

Weymouth Gazette

AND TRANSCRIPT

WEYMOUTH, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1913.

VOL. XLVII. NO. 12.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

HEALD-MATTSON.

Prominent South Weymouth Young Man Takes Popular East Weymouth Girl for Bride.

Last Saturday evening at 530 Main street, South Weymouth, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Heald, Miss Minnie Lillian Mattson, daughter of Mrs. Hilda A. Mattson of East Weymouth, became the bride of Charles Tower Heald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Heald.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Wilson of the Unitarian church of Milton, New Hampshire, a classmate of the groom at Worcester Academy, assisted by Rev. Dr. George A. Grant of the M. E. church of East Weymouth.

Miss Margaret Heald, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and she was attired in pink silk with imported lace. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

The flower girl was Miss Darthea Heald, a sister of the groom. She was dressed in white silk net and carried roses.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white como satin with Duchess lace trimmings. Her tulle veil was held in place by rose buds and she carried a bouquet of bride roses.

The ribbon bearers were Miss Margaret Stowers and Master Clifton Stowers.

The best man was Stanley T. Heald, Amherst '14, a brother of the groom, and the ushers were Halsey Elwell, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Clark Reed, Yale '14, and Earle Bates, Brown University, all of South Weymouth.

A reception followed the ceremony from 8.15 until 10. The rooms were tastefully decorated in pink and white with a profusion of carnations, spruce and palms artistically arranged, making the scene a very beautiful one indeed.

The wedding march was played by an orchestra composed of several members from the Boston Symphony Orchestra. During the reception selections were given by this orchestra.

A wedding lunch was served during the evening by a Boston caterer.

Mr. and Mrs. Heald left for a month's wedding trip in Maine and on their return will reside at 530 Main street, South Weymouth, until the completion of their new home on Columbian street.

The bride is one of East Weymouth's most popular young ladies and her pleasing personality and attractive manner makes friends for her of all she comes in contact. For the past few years she has been forewoman in the office of the Stetson Shoe Co. in South Weymouth.

Mr. Heald is a member of the Stetson Shoe Co. and is a favorite with all who know him. He was prominent in athletics while in school and has been manager of some of the best school and semi-professional teams in this vicinity. He is an active member in the Norfolk club of South Weymouth and has always taken a great interest in town affairs.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Something Doing and a Proper Celebration in Sight.

After quite a protracted discussion of a town Fourth of July celebration at the Board of Trade meeting last night, most of the mist rolled away and the air became clear for a celebration worthy of the name.

Everybody lined up on the right side and backed up their action with money, several hundred dollars were either paid on the spot or pledged by responsible parties.

Clapp Memorial building and grounds were selected as the place for a general gathering and probably evening band concerts in other parts of the town. More definite details will be given next week.

Storms—Dunkerley.

A very pleasant wedding took place on Monday evening, June 2d at the residence of Henry M. Storms in East Braintree. The groom was Freedom Davis Storms and the bride, Lottie F. Dunkerley. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock p. m. by Rev. William Hyde of Trinity church and the service was the double ring service of the Episcopal church. A number of friends and relatives of the families were present and the happy pair will reside at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Treating a Cold.

We like to think that we are much wiser, much more sensible and much further advanced than our ancestors, and so we are perhaps in many ways. Yet almost a hundred and forty years ago John Adams, who was working for his country like many other men and who had no idea that he would one day be president, and that his sayings would be worth quoting, prescribed the most modern sort of treatment for a cold—plenty of fresh air.

HOLIDAY RACING FAST.

Matinee of Old Colony Driving Club Attracts Good Crowd Who Witness Many Fast Races.

With excellent weather conditions and a fine list of entries, the large crowd that attended the matinee racing of the Old Colony driving club at the Fair grounds, South Weymouth, last Friday afternoon, were treated to some of the best trotting and pacing in the history of the club.

Out of 38 horses entered, 34 of them started in the races in the several classes. The chestnut gelding, Benjamin, owned and driven by J. Anderson, made the fastest time of the day, pacing the first heat of Class A. in 1.02½ and the second in 1.08½.

In the contest for second place in this class, Miss Winifred won on the third try in 1.08½.

Willie J. and Katherine R. had a close go in Class C race, the latter winning the last two heats by the narrowest margins. The summary:

Class A. Pacing.
Benjamin, chg (Mr. Anderson) 1 1 0
Miss Winifred, bm (E. H. Waite) 2 3 1
Edith R, chm (J. B. Reed) 3 2 2
Time, 1.02½, 1.08½, 1.08½.

Class B. Mixed.
Kaldar, bg (S. B. Totman) 1 1
Van Dyke, blg (C. T. Crowley) 2 2
Fayne Jennings, bm (D. F. Bates) 3 3
Chato, bg (Lot L. Jones) 4 4
Time, 1.09½, 1.10½.

Class C. Trotting.
Katherine R., bm (Thayer) 2 1 1
Willie J, chg (C. H. Richards) 1 2 2
Time, 1.11½, 1.07½, 1.08.

Class D. Mixed.
Thistle, bg (J. F. Hollis) 1 1
Fancy P., bm (H. D. Stetson) 2 2
Belle of Easter, bm (E. F. Maher) 3 3
Time, 1.12½, 1.11½.

Class E. Pacing.
King Bogash, brg (F. P. Fay) 3 2 1
Kathleen, bm (C. E. McKenzie) 2 1 2dr
Budwaiser, bg (J. W. Linnahan) 1 3dr
Time, 1.15½, 1.10½, 1.12½.

Class F. Mixed.
Allegro, bg (J. W. Ford) 1 1
Boxer, bg (G. H. Williamson) 2 2
Charlton, bm (Howard Poole) 3 3
Time, 1.14½, 1.13½.

Class G. Trotting.
Charlie Morgan, bg (T. Green) 1 1
Lady B, bm (G. W. Young) 2 2
Bertha B, bm (J. F. Burns) 3 3
Stella Nelson, bm (C. E. Abbott) 4 5
Miss Lake, chm (H. C. Thayer) 5 4
Time, 1.14½, 1.13½.

Class H. Pacing.
Doubtful, bg (T. McKenzie) 4 1 1
Lady Spier, bm (Bellows) 1 3 3
Sidney, gg (J. D. Leavitt) 2 2 2
Stella, bm (C. F. Cavanagh) 3 4 4
J. H. T., bg (J. H. Thompson) 5 5 5
Time, 1.18, 1.16½, 1.20.

Class I. Mixed.
Cochato Maid, bm (W. F. Crane) 1 1
Queen McGregor, bm (Frank) 2 2
Life Line, bg (W. O. Sturtevant) 3 3
Time, 1.26, 1.26.

Class J. Trotting.
Maria T, bm (G. W. Tuckerman) 1 2 1
Kentuck, bg (Victor Duplin) 3 1 2
Jerry S, bg (C. I. Swan) 2 3 3
Time, 1.38½, 1.34½, 1.37.

Ruth J. Burgess of Hingham Center, Dead.

Ruth J., wife of George W. Burgess, passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Spear, 41 Pearl street, North Weymouth, Friday afternoon, May 30. Mrs. Burgess had not been in good health for the past year and four weeks ago an operation was advised. She was taken to the Massachusetts Homeopathic hospital. After what was considered a successful operation, her strength permitted her to be removed to the home of Mrs. Spear. In a few days, a change took place and death soon followed.

Deceased was the daughter of the late James W. and Elizabeth French of East Weymouth. She was born May 3, 1858. Twenty-nine years ago she married George W. Burgess of North Weymouth, who with four children, Charles W., Arthur F., Catherine and Helen Burgess, survive her.

Funeral services were held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Spear, Monday afternoon, June 2. Rev. E. A. Robinson of the Hingham Center Congregational church officiated. The ladies' quartette of East Weymouth rendered several beautiful selections. The bearers were Charles W. Burgess, Burgess H. Spinney, Cecil L. Spinney and Herman O. Collyer. The funeral was largely attended by friends and neighbors who showed their love and esteem by numerous beautiful floral offerings. Burial was at the Fairmount cemetery, East Weymouth.

"We've laid her at rest 'neath the shade trees
We've kissed her the last sad goodbye,
It seems that we can't live without her,
But it is only God who knows why."

DEWEYS IN FIELD AGAIN.

"Lefty" Ford of Quincy Has Fast Aggregation for Hard Schedule This Season.

After a year's lay-off, the Dewey baseball nine of Weymouth Landing is again in the field and with a fast, speedy aggregation and a hustling manager in the person of "Lefty" Ford of Quincy, the fans of the Landing are sure of some high class games this season. The home games will be played at Garfield Park. Manager Ford has reduced his squad to the following list of players and the season's team will be selected from these men:—catcher, "Pappy" Wall, the former Weymouth high school star and Tufts college backstop; pitchers, "Lefty" Ford, formerly with Jesse Burkett's champion Worcester nine of the New England league; Ray Condrick, last year's C. M. A. star, and "Archie" Dam, the veteran ball tosser of this section for the past few years. At first Della Hall will hold sway. McCarthy at second and Gills in the short field, two of the best men in the Quincy City League last year, will be seen and at the third sack, Curtis of Quincy will attempt to show Larry Gardner how the bag should be played. In the outfield, Ryan, Dam and Humphrey will take care of everything that gets by the infield. Charlie Orr, the second sacker of the C. M. A. team last year, will give up active playing this season and do the indicator work in the home games of the Deweys. Manager Ford has arranged the following schedule:

May 30, a. m.—Stetson Shoe nine at Weymouth.

May 30, p. m.—Makarias of Quincy at Weymouth.

May 31—Somerville at Weymouth.

June 7—Winthrop at Weymouth.

June 14—Braintree at Weymouth.

June 17—South Quincy at Weymouth.

June 21—Rockland at Weymouth.

June 28—U. S. S. Nebraska at Weymouth.

July 4, a. m.—Stetson Shoe at Weymouth.

July 4 p. m.—Clapp Memorial Association nine at East Weymouth.

July 12—Beverly at Weymouth.

July 19—Makarias at Weymouth.

July 26—Clapp M. A. at Weymouth.

Aug. 2—Rockland at Weymouth.

Aug. 9—Harvard "Pilgrims" at Weymouth.

Aug. 16—Open.

Aug. 23—Open.

Aug. 30.—Makarias at Weymouth.

Sept. 1, a. m.—Stetson Shoe nine at South Weymouth.

Sept. 1, p. m.—Clapp M. A. at Weymouth.

Firemen's Relief Memorial.

The Weymouth Firemen's Relief Association will observe next Sunday, the 8th, as Memorial Day.

Early in the morning, in other than Ward 5, the graves of departed members will be visited and floral offerings made.

Cars will leave Poulin's Turnout, North Weymouth, at 8.15 for South Weymouth via Jackson and Lincoln squares. On arriving at South Weymouth a line will be formed and the last resting place of those in Ward 5 will be decorated, when the column will proceed to the Universalist church where Rev. W. W. Rose will preach a memorial sermon. All ex-firemen are invited to join in these services.

New Summer Show at Kincaide Theatre Quincy.

It's simply one good show after another at Quincy's pretty playhouse. The bill now being presented is mighty good.

Alexander paints pictures in oil, draws more with chalk, and whistles and sings meanwhile. The Martelles with their $1,000 baby grand piano get great applause. Silver & Duval present a pleasing comedy skit. Col. Mack & Company have a novel comedy farce entitled "The Giant Cobbler." Among the many good picture features is "The Bells," in two parts, as played by the tale Sir Henry Irving.

The Big Summer Show starts Monday. The headline attraction is "The Kincaide Players" in that great Scotch musical comedy, "On the Banks of Loch Lomond."

This company consists of eleven international favorites who have been successfully touring this state for several months. They are all artists of exceptional ability and have a repertoire of fourteen bright, breezy plays. They'll present two each week during the summer.

Among the vaudeville features are Kenos, Welsh and Melrose in a lively acrobatic comedy funfest. Also that great colored comedian "Honey" Johnson, "the man with the Golden Shoes."

The usual good variety of Photo-Plays and music make up the excellent program.—Advertisement.

CLAPP WINS IN NINTH.

Luck Breaks Against High School Nine in Final Inning and Clapp Noses Out a Win 6 to 5.

Hard luck continues to camp on the trail of the High school nine if the game with the C. M. A. nine can be taken as a criterion. After out-batting and practically outplaying the Clapp Memorial nine at the C. M. A. grounds in East Weymouth last Saturday afternoon, a lucky scratch hit by Ahlstedt scored two runs and won the game for Clapp after the High school nine had four runs in the eighth on an error and three hits. With the bases full in the last of the ninth, Ahlstedt, batting for Humphrey swung at a low ball. The bat hit the ball on the bounce and a weak Texas leaguer resulted. Doble and Bates scoring on the hit. The features of the game were contributed by Gloster, who made a wonderful barehand catch of a foul fly, and Fraher and Burrell for the High school and Cahill excelled for Clapp. The score:

CLAPP MEMORIAL.

	bh	po	a	e
Doble, cf	1	2	0	0
M. Gorman, 3b	1	0	0	2
Humphrey, ss	1	1	2	0
Gills, 1b	0	8	0	0
Drinkwater, c	1	3	4	0
Cahill, 2b	0	9	3	0
Keefe, p	1	1	2	0
Condrick, lf	9	2	0	0
Bates, rf, ss	1	1	1	0
Ahlstedt, rf	1	0	0	0
Totals	7	27	12	2

WEYMOUTH H. S.

	bh	po	a	e
V. Gorman, 2b	0	2	1	1
Murphy, 1b	0	12	1	1
Gloster, 3b	3	3	4	0
Vander, cf	2	1	0	0
Fraher, c	1	6	4	0
Bell, rf	0	0	0	0
Reilly, ss	0	0	3	0
Burrell, lf	3	2	0	0
Munroe, p	2	0	3	2
Totals	11	26	16	4

Two out when winning run was scored.

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Clapp M. A. 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 4—6

Weymouth H. S. 0 0 0 0 6 1 4 0—5

Runs—Clapp 6, Weymouth 5. Drinkwater, Keefe, Condrick, Bates, Gloster, Vander, Bell, Burrell 2. Two base hit—Burrell. Stolen bases—Doble, Bates, V. Gorman, Gloster 2, Fraher 2, Burrell. Base on balls—by Keefe 3, by Munroe 5. Sacrifice hits—Humphrey, Cahill, Condrick. Double plays—Murphy, Fraher, and Murphy; Murphy and V. Gorman; Cahill (unassisted). Hit by pitched ball—Keefe.

Wild pitch—Munroe. Passed balls—Fraher, Drinkwater. Time—1 hr. 40. Umpire—Nolan.

High School Alumni Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Weymouth high school alumni association will be held this year on Wednesday, June 25, in the high school hall, East Weymouth.

Previous to the supper at 6.30 o'clock a social hour will be held. At 7.30 the business meeting of the association will occur, followed by a concert from 8 to 9, and dancing until 12 o'clock.

Ticket arrangements are in charge of Miss Helen Curtis and Edwin R. Sampson, Ward 1; Miss May Sheehy, Ward 2; Miss May Chessman, Ward 3, and Miss Florence Howe, Ward 4 and 5.

Teachers Meet.

The Weymouth Teacher's Association held its last meeting of the season Wednesday evening in high school hall. The teachers were addressed by Miss Scollard, president of the Boston Elementary Teachers Association who spoke on "Teachers' Pensions." Ice cream, cake and candy were served at daintily decorated tables by Miss Marguerite Connor, Miss Rita C. Page, Miss Ida M. Cronin, Miss Ruth Reidy and Miss Margaret Dingwall.

W. R. C. Notes.

Reynolds W. R. C. 102 will hold its regular meeting in G. A. R. hall on Tuesday, the 10th, at 2.30 p. m. and will entertain the Norwell Corps.

Each May Be a Hero.

There is no trade or employment but the young man following it may become a hero.—Walt Whitman.

Books for the Children.

Care must be taken in the stories we give to growing children that evil is always overcome. Book friends are very real to boys and girls and influence their character. There should be effort and conflict in their stories and daring endurance and steadfast purpose. Stories in which the child hero acts rightly are particularly valuable, because what a boy or girl has done appeals more directly to the child's own power. He feels though he may not express it even to himself that what other children have done he can do.

FARMERS' BALL.

Weymouth Council 729 K. of C. Entertains Extra Large Crowd in Town Hall, East Weymouth Last Thursday Evening.

In spite of threatening weather and slight showers last Thursday afternoon and evening, all the "farmers" and their wives, sweethearts and friends "greased their boots, hitched up the mare" and drove to the Town hall, East Weymouth, where a "first rate" ball was held under the auspices of the Weymouth Knights of Columbus "fellers" for the benefit of the sick fund of the council.

The first feature of the evening's program was a street parade by the farmers with the "women folks" in hay ricks.

Chief of Police Patrick Butler, with Patrolmen A. H. Pratt and Lawrence Schofield led the parade, followed by the Stetson Shoe Co. band. Behind the band in double file came the farmers, all dressed up in Bingville costume and also the "gals" who were decked out in dairy maid style and in colonial dress and everybody wore a brand new smile for all were out to enjoy themselves to the utmost.

The parade formed in Jackson square and marched up Broad street to Central square and then down Broad street to Pleasant street to the Town hall where the band was dismissed for the evening.

Inside the hall, the crowd was rapidly growing larger every moment and when the grand march was held, even standing room was unavailable.

The prizes for the best costumes in the march were awarded by the judges to: ladies, first, desk basket of candy, Helen Condrick; second, large box of candy, Miss Katherine Desmond; third, basket of candy, Miss Miriam Douglas; gentlemen's first, box of cigars, George Ellard; second, French briar pipe, Edwin DeLorey and third, jar of tobacco, Joseph Kelley.

At the conclusion of the grand march a very well arranged order of eighteen dances was started with Cuff's orchestra of eight pieces furnishing music, from an artistically decorated stage.

The entire hall was prettily decorated with leaves, boughs and cut flowers, which with the many varied costumes made a very pleasing scene.

During the evening refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Paul B. Mulready, chairman, Charles A. Smith, Eugene Smith, John McKeever, Edward Quinlan, P. Kearns, Joseph McDonald, Carmine Garfalo and the Misses Annie and Mary Kearns.

The affair was directly in charge of the officers of the council assisted by K. of C. members in this vicinity.

Town Business.

At the meeting of the School Board held on Tuesday evening the present corps of teachers was re-elected and the following additions made Emma F. Harris, Caroline B. Nickerson, Helena Reidy.

The selectmen are in receipt of a petition for the Bay State St. R. for a permit to relocate its track from Church to Sea street.

The Light and Power Co. have been granted permission to locate 4 poles in Richmond street, 6 poles on Summit street and 5 on Adams place.

The State Highway Commission have signified to the Selectmen their willingness to oil the State Highways in town.

The engineer employed by the town to investigate its water supply and methods of work is making progress and ask for records of quantities of water used during stated period of each day, also school and other population at different periods of the existence of the water system.

At the Monday meeting of the Selectmen a petition for permit to hold public dances at New Downer Landing in Tuesday and Thursday night was received and also a counter petition from residents of North Weymouth and the counter petition won the day.

At the meeting on Tuesday evening of the fire engineers it was voted to have the Combination auto in Ward 3 respond to all first alarms in Ward 1 and 2, and also to the first alarm from boxes 41, 46, 47, 48 and 49.

The electric light committee met on Tuesday evening and voted to install 100 additional lights in town; the same to be distributed as nearly as possible to meet the wants as expressed in the March meeting warrant.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. Kempf at Kempf's Pharmacy in Washington Square, Weymouth, takes this opportunity to thank his many old and new patrons who have combined to make the recent coupon contest a grand success, and with the same courteous and careful treatment as before, earnestly hopes for a continuation of your patronage.

ECHOES FROM MEMORIAL DAY.

Work of Reynolds Post No. 58, G. A. R. Other Patriotic Orders and Citizen's Renewed.

The worst fears, in regard to weather, of those who were especially interested in Memorial day exercises, were removed when the sun arose Friday morning and while there still was little chill in the air from the recent east wind and storm, the day opened bright and clear and continued through the day.

According to prearranged plans, smaller and outlying cemeteries were visited early in the morning and the "low green tents" of soldiers and sailors received a floral tribute.

Thomas' Corner, North Weymouth, was the first objective point for the participants in the day's work and there the first line was formed.

This line was composed of Weymouth High School, under Chief Butler; Carter's Band; Reynolds Post 58, G. A. R., Joseph P. Ford, commander; Major F. A. Bicknell, chief of staff; Co. A., S. V. C. Andrew Curley in command; Co. B., J. V. C. I. H. Walker, commander; James L. Bates Camp, S. of V., Ernest A. Smith, captain; Boy Scouts of East Weymouth, John A. McFann in charge; Boy Scouts of Lovell's Corner, Frank N. Blanchard, in charge; 140 children from the Athens and Adams school, in charge of Principal Goughart; and carriages and automobiles with invited guests.

The line of march was to the North Weymouth cemetery where usual exercises were held and cars taken to Lincoln square where line was again formed with a large contingent of children from the Hunt and Tufts school in charge of Principal Barry, taking the place of those in line at North Weymouth. The column marched to Village cemetery via Washington street and on completion of the decoration of graves, took cars for South Weymouth, reformed the line at Stetson's Corner, taking on as assistants many school children in charge of Principal Hollis. At the Highland cemetery there was the usual service which always includes a special tribute to Gen. James L. Bates.

The column, on reforming, marched to Columbian Square, where cars were taken for Mt. Hope and on completion of the work in which they were assisted by scholars from the Pratt school in charge of Principal Murphy, the forenoon's work was done.

Cars were now taken for East Weymouth with the first objective point Oed Fellows' opera house, on arriving at which, a line was formed and members of Dorothea Dix Tent, D. of V., adorned each veteran with a neat button hole bouquet and then the multitude filed into the banquet room of the opera house for dinner. Divine blessing was invoked by Chapter J. Q. Spear and the order, "charge to your rations" was given.

The "rations" were a well ordered menu by the W. R. C., with Jones B. Morrill, chief.

Following the dinner was a little season of rest during which the band gave several of its most choice selections. When we say band, we would not forget the Corps favorite bugler, Miss Theodora Keith, whose lot was with the band the entire day, and an occasional solo by her, was much appreciated.

At 2.30 the final events of the day were on. Cars were taken for Fairmount cemetery via Pleasant street and here the decoration work for 1913 ended and the last march of the line began and ended at Jackson Square where cars were taken for the Clapp Memorial grounds and building which had been kindly tendered to the Post by President H. R. Drinkwater for the dress parade and exercises in the hall.

Bradford Hawes was acting adjutant for the dress parade and the field presented a fine appearance as the men were in line for the final inspection and roll call.

The hall was filled to the limit for the next and last event of the day which consisted of a brief address of welcome by the commander; a very pointed, patriotic and soul stirring ten minutes' talk by Rev. Dr. Grant; Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Frank Briggs; reading of Mrs. Jennie F. Stoddard's poem, "A Tribute to our Dead Heroes," by Mrs. Stella Richards, "The Little Brown Button" by Miss Sally Clark; accompanied by Miss McIsaac, "Star Spangled Banner," band and audience; taps, Miss Keith, and 1913 was practically at an end, 449 Weymouth soldiers were resting beneath new floral tributes and among them were 13 who had joined the host of immortals since Memorial of 1912.

We might say much of the aged men in line of how the infirmities of age is telling on them and of the new factor, the Boy Scouts, who were so useful during the day and although they looked too young for military duty, many of the veterans were not as old as some of them when they went to the front in '61.

GRANITE TRUST COMPANY

QUINCY, MASS.
Successor to
National Granite Bank
THEOPHILUS KING, Pres.
H. F. CLAPLIN, Cashier.

General Banking Business transacted.
Liberal Accommodations to Business men.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT,
ONLY $5.00 A YEAR.

AMERICAN EXPRESS CHEQUES for sale

SOUTH WEYMOUTH SAVINGS BANK

Incorporated March 6, 1905

OFFICERS 1913:

President - R. WALLACE HUNT.

Vice-Presidents: WELLS J. FITCHER,
ALMON B. RAYMOND.

Treasurer: FRED T. BARNES.

BANK HOURS:

9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 4 P. M. Also Mondays, 7 to 9 P. M. Saturdays, 9 to 12 A. M.

Deposits go on interest second Wednesday of January, April, July and October.
Dividends payable on and after the second Wednesday of January and July.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Fogg Building, Columbian Square.

CAPITAL, $100,000. Surplus, $80,000

DIRECTORS:

EDWARD B. NEVIN, President.
EDWARD R. HASTINGS, Vice-President.
J. H. STETSON, Cashier.

ALLEN B. VINING, GORDON WILLIS,
CHARLES H. PRATT, THERON L. TIRRELL.

Banking Hours: 9 to 12 A. M.; 2 to 4 P. M.
Saturdays, 9 to 12 A. M.

South Shore Co-operative Bank.

MEETINGS First Monday of Each Month.

At 9 Commercial Street,
at 7.30 P. M.

Money to Loan at Each Meeting on Mortgages of Real Estate.

For information, or Loans between the meetings, apply to

CHAS. G. JORDAN, Sec'y-Treas.
Weymouth, Mass.

THE EAST WEYMOUTH Savings Bank.

President - W. H. PRATT

Vice-Presidents: T. H. Emerson,
E. M. Carter.

Treasurer, John A. Raymond

Clerk, John A. MacFann

BOARD OF INVESTMENTS:

W. A. Drake, W. H. Pratt,
T. H. Emerson, E. M. Carter,
BRADFORD HAWES, EUGENE M. CARTER.

Dividends payable on the 10th of April and October.

Deposits placed on interest on the 10th
Jan., April, July and Oct.

BANK HOURS DAILY,

From 9 to 12 A. M., and 2 to 5 P. M., excepting Saturdays, when the hours will be from 9 A. M. to 12 M. only. Mondays 7 to 8.30 p. m. for deposits only.

WEYMOUTH Savings Bank.

CHARLES A. HAYWARD, President.
CHARLES T. CRANE, Treasurer.

VICE PRESIDENTS:

Francis H. Cowing, Henry A. Nash.

BOARD OF INVESTMENTS:

CHARLES A. HAYWARD, FRANCIS H. COWING,
HENRY A. NASH, EDWARD W. HUNT,
WALTER F. SANBORN.

Bank Hours—9 to 12 A. M., 1.30 to 5 P. M.
8.30 to 9 Monday Evenings, and 9 to 12 A. M.
Saturdays.

Deposits placed on interest on the First Monday of January, April, July and October.

HAYWARD BROTHERS

Carpenters and Builders : : :

QUINCY AVENUE,
East Braintree.

P.O. Address, Weymouth.

ON THE FARM

Read this column and you can have it delivered at your house with something new every week for a full year by sending $2.00 to this office now.

The golden text for June is: "Keep the soil stirred."

The hen that lays 150 eggs in a year is doing mighty good laying.

The modern poultry house has everything inside it easily movable.

No wonder some men's hens never weigh anything. The lice have just about carried them away.

Keep the fruit of strawberries cool until the time to use or market them. Never pick berries for market when they are wet.

An hour's work with a sharp wire at the foot of your fruit trees killing borers, may mean an extra bushel of fine apples, pears or other fruit.

String beans, lima beans, sweet corn, musk melons, watermelons and squashes are distinctly warm weather plants and seed of these should not be planted till the soil becomes thoroughly warm and the weather settled. A warm soil and exposure are conducive to their early growth and later development.

Summer pruning is often resorted to when the tree is making too heavy a wood growth at the expense of fruitfulness. A moderate pruning at the height of the growing season (in June or July, depending on the season and latitude) checks the wood growth and causes the tree to throw its strength toward the formation of fruit buds.

Corn should be cultivated often enough to keep down weeds and to maintain constantly a loose soil mulch till the corn has attained its growth. To this end a greater number of cultivations will be necessary when rains at intervals of about a week cause the surface soil to run together and crust. This crust must be broken and the soil mulch restored or evaporation will soon rob the soil of its moisture.

To grow clean, first-class fruit, spraying is absolutely necessary. It has become as much an essential orchard operation as pruning, cultivation, etc. Spraying is insurance. It saves the crop this year, and keeps the tree healthy so it can bear a good crop next year. Careless inefficient spraying is worthless—study the insects and diseases and know what you are spraying for.

A proper circulation of air in the soil is just as important as any other factor of plant growth. Nearly half of the volume of ordinary soils is occupied by air spaces. Plant roots must be supplied with air, and the soil must be porous enough to permit of free circulation. A good supply of humus and proper tillage will accomplish this result in clay soils. Sandy soils are usually too porous, needing humus to help them retain water.

There are many good vegetables which all could grow in their home gardens, but which few do because they consider them too difficult for the average person to handle. The fact is that any of us could grow many more varieties with a little extra effort. Some uncommon kinds are nearly as easy to grow as the common kinds. Your particular garden soil may be adapted to the growth of some very good things that you have never tried, and the only sure way of finding out is to try.

The more highbred and spirited the horse, the more dainty he will be about his feed, and the greater care must be taken to keep feed boxes and mangers free from filth. Almost any scrub would, however, refuse to eat out of mangers as they often are left, with portions of the unconsumed hay or grain to be run over and soiled by the fowls while the horse is away at work. This is a too common condition of many farmers' stables at this season, when increasing warmth dulls the appetite and makes soiled food doubly offensive by its decay.

Subscribe now for the Gazette and Transcript. It will cost you less than four cents a week to get this department.

Unique Signs in France.
Frederick C. Penfield was walking along a New Jersey road while his chauffeur fixed a broken tire. He noticed a danger sign at the roadside.

"In France," he said, "at the entrance to their towns they have signs that are characteristically French and seem to me delightful in spirit. Over the road as you enter the town limits is an arch on which is printed the name of the town, the number of the road—for all the roads are numbered in France—and the name of the department in which the town lies. Then below those in larger letters, 'Attention aux enfants' ('Be careful about the children'). And then as you leave the town you see the back side of a similar sign, which says 'Merci' ('Thanks').—New York Post.

COUPON CONTEST ENDS.

Miss Alice Corridan, the Winner of Piano at Kempf's Pharmacy.

The coupon contest at Kempf's pharmacy in Washington Square, Weymouth, ended last Saturday night after an exciting run of six months.

The first prize, a piano, goes to Miss Corridan, second prize, a music box, to Leon Shaw and third, a fountain pen, to Russell Dexhelmer.

Miss Corridan had first place in the race practically clinched two months ago, with Leon Shaw safely seated in second place. The contest for third place was close up to the final count with Dexhelmer coming fast in the closing two days and beating out William Wallace by 23,810 points. The prizes were delivered to the lucky contestants the first of the week. The final score follows:

Alice Corridan	230,290
Leon Shaw	182,715
Russell Dexhelmer	120,240
William Wallace	94,980
Catherine Johnson	28,040

Baseball Notes.

In the Brown vs Harvard game at Providence last Friday, Reg. Nash and Carl Loud, the South Weymouth boys playing with Brown, were very much in evidence. Loud got two hits, one of which was a two bagger, scored two runs and stole a base. He did not have a chance in the field. Nash got one hit, scored a run, stole a base and made one of the prettiest catches ever seen in a college game.

Bert Doble played in centerfield for the C. M. A. nine in the opening game at the Clapp Memorial last Saturday and played a very good game. Doble's base running is still as sensational as ever, but his stickwork is rather light.

Leo Fraher, the high school catcher is one of the best back stops ever developed in town. This youngster is fast on his feet, goes after a foul ball like a major-leaguer, and can throw, and bat in first class style.

Aud J. Burrell of East Weymouth is playing a fine game in the outfield for the Braintree team of the Canadian league. "Buster" is leading off in the batting order.

Dan Howley is quoted as saying that he hopes the Red Sox will win the pennant in the American league this year, so that if the Quakers win the championship of the National league, the world series will be between Boston and Philadelphia. Well, just at present, considering the way the Quakers and athletes are traveling, it looks as though the world series of 1913 would be entirely in Philadelphia, but it is a long time yet before the game of a major and several changes may occur in the next eight weeks.

Suburban Life.

After looking through Suburban Life for June there comes the impulse to close up desk and office and get out in the open till the end of summer. It is the travel and vacation number of this magazine of the countryside.

The issue is full of good things. "Gyping in an Automobile" tells of a unique vacation trip of four people who lived in tents and the car for a month and had a mighty pleasant time of it. "Touring Europe in a Motor Car" is of great suggested value to those who plan to cross the "big pond" and see foreign countries from an automobile—perhaps the best way of all to see them. "The Revival of Archery" describes the recent gains in popular favor of an ancient sport. "A City Man Who Found His Work" is a splendid story of the practical farm of a New York business man. Fine vacation stories are: "Our Summer in an Old Shed," "A Camp of Commuters," "Camping in the Yosemite—as Told by the Cook," "My Seaside Garden," "Roughing It—from the Wife's Point of View," "A Vacation with Motorcycles," "A Nation's Playgrounds," and "Lake and Mountains that Call." Other notable articles in this issue are: "Motoring versus Driving," "The Awakening of a City Man," "How to Build Roads that Will Wear," "Adam and Empire Furniture," "About the Single Roses," "Vocational Guidance for Boys and Girls," "How I Use My Electric," and "How to Influence Sex in Poultry." There is another installment of "The Story of an American Farm," that interesting serial of a factory farm, operated by a retired city physician.

Paint?

There are two good reasons for painting often enough or even too often. One, to look prosperous; two, to be so. Nothing does one more credit or gives one more credit than paint, supplemented of course by what goes with it; and paint costs nothing. True, the first cost is $5 or $6 a gallon put-on; but it saves more than that in the property; saves it from slow going down—not always slow—it drops with a jump when water gets in on wood and iron.

Dry wood and iron cost nothing, kept dry by paint.

Better paint when it needs it. Paint never goes-down in the sense of being more profitable next year.

DEVOE

Everett Loud, E. Weymouth; M. R. Loud & Co., S. Weymouth; A. J. Sidlinger, N. Weymouth.

Sells It.

Opals and Ill Luck.

Many people regard the opal as an omen of ill luck, and the following will show how this superstition arose. Two or three centuries ago the stone was very popular in Europe, and the jewelers of Italy were especially cunning in its setting. At the height of its popularity came the plague which wrought great havoc in Venice. It was noticed by some observant persons in that city that when a victim was on the point of death his opal, if he wore one, brightened, while after death it became dull. The reason of this was the heightened fever made the stone become hot, and consequently very brilliant, while after death the chill and damp of the body dulled it. It was however declared by many that it brought death and misfortune to their door, and as this superstition spread the sale of opals decreased, and to this day people believe that the beautiful stone brings ill luck.

Scot Free.

The expression "scot free," which is in use every day, harks back to the times of Scottish romance and tragedy so luminously described by Sir Walter Scott in "The Antiquary" and "Rob Roy." In these stirring tales we are told of one form of Scottish trials given certain offenders of justice. He who had broken the law was divested of all of his clothing and placed at a certain distance from archers who had bows and arrows ready, waiting the command, "Fire!" When the command was given the man under indictment would begin running and the archers would commence firing, and if in running this gantlet none of the arrows hit him he was allowed to go scot free.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Weymouth Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak. Backache and other kidney ills may follow; Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy. Weymouth people endorse their worth. George Brown, 17 Norfolk street, Weymouth, Mass., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be just as represented and I recommend them in cases of backache and kidney trouble. My kidneys were irregular in action and I had pains in my back. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me at once. Continued use made me feel better in every way."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Brown had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50 cents, all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the name."

WEYMOUTH FIRE ALARM BOXES.

- 12—Pole, River and Parnell Sts
- 13—Bradley Fertilizer Works.
- 14—Pole, Wessagusset Road.
- 114—Pole, Wessagusset & Hobomac St.
- 15—Pole, Bicknell square
- 115—Pole, Pearl and Norton Streets.
- 16—Pole, Bay View Street.
- 116—Pole, Bridge and Saunders Sts.
- 17—Pole, Sea and North Sts.
- 18—Pole, Lovell and Bridge Sts
- 19—Pole, Church and North Sts
- 21—Pole, Grant and High Sts.
- 211—Pole, Wharf St.
- 23—Pole, Jackson Square.
- 223—Pole, Commercial and Putnam Sts
- 24—Pole, Electric Station, private
- 224—Pole, Charles St.
- 25—Pole, Central square.
- 225—Pole, Middle St., near Lake.
- 26—Pole, Broad St., near Essex.
- 226—Pole, Cedar and Hawthorne Sts.
- 27—Pole, Broad St. and Bates Ave.
- 28—Pole, Shawmut St.
- 29—Pole, Strong's Factory, priv.
- 31—Pole, Summer and Federal Sts.
- 32—Pole, Congress and Washington Sts
- 34—Engine House No. 3.
- 35—Pole, Prospect and Granite Sts
- 36—Pole, Garfield Square
- 38—Pole, Washington Square.
- 39—Pole, Commercial Street, opposite Wharf.
- 41—Pole, Lovells Corner
- 42—Pole, Elm and Pleasant Sts.
- 43—Pole, Nash's Corner.
- 45—Pole, cor. Park Ave. and Main Sts.
- 46—Pole, Middle and Washington Sts.
- 47—Pole, Pleasant and Canterbury.
- 48—Lake View Park.
- 49—Pole, opp. Pratt School, Pleasant St.
- 51—Pole, Pleasant, opp. Otis Torrey's.
- 52—Engine House No. 5.
- 53—Pole, Independence Square.
- 54—Pole, near Depot.
- 55—Pole, Pond St., near Robinson's
- 56—Pole, Thicket and Pond Sts.
- 57—Pole, May's Corner, Union St.
- 58—Henry Chandler's, Union Street,
- 61—Corner Randolph and Forest Sts.
- 62—Pole, E. C. Staples, Main St.

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS.

2-2-2. Repeat once.
At 7.30 o'clock a.m., no school in any grade during a.m. The same signal at 8 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during a. m. The same signal at 11.45 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during p. m. The same signal at 12.45 o'clock p. m., no school in any grade during p. m.

The Hingham National Bank

Established 1853

Solicits Individual and Business Accounts

(Interest is paid on accounts of $500 and over)

The officers of the Bank are always ready to give their personal attention to the needs of the depositors, and to advise in business matters

THE HINGHAM NATIONAL BANK

B. A. Robinson
President

E. W. Jones
Cashier

WHY NOT

Have The Best?

Come and See Us For

Staple and Choice Groceries

Try our Bread and Pastry Flour, Teas, Coffees, Spices and Flavoring Extracts; also Vouched For Canned Goods.

Bates & Humphrey's

Broad and Middle Sts., WEYMOUTH CENTER

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

SEE OUR LINE OF

Rogers Bros. 1847 Silver that wears, Knives, Forks, Spoons, and other Pieces, Carving Sets.

Fine rich American Deep Cut Glass Ware, the latest designs. Quality guaranteed. (not pressed)

Extra Quality Quadruple Silver Plated Coffee Sets in 4 pieces Coffee Percolators made of copper and nickel.

Chafing Dishes in nickel or solid copper, ebony handles. Tea Strainers in sterling silver.

The Leading Jewelry Store in the Weymouths

JOHN NEILSON,

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE, Telephone 272W EAST WEYMOUTH

COAL

Prices Low Buy Now To Delay is Fatal

ICE

Coupon Books Cheapest Way to buy ice. Our new, up-to-date system is making a hit. Send for our price card. Our drivers also have them.

REMEMBER

COUPON BOOKS

No mistakes or disputes Account always known
Coupon books redeemable for cash

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

East Braintree Quincy
Telephones: Braintree, 25 Quincy, 232-W, 232R

JAMES P. HADDIE

Carpenter and Builder

Estimates given on all kinds of Building.

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

Now is the time to order screen doors and screens for your windows for the summer.

WE ARE ALSO CARRYING A FULL LINE OF WALL PAPER.

Shop, 46 Union Avenue East Weymouth

TEL. 238-W

CHARLES HARRINGTON

—DEALER IN—

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS

GLOVES and HOSIERY

UNDERWEAR and NOTIONS

New and Seasonable Goods added Every Week

Commercial Street, near Jackson Square, East Weymouth

Charles Harrington,

Commercial Street, near Jackson Square, East Weymouth

Advertise in the Gazette

The Time to Install Electricity is NOW!

With Electric Service in your home you can enjoy all the advantages of the many electrical appliances: Irons, Toasters, Hot Plates, Fans, Etc.

Special Sale of Toasters at $2.50 and $3.50 each

Have 15 days free trial at our expense

Weymouth Light and Power Company

JACKSON SQUARE, EAST WEYMOUTH

GEORGE W. PERRY, Gen. Mgr.

Scrubbing Unnecessary

Enamel your walls and woodwork and secure a finish that is hard and smooth, non-absorbent and sanitary. Enameled surfaces do not require scrubbing. An occasional wiping with a damp cloth will keep them looking clean and fresh.

ACME QUALITY ENAMELS (NEAL'S)

are easily applied. They cost no more than ordinary paint and save you time, trouble and worry.

Our "Home Decorating" booklet tells you how you can "do it yourself" at trifling cost.

Ask for a free copy.

A. J. SIDELINGER,

24 SEA ST., NORTH WEYMOUTH, MASS.

Are You Starting a New Home?

We can supply you with a complete outfit of everything desired for

Parlor, Sitting Room, Dining Room and Kitchen

No trouble to show the goods. Just give us a call.

Are you doing Spring cleaning? You may find that something is needed in the way of Reupholstering or Repairing. We are equipped to do it.

W. P. Denbroeder

COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHER

738 Broad Street East Weymouth

SPRING DELICACIES

ASPARAGUS, TOMATOES, CUCUMBERS, DANDELIONS, RADISHES, LETTUCE, SPINACH, RHUBARB, BERMUDA ONIONS, NEW MAPLE SUGAR and SYRUP

Hunt's Market Grocery
Washington Sq. Telephone 152 Weymouth

W. M. SWEET

Painter, Glazier, Paper Hanger, and Whitener

A full line of Wall Papers. Write or telephone and will call with samples. Can give you better than Boston prices.

SHOP, PEAKS BUILDING, 809 BROAD ST., EAST WEYMOUTH

RESIDENCE, 371 WASHINGTON ST., WEYMOUTH.

Telephone 118-5.

37-49

GENERAL SURVEYS TOPOGRAPHICAL SURVEYS

RUSSELL H. WHITING
CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR

56 Sea Street

NORTH WEYMOUTH, MASS.

SURVEYS MADE AND PLANS PREPARED FOR THE LAND COURT

SUBSCRIBE for the GAZETTE

"Brown Tail" Itch Stopped At Once
Toiletine will positively stop the terrific itching and burning at once and heal the inflamed skin. Money Back If It Doesn't.

TOILETINE
Soothes and Heals
25 Cents of your druggist or by mail (give druggist's name) Just as good for many other things too: sunburn, chafing, eczema, rash, insect bites and stings.
THE TOILETINE COMPANY
107M Hope St., Greenfield, Mass.

Chas. H. Chubbuck, Jr.

34 CHARLES STREET
EAST WEYMOUTH, MASS.
Telephone, Weymouth 149-W

Insurance
of every Description

Boston Office:
69 KILBY STREET
Telephone — Main 4095

CEO. M. KEENE

CARPENTER

BUILDER

Repairs of all kinds promptly attended to.

64 MADISON STREET
East Weymouth
Telephone—63-4—Weymouth.

Everybody Likes It

Coffee Jelly
is a welcome delicacy in any home. It is made from Plymouth Rock Coffee Jelly Compound. Its delightful flavor adds zest and perfect satisfaction to a meal.

Plymouth Rock COFFEE JELLY Compound

contains pure sugar, best coffee, choicest gelatine, and nothing else. To make jelly, simply add boiling water (a pint to a package). Put it in a cool place to harden. There is no sediment. No straining. A clear jelly, beautiful to look at and better to eat. Serve with cream and sugar. Everybody likes it.

All Grocers, 10 Cents

If your grocer doesn't sell Plymouth Rock Coffee Jelly Compound, send us his name and 10 cents and we will mail you a full-sized package, postage paid. Plymouth Rock Gelatine Co., Boston, Mass.

TOWN CLERK'S OFFICE

East Weymouth Savings Bank.

OFFICE HOURS, 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m.
At all other hours at Residence on Hillcrest

Head, opp. Catholic Church.

JOHN A. RAYMOND, Town Clerk

Just a Way They Have.
When one woman wants to make another one sore, she tells her how much better than usual she is looking. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

No. 82.

The Benedict on Trains.

[Written for the Gazette and Transcript.]

"I suppose that's the last time you'll put me through those paces this season," grumbled the Benedict as the Bride leaned back happily in a corner of the taxi and let him fold her cloak about her.

"I don't promise," she teased him. "If the Dimpled Divinities put on a dance, as they are planning to, I have promised to be a matron. In that case you will have to dance once with every girl in the club."

"Fourteen," he asked.

"Help! help!" gasped the Benedict. "Beloved, do you realize what you are getting me into?"

"Of course," she laughed; "and I also realize that you don't object in the least. You are only pretending to be bored."

"I make it a point never to contradict a lady," he remarked.

The Bride hummed snatches of the last waltz, to which the Benedict kept time with hands and feet and head; and presently they were at home.

"Stand still a minute," was his request when they had removed their wraps. "Now turn around slowly."

The Bride turned. "What is the matter?" she asked. "Doesn't my skirt hang right?"

"Quite right," he assured. "Keep going."

"Then what is the trouble, Jack?"

"I was just wondering if your dress looked like some of those at the dance. There were some light ones just about black for a foot up from the floor, and some dark ones all dust-colored. Yours seems to be quite clean."

"That is because I make mine short enough to escape the floor," she enlightened him.

"Why don't they all?"

"Because, you must know, it is considered the correct thing to build a ball gown with the hem clear to the floor and some are finished with trains, though I suppose you haven't observed them."

"Haven't I, though!" retorted the Benedict. "I have observed a very untidy wabbly, bobbing point trailing along behind certain ladies. I suppose they are the trains you refer to. But, save the mark, Beloved, are those things supposed to possess beauty?"

"They don't seem beautiful to me at a dance, for, as you say, they gather up the wax and dust from the floor and look very untidy. Sometimes they are contrived so they can be caught up to keep them off the floor."

"Yes, I learned that tonight, also; for I had to stop dancing six separate and several times to wait for your friend, Miss Dean, to hunt for her fastenings and hook up her train. We could go but a little way."

"It was 'down again, flopping about tripping people up."

"I was sitting out to a dance in the balcony at the time and I saw you frequent interruptions," nodded the Bride. "It was provoking, wasn't it? Marjorie Dean thinks me woefully out of fashion because I want my dresses off the floor; but she can afford a new dress for every dance, whereas I can't. There are others who seem willing to wear a white satin gown grown gray in the service, but I'm not. So I steer such a course as I may between my limitations and try to look neat if nothing more."

"Good for you, Beloved. You go to a dance to dance, not to wipe up the floor with a piece of silk."

EVELYN EARLE.

A CUNNING WAGER.

It Looked Like a Sure Loser, but Was Really Easy Money.

There was a queer bet, one that seemed somewhat foolhardy, made by a politician a few weeks before the election in 1906, when it was apparent that McKinley would sweep the country.

He had been approached by a man who offered to make a "majority" wager. "I'll tell you what I'll do," the politician replied. "I'll bet you $50 that I can write down the names of thirty states that McKinley will carry."

The man snapped up the bet eagerly, and the politician wrote the list of names and gave them to a friend to keep, sealed, until the day after election.

"Now," he said, "just to show you how big a bunch McKinley has, I will bet you $500 that I can name ten additional states that he will carry."

The man who took the first bet jumped at the second chance, feeling certain that forty states would not go Republican.

When the election was over and the votes counted the envelopes were opened. In the list of thirty states the politician had named all the solid south and the doubtful states. He lost $50. But in the list of ten he named states that did not go Democratic in twenty years until the election of 1912.

—Louisville Times.

LAI D THE SPECTER.

The Story of a Ghost with a Troubled Conscience.

The following well authenticated ghostly happening is recorded in Jessie Adelaide Middleton's "The Grey Ghost Book."

A lady had taken a furnished house in Suffolk, England, from a widow who had lately lost her son. One day she was sitting in the drawing room when the figure of a boy of about thirteen walked across the room, halted opposite a table on which was some china and began to weep bitterly. When she got up and hastened toward the boy to comfort him he at once vanished. As the same thing occurred repeatedly, the lady wrote to the owner of the house, seeking for some explanation. This was her answer:

"Will you kindly search the table with the china ornaments on it, and if you find sixpence in any of them put it into the poor bag in church? I gave him sixpence to put in the bag the last Sunday he went to church, and instead of putting it in he kept it to spend. He told me about it before he died, but I did not know where he had hidden it."

The tenant searched and found the sixpence in a little china jug. She put it into the poor bag—and was never again visited by the apparition.

"Paying Through the Nose."
"Paying through the nose" is to be indirectly swindled in a transaction or to pay an exorbitant price for a thing in consideration of long credit. A variant is "to be bored through the nose," "bored" here having the meaning of cheated, deceived.

At this instant he bores me with some trick, "Henry VIII," L. 1. 123.

One that hath galled you, that hath bored you, sir.—"Life of T. Cromwell," 162, 11, 11, 103.

And Howell in his "Instruction For Forren Travell" (1650), page 59, "had known divers Dutch gentlemen grossly gild by this cheat (the selling of forged manuscripts to young travelers in Italy), and some English bo'rd also through the nose this way by paying excessive prices for them."—London Notes and Queries.

Coughing in Lieu of Oratory.
A singular fashion which prevailed among the preachers of Cromwell's time was that of coughing or hemming in the middle of a sentence in order to attract the attention of the congregation. The necessity of continually attracting the attention of the listeners could not have argued well for the brilliance of the sermons. Some authorities say that the preachers coughed merely as an ornament to speech. At any rate, when the sermons were printed, as many of them were, the coughs and hems were always indicated on the margin of the page.—St. Louis Republic.

Strange Bequests.
In his will Stephen Swain, of the parish of St. Olave, Southwark, gave to John Abbott and Mary, his wife, sixpence each "to buy for each of them a halter for fear the sheriff's should not be provided," and John Aylett Stow left the sum of 5 guineas for the purchase of the picture of a viper biting the hand of his rescuer to be presented to an eminent K. C. as a reminder of "his ingratitude and insolence."—London Mail.

Altogether Different.
"After all, life is a good deal like Wall street."
"In what way?"
"It is all a gamble, you know."
"But that doesn't make it like Wall street. In life almost every one has a chance."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Two Phases.
"I detest that Mrs. Jones. She always tells what all her clothes cost."
"Well, I detest Mrs. Brown. She never will tell what she pays for any thing."—Detroit Free Press.

A Pinner Club Epigram.
An epigram from Sir Arthur Pinero: "Indian clubs are good for the liver. London clubs are not."—London Standard.

The father's virtue is the child's best inheritance.—Chinese Proverb.

CHURCH SERVICES

Under this heading the pastors of ALL the churches are cordially invited to make such announcements of services, etc., as they may wish. We only stipulate that such notices be inserted shall reach us at the latest on Thursday morning of each week—the day before publication.

OLD SOUTH CHURCH (South Weymouth.) Rev. H. C. Alvord, pastor. Morning service, 10.30. Sunday School, 11.45. Barack Young Men's Class, 12.00. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6.15. Evening service at 7.00. Thursday evening, 7.30.

TRINITY CHURCH (Weymouth) Rev. William Hyde, rector. Service with sermon at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 12.00 m.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (South Weymouth.) Rev. Albert V. House, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 m. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6 p. m.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (North Weymouth.) Rev. Rufus H. Dix, pastor. Sunday school at 1.15 p. m.; preaching at 2.30 p. m.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH (East Braintree.) Rev. T. C. Collier, pastor. Morning service, 10.30. Sunday School, 11.45. Junior League, 4.30 p. m. Epworth League, 6.30 p. m. Evening preaching service 7.15. Prayer meeting, Friday evening, 7.30. A cordial welcome is extended to all these services.

BAPTIST CHURCH (Weymouth) Day services: Preaching at 10.30 a. m. and 7.00 p. m. Bible School 12 p. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday, evening, 7.45 p. m. Y. P. S. C. E. at 5.45 P. M. on Sunday.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (Weymouth and Braintree.) Rev. Robert H. Cochrane, pastor. Morning service at 10.30 Sunday School at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.00. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. All are invited to attend these services.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH (East Weymouth.) Rev. George A. Grant, pastor. Morning worship and preaching at 10.30 Sunday School at noon. Epworth League meeting at 6.30 p. m. Evening service at 7.00. Tuesday evenings, 7.30 p. m. prayer meetings. Holy Communion, first Sunday in every month following morning service.

OLD NORTH CHURCH (Weymouth Heights.) Rev. Edward Yaeger, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Evening service at 7.00. Sunday-school at 11.45 a. m. Thursday evening at 7.30. A cordial invitation is extended to all of these services.

PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (North Weymouth.) Rev. Charles Clark, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday school, 11.45 a. m. Y. P. S. C. E. 6.15 p. m. Evening service at 7.00. A cordial welcome is extended to all of these services. Preaching at both morning and evening service.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (East Weymouth.) Rev. Walter H. Commons, pastor. Morning worship at 10.30. Sunday school at 11.45. Evening service at 7.00. Tuesday evening service at 7.30.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (Weymouth.) Rev. Rufus H. Dix, pastor. Sunday morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 m. Y. P. S. C. U. at 5.30 p. m.

SECOND UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (South Weymouth.) Minister; William Wallace Rose. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 m.

PORTER M. E. CHURCH (Lovell's Corner) Rev. J. W. Reynolds pastor. Preaching service at 10.30 a. m. Sunday School at 11.45 a. m. Epworth League at 6.00. Social and Praise service at 7 p. m. All are cordially invited.

CHURCH OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER (South Weymouth) Rev. D. J. Crimmins, rector. Sundays—Masses 8.00 and 10 a. m. Sunday School at 2.30 p. m. Rosary and Benediction at 3.30 p. m. Week days: Mass at 7.30 a. m.

CHURCH OF THE SACRED HEART (Weymouth) Rev. J. B. Holland, rector. Sunday—Masses at 7.30, 10.00 a. m. Sunday School at 11.00 a. m. Vespers at 4 p. m. Week days—Mass 7 a. m.

CHURCH OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION (East Weymouth) Rev. James W. Allison, rector. Rev. Maurice Lynch, assistant. Masses Sunday at 8 and 10.30 a. m. Sunday School at 3 p. m. Vespers at 7.45 p. m. Masses week days at 7 and 7.30.

ST. JEROME'S CHURCH (North Weymouth.) Pastor, Rev. James W. Allison, Assistant, Rev. Maurice Lynch. Mass, Sunday at 9. Sunday School at 3.

ZION'S HILL CHAPEL (East Weymouth) Social service at 2 and 6.30 p. m. Rev. E. W. Smith, Preacher.

ALL SOULS CHURCH (Braintree). Preaching at 10.30 A. M. Kindergarten class in charge of Miss Elizabeth B. Bray at 10.30. Second session of this class at 11.45. Regular Sunday school at 11.45. All are welcome.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST (of Quincy, Alpha Hall cor. Hancock st. and Cottage Ave.) Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Wednesday, 7.45 P. M., an experience and testimony meeting. Reading room open every week day from 3 to 5. All are welcome. Subject, Sunday morning June 8, "God the only cause and Creator."

Are you going to Build?
Are you going to Repair or Enlarge?
Are you looking for a

Contractor and Builder?
If so call on

H. C. THOMPSON
66 HIGH ST. - EAST WEYMOUTH

Estimates given on all kinds of contracts.
Tel. Weymouth 14-1.

One Minute Cough Cure
For Coughs, Colds and Croup

Weymouth Gazette AND TRANSCRIPT

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY THE
Gazette and Transcript Publishing Co.
WEYMOUTH, MASS.

M. E. HAWES,
Editor and Manager.

NORTON F. PRATT, Assistant.
MARK J. GARRITY, Supt.

Telephone 145, Weymouth.

Subscription Price $2.00 per year in advance.

Post Office: Washburn Block, corner of Broad and Shawmut Streets.

Entered in The Post Office at Weymouth, Mass., as Second Class Matter.

FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1913.

The Gazette & Transcript is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News-stands in the Weymouths and at the South Terminal, Boston.

All communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed. Notices of all local entertainments to which admission fee is charged must be paid for at regular rates, 10 cents per line in the reading matter, or regular rates in the advertising columns.

On account of late arrival, our Lovells Corner and Weymouth Heights articles are left out this week. It is useless to mail us matter which does not reach us before noon on Fridays.

We are glad to learn that Mr. T. R. is not addicted to an excessive use of intoxicants but to the ordinary think six cents is very small balsam to apply to his wounded dignity and reputation.

Eighty-four new lawyers will soon be added to the list according to the Boston University's record. There is room for but one man at the top and it is all the way up hill. Take courage fellows one of you may get there.

It may well be asked what we are going to do with the immigrants. During the month of April we received 45,000 from Hamburg and Bremen and it is estimated that more than twice as many more from other foreign ports landed on our shores.

Will we ever know whether the P. O. Department of the U. S. is on a paying basis or not. We read in one year that there was a deficit of several million dollars and the next year a surplus of more millions and now comes a statement from the new administration that the said surplus was the result of bookkeeping and not a real bon-a-fide surplus.

Instead of growing less automobile accidents have been on the increase the past week and we can see no indication of additional precaution on the part of many of those who use the machine. Men who are conservative in their business transactions, men who are extremely cautious in all things else, when seated in an automobile seem to have an appetite to eat up the largest number of miles possible in the shortest space of time. Next came the fad of doing stunts like boys on skates, one of the fine arts was to cut the figure 8 in a limited space. We have heard of no one trying that but the man who attempted to cut the letter S in a fifty foot space at 40 miles an hour knows more than he did but was not able to attend the funeral of one of his victims.

HOT BISCUIT,

hot oakes, made with ROYAL Baking Powder are delicious, healthful and easily made.

SOMERVILLE—MEDFORD WINS.

Deweys Lose 7 to 6 in Ten Inning Contest Last Saturday Afternoon at Garfield Park, Weymouth.

The fast Somerville-Medford nine defeated the Deweys on Garfield Park, Weymouth, last Saturday afternoon, 7 to 6 in a 10-inning game, full of sensational fielding and good hitting.

Malloy's pitching and the all round work of Connolly at shortstop for the winners and of Humphrey and Hall for the Deweys were the features of the extra inning contest. The score:

SOMERVILLE-MEDFORD.

	bh	po	a	e
Cassoni, c	1	6	2	0
*Woods, 3b	2	3	3	0
A. Connolly, cf	0	2	0	0
Banks, rf	4	1	0	0
Dodge, 1b	0	12	1	0
Roblin, lf	0	1	0	0
W. Connolly, ss	1	2	4	0
Gurvin, 2b	2	1	1	0
Malloy, p	2	2	1	0
Totals	12	30	12	0

DEWEYS.

	bh	po	a	e
Gilliss, 2b	1	1	1	0
M. Carthy, 2b	2	2	2	0
Ryan, cf	3	2	0	0
Dam, p	2	1	1	0
Humphrey, ss	1	3	4	0
Artes, lf	0	2	0	0
Wall, c	1	8	2	0
Hall, 1b	1	10	0	0
Condrick, rf	0	1	0	0
Totals	12	30	10	0

*Bohlin ran for Woods.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Somerville-Med.	4	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1-6
Deweys	1	0	2	0	1	0	0	0	0	0-7

Runs by—Cassoni, Woods 2, Banks, Dodge, Gurvin, W. Connolly, McCarthy 2, Humphrey, Dam, Gilliss 2. Two base hits—Banks, McCarthy, Dam, Hall. Three base hit—Banks. Stolen bases—Woods 2, Gurvin, Gilliss 2, McCarthy. Base on balls by—Malloy, Dam. Struck out—Malloy 4, Dam 3. Sacrifice hit—Condrick. Double play—W. Connolly to Gurvin to Dodge. Passed ball—Wall. Time—2hr. 20 m. Umpire—Orr.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of late of Weymouth, in said County, deceased: Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Emma A. Hunt of said Weymouth, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named without giving a surety on her official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at the Probate Court in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fifth day of June, A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Weymouth Gazette, a newspaper published in said Weymouth, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court. Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

RICHARD L. HUNT

12-14 JOHN D. COBB, Register.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Dunbar and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Whiting were the guests of Erving Dunbar at the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst on Friday making the trip by auto.

—Cecl Spinney of Miami, Fla., is the guest of relatives in town.

—Mr. and Mrs. Guy Haraden of Rockland, Me., spent a few days last week renewing old acquaintances in this village.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hesse were called to Newport, R. I. last week by the death of Mr. Hesse's mother.

—Hingham Bridge was closed to traffic on Monday of this week on account of dredging the channel.

—S. O. Estes and family are at Fort Point for the season. Mr. Estes has charge of the branch store of J. W. Bartlett & Co.

—The King Cove Boat club have purchased a cottage on the shore from Mrs. Richard Bolles for a club house.

—Wallace Drake and his roommate Mr. Curtis of Dartmouth college spent the week end with Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Drake of North street.

—Miss Della Rittal was the guest of friends in Roslindale on Saturday and Sunday.

—Mrs. Miles Keene of Green street entertained Mrs. Libby of Boston on Friday of last week.

—Mr. Aldrich opened his new store and waiting room on the corner of Bridge and Newton streets on Memorial Day.

—Miss Lillian Curtiss and Miss Rita Page attended the annual Tree Day Fete at Wellesley college on Saturday, May 31.

—Mrs. H. H. Gooding has returned from a trip to Maine.

—Mrs. James H. Pratt and son, Robert, of Milwaukee, Wis., are visiting Mr. Pratt's mother, Mrs. Josiah H. Pratt of Sea street.

—Mrs. George Beane has been a recent guest of her brother, Carl Blanchard of New Haven, Conn.

—Mrs. D. J. Sampson and family are spending two weeks at the Shannon Cottage on Squanto Road Wessagusset.

—Mrs. J. T. Ferris has been entertaining her granddaughter and family of Norwood this week.

—Rev. R. H. Dix attended the dedicatory exercises of the Winchester Memorial church at Winchester, N. H., on Thursday of last week.

—The N. D. U. club met with Mrs. Roy Vining on Monday evening. A light lunch was served by the hostess.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willis Keene spent the week end with Mrs. Keene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilder of Norwell.

—Mrs. S. Lizzie Burr has been entertaining Miss Nancy King of Boston.

—Miss Ella Fisher has been entertaining her cousins, the Misses Ida and Lillian Fisher of Yonkers, N. Y.

—Mrs. W. M. Tyler entertained at a dinner party on Friday, May 30th. Guests to the number of 14 were present from Shirley, Needham, Brockton, Dorchester, Braintree and North Weymouth.

—Miss Estier Walker was flower girl at the wedding of her cousin, Miss Florence Beals of Wintthrop last Wednesday evening.

—Miss Martha Shaw of Kittery, Maine, is spending a week with her brother, J. H. Shaw.

—Some of the late arrivals at Wessagusset are: E. W. Newcomb and family of Dorchester, W. P. Bullard, F. E. Hanley, M. A. Hadley, G. E. Hunt, W. H. Wye, Frank Fullerton, Andrew Eppler and G. L. Richardson.

—Children's Day exercises will be held at the Universalist church next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in place of the regular afternoon service. The Sunday school session will be omitted.

—The final social of the Pilgrim Sunday school will be given on this Friday evening, June 6th, by the Young Ladies' class.

—The regular monthly service of the Brotherhood of the Pilgrim church will be held on Sunday evening, June 8th at 7 p. m. G. Loring Brizg's, manager, will tell of the work of "The Boston Floating Hospital." There will be special music by the Pilgrim Chorus choir.

COLLIGAN—SMITH.

East Weymouth Girl Becomes Bride of Brooklyn Man on Wednesday.

At the parochial residence of the Immaculate Conception church in East Weymouth on Wednesday afternoon, Miss Margaret Annie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew Smith, became the bride of John Myhon Colligan, son of Mrs. Annie Colligan of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The ceremony was performed at 4.30 o'clock by Rev. James W. Allison. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie Connell of East Weymouth and the best man was Cornelius Smith, a brother of the bride.

The bride was attired in Ivory Duchesse satin, trimmed with Chantilly lace and pearl ornaments. She wore a large picture hat of white net with white plumes.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Pleasant street, East Weymouth. A wedding lunch was served at six o'clock by Bates & Humphrey caterers. At a late hour the newly married couple left for a wedding trip and will be at home in Arlington, New Jersey after July 4.

ANNUAL MEETING.

King's Daughters Union Elects Officers and Arrange for Garden Fete.

At the annual meeting of the King's Daughters Union held in the vestry of the Methodist church, East Weymouth on May 28, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, president; Mrs. F. O. Wellington and Mrs. William A. Wheaton; vice presidents; Miss Alida Denton, secretary; Mrs. Joseph E. Sampson, treasurer; Mrs. Betsey Briggs, Mrs. Charles Harrington and Mrs. George Drew, directors.

A garden fete is to be held on June 18 under the auspices of the Union on the R. S. Hoffman estate on Broad street, East Weymouth, for the benefit of the Old Ladies Home at Pondville, which is carried on by King's Daughters. The program of the fete includes a band concert and a special indoor entertainment. Various sales tables and booths will be situated about the grounds in charge of the different circles in town. A feature will be a delicatessen table for those who wish to remain to supper.

KINCAIDE THEATRE
HANCOCK STREET QUINCY CENTRE
HIGH CLASS REFINED MOVING
VAUDEVILLE PICTURES

Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. Prices 5c, 10c, 15c. Evenings at 7.45, 10c, 15c, 25c

NOW PLAYING E. T. ALEXANDER, Oil Pictures and Chalk Talks; SILVER & DUVAL, Novelty Comedy Skit; THE MARTELLS, presenting their $1,000 Paddy Grand Piano; COL. MAUCK & CO., Novelty Farce "The Giant Cobbler; PICTURES and MUSIC.

Beginning Monday June 9, BIG NEW FEATURE
THE KINCAIDE PLAYERS
A company of eleven clever artists who have been playing over 8 months in Massachusetts alone. They have a repertoire of 14 hilarious, sidesplitting musical comedies. Here for several weeks, their first offering is that great Scotch comedy "ON THE BANKS OF LOCH LOMOND"

Keno, Welsh & Melrose 14 minutes of Aerobic Comedy "Honey Johnson" The Man with the Golden Shoes
FEATURE PHOTO-PLAYS ORCHESTRA

Our Line of
Standard Garden Tools

is the most complete in town. Drop in and look our goods over. We know we can satisfy you.

M. R. LOUD & CO.
COLUMBIAN SQUARE, SOUTH WEYMOUTH.

RANGE COAL FURNACE
IN ALL GRADES AND SIZES
Sawed and Split WOOD Pine and Hard
The Right Time to fill your coal bin is NOW
Augustus J. Richards & Son
Wharf Commercial St. Tel. Con.

OUR GROCERY LINE IS COMPLETE

We also carry a full line of
Seeds, Farming Tools, Paints, Oils and Varnishes
GIVE US A TRY; YOU'LL COME AGAIN
EVERETT LOUD,
Jackson Square, East Weymouth
TELEPHONE CONNECTION

Advertise in the Gazette.

LADIES!

You remember how unbearably hot it was during the summer of 1912, when the thermometer registered above 90 in the shade outside, and about 125 in the kitchen. Yet you were obliged to cook your dinner there or else go without a dinner. Now you have a better prospect before you. By installing a gas stove in your kitchen you will be able to get your meals comfortably, even in summer. But do not put off getting a gas range until the summer heat has driven you to do so. You may be then be obliged to wait until others who were wiser have their needs attended to. Send in your order at once.

OLD COLONY GAS CO.

BOSTON CASH MARKET

All Stores Closed Decoration Day

Open Saturday May 31st, all day and evening at South Weymouth, Lincoln . . square and Washington square . .

Meats of all kinds, Fresh Vegetables, Home Eggs, Extra Creamery Butter, High Grade Flour and Everything Else in the Grocery Line. In Short—A full Line of the Best Goods in the Market and at Bottom Prices.

Morris Bloom, Prop.

Tel. Weymouth 410

Tel. Braintree 225

Base Ball

—AT THE—

CLAPP MEMORIAL GROUNDS

Tomorrow, June 7th, at 3.30 P. M.

Walk-Overs vs C. M. A.

EVERYBODY COME

A "Straw Vote" on Men's Straw Hats

Would, we are sure, elect our stock as the choice of men who know.

All of our Straw Hats are made to fit; they are cushioned for comfort; the glazed side of the straw is out—which keep them longer.

The width of the brim, the height of the crown, the depth of the ribbon, varies correctly to suit the taste of young men and the more elderly.

Lamson & Hubbard Hats

have the inimitable style which lifts them out of the common run of other straw hats.

$1, $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3

GEORGE W. JONES

1 Granite St. "Just around the Corner" Quincy

N. R. ELLS

General Teamster!

LIGHT AND HEAVY TEAMING.

Sand and Gravel furnished at short notice. All Jobs promptly attended to.

So. Weymouth, Mass. Telephone 116-1 Weymouth

Daniel H. Clancy

Formerly with H. M. Ford Estate

Funeral Director and Undertaker

Residence, - 28 Vine St.,

Telephone 336W.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH

—The weekly assembly of the dancing school class was well attended last Tuesday evening as usual. These assemblies have been very popular with the young people of the vicinity this spring and good crowds have been the result. Shaw's orchestra furnished music for the dancing.

—Theodore Torrey has returned to Sheffield Scientific School at Yale after a visit with his parents in town.

—Elbridge Nash, the Columbian Square druggist, is remodeling his store and making several improvements. The floor space of the store has been greatly enlarged, making a much more commodious department.

—Rev. William W. Rose gave a sermon on "Memorials of Progress," at the morning service at the Universalist church last Sunday morning. The singing of the service was in charge of Stephen F. Pratt.

—The annual garden party of the St. Francis Xavier parish will be held on the parochial grounds on June 28 from 2 until 10 o'clock.

—Russell Thomas has broken ground for a new dwelling.

—It is reported that M. R. Loud has sold his cottage at North Weymouth to Mr. Perry of Mansfield.

—Mrs. Henry Lowell of Main street has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Henry Poole of Providence. Mrs. Poole is recovering from a severe illness.

—W. L. Damon of Wollaston has purchased the dwelling owned by A. E. Hatch on Pond street.

—The young ladies of St. Francis Xavier church are arranging for a pop concert in Fogg's opera house on the evening of June 16.

—Frederick Andrews and family of Cambridge have taken possession of the estate on Main street occupied by the late Mrs. Maria T. Simpson.

—Rev. L. W. Attwood, a former pastor of the Universalist church in this place, is preparing a lecture on mission work for the Foreign Board of Missions. The lecture will be illustrated by about 100 slides.

—Daniel H. Clancy, Undertaker, Vine street, Weymouth. Tel. 336 W.—Advertisement.

—Francis Carroll of Harvard college is visiting in town.

—Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Attwood who have been spending the winter in Brockton have returned to their home on Tower avenue.

—Mrs. Frank Thomas of Pond street entertained the Tuesday whist club at her home last Wednesday. This gathering was the last of the season. Whist was enjoyed and a delicious supper was served by the hostess.

—Miss Ruth Robinson of the office force of Dyer's Laundry, is enjoying a vacation trip through the western part of the state.

—Mrs. Reuben Loud has been visiting her sisters in St. Johnsbury, Vt.

—James A. Carley has been elected a member of Hose 5 of this village.

—Mrs. George Emerson of Pleasant street is visiting her parents in Milton, N. H.

—Reginald Nash of Nash's Corner has been elected to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa society and the Canimarian club at Brown University where he is a student.

—Miss Lucille Couche of Nyack, N. J., has been visiting Miss Margaret Heald of Main street.

—Arrangements are being perfected for an out-door performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" on the lawn of H. B. Reed's residence on the evening of June 20.

—George Stetson or Worcester, a former resident of this place, has been in town visiting friends.

Universalist Church.
Sunday morning worship at 10.30. Sunday school and Kindergarten at 12.

The Fireman's Memorial Association of Weymouth will conclude their memorial day services at this church. Special music is being arranged under direction of Stephen Pratt. The subject of Mr. Rose's sermon will be "The Still Alarm." You are cordially invited.

Old South Church Notes.

Children's Sunday will be observed with the Children's service next Sunday morning in the church with concert parts and other appropriate exercises. A special offering will be made for the Congregational Sunday school society.

At the 7 o'clock evening service, the pastor will speak upon "Some Temptations of Children." All are welcome.

Not a Complaint.
There is a good deal of complaint because people don't walk more, but it doesn't come from the head of a large family with shoes to buy.—Atchison Globe.

Hot Stockings.

A certain large engineering firm lately received an order in Russian, and, although the receiver of it had a fair knowledge of the language, there were two words he was unable to translate. Somewhere in the works, however, a real Russian was employed. They brought him along, and he read the letter carefully, but was still puzzled by these two words. Literally, he explained their meaning was "hot stockings," which seemed absurd, but was presently seen to be the nearest-known Russian synonym for "fire hose."—Manchester Guardian.

TUFTS LIBRARY.

The books will be ready for delivery the Saturday following the issue of the Gazette and Transcript containing the list.

Agee, Alva. Crops and methods for soil improvement. 1913	726.226
Barclay, Mrs. E. N. D. A dream of blue roses	B2315.2
Bullard, F. L. Historic summer haunts from Newport to Portland. 1912	224.211
Burgess, T. W. Mother West Wind's children. 1911	B912.3
Crockett, S. R. Patsy Farnol, Jeffery. The amateur gentleman	C235.4
Grey, Zane. The young lion hunter	G868.3
Hegermann-Lindencrone, Fru L. G. In the courts of memory, 1888-1875, from contemporary letters. 1912	917.147
Johnson, O. M. The sixty-first second	J639.4
Leavitt, F. M. Examples of industrial education. 1912	313.167
Lee, Mrs. J. B. P. Mr. Achilles McLaren, Amy. Bawbee Jock With the merry Austrians	L512.4 M221.1 M221.2
Munger, Mrs. D. H. The wind before the dawn	M9220.1
Rolt-Wheeler, F. W. The boy with the U. S. fisheries	R6554.3
Saunders, C. F. The Indians of the terraced houses. 1912	614.149
Sheldon, C. M. A builder of ships	8544.4
Troutbeck, G. E. Stories from Italian history	636.47
Van Sickle, J. H., & others, eds. Riverside readers. Sixth and seventh reader. [1912]	133.66
[1913] Vol. 6 & 7 of
Ward, Mrs. M. A. A. The matting of Lydia.	W917.16

MUSIC.

Wheeler, B. H. Mind and mechanism; thoughts on teaching and the pianistic art. [1909]	721.365
INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.
Chopin, F. F. Forty piano compositions; ed. by James Huneker. [1903]. (Musicians library)	721.357
The greater Chopin; ed. by James Huneker. [1908]. (Musicians library)	721.358
Classical favorites for piano forte for young players. Thompson	721.338
Europa; a collection of celebrated masterpieces for the piano; by the world's famous composers. [1911] Harms.	721.345
Flagler, I. van V. New collection of organ music. [1904]. Vol. 3 of	721.242
Lehmann, George. comp. 25 pieces in the first position for young violinists. [1900]	721.348
Liszt, Franz. Ten Hungarian Rhapsodies; ed. by August Spanuth and John Orth. [1904]. (Musicians library)	721.352
Twenty original piano compositions; ed. by August Spanuth. [1903]. (Musicians library)	721.353
Mittell, Philipp, ed. Violin classics; a collection of original pieces and arrangements for violin with accompaniment of piano revised and fingered by Philipp Mittell. Vol. 2 of	721.214
Most popular selections from the grand operas for violin and piano. [1912] Hinds, Noble & Eldredge	721.346
Most popular violin pieces [1907] Hinds, Noble & Eldredge	721.347
Piano classics. 3 v. [1885] [1889] [1895] Ditson	721.101
Young people's classics. 2v. [1886] [1891] Ditson	721.351
Zimmer, Otto. ed. Violin classics in the first position; simplified transcriptions of the favorite compositions of the great masters . . . with piano accompaniment by Otto Zimmer. [1909]	721.348
VOCAL MUSIC.
Bantock, Granville. ed. One hundred folksongs of all nations; for medium voice. [1911]. (Musicians library)	721.364
Sixty patriotic songs of all nations; for medium voice. [1913]. (Musicians library)	721.356
Choice collection of ballads. [1895] Ditson.	721.122
1892 ed. pub. as "World's Fair ballad collection."
DeKoven, Reginald. Robin Hood; a comic opera in three acts	721.344
Finck, H. T., ed. Fifty master-songs by twenty composers; for low voice. [1903]. (Musicians library)	721.355
Grieg, Edvard. Fifty songs; ed. by H. T. Finck; for low voice. [1908]. (Musicians library)	721.354
Krehbiel, H. E., ed. Songs from the operas. (Musicians library)	721.360
Soprano [1907]	721.361
Mezzo soprano [1908]	721.362
Alto [1909]	721.359
Tenor [1910]	721.363
Baritone and bass [1911]	721.343
Wagner, Richard. Tannhauser Presented.

ABBIE L. LOUD, Librarian.
June 7, 1913.

"Be Now, With Some."
A New York judge says a man should not be expected to give all his salary to his wife. The question of carfare and luncheon for men may become almost as pressing as that of votes for women.—Washington Star.

To Clean Ivory.
Make prepared chalk into a paste with sal volatile and olive oil, equal parts of each of the latter; apply the paste with a soft brush; let it dry, then put on another layer; let it remain on two or three hours, then rub off and polish with a soft brush and a duster.

The Best Corrective and preventive of the numerous ailments caused by defective or irregular action of the organs of digestion—is found in the safe, speedy, certain and time-tested home remedy

THAYER ACADEMY

Examinations for admission to the Preparatory and Junior Classes will be held Saturday, June 14, 1913, at 8.45 A.M.

WM. GALLAGHER, Head Master.

LADIES

We have opened a Special Department for you on MONDAYS, from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M.

Shampoo, Facial Massage, Etc. at reasonable prices. Only the best of work in a modern, up-to-date shop. We solicit a trial.

Amos Cantara THE CENTRAL SQUARE BARBER

Central Square East Weymouth

Every Letter You Write,

every invitation you send, goes out as your personal messenger. And only when you use a paper of the very highest quality can you be certain that your messenger is a worthy representative of your personality.

Highland Linen

is the very finest writing paper made, perfect in finish and in every one of the little details which mean everything in social correspondence. It is thoroughly correct, and above all dainty. We have it here, in a range of sizes, styles and tints which will fascinate you.

HUNT'S On The Corner EAST WEYMOUTH

To the Honorable, the Selectmen of Weymouth.

Respectfully represents the Bay State Street Railway Company, that it is a street railway corporation duly established under the laws of this Commonwealth and operating a street railway within the town of Weymouth, and that it desires a location upon Bridge street in said town.

Wherefore it prays that a location of tracks be granted to it in said Bridge street from State Highway Station 93 x 16.24 to the Weymouth-Highland line substantially as shown upon the plan filed with this petition marked "Maintenance of Way Department, L-4420"; together with the right to erect, maintain and use such poles, wires and other appliances as are commonly used in connection with the overhead trolley system of street car services and the right to propel cars over such streets with electricity as the motive power; and the further right to make such surface alterations in said street as may be necessary for establishing its railway under said grant and according to such location.

BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY CO.
By P. F. SULLIVAN, President.
Boston, Mass., June 2, 1913.

OFFICE OF THE SELECTMEN OF WEYMOUTH.

East Weymouth, Mass., June 2, 1913.

Upon consideration of the foregoing petition, at a meeting of the Board of Selectmen of Weymouth, held as above, it was ordered:

That a hearing be held upon said petition at the Office of the Selectmen on Saturday, the twenty-first day of June, 1913, at two o'clock p. m. and that notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing said petition and this order thereon in the Weymouth Gazette and Weymouth Times, newspapers published in said Weymouth, on June 6 and 13, 1913, and by serving the same by copy upon the clerk of the said Bay State Street Railway Company fourteen days at least before the time of said hearing.

Given at the office of the Selectmen of Weymouth, June second 1913.
Edward W. Hunt, Bradford Hawes, George L. Newton, Willard J. Dunbar, Henry E. Hanley, Selectmen of Weymouth

THE PURCHASE PRICE; OR, THE CAUSE OF COMPROMISE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1910, by Emerson Hough

CHAPTER XII. The Payment.

D. R. JAMIESON did not immediately return to his other duties. He knew that in this case care and skill would for a time continue in demand. Little sleep was accorded him during his first night. Ammonia-whisky—what he had, he used to keep his patient alive; but morning came, and Dunwoody still was living. Morphine now seemed proper to the backwoods physician. After this had done its work, so that his patient slept, he left the room and wandered discontentedly about in the great house, too tired to wake, too strained to sleep.

"Old—old—it's an old, tumble down ruin, that's what it is," he grumbled. "Everything in sixes and sevens—a man like that—and an ending like this to it all. What it needs here is a woman—all the time, for that matter. But this one's got to stay now—I don't care who she is. There must be some one here to run things for a month or two. Besides she's got his life in her two hands some way. If she left now might as well shoot him at once. Oh, when I die I want to go to a womanless world—no, I don't either!"

His decision he at last announced to Josephine herself when finally the latter appeared to make inquiry regarding the sick master of Tallwoods.

"My dear girl," said he, "Mr. Dunwoody is going to be a very sick man. He hasn't got any sort of proper care here. There's no one to run this place, and I can't stay here all the time myself. Even if I did stay all I could do would be to give him a dose of quinine or calomel once in awhile, and that isn't what he needs. He needs some one to be around and watch after things. This whole place is sick, as much as the owner of it. I reckon you've got to help me, my dear."

She looked at him, her large, dark eyes slightly contracting, making neither protest nor assent. He drew a long breath of satisfaction.

"Of course you'll stay," he said. "It's the right thing to do, and we both know it. You don't want to kill a man, no matter how much he desires or deserves it. I ask you to remain at least for a few days—or maybe weeks."

Her eyes still were on his face. It was a face fit for trust. "Very well," said she at length quietly. "If you think it is necessary."

It was thus that Josephine St. Auban became the head of Tallwoods household. Not that week did she leave, nor the next, nor the one thereafter. The winter advanced, it was about to fade, and still she remained. Slowly the master advanced toward recovery. Meantime, under charge of the mistress, the household machine fell once more into proper ways. The servants learned obedience. The plans for the work of the spring somehow went on much as formerly. Everywhere there became manifest the presence of a quiet, strong, restraining and self-restrained influence.

In time the doctor became lighter in his speech, less frequent in his visits. "You're not going to lose that musical leg, Dunwoody," said he. "If you're careful you'll have two feet for quite awhile yet to come."

Dunwoody at last reached the point of his recovery where he could grin at these remarks, but if anything he had grown more grim and silent than before. Once in awhile his eyes would linger on the face of Josephine. Little speech of any kind passed between them. There were no callers at Tallwoods, no news came, and apparently none went out from that place. It might have been a fortress, an island, a hospital, a prison, all in one.

At length Dunwoody was able safely to leave his room and to take up a resting place occasionally in the large library across the hall. Here one day by accident she met him. It seemed to her that she saw the tinge of gray crawling a little higher on his temples. His face was not yet thin, yet in some way the lines of the mouth and jaw seemed stronger, more deeply cut. It was a face not sullen, yet absorbed and, above all, full, now, of a settled melancholy.

"Good morning," said he, smiling, as he saw her. "Come in. I want to talk to you. But please don't resume our old argument about the compromise and about slavery and the rights of man. You've been trying—all these weeks when I've been down and helpless and couldn't either fight or run away—to make me be a Bentonite or, worse, an abolitionist—trying, haven't you? Please don't this morning. I don't want subjective thought. I don't want algebra. I don't want history or law or medicine. I want—"

She stood near the window at some distance removed from him, even as she passed stopping to tidy up a disarranged article on the table here or there. He smiled again at this. "Where is Sally?" he asked. "And how about your maid?" "Some one must do these things," she answered. "Your servants need watching. Sally is never where I can find her. Jeanne I can always find—but it's with her young man, Hector!" He shook his head impatiently. "It all comes on you—work like this. What could I have done without you? But yourself, how are you coming on? That arm of yours has pained me?" "It ceased to trouble me some time since. The doctor says, too, that you'll be quite well soon. That's fine."

"Without you I'd be out there."

window, beyond which the grass grown stones of the little family graveyard might be seen. "You're wonderful. I've seen you for what you are—one woman out of hundreds, of thousands. There isn't going to be any woman in my life, after you. Would you mind handling that paper, please?"

He passed the document to her, opened. "Here's what I meant to do if I did not come through. It wasn't much. But I am to pay; and if I had had that was all I could pay. That's my last will and testament, my dear girl. I have left you all I have. It is a legal will. There'll never be any codicil."

She looked at him straight. "It is not valid," she said. "Surely you are not of sound mind!"

He looked about him at the room, for the first time in his memory immaculately neat. He sighed. "I never will be of sound mind again, I fear."

"Make this paper valid" he suddenly demanded. "Give me my sound mind, too. You've given me back my body sound."

Her lips parted in a smile sufficient to show the row of her white and even teeth. "You are getting well. It is time for me to go. As to this—She handed him back the paper folded."

"You think it is only an attempt to heal the soreness of my conscience, don't you?" he said after a time, shaking his head. "It was; but it was more. Well, you can't put your image out of my heart, anyhow. I've got that. So you're going to leave me now? Soon? Let it be soon. I suppose it has to come."

"My own affairs require me. There is no possible tenure on which I could stay here longer. Not even Jeanne!" "No," said he at length, again in conviction, shaking his head. "There isn't any way."

"You make it so hard," said she. "Why are you so stubborn?"

"Listen!" He turned, and again there came back to his face the old fighting flush. "I faced the loss of a limb and said I couldn't stand that and live. Now you are going to cut the heart out of me. You ask me to live in spite of that. How can I? Were you ever married, madam?" This last suddenly. "You may regard it as true," said she slowly, after long hesitation. "Were you?"

"You may regard that also as true!" He set his jaw and looked at her straight. Their eyes met steadily, seeking, searching. They now again, opposed, stood on the firing lines as he had said.

"But you told me"—she began. "I told you nothing, if you will remember. I only said that if you could feel as I did I'd let the heavens fold as a scroll before I'd ask a word about your past. I'd begin all the world all over again, right here. So far as I am concerned I wouldn't even care about the law. But you're not so lawless as I am. And somehow I've got to thinking—a little—of your side of things."

"The law does not prevent my doing as I like," she replied. It was agony that showed on his face at this.

"Suppose I should tell you that all the time I was talking to you about what I felt, there was a wall, a great wall, for ever between us?" "In that case I should regret God had made a man so forgetful of honor. I should be glad heaven had left me untouched by anything such a man could say. Suppose that?—Why, suppose I had cared and that I had found after all there was no hope? There comes in conscience, sir, there comes in honor."

"Then in such a case?" "In such a case any woman would hate a man! Stress may win some women, but deceit never did."

"I have not deceived you?" "Do you wish to do so now?"

"No! It's just the contrary. Haven't I said you must go? But since you must pay, I'm willing. If you wish, to bare my life to the very bone, to the heart before you, now—right now." She pondered for a moment. "Of course, I knew there was something. There, in that room—in that wardrobe—those were her garments—of another—another woman. Who?" "Walt, now. Go slow, because I'm suffering. Listen. I'll not bear a word about your own life—I want no secret of you. I'm content. But I'm willing now. I say, to tell you all about that—about those things. I didn't do that at first, but how could I? There wasn't any chance. Besides, when I saw you, the rest of the world, the rest of my life, it was all, all wiped out of my mind, as though some drug had done it."

"Oh, I'm awake now! But I reckon maybe that doesn't mean that I'm getting out of my dream, but only into it deeper yet. I was mad for you then. I could feel the blood sting in my veins, for you. Life is life after all, and we're made as we are. But later, now, beside that, on top of that, something else—do you think it's—do you suppose I'm capable of it, selfish as I am? Do you reckon it's love, just big, worthy, decent love, better than anything in the world? Is that—do you reckon, dear girl, that that's why I'm able now to say goodbye? I loved you once so much I could not let you go. Now I love you so much I can not let you stay."

It was any sort of time, a moment, an hour, before there was spoken speech between them after that. At last they both heard her voice.

"Now, you begin to pay. I am glad I am glad."

"Then it is your revenge? Very well, you have it."

She went to him swiftly, put a hand on his arm. "No!" said she. "What I want you to believe is that it's life that makes us pay, that it's God that makes us pay."

"Is my debt to you paid, then? His voice trembled."

"So far as it runs to me, it is paid."

"What remains?" "Nothing but the debt of yourself to yourself. I'm going to look back to a strange chapter in my life—a life which has had some strange ones. I'm not going to be able to forget, of course, what you've said to me. A woman loves to be loved. When I go, I go; but I want to look back now and then and see you are still paying and getting richer with each act of courage, when you pay to yourself, not me."

"Ah, fanatic! Ah, visionary! Ah, dreamer, dreamer! And you?" "That is the rest of the debt. Each of us has suffered. Mine own is for the faith, for the cause."

"For what cause? What cause do you mean?" "The cause of the world," she answered vaguely. "The cause of humanity. Oh, the world's so big, and we're so very little. Life runs away so fast. So many suffer in the world, so many want! Is it right for us, more fortunate, to take all, to eat in greed, to sleep in sloth, to be free from care, when there are thousands all over the world needing food, aid, sympathy, opportunity, the chance to grow?"

"Oh"—she beat her hands together, as was sometimes her way—"America, this great west, this splendid country where the feet are hurrying on so fast, fast—and the steam now carries men faster, faster, so that it may be done—it may be done—without delay—why, all this America must one day give over war and selfishness, just as we two have tried to give over war and selfishness, right here, right now. Do you suppose this world was made just to hold selfishness and unhappiness? Do you think that's all there ever was to the plan of life? Ah, no! There's something in living beyond eating and drinking and sleeping and getting. Faith—a great faith in something, some plan ahead, some purpose under you—ah, that's living!"

"But they banished you for that?" "Yes, that's why they put me out of Washington, I suppose. I've been twice banished. That is why I came here to this country. Maybe, sir, that is why I came to you, here! Who shall say as to these things?"

His throat worked strongly. There was some struggle in the man. At last he spoke, and quietly. "I see what separates us now. It is the wall of our convictions. You are specifically an abolitionist, just as you are in general a revolutionist. I'm on the other side. That's between us, then? An abstraction?"

"I don't think so. There are three walls between us. The first you put up when you first met me. The second is what you call traditions, your belief in wasting human life. The third—it's this thing of which you must not speak. Take the case of the girl Lily. She was the actual cause of your getting hurt, of many men being killed. Why?"

"Because she was a runaway slave. The law has to be enforced, property must be protected, even if it costs life sometimes. There'd be no government otherwise. We men have to take our chances in a time like that. The duty is plain."

"How utterly you fall of the truth; that's not why there was blood spilled over her. Do you know who she is?" "No," he said.

"She is the daughter of your friend, Judge Clayton of the bench of justice in your commonwealth. That is why she wants to run away! Her father does not know he is her father. God has his way of righting such things."

"There are things we must not talk about in this slavery question. Stop. I did not of course know this. And Clayton did not know. I have bought Lily from him. You are telling me much."

"I will tell you that night when Carlike would have killed you in your room there, when I afterward put you all on parole!"

"Yes, yes."

"I saved you then and sent them away. Do you know why?" "I suppose it was the horror of more blood."

"I don't think so. I believe it was just for this—for this very talk I'm having now with you. I saved you then so that some day I might demand you as hostage."

"I want you to vote with me," she continued, "for the higher law. I want you to vote with God's poor people. If—"

"Why, sir, if I could only get you to think as Mr. Benton does—a man with your power and influence and faculty for leadership—I'd call this winter well spent—better spent than if I'd been left in Washington."

"Suppose I wanted to change my beliefs, how would I go about it? If a man hasn't got faith, how's he going to get it—by what process can he reach out into the dark and find it? What's the use of his saying he has found faith when he knows he hasn't?"

"I cannot give you any answer. For myself, I have found that faith."

"You would endure much for your convictions?" he demanded suddenly. "Would you suffer more? Undertake the conversion of a sinner like my self?"

The flame of his eye caught hers in spite of herself. A little flush came into her cheek.

"Tell me," he demanded imperiously, "on what terms?"

"You do not play the game. You would ask me to preach to you—but you would come to see the revival, not to listen to grace. It isn't playing the game."

"But you're seeking converts?" "I would despise no man in the world so much as a hypocrite, a turncoat! You can't purchase faith in the market place, not any more than—"

"Any more than you can purchase love? But I've been wanting not the sermon, but the preacher. You! You! Yes, it is the truth. I want nothing else in the world so much as you."

"I'd never care for a man who would admit that."

"There never was a woman in the world loved a man who did not."

"Oh, always I try to analyze these things," she went on desperately, facing him, her eyes somber, her face aglow, her attitude tense. "I don't see how a woman could care for a man who only cared for her beauty."

"Any price, for just that?" he said grimly. "You would be cheap at any cost."

"But a man even like yourself, sir, would be very cheap if his price was as you say. No turncoat could win me—I'd love him more on his own side yonder threefold wall, with his convictions, than on my side without them. I couldn't be bought cheap as that, nor by a cheap man. I'd never love a man who held himself cheap."

"But then," she added, casting back at him one of his own earlier speeches, "if you only thought as I did, what could we not do together? Ah, life is so little, so short!"

"No, no! Stop!" he cried out. "I cannot recant! I cannot give up my convictions or my love, either one; and yet I'm not sure I'm going to have left either one. It's hell, that's what's left for me. But listen. Much as I love you, I'd rather see you marry some other man than think of you never married at all. God never meant a flower such as you to wither, to die, to be wasted. Why, look at you! Look at you! And you say you are to be wasted! God never meant it so, you beauty, you wonderful woman!"

Even as she was about to speak, drawn by the passion of him, the agony of his cry, there came to the ears of both an arresting sound—one which it seemed to Josephine was not wholly strange to her ears. It was like the cry of a babe, a child's wail, difficult to locate, indefinite in distance.

"What was it?" she whispered. "Did you hear?"

He took her by the arms, looking sadly, mournfully into her face, and said: "You must go. Once in awhile I forget. It's got to be goodbye between you and me. We'll set tomorrow morning as the time for you to go."

"As I have a witness," he said at last. "I've said. Goodbye."

He crushed her to him once, as though she were no more than a flower, as though he would take the heart of her fragrance. Then, even as she felt the heave of his great body, panting at the touch of her, mad at the scent of her hair, he put her back from him with a sob, a groan. He bent and kissed her hands, his lips hot on them, and so left her trembling.

(To Be Continued.)

NEW APARTMENTS

AT 688-698 BROAD STREET, EAST WEYMOUTH
Eight new houses, entrances 686 Broad street. Apartments of 4 rooms, all rooms facing the rising sun. Each apartment has 4 rooms and bath, gas and electric lights, hard pine floors, open plumbing. Rent $12 and $14 per month.

CALL AT ONCE!
Apply on premises or to
I. NESSON
101 Tremont street Boston
TELEPHONE 6129 MAIN

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Beef, Lamb, Pork, Ham, Bacon and Fowl
Fresh Vegetables as fast as they are in the Market.
Choice Dairy Butter and Fresh Home Laid Eggs
Pure Food Canned Goods from the Best Packers
High Grade Teas, Coffee, Spices and Groceries of all kinds

F. H. SYLVESTER
Broad St., Telephone 121 W. East Weymouth.

Coal - COAL - Coal

BEST QUALITY OF ALL KINDS. ALL-RAIL ANTHRACITE IS SUPERIOR
CHARLES T. LEAVITT, Successor to H. M. CURTISS COAL CO
Yard, Wharf St., EAST WEYMOUTH. Tel. 21-2

J. L. WILDES
Tuner and Repairer of Pianos and Organs
Reference: Mason & Hamlin Piano and Organ Co.

RESIDENCE:
522 Commercial St., Weymouth Heights

INSURANCE

Of All Kinds

H. FRANKLIN PERRY
104 Front Street
WEYMOUTH, MASS.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

DIAMOND BRAND
LADIES!
Ask your Druggist for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS in RED and GOLD metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. TAKE NO OTHER. Buy of your Druggist and ask for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for twenty-five years regarded as Best, Safest, Always Reliable.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS
TIME TRIED EVERYWHERE TESTED

PATENTS

OVER 65 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
TRADE MARKS DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HARRISON & SONS, 379 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Send for our latest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munz & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNZ & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

Financial Explanation.
"Well, sir," cried Mr. Richpop, "what does this mean? My daughter sitting on your lap, sir?" "Why, yes, Mr. Richpop," said Waggle. "You see, sir, I have just suggested a consolidation of our interests, and I have undertaken to act as a holding company until the merger is completed according to established forms."—Harper's Weekly.

ICE ICE

IN ANY QUANTITY.
COAL, WOOD, HAY, STRAW.

TEAMING. Heavy or Light Teaming. Piano and Furniture Moving.

J. F. & W. H. CUSHING,
EAST WEYMOUTH.
Telephone Connection

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
NORFOLK, SS. PROBATE COURT.
TWO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of FRANCESCO LUCIANO, late of Weymouth in said County, deceased: Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Alessandro Luciano and Margherita Luciano, both of Weymouth, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bonds; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of June, A.D. 1913, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Weymouth Gazette, a newspaper published in said Weymouth, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-first day of May in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.
10 12 JOHN D. COBB, Register.

Land Court.

To the inhabitants of the town of Weymouth, a municipal corporation located in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth: Theresa Shea and Patrick E. Cross, of said Weymouth; the South Shore Co-operative Bank, a duly existing corporation having its usual place of business in said Weymouth; Joel King now or formerly of said Weymouth, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern: Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Leon J. Auger, of said Weymouth, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Weymouth, containing about 60 square rods, bounded southerly by Broad street thereon measuring 107 feet more or less; westerly by land of Patrick E. Cross; northerly by land of said Cross thereon measuring 150 feet more or less; and easterly by land of Theresa Shea. The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan. You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the sixteenth day of June, 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon. Witness, CHARLES THORNTON DAVIS, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-first day of May in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.
Attest with Seal of said Court.
[SEAL] CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE
—AND—
INSURANCE
John B. Whelan
21 Quincy Avenue East Braintree
— TELEPHONE BRAINTREE 21462 —

Big Business Is Good Business

The grand strategy of the New England Lines is to develop the territory it serves.

To win out is to provide a better system of transportation than New England ever knew.

The biggest business-building institution in the community must be the railroad that serves that community.

PACKED DRINK ONLY IN LIPTON'S TEA AIRTIGHT DIRECT FROM OUR OWN PLANTATIONS TINS

Right Now Is Your Time

We can show you what you want in House, Camp, Lawn or Piazza Furniture. Are you looking for Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Curtains and Fixtures, or Paper Hanging? If so, see our stock. Carpets Laid, Curtains Hung, Upholstering and Repairing by experts. Do you need a Summer Cooking Stove? We have the best. How about taking the baby out! We have the carriages.

FORD FURNITURE CO.
Broad St. Tel. Co. East Weymouth

All Summer Styles in High Cuts, Oxfords and Pumps $3.00 $3.50 Don't forget our BONNIE LASSIE SHOE For Misses and Children The Shoes that Satisfy

Men's and Boys Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps W. M. TIRRELL 771 BROAD ST TELEPHONE 66 WEYMOUTH EAST WEYMOUTH

TRY A BOTTLE OF Armour's Best Grape Juice 10c 25c, 50c a bottle It is delicious SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY

DANIEL REIDY, Pharm. D. DRUGGIST 781 Broad St., East Weymouth, Mass.

Advertise in the Gazette.

HEREDITY AND THE EYES.

Blue or Gray Eyed Parents Cannot Have Brown Eyed Children.

Since blue and probably gray eyed parents have no brown pigment in the outer surface of the iris they cannot transmit brown to that portion of their children's eyes. This absent characteristic may be one that has been lost or it may never have been acquired. It is known in heredity language as a recessive. Hence, to repeat, two recessives produce in their offspring only their recessive condition.

The hereditary behavior of brown eye color, however, is very different. In brown eyes actual pigment occurs in the iris. Here there is something accumulated to hand on down to subsequent generations. The amount that can be transmitted, however, depends on one's own hereditary history as well as that of one's consort. If both of Smith's parents belong to brown eyed strains, then Smith can have only brown eyes. And since Smith has been given, as it were, a double dose of brown his eyes will be dark brown.

Smith will have, in his turn, only brown eyed children, whatever may be the color of his wife's eyes. In the language of heredity, Smith's brown eye color dominates over blue or gray. When Smith's brown eye color has been derived from one parent only, then his own eyes will tend to be lighter in color and only half of his germ cells will have the potentiality for making brown eyes. Hence, if he marries a blue or gray eyed wife, only half of his children will have brown eyes, and a light brown, too, because of two generations of dilution. In case Smith's wife also has brown eyes derived from one of her parents only, then three out of four of their children will have brown eyes, but only one of the three will get a double dose of brown; hence Smith's brown eyed children will not all transmit brown in the same degree.

Thus it is possible for a brown eyed parent to have one-half or one-quarter of his children blue or gray eyed. But it is never possible for two blue or gray eyed parents to have brown eyed children.—Independent.

FREEZING WATER.

Conditions That Cause the Bursting or Cracking of Ice.

Ice never bursts from freezing. As soon as the liquid of which it is composed is frozen solid expansion ceases. The cracking or bursting of ice is brought about in this way: When water is subjected to extreme cold ice crystals will gradually form on its surface until the same are covered with a thin coat of what appears to be wet snow. From this outer coating of ice crystals all subsequent freezing goes downward, the ice thickening according to the degree of cold. The water which is being converted into ice now begins to expand, creating a pressure upon the unfrozen water below. This pressure is both downward and outward, and in case the water under observation is in a vessel the sides and bottom of the receptacle supply the resistance.

As the freezing process continues the pressure upon the confined water and air in the interior of the bulk increases until something yields. If the vessel be stronger than the ice stratum that has formed over the surface the layer of ice will be bent upward at the center, that being the weakest point, on account of the fact that the outer edges of the congealed mass are frozen fast to the sides of the vessel in which the experiment is being made. In this condition the center of the ice continues to rise or bulge until it bursts from the resistance of the water below. Could the vessel be tapped from below and the water drawn off no amount of freezing would be sufficient to crack or bulge the ice layer on the surface.

At a Disadvantage.

"A newly married man always has great confidence in the superior wisdom of his wife."

"Naturally," replied Miss Cayenne. "A man who has been accustomed to eating with plain knives, forks and spoons is likely to feel pretty humble and subdued while he is being instructed in the use of all the silverware that came with the wedding presents."—Washington Star.

Breaking It Gently.

"Whom have you there in tow?" "This is Rip Van Winkle. He just woke up."

"Why guard him so carefully?" "Well, we're letting him see the women's styles gradually, don't you know."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Not Encouraging.

"Madam, do you think you can use your influence with your husband to induce him to support me in the coming campaign?" "I don't know, sir. I've never yet succeeded in inducing him to support me."—Baltimore American.

Stingy.

"She's the cheapest woman I know of."

"Why do you say that?" "The other day we got on a car together, and I insisted on paying my own fare, and she let me."—Detroit Free Press.

Pecan Nuts.

Try cracking pecan nuts by placing them on end in the nut cracker. One vigorous crushing of the cracker will split the nut open through the center.

Giving Advice.

Sillicus—Do you ever give advice? Cynicus—Not unless I'm pretty sure it won't be followed.—Philadelphia Record.

WAKEFIELD H. S. 3. WEYMOUTH H. S. 2.

Weymouth Loses Seven Inning Contest at Wakefield on the Holiday.

Weymouth high lost to Wakefield 11 to 3 on the latter's diamond last Friday morning, 3 to 2 in a seven-inning contest.

Fraher, Murphy and Munroe excelled for Weymouth. The game was called at the end of the seventh inning because of the Wakefield Park Commissioners ruling prohibiting ball games after 12 noon on Decoration day. The score:

WAKEFIELD H. S.
	bh	po	a	e
Horne, ss	0	1	5	0
Eaton, lb	1	9	1	1
H. Reid, cf	0	4	0	0
F. McKie, lf	2	0	0	0
Fred Reid, p	1	0	2	0
Mackenzie, c	1	5	1	0
Doucette, 2b	1	1	1	0
Nicholson, 3b	0	1	1	0
Frank Rd, rf	0	0	0	0
Totals	6	21	11	1

WEYMOUTH H. S.
	bh	po	a	e
V. Gorman, 2b	1	2	3	0
Murphy, lb	0	7	0	0
Gloster, 3b	0	0	1	0
Fraher, c	1	3	0	0
Gardner, lf	1	4	0	0
Riley, ss	0	1	2	1
Munroe, cf	0	3	0	0
W. Reid, rf	1	0	0	0
Burrell, p	0	0	2	0
Totals	4	20	8	1

*Fred Reid out in the seventh inning by batted ball.

Innings
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Wakefield H. S.	2	0	0	1	0	0	—3
Weymouth H. S.	0	0	1	1	0	0	—2

Runs made by—Eaton 2, H. Reid, Fraher, W. Reid. Two base hits—Eaton, Fraher. Three base hits—McKie. Stolen bases—Fred Reid, Mackenzie, Murphy, Fraher, W. Reid 3. Base on balls—Fred Reid, Burrell 5. Struck out by—Fred Reid 5, Burrell. Sacrifice hits—Nicholson. Sacrifice flies—F. Reid 2. Hit by pitched ball—W. Reid. Passed ball—Fraher. Time—1 hr. 15 min. Umpires—Young and Cosgrove.

Munich Royalty is Meager.

As far as meeting royalty is concerned, Munich is a great contrast to Berlin. It is impossible to stay long in the Prussian capital without having one's path stopped or impeded by the passing of some prince of the royal house or, at all events, by the cohorts of police who safeguard them. One may stay for months in Munich without seeing more than a royal carriage driving past almost unnoticed except for the raising of hats. The popularity of the Wittelsbachs is genuine, and every Municher takes a lively interest in the ways and doings of the members of the royal house. The tragic history of the Wittelsbachs in recent times is perhaps the reason why the personalities of the present generation seem somewhat effaced. They at all events take care not to stand in the limelight.—Manchester Guardian.

Champagne From Sponges.

"Champagne makers of Rheims buy a lot of our sponges," said a wholesale dealer. "They squeeze champagne out of them. They must squeeze in the year's course a million bottles of champagne out of sponges. Mystified, aren't you? But there is no mystery about the matter. Champagne as it ferments is powerful stuff; it breaks the strongest bottles, and in the past all the champagne that broke its bottles and escaped was lost. Now, though, they pack the champagne bottles in clean sponges, and every day or two they go over the plant, and if any of the bottles have broken they squeeze into casks the wine that the sponges have retained. This wine, reclassified, refined and bottled again, makes a very good second quality drink."

How a Flea Jumps.

It is said that a flea leaps 200 times its height, and, while it usually does land on its feet, it often falls, especially when it falls on a perfectly smooth surface, where the claws can get only a slight hold. A flea has six legs, whose great length and bulk make them so heavy that they must be a great help in keeping their owner right side up when it makes one of those gigantic jumps, and when it lands upside down or in some other way its ability to kick is so great that not more than one wriggle is needed to set things right. A flea's wings are mere scales and of no use. But, small and worthless as they are, they tell the entomologist something about the proper classification of the insect. To the flea itself they have no value.

Compelling Use of Surnames.

Some folk have been compelled by law to change their surnames. In 1603, for instance, the name of MacGregor was proscribed, and those who had previously borne it were compelled to adopt another. In Ireland, also, as far back as 1485, an act was passed ordering the inhabitants of certain districts to "gae apparedle like Englishmen, wear their head after the English manner and take English surnames." The act further directed that those concerned should take for their new names "the name of a town, as Sutton, Chester, Cork or a color, as White, Black, Brown," and that they and their wives should use this new surname under pain of forfeiting all their belongings.—London Graphic.

"To the Lamppost."

"To the lamppost" is a mistranslation of "a la lanterne." There was no lamppost. The lamp was hung over the middle of the street in the center of a cord, which passed over pulleys at the sides of the street. The lamp was let down, the person to be hanged was substituted for it and the ends of the cord pulled.—London Notes and Queries.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN PIANO TUNER.

PIANOS FOR SALE 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point. Telephone 1158-M Quincy.

JOSEPH W. McDONALD UNDERTAKER and REGISTERED EMBALMER

Office and Rooms: 751 BROAD ST., EAST WEYMOUTH (Old G.A.R. Hall) Tel. 427W.

Residence, 651 Broad St. Tel. 427R.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened

Mail us a card, or telephone, and we will call and get your Lawn Mower, Clean, Sharpen and return the same for

ONE DOLLAR

PRICE & HENDER

24 Elmwood Park, East Braintree 7-15 Telephone 68-1 Braintree.

For Sale

New Bungalow, 6 rooms and bath, all modern throughout, 10,000 ft. of land, 2 minutes from electric cars, and 10 minutes from steam cars, good location, price $2,850, can be seen any time.

RUSSELL B. WORSTER,

Real Estate and Insurance Agent. Auctioneer, Notary, Justice of the Peace 8 Commercial Street, Weymouth.

NURSERY STOCK

A full line of Trees, Shrubs, and Vines, Fruit and Ornamental. Asparagus, all best selected stock at reasonable prices. First Class Spray Pumps and Solutions.

Charles L. Merritt 257 Main Street SOUTH WEYMOUTH TEL. 249-M Hours: 4 P. M. to 7 A. M.

MEETINGS OF THE Selectmen & Overseers of the Poor

SELECTMEN Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth. Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth. George L. Newton, North Weymouth. Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth. Henry E. Hanley, East Weymouth.

Meetings Savings Bank Building, East Weymouth, Every Monday, during the municipal year, from 2 to 5 o'clock p. m.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth. Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth. George L. Newton, North Weymouth. Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth. A. Francis Barnes, South Weymouth.

Meet at the Town Home every first Tuesday of the month and at the Town Office, East Weymouth, every third Tuesday from 2 to 5 o'clock p. m. Weymouth, March 14, 1913.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills for Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe.

Town Officers of Weymouth and their Post Office Address.

TOWN CLERK. John A. Raymond, East Weymouth. TOWN TREASURER. John H. Stetson, South Weymouth.

SELECTMEN. Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth. Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth. George L. Newton, North Weymouth. Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth. Henry E. Hanley, East Weymouth.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR. Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth. Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth. George L. Newton, North Weymouth. Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth. A. Francis Barnes, South Weymouth.

ASSESSORS. John F. Dwyer, Chairman, Weymouth. Frank H. Torrey, Clerk, North Weymouth. Waldo Turner, East Weymouth. Warren T. Simpson, South Weymouth. Edward I. Loud, South Weymouth.

Regular meeting of Board first Wednesday evening of each month at Town Office Savings Bank building, East Weymouth.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE. Clarence P. Whittle, Chairman, Weymouth. A. Lillian McGregor, Secretary, E. Weymouth. E. E. Leonard, East Weymouth. Arthur H. Alden, North Weymouth. Theron L. Tirrell, South Weymouth. Prince H. Tirrell, South Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS Parker T. Pearson, East Weymouth. At close of school on Monday will be at the Athens building; Tuesday at Jefferson; Wednesday at Lowe; Thursday at Hunt.

WATER COMMISSIONERS. Frank H. Torrey, Chairman North Weymouth. George E. Bicknell, Clerk, Weymouth. Robert S. Hoffman, East Weymouth. John H. Stetson, South Weymouth. Edward W. Hunt, Weymouth.

BOARD OF HEALTH. George E. Emerson, Chairman, So. Weymouth. Nelson B. Gladwin, Clerk, North Weymouth. John S. Williams, Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF WATER WORKS. Ivers M. Low, East Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS. John L. Maynard, East Weymouth.

TAX COLLECTOR. Winslow M. Tirrell, East Weymouth.

FIRE ENGINEERS. M. O'Dowd, chief, South Weymouth. W. W. Pratt, clerk, East Weymouth. J. Q. Hunt, East Weymouth. Charles W. Baker, Weymouth. Philip W. Wolf, North Weymouth.

TREE WARDEN. Charles L. Merritt, South Weymouth.

POLICE OFFICERS. P. Butler, chief, East Weymouth. Thomas Fitzgerald, Weymouth. A. H. Pratt, East Weymouth. John D. Walsh, Weymouth. Elbert Ford, South Weymouth. Geo. W. Nash, North Weymouth.

CONSTABLES. Isaac H. Walker, North Weymouth. George W. Nash, North Weymouth. Patrick Butler, East Weymouth. Arthur H. Pratt, East Weymouth. Thomas Fitzgerald, Weymouth. John D. Walsh, Weymouth. George B. Bayley, South Weymouth. Elbert Ford, South Weymouth. George W. Conant, South Weymouth. Willard F. Hall, East Weymouth.

AUDITORS. William H. Pratt, East Weymouth. John P. Hunt, Weymouth. Frank N. Blanchard, East Weymouth.

PARK COMMISSIONER. William H. Clapp, Weymouth. Louis A. Cook, South Weymouth. Arthur H. Alden, North Weymouth.

SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES. Frank D. Sherman, Weymouth.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT. (From Seventh Norfolk District.) John F. Dwyer, Weymouth, Mass.

SENATOR. (First Norfolk District.) John J. McDevitt, Quincy.

County Officers.

OFFICES AT DEBHAM. Judge of Probate and Insolvency, James H. Flint of Weymouth.

Register of Probate and Insolvency, John D. Cobb. Assistant Register, J. Raphael McCool. Clerk of Courts, Louis A. Cook of South Weymouth.

Assistant Clerk, Robert B. Worthington. Second Assistant, Louis A. Cook, Jr., of South Weymouth.

Register of Deeds, John H. Burdick. Assistant Register of Deeds, Edward L. Burdick.

County Treasurer, Henry D. Humphrey. Sheriff, Samuel H. Capen. Special Sheriff, Edward E. Wentworth, Cohasset.

County Commissioners, John F. Merritt of Quincy, chairman. Evan L. Richardson, of Millis. Everett M. Bowker, Brookline. Session every Tuesday at 10 a. m.

Special Commissioners, Fred L. Fisher, of Norwood; Henry A. Whitney, of Bellingham. District Attorney, (Southeast District, Norfolk and Plymouth), Albert F. Barker, of Brockton.

Assistant, D. A. Fred L. Katzman, of Hyde Park. Clerk of Dist. Court, (East Norfolk), Lawrence W. Lyons, of Quincy.

Calendar of County Courts.

Supreme Judicial Court Jury Sitting, third Tuesday of February.

Superior Court, Civil Sessions—For work with Juries—First Monday of January, first Monday of May, and first Monday of October. For Court work—First Monday of February, first Monday of April, first Monday of September, and first Monday of December.

Superior Court, Criminal Sessions—First Monday of April, first Monday of September; first Monday of December.

Probate Court—At Dedham, on the first and third Wednesdays of every month, except August. At Quincy, on the second Wednesday of every month, except August. At Brookline, on the fourth Wednesday of every month, except August.

County Commissioners' Meetings—Third Tuesday of April; fourth Tuesday of June; fourth Tuesday of September; last Wednesday of December. By adjournment: On Tuesdays, except during August.

District Court of East Norfolk. Jurisdiction Randolph, Braintree, Cohasset, Weymouth, Quincy, Holbrook and Milton. Court held at Quincy for criminal business every week day except legal holidays, and for civil business Tuesdays at 9 a. m. Justice, Albert E. Avery, Braintree. Special Justices, E. Granville Pratt, Quincy; Louis A. Cook, Weymouth. Clerk, Lawrence W. Lyons, Asst. James McDonald. Probation Officer, Francis A. Spear, 25 Thayer Street, Quincy. Court Officer and Bail Commissioner, William Marden, 24 Coddington Street, Quincy.

Important Thing to Know. If a man is dependent upon his life-work by means of his thinking it is just as important that he should choose that time when he is best qualified to think, as it is important that he should look before he crosses a street.

WEYMOUTH AND EAST BRAINTREE

Mrs. Katherine Fay of Atlantic has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sherrick of Summer street. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Bryant are home from a visit at Gray, Maine. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Knowles of Beverly have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clapp. Miss Helen Our has been visiting relatives at Greenbush. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Lund of New London, Conn. have been visiting her mother Mrs. Harriett Guterson. Edward Keefe and Russell Caulfield are breaking in as conductors on the local street railway. Frank Hilton is sick with the grip. Morrill Allen is having a week's vacation. Miss Priscilla Warner has been visiting in Somerville. Mr. and Mrs. William Powers of Lynn have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powers of Torrey's lane. Joseph Hennessey, John Maguire and Daniel McCue, three well known young men of East Braintree, had a narrow escape from a watery grave last Sunday while out yachting on the Monatiquot river, when nearly opposite Richards' wharf the boat tipped over. The three men clung to the bottom of the boat until help arrived and brought them ashore. The thirteen members of the East Braintree Y. M. C. A., who went on a bicycle hike to Manomet beach, Plymouth, last Thursday night returning home Saturday report a fine time. They were ten hours making the run home, caused by the punctures and spent Friday night in a barn in Marshfield. While at the beach they made their headquarters in a portable building, the gift of Thomas A. Watson. James Fowler of Worcester, a former resident of this town, spent Memorial Day with his brother, Peter Fowler. Principal Taylor and the pupils of the eighth grade of the Jonas Perkins school

Wants, For Sale, To Let, Etc. Four lines or less under this head, 25 cents each insertion; each extra line 10c. Count 8 words to a line. No ads. accepted in this department unless accompanied by the cash.

NEW FOR SALE—Delivered in carload lots by the Bay State St. Ry. Co. Apply to Thomas Gannon, Supt., 64 Hancock street, Quincy Telephone, Quincy 6. 9tf

AUTO To Let for parties, weddings, christenings, for long or short trips, 6-pass Buick. Tel. Wey. 286-W. Pine Point Auto and Motor Co., Bridge street, North Weymouth. 29tf

CLOTHING—Men's and young men's. Hand-made patterns. Two hundred suits, $4 to $12. Bargains not to be found elsewhere. Geo. A. Hunt, 78 Front St., Weymouth. 11tf

CAN place a few mortgages, with private parties, and on reasonable terms if property is right. Address Box 568, E. Weymouth. 17tf

FOR SALE—To close out a stock, two good heavy express harnesses and one carriage or buggy harness. W. T. Hefernan, harness maker, Broad street, East Weymouth. 10tf

FOR SALE—House of eight rooms and bath, hot water heat, gas and electricity, stable and 20,000 feet of land. For terms and other information apply to Mrs. Robert B. Raymond, 31 Fairmount Ave., East Weymouth. 1213

TO LET—Furnished rooms; also wanted plain washing and ironing, curtain laundering a specialty. Apply at 1229 Commercial st., East Wey. 11-15

TO LET—A tenement of six rooms with bath. Apply to Geo. E. Bicknell, 24 Tremont St. It Apply M. R. Wright, agent, 37 Commercial street, Weymouth. 9tf

TO LET—A house of 7 rooms on East street near Keith's factory. Apply to W. H. Pratt, Broad street, East Weymouth. 11tf

WANTED—People to know that it costs only 25 cents to make known their wants in this column.

LOST SAVINGS BANK BOOK.

Savings Bank Book as listed below is lost, and application has been made for payment of the account in accordance with Sect. 49, Chap. 599, of the Acts of 1905 and amendments thereto. Payment has been stopped.

LOST—Deposit Book No. 10459 of the Weymouth Savings Bank is reported lost.

LOST—Deposit Book No. 11093 of the Weymouth Savings Bank is reported as lost. 12-14

Real Estate

Do you want to BUILD or BUY? I have property for sale in Weymouth and vicinity, of all kinds. Call and see me and make known your wants Reasonable terms.

CAREY'S REAL ESTATE AGENCY 733 Broad Street East Weymouth. Tel. phone TWO 1

EAST WEYMOUTH AND WEYMOUTH CENTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Pratt of Campello, former residents of this place, were in town over Decoration day visiting relatives and friends. Conductor George Walker and Motor-man John Gannon had charge of the special car that conveyed the Jonas Perkins school children of East Braintree on a sight-seeing trip to Plymouth last Saturday. Charles Connors has been the recent guest of friends in Lynn. Lucerne W. Crandall, a former principal of the James Humphrey School, now of Newport, R. I., has been visiting friends in town. Miss Persis Tuttle, principal at the Jefferson school, spent a few days this week at her home in Warren. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cann and family visited relatives in Foxboro over the holidays. Miss Melissa Chase spent the vacation at her home in Beverly. William B. Shaw of Lowell was the guest over Sunday of his mother, Mrs. R. B. Shaw of Central Square. Gas mains are being laid on Broad street place and Off Broad street near Central Square, by the Old Colony Gas Co. Ringling Bros.' circus in Boston attracted quite a crowd from this village last Saturday afternoon and evening. Miss Audrey Duffy of the high school teaching corps, spent the holidays at her home in Medford. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Houghton have taken up their residence in the house on Broad street recently vacated by Mrs. Abbie Pike and family. Mr. and Mrs. George P. Wardwell and son, Harold of Orient Heights, were the guests over Decoration of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bearce. Mrs. Simeon Bearce of Broad street quietly celebrated her 84th birthday at her home last Friday. Many friends called to extend congratulations and best wishes and Mrs. Bearce was the recipient of a post card shower from neighbors and friends. Miss Florence Lincoln of Bridgewater Normal school was the guest over the holidays of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. LaForest Lincoln of Maple street. The religious services at the town home on Sundays during this month are in charge of the Golden Rule Circle of King's Daughters. Steadfast Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., served a supper, held a meeting and played whist last Monday evening in the Odd Fellows' hall, East Weymouth. The supper committee consisted of Mrs. Grace Lane, Mrs. Charlie Dunbar, Mrs. A. H. Pratt and Mrs. William Newcomb. Gentile DeYoung and Miss Singa Saara, both of East Weymouth, were married by Rev. G. A. Grant at the Methodist parsonage last Friday. The Past Noble Grand of Steadfast Rebekah Lodge will not work the degree next Monday night as a whist party will be enjoyed with a salad supper at 6.30. The many friends of Miss Josie McCarthy, the popular telephone operator at the central office, are pleased to learn that she is recovering from the illness that has kept her from her duties the past two months. Dorothea L. Dix Tent, Daughters of Veterans, netted about $200 at its recent fair in G. A. R. hall. In Mechanics Temple of Honor hall in Commercial Square last Tuesday evening, the newly elected officers of local lodge of Loyal Order of Moose, including Louis M. Beach, dictator, conferred the initiatory degrees on a class of candidates. A delegation from the Quincy lodge was present. Seven members of the Opportunity Circle of King's Daughters enjoyed an outing in Hanson on Wednesday and while there visited "Gordon Rest." The pupils of the Jefferson school were entertained with a talk on Indian life by Mr. Rose on Tuesday afternoon. The annual meeting of the Ladies Social Circle of the Congregational church was held Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Elmer E. Leonard, president; Mrs. J. Herbert Libby and Miss Josie Cummings, vice presidents; Mrs. W. M. Tirrell, secretary, and Mrs. Clara Mitchell, treasurer. The treasurer's report showed all bills paid and a balance of $110 on hand. J. H. Murray has moved his hardware business from Jackson Square to the building on Broad street, formerly occupied by the Post Office. The new store is much more commodious and with new fixtures and a largely increased line of goods, Murray's hardware store ranks second to none in the vicinity. Mr. Murray guarantees the same courteous treatment as was prevalent in the old headquarters and will be pleased to greet his old friends and many new ones in his new, up-to-date store next to Sylvester's market. The local order of Moose have elected Louis W. Beach and Harry Vogel as delegates to the convention to be held at Providence on June 18 and 19. The Old Quincy and Boston car barn on Broad street has been undergoing several much needed repairs this week. This barn is now used by the Bay State St. R. R. to store cars in. In the Twilight league this week, on Tuesday evening the Edwin Clapp Co.

went on a trolley ride to Plymouth, last Saturday. Charles South is seriously ill with pneumonia. The alarm from box 34 Monday noon for a fire at the house, 28 Richmond street owned by George E. Bicknell and occupied by Hugh C. Ramsey. The fire started in a couch from some unknown cause, there being no one at home at the time. Workmen with fire extinguishers from Cate's factory put out the fire before the arrival of the department. The damage was small. The Patrick Caulfield estate on Front street was sold at auction last Friday to John Caulfield for $1500. Bradford Tirrell was in Maine over Decoration on a fishing trip. Mrs. Thomas Hyland and Miss Eva Hyland are home from a visit with relatives in Attleboro. Frederick Bates of Fall River, a former resident has been in town on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Bates. George Balch of Worcester was in town, Memorial Day on a visit to his aunt Mrs. Wade of Quincy avenue. One hundred children will be confirmed at the Sacred Heart next Sunday afternoon. Court Monatiquot has had handsome curtains inscribed F. of A. 150 put up in its hall. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackwood have moved to Richmond, Va. Mrs. Albert B. Sanborn's ill with an attack of neuralgia around the heart. Mrs. Annie Tirrell, widow of Joseph Tirrell and for years a resident of this place, died at her home in Chicago, Ill., Saturday, after a long illness. She was a member of the first Baptist church of this town and is survived by a son, Bart Tirrell of Chicago and two daughters, Mrs. Fred Dow of Cincinnati, Ohio and Mrs. William F. Hathaway, Jr. of Boston. The remains were brought here and the funeral was held from the residence of Mrs. Betsey Pray on Broad street Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Frank B. Cressey of Cambridge conducted the service. The interment was at Mt. Hope cemetery, South Weymouth. The Foresters of America base ball team defeated the Gas Company team at Garfield Park, Tuesday afternoon by a score of 8 to 4. Batteries—Delorey and DeYoung, Cahill and Haviland. The Girls' baseball team of the Hunt grammar school defeated the Girls' team of the Bates school last Saturday 33 to 32. At the beginning of the ninth inning the score was a tie 31 to 31. The line up: Hunt—Alice Bussiere, captain and pitcher; Marion Sherrick, catcher; Catherine Kempf, 1b; Helen Caulfield, 2b; Marion Tracy, 3b and Mabel Tracy, ss. Bates—Elsie Munroe, captain and pitcher; Margery Holbrook, catcher; Flora Blensie, 1b; Ida Bates, 2b; Louise Melville, 3b; Bertha Hanson, ss. The team will play at South Weymouth tomorrow morning. The commencement exercises were held at Boston University this week and among the graduates was Miss Doris Taylor of Walnut avenue. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Walsh, Wednesday. The members of the Elmwood whist club spent yesterday at Sharon the guests of one of the members, Mrs. John H. Guy formerly of this town. One of the large panes of glass in front of the store of Thomas B. Spillane, Washington square was broken Wednesday. A stone was picked up by the wheel of an auto and thrown through the glass. Edward G., the fifteen year old son of Dr. H. F. Vickery died at his home in Boston, Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Liquri are home from their wedding trip and have taken up their residence on Broad street. A woman passenger on one of the trains passing through here was struck on the head with a stone thrown by someone from the ledge near the depot one day this week. The woman who received a bad cut on the head lives in Hingham. The local police are trying to determine who threw the stone. The engagement is announced of Mr. Russell Nash of this town and Miss Grace Gordon of Holbrook. Arthur Barker has taken a position at the Hollis garage. James Jukes of East Boston is visiting his cousin, Frederick Caulfield. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dawson of Melrose, former residents, were in town yesterday calling on friends. Jacob Dexheimer, bookkeeper at the factory of G. H. Bicknell and Co., has been confined to his home this week by illness. The Union Literary Society held its last meeting of the season on Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Crane. The Keating sisters entertained during the evening with selections on the piano and violin and there was a program of vocal music. The next meeting of the society will be held next October. Baptist Church Notes. Rev. W. W. Main will occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning. The evening service will be omitted. Sunday, June 15, Rev. A. C. Denning, a returned missionary from China, will speak at the morning service. The evening service will be omitted. The last two Sundays in June the church will be closed. The pastor is enjoying a month's vacation and will return to take charge the 1st Sunday in July.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure Digests what you eat.

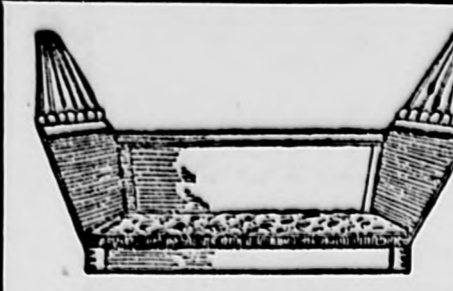

Summer Porch Needs—Now's The Time

From Hall to Kitchen, and for Porch, Piazza and Lawn, this Live Local Store is splendidly prepared to supply your Home Furnishing wants. Let us. We guarantee Highest Quality and Lowest Price. Easy Terms too.

