Delegate Borden Is In Washington to Speak for Canada

Making Preparations For Opening of World Conference On Limitation of Armaments This Week; Party Was Welcomed On Arrival.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Sir Robert Borden, delegate of Canada, is here and is making preparations for the conference on limitation of armaments. The official headquarters of the Canadian delegation are at the Franklin Square Hotel, which is not far from the Hotel Lafayette, where the members of the Canadian party are residing.

Full official honors were accorded when the Canadian party arrived here: Included in the party were Sir Robert Borden, the delegate, Lady Borden and Loring C. Christie, legal adviser of the Department of External Affairs at Ottawa.

The Canadian contingent arrived at the same time as the British Admiralty party, headed by Lord Lee of Fareham, and the India Office representation headed by Srinivasa Sastri.

At the union station to meet the visitors were Secretary of the Navy Denby, Robert W. Bliss, for the Secretary of State; Admiral Coultis, Brig.-Gen. A. W. Brewster and other representatives of the State, Army and Navy branches. Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, was present to welcome the Empire delegates, accompanied by Major-General H. K. Bethel, military attache; Capt. S. R. Bailey, naval attache, and Commander H. A. Brown.

For the next few days Sir Robert and the members of his party will be engaged, apart from certain official calls and formalities, in preparation for the work of the conference.

On Armistice Day Sir Robert will attend the exercises to be held at Arlington in honor of the U. S. Unknown Warrior, when he will lay a wreath on the bier in the name of the Government of Canada.

PROPOSE FORMATION OF CEMETERY BOARD

Council to Be Asked to Take Definite Action

The City Council will be asked by its Cemetery Committee to-morrow to make some definite arrangement for the commencement of work on a new cemetery. The Council decided last Monday to go ahead with the cemetery scheme, and let it go at that. No one was instructed to anything. As a result, there has been no progress on the scheme since.

Alderman Dewar's Cemetery Committee, however, decided to do what it could to get the scheme under way. Members of the committee last week inspected several pieces of land which could be used as sites for a cemetery. "We have seen several excellent sites in Saanich," Alderman Dewar stated Saturday, "but while we shall make recommendations to the Council Monday, we shall not recommend any particular site."

Would Form Board. The first step which the city must take in its cemetery plans will be the formation of a board with legislative powers. A bill to that effect was passed at the last session of the Provincial Legislature. Unless this board is formed to carry out the cemetery scheme, no work can be done.

The board when it is established the City Council would have to submit a cemetery by-law to the voters before it can spend money on the project. Some Aldermen think it is unadvisable to favor the submission of a by-law anyway, but it is generally conceded that such a measure would be flatter selected.

TWO MEN HELD IN VANCOUVER

Following Killing of Mrs. May Young

Man in Hospital Made Rambling Statements

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—Thomas Balmantyne, proprietor of the Bodega Hotel, and C. W. Williams, an engineer, were taken into custody and are held without bail in connection with the fatal double shooting at the Strathcona Hotel Friday morning last when Mrs. Mary Young was killed and L. T. Dillon seriously injured. The men held because of certain rambling statements made by Dillon in hospital.

Dillon, for whose recovery some slight hopes are now held, asked for a cigarette. Later he mumbled in reply to a question some words to the effect that several persons had been drinking in the room and that "they all knew him."

Since that time no information has been given by the wounded man, whose condition, however, is said to be improving. His attendant on one occasion turned around to find the wounded man sitting up in bed. Now, in order that he may not re-open his wound, special care is being exercised.

MR. KING WILL SPEAK IN OTTAWA

Liberal Leader to Start Tour to Coast To-night

Crerar Was Heard by Ottawa Audience

Premier Meighen Spoke in Lachute, Quebec

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal Leader, is to address two meetings in this city this evening and will leave immediately afterward for Sudbury, where he is due to make an address on Tuesday, the first of a series covering points of interest in the West.

Mr. King expresses himself as well pleased with results of his two-weeks' speaking tour of Ontario.

To Withdraw. Revelstoke, Nov. 7.—Announcement of the withdrawal from the campaign of Dr. J. H. Hamilton, the Liberal candidate in West Kootenay, is anticipated. He is to make a definite statement on Tuesday night.

MEIGHEN WILL VISIT MOOSE JAW

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—According to present arrangements Premier Meighen will not go farther west than Moose Jaw on his western tour. A dispatch from Nelson stated information had reached there to the effect that the Government would prevent Mr. Meighen continuing through to the Pacific coast as he had planned. Today Senator Calder, who has the Western arrangements in hand, stated Mr. Meighen did not at present expect to go beyond Moose Jaw.

Week-end campaign speeches were delivered by Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal Leader, in Toronto, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Leader of the National Progressives, in Ottawa, and Premier Meighen in Lachute, Quebec.

Mr. King. In Ottawa Mr. King denounced the administration of the Canadian National Railways as the "worst in the history of any country," and declared that the Government was being carried on for the last sixteen months by "an autocrat in the interest of his party and according to the will of the invisible interests by which he is surrounded."

"We are out fighting the battle of the common people against privilege and power," he said, "and we are fighting the battle of the common people against the autocrat in the interest of his party and according to the will of the invisible interests by which he is surrounded."

Not Consulted. "Did you" asked Mr. King, "or any of you have anything directly or indirectly to do with giving Mr. Meighen the right to carry on the Government during the last sixteen months? The Government stands condemned in its own eyes and we are going to the country on its record."

Dealing with the railway situation, Mr. King stated the Government's answer to questions in Parliament regarding the directors and their methods was the monotonous and uninformative "We have no information."

Investigation. He said that it had been found that $140,000,000 in money had been paid out.

HAPSBURGS ON WAY TO MADEIRA

Being Carried to Island by British Cruiser

They and Children Will Live in Funchal

Budapest, Nov. 7.—Charles and Mrs. Hapsburg, last reported to be at Galatz, Roumania, awaiting the British cruiser Cardiff to carry them to exile on the island of Madeira, were believed to-day to have passed out of the Danube into the Black Sea on their way to the Bosphorus.

The National Assembly of Hungary as a special session yesterday enacted into law a bill deposing Charles Hapsburg and ousting the entire Hapsburg dynasty.

Charles and Mrs. Hapsburg and their children to Funchal, Madeira Island, where they will take up their residence. Their home hereafter will probably be in the wing of an enormous building in Funchal which was intended as a sanatorium when it was constructed some years ago by a group of German financiers. The building never was finished because of a disagreement between the Portuguese Government and the Germans and the place has been without occupants.

Amnesty. Budapest, Nov. 6.—Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian Regent, has issued a decree granting amnesty to all participants in the recent legitimist movement against the Government except the leaders.

McGeer, ex-M.P.P., British Columbia's counsel in the railway rates case who has been appearing before the Railway Commission on the prairies, received a telegram offering him the Liberal nomination in the Federal riding of Cariboo. Mr. McGeer would not say whether he would accept, but stated he was considering the matter.

Disarmament Subject Of Religious Addresses

Silence will reign throughout the world for two minutes at eleven o'clock next Friday morning when all church celebrants will kneel in prayer for a continuance of peace and success for the advocates of disarmament in the world conference at Washington, which will open appropriately on Armistice Day.

While some of the city churches will concentrate their devotions in this connection on the special Friday services, the subject was very ably dealt with yesterday here in two of the largest places of worship.

London, Nov. 7.—In conformity with the appeal of the Archbishop of Canterbury, prayers were offered yesterday in all the Anglican churches throughout Great Britain imploring divine blessings on the Washington conference for limitation of armaments. The same procedure was followed in the nonconformist churches. Cardinal Bourne's appeal for the same purpose also was effective in the English Roman Catholic churches.

In all the Jewish synagogues special prayers will be offered next Saturday for the success of the conference.

Even Iman Mustapha Khan, religious head of the Moslem community in England, whose mosque is in Woking, Surrey, will pray to the Almighty in next Friday's sermon to guide the counsellors of the nations represented at Washington.

It was stated, but no one will be admitted after that hour during the solemn night preceding the interment at Arlington.

MINE NEGOTIATIONS IN SOUTH AFRICA

Employment of More Native Labor Proposed

Threat of Strike by the White Workers

Johannesburg, South Africa, Nov. 6.—Threat of a general strike in the Rand gold fields, one of the richest mining districts of the Transvaal, if the Government puts into force its proposals providing for a slight increase in the percentage of native labor employed, was made yesterday during the negotiations between representatives of the Government and the white miners. The miners' secretary, Mr. Hendricks, told Premier Smuts that the white miners would leave the province within forty-eight hours after the gazetting of the proposals.

Premier Smuts, after pointing out that the present prosperity of the industry was due entirely to the existing premium on gold, declared that the mines should be more thoroughly exploited, and that he was convinced the plan would in the end bring about an increase in the employment of white labor.

It is understood another conference will be next week.

Fiscal Arrangements Are Under Consideration

London, Nov. 7.—Further discussion of the plans discussed by the Government and the Sinn Fein for settlement of the Irish problem was on the programme of Premier Lloyd George and Sir James Craig at the resumption of their consultations to-day.

The plans under consideration have to do with the question of fiscal autonomy proposed for the two legislatures in Ireland.

The Ulster Premier was summoned to meet some of his colleagues, including Lord Londonderry, raised as the most influential Ulsterite in English political circles, who is to arrive Wednesday.

The Sinn Fein does not believe that a renewal of the conference with its delegation can take place before Wednesday.

R. L. RICHARDSON DIED IN WINNIPEG

Founded Winnipeg Tribune; Sat in Parliament

Winnipeg, Nov. 7.—Robert Lorne Richardson, member for Springfield in the late Parliament of Canada and founder of The Winnipeg Tribune, died at his home here yesterday afternoon after a long illness, aged sixty-one.

Mr. Richardson's death has been momentarily expected for about six weeks. He was first taken seriously ill last Christmas with heart trouble, from which he has suffered for many years, and has been in hospital since last May he recovered sufficiently to travel to his summer home at Kenora, Ontario, where he suffered a relapse in August.

Robert Lorne Richardson, founder of The Winnipeg Tribune in association with D. McIntyre, was born on June 28, 1860, near Perth, Ontario, a son of Joseph and Harriet (Thompson) Richardson, whose parents resided in Ontario at the close of the Wellington-Napoleon war in 1812. His grandfather fought under Nelson at Trafalgar.

He was a reporter on the staff of The Montreal Star and later on The Toronto Globe. He was city editor of The Winnipeg Sun under T. H. Frooton from 1892 until 1897. Certain interests having purchased The Sun, in less than two months The Tribune was founded, and he took control of the editorial department. D. L. McIntyre assuming the responsibilities of the business end.

An occasional magazine contribution and correspondent for Reuters for over a quarter of a century, he also gratified a bent for setting forth some facts in history in two stories, "Culls of the Ninth Concession" and "The Camerons of Bruce."

In 1898, when the Liberals with Sir Wilfrid Laurier at their head battled for a fair majority, Mr. Richardson, after a year or two in the Commons, began to cool towards his former political friends. He went the length of personally communicating with the Premier on the seriousness of asking pledged members of Parliament to follow the Government in what he described as Mr. Richardson, after a year or two in the Commons, began to cool towards his former political friends. Briand Arrives in States to Attend World Conference

Head of French Government Tells American People His Nation Is Ready to Join In All Endeavors to Make War Impossible.

New York, Nov. 7.—Aristide Briand, Premier of France and head of the French delegation to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments, landed here to-day from the steamship Lafayette.

He was accompanied by former Premier Rene Viviani, a companion of Marshal Joffre during his visit here in 1917, and Albert Sarraut, French Senator and Minister of the Colonies.

Ceremony was dispensed with so the delegation might reach Washington as early as possible and take up the work of becoming thoroughly established there before the opening of the disarmament conference Friday.

France is ready to join in every endeavor to avert new wars, "provided she has nothing to fear for her own security, which remains one of the most solid guarantees of the peace of the world," said Premier Briand in a message to the American people on his arrival.

"Our countries only endeavor to lead the men and people of good will to peaceful and fruitful work to reduce more and more the risks of war," the Premier declared. "To-day the world must be made such a place of safety and rest, wants not only soothing words but realities."

Welcomed. A crowd gave the Premier and his party a rousing welcome as they stepped ashore from the steamship "On setting foot on the soil of the great American Republic," said the Premier's message, "my first thought goes back to those who generously came to mingle their blood with that of the soldiers of France, back to those fighters whom the United States sent over to us as the most precious thing they had, back to those magnificent high-souled youths with heroic hearts who fell for right and for liberty with a smile, to the land that has so often and so bravely defended the families France now sends me as a near relative. I am coming to assure them that the recollection of those heroes is deeply graven in the heart of every Frenchman."

Sacrifice. "For centuries France has been the ground of the great struggles for civilization. The last war has shown that she is able to uphold her ideal to the utmost limit of sacrifice. She knows in particular what she owes to the fraternal devotion to the mightiest help which American brought her. The two countries are henceforth united in the same glory. They feel that this very union provides the best guarantee for the peace of the world and that the most earnest mankind can not but profit by their close and intimate co-operation."

"The Statute that at the entrance of New York raises high above the harbor her towers and spires and its replicas in Paris on the banks of the Seine. Identical, born of the same hands, almost of the same mold, these two edifices stand side by side, thousands of miles from each other, point out the close relationship which exists between the two peoples, the aspirations they have in common, the likeness of their roles, their equal love of justice, their similar will in the path of progress."

Peace. "If as Prime Minister of the French Republic I did not restate, in spite of present difficulties, to my country, it would be first, because I wanted to bring over here the tribute of my gratitude and at the same time to show that the foremost thought of every Frenchman is peace. We know too well, alas, what war means and the toll it takes, not to swear by the peace of the world and so soon as President Harding sent out his noble call, my country answered 'present.' And here I am to demonstrate the earnest good will of France—by every means—in my power."

"I earnestly trust that the Washington meeting will give us an opportunity in this respect to France and America, yesterday united on the battlefields, will thus continue to play their beneficent part in deriving from their common victory such results as will comfort with the idealism that has ever animated them."

Free Hand. Premier Briand, who said he would reserve formal comment on the conference until he had seen President Harding, comes with the purpose of assisting during the first twelve days of the conference in determining the principles upon which subsequent details and results will rest. The French Senate and the Chamber of Deputies gave him a free hand. He will enter the conference with general policies clear in his own mind and in the minds of other members of the delegation. These include:

First—The French Government's obligations to the League of Nations do not preclude France from joining other powers inside or outside the League to settle other questions that the League considers as within its jurisdiction.

