BRIAND REFUSES TO TAKE PREMIERSHIP!

VERDICT FROM VOTERS NOW ANXIOUSLY AWAITED

Polls Remain Open Until 7 o'Clock Tonight; Workers Busy For Candidates

Glendale is voting today to elect five members to the City Council, one city treasurer, a city clerk and four members of the city Board of Education.

Early reports at noon today indicate a fairly heavy vote, but with 16,818 registered voters in Glendale, 589 in Casa Verdugo and 83 in San Rafael, a much heavier vote must be cast this afternoon to permit of a large per cent poll when the ballot boxes are closed at 7 o'clock tonight.

There are twenty-four precincts in the city. However, votes for municipal offices are being cast at but twenty precincts. All qualified voters who have not already voted are urged to go to the polls this afternoon. In that way only can representative officials be elected. A light vote in Glendale today would be poor publicity for this city. A heavy vote would be a credit mark chalked up in favor of Glendale.

Those not wishing to visit the office of this newspaper 139 South Brand boulevard may call on the telephone, Glendale 4000, and the information will be given.

Election day brought on a "hot spell." In other words, the weather...

'Perfect Boy' Found Masher In Dance Hall

FRESNO, Cal., April 14.—Cora Devine, 18-year-old Fresno girl, today is in the detention home here where she must remain until her bobbed hair grows long because she disliked dresses and preferred mannish garb and made such a "perfect boy" that she deceived scores of boys and girls at dance halls and automobile parties.

Cora's disguise as a young man was penetrated by Probation Officer Oliver M. Akers at a dance hall, when at first he thought he was being made the butt of a joke following a tip.

According to Cora's mother and sister, Cora has lived in the hills for many years where she donned men's apparel and when she came to Fresno, conformed to her declaration of sartorial independence. Hair cut exactly like a man's helped her disguise.

LONDON PRESS IN GERMAN DEMAND

Papers Startle British By Requesting Hindenburg Quit Candidacy

By DAVID M. CHURCH For International News Service LONDON, April 14.—The immediate withdrawal of Von Hindenburg from the German presidential race was the unusual "demand" voiced by Lord Beaverbrook's newspapers today.

The foreign office denied Great Britain had any intention of interfering with the idea of getting Von Hindenburg to withdraw. They predicted if the field marshal won at the polls April 26, it will mean "an armed France with no debt payment to Great Britain."

The Beaverbrook press said that Germany has made a "remarkable recovery and Poland and Czechoslovakia, as well as France, would be aroused should Hindenburg win. These extreme statements indicated the extent of alarm in some British circles over the dual danger of Hindenburg's candidacy and the French crisis, which, it was feared would combine to bring a return of European chaos.

Even the staid and dignified London Times, in its comment on the German presidential situation, shows concern over what may happen, as a result of the latest German political move.

General Sir Ian Hamilton, army authority and political writer, in a speech, declared that England was aiding Hindenburg by prolonging the occupation of Cologne.

He said such action aroused suspicion and was worth "thousands and thousands of votes" for the former leader of the Kaiser's armies.

The governor admitted, however, that Widney is one of the candidates for the office. Widney was formerly attorney for the real estate commission.

Charles B. Guthrie, a realtor of Glendale, and an official in the California Real Estate association, is mentioned among the candidates for the position and many endorsements of him are being received by the governor.

Today was a gala day for the members of the Glendale Exchange club at the meeting held at the Masonic temple. In addition to celebrating the fourteenth anniversary of the founding of Exchange, the members were hosts to Dr. George C. Sabichi of Bakersfield, Calif., national president, and welcomed back Dr. H. E. Harrower, vice-president of the local club, who has been in England several months.

"Many of the members of this club are known to me personally," National President Sabichi said, "through contact with them at national and state conventions. Through them and through the kind of service I know they render the club, I am fully aware of the brand of service the Glendale Exchange club renders to this community."

"Praises Local Club The Glendale Exchange club is known as an organization where the ideas and ideals of Exchange are expounded in a manner that brings credit to the national organization. This is a club that I have often wanted to visit, for I have heard so much about it. The delegates from this club to the national convention have always carried the impression upon the convention floor that Glendale is everything you claim it is—the fastest growing city in America," and that the Glendale Exchange club is taking an active part in making this haven of happiness and bliss one that every person

Charles B. Guthrie, a realtor of Glendale, and an official in the California Real Estate association, is mentioned among the candidates for the position and many endorsements of him are being received by the governor.

Farm States Improve Says Rail Leader

NEW YORK, April 14.—The financial condition of the agricultural section of the country has greatly improved in recent years, said Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railroad at the annual meeting here today.

The condition of northwestern banks reflected this improvement, he said. He called attention to the good crops which America enjoyed last year, coincident with comparative failure of crops in other parts of the world. "I think the whole northwestern situation is looking more promising than at any time in two or three years," Donnelly declared. "However, the northwestern railroads need higher freight rates than exist today. Present rates do not represent as high a percentage of pre-war rates as the roads in other sections of the country."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Cornelius D. De Iongh, assistant cashier of the Anglo-California Trust Co., was under arrest here today charged with alleged embezzlement of the bank's funds. The specific complaint accuses him of a $10,500 shortage.

ARCTIC FLIGHT MAY REVEAL SCIENTIFIC WONDERS

Explorer, With Navy's Help, To Disclose Unknown Regions Near Pole

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON For International News Service. WASHINGTON, April 14.—The MacMillan Arctic expedition, which will dash into the frozen north this summer with the cooperation of naval aviators, is to be a general exploration expedition that will cover not only the million square miles between Alaska and the pole, but also unknown regions which the eye of man has never yet beheld.

This was disclosed here today with the first definite announcement from MacMillan himself concerning his plans. He has submitted his program in detail to the National Geographical society, under whose auspices the trip is to be undertaken.

Plan of Flight Reconnaissance flights will be made with amphibian planes over the central part of Ellsmere island and Grantland, the central part of the great Greenland ice cap, the whole interior of Baffin island and the northern part of Labrador.

"I believe," said Captain MacMillan, "that the practical way of erasing these unknown areas on the maps of today is by use of airplanes.

CABINET PLAN FAILS WHEN SOCIALISTS PROTEST

Radicals Refuse To Permit Any Of Their Members Accepting Position

By FRANK E. MASON For International News Service. PARIS, April 14.—President Doumergue tonight requested M. Painleve, former premier, to reconsider his refusal and to form a cabinet. Painleve agreed to consult his friends and give Doumergue a definite answer tomorrow.

This decision culminated a day of chess-board politics with Aristide Briand as a pawn.

The decision of Briand followed the "torpedoing" of his partly compiled cabinet by the Socialists.

The Socialists refused to allow any of their members to serve as ministers in the Briand cabinet. This action, Briand said, would nullify any cabinet he might form.

Briand advised Doumergue to summon Painleve as the best man qualified to act in the crisis.

The Senate tomorrow will legalize the Bank of France's over-inflation and will authorize an additional emission of four billion francs, the newspaper Liberte declared.

Briand, seven times premier of France, upon leaving the chamber at 6:20 o'clock this evening, said to International News Service: "I am now going to the Elysee palace to inform President Doumergue that I cannot form a new cabinet."

Briand today had completed arrangements for settling France's financial crisis if he accepted the premiership. He was only awaiting the decision of the Socialists' executive council as to whether the left wing will support him before giving President Doumergue his reply tonight. And then, with the action of the Socialists against him, Briand was compelled to decline the premiership, a position he has held seven times.

JUDGE FOR WEEK DIES BY SHOTGUN

Virginia Jurist, Hunting Rats In Cellar, Dies From Explosion

BRISTOL, Va., April 14.—Judge Joseph L. Kelly, appointed only a week ago to the Virginia supreme court by Governor Trinkle, accidentally shot and killed himself at his home here this morning with a shotgun.

Triple-Toed Horse Sought From Oregon

BERKELEY, April 14.—With the object of determining whether the John Day valley in Eastern Oregon was a pre-historic haunt for three-toed horses, saber-toothed tigers, early evolutionary types of rhinos and a strange kind of camel, an expedition of scientists was en route to Oregon today, headed by Professor Chester Stock of the department of Paleontology, University of California.

Fossilized remnants of skeletons of such animals, ascribed to the tertiary period, have already been discovered in John Day valley. Professor Stock hopes that the expedition will be able to establish the sequence in the forms of animal life that existed on the American continent before the advent of man.

E. L. Fulong, curator of the museum of paleontology of the University of California, is assisting Professor Stock. R. W. Chaney of the Carnegie foundation will join the expedition later.

GUN BATTLE ENDS IN DUAL TRAGEDY

Escaped Convict Hidden In Ambush Shoots Down Raiding Officers

KINGSPORT, Tenn., April 14.—A mountain gun battle in which two police officers, John Smith and Hubert Webb were ambushed and killed, and another officer, George Frazier probably fatally injured, took place near Reedy Creek ravine late yesterday according to word brought here today by the survivors. The officers were shot according to the survivors by Kin Wagner, a fugitive from justice, who is said to be wanted in Green county, Mississippi on charges of having killed a constable there.

The victims of the shooting and two other officers had started for the Reedy creek ravine to raid a disorderly house and were proceeding down the ravine when a man hidden in the bushes opened fire killing the two officers. Before the others could find shelter Frazier fell with a shot through the body.

The other two officers returned to Kingsport for help. In the meantime, according to a young farmer, the slayer reached a nearby highway, commandeered a horse and made way to the Virginia border, a few miles south of Kingsport.

PREDICTIONS 3-CENT BILL MAY PASS TONIGHT

Rival Forces Start Battle On Increase in Levy; Proponents Confident

SACRAMENTO, April 14.—The Senate today began consideration of the Breed gasoline tax bill, after an effort to postpone action had been voted down. The motion to postpone until Thursday was made by Senator Will R. Sharkey of Martinez, opponent of the gasoline tax.

The debate on the Breed bill is expected to take up most of the day and a vote may not be reached before late tonight.

The proponents of the measure are confident they have enough votes to pass the measure in the Senate.

"The 3 cent gas tax bill is assured of passage." This was the confident assertion of Senator Arthur H. Breed, author of the highway financing bill, as he entered the Senate chamber this morning to prepare for the final tilt over the measure in the upper house.

Senator Sharkey, leader of the opposition to the increased gas levy, refused comment as the time neared for the vote, except to say that "the votes aren't counted yet."

RAMONA PAGEANT PLANS OPENING

New Highway, To Replace Old Trail to Bowl, Will Be Feature

HEMET, Cal., April 14.—Construction of an automobile highway leading directly into the Ramona Bowl is now under way under the direction of W. S. Conner, Riverside county road superintendent. The road will be open several days before the initial performance of the Ramona pageant, which will be given here April 25 and 26, May 2 and 3, under the auspices of the Hemet-San Jacinto Chamber of Commerce.

The new highway will permit the thousands of pageant visitors to drive directly into the famous natural amphitheatre in which is relieved by east of 150 actors the poignant, gripping story of Ramona, written in old San Jacinto forty-five years ago by Helen Hunt Jackson.

In past years, pageant crowds have been forced to climb a narrow, winding trail to the theatre, and while for many this trail added color to the day's program, there were many others for whom the climb was too great a physical strain. The trail remains, and those who wish to enter the Bowl by that route may do so.

Historical Study
Because of the historical significance of the Ramona pageant, principals and teachers in many Southern California schools are planning to bring large groups of students to the pageant.

Word was received from San Dimas this week that the upper grades of the grammar school there will attend the pageant in a body on the opening day. The students will be accompanied by their teachers.

Similar plans are being made in many other schools, and the pageant management announced that to encourage such parties of school children, everything possible will be done for their accommodation if the teachers who intend to accompany their classes to the pageant will get in touch with the management in advance.

Accurate Interpretation
Realizing that the Ramona pageant is a production to be taken seriously, one of the cardinal endeavors of the management is for historical accuracy. The pageant follows closely the novel by Helen Hunt Jackson, in which she reveals the life and customs of the people of early California, all delicately woven into the love theme of Ramona and her faithful lover, Alessandro. The pageant is produced with a cast of 150 persons.

