NUMBER OF BEER LICENSES IS BIG DIFFICULTY NOV

Problem of Discriminating Between Numerous Applicants Faces Cabinet

The Cabinet was called into session this morning to whip the new beer regulations into shape if possible for issuance in this land.

Completion of the regulations has been delayed from week to week and the Government is anxious now to adopt them finally. So far, however, Premier Ollver and his Ministers have merely gone over the draft rules as prepared by Hugh Davidson, liquor commissioner, and have yet to consider each regulation in detail, it was learned.

iquor commissioner, and have yet it consider each regulation in detail, I was learned.

The big problem which will present itself to the Government as soon as the regulations are complete is involved in the licensing of premises for beer sale. How many places are to be licensed and how can the Government discriminate between, one hotel and another? are the two big questions. With the Cabinet evidently determined to limit the total number of licenses the latter question is expected to offer the most serious difficulty of all.

First demands from wet districts for adequate facilities for the sale of beer by the glass were heard here to-day when Thomas Uphil, Labor member for Fernie, announced that his city alone expected eleven licenses: Mr. Uphill is waiting here now for the return of Attorney-General Manson from the mainland so that he may ask him whether Fernie's requests are to De met or not.

The institution has been established by the amalgamation of two men's colleges, and a women's college. The students are at present housed in temporary buildings, but it is hoped in September to move to the beautiful Summer palace. There is a present enrollment of about 550, with 100 professors, of whom about half are foreign. Eighteen buildings have been erected on the new site, or are in course of construction, it being the first attempt to link picturesque Chinese architecture comprehensively with western educational needs. Ottawa, Jan. 27.—One of the most noted personages connected with the development and settlement of Canada during the past forty years, William Duncan Scott, formerly Assistant Deputy Minister of the Department of Immigration and Colonization, died here this morning following a lengthy illness. Forced to retire through ill-health from the government service on June 30-last, "W.D." as he was known among his legion of friends, suffered an attack of pneumonia about a week ago and the end came peacefully this morning.

Miss Leginska's disappearance was intions adopted at a conference held here to-day under the auspices of the Actory' Equity Association.

The resolutions called for the formation of a "higher advisory board of the theatre," with authority to deal not only with the problem created by radio, but to take action toward the abodition of the ceonorship, the reneal of taxes on tickets, the legalizing of children's acting and the country-wide dissemination of propaganda for the spoken play. The proposed body also was urged to make efforts to revive the "one-night stand" and to encourage the formation of stock and repertoire companies.

Rev. Dr. J. G. Shearer, reviewed briefly the eighteen years of the

The mayor stated that his information was that approximately forty-five beer licenses would be issued in Vancouver, in most cases to hotel men.

Mayor Taylor explained that he felt the hotel men were justified in asking for a smaller license fee, particularly for the first year when they would have to meet heavy expenses in fitting up their premises to conform with the requirements of the new system.

'CROSSWORD'

Two Fine Representations Are Given of Popular Amusement at Dance

Special to The Times

Special to The Times

Duncan, Jan. 24.—Nearly 250 people attended the very enjoyable fancy dress dance given under the auspices of the Cawichan Chapter, 1.O.D.E., on Friday evening in the Agricultural Hall, Duncan.

The hall looked extremely welf, decorated in streamers of yellow paper, a huge sunflower shading the lights and gay flags around the walls. The supper-room had Autumn leaves and berries in brass vases on the tables, the color scheme of yellow and brown being carried out on the walls.

Nearly sil the dancers were in fancy dress and some beautiful costumes were noticed. Very lovely was the representation of a mauve butterfly worn by Miss Hazel Castley, Mrs. H. T. Reed looked very charming as a little girl in a dainty pink dress, socks and shoes and a large pink bow on her hair. Miss B. Castley was also another fetching "little girl." Miss Maureen Kingscote's Persian costume was much admired. Mrs. J. Islay Mutter also in a Persian costume looked extremely handsome. Mrs. H. P. Swan looked fetching as "Moonstruck," and Miss Willocks were a particularly good pierrot costume in black and red. Mrs. F. R. Gooding made a charming Quaker girl. Miss S. Fordyce wore a dainty yellow early Victorian costume with big black bonnet. Miss Patricia Donnelly looked extremely well as an old-fashioned lady. Miss Dawson - Thomas represented "Folly." There were pierrots of all kinds and colors, Indians of high and low degree.

The drugs, it transpired, had been in this country several months, stored in a bonded warehouse in Brooklen, but had not been called for by the consignee. Federal officials, knowing its contents, left the barrel at the warehouse as "bait," honing to arrest the towner when he called for it. With it were six similar barrels containing olives.

After Long Career in Army Became Field Marshal in 1908

Riverside, Lake Cowichan, Jan. 27.