Second—French policy is identical with that of the United States towards equal commercial opportunities in China.

Navies. Third—The restriction of sea armaments offers no difficulties peculiar to France. Her navy is already below any formula likely to be adopted.

Fourth—French interests concentrate upon land armaments. Their strength is conditioned by Germany and the payment or non-payment of reparations. German reparations and the payment of non-payment of reparations.

EDWIN W. FIELD, Milwaukee, Wis.

"I'm convinced if I had taken Tanlac two years ago, when my troubles first began, I would have been spared a world of suffering," said Ed. W. Field, 538 Jefferson St., Milwaukee, Wis.

"My case proved that when a man's stomach goes wrong, everything else goes wrong with him. The first thing I noticed out of the way was loss of appetite and next, that no matter how sparingly I ate, I was sure to have an attack of indigestion. This was two years ago and from that time on, until after I started on Tanlac, I kept going down hill at a steady rate. I finally got so I couldn't walk a couple of blocks without having to stop and rest, and I was so nervous that often I sat up in a chair all night long.

"Tanlac has made a new man out of me. My stomach is as sound as a dollar and I feel fine all the time. I am a firm believer in Tanlac because I know it delivers the goods. Tanlac is sold in Victoria by The Owl Drug Co. and other druggists everywhere. (Adv't.)

VICTORIA AS EMPIRE CONFERENCE CITY

New Zealand Prime Minister Gives Views

Wellington, N. Z., Nov. 5.—The Prime Minister of New Zealand favors holding of Imperial Conferences in Canada—if not in Ottawa then in Victoria, or Vancouver. Speaking of the necessity of British Ministers seeing the Overseas Dominions frequently he pointed out that it was impossible for them to leave their posts in London for long and impossible for the New Zealand—or Australian Premiers to be away five months every year or two in order to attend what has now become a sort of Cabinet or Inner Council of the Empire.

"In years to come the conference should meet in the Dominions," he told Parliament. "A start should be made with Canada as the senior Dominion and the one with the largest population. It might meet in Ottawa, but for my own part I would prefer the West Coast, say in the city of Victoria or Vancouver. Think what would mean to the Premiers from the Southern Hemisphere. The New Zealand and Australian representatives could arrive in British Columbia sixteen or eighteen days, the British representatives within twelve days or thereabouts and South Africa's Prime Minister within a week or two more. It would mean that we could go to Canada and be back again in three months instead of five or six as at present. That would make all the difference."

In Australasia.

"Later the conference should meet in New Zealand and in Australia. Think of what that would mean to us educationally. And think also of the education it would give—students from Downing Street who have not yet seen the Dominions. I have often been struck with the immense knowledge of those men in Downing Street regarding the Empire but after all there is nothing like a personal visit."

The Premier said the man in England who was most familiar with the Dominions and their ways was the King. He seemed to know everything that was going on and took the deepest interest in it.

Samoa.

As trustee under the League of Nations for Samoa, the New Zealand Parliament has passed a bill giving the island a constitution and generally bringing it under the laws of the Dominion. The act, which was introduced by the Minister of External Affairs, Hon. E. P. Lee, provides a Legislative Council for Samoa, but gives no franchise to the natives nor to the few hundred white planters, British and German, who live there. The difficulty, as the Minister pointed out, was that the natives were as yet unfit for the franchise and the foreign residents in the islands were not qualified. If it were to be a British franchise it would be so restricted as to be meaningless. In consequence most of the political power is left in the hands of an administrator, assisted by a judge and two assessors for the administration of justice.

The German Crown lands are taken over and most of the German estates, which are wealthy ones largely devoted to the production of copra and cocoa. The natives are left their lands undisturbed. Marriage between the Chinese as coolies was strongly discouraged under a form of indentured labor and the Samoan women would have been made an offence under the bill as introduced. The use of Chinese as coolies was strongly discouraged in Parliament by the Labour Party and some of the Liberals.

Liquor.

The Liberals attacked the bill because it prohibited the white community from getting any liquor just as if they were natives, but the Minister said the highest medical authorities were satisfied that alcohol was unnecessary and indeed harmful in the tropics, and that if it were allowed for the whites, the natives would be sure to get it.

The bill went through with the marriage clause eliminated, and the Samoans in future will be regarded as wards of New Zealand, who will report annually to the League of Nations on her trusteeship. The Minister said he hoped New Zealand's administration would be entirely for the natives' good, and he would regard the Government as a failure if that was not brought about.

Empire Affairs.

Premier Massey, speaking at a Parliamentary luncheon given in his honor, said:

"When the King and Empire go to war then every Dominion of the Empire is at war beyond question."

"If any Dominion had any doubts about standing out of a war which involved the Empire," continued Mr. Massey, "the enemy, as we have already seen, would speedily resolve those doubts and sink the ships of the Dominion just as it would really fighting—and if we were beaten it would suffer the same as the rest."

The Prime Minister pointed out that all the Dominions now acted with Britain in the sphere of foreign policy and at the same time maintained their autonomy. Each Parliament was free to deal with money matters as it pleased, always remembering that we were all citizens of one Empire.

On the point whether a Dominion could appoint an Ambassador, Mr. Massey said that Canada had arranged to send a representative direct to Washington, but this representative would not be and could not be an Ambassador. He would be an officer of the British Embassy and would have an office there, but that was all the Dominion could not make a treaty with a foreign power. The Dominions could make commercial agreements but treaties involving possible questions of war could not be made by the King in consultation with his Ministers.

YOUNG GIRL FINDS RELIEF

Wants to Tell Other Girls All About It

Evansville, Ind.—"I am eighteen years old and have been bothered for several months with irregular periods. Every month my back would ache and I always had a cold and felt drowsy and I work in a millinery shop and I went to work every day, but felt terrible. I had a cramp. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and had heard several women talk of it, so mother got me some. This Vegetable Compound is wonderful and it helped me very much, so that during my periods I am not now sick or drowsy. I have told many girls about it and would be glad to help anyone who is troubled with similar ailments.—Stella Linxwiler, 6 Second St., Evansville, Ind.

Some girls lead lives of luxury while others toil for their livelihood, but all are subject to the same physical ailments.—Stella Linxwiler, 6 Second St., Evansville, Ind.

day. It lasted as usual a week, during which time numerous sub-congresses were held. In Dresden, Budapest, many places in the United Kingdom, and in Brazil last April, when for a month the Government allowed the delegates the free use of the Esperanto office, in Czechoslovakia. There are many large Esperanto Associations, the largest of which is the Universal Esperanto Association of which my membership number is 16,215. At Citta, in Siberia, this year there have been two expositions, one festival and three courses with fifty pupils. In Finland the Government subsidizes the Esperanto office, in Czechoslovakia Esperanto is an optional subject in the secondary schools; in Spain, Seattle gives a yearly grant donation to the Esperanto group; in Milan the Mayor is a keen supporter of the movement and 4,000 children have been taught. I, too, have passed an examination in the language. The first official text-book was issued in Czechoslovakia by order of the Minister of Education. In England more than 400 children are learning Esperanto, the largest of which are in the Paris Chamber of Commerce opened four courses in commercial schools. In Seattle, the Boy Scouts can obtain the inter-war badge for proficiency in the language. It is one of the subjects of the Oxford and Cambridge locals. It is taught in Braille, and Pitman's and Gregg's systems of shorthand are done into Esperanto. I could go like this for a long time, but I must stop somewhere. Here is the regular manner in which Esperanto is "retiring into the obscurity of obscurity."

RECORD PRICES PAID FOR STAMPS

France Auctioning Off Duke's Collection-Valued at $6,000,000

Paris, Nov. 7.—The sum of 156,000 francs has been paid for a single postage stamp, a little square of blue paper from Hawaii with a large figure 2, date 1851.

It was only one of the famous collection of the late Duke Ferrari de la Renotiere, which yielded in one day's sale at the Hotel Drouot, the fabulous sum of 1,100,000 francs.

Finest in the World.

The Ferrari collection was conceded the finest in the world. The late duke had inherited a large fortune from his father, an Italian financier, and is said to have spent 200,000 francs annually in buying stamps. Ferrari was of German birth and his collection was confiscated by the French Government at the outset of the war in 1914. It is now being auctioned off at intervals, the proceeds being placed to the credit of the German indemnity bill.

The duke was completely absorbed in his collection. Such was his passion for stamps, it is said, although a confirmed bachelor, he was at one time inclined to advertise for a wife on condition she bring him a one penny Mauritius, 1847. He had willed his collection to the German Government.

The entire collection was valued by experts at from 20,000,000 to 50,000,000 francs. Stamp collectors have come to Paris from the four corners of the globe for the sale.

Highest Recorded Sale.

The lot that drew the highest bid was a pair of stamps from British Guiana—the vertical 2-cent black on pink, dated 1850, and post marked. These went to an Alsatian tobacco dealer for 219,000 francs. This bid for two little bits of tarnished paper on which even the picture was indistinguishable under the post mark, is the highest ever recorded at a public sale.

A set of 2,000 Uruguayan stamps valued at 40,000 francs, brought 111,000 francs. The 2 peace blue indigo of Mauritius was bid 60,000 francs, the 4-cent black on blue from British Guiana, with the letters E. D. W., went to Mr. Casary, the American collector, for 44,500 francs. A number of others brought from 12,000 to 30,000 francs each.

The highest bid for a single stamp heretofore recorded was 99,500 francs for the 2 peace blue indigo Mauritius, bid at a sale here in May, 1920.

ESPERANTO.

To the Editor:—The letter from "Idiot" in the Monday Times remains one of the old saying: "Fools deride; philosophers investigate." "Idiot" has shown himself well qualified to exemplify the first part of the adage, but most of your readers interested in the subject are capable of following the advice in the latter part. The tone of "Idiot's" letter is quite at variance with the spirit of the Esperanto movement or that of its honored founder, whose great desire was to help to provide the different peoples of the world with a simple, neutral help-language, in order that, apart from their Governments, they might come to a better understanding of one another.

If I intended (which I do not) to enter into a discussion with "Idiot," I should have done so in the "Idiot's" column, not in the "Letters" column. I am not doing anything here to assist in spreading the first part of the adage, but I do mention what countries, organizations or societies are using it in their efforts to give the world a common language, and I am not interested in asking "Idiot" to prove his statement that Esperanto is not a language. "Idiot" for his letter shows his ignorance, but to anyone who reads the "Idiot's" column, I can promise to give satisfactory proofs of his inaccuracy. I am usually to be found there from 10 to 12 in the morning and every afternoon but Saturday from 2 to 4, and, indeed, at any other time by appointment. But for the benefit of those who live at a distance, will you accord me a little more space to mention some of the uses to which Esperanto is put?

On Sept. 15, at the League of Nations general sitting, the delegates of thirteen nations decided to write on the order of the day of the next session in 1922 a decision to discuss the instruction of Esperanto in public schools and to commission the general secretary to prepare meanwhile a full and documentary report on the affair. The International Labor Office is using it officially. The Red Cross International Congress (which embraces, I believe, thirty-six nations) held last May, announced that Esperanto had been so useful in the war that it recommended all its branches, especially all its younger members, to learn the language. Esperanto pamphlets are issued for this department. Esperanto International Congresses have been held for years and largely attended. (1) Boulogne, 1905; (2) Geneva, 1906; (3) Cambridge, 1907; (4) Dresden, 1908; (5) Barcelona, 1909; (6) Washington, 1910; (7) Antwerp, 1911; (8) Cracow, 1912; (9) Bern, 1913, some 3,500 people from thirty-four different countries had taken seats for the tenth, which was to have been held in Paris, but the outbreak of the war put it off to 1919. The thirteenth, held at Prague, is just over. "Idiot" cannot have heard of it. Two thousand six hundred people from forty-two countries attended, notwithstanding the difficulties and expense of travelling at the present changes on the tariff. He had also criticized the Laurier Government's administration in the Yukon, and some contract-awarding. In a word, his attitude of independence drove him outside the party rank. Re-elected in 1900 by an increased majority, he was unseated on petition in July, 1901. At the succeeding by-election he was unsuccessful at the polls, though polling a large majority of the English-speaking vote. In the next general election Mr. Richardson unsuccessfully contested Brandon riding with Hon. Clifford Sifton as his opponent. Again in Assiniboia against J. G. Turfitt, and in the Macdonald riding in 1912, he was an unsuccessful candidate, as in the provincial election of 1909, when he opposed Hon. George Lawrence in Killarney. His re-entrance into the Commons was at the general election in 1917, when he was returned for Springfield as a supporter of the Union Government.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH FOR EIGHT YEARS

The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently belched up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom. There is constant reaching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is fickle, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is generally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable.

The blame lies with a sluggish liver, as it holds back the bile which is so necessary to promote the movement of the bowels, and when the bile gets into the blood a badly-disordered condition of the stomach, liver and bowels will surely follow.

Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health.

Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N.S., writes: "I had been a great sufferer for eight years from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several so-called catarrh remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills, which I did, and four days completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old trouble."

FIFTEEN DUKES REMOVED FROM TOMBS

London, Nov. 7.—Judgment day came this week for the magnificent mausoleum at Hamilton Palace, when the bodies of fifteen Dukes of Hamilton were removed to Bent Cemetery. The mausoleum was erected at a cost of £750,000, but has become unsafe owing to coal mining operations. The original idea of an early duke was to build it to last until judgment day, so that the great line of Hamiltons could rise up and march out together.

The bodies of the last two dukes, the father and the grandfather of the Marquess of Graham, were removed to Bent Cemetery, where vaults at Broderick Castle, Isle of Arran, which is a Hamilton possession, had been erected at a cost of £750,000, but has become unsafe.

IMPRACTICAL.

If the average City Council in British Columbia had reached the stage when it might look upon its public business with that air of consolation which comes to the man who has made up his mind to retire from business and enjoy his well-earned competence we could understand the source of Mr. James Ramsay's proposal to end the present status of the School Boards of this Province.

Mr. Ramsay favors what amounts to aldermanic control of the Board of School Trustees. With a body of three he would give the Council the authority to appoint one of its own members to the Board.

Like others who have sought some new light in the management of municipal business Mr. Ramsay has failed to recognize the importance of the School Board. He has wittingly or unwittingly refused to consider its vital relations to the future well being of the Province by reason of the nature of its public charge.

It ought to be recognized that the School Board is a most vital part of the machinery of civic administration. Either the present method must be retained or else the Government should take the management of the whole school system out of the hands of municipal authorities altogether.

COLONEL HARVEY'S GANDOR.

When Colonel George Harvey in his official capacity as Ambassador from the United States to Great Britain says he can conceive of no more effective service on the part of an envoy than to set forth frankly any certainty which may bear upon the immediate future he uses the language which the rank and file of Britain understand and prefer to diplomatic ambiguities and sugar-coated platitudes.

and France who live in America.

Like other enlightened statesmen who are capable of attaching an appropriate value to the lessons of history Colonel Harvey knows full well that every alliance of the last century has constituted nothing less than a military challenge to some other group of nations.

ILL-TIMED.

Although he may possess the authority of the Dail Eireann to conduct his mission in the United States as if the "Irish Republic" were a recognized political entity it is unfortunate that the Rev. Michael O'Flannigan should emphasize his intention to stump the country in behalf of a loan of twenty million dollars for the "Irish Republic" at this juncture.

NOT SERIOUS.

It is right and proper that the Attorney-General of this Province should take such steps as may be necessary from time to time to correct erroneous impressions that may get abroad in respect of conditions produced by the operation of the Liquor Control Act.

MAY COME LATER.

It is a matter for profound regret that Mr. Lloyd George was compelled by the force of circumstances associated with the more recent developments of the Irish question to cancel his passage on the vessel that would have brought him to this side of the Atlantic in time for the initial discussions at Washington this week.

national antipathy to war and all that savors of war will diminish the Empire's contribution towards a successful issue. At the same time it is to be hoped that Mr. Lloyd George will be able to put in an appearance before the conference in many days old.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Marshal Foch says: "Peace—we shall have it soon on the same condition that we got war. We must fight for it in the moral sphere as we did in the physical sphere. Peace has been promised from the first night of Christianity only to men of goodwill."

One of Australia's well-known sporting men has informed the house of representatives that Armageddon is coming in thirteen years. Three nations, Germany, Russia, and another he dared not mention, would combine in an attack of Great Britain.

One section of the Paris press is fearful lest the success of Premier Briand's mission to Washington shall have been diminished because Colonel George Harvey told the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce that neither Great Britain nor France need expect the United States to become a party to a new Alliance composed of these three nations.

POLITICS

Canada's Billboard Premier. Selling Pills and Government. Anti-American Re-Hash. Prepare for Compromise. Puzzling for the Voters. A New Naval Policy?

One can scarcely walk a block in Victoria now without facing a huge picture of Mr. Meighen either busy expounding the doctrines of his Government or escorting a bedraggled lady out of a heavy sea.

The poster of Mr. Meighen leading a somewhat jaded lady, labelled Miss Canada, by the sad sea waves, is adding to the gaiety of electioneering, notes The Ottawa Citizen. Approximately, they seem to be heading for the rocks.

Mr. Meighen's appearance on the billboards of the country should not be made a topic for frivolous comment. The Manitoba Free Press warns Mr. Meighen, in getting himself presented in two styles—one oratorical, the other allegorical—before the eyes of the whole nation, has made a very deep move based on the old maxim that you should not buy a pig in a poke, meaning that you should not buy something which you cannot, either in one way or another, look at with the eyes in your head.

The anti-American cry which Government speakers are raising in the present election fight is just a cold, unappetizing rehash of the campaign cry of 1911. The Toronto Globe concludes after looking over the speeches of Mr. Meighen and his colleagues. The whole campaign, in fact is but a feeble echo of the 1911 campaign.

The Brantford Expositor, while not unfriendly to the Government, appears to agree with The Globe on this point for Sir Edward Kemp, a member of the Meighen Government, drew a stern rebuke from The Expositor when he slighted the Progressive Party.

As there is bound to be a coalition at Ottawa after the election people should not allow themselves to become excited over partisan questions. The Evening of Quebec, urges, "If," it says, "the impulsive and irresponsible partisans continue to throw oil on the fire as they are doing now, the electorate will be more than ever inclined to think, when the hour of compromise arrives, that all politicians are jesters who quarrel among themselves for the fun of the thing, knowing all the time they can always reach an understanding when it comes to division of the spoils."

Mr. Meighen says that the Progressive Party is a dilapidated annex of the Liberal Party. The Toronto Globe points out. But the Conservative Mail and Empire says that the Liberal party is breaking up, and that in the West it has been virtually swallowed up by what it calls the Wood-Crerar Party.

If recent speeches of Premier Massey, of New Zealand, have been reported correctly Premier Meighen, while in attendance in London at the Imperial Conference, committed himself to imposing upon Canada a policy of naval contribution. The Manitoba Free Press discovers.

Mr. Meighen, in taking this momentous decision, knew, of course, that he was throwing overboard what has been regarded as a fixed and settled policy of this country—a policy which has had in turn the approval of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and of Sir Robert Borden, the Free Press asserts.

DISARMAMENT SUBJECT OF RELIGIOUS ADDRESS

"The invitation sent by the President of the United States to the powers to meet in conference to discuss the limitation of armaments, and the eager response thereto have sent a thrill of joyful confidence throughout the world."

"Every effort to promote peace in the world commends the earnest and active sympathy of the followers of the Prince of Peace, and bids them lighten the path thereto and will ease the burden which a foolish and sin-sick world has imposed upon itself."

Through Preparedness—"Peace through preparedness—through the seeking and the unhampered commerce; peace through the self-protecting agencies of finance, a futile dream, smashed to atoms on the battlefields of France and Flanders," Dr. Clay continued.

"Peace, that rests on righteousness, on things spiritual, unseen and eternal is the world's only hope, and thank God men are beginning to turn their thought in that direction. A new force is breaking into the realms of diplomacy and world politics—the force of religion, of righteousness and good will—and men, weary of past failures, are seeking the peace which has the sanction and blessing of the Prince of Peace," said the preacher.

ESQUIMALT LIBERAL AFFAIR A SUCCESS

Large Attendance at Saturday Entertainment

One hundred people attended the big whist-drive given Saturday night by the Esquimalt Liberal Association, the affair constituting one of the biggest social successes ever held in the municipality.

Esquimalt Liberals have decided to keep up the good work, and entertainments will be held every Saturday. After a few brief remarks by G. A. Bray, Liberal organizer in Esquimalt district for Thomas Booth, the candidate for Nanaimo riding, the guests immediately began the game of five hundred.

There were thirty tables and prizes were won as follows: Ladies: 1, Mrs. G. Kemp; 2, Mrs. R. McIntosh. Gentlemen: 1, T. Byles; 2, William Thompson.

The Esquimalt Liberals are very active, and there are over thirty members working hard in the interests of Mr. Booth. All last week the faithful workers were busy reminding friends to get on the voters' list and in other ways assisting in assuring the return of the Liberal candidate.

The ladies have been particularly generous in giving their time and services, and they are taking a keen interest in the election. It has been remarked by many of the speakers that the ladies are determined to see that a next government takes control at Ottawa.

The first edition of the Esquimalt Liberal Echo, issued by the campaign committee for Thomas Booth, will be distributed in Esquimalt to-morrow. The paper will be distributed twice a week, and will serve to keep the electors posted on the latest development in politics as affecting their own particular riding.

Madame Berneron Spoke Here Last Evening

Madame Blanche Berneron, representative of the Child's League of Paris, better known as the "Poppy Lady," arrived in this city on Saturday afternoon in the course of a tour through Canada in aid of that organization, and in connection with the selling of poppies here on Armistice Day.

Madame Berneron will prolong her stay in this city for one week, and return to France by way of the East. She is registered at the Strathcona Hotel.

Addressing the audience at the Sunday band concert at the Capitol Theatre last evening, Madame Berneron told of her work in connection with the women and children in the devastated areas of France and Belgium. While in this city the missionary plans to address the Kumtaks Club and many of the city schools.

The poppies to be sold on Armistice Day were made by the women and children of devastated France, and half the proceeds taken on that day will be devoted to the alleviation of the lots of these, while the remainder will be used in caring for local cases of genuine distress.

Madame Berneron enlisted the sympathies of her hearers in dealing with the work that is being done in France on behalf of the war distressed. Mites and miles of buildings, destroyed in the war, in and around the Ypres sector, are to be replaced by permanent stone structures, to be completed within four to five years, she stated.

"Children's welfare work was well established, stated the speaker, with Madame Millerand, wife of the Premier, as the head of the Child's League. Funds are being secured to alleviate distress. Of the people of France the speaker brought a message of hope, saying that in spite of their great hardships they were making the most of their sad circumstances and carrying on bravely, with every hope of better conditions in the future.

"Anything we say about the condition of France is about what it really is. Words cannot describe the awful sufferings of many of our people," she said.

"I am not uneasy about the results of Poppy Day in your city here," said Madame Berneron. "Canada will go over the top all right, and the red poppy of Flanders' fields, the flower immortalized in verse when it bloomed over the grave of the hero dead sleeping there, will prove a new bond of friendship between us."

COMMUNITY CONCERT DREW LARGE CROWD

Affair at New Drill Hall Proved a Great Success

Saturday night's community concert, in the new Drill Hall was the most successful of the series so far held this season; and a record crowd attended. Six hundred and forty people attended as guests in addition to the large number who were present as hosts.

The spirit of the community entertainment has become instilled into the systems of a great number of citizens who now attend regularly the functions that have been arranged for them by the Fifth Regiment, C. G. A.

Saturday Col. Robertson, commander of the 5th, took occasion to thank all those who attended for the loyal support they were giving a movement which had been begun with the idea of getting people better acquainted, furnishing enjoyment as well as placing people in a position to see in touch better with public matters of importance.

"There are many valuable results accruing from community entertainments," he explained.

The promotion of sport is encouraged by these entertainments and the contest in basketball between two teams of the "Crusaders" Club was greatly enjoyed by the large audience.

The affair opened with an excellent programme of music by the 5th Regiment band, Bandmaster Rumsby, which also furnished the music for the dance which began after the sports and continued until 11 o'clock.

The Esquimalt Chapter, I. O. O. F., served refreshments and altogether the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present.

The new dancing floor will be finished for the Police Hall on November 24 and will thereafter be open to patrons of the Community Concerts every Saturday evening during the winter. This excellent floor which is being laid by the police, covers the birds of the vast area of the Drill Hall.

VICTORIA AS SHE WAS SIXTY YEARS AGO

From a Prize Essay by Dr. Forbes, R. N., 1862.

The first settlement on the Island was formed in 1788, in Nootka Sound, claimed by Spain, it was soon given up to England, and Captain George Vancouver was sent out to receive the transfer and survey the coast. From that period onward the Island was visited only by fur traders, until in the year 1845 the Hudson's Bay Company started a trading fort on the land which now forms the site of the City of Victoria.

In 1849 a colony was formed, and in 1858 came the first rush of gold-seekers and other adventurers.

"In a clear, crisp, Autumnal or Spring morning, from the northern side, a beautiful and interesting scene meets the beholder's eye. Immediately before and somewhat below him lies the town in repose, the only evidence of the thin blue smoke which from numerous hearths floats upwards in the motionless air.

The grouping of the houses with the tone of the coloring that prevails is most pleasing. In the first faint light of the morning, the various styles of architecture assume fantastic shapes, pointed gables and ornamented roofs standing out sharp and sharp, the shadows dark neutral, the lights cool grey, the whole warmed by the depth of color of the brick houses and other edifices.

Away on the left, in the East, Mount Baker and the Cascade Range have caught the sun's first rays, and a blush of pearly light is stealing over the heavens. The sea, still and unrippled, stretches over to the foot of the great Olympian Range, which, clear and defined against the southern sky, stretches its massive dark blue length along, and far on the right where hang the purple peaks of the mountains, the sun's rays are gathering his mantle around him and is disappearing in the West.

As the day passes on, and the sun approaches the zenith, the same clear fresh air plays around, and an elasticity of body and mind is felt by all. The character of the scene has changed, however, a busy hum fills the air, and man is at his daily toil. The sea is like a mirror, numerous tiny craft, with drooping sails, dot its surface, and seem at the same time suspended in the air.

The reflection of the sun's rays on the water of the winding reach of the upper harbor, the shadows become purple, and in the pine woods black. The whole sky on the right is one blaze of crimson and deep orange hues, and as the sun sinks in the western ocean, he pours a flood of yellow light along the narrow strait, such as Turner would have loved to paint, touches the Olympian peaks with a rosy hue, and along the shore of the eastern side of which are built wharves and storehouses, where lie vessels of all sizes, from the coasting schooner of ten tons to the clipper craft of 500.

Passing the lighthouse at Cape Flattery, and entering the Strait of Juan de Fuca, nowhere more than ten or twelve miles in width, the voyager sees the right hand the snow-capped range of Olympia, its dark and frowning precipices descending gloomily to the shore. On the left, reflecting a purple light, the metamorphic and trapezoid rocks of Vancouver, with a fringing belt of yellow sandstone and, sweeping on for about sixty miles, he sees before him the "Flashing Light" on the Race Rocks; rounding which, a magnificent panorama opens to his view. On his immediate left are the rounded trapezoid hills of Vancouver, covered nearly to the summits by a thick vegetation, the purple tints or the bold outstanding rocks mingling in harmony of tone with the dark green of the pine and of the oak, while below in the valleys and lower grounds of cool greys of the rounded rock masses, fringed by a thick carpet of purple brown fern, join with the Autumnal orange tints of the maple and the bright yet tender green of the alder and the willow, to form a mass of color on which the eye dwells with delight.

Before the observer stretches an undulating park-like country, backed by wooded hills of moderate height—the sea face of a succession of low, rounded, rock promontories, with outlying reefs and islands. From Fisgard Light, which like a watchful sentinel guards the entrance to the harbor of Esquimalt, past Victoria Harbor, Beacon Hill, and sweeping on by Cadboro Bay, this same character of country obtains; its sloping pastures studded with oak and maple giving from their general appearance the idea of a country long occupied by civilized man, and covered with flocks and herds.

IN WOMEN'S DOMAIN

Suggests Wholesale Reform in School Control and System

Excellent Paper Given Before Women's Institutes By Mrs. G. Henderson, of Cowichan.

Reform in the present system of local school control, the training of teachers and the course of study was dealt with in convincing fashion in the course of an excellent paper given before the Vancouver Island Women's Institute conference by Mrs. G. Henderson of Cowichan last week. As the matter is of timely interest her paper is reproduced in full as follows:

"Let us ask ourselves the questions, do we need better schools? Is our system of education entirely satisfactory? The educational system of B. C. has many praiseworthy features. Dr. Nopman Black in a recent address at our W. I. meeting drew attention to the following: 'The supervision of the health of the children by school nurses, the aid that is being given to meet the crying need of children mentally and physically handicapped, the teaching of agriculture by qualified specialists, the grouping of all the schools in a municipality under one school board' and we may add the beginning that has been made in teaching our boys and girls through manual training and domestic science or home economics, to use their hands as well as their heads. 'Notwithstanding the virtues embodied in the school system if I were huddled in the school room of the ladies present this morning, of all who believed our programme of education in need of reform, nine out of ten would stand. To my mind this would be a hopeful sign. It would show that we have interested ourselves in the school questions and that we have made more than a superficial survey. We are not satisfied and nowhere are people quite satisfied with our school system.' Is it not because we see that our scheme of education is not generally speaking helping our boys and girls to find their place in life and is not fitting for it.

Causes of Inefficiency.
"I should like to deal with possible causes for this state of things under four headings:
(1) Our plan of local control—trustee boards;
(2) Our teachers and their training;
(3) Equality of opportunity for the children;
(4) Our course of study.
"Let us look first at our plan of local control. Do we not impose an impossible task upon our trustees and consequently well intentioned officials are turned into a public danger. This is no reflection on school trustees. One educator says 'the average school board comprises a group of men who are not qualified to conduct a business, to act as business administrators and then having secured their services, give them a free hand.
"Can you name a single joint stock company that has been a success when run by its board of directors? I cannot. A business manager is essential to success. Why not apply modern business methods to our schools? Secure the services of real professional training, men competent to conduct psychometric tests, to act as business administrators and then having secured their services, give them a free hand.
"It would be easier for the ratepayers to hold an individual responsible for his deeds than it would be to hold a committee or school board responsible.
Rural Administration.
"The schools of a rural municipality should all be under one professional administrator. If advisable, he might be the same man as in an adjacent city or town. An authority on rural education, the salary would remedy itself and the teaching profession would gain the best of both worlds—work and good workmanship.
"Now for our second division, teachers and their training. It is a most difficult part of the educational problem, one that is regional in its nature. A sufficient number of well prepared teachers. The teaching profession needs to be made more attractive, by making better conditions, by making possible long term tenures in the same community. The government should offer special inducements to teachers to equip themselves well for their profession and to make it their life work.
Too Many Chances.
"How can teachers or pupils do good work with a yearly change of teachers such as now takes place in the majority of schools.
In the address referred to the speaker said that this province spends less in training its teachers than other provinces and that our system does not furnish an adequate supply of thoroughly trained teachers.
Equality of Opportunity.
"Listen to what the Royal Commission appointed by the Dominion Government has to say on equality of opportunity. 'Sometimes an idea prevails that a scheme of education provides equality of opportunity, by letting all who desire have access to the same classes. Equality of opportunity means anything real, must have regard to the varying needs, tastes, abilities and after lives of the pupils. To be able to attend schools whose courses are provided chiefly for those whose education can be continued until eighteen or twenty years of age, does not insure any occupation or for living, to those who are compelled to leave at fourteen. Equality of opportunity must be a school designed to prepare leaders who are not what is needed and is not wanted by the majority of parents. Real equality of opportunity must offer opportunity of education which will serve the pupils not all the same thing; but will serve them all alike in preparing them for the occupations which they are to follow and living which they are to lead.'
To Prepare Leaders.
"Our scheme of education is designed to prepare leaders. Now the number of leaders required is small, compared with the number of ordinary citizens. We need—citizens whose school education has fitted them to make full use of all their gifts and powers.
"Over and over again we hear from the public platform that ninety per cent of our boys and girls leave school before they enter High School. Mrs. Moody has said that we were sacrificing ninety-three per cent of our boys and girls to the seven per cent who can continue at school and take University training. The ninety per cent who never get farther than the public school, should, in order to have any sort of equality of opportunity, have a complete course designed as preparatory work for the occupations and life they will enter upon.
Course of Study.
"The report of the superintendent of education shows that we are spending $5,500,000 on education in this province. Much of it is spent on training and equipping for their life work not all our boys and girls; but ten per cent of them.

This brings me to my last point, our Course of Study.
"You will agree with me, that all children should be put through the same course of study, as one has said, 'like sausages going through a machine.'
"No two children are exactly alike and there should be more differentiation in their courses. Said to say the machine of the common schools grinds out the differences and the individual is forevermore just that much less an individual," said Dr. Black in his address. One remedy suggested by the speaker is that we put through naturally to aptitude in industrial, chemical, agricultural, manufacturing indeed to all processes based on science.
Skilled Workers.
"Canada needs more skilled workers trained in these branches if we are ever to become a real agricultural and industrial nation. We can do quite easily with fewer lawyers, politicians, and masters of finance—in other words fewer leaders. We must train our boys and girls trained mentally, physically, spiritually. Mr. Kyle says, 'the trained mind is understood to be the greatest product of the modern world and it is from technical schools that trained producers must come.'
"Occupations at school should be so graded that each a better vocational starting point.
Vocational Work.
"As an example of how hand work and our academic course could be combined successfully I would mention the Vocational School of Calgary, Alberta, which school I had the pleasure of visiting two or three years ago. The half-time system, interest, recess, eat or play, largely solves questions of discipline and truancy. Though only half time is given to school work, the record of school shows pupils cover the work just as well as if they were engaged in book study all the day. Entrance fees are low, the course is complete, twenty-five per cent of the class of thirty-two. Teachers work in harmony to find occupation which is best suited for the individual.
In schools such as this, the object is not to subordinate one part of education to another, but to provide for all parts and kinds.
"If our system of education provided for continuing schools to follow up the work of the vocational schools, you will readily see that at eighteen years of age the rank and file of our youth would leave school not only having a cultural education; but skilled in some occupation ready to begin life.
Habits Formed.
"The habits to be formed by school life can be more easily formed when hand work is used. The habit of recognizing and following definite rational purposes, the habit of comparing the relative worth and importance of things, the habit of orderliness in thought and action, the habit of self-control and self-reliance, the habit of accuracy and the habit of mutual helpfulness, the habit of reverence for what is true, beautiful and good, follow logically where hand work and book work are placed side by side.
"A course of study," said Dr. Black should show that the forming of right habits—not merely the gaining of information—is the great end of education.
"If this be true are we not short-sighted in withholding from our schools one great help in forming right habits, I refer to the study of the greatest of all books—the Bible?
"In the past we have left the question of how our children are to be developed largely to those whom we have elected to office. We must do so no longer. Let us as a band of intelligent women give our best thought and energy to the education of a fair deal for all our boys and girls, in the scheme of education of British Columbia."

Miss Gladys Harvey, of St. Margaret's School, spending the holidays in Vancouver visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Harvey, Barclay Street.
Miss Eileen Morton, formerly of Victoria, arrived in the city on Saturday morning from Vancouver to spend the week-end with friends.

Registered at the Strathcona Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Thomas, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ross, Vancouver; Miss Frances Watson, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. A. Young, New Westminster; Miss A. Harrington, Chilliwack; Mr. C. G. Van Velszen, Edmonton, and Frank Patterson, Toronto.

On the evening of October 29 a party and dance was held at the I. O. O. F. Hall, Douglas Street, in honor of Miss V. Yerrill to celebrate her twenty-first birthday. About 200 friends were present. Dancing was provided from early in the evening until midnight by Mr. Fidler's orchestra. A dainty buffet supper was served, the tables being tastefully decorated in pink and white.

Dr. O. O. Lyons, of Port Alice; Mrs. T. Reid, of South Salt Spring Island; Dr. J. S. MacPherson, of Cobble Hill; Mrs. W. Allan and Miss Ellen, of Ladysmith; Dr. D. B. Kerr, of Duncan; H. Sadler, of Courtenay; J. Dideridge and Mrs. Dideridge, of Nanaimo; Mrs. Gillan and Miss Jessie McGregor, of the world and it is from technical schools that trained producers must come.
"Occupations at school should be so graded that each a better vocational starting point.
Vocational Work.
"As an example of how hand work and our academic course could be combined successfully I would mention the Vocational School of Calgary, Alberta, which school I had the pleasure of visiting two or three years ago. The half-time system, interest, recess, eat or play, largely solves questions of discipline and truancy. Though only half time is given to school work, the record of school shows pupils cover the work just as well as if they were engaged in book study all the day. Entrance fees are low, the course is complete, twenty-five per cent of the class of thirty-two. Teachers work in harmony to find occupation which is best suited for the individual.
In schools such as this, the object is not to subordinate one part of education to another, but to provide for all parts and kinds.
"If our system of education provided for continuing schools to follow up the work of the vocational schools, you will readily see that at eighteen years of age the rank and file of our youth would leave school not only having a cultural education; but skilled in some occupation ready to begin life.
Habits Formed.
"The habits to be formed by school life can be more easily formed when hand work is used. The habit of recognizing and following definite rational purposes, the habit of comparing the relative worth and importance of things, the habit of orderliness in thought and action, the habit of self-control and self-reliance, the habit of accuracy and the habit of mutual helpfulness, the habit of reverence for what is true, beautiful and good, follow logically where hand work and book work are placed side by side.
"A course of study," said Dr. Black should show that the forming of right habits—not merely the gaining of information—is the great end of education.
"If this be true are we not short-sighted in withholding from our schools one great help in forming right habits, I refer to the study of the greatest of all books—the Bible?
"In the past we have left the question of how our children are to be developed largely to those whom we have elected to office. We must do so no longer. Let us as a band of intelligent women give our best thought and energy to the education of a fair deal for all our boys and girls, in the scheme of education of British Columbia."

A pleasing re-union of Victorians took place recently at "Rock Knave," when Miss Winnifred Beckwith and Miss May Clark acted as hostesses to the following residents and visitors in southern California: Mrs. M. and Miss Blackadder, Mrs. Salloway, Miss Winnifred Salloway, Mr. T. Salloway, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Beveridge, Miss Pearl Lamphere, Mr. and Mrs. Austin, Miss Edna Lawrence, Mr. Harold Lawrence, Mrs. Jeremy and son, Mr. George Murphy and Mr. Reg. Beckwith. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith, Neil and Nell North motored over from Upland.

Vancouver arrivals at the Dominion Hotel include: C. D. Roberts and Mrs. Roberts, V. James and James, Mrs. Malgren and son, W. W. Hill and Mrs. Hill, Mrs. J. P. Sinclair, Mrs. E. N. Jones, M. Campbell, Miss T. Campbell, Miss C. H. Ward, Miss A. L. Martin, Mrs. R. Irvine, Mrs. J. Irvine, Miss J. E. Bussie, J. O. Chandler, D. E. Chandler, Mrs. J. O. Hope, Alex. E. Cameron, J. W. Currie, J. A. Herd, P. Lloyd, E. Griffin, P. Bramley, Mrs. W. Cowan and Miss Cowan and Dr. G. Macnair.

Of unusual interest to residents of Vancouver Island was the wedding which took place at Christ Church Cathedral on Wednesday, November 2, when the Bishop of Columbia solemnized the nuptials of Leonard Fordham Solly, only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Solly, of Tan-y-Bryn, 516 Rupert Street, and Kathleen Mona Primrose Wells, youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Primrose Wells, of the Duncan. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, looking charming in a beautiful embroidered dress of pale grey Georgette over pink silk and wearing a large grey hat draped with a grey embroidered veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and English maidenhair fern, tied with streamers of embroidered chiffon, the gift of the bridegroom. She was accompanied by one bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Ursula Primrose Wells, who carried a beautiful bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's cousin, Mr. W. Lucas Hunt, of Caulfield, West Vancouver, was best man. The bride and bridegroom left on the Seattle boat, en route for Southern California, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Some years ago The Times perpetrating the following bull in commenting on the death of Baron Dower: "A great Irishman has passed away. God grant that many who love their country will follow him." As a specimen of steady wit it would be hard to beat a retort of Charles Burrell, the great opponent of the slave trade, says Answers. He was in the middle of his eloquent denunciation of slavery when a well-aimed and very rotten egg struck him full in the face. "This," he said calmly, as he produced his handkerchief and wiped his face, "is striking evidence of what I have always maintained—that pro-slavery arguments are unbound."
There is another retort that must in time become a "classic." This occurred in the course of an argument between Provost Salmon and Dr. Mahaffy. They had been discussing the subject of corporal punishment for boys, and Dr. Mahaffy, who was opposed to the use of the cane, stated that he had only once been punished as a boy, and that was for telling the truth. "Well, you know, Mahaffy if it cured you," was the Provost's innocent reply.

WILL BE COSTLY TO CHANGE GAUGES

Railway Problem Facing Australia: Commissioner Arrives

On Saturday R. Blake, one of the three Uniform Railway Gauge Commissioners of Australia, passed through on the Niagara.

The report was filed just before Mr. Blake left Melbourne. The other Commissioners were J. J. Garvan, chairman, and F. W. Whyte.

The Commissioners unanimously recommended four feet eight and a half inches as the standard gauge for Australia.

The cost of providing a main trunk line from Fremantle to Brisbane varied from $17,850,000 to $18,575,000, the Commissioners estimate.

The conversion of all the five-foot three-inch lines in South Australia and Victoria were included the cost would be $2,600,000.

The cost of converting all lines excepting those in Tasmania and those narrower than three feet six inches is estimated at $57,200,000.

Details are given of the order in which the work should be carried out and of the methods to be adopted in Western Australia. A new bridge would have to be built over the Swan River, and the reconstruction of the line from Fremantle to Kalgoorlie should be proceeded with after the necessary arrangements had been made.

No new construction was necessary on the Trans-Australia Railway; and in South Australia the line from Lochiel to Port Augusta and from Salisbury to Adelaide should be started first, the Commissioners state.

In New South Wales the coastline by way of Newcastle, West Maitland, Macksville, Kyogle and Richmond Gap needed a bridge at Gratton, which should be started first, and the construction of a new track from West Maitland to Richmond Gap should progress at the same time, the report says.

In Brisbane, the new station and the new line to Richmond Gap should be started promptly. In order to provide a four feet eight and a half inch line back from the coast to the present line from Wallangarra through Toowoomba to Brisbane should be converted, and some of the branch lines should also be converted.

The chairman raised the question whether the advantages arising from the carrying out of the work would outweigh the expenditure of the large sum involved at the present time.

