POTERY.

Youngster, Quit that "Gal."

Youngster, quit that "gal,"
Or else we'll have a row;
To you she never shall
Be dearer than she's now.
'Twas my old dad's command
That I should make you quit;
So, youngster, by my hand,
You shall git up and git.

That young and charming miss,
With lips so plump and round,
I cannot just now kiss,
Because you're hanging round;
Youngster, be off—the 't's clear;
Your eyes straight fore you keep,
Or now, by Jove, I swear,
I'll mash you in a heap.

When I was quite a boy,
I twittered with that maid,
And in all earthly joy
Both she and I have played;
Her daddy knew it not—
Her mamma took it cool;
So, youngster, up and trot,
Or else I'll pull your wool.

My heart-strings stick like glue,
Close to that gal, young, gay;
Knew you a thing or two,
You'd quit without delay.
My gal, the chap is gone,
Without that dreaded muss,
And now, as sure's you're born,
Let's have a rousing buss.

A MOUTH.—A curious little anecdote is just now amusing the few people who remain in Paris in the winter. M. de R. betted that "two mouths" could swallow eighty-three dozen of green oysters in one hour. He offered himself and the other "mouth." The oysters were forth coming. M. de R. ate one dozen, rang for his servant, and ordered in the "other mouth." His servant went out and soon returned bringing with him a pig! No need to say that the remaining eighty-two dozen were gobbled up in much less than the hour. But now comes the great discussion, and it remains to be seen whether the umpires will decide whether the bet is won. The losers say, "We believe two men were to eat the oysters;" and the winner very improperly replied, "How could you fancy anything save a pig could do so?" The answer implies a well deserved blame upon all such disgusting transactions as these, but a duel has nearly arisen from it. It was at first sought to represent the hero of the story as an Englishman, but in reality it is M. de R., the werrer of one of the oldest names in France.—Galignani.

A MESSAGE TO COOK.—Mary this coisier sauce is quite cold. Missus has sent me down with it, and says you must eat it directly, and bring it up again.

THE SHERIFF AND THE WIDOW—A STORY OF MISTAKEN FACTS.

—We have heard a good story, of which an Alabama Sheriff was the hero. Court was in session, and amid the multiplicity of business which crowded upon him at term time, he stopped at the door of a beautiful widow, of the sunny side of thirty, who, by the way, had often bestowed melting glances upon the aforesaid Sheriff. He was admitted, and the widow appeared; the confusion and fright which the arrival of her visitor occasioned, set off to greater advantage than usual the captivating charms of the widow M. Her cheeks bore the beautifully blended tints of the apple blossom; her lips resembled the rose buds upon which the morning dew yet lingered, and her eyes were like quivers of Cupids, and the glances of love and tenderness with which they were filled, resembled arrows that only invited a bear to do full execution. After a few common place remarks:

"Madam," said the matter-of fact Sheriff, "I have an attachment for you."

A deeper blush than usual mantled the cheeks of the fair widow, the down-cast eyes, whose glances were centered upon her flowing drapery, gently patted the floor, she, with equal candor, replied:

"Sir, the attachment is reciprocal."

For some time the Sheriff maintained an astonished silence—at length he said: "Madam will you proceed to court?" "Proceed to court?" replied the lady with a merry laugh; then shaking her head she said: "No sir! though this is leap year I will not take advantage of the license therein granted for my sex, and, therefore, I greatly prefer that you should proceed to Court!"

"But, madam, the Justice is waiting." Let him wait; I am not disposed to hurry matters in so unbecoming a manner; and besides, sir, when the ceremony is performed I wish you to understand that I greatly prefer a Minister to a Justice of the Peace."

A light dawned upon the Sheriff's brain. "Madam," said he, rising from his chair with solemn dignity, "there is a great mistake here; my language has been misunderstood. The attachment of which I speak was issued from the office of Squire C., and commands me to bring you instantly before him to answer a contempt of court, in disobeying a subpoena in the case of Smith vs Jones."

We drop the curtain.

A SHARPSHOOTER'S EXPLOITS.—Captain Travis, says the Memphis papers, keeps his admirers in a state of continual excitement in reference to his wonderful achievements with the pistol. His last proposition is more remarkable than any we have yet heard of. He says he will wager two hundred and fifty dollars that he can hit a mark without seeing it, and that the mark shall be placed behind the tree from him. He says the judges shall select a tree not less than six feet in circumference. A board target, six by five inches in size, shall be placed behind the tree, at a distance of thirty yards from his position. He shall not see the target, but with his pistol will shoot around the tree, and out of twenty shots will hit the target fifteen times, at least, making the ball go round the tree before striking the target. The match to come off within twenty days from the 21st inst., in Arkansas, within three miles of the city of Memphis; the place to be selected by the judges.

CALIFORNIA BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

—The United States and California Boundary Commission will proceed shortly to the scene of its duties. Lieut. Maury, the Commissioner on the part of the United States, has received his instructions from the Secretary of the Interior, which contemplate, with the concurrence of the Governor of California, the establishment of the initial point of the boundary at the south intersection of the thirty-fifth parallel north latitude with the Colorado river, and a reconnaissance of the line toward the north, this winter. In the spring of 1861 the initial point at the north, in the Washoe region, will be established and the line surveyed as far as practicable. With a view to economy, Secretary Thompson has limited the number of employes to be engaged here to those absolutely necessary for the scientific work and charge the instruments on the way out, the remainder of the corps to be engaged in California. The Commission as organized here consists of Sylvester Maury, United States Commissioner; Lieut. J. C. Ides, United States Army, Astronomer and Surveyor; H. M. C. Brown, Assistant Astronomer and Surveyor; J. M. McLeod, Computer; J. F. Kauts, Quartermaster and Commissary; and O. Besson Artist.—N. Y. Herald.

AN OBTUSE BOY.—"I say, boy, stop that ox." "I hnv'nt got any stopper." "Well, head him, then." He's already headed, sir." "Confound your impertinence, turn him." "He's right side out, now sir." "Speak to him, you young rascal." "Good morning, Mr. Ox."

A STRANGE STORY.

—In a village near Newark, England, in an old thatched house, which had been occupied by the same family for nearly three hundred years, there lived an old man who has nearly completed his 86th year. A person who had occasion to visit him the other day, was not a little surprised on hearing the old gentleman, in course of conversation, express his belief that he was not only going to heaven, but had been there once since his first introduction into this world. From the account he gives of the matter, it appears that when he was about eleven years of age, he was in a lifeless state—which he called a trance—for the space of nine days, and it was during that time he thinks he was permitted to behold the glories of heaven. His parents fully believed him dead; the passing bell was rung, his coffin ordered and made; and on the third day his friends assembled for the purpose of following him to the grave. The clergyman of the parish went to look at the supposed corpse before the coffin-lid was screwed on, and finding it warm, he expressed his opinion that the child was not dead, and after ordering the postponement of the funeral, sent his servant on horseback for a doctor, who, on arriving at the house, confirmed the assertion of the minister, and instructed the boy's mother to moisten the boy's lips with wine and water twice a day. She did so; and on the seventh day he showed signs of life by moving—on the eighth he could hear the conversation of the persons in the room—and on the ninth day he was able to open his eyes and rise from the supposed bed of death. Since that time his health has been delicate, but he has continued to occupy the grazing land adjoining his cottage, and has kept cows after the manner of his forefathers.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.

—The Sheriff of Placer county has offered a reward of $1,500 for the arrest and delivery of all the prisoners but one, who escaped from the Auburn jail on the night of October 4th:

N. A. Robbins, 6 feet and 2 inches high, well built, brown hair, thin on top of his head, moustache, and round shouldered.

Lawrence Sumrall, six feet and two inches high, loose, awkward built, round shouldered, black curly hair, gray eyes, scar on left wrist.

Henry Sprague, brown hair, sandy beard, five feet seven inches high, thirty years old, one front upper tooth out, hairy on shoulder and body.

Thomas Lawrence, about five feet nine inches high, brown hair, brown eyes, flag and hat on left hand, WFH WM and heart on left arm, flag and U S on breast.

Thomas King, star on top of right foot, three ink dots between thumb and fore-finger of right hand, anchor, cross and pirate on right arm, light brown hair, blue eyes, about five feet nine inches high.

Wm. Dixon, about five feet six inches high, fair hair, smooth face, twenty years old, blue eyes, strong built.

Monroe Cozier, five feet six inches high, forty years of age, black hair and whiskers, points cut off of three fingers of right hand.

Wm. Wildes, five feet eight inches high, smooth face, brown hair, anchor, flag, v reath, shield, liberty pole and scar on right arm; on left arm, M. P. C. C. in a star.

Gabriel Rocas, brown hair, blue eyes, five feet six inches high, scar on right collar bone, at one time broken.

Orsin Tomlin, sandy whiskers, brown hair and eyes, five feet five inches high, sallow complexion.

Dan Gray, sickly looking, black hair and gray eyes, about twenty-eight years of age, the last joint of one finger stiff. Irishman.

Artemarino, a Chilian, dark, heavy set, five feet eight inches high, thirty years of age, middle finger of right hand stiff, scar on arm.

ONE OF THE PIONEERS.—A person who has been traveling in the southwest for some time, writes of his discovery of a "character" as follows: I must tell you of a wonder of a man I called to see in the mountains of Virginia. He told me some wonderful stories of bear hunts and bear fights, of deeds of daring and feats of strength almost incredible. He is now eighty-four years of age, has been six feet three inches tall, of fine proportions, magnificent chest, and great good sense, although he never read a word in his life. He began with his rifle, lived on fish, wild turkeys, deer and bear, sold their skins, made a little money, bought land, and has accumulated quite a little fortune. This he has conveyed, before his death, to his children, they supporting him while he lives. But strangest of all, though often urged to do both, he never borrowed one dollar, nor ever had his name on the books of a merchant or mechanic, persistently refusing to buy on credit.

SNAKE WORSHIP IN AFRICA.

—According to the correspondent of the Boston Post, now in Africa, the people have some curious ideas on religious questions. The chief object of worship in Whyhab are snakes and a large cottonwood tree. There is a snakehouse which I used to go often to see. The snakes are of the boa species, and are from five to fifteen feet in length. You can almost see them crawling about the streets. When the natives see them, they fall down and kiss the earth. They are perfectly harmless, as I have often seen the natives take them up and carry them back to the fetish house. It is not at all unfrequent to find them on the mat alongside of you in the morning, as the huts are without doors. I had my lodgings in what was once an English fort, but is now in ruins, and is a favorite resort of the snakes. I never found one in my room, but one morning on looking in the room adjoining mine, I found one almost seven feet long. The penalty for killing one is, for a white person, the price of sixty slaves, now $4200. For a native, he is shut up in a bamboo house, and then the house is set on fire. The poor fellow has the privilege of getting out if he can, and running for the lagoon, a distance of two miles, followed by the mob, and if he reaches the water he is free. But very few can ever avail themselves of this "water cure" It is a great dodge with the fetish man, if he knows that you are peculiarly averse to this kind of god, to bring them near your house and put them down, knowing they will enter, and he will be sent for to come and take them away for which he gets a few strings of cowries. It would appear that this benighted section of Africa calls us loudly for missionary labors, as the more favored countries of the East Indies.

THE ZOUAVES AS SHARPSHOOTERS.

It seems the little spunky Chiacco Zouaves are famed for their skill as marksmen as well as perfection in drill, and while going down the Patapasco river, they gave the Baltimoreans a specimen. The Zouaves were provided with cartridges containing the powder, and a Minnie ball, about as large as the end of a man's finger, when the firing began. The first shots made were at a distance of from 400 to 800 yards, the target being the post attached to a buoy, where the balls could be seen to strike the water and rebound, quite plainly. The sights being altered, several remarkable shots made at the distance of a mile, the balls striking very close to the spot at which aim was taken. Col. Ellsworth, the Captain of the Zouaves, who is noted as a first-class shot, after one or two trials of the carbine, shot at a floating hat, some fifty yards from the boat, in her wake, which he blew almost to pieces, raising it out of the water. Logs of wood were then thrown overboard, and were struck at various ranges, from 300 yards to one mile, in fact anything which could be seen upon the water was shot into without the slightest difficulty. The captain next stationed himself at the bow of the boat, and taking aim, pierced a small ball, about two inches in diameter, upon a flag staff of the boat. He also pierced the balls upon all the other staffs upon the boat, making some most remarkable shots, which were loudly applauded by the company on board. At last accounts the Zouaves were exhibiting their military accomplishments to the citizens of St. Louis.—At Pittsburgh the Duquesne Greys presented Capt. Ellsworth with a splendid sword. The blade is said to be a Damascus, and was manufactured for exhibition at the World's Fair, in London, in 1851. It bears the inscription: "Presented to Col. E. E. Ellsworth, of the Chicago Cadets, by the Duquesne Greys, as an appreciation of their matchless drill."

VICE VERSA.—An eccentric friend steppen into a store where some colored people were doing a little trading. "Ah! Mr. —," said our friend, "you have your cousins in, I see." The merchant said nothing but looked mad. The individual stepped out, but in a few minutes returned, after the sable customers had departed. "I hope you won't take any offense at what I remarked just now," said he. "Oh, no," said the merchant, "I never take offence at anything you say." "Glad of it," replied our quizzer; "the niggers are as mad as the devil!"

AN ITEM FOR SMOKERS.—The Life Illustrated contains the following in relation to the statement that tin-foil used for wrapping tobacco has dangerous qualities:

There is more poison in one package of tobacco than in the tin-foil that surrounds a hundred. If anybody doubts this, let them hold a sheet of white paper over the smoke that curls up from a burning tobacco, and after a pipeful or a cigar has been consumed, scrape the condensed smoke from the paper, and put a very small amount on the tongue of a cat, they will see her die of "strokes of paralysis" in fifteen minutes.

FOR SUPERVISOR.

Giles E. Sill, the present Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, has been re-nominated for Supervisor of the Second District. We think Mr. Sill, during his term of office, as Chairman, has acted with zeal and ability, in the management of County affairs, to the satisfaction of every one.

ANOTHER FINISHED.

The new brick building, recently erected by D. W. Edson, has just been finished, and shows off to a great advantage, being the first 2 story house here. The builder Mr. Bixler, deserves great credit, having laid all the brick himself—size 20x60.

THE Sam Soule, Captain Pierce, on Saturday last, arrived here with 214 tons of freight from Sacramento; after delivering the bulk of her cargo left for Red Bluff.

LARGE quantities of freight are now being shipped from below for the north, before the snow sets in. The steamer Swan, Captain Rogers, took up another large freight, on Wednesday last.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

On Saturday evening last, according to announcement, the Republicans held a meeting in the School House. The meeting was addressed by E. B. Crocker and C. Cole, of Sacramento. A good attendance was present.

THE BOOKSELLER

is the title of a monthly journal of literature and education, published in San Francisco, and edited by John Sweet. It is a neat and well regulated journal. The number of this month contains the address of the Rev. T. Starr King, delivered at the dedication of the High School building, on Wednesday, Sept. 19.

UNITED STATES SENATORS.

E. D. Baker, (Republican) and J. W. Nesmith, (Douglas,) has been elected to the U. S. Senate, from Oregon.

AGAIN.—J. W. Sullivan of San Francisco, has again placed us under obligations, for full files of Atlantic papers.

MEETING.—On Monday night last,

A. M. Winn, (Douglas candidate for Assembly, in Sutter County,) addressed the people of this place. The meeting was very enthusiastic.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

Seventeen Senators hold over from last year, and will be members of the Senate this winter. Of these, eleven support Douglas and Johnson, four are for Breckinridge and Lane, and two for Lincoln. The friends of Douglas will only have to elect six of the seventeen Senators to be voted for this year to give them a majority in the State Senate. As parties are now divided, the probability is that the friends of Douglas will have a clear majority in both branches of the Legislature, thus insuring the election of a sound National Democrat as the successor of Senator Gwin.—Nevada Democrat.

Washington Monument.

After the slumbering of the patriotism of the American people for more than three score years, we find that on the 4th day of July, 1854 the foundation for a marble Mausoleum was being laid at the NATION'S CAPITAL, in memory of Gen. George Washington, the first President of the United States and the greatest man of this or any other country, in any age!

The Monument has progressed from its beginning chiefly by private subscription to its present height, 178 feet. Its contemplated height is 517 feet, which will be the loftiest Monument on earth, in honor of the best man that has lived in the last eighteen hundred years.

The Monument Society which now, as heretofore, has enrolled among its members the most illustrious names of our country.

The work is now being suspended for the want of funds.

At the coming Presidential election THE SOCIETY appeals to the generosity of the people throughout the land—from ocean to ocean—and asks each and every true lover of his country, when he is in the act of exercising that proud prerogative, "the elective franchise, to contribute his mite" towards the completion of this most praiseworthy object.

The Society have appointed the County Clerks of each county of this State to act as a superintendent for his county, and the judges of each elective precinct, as collectors, to receive donations at the polls, in November next, by means of a contribution box, so that each voter, irrespective of party predilections, can have a chance to give his offering for the furtherance of the most magnificent enterprise of the age.

