P R E F A C E.

THIS edition of Sallust's Work on the Conspiracy of Catiline has been prepared expressly for school use. As a part of a regular course of Latin study, it is intended to follow Caesar's Commentaries on the Gallic War, but to precede the Orations of Cicero.

In the preparation of the Notes, the editor has resorted freely to such sources of information as were within his reach; but he has endeavored to adapt his instructions to the special needs of the student during the more elementary stages of classical study. A learned commentary would be manifestly out of place in a school edition of Sallust.

The notes are not intended to interfere with that course of direct personal instruction which belongs exclusively to the living teacher, but rather to prepare the way for it. They aim to aid the student in surmounting real and untried difficulties of construction and idiom, and to furnish him such collateral information as will enable him to understand, appreciate, and enjoy his author. They are arranged topically in such a manner as to keep the general scope of thought as constantly as possible before his mind.

The Vocabulary has been prepared by Mr. Edward H. Cutler, the accomplished Principal of the Classical Department of the Providence High School.

The Text is the result of a careful collation of the several editions most approved by European scholars. It is based, however, chiefly upon the critical labors of Dietsch, Jordan, and Jacobs, with constant reference to the authority of the best manuscripts, as presented in the works of those distinguished editors.

OUTLINE OF THE LIFE OF SALLUST.

GAIUS SALLUSTIUS CRISPUS, the historian, was born 86 B. C., at Amiternum, in the country of the Sabines. Of his early life little is known that is really worth recording. At the age of 36, after having held in succession the offices of quaestor and tribune of the people, he was expelled from the Roman senate, either because of his profligate habits or in consequence of the political intrigues of the day. Three years later, however, he succeeded in regaining his seat in that body by an election to the praetorship. Subsequently his devotion to the cause of Caesar secured him the appointment of governor of Numidia, but his administration seems to have been characterized by injustice and cruelty.

Returning to Rome with immense wealth, Sallust retired to private life, and devoted himself to literary pursuits. He purchased extensive grounds on the Quirinal Hill, and laid them out in a most expensive and magnificent manner. These grounds, afterward the favorite resort of Augustus and his successors, are still known as the Gardens of Sallust.

Sallust died in the midst of his literary career at the early age of 52. He was already the author of three historical works, the Conspiracy of Catiline, the Jugurthine War, and a History of Rome from the death of Sulla to the Mithridatic War. Of the last, only a few fragments are extant. The History of Catiline's Conspiracy is contained in the present volume, and is commended to the learner as an interesting and important chapter in Roman history.

C. SALLUSTII CRISPI

DE

CONJURATIONE CATILINAE

LIBER.

I. OMNES homines, qui sese student praestare ceteris animalibus, summa ope niti decet, ne vitam silentio trans-eant veluti pecora, quae natura prona atque ventri oboe-dientia finxit. Sed nostra omnis vis in animo et corpore sita est: animi imperio, corporis servitio magis utimur; 5 alterum nobis cum deis, alterum cum beluis commune est. Quo mihi rectius videtur ingenii quam virium opibus gloriam quaerere, et, quoniam vita ipsa qua fruimur brevis est, memoriam nostri quam maxime longam efficere. Nam divitiarum et formae gloria fluxa atque fragilis est, virtus 10 clara aeternaque habetur.

Sed diu magnum inter mortales certamen fuit, vine corporis an virtute animi res militaris magis procederet. Nam et prius quam incipias consulto, et ubi consulueris mature facto opus est. Ita utrumque per se indigens al- 15 terum alterius auxilio eget.

II. Igitur initio reges—nam in terris nomen imperii id primum fuit—diversi, pars ingenium, alii corpus exerce-bant: etiam tum vita hominum sine cupiditate agitabatur, sua cuique satis placebant. Postea vero quam in Asia 20 Cyrus, in Graecia Lacedaemonii et Athenienses coepere urbes atque nationes subigere, libidinem dominandi causam belli habere, maximam gloriam in maximo imperio putare, tum demum periculo atque negotiis compertum est in bello plurimum ingenium posse. Quod si regum atque imperatorum animi virtus in pace ita ut in bello valeret, aequabilis atque constantius sese res humanae haberent, neque aliud alio ferri neque mutari ac misceri omnia cerneres. Nam imperium facile eis artibus retinetur, quibus initio partum est; verum ubi pro labore desidia, pro continentia et aequitate libido atque superbia invasere, fortuna simul cum moribus immutatur. Ita imperium semper ad optimum quemque a minus bono transfertur.

Quae homines arant, navigant, aedificant, virtuti omnia parent. Sed multi mortales, dediti ventri atque somno, indocti incultique, vitam sicuti peregrinantes transiere: quibus profecto contra naturam corpus voluptati, anima oneri fuit. Eorum ego vitam mortemque juxta aestimo, quoniam de utraque siletur. Verum enimvero is demum mihi vivere atque frui anima videtur, qui aliquo negotio intentus praeclari facinoris aut artis bonae famam quaerit. Sed in magna copia rerum aliud alii natura iter ostendit.

III. Pulchrum est bene facere rei publicae, etiam bene dicere haud absurdum est: vel pace vel bello clarum fieri licet; et qui fecere et qui facta aliorum scripsere multi laudantur. Ac mihi quidem, tametsi haudquaquam par gloria sequitur scriptorem et actorem rerum, tamen in primis arduum videtur res gestas scribere: primum quod facta dictis exaequanda sunt, dehinc quia plerique quae delicta reprehenderis malevolentia et invidia dicta putant, ubi de magna virtute atque gloria bonorum memores, quae sibi quisque facilia factu putat aequo animo accipit, supra ea veluti ficta pro falsis ducit.

Sed ego adulescentulus initio sicuti plerique studio ad rem publicam latus sum, ibique mihi multa adversa fuere. Nam pro pudore, pro abstinentia, pro virtute, audacia, largitio, avaritia vigeabant. Quae tametsi animus aspernabatur, insolens malarum artium, tamen inter tanta vitia imbecilla aetas ambitione corrupta tenebatur: ac me, quum ab reli-quorum malis moribus dissentirem, nihilo minus honoris cupido eadem qua ceteros fama atque invidia vexabat.

IV. Igitur ubi animus ex multis miseriis atque periculis requievit, et mihi reliquam aetatem a re publica procul habendam decrevi, non fuit consilium socordia atque desidia bonum otium conterere, neque vero agrum colendo aut venando, servilibus officiis, intentum aetatem agere; sed a quo incepto studioque me ambitio mala detinuerat, eodem regressus, statui res gestas populi Romani carptim, ut quaeque memoria digna videbantur, perscribere; eo magis, quod mihi a spe, metu, partibus rei publicae animus liber erat.

Igitur de Catilinae conjuratione, quam verissime potero, paucis absolvam: nam id facinus in primis ego memorabile existimo sceleris atque periculi novitate. De cujus hominis moribus pauca prius explananda sunt quam initium narrandi faciam.

V. Lucius Catilina nobili genere natus, fuit magna vi et animi et corporis, sed ingenio malo pravoque. Huic ab adulescentia bella intestina, caedes, rapinae, discordia civilis grata fuere, ibique juventutem suam exercuit. Corpus patiens inediae, algoris, vigiliae supra quam cuiquam credibile est. Animus audax, subdolanus, varius, cujus rei libet simulator ac dissimulator; alieni appetens, sui profusus, ardens in cupiditatibus; satis eloquentiae, sapientiae parum: vastus animus immoderata, incredibilia, nimis alta semper cupiebat. Hunc post dominationem L. Sullae libido maxima invaserat rei publicae capiundae, neque id quibus modis assequeretur, dum sibi regnum pararet, quicquam pensi habebat. Agitabatur magis magisque in dies animus ferox inopia rei familiaris et conscientia scelerum, quae utraque eis artibus auxerat quas supra memoravi. Incitabant praeterea corrupti civitatis mores, quos pessima ac diversa inter se mala, luxuria atque avaritia, vexabant.

Res ipsa hortari videtur, quoniam de moribus civitatis tempus admonuit, supra repetere ac paucis instituta majorum domi militiaeque, quo modo rem publicam habuerint quantamque reliquerint, ut paulatim immutata ex pulcherrima atque optima pessima ac flagitiosissima facta sit, disserere.

5 VI. Urbem Romam, sicuti ego accepi, condidere atque habuere initio Trojani, qui Aenea duce profugi sedibus incertis vagabantur, cumque eis Aborigines, genus hominum agreste, sine legibus, sine imperio, liberum atque solutum. Hi postquam in una moenia convenere, dispari
10 genere, dissimili lingua, alii alio more viventes, incredibile memoratu est quam facile coaluerint. Sed postquam res eorum, civibus moribus agris aucta, satis prospera satisque pollens videbatur, sicuti pleraque mortalium habentur, invidia ex opulentia orta est. Igitur reges populique finiti-
15 mi bello tentare, pauci ex amicis auxilio esse; nam ceteri metu perculsi a periculis aberant. At Romani domi militiaeque intenti festinare, parare, alius alium hortari, hostibus obviam ire, libertatem, patriam parentesque armis tegere. Post, ubi pericula virtute propulerant, sociis atque
20 amicis auxilia portabant, magisque dandis quam accipiendis beneficiis amicitias parabant.

Imperium legitimum, nomen imperii regium habebant; delecti quibus corpus annis infirmum, ingenium sapientia validum erat, rei publicae consultabant; ei vel aetate vel 25 curae similitudine patres appellabantur. Post, ubi regium imperium, quod initio conservandae libertatis atque augendae rei publicae fuerat, in superbiam dominationemque se convertit, immutato more annua imperia binosque imperatores sibi fecere: eo modo minime posse putabant per 30 licentiam insolescere animum humanum.

VII. Sed ea tempestate coepere se quisque magis extollere magisque ingenium in promptu habere. Nam regibus boni quam mali suspectiores sunt, semperque eis aliena virtus formidulosa est. Sed civitas, incredibile memoratu 35 est, adepta libertate quantum brevi creverit: tanta cupido gloriae incesserat. Jam primum juvenus, simul ac belli patiens erat, in castris per laborem usu militiam discebat, magisque in decoris armis et militaribus equis quam in scortis atque conviviis libidinem habebant. Igitur talibus viris non labor insolitus, non locus ullus asper aut arduus erat, non armatus hostis formidulosus: virtus omnia domuerat. Sed gloriae maximum certamen inter ipsos erat: 5 se quisque hostem ferire, murum ascendere, conspici dum tale facinus faceret, properabat; eas divitias, eam bonam famam magnamque nobilitatem putabant; laudis avidi, pecuniae liberales erant; gloriam ingentem, divitias honestas volebant. Memorare possem, quibus in locis maxi- 10 mas hostium copias populus Romanus parva manu fuderit, quas urbes natura munitas pugnando ceperit, ni ea res longius nos ab incepto traheret.

VIII. Sed profecto fortuna in omni re dominatur: ea res cunctas ex libidine magis quam ex vero celebrat ob- 15 scuratque. Atheniensium res gestae, sicut ego aestimo, satis amplae magnificaeque fuere, verum aliquanto minores tamen quam fama feruntur. Sed quia provenere ibi scriptorum magna ingenia, per terrarum orbem Atheniensium facta pro maximis celebrantur. Ita eorum qui fecere virtus 20 tanta habetur, quantum eam verbis potuere extollere praeclara ingenia. At populo Romano nunquam ea copia fuit, quia prudentissimus quisque maxime negotiosus erat; ingenium nemo sine corpore exercebat; optimus quisque facere quam dicere; sua ab aliis bene facta laudari quam 25 ipse aliorum narrare malebat.

IX. Igitur domi militiaeque boni mores colebantur; concordia maxima, minima avaritia erat; jus bonumque apud eos non legibus magis quam natura valebat. Jurgia, discordias, simultates cum hostibus exercebant; cives cum 30 civibus de virtute certabant: in suppliciis deorum magnifici, domi parci, in amicos fideles erant. Duabus his artibus, audacia in bello, ubi pax evenerat aequitate, seque remque publicam curabant. Quarum rerum ego maxima documenta haec habeo, quod in bello saepius vindicatum 35 est in eos qui contra imperium in hostem pugnaverant, quique tardius revocati proelio excesserant, quam qui signa relinquere aut pulsi loco cedere ausi erant; in pace vero, quod beneficiis magis quam metu imperium agitabant, et accepta injuria ignoscere quam persequi malebant.

X. Sed ubi labore atque justitia res publica crevit, 5 reges magni bello domiti, nationes ferae et populi ingentes vi subacti, Karthago, aemula imperii Romani, ab stirpe interiit, cuncta maria terraeque patebant, saevire fortuna ac miscere omnia coepit. Qui labores, pericula, dubias atque asperas res facile toleraverant, eis otium, divitiae, 10 optanda alias, oneri miseriaeque fuere. Igitur primo pecuniae, deinde imperii cupido crevit: ea quasi materies omnium malorum fuere. Namque avaritia fidem, probitatem ceterasque artes bonas subvertit; pro his superbiam, crudelitatem, deos neglegere, omnia venalia habere edocuit. 15 Ambitio multos mortales falsos fieri subegit, aliud clausum in pectore, aliud in lingua promptum habere, amicitias inimicitiasque non ex re sed ex commodo aestimare, magisque vultum quam ingenium bonum habere.

Haec primo paulatim crescere, interdum vindicari; 20 post, ubi contagio quasi pestilentia invasit, civitas immutata, imperium ex justississimo atque optimo crudele intolerandumque factum.

XI. Sed primo magis ambitio quam avaritia animos hominum exercebat, quod tamen vitium propius virtutem 25 erat. Nam gloriam, honorem, imperium bonus et ignavus aequae sibi exoptant; sed ille vera via nititur, huic quia bonae artes desunt, dolis atque fallaciis contendit. Avaritia pecuniae studium habet, quam nemo sapiens concupivit; ea, quasi venenis malis imbuta, corpus animumque virilem 30 effeminat, semper infinita, insatiabilis est, neque copia neque inopia minuitur. Sed postquam L. Sulla, armis recepta re publica, bonis initiis malos eventus habuit, rapere omnes, trahere, domum alius, alius agros cupere, neque modum neque modestiam victores habere, foeda crudelia- 35 que in cives facinora facere. Huc accedebat, quod L. Sulla exercitum, quem in Asia ductaverat, quo sibi fidum faceret, contra morem majorum luxuriose nimisque liberaliter habuerat, loca amoena, voluptaria, facile in otio feroces militum animos molliverant. Ibi primum insuevit exercitus populi Romani amare, potare, signa, tabulas pictas, vasa caelata mirari, ea privatim et publice rapere, delubra spoliare, sacra profanaque omnia polluere. Igitur ei milites postquam victoriam adepti sunt, nihil reliqui victis fecere. Quippe secundae res sapientium animos fatigant; ne illi corruptis moribus victoriae temperarent. 5

XII. Postquam divitiae honori esse coepere, et eas gloria, imperium, potentia sequebatur, hebescere virtus, 10 paupertas probro haberi, innocentia pro malevolentia duci coepit. Igitur ex divitiis juventutem luxuria atque avaritia cum superbia invasere: rapere, consumere, sua parvi pendere, aliena cupere; pudorem, pudicitiam, divina atque humana promiscua, nihil pensi neque moderati habere. 15 Operae pretium est, quum domos atque villas cognoveris in urbium modum exaedificatas, visere templa deorum, quae nostri majores, religiosissimi mortales, fecere. Verum illi delubra deorum pietate, domos suas gloria decorabant, neque victis quicquam praeter injuriae licentiam 20 eripiebant. At hi contra, ignavissimi homines, per summum scelus omnia ea sociis adimere, quae fortissimi viri victores reliquerant: proinde quasi injuriam facere id demum esset imperio uti.

XIII. Nam quid ea memorem, quae nisi eis qui videre 25 nemini credibilia sunt, a privatis compluribus subversos montes, maria constrata esse? Quibus mihi videntur ludibrio fuisse divitiae; quippe, quas honeste habere licebat, abuti per turpitudinem properabant. Sed libido ganeae ceterique cultus non minor incesserat; vescendi causa terra 30 marique omnia exquirere; dormire prius quam somni cupido esset; non famem aut sitim, neque frigus neque lassitudinem opperiri, sed ea omnia luxu antecapere. Haec juventutem, ubi familiares opes defecerant, ad facinora incendebant: animus imbutus malis artibus haud facile 35 libidinibus carebat; eo profusius omnibus modis quaestui atque sumptui deditus erat.

XIV. In tanta tamque corrupta civitate Catilina, id quod factu facillimum erat, omnium flagitiorum atque facinorum circum se tamquam stipatorum catervas habebat. Nam quicumque impudicus, adulter, ganeo bona patria
5 laceraverat, quique alienum aes grande conflaverat quo flagitium aut facinus redimeret, praeterea omnes undique parricidae, sacrilegi, convicti judiciis aut pro factis iudicium timentes, ad hoc quos manus atque lingua perjurio aut sanguine civili alebat, postremo omnes quos flagitium,
10 egestas, conscius animus exagitabat, ei Catilinae proximi familiaresque erant. Quod si quis etiam a culpa vacuus in amicitiam ejus inciderat, cotidiano usu atque illecebris facile par similisque ceteris efficiebatur. Sed maxime adulescentium familiaritates appetebat: eorum animi molles aetate et fluxi dolis haud difficulter capiebantur. Nam ut cujusque studium ex aetate flagrabat, aliis scorta praebere, aliis canes atque equos mercari, postremo neque sumptui neque modestiae suae parcere, dum illos obnoxios fidosque sibi faceret. Scio fuisse nonnullos qui ita existimarent, juventutem, quae domum Catilinae frequentabat, 20 parum honeste pudicitiam habuisse; sed ex aliis rebus magis, quam quod cuiquam id compertum foret, haec fama valebat.

XV. Jam primum adulescens Catilina multa nefanda
25 stupra fecerat, cum virgine nobili, cum sacerdote Vestae, alia hujusce modi contra jus fasque. Postremo captus amore Aureliae Orestillae, cujus praeter formam nihil unquam bonus laudavit, quod ea nubere illi dubitabat timens privignum adultum aetate, pro certo creditur necato filio
30 vacuum domum scelestis nuptiis fecisse. Quae quidem res mihi in primis videtur causa fuisse facinoris maturandi. Namque animus impurus, deis hominibusque infestus, neque vigiliis neque quietibus sedari poterat: ita conscientia mentem excitam vastabat. Igitur colos ei exsanguis, foedi 35 oculi, citus modo modo tardus incessus: prorsus in facie vultuque vecordia inerat.

XVI. Sed juventutem, quam, ut supra diximus, illexe-rat, multis modis mala facinora edocebat. Ex illis testes signatoresque falsos commodare; fidem, fortunas, pericula vilia habere, post, ubi eorum famam atque pudorem attriverat, majora alia imperabat; si causa peccandi in praesens minus suppetebat, nihilo minus insontes sicuti sontes circumvenire, jugulare: scilicet, ne per otium torpescerent manus aut animus, gratuito potius malus atque crudelis erat. Eis amicis sociisque confisus Catilina, simul quod aes alienum per omnes terras ingens erat, et quod plerique Sullani milites, largius suo usi, rapinarum et victoriae veteris memores, civile bellum exoptabant, opprimendae rei publicae consilium cepit. In Italia nullus exercitus, Cn. Pompeius in extremis terris bellum gerebat; ipsi consulatū petenti magna spes; senatus nihil sane intentus; tutae tranquillaeque res omnes: sed ea prorsus opportuna Catilinae.

XVII. Igitur circiter Kalendas Junias, L. Caesare et C. Figulo consulibus, primo singulos appellare: hortari alios, alios tentare; opes suas, imparatam rem publicam, magna praemia conjurationis docere. Ubi satis explorata sunt quae voluit, in unum omnes convocat, quibus maxima necessitudo et plurimum audaciae inerat. Eo convenere senatorii ordinis P. Lentulus Sura, P. Autronius, L. Cassius Longinus, C. Cethegus, Publius et Servius Sullae Servii filii, L. Vargunteius, Q. Annius, M. Porcius Laeca, L. Bestia, Q. Curius; praeterea ex equestri ordine M. Fulvius Nobilior, L. Statilius, P. Gabinius Capito, C. Cornelius; ad hoc multi ex coloniis et municipiis, domi nobiles. Erant praeterea complures paulo occultius consilii hujusce participes nobiles, quos magis dominationis spes hortabatur quam inopia aut alia necessitudo. Ceterum juvenus pleraque, sed maxime nobilium, Catilinae inceptis favebat: quibus in otio vel magnifice vel molliter vivere copia erat, incerta pro certis, bellum quam pacem malebant. Fuere item ea tempestate qui crederent M. Licinium Crassum non ignarum ejus consilii fuisse; quia Cn. Pompeius, invisus ipsi, magnum exercitum ductabat, cujusvis opes voluisse contra illius potentiam crescere, simul confisum, si conjuratio valisset, facile apud illos principem se fore.

