OBSERVATIONS OF THE STROLLER

On Theatrical Life and Environment

STORIES AND ANECDOTES

A banquet with the trimmings dear to those who battle for bread and money and fame in the show world was the order of the

A Banquet With The Trimmings. hour immediately following the minstrel performance of the Great Barlow Minstrels at Portsmouth, O. The guests of honor were J. A. Coburn, owner and manager of the great Barlow organization, and Ted Galbraith, general agent of the Donnelly-Hatfield Minstrel Co. The pretty affair was arranged by Doc Waddell, story man of the John Robinson's Circus, and Roy McElhanev, the Portsmouth correspondent of The Billboard. The Barlow Band and Orchestra, the Barlow vocalists and the Barlow funmakers were present. They provided a flow of melody and mirth not on the bills. Mr. Coburn responded to the toast: "In a Strange Land," and cleverly depicted the funny experience of a show in new territory. Mr. Galbraith talked on "My Debut, and Rise in the Profession," coached him and guided him onward. Today Ted Galbraith stands one of the best general agents for hall shows in the country. Roy McElhanev, being a barber, showed that barbers were good showgoers and boosters; that they make short cuts to theatres and have an hairy time after the show is over.

Dan Holt, comedian, told this on Mr. Coburn: "Two darkies were arguing as the Barlow bills were being posted in a Southern town, as to whether it was The Great Barlow or George Primrose Company. A third 'nigger' happened by, and settled the dispute. Said he: 'Lordy, children, it's de Great Barlow Show. De owner is dat big fat white folks dat stands in de center ob de squah, and blows de little horn. Dat powerfully large white man dat looks like an Alderman!'"

Everyone who has seen Raymond Hitchcock in The Yankee Tourist goes away from the theatre humming is interesting. The words were written in twelve minutes; the music in the same time.

How One Song Success Was Written. All the World Goes On. The true story of the writing of that remarkably catchy song by Jean Lenox.

Jean Lenox, in the privacy of her apartment, was combing her hair, and Jean herself, is a smart, well-turned-out girl, who was born in Charleston, S. C., a few years ago, and has lived most of her life in army posts, with her father, who was an officer. Well, Miss Lenox was combing her hair when the telephone rang.

"Well?" inquired Jean, for she is one of those girls who doesn't say "Hello!" through Mr. Bell's transmitter.

"Who? Oh! Harry Sutton. Morning Mr. Sutton!"

"Savage wants a song for Hitchcock. Wants it bad. Anything that'll do. Can you write some verses?"

"Yes."

"When?"

"Now."

"How soon shall I send?"

"Start your boy."

"Thanks."

"Bye!"

"Bye!"

BESSIE CLAYTON NELLIE BEAUMONT.

Two well-known and clever vaudeville stars.

Miss Lenox did not fall upon the table with a deadly pencil and a pad of paper and scribble like mad. Not at all. She kept on combing her hair. Out of the air floating lightly toward the electricity generated by the combing, came the first line:

"It is sad to contemplate,"

And close upon its heels:

"And it's sadder to relate,"

And, as Miss Lenox struggled with a snarl of tangled tresses:

"How this good old world forgets you when you're broke."

When she tied the end of the braid with a handy rubber band she was muttering to herself:

"And the world goes on just the same.

"And the problem is to find the one to blame.

"For there ain't much sense in whining.

"When you're forced to give up d'ning.

"And the world goes on."

Fastening the last bit of hair with a pin she had been searching for while she was talking the words to herself, she scribbled down the song as she had improvised it, and the phone rang again.

"Well?"

"Boy here, Miss, from Stern's music house."

"Send him up."

Twelve minutes from the time of the first phone, the boy was on his way back to Harry Sutton with the scribbled lines. The composer perused the verses, sat down at his piano, and in ten minutes had worked out the music.

The combined efforts of the clever pair had taken less than half an hour from the first telephone talk.

Raymond Hitchcock, the star of Henry W. Savage's "A Yankee Tourist" Company, was in New Orleans not many months ago

and took the opportunity of going to the races.

During the afternoon the comedian cashed several tickets, the result of good guesses on which horse would win.

He was feeling happy after the last race and started for the automobile which was to convey him back to his hotel.

As he was about to climb into the machine he felt a hand on his arm and a man shouted into his ear:

"Hello, Hitchcock, how are you? Hear you put a crimp in the bookies to-day?"

Hitchcock blushed and shook hands sheepishly, not recognizing the man and not wishing to show it.

"Say, I want to speak with you, confidentially," said the stranger.

"All right, what is it?" asked the comedian.

"Well, I am up against some hard luck to-day. They cleaned me and I want to get home. Now, don't let any one of these people see you, but slip me enough for car fare, will you?"

"Sure," said Hitchcock, placing his hand in his pocket. Then he paused and queried: "Where do you live?"

"Vancouver," was the answer.

Hitchcock took a flying leap for his machine, and unless the vaudeville New Orleans are more guileful than Impenetrable one is still looking for car fare.

THE WEEK'S BUDGET OF NEWS IN CITY OF BROTHERLY LOVE

Vaudeville and Circus Hold Upper Hands

His Honor, the Mayor's Phenomenal Run—Freeman Will Manage Davis Enterprises—Manager Kelly Recuperating—Moving Picture Shows Under Discussion—News in General from Philadelphia.

BUSINESS keeps up to concert pitch at all of our theatres. Last week was an immense one at every house in town. The high price houses did well through the week and turned people away on Saturday night. Keith's had a record breaking week with one of the best vaudeville shows ever put together. The popular price melodramatic houses all fared well and the four burlesque houses had even bigger business than in the height of the season. This week also started off well. His Honor the Mayor is certainly going some, although it is now in its eighth week. The house is sold out at nearly every performance. Fifty Miles from Boston caught on in good shape, pleasing our people and drawing bigger houses every night. This, its last week, will be the largest one of the engagement. The Squaw Man opened well and will continue to do business as it is pleasing. Robert Mauteil made such a hit here last season that his advance sale was very large and business will be enormous during his two weeks stay. The Red Feather at the Grand, and Williams and Walker at the Park have been doing capacity and all the other houses have had good business so far this week.

The vaudeville war will start in this city on April 22 and it will be like an old time circus "clown." Klaw & Erlanger are advertising "advanced vaudeville" for that date at the Chestnut Street Opera House, but as yet have given out no names for the opening bill. The prices are to be from 25 cents to $1.00, all seats reserved. It is understood two shows a day with ten acts will be given.

Keith's Theatre has been giving the public the highest salaries vaudeville bills that have ever been put on, and it is crowded every day. So great is the patronage built up by the hustling of the men at the helm of this house that the opening of another house will have but little effect on it. The feature acts for week of April 22 are: Vesta Victoria, The Matzetti Troupe, The Stunning Granddies, Sam Watson's Barnyard Circus, Bert Leslie and Co., Miss Wakefield and several other first-class acts.

The first act of the Forepaugh-Sells Circus has been here and covered the billboards with attractive paper. The date for circus week is May 6th, and the show lot is at 44th and Park side avenue. In addition to billposting a large number of painted signs have been used and Frank J. O'Donnell has started the newspapers singing the praises of the one big show. Philadelphia has always been good to circuses and with favorable weather this should be a banner week. The show will play in the immediate vicinity of this city for several weeks, playing Baltimore, Washington, Wilmington, Del., and Chester, Pa., before their engagement in the City of Brotherly Love and Atlantic City, Camden, Long Branch and Newark, N. J., after their engagement in this city.

Buffalo Bill is scheduled to play a week here in the latter part of May, and as the show has always been well liked here, it will do a large business.

As our new mayor has declared that after this season no more baseball games can be given for the police pension fund, the theatres will most likely be helped by benefits arranged by the police.

Nixon and Zimmerman hope to have quite a lengthy run with The Mayor of Laughland in the Park Theatre. It opens there April 29.

The changes in the plans of the Edwin Forrest Theatre so as to make that new theatre adaptable for vaudeville have all been made and that house will open in September under Klaw & Erlanger's management.

S. Lubin, the enterprising manufacturer of films and motion picture machines, is going into the amusement business on an extensive scale. He lately opened a magnificent miniature theatre in Baltimore and has just rented property here in which he will place a Hoffman picture exhibition. He pays $18,000 yearly rent for the latter place.

Joseph M. Galtes has made a lot of money with every one of his shows that he has played at the Grand Opera House. His productions are all large ones with the original costumes and scenery and his enterprise in putting on such mammoth productions at popular prices pleases amusement lovers and wins their patronage.

On account of "advanced vaudeville" opening at the Chestnut Street Opera House on April 22, Robert Mauteil will play the second week of his engagement at the Garrick Theatre.

The Hargrove Shows open in Chester, Pa., April 29, and play at Bridgeton, N. J., April 22. The Forepaugh-Sells Shows play both of these towns a little later so that the opposition brigade will get a chance to work.

Billy Watson, of Watson's Burlesquers, will have charge of the summer burlesque stock at the Trocadero Theatre and will put on a number of new pieces.

"Doc" Freeman, a well-known showman, has been engaged as general manager for the Harry Davis enterprises. This includes the theatres in Pittsburg and the numerous moving picture shows in this and other cities owned by Mr. Davis.

Sam McCracker caught a "lovely" cold on a long jump from the west to this city and for a few days could not speak above a whisper. As action, and not words, is Sam's long suit it did not bother him much. He was here on business for the Forepaugh-Sells and Ringling Brothers Shows.

Jess Burns, manager of the Trocadero Burlesquers, could hardly wait for his week to flush here so he could get down to his Long Island farm to see his chickens.

N. S. Woods will start next week on his annual engagement at the Standard Theatre. He will put on his own plays and be supported by the Standard Stock Co.

Joseph W. Kelly, manager of the National Theatre, who has been quite ill, was well enough this week to be removed to his summer home at Cape May, New Jersey.

There is a roller skating number in His Honor the Mayor that is a big hit. One of our Elmore Couly Kilgore, who runs a dramatic school here, has been giving a number of performances that have attracted more than usual attention from the theatrical profession. The proficiency of her pupils was universally commented on.

Dunout's Minstrels will close their season in this city May 11, and it has been one of the best in twenty years. Frank Dunout will then take the company on the road. He comes very near being the last left of the old-time minstrels, but shows his vigor by being able to successfully run the only permanently located minstrel company in the world.

The Philadelphia Local of the Bill Posters' National Alliance gave a reception to the bill-posters on the Forepaugh-Sells, Number 1 car on Wednesday evening, April 17, at their cozy rooms on North Eighth Street. Prominent theatrical men from all the companies in the city, members of the press and the staff of all city theatres attended and the affair was a big success. A dainty lunch was served; there was quite a lot of liquors to wash it down and plenty of smokes. It was an enjoyable affair, which did not break up until the gray streaks of dawn came in the sky.

The Forepaugh-Sells Shows advertise their route for two weeks in all of their Sunday news paper advertising in this city. As our papers reach all the towns they play in this vicinity, these advertisements will help business.

George W. Rye, black face artist, will open in September in a new act entitled The Coon and the Detecoon.

CONTINO AND LAWRENCE.

They are the performers who originated the up-side-down dance and they put on about as sensational a turn as one could expect to see in a terpsichorean specialty. They are being featured every week.

trunks had a special matinee this week at which prizes were offered the chorus girls of that company for races. It was a big hit.

E. E. Meredith, editor of the Missouri Breeze, and who has done such wonderful work ahead of Simple Simon this season, has been engaged as press agent of the Higgenbotham-Walton Show, and will no doubt make that make good with that show. His numerous friends hope that he will not neglect his sprightly, gossip paper during the summer.

James Marlowe made a hit in the unique characterization of Harrigan, in Fifty Miles from Boston.

Merchants in the suburban sections of the city are holding mass meetings and entering protests against life motion picture shows. They claim that they are injuring business and corrupting the morals of the young. An effort will be made to get city council to pass an ordinance regulating these places of amusement. We have over one hundred in operation and new ones are starting every day.

Young's Ocean Pier at Atlantic City is to be rebuilt by a syndicate. It has been in existence since starting every day.

William D. Hall, Keith's Theatre building, this city, is arranging to book a number of big acts for Luna Park, Washington, D. C. He is going to put the biggest acts procurable in that place.

THEATRICAL LEGISLATION KILLED.

The several bills introduced in the Missouri Legislature affecting theatres at the last term were killed without exception in the committee to which they were referred.

The most damaging bill to the profession was one to impose a license tax of $1,000 on all stock companies.

STRANDED IN NEW MEXICO.

Billy Mack, the song and dance comedian, writes that he is badly in need of assistance from his friends. He was forced to close at Carlstadt, N. M., recently because of illness of his wife. To make it more unfortunate for him the house in which they were staying burned to the ground and they lost everything.

IS GOING TO AUSTRALIA.

Thomas Brierly, stage manager at Bennett's Theatre, London, Eng., formerly at Bennett's Theatre, St. Thomas, will leave London soon, for an extensive trip to South Africa and Australia. It is reported that he will take charge of Ballard's Lilliputians with headquarters at Melbourne, Aus.

THE ORCHID

Blossoms Into Popularity on Broadway

Some Stunning Costumes Offered in the New Eddie Foy Vehicle—Sartorial Tips.

By CADY WHALEY.

THE ORCHID, which was produced at the Herald Square Theatre April 8, is the freshest flower in the musical comedy field. It came to life and grew to full size in London, was pruned in Philadelphia before it flowered forth in Broadway. It's a pretty blossom, too, that has pleased New Yorkers, and a long run is prophesied for it. There's a bit of originality in the plot. The Comtesse of Warwick is supporting an horticultural college and commissioner Professor Zareway to go to Peru to get a prize-winning orchid specimen for the annual horticultural show, but he becomes enraptured with "dear Marie," and an adventuress. In the meantime, the head gardener has cultivated a rare specimen of the flower, but he, too, becomes involved in the snare of a "shrimp-shop lady" in Covent Garden, and the fun runs riot. From the scene in the horticultural college in Act I, we are taken to a square in Nice, and into the interior of Le Bal Blanc opera house in Act II. Aside from Eddie Foy's unlimited supply of comedy, there is an unusual pretty show, the ten dancers on stage at never in deed. The piece is well mounted and the color scheme in costumes is striking and effective.

Trilby Friganza, in a leading role, looked well in the first act in a dotted net; the skirt was encircled with a border of large, hand-painted medallions, lace insertion, and here and there clumps of pink baby ribbon over a creaming was used on the bodice, which was held to the waist line by a pink girdle; the white straw picture hat had a shower of pink plumes at the side. Later she emerged from the little house from which a steam engine continually spattered steam with apparently the same legs, wearily bedraggled and torn in the second act when she is singing in the character song, No Wedding Bells for Me. She is dressed in a black and white checked gingham, a jumper dress with short, gathered skirt—straps running over the shoulders, a net tulle and a red straw hat with trimming of red velvet loops and cherries. In the second scene of the second act when she is singing a la chanson criollo. The dress is of white silk, exceedingly full, worn over immense hoop skirts, a puff of the material on the bottom, capes of lace in dem fashion and a poke-shaped hat with white plumes and ties.

As Lady Violet, the principal pupil at the college, Amelia Stone sings a duet part and an opportunity to sing several solo numbers. She is tastefully dressed in a light blue liberty satin accordion plaited skirt, belted waist, with square yoke and sleeves of lace, blue slippers and stockings. Next in a light green silk dress with charmingly lace inset. Marie, the girl who always has an air of distinction in her mode of costuming a part, even though the dress is very simple. Her first appearance was made in a white wool suit, a pony coat and plaited skirt, the coat having cuffs and collar of red, a soft white felt hat turned in the front, trimmed with a red band, and red shoes and white spats. Then a blue and white of union colored chiffon, made décolleté, with numerous full dancing skirts over silk the stockings and slippers exactly matching and a small hat of same tone with plumes at the side. Besides, she wears a character costume for the song and dance with William Book, Liza Ann, which is a big, long, torn gingham apron, red skirt, and she carries a dinner pail and wears clogs for the dance. She made her last appearance in a short fluffy lace princess with chiffon ruffles underneath and chiffon sleeves.

Irene Franklin was becomingly dressed in a tobacco brown satin with deep tucks on the skirt, a belted waist with brooches and cap sleeves of real lace over the brown satin and a V-shaped yoke front and back. She changed to a white net over white silk with touches of light blue on the bodice.

As a French girl, the adventuress, Laura Gierite was dazzling in a lemon satin with short full skirt and light bodice décolleté with large black chenille dots, a high collar with black streamers, black slippers with gold ornaments and black stockings.

As the comtesse, Jean Newcombe was striking in a yellow satin princess pointed lace yoke, an empire girdle held by a Rhinestone buckle, long black gloves and a Rembrandt hat of black straw trimmed with a black feather bonnet. And another handsome gown she wore was a satin princess made with a panel front and back trimmed with hand embroidery, a square lace yoke inset and with it she wore a straw hat trimmed in the back by loops of green ribbon and on the front by large white roses.

The show girls looked well. Some of these gowns noticed were those of cream voile skirts over brown silk, with Louis XV coats of the brown silk, a gold buckle at the waist in the back, straw, mushroom-shaped hats with brown ribbon loops and pink roses for trimming. Two were in all-over perle lace with straw hats with green flowers and feathers—some in a white satin princess and another in pink silk with lace insertion inset on skirt and bodice. The broilers made numerous changes, looking better at each reappearance. They are quite the pets of the new production, winning favor with the audience immediately by their good looks and their dancing that was neat and full of ginger.

IN THE LAND OF NOD.

The Land of Nod was given its New York premiere at the New York Theatre, Monday evening, April 1. It is an extravaganza in two acts with separate titles—the first is called The Land of Nod, while the second is titled The Song Birds. Frank R. Adams will touch and George V. Hobart furnished the book for

WEEK'S GLEANINGS FROM BROOKLYN AND BALTIMORE

Events That Mark Closing of Another Season

Baltimore Votes Unanimously Endorsing Banner Exposition for 1914—George Coban to Try Again the Sometime Turbulent Sea of Matrimony—Receivers to Sell Lyric Theatre—Baltimore to See Premiere of Father Jerome.

THE theatrical season here is nearly over; all of our managers report it a very successful one. Many changes are expected next season. Klaw & Erlanger have secured the Grand Opera House and will open some late in August with advanced vaudeville.

Frank P. Gallagher, of Coney Island, has been spending part of his time at Lagoon Island, where he has been looking after the construction of a scenic ride.

W. A. Ellis will have his share of the big attractions at Dreamland this summer. Mr. Ellis' big attraction, Italyton, will be one of the largest spectacles seen here.

Henry W. Savage is presenting his English Grand Opera Co. at the Montank this week. Madam Butterfly is being sung.

The Lion and the Mouse was at the Montank last week and did excellent business. This attraction plays Teller's Broadway Theatre week of April 29, and a very large advance sale is reported.

The Buffalo Bill Wild West will be here soon for one week. The show opened at Midway Square Garden Tuesday, and the performance made a big hit.

When Brewster's Millions is produced at Luna Park this summer, the yacht scene is to be on real water. Twelve other brand new attractions will also be seen at Luna Park.

H. Koltare, one builder of Creation, has added a new attraction, Arabian Nights, to Dreamland, which is reported to be one of the best illusions ever produced.

A. H. Schonberg, who has been looking after the interests of the Empire Amusement Co. at the Imperial during the past season, will again have the management of Pain's Fireworks at Manhattan Beach.

Edward Trail, who is Senator Reynolds' right hand man, will have the management of one of the large Dreamland attractions again this season. Mr. Trail has met with big success as manager of the New Montank Theatre.

Nomette, the violinist, will be the headliner at the Orpheum show. Nomette has an interesting personality and her talent and technique have been developed in the hard school of experience.

Brooklyn N. Y. GEO. H. HAKES BALTIMORE, MD.

Both branches of the City Council voted unanimously upon a resolution endorsing the Banner Exposition for 1914. A committee was appointed to call a conference of business men to consider plans for the project.

George M. Coban, who played an engagement at Ford's Opera House last week, announced that he would marry Miss Agnes Nolan, of Brookline, Mass., July 4 next.

Judge Elliott, in the Circuit Court, signed an order April 12, and appointed Messrs. Omer F. Hershey and Carroll T. Bond receivers, to sell the Lyric and all property belonging to it.

James Young, the well-known actor, is a Baltimorean, and he has recently been the recipient of a $150 cigar, presented to him by J. Pierpont Morgan, of New York.

Another premiere will be made here shortly, when a play, entitled Father Jerome, will be produced by Charles and Gustave Frohman.

Louis J. Beck, who was the versatile agent for Col. P. J. Mundy and other big show men, will have under his direction an exhibition of Montezuma, of Arizona at the Jameson Fair.

same on the short sleeves which had a cape effect of pink ribbon bands, and she wore a white agrette in her hair and carried a white gauze fan. From above was costume in a rose colored chiffon over white silk plaid and set on in deep grade effect of cream lace with yoke and sleeves of lace.

The presentation of some good plays is promised by the stock company and with a continuation of the care given to every detail and competency of the members of the new organization, Mr. Morris should meet with success in the new venture.

CLEVELAND, O.

Preparatory to the spring opening there has been great activity at the parks. The Humphrey Co., owners of Euclid Beach, have been extremely busy installing many new and expensive attractions.

Manager Salisbury, of Luna Park, has made many attractive improvements. A large number of landscape gardeners, painters and carpenters have been busily engaged for weeks in beautifying the grounds.

It is also more than likely that Lincoln Park will be re-opened by the creditors. Rouben Hitchcock, the receiver, has filed a motion in Common Pleas Court asking that appraisers be appointed to place a value on the property and in a few days a meeting of all creditors will be held to determine upon definite plans.

Capt. H. P. Shupe, a prominent Cleveland business man, is endeavoring to organize a stock company for the purpose of rebuilding White City on the Lake.

R. F. McLaughlin will this season, act as publicity promoter of Luna Park. "Mac" is one of the best in the business, and Luna is sure of being a big winner.

The Majestic Theatre, Cleveland's West Side playhouse, now in course of construction, has been given for a term of ten years to The Cinchoga Theatre Co.

A. L. Erlanger of Klaw & Erlanger was a welcome visitor this week. Mr. Erlanger "dropped off" from his Chicago trip, where he had been witnessing The Round Up, the latest K & E production.

and also selected the acts, deserves much credit for its great success.

The first production on the stage of Charles E. Blaney's new musical melodrama, The Hired Girl's Millions, with the Russell Brothers in the star role, will be made at Blaney's Theatre, week of April 22.

The Gotham Theatre, Fulton street and Alabama avenue, will close a sidewalk show for this season with its Sunday concert, April 28.

The Novelty Theatre closes Sunday night, April 28.

The recent decision of Manager Percy Williams, of the Orpheum Theatre, to keep that house open until well into the summer has been the means of his securing for the Orpheum many legitimate stars who would not be otherwise available.

The Steamer Steeplechase has begun its regular trips for New York to Geo. Tilton's Steeplechase Park at Rockaway Beach.

and Joseph E. Howard the music. In part, George V. Hobart is the librettist. Victor Herbert the composer. The Land of Nod leads one a bit of the way in England, and the other falls asleep, dreams of characters and happenings known to all and behold, the dream comes true. Characters appear and are given ample opportunity to sing, dance and do the comical. Quite a mélange of specialties. Mabel Hillson is the clever, pretty child, Bonnie, and her mother is Emily Huff. Then there's the lack of Hearts (Helen Bertram), the Western Man (William Sellers), The Chorus (Artistic DeMar), The Joker (Gus C. Wetburn), The Man in the Moon (Joseph Howard), The April Fool (Jimmy Wilson), The Welsh Rarebit (Neil McNelly), The Telephone (Henry Gibson), The Hat Trick (Walter Halls), and The Sinner (William Burgess).

Miss Harrison was the same pretty child a character in which we have grown exceedingly fond of her. She is so daintily sweet and doll-like, cunning in action and sufficiently good in song. She wore first a darling little turquoise dress over pink silk, pink hat and black slippers, the one-strap kind, and a white child's cap, with pink roses on either side.

Her other dress was of similar design of all-over lace with blue silk underdress, blue slippers and stockings, blue cap and blue ribbon sash. But her looks are indeliberately sweet. She's just pretty Mabel Harrison. Her first dress was a prim, dainty role, did some exquisite dressing, as usual, making her entrance in a Chantilly lace princess gown over white silk curtained with chiffon, and trimmed with many attached bands of rose-colored satin that tapered to the waist, black jet possessionerle, simulated Mandarin sleeves and a touch of black was added here and there to half trimming put on in clusters. The mish-mash pink chip hat had a cluster of pink plumes falling towards the back and across the front. Over the full plaiting of middle in the back were two of black velvet ribbon and black jet ornaments held the velvet ribbon to the crown. Everything else were had an air of smartness, even to the pink slippers with black heels and the pink stockings embroidered in black. A diamond brooch on a band of black velvet was effective at her throat and a huge diamond star and crescent ornamented the bodice, she wore long white kid gloves.

For the first act she wore a stylish creation in yellow satin made with an Empire style effect embroidered on skirt and bodice in a flower pattern of green, over the shoulders two kimono sleeves of green spangled chiffon with gold tassels hanging from the different ends. The hat was a yellow Neapolitan straw with yellow roses straight across the front, green foliage covering the crown and black velvet ties in the back. As Emma Soprano in The Song Birds, she wore a white chiffon, embroidered with bugles, built over white satin, a bertha of the satin and lace combined, a white satin girdle with a sash of chiffon in the back and she half concealed her features by a silk throw held to the hair by a cluster of pink roses. Her jewels were turquoise and diamonds.

Helen Bertram's Jack of Hearts costume consisted of a boy's suit of brown velvet with trimmings of gold cord and lace, white silk blouse, a sash of cloth of gold and brown soft hat with gold quills. For the opera singer, she wore a yellow silk embroidered in gold, with yellow lace falling in interlocking curves, a white hat with flowing yellow plumes and long white veil.

