YOUR KIDNEYS

After the Uric Acid and poisons out of the system through the urine if they are acting right, if not, the results are Backache, Bright's Kidney Disease, Dropsy, Diabetes, Nervousness, Blood Disorders, etc.

All these diseases can be CURED

For a number of years I have been afflicted with a kidney trouble which would not be weakened at night with the usual amount of my back. At times the pain would be so intense that I would have to get out of bed and sit up. My frequent sufferings with a severe headache, which only I could get relief from, were frequently relieved by the use of your famous Kidney Pills. The first box gave me great relief. I am now using the pills and feel so well in many respects. Chas. F. Brown, Amesbury, Mass.

The Sporting Duchess.
The "Sporting Duchess" with a wonderful cast and all the scenery, costumes and paraphernalia which make this play celebrated, comes to the Boston Grand Opera house for one week only, commencing next Monday evening. No play that has been presented in America in many years has appeared so directly to all classes of theatregoers, as has this spectacular drama. It tells the story of a human heart interest in a dramatic way, and is interpreted by a cast unequalled in the annals of theatrical events in America. The six acts of this play, the most important would be sufficient to attract the attention of the theatre-going public. Six stars in one cast is a rarity nowadays. Rose Coghlan will be the Sporting Duchess. Her face is well established to need any further mention; Jeffrey Lewis is also an artist of extraordinary ability, who has been a star for many seasons in the Madison Square Stock Co. is one of the few actors of the day who has the combination of talent and good looks necessary to the performance of heroic roles. All the remainder of the 100 or more characters are in the hands of prominent people. "The Sporting Duchess" is a drama of an English race track filled with exciting scenes which have never failed to arouse an audience to enthusiasm wherever the piece has been given. For instance early in the play there is a military ball, represented in a fashionable country house. Thousands of dollars were expended upon the uniforms and costumes to be worn in this scene. The "Sporting Duchess" is a production of its kind that has never been presented in this country. It is a drama of the most ambitious manager, Mr. Frank E. Perley, equal to any emergency. The stage is crowded with spectators of all sorts. Twenty horsemen engaged in the great struggle and the drama is a triumph of managerial ability. SUICIDE.

J. M. Peck of Brantree Found Hanging in the Woods on Liberty Street, East Brantree.

There was great excitement in town Wednesday morning when a young man was found hanging to a tree in the woods of Liberty street.

John Orr was out gunning and came upon the body of the man.

The police and officers Henry Dagan and John Kelley, went to the place and found the man.

The arrival of medical examiner John T. Frasier, who after viewing the remains, placed them in charge of Undertaker F. L. King.

The man died from strangulation, a small string had been tied to one of the limbs of the tree and around his neck.

The body was in a slanting position and both feet of the man were in the pockets of his overcoat.

He had been dead for several days.

It was about 40 years old and leaves a widow, domestic worker and run a shop.

For the past five years she has been somewhat feeble-minded, as a result of the death of his father, which prostrated him at the time.

When he wandered away he wore a suit of dark clothes, a long overcoat, a yacht cap and a pair of dilapidated brown shoes.

His right shoe was almost entirely worn out. His hair was closely cut and he wore a full beard. He stands 5 feet, 10 inches. He is aged 47, and unmarried.

"Going into a decline." How often do we hear this expression. What does it mean? It means that people are losing flesh, growing thin, wasting.

The way to correct this condition is to improve the digestion. The condition arises from an inability to eat and digest food.

To get food from the stomach to the bowels because it ferments and creates in the stomach, developing poisonous substances which when absorbed cause various disorders.

What is required is that the stomach be made to perform its duties. The Shaker Digestive Food is a food already digested and a digester of foods as well. It will make the stomach healthy. Get a book from the druggist and read about it.

A California chemist has robbed Castor Oil of its bad taste. Laxol is its name.

What do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called Grain-O?

It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more you give your children the more health they will have.

Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared, is better than the chocolate coffee but costs about 14 cents a can. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

Will Eat and Speak.

The dinner of the Republican club of Massachusetts, which is to take place on Wednesday evening next, October 29, at the Hotel Hamilton, Boston, will be one of the great events of the campaign in New England.

These dinners of the Republican club of Massachusetts have become famous for the success which has always attended them.

The arrangement for the coming year of every person who attends are carefully made and carried out, the dinner is a success in every respect.