This pageant is being produced with the sanction of Virginia Calhoun, owner of exclusive dramatic rights on Ramona with Little, Brown & Co., publishers of Boston.

As a rule, however, and in all circumstances, the people can thank God for the opposition in Congress.

PUBLIC REVIEWS DOBINSON DRAMA

'Manna,' Current Play Given At Playhouse, Praised By Majority

Mrs. Florence Dobinson of Glendale Playhouse, recently asked members of the audience who wanted to express themselves on "Manna" to write on their program and leave comments at the box office. The response was so prompt and enthusiastic that Mrs. Dobinson had cards printed and these are distributed at each performance. Here is a letter which came to Producer Fred J. Butler yesterday:

"227 W. Colorado, Glendale, April 11, 1923.
"Dear Mr. Butler:—
"I could not say my say on the card last night as you requested, so am sending a line to tell you that never have I heard so many large questions so pertinently asked and so well and impressively answered. Am very glad that you propose to give the play another week. It is a greatly needed education and I congratulate Glendale. Hoping for continued success in your very important field, I am,
"Very truly,
"Mary L. Russell."

Intriguing

Wealth of exciting moments for Priscilla Dean in film ending showing at the Glendale theatre tonight.

A critic's work is made especially pleasant when a production such as "A Cafe in Cairo" comes around.

Few recent pictures have offered such a wealth of exciting moments, so realistically produced. Few stars of the screen have such a vibrant personality as Priscilla Dean, and it is doubtful if she has ever appeared to better advantage than in this picture that is to be shown at the Glendale theatre the last time today.

"A Cafe in Cairo" is a picturization of the novel of the same name by Izola Forrester, author of "The White Moth" and numerous best sellers.

There is something intriguing always about the land of the Nile, made famous by Cleopatra. The sun-scorched desert wastes, the bazaars, the lure of moonlight on the Nile, the harem dancers and the perfumed gardens of the powerful sheiks, all these elements that intrigue its interest have been artfully injected into "A Cafe in Cairo." But they are only a part and parcel of the background for the story.

Opening with a tensely dramatic prologue, the interest is tightly held through one thrilling sequence after another until the under-water knife duel of the climax is reached. The latter is probably one of the most unusual thrills ever injected into screen melodrama.

The Sutherland Saxophone Six will also close a successful appearance at the Glendale theatre tonight. The members were formerly with the Tom Brown Saxophone Revue. In addition to the music, there is singing, dancing and comedy. Each member is versatile. Their offering is a distinct novelty, combined with an abundance of talent and personality.

AT VERDUGO CITY

A number of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce directors met informally last night with President Harry N. Fowler, who has just returned from a business trip to Chicago, and discussed the possibilities of a county fair to be held in the near future.

This subject will be the principal topic for consideration at the regular meeting of the Association of Commerce members and directors to be held Friday, April 17, in the Verdugo City auditorium.

The suggestion last night was to hold a bazaar in the Verdugo City auditorium and a typical county fair on the land adjoining.

A mass meeting of all of the residents of the Verdugo City district has been called by President Fowler for Friday night, April 17, in the auditorium and they are urged to attend.

THRILLS PROVIDED FOR RANCH DUDES

'Covered Wagon' Site to Be Fitted With Indians 'n Everything
By SUE McNAMARA
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923

PORTLAND, Ore., April 14.—Stout business men whose wait-lines are getting too big, pale school teachers weary of the tedium of the class room who sit at the movies and secretly long for romance, are to have their chance at last. Otto Meek, owner of the 400,000-acre ranch where "the covered wagon" was filmed, soon will wave the magic wand which will provide thrills for thousands.

So many people have visited the ranch at Baker, Nevada, since the picture was made that Meek has decided to turn the immense tract into a "dude" ranch and make a regular business of receiving tourists as guests.

Provides Indians

They will ride in regular ranch style, and living togs and horses will be provided. But that's not all. Meek is going a step further than the regulation "dude" ranch which has become quite an institution in the west since the east began to hanker for the wide, open spaces. He is going to stock his acres with real Indians and buffalo, whose startling dashes down upon unsuspecting visitors

GATEWAY COMEDY CLOSEST TONIGHT

'Charley's Aunt' Conceded to Be Funniest Farce On Stage Or Screen

The screen version of the internationally famous farce "Charley's Aunt," by Brandon Thomas is the feature at the Gateway Theatre, showing for the last time today with Syd Chaplin in the title role and supporting cast of players of wide repute.

As a stage play "Charley's Aunt" has already grossed over three million dollars and holds the money-making record for the stage. It has been produced in every civilized country in the world which, in addition to giving it an international reputation, has established it as a play with the basic qualities of farce comedy that can be appreciated and understood in any language.

Produced in 1892 "Charley's Aunt" was first produced at Bury St. Edmunds in Suffolk in 1892 with W. S. Penley starring, and was then brought to London, playing first at the Royal Theatre and then at the Globe where it ran continuously for four years a total of 1466 performances. The fame of "Charley's Aunt" spread far and wide and seven touring companies started out through the provinces. Several companies are still touring with it in England, and each year it is put on in London where it is one of the "draws" of the holiday season.

Some of Stars
Some of the great stage stars who have played in "Charley's Aunt" were the original W. S. Penley, who is said to have made a million and a half dollars out of it; Lyn Harding, Brandon Thomas, Miss Nina Boucicault, Julian Royce, Reeves Smith and A. E. Matthews. It was first played in America by Girardot.

The Christies gave this picture an especially elaborate production and it is said to be the funniest feature that the screen has offered this season.

NORWORTH WINS ORPHEUM CROWD

Musical Comedy Star Brings His Oldtime Lantern Slides For Laughs

If you have to break your neck this week to get a seat for the Orpheum by all means do so. Dig up or dig in to the old family purse and in return see one of the most enjoyable bills that has been presented at the Orpheum for some time.

Jack Norworth won all the patrons by his original songs and old-time magic lantern slides aided by his side-splitting remarks. He was assisted by Dorothy Adelphe who was very easy to look at.

Dick Lucke and his "Arcadians" were not only a good-looking aggregation but they certainly could purvey jazz. Featured in the act were Jane Smith and Erma Behan.

In condensing "Tea for Three" into a vaudeville sketch Arthur Byron has brought to the coast a most entertaining piece of resistance. This little playlet will give almost everybody an explanation how to solve the eternal triangle.

Nan Remains
Nan Halperin still brings down the house with her characterization even though this is her second week here. All new character impressions feature her offering.

How this girl can dance! What girl? Why of course, Emilie Lee. She is assisted by two very capable young men, one, Sam Kaufman, nearly steals the show with his piano playing.

Lois Bennett is really and truly an honest-to-goodness singer. She has an excellent voice with lots of personality and goes over big.

"Broken Toys" held the audience to the final stanzas. It is presented in the shape of a miniature revue flavored with clever dancing, singing, and acrobatics. For the curtain raiser Bicknell does some very clever sculpturing and he does it in a unique way and—"that's that."

THRILLS PROVIDED FOR RANCH DUDES

'Covered Wagon' Site to Be Fitted With Indians 'n Everything
By SUE McNAMARA
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923

PORTLAND, Ore., April 14.—Stout business men whose wait-lines are getting too big, pale school teachers weary of the tedium of the class room who sit at the movies and secretly long for romance, are to have their chance at last. Otto Meek, owner of the 400,000-acre ranch where "the covered wagon" was filmed, soon will wave the magic wand which will provide thrills for thousands.

So many people have visited the ranch at Baker, Nevada, since the picture was made that Meek has decided to turn the immense tract into a "dude" ranch and make a regular business of receiving tourists as guests.

They will ride in regular ranch style, and living togs and horses will be provided. But that's not all. Meek is going a step further than the regulation "dude" ranch which has become quite an institution in the west since the east began to hanker for the wide, open spaces. He is going to stock his acres with real Indians and buffalo, whose startling dashes down upon unsuspecting visitors to the accompaniment of wild whoops and bellows will give them all the western atmosphere they crave.

In fact, they may long for some "covered wagon" retreat of their own when old Chief Far Afoot, who has a grim sense of humor, begins waving his tomahawk in too realistic fashion.

Everything Provided

Mr. Meek got the idea of giving romance and adventure to hungry souls when he observed the disappointed looks on the faces of those who swarmed to the ranch following the release of the film.

"Then there aren't really wild Indians and buffalo here at all!" they queried wistfully after tame canterers on Laramie Slim's mildest pony. But this summer will see the "dudes" with their matronly wives riding over the same trail where Ernest Torrance made the redskins bite the dust while the camera clicked. They will peer fearfully ahead at yon boulder and they will not be disappointed, for they will soon be surrounded by yelling Indians.

The obliging Meek will even arrange cowboy rescues of timid lady tourists. But he doesn't guarantee a fade-out "clinch."

Oil Interest is Mildly Rebuked

Coolidge Resents Impression U. S. Was Hoodwinked By Jap-Soviet Deal

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Coolidge has mildly rebuked the Sinclair Oil interests for endeavoring to create the impression that the U. S. was hoodwinked by Japan in the recent agreement made by Tokyo with the Soviet government.

For several days there have been published stories interpreting the Japanese-Russian agreement for concession in Saghalien as a violation of the principle of the open door. This correspondent last week disclosed the viewpoint of the American government to be that the open door policy had not been violated. The White House now has felt constrained to go even further and place the responsibility for the erroneous interpretation on "certain interests" which were disappointed by the Russian-Japanese.

Back of all this is a situation which runs to the days when Albert B. Fall made a trip to Russia and when the former secretary of the interior still was influential with the Harding administration.

Soviet Attitude
The Soviet government wanted recognition. They made a contract with the Sinclair interests whereby the latter were to receive oil concessions but they were to become null and void if the American government did not recognize the Soviet regime.

The Sinclair interests consented to that provision but Secretary Hughes looked askance at it. Whether the Sinclair interests believed that Albert Fall could persuade President Harding to extend recognition to the Soviets or whether the Soviets would ignore the provision and let the concession stand is, of course, something which only the Sinclair people know. So far as the state department is concerned it never considered the oil concessions as a reason for recognition.

"Since the Teapot Dome scandal was revealed, there has been even less interest in forwarding the projects of the Sinclair oil people in relation to the Russian concessions.

THE PATH TO POWER—
Is never made shorter by compromise.
Is always rough going for the hypocrite.
Leads through the valley of disappointment.
Is plainly marked "keep to the right."
Always leads to the land of responsibility.
Is open to any man who serves his generation supremely well.
Is beset with many foes of self-respect.

THE STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE

If the young men of today are prone to postpone assuming the responsibilities of manhood as long as possible it may be because they are not given responsibilities in boyhood. Educators have been startled by President Henry Fairfield Osborne of the American Museum of Natural History, who declares that education should give the modern child the advantages that the cave boy enjoyed. The neolithic youth had advantages which our boys have ceased to enjoy, according to Dr. Osborne. He was surrounded on all sides by vibrant nature, full of wonderful and inspiring phenomena, which filled him with reverence and awe. He learned flint-making, art, sewing and cooking, and his very survival depended upon his aptness. The struggle for existence was the compulsory education of that day. The only drawbacks to the cave boy's education was lack of writing and printing which enable us to pass our learning on to future generations.

It is said that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has ideas along the same line. He believes that the children of wealthy parents should be taught frugality and thrift by having their allowances strictly limited. His own children were started with 30 cents a week and didn't get any more until they had learned to save part of that. Even in their later teens they were held to allowances that many children of moderately well-to-do parents would scorn.

But few parents are able to exercise the self-restraint necessary to deny their children anything they can afford to give them. A. E. Lefcourt, a millionaire real estate operator in New York, has just given his 12-year-old son the deed to property worth $10,000,000. He did this because he wishes to inculcate in his son "a sense of thrift and responsibility."