—Further extension of logging operations around Cowichan Lake were announced to-day by the operating firm of Grein and Fairservice of Everett, Wash, who are transferring their activities from across the Sound to this Island.

The firm is starting cutting operations in the Bear Lake district and equipment is now being installed. The bright outlook in the timber market from now on and the fact that in this district is the last supply of highest grade timber left almost untouched on the Coast, is responsible for the firm opening up here.

A full logging unit of three "donkeys" is being put into operativa at once. Field Marshal Baron Grenfell of Kilvey (Francis Wallace Grenfell) saw service in almost every land in which British soldiers have been stationed. Entering the army when eighteen years of age, he served in the Kaffir War, the Zulu War, in the Transyaal, in the Expedition of 1882, the Nile Expedition of 1884, and the Sirdar Egyptian Army from 1885 to 1892. He commanded the forces of Saukim, Egypt, in 1899, was inspector-general of auxiliary forces at the war office from 1884 to 1897, and then, after commanding the forces in Egypt during the Khartum Expedition, he became Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Maita, serving in that capacity for four years.

Lord Grenfell's last active position was as Commander-in-Chief in Ireland from 1994 to 1998, when he was made field marshal.

He was born in 1841 and was created First Baron of Kilvey in 1992.

Canberra is planned to be the most beautiful little city in the world. Nothing but vandalism or stupidity could make an ugly one on such a site. Ornamental lakes, groves and gardens will be freely distributed, and the ideal of the designers is to make Canberra a bungalow city. No building of more than two stories' may be erected there. The temporary Parliament House stands on a little equinence on the lower slope of Capitol Hill, which will ultimately be the site of the permanent Houses of Parliament, Government House and departmental buildings. BRITISH STOCK

South has more than one object in view in the operation of its quota immigration law. Drawing the line between the various cosmopolitan elements which make up the annual influx is the thin end of British stock.

This is of particular interest to Canada because it is essential for this country to keep its own citi-zens as well as encourage a great many more to come here every year. some Canadians imagine that con-ditions are better in the United States than they are here and they States than they are here and they go there—only to discover that at least some of their calculations were wrong. Meanwhile the percentage of British arrivals in Canada is less in proportion to that of foreign arrivals than it used to be, a fact in itself which imparts significance to the gradual thinning out process-in favor of British stockof our neighbor. In any event it is clear that since the American people set about checking the flow of imbeen to curtail the arrivals of those races which do not readily assimilate with the republic's na-

The new immigration law has been much criticized because of the census of 1890. Under this scheme, immigrants are admitted from each European country in numbers equal to two per cent. of the total of its nationals who were resident in the United States in that year. By it Great Britain and the Irish Free States are treated as separate countries. The British quota is reduced to 34,007. The Irish quota of 28,567 is exceptionally high because in 1890 immigrants from Southern Ireland formed an abnormally large proportion of the for-eign born population of the United quotas of the Mediterranean and Slavic peoples. But the criticism by American representatives of the races whose quotas were shorn would have been fiercer if they had realized that an amendment which went through with far less publicity will be still less favorable to immigration from countries other than Great Britain. The new plan will come into operation in 1927. Instead of admitting 357,803 immigrants annually, the total volume will be reduced to 150,000. This total of immigration to the United States will be made up in proportion to the records of the census of 1920. The existing racial strengths will therefore receive each year a reinforcement from Europe year a reinforcement from Europe in proportion to their existing strength.

This new law will undoubtedly have a very serious effect on the racial composition of Canada unless every means shall be taken to interest British settlers in the opportunities which this country offers. Competition of British skilled workers in the United States quota is still exceedingly keen. Nor should it be forgotten that when our neighbor reduces the quota for other foreign countries the attraction for Britishers will be still more appealing. This is the angle of the situation which is now causing some alarm in Great Britain.

Sushington will make an offer to buy it.

This is not a new subject. Just before Great Britain funded her debt to the United States a number of prominent men across the line suggested that part of the bill might be liquidated by turning the Island over to Uncle Sam. Britain did not take it seriously. Then, as now, it was made clear that in the disposition of any British territory there would have to be demonstrated a desire on the part of the Empire. The people of Jamaica seem quite satisfied as they are. That settles it.

During the recent tour of the ing some alarm in Great Britain.

It is an angle which must be thoroughly understood by this country. The two ought to be able to work to the state of the state work together.

If Britain is worried over loss of Britan is worried over loss of British subjects to the Empire, her leaders can show a more practical interest in the Empire by helping to develop it and thus create more jobs for those who are unable to find employment in the Old Country. It is a matter for intelligent co-operation.

No two of these formulas are alike. Others confess that they have observed some of the more obvious danger signs but otherwise have allowed old age to come upon them without any Conclusion remains to be seen.