Grain-O is served upon such an occasion, while the speaking, the real attraction, has always been remarkably brilliant and effective.

Many famous men have been introduced to Massachusetts Republicans at these dinners, and the speakers at the dinner will fully maintain the standard of the past years in this respect.

The speakers for Wednesday's dinner will be announced in a day or two as usual.

Dinner tickets at two dollars each, may be obtained at the rooms of the club, 10 Milk street, Boston. With each dinner ticket two complimentary tickets are given for friends of those who attend the dinner.

Few People Have Eyes Alike.

Fully nine-tenths of those who wear glasses have different vision in each eye. Sometimes it is a decided difference, in others only a slight variation. A careful examination will fail to bring out this defect—the same lenses would be adjusted to each eye—and headaches and eye strain that medicine fails to relieve is the result. I test each eye separately, select proper lenses, adjust glasses to suit both eyes from an complete Test Case as is made.

No extra charge for testing the eyes. Hold Spectacles, $3.00 to $5.00. If you are having any trouble with your eyes or head call and see if I can't relieve you.

Stop! Women,

And consider that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private life to a woman—a woman whose experience in treating women's diseases is greater than that of any living physician, male or female.

You can talk freely to a woman when it comes to relating your private troubles to a man; besides, a man does not understand, simply because he is a man.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read, and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman. This has been established the eternal condition between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this grand offer of assistance.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys are breaking out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fully cures every ailment in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and has had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys are breaking out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fully cures every ailment in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and has had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the continuance of this offer.

TEN YEARS YOUNGER.

A Happy Husband's Story.

"My wife," writes a fond husband, "looks ten years younger since she began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura. She was in a terrible condition. She used to be nervous several years ago. I did not notice it at first, but she gradually grew worse. After a little she could not sleep. She lost her appetite. She became irritable and morose, and from the sweetest and best tempered woman in the world she became shrewish and hysterical. Finally she began to fade away. You know there is a difference between being nervous and any husband, but I must confess that my wife's unfortunate condition was a sore trial. I do not know what would have become of us if things had gone on as they were. The change for the better came suddenly. I began to feel better, and my wife's nervousness and irritability went. I did not know what the matter was until she told me that she had been impressed by the sincerity and common sense of Dr. Greene's advertisement, and that she had been taking his Nervura. From misery and despondency she is now the happiest person in the world, with the possible exception of myself."

Dr. Greene's Nervura.

THE GREAT BLOOD AND NERVE REMEDY.

Is the great health restorer. To suffering womanhood it is a priceless blessing. How sad the sight of a fading woman! Who has not seen the sparkling eyes lose their lustre, the roses and lilies of the face fade, the cheeks and elasticity of step and gracefulness of figure give way to repulsive haggardness! In Dr. Greene's Nervura she has found a means by which women may regain their lost health and beauty, and assume their rightful position in the sphere in which they move, as both ornaments and inspirations.

THE FALL OUTING OF THE WEYMOUTH HISTORICAL SOCIETY, Saturday, Oct. 16, 1897.

There are in the several German universities 2,000 foreign students, of whom more than 400 are Americans—a larger number than of any other country.

Associates Justice Stephen Johnson Field, of the United States Supreme Court, has made formal application to President McKinley to be retired from the bench, under the law allowing members of that court to be retired when 70 years of age.

An Indiana case has developed a bank president of having received deposits which he knew the institution was insolvent and punished him by imposing a fine of $218.

On Klondike schooner has sailed from New York, bound for Alaska, and the mines. Another line at a wharf in Lynn, under the law allowing members of that court to be retired when 70 years of age.

Robert Collyer—Beautiful is the activity that works for good, the silliness that being vain for good, the blessed self-sacrifice of the one and the self-forgetfulness of the other.

Dr. Greene's Nervura is the only medicine that will cure the most stubborn cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, and all other forms of nerve pain.

FRIDAY, OCT. 22, 1897.

Tomorrow, Saturday, from 12.30 to 10 p. m., the board of Registrars hold their last regular meeting.

There is no chance for party to be ignorant now on matters relating to the Klondike and the great gold fields there.

The Zoö is affording every opportunity for its patrons to be enlightened on the subject by talks, views, illustrations, and the exhibition of native Alaskan ethnology.

The Klondike twin sisters continue to be a great drawing feature, and they are such pleasing little children in their native garb that women and children find the strangers very attractive.