These men have taken opposite courses, and no one can say that one is right and the other is wrong. The fact is, that the struggle for existence goes on today just as it did in the days of the cave man, and the modern boy needs training to assume the duties and responsibilities of manhood.

AMERICAN EXCLUSION IN JAPAN

Aliens of any race, including citizens of America, have never had the privilege of owning land in Japan. The Japanese have clamored for the right to own and lease land in the United States without granting a like privilege to Americans in return.

Realizing the absurdity of objecting to laws in this country prohibiting Japanese ownership of land while Americans are not permitted to own land in Japan, that country has enacted a law to remedy this anomalous condition, and at the same time make a discrimination against American citizens, as they feel America has discriminated against Japanese nationals.

The new law extends to aliens the right to own real estate in Japan, except those who are citizens of any state which denies to the people of Japan a like privilege. This is aimed directly at the United States, and we cannot and do not object to it. It is probable that a few American enterprises will find themselves handicapped by not being able to own land in Japan when their competitors of other countries have been given that privilege. But we have adopted the policy of non-mixture with the Asiatic peoples which we believe is for the good of both races, and this principle should apply in Japan as well as in the United States. Our policy does not imply hostility to the Asiatics, and if this new law will enable Japan to recover her pride and dignity which were hurt when our Japanese exclusion act went into effect, we should be glad she has enacted such a measure. We accord any country the privilege of saying who may be admitted to citizenship in that country.

CLEANUP NEEDED

The adoption of an extradition treaty between the United States and Mexico should be of interest to every American citizen. Since the days of the Diaz regime there has been no extradition treaty, and Americans have been able to commit crime and slip across the border without fear of arrest. The new treaty provides for a quick and easy extradition of law violators like that now existing between Canada and the United States, which is said to have reduced crime on the Canadian border materially.

If the new treaty has a similar effect upon the Mexican border it will fill a long-felt need. It covers the offenses of smuggling liquor, narcotics and aliens, as well as other violations of law. The lack of such a treaty has caused the scum of both countries to drift to the border. It is hoped and predicted that the near future will see an improvement in conditions on our southern boundary.

ROGERS BILL WORKS

The efficacy of the Rogers bill which Congress passed last summer has been demonstrated in the reorganization of the foreign service. The bill establishes the merit system in the selection of consuls and ministers and gets away from the old idea that important posts may be bought with campaign contributions or used to pay political debts of any kind. By amalgamating the diplomatic and consular service, social barriers have been removed and poor men of ability may now transfer from consular service and reach the grade of ambassador by merit alone. Also our representatives abroad are provided with government-owned domiciles.

Press comments upon the appointment and promotion of a dozen men to ranking posts in the diplomatic service are to the effect that it is remarkable that the Senate confirmed all these appointments without so much as a rollcall. This is evidence enough that the Rogers law is working out beneficially.

BEAUTIFY THE HIGHWAYS

Californians are proud of their highways, especially the El Camino Real, the fine road connecting the old missions and following the path trod by the padres of the early days. Texas has such an old Spanish trail highway also, of which she boasts, as well as other fine roads. A Texas newspaper reports that through the activity of a certain organization sixteen truckloads of signboards have been removed from the famous highway and that effort is being made to extend this work throughout the state by a bill before the Legislature prohibiting the erection of signs on the state highways. California is not so progressive as Texas in making her highways beautiful by abolishing the signboards.

IN THE SPRING A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY TURNS TO—

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

For many years sanitarians have been advocating what they call periodical health examinations. A health examination is a complete physical inventory of an individual, whether apparently well or not, made by a competent doctor of medicine in order to detect any physical and mental impairments with a view to correction.

CLARK KINNAIRD

Every sensible person should go at least once a year to a reputable physician (of which there are still a goodly number) and have an appraisal of his stock of health. If he is discovered to be in perfect health, so much the better for his peace of mind. If, as often happens, organic disease in an incipient stage is found, he is also better off, because he may take immediate steps to remedy a condition which, if allowed to proceed unchecked, will be infinitely more troublesome and expensive to treat later.

Thus he saves himself future pain and financial expenditure, besides prolonging his life. It used to be that tuberculosis exacted the greatest toll among men. Now heart disease does. Periodic health examinations serve to detect heart disease before it has advanced to a point where it is no longer curable. No layman can ascertain the condition of his heart merely by the way he feels or thinks he feels.

The importance of the heart disease problem is shown by the fact that in recognizable forms this malady interferes with the industry, recreation and comfort of at least two million persons. It kills more persons than tuberculosis, kidney disease, cancer or cerebral hemorrhage and apoplexy. Two per cent of all applicants for life insurance are rejected because of it, and four per cent of the men in the draft army were rejected for the same reason. Out of some million deaths annually from all causes, almost 140,000, or 13 per cent, are due to it.

Some diseases are most prevalent among persons of low economic status, that is, "poor people," but heart disease is not one of them. It shows no favoritism whatever. Indolence after forty-five, not an uncommon malady these days, is declared by Dr. Haven Emerson, president of the New York Heart Association, to be a potent factor in its development. The heart must have a certain amount of exercise and when poor habits of personal hygiene stand in the way the owner pays the penalty. Here is something to take to heart.

The new majority leader of the house, will by right of his authority and an unusual situation there, be one of the dominating figures in congress when it meets again—in special session or the regular one. He is Rep. John Q. Tilson of Connecticut.

Rep. Tilson has followed the path which points toward leadership in the House of Representatives. The one indispensable equipment in the house is to know its rules. If you don't know them in that mob of nearly 500 you are lost. Moreover, nothing makes you so useful to your party as to know the rules. And Tilson is reputed to be the best parliamentarian among the Republicans. He isn't the genius at the rule book that Jim Mann was. Nearly every one hated Jim Mann, but they followed him because no one else was such a master of the floor as he was. Tilson has not Mann's disagreeable temperament, but he is a slightly cold and distant person, not a born mixer, without a gift for popularity, and he, too, is leader.

For some years the floor leader of the majority has been a more important person than the speaker, ever since the rebellion against Speaker Cannon and more especially since Speaker Champ Clark, wishing to run for president, chose to be innocuous in the chair and make as few enemies as possible. But the balance between these two offices is unstable.

With a new speaker who has been leader and a new leader who has been a lieutenant, it will be interesting to see what the relative importance of the two offices becomes. For the rest, outside of mastering the rule book, Tilson's career has been the usual one of those who rise to prominence. You must know revenue or you must know appropriations. The house is the great taxing and spending body of the United States. Tilson, with a military record in the war with Spain, started out as the leading authority on military affairs in the house. He was a useful member during the war, specializing on ordnance. His career really began when he was transferred to the ways and means committee and dug into the tariff, that subject which makes Republican statesmen. He knows the tariff and he knows the rules.

Prudence: The shorter way of saying "safety first." Synonym: Virtue.

Dust

By DR. FRANK CRANE

When I go along the crowded street I am greeted everywhere by whirls of dust. I find my shoes covered with it. Horses kick it up and it is everywhere, even in my lungs. This dust, however, is a remarkable thing. Out of it comes all that grows; the trees, the flowers and the crops all spring from it. What is it? The decayed and disintegrated results of former life. All that lives must find its final abiding place in dust. The death of all things, however, is not so remarkable as the birth of new things out of this common element. I myself am a product of dust, for he who created me made my body out of the dust of the ground. A man is just as much a growth of the soil as a tree. His evolution has only been a little longer. By and by he must return to the dust from which he came.

This dust, therefore, contains in itself the potentialities of all being. In it are the trees, birds, flowers and men of the future.

It is a symbol of myself. For what is personality but a something or other composed of things, we know not what? What are ideas and thoughts but things that have found lodgment in us and have floated to us from somewhere? I have no original ideas. The very words I use are the detritus from others' ideas. And the very passions of my body and soul are but a temporary grouping of certain sensations that belong to the human race.

It is an interesting spectacle to watch human beings and all the growths that surround them, whether of plants or animals, rhythmically rising from the dust and settling back again. All life and growth, as we know it, is but an episode. If there were no new births, all things would go speedily back to the dust from which they came.

Dust, therefore, is a remarkable substance, containing in itself not only the death of all living things, but the potentialities of their regeneration. Copyright 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Today's Poem

Better trust all and be deceived,
And weep that trust and that deceiving,
Than doubt one heart that it believed.
Had blessed one's life with true believing.

Better lose the blessed hope of truth,

Timely Views

While many educators, welfare workers, clergymen and reformers are declaring that the younger generation is bringing about the downfall of civilization, the president of Western Reserve university, Robert E. Vinson, steadfastly believes that the young men and women of today are the finest the world has ever seen.

In an address in Cleveland, Dr. Vinson proclaimed himself the defender of the young people of today.

"Ever since the beginning of time," he said, "the question has been asked with succeeding generations, 'What is the world coming to?' Everyone seems to do a lot of worrying about it in each century. But let me say now, never has there been a finer set of young men and women than those who are in the colleges today."

"As women interested in the welfare of youth and as mothers whose lives center about the lives of your children, never let anyone persuade you that the present generation in the American colleges is the worst in history. There are a few young folks running on the edges, carrying flasks, who are daring, venturesome and bold, but they are only the froth and foam of college life. The students on the whole are of a serious mind. They have the finest brains of any age and they are doing things better and are making an improvement on what you have tried to do."

"There should be a great spirit of optimism in the heart of every man," he continued, "because the world of the future is going to be in safer and better hands than it ever was before. I have not missed a day in college for the last thirty-five years and I believe in my own heart that never before have I seen such a marvelous group of students as those of today."

Dr. Vinson discussed at some length the subject of limitation of attendance in colleges. "I am not for limitation," he explained, "except by nature where she has failed to provide an individual with a normal mind. If a man or a woman has brains then I want to see them in the university."

Peterson succeeded in releasing himself after several hours and walked to Petaluma, where he notified the police. Peterson was leaving the Methodist church here and was about to get into his automobile when he found the two men hid in the tonneau. One displayed a revolver and ordered him to drive away.

WIDOW TO SEEK HOUSE ELECTION

Mrs. Rogers Will Have Little Opposition on Ballot Is Belief

By M. E. HENNESSY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News
BOSTON, April 14.—Following the political custom which has grown up of late years, Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, of Lowell, widow of the late congressman, John Jacob Rogers, will fight to succeed his husband at Washington. It has been taken for granted in the fifth district that if Mrs. Rogers would announce for the vacancy she would have no opposition at the republican primaries. Several Democratic aspirants for the place—and the Lowell district normally is Democratic—announced they would not oppose Mrs. Rogers at the polls. So her opposition may turn out to be merely formal—at least so far as the unexpired term of her husband is concerned. What may happen in 1926 is something else again.

Backed by Veterans

Mrs. Rogers shares in the great personal popularity which carried her Republican husband to carry the Democratic district in off years. The World War veterans almost to a man say they will be with Mrs. Rogers, not only because her husband was a soldier himself, but because he always stood loyally by them in everything they asked of Congress. He voted to pass the bonus over Mr. Coolidge's veto.

Mrs. Rogers, during the world war, was a Red Cross nurse in Washington and also did extensive welfare work among the soldiers in Lowell district. She was known as "the angel of the Walter Reid hospital" at Washington where the administration to the sick and disabled soldiers was known and appreciated. She has kept up her interest in the disabled soldiers since the war. Recognizing her work, President Harding named Mrs. Rogers his personal representative to investigate conditions in the veterans' hospitals throughout the country. President Coolidge re-appointed Mrs. Rogers to this work.

Knows Situation

In the ten years her husband served in congress, Mrs. Rogers took a deep interest in public affairs and is familiar with most of the political and economic questions before Congress. Last fall she was selected by the Coolidge electors of Massachusetts to carry the vote of the state to Washington. It was the first time a woman had had that honor.

Mrs. Rogers has no fads, unless her devotion and loyalty to work among the veterans may be so designated.

