BRITISH GAIN NORTH AND SOUTH OF VALENCIENNES AND FRENCH ON OISE-AISNE FRONT PUSH FORWARD

Steamer Had Been Exposed to Northern Winds Since Stranding; Rough Sea Was Pounding Vessel and Passengers Had Not Been Transferred to Relief Ships in Lynn Canal

S. S. PRINCESS SOPHIA

The worst marine tragedy in the history of the Pacific Coast occurred last night when the Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Sophia, which on Thursday morning crashed on Vanderbilt Reef, Lynn Canal, hammered by a terrific gale, was driven across the jagged reef and lost with all hands.

Two hundred and sixty-eight passengers who were aboard the ill-fated steamship when she piled up were dashed to almost instant death.

In addition to the passengers, the Sophia carried a crew of seventy-five.

The first news of the terrible disaster was received here late this afternoon, having been flashed out from the United States wireless station at Juneau and picked up by the Canadian Government wireless service here.

There were no survivors, the wireless message stated. Everything possible was done to aid the passengers, who on the vessel breaking up, were hurled into the seething waters whipped up by the Alaska gale.

The vessels which had been standing by were powerless to render aid. The ship, apparently, was hurled right across the reef, and those aboard her were precipitated into the raging waters.

Ashore on Thursday

The Princess Sophia crashed on the rocks at Vanderbilt Reef at 3 o'clock on Thursday morning during a heavy snow squall while on her way south from Skagway.

She took aboard at Skagway the previous night two hundred and fifty passengers composed almost wholly of Alaskans, who reached White Horse from the interior points of Alaska with the close of river navigation.

The vessel held fast, and it was at first anticipated that she would be released on the high tide occurring at 4 o'clock on Thursday. All efforts, however, failed, and as the vessel hung perilously on the reef a northerly fresh breeze sprang up the Lynn Canal causing the ship to pound badly.

A bad sea was kicked up, making it impracticable to launch the lifeboats and transfer the passengers to the craft which had hurried to the scene immediately the S. O. S. call had been flashed broadcast.

Among the vessels which have been standing by the ship since she piled up on the rocky ledge are the light-house tender Cedar and the Peterson, both owned by the United States Government, and a large number of smaller craft, mostly fishing vessels, of which there are hundreds in Northern waters.

The auxiliary schooner King & Winge, the vessel which rescued the Karluk party, of the Stefansson Expedition, from Wrangel Island, has also been hovering near in an effort to render assistance to the stranded passengers.

Many Would Be Rescued. In view of the fact that such a large number of vessels were standing by the officials of the steamship company are inclined to the belief that in the event of the Princess Sophia slipping off the reef a large number would have been picked up.

Shipping men who know the northern waters say that a bad sea is kicked up with a fresh breeze from the north and it is considered that it would be impossible to attempt the transfer of passengers while the wind remained in that quarter.

Apart from the brief message giving the news that the C. P. R. steamer was ashore comparatively little information has since filtered through regarding the ship and her load of human freight.

Although Vanderbilt Reef is only about forty miles distant from Juneau the means of communication is said to be very poor.

No Confirmation Yet

Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of C. P. R. Coast steamships, on being notified of the wireless report to the effect that the Sophia had slipped from the reef, at once attempted to get into telegraphic communication with Juneau and other points, but up to a late hour this afternoon had received no confirmation of the reported marine tragedy.

The wireless message from which the report emanated was flashed from Juneau to Ketchikan and relayed from Prince Rupert. The message was picked up by the Dominion Government wireless here.

Hardly Conceivable

"It is hardly conceivable, I cannot believe it," said Capt. J. W. Troup when seen this afternoon while endeavoring to get into telegraphic communication with Juneau to secure confirmation or denial of the rumor. "The company," he added, did everything to render immediate assistance to the Sophia's passengers by sending the Princess Alice, the best steamer available. The Princess Alice is due to reach the scene of the disaster early to-morrow morning, after making a fast run up the Coast.

The Princess Alice, Capt. Slater, left Vancouver on Saturday night. She is equipped with powerful wireless but no direct message has been received from her that might throw any light on the reported disaster.

The only news channel available to the wireless is the telegraphic cable to Skagway is said to be out of commission.

A Fine Vessel

The Princess Sophia is one of the finest vessels engaged in the Northern trade. She is a steel screw steamer of 2,220 tons gross and 1,465 tons net register, and was built in 1912 at the Paisley yard of the Bow, McLachlan Co., Ltd. The vessel was originally designed for the Queen Charlotte Islands service, but on her delivery on this Coast she was transferred to the Alaska trade.

Capt. F. L. Locke, her master, is one of the most experienced navigators in the service of the C. P. R., who has been master of vessels in the Northern service for many years.

The human cargo which the Princess Sophia transported out of Skagway was probably the most joyous crowd that ever sailed away from the North. They were among the last of the Alaska exodus.

Eager to get "outside" to escape the rigors of the winter hundreds of old-timers, intent upon having a good time with their hard-earned gold, at the first sign of snow, caught the last of the river boats out of Fairbanks and Dawson.

Between October 16 and 21 some 500 people reached Whitehorse and Skagway, and it was a despondent multitude when it was learned that practically no steamship accommodation was available.

Over 200 of the Alaskan travellers were accommodated on the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert, which made a special trip north for the purpose.

As the Prince Rupert backed away from the Skagway dock her crowd sent up ringing cheers, but the crowd standing on the wharf realizing, no doubt, that they might be stranded there all winter, refused to respond and watched the vessel steam away in silence.

Most of those left behind had the misfortune to catch the Princess Sophia.

STOP-PRESS MESSAGE

A message to the Dominion Wireless at 4:30 with regard to the Sophia wreck says:

From U. S. ship Cedar, via U. S. Burnside.—Cedar has been standing by since 7 p.m., October 24. Impossible to get near vessel on account of northern gales and heavy seas. Two hundred and seventy passengers on board. Cedar got within 400 yards yesterday morning, but anchor would not hold. Wind and sea drove her away. Last night Sophia told us they were sinking. Cedar made full speed to her through blinding snowstorm, but did not find her. Last heard from Sophia was 5 o'clock. No survivors. Cedar to scene of wreck this morning early.

Forced to anchor until daylight. At 8:30 Cedar reported only forecast showing. No sight of wreck or life. Board of Control has agreed to join with the other Ontario cities which are opposing the increase in rates proposed by the Bell Telephone Company.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 24.—The Hamilton Board of Control has agreed to join with the other Ontario cities which are opposing the increase in rates proposed by the Bell Telephone Company.

EVE OF CANADA'S GREATEST DRIVE FOR VICTORY FINDS CITY READY TO BUY BONDS

Backed by a record of unceasing patriotism, and with her Victory Loan organization perfected, Victoria, at the eve of the launching of the greatest financial drive in Canadian history, is ready to start on Monday a whirlwind attack which will not end until all barriers have been hewn down, and the $5,000,000 objective has been reached.

In spite of all opposition, everything humanly possible, says R. F. Taylor, Chairman of the Island Committee, has been done to make the campaign a supreme triumph. It only remains for the people of the city to buy bonds and to do it in a way which will cause the least possible delay and friction to those in charge. Without the support and co-operation of the individual citizen, the most perfect organization will fail.

BRITISH AND FRENCH POUNDED FORWARD

Haig's Men Advanced on Valenciennes Sector and French Drove Farther South.

London, Oct. 26.—Field-Marshal Haig reported last night:

"We have continued our advance on the battlefield south of the River Scheldt. We have captured Sempres and Quevaing and reached the line of the Le Quesnoy and Valenciennes Railway from the northwest of Le Quesnoy to the east of Maing. In the afternoon several counter-attacks were repulsed on this front.

"During Wednesday and Thursday on the Sambre-Scheldt battlefield the British First, Third and Fourth Armies captured 5,000 prisoners and 150 guns.

"North of Valenciennes we have cleared the enemy rearguards from the Villages of Brulle and Buridon."

French Report.

Paris, Oct. 26.—The following official report was issued here last night: "Between the Oise and the Serre our attacks are continuing with success. Our troops have materially increased their advances north of Villers-le-Sec, and have taken the Ferrieres farm. Between Villers-le-Sec and the Ferrieres farm we have taken strongly organized positions, despite the resistance of the enemy, who counter-attacked vainly several times. Up to the present we have counted 800 prisoners.

"On the Serre front we have succeeded in crossing the river, and between Crecy and Mortiers have established ourselves on the north bank of the river on a width of more than one kilometre.

"East of the Souche violent combats gave us important advantages. We have advanced our line in the neighborhood of the Caumont farm, east of Vesle, and the villages of Caumont and Pierrepont are in our hands. We took 253 prisoners. During the day the battle assumed an extremely violent character.

"Between Sissonne and Chateau-Fortin this morning, after strong artillery preparation, our troops, supported by tanks, attacked the powerful organizations of the enemy that oppose us in this region. To the left we succeeded in making some progress in the woods around the Sissonne-la-Perle. We reached the road connecting this village with Banogne and Reconvrance and the southern outskirts of the latter place. The hamlet of Reconvrance is in our possession.

"On our right we penetrated the enemy positions along Conde-lez-Herpy and Hill 145, and have taken a footing in the Herpy-mill. In all this region the enemy resistance was particularly stubborn. We took more than 2,000 prisoners and captured nine cannon and numerous machine guns.

"East of Rethel we completed our success of the morning in the region of Amby and Fleury. One hundred and five prisoners, of whom six were officers, among them a chief of battalion, have been counted."

Belgian Report.

London, Oct. 26.—A Belgian official report received and made public here last night said:

"The operations of the army groups in Flanders continue favorably. On the Belgian front the enemy has shown activity with artillery and machine guns.

"This morning on the French right and the British left, in local attacks between the Lys and the Escaut Rivers east of Courtrai, French troops, in spite of stubborn enemy resistance, took the Zulte plateau and are in the outskirts of Blunpoort farm, and advanced their front on the road between Waresheim and Asselghem. British troops have captured Engelmien and Octeghem, and have continued their progress towards the Escaut."

Important Gains.

With the British Forces in France and Flanders, Oct. 25, via London, Oct. 26.—Further important gains were made to-day by the British First and Third Armies in their encircling drive about Valenciennes. South of the invested city the attacking forces pushed forward more than two miles, capturing Quevaing and Sempres, while on the north Odoemes was taken. South of Valenciennes the attack at an early hour had taken the British forward more than two miles, thereby virtually eliminating the enemy salient which bulged into their territory, with its point resting near Vendegies.

Big Guns.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Announcement from France that American sixteen-inch naval guns, manned by naval gun crews, have come into action with the American army, disclosed that General Pershing's forces are now equipped with the most powerful and hardest hitting weapons yet used in the present war, ashore or afloat, so far as is known here.

The sixteen-inch guns are similar to those designed for use aboard the newest American dreadnaught. They are fifty calibre, more than sixty-six feet in length and weigh about 160 tons without their carriages. Under question they are the longest range guns in use except the German super-guns, which are regarded merely as mechanical freaks.

The projectile weighs close to a ton, and its bearing charge, composed of the most powerful explosive known, is measured in hundreds of pounds, against the few pounds in the German super-gun shell. The destructive effect is enormous.

The plans for using big rifles for the army are understood to have been worked out entirely by naval officers. American naval crews have played an important part on several sectors of the battlefield for months handling weapons of twelve-inch bore.

Americans Gained.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 25.—Via London, Oct. 26.—From a day of extraordinarily severe fighting the Americans emerged to-night slightly in advance of the positions they held yesterday. The gains made are slight, but are regarded as extremely important, especially on the left, where higher ground dominating much of the surrounding terrain has been gained.

There has been comparatively little alteration in the positions on the centre, but the American footing in the Belleu Wood, east of the Meuse, was more securely fixed, notwithstanding the determined efforts of the Germans to force the Americans back.

Germans Nervous.

Paris, Oct. 26.—An order signed by the German General von der Marwitz, dated October 1, which was taken from a German prisoner, warned the German Fifth Army, fighting east of the Meuse, that the enemy was about to attack with the object of cutting the Longuyon-Sedan railroad and making the exploitation by the Germans of the Briey iron mines impossible. The order said that on these mines "our steel production is largely dependent and the fate of a great part of the Western front, and perhaps our people, depends on firm resistance along the Verdun front."

Enemy Weakening.

With the British Army in France and Flanders, Oct. 25.—Via London, Oct. 26.—The heavy losses which the Germans have sustained since the Allied offensive began have forced the enemy to use raw troops brought from the Eastern front. The enemy now has 195 divisions on the Western front, of which 183 are German infantry divisions, excluding thirty-one divisions withdrawn after they had suffered severe casualties during the last two weeks, and six Austro-Hungarian divisions available in reserve on this front, and none of these are fresh. The desperate situation which the enemy now is facing appears to be fully appreciated by many of the German people, according to letters captured.

Heavy Fighting.

Paris, Oct. 26.—The battle has flamed up again and heavy fighting is now under way from Valenciennes to the Meuse. The Germans are fighting well everywhere, but the Allies continue to make substantial progress in the task of driving back the enemy on the Meuse line.

Although the recent fighting has been marked by no sensational developments, it is having a cumulative effect which, apart from the ground gained, adds considerably to the weariness of the German troops, which the Germans must reckon. In the last four days the enemy has lost well up toward 15,000 prisoners and 200 guns. His total losses of effectives can not have been less than 50,000.

Strictly speaking there are three large battles in progress, all of which are being conducted with equal success for the Allies. The first is being carried on by the British Third and Fourth Armies, which pushing on toward Mons, have reached the Valenciennes-Pierson double-track railroad. The second is the attack of General Mangin north and east of Laon, which has resulted in a gain on a front of eight miles for a distance of two miles. He has carried his line out of the swamps around Sissonne. The third battle is being fought by General Guillaumat on a front of seventeen miles from Sissonne to Chateau Porcien, where the Hunting Line joins the Kriemhilde system of defence. The

Why this difference in rise.

Richer the Gluten—Better the Bread

"YES, Madam," our chemist will tell you, "there's a decided difference between a loaf of bread made from flour richer in gluten (the non-starchy, nourishing, cell building part of the wheat) and flour that contains a smaller percentage." The difference between two such loaves being as illustrated above.

ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR

HE will tell you, "is milled from the hardest kernelled, richest in gluten wheat found in North America. That's why it mixes so easily; has such a big 'oven-spring'; yielding a loaf possessed of the goldenest of colors and finest of textures."

One of the big reasons why Royal Standard Flour is different, and makes the best possible base for your war-time bread, Milled in B.C. Sold by all grocers.

Documents Destroyed.

Paris, Oct. 26.—Deliberate destruction of property and documents of historic nature was carried out by the Germans at St. Quentin, according to a report made to Premier Clemenceau by the municipal authorities of that city, who made an investigation.

Ancient city documents which had been walled up under control of the German command and placed under seal, were found to have been removed or burned. Evidence showed that this occurred shortly after the inhabitants had fled from St. Quentin in March, 1917. At the cathedral an attempt was made to mine the great pillars, but the rapid advance of the French prevented the Germans from carrying out their desire.

A German Inquiry.

The Hague, Oct. 26.—It is semi-officially explained in dispatches from Berlin that neutral residents of Brussels who have gone to the front to investigate conditions there have been formed into a committee of inquiry. It is said their visit to the cities near the battleline was made for the purpose of ascertaining what could be done for the refugees. They have communicated their report to the German authorities in Belgium and to the Belgian, French and British governments.

A Claim by Self.

Amsterdam, Oct. 26.—Speaking in the Reichstag on Thursday, Dr. Solf, the German Foreign Minister, said that the Spanish Minister, Villalobar, representing British and Belgian citizens, and Commissioner Vanbrue of the Belgian Relief organization, had visited Tournai, Valenciennes and Denain on October 18 and reported that the German military authorities had done everything in their power to relieve the condition of fugitives and residents in the bombarded towns.

Dr. Solf also said it had been reported to him that German authorities had tried to protect the people of these cities against plundering and that efforts had been made to safeguard food supplies and save art treasures.

Only men of military age had been removed forcibly, Dr. Solf asserted, and even these exceptions had been made in the cases of physicians, clergymen, firemen, policemen and those employed in supplying food.

Referring to questions asked on the previous day, he said the Government repudiated any doubt of its intention to carry out the principles laid down by President Wilson. He added: "Having in reply to the President taken its stand on his messages, the Government is resolved to act accordingly."

New German Promise.

London, Oct. 26.—Valuable works of art belonging to museums and private owners in the regions of Cambrai, Douai and Valenciennes now in the hands of the Germans will be returned undamaged to their owners after the war. This announcement is made in a German Government wireless message received here.

These works of art, under the orders of the Supreme Army Command, have been sent to a place of safety to save them from destruction by bombardment, the message says.

AUTOMOBILE IMPORT RULES ARE CHANGED

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—The War Trade Board announces a new ruling in regard to import licenses for automobiles, bodies and chassis. By Order-in-Council of June 3, the importation of automobiles valued at $1,200 and upwards at places of manufacture was prohibited except under license from the War Trade Board. A memorandum of the Department of Customs issued on September 10 declared that this prohibition also applied to the bodies and chassis of automobiles when the body or chassis, together with the usual parts required to complete automobile, amounted to $1,200 or upwards f.o.b. at place of export.

Regarding these restrictions on the importation of automobiles, bodies and chassis, the War Trade Board has decided that where an automobile body is to be assembled in Canada prior to June 16, 1918, under proper evidence, being submitted of the facts, license for importation will be recommended.

Furthermore, the War Trade Board will be disposed to recommend import licenses for bodies or other parts of cars not obtainable in Canada which are an essential requirement for the production of automobiles by bona fide manufacturers of automobiles in Canada.

Mrs. H. Made a Blanc Mange

Mrs. Arthur H. (she asks that her name be held back from the paper) said her husband had heard so much about "Pacific Milk this and Pacific Milk that" that she decided to try a blanc mange recipe she had clipped from one of these announcements, just to prove to him that it was no different than any other milk.

Mrs. H. wrote in to say that she was sorry she had felt as she had about Pacific Milk—"For," she added, "it certainly was the nicest blanc mange we have ever had and it must be the milk that did it."

Dreaming of by-gone days

NOT so very long ago, the little pictures in this advertisement depicted the weekly routine of this busy housewife. But, doing a little thinking, she saw where she could save flour otherwise wasted in the process of home baking, eliminate a lot of worry and have 15 Extra Leisure Hours for Every 50-lb. Sack of Flour by using baker's bread.

LOOKING around for a loaf up to her highest standard, she picked on SHELLY'S 4X Bread. She found it to be non-crumbling, moisture retaining, possessed of the richest of golden colored crusts and wheatiest of flavors. Hubby enjoyed it immensely. Now, her baking hours are "by-gone days."

WILSON'S ELECTION STATEMENT DRAWS REPUBLICAN REPLY

Washington, Oct. 25.—President Wilson in a statement yesterday addressed to his fellow-countrymen asked them to return a Democratic Congress in the November elections if they have approved of his leadership in this critical time.

The President's action electrified the Republicans at the capital, who issued a formal reply in the name of the party leaders in the Senate and House and the chairman of the Senate and House Republican Congressional campaign committees.

The Republican statement declares the minority party in Congress has supported the administration since the United States entered the war with a unanimity and an absence of criticism unprecedented in party history, pointing to the records as proof.

The war, the Republican statement contends, is not the President's "personal war," nor the war of Congress, nor of a party, but of the American people and "the Republican party, representing more than half the citizenship of the country, demands its rightful share in the burdens and responsibilities it imposes."

If given a majority in either of both Houses, the leaders said, the Republican party would drive forward the war and hasten victory and would "check the waste now going on of money" given by the nation.

"The Republican party believed that the question of the surrender of Germany should be left to Marshal Foch, to the Allied generals and to the armies in the field. When they report that Germany has laid down her arms, the United States and its allies should then impose their terms. Will that knowledge cause dejection to those who are fighting with us?" ask the leaders of the Republican party.

"All the world knows that the Republican party is opposed to negotiations and discussions carried on in diplomatic notes addressed to the German Government," says the statement. "The Republican party stands for unconditional surrender."

FRUIT COMMISSIONER NAMED AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—The Minister of Agriculture announces the appointment of C. W. Baxter to fill the vacancy created two months ago by the death of Donald Johnson, Fruit Commissioner.

The new Fruit Commissioner is a native of Chelsea, Que. When a boy he entered the fruit packing trade, joining the Government service six years ago. For two years he was Chief Inspector under the Fruit Markets Act for the prairie provinces, with headquarters at Winnipeg. In 1914 he was transferred and placed in charge of the inspection work in Ontario east of Toronto and the Province of Quebec. Mr. Baxter is in charge of the enforcement section of the Canada Food Board.

In addition to the administration of the Fruit Markets Act, it is the announced policy of the Department of Agriculture, through the fruit branch, to give special attention to the problems of marketing and distributing generally.

DUNLOP RUBBER COMPANY FIRST LOAN SUBSCRIBER

Dunlop Company's President Intimates Directors' Decision to Subscribe $1,000,000

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—Mr. Warren F. Soper, President of the Dunlop Tire & Rubber Goods Company, Limited, made an announcement to-day apropos of Victory Loan subscriptions.

"The Dunlop Rubber Company," said Mr. Soper, "feel it their duty to go the limit without any urging. Hence this announcement ahead of time. In brief, the company has made application for one million dollars' worth of the new loan. This amount does not include individual subscriptions made either by the directors of the company or the employees."

"And I think I can safely add that no action in the Dunlop Company's 25 years of existence has given the directors a keener sense of satisfaction."