In their old native entertainments, which precede their receptions in the Exhibition hall and under the big tent, they show how Americanized they have become by singing several of the popular songs of the Klondike.

The Klondike feature is the presentation in the lecture hall by explorer Briggs of his views illustrating a complete trip from Seattle to the Klondike.

With a few words on each scene and about 100 views which he throws on the big screen by the electric photostereograph, the visitor is carried along most vividly to the Klondike.

The Palmer Cox Brownie books that are being given away at the Zoo are drawing the children in larger numbers than ever.

Remont Theatre. Last Monday evening DeWolf Hopper and Sons's bright and melodious comedy, "The Old Maid," returned to the Tremont theatre, Boston, where it had its first production and where it has during the past week been largely in evidence, for pretty, timely, and altogether a bigger, brighter and ever has been seen by the eyes limited only by the four walls of the theatre.

Naturally as of your, Mr. and Mrs. Hopper carry over to the Tremont performance on their own shoulders, and both of them were encouraged again and again for their principal specialties, while the singing of Miss Bergen is also a great feature of the performance.

The peculiar humor of Alfred Klein and the splendid vocalism of Edmund Stanley makes them numbers one in the troupe.

able favorites, while Thomas S. Guise, C. A. Hosmer, John Parr, Harry P. Stone and the remaining members of the cast are excellent in their various parts.

If there has ever been a comic opera company in Boston before, which contained so many fresh and pretty faces in its chorus as Mr. Hopper's does this year, it would be difficult to specify when. Just to be able to look at some of the most remarkable talent, and their natural charm of person do not suffer any lack of pretty and harmonious costumes to set them off. The opera is richly and handsomely mounted in every way, and everything goes with absolute smoothness and with a sparkle and snap that nothing is to be desired in this respect.

Life-Story Ended.

Roscoe Walker a venerable citizen of East Braintree died at the advanced age of 80 years on Monday afternoon at five o'clock at his home on Commercial street.

Mr. Walker had been helpless and infirm for months and on Saturday afternoon was taken suddenly worse, becoming unconscious and remained partially so till the hour of his death.

A widow, a son, and a daughter having been fully and tenderly cared for him, his funeral home is left to mourn his loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker of Chicago arrived on Saturday and were with their father during the last hours of his life on earth.

Funeral services were held at his late residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. Edward Morris of the First Unitarian church of Weymouth officiated. The interment was at Weymouth. Formerly Mr. Walker lived in Weymouth but during the last years of his life he has been a resident of East Braintree.

In early life Mr. Walker married Elizabeth Ann Tirrell of Weymouth and one son, Roscoe, since deceased was born to them.

He afterwards married Eliza Wright of Weymouth and the children of this marriage were a son Russell and a daughter Eliza who with their mother have the sympathy of neighbors and friends in their grief at this sad ending of the nearest and dearest of family ties.

The better times are not owing to the best hour yet. Not a little credit is due the wise legislation by Congress in the special session called by President McKinley. Let Republicans go to the polls and endorse such legislation with their votes.

The Republican party has always met and settled the gravest public questions in this state for the past generation. The voters seem content to allow them this duty. An important question now pressing is that of economy in the state expenditures. The Legislature has met by insisting upon the utmost economy consistent with the best interests of the state.

A wise and judicious economy is not, however, to be confused with parsimony. The Legislature, fresh from their constituents, endorse will be heartily supported by all the Republican leaders.

Gov. Wolcott seems to most happily meet the demands of all who want to get the best of their government. Some differ with him, but all agree that he comes as near being right as any man ever in the Governor's chair. Those who like that kind of a man should vote to keep him there, even if they have not belonged to the same political party.

Great Triumph. Instant relief and a permanent cure by the great remedy Otto's Cure for Lung and Throat Diseases. Why will you irritate your throat and lungs with a hacking cough when Humphrey Bros., East Weymouth and Hingham, Dyer & Sullivan, South Braintree, sole agents will furnish you a free sample bottle of this great guaranteed remedy? It is success is wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Sample free.

Electric Goods. Henry Thomas of South Weymouth informs the public of his agency of Dr. Scott's electric goods, which are of inestimable value to the afflicted. See ad in another column.

Proposed Improvement in East Braintree. (From the Braintree Reporter.) The citizens of East Braintree are agitating the improvement of Commercial street at the point where the old brick store now stands.

The street at that point and from there to the Weymouth line is very narrow and the electric railway has been located there, is considered to be dangerous and inadequate to the large amount of travel that goes through the street.