Take These Saving Short Cuts

Remember how you used to take the short cuts when you were going to school? Usually they were across lots and not inviting of travel. But it paid to take them because it saved time.

DO you know that today there are several short cuts between your home and downtown Los Angeles? And there is the same advantage that belonged to the back lots of your school days.

Only the short cuts of today are modernized. They cost in the aggregate millions of dollars—and they're worth it.

In this community, they take the form of bridges over traffic lanes as pictured above, and rights-of-way across places where the highways must go around.

There is a saving that you cannot well afford to ignore.

If you drive a car to and from your business, think for a moment what this saving means:

To begin with, there's your time to be considered. The Red Cars operate on a schedule which means punctuality.

Besides, there is the relief from the serious business of threading traffic and the eternal quest of parking space.

Not only do The Red Cars save the time involved in these difficulties, but the nerve strain as well. And this latter is serious.

You cannot realize the physical toll that motor-traffic takes until you are free from it for a few days.

Nor can you realize the great saving possible until you've reckoned the costs of travel by automobile vs. The Red Cars.

'FAST' YOUTH NOT BAD, SAYS FATHER

Son of Ohio Governor Just Speedy; Trustees Held Good Influence

By O. L. SCOTT
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 14.—The venture into fast living of Hal Honahey, the 19-year-old son of Ohio's governor, brings up the question here whether this youngster of speedy ways acquired his bent under the influence of the criminals who constitute the servant corps of the executive mansion.

Prisoners under sentence for manslaughter and murder have been included among the home servants, and sometimes the driving companions of this young blood. Three criminals, trustees are attached now to the executive mansion servant staff, a chauffeur, a butler and a gardener.

Harmful Influence
Some persons question whether the influence of these men might not have imparted to the youth who came into contact with them, some of the ways which led them into lawlessness.

Governor "Vic" Donahey and Warden P. E. Thomas of the Ohio State Penitentiary entertain no such misgivings. The governor has implicit faith in his "boys" as he affectionately dubs the prisoners on his servant staff. Before he takes them into his home he makes sure that the crime for which they were convicted was their first, and that they are deserving of a new start in life.

Instead of being a bad influence, the governor feels that such prisoners are a good influence on his children, because of their desire to be attentive, thoughtful and helpful, and because of the most strict requirements which make them lead particularly exemplary lives.

Warden Thomas, who trains the servants before they reach the governor, scoffed when the suggestion was made to him that these criminals might have influenced young Hal.

Puffie, Says Warden
"That's puffie," the warden said today. "The prisoners who go into the governor's home are of the best type, well trained here in my home and they are the most efficient servants. My own boy has been in contact with prisoners here at the penitentiary for 12 years and certainly he has not suffered from it."

The feeling of the governor is that Hal has just stepped off on the wrong foot. Out of his ten lively children, Hal happens to be the liveliest and to have a penchant for getting himself into scrapes.

After Hal was put in jail a short time ago for speeding in the adjutant general's car, this overgrown youngster of winning ways, who it is generally said here, was concerned not at all about girls, began to get a flood of letters from sympathetic flappers all over the country.

Is Likeable Chap
Whether these sentimental little appeals might have set the boy off on a wrong track, is another matter. It is said by all of his friends that Hal is just a particularly lively and particularly likeable youngster. At 19 he stands up six feet, good looking and attractive. His liveliness has become a big problem for the governor. The speediness he shows overcomes any inclination he might have for study.

Hal says now that he wants to "get out and get going." His father is thinking of the army for him, aviation in particular, and if he comes safely through his present predicament he may get a chance to let out his speed in an airplane.

PERU STATUS ON AWARD IN DOUBT

Action Over Tacna-Arica Dispute Causing Anxiety In Officialdom

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Although Peru's attitude toward the Tacna-Arica award remains to be developed, reports received there from all parts of Latin America indicate an almost unanimous approval of the decision made by the president of the United States to order a referendum in the disputed areas.

The controversy has so long been the sore spot in Latin America that it has affected the diplomacy of two continents and the fact that the quarrel is at last moving toward a final settlement is the occasion for much gratification among the nations of the south.

Anxiety Is Felt
Peru has not said she would not accept the award but her attitude is occasioning some anxiety. When the American minister to Peru, Miles Poindexter, former United States senator from the state of Washington, presented the text of the award to the foreign minister, the latter is quoted as having said: "I do not know the contents of the award but I can assure you in advance that whatever it is, Peru will accept its findings."

So there is no expectation of any move that definitely rejects the award. The fear here is that Peru will insist upon certain guarantees being carried out to insure what she considers a fair estimation, and, failing to get those guarantees, will not participate in the referendum.

Situation Complicated
Under the circumstances this would be equivalent to letting the election go by default, an eventuality which is not calculated to reconcile the feelings between the disputants or to improve Peru's relations with the United States.

The situation is further complicated by internal politics in Peru, where, according to latest reports, an opposition party to the present president of Peru is endeavoring to make political capital out of the Peruvian government's position. The latter, therefore, is endeavoring to placate public opinion in Peru and at the same time conform as far as possible to the terms of the award.

May Reach Settlement
The award itself provides for the conduct of the election on a fair basis and unless some impossible conditions are insisted upon Peru, officials here feel that in the end a settlement can be reached and the referendum held as planned.

While some disappointment has been expressed that the United States should be the victim of any ill-feeling in Peru because of the terms of the award, this is to a large extent offset by the editorial opinion and general feeling of the governments of Latin America that the United States has acted fairly and impartially and that the decision is a wise one. This more or less anything else will maintain prestige of the United States as a mediator and arbitrator of disputes in this hemisphere.

Public Utilities Broadcasting Given Hard Blow In Court Decision

By ROBERT MACK
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Radio broadcasting by public service corporations has been hit a blow by a decision of the District of Columbia public utilities commission. The commission holds that a broadcasting station must stand on its own feet and that the cost of its installation, equipment and operation is not a proper allowance in fixing the valuation of the owning company for rate making purposes.

This decision was reached in the case of station WCAP, owned and operated by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., one of the two broadcasters of the Bell Telephone system. In passing upon the valuation of the company, the commission struck out $125,000 claimed as an allowance for WCAP.

Officials of the telephone company were silent when asked if the decision might result in removal of the station to another city.

"There is nothing that can be said just now," one official explained. "The most we can promise is that WCAP will be on the air Sunday and Monday."

It is understood that a study will be made of the actual cost of the station during the past year in which it has operated as a commercial station to determine whether the sale of time on the air can make broadcasting profitable.

Those who judged men by their clothes are all dead now. They were foolish enough to judge hootch by the label.

This is the night of Big Souvenir Drawing by the Japan Art & Tea Co. at Hahn's Auditorium. Everybody invited to come—Advertisement.

BORAH SPEECHES NEVER ON RADIO

Orator Never Yet Talked Into Microphone; Wilbur Unfortunate, Claim

By ROBERT MACK
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—There is one man in the U. S. senate who has never talked into a microphone.

And curiously enough, that man is one of the country's most distinguished orators of the upper house—Senator Wm. E. Borah, of Idaho.

Friends of Senator Borah have often accused him of being "mike-shy." But this was denied today by the senator himself. "It has just happened," he explained with a smile, "that none of my speeches have been broadcast."

On Speaking Tour
When it was announced that Senator Borah planned to make some fifty addresses throughout this summer on the various phases of the foreign relations of the U. S., it was noted that nothing was said of putting him on the air. Two of these speeches have been delivered, one at Hartford and the other at Chicago.

Commenting on the Chicago address, Senator Borah explained that one of the stations in that city had endeavored to pick up the speech from the banquet table but was unable to arrange the broadcast at the hour at which he was scheduled to talk.

Although no definite dates have been made by the senator for the remainder of his summer talks, it is unlikely, he said, that any of them will be broadcast.

POLITICAL FIGHTS FLOOD GERMANY

Easter Vacation Period Is Featured By Battles Over Candidates

By S. W. WEYER
For International News Service

BERLIN, April 14.—Germany's second presidential election—now but two weeks away—gave merry-making crowds celebrating the second day of the Easter holiday yesterday the spectacle of many spirited fights arising from discussions of the principal candidates.

Crowds everywhere discussed chances of Wilhelm Marx, republican candidate, and Field Marshal Van Hindenburg, the candidate of the nationalist bloc.

With the exception of the Communist, one publicly attacks Von Hindenburg but there is much criticism of the circles backing him.

Although many consider the aged soldier too old and too unversed in politics to be qualified for the presidency, millions will vote for him because of a sort of moral obligation not to disavow the man who led the German army from victory to victory and who stood like a sturdy oak in the nation's gravest crisis, after abdication of the former kaiser.

president himself. Secretary Wilbur is the latest of the cabinet to meet with misfortune at the microphone. It was learned today that amplifier trouble at the Camden, N. J., ship yards caused the inaudibility of Secretary Wilbur's address Tuesday at the launching of the airplane carrier Saratoga. The faintness of the secretary's voice on the air caused WJZ and WGY eventually to shut down their transmitter.

Signals will be transmitted under ground nightly for the next two weeks by Dr. J. Harris Rogers, the Hyattsville, Maryland, inventor in an attempt to reach European listeners. Dr. Rogers said today. He will use a 270 meter wave.

Knows Valuable Secret

DAVID A. BELAIS, modern alchemist, who holds the secret formula for making white gold keep its color. The process is estimated to be worth $10,000,000 and no one but the inventor knows how the metal is made to look like platinum, but costs much less.

NO ONE ELSE KNOWS THE SECRET

NEW YORK, April 14.—David A. Belais is the sole possessor of a secret which is worth more gold than the alchemists of old believed the world to possess. This is the secret, not quite what the alchemists sought, of turning the precious metal from its yellow color to white.

The process, valued at more than $10,000,000, is the result of thirty years of labor, experiment, repeated failure and final success. Born in New York in 1862, the son of Solomon Belais, a diamond merchant, young David, after being graduated from the College of the City of New York, went into the business of manufacturing jewelry, with his brother as a partner. In this he succeeded.

Because of the popularity of platinum, the supply of which is limited, white gold is in great demand. White gold looks like platinum. It is only half as heavy as platinum. And turning it into jewelry is not accompanied by the risks which go with manufacturing platinum jewelry, for the price of gold is constant, while that of platinum fluctuates.

Success at Last
Belais, his mind occupied with thoughts of the possibility of turning gold white and keeping it white, worked out a formula which was successful, but only temporarily. The gold turned yellow or green in a short time.

Then he hit upon a new process. He made a sample of the white gold. He tested it with every kind of reagent known, and from all of them the gold came out still white. Then he made the most difficult test of all—the test of time. He exposed his samples for a period of years to the air, wind and water. The gold remained white.

At the end of the war platinum had become a very important metal for jewelry, but the government had commandeered nearly all of it. It seemed reasonable that white gold would take its place. But jewelers had had experience with white gold, white gold which turned yellow or green or black. When Belais insisted that his would remain white permanently they laughed at him.

There was another period then during which he repeated the tests he already had made, while skeptics looked on. But when they found the gold did retain its white luster, they lost their skepticism.

It requires many men to carry out the elaborate process of putting the white sheen on the gold. In the Belais factory in New York hundreds are at work, each in a separate booth, so that he cannot communicate with his fellow employees. Each man is occupied with only a single operation in the process. There are foremen who have charge of a small group of the laborers and so have knowledge of a few of the operations. But the whole detailed process only one man knows—and he is David A. Belais.

FLAGSHIP LEAVES TO JUDGE 'BATTLE'

Armada's Advance Guard To Carry 'Umpires' For Hawaiian 'War'

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE
For International News Service
ABOARD U. S. S. SEATTLE, April 14.—Carrying most of the major "umpires," who will decide the various issues in the "battle" to be staged by the United States battle fleet in its Hawaiian maneuvers and attempt to capture the Island of Oahu, the U. S. S. Seattle, flagship of the fleet and under the command of Admiral Robert S. Coontz, will steam out of San Francisco harbor this afternoon for Honolulu.