Neither a third rail nor any mechanical device could be used, the Commission had it stated. No knowledge of any third rail or mechanical device suitable for the conditions was known.

KILTS ARRIVE FOR CANADIAN SCOTTISH

Plans Are Being Made for Active Work

Part of the kilts—the Mackenzie tartan of the Seaforth—have reached Victoria for the 16th Canadian Scottish Infantry Battalion, and the balance of the uniforms will arrive shortly.

As soon as the equipment is complete the battalion will be uniformed without delay, and will commence drills in earnest. Pending receipt of the kilts for the battalion, and also during the summer season when it has been the custom in the past to suspend militia drills, other than the usual annual camp, little has been done by the battalion.

Now work is to be commenced without delay in the organization, equipment and training of the battalion, and before long Victoria will see its kilted militiamen on its streets.

A meeting of the officer's mess has been called, and will be held at the mess at the Drill Hall on Wednesday evening at 8.30 o'clock for the purpose of discussing plans for organization and training.

The non-commissioned officers of the battalion are actively at work, and a meeting of the various non-commissioned ranks was held at the Drill Hall on Thursday, when Sergeant-Major Collins, who has been temporarily attached to the regiment by the permanent force, addressed the meeting and made a number of suggestions which were heartily endorsed by those present.

Classes are to be held for the non-commissioned officers of the Canadian Scottish by Sergeant-Major Collins on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week, the first to be held on Tuesday evening next, commencing at 8 o'clock.

A smoking concert is to be staged in the near future by the non-commissioned officers of the battalion, and a committee was appointed consisting of C. M. S. Marchant, G. M. S. Cassidy and Cpl. Frampton to make the necessary arrangements.

It was also decided to call meetings of both the sergeant's and men's messes for Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock, at the Drill Hall.

MAIN STREET THE STORY OF CAROL KENNICOTT

By SINCLAIR LEWIS

"Parasites? Us? Where'd the farmers be without the town? Who lends them money? Who, we supply them with everything!"

"Don't you find that some of the farmers think they pay too much for the services of the town?"

"Oh, of course there's a lot of cranks among the farmers same as there are among any class. Listen to some of these kickers, a fellow'd think that the farmers ought to run the state and the whole shooting-match—probably if they had their way they'd fill up the legislature with a lot of farmers in manure-covered boots—yes, and they'd come all me and I was hired on a salary now, and couldn't fix my fees! That'd be fine for you wouldn't it?"

"But why shouldn't they?" "Why? That bunch of—Telling me—Oh, for heaven's sake, let's quit arguing. All this discussing may be all right at a party but—Let's forget it while we're hunting."

"I know. The Wonderlust—probably it's a worse affliction than the Wanderlust. I just wonder—"

"They ate their sandwiches by a prairie slew; long grass reaching up out of clear-water, mossy bogs, red-winged blackbirds, the acum a splash of gold-green. Kennicott smoked a pipe while she leaned back in the buggy and he tired spirit he'd absorbed in the Nirvana of the incomparable sky."

"They lurched to the highroad and awoke from their sun-soaked slumber at the sound of the clapping hoofs. They paused to look for partridges in a rim of woods, little woods, very clean and shiny, and saw silver birches and poplars with immaculate green trunks, encircling a lake of sandy bottom, a splashing conclusion demure in the welter of hot prairie."

Kennicott brought down a fat red squirrel and at dusk he had a dramatic shot at a flight of ducks, whirling down from the upper air, skimming the lake, instantly vanishing.

They drove home under the sunset. Mounds of straw, and wheat-stacks like bee-hives, stood out in startling rose and gold, and the green tufted abbles glistened. As the vast fiddle of crimson darkened, the full-filled land became autumnal in deep reds and browns.

The black and white of a faint lavender, then was blotted to uncertain grayness. Cattle came in a long line up to the barred gates of the farmyards, and over the rest of the land was a dark glow.

Carol had found the dignity and greatness which had failed her in Main Street.

"Till they had a maid they took noon dinner and six o'clock supper at Mrs. Gurrey's boarding-house."

Mrs. Elisha Gurrey, relict of Deacon Gurrey the dealer in hay and grain, was a pointed-nosed, simpering woman with iron-clad hair drawn so tight that it resembled a solid handkerchief covering her head.

But she was unexpectedly cheerful, and her dining-room, with its thin tablecloth on a long pine table, had a homelike coziness.

In the line of unsmiling, methodically chewing guests, like horses at a manger, Carol came to distinguish one countenance: the pale, long, speckled face and sandy pompadour hair of Mr. Raymond P. Wutherspoon, known as "Raymie," professional bachelor, manager and one of the best forces in the shoe department of the Bon Ton Store.

"You will enjoy Gopher Prairie very much, Mrs. Kennicott," petitioned Raymie. His eyes were like those of a dog waiting to be let in out of the cold. He passed the stewed apricots effusively. "There are a great many bright cultured people here. Mrs. Wilks, the Christian Science reader, is a very bright woman—though I am not a Scientist myself, in fact I sing in the Episcopal choir. And Miss Sherwin of the high school is such a pleasing, bright girl—I was fitting her to a pair of tan garters yesterday, I declare, it really was a pleasure."

"Gimme the butter, Carrie," was Kennicott's comment. She defied him by encouraging Raymie:

"Do you have amateur dramatics and so on here?"

"The Knights of Pythias put on talent. It's the town's just full of 'em on a dandy minstrel show last year."

"It's nice you're so enthusiastic."

"Oh, do you really think so? Louis de folks jolly me for trying to get up shows and so on. I tell them they have more artistic gifts than they know. Just yesterday I was saying to Harry Haydock, if he would fix poetry like Longfellow, or if he would join the band—I get so much pleasure out of playing the cornet, and our band-leader, Del Scuffin, is such a good musician, I often say he ought to give up his barbering and become a professional musician, he could play the clarinet in Minneapolis or New York or any where, but he wouldn't get Harry to see it all—and I hear you and the doctor went out hunting yesterday. Lovely country, isn't it. And did you make some calls? The mercantile life isn't inspiring like medicine. It must be wonderful to see how patients trust you doctor."

"Huh! It's me that's got to do all the trusting. Be damn right more wonderful if they'd pay their bills," grumbled Kennicott and, to Carol he whispered something which sounded like "gentleman hen."

But Raymie's pale eyes were watering at her. She smiled with "So you like to read poetry?"

"Oh yes, so much—though to tell the truth, I don't get much time for reading, we're always so busy at the store and—"

But we had the dandiest professional reciter at the Pythian Sisters' sociable last winter."

Carol thought she heard a grunt from the traveling salesman at the end of the table, and Kennicott's jerking elbow was a grunt embodied.

"Do you get to see many plays, Mr. Wutherspoon?"

He shone at her like a dim blue March moon, and sighed, "No, but I do love the movies. I'm a real fan. One trouble with books is that they're not so thoroughly safeguarded by intellectual censors as the movies are, and when you drop into the library and take out a book you never know what you're wasting your time on. What I like in books is a wholesome, really improving story, and sometimes—"

Why, once I started a novel by this fellow, Balzac that you read about, and it told how a lady wasn't living with her husband, I mean she wasn't his wife. It went into details, disgustingly! And the English was real poor. I spoke to the library about it, and they took it off the shelves. I'm not narrow, but I must say I don't see any use, in this liberally dragging in immorality! Life itself is so full of temptations that in literature you want only that which is pure and uplifting."

"What's the name of the Balzac yarn? Where can I get hold of it?" giggled the traveling salesman.

WELLS SECTION CASE TO COME UP

Sam Guthrie Puts Questions to Attorney-General in Legislature

The criminal prosecution of A. S. Wells, editor of The B. C. Federationist, of Vancouver, for the publication of seditious literature, is to be brought up on the floor of the Legislature by Sam Guthrie, Socialist member for Newcastle, who has put these questions to the Attorney-General:

Was a criminal prosecution commenced against A. S. Wells, editor of The B. C. Federationist at Vancouver, in the month of September, 1921, upon the charge of publishing a pamphlet entitled "Left Wing Communism, an Infantile Disorder"?

Was the said pamphlet—namely, "Left Wing Communism, an Infantile Disorder"—prior to publication in Vancouver, published in the United Kingdom with the full knowledge of the British Government and without the consent of the Great Britain taking the exception to such publication?

Was the said pamphlet, prior to publication in Vancouver, published in other countries and in the United States with the full knowledge of the Governments of said countries and without the consent of such countries taking the exception to such publication?

For a considerable time prior to the present prosecution, did such pamphlets have Government mailing facilities in Canada and the United States?

Is there been any other and, if so, what instance of criminal prosecutions instituted in British Columbia for entertaining or publishing political opinions in such countries as the United States?

Is the Minister aware that A. S. Wells, the defendant in the above-mentioned proceedings, is an active leader of Socialist thought in British Columbia?

Is there any connection between the political beliefs of Mr. Wells and the present prosecution, such as is it the intention to institute other criminal prosecutions against those who may entertain socialist views or who prominently engage in socialistic activities?

Does the Attorney-General believe that prosecutions of this character are conducive to national harmony?

DELAY AFFECTS ONLY ONE NEW INDUSTRY HERE

Jam Factory Safe; No Water or License Concessions

Obstacles which have prevented the immediate establishment of a new soda water manufactory here, do not affect plans for the establishment of a jam factory, Alderman John Harvey, chairman of the civic Industrial Committee, announced to-day.

The jam factory scheme will come before the City Council for final approval Tuesday and, so far as we can see now, it should go through without delay. Alderman Harvey stated, "The only difficulty about the soda water industry is that we cannot sell the soda water company the factory site which it desires without submitting a by-law to the people. This property, which is known as the Woodlands and which is near Sir James Douglas School we find, is not reverted land. We cannot sell it as we do land which falls into the city's hands at tax sale."

"We are not granting either the jam company or the soda water company concessions as regards water prices or trade licenses," Alderman Harvey explained. "We were prepared to give free water and other important concessions to such a concern as a wool mill, as it is an entirely new industry and would not compete with industries already established here. But in the case at present under consideration we do not intend to do this."

"We shall continue negotiations with the soda water company from a new angle," Alderman Harvey added.

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs. Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Lovena, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, became very nervous and shaky and in fact gave up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39."

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicines and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

Interesting Facts About Sea Fishes

POLLOCK. The pollock, captured extensively by our deep-sea or bank fishermen, along with cod and haddock, is for unaccountable reasons, not popular as a fresh commodity. It is closely allied to the true cod, is of fine flavor, and may be readily and cheaply procured in our Canadian markets, especially during the months of June, July, August and September. One authority, endeavoring to locate a reason for the apparent deep-rooted prejudice, considers it due largely to the fact that the pollock destroys better fishes. It is true that the pollock is very destructive to the young cod, surrounding the school and driving the fish to the surface where they wall a prey to the voracious pollocks attacking below and hundreds of sea-gulls which catch and devouring voracity and precision upon them from above. But this cannibalistic tendency is not confined to the pollock alone. It is a trait of many of our sea fishes. Pollock, sometimes known as the coal fish or green cod, is common northward on both shores of the Atlantic. It is caught abundantly in our north Atlantic banks, and also along our Canadian coast where inshore fishermen capture it along with cod and haddock. Frequently the pollock come close in shore and become ensnared in nets fixed for herring and other fishes. It ranges far south as France on the European coast and Cape Cod or even New York on the American side. It reaches a length of more than three feet and a weight of over five pounds or more. It is exceedingly productive. According to an eminent authority a fish three feet, three and a half inches long, weighing twenty-three and a half pounds, contained approximately 4,000,000 eggs, and one thirteen pounds produced about 2,570,000 eggs. The eggs, of course, are small and are produced in such tremendous quantities in order to provide for enormous destruction by predatory fishes, and guarantee adequate continuation of the species. It obviously is not the intention of nature that all of the eggs should mature. The eggs are buoyant, floating at the surface where they hatch in five or six days. The pollock is darker than the cod and more lustrous and the lower jaw is more extended, with a smaller barbed at the tip. There is a good deal of similarity between the true pollock and the whiting, so common on the British coast. Two closely related species of pollock are found in Pacific waters. The Alaska pollock is found in Behring Sea and as far south as Sitka. It swims near the surface and furnishes the main item in the diet of the fur seal. In the waters of the Canadian Pacific is found the wall-eyed pollock. It is quite abundant about Puget Sound, but is not fished commercially. As a game fish the true pollock or Atlantic pollock has not been fully appreciated. In some localities it is a voracious fish, taking in the hood, freely and fighting viciously. In Massachusetts Bay great numbers are caught with a surface bait, but larger fish must be sought at the bottom. Those who eat pollock fresh esteem it highly. The limited experience the writer has had convinces him that the general antipathy to the fish is largely associated with the

SILK WORM EGGS SHIPPED TO JAPAN BY KEYSTONE STATE

E. M. Fullington, New Auditor-General to Philippines, Sails on Admiral Liner. Japan, ancient centre of silk culture, is now importing silk worms from Italy. A shipment, way-billed as measuring two tons, is en route to Yokohama on the Admiral liner Keystone State, which sailed from this port Saturday evening with a heavy cargo and passengers for the Far East. The silk worm importation, it is said, will be used for experimental purposes by the Japanese silk experts. While not a record shipment for the trans-Pacific trade, the Keystone States took out 4,500 sacks of mail matter. Bound to Philippines. Edward M. Fullington, banker of Columbus, Ohio, accompanied by his wife, was a passenger by the liner Keystone State. Mr. Fullington, who was formerly auditor and budget commissioner of Ohio, has been appointed auditor-general of the Philippine Government under General Leonard Wood to assist in establishing order in the Filipino finances. One of the prime needs of the Philippines, according to students of the fiscal situation in the Philippine Islands, is the reorganization of the budget system, and it is understood that President Harding selected Mr. Fullington as the man best fitted to devise the "new Auditor-General of the Philippines" is a personal friend of President Harding, in whose campaign last year he was a prominent figure. Teaching Easy in Orient. Teaching school in the Orient is a far easier and simpler task than it is on this continent, according to Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Buckisch, formerly of New York, who are returning to the Philippines to resume their duties. For one thing, truancy is unknown among Filipino children, and truants are unknown. Mr. Buckisch, "is to provide room enough to accommodate all who want to come to school. The Filipino are always as eager for education as the Jewish children of the New York east side." Mr. and Mrs. Buckisch have been nine years in the Philippines. Mr. Buckisch is superintendent of education in the Province of Camarines, and Mrs. Buckisch is principal of the High School at Naga, capital of the province, which is on the island of Luzon.