Some years ago a local commission-ers were petitioned on, and the matter was considered and very injudiciously settled temporarily by taking of some of the ledge opposite the brick store. That was the use of streets for railways was contemplated.

The argument of citizens for immediate action is that it can never be done in the future as cheaply as now. Large improvements are soon coming in this locality.

A new church is to be erected next spring just above the old brick store to replace the Union church that was destroyed by fire last year. Although the plans are not decided upon as yet this new church will probably be of stone Gothic or Old Colonial in design and it will undoubtedly be a great ornament to the locality.

The White estate which borders along this street for a long distance and which changed hands recently will be opened up and developed in the spring.

It is understood that the owners of this property are in sympathy with the proposition to widen the street. They have improved their property they will give the land necessary to be taken from their holdings, without claiming any land damage.

Probably, also, one of the streets they will build will be a direct continuation of the avenue thus making a fine square at the place.

It is the opinion that never after improvements along the line of this proposed widening shall have been made, and the widening be done but at a far greater cost and therefore, that now is the time to secure an order from the County Commissioners. An order is now on file in the office of the County Commissioners, and it is now in use, and the damages will be much less than when some store may be in operation there.

A petition is to be circulated asking the County Commissioners to come and view the street line.

Efficient Your Home With Casarets. Only effective cure combination of 10c. 50c. 10c. C. C. fall, druggists refund money.

Half-yearly earnings for the first week of October were 72 per cent. larger than last year, and 9 larger than in 1892, and more than half the entire mileage earned in September, 18 per cent. more than last year, and 20 per cent. more than in 1892.

The steady improvement is monthly returns since June is a striking evidence of progress in business. Regulations in office returns since June have been depress by speculative failures, usually interpreted as a one-day lecturing to a class of students on Friday was 48 per cent. larger than last year, and the highest point touched this year, September 17th. Trust stocks reached their lowest on Friday with a decline of $2.75 for the week. There has been more foreign buying than selling, though hindering speculative operations here.

The volume of payments from clearing houses continues larger than in the last year of property, for the second week of October 121 per cent. larger than in 1892, and the daily average for the month has been 8.8 per cent. larger than in that year and 35 per cent. larger than last year. Collections are remarkably good throughout most of the country, and western cities are bidding in this market for paper, cutting down commercial loans of New York banks though the aggregate placed is not lessened. With Paris exchange at the gold point, further shipments of gold to this country are thought probable.

For the first week of October were $2,535,037, manufacturing $978,507 and trading $1,556,530, all branches smaller than for the same week in any previous year. Failures for the week have been 225 in the United States against 228 last year, and 36 in Canada against 35 last year—Francis Review.

Fair for the Clock Fund. Monday, November first will soon be here and but one short week remains for the final preparations and arrangements for the fair to be held at the residence of Mr. A. Granville Bowditch on Quincy avenue, in behalf of the clock fund. All are interested to make this sale a success and the support and taxation for contributions extended through the local press has been general. We hope no one is waiting for persons solicitations and that generous supplies of clock, home-made candy, jellies, preserves, aprons, boxes for the lovable, useful and fancy articles will be the ready response of all. COURT MARRIAGES.

The first marriage of the season with Court Marching, Loyal Knights and Ladies, as held in Old Fellows' building Wednesday night, was a most pleasing affair to the attendees.

PREMATURE INTERMENT. Count Karnice's System Would Render It Impossible.

Stitchest Respiration Would Throw Back the Lid of the Coffin and Cause a Loud Rupture to the Brain.

A certain Russian, Count Karnice, who has spent several years in the experience of several years ago. A young daughter, to whom he was devotedly attached, had apparently succumbed to some serious malady, and was about to be buried. Just at the moment when the first cloths of earth fell upon her coffin, so the story goes, she betrayed signs of life in precisely that manner the public is not informed. Instantly the work of interment was interrupted, and the prompt measures which were taken for the resuscitation of the girl proved successful. As can be readily imagined, this incident produced a profound impression upon the affectionate father, and it may well be believed that thereafter he had no fixed idea in his mind of the invention of a system of sepulcher as would preclude not only the possibility of such an unhappy mistake in other cases, but would render reasonable even the supposition that a blander had been committed.