Mayor Taylor did more than drop his antipathy to the Govern-ment's bill. He informed the Attorney-General that there would be no need to send the Provincial Police into the City of Vancouver in the future to enforce the liquor laws. "Instead of spending so much tim secret service men into the war on bootleggers," said His Worship to the newspapers of his city.

This is a very admirable plan.

Mr. Davidson's task of enforcing the liquor laws of the Province difficult enough already. It will not become simpler when he has to keep his eye on a few hundred beer halls. He will require all the as-sistance Mayor Taylor and other chief magistrates can give him in checking bootlegging. your goal—comes out of a blue sky. Then you have to do one of two things; quit, or work harder than ever.

A horse's mettle is tested by pulling on the reins; a man's by receiving a bad check from nature. Out in Kansas there is a blind student who is known as one of the best collegiate debaters in the Southwest. He has won every speaking contest in the college he is attending. Last year he was elected the most popular man in school. He is earning his own way and is doing four years' work in three years.

Up until the time he was thirteen, when he lost his sight, he had never read a book through in his life.

One day he said to me: "If I hadn't lost my sight, I would never have amounted to a thing. Now I HAVE to work. I HAVE to take things seriously."

Most of us can do so much more than we are doing that an obstacle we have to climb often makes us accomplish more with a handleap than we would have done without it.

In the Bank of Life a bad check may, in the end, be cashed at a premium.

Huber is the case of another blind man who made a bad check redound to his success. Although he was blind, he became the greatest authority during his lifetime on the subject of bees.

It will be fournd in the history of most men who have achieved success, that this has been due to their overcoming of obstacles, and not to their having had no obstacles are put before us as a challenge to our ability. Overcoming what is unpleasant or puts a difficulty in our way has a tendency to develop our strength, and make ourselves much fitter to meet facture dangers.

BRIDLE PATH

To the Editor:—May I crave a little space in your paper to call the attention of the many who signed the petition for a bridle path in Beacon Hill Park, to the fact that the petitioners are invited by the park's committee of the City Council to meet them at the City Hall at 1.30 p.m. on Wednesday next, January 23. It is hoped that all who are interested in attaining this additional attraction for Victoria will make an effort to be present.

To the Editor:—Will you kindly inform me through your columns why such a disturbance was allowed to continue, as has, been done for the last few days and nights, especially on the Sabbath, when celebrations generally cease. I notice by your worthy paper that New Westminster granted a few hours to their Chinese in which to celebrate, but they seem to have been unrestrained here, and discharged large bombs as well as fire-crackers, which I understood to be unlawful. Trusting to hear from any reader who can tell me the why of things, as I would like to know if the blame falls on any public officials.

Representatives of Other Service Clubs Perform Interesting Ceremony

Installation of officers for the ensuing year was effected at the luncheon of the Kumtuks Club yesterday, representatives of the other service Clubs of the city taking part in the ceremony. Miss Almo Russell presided at the gathering for the installation, being followed in the chair by the new president, Miss M. A. Wigley.

President Beatty of the Rotary Club delivered the valedictory address to the retiring president and executive, touching upon the good fellowship which had always existed between the Kumtuks and Rotary Clubs under their regime, and wishing the club a successful year. Dr. Howard Miller, president of the Kiwanis Club installed the new president and officers, reminding them of their responsibilities and urging the members to give the most loyal support to the executive. Harold Beckwith, for the Gyro Club, tendered his felicitations to the Club in its choice of officers and expressed the readiness of the Gyros to co-operate to the fullest with the Kumtuks Club in any of its movements in the interest of the community. Miss Wigley then took the chair and gracefully thanked the Club for electing her to its chief office, and appealed to the members for their individual support. Miss Bowron or behalf of the Kumtuks thanked the representatives of the service clubs for their assistance in the installation. The value of advertisement was never more clearly demonstrated than last evening when a huge crowd took possession of the Salvation Army Citadel, drawn by the announcement that thirteen children were to be offered for sale at auction. In addition to the crowd which filled the Citadel, many were turned away disappointed.

The much-discussed auction—sale, which has created a storm of criticism, turned out to be a religious allegory destined to show that a religious life outweighs other bids for children. Ensign Francis took the part of the auctioneer and produced the thirteen children who were to be offered "for sale."

Bids were made in turn by "Self-interest" in the person of Stanley Mendum, who guaranteed to give the children a pleasant easy life, based on the principle of "every-man for himself, and "Pleasure," represented by Ceil Slade, who made the second offer, stating that he represented the firm of "Do As I Like and Co." Next came "Physical Well Being," in the person of Jack Townsend, who offered to train the children in the gospel of sport.

"Fashlon" in the person of Missley Reynolds, "Weelth" in the guise of James Rutherford, "Education" portrayed by W. Allen, all made unsuccessful bids for the children. Finally "True Religion," represented by Mrs. McGill, a Salvation Army sister in uniform, came forward to "present my claims, believing with all my heart that true religion will not contained in any of the seeming extravagant offers which you have received here to-night.

