LEADERS CALL ALL POSTAL WORKERS IN CANADA FROM DUTY AS SALARY PROTEST

Strike Effort Which Began in Toronto and Montreal, Is Made General Throughout Country; Hon. Charles Stewart States Postmasters Are Putting On Men To Work In Places of Strikers

Ottawa, June 19.—The postal strike is to begin at 5 p.m. to-day. Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor has been officially notified by telephone to this effect from Toronto.

Ottawa, June 19.—Definite word that the strike of postal employees would go into effect throughout Canada at 5 o'clock this afternoon was received at the headquarters of the postal clerks here at noon to-day.

Following a meeting of the Cabinet to-day, it was announced that arrangements had been reached between the Postoffice Department and the Civil Service Commission whereby men taken on to replace strikers would be retained in the service if found satisfactory.

Hon. Charles Stewart, Acting Postmaster-General, that postmasters, acting under instructions of last night, have already begun to take men on.

"Does the order issued last night under which postal employees who did not return to work by 10 o'clock this morning were to be discharged from the service still hold good?" Mr. Stewart was asked.

"Yes," he replied. Mr. Stewart stated that, up to the close of the Cabinet meeting, no word had been received from the executive of the Postal Federation as to whether a general strike order would be issued or not.

GOVERNMENT'S OFFER The following official communication was issued at the close of the Cabinet meeting:

"When discussing the postal situation with the executive of the Canadian Federation of Postal Employees yesterday, the Government agreed that in the case of employees whose revised rates as determined by the Civil Service Commission are less than the former rate plus the 1924-25 bonus, such bonus shall be continued until the revision of the entire service has been consummated.

The Government only yesterday officially learned of the objection of the postal employees to the salary rates determined by the Civil Service Commission and was willing to listen to any reasonable objections which the employees had against the rates. While these negotiations were proceeding, employees in Toronto ceased work notwithstanding the agreement of the executive of the Canadian Federation of Postal Employees to suspend any strike action for twenty-four hours.

MEASURES TAKEN The Acting Postmaster-General at the present time has nothing further to say regarding the men of the postal service who have decided to strike. The grave responsibility rests upon those who have so decided. The Government will take the necessary measures to maintain the full service and will protect those who remain in.

Walk Out Declared by Federation But Local Staff Still on Job

Action of Vancouver Men May Govern Victoria Decision

"The strike of postal clerks and postmen is on. The first telegram received yesterday afternoon stating that it had been adjourned for twenty-four hours was false. It purported to be signed by the secretary of the Dominion Postal Association but later in the day we received another signed by the president, past president and secretary stating that the first wire was false and the strike was on from 5 p.m. yesterday." W. E. McLean, president of the Victoria Branch of the Postal Clerks' Association, said this morning.

OUT 100 PER CENT Toronto is out 100 per cent. Montreal is also out and it is believed solid. The Victoria staff is still working as is the Vancouver staff. Mr. McLean has been on the long distance phone with Vancouver and it depends largely on the action taken in Vancouver whether the Victoria staff walks out or not. The carriers and clerks are separate associations but are all included in the Dominion Federation which has declared the strike on. The Federation embraces postal clerks, letter carriers, railway mail clerks, postal porters and transfer agents.

Providence, R.I., June 19.—Chlorine gas was let loose in the Rhode Island Senate Chamber here today after that body had been in session since Tuesday at 2.05 p.m. The factions that had prevented adjournment agreed to an hour's recess in order to clear the gas from the chamber.

When the gas became apparent, senators and spectators became groggy. Soon Senators Sherman, Sanderson and Sharpe, Republicans, and Powers, Democrat, sank into a state of coma and were carried out.

Ten Constituencies in South Africa Still to be Heard From Cape Town, June 19.—With ten districts still to be heard from, the returns from the general election in the Union of South Africa show a majority of twenty-two for the Nationalist-Labor coalition against the Government of General Smuts and the formation of a Ministry under General Hertzog, the Nationalist leader, is regarded as a certainty.

The districts that have reported have given the Nationalists fifty-five seats, the South African (Smuts) Party fifty-one, Labor eighteen, and Independent one. Minister of Finance Burton was defeated in the Ladysmith division. The press as a whole in its editorial comment is congratulating the victorious parties and expressing the hope that all will join in helping the new Government and work for the advancement and development of the Union.

REGRET EXPRESSED London, June 19 (Canadian Press Cable)—Newspapers of all shades of political opinion to-day frankly express their regret at the defeat of General Smuts in the election for the House of Assembly of the Union of South Africa. No one suggests, however, that his defeat will mark his disappearance from the political life of the Dominion.

The Daily News, Liberal, thinks General Smuts has been beaten on issues which have hardly any relation at all to matters of great international importance. The defeat was on old local controversies, it is said, in which his own conduct was by no means above criticism. In pointing out that the new Ministry of General James B. The charge made recently by Colonel Cyrus Peck, V.C., D.S.O., Conservative candidate for The Islands, that the Provincial Party had approached General J. W. Stewart for campaign funds some time ago was supported in a telegram received by Colonel Peck from General Stewart to-day from Montreal.

Colonel Peck made public this message in reply to the statement of Provincial Party leaders that they had not asked General Stewart to assist them.

Interests of Province Demand Decisive Action, Oliver Declares; Electors Must Decide Whether They Want Rate-Fight To Go On Or Not, He Says; Liberals In All Parts of Province Expect Government Victory As Opposition Parties Slump; Strong Vote Against Beer Here Predicted By Party Leaders

The Oliver Government will go before the electors of British Columbia to-morrow assured of re-election by a substantial working majority, according to careful detailed reports received here to-day from every district in British Columbia.

On the eve of the election Premier Oliver himself is absolutely confident of to-morrow's verdict. In the course of a talk with newspaper correspondents to-day, following the receipt of advices from all constituencies, the Premier declared that he expected not only to be re-elected but to have a sufficient majority to make possible vigorous policies and fearless administration.

"All the reports which I have received indicate one result—that the Government will be returned," the Premier said. "These reports square with my own observations in almost all parts of the Province.

"It is vital to the interests of the Province," the Premier added, "that the Government elected to-morrow have a clear working majority. Without such a majority no Government can do really good work. To-morrow's verdict, in the interests of the Province should be decisive and I believe it will be.

"The most important issue involved in the election unquestionably is the transportation rate question. To-morrow the electors must decide whether they want us to carry the rate fight on or not. So important is the fight which the Government has been conducting that all parties have pledged themselves to carry on. That, I feel, is a tribute to the wisdom of the Government's course and an indication that the people intend to elect. The electors will decide for themselves whether they can place more confidence in connection with this fight on a Government which started it and has already got important results on the Conservative Party, which did nothing to secure justice for this Province during its long regime or on the entire Provincial Party. Personally I have no doubt of the result."

Telegrams forecasting Government victory in constituencies all over the Province poured into the Premier's office to-day. From the North came a wire from Hon. P. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands and Liberal candidate in Prince Rupert, asserting that Liberals would be elected in the northern ridings from the Coast to Prince George. Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines and Liberal candidate in Nanaimo, telegraphed that the Government certainly would carry most of the ridings in the West. "A review of the situation," said Mr. Sloan, "assures me that the Government will have a greater majority than after the last election. The conservative situation in this part of Vancouver Island reports are all of so favorable a character that the return of supporters of the Government is conceded."

That the Government is assured of its present seats in the central interior and has a good chance of carrying a number of Conservative ridings was the confident assertion of Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, who is running in Yale. The eastern interior constituencies are safe, Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works and Liberal candidate in Revelstoke, assured the Premier.

The far North has not shifted its allegiance and will support the Government, H. P. Kergin, Liberal candidate in Atlin telegraphed.

Return of six Liberals in Vancouver was predicted by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, on his return from the Terminal City this morning. "Two weeks ago I could not size up the Vancouver situation," Mr. Hart said. "Yesterday after looking over conditions on the mainland, I perceived a decided change. The growing knowledge among the people that the freight rate fight is the paramount election issue of the campaign has rolled up a truly amazing way. Vancouver will vote for the Government, if for no other reason, because it wants lower freight rates and knows John Oliver is the man who can assure them."

Leaders of the Liberal Party in Victoria are elated over the election prospects. The last week, they state, has seen a big gain in the strength of the Liberal candidates here. W. J. Bowser, K.C., leader of the Conservative Party, uttered his customary prediction to-day that the Conservatives would complete a clean sweep of the Province to-morrow.

"I was never more confident of winning an election in my life," said the Conservative leader. "The Government has slumped seriously in the last two weeks and this slump has not helped the Provincials. The voters are going to support the Conservatives. We shall certainly have a clear working majority over both the other parties. There is really nothing in it. I predict that Premier Oliver will not be elected in Victoria and that General McEwen will be defeated in Vancouver where my election, I believe, is conceded by the Liberals."

Mr. Bowser's statement caused amusement to Government leaders who recalled the Conservative leader's predictions of overwhelming victories in 1916 and 1920. Liberals in fact, think that the one impossible result of the present election is a victory for the Conservative Party which is hopelessly split on a dozen different issues and which enters the election badly disorganized.