The county giving the largest amount in proportion to its vote, provided that amount exceeds one hundred dollars, will receive an elegant marble statue of Washington, valued at five hundred dollars, to be placed in the County Court House.

The statue will stand upon a marble pedestal and have a suitable inscription, commemorative of the liberality of the county, and gratitude of the Society.—We hope the good people of Yolo will not neglect this matter on the day of election. Come, let us strive to win the statue.

FORTY-FIVE IMMIGRANTS MURDERED.

H. Schriber has just arrived at the Dallas, with news of the massacre by the Snake Indians of an entire immigrant train, consisting of 46 persons, 19 of whom were men, the balance women and children. The party were first attacked about 50 miles this side of Salmon Falls, on the 9th of September. This attack lasted one hour. The Indians then withdrew, and allowed the train to proceed 5 miles, when they again attacked them. The fight lasted two days and one night. On the afternoon of the 10th, the Indians had possession of the whole train, with the exception of six men, who, being mounted escaped. After traveling through the woods for nine days, these six were again attacked, and five of the party killed. Schriber alone escaping, by hiding in the bushes. After traveling seven days, without food, he was found in an exhausted condition by some persons who took him to the Dallas.

Of the nineteen males in the party, six were discharged soldiers from Fort Hall. Mr. Schriber is the only one who escaped. He says that the six men who left on horseback, did not leave until the Indians had complete possession of the train; and from the screams of the women and children, he was led to believe that the whole party were butchered.—Van Chronicle.—Oct. 3rd.

THE JAPANESE BILLS.

Several members of the Japanese reception committee have lately been visible nearly all day in and about the City hall, New York. The World says: A private meeting is said to have been held for further carving of the budget of bills awaiting auditing at their hands. Most of the bills, as made out and published in the papers, are said to be guess work. Instead of $7,500, which is specified as the aggregate of the carriage bills, the bills presented foot up $9,000. The supply of carriages was deducted to the proprietors of four livery stables. All the bills are said to foot up a trifle over $106,000, the following being the leading items:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes: Suppers and wine at the ball $54,000; Board of the Japanese 18,000; Carriages 9,500; Board of Naval Commission 900; Board of Philadelphia Common Council 1,990; Trip to South Amboy 2,900; Music and miscellaneous items 20,507.

COOLIE TRADE.

It appears from the statistics furnished the Washington Constitution, by H. M. McLaughlin, superintendent statistical office, Department of State, that during the past twelve months, fifteen vessels have landed in Cuba 5,569 coolies from China, making an aggregate of 48,070 since 1847. Of fifteen vessels four were Spanish, six French, four Americans, and one Dutch.

LETTER FROM SACRAMENTO.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.] SACRAMENTO, Oct. 11th, 1860.

Considerable excitement has existed in town for the past few days by the discovery of the bodies of two murdered men near Benson's ranch, in the lower part of the county. The body of one has been identified as that of J. C. Russell, of Shasta county, while the name of the other is at present unknown. It is now ascertained beyond doubt, so the officers think, that these murders were committed by the same persons who were concerned in the Mountain springs robbery, committed in Placer county sometime in June last. It seems that a man named Simmons, and another named Martin Crosier, are the robbers and murderers, and that the murders were committed on the 11th of June last, three days after the Mountain Springs robbery. Simmons is now in Auburn jail, having turned States evidence in the Mountain Springs robbery; but, Crosier, the other murderer, escaped among the other prisoners at the breaking of the jail in Auburn on Thursday night last. But perhaps your readers may not be aware that there was a general breaking of jail at Auburn last Thursday night, and to such I will say that such an occurrence took place, and all escaped, evidently, who wished. Since the escape alluded to, the bodies I have before mentioned have been discovered, and the murderers discovered by certain unmistakable evidence. One of the evidences going to fix the guilt upon the parties I have mentioned may be found in the testimony of Garrett P. French, who kept Benson's Ferry on the Mokelumne river. His testimony is as follows:

