SOME WENT TO WORK ON ROLLER SKATES

Thousands of Chicagoans Used Bicycles; Street Car Strike in Progress

Chicago, June 14.—Chicagoans—approximately 1,500,000 of them—walked, cycled and used steam roads to their work to-day. A strike of 14,000 street car employees went into effect at midnight last night. Not a wheel on the 1,310 miles of track of the surface and elevated lines turned after 4 o'clock this morning, when the last crews took their cars into the barns.

It was the first time in a generation that all street car service in Chicago had been tied up completely. The strike was carried out early reports. Seven hundred policemen were on guard at the various barns to watch property and prevent the strikers from congregating. Orders to strike were issued after an all-day conference of union leaders, officials of the transportation companies, and Mayor Thompson in a vain attempt to bring about arbitration.

Approximately 6,000,000 cars are collected on the two electric systems daily. The surface lines collect 2,400,000 and the elevated 600,000. There are 3,125 cars operated daily by the surface lines and 1,518 on the elevated, which operates 215 miles of track. The surface line operates 1,995 miles. Hurried preparations were made overnight by officials of steam roads to bring to work to-day the great armies of clerks in stores, office workers and others in business in the downtown district. Hundreds of trains were added to the schedules.

Taxis did a rushing business and the five-cent-fare automobiles, which heretofore have failed to make progress in the transportation problem, were loaded with passengers. Hundreds of big motor trucks also were pressed into service. Roller skates were brought into use and thousands pedaled to their work on bicycles.

Arrangements to furnish 50,000 strike-breakers to operate cars and guard property were being made to-day. Agents of the two electric lines had arranged, it was said, to provide food and sleeping quarters in several large hotels. Employment agencies did a record-breaking business in procuring men for strikebreaking duty. Banquet halls, sample rooms and even the roofs of the large downtown hotels have been converted into sleeping quarters for nearly 15,000 persons who will be obliged to live near their places of business during the strike. At 8 a. m. a south side elevated train, carrying only a few passengers, made a round trip as a test. As a result it was announced that an attempt would be made to run trains with strikebreakers and guards every fifteen minutes. The surface lines made no attempt to work.

A carload of strikebreakers is reported to have arrived secretly from Cincinnati.

FROM THE TRENCHES. London, June 14.—Continuing his campaign to bring about an increase in the output of munitions of war, Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, spoke at Bristol on Saturday and made the declaration that War Secretary Kitchener already had given orders that certain British workmen be transferred from duty in the trenches in order to return to the British Isles and re-enter factories in need of their services.

TWO WERE DROWNED IN BURRARD INLET

Miss Hazel Perry and W. A. Damer Lost Lives at Old Moodyville Mill

Vancouver, June 14.—Miss Hazel Perry, of 405 Alder street, and W. A. Damer, of 587 Alder street, North Vancouver, were drowned in Burrard Inlet, at the old Moodyville mill, about 4.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

From the meagre details of the tragic happening at hand, it appears that Mr. Damer and Miss Perry were walking on a boom of logs tied up beside the mill, when Miss Perry slipped or caught her foot and fell into the water. Mr. Damer, it is believed, jumped in after her in an effort to save her and both were drowned. Mrs. Damer, Mr. Damer's wife, and Miss Perry's sister were in a boat within two hundred yards of the scene of the fatality at the time, but did not see the accident. It is thought the couple had just landed from the boat on the boom, or were going to get into the boat from the boom.

W. A. Damer, who was a native of Toronto and 32 years old, was accountant and assistant secretary of the Wallace Fisheries Company, Limited, of this city, whose offices are at 735 Grandville street. He was highly esteemed by his fellow officials and a great number of friends, and much regret was expressed when the sad news became known. Mr. and Mrs. Damer had no children.

Miss Hazel Perry, who was only 14 years old, was one of two daughters of George S. B. Perry, former news editor of the Vancouver World. At present Mr. Perry is engaged in the publicity department of the British Columbia government at the Panama-Pacific exposition. During the last season of the legislature he acted as correspondent of the Province newspaper at the Parliament buildings. Mrs. Perry, the mother of the victim, is staying at present in North Vancouver, as also is Ralph S. Perry, their son, who recently returned from Montreal, where he graduated from McGill.

The police started dragging operations immediately after receiving news of the tragedy. Further efforts were made to recover the bodies yesterday morning. The assistance of a diver was requisitioned by the police to help them in their search.