After the bid of Mrs. McGill was accepted by the auctioneer, she spoke been a general demand among the patrons that the Association hold one verry week.

Owing to previous arrangements having been made in connection with the bi-weekly dance it was impossible to make arrangements to hold the 560 party on Fridays so at the last meeting of the executive it was decided to have it every Wednesday evening in the Association clubroom in the Belmont Building, starting from Wednesday, January 28.

Dr. Fyvie will be in charge, and he hopes that the patrons will make it a point to be at the tables to start as near as possible at 8.30, in order that those wishing to dance after the game, may do so.

As dancing continues till 12 midnight, and a spiendid orchestra is engaged, a full evening's entertainment is assured.

HIGHER TEA PRICES EXPECTED ANY DAY

The estimated increase in the consumption of toa in 1924 over 1923 has amounted to over 33,000,000 pounds. An increase in production of only 17,000,000 pounds during the same period has resulted in tea prices advancing in primary markets from ten to fourteen cents per pound since last Summer. The price to the consumer to-day is on the basis of much lower primary costs, so a general increase to tea drinkers is inevitable in the near future.

In the first book the survey undertook when the bell had tolled for the last time in 1924 was "The Martiarch" (Knopf), by G. B. Stern, brilliant English girl. And if a more amusing, more compactly done, or better written book comes to this desk during the season—well, heaven hasten the day.

It was not without prejudice that the book was opened. The surveyor had read, or tried to, some of the surveyor had read, or tried to, some of the staccato "word music" of Miss Stern without the slightest idea of what it is all about in the same breath with such a family chronicle as "The word music" of Miss Stern Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other wind and tell your druggist whether with such a family chronicle as "The market and the material you wish to color is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. If used in time and used consistently, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea, or check its progress—something ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to do. It contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession in the treatment of Pyorrhea). It is safe, efficient and pleasant tasting. Even if you don't care to discontinue your afavorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day. Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Forsythe Saga." Miss Stern has done it all in less than 300 pages.

Beginning with Babette, way back in the Napoleonic times, when Vienna was closed to the Jews, she traces, the remarkable Bakonitz family down to Tonl, a complete modern—but then the Rakonitz women were always modern. Hundreds of people pass through the pages and each becomes a delightful picture, through anecdote or close characterization.

The place reserved in the Jewish family life for the male of the tribe is legendary. Hence the patriarch, But here was a family where the girts outloved, outlived, and outwitted the whole male line. A gorgeous group they were, with Anastasia—Matriarch and superwoman—as their banner carrier.

Family and freedom engage in battle over a canvas seven generations in size. And this is no mean job of writing.

THE IMMORTAL BARD OF OLD SCOTLAND

Place of Robert Burns in the Judgment of Posterity; Masterly Address on Life and Works of Great

The oustanding feature of the annual dinner of the Burns Club of this city was the masterly address on Scotland's immortal bard by W. R. Dunlop of Vancouver. For more than forty minutes Mr. Dunlop held his audience spell-bound as he dealt with the life and works of the "ploughman poet," his impressive delivery being entirely worthy of the splendid array of material at his command.

CREW OF SPEEDWAY ARRIVE HERE TO-MORROW ON COAST STEAMSHIP FROM BANFIELD

Capt. Robert Sinelair, of the gasoline schooner Speedway, which was burned at sea on Saturday last, is not at Banfield with the rest of the crew of the lost vessel, and is thought to be on his way to Victoria. He left the Swiftsure lightship in the lifeboat from that station, and was to be transferred to another boat on his journey to Victoria, via Port Angeles.

The thirteen members of his crew are at Banfield and in high spirits. They are all safe and well and look upon their experience and skirmish with death as a great adventure, long to be re-

Capt. Sinclair was expected in this city to-day. the B. C. Coast service declare Shipping men here this morning ridiculed the reports of hi-jacking of the cargo of the Speedway, and declared that if any of the shipload of liquor found its way to Seattle it must have left the vessel before the fire commenced. WAIT FOR MAQUINNA

The shipwreeked men have been waiting at Banfield for the arrival of the Canadian Pacific coast steams ship on her southbound journey. The Princess Maquinna was at Sydney Inlet at 8 o'clock this morning, and officials of the company stated to The Times this morning that she should be here within thirty hours from the time she left that point. EXPECTED TO-MORROW

There is a possibility that the Maquinna may be delayed at Kildonan to load freight, but since the Princess Ena is at present in that vicinity this probability was passed over by officials to-day. They believe that the Maquinna with her passengers from Banfield will be here by noon to-morrow.