I was keeping the ferry at Benson's, on the Mokelumne river, in July last; said ferry is about three-fourths of a mile distant from this; on the 11th day of July last I was passing this spot on horseback; it was in the evening, about sundown; I was first attracted by seeing a camp fire; I rode down to it and saw four men and four horses; I spoke to them and inquired what they were doing; they answered that they were going to camp for the night; one of the men inquired the road to the ferry; I gave the proper directions and left them, returning to the ferry; one of the four was quite a large and stout man—one was a thick set and smaller man—other two were ordinary size and build, and about of a size; the two first named were making the fire; the two last were picketing the horses; the horses were, one a cream color, one a brown horse, one an iron gray, and the fourth, bay—all good size and in good order: the bay was the smaller of the four horses; on the morning following, at sunrise, two of the men named crossed the ferry, I think the two smaller ones, having with them the four horses; they inquired the distance to Stockton and where they could get breakfast; I directed them to Mokelumne city, about one-fourth of a mile above the ferry; I am quite certain that they were two of the four men that I saw the evening previous, and the horses the same as I saw with the four men; I did not have any suspicions that anything wrong had been committed, but from circumstances since then I am inclined to the opinion that they are the murderers of the two men whose remains are present.

These two men were subsequently arrested for the robbery, having the horses and property of one of the murdered men in their possession. The officers are now on the look out for the escaped scoundrels. W. W. Corcoran, who was shot by W. H. Brown a week ago last Sunday, and who, it was thought, would recover, died last Saturday. His funeral took place on Sunday, and was attended by all the firemen in the city and a large number of citizens together with the members of the Typographical Union. Police Judge Barr, before Brown was examined, has refused to admit him to bail.

Rev. Father D. L. Slattery, pastor of the St. Joseph Church in Marysville, died in this city on Tuesday, after a lingering illness, at the early age of twenty-nine years. His remains have been taken to Marysville for interment. It was stated in town this morning that Prince Kanehama, a brother of the King of the Sandwich Islands, had arrived by the San Francisco boat last night, and departed this morning by the cars on a visit to the famous cave. I overheard some persons speaking of it, and one of them said he had engaged a suit of rooms at one of our hotels, and would take his meals at one of the open bars on Front street. I do not know certainly whether the Prince arrived or not.

The Republicans held a spirited meeting last night, in front of Toll's Hotel, which was addressed by A. A. Sargent, of Nevada, who makes less pretention, and has more ability, than most political speakers in the State. The enthusiasm of the Republicans at the election of Col. E.

D. Baker to the U. S. Senate from Oregon, is immense. The Republicans are enthusiastic, and the only party that is so, as they feel quite certain of electing Abe Lincoln President. Their cause too is gaining daily, and have hopes of carrying California for him. I have just returned from Stockton where the German Turn-Vereins have been holding their second annual festival. Everything passed off harmoniously, and to the satisfaction of every one witnessing it. Paul Morrill, whose arrival I chronicled in my last, has purchased the one-third interest of J. Gray, in the Union establishment, at pretty high figures. Mr. Grey, I understand, intends to leave for the Atlantic States in the Spring, to reside permanently. He is every inch a gentleman, as all know who know him. Yours, P.

THE PACIFIC TELEGRAPH REVIVED.—We learn from parties well posted in telegraphic matters, that measures are now in progress that are almost sure to eventuate in the speedy building of a continuous line of telegraph wires to San Francisco, and, perhaps, to Oregon. Negotiations to this end are already going on at Washington, between Secretary Cobb and Hiram Sibley, Esq., who represents the Western Union Telegraph company, and there are very strong reasons for believing that the contract, is advertised by the secretary, will be conceded to this company, if it has not already been.

It will be recollected that the Telegraph bill, as it originally passed the Senate, provided for a subsidy for ten years of $50,000 to the parties who should accept the contract. This subsidy was cut down to $40,000 in the House, and there were also other amendments made to the bill of a nature that caused it to be rejected by certain parties who had previously been anxious to obtain it. These parties have been eagerly awaiting the meeting of the next session of Congress, in the confident expectation that they could obtain double, if not treble, the amount of subsidy provided for in the present bill. This proposition of the Union company, therefore, will give Secretary Cobb an opportunity of cutting off a prospective leak in the treasury, which, in the course of ten years, would deplete it to the amount of a half million to a million of dollars or more.—N. Y. World.