XVIII. Sed antea item conjuravere pauci contra rem publicam, in quibus Catilina fuit: de qua quam verissime potero dicam. L. Tullo et M'. Lepido consulibus, P. Autronius et P. Sulla, designati consules, legibus ambitus interrogati poenas dederant. Post paulo Catilina, pecuniarum repetundarum reus, prohibitus erat consulatum petere, quod intra legitimos dies profiteri nequiverat. Erat eodem tempore Cn. Piso, adulescens nobilis, summae audaciae, egens, factiosus, quem ad perturbandam rem publicam inopia atque mali mores stimulabant. Cum hoc Catilina et Autronius circiter Nonas Decembres, consilio communicato, parabant in Capitolio Kalendis Januariis L. Cottam et L. Torquatum consules interficere, ipsi fascibus correptis Pisonem cum exercitu ad obtinendas duas Hispanias mittere. Ea re cognita, rursus in Nonas Februarias consilium caedis transtulerant. Jam tum non consulibus modo, sed plerisque senatoribus perniciem machinabantur. Quod ni Catilina maturasset pro curia signum sociis dare, eo die post conditam urbem Romam pessimum facinus patratum foret. Quia nondum frequentes armati convenerant, ea res consilium diremit.

XIX. Postea Piso in citeriorem Hispaniam quaestor pro praetore missus est, adnitente Crasso, quod eum infestum inimicum Cn. Pompeio cognoverat. Neque tamen senatus provinciam invitus dederat: quippe foedum hominem a re publica procul esse volebat; simul quia boni complures praesidium in eo putabant, et jam tum potentia Pompeii formidulosa erat. Sed is Piso in provincia ab equitibus Hispanis, quos sine exercitu ductabat iter faciens, occisus est. Sunt qui ita dicant, imperia ejus injusta, superba, crudelia barbaros nequivisse pati; alii autem, equites illos, Cn. Pompeii veteres fidosque clientes, voluntate ejus Pisonem aggressos; nunquam Hispanos praeterea tale facinus fecisse, sed imperia saeva multa antea perpes-

XX. Catilina, ubi eos, quos paulo ante memoravi, convenisse videt, tametsi cum singulis multa saepe egerat, tamen in rem fore credens universos appellare et cohortari, in abditam partem aedium secedit, atque ibi omnibus arbitris procul amotis orationem hujusce modi habuit :

“ Ni virtus fidesque vestra spectata mihi forent, neququam opportuna res cecidisset ; spes magna, dominatio in manibus frustra fuissent ; neque ego per ignaviam aut vana ingenia incerta pro certis captarem. Sed quia multis et magnis tempestatibus vos cognovi fortes fidosque mihi, eo animus ausus est maximum atque pulcherrimum facinus incipere ; simul quia vobis eadem quae mihi bona malaque esse intellexi. Nam idem velle atque idem nolle, ea demum firma amicitia est.

Sed ego quae mente agitavi, omnes jam antea diversi audistis. Ceterum mihi in dies magis animus accenditur, quum considero quae condicio vitae futura sit, nisi nosmet ipsi vindicamus in libertatem. Nam postquam res publica in paucorum potentium jus atque dicionem concessit, semper illis reges, tetrarchae vectigales esse ; populi, nationes stipendia pendere ; ceteri omnes, strenui, boni, nobiles atque ignobiles, vulgus fuimus sine gratia, sine auctoritate, eis obnoxii, quibus, si res publica valeret, formidini essemus. Itaque omnis gratia, potentia, honos, divitiae apud illos sunt aut ubi illi volunt ; nobis reliquere pericula, repulsas, judicia, egestatem. Quae quousque tandem patiemini, fortissimi viri ? Nonne emori per virtutem praestat, quam vitam miseram atque inhonestam, ubi alienae superbiae ludibrio fueris, per dedecus amittere ?

Verum enimvero, pro deum atque hominum fidem, victoria in manu nobis est ; viget aetas, animus valet : contra illis annis atque divitiis omnia consenuerunt. Tantum modo incepto opus est, cetera res expediet. Etenim quis mortaliū, cui virile ingenium est, tolerare potest illis divitias superare, quas profundant in extrudendo mari et montibus coaequandis, nobis rem familiarem etiam ad necessaria deesse? illos binas aut amplius domos continuare, nobis larem familiarem nusquam ullum esse? Quum tabulas, signa, toreumata emunt, nova diruunt, alia aedificat, postremo omnibus modis pecuniam trahunt, vexant, tamen summa libidine divitias suas vincere nequeunt. At nobis est domi inopia, foris aes alienum; mala res, spes multo asperior: denique, quid reliqui habemus praeter miseram animam?

10 Quin igitur expergiscimini! En illa, illa, quam saepe optastis, libertas, praeterea divitiae, decus, gloria in oculis sita sunt; fortuna omnia ea victoribus praemia posuit. Res, tempus, pericula, egestas, belli spolia magnifica, magis quam oratio mea, vos hortantur. Vel imperatore vel milite
15 me utemini: neque animus, neque corpus a vobis aberit. Haec ipsa, ut spero, vobiscum una consul agam, nisi forte me animus fallit, et vos servire magis quam imperare parati estis."

XXI. Postquam acceperere ea homines, quibus mala
20 abunde omnia erant, sed neque res neque spes bona ulla, tametsi illis quieta movere magna merces videbatur, tamen postulavere plerique, ut proponeret quae condicio belli foret, quae praemia armis peterent, quid ubique opis aut spei haberent. Tum Catilina polliceri tabulas novas, pro-
25 scriptionem locupletium, magistratus, sacerdotia, rapinas, alia omnia quae bellum atque libido victorum fert: praeterea esse in Hispania citeriore Pisonem, in Mauretania cum exercitu P. Sittium Nucerinum, consilii sui participes; petere consulatum C. Antonium, quem sibi collegam fore
30 speraret, hominem et familiarem et omnibus necessitudinibus circumventum; cum eo se consulem initium agendi facturum. Ad hoc maledictis increpabat omnes bonos, suorum unum quemque nominans laudare; admonebat alium egestatis, alium cupiditatis suae, complures periculi aut
35 ignominiae, multos victoriae Sullanae, quibus ea praedae fuerat. Postquam omnium animos alacres videt, cohortatus ut petitionem suam curae haberent, conventum dimisit.

XXII. Fuere ea tempestate, qui dicerent Catilinam, oratione habita, quum ad jusjurandum populares sceleris sui adigeret, humani corporis sanguinem vino permixtum in pateris circumtulisse; inde quum post exsecrationem omnes degustavissent, sicuti in sollemnibus sacris fieri consuevit, aperuisse consilium suum, atque eo ita fecisse, quo inter se fidi magis forent, alius alii tanti facinoris conscii. Nonnulli ficta et haec et multa praeterea existimabant ab eis, qui Ciceronis invidiam, quae postea orta est, leniri credebant atrocitate sceleris eorum, qui poenas dederant. Nobis ea res pro magnitudine parum comperta est.

XXIII. Sed in ea conjuratione fuit Q. Curius, natus haud obscuro loco, flagitiis atque facinoribus coopertus, quem censores senatu probri gratia moverant. Huic homini non minor vanitas inerat quam audacia: neque reticere quae audierat, neque suamet ipse scelera occultare prorsus neque dicere neque facere quicquam pensi habebat. Erat ei cum Fulvia, muliere nobili, stupri vetus consuetudo; cui quum minus gratus esset, quia inopia minus largiri poterat, repente glorians maria montesque polliceri coepit, et minari interdum ferro, ni sibi obnoxia foret; postremo ferocius agitare quam solitus erat. At Fulvia, insolentiae Curii causa cognita, tale periculum rei publicae haud occultum habuit, sed, sublato auctore, de Catilinae conjuratione quae quoque modo audierat compluribus narravit. Ea res in primis studia hominum accendit ad consulatum mandandum M. Tullio Ciceroni. Namque antea pleraque nobilitas invidia aestuabat, et quasi pollui consulatum credebant, si eum quamvis egregius homo novus adeptus foret. Sed ubi periculum advenit, invidia atque superbia post fuere.

XXIV. Igitur comitiis habitis consules declarantur M. Tullius et C. Antonius. Quod factum primo populares conjurationis concusserat: neque tamen Catilinae furor minuebatur, sed in dies plura agitare; arma per Italiam locis opportunis parare, pecuniam sua aut amicorum fide sumptam mutuam Faesulas ad Manlium quendam portare, qui postea princeps fuit belli faciundi. Ea tempestate plurimos cujusque generis homines adscivisse sibi dicitur, mulieres etiam aliquot, quae primo ingentes sumptus stupro corporis toleraverant, post, ubi aetas tantum modo quaestui neque luxuriae modum fecerat, aes alienum grande conflaverant. Per eas se Catilina credebat posse servitia urbana sollicitare, urbem incendere, viros earum vel adjungere sibi vel interficere.

XXV. Sed in eis erat Sempronia, quae multa saepe virilis audaciae facinora commiserat. Haec mulier genere atque forma, praeterea viro, liberis satis fortunata fuit; litteris Graecis et Latinis docta, psallere, saltare elegantius quam necesse est probae, multa alia, quae instrumenta luxuriae sunt. Sed ei cariora semper omnia quam decus atque pudicitia fuit; pecuniae an famae minus parceret, haud facile discerneres. Sed ea saepe antehac fidem prodiderat, creditum abjuraverat, caedis conscia fuerat; luxuria atque inopia praeceps abierat. Verum ingenium ejus haud absurdum: posse versus facere, jocum movere, sermone uti vel modesto vel molli vel procaci; prorsus multae facetiae multusque lepos inerat.

XXVI. His rebus comparatis, Catilina nihilo minus in proximum annum consulatum petebat, sperans, si designatus foret, facile se ex voluntate Antonio usurum. Neque interea quietus erat, sed omnibus modis insidias parabat Ciceroni. Neque illi tamen ad cavendum dolus aut astutiae deerant. Namque a principio consulatus sui multa pollicendo per Fulviam effecerat, ut Q. Curius, de quo paulo ante memoravi, consilia Catilinae sibi proderet; ad hoc collegam suum Antonium pactione provinciae perpulerat, ne contra rem publicam sentiret; circum se praesidia amicorum atque clientium occulte habebat. Postquam dies comitiorum venit, et Catilinae neque petitio neque insidiae quas consuli in campo fecerat prospere cessere, constituit bellum facere et extrema omnia experiri, quoniam quae occulte tentaverat aspera faedaque evenerant.

XXVII. Igitur C. Manlium Faesulas atque in eam par-tem Etruriae, Septimium quendam Camertem in agrum Picenum, C. Julium in Apuliam dimisit; praeterea alium alio, quem ubique opportunum sibi fore credebat. Interea Romae multa simul moliri: consuli insidias tendere, parare incendia, opportuna loca armatis hominibus obsidere; ipse cum telo esse, item alios jubere, hortari uti semper intenti paratique essent; dies noctesque festinare, vigilare, neque insomniis neque labore fatigari. Postremo ubi multa agitantia nihil procedit, rursus intempesta nocte conjurationis principes convocat penes M. Porcium Laecam, ibique, multa de ignavia eorum questus, docet se Manlium praemis-

XXVIII. Igitur, perterritis ac dubitantibus ceteris, C. Cornelius eques Romanus operam suam pollicitus et cum eo L. Vargunteius senator constituere ea nocte paulo post cum armatis hominibus sicuti salutatum introire ad Ciceronem ac de improvviso domi suae imparatum confodere. Curius ubi intellegit quantum periculi consuli impendat, prope per Fulviam Ciceroni dolum qui parabatur enuntiat. Ita illi, janua prohibiti, tantum facinus frustra susceperant.

Interea Manlius in Etruria plebem sollicitare, egestate simul ac dolore injuriae novarum rerum cupidam, quod Sullae dominatione agros bonaque omnia amiserat; praeterea latrones cujusque generis, quorum in ea regione magna copia erat, nonnullos ex Sullanis coloniis, quibus libido atque luxuria ex magnis rapinis nihil reliqui fecerat.

XXIX. Ea quum Ciceroni nuntiarentur, ancipiti malo permotus, quod neque urbem ab insidiis privato consilio longius tueri poterat, neque exercitus Manlii quantus aut quo consilio foret satis compertum habebat, rem ad senatum refert, jam antea vulgi rumoribus exagitatam. Ita-que, quod plerumque in atroci negotio solet, senatus decrevit, darent operam consules, ne quid res publica detri- menti caperet. Ea potestas per senatum more Romano magistratui maxima permittitur, exercitum parare, bellum gerere, coercere omnibus modis socios atque cives, domi militiaeque imperium atque iudicium summum habere : aliter sine populi jussu nullius earum rerum consuli jus est.

XXX. Post paucos dies L. Saenius senator in senatu litteras recitavit, quas Faesulis allatas sibi dicebat, in quibus scriptum erat, C. Manlium arma cepisse cum magna multitudine ante diem sextum Kalendas Novembres.

10 Simul, id quod in tali re solet, alii portenta atque prodigia nuntiabant, alii conventus fieri, arma portari, Capuae atque in Apulia servile bellum moveri. Igitur senati decreto Q. Marcius Rex Faesulas, Q. Metellus Creticus in Apuliam circumque ea loca missi—ei utrique ad urbem

15 imperatores erant, impediti ne triumpharent calumnia paucorum, quibus omnia honesta atque inhonesta vendere mos erat;—sed praetores Q. Pompeius Rufus Capuam, Q. Metellus Celer in agrum Picenum, eisque permissum, uti pro tempore atque periculo exercitum compararent. Ad hoc,

20 si quis indicavisset de conjuratione quae contra rem publicam facta erat, praemium servo libertatem et sestertia centum, libero impunitatem ejus rei et sestertia ducenta; itemque decrevere, uti gladiatoriae familiae Capuam et in cetera municipia distribuerentur pro cujusque opibus, Ro-

25 mae per totam urbem vigiliae haberentur, eisque minores magistratus praessent.

XXXI. Quibus rebus permota civitas atque immutata urbis facies erat : ex summa laetitia atque lascivia, quae diuturna quies pepererat, repente omnes tristitia invasit:

30 festinare, trepidare, neque loco neque homini cuiquam satis credere, neque bellum gerere neque pacem habere, suo quisque metu pericula metiri. Ad hoc mulieres, quibus rei publicae magnitudine belli timor insolitus inceserat, afflictae sese, manus supplices ad caelum tendere, miserari parvos liberos, rogare, omnia pavere, superbia atque

35 deliciis omissis sibi patriaeque diffidere.

At Catilinae crudelis animus eadem illa movebat, ta-metsi praesidia parabantur, et ipse lege Plautia interrogatus erat ab L. Paulo. Postremo dissimulandi causa vel sui expurgandi, sicuti jurgio laccessitus foret, in senatum venit. Tum M. Tullius consul, sive praesentiam ejus timens sive ira commotus, orationem habuit luculentam atque utilem 5 rei publicae, quam postea scriptam edidit. Sed ubi ille assedit, Catilina, ut erat paratus ad dissimulanda omnia, demisso vultu voce supplicis postulare a patribus coepit, ne quid de se temere crederent; ea familia ortum, ita se ab adolescentia vitam instituisse, ut omnia bona in spe 10 haberet; ne existimarent sibi patricio homini, cujus ipsius atque majorum plurima beneficia in populum Romanum essent, perdita re publica opus esse, quum eam servaret M. Tullius, inquilinus civis urbis Romae. Ad hoc maledicta alia quum adderet, obstrepere omnes, hostem atque 15 parricidam vocare. Tum ille furibundus, "Quoniam quidem circumventus" inquit "ab inimicis praeceps agor, incendium meum ruina restinguam."

XXXII. Deinde se ex curia domum proripuit. Ibi multa ipse secum volvens, quod neque insidiae consuli 20 procedebant et ab incendio intellegebat urbem vigiliis munitam, optimum factu credens exercitum augere ac prius quam legiones scriberentur multa antecapere quae bello usui forent, nocte intempesta cum paucis in Manliana castra profectus est. Sed Cethego atque Lentulo, ceteris 25 que quorum cognoverat promptam audaciam, mandat quibus rebus possint opes factionis confirmant, insidias consuli maturent, caedem, incendia aliaque belli facinora parent; sese propediem cum magno exercitu ad urbem accessurum.

XXXIII. Dum haec Romae geruntur, C. Manlius ex 30 suo numero legatos ad Marcium Regem mittit cum mandatis hujusce modi: "Deos hominesque testamur, imperator, nos arma neque contra patriam cepisse neque quo periculum aliis faceremus, sed uti corpora nostra ab injuria tuta forent; qui, miseri, egentes, violentia atque crudeli- 35 tate faeneratorum, plerique patriae, sed omnes fama atque fortunis expertes sumus: neque cuiquam nostrum licuit more majorum lege uti neque amisso patrimonio liberum corpus habere: tanta saevitia faeneratorum atque praetoris fuit. Saepe majores vestrum, miseriti plebis Romanae, decretis suis inopiae ejus opitulati sunt, ac novissime memoria nostra propter magnitudinem aeris alieni volentibus omnibus bonis argentum aere solutum est; saepe ipsa plebes, aut dominandi studio permota aut superbia magistratum, armata a patribus secessit. At nos non imperium neque divitias petimus, quarum rerum causa bella atque certamina omnia inter mortales sunt, sed libertatem, quam nemo bonus nisi cum anima simul amittit. Te atque senatum obtestamur, consulatis miseris civibus, legis praesidium, quod iniquitas praetoris eripuit, restituatis, neve nobis eam necessitudinem imponatis, ut quaeramus quonam modo maxime ulți sanguinem nostrum pereamus.”

XXXIV. Ad haec Q. Marcius respondet: Si quid ab senatu petere velint, ab armis discedant, Romam supplices proficiscantur; ea mansuetudine atque misericordia senatum populi Romani semper fuisse, ut nemo unquam ab eo frustra auxilium petiverit.

At Catilina ex itinere plerisque consularibus, praeterea optimo cuique, litteras mittit: Se, falsis criminibus circumventum, quoniam factioni inimicorum resistere nequiverit, fortunae cedere, Massiliam in exilium proficisci, non quo sibi tanti sceleris conscius esset, sed uti res publica quietaret, neve ex sua contentione seditio oriretur. Ab his longe diversas litteras Q. Catulus in senatu recitavit, quas sibi nomine Catilinae redditas dicebat. Earum exemplum infra scriptum est:

XXXV. “L. Catilina Q. Catulo. Egregia tua fides recognita, grata mihi magnis in meis periculis, fiduciam commendationi meae tribuit. Quam ob rem defensionem in novo consilio non statui parare, satisfactionem ex nulla conscientia de culpa proponere decrevi, quam, me dius fidius, veram licet cognoscas. Injuriis contumeliisque concitatus, quod fructu laboris industriaeque meae privatus statum dignitatis non obtinebam, publicam miserorum cau-sam pro mea consuetudine suscepi; non quia aes alienum meis nominibus ex possessionibus solvere non possem, quum scilicet alienis nominibus liberalitas Orestillae suis filiaeque copiis persolveret, sed quod non dignos homines honore honestatos videbam, meque falsa suspicione alienatum esse sentiebam. Hoc nomine satis honestas pro meo casu spes reliquae dignitatis conservandae sum secutus. Plura quum scribere vellem, nuntiatum est vim mihi parari. Nunc Orestillam commendo tuaeque fidei trado: eam ab injuria defendas, per liberos tuos rogatus. Haveto." 10

XXXVI. Sed ipse, paucos dies commoratus apud C. Flaminius in agro Arretino, dum vicinitatem antea sollicitatam armis exornat, cum fascibus atque aliis imperii insignibus in castra ad Manlium contendit. Haec ubi Romae comperta sunt, senatus Catilinam et Manlium hostes 15 judicat; ceterae multitudini diem statuit, ante quam sine fraude liceret ab armis discedere, praeter rerum capitalium condemnatis. Praeterea decernit uti consules dilectum habeant, Antonius cum exercitu Catilinam persequi maturaret, Cicero urbi praesidio sit. 20

Ea tempestate mihi imperium populi Romani multo maxime miserabile visum est; cui quum ad occasum ab ortu solis omnia domita armis parerent, domi otium atque divitiae, quae prima mortales putant, adfluerent, fuere tamen cives, qui seque remque publicam obstinatis animis 25 perditum irent. Namque duobus senati decretis ex tanta multitudine neque praemio inductus conjurationem patefecerat neque ex castris Catilinae quisquam omnium discesserat: tanta vis morbi erat, quae uti tabes plerosque civium animos invaserat. 30

XXXVII. Neque solum illis aliena mens erat, qui conscii conjurationis fuerant, sed omnino cuncta plebes novarum rerum studio Catilinae incepta probabat. Id adeo more suo videbatur facere. Nam semper in civitate, quibus opes nullae sunt, bonis invident, malos extollunt, vetera odere, nova exoptant, odio suarum rerum mutari omnia student; turba atque seditionibus sine cura aluntur, quoniam egestas facile habetur sine damno. Sed urbana plebes, ea vero praeceps erat de multis causis. Primum omnium, qui ubique probro atque petulantia maxime praestabant, item alii per dedecora patrimonii amissis, postremo omnes quos flagitium aut facinus domo expulerat, ei Romam sicut in sentinam confluxerant. Deinde multi memores Sullanae victoriae, quod ex gregariis militibus alios senatores videbant, alios ita divites ut regio victu atque cultu aetatem agerent, sibi quisque, si in armis foret, ex victoria talia sperabat. Praeterea juvenus, quae in agris manuum mercede inopiam toleraverat, privatis atque publicis largitionibus excita, urbanum otium ingrato labori praetulerat. Eos atque alios omnes malum publicum alebat; quo minus mirandum est homines egestes, malis moribus, maxima spe, rei publicae juxta ac sibi consuluisse. Praeterea quorum victoria Sullae parentes proscripti, bona erepta, jus libertatis imminutum erat, haud sane alio animo belli eventum exspectabant. Ad hoc quicumque aliarum atque senatus partium erant, conturbari rem publicam quam minus valere ipsi malebant. Id adeo malum multos post annos in civitatem reverterat.