GERMAN PRESS IS DIVIDED IN OPINION

Berlin, June 14.—The Berlin papers generally comment more or less extensively on the United States' note.

While there is a general disposition to recognize the friendly tone of the note and the fact that it makes further negotiation possible, the press is divided roughly into two parties, one of which appears disposed to enter into negotiations looking to a compromise on a new basis, while the other, by implication or expressly, rejects any departure from the course heretofore followed.

BULGARIAN GOVERNMENT WILL SEND REPLY SOON

London, June 14.—A Reuter dispatch from Sofia says that the Russian minister had a long interview on Saturday with the prime minister of Bulgaria, M. Rodoslavoff, in the course of which he gave supplementary explanations regarding the proposals made by the Entente powers ten days ago. The Bulgarian government will reply at an early date.

ATTACKED BY YAQUI.

Douglas, Ariz., June 12.—Special dispatches from Nogales, Sonora, to-day state that mines and mules were again being landed from American cruisers on the west coast of Mexico to aid the American colonists at Empress, who again are besieged by Yaqui Indians.

TURKS CLAIM THEY REPULSED ATTACKS

Constantinople, June 14.—The Turkish war office has given the following statement regarding the fighting at the Dardanelles: "During the night of June 13-14 the enemy repeatedly attempted to attack our right wing, but was repulsed with heavy losses to his original positions. Yesterday our Anatolian coast batteries successfully bombarded the enemy's positions."

GENEROUS ACTION OF ITALIAN GOVERNMENT

Verona, June 14.—The Italian government, considering the poverty and miserable condition of the inhabitants of the districts just captured, has decided to give the families of inhabitants serving in the Austrian army from those districts the same allowances as the families of Italian soldiers, it is said. This will be announced in the new districts to-day.

HOPELESS.

"I may say that I honestly believe that the people of British Columbia are among the best governed in the world, and at the right time the vindication of the government's policy and record will be complete and overwhelming.

"I am here to say that not an acre of land, a foot of timber or an ounce of mineral have been lost to the province by fraud or otherwise, and that in its unalienated resources British Columbia's assets are worth at least fifty times its public debt.

The foregoing quotations are taken from the report of an interview with Mr. Bowser which appeared in the morning paper yesterday. They are interesting and instructive as portraying the acting-Premier's ideas of good government. They indicate that the case of the administration is hopeless and that the public need not expect from it any signs of reformation.

The speculator will continue to have his "chance" to the exclusion of the settler and industrial development in the public interest. Mackenzie and Mann will be allowed to revel further in the public credit. We shall pay more huge sums to political favorites who endeavor to acquire Indian reserves. The number of those who, in the words of Sir Richard McBride, hold large blocks of land which they are trying to exploit will be substantially increased.

Mr. Bowser has made so many reckless statements and escaped the consequences in his time that he has become a pitiable victim of self-deception. He thinks that the electors still can be duped by nonsense of this kind, that they will close their eyes to the existence of conditions which have struck at the very basis of the welfare and happiness and meekly will consent to their prolongation.

We wonder why Mr. Bowser did not put up a vigorous fight against the retirement of Mr. Ellison from the cabinet. The venture in the Esmondale cows was a minor incident, it is true, but it was a humble contribution to the roster of achievements which in the acting-Premier's opinion has made British Columbia one of the best governed countries in the world. Further it is not a little surprising that the head of that ministry of all the talents should maroon himself on the other side of the globe for two or three months without any distressing consequences to the thrice-blessed people of the province.

WHO RULES THE WAVES?

The Berlin official press bureau never tires of assuring the German people that the German navy has snatched from Great Britain the trident which signifies the mastery of the seas. Of course everybody outside of the German and Austrian empires laughs at the stupid claim, but probably the bulk of the duped subjects of Wilhelm and Francis Joseph believe it.

The other day when Herr Bernhard Dernburg, the Kaiser's agitator extraordinary to the United States, decided to act upon the hints from Washington and leave for more congenial parts, he found it necessary to ask the American government to arrange with the authorities of Great Britain and France for safe conduct across the Atlantic.

A LIBEL UPON THE COUNTRY.

In its efforts to excuse the Borden government the Vancouver News-Advertiser asserted that there were more scandals connected with the administration of the British war department than there were in connection with the militia department at Ottawa in the matter of the purchase of war supplies. Defending the Roblin government, the same newspaper says the public departments of the country are no less honestly conducted than the affairs of private establishments.