OVER 1018 DEATHS IN CITY OF TORONTO

Toronto, Oct. 25.—With over 1,000 dead in this city from the prevailing epidemic of pneumonia and Spanish influenza, and another heavy mortality list yesterday, the outbreak, it would seem, has not yet reached its peak. There were 101 deaths reported here yesterday—seventy from influenza and thirty-one from pneumonia. The total number of deaths this month from the two diseases was 1,414.

HIGHER FEES FOR ONTARIO BARRISTERS

Toronto, Oct. 25.—As a result of representations made to the Ontario Government by the legal profession that the barristers need greater revenues "owing to the increased cost of living and office expenses due to the war," an Order-in-Council has been passed permitting an increase in the tariff of twenty per cent on business done in the Supreme and County Courts. The increase, which becomes law on October 24, "is allowed upon any taxation of costs in respect of any such business as well as between party and party and between solicitor and client."

GET READY!

The campaign proper for the Victory Loan will be opened on Monday and will last until October 16. During that time the Canadian people will be asked to raise $500,000,000, the largest sum yet set for a domestic loan in Canada, but one which is absolutely necessary if the Dominion is to meet the manifold demands upon its financial resources for the next year. These demands include the maintenance of the country's war effort, which alone costs about a million a day, and the financing of British war orders, the export of our surplus products to our Allies, our shipbuilding programme and other large commitments incidental to those strenuous times.

There is every reason to expect that the full amount will be raised. The Canadian people never had more money to lend than they have now. Last year they subscribed for more than $400,000,000 of Victory Loan Bonds, which was over fifty per cent. in excess of the maximum total. This represented a third of their funds in the savings banks, but in the last twelve months they have easily made up that third for there is more to their credit on savings account now than there ever has been before.

The Canadian people are not being urged to give; they are being urged to invest. The securities which they are being asked to purchase are issued by the biggest and strongest business in Canada, the business of the Canadian people, and they are backed by the whole of the country's wealth and resources. They pay 5 1/2 per cent. interest but the Canadian people will get more than that out of the Loan, profitable though it is. The whole $500,000,000 will be distributed in Canada through innumerable channels and every man, woman and child will benefit from that distribution.

As a business proposition it is unchallengeable. But the opportunity of lending money to the country at this time appeals to more than the business sense of the people. It appeals to their patriotism and sense of duty. The money is to be used mainly in financing the war effort of the Dominion and the effort of its Allies, to give the Canadian army everything it needs for its critical operations and for its protection against the activities of the Huns; for guns, munitions, tanks, shipping, transportation facilities, food, clothing and other necessary supplies.

It is the purpose to which the proceeds of the Victory Loan are to be applied that makes the appeal to patriotism and duty, not the mere opportunity of buying gilt-edge securities at profitable rates and on attractive terms. This aspect raises the transaction above the ordinary level of profitable money-lending, and makes it more than a matter of selfish interest. It thus makes the Victory Bond more than a gilt-edged security; it makes it pure gold through and through—gives it its moral essence. And, as we have pointed out in other articles, it is this aspect which will make the strongest appeal to the people and inspire them to the oversubscription of the Loan.

WHAT WILL VICTORIA DO?

The people of Vancouver Island are asked to subscribe for $6,000,000 in Victory Bonds, of which Greater Victoria is expected to take $5,000,000 worth. All reports foreshadow the success of the campaign on the Island outside of the capital and neighboring municipalities and we know of communities which are certain to exceed their allotments by very substantial margins.

What about Greater Victoria? It never yet has failed in any part of its war contribution, in men, money and patriotic spirit. It has every reason to be proud of its record, and there is no better way in which it can crown that record than by oversubscribing its quota of the Victory Loan. It is better able to do this now than it ever was before. Its industrial prospects never were brighter; its economic position never was stronger.

Contracts for the construction of two steel ships have just been awarded to a Victoria firm, and we have the assurance that more will follow. These contracts will be financed out of the Victory Loan. Indeed, the part of the Dominion Government's shipbuilding programme to be undertaken in this city in all probability will consume more than the amount Victoria is asked to subscribe to the Victory Loan. In this way the people of Victoria will play an essential role in the development of the steel shipbuilding industry here.

The Foundation Company has begun the construction of twenty vessels for the French Government which from first to last will cost perhaps $10,000,000. We presume the Government of Canada will be expected to provide credits for this big order just as it is financing British orders and as

Washington is extending credits for orders for the Allies. Hence, at least $15,000,000 will be expended in shipbuilding here, furnishing employment for thousands of hands, and unexampled opportunities for local business. Surely, in these circumstances alone Greater Victoria's allotment of the Victory Loan is none too large, especially when it will earn more than $262,000 in dividends every year.

DAYLIGHT SAVING ENDED.

This is the last day of the period prescribed by regulation for the daylight saving arrangement in Canada and at two o'clock to-morrow morning timepieces must be put back an hour.

On the whole the scheme has been beneficial, particularly during the summer and early autumn. Undoubtedly, it has effected a considerable saving in the lighting bill of the public and proved a boon to a large element in providing opportunities for more recreation and other activities after working hours.

But it also has had its disadvantages. It had a tendency to cut down the sleeping time of children, and farmers found it somewhat of an inconvenience. We think, too, the period of its application should have terminated a month ago. Somebody suggested that it be made a fixture, but that would be absurd; we would lose during the winter more than we gained during the summer.

THE SINKING SHIP.

Austrian and Hungarian newspapers are reported to be preparing the public for the demobilization of Austro-Hungarian armies. If this is the case evidently the Dual Monarchy is going to surrender like Bulgaria with the intention of obtaining peace at any price before complete disintegration occurs.

Turkey is reported to have made an offer of unconditional surrender to the Allies through the British and French Ministers in Switzerland. Thus, all the signs and portents point to the isolation of Germany within a very short time. Whether Germany follows suit or not it is plain the Central Alliance which succeeded the Triple Alliance has collapsed, for both Vienna and Constantinople appear to be acting independently of Berlin. All of which means that the rats are leaving the sinking Prussian ship.

How long Bavaria, Saxony and the other German states will stick to Prussia after Austria-Hungary's defection is a matter for interesting speculation. The Central Alliance has followed its father, the Triple Alliance, into the desert. How will the grandfather, the imperial alliance of the German states created by Bismarck on the victory of 1870, stand the blow?

A TYPICAL HUN PROCEEDING.

In its last communication to Washington on the subject of an armistice and peace the German Government protested against the charges that the German army was wantonly devastating the country over which it was retreating, and announced its readiness to have them investigated by a neutral commission. Then it proceeded to organize the commission itself, at the head of which it placed Baron von der Lanckan. Now, Baron von der Lanckan, who is head of the Prussian "political department" of Brussels, was a leading figure in the murder of Edith Cavell. He spurred the appeal of the United States Ambassador in the heroic nurse's behalf and actually hurried the performance of the brutal crime.

It is surprising that anybody in Holland or Spain would act on a commission headed by von der Lanckan. The German Government knows, of course, that the findings of such a body will be ignored by the Allies, who are too familiar with Germany's treatment of Belgium. Its purpose is to throw dust in the eyes of the German people who now are commencing to take note of the accusations of cruelty against their military masters. Incidentally, the appointment of von der Lanckan is another revelation of the actual leadership of Germany. It is mighty hard to camouflage Prussianism.

FIVE TIMES BETTER.

In June, 1917, a campaign was launched in England and Wales to raise $250,000,000, every city, town and village being asked to lend an amount equivalent to $12.50 for every man, woman and child, the money being translated into some munition of war. Liverpool with a population of 1,000,000 was expected to raise the price of a dreadnought, $12,500,000.

What did Liverpool do? It paid for five dreadnoughts as well as a submarine and an aeroplane, the whole amounting to probably $63,000,000, or $63 for every man, woman and child in the city, and this after Great Britain had raised billion upon billions in domestic loans.

Greater Victoria is being asked to invest less than $8 for every man, woman and child in the present Victory Loan, and the interest rate is considerably larger than is yielded by domestic loans in the United Kingdom.

The drive in England and Wales to which we refer raised $375,000,000, or $125,000,000 more than the total called for. That extraordinary standard of response is being maintained up to the present.

Will Not Fail.

"Greater Victoria and the Island units will attain their objectives," said Mr. Taylor without hesitation. "But while everything possible has been done to organize the campaign, the final success of the whole Loan will depend upon the individual, and upon the assistance rendered to the canvassers. The best way to defeat the Loan, and to cause failure in Victoria, will be by causing delay and trouble to the canvassers, and by holding off until the last minute."

Lined Up, and Ready.

"Lined up, fully armed with knowledge of the Loan, and primed with enthusiasm," is the way K. Ferguson describes the team of canvassers he will lead "over the top" shortly. The attack upon Victoria's pocket-books, says Mr. Ferguson, will leave no home untouched. The city will be veritably fine-combed by the canvassers, according to a pre-arranged schedule.

All Houses Are Known.

The whole city has been mapped out, and for each day a certain space has been set aside. The teams will all have a different district to cover, and a report of their daily activities, with the dollars gathered in will be made by the team captains each morning before the salesmen start out armed. Each building in the community is indexed with a card, the officials at headquarters have at their finger's end every house in the city.

Business District First.

During the first two days of the drive all the guns of the canvassing teams will be turned upon the business district, from which it is expected most of the subscriptions will be forthcoming. The attack will veer around to James Bay about the third day, and all the area south of Fort Street and Oak Bay Avenue to Oak Bay itself will next undergo the operations of the canvassers.

Later every district of the city in turn will be similarly treated.

How to Buy a Bond.

Each authorized bond salesman will be supplied with a badge on which will be depicted the familiar honor flag, and will have a card upon his person signed by Mr. Ferguson.

The canvassers will not take money, but will fill out the application blank according to the wishes of the applicant. These applications will be delivered to headquarters and inspected by an accountant to detect any possible errors, and will be then handed over to the bank specified by the applicant. The banks will receive full or part payment, and if the applicant wished bearer bonds he will receive them on receipt of payment.

Bearer bonds will be issued also at the headquarters of the Victory Loan office at all hours of the day. The registered bonds, however, will be handed to the applicant a little later, after the application has been confirmed by the Assistant Comptroller-General at the Post Office here.

Wanamaker's Five Reasons

Mr. Wanamaker, the millionaire merchant in Philadelphia, says:

"I have been asked so often about my own insurance that I am going to gratify a curiosity that some of you have expressed, perhaps, in regard to it."

"I simply worked out five conclusions as the result of my own thinking, without any moving cause except my own judgment."

"First: That at that time I knew I was insurable, and I could not be certain of immunity from accident or ill-health, and it might be that at some future time I would not be insurable."

"Second: That life insurance was one of the best forms of investment, because from the moment it was made it was good for all it cost, and carried with it a guarantee that there was protection in that investment that I could not get in any other."

"Third: That life insurance in the long run was a saving fund, that not only saved, but took care of my deposits and gave me opportunity for possible profits, that not infrequently returned principal and interest and profit."

"Fourth: That life insurance, regarded from the standpoint of quick determination, was more profitable than any other investment I could make."

"Fifth: That it enabled a man to give away all he wished during his lifetime and still make such an estate as he cared to leave."

—Mr. Wanamaker carries sixty-two policies.

GOOD USED AUTOMOBILES AT LESS THAN REGULAR

The conditions surrounding the automobile industry to-day confirm the contention that a good used car affords the best value for the money invested.

The prices we quote this week represent only 20 to 30 per cent. of to-day's prices, and every car is a good car, and we make them look like new.

The civic taxes are being paid more promptly than they were last year, and it is expected a larger percentage will be paid before October 31 than has been paid previously.

It is understood that before the close of the court martial at present being held on H. M. S. Garnet a sensation will be caused among the officers of the navy and their friends.

The two organs of the Davis Government parade his election as an honorary director of the Okanagan Agricultural Society by way of answer to the statement that his invitation to open the show at Vernon was secured only by Mr. Barnard's threat to withdraw his subscription. We respectfully suggest that the answer is not sufficient, and that the correctness of the statement is not impugned.—Editorial.

GROWTH AND WORK OF BRITISH NAVY

London, Oct. 26.—Figures made public yesterday on the growth of the British navy during the war show that the fleet, including auxiliaries, increased from 2,500,000 tons displacement to 5,700,000 tons, and the personnel from 145,000 to 465,000 men. Since the outbreak of the war, 21,500,000 soldiers have been transported by sea, of whom 4,391 were lost. For the requirements of the British naval and military forces more than 86,000,000 tons of stores were transhipped, while more than 24,000,000 tons were taken overseas for Great Britain's Allies. Transportation also was provided for 2,000,000 animals.

MILITARY HOSPITAL INQUIRY AT TORONTO

Toronto, Oct. 26.—Major-General W. A. Loggie, G. O. C. of this military district, placed on the authorities at Ottawa the onus for lack of hospital accommodation in this district at the resumed inquiry into conditions at the base hospital, and more particularly surrounding the death of Cadet P. N. Davidson on October 23. He told of making numerous recommendations to Ottawa for additional hospital accommodation and of how they were not approved. General Loggie also stated that during the height of the influenza epidemic there were too many patients in the base hospital.

Is Not a Sacrifice

—It is an Investment in Victory, in LIBERTY, an INVESTMENT of the first degree, paying a substantial dividend, guaranteed by the greatest possible security any country can give—the whole of the combined assets and earning abilities of the whole country.

Canada's Prosperity During the Past Year

is attributed to the direct response to the Loan issued last fall. The continuance of our prosperity during the coming year will depend largely upon the degree of success achieved by the Victory Loan of 1918. Unless we do even better than a year ago we will jeopardize the prevailing prosperous conditions and activities, which, in turn, allow us to participate freely in the conduct of the war.

Canada's Victory Loan, 1918,

is an absolute necessity, firstly, because we cannot continue to do our part in the war without the required funds.

Secondly, because we cannot obtain those funds unless the national activities are maintained at high pressure.

Thirdly, because that end cannot be accomplished unless we finance the national activities which have such a vital bearing on the international situation and the conclusion of the war.

Another Duty Resting Upon Us in Regard to the Victory Loan, 1918

is to help finance Great Britain's purchases in this country. The Mother Country is our best and largest customer.

For four years she has borne the tremendous burden of war and cannot be expected to finance her own war purchases in this country. It is necessary, therefore, that Canada should raise the funds required—not only to carry on our own normal and war activities but also to advance sums to Great Britain for her purchases here.

The Whole of the Money Subscribed to Canada's Victory Loan, 1918 Will be Spent in Canada

It will be used for war purposes only, including the purchase of grain, foodstuffs, munitions and other supplies, which directly results in the carrying on of some of our natural and most vital industries at this time.

So again we say—"To loan your money to your country is NOT a Sacrifice"—it is an investment bringing the best possible returns. It's a means to supplying thousands of our workpeople with continuous employment at profitable wages. It encourages them also to be thrifty, by paying good interest on small savings.

Canada Victory Bonds, 1918

are issued for $50, $100, $500 to $100,000, or any multiple of $100,000, payable by instalments, bearing interest at 5½ per cent. per annum.

Make up your mind to take advantage of this golden opportunity to invest ALL you can and be ready when the salesman calls on you next week.

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

SOCIAL PERSONAL

Capt. H. R. Mustard, M. C. of this city was recently the guest of his sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Robert Wightman, of Grandview, Vancouver.

Any residents of Esquimalt who are willing to assist in cases of sickness are requested to phone the Rev. Robert Hughes, No. 1655 Y.

Ronald Buchanan, of Victoria, is visiting in Vancouver for several weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Buchanan, Barclay Street.

Mrs. J. L. Studholme, of this city, is staying in Vancouver for a few days as a guest at Glenora Lodge, en route home after a visit to Calgary and Edmonton.

According to a statement given the Los Angeles papers, Mrs. Alexander Pantages, a talented violinist and wife of the Seattle vaudeville magnate, will sail for France shortly to join the forces entertaining the soldiers.

Recent orders from Headquarters, Military District No. 11, include the following item: "Major J. G. Ride-wood, C. A. M. C., is appointed President of the Medical Board of Review at Victoria, vice Capt. J. E. Grant, C. A. M. C., with effect from October 24."

who was reported ill of Spanish influenza. According to news which has been received in the city from Vancouver, F. W. McLaine, formerly of this city, to have sugar for preserves, since he had heard Nurse Jane say so.

"You'd better let me go," went on the bunny uncle. "You have no sugar to preserve the souce on my ears. Let me go!"

"No, no!" marked the Pipsisewah. "Let me think!"

So he thought and he thought, and then he saw the bag Uncle Wiggily carried under his paw.

"What's in that," asked the bad chap of the bunny.

"That's stuff for Nurse Jane's pickles," said Uncle Wiggily. "Please don't open it for me."

"That's Pickles, eh?" howled the Pipsisewah. "Well, preserves and pickles are much alike. You need sugar in both of them, and I guess that's what you have there. I'll take it. I like sugar!"

"Oh, my!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "That isn't sugar, it's—"

But the Pipsisewah never stopped to listen. He opened the bag and when he saw the white stuff he said:

"Tim's sugar, eh? Trying to fool me, are you? Well, I guess I know sugar when I see it. I'll take a taste now!"

With that he filled his mouth full of the white stuff, but instead of it being sugar, it was salt, as you and I know and Uncle Wiggily knew, also.

"Oh, my! Oh, wow! Oh, pickled lemons and preserved popguns!" howled the Pipsisewah. "Some one played a trick on me!"

Then he dropped the bag of salt and ran away to get a big drink of water. And Uncle Wiggily picked up the salt and took it to Nurse Jane, who finished making her chow-chow. So, you see, it is sometimes hard to tell sugar from salt without tasting.

And if the chocolate cake doesn't turn pale like a cream puff when it sees the breakfast roll under the sideboard to tickle the legs of the table, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Billie's party.

THE DANGER OF THIN BLOOD

If Not Corrected in Its Early Stages Consumption May Follow

In no disease is delay or neglect more dangerous than anaemia, a poverty of the blood. It is very common in young girls and in persons who are overworked or confined within doors. It makes its approach insidiously, and it is often well developed before its presence is recognized.

But taken in time there is a specific, a tonic medicine which increases the number of red blood corpuscles thus enabling the blood to carry the life-giving oxygen to all the tissues of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have had unbounded success in the treatment of this stubborn disease because of this wonderful property. The correction of anemic conditions by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is as certain as any result in medical sciences. Miss Jessie McLean, Trenton, N. S., says: "I was as weak as it was possible for any one to be, and yet be able to go about. My blood seemed to have turned almost to water. I was pale, the least exertion would leave me breathless, and when I went up stairs I would have to stop and rest on the way. I often had severe headaches, and at times my heart would palpitate alarmingly. A good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have reason to be grateful that I took the advice. Soon after beginning the use of the Pills I began to get stronger, and by the time I had taken seven boxes I felt that I was again enjoying good health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blessing to weak girls, and I shall always warmly recommend them."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GIGANTIC U. S. BAKERY.

The United States authorities do not intend that their troops fighting in France shall go short of bread. They have established a gigantic supply depot in a certain department, and a bakery is now almost completed capable of an output of one million pounds of bread a day.

The depot but a short time ago was uncultivated land. Now there are thirty-five huge warehouses in service and over 150 barrack buildings alone, which are used to house the large force of men on duty at the depots.—Tit-Bits.

HARDY RACES EAT FISH

EAT MORE FISH!
IT'S GOOD FOR WHAT AILS YOU!

ISSUED BY CANADA FOOD BOARD.

Fish is extremely valuable as a food. Contrary to popular supposition, the hardiest races are not necessarily meat-eating peoples. Take the Scandinavians, the Highland Scotch, the Japanese and Chinese—all great fish eaters and renowned for their stamina and enduring power.

According to Sir James Creighton-Browne, M.D., D.Sc., of London, England, medical adviser to the late King Edward: "It cannot be too strongly insisted on, that, for working people of all classes, fish is an economical source of the energy necessary to enable them to carry on their work; and that for children and young persons it furnishes them the very stuff that is needed to enable them to grow healthy and strong."

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Salt

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard E. Garis.)

"Um! Um! What's that funny smell?" asked Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, as he went out to the kitchen of his hollow stump bungalow one morning and saw Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper, stirring something on the stove.

"That's pickles," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I'm making pickles. We must can and preserve all such things as cucumbers, fruits and vegetables for the war, you know, and as you are so fond of chow-chow and chili sauce and—"

"Indeed I am!" cried Uncle Wiggily, and his pink nose twinkled so fast with joy that it looked like a lantern going off to a picnic. Only, of course, the bunny's nose didn't go off.

"Well, I hope you'll like my pickles," went on Nurse Jane. "I think they'll be very good."

She dipped up a spoonful of something that was boiling in a kettle and, waiting until it had cooled, she tasted it.

"Oh, my!" she cried.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Did you burn your tongue?"

"No," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, "but I forgot to put in the salt, and come to think of it, I haven't enough salt in the bungalow to finish making these pickles. Would you mind going to the store for some for me?"

"Indeed, I wouldn't mind in the least," said Mr. Longears, and then, tucking his tall silk hat firmly over his ears, away he started with a hop, skip and a jump for the salt store.

He reached there, all right and bought a large bag of the white crystals for Nurse Jane's pickles, chow-chow, chili sauce and the like.

"Salt looks so much like sugar I don't see how you tell them apart," said Uncle Wiggily to Uncle Butter, the goat gentleman who kept the store. "Sometimes I do get fooled," said Mr. Butter. "But I can always tell sugar from salt by tasting."

"Oh, yes, I guess you can," laughed Uncle Wiggily.

Then, with his bag of salt under his paw, once more the bunny rabbit gentleman set off through the woods and over the fields to his hollow stump bungalow.

Uncle Wiggily was whistling a jolly little tune about "it's nice to eat mixed pickles if they don't give you the ticks" when, all of a sudden, out from behind a bush jumped a bad old Pipsisewah. Now a Pipsisewah is one of the worst animals in the world for catching bunny rabbit gentlemen. That's all they ever do catch, though, so you never need be afraid of them.

