HISTORY OF WABASH COUNTY.

BY JOHN C. GRAHAM.

INTRODUCTION.

On the 10th of December, 1816, was commenced the settlement of the town of Union, in the Territory of Indiana. It was the first of the kind in the Territory, and was the first of the kind in the State. It was the first of the kind in the Territory, and was the first of the kind in the State. It was the first of the kind in the Territory, and was the first of the kind in the State.

SETTLING OF THE WABASH.

The Wabash River had much to do in directing immigration to its fertile banks, on the same principle, perhaps, that has always generally done so in large towns.

The Wabash is not named, in classic or legend, as a really aboriginal or eminent symbol of fertility, and it may be so long as a fact was never mentioned for the fountain of perpetual youth, or as a source of the Nile. It is not named in the Bible, and it is not named in the history of the world.

The French explorers of the Wabash, as compared with Hennepin and LaSalle, who made the earliest mention of it, are not named in the history of the world. They were not named in the history of the world. They were not named in the history of the world.

These men followed in the tracks of the first explorers and missionaries, and are prominent in the history of the region from about the period of the Revolutionary war to the time of the first settlement. They were not named in the history of the world. They were not named in the history of the world.

James A. Smith, of our own country, now some seventy years of age, is one of the first settlers of the town which the Indians were the first to settle. He was not named in the history of the world. He was not named in the history of the world.

HISTORY OF THE TOWNSHIPS OF MIAMI COUNTY.

JEFFERSON TOWNSHIP.

THIS township was named in memory of the distinguished statesman, Thomas Jefferson. It was among the first settled in the county. Doubtless the question will arise as to how it happened that the pioneer selected the land of Jefferson in preference to that of some other township? A partial answer is given, perhaps, in the following: Through the central part of the township from east to west flows Old River. Among the banks of this stream were found dense forests of valuable timber—indicative of a deep, rich soil. There is an idea everywhere prevalent, and, perhaps, not without foundation, that land along water courses yields in fertility and durability. It may well be that these timetags which possess the best system of drainage, or, in other words, have the largest and greatest number of streams, are generally the best to be settled.

The longer a township has been settled the greater is our difficulty in obtaining reliable statistics concerning the early history, for we generally find the pioneers have passed to their reward, leaving no one to tell the story of their life in the woods. In Jefferson not one of the earliest settlers is yet a resident of the township. William Bono, of Union Township, is perhaps, the earliest settler of Jefferson living in the county. Through an interview with him, together with many others, who have a few years later, we are enabled to make a brief historical sketch of the township.

The honor of breaking the forests of Jefferson is attributed by every one to Solomon Wilkinson and family. He entered his land December 13, 1820, and moved his family early the next spring, 1831, fixing his home on the land now the present site of Mexico. He also had claim to much land adjoining thereto, which he and his sons afterward entered. He had seven sons—Jaffitt, John, Jacob, Jesse, William, Simon and Baham. Hence the family was a small entity within itself, but that time it controlled almost an iron constitution, a determined resolution, supported by untiring energy, to grapple successfully with the many obstacles presented, and procure the necessities of life until a rop could be raised. The Wilkinsons were the "right men in the right place." They played their part so well "that others seeing their good works," and being stimulated by their example, were induced later in the same year to take up their abode in the wild woods of Jefferson. They were Wood Beard, who settled on the Summit Wolf farm, and Abraham Beard, who located on the farm which at present is owned by Mr. Hood.

In 1832, a few more stalwart men were added to the little band farm; John Connor, who settled on the Bond and Beaver farm; John Smith on that belonging to Mr. Leonard; Alexander Jamison, on the Harter farm, and William Smith on the farm owned by Mr. Skinner.

In 1833 came the following substantial citizens: Eli Cook, who settled on what is now the Malheur farm, and William Bono on the farm belonging to Harter. Others of the same year whose exact places of settlement cannot be learned, were Martin Burgess, Elias Baldwin, John Horner and Charles L. Leary.

In 1834 came the following: Thomas Harman, who settled on the Craft farm; William Eaton on the Widow Barber land; Hamilton Duff, on the farm belonging to Stroman; Charles Murlen, on the farm of Bart; and John Smith on the farm owned by Dennis, and a Mr. Shalinger on the farm belonging to his wife.

These of 1835 were: Henry Haas, Alvin Wyckoff, Joseph, John and Levi Cramer, Isaac Hicks, Isaac Newman, Joseph Holman, Asa Leonard and Charles Spencer.

Prominent among those who came in 1836, were James Nathaniel Clempard, Daniel Albright, William Leach, Daniel Cox, a Mr. Coulter and Peter Fisher. The latter still a resident of the township, and is now in his eightieth year. He has been longer in the township than any one now living, and has ever manifested a deep interest in all tending to advance her welfare.

Among those who came in 1837, with some who came soon after and shared the trials and hardships incident to pioneer life, we name Jacob, E. Jones and his wife, Joseph (the latter still a resident of the township); Abraham Johnson, Jesse and Isaac Bond, John Rath, Francis Edwards, William Giddet, Jacob Kress, Samuel Newman, Samuel Anderson and Charles Leary.

The above named men formed the basis of the early settlement. Many were the hardships endured by the pioneer while clearing his land. He found the Indian roaming at will through the dense forests in search of game. There hovering about his door were such creatures as cutting every foot of his way through the dense woods, reached his home the first thing to be done was to build a cabin. This was accomplished by the following means: Round logs were used for the framework and flanked with mud, pitched over both with boards and split from a heavy or elm, pumell and at the bottom and sides, and were nipped just with pointed cut, pine, and peeled and headed up the logs, and the wall. All was covered with dry boards fastened on with weight, nails, held up by "knees." The door was made of thin or pine planks, with wooden hinges and latch. A string attached to the latch went through the door, and hand outside, by which the door was closed to enter.

The furniture was of crude and hasty construction, as well appear from a description of a pioneer household. It was made from whatever of the forest, and was of the most primitive character. It was fastened to the partition floor. The best two beds, placed at right angles, were attached to the sides, and being tacked to the wall. The frame thus formed was covered with pine planks or split instead of cloth. The floor was raised a few feet with split wood, which the pioneer was usually provided. Upon this he laid himself, and with his hands and feet, and split most partially than a nail would of today the house the best of settlement.

The cabin built, and furnished by his family, the pioneer went diligently to work to clear a patch of ground. This was done by cutting out the timber, clearing under and under interdependence. The first plowing among the stumps and roots was a serious job. For this purpose a jumping shovel, with a thick short beam, was used. This would go leading around at a rate that would have tired the patience of a child.

Until a rop could be raised, the pioneer was compelled to transport the necessities of life over muddy, winding and almost impossible roads, from points twenty and thirty miles distant. Meat was easily obtained from the forests, as it abounded in deer, turkey and wild game of every kind. But for the deer they could scarcely have lived. It was often almost the only food in the house.

Notwithstanding these hardships, there was much real enjoyment in the "grand old forest." Was there a cabin to be raised of some logs to be rolled, every man in the neighborhood was present to lead a helping hand. Then, in the gatherings at night, where all appeared clad in homespun, there was a kind of general rejoicing; in truth, so kind, genial and accumulating, were all, that very appropriately may it be termed the "Social Period."

The first religious meeting in Jefferson Township was held at the cabin of William Smith, in 1833, by the Methodists. The first church was built by the same denomination in Mexico in 1840. The next was the New Lights, the Fall-Down farm. The Dunkaris, or German Baptists, built a church on the Miller farm, in 1841. There has since grown to be one of the leading denominations of the township. They are universally esteemed as industrious, moral and unpretentious citizens.

The first school was taught in an old log house, which had been built for a dwelling, and stood on the Wyckoff farm, near where John Stanton now lives. William Swatall had charge of the first school held there, in the Winter of 1835-36. Soon after this, the first school-house was built on the Charles Murlen farm. Joseph Holman taught the first school held in the new place.