AMERICAN SHIP SEIZED FOR DEBT

Barque Muscoota Encounters Trouble While in Australian Waters. The four-masted American barque Muscoota has fallen on evil days, according to word brought by the liner Niagara from Australia. It transpired during the proceedings in Admiralty Court that the ship got into debt to the extent of £7,000. In respect of a portion of this sum she suffered the indignity of being placed under arrest in Newcastle, and it was to determine ways and means of liquidating her indebtedness that the American Government with a number of cases came before the court. She entered no defence, and the upshot is that she is ordered to be offered for sale at auction unless, in the meantime she is sold by private treaty. Distressing as her present predicament is, it is only in keeping with her previous chequered career. A sturdy barque of 2,564 registered tonnage, and originally known as the Buckingham, she was sold to the German firm, Rickmers, of Hamburg, and became the Hertha, under which name she traded with Newcastle. When the United States declared war against Germany in January last in command of Adelaide in January last in command of Captain Albert Cecil Wilvers, she was seized as a prize of war, and subsequently sold by the American Government with a number of other vessels to the Victor S. INQUIRY ORDERED ON IMPORTER LEAK BUT WAS CANCELLED

Doubt Still Exists as to Ultimate Intention of Government. The question of the necessity of holding a formal investigation into the cause of the leak which imperilled the freighter Canadian Importer in the Pacific ocean, has yet to be finally determined by the official mind at Ottawa. Capt. J. D. Macpherson, wreck commissioner for British Columbia, a short time ago, received instructions from the Department of Marine to hold an inquiry into the circumstances of the mishap to the Canadian Importer, which was nearly lost when the spring a leak and drifted for nearly two weeks in a helpless condition, and all the preliminary arrangements were completed with a view to holding the investigation, when, a few days ago, the instructions to hold the inquiry were cancelled by the Ottawa authorities. No Statement. Whether the cause of the leak, which practically filled the ship with water in a few days, has been determined by the department, is not as yet clear, but the fact remains that an official announcement regarding the private investigation conducted following the return of the ship to port. If an official inquiry is finally determined upon, it will probably be held at Victoria as the Canadian Importer is expected to be in the month to commence loading her cargo. Completing Repairs. The importer is now completing repairs at the B. C. Marine Plant at Vancouver, and as soon as his ship is turned back to the Canadian Government Merchant Marine Ltd., she will be sent to this port to take on her original cargo. The freight is now stored at the Ogden Point warehouse, and consists of 3,500,000 feet of lumber, 1,000 tons of paper and a consignment of pianos. The importer will probably take out some additional shipments, besides her original cargo. The ship has not yet been given a sailing date.

PLAGUE REPORTED AT PORT OF SYDNEY

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—There is a possibility that ships discharging cargoes at Sydney, Melbourne and other Australian ports will be held by quarantine officers, according to a cable received locally. The C. G. M. office has been advised to this effect, and with the suggestion that cargoes be stowed so that the calls at New Zealand ports can be made direct. This will ensure the discharge of the Auckland shipments, interviewed on the subject, officers of the Niagara, which arrived on Saturday, state that there were several cases of plague at Sydney when the ship left.

SHIPBUILDING IN AUSTRALIA HURT BY EXCESSIVE COSTS. Ships in Commission Can Be Purchased Cheaper Than They Can Be Built. The Australian Government is prepared to shoulder a reasonable loss to encourage an industry, but there is a limit to that loss, said Mr. Poynton, Minister for Home and Territories, at Adelaide, South Australia, recently, when replying to a deputation waiting upon him regarding the future of the shipbuilding industry in South Australia. The Minister said that costs were going up against him, while the price of ships were falling all over the world. The Federal Government was very anxious to start the industry, which, if it could be established, would be one of the biggest in Australia; but, after all, it depended upon costs. The industry would not have been established if it had depended on the engineers. They had to have everything they wanted. The boiler-makers and other societies should have done all they could to bring about the agreement. He could not disclose the nature of the cables that had passed between Mr. Hughes and himself during the time the latter was in England, but the problem was a very serious one. The position was that ships could be purchased in England in a commission pounds a ton cheaper than they could be built in Australia. It was a question whether or not the Government could carry on the industry at all. The first ship turned out cost £23 per ton, and he looked upon that as a very creditable result, starting as they did without practically any experience in shipbuilding. The fact that the industry was in a big way, and that the time would come when there would be a big reduction in the price, however, that the price had been increased, and the last decision, in which the engineers were very prominent, with respect to a 44-hour week working in a big increase, was up to the workers of Australia, to realize what was in front of them. The Federal Government could not carry on the shipbuilding industry at any price, and it was a great sacrifice. As the ships were built they were taken over by the Commonwealth Shipping Line. How could that line compete with other companies whose ships were bought at cheaper rates. As a matter of fact the whole matter of shipbuilding and running a line of ships would have to be carried on very seriously. At the present rates of freight a good deal of the primary products could not be got away, and there must be a reduction if those products were to be got across the sea.

CAPT. HORNSEA RECEIVES POST

Will Hold Responsible Position With Military District

Announcement is made by the Civil Service Commission and the Department of Militia and Defence that, as a result of the recent open competitive examination for the appointment of District Auditor for Military District No. 11 with headquarters at Victoria, Captain George Hornsey, of Victoria, has been named as the successful candidate for the appointment and will enter upon his official duties on December 1.

Captain Hornsey, who is at present employed as an assistant to the Civil Service Commissioner, of British Columbia, is no stranger to military administrative duties, having had wide experience both in the Imperial and Canadian Armies. Enlisting as a boy in the West Yorkshire Regiment, his early training was received in that regiment and on the outbreak of the South African War, by means of his skill with the rifle and a camouflaged age, he won a place on a draft proceeding to South Africa. After service in the field in that campaign, he was appointed confidential dispatch writer and decoder on the late Lord Kitchener's staff at headquarters upon the occupation of Pretoria. In the late war, promoted from the ranks to captain and paymaster, Captain Hornsey served in Canada and overseas with the Canadian Army-Pay Corps. He was selected on numerous occasions for the organization and administration of new pay departments of various units in Military District No. 12. These

WILSON LEADS IN GOLF FINALS

A Spectator's Interruption Causes Goward to Lose Hole

Biggarstaf Wilson is leading—by four up over A. T. Goward at the end of the first eighteen holes in the finals this afternoon in the city golf championship contest at the Victoria Golf Club, Oak Bay.

The second eighteen holes of the thirty-six in the finals is being played this afternoon.

J. C. Matterson won from R. J. Darcus this morning by three up and two to play in the finals for the first flight.

In the city championship game both Goward and Wilson were playing short to the green most of the time.

At the seventh Goward fuzzeled his drive, but until the fourteenth they were running along together taking turns in being one up.

Tearing off on the fourteenth, Wilson was one up, but when they got on the green Goward missed an eighteen-inch putt, and Wilson halve the hole. This put Wilson two up.

An Interruption.

At the end of the sixteenth Wilson was one up. Both got away on the seventeenth to long drives, each followed by fair brisade shots. Goward had addressed the ball for his iron shot to the green and was swinging back to take his stroke, when one of the crowd of silent spectators pulled out his handkerchief and let go a trumpet-blast from his nose. Goward had to check himself, take his stance again. It resulted in his hitting his ball into the bunker at the left. Wilson got on the green, but when Goward tried to mashle out of the bunker he only drove it up against the side-slope took two-to-get-out. This put Wilson three up.

On the eighteenth Goward failed to sink a five-foot putt, leaving the ball just outside the rim of the cup. It was almost a stymie for Wilson's ball which was in line about eighteen inches away. Wilson played it carefully, however, and skimming around Goward's ball went down, and put himself four up at the end of the first half of the finals.

LUMBER SHINGLES

We have a small quantity of off-grade Flooring and V-Joint in long and short lengths which we must move at a sacrifice. We have sheds to take care of our cedar operations. We can save you money. Your inspection invited. We are now sawing our own Cedar Shingles and even in the northwestern Canadian provinces by March 1; thereafter in that month the solar heat that would ordinarily be expended in melting snow and ice was devoted to warming the soil and the atmosphere.

The second event, and it is spoken of with less certainty than the first, was an increase in the height of the barometer over those parts of the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans commonly known as regions of "semi-permanent high pressure." In other words, the level of the barometer over parts of the oceans was higher than usual; the effect of this rearrangement of pressure was to change the course of rainstorms, which usually pass from West to East along the northern boundary, to higher latitudes, namely, central and northern Canada. The result has been a season so dry that yields of some crops have been seriously curtailed.

WEATHER MAN TRIES TO EXPLAIN

Changes in Distribution of Pressure Caused Abnormal Summer, They Say

Washington, Nov. 7.—According to the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture the abnormal Summer of the current year was due to important changes in the distribution of atmospheric pressure over the globe in consequence of which the usual seasonal interchange of air between equatorial and polar regions was seriously disrupted. Two events stand out prominently in this connection: First, the mid-Winter of 1920-21 with its very light snowfall and a much decreased thickness of ice in lakes and streams. An unusually warm February removed practically all of the snow cover in the United States and even in the northwestern Canadian provinces by March 1; thereafter in that month the solar heat that would ordinarily be expended in melting snow and ice was devoted to warming the soil and the atmosphere.

The second event, and it is spoken of with less certainty than the first, was an increase in the height of the barometer over those parts of the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans commonly known as regions of "semi-permanent high pressure." In other words, the level of the barometer over parts of the oceans was higher than usual; the effect of this rearrangement of pressure was to change the course of rainstorms, which usually pass from West to East along the northern boundary, to higher latitudes, namely, central and northern Canada. The result has been a season so dry that yields of some crops have been seriously curtailed.

"REVENGE OF TARZAN"

AT ROYAL ALL WEEK

Screen Version of Burroughs' Famous Ape-man Story

A particularly interesting cast was assembled for "The Revenge of Tarzan," a Norma picture distributed by Goldwyn Pictures Corporation, which will be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre for six days, commencing today. Gene Pollard is "Tarzan." He is young, six foot two and a half inches in height, weighs 215 pounds, has a chest expansion of four and three-quarter inches, and a thirty-eight waist—from which statistics it may be judged he carries a pretty close resemblance to his fiction prototype, the ape-man hero of Edgar Rice Burroughs' famous book. Mr. Pollard, it is stated on good authority, doesn't drink anything stronger than ginger ale, doesn't smoke and thinks this game of playing the ape-man is quite as big a lark as passing the examination for the New York Fire Department with a 100 per cent. rating or serving with the U. S. Army in Germany for nineteen months.

George Romain, who plays the part of the "Count de Coude," was born in Bordeaux. He played with "Marjorie" Hambeau in "The Eyes of Youth" and with Leo Dietrichstein in "The Great Lover." His operatic associations include six seasons with the French Opera Company in New Orleans.

Franklin B. Coates plays the role of "Paul D'Arnot," "Tarzan's" best friend. He is a recognized actor and an explorer of note. His expert knowledge of jungle land makes him especially valuable to the company.

Armand Cortez, who plays "Kokoff," is one of the screen's best bad men. He was born in Southern France of Spanish extraction and was most recently seen on the speaking stage in support of Lenore Ulric in "Tiger Rose."

The screen experience of Walter Miller, who plays "Clayton," another of the play's villains, started back in the old Florence and Biograph days with Florence Turner and E. W. Griffith. He plays the part of the fiancee of the girl "Tarzan" loves—and finally wins—and possessor of the title and estates that are rightfully "Tarzan's."

Estelle Taylor, cast as the romantic "Countess De Coude," played in "Come on, Charlie," her only stage role, and since her debut in pictures has had but three days of rest. "Jane Porter," a beautiful American girl for whose sake Tarzan gave up his real name and his money, Donna Pepita Ramirez, who has given up the legitimate stage entirely in favor of pictures, plays the Algerian dancer who saves "Tarzan's" life one of the many times he came close to losing it. She was born in Madrid, and danced a bit and tamped a bit in "Listen Lester" when it ran on Broadway. Lewis Sterne has the part of "Pannavitch," the third villain of the piece.

George M. Merrick supervised the production, Harry Revier directed, and James Hutchison and Jack Holbrook were the cameramen.

With a good Christie comedy, "Man vs. Woman," and a slow motion golf picture showing how the game should be played, the programme of pictures has been well looked after. Miss Ivy Holt will again be heard in two new songs that will no doubt please any audience.

THRILLING THEME IN "MOTHER O' MINE"

Special Holiday Attraction at Dominion; Mrs. Longfield to Sing

The widely-discussed question of capital punishment and its abolition has been revived in many quarters by the appearance of Thomas H. Ince's stirring melodrama, "Mother O' Mine," which to-night opens at the Dominion Theatre.

For more than half a century the abolition of capital punishment has been an issue in American public life. Several states have dispensed with the death sentence as the supreme penalty for crime, and one or two of these states have returned to the noose and the electric chair as the only effective means of both punishing and diminishing murder.

In "Mother O' Mine" the abolitionist-point-out a striking example of the danger of the state assuming to take the life of its major criminals.

Robert Sheldon, the leading character of the drama, falls into an altercation with his employer, the result of the latter's vicious slandering of the boy's mother. A thrilling fight follows in which the elder man manages to get a revolver from the drawer of a table. The boy, fighting for his life, forces the gun from his employer's hand, and, falling to the floor, it is accidentally discharged, fatally wounding its owner.

The only witness to the affray is the mistress of the slain man, who, in spite of her waywardness, is sincerely devoted to him. She promises to avenge his death, and on the witness stand perjures herself, stating that the boy was the murderer, thereby securing his conviction and sentence to the electric chair.

There are many instances on record, they declare, where innocent men and women have suffered the death penalty when subsequent events proved their innocence, and they argue that "Mother O' Mine" is a vivid dramatic example of the fallacy of the system now generally in vogue.

Jesse Longfield, Victoria's popular mezzo soprano, whose engagement terminated some six weeks ago on account of the theatre closing for remodeling, has been re-engaged to sing at this popular playhouse. Patrons will no doubt read of this to their pleasure, as this vocalist can sing at all times as depended upon to give an artistic rendering of the numbers that she sings. This week she will be heard singing "The World is Waiting," by Seltz, and "The Rose in the Bud," by Forster, and other concert numbers of note.