Good effects were gained for the chorus in several instances, as when the girls wore dresses to represent red roses of satin and red chiffon with an emerald representing the green stem portion and red rose hats. The boys were in white and red, while other girls were in white and white. Then the brothers were attractive at each appearance whether in black and white, as boys in blue, white and silver, or as pajama girls wearing pink silk pajamas and by the way they danced exceedingly well too.

SEEN IN THE NEW STOCK COMPANY.

The William Morris Stock Company began a season at the Lincoln Square Theatre April 1, by producing When We Were Twenty-one, by H. V. Esmond. Considering that Richard Carow, the part taken by Mr. Morris, was one of Nat Goodwin's best roles, the present player's success in it was in every way commendable. And the supporting company was quite satisfactory. In the leading parts were Blanche Stoddard, as "Doll," Erlson, engaged to "the Imp," her mother Mrs. Erlson, played by Alice Butler, and "the bridegroom," Sir Horace Blimley, Charles Bradshaw; Colonel Miles Bramley, Carl Antillon, and Mr. Morris, as "the Imp's" guardian. The play was nicely put on, being well staged and adequately costumed. Naturally, Mrs. Glynock, The Firefly, interpreted by Mrs. Lawton, was the most stunningly dressed of the women of the cast. She makes but a single appearance in Act III. Her dress was a rare piece of white satin built with a plain full, slightly trained skirt, a belted bodice, double-breasted, the skirt was encircled by a Roman border design done in bugles and running with up the skirt; the front of the bodice was also heavily embroidered with bugles and a drape of the same transparent trimming formed around like sleeves that were very effective. Miss Lawton is a tall and graceful blond, and she played the part with sufficient dash and spirit.

Blanche Stoddard, in a leading part, was pleasing and effective, as well as being tastefully dressed. She wore first a dainty with a small bowing, the skirt and run diagonally around the waist, which had a giraffe of the same and the short sleeves were also trimmed with the ribbon; a small lace yoke was inset, finishing the slightly low cut neck; her shoes were white oxfords. Another dress worn by Mrs. Stoddard was a pretty lingerie princess, with wide lace insertion set on in fancy design, the waist portion and short sleeves trimmed with the lace and embroidery. All white was becoming in her girlish figure and blond type of beauty. As her mother, Miss Butler wore a plainly made red and black outfit with a touch of lace on the sleeves and at the

GREATER NEW YORK NEWS

BY

THE circus has folded its tent and silently stolen away, but Buffalo Bill and his picturesque Rough Riders of the World are here, so everybody is happy.

In the main, it is the same old "Bill Show" that has never failed to delight and thrill an audience. Some new features in the way of riding acts have been added, and, as a piece de resistance, a Great Train Hold-up, with a trained troupe of desperadoes, trahumen and passengers. The engine and cars are built on the lines of those used in the early days of the Union Pacific Railroad.

A large audience filled the Garden and gave a hearty welcome to Col. Cody and his Rough Riders upon the first appearance in the United States since their extended European tour. A complete review of the opening performance next week.

THEATRICALS IN GENERAL.

A backward spring has kept all the successes busy with scarcely a guess as to the date of closing. It is not unlikely that most of them could keep going till dog-days, should the managers so elect, and the actors need the money. All are sufficiently light and airy to do duty as summer shows.

It seems that to succeed in New York these days a play must be not only frivolous in character, but its frivolity must be artistic and piquant. No low-browed tragedy or gory melodrama will suffice to appease the Gothamite's insatiable desire to be entertained.

To be sure, they will stand a little of the solids now and then by way of variation, but it must come in homeopathic doses.

A PRODUCING THEATRE.

The difficulty experienced this season by managers in getting a hearing for their productions in New York has prompted the suggestion that New York needs a producing theatre—that is, a house where new plays can be tried out without reference to their success or failure.

This suggestion does not refer particularly to the necessity for a New York hearing, but more especially to the fact that a very small percentage of the plays written ever get any kind of hearing, and it is put forward with the belief that in the store houses of the producing managers are many unknown plays as good as those which have been heard awaiting an opportunity to receive the stamp of public approval.

Time and again it has been demonstrated that a play can not be invariably condemned in advance. Manuscripts, hawked about for years, then laid away and almost forgotten, have been dug up and developed into the greatest of successes.

Lack of opportunity seems to be the obstacle. With a house equipped with a good supply of properties and scenic effects, new plays could be produced without a great outlay for special scenery.

Such a plan would seem infinitely better than the one now in vogue by which the play is transported to some small town and "tried on the dog," at great expense and inconsequence.

Another plan has been suggested that is not bad, and is more likely to be tried than the first. It is that managers who have new plays to produce should put them into "Summer Stock." A company playing in repertoire might just as well put on an occasional new piece as an old one. Unquestionably the plan would lend interest to the engagement.

GERMAN THEATRE PLANS.

Dr. Maurice Baumfeld, the new manager of Irving Place Theatre, has announced the details of his plans for the coming season.

An entirely new stock company will be formed, the members of which will be personally selected by Dr. Baumfeld. They will produce classic German drama, Shakespeare, and modern dramas and comedies of all nations.

There will be no "runs" of successful plays and the bill will change practically from day to day.

The season opens October 1 and will continue for thirty weeks.

NEW THEATRES.

If all the plans for new theatres take tangible form, New York will soon be fairly well provided. David Belasco's Stuyvesant will be ready in the fall. Wm. A. Brady is to have one just across the way from the Stuyvesant. The Will J. Block Amusement Co. will build on Long Acre Square—the northeast corner of 46th Street and Broadway. Then there is the "New Theatre" project that has been under way for some time, which is to be located on Central Park West at 64th Street.

Butler Davenport, of the firm of Davenport & Laighton has a plan for a theatre and studio building. The theatre is to be incidental and will be devoted to the trial of such plays as please Mr. Davenport, himself an old actor. Amateur societies will also be encouraged to use this house.

One or two other projects are afoot in Harlem and Oscar Hammerstein will build a new house any time anyone gives him a dare. With all these building projects in sight the abandonment of The Manhattan and The Princess will make no material difference in the situation.

LATEST NEW PRODUCTIONS.

Comtesse Coquette, a three-act comedy by Robert Bracco, was presented at the Bijou, April 22, with Mme. Alla Nazimova as the Comtesse. There was the usual fashionable and enthusiastic audience which has become attached to the charming personality of the Russian actress.

In Italian this play is named "Indule;" in German "L'aireu," and it has to do with the question of a flirtatious wife's fidelity to an aged spouse in the face of the ardent and daring love-making of a would-be paramour. This was the cast:

Gino Riccardi.....Mr. Guy Standing
Ily arrangement with Mr. Lee Stauber.
Comte Silvio di Lorenzo.....Arthur Forrest
Blanca.....Miss Marie Allen
Giuseppi.....Ernest A. Elton
Footman.....Rex Stovell
Comtesse Nina di Lorenzo.....Mme. Nazimova

Salton's Divorcons, a problem of marriage and divorce which has not been presented here in several years. The cast was:

M. Henri des Prunelles.....Frank Worthing
M. Adhemar de Gratnac.....Robert T. Haines
M. Clavynne.....A. H. Stuart
M. Rafoardin.....Charles Stanley
Bastien.....Edward Fielding
Joseph.....Max Freeman
Janarot.....Richard Wilson
Cyprienne, Mme. des Prunelles.....Grace George
Joseph.....Laura Lemmons
Mme. de Brionne.....Ruth Benson
Mlle. de Lusigan.....Justine Cutting
Mme. de Valfontaine.....Evelyn C. Carrington

EMILY LYTTON.

Miss Lytton is another "girl from the golden west." She gained her early experience in stock at the old Grand Opera House, San Francisco; was leading lady for Joseph Haworth in The Bells of Haddonshire, spent a year in London at the Opera Comique during Mrs. Bernard Beer's tenancy of that house; played Minna in Little Lord Fauntleroy for two seasons, and met with equal success in the part of Dearest in the same play. Miss Lytton was featured with J. K. Emmet's Co. for two seasons, and later appeared as leading lady for Rose Coghlan, playing Mabel Berne in Masks and Faces. She afterwards played in stock for a season at Salt Lake City, starred in vandeville for six years and lastly originated and is now playing Mrs. Dan in Brewster's Millions at the Hudson Theatre, New York City.

The newspaper critics quite generally agreed that the presentation was a success.

Acton Davies in The Evening Sun is thus enthusiastic:

"Alla be praised!

"A wonderful woman, Alla Nazimova! For the third time this season she took a New York first-night audience into camp on Friday, carried them away with her willing captives and secured a comedy success as Nina, the Comtesse Coquette, which was fully equal to the triumphs she has already secured as Hedda Gabler and Nora Helmer. In fact, with the pall of Ibsen lifted from her this remarkable little woman in her new role rises radiant and rollicking in lovely clothes to meet the greatest popular success which has yet greeted her in this country. For in this delightful comedy of Robert Bracco's she has found a part which will appeal to all classes of theatre-goers."

DIVORCONS.

At Wallack's Theatre, Monday, April 15, Grace George and company presented

The press reports are quite favorable. The Herald said:

"Miss Grace George, as Cyprienne, in Wallack's Theatre, last night, did what is possibly the best piece of work in her career. Certainly she made a hit, as genuine applause and curtain calls testified."

The Sun offers this comment:

"The performance pretty nearly deserved the praise of being called adequate. There was an intelligent attempt to make it Parisian. The result was near Paris, though still nearer to Broadway. To say nothing of the earlier French interpretations of Cyprienne, Miss George lacked the subtlety and variety, the artistic audience and the artistic depth of the work of Mrs. Elske. But it was simple, winsome, intelligent, and though it can scarcely be said to have illuminated the play it never failed to illustrate it. In a word, Miss George came out of a rather trying ordeal with clear credit."

The supporting company was excellent, and the work of Frank Worthing, Max Freeman and A. H. Stuart was most praiseworthy.

MONTY BREWSTER'S YACHT.

Frederick Edward McKay of The Evening Mail takes a back at Monty Brewster's yacht in this fashion:

"Brewster's Millions is still thriving at the Hudson, and the scene of the steam yacht in a storm always has several curtain calls. It's a pity that Frederick Thompson, who originated all the devices calculated to suggest a tempest, should permit the sails of the vessel to hang limp throughout the imaginary gale."

"Limp" is the word if McKay means the spread of cheese cloth that is doing duty as sail on Monty's yacht.

Imagine, if you can a howling gale with thunder and lightning effects, waves chasing each other at race horse speed; a crew shouting at the tops of their voices to make themselves understood over the din of the tempest and the walls—all set and flapping idly as in a summer's calm. Great!

But, then, like Monty's money, there are "stage" sails.

FIRE DAMAGES THEATRE.

Early Tuesday morning, April 16, fire was discovered in the Roof Garden of the New York Theatre Building, which has been used as a skating rink. The construction of the floor of the rink being of asphalt and hard pine, dense clouds of smoke were created by the blaze and thousands of gallons of water were required to extinguish the flames.

When the firemen had concluded their labors the Roof Garden was a wreck and the water, running through, damaged the Criterion Theatre to such an extent that it will have to be entirely refurnished in the interior. The drop curtains were totally ruined and the colors on the walls are sadly run together.

The fire seriously affected the performance of the Tattooed Man at the Criterion and The Land of Nod at the New York theatre, both of which plays were obliged to suspend pending the cleaning up process. The Tattooed Man closed and appears in Philadelphia this week.

MINING EXPOSITION.

Monday, April 16, saw the opening of what promises to be a regular annual amusement feature—The First Annual Mining Show, at Grand Central Palace. Aside from the display of the products of the mines of gold, silver and copper and special mining machinery with the various processes of separating the pure metal from the ore, there was an elaborate scenic production showing the development of Goldfield, Nev., from its beginning to the present day. There was also a number of amusement features of the midway character.

The scenic production and the midway was under the direction of The Joseph Menchen Electrical Co., and was a most elaborate affair.

PERCY JANIS MISSING.

Liebler & Co. gave out a message received by wireless from the S. S. Minneapolis Monday night, to the effect that Percy Janis, a member of the Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch company, had disappeared from the steamer ship in mid-ocean and that it was believed that he had fallen overboard.

Percy Janis is a brother of Elsie Janis, in private life he is John Hildebrand, Jr., son of a New York real estate dealer of the same name. He is twenty years old and was born in Columbus, Ohio. He went on the stage at the same time his sister did, playing small parts and singing in the chorus of the same company. His last appearance here was as the hotel clerk in The Vanderbilt Cup.

COUNTING THE COST.

Joseph I. C. Clarke, writing for the New York Sunday Times, has attempted to estimate the receipts of the New York theatres and their expenses for a season of forty weeks. Summarized his calculations give this result:

Number of theatres running.....	60
Number of performances each week.....	248
Total receipts per week.....	$180,000
Grand total for forty weeks.....	$7,440,000

Now for the expenses:

Rent and house management.....	$4,000,000
Producing managers get.....	1,000,000
Actors and actresses get.....	1,500,000
Scenery and costumes.....	200,000
Advertising of all kinds.....	250,000
Authors' royalties.....	375,000

This leaves a few odd thousands to go and come on, but the calculation is near enough for a guess.

KEITH & PROCTOR'S STOCK.

Fifth Avenue Theatre.—The Jungles is the offering for the week of 22nd of the stock company at the Fifth Avenue and the massive and spectacular scenic equipment with which Manager George H. Dreyman endowed it on the road earlier this season is presented in its entirety at the Fifth Avenue. The novel would indicate a series of the most sensational climaxes on the dramatic stage and in the presentation of the play upward of two hundred people are employed. The company at the Fifth Avenue has been greatly augmented and the cast has been prepared with special care.

Harlem Opera House.—The Undertow is offered for the week of 22nd. The Undertow which is the work of Eugene Walters is presented with Paul McAllister as Dick Wells, Beatrice Morgan as Mary Oliver, Glen Howell as Whitelaw, Louise Randolph as Alice Whitelaw, Wm. Norton as John Stanley, Duff Hawley as Harry Day; Agnes Scott as Kate LAW FIELDS and his company in About Town on his first night, and has been the only act night, all of the other play-houses retarding their attractions. About Town is conceded to be one of the clearest musical shows of the season, and the masterpiece on The Music Master is especially good. The most important change next week takes place at the Colonial where George M. Cohan's latest comedy with music, Fifty Miles From Boston is scheduled to open a long engagement. The new Boston play is said to be the best he has ever written and the cast includes George Scott, Zella Sears, Emma Jandery, Louis Rial, Donald Brian, James H. Bradbury, Fritz Williams, and others. The piece is in three acts, showing scenes in Brookfield, Mass. which is fifty miles from Boston. There are five musical numbers which are as follows: Jack and Jill, A Small Town Gal, Boys Who Fight the Flames, Ain't It Awful and Her 240.

of entertainment at the Haymarket last week. Following them were Violet Tabe, Bander La Velle Trio, Rome and Ferguson, Rainaud and Good, Three Mitchells, The Kramers, Majestic Musical Four, James P. MacDonnell, Esmeralda, DeCamo's Dogs, Lillian Maye, Merrill Sisters and Gertrude Kruger.

PREMIERE OF THE ROUND UP.

Klaw & Erlanger's big western production, The Round Up, had its premiere at McVicker's Theatre, Monday evening, April 15, and scored an unqualified success. The piece is by Edmund Day, author of many vaudeville acts and a few plays, and is an elaboration of one of his sketches called The Sheriff. Also Erlanger, Thos. W. Ryley and a number of

"It is a real American play, with real American motives, and real American actors, and it gets a real American grip on the American audience, which grip begins about the time the curtain goes up, and is not, or ought not to be, over yet."—Forrest Arden, The Examiner.

"There are probably a hundred men engaged in the fight which is the big scene of The Round Up, and as for five minutes each one of them shoots either a rifle or a revolver as rapidly as he can, the noise, the excitement, and the effect may be imagined. The audience last night, not being satisfied with handclapping, yelled its approval, and there were many curtain calls, one finally resulting in the appearance of Edmund Day, author of the play, who gratefully thanked everybody in and out of

The Yankee Doodle comedian, who is now appearing in George Washington, Jr., is said to be writing a play in which Moore will be the star. The piece is to be entitled, The Talk of the Town, and it is rumored that it is nothing more or less than the ill-fated Popularity done over and fitted with musical numbers. Cohan is expected in Chicago next Sunday to attend the opening performance of Fifty Miles From Boston, at the Colonial.

SECURE ENGAGEMENTS.

Several well-known Chicago players who have been seen here many times, either in stock or with traveling companies, have been engaged for the Albert Brown Stock Co., which will play a summer season at the Davidson Theatre in Milwaukee. The number includes James Durkin, N. Sheldon Lewis and Crystal Herne, of the old New Theatre company and Eva Taylor, who was leading woman with the Chicago Dramatic company at the Chicago Opera House. Miss Herne and Miss Taylor will alternate in the leading roles.

ANENT THE PEKIN.

Considerable attention is being paid just at present to the Pekin Theatre, which is said to be the only theatre in America owned and operated exclusively by members of the colored race. The house makes musical comedy productions twice a month and many of them are said to put to shame the big musical comedies seen at the downtown playhouses. The music for all the pieces is written by two colored composers, who are connected with the house, and the staging is all done by a Bronze Helasio, who is capable of working up some exceedingly clever business. Since opening, the Pekin has gradually worked up a clientele of white patrons until now the attendance is usually divided between white and black. The house is run on strict lines, and every effort is made by the management to have its conduct on a par with that of the most exclusive theatres. It seems only a matter of time until the Pekin will take its place along with the best producing theatres in the country, in spite of the drawback of color.

NEW TREASURER.

Leon Schlesinger, formerly treasurer of Blaney's Theatre, in Philadelphia, has been made assistant treasurer of the Colonial Theatre in Chicago, and is now assisting his brother, Gus Schlesinger, who is the Colonial treasurer. Mr. Schlesinger has had considerable box office experience, and his sane and conservative treatment of Colonial patrons, combined with his ability to run through a line with lightning rapidity, have made him a valuable addition to the box office of the Theatre Beautiful.

A CLEVER AERONAUT.

Daredevil Bonansinga, an aeronaut who is in every way entitled to the appellation before his name, is resting in Chicago at present, prior to starting out on his summer park season. Mr. Bonansinga has considerable time looked for the summer, and expects to complete his bookings in the near future. During the course of a chat in the Chicago office of The Billboard, the other day, he told of a few of the hazardous experiences which have befallen him during his career as a navigator of the air. At one time a cannon cracker which he intended to explode, went off prematurely while he was in the air, almost shattering his right hand. At another time he landed in the Detroit river, and drifted for six hours before he was picked up. On still another occasion he landed on the roof of a skating rink, in such an exhausted condition that he was unable to take care of himself and rolled off and fell to the ground. Some strange fortune kept him from harm, however, and the spectators who ran up amazed to see him get up and walk away. Mr. Bonansinga claims that he is the only aeronaut who ascends on a bicycle and at the same time discharges fireworks while in the air. He is without fear and performs this daring feat with the utmost nonchalance. He attributes his success to the fact that he abstains from all intoxicating liquors and has complete confidence in himself at all times.

JUST NOTED.

Among the theatrical visitors in Chicago last week were A. L. Erlanger, of Klaw & Erlanger, and Thos. W. Ryley, owner of The Belle of Mayfair. George S. Wood, Director of Publicity of the Colonial Theatre, has returned to Chicago, after spending two weeks at Eureka Springs, Ark., resting up from the nervous shock he sustained after his experience in the recent wreck of the Pennsylvania's Eighteen Hour Flyer, at Mineral Point, Pa. It is reported that The Belle of Mayfair will close its season at the end of its present engagement at the Colonial. George Cohan is coming to Chicago to attend the opening performance of his new play, Fifty Miles From Boston, at the Colonial, Sunday evening, April 28.

PROHIBITS TIGHTS: CURTAIL SKIRTS.

The noble minded Solons of the Wisconsin Legislature have not yet recovered from the effects of the brain storm which induced them a few weeks ago to determine to prohibit the wearing of tights in all places of amusement in their state. Representatives Hughes, whose knowledge of tights has probably been confined to those he saw in the annual burlesque performances at the Town Hall, sat down one morning and read three or four columns about the Thaw trial. Suddenly he was

NELLIE REVELL.

Miss Revell is known in cabaret as the girl who says things and whose quick repartee and ability as a teller of humorous stories have won her the sobriquet of The Witty Woman of the West. She is a Chicago girl, well known as a former circus press agent, and in private life is Mrs. Joe Revell, the wife of a prominent Chicago business man.

DeVRIES IS GREAT.

Henri DeVries, the Dutch Protean actor who was the headliner at the Majestic last week, created a furor with his wonderful playlet, A Case of Arson, in which he enacts seven entirely different characters. It is not only his marvelous quick changes which enable him to appear on an instant's notice in so many roles, that have taken, but rather his wonderful histrionic ability in portraying these roles. The characters are the witnesses at a police court investigation into the burning down of a cigar factory under suspicious circumstances. Mr. DeVries enacts the owner of the factory who is really guilty of arson, a half-witted leather, police sergeant, lun keeper, grocer, house painter and gentle father-in-law, and in each character he is letter perfect. As the case progresses the evidence which proves the owner's guilt is slowly unfounded until the final scene, when, sternly charged with the crime, the factory owner breaks down and confesses. It is one of the strongest bits that has ever been put on the vaudeville stage and demonstrates beyond a doubt that the hey-day of the Protean artist is still in existence.

A POMPEROUS ACT.

A ponderous but entertaining act was given by Catherine Hayes and Sabel Johnson, two ladies whose combined weight renders them as Miss Johnson says "a whole beef trust." The two players in spite of their handicap of overweights, trip about with astonishing agility and in the concluding moments actually execute a nimble dance. The sketch which is entitled A Dream of Baby Days is based on a clever idea. The two wealthy ladies go to bed and dream that they have returned to their childhood days. The change is shown at first by means of moving pictures, and at the finish the two principals appear in children's attire and do a song and dance.

Lasky Holte & Co. present a unique musical act, using cello and a bass fiddle. The act is set in an elaborate sounding board, constructed in the form of a gigantic shell. The program states that the numbers were rehearsed by Victor Herbert, and most of the selections given are from the Herbert operas.

The Metropole Troupe of Aerobats, consisting of ten people, is a really fine acrobatic act, the premier work, however, being done by a little girl who does a double somersault with ease and even succeeds in turning the triple whirl, which is the bugbear of all aerobats.

Lee Harrison gave a monologue, the best portion of which was a clever take-off on Sherlock Holmes. The World's Comely Four are a quartet of singers who sing well and dance better. The comedian of the quartette descends to rather coarse horse play to secure his laughs, but as long as he gets them there is no use of young criticism.

SPADONI IS REMARKABLE.

Paul Spadoni, a young man who seems to have wonderful physical strength, was one of the featured Majestic attractions last week. He combines the dexterity of a juggler with the strength of a modern Hercules, and juggles heavy cannon balls with ease. His most remarkable feat, however, was that of keeping a cannon ball, an egg and a plate in the air at once, and alternately catching the ball and the egg on the plate, without breaking either egg or plate.

The Meland Trio of Italian singers were very well received, and gave some pleasing selections. Burns and Ryan had some smart talk and some old songs, which were given with considerable effect, and Esmeralda, the xylophone artist, was taken in several fine selections. Other acts on the bill were Edwin George in songs and dances, Harry Robinson in songs and stories and DeCamo's Dogs. This week Henri DeVries & Co. complete as the headliner and the Six English Favorites, Edgar Atchison, Ely, Eddie Girard and Jesse Gardner, Kelly and Violet and Fredrick Hawley & Co. are the features.

AT THE OLYMPIC.

Edwin Arden & Co., presenting A Hero and Heroine and The Navaja Girls were last week's features at the Olympic. The remainder of the bill was as follows: Fox and Evans Comedians, Marceano, Navarro and Marceano, Sweeney and Violet Sisters, LeFevre and St. John, Mack and Douglas, Phyllis Sterling & Co., Marzella and Milhay, Harry Allen Howard and Howard, Harry Burns, Edna Sneyard, Ferris Sneyard and Alta Boyter.

AT THE HAYMARKET.

Arthur Dunn and Marie Glazier, and Evans & Co. gave the principal bits other theatrical celebrities occupied boxes on the opening night, and the critics were out in force. The Round Up, according to the reviewers, comes nearer to being a Buffalo Bill Wild West show on the stage than anything produced thus far. Real Indians, real cowboys, real ponies and lots of shooting are utilized for the western atmosphere. The plot concerns two men who are in love with the same girl. The man who first secured the girl's promise to marry, disappeared, and, of course, was thought dead. Their lover No. 2 steps in and secured the girl. Before the wedding day the supposedly dead lover shows up, but finds that the girl has been deceived into thinking him lost forever. She marries No. 2, but grim justice overtakes him a short time later in an Indian scalping. This Indian battle is the most realistic battle ever staged. Hundreds of blank cartridges are used at every performance, and the audience always are excited to frenzied outbursts of applause. The cast includes Maelyn Arbuckle, Wright Kramer, Orme Caldar, Julia Denn, Florence Hockwell and Howard Hartzell. Critical opinion is exemplified by the following excerpts:

"Success, complete, unqualified, crowned the first performance on any stage of Edmund Day's play, The Round Up, which opened the summer dramatic season at McVicker's Theatre last night.

sight, including both his backers and his stage managers, to whom he is, indeed, deeply indebted."—Burns Mantle, Inter-Ocean.

MRS. FISKE'S TROUBLES.

Mrs. Fiske, who is appearing at the Grand in The York Idea has had a great deal of trouble in securing Western time for her productions. In order to appear in the big western cities, she has been compelled to play in skating rinks, tents and riding halls on numerous occasions. In Los Angeles the demolition of a big rink was delayed for her engagement, and in Denver she played in Elitch's Gardens a half-hour's trolley ride from the city. In Portland, Oregon, owing to a fight between stockholders, her stage door was guarded by a deputy sheriff with a loaded rifle, and in Winnipeg a huge riding hall with the scent of tan bark still pervading the atmosphere was utilized for her performances. Such are some of the hardships which must be undergone by those who cast their lot behind instead of in front of the footlights' glare.

IN HIS OWN PLAY.