The township was organized in 1834. The following year, an election was held in Mexico at the house of Asa Leonard. Asa Leonard was the first Justice of the Peace. The names of the other township officers are at present unknown.

Old River affords splendid water power for the successful operation of mills. Bart Daniels was not long in the township before he determined to embark in such an enterprise. Though the energy manifested in procuring this site, the pioneer, as early as 1837, could have his logs sawed into lumber, or his own ground into meal. The completion of this mill was received with general rejoicing by the pioneers, it enabled them to obtain their material for bread almost at their own doors. John Bartlett was the next to engage in the milling business, in about 1837. After him came Elijah Cox, who built a mill the following year—1838.

The first black was that of Solomon Wilkinson, in 1832. The first marriages and births are here unable to ascertain.

In improvements Jefferson still stands among the remotest townships in the county. Her fertile valleys and rich productive uplands have enabled her citizens to make time to time such improvements as they might desire. Today fine farms under better cultivation, with more substantial dwellings, are not to be found in Miami County.

The names and locations of churches will be had by reference to the map. Her school houses are—graded school children, — population, —.

THE TOWN OF MEXICO

was laid off in 1824 by Simon and John R. Wilkinson. Its business-houses in present are as follows:

Wilson & Homan, dry goods and groceries; Elias Oliver, Poot and Shaw, E. K. Hudson, Druggist, Wilson & Homan, Hardware; Hood, Benjamin Clark, Druggist; Joseph Lester, Backinck; David Pike, Wagon Shop; Robin, Mully, Wagon Shop; Miller, Rhine, Co., Proprietors of Mills; Parfurner Manufacturing Company, Proprietors of Mills; and Hiram Smith, Ream & Frantz, Grand Mill. Three Churches, Methodist, Baptist and Discard, I tried School and a Post Office, J. O. Wilson, Postmaster.

DEWY

A part of this town is situated in Jefferson Township. It was laid off in 1872, by Harrison firmes. The business houses located in Jefferson are as follows: W. W. Clark, Druggist and Groceries; H. S. Elliott, Flour and Oil; W. H. Terney, Meat Market; E. F. Dowd & Son, Millinery; D. E. Taylor, Groceries; Head, John Neal, painter; M. Bappert, Chair Shop; M. Barrett, Druggist; H. Jones, Shop; Richard Ode, Plumber; Mill, J. S. Owsen. The population of the entire township, about 500.

UNION TOWNSHIP.

Presented the year 1825, no firm does statement had been made in this township. In the Spring of that year 1825, four men came and fixed their homes within the present limits of the township, the was William Cannon who settled on the John Fall out a Mile farm, J. Seth Thornbury on the farm belonging to Mr. Fisher; John Foster, who "settled" on the land where Mr. Leedy after several years and finally left who was also a "squatter," on the land now belonging to William Leedy.

Until October, 1825, the four men named above were the only inhabitants of the township. At that time, came Abraham H. Leedy, now a resident of Lincoln, Allen Township, dwelling on the John Kiplinger farm, and John Zook, on the present site of Bodeville. In the Spring of 1832, Martin Hoover settled on the farm where he now lives. The Winter of 1835 and 1836 he spent in Jefferson Township. He has been longer in the township than any one now living. He and Mr. Leedy of Allen are the only ones left of the first settlers to tell the story of pioneer life.

Others of 1836 were John H. Wright on the William Deed farm, Christian Kridler, on the farm owned by his heirs; John F. Sanders on the farm belonging to Charles Kratzer, and Hugh A. B. People on the Miller farm.

Among those of 1837 were the following: John A. Taylor, George Haas, Steven Davidson, Mathew Fennimore, Daniel Cox, William Willams, — Shapard, William Baum, Samuel Robins and John Scott.

Among those who came in 1838 we name J. A. Hoiland, Jonathan Griffin, Christopher Williams, David Cox, William Connor, George Hill, Joseph and Daniel Kessler, Lewis Connor and John Pugh.

A large list of names could be given of those who entered the township in 1840 and soon after, but as many changes occurred at that time, we shall content ourselves with having given the basis of the early settlement.

The first religious meeting in the township was held at the cabin of Daniel Cox, in 1837, by the Methodists. William Williams and John Dabney were the early preachers of this denomination. The next meeting was held the same year, 1837, at Martin Hoover's, by the Christians—William Nels presiding.

The first church in the township was built by the Presbyterians, in Perry-shar, about 1839. The next was in the same place, by the Methodists.

The first school house was built on the John Foster, afterward Leedy farm, in 1838. Malinda Scott had charge of the first school held in the township. Soon after this, in 1839 or 1840, school houses were built on the Cross and Kiplinger farms.

The township was organized November 6, 1837. Under this organization, an election was held at Perry-shar, the same Fall, in a little store-room of M. Fennimore. A. H. Leedy acted as first Justice, and was also chosen first Justice of the Peace. David Cox was first Clerk. The names of the other township officers are at present unknown.

The first trading post in the township was established by M. Fennimore, in Perry-shar, in 1837. The first post office was established the same year at the same place—Fennimore acting as Postmaster.

In 1838, John A. Taylor built a saw-mill, to which was afterward attached a corn-crazer. This stood on what is now the Chandler and Goodwin farm, on West Wesley Creek. About the same time, Joseph Hillman built a saw mill, with a corn-crazer, on the Woodlark farm. These mills were highly prized by the pioneers for the great convenience it afforded them in having their corn ground so near home.

The first marriage in the township was that of Joseph Bartlett to a daughter of Hugh A. B. People, in the Spring of 1838; Mr. A. H. Leedy, Justice of the Peace. A little later, the same year, John Scott was married to Mary Gillard, by Mr. Nelson, minister.

January 6, 1839, there was born to Sarah, wife of Martin Hoover, a daughter, Mary, who was probably the first white child born to the township.

The first death was Susannah Baltimore (which occurred in 1837. Her funeral was preached at the house of Martin Hoover, and was probably the first sermon of any kind preached in the township. A child of John Wright's died the same year—1837.

Among casualties we notice the sudden and mysterious disappearance of Mr. Douglas. This gentleman had been laboring for some time on the Fall River, in Jefferson Township, and was regarded by all as an honorable upright young man. He had directed attention to business and studies; he had been accumulated considerable money; with this he desired to enter land. On a certain Saturday evening in 1836, he came in company with Mr. M. Leedy to meet Mr. B. Cannon, to the residence of the latter. Here it was arranged to borrow horses of Cannon, and for Smith to accompany Douglas a certain distance on his journey to Fort Wayne, the nearest land where Douglas was going to enter land. Following morning Smith and Douglas started on their journey. To-day, Smith returned, saying that Douglas had gone on to Fort Wayne. The latter was never heard of afterward. The land records being examined, it showed that he never appeared at Fort Wayne to enter land. The only supposition of all who were so acquainted with the circumstances was that Douglas had received land granted from the lands of Smith. Suspicion rested so heavily upon the families of Smith and Cannon, that they soon after left the township for parts unknown, and their names have almost sunk into oblivion.

The names and location of churches in Union will be had by reference to the map. Her school houses are—graded school children, — population, —.

PERRY-SHAR

was laid off 1837, by Mathew Fennimore. At present it contains the following business-houses: J. S. Hamilton, General Merchant; George W. Wright, General Merchant; J. S. Hamilton, Blacksmith; Tom Hines, Blacksmith and Methodist; J. S. Hamilton, Population from 1,250 to 1,500.

DEWALLE

is a small village on the I. P. & C. R. It was laid out in 1850 by William DeWall and Samuel Leidy. It contains the following business houses:
W. Leidy and E. Hill, Coal Store; Warehouse; Leidy & Hill, S. S. S. Mill; Platt, Blacksmith; J. Morrison, Coal; S. W. Mill; Leidy, Coal; Wagon Shop; J. School House; and a First-class Population 125.