PORCH ROCKERS CHAIRS and SETTEES

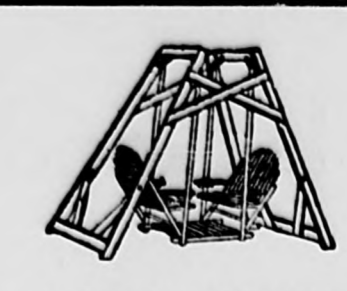

Lots to Choose From, all well made and neatly finished, natural or green, from 49c up

COUCH HAMMOCKS

As pictured. Made of strong, durable Khaki cloth all iron National Spring, Cotton Mattress, Wind Shield and Magazine Pocket. $5.40

Others $5.98, $6.98, $9.75, $12.75

LAWN SWINGS

Made of well seasoned selected hard wood for hard wear, attractively painted, not the cheap sort. $3.98 and $4.98

4-Passenger Swings, $6.98

Door and Window Screens, Lawn Hose and Mowers, Blue Flame Oil Stoves and Ovens, Refrigerators and Ice Cream Freezers, etc., etc., at Low Prices

Henry L. Kincaide & Co., 1495 HANCOCK ST. Quincy FURNITURE—PIANOS—RUGS—RANGES

All Summer Styles in High Cuts, Oxfords and Pumps $3.00 $3.50

Don't forget our BONNIE LASSIE SHOE For Misses and Children The Shoes that Satisfy FULL LINE OF STRAW HATS Also latest things in Men's and Boys Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps

W. M. TIRRELL 771 BROAD ST TELEPHONE 66 WEYMOUTH EAST WEYMOUTH

For The Highest Grade Porto Rico and New Orleans MOLASSES

GORDON WILLIS, THE COLUMBIAN SQUARE GROCER. South Weymouth

IMPORTANT NOTICE! On account of our increased business and lack of room we have been forced to move into new headquarters. We are now on the premises recently occupied by the Post Office, where we will be better equipped to meet old and new customers. J. H. MURRAY TELEPHONE WEYMOUTH 73-J.

C. R. Denbroeder Large stock from which to select MEN'S and BOY'S SUITS AND FURNISHINGS 750 Broad St. East Weymouth "The White Store"

EVER HEAR OF 'EM? KANT KRACK KOLLARS FOR MEN, 25 CENTS WASH DRESSES FOR CHILDREN 69c and 75c Vaughan's Daylight Store Bates Block Washington Square

REAL ESTATE

INSURANCE

Thomas J. White Central Square East Weymouth

OUR AIM

These warm days have been giving us Just all that we can do; But one thing more we'd like to do, And that is to please you. No better advertisement can be found for one in trade; Than customers well satisfied With goods that are well made. If you've not bought goods from our teams, Or even at our store, Give us a trial for we know We'll surely please one more. Our Jelly Doughnuts will please you, Also our Orange Squares; Our Hot Rolls and our Graham Bread Are not surpassed elsewhere.

WHITCOMB'S

Weymouth Gazette

AND TRANSCRIPT

WEYMOUTH, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1913.

VOL. XLVII. NO. 13.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY.

Weymouth Firemen's Relief Association Honors Its Dead.

The Weymouth Firemen's Relief Association which cares for its sick and unfortunate also remembers its dead added another to its many tributes last Sunday.

The graves of departed members in other places than South Weymouth were visited early in the day by details and many floral remembrances were placed on the sod which covered the remains of those who responded to the last alarm.

At 9 o'clock members of the association assembled at the Engine house Ward 5 where the following line was formed and proceeded to Highland cemetery where ceremony was held and graves decorated: Chief Marshall Edgar S. Wright, president of the association, with a platoon of Weymouth police, Chief of Police Patrick Butler, commanding; band, 25 men, George White, leader; Chief John Q. Hunt and District Chiefs Walter W. Pratt of East Weymouth, Matthew O'Dowd of South Weymouth, Charles W. Baker of Weymouth Landing and Philip W. Wolfe of North Weymouth.

At the conclusion of the cemetery exercises the line was again formed and marched to the Universalist church where the pastor, Rev. William W. Rose conducted devotional exercises with the theme "The Still Alarm" the basis of an address full of suggestions as to the citizens duty in the present hour.

A chorus choir, directed by Stephen F. Pratt, sang "Home of My Soul" and "Nearer, My God to Thee," with solo parts by Mrs. Roy E. Sherman and Miss Hester Swan. "Tarry With Me, O My Saviour," solo and quartet, was sung by Stephen F. Pratt, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. W. T. Newcomb and Charles Brown. Miss Mildred French presided at the organ Kipling's "Recessional" was the last number by the choir.

Since the organization of this association which has done a large relief work from the start 85 members have passed beyond the need of human aid.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Committee Making Progress and a Good Program Marked.

At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Trade held at the Town Office last night, there was a good attendance of the Fourth of July committee and others and the report of the committee showed liberal contributions coming in and a program which, if carried out, will give Weymouth a name among the cities and towns of the State and Nation.

The program if executed will bring together in the morning a large number of the school children of the town and every one will receive a handsome flag. There will be a parade a East Weymouth followed by patriotic exercises and games at the Clapp Memorial building and grounds and later in the day and evening there will be band concerts at Lovell's Corner, Weymouth Heights, the Landing, and North, South and East Weymouth.

Tomorrow evening the people in the different wards will hear a bugle call which means a brief rally and a few minutes' talk from the chairman and other members of the committee.

Gilligan—Donoghue.

A the parochial residence of the church of the Holy Ghost in Whitman on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, William Gilligan of Pleasant street, South Weymouth, and Miss Elizabeth Donoghue, of Whitman were united in marriage by Rev. James F. Hamilton, pastor of the church of the Holy Ghost.

Alfred Gilligan, a brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Lena Nolan acted as bridesmaid.

The bride was attired in lavender charmeuse, trimmed with pearl passementerie and Irish point lace. The bridesmaid wore white voile over lavender silk, trimmed with pearls.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Agnes Donoghue mother of the bride, in East Whitman. Mr. and Mrs. Gilligan are to reside in South Weymouth.

Graduates of Technology.

Three sons of Weymouth take honors at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Gardner Alden of North Weymouth takes the degree of Bachelor of Science by a special thesis on the destructive distillation of wood.

Joseph Warren Lovell of East Weymouth takes the degree of Bachelor of Science by thesis work on electric drive. Bates Torrey, Jr., of South Weymouth takes the degree of Master of Science and his thesis was the heat transmission capacity of a Swanson Evaporator as determined by operating conditions.

TOWN BUSINESS.

Selectmen's Meeting and Other Matters.

At the meeting of the Selectmen on Monday the request of the several divisions of the A. O. H. order for permission to parade next Sunday in connection with Memorial Day exercises was granted.

Permission was granted the Humphrey school to use the Town Hall this evening for a concert to be given to raise funds for apparatus to be used in school work.

The new law in regard to the sale of gasoline and explosives is to be more enforced by the Chief of Police and Chief of the Fire Department.

Permission was granted the Street Railroad Co. and the Electric Light Co. to erect 13 poles on Pond street for joint use, thus removing one line of poles.

A petition was received from J. H. Van-Anklin for permission to operate a public dance hall at New Downers Landing and the same was turned down as not being conducive to the public good and also the peace and good order of that locality.

The Weymouth Light & Power Co. were given permission to install an electric motor at the new stone crushing plant of the town. This power is expected to crush stone at 5 cents a ton making a large reduction of cost for that material.

The Electric Light Committee has made a five year contract with the Light & Power Co. by which a material reduction is made on rates, thus enabling the committee to install many new lights.

The Board of Selectmen of Milton last week appointed Ivers M. Lowe, superintendent of the Weymouth Water Department, as superintendent of streets of that town. Mr. Lowe will enter upon his new duties in about a week. The appointment comes after several weeks deliberation on the matter, many candidates seeking the plum, which carries with it a large salary. Among the candidates were many citizens of Milton, but Mr. Lowe's ability and experience in civil engineering caused him to be appointed. Mr. Lowe assumes the berth to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Edward A. McCue, the former superintendent of streets to chief of the Fire Department, following the death of Chief Choate.

Troop No. 2 Boy Scouts of America

Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America gave an entertainment for the benefit of its outing fund in the chapel of the East Weymouth Congregational church last Friday evening. Piano selections were given by Frank L. Rand; Miss Marlon Bowker delightfully sang several solos; Miss Theodora Keth gave cornet solos, and there were orchestra selections by James Melville, violin; Ralph Murphy, cornet and Mrs. James Melville, piano. The farce entitled "A Night of Victory" which was recently presented at the High school by a number of High school students, was presented by the following Weymouth talent: William Reid, Louis Nolan, Bryan Leonard, Elbridge Gardner, John Dizer, Leo Fraher, Harold Gloster, Robert Colson, Carleton Murphy, Vance Monroe and Norman Hunt. Alton Blanchard had charge of the candy sale.

Old Colony Club Smoke Talk.

The Old Colony Driving Club entertained at a smoke talk at the Webster Club headquarters in Rockland last Tuesday evening. Over 200 members and friends were present. President Harry Thayer was master of ceremonies. Secretary J. F. Young gave an address on the aims and objects of the club, and Mr. Thayer made some interesting remarks, as did also President William Lord of the Webster Club. A musical program was given, and Will Adams of Whitman entertained with monologues, Ralph Hawkes appeared in costume and character sketches. Leon Johnson gave an exhibition of fancy dancing, and songs were contributed by Harry Rome and Arthur C. Hill.

Missionary Societies Unite.

The United Missionary Societies connected with the East Weymouth Congregational church held a meeting at the parsonage Friday afternoon, June 6th, with Mrs. Walter H. Commons presiding. After devotional exercises, short articles on "Current Events" were given by Mrs. N. C. Earle, Mrs. James Melville, Miss Lillian Keene and Mrs. W. M. Tirrell. Mrs. N. C. Earle and Mrs. C. W. Bailey were chosen a committee to draft a set of by-laws for the new organization. Miss Ruth Abord of South Weymouth read a very interesting paper on "China's New Day." A social hour followed, at which light refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. James Melville, Miss Lillian Keene, Miss Mildred Newcomb and Miss Susie Humphrey. Meeting adjourned until September.

NEW MASONIC TEMPLE AT EAST WEYMOUTH

Masonic Bodies Join in the Erection of a New Temple and Will Lay Corner Stone

Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry for this locality has had several marked events in its history. Orphans Hope Lodge, A. F. and A. M., was chartered in 1825, and for a few years held meetings in various places in East Braintree, Wales Hotel at the Landing, at East Weymouth and finally in a small hall near the Old North church. There in the "Anti-Masonic days of the 30s" its hall was raided and furniture and equipment destroyed which resulted in a surrender of the charter.

The original roll of officers in 1825 was John Edson, W. M.; Samuel B. White, S. W.; Judah Loring, J. W.; Alvah Raymond, Tr.; Timothy Gordon, Sec.; Ezra W. Sampson, S. D.; Richard H. Allen, J. D.; Allen Ekson, Tyler.

Up to about 1854 there was nothing doing in "Speculative Masonry" in this vicinity but at that time new and younger members took hold of the work, several taking the degrees in Old Colony Lodge, Hingham. The original charter of the lodge was restored in 1856 and Orphans Hope Lodge started on its new career that year with Z. L. Bicknell, the first W. M. under the new order of things and up to date the Masters have been:—Wor. Bros. *Zechariah L. Bicknell, *John P. Lovell, *Abner Holbrook, *William Humphrey, *Abraham Thayer, *Prescott Lottrop, *Martin E. Hawes, *Leavitt Bates, *Thos. H. Humphrey, *Francis A. Bicknell, *Robert T. Bicknell, *Franklin D. Thayer, *Joseph E. Gardner, *Herbert A. Newton, *William T. Rice, *John M. Whitcomb, *Joseph Chase, Jr., *T. J. Evans, *Fred L. Bayley, *Frank H. Torrey, *Wm. P. Denbroder, *Leavitt W. Bates, *Gardner R. P. Barker, and *Charlie W. Dunbar. (*Deceased)

For the first three years the lodge worked at a disadvantage for want of a suitable home, but on 1859 the construction of the building now occupied by the Ford Furniture Co. was begun and the third floor was especially designed for Orphans Hope Lodge and formally dedicated on Washington's birthday in 1860.

STRECKEWARD—BEALS.

Milwaukee Young Man Takes Former North Weymouth Belle as Bride.

One of the prettiest home weddings ever witnessed in Winthrop, took place on Wednesday evening, June 4, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Newton of 205 Pauline street in that city, when their daughter, Miss Florence Walker Beals, became the bride of Frederick Otto Streckewald of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. Charles Tilton of Medford. The wedding party entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march and stood under a large floral bell of laurel and white roses.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Maude Eleanor Williams of Lincoln street, North Weymouth, as maid of honor, and little Miss Esther Walker of North Weymouth as flower girl. Only the members of the bride and groom's families and a very few intimate friends attended the marriage ceremony.

The lodge had a healthy growth for a quarter of a century and in the meantime, South Shore Commandery had come to the front with a strong membership, the quarters were found too limited for the demands upon them, and a movement was made for better accommodation.

The desire was for a place in the vicinity of Jackson Square but there seemed to be nothing in sight at a satisfactory price and the home of Wm. D. Farren on Broad street, losing into the market at the time, it was bought, the two story dwelling house moved back onto Linden Place, plans and specifications drawn up for the new Masonic home and a contract made with the late Charles Simmons to construct the same.

Mr. Simmons started at once and pushed the work through the spring, summer and early fall and on the afternoon and evening of October 17, 1884, the structure was formally dedicated by the officers of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts as follows:

M. Wor. Grand Master, Abraham Howland, Jr.; R. Wor. Dep. Grand Master, Henry Endicott; R. Wor. S. G. W., Henry G. Fay; R. Wor. J. G. W., Wm. H. H. Soule; R. Wor. G. Tr., Wm. Parkman; R. Wor. R. G. S., Sereno D. Nickerson; R. Wor. P. G. M., Wm. D. Coolidge; R. Wor. P. G. W., E. Waters Barr; Wor. Grand Chaplain, Fielder Israel; Wor. Gr. Marshall, Charles Harris; Wor. G. S., Joseph E. French and John E. Hunt; Wor. G. S. B., Z. L. Bicknell; Wor. Architect, Henry J. Preston; Wor. G. T., Henry J. Parker.

For 28 years this structure was the Masonic home of Orphans Hope Lodge, South Shore Commandery and Royal Arch Chapter, which had grown up in the meantime, and also many other notable gatherings but in the afternoon of Jan. 15th, 1912, a passerby saw smoke issuing from the building and proceeded to investigate. At the same time Charles T. Humphrey, the janitor, who was at work in another part of the house smelled smoke and on investigation found a brisk blaze going on.

Alarms were rung in and the local fire department responded but with some of its apparatus impaired were unable to make headway and a second alarm brought the department from Ward 3 which immediately got good streams on the fire which was now endangering adjacent property. Hingham was called upon for assistance and made a noble response but as night shut down the Masonic building of East Weymouth was a total loss as was also nearly all the valuable equipment, pictures and other property of the occupants.

This fire was a serious loss to Orphan's Hope Lodge as the insurance was far short of covering the property destroyed and there also came another loss which can never be replaced. Valuable pictures and relics went up in smoke or down in ashes and are gone forever except in the memory of those to whom they were familiar and dear.

The blow was, however, materially lightened by words of sympathy and proffers of assistance which came in from all sides.

Among the kindly offers, Delta Lodge of Braintree tendered the use of its building and equipments. Crescent Lodge, I. O. O. F., of East Weymouth, was also warm in its sympathy and kindly offered the use of its building.

For a few meetings, the Lodge, Commandery and Chapter met in the Delta Lodge building at Braintree and then settled down to Oddfellows building as being more convenient and while their quarters answered for the time, being the best that could be had, they did not meet all the requirements, and plans were discussed for a new "Masonic Home."

Those plans culminated in the formation of the South Shore Masonic Association which is now regularly incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth, purchased the land on which the burned Masonic building stood and is pushing to completion, a Masonic Temple, the corner stone of which will be laid tomorrow, Saturday, afternoon by officers of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. Orphans Hope Lodge will open at Odd Fellows Building at 1:30 and an incident of the opening will be, the same chaplain will officiate who did at the dedication of the burned building 29 years ago and has held the position continuously since.

The visiting officials and guests will be received at 2:30 and escorted to the new building by Orphans Hope Lodge and lay the corner stone with ceremony.

The new Masonic Temple, East Weymouth, consists of two stories and a basement. In the basement is located a banquet hall and kitchen; on the first floor will be the drill hall, provided with a first class dancing floor, making it adaptable for balls and other entertainments; on the second floor will be the lodge rooms, smoking room, ante-room and cloak rooms.

The exterior of the building is to be of red brick with limestone trimmings, including a limestone main entrance, limestone lintels and heavy limestone cornice. The construction calls for concrete foundations, heavy steel columns and girders, with wooden timbers for 1st and 2d floors and roof. There will be a grand staircase of oak extending from the basement to the second floor.

The drill hall on the first floor is to have plastered wall with a high oak dado and oak lockers on all sides.

The lodge room is to have an elliptical barreled ceiling, stucco panels and beamed and the walls are to have a magnificent dado, ten feet high, of the best quality gum wood. In one end is an organ loft.

The building is to be heated and ventilated by the most modern methods.

The architects are Vinal & Fowler, of Boston, and the contractor is C. A. Batson of Brockton.

The building committee is as follows: H. P. Tilden, chairman, Gardner R. P. Barker, secretary, Frank W. Bates, Arthur W. Burr, Winthrop J. Cushing, T. J. Evans, J. Burton Reed, Frank H. Torrey, Harry J. Beck, Eben H. Cain, Charlie W. Dunbar, Charles G. Jordan, John Taylor, and Sherman P. Troy.

Queeny—Donovan.

Miss Caroline Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Donovan, and Mr. James Queeny were married Monday at 6:30 p. m. at the Church of the Sacred Heart by Rev. J. B. Holland. The bride's sister, Mrs. Maurice Kearns of Quincy was matron of honor and another sister of the bride, Miss Marguerite Donovan was bridesmaid. Maurice Kearns of Quincy was best man. The ushers were Edward Cuff of South Braintree, Paul Donovan of Rockland and Francis Donovan of this place.

The bride was attired in a costume of white satin with tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses. The bridesmaid wore blue satin and carried a bouquet of roses. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Washington street. Cuffs orchestra furnished music during the hours of the reception and lunch was served by a caterer.

Mr. and Mrs. Queeny left on their wedding trip after the reception and on their return will reside in Quincy.

High School Reunion.

The Weymouth High School Alumni Association will hold its annual reunion in the High School building on June 25. Full details will be given in next week's issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Streckewald were the re-

HAYWARD BROTHERS
Carpenters and Builders
QUINCY AVENUE, East Braintree.

WEYMOUTH Savings Bank
CHARLES A. HAYWARD, President.
CHARLES T. CRANE, Treasurer.

THE EAST WEYMOUTH Savings Bank
President: W. H. PRATT
Vice-Presidents: T. H. Emerson, E. M. Carter.

South Shore Co-operative Bank
MEETINGS First Monday of Each Month.
At 9 Commercial Street, at 7:30 P. M.

CHAS. G. JORDAN, Sec'y-Treas.
Weymouth, Mass.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Fogg Building, Columbian Square.
CAPITAL, $100,000. Surplus, $30,000.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH SAVINGS BANK
Incorporated March 6, 1908
OFFICERS 1913: President - R. WALLACE HUNT.

GRANITE TRUST COMPANY
QUINCY, MASS.
Successor to National Granite Bank
General Banking Business transacted.

ON THE FARM
Read this column and you can have it delivered at your house with something new every week for a full year by sending $2.00 to this office now.

A pint of equal parts of kerosene and neatfoot oil is said to be a cure for brittle hoofs in horses.

An unruly or greedy rooster has no place in a chicken yard; the dinner table is the safest roost for him.

Some people think that the dry cow needs no care, but those that make the best records have the best care during their period of rest.

In mowing land for the first time in the season it is recommended that the mowing machine should not be set so as to cut too close. If cut too close the weeds are liable to get the start of the grass.

Every year vegetables crops are much injured by being sown too thickly and perhaps it is hardly too much to affirm that most gardeners were the gainers were only half the seed sown that there is now.

Watch for the little slugs—larkish, slimy fellows—that are likely to be on pear or cherry leaves now. Fine, dry dust, if thrown in the trees, will kill every slug it covers.

The purposes of interculture tillage are, first, to kill weeds; second, to keep the surface soil receptive to rainfall; third, to prevent the evaporation of soil moisture.

The average general farmer is so busy with his field crops, live stock and other things that he simply plants his fruit trees cultivates them for a year or two and then allows them to struggle on alone.

Do not neglect pruning—it is absolutely essential. Prune trees while young and later treatment will be much simpler.

In planting limas, be sure to have the soil very fine on the surface. It will be well to plant about four beans to the hill when planted in squares, and thin to one or two plants to a hill when all are up.

When new soil or that which has lain undisturbed for several years is broken up it is always best to plow deep from the beginning, for deeper layers will be about as fertile as any, except the top inch or two.

Lima beans are one of the best late vegetable crops that can be grown in the home or market garden. Limas are very partial to warm weather for the beginning of growth.

The first thought of the farmer in growing good fruit should be an abundant supply for home use. It is as much a mark of poor thrift for any farmer to buy fruit as it is for him to buy meat.

We usually eat what we are fond of and what agrees with us best, but we must study and find out what kinds of foods are best for the large and small animals we are growing and using.

pig, being fattened for the butcher, will do his best on simply corn and water as a main diet, but the same diet for a laying hen would not do at all.

Subscribe now for the Gazette and Transcript. It will cost you less than four cents a week to get this department.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Weymouth Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow: Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Weymouth people endorse their worth. George Brown, 17 Norfolk street, Weymouth, Mass., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be just as represented and I recommend them in cases of backache and kidney trouble."

My kidneys were irregular in action and I had pains in my back. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me at once. Continued use made me feel better in every way.

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Brown had—the remedy backed by home testimony.

50 cents, all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the name."

London's Hot Baked Potatoes.

There are few colder places on a winter's night than the streets of London. Naturally anything warm is welcomed by wayfarers.

A German Fairy Tale. As the cobbler stepped into his shop his scold of a wife started to lecture him unmercifully for coming in late.

The Speed of Animals. According to naturalists, no animal is known to have exceeded the speed attained by the famous race horse Sysonby.

Musical Sound and the Ear. The well trained ear of a musician can distinguish notes differing only one-hundredth part of a tone from one another.

The Drummer's Secret. Here is an old war story. As a regiment of soldiers was on the march to Gettysburg some of the soldiers stepped out of the ranks and confiscated a couple of geese.

BRAINTREE FIRE ALARM BOXES. 21—Quincy Ave. and Hayward St. 23—Quincy Ave. and Commercial St. 24—Elm St.

Each and Every One. Each new friendship is forever.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WEYMOUTH BEATS HINGHAM.

"Conny" Condrick Makes Debut in Box for Weymouth and Shuts out Hingham Nine 5 to 0.

On the Agricultural grounds in Hingham last Friday, Weymouth High easily defeated Hingham High school 5 to 0.

"Conny" Condrick pitched his first full game for the Weymouth nine and let Hingham down with but four hits. He passed but one man, struck out six and banded out two of the four hits secured by his team.

The features of the game were the fielding of Murphy, Fraher and Gorman for Weymouth, and of Bergen for Hingham. The score:

Table with 2 columns: Weymouth H. S. and Hingham H. S. Rows include Vender, Gorman, Fraher, Condrick, Gorman, Murphy, Garvin, Reilly, C. Condrick, p.

Table with 2 columns: Weymouth H. S. and Hingham H. S. Rows include Fee, Mitchell, Bergen, Wallace, Magner, Richards, Thaxter, Campbell, Gent, Disnard, rf.

Runs made by—Vender, Riley, C. Condrick 2, Gorman. Stolen bases—Vender, Gorman, Gloster 2, Fraher, Riley 2, C. Condrick, Mitchell 3, Bergen, Magner.

Struck out by Condrick 6, Magner 10. Sacrifice hits—Wallace, Gorman. Time—1 hr. 30 m. Umpire—Young.

The Hingham National Bank
Solicits Individual and Business Accounts
The officers of the Bank are always ready to give their personal attention to the needs of the depositors, and to advise in business matters.

COAL
Buy Now To Delay is Fatal
ICE
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.
East Braintree Quincy
Telephones: Braintree, 25 Quincy, 232-W, 232R

JAMES P. HADDIE
Carpenter and Builder
Estimates given on all kinds of Building.
Now is the time to order screen doors and screens for your windows for the summer.

NEW APARTMENTS
AT 688-698 BROAD STREET, EAST WEYMOUTH
Eight new houses, entrances 686 Broad street.
Apartment of 4 rooms, all rooms facing the rising sun.

TRY A BOTTLE OF
Armour's Best Grape Juice
10c 25c, 50c a bottle It is delicious
SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY
DANIEL REIDY, Pharm. D.
DRUGGIST
781 Broad St., East Weymouth, Mass.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT
Beef, Lamb, Pork, Ham, Bacon and Fowl
Fresh Vegetables as fast as they are in the market.
Choice Dairy Butter and Fresh Home Laid Eggs
Pure Food Canned Goods from the Best Packers
High Grade Teas, Coffee, Spices and Groceries of all kinds
F. H. SYLVESTER
Broad St., Telephone 121 W. East Weymouth.
Advertise in the Gazette.

The Time to Install Electricity is NOW!

With Electric Service in your home you can enjoy all the advantages of the many electrical appliances: Irons, Toasters, Hot Plates, Fans, Etc.

Special Sale of Toasters at $2.50 and $3.50 each
Have 15 days free trial at our expense

Weymouth Light and Power Company

JACKSON SQUARE, EAST WEYMOUTH

GEORGE W. PERRY, Gen. Mgr.

W. M. SWEET

Painter, Glazier, Paper Hanger, and Whitener

A full line of Wall Papers. Write or telephone and will call with samples. Can give you better than Boston prices.

SHOP PEAKS BUILDING,
809 BROAD ST., EAST WEYMOUTH

RESIDENCE, 371 WASHINGTON ST., WEYMOUTH.

Telephone 118-5.

37-40

SPRING DELICACIES

ASPARAGUS, TOMATOES, CUCUMBERS, DANDELIONS, RADISHES, LETTUCE, SPINACH, RHUBARB, BERMUDA ONIONS
NEW MAPLE SUGAR and SYRUP

Hunt's Market Grocery
Washington Sq. Telephone 152 Weymouth

Paint Your Own Carriage

You can do it yourself and at little expense. It's easy to give it a beautiful, hard, brilliant, varnish-gloss finish in black or rich appropriate colors.

ACME QUALITY CARRIAGE PAINT (Neal's)

is made especially to give to buggies, carriages and vehicles of all kinds, a tough, durable, glossy finish that will look well and wear well. An ideal finish for settees, flower stands, porch furniture, garden tools and all surfaces that must withstand exposure and hard usage. Ready to brush on and the label tells how.

A. J. SIDELINGER,

24 SEA ST., NORTH WEYMOUTH, MASS.

Are You Starting a New Home?

We can supply you with a complete outfit of everything desired for

Parlor, Sitting Room, Dining Room and Kitchen

No trouble to show the goods. Just give us a call.

Are you doing Spring cleaning? You may find that something is needed in the way of Reupholstering or Repairing. We are equipped to do it.

W. P. Denbroeder COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHER

738 Broad Street East Weymouth

GENERAL SURVEYS TOPOGRAPHICAL SURVEYS

RUSSELL H. WHITING

CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR

56 Sea Street

NORTH WEYMOUTH, MASS.

SURVEYS MADE AND PLANS PREPARED FOR THE LAND COURT

SUBSCRIBE for the GAZETTE

FEET USED TO BE LARGER.

A Modern No. 6 Shoe Would Have Fitted an Ancient Greek Belle. Artists assure us that no Greek sculptor would have ever dreamed of putting a nine inch foot on a five and one-half foot woman. The types for the classic marble figures were taken from the most perfect forms of living persons. Unquestionably the human foot, as represented by the ancient sculptors, was larger than the modern one; and, in fact, the primitive foot of all peoples whereof we have any record, either of statuary or otherwise, was considerably larger than the restricted foot of later times.

The masculine foot, forming an approximate average of four different countries, was about twelve inches long. This would require at least a No. 10 shoe to cover it comfortably. The average masculine foot today is easily fitted with a No. 8 1/2 shoe and is therefore not above ten and seven-sixteenths inches. Now, by the old sculptural rule of proportion, a man five feet nine inches in height should have a foot eleven and one-half inches long, or one-sixth his height. It was of no great consequence what size sandal he wore, but he would have required a modern shoe of at least a No. 10 1/2 for a minimum fit or a No. 11 for real comfort.

For women, allowing for the difference in the relative size of the sexes, which was about the same then as now, a woman of five feet three inches in height would have had a foot ten inches long, requiring a modern shoe of the size No. 6 as the most comfortable, or a No. 5 1/2 as the limit of comfort.—Harper's Weekly.

SALLY'S MISTAKE.

It Cost Her a Rich Husband and Gave London Guy's Hospital.

That bequests to individuals and to public benevolences are frequently the result of a mere whim or of caprice has no better illustration perhaps than the case of Thomas Guy, who built and endowed the great Guy's hospital of London at a cost of £238,292 nearly 200 years ago.

Guy had a maid servant of strictly frugal habits, who made his wishes her careful study. He resolved to make her his wife. The necessary preparations were made for the wedding, and among others many little repairs were ordered by Mr. Guy in and about his house. The latter included the laying of a new pavement opposite the street door.

It so happened that Sally, the bride elect, observed a piece of pavement beyond her master's house that required mending, and of her own accord she gave orders to the workmen to do this. This was done in the absence of Mr. Guy, who on seeing more work done than he had ordered was informed that the additional work had been done by the mistress' orders. Thereupon Guy told Sally she had forgotten her position and added: "If you take upon yourself to order matters contrary to my instructions before we are married what will you, not do after? I re-nounce my matrimonial intentions toward you." So Sally lost a rich and grumpy husband and London gained a noble institution for the poor.

Deadly Venom of the Cobra.

A full sized cobra is able to eject enough venom at a single full and complete bite to kill about twenty men. The Indian cobra yields as much as twenty drops, and Dr. Hanna mentions having obtained as much as twenty-eight drops.

In experiments with the venom of the cobra F. W. Fitzsimons, an expert, found that one drop diluted in a little water and injected into the tissues of the leg of a large monkey killed it in half an hour's time. A fraction of a drop was sufficient to kill a rat and a fowl within an hour. Judging from the effects of cobra venom on the higher animals, Mr. Fitzsimons considers that one full drop is a fatal dose for a strong, healthy man.—Westminster Gazette.

Walnuts, Five a Penny.

From one of Steele's letters to his wife we learn the price of walnuts in Queen Anne's reign. "I send you seven pennyworth of walnuts at five a penny, which is the greatest proof I can give you at present of my being with my whole heart yrs."

Outside the letter Lady Steele has written, "There are but 20 Walnuts," so apparently her "passionate lover and faithful husband" had given in to the temptation of eating a few before sending them. He made ample amends for this on the following day by a gift "half a hundred more."—London Standard.

Convenience.

"You find that an automobile helps you to keep your engagements?" "It does better than that," replied Mrs. Chuggins. "If you don't want to keep them it enables you to explain everything by saying that you broke down."—Chicago News.

Room for Courage.

There is no duty so small, no trial so slight, that it does not afford room for courage. It has a meaning and value for every phase of existence; for the workshop and for the battlefield, for the thronged city and for the lonely desert, for the sick room and for the counting house, for the study and for the drawing room.

For courage is just strength of heart, and the strong heart makes itself felt everywhere, and lifts up the whole of life, and enables it, and makes it move directly to its chosen aim.—Henry van Dyke.

DO YOUR VERY BEST.

And Then Be Sure That You Are Satisfied With Yourself.

It is not what people say about you—it's what you are that counts. The one person in all this world whom you should aim to satisfy is yourself. You alone know yourself. Other people know your outward appearance, your actions, your deeds. You, and you alone, know your motives, your ambitions, your thoughts.

Are you satisfied with yourself? It is your own fault if you are not. Are you satisfied that you are doing the best you can in your work, that you are making the most of your time? Are you confident that your conduct toward your family, your friends, your neighbors, your employer, cannot be improved?

Look yourself straight in the face this morning in your mind's looking glass. Ask yourself whether it is what people say about you or what you are that hurts. Analyze your own conduct in all matters.

Put yourself in the other fellow's place and try to see your actions through his eyes. Imagine that you are your employer instead of yourself. Answer honestly whether if he knew as much about you as you know about yourself he would discharge you or would raise your wages. If you do this conscientiously there are many things you will do differently.

Remember this, too—other people's opinion of you is based on your own opinion of yourself. Are you self respecting? Other people will respect you. Are you truthful? The world will believe you. Are you honest? Every one will trust you.

But weigh yourself frequently. Weigh yourself carefully. Be certain that your own opinion of yourself is justified. Be satisfied with yourself.—William Johnston in American Magazine.

CRABBE, THE NEGLECTED.

A Poet Whom Byron Called Nature's Best and Sternest Painter.

Dante was a great traveler and the greatest pen impressionist who ever wrote. He describes a landscape in a line so that it stays with you forever. He uses the fewest possible number of words, hardly any adjectives, and the picture leaps up before you, immortal and unforgettable. Who can do this among the moderns? Keats could. Tennyson gives you English landscape. If you read "In Memoriam" you have lived a year in the English country and seen the march of the English seasons. Crabbe can do it. Who reads Crabbe? Nobody. And yet he is a wonderful poet, as realistic as Tolstoy and Arnold Bennett. Byron called him the best painter of nature—"Nature's sternest painter, yet her best."

He writes about the poor as they are, without sentimentality and without exaggeration, and as a painter of English landscape he still remains the best. He may not be read by the modern generation, but he is not forgotten. A Frenchman wrote a long and excellent book about him not long ago. He is safe in the temple of fame, which place you have entered and can't leave. And this temple is like a wheel. It goes round and round, and some of its inmates are in the glare of the sun, and sometimes they are in the shade, but they are there, and they never fall out.—Maurice Barling in Metropolitan.

Writing For Posterity.

A prominent French critic, the story runs, once said to George Bernard Shaw:

"You are putting on a new comedy Monday night. Let me attend one of the dress rehearsals, won't you?"

"Impossible," said Mr. Shaw. "My dress rehearsals are always private. I have to refuse even the most distinguished critics access to them."

"But," said the other, "I want to write a critical criticism. If I have to write and telegraph it in a few minutes on Monday night it will be very hurriedly done, and I fear it will give a wrong impression of your comedy to Paris the next day."

"Have no anxiety on that score," Mr. Shaw replied. "My comedies are not written for the next day."—Exchange.

Restoring Rubber.

People using articles made of rubber that frequently lose their elasticity through oxidation may restore the material to its original condition by a simple process. Soak the part in a mixture of one part of ammonia to two parts water. This is said to be particularly well adapted to the restoring of rubber bands, rings and small tubing which are ready to become dry and brittle.

Just Like an Immigrant.

"Charley is so poetical! When I accepted him he said he felt like an immigrant entering a new world."

"Well, he was an immigrant."

"What do you mean?"

"Wasn't he just landed?"—Atlanta Constitution.

What's In a Name.

"But now that these sisters are married, a social gulf separates them hopelessly."

"Indeed?"

"Yes. One of them married a mechanic and the other a mechanic."

"Puck."

Cattish.

"Do you think Oscar proposed to me merely on account of my money?"

"Well, my dear, you know he must have had some reason."—Flegende Blatter.

There is nothing so powerful as truth and often nothing so strange.—Webster.

Town Officers of Weymouth and their Post Office Address.

TOWN CLERK.
John A. Raymond, East Weymouth.

TOWN TREASURER.
John H. Stetson, South Weymouth.

SELECTMEN.
Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
Henry E. Hanley, East Weymouth.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.
Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
A. Francis Barnes, South Weymouth.

ASSASSORS.
John F. Dwyer, Chairman, Weymouth.
Frank H. Torrey, Clerk, North Weymouth.
Valdo Turner, East Weymouth.
Warren T. Simpson, South Weymouth.
Edward L. Linn, South Weymouth.

Regular meeting of Board first Wednesday evening of each month at Town Office Savings Bank building, East Weymouth.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.
Charles P. Whittle, Chairman, Weymouth.
A. Lillian McCreedy, Secretary, E. Weymouth.
E. E. Leonard, East Weymouth.
Arthur H. Alden, North Weymouth.
Theron L. Tirrell, South Weymouth.
Finn E. H. Tirrell, South Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.
Parker T. Pearson, East Weymouth. At case of school on Monday will be at the Athol Building, Tuesday at 10 o'clock; Wednesday at 10 o'clock; Thursday at 10 o'clock.

WATER COMMISSIONERS.
Frank H. Torrey, Chairman, North Weymouth.
George F. Richell, Clerk, Weymouth.
Robert S. Hoffman, East Weymouth.
John H. Stetson, South Weymouth.
Edward W. Hunt, Weymouth.

BOARD OF HEALTH.
George E. Emerson, Chairman, S. Weymouth.
Nelson B. Gladwin, Clerk, North Weymouth.
John S. Williams, Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF WATER WORKS.
Ivers M. Low, East Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.
John L. Maynard, East Weymouth.

TAX COLLECTOR.
Winslow M. Tirrell, East Weymouth.

FIRE ENGINEERS.
M. O'Dowd, chief, South Weymouth.
W. W. Pratt, clerk, East Weymouth.
J. V. Hunt, East Weymouth.
Charles W. Baker, Weymouth.
Philip W. Wolf, North Weymouth.

THREE WARDEN.
Charles L. Merritt, South Weymouth.

POLICE OFFICERS.
P. Butler, chief, East Weymouth.
Thomas Fitzgerald, Weymouth.
A. H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
John D. Walsh, Weymouth.
Elbert Ford, South Weymouth.
Geo. W. Nash, North Weymouth.

CONSTABLES.
Isaac H. Walker, North Weymouth.
George W. Nash, North Weymouth.
Patrick Butler, East Weymouth.
Arthur H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
Thomas Fitzgerald, Weymouth.
John D. Walsh, Weymouth.
George B. Bayley, South Weymouth.
Elbert Ford, South Weymouth.
George W. Conant, South Weymouth.
Willard F. Hall, East Weymouth.

AUDITORS.
William H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
John P. Hunt, Weymouth.
Frank N. Blanchard, East Weymouth.

PARK COMMISSIONER.
William H. Clapp, Weymouth.
Louis A. Cook, South Weymouth.
Arthur H. Alden, North Weymouth.

SCALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.
Frank D. Sherman, Weymouth.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.
(From Seventh Norfolk District.)
John F. Dwyer, Weymouth, Mass.

SENATOR.
(First Norfolk District.)
John J. McDevitt, Quincy.

County Officers.
OFFICERS AT DEDHAM.
Judge of Probate and Insolvency, James H. Shaw, Weymouth.
Register of Probate and Insolvency, John D. Cobb, Weymouth.
Assistant Register, J. Raphael McCool, Weymouth.
Clerk of Courts, Louis A. Cook of South Weymouth.
Assistant Clerk, Robert B. Worthington, Weymouth.
Second Assistant, Louis A. Cook, Jr., of South Weymouth.
Register of Deeds, John H. Burdakin, Weymouth.
Assistant Register of Deeds, Edward L. Burdakin, Weymouth.

County Treasurer, Henry D. Humphrey, Weymouth.
Sheriff, Samuel H. Capen, Weymouth.
Special sheriff, Edward E. Wentworth, Colchester.
County Commissioners, John F. Merritt, Weymouth, chairman. Evan F. Richardson, of West Weymouth, and Everett M. Bowker, Brookline. Session every Tuesday at 10 a. m.

Special Commissioners, Fred L. Fisher, of Weymouth; Harry A. Whitney, of Bellingham.
District Attorney, (Southeast District, North and Plymouth), Albert F. Barker, of Brookline.
Assistant, D. A., Fred L. Katzenman, of Hyde Park.
Clerk of Dist. Court, (East Norfolk), Lawrence W. Lyons, of Quincy.

Calendar of County Courts.
Supreme Judicial Court (Jury Sitting, third Tuesday of February).
Superior Court, Civil Sessions—For work with Juries—First Monday of January, first Monday of May, and first Monday of October. For cases at law—First Monday of February, first Monday of April, first Monday of September, and first Monday of December.

Superior Court, Criminal Sessions—First Monday of April, first Monday of September, first Monday of December.

Probate Court—At Dedham, on the first and third Wednesdays of every month, except August, at Quincy, on the second Wednesday of every month, except August. At Brookline, on the fourth Wednesday of every month, except August.

County Commissioners' Meetings—Third Tuesday of April, fourth Tuesday of June, fourth Tuesday of September, last Wednesday of December, and 25th anniversary: On Tuesdays, except August, August.

District Court of East Norfolk, including Randolph, Braintree Cohasset, Weymouth, Quincy, Houlbrook and Milton. Court held at Quincy for criminal business every week day except holidays, and for civil business Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, 10 a. m. Justice, Albert E. Avery, Braintree, and Justices, E. Granville Pratt, Quincy; Louis A. Cook, Weymouth. Clerk, Lawrence W. Lyons, Asst. James McDonald. Probation Officer, Francis A. Spear, 23 Thayer Street, Quincy. Court Officer and Bail Commissioner, William Madden, 24 Coddington Street, Quincy.

The Miser.
"Here," said Teddy's papa, showing the little boy a coin, "is a penny that's years old. It was given to me when I was a little boy." "See what!" ejaculated Teddy. "Just think of anything being able to keep a penny as long as that without spending it!"

Weymouth Gazette
AND TRANSCRIPT

FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1913.

HIGH SCHOOL PAPER OUT.

"The Cauldron" Published By Students at Weymouth High School a Most Creditable Piece of Work.

"The Cauldron," the High school paper published by the pupils of the school, which made its appearance this week is a most creditable piece of work, and the editorial staff and the school are to be congratulated on the success of the second presentation of a school paper.

Herman Bates '13, editor-in-chief, has a spicy editorial, and many interesting articles well worth reading have been contributed by Miss May Hanley '13, Harold C. Glover '14, John T. Dizer '13, Fred B. Philbrick '13, Miss Florence D. Pray '14, Miss Mildred Newcomb '13, J. E. Gardner '13, Roland Haviland '13, Bowdoin Smith '13, Miss Mildred Magee '13, Miss Ruth Powers '14 and Miss Dorothy L. Leavitt '13.

The editorial staff is composed of: Herman M. Bates, editor-in-chief, John T. Dizer, Miss Florence Pray, Miss Margaret Reidy, Miss Dorothy Hainan, Norman Hunt and Ralph Talbot.

A copy of the book may be procured from the above staff or at the graduation exercises next week.

Ladies' Night.

With elegant weather and a fine gathering of lady friends, the annual ladies' night of the Men's club, connected with the Pilgrim Congregational church of North Weymouth, proved a decided success.

The program consisted of a banquet, reception and miscellaneous entertainment. The entertainment was provided by Mrs. Robert F. Hoffman who gave several pleasing musical impersonations, with Mrs. William A. Hodges as pianist.

The committee in charge of the gala event was H. E. D. Gould, William T. Seabury, George L. Haupt, William A. Pratt, Robert F. Gilmore, Dr. William A. Drake and W. E. Bennie.

The several guests were cordially welcomed by Rev. Charles Clark, pastor of the Pilgrim church. Rev. Mr. Clark also gave an account of the work of the club and its future intentions.

Brilliant Event Next Week.

The second grand Garden Fete of the Weymouth King's Daughters Union, for the benefit of the Pond Home, will be held on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, Broad street, East Weymouth, on the afternoon of Wednesday, June eighteenth.

A special feature of the afternoon will be a pageant, "The Good Paper" given out of doors at four o'clock by about one hundred Weymouth children. This pageant was arranged by Mrs. Hoffman and is to be given under her personal direction.

Mr. Bartlett of Boston will give indoor performances, consisting of musical specialties, both afternoon and evening.

The Stetson Shoe Co. band will give a concert in the evening.

The grounds will be illuminated by electricity. Numerous booths will be in charge of the different circles.

Come in the afternoon and remain in the evening and patronize the delicatessen and tea booths.

If stormy Wednesday, to be held on the first pleasant day.—Advertisement.

ROYAL Baking Powder

is the greatest of modern-time helps to perfect cake and biscuit making. Makes home baking pleasant and profitable. It renders the food more digestible and guarantees it safe from alum and all adulterants.

GRADUATION NEXT THURSDAY.

45 Pupils to Receive Their Diplomas at High School for Completion of Course.

One more week of school!

Next Thursday, June 19, at noon, the school year will end and the vacation season will be on in full force. As in the past few years, there will be no special graduation exercises in the grades below the high school.

However, at the high school, as usual the graduation exercise will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2.20 o'clock, when the following program will be given:

Processional
Invocation Rev. William W. Rose
Overture, "Light Cavalry" (Suppe)
High School Orchestra
Salutatory address
Fred Brunton Philbrick
Chorus, "Pilgrims' Chorus" (Wagner)
Entire School
Essay Martha Josephine Tirrell
Chorus, "The Shepherd Lady" (Armstrong)
Girls Glee Club Solo by Hester Swan
Essay Alice Louise Bentley
Cornet solo, "Kentucky Home" (Arr. by Fisher)

Frank Vender
Valedictory address
Edith Cushing Bicknell
Cantata, "The Village Blacksmith" (Noyes)

Entire school. Solo by Alice O'Connor
Presentation of Diplomas
Class Ode
Benediction

After the afternoon exercises the class will hold its banquet with the class history and class prophesy of members of the class.

In the evening comes the class reception at 7.45, class plays at 8 o'clock, and followed by dancing until 12.

This year's graduating class at the high school numbers 45, and with good June weather, a record crowd should be present for the festivities.

CARD OF THANKS

Reynolds Relief Corps, No. 102, wish to extend their thanks to the Principals of the various schools in Weymouth, and also to the school children, who so kindly assisted them in collecting, arranging and distributing flowers on Memorial Day. May the services of that day teach our children lessons in patriotism which shall never be forgotten. Memorial Day should be a sacred memory day; it comes with the flowers of spring, to teach the living to love, honor and reverence those brave men who gave us our Nation and preserved our beautiful flag in all its glory.

AGNES F. BALDWIN,
Corps President.
ESTELLE W. RICHARDS, Secretary.

Baseball Notes.

The severe storm last Saturday afternoon made it necessary to call off games about town, much to the disappointment of fans and players alike.

The Walkover No. 8 team under the leadership of "Tweedy" Ahlstedt, the former C. M. A. catcher, made a fine picture as they lined up for the opening inning against the Clapp Memorial nine last Saturday. The team has been furnished with blue suits with white trimmings. Across the breast in white letters is "Walkover No. 8." Before a line could be gleamed as to the ability of the new team, rain put a stop to the proceedings, but Capt. Ahlstedt says his aggregation will make the teams in this vicinity hustle to secure a victory when his crowd is on edge.

For the past ten days, "Dudie" O'Dowd has been battling the horsehide to all corners of the lot, averaging two hits each game. If Leo keeps this pace up the big league scouts will be racing for Brockton on the jump, as Dowd has always been an expert fielder, and his only weakness has been with the stick.

The champion grammar school team of the town for the third consecutive year on the diamond is the Hunt school nine of Weymouth Landing. This hustling aggregation of school stars has cleaned up every grammar school nine in the town, recently defeating the fast James Humphrey school team of East Weymouth 2 to 1 at Garfield park and later trouncing them on their own grounds 10 to 9 in a ten inning game. Last Monday, June 9, the Ward 3 boys easily defeated the Pratt school team at the Fair grounds 14 to 4. Dwyer and Langford in the box and Lukewan behind the bat have been the mainstays of the team in all the games.

The high school nine is scheduled to close its season this afternoon at the C. M. A. ground with a game with Winthrop high school.

Temple Council, R. and S. M.

The first meeting of Temple Council, Royal and Select Masters, was held in Old Fellows building, East Weymouth, Friday evening, the 6th. This meeting was held under dispensation granted by Grand Master Evans to fifteen petitioners, and there were received 35 applications for the degrees. The first officers of the Council under the dispensation are Gardner R. P. Barker, T. I. M.; Frederic G. Bauer, D. M.; Henry P. Tilden, P. C. of W.; John Taylor, T.; Arthur W. Barr, R.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Newton are entertaining Mrs. Clarence Newton and son Percy of Burlington, Vermont.

—G. H. Shaw returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives in Kittery, Maine.

—The annual Ladies' Night of the Universalist Men's Club will be held in the vestry next Monday evening, June 16th.

—Mrs. E. F. Beals has been entertaining friends from Milwaukee, Wis., the past week.

—Mrs. F. C. Fisher has had as a guest this week her aunt, Mrs. S. Wyman Lee of North Scituate.

—Miss Grace Gooding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gooding of Morrell street had the misfortune to break her arm last week.

—A dancing party given by a number young ladies from St. Jerome's church was held in the Bradley club house, Thursday evening, June 5th.

—Mrs. Frank Hawkes of Bartlett street is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Flora E. Mayers of Rockland, Maine.

—Miss Viola Tirrell has concluded a visit with Miss Nellie Powers and returned to her home in Brookline on Monday of this week.

—C. A. Thorne has taken the summer cottage of W. C. Cherrington at Farmers' Knoll, Fort Point for the season.

—J. A. Roarty and family, Percy Roarty and family of Brockton and Mrs. J. C. Morse of Quincy are at their summer cottages at Rose Cliff for the season.

—An informal ladies' night will be held at the Wessagusset club for members with ladies on Friday evening, June 13th. The Tempo Club will furnish entertainment.

—Mrs. L. B. Curtiss, Miss Lillian Curtiss, Mrs. E. R. Sampson, Miss Dorothy Leavitt and Arthur Sampson enjoyed an automobile trip to Plymouth, last Saturday.

—The Ladies' Sewing circle connected with the Universalist church held a picnic at Fort Point. A clam chowder dinner was served at noon by Mrs. S. O. Estes, the hostess assisted by several ladies of the circle.

—Mrs. May Coolidge of Brockton was the week end guest of Mrs. Ralph Magay.

—Mrs. Mary Magay of Cambridge spent a few days the past week with Miss Mabel Sampson.

—On Monday evening, June 9th, Miss Mary Egan of North street was tendered a linen shower by about thirty-five of her friends from East and North Weymouth. A social evening was spent and Miss Egan was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

—Children's Day will be observed at the Pilgrim Congregational church next Sunday, June 15th. There will be a Sunday school concert in the evening.

—The final social of the Pilgrim Sunday school last Friday evening was well attended by the members of the school and their friends and all are looking forward to a renewal of these socials in the fall.

Paint and Not.

Paint was never before so high as last year: about $2.25 a gallon Devoe and a half-dollar less for trash.

What is trash?
It looks like paint and pretends to be paint, but isn't worth painting. It costs a painter's day's work to put-on a gallon of paint, good or bad; and a painter's day's work is $3 or $4.

Add that to the price of a gallon. That is the cost of a gallon. Devoe is $5 or $6 a gallon; and trash a half-dollar less.

But Devoe is all paint and more too; you add oil to it; a gallon is 5 or 6 quarts of perfect paint for the painter's pot. But trash is three-quarters, two-thirds or half paint; you pay a half-dollar less for nobody-knows-what-it-is.

10 gallons Devoe is enough for the average job; it takes 15 to 20 gallons of trash. And the wear same way. Unfortunately, they look alike when first put-on.

DEVOE

Everett Loud, E. Weymouth; M. R. Loud & Co., S. Weymouth; A. J. Sidelinger, N. Weymouth.

Sells It.

FURNITURE
FOR THE 17TH

Strong, Sturdy, Well Made, the sort that will give you years of service and satisfaction. Everything for Porch, Piazza and Lawn. Large Assortments, Low Prices, Easy Terms and Free Delivery invite you.

Porch Rockers and Chairs, from 49c. to $3.50
Lawn Settees, green and natural 98c. and $1.65
Camp Stools and Chairs 50c., 75c. and 85c.
Woven Hammocks in attractive colors, from 98c. up
Khaki Couch Hammocks, Spring and Mattress, $5.98 to $15
Lawn Swings, the best built $3.98 and $4.98
Bamboo Porch Screens, natural or green 3c. sq. ft.
Croquet Sets, in neat wooden boxes 98c. up

WE GIVE LEGAL STAMPS AND REDEEM FULL BOOKS.

Henry L. Kincaide, Quincy

Open Friday, Saturday and Monday Evenings

FURNITURE-PIANOS-RUGS-RANGES

All Summer Styles in High Cuts, Oxfords and Pumps
$3.00 $3.50

Don't forget our

BONNIE LASSIE SHOE

For Misses and Children

The Shoes that Satisfy

FULL LINE OF STRAW HATS

Also latest things in

Men's and Boys Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps

W. M. TIRRELL

771 BROAD ST TELEPHONE 66 WEYMOUTH EAST WEYMOUTH

Our Line of

Standard Garden Tools

is the most complete in town. Drop in and look our goods over. We know we can satisfy you.

M. R. LOUD &amp; CO.

COLUMBIAN SQUARE, SOUTH WEYMOUTH.

For The Highest Grade Porto Rico and New Orleans

MOLASSES

—GO TO—

GORDON WILLIS, THE COLUMBIAN SQUARE GROCER,
South Weymouth

WE are making a thorough canvas of our whole district to determine the needs of each and every household in the way of Gas Service. When our representative calls do not hesitate to ask questions on matters that are not quite clear to you, as we may be able to render some service that will help to lighten your household duties.

OLD COLONY GAS CO.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

On account of our increased business and lack of room we have been forced to move into new headquarters. We are now on the premises recently occupied by the Post Office, where we will be better equipped to meet old and new customers. See the demonstration of the Vacuum Washer in our windows this week.

J. H. MURRAY
TELEPHONE WEYMOUTH 73-J.

C. R. Denbroeder
Large stock from which to select

MEN'S and BOY'S SUITS AND FURNISHINGS
750 Broad St. - East Weymouth
"The White Store"

RANGE COAL FURNACE

IN ALL GRADES AND SIZES

Sawed and Split WOOD Pine and Hard

The Right Time to fill your coal bin is NOW

Augustus J. Richards & Son

Wharf Commercial St.

Tel. Con.

SAVE TIME!

Time is Money.

Save it by doing business by Telephone
You get your message and its reply for one price
Avoid mistakes and avert misunderstandings by direct dealing
The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has connections everywhere

"To save time is to lengthen life"

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company

Coal - COAL - Coal

BEST QUALITY OF ALL KINDS. ALL-RAIL ANTHRACITE IS SUPERIOR

CHARLES T. LEAVITT, M. M. CURTISS COAL Co
Successor to
Yard, Wharf St., EAST WEYMOUTH. Tel. 21-2

SOUTH WEYMOUTH

The St. Francis Xavier church parish will hold its annual garden party on the parochial grounds on June 28 from 2 until 10 o'clock. An interesting program of events is being arranged.

Francis Carroll completed his second year's course of study at Harvard college, last Saturday.

Dr. George E. Emerson has broken ground for a new house on Columbian street.

The young ladies of the St. Francis Xavier church are arranging for a pop concert in Fogg's opera house next Monday evening.

Tickets for the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," on the lawn of Mrs. H. B. Reed, South Weymouth, Friday evening, June 20, can be procured at the store of Gordon Willis. Advertisement.

Halsey Elwell is in town after an extended trip through the Southern states in the interest of the Stetson Shoe Company of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Reed have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Reed of Manchester, N. H.

Mr. Harry Carpenter of New York, a former resident of this place, has been the recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood of Main street.

Judge Louis A. Cook is home from a trip to New Hampshire in the interest of historical and genealogical research.

Mrs. Frances Wheeler, hostess of the Congressional club in Washington, is home for the summer months.

Mrs. Ralph Brooks of Roxbury has been the guest of Mrs. John Vinson the past week.

Robert, the youngest son of Rev. and Mrs. A. V. House, is reported as recovering from his recent attack of rheumatic fever.

Bates opera house, Sat., June 14, pictures and vaudeville. Feature, "The Titanic," Shipwrecked in Icebergs. 10 and 15 cts. Big show for the holiday, June 17th, evening. Advertisement.

Emil E. Otto has sold the Flanders estate on Thicket street to F. S. Kent of Boston. Mr. Kent intends to occupy his newly acquired property.

Rev. A. V. House, pastor of Union Congregational church in this place, was moderator of the meeting of the Norfolk Union of Congregational ministers, held in the First Congregational church in Rockland last Friday. Rev. Mr. House conducted the devotional exercises and Rev. Henry C. Alvord, pastor of the Old South church, gave an address.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Dennett Waterman of New Rochelle, N. Y., have been the recent guests of relatives in town.

Work is rapidly progressing on C. T. Heald's new house on Columbian street.

The Stetson Shoe Company will give its first band concert of the season in Columbian square this (Friday) evening.

The degree staff of Willey Lodge, I. O. O. F., will work the second degree for Pilgrim Lodge of Abington on June 17.

School Superintendent M. E. Fitzgerald of Cambridge, a former resident of this place, has been the recent guest of friends in town.

Robert Alvord of Yale College is home for the summer vacation.

Mrs. Clarinda Goldthwait, one of the oldest women of the town, quietly celebrated her 93rd birthday at the residence of her grandson, Henry C. Jessemann of Pleasant street, South Weymouth, last Tuesday. Several relatives and friends called during the day to pay their respects and leave tokens of kind regard. Mrs. Goldthwait was born in Bridgewater, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Dyer. She attended the public schools and at the age of 21 was married to Charles Goldthwait of East Stoughton by Rev. Mr. Smith of the Baptist church of Stoughton. Shortly after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Goldthwait came to this village to live. There were four children, one of whom, Mrs. Stone of Lynn, is now living. Mrs. Goldthwait enjoys very good health and retains her faculties to a remarkable degree.

Universalist Church.
Sunday morning service at 10.30. The annual Children's Sunday exercises will take the place of the morning sermon. The program will consist of special songs and recitations by the children under the supervision of Mrs. Gordon Willis and the consecration of the children by the pastor. All are invited and welcomed to this service.

Old South Church Notes.
The W. B. M. will hold an all-day meeting with Mrs. A. O. Crawford, at Bayview, on Friday of this week.
At the 7 o'clock service on Sunday evening the pastor will speak on "The School of Life and Its Roll of Honor," a sermon for young people, in view of the close of the school year.

MISSIONARY CIRCLES MEET.
Last Meeting Until Next September.
The united missionary circles connected with the Congregational church of East Weymouth, met in the chapel in East Weymouth last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Walter H. Commons presided and also conducted the devotional exercises. Mrs. James Melville, Miss Mabel Keene, Mrs. Commons and Mrs. William C. Earle read interesting papers on "Current Events." Mrs. W. M. Tirrell read a paper on "Mission Work."
An address on "China's New Day" was given by Miss Ruth Alvord of South Weymouth.
During the social hour, refreshments were served by Miss Mildred Newcomb, Miss Mabel Keene, Miss Susie Humphrey, Mrs. James Melville and Mrs. T. H. Emerson.
A committee, consisting of Mrs. William C. Earle and Mrs. C. Will Bailey, was appointed to draft a set of by-laws and report at the next meeting to be held the first Friday in September.

At the Devil's Gate.
Some people knock so hard at the Devil's gate that one could suppose they were afraid he might be inclined to admit them.

CHILDREN'S SUNDAY.

Nearly All Churches in Town Hold Exercises.

The several churches of Weymouth observed Children's Day last Sunday with appropriate exercises during the day.

Special music, recitations and beautiful floral decorations were the features of the several programs and all of the services were extremely well attended, the perfect weather making it possible for all to attend who wished.

In the Sacred Heart church in Weymouth Landing the rite of confirmation was administered to 101 persons by Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson of Boston, assisted by Rev. John J. Coan of Quincy and Rev. John B. Holland, pastor of the Sacred Heart church. Bishop Anderson delivered an address and sermon of instruction to the class on the subject, "The Sacrament of Confirmation." The church choir furnished music with Mrs. John Hanley at the organ.

At the Union Congregational church of Weymouth and East Braintree Miss Addie Macquinn rendered several solos; Rev. R. H. Cochran delivered a sermon, the primary department sang the choruses, "Jesus Bids Me Shine" and "Father We Thank Thee," with Miss Margaret Howe organist and recitations were given by Ruth Mayo, Helen Haywood, Helen Muirhead, Christine Bailey, Elvin Rich, Esther Mayo, Mary Haywood, Alice Anderson, George Pierce, Ellen Goeltz, Katherine Davenport and Elliott Thayer. Superintendent of the Sunday school C. E. Mayo was in charge.

At the Third Universalist church in North Weymouth at 2.30 p. m. the senior and primary departments sang, assisted by the choir of the church and Stephen E. Pratt, soloist. Musical numbers and recitations were contributed by Clarence Rudolph, Bernice Sherman, Ina Grandell, Margaret Coulson, Mary Garfield, Thomas Hesse, Bernard Sherman, Esther Horton, Harold Morgan, Eleanor Poulin, F. Bailey, Elaine Ross, Charles Coulson, John Balfour, Leo Garfield, Leonard Wolfe, Marjorie Torrey, Ken Poulin, Viola Sherman, Margaret Thompson, Miriam Cain, Margaret Kibbin, Rose Garfield, Elwyn Hersey, Olive Williams, Ray Nash, Warren Tibbets, James Glidden, Ernest Keene, John Wolfe, Herbert Keene, Clarence Sherman, Della Crandall, Alice Morgan, Elizabeth Keene, Marion Hersey and Dorothy Blackwell. Mrs. Edwin R. Sampson was in charge.

At the St. Francis Xavier church in South Weymouth at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the rite of confirmation was administered to a class of 30 by Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, assisted by Rev. John B. Holland of Weymouth Landing and Rev. Edward Fagan of Rockland. The sermon of instruction was delivered by Bishop Anderson.

In the Old South church in South Weymouth Mrs. Arthur B. Tirrell and Miss Laura Tirrell were in charge. Mrs. Frank L. Holland of Weymouth Landing and Rev. Edward Fagan of Rockland. The sermon of instruction was delivered by Bishop Anderson.

At the Union Congregational church in South Weymouth Miss Helen Richards presided at the organ and the confirmation was in charge of Miss Florence Cook. There was congregational singing and musical contributions by the following: Henry E. Stowers, Rev. A. V. House, Miss Emma Howard, Catherine Barnes, Paul House, Emily Allison Margaret Stowers, Gladys Mowry, Lucia Nash, Albert House, Marjorie Davis, Dorothea Pratt, Marion Pratt, Frances, Pratt, Barbara Cole, Evelyn Grundstrom, Charlotte Davis, Supt. Henry S. Stowers and Mrs. S. R. Cook. The boys of the Sunday school had charge of the decoration. The flowers were sent to the Children's hospital in Boston.

At the East Weymouth Congregational church, at the morning service at 10.30 o'clock, Rev. Walter H. Commons gave a sermon on the theme "A Christian Example" was also held. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, a program in charge of Miss Clara Reamy, Miss Grace Mitchell and Miss Florence Earle assisted by the primary grade teachers was presented. The vested choir of female voices, 20 in number, sang "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Lessons from the Flowers" and "Scatter Sweet Flowers." The Sunday school assisted by the choir rendered several numbers and Rev. Walter H. Commons conducted the devotional exercises. The primary department sang and there were recitations and songs by Miss Leslie Lovell, Orley Melville, Miss Florence Earle's class, Eleanor Stetson, Hazel Bemis, Marion Schalls, Eleanor Smith, Virginia Hanksworth, Gladys Ryerson, Mary Keith, Marjorie Stetson, Marjorie Lowe, Mildred Fisher, Louise Smith, Robert Graves, Jack Canterbury, George Nathan, Charles Perry, Gladys Dierbach, Mary Peers, Isabel McCobb, Mildred Holbrook, Russell Cowling, Emerson R. Dizer's class, Doris Briggs, Gladys Tucker, Louise Wing, Clifford Randall, William Bradford, Ethelyn Kimball, John Alden, Marjorie Belcher, Emerson Hollis, Allen Raymond, Rachael Sampson, Harold Rousseau, Carroll Hunt, Harold Commons, Leonard Pratt, Lelwyn Abrams, Walter Higgins, Miss Corbell's and Miss Lincoln's classes, Charles Frates, Gertrude Kissell, Ruby Graves, Doris Hollis, Isabel Briggs, Leslie Crocker, Ruth Graves and Esther Leonard. Cornet solos were pleasingly given by Miss Theodora Keith. Daisies, bridal wreath, peonies, syringa and potted plants were profusely used in the decorations which were in charge of Mrs. Charles Bicknell. At the close each child under the age of nine years was presented with a potted plant. The collection was sent to the Congregational Sunday School Publishing Society for charitable purposes.