Victor Moore, the creator of George M. Cohan's hittable character, Kid Burus, in Forty-five Minutes From Broadway, is to be a star next season, according to current rumors.

GUS ELEN is the latest artist to foster the "English invasion." The popular delineator of Cockney life, which is equivalent to the "tough" in New York, will cross the pond in September to fulfill engagements with Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger at a princely salary. Following in his footsteps is Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian, who will sail for America shortly after Mr. Elen's departure, as he is due to open across the pond in November.

George Mozart, flushed with the success of his engagement in America, speaks in glowing terms of the American vaudeville houses and all and sundry connected with them. During his stay he became a member of The White Rats, and also joined the Comely Club. Mr. Mozart is chock full of pleasant tales of his first trip and is looking forward with great pleasure to his return to the land of the brave and home of the free. Mozart opens this week at the London Pavilion in a new musical monologue, entitled The Mudlark Village Band. Later on he intends producing his new racing travesty, Won By a Neck. Both of these are written by Chris. Davis.

Eugene Stratton had a most enthusiastic welcome on his return home to the Land of Fogs, from South Africa, on Saturday last. A party of "Rats" awaited him at Waterloo station, and they made the place ring with cheers for good old Gene. Gene had an attack of pleurisy during his absence from England, which unfortunately forced him to be absent from the bill once or twice, but happily he is now quite himself again. He opens at one of the outlying London halls, namely, the Stratford Empire, on Monday, where he is sure to get a rising reception.

SOME NEW PLAYLETS

The Punch Bowl is the title of a new musical scene, written by Percy Anderson; music by Constance Tippett, which will be produced at the Holloway Empire Music Hall this week, by G. P. Huntley and Herbert Clayton's company.

Love in Short Frocks is the title of a new sketch to be played at the Camberwell Empire this week, by Edith Bland and company. Owing to the unfortunate fate of John Lawson's not being able to find a suitable lady for the leading part, his production of his sketch, The Unwritten Law, which deals with incidents similar to the great Thaw-White case, will not be given at the Camberwell Empire this week, as I stated in one of my previous letters. The production is postponed until May 6, when it will be staged at the Holborn Empire.

Miss Ada Reeve is producing several new numbers with marked success at the Empire Music Hall, Leicester Square, this week. Mother Shipton, a vocal burlesque written and composed by Albert Voyce, was produced for the first time on Friday evening last at the Holloway Empire. It is a distinct novelty and met with a fine reception.

Last Thursday, at one of the outlying halls, The Granville, Waltham Breen, was produced a new and original farcical sketch in two scenes, entitled Half a Dollar. It immediately got in good with the audience.

Martha and Verity are this week making good at the Camberwell Palace. Harry Ford is on the same bill.

When in America, Albert Butt was fortunate enough to secure Miss Josephine Cohan, the well-known actress, who is appearing this week on the Easter program at the Palace Theatre, Shaftesbury Avenue, in a new sketch, entitled A Friend of the Family. I am pleased to say she has in no way disappointed her English audiences, who have been not at all sparing in their applause.

BILLY MARBLE.

Billy Marble was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1849, so he's now sixty-seven years old, but he's hale and hearty and with his wife, Ella Marble, is identified with Down in Mohile, playing the part of old Uncle Remus. Billy was "born in the business." He comes of a theatrical family that dates back farther than he can remember; his great grandfather on the Warren side was an actor. His father was identified with the company playing at the Rialto Theatre, Chicago, in 1828, which company included besides other celebrities Mrs. John Drew and Mrs. Gilbert. Incidentally it might be mentioned that Billy Marble is very popular.

The Majors return to America in September. Joseph Wilson's Easter program at the Tivoli is scintillating with "stars" of the first magnitude. The bill is as follows: Little Tich, Harry Lauder, Phil. Ray, Alexandra Dagmar, T. E. Duviville, Abbie Mitchell, Madeline Rees, George Robey, Alice Yorke and company in A Yacht for Sale; Harry Tate and company, The Polish Kiss, Dorothy Drew and Fragsom.

MYSTERIOUS HOWARDS SCORE HIT

The Mysterious Howards, who are well known to American audiences, and who are appearing at the Palace Theatre this week, with their wonderful silent mental telepathy act, appeared at a party given by Alfred de Rothschild, on Sunday last. Among the many articles given for description in strict silence was a curious watch enclosed in a twenty-dollar gold piece, belonging to Percipont Morgan. This was described minutely, and the millionaire could only ought to be one vast spectacular business this Judgment of Pharaoh. Brandon Thomas has been engaged for the big part of Pharaoh, and the beautiful Miss Cecil Crumwell, late of Sir Henry Irving's company, will have a good part. James Fernandez and Edmund Burney, from the Court Theatre, will also be in the cast.

Mr. Sapiro's new play for Charles Frohman is to be ready for production in London and America in August next. It is a comedy in four acts.

Charles Frohman has secured the English and American rights in Sarah Bernhardt's latest success, Les Bonifons.

The London Coliseum will be sold at auction April 25 next.

The Suffragettes is the title of the piece in which George Dance will star Miss Camille Clifford on tour.

FLORODORA STAR COMING OVER

Willie Edouin is shortly to visit America, the Messrs. Shubert, possessors of the Waldorf Theatre, having engaged him to play the part of an eccentric professor in the forthcoming production of The Snow Man. Mr. Edouin first appeared in the States in the farce, Dreams, and his last part was in the character of Tweedle-punch in the American production of Florodora, at the New York Casino.

Charles Frohman announces that when My Darling shall have completed the run of eight weeks originally planned for it at the Haymarket Theatre, the piece will be sent on tour as already arranged.

JAMES C. CULBERTSON, JR.

The portrait above is from the latest photograph of Mr. James C. Culbertson, Jr., by his friends called "Jimmy," society man, clubman, and wine man—representing Fredk. de Bary & Co., of New York, American agents for Mumm's Champagne. He numbers his friends in the theatrical profession by thousands. He is very popular. Everybody likes Jimmy, especially the ladies.

ejaculate. "Wonderful!" The Japanese Ambassador was also present, and personally tested the pair with some curious coins of his country. At the conclusion of the entertainment, Mr. Rothschild asked whether a Bank of England note's number could be transmitted, and at the same time producing one. It contained eight figures, and was given out without the slightest hesitation. Mr. Rothschild, in company with his guests, expressed wonderment at the remarkable feat that had been displayed. Sir Edward Ward, Permanent Under Secretary of State for War, has written to the Howards, on behalf of Mr. Halldane, thanking them most warmly for the wonderful and interesting entertainment that was given on the occasion of the British War Office dinner held recently.

THINGS THEATRICAL

Robert Loraine, who made such an astonishing success in America in Man and Superman, will appear in the part of John Tanner when Mr. Shaw's play is revived at the Court Theatre.

Preparations for The Judgment of Pharaoh are well advanced at the Scala Theatre, and a really serious attempt is being made to reproduce incidents in the life of the great man. The plot of luxury, the crowd of oriental women, the perfumes, even the animals, all have a place in the scheme of Mr. Calmoun's play. Moreover, some fine effects, such as moonrise and sunrise over the desert, where we get a view of the pyramids, are to be presented. It

GREAT PLAY AT THE HAYMARKET

The Palace of Puck is A Midsummer Night's Dream in a modern setting, and is certainly most delightfully acted in the best style of fantastic comedy. It was received with great enthusiasm by a crowded audience, Tuesday night, April 2, and I should indeed be surprised if The Palace of Puck does not fill the Haymarket Theatre for months to come. Not in years has such a dainty little been seen on the English stage.

The plot is very simple and pretty. While motoring in France, Christopher Podmore and his wife, the embodiments of British respectability, have an accident which throws them for a week among a miscellaneous crowd of dancers, rhymer and artists' models who inhabit the Palace of Puck, a beautiful chateau named after its owner, an eccentric millionaire, with a taste for pushing unpopulated gonius. Although the manners and costumes of these Bohemians shock the good Podmores at first, they soon get used to it, and for the first time in his life Mr. Podmore falls in love—or thinks he does—with one of the tribe, namely Rodanthe, the most beautiful woman in Europe. Moreover, Mrs. Podmore believes herself to be the victim of a fierce passion for a musician among the crowd whom she met once before in a London drawing room, and, worse still, their daughter, a girl of eighteen, falls genuinely in love with a young poet without a penny in the world. Puck, seeing the whole game, starts to unmanage and unmanoeuvre things, and under his guidance, Miss Podmore elopes with the penniless poet. Mr. and Mrs. Podmore, who are on the point of eloping with their respective lives, suddenly recognize that after twenty years of married life, they have fallen in love with each other. (I had in ridiculous dresses which they wore the night before at a masquerade party, escape together as the curtain falls, and what feels these mortals be?" quotes, maintaining the note of sarcasm even to the sound of Podmore's motor car grows in the distance.)

THE CHARACTERS AND THEIR COSTUMES

Fred Kerr and Miss Marlin Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Podmore; H. V. Esmond, as Puck; Ben Webster, as the love-sick musician; and the others are all good. In fact, good and I use not one bit of their already big reputation. For the satisfaction of the lady readers of The Billboard, I will endeavor to describe how the little comedy was dressed.

Miss Miriam Clements, as Rodanthe, the beautiful woman, in the first act, dressed in a bright green tulle, with a red cap, and a lovely look from her beautiful brow, and Vera Cokburn, as Lalage, an art student is appropriately dressed in a very picturesque dress having more than a touch of Venice about it. There is another bright splash of color given by a vivid red frock worn by the mistress of the Palace of Puck, and also the blue linen suit worn by the young man without a penny. The first really modern dress, however, is the motor costume worn by Miss Marlin Terry, as Mrs. Podmore. Miss Terry arrives at the stage in a spotless white robe with lace sleeves and a long slip-over mantle of fine-grained cloth. Her hat is white with a brim turned up with black satin, and around the crown there is a sash of satin with a large rosette in front from which spring waving white ostrich and marbled plumes. Of course, the inevitable motor veil, which in this case is white completes what is certainly a very smart and pretty picture. In the second act, Miss Marlin Terry wears a gown of purple gauze over blue tulle, and over this dress again is worn a very full green domino garlanded with sweet peas and roses. Miss Miriam Clements' dress in the second act is in clinging red crepe de chine, with long winged sleeves that bare the arms from the shoulders to the wrists, draping them only at the back, and a severely simple clear cut neck that is trying to all but a beautiful woman. I hope I have described the dresses so that the ladies will understand.

CONCERNING MELODRAMA.

Is melodrama dead in the west part of London? This question has been asked since the death of the great William Terriss, the commander in chief of Melodrama at the world famous Adelphi. Managers have been afraid and it really seemed as if we were never going to see this form of entertainment in the great play center again, when suddenly announcements were made that the Lyceum, Sir Henry Irving's old home, had been secured by Henry R. Smith, and that on Saturday, March 3rd, the house would reopen with Walter Howard's romantic drama, Her Love Against the World. I was one of the first to receive a seat and waited with great anxiety the result of the enterprise; and what was the result? Success, success, success all along the line. The play proved its right to the description on the programme of "stirring romantic play" rendered with ability considerably above the average, and it received a capital applause from a house which, despite the fact that "all London" was away holiday-making, was crowded to its utmost capacity in every part. Mr. Smith and Mr. Carpenter are to be congratulated on the skill and judgment with which they have gauged the public taste. The piece is fair to take the town by storm. It was a real pleasure to watch the acting; such spirit, such energy, such enunciation and rapidity of action, such a whole-hearted vigor in each individual and such an animation in the ensemble. It was like a breath of fresh air. What of the play? It is a fine, bright, breezy specimen of the old romantic drama that in our innermost hearts we all have. A brave and true hero that carries all before him, a noble and loving woman, a bad villain, that in the end meets his just punishment. Bright and brisk comic relief. It is just the class of entertainment that makes one feel ten years younger.

The acting all round calls for loud praise. Norman Partridge was an excellent hero and carried all before him. Frederick Ross was loudly cheered for his brave deeds and was a great favorite. Tric Mayne, a polished swordsman, who, in spite of his part, won the admiration of all the ladies by his handsome appearance and clear voice. The favorite of the evening, however, was the "comic man" Harry Harford; he seemed to put the audience in a good humor directly after he stepped on the stage, and they followed him through the evening with such encouragement as a London audience always shows to their chosen favorite. If I mistake not this comedian, who looks quite young, has a great future before him. The ladies were all good. Miss Nora Kern creating a great impression by her graceful style and dramatic "grip." Miss Valli Valli was a perfect picture of a boy, but was somewhat girlish in her voice. I should like to have seen a boy play this part. The author and managers were loudly called before the curtain at the end of the performance and I don't think we shall see a new play at this house this side of next Christmas. This has come to stay. Walter Howard was surrounded by a great many of his brother authors, all of whom were to be seen after the performance heartily congratulating him on the abundant success of Her Love Against the World. Arthur Shirley, Walter Melville, Wm. P. Shoon, Fred S. Jennings, and others were all to be seen shaking him by the hand.

DUNEDIN TROUPE.

This troupe of marvelous cyclists, whose photos appear in another column are making a tremendous success in every town they appear in for their clever and artistic cycling on the stage and their wonderful bicycle riding on the telephone wire. This is their first time in America, and they have been highly complimented by proprietors and managers, press and public and offered all sorts of engagements for summer resorts. Mr. James E. Honegan, the Australian sport, is the trainer and trainer of this famous troupe. He has a pocket full of offers from all parts of America and Australia.

The Family is the name of the new vaudeville house which Laug and Aekley opened in Erie, Pa., April 22.

AUSTRALIA LETTER

By DR. W. H. H. LANE.

THE Ventura sails today with Mr and Mrs. N. S. Chiofalo, of Losding the Beach Loop fame. Mr. Chiofalo will engage artists for Messrs. Wirth and their Show, and he may be advised to go to the Billboards, at either Cincinnati or New York, in April 8 the Sonoma will be making all three steamers in a line and to say that the irregularities of the San Francisco service since the earthquake have not caused a lot of language that is not used in any society would be but to put it very bluntly. Now we are informed that the service is to be discontinued, but I guess that won't happen this year.

Wirth's circus arrived from New Zealand on the 15th, and was to have opened on the 16th, but the good gates of heaven were open and have been for the last few days, and they did not open until last night, when, long before the performance began, they were turning them away. As it was so bad on Saturday night I think it was a good move that they waited, as the rain has now cleared out, and as the city is beginning to fill up for the Easter show, the holidays it looks as if this year would break the record. Messrs. Wirth and his partners have made a lot of additions to their circus since here a year ago, and by next mail I shall send a full description of what they are doing. The Flying Herberts are still with them and they and Hugh Paterek Lloyd are the top liners. Lloyd does one of the best turns on the corde elastique and his turn was applauded to the echo and demanded and redemanded. The press are kind, and well they may be, in their criticisms of the performance last night.

Let me here insert a word to professionalists in the United States that will save them time and money, as well as mine. Messrs. Fitzgerald Bros. are both dead, as well as all their press representatives, and their show is no more. So please do not send me letters to forward to them. To those who have sent me letters, asking me to do so, I will say that I have in all instances handed them over to the Messrs. Wirth.

William Anderson is starting out a circus on the road in the middle of this month or the beginning of next, under the management of Mr. Kilpatrick, of the loop fame, and what animals he has are from Bostock's and Fitzgerald's Circuses. At present the company that is to go out is showing nightly at Wonderland City, and as this place will probably close down next month for some four or five months, the circus will get north to warmer climate, and as the season advances with them they will work south, and here again let me remark that there is no winter season for circuses on this side of the globe, they go it the year round.

At the Haymarket, Foley's Australian Circus has put up an enclosure and will remain for the Easter holidays; but it is small as compared to Wirth's Circus. But the average Australian loves the circus, and I guess as far as that goes, the same can be said of those of other countries as well, as I do not think that human nature is much different than it was when I was a mere kiddie. Well, all I can say is, I wish them all well and hope that they will do well. There was a time when the Wirth Bros. held a second position in the circus world, but that day has gone by and to-day it is they who are the top liners.

BLAND HOLT SAYS AU REVOIR

Bland Holt and his company farewelled at the Royal Theatre on the 24th in the white heat. Mr. and Mrs. Holt have a world of friends in this city, and they will be a long time away this trip, as it will be close on to two years before we see their genial smiles again. Flowers were in profusion, and all were called on at the end of the last act to bow their acknowledgments again and again. At last Mr. and Mrs. Holt had to say a few words, and briefly is the soul of wit. Mr. Holt was indeed witty as he spoke about twenty words, terse and to the point, and amid yells and calls, Mr. Holt struck up "Say An Rev lo, But Not Good Bye," and to this the audience marched out and Bland Holt's season of just one year was a thing of the past.

Mr. Holt and his company will open in Melbourne on Easter Saturday, at the Theatre Royal and all dates are booked well to the end of 1908, and then I am led to infer that we shall see a new company of artists at that time. Mrs. Holt goes home to see her parents in England next month and also to attend the wedding of her sister, but Mr. Holt will stop behind to look after many interests in this part of the world and to keep his company up to the mark.

Mr. Holt is to make a tour of New Zealand, and as he has not paid a visit to that island for some time he is sure of a warm welcome. It is gratifying to contemplate what an enthusiastic and intelligent loving country New Zealand is and when you contemplate the fact that the whole island has the population of the city of Brooklyn, the enormous number of companies that are at the various cities, you would think that they must spend more money per head for amusements than any other cities on the globe, and, personally, I think they do.

Mr. W. H. Lane has just returned from a trip to New Zealand and he had a very glowing account of his trip in the papers the other day. He will have opened the Royal in this city on the 2nd with his pantomime company in "Milk and Honey" but there is a notice that the production of the Royal not being wide enough to accommodate the swings used in this production, that the famous Knight Co. will be transferred to the Royal from Her Majesty's and Mr. Wirth's company will be performed there. This has had a run of twelve weeks in Melbourne and has broken all records in pantomime, and some say that it will break the record here, but what here and in Melbourne is often a dire failure here. Julius Knight has taken the place up to the present at Her Majesty's, and the Little Brune farewelled at this time, after four weeks ago.

VIVID MELODRAMA AT THE CRITERION

Herbert Rickard's English Dramatic Co. had the Criterion Theatre for a short season, and played Home, Sweet Home, and also another play. I do not for the moment recall the name of it, but I did not go to see it, but their season was a short one and business, I am sorry to say, was not too good, but since then they have been somewhat successful in their success has been somewhat. Alton Hamilton is Mr. Rickard's manager for this company, with his wife and a son, Mr. Mass, as treasurer. They go on to Perth and open in Perth the 23rd inst. At the present time the theatre is opened by a variety company that in producing a drama, called the Kelly Gang, so named after a family of outlaws that were either shot, captured or hanged, or else got away out of the country. They have been doing very well, as all the episodes are supposed to be taken from real facts, and as all of these were of a highly sensational and hair raising nature, they have an attraction for the middle classes of Australia. William Anderson opens there for his Sydney season on the 30th, and that will make all of Sydney's theatres in full swing for the Easter holidays, of which there are four right off the reel, Good Friday, Saturday, Easter Sunday and Monday. Every bank in the commonwealth will be closed down from Thursday afternoon at three until the following Tuesday morning at ten.

At the Tivoli the brook flows on as ever, and packed, jammed and rumbled in the order there at all performances, but they matinee or evening. King and Benson are the top liners at this theatre, and Charles Leonard Fletcher and the Rickells, as well as a host of others, including Miss Cassie Warner, the dusky princess; Miss Grace Grahame, who, by the way, has been unanimously elected as the Queen of Wonderland City, and as such will mount the throne tomorrow evening and be crowned with all the splendor of an oriental ceremony, and will receive from Mr. Anderson the sum of $200 ($1000) to purchase such a trophy as she may select. More in my next about this theatre and its doings, as well as at the Opera House in Melbourne, which is also owned and run by Mr. Rickards.

And now another word to some of the profession that may read these words, as to writ-

Paris Office, 65 rue Turbigo. Paris Letter. Chas. Heller, Representative.

EASTER week was favored with glorious weather, and this year it will be marked with a red letter in the annals of the city. Unprecedented crowds of visitors have arrived from all parts of the provinces, from across the channel, from every country on the Continent, and from the United States. With the exception of the Grand Opera, the Opera Comique, the Theatre Francaise, which were closed on Good Friday, for cleaning purposes, the balance of the theatres gave two performances each day of the week to crowded houses. In some of the theatres passion plays were given, notably at the Odéon, where Josef d'Armathe and Le Vray Mystere de la Passion were performed. In most of the theatres the Life of Jesus was given at the matinees by means of moving pictures. Seats were at a premium. Jacques Offenbach's celebrated operetta La Fille du Tambour Major, was revived at the Gaite Theatre, and was nicely welcomed by a crowded audience. The cast, which includes ished their new four-act play in verse, entitled La Belle au Bois Dormant (The Sleeping Beauty), which is destined for the Sarah Bernhardt Theatre.

M. Gabriel Duquesne, author of the opera Caberera, which was successfully produced at the Opera Comique, has finished the music for the new opera, La Gu, the libretto of which is drawn from the famous book written by Jean Richepin.

The Opera Comique will produce next season a new opera written by M. Ernest Garnier, entitled Myrtil.

The Comedie Francaise announces the press rehearsal of Victor Hugo's drama, Marion Desorme for April 15.

The Odéon Theatre has received a new drama written by M. Louis Lefrancais, entitled Erienne Dolé.

Mme. Pascal Delagard, who for the past twenty-five years has successfully managed the Theatre Montmartre, will withdraw from the management and retire into private life.

Mme. Jeanne Bloch, the popular music hall actress, who has just finished a successful engagement at the Chatelet Theatre, opened at the European in a farce, entitled Miss Pantouflette, written especially for her talent by MM. Briellet and Lelievre. The Folly, as they call it, has just enough Gallic salt to suit her versatile style of acting, which kept the audience in rars of laughter. The play was preceded by a little pantomime, Pierrot Pasha, in which Mlle. Jane Doe and M. Dervilla scored a success, and concluded by Moringo in a quick change act, a good addition to the bill.

The Theatre de la Tour Eiffel (Eiffel Tower), opened its season with Marriage, Impetu and La Revue Recalitrante. The cast consists of MM. Roger and Gaston Perduet, Lemerder, Mmes. Violette Deschaume, Berger, Debarry and Pascal. Owing to the fine weather which prevails in Paris, the theatre is playing to crowded audiences nightly.

Gavrochette, an amusing three-act play, written by M. Maurice Clomp, reached the half century mark at the Theatre Moderne. The good acting qualities of Mlle. Angèle Nadir, who plays the principal role, are contributing to a large part of the success of the piece.

Les deux Gosses (The Two Little Vagabonds), the great former success of the Ambigu Theatre, will be revived next season by MM. Hertz and Coppelin, managers of the Porte Saint Martin Theatre.

The Nouveau Theatre is busy rehearsing its new bill, which consists of Dedic, a playlet in one act by M. George Cassella; La Comedie des Anes, a two-act play by M. Henri Dargel, and Les Marlwoods (The Living), a drama in three acts, written by M. August Assolonne.

HAUPTMANN WORKING ON NEW DRAMA

M. Gerard Hauptmann, the German dramatist, is working on a new social drama, the action to take place in a mining district.

The Theatre du Gymnase will give on April 11 a special matinee, with Mlle. Madeleine Morlay, a former opera singer, in the principal role in La Traviata by Georges.

Bostand's great success, Grande Bergeras, will follow for a few performances Notre Dame de Paris at the Porte Saint Martin Theatre.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE HOUSES

The Mayos, comic roller skaters, and the Troquay's ring acrobats, are at the Renaissance Music Hall. The Americans, Burg and Harry, in their funny bath room sketch, are very successful at the Fournal.

The Troupe Billy Bile, acrobats, are scoring a success at the Alcazar, Marsolles, Charles and Francois, bar acrobats, are at the Hortage, Lyons.

Aida and Kostov, musical eccentrics, and Esad, equilibrist, are making good at the Eden, Grenoble.

The American, Billhoil, comic juggler, is at the Alhambra, Lyons. His tricks make the house roar with laughter.

The Five Agnostis, acrobats, and the Bosches, in their funny kitchen sketch, are successful at the Eden Theatre, Saint Etienne.

The American eccentric, Billy Belle, is the headliner of the variety part of the program at the Folies Bergere, Havre. Lameslow, rifle expert, is making good at the same hall.

Richard Bratz, with his trained dogs, is the headliner at the Casino, Toulouse; his turn includes some new comic features in the line of dog performances, which pleases the audience. At the Nouveaux are Smann, dwarf acrobat; The Paxtons, tableau vivants; and The Samsons, acrobatic athletes.

Isnar, eccentric, and Malozki, conjurer, are scoring a success at the Alcazar, Dijon.

The new bill of the Etoile Palace shows a decided move by Manager M. Combes to bring up his establishment to the level of the best of vaudeville houses of Paris, and he is likely to succeed in it. The bill consists of Sisters Norma, clever English dancers; Helyton and Reunons, eccentrics; Fortune Lepomme, in a farcical sketch; Mario and Zorade, miniature acrobats; Elch, athlete; Dextro, rifle expert; Darle, feul, mine juggler; Miss Itha, Japanese conjurer, and Los Valencias, acrobatic dancers. Moving pictures by the Boston Vio conclude the performance.

M. de Fallais has withdrawn from the management of the two music halls, the Scala and the Eldorado. M. Lecointe has succeeded him.

L'Apollon will be the name of a new music hall to be opened in the Rue de Cléchy, at the end of the month. The new house will be devoted to a variety and a vocalist program.

Maner, with his trained elephants, and the Selchers, acrobats, were added to the strong program of the Metropole Circus. Good turns for the juvenile section of the audience are provided by the pet comic, Footit, and his two sons. Good business is the rule here.

The New Grand Theatre, at Oswego, Kan., was formally opened April 9 with the Boston Ideal Opera Co. in The Mikado. W. H. London is manager of the house which is modern in every respect. 185000 is now on the theatrical map.

LOUIS MANN.

