PRINTED AND PUBLISHED DAILY, BY THE BEE.
FRIDAY MORN'G, OCT. 24, 1834.

At the request of several citizens, the remains of the late General P. Lynch, deceased, Dect. Taking the Northern mail of yesterday, we have received regular dates.

We return our thanks of the attends of the Steamer [illegible] for a slip from that paper containing Liverpool [illegible]

ALL WELL, CONNECTICUT!

The mail of yesterday brings us the [illegible] returns from Connecticut, by which it would appear that the democracy of that State [illegible] opposed to be by any [illegible] yet obtained at [illegible] of the democratic candidate has [illegible] majority, about 250 majority. [illegible] Legislature is [illegible] the friends on the other hand aver that the highest bank candidate had but eighty [illegible] more than the highest democratic candidate.—We shall wait for the arrival of the next mail before the [illegible] be known. Whatever it may be, this election shows a great democratic gain. Six months ago the majority against the Presidential ticket was [illegible] one hundred and ninety-eight. It is now reduced at the worst to 250!

N.B.—The annual election for members to Congress is [illegible] for three months. The general election takes place [illegible] next April, when we will most assuredly triumph should we [illegible] now be defeated.

The good cause triumphant!

ALL'S WELL, WILMINGTON, DELAWARE!

A Postscript of the Wilmington Delaware Gazette of the 21th instant, announces the following:

GLORIOUS VICTORY.

ANTI-BANK TRIUMPH!!!

Wilmington has more than done her duty!!!

"We have met the enemy and they are ours."

We stop the press to announce the result of the election for inspectors. John M'Clung, Jackson, 401, James Brown Bank, 352—Anti-bank majority, 49. The result is unprecedented and unexpected. The most we had dared to hope was a majority of a few votes.

It is now reduced to a certainty, that what was formerly Christiana Hundred, will give an increased majority for the Jackson ticket. At 8 o'clock P. M. not more than half of the votes for councilmen had been counted; but the Jackson ticket was 20 or thirty ahead.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The general elections took place in Pennsylvania on the 14th Inst. The election for Inspectors shows that the good cause will receive a most hearty support throughout the democratic, Commonwealth; and augur a most signal victory over the forces of the bank. In Pittsburg, for instance, the strong hold of the opposition in western Pensylvania, the bank has succeeded in electing Inspectors by a majority of less than 100, and the Pittsburg Mercury expresses the opinion that the opposition will get a sound drubbing at the Councilmanic. Pittsburg, in the very centre and focus of Toryism and Clayism in the State, and the reduction of the bank majority to 100 is an evidence of a great increase in the Democratic strength.

The Wheeling Times of the 8th inst. says that the Ohio River is still low. Keel and flat boats continue to depart with full freights.

The amount of produce forwarded from Wheeling to Baltimore during the last week was 822 tons.

Conservative Meetings are on foot in Philadelphia and New York, to raise among the political gang of which the unfortunate Parry was a member, a sum of money which may place the mother of the deceased beyond the reach of want.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.

Havre, 26th August, 1834.

To the Editor of the Bee.

Sir,—I indulged fresh fifteen days ago in announcing to you the opening of the Chambers, that I should so soon announce their prorogation. The design was so sudden, so unexpected, that even the Ministerial papers manifested the greatest surprise at a step which nothing that we know of, justifies or excuses. It is a circumstance unknown and unheard of, that our representatives after the convocation of an assembly, after the voting of the address to the throne, should all at once suspend the verification of power, and return home merely contenting themselves with giving to the world a few scandalous sittings, as a sort of prelude, we must suppose, to the session of 1835. And you will remark the ignoble coincidence, prorogued, on the 27th December, just with a view to reach a new year, to lay before the King their views and their wishes, and their humble thanks for the evils he has inflicted upon France. Poor men, or rather poor country, which with difficulty threw off an intolerable yoke that had weighed down her energies for four years, merely to touch the situation she had set out from! Happy even—if knowing her present position—she could reconnoitre a new career, better guided by an experience of 40 years. But no: public spirit has changed, sentiments altogether over, the nation should be judged from the events which transpire.—Let us look abroad: Spain presents to us a curious picture, one of those contradictions which astonish, especially when the means of comparison are on near at hand. "In 1830, when the people by bayonets did justice to an ungrateful and odious government, an effort was made by a perjured King to preserve in his family a sceptre which he was unfit to wield. This fact has gone forth, the last branch of the Bourbons were proscribed, and with them expired their fanatic attempt. In Spain an actual disposition of the throne, that turned topsy-turvy that unhappy country, the national constitution has been violated and the will of a lying man has triumphed over the laws. How can we complain such an anomaly within four years, between people who are such near neighbors?