XXXVIII. Nam postquam, Cn. Pompeio et M. Crasso consulibus, tribunicia potestas restituta est, homines adulescentes summam potestatem nacti, quibus aetas animusque ferox erat, coepere senatum criminando plebem exagitare, dein largiundo atque pollicitando magis incendere: ita ipsi clari potentesque fieri. Contra eos summa ope nitebatur pleraque nobilitas, senatus specie, pro sua magnitudine. Namque, uti paucis verum absolvam, post Sullae tempora quicumque rem publicam agitavere, honestis nominibus, alii sicuti populi jura defenderent, pars quo senatus auctoritas maxima foret, bonum publicum simulantibus, pro sua quisque potentia certabant: neque illis modestia neque modus contentionis erat; utrique victoriam crudeliter exercebant.

XXXIX. Sed postquam Cn. Pompeius ad bellum maritimum atque Mithridaticum missus est, plebis opes im-minutae, paucorum potentia crevit. Ei magistratus, provincias aliaque omnia tenere; ipsi innoxii, florentes, sine metu aetatem agere, ceteros, qui plebem in magistratu placidius tractarent, judiciis terrere. Sed ubi primum dubiis rebus novandi spes oblata est, vetus certamen animos eorum arrexit. Quod si primo proelio Catilina superior aut aequa manu discessisset, profecto magna clades atque calamitas rem publicam oppressisset; neque illis, si victoriam adepti forent, diutius ea uti licuisset, quin defessis et exsanguibus qui plus posset imperium atque libertatem extorqueret. 5 10

Fuere tamen extra conjurationem complures, qui ad Catilinam initio profecti sunt. In eis erat A. Fulvius, senatoris filius, quem retractum ex itinere parens necari jussit. Eisdem temporibus Romae Lentulus, sicuti Catilina praeceperat, quoscumque moribus aut fortuna novis rebus idoneos credebat, aut ipse aut per alios sollicitabat, neque solum cives, sed cujusque modi genus hominum, quod modo bello usui foret. 15

XL. Igitur P. Umbreno cuidam negotium dat, uti legatos Allobrogum requirat, eosque, si possit, impellat ad societatem belli, existimans publice privatimque aere alieno oppressos, praeterea quod natura gens Gallica bellicosa esset, facile eos ad tale consilium adduci posse. Umbrenus, quod in Gallia negotiatus erat, plerisque principibus civitatum notus erat atque eos noverat: itaque sine mora, ubi primum legatos in foro conspexit, percontatus pauca de statu civitatis, et quasi dolens ejus casum, requirere coepit quem exitum tantis malis sperarent. Postquam illos videt queri de avaritia magistratuum, accusare senatum quod in eo auxilii nihil esset, miseriis suis remedium mortem exspectare, "At ego" inquit "vobis, si modo viri esse vultis, rationem ostendam, qua tanta ista mala effugiatis." Haec ubi dixit, Allobroges in maximam spem adducti Umbrenum orare, ut sui misereretur; nihil tam asperum neque tam difficile esse, quod non cupidissime facturi essent, dum ea res civitatem aere alieno liberaret. 20 25 30 35

Ille eos in domum D. Bruti perducit, quod foro propinqua erat, neque aliena consilii propter Semproniam; nam tum Brutus ab Roma aberat. Praeterea Gabinium arcessit, quo major auctoritas sermōni inesset. Eo praesente con-
 5 jurationem aperit, nominat socios, praeterea multos cujusque generis innoxios, quo legatis animus amplior esset; deinde eos pollicitos operam suam domum dimittit.

XLII. Sed Allobroges diu in incerto habuere, quidnam consilii caperent. In altera parte erat aes alienum, studi-
 10 um belli, magna merces in spe victoriae; at in altera majores opes, tuta consilia, pro incerta spe certa praemia. Haec illis volventibus tandem vicit fortuna rei publicae. Itaque Q. Fabio Sangae, cujus patrociniō civitas plurimum utebatur, rem omnem, uti cognoverant, aperiunt. Cicero, 15 per Sangam consilio cognito, legatis praecipit ut studium conjurationis vehementer simulent, ceteros adeant, bene polliceantur, dentque operam uti eos quam maxime manifestos habeant.

XLII. Eisdem fere temporibus in Gallia citeriore atque
 20 ulteriore, item in agro Piceno, Bruttio, Apulia motus erat. Namque illi, quos ante Catilina dimiserat, inconsulte ac veluti per dementiam cuncta simul agebant; nocturnis consiliis, armorum atque telorum portationibus, festinando, agitando omnia, plus timoris quam periculi effecerant. Ex 25 eo numero complures Q. Metellus Celer praetor ex senatus consulto causa cognita in vincula conjecerat, item in ulteriore Gallia C. Murena, qui ei provinciae legatus praeerat.

XLIII. At Romae Lentulus cum ceteris, qui principes conjurationis erant, paratis ut videbantur magnis copiis, 30 constituerant uti, quum Catilina in agrum Faesulanum cum exercitu venisset, L. Bestia tribunus plebei, contione habita, quereretur de actionibus Ciceronis, bellique gravissimi invidiam optimo consuli imponderet; eo signo, proxima nocte cetera multitudo conjurationis suum quisque nego-
 35 tium exsequeretur. Sed ea divisa hoc modo dicebantur: Statilius et Gabinus uti cum magna manu duodecim simul opportuna loca urbis incenderent, quo tumultu facilior aditus ad consulem ceterosque quibus insidiae parabantur fieret; Cethegus Ciceronis januam obsideret eumque vi aggrediretur, alius autem alium; sed filii familiarum, quorum ex nobilitate maxima pars erat, parentes interficerent; simul, caede et incendio percussis omnibus, ad Catilinam 5 erumperent. Inter haec parata atque decreta, Cethegus semper querebatur de ignavia sociorum: illos dubitando et dies prolatando magnas opportunitates corrumpere; facto, non consulto in tali periculo opus esse, seque, si pauci adjuvarent, languentibus aliis, impetum in curiam 10 facturum. Natura ferox, vehemens, manu promptus erat; maximum bonum in celeritate putabat.

XLIV. Sed Allobroges ex praecepto Ciceronis per Gabinium ceteros conveniunt; ab Lentulo, Cethego, Statilio, item Cassio postulant jus jurandum, quod signatum ad 15 cives perferant; aliter haud facile eos ad tantum negotium impelli posse. Ceteri nihil suspicantes dant, Cassius semet eo brevi venturum pollicetur, ac paulo ante legatos ex urbe proficiscitur. Lentulus cum eis T. Volturcium quendam Crotoniensem mittit, ut Allobroges prius quam do- 20 mum pergerent cum Catilina, data atque accepta fide, societatem confirmarent. Ipse Volturcio litteras ad Catilinam dat, quarum exemplum infra scriptum est: "Quis sim, ex eo quem ad te misi cognosces. Fac cogites in quanta calamitate sis, et memineris te virum esse; con- 25 sideres quid tuae rationes postulent; auxilium petas ab omnibus, etiam ab infimis." Ad hoc mandata verbis dat: quum ab senatu hostis judicatus sit, quo consilio servitia repudiet? in urbe parata esse quae jusserit; ne cunctetur ipse propius accedere. 30

XLV. His rebus ita actis, constituta nocte qua proficiscerentur, Cicero per legatos cuncta edoctus L. Valerio Flacco et C. Pomptino praetoribus imperat, ut in ponte Mulvio per insidias Allobrogum comitatus deprehendant; rem omnem aperit, cujus gratia mittebantur; cetera, uti 35 facto opus sit, ita agant permittit. Illi, homines militares, sine tumultu praesidiis collocatis sicuti praeceptum erat, occulte pontem obsidunt. Postquam ad id loci legati cum Volturcio venere et simul utrimque clamor exortus est, Galli, cito cognito consilio, sine mora praetoribus se tradunt. Volturcius primo cohortatus ceteros gladio se a 5 multitudine defendit; deinde ubi a legatis desertus est, multa prius de salute sua Pomptinum obtestatus, quod ei notus erat, postremo timidus ac vitae diffidens velut hostibus sese praetoribus dedit.

XLVI. Quibus rebus confectis, omnia prope per nuntios consuli declarantur. At illum ingens cura atque laetitia simul occupavere: nam laetabatur intellegens conjuratione patefacta civitatem periculis ereptam esse; porro autem anxius erat, dubitans in maximo scelere, tantis civibus deprehensis, quid facto opus esset; poenam illorum 15 sibi oneri, impunitatem perdendae rei publicae fore credebatur. Igitur confirmato animo vocari ad sese jubet Lentulum, Cethegum, Statilium, Gabinium, itemque quendam Caeparium Tarracinensem, qui in Apuliam ad concitanda servitia proficisci parabat.

20 Ceteri sine mora veniunt; Caeparius, paulo ante domo egressus, cognito indicio ex urbe profugerat. Consul Lentulum quod praetor erat ipse manu tenens perducit, reliquos cum custodibus in aedem Concordiae venire jubet. Eo senatum advocat, magnaue frequentia ejus ordinis 25 Volturcium cum legatis introducit; Flaccum praetorem scrinium cum litteris, quas a legatis acceperat, eodem adferre jubet.

XLVII. Volturcius interrogatus de itinere, de litteris, postremo quid, aut qua de causa, consilii habuisset, primo 30 fingere alia, dissimulare de conjuratione; post, ubi fide publica dicere jussus est, omnia uti gesta erant aperit, docetque se, paucis ante diebus a Gabinio et Caepario socium adscitum, nihil amplius scire quam legatos; tantum modo audire solitum ex Gabinio P. Autronium, Ser.
 35 Sullam, L. Vargunteium, multos praeterea in ea conjuratione esse. Eadem Galli fatentur, ac Lentulum dissimulantem coarguunt praeter litteras sermonibus, quos ille habere solitus erat; ex libris Sibyllinis regnum Romae tribus Corneliis portendi; Cinnam atque Sullam antea, se tertium esse, cui fatum foret urbis potiri; praeterea ab incenso Capitolio illum esse vigesimum annum, quem saepe ex prodigiis haruspices respondissent bello civili cruentum fore. Igitur perlectis litteris, quum prius omnes signa sua cognovissent, senatus decernit, uti abdicato magistratu Lentulus, itemque ceteri, in liberis custodiis habeantur. Itaque Lentulus P. Lentulo Spintheri, qui tum aedilis erat, Cethegus Q. Cornificio, Statilius C. Caesari, Gabinius M. Crasso, Caeparius—nam is paulo ante ex fuga retractus erat—Cn. Terentio senatori traduntur.

XLVIII. Interea plebes, conjuratione patefacta, quae primo, cupida rerum novarum, nimis bello favebat, mutata mente Catilinae consilia exsecrari, Ciceronem ad caelum tollere; veluti ex servitute erepta gaudium atque laetitiam agitabat; namque alia belli facinora praedae magis quam detrimento fore, incendium vero crudele, immoderatum, ac sibi maxime calamitosum putabat, quippe cui omnes copiae in usu cotidiano et cultu corporis erant.

Post eum diem quidam L. Tarquinius ad senatum adductus erat, quem ad Catilinam proficiscentem ex itinere retractum aiebant. Is quum se diceret indicaturum de conjuratione si fides publica data esset, jussus a consule quae sciret edicere, eadem fere quae Volturcius, de paratis incendiis, de caede bonorum, de itinere hostium, senatum docet; praeterea se missum a M. Crasso, qui Catilinae nuntiaret, ne eum Lentulus et Cethegus aliique ex conjuratione deprehensi terrerent, eoque magis properaret ad urbem accedere, quo et ceterorum animos reficeret et illi facilius e periculo eriperentur. Sed ubi Tarquinius Crassum nominavit, hominem nobilem, maximis divitiis, summa potentia, alii rem incredibilem rati, pars, tametsi verum existimabant, tamen quia in tali tempore tanta vis hominis magis leniunda quam exagitanda videbatur, plerique Crasso ex negotiis privatis obnoxii, conclamant indicem falsum esse, deque ea re postulant uti referatur. Itaque consu-lente Cicerone frequens senatus decernit: Tarquinii indicium falsum videri, eumque in vinculis retinendum, neque amplius potestatem faciundam, nisi de eo indicaret, cujus consilio tantam rem esset mentitus. Erant eo tempore qui 5 existimarent indicium illud a P. Autronio machinatum, quo facilius appellato Crasso per societatem periculi reliquos illius potentia tegeret; alii Tarquinium a Cicerone immissum aiebant, ne Crassus more suo, suscepto malorum patrocínio, rem publicam conturbaret. Ipsum Crassum ego 10 postea praedicantem audivi, tantam illam contumeliam sibi ab Cicerone impositam.

XLIX. Sed eisdem temporibus Q. Catulus et C. Piso neque pretio neque gratia Ciceronem impellere quivere, uti per Allobroges aut alium indicem C. Caesar falso nomina-
 15 retur. Nam uterque cum illo graves inimicitias exercebant, Piso oppugnatus in iudicio pecuniarum repetundarum propter cuiusdam Transpadani supplicium injustum, Catulus ex petitione pontificatus odio incensus, quod extrema aetate, maximis honoribus usus, ab adolescentulo Caesare victus
 20 discesserat. Res autem opportuna videbatur, quod is privatim egregia liberalitate, publice maximis muneribus, grandem pecuniam debebat. Sed ubi consulem ad tantum facinus impellere nequeunt, ipsi singulatim circumeundo atque ementiundo, quae se ex Volturcio aut Allobrogibus
 25 audisse dicerent, magnam illi invidiam conflaverant, usque eo, ut nonnulli equites Romani, qui praesidii causa cum telis erant circum aedem Concordiae, seu periculi magnitudine seu animi mobilitate impulsus, quo studium suum in rem publicam clarius esset, egredienti ex senatu Caesari 30 gladio minitarentur.

L. Dum haec in senatu aguntur et dum legatis Allobrogum et T. Volturcio, comprobato eorum indicio, praemia decernuntur, liberti et pauci ex clientibus Lentuli diversis itineribus opifices atque servitia in vicis ad eum 35 eripiundum sollicitabant, partim exquirebant duces multitudinum, qui pretio rem publicam vexare soliti erant; Cethegus autem per nuntios familiam atque libertos suos, lectos et exercitatos in audaciam, orabat ut grege facto cum telis ad sese irrumperent. Consul ubi ea parari cognovit, dispositis praesidiis ut res atque tempus monebat, convocato senatu, refert quid de eis fieri placeat, qui in custodiam traditi erant. Sed eos paulo ante frequens 5 senatus judicaverat contra rem publicam fecisse. Tum D. Junius Silanus, primus sententiam rogatus, quod eo tempore consul designatus erat, de eis qui in custodiis tenebantur, et praeterea de L. Cassio, P. Furio, P. Umbreno, Q. Annio, si deprehensi forent, supplicium sumendum 10 decreverat; isque postea, permotus oratione C. Caesaris, pedibus in sententiam Tib. Neronis iturum se dixerat, qui de ea re praesidiis additis referendum censuerat. Sed Caesar, ubi ad eum ventum est, rogatus sententiam a consule, hujusce modi verba locutus est: 15

LI. "Omnes homines, patres conscripti, qui de rebus dubiis consultant, ab odio, amicitia, ira atque misericordia vacuos esse decet. Haud facile animus verum providet, ubi illa officiant, neque quisquam omnium libidini simul et usui paruit. Ubi intenderis ingenium, valet: si libido 20 possidet, ea dominatur, animus nihil valet. Magna mihi copia est memorandi, patres conscripti, quae reges atque populi, ira aut misericordia impulsu, male consuluerint; sed ea malo dicere, quae majores nostri contra libidinem animi sui recte atque ordine fecere. Bello Macedonico, 25 quod cum rege Perse gessimus, Rhodiorum civitas magna atque magnifica, quae populi Romani opibus creverat, infida et adversa nobis fuit; sed postquam bello confecto de Rhodiis consultum est, majores nostri, ne quis divitiarum magis quam injuriae causa bellum inceptum diceret, impunitos eos dimisere. Item bellis Punicis omnibus, quum saepe Karthaginenses et in pace et per indutias multa nefaria facinora fecissent, nunquam ipsi per occasionem talia fecere; magis quid se dignum foret, quam quid in illos jure fieri posset, quaerebant. 35

Hoc item vobis providendum est, patres conscripti, ne plus apud vos valeat P. Lentuli et ceterorum scelus quam vestra dignitas, neu magis irae vestrae quam famae consulatis. Nam si digna poena pro factis eorum reperitur, novum consilium approbo ; sin magnitudo sceleris omnium ingenia exsuperat, eis utendum. censeo, quae legibus comparata sunt.

Plerique eorum qui ante me sententias dixerunt, compositae atque magnifice casum rei publicae miserati sunt: quae belli saevitia esset, quae victis acciderent, enumerare; rapi virgines, pueros; divelli liberos a parentum 10 complexu; matres familiarum pati quae victoribus collibuisse; fana atque domos spoliari; caedem, incendia fieri; postremo armis, cadaveribus, cruore atque luctu omnia compleri. Sed, per deos immortales, quo illa oratio pertinuit? An, uti vos infestos conjurationi faceret?
15 Scilicet quem res tanta et tam atrox non permovit, eum oratio accendet. Non ita est, neque cuiquam mortalium injuriae suae parvae videntur: multi eas gravius aequo habuere.

Sed alia aliis licentia est, patres conscripti. Qui de-
20 missi in obscuro vitam habent, si quid iracundia deliquere, pauci sciunt, fama atque fortuna eorum pares sunt; qui magno imperio praediti in excelso aetatem agunt, eorum facta cuncti mortales novere. Ita in maxima fortuna minima licentia est; neque studere neque odisse, sed minime irasci decet; quae apud alios iracundia dicitur, ea in imperio superbia atque crudelitas appellatur. Equidem
25 ego sic existimo, patres conscripti, omnes cruciatus minores quam facinora illorum esse; sed plerique mortales postrema meminere, et in hominibus impiis, sceleris eorum
30 oblitum, de poena disserunt si ea paulo severior fuit.

D. Silanum, virum fortem atque strenuum, certo scio quae dixerit studio rei publicae dixisse, neque illum in tanta re gratiam aut inimicitias exercere; eos mores eamque modestiam viri cognovi. Verum sententia ejus mihi 35 non crudelis—quid enim in tales homines crudele fieri potest?—sed aliena a re publica nostra videtur. Nam profecto aut metus aut injuria te subegit, Silane, consulem designatum, genus poenae novum decernere. De timore supervacaneum est disserere, quum praesertim, diligentia clarissimi viri consulis, tanta praesidia sint in armis. De poena possum equidem dicere—id quod res habet—in luctu atque miseriis mortem aerumnarum requiem, non cruciatum 5 esse; eam cuncta mortalium mala dissolvere; ultra neque curae neque gaudio locum esse. Sed, per deos immortales, quam ob rem in sententia non addidisti, uti prius verberibus in eos animadverteretur? An quia lex Porcia vetat? At aliae leges item condemnatis civibus non animam eripi, 10 sed exsilium permitti jubent. An quia gravius est verberari quam necari? Quid autem acerbum aut nimis grave est in homines tanti facinoris convictos? Sin quia levius est, qui convenit in minore negotio legem timere, quum eam in majore neglexeris? 15

At enim quis reprehendet, quod in parricidas rei publicae decretum erit? Tempus, dies, fortuna, cujus libido gentibus moderatur. Illis merito accidet, quicquid evenerit; ceterum vos, patres conscripti, quid in alios statuatjs considerate. Omnia mala exempla ex rebus bonis orta 20 sunt; sed ubi imperium ad ignaros aut minus bonos pervenit, novum illud exemplum ab dignis et idoneis ad indignos et non idoneos transfertur. Lacedaemonii devictis Atheniensibus triginta viros imposuere, qui rem publicam eorum tractarent. Ei primo coepere pessimum quemque 25 et omnibus invisum indemnatum necare; ea populus laetari et merito dicere fieri: post, ubi paulatim licentia crevit, juxta bonos et malos libidinose interficere, ceteros metu terrere. Ita civitas, servitute oppressa, stultae laetitiae graves poenas dedit. Nostra memoria victor Sulla, quum 30 Damasippum et alios ejus modi, qui malo rei publicae creverant, jugulari jussit, quis non factum ejus laudabat? Homines scelestos et factiosos, qui seditionibus rem publicam exagitaverant, merito necatos aiebant. Sed ea res magnae initium cladis fuit. Nam uti quisque domum aut 35 villam, postremo vas aut vestimentum alicujus concupiverat, dabat operam, ut is in proscriptorum numero esset.