This Pipsisewah jumped out, grabbed Uncle Wiggily, and cried:

"Ah, ha! I have you!"

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily, sadly, "I see you have. But what are you going to do with me?"

"I'm going to take a lot of souce off your ears and can it to save over winter," said the Pipsisewah. "I'll make souce preserves of it, that's what I'll do!"

"But how can you make any preserves when you haven't any sugar?" asked Uncle Wiggily. He knew he had

Lucien Muratore, the famous tenor of the Chicago Opera Company, and his wife, Lina Cavalleri, were passengers on a French steamship which arrived some weeks ago at an Atlantic port. Madame Cavalleri, the only member of the party who spoke English, said that her husband, who for some time served in France, and received wounds in the battle of the Marne, had been commissioned by the Academie Francaise to study American art and music. A programme of Muratore's first American recital, given at the city of San Francisco last month, has been received here and shows that the assisting artists were Alexandre Debrulle, violinist, and Georges Truc, pianist, the former having been gassed at the Somme and the latter wounded at the battle of Verdun. Among the numbers sung by Muratore were the Aria from "Werther," "Pourquoi me Reveille" (Massenet), "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" (Godard), "Enlevement" (Levade) and Arioso from "I Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo).

Madame Liza Lehman (Mrs. Herbert Bedford), the well-known composer of songs and song cycles, which latter include the delightful "In a Persian Garden" and "A Daisy Chain," has recently died at Hatch End, Pinner, England.

MUSICAL HISTORY OF AMERICAN ANTHEM

"Star Spangled Banner" Melody Originated With English Drinking Song

Oh, say, can you see by the dawn's early light, What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming, Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight, O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming? And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air, Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there, Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner still wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Louis Elson, in a book called "Folk Songs of Many Nations," which, in addition to the score of these songs, contains interesting information regarding each, says:

"The melody of 'The Star Spangled Banner' is that of an English drinking song, entitled 'To Anacreon in Heaven,' and written for a jovial club called 'The Anacreontics' which met at the 'Crown and Anchor' in the Strand, London. It was composed between 1770 and 1775. The tune was probably written by Dr. Samuel Arnold (1751-1802). The melody was very popular in England in the 18th century."

Mr. Elson goes on to say that he has in his possession a copy of the old drinking song published in the 18th century and also a masonic song to the same tune, dated 1802. The tune was very well known in America long before Francis Scott Key used it for his famous words. It was used at a banquet of the Massachusetts Inseparable Fire Association, in Boston, June 1, 1798, with words by Robert Treat Paine (then known as 'Tom' Paine), in praise of the President, and entitled 'Adams and Liberty.' This version became famous throughout the country. It was subsequently altered to 'Jefferson and Liberty' in a Philadelphia version. On March 25, 1813, it was sung in Boston with new words, in honor of the Russian victories over Napoleon, and it was probably in this guise that it was remembered in this country by his famous verses. The story of the melody was selected for the words by an actor named Durang (although printed in several histories) may emphatically be denied; the tune was chosen by Francis Scott Key himself and was named in the earliest printed version in 'The Baltimore American' and in the broadside that was distributed throughout the city. "Key had been detained in the British Fleet in Chesapeake Bay during the night of the bombardment of Fort Mifflin. One can imagine the anxiety with which he gazed towards Baltimore on the morning after the battle. When he saw the American flag still floating over the fort he was inspired to write the first verse of the song. He was allowed to depart that morning. On his way to Baltimore he composed the remaining verses. Immediately on his arrival in the city the verses were printed by 'The Baltimore American.'"

DEATH OF CONVERSE

Author of Hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" is Dead.

Charles Crozat Converse, lawyer, inventor, author and composer, died Saturday, October 13, at his home in Englewood, New Jersey. He was born at Warren, Mass., October 7, 1832, and was therefore eighty-six years of age. After extensive training in music and law in Germany, he practiced law in Erie, Penn. He wrote several overtures, but is most famous as being the composer of "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and other well-known hymns.

Rhythm is a skeleton which (like fire) is a good servant but a bad master. If one sings in such a way as to reveal the skeleton, in other words to suggest the rhythmical exactions, the singer is the servant. If one conquers rhythm so conclusively that the skeleton is imperceptible, the singer is the master. Rhythm is altogether and exclusively a thing of the spirit. It has neither length, breadth or thickness, height or depth, heat or cold, youth or age, not even accent. It has not length, but it measures length; it has not accent, but it dominates accent. It is at once the most exacting and the most elastic thing in art.

Fortunately there are no new Russian novelties, because we cannot get into touch with Russian composers. Once Russia gets straight again the future for her music is, I consider, very strong. There is a tremendous lot of character about Russian music. Russian composers have a great gift for orchestral color. At times it may be rather too Eastern, too Oriental, but that is a good fault. "German music is at a standstill. Outside Richard Strauss, who is a musical genius, there are no notable German composers. I consider the British school to-day far in advance of the German. Our younger school of composers are much stronger than any of the younger school of German composers. There is no doubt about it, and this war will clear the air of that wretched Germanism from which we were suffering. It will also do a lot of good in America, for they were a little too much dominated by Germanism, as we were."

THE LANSDOWNE

"Built by NORDHEIMER'S"— Its best recommendation

A GLARING case does not necessarily indicate a worthy piano. But the refined elegance of the Lansdowne makes instant appeal to artistic taste. Built on the new Lansdowne scale, this instrument, while differing somewhat from Nordheimer Pianos as to the case and other minor essentials, possesses certain Nordheimer characteristics which entitle it to a place second only to the Nordheimer.

Your selection of a Lansdowne, assures you of the vital features—a tone of pure "singing" quality, and a certainty of durability—at a price extremely moderate for such an instrument. Call or write for further particulars.

BRITISH SCHOOL IN ADVANCE OF GERMANS

So States Sir Henry Wood in Speaking of Modern Composers

Coming from Sir Henry Wood, the English orchestral conductor, who recently declined the leadership of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the following observations are of considerable interest to music lovers in Canada. Sir Henry said among other things in the course of an interview: "After the war men who have been for years in the trenches will come back dying for classical music. I mean the best music, not dull music, for no fine classic is ever dull. There ought to be after the war a tremendous uplift for orchestral music, and also for choral music, for I think the choirs will be full of new members. "Taste improves. The public taste has been constantly improving. Twenty-three years ago we had, it is true, to play a little bit down, but from that time the movement has always been upward. To-day the second part of our concerts, in which at one time we used to feel bound to play operatic selections, is as good as the first. "Our singers, I think, have improved very much in the selection of their arias and we have also a magnificent set of pianists and violinists in London at the present moment. I must not name them, for they are too many. We have certainly half a dozen pianists, violinists and cellists who can hold their own against any in the world. "The way in which our young men have improved in orchestration is splendid. There is no lack of British productions. Just at the moment I am flooded with new works by British composers. "Unfortunately there are no new Russian novelties, because we cannot get into touch with Russian composers. Once Russia gets straight again the future for her music is, I consider, very strong. There is a tremendous lot of character about Russian music. Russian composers have a great gift for orchestral color. At times it may be rather too Eastern, too Oriental, but that is a good fault. "German music is at a standstill. Outside Richard Strauss, who is a musical genius, there are no notable German composers. I consider the British school to-day far in advance of the German. Our younger school of composers are much stronger than any of the younger school of German composers. There is no doubt about it, and this war will clear the air of that wretched Germanism from which we were suffering. It will also do a lot of good in America, for they were a little too much dominated by Germanism, as we were."

GROWTH OF MUSIC SECTION IN LIBRARY

Many Literary Works on Subject; Also Instrumental and Vocal Scores

A careful survey of the literature and musical scores at the Victoria Public Library will convince one of the attention which this branch of education is receiving from the librarian, and those responsible for its installation.

Although comparatively a new department, it is quite comprehensive. The professional musician as well as the youngest student can find on the shelves much that will prove of assistance in his work.

The history and theoretical side of the art is dealt with by Sir Hubert Parry's "Evolution of the Art of Music," Pratt's "History of Music," "The History of Music" by C. V. Stanford and Cecil Forsyth, "Modern Harmony" by Arthur Foote and W. H. Spaulding, "Theory and Practice of Tone Relations" by Dr. Percy Goetschius, "Music Notation and Terminology" by Gehrkens, "Grove's Dictionary of Music," and a number of others.

Biography is represented by "The Life of Sebastian Bach" (Bitter), "Bach" (Williams), "Granville Bantock" (Anderson), "Greig and His Music" (Finck), "Brahms" (Fuller Maitland), "Handel," by Clark, also Rolland; "Liszt and His Music" (Harvey), "Richard Strauss" (Newman), "Tchaikovsky, the Harpichord Maker" (Dale); books on the life of Richard Wagner, as told by himself in the Bayreuth Letters, and "Wagner as Man and Artist" (Newman). It is probable that after a perusal of the facts contained in these biographies some new light will shine in the intellect of the reader and dispel much of the prejudice which now exists in certain classes of mind against the music of these great masters.

For a study of that highest form of educative entertainment, the opera, quite a selection of books is available. The following is a useful list: "Guide to Modern Opera" (Singleton).

"Grand Opera Singers of To-day" (Laloe), "Stories From the Operas" (Davidson), "Two Hundred Opera Plots" (Davidson), "Stories of the Wagner Operas" (Guerber), "Stories of the Popular Operas" (Guerber).

"Favorite Operas from Mozart to Mascagni" (Hadden), "Russian Opera" (Newmarch).

Works by Liza Lehmann, Franz Conrad-Davies and Sir Charles Santley on the Art of Singing give valuable help to the student, written, as they are, by singers of world-wide reputation. H. Plunkett Greene has an interesting article on "Interpretation in Song" which might well receive attention.

The proper conception of a poem or thought set to music is so often misused by the singer in striving after tone effect. As a preface to these works and as an adjunct to vocal study, whether elementary or advanced, Alice Dutey-Jones' "The Technique of Speech" will be found to be of inestimable value. The Italians, a nation of singers, are such by nature, rendered so primarily by the climate of their land and their language, which is called, in English, "the flower of the lip." In other words, they are from birth employing in every word uttered the vowel sounds in their purity. There are no gutturals; only mellifluous sounds that lend themselves readily to expression in song. Miss Jones' book is a treatise on the vocalization of the vowels, which has as its result the perfect enunciation so much to be desired.

"How the Piano Came to Be" (Glover), "The Art of the Pianist" and "Piano Mastery" (Brower), "The Art of Teaching Pianoforte Playing" (Johnstone), "The Pianoforte and Its Music" (Kirk), "First Principles of Pianoforte Playing" (Matthew) are a few of the titles relative to the study of the piano.

The Violin Department contains "Violin Making As It Was and Is" (Allen), "Old Violins" (Hawes), "True Principles of the Art of Violin Playing" (G. Lehmann), "Fiddles" (H. St. George).

Other books are there which treat of various instruments such as violin, cello, harp, trumpet, bugle, French horn, flute, bagpipes and cornet, also on the subject of chamber music, the modern orchestra and military band.

In addition to these, the library contains many full scores of operas by Gounod, Leoncavallo, Mascagni, Puccini and Gilbert and Sullivan; Song Albums of Chaminade, Chadwick, von Flieitz, Arthur Foote, Greig, McDowell, Handel, Massenet, Neven, Schubert and Bantock; National and Folk Songs of all Nations and a very good library of pianoforte songs.

It will be understood that the list given here is merely an indicator, so to speak, pointing to the excellent material to be found at the Victoria Public Library for the study of music in its various branches.

TONES AND SEMI-TONES.

At regular intervals every merchant "takes stock" or, as the more modern phrase is "takes an inventory." Similarly, at regular intervals students of music should do the same thing. Let them ask themselves a few questions—for example:

"Have I increased my technique? If not, in what particular is it faulty?"
"Have I improved my knowledge of harmony? If not, why not?"
"Do I know more of musical history and biography than I did last year?"
"Is my grasp of theory and musical knowledge in general stronger and clearer?"
"What have I added to my repertory, and are the additions of permanent worth?"
"Have I spent as much time and thought on my work as I might have done?"
If these questions can be honestly answered in the affirmative the pupil is to be congratulated. If they must be answered negatively it may be the means of stimulating the delinquent pupil to better things.

DICKENS FELLOWSHIP HONORS WATKIN MILLS

Celebrated Singer, Well-Known in Victoria, Now Lives at Winnipeg

R. Watkin Mills, the eminent English basso, has been elected an Honorary Vice-President of the Dickens Fellowship at Winnipeg. Watkin Mills, so well known throughout the musical world, has been living in the City of Winnipeg during the past few years, where he is the musical conductor of the Broadway Methodist Church Choir. Mr. Mills, who usually spends his vacation in Victoria, and who is personally known to many here, is a native of the beautiful little town of Painswick in Gloucestershire, where even as a child his love of the divine art was manifested to an unusual degree. As soon as his mature voice developed, he gained experience in the finest cathedral traditions at Wells, where he made his mark, and laid the foundations of his marvellous success as a singer of oratorio. He then studied in London under Edward Holland, and finally proceeded to Milan, where, under the celebrated maestro, Frederick Blasco, he obtained the same mastery over the operatic and dramatic schools of music as he had previously acquired in oratorio. Thus, he became great in every walk of his art. In the memory of those who heard him on his last great Canadian tour, it was known that up to that time he had sung the "Messiah" 195 times, "Elijah" 75 times, "Golden Legend" 70 times, "Creation" 35 times, "The Redemption" 23 times, and Berlioz's "Faust" 22 times, to say nothing of innumerable other works, ballads and other selections.

This is surely a remarkable record! While in concert work Watkin Mills' versatility was marvellous, his programmes covering every variety of song from the great arias of Verdi, Mozart, Handel, Mendelssohn, Wagner and Gounod, to the tender Scottish and Irish ballads.

SOLDIER OF TWENTY WOUNDED THREE TIMES

Young Member of 88th Battalion Has Seen Much Active Service

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hirst, of 2396 Wascana Street, recently received news of the admittance to hospital of their only son, Pte. William Hirst, who was wounded in the left hand on September 27.

Pte. Hirst was only seventeen when he left Victoria with the 88th Battalion in May, 1916, and was later sent to France with a reinforcing draft for the 7th Battalion, with which unit he has seen continuous service in France. Although only twenty years of age, his present wound is the third since he went into the trenches. The young soldier was born at Nottingham, England, coming with his parents to Canada at the age of two years. Before enlisting with the 88th he was learning the trade of machinist at the Victoria Machinery Depot.

Pte. R. W. Coverdale, son of Mrs. F. J. Jackson, of Colquhoun, has been admitted to hospital in France with wounds in the right thigh received while fighting with the artillery in France. He is only twenty-one years of age but has been over a year in the firing line and has previously been badly gassed and sent to England, returning to France about seven months ago. He left from Victoria nearly two and a half years ago with the 15th Brigade Artillery. Another brother, Sapper W. H. Coverdale, who left with the 143rd Battalion and is now with the Railroad Troops in France, has been twice slightly wounded. Driver L. A. Coverdale is also fighting in France with the artillery, and two step-brothers have also donned khaki.

Other Casualties. Private Percy L. Jennings has been wounded after a long period of service in the trenches. Private Jennings went overseas in the summer of 1915, and after a short spell in England proceeded to the firing line in time for some of the big engagements which took place. His brother, George Jennings, resides on Church Street.

Private Frederick Stanley Green, the son of Frederick Green, has been wounded in action. He enlisted in Regina, Sask., and proceeded to France with a draft of the artillery with which he was serving at the time he received his injuries.

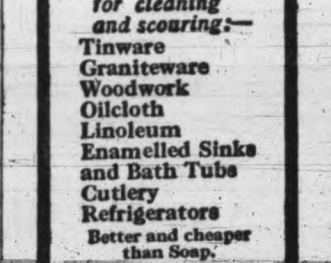

Private Howard Stuart Hooper, who enlisted in Sidney, has been wounded while fighting with an infantry battalion. He went overseas in 1917 with the 142nd B. C. Bantams, and notification has been sent to his father, Charles Hooper, Union Bay.

Corporal Mark James Green, who enlisted in Victoria, has been wounded while fighting with the artillery, according to information received by his father, Mark Green, of Soanemo.

EPIDEMIC AT ZENITH SAYS HEALTH OFFICER

Thirty-Five New Cases Are Reported To-day; Preparing Emergency Hospital

"The epidemic is about at its zenith," said Dr. A. G. Price, City Health Officer, as he informed a Times representative this afternoon that up to noon to-day thirty-five cases of "influenza" had been reported to him. "It is certainly not lessening," he continued, "but it is not getting any worse. We have the situation well in hand, and I don't believe that we will have to take any more drastic measures than heretofore. The temporary hospital and Port Street will be ready by Monday."

The Emergency Hospital. The new hospital will be in a large house owned by Dr. T. J. Jones at 1124 Fort Street, where some sixty patients can be accommodated. However, the accommodation of the building will not be taxed at present. A number of volunteer workers will put the building in order this afternoon, and by Monday it should, says Dr. Price, be ready for the reception of patients.

The establishment of the emergency hospital is one of what Dr. Price calls reasonable methods of dealing with the epidemic. He ridicules the idea of wearing germ-proof masks, as the citizens of many cities are now doing. If people would act rationally, says Dr. Price, and obey the instructions already set out, the ravages of the epidemic will be brought to an end. In any case, he does not contemplate the enforcement of such radical measures as have been adopted in some other cities.

"I don't think weather has anything to do with the course of the epidemic," remarked Dr. Price, when questioned as to the truth of a prevalent idea. "I have seen epidemics rage in both summer and winter alike, but certainly a sharp frost should help."

Lethbridge's Drastic Measures. Drastic measures for fighting the "flu" are now being enforced in the city of Lethbridge, where the wearing of masks on incoming trains is made compulsory. In addition to prevent the spread of the germs, the train crews, who live in the city, are not allowed to go to their homes, but are obliged to sleep in quarters provided at the depot.

Cold Baths? Speaking of certain suggestions published in these columns with regard to the treatment of Spanish influenza, Dr. Ernest Hall explained to a Times representative that his advocacy of the use of cold baths was only as a preventive measure. The use of cold baths, and the use of the treatment advocated by him, says the doctor will develop an individual power of resistance to the "flu" germs, but the actual treatment of the disease with such practices would, he agrees, be dangerous.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late Mrs. Alma Gertrude Radloff, whose death occurred at Olympia, Wash., on October 23, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. She was the wife of Henry Radloff, and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson, and until recently resided at Burley, Idaho. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, parents, one brother, grandfather and grand-mother, Mrs. Goldstraw, an aunt, Mrs. Gosnell, and three cousins. The casket was adorned with many beautiful flowers, among them a beautiful spray of pink roses from the mother, Mrs. Goldstraw, and a beautiful spray of chrysanthemums from the Philaetha Class. Dr. Leslie Clay officiated and interment was made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral of the late William Henry McLaughlin, whose death occurred at Work Point Barracks Hospital on October 23, took place this morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. The flowers were numerous and beautiful, testifying to the high esteem in which the young soldier was held. The Rev. Wm. Stevenson officiated. The remains were conveyed to Ross Bay Cemetery by the Union Jack. A large escort preceded the remains, followed by the band and firing party. Three volleys were fired over the grave and the bugler played the "Last Post." The pallbearers were: Gunnery R. J. Williams, H. King, R. J. Hale, H. J. Rough, W. H. Jones and C. Houghton.

Chin Gee Fung, Editor of the local Chinese paper, "The New Republic," passed away at his home, 533 Cormorant Street, on Thursday morning, at the age of thirty-six years. He was born in China and had been a resident of Victoria for the past several months, and is survived by his widow and one sister. The remains are reposing at the Sands Funeral Chapel and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Word has been received by W. J. McKelvie, 342 Arnold Street, that his sister, Mrs. Alice Isabella Thompson, succumbed yesterday morning at San Pedro, Cal., to an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Thompson was a native of Victoria and had been a resident of the Southern States for less than three years, particularly sad circumstance in connection with her death is the fact that her mother, Mrs. J. G. Winter, was at the time spending to her bedside and will arrive in San Pedro early this morning. The late Mrs. Thompson was born in this city August 17, 1890. Eight years ago she became the wife of Morris Thompson, and since has resided in this city, in Ketchikan, Alaska and lately in San Pedro, California. She leaves behind her husband and one son, Morris, seven years of age, and by her mother, Mrs. J. G. Winter, 342 Arnold Street; one sister, Mrs. R. Congdon, of Seattle, and two brothers, W. J. McKelvie, of the Col. onist engraving department, and J. R. McKelvie, of California.

The remains of the late Pte. Harry C. Johnston were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery yesterday afternoon, accompanied by full military honors. Private service was held at the B. C. Funeral Chapel at 2:45. Rev. P. C. Parker officiating. The cortege with the gun-carriage bearing the casket draped with the Union Jack and covered with beautiful floral tributes, was headed by the First Regiment band, and a firing party from Signal Hill. The following acted as pallbearers: Gunnery R. J. Williams, H. King and W. H. Jones.

The funeral of the late Miss Nettie Anderson will take place on Monday, private service being held in the B. C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock. Interment at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Pte. Archibald Calvert, who died on October 23, was buried with military honors yesterday, the funeral leaving the Sands Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock. The casket was draped with a Union Jack and conveyed to the cemetery on a gun-carriage to the music of a band. Three volleys were fired over the grave by a firing party and a bugler sounded the "Last Post." The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. Leslie Clay. The pallbearers were: Pte. H. Murphy, O. Griggs, B. C. O'Meara, J. Sheil, J. McNeilan and I. L. Stammen.