Thomas Meighan, now at Capitol Pictures of Britannia Beach Disaster Shown

Hugh Cameron, who is playing the comedy part of "Murphy" in Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount picture, "Cappy Ricks," which will be a feature at the Capitol Theatre to-night, makes his debut as a Paramount player in this picture.

His first motion picture experience was gained in 1912 when he made two-reel comedies for the Edison company. Although his cinema affiliation is not of long duration, his stage career has extended over a period of twenty-five years, during which time he appeared with James O'Neill, Mrs. Fiske, Amelia Bingham, and Mrs. Patrick Campbell. Mr. Cameron appeared with Irene Bordone and Sam Bernard in "As You Were" and with George M. Cohan in "The Meanest

THRILLING STORY OF TURKISH CRUELTY

"Auction of Souls" for Three Days at Columbia

Removing his own ban against further showings in Detroit of "Auction of Souls," starring Aurora Mardiganian, and of which First National Exhibitors' Circuit is the official distributor, Police Commissioner Dr. James W. Inches was cheered to the echo by 10,000 persons in Cadillac Square recently, when his announcement followed an appeal for Armenia by the star, Miss Mardiganian herself.

Police Commissioner Inches had ordered "Auction of Souls" removed from the screen after it had been shown as a pre-release for one week at the Washington Theatre in Detroit. His action was taken at the private presentation. He allowed the management one week of their heavy advance advertising. In removing his own ban, the Commissioner expressed the wish that Miss Mardiganian and the picture starring her, remain in Detroit for an indefinite period. Aside from this honor paid Miss Mardiganian, she was asked to ride at the head of the Safety-First parade which was a procession two miles long. Seated in an automobile with Lieutenant James Anderson, special representative of the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, and Harry Scott, First National execuive at Detroit, Miss Mardiganian was cheered during the entire parade.

The Police Commissioner further accommodated the management of the Washington Theatre by posting extra patrolmen to prevent throngs of Detroit people from blocking traffic. Several ticket sales stopped for short periods.

"The Marriage Question" will be repeated at the Princess Theatre to-night. This play is not a lecture or a problem play, but one that is interesting from start to finish.

MARIE LOHR TO APPEAR SOON

Will Be Here on Monday in Repertoire

A niche long empty in the hall of theatrical fame has a length been filled by Marie Lohr, the charming and marvelous English actress who is now touring Canada. Her rendering of the powerful role of "Fedora," in an unassailable position as an untried artist, and worthy to be recognized as the most powerful exponent of the emotional drama of to-day.

In "Fedora," Miss Lohr has made the Russian princess once more live and breathe and bears her audience with her, through the intricate maze of Russian conspiracy that encompasses her steps, breathless and absorbed by the thrilling incidents of her stormy career, up to the final announcement where no hope remains and solace can only be found in the poisoned cup.

This powerful and brilliant performance which has not been equalled by any other actress of the present day, has gained for Miss Lohr the unstinted praise of the Canadian press and established her right to be ranked with the greatest of emotional actresses.

Her second offering to the Canadian public will be Pierre Wolff's scintillating comedy "The Marionettes," in which Miss Lohr will assume the role of Fernande de Monclaire, a character very different from that of the tragic role of "Fedora," but of which she gives a very delightful performance and in which she is very capably supported by the Globe Theatre Company which she has

FAMOUS FRENCH ORGANIST COMING

Joseph Bonnet Will Appear on December 2

One of the greatest musical events of the season will be the visit here on December 2 of the phenomenal French organ virtuoso, Joseph Bonnet. No doubt public interest will be stirred from the fact that such a "giant among organists" will give a recital in this city. Everywhere this master goes he scores big triumphs. He is one of the greatest among living exponents in art, and is described as "magnetic," "a genius," "master of technique" and "marvellous."

In order that all may have an opportunity of hearing this wonderful artist, the management has arranged a schedule of prices within the reach of all pockets. More especially consideration has been made on behalf of music students, private schools, universities, colleges, art schools and schools of learning, all of which will be given the chance to obtain the number of seats set aside for them at low prices. The management has requested special numbers in the programme to be given in this city. The recital will take place in the Metropolitan Church.

Earle Williams has made a new agreement with President Albert E. Smith of Vitagraph, under which Mr. Williams is to make seven star productions within the next year. Mr. Williams has spent his entire screen career with Vitagraph. His most recent picture is "Lucky Carson."

TWO DE LUXE SHOWS TO-DAY AT CAPITAL

In line with the general Capitol entertainment policy, two de luxe shows will be given at the Capitol to-night, starting at 7 and 9 o'clock.

The feature attraction is Thomas Meighan in "Cappy Ricks," a popular sea story widely read in The Saturday Evening Post. It's a red-blooded story full of action in which Meighan will excel.

The balance of the programme is varied and interesting. The first authentic motion picture of the sparkling comedy entitled "Bliss," Mrs. Wallace Courtney, famous dramatic soprano will be heard in new song selections, among which will be "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier."

Larry Semon is busy this week, completing the cutting and editing of his newest Vitagraph comedy, "The Sawmill." The scenes were made in the wild Lake Hume region of California. While there, Larry and his supporting company spent several days helping the lumberjacks fight the worst forest fire that section had known for twenty years.

TALENTED LONDON FAVORITE TO APPEAR HERE IN "FEDORA"

Royal Patrons to Have Opportunity to See Marie Lohr

It is not generally known that Marie Lohr, who will be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre one week from to-day, began her career at the concert platform in London, but so it was, and at that age Marie Lohr made a great impression in the city of Sydney, N. S. W., on her first appearance.

Born in Sydney, N. S. W., thirty-one years ago, Marie Lohr appeared in London for the first time in the year 1901 at the Garrick Theatre, in the "Man Who Stole the Castle," and "Shock-Headed Peter," but it was under the late Mrs. Kendall that Marie Lohr began her real novitiate, and the Kendall's cultivated an almost parental interest in the young actress.

In the Pinero production of "The Mind of the Paint Girl," Miss Lohr came before the eyes of the public with greater prominence than ever before, but the turning point really came in the year 1906, when she appeared with Sir Herbert Tree in "Colonel Newcome" as Rose Mackenzie. A charming Marguerite in "Faust" and to be followed by a thoughtful Ophelia in "Hamlet" added yet other laurels to the rising young actress.

Credited with raising some $75,000 for charities during the war, Marie Lohr retained the popularity of the great London playgoers in no unmarked degree, and is to-day at probably the peak of her career with a talent that has been developed in the hard school of experience under some of the most talented masters of the dramatic and operatic art of the day.

"Love in a Cottage," "The Voice From the Minaret" and "Fedora," are some of the more recent productions staged by Marie Lohr, now under her own management, and it is in the latter, that Victoria playgoers will have the privilege soon of seeing Marie Lohr.

SHAW BORED BY OWN PLAY

Noted Author Even Goes to Sleep on First Night Production

London, Nov. 7.—George Bernard Shaw's most striking failure was on the occasion of the first night of "Heartbreak House" at the Court Theatre here. It was played before a distinguished but bored audience, and when J. B. Fagan, who produced it, was requested to call Mr. Shaw for a speech he announced that Mr. Shaw was asleep in his box. Arnold Bennett and his friend Cunningham-Graham were among the most notable dozers. The latter could not stand the boredom after the first act and walked out of the theatre. Others present included Ellen Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lorraine, Elsie Janis and Cathleen Nesbitt. "Heartbreak House" was played in the beginning of the war but was

WHO'S WHO In Orchestras of Victoria

THE VARIETY THEATRE PART I. By George J. Dyke.

The audiences which attend six days of the week, the different photograph houses of the city frequently show their appreciation and concern in the selections played by the orchestras and organists engaged therein. In these organizations there are several talented musicians, who have had many diversifying and interesting experiences. A brief history, therefore, of these orchestras of their members, and the organists must necessarily awaken interest.

THE VARIETY.

The Leader, Muriel Hall. This theatre has from the very beginning maintained an orchestra. Its present leader is the pianist Miss Muriel Hall. Muriel, who began her studies at the piano when seven years of age, and during her days of study in this city took principal parts in many musical productions, for not only is she an accomplished pianist, especially as an accompanist, but she is also gifted vocally, having had instruction in the branch of music with an eminent teacher in London, England, in which city she filled a long engagement with the famous Cyril Maude. When quite young she gained a local gold medal for piano playing, and a three years scholarship with the late Dr. Torrington at Toronto. During the war was in England, and for five years she gave her services at camps, caissons in revue and concert. Returning to her home town she was for a time pianist with the Empress Hotel orchestra, afterwards accepting the position she now occupies.

S. W. Clarke. Violinist of the orchestra, started playing violin when young, was second violin at Theatre Royal, Peterborough, England, and played in orchestras with the Carl Rosa, Moody Manners and Doyle Carte's opera companies. He came to this country about fifteen years ago, and has lived in Edmonton and Calgary, Alta. In the former city he held a position as leader of the orchestra at the Empire Theatre. He was overseas three years with the 23rd Battalion.

Gerald King. Clarinetist, commenced his musical training at the age of fifteen in the British Army. He was drafted to India and was present at the first Delhi Durbar, and one of the 5,000 musicians that comprised the massed band for the great occasion. Rehearsals were held daily for over a month and there were two bandmasters and a conductor engaged. Large flags were used to start and stop this huge band, perhaps the largest in the world's history. As can be imagined this immense affair was attended with great "pomp and circumstance." Mr. King is the first clarinet of the G. W. V. A. band and is an expert in all pertaining to the clarinet family.

A. J. Saffour. Drums. He is one of the most expert of drummers, and has had wide experience during the years 1911 to 1914 he was corporal-instructor to the 6th Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles, bugle and trumpet band, Vancouver. He was leading drummer of the Clan McLean Pipe Band at Vancouver for two years. He went overseas as drummer with the Canadian Army Service Corps, and held similar positions in the army service orchestras, and with the Colonial Concert Party in London, and the Provinces.

Henry B. Walthall is now a full-fledged Indian brave. During the filming of the spectacular Vitagraph super-feature, "Flower of the North," in which Mr. Walthall heads the unit with Pauline Starke, a tribe of Pacific Coast Indians joined the unit to act in the big fight scene which is one of the climaxes of the picture. Mr. Walthall was fond of playing with the copper-skinned little pa-poooses, and this won the hearts of their fathers and mothers. One evening the star was invited over to their camp, and after many ceremonies, was adopted into the tribe. Walthall was star of the screen, classic, "The Birth of a Nation."

The Times Latest Sporting News

SURPRISES OCCUR IN GOLF TOURNAY.

Yesterday A. V. Price and A. V. Macan, two of the leading golfers in this city, were defeated in play for city championship. It came as a surprise.

Clem Loughlin Will Be Here This Winter

Prairie Whirlwind Now Putting His Farm In Order and Will Come Here to Help Entertain the Hockey Nuts As Well As Make Effort to Bring a Pennant Home to Local Roost.

Clem Loughlin, the fastest piece of skating machinery in the Pacific Coast Hockey Association, is going to winter in Victoria this winter and will play hockey to while away his time. His signed contract is now in the hands of Lester Patrick, manager of the Aristocrats.

When Clem isn't playing hockey he's handling a plough, tractor, binder or thrashing machine up on his farm in Alberta. Clem thinks the farm is all right but he likes a bit of variety and he says you can't find any better diversion than by entertaining the folks in Victoria during the winter.

Clem is just now putting his horses in the barn, counting up his grain receipts and wondering whether the bank will hold all his earnings this last summer. Soon as he gets everything in farm-like he'll be hitting the ratters for the coast.

Clem is Popular.

Clem is a close rival for popularity with the fans on the coast loop with such famous stars as "Moose" Johnson and Frederickson. He's one of those clean cut boys who pay his bills on the side, and always smiles till Jack Adams or some of those other pesky boys upset him. Then as soon as Clem figures he's even again, he's off smiling the rest of the season.

This farmer-hockeyist is a comer. For the past two seasons he has been playing wonderful hockey. But a lot of the cross-eyed critics who sneered at him before the Alberta officials ever negotiated with the coast moguls, but he was considered in the deal when the magnates discussed the exchange of players.

Regular Regina Cyclone.

Clem is a regular cyclone on skates when he starts down at his own goal and begins a drive for the other end there's nothing but a lot of ice flying about, and odd figures trying vainly to create the "Clem" in the one weakness, and that is his helplessness when in front of the net with the puck. But he is overcoming it very nicely.

All last winter Clem was handicapped by a badly wrenched ankle, but he had the ice smoking at that. If he is fortunate in keeping free from mishaps this season he should lead into one of the flashes of the local squad. He has everything necessary for a good hockey player, brains, speed, a fair share of stick-handling and the knack of fighting hard whether ahead or behind.

The fans will be glad to see this flaxen-haired defence man back on the team.

Did you ever stop to think what a fine array of blondes the Aristocrats had on the line-up last year. There was the "Moose" Johnson, the affable, underdate, Gordon Meeking and Harry Meeking could qualify if he had left his hat off in a strong sun for awhile. Most of the blondes will be back in the Calgary party and everyone will be pulling strong for the prize-beauties.

Prairie fans are beginning to warm up for the hockey situation for next winter. The following is full of rumors of all kinds. The following is from a Calgary paper of late date, and will prove interesting to people on the coast.

If the Patrieks made good their promise to send Tobin, Seattle hockey player, through to the Alberta League, as part of the exchange for the Big Four players given up this year, the Calgary Canadians will have a good manager. Tobin is a seasoned man and knows how to run a club. So far the Canadians have not appeared in the Alberta league, but the re-organized team being handled by the executive.

It was first stated by Lester Patrick, when in Calgary, that Tobin would be available for Alberta, and this report was well received as he is just the calibre of a man the Canadians need. It now appears that Frank Patrick, hesitating about sending this Seattle player through, which leaves the Calgary club in a quandary.

Others to Go.

The other men expected from the coast are Muzz Murray, and possibly Gordon Meeking. There has been some talk of Bill Adams being switched in, but it all depends on the make-up of the Vancouver line-up, whether or not this defence man will be switched.

One of the coast men will have to be turned over to the Edmonton Eskimos in exchange for Brian Dutton was taken from the Canadians of Calgary, but it is hardly likely that Dutton will go West as he is not anxious to make the change.

PRICE AND MACAN BOTH ELIMINATED

Former Champions Suffered Defeat in Yesterday's Play For City Title

Defeat of A. V. Price, city and provincial champion, and A. V. Macan, former provincial champion, was the outstanding feature of Sunday's play in the City Championship Golf Tournament which is proceeding to-day at the Victoria Golf Club links at Oak Bay. As a result of yesterday's play, Higginstaff, Wilson and A. T. Goward to-day played for the championship.