The Seattle, which will be a neutral ship during the maneuvers, is sailing one day ahead of the fleet in order that the "umpires" may have a better advantage in judging the "battle." The remainder of the fleet, comprising 146 war craft and carrying approximately 40,000 men and officers, will leave San Francisco tomorrow morning. The Seattle, according to present schedule, will reach Honolulu April 20, while the remainder of the fleet will not arrive until the latter part of the month, probably about the 30th.

Plan of Battle

An attack to be staged by the fleet upon Oahu will be resisted by the various regular army units, national guard and reserve forces, as well as the navy units now at the point, in the form of maneuvers. Throughout the maneuvers the fleet will be known as "blue" forces, while the unit on Oahu will be known as the "black" forces.

Whether or not the United States fleet could rescue the Hawaiian Islands in time of actual war is the problem of the maneuvers. At the same time the maneuvers will prove whether the forces on Oahu could repulse an "enemy" attack.

in the world will want to enjoy before their days end."

At Alhambra Tonight
National President Sabicht is in Southern California to attend the Alhambra charter night celebration to be held tonight at Alhambra. The local club sponsored the Alhambra club, and President William Baker announced eighty-six Glendalians would attend the event.

George Pepperdine, president of the Western Auto Supply Co., was the principal speaker, stressing the relation of service clubs to prosperity. He urged the members of the club to think prosperity and talk prosperity as a means of bringing prosperity to the entire nation during 1925. He quoted facts and figures to show that the United States was the leading nation of the world, and that the natural movement of the Anglo-Saxon race was towards the Pacific coast.

Signs Presented
C. H. Roundbush, manager of the local branch of the Western Auto Supply Co., and who arranged the program for today, presented the club with four steel signs, to be erected at entrances to the city. These signs bear the club insignia and motto, and tell when and where the meetings are held each week.

C. C. Prescott of the Western Auto Supply Co., sang several solos, and the Rummell five-piece orchestra, furnished by the Western Auto Supply Co., played during the luncheon.

Congratulations!
H. C. Schumacher was congratulated upon the arrival of a son today. W. C. Vanderwood announced his membership of the visitation committee and assigned the clubs each member of the local organization is to visit during the coming year. President Baker urged every member of the club who had not voted, to visit the polls during the afternoon.

Dr. Harrower, in a brief talk which followed the address by Mr. Pepperdine, suggested a new motto for Glendale, and recommended that the Exchange club get behind it. His suggestion was:

"In California, Glendale is next to Los Angeles."

Dr. Harrower will speak next Tuesday noon on his recent trip to England. He returned to Glendale Saturday night. He sailed for England in November.

A large birthday cake with fourteen candles was part of the decorative scheme for the luncheon. Arrangements for the birthday celebration were in the hands of a committee composed of T. M. Fambrough, Carl Christy and Art Cryderman.

Poison Traces Found In Cunningham Body

GARY, Ind., April 14.—Definite traces of arsenic have been found in the vital organs of Walter Cunningham, youngest son of Mrs. Anna Cunningham, 47, Indiana's alleged "poisoning mother." Dr. W. D. McNally, coroner's chemist of Cook county, Illinois, reported to Indiana authorities here this afternoon.

Electioneering was the order of the day, although it was quiet and orderly. Cars operated by candidates were kept fairly busy, although most of those who cast their ballots drove up to the polling places in their own machines. Employees of the city were given time off at any time during the day they wished to vote.

HAY FEVER (Part 2)

Treatment and Prevention

Those of you who suffer from Hay Fever will appreciate H. I. Phillips' definition and list of symptoms. Hay Fever is a combination of rashes, distemper, beriberi, grippe, Spanish influenza, German measles, Chinese epidemic, prickly heat, salt rheum, malaria, painter's colic, asthma, barbers' itch, and a hangover. The first symptom is a smarting of the eyes and a tickling sensation in the nose. The victim then begins to wheeze, sneeze, sniffle and sputter until his actions become very much like those of a balky one-cylinder marine engine. He begins to feel like the raw edges of an open grave. Even the name of Hay Fever will upset him.

As I told you in yesterday's paper, there are other things besides pollen that will give the characteristic symptoms of Hay Fever in susceptible persons—certain sachets, perfumes, certain foods and drugs, animal emanations such as would come from feathers, fur wool, and the dandruff from living animals. The Hay Fever victim is often subject to asthma, intestinal disturbances and skin disorder. So you see Phillips' definition is not far wrong.

In the newer medical terminology the general name for all of these Hay Fever afflictions is Allergic Coryza, coryza meaning acute cold and allergy meaning a hyper-sensitiveness (sometimes called idiosyncrasy). The special name for the Allergic Coryza caused by pollen is Pollinosis.

About 1 per cent of the population suffers from Pollinosis. Why certain people should have this hypersensitiveness is not known. Some recent history taken of a number of the sufferers indicates that there may be a hereditary tendency, for in a certain percentage of the cases it was found that the parents or grandparents or other members of the family suffered similarly.

Any abnormal local conditions in the nose may be causes of hypersensitiveness of the mucous membrane; for instance, chronic catarrhal inflammations, especially those extending into the sinuses (air spaces in the head bones which communicate with the nose), polyps (small stemmed tumor masses), or a deflected septum (the central partition in the nose). It is known that an unbalanced diet, especially one deficient in vitamins and the essential mineral salts, will result in inflammations of the mucous membrane, as well as other abnormal conditions.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY MURDER, SUICIDE

So Coroner Fixes Blame In Atwater Killings; One Woman Clubbed

Certificates of murder and suicide were signed by Coroner Nance in the triple death tragedy yesterday, in which Mrs. Josephine Greenhalgh and Miss Elizabeth Brown were murdered and Henry Greenhalgh, perpetrator of the crimes, was a suicide. The shooting which occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh, 3281 Fletcher drive, Atwater district, was declared to be one of the most sensational crimes on records of Los Angeles police courts.

Miss Brown, friend of Mrs. Greenhalgh, who played the part of her defender when the woman's husband undertook to attack her with a club, died at the County Hospital in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the result of the terrific clubbing administered by Greenhalgh. Early reports that she had been shot by Greenhalgh were corrected by deputies from the sheriff's office who examined the body of the woman and also the room in which she was attacked. No bullet holes were found either in the body of Miss Brown or in the walls about the front bedroom where she was found unconscious by the police.

Mrs. Greenhalgh died at the receiving hospital a few minutes after the shooting, her head and abdomen badly torn by the discharge of a double-barrel shotgun. Greenhalgh was dead when police found him in a front room at the Fletcher drive home. It was definitely established that the quarrel ending in the triple death was precipitated when Mrs. Greenhalgh and Miss Brown arrived at the Fletcher drive home to take possession, following the issuance of a court order banning Greenhalgh from the premises. Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh were married a year ago Easter eve.

ANSWERED LETTERS
Mrs. R. E.—Henna will blond purifier and a tonic taken in the spring time. It is made by mixing together flour of sulphur and molasses so it will be like paste. The dose is a teaspoonful three times a day for three days, and then stop taking it for a few days to allow the sulphur time to cleanse the blood and be thrown off through the natural processes of the system. Repeat the doses for another three days, and repeat the days of omissions, noting the effects upon your skin and digestion; after several weeks there should be no more needs for the purifier and tonic. No blood purifier should be taken any longer than actually needed, for the tendency thereafter is to thin the blood.

Red and B.—There is some disturbance in your digestive system, or restriction in the circulation to cause you to have a red and shiny nose all the time. Try taking agar-agar for a time to clear the digestive tract, and drink enough water to help along this cleansing process. COUNCIL TO GET MORE SEWER BIDS

Officials To Consider Six Proposals At Meeting Thursday Morning

Bids of six contractors for construction of section No. 8, intercepting mains, general sewers, one of the main portions of Glendale's new sewer system now under course of installation, will be considered at a joint session of the City Council, meeting as a committee of the whole, and the sewer advisory committee on Thursday morning, it was learned today.

Culjak & Rehek were low bidders for the work, asking $58,900 for construction of either vitrified pipe or concrete sewers. This price, however, is several thousand dollars higher than their former bid for the same work which was awarded them, and later withdrawn when they failed to post bond.

Submit Report
The bids in the second call range as high as $71,450 for vitrified pipe installation and $66,000 for concrete sewers.

At last Thursday's session of the City Council the bids were referred to sewer engineers and the City Manager for checking and report. This report, it is expected, will be submitted to the council on Thursday's meeting following the session as committee of the whole.

Other bidders for the work are J. C. Hickey, Thomas Haverly Co., M. Miller and John Artukovich.

TEAMS TO DECIDE SECOND POSITION

Radio And Calla Lily Hoop Shooters Will Meet Thursday Night

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.
Second place in the Glendale Merchants' basketball league will be decided Thursday night at the Harvard High school gym when the Calla Lily team meets the Radios. It will be the only game of the week, and is expected to wind up the season, as other teams scheduled will forfeit, it is said.

The Calla Lily aggregation have won eight games and lost three. They had one game on their schedule, the Christian church, but there is a bare possibility of this game being played and a forfeit is expected. The Radios have won seven and lost three games, with two on their schedule. The Standard Oilers will forfeit to the Radios, as will the Legion. The final standing would then be nine games won and three games lost by each team.

Trucks Are First

The Radios defeated the Calla Lily team early in the first round. During the second round of play the milkmen swamped the Radios. The first contest between these two teams was an exciting one, the Radios winning 23 to 27. The second was easy for the milkmen, 27 to 16.

First place in the league goes to the Hull Trucks, with eleven wins and one defeat. The only team that trimmed and the league leaders was the M. E. churchmen, who sprang a surprise in the first round by taking the game, 2 to 28. They came close to repeating the feat in the second round, only to lose the game in the final quarter, 33 to 23.

Telegraphic Vote Is Planned For Runner

NEW YORK, April 14.—Prospects are that a telegraphic vote such as was taken recently in the similar case of Willie Ritola, will be instituted among members of the national registration committee of the A. A. U. in the hope of reinstatement of Paavo Nurmi, who stands suspended by the Western association for his failure to compete at Kansas City, according to schedule.

The vote, if taken, will determine whether Nurmi will be permitted to resume his schedule, which calls for appearances at Minneapolis on Thursday night and at Los Angeles and San Francisco later in the month. Nurmi is now here and stoutly maintains he was unable to run in Kansas City, owing to a heavy cold.

Alexander To Pitch For Cubs In Opener

CHICAGO, April 14.—The most perfect of spring days greeted the thousands who trekked to the lair of the Cubs here today to witness their clash with the Pirates in the National league opener. Grover Cleveland Alexander was scheduled to do business on the mound for the Cubs and report had it that Yde or Kremer would do the Pirate flinging.

SPORT CHATTER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, April 14.—Major league baseball, hallowed institution of all that is typically American, will get away this afternoon in the formal opening of the 1923 season and the citizenry of eight big-time cities are agog at the prospect. A cub reporter given a story about a mad dog running amuck once wrote something to the effect the dog ran a terrible muck down the street. I might say therefore that the fans are a very successful dog. It is the big moment for which they annually wait and grandmother's life more or less is nothing.

Close to a quarter of a million souls will attend the various openings, weather permitting, and of that number some were born with grandmothers, some will achieve them and others, particularly the bosses, and the office boys, will have them thrust upon.

Locally, the Washington Senators and the New York Yankees, respective champions and runners-up in the American league last year, are due to oblige at the Yankee stadium and early indications were for clear and cool weather. If no change is manifested before nightfall the teams will play before nearly 65,000 persons as the park is a sell-out except for the unreserved sections.

Walter Johnson is one of several pitching possibilities for Washington. Shocker will probably pitch for the Yankees. The same conditions, of course, will affect the opening at Ebbetts field where the Dodgers and Phils will hold forth before nearly 30,000. Vance, league leading pitcher, is due for the Dodgers, Jimmy Ring for the Phils.

