

THE BEE.

PUBLISHED DAILY, BY F. DELAUF. St. Peter Street, between Bourbon & Royal. TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1828.

ADMINISTRATION TICKET. Domestic Manufactures—Internal Improvements. ADAMS SELECTORS. JAMES VILLIERS, of St. Bernard, ANDRE LE BLANC, of Assumption, C. BISHNELL, of East Baton Rouge, N. DECILOET, of St. Martin, B. MORRIS, of Natchitoches.

CONSULATE, U. S. A. Campeachy, July 25th, 1828.

SIR:—By the interpretation which has been here given to the 4th Article of the new Arancel of Mexico, every vessel that anchors is liable to pay full tonnage money, whatever may be the motive of her arrival—whether to ascertain the state of the market, to receive instructions, to get a pilot, to repair damages, to obtain bread or even water.

The three Manifests required to be ready in the act of anchoring, by Article 7th, must be equivalent to minute Invoices of the cargo, by Article 8th; and any error in quantity or quality will incur the penalty of duties, by Art 9th; and of confiscation by Article 10th—however evident and innocent the mistake may appear.

This communication being intended for the benefit of American citizens interested in the trade of this district, you will make such use of it as may to you seem advisable.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant, H. PERRINE.

B. CHFW, Esq., Collector of the Port of New-Orleans.

P. S.—By official letters from the Gov. Politico of this city and the Governor of this state, I am requested to inform the Masters of American vessels who may arrive here, that they must not permit any Spaniard of their crew, on any motive whatever, either to land or to visit another vessel, not even for a moment. Masters, therefore, who wish to prevent any pretext for hostility towards themselves or the interests entrusted to their care, will avoid having any Spaniard among their crews when bound to this district.

Smyrna, April 26th—The Courier de Smyrne of this date gives the following view of the force under the command of Ibrahim Pacha in the Morea at the beginning of April.

Table with 2 columns: Unit and Count. Includes Seven Regiments of regular troops, Sappers and Artillery, Irregular troops, Cavalry, and Irregular troops at Patras.

Total, 31,320. The garrison of Navarin, is 1,500 men, that of Modon 600, and of Coron 2,800.

Ibrahim's household consists of 500 persons; at the head of it are the Kiaja Bey, who at present acts as Governor of Modon, and Ahmet Effendi as Intendant General. Ibrahim has at present the following ships: 2 Egyptian brigs, 2 transports, and 1 schooner at Modon, and 1 Egyptian brig at Navarin.

On the 31st of March, the garrison of Coron, chiefly composed of Albanians, mutinied, and demanded their pay, threatening, if they were not satisfied, to deliver up the fortress to the Greeks or the English; two days afterwards symptoms of discontent manifested themselves in the camp of the cavalry, but these disturbances were soon quelled by the appearance of two regiments that were sent against the mutineers, and by the presence of the Kiaja Bey, who went in person to Coron.

The account of the brig Delos, of Boston, being the first American merchant vessel, bearing the flag of the United States, coer at Constantinople, in sight of the Seraglio, is, we presume, perfectly correct. Commodore Bainbridge was there many years since, but he commanded a public vessel. It is said American merchant vessels have been there before: but did they enter the port, with the flag of the United States flying? Did they openly trade at the place? The Delos, while at Smyrna, obtained a firman to trade at Constantinople, and entered the port with the American and Turkish flags flying.—Boston Courier.

WE feel it due to the moral and religious feelings of our readers to apologise for the insertion of the following lay waste. His brother Viano is coming to assist him in organising Greece; it is said that he will attend solely to the judicial department.

Colonel Fabvier, who had given in his resignation, and was resolved to get it accepted, has not been able to avoid the visit which the President paid him at Meshena, and goes to Napoli with part of the regular corps, to secure to the government the possession of that important place; the remainder of his troops will occupy the Acro Corinth.

The time of three months fixed by the Porte for the acceptance of the armistice, will commence on the day of the arrival of the Deputies in the east of the Morea. They are immediately to communicate with the principal Greek Chiefs, and to endeavor, in regular conferences, to get resolutions adopted conformable to the basis laid down by the Turkish Government.

The President, Count d'Istria, as soon as he was informed of the mission entrusted to the Greek Archbishops, expressed himself in these terms—"Let them come; the proposed supremacy (i. e. of the Porte,) has nothing in it to alarm us, and we shall be ready to make sacrifices to obtain what may finally cure the political and civil existence of Greece."