STEEL WORKER IN

Went Into Shaft to Rescue Overcome Men; Brought Out Bodies

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 27.—A small gas-filled shaft forty-seven feet deep within a caisson of the new American Insurance Union Building here claimed the lives of four men yesterday, three of the victims going to their doom as heroes. A fifth man who went to the rescue came through inscathed, and a few hours later a movement was started to reward him fittingly.

The dead: C. R. Bowen, twenty-two, Greenwood, Ind.; Jack Smith, New York City; John C. McCarthy, forty-eight, New York City; John C. McCarthy, forty-eight, New York City; John Chromstuction.

All the men were steam fitters employed by the John Gill Construction.

Company of Cleveland.

Circumstances surrounding the tragedy are not clear. It is believed Bowen was in the shaft fitting pipes when he was overcome and fell to the bottom. Fellow workmen noticed that activity had ceased in the shaft and one of the victims climbed down to see what had happened. When neither appeared within a short time, another went down the tube to investigate. Then McCarthy, the last of the victims, volunteered and dropped through the mouth of the shaft. Suddenly a huge crane swung into the air and deposited William V. "Big Bill" Martin, a structual steel worker, on top of the caisson. Fellow workmen remonstrated. Three had gone down and had not come back, and he must not go, they declared.

"Big Bill" snapped his fingers, put his foot into the rope stirrup and signalled the crane engineer. Someone handed him a gas mask. The crane mouth of the shaft came the limp form of a man, a rope around his walst.

The following table gives the production of the individual birds for the week under columns numbering I to 10. "W." gives the total weekly pen production and column "T." the total number of eggs for the sen to date. The difference between the weekly total and the records of the individual birds is the result of "Leading pen." lowered and each time it brought to the surface a limp form. Then out of the shaft came "Big Bill." He clung to the cable desperately. His face was ashen white. The gas mask was gone.

Lowered to the street, an effort was made to put him in an ambulance. Weakly he brushed the men aside and edged away from the crowd which surrounded him.

When he had recovered he refused to talk.

"The bosses can tell you about it, I won't," he asserted.
The "bosses" said that "Big Bill" found the dead men at the bottom of the shaft, and that he had reported that he worked as fast as he could in getting them out. He took off his mask when it hampered him, he said.

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—Officers and cadets of the three Japanese cruisers now in San Francisco harbor were guests hast night at a reception and ball given by Toshihiko Taketomi, the newlyappointed Japanese Consul-General here.

On her preliminary trials the Princess Kathleen, built at the Clydesbank yards of John Brown and Company for service on the Canadian Pacific run between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, accomplished all that was expected of her, and the Canadian engineers and other officers who conducted the trials and who will bring this and a sister ship, the Princess Marguerite, still under construction to Victoria, expressed themselves as being entirely satisfied. With a speed of twenty-two and a half knots the new steamships will considerably reduce time between ports. Built with the object of speeding up and affording even better and more convenient service than is now offered, the two Princesses will be, without a shadow of doubt, the most elaborate yet tastefully beautiful vessels operating on the Pacific Coast. Three hundred and sixty-eight feet in longth, their lines were specially designed for the service to which they will be put and those who have seen the new vessels describe them as being beyond comparison with any others of their kind. Five decks are given over to the accommodation of the passengers, whose private quarters and public rooms are most spacious and luxuriously fitted up. The Princess Kathleen sailed from the Clyde on January 15, expecting to complete the journey to Victoria in about thirty days, her route being via the Azores, the West Indies and the Panama, where she will pick up fuel oil. She will be placed in passenger service soon after her arrival. The Princess Marguerite is scheduled to leave the Clyde on March 15. POSITIONS BY WIRELESS FAREWELL CONCERT

Fourandex Club Honors Commander Beard on Eve of His Departure

The Fourandex Club last night tendered a farewell entertainment to Commander C. T. Beard, R.N., who is leaving Victoria in the near future, for a post in England. The organization arranged a splendid musical programme for the evening, and the whole affair took the form of an informal smeking concert.

Col. R. D. Davies, company commander of the organization, during the course of the evening made a few remarks relative to the transfer of Commander Beard from Esquiman, and expressed the regrets of the organization that a respected comrade and friend might not spend more time among them.

For two years Commander Beard and friend might not spend more time among them.

For two years Commander Beard has been in charge of the naval station at Esquimait, and in this office has won for himself a reputation of high standing with those among whom he has come in contact in this city. Col. Davies volced the sentiments of the whole gathering when he stated that Victoria was losing one of her finest and most capable officers, and that he wished Commander Beard every success in the future.

mander Beard every success in the future.

Commander Beard made a brief speech in which he thanked the club for the entertainment in his honor, the kind words of farewell and friendship, and said that his only wish was that he might remain longer with them. But failing this, he wished that they might all remember him as a friend and comrade and one whose duty had brought him closely in touch with Canada's affairs and problems, so that he realized more than ever before the responsibilities which were upon the people of the Pacific coast, and of the Dominion as a whole.