The funeral of the late Henry Christie took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Rev. H. S. Osborne officiated at the graveside, and the pallbearers were: J. Segal, C. D. Taylor, F. J. Nobbs and E. Ure.

The funeral of the late Miss Beatrice Betts, formerly of the Attorney-General's Dept., who succumbed to pneumonia following Spanish influenza while on a holiday trip to Seattle, were laid to rest at Nelson on Wednesday. The body was accompanied to the Interior City by her father.

The death occurred in the Bute Street Hospital, Vancouver, on Thursday morning, of Mariette, wife of Eliot N. Haworth, of the Bank of Montreal, residing at Collingwood. The late Mrs. Haworth, who was only thirty-nine years of age, was born in Victoria and had many friends on Vancouver Island and the Mainland. Besides her husband and infant son and girl, Mrs. Haworth leaves to mourn her loss two sisters, Mrs. Travers Custance, of Parkville, and Mrs. P. F. Richardson, of New Westminster, and three brothers, Arthur Heathorn, superintendent of the Dominion Government Wharf in Vancouver; Herbert Heathorn, Fairbanks, and Mr. Heathorn, Oakland, Cal. The funeral will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the funeral home of Perry & Mackie's undertaking parlors to the Mountain View cemetery.

Pte. William H. Fisher died yesterday morning at the Irving House Hospital. He was twenty-eight years of age and a former resident of Halifax. The remains are now awaiting funeral arrangements at the Sands Funeral Chapel.

GUARD THE BABY AGAINST COLDS

To guard the baby against colds nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild laxative that will keep the little one's stomach and bowels working regularly. It is a recognized fact that where the stomach and bowels are in good order that colds will not exist; that the health of the little one will be good, and that he will be happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FIRST BOND SOLD HERE: BOUGHT IN DAUGHTER'S MEMORY

The first Victory Bond in the local drive, has been sold. A man, whose name the officials will not divulge, came into the headquarters office yesterday, and paid fifty dollars down on the counter, with the request that he be given a bond then and there. During the campaign, he said, he would not be in the city, and he wanted to give his mite in the fight. His daughter had purchased a fifty-dollar bond in last year's lottery, and he was determined to follow her example. They understood also she had since died. K. Ferguson, in charge of sales for Victoria, therefore filled out the application form and the bond will be issued in due course.

JOHN BARLEYCORN NOW ENJOYING HIS PAROLE

Smiles at Friends and Enemies Alike; Government Business Good

Despite any differences of opinion that may be shared by the medical profession as to the efficacy or otherwise of spirituous liquor as a combative force against Spanish influenza, the fact remains that yesterday's business at the Provincial Vendor's store on Yates Street was the biggest turnover for any one day since British Columbia denied John Barleycorn of his long cherished freedom. Five hundred and sixty-eight dollars and twenty-eight cents represents the day's takings in the satisfaction of legal prescription. On October 21 the figures were under $400; on October 22 and 23 under $400; on October 24 it tipped the $500 mark, and yesterday it went to the figure above mentioned. September's trading complete amounted to $2,250, while up to the close of business last night, the sales for October had reached $4,453.73.

Vancouver has distinguished herself for the month of October, up to and including October 24, have reached $13,821.87, or nearly three times the amount for the month of September, when $7,138 was considered a good month's business under its statutory limitations. Vancouver sales on October 22 went to $2,589.75; October 23, $2,620, and October 24, $3,100. To cope with the business, Commissioner Findlay has had to engage additional help in the Terminal City, and remain on duty himself until a late hour.

"Camouflage" of No Use Here

Rev. J. L. 12, declares that "The Word of God is living and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart. And there is no creature that is not manifest in His sight: but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of Him with whom we have to do."

You may deceive others, ay, you may even deceive your own self, but you cannot and do not deceive the God of the 4th of Hebrews. Your religious trappings are but a sorry disguise, if your trust is not in Jesus' blood; your thinly cloaked defiance of the authority of God's eternal Word will lead you into judgment by that same Word at the last. All your righteousness is as filthy rags before Him if you have turned your back to Calvary's Cross, and the crucified but now exalted Lord who hung thereon.

CLOCKS TO REVERT TO NORMAL TIME

Daylight Saving Ceases at Midnight; Clocks Put Back One Hour

Daylight saving ceases at midnight to-night, and according to instructions received from the Director of Meteorological Services at Toronto, clocks throughout the Dominion will be put back one hour at 2 o'clock to-morrow (Sunday) morning. This means that householders on waking to-morrow morning and seeing the timepiece register, say, the hour of eight o'clock, will alter the hands to read seven o'clock.

The time ball on the Belmont Building, Superintendent Denison, of the Meteorological Observatory states, will be altered to-morrow to conform to standard time.

City Hall Clock. With one clock in the city, however, the matter of readjustment will not be so simple. In keeping with its character of "no ordinary clock," the timepiece which graces the tower of the City Hall is of such delicate mechanism that to attempt to put it back for one hour would probably be attended with fatal results. Therefore, commencing at seven o'clock to-morrow morning, Building Inspector W. W. Northcott and C. E. Redfern, the official who has charge of the destinies of the clock, will "hold its hands" for one hour, at the end of which the pendulum will be released and thus the timepiece will be brought into line with standard official time.

Some misunderstanding seems to have been caused owing to the general impression being that daylight saving would cease on October 31. It is pointed out by Superintendent Denison, however, that to-morrow is the last Sunday in the month, and as at the commencement of the operation of the Act, the Sabbath is chosen for the change in order to avoid the confusion which might be created were the change made in the course of a business day. By putting the clocks back on Sunday the possible, and probable, situation of business men or Government employees making the mistake of attending at the office an hour too soon is thus avoided.

The B. C. Electric Company has announced that the street car and trolley urban schedule will conform with the new official time, commencing to-morrow morning. Clocks will be changed on the system at midnight.

CLERGY COMMEND THE BOND APPEAL

Greater Effort is Urged "With All Earnestness" to Secure Full Quota

Canada's twentieth century Victory crusade will not only be preached by bond salesmen all over the Dominion, but will have the full support of the church. The Victoria clergy have informed the local loan committee of their determination to do their utmost in helping to make Canada's greatest financial effort her greatest success. Through their representatives, Rev. H. S. Osborne, President of the Social Service Commission; Bishop Macdonald, Dr. Leslie Clay and Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, they express not only their commendation of the loan, but they show in no uncertain terms that they appreciate to the fullest extent the vital character of the bond issue.

"Authorized by the clergy of all denominations of Victoria," says the letter, "at a meeting especially convened, we, the undersigned, wish to express our whole-hearted commendation of the great effort about to be made by the citizens of Victoria in connection with the 1918 Canada Victory Loan.

"It is a matter of vital interest that this Loan should be fully subscribed; and while we are cognizant of the fact that Victoria has already responded nobly to every appeal in connection with the war, we would urge with all earnestness that a still greater effort be made on this occasion.

"The flotation of this loan is necessary in order that Canada may continue to bear her share in the mighty responsibility that rests on the Christian civilization of the world. Canada's manhood has never failed in the trenches. Canada's womanhood has never failed in the work of ministrations. Canada must not now fail in this financial effort to back up our men and carry to a successful issue the sacred cause for which so many of our bravest and best have laid down their lives.

"Our first Victory Loan, which was launched at the darkest hour of this world war was over-subscribed. Now with victory in sight we have every reason to expect that our people will again go over the top in the final financial drive to secure the world's freedom."

HONOR CARDINAL ON ANNIVERSARY

Cardinal Gibbons Presented With Beautiful Crucifix From the Pope

Delegations from the Catholics of France, England, Belgium, Ireland, Canada and Mexico joined with those from America at Baltimore last Sunday in honoring Cardinal Gibbons on his fiftieth anniversary as bishop. The French commission arrived during the evening with the good wishes and congratulations of the French Government and the French episcopacy. Monsignor Nicola, secretary of the apostolic delegation in Washington, presented the cardinal with a metal crucifix on which are delicately carved ivory figures of Christ and the Virgin Mary. An autograph letter from the Pope accompanied the gift.

WEST COAST WORKERS WILL HELP PURCHASE AN ENDURING PEACE

Drag Net of Victory Loan Will Seek Out Lonely Settlements

Though a ready and generous response to the Victory Loan is expected by the officials in charge of Vancouver Island, it is realized that, in raising the $8,000,000 quota the canvassers will not be treading in the primrose path by any means. It has been relatively simple for the Dawson to organize the more or less settled districts, and the committees in each centre are now ready for action. The West Coast, however, with its scattered rockbound settlements and lonely harbors, presents difficulties of a very serious character, and it will only be by the greatest perseverance, and the most untiring labor that the dollars lying idle among the workers in the various mining, fishing and logging camps can be collected for purposes of the Victory Loan.

Nothing, however, has been left undone by P. Fleming which might help in any way contribute to the success of the Loan. Mr. Fleming is now on his second trip among the canneries and camps of the rugged coast, and he will endeavor to visit every point possible during the three weeks of the big drive. Realizing that, with the transportation facilities of the district, he cannot be at every front of the attack, he has delegated the managers of the different camps to conduct the campaign, hoping in this way to leave no ground uncovered.

Industry Now Thrives. Though the West Coast is very sparsely settled at some points, on account of war demands, industry is thriving, and the workers are earning unprecedented wages. The investment in Victory bonds, therefore, should be larger than ever before, particularly in view of the fact that this property has been secured by the last Loan and will be further insured by the present issue.

The Indians of the Coast are also comparatively opulent on account of the price paid for fish. The Indian agent, acting on the instructions of W. E. Ditchburn, Inspector of Agencies, will do all in their power to assist the canvassers to loosen up aboriginal dollars, and it is expected that the dusky fishermen will together form a source of considerable revenue.

In Charge of Coast. The points along the West Coast will be managed as follows: Port Renfrew, Clo-oose and Nitinat—Canvasser to be sent from Victoria. Arrangements have been made for assistance to canvasser with customs officers at Port Renfrew and James Logan and Clo-oose and Nitinat. Banfield—Appointed for Cable Station Fred G. Andrews, as canvasser. Customs House Officer as canvasser. Eoole—James Stewart, storekeeper and canvasser. Kildonan—James G. Dorman, postmaster and bookkeeper.

Uchelet—Appoint Richard T. Johnson, storekeeper and postmaster. Tofino—James Slasson, storekeeper, Clayoquot—T. J. Johnson, storekeeper and postmaster. Ahousat—U. W. Vanderyeen, missionary. Sidney Inlet—L. W. Carter. Nootka—Harry Stafford, postmaster and bookkeeper and Thomas T. Gardner. Kyquot Whaling Station—Gorman, bookkeeper. Kyoquot Indian village—Amos Ellis. Quatsino Cannery—John W. Whitaker, bookkeeper. Port Alice—J. J. Needham and two others. Quatsino village—H. E. Leeson, customer house officer.

Unexpected but very gratifying reports have reached the local committee from Salt Spring Island, which will raise $10,000. It was stated to Chairman R. F. Taylor, by William Mount, of Gauges Harbor, in charge at the island. Bishop Due Next Week—Dr. Russell Wakefield, Bishop of Birmingham, England, who will visit Victoria during his western tour, is due in Vancouver next week.

Suffered Since Childhood

Kidneys at the Root of the Evil

Think of it! The joys of youth marred by agonizing pains, and all hopes of a bright future blotted out by thoughts of a life burdened with backache and other sufferings.

Such was the case of Mr. A. Call until a good friend advised him that there was a remedy for his trouble and he would find it if he used Gin Pills. Read what Mr. Call says:

"I was troubled with my Kidneys since childhood and spent a large amount of money on doctors trying to get cured. Instead of getting better, I kept getting worse until a friend of mine advised me to try Gin Pills. I did so, and after taking one box I was able to get out of bed and walk around. Two more boxes relieved me completely and since then I have had no return of the trouble."

This remarkable testimonial was written by a man whose statement cannot be doubted. Mr. Call's reason for writing this history of his case was gratitude for the relief that Gin Pills brought him. Wouldn't you do the same if your case was similar? If you suffer now—don't suffer any longer. Use Gin Pills and obtain relief from Kidney or Bladder Trouble, and the pain, suffering and inconvenience that they cause.

IS FINAL ARBITER IN FUTURE WORKS

Memorandum for Local Improvement Legislation Filed by F. A. McDiarmid

Inviting criticism and suggested amendments to a draft suggestion for an Act to take the place of the present Local Improvement Act, F. A. McDiarmid, Solicitor to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, has to-day sent out copies of the memorandum which, of course, is a supplementary measure to the new Municipal draft Act already discussed by the Union, and disposed of by reference to a committee.

Much Wider Powers. The draft suggestions of the memorandum are designed to establish flexible machinery in the matter of local improvements going far and away beyond the generally and hitherto accepted interpretation. It provides for policing and lighting, in village areas within municipalities and is considerably more elastic than the present statute in its intended operation.

It should be noted that under the proposed substituting measure such situations as may exist in the Okanagan Valley where the smaller irrigation scheme is invariably necessary to the man who farms in a small way within municipal boundaries may be cared for. In other words, power would be given to municipalities in that connection to establish such subsidiary irrigation work designed to serve certain lands within its territory. The same remarks apply to diking and drainage projects within municipalities in the Fraser Valley section.

Board's Full Powers. The suggested plan provides appeal by dissatisfied ratepayers to the proposed Local Government Board, from decisions of the Council, the ratepayers having to receive formal notice of the Council's intentions.

Then the ratepayer has liberty to appeal to the Board. Upon receiving such notice of appeal, says the memorandum, "the Local Government Board shall appoint a time and place for a public hearing of such appeal, and shall mail, postpaid, written notice thereof to the person so appealing and a copy of such notice and of the appeal to the Council; and thereupon the Local Government Board shall have exclusive cognizance of and jurisdiction over the whole matter of such proposed work, service, undertaking, expenditure and special assessment, and shall render a decision and make an order thereon."

"(a) Authorizing the Council to proceed with the said work or supply the said services or carry out the said undertaking upon the conditions laid down in the said resolution, or

"(b) Authorizing the Council to proceed with the said work, or supply the said services or carry out the said undertaking, upon such other terms and conditions as to assessments or otherwise as the said decision or order may prescribe and set out, or

"(c) Forbidding the carrying out of such work, services or undertaking upon any terms of an expenditure to be met by special assessment."

If the order of the Board prohibits the work proceeding, it cannot be reopened for two years, except by consent.

If a Council objects to carry out a local improvement work petitioned for it may appeal to the Board, but any order made becomes mandatory on the Council.

ALL SPANISH INFLUENZA CASES HAVE RECOVERED

The Press reports several thousand thousand cases of Spanish Influenza in the Argentine, South America, and not a single death.

Cinchona Tree Bark, a powerful tonic from which quinine is extracted, made in wine, is their Great Remedy for Influenza.

If the people only knew that the principal ingredient in Kennedy's Tonic Port was this same Cinchona Tree Bark macerated in pure wine thereby assimilating all the various quinine alkaloids, there would be very little if any of the Spanish Influenza in Canada to-day as the quinine alkaloids in Kennedy's Tonic Port are three to five times more effectual than ordinary capsule quinine.

Owing to its powerful reconstituent and blood-making properties, it gives to weakened, run-down people the very support and strength needed. It is the most efficient general tonic and builder of body tissues you can possibly use.

Drug Stores sell it.

The committee also approved the additional request of the City Engineer that the large surface drain on St. Charles Street, between Broome Street and Fairfield Road, should be propped up, as it is showing further signs of collapse. The further expenditure of $300 in making repairs on the macadam portion of Esquimalt Road was also authorized. The city has already spent $300 in improving the condition of the road between Catherine Street and the Point Ellice Bridge. Other routine matters were discussed by the committee.

(From Motor Age.)
The serious aspect of the twenty-five per cent. reduction ordered in the iron and steel allotment to tractor manufacturers for the next twelve months lies in the fact that the basis upon which the reduction is figured is the amount of material actually used by the tractor manufacturers during the last twelve months and not what they had hoped to use during the coming twelve months.

The programme of production for 1919, according to the ambitions of the tractor manufacturers, totalled up to approximately 250,000 machines. Were this hoped-for production to be reduced by twenty-five per cent. by the order of the Priorities Board things would not be so bad. But the reduction applies to 1918 production instead. The effect of this will be that concerns which had made arrangements for the production of many thousands of tractors during the next year will not be permitted to produce even as many as they built during the last year.

An additional distressing result will be that concerns which were passing through the experimental stage with their machines, but which had so far perfected their designs that they were certain of production and demand for the coming year, now will be delayed a full year at least in the maturing of their plans. It happens that some of the most promising designs had not as yet reached what the director of the Priorities Board calls the "secondary stage of development," hence, under this ruling, these concerns are temporarily put out of business. It's too bad, but it can't be helped.

LONG DISTANCE RUN MARKS NEW EPOCH

The completion of a 2,700-mile transcontinental run from Boston to San Francisco by two big pneumatic-tired trucks of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, marks a new epoch in motor transportation.

Ever since the successful inauguration of a line of motor trucks which this company has been operating between Akron, Ohio, and Boston, it has been the intention of the Goodyear Company to demonstrate the possibility of transcontinental motor trucking by making a run such as has been completed.

Leaving Boston on September 1, following the Boston post road to New York City, then over the entire length of the Lincoln Highway, these big rubber-tired machines, in San Francisco on an average 45 1/2 hours en route, running on an average of thirteen miles per hour, the actual running time being 289 hours.

CLUTCH ALIGNMENT.

If the sliding member of the clutch is rusty, it will give the effect of a grabbing member. The rusted portion will prevent the clutch's engaging gradually holding for a fraction of a second, and thus forcing a quick engagement. The operator often believes that the trouble is due to poor facing or worn engaging members.

FIND IT DIFFICULT TO MEET DEMAND

Used Cars Now Bring Nearly as Much as Good Ones Did Formerly

Traffic in used cars has now reached such proportions that dealers are having difficulty in procuring them fast enough to take care of the increasing demand. The price of used cars has also advanced.

The number of new cars available has also been much reduced owing to the fact that new cars are so hard to get this year. In previous years when new cars were sold owners placed them on the market. This year this supply has been greatly decreased.

Dealers report that used cars this year bring nearly the price of new cars in former years, but owing to the general advance in price of most of this year's cars, it is doubtful if the price is out of proportion to that paid in the past.

Many persons who would like to sell their cars hesitate to do so, fearing that they will be unable to secure other cars at a price that would make such a trade profitable for them.

The dealers are using special care this year, too, in overhauling used cars and putting them in condition. The increased use of trucks has also made an additional demand, and many a passenger car has been made over into a truck and is now doing hauling.

The car owner now realizes that for some time before the war the price of cars will be just a memory of the past, and has taken the situation philosophically and is making the best bargain he can under the circumstances.

MAY AVOID WEAR BY DUE CAUTION

Writer Gives Some Good Advice to Motorists Regarding Care of Cars

(By Charles Hammond in Motor Life.)
Premature tread wear is particularly inexcusable because it is the result of ship-shod driving or indifference. The driver who comes to a stop at the curb when taking a sharp turn out of his tires in two or three feet as he would in 200 or 300 miles of ordinary driving. There is no exaggeration in that statement. He is ruining his tires and he is not even succeeding in making the quickest possible stop.

Rapid acceleration or sudden engagement of the clutch causes the wheels to spin and is subject to the same criticism as the ship-shod driving. Careful brake adjustment is most important, for if one wheel is called upon to do all the braking the wear is excessive. In a case like this the difference in wear between the over-worked tire and the one which has not been dragged over the road will constitute a lesson which you cannot easily forget.

Skidding around corners is another good way of filing off tread. Stop the car a few inches from the curb, then accelerate and skidding goes deeper than the surface. Such driving will strain and weaken the fabric, particularly in the side walls. It also tends to loosen the tread.

Driving in car tracks and ruts and carelessness in approaching the curb tears or wears away the side of the tread and exposes the fabric. Rim cutting, the direct result of underinflation, also attacks the tire at a vulnerable point. There is sure to be some wear between clincher rim and side wall and with soft tires the wear is intensified. This can seldom be repaired by vulcanizing, because it is too close to the bead. Rims which cause cutting, when the pressure is correctly maintained should be examined for straightening or replacement.

Every motorist has suffered a blow-out on a tire which was apparently in the best of condition—driven only a few hundred miles—perhaps when the car was standing in the garage. The cause was a sharp blow by a stone in the road, when the car was travelling at high speed or it may have been the result of running into the curb when parking the car. The object which was struck depressed the tire sharply. The inner layers of fabric, being farthest from the centre of bending, received the greatest strain and the fabric was split on the inside.

Damage of this kind can only be avoided by careful driving. Stop the car a few inches from the curb. Slow up for raised crosswalks and car tracks. Keep your eyes on the road and dodge stones, bricks and holes in the pavement. No tire made can be depended upon to sustain without injury the ten-ton blow delivered to your tire when you strike an obstacle at twenty-five or thirty miles an hour.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

GASKET CUTTER.

The man who does all the work about his car will find the little device known as a gasket cutter of great help to him. It is almost impossible to cut an accurate gasket with a knife or scissors, but with the cutter these little necessities may be made with absolute accuracy. A cutting blade is carried on this device on a sliding bar, so that any size gasket may be obtained.

JACKET REPAIR.

A neat repair of a cracked water jacket may be made in the following way, provided the crack is so small that the water merely seeps out. The interior of the jacket is thoroughly cleaned out and filled with a solution of sulphate of copper or blue stone. This leaks out through the crack and in so doing deposits a thin film of pure copper that seals the crack.

WATER-LEAKS.

In engines that are provided with a plate on the side to facilitate work on the interior it is not uncommon to find that water is escaping here in spite of the rubber and fabric composition with which it is sealed. As a general thing this condition may be remedied by simply painting the plate with shellac or red lead and then screwing it tightly into place.