Charles L. Chubbuck, Miss Mildred Bates, Miss Addie Brown and Mrs. Ceaira Raymond were in charge of the Children's day program of the M. E. church in East Weymouth. Rev. G. A. Grant conducted the devotional service and the following took part in the program:—Orrilla Abbott, Eva Cann, Gladys Sprague, Lillian Nickelson, Isabel Mc-Issacs, Ruth Harper, Eleanor Kenneron, William Poland, David Joy, Annie Bumpus, Lena Jones, Olive Sylvester, Helen Kenneron, Mary McIsaac, Velma Abbott, Stanley Harper, Paul Rivinius, Harold Lincoln, Grace Wheaton, Nelson Maynard, Dorothy Stetson, Louise Maynard, Aida Fields, Pauline Backwell, Maxine Beach, Helen Makrlian, Marlon Bowker, Francis Thibadeau, Louise Young, Margaret Padline, Walter Maynard, Margaret Stetson, Donald McIsaac, Ruth Fields, Ceaira Blackwell, Isabelle Lond, Elizabeth Elkington, Mabel Henley, Weston Ford and Lester Belcher. Orchestral numbers were given by Norman A. Walker, violin; Arthur Raymond, violin; Ralph Young, cornet; and Mrs. Charles Chubbuck Jr., piano.

WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS

Mrs. Elmer Lunt spent Sunday with relatives in Dorchester.

Miss Marjorie Swift of Brockton has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Macker this week.

The L. B. S. will hold an all day sewing meeting in the chapel of the Old North church next Friday, June 20.

Mrs. Mercy Hunt was a week end guest of her son, William F. Hunt of Stoneham.

Mrs. John B. Merrill attended a wedding in Woonsocket, R. I., on last Saturday.

Norman Loud of Harvard was a guest of his aunt, Miss Mary Loud over Saturday and Sunday.

The operatta entitled, "The Quixotic Quakers," was enacted by ten folks from the Heights at an entertainment held in the Baptist church, Hingham, last Friday evening.

The Women's Missionary Society are invited to spend the day with Miss Mary Loud next Monday. The invitation is also extended to all those interested in the society. The regular missionary meeting will take place in the afternoon and it is hoped a large number will be present.

A three-act drama entitled, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," was enacted in a most creditable manner in the Old North chapel on Wednesday evening, June 4th. The cast consisted of the following people:—Edna Sladen, Bertha Nash, Barbara Ries, Florence Nash, Ruth Pettee, George Lunt, Norman Hunt, George Bicknell and Herman Bates. Owing to the comic wit throughout the drama, and the cleverness with which the parts were taken, the play was enjoyed by everyone, and the cast received a large applause. Mrs. Sadie Plasted of East Weymouth rendered several piano solos during the evening. The proceeds of the evening will be given to the Old North Sunday School.

On Monday evening the Young Women's Mission Circle held a union missionary meeting in the Old North chapel. An invitation was extended to all the Congregational churches in Weymouth to be present at the meeting, which made a gathering of about fifty people. The singing of a hymn opened the meeting which was followed by a few minutes' talk by Miss Mary Loud. Miss Edna Sladen, representing the Young Women's Mission Circle, gave the history of the circle and the good work it is doing. Miss Helen Loud of Weymouth rendered pleasing vocal solos. A very interesting address was given by Mrs. Charles H. Taintor, of Clinton, Conn., assistant secretary of the Church Building Society. A silver offering was taken, and the sum of $15 was presented to Mrs. Taintor, to help the good work of the Church Building Society. At the close of the meeting a social hour was spent and refreshments of lemonade, sandwiches and crackers were served.

Mrs. Cora A. Sanborn.

Mrs. Cora A., wife of Albert B. Sanborn, died Monday forenoon after a short illness of neuralgia around the heart. She was born in this town 74 years ago and was a daughter of the late Henry and Caroline S. Williams. Besides her husband, two sons, Frank F. Hobart of this town and Charles Hobart of Lynn survive her. Deceased was a member of Trinity Episcopal church and of the Guild connected with the church.

The funeral took place from her late home on Williams' Terrace, Thursday afternoon and was attended by many of the friends of the deceased. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The service was conducted by Rev. William Hyde. The interment was in the family lot at Village cemetery.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE First National Bank, of South Weymouth, AT SOUTH WEYMOUTH, IN THE STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS, at the Close of Business, June 4, 1913. RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$239,108 19
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured	89 36
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation	100,000 00
Bonds, securities, etc.	22,630 00
Due from approved reserve agents	67,733 76
Checks and other cash items	279 77
Notes of other National Banks	1,300 00
Real estate and other property	111 20
Legal-tender notes	2,735 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)	5,000 00
Total	$456,332 48
LIABILITIES.
Capital stock paid in	$100,000 00
Surplus fund	30,000 00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	15,428 01
National Bank notes outstanding	96,397 50
Due to State and Private Banks and Bankers	11,277 63
Due to Trust Companies and Savings Banks	11,309 42
Individual deposits subject to check	191,919 92
Total	$456,332 48

State of Massachusetts, ) County of Norfolk, ) SS.
I, J. H. STETSON, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
J. H. STETSON, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 11th day of June, 1913.
GEORGE L. BARNES, Notary Public.
Correct—Attest:
E. B. NEVIN
A. B. VINING } Directors.
GORDON WILLIS

Every Letter You Write,

every invitation you send, goes out as your personal messenger. And only when you use a paper of the very highest quality can you be certain that your messenger is a worthy representative of your personality.

Highland Linen

is the very finest writing paper made, perfect in finish and in every one of the little details which mean everything in social correspondence. It is thoroughly correct, and above all dainty. We have it here, in a range of sizes, styles and tints which will fascinate you.

HUNT'S On The Corner EAST WEYMOUTH

N. R. ELLS

General Teamster!

LIGHT AND HEAVY TEAMING.

Sand and Gravel furnished at short notice. All Jobs promptly attended to.

So. Weymouth, Mass. Telephone 116-1 Weymouth

June Roses

June roses now are in their bloom, And how they do dispel the gloom; Their beauty is a pleasure rare, And in their fragrance we may share.

We cannot have the roses long With which our pleasure to prolong; But this we know that while they're here, They give us an amount of cheer.

The beauty of the rose excels, And oft are found where wedding bells Delight the heart of young and old, And gives a joy as yet untold.

June roses and a wedding cake, Will surely such occasions make Complete with pleasure if we buy The cake from Whitcomb, you know why.

WHITCOMB'S REAL ESTATE

INSURANCE

Thomas J. White

Central Square East Weymouth

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of CARRIE J. BLAKE, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to said administrator, WILLARD J. DUNBAR, Administrator. June 12, 1913.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER.
 PIANOS FOR SALE
 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
 Telephone 1188-M Quincy.

JOSEPH W. McDONALD
UNDERTAKER
 and
REGISTERED
EMBALMER

Office and Rooms:
751 BROAD ST., EAST WEYMOUTH
 (Old G.A.R. Hall)
 Tel. 427W.
 Residence, 651 Broad St.
 Tel. 427R.

Lawn Mowers
Sharpened

Mail us a card, or telephone, and we will call and get your Lawn Mower, Clean, Sharpen and return the same for

ONE DOLLAR
PRICE & HENDER
 24 Elmwood Park, East Braintree
 7-15 Telephone 68-1 Braintree.

For Sale
 New Bungalow, 6 rooms and bath, all modern throughout, 10,000 ft. of land, 2 minutes from electric cars, and 10 minutes from steam cars, good location, price $2,850, can be seen any time.

RUSSELL B. WORSTER,
 Real Estate and Insurance Agent.
 Auctioneer, Notary, Justice of the Peace
 8 Commercial Street, Weymouth.

NURSERY
STOCK

A full line of Trees, Shrubs, and Vines, Fruit and Ornamental. Asparagus, all best selected stock at reasonable prices. First Class Spray Pumps and Solutions.

Charles L. Merritt
 257 Main Street
SOUTH WEYMOUTH
 TEL. 249-M
 Hours: 4 P. M. to 7 A. M.

MEETINGS OF THE Selectmen & Overseers of the Poor

SELECTMEN
 Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
 Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
 George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
 Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
 Henry E. Hanley, East Weymouth.

Meetings Savings Bank Building, East Weymouth, Every Monday, during the municipal year, from 2 to 5 o'clock p. m.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR
 Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
 Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
 George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
 Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
 A. Francis Barnes, South Weymouth.

Meet at the Town Home every first Tuesday of the month and at the Town Office, East Weymouth, every third Tuesday from 2 to 5 o'clock p. m.
 Weymouth, March 14, 1913.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills for Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe.

THE PURCHASE
PRICE;

OR,
THE CAUSE OF COMPROMISE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1910, by Emerson Hough

CHAPTER XIII.
The Way of a Maid.

HECTOR had not tarried a second week at Tallwoods before offering his hand and his cooper shop to Jeanne. With Gallic caution she made delicate inquiry of Hector's father as to the yearly returns and probable future of the cooperage business at St. Genevieve, as to the desirability of the surrounding country upon which the cooperage business must base its own fortunes. All these matters met her approval. Wherefore, the air of Jeanne became tinged with a certain lofty condescension. In her own heart she trembled now, not so much as to her own wisdom or her own future, but as to the meeting which must be had between herself and her mistress.

"Jeanne," demanded Josephine one day, "why are you away so much when I desire you? I have often seen you and that young man yonder in very close conversation. You must have a care."

"Madame," expostulated Jeanne, "it is nothing, I assure you."

"Perhaps, but it is of such things that troubles sometimes come. Tell me, what has this young man said to you?"

"But he has said many things, madame."

"As, for instance, that you please him, that you are beautiful, that you have a voice and hand, a turn of the arm—that you have the manner Parisienne—Jeanne, is it not so?"

"But, yes, madame, and indeed more. I find that young man of excellent judgment, of most discriminating taste. Also he is of an excellent cooperage business in St. Genevieve yonder. Moreover, I find the produce of the grape in this country to increase yearly, so that the business seems to be of a certain future, madame. His community is well founded, the oldest in this portion of the valley. He is young, he has no entanglements—at least so far as I discover. He has an excellent home with his old mother. Ah, well! madame, one might do worse."

"So, then, a cooperage business so promising as that, Jeanne, seems more desirable than my own poor employment? You have no regard for your duty to one who has cared for you, I suppose? You desert me precisely at the time my own affairs require my presence in Washington."

"But, madame, why Washington? Is that our home? What actual home has madame on the face of the earth? Ah, heaven, were only it possible that this man were to be considered! This place so large, so beautiful, so in need of a mistress to control it. Madame says she was carried away against her will. All my life have I dreamed—have I hoped—that some time a man should steal me, to carry me away to some place such as this! And to make love of such a warmness!"

"Jeanne, I forbid you to continue!" The eyes of the mistress had a dangerous sparkle.

"I obey, madame. I am silent. But listen! Now comes this Hector, far more bold and determined than this Mr. Dunwoodee. That assassin, that brute, began, but hesitated. Ah, Hector has not hesitated! Seeing that he would in any case possess myself, would carry me away, I yielded, but with honor and grace, madame."

"You would forsake me?"

"Madame, I confess sometimes in my heart there comes a desire for a home, for a place where one may abide, where one may cease to wander."

Josephine sat silent for a moment. In what direction might she herself now turn even for the humblest friendship? And where was any home now for her? The recreant maid saw something of her mistress' feeling upon her face.

"Madame!" she exclaimed, falling upon her knees in consternation. "To think I would desert you! In my heart resides nothing but loyalty for you. How could you doubt?"

But Josephine was wise in her own way. That night Jeanne kissed her hand dutifully, yet the very next morning in the presence of Lily, with sobs, tears, she admitted that she had decided to leave service, no longer to be Jeanne, but Mme. Hector Fournier.

"But, madame," said Jeanne, still tearful, returning after a brief absence from the room, "although I leave now for St. Genevieve to stand before the priest, I shall not see madame go without attendance. See, I have asked of this Lily person if she could take service with madame. Madame plans soon to return to the east. Perhaps this Lily, then—"

"Ma'am, I want to work for you!" broke out Lily suddenly, stretching out her hands. "I do want to go with you. I can't go back home, I'd only run away again. They'd have to kill me."

Some swift arithmetic was passing through Josephine's mind at the time. Here, then, was concrete opportunity far attention was now turned toward the affairs of Hungary. Instant interest attached to the news that a Hungarian committee of inquiry had landed upon our shores, with the purpose of investigating a possible invitation from our republic to the Hungarian patriot, Kossuth, then in exile in Turkey.

The leader of this mission was General Zewlinski, an officer of the patriot army of Hungary, who brought with him a suit of some dozen persons. These, late in the winter of 1850-51, arrived at Washington and found quarters of a somewhat magnificent sort in one of the more prominent hotels of the national capital.

The first formal action of the Hungarian committee took the shape of a return reception, to be held in the hotel parlors. The invitations, liberal as they were, were sought for quite in excess of the supply. The administration, for which Mr. Webster, our secretary of state, had not hesitated to write in most determined fashion to the attaché Hulsemann regarding the presumptuous Austrian demands upon our government, none the less was much in a funk regarding "European obligations." Not wishing to offend the popular fancy and not daring to take decisive stand, the usual compromise was made. A long suffering officer of the navy, with his wife and one or two other ladies, was dispatched quasi officially to lend color to the occasion.

Such splendor as could be arranged had been provided for the setting of this event. A Hungarian orchestra, brought with these commissioners, discoursed its peculiar music beyond a screen of palms and flowers. One of the great parlors had been prepared for those of the young who could not resist the temptation to dance. At the head of the little line of these visitors, now themselves in effect hosts, stood the old Hungarian general, Zewlinski, an officer over six feet in height, with white hair and wide white mustaches, a distinguished figure in the brilliant Hungarian uniform. Those of his staff near by added additional vividness to the picture. The ladies of the party, half of whom spoke English, were costumed quite in keeping, and endeavored by the graciousness of their manner to add to the good impression already formed of their more brilliant companions. The doors had not been opened for a half hour before the rooms were packed with a struggling mass of humanity, all eager to grasp the hand of the representative of Hungary and of the members of his company. Patriotism, liberty, brotherly love were in the speech of all.

It was at about this time that there entered at the door near the head of the receiving line a young woman, for the time apparently quite unattended. She was brilliantly robed, with jewels flashing at neck and wrists, clad like a queen and looking one.

There were many in Washington social circles who knew by sight or by reputation Josephine, Countess St. Auban, no longer than six months ago pronounced by one journal of the capital to be the most beautiful and the most dangerous woman in Washington. Yet even the most hostile of these suddenly suspended judgment as they saw her advance met now by that of the old Hungarian general himself.

"Countess—my dear child—at last you are here!" he exclaimed. Taking her by the hand he led her back to the line of his official company, volleying rapid exclamations in his native tongue.

"You left us!" at length exclaimed the old general, politely speaking in his best English, since others were bound to hear. "Where you had gone we did not know. It was as though the heavens had opened. See then, sir—he addressed the naval officer who stood near at hand—"the Countess St. Auban was one of the most important members of our little company—she was to come in advance of us, who also are in advance of a greater number. For a time we heard from her, then all was silent! She had disappeared! But now, at last, my dear countess, you are here!"

Political, social and journalistic Washington then and there begged a sudden though silent pardon of the Countess St. Auban. A few journalists left the room quickly. An attaché of the Austrian legation also hurriedly took his leave.

"I have been visiting some of the more remote parts of this country," replied she in even tones.

"So, then, you have not forgotten our mission from Hungary. Well, now we shall surely have the invitation for our Kossuth to come? Is it not true?"

"Assuredly, my dear general. You will find this country eager to meet him. But, alas, I fear that Kossuth himself will find problems also in this country."

"Our own problem—our cause, dear countess?"

"Pardon, general. Really it is also the cause of this country. We think that in Hungary democracy is in peril. It is not less so here. Here also evil cries aloud. Soon war must come, here also—bloody war. We ask funds for Hungary. America soon will need funds for herself."

"Ah, you mean this problem of the north and south—of slavery?" The face of the old general became grave.

"I have talked with many," said he. "It seems incapable of solution. But have not your brilliant faculties, my dear countess, suggested any solution? We learned to value your counsel over yonder."

"What could a mere woman do in a matter vast as this? My general, not all the wisdom of this country has suggested a remedy. I am but a woman and not wise. He who attempts to solve this slavery question must do what no statesman in all history has been able to do, what human wisdom here has failed to do for fifty years of more."

"I know your generosity," said Zewlinski, swiftly leading her apart and gazing her straight in the face as he spoke in low tones none else might hear. "I know how you got your estates yonder, how wide handed you have been with your revenues. I know your strange, unhappy life, my dear. But have a care. Do not make that life more unhappy. Do not let your penitence, your devotion, your self abnegation, carry you too far. Listen. Times are very troublous abroad. The nations are banding against us, even France. He who gives may take. Let me tell you, be careful. Do not involve yourself. Do not jeopardize the good will of Louis Napoleon. Do not let your warm heart endanger your own good fortune."

She laughed almost gaily. "You suggest an idea, my general!" she said. "I still am rich. Since I advocate a measure, why should I not enforce it to the best of my ability? Let Louis Napoleon do as he likes with the widow of a man he murdered! Bring over our friend Louis Kossuth, general, as soon as you like! Meantime I shall be busy here seeking to set on foot certain little plans of my own."

"My child, you will be lost! Forget these matters. Come back with us to our own country. You are young, you are beautiful. You are a woman. You did not love old St. Auban, who took you from your American mother. You did not love him, but will love some other—some young, strong man. Many have sought your hand, my dear."

"See," she interrupted, gently tapping his arm with her fan. "We must not be too much apart. Let us return."

(To Be Continued.)

Speakers Are Plentiful.

Every banquet needs a few good listeners.

WEYMOUTH FIRE ALARM BOXES.

- 12—Pole, River and Parnell Sts
- 13—Bradley Fertilizer Works.
- 14—Pole, Wessagusset Road.
- 15—Pole, Wessagusset & Hobomac St.
- 16—Pole, Bicknell square
- 17—Pole, Pearl and Norton Streets.
- 18—Pole, Bay View Street.
- 19—Pole, Bridge and Saunders Sts.
- 20—Pole, Sea and North Sts.
- 21—Pole, Lovell and Bridge Sts
- 22—Pole, Church and North Sts
- 23—Pole, Grant and High Sts.
- 24—Pole, Wharf St.
- 25—Pole, Jackson Square.
- 26—Pole, Commercial and Putnam Sts
- 27—Pole, Electric Station, private
- 28—Pole, Charles St.
- 29—Pole, Central square.
- 30—Pole, Middle St., near Lake.
- 31—Pole, Broad St., near Essex.
- 32—Pole, Cedar and Hawthorne Sts.
- 33—Pole, Broad St. and Bates Ave.
- 34—Pole, Shawmut St.
- 35—Pole, Strong's Factory, priv.
- 36—Pole, Summer and Federal Sts.
- 37—Pole, Congress and Washington Sts
- 38—Engine House No. 3.
- 39—Pole, Prospect and Granite Sts
- 40—Pole, Garfield Square
- 41—Pole, Washington Square.
- 42—Pole, Commercial Street, opposite Wharf.
- 43—Pole, Lovells Corner
- 44—Pole, Elm and Pleasant Sts.
- 45—Pole, Nash's Corner.
- 46—Pole, cor. Park Ave. and Main Sts.
- 47—Pole, Middle and Washington Sts.
- 48—Pole, Pleasant and Canterbury.
- 49—Lake View Park.
- 50—Pole, opp. Pratt School, Pleasant St.
- 51—Pole, Pleasant, opp. Otis Torrey's.
- 52—Engine House No. 5.
- 53—Pole, Independence Square.
- 54—Pole, near Depot.
- 55—Pole, Pond St., near Robinson's
- 56—Pole, Thicket and Pond Sts
- 57—Pole, May's Corner, Union St.
- 58—Henry Chandler's, Union Street.
- 59—Corner Randolph and Forest Sts.
- 60—Pole, E. C. Staples, Main St.

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS.

2-2-2. Repeat once.

At 7.30 o'clock a. m., no school in any grade during a. m. The same signal at 8 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during a. m. The same signal at 11.45 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during p. m. The same signal at 12.45 o'clock p. m., no school in any grade during p. m.

Clad Like a Queen and Looking One.

gazing her straight in the face as he spoke in low tones none else might hear. "I know how you got your estates yonder, how wide handed you have been with your revenues. I know your strange, unhappy life, my dear. But have a care. Do not make that life more unhappy. Do not let your penitence, your devotion, your self abnegation, carry you too far. Listen. Times are very troublous abroad. The nations are banding against us, even France. He who gives may take. Let me tell you, be careful. Do not involve yourself. Do not jeopardize the good will of Louis Napoleon. Do not let your warm heart endanger your own good fortune."

She laughed almost gaily. "You suggest an idea, my general!" she said. "I still am rich. Since I advocate a measure, why should I not enforce it to the best of my ability? Let Louis Napoleon do as he likes with the widow of a man he murdered! Bring over our friend Louis Kossuth, general, as soon as you like! Meantime I shall be busy here seeking to set on foot certain little plans of my own."

"My child, you will be lost! Forget these matters. Come back with us to our own country. You are young, you are beautiful. You are a woman. You did not love old St. Auban, who took you from your American mother. You did not love him, but will love some other—some young, strong man. Many have sought your hand, my dear."

"See," she interrupted, gently tapping his arm with her fan. "We must not be too much apart. Let us return."

(To Be Continued.)

Speakers Are Plentiful.

Every banquet needs a few good listeners.

WEYMOUTH FIRE ALARM BOXES.

- 12—Pole, River and Parnell Sts
- 13—Bradley Fertilizer Works.
- 14—Pole, Wessagusset Road.
- 15—Pole, Wessagusset & Hobomac St.
- 16—Pole, Bicknell square
- 17—Pole, Pearl and Norton Streets.
- 18—Pole, Bay View Street.
- 19—Pole, Bridge and Saunders Sts.
- 20—Pole, Sea and North Sts.
- 21—Pole, Lovell and Bridge Sts
- 22—Pole, Church and North Sts
- 23—Pole, Grant and High Sts.
- 24—Pole, Wharf St.
- 25—Pole, Jackson Square.
- 26—Pole, Commercial and Putnam Sts
- 27—Pole, Electric Station, private
- 28—Pole, Charles St.
- 29—Pole, Central square.
- 30—Pole, Middle St., near Lake.
- 31—Pole, Broad St., near Essex.
- 32—Pole, Cedar and Hawthorne Sts.
- 33—Pole, Broad St. and Bates Ave.
- 34—Pole, Shawmut St.
- 35—Pole, Strong's Factory, priv.
- 36—Pole, Summer and Federal Sts.
- 37—Pole, Congress and Washington Sts
- 38—Engine House No. 3.
- 39—Pole, Prospect and Granite Sts
- 40—Pole, Garfield Square
- 41—Pole, Washington Square.
- 42—Pole, Commercial Street, opposite Wharf.
- 43—Pole, Lovells Corner
- 44—Pole, Elm and Pleasant Sts.
- 45—Pole, Nash's Corner.
- 46—Pole, cor. Park Ave. and Main Sts.
- 47—Pole, Middle and Washington Sts.
- 48—Pole, Pleasant and Canterbury.
- 49—Lake View Park.
- 50—Pole, opp. Pratt School, Pleasant St.
- 51—Pole, Pleasant, opp. Otis Torrey's.
- 52—Engine House No. 5.
- 53—Pole, Independence Square.
- 54—Pole, near Depot.
- 55—Pole, Pond St., near Robinson's
- 56—Pole, Thicket and Pond Sts
- 57—Pole, May's Corner, Union St.
- 58—Henry Chandler's, Union Street.
- 59—Corner Randolph and Forest Sts.
- 60—Pole, E. C. Staples, Main St.

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS.

2-2-2. Repeat once.

At 7.30 o'clock a. m., no school in any grade during a. m. The same signal at 8 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during a. m. The same signal at 11.45 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during p. m. The same signal at 12.45 o'clock p. m., no school in any grade during p. m.

Clad Like a Queen and Looking One.

gazing her straight in the face as he spoke in low tones none else might hear. "I know how you got your estates yonder, how wide handed you have been with your revenues. I know your strange, unhappy life, my dear. But have a care. Do not make that life more unhappy. Do not let your penitence, your devotion, your self abnegation, carry you too far. Listen. Times are very troublous abroad. The nations are banding against us, even France. He who gives may take. Let me tell you, be careful. Do not involve yourself. Do not jeopardize the good will of Louis Napoleon. Do not let your warm heart endanger your own good fortune."

She laughed almost gaily. "You suggest an idea, my general!" she said. "I still am rich. Since I advocate a measure, why should I not enforce it to the best of my ability? Let Louis Napoleon do as he likes with the widow of a man he murdered! Bring over our friend Louis Kossuth, general, as soon as you like! Meantime I shall be busy here seeking to set on foot certain little plans of my own."

"My child, you will be lost! Forget these matters. Come back with us to our own country. You are young, you are beautiful. You are a woman. You did not love old St. Auban, who took you from your American mother. You did not love him, but will love some other—some young, strong man. Many have sought your hand, my dear."

"See," she interrupted, gently tapping his arm with her fan. "We must not be too much apart. Let us return."

(To Be Continued.)

Speakers Are Plentiful.

Every banquet needs a few good listeners.

WEYMOUTH FIRE ALARM BOXES.

- 12—Pole, River and Parnell Sts
- 13—Bradley Fertilizer Works.
- 14—Pole, Wessagusset Road.
- 15—Pole, Wessagusset & Hobomac St.
- 16—Pole, Bicknell square
- 17—Pole, Pearl and Norton Streets.
- 18—Pole, Bay View Street.
- 19—Pole, Bridge and Saunders Sts.
- 20—Pole, Sea and North Sts.
- 21—Pole, Lovell and Bridge Sts
- 22—Pole, Church and North Sts
- 23—Pole, Grant and High Sts.
- 24—Pole, Wharf St.
- 25—Pole, Jackson Square.
- 26—Pole, Commercial and Putnam Sts
- 27—Pole, Electric Station, private
- 28—Pole, Charles St.
- 29—Pole, Central square.
- 30—Pole, Middle St., near Lake.
- 31—Pole, Broad St., near Essex.
- 32—Pole, Cedar and Hawthorne Sts.
- 33—Pole, Broad St. and Bates Ave.
- 34—Pole, Shawmut St.
- 35—Pole, Strong's Factory, priv.
- 36—Pole, Summer and Federal Sts.
- 37—Pole, Congress and Washington Sts
- 38—Engine House No. 3.
- 39—Pole, Prospect and Granite Sts
- 40—Pole, Garfield Square
- 41—Pole, Washington Square.
- 42—Pole, Commercial Street, opposite Wharf.
- 43—Pole, Lovells Corner
- 44—Pole, Elm and Pleasant Sts.
- 45—Pole, Nash's Corner.
- 46—Pole, cor. Park Ave. and Main Sts.
- 47—Pole, Middle and Washington Sts.
- 48—Pole, Pleasant and Canterbury.
- 49—Lake View Park.
- 50—Pole, opp. Pratt School, Pleasant St.
- 51—Pole, Pleasant, opp. Otis Torrey's.
- 52—Engine House No. 5.
- 53—Pole, Independence Square.
- 54—Pole, near Depot.
- 55—Pole, Pond St., near Robinson's
- 56—Pole, Thicket and Pond Sts
- 57—Pole, May's Corner, Union St.
- 58—Henry Chandler's, Union Street.
- 59—Corner Randolph and Forest Sts.
- 60—Pole, E. C. Staples, Main St.

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS.
 2-2-2. Repeat once.
 At 7.30 o'clock a. m., no school in any grade during a. m. The same signal at 8 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during a. m. The same signal at 11.45 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during p. m. The same signal at 12.45 o'clock p. m., no school in any grade during p. m.

far attention was now turned toward the affairs of Hungary. Instant interest attached to the news that a Hungarian committee of inquiry had landed upon our shores, with the purpose of investigating a possible invitation from our republic to the Hungarian patriot, Kossuth, then in exile in Turkey.

The leader of this mission was General Zewlinski, an officer of the patriot army of Hungary, who brought with him a suit of some dozen persons. These, late in the winter of 1850-51, arrived at Washington and found quarters of a somewhat magnificent sort in one of the more prominent hotels of the national capital.

The first formal action of the Hungarian committee took the shape of a return reception, to be held in the hotel parlors. The invitations, liberal as they were, were sought for quite in excess of the supply. The administration, for which Mr. Webster, our secretary of state, had not hesitated to write in most determined fashion to the attaché Hulsemann regarding the presumptuous Austrian demands upon our government, none the less was much in a funk regarding "European obligations." Not wishing to offend the popular fancy and not daring to take decisive stand, the usual compromise was made. A long suffering officer of the navy, with his wife and one or two other ladies, was dispatched quasi officially to lend color to the occasion.

Such splendor as could be arranged had been provided for the setting of this event. A Hungarian orchestra, brought with these commissioners, discoursed its peculiar music beyond a screen of palms and flowers. One of the great parlors had been prepared for those of the young who could not resist the temptation to dance. At the head of the little line of these visitors, now themselves in effect hosts, stood the old Hungarian general, Zewlinski, an officer over six feet in height, with white hair and wide white mustaches, a distinguished figure in the brilliant Hungarian uniform. Those of his staff near by added additional vividness to the picture. The ladies of the party, half of whom spoke English, were costumed quite in keeping, and endeavored by the graciousness of their manner to add to the good impression already formed of their more brilliant companions. The doors had not been opened for a half hour before the rooms were packed with a struggling mass of humanity, all eager to grasp the hand of the representative of Hungary and of the members of his company. Patriotism, liberty, brotherly love were in the speech of all.

It was at about this time that there entered at the door near the head of the receiving line a young woman, for the time apparently quite unattended. She was brilliantly robed, with jewels flashing at neck and wrists, clad like a queen and looking one.

There were many in Washington social circles who knew by sight or by reputation Josephine, Countess St. Auban, no longer than six months ago pronounced by one journal of the capital to be the most beautiful and the most dangerous woman in Washington. Yet even the most hostile of these suddenly suspended judgment as they saw her advance met now by that of the old Hungarian general himself.

"Countess—my dear child—at last you are here!" he exclaimed. Taking her by the hand he led her back to the line of his official company, volleying rapid exclamations in his native tongue.

"You left us!" at length exclaimed the old general, politely speaking in his best English, since others were bound to hear. "Where you had gone we did not know. It was as though the heavens had opened. See then, sir—he addressed the naval officer who stood near at hand—"the Countess St. Auban was one of the most important members of our little company—she was to come in advance of us, who also are in advance of a greater number. For a time we heard from her, then all was silent! She had disappeared! But now, at last, my dear countess, you are here!"

Political, social and journalistic Washington then and there begged a sudden though silent pardon of the Countess St. Auban. A few journalists left the room quickly. An attaché of the Austrian legation also hurriedly took his leave.

"I have been visiting some of the more remote parts of this country," replied she in even tones.

"So, then, you have not forgotten our mission from Hungary. Well, now we shall surely have the invitation for our Kossuth to come? Is it not true?"

"Assuredly, my dear general. You will find this country eager to meet him. But, alas, I fear that Kossuth himself will find problems also in this country."

"Our own problem—our cause, dear countess?"

"Pardon, general. Really it is also the cause of this country. We think that in Hungary democracy is in peril. It is not less so here. Here also evil cries aloud. Soon war must come, here also—bloody war. We ask funds for Hungary. America soon will need funds for herself."

"Ah, you mean this problem of the north and south—of slavery?" The face of the old general became grave.

"I have talked with many," said he. "It seems incapable of solution. But have not your brilliant faculties, my dear countess, suggested any solution? We learned to value your counsel over yonder."

"What could a mere woman do in a matter vast as this? My general, not all the wisdom of this country has suggested a remedy. I am but a woman and not wise. He who attempts to solve this slavery question must do what no statesman in all history has been able to do, what human wisdom here has failed to do for

“Providence

All Change!”

Many of you remember that call of the conductor.

Providence was only one of many “all change” points.

That was because each little railroad had run its short course.

Today the weary or book-bound traveler is carried in peace to his destination.

Unified management means convenience and comfort to the traveler.

WHY NOT

Have The Best?

Come and See Us For

Staple and Choice Groceries

Try our Bread and Pastry Flour, Teas, Coffees, Spices and Flavoring Extracts; also Vouched For Canned Goods.

Bates & Humphrey's

Broad and Middle Sts., WEYMOUTH CENTER
TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

SEE OUR LINE OF

Rogers Bros. 1847 Silver that wears, Knives, Forks, Spoons, and other Pieces, Carving Sets.

Fine rich American Deep Cut Glass Ware, the latest designs. Quality guaranteed. (not pressed)

Extra Quality Quadruple Silver Plated Coffee Sets in 4 pieces Coffee Percolators made of copper and nickel.

Chafing Dishes in nickel or solid copper, ebony handles. Tea Strainers in sterling silver.

The Leading Jewelry Store in the Weymouths

JOHN NEILSON,

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE, Telephone 272W EAST WEYMOUTH

CHARLES HARRINGTON

DEALER IN

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS

GLOVES and HOSIERY
UNDERWEAR and NOTIONS

New and Seasonable Goods added Every Week

Charles Harrington,

Commercial Street, near Jackson Square, East Weymouth

Right Now Is Your Time

We can show you what you want in

House, Camp, Lawn or Piazza Furniture

Are you looking for Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Curtains and Fixtures, or Paper Hanging? If so, see our stock. Carpets Laid, Curtains Hung, Upholstering and Repairing by experts. Do you need a Summer Cooking Stove? We have the best. How about taking the baby out? We have the carriages.

FORD FURNITURE CO.

Broad St. Tel. Con. East Weymouth

WEYMOUTH WINS.

Boston College High Nine of Boston Receives Surprise of Life and Returns Home on the Short End of a 6 to 3 Score.

With the expectation of an easy victory the Boston College High school nine journeyed to Weymouth last Thursday afternoon and played Weymouth field school on the Clapp Memorial field in East Weymouth. The confident smile of the Boston boys was wiped off for good after the first inning however, for the Weymouth boys lit on the visiting twirler like a ton of brick, banging the ball to all corners of the field and pushing four large juicy runs across the pan. With this beginning “Buster” Burrell, who was on the mound for Weymouth, gained confidence as each inning progressed and allowed the visitors but three runs in the entire game. In order to make victory certain the home talent again got out their bats in the sixth session and quickly batted two more tallies across the pan for good measure.

The score:

WEYMOUTH H. S.
Vender, cf	1 0 0 0
Gorman, 2b	2 1 1 2
Gloster, 3b	0 4 2 1
Fraher, c	1 8 1 0
Murphy, 1b	2 8 0 0
Condrick, rf	3 0 0 0
Burrell, p	0 0 4 0
Gardner, lf	3 2 0 0
Riley, ss	0 4 3 2
Totals	12 27 11 5

BOSTON COLLEGE H. S.

BOSTON COLLEGE H. S.
Spillane, c	0 5 2 0
Gildea, lf	0 1 0 0
O'Connor, cf	1 0 0 1
Kinahan, 1b	1 1 0 0
Gill, rf	1 0 0 0
Wholley, ss	0 2 3 1
Reardon, rb	0 2 3 1
Duffy, 3b	1 1 1 0
Relly, p	0 1 5 0
Totals	4 24 14 3

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Weymouth H. S. 4 0 0 0 2 0 0 —6

Boston College H. S. 0 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 —3

Runs made by—Vender, Gloster, Fraher, Murphy, Condrick, Gardner, Kinahan, Gill, Wholley. Two base hits—Fraher, Gardner, Murphy, Kinahan. Home run—Gill. Stolen bases—Murphy, O'Connor, Wholley. Base on balls—by Burrell 3, by Reilly 2. Struck out—by Burrell 7, by Reilly 5. Sacrifice hits—Gorman, Gloster, Burrell. Double play—Wholley and Reardon. Hit by pitched ball—O'Connor. Passed ball—Spillane. Time—1 hr, 50 m. Umpire—Nolan.

TALES OF CATS.

Stories That Come From the Historic Tower of London.

Two stories of the intelligence and sympathy of our feline friends were told me during one of my numerous visits to the Tower of London while I was living in England.

Southampton was a prisoner in the Tower with the Earl of Essex during Elizabeth's reign. In some strange way or by some unrecognized faculty a favorite cat of his found his abode and suddenly appeared to him, having made an entrance down the chimney. After his release by James I., Southampton had his picture painted with his faithful friend at his side. The portrait, I believe, can today be seen at Wilbeck abbey.

The other tale is of Sir Henry Wyatt, who was committed to the Tower during the reign of Richard III, and suffered much from want of clothing and food. He would have perished if a cat had not come down into his room and warmed him by lying on his breast and saved him from starvation by bringing him an occasional pigeon caught on the leads. Although the keeper was under orders not to improve his food, he agreed to cook anything which Sir Henry provided, and the pigeons which the cat brought saved his life. He also had a picture painted showing the cat offering a pigeon through the bars of his cell.—Our Dumb Friends.

MOCK WINDOWS.

They Were Common in England When Real Ones Were Taxed.

The window tax in England, a very old tax commencing in the reign of William III, was not discontinued until Lord Halifax changed it to the house duty in 1851.

In very many old houses in England today there may be seen mock windows painted on the walls for symmetry—hideous things. Not only were glazed windows taxed, but any hole in the wall was included. Indeed, in the early days only very rich people in England had glass windows, and so precious were these that they were carried from one house to another when people moved their quarters.

Curious dodges were practiced to escape the tax, such as extending one window across two houses or making a very wide division between two panes of glass. The loss to the nation must have been a hundredfold the revenues collected from this bad tax.—Boston Herald.

America's Vast Corn Fields. The combined area of the corn fields of the United States is nearly equal to the area of France or Germany.

WHERE THE OCEAN BOILS.

Upheavals That May Be Caused by Submarine Earthquakes.

Mariners say that in the midst of the Atlantic, about where the twenty-fifth meridian west from Greenwich crosses the equator, there lies a region of mystery. It is on the line that ships take from Madiera to Brazil. Only within the past half century has it been sounded and its strange phenomena reported.

One investigator declared that he saw the sea about half a mile from his vessel suddenly disturbed. For about two minutes it boiled up violently as from a subterranean spring. Throughout the day there were observed great patches of discolored water which had exactly the appearance of extensive shoals.

These and similar phenomena are frequently observed in this part of the ocean. Often a ship reports that she has experienced a violent shock similar to that which is felt when a rock is struck. Sometimes a great rumbling is heard, like that of a heavy chain running through the hawse pipes, and the vessel quivers like a leaf in the wind. At another time, in smooth water, a vessel has been known to heel over suddenly, as if she had run on a sand bank.

Before this part of the ocean was as thoroughly sounded and surveyed as it is now these phenomena were attributed to the presence of unmarked sand banks and rocky shoals, and the old charts were marked accordingly. But it must have astonished the mariner somewhat to find that he got no soundings with his deep lead immediately after experiencing one of these shocks.

It is now generally believed that submarine earthquakes are the true cause of these convulsions.—Youth's Companion.

A FIRE HOUSE ROMANCE.

The Old Horse Did His Part, but the Old Chief Weakened.

Not long ago a fire horse was brought in from the farm, a horse thirty-six years old, that had not had a harness on his back for eleven years. This horse used to pull the chief's wagon. He had the faculty of getting under the shafts quicker than ever any horse did that stood on four feet. He never made a mistake, never a false move. By the time the driver was in the wagon the horse was ready to go, and when he went he went on the high speed. So behold the old horse brought in from the country witnessing again the frolics and froivols of the city.

The horse was barefooted, his mane, tail and fetlocks grown out long and shaggy. The fire laddies went to work cleaning him up with loving caress. The old red wagon of the chief was brought out. The shafts were lifted in the air with the harness hanging. The horse was standing, loose, 200 feet away.

At a signal the gong was sounded, and like a flash of light the old veteran leaped for the shafts. A fireman snapped the harness into place. The old fire chief watched the whole performance, intending to spring into the wagon, provided the horse had not forgotten his cue.

Th horse knew how to do it; but, alas, the venerable chief, now grown gray, merely stumbled and tumbled forward, threw his arms around the old horse's neck, burst into tears and cried like a baby.—Blacksmith and Wheelwright.

Not So Far Wrong, After All.

Mild Marion, approaching her fourth birthday, has an imaginary world of her own, in which the principal personage seems to be Mary, her oldest child. For some weeks she talked also of a “Mr. Mary,” but a few days ago she announced that “Mr. Mary” had “died on the consumptions.” A few evenings later when she was telling her father of some of Mary's exploits he asked her what had become of “Mr. Mary.” “Oh, he died,” and her golden curls shook very sadly.

“Why did he die?” “Well, you see, Mr. Mary was my husband, and one day I asked him for some money, and he died.”

“I fancy her conception of matrimony is not so far wrong at that,” remarked her mother, who was listening to the conversation.—Indianapolis News.

The Apple.

Scandinavian legends affirm that the apple was the favorite food of the gods. It was one of the first fruits grown by the Romans; it was early introduced into England and brought from there to America. It is easily cultivated, bears fruit farther north than almost any other, and by means of grafting almost 2,000 varieties have been produced. These facts show in part why the apple stands at the head of all fruits.—Women's Home Companion.

What They Stole.

To Walter Damosch at the end of one of his concerts at Aeolian hall, in New York, an admirer showed a piece of music that had been palpably plagiarized from one of the numbers in “The Dove of Peace.”

But Mr. Damosch took the plagiarism with good humor. “They've only stolen a march on me,” he said.

Had Her Guessing.

Landlady (letting room)—Of course I expect the rent punctually every week. New Lodger—Just so, madam. My rule is either punctually or not at all.—Boston Transcript.

A moment's patience is ten years' comfort.—Greek Proverb.

Animal Life.

The May fly's life is complete in four to five hours, during which it is born, matures, loves, fights, mates, propagates and dies. The ordinary moth lives three to four days, the locust (grasshopper) lives four weeks, dragon fly six to eight weeks, male bees or drones four to five months, snails two to three years, queen bee two to three years, mouse six years, squirrel six years, pigeon ten to twenty years, canary twelve to fifteen years, rabbit ten years, broer fox fourteen years, crawfish twenty years, pig twenty years, lion thirty-five years, toad frog forty years, cat forty years, bear fifty years, raven 100 years, elder duck, 100 years, parrot 100 years, golden eagle 104 years, white headed vulture 118 years, pike 200 years, carp 200 years, elephant 200 years and swan 300 years.

Considering the fact that the average man's age is only about thirty-three years, it will be seen that many members of the animal kingdom have a great advantage over the human race in their allotted length of life.

An Insult.

Angrily the head of the haberdashery concern stormed into the employment agency and demanded an interview with the manager.

“I understand,” he said, “that you have been recommending as AI collectors certain young men whom you represent as having collected money from us. If they can get it from us they can get it from anybody. That's the way you make it appear, consequently your clients land good jobs.”

With visions of possible libel suits rising before his guilty conscience, the agent attempted self justification.

“You are considered pretty hard nuts, you know,” he said.

“Oh, that's all right,” said the man. “It ain't that I'm kicking about, but not one of your men has ever collected a dollar at our shop, and it don't do any good to lie about it.”—New York Times.

It Might Have Been Worse.

Mark Twain during one of his lecture tours was waiting at a station for a delayed train. The lecture committee and several townsmen were with him and talking their best to pass the time away. One man told about a frightfully unhealthy town he had read about, and it was a grewsome tale of dying and burials and that sort. “It might have been worse,” Twain followed, in his slow and direct manner. “I lived in that same town for two years, and I never died once—not a single time.” The way he said it seemed to daze the crowd, and not a man said a word in response. “Of course you may think I'm lying,” the humorist continued, “and I'm sorry, for I can't get any witnesses to testify that I didn't, because everybody else that lived there is dead.”

LADIES

We have opened a Special Department for you on MONDAYS, from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M.

Shampoo, Facial Massage, Etc. at reasonable prices. Only the best of work in a modern, up-to-date shop. We solicit a trial.

Amos Cantara
THE CENTRAL SQUARE BARBER
Central Square East Weymouth

To the Honorable, the Selectmen of Weymouth.

Respectfully represents the Bay State Street Railway Company, that it is a street railway corporation duly established under the laws of this Commonwealth and operating a street railway within the town of Weymouth, and that it desires a location upon Bridge street in said town.

Wherefore it prays that a location of tracks be granted to it in said Bridge street from State Highway Station 91 x 16.24 to the Weymouth-Hingham line substantially as shown upon the plan on file with this petition marked “Maintenance of Way Department, L-4427,” together with the right to erect, maintain and use such poles, wires and other appliances as are commonly used in connection with the overhead trolley system of street car services and the right to propel cars over such system with electricity as the motive power; and the further right to make such surface alterations in said street as may be necessary for establishing its railway under said grant and according to such location.

BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY CO
By P. P. SULLIVAN, President.

Boston, Mass., June 2, 1913.

OFFICE OF THE SELECTMEN OF WEYMOUTH.

East Weymouth, Mass., June 2, 1913.

Upon consideration of the foregoing petition, at a meeting of the Board of Selectmen of Weymouth, held as above, it was ordered:

That a hearing be held upon said petition at the Office of the Selectmen on Saturday, the twenty-first day of June, 1913, at two o'clock p. m. and that notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing said petition and this order thereon in the Weymouth Gazette and Weymouth Times, newspapers published in said Weymouth, on June 6 and 13, 1913, and by serving the same by copy upon the clerk of the said Bay State Street Railway Company fourteen days at least before the time of said hearing.

Given at the office of the Selectmen of Weymouth, June second 1913.

Edward W. Hunt, Bradford Hawes, George L. Newton, William J. Dunbar, Henry E. Hanley, Selectmen of Weymouth

CHURCH SERVICES

Under this heading the pastors of ALL the churches are cordially invited to make such announcements of services, etc., as they may wish. We only stipulate that such notices to be inserted shall reach us at the latest on Thursday morning of each week—the day before publication.

OLD SOUTH CHURCH (South Weymouth). Rev. H. C. Alvord, pastor. Morning service, 10.30. Sunday School, 11.45. Baraca Young Men's Class, 12.00. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6.15. Evening service at 7.00. Thursday evening, 7.30.

TRINITY CHURCH (Weymouth) Rev. William Hyde, rector. Service with sermon at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 12.00 m.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (South Weymouth). Rev. Albert V. House, Pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 m. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6 p. m.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (North Weymouth). Rev. Rufus H. Dix, pastor. Sunday school at 1.15 p. m.; preaching at 2.30 p. m.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH (East Braintree). Rev. T. C. Collister, pastor. Morning service, 10.30. Sunday School, 11.45. Junior League, 4.30 p. m. Epworth League, 6.30 p. m. Evening preaching service 7.15. Prayer meeting, Friday evening, 7.30. A cordial welcome is extended to all these services.

BAPTIST CHURCH (Weymouth) Lord's Day services: Preaching at 10.30 a. m. and 7.00 p. m. Bible School 12 p. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening, 7.45 p. m. Y. P. S. C. E. at 5.45 P. M. on Sunday.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (Weymouth and Braintree). Rev. Robert H. Cochrane, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.00. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. All are invited to attend these services.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH (East Weymouth). Rev. George A. Grant, pastor. Morning worship and preaching at 10.30. Sunday School at noon. Epworth League meeting at 6.30 p. m. Evening service at 7.00. Tuesday evenings, 7.30 p. m. prayer meetings. Holy Communion, first Sunday in every month following morning service.

OLD NORTH CHURCH (Weymouth Heights). Rev. Edward Yaeger, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Evening service at 7.00. Sunday-school at 11.45 a. m. Thursday evening at 7.30. A cordial invitation is extended to all of these services.

PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (North Weymouth). Rev. Charles Clark, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday school, 11.45 a. m. Y. P. S. C. E. 6.15 p. m. Evening service at 7.00. A cordial welcome is extended to all of these services. Preaching at both morning and evening service.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (East Weymouth). Rev. Walter H. Commons, pastor. Morning worship at 10.30. Sunday school at 11.45. Evening service at 7.00. Tuesday evening service at 7.30.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (Weymouth). Rev. Rufus H. Dix, pastor. Sunday morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 m. Y. P. C. U. at 5.30 p. m.

SECOND UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (South Weymouth). Minister; William Wallace Rose. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 m.

PORTER M. E. CHURCH (Lovell's Corner) Rev. J. W. Reynolds pastor. Preaching service at 10.30 a. m. Sunday School at 11.45 a. m. Epworth League at 6.00. Social and Praise service at 7 p. m. All are cordially invited.

CHURCH OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER (South Weymouth) Rev. D. J. Crimmins, rector. Sundays—Masses 8.00 and 10 a. m. Sunday School at 2.30 p. m. Rosary and Benediction at 3.30 p. m. Week days: Mass at 7.30 a. m.

CHURCH OF THE SACRED HEART (Weymouth) Rev. J. B. Holland, rector. Sunday—Masses at 7.30, 10.00 a. m. Sunday School at 11.00 a. m. Vespers at 4 p. m. Week days—Mass 7 a. m.

CHURCH OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION (East Weymouth). Rev. James W. Allison, rector. Rev. Maurice Lynch, assistant. Masses Sunday at 8 and 10.30 a. m. Sunday School at 3 p. m. Vespers at 7.45 p. m. Masses week days at 7 and 7.30.

ST. JEROME'S CHURCH (North Weymouth). Pastor, Rev. James W. Allison, Assistant, Rev. Maurice Lynch. Mass, Sunday at 9. Sunday School at 3.

ZION'S HILL CHAPEL (East Weymouth) Social service at 2 and 6.30 p. m. Rev. E. W. Smith, Preacher.

ALL SOULS CHURCH (Braintree). Preaching at 10.30 A.M. Kindergarten class in charge of Miss Elizabeth B. Pray at 10.30. Second session of this class at 11.45. Regular Sunday school at 11.45. All are welcome.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST (of Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock st. and Cottage Ave.) Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Wednesday, 7.45 P. M., an experience and testimony meeting. Reading room open every week day from 3 to 5. All are welcome. Subject, Sunday morning June 15, “God the preserver of man.”

For Rusted Saws.

When the saw becomes rusted it may be removed with emery dust mixed with sweet oil. Apply this with a large corncob.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

THE heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of late of Weymouth, in said County, deceased: Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Emma A. Hunt of said Weymouth, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named without giving a surety on her official bond.

RICHARD L. HUNT

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Braintree in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fifth day of June, A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Weymouth Gazette, a newspaper published in said Weymouth, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

12-14 JOHN D. LOEB, Register.

To Restore Good Health

The first thing to do is to correct the minor ailments caused by defective or irregular action of the organs of digestion and elimination. After these organs have been put in good working order by timely use of

BEECHAM'S PILLS

(The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World) better digestion results, and then the food really nourishes and strengthens the body. The first dose gives relief and sounder sleep, quieter nerves, and improved action of all the bodily organs are caused by an occasional use of Beecham's Pills. They give universal satisfaction and in safety, sureness and quickness of action Beecham's Pills

Have No Known Equal

Sold everywhere. In boxes 10c., 25c. The directions with every box are very valuable.

Wants, For Sale, To Let, Etc.

Four lines or less under this head. 25 cents each insertion; each extra line 10c. Count 5 words to a line. No ads. accepted in this department unless accompanied by the cash.

APPEAL FOR SALE—Delivered in carload lots by the Bay State St. Ry. Co. Apply to Thomas Gammon, Supl., 954 Hancock street, Quincy, Telephone, Quincy 6. 9 ft

UTO To let for parties, weddings, christenings, for long or short trips, 5-pass Buick. Tel. Wey. 235-W. Pine Point Auto and Motor Co., Bridge street, North Weymouth. 29 ft

LOT—Men's and young men's. Hand-some patterns, two hundred suits, $4 to $12. Bargains not to be found elsewhere. Geo. A. Hunt, 78 Front St., Weymouth. 11 ft

CAN place a few mortgages, with private parties, and on reasonable terms if property is right. Address Box 538, E. Weymouth. 17 ft

FOR SALE—To close out a stock, two good heavy express harnesses and one carriage or buggy harness. W. T. Heffernan, harness maker, Broad street, East Weymouth. 10 ft

FOR SALE—House of eight rooms and bath, hot water heat, gas and electricity, stable and 30,000 feet of land. For terms and other information apply to Mrs. Robert B. Raymond, 31 Fairmount Ave., East Weymouth. 12-13

TO LET—A tenement of six rooms with bath. Apply to Geo. E. Bicknell, 24 Tremont St., Weymouth. 9 ft

TO LET—2 furnished rooms; also wanted plant washing and ironing, curtain laundering a specialty. Apply at 1029 Commercial St., East Wey. 11-15

TO LET—Tenement of 10 rooms, rent $7.50. Apply M. R. Wright, agent, 37 Commercial street, Weymouth. 9 ft

TO LET—A house of 7 rooms on East street near Keith's factory. Apply to W. H. Pratt, Broad street, East Weymouth. 11 ft

WANTED—Girls to work on folding paper boxes. No experience necessary. The A. O. Crawford Co., Inc., South Weymouth, Mass. 12-14

WANTED—People to know that it costs only 25 cents to make known their wants in this column.

LOST SAVINGS BANK BOOK.

Savings Bank Book as listed below is lost, and application has been made for payment of the account in accordance with Sect. 40, Chap. 509, of the Acts of 1905 and amendments thereto. Payment has been stopped.

L—Deposit Book No. 10459 of the Weymouth Savings Bank is reported lost.

L—Deposit Book No. 11093 of the Weymouth Savings Bank is reported lost. 12-14

Real Estate

Do you want to BUILD or BUY?

I have property for sale in Weymouth and vicinity, of all kinds.

Call and see me and make known your wants Reasonable terms.

CAREY'S REAL ESTATE AGENCY

733 Broad Street East Weymouth. Telephone

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
BOARD OF RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS
(9401) Boston, June 11, 1913.
On the petition of the Bay State Street Railway Company for approval of location and relocation of its tracks in North street in the town of Weymouth, established under an order of the selectmen of said town, dated June 2, 1913, the Board will give a hearing to the parties in interest at its office, No. 20 Beacon street, Boston, on Wednesday, the eighteenth day of June, instant, at ten-thirty o'clock in the forenoon.
And the petitioner is required to give notice of said hearing by publication hereof once prior to said date in the Weymouth Gazette and Transcript, a newspaper published in Weymouth, to serve a copy hereof on the Town of Weymouth, and to make return of service at the time of hearing. By order of the Board.
13-11 Charles E. Mano, Clerk.

WEYMOUTH AND EAST BRAINTREE

—Tickets for the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," on the lawn of Mrs. H. B. Reed, South Weymouth, Friday evening, June 20, can be procured at Harlow's drug store.—Advertisement.

—Bates opera house, Sat., June 14, pictures and vaudeville. Feature, "The Titanic," Shipwrecked in Icebergs. 10 and 15c. Big show for the holiday, June 17th, evening.—Advertisement.

—Dr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Thompson of Amherst were recently the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thompson and attended the wedding of their niece, Miss Florence M. Thompson of Somerville.

—At a meeting of the Parish committee of the First Universalist Society held at the residence of Mrs. A. W. Clapp, Friday evening, the 6th, it was voted to hold the annual parish fair Thursday and Friday evenings, October 9 and 10.

—Mrs. Margaret, wife of John W. Ford, a former resident of this place, died at her home in Rockland, Saturday, aged 48. The body was brought here Tuesday and interred in the family lot at St. Francis Xavier cemetery.

—Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Virgin and Lester P. Virgin are enjoying a vacation in Maine.

—Miss Kate Costa of Bridgewater has been visiting Miss Elizabeth Backerle.

—William Stackhouse of Allen street is confined to his home the result of injuries received in a collision with an automobile while bicycling last Friday. He received a very bad shaking up but no bones were broken.

—Thornton Niles graduates today from the Huntington Electrical school, Huntington avenue, Boston.

—Charles South, who has been dangerously ill with pneumonia is now convalescent.

—Miss Jennie Richmond has been visiting friends in Elmwood.

—Edward Quinn has moved to North Abington where he will make it his home.

—Miss May Veazie of Dorchester, a former teacher at the Hunt grammar school was in town Saturday visiting friends.

—Daniel H. Clancy, Undertaker, Vine street, Weymouth. Tel. 336 W.—Advertisement.

—Francis Burrell, foreman at the Joseph Land estate on Commercial street is confined to his home the result of a fall from a step ladder while at work removing gypsy mounds from the trees on the estate last Saturday.

—Mrs. Susie A. Sanborn and Mrs. Amos Parker of Chelsea have been in town this week week on a visit.

—William Dwyer has taken a position as chauffeur with Morris Bloom.

—Mrs. William Conyer of Summer street is home from a Boston hospital where she underwent an operation two weeks ago and is now rapidly regaining her health.

—Guy Fletcher is home from a three months business trip through the west.

—Mrs. Sarah Thompson moved Wednesday to Quincy where she will make it her home with her niece, Mrs. Charles Wilson.

—Herbert Carroll has taken a position with Fred H. Chandler.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Blake of Stoughton have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Spillane.

—Next Sunday will be observed as Children's Sunday at the First Universalist church. There will be exercises by the children of the Sunday school and a sermon appropriate to the occasion by the pastor, Rev. Rufus H. Dix.

—The roof of the house of Judge Albert E. Avery was damaged by a fire last Friday afternoon causing an alarm to be rung in from box 25.

—Arthur Joy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adoniram Joy, died at his home on Quincy avenue, Tuesday. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon and the interment was at Village cemetery.

—Mrs. F. L. King leaves today for a visit to her old home in Antrim, N. H.

—The local fire department was called Saturday afternoon to assist in extinguishing the fire at Col. A. C. Drinkwater's. The Colonel remembered the boys with a box of cigars Sunday morning.

—Miss Elsie Pray, a teacher in the public schools in Taunton, is home for the summer vacation.

—Mrs. Augustus J. Richards, Misses Annie and Mary Richards have taken the Judge Flint cottage at Scituate beach for the summer.

—Thirty members of the Epworth League of the East Braintree M. E. church attended the circuit meeting of the league at Cohasset, Monday.

—The marriage of Miss Mary Alice Cleary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cleary and Mr. Thomas A. Costello of Quincy will take place at the Church of the Sacred Heart next Wednesday at 6.30 p. m. A reception will follow the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 23 Keith street.

—Mrs. William McCarthy of Boston has been in town on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Adelaide Trainor of Front street.

—Mrs. Warren Hersey and two daughters of Newark, N. J. are expected in town Sunday. They come to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Mary Alice Cleary.

—The gatemen at the crossings on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. from Braintree to Plymouth have asked for an increase in pay to $1.60 a day. At present the day men receive $1.40 per day of 12 hours and the night men $1.30 for the same number of hours.

—Miss Charlotte Pinkham is home for the summer vacation from Northfield, where she has been attending school.

—Rev. William Hyde, rector of Trinity church attended the reunion Tuesday evening of the Alumni of the Episcopal Theological school of Cambridge. Rev. Mr. Hyde is also a graduate of Harvard University.

—Mrs. Frederick Roulston, Miss Mabel Roulston and George Roulston of Rumford Falls, Maine is here on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. William Buker of Liberty street.

—Charles Fox had his left hand badly crushed by a heavy stone while at work in a trench, Monday.

—Miss Nellie Phillips of Hanover is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Whitten.

—Ray Condrick goes to Brockton, Monday, where he will have a try-out with the Brockton team of the New England league.

EAST WEYMOUTH AND WEYMOUTH CENTER.

CELEBRATE FLAG DAY.

Reynolds W. R. C. 102 Holds All-Day and Evening Session in G. A. R. Hall, East Weymouth, Last Tuesday.

A flag day celebration was held in G. A. R. hall, East Weymouth, by Reynolds W. R. C. on Tuesday with an all day and an evening session.

Mrs. Agnes Baldwin, president, presided over the afternoon session. In the evening the following program in charge of Mrs. Cembra Raymond, patriotic instructor, was given:—Processional, 20 color bearers with flags; chorus, "Blest be the Tie that Binds," congregation; address, "Tribute to the Flag," Mrs. Mary E. Holbrook, P. D. P.; recitation, "Hero Soldiers," Miss Pauline Blackwell; exercise, "Float the Flag over Every Schoolhouse," Harold Lincoln, Nelson Maynard and Herman Gardner; quartet, "The Flag Song," Mrs. Mabel Vogel, Miss M. Eveline Sherman, Ralph Flint and Jos. Sherman; exercise, "Off with Your Hat when the Flag Goes By," Miss Mary McIsaac, Miss Isabelle McIsaac, Miss Clara Brassill, Raymond Blackwell, Norman Bates and Edward Lincoln; recitation, "Story of our Flag," Mrs. Estelle W. Richards; recitation, "A Mother's Reverie," Mrs. Joseph Lovell and quartette; exercises, "A Civil War Heroine," Mrs. Maria Gardner, Mrs. Mary Brassill, Mrs. Mabel Ford, Mrs. Clara Maynard, Mrs. Fannie Lincoln and Mrs. Katherine Day; choruses, "Star Spangled Banner" and "America" sung by all present.

At noon dinner was served and a banquet was served at 6.50 o'clock.

Delegations from Quincy W. R. C. and Norwell W. R. C. were present.

The committee in charge was:—Mrs. Jennie B. Morrill, Mrs. Jennie L. Bates, Mrs. Charlotte Richards, Mrs. Charles Praet, Miss Alice Derby, Mrs. Betsey Briggs, Mrs. Mary E. Holbrook, Mrs. Fannie Lincoln, Mrs. Sarah White, Mrs. Maria Thayer, Mrs. Ellen Kidder, Mrs. Alice Helbeck and Mrs. Jennie Keene.

Kearns—Murphy.

At the parochial residence of the immaculate Conception Church of East Weymouth on Wednesday evening Miss Martha Agnes Murphy, former chief operator of the central telephone exchange, became the bride of David Francis Kearns, a popular motorman of the Bay State Street Railway. The ceremony was performed at 5.30 o'clock by Rev. James W. Allison. The maid of honor was Miss Lottie Murphy, the bride's sister, and the best man was William P. Kearns, a brother of the bridegroom. The ushers were F. O. Stevens, William H. Murphy, Jr., William Shields and James Nealy.

The bride's gown was of white duchess satin, with old lace and pearl trimmings. She wore a white picture hat trimmed with ostrich plumes, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was attired in coral pink chiffon over white Japanese embroidered silk. Her white garden hat was adorned with pink roses and her bouquet was of pink rose buds.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, 114 Hawthorne street, East Weymouth, from 7.30 to 10 o'clock. In the receiving line with the couple were William H. Murphy, the bride's father, Mrs. Margaret Kearns, mother of the bridegroom, and the maid of honor and best man. An orchestra, led by Charles Burkett, played classical and popular selections. The rooms were decorated with cut flowers, potted plants and ferns, and the lawn with flags and Japanese lanterns.

Mr. and Mrs. Kearns left on a wedding trip to New York city, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., and upon their return will reside at 26 Cedar street, where they will be at home to their friends after the first of July.

Weymouth Hospital Association.

A special meeting of the Hospital Association will be held at the Town Office, East Weymouth, Friday afternoon, June 20 at 3 o'clock. Report of committee to consider ways and means for raising money for the purchase of the hospital will be given.

Daniel H. Clancy

Formerly with H. M. Ford Estate

Funeral Director and Undertaker

Residence, - 28 Vine St., Telephone 336W.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

HANCOCK STREET QUINCY CENTRE
HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE REFINED MOVING PICTURES

Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. Prices 5c, 10c, 15c. Evenings at 7.45, 10c, 15c, 25c

Seen Our New Stock Company? They're well worth coming many miles to see and hear. Each of these eleven clever artists can Sing, Dance and Act mightily pleasingly. They present light, lively Musical Comedies, lasting forty-five minutes. And an entirely new Act each half week. Storms of applause greeted their first offering "On the Banks of Loch Lomond." They're now playing "MISS PRIMM'S SCHOOL," which is a scream from start to finish. Monday, June 16th, they offer "London Cabaret," a sparkling gem of Mirth, Music and Melody. You Mustn't Miss Velocity Vaudeville Features. Also New Photo-Plays and Orchestra.

—Tickets for the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," on the lawn of Mrs. H. B. Reed, South Weymouth, Friday evening, June 20, can be procured at the store of W. M. Tirrell.—Advertisement.

—Mrs. Mary E. Bearce of Laurel street has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. William O. Alden of Brookville.