Ita illi, quibus Damasippi mors laetitiae fuerat, paulo post ipsi trahebantur; neque prius finis jugulandi fuit quam Sulla omnes suos divitiis explevit. Atque ego haec non in M. Tullio neque his temporibus vereor; sed in magna 5 civitate multa et varia ingenia sunt. Potest alio tempore, alio consule, cui item exercitus in manu sit, falsum aliquid pro vero credi: ubi hoc exemplo per senati decretum consul gladium eduxerit, quis illi finem statuet, aut quis moderabitur?

10 Majores nostri, patres conscripti, neque consilii neque audaciae unquam eguere, neque illis superbia obstabat, quo minus aliena instituta, si modo proba erant, imitarentur. Arma atque tela militaria ab Samnitibus, insignia magistratuum ab Tuscis pleraque sumpserunt; postremo
 15 quod ubique apud socios aut hostes idoneum videbatur, cum summo studio domi exsequebantur: imitari quam invidere bonis malebant. Sed eodem illo tempore Graeciae morem imitati verberibus animadvertabant in cives, de condemnatis summum supplicium sumebant. Postquam
 20 res publica adolevit et multitudine civium factiones valere, circumveniri innocentes, alia hujusce modi fieri coepere; tum lex Porcia aliaque leges paratae sunt, quibus legibus exsilium damnatis permissum est. Hanc ego causam, patres conscripti, quo minus novum consilium capiamus, in primis magnam puto. Profecto virtus atque sapientia major in illis fuit, qui ex parvis opibus tantum imperium fecere, quam in nobis, qui ea bene parta vix retinemus.

Placet igitur eos dimitti et augeri exercitum Catilinae?
 30 Minime. Sed ita censeo: publicandas eorum pecunias; ipsos in vinculis habendos per municipia, quae maxime opibus valent; neu quis de eis postea ad senatum referat, neve cum populo agat; qui aliter fecerit, senatum existimare eum contra rem publicam et salutem omnium facturum."

35 LII. Postquam Caesar dicendi finem fecit, ceteri verbo alius alii varie assentiebantur. At M. Porcius Cato, rogatus sententiam, hujusce modi orationem habuit:

“Longe mihi alia mens est, patres conscripti, quum res atque pericula nostra considero, et quum sententias nonnullorum ipse mecum reputo. Illi mihi disseruisse videntur de poena eorum, qui patriae, parentibus, aris atque focus suis bellum paravere: res autem monet cavere ab illis magis quam, quid in illos statuamus, consultare. Nam cetera maleficia tum perseguare, ubi facta sunt; hoc, nisi provideris ne accidat, ubi evenit, frustra judicia implores: capta urbe, nihil fit reliqui victis. Sed, per deos immortales, vos ego appello, qui semper domos, villas, signa, tabulas vestras pluris quam rem publicam fecistis: si ista, cujuscumque modi sunt quae amplexamini, retinere, si voluptatibus vestris otium praebere vultis, expergiscimini aliquando et capessite rem publicam. Non agitur de vectigalibus neque de sociorum injuriis: libertas et anima nostra in dubio est.

Saepenumero, patres conscripti, multa verba in hoc ordine feci, saepe de luxuria atque avaritia nostrorum civium quæstus sum, multosque mortales ea causa adversos habeo: qui mihi atque animo meo nullius unquam delicti gratiam fecissem, haud facile alterius libidini malefacta condonabam. Sed ea tametsi vos parvi pendebatis, tamen res publica firma erat: opulentia negligentiam tolerabat. Nunc vero non id agitur, bonisne an malis moribus vivamus, neque quantum aut quam magnificum imperium populi Romani sit; sed haec, cujuscumque modi videntur, nostra an nobiscum una hostium futura sint. Hic mihi quisquam mansuetudinem et misericordiam nominat? Jam pridem equidem nos vera vocabula rerum amisimus; quia bona aliena largiri liberalitas, malarum rerum audacia fortitudo vocatur, eo res publica in extremo sita est. Sint sane, quoniam ita se mores habent, liberales ex sociorum fortunis, sint misericordes in furibus aerarii; ne illi sanguinem nostrum largiantur, et, dum paucis sceleratis parcunt, bonos omnes perditum eant.

Bene et compositè C. Caesar paulo ante in hoc ordine de vita et morte disseruit, credo falsa existimans ea quae de inferis memorantur, diverso itinere malos a bonis loca taetra, inculta, foeda atque formidulosa habere. Itaque censuit pecunias eorum publicandas, ipsos per municipia in custodiis habendos; videlicet timens ne, si Romae sint, 5 aut a popularibus conjurationis aut a multitudine conducta per vim eripiantur. Quasi vero mali atque scelesti tantum modo in urbe et non per totam Italiam sint; aut non ibi plus possit audacia, ubi ad defendendum opes minores sunt. Quare vanum equidem hoc consilium est, si periculum ex illis metuit; sin in tanto omnium metu solus non 10 timet, eo magis refert me mihi atque vobis timere. Quare quum de P. Lentulo ceterisque statuetis, pro certo habetote, vos simul de exercitu Catilinae et de omnibus conjuratis decernere. Quanto vos attentius ea agetis, tanto 15 illis animus infirmior erit: si paululum modo vos languere viderint, jam omnes feroces aderunt.

Nolite existimare majores nostros armis rem publicam ex parva magnam fecisse. Si ita res esset, multo pulcherrimam eam nos haberemus; quippe sociorum atque civium, 20 praeterea armorum atque equorum major copia nobis quam illis est. Sed alia fuere, quae illos magnos fecere, quae nobis nulla sunt: domi industria, foris justum imperium; animus in consulendo liber, neque delicto neque libidini obnoxius. Pro his nos habemus luxuriam atque avaritiam, 25 publice egestatem, privatim opulentiam; laudamus divitias, sequimur inertiam; inter bonos et malos discrimen nullum; omnia virtutis praemia ambitio possidet. Neque mirum: ubi vos separatim sibi quisque consilium capit, ubi domi voluptatibus, hic pecuniae aut gratiae servitis, eo 30 fit, ut impetus fiat in vacuam rem publicam.

Sed ego haec omitto. Conjuravere nobilissimi cives patriam incendere, Gallorum gentem infestissimam nomini Romano ad bellum arcessunt, dux hostium cum exercitu supra caput est: vos cunctamini etiam nunc, quid intra 35 moenia deprehensis hostibus faciatis? Misereamini censeo—deliquere homines adulescentuli per ambitionem—atque etiam armatos dimittatis. Ne ista vobis mansuetudo et misericordia, si illi arma ceperint, in miseriam convertet. Scilicet res ipsa aspera est, sed vos non timetis eam. Immo vero maxime: sed inertia et mollitia animi alius alium expectantes cunctamini, videlicet deis immortalibus confisi, qui hanc rem publicam saepe in maximis periculis servavere. Non votis neque suppliciis muliebribus auxilia deorum parantur: vigilando, agendo, bene consulendo prospere omnia cedunt: ubi socordiae te atque ignaviae tradideris, nequiquam deos implores; irati infestique sunt. Apud majores nostros T. Manlius Torquatus bello Gallico filium suum, quod is contra imperium in hostem pugnaverat, necari jussit, atque ille egregius adulescens immoderate fortitudinis morte poenas dedit: vos de crudelissimis parricidis quid statuatis cunctamini? Videlicet cetera vita eorum huic sceleri obstat. Verum parcite dignitati Lentuli, si ipse pudicitiae, si famae suae, si deis aut hominibus unquam ullis pepercit: ignoscite Cethegi adolescentiae, nisi iterum patriae bellum fecit. Nam quid ego de Gabinio, Statilio, Caeparo loquar? Quibus si quicquam unquam pensi fuisset, non ea consilia de re publica habuissent. Postremo, patres conscripti, si mehercules peccato locus esset, facile paterer vos ipsa re corrigi, quoniam verba contemnitis; sed undique circumventi sumus. Catilina cum exercitu faucibus urget, alii intra moenia atque in sinu urbis sunt hostes, neque parari neque consuli quicquam potest occulte: quo magis properandum est.

Quare ego ita censeo: quum nefario consilio sceleratorum civium res publica in maxima pericula venerit, eique indicio T. Volturcii et legatorum Allobrogum convicti confessi que sint, caedem, incendia aliaque se foeda atque crudelia facinora in cives patriamque paravisse, de confessis, sicuti de manifestis rerum capitalium, more majorum supplicium sumendum."

LIII. Postquam Cato assedit, consulares omnes itemque senatus magna pars sententiam ejus laudant, virtutem animi ad caelum ferunt; alii alios increpantes timidos vocant, Cato clarus atque magnus habetur; senati decretum fit sicut ille censuerat.

Sed mihi multa legenti, multa audienti, quae populus Romanus domi militiaeque, mari atque terra praeclara facta cinora fecit, forte libuit attendere, quae res maxime tanta negotia sustinisset. Sciebam saepenumero parva manu cum magnis legionibus hostium contendisse; cognoveram parvis copiis bella gesta cum opulentis regibus; ad hoc saepe fortunae violentiam toleravisse; facundia Graecos, gloria belli Gallos ante Romanos fuisse. Ac mihi multa agitanti constabat paucorum civium egregiam virtutem cuncta patravisse, eoque factum uti divitias paupertas, multitudinem paucitas superaret. Sed postquam luxu atque desidia civitas corrupta est, rursus res publica magnitudine sua imperatorum atque magistratum vitia sustentabat, ac multis tempestatibus haud sane quisquam Romae virtute magnus fuit. Sed memoria mea ingenti virtute, diversis moribus fuere viri duo, M. Cato et C. Caesar. Quos quoniam res obtulerat, silentio praeterire non fuit consilium, quin utriusque naturam et mores, quantum ingenio possem, aperirem.

LIV. Igitur eis genus, aetas, eloquentia, prope aequalia fuere, magnitudo animi par, item gloria, sed alia alii. Caesar beneficiis ac munificentia magnus habebatur, integritate vitae Cato. Ille mansuetudine et misericordia clarus factus, huic severitas dignitatem addiderat. Caesar dando, sublevando, ignoscendo, Cato nihil largiundo gloriam adeptus est. In altero miseris perfugium erat, in altero malis perniciēs; illius facilitas, hujus constantia laudabatur. Postremo Caesar in animum induxerat laborare, vigilare, negotiis amicorum intentus sua neglegere, nihil denegare quod dono dignum esset; sibi magnum imperium, exercitum, bellum novum exoptabat, ubi virtus enitescere posset. At Catoni studium modestiae, decoris, sed maxime severitatis erat; non divitiis cum divite neque factione cum factioso, sed cum strenuo virtute, cum modesto pudore, cum innocente abstinentia certabat; esse quam videri bonus malebat ; ita, quo minus petebat gloriam, eo magis illum sequebatur.

LV. Postquam, ut dixi, senatus in Catonis sententiam discessit, consul, optimum factu ratus noctem quae instabat antecapere, ne quid eo spatio novaretur, tres viros quae ad supplicium postulabat parare jubet ; ipse, praesidiis dispositis, Lentulum in carcerem deducit ; idem fit ceteris per praetores. Est in carcere locus quod Tullianum appellatur, ubi paululum descenderis ad laevam, circiter duodecim pedes humi depressus. Eum muniunt undique parietes atque insuper camera lapideis fornicibus juncta, sed incultu, tenebris, odore, foeda atque terribilis ejus facies est. In eum locum postquam demissus est Lentulus, vindices rerum capitalium quibus praeceptum erat laqueo gulam fregere. Ita ille patricius ex gente clarissima Corneliorum, qui consulare imperium Romae habuerat, dignum moribus factisque suis exitium vitae invenit. De Cethego, Statilio, Gabinio, Caepario, eodem modo supplicium sumptum est.

LVI. Dum ea Romae geruntur, Catilina ex omni copia quam et ipse adduxerat et Manlius habuerat, duas legiones instituit, cohortes pro numero militum complet ; deinde, ut quisque voluntarius aut ex sociis in castra venerat, aequaliter distribuerat, ac brevi spatio legiones numero hominum expleverat, quum initio non amplius duobus milibus habuisset. Sed ex omni copia circiter pars quarta erat militaribus armis instructa ; ceteri, ut quemque casus armaverat, sparos aut lanceas, alii praeacutas sudes portabant. Sed postquam Antonius cum exercitu adventabat, Catilina per montes iter facere, modo ad urbem, modo in Galliam versus castra movere, hostibus occasionem pugnandi non dare : sperabat propediem magnas copias sese habiturum, si Romae socii incepta patravissent. Interea servitia repudiabat, cujus initio ad eum magnae copiae concurrebant, opibus conjurationis fretus ; simul alienum suis rationibus existimans, videri causam civium cum servis fugitivis communicavisse.

LVII. Sed postquam in castra nuntius pervenit Romae conjuratiōnem patefactam, de Lentulo et Cethego ceterisque quos supra memoravi supplicium sumptum, plerique, quos ad bellum spes rapinarum aut novarum rerum studium illexerat, dilabuntur; reliquos Catilina per montes asperos

 5 magnis itineribus in agrum Pistoriensem abducit, eo consilio, uti per tramites occulte perfugeret in Galliam Transalpinam.

At Q. Metellus Celer cum tribus legionibus in agro Piceno praesidebat, ex difficultate rerum eadem illa existimans quae supra diximus, Catilinam agitare. Igitur ubi
 10 iter ejus ex perfugis cognovit, castra propere movit ac sub ipsis radicibus montium consedit, qua illi descensus erat in Galliam properanti. Neque tamen Antonius procul aberat, utpote qui magno exercitu, locis aequioribus expeditus, in fuga sequeretur. Sed Catilina, postquam videt
 15 montibus atque copiis hostium sese clausum, in urbe res adversas, neque fugae neque praesidii ullam spem, optimum factu ratus in tali re fortunam belli tentare, statuit cum Antonio quam primum configere. Itaque, contione
 20 advocata, hujusce modi orationem habuit :

LVIII. "Compertum ego habeo, milites, verba virtutem non addere, neque ex ignavo strenuum neque fortem ex timido exercitum oratione imperatoris fieri. Quanta 25 cujusque animo audacia natura aut moribus inest, tanta in bello patere solet; quem neque gloria neque pericula excitant, nequiquam hortere; timor animi auribus officit. Sed ego vos quo pauca monerem advocavi, simul uti causam mei consilii aperirem.

Scitis equidem, milites, socordia atque ignavia Lentuli
 30 quantam ipsi nobisque cladem attulerit, quoque modo, dum ex urbe praesidia opperior, in Galliam proficisci nequiverim. Nunc vero quo in loco res nostrae sint, juxta mecum omnes intellegitis. Exercitus hostium duo, unus ab urbe, alter a Gallia obstant; diutius in his locis esse, si
 35 maxime animus ferat, frumenti atque aliarum rerum egestas prohibet; quocumque ire placet, ferro iter aperiendum est. Quapropter vos moneo, uti forti atque parato animo sitis, et quum proelium inibitis memineritis vos divitias, decus, gloriam, praeterea libertatem atque patriam in dextris vestris portare. Si vincimus, omnia nobis tuta erunt, commeatus abunde, municipia atque coloniae patebunt; sin metu cesserimus, eadem illa adversa fient; neque locus 5 neque amicus quisquam teget, quem arma non texerint. Praeterea, milites, non eadem nobis et illis necessitudo impendet; nos pro patria, pro libertate, pro vita certamus; illis supervacaneum est pro potentia paucorum pugnare.

Quo audacius aggredimini, memores pristinae virtutis. 10 Licuit vobis cum summa turpitudine in exsilio aetatem agere, potuistis nonnulli Romae amissis bonis alienas opes expectare; quia illa foeda atque intoleranda viris videbantur, haec sequi decrevistis. Si haec relinquere vultis, audacia opus est; nemo nisi victor pace bellum mutavit. 15 Nam in fuga salutem sperare, quum arma, quibus corpus tegitur, ab hostibus averteris, ea vero dementia est. Semper in proelio eis maximum est periculum qui maxime timent, audacia pro muro habetur.

Quum vos considero, milites, et quum facta vestra aestimo, magna me spes victoriae tenet. 20 Animus, aetas, virtus vestra me hortantur, praeterea necessitudo, quae etiam timidos fortes facit. Nam multitudo hostium ne circumvenire queat, prohibent angustiae loci. Quod si virtuti vestrae fortuna inviderit, cavete inulti animam amittatis, 25 neu capti potius sicuti pecora trucidemini, quam virorum more pugnantes cruentam atque luctuosam victoriam hostibus relinquatis."

LIX. Haec ubi dixit, paululum commoratus, signa canere jubet atque instructos ordines in locum aequum 30 deducit. Dein, remotis omnium equis, quo militibus exaequato periculo animus amplior esset, ipse pedes exercitum pro loco atque copiis instruit. Nam, uti planities erat inter sinistros montes et ab dextra rupe aspera, octo cohortes in fronte constituit, reliquarum signa in subsidio artius 35 collocat; ab eis centuriones omnes, lectos, et evocatos, praeterea ex gregariis militibus optimum quemque armatum in primam aciem subducit. C. Manlium in dextra, Faesulanum quendam in sinistra parte curare jubet; ipse cum libertis et calonibus propter aquilam adsistit, quam bello Cimbrico C. Marius in exercitu habuisse dicebatur.

5 At ex altera parte C. Antonius, pedibus aeger, quod proelio adesse nequibat, M. Petreio legato exercitum permittit. Ille cohortes veteranas, quas tumulti causa conscripserat, in fronte, post eas ceterum exercitum in sub-10 sidiis locat; ipse equo circumiens, unumquemque nominans appellat, hortatur, rogat, ut meminerint se contra latrones inermes, pro patria, pro liberis, pro aris atque focis suis certare. Homo militaris, quod amplius annos triginta tribunus aut praefectus aut legatus aut praetor cum magna 15 gloria in exercitu fuerat, plerosque ipsos factaque eorum fortia noverat; ea commemorando militum animos accen-debat.

LX. Sed ubi, omnibus rebus exploratis, Petreius tuba signum dat, cohortes paulatim incedere jubet, idem facit hostium exercitus. Postquam eo ventum est, unde a feren-20 tariis proelium committi posset, maximo clamore cum in-festis signis concurrunt, pila omittunt, gladiis res geritur.
Veterani, pristinae virtutis memores, comminus acriter instare, illi haud timidi resistunt; maxima vi certatur.
Interea Catilina cum expeditis in prima acie versari, labo-25 rantibus succurrere, integros pro sauciis arcessere, omnia providere, multum ipse pugnare, saepe hostem ferire; strenui militis et boni imperatoris officia simul exseque-batur. Petreius, ubi videt Catilinam, contra ac ratus erat, magna vi tendere, cohortem praetoriam in medios hostes 30 inducit, eosque perturbatos atque alios alibi resistentes interficit; deinde utrimque ex lateribus ceteros aggredi-tur. Manlius et Faesulanus in primis pugnantes cadunt.
Catilina, postquam fusas copias seque cum paucis relictum videt, memor generis atque pristinae suae dignitatis, in 35 confertissimos hostes incurrit ibique pugnans confoditur.

LXI. Sed confecto proelio, tum vero cerneret quanta audacia quantaque animi vis fuisset in exercitu Catilinae.

Nam fere quem quisque vivus pugnando locum ceperat, eum amissa anima corpore tegebat. Pauci autem, quos medios cohors praetoria disjecerat, paulo diversius, sed omnes tamen adversis vulneribus conciderant. Catilina vero longe a suis inter hostium cadavera repertus est, 5 paululum etiam spirans ferociamque animi, quam habuerat vivus, in vultu retinens. Postremo ex omni copia neque in proelio neque in fuga quisquam civis ingenuus captus est : ita cuncti suae hostiumque vitae juxta pepercerant.

Neque tamen exercitus populi Romani laetam aut in- 10 cruentam victoriam adeptus erat ; nam strenuissimus quisque aut occiderat in proelio aut graviter vulneratus discesserat. Multi autem, qui e castris visendi aut spoliandi gratia processerant, volventes hostilia cadavera, amicum alii, pars hospitem aut cognatum reperiabant ; fuere item 15 qui inimicos suos cognoscerent. Ita varie per omnem exercitum laetitia, maeror, luctus atque gaudia agitabantur.