PITTED VALVES.

The average car owner does not seem to realize that grinding will not cure a badly-pitted valve head and seat. In cases where this condition exists the valve should be removed and smoothed down on a lathe or valve resanding tool, and the seat should be similarly treated before the two are placed together for the grinding that will give them perfect contact.

CARBURATOR TROUBLE.

When the engine runs jerkily the obvious cause is carburetor trouble. To locate the trouble prime the carburetor and watch for dripping. If there is no dripping the trouble lies between the tank and the float valve. If there is free dripping, the trouble may be looked for between the float valve and the engine cylinder.

AFTER GRINDING VALVES.

It is possible to tell just how successful the operation of grinding valves has been by the following simple process. Mark the face of the valve all around lightly with a soft lead pencil. Then place the valve in position, turn it on its seat for a few minutes, and remove, there is contact all around, but if anything is left, the point where face and seat do not meet is readily apparent.

CAUSE OF MISSING.

A not infrequent cause of spasmodic engine missing is either mis-ture or grease in the ignition distributor face. The current passes across the surface of the water or oil instead of pursuing its proper course. It is a good plan to give the distributor a cleaning at frequent intervals.

WATER AND TIRE WEAR.

Wet rubber cuts much more easily than the same substance dry. For this reason the wise car owner does not try to speed over wet roads where any chance thrown sharp stones gets an opportunity to do maximum damage.

EASY ON THE CLUTCH.

One of the commonest mistakes in driving is the "riding" of the clutch, which perhaps a majority of operators indulge in. If the foot is kept constantly on the clutch pedal, even though lightly, the action causes rapid wear of the clutch thrust bearing, and clutch slipping. If the clutch is of the cone variety, the facing is worn excessively, while in the disclutch in oil the extra heat tends to thin the oil and permits grabbing. Drivers should keep off the clutch except when it is to be operated.

MAY OVERDOSE WITH OIL

Plenty of oil and grease is a warning that sometimes acts like the proverbial boomerang. The motor car novice, hearing this admonition on every side (particularly at the filling stations), often overdoes his lubricating duties. This is especially true with regard to the brakes.

The great majority of modern brakes are lined with some kind of an asbestos fabric. The friction surface of the asbestos-lined brake must not be soaked in oil, as this destroys the grip and makes the brake practically useless. Inexperienced motorists should therefore be cautioned not to get an overdose of oil in the differential housing, as the lubricant creeps into the axle tubes and thence finds its way to the brake drums.

CURING GRABBING.

It has been found that thin strips of rubber installed beneath the leather of the cone clutch generally serve to eliminate the grabbing which is one of the most annoying traits of this part.

DO NOT JAM BRAKES

Care in This Matter Will Save Repair Bills.

Motorists cannot jam on their brakes without taxing their pocket-books. Careful application of the brakes will save repair bills and increase the life of the tire substantially, according to the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company.

In slowing down at crossroads and street intersections many drivers wait until the last minute and then clamp on the brakes suddenly. Locked wheels result. The tires suffer the bulk of this abuse by grinding and sawing against the road surface. Very often sharp stones are caught between the tire and the road and as the car slides to a standstill a hole is gouged or filed into the casing. Every time a brake is suddenly applied a portion of the tread is worn off, eventually barring the fabric carcass.

Lake of brake application in turning corners destroys tires quickly. Cars operating in cities where frequent turns are necessary in their daily trips will more than pay for the time saved, in speeding on the turns, in unnecessary tire bills. The abnormal twist and strain on the tires not only tends to loosen the fabric plies but wears away the rubber on the side of the tread. Slowing down gently should be one of the first operations mastered by beginner drivers.

STEAMER DUE WITH SUGAR FROM JAVA

Taibu Maru to Discharge Several Thousand Tons at B. C. Refinery

Forty-seven days out from Java the Japanese steamer Taibu Maru is due to pass in en route to Vancouver with a full cargo of sugar for the Mainland Refinery.

lying at Dutch East Indies ports awaiting shipment. Following the commandeering of Dutch tonnage by the Allied Governments a large number of the vessels flying the Netherlands flag were transferred to more essential routes with the result that the vessels of sugar are other products from the Dutch ports in the Far East was practically stopped.

The situation was declared to be serious as the planters were facing a heavy loss. The Taibu Maru's cargo is the first consignment of its kind that has been shipped from Java to the Vancouver refinery in many months.

SEATTLE COMPANY TO HAVE LINE TO AUSTRALIA

Seattle, Oct. 25.—Plans were completed today by the Universal Shipping & Trading Company for placing a fleet of freighters in a direct regular service between Seattle and Australia, thereby paving the way for adding a new and immensely valuable foreign trade field to this port's overseas assets.

The plans for the new service are subject during the war period to the prevailing regulation of shipping by the government, but it is hoped to have the service in operation before long. With the close of the war, the company will begin operating on a big scale.

"Inquiry for cargo space between Seattle and Australasia is heavy," said H. H. Hamner, President and General Manager of the new company, "and we expect to develop a big movement. The shipments both ways will consist principally of general cargo. Australasia needs American products and we need Australasia's products, so that the new cargo movement will benefit both countries. Wheat, wool and copra will figure largely in the return cargoes during the first years."

The company plans to operate ten auxiliary-powered vessels in the new route at first, but will replace these with steam freighters when the latter become available.

FOUNDATION MANAGER GOES TO SAVANNAH

H. B. Pickering Promoted After Getting Local Organization Down to Working Basis

WILL TAKE CHARGE OF STEEL YARD IN STATES

Responding to a summons from the head office at New York, H. B. Pickering, Local Manager of the Foundation Company's wooden shipyard here, left today for the East to take charge of the company's steel shipbuilding plant at Savannah, Georgia.

In, slightly under two months Mr. Pickering has organized the Victoria yards and put the contract for the construction of twenty wooden steamships for the French Government under way. He came here from Tacoma on September 1, after a strenuous few weeks in getting things into shape here, leaving for the East with the knowledge that the local organization is running smoothly and down to a proper working basis.

Mr. Pickering, during his short sojourn here, has made a host of friends, who, while regretting his departure, will wish him every success in his new sphere of work. Mr. Pickering joined the Foundation Company at New York in 1917, when the concern first started its shipbuilding programme, as assistant to E. Remington, brother of President Franklin Remington.

Was Ship-Fitter

He started his shipbuilding career on the Great Lakes at Detroit as a ship-fitter, in the employment of the Shipbuilding Co., and from there he went over to the Cleveland Shipbuilding Co. in a material assembling capacity. During the summer months he worked in the shipyard in Detroit in the winter he studied mechanical engineering and naval architecture at the University of Michigan. In 1909 he took his degrees in naval architecture and mechanical engineering.

Organized Company

He then organized a company of his own, and was engaged in designing and supervising the construction of vessels on the Middle Lakes at Detroit, known as H. B. Pickering & Co. In 1913 he came to the Pacific coast, opened an office in Seattle, and at the same time taking into partnership Geo. Hutings, one of the oldest shipbuilders on the coast, who, among other things, built the steamship Humboldt, well known in the Alaska trade.

Under this partnership Mr. Pickering operated the Matthews Shipbuilding Co. at Hoquiam. In 1914 he sold his interest in this concern and went to the Cramp Shipbuilding Co. in Philadelphia as construction engineer. He was with the Cramps while the steamship Great Northern and Northern Pacific were building. Later on his services were commandeered by the United States Government and for a year he was engaged at the New York yard supervising a new production system. This was in 1915.

In 1917 he sent in his resignation to Secretary Daniels, and joined the Foundation Company at Detroit, built the Portland and Tacoma shipyards and took charge of the Tacoma plant in November, 1917. The following January he was transferred to the district offices at Seattle.

Popular Here

Mr. Pickering is one of the youngest shipbuilders on the continent, being only thirty years of age. He is an optimist of the first water and believes in making the most of things. During his period of office in Victoria Mr. Pickering has made himself very popular with the employees. His departure is Victoria's loss and Savannah's gain. It is predicted that Dean Johnson, formerly of this city, who took over the management of the Tacoma yard some months ago, will be brought here to take charge of the Foundation plant.

The Savannah plant has been in operation about six months. At the Georgia port the Foundation Co. is building a fleet of steamships for the order of the French Government.

MANAGER OF DODWELL COMPANY IS DEAD

Alexander Stewart Passes, Terminating Very Active Career

In the death of Alexander Stewart, Director of Dodwell & Company, Ltd., and General Manager of that company for the Pacific Coast, the shipping fraternity have lost a valuable member. Mr. Stewart was born January 1, 1859, in Scotland, and on the death of his father became the head of the family and succeeded to the estate of Innerhadden. He went to China about 1882 and was largely instrumental in building the company, having been associated with the seniors of the firm for some thirty-five years. During his residence in Shanghai he was well known as an all-round athlete, being especially interested in rowing and cricket.

In 1887 George B. Dodwell inaugurated a North Pacific steamer line which was the first regularly established service from Puget Sound and British Columbia to the Orient, and in 1892 Mr. Dodwell came from China to establish Dodwell & Company, Ltd. (then Dodwell, Carrill & Co.) on the Pacific Coast. He opened offices in Victoria and Tacoma and took up his residence in the latter city, later removing to Seattle. Under his careful administration the business of the firm on this Coast developed to its present proportions, and at the time of his death Mr. Stewart was Dean of shipping men of the Pacific, having been in charge of the Dodwell and allied shipping interests on this coast for twenty-six years.

Broadminded and sagacious, his judgment proved invaluable to his associates. Possessed of a genial and winning personality with an unflinching courtesy and devoted to his family and business he impressed everyone with his high qualities and sterling integrity. He was a member of the Rainier Club, and of the Chamber of Commerce. Late in September he went with Mrs. Stewart to Sedalia, Colorado, in search of health and died there on October 17. Cremation services were held in Denver. No services will be held in Seattle.

attle, but his ashes will be later deposited in the family vault at Innerhadden, Scotland.

He is survived by his widow and three children, Alan, Jessie and Hepburn, and three sisters in England, Miss Gertrude Stewart, Mrs. Stephen Coleridge and Mrs. Raleigh Phillips.

REGULATIONS COVER DISPOSAL OF SALMON

Practically Entire 1918 Pack to Be Delivered to British Food Board

Regulations respecting the sale of British Columbia canned salmon under the recent Order-in-Council have been officially gazetted as follows: His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, upon the solicitation of the Canada Food Board pursuant to the urgent request of the British Ministry of Food and under and in virtue of the powers conferred by the War Measures Act, 1914, do hereby vest in the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to make the following regulations respecting the sale of canned salmon, and the same are hereby made and enacted accordingly:

1. British Columbia canners shall deliver to the British Ministry of Food in the manner and on the terms as hereinafter set forth, the following percentage of their respective 1918 and enacted, accordingly: 100% of the total pack of Sockeyes, 100% " " " Cohoes, 75% " " " Pinks, 100% " " " Ovals.

2. All canned salmon tendered in accordance with the requirements of this order shall be subject to the custom inspection and acceptance as to quality and condition and when accepted shall be delivered to the British Ministry of Food or his authorized agent either L.O.B. Vancouver, B. C., or L.O.B. Vancouver, B. C., or other terminal shipping points in British Columbia, as the said British Ministry of Food shall direct.

3. The price to be paid for any canned salmon requisitioned under this order shall be determined by the War Purchasing Commission whose decision or the decision of a majority of whom shall be final.

4. Inspection of canned salmon requisitioned under this order shall be made before November 30, 1918. The War Purchasing Commission shall be paid for on presentation and delivery of warehouse receipt.

5. Until the prices of the canned salmon requisitioned under this order have been determined in the manner provided, the following advances on account of the purchase price shall be made by the buyers to the sellers for all such salmon inspected and accepted:

Table with columns: Half-Tails, Flats, Flats, Sockeyes, Cohoes, Pinks, Ovals. Prices listed for each category.

6. To the extent the 1918 salmon pack of the British Columbia canners has been affected by this order, they shall be released from existing contracts for the sale of their 1918 salmon pack.

7. The price of canned salmon to Canadian dealers shall not exceed the price at which the canners offered such salmon for sale to the British Ministry of Food, namely:

Table with columns: Half-Tails, Flats, Flats, Sockeyes, Cohoes, Pinks, BB & Steel Head, Ovals. Prices listed for each category.

8. All British Columbia canners of salmon shall furnish the British Ministry of Food and the War Purchasing Commission or their representative or representatives, with such particulars as may be required by the said British Ministry of Food, or their representative or representatives, shall request.

9. Every person who refuses to furnish any information herein required, or who violates any of the provisions of this order, is guilty of an offence, and shall be liable, on summary conviction before a Police Magistrate or on conviction before the Peace to a penalty not exceeding $5,000, and not less than $1,000, or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months, or to both fine and imprisonment.

Keeps Children Well Makes Them Robust

BAN NOW OPERATING IN FORTY DISTRICTS

Special Train Will Take Ministering Doctor Over Line of P. G. E.

Reports from the various localities traversed by the Pacific Great Railway reaching the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education and head of the Provincial Board of Health, indicate that the Spanish influenza epidemic is causing a considerable amount of alarm, more especially in the Bridge River district.

In view of the somewhat unsettled nature of the country and the lack of proper medical and nursing attention, the Government decided this morning to dispatch Dr. Newton on a special train over the whole stretch of the line from Squamish to Clinton. He will take with him a supply of drugs, and will generally be in a position to deal with all cases of emergency, and give advice to all who may need it.

Up till noon to-day forty towns and cities in the Province of British Columbia were classed within the inhibition edict. Their names and the date upon which the Order-in-Council proclaimed the Spanish Influenza Regulations in force follow: Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich, October 8; North Vancouver, Duncan, Cumberland and Hazelton Bay, October 10; Salmon Arm, October 11; Prince Rupert, Courtenay, October 12; Fernie, South Vancouver, October 13; Nanaimo, New Westminster, Ladysmith, October 14; Prince George, Point Grey, October 15; Kamloops, Vancouver, Anyox, October 18; Grand Forks, Kelowna, Michel, North Vancouver district, October 19; Port Alberni, October 20; Nelson, Rossland, October 21; Kootenay, Cranbrook, Merritt, Trail, Vernon, Langley, Kent, October 22; Revelstoke, Maple Ridge, October 23; Greenwood, Chilliwack, New Denver and district, October 24.

There were no applications for the ban from any section of the Province this morning, nor were there any additional alarms from those points mentioned in these columns as experiencing great difficulty in lack of proper medical and nursing attention.

Chairman of British Columbia Victory Loan Congratulates City

An appreciation of the organizing work of the Victoria Victory Loan Office is expressed by W. H. Malkin, Chairman of the British Columbia Committee, in a letter to R. E. Taylor, Chairman of the Island committee.

The letter reads as follows: "In expressing to you my keen appreciation of the manner in which your committee has been organized under your guidance, and my thanks to you for the energy and keenness displayed prior to the campaign for the Victory Loan 1918, I desire to convey to you and your committee, organizers and canvassers my assurance that you may depend on the Provincial Executive to support your efforts during the coming three weeks of the campaign to make the loan a magnificent success throughout British Columbia.

There is no need for me to dwell upon the immense importance of such a success to every individual in the Province. It is indeed a Victory Loan. But because of that Victory it is all the more necessary that we do not forget the cost and sacrifice which has been made to obtain it. We who benefit by it, we who have stayed at home have still to drive home with our money the lesson our men have taught the Hun with their bayonets. Just because complete victory and perhaps even peace may be in sight our duty to the living and the dead is all the greater. We cannot let slip the glorious future now within reach for lack of appreciation of what the past four years have meant.

If there is one thing more than another I think vital to our campaign, it is a full appreciation of our responsibility to those who have accomplished such wonderful work for civilization and humanity. I might sum up our appeal by quoting Kipling's famous recession "Lest We Forget." We must not forget to reap the harvest sown in those fields of France and Flanders . . . and we shall forget if we fail at this moment to measure up to our responsibility.

It is this message I would send to you on the eve of our campaign. Canada—British Columbia—was never more in need of everything which the campaign stands for than now. Our success is our bond to civilization. The measure of our success is the standard of our future. To win that success I feel stimulated and honored by your co-operation.

Yours for $25,000,000.

Fashion Bows to Necessity

It is absolutely necessary to supply our forces overseas with shoes—millions of pairs of them. It is difficult to appreciate what this means in connection with a strictly limited commodity like leather.

To this necessity, fashion must yield. We must be content with fewer superfluous styles which serve no useful purpose, but are created merely to look "different." These "extras" not only cost more in themselves, but their production tends to raise prices all along the line.

As Canada's largest manufacturers of shoes, we ask you to buy wisely, for service rather than merely for appearance. That is the only effective way to discourage the production of non-essentials. Look for the manufacturer's trade-mark on the shoes you buy. In that way you are assured of the best possible value at the price you wish to pay.

It is your privilege to secure better values for yourself, and at the same time contribute to the solution of the nation's shoe problem.

DAYLIGHT SAVING ENDS SUNDAY October 27th at 2 A.M.

ORDINARY time will be resumed throughout Canada on Sunday, October 27th. At 2 o'clock in the morning of that day, all official clocks are to be put back one hour

It is suggested that all private clocks and watches be put back one hour on the night previous.

Please note that the Gillette Safety Razor will continue to save time by day or by night, without change.

Daylight saving in its first year has proved a great convenience and a complete success. People who were inclined to be sceptical are now convinced of its merits. Like the Gillette Safety Razor, actual experience with it has banished indifference and opposition and given place to enthusiastic appreciation.

SAY PROFESSIONALS MUST HAVE PERMITS

Objects to Two Men Figuring on V. I. A. A. Rugby Line-Up

By order of Dan O'Sullivan, President of the local body of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union, information has been sent to W. H. Spalding, as President of the Victoria and Island Athletic Association, and to the Foundation Company, calling attention to the fact that it is against the rules of the Union for Dai Thomas and Billy Davies to play in the Rugby games, as they did last Saturday at the Royal Athletic Park, where a collection was made. "Where amateurs and professionals are playing together," said a B. C. A. A. U. man this morning, "there must be no gate charge or no collection made. The amateur standing of players taking part in a game under such conditions becomes legalized, and the two players mentioned have both been placed in the amateur class, Thomas, of course, being a professional before he came to Canada, and at a meeting of the B. C. A. A. U. in 1915 his professional standing was upheld, and an application for his reinstatement as an amateur refused.

Must Have Permits. "Amateurs and professionals have played together," he said, "on repeated occasions, and this has been allowed by the B. C. A. A. U. conditionally. Where the money received from the games is devoted for patriotic purposes, the Union will agree to professional and amateurs on the same line-up, but only after they have first asked and received permission from the B. C. A. A. U. In such cases one of the conditions enforced is that an official of the Union be present at the gate, and receive the money in bulk to turn over to the patriotic society named. Permission has been granted for amateurs and professionals to mix in lacrosse games with the conditions mentioned exacted.

The Foundation Company which is entered in the city Rugby league against the Victoria and Island Athletic Association has received the notification. The newly-formed club at the shipyards is affiliated with the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union, and the members stated will have to abide by the ruling of the local body.

TWENTY-FOUR SERVICE STARS.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Recent claims that the Cleveland Club led American League Clubs with eighteen stars in its service flag, sixteen of them representing players in the army, caused President H. B. Johnson to ask each of the eight clubs in the league to give the number of its men in the service. The head of the league announced to-day that the Detroit Club was the first to respond with an official list of twenty-four players in the army and navy. The Chicago Club has sixteen players in service.

MEDAL COMPETITIONS FOR VICTORIA GOLFERS

To Be Held During November; Vancouver Clubs Ordered Closed

For the purpose of handicapping the members of the Victoria Golf Club in connection with the Medal Competitions, play will take place during the month of November as follows:

Players to take four cards, one each week during November. The 3rd, 10th, 17th and 24th respectively, have been set as the dates ending the weeks, and a prize will be given each week for the best medal score.

A prize will also be given for the best eclectic of the four cards. Any player failing to return his four medal cards complete, will not be reckoned in the eclectic.

All members are requested to enter this competition and return their cards complete—no holes to be left out—so that they may be correctly handicapped. Any member not returning his four cards will not be handicapped, but will be placed at scratch until four cards are returned by him.

An entrance fee of one dollar includes the four medal rounds and the Eclectic, and is payable on taking out the first card.

Both the Shaughnessy Heights and Jericho Golf Clubs have been asked to close their doors until the Spanish "Flu" epidemic has passed. Dr. M. B. Blackwood, Medical Health Officer of the Point Grey municipality, issued the order yesterday. Officials of the clubs, while complying with the order, are maintaining that golf is an outdoor sport and should be encouraged at this time.

A wire was sent to Hon. Dr. MacLean, Minister of Education, who replied that it is not the Government's intention to close up golf clubs since they are "fresh air" organizations. The clubs, however, remain closed and will continue until specific orders have been received to the contrary. It is believed that the clubs will re-open in a very short time.

SOCCER WILL BE KING IN U. S. NAVY CAMP

Great Lakes, Ill., Oct. 25.—The navy has adopted soccer on a big league scale. Following a discovery that some of the crack St. Louis professionals are at the station in uniform the ancient and neglected Scots pastime has been effectively revived as a major winter sport. Several "nests" of the professionals have been located in the big navy camp. Over in the first regiment as seamen are a group from the famous Ben Miller team, three-time champions of the West. Another clique has been found in the second regiment, another in detention, while still another is in aviation.