While politicians generally realize that the Government is going to be returned to-morrow the utmost uncertainty prevails regarding the result of the vote on beer by the glass. An emphatic verdict against beer in Victoria is generally predicted by leaders of all parties. The realization that the sale of beer by the glass in licensed premises means a virtual return of the bar has gained ground here rapidly during the campaign until now it is expected that the majority against beer will be heavy. Women voters are expected to vote solidly against beer as they are opposed to the extension of drinking facilities and are not anxious to encourage beer drinking among boys and girls.

LOOKS TO FIXED MINIMUM FOR WAGES OF BOYS J. B. Clearihue Reviews Industrial Legislation of British Columbia S. J. Drake on Business Stability; Dr. Raynor on Agriculture "I predict a minimum wage for boys," said Joseph B. Clearihue, who is seeking re-election on the Liberal ticket for Victoria, in speaking at Sir James Douglas School last evening in company with S. J. Drake and Dr. M. Raynor, two of the candidates for election here.

Mr. Clearihue was engaged in a review of the industrial legislation of the Oliver administration, and he also showed that at least some solution of the vexatious question of Oriental competition was in sight. Mr. Drake spoke on business progress under the Government, and Dr. Raynor emphasized the conservation of land and timber resources by the Government. REMOVING BUSINESS HANDICAP The "nice personalities" of the Scotchlight about the Government, remarked the theme of an introductory remark by Samuel J. Drake, who said they would value such statements for what they were worth, but they were a disgrace to the party which made them. He asserted that the Liberals were the only party offering a policy, and the Conservative had done no search for the people as the Oliver Government. Conditions had been in a chaotic state after the Great War and yet the Government had done much. The freight rates issue was vital. British Columbia should not (Concluded on page 2.)

"IS B.C. BEHIND OLIVER'S FIGHT?" CANADA ASKS TO-DAY

"Who is this man, John Oliver?"

All over Canada that question is being asked to-day. And across the Dominion, from here to Halifax, Canadians are wondering whether the people of British Columbia are behind this vigorous, manly figure who has dared the interests which are supposed to make or break governments in his fight for Western Canada's rights.

In John Oliver the people of the West see the one man who sums up their aspirations, their demand for an equal opportunity with the East. An amazing development in Western Canadian politics—the emergency of the British Columbia Premier as the acknowledged and recognized champion of the West. A few years ago John Oliver was only the rough-and-ready head of British Columbia's Government—"Honest John," a simple, homely Englishman. To-day he is unquestionably the outstanding public man of the West of the Great Lakes, the man to whom the other provincial governments in that enormous territory look as their leader in a united fight against crushing transportation costs. "Is British Columbia behind this man Oliver?" Canada asks to-day. To-morrow will answer that question and the answer will decide definitely whether the West is to remain united in its great fight or not. The defeat of John Oliver to-morrow would mean the collapse of the new entente between British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, an entente which eventually must accomplish the end it seeks—full opportunity for Western development.

John Oliver is the man who made that entente and upon the personality and influence of John Oliver its existence depends. John Oliver forged that union single-handed—rallied the whole West in a way that it has never rallied before. The West has suddenly realized that it has found at last a leader who understands its needs and knows how to fight for them. Travel across the Canadian prairies and you will find that John Oliver is known as well in every farmhouse as he is in his own Province.

"Who is this man John Oliver?" Eastern Canada is asking. Well, few there are who can answer that question fully, for John Oliver has suffered the fate of all public men—he has been surrounded by a haze of rumor, conjecture, abuse, praise. The average British Columbia knows John Oliver only as he sees him on the platform or in the Legislature—a dominate figure in any gathering, a fearless fighter, a man who hews to the line wherever the chips may fall. Those who see the Premier every day, behind the scenes, know that there is another side to John Oliver—a side which the electors do not understand—a sunny philosophical disposition which has carried this man through eight years of struggle and strife without a mark.

These few men who really know the Premier realize, too, that the John Oliver who fights the West's fight to-day is not the same John Oliver who took over the government of this country in the last year. John Oliver has changed, his ideas have changed. The fight for justice for the West is a thing which has grown upon him as it has grown upon the people of the West. When he started his appeal for lower freight rates he did not know the magnitude of the task he had undertaken. He did not realize that he was laying the foundation of a broad Western policy. He did not expect to find himself at the head of the whole West with the whole West depending upon him. These things have developed with the passage of time and John Oliver has developed with them.

A new issue, a new policy has thus evolved—an issue which overshadows every other consideration in the present election. To-morrow the people of British Columbia must decide one way or the other whether they stand with John Oliver in his fight or not. The question is clear-cut and cannot be evaded. To repudiate John Oliver is to repudiate his long struggle while to be still undecided is for John Oliver and to no one else can the West look at this time. It is John Oliver's fight.

COALITION'S LEAD IS TWENTY-TWO

(Continued from page 1.) will be dependent on the Labor votes in the Assembly for support. The Daily Chronicle is of the opinion that the British element among the Labor members should prevent anything extreme being done which would rouse racial feelings or in the direction of secession, as the maintenance of the British connection is one of the main planks in the Labor Party's platform.

PREMATURE APPEAL The Daily Mail compares the defeat of Smuts with what overtook Stanley Baldwin in Great Britain last December, for the electors, it declares, resented what they considered a premature appeal. While the Nationalists have shown no enthusiasm in the past for the Empire tie, the Mail thinks it would be a grave mistake to regard them as being disloyal or hostile to the British connection. The Morning Post is of the opinion that the Empire issue was irrelevant to the election, and that Hertzog will be as good as his word in cultivating the cordial relationship of the British Empire.

Charles Stewart, Acting Postmaster-General, stated at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon that no reply had yet been received from the executive of the Postal Workers' Federation to the proposals for averting the strike submitted by the Government yesterday.

AT WORK IN WINNIPEG Winnipeg, June 19.—Officials here of the postal workers' organizations declared this afternoon there would be no strike to-day of the postal employees in Winnipeg. T. J. Kneebone, secretary of the Railway Mail Clerks' Association, said he had no request from the East to call out his men. The executive committee of the local branch of the mail clerks' association will meet late this afternoon to discuss the situation. Throughout the West postal staffs were still working in full force at 6 o'clock this afternoon. RAILWAY CLERKS Toronto, June 19.—Official directions were sent out this afternoon by Gordon R. Jackson, president of the Railway Mail Clerks' Association, to district unions all over Canada calling the strike of clerks at 5 p.m. to-day, or when the runs of the men on duty at that hour were completed.

pay excessive figures for its eastern business. How was it possible to justify that cost to the Coast 2 1/2 cents per hundred for export wheat from Calgary, but if it were to be eaten it would cost 4 1/2 cents per hundred? What reason was there for such a condition?

Until British Columbia came on a fair footing it could not prosper, Mr. Drake said. The directors of the eastern corporations declared that British Columbia business men should stay west of the Rockies and leave the grain situation to them. He alluded to the critical condition in the fruit trade and said it must be saved, and only lower rates could do it.

Mr. Drake repeated his statement of the previous evening that the British Columbia government was doing more for the municipalities than any other western province, in grants and subsidies, and asserted that the people who were managing the affairs of the city, after receiving from the Government four times as much help as any other city, yet were asking for more, while complaining that the finances of the city were in bad shape. Let them first put their own house in order.

AGRICULTURAL PROGRESS
The social legislation of the Oliver Government had received adequate recognition, Mr. Raynor stated. Turning to the agricultural question, the candidate spoke of what the Government had done for agriculture. Dr. Raynor said that he was reared on a farm, and graduated at Queen's Agricultural College before he went into medicine. Therefore he felt competent to discuss the subject. Illustrating what the Government had done, he pointed out the lands along the G. T. P. Railway had been subdivided and they broke up the speculators' control along that line during the preceding administration. By the Government of having something done, 60,000 to 70,000 acres had been brought in to agricultural production. The Sumas reclamation and in answering that statement, he quoted Hon. E. D. Barrow in his opinion on June 7 to show what a valuable reclaimed area would be available. Something beside cost had to be considered, because the ultimate value had to be ascertained, he quoted W. L. Macken, president of the associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia, who praised the enterprise.

cent, and statistics showed the number of Orientals employed in B.C. were gradually decreasing each year. "Either more white people are engaged or we are getting fewer Orientals," he argued.
The Liberal Party was pledged to resist the efforts of the big corporations to corner their resources and was the people for whom they cared. With such a policy, he would secure people worthy of the Pacific Coast, and a province worthy of Canada.
IN 1916 AND NOW
W. M. Ivel, who occupied the chair, pointed out that the Oliver Government had come into power at a time when the Province was practically bankrupt, and when the bonds of the Province were almost unobtainable. He pointed out how they had changed since that time, and believed that if times were good Mr. Oliver would have no difficulty in fighting the election, but unfortunately such was not the case, although B.C. was in better shape today, with the exception of Quebec, any province in Canada. No remedy could be expected until the financial conditions of Europe were readjusted, which would react on Canada and back to B.C. Some of the factors which operated against the Province included the present banking system centred in Montreal and Toronto, which prevented an effective local banking system coming into being. Such a system had improved the condition of the United States, where a local banking system had placed the borrowers in direct touch with the bankers who knew local conditions.