The cause of Don Carlos is notwithstanding not yet lost. Zumalacarregui is said to be always dying, according to the ministerial reports, yet he has not been taken. Notwithstanding the important capture of the pass of Morano, we are not at the end of the contest.

Portugal remains tranquil, at least the little intelligence we have received does not announce any change in her situation.

The most remarkable political movement, although not yet delineated, is operating in a Kingdom little subject to [illegible] of system. In Austria, the desire of M. Metternich seems definitively pronounced, and already has [illegible] last his influence upon the Austrian Court. That will [illegible] remains still undecided, whether he will incline to the East or to the North: circumstances [illegible] decide the matter.

England, according to the last speech of her King, remains our faithful ally. The fleet of observation is still at Vigo, but the greatest energy is kept as to its future destination. [illegible]

H. L.

The Bank paper in this city, in consequence of those of New York and Philadelphia, cannot count so far upon the recovery of the poor slaughtered Party's throttlings of having [illegible] for the public purse? The Pennsylvanian [illegible] of Harrisburg, this enormous intimidation. That paper says:

"It is [illegible] stated that Mr. William Parry has been appointed by the Bank of the United States to the agency at Pittsburg, to succeed Mr. Wilkins, who has resigned, on account of the reputation of his political [illegible] that he intends to go into the party [illegible] moment of death? To effect this end, a pitiful quibble is resorted to, and is enrolled on the list of Bankites; and another opponent whose name much resembles that of the deceased. Those are the men, much spoken of by the Bankites. It is a fact generally known, that several prominent oppositionists called upon the family of the deceased, before his burial, to ascertain, his politics; that they cross-questioned his relatives, and that they retired perfectly satisfied on the point of his democracy. Was it to cast an odium on the friends of the administration, by endeavoring to substantiate the unmanly charges of the Bank organs of this city against them, that the inquiry was instituted?

BANK OUTRAGE.

The murder of the unfortunate Parry, is the first but not the only atrocity that has been committed in Philadelphia by the Bank lions of the mammoth monopoly. The following statements are given in the Pennsylvanian of the 5th instant.

Riots in the Suburbs.—Yesterday afternoon, in Kensington, in Hudson District, was attacked by [illegible] street, by [illegible] and wounded with a [illegible] knife. The [illegible] and fourth district, [illegible] with the intention of his [illegible] man that came in his [illegible] known to the stabber, who [illegible] blow with the knife. Thompson was hushed on, but after [illegible] below the [illegible] street, indicating a desire [illegible] ground. The Bankite was arrested and bound over for trial.

The record murder or Tuesday—including William Parry, it is now known, that five Jackson Democrats have been stabbed in the present struggle in Philadelphia. Two on Friday in Locust ward; one on the same day in Southark, one in Cedar Ward, and one on Tuesday in Kensington! Besides these murders of Democrats are lying wounded, from blows with pointed bludgeons and maces were prepared and loaded with lead, weeks before the election, by the Bank bullies. Are Democrats to be slaughtered and knocked in the head by these banktice, like cattle in the slaughter house?

BERKS COUNTY.

At the election in this place, on Friday last, the Democrats achieved an easy victory, although the Bankites done every thing in their power to defeat us. Had we thought it worth trying, we could have beaten them three to one, instead of the majority we obtained.

In the borough of Hamburg the Wiggies stole a march on the Democrats, and carried their ticket by a small majority. In Womelsdorf, for the election was one of the warmest ever held there, but there the Democrats were wide awake, and carried their ticket by a small majority. We have not heard from other parts of the county, but have no doubt that all's well.—Reading Chronicle.

YORK COUNTY.

The Bankites talked largely of 200 and 250 of a majority for their candidates in the 2 wards of the Borough of York. Not withstanding the Bankites polled nearly their whole strength, they carried the North Ward by only 37 and the South Ward by 61, together 98 maj.

In comparison with the votes 2 years ago in the First District Mr. Barnitz has gained nineteen votes in the Borough.

In Westmanchester the gain for Logan already overbalances the gain of 19—In Upper and Lower Hellam, Barnitz in 1832 had a majority of 59—Logan will now have a small majority, making a loss of more than one hundred votes to year it will be 100 for Logan. There will also be a considerable gain for Logan in Spring Garden, were we succeeded in electing our Inspector for the first time for several others. In Manchester there will be a considerable falling off from the majority Mr. Barnitz had, and the same in Codorus, Warrington, town and Newberry.

In Dover, Cudorus, Manheim, Peach bottom and Shrewsbury, the majority against Barnitz in 1832, was only about 300, it will at the lowest calculation be 700 for Logan. These estimates are made from the best information, and we have every reason to believe the result will more than realize them, and bring out Col. Logan at last one thousand ahead in the District.—York Gaz.