—Final examinations have been carried on at the high school this past week.

—Miss Florence Lincoln of Maple street is a member of the graduating class at Bridgewater Normal school and will be prominent in the exercises to be held next week.

—Bates opera house, Sat., June 14, pictures and vaudeville. Feature, "The Titanic," Shipwrecked in Icebergs. 10 and 15c. Big show for the holiday, June 17th, evening.—Advertisement.

—John Sheehan, the East street flag man of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., has 25 years of continuous service at that one post. He has taken 9 consecutive 3-year examinations for condition and his ear is still good for the sound of the whistle or bell, his eyes quick and sure for colors, figures and distances. His next examination will pass him into the pension class of the road for continuous and faithful service.

—Special Police Officer Charles Phillips of this town has been appointed a regular officer at Paragon Park, Nantasket for the summer.

—Louis M. Beach and Harry Vogel will represent the local order of Moose at the convention to be held in Providence next Wednesday and Thursday.

—A number of King's Daughters from this place enjoyed an auto trip to the Old Ladies' Home in Pondville last Saturday.

—Crescent Lodge, I. O. O. F., of this place, was the guest last night of Wintthrop Lodge, I. O. O. F., in its hall in North Abington.

—Mrs. Mary Owen of Adams will spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Ralston of Middle street.

—A new concrete sidewalk is being laid from J. P. Salsbury's 5 and 10 cent store to Whitman road.

—Steadfast Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., was entertained in Odd Fellows' hall in Rockland on Tuesday evening by Rose Standish Rebekah Lodge of Rockland. A banquet was served at 7 o'clock. The degree work was exemplified by the degree staff of Steadfast Lodge.

—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cann of Chard street have been entertaining relatives from Nova Scotia.

—Mrs. Michael Gorman has been confined to her home on Center street with the grip.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brett and son, Lester of Campello, former residents of this place, were in town over Sunday renewing acquaintance.

—Miss Lillian Wollever has resigned her position at Humphrey Bros. to accept one with H. K. Cushing as bookkeeper.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harrington who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Cushing, have taken up their residence in their new home at Upham's Corner.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fogarty of Grant street have opened their summer cottage at Wessagusset.

—There will be a convention held in Faith Mission hall, 28 School street, on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 17 and 18, under the auspices of the C. & M. Alliance. Speakers expected are Rev. William Franklin, Supt. of New England, Mrs. J. Chamberlain of Somerville, Miss D. D. Tilden of Brockton, Miss Alice Chamberlain will sing. Services at 10.30 a. m. and at 2, 3 and 7.45 p. m. Open air services in Commercial square at 7 p. m.

—In the Methodist church at Lovell's Corner last Sunday a joint memorial service of Crescent Lodge, I. O. O. F., Wompanock Encampment and Steadfast Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F. was held. Rev. Joseph W. Reynolds, pastor of the church, gave an address on the theme, "Benefits from Fraternity." There was choir singing with Miss Mildred G. French as organist. Solo singing by Mrs. Herbert MacFawn was a feature of the service. James A. Munroe, chaplain of Crescent Lodge, read the necrologies of the past year.

—Mr. Philip Copeland of Wollaston spent the last day of the week with Mr. Ralph Smith.

—The Ladies' Aid held a Food Sale in the vestry this (Friday) afternoon. Committee in charge: Mrs. Stephen French, Mrs. Charles White.

—Miss Susie Hawes has been the recent guest of Mr. Joseph Hawes of Dorchester.

—The monthly meeting of the Lovell's Corner Improvement Society was held in Pratt's Hall Tuesday evening. The matter of a Fourth of July celebration was discussed. A committee was appointed to make further arrangements for the day.

—Miss Edith Hall of Malden was the guest of Miss Alida Gardner Sunday.

—Mrs. C. J. Rea spent a few days this week with Mrs. George Simmons at Wessagusset.

—A number from this place attended the meeting of the Old Colony Circuit League at North Cohasset Monday evening.

LOVELL'S CORNER

—Mr. Philip Copeland of Wollaston spent the last day of the week with Mr. Ralph Smith.

—The Ladies' Aid held a Food Sale in the vestry this (Friday) afternoon. Committee in charge: Mrs. Stephen French, Mrs. Charles White.

—Miss Susie Hawes has been the recent guest of Mr. Joseph Hawes of Dorchester.

—The monthly meeting of the Lovell's Corner Improvement Society was held in Pratt's Hall Tuesday evening. The matter of a Fourth of July celebration was discussed. A committee was appointed to make further arrangements for the day.

—Miss Edith Hall of Malden was the guest of Miss Alida Gardner Sunday.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

HANCOCK STREET QUINCY CENTRE
HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE REFINED MOVING PICTURES

Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. Prices 5c, 10c, 15c. Evenings at 7.45, 10c, 15c, 25c

Seen Our New Stock Company? They're well worth coming many miles to see and hear. Each of these eleven clever artists can Sing, Dance and Act mightily pleasingly. They present light, lively Musical Comedies, lasting forty-five minutes. And an entirely new Act each half week. Storms of applause greeted their first offering "On the Banks of Loch Lomond." They're now playing "MISS PRIMM'S SCHOOL," which is a scream from start to finish. Monday, June 16th, they offer "London Cabaret," a sparkling gem of Mirth, Music and Melody. You Mustn't Miss Velocity Vaudeville Features. Also New Photo-Plays and Orchestra.

—Tickets for the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," on the lawn of Mrs. H. B. Reed, South Weymouth, Friday evening, June 20, can be procured at the store of W. M. Tirrell.—Advertisement.

—Mrs. Mary E. Bearce of Laurel street has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. William O. Alden of Brookville.

—Final examinations have been carried on at the high school this past week.

—Miss Florence Lincoln of Maple street is a member of the graduating class at Bridgewater Normal school and will be prominent in the exercises to be held next week.

—Bates opera house, Sat., June 14, pictures and vaudeville. Feature, "The Titanic," Shipwrecked in Icebergs. 10 and 15c. Big show for the holiday, June 17th, evening.—Advertisement.

—John Sheehan, the East street flag man of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., has 25 years of continuous service at that one post. He has taken 9 consecutive 3-year examinations for condition and his ear is still good for the sound of the whistle or bell, his eyes quick and sure for colors, figures and distances. His next examination will pass him into the pension class of the road for continuous and faithful service.

—Special Police Officer Charles Phillips of this town has been appointed a regular officer at Paragon Park, Nantasket for the summer.

—Louis M. Beach and Harry Vogel will represent the local order of Moose at the convention to be held in Providence next Wednesday and Thursday.

—A number of King's Daughters from this place enjoyed an auto trip to the Old Ladies' Home in Pondville last Saturday.

—Crescent Lodge, I. O. O. F., of this place, was the guest last night of Wintthrop Lodge, I. O. O. F., in its hall in North Abington.

—Mrs. Mary Owen of Adams will spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Ralston of Middle street.

—A new concrete sidewalk is being laid from J. P. Salsbury's 5 and 10 cent store to Whitman road.

—Steadfast Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., was entertained in Odd Fellows' hall in Rockland on Tuesday evening by Rose Standish Rebekah Lodge of Rockland. A banquet was served at 7 o'clock. The degree work was exemplified by the degree staff of Steadfast Lodge.

—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cann of Chard street have been entertaining relatives from Nova Scotia.

—Mrs. Michael Gorman has been confined to her home on Center street with the grip.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brett and son, Lester of Campello, former residents of this place, were in town over Sunday renewing acquaintance.

—Miss Lillian Wollever has resigned her position at Humphrey Bros. to accept one with H. K. Cushing as bookkeeper.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harrington who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Cushing, have taken up their residence in their new home at Upham's Corner.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fogarty of Grant street have opened their summer cottage at Wessagusset.

—There will be a convention held in Faith Mission hall, 28 School street, on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 17 and 18, under the auspices of the C. & M. Alliance. Speakers expected are Rev. William Franklin, Supt. of New England, Mrs. J. Chamberlain of Somerville, Miss D. D. Tilden of Brockton, Miss Alice Chamberlain will sing. Services at 10.30 a. m. and at 2, 3 and 7.45 p. m. Open air services in Commercial square at 7 p. m.

—In the Methodist church at Lovell's Corner last Sunday a joint memorial service of Crescent Lodge, I. O. O. F., Wompanock Encampment and Steadfast Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F. was held. Rev. Joseph W. Reynolds, pastor of the church, gave an address on the theme, "Benefits from Fraternity." There was choir singing with Miss Mildred G. French as organist. Solo singing by Mrs. Herbert MacFawn was a feature of the service. James A. Munroe, chaplain of Crescent Lodge, read the necrologies of the past year.

—Mr. Philip Copeland of Wollaston spent the last day of the week with Mr. Ralph Smith.

—The Ladies' Aid held a Food Sale in the vestry this (Friday) afternoon. Committee in charge: Mrs. Stephen French, Mrs. Charles White.

—Miss Susie Hawes has been the recent guest of Mr. Joseph Hawes of Dorchester.

—The monthly meeting of the Lovell's Corner Improvement Society was held in Pratt's Hall Tuesday evening. The matter of a Fourth of July celebration was discussed. A committee was appointed to make further arrangements for the day.

—Miss Edith Hall of Malden was the guest of Miss Alida Gardner Sunday.

—Mrs. C. J. Rea spent a few days this week with Mrs. George Simmons at Wessagusset.

—A number from this place attended the meeting of the Old Colony Circuit League at North Cohasset Monday evening.

OUR GROCERY LINE IS COMPLETE

We also carry a full line of
Seeds, Farming Tools, Paints, Oils and Varnishes
GIVE US A TRY; YOU'LL COME AGAIN
EVERETT LOUD,
Jackson Square, East Weymouth
TELEPHONE CONNECTION

Vaughan's Daylight Store.

AGENCY FOR Ladies' Home Journal,
Transfer Designs.
Bates Block - Washington Square

"Midsummer Night's Dream"

An Entrancing Spectacle.
Presented by a selected company of players, on the lawn of Mr. H. B. REED, South Weymouth,
Friday Evening, June 20, at 7.45.
Under the auspices of the Village Study Club. The original Mendelssohn music by an orchestra of 15 musicians and a chorus of High School girls. Miss Madeline Gale, soloist; Mr. James W. Calderwood, director. Dancing by a full corps de ballet. ADMISSION, 50 CENTS. Seats will be reserved for all purchasing tickets before Friday noon, and will be held only until 7.45 o'clock. If stormy Friday, will be postponed to first fair night. Carriage entrance from Main street only.

Weymouth Gazette

AND TRANSCRIPT

WEYMOUTH, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1913.

VOL. XLVII. NO. 14.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GARDEN FETE.

Fine Weather and Extra Large Crowd Gathers at Benefit for Old Ladies' Home in Pondville.

With excellent weather conditions, a large audience and a fine entertainment, the second annual garden fete under the auspices of the King's Daughters Union of Weymouth, held on the grounds of Robert S. Hoffman in East Weymouth on Wednesday afternoon and evening, proved to be a most decided success from start to finish.

The grounds were beautifully decorated with flags and long strings of various colored lights furnished by the Weymouth Light and Power Co.

Situated about the grounds were sales tables and booths and all during the afternoon and evening these tables and booths were most liberally patronized by the large gathering.

The several departments were in charge of the following circles of King's Daughters of the town:

Ice cream table, Pansy circle—Mrs. Jessie Buffum, Mrs. Charles Chubbuck Jr., Mrs. Charles B. Denbroeder, Miss Alida Denton, Mrs. Fred Doucette, Mrs. William Hodges, Miss Alma Ford, Miss Mary Garey, Mrs. Lawrence Drew, Mrs. Robert Raymond, Mrs. Fred Garey, Mrs. Chester Hainan and Miss Georgia Cushing.

Delectatess booth, Inasmuch circle—Miss Susie Raymond, chairman; Mrs. Weston Cushing, Mrs. Winslow Tirrell, Mrs. John F. Cushing, Mrs. George Drew, Mrs. C. Will Bailey, Mrs. Minot Garey, Mrs. Charles B. Cushing, Mrs. Frank Coffin, Mrs. Silas Totman, Mrs. Alonzo Tirrell, Mrs. Charles Humphrey, Mrs. LaForest Lincoln, Mrs. Elvin Raymond, Mrs. Arthur Raymond, Mrs. Elmer Leonard, Mrs. Edson Fisher, Mrs. Herbert K. Cushing, Miss Martha Hawes and Miss Cora Bates.

Beverages, Golden Rule circle—Mrs. Arthur Blanchard, Mrs. Will Denbroeder, Mrs. Louis Denbroeder, Mrs. Edward Hunt, Mrs. Edward Orr, Mrs. Arthur Cortell, Mrs. Frank Sylvester, Mrs. Parker Tirrell, Mrs. Henry Tilden, Mrs. Clara Mitchell, Miss Josie Cummings, Miss Florence Earle and Mrs. Joseph Sampson.

Fancy and useful articles, Whatsoever circle—Mrs. P. T. Pearson, Mrs. B. S. Lovell, Mrs. Joseph Cushing, Mrs. N. D. Canterbury, Mrs. Edwin Clapp, Mrs. T. J. Evans, Mrs. Fred Hunt, Mrs. Henry Humphrey, Mrs. Edward Haskell, Mrs. Charles Harrington, Mrs. James B. Jones, Miss Annie Jones, Mrs. Frank D. Thayer, Mrs. Frank Beals, Mrs. Geo. A. Miles, Mrs. George W. Baker and Mrs. W. M. Prime.

Candy table, Opportunity circle—Mrs. George L. Bates, chairman, Mrs. William Ames, Mrs. Otis Bates, Mrs. Winthrop Bates, Mrs. George Bass, Mrs. Melzar Burrell, Mrs. Eugene Carter, Mrs. O. S. Chandler, Mrs. Arthur Cunningham, Mrs. John McIsaac, Mrs. William Wheaton, Mrs. B. Frank Lane, Jr., Mrs. Virginia Whiton, Miss Jennie Bearce, Miss Evelyn Burrell, Mrs. James Vining and Mrs. George Young.

Japanese tea garden, Unity circle—Mrs. Thomas A. Watson, Mrs. Paul Garvin, Mrs. Herbert Walsh and Mrs. Baxter Haywood.

Aut Dinah's grab table, Watchful circle—Mrs. Betsey Briggs, Mrs. Everett Bates, Mrs. Sarah Savage, Mrs. Arthur Fearing and Mrs. Sarah White.

The prevailing colors in the decorations of the several booths were pink, blue and white, with many cut flowers and potted plants in evidence.

In the afternoon the special feature was the children's pageant, "The Good Piper," presented under the able direction of Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman who arranged and personally directed the affair from start to finish. The parts were taken by over a hundred children from all parts of the town.

Entertainments in the spacious barn were carried on all during the day and evening, and a very entertaining feature of the evening's program was a band concert by the Stetson Shoe Co. band of this town.

The affair was given under the personal charge of Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, assisted by the officers of the Union and the King's Daughter societies in town and all deserve the greatest of credit for the highly enjoyable and profitable event.

H. S. Class, '88 Reunion.

The Class of '88 Weymouth North High will hold their 25th anniversary reunion at the home of Mrs. W. E. Thayer, 154 Commercial street, Weymouth, Saturday afternoon, June 21st. The former principal of the High School, F. H. Beede is expected to be present. He is at present Superintendent of Schools in Few Haven Conn.

CORNER STONE LAID.

Officer of the Grand Lodge of A. F. and A. M. of Massachusetts Perform Ceremony.

The corner stone of the new Masonic Temple at East Weymouth was laid last Saturday afternoon in the presence of a large number of people who had gathered from all parts of Weymouth and other places.

Orphan's Hope Lodge which was to take part in the exercises was opened at 1:30 in Oddfellow's building and at 2:30 received the officers of the Grand Lodge and a large delegation of visiting brothers from other lodges.

A line was formed by the marshal, Wor. Bro. Leavitt W. Bates and the visiting officials were escorted to the site of the new building where the following exercises took place:

Anthen, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help," by the Weber Quartette.

Request of the chairman of the building committee, Bro. Henry P. Tilden.

Response by the grand master, Most Worshipful Everett C. Benton.

Reading of Scripture and Prayer by Grand Chaplain Rev. Edward A. Horton.

Reading of contents of box by Acting Grand Treasurer R. W. Henry A. Belcher.

Libations of Corn and Wine, D. D. Grand Warden R. W. Herbert E. Fletcher.

Libation of Oil, Acting Grand Warden R. W. William H. H. Soule; selections by the quartette.

Invocation by Grand Chaplain W. Rev. R. Perry Bush.

Presentation of toots, Bro. J. Sumner Fowler.

Address, R. W. Charles T. Gallagher.

Proclamation by Grand Marshal Wor. Geor. D. Thatcher, bugle accompaniment Bro. Harry M. Stetson.

Benediction by the Grand Chaplain and the work of the day was done with hopes that the dedication will take place in the early autumn.

A. O. H. MEMORIAL.

Floral Tributes and Other Honors Paid to Departed Members.

Memorial Day was observed last Sunday by Division 6, of Weymouth Landing, William Shanshan, president; Division 9 East Weymouth, James A. Knox, president; Division 14 of South Weymouth, John F. Welch president; Division 15, of North Weymouth, Joseph E. Buckley, president and the Ladies Auxiliaries 1, 2, 9 and 21 connected with the four divisions. Special services were held and the graves of 95 former members were decorated in St. Francis Xavier cemetery.

Dennis F. Slattery, State Secretary had charge of the program. At 2:30 the four divisions met at Weymouth Center and under escort of the Stetson Shoe band of 25 pieces, marched through Middle street to the cemetery where prayers for the dead were recited by Rev. James W. Allison of the Church of the Immaculate Conception of East Weymouth and Chaplain of the A. O. H.

There was a chorus under the direction of Mrs. John W. Hanley, organist at the Church of the Sacred Heart in Weymouth. The members of the chorus were Miss Annie Knox, Miss Florence Kelley, Miss Elizabeth Lynch, Miss Helen Hanley, Miss Mary O'Rourke, Miss Virginia Kierney and Miss Eleanor Daley, sopranos; Miss Nora O'Rourke, Mrs. May Melville, Miss Polly Daley, Miss Annie O'Connor, and Miss Mary Gaillardet, altos; John W. Hanley, William H. Wall, Joseph Fennell and John Ronan, tenors; William Whyte, James A. Knox, Henry Kennedy, Charlie Sheehy, Peter F. Hughes and Edward Sheehy, basses.

The chorus sang "Pray For the Dead," "DeProfundis," "Thy Will Be Done" and "Nearer My God To Thee."

The memorial address was by Rev. Edward Fitzgerald of Clinton, State Chaplain of the A. O. H. Rev. John B. Holland of the Church of the Sacred Heart of Weymouth, Rev. Maurice Lynch of the Church of the Immaculate Conception of East Weymouth and Rev. Dennis J. Crimmins of the St. Francis Xavier church of South Weymouth also took part in the program.

TUFTS LIBRARY.

The exhibit from the Library Art Club consists of pictures in Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle and will remain until June 30. This set contains Part IV: Dutch: Ter Borch to Ruissdael.

New Idea in Education.

The moving picture has been introduced as a permanent feature of the German schools. Films for courses of bacteriology, anatomy and biology are already available in that country.

VACATION FOR SCHOOLS.

Graduation Exercises at Weymouth High School Yesterday End School Year.

At twelve o'clock last night, with the last waltz on the order, at the reception of the graduating class of 1913 in the High school hall, East Weymouth, the curtain went down on another school year in Weymouth and without doubt, the past ten months have completed one of the most successful years in the history of our public schools. Unofficial reports state that nearly twenty-two hundred pupils moved on to higher grades and further education.

As usual the main events of the season occurred at the High school where forty-five pupils received their diplomas and made merry yesterday afternoon and evening. Good weather prevailed and a record breaking gathering was in attendance at the exercises of the day.

Those who were not favored with reserved seats began to congregate early in order to obtain the best of the unreserved seats. The first group to enter the hall arrived about one thirty and from that time until two-thirty, the time of starting the program, the ushers had their hands full securing seats for the constant flow of humanity into the spacious hall.

At two-thirty-five, when Miss Angelina Hertz of the teaching corps of the school at the piano, struck the opening chord of the selection by which the undergraduates and graduates were to march in, every seat in the two ante rooms, and many were standing at the back and sides of the hall.

A new idea adopted this year was the novelty of having the undergraduates march in from both sides of the hall and thus save time in seating the two hundred odd pupils. The plans worked very well indeed and the usual delay in getting settled was done away with very effectively.

The first class to enter the hall was the class of 1916 with Urban R. Nolan, the senior class marshal at the head. Following these, came the sophomores and juniors. After the junior class had taken their positions at the sides of the stage, Mr. Nolan marched to room 4 and escorted the class of 1913 to their seats on the stage, where they were immediately given a round of applause from the large audience gathered there to witness the passing on of another class of Weymouth High school.

The forty-five members grouped on the stage made a most imposing picture indeed, the young ladies all charmingly gowned in white and the young men in their dark suits and white neckties while the artistic decorations of bunting, potted plants and cut flowers, added much to the beauty of the scene.

After the pupils had become settled for the afternoon's events and the audience had quieted down the following interesting program was carried out without a break in the entire card:

Processional Rev. William W. Rose
Invocation, "Light Cavalry" (Suppe)
High School Orchestra
Salutatory address
Fred Brueton Philbrick
Chorus, "Pilgrims' Chorus" (Wagner)
Entire School

Essay, "The Shepherd Home" (Armstrong)
Girls Glee Club. Solo by Hester Swan
Essay, "Kentucky Home" (Noyes)
Cornet solo, "The Village Blacksmith" (Hoyes)
Entire school. Solo by Alice O'Connor

Presentation of Diplomas
Class Ode
Benediction

A new departure this year was the doing away with the address by an outside speaker and the substituting of essays by two members of the class, who were within a very few points in honor of the two highest on the list. The new idea seemed to receive the approval of the audience, the change being appreciated by all.

Fred Philbrick of South Weymouth gave a most brilliant salutatory address, taking for his subject "The Value of Education."

The valedictory address by Miss Edith Cushing Bicknell was a very fine piece of work, showing extremely careful study and great knowledge of her subject, which was "Success." Miss Bicknell's charming personality added a great deal to the brilliancy of the address and like Mr. Philbrick, she was accorded a tremendous ovation by the appreciative gathering at the close of her part in the program.

The essay on "The High Cost of Living," by Miss Martha Josephine Tirrell of East Weymouth was highly applauded, as was also the one on "Civic Opportunities of Women" by Miss Alice Louise Bentley of Weymouth Landing.

The chorus by the Girls' Glee Club of the school was pleasingly rendered and the solo part by Miss Hester Swan was roundly applauded.

The cantata "The Village Blacksmith" by the entire school with a solo by Miss Alice O'Connor was accorded much merited applause, Miss O'Connor's beautiful singing being especially delightful to the large audience.

A decided feature of the program was the orchestral selection "Light Cavalry" by the High school orchestra. This orchestra formed last year among the students, has become a decided factor in the school life. The orchestra was composed of the following artists: Miss Mildred Newcomb, piano; Norman A. Walker, Miss Catherine Pratt, Miss Jeannette Shaw, Miss May Hanley and Ralph Hollis, violins; Frank Vender and Ralph Young, cornets and Norman Hunt, trombone.

Frank Vender, a member of the orchestra gave a cornet solo "Kentucky Home" in his usual high class way and was rewarded by loud applause from all parts of the hall. The musical parts of the program were in charge of J. W. Calderwood, supervisor of music in Weymouth's public schools.

At the conclusion of the singing of the cantata, came the presentation of diplomas, the certificate for which the forty-five members of 1913 have labored on unceasingly for, during the past four years. The honor of presenting the precious documents fell this year to P. T. Pearson, Superintendent of Weymouth's public schools. Mr. Pearson made a few fitting remarks and then settled down to his contract of reading correctly the forty-five names of the fortunate graduates.

A feature of all High school graduation exercises is the singing by the graduating class, of the ode written by some member of the class. This year's ode was written by John Thomas Dizer, one of East Weymouth's promising young men, who has been very prominent in school activities the past four years. The words of the ode are as follows:

Thy power, almighty God, we know,
Be Thou our bulwark strong and true
Teach us as through our lives we go
Thy will to do.

Let us on every step of life
Unto each other helpful be
And launched upon the sea of strife
Turn to Thy love.

Wherever Fortune's voice may lead
If, heedless from Thy path we stray,
Yet, Lord, in every word and deed
Show us Thy way.

Let us, O Shepherd, heed Thy call
While the short course of life is run;
Then as the sunset shadows fall
Thy will be done.

The Benediction by Mr. Rose closed the program and the audience hastened to their homes to partake of hurried suppers and then the trip back to the High school was begun, in order to be on hand for the evening's exercises.

The graduating class of 1913 numbers forty-five, being one of the largest classes to complete the four years' course of the school. The members of the class are as follows:

Bentley, Alice Louise
Bicknell, Edith Cushing
Carlton, Una Harlan
Denlinger, Mary Frances
Doble, Ethelyn Louise
Field, Helen Johnson
Griffin, Mary Isabelle
Hanley, May Heustis
Higgins, Irene Gertrude
Hunt, Madeline Thayer
Kelley, Agnes Rita
Leavitt, Dorothy Grace
Lincoln, Helen Albigan
MacDonald, Eva Lillian Magee, Mildred Augusta
McGrory, Miriam Patricia
Newcomb, Mildred Winsor
O'Connor, Alice Moore
Richardson, Velma May
Rix, Adella Gertrude
Swan, Hester

Tirrell, Martha Josephine
Trainer, Sarah Adelaide Bates, Herman Malcolm
Burrell, Harold Freeman
Dizer, John Thomas
Eddy, Alanson Atkins
Fearing, Allen Clarence
Gardner, Joseph Elbridge
Hayland, Roland Henry
Healey, Robert Clifton
Lyons, Richard Thomas
McLaughlin, Joseph Henry
Melville, John William
Murphy, Carlton Edward Nolan, Urban Raphael
Philbrick, Fred Brueton
Reid, William Russell
Smith, Bowdoin Bradlee
Sweeney, James Cronin
Tonry, James, Edward
Wagner, Otto Tirrell
Webber, George Albert

SPECIAL CERTIFICATE
Hanley, Helen

Top—Edith C. Bicknell, Fred B. Philbrick.
Bottom—Martha J. Tirrell, Alice L. Bentley

Much favorable comment was noted during the day in regard to the very artistic decoration of the main auditorium, the halls and stairways. The decorating was in charge of the junior class of the school and the class and the decorating committee are to be congratulated on the fine results obtained. Green and white bunting, cut flowers and potted plants were used in the work and the railings on the stairways were tastefully wound with bunting.

This year's class have been very fortunate in having a bustling staff of officers, who have "boomed" the class in every way the past year. These officers are: President, Urban R. Nolan; Vice President, Harold F. Burrell; Secretary, Miss Alice Bentley and Treasurer, Miss Martha J. Tirrell.

At five-fifteen o'clock, after the pupils had recovered from the excitement of the afternoon events, the line was formed for the march to the gymnasium where a delicious banquet had been prepared by Bates & Humphrey, caterers of East Weymouth.

The menu consisted of cold roast turkey, lobster and chicken salad, strawberries and cream, assorted ices, assorted nuts, rolls, coffee and punch.

At the conclusion of the repast, the class president, Urban R. Nolan called the gathering to order and with a few well chosen remarks introduced Herman Malcolm Bates as class historian. Mr. Bates gave a most interesting paper on the history of the 1913 class and then Miss Helen Johnson Field and Henry Louis Nolan were called upon for the class prophecies. Both Miss Field and Mr. Nolan prophesied great futures for the members of the class and it is safe to say that if all turn out as predicted yesterday afternoon, we shall find some of the members of the Class of 1913 in very extraordinary and amusing positions in the future.

The arranging for the banquet was under the direction of a committee composed of John T. Dizer, chairman; Robert C. Healey, Miss Miriam P. McGrory, Allen C. Fearing, Miss Adella Rix, Joseph H. McLaughlin and Mildred Magee.

After the prophecies had been read and discussed and laughed over, preparations were started for the evening's chain of events. The members of the class who were to enact parts in the plays were corralled "behind the scenes" to prepare for the last grand performance, while other members of the class strolled about the school building awaiting the final round of festivities with keen anticipation and enjoyment.

As early as seven o'clock people began to gather in order to secure first class seats for the evening's entertainment and from that time until eight o'clock the corps of ushers, consisting of Frank Rand and Ralph Greene of the Freshmen class; Antony Cassesse and Norman Dizer of the class of 1915 and Henry Dwyer and Parker Whitte of the Juniors; was kept busy escorting the many score of people to seats.

From seven forty-five until eight the class held a reception. At a few moments after eight the class with the class marshal at the head marched in and took their places in the special block of seats reserved for their use. When the class became seated the curtain went up for the opening act of the first of the two plays of the evening's program.

"Mrs. Oakley's Telephone" was presented in two acts as follows:

SYNOPSIS.

Act. I. Scene—Drawing room in Oakley residence
Time—Morning

Act. II. Scene—The same Time—Evening of the same day

CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Mrs. Oakley, a bride Mildred Newcomb
Constance, her friend Hester Swan
Mary, the cook Frances Denlinger
Miss Newcomb made a charming bride and carried out her part extremely well indeed. Miss Swan was a great success as a friend of the bride, while Miss Denlinger was a decided hit as the cook.

While the scenery was being shifted Miss Mary Hanley entertained with mandolin solos, which were highly applauded by the appreciative audience.

The second play presented was entitled "Miss Civilization" with the synopsis and cast of characters as follows:

SYNOPSIS.

Scene—Dining room in the country house of James K. Gardner on Long Island.
Time—Evening.

CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Alice Gardner, daughter of James K. Gardner, president of the L. I. & W. Railroad Alice O'Connor "Uncle Joseph Hatch," alias "Gentleman Joe," William Reid "Brek" Meakin, alias "Reddy, the Kid," Richard Lyons Harry Hayes, alias "Grand Stand Harry," Urban Nolan Captain Lucas, chief of police James Sweeney Policemen, Engineers.

All the parts in this one act comedy were very well taken and the clever acting and style of play kept the gathering in a continual uproar from start to finish.

At the close of the performance the junior class boys immediately got busy and cleared the floor for the final event of the day, the annual dance of the graduation exercises. The dancing was in charge of a committee consisting of Carlton E. Murphy, chairman; Miss Madeline T. Hunt, James E. Tonry, Miss Eva L. McDonald and Miss Sarah A. Trainor. The annual grand march was a pretty affair indeed and was led this year by Urban Nolan with Miss Alice Bentley. They were followed by Harold Burrell with Miss Martha Tirrell and about two hundred couples. At the close of the grand march a well arranged order of twelve dances was begun, with all enjoying themselves to the utmost.

Dickson's orchestra of five pieces furnished music for the dancing and their up-to-date program of selections was very pleasing to all the many dancers.

During intermission ice cream was served in Room 9 by Mr. Beane and corps of assistants.

At twelve o'clock the strains of "Home Sweet Home" floated dreamily out through the building, farewells were said and the merry throng left for their various homes in special cars, autos, carriages and on foot, and silence reigned supreme in the schools of Weymouth.

The graduation of the Class of 1913 of Weymouth High School is now a matter of history, and as a finale to the great and glorious graduation season, we wish every member of the Class of 1913 the greatest of success in the coming years.

HAYWARD BROTHERS
Carpenters and Builders :::
 QUINCY AVENUE,
 East Braintree.
 P.O. Address, Weymouth.

WEYMOUTH
Savings Bank.

CHARLES A. HAYWARD, President.
 CHARLES T. CHANE, Treasurer.
 VICE PRESIDENTS:
 Francis H. Cowing, Henry A. Nash.

BOARD OF INVESTMENTS:
 CHARLES A. HAYWARD, FRANCIS H. COWING,
 HENRY A. NASH, EDWARD W. HUNT,
 WALTER F. SANBORN.

Bank Hours—9 to 12 A. M., 1:30 to 5 P. M.
 6:30 to 9 Monday Evenings, and 9 to 12 A. M.
 Saturdays.
 Deposits placed on interest on the First Monday
 of January, April, July and October.

THE EAST WEYMOUTH
Savings Bank.

President. W. H. PRATT
 Vice-Presidents. T. H. Emerson,
 E. M. Carter.
 Treasurer, John A. Raymond
 Clerk, John A. MacFausn

BOARD OF INVESTMENTS:
 W. A. Drake, W. H. Pratt,
 T. H. Emerson, F. B. Cushing,
 BRADFORD HAWES, EDWARD M. CARTER,
 EUGENE M. CARTER.
 Dividends payable on the 10th of April
 and October.
 Deposits placed on interest on the 10th
 Jan., April, July and Oct.

BANK HOURS DAILY,
 From 9 to 12 A. M., and 2 to 5 P. M.,
 excepting Saturdays, when the hours will be from 9 A. M. to 12 M. only. Mondays 7 to 8:30 p. m. for deposits only.

GRANITE
TRUST COMPANY
 QUINCY, MASS.
 Successor to
National Granite Bank

THEOPHILUS KING, Pres.
 H. P. CLAPIN, Cashier.

General Banking Business transacted.
 Liberal Accommodations to Business men.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT,
 ONLY $5.00 A YEAR.

AMERICAN EXPRESS CHEQUES for sale

SOUTH WEYMOUTH
SAVINGS BANK
 Incorporated March 6, 1868

OFFICERS 1913:
 President - R. WALLACE HUNT.
 Vice-Presidents, ELLIS J. PITCHER,
 ALMON B. HAYMOND.
 Treasurer, FRED T. BARNES.

BANK HOURS:
 9 to 12 A. M.; 2 to 4 P. M. Also Mondays, 7 to 9
 P. M. Saturdays, 9 to 12 A. M.
 Deposits go on interest second Wednesday of January, April, July and October.
 Dividends payable on and after the second Wednesday of January and July.

FIRST
NATIONAL BANK.
 South
 Weymouth,
 Mass.
 Fogg Building, Columbian Square.

CAPITAL, $100,000. Surplus, $30,000

DIRECTORS:
 EDWARD E. NEVIN, President.
 EDWARD E. HASTINGS, Vice-President.
 J. H. STETSON, Cashier.
 ALLEN B. VINING, GORDON WILLIS,
 CHARLES H. PRATT, THERON L. TIRRELL.

Banking Hours: 9 to 12 A. M.; 2 to 4 P. M.
 Saturdays, 9 to 12 A. M.

South Shore
Co-operative
Bank.

MEETINGS First Monday of Each Month.
 At 9 Commercial Street,
 at 7:30 P. M.

Money to Loan at Each Meeting on Mortgages of Real Estate.

For information, or Loans between the meetings, apply to

CHAS. G. JORDAN, Sec'y-Treas.
 Weymouth, Mass.

Following Are a Few of the Items
 Which Appeared in the Gazette
 Years Ago This Week.

FORTYSIX YEARS AGO.
 A meeting of citizens was called by the cemetery committee at Lincoln hall Monday evening last to consider the matter of getting a new hearse. A committee of four, Charles Blanchard, John O. Fay, W. T. Hunt and Levi W. Hobart was chosen to solicit subscriptions and purchase a hearse, if sufficient money is raised.

A collection was taken in the different churches in town last Sabbath to aid in purchasing a musical instrument for the religious interest at Lovells' Corner. The amount obtained was $175 which produced a fine Mason and Hamlin organ.

North Weymouth Fire District.—At a meeting held last week to devise means for protection against fire, it was voted to instruct the Board of Engineers to procure a hand engine, fire annihilators, hook and ladder or other apparatus, as they deemed preferable.

TWENTYTWO YEARS AGO.
 The thermometer at E. Nash's drug store registered 96 in the shade Monday afternoon and 98 Tuesday at the same hour.

Master Chas. E. Hunt of Weymouth and Master Edward Sampson of North
 Weymouth, went to Tufts college yesterday to take the preliminary examinations for admission to the freshman class.

Married in Frankfort, Mo., June 17, at the residence of John W. Seavey by Rev.
 B. B. Merrill, Rev. Daniel Evans of East
 Weymouth and Miss Adelaide S. Ames of Frankfort.

The graduating exercises of the South high school will be held in Fogg's opera house next Friday evening. Owing to the large number of graduates, the largest in the history of the school, the exercises will begin at 7:30 o'clock instead of 7:45 as formerly.

TWENTYSIX YEARS AGO.
 Great pond water is being put into residences of persons in North Weymouth, who at the outset of the enterprise would "never, no never" take the water, but have since been soundly converted and have decided to take water.

The graduation exercises of the North high school will take place Thursday,
 June 30, probably at Reynolds hall, East Weymouth. The committee state that there will be no presentation of flowers this year upon the stage.

One of the most serious conflagrations
 South Weymouth has ever had, broke out in Columbian square about 2 o'clock Monday morning. The fire started in the livery stable on the old Rogers estate, occupied by Wm. Perry and owned by Louis A.
 Cook. Before the hose company got well to work the stable was totally destroyed and seven horses perished in the flames and a number of carriages and harnesses were also lost.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.
 When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
 F. J. CHENEY & Toledo, O.
 Sold by Druggists, 75c.
 Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation

Had Her Instructions.

Mrs. Subbubs (to neighbor's child)
 —"Oh, this is the dozen of fresh eggs
 I asked your mother to send over.
 How much are they now, Mary?"
 The Child—"Please'm, it's 40 cents.
 But mother says if you grumble, it's 35."

Makes Quite a Difference.

Mason—"Do you think it's unlucky to have 13 at table?" Brown—"Not if the thirteenth is paying for the dinner."

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER.
 PIANOS FOR SALE
 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
 Telephone 1153-M Quincy. 27

TOWN CLERK'S OFFICE

East Weymouth Savings Bank.

OFFICE HOURS, 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m.
 At all other hours at Residence on Hillcrest

Road, opp. Catholic Church.
JOHN A. RAYMOND, Town Clerk

Hints for the Season.

Don't find a secluded spot and go bathing alone until you can swim.
 Don't lose an opportunity to learn to swim.
 Don't fool with some comrade in the water who can't swim but just a little.
 Don't dive from an elevated position unless you know the depth of water and all about the bottom.
 Don't remain undressed after coming out of the water.
 Don't go in more than once a day, especially in fresh water.
 Don't lie about it when you go home;
 if you have been in and your mother asks about it, say yes.
 Don't make the boy lie by putting too many restrictions on him. He wants to swim, he ought to swim and he will swim.

One Way to Catch a Fox.

If you are particularly anxious to do a little surreptitious fox catching try the following. It is the sage of Lupton who speaks in his "Thousand Notable Things": "Anoint the soles of your shoes with a piece of fat swine's flesh as broad as your hand, newly toasted or a little broiled at the fire, when you go out of the wood homeward. And in every of your steps cast a piece of the liver of a swine roasted and dipped in honey, and draw after your back the dead carcass of a cat."
 Your fox cannot resist all this, but "be sure to have a man nigh thee with bow and shafts to shoot at him, or by some other means to hit him." Good fun this for a country house party at loose ends.—London Spectator.

HABITS ARE TYRANTS.

Changing Them Too Suddenly Is Apt to Produce Bad Results.

Those who form sudden resolutions to break off their habits, no matter whether they are good or bad, may be laying themselves open to an illness.

A man who for the last twelve years has made a rule of spending one week of his holiday each year in bed departed from the custom last year and for the first time throughout that period had an illness which kept him from business. The human body can shape itself to practically any conditions or habits, but if those conditions are discontinued suddenly one is almost sure to be ill.

In fact, it is the opinion of a well known physician that any kind of habit is bound to "hit back" if it be discontinued too abruptly. No man can suddenly switch off meat to a vegetable diet, for instance, and remain well.

Here is a common instance of how the body adapts itself to environment.
 A man is kept to his bed for two or three weeks. When he gets up he finds it difficult to walk for the first day or two. He puts down this trouble to weakness. But his legs are not really weaker. It is simply that their mechanism is upset.

De Quincey is a notable example of the way habits become chains, which, if broken, bring illness and often death.
 The famous writer had accustomed himself to taking four ounces of laudanum a day. He would certainly have died if he stopped this daily dose.—
 London Mirror.

OLD TIME TRAINED NURSES.

Removing and Burying the Dead Was Part of Their Duties.

In their "History of Nursing" the authors, Miss Nutting and Miss Dock, quote from an article written in 1764 which gives an insight into what was required of the trained nurse in the eighteenth century. The article says:

"This occupation is as important for humanity as its functions are low and repugnant. All persons are not adapted to it, and the heads of hospitals ought to be difficult to please, for the lives of patients may depend upon their choice of applicants. The nurse should be patient, mild, compassionate. She should console the sick, foresee their needs and relieve their tedium.

The domestic duties of the nurse are to light the fires in the wards and keep them going, to carry and distribute nourishment, to accompany the surgeons and doctors on their rounds and afterward to remove all dressings, etc.; to sweep the halls and wards and keep the persons of the patients and their surroundings clean, to empty all vessels and change the patients' linen, to prevent noise and quarrelling and disturbances, to notify the steward of everything they see which is wrong, to carry out the dead and bury them, to light the lamps in the evening and visit the sick during the night and to watch them continually, giving them every aid which their state requires and treating them with kindness and consideration."

How a Stone Varies.
 A stone is usually considered to be fourteen pounds, but a butcher's stone of dead meat is only eight pounds, a stone of cheese is sixteen pounds, a stone of glass five pounds, while a stone of hemp runs to thirty-two pounds.—London Standard.

An Impression.

"I think I've made an impression on that young lady."
 "Why?"
 "She's trying to remember who it is I remind her of."—Detroit Free Press.

Paradoxical Veracity.

James— I'm so sore from running that I can't stand or sit. John—If you're telling the truth you're lying.—
 Princeton Tiger.

Are we to mark this day with a white or a black stone?—Cervantes.

BIRDS AND COLORS.

Pigeons and Chickens Can See What Is Invisible to Man.

It has been slowly brought to our understanding that the world is not the same to all creatures, and probably no experiments have tended more to make this clear than those on the color sense of chickens, pigeons, owls and kestrels.

Hungry chickens and pigeons were first kept an hour in a bright room for them to become accustomed to the light. The floor was then spread with a smooth black cloth, evenly covered with grains of wheat, a strong spectrum was thrown on it from the ceiling and the hungry animals were turned loose. They picked the wheat first from the bright red, then the ultra red, next the yellow and finally the green.
 They touched nothing in the blue and violet because they saw nothing; but, on the other hand, they saw the grains in the ultra red that were invisible to the men.

This proved that for chickens and pigeons the spectrum is shortened at the violet end of short wave length and extended at the red end of long wave length. This is the effect one might expect from wearing orange colored glasses and demonstrated that fowls see through such spectacles in the form of yellow and orange oil globules embedded in the light sensitive layer.

To kestrels and buzzards the brightest zone was the green instead of the red, the blue being visible. To owls the colors were as men see them.—
 London Mail.

HUNS AND MAGYARS.

Legend Says Nimrod, Noah's Grandson, Founded the Race.

Among the many interesting bits of history which are included in "Old Homes of New Americans," Dr. Francis E. Clark's study of the original life and surroundings of our immigrants, is a brief account of the traditional origin of the Huns and Magyars.

According to this story, Nimrod, grandson of Noah, was the founder of the race. His wife, Eneh, bore him two sons, Hunyor and Magyar. These two brothers—who were great hunters like their father, who has given his name to every expert user of the arrow, spear and gun since his day—while chasing a doe in the forests of the Caucasus, were led to move westward and found a country rich in fertile meadows and green fields.

The doe vanished from before their eyes, for she had evidently been invented by the mythmakers to lead the brothers into their new domain, and afterward, we are told, the progeny of Hunyor settled beyond the Volga, while the sons and grandsons of Magyar settled about the river Don and were known thereafter as Don-Magyars.

However much or however little true history is found in this maze of myths, the names have persisted through all the centuries. The Huns devastated Europe in the early centuries, and "Magyar" is still the most honored name by which the people of Hungary choose to be known.

To See the Back of Your Eye.

Behind the eye, what is called the retina, is lined with branching blood vessels, and a curious but perfectly simple experiment will enable you to see these. Place yourself in a dark room, opposite a dark colored wall; then light a candle and, holding it in your hand, move it up and down before your eyes, all the time looking not at the candle, but at the wall beyond. After a little practice you will see appear on the wall a great branching figure in black on a reddish surface. What you are looking at is the shadow of these blood vessels at the back of your own eye. Perhaps the most curious part of the whole thing is that the part of the eye which receives the impression of light must lie behind these blood vessels.—London Graphic.

Cured Her.

There is always a way out if one seeks in the proper direction. How the lady of the house put a stop to a telephone caller who annoyed her is told in the New York Sun: "A busy housewife on the west side had been called to the telephone every day for two weeks by some person who inquired if that was the meat market. It seemed impossible to straighten out the phone numbers.
 The housewife became angry. So the other day when called she admitted that it was the meat market and very pleasantly took a rush order for a dozen lamb chops. She hasn't been bothered since."

A Disadvantage.

"It is impossible to get a fair estimate of the output of the American hen."

"Why is it impossible to get a fair record?"
 "Because, no matter how you fix it, the record is bound to be a fowl one."
 —Baltimore American.

Path of Least Resistance.

"Do you believe in telepathy?"
 "Yes."
 "Have you had any experience in that line?"
 "No. But I'd rather say I believe it than invite some enthusiast on the subject to give me an argument about it."
 —Washington Star.

A Worse Fall.

Young Man—My cousin has very long hair. When she undoes it it falls down to her waist. His Sweetheart—Indeed! Her Kid Brother—That's nothing! When you undo your hair it falls to the floor, don't it, Mary?—London Telegraph.

The Hingham National Bank
 Established 1833
Solicits Individual and Business Accounts
 (Interest is paid on accounts of $500 and over)
 The officers of the Bank are always ready to give their personal attention to the needs of the depositors, and to advise in business matters
THE HINGHAM NATIONAL BANK
 B. A. Robinson President E. W. Jones Cashier

Sentiment
 and Business
 Since 1835 we have kept the first passenger coach ever run on the New England Lines.
THAT'S SENTIMENT
 Now we average to send to the scrap heap five cars a day.
THAT'S BUSINESS
 Frequent service.
 Well equipped trains.
 The finest stretch of road in the world.
THAT'S THE RESULT

WHY NOT
Have The Best?
 Come and See Us For
Staple and Choice Groceries
 Try our Bread and Pastry Flour, Teas, Coffees, Spices and Flavoring Extracts; also Vouched For Canned Goods.
Bates & Humphrey's
 Broad and Middle Sts., Weymouth Center
 TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

SEE OUR LINE OF
 Rogers Bros. 1847 Silver that wears, Knives, Forks, Spoons, and other Pieces, Carving Sets.
 Fine rich American Deep Cut Glass Ware, the latest designs.
 Quality guaranteed. (not pressed)
 Extra Quality Quadruple Silver Plated Coffee Sets in 4 pieces
 Coffee Percolators made of copper and nickel.
 Chafing Dishes in nickel or solid copper, ebony handles. Tea
 Strainers in sterling silver.
The Leading Jewelry Store in the Weymouths
JOHN NEILSON,
 OPPOSITE POST OFFICE, Telephone 272W EAST WEYMOUTH

CHARLES HARRINGTON
 —DEALER IN—
STAPLE AND FANCY
DRY GOODS
GLOVES and HOSIERY
UNDERWEAR and NOTIONS
 New and Seasonable Goods added Every Week
Charles Harrington,
 Commercial Street, near Jackson Square. East Weymouth

Weymouth Gazette
AND TRANSCRIPT

FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1913.

To The Public.

On behalf of the Selectmen, the Board of Trade and the Fourth of July Committee, I respectfully and earnestly request all the people of our Good old Town to participate in some way or other in the coming celebration.

Let nothing stand between you and your duty and allegiance to the Town. Let's make it Weymouth Day with open house open hand and open heart.

Back up the committee which is working day and night that the affair may be successful.

Remember this is to be a Weymouth celebration and it will be just what you make it, so I ask you to throw aside everything but your patriotism and loyalty. Catch the true spirit of the time and occasion, jump to the front ready and willing to do your part, then the rest will be easy and I know the Committee will truly appreciate it.

To owners of Automobiles let me say that they can do a splendid service for the Cause if they will give to the Committee the use of their auto for about one hour in the morning.

Let everybody, for once, join together for one purpose and Weymouth's Good.
E. W. HUNT.

Madigan-Griffin.

Miss Ella Griffin and Mr. Edward L. Madigan of East Weymouth were married Wednesday evening at the Church of the Sacred Heart by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Holland. The bride's sister Mrs. Thomas Connell of Hingham, was matron of honor and the groom's nephew, Mr. Carleton Murphy of East Weymouth was best man. The bride wore peach colored satin with picture hat to match. The matron of honor wore cream satin with picture hat. Both carried bouquets of roses, the former's being a shower bouquet. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the aunt, Miss Nellie Griffin, Granite street. Mr. and Mrs. Madigan will reside at 573 Broad street, East Weymouth.

High School Alumni Reunion.

The Weymouth High School Alumni committee are glad to announce the following program for the annual reunion, Wednesday June 25, at the High School Building.

The collation will be at half past six, preceded by informal meetings of as many classes and groups of friends as possible. Blanchard and Co. of South Weymouth will cater, and it will be necessary for all those wishing tickets for the banquet to purchase them on or before Monday evening, June 23. The business meeting will follow, at half past seven, a large attendance being requested.

The formal entertainment will take the hour from eight to nine o'clock, music by Maxims Orchertra. Readings by Miss Haviland and the play "Miss Civilization" by Richard Harding Davis, presented by the former Senior class of the High School.

After this, there will be dancing from nine to twelve with Maxim's orchestra.

Tickets may be purchased for seventy five cents; or for those who do not wish the collation, the entertainment and dancing for fifty cents.

They may be obtained of the following persons: C. D. Harlow, Ernest Vaughn, Miss Doris Taylor, Miss L. May Chessman, Miss Mercy Hunt, Miss Helen Curtis, Miss Mary Sheehy, John McFaun, Emerson Dizer, Albert Humphrey, Miss Ruth Tower, Miss Florence Howe, Mrs. J. H. Elwell. No banquet tickets will be sold after Monday night.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

Makes delicious home-baked foods of maximum quality at minimum cost. Makes home baking pleasant and profitable

CONCERT IN TOWN HALL.

Large Gathering at Musicales Given by James Humphrey School of East Weymouth Last Friday Evening.

The eighth and ninth grades of the James Humphrey school of East Weymouth gave a concert in the Town Hall in that place last Friday evening. The proceeds will be used to purchase a victrola for the school.

A sale of home made candy and ice-cream was held during the evening. The following program was given:

Choral (St. Matthew's Passion) eighth and ninth grades
"Hark! Hark! The Lark," ninth grade
"The Little Tin Soldier," eighth grade
Dance, "How Grandma Danced the Minnet," Esther Leonard.
"Old Kentucky Home," eighth and ninth grades
Solo, "Winter Lullaby," Mary Casseuse
Intermission
Cornet solo, "Meditation Original," Theodore Keith "Voices of the Wood," Arr. Rubenstein's Melody in F, ninth grade
"Music in the Air," eighth grade
Dance, "Glide Eccentric," E. Leonard
"Soldiers' Chorus" (Faust) eighth and ninth grades
Salute to Flag and "America"
Miss Marjorie Keith accompanist
Piano solos and duets during intermission by Evelyn Ashton and Hazel Collinge

Costello-Cleary.

Miss Mary Alice Cleary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cleary and Mr. Thomas A. Costello of Quincy were married Wednesday evening at the Church of Sacred Heart by Rev. J. B. Holland, pastor of the church. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of the friends of the couple. Miss Nellie Cleary, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid and Mr. James Kellher of Quincy was best man.

The bride was attired in a costume of white satin with veil and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. The bridesmaid's dress was of pink satin and she carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The ushers were Dr. Robert Cleary of Boston, Thomas P. Cleary and Maurice L. Cleary. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 23 Keith street. Guests were present from Newark, N. J., Boston, Quincy, Clinton, Holyoke, Cohasset, Hingham, Rockland, Braintree and other places. The wedding dinner was served by a caterer. The couple received many handsome and costly gifts of gold, silver, cut glass, bric-a-brac, etc. The bride's gift from her parents was $100 in gold. Mr. and Mrs. Costello left after the reception on their wedding trip and on their return will reside at 168 Glendale road, Quincy.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

—Miss Dorothy Leavitt was tendered a surprise party by a number of friends last Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Maude E. Williams of 25 Lincoln street. Games, music and dancing made the evening a most enjoyable one for all. Miss Leavitt was presented with a gift from her many friends, and the hostess, Miss Williams served a dainty luncheon during the evening.

—Mrs. George Miller has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Collyer of Avon the past week.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sampson are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Newman M. Leavitt of East Barnard, Vt.

—Mr. H. T. Bicknell has been visiting relatives in Whitman.

—Leon Schelleff is ill at his home with rheumatic fever.

—Mrs. A. W. Call and daughter, Francis of Bath, Me., were guests on Monday of Mrs. F. B. Hawkes.

—Joseph O'Rourke has accepted a position with H. O. Tutty.

—Miss Lucy Wyman of Ayer has been a recent guest of her grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Bartlett. Miss Wyman's many friends in this village will be glad to learn that she is taking a summer course in millinery at Columbia College, preparatory to teaching.

—C. P. Brackett and family of Ashmont are at Rose Cliff for the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Libby welcomed a daughter, Barbara French, to their home on Thursday, June 12.

—Oliver Cox is ill at his home at Wessagussett with typhoid fever.

—Miss Maude Merrill of Amesbury was the guest of Miss Lenora O'Rourke on Tuesday of this week.

—Mrs. O. H. Beane entertained a party of Cambridge friends at her home at King's Cove last Saturday.

—Mrs. S. Lizzie Burr of Shaw street spent the week end with Miss Nancy King of Boston.

—Mrs. Charles Clark has been entertaining her sister, Miss Harriett Elliot recently.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McAllister of Brockton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Demmon of Norwell, have been guests of Mr. Mrs. Samuel Drew this week.

—Miss Mildred Alden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Alden of Bridge street was one of the graduates at Radcliffe college on Friday of last week.

—Arthur L. Barr of Wellesly and Miss Myrtle Noblet of Milwaukee were married at Milwaukee on June 11. Mr. Barr is a summer resident at Fort Point, and after a wedding trip they will occupy their cottage on Columbian Road for the season.

—Mrs. W. A. Drake entertained the officers and committees of the Monday club at a covered dish party on the lawn at her home on North street last Thursday, June 12.

—A party in the Wessagussett Yacht Club house on Monday evening, June 16, was the opening of the social season at Wessagussett Beach. B. W. Maxim's orchestra furnished music for dancing from 8 until 12 o'clock. Cakes and ices were served during the evening.

—The Wessagussett club entertained their lady friends on Friday evening, June 13. The party took the form of an informal reception and an orchestra led by J. H. Tower with Miss Ethel Raymond, pianist; Miss Hazel Clark, violinist, H. M. Stetson, cornetist and Harold Raymond, flute, discoursed sweet music. The violin solos by Miss Hazel Clark were well received. Refreshments of cake, ices and punch were served and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Pilgrim Church Notes.

A Children's Day concert was given in the Pilgrim church last Sunday evening by the Sunday school. Miss Adrianna Caldwell gave the welcome and this was followed by songs by the school, the primary department, Miss Lillian Curtiss' class and Miss Cora Beard's class. Recitations were given by Dorothy Dasha, Isabel Young, Eleanor Walker, Dorothy Brown, Emily Evans, Elizabeth Devoe, Gertrude Colley, Frances Bullard, Ruth Caldwell, Grace Saunders, Frances Bain, Dorothy Bain, Esther Walker, Bertha Prouty, Alexander McPhail, Sadie McLennan, Edith McLennan, May Carter, Nellie Carter. The concert was in charge of Supt. R. S. Gilmore, Mrs. Ellen O'Neil and Mrs. J. W. Thomas.

Perrow-Coyle.

Miss Catherine Coyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. William Coyle and Mr. James Perrow of Quincy were married at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Thursday evening, Rev. J. B. Holland, pastor of the church performed the ceremony. Miss Helen Coyle, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mr. James Perrow, cousin of the groom, was best man. The bride was attired in white satin with lace overdress and picture hat and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. The bridesmaid's dress was of cream chiffon with picture hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of roses. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Richmond street. Mr. and Mrs. Perrow will reside in Quincy.

Paint Put-Or.

Think of paint put on and not by the gallon.

A gallon of paint in the can is of no account to anybody. Put it on. Now reckon its cost and value.

The secret is: one paint goes twice as far as another. A good one goes twice as far as a bad one.

You have a job, say an average job. It will take 10 gallons Devoe and 12 or 15 or 18 or 20 of middling poor very-poor and trash. You know painter's wages in your own town. Put the price of a gallon of paint and the painter's day-wage together. You can, we can't.

Devoe costs less than any inferior paint; there are hundreds of them.

One paint is as good as another, so long as it lasts good; one lasts months and another years; and the one that goes furthest lasts the longest.

DEVOE

Everett Loud, E. Weymouth; M. R. Loud & Co., S. Weymouth; A. J. Sidellinger, N. Weymouth.

Sells It.

Booming Business While

Mr. Kincaide is Away!

AN old saying says "While the Cat's Away, the Mice Will Play." Probably that is true of mice, but not of men. At any rate, it's not true of the men of this store. Just listen.

Starting Saturday, June 21

Kincaide's Challenge Sale

OFFERING at Unheard of Low Prices, Indoor and Outdoor Home Furnishings of Kincaide High Quality. A true Sale, planned on purpose to break all sales records of this Twenty-Year-Old Store.

Come SEE SALE CIRCULARS FOR THE FULL STORY Come

Henry L. Kincaide, Quincy

Open Friday, Saturday and Monday Evenings

FURNITURE-PIANOS-RUGS-RANGES

GO TO LOUD'S FIRST
TO SAVE TIME, TROUBLE AND MONEY

FOR

Hardware, Cutlery, Paints and Oils
Family Groceries, Table Delicacies,
Crockery, Patent Medicines
Cigars and Tobacco.

Jackson Square

East Weymouth, Mass.

For The Highest Grade Porto Rico and New Orleans

MOLASSES

GO TO

GORDON WILLIS, THE COLUMBIAN SQUARE GROCER.
South Weymouth

Summer Necessities

Screen Doors, Catches and Springs of all kinds; Window Screens, all heights; Screen Netting, the best in the market; fully warranted Garden Hose, Couplings and Repair Kits. Bug Exterminators, Paris Green, Arnica and Lead. Everything in Bay State Paints and Paint Products.

J. H. MURRAY

759 Broad Street

East Weymouth

TELEPHONE WEYMOUTH 73-J.

Confidence

TO have confidence in your Gas Range, you will have to demonstrate to yourself its possibilities, which are many. It is possible to prepare food on a Gas Range better than can be done on any other known cooking appliance.

Our Demonstrator would be glad to co-operate with you.

OLD COLONY GAS CO.

Remember the Hot Days Last Summer

Buy Your Electric Iron NOW!

Weymouth Light and Power Company

JACKSON SQUARE, EAST WEYMOUTH

GEORGE W. PERRY, Gen. Mgr.

WINTER WILL COME

And find your Coal Bin empty.

FILL IT NOW

Augustus J. Richards & Son Furnace, Range and Steam Coals, Wood, Hay and Grain

Weymouth and Quincy.

Tel. Con.

BUY NOW. Procrastination is the t. of t.

Our Line of

Standard Garden Tools

is the most complete in town. Drop in and look our goods over. We know we can satisfy you.

M. R. LOUD & CO.

COLUMBIAN SQUARE, SOUTH WEYMOUTH.

Vaughan's Daylight Store.

AGENCY FOR

Ladies' Home Journal,

Transfer Designs.

Bates Block

Washington Square

Coal - COAL - Coal

BEST QUALITY OF ALL KINDS. ALL-RAIL ANTHRACITE IS SUPERIOR

CHARLES T. LEAVITT, Successor to H. M. CURTISS COAL Co

Yard Wharf St., EAST WEYMOUTH.

Tel. 21-2

Made In A Minute

Advertisement for Plymouth Rock Coffee Jelly Compound, featuring an illustration of a woman and a child.

N. R. ELLS

General Teamster!

LIGHT AND HEAVY TEAMING.

Sand and Gravel furnished at short notice

So. Weymouth, Mass. Telephone 116-1 Weymouth

REMARKABLE GASOLINE TEST ON DETROIT-QUINCY RUN IN R-C-H 25HP CAR.

Decked with pennants bearing the names of Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara, Niagara Falls, Canada, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica, Albany, Pittsfield, Lenox, Springfield and Worcester, the R-H-C touring car, in which Charles W. Hodgkinson and Thomas E. Furnald made their Detroit to Quincy tour, arrived at Central Garage at 3.45 Monday afternoon.

The average mileage on gasoline consumption was 21.3 miles to the gallon for the entire trip of 536 miles. On the run from Buffalo to Rochester more than 23 miles to the gallon was made. This is considered a remarkable performance for a car weighing 2,000 lbs. and new from the factory, as gasoline consumption is usually higher in a new car. No trouble of any kind was experienced. The car stood the test of very rough roads and did excellent work on hill climbing. For demonstration or appointment call Central Garage, Quincy, Mass. Tel. 1025-W 11-31

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. Albert B. Sanborn and the members of the Hobart family wish to extend their grateful thanks to kind friends and relatives who comforted them so much by their help and sympathy in their bereavement by the death of Mrs. Albert B. Sanborn.

ALBERT B. SANBORN, FRYNK F. HOBART, CHARLES HOBART.

Fort Scott Witticism. At a recent banquet in Fort Scott, the Tribune says, a man was called upon to make a speech. Of course he was surprised that he should be asked to talk, but he was equal to the occasion, and he stood up and said: "Gentlemen, you have been eating a turkey stuffed with sage, now you will listen to a sage stuffed with turkey." Everybody laughed, and the man immediately became known as a famous wag, and the mot is highly esteemed in those parts.—Kansas City Star.

LOVELL'S CORNER

—Mrs Everett Gardner and daughters Alida and Ada spent Sunday with relatives in Malden. —Mr. Walter Pratt and family spent Sunday at their cottage at Fort Point. —Miss Marguerite Beals spent a few days the last of the week with relatives in Brockton. —The Porter M. E. Sunday School are planning an excursion to Nantasket on next Wednesday, June, twenty fifth. —Frank Hall of this place and Miss May Holbrook of New York were married at the home of the bride on Wednesday June twelfth. Mr. and Mrs. Hall are to reside at 825 Washington street East Weymouth Mass. —Miss Helen Brown has gone to Bradford Mass to spend the summer. —Charles Tirrell has broken ground for a new house on his land on Washington street. —Miss Florence Pratt and Miss Maria Hawes are at home for their summer vacation. —Frank Sherman is building a garage his home on Pleasant street. —Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fish spent Sunday with Mrs. Mattie Turner. —Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Whittan spent the holiday with Mrs. Whittan's parents Mr. and Mrs. Austin Poole.

Memorial Sunday.

Wiley Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Abigail Adams Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F. of South Weymouth jointly held a memorial service last Sunday afternoon for John A. Hollis, Thomas Blanchard, Mrs. L. Maria Simpson, Mrs. Deborah A. White, Mrs. Marianna Howe and Mrs. Ellen M. Burrell, members who have died during the past year.

The address was by Rev. William Wallace Rose, pastor of the Universalist church of South Weymouth and chaplain of the lodge. His theme was "The Good Samaritan." O. B. Torrey, P. G., conducted the devotional exercises, the Bellevue male quartet sang several selections and the congregation sang, "Blest Be the Tie"

Curtis-Curtis.

Mr. George F. Curtis, a well known contractor and builder of this town and Mattie E. Curtis of Ashmont were married in that place last evening by Rev. Mr. Weeks, pastor of the Baptist church, Somerville, formerly of Ashmont. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis will reside at 112 Washington street, Weymouth.

C. M. A. LOSES.

Makarias of Quincy Defeat East Weymouth Nine Last Saturday Afternoon, 4 to 3.

In a close game on the C. M. A. field in East Weymouth last Saturday afternoon, the Makarias of Quincy triumphed over the C. M. A. nine—4 to 3. The features of the game were contributed by Glover, Fraker, Drinkwater and Condrick for the losers, and Hoyt and Andrews for the winners. The score by innings:

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 Makaria, 0 1 0 0 2 1 0 0 0—4 Clapp Memorial, 0 0 2 1 0 0 0 0—3 Runs made, by Nickoll, Hoyt, McKenzie, Andrews, Orr, Glover, Condrick. Two-base hit, A. Humphrey. Three-base hit, Cross. Stolen bases, Barry, Orr, Glover, Fraker, Condrick, Hoyt. Base on balls, by Condrick, 4; by Andrews, 3. Struck out, by Condrick, 7; by Andrews, 4. Sacrifice hits, Jenkins, Erickson, Barry, C.oss, Fraker. Double play, Orr and Cross. Passed ball, Drinkwater. Umpire, FitzPatrick. Time, 1h 45m.