DEWEY

Several dwellings and the following business houses of this rapidly growing town are in DeWey:
W. O. P. Fine, Dry Goods; and Notions; J. H. Charles, Hardware; A. P. Fine, Dry Goods; J. DeWey, Wagon Shop; A. Armstrong, Blacksmith; A. Griffith, Saw-mill; F. H. Williams, Cabinet Shop; J. Church, Methodist.
The population of the town, including that portion which is in Jefferson, is about 750.

ALLEN TOWNSHIP.

In the winter of 1841-2, three sturdy men, John Horton, P. N. Whately and P. J. Holcom, having determined to try their fortunes in a new country, came and built three cabins, preparatory to locating their homes in the new State.

Only one of these cabins, however, ever stood within the limits of what is now Allen Township. This belonged to John Horton, and stood on the farm now owned by the Wilsons. Hence, to Horton is due the honor of being the first white settler in the township. He moved his family to the cabin in 1841, and took formal possession of his forest home. Two of his sons, now at the same time, are yet residents of the township. Whately and Holcom moved at the same time, but settled just across the line, in Fulton County.

Until 1842, Horton was the only white inhabitant of the township. In that year, however, several Americans now residing here, moved to the then unbroken forests of Allen. They were George Nece and his brother William. George located on what is now the N. S. Hart farm, while William settled on the farm owned by David Zornow; also Jonathan Williams and his brother Isaac. Jonathan located on the S. S. Tracy farm, and Isaac on the Nece, now Hart, farm.

In 1842 came the following substantial citizens: The Wilkinsons—John, Rubin, George, Anderson and James. John, David, son after their arrival, Rubin settled on the Kozing farm; Anderson, on the farm where he is now living; George, on the land which is now the present site of Lincoln; and James on the land belonging to F. P. Hart. The same year, J. Ricker settled on the Weller farm; Frederic Beck, on the farm owned by William Savage; Jesse Vest, on that owned by Mr. Gidd; James, John and Samuel Dickey, on the land owned by Steyer and Horton; P. N. Carvey, on a half farm belonging to his son, and Seward Bailey, on what is now the Carvey farm.

Prominent among those who came in 1848 were—Hersch and son, who located on the farm where he lives; Thomas Clemens on the Sullivan White farm; Richard Bailey on the land belonging to a non-resident, George Hixson on the farm where he is now living; Jesse Richard and Elmer Thompson on the Weller Hart farm; Elmer Hale on the Ford farm; and William Spicers on the farm belonging to Mr. Washington.

Among those of 1849, were Jonathan Williams, David Kinder, Nathaniel and Charles Brown, William Taylor, Sullivan Wagoner, Daniel C. Horn, Samuel Ford, Frederick Fetz, William Fenimore, Henry Stenderker, William Bages, Joseph and Richard Endrey, Peter Wuestler and Elias Holt.

After 1849, the township was rapidly settled, the greater part of the land soon being entered. Having given the basis of the early settlement, we shall not attempt to name those who came later than 1849.

The first religious meeting in the township was held at the home of George Nece, in 1845, by the Baptist. The next year, 1846, by the Methodists, William Williams presiding. The same year, 1847, meeting was held at the residence of Richard Thompson by the Baptists, a Mr. Knolle presiding. The next regular church organization was perfected by Isaac Baska, a Methodist minister, at the house of Anderson Wilkinson, in 1849. The first church was built by the Methodists in Lincoln, in 1849. The first church was built by the Baptists in Lincoln in 1849. The first church was built by the Baptists in Lincoln in 1849.

The first school in Lincoln was held at the residence of George Nece, in 1849, by Sarah Perry. She received $2.00 for her term, and $1.00 per week. The year following, Betty Bailey taught a school in the same place. The first school house was built on the Nece, now Hart farm in 1849. The next year, a school was held at the Bryant farm. George Wilkinson taught the first term in the township supported by public money.

Until September 6, 1850, Allen farm, a part of Fulton Township. At that time, Allen was with Fulton Township. The first election in the township was held in Lincoln, at the residence of Senator Allen, in 1850. The same year, 1850, a school was held at the residence of Senator Allen, in 1850. PERSONAL SKETCHES OF SOME OF THE PROMINENT MEN AND PIONEERS OF MIAMI COUNTY.

JOHN AMBROSE GRAHAM

was born in Baltimore, Maryland, January 8, 1817. His parents were natives of Ireland, and came to the country in 1815. They landed in Baltimore in that year, after a stormy passage of four months, their vessel being nearly wrecked, and her passengers undergoing great hardships during their protracted voyage.

In 1826, the family moved to Pittsburgh, in 1827, to Wheeling, and in 1828, back to Baltimore. In 1830, they moved to Harper's Ferry, and in 1832, to Indiana, the subject of this sketch remaining at Harper's Ferry, during its stay, until 1833. In May of that year, at the age of eighteen, he started for Indiana, which, at that day, was considered pretty far west. At Wheeling, he took passage on a steamboat for the mouth of the Wabash, where he landed at midnight by the yard, the boat only rounding head up stream to put her solitary passenger for that point ashore. The country for miles around was under water, and the surroundings of his first hotel on Hoosier soil, as far as they could be taken in by the eye through fitful glimpses of moonlight, were of a character to inspire favorable first impressions.

The mouth of the Wabash, of the youthful pioneer's mental picturing, was a town of houses and people, the place in reality was without either. It presented nothing to the eye, at that time, but a dreary waste of turbid water, and to the ear no sound but the cry of some wild bird and the crash and crash of the drifting timber. Not a living creature or sign of habitation was to be seen—no bus to convey him to any part of the city, and no log-cabin runner promising the superior advantages of the hotel in whose interest he was employed. On the contrary, the voyage traveler was permitted to enjoy the sweets of solitude, which he did stifle upon his baggage barely out of the water, where it had been played by the surly lightning, and near night-fall, when, to vary the monotony, he ventured up on top of the bank above his feet, some things like a building, and outlined in the obscurity of the morning fog, and the faint but welcome sound of human voices struck upon his ear from a point farther up the river. Advancing cautiously in the direction of the sound to a point about half a mile up the river, he found a steamboat, and he took passage for that point. Here, after several days' detention by high water, he took the stage for Lafayette. At Lafayette, the hotels were full of people, all seemingly from the same business—land-hunting for bums. Finding the wots in the stage for Leicestersport taken for several days in advance, and that to secure one he would have to pay his passage and await his turn, he relinquished that idea, and took the stage to the place where he performed the ped-dler's task, and reached Peru, his place of destination, weary and foot-sore.

At Peru, he entered the service of Alexander Wilson to clerk in a store that he and a brother were going to start at Leicestersport. He remained at the latter place in charge of the store until the spring of 1835, when the business was closed, and he returned to Peru, in accordance with the original agreement. At Peru, he worked for A. Wilson until the Fall of 1836, when he had been previously agreed upon, he became the partner of Mr. Wilson the firm being A. Wilson & Co. The first pork crop packed in Peru for sale in another market was packed by this firm in 1839. The enterprise proved a financial failure for several seasons, the most potent of which was that in consequence of low water in the Shawnee, they could not get the hogs they had shipped to a point on that river to New York, and had to ship to Leicestersport. The firm was dissolved in 1841, when, in 1840, building railroads, and shipping by way of the Wabash to New Orleans, but this venture was equally unsuccessful, in consequence of hard times, glutted market, and low prices.

The partnership with Mr. Wilson dissolved in 1841, when the subject of this sketch was elected Sheriff of the county, in which office he was re-elected in 1842, and which he filled until the expiration of his term, in 1845. In 1845, he was appointed Superintendent of the Wabash & Erie Canal, and occupied his clerk in the Canal Land Office, which he held until the summer of 1847, when, under the act adjusting the State debt, known as the "Baker Bill," the office was abolished, and he resigned.

Being out of business, after the removal of the Land Office he bought the printing office, which was then idle, being several efforts to establish a newspaper in the place had failed.

After a residence of about a year in the place, on the 25th of June, 1848, he first married the Mrs. Maria G. Sargent, which he conducted as editor and proprietor until the Summer of 1851, a period of over three years. The paper was published in a business-printed year, and so one of the leading business papers of the State. It was well published, although it has passed through several hands since his connection with it ceased.

In 1850, he was elected to the office of Honorable-ative-Debate to the Indiana Constitutional Convention. In 1850, he was elected Clerk of the Court. He has been a Member of the Town and City Councils at different times. County Agent—Indiana State Special Agent in charge of the office of the State at various times in 1850 and 1851, and held both of these positions of responsibility, in all of which he has conducted with ability and integrity.

At the age of twenty-seven he commenced a large business in a store, and as a consequence of the depression he was removed in several cases of an elementary character, and died that time.

He was married in Peru, Indiana, on the 25th of June, 1842, to Caroline A. Asstine, and a family of six girls and three boys settled their home. The hand of Death wrapped their most joyous household in mourning, by taking home a few years ago, two of his sons, and within the past year, his only son and beloved wife.

He lives in a comfortable home in Peru, surrounded by his remaining children, and occupies his time in superintending his farm near town, and managing his other business.

WM. L. BUTLER, PERRY TOWNSHIP.

was a son of Hiram and Nancy Butler, and grandson of Wm and Elizabeth Butler.

Hiram Butler, the father, was born Dec. 21, 1808, in Warren County, State of Georgia. During boyhood, was brought by his parents to Indiana. Here they first settled in Wayne County, then in Henry County, and finally in La Porte County. They were the sons of Nancy Crumaker, Nov. 22, 1828. She was the daughter of Joel and Elizabeth Crumaker, born June 11, 1809, in Bedford County, Virginia. She emigrated with her parents to La Porte County, in 1835.

In 1838, Hiram Butler and young wife moved to Perry Township, Miami County, where eventually he became the owner of a large estate. He soon grew to have the confidence of the people of his new county, and in the years 1840 and 1852 respectively was elected County Commissioner, serving as such two full terms, or six years. In 1870, his name was announced for the same office again, but his nomination was not successful. In 1871, he was elected and killed by a horse. He was buried with Masonic honors, in the cemetery at Gilard, and it is said his funeral was attended by the largest concourse of people ever witnessed in the north end of Miami County.

His widowed wife still lives on the old homestead, in Perry Township, with their only son, Wm. L. Butler, to whom this is dedicated.

He was born at this homestead, January 27, 1841. Growing to manhood, Feb. 7, 1867, he married Miss Catherine Tridle, daughter of Jacob and Sarah Tridle of Kosciusko County, Indiana. She had been married with her private family from Miami County, Ohio, where she was born, October 27, 1840.

A sketch of that old homestead with portraits of Hiram Butler and wife and Wm. L. Butler and wife can be seen occupying a full page in this volume. Wm. L. Butler is now in the prime of life. He is surrounded with comfort and plenty, and may a happy future await him!

GEORGE WILKINSON, LINCOLN ALLEY TOWNSHIP.

This worthy citizen of Miami County is a native of Ross County, Ohio. His father, John Wilkinson, emigrated to that county, at an early day, from North Carolina—the State which had given birth to both the father and the mother.

Traveling farther back his origin, his grandfather Wilkinson was born in Ireland, while his mother had descended from German ancestry. George had been born February 10, 1817. During the Fall of his twentieth year (1836), his father's family, including himself, took their leave of the State of Ohio, and emigrated to the Hoosier State, thence to Miami County, to the spot where now stands the precinct. A double ox team was employed, and sixty-five days were required to make the journey of three hundred miles. They spent their first Winter in the then hamlet of Madison, this county, thence to the following Spring, to the spot where now stands the village of Lincoln, and there established a permanent settlement.

At that time, the braying yell of the Post-Whoremasters still rang through the forests of Miami County, and the name of the Wilkinsons was the fourth family to visit in the press at Lincoln of Allen Township—those of John, Horton, George and William Noyes also having preceded them.

During the winter of 1836, the following diseases were very prevalent: The atmosphere, of course, must have been tainted more with miasmatic rains than since the dense timber began to disappear, since the elements so could penetrate to shed its golden, beautiful rays, and confer skill and industry have assumed chronic for duration. The exposures were too severe for the endurance of the laborer. He died December 21, 1838. The mother miraculously survived from thirty-two years. She followed him to the golden Shores in 1870, aged 71 years.

Upon the death of his father, George—then 21 years of age—took upon himself the care of his widowed and aged mother, and the management of the homestead. In 1837, he married Miss Sarah J. Powell with whom he has since lived happily ever since. At that time, and has been for some years, head preacher in the M. E. Church. He obtained leave of absence from his responsibility, 1842, and has since been a successful mercantile business man, as well as the same officer of Allen Parish, Standard and Trustee.

At the second election in 1854, he was elected for a term of four years, Kenneth M. Gandy, senior, he held the office unobtainably to himself, and he finally as a servant for the public. In 1859, he, with others, petitioned the Board of County Commissioners for a division of their First Township. The petition was granted, and thus, from the north half of Union was constructed the Township of Allen, as now appears.

During the Fall, also, of that year (1859), he and his brother James erected a building for a store, at what is now the northeast corner of the town of Lincoln, purchased a small stock of goods and opened up trade. Soon after, he and George launched his mother's interest in both the building and stock. This passing about three years, and finding the business not yielding satisfactory returns, Mr. Wilkinson closed out his stock in trade and retired, anxious to engage in the time of entering the mercantile business, Mr. Wilkinson laid out twenty acres and called it Lincoln, selling some of the lots at ten dollars each.

The I. P. & C. R. R. was completed in 1860. During that year, Mr. Wm. jointly with Mr. James M. Powell, laid out what is known as Wilkinson & Powell's Addition to the town of Lincoln. Also, during that year (1860), Mr. Wm. erected the building for a railroad depot at Lincoln; then selling it, erected the grain warehouse at the same town. Since then up to the present year (1877), he has been connected with the grain and warehouse business, but he has not retired. He says for many years after their settlement in what is now Allen Township, he knew by name and acquaintance nearly every voter in the north half of Miami County. But at this time he is unacquainted with many of the voters of his own township, and feels that he has become largely a stranger in his own land.

He is now in his 61st year, and says that, in taking a review of his life, he sees in it many defects, "but is thankful to the All-wise Being for His goodness and mercy wherewith he has been blessed, so that, in the language of one of our old days, he exclaims, 'Goodness and mercy hath followed me all the time of my life.' He may be enjoyed, and great of usefulness yet be many.

JOHN AKRIGHT, GILEAD, PERRY TOWNSHIP.

This most worthy citizen of Miami County is by descent a combination of English and German. His father, John Akright, born in England, crossed the Atlantic to American shores at the age of 13 years. At the breaking out of the Revolutionary, he took sides with his patriotic brethren, and participated in one of the long and bloody struggles. He was in the battle of Brandywine, Monmouth, Trenton and many others. Was a soldier, brave and true, but as a whittled, escaped through all, unhurt.

He had a cool head and died about 1828. Mr. Wm. Akright, the father of John, and a native of the Keystone State, was born in 1788. Arriving at the age of young manhood, he came westward, as far as Wayne County, Ohio, where, eventually (about 1818), he married, and there fixed his residence for a number of years. For his companion, he chose Miss Sarah M. Gray, daughter of John Mowey, who had been a pioneer of Wayne County. Mr. Mowey's vacation was short-lived. His ancestors were German. After marriage, and while residing in Wayne County, Wm. Akright pursued the vocation of farming.

Accumulating a small property, he resolved, in 1831, to take a home still farther westward. During that year, he worked for two years in Ind., moving by team, accompanied by his family, and having upon his arrival, each man $125 in silver. With $100 of this amount he directly purchased 80 acres, four miles to the northeast of the first house or small village of Gilead.

Making slight improvements, he sold the same before the end of the year for a small advance, and rented a farm in the vicinity, purely an education. This done, he sold a part to the one unimproved, and moved to Miami County, where he bought 120 acres on the site of what is now Perry Township. The second year thereafter (1832), he moved his family to this new home.

The falling in of the winter of 1832, he encountered considerable hardships. But a few years in fact, and yet endured a life of desirable and unquenchably painful. No dollars either in and they were no longer in a wilderness, poverty, solitary and isolated. The family of Wm. Akright, now first concentrated to one place, in the Brick State State, one in Cass County, and the remaining six in Perry Township. John, of whom we write, was the fourth child, born Wayne County, Ohio, Aug. 25, 1824. His father, James Gandy, James, Kinzler, and James are the only children yet living. James resided in Kosciusko County, this State, and Elizabeth wife of Iral Shoemaker, in Perry Township, this county. John was a milk-seller, but an excellent student of the law. He has through financial embarrassments, he sustained a loss, both in content of necessity, and 21 years of age. His opportunities at school had been very few in childhood. Three months—so that very little of the law he would ever acquire. He was a student of the law, but yet he passed the first trial of general law. He had to cope through struggle labor, and not prompted by gold, but with self-reliance, had been his resource for the past years. He has not only succeeded in his business, but he has probably for himself and social life, a community in doing a few lines of school. In the present day, and labor, he has the care of his father. Years ago, he had some success in his own business, but he has not been successful in his own business. May 29, 1857, he married Mrs. Susannah this town, and his father was mentioned upon the page make rapid progress under the instruction of the Rev. Alphons A. Kelly. In 1851, he was made a Justice of the Peace, which he abandoned the following year to return to the study of the law. In December, 1853, he was admitted to the Bar of Miami County, and entered into partnership with Hon. H. J. Smith, with whom he has since maintained a close and honorable association. In the Winter of 1852, he was elected Justice of the Peace, three terms without appointment. He was rapidly in his professional career, and with the able co-operation of the Bar. In October, 1852, he was named by a committee of the Twenty-third Judicial District of Indiana composed of the counties of Miami, Cassad, Dubois, &c. to the office, he was elected without appointment. This was a high honor upon him, and more particularly so, as he is the only member of the Miami County Bar who has been elevated to the position. In this capacity he served his constituents, until the Legislature abolished the Court, which he removed the practice of the law with his former partner, Mr. Clark.

At the close of his brief professional career, Judge Mitchell retired from the high position, and retired to his beloved country, with an ample pecuniary provision, and a record of which he may justly be proud. The name of the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, District Attorney, is no higher stamp of respect, and dignity.

He is a liberal and unassuming speaker, and is known throughout the county as a conscientious adviser and a successful practitioner. Though a widower, he is one of our best citizens. His name will stand out prominently in the years to come, as an example of what may be accomplished by application and perseverance in the difficult profession of the law.

We regret that limited space precludes a more extended biography.

REV. GEO. BROWER

Rev. Geo. Brower was born in Franklin County, Virginia, in the year 1799. In 1803, his parents, with their family of seven children, emigrated to Ohio. They purchased three hundred and twenty acres of land on the north bank of the Great Miami River. In 1812, the subject of our sketch emigrated to Miami County, on the north bank of the El River, in what is now Jefferson Township, in Miami County. Shortly after his settlement, he purchased a tract of land containing a little more than 1,000 acres. This tract he has divided among his family, retaining but 200 acres upon which his homestead is located. Mr. Brower's family consists of ten children, named respectively Elizabeth, John, Mary, Susanna, Josiah, Anne, Sarah, Sarah, Jeremiah, and Paul.

Mr. Brower was united with the German Baptist church about the year 1830. A few years later his congregation closed him to the ministry. In this capacity he has served faithfully through all the years that have followed, discharging with cheerful religious zeal every duty incumbent upon him. We can wish for friends in wishing him many years of usefulness among his neighbors and congregation, in that the "tale of his years shall have been told" may he hear the welcome greeting, "well done, thou good and faithful servant."

By one of Mr. Brower we insert the following:—"In conclusion, we commend to the readers of this work the food, and to the great source of salvation so easily secured, as the words of St. Jerome Chabot.

REV. GEORGE B. BROWN

REV. OLIVER H. SANDIFUR, DEER CREEK TOWNSHIP, was born in Fayette County, Indiana, July 17th, 1821. In the Fall of 1820 he moved with his parents (Noah and Mary Sandifur) to Tippecanoe County, from which place they removed to Carroll County, Ia., in the Spring of 1822. In the fall of January, 1826, he removed to the "Miami Reserve," where he resided two years later in Fall of 1828, and purchased from the Government a part of the land which he now occupies.

On the 24th of August, 1828, he was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Sarah Boyer. Six children—four sons and two daughters—have blessed their union, all of whom are now living. In the year 1851, Mr. Sandifur married with the Methodist Episcopal Church his wife, and since that time he has been engaged in active service, two years later moved to Iowa as an exhibitor and in the following August, received a local preacher's license. In this capacity he has ministered on the ways of the Lord, and has labored for many who know not, and endeavoring to become his religious profession by a faithful and humble discharge of the duties of his position. He has never sought notoriety in worldly circles, but with a sweetness of temper, has endeavored to serve his Master. Many of those near by his church and whose hearts he delights to expand. Happy in his privilege as an American citizen, his political principles are governed by his conscience, and the measures which insure the maintenance of American principles are the measures which receive his support.

Next to the family circle, he finds his greatest comfort in laboring for the moral welfare of his country, and the remaining in the Church the power which is to raise the world from sin and degradation to find our Heaven.

JAMES M. BROWN, PRAU.

James M. Brown was born in Union County, Indiana, October 15, 1826. His youthful days were spent upon a farm, enjoying the moral educational facilities afforded by the common schools of that day. When near the age of 15, he entered Beth Gove Academy, an institution of his native county, under the patronage and control of the Friends of the cause, at Millington, Ohio, one of the most successful academies of Eastern Indiana, as Prau.

For some years, his time was divided between attendance at this academy, farming and teaching, and in the autumn, following, he entered the Faculty of the First Academy, Prau, a court, Ohio. After some weeks a month's preparatory reading for the law, he entered the office of Hon. John S. Truitt, of Cass county, Indiana, where he continued a few years, during which time he was admitted to the Bar. At the close of his law studies, he resided in Terra, Indiana.

October 25, 1855, and at the same time upon the practice of his profession, which he has since been continuously engaged in.

After a year's residence at the latter place, he removed to P. D. and held that office for two years in succession. He was afterward elected School Trustee, which office he held two years. For some years he held the office of City Engineer. In the year 1857, he became the legal owner with G. I. Reed of the P. D. Register, which interest was sold to R. I. at the end of a year, he obtained an official connection with the publisher, and held that office for several seasons.

In May, 1856, he was elected a member of the Common Council of the City of Prau, an office which he now holds. In all his pursuits pertaining to the general interest of his county he has taken an active part. In the present year he has procured for some of our best practices he has resided in his native position, and enjoys an extensive practice.

MICHAEL N. TAYLOR, RICHLAND TOWNSHIP.

Born February 7, 1811 in Wayne County, Ohio. At the age of three years, or in the Spring of 1815, his father, Samuel Taylor, emigrated to Wayne County, Indiana, and there settled upon a farm. Michael remained here with his father, up to the date of his marriage, June 11, 1836, to Miss Nancy Brown. This children were the issue of this marriage, viz: Samuel S. Clark, J. M. Taylor, C. Lucy, A. and Phoebe. About the Spring of 1848, Mr. Taylor and family moved to Miami County, placing themselves upon the homestead where he still resides and a view of which may be found upon page 1245 of this volume. But his father was not the mother of his children—was not permitted her to marry here, to actually unite with him the hardships of pioneer life, or to enjoy the domestic sweets of their own new home. October 15, 1848, she died, and her father, still residing in Wayne County, Indiana, while there on a visit among friends. One year later, Mr. Taylor again married, this time taking as a companion Miss Amanda, nee J. A. Wause, County, Indiana, and born November 15, 1827. For thirty years she has lived his friends as an affectionate, faithful consort. By his first marriage, two children only are living. They are settled in this State, Indiana, and have followed their own. One resides in Miami County, and the other in Cass County.

SAMUEL MUSSELMAN, RICHLAND TOWNSHIP.

The subject of this sketch was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, A. D. 1812. His father, Abraham Musselman, was a native of the same county, and joined himself in marriage there in the year 1815. His father had five children, three of which were as follows:—Joseph, Ann, Samuel, Mary, Elizabeth, Abraham and Catherine. Samuel, Mary, Elizabeth and Abraham are young in America. Abraham Musselman, the father, in 1836, while en route from Lancaster City, Pennsylvania, to Baltimore, Maryland, designed to make his daughter Elizabeth a visit, met with a sudden accident, which cost her death. He died in the sixty-third year of his age. His only surviving child, Mary, died in her sixteen years, when 1852 she too, crossed the dark stream to purgatory.

Samuel, their third born, and for whom we prepare this sketch, was born in Lancaster, Pa., in the year 1823, and was admitted here to lose his household for a brief period. Death seized her from him about one year after their marriage. He still retained in his native county until 1853, when he emigrated to Miami County, Indiana. Here he found another companion, to whom he was married during the Fall subsequent to his arrival. Miss Mary Ann Freestone became his bride. She had been born and reared, too, in his own native county. Ten living children were the fruits of this union—eight sons and two daughters—born as follows, viz: James S., May 7, 1857; Abraham L., July 15, 1858; Emma M., August 18, 1860; Samuel E., January 12, 1862; John G., June 16, 1864; William H., Nov. 2nd, 1866; Joseph J., September 11, 1868; Anna L., September 14, 1870; Charlie J., May 3, 1871; and Frankie H., July 12, 1876. He still retains his settlement in Miami County, he has remained, and is maintaining the property. He has, for very long time, on the northern portion of Richland Township. He has 243 acres of choice farming land under superior tillage. He may well be numbered among the best substantial farmers of Miami County. A full page is inserted in this Atlas with a view of his fine home, and a snap of portraits of his family. May success and enjoyment still be thine.

SOLIMON JONES, ALLEN TOWNSHIP.

Solimon Jones, the son of Solomon Jones, was born in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, in the year 1827, and is educated at "Westmore," a college under the care of the "Society of Friends" of Philadelphia. At the age of 21 he embarked in the business of building and contracting, and also house and building real estate in Philadelphia. He was married in the former city in 1843, to a daughter of Oliver Cook, also a member of the Society of Friends, and was at present residing in the office of Friends, in Philadelphia, Pa.

In 1847, at the solicitation of some friends, he moved to Cincinnati, where he engaged in a planning mill. At the expiration of three years he returned to Philadelphia, and entered the publishing house of "Friend," and remained in that city until the year 1852, when he has been continuing he relinquished it and accepted a situation at the "Society Works," Harborside, Pa., to superintend the business of publishing, which he has since held, a number of years, and has managed to build one hundred houses on the Baptist & Nazareth Avenue, Baltimore, for members, which he has built.

He has a large tract of land in Miami County, Indiana, he was there also, where he now resides in the summer season.

At the expiration of the war when the act to increase the Revolutionary war passed, Mr. Lincoln appointed Mr. Jones a Soldier Assessor for the County of Miami, subsequently other counties were added, and he held it until his resignation. This office he filled until the first war broke out, when he resigned, and afterwards when Andrew Johnson was elected, he held the position of Assessor. It was the appointed United States Census, but in a short time he was dismissed with the business and resented, having been in government service three or four years.

A. ALICE PETTY, RICHLAND TOWNSHIP.

This gentleman was born in the State of North Carolina, in the year 1814. In 1825, his father and mother, William and Mary Petty, with three sons and two daughters, left their home and native State for the North West. They landed in Miami County, Indiana, distant from their native home, and settled with his father until arrived at his majority, when he emigrated to Miami County. The old man was set here, to some extent, the best was very almost unbroken, and wild forests were plentiful. But young Petty had the pluck. He was, however, not to identify as a pioneer and citizen of Miami County. This was in the year 1836. About 1838 he was elected Mr. Manly Swisher, a native of Irish County, Ohio. She was the daughter of George and Mary Swisher, who had also come to this county about 1834. Now the battle of life commenced in earnest with Mr. Petty. Without money or an acre they could call their own, he resolved to live from the forest a better home. Where opportunity offered he earned a shilling, he improved it. This became a steady and frugal economy, but a short period elapsed and they were situated to possess 100 acres of wild land. Step followed step, slow followed slow, and that with perseverance and economical habits, he succeeded in securing a comfortable and pleasant life. It constitutes their present delightful home. We have the honor to present a view of it upon a page of this Atlas. Brevity speaking, Mr. Petty has been a noble pioneer, a successful citizen, and successful in his own individual efforts, and in the estimation of his friends and of himself as a neighbor and an inhabitant of Miami County.

Mr. Petty has a family of five children—Susantha, A. George W. William A. Phoebe, and Elizabeth. His wife is the daughter of the wife of Jacob Shippy, of Dover, this county, the other four are still with their parents.

GERMAN LUTHERAN CHURCH.

The history of the German Lutheran St. John's congregation at Prau, Ind., goes back as far as 1852. At that time the Rev. C. Starbuck, now at Baltimore, Md., and who was then at Leipsic, Prussia, had come as missionary and preached the first Lutheran sermon of this place (Prau). He is, in fact, the founder of all who are now occupying this sacred ground. At that time, as if all things were to be done in haste, he had a building erected on this site, and he and his wife and four children built up the Lutheran Church at Prau, where it was. The first and third temple was proclaimed, and the trusts thereof must have been as strong as the word of God: "It shall not return upon us void, but it shall accomplish that which we desire, and prosper in that where we direct it." In 1850, about eight or ten months, established this church under the supervision of Rev. H. H. Hunt, now near Columbus, Ohio. These few were true to the faith and a large number of converts had been secured, and the church was in a fair way to prosper. It was not till 1851, when they had increased to eighteen members, they could no longer erect their own house of worship. They bought a lot on Second street, at a cost of about $1,000, and on which they built a brick church, which was dedicated on the 24th of May, 1852. In 1864 they employed their own teacher, Mr. Kars, now at Indianapolis, Ind., and have, perhaps, a school of sixty scholars. In 1869 they elected their moderator, Rev. Clinton, now at Prau, Ill. Until then, they were served by the Leipsic pastor, Rev. 1863, Rev. Stricker left, and Rev. C. A. Germann was installed as their minister. He still has charge of the congregation. Today it numbers about 600 members. Under the supervision of their present pastor, C. A. Germann, the new church was built—beautiful lecture parlor, 40x75 feet, with a pipe 125 feet high, slate roof, 2,000 pews, finished, an organ, costing $800; a bell, weighing 1,000 pounds, and in fact, everything complete. The entire cost was laid on the 24th of May, 1875. It was dedicated on the 4th of April, 1876. The entire cost was about $15,000.

THE MIAMI COUNTY SENTINEL.

ITS EARLY HISTORY AND ITS UPS AND DOWNS.

INTRODUCTION.

With this issue of the Miami County Sentinel I take editorial charge of his columns. It is well to say that the journal has been in existence but little over six years. It has for a long time labored under poverty, a sort of Japhet in search of a father, yet, under all adverse circumstances it has been fortunate enough to maintain an identity and to survive as a party organ. It is exclusively the property of one man, and stands clear of all influences and void of all financial embarrassment. So far as the business portion is concerned they give the utmost confidence in their ability and so trust their readers to have the same confidence in their ability to do a faithful, active and prompt business. The Sentinel will ever be non-partisan, free from all party bias, and the Sentinel will ever be full and accurate in the most exacting manner for the best interests of our people. Any and every article published in it is published. In this proposition it honors its friends on the outward, will add more business.