INTRODUCTION.

L. SERGIUS CATILINE, the conspirator, belonged to a patrician family which had become greatly impoverished. He was, therefore, the heir to a noble name, but to no large estates. Unprincipled and reckless, he early perverted to the basest uses the remarkable powers of body and mind with which he had been endowed by nature. As a zealous partisan of Sulla, he acted a conspicuous part in the bloody proscriptions which followed the triumph of the dictator. Among the victims who perished at his hands was his own brother-in-law, Quintus Caecilius.

Catiline held the office of praetor in the year 68 B. C., was governor of Africa in 67, and returned to Rome in 66 to canvass for the consulship, but being accused of maladministration in his province, he was compelled to relinquish his suit. Burning with rage and unable to brook disappointment, he at once entered into an alliance with Cn. Calpurnius Piso, a young but profligate patrician, and P. Autronius Paetus, who, having been convicted of bribery, was disqualified from entering upon the duties of the consulship to which he had been elected. The plan of the conspirators was to murder the consuls on the first of January, during the ceremonies of inauguration, after which Catiline and Autronius were to seize the consular power, and Piso to take possession of the Spanish provinces. The execution of the plan was, however, subsequently deferred to the fifth of February, when it was fortunately frustrated by a mistake on the part of Catiline, who gave the signal before his accomplices were ready for action.

In June, 64 B. C., Catiline resumed his revolutionary schemes on a larger scale and with renewed energy. Rome at that time furnished him abundant materials for such a work in the throngs of luxurious spendthrifts, desperate insolvents, and reckless adventurers, who filled her streets. He soon numbered among his accomplices eleven senators, four members of the equestrian order, and several men of position and influence in the provincial towns. Thus strengthened, he boldly presented himself as a candidate for the consulship, but defeat awaited him. Marcus Cicero the orator and Gaius Antonius were elected consuls, the former by an overwhelming majority.

This was a severe disappointment for Catiline, but it only rendered him more reckless than ever in his revolutionary designs. He had entered upon a desperate game, and he resolved to hazard everything, to win or die. He established the headquarters of his movement at Faesulae, in Etruria, under the command of Gaius Manlius, an insolvent and revolutionist, who had served as a centurion under Sulla. He raised money upon his own credit and that of his friends, collected stores of arms at convenient centres in different portions of Italy, and endeavored to enlist in his cause the desperate and abandoned of both sexes and of all ranks. His audacity aimed at nothing less than the overthrow of the government. He proposed to seize all the offices of trust and emolument, to cancel debts, to confiscate the property of the rich, and, in fine, to reënact the bloody scenes of Sulla's proscriptions.

It was at such a crisis that, on the first of January in that memorable year, 63 B. C., Cicero, the accomplished orator and scholar, entered upon the arduous and perilous duties of the consulship. A base and nefarious conspiracy against the government was rapidly consummating its work, a bloody revolution was imminent, and even his own colleague in the consulship, Gaius Antonius, was supposed to be more or less in sympathy with the treasonable movement. But Cicero proved himself equal to the emergency. He secured the passive coöperation of Antonius by offering, at the outset, to transfer to him the rich province of Macedonia at the expiration of his term of office. He, moreover, opened communication with Quintus Curius, one of the accomplices of Catiline, and, by means of large promises, engaged him to keep the government informed in regard to all the movements of the conspirators. Curius proved a faithful and trustworthy agent.

When the consular election for 62 B. C. approached, Catiline, once more a candidate, determined not to suffer another defeat. He accordingly adopted the bold project of murdering the presiding consul, and, if need be, the rival candidates, and of carrying the election by force of arms. In view of these dangers, the election was deferred until the twenty-first of October, and, afterward, until the twenty-eighth. On the twenty-first of that month the senate assembled to consider the state of the nation, and at that session Cicero, in the presence of Catiline, exposed the revolutionary designs of the conspirators, whereupon the senate clothed the consuls with dictatorial powers for the safety of the republic. On the twenty-eighth, the comitia met according to appointment; Cicero appeared in the Campus Martius, surrounded by a strong body-guard of armed men. The resolute bearing of the consul and his formidable guard so overawed the conspirators that no disturbance was made. Catiline was again defeated; Decimus Silanus and Lucius Murena were elected consuls for the ensuing year.

In the mean time, civil war had already commenced; Manlius was in arms against the republic. On the night of the fifth of November, Catiline met the most prominent of his partisans at the house of Marcus Laeca. He announced his purpose to join the army at the earliest possible date, assigned to the leaders their several parts in the work of the conspiracy, and urged upon them the importance of taking the life of Cicero. Two of his agents at once promised to call upon the consul the next morning and assassinate him in his own house; but Cicero, forewarned in regard to their purpose, refused to admit them.

On the seventh of November, the senate met, for greater security, in the Temple of Jupiter Stator, which was guarded by Roman knights. Catiline, contrary to the expectation of all, had the effrontery to present himself at the meeting, but no greeting welcomed him to his accustomed place; the seats in his vicinity were instantly vacated; the traitor sat alone, an object of scorn and contempt. It was then that Cicero, the consul, giving utterance to his indignation in a torrent of invective, pronounced his First Oration against Catiline.

The effect was perfectly electrical. Catiline was for the moment paralyzed, but, quickly recovering his self-possession and assuming the tone of injured innocence, he implored the senate not to trust the base slanders which the consul had heaped upon him; he even ventured upon harsh and abusive language against Cicero, but his voice was at once drowned with cries of "Enemy!" "Traitor!" from the whole assembly. That night he left the city.

On the following day, the eighth of November, Cicero delivered his Second Oration against Catiline before the people in the Forum. His object was to justify the course which he had pursued in relation to the conspiracy, to allay the general excitement, and to intimidate the conspirators who had not yet left the city.

In the mean time, Catiline had repaired to the camp of Manlius, and had assumed the fasces and other insignia of consular power. The senate accordingly declared him an outlaw, ordered new levies of troops, and dispatched able leaders to different parts of the country where danger was apprehended. Cicero was directed to guard the city, and Antonius was appointed to the command of the army destined against Catiline.

According to the plan which Catiline unfolded to his associates before his departure, Cethegus was to assassinate the consul Cicero, the praetor Lentulus was charged with the general management of the affairs of the conspiracy in the capital, Gabinius and Statilius were to fire the city, and, in the midst of the general confusion attendant upon the conflagration, the conspirators were to open communication with Catiline. But, while the execution of the bloody plot was delayed, a deputation from the Allobroges in Gaul visited Rome, to present certain complaints against the provincial government. Lentulus, taking advantage of their disaffection, endeavored to interest them in the conspiracy, but Cicero finally succeeded in securing their coöperation, and, seeing that they could be made very useful to the government, encouraged them to continue their negotiations with the conspirators, and obtain from them a written statement of the proposition which they were to make to their people. The experiment was perfectly successful. The required statement, bearing the signatures of Lentulus, Cethegus, and Statilius, was readily obtained. The Gallic ambassadors, having finished their work, left Rome on the night of the second of December, accompanied by Titus Volturcius, the bearer of dispatches for Catiline; but they had proceeded only a short distance beyond the city gate when they fell into the hands of an armed force in the employ of the government. Lentulus, Cethegus, Statilius, and Gabinius, were arrested the next morning. Later in the day, the prisoners were all brought before the bar of the senate, then assembled in the Temple of Concord. The evidence of their guilt was overwhelming, and was finally confirmed by their own confessions.

After the adjournment of the senate, Cicero addressed the people on the great events of the day in his Third Oration against Catiline. The indignation against the conspirators became almost ungovernable; execrations were heaped upon Catiline; Cicero was the hero of the hour.

On the fifth of December, the senate met in the Temple of Concord, to decide the fate of the prisoners. D. Junius Silanus, consul-elect, recommended the punishment of death, but C. Julius Caesar, praetor-elect, objected to capital punishment as illegal, and recommended imprisonment for life. It was in the course of this debate that Cicero pronounced his Fourth Oration against Catiline. The sentence of death was decreed by the senate, and executed that very night, under the direction of the consul himself.

In the mean time, Catiline was in Etruria at the head of a formidable force, where, in the ensuing spring, he was defeated in a desperate contest, and fell in the thickest of the fight.

1. Sese; the subject of praestare, expressed for emphasis. Observe that it is also in the reduplicated form and in an emphatic position, before student.

2. Ne transeant; Negative Purpose. G. 491.—Silentio, in obscurity; lit., in silence; i. e., without being spoken of, without doing anything worthy of mention.

3. Pecora; subject of transeunt, to be supplied.—Prona, groveling, inclined downward, bowed to the ground, while man stands erect.—Ventri oboedientia, slaves to appetite; lit., obeying, etc.

4. Nostra vis, our strength, in distinction from that of the lower animals.

5. Animi . . . utimur = animo imperatore, corpore servo magis utimur, we employ the mind more as our ruler (lit., the rule or sway of the mind), the body as our servant (lit. the service of the body). G. 419.

6. Alterum—alterum; i. e., animi imperium—corporis servitium.—Nobis; G. 391.

7. Quo rectius videtur, wherefore it seems so much more proper. Quo may mean, 1) wherefore, i. e., because the mind is the God-like part of our nature; and 2) so much, by so much, i. e., as much as the mind is superior to the body. Here it seems to unite both meanings.—Virium, of physical powers.

8. Vita ipsa; in contrast with memoriam nostri.—Qua fruimur; G. 419.

9. Memoriam nostri, the remembrance of us. G. 184, 3.—Quam maxime longam, as long as possible; lit., as the longest. G. 170, 2.

10. Formae gloria, the glory derived from beauty; lit., the glory of form.—Fluxa, fleeting; i. e., in its very nature.—Fragilis, easily destroyed; i. e., by a force from without.

11. Clara . . . habetur, is a glorious and eternal possession. Habetur, is possessed; i. e., is a possession. 1

12. Sed, introduces the inquiry whether military life is an exception to the general statement contained in the last two sentences.—Vine . . . procederet; Indirect Question. G. 525.

13. Magis procederet, depended more for success; lit., proceeded more.

14. Incipias; G. 523, 1. Observe the force of the person in incipias and consulueris to denote an indefinite subject. G. 460, 2, 1).—Consulto, facto; G. 419; 419, 3, 1).—Consulueris; Potential Subj. G. 486, 5.

15. Utrumque, each, the neuter used substantively referring to vis corporis and virtus animi; the subject of eget.—Indigens, eget. See Syn. L. C. 239.—Alterum; in apposition with utrumque.

16. Auxilio; G. 419.

17. Igitur; a common position in Sallust, though in Caesar and Cicero igitur seldom stands at the beginning of a sentence.—Nomen imperii primum, the first title of a ruler; imperii = imperatoris.

18. Diversi, with diverse tastes, or pursuing different courses.—Pars, alii; in partitive apposition with reges. G. 363, 4.

19. Etiam tum, still.

20. Sua cuique placebant; lit., his own things pleased every one; i. e., every one was pleased with his own possessions. G. 449, 2; 385.—Postea quam; G. 523, 3, 2).

21. Cyrus. Cyrus, the Great, the founder of the Persian Empire.—Lacedaemonii, Athenienses. Lacedaemon, or Sparta, and Athens, were the two leading states in Greece.

22. Dominandi; G. 563.

1. Habere, to consider. This is not, however, entirely synonymous with putare. It involves the idea not only of holding the opinion, but also of acting upon it.—Gloriam. In rendering, supply esse, which Sallust regularly omits with putare. 2

2. In bello . . . posse. Thus was decided the vexed question, magnum certamen, mentioned in chapter 1.

3. Si valeret, haberent; G. 510.

4. Aequabilis sese haberent, would be more uniform; lit., would have themselves, etc.

6. Aliud alio, one thing in one direction, another in another. G. 459, 1.—Mutari ac misceri omnia; language especially applicable to political revolutions.

7. Initio; Abl. of Time. G. 426.

9. Invasere, have come upon them.—Fortuna, their fortune; i. e., their position and influence.

10. Ad optimum quemque, to him who is best ; lit., every best one.

12. Quae . . . arant ; a circumlocution for aratio, agriculture ; the ploughing which men do ; i. e., the cultivation of the land. Sallust proceeds to show that the virtus animi, so essential to the success of rulers, both in war and in peace, is equally important in all the affairs of life.

14. Sicuti peregrinantes, as if travelling in a foreign land ; i. e., not at home in life, and so without any appreciation of its duties and privileges.

15. Quibus voluptati. G. 390.—Anima. Observe the significance of this word instead of animus, implying that in these persons the soul is so imperfectly developed that we are obliged to call it anima rather than animus.

16. Juxta, equally low.

18. Negotio ; Abl. of Means, with intentus.

22. Clarum fieri licet, it is lawful for one to become illustrious.

23. Qui, qui. The antecedent is multi.

25. In primis . . . videtur, it seems especially difficult. The subject of videtur is res gestas scribere.

27. Facta . . . exaequanda ; lit., the deeds must be equalled by the words ; i. e., the style must be worthy of the subject.—Quae . . . reprehenderitis, those things which you have censured as faults. Supply ea.

28. Dicta, have been so called. Supply esse.

29. Ubi memores ; Potential Subj. G. 486, 5.—Quae ; Object of putat. The omitted antecedent ea is the object of accipit.

30. Sibi facilia factu, easy for him to do. G. 391 ; 570.—Supra ea = quae supra ea sunt, whatever is above that ; lit., above those things.

32. Sed ego adolescentulus. Sallust now refers briefly to his own political experience. He was elected quaestor at the age of 27.—Ad rem publicam ; i. e., into political life.

33. Ibique, and in this ; lit., and there.

34. Audacia, largitio, avaritia. Observe that these words are not arranged in the same order as those with which they are contrasted ; audacia is the opposite of pudor, largitio of virtus, and avaritia of abstinentia.

35. Quae, these vices ; lit., which things, referring to audacia, etc.

36. Insolens malarum artium, unacquainted with evil arts. G. 399. There is reason to fear that Sallust was not at this time a young man of such artless simplicity and purity as he would have us think.—Imbecilla, weak, yielding, because of his youth.

37. Ambitione . . . tenebatur, was held by the seductions of ambition ; lit., corrupted, misled by ambition.—Me ; Emphatic. G. 594.—Quum dissentirem ; Subj. of Concession. G. 515.

2. Eadem fama, with the same evil report; Abl. of Means.
4. Mihi; G. 388.—A re . . . procul, away from public life.
5. Habendam; supply esse.—Sœcordia . . . conterere; Predicate after fruit, of which consilium is subject.
6. Colendo intentum. Colendo is probably a Dative depending upon intentum, according to G. 391, though it may be an Abl. of Means, like negotio, on the preceding page, line 18. Intentum agrees with me, the omitted subject of agere. The disparaging language here applied to agricultural pursuits differs from that which we find in the works of other Roman writers upon the same subject.
7. A quo incepto . . . eodem regressus, having returned to the same beginning . . . from which.
8. Mala, evil, unfortunate, in view of its results.
9. Carptim ut quaeque videbantur, selecting such as seemed; lit., separately in proportion as they each seemed.
10. Eo, on this account; Abl. of Cause.
11. Partibus rei publicae, party feelings. The claim of impartiality here made by the historian seems to be just.
13. De . . . paucis absolvam, I will treat of (more lit., will dispatch, finish) . . . in few words. Paucis, Abl. of Manner.
15. Cujus hominis; i. e., of Catiline.
16. Prius quam faciam; G. 523, II.

V. The Character of Catiline.

17. Lucius Catilina. The full name was Lucius Sergius Catilina. For an account of his life, see Introduction, page 43.—Genere; G. 425, 3, 1).—Magna vi; Abl. of Characteristic. G. 428, 1.
19. Ingenio, nature, spirit, character.—Malo pravoque; malus, bad in itself, bad by nature; pravus, perverted, depraved.
20. Caedes. See Introduction.
21. Grata. For agreement, see G. 439, 2, 3).—Ibique = et in eis.
22. Patiens supra quam, more patient than.—Inediae; G. 399, 2.
23. Varius, versatile.—Cujus rei libet = cujuslibet rei.
24. Alieni, sui; used substantively. For the construction, see G. 399.
25. Satis, parum; used substantively. Supply erat.
26. Vastus, insatiable.
27. Dominationem . . . Sullae. This refers to the famous dictatorship of Lucius Cornelius Sulla, during whose terrible proscriptions thousands of Roman citizens were put to death. Sulla was dictator from 82 to 80 B. C.
29. Assequeretur; Indirect Question. G. 525.—Dum pararet;

PAGE

- 3 G. 503.—Quicquam pensi, as a matter of any importance. Quicquam, Predicate Accusative; pensi, Partitive Genitive. G. 373, 1; 396, III. 2.
30. In dies. See Syn. L. C. 399.
32. Quae utraque, both of which, i. e., his poverty and his sense of guilt.
34. Diversa inter se, opposed to each other.—Vexabant, corrupted.
36. Res ipsa, the subject itself.—Hortari; supply me.
37. Supra repetere, to review the past. Supra, adverb of time, formerly, further back. Repetere depends upon hortari, and is used instead of the more common construction ut with the Subj. G. 558, VI. 3.—Instituta. Observe that disserere has here four different objects, an Acc., instituta, and three Indirect Questions, quo modo . . . habuerint, quantam reliquerint, and ut . . . facta sit—an illustration of the zeugma. G. 704, I. 2. Translate, to treat of the institutions . . . and to show in what way they managed, etc. For the Subjunctive, see G. 525.
- 4 2. Ut, how.—Ex pulcherrima, from being the most beautiful; lit., from the most beautiful.

VI.—IX. Early History of Rome. Character of the People.

5. Urbem . . . Trojani. Notice the confidence with which Salust ascribes the founding of Rome to Aeneas, though his language implies that there were different opinions upon this point.

6. Sedibus incertis, without fixed abodes; Abl. Absol.

7. Aborigines; connected back by que to Trojani.

9. In una moenia, within (lit., into) the walls of a single city. For the plural of una, see G. 175, 1.—Dispari genere, though of different races; lit., with an unequal race. Abl. of Characteristic.

10. Alii alio more, some in one way, others in another; elliptical, lit., others in another way.

11. Memoratu; G. 570.—Quam . . . coaluerint; Indirect Question, subject of est.—Res eorum, their state.

12. Civibus, moribus, agris; three essential conditions of national prosperity, territory, citizens, and institutions. For the omission of the conjunction, see G. 587, I. 6.

13. Sicuti . . . habentur, as is the case with most things belonging to mortals; lit., as most things of mortals are held; i. e., subject to envy. Mortalium, best explained as possessive genitive, not partitive.

14. Finitimi, probably belongs both to populi and to reges. G. 597, I.

15. Tentare, assailed. Hist. Infinitive. G. 545, 1.—Auxilio; Dat. of the object for which. G. 390; 390, 2.

16. A . . . aberant, kept out of danger.

17. Intenti festinare, intent upon their work pressed forward; lit., intent hastened. This sentence vividly portrays the activity and energy of the Romans.—Hostibus; Dat. depending upon obviam; G. 392, II.

20. Dandis beneficiis, by doing favors. G. 566, I.

22. Imperium legitimum, a government regulated by law. It was a limited or constitutional monarchy.—Nomen imperii regium, the name of the ruler that of king; regius = regis. Their ruler was called king.

23. Delecti . . . consultabant. According to Sallust, we have here the germ of the Roman Senate—a council of old men, quibus corpus annis infirmum, ingenium sapientia validum erat.—Consultabant = consulebant, a rare use of the word, illustrating our author's fondness for frequentatives.—Quibus; Dat. of Possessor with erat.

25. Curae similitudine; i. e., their care for their people resembled a father's care for his children.

26. Conservandae libertatis fuerat, had tended to preserve, etc.; lit., had been of, etc. G. 563, 5.

28. Immutato more. This change in the form of government is supposed to have been made about 500 B. C.—Binos imperatores. They were called at first praetors, afterwards consuls. Observe the force of the distributive binos. Two consuls were elected each year. G. 174, 2.

30. Animum; Subject of posse.

31. Coepere quisque; G. 461, 3.—Se magis extollere, to have higher aspirations; lit., to raise himself more.

32. In promptu habere, to employ openly.—Regibus; Dat. depending upon suspiciores. G. 391.

34. Civitas quantum . . . creverit; Indirect Question, subject of est.—Adepta; used passively. G. 225, 2.

36. Jam primum, now in the first place. For the contrast, see chap. 10.—Belli patiens, able to endure the hardships of war. G. 399, 2.

6. Se ferire, that he might strike down; i. e., that he might be the one to do it. Se expressed for emphasis.—Dum faceret; G. 527, 3. 5

7. Eas, eam; this, this; i. e., to be thus conspicuous in war. These pronouns are attracted from id. G. 445, 4 and 7.

9. Pecuniae; G. 399.—Ingentem, honestas; Predicate adjectives after esse to be supplied.

10. Possem . . . ni . . . traheret; G. 510.—Maximas hostium copias. Observe the order of the words. G. 598, 3.

14. Ea; i. e., fortuna.

15. Ex, according to; lit., out of.

18. Feruntur, they are represented.—Scriptorum . . . ingenia = scriptores magnis ingeniis.

PAGE

5 20. Pro maximis, as the greatest. G. 362, 2, (3).—Ita . . . ingenia. In this way our author accounts for the fame of Athenian achievements. They were celebrated in the works of poets and historians.