The Kaleidoscope.

Have you any idea what a wonderful thing a kaleidoscope really is? Did you ever catch yourself wondering how many different kinds of patterns could be formed by the little bits of colored glass which the instrument contains and which adjust themselves with such remarkable facility when the instrument is turned in the hand? A calculation has been made by a noted mathematician which we are sure will astonish readers. He shows that a kaleidoscope containing twelve bits of glass may be turned rapidly enough to make ten changes a minute day and night for ninety-one years and forty-nine days without exhausting the different combinations or the possibilities of getting a new figure on the next turn. If the number of pieces of glass be increased to twenty, a calculation shows that 462,880,899,576 years would be necessary to go through all of the changes of which it would be capable, the holder of the instrument turning all the while so as to get ten changes a minute and working day and night those millions of years.

New Old Curtains.

A little ochre powder dissolved and added to starch will make old white curtains look like new ecru ones.—Home Department, National Magazine.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH

—William Nash, the popular clerk at Nash's drug store, is recovering from a painful operation on the left side of his face.

—Francis Carroll has completed his second year's course of study at Harvard college.

—In spite of a rather cold, disagreeable evening, a good sized audience was out for the first concert the season by the Stetson Shoe Co. band in Columbian square last Friday night. Automobile parties were in abundance and all were treated to a fine concert.

—Miss Dorothy Nash, a teacher in the Nashua, N. H. schools is home for the summer.

—An interesting program has been completed for the annual garden party on June 28 of the St. Francis Xavier church parish of this place.

—A new up-to-date telephone booth has been installed in the store of the Elbridge Nash Drug Co. in Columbian Square.

—The wedding of Miss Laura Rockwood of Reed avenue and Louis Seabury of East Weymouth, will take place on Saturday evening, June 28.

—The class of 1912 of the Weymouth High school held its first reunion in Engine hall, this place, last Tuesday evening. A reception, banquet and a social hour were the features of the program. Gerald Fitzgerald presided and Robert Fitzgerald was toastmaster. Special guests of the occasion were the teachers of the Weymouth High school and Urban Nolan, president of this year's graduating class of Weymouth High school. The committee in charge of the reunion was Ralph Curtin, Miss Mattie Sampson, Miss Helen O'Dowd and Gerald Fitzgerald.

—Nelson B. Gay and family have moved to Bay View, North Weymouth, where they will spend the summer.

—Miss Lillian Peck and Mrs. Adolph Peck of Gloversville, N. Y. have been visiting Mrs. Louis A. Cook Jr. of Columbian street.

—Prince H. Tirrell attended the annual reunion of his class of Phillips Andover academy last Saturday.

—Samuel Robinson has taken a position as chauffeur with Gen. Summer of Pleasant street.

—Miss Marjorie McBride of Bradford academy is home for the summer vacation.

—The pop concert given by the young ladies of the St. Francis Xavier church in Foggs opera house last Monday evening attracted an extra large gathering from all parts of the town. A musical program was given followed by dancing.

—Kenneth Torrey has accepted a position for the summer with an orchestra at Hotel Wentworth in Portsmouth, N. H.

—At the home of Mrs. J. Leonard Bicknell of Bates avenue on Wednesday evening, Miss Margaret Howe of this place was tendered a surprise handkerchief shower by twelve of her friends. Games, music and a dainty luncheon served by the hostess, were features of the evening's program. The decorations were of pink and white. Miss Howe was the recipient of many beautiful gifts of handkerchiefs from her friends.

—Henry Lowell of the U. S. S. Louisiana is visiting his parents of Main street Nash's Corner.

—Justin L. Fearing goes to Washington this week to accept an appointment he had received as aid in the Bureau of Standards.

Universalist Men's Club.

On Monday evening, June 16, the Universalist Men's Club of North Weymouth tendered a reception, banquet and entertainment to its members and friends in the vestry of the church. At seven o'clock one hundred and ten people assembled around the festive board. President Edward T. Kavanagh welcomed the company and Grace was said by Rev. Rufus H. Dix, pastor of the church. The caterers Westover & Foss of Boston served a menu of roast beef with mushroom sauce, mashed potatoes, chicken croquettes with peas, lobster salad, rolls, coffee, ice cream, sherbert, frozen pudding and fancy cakes. This was the sixth anniversary observance of Ladies' night of the club. The entertainment consisted of classical and popular selections by North Weymouth orchestra, J. H. Tower, director; Miss Doris L. Torrey, pianist, Miss Hazel Clark and Percy Ames, violinist. Solos and Scotch songs by Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman in costume, accompanied by Mrs. Wm. A. Hodges and readings by Miss Lillian L. Moyle. The committee in charge of the affair were Harry A. Bailey, Edwin R. Sampson, C. Edgar Stiles, Earl D. Williams and Stanley T. Torrey are to be congratulated for the great success of the affair.

His Philosophy.

Employer—I see you've collected a lot of small accounts, but you haven't made much headway with the bigger ones. Collector—No, sir; I generally make it a rule to—h—m—follow along the line of least resistance.—Chicago Tribune.

There Are Cooks and Cooks.

A lady correspondent remarks cynically that many a man who would hesitate to make a wife of his wife—London Standard.

He who would rest must work.—Italian Proverb.

TUFTS LIBRARY.

The books will be ready for delivery the Saturday following the issue of the Gazette and Transcript containing the list.

Table listing books from the Tufts Library with titles, authors, and prices.

Successful

in all the numerous ailments caused by defective or irregular action of the organs of digestion and elimination—certain to prevent suffering and to improve the general health—

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

BIRTHDAY CAKES.

It is good management to give The children some delight; And then the question often comes How can we do it right?

The pleasures that in love we give They never will forget; And later on in life we'll find We've nothing to regret.

There is one thing the children like Although it work will make; That is a birthday party and A lovely Birthday Cake.

We make the finest Birthday Cakes For either young or old; So ornamented that you'll find That half has not been told.

WHITCOMB'S

Daniel H. Clancy

Formerly with H. M. Ford Estate

Funeral Director and Undertaker

Residence, - 28 Vine St., Telephone 336W. 31-43

REAL ESTATE

—AND—

INSURANCE

Thomas J. White

Central Square East Weymouth

Every Letter You Write,

every invitation you send, goes out as your personal messenger. And only when you use a paper of the very highest quality can you be certain that your messenger is a worthy representative of your personality.

Highland Linen

is the very finest writing paper made, perfect in finish and in every one of the little details which mean everything in social correspondence. It is thoroughly correct, and above all dainty. We have it here, in a range of sizes, styles and tints which will fascinate you.

HUNT'S On The Corner EAST WEYMOUTH

Town Officers of Weymouth and their Post Office Address.

TOWN CLERK.
John A. Kaymond, East Weymouth.

TOWN TREASURER.
John H. Stetson, South Weymouth.

SELECTMEN.
Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
Henry E. Hanley, East Weymouth.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.
Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
A. Francis Barnes, South Weymouth.

ASSESSORS.
John F. Dwyer, Chairman, Weymouth.
Frank H. Torrey, Clerk, North Weymouth.
Waldo Turner, East Weymouth.
Warren T. Simpson, South Weymouth.
Edward J. Loud, South Weymouth.

Regular meeting of Board first Wednesday evening of each month at Town Office Savings Bank building, East Weymouth.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.
Clarence P. Whittle, Chairman, Weymouth.
A. Lillian McGregor, Secretary, E. Weymouth.
E. E. Leonard, East Weymouth.
Arthur H. Alden, North Weymouth.
Theron L. Tirrell, South Weymouth.
Prince H. Tirrell, South Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.
Parker T. Pearson, East Weymouth. At close of school on Monday will be at the A. Ten building; Tuesday at Jefferson; Wednesday at Howe Thursday at Hunt.

WATER COMMISSIONERS.
Frank H. Torrey, Chairman North Weymouth.
George E. Bicknell, Clerk, Weymouth.
Robert S. Hoffman, East Weymouth.
John H. Stetson, South Weymouth.
Edward W. Hunt, Weymouth.

BOARD OF HEALTH.
George E. Emerson, Chairman, So. Weymouth.
Nelson B. Gladwin, Clerk, North Weymouth.
John S. Williams, Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF WATER WORKS.
Ivers M. Low, East Weymouth.

SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.
John L. Maynard, East Weymouth.

TAX COLLECTOR.
Winslow M. Tirrell, East Weymouth.

FIRE ENGINEERS.
M. O'Dowd, chief, South Weymouth.
W. W. Pratt, clerk, East Weymouth.
J. Q. Hunt, East Weymouth.
Charles W. Baker, Weymouth.
Philip W. Wolf, North Weymouth.

TREE WARDEN.
Charles L. Merritt, South Weymouth.

POLICE OFFICERS.
P. Butler, chief, East Weymouth.
Thomas Fitzgerald, Weymouth.
A. H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
John D. Walsh, Weymouth.
Elbert Ford, South Weymouth.
Geo. W. Nash, North Weymouth.

CONSTABLES.
Isaac H. Walker, North Weymouth.
George W. Nash, North Weymouth.
Patrick Butler, East Weymouth.
Arthur H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
Thomas Fitzgerald, Weymouth.
John D. Walsh, Weymouth.
George B. Bayley, South Weymouth.
Elbert Ford, South Weymouth.
George W. Conant, South Weymouth.
Willard F. Hall, East Weymouth.

AUDITORS.
William H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
John P. Hunt, Weymouth.
Frank N. Blanchard, East Weymouth.

FARE COMMISSIONER.
William H. Clapp, Weymouth.
Louis A. Cook, South Weymouth.
Arthur H. Alden, North Weymouth.

SCALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.
Frank D. Sherman, Weymouth.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.
(From Seventh Norfolk District.)
John F. Dwyer, Weymouth, Mass.

SENATOR.
(First Norfolk District.)
John J. McDevitt, Quincy.

County Officers.

OFFICERS AT DEDHAM.
Judge of Probate and Insolvency, James H. Flint of Weymouth.
Register of Probate and Insolvency, John D. Cobb.
Assistant Register, J. Raphael McCool.
Clerk of Courts, Louis A. Cook of South Weymouth.
Assistant Clerk, Robert B. Worthington.
Second Assistant, Louis A. Cook, Jr., of South Weymouth.
Register of Deeds, John H. Burdakin.
Assistant Register of Deeds, Edward L. Barakain.
County Treasurer, Henry D. Humphrey.
Sheriff, Samuel H. Capen.
Special Sheriff, Edward E. Wentworth, Cohasset.
County Commissioners, John F. Merrill of Quincy, chairman, Evan F. Richardson, of Mills; Everett M. Bowker, Brookline. Session every Tuesday at 10 a. m.
Special Commissioners, Fred L. Fisher, of Norwood; Henry A. Whitney, of Bellingham.
District Attorney, (Southeast District, Norfolk and Plymouth), Albert F. Barker, of Brockton.
Assistant, D. A., Fred L. Katzman, of Hyde Park.
Clerk of Dist. Court, (East, Norfolk), Lawrence W. Lyons, of Quincy.

Calendar of County Courts.

Supreme Judicial Court Jury Sitting, third Tuesday of February.
Superior Court, Civil Sessions—For work with Juries—First Monday of January, first Monday of May, and first Monday of October. For Court work—First Monday of February, first Monday of April, first Monday of September, and first Monday of December.
Superior Court, Criminal Sessions—First Monday of April; first Monday of September; first Monday of December.
Probate Court—At Dedham, on the first and third Wednesdays of every month, except August. At Quincy, on the second Wednesday of every month, except August. At Brookline, on the fourth Wednesday of every month, except August.
County Commissioners Meetings—Third Tuesday of April; fourth Tuesday of June; fourth Tuesday of September; last Wednesday of December. By adjournment: On Tuesdays, except during August.
District Court of East Norfolk. Jurisdiction Randolph, Braintree, Cohasset, Weymouth, Quincy, Hobbok and Milton. Court held at Quincy for criminal business every week day except legal holidays, and for civil business Tuesdays at 9 a. m. Justice, Albert E. Avery, Braintree. Special Justices, E. Granville Pratt, Quincy; Louis A. Cook, Weymouth. Clerk, Lawrence W. Lyons. Asst. James McDonald. Probation Officer, Francis A. Spear, 25 Thayer Street, Quincy. Court Officers Bail Commissioner, William Marten, 24 Coddling Street, Quincy.

Leather Polish.

To make a polish for patent leather, make a mixture of one part linseed oil and two of cream. Mix it thoroughly and apply with a flannel, after removing every particle of dust from the shoes. Then rub the leather with a soft cloth.

THE PURCHASE PRICE; OR, THE CAUSE OF COMPROMISE
By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1910, by Emerson Hough

CHAPTER XIV.

In the Name of Altruism.

As they turned back toward the head of the line, Josephine gave a half exclamation. Two figures were approaching, each of which seemed to her familiar. An instant later she had recognized the young northern officer, Carlisle, whom she had met under such singular conditions. With him stalked the tall young German, Kammerer. Their eyes lighted suddenly as they fell upon her, and both advanced eagerly. There was new dignity in her carriage now, but she greeted them warmly.

"When we may, I shall hope to compare notes with you," she smiled. "You are still on parole to me."

"But you, madam—you seem differently situated here. I am very glad to find it so." Carlisle was eager, flushed, frankly admiring.

"Yes, I scarce know to which side the sea I belong. You know, I am half American, though my people lived abroad, in diplomatic work. By President Taylor I was chosen as one of the members of the Hungarian commission sent over by America to look into the cause of Hungary. In return, last year I had the honor of being asked to come to this country as one of the commission dispatched to America in the interest of Hungary. I came over a certain time in advance, for reasons of my own. Meantime, I have had, it seems—well, call them adventures! I am not eager they should be known here. But if you like, you may call on me at my hotel—tomorrow."

Both recognized a slight additional trace of hauteur in the department of the woman whom they now accosted. She herself saw a sort of hesitation on the part of Carlisle.

"I can't let you make any mistake about me," he began presently. "I am no longer an officer of the army. I have been court-martialed—for my conduct there—you know—that fight at St. Genevieve. My abolitionist tendencies have always made me persona non grata in my own mess. I've been sentenced. My parole is ended, for the law has acted on my conduct. Rather than go back many steps in rank, I have thrown up my commission. This morning I resigned. I am wearing my uniform, I don't doubt, for the last time."

"And that, although you fought in the cause of freedom! Although you have fought honorably in an earlier war! Is it not horrible!"

"I could not do otherwise," said he simply. "I have no regrets."

"But don't you see"—she turned upon him suddenly—"it only leaves you all the more free! Will it not give you and your friend, Lieutenant Kammerer here, precisely the opportunity you've wished?"

"I do not follow you."

"My dear countess," ventured the German. "I'll go anywhere under your orders."

She turned from them. "Come to my hotel, will you not, tomorrow? I may have something to say to you."

In her apartments at the hotel the following morning Josephine St. Auban looked over the journals of the day. There were many columns of description of the only social event of the previous day thought worth extended mention. The visitors from Hungary were lauded to the skies. Joined to this, there was considerable mention of the reappearance in Washington society of the beautiful countess, Josephine St. Auban. Without any reference to earlier stories not unknown to them, and bolder as to Austria than those who then dwelt in the White House, the newspapers now openly and unanswerably welcomed this distinguished stranger to the heart of Washington. Unknowingly, when they gave her this publicity, they threw around her also protection, secrecy. As she read, the Countess St. Auban smiled. She knew that now there would be no second secret trial. The government would not dare!

What interested her more was the story, at that time made current, of an unsuccessful attempt which had been made by a southern slave owner to reclaim his property in a northern state. There had been bloodshed. Naturally, great exultation prevailed among the triumphant blacks; and this, so said numerous dispatches, was fostered and encouraged by comment of all the northern abolitionist press.

She turned to other papers of private nature in her desk. In a half hour more she had gone over the last remittance reports of the agents of her estates in Europe. She smiled, nodded, as she tapped a pencil over the very handsome totals. In ten minutes more she was ready and awaiting the call of Carlisle and Kammerer in her reception room. In her mind was a plan already formulated.

"Are you still for the cause of freedom, and can you keep a secret or aid in one?" she broke in suddenly, turning toward Carlisle. Looking at him at first for a time inscrutably, as though in amusement or in recollection, she now regarded him carefully for an instant, apparently weighing his make up, estimating his sincerity, mentally investigating his character, looking at the flame of his hair, the fanatic fire of his deep set eye.

"I have sometimes done so," he smiled. "Is there anything in which I can be of service?"

"Time is short," was her answer. "Let us get at once to the point. I am planning to go into the work long carried on by that weak minded colonization society, but on certain lines of my own. It is my belief that we should deport the blacks from this country. Very well; I am willing to devote certain moneys and certain energies to that purpose. Granted I found it advisable and could obtain proper support, I might not return to Hungary for a time."

"Kammerer!" broke in Carlisle suddenly. "Listen! Do you hear? It's what we've said. It is precisely what you yourself have always said."

"That is it—that is it!" exclaimed the young German. "This colonization—removal from this country to another, where they shall be by themselves. That only is wise, yes. Elsewise must great war come—else must this Union be lost! Ah, madam, ah, madam! How great your heart, your mind! I kiss your hand."

"Listen!" she interrupted. "There are about three and one-third millions of them now. Say they are worth, old and young, large and little, $1,000 a head—monstrous thing, to put a price upon a human head, but suppose it is. It would amount to but a few billions of dollars. What would a war cost between these two sections? Perhaps $1,000,000 a day! How much cheaper could these slaves be purchased and deported from these shores! Their owners regard them as property. The laws protect that belief. The constitution establishes the laws. There is no peaceful way to end the turmoil, save by the purchase of these people. That is a solution. It will prevent a war. Let them be sent away to a place where they belong, rather than here."

"My dear countess," said Carlisle, "you are, as usual, brilliant. But, as usual, you are visionary and impractical. Buy them? To do this would require the credit of a nation. It would be subversive of all peace and all industry."

"All it needs is money and management. A start and the country will follow. Mr. Fillmore himself was about to recommend it in his last message. Let me furnish the money and do you attend to the complications."

Carlisle rubbed his chin thoughtfully. "It's beautiful; it may be wise, but it's impossible. It would take a king's credit."

"At least we might begin with such funds as are already at hand," smiled the Countess St. Auban. "It might be difficult? I suppose the building of the pyramids was difficult. Yet they were begun. Yet they are finished. Yet they stand complete today."

"It is hardly for me to advise in a case so grave as that," said Carlisle. "I should not undertake it. Have you really considered?"

"I have often followed over the same old course of reasoning, south against north," she said, smiling at him. "Come, now, a revolutionist and two abolitionists should do much. You still can fight, though they have taken away your sword."

Carlisle rose and strode about the room, his face frowning, his slender figure erect, martial even in its civilian dress. Presently he turned: "But it is a noble of you, magnificent, to think of doing what a government hesitates to do! And a woman!"

"Could it be done?" she demanded.

"It would require much money. But what a noble solution it would be!"

"Precisely. I rejoice to see that your mind is so singularly clear although your heart is so kind."

"Thank you, my dear captain. This plan of mine to have any success must be carried out on lines broad minded and fair."

"But how adjust pocket interests on both sides? You'll see. You'll be left alone. It is easier to make a speech for liberty than it is to put the price of one slave in the hat passed for liberty. New England, all the north, will talk, will hold mass meetings, will pass resolutions commending resistance to the law—like this incident of which there's news this morning. You'll see the blacks commended for that. But you won't see much money raised to keep other blacks from being followed by their owners."

"Then leave it for those who see duty in more concrete form. Leave the cost to me. My only answer is—Lily."

And again and again her only answer to them both was—Lily. She told them her story, produced the girl herself and made her confirm it, offered her as concrete example to be presented in a platform campaign which might not end in talk alone—pleaded, argued, and won.

"Madam, I, too, kiss your hands," said Carlisle at last—and did so.

An hour after that she had laid out a campaign for her two agents and had arranged for the expenditure of an initial $100,000.

It was dusk. Heavy shadows lay over the trees which lined the curving walks leading across a little park to the stately white house beyond. From that direction now appeared several gentlemen, advancing in scattering groups. They might almost have been made up of conspirators, so intent they seemed, so apprehensive lest even their thoughts might be read. Two of them drew apart, one of these a slender, bony man, the other a tall and dark man. The latter spoke almost moodily.

"I doubt your ability, my dear sir, to influence so shrewd a man in any such way as you suggest. Besides, he is not of our party."

"That's all the better. A man of our party might, could, would and should keep his mouth shut about such a ticklish matter; but outside our party any who begins it has got to keep his mouth shut!"

"There is no other way," he added, smiling. "It must be done. The Countess St. Auban is here again. This band of gypsy heathens from Hungary is also here. The country is wild over Kossuth. We'll have to accept this invitation to invite him. But Austria remains bitter against the countess. What we must do is to have her go back home with these commissioners from Hungary. There's ugly talk about the way she's been used. That fellow Carlisle—good riddance of him from the army—even confessed he engaged in a game of cards. If she likes she can ruin us, because Carlisle can't be kept silent now he's out of the army. And he's crazy over her anyhow."

"So? I do not blame him."

"Yes. Therefore since all of us have lacked wisdom in our own camp we'd even do well to take wisdom where we can find it."

They parted, the last speaker presently to hail the nearest carriage. The driver a few moments later drew up at the front of a spacious and dignified brick building whose reserved look might have pronounced it a private hotel or a club for gentlemen. The visitor seemed known, the door swinging open for him.

"Louis," said he to the attendant, "is Mr. — in?" He mentioned a name which was well known in Washington.

"I think you will find him in the reading room, sir," was the answer.

The inquirer passed to the right, entering a wide room with tables, books, heavy chairs, discreetly shaded lamps. At one table drawn close to the light and poring over a printed page sat a gentleman whose personality was not without distinction. The gray hair brushed back from a heightening forehead might have proclaimed him even beyond middle age, and his stature, of about medium height, acknowledged easy living in its generous habit. He rose, and both bowed formally before they advanced to take each other by the hand. They were acquaintances if not intimate friends.

"I am fortunate to find you here in Washington, my dear sir," began the gentleman from Kentucky. "It is something of a surprise."

The wrinkles about the other's eyes deepened in an affable smile. "True," said he. "In the last twelve years I have three times sought to get back into Washington. Perhaps it would have been more seemly for me to remain in the decreed dignified retirement."

They joined in a laugh at this, as they both drew up chairs at the table side.

"You see," resumed the last speaker. "I am not indeed intruding here in national affairs, but only choose Washington for tonight. I have been thinking of a pleasure journey into the west, down the Ohio river."

"What you say interests me. No doubt you propose going down the river as far as Missouri? The interest of the entire country is focused there today. Ah, yonder is the crux of all our compromise!"

"Yet your administration today, my dear sir, calls it 'finality.' Believe me, it is no more than a compromise with truth and justice! The entire north demands that slavery shall halt."

"The entire south refuses it."

"Then let the south beware! Not another inch for slavery!"

"Hush!" said the other, raising a hand. "Not even you and I dare go into this. The old quarrel is lulled for a time. At last we have worked these measures through both the house and senate. My dear friend, it is not a question of principle, but of policy, today."

The other sat gravely for a time before he made reply. "Our people feel too sternly to be reconciled. We need some new party."

Again the other raised a warning hand. "Do not say that word! Others have principles as much as you and I. Let us not speak with recklessness of consequences. But, privately and without hot argument, my dear friend, the singular thing to me is that you, an old leader of the people, with a wide following in the north and south, should now be entertaining precisely the same principles—though not expressing them with the same reckless fervor—which are advanced by the latest and most dangerous abolitionist of the time. You could perhaps guess her name."

(To Be Continued.)

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE
— AND —
John B. Whelan
21 Quincy Avenue East Braintree
— TELEPHONE BRAINTREE 21402 —

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure
Digests what you eat.

A WORD to PARENTS

Let the Child's Foot Grow as it Should.

The children's feet while growing require careful watching. Foot troubles, incurred while the foot is growing, last through life.

Educator Shoes (which cost no more than other kinds) positively prevent foot troubles by allowing the foot to grow as nature intended, by providing ample room for all five toes, and by giving proper support to the ankle muscles, arch and instep.

Educator Shoes for Boys and Misses, $1.50 Upward.

GEORGE W. JONES
1 Granite St. "Just around the Corner" Quincy

SPRING DELICACIES

ASPARAGUS, TOMATOES, CUCUMBERS, DANDELIONS, RADISHES, LETTUCE, SPINACH, RHUBARB, BERMUDA ONIONS, NEW MAPLE SUGAR and SYRUP

Hunt's Market Grocery
Washington Sq. Telephone 152 Weymouth

W. M. SWEET
Painter, Glazier, Paper Hanger, and Whitener

A full line of Wall Papers. Write or telephone and will call with samples. Can give you better than Boston prices.

SHOP, PEAKS BUILDING, 809 BROAD ST., EAST WEYMOUTH

RESIDENCE, 371 WASHINGTON ST. WEYMOUTH.

Telephone 118-5. 37-40

Telephone Insurance

Guards against physical and mental wear and tear.

Saves steps to the grocer's or provision dealer's.

Brings the doctor in life-or-death emergencies, when time-saving is vital.

Provides instantaneous communication with police or fire departments when necessary.

Offers a cheap and effective plan overcoming toil and worry.

Gives a mental satisfaction from the mere knowledge of its presence in the house.

The premiums are small. The Local Manager will furnish particulars if you will write or call free of charge.

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company

Advertise in the Gazette

COAL
 Prices Low Buy Now To Delay is Fatal
ICE

Coupon Books Cheapest Way to buy ice. Our new, up-to-date system is making a hit. Send for our price card. Our drivers also have them.
 REMEMBER

COUPON BOOKS

No mistakes or disputes Account always known
 Coupon books redeemable for cash

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.
 East Braintree Quincy
 Telephones: Braintree, 25 Quincy, 232-W, 232R

JAMES P. HADDIE
 Carpenter and Builder

Estimates given on all kinds of Building.
 Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

Now is the time to order screen doors and screens for your windows for the summer.

WE ARE ALSO CARRYING A FULL LINE OF WALL PAPER.
 Shop, 46 Union Avenue East Weymouth
 TEL. 238-W

NEW APARTMENTS

AT 688-698 BROAD STREET, EAST WEYMOUTH

Eight new houses, entrances 686 Broad street. Apartments of 4 rooms, all rooms facing the rising sun. Each apartment has 4 rooms and bath, gas and electric lights, hard pine floors, open plumbing. Rent $12 and $14 per month.

CALL AT ONCE!

Apply on premises or to

I. NESSON

101 Tremont street Boston
 TELEPHONE 6129 MAIN

Right Now Is Your Time

We can show you what you want in

House, Camp, Lawn or Piazza Furniture

Are you looking for Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Curtains and Fixtures, or Paper Hanging? If so, see our stock. Carpets Laid, Curtains Hung, Upholstering and Repairing by experts. Do you need a Summer Cooking Stove? We have the best. How about taking the baby out! We have the carriages.

FORD FURNITURE CO.

Broad St. Tel. Con. East Weymouth

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Beef, Lamb, Pork, Ham, Bacon and Fowl
 Fresh Vegetables as fast as they are in the Market.
 Choice Dairy Butter and Fresh Home Laid Eggs
 Pure Food Canned Goods from the Best Packers
 High Grade Teas, Coffee, Spices and Groceries of all kinds

F. H. SYLVESTER

Broad St., Telephone 121 W. East Weymouth.

TRY A BOTTLE OF

Armour's Best Grape Juice

10c 25c, 50c a bottle It is delicious

SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY

DANIEL REIDY, Pharm. D.
 DRUGGIST

781 Broad St., East Weymouth, Mass.

Advertise in the Gazette.

Hank's Last Drink

How an Habitual Tippler Lost His Appetite.

By ALEXANDER HULL.

I had never really supposed that a confirmed drunkard could reform, at least not without some almost cataclysmic revolution in his life. So when, about three days after my return to Barnstable, I encountered Hank Jones at the door of the First National bank with a book of deposit in his hand, well dressed and sober, I was astonished beyond measure. As I recalled the Hank of three years before, the thing seemed quite impossible.

When I returned home in the afternoon I spoke to my brother Beverly about it.

He began to laugh. "Do you mean to say you haven't heard how Hank reformed?" I shook my head.

"Why, it was even in the papers," he said.

I protested my ignorance, and then the story came out.

As I said, Hank was really a confirmed toper. Good natured, though, and likable—humorous even when he was at his worst. Perhaps that explained why, in spite of his falling, every one in town was his friend. Of course the Joneses were poor. They couldn't help being under the circumstances. When I left town Hank was out of a job again too. That wasn't anything odd, though, for he was always just out of a job or just on a new one. Every one wanted to help him, and he'd get a new place without much difficulty after he'd promised very faithfully to let up on the drinking. So he'd start in again.

Well, as I said, Hank was out of a job again. People were pretty well worn out with reforming him, and he had some trouble getting a new one. After awhile he got sort of desperate, I guess. He tried nearly every one in town. He swore he'd learned his lesson. "It didn't pay."

But they had tried him, and they had seen, and after all that time even some of the slowest ones had tumbled to the fact that Hank simply couldn't reform. Things got pretty low with the Joneses. Mrs. Jones had been doing washing for a long time in between jobs, and she took it up again now. And then she got sick and had to give that up.

They were all mighty sorry for Mrs. Jones, though, laid up that way and nothing coming in. The worst of it was that you couldn't offer them anything but a job without hurting their feelings, and you couldn't give Hank a job without the risk of ruining your own business.

He had been sober now for nearly three weeks. There was good reason for that. He hadn't any money to get drunk on. He was looking very much worried too. Parson Weeks found him down behind the city lumber yards one day, sitting on a pile of boards and scratching his head disconsolately.

"Parson," said Hank, "do you suppose a man that's backslid as many times as I have stands much of a chance with the Lord any more?"

The parson was sure that he did. "Well," said Hank, "you know the longest time I ever stayed sober was when I got religion last spring. An' I've been thinkin' it over some, an' I believe I wouldn't have backslid that time if it hadn't 'a' been for that Lem Higginson, an' you know Lem's left town for this summer. So I've got a notion to come down to the revival to-night an' get religion again"—he looked questioningly at the parson—"that is," he concluded, "if you think I've got any show any more."

The parson, to be sure, was somewhat taken aback by this cold blooded proposal of swallowing another dose of religion as you would a cup of Mrs. Weeks' boneset tea, but Hank was so palpably in earnest that, as he said, he hadn't the heart to discourage him. No one had. That was the trouble with a fellow like Hank.

Well, he did go down to services that night, and, furthermore, as he predicted, he got religion. Hank said he felt "just like a new man—all his sinful appetites left behind him once more and his face set toward the rising sun of hope and prosperity." That's what Hank said. But I understand that Parson Weeks and the evangelist had a long conversation of a very different character about him that night after the meeting. You see, they'd both been in the business long enough to know that the easier a man is converted the harder it is to keep him that way. However, that confession did lots for Hank with the general public. Everybody's hope came up again on the bound, and on the strength of it Silas Barker, the station agent, hired Hank as a helper around the S. and A. T. depot.

Everything went well, I guess, for five or six weeks, and Mrs. Jones got better, and Hank went around as happy as a June bride and as regular as a clock at church and prayer meeting.

Then one morning he lurched into the station office from the freight room with a most suspicious unsteadiness of gait and a conspicuous uncertainty of speech. Barker groaned.

He knew it was all off again. Poor Mrs. Jones—yes, and poor Hank too! He gave him a terrific scolding, but to the culprit's surprise he did not fire him, as he had promised upon his first defection. So he plucked up courage and persisted in procuring himself sober. Barker did not demur. He was waiting to find out where the supply had come from. There was no saloon near the depot, and he was sure that Hank had nothing when he came to work in the morning. So he decided to wait and watch. He went through the freight room at noon while Hank was out for his dinner and found nothing. The station was badly crowded with freight and express packages, but he could find no trace of any bottles. For two or three days the same thing occurred, and Barker became more curious than ever. Hank had not yet struck his usual gait. He was always sober enough to do his work and showed his face with great promptitude every morning at 8 o'clock. He could not be getting anything at home, for Barker had been paying his wages to Mrs. Jones, and she declared she had given him nothing to spend that had not been accounted for. Yet it was plain that he was drinking.

One morning Barker was disturbed by the fourth visit of Dr. Boden to the station.

"Barker," said the doctor, "something's wrong here. That package ought to be here. It ought to have been here long ago. It must be somewhere out in the freight room. They say at the other end of the line that it was shipped over two weeks ago."

"But there's nothing here for you, doctor," protested Barker. "I've gone through the book. Everything's entered right up when it comes in, and it couldn't be here and I not know it. I've gone through the station too."

"HANK SWORE HE'D LEARNED HIS LESSON."

The doctor grunted disgustedly and started away. Then with a sudden idea he turned.

"See here, Barker," he said, "do you mind letting me look over your book?" "It ain't a bit of use, doctor," persisted Barker, "but you can if you want. I know anybody might make a mistake, but there ain't any this time, I'm sure."

He shoved the book through the window to the doctor.

After a moment the doctor said: "Look here, Barker, what's this? Something came in here twelve days ago, and some one's signed for it, and it wasn't I, either."

Barker looked. Sure enough, some one had signed for a package for Dr. Boden. He looked again. He was puzzled. The writing had a strangely familiar appearance. It really looked a great deal like Hank's homely script under a mask. He had a sudden disconcerting suspicion.

"What was in that package, doctor?" he asked unseeingly.

To his surprise the doctor reddened with an exaggerated confusion. He hesitated, cleared his throat once or twice and finally answered, "Well, it was a five gallon keg of alcohol."

"Do you know Hank Jones?" he asked. The doctor signified that he did.

"Well," said Barker, "I hope you won't do anything about this. I have a sort of personal interest in Hank. I shouldn't want him to get into trouble with the express company, but I'm afraid you'll find that keg around here somewhere, after all, and you'll find it a little depleted. Hank Jones has been sampling it." He concluded decisively. "I'm sure of it."

"Oh, good Lord!" exclaimed the doctor, with sudden horror in his face. "Do you mean to say he's been drinking it?" Then he stopped and in a moment broke into the most uproarious merriment.

"Look here," he said at last and produced a letter which he lay before Barker. He read:

Dr. Boden, Professor of Anatomy, Barnstable College of Medicine:
 My Dear Doctor—I have had a little trouble about securing your specimen, but have finally succeeded in escaping detection. I am expressing it to you in a five gallon keg labeled alcohol, which it really contains, you know, and I hope it reaches you safely in time for your lecture. Let me know. Yours as ever,
 THOMAS L. NOLIN.

"Do you know what's in that keg?" demanded the doctor. "Of course you don't. Well, I'm going to tell you, and I'll expect you to keep my secret if I keep yours." He glanced around and then whispered a moment in Barker's ear.

Barker's face underwent the same transformation from horror to mirth. Together they laughed, they roared, they screamed!

"And now," said the doctor, when they had recovered somewhat and had wiped the tears from their eyes, "we've got to find that keg."

They went systematically to work, having sent Hank to the bank in the meantime to have him out of the way, and found the keg carefully hidden away under an empty barrel. As Barker had suspected it had been tapped. The mystery of Hank's supply was solved.

"Now," said the doctor as he left, "I want you to send Hank Jones to the college this afternoon before 3 o'clock with that keg. Impress it upon him to be prompt—the lecture begins at 8."

Barker nodded assurance. Hank was very much put out of countenance when he came back and found the keg upon his desk. He turned suddenly with the remark that he had something to do in the warehouse. Flight was naturally his first impulse on seeing himself discovered.

"Hank," said Barker, detaining him, "I just found that keg of Dr. Boden's this morning, and I wish you'd take it up to the college after the 2:42 this afternoon. He's been down after it several times."

Hank could hardly credit the testimony of his ears. He had expected recriminations, revillings, discharge or even worse when his fault was discovered. Could it be possible that they did not know it yet? To be sure he had been extremely careful in tapping it, but, nevertheless, it plainly showed. Surely they must have seen it. And yet nothing was said.

However if concealment was the word he was very strong for concealment. He would play his part. At 2:45 he made ready to trudge out of the station and up the hill with his heavy load to the college. Barker swore that he heard him sigh regretfully as he carelessly lifted the heavy keg and departed.

Dr. Boden met him at the entrance. "Good!" he exclaimed. "I was afraid you wouldn't be here in time for my lecture, and I needed this for demonstration."

He led the way to the lecture room, where were awaiting them perhaps a dozen students with notebooks in hand. "Sit down for a few minutes," said the doctor to Hank. "You'll be interested in this."

He closed the door, and Hank sank into a chair behind the students, wondering rather uncomfortably what would happen when Dr. Boden found his keg a third emptied, as he judged it must be by this time. But he was in for it now he knew, so he gritted his teeth firmly together and watched while the doctor began skillfully to pry open the head of the keg.

"I have here," began the doctor in the usual formal tones of his lecture—"I have here, gentlemen," he continued as he removed the top and, putting on a pair of rubber gloves, began to grope about in the interior. "A specimen which I have only been able to procure with great difficulty in this secluded place and in ways into which I hope you will not inquire too deeply, a specimen which I know will greatly interest you." And with that he drew forth from the dripping alcohol and held before their eyes—the awful head of a negro!

Like the Gorgon's head in the hands of conquering Perseus, this horrible thing confronted them with a distorted, frozen grin upon its features. But to the medical students it was as nothing. They gazed upon it with absorbed interest shining in their fascinated eyes.

"Now, gentlemen," pursued the doctor, with a twinkle behind his spectacles as he watched the whitening, horror stricken features of Hank Jones, "we will"—

But he never finished that sentence. There was a stifled sound as of a mortal choking in agony and a dull thud as Hank Jones dropped to the floor in a dead faint.

A few moments sufficed to revive him. "It is really too bad of me, Mr. Jones," said Dr. Boden. "I should have realized how it might affect one on seeing such a thing for the first time. We physicians grow hardened, and, of course, we don't think of it at all. Only I noticed that you had a great interest in kegs—this one especially—and I thought you ought to know what it contained after taking such good care of it."

It was a cruel revenge for such a little thing as tapping a keg of alcohol. Hank looked feebly into the doctor's grimly smiling face, but replied never a word.

Half an hour later Barker opened a note which was brought to him by one of the Joneses' neighbor's boys: "Dear Mr. Barker—I don't suppose Hank will be able to work any more this afternoon. He had a severe nervous shock—he was nearly run over by a livery team on his way from the college and is very much upset. I think he will be all right by morning. MRS. HANK JONES."

Barker read it over again before he sent it by the waiting boy to the college for Dr. Boden. During the afternoon he burst frequently into unexpected fits of laughter over the routine work of the depot and occasioned much wonder among the waiting passengers, who were apparently so constituted mentally as to require a visible cause in the case of sudden hilarity.

Of course the story got out. Stories always do. But Hank was really reformed. As he told his former tempter, Lem Higginson, "he just couldn't ever take a drink again."

"Why, if I was only to think about takin' a drink," he said as he refused the sociable and well meaning offers of that bibulous worthy, "I actually believe I'd die! You can't have any idea how awful it was."

Naturally Lem didn't think it could be so bad as to spoil a man's thirst forever. He didn't think anything could, but then it hadn't happened to Lem.

Nevertheless you see I was right—it does take an unusually hard shock to reform a confirmed toper.

JOSEPH W. McDONALD
 UNDERTAKER
 and REGISTERED
 EMBALMER

Office and Rooms:
 751 BROAD ST., EAST WEYMOUTH
 (Old G.A.R. Hall)
 Tel. 427W.
 Residence, 651 Broad St.
 Tel. 427R.

Lawn Mowers
 Sharpened

Mail us a card, or telephone, and we will call and get your Lawn Mower, Clean, Sharpen and return the same for

ONE DOLLAR
 PRICE & HENDER

24 Elmwood Park, East Braintree
 7-15 Telephone 68-1 Braintree.

For Sale

New Bungalow, 6 rooms and bath, all modern throughout, 10,000 ft. of land, 2 minutes from electric cars, and 10 minutes from steam cars, good location, price $2,850, can be seen any time.

RUSSELL B. WORSTER,
 Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
 Auctioneer, Notary, Justice of the Peace
 8 Commercial Street, Weymouth.

LADIES

We have opened a Special Department for you on MONDAYS, from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M.

Shampoo, Facial Massage, Etc. at reasonable prices. Only the best of work in a modern, up-to-date shop. We solicit a trial.

Amos Cantara
 THE CENTRAL SQUARE BARBER

Central Square East Weymouth

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

DIAMOND BRAND
 Beware of Counterfeits. Refuse all Substitutes.
 LADIES! Ask your Druggist for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS in RED and GOLD metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. TAKE NO OTHER. Buy of your Druggist and ask for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS for twenty-five years regarded as Best, Safest, Always Reliable.
 SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS
 TIME TRIED EVERYWHERE TESTED

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
 NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.
 Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Emma A. Hunt of said Weymouth, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fifth day of June, A. D. 1918, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Weymouth Gazette, a newspaper published in said Weymouth, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

12-14 JOHN D. COBB, Register.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of CARIE J. BLAKE, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to said administrator, WILLARD J. DUNBAR, Administrator, June 12, 1918. 13-15

Wants, For Sale, To Lot, Etc. Four lines or less under this head...

ADVERTISING—Delivered in carload lots by the Bay State St. Ry. Co. Apply to Thomas Gannon, Supt., 94 Hancock street, Quincy, Telephone, Quincy 6.

UTO To Let for parties, weddings, christenings, for long or short trips, 8-pass Buick, Tel. Wey. 238-W. 1913 Ford Auto and Motor Co., Bridge street, North Weymouth. 29 1/2

CLOTHING—Men's and young men's. Hand-made patterns. Two hundred suits, $4 to $12. Bargains not to be found elsewhere. Geo. A. Hunt, 75 Front St., Weymouth. 11 1/2

CAN place a few mortgages, with private parties, and on reasonable terms if property is right. Address Box 333, E. Weymouth. 11 1/2

FOR SALE—To close out a stock, two good heavy express harnesses and one carriage or buggy harness. W. T. Heffernan, harness maker, Broad street, East Weymouth. 10 1/2

FOUND—Strayed on my premises Sunday morning, June 15, a black and white Holstein Cow, about 3 years old. Owner apply to Andrew Coleman, 144 Allen street, East Braintree, prove property and pay charges. 14-16

TO LET—2 furnished rooms; also wanted plain washing and ironing, curtain laundering a specialty. Apply at 1029 Commercial st., East Wey. 11-15

TO LET—Tenement of Keith street, rent $7.50. Apply M. R. Wright, agent, 57 Commercial street, Weymouth. 9 1/2

TO LET—A house of 7 rooms on East street near Keith's factory. Apply to W. H. Pratt, Broad street, East Weymouth. 11 1/2

WANTED—Girls to work on folding paper boxes. No experience necessary. The A. O. Crawford Co., Inc., South Weymouth, Mass. 13-14

WANTED—A Boy for office work. Apply at factory of ALDEN, WALKER & WILDE, East Weymouth. 14 1/2

WANTED—Experienced Girls on power machines; steady work, good pay. BIRD & RIPLEY CLOTHING CO., Hingham, Tel. 39-W. 14 1/2

WANTED. People to know that it costs only 25 cents to make known their wants in this column.

LOST SAVINGS BANK BOOK. Savings Bank Book as listed below is lost, and application has been made for payment of the account in accordance with Sect. 40, Chap. 599, of the Acts of 1908 and amendments thereto. Payment has been stopped.

LOST—Deposit Book No. 10450 of the Weymouth Savings Bank is reported lost.

LOST—Deposit Book No. 11083 of the Weymouth Savings Bank is reported lost. 12-14

Real Estate Do you want to BUILD or BUY? I have property for sale in Weymouth and vicinity, of all kinds. Call and see me and make known your wants Reasonable terms.

GAREY'S REAL ESTATE AGENCY 733 Broad Street East Weymouth. Telephone

Golden West Furniture Dressing. WHEN YOUR FURNITURE LOOKS DULL and NEEDS BRIGHTENING and CLEANING UP use the GOLDEN WEST FURNITURE DRESSING (Not a Polish.) J. H. MURRAY, dealer in Paints, Oils and Hardware, East Weymouth, Agent.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts PROBATE COURT. NORFOLK, SS. JOSEPH HENRY MARTELL. late of Weymouth in said County, deceased, intestate: Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Julia A. Martell of Weymouth, without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the ninth day of July, A. D. 1913, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation, once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Weymouth Gazette, a newspaper published in said Weymouth, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

WEYMOUTH AND EAST BRAINTREE

—Mrs. John M. Nash and Mrs. Frederick King of Abington have been visiting friends in town.

—Frank Burns has resigned as gate-man at the Tufts crossing of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. George Remington of Hingham has taken his position.

—Miss Catherine Griffin of Elliott street and Allan Lawson graduated from Thayer academy this week. Miss Griffin will attend Simmons college and Lawson will enter Harvard.

—Lewis Hunt is going on a trip to Europe. He sails the last of this month.

—The body of Thomas Hennessey was brought here Sunday from Roxbury and interred in the family lot at St. Francis Xavier cemetery. Deceased was for years a resident of this place. He is survived by his widow, two sons and five daughters.

—Miss Esther W. Bicknell arrived home from Mt. Holyoke college last Saturday. Miss Bicknell was accompanied by Miss Cora Cornhill, Miss Alice Ferris and Miss Eloise Knox, classmates at Mt. Holyoke.

—Edward Avery graduated from the Boston University Law school last week. In the fall he will open a law office in Boston.

—Miss Emma Willett has been sojourning in Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lund of Waltham have been here on a visit to his mother.

—Bertram Mann of St. Louis, Mo., has been in town on a visit to his mother, Mrs. B. J. Mann of Vine street.

—William Barnes has moved his family to Montello where he has taken a position.

—Miss Nellie Phillips of Hanover has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Whitten.

—Patrolman and Mrs. John D. Walsh and son, Herman are at Little John Island in Maine for two weeks.

—John L. Trainor who has been superintendent of a large shoe factory at St. Joseph, Mo., for the past eight months arrived home Sunday.

—Andrew Sargent of Berwick, Maine, has moved into the G. F. Curtis house on the corner of Webb and Richmond streets.

—Fred Sherrick and John Olsen are home from an outing of a week at Laccania, N. H.

—E. G. Clark of Broad street is to move to West street, South Weymouth, where he has built a house. The W. F. Leach house which he is to vacate is to be occupied by Charles T. Bailey who has sold his estate, corner of Front and Hunt streets, to John W. O'Connor, who buys for occupancy.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Bryant and Miss Helen Frank, went on an automobile trip Tuesday to Newport, R. I.

—Cornelius O'Connell was presented a lemonade set Saturday night at Burrell's alleys. He made the best record for the week a three string total of 355 pins.

—Thornton Niles graduated from the Huntington Electrical School, Boston, last Friday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Casey entertained Sunday his cousin, Mrs. James Lannon of Roxbury who is a sister of John L. Sullivan, and a party of friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Spillane attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Condon at Rockland Sunday.

—Miss Alice Dwyer of the high school teaching staff sustained a broken finger last Friday by a fall while attending the class day exercises at Tufts college.

—Mr. and Mrs. Shantus Poe of Medford spent the Seventeenth with his mother, Mrs. Cora Poe.

—John White and son, Timothy of Lynn, former residents, were in town on Sunday visiting friends.

—Loring Richards of Brockton has been visiting his brother, Frank W. Richards.

—Charles Williamson, Francis Neal and Edmund White attended the annual field day of the Junior Order of Moose at Providence, R. I., yesterday.

—Captain Patrick Sullivan's baseball team defeated Captain F. Lyons team in an exciting game Saturday 9 to 6.

—Rev. Herbert L. Senior, for several years a resident of this town, died at his home in London, England, a few days ago aged 72. His body was interred in the family lot in the cemetery at Goole. Deceased was for years pastor of the Congregational church in that place. He is survived by his widow, two sons and two daughters, Mrs. Percy B. Cook and Edwin R. Senior of this town, Mrs. William Hastings of Florida and Harold Senior of London, England.

—The surviving members of the old Tilden baseball team which in 1876 was one of the fastest semi professional teams in the state, are to play at Gardfield Park Fourth of July forenoon a team with Patrick Sullivan as captain. T. F. Mulligan will captain the Tildens. The members of the two teams headed by the Oriental Life and Drum Corps will march from Lincoln Square to Gardfield Park. Among those who will play with the Tildens are the following and with one or two exceptions former members of the old Tilden nine:—Chief of Police Frank Burrell and Gustavus M. Bates of Quincy, Luke Mulligan of Randolph, Selectman B. H. Woodsum of South Braintree, T. F. Mulligan of East Braintree, Edward Fenwick of Brockton, John Shaw of South Weymouth, formerly of the N. E. league, and Charles Grauzell of Quincy, formerly of the old Boston Nationals.

—A delegation from the Mission circle of the First Universalist church was entertained by Mrs. Alfred Rogers, a former member at her home in Marshfield, yesterday.

—Miss Annie Coyle, who was to have been bridesmaid at the wedding of her sister, Thursday evening, was taken suddenly ill Sunday, and was removed to the Carney hospital, where she is to undergo an operation.

—Miss Vera Goodwin of Somerville, a former resident has been in town visiting friends.

—Miss Charles B. Edwards and Miss Dorothy Edwards arrived in town Wednesday from Pittsburg, Pa., and will spend the summer at their home on Bellevue road.

—Miss Alice Donnelly of Brockton is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary A. Kelley.

—Edward Jones is to occupy the Patrick Coleran estate Washington street recently vacated by William Barnes.

—On Friday evening, June 27, 1913, at Union church, Weymouth and Braintree, a farewell reception will be given in honor of the pastor, Rev. R. H. Cochrane, to which all members and friends of the parish are most cordially invited.

Universalist Church. Children's Day was observed last Sunday at the First Universalist church in Weymouth Landing with a welcome exercise by four boys and recitations by Miriam Edison, Gladys Evans, Frances Drown, Marion Hunt, Helen Our, Stella Hunt and Hazel Our. The pastor, Rev. Rufus H. Dix, delivered an address and baptized several children. Mr. Franklin P. Whitten sang "Suffer Little Children," and there was chorus singing by the school, with Miss Emma L. Clapp at the organ.

WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS

—Robert Bates is making a visit with relatives in Stoughton this week.

—Mrs. Parker Pearson is entertaining her friend, Miss Martina Watson of Maine.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Humphrey of Boston has been visiting Mrs. James Humphrey.

—Miss Ruth Pettee has accepted a position as cashier with Humphrey Bros. at East Weymouth.

—Miss Addie Taylor has returned from a few days visit with relatives in Northampton.

—Miss Annie Jones has been a recent guest of friends in Wellesey.

—Miss Mary Humphrey has returned home to spend her vacation, after teaching in Virginia the past year.

—Mrs. Rufus Bates entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen of Stoughton on Sunday.

—The Old North Sunday School will observe Children's day, Sunday, June 29, and are planning to give a splendid concert in the afternoon.

—An all day meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society was held at the home of Miss Mary Loud on Monday. At one o'clock, the hostess, Miss Loud, served a delicious lunch on the piazza. The regular missionary meeting was held at three o'clock which proved to be one of the most interesting of the year. Letters were read from missionaries at Mt. Scitanda and South Africa and Mrs. Charles Taylor read a paper on China.

—The annual supper and reunion of the members of the Old North church was held in the chapel last Thursday evening. The supper committee, with Mrs. F. A. Richards acting as chairman, served a most appetizing supper. Rev. E. J. Yaeger gave the roll call, and fortyone members responded with a verse of Scripture, while many of the absent ones sent a message. Reports of the different circles and societies connected with the church were listened to. Also the report of the clerk was read. An interesting talk by the pastor, Rev. Mr. E. J. Yaeger, was given, which helped make the evening a pleasant and interesting one. During the evening Miss M. M. Hunt rendered a pleasing vocal solo. The singing of "Heavens Morning Breaks" by a quartet concluded the program and the reunion of this year was one of the pleasantest ever held and also was very helpful.

Officers Got Busy. The long looked for and prayed for happened Sunday morning. Long before the first note of the robin was heard Chief Butler with Officers Elbert Ford and Charles Holbrook called at the business house of John F. Owen, 63 Pond street, South Weymouth, where they found a half barrel of ale which they captured in the name of the Commonwealth and the eight men present got no more drink. The next move of the Chief was on the establishment of William F. Crean, 95 Lake street, East Weymouth. The assistants in this raid were inspector Fitzgerald and Officer Schofield. False traps in the walls came down and trap doors in the cellar came up revealing 154 half pints, 146 pints and 11 qts. all in readiness for the next customer or for the habitual pocket peddler.

It Depends. The Springfield Republican, replying to an inquirer who wants to know if children are worth while, says it depends on whether they're yours or the neighbors. That goes for dogs and chickens, too.—Kansas City Times.

EAST WEYMOUTH AND WEYMOUTH CENTER.

—William B. Shaw of Lowell was the guest over Sunday of his mother, Mrs. Robert B. Shaw of Central square.

—The contract of laying a concrete sidewalk from the Ford Furniture Co.'s store to Whitman road has been completed.

—It is reported that Henry C. Thompson is to erect a house on the lot on the eastern side of the new Masonic Temple on Broad street.

—Edward Robinson of Middle street has completed his third year's course of study at Amherst college and is home for the summer vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. David Kearns have returned from their wedding trip and have taken up their residence on Cedar street.

—The newly formed order of Moose of this section was represented at the convention of the order in Providence on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, by Louis M. Beach and Harry Vogel.

—With two fine days last Saturday and Sunday, the riding to Nantasket increased materially over any previous Sunday of this year. Police Officer Lawrence Schofield was on duty during the day in Jackson square and proved to all that he has not forgotten how to look after the traffic he took care of so well last summer.

—Daniel H. Clancy, Undertaker, Vine street, Weymouth. Tel. 336-W.—Advertisement.

—A large number from this place are intending to attend the performance of "A Midsummer's Night's Dream" to be given on H. B. Reed's grounds in South Weymouth, this evening under the auspices of the Village Study club.

—Stuart C. Vinal is home from Amherst Agricultural college. Mr. Vinal will spend the summer with his uncle, Arthur Cunningham of Middle street.

—Lester H. Cushing is entertaining Miss Myrtle Chase of Northampton.

—Commercial square has been regraded and several other much needed repairs made.

—Miss Persis Tuttle, principal of the Jefferson school will spend the summer vacation at her home in Warren.

—Mrs. James L. Lincoln of Madison street, is slowly recovering from a very severe attack of double pneumonia.

—Mrs. Mabelle Vogel is on a trip to Portland, Maine, where she is the guest of friends from Dorchester.

—Carl Tirrell has returned from a Boston hospital, where he has been undergoing treatment.

—The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans, in G. A. R. hall, next Monday evening, will open at 7 o'clock, instead of 8. At the conclusion of the meeting whist will be enjoyed.

—William Beveridge of Peabody, a former resident of this place, was in town on Sunday, visiting friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joshua E. Fabyan of Middle street, are the happy parents of a boy, born last Monday morning.

—The "Jolly Four" of this village held a dancing party in G. A. R. hall last Friday evening. Dancing was enjoyed from 8 until 12, with music furnished by Merchant's orchestra of three pieces. Ralph Chase was floor director, assisted by Elmer Sampson, Roderick Ellis and Everett Wise. During intermission refreshments were served by a committee, of which Alton Blanchard was chairman. The matrons of the affair were Miss Grace Mitchell and Mrs. Arthur Corthell.

—The alarm from box 225 last Saturday afternoon, about 3.30 o'clock, was for a woods fire in the vicinity of Middle and Essex streets.

—Ralph Chase of Middle street was the guest of Malden friends over Sunday.

—District Deputy George D. Bagley of this place was a special guest at the meeting of the Old Colony Encampment, I. O. O. F., in Brockton last Monday evening.

—James Flaherty, a conductor on the local street railway, is visiting at his old home in Newport, R. I.

—A band concert will be given in Jackson Square, this (Friday) evening by the Stetson Shoe Co. band.

—Miss Florence Lincoln of Maple street was one of the graduating class at Bridgewater Normal school this week.

—The Defender attended the muster in Charlestown on Tuesday. The East Weymouth engine finished in 19th place with a stream of 147 ft. 2 in.

—One hundred and thirty five pupils will change grades at the Jefferson school this year, divided as follows:—grade 1, 32; grade 2, 33; grade 3, 37; grade 4, 33.

—Mrs. Henry M. Vogell is rustivating with friends at Portland and along the Maine coast.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Colby of Littleton, N. H., are visiting Mrs. Colby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Vogell of Cedar street.

—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Fresch Jr., formerly of this place but now of St. Louis, Mo., will be glad to know that their son, has graduated from the high school and will take a course in chemistry at the M. I. T. in the fall. His father graduated in the class of '96. We wish this boy success and predict a brilliant future for him.

—The East Weymouth Branch of the C. and M. Alliance held a two days' session in the chapel on School street, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, with services at 10.30 a. m., 2, 3 and 7.45 p. m. and a short open air meeting in Commercial Square at 7 o'clock. Rev. William

KINCAIDE THEATRE HANCOCK STREET QUINCY CENTRE HIGH CLASS REFINED MOVING VAUDEVILLE PICTURES

Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. Prices 5c, 10c, 15c. Evenings at 7.45, 10c, 15c, 25c. NOW PLAYING, THE KINCAIDE PLAYERS, In Dutch Musical Comedy, "What Happened in Holland." FITCH B. COOPER, Rube Comedian, with Musical Saw. THE BOLDENS, Novelty Entertainers. NEW PHOTO PLAYS AND MUSIC.

FOURTH OF JULY! BATES OPERA HOUSE, TUES. EVEN'G June 24 Fourth of July Benefit Fund. PICTURES AND VAUDEVILLE. Admission 15c. DANCE AND ENTERTAINMENT TOWN HALL, EAST WEYMOUTH, Thursday Night, June 26 Admission, 25 Cents.

BASE BALL and BAND CONCERT At C. M. A. Saturday, June 21, AT 2.30 P. M. BATTLESHIP NEBRASKA NINE The team from the Battleship Nebraska are champions of the Navy, and a fast game is expected, as the C. M. A. nine has been materially strengthened for the contest. Ray Condrick will pitch for the Clapp Nine. ADMISSION 15c.

LAMSON AND HUBBARD STRAWS selected braids superior finish For sale by C. R. Denbroeder Large stock from which to select MEN'S and BOY'S SUITS AND FURNISHINGS 750 Broad St. East Weymouth "The White Store"

Franklin, superintendent of the New England work, presided at the sessions. Mrs. D. D. Tilden of Brockton and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nichol, returned missionaries from China with local speakers gave interesting addresses.

DO IT NOW. Weymouth People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late. The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home: John J. Norton, Weymouth, Mass., says: "I have observed the good effects of Doan's Kidney Pills in my home. One of the family had weak kidneys and complained of pains in the back. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Cascarella Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c C. C. C. Co. fall to cure, druggists refund money.

Mortgagee's Sale OF REAL ESTATE. By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Rose F. O'Brien to the South Weymouth Savings Bank, a corporation duly established by law, dated April 20, 1912, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 1212, page 57, will be sold at public auction upon the premises, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, on Saturday, the twelfth day of July, 1913, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated on the southeast side of Reed avenue, in that part of Weymouth, in the said County of Norfolk, called South Weymouth, containing by estimation 9,187 square feet, and thus bounded and described: Northeastly by said Reed avenue extending about seventy-five (75) feet; southwesterly by land now or formerly of Ann Brady extending about one hundred and twenty-five (125) feet; southeasterly by land now or formerly of Edmund Welch and of Stephen Donahue extending about seventy-five (75) feet; and northeasterly by land now or formerly of A. Elliott Vining extending one hundred and twenty (120) feet to said Reed avenue. Two hundred dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Subject to any taxes or liens in the nature of taxes, if any be due thereon. SOUTH WEYMOUTH SAVINGS BANK, By Fred T. Barnes, its Treasurer. George L. Wentworth, Attorney, 53 State Street, Boston. 14-16

NOTICE IN HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of H. MAX HARLOW, late of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to CLIFTON D. HARLOW, Administrator. Address: 70 Commercial St., Weymouth, Mass. April 2, 1913. Weymouth, Mass., June 11th, 1913. NOTICE IN HEREBY GIVEN that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the will of FRANCESCO LUCIANO, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bond as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called to make payment to ALLESSANDRO LUCIANO, MARGHERITA LUCIANO, Executors. Carmine Garafalo, 15 Tremont Street, Boston. June 19, 1913. 14-16

Weymouth Gazette

Tufts Library

AND TRANSCRIPT

WEYMOUTH, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1913.

VOL. XLVII. NO. 15.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Plans Are Crystallizing and Something Will Be Done.

The committee in charge of Weymouth Fourth of July celebration have put in a busy week and plans are nearly complete. The first event of the day will be in East Weymouth and is largely in the hands of the parade committee and this is the outline:—

At 8 o'clock a. m. a gathering at Grand Army hall where flags will be presented to all the school children by members of Reynolds Post 58 G. A. R. Children are requested to assemble by school, and give the flag salute.

At 8.30 a parade will be formed and as now outlined will be as follows:—
Chief of Police Butler and mounted police.

Chief Marshal Bradford Hawes and staff.

Emerson Band.
U. S. Marines.

Co. K. Mass. Vol. Militia.
Detachment of M. V. M. Scouts.

Sons of Veterans.
Reynolds Post 58 G. A. R. in auto.

Troop of Boy Scouts of America
Stetson Band.

The Board of Selectmen of Weymouth.
Board of Trade.

Fourth of July Celebration Committee.
School Committee, Superintendent,
Teachers and Scholars

Water Commissioners, Employees and Teams.

Fire Chief, Members of the Department and one piece of each apparatus.

Superintendent of Streets, Division Superintendents and Teams.

Moth Department, Superintendent with New Sprayer.

Assessors in Auto.
Regal Band.

Fraternal Organizations.
Historical Floats.

Trade Display.
Automobiles.

The head of the procession will form on Commercial street facing Madison Square; Fraternal Organizations on East street; Floats on Station street entering by Station avenue. Automobiles for G. A. R. Veterans, west side of Station street; Trade and Automobiles, Cottage street; Sons of Veterans, opposite G. A. R. hall.

The line of march will be Commercial street to Jackson Square, Pleasant street to Water, Water to Commercial Square, Commercial Square to Clapp Memorial grounds via Broad street.

NEW RAILROAD RUNS.

Summer Schedule in Force on Bay State Street Railroad Lines.

With the change of time and new pick of runs on the Bay State Street Railway last Saturday, several changes were made on the lines in this vicinity. The night crews shifted almost completely, while the day cars with a few exceptions, are the same as before.

On the day runs on the Rockland and Braintree line are Bert Nash and David Connell, Joseph Little and George Smith, Charles Nash and Parker Condrick, and Arthur Blanchard and Charles Loring.

On the East Weymouth-Braintree line, George Walker has James Ford again as a running mate, and Charlie Hollis and John Gannon are together.

George Maynard and James Thoms are on the East Weymouth and Quincy line, while on the East Weymouth and Hingham line are P. Kearns and Arthur Orcutt in the A. M. and Joseph Ashton and David Kearns in the P. M.

On the South Weymouth depot line Frank Maynard and Bert Loud are back from the Rockland-Braintree line, and with them are Joseph Ashton and D. Kearns in the A. M. and P. Kearns and Arthur Orcutt in the P. M.

On the Nantasket and Neponset line, three crews are sent out from the East Weymouth barn. They are H. Lovering and Alfred Sandburg, P. Flaherty and Louton Hutchinson and William Mullin and Charles Kimball.

Otis Wing and Everett Clapp are on the Queen Anne's Corner to Nantasket line with Walter Herman and Billy Moore and George Jones and Will Wilder.

The Green Hill to Nantasket line is operated by Harry Tabor and Louis Beach. The starters for the season are Morris Mullen at Nantasket, "Jack" Sullivan at Hingham Square and Joseph Ashton in Jackson Square.

Immense Auto Industry.

Few persons, however well they may be informed about the vast extent of the automobile industry, would estimate the consumption of cotton in making fabrics for motor vehicle tops and tires at anything like the true figures, which are about 1,500,000 bales.