With the prosperity of the Miami County Sentinel, few, even of our best citizens, have been so fortunate as to have secured the privilege of the first paper ever published in Prau, on the Upper West Side. For many years past, through all the vicissitudes of our national and religious history, no publication of great value has been published in this county. Asking for such a well established, patriotic journal is entitled to, I take my place among the people of Miami County as its editor and owner.

FOUNDATION AND PROGRESS OF THE MARIAN COUNTY SENTINEL.

The Pen Pictor was commenced July 22, 1838, by Sam Pike and Aaron W. Baker, and their paper was succeeded by The Pen Pictor, James B. Scott and Andrew Graham publishers.

On the 20th of April 1842, the paper was sold to one, much better informed than the interest of the Democratic party, and the other fell to the interest of the Whig party, the name of the paper having been changed to Pen Pictor and Democrat. J. B. & J. H. Scott publishers. This double barbed or M. Fingert's penmanship as did not appear satisfactory to either party, and the expression held in the order of the same year it was undertaken by The Observer followed. It was also then decided to change the assistant editors running the paper under the name in honor of "Nehemiah," "Herschel" and "Abraham," the old names being David Douglas, James B. Scott and John A. Graham. The Observer ran a few months, when "Nehemiah," David Douglas, emigrated from the frontier and assumed proprietorship. He battled with adverse gales about six months and then tossed The Observer

— In the gale of storms,
The lightning and the gale!

The Pen Observer followed, and the first issue bore date June 8, 1841—James B. Scott, editor and proprietor. Mr. Scott was not altogether successful. There were few factors and the harvest was not plentiful. He showed the dust from his list and departed for Delphi, where, twenty seven years ago he bought material and established The Journal, which paper he got control and has planted it on solid foundations. But The Pen Observer was suspended June 28, 1843. Scott, however, remained here and after Graham established the Sentinel, and was associated with the latter for a time. Sam Pike's old press would not run, and the Pen Herald's Democratic newspaper, succeeded the Observer, John H. Scott being at the helm, and the first number of the Herald made its advent November 28, 1846. Died from starvation May 20, 1848.

Now, after all these multifarious changes and mischance—the press and types being mainly owned by James B. Scott, and covered by Merrill's lines, and still—How John A. Graham, one day, upon the street, met Mr. Scott, and, on the spot of the moment offered to buy of him the old Sam Pike press, relieve the liens that rested upon the materials, pay him a balance, and receive the newspaper business at Fern. A few minutes of street conversation decided the matter, and Mr. Graham, through the mechanical aid afforded him by Mr. Scott, had brushed the cobwebs and dust from the cases, cleaned up and oiled the hand press, and on the 28th of June, 1848, Mr. Graham issued the first number of the Marian County Sentinel.

The Sentinel and all its predecessors, he it remembers, had up to the time Mr. Graham bought the material, been printed on the same press and type used by Sam Pike and Abigail W. Baker, when they established The Pen Pictor.

In June, 1850, Mr. Graham bought an entirely new office, with the exception of a press, which yet did good work. In looking over his files, from this date forward, one cannot but admire the merchanand notes included in the moral appendix and instructions of the Marian County Sentinel as a line of typographical forms. This is found in the State of Indiana to-day, that in this respect will compare with The Sentinel of that time, and at any State or National fair, it would be sure to take the prominence over any newspaper ever published in this country, except the old Van Hooker's Wayne County sheet paper. Truly I feel that no workers above mentioned, from The Pictor to The Sentinel, met their second match, not only, than any newspaper of this day. During Mr. Scott's editorial life, he established a daily, but the experiment was not successful. It was the first lithographic and several subsequent editors have been made to try it here failed. Mr. Graham purchased the press and August 10, 1851. It was not immediately a practical printer. He learned how to fold the paper, and to roll the sheets, and "play the devil" generally, that the other, but regarding the details of the business he was ignorant. He understood quite well, however, when work suited him, and he created all the details. But in those days good printers were scarce—in truth, they are not abundant, even now—and discovering that wisdom had not passed through a regular apprenticeship, they sought to take advantage of him, and under such "loss" the whole business as themselves, and so, one evening, his patrons utterly exhausted, he announced to his resident and estimated printers, that the last number of the Marian County Sentinel under his administration had been published, and he settled their accounts and closed the office as abruptly as he had opened it.

Judge Wilson B. Leach, an old friend of the present editor of this paper became proprietor of the Sentinel after Mr. Graham retired, and afterward sold a half interest to Mr. J. C. Foley, retaining the other half himself. A year or so later he sold a quarter interest to H. B. Jamison, Rev. of Rochester, and Leach Corner of the same place. One J. A. Miller then purchased the fourth interest of the Rochester parties and ran a kind and successful career of six months as a partner of J. A. Maxey, who had purchased the interest of J. C. Foley. Then the paper was conducted four months by W. S. Ewing and J. A. Maxey, lessee and proprietors, when the present editor took charge.

The Daily and Weekly Times, which had been started by T. J. McDonald & Sons, in November, 1854, was consolidated with the Sentinel, under the name of The Times-Sentinel, by Maxey & McDonald, and ran this way about a year, when the firm dissolved, each party retaining his paper and its name, with this exception, that McDonald made a compound of the title, using the name of the Sentinel in connection with his Times.

The Marian County Sentinel was conducted by Ewing & Maxey as a Democratic paper until within a few weeks.

Referring to several of those named in the foregoing, it may be proper here to state that, during the period, especially when Mr. Graham and Mr. Leachbridge had editorial management of this journal, The Marian County Sentinel was a power in the State, and exercised, probably, as potent an influence among its contemporaries and rivals as much in molding the public opinion of Indiana as the newspapers published at the State capital or elsewhere.

The first editors, Sam Pike and Abigail W. Baker, were characters. They were both members in their habits. Pike especially, in early life, had a great amount for loyalty upon the colonies of civilization. White people were common in the capacity. Mr. Pike's family cultivated a wide plantation in nearly every county about 1800. He had the second number of copies of Fern County. The first of his own name, unincorporated, named Mr. Pike, and he was a fine, tall, well-situated man in the other. From Iowa, where he established one of his newspapers, he finally, however, sold it at his own book line, returned to Kentucky, his native State, and was editor of paper at several points in the course of the next month, and edited paper at Greenfield, Marion County, Hillsboro and Lexington, then at London, Kentucky. Pike, Maxey, and other papers, and a number of them in Kentucky, where he paid several years in managing newspapers, and during the time, and was editor of Delphi and Clinton, where, after, upon the purchase of his own paper, The Pen Pictor. During the time he was publishing the Observer, a paper, right upon the points, in some of the newspapers, but he had good material, and an orderly mode of paper, and about Mr. Scott, he bought with the idea of a special income, though the right, in some State of H. G., and sold on his paper, and engaged in disposing of time, and his expectations were not realized, and he again returned to his old business, and established a Democratic newspaper at Union Summit County, where he died about ten years ago. A substantial business man, who had always managed, then, the rest of his life, to pay his debts, and when he would return to any of his old newspaper concerns, he would have troops of friends to greet and welcome him. It was said of him that he was once a Baptist layman, and that he would have put in his Sundays preaching and giving his attention to the newspaper week days.

Baker was a man of considerable ability, and well educated. He was a close student of studied medicine and attended lectures and qualified himself for practice. He was pronounced by medical men of distinction, as well qualified, but he disliked the process, through his diplomatic sense, and filled out the number of his year, either as a journeyman printer or editor of a newspaper.