It is now known that the Deputies have arrived in Thessaly, and are hastening their journey in order to arrive as soon as possible in the centre of the Morea. Their presence then will facilitate an arrangement to which it is probable that the Porte would readily accede, provided it were the result of spontaneous negotiations between itself and the Greeks.

Corfu, May 11.—Gen. Church has been attacked in the environs of Missolonghy and Anatolico, by a body of Turks, and whether from the disparity of force, or from the surprise, the Greeks were defeated, with the loss of 1200 men, and abandoned their camp, their positions, and provisions, retreating to Dragomestre. The Turks had also many killed and wounded.

The real causes of the late changes in the British Ministry do not appear, as yet, to be distinctly understood, and are certainly by no means satisfactorily explained. The resignation of Mr. Huskisson is said by some to have been entirely owing to the vote which he felt bound to give against Mr. Peel's bill for the disfranchisement of the delinquent Borough of East Retford. Mr. H. it seems, was in favor of transferring the franchise of this Borough to Birmingham, in order to entitle that populous commercial town to a member of Parliament.

FROM the undersigned's house on the 26th July last, in the morning, a negro woman named AGNES, aged about 34 years, about 5 feet high, big lips, big nose and eyes, has a front tooth missing, an old scar of about four inches on her neck, and is a crone of the Plantation of Mr. Chaubot, formerly a planter of the parish of Assumption.

THE undersigned having established his residence in the Parish of Iberville, two or three miles above Bayou Plaquemine, and on the same side, follows the practice of his profession, and will regularly attend the District and Parish Courts of East and West Baton Rouge, Pointe Coupée, St. Jacques, Ascension and other parts of Louisiana Interior.

DRY HIDES. 94 Dry Hides for sale by D. G. BORDUZAT & C., aug. 15 Royal street, No. 108.

Nothing but a desire of showing the dangerous length to which the enthusiasm of the followers of military men will carry them, could have induced me to give place to declarations at once so prophane and sacrilegious. We think the reflecting part of our readers will conclude with us, that it would be the death-blow to our free institutions to promote the Idol of such persons to the presidency.

From the New Albany, (In.) Cresset. Idolatry.—We have learnt from an undoubted source, that on Saturday, the 7th May, a party of the military friends of Gen. Jackson left this town, after the vote had been taken at a muster, huzzaing for "JESUS CHRIST and GEN. JACKSON," and swearing that they were the two greatest men that ever appeared on the earth.

We propose to the honest, deliberating republicans of this country, to inquire and ascertain before they give their votes, how much of the spirit of republican liberty there may be in this species of devotion to military glare.

Apothecaries.—This business increases rapidly, and we fear that it is too often left to inexperienced boys. An elderly lady, finding herself triflingly indisposed, sent for some peppermint, and took a few drops; it produced a stupor, and on examination of the phial, it contained Hemlock. A few drops more would have put her to sleep "to wake no more." The greatest caution is necessary in vendors and purchasers of drugs.—N. Y. Eng.

During the procession of the different trades, &c. at Baltimore, on the 4th, the weavers wore a quantity of cloth, which being immediately handed to the tailors, was by them cut out and made into a coat in 35 minutes. The hatters made a hat and the cordwainers a pair of shoes—which were severally presented to the venerable Carroll.

A Queer Proposition.—Among the petitions presented to the French Chamber of Deputies, we observe one from M. F. Mercier, who proposes to put a stop to Algerine piracies in this ingenuous manner. He petitions that Algiers should be conquered, and the Galley Slaves, from France should be sent to that country! His proposition excited much laughter.—N. Q. Eng.

NOTICE. THE undersigned having established his residence in the Parish of Iberville, two or three miles above Bayou Plaquemine, and on the same side, follows the practice of his profession, and will regularly attend the District and Parish Courts of East and West Baton Rouge, Pointe Coupée, St. Jacques, Ascension and other parts of Louisiana Interior.

THE undersigned has left to his fellow-members of the bar, Mr. P. Soule, residing in New-Orleans, and partner of Mr. Louis Moreau Lislet, the unfinished business of his office, a list of which he delivered to him. The talents of Mr. Soule, and of Mr. Moreau Lislet, his partner, are the best security to be wished for that those causes will be conducted to the last in a suitable manner.