ANNUAL REUNION.

Weymouth High School Alumni Association Entertains in High School Hall on Wednesday Evening.

With a reception, banquet, miscellaneous entertainment and dancing, the annual reunion of the Weymouth High School Alumni Association was held in the High school building in East Weymouth on Wednesday evening.

The affair was in charge of Edwin R. Sampson, Miss Mary L. Sheehy, Mrs. William M. Thayer, John A. McFann, Albert R. Humphrey, Miss Helen M. Curtis, Miss Florence K. Howe, Miss L. May Chessman, Miss Mary Fogg, Miss A. Lillian McGregor and John P. Hunt.

After a short reception in the assembly hall a delicious banquet was served in the gymnasium by Blanchard & Burrell, caterers of South Weymouth. The menu consisted of chicken, lobster and potato salads, banana fritters, frozen pudding, lemon sherbert assorted ices, lady fingers, macaroons, rolls and coffee.

Room 6, the reception room, was beautifully decorated with roses, peonies and deutzia and flags and banners. The decorating was in charge of Miss L. May Chessman.

The guests were cordially welcomed by the president of the association Edwin R. Sampson of North Weymouth and at the business meeting held from 7.30 to 8 o'clock, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Almon B. Raymond, president; Alfred Sheehy, vice president; Miss L. May Chessman, treasurer; Chas. H. Chubbuck Jr., secretary; Edwin R. Sampson, Fred V. Garey, John A. McFann, Miss Clara A. Reamy, Miss S. Lizzie Fisher, Miss M. Olive Nolan and J. H. Walsh, executive committee. The treasurer's report showed all bills paid and a balance of $85.09 on hand. The permanent fund of the association now amounts to $129.

Miss May Sheehy had charge of the evening's entertainment, which consisted of orchestra music by Maxin's orchestra, readings by Miss Flora Haviland of the class of 1910; and the comedy entitled "Miss Civilization," recently presented at the High school graduation. The parts were enacted by the following:

Alice Gardner, daughter of James K. Gardner, president of the L. I. & W. Railroad; Alice O'Connor "Uncle Joseph," alias "Gentleman Joe," William Reid
"Brock" Meakin, alias "Reddy, the Kid," Richard Lyons
Harry Hayes, alias "Grand Stand Harry," Urban Nolan
Captain Lucas, chief of police
James Sweeney
Policemen, Engineers

At the conclusion of the play, the floor was cleared and dancing was enjoyed until 12 o'clock with music furnished by Maxin's orchestra of five pieces. The floor was in charge of Albert R. Humphrey.

Mann-Clapp.

On Wednesday evening, June 18, Miss Carrie Otis Clapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Clapp of 293 Randolph street, South Weymouth, and Harold Olcott Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus N. Mann of Rockland, were united in marriage at the home of the bride by Rev. William Wallace Rose, pastor of the Second Universalist church of South Weymouth.

Miss Helen Clapp, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and W. S. Tower of Rockland was the best man.

The ushers were Percy Mann of Passiac, N. J., a brother of the bridegroom, John Clapp, a brother of the bride, Merton Loud and Charles Gardner of South Weymouth.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The couple stood beneath a floral arch of mountain laurel and ferns.

The bride was gowned in white satin with lace trimmings. The maid of honor was attired in blue messaline with point lace de sprit.

A reception followed the ceremony and a wedding lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann left at a late hour for a wedding trip to Nova Scotia and upon their return will reside on Howard street in Rockland.

Ouch!

Mrs. Eke—"There's no use. I can't get my husband to listen to common sense." Mrs. Wye—"Who did you get to talk to him?"

Simple Remedy for Burns.

Common whitening, mixed with water to the consistency of a thick cream spread on linen, forms an excellent local application to burns and scalds. The whole burnt surface should be covered, thus excluding the action of the air. The ease it affords is instantaneous, and it only requires to be kept moist by occasional sprinkling of cold water.

CLAPP LOSES 8 TO 7.

U. S. S. Nebraska Wins from East Weymouth Nine at C. M. A. Last Saturday Afternoon.

Before the largest crowd that has gathered on the C. M. A. field for many years, the U. S. S. Nebraska pinned defeat on the C. M. A. nine of East Weymouth last Saturday afternoon by the score of 8 to 7.

The Clapp Memorial nine should have won the game hands down as they outbatted and outplayed the visitors, but decidedly poor catching lost the contest after the C. M. A. boys had secured a lead of four runs in the seventh inning.

Ray Condrick was in the box for the C. M. A. lads and, barring a slight wildness, pitched well enough to have won. However, Drinkwater had a most decidedly off day, four passed balls being his share of the afternoon's misplays and unfortunately all four of the errors figured in the opponents getting runs.

Arble Dam and Gillis were in the lineup for the C. M. A. and both played fine games, Gillis making one circus catch on a Texas leaguer over shortstop. For the visitors Thompson was practically the whole show, this star getting a two base hit, a three bagger and a home run, the last named coming in the ninth inning and winning the game for the battleship boys.

"Scott" Gloster, the High school star at third for Clapp, was in the fray every minute and his home run in the 7th inning was a feature of the game.

Previous to the game the Clapp nine marched to the East Weymouth station and met the Navy nine and rooters on their arrival on the 2.21 train from Boston. The two teams and visiting rooters formed in line and with Chief of Police Patrick Butler and Patrolmen Larry Schofield, A. H. Pratt, Thomas Fitzgerald and George Nash at the head, followed by "Jack" Easton as drum major and the U. S. S. Nebraska band of 25 pieces marched to Jackson Square and then up Broad street to the C. M. A. field, where, for an hour before the game and between the innings, the band gave an excellent concert of popular and classical music.

After the game the team and band were tendered a reception and banquet in the C. M. A. building. The score of the game follows:—

U. S. S. NEBRASKA
Baldwin, p	bh po a e
Wick, rf	0 2 3 0
Meachum, c	0 0 0 0
Thompson, 1b	0 12 0 0
Butler, 1b	3 1 0 0
Owens, 3b	1 7 0 0
Gaskins, cf	1 1 1 2
Seiger, 3b	0 1 0 0
Bayer, ss	1 0 1 0
Moss, cf	0 1 3 0
	0 2 0 0
Totals	6 27 8 2

CLAPP MEMORIAL

CLAPP MEMORIAL
Gloster, 3b	bh po a e
Orr, 2b	1 0 0 1
Drinkwater, c	1 3 4 0
Dam, 1b, 1b	3 9 3 1
A. Emery, cf	1 10 1 0
Gillis, ss	2 3 1 1
W. Humphrey, rf	2 0 1 1
Condrick, p	0 0 5 1
Berry, rf	0 0 0 1
Doble, rf	0 0 0 0
Totals	11 27 14 6

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
U. S. S. N. 1 0 0 2 0 0 4 0 1—8
C. M. A. 3 0 0 0 0 0 4 0 0—7

Runs made by—Baldwin, Meachum, Thompson 2, Butler, Owens 2, Gaskins, Gloster 2, Drinkwater 2, Dam, A. Humphrey, Gillis. Two base hits—Emery, Thompson. Three base hits—Humphrey, Thompson, Baldwin. Home runs—Gloster, Thompson. Stolen bases—Meachum 2, Butler, Owens, Dam, Gillis, Barry. Struck out by—Baldwin 11, Condrick 8. Sacrifice hits—Baldwin, Wick, Gaskins. Double play—Condrick to A. Humphrey to Gloster. Hit by pitched ball—Owens. Passed balls—Drinkwater 4. Time—1 hr. 45 m. Umpire—Fitzpatrick.

Citizen's Association.

The annual meeting of the Citizen's Association of Weymouth and East Braintree was held in Pythian hall Weymouth Landing on Wednesday evening with the President, R. B. Worster, in the chair. The following were elected for the coming year: Russell B. Worster, president; W. F. Holgate, vice president; John P. Hunt, treasurer; A. W. Davis, secretary; Charles L. Abbott, D. A. Donovan, F. J. O'Connor, R. J. Donnelly, W. S. Wells and E. M. Alexander executive committee.

The association adjourned until Wednesday evening September 24. A collation was served during the evening.

Naturally.

"Pumps lead a vegetable sort of life, don't they?" "Of course they do. Aren't they beasts?"

UNDEFEATED HUNT SCHOOL NINE

Front row, left to right—Hegarty, 1f; Lukeman, c; Sweeney, mascot; Murphy, rf. Second row—Nadell, 1b; Olsen, rf; Langford, capt. and p; Crehan, cf; Haviland, 2b. Standing—WLittle, 3b; Dwyer, ss.

For the third consecutive year the Hunt grammar school nine are champions of the town. This fast aggregation of ball tossers have met all the grammar school nines in town and defeated them all, and to fittingly wind up the list of victories, the Noah Torrey school nine of Braintree was taken into camp by the overwhelming score of 17 to 1. The Bates school team of South Weymouth was defeated twice, 21 to 4 and 13 to 12; Athens of North Weymouth succumbed twice, 7 to 3 and 8 to 1; the Pratt school aggregation of Lovells' Corner were conquered 14 to 4, and the James Humphrey school nine of East Weymouth were defeated twice, 2 to 1 and 10 to 9, the last contest going 10 innings.

George Langford was captain of the nine and did the bulk of the pitching.

Behind the bat, Lukeman took care of the batters offered by the twirlers of the nine. At short Leo Dwyer gathered everything that came his way and also did some twirling. Nadell played first in grand style and Haviland occupied the second station. Whittle showed the fans how the third corner should be played and in the outfield, Hegarty, Crehan and Murphy got everything that went by the infield.

Wedding Reception.

Nearly 300 relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram W. Neels who were recently married, gathered last evening, at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Neels, 16 Concord street, at a wedding reception from eight until ten o'clock. The house was very prettily decorated with palms, ferns, cut flowers and asparagus vine, the color scheme of the parlors being green and white and the dining room pink and the happy couple received before a bower of palms and roses.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Bertram W. Neels and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Neels. Mrs. Neels, the bride, was in white chiffon over white silk, draped with rose buds, and carried a bouquet of brides roses. She wore a diamond sprig in her hair. Mrs. Neels Sr. was in brown brocaded silk. The ushers were Messrs. Wm. E. Wellington, Clarence W. Southworth, Ernest Mason Chester Gray and Claude Simmons.

At the wedding repast the table was elaborately decorated with banks of roses and other flowers. Miss Elsie Fuller presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. C. E. Prior at the coffee urn. The servers were Misses Mollie Flanders, Beatrice Sprague, Grace Burden, Agnes Benton, Ruby Morley of North Adams and Florence and Annie Neels.

Mr. and Mrs. Neels were the recipients of many beautiful presents and there were friends present from North Adams, New Bedford, Dedham, Quincy, Weymouth, Boston and the suburbs. Mr. and Mrs. Neels, who was Miss Marion Torrey, will make their home in Weymouth. They were married in this city by Rev. L. H. Bugbee, D. D. at the Center Methodist parsonage, a death in the groom's family being the cause of their changing their plans of having a reception immediately after the ceremony. Mrs. Alice Dwyer attended to the decorating and Miss Ethel Dwyer presided at the piano.—Malden Evening News.

Piano Recital.

A musicale was given by the pupils of Miss Doris L. Torrey at her home on Lovell street North Weymouth last Saturday afternoon, June 21st. The program was as follows:

"In the Hay"	(Helm)
"In the Ball Room"	(Schytle)
"The Casino"	(Ebba Rosindale)
"Melody in G"	(Shockey)
	(Zlicher)
	Clifford Stiles
Duet	(Dana)
March	(Lynes)
Waltz	(Clifford and Bernice Stiles)
"Climbing Rose"	(Eggeling)
"The Little Volunteer"	(Guy)
	Eleonor Hilton
"In the Boat"	(Franke)
"Helter Skelter"	(Franke)
"Song of the Brook"	(Shackley)
"May Pole Dance"	(Guillet)
	Bernice Stiles
Duet, Valse et Galop	(Lemoine)
Beryl Brayshaw and Ebba Rosindale
Etude Impromptu	(Orth)
Nocturne in G Minor	(Chopin)
	Doris L. Torrey

The well-fed and well-cared-for fowl is the one that brings the profit.

Mr. Stephen Horseman.

Mr. Stephen Horseman died at his home corner of Hayward and Shaw streets, East Braintree, Sunday after a few days' illness, aged 60. Deceased was employed by Stone Bros. Blacksmiths, South Boston, for the past 28 years. He was a member of Manchester Union lodge of Odd Fellows of Quincy. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Roy and Harold of this place and Ora of Boston and two daughters, Miss Gertrude Horesman of this town and Mrs. Elsie Walker of Quincy.

The funeral took place from his late residence Tuesday afternoon and was attended by many of the friends of the deceased. Rev. N. A. Price of the East Braintree Methodist church conducted the service, Miss Agnes Marr and Mrs. Flora Goss sang, "The Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "When the Mists Have Rolled Away." There were many floral tributes including pieces from Manchester Union of Odd Fellows and the firm and employees where he was for years employed. A large delegation from Manchester Union lodge attended the service and the ritual of the order was performed at the grave at Mt. Wollaston cemetery, where the interment took place.

Mr. William M. Jordan.

Mr. William M. Jordan died at his home on Allen street, East Braintree, Wednesday morning after a long illness. He was born in Portland, Maine, July 22, 1838, and was a son of William M. and Elvira J. Jordan. When a small boy his parents moved to Denmark, Maine, where he resided until a young man when he came to this town. For a time he followed the trade of boot maker being employed by Cotton Bates. He then entered the express business being employed by Elisha Haskins, then with Baker's express, and later was for years messenger for Bourke's express until he accepted the agency of the New York and Boston Dispatch Express Company for Weymouth and East Braintree. For the past two years he had been janitor of the Abraham Lincoln school. In August, 1864, he was married to Miss Eunice Bowditch, who survives him together with two brothers, W. Irving Jordan of East Braintree and Russell Jordan of Denmark, Maine, also two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Bean of Denmark, Maine and Mrs. George Steele of Minneapolis, Minn. He was member of Delta Lodge of Masons of Braintree and South Shore Commandery Knights Templars of East Weymouth. The funeral will take place from his late residence Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Recover Stolen Tombstone.

A stolen tombstone was unearthed during excavations following a recent fire in a shop @ Girvan (Ayr). The workmen dug out a tombstone in an excellent state of preservation, bearing the following inscription: "By Anthony Campbell, Saddler, in Memory of His Daughter, Jean. Died July 1st, 1826. Aged 18 Years and Six Months." It is believed that the stone was stolen from the old Girvan churchyard and converted into a hearthstone, a quite common occurrence in the early days of the nineteenth century.—London Mail.

Mrs. Albert B. Sanborn.

In the death of Mrs. Cora Augusta Sanborn, the wife of Albert B. Sanborn, recently, Weymouth has lost another of its old residents.

Mrs. Sanborn who was 74 years of age, was born in Weymouth and was a daughter of the late Henry and his wife, Caroline Stuart. Mrs. Sanborn was a member of the Woman's Monday Club and also of the Old Colony Club. She had also been a member of the Pythian Sisters and at the time of her death was a member of the Soulgan Country Club of New Ipswich, New Hampshire, where she spent the summer. She was a member of the Weymouth Historical Society also.

She taught music in Weymouth for 20 years and was organist at the Baptist church for 10 years and taught music in Sandford, Maine, for 8 years where she resided for some years.

On the maternal side, her great grandfather was Captain Dudley of the Revolutionary war, and on her father's side, her great grandfather, Obadiah Williams fought at the Battle of Bunker Hill and was in the Expedition of Benedict Arnold to Quebec.

In the later years of her life, Mrs. Sanborn became a member of Trinity Episcopal church of Weymouth and was confirmed by Rt. Rev. William Lawrence D. D. in 1894. At the time of her death she was clerk of the parish of Trinity church, a member of the music committee and loved and respected by all and she will be very much missed by the people of that church and her death is a great loss to the church.

She leaves a husband and two sons and a grandson. The funeral took place from her late residence on Williams avenue on Thursday afternoon, June 12, Rev. William Hyde of Trinity church officiating. The interment was in the family lot in the Weymouth cemetery.

The pall bearers were Frank Stuart, Dr. Arthur Collins Stuart of Boston, George Thomas Harlinton of Weymouth. The funeral was largely attended.

Elbridge W. Burrell, Dead.

Elbridge Warren Burrell, aged 77, a life long resident of East Weymouth, passed away the latter part of last week at his home, 32 Cedar street.

Funeral services were held Sunday from his late home and were conducted by Rev. Walter H. Commons, pastor of the East Weymouth Congregational church. Mrs. Harold W. Joy, Miss Ethel F. Raymond, Miss Mary H. Garey and Miss Susie E. Raymond sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "Passing Out of the Shadow" and "Gathering Home." The bearers were H. E. Raymond, James Q. Goodspeed, Fred N. Bates and James N. Davis. Interment was in Fairmount cemetery.

Why He Was Glad.

The man with the long beard stood pensively at the curbing gazing at the passing traffic in the street. "I hail with delight the advent of the automobile," he muttered aloud, "for no longer need I fear crossing the street lest some hungry horse mistake me for a walking bale of hay."

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER.
 PIANOS FOR SALE
 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
 Telephone 1153-M Quincy.

TOWN CLERK'S OFFICE
East Weymouth Savings Bank.

OFFICE HOURS, 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m.
 At all other hours at Residence on Hillcrest Road, opp. Catholic Church.

JOHN A. BAYMOND, Town Clerk

South Shore Co-operative Bank.

MEETINGS First Monday of Each Month.
 At 9 Commercial Street, at 7.30 P. M.

Money to Loan at Each Meeting on Mortgages of Real Estate.
 For information, or Loans between the meetings, apply to

CHAS. G. JORDAN, Sec'y-Treas.
 Weymouth, Mass.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, South Weymouth, Mass.
 Fogg Building, Columbian Square.

CAPITAL, $100,000. Surplus, $30,000

DIRECTORS:
 EDWARD B. KEVIN, President.
 EDWARD B. HASTINGS, Vice-President.
 J. H. STETSON, Cashier.
 ALLEN B. TING, GORDON WILLIS.
 CHARLES H. PRATT, THERON L. TIRRELL.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH SAVINGS BANK
 Incorporated March 6, 1868

OFFICERS 1913:
President - R. WALLACE HUNT.
 Vice-Presidents, (SALIN J. FITCHER, MON B. BAYMOND, Treasurer, FRED T. BARNES.
BANK HOURS:
 9 to 12 A. M.; 2 to 4 P. M. Also Mondays, 7 to 9 P. M. Saturdays, 9 to 12 A. M.
 Deposits go on interest second Wednesday of January, April, July and October.
 Dividends payable on and after the second Wednesday of January and July.

GRANITE TRUST COMPANY
 QUINCY, MASS.
 Successor to National Granite Bank
 THEOPHILUS KING, Pres.
 B. F. CLAPLIN, Cashier.

General Banking Business transacted. Liberal Accommodations to Business men.
 SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT, ONLY $5.00 A YEAR.

AMERICAN EXPRESS CHEQUES for sale
THE EAST WEYMOUTH Savings Bank.

President, W. H. PRATT
 Vice-Presidents, T. H. Emerson, E. M. Carter.
 Treasurer, John A. Hayward
 Clerk, John A. MacFauln

BOARD OF INVESTMENTS:
 W. A. Drake, W. H. Pratt, T. H. Emerson, E. M. Carter, BRADFORD HAWES, EUGENE M. CARTER.
 Dividends payable on the 10th of April and October.
 Deposits placed on interest on the 10th Jan., April, July and Oct.

BANK HOURS DAILY,
 From 9 to 12 A. M., and 2 to 5 P. M., excepting Saturdays, when the hours will be from 9 A. M. to 12 M. only. Mondays 7 to 8.30 p. m. for deposits only.

HAYWARD BROTHERS
Carpenters and Builders : : :
 QUINCY AVENUE, East Braintree.
 P.O. Address, Weymouth.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

The column under this title will be given to the people for a free discussion of any and all subjects, the management of the paper distinctly disclaiming all responsibility for the opinions here expressed.

Let Us Get Together.

Editor Gazette:
 After residing in another town for many years I have again returned to my native town, and taken up my residence there. In my younger days I took an interest in everything concerning the town's welfare. I was not in favor of a Fourth of July celebration, believing that money and efforts could be used in a more practical manner, but now that the town, for the first time since the dedication of the Soldiers' monument, has got together and is united in favor of the project, I hope that every resident will give the coming event his heartiest support.

Last year I was in Rockland during the week's celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the settlement of Abington. The three towns Abington, Rockland and Whitman, united as one man in striving to make the event a success. They succeeded. I never witnessed anything to compare with it.

Here were three towns, that formerly had been one, alienated and separated by sectional differences, uniting as one to celebrate their common birth. I wrote several articles for the Rockland Standard complimenting the people for their enterprise and public spirit.

Now here is Weymouth, possessing advantages that Abington never even dreamed of, but sectional quarrels have prevented any real, genuine town celebration.

Let every one feel that he is interested in the coming event, talk it up, lend assistance with his voice and money, and if we all do this the people of the good old town will have no occasion to look back to July 4th, 1913, with any feeling of regret.

Yours truly,
 WILLIAM W. BURKE.

Genius and Appetite.

"Men of genius are almost uniformly large eaters," says Dr. Hanover. "They require a tremendous amount of good, wholesome food, for long continued and exhaustive intellectual work demands full nutrition to repair the waste brain tissue."

"Scott is said to have attributed his tremendous capacity to his power of digestion and the good, wholesome restraints of appetite in his youth."

"Most of the French leaders, in war, politics and literature, were men whose digestions were powerful and appetites unflagging. Napoleon's capacity to eat was enormous, as was Talleyrand's and Mirabeau's. German statesmen and poets seem to have had the same reputation, for Bismarck and Goethe were both of them noted for their insatiable desire for food."—Chicago Tribune.

Turnips as They Grow.

It has been said that the seed of the globe turnip when growing increases its own weight fifteen times within a minute. The seed of this turnip is exceedingly minute, being not larger than the twentieth part of an inch in diameter, and yet in the course of a few months the seed will be developed by the soil into 27,000,000 times the bulk of the original, and this in addition to a considerable bunch of leaves. On pent ground turnips have been found to increase by growth 15,500 times the weight of their seed each day they stood.

WEYMOUTH Savings Bank.

CHARLES A. HAYWARD, President.
CHARLES T. CRANE, Treasurer.
VICE PRESIDENTS:
 Francis H. Cowing, Henry A. Nash.
BOARD OF INVESTMENTS:
 CHARLES A. HAYWARD, FRANCIS H. COWING, HENRY A. NASH, EDWARD W. HUNT, WALTER P. SANBORN.

Bank Hours—9 to 12 A. M., 1.30 to 5 P. M., 6.30 to 8 Monday Evenings, and 9 to 12 P. M. Saturdays.
 Deposits placed on interest on the First Monday of January, April, July and October.

MEETINGS OF THE Selectmen & Overseers of the Poor

SELECTMEN
 Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
 Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
 George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
 Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
 Henry E. Hanley, East Weymouth.

Meetings Savings Bank Building, East Weymouth, Every Monday, during the municipal year, from 2 to 5 o'clock p. m.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR
 Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
 Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
 George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
 Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
 A. Francis Barnes, South Weymouth.

Meet at the Town Home every first Tuesday of the month and at the Town Office, East Weymouth, every third Tuesday from 2 to 5 o'clock p. m.
 Weymouth, March 14, 1913.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills for Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe.

ON THE FARM

Read this column and you can have it delivered at your house with something new every week for a full year by sending $2.00 to this office now.

The well-fed and well-cared-for fowl is the one that brings the profit.

Fall chickens find a good market as roasters during January, February and March.

An egg laid in November and December will bring twice as much money as the one laid in March or April.

Arsenate of lead is better than Paris green, because it is more lasting or adhesive and does not burn the foliage.

Remove the harness and heavy collars from the horses during the noon hour. You will note the difference in their work in the afternoon.

Watch closely the melons already planted. Cover them with cheese-cloth-covered boxes until they are tough enough to withstand the striped beetle. It is not too late to plant melon seeds, in the north, ern states.

It is said that a "Pound Sweet" or a "Rhode Island Greening," grown in the shade, are hardly fit to eat, but grown in the sun are delicious. Take note about planting and pruning, and remember about the fad for color just now. Perhaps you can see why the fad.

Feed all your breeding stock well. There is a response to conditions of health and vigor in the parents that is half the battle in later life. Strength from good treatment is an acquired character, which is heritable, no matter what the "high brows" of science say.

Tools and machines are made of different materials and in different ways. Some are much better than others. The ones made of better material will cost more money, but they will last longer and be of better service, which means that they are cheaper in the end.

Some silage may be fed to idle horses, but for working horses the amount must necessarily be limited because of its bulky soft character. In time of drought silage—often the only feed readily and cheaply obtainable—may be used to form portion of the ration, but it can not be made the mainstay of horses, as can be done with cattle and sheep.

Thinning is one of the most profitable orchard operations. Practical orchardists have given thinning a thorough trial, and have found it pays—decidedly. The annual pruning helps to thin the fruit. Many growers prefer to delay the hand thinning until after the "so-called "June-drip."

There is an increasing demand for heavier horses on the farms. Deeper and better tillage must be practised in the future, and this requires heavier machinery and more motive power. There are two ways of increasing this power. One is by increasing the number of light horses. But the most economical way is to increase the weight of the horses. This will reduce the farm labor force; will decrease the amount of equipment necessary in requiring less stable room and less harness, and the cost of feed will be lessened.

A cow does not fully mature until between the age of three and four years. When bred at fifteen months reproduction puts a task on the system which is unquestionably sustained at the expense of development—that is, growth in the young animal and to some extent at the expense of her stamina. This means that a heifer which reproduces thus early will not attain to the same size as if she reproduced at a later period.

The successful poultry raiser—he who grows chicks from the egg to maturity—must in order to avoid retarding their growth, provide them with roomy, clean quarters, clean feed, fresh water and shade and must wage an everlasting war on lice, which thrive during the summer months. The beginner, through his inexperience, does not realize the importance of these vital essentials, the observance of every one of which is absolutely necessary if success is to be attained in poultry raising.

The pursuit of dairy farming depends for its success upon certain fundamental conditions. First, the owner of the business himself, or otherwise the agent or manager who has the immediate control and personal direction of the work, must have a natural fondness for animals, prompting to generous and kind treatment, as well as good judgement in selection, breeding and care. It is not sufficient that he should be a horseman or fond of cattle in general. For best results he should have a special liking for the dairy cow over and above all other animals.

On account of their large water content potatoes alone are not suitable for feeding swine. Experimental results at many stations have shown that 1 pound of grain is equal to about 4 pounds of cooked potatoes or 4 1/2 pounds of potatoes raw. On this basis any one can figure out the probable return of potatoes when fed to hogs. They must be fed with grain to return satisfactory results. Probably not more than 4 pounds of potatoes should be used for each pound of grain where rapid gains are desired. As is well known potatoes, should be cooked, using as little water as possible, mashing them and mixing in the grain while the potatoes are hot.

Subscribe now for the Gazette and Transcript. It will cost you less than four cents a week to get this department.

A ROYAL FROLIC.

Napoleon's Practical Joke limited Empress Eugenie.

A fondness for joking is often a trait of royal personages, who perhaps find in nonsense a cheerful relief from the decorous tedium of their official appearance. The New York Times recalls an instance in which the beautiful Empress Eugenie of France was victimized, with the connivance of her husband, Napoleon III., by an amazing pantomime.

A special embassy had arrived in Paris from Burma. Three days after its arrival the court was notified that the solemn reception of the mission by their majesties would take place on the following evening at the Tuilleries. At the appointed hour Napoleon and Eugenie, surrounded by all the principal members of their household, took their places upon the dais in the throne room.

The emperor gave orders for the introduction of the embassy, the sliding doors at the farther end of the great hall were thrown open, and a number of white-robed and fantastically turbaned individuals, some of them with long, gray beards, crossed the threshold, threw themselves prostrate upon the floor and began to crawl toward the throne with the most extravagant contortions.

The tax upon the gravity of the gentlemen and ladies present was so great that only the frowns of the emperors—as usual, most concerned that proper dignity and gravity should prevail—prevented them from laughing outright.

Two-thirds of the way to the throne the three venerable leaders of the embassy stopped wriggling and began to turn somersaults. Eugenie indignantly believed that to be the proper method of showing respect in Burma, for when the ordinarily impassive emperor began also to laugh she reconstituted with him for his want of decorum in tones that could be heard by those who stood round the throne.

At that moment the most aged of the Burman ambassadors reached the foot of the throne in a final somersault that landed him prostrate at the feet of the empress with such violence that his head flew off and with it, also, his long white beard. To the astonished gaze of Eugenie were revealed the features of the Marquis de Gallifet, afterward a celebrated general and minister of war, but then a dashing cavalry captain. Every one broke into shouts of laughter, especially when the remaining members of the embassy removed their beards and turbans and were recognized as members of the imperial entourage.

Every one enjoyed the joke except the empress. She burst into a flood of tears, declared that she had been cruelly insulted, swept out of the throne room and left Paris in anger on the following morning. Every one who believes that practical jokes, even when amusing, have a savor of meanness will be glad to know that it was several weeks before Napoleon could make his peace with her.

England's Boasted Power.

Europe combined against France and was beaten, the failure being largely due to us. The balance of power being overthrown the war continued for twenty-three years. Our fleet was powerless to bring it to a close. It continued for nearly ten years after our signal victory at Trafalgar. Our army was only able to land very small numbers in Spain and formed about a quarter of the allied force which defeated Napoleon at Waterloo. We have never fought a great land campaign against a European power in the whole of our history. We have never faced a European enemy with more than 40,000 men. The balance has been made up by foreigners. And on the strength of that we talk of having beaten the world—Lord Dunsy in the National Review, London.

Salt in Butter.

The notion that salt "brings out" the flavor of butter is ridiculous. It spoils it. In the gastronomic countries of Europe the consumer would no more allow salt to be put into the butter he eats than into the cream he puts to his coffee or the ice cream he takes for his dessert. There is absolutely no excuse for continuing the barbarous practice of denaturing American butter by the addition of salt. It does not even help to make it keep.—Henry E. Fink's "Food and Flavor."

The Warm Turn.

Mrs. Guagge—You miserable woman! Out of my way! You're always kicking because I want to get out some-where!

Mr. Guagge—Now, look here—Mrs. Guagge—Not a word from you, now! Come here and look at my dress!

Mr. Guagge—Now, look here, Janie, if you mean to imply I'm a bootworm I'm darned if I stand it.—St. Louis Republic.

The Hingham National Bank
 Established 1833
Solicits Individual and Business Accounts
 (Interest is paid on accounts of $500 and over)

The officers of the Bank are always ready to give their personal attention to the needs of the depositors, and to advise in business matters

THE HINGHAM NATIONAL BANK
 B. A. Robinson President
 E. W. Jones Cashier

NEW APARTMENTS

AT 688-698 BROAD STREET, EAST WEYMOUTH

Eight new houses, entrances 686 Broad street. Apartments of 4 rooms, all rooms facing the rising sun. Each apartment has 4 rooms and bath, gas and electric lights, hard pine floors, open plumbing. Rent $12 and $14 per month.

CALL AT ONCE!

Apply on premises or to

I. NESSON

101 Tremont street Boston
 TELEPHONE 6128 MAIN

Right Now Is Your Time

We can show you what you want in

House, Camp, Lawn or Plaza Furniture

Are you looking for Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Curtains and Fixtures, or Paper Hanging? If so, see our stock. Carpets Laid, Curtains Hung, Upholstering and Repairing by experts. Do you need a Summer Cooking Stove? We have the best. How about taking the baby out! We have the carriages.

FORD FURNITURE CO.

Broad St. Tel. Con. East Weymouth

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Beef, Lamb, Pork, Ham, Bacon and Fowl
Fresh Vegetables as fast as they are in the Market.
Choice Dairy Butter and Fresh Home Laid Eggs
Pure Food Canned Goods from the Best Packers
High Grade Teas, Coffee, Spices and Groceries of all kinds

F. H. SYLVESTER

Broad St., Telephone 121 W. East Weymouth.

TRY A BOTTLE OF

Armour's Best Grape Juice

10c 25c, 50c a bottle It is delicious

SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY

DANIEL REIDY, Pharm. D.
 DRUGGIST

781 Broad St., East Weymouth, Mass.

Our Line of

Standard Garden Tools

is the most complete in town. Drop in and look our goods over. We know we can satisfy you.

M. R. LOUD & CO.

COLUMBIAN SQUARE, SOUTH WEYMOUTH.

Advertise in the Gazette.

Remember the Hot Days Last Summer

Buy Your Electric Iron NOW!

Weymouth Light and Power Company

JACKSON SQUARE, EAST WEYMOUTH

GEORGE W. PERRY, Gen. Mgr.

SPRING DELICACIES

ASPARAGUS, TOMATOES, CUCUMBERS, DANDELIONS, RADISHES, LETTUCE, SPINACH, RHUBARB, BERMUDA ONIONS NEW MAPLE SUGAR and SYRUP

Hunt's Market Grocery

Washington Sq.

Telephone 152

Weymouth

La est Styles in

MENS' STRAW HATS

— ALSO —

Childrens' Turkish Towel Hats.

Full Line of

Mens' Balbriggan & Porosknit Underwear

— ALSO —

MENS' B. V. D. UNION SUITS

Men's and Boys Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps

W. M. TIRRELL

771 BROAD ST

TELEPHONE 66 WEYMOUTH

EAST WEYMOUTH

Is Your Coal In ?

A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT.

AUGUSTUS J. RICHARDS & SON

BEST GRADE OF RANGE AND FURNACE COALS.

GENUINE LEHIGH IN STOVE AND EGG SIZES.

WOOD SBWED AND SPLIT TO ORDER.

HAY, GRAIN AND FLOUR.

Weymouth and Quincy.

Tel. Con.

SAVE TIME!

Time is Money.

Save it by doing business by Telephone

You get your message and its reply for one price

Avoid mistakes and avert misunderstandings by direct dealing

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has connections everywhere

"To save time is to lengthen life"

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company

NURSERY STOCK

A full line of Trees, Shrubs, and Vines, Fruit and Ornamental. Asparagus, all best selected stock at reasonable prices. First Class Spray Pumps and Solutions.

Charles L. Merritt

257 Main Street

SOUTH WEYMOUTH

TEL. 249-M

Hours: 4 P. M. to 7 A. M.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion from whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American. A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers. MUNN & Co 361 Broadway, New York Branch Office, 65 F St., Washington, D. C.

WEYMOUTH FIRE ALARM BOXES.

- 12-Pole, River and Parnell Sts
13-Bradley Fertilizer Works.
14-Pole, Wessagusset Road.
114-Pole, Wessagusset & Hobomac St.
15-Pole, Bicknell square
115-Pole, Pearl and Norton Streets.
16-Pole, Bay View Street.
116-Pole, Bridge and Saunders Sts.
17-Pole, Sea and North Sts.
18-Pole, Lovell and Bridge Sts
19-Pole, Church and North Sts
21-Pole, Grant and High Sts.
221-Pole, Wharf St.
23-Pole, Jackson Square.
223-Pole, Commercial and Putnam Sts
24-Pole, Electric Station, private
24-Pole, Charles St.
25-Pole, Central square.
225-Pole, Middle St., near Lake.
26-Pole, Broad St., near Essex.
226-Pole, Cedar and Hawthorne Sts.
27-Pole, Broad St. and Bates Ave.
28-Pole, Shawmut St.
29-Pole, Strong's Factory, priv.
31-Pole, Summer and Federal Sts.
32-Pole, Congress and Washington Sts
34-Engine House No. 3.
35-Pole, Prospect and Granite Sts
36-Pole, Garfield Square
38-Pole, Washington Square.
39-Pole, Commercial Street, opposite Wharf.
41-Pole, Lovells Corner
42-Pole, Elm and Pleasant Sts.
43-Pole, Nash's Corner.
45-Pole, cor. Park Ave. and Main Sts.
46-Pole, Middle and Washington Sts.
47-Pole, Pleasant and Canterbury.
48-Lake View Park.
49-Pole, opp. Pratt School, Pleasant St.
51-Pole, Pleasant, opp. Otis Torrey's.
52-Engine House No. 5.
53-Pole, Independence Square.
54-Pole, near Depot.
55-Pole, Pond St., near Robinson's
56-Pole, Thicket and Pond Sts.
57-Pole, May's Corner, Union St.
58-Henry Chandler's, Union Street.
61-Corner Randolph and Forest Sts.
62-Pole, E. C. Staples, Main St.

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS.

At 7.30 o'clock a.m., no school in any grade during a.m. The same signal at 8 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during a.m. The same signal at 11.45 o'clock, no school in grades 1 to 4 inclusive during p.m. The same signal at 12.45 o'clock p.m., no school in any grade during p.m.

Art or Service

A leader of a chamber-music string quartet used to say that he was never sure when he approached a private house whether he would be let in with the caterer's men at the back or with the honored guests at the front.—New York Evening Post.

CHURCH SERVICES

Under this heading the pastors of ALL the churches are cordially invited to make such announcements of services, etc., as they may wish. We only stipulate that such notices be inserted shall reach us at the latest on Thursday morning of each week—the day before publication.

OLD SOUTH CHURCH (South Weymouth). Rev. H. C. Alvord, pastor. Morning service, 10.30. Sunday School, 11.45. Baraca Young Men's Class, 12.00. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6.15. Evening service at 7.00. Thursday evening, 7.30.

TRINITY CHURCH (Weymouth) Rev. William Hyde, rector. Service with sermon at 10.30 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. Sunday School at 12.00 m.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (South Weymouth). Rev. Albert V. House, Pastor. Morning service at 10.30 Sunday School at 12 m. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6 p.m.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (North Weymouth). Rev. Rufus H. Dix, pastor. Sunday school at 1.15 p.m.; preaching at 2.30 p.m.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH (East Braintree). Rev. T. C. Collister, pastor. Morning service, 10.30. Sunday School, 11.45. Junior League, 4.30 p.m. Epworth League, 6.30 p.m. Evening preaching service 7.15. Prayer meeting, Friday evening, 7.30. A cordial welcome is extended to all these services.

BAPTIST CHURCH (Weymouth's Day services: Preaching at 10.30 a.m. and 7.00 p.m. Bible School 12 p.m. Prayer meeting, Thursday, evening, 7.45 p.m. Y. P. S. C. E. at 5.45 P. M. on Sunday.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (Weymouth and Braintree). Rev. Robert H. Cochrane, pastor. Morning service at 10.30 Sunday School at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.00. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. All are invited to attend these services.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH (East Weymouth). Rev. George A. Grant, pastor. Morning worship and preaching at 10.30. Sunday School at noon. Epworth League meeting at 6.30 p.m. Evening service at 7.00. Tuesday evenings, 7.30 p.m. prayer meetings. Holy Communion, first Sunday in every month, following morning service.

OLD NORTH CHURCH (Weymouth Heights). Rev. Edward Yaeger, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Evening service at 7.00. Sunday school at 11.45 a.m. Thursday evening at 7.30. A cordial invitation is extended to all of these services.

PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (North Weymouth). Rev. Charles Clark, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday school, 11.45 a.m. Y. P. S. C. E. 6.15 p.m. Evening service at 7.00. A cordial welcome is extended to all of these services. Preaching at both morning and evening service.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (East Weymouth). Rev. Walter H. Commons, pastor. Morning worship at 10.30. Sunday school at 11.45. Evening service at 7.00 Tuesday evening service at 7.30.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (Weymouth). Rev. Rufus H. Dix, pastor. Sunday morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 m. Y. P. C. U. at 5.30 p.m.

SECOND UNIVERSALIST CHURCH (South Weymouth). Minister: William Wallace Rose. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 m.

PORTER M. E. CHURCH (Lovell's Corner) Rev. J. W. Reynolds pastor. Preaching service at 10.30 a.m. Sunday School at 11.45 a.m. Epworth League at 6.00. Social and Praise service at 7 p.m. All are cordially invited.

CHURCH OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER (South Weymouth) Rev. D. J. Crimmins, rector. Sundays—Masses 8.00 and 10 a.m. Sunday School at 2.30 p.m. Rosary and Benediction at 8.30 p.m. Week days: Mass at 7.30 a.m.

CHURCH OF THE SACRED HEART (Weymouth) Rev. J. B. Holland, rector. Sunday—Masses at 7.30, 10.00 a.m. Sunday School at 11.00 a.m. Vespers at 4 p.m. Week days—Mass 7 a.m.

CHURCH OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION (East Weymouth) Rev. James W. Allison, rector. Rev. Maurice Lynch, assistant. Masses Sunday at 8 and 10.30 a.m. Sunday School at 3 p.m. Vespers at 7.45 p.m. Masses week days at 7 and 7.30.

ST. JEROME'S CHURCH (North Weymouth). Pastor, Rev. James W. Allison, Assistant, Rev. Maurice Lynch. Mass, Sunday at 9. Sunday School at 3.

ZION'S HILL CHAPEL (East Weymouth) Social service at 2 and 6.30 p.m. Rev. E. W. Smith, Preacher.

ALL SOULS CHURCH (Braintree). Preaching at 10.30 A.M. Kindergarten class in charge of Miss Elizabeth B. Pray at 10.30. Second session of this class at 11.45. Regular Sunday school at 11.45. All are welcome.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST (of Quincy, Alpha Hall cor. Hancock St. and Cottage Ave.) Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Wednesday, 7.45 P. M., an experience and testimony meeting. Reading room open every week day from 3 to 5. All are welcome. Subject, Sunday morning June 29, "Christian Science."

Speedy Coasting.

The finest coasting hill in the world is at St. Moritz, in Switzerland. The hill is a mile long, and to coast down it takes, on an average, sixty-seven seconds. The Cresta course, as it is called, is iced and runs between snow banks. Its turns are dangerous, and only skilled coasters venture on it. They use the American flat toboggan, lying on the stomach and steering not with the feet, but with lifts and jerks of the body. A few seconds from the start on this course the coaster is going at a speed of twenty miles an hour. This speed soon increases to forty miles. Faster and faster he flies, swooping down the precipitous Church leap at the speed of an express train, and then on to the long, straight Sluethcock run. To fifty, to sixty, to seventy to eighty miles an hour the pace grows till it is like the flight of the swiftest bird through a blinding blur of snow. Yet the speed still increases, and at the end of the Sluethcock eighty-seven miles an hour is registered. These Cresta course speeds are not problematical. They are the accurate timings of an electric clock.

A Transmigration Story

By F. A. MITCHEL

In the city of Bangalore, in India, one Kadur, an old man, lay dying. His wife knelt by his bedside—there were no children—waiting for the end and praying to Vishnu in his behalf. In India they believe in the transmigration of souls, and the woman prayed that in order that she might have her husband near her his spirit might pass into the body of one of her pets, of which she had a great many. When she was satisfied that he was dead she left the body where it lay and, weeping, went out to another room. As she opened the door she saw in the middle of the floor a tiny monkey that had just been born looking up at her with a peart face and a pair of bright eyes. Whether or not it was her imagination that made this human-like countenance appear in her eyes to resemble her late husband it is impossible to say. Certain it is that she took the little creature up in her arms and hugged it to her bosom, at the same time thanking her god that he had answered her prayer, for she did not doubt that the soul of him she loved had passed into the body of the monkey just born.

Now, the woman was rich, and this was what she did. She made a will, leaving all her property to the monkey so long as it lived, and at its death it was to go to her nephew, Rustom, a boy of whom she was very fond. She also bequeathed the monkey to a woman in whom she had great confidence, who was to have a large sum for its care as long as it lived. It was thus made the interest of its keeper to preserve its life as long as possible.

The widow lived three years after her husband's death. When she died her nephew, Rustom, was about eighteen years old and had a sweetheart. Naturally he wished to marry and needed the money. But the woman, Dulmara, who was getting large pay for taking care of her ward, realizing that Rustom was interested in its death, redoubled her efforts to keep the monkey alive. She put it in a wing of the house, had iron bars put on all the windows, and no one was permitted to go in to it without passing through apartments occupied by herself.

But these precautions were not necessary, for Rustom had been brought up to believe that his uncle's soul was in the monkey and if he killed it he would be guilty of a crime. But Agya, the girl he wished to marry, had been to a Christian mission school and did not believe in the transmigration theory. She could not see why a monkey should prevent her and the youth she loved from enjoying a fortune. Indeed, she thought no more of killing a monkey than a dog. Besides, it was plain that Dulmara might at the monkey's death substitute another monkey in its place and keep on thus substituting monkeys till the crack of dawn. She therefore determined that the little beast should die.

Fortunately for her intention, Rustom's love for her was not known to Dulmara, nor had Dulmara ever seen her.

One day Agya appeared to Dulmara and said that she had a singular dream. But before she told the dream she looked about her at the pets which were wandering around. A hen was sitting on some eggs, upon seeing which Agya told her dream. She said that a woman had appeared to her in her sleep and said that her husband's soul was in a monkey in a house which she described. The woman herself had died and passed into the body of a cow (sacred in India). The cow was about to die, and the woman's spirit had been permitted by Vishnu to be born in the house where her husband lived in a monkey's body. She would come out of an egg. The girl was instructed to go to the house described, and the first chicken hatched in that house would contain the spirit of the wife of the man whose spirit inhabited the monkey. She was to have the care of the chicken.

There is no end to the superstition in the people of India, and Dulmara believed the story. While the two were talking a wee chick picked through the shell of an egg, and this settled the matter. Dulmara did not dare to turn Agya away for fear of the wrath of the lady from whom she drew her stipend. The girl was at once taken into the household and given the care of the chicken. She took it in to see the monkey, but the little brute evidently did not recognize it as its wife, for it permitted to get at it would have eaten it.

Agya, having effected an entrance to the household as well as access to the monkey, lost no time in carrying out the rest of her plan. Soon after her arrival the monkey sickened and died the next day.

Though Agya did not admit that she had poisoned the monkey, she threw off the sham she had put on and, leaving her little ward to take care of itself, went to Rustom and told him that he had succeeded to his fortune. She being a witness to the death of the monkey, he had no trouble in securing his property. The two were married, but Agya did not then dare to tell her husband that she had killed the monkey lest he consider her a murderer.

Years after, when she had converted him to her religion, she confessed. He was scarcely prepared for such a sin, and in order to make him feel more comfortable she told him that his uncle had appeared to her in the form of a bird of paradise and thanked her for poisoning it.

LADIES

We have opened a Special Department for you on MONDAYS, from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M.

Shampoo, Facial Massage, Etc. at reasonable prices. Only the best of work in a modern, up-to-date shop. We solicit a trial.

Amos Cantara

THE CENTRAL SQUARE BARBER

Central Square

East Weymouth

Chas. H. Chubbuck, Jr.

34 CHARLES STREET EAST WEYMOUTH, MASS. Telephone, Weymouth 149-W

Insurance

of every Description

Boston Office:

69 KILBY STREET Telephone — Main 4095

Lawn Mowers Sharpened

Mail us a card, or telephone, and we will call and get your Lawn Mower, Clean, Sharpen and return the same for

ONE DOLLAR PRICE & HENDER

24 Elmwood Park, Eastl. Braintree. 7-15 Telephone 68-1 Braintree.

JOSEPH W. McDONALD UNDERTAKER

and REGISTERED EMBALMER

Office and Rooms: 751 BROAD ST., EAST WEYMOUTH (Old G.A.R. Hall) Tel. 427W.

Residence, 651 Broad St. Tel. 427R.

N. R. ELLS General Teamster!

LIGHT AND HEAVY TEAMING.

Sand and Gravel furnished at short notice. All Jobs promptly attended to.

So. Weymouth, Mass. Telephone 116-1 Weymouth

CHICHESTER PILLS

DIAMOND BRAND. Ladies! Ask your Druggist for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. TAKE NO OTHER. Buy of your Druggist and ask for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for twenty-five years regarded as Best, Safest, Always Reliable. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS TIME TRIED EVERYWHERE WORTH TRIED.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of CARRIE J. BLAKE, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to WILLARD J. DUNBAR, Administrator. June 12, 1913.

Weymouth Gazette
AND TRANSCRIPT

Published every Friday by the
Gazette and Transcript Publishing Co.
WEYMOUTH, MASS.
M. E. HAWES,
Editor and Manager.
NORTON F. PRATT, Assistant.
MARK J. GARRITY, Supt.
Telephone 145, Weymouth.

Subscription Price $2.00 per year in advance.
East Weymouth Office: Washburn Block, corner of Broad and Shawmut Streets.

Entered in The Post Office at Weymouth, Mass., as Second Class Matter.

FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1913.

The Gazette & Transcript is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News-stands in the Weymouths and at the South Terminal, Boston.

All communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed. Notices of all local entertainments to which admission fee is charged must be paid for at regular rates, 10 cents per line in the reading matter, or regular rates in the advertising columns.

The 144th "Commencement Week" of Dartmouth college opened on the 21st instant and the prize-speaking contest for the Badge medal was a leading feature. Daniel Webster graduated from the same institution 113 years ago and up to date neither Dartmouth or any other college has given to the world his equal.

The usual order has been, or will be, issued to certain officers to round up and kill all dogs wandering at large after the first of July which are not properly collared, marked and numbered. In the language of the immortal Patriot Henry, "I know of no way of judging for the future but by the past," and by that, one or two dogs may be killed, officers will collect a few licenses which they have no legal right to collect and the balance of the dogs will go on as dogs have been going.

On the 3d day of July, 137 years ago, when the draft of the Declaration of Independence was completed the immortal John Adams who had been at work with Jefferson and others in preparing the document, remarked, "Future ages will celebrate this day with booming of cannon and patriotic exercises." The "declaration," however, was not made public until the following day, hence we celebrate the Fourth, and as it comes on Friday this year, we must ask everybody to help us out on Thursday so that we may join other citizens in a proper observance of the day. This paper will come out on Thursday and we must have copy early in the week.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature of Massachusetts for the year 1913 has had its long drawn out regular sessions and closed last Friday with a so-called "Mock Session" but when put with the many others it will be hard work to distinguish the last from many which went before and now what is the result.

When the work is summed up and issued in the annual "Blue Book" the people will have the largest book of the kind ever issued and much of it will be what its title indicates a real Blue Book affair.

It will tell the people why we have the largest State tax in the history of the Old

Commonwealth, upward of $8,000,000. Not satisfied with a liberal increase of salary for individual members, and a session extended over a period of time sufficient to pass all needed Laws and Resolves, there must be a lot of recess committees appointed with a per-ferm pay of $5 and junketing expenses attached. Not satisfied with a State over-burdened and governed by Commissions it must needs create several new commissions with a salary of $8,500 for the chairman and $8,000 for minor members.

During the term the House and Senate passed 952 Bills and Resolves which received the signature of the Governor, 32 which were vetoed and 10 of these passed over the veto. In addition to these more were either killed outright or referred to the next Legislature.

The Blue Book will tell you of Automobile and Motor cycle acts added to the tome on some of such matters already piled up to be derided and ignored by officers.

The Book will tell you about hygienic marriages and that in order to get married, if you are not already so, you must go before a proper tribunal and state that you are not now and know of no reason why you should be deprived of any or all the rights, benefits and privileges of a married life.

You can learn in the Book all about explosive golf balls, length of hat pins, in short a little sprinkling.

Less than the usual amount of time was devoted to the liquor question. A so-called "Day Light" will make it impossible for a man to get a legal drink before 8 a. m. was killed in its infancy but a commission will consider the methods of treating moderate or confirmed drunkards.

To get back however to our point of starting it was a big legislature that gave us a state tax of $8,000,000 of which Weymouth's part is over $18,000 a raise of $5,000 from last year's which with our increased County tax will add a little over $1 per $1,000 to our tax rate.

THE GRADUATES.

Every year in the month of June, all over our broad country, thousands of boys and girls, and young men and women are graduating from schools, colleges, academies and seminaries.

Some are to continue this education in a school or college of higher grade. Others have completed their education and go forth to begin their life's earnest work.

The phrase, "completed their education," is a misleading one: for who completes his education until he ceases to live? And even after death, it is the belief of many that our education still goes on. But, however this may be we wish to point out to our young graduates that they have only just begun their education in this life when they graduate from the high school, the academy, the seminary, or the college. That henceforth, every day will bring its own peculiar and important lesson and that the manner and thoroughness with which these life's lessons are learned and used to mould their character will have perhaps a greater effect upon their usefulness in the world and their own well being and happiness than their previous school education.

Well grounded in book knowledge the graduate may be, and probably is if he has been a faithful servant, and thus he is well fitted for a start in life but if he holds that his education is completed and that he knows it all,—we have all seen just such young men—then he will require some hard knocks to bring him down to a realizing sense of his own littleness and insignificance in the great world, before he will be spurred on to renewed exertions.

The college educated young man who does not continue to study, through a

Makes Home Baking Easy

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

course of reading that shall include the best magazines and the best books of the present day and thus keep up with the things and events of the world, will wake up some day and find that many of his mates who had perhaps far less of early advantages, have attained a larger practical knowledge and have passed him in the race.

A college education is a grand beginning; but, to be of the greatest use, must be looked upon as a beginning only. This is an era of the world when progress is being made with astounding rapidity in the solution of all social and economic problems. Deep thinking is more universal than ever before, and much of the knowledge taught yesterday is perhaps obsolete today unless modified by the light of the latest thought of the world's greatest minds.

When Father Sings.

Little Mildred lives on the Kansas side and is four years old. She has a good voice and likes to sing. Her father has a very poor voice and wouldn't carry a tune on his shoulders. He is aware of his failing. So is Mildred. Whenever he starts to sing the rasping noise grates on her music loving ears, and whenever Mildred is naughty, father threatens her thus: "Mildred, if you don't behave papa will sing."

Mildred immediately turns up her nose, puts her hands behind her back and walks away. But she always behaves.—Kansas City Star.

The Hens Were Jealous.

"My dear," said the professor's wife, "the hens have scratched up all that eggplant seed you sowed."
"Ah, jealousy!" mused the professor. And he sat down and wrote a twenty page article on the "Development of Envy in the Minds of the Lower Birds."—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Handy Woman.

Mrs. Housewife—I never had a laundress who could do up white dresses as nicely as your wife does. Rastus (grinning admiringly)—Ya's 'm Mandy's a right handy 'ooman. She kin do me up jes' as easy as one o' dem air dresses.—Puck.

Made It Clean.

Mrs. Youngbride (to grocer)—Shall I open an account, or do you prefer to have me pay for what I get? Grocer—Both, madam.—Boston Transcript.

Making a friend laugh is often the best help we can give him.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hagarty celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at their home on Pearl street last Wednesday, June 25.

—Miss Lillian Trussell has been taking a forced vacation this week on account of illness.

—Gardner Alden has taken a position with the Boston Rubber Shoe Co. at Malden, and began his duties there last Monday morning.

—Miss Bertha Estes has been a recent guest of Miss Bessie Halliday of Cambridge.

—Mrs. Wilson E. Beane entertained a committee from the Pilgrim circle at a covered dish party last Friday. At this time arrangements were made for a lawn party to be held in the near future.

—Fred Stoddard is having electric lights installed in his home on North street.

—Mrs. W. L. Burton of Belmont, Mrs. Edward Bacon and daughter, Ethel of Malden, and Miss Sadie White of Jamaica Plain were the guests of Miss Emma Huntress last Saturday.

—Mrs. T. H. Powers, Miss Ruth Powers and Warren Powers spent the week end with relatives in Belmont.

—The Stetson Shoe band has been engaged for the Universalist Men's club lawn party on June 30.

—Mr. and Mrs. Adams of Barre, Vt., have been the guests of Mrs. H. D. Adams of North street the past week.

—The rose gardens of Mrs. J. H. Pratt and Mrs. E. F. Beale are very beautiful. Many rare varieties are now in blossom.

—Mrs. George Ames has been entertaining Mrs. Frank Benson and son, Francis of Swampscott, have been visiting Mrs. A. E. Beale the past week.

—Miss Rose Page of Bristol, B. I., is at home for the summer vacation.

—Miss Isabel Young celebrated her 8th birthday on Tuesday afternoon by entertaining a number of playmates at her home on Sea street. Out door games and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

—J. H. Shaw left Tuesday morning for Kittery, Maine, driving over the road.

—Raymond Nash entertained a party of young people at his home on Shaw street last Tuesday afternoon.

—Miss Mabelle Bartlett has closed her school duties at Wakenfield and will spend the summer with her father, A. W. Bartlett of Lovell street.

—Warren Clark has returned from Cushing academy and is working at the store of H. O. Tutty for the summer.

—William Hackett who has been away several months on account of his health, returned home on Sunday.

—Miss Mabel S. Robbins, a former resident of North Weymouth but now a teacher in the high school at Wallingford, Conn., is visiting her aunts, the Misses Robbins of North street.

LOVELL'S CORNER

—Miss Evelyn Clark of South Boston has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Mand Smith.

—The monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the vestry Monday evening after which a social will be held.

—Mrs. Walter Pratt and daughters, Catherine and Susie have been spending the week at Fort Point.

—There will be no services at the Porter church the first two Sundays in July.

—The Porter Sunday school went on their annual outing to Nantasket on Wednesday of this week.

KINCAIDE THEATRE
HANCOCK STREET QUINCY CENTRE
HIGH CLASS REFINED MOVING
VAUDEVILLE PICTURES

Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. Prices 5c, 10c, 15c. Evenings at 7.45, 10c, 15c, 25c.

NOW PLAYING,
THE KINCAIDE PLAYERS,
In Merry Musical Comedy, entitled
"NITA THE GYPSY."
Chantrel, Schuyler & Green
17 minutes of song, comedy and dance,
"A Hot Time in Old Home."
Nash & Evans,
Roller Skate Dancing Duo.
Moving Pictures of Quincy.
FEATURE PHOTO PLAYS AND MUSIC

BEGINNING MONDAY,
THE KINCAIDE PLAYERS
In a Rural Musical Farce,
"THE WEDDING AT BANGOR."
The Zara Carmen Trio,
Novelty Hoop Rollers, Batoon, and Double Stick Jugglers.
Alderman Van Anderson,
Telling His Political Satire.
All New Photo Plays.
REGULAR ORCHESTRA.

MONEY MAKING SALE

'Till July 4th we have the following BAR-GAINS to offer:

- White Ratine, Special Value . . . . . 25c.
- Genuine Linaire, 25c. Value . . . . . 15c.
- Assorted Gingham, 32-inch wide, 25c. Value . . . 17c.
- Collar and Cuff Sets, 25 and 50c. Value . . . . . 15c.
- Ripplette Petticoats, 75c. and $1.00 Value . . . . 69c.
- Kant Crack Kollars for men . . . . . 25c.

A Genuine Money Saving Sale. You Can't Afford to Miss It.

Vaughan's Daylight Store.

BATES BLOCK, WASHINGTON SQUARE.

Vacation Shirts for Men

CLEVER PATTERNS and DAINTY COLORINGS

In every one of these new Summer Neglige Shirts. They are cut coat style, made of fine percale and madras, and have either attached laundered or soft French turned cuffs.

THE PRICE IS ONE-FIFTY.

Summer Undergarments for Men

A complete showing of Balbriggan, White Lisle, B. V. D., and Porosknit, in all styles, per garment, 50c

Men's Union Suits, in several styles, at $1.

Peerless Union Suits, 3-4 length, at $1 and $1.50

LAMSON STRAW HATS, WITH THE IVY HAT BAND—THE ONLY STRAW HAT THAT CANNOT BLOW OFF, $2 to $3.

GEORGE W. JONES

1 Granite St. "Just around the Corner" Quincy

Advertise in the Gazette

ATTENTION.

To the Children of East Braintree and Weymouth:

IF YOU want to attend the Fourth of July Parade, also get an Automobile Ride, report at our office, 7,30 A. M. on the morning of the Fourth.

OLD COLONY GAS CO.

BASEBALL and WRESTLING

Clapp Memorial Grounds,
East Weymouth, Saturday, June 28, 1913.

Professional Wrestling at 3 P. M.
Archie Jeannette of C. M. A. vs. Joe Willis, "The Swedish Cyclone of the Mat," of Chicago. Best two fall in three. Dr. W. F. Provan, referee.

Base Ball at 3.30.
Walkover No. 8 vs. C. M. A. Battery for C. M. A. Sullivan of Brown University and Drinkwater.

Do Not Fail

Any sick person without means residing within our delivery district who is in need of ice will be supplied without charge upon the simple request of any physician. We give the same service in these cases as we do to our regular trade, and only ask that the service be stopped as soon as the actual need is gone.

Wood Clean Coal Ice
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.
EAST BRAINTREE QUINCY
Telephone: Braintree, 25. Quincy, 232 W. 323 R.

C. R. Denbroeder
Large stock from which to select
MEN'S and BOY'S SUITS AND FURNISHINGS
750 Broad St. - East Weymouth
"The White Store"

Summer Necessities

Screen Doors, Catches and Springs of all kinds; Window Screens, all heights; Screen Netting, the best in the market; fully warranted Garden Hose, Couplings and Repair Kits. Bug Exterminators, Paris Green, Arnicia and Lead. Everything in Bay State Paints and Paint Products.

J. H. MURRAY
759 Broad Street - East Weymouth
TELEPHONE WEYMOUTH 73-J.

GENERAL SURVEYS TOPOGRAPHICAL SURVEYS
RUSSELL H. WHITING
CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR
56 Sea Street
NORTH WEYMOUTH, MASS.
SURVEYS MADE AND PLANS PREPARED FOR THE LAND COURT

GO TO LOUD'S FIRST
TO SAVE TIME, TROUBLE AND MONEY
FOR

Hardware, Cutlery, Paints and Oils
Family Groceries, Table Delicacies, Crockery, Patent Medicines
Cigars and Tobacco.

Jackson Square East Weymouth, Mass.

For The Highest Grade Porto Rico and New Orleans
MOLASSES
—GO TO—
GORDON WILLIS, THE COLUMBIAN SQUARE GROCER.
South Weymouth

Holbrook—Litchfield.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the year took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Litchfield of 46 Station street, East Weymouth, when their daughter, Miss Marcia Copeland Litchfield, became the bride of Frank Willis Holbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Holbrook of 55 Torrey street, South Weymouth.

The ceremony was performed at 7.30 o'clock by Rev. Dr. George A. Grant of the Methodist Episcopal church of East Weymouth.

The maid of honor was Miss Elsie R. Litchfield of East Weymouth, a sister of the bride and the best man was Frank M. Fernald of South Weymouth.

The ushers were Earl Bates and Arthur Hlatt of South Weymouth and Henry Litchfield of East Weymouth.

The double ring service was used. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Frank N. Fernald, a sister of the groom. The ring bearer was Paul C. Rivinius, nephew of the bride.

The bride was attired in crepe meteor with Princess lace trimmings. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid's dress was of blue embroidered chiffon over silk. She carried a bouquet of pale pink sweetpeas.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held from 8 until 10 o'clock. A wedding lunch was served by Bates & Humphrey caterers. During the reception a program of music was given by Mrs. Herbert Barry at the piano and Miss Hazel Clark of Hingham, violinist.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with laurel and crimson ramblers and cut flowers.

Guests were present from Allston, Wollaston, Beverly, Braintree, Dorchester, Hingham, Holbrook, Jamaica Plain, Lowell, Malden, North Scituate, Rockland, Winthrop, Somerville and the Weymouths.

Mr. Holbrook is one of South Weymouth's most popular young men. For a few years he has been connected with the J. W. Maguire Co. of Boston, agents for the well known Pierce Arrow automobile, as office manager and has made a large host of friends both in business and social life. He is now connected with the Stetson Shoe Co. of South Weymouth.

Miss Litchfield is well known all through this section, being prominent in social life and is extremely well liked by all who come in contact with her. For the past few years she has been connected with a Boston leather concern.

McDonald—McCue.

At the parochial residence of the Church of the Immaculate Conception last Wednesday evening Miss Margaret May McCue, daughter of Mrs. Ann Smith McCue of 804 Commercial street of East Weymouth, was married to Philip Saxton McDonald of 31 Nelson street, Brockton.

The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by Rev. Father James W. Allison, pastor of the church. The maid of honor was Miss Helen O'Dowd of Quincy and John P. Doyle of Brockton was best man.

The bride was gowned in white brocade satin with duchess lace trimmings. Her tulle veil was held in place with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor a niece of the bride, wore embroidered voile over pink silk messaline and she carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride from 6 until 10 o'clock. A wedding luncheon was served and there was orchestral music.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald left at a late hour on a wedding trip to the White Mountains and upon their return they will live at 898 South Montello street in Brockton, where they will be at home after the first of September.