OTHER ASPECTS

Dr. Raynor proceeded to argue that agricultural production was increasing rapidly in British Columbia. One of the valuable works was co-operative marketing, which had been fostered. Aid in agricultural education had been given, stimulating interest in agriculture. The teaching of scientific agriculture had been pursued through all the high schools. He thought such a plan would be beneficial in the future.
REAFFORESTATION
Turning on to the lumber question, he asserted that the greatest necessities was a re-afforestation policy. "This assures not only the development of the present, but takes care of the future, for those who will succeed us. We must have that some of this is saved, conserved and developed for those who will come after. I feel that the Liberals are showing more interest than the Conservatives in this. A Liberal candidate is asked to be returned to conserve both our human and natural resources." A sentiment which was received with cheers.
LIBERALS AND INDUSTRY
One of the foundations of Liberalism in all countries, said Joseph H. Clearhue, was the principle of equality of privilege to all. He believed he could rightly claim for the Oliver Government that it had lived up to its policy. They had advised the Department of Labor to their administration, sixteen labor bureaux had been established, as well as the minimum wage for women human had protected the working women, which the Eight-hour Day Act, improved conditions for returned soldiers' employment, and brought pressure on Ottawa to encourage industrial exclusion. Many disputes of industrial character had been settled through the department, and had it been in existence in 1913 it would have avoided the Island colliery troubles and the throwing of men fighting for principle into jail.

GRAIN MOVEMENT

Coming to freight rates, Mr. Ivel said they had paid heavily for equalization of rates, as promised in confederation. He therefore welcomed the present effort. Examining the claim that the Conservatives had begun the agitation, Mr. Ivel said Sir Richard McBride had never come forward with equalization of rates. He pointed out that the grain belt of Alberta and Saskatchewan had resulted in the shipment of large quantities of grain with the present facilities available. Lower rates would eventually mean that Victoria would come into its own. He doubted that Victoria would suffer from its insular position as some of the candidates of New York and San Francisco did the bulk of their business by car ferry. The Canadian National Railways was looking for a port on the southern end of Vancouver Island, and there was no reason why the port of Victoria should not be that port.
He appealed to the audience to vote for a Liberal Government at Ottawa as now and a Liberal Government here sympathetic to the Federal Government would be beneficial to this city.

LOWER TARIFFS

Commenting on Dr. Raynor's remarks, Mr. Ivel declared that the Dominion Government had done much by its lower tariff to aid the return of people from abroad to Canada, which in turn had helped to the lap by lowering the duty on machinery and in similar ways.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Speaking of the Eight-hour Day Act, he said the Liberal Government had very carefully drawn the act to prevent unfairness to both employers and employees, and he hoped by January 1, 1925, would have worked out a satisfactory solution. Not only had the Government employed returned soldiers itself, but it had campaigned for the employment of returned soldiers in private industry. There were many letters on file with regard to this situation, thanking the department for the removal of Victoria ex-service clubs.

RACE TRACK WAGES

To the Editor—Having been employed at the race track since April last at $2.20 per day, and after reading the Hon. T. Coventry's statement that we all get $4, could anyone inform me how and where to collect the balance, which in my case would amount to $18, which I can ill-afford to lose?

MR. TWIGG'S BILL

To the Editor—To my surprise I noticed a statement in this morning's Colonist issued by Major Twigg, one to the effect that he never submitted a bill for his services in connection with the Royal Commission on pensions (very clever statement indeed).
It may be true Major Twigg did not submit the "Bill"—this may have been done by his assistant, who by the way sent in a bill for $135 for his services. Space will not permit me to give all the items on his account but one or two should be sufficient—such as 4 trips to Vancouver, 8 days, $50 per day, $200; $200; loan of typewriter $5.00. I mention this just to show nothing was overlooked. This account was submitted to the central committee in Vancouver without the knowledge (at that time) of the Victoria returned men, and on the face of this bill was sent to practically every returned men's organization in Victoria and finally his bill was larger than all the other advocates put together. No, Despard, they know you now.

WHAT SAANICH GOT

To the Editor—I noticed a letter in The Colonist dated June 17 by a Mr. J. Evans, stating that when the Saanich returned men's organization Premier Oliver as a delegation to ask for financial aid for the district, it was not only refused, but this diplomatic statement told them to go and stew in their own juice. Why are so many wicked lies and false statements in the papers?
Let us see what money Saanich got from the Government this year—
$13,000 for roads.
$10,000 for silwage.
$10,000 for wine growers.
$25,000 for loan to Beach-Eakin to enable this firm to take the spare berries from Saanich for jam-making. Total $48,000.
Does Mr. Evans think this insufficient for Saanich to receive from the Government for one year? I hope the Saanich people remember the time when the ride range was being constructed, when it was impossible for a Liberal to get a job on this work as regards taxation, the Conservatives state that the taxation was heavy since the Liberal Government came into power. I am paying taxes direct to the Government and I have always thought them very low indeed.
For instance, I have 120 acres and have been paying only $15 per year. A few months ago the Government reduced all the taxes on land to one half, now I only pay $7.50. What do you think I would be paying with 120 acres if I were living in Saanich? Why, about $150 not a cent less.
Another thing the Conservatives state is that they intend to help the farmers and berry-growers.
Let us see what the Liberal Government has done for the Farmers. They have reduced their taxes by one half.
To the berry-growers they have lent

LEST WE FORGET

To the Editor—Captain Tatlow when he died left a legacy of $25,000.00 in the bank to the credit of the Province. Mr. Bowers in his criticism said that it was bad management and financing, that amount should be put in circulation as it was. He did not forget his friends. The same kind of forgetting of other people's money was the purchase of that historical bunch of rock ostensibly for a courthouse at $75,000.00, and of no value now. Again he did not forget his friends. Bowers is a splendid specimen of financing or finessing.

TO-MORROW

TO-MORROW the electors will decide who shall administer the affairs of the Province for the next term. They will have an unusually wide field from which to make their selection...

The Times submits that on its record the Oliver Government is entitled to expect a return to power. No other administration has had to contend with so many adverse conditions for which it was not responsible.

It was confronted with the problem of restoring the credit of the Province, impaired by its predecessors, which on the testimony of the highest financial authorities in Canada it has been able to do.

It had to meet the demands of our returned soldiers backed up by the pressure of the public for land settlement projects, help for industrial enterprises and other undertakings, all of which cost a lot of money but which in many instances will prove reproductive.

Notwithstanding these burdens it has been able to make several important steps in the direction of reducing taxation, while the taxation of the cities in most instances has been increased.

The social legislation of the Government, with particular reference to women and the home, surpasses anything in scope and character that has been attempted in this Province before. This is an eloquent tribute to the growing influence of women upon government in this country and they are entitled to look for further expressions of this interest.

Our readers are familiar with the sturdy battle of the Hon. John Oliver on the freight rates issue. There is not an organization in the Province interested in our commercial well-being which does not recognize the importance and effectiveness of his efforts and which has not enrolled itself behind him in his campaign for better freight rates between British Columbia and the East.

The alternative to the return of the Government is the election of either Conservatives or Provincials. In the case of the former this would mean the restoration of the Bowser Government which was overwhelmingly rejected in 1916 for the very best reasons. In the case of the Provincials we would have a Government under the leadership of General McRae which on the face of it would mean a costly experiment.

The safest and soundest course for the electors to pursue is to return the Oliver Government. The wisest course for the voters of Victoria to take is to mark their ballots for the Hon. John Oliver, Jos. Clearhue, Samuel Drake and Dr. Raynor.

SAANICH AND ESQUIMALT

SAANICH will look to its own interests to-morrow. It will give Mr. Pauline the requisite majority. It naturally prefers to have experience and influence in the Legislature. It is too progressive a community to indulge in experiments where its future prosperity is concerned.

Esquimalt should mark its cross against the name of Mr. Carlow. As a progressive Liberal of exceptional energy he will be able to exert influence which will give the neighboring township the effective representation its importance and possibilities demand.

The electors of The Islands will remember the services which Mr. M. B. Jackson, K.C., has rendered to his constituency since his victory at the polls in 1916. His ability in debate, his unceasing energy in behalf of every progressive movement, his untiring and unselfish labors in support of the development of British Columbia as a whole, have marked him out as one of the most useful public servants this Province possesses.

WELCOME NEWS

IF Premier Oliver is able to come to satisfactory terms with the British financiers who are contemplating the purchase of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway he will have done an exceedingly valuable stroke of business for this Province.

Ever since it became necessary for the Government to step in and save the property upon which so much of the people's money had been spent without promise of return, the obvious course to take was its disposal if adequate terms could be arranged.

With its own hands full of railway troubles it was not to be expected that the Dominion Government would jump at any chance to increase its financial load. In the meantime, however, the Oliver Administration has very wisely regarded the property as convertible into a producing asset, and its policy of development and improvement during the last few years has justified that optimistic outlook and has brought the road to a condition of practical interest to possible purchasers.