It ought to be remembered, in spite of all which has been written on the subject of premature burial, that the best medical authorities pronounce popular anxiety on this subject groundless. They say with good reason that while ought to command general confidence, that the scientific tests of death are not infrequently in error, and in this indication to leave any room for doubt, when a competent physician has once given his verdict. The chance anyone being buried alive, in any civilized community where there has been proper attendance of the sick, is today so exceedingly small, that the amount to an impossibility. However interested one may be in the awful ordo which Count Karnice was subjected, and in the result of the studies into which it naturally led him, there

DELICATE PIECE OF WORK. English Alphabet Engraved on the Head of a Pin.

Frank J. Mollenhauer is perhaps the most expert engraver in New York, if not in the world. In delicacy of touch and skill in handling delicate instruments his work is something marvelous. His latest achievement was to engrave the 26 letters of the alphabet on the head of a pin. Under a magnifying glass the letters are clear and distinct, and as perfect as any ever engraved by a visiting card or wedding invitation. But with the naked eye the minute letters are merely scratches which are not visible to the eye.

Mollenhauer's work was the result of an attempt to beat the work of a man who had engraved the Lord's Prayer on the head of a pin. A number of other copies of the West Shore railroad were speaking of this recently, and the belief was expressed that this achievement would never be surpassed. The conversation reached Mr. Mollenhauer, and he before, it is quite safe to disbelieve in the need of any such apparatus as that which he eventually invented. The Russian himself as a harm less monomaniac.

Count Karnice came to Paris a few weeks ago and presented his invention to the city authorities. There is no indication that his hope of seeing it introduced into actual use is very bright. The French capital will ever be realized; but the newspapers have not yet reported on the subject.

In the Karnice system of interment it is proposed to provide the coffin with a small chest of drawers, in which, above the chest of its occupant, a metal lid is kept in place over this hole by means of a spring. At the moment, just before throwing earth into the grave, an undertaker's assistant raises the lid and adjusts to the opening in the coffin the lower end of the chest, which terminates at the level of the earth above in a tightly closed box.

There remains then to be done, the lowering of a small glass bulb which just touches the breast of the enclosed body. If, now, the latter should make any movement, or the chest should be pressed upon, this contact would immediately release several results at the surface of the earth.

A spring would be released which would throw the cover of the box open, thus admitting fresh air to the body in the vertical position, and an electric light would be turned on. Some of these features, of course, attract attention, whether they be put in operation by day or by night; and the presumption is that for a fortnight a special watch would be kept on the chest, which would be removed if any signs of life were afforded, they will certainly appear within 15 days. If, therefore, at the end of that time nothing has happened, he would have the tube and other apparatus withdrawn from the grave. The inventor advocates the adoption of his city of Paris of this scheme, which computed the probable cost. One piece of apparatus, he says, would cost about eight dollars. The average number of burials per day is 200, and in 15 days would amount to about 3,000. In such a case the device can be used over and over again, after withdrawal from a grave, it would be necessary to provide only 200 of these, and those would cost $2,000. By assuming the facilities for those benefit the invention was employed, however, the expense would soon be offset completely. Still, if a solitary rescue should be effected, in consequence of the use of this apparatus at any time within the first few months, no doubt the public would consider the outlay fully justified, even if there were no employment. But as yet, at least, the device has not been put in the mouth with the sweet side creation.

BARTOLOME MASSO. New President of the Cuban Republic Is a Malinois.

Although official information has yet reached the United States as to the result of the presidential election recently held in Cuba, the American newspapers are current that Gen. Bartolome Masso is the successful candidate. The lack of direct communication with the insurgents makes it impossible to verify the rumor.

Gen. Masso has all his life been a defender of his country, and his presidency is a honor of preference to the president of the office could be found, and that no man has accomplished services to his country.

Case for Thankfulness. One day, at the late dean of Ely's table, a legal gentleman was lamenting the gaps which he had made in his profession.

"We have lost," he said, solemnly, "not less than six eminent lawyers in an early morning train."

The dean, who was quite deaf, at once rose and repeated grave: "For this and all his merits," etc.—T. J. Sullivan.

Hints to Farmers. Any time now when the shears are sharp is a good time to trim grape vines. In pruning remember that fruit is borne on new canes only, and each bud on this year's growth will produce fruit on a cane next season that will thrive from one to three clusters.

Never mind if you don't make the pig tough and hard to withstand exposure, if you can only keep them growing and healthy. You may have lost, but you will not lose it. Gristle, bristles and bone are so necessary.