22. Populo fuit. Remember that the Dat. of Possessor should be rendered into English by the Nominative, the people had.—Copia, opportunity, advantage; i. e., of having their deeds celebrated by great writers.

23. Negotiosus, devoted to business, occupied.

25. Bene facta, good deeds; lit., things well done. Facta, as a participle, is modified by the adverb bene, but is used substantively.

26. Ipse agrees with quisque, the subject of malebat.—Aliorum, those of others, governed by facta, to be supplied.

28. Jus bonumque, that which was right and good.

29. Natura, from choice; lit., by nature. In this picture of the virtues of a primitive age, whether true or false, Sallust presents a striking contrast to the vices of his own age.

31. De virtute certabant, vied in virtue.—In suppliciis deorum, in the worship of the gods, with imposing ceremonies and costly sacrifices.

32. Duabus artibus; viz., audacia, aequitate. G. 414.

33. Ubi pax evenerat; opposed to in bello, and used instead of in pace. Sallust often employs different forms of expression in the different members of a sentence.—Seque remque; a use of que not uncommon in our author.

34. Curabant, they governed.

35. Vindicatum est in eos, punishment was inflicted upon those.

37. Tardius, too tardily. G. 444, 1 and 4.—Quam qui, than upon those who.

6 1. Loco; Abl. of Separation. G. 425.

2. Agitabant, they administered.

3. Accepta injuria; G. 431, 2.—Persequi; supply eam referring to injuria.

X.—XIII. The Introduction of Luxury and Vice at Rome.

5. Nationes, races, tribes.

6. Aemula, the rival.—Ab stirpe interiit, was utterly (lit., from the root) destroyed; i. e., in the Third Punic War, 146 B. C.

7. Saevire, to be cruel. Here begins the leading portion of the sentence; the preceding verbs depend upon ubi.

8. Miscere omnia, to produce general confusion.

9. Eis oneri fuere; G. 390.

10. Optanda. For agreement, see G. 439, 2, 3).—Alias, under other circumstances. The Romans found that prosperity, wealth, and power, though desirable in themselves, involved special temptations and perils.

11. Ea, these; i. e., pecuniae cupido and imperii cupido.

13. Artes, traits of character.—Superbiam; one of the two objects of edocuit. The Acc. of the person is omitted. G. 374, 1.

14. Deos neglegere; G. 374, 4.

15. Falsos, deceitful.—Subegit, impelled.

17. Non ex re, etc.; i. e., not in and of themselves, but from the advantage to be derived from them. They consulted only personal interest.—Magisque vultum . . . habere; i. e., to appear good, rather than to be good.

19. Vindicari, were punished. G. 545, 1.

20. Immutata, factum; supply est with each.

23. Primo magis ambitio. See primo pecuniae above, line 10. The apparent contradiction is explained by the fact that above Sallust is speaking of the growth (crevit) of avarice and ambition among the Roman people soon after the fall of Carthage, while here he is considering the relative influence of the two during the age preceding the dictatorship of Sulla. Primo in the two passages refers to different periods.

24. Exercebat, occupied.—Quod tamen vitium . . . erat, which, though a fault, was yet, etc.—Virtutem; G. 437, 1.

26. Ille, the former. G. 450, 2.—Huic; Dat. depending upon desunt. G. 386, 2. Translate as if hic were used as the subject of contendit; the latter because, etc.

28. Studium habet, involves the desire; lit., has; i. e., has in itself.

29. Venenis malis, with poisons. Venenum, originally a drug, a medicine, here takes the epithet malum to define its meaning.

31. Sulla. See note on dominationem Sullae, p. 3, line 27.—Armis recepta, having by force wrested. He rescued the state from the oppressions of Marius, but afterward oppressed it himself; in the words of Sallust, bonis initiis malos eventus habuit; after having made a good beginning, he brought about (lit., had) evil results.

32. Bonis initiis; Abl. Absolute.—Rapere, trahere, seized, carried off; two expressive words to designate robbery and rapine. Observe the force of the Historical Infinitive; also the omission of the connective and object.

33. Domum alius, alius agros. For arrangement of words, see G. 595.

34. Modum, modestiam, limit, moderation.

35. Huc accedebat quod, to this was added the fact that. The subject of accedebat is the clause, quod . . . molliverant.

36. Quo faceret; G. 489, 497.—Fidum; supply eum referring to exercitum.

37. Luxuriose habuerat, had kept in luxury.

7

1. Loca . . . voluptaria; i. e., Asia Minor.—Feroces, warlike.

3. Tabulas pictas, paintings; lit., painted tablets.

4. Privatim et publice, from individuals and from states. Some scholars render, for themselves and for the state.

6. Nihil reliqui fecere, left nothing; lit., made (caused) nothing (to be) of the remainder; i. e., to be left. Reliqui is Predicate Gen. with fecere. G. 403.

8. Ne illi temperarent, do not think, then, that they would, etc., or much less would they, etc. Ne in the sense of nedum. The language is elliptical, and nearly equivalent to ne existimes fieri potuisse ut illi temperarent. The general thought is this: If wise men cannot endure prosperity, much less can lawless soldiers be expected to use victory with moderation.—Illi; i. e., the soldiers of Sulla.—Corruptis moribus; Abl. of Characteristic. G. 428.—Victoriae; G. 385, 3.

10. Gloria . . . potentia. Observe the asyndeton. G. 704, I. 1.—Imperium, office, authority, the authority of a ruler or commander, more definite than potentia, the general word for power.

11. Probro, pro malevolentia; for the Predicate Nom. G. 362, 2, (3).—Innocentia pro malevolentia; i. e., the conduct of those who did not conform to the corrupt practices of the age was imputed to bad motives—to a want of sympathy with their fellow-citizens.

13. Rapere, consumere. Observe the frequent use of the Hist. Infinitive. Here the subject is a pronoun referring to juventutem.—Sua parvi pendere, considered what they had (sua) as of little value. G. 402, III. 1.

14. Pudorem . . . nihil pensi . . . habere. This obscure passage admits of two interpretations: 1. Modesty, purity, things divine and human, without distinction, they did not value or regard. This interpretation gives promiscua its usual force, and makes nihil a Predicate Acc. 2. They regarded modesty, purity, things divine and human, as subjects of little interest (lit., as indifferent things), they had no consideration or moderation (lit., nothing of). Upon the whole, the former interpretation seems preferable.

16. Operae pretium est, it is worth while; lit., is the price of the labor; i. e., will pay for the trouble. The subject of est is the clause visere templa, etc.—Domos atque villas; referring to the magnificent villas of wealthy Romans in the age of Sallust, as those of Clodius and Lucullus. See Smith's "Dict. of Antiq.," under House.

17. In urbium modum, like cities.—Templa. These temples were less magnificent and costly than some of the villas just mentioned.
18. Religiosissimi mortales, though the most religious of men.
19. Illi, they, our ancestors, remote in time. G. 450, 1.—Gloria; i. e., with the glory of their own deeds.
20. Victis; G. 386, 2.—Injuriae licentiam, the power to injure. They did not utterly destroy their enemies, but simply rendered them harmless.
22. Omnia ea sociis, etc.; i. e., we treat our allies worse than our fathers treated their vanquished enemies.
23. Proinde quasi, just as if.—Id demum, that in short. Id, in apposition with injuriam facere, is inserted for emphasis.
24. Esset; G. 503, II.—Imperio uti; Predicate after esset. G. 553, I.; 419.
25. Quid memorem, why should I mention? G. 485.—Eis, nemini; dependent upon credibilia.
26. Subversos; referring especially to the dike cut by Lucullus through the hill near Baiae, to admit the water from the sea into his fish-ponds.
27. Constrata, built over; i. e., with piers extending into them.—Ludibrio, a subject for sport. G. 390.
28. Quas, the wealth which.—Habere, to enjoy.
30. Cultus, refinements of sensual indulgence.—Terra marique; G. 422, 1, 1).
33. Luxu antecapere, anticipated by indulgence.—Haec, these things; i. e., the habits of luxury just mentioned.
35. Haud facile carebat, was not easily freed from.
36. Eo profusius, the more excessively on that account.

XIV.—XVII. The Associates of Catiline.

1. Id quod erat, which was. G. 445, 7. 8
2. Flagitiorum, of infamous persons; lit., of infamous acts; the crime for the criminal by metonymy.
4. Bona patria laceraverat, had squandered his patrimony; lit., paternal goods.
5. Quo . . . redimeret, that he might purchase impunity for, etc.; i. e., by settling with the injured parties or by bribing the judge.
8. Ad hoc, moreover; lit., to this, i. e., in addition to it.—Manus lingua perjurio . . . sanguine civili; contrasted groups in an inverted order, the hand by the blood of citizens, i. e., by murder; the tongue by perjury.
10. Consciis animus, a guilty conscience.

8

This spirited description of the companions of Catiline is very similar to a passage on the same subject in Cicero's Second Oration against Catiline, chap. 4.

13. Par similisque, precisely like.—Par, equal in quantity; similis, alike in quality. Thus par similisque ceteris means like the rest in the extent and quality of his wickedness.

14. Molles . . . fluxi, tender and pliable because of their youth.

16. Ut . . . studium . . . flagrabat; i. e., according to the desire of each one.—Praebere, he (Catiline) furnished; i. e., he pandered to the passions of those whom he gathered about him.

18. Modestiae, honor.—Obnoxios, submissive.

19. Qui existimarent. G. 501, I.—Ita; used somewhat redundantly to represent the clause juventutem . . . habuisse. G. 704, II. 6.

21. Parum honeste habuisse, did not properly regard.

22. Cuiquam compertum foret, was known to any one. For Mood, see G. 520, 3.

24. Jam primum, now in the first place; a common expression in entering upon a new topic, especially in passing from general to specific statements.

25. Sacerdote Vestae; Fabia, the sister of Cicero's wife, Terentia. Sallust, however, omits the fact that she was tried for the crime and acquitted. The Vestal Virgins were the priestesses of the goddess Vesta: they ministered in her temple, and, by turns, watched the perpetual fire upon her altar night and day. They were bound by an oath of chastity, whose violation was punished with death.

26. Jus fasque, human and divine law.—Postremo, finally; i. e., a short time before the conspiracy.

27. Cujus; dependent upon nihil.

28. Nubere illi, to marry him; lit., veil herself for him, as the bride was veiled at the marriage ceremony. G. 385, 2.

29. Privignum, a step-son; referring to a son of Catiline, who would, of course, be her step-son after her marriage.—Pro certo creditur, it is positively believed, though we are not told upon what authority. Cicero, however, evidently refers to the same charge in the sixth chapter of his First Oration against Catiline, where he also accuses him of having murdered his former wife.—Necato filio, by murdering his son.

30. Fecisse. The subject is eum to be supplied. Observe the anacoluthon. Fecisse would regularly have been fecit in agreement with Catilina, to be supplied, with which captus agrees. G. 704, III. 4.

31. Facinoris; i. e., the conspiracy.

32. Infestus, hostile.—Neque . . . quietibus, neither waking nor sleeping; lit., neither by vigils nor by slumbers; i. e., by no means whatever.

33. Ita conscientia vastabat, to such a degree did the sense of guilt distract. 8

34. Foedi, staring, wild.

35. Facie vultuque. Facies, the face, with special reference to the physical features; vultus, the expression of countenance.

37. Juventutem, facinora; G. 374.

2. Signatores falsos, forgers; lit., false sealers; i. e., of documents. G. 597, I.—Commodare, he furnished; i. e., to such as needed them. 9

3. Habere; dependent upon imperabat.—Post ubi . . . attriverat . . . imperabat, afterward, when he had destroyed (lit., worn away) . . . he imposed (i. e., upon them) other greater crimes.

5. Minus suppetebat, did not present itself.

6. Circumvenire; i. e., in person or by the aid of his associates. G. 545, I.—Scilicet potius malus erat, he doubtless preferred to be bad.—Ne torpescerent; Negative Purpose. G. 491.

7. Gratuito, without hope of advantage; i. e., even without temptation.

8. Amicis; G. 419, II.—Simul quod,—et quod, both because and because.

9. Aes alienum . . . ingens; occasioned by the extravagance of the age and the extortions of Roman magistrates.

10. Sullani milites. At the close of the civil wars between Marius and Sulla, the latter established colonies for his soldiers in Etruria and other parts of Italy. Not a few of these colonists, having squandered all they had, espoused the cause of Catiline in the hope of new spoils and booty.—Largius, too profusely.

13. In extremis terris. Pompey was waging war against Mithridates, king of Pontus, and Tigranes, king of Armenia.—Ipsi; referring to Catiline.—Consulatum petenti, as a candidate for the consulship; lit., seeking, etc. The consuls, it will be remembered, were the two chief magistrates, or joint presidents of the commonwealth.

14. Nihil sane intentus, not at all watchful.

15. Ea, these things; i. e., the state of things just described.

17. Kalendas. For Roman calendar, see G. 708.—Caesare . . . consulibus; i. e., in the year 64 B. C. See Introduction, p. 44. L. Caesar was a relative of Julius Caesar.

18. Singulos, individuals.

20. Docere, he exhibited.—Explorata sunt; supply ea, the omitted antecedent of quae.

21. In unum convocat, he called together. Hist. Present. In unum, as an adverbial expression, means simply together. There seems to be no need of supplying locum. Indeed, unum is probably neuter.

22. Necessitudo, need.—Inerat; applicable to plurimum audaciae,

PAGE

9 but not to necessitudo, which requires erat. We have here a Zeugma. G. 704, I. 2.

23. Senatorii ordinis, of senatorial rank, the highest order of Roman nobility, including all those who had held either of the four highest offices: viz., that of consul, praetor, curule aedile, or quaestor. Ordinis, Gen. of Characteristic. G. 396, IV.—P. Lentulus. Publius Cornelius Lentulus, surnamed Sura. He had been consul, but on account of his scandalous life he had subsequently been expelled from the senate.—A Roman citizen usually had three names: Publius Cornelius Lentulus. The first, or praenomen, designated the individual; the second, or nomen, the gens or tribe; and the third, or cognomen, the family. Thus, Publius Cornelius Lentulus was Publius of the Lentulus family of the Cornelian gens. To these three names an agnomen, or surname, was sometimes added. Thus Sura was added to P. C. Lentulus. The nomen was often omitted, as in most of the names here mentioned by Sallust. Thus the nomen, Cornelius, is omitted in the names of Lentulus, Cethegus, and the Sullas. Sometimes, however, the nomen is retained and the cognomen omitted. Thus Cicero calls L. Cassius Longinus, simply L. Cassius. See the Third Oration against Catiline, chap. 4.—P. Autronius. P. Autronius Paetus. See Introduction, p. 43.

24. Publius et Servius Sullae. Publius Cornelius Sulla and Servius Cornelius Sulla, the sons of Servius Cornelius Sulla, the brother of the famous Dictator Sulla

25. L. Vargunteius. One of the most daring of Catiline's accomplices, and one of the two who afterward engaged to assassinate Cicero, the consul, in his own house. See page 15, line 18.—Q. Annius. Probably Q. Annius Chilo.—M. Porcius Laeca. The conspirator at whose house Catiline and his associates met at night a short time before the discovery of their plans.

26. Q. Curius. See Introduction, p. 45.—Ex equestri ordine, of equestrian rank. This order occupied an intermediate position between the senate and the plebs. It comprised wealthy citizens who had not yet attained senatorial rank.

27. P. Gabinius Capito. One of the chief conspirators, called by Cicero Publius Gabinius and Cimber Gabinius.—C. Cornelius. The associate of Vargunteius in the attempt to assassinate Cicero. See p. 15, line 16.

28. Coloniis et municipiis. Colonia is a colony founded by Romans, while municipium is a municipal or free town, one which has received the full Roman franchise, but still retains the right of self-government in all local matters.—Domi, at home; i. e., in their own towns.

32. Quibus vivere copia erat, who had the ability to live. G. 563, 6.

34. Malebant; supply ii, the omitted antecedent of quibus.

35. M. Licinium Crassum. M. Licinius Crassus was a Roman citizen of high rank and of immense wealth. He had distinguished himself in the war against Spartacus, and had held the highest offices in the state. There is little reason to think that he had any sympathy with the conspiracy of Catiline.

37. Ipsi, to him; i. e., to Crassus.—Cujusvis, of any one; i. e., as a rival of Pompey.

1. Voluisse, that he (Crassus) wished. Voluisse depends upon crederent above.—Illius; i. e., of Pompey.

2. Si valuisset, fore. What would this be in the Direct Discourse? G. 532, 4; 530, I.—Apud illos, among them; i. e., the conspirators, implied in conjuratio.

XVIII., XIX. Catiline's Earlier Attempt at Conspiracy, 66 B. C.

4. Antea; i. e., two years before.

5. De qua, concerning which conspiracy. Qua refers to conjuratio implied in conjuravere.

6. L. Tullo . . . consulibus; i. e., in the year 66 B. C.

7. P. Sulla. A kinsman of the dictator, but not to be confounded with P. Sulla mentioned in the last chapter. He was afterward tried as a conspirator, but, being ably defended by Cicero, was finally acquitted.

8. Interrogati, accused; lit., asked, as the defendant was first asked whether he was guilty or not guilty.—Poenas dederant, had suffered punishment; lit., had given satisfaction; i. e., to the state. They were thereby disqualified for entering upon the duties of the consulship to which they had been elected.—Post paulo, a little after. This sentence seems to be misplaced, as it records events which took place in the summer of 65 B. C., while the sentence before and the sentence after, both relate to the latter part of 66 B. C.—Pecuniarum repetundarum, of extortion; lit., of moneys to be demanded back. G. 238.

10. Quod . . . nequiverat. He could not announce his intention (profiteri) to be a candidate while the indictment was pending.—Intra legitimos dies; i. e., seventeen days before the election.

11. Cn. Piso; i. e., Cn. Calpurnius Piso. See Introduction, p. 43.

14. Consilio communicato, making common cause; lit., the plan having been made common.

15. Kalendis Januariis; i. e., during the ceremonies of inauguration which took place on the first of January.—L. Cottam, etc. L. Cotta and L. Torquatus, rival candidates of P. Autronius and P. Sulla, were declared consuls after the latter were convicted of bribery.

PAGE

10 16. Ipsi fascibus correptis, themselves seizing the fasces; i. e., the consular power represented by them. Ipsi, though belonging in sense to the Abl. Absol., is made to agree with the leading subject.

17. Duas Hispanias; i. e., Hispaniam Citeriorem and Hispaniam Ulteriorem. For the general facts, see Introduction, p. 43.

19. Jam tum, even then; i. e., even at that early date, their plan was substantially the same as it was three or four years later, when finally exposed.

21. Quod ni . . . maturasset. The execution of the plan was fortunately frustrated by a mistake on the part of Catiline, who gave the signal before his accomplices were ready for action.

24. Ea res; i. e., the mistake of Catiline in giving the signal too soon.

25. Quaestor pro praetore, as quaestor with praetorian power; i. e., as governor. A praetor was a Roman officer next in rank to the consul, and at the expiration of his term of office was usually sent out as the governor of a province; i. e., pro praetore; but that a quaestor, a much lower officer ordinarily in charge of the public money, should be thus entrusted with praetorian power, is very remarkable.

26. Adnitente Crasso, through the influence of Crassus; lit., Crassus exerting himself. Abl. Absol.

27. Inimicum. See Syn., L. C. 344.—Pompeio; dependent upon esse to be supplied.—Tamen, yet; i. e., although one would scarcely have expected the senate to give such power to Piso.

28. Invitus; G. 443.

29. Boni, the nobles.

30. Praesidium in eo, a protection in him; i. e., against their opponents, especially Pompey.

33. Sunt qui dicant; G. 501, I.—Ita; G. 704, II. 6.

35. Clientes, adherents; i. e., those whom he had gathered about him in that province a few years before while engaged in the war against Sertorius.—Voluntate ejus, in accordance with his (Pompey's) wish. Observe that this is a mere rumor.

36. Aggressos; supply esse.—Praeterea, except in this instance; lit., besides this.

11 1. In medio, unsettled; lit., in the middle.

XX.—XXIII. Movements of the Conspirators from the early part of June, 64 B. C., to the Consular Election of that year.

3. Paulo ante; i. e., in chapter 17. Sallust resumes the narrative interrupted by the digression contained in chapters 18 and 19.