None better than Premier Oliver realizes the wisdom of offering satisfactory inducements to any bona fide syndicate which would purchase the road and undertake the development of the territory which it has been designed to serve. Yesterday's advances on the progress of the negotiations which Agent-General Wade has carried on in London will be extremely welcome news to the people of this Province.

SUPPORT OLIVER AND GET LOWER FREIGHT RATES

SOME of the critics of the Government expect to be taken seriously when they charge Premier Oliver with trotting out the freight rates issue as an election cry.

Apartment from the stupidity of this jibe at efforts which already have brought many advantages to British Columbia—with the promise of many more—the great majority of the electorate know that Mr. Oliver started his agitation for more equitable terms as long ago as 1907. Ever since that time he has used every possible opportunity to keep British Columbia's claim before the proper authorities at Ottawa.

If there are any among the Government's critics who still imagine that the freight rates issue is only in its infancy, they had better study the following resolution which Mr. Oliver moved in the Legislature seventeen years ago:

Whereas by section 11 of the Terms of Union the Government of the Dominion undertook to secure the construction of a line of railway to connect the seaboard of British Columbia with the railway system of Canada:

And whereas large areas of public lands belonging to the Province of British Columbia have been conveyed to the Dominion Government in furtherance of the said railway:

And whereas the benefits to be derived from the construction of the said railway was one of the inducements which led to the Union of British Columbia with the other Provinces of Canada, as well as for the conveyance to the Dominion Government of the public lands of the Province as aforesaid:

And whereas the railway above referred to is national in its character, and as such has received a very large measure of assistance of public moneys and lands; And whereas it was contemplated at the time of the Union of British Columbia with the other Provinces of Canada that there should be any discrimination in freight and passenger rates between one locality and other localities, or between one Province and any other Province; And whereas numerous complaints have from time to time been made by various Boards of Trade in British Columbia, to the effect that existing freight rates discriminate against cities in British Columbia:

And whereas the Board of Railway Commissioners have ordered a reduction of passenger rates to three cents per mile upon all railways between Calgary and the Atlantic:

And whereas the passenger rates charged upon railways in British Columbia is in excess of three cents per mile; And whereas such excess is a discrimination detrimental to the best interests of British Columbia, as it tends to prevent development and the influx of population:

Therefore, be it Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, praying that he will cause a full representation of the facts to be made to the Government of the Dominion and to the Board of Railway Commissioners, to the end that British Columbia may be placed in as favorable condition in respect to freight and passenger rates as are other portions of the Dominion.

Mr. Pooley says "we are jolly well going to get lower freight rates whether John Oliver is Premier of British Columbia or not." Mr. Bowser no doubt echoes these sentiments; but the people are naturally suspicious about this sudden interest. If the inequality in the matter of freight rates was an obvious detrimental factor to British Columbia's development in 1907, when Mr. Oliver launched his campaign—and, of course, it was—the people inquire what Mr. Bowser and Mr. Pooley have been doing to help along the Premier's good work in the meantime. They find no trace of assistance.

Consequently when the elector is asked to put Mr. Oliver out and Mr. Bowser in, he is being asked to leave the freight rate question, easily his most important concern, in hands that have been idle on the job since 1907. Repudiating Mr. Oliver now means the repudiation of his whole work for better terms.

Put Oliver in and run no risk of a stalemate.

The solid Liberal four for Victoria should be the lead for the rest of the Province.

Bowser had his chance. The people put him out in 1916 and made sure that he was kept out in 1920. There will be no change to-morrow.

Surely the people of British Columbia, who are looking forward to the equalization of freight rates, will not repudiate the whole campaign by repudiating Premier Oliver. The defeat of his Government would mean that.

Do not be misled by side issues. The main thing for the people of British Columbia to do to-morrow is to send the Oliver Administration back to office in order that this Province may cash in on its first-class credit and get new money and people for development.

Earl of Selkirk Planted Outpost of Empire

THE Earl of Selkirk, philanthropist, becoming a shareholder of the Hudson's Bay Company, engineered a sale to himself of 116,000 square miles of territory drained by the Assiniboine and Red Rivers, which is now the Province of Manitoba. His purpose was unselfish—to plant there a colony, an outpost of empire on the fertile plains, which should give to the unfortunate, the dispossessed, the oppressed of his native Scotland a chance of freedom and of competence. The great North West Fur Company, with headquarters in Montreal, bitterly opposed the plan, inasmuch as they denied the validity of the Hudson's Bay Company claim to any of this territory of the prairies, and were convinced that a colony under the wing of the Hudson's Bay Company on the Red River would cut their lines in two from Athabasca, whence the best of the great quantity of furs came to Montreal. They determined to resist with force.

The colony, conveyed in Hudson's Bay Company ships, landed at York Factory at the mouths of the Nelson River and Hayes River, stayed there the winter of 1811-1812, and plodding up the Hayes River to Lake Winnipeg, arrived at the junction of the Assiniboine and Red Rivers on August 30, 1812. For their first winter in the promised land their life was peaceful and their relations with the North West Company officers and men, who had as yet received no instructions from Montreal, were amicable. The second winter showed the North West propagandists that French and half-breeds against them. Two additional parties of colonists arrived meanwhile.

The North West Company's annual meeting at Fort William in July of 1814 determined to take action to remove the colonists from the land. Duncan Cameron, Canadian of Scotch ancestry, then colonized the Red River, then ranging along the Canadian border, took charge at the North West Company, Fort Gibraltar, at the fork of the Assiniboine and Red Rivers. He spoke Gaelic and undermined the authority of Lord Selkirk's Governor, Macdonell. Finally, after use of both persuasion and terrorization, he managed to arrest the Governor and send him to Montreal. Then he enticed away in 1815 to Upper Canada two-thirds of the settlers to place them for the most part on the shores of Lake Simcoe. The remaining colonists, at his instigation, were driven north to Lake Winnipeg by armed half-breeds, North West Company retainers. The ground was thus wiped bare again.

THAT Autumn a fourth contingent came from Scotland and up from York Factory to the Red River under Governor Semple. The refugees joined them and the colony was revived. Duncan Cameron, in his return, was arrested and sent to Fort Gibraltar, was seized and razed. The Governor forbade the export of provisions from the country, thus hitting the North West stations farther west. He was taking a high-handed line for a man without troops and relying solely on acknowledgment of his legal right by every one affected. The North Westers offered no conditions to clear the colonists out again, one of traders from Fort William, one of wild half-breeds from the banks of the Qu'Appelle, two hundred miles west of the settlement.

The half-breeds were led by Cuthbert Grant. Stripped and painted many of them, all were armed, prepared for bloodshed. Late in the afternoon of June 19, 1816, these were passing the Hudson's Bay Company, Fort Douglas, to join the party from the East. Governor Semple, afraid they might molest the settlers, rode out with a few of his staff and men, twenty-seven in all, to meet them. Gone a little way, he sent back for a brass cannon at the fort. There was a party. The half-breed Bouchard was insolent to the Governor, who himself was not conciliatory. "Arrest him!" shouted the Governor, over confident in the prestige of the law. Crash! the half-breeds' muskets spoke. The Governor fell wounded. A half-breed finished him. Others fell; it became a massacre. Twenty were killed and one was maimed. The muskets were not loaded. Governor Semple would have it so that there might be no firing. Six men were saved, three by flight amid the confusion, three by surrender to those they knew. Some one or two of the Governor's party had alone been able to fire, for one Norwester half-breed was killed and one was maimed. There on the field, still called Seven Oaks, not far from the heart of the city of Winnipeg, lay the bodies, savagely stripped of clothes, horribly mutilated by the wild half-breed riders, till birds and beasts had left but skeletons.

Thus was the settlement of the fair Province of Manitoba baptized in blood. The onset of guilt lay at the doors of the partners of the North West Company, no matter how unwise, untaught had been the course of Governor Semple. All seemed over now. Fort Douglas was surrendered to the victorious Nor-westers. The colony was dispersed northward again. But help was at hand. Before many months had passed Lord Selkirk had arrived, recaptured the place and re-established his colonies.

SMALL-TOWN TROUBLES From The Kansas City Star In spite of all our efforts to simplify life in the small town, it grows more perplexing. One young woman who lives in a town where there are no lady hair-cutters in the beauty shops reports that after she had canvassed the whole town and found the man who does the best single-bob in the community, the barber promptly proceeded to get himself into jail for bootlegging.

IRISH UNITY From The London Evening Standard The people of Great Britain desire above all things that the two Irish Governments shall subsist in amicable relations with each other. They have, under the new constitution, every opportunity of accomplishing this, even under conditions of formal division. Whether there exists in the two Irelands that quiet measurable degree of statesmanship which should realize this ideal remains, of course, to be seen. But the possibility of successful cooperation are obviously diminished if either Irish Government imagine that it can, by producing trouble, compel the British Government to take sides.

MILLIONS FOR THE WATERFRONT

THE "GATEWAY OF THE PACIFIC" IS MADE OF B.C. LUMBER

How Forest Industries Maintain Seaports of the Province.

BRITISH COLUMBIA has been called the "Gateway of the Pacific," but there can be no denying the fact that this portal is built of B.C. lumber and our forest products are the principal material that pass through it.

British Columbia is a maritime province and its port facilities constitute its most necessary trading equipment.

To what extent are our waterfronts dependent on the timber industries for their efficient maintenance?

During last year between 500 and 600 vessels (deep sea and foreign coastwise) carried lumber cargoes out of British Columbia ports. It is estimated that each one of these vessels means $1000.00 spent in the Province.

One billion feet of logs came through the Narrows at Vancouver, paying another $50,000 to the upkeep of the harbor.

About 130 tug boats are employed in towing logs and lumber scows. Over $1,000,000 is paid in wages to the crews of these vessels and the maintenance of sixty of these tug boats, at least, is a direct charge on the industry.

Immense scows are engaged in loading lumber vessels, the building and maintenance of these costs many thousands of dollars. Loading lumber, logs and shingles on to vessels is a skilled job and an expensive one. It provides a pay roll of over $1,000,000 per annum to the longshoremen in British Columbia ports.

The waterfront of Vancouver is a very lively place and our visitors are greatly impressed at the busy aspect of the harbor. The main source of its activity is without doubt the lumber industry of British Columbia.

MRS. BUTCHART IDEAL HOSTESS TO CANADIAN CLUB

Women's Club Members Enjoyed Delightful Garden Party Yesterday

With brilliant sunshine to add the finishing touch of perfection to the lovely setting and the genial hospitality of the hostess as a delightful concomitant, the Women's Canadian Club garden party at "Benvenuto" yesterday afternoon proved an ideal finale to a successful season.

Nearly 400 members of the club and their friends attended the gathering and spent a delightful afternoon wandering through this enchanted garden, while Mrs. Butchart's kindness in throwing open her charming home gave the guests a delightful opportunity of enjoying the beauties of the garden.

A delightful feature was the programme of dances given by the graceful little pupils of Miss Gladys Thorne. In the natural amphitheatre formed by the croquet lawn, with a wall of roses as a background, the children looked like brilliant flowers in their dainty costumes and the big throng of spectators showed enthusiastic appreciation of the skill of the little dancers. The stately minuet was danced by the Misses Betty Gielma, Hazel Clyde, Claire Mac-Giolma, Evelyn Ross, Winnie Abbott and Aagot Archbold in Louise Setze costume. The Misses May Cull, Helen Bonita, Phyllis McIn-tosh, Susan Davidson, Gladys Lindsay, Veda Greenwood presented a Grecian dance with much grace. The Misses Betty Gielma, May Cull and Helen Bonita were charming as the three Graces, and little Bonita Ross, Susan Davidson, Phyllis Wrayley and Phyllis McIntosh were victorious as airy as their namesakes in their Butterfly dance.

Between the dances, songs were beautifully sung by the Misses Eileen and Audrey, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Walsh Nasmith at the piano and Mr. Tickie, violinist, accompanying the vocal and dance numbers.

Afternoon tea was served on the tree-shaded lawn east of the house. Mrs. Frank Calvert having charge of this popular feature, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Gee, Mrs. R. R. Taylor, Mrs. Maybush, Mrs. MacFarlane, Mrs. H. Perry, Mrs. E. Adams, the Misses Flo Paterson, Helen Strath, Lotie Bowron, Clearhaze and Smallwood, Miss Cann and a party of helpers sold ice cream. Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw, Mrs. Walter Scott and Mrs. P. B. Scourrah sold the tea tickets.

Travelling pressed a popular pastime, and Mrs. W. H. Brown, Mrs. Wright and Miss Agnew had many clients.

Transportation facilities were excellent. Mrs. S. J. White having organized a fleet of private automobiles to convey the visitors to and from the station at Tod Inlet, a courtesy which was much appreciated.

Garden Fete

A garden fete was held at the Agatha School, Saanich Road, on Wednesday, which was well attended, and a very pleasing programme was presented by the pupils. Great credit is due to Mrs. Large in the fine showing her pupils have made in the short nine weeks since she opened her school, Mrs. C. T. Miller, music and dancing mistress, is to be congratulated on the graceful and clever dancing of the children in the little play, "The Fairy Ring."

George Jay Pupils in Fine Display

Nearly 500 pupils of the George Jay School resident in the pretty flower costumes which they wore in the May 24 parade, gave a spectacular display of drills and dances yesterday afternoon in the grounds of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital. In the brilliant sunshine the verdant lawns and fine old trees formed a fitting background to the children who gave the impression of living flowers as they danced and went through their evolutions with much grace and precision.

The delightful affair attracted a large number of visitors. Throughout the afternoon the Daughters of Pity served tea to many patrons, thus raising a substantial sum towards their children's ward.

On arrival with their teachers the children paraded around the cricket ground to the applause of the on-lookers. The later programme included the Scottish dances, the dance of the tulips, the crocuses and all the other flowers represented in the striking costumes. The teachers of the school and the kiddies are to be warmly congratulated upon the success of their commendable enterprise.

THE JINGLE BOB

Is becoming an ever word, but it is important to remember that the combing and brushing of long hair actually stimulates the scalp, while with bobbed hair this stimulation is lacking.

If hair is bobbed, frequent massaging of the scalp is absolutely necessary and special results are obtained by applying a small quantity of Newbro's Herpicide with this stimulation.

Pure and clean, without stain or dye. Herpicide may be used with absolute confidence, to stimulate the scalp, prevent dandruff and falling hair, and as an aid to hair-health and beauty. On sale at all drug counters.

SHIPBUILDING IN JAPAN IS NOW AT ITS LOWEST EBB

Shipbuilders Laid Off and Factories Close as Result of Importations

The depression in the Japanese shipbuilding industry is at its worst, now that importation of steamers to that country is virtually suspended as the result of the depression of the exchange rates. It was learned on the arrival of the Empress of Russia from the Orient.

The shipbuilding business once prospered through the successive importation of second-hand foreign ships which had to undergo necessary repairs at shipyards before they could get certificates of seaworthiness from the Government.

Foreign ships amounting to 400,000 tons imported so far to Japan have undergone repairs and the shipbuilders shared the profits accruing therefrom.

To make matters worse, the demand for by-products at Japanese shipyards has also been temporarily suspended and naturally the manufacture of revolving furnaces for cement, wooden and steel furniture, rolling stocks, hydraulic electric poles, water tubes, bridges and motors is depressed with the decrease of new orders.

The entire shipbuilding capacity of the country is 600,000 tons for the sixty building berths installed in all shipyards but there are only about 150,000 tons of steamers and warships being built at private shipyards throughout the country at present.

Leading shipyards such as the Kawasaki Dockyard Company of Mitsubishi shipbuilding yard, in Kobe and Nagasaki, were building stock-boats with the object of keeping expert shipwrights in employment but they realized that purchase orders for stock-boats were very few and have suspended further construction of such boats. A large number of even such experts have been dismissed from their employment under such condition.

The long prevailing business slump caused many shipyards to suspend or abandon their shipbuilding programmes during the past two years. There are now only twenty-four ships under construction in Japan.

SPECIAL RATES FOR FLEET'S VISIT PUT ON ANGELES FERRY

Puget Sound Navigation Company Announces Week-End Rates

In view of the fact that the British Empire Special Service Squadron will arrive here Saturday afternoon the Puget Sound Navigation Company is putting on special excursion rates from Port Angeles to Victoria on the new ferry service being maintained by the S.S. Olympic. Advice to this effect was received to-day by E. E. Blackwood, local representative, from W. B. Mitchell, general manager of the company.

People from Seattle, Tacoma and other Puget Sound ports and Port Angeles will avail themselves of this opportunity to see the world's largest battleship H.M.S. Hood and the other ships of the Special Service Squadron.

The Olympic leaves Port Angeles at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, and it is expected that her accommodation for 1,000 passengers will be taxed to capacity. The special fares are for Saturday and Sunday only so that those coming over on the Saturday morning boat may stay here and return to Port Angeles on the 3:30 run on Sunday afternoon.

Reports from the local agents indicate that the Olympic is experiencing a very satisfactory season so far. Many tourists are using the Olympic Highway and Port Angeles ferry route to Victoria.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 1924 Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where banks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower low water.

SUEZ CANAL HAS PROSPEROUS YEAR

Total of 4,621 Ships of 22,730,162 Gross Tons Passed Through Canal

In the annual report on traffic through the Suez Canal it is shown that this route still continues to prosper. The canal has made a fine recovery, after the exceptional difficulties of the war period. The net tonnage which passed through the Canal last year was again substantially higher than that in 1922, and the dividend is increased. A very handsome addition is made to the Extraordinary Reserve Fund, formed in 1920, and a good balance is carried forward. Incidentally, the annual report shows the predominance of the British Mercantile Marine in the traffic through the Canal. The number of vessels of all nationalities which passed through the Canal last year was 4,621, of 22,730,162 tons. British vessels numbered 2,839, representing 14,547,414 tons. Dutch shipping ranked next with 451 vessels, of 2,178,058 tons, and French shipping came third with 285 vessels, of 1,244,400 tons. Germany with 247 vessels, of 1,213,691 tons. Considering the loss to Germany of her mercantile marine after the war, the present German figures make a very good showing. The British Empire Exhibition at Wembley provides another reminder of the importance to this country of the little strip of water known as the Suez Canal. All though there are other routes to the East, the Suez Canal must always remain an extremely important factor in the communications between this country and the Far East. The P. & O. heads the list among British users with the largest number of passages, and the Elderman Lines rank second.

Packard Straight-Eight Owners Endorse Union Non-Detonating Gasoline

A Gasoline

That Reflects the Highest Possible Credit

Every Door Opens into a Laboratory

This is one of the many hallways in the Research Building of the Union Oil Company at Wilmington, California. There are three full floors and 30 separate laboratory-rooms. The general appearance and atmosphere are those of a University building. Scientific research is the sole activity of many highly experienced chemists and engineers who are constantly carrying on their experiments in this modern laboratory.

THE effort of the Union Oil Company is always to produce the very finest-quality gasoline—a fuel that will, in use, reflect the highest possible credit to its producers.

To this end every known kind and grade of gasoline is analyzed, studied and compared through definite tests in a great laboratory given over to scientific research.

If improvements are suggested in this way they are made immediately in Union Gasoline.

Union Gasoline has the quality of non-detonation which means the elimination of "knocking" on hills, and in slow, heavy pulls, quicker acceleration, and a smoother, more vibrationless speed.

When the motorist uses Union he knows that this is the gasoline which will yield complete satisfaction.

Late Cecil Johnson Was Popular Member of The Times Staff

Councillor Cecil Horace Johnson of Oak Bay passed away at an early hour this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of six weeks, his death coming as a great shock to his many friends and business associates, with whom he was very popular.

The late Mr. Johnson was born in England in 1882 and came to Victoria with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson, nineteen years ago. Since December, 1918, he has been a member of The Times mechanical staff, serving in a similar capacity with The Colonist following the resignation of three councillors on the local improvement issue.

In April he took his seat on the Oak Bay Council, elected on a by-election following the resignation of three councillors on the local improvement issue.

The late Mr. Johnson was an active member of the Centennial Methodist Church, being a member of the choir and other organizations connected with the church. He was also a member of Britannia Lodge A.P. and A.M.

During the war he served in France with the mechanical branch of the Royal Flying Corps.

He was married four years ago and is survived by his widow, one son, Leonard, at the family residence 1068 Oliver Street; his parents and Mrs. E. J. Johnson, residing at 2144 Eiden Place; also an aunt, Mrs. E. S. Millie, of Los Angeles, and an uncle, Walter Finndell, of this city. The remains are resting at the Sands Funeral Chapel and the funeral service will be conducted on Saturday by Rev. Clem Davies, time and place to be announced later.

DR. RAYNOR HAS ACTIVE CAREER

Record Has Been Crowded With Community and Social Effort

First Came to B.C. as Medical Missionary

Dr. Melbourne Raynor, one of the Liberal candidates for Victoria at the poll tomorrow, was born in Prince Edward County, Ontario, in 1879, where he spent his boyhood days on a farm.

His family were of United States stock, and his great grandparents emigrated to that county from Long Island at the time of the revolution. The boy was sent to Picton High School, and thence to the Agricultural College at Guelph, winning his degree of Bachelor of Science in Agriculture in 1900. He edited the Review published at the college and was president of the college Y.M.C.A.

He trained for his profession in the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the University of Illinois, Chicago, from which he received his diploma in 1905.

While studying medicine, Dr. Raynor spent a year as college Y.M.C.A. secretary for four of the Westside colleges of medicine and dentistry.

Dr. Raynor was sent as a medical missionary to Bella Bella by the Mission Board of the Methodist Church and arrived in the Province to supply for Dr. Large in 1906. Thence he was transferred to the Methodist Mission and hospital at Clayoquot.

In 1910 Dr. Raynor became house surgeon at St. Joseph's Hospital, holding the appointment for a year. This was a noted departure, as he was the first house surgeon appointed.

Dr. Raynor helped to organize the Victoria West Brotherhood, and was its first president, a body in which he takes a keen interest, and which is the most successful community effort in this city.

He was two years on the City

ELECTORS HERE READY TO POLL

Special Emergency Service Between Headquarters and Polling Booths

There will be 500 persons engaged to-morrow in taking the poll of the electors of Victoria, or acting in recognized capacities as scrutineers. It was announced at the offices of Returning Officer W. P. Marchant this morning, that this number 250 will be official persons under the charge of the supervising officials at the seven polling places.

Electors will receive their ballots in two colors, one for the candidates, and one for the referendum. The referendum ballot will be blue.

The booths will be open at 8 o'clock, and will close at 7 o'clock. "Vote early" is the slogan issued from the returning officer, who was engaged to-day in meeting the officials by appointment at each of the polls, and giving them a lecture on how to conduct the many details of their duties to-morrow.

One hundred and eighty-four ballot boxes will be used. Needless to say there has been a scouring of the city for so many, the city lending its stock, and supplies were obtained at the Parliament Buildings. Three large dray loads of supplies will draw up at the several booths before 7.30 a.m. to-morrow with the boxes and stationery supplies.

So far as the returning officer's staff is concerned they have thought of every detail, yet knowing that many emergency details may occur in the actual taking of the votes, will be in touch by telephone with every booth, with a motor cycle messenger service ready to meet any emergency.

GREAT LIBERAL RALLY TO-NIGHT TO END CAMPAIGN

The Liberal Party will wind up its campaign in Victoria with a final rally in the Royal Victoria Theatre to-night when Premier Oliver will be the chief speaker. He will be supported by E. Clearhue, S. J. Drake and Dr. M. Raynor, the other Liberal candidates here. The Premier's closing campaign speech will be a reply to the attacks made upon him by Conservative and Provincial speakers last night.

W. J. Bowser, Hon. S. F. Telemite and the Conservative candidates will speak to-night in the Alexandra Club Ballroom and the Empress Hotel.

The Provincial Party will hold its final rally in the Sir James Douglas School when the four Provincial candidates here will speak.

EXPECTS BRITISH CAPITALISTS WILL LIFT P.G.E. LOAD

Will Assume All Obligations And Develop North, Says Mackenzie

Pattullo's Real Mission to Britain Was to Sell Railway, He Asserts

Vancouver, June 19—Captain Ian Mackenzie, Liberal candidate in Vancouver, this morning stated that the real object of Hon. T. D. Pattullo's trips to London was in furtherance of the negotiations for disposition of the P.G.E. Railway to a British syndicate.

"The announcement from London yesterday is the culmination of two and a half years' negotiations," he said.

Captain Mackenzie stated that he had seen wires and letters dealing with the negotiations several times and was satisfied that matters were now in a highly favorable situation.

The people who are seeking to buy the road are financial interests closely in touch with the grain and shipping trade, he stated.

"They see in the P.G.E. under proper handling the outlet to the richest grain centre in the world," he said. "They will take from the people of the Province all obligations in connection with the road, relieving the taxpayers of more than $2,000,000 fixed charges every year, and will receive in exchange land grants, timber rights, water power resources, mineral and oil rights."

"There will be, of course, a settlement clause in the agreement by which they undertake to bring in new settlers and build up the country near the railway."

MAYOR'S CASTING VOTE KEPT CIVIC WAGES AT $3.75

Alderman E. S. Woodward, Provincial Party candidate, gave his version of the civic wage question at the meeting at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night and emphatically charged that the Mayor himself is responsible for civic employees receiving $3.75 a day against $4 and $4.25 proposed. "Two years ago I signed a report consenting to $3.75 as the civic wage scale. I only did this as a compromise. One side asked $4 and one wanted to make it $3.25 and the $3.75 was eventually agreed upon. Last year the garbage men were restored to $4 but the other men were kept at $3.75. A motion was made this year to increase the wages of the outside staff to $4."

Mayor Hayward, he stated, by his casting vote caused the motion to be defeated. This kept the wages down to $3.75 instead of putting them at $4 and $4.25 for the rock workers.

ESQUIMALT WOULD BE LINKED UP BY SPUR FROM C.N.R., MR. CARLOW SAYS

F. R. Carlow, Liberal candidate in the Esquimalt riding, last night, in company with Henry C. Hall, K.C., who spoke on his behalf, addressed a gathering of over 250 persons at the Victoria Theatre. The meeting was entirely Liberal in its leanings and sympathies, and the speaker was not once called upon to answer questions. He spoke for an hour and thirty minutes upon the various policies of all three political parties taking the lead in the fight in the present election, and not once did his audience tire.

