2.—After securing 2,000 chances, it is expected subscribers will discharge the full amount of their Tickets, on the immediate presentation of Messrs. Thomas Wiltshire and Co's letter or demands, much prior to the drawing of this scheme. [See 4 and 5 conditions.]

3.—The amount of the subscriptions realized, to be deposited in one of the Banks.

6.—All prizes, above a quarter Ticket, according from this scheme, shall be delivered to the fortunate Calcutta winners, either in Government Lottery Tickets, or if preferable, paid in cash, at Company's Rupees 110 for each Ticket, three days after the drawing shall have been finished. Our latest dates are—Calcutta to the 7th; Madras 6th and Delhi Gazette the 6th Instant. The following Passengers will proceed by the Steam Frigate Semiramis this day. L. Dent Esq, Mr. G. W. Gwyn, C. H. Bainbridge Esq Attorney at Law, Mrs. Bainbridge, Don Senebaldou M.S.

COLOMBO BAR.—The Ceylon Herald of the 27th ultimo, enters at considerable length and with great ability, into the question of the appointment of Mr. Gibson to the office of Deputy Queen's Advocate. The Herald complains on two grounds, the infringement upon the rights and privileges of the Colombo Bar, and on public grounds; the interference of the Executive Government with the Judicial authorities, incompatible with the interests of public Justice, and public safety. The Bar it appears, object that Mr. Gibson had not been duly formally and legally admitted to practise in the Courts; that no person could be admitted, under the Charter to plead and practise in the Court, unless he was previously examined and enrolled, either as an Advocate or a Proctor therein,—that the effect of swearing in Mr. Gibson would be, to allow him to appear, plead and practise without his being so admitted and enrolled.

The Chief Justice presided when the objection was first taken by the Bar, he held that they were premature, and did not follow that Mr. Gibson would be admitted to appear, plead and practise, in the District Court, merely because he was sworn in as Deputy Queen's Advocate. His Lordship is reported to have on that occasion declared that under orders from Government he would swear in a dumb Queen's Advocate or a tide-water, regarding himself as "a puppet in the hands of the Government." We have great faith in every thing stated by the Ceylon Herald, otherwise we should be inclined to doubt that such forms of expression were ever used by any British Judge, there must be, we charitably hope, some mistake in the Report of what fell from the Chief Justice, for, if such severity of feeling, such prostration of true independence, and such want of all respect for himself and his proud position, did in fact emanate from the Bench, we believe that no respectable Bar, composed of British Gentlemen could be found to practise in his degraded Court. Our contemporary will therefore pardon us, if we hesitate to affix such a stigma to the character of a Judge, until we receive confirmation from himself, that the Report is trustworthy to the fullest extent. The matter came on again before the full Court, when Mr. Justice Stark decided in favor of the objections raised by the Bar, on the authority of the 17th clause of the Charter. The Senior Puisne Justice and the Chief Justice dissented from the views of Mr. Justice Stark and held that the 17th Clause did not apply for Mr. Gibson could only by virtue of his present oath act in favor of the Queen, and the Queen did not come under the denomination of "other person" (the words of the 17th Clause) that it was the Queen's Prerogative to appoint whom she would, and that the Charter could not abridge her Prerogative. We do not know the precise language of the Charter—but we strongly incline to think that the learned Judges strained a point, in favor of the Crown, which was not Constitutional to say the least of it.—If the Courts in Ceylon are constituted in analogy with those in other Colonies, we do not think the Judges, if they know their duties and practice them, can ever suffer the Charter to conflict with the Queen's Prerogative or vice versa the Prerogatives of the Crown, as we always understood, have been in former times most onerous to the subject, and many of the most offensive to liberty, have long since vanished from the Diadem.

What has become of them? They have been lopped off from time to time, as the people became too strong for despotism—or anything bordering upon it—and the successive encroachments made by the Laws upon the Prerogative, are they not set forth, and at some length too, in the Statute Book? It is fundamentally ignorant, and constitutionally wicked in any man or set of men, to propound the doctrine of Law being overruled at this day by Prerogative—the Sovereign is the head of the Laws—the "fountain of Justice," as it is figuratively said, and the Judges only act under a delegated power from the Crown, to administer the Law in its stead—what then becomes of the Majesty of the Law, if it must yield to very fancied prerogative? Besides a dozen other considerations, was not Her Majesty a party to the Charter, and is she not therefore bound by it? Here what is called the exercise of the Prerogative is, the warrant of a Colonial Governor. By the Charter in force here, certain qualifications are required from Barristers and Solicitors, and the gentleman of the latter profession was admitted by the Judges some years since, under a false construction of the Charter—the other Solicitors practising in Bombay appealed to the Queen in Council, and for months since the appeal was allowed—and the gentleman irregularly admitted was by motion struck off the Rolls—this they did, not for any factious purpose, but to put down any attempt to invade their privileges—we have lately printed the case at great length. The personalities addressed to the Bar by the senior Puisne Judge, redound far more to his own discredit, than to their disgrace—allowances must be made for ill-humour and occasional splenetic effusions from poor human nature, even when clothed in Ermine; but it is new to us happily, to hear taunts from the Bench, and invidious personal comparisons instituted between practitioners. The "sit down Sir" of the Puisne Judge, was an unanswerable argument. And the remark of the Chief Justice, "perhaps Mr. Gibson does not wish to be examined by your very learned body" speaks volumes for the discipline of the Colombo Court. We beg to express our sympathy with the sufferers, and to intimate to them with every friendly feeling, that if there be recurrences of such scenes in their Court, the fault rests with themselves, because they evidently are fully cognizant of their rights and privileges, and knowing they are bound by duty to themselves and their successors, to assert them manfully.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORTS OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND. The following are a few specimens of the eloquence of the principal speakers at the late Meeting of the General Assembly taken at random from the reports of the Scottish Newspapers. We have in no shape interfered with them or altered them further than in detaching them from their context which runs very much in the same strain as the fragments taken from it, and in prefixing what appears to us to be appropriate titles. They will be perused with sincere regret by every serious minded reader as examples of the lengths Clergyman of the 19th Century can be led by fanatical zeal and intolerance worthy of the 15th Century.