He has scored a Casino success as Hensie Blinder in The White Hen in New York City, under the direction of the Shuberts.

ing to me and asking me to do so and so, and to find out certain things for them and reply to them for them, if they do not give me an address that they are sure that they will get their letters it is far better to have the replies go in The Billboard's care and have them sent on to them, as I have in the last mail several letters that the parties had asked me to write them, and, in some instances, had sent me money to pay the trouble of getting it for their letters posted and in some cases registered, have been returned to me. I am sending one or two on to the care of The Billboard. I do all that is in my power to help all in the profession, and if they do not take the trouble to calculate the possible delays then it is not my fault. This is written to those that have written me and not got their replies, and I wish that they would write me again, and I will in the future send all replies to The Billboard's care, and they can order them on where they are sure to get them.

WILL REOPEN THE PALACE

The Palace Theatre has been shut down for some time, but it is to be reopened by the Brough Flooding Company in Mrs. Goring's Newknee. As this company has undergone some changes since it was last here, and I have not noticed any reports in the press lately, I shall reserve my remarks for my next letter. Herbert Flooding and Miss Beatrice Day are to be the stars of this piece. They open on Saturday, the 23d.

The Spencer American Theatrescope Co. has held the Lyceum Hall since the day before Christmas, and as was at least unexpected by the audience, have been large and the business heavy. He closed his season on the 23d.

the excellent opera singers, Mlle. Mealy, as Stella, and M. Cassella, as Robert, received great ovations from all parts of the house. The managers, MM. Isola Freres were much praised for the superior mounting and staging of the play, which commendation they highly deserved. As a result of the new separation law between Church and State, several parish priests have gone into business in order to make a living. The Abbe Drouf, ex vicar of the parish of Merville (Calvados), having an agreeable tenor voice, took lessons in singing and has secured an engagement at a music hall as star artist.

The new program of the Grand Filiguel consists of five playlets, of which MM. Robert Scheffer and Ligeron's La petite Maison d'Antoin is the principal. This drama is the most daring ever brought before a theatrical public. Of course the patrons of the Grand Filiguel Theatre are used to emotional plays, but La petite Maison d'Antoin breaks all records, and is sure to satisfy the most difficult lovers of stage emotions. La Femme aux deux Profils, another drama by MM. Petyt and Doucet, is of somewhat classical structure. The others are Perrouets perdus (The Lost Parrots), by M. Alfred Edwards; L'Attache, by M. Gregoire and English Maid, by Paul Granchev, in which the good cast had many occasions to display their excellent acting qualities. M. Albert Mayer and Mlle. Veyrannne divided the honors of the evening.

MARGUERITTE SYLVA'S ENGAGEMENT EXTENDED

The engagement of the excellent opera singer, Mme. Marguerite Sylva, has been prolonged for another year at the Opera Comique. MM. Jean Richepin and Henri Cain have fin-

PHILADELPHIA'S NEW RESORT.

Twenty-five Minutes From Broad Street, promises to be a slogan in Philadelphia, Pa., this summer. It has reference to the new Beechwood Park, which is located less than a half hour's ride from the heart of the city, and will have features worth going to see. This new amusement place is being built and will be operated by the Beechwood Park Amusement Co., of which E. E. Downs is president and manager; Frank H. Libbey, treasurer; Don W. Libbey, secretary, and Horace S. Meese, assistant manager. President Downs has been engaged in managing electric railroading and railway parks, for fifteen years. Mr. Meese is from Wonderland, Boston, and is well-known to amusement people.

A large force of men are at work upon the resort, and it is planned to open it Decoration Day. H. L. Messmore, who built Electric Park, Detroit, has the contract for the administration building, the restaurant and ballroom, and for the "fire-fighting" display. This will be one of the important features. A Philadelphia concern has the contract for the carrousel and the Ingersoll Construction Co. is erecting the Figure Eight, while the Franklin Amusement Co. has the contract for installing the Canals of Venice and the Circle Swing. A beautiful Japanese village is being laid out by F. C. Shiehl and Kango Moriya. The North Penn Iron Works is erecting the first "leap-frog merry-go-round" in the United States, while Leon T. Carpenter and Joseph Walsh, of the Garrick Theatre, have secured the contract for erecting and managing two other concessions—the Foolish House and Mirror Maze. Buildings to be occupied by all attractions are under construction.

Bands of national reputation will be featured each week.

GREATER PINEHURST PARK.

Pinehurst Park at Worcester, Mass., is a paragon of amusement resorts. This park is so named because of the numerous pines which adorn it and give health and life to the surrounding country. Its second season will be inaugurated May 30, under the direction of the Pinehurst Park Amusement Co., and the management of Joseph P. Caples, assisted by J. F. Donovan. Manager Caples is an experienced man and a hustler. He has made a great success of the new resort which lay idle for two years before last season. This year many improvements are being made, chief of which is the enlargement of the rustic theatre and the reidentification of the park. With its fifty acres of ground, Pinehurst will offer a diversity of amusement and recreation this season.

PARK NOTES.

James E. Hardy, the high-wire king, will have a very busy time this season. Since his return from Europe two seasons ago, his high-wire act has been in great demand at the principal resorts and fairs throughout America and Canada. A few of the places where he will feature among the outdoor attractions this season are Wonderland, Boston, Mass.; Vanity Fair, Providence, R. I.; Rosewood Park, Philadelphia, Pa.; Luna Park, Scranton, Pa.; Scarborough Beach, Toronto, Can.; Luna Park, Cleveland, O.; the Brockton Fair, and other places. Hardy will return to Europe next winter to fulfill contracts there at some of the leading amusement establishments.

FLYING EUGENE FALK.

This is a very good picture of Flying Eugene Falk, one of the most daring and reckless artists in the world. He was formerly a member of the famous Flying Baldwins, but he is now booking himself single. He does a wonderful combination trapeze and ring act, including with a most daring breakaway. He also does the "cloud swing" so marvelous and reckless in its character as to fairly make the hair of spectators stand on end. Mr. Falk desires to say that he will be one of the free attractions with the Will S. Heck United Shows, opening May 6, and takes this opportunity to thank managers from whom he has received flattering offers.

Goldthwait Park and White City at Marion, Ind., under the management of the well-known theatrical manager, John H. Ammons, is assuming definite shape. A handsome new depot has just been completed and work is rapidly progressing on the concession buildings. The grounds are being beautified, and new walks are being constructed. The park will open June 15 and will be one of the new up-to-date parks of the middle west, with free gate, free vaudeville and other attractions.

Coffeyville, Kan., is going to have one of the prettiest parks in the west this summer. W. Dell Turner will manage it. The Clyde Amusement Park Co., which has a capital stock of $100,000, will build it. It will open June 15. There is not a park within a hundred miles of it and with the numerous steam and electric lines it will cater to a population of 125,000.

Well's St. Louis Band has been engaged by Col. John D. Hopkins for the first month at his St. Louis park. Well's organization this year will be composed of many of the most popular soloists in the band business. William Well has spared no time and expense to associate with him a standard organization to represent the Mound City.

April 21 saw the opening, at New Orleans of the new White City under the direction of the Standard Amusement and Operating Co., of Philadelphia. The Lottie Keudall Opera Co. is holding the boards at the Casino and will continue throughout the season, giving popular operas. Chas. C. Matthews is local manager.

J. Frank Head's Airdome at Hot Springs, Ark., when finished will be one of the handsomest parks in the southwest. A stage is being built sufficiently large to accommodate any attraction. Manager Head is booking the biggest and best attractions and is using much advertising paper upon the Hot Springs billboards.

Caliendo's Venetian Band under the management of George S. Wood has received contracts for a greater part of the summer season. The band will play Carnival Park, Kansas City, Kan.; Forest Park, Highlands, St. Louis, and East End, Memphis. The tour was arranged by the Western Vaudeville Managers.

The Trinidad Central Park, a new resort at Trinidad, Col., will be opened May 25, by the Trinidad Central Park Co., of which John Tarabino, A. J. Patrick, B. Tarabino, Edward H. Day and S. Patrick, manager, are directors. Elks' Park, at Trinidad, will not open this summer.

Managers Hafer and Love, of Fern Lake Park, Fort Scott, Kan., are heralding the opening of their third season with the following slogan: Grand Opening of Fern Lake Park for the Third Triumphant Time on May 5. Many improvements have been effected at this park.

Sorentino and his Banda Rossa will open the season at Big Island Park, Minneapolis, Sunday, June 16, where they will play four weeks. The band is managed by Louise Shouse who represents Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo.

The DeGraw Trio has already begun its park work. They played Dreamland Park, Jacksonville, Fla., week of April 1, and followed at Hopkins' Theatre, Louisville, Ky., with East End Park, Memphis, this week.

East End Park, Memphis, Tenn., opened its season April 14. Van Osten's Concert Band has been engaged for the opening weeks. Several important improvements are noted in Cal Hopkins' resort.

Harry D. Hill writes that he has leased Minewa Park, Peru, Ill., and arranged to install a number of attractions. Last season Mr. Hill managed the street railway park at Aurora, Ill.

Henri Morgan, who has spent considerable time in France with his New York Band, will return to the States this summer, where he has accepted much park time.

The Fort Dodge, Des Moines and Southern Interurban contemplate opening a new park about two miles below Fort Dodge, Ia., about June 15.

Lewis and Lessington have secured time for the park season through the Western Vaudeville Managers' Association.

Fontaine Ferry Park, at Louisville, Ky., will open May 5.

PARK ATTRACTIONS

Forest Park at Kansas City, Mo., opens April 28, under new management. Mr. Russell will not assume personal direction for three or four weeks after the season opens, and in the meantime, affairs will be in the hands of Mr. Young.

Active work has begun at both Manawa and Krug Parks, Omaha, Neb., to put these popular resorts in shape for the opening. Both parks will have many new attractions.

The Cretos, novelty acrobats, have been booked for the park season by the Western Vaudeville Managers' Association.

Miss Lucille Broullite, formerly of Louisville, Ky., and now residing at LaFayette, Ind., and who is soloist at the Trinity M. E. Church, has been engaged to sing the illustrated songs at the LaFayette Theatre at that place and her work is attracting musical attention. She has a phenomenal soprano voice and is a graduate of several musical conservatories. Her debut has increased the patronage of the house. Miss Ruth Hetrick has been secured to play the piano accompaniment.

The Star Theatre at Mayfield, Ky., is playing to excellent business under the direction of C. E. Williams, who is just the right man in the right place. The Nickelodeon in the same city has been so successful that Manager F. P. Allen has found it necessary to enlarge its seating capacity.

Howell Graham and H. W. McGeary, of Chattanooga, Tenn., opened a moving picture theatre at 13 Salem avenue, Roanoke, Va., April 8. It seats 180 people. About Sept. 1 these gentlemen who now control three theatres will open another one at Roanoke.

Archie L. Sheppard's Moving Picture Shows have taken possession of the Opera House, Paterson, N. J., for an indefinite period of time.

The Casino is the latest theaterium at Oronota, N. Y., it is under the management of Haynes & Sheppard.

A moving picture emporium is the first theatre Yuma, Ariz., has ever boasted of. Geo. Avery is manager.

Manager Wm. Frosthwaite has remodelled his theaterium at Sharon, Pa.

Walter Miles has opened a prosperous theaterium at Fulton, N. Y.

LONDON GHOST SHOW OPENS.

The Great London Ghost Shows United opened their season April 8, at Hurant, I. T., under the auspices of the Merchants Spring Festival Association. The proceeding began with the crowning of the queen and an address by the mayor. Fully 5,000 people visited the scene of festivities. Every show did a good business.

The roster of the London Ghost Show: J. G. Miller and G. W. Jameson, owners; J. G. Miller, general manager; G. W. Jameson, assistant general manager; Col. M. A. Gowdy, general agent; J. M. Bowen, superintendent of construction and P. T. Conway, agent. Among the attractions are the Maine Show, Mike McEwen, manager; Outlook Show, J. M. Bowen, manager; Prof. Evelyn Indian Mystery and Ralph Tester's Snake Show and Busy World. Este's Midgets, Sheridan's Ferris-Wheel, Ivator's Carrousel, and Miller & Jameson's Congress of Novelties. The free acts are the Richards, the Laperts, the Four Murrays and Cupid, the high-diving pony. Prof. Smith's Concert Band furnishes the music.

The show is headed northward. Colgate, a maiden town, followed Durant with seven other good towns booked.

Van Buren, Ark., April 13, 1917.
Editor The Billboard,
Dear Sir—Through my recent ad. in Old Billy Boy I sold the articles advertised and booked myself for the season before the advertiser's copy of The Billboard reached me. Besides, I received hundreds of letters of inquiry from managers offering me work. It shows that The Billboard is way ahead of all other amusement papers.
More prosperity to Old Billy Boy.
HARRY VASE.

LeBruno's Mighty Hippodrome will open at Central Park, Springfield, Mo., April 20, with one of the strongest aggregations of high-class features, novelties, new and up-to-date equipment and paraphernalia that money and experience can produce. The company includes some of the following well-known features: The Russian Prince, E. R. Blize, manager; Electric Theatre, E. R. Benjamin, manager; Carrousel, Frank Now, manager; Audubon, F. M. Meyer, manager; Old Plantation, W. S. Brown, manager; Animal Show, Prof. Waldmann, trainer; Harry Linkens, manager of the Four Lions in their casting act, and Prof. Bertolino and his concert band of eighteen pieces. The equipment will include a number of wagons and fronts of the Gaskill Co. and details are being perfected that will make this company one of the best on the road this season. Fourteen paid attractions have been booked, two sensational free acts, two bands and twenty-five concession stands, and it will travel on LeBruno's special train of ten cars. New and especially designed paper has been ordered. The executive staff is as follows: H. C. LeBruno, manager; W. J. Greiss, assistant manager and secretary; Mrs. H. C. LeBruno, treasurer; H. C. Bartlett, press representative and general advertising agent; J. F. Pollock, general agent, and W. R. Green, superintendent of transportation.

The Great Russell and Hatcher Shows, of which H. H. Russell is manager have had a good season in Texas. Hahn preferred only two days out of the twenty-eight weeks. They are now headed toward Colorado. In conjunction with Elsie Fisher, Messrs. Russell and Hatcher have purchased Jim Scargis' famous Volcano Show and are running it at a handsome profit. Other features are Dick Weston's Electric Theatre, Russell's Black Top Langley's Snake Show, Ferris wheel, merry-go-round, Big Top, the home-ater Bill and Charlie's

GEORGE WEATHERSPOON

Mr. Weatherspoon has been engaged as press representative for the Golden City, Canajoharie, I. T., this season. He was the first press agent for Dreamland, Coney Island, which position he held for two seasons. Last year he did the press work for one of the largest attractions at Luna Park, Coney Island, and during the entire winter he has held a similar position for the Madison Square Theatre. Mr. Weatherspoon was press agent for Carrousel National for a time.

Hooligan's Mishaps, and the Bubble Water Brigade. George Gossage has five of the priv.ileges.

The Francis Lee Greater Shows combined will open their second season at Versailles, O., May 4. This carnival organization left a clean record wherever it appeared last season, and Man. Lee has been fortunate in putting together even a better organization for this season. After the opening only the larger towns will be played, and the show will be billed like a circus. This season's tour as planned will embrace Northern Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and Texas.

Howard M. Seeman, as general agent of the Peoria, Ill., Carnival Association, has closed a contract through General Representative Todd, of the Great Patterson Circus and Carnival Co., whereby that attraction will appear in Peoria for seven days and nights beginning June 24. Mr. Seeman has secured a lot in the heart of the city with the main entrance on Adams street, the principal thoroughfare in the city. There will be no exclusives on any concession.

"Doc" Long, general agent, writes that the Interstate Carnival Co. will open in Lorain, O., April 25 for ten days under the auspices of the Electrical Workers' Union. H. Klusel will be on hand again with his Ferris wheel and merry-go-round. Joe Coyne will make his trip to the clouds daily. Prof. Fred Campione's Royal Italian Band will be featured.

Charles Phillips, the well-known and successful bear talker, has signed again with the Dan Robinson Amusement Co. to receive his old position as chief spider. As a result, Charles has no superior; as a fine fellow, he will meet. He is one of the most popular fellows in the business.

John E. Oakerman, manager of the Tanaka Imperial Japanese Troupe, has signed this well-known troupe with the J. Frank Hatch Shows for the season. Their vaudeville engagement comes to a close April 20, in Cincinnati, and they leave the following day to join Mr. Hatch's organization.

Willmantle, Conn., will have two carnivals this spring. St. Mary's Parish will hold one, and the National Guardia will stand sponsor for the other. They have gone about the matter in a business like way and appointed committees to interest the populace in the enterprises.

Chas. Bress, general manager of the Ak-Sar-Ben Carnival, Omaha, Neb., is busily engaged in securing attractions for the fall carnival and expects to put on a better and larger list of attractions than ever before.

The Fremont's Spring Carnival at Montgomery, Ala., week of April 15 was pulled off with great success. The Parker Amusement Co., No. 1 put on the attractions.

Chas. "Slim" Wren, of carnival fame, has gone into the novelty business at San Antonio, Texas. He handles Mexican genre, precious stones and novelties.

Ed DeLong, formerly with Sig. Cannon, writes that he is now in the park business, having leased concessions at Riverside and Indianapolis, Ind.

A Big street fair will be held at W. Hamburg, Ky., the week commencing May 15 under the auspices of the Improved Order of Red Men.

Harry Vase, the popular magician and ventriloquist, joined the Danville & K. Treveland Show at Texarkana, Tex.

John H. Roberts has signed as general agent of the White City Shows.

The Nugent Brothers, Ed John J. Jim, have left Portsmouth, N. J., for the Dayton Exposition.

..FAIRS.. EXPOSITIONS

FAIR NOTES.

J. Walter Elliott, secretary of the Shelby County Club Fair Association, has hit upon a novel scheme to advertise one of the greatest county fairs in the State of Indiana, which will be held at Shelbyville the first week in September. He had a number of photographs taken of the grounds during the fair last year and from these photos has had postal souvenir cards made to send to prospective patrons.

The West Kentucky Fair Association, Inc., at Mayfield, Ky., is making big preparations for their big celebration, July 4-6. They have a fine regulation track, and Secretary W. L. Hale is turning every wheel to make this the biggest event of the fair season.

EXPOSITION NOTES.

Sam C. Heller will not put on a Fighting the Flames attraction at the Exposition. He has decided to abandon the project.

A large exposition will be held at San Luis Potosi, Mexico, in September.

SAN JOSE'S BIG ONE.

The American Rink at San Jose, Cal., will when completed be one of the largest rinks in the country. The front will be built brick and plaster, with the roof and two towers which will afford a style seldom seen in a resort of this kind. This will be lighted by an effulgence of electric light. The beginners rink, the gent's smoking room and the refreshment parlors will occupy the right of the building. On the left of the entrance is a private hall, 35x70 for private parties and clubs. The floor measurement of the rink proper is 90x200. This will be lighted by 37 large arcs. The balconies will seat 2,000 people, while the raised seats will accommodate 4,000 more. There is a skate equipment of 3,000 pairs. Proprietors Varney & Green have engaged V. A. Henscock to manage this mammoth resort when it is completed.

ROLLER RINK EQUIPMENT.

A pair of skates, a brush and a bottle of liniment.

RINK NOTES.

The Royal Rink at Ardmore, I. T., managed by J. T. Nichols, has proven a big success the past seasons. The rink is the largest and the best in that section of the country. Last week saw the return engagement of Prof. Albert Wells in his high class act. The Braves were among the recent big attractions.

LOUIS RUHE, 248 Grand St., NEW YORK.

The rink at Ashland, Ky., will close the middle of May and reopen about Oct. 1. Last week this resort featured the Taylor Twin Sisters and W. F. Sale. This week they have Mme. Summerville and her high-school horse, Columbus. Rube Shields, trick and comedy cyclist, follows.

H. V. Hyatt and W. P. Walters opened a new skating rink at Washington, Ind., April 22. They have purchased two hundred pairs of the latest make of steel, ball-bearing skates. The rink will be modern and up-to-date, and vaudeville acts will be introduced during the summer.

The new rink at Salem, Ill., opened April 9 auspiciously. Judd Green is manager.

INQUIRY COLUMN.

This department is devoted to the discussion of doubtful or obscure points of interest to The Billboard's readers. Other publications have carried "Question and Answer" departments, but The Billboard is the first, so far as we are aware, to open a column for general communication among its readers; for we will encourage the contribution of answers as well as questions. No inquiry will be answered by the editors themselves unless the desired information consists of statistics or data which are accessible to us alone or which we may naturally be expected to convey with a degree of accuracy and comprehensiveness incident to a close familiarity with the subject.

The questions will be printed first, and then when the answers come in the questions and answers will be printed together.

No advertisement will be admitted into this department, however cleverly they may be disguised.

MUSICAL COMEDY.

Maude Fulton, who is playing the leading soprano role in support of Eddie Foy in The Orphan, at the Herald Square Theatre, has made one of the distinct hits of the new musical comedy. Miss Fulton is not entirely unknown to New York theatergoers, having made her debut at the Madison Square Roof at the time of the Thaw tragedy in Mile, Champagne, when she was promoted from the chorus to a leading part.

Mafinger Burgess, of Omaha, Neb., has arranged with the Reggar Prince Opera Co. to occupy the Boyd Theatre for the summer season of ten weeks, commencing May 10. Ten performances a week will be given with a change of opera twice a week. Well known light operas will be offered.

Emmet Ramsey, of the DeWolf Hope Opera Co., was taken ill during the engagement at Portsmouth, N. H., and was sent to her home in Washington, D. C.

Homey Drake, representing E. D. Sawyer with The Rays in Town the Pike, was playing to enormous business in Chicago, favoring our offices in that city with a call on Saturday.

SAM DAVIS, proprietor of the Davis Theatre, is being led a merry war and claims all is due to the animosity of a local daily paper. After his trouble with the Irish Societies for allowing the character of Mrs. McCloskey to be continued in The Belle of Avenue A, comes the secretary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and causes his arrest on a warrant accusing him of violating ordinance No. 88, which regulates the construction of theatre buildings. The complaint alleges that neither the walls, ceiling or roof of the Davis Theatre are of fireproof material as required by the ordinance. Davis surrendered himself to the police and was released on a $2,000 bond. District Attorney Langdon says that the arrest of Davis is the beginning of a crusade against all theatres that do not comply with the fire ordinance.

The production of The Pit, at the New Alcazar, was a ten strike for Herbert Lytell, who appeared in the role of Curtis Jailwin. At the culmination of the scene in the wheat pit Lytell received fully seven curtain calls and was forced to make a speech in which he said he felt "almost like a native" and that he would go home the proudest man in Frisco. The management has mounted the cast and play as good as it was ever done anywhere, and the capacity of the theatre is tested nightly.

William Weston and Edmund Ackerman of the Empire forces, have left for New York where they will meet Tony Lubelski and others interested in the new vaudeville affiliation reported last week. It is rumored that Klaw & Erlanger are to become interested in this new combination.

The Sells-Floto Shows have posted the town very liberally, announcing a three-day stand to open April 20.

The Globe Theatre is putting on its finishing touches and the management hopes to open it May 1.

"Frisco" Johnny Williams, well and favorably known in the theatrical world, is now general manager of the Pavilion Rink, and under his guidance big things will be doing. The Pavilion at present is undergoing extensive alterations, and when completed will be second to none in the country.

The San Francisco Opera Co., now playing a season at the American Theatre, will move up to the Novelties in about four weeks, where they will present Robin Hood for two weeks, and its conditions are favorable, an extended engagement will be played.

Mario Lambardi, the Italian impresario, who recently gave an extended season of grand opera at the Central, has gone back to Italy for the purpose of organizing a new company. He will return to this city in October for a four weeks' engagement, probably at the Van Ness. The prospective tour will include San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles as well as the capitals of Guatemala, San Salvador, Costa Rica and Peru. M. Noerino will remain with Signor Lambardi as his American manager.

Nance O'Neill has been booked by H. W. Bishop for a six weeks' season at his Ye Liberty Theatre, Oakland, commencing about May 15. She will be supported by McKee Rankin and the Bishop Stock Co.

A Walter Furst has closed at the Park Theatre, Alameda, after one week as manager.

The second week of the Augustin Daly Musical Co. in The Cingalee at the Van Ness made a very favorable impression and business is improving right along at this house. Lillian Russell follows.

The Fallettes Woman's Orchestra, at the Orpheum is repeating the wonderful success they made on their last visit, and rounds of applause greet their every appearance. Louise Agost & Co. in a little skit called Mile, Foulard, and others made good.

The cozy Colonial continues holding its own in spite of the competition that has sprung up with the opening of several other houses lately. Stockwell continues another week.

Reports from MacDonough's Theatre, Oakland, say that the Colonial Stock Co. in San Jose did a big week. The company will make a tour of the Northwest.

They have capacity houses at the Central every Saturday and Sunday to see Walter Sanford's Players in melodrama, which is served as it should be.

The Chutes Theatre so far has fooled many in point of attendance, and Sunday saw the large theatre crowded. The show and company are A-1 and with a change of bill each week Messrs. Bishop and Greenbaum are most sanguine of financial success.

The Mission District with the Mission, Wigwam and Lyceum theatres, has no cause for complaint. These theatres are offering good attractions.

Association football on roller skates is the latest craze here, and a contest between the Idera Park team and the British Hardware team, at Idera Rink, was witnessed by a large and enthusiastic throng of spectators. Excitement ran high from the moment referee James Hillings pulled the ball.

The Nigrodeons are all faring well at present. RUBE COHEN.

ST. JOSEPH, MO.

The appearance of Isabel Irving, at the Tootle Theatre, April 19, in a benefit performance for the Elks proved not only one of the events of the season, but a big success from the financial end. Miss Irving is a St. Joseph favorite.

Geo. Ira Adams, proprietor of the Crystal Theatre, was in the city the past week attending to business matters. Mr. Adams had been seriously ill for several months, and his many friends will be pleased to know he is now on the road to a speedy recovery.

Frank DeAtley, former manager of the Lyric Theatre, will assume the responsibility as advance agent for the Wilson Musical Comedy Co. and he left for his new duties April 14. His many friends wish him the best of success.