Unsettled weather is in prospect for the Giant-Braves game at Boston and the Red Sox-White Sox opening at Philadelphia. The day dawned clear in both cities, but the official forecast called for showers late in the afternoon or shortly after dark.

At Cincinnati where the Cardinals and Reds are due to mingle, much the same conditions prevailed, there being an area of low pressure nearby.

Further west the prospects were more encouraging. Fair weather was the prospect between the Pirates and St. Louis for the inaugural ceremonies featuring the Indians and the Browns.

But Detroit's prospects. It was cloudy there during the last 24 hours and the weather man was pleased to indicate that this condition might continue today.

One other factor, that of the unprecedented number of players affected this year by illness, injury and the bite of the hold-out bug, may serve to mar some of the openings.

Babe Ruth, most famous of all ball players, will miss the Yankee inaugural. He is still confined to a local hospital with the flu and can only follow the fortunes of his team through reports brought to his bedside. The Yanks also are likely to start without Everett Scott, shortstop, and his consecutive game streak seems about to be ended after 1,291 games.

John McGraw will miss his first opening game since becoming manager of the Giants. He is ill. Frisch, Lindstrom and Groh of the same club are ailing and any or all of them may be out. The Athletics will be devoid of Hauser and Helmach through injuries and the Cubs must worry along without Maranville, Hollocher and Grigsby.

Cleaver over Pete Sarmento, Philipines, ten rounds; Bushy Graham, Utica, won decision over Eddie Anger, ten rounds.

GODFREY-BAKER BOUT AT VERNON

Colored Heavyweights Meet Tonight In Ten-Round Main Event

Everything is set for the big heavyweight battle tonight at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena when George Godfrey, the "black shadow of Leiperville," meets Sam Baker in the main event of ten rounds or less. Baker has seventeen one-round knockouts out of nineteen fights, while Godfrey's manager is claiming the heavyweight title Jack Dempsey stepped out of recently. Godfrey will weigh around 220 pounds, while Baker will tip the Fairbanks at 230 pounds.

Phil Sheridan and Sailor Billy Vincent will step six rounds in the semi-windup, the match being a last-minute substitution for the Ernie Owens-George Manley fracas. Manley got off on the wrong foot with his manager, and Ernie developed a felon on one finger.

Girls' Lacrosse Teams Will Play At Burbank

BURBANK, April 14.—Sport lovers of all Southern California are taking keen interest in the championship Lacrosse game to be staged in this city Saturday, April 18, at 2 o'clock. The Greater Los Angeles girls' team and the Greater Bay district team will be the contenders. The Greater Bay district team is the present champion and the holder of the title and trophy.

These teams and three others in the east are the only feminine teams in the United States and title games always create widespread interest. Large delegations are reported coming from Los Angeles, Santa Monica, Venice, Ocean Park, Long Beach, San Pedro, Eagle Rock and Glendale.

The entire contingent of twenty-four players together with the substitutes, coaches and matrons are to be entertained during the day by the Chamber of Commerce at the clubhouse of the Ben Mar Hills, where an informal reception will be held.

Browns And Indians Clash At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, April 14.—Gentle but fickle spring zephyrs permeated with the soul-stirring odors of the noble peanut and hot dog wafted over St. Louis, heralding the inauguration of matters baseball. The Browns and Manager Speaker's Cleveland Indians led the program, with Joe Bush, late of the Yankees, scheduled to do the mound chores for the Browns and Sherrod Smith the probable Cleveland entry.

Landis To See Giants Play Braves At Boston

BOSTON, April 14.—The lid goes off this 1923 major league baseball season at Braves' field this afternoon, Boston vs. the New York Giants, last year's National league champions. Dave Bancroft, manager of the Braves, starts his second season in that capacity with practically a new lineup. Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, will be present.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Ill luck has settled upon both Pittsburgh and Chicago in the National league since the teams made their trade. Dams fortune doesn't seem to have approved of the swap by which Maranville went to Chicago and Moore was moved to second for the Pirates.

The accident which befell Maranville when he made a needless slide to third base in an exhibition game is historic and Maranville is trying to recuperate from it on crutches.

Moore, who was to have played second base for Pittsburgh in place of Maranville, is out. He may play it some day, for all any one knows. He may not get into some of the games that he is to follow, because he has developed a bad shoulder which spoils his throwing arm.

Surgeons seem unable to diagnose the trouble and Moore has been ordered to go to Pittsburgh for consultation with a home doctor in whom Dreyfus has faith.

The jinx certainly put in good work with both these National league teams and in a season, too, when they hoped to shine more splendidly than they had in years. The jinx seems to be just over short and second, vital positions to both teams, as it is their infielders which need oil in particular, although the Cubs can take a lot of help in the outfield, too.

But if Moore is unable to play second base, the Pittsburghs are not without strength. Don't think that for the moment. They have a young player by the name of Thompson who was with Omaha last year, and who was commented upon most favorably in these dispatches. He is a coming star.

Thompson is almost as good a fielder as Moore. He may not bat as well. He bats like a real hitter some of the time but then again he isn't so sure of himself. He is one of those batters who can hit some pitchers a mile and miss others two miles.

Much speculation has been advanced as to what kind of second baseman Moore would make, and some who had no chance to see him in spring work declared he never could fill Maranville's shoes.

Unwise men. Not only would he have filled them but he would have run over at the edges in the field. The Pittsburgh infield would have been the fastest in the National league, and second only to the speed combination at Washington. Moore can field as well at second base as Maranville ever did and perhaps better. He showed it in every move.

But a fielder who can't throw isn't much good. Maranville can throw but he can't stand up, and Moore can stand up but he can't throw, and that's where the famous Chicago-Pittsburgh trade stands at the present writing.

Moore probably will get into the batting order soon. He may come around in a hurry yet it doesn't appear as if he will at this moment. Maranville will get into a ball game as quickly as his broken bones will permit, but broken bones are slow in knitting and slow in getting ready for real baseball activity.

The big trade, however, which was the sensation of the National league and about which fans of a continent were speculating has been so clouded right and left that little is to be said now of what it might have done for both teams.

Yet, those who have ridiculed Dreyfus for his trade without seeing Moore in action this year have been talking through their brown derbies. The combination of Moore and Wright on the keystone of the Pittsburgh infield would have been second only to that immitable pair in Washington—Harris and Peckinpaugh.

There is no doubt about the speed that Bordinio's Fiat has under the hood. He has turned the Culver City course in practice at better than 133 miles an hour and if he can keep up that pace for twenty-five miles he is likely to carry away first honors in one of the short dashes of next Sunday.

The train caller doubtless is a linguist, but nobody ever seems to know which language he is using.

Out to Set New Records

BENNETT HILL, who won the 250-mile classic that christened the boards at Culver City speedway last December, is expected to spin around the bowl a little faster on April 19, when a sprintfest will be staged, according to rumors from speed demons' row.

Bennett Hill.

Old and new speed marks are to be shattered April 19 with a bang that will bring back memories of early day earthquakes, if the dope that emanates from the pine saucer at Culver City is to be considered serious. Bennett Hill, who finished out in the front when the big bowl was christened with splattering oil, dripping water and gasoline fumes last year, will be back at the wheel of his silver-bonneted chariot.

The entry list for the sprintfest closed at midnight Friday night. Sixteen speed demons are on the books for the five events ranging from ten-mile dashes to fifty-mile sprints. Jerry Wonderlich, the boy wonder, was the last driver to enter, and some of the best-known drivers will get away when the starter's flag descends.

Tommy Milton will be there, as will Bennett Hill, Jerry Wonderlich, Dave Lewis, Petre De Paola, Ralph DePalma, Harry Hartz, Earl Cooper, Peter Kries, Wade Norton, Frank Elliott, Frank Lockhart and others.

Final Appearance
Signor Pietro Bordinio, gasoline charioteer who registers from Torino, Italy, is making final preparations for his last American appearance before he departs for his home across the Atlantic where he is to drive his speedy Italian Fiat in the European classics during the summer months. Bordinio is promising his friends that he will be able to hold his own Sunday with the fast American velocity merchants and he is planning on taking a large supply of ready cash home with him when he departs.

There are many of Bordinio's countrymen who are backing their idol against Milton, Hartz, Hill Cooper and the rest of the fast Americans. The Italians are loyal to their countryman and to the majority of the speed honors of Europe. They will not admit that there is even a possibility that their Pietro will be defeated in the fast twenty-five and fifty mile races that will make up the Culver City speed card next Sunday.

The Glendale Optimist club dropped three games in their match with the Hollywood Laundry Service team last night. Richards of the winners rolled high score with 224 in the first game. Heppburn of the losers was the only man on the Optimist team to reach the 200 mark. The scores:

II—Proper Combinations
People who have been eating three meals of cooked food a day will gradually have to prepare themselves to be able to eat mostly natural foods. One meal a day of natural foods is a good start, as natural foods on the start begin a very active house-cleaning process, cleaning out much waste matter that has been collecting in the large intestine or colon, and allowing the small intestine to properly assimilate, with its thousands of suckers, the natural food elements that are necessary to maintain a high degree of health and keep the body immune from colds, coughs and other ailments, including contagious diseases.

Any one of the following combinations is good to start with. They are proportioned in quantity for five people, two or three persons can reduce them according to their number:

Fruit Salad: Five medium-sized oranges, peeled and sliced; five very ripe bananas, peeled and sliced thin; five Brazil nuts, chopped; three medium-sized apples, peeled and chopped; one cup seedless raisins; five dates, chopped fine; one tablespoon natural honey, strained. Mix the above all together and serve on lettuce leaves.

Corn Soup: Four medium potatoes, sliced and boiled in enough water to keep from burning. Add one can corn, one quart milk and a small can of condensed milk may be added for flavoring. Warm until hot enough to be served like soup. Bread and butter may also be eaten with the above combination.

Salad: Five apples, five very ripe bananas, five stalks celery, ten walnuts. Chop all together and serve on lettuce leaves.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The whole world is talking through the nose of the Mascar-Kaplan match which had been touted for outdoors was that Mascar wants a crack at Johnny Dundee and not at Kaplan.

Europeans consider that Dundee is the rightful featherweight champion and in France they hold an awful grudge against the Scotch-wop for the whaling he gave to Gene Ciqui, their pride and idol.

Were Mascar to meet and defeat Kaplan, Europeans would shrug and say "Oh, yes, but he has not beaten the real champion and the man who wrangled our honor in the dust by flailing Ciqui and then snapped his finger under our noses and ran out on us when we had him hooked up for a bout in Paris."

That is the reason why Mascar made impossible terms when it came to a Kaplan match and anyone can make a good bet he will not be so stiff in his terms when the talk swings around to Dundee.

Can Harry Greb be a knocker-out if he wants to be? Up in Tex Rickard's office they were discussing this question pro and con.

So far as the writer is concerned even a casual glance at the records shows that he possesses a wallop when he wants to set himself to use it. In 245 battles he has had forty-five knockouts and the calibre of the men he put to sleep proves his punching ability.

His knockouts of K. O. Brown and Johnny Howard when this pair were at their best were sensational and stamped the name of Rickard's office on the men he put to sleep proves his punching ability.

Three Famous Men To Be Missing In Lineup

NEW YORK, April 14.—Three of the "greatest names in all baseball" will be missing from the accounts of the 1923 opening games today as a result of illness and injury. Babe Ruth, most famous player the game has ever known, was still confined to his hospital cot by illness and will be missing from the Yankee-Senator opening at the Yankee stadium.

So, according to official statement, will Everett Scott, veteran shortstop and holder of the world's record for consecutive games played. For nine seasons Scott has played a ball game every day, come what might, until his record reached the amazing total of 1,291 games. Now it seemingly must come to an end through an abdominal strain contracted in a recent training camp game.

John McGraw, famous Giant manager, did not go to the post. He was confined with a heavy cold and will miss his first opening since taking over the leadership of the club, more than twenty years ago.

The country is safe while the average man can cause the government so intelligently.