Price's defeat came in the third round of the tournament. Wilson beat the young champion one up after an exciting battle. Macan came through this round by defeating Edwards 4 and 2, while Goward beat J. H. Wilson 3 and 4. Thomas, defeated Goward 4 and 2, while Goward beat J. H. Wilson 3 and 4.

A Great Victory.

In the semi-finals B. Wilson beat Thomas 3 and 2. Macan and Goward battled for nineteen holes before Goward won 1 up. Goward's victory was perhaps the most notable event in the tournament. Macan, who was narrowly defeated by Price for the provincial championship this year, is regarded as one of British Columbia's greatest golfers. That he has few equals is generally agreed. Goward received congratulations on all sides following his victory.

Play in the first flight yesterday left Darcus and Matterson to play in the finals to-day. Darcus won his way into the finals by defeating Parry and Musgrave, while Matterson won from Sayward and York.

Results in the championship flight:

Third Round.

Thomas won from Thompson, 5 and 4.

B. Wilson won from Price, 1 up.

Goward won from J. H. Wilson, 5 and 4.

Semi-Finals.

Record Scoring Made In English Football

One Hundred and Forty Goals Shot in Saturday's Matches. —Doran, Brighton's Fast Centre, Scores Four Goals in Four Minutes

London, Nov. 7.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The feature of the league soccer football games played in the old country on Saturday was the remarkable heavy scoring, the aggregate for the 43 English games being 140 goals.

The outstanding individual performance was that of Doran, Brighton's irrepresible Irish international centre, who netted five of the tallies for his club, four of them in the astonishing time of four minutes. He is now the top scorer of the first 17 games for the season so far, with 17 goals to his credit.

Chelsea Loses Again.

All the first division clubs with the exception of Chelsea, made a good recovery. Chelsea, on Saturday last defeated Burnley, after going along for two months without a victory, only to lose a game to Sheffield United Saturday by a score of 2 to 0. Chelsea, to phrase a football paradox, well deserved their defeat.

In the Southern section, Plymouth accomplished a splendid performance by defeating Swindon, 2 to 1, while Aberdare were easy winners over Queen's Park Rangers.

The leading scorers of the league to date are:

- First Division.
- Buchanan, Sunderland, 14.
- Second Division.
- Howarth, Leeds, 10.
- Third Division.

- Petrie, St. Albans, 13.

MEIGHEN'S STRENGTH SURPRISES OARSMEN

Lean Premier "Palmed" One of Gaudaur's Sculls; Few Men Can Do Stunt

Toronto, Nov. 7.—Arthur Meighen is an impressive performer. We refer you to a competent witness, Jake Gaudaur, ex-champion oarsman of the world. Meighen was in Orillia recently he gave the ex-champion the surprise of his life. Jake Gaudaur was the fastest man who ever sat in a boat. He holds the present world's record for three miles with a turn, 19.01, and has made the three fastest miles. Jake is a big man, built like a greynok statue.

Everybody who is anybody who visits Orillia sees Jake before they leave. So when Mr. Meighen was there to open a hospital or something, Bob Curran and a couple of others ran him over to Jake's place at the Narrows. In the ex-champion's old boat-house are yet preserved the immense sculls that he used on the Thames River when he defeated Stansbury of Australia for the world's rowing crown. Every Orillian holds this in reverent regard.

They Palmed It.

Of course the boat-house was visited and, of course, the historic oars were exhibited. Somebody asked Jake to "palm" one of them. This is a trick the old oarsmen have, and few there be who have the strength of wrist to accomplish it. It consists in taking hold of the oar by the handle, and extending it straight out from the shoulder, in line with the arm. Jake obligingly performed, and Bob (who, with Jack Gray, brother of George, the world's champion shot-putter, as a double scull partner) won the championship of America, twice—also held out the oar.

The boys smilingly suggested that Mr. Meighen try it. Mr. Meighen

SOCCER TEAMS IN SHOOTING MOOD.

On Saturday the English football teams scored 140 goals, a record for the season. One player, Doran, scored four goals in four minutes.

West's Handed Mets Their Worst Defeat

Last Year's Champions Suffered 4-0 Licking Saturday; First Time Wests Have Stepped on Mets and They Did It Well; Wests' Line Too Fast For Losers, While Defence Was Too Strong.

At last the Wests have had their revenge. They have beaten the Mets.

On Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park these bitter rivals came together to break up the tie in the league standing. It was the most critical game in the series, as a win for either was expected to indicate where the championship would go. Knowing of the enmity which existed between the two clubs, close on 1,500 spectators gathered in the stands and on the sidelines to watch the struggle.

'VARSITY' HAD HARD TIME WITH QUEEN'S

Ten Thousand Fans Tongued With Excitement in Game at Toronto

McGill Beaten in Snow by Syracuse; Winnipeg and Saskatoon Play To-day

Toronto, Nov. 7.—The Varsity team was given a big scare and won one of the closest victories in the history of Toronto football Saturday afternoon in the second and last game of the local inter-collegiate senior series, defeating Queen's University, Kingston, 13 to 12. Ten thousand rugby fans were almost tongue-tied with excitement and nervous strain when the whistle blew.

Varsity needed the game to make certain of a play-off with McGill should Shaughnessy's tribe beat the Presbyterians in Kingston next Saturday, while a win for Queen's would place them on the top of the standing with more than an even chance of beating McGill in the last scheduled game, and of winning the championship.

Will Play in Snow.

Winnipeg, Nov. 7.—The Winnipeg Victoria and Saskatoon city leagues will have to struggle through about six inches of snow here this afternoon, when they battle in the semi-final for the Western Canada rugby championship. Snow, which started falling Saturday, has covered the field and will make the footing very slippery, but the spectators are expected to be in the stands in spite of the weather.

It has been rather difficult to ascertain definitely just what stand the respective branches of sport desire to take, and to the end of securing a uniform rule of British Columbia opinion, soccer officials have decided to call public meetings in the various centres.

OLD BOYS SUFFERED TWO RUGBY DEFEATS

Waders Seniors and J.B.A. Intermediates Won Both Games on Saturday

Saturday's rugby results were as follows:

Senior League.

Waders, 5; Old Boys, 0.

Intermediate League.

J. B. A., 18; Old Boys, 0.

The Old Boys suffered two defeats on Saturday afternoon. Their seniors put up a vigorous fight against the Waders but were beaten by a lone try. In the intermediate game the boys completely outclassed the University boys.

The Wanderers secured their only try of the game after a nice run by G. C. Grant, who is over from Vancouver for the holidays and turned out to help his old team score a win. Grant made the only touch-down of the game.

The Old Boys tried hard to equalize the score and fought hard and steadily, but the Wanderers' defence broke up all their efforts.

The teams were as follows:

Wanderers—Tomlin; Wiltshire, Warburton, Johnson and Steele; Parker and Huxtable; G. C. Grant, Acland, Kerr and Honeychurch.

Old Boys—Macdonald; Ker, Hanbury, Challoner and Holms; Robertson and Wilson; Tolmie, Matson, Henderson, Young, Holmes, Garrard and Collinson.

Boys Intermediates Fast.

The Boys intermediates turned out a very well rounded out team, which featured a fleet set of three-quarters. The boys had little trouble in defeating the Old Boys and they should provide a very keen battle when they stack up against the Wanderers intermediates.

The Boys' points were scored by Hank Cameron and Billie Nachtrieb, who each scored a try. Tommy Sturges, who converted both, and the boys forwards, who rushed over the first try of the game.

each other this season and with the Wests two points out in front and able to stave off all other clubs which they are to meet this season, it is conceded by many that the Wests will be the top dog in the year. However, upon a quiet look-into feature further play and interest will not lag in the game.

The teams were as follows:

Wests—Shandley; Whyte and Copas; Thomas, S. Sherratt and Baker; Clarkson, Muir, Peden, Heyland and J. Sherratt.

Mets—Leeming; Church and Jackson; Wale, Brynjolfsson and English; Totty, Cummings, Petticrew, Merfield and Fairall.

Sons Spring Surprise.

The Sons of England sprang a surprise on Saturday when they defeated the Garrison, by the odd goal in three. The Garrison again were faulty in their shooting. The Sons did all their scoring in the first half, while the Sommes tallied their only goal in the second period.

Thistles Made Yawrows Step.

The Thistles, who are coming along very fast, had Yawrows stepping lively on Saturday to obtain a decision. All the scoring was done in the second half and at full time the Shipbuilders were leading by goals 2 to 1.

The teams were as follows:

Yawrows—Bridges; Ord and Rickinson; Mesher, Roe and C. Brown; Henderson, Bloom, Coles and Hurn.

Thistles—Hewitt; Breadner and Munroe; Pitts, Miller and Falchen; Hossain, Sandison, Wright, Brass and Newman.

Other soccer results on Saturday were as follows:

Second Division.

LARGE CROWD WATCH EXCITING GAMES

First Presbyterian Boys Won, But Girls Lost to St. Andrew's

A large attendance marked the opening basketball games at the First Presbyterian Gymnasium on Saturday night, when the girls and boys teams opposed the Belmonts and St. Andrew's. At the conclusion the scores showed that the Firsts had won and lost a game, the girls losing to St. Andrew's by a score of 24 to 15, while the Presbyterian boys defeated the Belmonts by 24 to 15.

A very fast game was supplied by the senior girls the credit must go to the boys for the more spectacular playing owing to the fact that the game was fairly even while the girls' game was very much one-sided.

The first half of the girls' game was all St. Andrew's who finished with the score standing at 10-4. At the opening of the second half a rally was made on the parts of the Firsts but they failed to keep this up. Two minutes after the whistle sounded a brilliant rush by Miss S. McGill secured the first basket of the second half and from then on the score mounted up.

Jean Buridge and Miss Hamilton scored most of the goals while the work of the guard in checking many of the rushing attacks of the Firsts was something remarkable. In fact it was the work of these two mainstays of the guard that kept the Firsts without a tally for some pretty combination work featured their side of the story. Their passing with some of Dot Aird's remarkable rushes proved very effective to the extent of bringing them within shooting range of basket but all attempts were smothered in the energetic way the St. Andrew's guard checked. Only one penalty was awarded.

Boys Game Fast.

The boys game proved to be the very opposite. Penalties were awarded on both teams and double penalties being secured at times, but for all that the game was clean and fast. Little scored the first point when he secured a penalty from the Belmonts. In the Presbyterian side Forbes, Little and Barry, who took the place of Webster, did the feature of their team while the Belmonts must be commented on. Stanley Moore proved to be the backbone of the Belmonts and with the help of Brindley, as a scorer, an Fatt who supplied some spectacular rushes which proved very effective, had not been for a slight mishap which put the Firsts out of the game for a few minutes. After the commencement of the second half the Belmonts picked up but Moore did not seem the same after the game for a few minutes. After the commencement of the second half the Belmonts picked up the side in their rushes. Long passes from the guards featured the Firsts' play, while a widely different manner was taken on the part of the Belmont's guard, who played in close and were satisfied in stop-

Secretary Roy Announces He is Preparing Report on Tour of Scottish Team

Winnipeg, Nov. 7.—A preliminary financial statement of the tour of the Scottish footballers through Canada will be issued within a week, and copies will be forwarded to all affiliated associations. So said David Roy, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, when he interviewed Saturday night regarding the so-called ultimatum from the Quebec Football Association. Roy's report repeats categorically remarks cited in the report which emanated from Montreal and far from considering the wire received from the P. Q. F. A. officials as an ultimatum, Mr. Roy states that it was couched in quite friendly terms.

SCIENCE AGAIN SEEKS TO WREST SECRETS OF MARS

Planet May Be Brought Within Few Miles of Earth by New Telescope

Martians Not Like Human Beings Their Civilization Higher

New York, Nov. 7.—(Associated Press).—Rocket, radio, or camera—which will be first to lay bare the secrets of Mars?

That is the question which has been asked by one of the three who will prove a successful Sherlock Holmes of the skies, but scientists, lured on by an age-old curiosity concerning our planet's neighbor, are pressing along all three paths.

The latest development to set the scientific world agog over the old question of whether there was life on Mars was the announcement from Paris of B. McAfee, American scientist, and Prof. David Todd, American astronomer, that they proposed to snap-shot the planet by using an abandoned mine-shaft in Chile as a means for a telescope.

Only a short time before, Signor Marconi, of wireless fame, had put a kick of interest in the most fantastic of scientific inquiries by suggesting that a radio signal of 150,000 meters which he had picked up might have come from some Martian armed with a megaphone.

But it was left to Prof. Robert H. Goddard, of Clark College, in Worcester, Mass., to suggest making an attempt to explore the unknown regions of a multiple-charge, high-efficiency rocket, capable of carrying cameras or other recording apparatus needed to explore the unknown regions of the upper air. As the claim was made that a rocket could be constructed of unlimited cruising power, it has been suggested that it might be shot up to Mars instead of the moon, which many scientists affirm is uninhabited.

One or two daring individuals even have volunteered to be shot up in place of a camera.

The possibility that some folk might be wandering up and down the valleys of Mars has excited the curiosity of astronomers and laymen throughout all the ages. For Mars is the nearest planet to the earth and the easiest to observe.

Mars Civilization Higher Than Ours? Imaginative writers took their readers on trips to the moon and laid the scenes of their stories in the surroundings of Mars, Saturn and other planets, but there was little scientific knowledge to furnish a basis for such fiction.

The perfecting of the high powered telescope and the adaptation of photography to the uses of the astronomer quickened their interest in the possibility of life on another world.

On view Tuesday from 10 o'clock or can be viewed by appointment. Take the Foul Bay car to the terminus.

Monster Turkey Farm at Lumby

Part of a flock of over 400 turkeys raised this year by Mrs. Eugene Bossette, Lumby, B. C. This is probably the largest turkey farm in British Columbia, if not in Canada.

The turkeys have not been supplied with feed since the middle of August, and they have over 500 acres of oat and wheat stubble to range over.

J. R. Terry, of the Department of Agriculture, visited this farm recently, as the owner claims she has a specific cure for the Black Head scourge which makes turkey-raising almost impossible on small areas.

Several young turkeys were examined that had apparently been cured by the remedy used by the owner. Mr. Terry, however, is of the opinion that further experiments should be conducted before the claims of the remedy are substantiated.