AID NEEDED.

It is to be hoped that the government will give sympathetic consideration to the application of the municipal council for assistance in dealing with the unemployment question. The government has adopted certain measures and works of relief, but these merely touch the fringe of this, the most urgent situation which confronts the people of this province at the present time.

taxed ratepayers of the various cities are not in a position to provide relief commensurate with the demand for it. What is the government prepared to do about it?

SOMEWHAT GROTESQUE.

In the course of a lengthy contribution to the Empire Day edition of the London Times, the Canadian correspondent of that paper (Sir John Willison) says:

"It is, perhaps, natural that Sir Robert Borden should desire first of all that the revolutionary action of his government in sending an army to Europe should be sanctioned by the people and that the authority of himself and his colleagues to represent the Dominion in the councils of the empire should be established beyond the possibility of doubt."

This is weird nonsense apiece with Sir John Willison's arguments in favor of an election during the summer with which he has been favoring the readers of his newspaper, the Toronto News. There is nothing revolutionary in the action of Canada in sending an army to Europe. It was entirely constitutional, being authorized by parliament without a dissenting voice.

ITALY AND GREECE.

Rome to-day officially gives currency to the surprising report that the Austrians are preparing to evacuate Trieste. This seems too good to be true, for both Germany and Austria regard the celebrated Adriatic seaport as the lung of the dual alliance. The question of its future was the chief stumbling block in the negotiations between Italy and Austria preliminary to the former's intervention in the struggle and it is inconceivable that Austria would abandon it to the enemy without fighting to the last gasp except for strategic reasons involving very wide considerations.

LOOK AT BOTH SIDES.

We get depressed sometimes at the losses we ourselves have sustained; but consider how appalling must be the losses of the German nation on its two fronts and try and estimate how long that nation alone can stand the continuance of such losses. An optimism that leads to neglect would be fatally unwise; but it is equally foolish to sink into a fit of depression.

LESSON OF THE LUSITANIA.

War by land leaves the havoc of its passage bitten into the face of the country; war by water, or submarine on the high seas, leaves no vestige upon the scene. Poets have found a cold, unquerable callousness in the nature of the sea, that can swallow up so much human life and agony, and a moment later lie calm and smiling beneath the sun.

LOVE OF LIBERTY.

Personal liberty is infinitely the most important possession of the Anglo-Saxon nations. That liberty has been secured by centuries of struggle, and by the gradual evolution of parliamentary government. The German has no idea of it, and no regard for it.

THRUST AT LEMBERG ENDED IN FAILURE

Petrograd, June 14.—With the signal defeat on Wednesday night of General von Mackensen's main army, which was moving along the railway to Minsk, the attempt on Lemberg has been abandoned. General von Mackensen started his attack with a terrific three hours' artillery bombardment, to which the Russians did not reply.

ities of the situation on the eastern and western fronts. They have been severely checked by the Russians in Galicia and a further set-back might end in disaster. Likewise in the west the situation always is threatening.

Almost with unanimous voice the world lauds the efficiency of the Germans. They have been as thorough in their system of alienating any sympathy for their cause as they have been in preparing for and waging war.

This tardiness of Sir Richard has passed the joking stage. His absence is beginning to get on the nerves of his friends.

NEW GROUND TAKEN TO NORTH OF ARRAS

Berlin, June 14.—The following official statement was issued to-day: "The French suffered a severe defeat on the front between Lievin and Arras. After the enemy's columns, which were preparing to make an advance by storm, had been repulsed several times in the course of the day by our artillery, strong enemy attacks in close formation were begun toward evening against our positions on both sides of the Lorette Hills and on the Neuville-Bocancourt front.

"Minor attacks by the enemy on the Yser canal were repulsed. "East of Hebuterne infantry battles have net led to any results worth mentioning. Advances against positions conquered by us in Champagne were frustrated at every outset."

come. It was this shortage, according to the belief here, that enabled the Austro-Germans last month to sweep across the country and take Permyn.

Petrograd, June 14.—With the signal defeat on Wednesday night of General von Mackensen's main army, which was moving along the railway to Minsk, the attempt on Lemberg has been abandoned.

It became captain at 24, and there he stuck. His tousled hair became streaked with grey, and he was still a captain. But he kept his powers. It used to require nerve to go to a dentist and say: "Please fix this tooth, quick." It was only when the nerve of the tooth became so clamorous for attention that the other sort of nerve got to the sticking point. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY
