INFORMATION FOR PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS

1. The property which is to be sold today and at other similar sales, to be announced in the near future, is formerly German-owned and currently vested in the German External Property Commission, an international organization for which SCAP is the agent in Japan.

2. Today's sale will be an open auction, at which bids will be accepted on the auction floor and each item sold to the highest qualified bidder. Future sales will be conducted either as open auctions or as sealed bid transactions, and will be so announced in advance of the date of sale.

3. Qualified bidders are comprised of: members of the United States and Allied occupation forces and their dependents, and clubs or organizations representing them; members of foreign missions; licensed commercial entrants; and foreign nationals entitled to hold currencies other than Japanese yen.

4. You will notice the conditions under which bids may be made and accepted posted prominently on the wall. In addition, please note the following:

a. No money will be accepted at the sales room. Payment will be accepted only at Osaka Branch, National City Bank of New York, Daiken Building, Kitahama 5-chome, Osaka, Japan.

b. The acceptability of foreign currencies is dependent upon their convertibility to United States dollars.

c. CPC makes no guarantee as to the condition of any property sold, beyond what the prospective buyer can see for himself, here where the articles are on display.

d. CPC will give good title to each article sold, evidenced by a bill of sale.

5. The successful bidder is requested to report to the desk of the auctioneer's clerk as soon as his purchase has been "knocked down" to him.

6. In the interest of conservation prospective purchasers are requested to keep this guide for use at subsequent sales.