In explanation of the development of Esquimalt harbor, as already outlined in The Times, Mr. Carlow said: "If Premier Oliver succeeds in obtaining a further reduction on wheat coming West, this business will so multiply that elevators will naturally be built on the south end of Vancouver Island. With this prospect in view Esquimalt should work to have those elevators established in its harbor; second, by the way, to none in the world for industrial development. Canadian National Railways now have a ferry slip at Patricia Bay, which is a much shorter route for car ferry from Port Mann than to ferry to the Ogden Point docks at Victoria," he continued. "Ships waiting to load grain at this port would have to 'lay to' in Esquimalt harbor. All that is necessary to bring this condition about is to have the C.N.R. build a short spur track of less than half a mile from its present line along Deadman's River to the new drydock. From there it would come around the waterfront a short distance, through Government property to Yarrow's Limited."

100 and 200 metres—Coaffe, Winnipeg; Armstrong, Winnipeg; Vina, Toronto; Hestor, Toronto; McKeehennoy, Quebec.

Quarter-mile—Christie, Hamilton; Aylin, Hamilton; Maynes, St. John, N.B.; Johnston, at present in England.

FINE SPRINTING The equalling of the Olympic record for the 100-metre dash by G. Hestor, of Ontario, was the feature of the Canadian tryouts for the Olympic games at Paris.

Hestor and Coaffe, however, came together in the 200-metre final, and provided a great race, with the westerner winning by a narrow margin.

The Toronto sprinter led a foot from the finish when Coaffe passed him in the jump for the tape. The other contests on the card in this afternoon did not provide any remarkable times and distances, the field events showing Canada a long way behind the United States in this class of sports.

In the 800 metres event, J. McKay, of Ontario, won when he let loose a spurt which easily left his field behind.

The results were as follows: 200 metres dash, first heat—G. Hestor, Ontario, won; P. McDonald, Ontario, second; H. Russell, Ontario, third. Time, 22.4-5. Olympic record, 21.4-5.

Jones Explains Why Real Cowboys Are Not Temperamental

Donnegan, the red-headed hero of "The Vagabond Trail" at the Columbia this week had a temper to match his hair, but there is nothing temperamental about Charles Jones who plays the role.

It has been said, around the Fox lot, that Jones is the best man to work with there is. He is always modest, always patient, always ready to do anything there is to be done and never jealous of his share in the glory. Perhaps his years of cowboy training had something to do with the development of his character. He says himself that a good cowboy is one who can do anything there is to do about a ranch and do it well.

"Being a good cowboy," he went on, "doesn't mean tricker riding in rodeos. There is that—but it is only a small part of his life. The rodeo is the cowboy's holiday—the jam on the bread, but the bread itself is made up of long days of hard, sometimes monotonous work.

"The hardest part of a cowboy's work is probably the branding. That takes a few weeks generally and during the rest of the year there is herd riding. It gets lonely sometimes—especially at night. A man gets queer thoughts out there sometimes with nothing to do but think and watch the stars. I used to get so that I could tell the time perfectly just by the relative position of them. And thoughts—well, they were long ones.

New Niblo Film Afforded Reunion for Stage Leaders

It's a small world after all. At least, Fred Niblo, who just completed the direction of "Thy Name is Woman," at the Dominion Theatre, thinks so. Players and staff assistants who worked on productions directed by Mr. Niblo at some time past have flocked to the Niblo fold in unprecedented numbers for this picture.

Claire McDowell, who plays the mother of Juan Ricardo, portrayed by Ramon Novarro, has worked under Mr. Niblo's direction with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Mark of Zorro" in an identical role—that of a Spanish mother.

Barbara La Marr, who plays the lead, Guercia, was discovered by Mr. Niblo and given her first chance by him when he cast her for the part of Milady de Winters in "The Three Musketeers." Ramon Novarro, who plays the leading male role in this picture, first appeared with Barbara La Marr when they were both unknown in the Rex Ingram feature, "The Prisoner of Zenda."

George Meyers, who takes the "still" picture, was first associated with Mr. Niblo when the latter was directing "Blood and Sand," and Beas Meredyth, who wrote the script for "Thy Name is Woman," has been responsible for the continuities on two previous Niblo successes, "The Famous Mrs. Fair" and "Strangers of the Night."

"Thy Name is Woman" is a Fred Niblo production presented by Louis B. Mayer through Metro. It was adapted by Beas Meredyth from Benjamin Glaser's American version of Karl Schoenher's play. Victor Milner was the cameraman and Ben Carre was art director.

Show at Playhouse is Laugh Producer

Variety is the soul of entertainment and it is truly delightful to have such a complete change as this weeks show at the Playhouse has proved to be. Every item in the bill has its good points and nothing could be a greater laugh producer than the inimitable burlesque on the old-fashioned melodrama which completes the programme. To-night there will be extra special music for jazz night as well as some first rate prices. Jazz night is rapidly becoming one of the popular nights at this theatre which has such an excellent name for novelties.

Succeeds Once, Then Takes 74 Times to Repeat

Robert McKim has a new role. He is a human golf course. During his career as a screen villain, Mr. McKim has been fired at by righteously indignant heroes with every conceivable form of artillery. In a notable production "Flaming Barriers," which is doing big business at the Playhouse Theatre this week, he is bombarded with golf balls.

The man behind the golf balls is Antonio Moreno. In his role of Sam Barton, rich and idle, Antonio enlivens the office hours of his acquaintances by driving golf balls around. In the course of the picture, he calls upon Robert McKim, who plays the role of Joseph Pickens, an unscrupulous financier. Moreno is supposed to carelessly drive a golf ball through the plate glass of the office door, heavily lettered with the name of the firm. McKim sits at his desk not more than a foot outside the line of fire.

The first time Moreno tried the shot without the camera, he drove the ball through the glass. When it had been replaced, he tried seventy-four times to duplicate the feat before he succeeded. Robert McKim stoically faced the battery of balls which hurtled past his head with an inch of leeway.

The featured players in "Flaming Barriers" are Jacqueline Logan, Antonio Moreno and Walter Hiers. The final showings will be to-morrow.

Custard Pie Comedy Feature Dates Back Thirty-five Years

"Custard pie throwing to invoke laughter did not originate in motion pictures."

So says Snits Edwards, character actor, who appears in the George Melford Paramount production, "Tiger Love," featuring Antonio Moreno and Estelle Taylor, and which is at the Capitol Theatre.

Thirty-five years ago when he was doing a vaudeville act in a concert hall at Hoboken, N. J., with Sam Bernard, Edward says he was hit in the face with a custard pie seven times a day. The pie maker, and those who missed seeing it before should make sure of seeing it this time.

Is Still Magnet at Pantages for Much Laughter

"Are You a Mason?" is certainly proving a splendid success for the Compton Comedy Company this week. It is voted by many to be the most amusing play yet produced by Mr. Compton which says a good deal. In any case, if laughter counts for anything the play certainly pleases everybody, such screams of mirth seldom having been heard in Pantages before. Mr. Compton is in excellent form and assisted by a large and exceptionally capable cast keeps matters going at top speed throughout. This play beats all Victoria records as a laughter maker, and those who missed seeing it before should make sure of seeing it this time.

Real Sahara Throughout in Royal Photoplay

"A Son of the Sahara," the first National picture which will be the attraction at the Royal Theatre Friday and Saturday, is heralded as one of the most ambitious screen productions of the year.

It was produced in the Sahara desert under the direction of Edwin Carewe. The principal players who went with Mr. Carewe to Algeria to film this picture were Bert Lytell, Claire Windsor, Walter McGrall, Rosemary Theby, Montagu Love and Paul Panzer.

Mr. Carewe is particularly proud of the fact that there is nothing of the Hollywood Sahara about this latest cinema effort and likewise nothing of the western costume company's sheik-wearing apparel in it. Every thing is genuine even to the extras, who were not touched either by a costumer or makeup man.

"Two Down and Outs" to be Dominion Film

Dominion to feature great British attraction next week starring Capt. Rex Davies, M. C. as Danny Grebb, D. C. M., and out-of-work veteran, who recognises his old charger in a string of horses intended for shipment to the continent. While knowing the fate of these poor animals, he makes a desperate attempt to rescue his old friend and succeeds, though, in doing so, he knocks down a police sergeant.

While trespassing in search of a feed for his horse, he is stopped by a girl who inquires his business. Danny blurt out the whole story, and then—does the girl hand him over to the police? Come and see the film. "A Couple of Down and Outs," at the Dominion Theatre next week. It is an All-British picture and, for that alone, is worthy the patronage of film-goers in this country. Its claims are not based on that feature, however, for it is an exceedingly human story, admirably portrayed by an all-star cast and headed by Rex Davies and Edna Best.

OFFER COMMISSION DATA ON EDUCATION

At a meeting of the City School Board on Tuesday it was resolved to send to the new educational survey commissions such portions of the interim report of the committee on school economics as the board thought desirable to express its opinion on various educational questions of widespread interest of general value to the Province.

The trustees heard at some length the inspector's reports on the various teachers, and will meet again on the same subject later.

EXPERIENCED SALESPERSON WANTED

SATURDAY EVENING POST EDITOR.—George H. Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, who received the honorary degree of LL.D. from McGill University.

GOES TO OSGOODE.—Dr. D. A. Macrae, dean of Dalhousie Law School, who has accepted a professorship at Osgoode Hall, Toronto.