Holly Temple and Albert E. Bellows are the latest additions to the Fulton Bros. Stock Co. at the Lyric Theatre. Both will assume leading roles, Mr. Bellows alternating with Jesse R. Fulton between the St. Joseph and Kansas City houses every other week.

The familiar face of Geo. Olendorf, manager of the Sedalia Theatre, Sedalia, Mo., was seen here the past week renewing acquaintances.

The Armin Stock Co. opens its return engagement at the Lyceum Theatre, April 21, where it will hold the boards indefinitely.

Krug Park will throw open its gates to the public May 20.

J. Stewart Frenger passed through this city en route East. While here he informed the reporter that he had a flattering offer to assume the management of a concert band at one of the summer resorts.

The management of the Lyric Theatre has made arrangements with the Shoberts to play a number of their attractions during the latter part of April and May. JESS WAGNER.

Dramatic

Recent engagements through Bennett's Dramatic Exchange, Chicago, include the following: Edmund Stanley, Frank Farrington, Richard F. Lindsay and Wm. A. La Velle, with the stock opera company, New Orleans; Lettie Allen Montague, with stock at Salt Lake City.

A MEXICAN PARK SCENE.

In front of Chas. A. Washburn's feature show at Luna Park, Mexico City, Mex.

Utah: Ada Zell in stock, St. Joseph, Mo.; Raymond Wells in stock, at Wichita, Kan.; James A. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Felch, with the Beggar Price Opera Co.; Blanche Aldrich, with Pusee & Manley; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lewis, with Younger Brothers' Bank Robbers Co.; Stella Wimmer and Harry Nelson in stock, at Lansing, Mich.; James L. McCabe and Marie Salisbury, with Barney Gilmore's Lanky Road to Lublin Co.; Mae Tobin, Ruth Lang, Alice Martin and Blanche Doyan, with The Gingerbread Man Co.; John R. Dvorak, with Marks Brothers; Evelyn Lynn, W. H. Reynolds, Lorraine Buchanan, Milton Bromley and Kate Tomcray, with Porter White's A Fool's Revenge Co.; Frank Yman, with the Woodward Stock Co.; Amy Demaria, with the D'Omond-Fisher Stock Co., and Navek Lane, with Miss Olga Netherlands Co.

James Stevin, special staff writer of the Edward R. Salter Amusement Co., is celebrating with Geo. G. Nichols on a new play, Mr. Nichols, formerly stage director and actor with the Release enterprises, had developed an original idea for a play which he had guarded jealously for years. In New York City, where, since the earthquake, he has made his headquarters, he was gratified to find his old friend Stevin, also from the Pacific coast. The idea was submitted, and was so well thought of by Mr. Stevin that he has already gotten to work on its development. The play is yet nameless, but from the fact that both the collaborators are Californians it's safe to say that it will be a western play. However, we'll all know before long, because Ed. R. Salter of the new amusement enterprise, has read the scenario to one of his managers and an early production is promised.

The Chappell-Winterhoff Co., which opens its season May 26 at Pittsburg, Pa., under the direction of Harry Chappell, will carry the following well-known players: Marion Hyde, now with Porter's White Frisco Horns; Marie Reed, of Rowland & Clifford's Idera Theatre; Esther Pogue, now with Savage's College Widow Co.; Mrs. R. Davis, now in repertoire; Carl Winterhoff, leading man with the Howard Stock Co.; Tommy Hoyer, comedian with the College Widow Co.; William Sanchez, of the C. forces, and Orrin Knox and Clyde Ross, of the Rowland & Clifford forces.

This company will appear in A Soldier of the Empire, His Resignation, Everybody's Friend, Snow Ball, Dad's Girl and The Montana Outlaw.

The Lewis Stock Co. closed a prosperous season of forty-seven weeks at Belvidere, Neb., March 30. W. F. Lewis, Iva Lewis and Chas. G. Johnson returned to Grafton, Neb., where Mr. Lewis opens his tenting season May 9. W. R. Darcy returned to his home in St. Louis, Mich. W. L. Matthews, Ellesen Matthews, Gus Rapier, Jessatee Rapier, Frank LeMoind and Estella Le Moind left for Kansas City, Mo. Gus Rapier and W. L. Matthews will next season launch a new attraction, Telegraph Station No. 21, for which Ackermann & Quigley are making a full line of special paper. The LeMoinds have been signed for this attraction.

Perce R. Benton's Comedians, playing in their magnificent pavilion theatre, will open their fifth season near Oklahoma City, May 20. Mr. Benton has ordered a new tent from Baker & Lockwood and his outfit will be first-class as usual. A band of twelve or fifteen pieces will be carried. Mr. Benton's A Cowboy Girl Co. is playing to splendid business on the coast. This company is now in its thirty-fourth week and will close its season May 15 in Northern Minnesota.

It has fallen to the good lot of Harry Shannon's The Banker's Child this season to open a number of new theatres, the latest being the new playhouse at Scott City, Kan., which was opened April 22. Manager Shannon has now joined his eastern company, leaving his offices at Ludington, Mich., where he spent the winter. He goes out with the Shannon Brothers' Big Tent Show, which opens May 15. He has placed the Shannon children in school.

The Hunter Bradford Players will open a ten weeks' season of summer stock at Parson's Theatre, Hartford, Conn., on May 10. This company, which last year included such well-known players as Clarence Handgelden, John Findley, Orme Caldara, Walter Hitchcock, John Westley, Julia Dean and Eva Vincent, has already played two very successful seasons in Hartford and the coming engagement will no doubt prove equally profitable.

From Here, There and Everywhere

A Talk With and Impressions of Texas Theatrical Law Maker—Notes and Comment.

By F. M. SHORTRIDGE.

THE writer was told by more than one of the best advance representatives that he would have an awful game to go against in the way of extras in the State of Texas. Now right here I want to set it down that Texas managers have treated me better and asked less than those of any state that it has been my privilege to make the past season. Buster Brown played the following towns in Texas: Beaumont, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Waco, Ft. Worth, Dallas and Texas, and in all spent (its share) $2.75 for extras. This was spent in Ft. Worth for the banners on the street cars. There was no fighting it down—they simply asked if we wanted to do any. The writer looked forward with pleasure to a return next season to all of the above named towns and to San Antonio especially for they don't make them any better than Sidney Weis, of that point. The three days that I spent in San Antonio were like an outing all due to the courtesies shown me by Mr. Weis. Mr. Weis will soon open one of the handsomest parks in the south. It is known as Electric Park and has everything right up to the minute.

Western Canada's Great Industrial Fair, which is held at Winnipeg, Manitoba, July 13-20, promises to be even better this year than ever before. This is the largest fair in Western Canada and its attendance has been rapidly increasing from year to year, the record day for the exhibition being Citizens' Day of 1906, when nearly 50,000 people passed through the turnstiles. The province of Manitoba is not very thickly settled as yet, and has no large towns in it, except Brandon and Portage la Prairie. The exhibits of stock and of manufactured products and the races, are the chief features of the exhibition, the live stock exhibit being possibly not exceeded at any of the large state fairs, whilst along the line of manufactured products outside of Toronto there is doubtless no fair in America that will offer anything like the inducements to manufacturers to exhibit that Winnipeg does.

The prices of concessions vary according to the article to be sold and generally run from $50 to $150.

If there is any one thing that Winnipeg leads in it is the vaudeville performances put on in front of the grand stand afternoons and evenings, and this has been the means of bringing to the exhibition for many years the maniacs of the large state fairs in the northwestern states for they see the actual workings of the very best line of attractions that money can obtain. The booking agents of New York and Chicago vie with one another to see which can furnish the best thing in their line.

There is possibly no time in the year when a visit to the Northwest will give a person a better opinion of the resources of this great country than at the time of the fair. The prairies are, as it were, one mass of yellow bloom and a person can view miles and miles of wheat just in that stage of ripening when it presents a most beautiful and fascinating appearance.

The writer had the pleasure some few days past, while making the town of Austin, Tex., the capital of that state, of a little chat with Senator Briggs, who recently passed that most extraordinary theatre law whereby a manager of a playhouse has to show his books to any and all who make application for a date at his house. In the few minutes that I chatted with the Senator at the door of the Senate Chamber, where I had called to talk with him, I gathered these few facts: The Senator is an author and he is ambitious to be a playwright. He is the avowed enemy of theatrical combinations and most especially Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger. The senator says that he will "slap" them every chance he gets. So much for the facts I gathered; now for my impressions. The Senator, I believe to be a very vain man, in fact, stuck on himself to a marked degree. Knowing that he could not get time for his book should be dramatic it from the fact that a futile effort had been made by one of the fair sex of that broad state, he decided to fix it so that he could get the desired time to star his talents, regardless of their merits, and so proceeded to pass the law which is now in good working order.

The writer read the new law carefully and asked various local managers their opinion of it, and my conclusion is this: The only good thing that can be said about it is it reads good; something like a mining prospectus where you can't lose. The law when studied carefully by anyone having an insight to the theatrical business in general looks like an old gambling game known as Base Ball Tivola. The Senator has slipped the slide the wrong way, and all the winning holes are closed, leaving all the little losing holes wide open. Now, when you throw your money down in front of the gentlemanly ticket dealer, nine chances out of ten you will get a rotten show, for the manager has to open his house to whoever makes application. The local manager no longer has the right to say that "my people" don't want that show, and I won't have the house for it if he does he is liable to a fine large enough to take a vacation on. The Senator, by the way, enjoys a pass to the theatre at Austin and doesn't fail to use it.

Maeter Rice, said to be "the prettiest little man alive," has joined the Western Buster Brown Co. to play the part of Buster. Maeter Rice appeared in the part of Hunter with the Western Buster Show last season and made quite a record for himself on the Pacific Coast.

Francis J. Gilmore's Players, which have been playing in stock at the Empire Theatre, Oklahoma City, all this season, open May 27 for a tour of the Crawford-Aldome Circuit. The roster is as follows: Francis J. Gilmore, L. A. Park, H. J. Kennedy, Geo. S. Robbins, Chas. Clarke, P. J. Butler, Olive F. LeMoine, Mona E. Anson, Arthur Davis, Clara Goodwin, Gertrude Oliver and T. A. McGhie, business manager.

The Milson Comedy Co. will open its summer season, May 6, under canvas with a brand new outfit. They have signed the Keyes Sisters, who will have a new line of specialties for this engagement. S. Burton Keyes will join his sisters in trio specialties. W. A. Yarnes will have entire charge of the stage, directing all pieces. A most promising and successful summer engagement is anticipated.

Clyde Franklin, known in private life as U. F. Spelker, had the misfortune to lose his mother, Mrs. Ellen Spelker, who died March 28 at the St. Mary's Hospital in Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Edwin K. Merville will hereafter be known by his own name of Earl K. Metcalfe. He is now with Wiedemann's Kit Carson Co. in Texas, playing heaves.

Wm. P. Collins' production of The James Boys last Hastings, Neb., because of the death of Proprietor Kerr, of the theatre.

PREMIERE AT BUTTE.

The Honor of A Cowboy, the western play by Charles Ulrich, the Chicago playwright, was produced with great success at the Grand Opera House, Butte, Mont., week of April 1. The scene of the play is laid in Montana and its faithfulness and atmosphere caught on nightly with capacity audiences. Manager Dick Sutton has arranged with Mr. Ulrich for a western tour with the play as his piece de resistance. Jessie Shirley, a Pacific coast actress, will produce the play at Spokane and Portland during the month and later tour the coast with it as her main vehicle.

COMPANY LOSES EFFECTS.

By the destruction by fire of the Moore Theatre at Nevada, Mo., April 9, the Shaw-Gallagher Co. sustained a loss that they say can not be replaced by $5,000, there being seven Taylor trunks of scenery, manuscripts and other effects incinerated. Fortunately for the members of the company the dressing rooms were in an annex and their personal trunks were saved. Because of the mishap the Shaw-Gallagher Co. was forced to cancel St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit.

Next season this firm of managers will star Miss Marie Young in The Mills of the Gods, on Stair & Havlin and Klaw & Erlanger time.

SUNDAY CLOSING IN WASHINGTON STATE.

LATE NEW YORK NEWS.

THE VAN DEN BERG OPERA CO.

Jose Van Den Berg announces the opening of the Van Den Berg Opera Co. at the West End Theatre, New York, for Monday, May 6. The principals engaged are Mills, Soddli, Eily Herato, Bertha Shick, Jeannette Douglas, Genevieve Mabley, Rosemarie Campbell, Anita Keys, May Calder, Lillian Schuster, Mr. Ray Youngman, Signor Alberti, Alexander Clark, Francis Moxley, Edward Zuro, Emil Knell, Harry Hamilton, Henry Vogel and Charles E. White.

ELSIE JANIS WINS.

Justice Blodgett has dissolved temporary injunction obtained by Sargent Alborn and Lohrer & Co., preventing Elsie Janis from appearing in vaudeville under the management of Percy Williams. The court held that the contract which the plaintiffs sought to enforce was unfair and not beneficial to the defendant, Miss Janis. It is expected that an appeal will be taken from this decision. In the meantime Miss Janis is appearing at the Percy Williams' houses having opened at the Colonial Monday, the 22d.

BROADWAY TABLOIDS.

They's Theatre passes into the hands of the Sherts on May 1st.
Miss Aila Nazimova will present a new Russian play, Little Eyolf, next season.
A second Marsdengram from the S. S. Minneapolis, dated April 17, confirms the death of Percy Janis, who disappeared from the liner in mid-ocean. It is believed that he fell overboard accidentally.
Robert Mantell will present several of Shakespeare's plays at the New Amsterdian Theatre, opening April 29th. He will first appear as Brutus in Julius Caesar.
Bevelly Sigheavaen sailed for Europe April 27th.
The band of Nod was resumed at the New York Theatre, Wednesday, April 17th. Its run has been interrupted by fire on the roof of the New York Theatre.
Frank Connor, who was engaged to take the role in Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch made vacant by the death of Percy Janis, sailed on The Majestic, April 17th, for London.
Hilda Spang has sued Manager W. N. Law for $1,000 which she alleges was due her for salary.
The Frags will entertain Victor Herbert and his chorists at their next dinner, May 3d, at the Regatta Henry Arts.
The Ambitious Mrs. About closed at the Astor Theatre April 26th, and it will be followed at the Astor Theatre by a revival of Hitchcock's Before and After, which will open April 25.
Melvina H. Raymond appeared on Broadway last week.
Blanche Sloan, a sister of Ted Sloan, the jockey, will appear in vaudeville under the management of Philip Minelli and Arthur Levy. The act will be booked by Max Myers. Miss Sloan is known as the "Queen of the Air."

Gora Borch Turner & Co. appeared at Kewey's Theatre, Brooklyn, recently in a sketch entitled A Bluffer Bluffed.

Among the Billboard callers at the New York offices last week were Messrs. Blake & Willard, Port Bayard, A. H. Westfall, and M. DeKreko.
Alice Lloyd and Vesta Victoria firm friends at home, and who became estranged through rivalry during their New York engagement, have again become united, meeting at a luncheon on April 17, at the Hotel Knickerbocker in company with Mrs. Jack Gardner, Mrs. Kid McCoy, and others.
Ned Weyburn has engaged James Whittondale as manager of his booking department. Mr. Whittondale was formerly connected with the booking department of Klaw & Erlanger.

As one of the many features for the vaudeville show of the Actors' Fund Fair, Harry Houdini, the Handcuff King, will escape from a double riveted boiler. This looks like a lead-pipe clinch.
W. H. Conway will have charge of the country circus in connection with the New York Hippodrome Carnival Co.

Halle Julian, of the equestrian team of Leggett and Julian, was unable to appear during the last week of the Barnum & Bailey Circus engagement, on account of a severe attack of quinsy.

Albert Sutherland is about to send out a company composed of sensational outdoor features, acrobatic and animal acts, together with a few vaudeville numbers, which will play a number of the fairs when the jumps are short enough to permit of making the next town in time for the show. This company was decided upon at a meeting of the fair managers in the thought by this arrangement that a better list of attractions can be given to the fairs with a limited amount of money to spend.

PRUDENTIAL VAUDEVILLE EXCHANGE.

The Prudential Vaudeville Exchange, 536 Knickerbocker Theatre Building, New York City, is a very busy place these days, with their two hundred or more attractions that they are booking in summer parks and at fairs. There is no gainsaying the fact that the Prudential Vaudeville Exchange has one of the largest exclusive lists of attractions ever under one management. And furthermore, it is generally conceded that in their exclusive list they have one or more of the very best acts in every particular line that has ever been heard of in this country. Throughout the United States and in Mexico, Cuba and Canada, there is a great demand for their attractions. In short it would appear that the Prudential Vaudeville Exchange is filling a long felt want. Among the list of attractions that they submit are: The Fays, Theamaturists; The Marvelous Okabe Troupe—8 people; Wm. Matty's $25,000 Challenge Airship; Ralph Johnstone, Mme. Etchell's High School Equine, with V. Della's Boxing Horses; The Great Henri French and his own company; The Brothers Griff, Comedian's Famous Band's Grand War Spectacle—The Battles of our Nation; Welsh's One-Ring Circus, complete, with or without band, caucos, etc.; Colonel Gaston Borslevy & Co.; Adgie and Her Lions, Delmore & Lee; Herzog's Six Trained Stallions, Leon Morris' Trained Animals, Ponies, Baboon, Bear, Clown, etc.; Robert and Louise Cottrell, Magie Fiddling & Co., The Man Upstairs; Harry Six, high diver; E. E. Klee's Girl From Paris; Eph. Thompson's $150,000 herd of elephants; The Sisters Powell, Edward Waldman's Dramatic Co., W. S. Cleveland's Big Magnificent Minstrels, Restoff and his famous band; Clark's Comedy Dog and Pony Circus; Loyal, The Human Cannon Ball; Ferriss, Musical Clown with the Musical Dog; Mlle. Marguerite, Trotting Horse Act, clowning by pony; Venus, The Woman-Fish, performs in glass tank filled with water; The Belle of Silverton, Western Comedy Drama; Zulla and Lulu, Tight-wire Act, from Crystal Palace, London; Nya, The Man Bird; Hazardous Catapult Act; Wilson and Winter, The Witch of Salem, comic opera; Four Melvlu Brothers, sensational hand acrobats; Talera, Hilyek's Trained Seals and Sea Lions, Cabans' French Circus, and 175 others, therefore it would appear that the success that they are meeting with is well merited.

and Her Lions, Delmore & Lee; Herzog's Six Trained Stallions, Leon Morris' Trained Animals, Ponies, Baboon, Bear, Clown, etc.; Robert and Louise Cottrell, Magie Fiddling & Co., The Man Upstairs; Harry Six, high diver; E. E. Klee's Girl From Paris; Eph. Thompson's $150,000 herd of elephants; The Sisters Powell, Edward Waldman's Dramatic Co., W. S. Cleveland's Big Magnificent Minstrels, Restoff and his famous band; Clark's Comedy Dog and Pony Circus; Loyal, The Human Cannon Ball; Ferriss, Musical Clown with the Musical Dog; Mlle. Marguerite, Trotting Horse Act, clowning by pony; Venus, The Woman-Fish, performs in glass tank filled with water; The Belle of Silverton, Western Comedy Drama; Zulla and Lulu, Tight-wire Act, from Crystal Palace, London; Nya, The Man Bird; Hazardous Catapult Act; Wilson and Winter, The Witch of Salem, comic opera; Four Melvlu Brothers, sensational hand acrobats; Talera, Hilyek's Trained Seals and Sea Lions, Cabans' French Circus, and 175 others, therefore it would appear that the success that they are meeting with is well merited.

NOTED ITALIAN ORCHESTRA.

The Verdi Italian Symphony Orchestra, composed of the best Italian artists in the city of Philadelphia, with its leader, Maestro Ettore Martini, is open for engagements, season or part.
The orchestra in question, bears the highest of reputation in Philadelphia. The leader, Maestro Ettore Martini, has a world-wide reputation, having directed some of the largest and best orchestras abroad. Camiso, Rassi, Sammarco and other celebrated singers, sang under his direction. For booking, and particulars, communicate with Peter Jacovili, manager of the Italian-American Musical Bureau, second floor, 921-926 south Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

T. M. A. NOTES.

Fifteen new members were initiated into the Deener Lodge No. 22, April 12; among them were the members of the Rialto Comedy Four, Harry Linton, of Linton and Lawrence, and Harry Pronties, of the Prontie Trio.
The T. M. A. benefit at the Olympic Theatre, St. Louis, Mo., April 7 was a grand success and the boys realized handsomely. The funds will be used in holding the National Convention in that city in July.
Billy Sullivan, late of the Vogel Minstrels, joined the St. Paul, Minn., Lodge No. 6, April 11. He is now permanently located at the Windsor Theatre in St. Paul.

WILL PUT ON SUMMER STOCK.

Alex. Pantages, who owns quite a number of vaudeville houses in the west, also the Lois Theatre, Seattle, Wash., will put summer stock in his new theatres at Vancouver, B. C.; Spokane, Wash., and Portland, Ore. Ralph E. Cummings will come east shortly to select a cast for each playhouse.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. Leslie Carter is drawing the public to the Tulane, where she is playing in Bullary. It is rumored that Klaw & Erlanger are negotiating with Henry Greenwald for the purchase of the new Baldwin and the Greenwald Theatres, and it is likely that a deal of some kind will be made. It is Klaw & Erlanger's intention to play vaudeville in one of the houses.
Class E. (Parson) Davies has been appointed manager for the new Shubert Theatre here.
The Baldwin Melville Stock Co. has closed a most successful season at the new Baldwin Theatre. They left April 15 for Dallas, Texas, where they will play a summer season at the Cliff Lake Park Casino.
The benefits tendered by Manager Baldwin to Blanche Seymour, Percy Meldre and Mores Marks of the new Baldwin Theatre netted quite a handsome sum.
The Audubon Skating Rink has engaged Capt. Beach, the Water King, or Man Fish, as he is commonly called, for a week's engagement. Other strong attractions are presented and business is reported big.

The City Park will give its annual Festival April 28, and it promises to eclipse all former festivals.
The Audubon Park Concerts by Braun's Military Band, are growing in popular favor and the attendance is very large.

The White City will open April 27. The attraction in the Casino will be the Lottie Kendall Opera Co. They will present Kissed for the opening attraction. Among those connected with the company are Lottie Kendall, leading soprano; Carl Hayden, tenor; Robert P. Kim, Louis Christ, Joseph Carey, Sylvester Corbush, character woman; Edna Roberts, mezzo soprano; Rosalie Sheldon, lyric soprano, and Percy Matson, second tenor. The chorus and other leads will arrive in the city April 15 from New York. The park is near completion and looks like a fairland. Quite a number of big concessions have been let, among them being the Toboggan Slide, Merry-go-round, Katzenjumper Castle, Bump-the-Bumps, Electric Theatre, Ice Ball, Japanese Ball Game, and many others to mention. Also Manager Charles Matthews has many new features which he will inaugurate upon the opening of the park.

The Grand Grove of Louisiana of the United Ancient Order of Druids will give a Big May Festival May 19 at the City Park Race Track.
The Woodmen of the World will give a big Festival June 2. It is probable that it will be given at one of the large race tracks.

The Coliseum Skating Rink presented some fine vaudeville attractions and big business is reported.

WM. A. KOEPLER

Fischer's World's Fair Orchestra has scored a phenomenal success this past winter beginning in November at the Bijou Theatre, Kalamazoo, Mich., where it has given concerts each Sunday evening, spending the week days in touring Michigan. The well-known organization is under the personal direction of Charles L. Fischer and in his home and surrounding states it has come to be known as a paragon of society events.

Saturday, April 27, 1907.

The rate for advertising in The Billboard will be advanced to 20 cents a line, beginning with the issue dated May 4, 1907.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The Billboard's advertising patrons will greatly oblige by sending in the copy for their advertisements as early as convenient instead of waiting till the last moment. All ads received early in the week will be given preference in position and display.

By the time this issue of The Billboard is in the hands of many of its readers, the Jamestown Exposition shall have thrown open its gates to visitors. It is the big event of the summer season of 1907. Its principal attraction will consist of the naval display which has not been possible at any other of our national or international expositions, because they have been given in the interior. This feature alone ought to insure a tremendous attendance.

It would seem that all the preliminary work has been well done. The advertising has been very extensive, and it is not to be doubted that everyone who might desire to go knows of the exposition and the details attending it. The railroads have not only granted large and material reductions in rates, but they have also entered into the advertising with unanimity and zeal.

The grounds at Hampton Roads are ready, or nearer so, than those of any other of our fairs of recent years. That is a very material point for consideration. Visitors during the early days of the fair will not, upon returning home, advise their friends to wait several months until the grounds, buildings and exhibits are in proper shape. They have done this at other fairs, but Jamestown is to be an exception because all these details are in readiness for the crowds that are expected to visit the scene.

The location at Hampton Roads is a happy one. It is accessible by railroads or steamboats. Before the visitor is the incentive of travel partly by railroad and partly by water. He can go through New York by railroad, then take one of the excellent lines of steamers that has been organized for the exposition; or returning home, he can leave Hampton Roads by steamer and journey the rest of the way by train. The concessionaires on the War Path have excellent prospects. April 26, 1907, ought to mark the beginning of an epoch in the annals of the amusements in America.

The tent show season under canvas may be said to open with the current week. The Barnum & Bailey Show has left Madison Square Garden and is now en route. The Forepaugh-Sells and Circus Pawnee Bill Shows opened last week, the former at Columbus, O., on the 20th, and the latter at Nashville, Tenn., on the 17th. The John Robinson Show opens at Cincinnati the 23rd under canvas. Ringling Bros.' Show leaves the Coliseum in Chicago and opens under canvas at Kankakee, Ill., the 26th. The Hagenbeck-Wallace Show opens at Peru, Ind., the 27th. With the Sells-Floto Shows and Norris and Rowe touring the west, all the big shows, with the single exception of the Buffalo Bill Wild West, will be under canvas by the 27th of this month. The prospects for the circus season are excellent. From the weather standpoint the season is a little late, but it will no doubt fall in place in a few days.

