vieux Nassou? Avec ce système, il est difficile de conserver les traditions dans les familles.

Quant au «mois de leur naissance, c'est du mystère pour eux. Ils ne connaissent pas cette subdivision de l'année. A vrai dire, il n'y a que deux saisons pour un Inuit: la saison de l'eau—«l'été», et la saison de la glace—«l'hiver». Comme l'hiver dure neuf à dix mois par année, le plus grand nombre de naissances arrive en hiver.

Même difficulté pour connaître le nombre d'animaux abattus ou capturés, par le chasseur au cours de l'année. Les Inuits comptent facilement jusqu'à dix. Au delà, leur calcul est long.

En général, un chasseur harponne de 250 à 300 phoques par année. Il abat autant de chevreuils, et capture autant de saumons, dans les nombreuses rivières saumoneuses tout autour de la terre de Baffin. Quand je demandais à un chasseur combien de phoques il avait harponnés l'année dernière, il se mettait à rire en disant: «Mi non saré»,—«A-mi-shoute» voulant dire: c'est incalculable, il n'y a pas de nombre pour l'exprimer.

Pour eux la centaine est l'infiniment grand. Dans ces cas l'interprète me faisait écrire, 200, 250 et 300.

En somme, malgré tous ces inconvénients, je crois avoir réussi à recueillir des informations aussi exactes que possible, sur le nombre de la population des villages visités, et sur les conditions d'existence, de l'intéressant petit peuple de la terre de Baffin.

Si le gouvernement du Canada veut conserver cette relique de l'humanité primitive, il lui faudra faire cesser au plus tôt les déprédations, les pillages, les vols, dont les Inuits de Baffin sont les victimes de la part des coureurs de la mer. Le gouvernement du Danemark a montré un noble exemple à ce sujet, en faveur des Inuits groënlandais.

Les remarques précédentes sont peut-être trop longues, mais la nouveauté du sujet semblait les autoriser et les justifier.