The white grub has done more than its share in destroying strawberry plants. Remedies have been frequently tried with but little success. One good report is that he has found good results from the use of tobacco refuse, applied on the plants in the fall, giving another application in the spring.

An interesting discovery by Jacquemin is that the leaves of fruit trees, having themselves no marked flavor, may develop a decided bouquet of the fruit in solutions undergoing alcoholic fermentation.

The farm is a sure source of income, and though the profits of some years may be very little, yet the farmer quickly recovers himself by his active life. In many occupations panics or business depressions sweep away all the manufacturer and the doctor are being ruined, but the farm remains.

The bird man on the farm will receive good wages if he will make himself indispensable to the farmer. He should know what to do and take an interest in the progress of the work.

If one wraps the horse blanket around his legs, on top of the lap robe, the driver will be so cold, he will not be able to stand unprotected from the wind because one has forgotten his blanket.

Be careful not to dry the heifers in milk when they are giving. He should know what to do and take an interest in the progress of the work.

Have you ever weighed the advantage of early milking? Try it this year. Does put up before they begin to lose flesh, do better and require less food. Don't let them roam the pastures half starved, and get this and surely, thought will reduce the cost of keeping later. It is a mistake.

Farmers can help the schools in many ways. They can cordially recognize what they do, and they can do so in an intelligent understanding of what they are doing, co-operate with them in investigations and experiments when asked to do so, attend their short courses whenever possible and send some of their boys and girls to take their full course.

It should be noted that such work should be done in a cold or other conditions. A cow can not produce large quantities of milk unless she is comfortable, and when food is required to create additional warmth there will be a loss. Shelter saves food by protecting the stock against cold winds.

Canadian children are taught agriculture in some of the schools, and it is stated that since such teaching began, which was several years ago, the young men have shown more preference for farming than before.

We believe in small, well-tilled farms; that the soil must be fed as well as the owner, so that the crops shall make the farm and the farmer rich.

The raising of vegetables without plenty of manure is not profitable. A surplus of fertility in the soil should be the rule. If manure is accumulating don't haul it out and leave it in piles, but spread it evenly or leave it in a broad, neat heap to rot, unless it threatens to burn. Fertilizer and the full application of manure make the soil more fertile, unless sandy.

ECENTRIC WEDDING. West Virginia Couple Is Married on a Railroad Track.

A Christian preacher, says the Charleston (W. Va.) Gazette, has beaten the world's record in the matrimonial line. A few days ago he received a request to go to a village in the mountains to marry a couple who were anxious to embark on the matrimonial sea. The minister set out in haste to find the place, but in the rush and excitement incident to occasions of this kind he forgot the name of the parties, and continued his journey, not knowing where they were anxiously awaiting him. After rambling about for some time he found something better, and the alphabet on the head of the needle. Mr. Mollenhauer, says the New York World, is a general commercial engraver. He has engraved the letters of the alphabet on the head of a pin. He has engraved the letters of the alphabet on the head of a pin.

Lightning Struck Melons. One day recently lightning struck an angle of fence on the farm of Joseph R. Johnson, at East Braintree, N. Y.

The fence was on one side of a field of cantaloupes. The melons were large and whether they be put in operation by day or by night; and the presumption is that for a fortnight a special watch would be kept on the chest, which would be removed if any signs of life were afforded, they will certainly appear within 15 days. If, therefore, at the end of that time nothing has happened, he would have the tube and other apparatus withdrawn from the grave. The inventor advocates the adoption of his city of Paris of this scheme, which computed the probable cost. One piece of apparatus, he says, would cost about eight dollars. The average number of burials per day is 200, and in 15 days would amount to about 3,000. In such a case the device can be used over and over again, after withdrawal from a grave, it would be necessary to provide only 200 of these, and those would cost $2,000. By assuming the facilities for those benefit the invention was employed, however, the expense would soon be offset completely. Still, if a solitary rescue should be effected, in consequence of the use of this apparatus at any time within the first few months, no doubt the public would consider the outlay fully justified, even if there were no employment. But as yet, at least, the device has not been put in the mouth with the sweet side creation.

Scientific Boarder—There are no scientific boarders in the room of the month. If we wish to get out of the month of bread and soup, for instance, we must put it in the mouth with the sweet side creation.