The programme of music, in which were featured many prominent artists, was well received by the gathering. Arthur White, of the Vancouver Boys' Naval Brigade, greatly pleased the gathering with his character singing and dancing.

JAPAN'S RECOVERY

T. M. Wright, Prominent Mr. Bore: "Do you believe that absence makes the heart grow Passes Through Here

"Japan is rapidly recovering from her industrial inertia which prevailed following the earthquake and which was prolonged by the war in China." said T. M. Wright, manager of the Hongkong-Shanghai bank in Yokohama, who passed through Victoria yesterday on the C.P.O.S. Empress of Asia, on his way to England. "But the great trouble in Japan was undoubtedly the earthquake and not the Chinese war, for although this latter affected trade conditions to some small extent, the country was not really concerned over the problems of China," he said.

"Still, it was natural that China's depression should hinder Japanese advancement. And this, coupled with the natural slump following the earthquake, was the more discernable," Mr. Wright declared.

REGAINING POSITION

"But Japan is rapidly regaining at that she has lost and her indus-

The city was asked to fix up the Willows grounds by relling the playing field with a light roller, which will be supplied by the cricket club, to remove atones and rocks, to clean the dressing-rooms and to furnish water. If Johnson finally agrees to a long term contract, it means he will not accompany the world's champions to Tampa for Spring training.

Brandon Opera Company Opens Its Appearances Here

All Victoria during the present week will have the deportunity of living in the atmosphere of light opera with the visit here of the Brandon Opera. Company, which last evening at the Royal Victoria presented the control opera. Thebia Meed," by Reginald Dekoven. This opera is said to be America's best loved, and its popularity no doubt lies in the fact that the scenes, the fife, the color, the very story of its merry-making, its outlawry and its episodes, associated with and in the characters that lived centuries ago, all make a peculiar appeal to the interest and humorness of mankind.

Its production was of a high standard throughout. The singing was unusually good, and throughout, principals and chorus all alike alert, careful and at all times satisfactory. The settings were all that could be asked, the Sherwood Forest scene, Act II, was particularly effective and forest-like, while the courtyard at Nottingham was attractively realistic in design and subject. In the company were again heard old favorites to Victoria. There were Harry Pfeii , as Robert of Huntingdon (afterward Robin Hood) singing as well as ever, Edward Andrews, as the Sheriff of Nottingham, always authentic, clever and mirth-provoking as ever, Geo. "Ole" Oleson, of the slim and slender legs, and Cari Bundschu, as Littlejohn, an excellent singer with a splendid tenor voice, and lastly, still with the company, is that vivacious and distinctive soprano, Theo. Pennington, prima donna, as Lady Marian Fitzwalter (afterwards Maid Marian). Others in the caste were Delois Jewkes, the possessor of a magnificent bass voice; Jessie Evans, contraito, as Alana-Dale; Chester Bright, basso, as Friar Tuck; Irma Tice, a capital Dame Durden (a widow); Esther Snyker, soprano, as her daughter; Annaber and Beulah DeWoolf, who made a ers, king's foresters, outlaws, etc. chorus of villagers, milk-malds, archers, King's foresters, outlaws, etc. were Ruth Hamilton, Victoria Andrews, Marcia Nibeker, Esther Snyker, Madelyn Lamont, Lillian Strut, Chester Bright, Leonard Tetley, J. Kent Cobb, V. O. Bird, Art Beard, Wallace Cook, F. W. Erikson, J. H. Bull and Bowman Johnson.

The millions who have read Zane Grey's thrilling novel, "The Last of the Duanes," should welcome the William Fox screen version starring Tom Mix, which opened at the Columbia Theatre last night for a three days' run.

"The Last of the Duanes," showing the passing of the last frontier, fit Mix like a glove, for Tom, is the typical frontier type.

thing had been righted—but never overtook him.

The story tells of a man who takes a friend's identity to discover, to his dismay, that his task includes playing husband and father to the "family" he is surprised with. What really made him cross was to see a little millionaire shelk wooling his supposed sister-in-law.

Denny climbs a flat wall, has a fight or two, escapes from the sheriff and makes a sensational leap to a ship, usually with Miss La Plante alding and abbetting him.

The cast is splendidly balanced. Ethel Grey Terry plays the wife in the case, and Richard Tucker is seen but little, but that little is good—as the real husband. Lee Moran offers a refreshing comedy character to the merry gathering, and Muriel Frances Dana is seen as a frolicsome small daughter who terrorizes and dismays her "father" with her pranks and mischief.

UNDER FOX BANNER

The work of cutting and editing the William Fox motion picture version of "The Warrens of Virginia," at the Coliseum Theatre, required more than two months, owing to the vast amount of footage taken when the company was on location.