Troop No. 2 Boy Scouts of America

A meeting of the troop was held last Friday evening at their rooms. Owing to the absence of the president, the assistant scout master presided.

Matters pertaining to the Fourth of July were discussed but definite action was postponed until the next meeting.

The scouts were on duty at the recent garden fete and made themselves generally useful in patrolling the grounds during the evening and assisting in other ways. Mr. Hoffman has extended to the troop his appreciation of their services and has also allowed them to use the boats and grounds anytime they may wish to do so.

The baseball scheduled for last Saturday afternoon was cancelled by the East Boston team owing to the absence of three of their players.

Capt. Studley is enjoying a two weeks' vacation which he is spending scouting in the wilds of Maine. The last reports from him were that he is having a first class outing.

As a result of the entertainment held in the church recently, the troop has $95 to add to the treasury.

The base ball team recently went to Winthrop to play the scout team there but a heavy thunder storm came up just when the word was given to "play ball." The game was postponed until some future date.

The Braintree scout team have cancelled all games scheduled as the base ball team has disbanded.

Troop No. 2 also Troop No. 3 of Lovell's Corner will take part in the Fourth of July parade on the morning of the 4th. It is hoped that the troops of the surrounding towns will join us and thus add to the number of scouts in line.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH

—"The Tomb of Flame," Bates' Opera House, June 28. 10 and 15 cents.—Advertisement.

—Work is rapidly progressing on C. T. Heald's new house on Columbian street.

—Miss Isabelle Cummings has gone to New Hampshire for the summer.

—Mrs. Rodney Adams of Hamilton has been visiting her father, Ellis J. Pitcher of Pleasant street.

—A delegation from the local grange attended the meeting in Marshfield last Saturday of Mayflower Pomona grange.

—Clark Reed of Yale college is home for the summer vacation.

—Rev. E. S. Teed, D. D., secretary of the Congregational Educational Society, occupied the pulpit of the Union church in this place last Sunday morning. Rev. Albert V. House, pastor of the church, preached the baccalaureate sermon at the New Salem academy, the scene of his first parish.

—The annual garden party of the St. Francis Xavier church parish will be held tomorrow on the church grounds on Pleasant street.

—The wedding of Miss Laura Rockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Rockwood of Reed avenue and Louis Seabury of East Weymouth will take place tomorrow evening.

—Albert Bennett of Union street is home for the summer from Pratt Institute in New York.

—At the morning service last Sunday at the Second Universalist church, Rev. William W. Rose preached on the subject, "The Book of Esther; Its Original Intent and Present Purpose."

—Daniel H. Clancy, Undertaker, Vine street, Weymouth. Tel. 336 W.—Advertisement.

—A. B. Raymond has been having several modern improvements made on his property on Pleasant street.

—Mrs. Nellie Joy of Malden, a former resident of this place, was in town over Sunday.

—Miss Elizabeth Garland of New Hampshire, who has been visiting Miss H. W. Barnes the past winter, has returned to her home.

—Mrs. William Simpson has been entertaining Mrs. Annie Flanders of Watertown.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the Old South church will hold a strawberry festival in the vestry of the church this (Friday) evening.

—Sumner D. Hollis of this place was recently elected president of the class of 1914 of the Connecticut Agricultural College where he attends.

—Leo Madden has taken a position for the summer as driver for Royden S. Tribon of North Abington.

—Mrs. Alfred Tirrell is quite ill at her home.

—E. B. Nevin is on a business trip to Augusta, Maine.

—Ernest L. George was the guest over Sunday of his father in Taunton.

—Seth C. Vining who has accepted a position as chauffeur in Medford, was in town over Sunday visiting relatives.

—N. E. Williams is able to be out again after his recent illness.

—Mrs. G. B. Cushing of Main street has returned home from a trip to Gloucester.

Universalist Church

Morning worship at 10.30; Sabbath school at 12. The pastor will exchange with the Rev. Will Calvin Harvey of Tufts college and W. Norwell.

The Sabbath school will take its usual excursion in conjunction with the Old South and Union churches of this town. The day is July 1; the place, Island Grove; the program, games, basket lunch and one big royal picnic. Tickets entitling one to 30 cents worth of value are selling for a quarter. This is to be a real picnic, you had better not miss it.

Old South Church Notes.

The Baraca Young Men's Class has elected the following officers: president, Harold Parsons; vice president, Ralph Talbot; secretary, Edwin Parsons; treasurer, Ralph Morrison.

The officers of the Ladies Aid society recently chosen, are: president, Mrs. Amelia J. Loud; vice presidents, Mrs. F. A. Alvord and Mrs. E. S. Barrett; secretary, Miss Janie Loud; treasurer, Miss Charlotte Tirrell; chairman of directresses, Mrs. Frances Paine.

The last social and entertainment of the Ladies Aid society, before vacation will be held in the vestry on Friday evening.

The pastor's vacation will occur in July. The regular services will be omitted except that the two Sunday evening meetings will be united in one, with the C. E. topics as the subject to be held in the vestry at 6.30 o'clock each Sunday evening with a cordial welcome for all.

The communion service will be held next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At 6 o'clock the older members of the Junior C. E. Society will be graduated, and will be welcomed by the Senior C. E. Society with special exercises open to all. The 7 o'clock service will be omitted.

Each Pew a Heater.

A Nuremberg church seating 1,300 has an electric heater for each pew. A three-inch iron tube incloses a smaller tube wound with resistance wire, and this heater runs in front of the seat and along the back of the pew ahead. Each heater has its own switch.

PRESENT SHAKESPEARE DRAMA.

Highly Successful Performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" Given by Village Study Club at South Weymouth.

One of the most magnificent and pleasing amateur performances ever witnessed in this town was given on the beautiful grounds of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Reed, corner of Main and Columbian streets, South Weymouth, last Monday evening under the auspices of the Village Study Club of South Weymouth, when Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was ably presented by members of the club.

The grounds and scenery for the performance were most beautifully arranged and an extra large gathering enjoyed the open air presentation. The lighting for the event was furnished through the kindness of the Weymouth Light & Power Co. and every detail in this part of the work was most carefully looked after by the company. Powerful calcium lights were used to give the brilliant lighting effects.

The drama was given under the personal charge of Mrs. H. B. Reed with Bates Torrey as chairman of the committee on music.

An orchestra composed of Miss Pauline Bergeron and Silas Rousseau, first violin; Victor DuBois, viola; Bates Torrey, cello; Alfred Hastings, flute; Seth C. Vining, Jr., clarinet; Miss Theodora Kelth, cornet and Miss Mildred French, piano played the overture by Mendelssohn, the "Dance of the Sylphs" by Berlioz between the first and second acts, the regular "Intermezzo" after the second act, the "Nocturne" at the conclusion of the third, and the "Wedding March," also the "Clown's Dance" and the finale. The orchestra was under the leadership of J. W. Calderwood, supervisor of music in the Weymouth public schools.

The principal characters were taken by Walter L. Bates as Theseus; George L. Wentworth, Egens; John Vining, Lysander; Earle W. Bates, Demetrius; Howard H. Joy, Philostrate; Prince H. Tirrell, Quince; Louis A. Cook Jr., Snug; Frederick G. Bauer, Bottom; Charles F. Brown, Flute; Herbert W. Rockwood, Snout; Warren Bates, Starveling; Miss Ruth N. Tower, Hippolyta; Mrs. Walter Field, Hermia; Miss Annie Dean, Oberon; Miss Inez Allen, Titania; Miss Marion Tirrell, Puck; Miss Hester Swan, Peach Blossom; Miss Jeannette Shaw, Cobweb; Miss Ethelyn Doble, Moth; Miss Dartha Head, Mustard Seed and Miss Ruth G. Allen, Fairy.

The fairy chorus was sustained by Miss Madeline Hocking, Miss Ruth Allen, Miss Evelyn Greeley, Miss Addie Deane, Miss Marion Howe, Miss Helen Simpson, Miss Herberta Stockwell, Miss Dartha Head, Miss Hester Swan, Miss Jeannette Shaw and Miss Ethelyn Doble. The soloist was Miss Madeline Gale.

The costumes were extremely rich and true to character and all the several parts were very well enacted indeed. The beautiful lawn and woody grove proved an ideal place for the performance and in spite of the unfortunate necessity of two postponements on account of inclement weather, the affair was a most brilliant success both from an artistic and financial point of view.

WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS

—Mrs. James Jones is a guest of friends in Wellesley.

—Nelson Fuller of Winthrop is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sanborn.

—A. E. Lambert of Detroit, Mich. has been spending a few days at the Heights.

—John Freeman and family have been summering at Duxbury beach, this week.

—Miss Minnie Hunt spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. William Hunt of Stoneham.

—Rev. E. J. Yaeger pleasantly entertained the teachers and officers of the Old North Sunday school at his home on Tuesday evening, arrangements for the annual Sunday school picnic were made.

—The Old North Sunday school will observe Children's Sunday, next Sunday, June 29th. A concert will be given at five o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the community.

—The Wide Awake Workers held a picnic at Fort Point on Monday.

Stung.
"How soon do you start on your trip to Europe?" asked a man of a friend he chanced to meet one morning.
"I had to give it up," replied the other.

"Why so?" inquired the first.
"Well, you see," said the man, "my wife went and ordered her clothes for the trip, and when the bills were paid there was absolutely no money left to go with."—New York Times.

Home Laugh.
"Papa," said Willie, "when a horse laughs does he kick up his heels?"
"I guess so, why?"
"Cause old Whitley just laughed at brother Tommie, and you'll have to come out and carry him in."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Easy to Guess.
First Broker—Did you win or lose in that big drop in stock? Second Broker (Guffily)—That is my business, sir. Say, can you direct me to a five cent lunch counter?—New York Weekly.

Daniel H. Clancy
Formerly with H. M. Ford Estate

Funeral Director and Undertaker

Residence, - 28 Vine St.,
Telephone 336W. 31-43

Golden West Furniture Dressing.

WHEN YOUR FURNITURE LOOKS DULL and NEEDS BRIGHTENING and CLEANING UP use the

GOLDEN WEST FURNITURE DRESSING
(Not a Polish.)

J. H. MURRAY, dealer in Paints, Oils and Hardware, East Weymouth, Agent.

Prepared by OLIVER BURRELL, East Weymouth, Mass. Price 25 Cents. 14-11

REAL ESTATE
—AND—

INSURANCE

Thomas J. White

Central Square East Weymouth

Every Letter You Write,

every invitation you send, goes out as your personal messenger. And only when you use a paper of the very highest quality can you be certain that your messenger is a worthy representative of your personality.

Highland Linen

is the very finest writing paper made, perfect in finish and in every one of the little details which mean everything in social correspondence. It is thoroughly correct, and above all dainty. We have it here, in a range of sizes, styles and tints which will fascinate you.

HUNT'S
On The Corner
EAST WEYMOUTH

NOTICE OF HEARING.

Upon the application of Russell B. Worster for a license to maintain a gasoline tank near his garage, in the rear of No. 44 Commercial street, Weymouth, a hearing will be held by the Board of Selectmen, at its office on MONDAY, July 14, 1913, at two o'clock P. M., for the consideration of said petition.

By order of the Board of Selectmen of Weymouth. BRADFORD HAWES, Secretary. 15-16

NOTICE OF HEARING.

Upon the petition of Frank W. Stewart for a license to keep and sell gasoline in his store premises, Nos. 31 and 33 Washington street, Weymouth, a hearing will be held by the Board of Selectmen at its office on MONDAY, July 14th, 1913, at two o'clock P. M., for consideration of said petition.

By order of the Board of Selectmen of Weymouth. BRADFORD HAWES, Secretary. 15-16

THE PURCHASE PRICE; OR, THE CAUSE OF COMPROMISE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1910, by Emerson Hough

CHAPTER XV. The Artful Gentleman.

THE gentlemen drew their chairs closer. "I presume you mean the lady reputed to have been connected with President Taylor's commission of inquiry into affairs in Hungary?"

"Yes, the most beautiful woman in Washington today." So she is called by some. "The most dangerous," by others."

"Has Kentucky forgotten its gallantry so fully as that? Rumor has reported the young woman to me as a charming young widow of beauty, wealth and breeding."

"Yes, manners, and convictions, and courage—abolitionist tendencies and fighting proclivities. She is a firebrand—a revolutionist, fresh back from the old world and armed with weapons of whose use we old fogies are utterly ignorant. Having apparently nothing to lose whose loss she dreads, she is careless of all consequences. You, my dear sir, speak of your moral adherence to some new party. You consider yourself one of the lamented Free Soil party and—hope a resurrection. This woman does not pause there—no. She comes here to Washington at precisely the time of our final compromise, when all is peaceful, even slumberous, and she preaches the crusade of fire and sword."

The other pondered. "I have never seen the lady," he remarked at length. "Is she acquainted among the abolitionists of the north?"

"No. She trains in no one's camp. Indeed, socially she has been neglected in the north, for reasons said to have been urged in diplomatic circles."

"Something of an intriguer, eh?"

"At least enough to excite the anger and suspicion of Austria, the interest of England, the concern of France—that's all!"

"Of what age is she?"

"I should say twenty-three, twenty-four—not over twenty-six, perhaps. It is difficult to say. I have met her but rarely."

"You have me at disadvantage, even so," smiled the other.

"You have never met this fair enthusiast? You are behind the times?" retorted the wily Kentuckian. "Perhaps you would like that honor? I think it could be arranged. Indeed," he added, after a moment spent in careful study of his companion's face, "I would even undertake to arrange it. My dear sir, with your well known charm of manner with men, and women as well, you could in that case win the lasting plaudits of your country if you but possessed the resolution!"

"In a cause so noble I would do what I might! But what is the cause? And is it proper for one of my place to engage in it?"

"You could, I say, be hailed by the administration in power not as the father of your country perhaps, but as its savior. Take this woman out of our camp and into your own. Flock your own fowl together, you Free Soilers. Take her out of Washington, get her back to Europe, where she belongs, and, without jesting, my dear sir, you shall have the backing next year, two years hence—in 1853—any time you like—of the men who make this administration and of the men behind this compromise. I am serious. I speak to you in nowise ill advised. To tell you the truth, we are frightened. She has stolen all our peace of mind and stolen also some of our thunder—some of our castoff and unburned thunder. She proposes to purchase all the slaves in the United States out of her own funds and ship them out of America."

"Great God!"

"Yes. We didn't dare it. She does. We didn't begin. She has begun. And since it has begun who knows what army of the people—what new party—may fall in behind her? We want you to forestall all that. We don't want you to head that new party. We think you will do better to fall in with us, to accept the compliment of a European mission and to take this fair firebrand with you. We are afraid to have her in Washington."

The other listened with a flicker of the eyelid, which showed his interest, but feigned lightness in his speech.

"But, tell me, what is it that you would have me do?"

"My dear sir, you must transport, manhandle, murder, wheedle, bowstring, drown and permanently lose Josephine, Countess St. Auban, herself late back from Missouri, formerly of God knows where."

"But I could not well carry off this fair lady by main strength. My own plans unfortunately require some attention. And I think that even were the trifling difficulty of the lady's consent overcome I could not easily assume the role of savior of my country before the time of the departure of the next ship for Europe, even granted my enemies, the Whigs, will give a mission to an ex-Democrat and Free Soiler like myself."

"Not that I should not experience the most pleasurable emotions both in saving the country, my dear sir, and of saving it in the company of so charming a person as this young lady is reported to be."

They looked at each other and broke into laughter. Yet minds so keen as theirs long before them had read between lines on the printed page under the outward mask of human countenances.

"Stranger things have happened!" said the gentleman from Kentucky. "My soul and body! My dear sir, you do not speak seriously?" His surprise was feigned, and the other knew it.

"I was never so serious in my life. At this time, when our diplomacy abroad is none too fortunate and when our diplomacy at home is far more delicate and dangerous, you yourself, known the country over as a man of tact and delicacy, are the one man in the world to handle this very mission. It is the Old Fox of the North, after all, Free Soiler or not, who alone can smooth down matters for us. Our country had supreme confidence in you. This administration has such confidence still."

"Do you speak with authority other than your own?"

"It is not yet time for me to answer that."

"Yet you dare approach one who is in the opposing camp?"

"But one whose camp we either hope to join or whom we hope later to have in our own."

"My faith, I believe you are serious in this! Have you really formulated any plans?" He was safe in the trap, and the other knew it.

"Sir, I will not discredit you by choosing methods. As to the results desired, I say no more."

"Yet we sit here and discuss this matter as though we contemplated a simple, proper and dignified act."

"Murder is perhaps not legal, even for the sake of one's country. But suppose we halt this side of murder. Suppose that by means known only to yourself, and not even to myself, you gained this young woman's free consent to accompany you, say, to Europe—that would be legal, dignified, proper—and ah, so useful!"

"And quite impossible."

"Altogether impossible. Oh, utterly!"

They spoke with gravity. What the gentleman from New York really thought lay in his unvoiced question: "Could it by any possibility be true that the Fillmore administration would give me support for the next nomination if I agree to swing the Free Soil this young lady that our political ambitions are quite the same and that I might be of service did we share the same public means of travel in a journey already planned by both. I was intending a visit to Europe this very summer. But I might be younger and fare better at that sort of thing."

"Altogether to the contrary, my friend! Do not mistake this lady. Youth would be an absolute bar to success. Age, dignity, a public reputation such as yours—these are the only things which by any possibility could gain success—and, frankly, even these may fail. Take my advice. Put her in a sack, drop her overboard in mid-ocean. In return, all I ask of you is not to throw overboard the sack anywhere close to this country's shore!"

Meanwhile, the Countess St. Auban, innocent of these plans which had gone forward regarding her, completed her attendance at the entertainment which the evening was offering the elite of Washington, and in due time arrived at the entrance of her hotel.

Vital, self confident, a trifle foreign, certainly distinguished, at first there might have seemed a trace of defiance in the carriage, even in the glance of Josephine St. Auban. But a second look into the wide dark eyes would have found there rather a trace of pathos, bordering upon melancholy. Such was the woman of the hour in Washington, lately frowned on by the ladies as too beautiful, talked about by the gentlemen as too cold, discussed by some, adored by others, undervalued by none, dreaded by some high in power, plotted against by others yet more high in place.

She cast a hurried glance now at the clock which, tall and solemn, stood near by in the hall. It was upon the stroke of midnight only. Turning half questioningly to her maid, she heard a footfall. The manager of the hotel himself came to greet her, carrying a card in his hand, and with a bow, asking her attention.

"It is impossible," she said. "You know my wishes very well."

"But, my dear countess, have you noted this name?" began the manager. "Of course I know it. All the more reason there should be mistake."

A step sounded near by, and the curtains swung back, disclosing the entrance to one of the adjoining parlors of the hotel. The figure of a well built and hale gentleman past middle age, of dignified carriage and pleasant features, was revealed. Half hesitating, he advanced.

"My dear lady," he began in a deep and melodious voice, "I come to you doubly handicapped, both as intruder and eavesdropper. I could not avoid hearing what you have said, and as listeners hear no good of themselves I venture to interrupt. I am anxious that your first impression of me should be a good one, madam."

She dropped him a courtesy which was grace itself, her dark eyes looking straight into his face. Surprise brought a slightly heightened color to her cheek.

"You were saying it was a mistake, dear lady. But if so the intrusion was on my part. I have wished to meet you quietly, if such may be your pleasure. I am alone. Opportunity has lacked for earlier announcement, for I have but reached town this evening."

The Countess St. Auban hesitated for an instant, but guessed some errand here worth knowing. Having herself entered the inner room, with grace she signalled that the elderly gentleman should first be placed.

"Madam," he went on, "my dear countess, I could but overhear you refer to my own name. If it has any reputation in your eyes let that plead as my excuse for intruding in this manner. Believe me, nothing would induce me to take such a step except business of importance."

"It is, then, of business?" Her voice, as he noted once more, was clear and full, her enunciation without provincial slur, clean and high bred.

"Let me hasten to make all plain. I am aware of a part of your history and of a part of your plans, madam. I am not unaware of certain ambitions of your own. I am forced to be so frank in these conditions. You are interested in the cause of Hungary."

"Place it wider, sir," she said. "In humanity."

"Hence you have come to America to carry forward certain of your plans. Even now you have undertaken the greatest and most daring work of altruism this country ever knew. And you find all things at a deadlock in Washington today. Humanity is placed away in linen on the shelf in America today. Dust must not filter through the protection of this mighty compromise which our two great parties have accomplished. We must not talk of principles, must not stir sedition at this time. Whig and Democrat must tip-toe, both of them, nor wake this sleeping dog of slavery."

"Are you for freedom, sir?" she asked slowly. "Are you for humanity?"

"Madam, as I hope reward, I am! Those of us who dare say so much are few in numbers today. We are so few, my dear lady, that we belong together. We are so few that I, a stranger to you, though not I trust wholly unrecommended, dare come to you tonight."

"With what purpose, then, sir?"

"With the immediate purpose of learning at first hand the truth of the revolutionary system in Europe. I have not been abroad of late—indeed, not for some years. But I know that our diplomacy is all a-tangle. The reports are at variance, and we get them colored by partisan politics. This slavery agitation is simply a political game. Yet all the time I know, as you know, of the hundreds of thousands of men who are leaving Europe to come to this country. A wave of moral change is bound to sweep across the north

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

She looked at him, hesitating, studying. It was hardly a fair contest.

"I am somewhat helpless, sir," she said at length. "To converse with one so able as yourself—what woman of my ambitions would not be pleased with that? But I am a woman, and alone in the world. I am already denounced as careless. There already has been talk. Moreover, as you see, I am committed now fully to this great work of freeing and sending from America the negro slaves."

"Yes. But you are here somewhat mysteriously; you came privately and secretly. What harm, then, if you return as privately and secretly as you have come to Washington? Let your agents carry on your work here. The mission on which I shall be engaged will have to do with Louis Kossuth. Consider of what aid you might be to me. You speak his tongue, you know his history, you could supply me at once with information—Come, 'tis so idle errand. And the tongue of gossip wags the least when the eye of gossip has been least. This is a most natural and proper—indeed, most convincing opportunity."

"That is precisely what I pondered, sir." She nodded gravely.

(To Be Continued.)

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

She looked at him, hesitating, studying. It was hardly a fair contest.

"I am somewhat helpless, sir," she said at length. "To converse with one so able as yourself—what woman of my ambitions would not be pleased with that? But I am a woman, and alone in the world. I am already denounced as careless. There already has been talk. Moreover, as you see, I am committed now fully to this great work of freeing and sending from America the negro slaves."

"Yes. But you are here somewhat mysteriously; you came privately and secretly. What harm, then, if you return as privately and secretly as you have come to Washington? Let your agents carry on your work here. The mission on which I shall be engaged will have to do with Louis Kossuth. Consider of what aid you might be to me. You speak his tongue, you know his history, you could supply me at once with information—Come, 'tis so idle errand. And the tongue of gossip wags the least when the eye of gossip has been least. This is a most natural and proper—indeed, most convincing opportunity."

"That is precisely what I pondered, sir." She nodded gravely.

(To Be Continued.)

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

Madam, we dwell on the eve of revolution here in America as well as in Europe. Now do you see why I have come to you tonight? Have we not much in common?"

"I am glad," she said simply; "I am proud. Me you overrate, but my wishes and my hopes you do not overrate. Only—and she hesitated—"why tonight; why in this particular way?"

"I arrive at that. My own plans take me soon to Europe. I am determined to investigate upon the very ground itself this question of a national repression of the human conscience."

She sat a trifle more erect, a trifle more haughty. He seemed to read her thoughts.

"Let me hope that you have planned an early return. We have much which we might discuss of common interest. There is much of interest in that country beyond, which we might see. I do not venture any suggestion for you, but only say that if it were within your own desire to travel in the company of a man whose former station at least ought to render your reputation safe, you and your servants will be welcome in my company. My party will have other gentlemen and ladies, not of mean station, I hope."

W. M. SWEET
Painter, Glazier, Paper Hanger, and Whitener

A full line of Wall Papers. Write or telephone and will call with samples. Can give you better than Boston prices.

SHOP, PEAKS BUILDING,
809 BROAD ST., EAST WEYMOUTH

RESIDENCE, 371 WASHINGTON ST., WEYMOUTH.

Telephone 118-5.

Are You Starting a New Home?

We can supply you with a complete outfit of everything desired for Parlor, Sitting Room, Dining Room and Kitchen

No trouble to show the goods. Just give us a call.

Are you doing Spring cleaning? You may find that something is needed in the way of Reupholstering or Repairing. We are equipped to do it.

W. P. Denbroeder
COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHER
738 Broad Street East Weymouth

J. L. WILDES
Tuner and Repairer of Pianos and Organs

Reference: Mason & Hamlin Piano and Organ Co.

RESIDENCE:
522 Commercial St., Weymouth Heights

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE

AND

INSURANCE

John B. Whelan
21 Quincy Avenue East Braintree
— TELEPHONE BRAINTREE 21402 —

Are you going to Build?
Are you going to Repair or Enlarge?
Are you looking for

Contractor and Builder?
If so call on

H. C. THOMPSON
66 HIGH ST. - EAST WEYMOUTH

Estimates given on all kinds of contracts.
Tel. Weymouth 14-1.

BRAINTREE FIRE ALARM BOXES.

21—Quincy Ave. and Hayward St.
23—Quincy Ave. and Commercial St.
24—Eliot St.
25—Allen St. and Commercial St.
26—Allen St. and Shaw St.
27—Commercial St. opp. Fan Shop
29—Commercial St. and Elm St.
31—Elm St. and Middle St.
32—River St. and Middle St.
34—Elm St. and Washington St.
35—West St. and Washington St.
36—Ash St. and Hollis Ave.
38—Washington St. opp. Monatiquot school.
41—Union St. and Middle St.
42—Union St. and Washington St.
43—Pearl St. and Washington St.
45—Pearl St. opposite Shoe Factory.
46—Hancock St., private, Hollingsworth
47—Pond St., opp. A. O. Clark's house
48—Franklin St. and Central Ave.
51—Corner Hancock and Highland Ave.
52—Corner Washington St. and South St.
123—Corner Quincy Ave. and Allen St.
125—Liberty St., opp. Elmer Vinton's.
131—Corner Cedar St. and Pleasant St.
135—West St. and Mt. Vernon Ave.
142—Corner Franklin St. and Central St.
143—South Braintree Engine House.
145—Fountain St. and Pearl St.
146—Corner Plain St. and Grove St.
147—Town St. and Pond St.
221—Corner Howard St. and Hayward St.
225—Corner Liberty St. and Stetson St.
244—Corner Tremont St. and Hobart St.

INSURANCE

Of All Kinds

H. FRANKLIN PERRY
104 Front Street
WEYMOUTH, MASS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscribers have been duly appointed administrators of the estate of H. MAY HARLOW, late of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to CLIFTON D. HARLOW, Administrator.

April 2, 1913.

Weymouth, Mass., June 11th, 1913.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscribers have been duly appointed administrators of the will of FRANCESCO LUCIANO, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, deceased testate, and has taken upon themselves that trust by giving bond as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called to make payment to

ALESSANDRO LUCIANO, MARGHERITA LU LIANO, Executors.

June 19, 1913.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

NORFOLK, SS. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of JOSEPH HENRY MARTELL, late of Weymouth in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to J. H. A. Martell of Weymouth without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court of Norfolk, on the ninth day of July, A. D. 1913, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation, once in each week for three successive weeks in the Weymouth Gazette, a newspaper published in said Weymouth, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirteenth day of June A. D. 1913.

13-16

JOHN D. COBB, Register.

Mortgagee's Sale
OF REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Rose F. O'Brien to the South Weymouth Savings Bank, a corporation duly established by law, dated April 29, 1912, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 1212, page 57, will be sold at public auction upon the premises, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, on Saturday, the twelfth day of July, 1913, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated on the southeast side of Reed avenue, in that part of Weymouth, in the said County of Norfolk, called South Weymouth, containing by estimation 9,18

The Greater Problem

The Western railroad unit is distance.
 The New England unit is service.
 Not miles moved but movement per mile is the greater problem.
 Nowhere on the continent is the railroad problem so great, nor so well worked out.

WHY NOT Have The Best?

Come and See Us For Staple and Choice Groceries

Try our Bread and Pastry Flour, Teas, Coffees, Spices and Flavoring Extracts; also Vouched For Canned Goods.

Bates & Humphrey's

Broad and Middle Sts., Weymouth Center
TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

SEE OUR LINE OF

- Rogers Bros. 1847 Silver that wears, Knives, Forks, Spoons, and other Pieces, Carving Sets.
- Fine rich American Deep Cut Glass Ware, the latest designs. Quality guaranteed. (not pressed)
- Extra Quality Quadruple Silver Plated Coffee Sets in 4 pieces. Coffee Percolators made of copper and nickel.
- Chafing Dishes in nickel or solid copper, ebony handles. Tea Strainers in sterling silver.

The Leading Jewelry Store in the Weymouths
JOHN NEILSON,
OPPOSITE POST OFFICE, Telephone 272W EAST WEYMOUTH

CHARLES HARRINGTON

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS

GLOVES and HOSIERY UNDERWEAR and NOTIONS

New and Seasonable Goods added Every Week

Charles Harrington,

Commercial Street, near Jackson Square, East Weymouth

JAMES P. HADDIE

Carpenter and Builder

Estimates given on all kinds of Building. Jobbing Promptly Attended To.
Now is the time to order screen doors and screens for your windows for the summer.
WE ARE ALSO CARRYING A FULL LINE OF WALL PAPER.
Shop, 46 Union Avenue East Weymouth
TEL. 238-W

AROUND THE BASES.

Those home runs of Thompson of the U. S. S. Nebraska and "Scout" Gloster of the C. M. A. last Saturday were fine hits. Both boys were loudly applauded as they raced over the pan after the circuit of the bases.

"Arbie" Dam looks mighty good on the C. M. A. nine. This star is always on deck with the goods and is a strong asset to any team.

Some crowd at the C. M. A. game last Saturday. Too bad the East Weymouth boys couldn't have nosed out a win.

The game on Fourth of July at Gardfield Park between the surviving members of the old Tilden baseball nine and Patrick Sullivan's team should be a sizzler for excitement. The old-timers will put up a game fight, but the arnica and omega oil bottles will catch it on the "morning after" all right.

"Moxie" FitzPatrick is making good at the C. M. A. as umpire. "Moxie" knows the game, is quick in giving his decisions, keeps the players on the move, and woe be unto the player who starts any freshness with "Moxie."

Reginald Nash of South Weymouth has been elected captain of the Brown nine for next year. Reg. has played center-field for the Providence aggregation for the past three seasons and has played a mighty fast game.

On account of the threatening weather last Saturday the management of the Stetson Shoe Co. nine decided to call off the game scheduled with Prospect Union of Cambridge at the Fair grounds. Many of the South Weymouth "fans" journeyed to East Weymouth to witness the C. M. A. vs U. S. S. Nebraska nine.

"Reggie" Nash played with the Whitinsville team last Saturday afternoon.

In the averages of the members of the Brockton New England League to Thursday, June 19, Leo Dowd, the South Weymouth boy, is batting ninth. He has played in 38 games, at the bat 137 times, scored 22 runs, batted out 34 base hits for a total of 42, giving him an average of .248. Paul Howard, well-known in this town, having played with the C. M. A. nine on several occasions the past few years, leads the Brockton team in batting with the fine average of .343. Dowd leads the team in sacrifice hitting with 14 to his credit. In stolen bases, he is third in the list with 11. In the fielding department Dowd has 107 put outs, 87 assists and twelve errors, making an average of .942.

As a rule the writer does not believe in criticizing the judgment of a manager of a ball team who has played the game and knows base ball so thoroughly as the field manager of the C. M. A. nine, but to the writer as well as to about every spectator who have seen the games at the Clapp Memorial thus far this season, it looks like decidedly poor management somewhere in keeping Drinkwater behind the bat, week after week, and allowing so many runs on passed balls. The first run the Makarias got two weeks ago, was the result of a passed ball with two men out and last Saturday three runs in one inning resulted from passed balls. Drinkwater is a mighty handy man to have around; he can bat well, he can throw and he plays hard all the time, but he is clearly not a "Bill" Carrigan behind the bat. A fine crowd witnessed the game last Saturday and this crowd will continue to come if the team shows the fight and wins the games, but four passed balls with men on bases will lose about any game and besides it completely unnerves the pitcher. Many of the fans would like to see "Toby" Fraher, the high school star, behind the bat, especially when Condrick is pitching. Fraher has caught Ray all the spring in the high school games and did a mighty classy job. He is familiar with Condrick's benders and can throw and chase fouls fully as well as any catcher seen at the C. M. A. this season. The catching department has got to be strengthened or, as one loyal C. M. A. rooter said after the game, "It will take more than a hand to draw a crowd with an exhibition like that."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation

Unpardonable Offenses.
Visitor—Who is the long haired officer? Police Chief—He was formerly a musician, but changed his calling to benefit his health. Visitor—Is he a good policeman? Police Chief—Generally. But the first day he was on the force he arrested a man for trying to play Schubert's "Serenade" on a bag pipe.—Youngstown Telegram.

All His Own.
"Does your lad find his sums hard?" "Oh, no. The sums are easy enough, but his results are too original to suit the teacher."—Fliegende Blätter.

I began life with a sixpence and believe that a man's best capital is his industry.—Stephen Girard.

A GIRL IN A WINDOW

She Could See, but Not Be Seen

By ELLEN D. MORTON

Norman Kirtland spent the two weeks—in other words, the one twenty-sixth part of the year, which employers consider a sufficient proportion between work and play for their employees—at the seashore. Older persons, who have been hard worked for a long period, desire rest. The young dread such a spending of a vacation. Kirtland was twenty years old and devoted to boating. He owned a wherry that looked like a thin grasshopper, the outrigger and oars standing for the wings and legs. It was his pleasurable anticipation to pull himself about in this toppy affair instead of forcing some other animal or some machine to do the work, as a man double his age would be inclined to do.

At Ocean Beach, where Kirtland spent his vacation, there were inlets, and when the wind was off shore and the water still he did not hesitate to go outside. Besides hotels, there were cottages all along the shore, and in them lurked danger for fine looking, muscular young men from pretty young girls.

In one of these cottages on a point of land made by an inlet and the ocean dwelt one of these dangers, Miss Edith Birney. She was of a dangerous age—eighteen—a dangerous disposition, and about her was a dangerous atmosphere. One morning from behind curtains she saw a stalwart young fellow in light boating apparel, displaying fine biceps, pulling past her summer house out into the ocean. Taking a marine glass, she brought it to bear on the boatman and saw that he was comely. Watching him, she saw him row to where a light swell was rolling, and he looked very attractive out there, "rocked in the cradle of the deep."

Kirtland sported on the surface of the water for an hour; then slowly and gracefully his sweeps brought him back into the inlet.

In nature a constant warfare goes on. Among nations some use enormous guns, some are inventing aeroplanes from which to drop bombs on their enemies, while others fill their harbors with mines to destroy ships. Now, there is also a warfare in love, and Kirtland, though unconscious of danger, was about to run upon a pebble that might hoist him clean out of his bachelorhood and drop him into the slough of matrimony.

He was pulling along lazily when something drifted by him that attracted his attention. It was a bottle about whose neck was tied a bright red ribbon—doubtless to catch the eye—and that it had been placed there by a woman was evident from the fact that it had been tied in a bowknot. Kirtland backed water, took up the bottle and saw that it was tightly corked, with a bit of white paper inside. Taking out the cork, he managed with the aid of a fishhook to extract the paper. On one side was written, "We are lost." It would perhaps have been more to the point if the words had been, "You are lost." On the other side were two letters, E. B., and a strand of very fair hair, almost white hair, was folded in a smaller bit of paper within the larger one.

When Kirtland read the words "We are lost" he at once concluded that he had picked up a message from some ship that had gone down, but when he noticed the initials and saw the strand of fine hair he was puzzled. The hair was undoubtedly that of a woman, and a woman about to go down to the bottom of the ocean is not likely to put her initials on paper with a lock of her hair. She would be more likely to write her full name, with a farewell message to loved ones far away.

While Kirtland sat in the boat trying to decipher this message from the sea a pair of eyes behind a double barreled gun of aluminum and glass, protected by an embankment of lace curtains, were aimed straight at him. Unconscious of any lurking enemy, he was right in the line of fire. The girl behind the gun seemed to take an inexpressible delight in his apparent surprise, and when he carefully folded the paper about the lock of hair and slipped it into his canvas shoe—he had no pocket—her face broke into a smile of triumph. Then the young man pulled away toward his boat-house.

There is a peculiar stupidity about most very young men as to the tricks and the manners of the opposite sex. Kirtland had no more idea that the bottle he had picked up had been thrown into the water purposely for him than he had that the thrower, instead of being out at sea, was watching him from a house a few hundred yards away. Nevertheless there was a sentiment about that lock of hair, and he was not so obtuse as not to suppose that the initials E. B. referred to the owner. But that the lock had been cut from the head of a pretty girl purposely for him was furthest from his thoughts.

That very night at a dance at one of the hotels he noticed a girl dressed in garments so pure and spotless and white and simple that no one would have supposed she would be capable of lassoing a pet lamb. And Kirtland was especially struck with the fact that her hair was so light that it was almost white. Indeed, it was exactly the shade of the lock he had found in the bottle. But—and here comes in an instance of man's stupidity in woman's ways—no one could have beaten it into his head with an argumentative stick-in-the-mud that the lock of hair he had in his vest pocket nearest his heart had been cut from the head of that angel in immaculate white.

The tolls these creatures throw out are of the finest texture, so fine that no one would suspect that they lead up to a cable. Kirtland did not analyze the connection between the silken strands in his pocket and the coiffure on the girl's head. But it existed all the while, and she had intended that it should exist. Mind you, I don't say that she laid down a definite plan of procedure. She did it by that unconscious genius for such work which is inborn in womankind. At any rate, without that lock of hair and its sentimental connection with the coiffure there is no reason to suppose that Kirtland would have hunted all over the room for some one who could introduce him to the girl concerning whom this sentiment existed.

He inquired who she was and was told that she was a Miss Birney—Miss Edith Birney. But this did not convey any information to him, as it might have done had he not been stupidly blind. They say love is blind. That must refer to the man.

He found the introducer and was received by the girl with reserve. He danced with her once; then she suggested that the air in the room being close, she would like a few minutes on the veranda. Standing there looking down on the narrow water leading out into the ocean on which he had been rowing that day, Kirtland was reminded of his find and spoke of it to his companion.

"How sad!" she said feelingly. "Do you suppose all on board went down?" "I am not certain whether it was a shipwreck or one of those messages that persons are always throwing into the water to make fools of the finders."

"Have you heard of any ship being lost?" she asked.

"No; I haven't. And I don't believe the bottle was thrown from a sinking ship at all. If so the name of the vessel would have been given. It more likely was tossed off from some yacht or other craft. I think it must have been some fool girl did it for it contained a lock of hair."

"The young lady winced at this, but did not betray herself.

"Are you a cottager," asked Kirtland, "or do you stop at a hotel?"

"A cottager. That's our cottage over there where the inlet joins the ocean."

"Indeed, I often pull by there on my way outside."

"Do you?"

"Yes; usually when it's calm on the ocean. I think I will be able to go out tomorrow morning."

"If I happen to be about and see you I'll wave to you."

Then they went inside and danced together, and somehow no one attempted to take the girl away from Kirtland, and Kirtland didn't seem to want to get away from the girl. He kept looking at her light hair, tinged with yellow, and thinking of its counterpart in his pocket, and the more he thought about it the more a peculiar feeling grew within him that he did not seek to analyze, but found very pleasant. When the two separated the spider had got the fly inside the outer web, and the next move would be to ask him to walk into her parlor.

This second part came the next day. Kirtland pulled by the house out to sea, but looked in vain for the girl who lived there. However, when he pulled back she was down at the private landing, pretending to engage herself with the boats. Kirtland pulled in to the landing. The girl looked surprised, but pleased, and invited him to the house for a glass of wine and a biscuit.

Kirtland, being in boating costume, declined the invitation, whereupon the young lady suggested that the refreshments could be served in the summer house. At this he accepted, and the two walked up to the place in question. He found a very dainty and at the same time comfortable stopping place. There were easy wicker chairs, a table with books and magazines in it and a hammock. If "the fly" had realized how he was being entangled doubtless the words of the rime would have occurred to him—

It's the prettiest little parlor that ever you did spy.

It is useless to follow this spider and fly process any further. The main work had been done, the fly being in the parlor. And it is to be supposed that the girl who had the ingenuity to get him there would have no difficulty in keeping him. The rest required time, but it was dead easy. Kirtland went back to business not knowing whether he was on his heels or his head. He had proposed to Miss Birney and was told that she must have some time to consider. She took time enough to drive him to the border of despair, but not over it.

One day soon after their marriage Mrs. Kirtland fished a lock of very light hair out of her husband's pocket.

"What's this, dear?" she asked, with a touch of reproach in her voice and in her beautiful eyes.

"That?" he said meditatively. "Oh, I remember! That's the lock of hair I took out of that bottle I picked up that some silly girl probably threw from a boat out at sea to make a guy of some fellow. I kept it because it was very like your hair."

"How sweet of you!"

She kissed him, but did not tell him who was the silly girl or the fellow of whom she made a guy.

And yet a young man is considered to be expanding into one of the lords of creation and a young girl is considered a budding innocent.

Town Officers of Weymouth and their Post Office Address.

- TOWN CLERK.
John A. Raymond, East Weymouth.
- TOWN TREASURER.
John H. Stetson, South Weymouth.
- SELECTMEN.
Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
Henry E. Hanley, East Weymouth.
- OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.
Edward W. Hunt, Chairman, Weymouth.
Bradford Hawes, Secretary, East Weymouth.
George L. Newton, North Weymouth.
Willard J. Dunbar, East Weymouth.
A. Francis Barnes, South Weymouth.
- ASSESSORS.
John F. Dwyer, Chairman, Weymouth.
Frank H. Torrey, Clerk, North Weymouth.
Waldo Turner, East Weymouth.
Warren T. Simpson, South Weymouth.
Edward I. Loud, South Weymouth.
- Regular meeting of Board first Wednesday evening of each month at Town Office Savings Bank building, East Weymouth.
- SCHOOL COMMITTEE.
Clarence P. Whittle, Chairman, Weymouth.
A. Lillian McGregor, Secretary, E. Weymouth.
E. E. Leonard, East Weymouth.
Arthur H. Alden, North Weymouth.
Theron L. Tirrell, South Weymouth.
Prince H. Tirrell, South Weymouth.
- SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.
Parker T. Pearson, East Weymouth. At close of school on Monday will be at the Athens building; Tuesday at Jefferson; Wednesday at Howe Thursday at Hunt.
- WATER COMMISSIONERS.
Frank H. Torrey, Chairman, North Weymouth.
George E. Bicknell, Clerk, Weymouth.
Robert S. Hoffman, East Weymouth.
John H. Newton, South Weymouth.
Edward W. Hunt, Weymouth.
- BOARD OF HEALTH.
George E. Emerson, Chairman, S. Weymouth.
Nelson B. Gladwin, Clerk, North Weymouth.
John S. Williams, Weymouth.
- SUPERINTENDENT OF WATER WORKS.
Ivers M. Low, East Weymouth.
- SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.
John L. Maynard, East Weymouth.
- TAX COLLECTOR.
Winslow M. Tirrell, East Weymouth.
- FIRE ENGINEERS.
M. O'Dowd, chief, South Weymouth.
W. W. Pratt, clerk, East Weymouth.
J. Q. Hunt, East Weymouth.
Charles W. Baker, Weymouth.
Philip W. Wolf, North Weymouth.
- TREE WARDEN.
Charles L. Merritt, South Weymouth.
- POLICE OFFICERS.
P. Butler, chief, East Weymouth.
Thomas Fitzgerald, Weymouth.
A. H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
John D. Walsh, Weymouth.
Elbert Ford, South Weymouth.
Geo. W. Nash, North Weymouth.
- CONSTABLES.
Isaac H. Walker, North Weymouth.
George W. Nash, North Weymouth.
Patrick Butler, East Weymouth.
Arthur H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
Thomas Fitzgerald, Weymouth.
John D. Walsh, Weymouth.
George B. Bayley, South Weymouth.
Elbert Ford, South Weymouth.
George W. Conant, South Weymouth.
Willard F. Hall, East Weymouth.
- AUDITORS.
William H. Pratt, East Weymouth.
John P. Hunt, Weymouth.
Frank N. Blanchard, East Weymouth.
- PARK COMMISSIONER.
William H. Clapp, Weymouth.
Louis A. Cook, South Weymouth.
Arthur H. Alden, North Weymouth.
- SALES OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.
Frank D. Sherman, Weymouth.
- REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.
(From Seventh Norfolk District.)
John F. Dwyer, Weymouth, Mass.
- SENATOR.
(First Norfolk District.)
John J. McDevitt, Quincy.
- County Officers.
OFFICES AT DEDHAM.
Judge of Probate and Insolvency, James H. Flint of Weymouth.
Register of Probate and Insolvency, John D. Cobb.
Assistant Register, J. Raphael McCoolle.
Clerk of Courts, Louis A. Cook of South Weymouth.
Assistant Clerk, Robert B. Worthington.
Second Assistant, Louis A. Cook, Jr., of South Weymouth.
Register of Deeds, John H. Burdakin.
Assistant Register of Deeds, Edward L. Burdakin.
- County Treasurer, Henry D. Humphrey.
Sheriff, Samuel H. Capen.
Special Sheriff, Edward E. Wentworth, Cohasset.
County Commissioners, John F. Merrell of Quincy, chairman; Evan F. Richardson, of Millis; Everett M. Bowker, Brookline. Session every Tuesday at 10 a. m.
- Special Commissioners, Fred L. Fisher, of Norwood; Henry A. Whitney, of Bellingham.
District Attorney, (Southeast District, Norfolk and Plymouth), Albert F. Barker, of Brockton.
Assistant, D. A., Fred L. Katzman, of Hyde Park.
Clerk of Dist. Court, (East Norfolk), Lawrence W. Lyons, of Quincy.
- Calendar of County Courts.
Supreme Judicial Court Jury Sitting, third Tuesday of February.
Superior Court, Civil Sessions—For work with Juries—First Monday of January, first Monday of May, and first Monday of October. For Court work—First Monday of February, first Monday of April, first Monday of September, and first Monday of December.
Superior Court, Criminal Sessions—First Monday of April, first Monday of September, first Monday of December.
Probate Court—At Dedham, on the first and third Wednesdays of every month, except August. At Quincy, on the second Wednesday of every month, except August. At Brookline, on the fourth Wednesday of every month, except August.
County Commissioners' Meetings—Third Tuesday of April; fourth Tuesday of June; fourth Tuesday of September; last Wednesday of December. By adjournment: On Tuesdays, except during August.
District Court of East Norfolk. Jurisdiction Randolph, Braintree, Cohasset, Weymouth, Quincy, Holliston and Milton. Court held at Quincy for criminal business every week day except legal holidays, and for civil business Tuesdays at 9 a. m. Justice, Albert E. Avery, Braintree; Special Justice, E. Granville Pratt, Quincy; Louis A. Cook, Weymouth. Clerk, Lawrence W. Lyons, Asst. James McDonald. Probation Officer, Francis A. Spear, 25 Flayer Street, Quincy. Court Officer and Bail Commissioner, William Marden, 24 Coddington Street, Quincy.
- Unalterable as a Rule.
"Does your wife ever change her mind?" "Only on some minor matters," replied Mr. Meekton, after careful thought. "I believe I recall that she once expressed an intention to love, honor and obey, or something like that."

WEYMOUTH AND EAST BRAINTREE

Dr. William F. Hathaway, for 43 years a leading physician of this town, is to retire from practice July 1. He will travel extensively. The doctor all these years has enjoyed a large and lucrative practice and feels that after a service of nearly half a century, he is entitled to a rest.

Wants, For Sale, To Let, Etc.

Four lines or less under this head, 25 cents each insertion; each extra line 10c. Count 8 words to a line. No ads. accepted in this department unless accompanied by the cash.

APARTMENTS FOR SALE—Delivered in carload lots by the Bay State St. Ry. Co. Apply to Thomas Gammon, Supt., 954 Hancock street, Quincy, Telephone, Quincy 6.

UTO To Let for parties, weddings, christenings, for long or short trips, 6-pass Buick, 141 Weymouth, W. Pine Point Auto and Motor Co., Bridge street, North Weymouth. 29 1/2

CLOTHING—Men's and young men's. Hand-some patterns, Two hundred suits, $4 to $12. Balaclava not to be found elsewhere. Geo. A. Hunt, 78 Front St., Weymouth. 11 1/2

CAN place a few mortgages, with private party, ties, and on reasonable terms. If property is right, Address Box 553, E. Weymouth. 17 1/2

FOUND—Strayed on my premises Sunday morning, June 15, a black and white Holstein Cow, about 3 years old. Owner apply to Andrew Coleman, 14 Allen street, East Braintree, prove property and pay charges. 14 1/2

LOST—Boys' Gold Cuff Button, with initials H. D. on face. Reward if returned to H. D., 54 Shaw street, North Weymouth. 11

TO LET—2 furnished rooms; also wanted plain washing and ironing, curtain laundering a specialty. Apply at 1029 Commercial St., East Wey. 11-15

TO LET—Tenement off Keith street, rent $7.50. Apply M. R. Wright, agent, 57 Commercial street, Weymouth. 14 1/2

TO LET—A house of 7 rooms on East street near Keith's factory. Apply to W. H. Pratt, Broad street, East Weymouth. 11 1/2

WANTED—A Boy for office work. Apply at factory of ALDEN, WALKER & WILDE, East Weymouth. 14-15

WANTED—For two days a week, a licensed engineer to operate engine (steam) for sawing and splitting wood. Apply to Mr. BATES, at wharf of Augustus J. Richards & son, Commercial street, Weymouth. 15-17

WANTED. People to know that it costs only 25 cents to make known their wants in this column.

Real Estate

Do you want to BUILD or BUY? I have property for sale in Weymouth and vicinity, of all kinds. Call and see me and make known your wants Reasonable terms.

CAREY'S REAL ESTATE AGENCY 733 Broad Street East Weymouth.

LOST SAVINGS BANK BOOK.

Savings Bank Book as listed below is lost, and application has been made for payment of the account in accordance with Sect. 40, Chap. 500, of the Acts of 1908 and amendments thereto. Payment has been stopped.

LOST—Deposit Book No. 10366 of the Weymouth Savings Bank is reported lost. 15-17 street and George W. Edminister of Roxbury has bought the other bungalow on the same street. Both buy for occupancy.

—Joseph Manion is here from Albany, N. Y., on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Manion.

—The Tomb of Flame, Bates' Opera House, June 28. 10 and 15 cents.—Advertisement.

—The Methodist Society at East Braintree has outgrown its present church edifice and a committee consisting of Henry M. Storms, Josephine Sampson, H. R. Smith and Charles Clogston, has been appointed to consider the matter of a new church building.

—Miss Daisy Batch who is training to become a nurse, is here on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Abbie Crafts Wade of Quincy avenue.

—Charles B. Edwards was in town from Pittsfield, Pa., over Sunday.

—The members of the Sunday school of the East Braintree Methodist church held a well attended lawn party on the church grounds Monday evening.

—Mrs. Fred A. Sullis entertained the members of her Sunday school class of the First Baptist church at her cottage at the Sand Hills, Scituate Beach, Saturday.

—Mrs. Alexander K. Bates is spending the week at her cottage at Scituate Beach.

—Mrs. Maurice O' Connor had her pocket picked of a pocket book containing $30.26, while shopping in a Quincy store Tuesday.

—Oscar Guitaitz is in town from Grindstone, Maine, where he has been for the past year.

—Stetson Avery has taken a position for the summer with the Old Colony Gas Co. as inspector.

—Miss M. Z. Ahern will entertain with a musical recital at Pythian hall this Friday evening.

—Morris Bloom Jr. is spending the week with his aunt in Boston.

—The body of Mrs. Mary E. LaFleur, wife of James LaFleur who died at her home, 25 Rockville Park, Roxbury, last Thursday, aged 41, was brought here Saturday and interred in the family lot at St. Francis Xavier cemetery. Deceased was a native and for years a resident of this town, being a daughter of the late Thomas Hennessey whose body was brought here for interment a week ago.

—Walter Briggs is enjoying a ten days' vacation. Daniel J. Creamer is substituting for him at the Quincy avenue crossing.

—Mr. and Mrs. George F. Curtis who were married recently, have begun house-keeping at 112 Washington street, this place.

—The Weymouth Savings Bank has declared a dividend of 2 1/2 per cent for the six months to July 7, 1913. This makes 4 1/2 per cent for the year.

—Needed repairs and improvements have been begun on Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Weymouth. The roof has been repaired, the ceiling will be refrescoed, a new carpet will be laid on the chancel and nave, the robing room will be enlarged and the choir room improved by the addition of choir seats and desks, and the underpinning will be largely rebuilt. These repairs will take considerable time as the plan is to have the work done without interfering with the Sunday services.

—Miss Evelyn Floyd was tendered a surprise party at her home on Commercial street Wednesday evening by 80 of her friends and presented a handsome gold pendant. Games and dancing followed, and a lunch was served.

—Comrade Horace L. Smith of Reynolds Post 58 is to attend the fiftyth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg next week.

—Chief Frank O. Whitmarsh and Mrs. Whitmarsh yesterday attended the annual Ladies Day outing of the Massachusetts Fire Chiefs' club of which he is sergeant-at-arms.

—Miss Annie Coyle who was operated on at the Carney Hospital Boston, is reported as improving.

—Louis Hunt sailed for a three months trip abroad on Tuesday. Thomas Shea is to take his place in the store during his absence.

—Contributions of flowers, for the Mutual Helper's Flower Work Boston, may be sent to Miss Emma L. Clapp next Monday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Champion of Broad street have been entertaining his sister, Miss Champion of Philadelphia, Pa.

—Miss Grace Wilde is spending the week at her home in Falmouth, where she went to attend the graduation of her sister at the local high school.

—Leslie Remick, clerk at the Cloverdale store, is confined to his home on Walnut avenue by an illness that the physicians find difficulty in diagnosing. He went in swimming a few days ago and is said to have hit his head on some hard substance while diving but felt no ill effects at the time.

—The East Braintree Hose and Hook and Ladder companies won both the hose laying and ladder raising events at the field day exercises held at Braintree yesterday afternoon in connection with the dedication of the new $83,000 Town hall.

Had the Doctor Guessing. An exceedingly eminent and busy New York physician, who goes to many clinics and sees hundreds of patients weekly, was somewhat taken aback a few days ago when, in response to a telephone call, he took up the receiver and heard a thin, elderly German-American voice say these words: "Doctor, I vass py you lasd week. What shall I do negrd?"

EAST WEYMOUTH AND WEYMOUTH CENTER.

—The Tomb of Flame, Bates' Opera House, June 28. 10 and 15 cents.—Advertisement.

—Arthur Raymond of Lafayette avenue has taken a position as conductor on the local street railway.

—Dan Howley, the East Weymouth boy with the Philadelphia nine of the National League, was home over Sunday.

—Miss Persis Tuttle, principal of the Jefferson school left last Saturday for her home in Warren where she will spend the summer vacation.

—A very good crowd attended the second band concert of the season in Jackson Square last Friday evening by the Stetson Shoe Co. band.

—The members of the water department of the town presented Ivers M. Lowe, the retiring superintendent of the department, with a magnificent watch chain and charm as a token of esteem last Friday noon and all wished Mr. Lowe the greatest of success in his new position as superintendent of the streets in Milton.

—Harry Darling of Whitman is breaking in as conductor on the Bay State Street Railway.

—A number from this village attended the Philadelphia vs Boston baseball games the first of the week in hopes of seeing Dan Howley behind the bat in one of the games.

—Religious services were held at the Town Home last Sunday afternoon under the direction of Rev. William Hyde, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church of Weymouth Landing.

—Julian Merchant has been enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Sebago Lake, Maine.

—Albert R. Humphrey of Hawthorne street is having a two weeks' vacation from his duties in Boston.

—The Ladies' Auxiliary to Gen. James L. Bates Camp, S. of V., held a social and whist party in G. A. R. hall last Monday evening after the regular meeting. The favors at whist were taken by Mrs. Alice Lunt, Mrs. Charlotte Stoddard, Mrs. Joseph Sherman, Cornelius Condrick, Mrs. Jacob Dexeheimer and Mrs. Ada Noyes.

—Mrs. S. C. Denton and Miss Alida Denton leave this week for their summer home in Bridgewater, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Cushing will leave today for Cottage City where they will, as usual, remain during the summer months.

—Tomorrow D. M. Easton will join the 6th Cavalry Regiment Association of New York for Gettysburg. This regiment was commanded by Mr. Easton's brother, Col. Fred Easton and was in the Gettysburg fight participating in the shut out of Stewart Cavalry, thus weakening the right wing of Lee's army.

—Wendall Studley is having a glorious time on his two weeks vacation on the coast of Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Bicknell are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter last Saturday.

—Sturgis Robinson of Middle street has taken a position as teacher in a summer school in New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Colby of Middleton, N. H., who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Vogel of Cedar street, were the recipients of a complimentary surprise party last Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Colby were remembered with many beautiful gifts. A luncheon was served and there was a program of music.

—A Dutch supper was served in G. A. R. hall, East Weymouth, last Tuesday evening by the Ladies Auxiliary to Div. 9, A. O. H. from 5 to 7:30 o'clock. The committee in charge was Miss Mary Moran, Mrs. A. Conathan, Miss Elizabeth Donovan, Miss Lizzie Cullen, Miss Bridget Torney, Miss Helen Nugent, Miss Julia Corcoran, Miss Gertrude Knox, Miss Mary Brassill and Mrs. Marcella Donovan. The entertainment program consisted of vocal solos by Miss Tessie Madden, Mrs. Augustus Conathan and Miss Bridget Torney, and piano selections by Miss Alice Cullen. At the conclusion of the supper dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

—Mrs. John S. Porter, a former resident of East Weymouth and daughter of the late Jarius Sprague, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. S. Gurley, Knoxville, Tenn., on Wednesday May 28. Mr. and Mrs. Gurley are at the head of the Tennessee Institution for the Deaf at Knoxville, and Mrs. Porter had made her home with them for several years. She endeared herself to the children of the institution by her cheerful and loving disposition. Her funeral had a large attendance and numerous floral offerings testified to the esteem in which she was held. Besides Mrs. Gurley she leaves two other daughters, Mrs. E. Reife of Chattanooga, Tenn. and Mrs. L. Anderson of Richmond, Va.

—WANTED—Experienced girls on power machines, steady work, good pay. Rhodes & Ripley Clothing Co., Hingham. Tel. 39-W.—Advertisement.

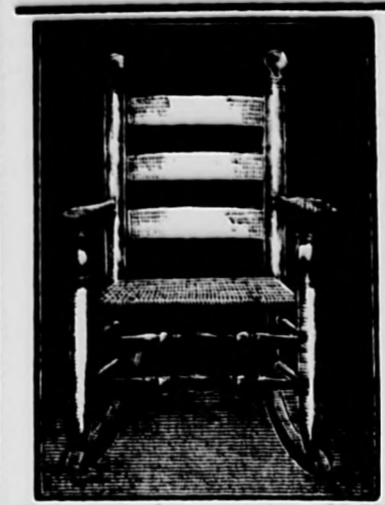

—Miss Anna L. Ryan, who has been teaching for the past year in South Framingham, is at home for the summer vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. James G. Ryan and Dr. D. J. O'Shea of East Boston spent Sunday with Mr. Ryan's folks.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure Digests what you eat.

Your Friend Economy Invites You To Kincaide's CHALLENGE SALE NOW GOING ON

Worth-while Savings all over this Big, Five-floor Store. Outdoor and Indoor Home Furnishings of Kincaide High Quality at Lower-than-ever Prices

$1.74 for regular $2.35 porch rockers as pictured.

SOME OF THE SAVINGS

- 75c New Feather Pillows - 29c
2.00 Wood Frame Cot Beds - $1.29
2.50 Fibre Suit Cases - 1.49
2.50 Axminster Rugs - 1.39
4.00 Lawn Mowers - 2.49
4.00 Lawn Swings - 3.44
6.00 Khaki Couch Hammocks - 4.94
7.25 Combination Mattresses - 5.94
15.00 Round Dining Tables - 8.94
18.00 Dream Couch Beds - 12.98

$3.64 for regular $5.00 Go-Carts as pictured

See Sale Circular for full story of Savings. GOODS DELIVERED FREE.

Henry L. Kincaide & Co. 1495 Hancock St. Quincy

Store open Friday, Saturday and Monday Evenings FURNITURE-PIANOS-RUGS-RANGES

'88 Class of High School Look Into Each Others Faces.

The class of '88, N. H. School, held its twenty-fifth reunion Saturday, June 21st, with Mrs. Kate Pierce Thayer of Weymouth. The members of the class, with husbands, wives and children, gathered together on the beautiful grounds of Mrs. Thayer's home, and from early afternoon until evening enjoyed boating, croquet and social intercourse. Lunch was served in the studio, overlooking the river, and all agreed that it was an ideal spot for a reunion.

Mr. F. H. Beede, the principal of the N. H. S. during the four years of this class at that school, was an honored guest. He is now superintendent of the schools of New Haven, Conn. Miss Parkhurst, now at the Roxbury High school, was also present. During the afternoon each of the class gave an account of what he or she had done since the days of graduation, and letters from those too far away to be present were read. This class feels proud of the record of its members, and the reunions which have been held annually since graduation, show the loyalty each one has for the class.

It was fully agreed upon that another reunion would be held when the thirtieth came. May all be there to enjoy it.

DO IT NOW. Weymouth People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home: John J. Norton, Weymouth, Mass., says: "I have observed the good effects of Doan's Kidney Pills in my home. One of the family had weak kidneys and complained of pains in the back. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the trouble."

Commonwealth of Massachusetts. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of MARY C. TOBIN late of Weymouth, in said County deceased, in testate. Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Thomas S. Tobin, of Plymouth, in the County of Plymouth, without giving a surety on his bond.

Suffering Humanity Finds that relief must be found for the ills which may come any day, —else suffering is prolonged and there is danger that graver trouble will follow. Most serious sicknesses start in disorders of the organs of digestion and elimination. The best corrective and preventive, in such cases, is acknowledged to be

BEECHAM'S PILLS

This standard home remedy tones the stomach, stimulates the sluggish liver, regulates the inactive bowels. Taken whenever there is need, Beecham's Pills will spare you hours of suffering and so improve your general health and strength that you can better resist disease. Tested by time, Beecham's Pills have proved safe, certain, prompt, convenient and that they

Always Lead to Better Health

Sold everywhere. In boxes 10c., 25c. The directions with each box should be read by everyone, especially by women.

Coal - COAL - Coal

BEST QUALITY OF ALL KINDS. ALL-RAIL ANTHRACITE IS SUPERIOR CHARLES T. LEAVITT, Successor to H. W. CURTISS COAL Co. Yard, Wharf St., EAST WEYMOUTH. Tel. 21-2

Independence Day The Hostess

Next Friday we will celebrate Our Independence Day; And call to mind those patriots Who signed their lives away. That they might separated be From the oppressive hand; And give to us a legacy Of our fair native land.

Let's raise "Old Glory" to the breeze, At th' rising of the sun; To remind us of the freedom For which they fought and won. Let every bell peal forth the news As in the days of yore: Of Union, peace and liberty Roth now and evermore.

To make the gladness of the day A little more complete; And have the day a saner one I here once more repeat, Buy your supplies the day before Of bread and pies and cake; From Whitcomb's large variety You can a wise choice make.

WHITCOMB'S

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE. Commissioners' Notice to Creditors of Insolvent Estate of Welthy B. Osborne, late of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk, deceased, represented insolvent. The subscribers, having been appointed by the Probate Court for said County, commissioners to receive and examine all claims of creditors against the estate of said Welthy B. Osborne, hereby give notice that six months from the twenty-fifth day of June, A. D., 1913, are allowed to present and prove their claims against said estate, and that they will meet to examine the claims of creditors at the East Weymouth Savings Bank on the fourteenth day of July next, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

For The Fourth

FLAGs, 5x8, 75c., $1.50, $3.25. FLAG POLES. 75c., $1.50, $1.60, $1.90. GARDEN HOSE, 8, 10 and 12c. per foot.

Mark Down on all Garden Seeds 25%. Florence or Perfection Oil Cook Stoves, with Ovens for the same. F. W. STEWART'S Hardware. Washington Sq. Weymouth

One Minute Cough Cure For Coughs, Colds and Croup.