SOME OF SCOTIA'S ANCIENT SPORTS.—Reproduced above are some scenes from the old-time Highland games at Edinburgh, which will be revived on the Toronto Exhibition Grounds on June 21 at competitions of the Gaelic Society of Canada. The top picture shows a sturdy Hielan' man putting the ball. Below is seen another Scotsman performing the difficult feat known as tossing the caber.

WASN'T STUNG.—No, he isn't a Cossack. He is a book-keeper, and Frank Bornhofer of Tobasco, O., is just proving honey bees rarely ever sting. He has over 200 colonies of them. This helmet he is wearing is composed of living members of those colonies. And he didn't get stung.

THEY WERE WELL MATCHED.—It was a slug feast while it lasted and spectators blocked the sidewalk to watch it. Onlookers agreed that John Freelan (left) and James Anderson—both legless—were evenly matched. They exchanged blows without budging an inch. The fight started over the pencil-selling rights on a downtown Omaha corner, and it did not end until police arrived. Judge Frank Dineen adjusted their differences and induced the two to make up. And just to show that they are friends they posed for this photograph.

VALEDICTORIAN.—Miss Margaret Vining, who delivered the valedictory address at the Mount Allison College, Toronto, commencement and who also won the J. N. Shenstone prize in general proficiency.

VOTED FOR ABE.—Charles A. Small, 81, is one of the picturesque convention figures. He cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln. And he was playing in Edwin Booth's company the night Lincoln was shot.

"PALMYRA QUEEN."—The Queen of Palmyra is the name Mrs. C. Fallard-Lee has been given since acting for the United States in annexing the Palmyra Islands, fifty-two in number, lying south of the Hawaiiana some 1,000 miles. She is the only woman ever to have annexed territory for the United States.

THEY TALK OVER THE CHANCES.—Senators Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, and Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, two Democratic presidential possibilities, pause for a moment outside the Senate office building to discuss the coming New York convention.

LOOK WHO'S HERE!—It's our old friend, the chimney sweep, of happy memory and considered as extinct as the Dodo. Gustav Behrens doing his sooty job on a chimney-top, claims to be the only sweep left in the United States.

WINNER OF HISTORIC EPSOM DERBY.—Sasovino, owned by Lord Derby, which won the Epsom Derby, England's racing classic.

Uncle Wiggily and the Blinkie Bug

Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By Howard R. Garis

Uncle Wiggily was just hopping away from his hollow stump bungalow one morning to go adventuring when a little rabbit girl came skipping up the front walk. "Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" she called to him. "I've come to visit you and stay a while, and if you'll just wait until I put my night dress and tooth brush on the front porch, I'll come adventuring with you."

"Hello, Nurse Jane!" called the little rabbit girl, waving her paw. "I'm fine this morning, but you know I'm going adventuring, adventuring, adventuring! I'm going adventuring with Uncle Wiggily Longears!" she sang.

He saw a dark shape dart across the open towards the fence, an animal carrying something in its mouth. It reached the fence, and the next instant it bounded an incredible height in the air, only to fall backwards on to the ground and lie motionless almost at Drummond's feet. It was so utterly unexpected that he paused instinctively and stared at it. It was a fox, and the fowl it had been carrying lay a yard away.

running mute had dashed into the clearing where a second or two before they had been standing, and was cautiously approaching the dead fox. She stared at it fascinated, and then with a little cry of terror she pulled herself together and ran. She had forgotten the fence that was between them: for the moment she had forgotten everything except this huge brute that looked the size of a calf.

FINISHES CAMPAIGN IN SAANICH RIDING

Hon. F. A. Pauline, Eight Years a Member, Confident of Another Term

Hon. F. A. Pauline last night addressed the last meeting of his campaign for election as Liberal member for Saanich, at the Royal Oak Hall, where he was received by an enthusiastic audience. Mr. Pauline was accompanied by C. H. O'Halloran, who spoke on his behalf.

"My opponents have been finding fault with the Liberal Government because there has been no embargo on uncut lumber being shipped to the United States," said Mr. Pauline, "but there is only a very small proportion of the total British Columbia cut which finds its way in the raw log state over the American border," he continued.

He went on to show that the logs which were shipped from Canadian camps to American mills were only those which the milling companies on this side of the line were unable to handle. There were certain species of wood which the British Columbia mills could not utilize, and these formed the export of lumber which the Conservative Party had designated as a waste and easily avoided.

"As a matter of fact," Mr. Pauline asserted, "it is not an evil at all. The B.C. mills cannot cut the lumber, but the camps operated in the Province all employ Canadian laborers, and these men depend for a livelihood upon the well-being of their employers. But if this timber export is stopped by a heavy embargo these camps will cease operating, and the men will find themselves out of work."

FUTURE GRAIN TRADE

Both speakers emphasized the importance of the fight at present being waged by the Oliver Government to reduce freight rates in British Columbia on the transcontinental railways. This rate would allow prairie grain to come to B.C. ports and develop a thriving industry, the beginning of which is to be seen in Vancouver at the present time. Premier Oliver has been conducting his fight for lower rates since 1921, he said, and should be allowed, and given the opportunity, to finish the work so begun.

Mr. O'Halloran pictured Victoria's future if these freight rates were obtained. It would mean the building of at least one great grain elevator in this city, he thought, and the result would be steady expansion of trade with the Orient and Pacific ports, and indeed, most of the world. Mr. Pauline drove home his argument—relative to taxation in the Province, saying that although his opponents declared that the Liberal Government discouraged industry by heavy taxes, yet, as a matter of fact, the municipalities received more than they gave to the Government. The speaker quoted figures to prove that for every $100 which the municipalities paid into the Government's treasury, they received $110 in return. And the various protective systems, such as the provincial police, forestry protection and other items, were not taken into consideration in this estimate, Mr. Pauline asserted.

The speaker stated that every strawberry grown in Saanich this year would find its place in the market through the assistance given to fruit canners and jam manufacturers from the Provincial Government. A big order from the East of Canada made it possible for Victoria manufacturers to take every berry offered, he said, but they could not handle the gigantic order without assistance. This the Government had consented to give, and had funds in the treasury upon which the manufacturers could draw as they required. In concluding, Mr. Pauline expressed satisfaction at the hearing of the campaign, and hoped that the apparent good wishes of the electors would culminate in his election on Friday. He said that he was confident of a good majority, and that once again he would devote his entire strength and time to the bettering of the conditions amongst the people represented, and in developing British Columbia as a whole, and Vancouver Island in particular.

B.C. NET DEBT IS $38,000,000, HART DECLARES

Finance Minister Shows Absurdity of Opposition Talk About Huge Borrowings

B.C. Sinking Funds as Great As Reserves of All Other Provinces

Vancouver, June 19—Straight from headquarters the true position of British Columbia's finances were given to a big Liberal mass meeting in the Orpheum Theatre last night by Hon. John Hart, retiring Minister of Finance in the Oliver Government. The absurdity of Opposition claims that the provincial debt was anywhere from fifty to 100 million was demonstrated by the Minister, who showed that against a gross debt of $71,000,000 the Province had in cash, securities convertible in forty-eight hours the sum of $20,000,000 against this debt and the sum of $13,000,000 invested in mortgages on loans to assist the development of the agricultural industry. "The leaves our net debt at $28,000,000," he said.

The stability of British Columbia's financial position as built up by the Oliver Government was strikingly demonstrated by the Finance Minister when he stated that the public debt of all the other provinces totaled $600,000,000, against which they had a total of $20,000,000 of sinking funds. "Compare that with $71,000,000 of gross debt had $20,000,000 of securities on hand, as much as all the other provinces put together."

"Some of you may not understand the significance of that, but the financial houses understand it and it is shown in the price they pay for our bonds," said Mr. Hart.

HUGE SAVINGS
The Minister compared his policy of dealing with the American change crisis following the war with that advocated by Mr. Bowers. The Government had decided on short term borrowings, which Mr. Bowers had said would prove ruinous. "The Government had already matured and the saving on compound interest was $460,000 on that issue alone."

"What will the saving amount to on the whole $10,000,000 that we dealt with in this way?" he asked.

Mr. Hart stated that the Province was on the eve of great prosperity due to the way its finances had been conserved in the stormy war and reconstruction period and to the fight put up by Premier Oliver for equalized freight rates.

OLIVER'S FIGHT
"Just imagine Mr. Bowers going East to ask for what we all want in this connection!" exclaimed the speaker. "Can't you imagine the eastern people laughing at him and telling him that it did not do Mr. Oliver much good to fight the freight rates' battle; furthermore they would be able to remind him that there had appeared on the same platform with him Harry Stevens, who urges us to go slow on the freight rates matter."

An interesting feature of Mr. Hart's speech was his revelation that the publishers of Maclean's Magazine, prior to the publication of an article attacking B.C. finances had refused to reveal the identity of the author and had refused to print Mr. Hart's reply until after the election.

"I am informed the author of that article was a prominent official of the third party who recently wrote a series of other articles in the same publication," he said.