The theatre has been legally made a private enterprise in Rhode Island by a recent ruling of the Supreme Court of that state. Chief Yeoman Fred J. J. Buenzle, who was barred from a concert hall in Newport, because, as he claims, he was wearing the uniform of the United States Navy, can recover at law only the price of his admission ticket.

The decision says the legal rights of a man wearing the United States uniform are not different from those of any well-behaved person who possesses a ticket of admission to any place of amusement.

Judge Sweetland ruled that Buenzle, excluded because he was wearing a naval uniform, is in no different position legally from one who is excluded because he is not in evening dress, or for any other reason. The judge said the proprietors of a place of amusement are not under any obligations to admit any person whom they may choose to exclude. President Roosevelt sent a check to help defray the expenses of prosecuting the case.

A Bogus Subscription Agent.

AN OFFICIOUS PERSON STYLING HIMSELF "F. J. JOHNSTONE, traveling editor of The Billboard," has been soliciting subscriptions in and around Pittsburg, Pa. This man is a base imposter, a willful deceiver and a graceful cheat; his title is fictitious and unauthorized, and he is entitled to no consideration whatever.

The Billboard has no person in its employ by the name of F. J. Johnstone, and its circulation department was not aware that it was receiving the generous support of this "traveling editor" Johnstone, who is described as about 5.10 feet in height, slender, weighing about 140 pounds and having small, red and affected eyes.

To put an end to the malicious and felonious practices of this man Johnstone, The Billboard, in another column of this issue, offers a reward for his apprehension and conviction.

FAVORS MANAGERIAL UNITY.

Edwin C. White, secretary of the Managers' Association of America, with offices in the Sheridan Building, 1358 Broadway, New York City, is sending out the following circular letter to managers of traveling attractions throughout the country. This Association has the following officials: Gus Hill, president; Chas. H. Yale, vice-president; Sidney R. Ellis, treasurer; Ed. C. White, secretary; Hollis E.

Cooley, Chas. F. Whittaker, Aubrey Mitchell, Jules Hirtig and Sam Harris, board of directors.

THE MANAGERS' ASSN. OF AMERICA.

It has appeared to me for some time that the managers of the "Traveling Attractions" should unite in some form of organization. In the first place, organization is in keeping with the spirit of the times. Every kind of industry is organized in some form. The day of the individual is over and in the present condition of the theatrical business, each one of us must realize that as long as the traveling manager stands alone making his individual fight against all of the various evils and hardships of the business which beset it, particularly in view of the fact that those with whom we deal are well organized, the longer the contest the surer the end must be in the destruction of the individual showman.

I think it advisable that some form of exchange or club, or any other form of association should be entered into, because if we are organized into a club or association acting as a body, we can obtain many more advantages for every member of the association. We can provide some sort of exchange where the managers can compare notes and so obtain accurate information about the condition of the business in which all of us have our capital invested. Instead of the present condition where each one of us are liable to be misled and are misled by false representations. Such a club or exchange could be effective in compelling fair conduct and justice between the parties interested.

It is time that a calling such as ours in which so many reputable men are engaged, and in which so much capital is invested, who contributes so much to the happiness and comfort and pleasure of the community should be treated fairly and justly.

I advocate the formation of some sort of association in order that the standard of this business be raised; that the financial undertakings of the managers should be protected; that we may treat with each other in candor and in fairness; that we may act as a whole and not as a disconnected body of units, who can be easily played one against the other; that the general welfare of all the people in this business shall have a fair chance to earn a decent livelihood and acquire a competence in an honorable manner and that we should take the place in the community which our efforts and energy deserve.

BENEFITS OF THE MANAGERS' ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA.

1. Mutual protection for all members.
2. Railroad committee to treat with railroads.
3. Raising of funds to secure legal advice regarding breaking of contracts of all kinds and hundreds of other evils.
4. Having a clearing house for protection of members.
5. Helping brother managers in sickness, distress, and in case of fire, railroad accidents, etc., loaning scenery, costumes, etc., to brother members in the hour of need.
6. Preventing members from taking people from one another who are under contract. To prevent one another from stealing ideas from plays, etc.
7. Raising of funds for sickness of members of any company controlled by a member of the association, such as securing medical aid, hospital funds, etc.
8. Protecting managers and playwrights throughout the country from "Play Pirates."
9. Securing an arbitration committee in case of any dispute. Arbitration to take place in New York City by three disinterested parties.
10. Protecting theatrical agencies in their commissions.
11. Securing a committee of high standard representing the theatrical profession to present a bill before Congress refraining the newspapers from slurring the theatrical profession regarding murder cases with scare lines calling the chorus girls, actresses, etc., and placing the profession on a high standard. The association believes in the newspapers "calling a spade a spade."
12. The association to look to the welfare of everyone making a livelihood in the profession from the humblest member to the highest.
13. All complaints to be received at the headquarters of the association of all members which will receive prompt attention by the Arbitration Committee of the Traveling Managers' Association.
14. Uniform contracts that are equitable for actors, printers, scene painters, costumers, etc.; in fact everything to protect the members of the association.
15. Securing legal talent to fight attachments, and securing bondsmen in every section of the country for the protection of its members.

NANCE O'NEIL IN CLEO.

Cleo has been produced at last. The premiere was given Thursday evening, April 18, at the Savoy Theatre, Atlantic City, with Nance O'Neil in the role of Cleo Faure. Cleo is from the pen of Edward Milton Royle, who confesses that it was suggested by Adolph Belot's L'Article 47; it is emotional and in four acts. The play was produced under the direction of Charles Dillingham, and under the stage direction of Fred G. Latham.

The cast was as follows:
General Boulligny McKee Rankin
Mme. Boulligny Lella Repton
Cecile Boulligny Ann Archer
Quatre Haas Nell Moran
Francols de Vernet W. L. Abington
Mme. de Vernet Ida Waterman
Cleo Faure Nance O'Neil
Philippe Seguin William Courtleigh
Rea Helen Graham
Mme. Picard Lizzie Hudson Collier
M. Gournee William J. Ferguson
Blion Frank Bokum
Vulpe William Hazeltine
Col. Alexander Shaw Claude Gillingwater
Eunice Shaw Mabel Morrison
Jean E. J. De Varney
Loula Valentine Vance

A large and fashionable audience greeted the opening performance, and Miss O'Neil scored a great personal triumph. She appeared to great advantage in the somewhat heavy role. Mr. Dillingham was present and he went on record as saying that Cleo is the hit of the season. The play is elaborately costumed and appropriately staged. Miss O'Neil is ably supported.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL.

Bony, meeny, miny, munt!
Broadway Johnnie on a strut.
All togged out in nifty duds,
Picking off the ballet buds.

Tips to Trixie, winks at Mae,
Chats with chicks from mantines,
Meets a new one—Pin Fly,
Vows to win her or to die.

Show girl she—perfect peach;
Yet her heart is hard to reach.
Johnnie woo her but despairs
Nix for him but frappe starea.

Notes and jewels she returns,
All his passion calmly spurns.
Will not wine or dine with him,
Brain tornadoes make him thin.

Jilted Johnnie vows to know
How she dare insult him so.
Fears one final, burning plea—
"For me its you—or twenty-three!"

How his hopes go soaring high
To read his Fifi's coy reply:
"I'm home at twelve, you know the street,
Come by cab, and be discreet."

On the job at midnight chimes,
Up four flights of stairs he climbs.
At her door confronts a man—
Biff! Smash! Whack and bang!

Johnnie, heaped at foot of stairs,
Hears angel's voice and faintly swears.
"Kill him bunny? Hope you did!
Wonder if you woke the kid."

PRaises AKOUN HIGHLY.

Dolly K. Yancey, press agent for the Gaston Akoun attractions and secretary of the Newboys' Association at the Jamestown Exposition, was stricken with appendicitis last week and was forced to leave her home in Charleston, S. C., where she could receive the best of medical care. Fortunately an operation will not be necessary and Mrs. Yancey hopes to get back to the War Path this week. Gaston Akoun sent her home in a palace car, accompanied by a trained nurse and in every manner paid to her convenience.

NYE ALLEGES LIBEL.

Harry Nye, the well-known agent of theatrical attractions, writes that he has brought suit for libel at Marietta, O., against the "Marietta Register" and claims damage to the extent of $25,000 because of an alleged defamatory article published in the "Register." Mr. Nye has secured expert legal advice and says that he will push the suit vigorously.

ELSIE MAY DO TWO-A-DAY.

Elsie Janja is now at Liberty to appear in vaudeville under the direction of Percy G. Will Hams. Messrs. Tyler & Aborn, who have Miss Janja under contract for the legitimate field, sought by injunction to prohibit her vaudeville engagement, but the court did not interpret the contract that way.

MRS. HAMLIN TO BE MARRIED.

The engagement is announced of Mrs. Fred Hamlin, widow of the late Fred Hamlin, of the erstwhile producing firm of Hamlin, Mitchell & Fields, and H. B. Warner, son of Charles Warner, the well-known English actor, and who is at present appearing in support of Eleanor Robson. It is reported that the marriage will take place within four weeks and that the happy couple will spend the summer at Mr. Warner's home at Maidenhead-on-the-Thames.

MARRIAGES.

CURRAN-DEGREY.—The two performers known as Curran and Degrey, appearing in vaudeville in a comedy sketch, were married April 8 at the Immanuel Baptist Church, Chicago, Ill.

WOODWARD-PAGUE.—Frank L. Woodward, business manager of the Willis Wood Theatre, Kansas City, Mo., and Miss Beattie Pague, a beautiful society belle of that city, April 10 at the bride's home.

DEATHS.

EDWIN C. JEPSON, business manager of the Henrietta Crossman Company, and brother of the well-known actor, Eugene Jepson, died in New York City, April 16, of Bright's disease. The body was taken to the deceased's home, Hartford, Conn., for interment.

WILLIAM KERR, proprietor of the Kerr Opera House at Hastings, Neb., died April 9, at his residence after four months of illness. Mr. Kerr was 71 years of age and was well known among the profession. Those intimate with him called him "Billy." He leaves a wife and son, who will manage the theatre in the future.

WILLIAM J. MAXWELL, well known carnival agent, having represented most of the large amusement organizations at various times during the past twenty years, died at the Elks' Private room in the hospital, Altoona, Pa., last week. Mr. Maxwell was born in Danville, Pa., fifty-seven years ago. His wife died twelve years ago, and he is survived by one daughter who is married and resides in San Antonio, Tex., and two brothers in the west. The Elks took the body to Danville for interment.

BURIED IN THE WEST.

It was erroneously stated in last week's Billboard that the remains of Lottie Jewell, the equestrienne, were shipped to New York City for burial. Interment was made in Kirkwood, Mo., where she died.

The Walton Brothers closed a two year and seven months' engagement with the Canada Frank Show, April 6. The Walton Brothers and Hobart open a wagon show at Truer, Kan., May 25.

IMPROVING WONDERLAND PARK.

Wonderland Park, Milwaukee, will undergo a great many changes before the opening date, Saturday, May 18. In addition to eliminating all the amusements that were in vogue during the past two seasons and supplanting them with new features, Manager Richard Kann has contracted for the installation of the Zig-Zag Railway, a new and speedy riding device, the first to be erected in this country. It will occupy a space 75x150 feet, alongside the scenic railway and is now being constructed.

Mr. Kann has extended the boundaries of the park to the Milwaukee River, across the Chicago and Northwestern tracks, under which the railroad company has constructed a subway, so that patrons of the park will not have to cross its tracks. The addition consists of about six acres of beautifully wooded river frontage, and there is being erected a large pavilion. This section of the park will be known as Wonderland-on-the-River.

The trained wild animal show, after the style of those at White City (Chicago), and Coney Island, will be the largest of the new features. Mr. Kann has given its promoter the best location on the grounds and an arena to seat 400 people is being erected with a manager's annex. The arena will look all the big animal shows, dog and pony acts, and similar attractions, using as many as four acts each week. Bart J. Ruddle, of the Shubert Theatre, has charge of the show.

The Human Laundry, the Buzz, the Camera Theatre, the Third Picture and a big Ferris Wheel are also under way. When all are completed, Wonderland will have twenty attractions.

TOMASSO INCORPORATES COMPANY.

The Hub Amusement Co., of which Geo. W. Tomasso is president and manager, will supply the attractions for old home weeks and operate concessions at a number of amusement parks this summer. Their scenic productions are under the superintendency of Charles E. Peirford, who has recently completed a panorama, Paul Rover's Ride, for the Jamestown Exposition. U. L. Maitland is treasurer. The company was recently incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts, and has headquarters in Boston.

PARK NOTES.

Audley Ingersoll, member of an eastern amusement company, has closed a contract with D. L. Huntington, general manager of the Washington Water Power Co., to take over the amusement privileges and concessions at Sataloam Park, an attractive summer resort in the western part of Spokane, Wash. Hale's Tours of the World, owned by "Dutch Jake" Goetz, under a three-year lease, one year of which has expired, and the baseball park, which the power company holds and has donated to the city league for the season, are not included in the agreement. Mr. Ingersoll will add a circular subway, shoot the chutes and other features. Mr. Huntington stated that his company made this arrangement so that the amusement features could be more fully emphasized than the company itself cared to venture into at the present time.

Melville Park at Bayonne, N. J., will formally open May 25 for the summer. This was formerly known as Arlington Park. Frank Melville has expended many thousands of dollars in bringing it to the requirements of the summer garden patrons. It is well supplied with attractions.

Roy O. Myers, musical director of the Murray Mackey western company, will direct the orchestra at Olympic Park, Chattanooga, Tenn., this summer.

Forest Park Highlands was the first of the St. Louis, Mo., summer gardens to open Sunday, April 21, was the opening day.

A carnival will be held at Lemp's Park, St. Louis, Mo., the week of May 11. John Wallrapp is manager.

FAIR NOTES.

The offices of the Ted. Sparks Amusement Contracting Co., at Chicago and Kansas City are the scene of much bustle and haste and that this enterprising firm will occupy a most prominent position in the amusement contracting field the coming summer there is no doubt. This is the seventh year for Mr. Sparks' office and the prospects for the coming summer are, Mr. Sparks says, the brightest he has ever seen. The Ted. Sparks Independent Carnival Co., composed of seven shows and two high-class free acts, is nearly booked solid from June 10 to the second week in October.

Cora Beckwith, champion lady swimmer, will again take the road this summer, playing county and state fairs. Jake Rosenthal, her manager, says an entire new outfit is being made at the lady's home, Dubuque, Iowa. The new top will seat 750 people comfortably, and the new tank will hold over 40,000 gallons of water.

STREET FAIR NOTES

Prof. Cornelius Shandeaux, European palmist, astrologer and mind reader, has closed a season of six months at Linn's Museum, Buffalo, N. Y., and is making preparations to put on a Hindoo Temple of Mystery with a well-known carnival company this summer.

The Spring Festival at Selma, Ala., week of April 8, was a big event, and a prosperous one for the Parker Amusement Co.

DAVIDSON WINS AT CHATTANOOGA.

In the fast time of 1907, Harley Davidson won the five-mile handicap at the Hippodrome Park, Chattanooga, Tenn., Saturday evening April 13. The house was packed. Enthusiasm was to the boiling point. The victor was cheered to the echo. The other contestants were Jack Fitch, Leo Jones, Joe Munch and Ollie Moore.

COYLE CLAIMS THE HONOR.

Appropos the discussion re. the original press agent, the following is timely. It appeared in the Kansas City Times ten years ago under the caption,

THE FIRST PRESS AGENT.

Hugh Coyle says he is the original press agent. That title was conferred upon him by P. T. Barnum. Once, when the greatest show was in Washington, its success alarmed its rivals.

"The big circus men were John Robinson, Jerry Maybe and James F. Nixon," says Mr. Coyle, in a talk with a reporter of the Times. "Nixon came to Washington, and after looking the field over, announced that he would put in a circus that was a circus, and one that would knock us out of business right away. Accordingly he secured a permit to use one of the streets, put up a big tent made of red, white and blue canvas, with wooden side walls and a heating apparatus. Everything was swell and he had a good show, too, away ahead of ours. But somehow the people didn't take to the new show. They preferred the old, weather-beaten tent with the board seats."

"Nixon grew desperate, and addressed a long communication to one of the Washington papers, in which he vigorously attacked Barnum. He called him 'fakir' and revamped the old charge that he had swindled the people of the New England States with wooden nutmegs and fake clocks. He said it was a disgrace for people like him to break into a reputable business, and so on. Barnum was in New York, and as I was one of the advertisers of the show, I proceeded to write a reply as long and as cutting as Nixon's. I took it around to the papers and told them Barnum had sent it. The papers printed it under scare headlines. The scrap between Barnum and Nixon was big news, and they played it for all it was worth. Nixon came back at Barnum and I went back at Nixon. Every day for ten days there was a long communication from one or the other in the papers, and all the time the attendance at our show taxed the capacity of the tent, while Nixon was playing to empty benches."

"One day I received word that Barnum was in town, and wanted to see me at his hotel. I expected a scolding, for I had not said anything to him about signing his name to communications to the papers. I went up to the hotel, and there was Barnum with all the papers containing the communication spread out on the bed before him."

"'Coyle,' he demanded, as I entered, 'did you write these articles which have my name signed to them?'"

"'Yes, sir,' I replied."

"'Does anybody know that I did not write them?' Barnum asked."

"'No, sir,' I replied. 'I have told everybody that you wrote them.'"

"'Well,' he remarked, smiling slightly, 'it is all right so long as nobody knows who wrote them. These articles are very good. If you had known what you were writing about they might not have been so good.'"

"The upshot of the affair was that Barnum gave me ten $10 bills and increased my salary from $15 to $30 a week, and conferred upon me the title of press agent, which he coined for the purpose, and which had never been used before."

THE FIRST PRESS AGENT.

There is no one in the circus world today with more information about the people, incidents and happenings of that dazzling realm than George S. Cole, the Napoleon of advertising ideas, who is a representative of the John Robinson Ten Big Shows. And Mr. Cole's information is usually correct. Growing reminiscent, while in Cincinnati this week he said: "The first legitimate circus press agent was Dr. Richard P. Jones, a very scholarly gentleman. Dan Rice found him and introduced him to the world. Other old-time press agents were: George Gilford, Dave Thomas, Chas. H. Day, W. C. Crum, D. W. Hughes, Chester G. Moore, W. W. Durant, Fred Hunt, Fred Lawrence, John Woods, M. J. O'Neil and Chas. Stowe."

"Dr. Jones was located by Dan Rice in Philadelphia, in the employ of a theatre manager named Quinlan, who was illiterate, but very witty. Jones used to tell these stories on Quinlan. A company played his house to bad business. The manager of the company bade Quinlan good-by, remarking: 'I hope to play you again under more favorable auspices.' Quinlan replied: 'D—n if I want any more horse pieces put on my stage. I had three of those pieces last week.' The French Spoliation Act was about to pass the Assembly. Quinlan blurted out: 'I wish it would pass. I had the Marinetti Family here, and they spoiled nearly everything in the house.' The manager of Twelfth Night wrote for time. Quinlan answered: 'No twelve nights in my theatre. Three's enough.'"

PROMOTERS OF PUBLICITY.

Doc Waddell says: "The first press agent was Adam, if the story of creation is literally correct. He had a woman made from a rib and had a show for the earth. Moses was there with stories as were all the old patriarchs. The present-day press agents owe their foundation to the press work of Uncle John Robinson, Dan Rice and P. T. Barnum. This trio sure had the press at their backs. Bullets they molded are still being shot. The best press agents of the present are 'Teddy' Roosevelt, George Ade, Tom Lawson, and Ben Tillman."

DOC WADDELL.

MADE CINCINNATI FAMOUS.

Cincinnati is titled "Queen City of the West." This laurel of supremacy was bestowed by a showman, Dan Rice in his day and time, embodied it in his songs and jokes. Uncle John Robinson, who founded the John Robinson Ten Big Shows, never faltered in giving impetus and strength to the poetic name or phrase. Showmen have certainly done their share in building Cincinnati and sounding her praises. The unquestioned leader of this great class of people was Uncle John Robinson. Eighty-five years ago he made it the winter quarters of his circus and from that day to this Robinson's Circus has wintered here. Uncle John Robinson was behind and at the laying of the corner-stones of not a few of the city's largest business enterprises. Cincinnati, in several respects, is a monument to the "Grand Old Man of Circusdom." At his death he passed the circus and his business interests to his son, John, professionally as Governor John F. Robinson, and familiarly as "Jack" Robinson. The Governor at the age of sixty-four is as lively as a cricket and his splendid ideas and sound advice are evident in the circus and the business world. He is one of the oldest circuses in point of service in the world and by odds the wealthiest. To him belongs the jeweled title: "Dean of the Circus Realm." Associated with him is his son, John G. Robinson, who is general manager of the "Ten Big," as their circus property is styled. Never in the history of the show world has one so young displayed such remarkable ability in the management of a big show. John G. Robinson, mark you, is only past thirty.

The Robinsons have kept in view two essentials, requisitely—the perpetuation of the circus business and pleasing the people. Their idea of this, however, keeps them out of the so-called circus trust, but they claim they are right and point to the fact that during their eighty-five years in the business they have not had a single losing year. They bill themselves the great anti-trust circus and give a street parade in feature form.

The Robinsons will open the season in Cincinnati, Tuesday, April 23. Twice daily they will exhibit in the city proper for three days, Friday and Saturday will be passed at Cumminsville and then they take to the road. It is said General Agent Oliver Scott has routed the show to tour thirty odd different states. Traffic Manager Geo. Aiken, as usual, has pocketed the cream railway contracts, a bunch being "shut out."

Last year all critics were agreed the Robinsons had the best performance they had offered in twenty years. This year they claim excels that of 1906. At this rate, Manager John G. Robinson visited Europe the past winter and engaged acts and features new to America.

This is the eighty-sixth year of the Robinson Shows. Tights came in vogue in 1828, seven years after Uncle John Robinson started out with three wagons and a trick mule. "What in the name of decency did you wear from 1821 to 1828?" was asked Governor Robinson. Said he: "We sewed our long stockings to our undershirts; put a ribbon rascette around our head back of the ear over the hair, which was worn long like the football player, and then we thought we were some pumpkin."

A prominent politician recently said: "John Robinson's Circus was my first. It has been the first to many. It was the first circus to President 'Teddy' Roosevelt, and The Billboard was the first theatrical paper he ever gave any attention. Cincinnati boasts of these two lovers of the amusement world." And he might have added that Cincinnati boasts of "Teddy" Roosevelt and his son-in-law, Congressman "Nick" Longworth, whose first circus was also John Robinson's. DOC WADDELL.

GOOD BUSINESS IN CALIFORNIA.

Norris & Rowe's anticipations of good returns were more than verified by their first week's business away from winter quarters. The weather was all that could have been desired, and aside from muddy lots there was nothing to mar the event of the first circus exhibitions of the season in glorious California. After leaving Santa Cruz the show played Monterey to splendid business both afternoon and evening, Hollister, April 2, last, where the weather had condition of track. One show to capacity, and pleased thoroughly. Redwood City, April 3, two shows excellently attended. San Jose, April 4, to the usual bloomer, had business at both shows. The home of our former winter quarters did not turn out as we expected and we attribute this to the not over cordial feeling on account of our leaving the Garden City for Santa Cruz to make our permanent home, Berkeley, Cal., April 5, to capacity at both shows. The weather was not very good but that did not seem to deter the citizens from attending. The students at the University of California were no small factor in swelling the attendance, Alameda, Cal., April 6, closed the first week away from quarters in a blaze of glory. We had better business in Alameda than we ever enjoyed. Petaluma, April 8, afternoon very nearly sold out and splendid business at night. Santa Rosa, April 9, to more than a thousand dollars more than last season, and this is wonderful when one remembers that this town suffered from the earthquake of last year more even than San Francisco, considering the difference in the sizes of the towns.

If this ideal circus weather only continues there will be nothing to it and Norris & Rowe will surely enjoy the most prosperous season of their history. There is absolutely no doubt whatever that the Pacific Coast is enjoying more prosperity than it has ever known.

CIRCUS OPENING POSTPONED.

On account of a late start in getting ready, it is probable, writes Owen Bond, of the Great Fashion Plate Shows, that that organization will not give its first performance at Geneva, Ohio, until May 4, instead of April 27, as first announced. Rehearsals begin April 29.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Considering the fact that we undertook to accept several exceptionally large contracts and many small ones at later dates than has been the usual custom, to be delivered for opening dates, which we are proud to say have not only been finished, but have been received by those entrusting us with their work previous to original contract dates. This only goes to prove that we are fully prepared and thoroughly competent to accept and execute any and all orders satisfactorily.

BANNERS.

We have arranged to handle more work in this department and will be pleased to accept orders for delivery after April 15th.

Our Second-Hand List Mailed Upon Application.

Correspondence Solicited.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

BORN IN CINCINNATI.

"Doc" Waddell, story man of the John Robinson Show, is wearing a fatherly smile. It's because of what happened in Cincinnati last week. Col. Dr. John Robinson officiated. In addition to his regular duties "Doc" will rock the cradle of liberty this summer. The new arrival has been christened by "Doc" himself. It is known as the Order of Settlers. It is a brother of the Buffaloes, the Mount Builders, the Elephants and other orders which Waddell is the daddy of. This particular order will thrive principally at the Jamestown Exposition this summer, and those that visit that fair are especially requested to become proselytes. The initiation fee is one cent. Any person who has the money may join. Every one of the people with the Robinson Show has joined. It will have a membership of over 50,000 before the season is over.

HULBURD EXPLAINS.

Lieutenant Byron S. Hulburd writes that L. V. Owens, who was arrested in Philadelphia, April 3, for alleged swindling was discharged because of lack of evidence against him. Mr. Hulburd is very sturdy in Owens' defense. He says "Hulburd's Wild West is not owned by L. V. Owens as you stated. I own and control the show myself. He only worked for me. As for the fake routes and parks that you mentioned, it is all a lie, as I never published my route in any paper outside of the World's Fair year in St. Louis. "Now I want you to correct this in The Billboard, stating that Owens' arrest was false and that all contracts hold good. "The show opens near Kansas City, Mo. May 4-11"

CIRCUS GOSSIP.