VICTIMIZED BY PEDLERS.—The St. Albans Messenger says that about one hundred of the most intelligent and wealthy farmers in that country were victimized last week to the tune of some $15,000, by a band of German pedlers. The pedlers effected a wholesale trade in broadcloth with the farmers, by representing that they were acting as agents of large cloth houses in New York and Montreal, and they were particularly anxious to have the farmers save the profits usually charged by regular merchants. They would sell at five per cent. from New York cost, and take a negotiable note at ninety days for the amount; for each note so obtained they give a receipt, stipulating to take back all the cloth unsold at the end of ninety days, and when the note would be presented for payment; and they would make a present to each purchaser of two or three delain or calico dresses and a table-cloth or two. In this and similar ways, sales were effected for their cloth at a price per yard of five and a half to six dollars, which which turns out to be a sort of cotton and wool mixture, worth about a dollar and a quarter a yard. This band of worthies called upon monied men, some in this village, and after having cashed their notes, left on Saturday morning for parts unknown, leaving a box of dry goods in pledge for their bill at one of the hotels, which, on being opened, was full of emittiness.

BRODERICK WILL.—The will of D. C. Broderick, which gives to John McGlynn $10,000, and all the balance of the property to George Wilkes, was admitted to probate on Monday last, by Judge Blake. John McGlynn and A. J. Butler, were appointed executors without bonds, as provided by the will. The contestants have appealed from the order. The effect of the probate is to declare the will valid, and enable the executors to act under it. The effort to impeach the evidence of Messrs. Phillips and Hoff, failed, their characters being sustained by a large mass of respectable testimony. The property is said to be worth about $200,000.—S. F. Gazette.

A VALUABLE ANIMAL.—One-half interest in the splendid stallion "Rattler," the property of Fred Werner, was sold last Wednesday to Jerome Davis, Esq., of Yolo county, for $6,000. This valuable animal is on exhibition at the "stock grounds of the Agricultural Fair," together with nine of his progeny, all fine yearling colts.—Herald.

H. Roseberry, who bring action to recover the sum of Two Hundred Dollars, principal and interest, upon a certain promissory Note, dated March, 17th, 1860, payable three months after date, with interest at the rate of three per cent per month, at which time the plaintiff will take judgment against you for the said sum, with costs and damages if you fail to appear and answer. Given under my hand, on this 12th day of October, 1860. (SIGNED) D. L. PICKETT, Justice of Peace.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA:—To the sheriff or any constable of said county: You are hereby commanded to make due service and return of this summons to me at my office, at the time and place above mentioned. It appearing satisfactory to the Court, per affidavit of T. F. Louganour, that O. Bevier, one of the defendants in the above action, is a necessary party to said action, and that said O. Bevier absents or conceals himself so that a due process of law cannot be had on him, it is therefore ordered that a copy of the above summons be published three consecutive weeks in the KNIGHT'S LANDING NEWS, the official newspaper of Yolo county. October 12th, 1860. (signed) D. L. PICKETT, Justice of the Peace. Attest a true copy of the original. O. P. ALEXANDER, Constable. oct13-3t

A THRILLING INCIDENT.—The guests of the Lafayette Hotel, says that the New Orleans Commercial of a recent date, were, while at dinner, thrown into a paroxysm of excitement by one of those thrilling incidents which attest how intense and profound are the sympathies of the human heart. A woman, a stranger, appeared at the door of the dining-saloon, and uttered a scream of terror. What she did was inaudible, but her actions indicated that something dreadful was occurring. There was a simultaneous rush to the door, and out upon the banquet, when, horror of horrors! a little girl, about five years old, the daughter of one of the lady guests at the hotel, was seen suspended by her dress from the hook of a window blind in the third-story. Every heart ceased for an instant apparently to beat. It was a moment of thrilling, of terrible interest; but it was but for an instant. A friendly hand from within grasped her convulsively, and little Dora was safe!

As the words "she's safe," rang through the hall, the mother, who had not reached the door, and did not know what the matter was, but who nevertheless had a presentiment that her child was in danger, swooned and fell upon the floor. The little girl had been at play in the room and swung out upon the blinds. The instant she was suspended at the dizzy height over the banquet, her little hands lost their power, and had her dress not caught upon the hook or catch of the blind, she must have fallen to the ground and been dashed to pieces. Capt. Kirk, one of the guests of the hotel, was ascending the stairs at the time, and hearing the alarm and comprehending what was the matter, rushed into the room and rescued the little creature as before described. The whole incident took place and was over in less time than it takes us to write three lines. It was a truly wonderful escape from instant death.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given, under the provisions of the Act of 16th April, 1859, that I will apply to the Register of the State Land Office on the 18th day of October, 1860, for a patent upon the following described land, to-wit: North Half of North West Quarter Section 5, Township 9 North; Range 1 West, Mt.