Their brief experience in Fern was during the early lives of both Pike and Baker, and they left no stone here, except that the merit and appearance of the old Forward was highly creditable—their establishment then being entirely new.

It may be proper, before this is concluded, to state that, next to William S. Leach, of the Lafayette Courier, the one who has by far assumed charge of the Marian County Sentinel is the able editor, continuous service of any in the Walsh Valley—having conducted the Washington Democrat during an uninterrupted period of seven consecutive years, wanting three months. Next in order of seniority comes James B. Scott, of the Delphi Democrat and following him in seniority and immediate contemporaries, A. W. DeLong, of the Hopkinson Indiana Herald. Then in order would follow our good neighbor, A. P. Ferry, of the Walsh News-Boiler.

We have thus given an accurate history of the office and its vicissitudes of the Marian County Sentinel as was attainable, and the brief references made to other old journalists on the Walsh, as well as in this connection.

RES OF G. I. REED.
WEST MAIN ST. PERU INDIANA

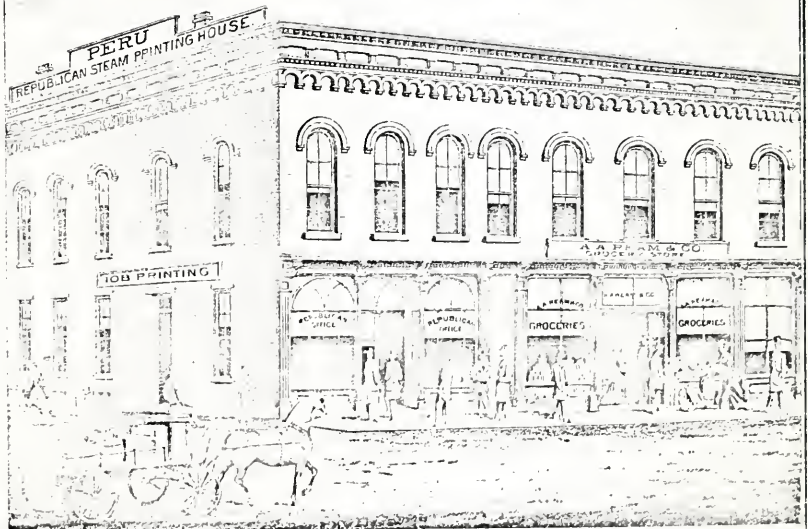

W. R. Sinks

The Peru Republican.

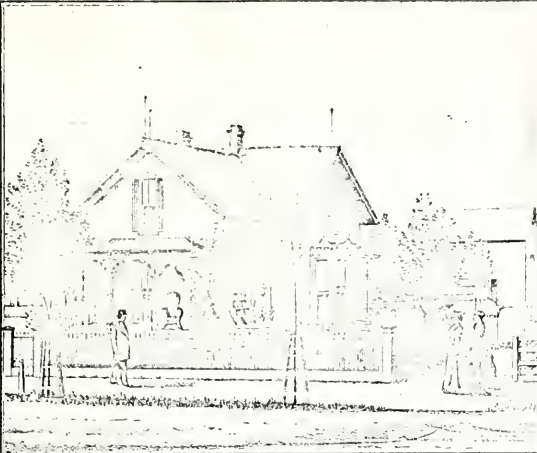

This paper was established in 1856 by the late E. F. Loveland, who conducted it with marked ability for a few years and then sold the office to W. S. Beaman, who is now publishing a newspaper at Grand Island, Michigan. The Republican was bought in 1864 by H. S. Chapin, who conducted it until March, 1868, when it was bought by Reed & Brown. At that time the subscription list contained about 400 names, the 1867 number of copies printed to supply exchange, newsstands, and subscribers was 100. In a successful effort to establish advance payment of subscriptions Mr. Chapin had succeeded in cutting off more than half the volunteers, but his successors in the proprietorship of the paper were the beneficiaries of his plan's endeavor. A newspaper that does not require advance payment of subscriptions has no foundation for a prosperous existence.

The list rapidly increased under the management of Reed & Brown, and has increased until the present. At the end of one year J. M. Brown sold his interest to G. I. Reed, who continued sole proprietor until May, 1872, when he sold a half interest to M. R. Sinks, former of the Connersville, Times. Reed & Sinks are now the proprietors and G. I. Reed the editor.

The Republican is in its 23d volume, is printed on a Cottrell & Babcock cylinder press, propelled by steam power. The office occupies a two-story and conveniently arranged brick building, as pictured on this page, on the corner of Main and Court streets, owned by the editor and fitted expressly for the printing business. The office is furnished with two heavy case galleys, sets a large amount of wood and metal type, two fast running Job Presses, a Waller steam engine and all such other material as enters into a complete outfit.

JOHN GUTHRIE

JOHN GUTHRIE, Esq., of this town, who was born among the hills of Pike County, Ohio, August 21st, 1821. His early education was limited. He more or less pursued his living from his position in a mill, through the death of his father. He did not, however, get broken up. His mother, after a time, married a second time, and John continued at home, a faithful farmer boy, till the year of '47. After this time for about five years, he engaged, for wages, as a laborer on a mill, among the neighbors of his fatherland. Arriving in this year, (May 1st, 1847,) he wedded Mrs. Delilah Thompson. She was born August 25th, 1825, in the same school district as himself. They had grown up schoolmates and playmates together. Five years after their marriage, or in the fall of 1852, they took lands, home and kindred farmed, to own a home in the green woods of the "Alabama Territory."

Upon their arrival, Mr. Guthrie very soon had claim to the mineral sections upon which he still dwells, and which now affords him so desirable a home.

The price was $2.00 per acre, and was to come into market about two years after the purchase was made. Here commenced, then, the trouble of life, and it has since been fought both manfully and successfully. The time of payment drawing night he was about $80.00 short of the amount required. To secure this, he applied to his step-father—who at the old homestead, in the East—land was successful. For the payment chosen his purse was stripped! Not a dollar had he left; energy and determination however soon recuperated. Time wore away. The selling of the forest; cultivated fields; a new and other improvements began to be made; but original ones were cancelled! Instead of a trackless, untrodden forest, it began to assume the appearance, at least, of semi-civilization. The packs of little swags began to mingle at the tracks, and the pastor of little feet, and the swelling of tiny spires, were on the increase. In short, but to fail, these indications were sufficient to secure a real home, as substantial, as could be had.

Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie are in with the parents of twelve children, to wit:

- Walter, born 1848, now resides at Guthrie, Ala.; wife, Nancy, born May 21st, 1846, in the 4th dist. 1877.
- JAMES W. born June 10th, 1850, now resides at Guthrie, Ala.; wife, Mary, born Sept 14th, 1848.
- MARY ANN, born Nov 10th, 1851, now resides at Guthrie, Ala.; wife, John, born 1848.
- ELIZABETH, born Aug 21st, 1852, now resides at Guthrie, Ala.; wife, James, born 1850.
- CHARLES, born 1853, now resides at Guthrie, Ala.; wife, Mary, born 1851.
- MARSHALL, born 1854, now resides at Guthrie, Ala.; wife, Mary, born 1852.
- WILLIAM, born Nov 10th, 1855.

Two of the daughters are married. They are to Mr. Thomas, 1st dist. 1876, of now resides in Louisa County, Iowa. They are to John B. Lemon, of summer 1875, 1877. They still live in Butler township. None of the boys are yet married. Most live in Johnson County, Iowa. All the absence of the family are said with their parents.

For the past twenty-four years, Mr. and Mrs. G. have been members of a society in the Christian Church. In politics Mr. Guthrie is a Republican, having formerly been a Whig. He claims to be a good temperance man, and on the same side of the fence. He cast the first ballot for William Henry Harrison, the only one of the Presidents he has ever seen in person. He is a peace loving, law abiding citizen, just and honorable in all his deal; never gives occasion for offence, and hence, never the recipient of opposition. He is never in his life had a case of law in court. He is highly and universally esteemed.