The stage play, which was written by William C. DeMille and produced by Devid Belasco, was one of the greatest successes of the American stage. The colorful story presents interestingly sidelights of the Civil War period. Elmer Clifton, who dirted this production, will be remembered for his work with "Down To The Sea in Shipe" and "Six Cyclinder Love."

Wilfred Lytell plays the part of Lieutenant Burton in "The Warrens of Virginia," with J. Barney Sherry in the role of General Robert E. Lee. The cast includes, George Bachus, Dorothy Kingdon, Robert Andrews, Jimmie Ward, Rosemary Hill, Frank Andrews, Harian Knight, James Turfler, George Strickling, Helen Ray Kyle and Mrs. Frances Grant.

Many of the exterior scenes were taken in Texas.

A thoroughly entertaining show with a laugh in every line and some clever songs is "Sunshine" or "A Romance of Rockland Avenue" which made its debut last night at the Coliseum.

CHURCH PROPERTY

New York, Jan. 27. — Trinity Church and its historic burial ground in the heart of the downtown financial district here became involved to-day in another of the suits for possession which periodically have flourished in the courts since 1883.

Two brothers, Arthur J. Edwards of Los Angeles and Wesley J. Edwards of Guilford County, North Carolina, now seek title to the $10,000,000 properties.

They claim to be heirs of Robert Edwards, a ship captain of prerevolutionary days, who, they say, obtained from King George III a grant of land in America which included the properties now administed by the church.

The plaintiffs hold that Captain ledwards died intestate after having leased the property to John Cruger and his brother George, who subleased at to the church for ninety-nine years. They contend the lease expired fifty-nine years ago and was never renewed, so that the present Trinity Church Corporation never has had legal claim nor title to the land where the church the burial ground and adjacent skyscrapers now are.

This shift, in the face of warm praise of Miss Hampton by Philadelphia critics, furnished abundant speculation and gossip.

Time will improve the performance. It is expensively fitted. Much of the singing is good. Miss Bennett is beautiful and can be expected to develop her part from what must have been hasty preparation. She has able helpers in the cast.

Savings Account vs. Government Bonds

Five years ago a client purchased $10,000 P.G.E. 4\%% due 1942, guaranteed by the Province of British Columbia, at a price of $7.50. By allowing his interest and capital to accumulate, his worth is now $17,258—an increase of 72.58%. Had he deposited his $10,000 in the Savings Bank, his Capital would now be $11,590—an increase of only 15.9%. (Nearly $100 a month less than the P.G.E. purchase afforded him). We recommend the purchase of P.G.E. to-day at $92.84, and believe, by doing so, your Capital account can be increased materially during the next five years.

THE MARRIAGE SCALES

By MILDRED BARBOUR

Copyright 1924, Metropolitan News paper Service, New York.

Mariana's voice came over the wire, strained and apologetic, "Doris, I must see you! It's awfully important. I'm back at the town house. Can't you come?"
"To-night?"
"Yes, please, to-night. I—to-morrow will be too late—I—I'm going away".

"Oh, yes, yes!" Mariana sounded eager, excited. "Please come, Doris! There is so much I must explain."
Doris's young eyes hardened. How sweetly Mariana could eagle for that she wanted? But not all her art could wipe from Doris's heart the memory of her sister in the arms of Craig Cullam. But it was futile to feel anger because the man she loved was Mariana's lover. She could only be heartbroken for herself,—and for Charles.

"Til come," she promised wearlly, and hung up the receiver with a sigh.

As soon as Isobeb had taken her departure, looking well-pleased with the result of her amateur sleuthing. Doris climbed listlessly into her little car and drove out to the Page house.

It was a warm. Summer dusk, fragrant with the scent of flowers and freshly watered lawns, Children played in the waning light on the sidewalks, and girls in light frocks and youths in immaculate flannels strolled under the trees. Open cars drifted idju up and down, filled with bare-headed, laughing people.

How happy everyone seemed, thought Doris. How free from complexities the lives of these passersby. She could remember when she herself had been happy and had gone her busy, serene, untrouble way. That was before she gave her heart once and for all to a man who was unworthy, she told herself. She wondered if women, like herself ever learned to forget. If the time ever came when they could wake to each day and not remember. Or if a face in the street, a cruelty familiar gesture, a trick of a voice, must always bring back the old, gnawing pain.

Mrs. Page was in her sitting-room, and was expecting her, the butter told Doris. He conducted her up through the shrouded gloom of a house in preparation for Summer vacancy. But even the Boris was the legram that was never received! for well and was expecting her, the butter told Doris. He conducted her up through the shrouded gloom of a house in preparation for Summer vacancy. But even the Boris was the legram that was never received!

"It's a trip to California!"