COLONEL DALRYMPLE.—(Clerical Infringements of the Laws.—) The sentence passed by the Assembly of the Strathogie ministers was wholly incompetent, and he charged the party opposite with the consequences of these illegal measures which had resulted in scenes of violence and outrage, disgraceful to a Christian country, scenes he had never thought to have witnessed in Scotland, and which had obliged Government to move troops into a district where nearly 100 years had elapsed without such necessity.

A GOOD HIT.—Colonel Dalrymple.—The Revd. Dr. Candlish supported the resolutions by a train of reasoning more like that of a follower of Ignatius Loyola than of John Knox.

A REVEREND EXTORTIONER.—Mr. Pyper.—The Presbytery of Strathgairn had found the Rev. Dr. Wilson guilty of gross falsehood and fraud, of attempting to obtain money on false pretences—of misapplication of the funds of the Poor; of disregarding the Rules of the Church—of drunkenness and other heinous offences. Against the decision of the Presbytery Mr. Wilson had obtained an Interdict from the Court of Session &c.

THE SURE PINCHING.—Mr. Dunlop.—Mr. Wilson by appealing to the Civil Court had clearly denied the fundamental principle of the headship of Christ over the Church, and proposed that he be found liable to the highest censures of the Church.

A REV. ANTI-TERTOTALKER.—Mr. Dunlop.—Mr. Clark, a preacher of the Gospel was charged with drunkenness, profane swearing, and obscenity, he proposed that he be deprived of his license, and Ministers be prohibited from employing him to preach in their pulpits.

THE WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING.—Major Stewart.—They might shut him up in a prison, but they would never shut the Bible from him—the only terror that he entertained was lest by the eloquence of the gentlemen opposite he might be brought to desert the Kirk, for then and not till then, would he have any reason for fear and trembling that God would forsake him.

A REVEREND THIEF.—The Rev. Mr. Buckan.—The Rev. Mr. Livingston had been guilty of five different acts of theft and had obtained an Interdict from the Court of Session. He was deposed.

THE LIE DIRECT.—Mr. Dunlop.—Capt. Dalrymple made a most unaccountable attack. Captain Dalrymple.—I did not make an unfounded attack. Professor Alexander.—Here referred to the blessedness of being Peace-makers, and he humbly thought that while seeking peace in the way of truth, they might also seek truth in the way of Peace. (He was heard with great impatience.)

CRUELTY AND CONDEMNATION.—Captain Dalrymple.—Whereas the Revd. Mr. Cunningham did in the month of March last, at a Meeting at Belfast, make use of language applied to the writings of the Revd. Dr. G. Cook and Mr. J. Inglis, of an unfounded and calumnious nature, which the Revd. Mr. Cunningham did on compulsion retract. It is proposed that the subject be considered. (Rejected.)

A PROPHETIC FOREBODING.—Revd. Mr. Cunningham.—Such an unbecoming and deplorable display of ignorance was often heard in that House, made by the office bearers of the Church, and some of them he was ashamed to say by Ministers of the Gospel. Mr. Aitken rose to order and said that gentlemen ought to conduct their arguments consistently with the usages of Society and with Christian feeling. It was not his language merely, but he assumed such an air of domination that it was a positive insult to the House.

THE DELIVERANCE.—The Lord High Commissioner.—I shall have the honor of transmitting the address to Her Majesty, but I desire to be distinctly understood that, in so doing, I express no approbation.

SYMPATHY.—The Moderator's Address to the Margins of the Minutes.—The enlightened interest which has ever been manifested by your Grace in the cause of true religion, and the minifiance of your proceedings in reference to our National Church, secure for your Grace a high place in the respect and gratitude of the Church as a Christian Patriot &c. &c.

BILLINGSGATE BLACKGUARDISM.—The Revd. Mr. Carmichael in reference to his Strathogie brethren.—He thought they might as well have reported a commission from seven Scavengers or Tinkers. (Laughter.)

THE SAFE SIDE.—Revd. Dr. Cook.—He held there was no fault committed in obeying the law of the land; he considered such obedience a duty binding on him as a good churchman.

A PROPHECY.—Revd. Dr. Chalmers.—It would truly be an egregious travesty if it would make us a farce of the proceedings of our General