Athletic honors at the Royal Military College, Kingston, have been carried off by a British Columbia boy, Graeme King, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. King, of Vancouver, and nephew of Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works of this province. The lad, who is just eighteen, was one of the cadets admitted to the college last year. His parents received word yesterday that he had won the silver bugle, which carries with it the all-round championship, and also the Ryerson cup for the 100-yard dash. He won the 440-yard sprint in 53 4-5; the 220-yard dash in 24 seconds, and the 100-yard dash in 9 2-5 seconds.

BELGIAN SOCCER TEAM TO PLAY IN NEW YORK
New York, Oct. 25.—The New York soccer feature will be a meeting between a team of Belgian soldiers, which some months ago volunteered to come here for benefit of war charities funds, and a leading American eleven, most likely the Bethlehem. The committee asked the Belgian Consul-General to cable to the Belgian military authorities to send the footballers along. In billiards the drive has called on Willie Hoppe, the world's ballkline champion in New York, Philadelphia and Washington. Welker Cockran may be his opponent in one or more of these matches.

M'ADAMS OUT OF GAME.
McAdams, who was one of the star players of the Fragments from France last season, has notified Secretary Towley that he will be out of the soccer game for the rest of the season. After getting badly cut up in France with the first contingent it remained for a fall on the football field, which put his knee out of commission to keep Mac out of the soccer game.

HOCKEY ARENA OPENS EARLY IN DECEMBER

Prepare Next Week to Make Building Ready to Put Down Ice

Work on putting the Arena in shape for ice hockey is to be started Monday, and the thousands who were captivated by the sport when the city was in the league competition will hail the news with delight. There is one disappointment which the Victoria people may be faced with and that is in the class of hockey where the crack puck-chasers of the Pacific Coast Hockey League caused the crowd to hold their breath and thrill with excitement while chasing the elusive puck with an adeptness that gives the Canadian audience a feeling akin to that of the American schoolboy who next to being a world series pitcher would like to be President, with a league ice hockey player substituted for the baseball star. There is still a chance that the Pacific Coast League games will be played here as far as can be learned, but Lester Patrick had nothing to say at the present stage of the game on this matter.

"The re-opening of the Arena for ice skating is being seriously considered," he stated. "There has been considerable doubt in my mind as to whether there was a sufficient number of skaters in the city to warrant such an undertaking, but I have been besieged with so many inquiries from all sources that I feel it my duty to attempt to re-establish what was once the premier winter sport of this city."

"With that end in view, a contract has already been let for the repair of the roof, and experts will be put to work the first of the week to overhaul the entire building and mechanical equipment. Just what length of time will be necessary for this labor is hard to determine as the plant has now been idle for almost three years. Should nothing serious develop in the above work, it is planned to have the rink open to the public early in December. How long the rink will remain open will depend absolutely on what degree of patronage it receives from the general public."

Since the suggestion of bringing ice hockey back to Victoria was first introduced the followers of the game have been awaiting anxiously to see if the Arena would throw open its doors again, and there has been a great deal of talk on the formation of an amateur league or a semi-pro competition. The Foundation Company has one or two players anxious to get on the ice and show what they can do, and as far as organizing teams is concerned the recently-formed Athletic Association anticipated that for ordinary amateur hockey they would have the men tumbled over themselves to get in the game. The Siberian force is drawing many men from the East who are fortunate enough to have the natural ice to develop into pretty clever amateurs.

You must either fight or pay. If you don't invest in Victory Bonds, you will have to pay heavier taxes. You won't get your money back or interest paid on taxes either.

NEW HOCKEY LEAGUE IS STILL CARRYING ON

Even Though National League is Again in Business

Montreal, Oct. 25.—The Canadian Hockey League, the new organization formed in Toronto a couple of weeks ago, is still carrying on and intends to operate this winter even though the National Hockey League is again in business, it was announced to-day. While nothing has been done towards securing an arena in this city, it is reported from Ottawa that Percy Quinn's organization has arranged to play at Day's rink. The Ottawa Hockey Association at a meeting last week accepted the offer of the Ottawa Hockey Club to again operate a team in the N. H. L. and Martin Rosenthal will again be secretary-treasurer with N. H. Bate as president. The old club is now negotiating for an arena, having decided not to tender an offer to Day for his arena.

News comes from M. A. Wyde, of Strathcona Lodge, Shawnigan Lake, of some shooting that will make the huntsman envious. It is claimed to be one of the largest seen for years in the Cowichan District.

DEMPSEY MATCHED FOR TWENTY-ROUND BOUT

New York, Oct. 25.—Jack Dempsey and Billy Miske have been matched to box twenty rounds before the Auditorium A. C., of New Orleans, on November 25. Jimmy Murphy, a Philadelphia bantamweight, who has been acting as boxing instructor at Camp Wadsworth, is dead of Spanish influenza. Dominick Tortorich has agreed to hang up a purse for a twenty-round bout between the winner of the Frankie Burns-Johnny Ertie match and Pete Herman. Tortorich intends to stage the bout in New Orleans next month. Mike O'Dowd, middleweight champion now serving with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, and Sergt. Schradenback, of a medical unit over there, have been matched to box ten rounds within two weeks.

SAY THEY WILL NOT ATTEND MEETING HERE

B. C. A. A. U. Representatives Have Many Differences of Opinion

A strenuous effort is being made by the Vancouver section for the holding of the meeting of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union in Vancouver this year, while charges of inactivity are being launched at the heads of the Island officials with a regularity that shows that the Mainland section are feeling very strongly on the matter. The local people claim that they can not only prove that they have done everything that could be done in the development of sport under war time conditions, but have amply and sufficient reasons for not having held a meeting before this time. President Manson as head of the body is at present confined to his house with sickness, and to-day had to take to his bed, so is unable to make a statement of any kind at the present time. According to a Vancouver report the Mainland representatives intend to ignore the meeting which was set for November 2nd, but in any case it is very improbable that the lid on meetings will be lifted by that time, and a lot of things are liable to happen in the meanwhile. The report from the Mainland states:

"Unless the President of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union decides to hold the annual meeting in Vancouver it is not likely that any of the representatives of the local clubs affiliated with the Vancouver Board of the Provincial body will attend the gathering called for November 2 in Victoria, a prominent Mainland amateur official stated this morning. "It is impossible for the Vancouver representatives to do all of the traveling," stated this official. "It has been the custom in the past to hold the meeting in different cities each year. Last year we travelled to Victoria, and before that we were in New Westminster. It is now Vancouver's turn to hold the meeting and I am sure that unless the President announces a change that no one will go over from this city."

The Vancouver Board is unable to call a meeting to discuss the situation owing to the quarantine regulations, and it is not likely that any move will be made until the quarantine is lifted. Secretary Dan McKenzie of the local Board states that it is altogether improbable that he will make the trip over to the capital, and as no successor to Dave Leth, former chairman of the local Board, has been appointed, it is not likely that the Vancouver branch will have representation. President R. C. Macdonald, of the New Westminster branch may attend, but unless the local Board decides differently in the meantime this city will not have any delegates in attendance as the officials believe that the President of the Provincial Executive should have arranged to hold the meeting here instead of again in the Capital City.

We doubt if the directors of this Company ever made a quicker decision than when they resolved, on behalf of the Company, to subscribe One Million Dollars' worth of the forthcoming Victory Loan.

This decision, to us, seems to justify the conclusion that the security back of Canada's Victory Bonds is so good that it requires no discussion, and that the appeal to Canadians to buy Victory Bonds is so justifiable that it permits of no alternative.

TO THE JEWISH CITIZENS OF VICTORIA.

On behalf of the Jewish congregation I would most strongly urge upon our co-religionists in this city to help along the Victory Loan to the utmost of their ability. The B'Nai Brith, our local Jewish Order, has taken up the matter, and it is to be hoped that the members of our community will render every assistance possible.

On the success of these loans depends, in no small degree, the shortening of this terrible war and the return to their homes of that vast number of Jewish young men who, along with our Gentile citizens, are doing their duty in endeavoring to save the world for that freedom and liberty which we have been inculcating and preaching for close on six thousand years.

Our brethren are sacrificing their health, limbs and lives in the front for you and yours, and all that is asked and expected of you is merely to lend, not even to give, to the Government what you can spare, surely a very small and insignificant item when compared with what our boys and the Allies are sacrificing at the front, and sacrificing so willingly and uncomplainingly.

Remember you are not asked to risk a cent; all that is expected of you is to invest to the utmost of your capacity in the safest and most advantageous security in the Dominion.

Whilst I am aware that you have in the past invested in bonds and also given most freely, yet, I would once more appeal to you in the name of humanity, justice, liberty and freedom to subscribe to the limit of your ability and where convenient, through our local Jewish organization, Victoria Lodge, Independent Order B'Nai Brith, so that our Jewish citizens, collectively, may make at least as good a showing as our fellow-citizens.

GIVE EACH HIS DUE.

Sir,—In an editorial in yesterday's issue entitled "India's Effort" you state that India has contributed over 1,250,000 men to the Imperial forces since the outbreak of the war. I also noticed in a paper a short time ago that the number was over 1,000,000.

In an editorial in your contemporary issue of last Saturday, if I mistake not, entitled "What England has done," it was claimed that nine out of every ten men of the Imperial forces were Englishmen or men of English birth, or in other words, ninety per cent.

I do not have the paper at hand, but

I am under the impression that "Imperial" was intended to cover the entire British and Colonial forces. If such is the case, it would appear that the writer of the article in question has been drawing to some extent upon his imagination.

Taking the official figures for the total enrollment as 8,500,000 and the Indian contribution at the low figures of 1,000,000, which would be equal to approximately 11 2/3 per cent. of the total enrollment, that would leave 88 1/3 per cent. to be made up of English and Welsh, Scotch, Irish, Canadian, Australian, New Zealand, South African and various other colonial troops, so that I fall to see how the claim of 90 per cent. English can be made good.

Taking the British Isles alone, according to the figures of the 1911 census, the proportions, according to population would be as follows:—

England and Wales, including Isle of Man and Channel Islands, 73.84 per cent.

Scotland, 10.56 per cent.

Ireland, 9.66 per cent.

I think official figures will show that enlistments for England and Scotland are proportionately equal, while unfortunately Ireland is behind in her percentage. Having no official data, let us presume that Ireland only provided half her quota and that England alone made up the deficiency, which would make up her quota to say 85 per cent. of the home enlistments; that is still short of the 90 per cent. claimed in the article cited, and of the 2,250,000 (or thereabouts) Dominion, Colonial and Indian troops surely it cannot be claimed that over 30 per cent. are English or of English birth, which would reduce the percentage of the whole to less than 70 per cent., or say seven men out of every ten instead of nine out of ten as claimed.

This is not written with the idea of belittling England's efforts, but with the desire to give each his due.

"FAIR PLAY."

THE CLOSING OF CHURCHES.

To the Editor.—The present distress prevents the Ministerial Association of Victoria from assembly and expressing officially its regrets at the closing of the churches to public worship and its sympathy with the various congregations in this so serious a depression. Members of the Association here asked me as President to make some statement of their feelings, and while I cannot make an official declaration, I shall deem it a great favor if you will allow me, sir, through your columns to say a few things which are suggested by our inability to meet together as ministers and congregations.

I cannot but feel that the cessation of congregational worship seriously risks a loss to the community in respect to that hope and courage, and that realization of spiritual power which, however, they may exist in individuals become intensified by the public assembly in the Divine Name. A recent letter from Archbishop Du Vertet on the co-operation of religious forces with medical science suggests in a forceful and timely way what a service religion may render in such a time of sickness as this. But where the opportunity of public worship is denied us, as it sometimes is to each of us in ordinary times by reason of private necessity, the advantage contained in it need not be lost to us wholly.

It is for us as Christians to see that the reality of our fellowship with each other in the Body of Christ is not only not lost sight of in these days of distress, but rather perceived more clearly and definitely as an all-important part of our privilege. As illness often brings us to a sense of the blessing of health, so our present privation may lead us to a deeper sense of what the Brotherhood of the Church means and how in it all the individual gifts and comforts become strengthened as they find their significance in mutual service, of which our public worship is as it were the sacramental sign. In the liturgical Churches the Collect, Epistle and Gospel form a tangible token of the bond between worshippers whether together or apart, while their relation to the Lord's Supper, or Holy Communion suggests the very Bond Himself, the Lord Christ, our ever-present Master.

But in whatever portion of the Universal Church we may be let us on these Sundays set our minds on the teaching of our Lord in the symbol of the Vine and branches in St. John 15. Let us by prayer and meditation on this and kindred truths of the Divine Word make for the Spirit of Life a clear way in our own bodies and spirits and so in the bodies and spirits of others. Then shall the voice of health be in our dwellings. Let the accustomed times of public worship be set apart by all as times of family or private waiting upon God as circumstances permit. Above all let us keep our trust in God firm and clear. The bright shining of Christian faith is made the more evident by the storm clouds of trouble: in affliction and distress its conquering power is always the more manifest. Let us exercise all due and reasonable care for the health of ourselves and others, but above all let us find in God our unfailing source of life, physical, mental, spiritual, of cheerfulness and courage, of inspiration to mutual helpfulness. In His strength nothing shall make us afraid.

Out of these "Sundays" of closed churches we may find for ourselves a deeper significance in worship, a fuller participation in the Divine Life, and a clearer view of the wonderful place in our physical life of the spiritual powers which are the foundation of our human nature and are discoverable in Christ. So that while the present conditions are grievous to the ministers and pastors as well as to the congregations, we may believe that in this as in so many of the hard things of life God has some good thing for us which otherwise we might have missed or have had less perfectly.

Thanking you, sir, for the courtesy of your columns.

ROBT. CONNELL

St. Saviour's Rectory, Oct. 26, 1918.

The cabby was brought before the magistrate for using violent language to a lady.

"But she ain't no lady," he protested, fiercely.

"Indeed!" quoth His Worship. "And do you know a lady when you see one?"

"Of course I do!" indignantly answered the man. "Why, only the other day I saw one: she gave me a pound note for a shillin' fare and walked away. 'I, mum, I calls, 'what about yer change?' 'Don't be a blinkin' old fool!' sez she; 'keep it, and git drunk enough to kiss yer mother-in-law.'"

"Now, Yer Worship," he ended, triumphantly, "that's what I calls a real lady."

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

WHAT IT SHOULD BE.

By M. Albert Thomas (the Famous Socialist Statesman) in The London Chronicle.

Many months ago President Wilson launched upon the world his magic formula: "Society of Nations." As a matter of fact, he was not the father of it, "Suam cuique." It was a Frenchman, M. Leon Bourgeois, who, during The Hague Conference, crystallized in these words the notion of an international law tribunal.

For months past, by adopting this formula of a League or Society of Nations, the Entente Governments have affirmed their desire to substitute for force in the arrangement of disputes a method of settlement without violence on principles of equity. Though some have made certain reserves, there does not appear to be any real divergence on this point amongst the Allied States. Moreover, the enemy leaders themselves—Herren Burian, von Payer and von Hertling—speak of the Society of Nations and of disarmament, imagining, even that, they since President Wilson launched his famous formula, we cannot say that much progress has been made.

The President of the great American Republic has not given us a detailed scheme. The Committee which M. Ribot set up in France, and which was presided over by M. Bourgeois, has accomplished, it is said, an admirable work. For a long time M. Clemenceau left it in his pigeon-hole, but now it has been communicated, under pledge of great secrecy, to the Allied Governments.

What is a Society of Nations?

But ordinary mortals do not know exactly what the gods of the diplomatic Olympus mean by the Society of Nations; they say only conjecture. Yet they argue hotly about it. Some say we must have the Society of Nations at once, others declare that we must wait awhile. Some, again, argue that we cannot have a Society of Nations amongst nations unless they offer mutual safeguards. If for certain nations the most solemn engagements are but "scraps of paper," how can it be possible (with them) to abide by solemn and arbitrations which they will not carry out? Can I form a society with thieves or assassins?

On the other hand, another group says: If the Society of Nations can only be formed between the Entente nations—democratic nations offering every guarantee—will not another society of nations form itself in direct opposition?

Thus, can we not imagine the Central Ocean constellation confronted by the Middle Europe constellation? In such circumstances, would not our desire to establish a little just and regularity in the world simply end in perpetuating on the largest scale the most frightful of conflicts?

It is time for the most responsible and competent men to draw up proper rules and bring this cruel uncertainty to an end. And yet, do we need the solemn opinion of competent men to know which direction to take? It is the duty of statesmen to decide policy, but public opinion can at least indicate the direction of that policy.

Now what is wanted? It is a question of establishing amongst all the nations a society, the members of which undertake to observe the rules. We need not determine whether, because of sentiment or because of our passions or even personal feelings, such a nation should be admitted into the society. The nations which unite they may be all the nations of the earth—will do so by self-interest by necessity, and because they have no other way of escape from the horrors of war.

And then with a view to avoid these horrors they will impose on themselves a certain number of rules. Individuals have recognized that in order to exist in communities—and communal life was necessary in face of the natural forces arrayed against man—they must establish rules. They recognized that in order to escape from the domination of force and brutality they would have to accept the acts of a superior authority. Nevertheless, those who are law-breakers and those capable of becoming thieves and assassins live side by side with us in the national society. They live there in the certainty that if they are known to commit misdemeanors, they will be punished for them. This certainty, doubtless, prevents them in some cases from committing them. It is an essential condition to our social life.

Necessity of a Society.

It should be so in a Society of Nations. Even in the midst of the horrors of the present war the nations have realized that they must establish a society amongst themselves. We will be constrained thereto, as much by economic and material needs as by a desire to avoid new catastrophes. But no society will be possible without a certain number of rules accepted by all. And then the question becomes simple. It is no mere matter of accepting this or that nation or of deciding whether the Society is to be closed or open. It will be open to all the nations who accept the rules and offer guarantees for their observance.

What rules? In the first place, there comes, naturally, the engagement to respect the right of peoples to dispose of themselves, and, secondly, the engagement to have recourse, in the regulation of future conflicts, only to juridical remedies, to courts of arbitration and conciliation boards. The employment of force should be exclusively reserved to the Society of Nations itself, as the supreme authority in the case where one of the associated States resisted its decisions. Finally, the nations must be able to give valid undertakings.

Is the Kaiser Eligible?

There has been much discussion as to whether the Hohenzollerns are eligible for the Society of Nations. At first President Wilson was very categorical on the subject. He excluded the Hohenzollerns from his international republic. It seemed to me that the sentence was peremptory, and President Wilson was not able to abide by it. The guarantee that must be required of a people is that it shall itself decide for peace or war, and that public opinion, supported by democratic institutions, shall determine the nation's fate. Perhaps it is true that no Hohenzollern would ac-

"Whatever is the Matter, Jack, You Don't Look Well!"

"Oh, I'm all right."

"But you're not. You look so worried and tired."

"Well, I haven't been sleeping very well lately."

"No, and you don't seem to have any appetite. I think you ought to take something to tone up your system."

"Oh, no, I don't need any medicine. I guess I will soon be all right."

"But you should not neglect yourself, for that is just the way I was before I had nervous prostration, and you know what a long time I was laid up."

"Well, I haven't any time to be laid up, that's a sure thing."

"I know what I am going to do. I am going to buy half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and see that you take it regularly."

"You know, Jack, that nothing seemed to help me like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I am sure it will be just as good for you."

"You will take it, won't you?"

"I'll do most anything to get feeling better, for I know I have been losing my grip on business lately."

"I get up feeling tired in the mornings, and have to drive myself to do the work that used to be a pleasure for me. I have got in the way of putting off matters that need attention, and hate to meet people when I know that some energy will be required to discuss business deals with them."

"You'll take the Nerve Food, won't you?"

"Oh, I'll let you be the doctor, and if the Nerve Food builds me up like it did you I'll soon get back my old-time vigor and be able to make things hum. I have been rather discouraged lately, but I can see now that the trouble is in the condition of my nervous system. So you get the Nerve Food and we'll see what it will do."

cept either the control of armaments or the regular vote of popular representation on a question of peace or war or the mechanism of democratic control. It may be necessary for the Hohenzollerns to disappear that Germany may enter the Society of Nations.

But this is not the way to formulate the first condition, especially by men who wish to respect the internal organization of each nation. The democratic conditions of membership of the Society should be impersonal, so to speak. But it is also necessary that once the conditions are fulfilled every nation should enter into the common society.

Allies' Clear Duty.

Bearing in mind these considerations, it is easy to see what ought to be the action of the Allies. They must found at once amongst themselves their Society of Nations. They have lingered too long. They must establish not only unity of command but unity of policy. They must enunciate the common principles of government and action which unite them. They must solidly and resolutely defend the organizations by which they maintain material life or national defence. Again, they must create at once amongst themselves the rules of arbitration to which they agree to submit.

Their Society thus formed, the Allies shall not say to the enemy peoples: "You are unworthy to come in." Instead, they will say: "Here are the regulations by which we are bound ourselves. Submit to them and you may come with us." Thus the enemy peoples will awaken to all the crimes committed by their Governments. Thus will they understand that it is only by conforming to justice that their Governments become worthy of governing them. Thus they will understand that the Entente nations do not wish to exterminate them or reduce them to impotence and weakness, but that they wish simply to protect themselves against the abuse of force and violence. Thus will they comprehend the full value of life under a democracy. Thus will the Entente perfect the victories of its heroic soldiers by victories of public opinion and of diplomacy.

The associations which in England, America and France have been established to spread abroad the idea of a Society of Nations ought to expedite their labors. They should find the common factor in their programmes. By firm and united resolutions they should hasten the work of Governments.

To substitute justice and order for force and new treaties founded on right for traditional treaties requiring all the efforts of all right-thinking men. We enlist their good offices everywhere.

SALVING SUNKEN CARGOES

Experts employed by the British Government have already been at work devising schemes for salvaging cargoes from sunken vessels round the coasts of the United Kingdom, France and Belgium when the war is over.