The Upland Union declares that it can be proved that men were sent into Delaware county, from this city, for the express purpose of buying up voters, and that three dollars a head were offered for men who would vote the Bank ticket?—Ib.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 4.

The weather was cold and clear at the commencement of the week, and on Monday morning the ground was covered with a heavy frost—since then we have had more or less rain almost every day, and from present appearances, should it have been general, are likely to have a sufficiency shortly to produce the usual autumnal rise in the river. Business has been fair during the week, and would, no doubt, be as brisk as is usual at this season, were it not for the protracted low stage of the river. The Ohio has fallen since our last report—at present it is stationary, with 10 inches water on the falls.—Louisville Price-Current.

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The ship Pacific, Captain Webb, has arrived at this port, and we are indebted to the politeness of Capt. W. for files of London and Liverpool papers to the 7th Sept., inclusive. N. Y. Adv.

There is but little news in these papers—and were there ever so much, it would be impossible for us to publish it to-day.

Messrs. Robert Allan & Sons, Brokers in Edinburgh, had stopped payment.

Paris dates are to the 4th of September, inclusive.—Marshal Gerrard, President of the Council, was extremely ill.

Commercial intelligence of importance, had been received in London, from Lisbon—but what it is we have not ascertained.

Don Pedro had been chosen Regent of the Kingdom by nearly an unanimous vote. The marriage of the Queen was the next subject of consideration. Thus far, the proceedings of the cortes have been very acceptable to the people.

Madrid advices are to the 23th of August.

The report of the Committee of Finance on the project of Count Toreno had not been presented to the Cortes. Madrid was in a most healthy state, and enjoyed perfect tranquility at the date of the letters.

The wife of Don Carlos, the Donna Francisca Teresa, died at Portsmouth, (Eng.) on the 4th September, in the 36th year of her age. She died of internal mortification. She will be buried pro. tem., in the church-yard of Alverstoke, for subsequent removal to Valencia.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The recent change in the tea duties still continues to attention; and a strong belief is entertained among practical men that, in the next session of Parliament, the law which has received the sanction of the legislature, fixing a scale of duties on tea, must be changed.

There has not been much doing in the money market to-day, and the fluctuation in the price of Consols was limited to 1-4 per cent., the extreme quotations for the account being 90 13-46. It would appear there are still pretty large sales of Exchequer Bills, and, as is said, on behalf of the Bank of England and the Scotch banks. The premium on Exchequer Bills, which was yesterday at 2P, this afternoon was reduced to 1P. India Bonds have fallen from 15 to 12 premium, but such closed rather higher.

We find that the amount of bullion in the hands of the Bank is not to small as rumour assigned to it. The returns states that the average amount in hand was L.8,227,000, which is only L. 226,000 less than the average quantity of the precious metals in the possession of the Bank when the last return was made. Neither does it appear that this circulation of the Bank has been diminished.

In the Foreign Market there has been a great deal of business done to day both in Portuguese and Spanish Bonds. The news from Lisbon received to-day produced much and active demand for stock that from 79 1-2 the price rose to 82, and that quotation was maintained within one fraction up to the termination of business.

Letters from Lisbon are to the 26th, and state that the new measures for paying off the paper money has caused great excitement, and almost wholly to have suspended commercial operations.

The difficulties between Mehemet Ali and the Porte, are likely to be arranged without a recourse to arms.

Paris papers of the 2d Sept. state that a telegraphic despatch had been received by the French Government from Bayonne, announcing that on the 29th ult. General Espartero was attacked at Lequeitio by Zavala, at the head of 4,000 men; Espartero repulsed the rebel forces, though he had only with him 1,000 men.

A Decree of the Queen Regent, published in the Madrid Gazette of the 24th, forbids the introduction of arms and warlike stores into any part of the kingdom between Cape Finisterre and the Bidasoa. Don Miguel had arrived in Milan from Genoa, on the 26th August, and has since left [illegible] for Parma.

It is now certain that the fire of the 26d was something more than a fabrication. An individual named Lehmeier was taken by the Carlists on suspicion of and listing an attempt on the life of Don Carlos, he confessed that such had been his intention, and he was shot. He evinced a great deal of courage, and requested the favor of not being shot from behind; this request was not granted. Whilst going to the place of execution, he exhorted the soldiers who accompanied him to be faithful to Charles V. He had upon him three [illegible] dollars, which the men shared amongst themselves.

The [illegible] from Madrid, to the 24th ult. and yesterday arrived. having been received from Gottenburg and other large towns, stating the welcome news that the Atlantic steamer [illegible] had arrived [illegible] though [illegible]