Practical Boarder—Ah! I suppose that is why we all eat this bread and butter with the buttered side up.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Difference. When the other fellow gets rich it's luck. Just kidding back that brings him in. But we win it's a case of study. With intelligent effort one can get rich.—A. W. Hulet.

No Time to Waste. A stranger—This looks like a very unhealthy country. I shouldn't think people would get very old here. Mrs. News—And what has your papa got? Little Fannie—He's got six months, and he can't come out either.—T. J. Sullivan.

Out of Place. "That new cook from the City that the Bluebeards have been boasting about is sitting on the porch last night when they had company?" "Didn't she feel out of place?" "No, she didn't."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Short Suffering. "She never complains of her husband's ill-treatment of her," remarked Squidly. "She suffers in silence." "But she suffers only when she is silent," replied McGillicuddy, "she doesn't suffer long at a time."—Pittsburgh Courier-Telegraph.

From Two Misanthropes. Papa—You saw that big boy whipping the little one, and you didn't interfere? Suppose you had been that little boy? Eddy—If I had I'd think that that was going to part 'em; but then I happened to think 'em was the big boy? So I left 'em alone.—Puck

ELLEN OSBORN'S FASHION LETTER. A Country Mouse Inspects a City Mouse's Outfit for an Autumn Holiday.

New York—"I can get more hats into a given space than any other member of the family," said a city mouse, as she bent over an ark that she was packing for autumn holiday.

"I don't see what you want of such a milliner's shopful," said a country mouse, dubiously.

"No lady has fewer than eight hats," pronounced the city mouse, with authority. "I don't see what you want of such a milliner's shopful," said a country mouse, dubiously.

"There is a rule about rings?" the country mouse jumped at the opening. "Certainly only one pronounced in color to a hair," declared the city mouse with the air of one imparting knowledge that may save nations.

"My right hand is blue, my left red," continued the city mouse in the tone of a martyr.

"Red, white and blue is patriotic," said the country mouse, meditatively. "That patriotism must be judicious," insisted the city mouse.

"Now this big turquoise with its circle of diamonds goes on the little finger," pulling all the rings off and adjusting them in one by one. "The guard ring that holds it is a smaller turquoise. Then on the third finger I wear one diamond and pearls; there is no discord. This marriage of diamonds and rubies goes on the little finger of the other hand; its ground is a ruby. The third finger gets these two big diamonds and a ruby and that half-circle of diamonds. My stones were brought to wear together, some people's aren't," and the city mouse looked down with satisfaction at her finger nails. "But which of my hats do you like best?" picking up a small toque briskly.

"That." "The city mouse was surprised. "This means nothing to me with my short walking suit. It is pretty," she assented, inspecting the little black velvet, decorated with the big paste buckle and two sweeping black plumes that curled completely around it, crossing behind. "See how I wear it and the toque was atop the trim little head, covered with blond curls. "The buckle comes on one side of the front, and so, to balance it, I stick in, just over the other eye, this paste hat. The knot of ermine velvet and those pale pink feathers, becoming, don't you think, dropping behind on my hair?"

"Have you seen the dress I wear with it?" Buckle and pin went into ellipse, while the city mouse dove into the ark, and from among the things that ready packed, fished out a gown. "Think how the cashmere is made to be a trim frock, with three or four tucks for skirt trimming. The bodice of pink plaid silk was laid in minute tucks up and down and all around. A square collar of cashmere opened on the left side. House has narrow jacket fronts that show a tiny blue silk vest inside. There was a gray silk belt and an empire collar with pink lining.

The country mouse beamed all over. "A beautiful!" gasped the country mouse. "What a lovely set of really nice things," she began, "there's well, there's the gray cashmere."

AYER'S HYGIENIC CEREAL COFFEE. A Health Tonic, Nerve and Brain Food.

It's cut low and square, you see. The lace is fastened with opals over the bosom. After dinner, the city mouse looked and said: "The colors are lovely; you must feel like a fairy princess with that on."

"The city mouse laughed a laugh of pleasure. "I thought I could wear you up. This was the bodice of a dinner gown. A little delicate vest of cream colored silk was made with long, tight sleeves. It had a big Medici collar that was faced with pink velvet. Against the face of the vest came an exquisite lace ruffle. A gimp of pink mousseline de soie formed the decollete and was gathered into a broad, swinging belt of pink velvet. Under the belt the lace bodice struggled out behind.

"That is the sweetest thing I own," said the city mouse, enthusiastically, holding up a dog collar of pearls against the pink bodice.