Commission To Pass On Greb-Walker Bout

NEW YORK, April 14.—Official sanction for the proposed meeting between Harry Greb and Mickey Walker and the re-arrangement of dates for the various outdoor boxing shows will be requested of the New York State Athletic commission today. It is also possible that Aca Hudkins, Nebraska lightweight, will be named instead of Joe Benjamin, whom Hudkins recently defeated.

Promoters of the milk show fund are expected to be granted a license for the McTigue-Berlenbach meeting, but the Walker-Greb and Wills-Weinert bouts for the Italian hospital fund probably will be postponed from June 19 to July 3, owing to their proximity to the Tunney-Gibbons match on June 12.

FLOOD OF GERMAN MARKS EXPLAINED

Speculators Ask Department Of Commerce To Cash Worthless Pile

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH For International News Service. WASHINGTON, April 14.—German marks, representing a face value of millions of dollars, are pouring into the department of commerce today from all parts of the United States.

mark on or before June 5, was misinterpreted by thousands of investors in this outland currency, to mean that they would be cashed by the American government.

Speculators Lose "The American people have lost vast sums speculating in German marks and many of them seem wholly unable to understand just what has happened," a departmental financial expert told International News.

"The department has been flooded with requests to exchange amounts varying from one thousand to millions of marks. None seem to comprehend that a mark can be worth as little as forty billionths of a cent. But this is the case. It would not pay any one to present paper marks to the German reichsbank for redemption unless he possesses at least four trillion."

Four trillion marks are worth about a dollar, exchange value—in 1913 a bundle of that dimension would have brought many billions of dollars.

Perhaps you have observed that the nearer wrong a man is the more impatient he is of criticism.

Poison Given By Mistake Is Traced Down

LOS ANGELES, April 14.—When a druggist gave Miss Ida Trask a deadly poison by mistake, fifty police officers today were called to search the neighborhood in which it was thought she lived, in order to warn her of the contents of the package, which she thought harmless.

After a two-hour search, police found the woman in time to prevent her death.

SUNDERLAND NOW MAYOR OF FRESNO

Former Member Peach, Fig Growers, Elected Chief City Executive

FRESNO, April 14.—A. E. Sunderland, formerly of the California Peach and Fig Growers' association, was elected mayor of Fresno, with a considerable lead over E. M. Prescott, his nearest contender, according to results compiled here today, following yesterday's city elections.

J. B. Johnson, supervisor, is third in the mayoralty race, with W. F. Toomey, former mayor, fourth, and A. M. Healey, fifth.

Andrew Jensen is the new commissioner of public works, having apparently defeated William Stranahan, incumbent. William Glass won over Harry Foster in the race for finance commissioner. Police Judge Crichton has been re-elected.

Police Pay Raised Fresno also gave a two to one verdict in favor of raising the pay of the city's policemen and firemen.

Because of the unusual interest developed in the five-cornered mayoralty race, Fresno cast about three-fourths of its registered vote, over 15,000 voters having gone to the polls.

CONVICTS ESCAPE AFTER GUN FIGHT

Pair Of Bandits Believed San Quentin Inmates Rob Mechanic

SACRAMENTO, April 14.—After a pistol fight with police in which two convicts escaped capture, two bandits, believed to be Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, escaped San Quentin convicts, early today abducted Clementine Martinez, Sacramento mechanic, and robbed him of his clothing and more than $100 in money.

The bandits met Martinez in a poolhall in the downtown section. After inducing him to leave the poolroom the two men forced him to enter a machine which stood with motor running at the curb. Stripped of Clothes Silencing their victim at the point of a pistol, the bandits drove to a lonely spot near Homeland, a suburb. They then threw him out of the car, stripped him of his clothing and robbed him of approximately $100 in currency.

The Japanese navy has assigned a destroyer to convey Ambassador Bancroft and his party to Uraga.

GAS TAX BILL CENTER OF BATTLE

Brought Before Senate As Special Business At 11:30 o'Clock

By GIL A. COWAN For Southland News Service. Special to the Evening News. SACRAMENTO, April 14.—The big gun opened this noon in the Senate battle over an increase in the gasoline tax. Senator Arthur Breed's bill adding a penny levy on each gallon of petrol for new highway construction became a special order of business at 11:30 o'clock.

Passage of the measure has hinged on the inclusion of the Bayshore highway in San Francisco vicinity as a part of the state highway system. Also, the budgeting of highway commission's funds was demanded. Both of these issues have been met, in a sense of the word, which cleared the decks for an out-and-out fight between the oil companies and the highway builders. As they went into battle today both sides were claiming victory on the roll call.

Thousands of dollars and many experts were employed by the gasoline people to bring about the defeat of the Breed bill, but every time it was apparently thought "dead as a mackerel" it returned to life through the efforts of the Alameda senator.

Answering last-minute assertions of oil companies and others protesting against the increased gasoline tax, the State Highway commission, through Secretary W. F. Mixon, said: "The statement of State Treasurer Charles Johnson that there is a single involving $8,000,000 or more in the state highway fund on account of its inclusion in the budget, thereby making a direct charge against the state general fund, will not bear close scrutiny. The budget bill itself, so far as funds are now available, limits the amounts of the expenditures."

But Ray L. Riley goes farther than State Treasurer Johnson and claims there will be $2,000,000 more available for the State Highway commission than in any previous biennium in the history of the state. It is upon these conflicting statements that debate in the Senate hinges today.

Bills Slaughtered Slaughter of bills deemed unwelcome by committees in the Senate and the Assembly was felt in force today, although numerous measures were flung to the floor with recommendations of "do pass."

The Senate motor vehicle committee favored Senator Charles H. V. Lewis, Los Angeles, when it approved his proposed licensing of motor mechanics. Half a dozen road bills were defeated today by vote and means committee, including $10,000 for survey of Plute Pass route, and recurrent appropriation for the west side highway connecting San Joaquin valley with San Fernando valley.

Assemblyman Frank C. Scofield, Los Angeles, was named father of the bill for increases in salary of supreme court judges to $10,000 annually, and appellate judges to $8,000. Los Angeles, Alameda and San Francisco superior court judges were denied raises.

Assemblyman Frank C. Weller's bill re-establishing the Sonoma Home for Women again was the center of battle, the committee failing to table the amendments by Assemblyman Charles Foster calling for investigation, and adjourning in order to save the original text.

Senate Starts Fight Over Gasoline Tax

pointing $1,500,000 for the Bay Shore highway was defeated. The vote on the amendment was 21 against and 19 for, the San Francisco delegation dividing on the issue.

The anti-tax forces generally supported the Canepa amendment in the hope of thus defeating the Breed bill. The members who stood for the Breed bill unamended were: Baker, Boggs, Breed, Creighton, Crowley, Dennett, Evans, Gates, Handy, Harris, Ingram, Inman, Johnson, A. B. Johnson, M. B. Nelson, Powers, Rush, Sample, Slater, Taylor, Wallyman, Young. Not one of these are expected to vote for the Breed bill.

Debate on the big issue started in the Senate at 11 o'clock this morning and both sides expressed belief that a ballot will be taken before adjournment tonight. Senator Breed opened the argument with a strong plea for a favorable vote on the ground that highway construction will come to a halt during the next two years unless the bill is passed.

Rival Arguments Opponents of the bill are expected to base their attack on statements of State Controller Ray L. Riley and State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson that sufficient money will be available from other sources to cover the cost of road work. Replying to these statements, Secretary W. F. Mixon of the highway board, has made public a set of figures purporting to show that the road body will be without funds within six months unless new revenues are provided.

That the bill passes the upper house it is said to be assured of a favorable vote in the Assembly. This is the night of Big Souvenir Drawing by the Japan Art & Tea Co. at Hahn's Auditorium. Everybody invited to come.—Advertisement.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS For International News Service. NEW YORK, April 14.—The stock market gave a better account today of itself than any of the other important speculative markets, and made more progress in regaining losses sustained over the last month or so. Reactionary conditions prevailed in the grain and cotton markets, and foreign exchange, particularly in Europe, was unsteady, and commodity prices showed no tendency to move upward.

Activity in the stock market was more pronounced than in any session since the first part of April, and commission houses reported a larger influx of public buying orders. This is due in a large measure to the confidence created by the refusal of the market to decline further, following the violent drop in prices from the first week in April.

High-priced industrial stocks combined with the motor and railroad stocks to make a fairly active session, in which the trend of prices was gradually higher.

General Motors took the leadership in the motor shares and large block transactions of from 500 to 550 shares made this the most active stock on the whole list. Speculative interest returned to the rail stocks principally as the result of the revival of rumors of an impending merger of railroad lines in the southwest, including Kansas City Southern, Missouri Pacific, Katy, Chicago & Alton, and possibly a number of smaller lines.

The motor stocks led the whole market in a decisive rally in the last hour. Mack Trucks raced up 7 points, to 145½, up 1½ points from last week's low. Hudson gained 4 points, to 51½; General Motors was up 1½, at 72¼; Maxwell "B" up 5, at 71¼; Studebaker up 1¼, at 45¼; Hupp, Chandler, Moon and other active motor shares moved up a point or more.

United States Steel continued to advance and closed 11½, completing a 4-point recovery from its recent low. Republic Iron & Steel was the most active of the independent steel shares, and sold up 2 points, at 46. Cast Iron Pipe was up 5 points, at 175; American Can up 3, at 173; General Electric up 4; Baldwin up 1. Little profit-taking was in evidence near the close and prices closed at or near the top.

Sales today, 1,180,000 shares; bonds $12,503,000.

MONEY & EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, April 14.—Call money on the floor of the New York stock exchange today ruled at 3½ per cent; high, 3½ per cent; low, 3½ per cent. Time money was easier. Dates were: Sixty days, 2½ per cent; ninety days, 4 @ 4¼ per cent; four months, 4 @ 4¼ per cent; five months, 4 @ 4¼ per cent; six months, 4 @ 4¼ per cent. The market for prime mercantile paper was steady. Call money in London today was 3½ @ 4½ per cent. Sterling exchange was steady, with business in bankers' bills at 47.75 for demand.

SUGAR MARKET

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Wholesale cane sugar prices in San Francisco dropped from $6.25 to $6.10 per hundred pounds today. California Hawaiian Sugar Refining Co. officials said the decline was due to general price reductions in the eastern markets. The drop also affects beet sugar, placing it at $5.90 per hundred pounds.

LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK, April 14.—Close: 3½, $101.12; first 4½, $102.04; second 4½, $101.07; third 4½, $101.26; fourth 4½, $102.06; new 4½, $105.03; new 4s, $100.31.

FOREST LAWN MEMORIAL PARK
 Advance Association Would Invite Neighbor Into Glendale
 The Glendale Advancement association today took action looking toward extending an invitation to the city of Burbank to annex to Glendale as an outgrowth of a speech by Larry Wood, president of the Burbank Realty board, made in Glendale Saturday night. In his speech Wood urged annexation.
 A committee consisting of Mrs. Mable T. Light, Charles F. Stuart and Dr. Jessie Russell was appointed by President C. W. Ingledue to co-operate with other organizations in "taking Mr. Wood at his word" and extending an invitation to annex.
 Members of the Advancement association scored the Glendale Union High school board for its attitude since the defeat of the last school bond issue. Mr. Nelson told the meeting that he had talked to Albert D. Pearce regarding proposed action of the improvement body to back a "satisfactory" bond issue, but that the president of the high school board had shown only indifference.
 President Ingledue, Dr. Russell, Mrs. T. Light and Richard M. Brown said "any such attitude on the part of the board." Some of the speakers urged that other agencies take up the matter of another bond issue and carry out a campaign. Mr. Brown suggested that the association confer with the city school board on a bond issue to relieve crowded conditions in the grammar schools and ignore the high school bond issue. The matter of a school bond issue will come up as the main order of business at the meeting of the advancement association next Tuesday, it was decided. J. F. Chandler, old time resident of Glendale, urged that the association take definite steps in the bond question as the association has been openly charged with defeating the last bond issues for school.
 In an informal discussion, Charles F. Stuart, candidate in today's election to the City Council, urged that, if S. C. Kinch is elected to the council, Richard M. Brown, member of the club, be backed for Kinch's place on the planning commission.