Car No. 1, of the Ringling Brothers' World's Progressive Shows left Chicago, April 4, with a full crew and a lot of new faces. Those world renowned talkers, "Kid" Wheeler and Zeke Inman, were on board. Chas. White, the genial press representative, is with them again. Charles has gained thirty pounds of flesh since last summer, and that is going home. The roster of this car is, Frank Estes, manager; Wash Haskins, boss billposter; Chas. White, press representative; "Kid" Wheeler, W. E. Hald, Fred Cox, all of Local No. 5, Lew Taylor, C. O. Damon, H. Mercier and Fred Jones, of No. 1; Wm. Shea, F. J. McFarland, Illinois, No. 3; J. Whitmore and C. Kugler, No. 12; L. B. Comstock and John May, No. 13; Zeke Inman and J. Coughlin, No. 15; John E. Lyons, No. 17; E. F. Pancher, No. 24; H. A. Blackman, No. 27, and J. A. Allberg and J. Cuzler, John E. Lyons, of Local No. 17, is steward. The dog, Bags, is the mascot.

Mud slinging and mean sayings are evidently not in the vocabulary of Jimmy De Wolf and Willard Coxy, of the Barnum and Bailey Shows, and John D. Carey of the Cole Brothers' Shows. These three publicity promoters have been doing Pittsburg together and if it were not for the copy used it would be hard to understand which show they represent. At the newspaper office of good things to say about Carey and his show, while Carey in turn boosted Messrs De Wolf and Coxy and the Barnum Shows out of sight. Result—both shows got what they wanted in the way of write-ups and editors realized that newspaper men were entitled to more commendations than knocking press agents at any time.

Charlie Wilson, of the Ringling Brothers' staff; General Agent Ed. C. Knapp, of Cole Brothers' Show; R. M. Harvey, of the Barnum Show; Harry Potter, railroad contractor for Cole Brothers' Show; Railroad Contractor Newmann of the Wallace-Hagenbeck Shows; Jimmy De Wolf, contracting press agent of the Barnum Show; John D. Carey, general press representative of the Cole Brothers' Show; "Bob" Clements, contracting agent for Cole Brothers' Show; Johnny Harris, Harry Davis' representative; Al. McPhail, of the Royal Chief Arthur Hirschler, Joe Meyers' representatives and Lester Murray, of the Barnum No. 1 Advance Car, were gathered in the Annex corner of the Hotel Antler one night last week.

Advertising Car No. 2, of Pawnee Bill's Wild West has the following people: Al. Ostrow, manager; Doc Ingram, boss bill poster; A. Clarkson, lithographer; J. Doe, banner; S. V. Murray, J. Judge, F. Kettler, F. Rogers, F. F. Hillings, J. Fenton, J. J. Sullivan, P. Dunn, Wm. Ferrault, J. C. McCormick, W. Whalen, H. F. Ward and O. Wiley, bill poster; H. Balke, paste maker, and R. Richardson, chef.

They are all A-1 Union men on Advance Car No. 2 of the Barnum & Bailey Show. Here they are: V. B. Cooke, manager; Al. Kiel, excursion route rider; E. P. Tice, boss billposter; E. H. Hanson, H. White, W. Corbett, J. Lyons, W. Thawley, L. Sullivan, G. Battis, C. Turner, J. Powers, W. Garrity and F. Hatterson, billposters; J. P. Hyland, lithographer; M. Ipp and W. Van Dien, banner men; C. Bickerman, paste maker; W. Heller, secretary; R. Bean, porter; C. Jones, chef, and R. Ferrier, waiter.

The roster of the DeCoupe Museum which opened at Boswell, Ind., is as follows: Col. Phil DeCoupe, proprietor and manager; Bert Kindred, treasurer; Zedekia, smallest bearded lady in the world; Zella, smallest lady bag puncher; Mme. Letona, fat woman; Ida Starr and her den of snakes; Lesia Long, midwife; Prof. Sands, punch and magic; Arizona Frank's band of seven pieces, and numerous birds and small animals. Frank Foster has charge of the canvas.

Harry Overton, superintendent with Capt. Riggs' Wild West Exhibition, is now in Indian Territory, where he has rounded up a bunch of Seminole, Cherokee and Creek Indians, who will be one of the features that will open with his company at the White City, Louisville, Ky., April 27. This attraction is being booked for one and two week stands at the big parks throughout the middle west.

The roster of advertising car No. 2, of the Gentry Brothers' Show, is as follows: Bert Andrews, car manager; E. A. Robey, manager of paper, Fred Johnston, S. Stough, H. Moneysmith, H. H. Nichols, Wm. (Frosty) Brown, Ray Harnet, Bob King, Fred Snyder and Paul Jones, billposters; Frank Ballinger, charge of banners and lithographs; Bert Dunbar, charge of programs, and Richard Smith, chef.

With the No. 1 Advance Car of the Pawnee Bill Wild West Show are the following people: P. W. Harrell, manager, W. Thebo, charge of billposters; Joe Compe, W. Cochran, G. Nelson, E. Garrison, P. Lamont, M. Spicer, H. Simmen, J. McCarthy, W. Hays and Perry Bryant, billposters; Leo Salom and J. C. McCormack, in charge of lithographs; Fred God, cook, and Joe Porter, porter.

Messrs. Bodkin Brothers are rapidly shaping their affairs for the opening of their coming season which occurs in Chicago early in May for a four weeks' engagement on the lot. The show will then take to the road. M. S. Bodkin is handling arrangements for the Chicago engagement. Harry La Pearl has been engaged as equestrian director and George R. Murray as boss agent.

Every press agent who has made Pittsburg knows genial "Bob" Egan, managing editor of "The Dispatch." "Bob" is the showmen's friend, and is now agitating the idea to have a circus lot made in that portion of Shenley Park, owned by the city and which is to be used as a recreation ground. It's a nice bet that anything "Bob" Egan goes after he lands.

Faust Brothers' Show is doing good business in Oklahoma considering the unfavorable weather. It soon heads north into Nebraska and Iowa. The roster is as follows: Ben Faust, manager; Joe Faust, secretary and treasurer; A. H. Mitchell, promoter; Thomas Hays, band master, and J. Faust and Sud Williams, billposters.

George Steele, general adjuster; Edward Shipp, equestrian director; Arthur McCarthy, special representative of the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' Shows, and Al. W. Martin, the Uncle Tom Cabin magnate, visited the Ringling Brothers' Shows at the Coliseum, Chicago, last week.

Art Adair was equestrian director and principal clown at the Hippodrome Circus in Milwaukee during the four weeks' engagement which closed last week. Art is resting at his home this week, preparatory to going out with the Hagenbeck Wallace Show as principal clown.

The James Shelby Show ran into Valdosta, Ga., to enlarge and improve. Will Rydon, late of McDonald & Rydon, of the McDonald Brothers' Show, has signed with the Shelby Show for the season. K. S. Wolfing has also signed his stallions and dogs with it.

Cole Brothers, Barnum & Bailey and the Wallace-Hagenbeck Shows will make Pittsburg in the order named. Buffalo Bill is booked for later. Col. Coxy is a great favorite in Pittsburg, and the people there are hungry for a real wild west performance.

Chas. W. Brasie left Portsmouth, O., April 15 to report with the Robinson Show at Cincinnati.

BAKER SHOW TENTS.

TENT TALK NO. 5.

Its the material and workmanship in a show tent that counts and costs. For more than thirty-five years Baker tents have been known as carefully and expensively built. Although not the highest priced, the materials are full weight—not "so called," but tested and proved and Baker workmen are experts in their special lines—cutters, ropers and stitchers who only know one quality of work—Baker quality.

Frank Hill and wife left Waterbury, Conn., April 13 for Columbus, to join the Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' Show. Mr. Hill will serve in the capacity of head reserved seat salesman. Mrs. Hill is the slack-wire performer.

The opposition brigade with the Cole Brothers' Show, is as follows: Bob Simons, manager; "Kid" Mills, Gus Miller, A. Markey, O. Robinson, E. Robertson, J. Stiles, M. Montgomery, F. McCormick, N. Burns and B. Latour.

H. J. Root, correspondent for The Billboard at Omaha, Neb., witnessed a performance of the Ringling Brothers' Show in Chicago last week. He says it is absolutely the paragon of circus performances.

Henry Engard, late of the Hagenbeck Shows, has signed as orator and superintendent of reserved seats with the Haag Mighty Show.

DEALERS IN ALL PRINCIPAL CITIES.

Baker's Concert Band of sixteen men has been engaged for the season with the Gollmar Brothers' Greatest American Shows. The roster is as follows: R. W. Baker, Carl F. Bredeson, Henry A. Doerman, L. D. Johnson, H. Christensen, John F. Dusch, Emmett F. Dougherty, Wm. C. Doerman, Edwin R. Beck, L. T. Larsen, Harry J. Knight, Pete Thordson, A. G. Morstad, Wm. Jollie, Glenn C. Loomis and James Dock.

St. Louis, through its Board of Health, has ordered public toilets to be erected on circus lots and connected with the sewer. This will require an expenditure of several hundred dollars on the part of the circus men or the lot owners. It is a very unusual regulation.

John Stevens, who has been a valuable assistant in the past season to Chas. R. Hutchinson, of the Barnum & Bailey Show, has been deservedly promoted to the important position of treasurer with the show.

ANTONIO OLIVETO.

Above is pictured Antonio Oliveto, conductor of the Royal Italian Banda Roma. Mr. Oliveto and his band this week began their second season with the John Robinson Shows. He was with the Hostock & Ferral Carnival Co. for eight years, and his band is noted in the tented world for its excellent music, and Mr. Oliveto, in particular, as a capable conductor.

Mr. Willard D. Coxey, story man with the Barnum & Bailey Show, spent several days in Cincinnati last week. The excellent results of his work were evidenced in the newspapers.

E. E. Meredith will do press work for the Hagenbeck-Wallace Combination next season. The Missouri Breeze may be expected to do all kinds of circus stunts this summer.

C. L. Edwards was a Billboard caller April 19.

R. M. Harvey has been detailed by the General Agent, Louis E. Cook, to look after the interests of Barnum & Bailey's Show in St. Louis and a number of opposition towns.

Daniel Fishell, manager of the Garrick in St. Louis and a favorite with the Barnum & Bailey Show, is engaged to do some special press work for that show.

Col. M. Schult has returned from a twenty-five weeks' engagement with the Publications Circus in Cuba. He is booked with the Hargreaves Big Railroad Shows.

The Sun Brothers' Show played to good business at Mayfield, Ky., April 24. This show is doing some extensive work in the advertising line this season.

LeBruno's Mighty Hippodrome opened its season in Central Park, Springfield, Mo., week of April 21, with Galena, Kan., to follow for a week.

Wm. Van, D. W. Peewee and Chas. Bell are dividing honors doing doubles over three large elephants with the Van Ansburg Show.

Charles Edger and Frank D. Phillips passed through Cincinnati Sunday en route to Nashville, to join the Pawnee Bill Show.

Wm. J. Hilliar, the magician, was a Billboard caller April 16, en route to join the Forepaugh-Sells Show in Columbus.

Tom North, the well-known agent, will do press work this season with the Gentry Brothers' Dog and Pony Show.

Pittsburg and Cleveland as usual are the sought after cities this year. Both are fine if not showed to death.

Edward Gavin, physical culture exponent, will appear in the Great Fashion Photo slide show this season.

PAWNEE BILL OPENING.

It was a care free throng that filled the big tents of the Pawnee Bill Wild West at its premiere Saturday afternoon, April 20, at Cumberland Park, Nashville, Tenn. The performance "took" immensely. The day was a fine one and in every way the opening was auspicious.

Contributing to the performance are the following well-known performers: Senor Jose Barano, Dave Wriston, White Buffalo and Jimmie Garrett, in rifle and lasso work; the Gilman Brothers, Wm. Lambert, Clyde Miller, Roy Gregory and Wayne Hoasley, in cowboy sports and pastimes; Chas. Bennett, rifle shot; the South American Gancheo, Major Lillie and May Lillie and others. The Deadwood Stage Coach Robbery was rendered very effective with realistic scenery, wreckless riding and crack shooting.

The animals are in the best of condition and the performers evinced an unusual vivacity and enthusiasm.

Harry Multon, Local 26, Sioux City, Iowa, and J. E. Corcoran, Local No. 5, St. Louis, have signed with the Buffalo Bill Wild West.

NATIONAL ALLIANCE NOTES.

A lively and interesting meeting of the billposters and billers was held in Pittsburg, Pa., on Car No. 2 of the Barnum and Bailey Circus, April 14. During the meeting Bro. James E. Powers, of Local No. 2, New York, was elected as steward of the car. Everybody was in good spirits and looking forward to a fine season.

Bro. John E. Lyons, of Local No. 17, Boston, has been elected steward of the Advance Car No. 1 of the Ringling Brothers' Circus. All the members are reported in good health and fine spirits, and great enthusiasm is evident all along the line.

W. Chaplin, Alliance member, is with the John Robinson's Shows.

It is reported that henceforth the National Alliance will have its headquarters in New York City, and National Secretary William J. Murray will doubtless be on hand to give personal attention to all communications and affairs in general.

Matt Smith, Alliance member, paid a business visit to New York last week. Bro. Smith is much interested in the welfare of the Alliance, and has signed a contract to go with the Forepaugh and Sells Circus for the season 1907.

Fred Burton, Alliance member, has signed with the Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows, for the season of 1907.

Elmo Perkins, Alliance member, has signed with the John Robinson Circus for season of 1907.

EDISON DECISION

In the suit of Thomas A. Edison against the American Mutoscope and Biograph Company, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals has sustained the Edison Patent and held that all apparatus in which the film is operated by a sprocket or similar movement like that of the WARWICK camera, which is used by the Biograph Company, infringes the Edison patent. The apparatus used for making Mutoscope slot machine pictures, which operates on a different principle, was held not to infringe the patent.

EXTRACT FROM DECISION:

"The meritorious feature of the device is that they seize hold of the film firmly, move it positively, regularly, evenly and rapidly without jarring, jerking or slipping producing a negative, which can be printed from and reproduced as a whole without re-arrangement to correct imperfect spacing of the successive pictures . . . In succession each sprocket enters a hole thereby holding the film firmly and positively and either advancing it forward or holding it at rest by a method of engagement, which eliminates all chances of slip."

BIOGRAPH CO. INJUNCTION

United States of America, Circuit Court of the United States, for Southern District of New York, in Equity

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA TO AMERICAN MUTOSCOPE AND BIOGRAPH COMPANY, its servants, agents, attorneys, officers, employes, workmen, and confederates, and each and every one of them, GREETING:

WHEREAS, It hath lately been represented to us in our Circuit Court of the United States sitting as a Court of Equity on the part of THOMAS A. EDISON, the complainant, that he, the said complainant, has lately exhibited his bill of complaint against you, the said AMERICAN MUTOSCOPE & BIOGRAPH COMPANY, to be relieved touching the matters therein contained, in which bill it is, among other things, set forth, that Letters Patent were granted and issued by the United States to Thomas A. Edison for a new and useful improvement in Kinetoscope, dated September 30, 1902, and numbered 12037 of reissued Letters Patent.

And, that the title to said Letters Patent is vested in the complainant, Thomas A. Edison, and that you, THE SAID DEFENDANT, HAVE INFRINGED THE FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD CLAIMS of said Letters Patent and the exclusive rights of the complainant, thereunder, by using cameras in infringement of said claims of said Letters Patent, and that your actings and doings are contrary to equity and good conscience.

Gentlemen:-

We are informed that statements have been made to the effect that you are liable to be involved in legal proceedings if you purchase our Slot Machines.

There are no valid grounds for such statements, nor is there any possibility of successful interference with our machines and we will guarantee you and all to whom you sell fully as to all our product.

Yours truly,

President.

NOTICE

We desire to call attention to the subject matter of United States Patent No. 743,930, granted to Wm. W. Rosenfield, November 10, 1903, and covering in broad terms certain coin-operated Picture and Illustrated Song Machines manufactured by us, and which patent we own.

The Mills Novelty Co., of Chicago, are manufacturing and selling certain Picture and Picture Phonograph Machines which, we are advised, constitute a direct infringement of said Patent, and we have brought suit on said Patent in the U. S. Circuit Court for the District of New Jersey for an injunction and damages against Herman H. A. Schmidt, who operates an Amusement Park in Hilton, N. J., on account of his use there of such coin-operated machines manufactured by the Mills Novelty Co.

It is our purpose to protect our rights under said patent by pursuing not only the manufacturers of infringing machines, but also the users thereof.

Amusement Park and Parlor owners and other users of coin-operated machines are hereby warned against the use, sale or exhibition of infringing machines, and are notified that suits will be brought against users of infringing machines to protect our rights under said patent.

Our other slot machines are manufactured under and protected by numerous United States patents, and users of machines similar to ours made by other manufacturers are warned that they may render themselves liable to suits for injunction and damages by such use.

Editor The Billboard.

Dear Sir:

We enclose our route for the balance of the Season, and also take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of this department in your paper. We have found it a great convenience and always reliable when wishing to locate professional friends.

We hope to be a permanency with you next Season.

Very truly yours,
 Edward H. Kemp.

LEAVES FROM THE DIARY

Of A Reformed Advance Agent.

Tells of the Troubles That Followed The Automobile Which Fluto Owned in Fancy.

By STEVE O'GRADY.

"The alleged private lives of our great artists of the dramatic firmament," said the reformed advance agent, "always make good reading when handled skillfully by ye publicity promoter who knows his game."

"Of course, what we read about our stage favorites may not always be true. It is a fact, well known in the ranks of the Association of Abused and Overworked Business Managers that occasionally, when you do get something that is really true, nobody will believe it."

"In view of this discouraging attitude on the part of the general public, one can hardly blame the press agent if he insists upon describing the magnificent summer home which the star has built for her own use in Southern France; her penchant for good horseflesh; the way she won her thousands at Sheephead Bay last summer on tips furnished by a friend 'high in the racing game'; her little plunge in Wall street, where she landed for some 'steven thousand'; her generosity in donating liberally to the support of the Home for the Aged; her mad enthusiasm for high-g geared automobiles, and the various other tobacco subjects which make for the artistic reputation of our great performers."

"True, many of our polished favorites spend the summer months down on Fourteenth street, New York, and I would offer this guaranteed dope to the uninitiated: Eating three squares at the acrobats' table during the dull period isn't half bad when you have closed the season without a bank account."

"Speaking of automobiles reminds me of the one that Fluto didn't own. The leader of the Famous Fifty had urged me to pipe off a story about his new French machine, inasmuch, he said, as all the great artists of the country seemed to be buying them through their press agents."

"It was an easy matter to handle this auto story. I secured a photograph of a new model, with a man seated at the wheel. Then, with the aid of a photographer who new his business, I took one of Fluto's heads and pasted it on the body of the man in the picture. Then I had the revised photograph put before the camera, and the result was Fluto seated in his new $10,000 scorchers.

"I sprang the story in Los Angeles, using the photograph as proof that we had the goods, and the fake made a big hit. I was unaware, however, that Fluto had visited this town five years before, and in the course of his engagement had contracted a $200 tailor bill, which he had forgotten to pay. The tailor had secured a judgment long since, and when the band arrived a constable and four deputies went on a loud hunt for the $10,000 motor car. They searched the theatre, the hotel and every other available space, but found no auto.

"On the occasion of our first concert they forced their way back on the stage, determined to seize anything in sight. I had foolishly hung my long cravatette in Fluto's dressing room and the raiding party seized it. I was terror-stricken, because yours truly borrowed most of his money on the strength of that misstrel raffle. However, I had little difficulty in regaining my property, as I produced abundant testimony in the form of repeated duns which showed that the coat belonged to neither Fluto nor me, but to an Omaha tailor, who tired in his efforts to catch us in one-night stands and eventually threw up the sponge.

"When I got to Bakersfield I received a sad note from Fluto. They had rapped him for the box-office receipts and nearly caused the band to go on a strike.

"'Better tag the auto story,' wrote the great leader. 'Confine yourself to my summer home on Long Island and the gold medals. It will be a physical impossibility to attach a Long Island home out here, and if anyone wants the medals it will be easy to get others where you got these.'"

CINCINNATI, O.

With the continued cool weather and superlative attractions, patronage remains sufficiently large to fill most of our theatres. This spring has been an exceptional one. There has been no desire on the part of the public to "rush the season," they being apparently contented to take things as they are. Even the warmest days of several weeks back did not bring a decrease in theatrical business, and there is no doubt whatever but that the playhouses will have at least four more weeks of high tide business.

About the most talked of affair here the past week in the way of a sensation, has been The Millionaire's Revenge episode. The lithographs advertising this attraction proved to be a little too daring for our dear beloved Mayor, and at his bidding the billposters worked all Sunday night—'you, desecrated the Sabbath—by pasting plain yellow sheets of paper over the most picturesque of the posters. Did it keep people from seeing The Millionaire's Revenge? My, but it is really a sin to tell it, they packed Henek's to the law's limit. There wasn't a better record made at Henek's this season. Here's a tip: If you want packed houses in Cincinnati cover up some of your billboard showing. It's a great cordial.

The Courted Grand Opera Co. proved to be the social event of the week at Music Hall. Geraldine Farrar received an ovation Tuesday afternoon in Tannhauser. Without fear of contradiction, it was the greatest personal triumph ever scored by any person upon the local operatic stage.

David Belasco vied against Bernard Shaw, Shakespeare and others at our first-class houses, Forbes Robertson and Gertrude Elliott in repertoire at the Grand, and Blanche Bates in The Girl of the Golden West at the Lyric. Both received excellent patronage. Though a history there is a sufficient quantity of the un-conventional in Caesar and Cleopatra to make one sit up and take notice. Shawism even extends to the program. In it the author humbly begs of his audience that they refrain from criticism until they shall have read Plutarch, Herodotus and about a dozen other ancient historians. Presumably the sage of un-conventionalism meant that these historians should be read in the original.

The Girl of the Golden West has so much of the elements of popularity that one refrains from designating it a great play. It is intensely interesting. There is an appeal to every class of people. After seeing it one can't help from believing that there is a science in play-writing and that Belasco has the true prescription. His master hand is ever paramount in The Girl.

Marie Corelli is strong on the boards this week. The Forepaugh Stock Co., at the Olympic, is seen in a worthy revival of Thelma, and Rowland & Clifford are offering a splendid production of Fabio Romani at the Lyceum.

Sunday afternoon brought out a large crowd to the Robinson show grounds. Many professional people playing the theatres journeyed out to renew acquaintance with their circus friends. The genial "Doc" Waddell was on hand and showed all visitors a pleasant time. The show opens Tuesday, April 23, for a five-day engagement in Cincinnati.

Willard D. Covey was in Cincinnati last week preparing the way for the Barnum & Bailey Shows.

Mrs. J. J. Monahan, the well-known burlesque actress and wife of J. J. Monahan, manager of the New Century Show Girls, has sufficiently recovered from the operation she underwent at the Good Samaritan Hospital to leave that institution.

Bandmaster John C. Weber will furnish music for Eden Park and Burnet Woods this summer.

Alma Roselle, recently orchestra leader at the Lyric Theatre, Lexington, Ky. has returned to Cincinnati. DEEZ O'MARQH.

BOSTON MANAGER DEAD.

Charles H. Smith, formerly manager of the Boston Music Hall and the Majestic Theatre, Boston, Mass., died in a private sanitarium in that city, April 19, from heart failure, brought on by a severe cold contracted a few weeks ago at Fremont, Neb. Mr. Smith had been out all winter with John Griffith in King Richard.

Born in Exeter, N. H., fifty-two years ago, Mr. Smith went into the theatrical business when a young man, taking the management of the Academy of Music in Fall River. For the past twenty-five years he had managed such well-known playhouses as the Albany Theatre and the New Haven Opera House, and made the first season at the Majestic very successful. He handled, also, the tours of The Strangers of Paris company, Evangeline, Quincy Adams Sawyer and other first-class productions. For twenty years he was associated with J. W. Gorman, having charge of vaudeville at several summer parks.

COMIC-OPERA LAND.

Many weary miles I've traveled,
Long sojourned in foreign lands,
But the queerest of all countries,
From the Pole to Egypt's sands,
Is the one where peers and peasants
Dance about in joyous bands—
'Tis known to all as Comic-Opera Land!

It's location is uncertain,
Shifts about from near to far;
Sometimes Malabar or Sulu,
Or the coast of Zanzibar,
'Specially it's in the tropics,
Lit by many a twinkling star
'Hurrah! Hurrah! for Comic-Opera Land!

All the girls are young and pretty,
And they love to sing and dance;
All their lovers warble tenor
In that country of romance.
All the kings are old and witty,
'Tis their joy to shout and prance—
Long live the kings of Comic-Opera Land!

Ah, my love, I have a notion,
In that country quaint and queer,
Smooth would run the course of true love,
'Tis so very rocky here,
So tonight let's fly together,
'Cross the footlights' bright frontier,
And try our fate in Comic-Opera Land!
—Ocell Cavendish.

Hamlet to his mother:
'Mother, for love of grace,
Forget it! Out it out!
Hamlet, to Horatio:
'Horatio, I am dead, not yet, not soon!
Hamlet, to Ophelia:

CHICAGO TRIBUNE ATTACKS MOVING PICTURES!

Let's all Get Together and Take the Only Course to Protect Ourselves!

It has come at last!

Moving pictures have been attacked by the Chicago Tribune, and it's only a question of time when the press of other cities will follow suit.

They claim moving pictures are corrupting the morals of boys and girls. "Stuff?"

Yes, it's stuff all right enough, but calling it stuff won't do any good.

We can't laugh it off. We've got to dig in and show the people what's what, and you, Mr. Manager, have got to roll up your sleeves and help protect your own business.

Personally, I don't believe there's one theatre in a hundred that is showing pictures of a questionable or harmful character—but what I believe and what you believe won't count. It's what the people believe that will affect the cash drawer one way or the other.