Many thousands of tons of foodstuffs in hermetically-sealed vessels are likely to be reclaimed with comparatively little difficulty. Tinned meats, preserved fruits and concentrated foodstuffs in vast quantities will assuredly be saved. The British authorities have not been so remiss in anticipating the salvage of sunken cargoes as the public may imagine. Many commodities of an edible nature have been encased in tallow or white lead to withstand the action of the water. Most of the tea which has been arriving in this country for some time has been doubly secured against the action of salt water by means of double lead casings.—Tit-Bits.

BRITAIN'S GARDENS HAVE DONE YEOMAN SERVICE FOR CAUSE

Defied the U-Boat and Saved
Enormous Amount of Tonnage

MORE THAN A MILLION
ALLOTMENTS TAKEN UP

"Know Your Ally" Tells a Remarkable Story
About It

Citizens of this country who left the Old Land for the freedom and boundless opportunities of the West know only too well that the food producing areas of the British Isles under cultivation prior to the early days of the war were of a very limited kind. There existed no particular reason in the now long ago days of peace why England, Scotland, Ireland or Wales should entertain any serious thought that a day was at hand when Great Britain would require to feed herself. So long as the British navy patrolled the seven seas and rumbled over the sunburnt and rippling waters of the Indian Ocean, 1914 there was every reason to believe that after all the argument of armament reduction would hold and bear fruit—the idea of "the tight little island" becoming self-sustaining occupied very little attention.

When the Need Came.
The crash came, however, and changed many long cherished ideas. Starvation of Britain still seemed a very long way off, and even the announcement of an unrestricted submarine campaign failed to strike anything like terror into the hearts of British people in the Old Land, although statistics illustrated her dependence for a full larder resting upon her ability to maintain trans-Atlantic traffic. And this traffic, needed by the circumstances of war to be increased rather than decreased. The rest of the story had seen to be realized and the summer in which the people of Great Britain converted all neglected and unproductive land into real larder filling gardens is well told in that little pamphlet published by the British Ministry of Propaganda, under the title of "Know Your Ally," for distribution in the United States.

Arable Acres Increased.
In spite of the exceptional difficulties created by the shortage of labor, Great Britain, the brochure sets out to say, has increased her arable area by 2,142,000 acres since the outbreak of war. This area is divided as follows: Wheat, 123,000 acres, or an increase of thirty-nine per cent.; barley, 158,000 acres, or an increase of eleven per cent.; oats, 735,000 acres, or an increase of thirty-five per cent.; potatoes, 217,000 acres, or an increase of fifty per cent. Three thousand Government owned tractors are at work on 611,000 acres of land. One million acres are worked by steam ploughs under the jurisdiction of the Government. Cheese making schools have been set up in thirty-three counties. Special efforts are also being made to increase the supply of sea-food; in this connection the compiler points out that the transference of a single trawler from the fishing industry to the mine-sweeping service means 250 tons of fish lost annually to the country, or an aggregate of over 1,000,000 tons lost per annum.

Agricultural Science.
Magnificent tribute is paid by "Know Your Ally" to British agricultural scientists and their service is described as yeoman. A Russian wheat which resists rust but yields a miserably poor crop has been married to a British wheat with a high yield which now repels the rust; the result is forty-two bushels per acre, or, with pushing, seventy-two bushels. There is also every prospect of their producing in the near future a potato immune from blight or wart. And as an example of conservation plans in order to preserve all available fruit, six million bottles have been distributed this year.

Work in Mesopotamia.
New production in behalf of Britain's cause is not confined to the British Isles alone. In Mesopotamia British soldiers have reclaimed and put under cultivation behind their lines over 1,100 square miles of land; this means a saving of over 2,000,000 tons of shipping to the Allies. Britain's grain crop this year is the biggest since 1888. The army of harvesters employed included wounded soldiers, collage boys and girls, boy scouts, Belgian and Serbian refugees, and city workers spent their vacations in the work. Three hundred thousand women are also employed on the land. The foregoing is the work of the Government and the pamphlet she goes on to relate the part played by the people themselves.

The Amateur Gardener.
Over 1,000,000 new allotments have been put under cultivation, mostly by people who have already done a long day's work in a munition factory, at the office desk, or on other duties. It should be noted here that the ordinary Midland Counties allotment—where the system first came into vogue as a result of the great needle makers' strike in the Redditch locality back in the seventies—averages a half to one acre of land for which an annual nominal rental is paid.

How Mercantile Marine Helped.
Since the mercantile marine has played such an enormous part in the matter of Great Britain's food supply, both for civilian and military populations, her work is worthy of mention in this article. As the writer of the pamphlet says, when the time comes to write the final history of the war for future generations, few, if any, of the stories of bravery will surpass or even approach the story of the British mercantile marine. "Away from the glamour of the battlefield, lacking the atmosphere of the regular navy with its glorious traditions—going about their hazardous and often monotonous daily duties in a matter-of-fact manner," says "Know Your Ally," "this branch has added 12,000 men to the list of those who have made the supreme sacrifice. On no single occasion since the declaration of war have the officers or a crew of a British merchant ship refused to sail at the appointed time; not even when the enemy, without warning and against all human instincts, attacked unarmed ships, did they refuse or even hesitate to embark."

Loss of Tonnage.
At the outbreak of the war the British mercantile marine possessed 18,750,000 tonnage, manned by 200,000 officers and men; the estimated losses to date amount to 2,750,000 tons. On the British merchant fleet has fallen the great task of feeding not only the Allied British nations, but the great majority of the people of Belgium, France, Italy and Serbia. In the month of April, 1917, the enemy sunk 555,055 tons of British shipping without sparing the spirit of the seamen; by April, 1918, this total had been reduced to 225,087 and by June of this year it had fallen to 161,062 tons.

Replacement.
Under the heading "Replacing the Losses," the pamphlet sets out the fact that from September, 1916, to April, 1917, the tonnage completed in British shipyards amounted to $3,721. In June, 1918, these same yards produced 134,153 tons. The total saving of tonnage for 1918 is estimated at 2,000,000 tons, about three-quarters of which has been effected by increased production of corn and potatoes in England and Wales.

PROBABLE ADVANCE IN COAL NEXT MONTH

Expectation That Increase of Miners' Wages Will Affect
Price to Consumers

Following the successful negotiations with the miners of Vancouver Island and the coal operators on the subject of the demands for increased wages, J. D. Balger, Dominion Fair Wage Officer, and Nicol Thompson, British Columbia Adviser to the Fuel Controller, have returned to Vancouver. Negotiations were going on for about a month, and an adjustment has been made whereby the miners will be given an increase in wages of seventy-five cents a day instead of $1 a day, which they demanded on account of the increased cost of living. The increase decided on was not based on any official cost of living figures, but was a flat increase with a provision also that the Department of Labor will appoint a cost of living commission to adjust wages according to the increase or decrease in the cost every three months. The commission will make its first adjustment in January, and each quarter thereafter. The change in wages on account of such adjustment will be effective next February and every three months. The object of having a month elapse between the adjustment and the payment of the changed wage scale is to give the Fuel Department time to make changes in fuel prices in accordance with the cost of production and to advise the public of the coming changes.

At a previous meeting of the coal operators and the grievance committee of the miners it was decided to make the increase effective on October 24, but at Thursday's meeting, which was attended by representatives of the Canadian Collieries, Western Fuel Company and the Nanossee Collieries, and miners' representatives from Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Cumberland, together with F. E. Green, M. P., and J. C. McIntosh, M. P., it was pointed out that this would not give the Fuel Controller time to adjust prices according to the increase. Therefore, the new wages will become effective November 1.

GOOD ADVICE.

He was a young lawyer, and the judge thought he would give him a chance. So he instructed: "Go ahead, Mr. Smith, tell the Court the result of your talk," instructed the judge. "Well, your honor, I heard his story," answered the lawyer, "and I saw at once that he had no chance at all. If ever a man is guilty, that man is. He acknowledged every point." "Well, bring in the prisoner," said the judge. "Bring in the prisoner!" echoed the

HOW IT EFFECTS A BASIC INDUSTRY

The Victory Loan Necessary to Maintain the Livestock Market

HOW THIS WAS HELPED BY LAST YEAR'S LOAN

(By W. G. Cates.)

The Victory Loan of 1917 put millions of dollars into the pockets of the Canadian producers of live-stock. It is proposed to apply for the benefit of the industry, a considerable portion of the proceeds of the 1918 Loan. The assistance furnished will bear a direct proportion to the funds thus made available.

In this connection no better opinion can be quoted than that of Sir Thomas White, who has said: "The Victory Loan maintained the live-stock market. The Government has urged farmers to raise hogs. It is therefore vitally important that the entire bacon product should be sold at a good price. Last year's surplus of pork and beef, valued at $100,000,000, was purchased outright for the British Government. Canadian bacon enjoys a great vogue in the Old Country, and the loss of the British market would be a serious matter to this industry. There was a danger last year of our having to export hogs on the hoof, instead of packing the bacon in Canada. This was averted by the Liberty Loan."

Surplus Live-Stock Products.

Canada has a surplus of animal exports, which for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1918, amounted to $142,245,193, of which the cattle, mutton and pork products amounted to practically $100,000,000. Through some years of careful education on the part of federal and provincial departments of agriculture, together with the co-operation of a large portion of the public, this export trade has been carefully built up, and has come to be considered as one of the most important and profitable departments of Canadian agriculture. Indeed, it is no secret that in the opinion of many of the best of our agricultural experts, the future of agriculture in Canada will depend very largely on the development of the live-stock industry and its various branches.

A few years ago conditions in this department were gloomy. Then the question of terms of payment arose. Great Britain was willing to take all of these surplus products, but the war having lasted much longer than had been expected, has rendered it impossible for her to make payments in cash. Consequently, the exports could be continued only on condition that Canada extended credit for their value. This, in turn, meant that the Dominion Government would have to advance the money, which was done this year. The Victory Loan made it possible.

There are several reasons why this policy must be respected. In response to urgent appeals from both the other Allied Governments and our own Government, the farmers of the Dominion launched a huge "Greater Production" campaign. This included live-stock, quite as much as grain production. All will remember the campaign for the raising of more hogs conducted energetically in all the provinces, which had the effect of inducing the farmers to co-operate with excellent results. Many more pigs have been raised than Canada requires to meet the demands of her home consumption, and these represent a large sum of money. The market for this is in Great Britain. On this point Hon. T. A. Crerim in a recent statement to the Canadian farmers urging them to be careful in preparing their pork and beef for the British market said: "Practically all our bacon surplus and a very large portion of our surplus of beef must find its outlet in Great Britain." Great Britain wants our surplus, but can buy only on a credit basis, which means that this year the Canadian Government must advance well on to $100,000,000 to finance our overseas export trade in beef and pork products.

If Advances Were Discontinued.

Think for a moment what would happen if this were not done. As Sir Thomas White has pointed out, the market, through want of this support, would go to pieces, and prices would slump, carrying with it a loss in millions of dollars to the farmers of Canada.

Not to do this would be most unfair to the men who have done their best to meet the demands for "Greater Production," and who, in doing so, risked large sums of money. The country owes it to them to see that their splendid response to a patriotic appeal is well supported.

It is true that the surplus hogs would be exported to the United States; but, as the Minister of Finance has said, this is a danger that must be provided against. Canadian hogs must be converted into Canadian ham and bacon. The market for Canadian bacon and beef products, which has been built up through much labor and expense must be kept, and the Victory Loan will help make this possible.

Proof of Progress.

National considerations make it imperative that the progress made in recent years by the Canadian live-stock industry should be held. On this matter the national policy must be what we have held. Consider for a moment the advance that has been made during the last four years, as shown by the following figures:

|                              | 1913         | 1917-18.      |
|------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Total animal exports         | $29,704,128 | $142,245,193 |
| Cattle and cattle products   | 2,406,052    | 27,565,817    |
| Sheep and sheep products     | 397,644      | 9,064,543     |
| Swine and hog products       | 5,764,409    | 63,134,475    |
| Poultry and poultry products | 156,452      | 3,675,960     |
| Dairy products               | 20,979,371   | 38,834,398    |
|                              | $59,408,256 | $284,510,386 |

In other words, Canada's exports of live stock and live stock products have increased by 470 per cent. during the period extending from 1913-14 to 1917-18. Can Canada, through failure to supply financial support through advances, afford to place this huge business in jeopardy? Certainly not. It is to the farmers' interests particularly, and that of the country in general, to see that the money is forthcoming.

The most authoritative opinion in Canada is pretty well agreed that the future prosperity of Canadian agriculture is dependent upon the livestock industry.

After the war is over, Russia, India and the Argentine will be very formidable competitors of this country in the field of grain production. Indeed, considering the distance that our great grain areas are from tide-water, it is a debatable question whether Canadian grain growers will be able to hold their own in open competition with these growers on the world's markets. Depend upon it, competition will be very keen, and Russia has no gone to pieces during the war that her people will be compelled to make desperate efforts to make good the loss. Undoubtedly their lower level of substance, which implies cheap labor, will enable them to market their grain at lower prices than Western Canada can meet in the British market.

But in livestock production the situation is very different. In this field Canada has an assured place in the British market and will keep it, if the financial assistance to support exports is forthcoming. The 1917 Victory Loan made this possible during the present year, and the 1918 Loan will make it possible next year if it is fully taken up. Canada must stand by agriculture, and standing by agriculture means standing by the Victory Loan.

Y. M. C. A. PREPARING FOR THE RE-OPENING

Waiting for Lifting of Ban; Activities Planned in All Departments

"Are you preparing for some daring circus stunt?" The question was put to Physical Director Thompson in an interview at the local Y. M. C. A. building—for, calmly balanced on top of a ladder, his form was seen in free attire close against the ceiling of the large gymnasium. "Just putting all our apparatus into first-class shape" was the explanation. Below, a table covered with tools was in front of one of the many chest-weight machines. "The heaviest man in the city can try his skill in the limit, and we're ready for all comers," was the instructor's smiling comment, as improvements to the wall equipment were pointed out, ready for the instant the "gym" doors open for the regular boys' and men's classes, and hearty laughs and healthy sounds from enthusiastic gymnasts break the present stillness that shrouds the building.

For the Y. M. C. A. is also hard hit by the "fur" ban—and not the least hurt, judging from facial expressions, is the young tank fiend. "Can't I have a swim?" pleaded one importunate member; "I'm willing to pay for it." But the entrance to the white tiled swimming pool is barred until the ban is lifted.

Boys' Programme. Activity was also manifest in the Boys' Department, where the interval is being used to make the popular centre all the more attractive for its many boy members. "From the ground up" seems to describe the improvements contemplated in the boys' social room, for while the room was being engaged in oiling the floor, rumors were floated of some additions to the games and room decorations, and even a "cozy corner" was suggested if conditions permit.

Great disappointment was expressed at the enforced cancellation of the Provincial Boys' Conference, for that was the big event set to start the boys' programme for the year, for lining up leaders and drawing their wide attention to the urgency and opportunities for co-operative work among Victoria's teen-age boys.

A healthy boy's imagination will be kindled by this new Canadian movement for Canadian boys, with its plan for all-round education and development, and Victoria boys will not be behind their brothers throughout the Dominion in qualifying for the new crests and silk badges.

Additional Facilities. The office staff were enthusiastic about the additional facilities to render more and better service to the community, and especially to visiting sailors and soldiers, members and others who use the spacious lobby, of the new social building. New writing desks will afford greater ease and comfort for the continuous stream of letter-writers who, away from home, find this opportunity and privilege a veritable boon. New games tables have also been ordered, and more accommodation is planned for patrons of the popular lunch counter. With the variety of newspapers and magazines, available, library and reference books at hand, the boys in khaki and blue, Y. M. C. A. members and friends, find free and unreserved facilities "to read, to write and to play" amid bright, homelike surroundings and a cheery atmosphere of helpfulness and good fellowship. A piano, a gramophone with a supply of well-chosen records, and two open fireplaces add to the unique attractions the local Y. M. C. A. offers to citizens and all comers.

Re-Decoration Work. Electrical connections to every dormitory room are being tested out, and besides other improvements and conveniences, the excellent effects of the recent extensive re-decorating work are everywhere evident.

Altogether it was easy to see that although the "Fu" has temporarily stopped some of the indoor efforts of the association, the officials are not downhearted or discouraged, but are preparing for bigger and better things when the gymnasium and swimming-pool are again open, thronged once more by young and old who seek to cultivate health and strength, disease-resisting forces, and to derive most benefit from the many opportunities and advantages afforded by the Victoria Young Men's Christian Association.

"CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE."

The Earl of Stair, who returned some time ago from captivity in Germany, made a witty impromptu reply.

It was his ancestor, the first Earl, who was mainly responsible for the massacre of Glencoe, and in revenge an old Highland woman talled down a fearful curse on his house, prophesying that the future holders of the title would die childless. In fact, the second, third, fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth earls did die without issue. A superstitious woman asked the present Lord Stair if this were true.

"Quite true," he answered.

"And so you attribute it to the 'Curse of Glencoe'?"

"Possibly," was the guarded reply.

"Though as regards the third and sixth earls, at all events, there was

I Have Given My All!

What Will You Give?

This is what many a Victoria mother could say at the present time. The father and bread-winner, it may be—or one, two, or three sons—in some cases, all the male members of a family—are sleeping the sleep that knows no waking beneath the battle-scarred sod of France.

Let the place of these brave Victoria wives and mothers sink into your soul. You are equal to equal such great sacrifice, but you can at least buy

FURTHER RECOVERY IN NEW YORK MARKET

Steels and Rails Follow Strong Specialty Market

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)

New York, Oct. 25.—The recovery which was begun yesterday in some of the more active specialties was continued to-day with Mexican Petroleum gaining another ten points. The buying power also spread pretty well over the entire list to-day, with rails and steels showing substantial gains.

GERMAN COMMENTS ON WILSON'S NOTE

With Few Exceptions Teuton Papers Condemn American Reply to Berlin

Copenhagen, Oct. 25.—With few exceptions the German newspapers condemn President Wilson's latest note, saying it is an alteration of his former standpoint and betrays a lack of comprehension of recent events in Germany as well as misconception of what had happened there.

Theodor Wolff, writing in The Tageblatt of Berlin, expresses great disappointment. He says it always has been a principle of international affairs not to interfere with the internal problems of other nations, and President Wilson recognized this, he continues, in his Mexican speech in 1916, but now, Wolff declares, this has been forgotten. He adds: "The peace which the President proposes is to be a peace placing Germany at the mercy of her opponents."

The Socialist newspaper Vorwarts, of Berlin, says it does not understand whether complete internal reform on the part of Germany would make the terms of surrender easier. It continues: "In any event Mr. Wilson errs if he believes that the former holders of power in Germany can ever regain their power. Henceforth there will be no power in Germany but that of the German people. Our opponents who demand the dismantling of the German people must realize that a great nation cannot permanently be rendered defenceless. It will be demonstrated at the peace conference whether the war has been merely adjourned or finally ended."

Toward Peace. Amsterdam, Oct. 25.—Although the German newspapers are not satisfied with President Wilson's latest note, many of them say that it means progress towards peace. This feeling was reflected in operations yesterday on the Berlin Stock Exchange in an advance of prices.

NEW LIBERTY FOR OPPRESSED RACES

Mid-European Union Declares at Philadelphia Yoke of Hapsburgs Must Be Lifted

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—With all its aims clearly defined, the conference of the democratic Mid-European union, which had been going on in Independence Hall here, came to an end last night to-day a new liberty was proclaimed here for these small oppressed nations, whose delegates declare that there must be an absolute freedom for all the races therein.

That nothing short of an independence plebiscite can be accepted for the new states was a statement made yesterday by Professor Masaryk, president of the Council, who said there must be a vital minority representation, one that must be granted unrestricted rights. A discussion of boundaries caused some discord among the delegates yesterday and led to heated arguments and the threat of a Jugo-Slav delegate to withdraw from the conference, after he had torn to shreds a small map showing the location of each nation's territory.

FEELING IN GERMANY NOW MUCH DIVIDED

Berne, Oct. 25.—(Via London, Oct. 25).—The feeling in Germany in regard to President Wilson's new note apparently is much divided. The Conservative, military and Junker papers on the one side are crying that the President intends to subjugate and annihilate Germany. The Liberal papers, on the other side, express appreciation of the President's effort toward world-wide pacification. The reactionary elements are struggling desperately for their traditional privileges, but their opponents express confidence that the Liberals in the Reichstag and the Government are sufficiently strong to master them. The vote of confidence in the Reichstag is regarded as favorable to the conclusion of peace.

INFLUENZA AT BUTTE.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 25.—The deaths from influenza here yesterday totalled thirty-three, the largest number since the epidemic began, nearly three weeks ago. Eighty-eight new cases were reported.

TURKEY SAID TO HAVE MADE AN OFFER WHICH REALLY IS SURRENDER

London, Oct. 25.—The Turkish Minister to Switzerland has handed the British and French Ministers to that country an offer of peace virtually amounting to surrender, according to a Berne dispatch to The Daily Mail.

Paris, Oct. 25.—In well-informed circles here it is stated that the nomination of Count Julius Andrássy as successor to Baron Burian, the Austrian Foreign Minister, is above all important from the viewpoint of a conclusion of peace and an application of the "safety first" principle in Austria. It is said that peace at any price is now popular at Vienna and Budapest. The Zurich correspondent of The Journal says that the new Foreign Minister is understood to be a partisan of direct peace negotiations with the Entente without recourse to the offices of President Wilson. The correspondent says that the situation in Austria-Hungary is such that the monarchy will soon capitulate and throw itself on the mercy of the Allies. The Czechs are now masters of the situation at Prague. The Slovaks have decided to change the name of Prešburg to Wilno. The Ruthenians of Galicia have decided on a separate Ukrainian state, comprising the regions of Austria-Hungary inhabited by Ruthenians. It is reported that anarchy reigns in the ancient Danubian monarchy of Hungary. The correspondent says that in Austria no notice is being taken of decisions arrived at by Berlin.