Mr. Brown suggested that the association confer with the city school board on a bond issue to relieve crowded conditions in the grammar schools and ignore the high school bond issue. The matter of a school bond issue will come up as the main order of business at the meeting of the advancement association next Tuesday, it was decided. J. F. Chandler, old time resident of Glendale, urged that the association take definite steps in the bond question as the association has been openly charged with defeating the last bond issues for school.
 In an informal discussion, Charles F. Stuart, candidate in today's election to the City Council, urged that, if S. C. Kinch is elected to the council, Richard M. Brown, member of the club, be backed for Kinch's place on the planning commission.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
GLORIA T. RUSSELL
 The Glendale Advancement association today took action looking toward extending an invitation to the city of Burbank to annex to Glendale as an outgrowth of a speech by Larry Wood, president of the Burbank Realty board, made in Glendale Saturday night. In his speech Wood urged annexation.
 A committee consisting of Mrs. Mable T. Light, Charles F. Stuart and Dr. Jessie Russell was appointed by President C. W. Ingledue to co-operate with other organizations in "taking Mr. Wood at his word" and extending an invitation to annex.
 Members of the Advancement association scored the Glendale Union High school board for its attitude since the defeat of the last school bond issue. Mr. Nelson told the meeting that he had talked to Albert D. Pearce regarding proposed action of the improvement body to back a "satisfactory" bond issue, but that the president of the high school board had shown only indifference.
 President Ingledue, Dr. Russell, Mrs. T. Light and Richard M. Brown said "any such attitude on the part of the board." Some of the speakers urged that other agencies take up the matter of another bond issue and carry out a campaign. Mr. Brown suggested that the association confer with the city school board on a bond issue to relieve crowded conditions in the grammar schools and ignore the high school bond issue. A ROOF measured in years!

The final cost of roof can be measured in terms of years only. The maintenance cost, for the entire life of the roof, plus the initial cost is what counts. Because Pioneer Yosemite Asphalt Shingles go right over the old roof and because they do give years of trouble-free service their final cost is amazingly low. Crushed stone, from Yosemite, in red, green, blue and black and brown, laid over asphalt, endows these shingles with enduring beauty, unyielding durability and final economy. They are sold by all lumber, hardware and building material dealers for both new homes and re-roofing.

TEMPLAR RITUAL AT PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. Edmonds' Easter Talk Takes Resurrection Of Christ As Theme

In a church fragrant with masses of white lilies and conducting a service preceded by the stately ritual of the order of the Knights Templar, Rev. Edmonds delivered an Easter message in the Glendale Presbyterian church Sunday morning, based on the passage of Scripture found in II Timothy 1:10: "Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel." He said:

"The resurrection of Christ is a historic fact and not a legend or myth. He was raised from the dead the third day, according to the Scriptures. The Scriptures cannot lie. God's throne stands or falls according to the truth or fallacy of sacred Scripture. 'Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass away.' 'There are three things which proclaim the resurrection as a fact. The linen clothes found in the sepulchre, lying there as if they still enclosed the body of the Lord—like a chrysalis from which the butterfly has emerged. The testimony of those who saw Him alive. There are no less than fourteen recorded appearances of Christ after His resurrection. Those who saw Him and conversed with Him left their testimony. 'It is the Lord.' The change it made in the lives of those who saw Him. At Calvary the disciples were panic-stricken; at Pentecost and thereafter they were as bold as a lion. There is one explanation and one only—the Resurrection.

Power of Christ
"Today the power of the living Christ makes men bold for the truth. I am not here to bring proofs—none is needed. He lives! We do not try to prove that the sun shines, nor that gravitation exists as a law, nor electricity, the unseen, exists as an irresistible power. Christ said 'I am the resurrection and the life,' and if this conflicts with science of biology, to the winds with your science. There is no conflict with true science and the word of God; hence the minister of the Gospel is not a debater, he is a herald; he is not a disputer, he is a messenger sent from God. Nor is the Gospel a mere philosophy of life. The Gospel is based upon three great pillars: The death of Christ, the resurrection of Christ and the return of Christ.

"Just as our republic is founded upon truth and liberty, so must every organization that seeks to extend righteousness in the earth recognize these twin pillars, truth and liberty. But truth and liberty spring from the resurrection and are founded upon it.

"Christ's veracity is involved here also. Sacred writers attest that Christ said 'He would arise from the dead; He spoke of the temple (of His body) being destroyed and raised again in three days, and on the night of His betrayal said, 'After I am risen I will go before you into Galilee,' and the empty tomb verified His veracity.

Christ's Personality
"Christ's personality is at stake if He did not rise. All He does is based upon what He is; He gives life because He is life; He saves because He is the Savior; He raises from the dead because He is the resurrection and the life.

"During the French Revolution and following it there came a revolt against Christianity, and a certain French society proposed to found a new religion that should set aside Christianity. They came to Talleyrand and said, 'Surely it cannot be so difficult.' Talleyrand said, 'Oh, no; it won't be so difficult—just get yourself crucified and then in three days or so, rise from the dead. You'll have no difficulty at all after that.' But with Christ, in Whom dwelt all power, He is the resurrection. 'Up from the grave He arose, with a mighty victory over all His foes.'

"Then there is the believers' testimony. Some of the disciples might have been mistaken some of the time and some of them all of the time; but it was impossible for all of them to be mistaken all of the time.

Scriptures Inspiration
"The inspiration of the Scriptures is the next thing that depends upon the resurrection of Christ. The written word is the book that contains the living word. What the heart is to the body, the sun to the moon, life to the tree, that is Christ to the Scriptures. He is its sum and substance. We may discuss the inspiration of the Scriptures and never come in contact with Him Who inspired them; we may be busy with service and miss altogether the 'better part' of fellowship with Him; we may talk about and know about Christ and yet never the Christ-controlled life as set forth in the Scriptures. Search the Scriptures, for they proclaim the power of His resurrection for our own resurrection and our loved ones depends altogether on His resurrection.

"The resurrection is not only history, but prophecy. The resurrection of Christ is the center and circumference of the Gospel. Remove this and the Sun of Revelation is removed from the sky; the keystone of the arch of Christ's dominion falls to the ground, leaving us the unstable bricks of a decayed hypothesis. On the other hand, since Christ is risen, the foundations are steady and nothing can move us, for the horizon of the future is all ablaze with coming glory.

"Finally, then, the crux of the whole matter is summed up in these words of the Apostle Paul:

INSTALL TELEPHONE TRUNKS AT ATWATER

Company Rushing Work In District to Catch Up With Orders; Organize Lampton for Council Club

New telephone trunk lines serving Atwater Park and vicinity over the Capitol exchange have been completed and telephone installation orders, held up for many months, will now be filled in short order. Many phones have been installed in the district during the past four days, company officials stated today.

Work will be continued until all orders in the vicinity are filled, they said. Orders for new phones in Atwater Park have remained unfilled in many instances for several months, pending completion of the new trunk lines. Only business phones were installed on short order. Extensive improvements made by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. throughout the district will afford greatly improved service, it was stated.

Organize Lampton Club

Organization of a Lampton-for-Councilman club took place Thursday night at a meeting of the Los Feliz club, held in the home of J. W. Stephens, 4127 Edenhurst avenue. The Lampton-for-Councilman club will continue active volunteer work until after the election in the First district. The Los Feliz Athletic club was organized some time ago to promote outdoor recreation. Officers are: G. P. Moore, president; and J. W. Stephens, vice-president.

Improvements At Church

Additional improvements to be made at the Neighborhood Christian church on Edenhurst avenue this week call for the installation of fourteen new pews. Rev. J. W. Utter announced. Later pews will be installed throughout the auditorium of the church.

Twenty-seven new members were enrolled at the Christian church on Easter Sunday, Rev. Utter announced. The new enrollments were the result of a spirited membership campaign conducted by the church during pre-Easter weeks. Rev. Utter said he was much gratified at the success of the membership campaign.

Campaign Speech Made

Walter Gould Lincoln, campaign spokesman for Mayor George E. Cryer, in his fight for re-election in Los Angeles, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Atwater Improvement association, held at the Atwater Grammar school last night. Mr. Lincoln urged the retention of Mayor Cryer in office as the only means of safeguarding the water supply of Los Angeles and insuring the future growth and development of the city's public utilities. J. J. Rammage presided at the meeting in the absence of President Arthur M. Gilman.

District Building Notes

William H. Davis will build a new Spanish type bungalow on property he recently purchased from Alexander Richardson on Madera street between Glendale boulevard and Tyburn street.

Mrs. Margaret Lorton announced the purchase of a home site on Garden avenue between Glendale boulevard and Tyburn street yesterday. The Arthur M. Gilman Co. will erect a five-room stucco bungalow for Mrs. Lorton immediately. The property formerly belonged to Mrs. Arthur L. Wagner.

Personals From Atwater

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. McCauley, 3270 Garden avenue, were entertained on a camping trip into San Gabriel canyon over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. McCauley gave the affair in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Loeb. A chicken dinner in the canyon featured the outing.

Will Organize Club

Formal organization of the Women's Community Interest club in the West Atwater district will occur at a meeting to be held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Harriett Bensch of 3780 Edenhurst avenue. Election of officers will take place. The club is being organized for the purpose of promoting an active interest in the coming municipal election on May 5.

E. E. Lampton, of 3665 Valley-brink drive, is the Atwater candidate from ward No. 1 and he will be heartily endorsed and supported by the club. Mr. Lampton will be present for the meeting and will give a talk. All women of the Atwater district and also West Atwater are invited to attend the meeting. West Atwater district includes Edenhurst, Valleybrink drive, Glenfeldz road, Revere avenue, Seneca avenue, Boyce and Brunswick streets.

Would Reduce Carfare

A letter pledging his support to reduction of street car fares between Atwater Park and downtown Los Angeles has been placed on the minutes of the Atwater Improvement association signed by Charles T. Wardlaw, candidate for City Council from the first ward. The letter follows:

"After looking over the new 'If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.'"

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

This is good fishing weather. And if you haven't spring fever, a bad cold, and other symptoms of approaching summer, you're go to be afflicted very soon.

Sunday at the beaches was a most beautiful day with the thousands of Glendadians joining the picnic throng. Others more ambitious hied to the hills for hiking. And more just motored about looking at the goodliness and Godliness of all things. It was Easter Sunday—a day always to be remembered.

But to revert to fishing. It is the one sport for all. The smallest boy has equal opportunity and aspirations for pulling in the whale that swallowed Jonah, as it were. The oldest codger in town gets as much satisfaction out of dangleing a line in a placid pool, or casting it into the surf, as anyone else.

All nations of the earth have their fishermen who seek a universal food. Yet we seldom think of the finny tribe as man's best friend.

Many millions of dollars' worth of fish are packed annually along the coast of California. Sardines are particularly plentiful.

Tuna and other white fish are packed and pickled and smoked. The fresh fish market keeps four or five western states supplied and clams are canned for the whole wide world here.

Visit San Pedro and see its Terminal island some day and see for yourself the extent of the fish industry. You'll be surprised.

An increase in the gasoline tax and reapportionment are the two big topics of interest before the Senate of the California Legislature this week. Both are pretty well shopworn for news stories, and yet they are vital issues in which everyone should take an interest—and doesn't.

Glendale people are taking more interest in who will be appointed state real estate commissioner than any other topic heard at the capital. Why, it is only a $5,000 a year job which my friend Ed Keiser quit because he could do better in the real estate business itself.

That's one trouble with our state government, if you should want the writer to venture an opinion about the low pay offered. The average man earning $75 a week is better off than the state official who gets $5,000 a year.

No executive in the state or national government should get less than $7,500 annually, no expert of standing should be offered less than $4,000, for it is false economy to expect you will get more than what you pay for. As a matter of fact, cheap labor is usually overpaid.