"Or, so he sent for you?" there was relief in Doris's voice.
"No." Mariana shook her head.
"But I'm going just the same. I—I

Poris's eyes hardened.
"How much of that was your own fault, Mariana, I shall not even ask. After all, it's not my affair," her pretty lips twisted bitterly. "But if, by this hasty departure of yours, you mean to signify that your fliration with—Mr. Cullam,—is at an end, I think you are taking a wise course. Charles loves you very dearly, he has always been a splendid, faithful husband. You owe him infinite consideration."

out. Thank Heaven, it will all be over in a week!"

"I'm sorry I won't be here to see the pageant. I fancy it'll be gorgeous. Craig—Mr. Cullam—will sing, won't he?"

Doris nodded, drew on her gloves. "Well, I must be off. I've a hard day to-morrow. Good-bye, sister mine! A pleasant journey—and give my love to Charles."

Mariana sprang to her feet and threw her arms around her sister. "Oh, don't hate me for being so very, very foolish! I'll tell you all about it some day. And wish me luck, Boris. Wish me luck with all your heart!" she pleaded vehemently. Doris kissed her and went away. Puzzled by the earnestness of that last request.

Craig Cullam called on her the fol: Iowing afternoon.

So while Nurse Jane waited Uncle Wiggily went to the bathroom to shave. He made a lot of white, soapy lather on his brush and began to sharpen his razor.

And while he was lathering his face, and getting ready to trim off his long whiskers, Uncle Wiggily began to sing, as he often did. The song went something like this:

"Roo too tiddliy um.

It is a very pretty little song when

"But I won't say anything to him now," thought the muskrat lady, Well, Uncle Wiggily was singing his funny song, and taking the whiskers off his chin when, all of a sudden the bathroom door opened.

"Ill be ready in a minute, Nurse Jane!" called the bunny, for he thought it was Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy looking to see how nearly he was finished. "I'll be right out!"

"You needn't come out on my account!" spoke a grillery growlery voice, and the Bob Cat poked his head in the door.

Shake up in Solicitorship Mooted by S. A. Pomeroy

The annual loan by law, calling for the borrowing of $65,000, as required, from the Bank of Montreal received first and second readings by the Esquimait Council in session last night, with Reeve R. P. Matheson in the chair.

Accounts passed by the inance committee to the extent of $1.525 were ordered paid. A report of the municipal solicitor gave word of the satisfactory settlement of a damage claim in which the municipality was interested. The settlement was better than expected, said the report.

Engineer H. F. Bourne asked the direction of the 1925 council as to rock crushing and new work. Men would be laid off unless the work now under way were continued, he intimated. The council voted to continue the rock programme as at present and to exerce and to the province and to exerce and to exerce and to the exerce and to the exerce and to exerce and to exerce and to the exerce and to the exerce and to the exerce and to exerce and to the exerce and to the

TENDERS FOR LUMBER

Turning to lumber contracts Councillor Pomeroy suggested that the corporation's timber bill be handled in a different manner. Heretofore, he said, up to $3,000 a year had been paid for lumber, all to the one firm. There should be tenders in for these supplies, he thought. The suggestion was referred to the works committee and engineer for report.

Councillor Smith, mistaking the motion to refer to a committee, intimated he wanted everything done in the open, as he was against a hush-hush policy. The committee would Councillor Pomeroy took exception to the six per cent per annum interest mentioned in the by-law. Negotiations were under way urging that that rate be reduced, intimated G. H. Pullen, municipal clerk. The loan, continued Councillor Pomeroy, was secured by the taxes of the municipality, and, for such a giltedged investment, should come at a much lower rate.

Councillor Burnett suggested the adoption of the prepayment of tax plan as in force in the city. This, said others, would mean no difference to the corporation, which would pay the same rate of interest in any event; but it would mean interest paid to ratepayers rather than to a bank. The matter was referred to the finance committee for investigation and report.

Ursus Kermodei Will Continue to Reside in Salubrious Victoria

The future of Ursus Kermodel came before the City Council again last night, but there was no change of the policy to build a home for the little white bear. Hubert Lethaby, secretary of the Real Estate Board, wrote stating that a unanimous resolution had been passed by the realty men asking the council to go slow on the undertaking, and warning the council of future expenses that would be entailed. Alderman Woodward and Alderman. Shanks seconded that the letter be received and filed, but this course was not followed until Alderman Todd had put up a fight for further consideration of the matter. He expressed his fears that the parks committee was going right ahead with the work of building a home for Ursus, ite hoped it would come before the council again before the expenditure was made.

Old Building Will Not be Torn Down at Present, Council Decides

The bear and the tearing down of the old city jail may be put in the same category, Alderman Todd feared at last night's council meeting. On a report being presented which recommended tearing down the jail. Alderman Todd pointed out "the building has been there a long time, longer than some of us," and if there is no special reason for tearing it down he would advise the council to go slow.