4. Cum singulis, with them individually.
5. In rem, to the purpose.—Universos, them collectively.
6. Aedium. Force of the plural? G. 132.
8. Ni forent, cecidisset; G. 510.—Spectata mihi, tested by me; lit., viewed and hence known to me. G. 439, 2, 3).—Nequiquam, frustra. See Syn., L. C. 338.
9. In manibus; construe with dominatio, sovereign power (already) in our hands; i. e., not merely hopes (spes magna). With this interpretation the predicate is frustra fuissent.
11. Incerta . . . captarem, grasp at what is uncertain in place of what is certain; i. e., imperil all that I have in grasping at uncertainties.
12. Tempestatibus, emergencies. G. 426.
13. Eo, . . . simul quia, on this account, . . . and also because. G. 414.
14. Vobis . . . bona malaque esse; i. e., that you have the same interests as I.
15. Ea demum, this indeed. Ea, attracted from id, to agree with amicitia, is in apposition with idem velle . . . nolle, the subject of est. G. 363, 5; 445, 4.
17. Diversi, separately.
18. Mihi animus, my mind. Mihi is Indirect Object of accenditur, but it is not best to render literally.
19. Futura sit; G. 525.—Nisi . . . in libertatem, if we do not ourselves restore ourselves to liberty.
21. Jus atque dicionem, jurisdiction and control.
22. Illis; i. e., paucis potentibus.—Vectigales, tributary.—Esse; Hist. Infin.
24. Vulgus fuimus, have been the rabble; i. e., so treated.
25. Quibus formidini, G. 390.—Valeret, was in force.
28. Quousque tandem, how long, pray. This idiomatic use of tandem—indeed, pray—is not uncommon.
29. Per virtutem, bravely.
30. Ubi alienae . . . fueris, in which you have been the sport of the insolence of others. Observe the force of the person in fueris. G. 460, 2, 1).
32. Verum enimvero, but indeed. There is an ellipsis in the Latin after verum. Thus: but (this need not be) for indeed. In English we need not supply the ellipsis.—Pro deum . . . fidem; G. 381. Pro is an interjection; deum for deorum.
33. In manu nobis est, is in our hands; lit., is to us in hand. G. 387.
34. Consenuerunt, have become enfeebled.
35. Incepto; G. 419.—Cetera res expediet, the rest will take care

PAGE

- 11 of itself; i. e., if we only make a beginning. Others make cetera the object of expedit.—Etenim, etc., and indeed = and we have every inducement to begin, for, etc.
36. Illis superare, that they should have in abundance. Illis, Indirect Object of superare, abound to them.
37. Quas profundant; Subj. of Purpose. G. 500.—Extrudendo . . . coaequandis. See notes on subversos and constrata, p. 7, lines 26 and 27.
- 12 3. Larem familiarem, home; lit., household god.—Quum, while. The idea of concession is involved, but that of time is made more prominent. Hence the Indicative in emunt, etc.
4. Nova; i. e., even new buildings.
5. Trahunt, squander.
6. Summa libidine, with their greatest extravagance; lit., desire.—Vincere, to exhaust; lit., to conquer; a military term.
8. Quid reliqui, etc., what have we left; lit., of left.
10. Quin = qui (for quo) and ne, why not!
11. In oculis, before our eyes; lit., in; i. e., in or within their range of vision.
14. Imperatore, as commander; Pred. Abl. with me, dependent upon utemini. G. 362; 419.
16. Consul, as consul. He hopes soon to be elected.—Agam, I will accomplish.—Nisi me . . . fallit, unless I am mistaken; i. e., in my expectations in regard to you.
20. Res, property.
21. Quieta movere . . . videbatur, to disturb the peace seemed a great reward; i. e., of itself. Merces is a reward for service rendered, while pretium is the price, as of an article of merchandise.
22. Quae foret; G. 525.—Condicio belli, the terms of the war.
23. Ubique = et ubi, and where.
24. Tabulas novas, new accounts; i. e., a reduction of their indebtedness. Laws were sometimes passed reducing all debts in a uniform ratio, as by one-fourth or one-half. The Valerian Law, enacted in the year 86 B. C., reduced all debts to one-fourth of their previous amount. The debts thus reduced were entered upon new tables (tabulae novae). Catiline promised his followers such a relief from the weight of indebtedness with which so many of them were overwhelmed.—Proscriptionem, proscription; originally the act of advertising property for sale, afterward the act of inserting names in the list of those who were doomed to death.
26. Fert, bring with them.
27. Esse; supply a verb of saying implied in polliceri.
28. P. Sittium. Publius Sittius, of Nuceria in Campania, here represented as a partisan of Catiline, is incidentally defended by Cicero 12 in the oration Pro Sulla.—Participes; in apposition with Pisonem and Sittium. G. 363, 4.

29. C. Antonium. Gaius Antonius, afterward the colleague of Cicero in the consulship. See Introduction, p. 44.

31. Circumventum, encompassed.—Initium . . . facturum, would begin the work. Supply esse.

33. Alium egestatis; G. 410.

35. Quibus praedae; G. 390.—Ea, it; i. e., the victory of Sulla.
See note on dominationem Sullae, p. 3, line 27.

37. Ut haberent; Purpose.—Petitionem, candidature; i. e., for the consulship.

2. Populares . . . sui, his confederates in crime; lit., of his wick- 13 edness.

3. Humani . . . sanguinem, etc. This is fortunately presented as a mere rumor.

4. Inde, of it, referring to sanguinem vino permixtum.

5. Fieri consuevit, is customary, is wont to be done; impersonal.

6. Quo forent; G. 489; 497.

7. Alius alii, one to another. Alius is in partitive apposition with the subject of forent, with which conscii agrees.—Alii facinoris; G.
399, 6.

8. Ficta; supply esse.

9. Ciceronis invidiam, the unpopularity of Cicero, who was consul when the conspiracy was discovered. He afterward became very unpopular because of the part which he took in the execution of five of the leading conspirators.

11. Nobis, in my judgment; lit., to me.—Pro magnitudine, in view of its importance; i. e., so grave a charge requires stronger proofs.

13. Loco, station. G. 422, 1.

14. Senatu . . . moverant, had expelled from the senate, because of his scandalous life. G. 425, 3, 3).

15. Vanitas, indiscretion; lit., emptiness.—Reticere; Hist. Infin.

16. Suamet, his own. G. 185, 2.

17. Neque dicere, etc., he did not care either what he said or what he did. Dicere and facere are the objects of habebat, quicquam predicate
Acc., and pensi partitive Gen.

18. Stupri consuetudo, illicit intimacy.

19. Cui, to her. G. 391.

20. Maria montesque; used metaphorically for great things, for extravagant promises. Pollicor is to promise or offer of one's own free-will, while promitto is to promise at the request of another.

21. Minari ferro, threatened her with death, referring to the pro-

PAGE

13 scriptions which would follow the success of Catiline.—Ni . . . foret, if she would not be obliging. This is Indirect Discourse depending upon an historical tense of a verb of saying implied in minari. Hence foret, Imp. Subj. : G. 481, II. 1.

24. Haud . . . habuit, did not keep secret.—Sublato auctore, without naming her informant.

25. Quae quoque modo, what and in what manner.

26. Ad . . . mandandum, to intrust the consulship. G. 565.

28. Invidia aestuabat, was furious from jealousy.—Aestuabat, credebant. Notice the change of number. G. 461, 1, 3).

29. Homo novus, a new man; i. e., one whose ancestors had never held any of the higher public offices.

31. Post fuere, were subordinate; i. e., to considerations of safety.

XXIV.—XXVI. Movements of the Conspirators from the Consular Election of 64 B. C. to that of 63 B. C.

32. Comitiis habitis, after the comitia were held.

34. Concusserat. Observe the force of the tense to denote completed action at the time of minuebatur.

36. Locis; G. 422, 1.—Sua fide . . . mutuum, hired on his own credit.

37. Manlium. See Introduction, p. 44.

14 1. Princeps belli faciundi, the first to begin the war; lit., of the war to be waged.

3. Ingentes sumptus toleraverant, had borne great expenses.

4. Tantum modo . . . luxuriae, only to their gains, but not (neque) to their luxurious habits. G. 384, II.

6. Servitia, the slaves.

9. Sempronia. The wife of D. Junius Brutus, and the mother of D. Junius Brutus Albinus, one of the assassins of Caesar.

10. Genere . . . forma, in family and in personal beauty. She belonged to the famous Cornelian gens.

12. Docta; modified, 1) by the Abl. litteris; 2) by the Infin. psallere, etc.; and 3) by the Acc. alia. G. 374, 3, 2) and 4.

13. Probae, for a respectable woman. Skill in dancing was not regarded as a proper accomplishment for a respectable lady.

16. Discerneres; G. 486, 4.

17. Creditum abjuraverat, had forsworn a trust; referring probably to money intrusted to her. Among the Romans moneys were often thus intrusted to the care of friends.

18. Praeceptis abierat, have gone headlong; i. e., into ruin.

19. Absurdum, contemptibile.—Jocum movere, to raise a laugh.

22. In proximum annum, for the next year; i. e., 62 B. C.

23. Si . . . foret, if he should be elected. Fut. Perfect in the Direct Discourse. G. 532, 4.

24. Ex voluntate, as he pleased; lit., out of (according to) his (Catiline's) desire.

26. Illi, to him; i. e., to Cicero.

28. Ut proderet; Mixed Purpose. G. 492, 1.

29. Sibi, to him; i. e., to Cicero.

30. Pactione provinciae; i. e., by exchanging provinces with his colleague, referring to the provinces of which they were to be governors at the expiration of their term of office. Cicero had obtained by lot the rich province of Macedonia, which he transferred to Antony in exchange for Cisalpine Gaul, of comparatively little value. See Introduction, p. 44.

33. Dies comitiorum. The election had been deferred to the 28th of October. Catiline was again defeated.

34. In campo; i. e., in the Campus Martius, where the elections were held.

XXVII.—XXX. Military Preparations. Attempt upon the Life of Cicero. Action of the Senate.

37. Igitur C. Manlium Faesulas, etc. There seems to be some little confusion in Sallust's account, as in chap. 24 Manlius is already at Faesulae, and in chap. 30 he is said to have taken up arms on the 27th of October; i. e., on the day before the election.

3. Quem ubique, etc., each one to the place where he thought, etc.; 15 lit., whom and where, etc.

4. Romae, at Rome. G. 421, II.

6. Cum telo esse, went armed; lit., was with a weapon.—Jubere; supply cum telis esse.

7. Festinare, he was busy.

8. Multa agitant, while attempting many things. Supply illi, referring to Catiline.

9. Intempesta nocte, late at night; on the night after the 5th of November. See Introduction, p. 45. This meeting should not have been mentioned here, but in chap. 31. Sallust is not very accurate in his chronology.

10. Penes . . . Laecam, at the house of Laeca; lit., with, etc.

12. Paraverat. Observe the force of the Indicative. G. 531, 4.

15. Oppressisset; from the Fut. Perfect of the Direct Discourse. G. 532, 4.—Consiliis; Indirect Object of officere.

19. Salutatam; G. 569. Roman magistrates, and other distin-

PAGE

- 15 guished citizens, were in the habit of receiving visits at a very early hour, especially from their clients.
23. Janua prohibiti. The gate was closed against them. Janua, Abl. of Means.
26. Novarum rerum, revolution. G. 399.
27. Sullae dominatione. Sulla had confiscated their property.
28. Latrones; object of sollicitare.
29. Sullanis coloniis. See note on Sullani milites, p. 9, line 10.
- Quibus; Indirect Object of fecerat.
30. Reliqui fecerat, had left. See note on nihil reliqui fecere, p. 7, line 6.
31. Ancipiti malo, a double danger; lit., evil; i. e., from the conspirators within the city and from a hostile army without.
32. Privato consilio; i. e., unaided by the senate.
34. Quo consilio, what were its intentions; lit., with what purpose; Abl. of Characteristic. G. 428.—Compertum habebat, had ascertained. Compertum is in the Acc. neuter, and agrees with the clause exercitus Manlii . . . foret.—Ad senatum refert; the usual technical expression for the action of the consul in bringing a subject to the notice of the senate.
36. In atroci negotio, in a case of great peril.—Solet; supply fieri.
37. Darent operam, etc. By such a decree, passed only in times of great public peril, extraordinary powers were conferred upon the consuls. Sallust's chronology is again at fault. The decree in question was passed at an earlier meeting of the senate, on the 21st of October. See Introduction, p. 45. Darent; Mixed Purpose, ut omitted. G. 492, 3; 493, 2.—Quid detrimenti; G. 396, III. 2, 3).
- 16 1. Ea potestas maxima permittitur, this is the greatest power intrusted; lit., this greatest power is intrusted.
2. Exercitum parare, etc.; the subject of permittitur, to be supplied.
4. Imperium . . . summum, supreme power, military and judicial.
5. Nullius earum . . . est, the consul has not the right to do any one of these things. This general statement requires qualification, as the consul abroad (militiae) was entitled to the imperium by virtue of his office.
7. Litteras recitavit, read a letter; G. 132.—Faesulis; G. 421, II.—Allatas; supply esse.
8. Scriptum erat. The subject is the clause C. Manlium . . . Novembres.
9. Ante diem . . . Novembres, on the sixth day before the Calends of November; i. e., on the 27th of October. For the method of obtaining the English date, see G. 710, II. Ante diem sextum Kalendas = die sexto ante Kalendas, on the sixth day before, etc. G. 708, III. 3. But the whole expression may be regarded as an indeclinable noun in the Ablative of Time. G. 708, III. 4; 426.—Novembres; adjective agreeing with Kalendas. G. 708, III. 2.

10. Id quod solet, as is common; lit., that which is wont. G. 445, 7.

11. Arma portari; i. e., to convenient places for future use; though the meaning may be that arms are carried; i. e., that men go armed.—Capuae, in Apulia. Explain difference of construction. G. 421.

12. Senati; G. 119, 3.

13. Faesulas, in Apuliam; G. 379; 379, 4.

14. Circumque loca; and the surrounding places. Loca depends upon in.—Ad urbem, near the city. They had just returned victorious from their provinces—Marcus from Cilicia, Metellus from Crete—and had asked from the senate the honor of a triumph. They were forbidden by law to enter the city until the question was decided.

15. Imperatores; i. e., in the capacity of commanders. They still retained the imperium.—Calunnia, by the intrigues.

16. Omnia vendere; subject of erat.

18. Permissum; supply est.—Uti compararent; G. 495, 2.

21. Sestertia centum, a hundred sestertia; a little more than $4,000.

22. Impunitatem ejus rei, impunity for this crime; i. e., for participation in the conspiracy.

23. Gladiatoriae familiae, companies of gladiators. The gladiators were trained in schools, or companies, to which the name familia was applied.—Capuam; Limit of Motion depending upon distribuerentur.

24. Pro . . . opibus, according to the ability of each; i. e., of each town.

25. Minores magistratus; consuls, praetors, and censors, were called majores magistratus; all others as aediles, tribunes, quaestors, etc., including the tres viri capitales, and the tres viri nocturni were called minores magistratus. The tres viri capitales and the tres viri nocturni had charge of the city police, and are probably here meant.

XXXI., XXXII. Cicero's First Oration against Catiline.

Scene in the Senate. Catiline leaves the City.

29. Diuturna quies; a period of nearly twenty years, since the Civil War of Marius and Sulla. Indeed, no foreign foe had approached Rome for nearly 150 years.

30. Festinare, trepidare, etc. Hist. Infinitives.

32. Quibus; construe with incesserat.

PAGE

- 16 33. Magnitudine ; construe with insolitus. The greatness of the republic had protected them.—Timor. See Syn., L. C. 305.—Insolitus incesserat, had rarely come ; lit., unusual had come. Insolitus agrees with timor.
- 35. Rogitare, asked questions continually.
- 36. Sibi ; G. 384.
- 17 1. Lege Plantia ; a law providing for the punishment of all disturbers of the public peace.—Interrogatus erat. See note on interrogati, p. 10, line 8.
- 3. Sicuti . . . foret ; G. 506.
- 5. Orationem ; the first against Catiline. For particulars, see Introduction, p. 45.
- 6. Scriptam edidit ; G. 579.
- 9. Ea familia, from such a family. G. 425, 3, 1).—Ortum = ortum esse.
- 10. Ut in spe haberet, that he had reason to hope for.
- 11. Ne existimarent. Subj. from the Imperative of the Direct Discourse. G. 529 ; 530, II.—Sibi perdita . . . opus esse, that he had any need of ruining the republic ; lit., of a ruined republic. G. 419, 3 ; 580.
- 14. Inquilinus, of foreign birth ; a term most unjustly applied to Cicero, as Arpinum, his native town, enjoyed all the rights of Roman citizenship.
- 15. Hostem vocare, called him an enemy.
- 18. Ruina, by a general destruction.
- 19. Ex curia, from the senate. On this occasion the senate met in the temple of Jupiter Stator, though it ordinarily met in the Curia Hostilia, which stood on the northern side of the Forum.—Domum ; G. 379, 3.
- 20. Consuli ; Indirect Object of procedebant.
- 22. Optimum ; agreeing with exercitum augere.—Factu ; G. 570.
- 23. Legiones ; referring to the levies to be made by Q. Pompeius and Q. Metellus. See chap. 30.
- 27. Confirment ; Mixed Purpose ; ut omitted.
- 29. Accessurum ; supply esse. This infinitive depends upon a verb of saying implied in mandat ; G. 530, 1.

XXXIII. — XXXV. Representations of Manlius and Catiline in regard to their Movements.

35. Qui. The antecedent is implied in nostra. G. 445, 6.—Cruelitate faeneratorum. The rapacity of the Roman money-lenders is generally admitted.

36. Patriae, fama ; both dependent upon expertes ; the Genitive is the usual construction after expertes, but the Ablative is not uncommon in the earlier Latin. G. 399, 2, 2), (3); 419, III.

1. Lege uti, to avail himself of the law; i. e., of the lex Poetelia et Papiria, which forbade imprisonment for debt. 18

2. Praetoris; i. e., of the Praetor urbanus, before whom suits against debtors were brought.

4. Decretis . . . opitulati sunt. Under the old Roman law the lower classes were much oppressed, and the debtor was absolutely at the mercy of the creditor. Decretis here refers to the laws enacted from time to time for the relief of the poor.

6. Bonis, the nobles. This statement, that all the nobles assented cordially to this change, requires qualification.—Argentum aere, etc.; i. e., debts contracted in silver were paid in copper. This was done under the Valerian law passed 86 B. C. (novissime memoria nostra), which provided that debts might be cancelled by the payment of one-fourth of the amount (twenty-five cents on the dollar). Thus the copper as was paid in place of the silver sestertius, which had four times its value. See also note on tabulas novas, p. 12, line 24.—Saepe plebes secessit. The last and most important of these secessions occurred in the year 287 B. C., and resulted in the enactment of the Hortensian law, which gave validity to the decrees of the plebs.

12. Consulatis; Subj. of Purpose; ut omitted.

14. Quonam modo, etc., how we may sell our lives most dearly; lit., may perish having most fully avenged our blood.

17. Discedant. Subj. from the Imperative of the Direct Discourse.

18. Mansuetudine; Abl. of Characteristic.

21. Ex itinere, on the road; lit., from, out of.

- 18 34. Quam, referring to satisfactionem.
35. Licet cognoscas, you may see; lit., it is permitted that, etc. Supply ut.
36. Fructu; Abl. of Separation. G. 425.
37. Statum . . . obtinebam, I could not maintain my dignity; i. e., his self-respect would not allow him to submit to such indignities as were heaped upon him.
- 19 1. Aes . . . nominibus, my debts; meis nominibus, Abl. Absol.; lit., the names being mine. Some supply sumptum, obtained in my name.
3. Alienis nominibus = aes alienum alienis nominibus, the debts of others, for which Catiline was probably surety. The thought is: if Orestilla would pay the debts of others, she would surely pay those of her husband.
5. Alienatum, discarded.
6. Hoc nomine, for this reason; lit., in this name; i. e., in the name of the great interests at stake.—Satis . . . meo casu, sufficiently honorable in view of my misfortune.
10. Rogatus, asked, entreated; i. e., by me. Translate, I entreat you.

22. Cui, to it, referring to imperium.—Quum, although.
26. Perditum irent, were determined to ruin; lit., were going to ruin. G. 569.—Duobus decretis, though there were two decrees—one mentioned in chap. 30, si quis indicavisset, etc., and the other in this, sine fraude liceret, etc.
27. Inductus; agreeing with quisquam to be supplied.
31. Aliena, disaffected.
32. Plebes, the lower classes, not the Plebeians in distinction from the Patricians.
33. Id adeo, this indeed.

35. Invident; agreeing with the omitted antecedent of quibus. 19

37. Sine cura; free from care, as they have nothing to lose.

1. Egestas facile, etc., poverty (their only possession) is easily retained without loss. 20

2. Ea; an emphatic repetition of the subject urbana plebes, in distinction from cuncta plebes above.—Primum. Notice the five classes introduced respectively by primum, deinde, praeterea, praeterea, and ad hoc. The first class embraces three subdivisions: 1) qui ubique, 2) alii, and 3) omnes quos.