Now then, here's my point:

First, of course, you've got to use good, clean, wholesome, entertaining and interesting films.

But you've got to do more than that.

You've got to run the business on a good, clean, wholesome, common sense basis.

But you've got to do more than that!

You've not only got to DO these things, but you've GOT TO LET THE PEOPLE KNOW YOU ARE DOING SO. Therefore, I say, LET THE PEOPLE KNOW. Take them into your confidence.

I've figured out a way to boost the business of my customers as well as build a good foundation.

And here it is:

I'm going to furnish my customers with NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS, FREE. Every advertisement will be illustrated, and I'll write the "dope" for them myself.

My ads will be catchy, but they'll be educational, too. They will create a stronger desire in the people's minds for moving picture shows.

When you've got a good thing, BOOST IT.

That's what I do all the time. I've got the best films and the best service—but that doesn't satisfy me. I keep making 'em better and keep telling about it all the time.

My films will bring you more business than any others—even if you don't advertise. But if you DO advertise, they'll be stronger than ever. "Printer's ink always pays for itself." Remember that.

This is the most practical offer I have ever heard of in the Moving Picture Business.

I'm no dreamer of dreams, Mr. Manager. I've built up the fastest growing film business in America in a marvelously short time. A dreamer couldn't do that. That letter I published the other day (from Pathe) showing that I bought more new films than any other Chicago house was no filmy day dream.

That letter I published (from the U. S. Government) showing that my Woodworth Flickerless Attachment has been adopted by Uncle Sam's Navy Biograph Party was no flickering, shadowy dream.

The letters I get every day from scores of delighted customers are not dreams. There's nothing dreamy about my business. It's all based on good, hard, practical common sense.

Therefore, this new proposition of FREE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS is something that you'd better let sink into your brain.

You can't buy these advertisements for love or money—but I'll give them free to my customers and the answer is: "Be my customer. Write!"

CARL LAEMMLE, President.

Warning to Fair and Park Managers.

I have been informed that certain parties are using the name Knabenshue in connection with Airship Advertising, thereby misleading the public into believing they are connected with, and handling, the Knabenshue Air Ship. All Airships designed by me are still my property, and are now in my possession. NO CONTRACTS FOR KNABENSHUE AIR SHIPS ARE VALID unless signed either by Frank P. Spellman, Mgr., for Knabenshue Air Ships, of Cleveland, O., or myself. My various devices are protected, and I will certainly enjoin any parties from using same.

ROY KNABENS HUE, 133 Meirose Ave., TOLEDO, O.
Sole Owner of Famous KNABENS HUE AIR SHIP.

THE FENCING MASTER
A Parisian Story of Love and Jealousy.

APPROXIMATE LENGTH, 650 FEET.

THE FENCING MASTER.

The Biograph's latest production, tells of the Affaire de Coeur of two French swordsmen, both rivals for the same fair Parisienne's hand. In a duel between the two the rejected suitor falls, apparently a self-designed victim of a rapier thrust. The scenes are typical of the French Capital and the acting sterling to a degree, making it the most thrilling dramatic production of the season.

THE DUEL.

All Pictures are made with Our Celebrated Biograph Cameras. Our Films run on Any Machine.

Playhouses

The Sullivan-Considine Co. makes emphatic denial of the report that it will open a vaudeville house in LaFayette, Ind., a story to that effect recently appearing in the LaFayette papers. The Sullivan-Considine company will, however, furnish acts for the vaudeville shows to be put on at the Grand Opera House in that city during the summer. The house will be managed by George L. Manderback. It was announced that the new house proposed for erection by the Sullivan-Considine people would be called the Majestic and would be open for business on Main street by May 1.

Geo. W. Dawson has resigned from the management of the East End Vaudeville Theatre, Pittsburg, Pa., and has signed as assistant manager of the Auditorium Theatre under W. F. Braun. He writes that the Auditorium will be greatly improved previous to its opening Aug. 19, with vaudeville booked by Win. Morris. Innovations in the remodeling of the theatre will be a telephone system whereby a patron may talk from his seat in the theatre, and an automobile garage.

Frank L. Woodward, business manager of the Willis Wood Theatre, Kansas City, Mo., was married April 10 to Miss Bessie Pague, a beautiful society belle of Kansas City. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home, and in the evening the happy couple left for the east for a tour of several weeks. Upon their return they will be at home at the Elsmere, Kansas City.

Manager Manderback has abandoned the idea of running continuous vaudeville at the Grand Opera House in LaFayette, Ind., during the summer, and the field will now be left clear for the Family Theatre, directed by the Columbia Amusement Co. The Grand will close its present season on May 18, when the Purdue University boys present their annual play.

Manager S. C. Lank has made a number of improvements on his Happy Half Hour Theatre at LaFayette, Ind., having put in a new and attractive electric front, repainted the interior and installed electric fans for the summer season. The house is only a few doors from the Family Vaudeville Theatre.

Manager Maurice of the Family Theatre, LaFayette, Ind., was in Chicago last week, purchasing opera chairs and scenery for the new vaudeville house to be erected by the Columbia Amusement Co. in that city. Work on the new theatre will start May 1. It will be opened about Sept. 15.

The Missouri and Kansas Airdome Circuit is building a new Airdome at Fort Scott, Kan., which will open May 25 with a stock company. Harry C. Erlich, manager of the Davidson Theatre, Fort Scott, is half owner of the new playhouse and he will manage it.

The firm of Spitz and Nathanson, of Providence, R. I., and managers of the Empire Theatre in that city, have secured a lease of Traveler's Hall, Hartford, Conn., and will convert it into a theatre. When changed the playhouse will seat about 600 people.

Wm. Schwartz, of Ann Arbor, Mich., has succeeded Harry Scheriat as orchestra leader at the Bijou Theatre, Green Bay, Wis. Mr. Scheriat goes to the Bijou, Marinette, Wis., also a Campbell & Danforth house.

The Unique Theatre, at Mayfield, Ky., is undergoing extensive improvements, chief of which is an enlargement of the stage. Manager T. L. McNutt has booked some fine attractions for next season.

Manager A. F. Bacon will feature vaudeville and moving pictures at the Jacobson Opera House, Blount, N. D., this summer. The Stocktons will have charge of the moving picture department.

Chas. T. Kindt will build a new Aerodrome on Fourth and Harrison streets, Day'sport, Ia. A stock company will be installed and vaudeville acts will be booked weekly.

Harry H. Lamont has succeeded Jas. F. Bahn as manager of the Portsmouth, O., Theatre, the latter going to the head of fees of the Sun & Murray Circuit.

G. Spears Reynolds, who for several years successfully managed the Grand Opera House at Ashville, N. C., recently resigned. His successor is F. D. Miller.

J. Jefferson Brott will continue in the management of the Palace Theatre at Montreal, Can., though C. H. Thompson has sold that playhouse to J. A. Simard.

Sam M. Young's Airdome, at Terre Haute, Ind., will open a preliminary season May 13, though the regular vaudeville circus season does not open until May 27.

Carl A. Zoe, formerly of A Man's Broken Promise Co., has succeeded Edmund L. Bradley as resident manager of the Lyceum Theatre, Paterson, N. J.

The new Loewen Theatre at Enid, Okla., opened April 15. It is a fine theatre, seating about 1,300 people and is elaborately decorated.

Manager Harvey Dayer, of the Dodge Opera House, Lockport, N. Y., is again able to be at his office after a two months' illness.

The Phoenix Block in Altoona, Pa., is being rebuilt for theatrical purposes.

Emerson's Floating Palace has a splendid performance this year and the show has been doing well since it opened April 1 at Elizabeth, Pa. The roster includes Ralph Emerson and wife, Joe K. Kelly, Walter M. Monroe, Clarence Hinton, Francis Rogers, James Boulaine, Robert Kymor, Thomas Morris, Virginia Kelay, Ida Williams, Stella St. Claire, Ida Hinton, Marguerite Maxwell, Virginia Rogers, Tillie Twinkle, Myrtle Huntington, Agnes Daly, Thillie Somers, Alice Gray, Gus L. Slover, leader of orchestra, and T. L. Fall, leader of band. The No. 2 show opened April 17, at Donora, Pa.

The Crystal Theatre at Anderson, Ind., which belongs to the Ammons Vaudeville Circuit is nearing completion and will be one of the finest vaudeville theatres in the state with a seating capacity of 1,000, and a stage 35x45 feet, large enough to handle the largest vaudeville act or combinations.

The Campbells have booked several weeks at Chicago, their home, and are visiting their mother after an absence of four years. This summer they play the parks and this fall go to the coast under the direction of the Pacific Coast Amusement Co.

Rosey, the unicyclist, has joined hands with Mack Wheeler, formerly of the Whirling Wheelers, and they will play the parks this summer with a new act full of novelties. They will be known as Wheeler and Rosey.

Mrs. E. H. Johnson, door manager of the Electric Theatre, Waterloo, Iowa, well known to all the profession playing Iowa, is taking a much needed rest, visiting her parents in Ponca City, Okla., and friends in Wichita, Kan.

Bob Romola, formerly of Romola and Williams, writes: I wish to extend to all performers my sincere thanks and appreciation for their kindness and assistance in my bereavement, the loss of my wife, May Williams.

Will J. Brown, stage manager of the Opera House, Chattanooga, Tenn., with his wife made their debut in vaudeville at the Automatic Vaudeville Theatre last week. Their sketch is entitled The Haunted Flat.

J. C. Nugent is writing for Delvin and Ellwood a new playlet, entitled A Kieptomaniac, which will be produced May 20 at the Majestic Theatre, Chicago, previous to a tour of the Orpheum Circuit.

Ollie Young and Brother, the hoop rollers, will close their season of fifty-five weeks April 28, at Hopkins Theatre, Memphis, Tenn. They open on Keith time in August for a season of forty-three weeks.

The new Star Vaudeville Theatre at Elgin, Ill., under the efficient management of Del S. Smith has met with great success from the very start last October. People are turned away nightly.

RICHARDS SISTERS.—There are twenty-five letters for you at The Billboard office. We have held them for one month; if not sent for immediately they will be sent to Dead Letter Office.

DeWitt Young, the college boy juggler, is meeting with great success at an added attraction with Mike's American Burlesques. He sails for England in June to open on the Moss Tour.

The Manolo Family of athletes, acrobats and equilibristas are booked solid for the season. They inaugurate their tour with a four weeks' engagement at the Hippodrome in St. Paul.

George Conner is framing up a live act in the way of roping and rope spinning. It will be worked into a sketch and will have in the cast one of the finest horses seen in vaudeville.

Chas. J. Shay, manager of the Great Richards, met with a painful accident in a street car collision, April 8, at Philadelphia. However, he is not incapacitated for work.

The Stubbfield Trio will hereafter be known by their own name and will be programmed at the Aerial Loews. There is no change in the act.

Bissonnette and Newman are winding up their vaudeville season and preparing to open June 2, with Gregory's Moscow in Cincinnati.

James E. Henry, of Henry and Young, mourns the loss of his sister who died at her home in West Philadelphia, O., April 11.

Grove, the magician, hypnotist and illusionist, has closed with the Kathryn Purcell Co. and opened his own show.

Lazern and Malvirni, magicians and telepathists, have gone to their home in New Orleans to rest until June 1.

The Thompson Sisters have joined the Jolly Grass Widow Co. for the balance of the season.

Olivette, the clever conjurer, has a new magic act that takes immensely.

Ollie Lamont is resting a few weeks at her home in Milwaukee, Wis.

CHICAGO AMUSEMENTS.

struck with an inspiration. It must be tight that were causing all the immoral things attributed to stage folk and he would be the Wisconsin St. Patrick who would drive those dreaded articles of apparel from the state of summer resorts. His measure was received with shouts of laughter and derision from the press all over the country. The bill was passed from committee to committee until the other day another simple-minded legislator became convinced that he was a modern Martin Luther and could work a great reform. So he proposed an amendment, providing that the skirts of actresses should always be cut off four inches above the knees in Wisconsin. Just how this would work a reform is hard to determine, unless he meant to have the stage ladies die of pneumonia which they would be bound to get if they appeared on the icy Wisconsin stages in curtailed raiment. Then, to help things along, he provided that actresses should wear cloaks over their abbreviated skirts, if the temperature was under 72 degrees, and that when the temperature arose high enough so that the cloaks could be cast aside, all hard-headed men must leave the theatre. By this time his fellow members awoke to the fact that it was all a joke and a storm of ridiculous amendments were added to the bill. Poor Representative Hughes who started the bill in good faith was very much taken back with the ridicule which his measure had excited, but pleaded in vain for its sober consideration. At present the bill is in some committee room having an amendment tacked on which provides that actresses shall not wear clocked stockings unless there is a baseball team in town.

ANOTHER NEW THEATRE

Will J. Block, the Chicago producing manager, who recently moved to New York, is the latest man to whom the theatre building habit has been attributed. It is reported that Mr. Block is negotiating for a site in the near vicinity of the City Hall and will erect a large and finely furnished playhouse to be utilized for the highest class attractions playing Chicago, principally, of course, the Block attractions. M. S. Lacey, a young millionaire from Montana, is said to have a strong financial interest in the new proposition, as he has been backing Mr. Block for some time. It is also rumored that the Block Amusement Co. intends to build in New York and Boston, theatres on the same line.

A MANAGERS' COMBINE

It is rumored, and in fact has crept into the Chicago newspapers that the theatrical managers of this city are about to combine for the purpose of fighting what they consider injurious and meddlesome legislation. According to report, the fight will center on the following points: Ticket scalping, child labor laws, caricaturing of nationalities and Sunday closing. One or two meetings have been held and there is every probability of the immediate formation of a protective association. The matter of child labor has been a thorn in the side of Chicago theatrical managers for some time and a dozen or more big productions that have played in Chicago this season have been seriously marred by the authorities who have insisted on taking children out of the piece. The anti-caricature bill is also considered as a coming detriment to the stage, as the managers declare that one of the principal means of affording entertainment on the stage is in harmless caricature. As to ticket scalping, the managers state that they are desirous of stopping this nuisance, but they declare there is a limit to the extent to which legislators in city and state can interfere with their business. The Sunday closing proposition is also being watched closely by the managers, as the shutting up of places of amusement on Sunday would mean a serious loss to them.

PANIC IS AVERTED

Lorin J. Howard, manager and leading man at Howard's Theatre, prevented a panic in the playhouse one night last week after some one had cried "Fire!" He had been behind the scenes and he discovered that the blaze was somewhere on the roof. Quickly stepping to the footlights he told the audience there was no danger. Within five minutes the theatre had been cleared, not one of the women or children appearing to be excited. Members of Engine Company No. 55 found that the blaze was in a large chimney, and it was extinguished within five minutes after the first alarm. After the firemen had left the neighborhood the patrons returned to the theatre and the play was resumed.

MABEL AND MIKE

The romance of Mabel and Mike is the talk of Chicago theatrical circles just now. Mabel's last name is Hite and she is the one best bet of A Knight for a Day, which is just at present packing the Whitney Opera House to the doors, while the Mike mentioned in Mike Donlin, former star of the New York Giants, and at present assistant manager of the Whitney Opera House. Mabel and Mike are both becoming great favorites in Chicago. Miss Hite through her clever work in the musical comedy, and Mike because of his former baseball exploits and his present theatrical connection. Miss Hite was interviewed the other day concerning the manner in which she met the big baseball player.

"It was down at Hot Springs," said Mabel, "and Mike and a lot of other baseball men were there. I just met Mike casually. After that I kept running across him in various cities and watched him play a number of times. Finally one night in New York he took me to dinner at the Marlborough. We were talking about something inconsequential when he turned and said very slowly, 'Do you know I have been knocking around a good deal and I have half decided that I'll get married. And I've picked out a little girl I think I'll ask.' I didn't wake up to the fact that he meant me until six weeks afterward when we really became engaged," said Miss Hite in telling the story. And that briefly is the romance of Mabel and Mike.

Ellias Rothstein, the distinguished Yiddish tragedian, began a four-weeks engagement in a repertoire of standard Yiddish tragedies and dramas at the International Theatre, Friday night, April 12. The appearance of this capable actor in Chicago is the result of an arrangement with Manager Ellis F. Glickman who will go on tour with his stock company for some weeks, playing the principal cities of the East and Middle West and South. During his engagement in Chicago, Mr. Rothstein will be supported by a strong New York company of which the principals are Mme. Tansman and Mme. Thomasovsky, both actresses of remarkable power in their lines. The opening bill was The Silent Wedding, a powerful comedy drama in four acts with music which gives Mr. Rothstein abundant opportunities for the display of the varied talents which have made him one of the most conspicuous actors in the Yiddish drama in the United States. The Silent Wedding was the bill Friday, Saturday and Sunday. At the Saturday matinee, Perle, which has been done in English under the name of The Streets of New York, was presented. At the Sunday matinee, The Hero of Jerusalem.

The bills week of April 15 covered a wide range for this excellent company, David's Violin, The Vice King, God, Man and the Devil, The Jewish Hamlet.

Emerson; Peter Lang as O'Hearu and other favorites.

KEITH & PROCTOR'S THEATRES.

For the week of April 22 the bills at the various Keith & Proctor theatres are as follows:

Keith & Proctor's One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street.—William J. Kelly's second week which began last Monday is a brand new border drama in one act, entitled The Marshal. Other features of the bill are Miss Anna Laughlin, of Wizard of Oz fame; Itafayette's Dogs, Donald and Carson, new character comedians; the Vivians, sharpshooters; Carlin and Otto, German comedians; and Charles Serra, equillibrist. Keith & Proctor's Union Square.—June McCrea in The Hope Field; Tom Nawn, a veteran vaudevillean; A. O. Duncan, ventriloquist; Dillon Brothers, parody slagers; Collins and Hart, burlesque acrobats; Knight Brothers and Sawtelle, Nettle Nosta, Doris Martini, Maxmittian, Three Deane Brothers, and many others.

Keith & Proctor's Twenty-third Street.—Maggie Cline The Irish Thrush, in her newest vocal offerings; McMahon's Pullman Porter Maids, Max Wessely's Troupe of Jugglers, Clifton Crawford, monologist; Mr. & Mrs. Trucadell, Arling Comedy Four, Borsch and Russell, Kelso and Leighton, and others.

Keith & Proctor's Fifty-eighth Street.—Valeska Suratt, the famous Gibson Girl of The Belle of Mayfair, at the Park's, assisted by Billy Gould; Winsor McKay, the famous creator of Little Nemo; Sammy Sneeze and the cartoonist who made The Dream of the Itarebit Fiend famous; Four Nelson Combies, grotesque gymnasts; Albertine Melich, Lucie and Viato, the Wilson Brothers, and others.

TONY PASTOR'S THEATRE.

The attractions at this house for the week of April 22 are as follows: Stilson and Morton, Kenyon and DeGarmo, The Alpha Trio, Marion and Deane, Marswell, J. K. Hutchinson & Co., Sheridan and Milton, Latoy Brothers, Sinclair and Covert, Murphy and Palmer, Carroll and Doyle, Paul Itabin, The Rock Illustrators, the American Vitagraph, and Al. Carleton.

NOTES.

Ermete Novelli, before sailing for home last week, made known his intention to visit America next year. He will open the season with a four weeks' engagement in New York and then tour the principal cities of the United States, thence to Mexico and South America. He will have 116 plays in his repertoire.

The right to produce Brewster's Millions in Australia has been secured from Fred Thompson by J. C. Williamson, who will open in Sydney.

Arrangements have been made for Robert Edison and his entire company to present Strongheart in London in May. Aldwych Theatre has been secured for the production.

The truth will rise; Leslie Carter was not robbed.

Katherine Gray, who scored so successfully in The Hocking, has gone to Milwaukee to lead a stock company at the Pabst Theatre.

H. B. Warner, leading man in Eleanor Robinson's company, playing Salomy Jane, at the Liberty Theatre, has announced his engagement to Mrs. Fred Hamilton.

The De-Kickos have just returned from a tour of Cuba.

C. H. Willard, of the Blake & Willard Syndicate Shows, arrived in New York Saturday, April 13, from the City of Mexico. He reports big business throughout Mexico and Guatemala. Blake & Willard will be represented at the amusement resorts in Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago this season, presenting their annual circus, Temple of Music, Earthquake and Palace of Illusions.

Miss Amy, who claims to be the premiere of all sword-swallowers, will be featured with the John Robinson Show this season. She left New York last week to join the show at Terrace Park, Ohio. Miss Amy was accompanied by Miss Sara Hackett, a New York girl, who will make her debut in a mind reading act with the same aggregation.

A. G. Kelly, manager of the Girl Patsy Co., was a caller at the New York office of The Billboard last week. The company closed recently at Trenton, N. J., and the leading woman, Miss June Mathis, has joined James K. Hackett's company in Boston.

Miss Fannie Frankel, who has a singing specialty in vaudeville, will take prima donna roles in summer opera at Whelan Park, Fitchburg Mass., opening June 24.

The Hippocrene's second anniversary passed off successfully Friday, April 12, and was marked by a turn away house and the distribution of souvenirs in the form of near-silver mermaids.

LIST OF FAIRS

NOTICE.

This list is revised and corrected weekly. Readers will confer a favor by calling our attention to any errors or omissions.

"GET RICH QUICK"

Big fortunes are being made. Start a Penny Exhibit, and you will easily make from $100.00 to $500.00 a week. This is being done by hundreds of customers in all parts of the world. The most pleasant of all Amusement Enterprises. Opportunities are plentiful in cities of 5,000 or over. Don't put it off—Get Busy and Get the Money. The "Caille" machines are the leaders, and is the largest line made by any one maker.

Our Prices—quality and earning abilities considered—are the lowest. Big Money can also be made by placing certain lines of machines in public places on shares. Ask us. An investment of $250.00 in our machines will make more money—and make it easier—than $1,000.00 invested in any other business. Catalogues sent on request.

The Phonograph AND Picture Machine

Sweeping the Country from Coast to Coast!

1907 MODELS. 1907 MODELS. 1907 MODELS. AUTOMATIC PARISIAN ICE CREAM CONE OVENS. ATTENTION, CONE MEN!

You can't afford to overlook this 1907 Model. It does the work perfectly, cooking a beautiful, crisp, artistic cone throughout. Don't blister your hands and work yourself to distraction day after day using the flat styles, when it can be so easily avoided. Buy an automatic outfit that is a pleasure to operate; the cost is a mere bagatelle compared to its value as a money-getter. No rolling cones. Dip Core in batter, insert in oven. Presto! Out comes a true cone ready for use. Shipping them everywhere. Come-back orders in every mail. Write quick for circulars and prices.

ATTENTION!!

1000 to 16,000 Candle Power.

Without delay write for catalogue describing the wonderful new Primo Incandescent gasoline lamps and portable machines for inside and outside lighting of Circuses, Shows of all descriptions, Base Ball at Night, and every kind of public gathering. They revolutionize! and through their surprising brilliancy, economy, compactness and ease of handling, are destined to supplant all the present methods of lighting for above purposes.

It is vastly to the interest of every showman and amusement promoter to find out about these lights. Write us now. Facts and figures will come to you by return mail.

MUTOSCOPES

"THE BACKBONE OF THE ARCADE BUSINESS"

The average town or city will readily support as many "Automatic Vaudeville" as it does theatres. Dozens of Arcades were opened last year, by men of no previous experience with coin-operating machines. Do you know of a good location? If so, don't hesitate. We have a splendid new model Mutoscope at $50.00, and bargains in used machines as low as $28.

INCREASE YOUR SALARY

You can learn it in a couple of hours. Highest paid, most sensational Mind Reading and Clairvoyance. Vaudeville Act. Did you see May Stuart, Prof. Ellis, Minnie St. Clair, and others? My new method can be performed single or double. Very easy if you know how.

MIND READING.

The audience writes questions, names of anything they want to, you read them and answer while blindfolded.

CLAIRVOYANCE.

Performed by two, your partner passes through the audience. They read him or her articles, watches, rings, money, toothpicks or anything. You immediately tell what it is blindfolded. I will write this out, explaining each and every detail completely, so plain that any child can do it. The two for a short time only, $5.00. Address W. L. B., Box 104, Jamison City, Pa., (Columbia Co.).

Wanted, FOR Billy Bennett's Big New Shows To Enlarge, Musicians for B. & O., Repertoire Actors, Vaudeville Artists, Circus Specialties (Ground and Aerial) of all kinds.

We present western comedy dramas with vaudeville and circus specialties between acts. One to three days stands, those doubling band or stage preferred. All must change for three days. Average of six night shows per week. Fifteen years of success, ample capital, twenty-eight years' experience, good sure salary, steady work and good accommodations for all is the record of this show. I pay all after jobbing. Big roomy all state room cars, built especially for me. Runs the year around—opera house in winter, under tent in summer. Lushers, Would-be Managers, Disorganizers, beware! (Reliable ladies and gentlemen, who can and will mind their own business and work to this show's interest are always appreciated in courtesy and cash, by the only manager with this show—Bennett). Show opens May 6. Rehearsals ten days earlier. (Board free while rehearsing) at permanent headquarters below. Address

BILLY BENNETT, Mgr., Milaca, Minn.

N. B.—This is the only show that stayed out and only missed one night all season in the blizzard-swept, snow-blocked Northwest, Dakota and Canada. Made money; gave satisfaction; never disappointed a date of its original route. Did not back into a harbor or show at cheap prices. Paid all salaries in full, as usual, and came back with the same people who started with us. They liked the place.

THE BIGGEST MONEY-MAKER IN THE DRINK LINE ON THE MARKET.

$30.00 profit on every pound. Delicious, refreshing, healthful, pure. Guaranteed under the National Pure Food Law. The best and most popular drink for fairs, parks, circuses or any place where people have a thirst. It is so good that the sale of one glass means several more to the same party. 1 lb. makes 40 gals. of the best drink you ever tasted. The additional expense attendant upon the requirements of the Pure Food Law compels us to slightly increase our price over that of last season, but even at that, there is more money to be made with this than with any other drink. Sample gallon 10c.; 1 lb. $2, prepaid. Write for price in larger quantities.