GERMAN NEWSPAPERS NOW ARE OPENLY DISCUSSING ABDICATION OF WILHELM

London, Oct. 25.—German newspapers are discussing openly the question whether the abdication of Wilhelm Hohenzollern, the German ruler, is necessary to obtain peace for Germany. A Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph says the view held in Germany is that President Wilson does not demand the ruler's abdication but would rest satisfied with democratic development of German political institutions. The Frankfurt Zeitung says the monarch is confronted with the greatest difficulties in making a personal decision whether Germany shall surrender or negotiate. It expresses the hope that he will make "a speedy and clever decision."

With the British Army in France and Flanders, Oct. 25.—(By The Associated Press)—British patrols late to-day were operating in the Le Quesnoy region, while British infantry units had reached the high ground north of Marcinelle and were attacking the German positions there. To-day's advance greatly increased the menace to the Germans holding Valenciennes, which is rapidly being bottled up. If a line were drawn through the positions now held by General Horne's army on the north and General Byng's forces on the south, it would pass well to the east of Valenciennes. Should the British continue their forward pressure as during the last three days, the enemy will be forced to evacuate Valenciennes.

LIBERATED FRENCH ACCLAIM CANADIANS

Smiles and Cheers Are the Lot of Currie's Men These Days

With the Canadian Forces, Oct. 25.—Via London, Oct. 25.—(By J. F. B. Livesey, Canadian Press Correspondent)—To traverse the area recaptured by the Canadian army is to surrender oneself to tender emotions. Everywhere there are smiles and cries of love for "Les Braves Canadiens."

Children climb upon the cars, regardless of danger, clapping their hands and scattering flowers. Hardly was the Hun out of sight when, as if by magic, from some treasured stores, there broke out the tri-color, that glorious emblem of liberty. The country here is flat, making an ideal field for manoeuvring all arms unobstructed by wire or shell holes. It is virgin in its beauty and strikes home to the heart. It is well worth our toil to have saved this to France. The chief features of the landscape are vast slag piles, marking the entrances to the mine shafts. They are termed fosses and some of these have afforded strongholds to the foe, but our motor machine gunners have made excellent use of their opportunities, often catching him unawares from the rear. Many villages are brand new, bright with gay colored brick. These are the miners' communities, such as are common enough around Lens, but here not one tile is out of place. Only within is beauty and wanton ruin and filth by which the track of the Hun can be followed. The peasants are now habituated to war and do not realize its dangers. Thus can one account for the temerity with which they carry on their self-imposed labor of love in supplying our outposts with warm coffee.

CAPTAIN BERNIER SUFFERED POISONING

Montreal, Oct. 25.—Captain Joseph Bernier, the famous Canadian explorer, came near meeting death by poisoning on a recent trip to the Labrador coast. He fell ill while on the Canadian Government steamer Rouville and partook of some tar syrup, growing very ill shortly afterwards. He was taken ashore for medical attention and Dr. Lapointe, who attended him, stated that the explorer was suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—Canada will return to the usual time at 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. All the clocks are then to be put back sixty minutes.

Washington, Oct. 25.—At 2 o'clock to-morrow morning the United States will complete its test of daylight saving. At that hour the clocks of the naval observatory here—and other agencies by which time is regulated in this country will be stopped for one hour while the sun, which daily has been lagging further behind the nation's clocks, has a chance to catch up. At the same time the trains on all the railroads of the country will stop by order of Director-General McAdoo and remain motionless for one hour, and then proceed on their journeys.

NOISE AND COLOR
TOUSHER IN THE DRIVE FOR DOLLARS

City Will Be Awakened to Responsibilities in Rousing Manner

APPEAL BY MUSIC AND POSTER TO BE FEATURE

With banners flying, whistles blowing and, in spite of the ravages of the "flu," on Monday Victoria will launch forth into the greatest financial task she has ever undertaken. The epidemic has prevented the collection of crowds, but there are no regulations, the publicity officials point out, to prevent the use of noise and color to advertise the Victory Loan. The publicity programme, therefore, altered to meet the requirements of the health authorities, and naturally much condensed, will be concentrated upon posters, music and demonstrations which will not result in the congregation of crowds.

Walls Tell Story.
Full arrangements are complete for the publicity campaign. Not have the streets beset plastered with posters by the unceasing work and vigilance of Joe North, but to-day sees many of the street corners decorated with sign boards bearing suitable pictures, and phrases.

To Start With Noise.
At nine o'clock Monday morning, at the time when the attack is scheduled to go over the top, the Fifth Regiment Band will parade the streets in Cameron & Calwell's big tallyho. This, according to Ernest J. Down, Chairman of the Publicity Committee, "will serve to wake the town up to the fact that it is in for the biggest financial drive."

At ten o'clock the band will take up its position at returned soldiers' victory dug-out at the corner of Fort and Government Streets. The dug-out will then be formally opened in a manner calculated to startle the city into a deep realization of its responsibilities.

Guns Will Fire Salvo.
At ten o'clock also the guns at Signal Hill will help to start the drive on its way with a salvo, and the whistles of the factories and mills all over the city are asked to join in a prolonged chorus, intermingled with the strains of automobile sirens, and horns.

By that time also the city will be hung with banners, and it is expected many of the local merchants will have their windows decorated in Victory fashion.

The poppy badges, talismans of ultimate victory and pledge of Victoria's vow to keep faith with those who lie in Flanders fields, will also be ready for distribution on Monday. Ten thousand of the badges will be distributed to the citizens and will be worn during the drive.

The Value of Stickers.
A large quantity of stickers, similar in design to the poppy badge, have also been issued, and will be distributed to all asking for them. Reels of these attractive little stamps now at headquarters will be used in various ways.

Lights Not Burning.—For driving an automobile on Sunday night on Quadra Street with only one light burning, E. R. Lemmon was fined $10 by Magistrate Jay in the Saanich Police Court yesterday. Chief of Saanich Police Dryden had seen accused and a summons had followed.

Quota For District.—It is stated on the authority of H. R. Wingate White, Hon. Secretary of the Shawanigan and Cobble Hill District of the Victory Loan, that the Honor Flag quota of the district is $16,000.

Our Climate Breeds
Throat Weakness

Few Escape Colds, Bronchitis and Throat Soreness.

New Methods Make the Cure Simple, Quick, and Inexpensive.

Statistics prove that ninety-seven per cent of Canadians suffer from catarrh, and that this disease is most dangerous owing to its tendency to extend to the bronchial tubes and lungs, causing consumption.

So inadequate has the use of sprays, douches, and snuffs proved in the treatment of catarrh that these methods have not been in use by the regular physicians during the last decade. It was not until the discovery of Catarrhone, the medicated air treatment, that the profession could be persuaded to treat this disease locally.

Catarrhone treatment founded upon the knowledge that air, and dry air only can enter the bronchial tubes and lungs, at once commended itself to all scientific and medical men.

They found in Catarrhone a new germicide of sufficient power to kill the bacilli of catarrh, bronchitis, and asthma, and violent enough to impregnate every particle of air breathed by the patient, yet leaving it free from moisture, thus enabling the cure to reach every part of the passages in the head and throat, and to penetrate the minutest air cells in the lungs.

SPANISH
RAGES IN CANADA

Thousands of Cases Reported With Many Deaths

THOSE WHO ARE MOST SUSCEPTIBLE TO IT

"FRUIT-A-TIVES"—The Wonderful Fruit Medicine—Gives the Power To Resist This Disease.

The epidemic of Spanish Influenza which played such havoc in Europe, has reached this continent. Thousands of cases of the strange malady have appeared and many deaths are already reported. Surgeon-General Blue, of the United States Public Health Service having stated that "Spanish Influenza will probably spread all over the country in six weeks."

Practically every ship which touches our shores from abroad, brings those infected with the disease. Surgeon-General Blue urges that "the individual take all the precautions he can against contracting the disease by care and personal hygiene. Plenty of exercise should be taken; the diet should be regulated, etc.

Spanish Influenza affects most severely elderly persons and others whose powers of resistance are weakened by illness, work or worry, especially those who are "run-down" or "not feeling up to the mark."

The really great danger from the disease is not so much in the disease itself, as that it often develops into pneumonia.

What everyone needs now is a general tonic like "Fruit-a-tives." This wonderful fruit medicine is not a germ-killer. It is a body-builder; a strength-maker; a blood-purifier; a power in protecting against the ravages of disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" regulates the kidneys and bowels, causing these organs to eliminate waste regularly and naturally as nature intended. "Fruit-a-tives" keeps the skin active, and purifies and enriches the blood. "Fruit-a-tives" tones up and strengthens the organs of digestion, insuring food being properly digested and assimilated.

Everyone can take ordinary precautions, avoid crowded places, and use "Fruit-a-tives" regularly to insure sound digestion, to keep the bowels and kidneys regular and the whole system in the best possible condition. Then we are safe from disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by dealers everywhere at 50c. a box of 12, 50c. trial size 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

PREMIERS WILL MEET
ON OCTOBER 19 NEXT

Mr. Oliver and Mr. Pattullo Will Attend for This Province

It had been the original intention of Sir Robert Borden to call the Convention of Provincial Premiers in accordance with the suggestion of the Premier of British Columbia for Friday, November 15, but on account of the Victory Loan Campaign intervening it has been decided to postpone this important event until Tuesday, November 19. The following wire addressed to Mr. Oliver was received at his office in the Parliament Buildings at noon to-day:

"On account of Federal Loan campaign it is thought inadvisable to call the proposed conference of Provincial Premiers before Tuesday, November 19, and it has been summoned for that date. We trust that this slight postponement will not occasion any inconvenience. In view of several important subjects requiring consideration, we have decided to summon the date above mentioned and formal notice goes out to-day.

Broad Policy Wanted.
It will be recalled that Premier Oliver wired to Sir Robert Borden on September 27 last suggesting to the Prime Minister that such a conference should be called in order that a broad Canadian policy might be formulated directed towards an effective settlement in connection with the demobilization of Canada's army.

Mr. Oliver has always maintained that the whole question requires the closest possible uniformity of procedure as between the various Provinces and the Dominion, and to this end the conference is now called. Questions which will be discussed will deal very largely with the development of natural resources, more especially in view of the problem allied with general demobilization and the absorption of the soldier into civilian calling once again.

Mr. Pattullo Gone East.
Not unconnected with the conference is the trip of the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, who left for Ottawa on this afternoon's boat. While important matters of a Departmental nature and affecting the future development of the lands of the Province are-making the Minister eastwards, he intends to gather a good deal of preliminary information in connection with his branch of the Provincial administration which may have connection with the subjects to be dealt with by the conference. Mr. Pattullo will meet Mr. Oliver in Ottawa, and discuss with him the result of any investigations that may be found necessary to make.

STUDY THIS "SAFETY-FIRST" SPACE EVERY WEEK
WORKMEN'S
Safety-First Suggestions

SAVE YOURSELF and OTHERS by Accident Prevention
IT'S YOUR DUTY to Keep in Good Physical Condition

ACCIDENT PREVENTION
Is One Purpose of Workman's
Compensation Legislation

ACCIDENT prevention is desirable from an economic as well as from a humanitarian viewpoint. The prevention of accident depends mainly upon the care exercised by the employees as a whole. Therefore every industry having any kind of mechanical equipment should have its Safety Committee. In plants employing six to a dozen men, one person to look after the safety conditions is sufficient; in plants employing from twelve to thirty men, a committee of two will get good results; while a committee of three or more should be appointed for larger establishments.

Their work in this regard need not interfere with their regular duties, but having been given authority to look after the safety of the plant there are but few men so appointed who will fail to keep a watchful eye on the movements of the other men and make such recommendation to the management as will be to the interest of the employees as well as to the employer. It will not take long before such a committee will get every workman interested in precautionary measures and thereby avoid many of the common and easily preventable accidents. Wherever it has been tried it has resulted in a general study and application of safety devices and safety reforms that have saved many accidents and thereby suffering and expense.

It should be the duty of this Safety Committee to exercise surveillance over the workmen and machinery in the plant and carefully consider and devise means whereby safety conditions may be improved from time to time. This Committee should at stated periods report its findings and recommendations to the management.

When an inspector under the jurisdiction of the Workmen's Compensation Board visits the plant he will confer with the Safety Committee as well as with the management, with a view to closer co-operation and a more general understanding of the necessity of safety measures. The Board hopes that with the active co-operation of the employers and the employees, there will early become evident success in accident prevention.

KEEP YOUR HANDS OFF
Machinery You Don't Know. It
Has Many Dangers

DON'T FOOL around running machinery. Don't take your mind off any dangerous move you make. Don't oil a machine while it is running, unless you are dead certain there is no danger. Don't wear loose or torn clothing when working around machinery. Don't neglect to wear glasses if your eyes are in danger. Don't interfere with other workmen while they are operating machinery. Don't try to operate a machine that you are not familiar with. Don't reach over a saw to take material from behind it. Don't try to remove sawdust or slivers from beneath a saw while it is running. Don't wear a four-in-hand necktie and allow it to hang loose while working around a machine. Don't play pranks or scuffle with a fellow workman. Don't attempt to throw a running belt on a pulley by hand. Don't attempt to make repairs around a machine while it is running. Don't try to operate a machine that is known to be defective. It takes less time to prevent an accident than to report one. Success in preventing accidents makes a better showing in an employee's efficiency record than the highest degree of neatness and accuracy in reporting accidents. Accidents are made by the man who takes chances. Careful and safe workmen are the ones who understand that running risks and taking chances are sure to entail disastrous consequences. It is easy to blame others; easy to excuse yourself. The fellow who does things right has to make very few explanations. No employee can live unto himself alone. To move forward each one must contribute his mite in accident prevention. Many a good workman gets short-circuited by taking too many chances. Efficient Safety work demands the best that is IN your head. Safety education is the best means of helping others and at the same time helping yourself. Ignorance builds a barrier to progress. Let each employee appoint himself a committee of one.

Time was when some merchants vied with each other in extravagance of statement in their ads. The wise merchants of today vie with each other in the ACCURACY of their statements about goods and values. Nowadays deliberate misrepresentation in advertising would surely and quickly kill any store indulging in it.

WAR VETERANS ARE NOW INCORPORATED BY LEGAL FORMULA

G. W. V. A. Will Now Get Off to a Fresh Start, and Results

THE CANADA GAZETTE MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

When the Victoria delegates to the annual convention of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada returned home from Toronto some two months ago their report told the local Association that the Dominion Government had resolutely refused to grant the parent body a charter excepting under the Companies' Act. Letters patent, under the Companies' Act, have now been issued under the seal of the Secretary of State for Canada, bearing date October 9, 1918, incorporating Willard Parker Purney, of the City of Halifax, in the Province of Nova Scotia, barrister-at-law; William Hendrie, of the City of Hamilton, in the Province of Ontario, contractor; Richard Douglas Ponton, of the Town of Belleville, in the Province of Ontario, barrister-at-law; Holly Huddell, of the City of St. John, in the Province of New Brunswick, salesman; and Alexander Mackenzie Forbes, of the City of Montreal, in the Province of Quebec, surgeon, for the undernoted purposes:

- Aims and Objects.
- To perpetuate the close and kind ties of mutual service in the Great War, the recollections and association of that experience, and to maintain proper standards of dignity and honor between all returned soldiers;
  - To preserve the memory and records of those who suffered and died for the nation; to see to the erection of monuments to their valor; the provision of suitable burial places, and the establishment of an annual memorial day;
  - To ensure that proper provision is made for the due care of the sick, wounded and disabled among those who have served; including reasonable pensions, employment of such as are capable, soldiers' homes, medical care and equitable provision for dependent families of enlisted men;
  - To constantly inculcate loyalty to Canada and the Empire and unstinted service in their interests;
  - To guard carefully the good name, interest and standing of our comrades still overseas, and to which they should be entitled upon their return;
  - To impress upon its members that they are to continue in their service to Canada as citizens, the same spirit of sacrifice and loyalty which they have shown to Canada and the Empire as soldiers, and to remain as members of the association, non-sectarian and non-partisan;
  - To establish, maintain and operate clubs, club-rooms, hospitals, employment and information bureaus, industrial and other schools and institutions, libraries and establishments for the benefit, promotion and advancement generally of the interests of soldiers, and to furnish, stock and equip the same in such a manner as the association may determine;
  - To establish, organize and regulate provincial and local bodies of Commands and Branches in convenient centres throughout Canada;
  - To take, hold and acquire any real or personal property to be held, if desired, by a provincial command or by a local branch, the name of trustee or others upon such trusts and conditions and subject to such rights and liabilities as are hereinafter more particularly set forth;
  - To acquire, take over and assume the property, rights, assets and liabilities of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada, an unincorporated association heretofore having its chief place of business at the City of Ottawa, in the Province of Ontario.

The operations of the corporation to be carried on without share capital throughout the Dominion of Canada and elsewhere by the name of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada, and the chief office of the said corporation to be at the City of Ottawa, in the Province of Ontario.

Just What Was Wanted.
Lack of a charter or other instrument limiting the liability of the rank and file membership has been the subject of many discussions at the various branch meetings of the organization and the placing of the national body on a business footing will doubtless have much to do with increasing membership. When Colonel Purney was in the city during the early part of the week he spoke very hopefully of the future of the Association, and fully anticipated a steady increase in numbers.

The One Body.
He predicted that the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada would be the premier organization in this Dominion and would represent the returned men as a whole. He deprecated the birth or subsidiary organizations for the simple reason that it would spell disaster in appeals to the Government of the country were any divided action to be resorted to.

NO REAL GAS SAYS SERGEANT OF BOND BOOSTING VETERANS

Strong for Realism in Victory Bond Drive, but Concedes Another Point

TELLS HOW GAS ALARM SOUNDED AT THE FRONT

"We are still going ahead with our trenches and dugouts, ready for Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Then there will be no slackening until Victoria has signed up its quota of Victory Bonds," said Sgt. R. M. King, who under the direction of Major Jukes is organizing returned soldiers to help Victoria go over the top in the bond selling campaign. "Everybody knows now we are going to have real trench warfare on the corner of Fort Street and Government Street. I am a man of few words, but I thought I would ask you to let the people know what we are doing, because when our company for the manufacture of antidotes for German poisons opens for business, there's going to be some noise. With the firing bombs, band and gas signals, if warning isn't given somebody's going to get shell shocked."

Gas Signals.
"The gas signals," he commented in answer to a question. "Yes, that is new, but that isn't our special idea. Well, I'll tell you about it. In France when the Hunns start sending over gas the advance men—that is men in the front line—hang on a shell case, hung up for a gong, an iron triangle, biscuit can, or anything that makes a lot of noise, and carries a long way. The men behind on gas guard take up the noise in the same way, from the first line to the second, and so on way back miles behind the firing line. Anyone near anything that makes a noise blings on it. Everybody knows then when gas is coming over, and everybody is going to know when and where our company opens for business. Now a little real gas," said the Sergeant reflectively, apparently considering the introduction of a little more of the realism he is so fond of, "but no!" he decided emphatically, "its the remembrance of the agonies and tortures in which they have seen some of their comrades die in when surprised by Hun gas that is making some of the veterans go in for raising this Victory Bond with such enthusiasm. They feel every Victory Bond purchaser they successfully buttonhole is a step towards repaying Hints for some of the atrocities they have seen him commit. This is the only chance a returned disabled man has of getting back at Fritz, and when he uses his persuasive eloquence to good effect and causes someone to plant down a deposit on a Victory Bond, if he used to be a sniper he goes so with something like the same feeling he used to add on another to the total."

Couldn't Bet On It.
"Now," said the Sergeant, "I can't make a bet because that is a thing a soldier never does. Rules and Orders—that's the soldier's bible. I might tell you—is dead against it, but if I wasn't in khaki I'd like to gamble that anyone who will listen to a few facts from the men I am having in their trenches will show their appreciation of the worth of the boys who have come back and those who will never come back, and prove they are right behind the boys in France. The way they can do that is to feel their "wads," or write a cheque for a first deposit on the Bond which is going to force that unconditional surrender."

"As I told you before, I am not much of a talker," said the energetic Bond champion, "but here is something written on the matter by Corp. Dave Miller. Dave was out prospecting in the backwards when war broke out, but as soon as the party arrived in Victoria and found out about it, they all signed up. He's been wounded twice and has been back I guess about two years, and is still on crutches. He tells me the next operation which he expects when he has finished helping us out here, though, will make his fourteenth time he has been under an anaesthetic."

The Corporal's Views.
In his remarks on the Victory Bond the Corporal says: "We want the citizens of Victoria to try and realize the difficulties of trench life and bring home to them what their sons have to undergo on the battlefields. There are many reasons why we ask support in the big drive. We want peace at no price, until Prussian militarism is beaten for all time. Therefore we want money to continue a just war, to bring supplies to our chums at the front to carry on—carrying on as our lads are doing means victory, and victory means the dark cloud of war which has enveloped the whole world, will be dispelled by the sunshine of peace and victory, the returning of our sisters and brothers, the reunion of saddened families and the joy of feeling they have been so ably supported by their home ties."

"Every Bond bought means an earlier termination of the war, a earlier return of your loved one, a earlier production of Canadian material to meet the world's demands. Every Bond purchased helps to place Vancouver Island in as high a productive sphere as it is possible to be. We feel confident of the full aid of the people of Victoria to make the Bond selling contest a success."

Don't overlook the fact that the money you invest in Victory Bonds goes immediately into circulation. All the ships built in Victoria were built with Government money. The Canadian Government needs all the money it can secure to carry on this gigantic war programme. Won't you help?