4. Alii . . . amissis, others who had lost their patrimonies by shameful excesses.

7. Sullanæ victoriae; i. e., the victory of Sulla over Marius, whereby the former became master of Rome. See note on dominationem Sullæ, p. 3, line 27.

8. Alios senatores videbant, they saw some made senators. At the close of the Civil Wars, some of Sulla's veterans became members of the senate, while many more were enriched by the spoils of war.

9. Sibi talia; supply fore.

10. Sperabat; singular, agreeing with quisque instead of multi.—Juventus; subject of praetulerat.

11. Manuum, of labor.

12. Largitionibus, by largesses; i. e., by the distribution of money or provisions among the poor by candidates for office, by wealthy men, and by the state. The curule aedile usually entertained the people with public festivities and amusements.

13. Malum publicum, the corrupt state of public affairs; i. e., by its gratuities, and by the employment which it gave to the low and vile.

14. Quo, wherefore.—Homines . . . consuluisse; subject of mirandum est.

15. Moribus, spe; Abl. of Characteristic.—Juxta ac, just as; i. e., having ruined themselves, they were ready to ruin the state.

16. Quorum; construe with parentes, bona, and jus. The omitted antecedent is the subject of expectabant.

17. Jus . . . imminutum erat. The children of the proscribed were excluded from all public offices.

18. Haud alio animo, with no other feelings; i. e., than those of the classes already described.

19. Aliarum atque, of any other than. G. 587, I. 2.

20. Quam . . . valere ipsi, than that they themselves should have less power. Ipsi, Nom. agreeing with the subject of malebant, for the Acc. agreeing with the omitted subject of valere.—Id malum; i. e., the old opposition to the senatorial party.

23. Tribunicia potestas; i. e., the power of the tribunes of the

37. Dum, if only.—Aere; G. 425, 2, 2).

1. D. Bruti; the husband of Sempronia. He had taken no part in 22 the conspiracy.

2. Neque aliena, etc., suitable for the consultation. G. 399, 3, 3).

6. Innoxios, innocent; i. e., he named among the conspirators many who really had no part in the treasonable scheme.

7. Pollicitos operam suam, after they had promised their co-operation, especially by exciting insurrection among their own people.

8. In . . . habuere, were in doubt; lit., held it (i. e., the question quidnam . . . caperent) in uncertainty.

11. Majores opes, etc.; the advantages to be gained by espousing the cause of the government against the conspirators.

13. Cujus patrocinio. Q. Fabius Sanga was the patron of the Allobroges, and as such was the regular medium of communication between them and the Roman government.

15. Studium conjurationis, zeal for the conspiracy. G. 393, 1.

17. Uti eos manifestos habeant; lit., that they should hold them convicted; i. e., should secure positive proof of their guilt.

XLII., XLIII. Doings of the Conspirators in the Mean Time.

20. Bruttio; adjective agreeing with agro.—Motus, a disturbance, an alarm.

21. Ante dimiserat. See chap. 27.

22. Cuncta simul, everything at the same time.

- 22 23. Armorum, telorum. The former is the general word for arms, especially for defensive arms, while the latter denotes offensive weapons.—Portationibus; i. e., by carrying or transporting them from place to place, though some critics make the word refer simply to the act of carrying or wearing arms. See note on arma portari, p. 16, line 11.
- 26. Causa cognita, having investigated the case. G. 431, 2, (3).
- 27. Murena; subject of conjecerat to be supplied.
- 29. Ut videbantur magnis, large, as they appeared. The subject of videbantur is a pronoun referring to copiis.
- 30. Constituerant; G. 461, 4.—In agrum Faesulanum. There seems to be some mistake in this account of the plan of the conspirators, unless the ager Faesulanus here mentioned refers to some place near Rome, and not to Faesulæ where Manlius was encamped; as we are told in chap. 36 that it was already known at Rome that Catiline had reached the camp of Manlius.
- 33. Eo signo, at that signal; Abl. of Time.
- 34. Conjurationis; by metonymy for conjuratorum.—Suum quisque negotium, every one his part; i. e., the part assigned him by the leaders.

- 18. Eo; i. e., into their country.
- 24. Fac cogites, consider; lit., make that you consider. G. 493, 2; 535, 1.
- 25. Memineris; Perfect Subj.; Present in signification. G. 297, I.
- 26. Rationes, interests.

TEMPLE OF CONCORD.

(Restored by Cav. Canina.)

27. Ab infimis, from the lowest; with special reference to slaves. 23
—Verbis, orally; lit., in words, i. e., in spoken words. Abl. of Manner.

28. Quum . . . accedere. Indirect Discourse. In the Direct form the verbs would be as follows: judicatus sis, repudias or repudies, parata sunt, jussisti, cunctare, accedere. Explain the changes in passing from the Direct to the Indirect form. G. 530; 531; 533. See also notes on perfacile esse, etc., Caesar, p. 2, line 7, and on quod ipse, etc., p. 2, line 38.

31. Constitutâ nocte; i. e., on the night of Dec. 2d.—Qua . . . proficiscerentur; Relative clause of Purpose.

32. Cuncta; G. 374.—L. Valerio, etc. Lucius Flaccus and Gaius Pomptinus, praetors under Cicero, had both seen service in previous wars. At the close of the praetorship, Flaccus became governor of the province of Asia, and Pomptinus of Gallia Narbonensis.

33. Praetoribus. The praetors, eight in number, were Roman magistrates, charged with the administration of justice.—Ponte Mulvio. This was one of the bridges over the Tiber. It was on the road to Faesulae, and was three miles from the Roman Forum.

34. Allobrogum comitatus = Allobroges et comitatus.

35. Cetera uti facto, etc., he permits them to manage (that they may manage) the rest as the occasion may require (lit., so as there may be need of action).

1. Id loci, that place; lit., that of place. Loci, Partitive Gen. 24

2. Utrimque, on both sides; i. e., from the forces stationed on both sides of the river. The ambassadors were at the time upon the bridge, and were accordingly between the two forces.

3. Cito . . . consilio, having quickly comprehended the plan.

6. Multa, earnestly; lit., as to many things.

XLVI., XLVII. Arrest of Several of the Conspirators.

11. Intellegens, etc. This is the reason for his joy, while dubitans below explains his anxiety.

- 32. Paucis ante diebus; G. 427.
- 33. Legatos; subject of scire, to be supplied.
- 34. Solitum, that he had been accustomed. Supply esse.
- 37. Praeter . . . sermonibus, both by his letters and by the conversations; lit., by the conversations besides the letters.
- 25 1. Ex libris Sibyllinis, from the Sibylline predictions. These predictions were not taken from the three famous Sibylline books said to have been purchased by King Tarquin, for those had been destroyed twenty years before, at the time of the burning of the Capitol. Various other Sibylline books were, however, soon after collected from different portions of Italy and Greece. In one of these was found a prediction which was interpreted to mean that three members of the Cornelian gens should rule Rome. In the opinion of Lentulus, the three Cornelii were Publius Cornelius Cinna, notorious for his tyranny and cruelty, Lucius Cornelius Sulla, the famous dictator, and himself, Publius Cornelius Lentulus.
- 3. Urbis; G. 409, 3.—Urbis potiri; in apposition with fatum.
- 4. Incenso Capitolio. From some unknown cause, the Capitol, i. e., the Temple of Jupiter on the Capitoline Hill, was burned 83 B. C.
- 6. Signa sua cognovissent, had recognized their seals.
- 7. Abdicato magistratu. No Roman magistrate could be punished while in office.
- 8. In liberis custodiis. One was said to be in libera custodia when, instead of being thrown into prison, he was put under the care of some responsible person.

XLVIII., XLIX. Charges against Crassus and Caesar.

- 13. Plebes, mutata mente. Immediately after the adjournment of the senate Cicero delivered before the people his Third Oration against Catiline, which produced the change of feeling here mentioned. See Introduction, p. 47.
- 15. Exsecrari; Historical Infinitive.
- 16. Gaudium, laetitiam; Gaudium is joy, the feeling itself; laetitiam, exultation, especially as it manifests itself in look and action.
- 17. Alia, other; i. e., other than incendium.

19. Quippe cui erant, because they had.
20. In usu . . . corporis, in articles of daily use and in clothing for their persons.
21. Post eum diem; i. e., on the next day.
23. Aiebant, diceret. Dico is to tell, say, opposed to taceo; aio, to affirm, assert, opposed to nego.
25. Eadem senatum; G. 374.
26. De itinere hostium; i. e., of the approach of Catiline and his army.
27. Qui nuntiaret; Relative of Purpose. Qui refers to se as its antecedent.
28. Lentulus . . . deprehensi, the arrest of Lentulus, etc. G. 580.
29. Eoque . . . properaret, and that for this reason he should make the greater haste.
30. Illi; i. e., those who were under arrest.
34. Tanta vis hominis, a man of so great power.
36. Ex, on account of.—Negotiis privatis; referring probably to loans.
37. Uti referatur, that the question—whether the statement of Tarquinius should be accepted—be referred to the senate.—Consulente. Cicero, as presiding officer, put the vote, or, in other words, consulted the senate to ascertain its will and pleasure.
3. Amplius potestatem; supply indicandi.—Cujus consilio, by 26 whose advice.
5. Machinatum; supply esse, was devised.
6. Per . . . periculi, by sharing the danger.
7. Immissum; supply esse, had been influenced, instigated.
8. Suscepto . . . patrocinio, by undertaking the defence of the criminals; i. e., of the conspirators.
10. Tantam . . . impositam; a mere suspicion, doubtless, without any foundation in fact.
16. Piso oppugnatus, Piso because he had been assailed; i. e., by Caesar. C. Calpurnius Piso, consul 67 B. C., and afterward proconsul of Gallia Narbonensis, was tried for extortion 63 B. C., and during the trial was assailed by Caesar for having unjustly punished one of the Gauls beyond the Po of whom Caesar was patron.
17. Ex petitione, because of his treatment as a candidate. Catulus had been a candidate for the office of pontifex maximus, but had been defeated by Caesar, who was then only thirty-seven years of age.
20. Res autem, the occasion moreover.
21. Privatim, publice, as a private citizen, as a public officer; i. e., as aedile. See "Life of Caesar," p. ix.—Liberalitate, muneribus; Abl. of Characteristic.

- 33. Liberti, the freedmen. Libertus is a freedman in his relation to his former master; libertinus, a freedman without such reference.
- 34. Diversis itineribus, in different places; lit., the routes being different.—Eum; referring to Lentulus.
- 35. Partim, some of them; lit., they in part.—Multitudinum, of the rabble; i. e., in different localities; hence plural.
- 27 1. Grege facto, in a body.
- 4. Convocato senatu. This was on the fifth of December. It was on this occasion that Cicero pronounced his Fourth Oration against Catiline. See Introduction, p. 47.—Quid . . . placeat; Indirect Question depending upon refert.
- 6. Senatus judicaverat. See chap. 36.—Contra rem publicam, etc.; i. e., had been engaged in treasonable acts.
- 7. Primus . . . rogatus. The consul called upon the senators in the order of their rank, beginning with the consuls elect, or in their absence with the princeps senatus, the senator whose name stood first upon the censor's roll.
- 10. Supplicium, capital punishment.
- 11. Decreverat, dixerat, censuerat. Here the Perfect tense, which would have been entirely proper, would have stated simply the historical fact, whereas the Pluperfect contemplates the action as completed at the time of some other action, in this case doubtless the final vote.—Oratione C. Caesaris; i. e., by the oration given in the next chapter.
- 12. Pedibus in sententiam iturum se, that he would vote for the opinion. The vote was often taken by a division of the house; i. e., those in the affirmative took their places together in one part of the house. Hence the expression in the text.—Tib. Neronis. Tiberius Claudius Nero, the grandfather of the emperor Tiberius.
- 13. De ea re . . . referendum, that the question should be referred to the senate after the guards had been strengthened; i. e., he favored a postponement of the subject.
- 15. Hujusce modi; i. e., we have the general purport of Caesar's speech, but not his exact words.

16. Patres conscripti, conscript fathers, i. e., senators. The senators were originally called patres, fathers, afterward patres conscripti, i. e., the enrolled fathers, enrolled in the lists of the senate. Some think, upon the authority of Livy II. 1, that the address patres conscripti was originally patres et conscripti, fathers and those who were enrolled with them, and that conscripti was applied to the new members added to the senate on the establishment of the commonwealth.

19. Illa, they; i. e., odium, amicitia, etc.

20. Usui, interest, advantage.—Ubi . . . ingenium, when you have exerted your intellectual powers.

21. Magna . . . memorandi, I might mention many instances in which kings . . . have carried out bad counsels; lit., there is to me great ability of, etc. Quae is the object of consulerint.

27. Populi . . . creverat. For their earlier services to the Romans, they had received the territories of Caria and Lycia.

30. Injuriae, of the injury; i. e., the injury done to us.—Impunitos. This statement is not strictly true, as the Rhodians were deprived of Caria and Lycia.

31. Bellis Punicis; i. e., in the three Punic wars, the last of which resulted in the destruction of Carthage.

33. Per occasionem, when the opportunity offered. This may be the Roman version of the story, but it is certainly not the Carthaginian view.

34. In illos, against them; i. e., against the Carthaginians.

3. Novum consilium, a new measure; i. e., the punishment of death, which could be legally inflicted only by a vote of the people. The senate, however, claimed and exercised the right of declaring martial law in times of great public peril.—Omnium ingenia, all our powers of conception; lit., of all.

4. Eis utendum; supply esse; we must use those. Utendum is impersonal.

6. Composite . . . magnifice, in studied terms and with lofty eloquence.

8. Quae . . . saevitia . . . enumeravere. The first clause depends upon enumeravere only by zeugma. Render: they have shown . . . have enumerated.

10. Pati; supply ea, the omitted antecedent of quae.

33. Eos . . . cognovi, such I have learned, etc.

36. Aliena . . . nostra, foreign to our republic.

37. Injuria ; i. e., your sense of the wrong done the state.

29 4. Id quod res habet, that which the case itself involves ; i. e., the fact as it really is.

5. Aerumnarum requiem, a rest from toils.

6. Ultra neque . . . esse. Caesar does not appear to recognize the doctrine of a future life at all, and yet he was Chief Pontiff of Rome.

8. Uti prius animadverteretur, that punishment should first be inflicted ; impersonal.

9. Lex Porcia. The Porcian law forbade that a Roman citizen should be scourged or put to death without having been allowed the privilege of an appeal to the people.

10. Aliae leges. It is impossible to say to what specific laws Caesar here refers. The Sempronian law, which provided that the punishment of death should not be inflicted upon a Roman citizen without the vote of the people, may have been one of them.—Condemnatis . . . permitti jubent. This seems to imply that a Roman condemned to death was allowed to go into exile ; but we have no positive knowledge of any such statute, though citizens sometimes escaped the death-penalty by going into exile before sentence was pronounced upon them.

13. Facinoris ; G. 410, II.—Sin ; supply from above in sententia non addidisti, uti, etc.—Levius est ; supply verberari.

14. Qui convenit, how is it consistent ?

16. At enim, but, indeed, introducing a supposed objection.

17. Tempus, dies, etc., the opportunity, time, etc. Supply reprehendent. The thought is, that time will show the pernicious influence of our example, if we disregard the law.—Cujus libido, whose caprice.

18. Illis, to them ; i. e., the conspirators.

19. In alios ; i. e., other than the conspirators. The meaning is this: if you inflict upon the guilty an illegal penalty, you establish a dangerous precedent, which in the hands of tyrants may be used against the innocent.

22. Ab dignis, from those who deserve it; i. e., this special punishment.

23. Devictis Atheniensibus; i. e., in the Peloponnesian War, from 431 to 404 B. C.

24. Triginta viros. These are known in history as the Thirty Tyrants.

26. Ea; object of laetari, which usually takes the Abl.

28. Libidinose, at their pleasure.

31. Damasippum. L. Junius Brutus Damasippus, of the Marian faction, after having been guilty of the most inhuman cruelty toward members of the opposite party, was finally put to death by the order of Sulla.—Malo, by the calamity.

34. Necatos; supply esse.

37. Is; referring to alicujus.—In proscriptorum, etc., referring to the proscriptions of Sulla. See note on dominationem Sullae, p. 3, line 27.

2. Trahebantur; i. e., to execution.

3. Atque non, not indeed.

5. Potest falsum . . . credi, some false charge may be believed as true; lit., for true.

6. Alio consule, under another consul; Abl. Absol.

10. Consilii; G. 419, III.

12. Quo minus imitarentur, from imitating; lit., by which they should less imitate.

13. Arma . . . Samnitibus. This statement is only partially true, though qualified by pleraque, which should be taken with arma and tela as well as with insignia. Many of the Roman names of arms are the same as the Greek. The Samnites were a warlike people in the interior of southern Italy.—Insignia magistratum; as, for instance, the curule chair, the fasces, the lictors, etc.

16. Exsequabantur, they adopted; lit., followed out.

17. Graeciae morem imitati. This statement, that the early Roman law borrowed its severity from the Greek, seems not to be supported by any historical evidence.

21. Circumveniri, to be unjustly condemned; lit., circumvented.

24. Quo minus capiamus, why we should not adopt.

27. Bene parta, well earned; i. e., by our fathers.

29. Placet; supply mihî, do I propose?—Eos; i. e., the prisoners.

32. Neu quis, and that no one.—Neu referat. Observe the change of construction after censeo: first the Acc. with Infin., then neu with the Subj., and then again the Acc. with Infin.

 20. Qui mihi . . . gratiam fecissem, as I had never granted pardon to myself, etc. Fecissem; Subj. of Cause. The language here used is eminently characteristic of this remarkable man.
 22. Ea; i. e., ea verba.
 23. Opulentia . . . tolerabat; i. e., the resources of the state were adequate to save it from the consequences of this neglect.
 26. Sed haec, but whether these things; the interrogative particle is omitted.
 27. An . . . hostium, or together with ourselves shall be the property of the enemy.—Hic mihi quisquam, etc. Observe the sarcasm aimed at Caesar.
 31. Eo, by this means. Some construe with extremo.
 33. Ne; construe both with largiantur and with eant.
 36. Bene et composite, etc. Notice the fine irony.
 37. Ea; explained by diverso . . . habere.
- 32 4. Videlicet timens. Irony again, as Cato suspects Caesar of sympathizing with the conspirators.
 5. Conducta, hired.
 7. Non plus possit, was not more powerful. G. 503, II.—Ibi, ubi, there, where; i. e., in the municipal towns where Caesar would keep the prisoners.
 11. Eo magis refert me, it is the more important that I.
 14. Quanto attentius, the more carefully.
 15. Illis, refers to exercitu Catilinae, etc.—Si . . . languere; i. e., if they discover any indication of weakness on your part.

34. Supra caput est; a figurative expression denoting imminent peril; lit., is over our heads; render, is at our very gates.—Quid hostibus faciatis, what will you do with the enemy? G. 434, 2.

35. Misereamini censeo, you should pity them, I suppose; in bitter irony.

37. Ne, yes.

1. In miseriam convertet, will turn to ruin.

33

3. Maxime; supply eam timetis.—Alius . . . expectantes, waiting one for another.

8. Prosperere . . . cedunt, all success is obtained; lit., all things result prosperously.

10. Bello Gallico. According to Livy, this incident occurred in the war with the Latins, 340 B. C.

14. Videlicet . . . eorum, doubtless their previous life; lit., the rest of, etc.; in bitter irony.

15. Obstat, excuses.—Dignitati, the rank, referring to the pretorship.

18. Iterum, for the second time; thus implicating Cethegus in the abortive attempt of Catiline mentioned in chap. 18.

19. Quicquam pensi, any consideration; lit., anything of.

21. Si peccato . . . esset; i. e., if it would be safe to run the risk of making a mistake on the side of clemency; but such a mistake now would be fatal before we could correct it.

24. Faucibus urget, seizes you by the throat. Faucibus, Abl. of Specification.

8. Parvis copiis, with small resources; in contrast with opulentis.
9. Fortunae violentiam; referring to their various disasters and reverses, as in the Punic and Gallic wars.—Facundia. Facundia is eloquence, or the ability to speak with ease and effect; eloquentia is eloquence as an art.
10. Ante fuisse, had surpassed.—Multa agitanti, reflecting much.
11. Paucorum civium, etc. This ingenious explanation has unfortunately little historical value.
12. Divitias paupertas; the abstract for the concrete, wealth for a wealthy people, and poverty for a people without wealth.
14. Rursus, on the contrary.
17. Ingenti virtute; construe with viri.
19. Obtulerat, fuit, etc.; for obtulit, est, etc., as in letters. G. 472, 1.
20. Quin aperirem, without unfolding. G. 498, 3.
22. Genus, family. The Julian gens to which Caesar belonged, and the Porcian to which Cato belonged, were both illustrious.—Aetas. Cato was five years younger than Caesar.
23. Gloria; supply par fuit.—Alia alii = alia gloria alii; i. e., though their glory was equal, it was not the same.
