

TWO DOZEN NEW ELKS

BIG CLASS INITIATED AT MONDAY NIGHT MEETING AND MORE APPLICATIONS IN

Twenty-four new members were initiated into the Glendale Elks' Lodge Monday evening with due and proper ceremonies, and one was transferred by demit. It was a big night in more senses than one, and members to the number of 250 or more came out to participate. Following the lodge session a fine supper was served in the jinks' hall, and a film program put upon the screen. Announcements of coming events of outstanding interest to lodge members were made by Arthur Dibbern, entertainment chairman.

The roster of new members taken into the organization was: Walter E. Trautwein, Le Roy C. Spilsbury, T. H. Christy, Matthew J. Nolan, Joseph H. Folz, J. T. Matthews, Samuel Silverstein, Leonard U. Hood, E. A. Kneip (Lancaster), Alfred A. Craig, Clyde W. Cooper, Edwin J. Brady, A. H. Montgomery, (transferred from Marquette, Mich., Lodge by demit) Everett Hardy Merrill, Liell K. Vedder, Francis E. Robbins, W. B. Tennyson, Edward C. Barth, Homer S. Bullard, Charles L. Barth, Thomas B. Sanderson, Roger S. Eaton, Russell L. McDonald, Russell Kleinhenn, Laurence L. Bell.

Five new applications for membership were received.

MOREHOUSES SHOW FAITH IN GLENDALE

Miles O. Morehouse, who has just sold his residence at 915 East Lomita Avenue and moved across the street to No. 1000, the house he built a few years ago, will build at once on the rear of that lot for his daughter and her husband. Mr. Morehouse came here from Chicago seven years ago to establish a factory for making and bottling mustard, having sold his Chicago plant. He built his factory in Los Angeles, but bought a home in Glendale, at 915 East Lomita and later built the one across the street for his son to occupy. This son, Lon, moved to Oakland a few months ago to manage a factory there. Mr. Morehouse and family have an abiding faith in Glendale's future and look upon it as the ideal home city.

GLENDALE PLEASURES TEXANS

R. H. Keasler, wife and son, Willis R., have moved into the place recently purchased of Miles O. Morehouse, at 915 East Lomita Avenue. Mr. Keasler was a farmer living in the little town of Floydada, in the southern plains region of Texas. They use deep well irrigation on some of the farms in that section quite successfully. The Keaslars looked about quite extensively after coming to Southern California, and found no place they liked so well as Glendale. Now that they have bought a home and settled here they are liking it better every day.

HUGE CORPORATION

ASSESSED VALUATION OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY IS OVER A BILLION DOLLARS

The people residing in Los Angeles County have reason to be proud of its riches. The late report issued by the Board of Supervisors shows that the assessed valuation of the County in 1880 was $18,517,566.00, and in 1900, $100,127,905.00. The total assessed valuation in 1919, including railroads, is $1,074,627,199.00, or an increase during the last twenty years of over $974,489,294.00, which is almost an increase of one thousand per cent. The figures named are about fifty per cent of the real value of the property, making Los Angeles County in reality a two-billion-dollar corporation.

The assessed valuation of this great county is more than one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the entire State of California.

This county operates under a Freeholders' Charter, adopted by the voters in 1913, and the executive branch of the county government is vested in a Board of Supervisors of five members, elected from five supervisory districts, to serve terms of four years each. The present incumbents are Prescott F. Cogswell, First District; J. H. Bean, Second District; F. E. Woodley, Third District; R. F. McClellan, Fourth District, and Jonathan S. Dodge, Fifth District, who is Chairman of the Board.

MUSICAL TREAT

GLENDALE PHONOGRAPH AND PIANO COMPANY ENTERTAIN MUSIC LOVERS

A very fine audience which included a large number of teachers and professional musicians of Glendale and those who are known as music lovers, assembled Tuesday evening at the Pearl Keller studio for a delightful program given by Miss Marie Morrissey, a popular contralto well known to musical circles in New York City, and Harold Lyman, a wonderful flutist.

As announced on the program, this delightful evening of music was tendered music lovers of Glendale by The Glendale Phonograph and Piano Company, (Salmacia Brothers), of 109 North Brand Boulevard, and so appreciative was the public of the treat offered that every seat was filled and a good many were turned away.

Miss Morrissey is an American singer in a special sense, having received her musical education entirely in this country. She is the soloist of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York and has a very lovely voice which has been employed in production of re-creations for the Edison Phonograph. The feature of outstanding interest in the program was the opportunity to hear Miss Morrissey sing in union with her own Edison records, thus demonstrating how perfect is the registration of her lovely tones. No less delightful were the similar comparisons of flute numbers made by Mr. Lyman, who announced the numbers and had charge of the program, explaining to the audience the purpose of the comparisons.

The program opened with three numbers by Miss Morrissey, viz., "Dost Thou Know That Sweet Land?" by Thomas, "Sorter Miss You," by Smith, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," (Bobby Burns' lovely poem in its familiar musical setting). In the two first mentioned Miss Morrissey accompanied re-creations so blending her own tones with the mechanical reproduction that they were (Continued on Page 5)

DODDS HAS UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

Dean Dodds of Christy's grocery met with an unusual accident yesterday. He had driven to Los Angeles in his machine and when on Seventh Street attempted to pass around a team and wagon, driving on the car tracks to make the detour. Just then one hind wheel of his machine dropped off and he came to a sudden stop, right in front of a slowly moving car, which was halted just as it reached his machine. A misplaced bolt had literally cut the axle of the wheel in two, thus causing the accident.

DR. HOLLEY DECIDED OPTIMIST

Lying in hospitals for sixty-nine weeks, suffering constant pain, able to move about now only on crutches, yet cheerful, even jolly nearly all the time, such is Dr. J. J. Holley, who recently bought the place at 912 Randolph Street for himself and wife. Dr. Holley is a good old Missouri Democrat, with most enthusiastic admiration of Champ Clark and mighty little use for Wilson or Bryan when they were candidates for president. He came out here from Scott's Bluffs, Neb., to which place he moved from old Missouri. He practiced medicine for twenty-five years, then retired to a farm near Scott's Bluffs, which he looked after and made profitable for twelve years, selling it last fall to come to California. Inflammation following an attack of tonsillitis sent him to the hospital and he left it a cripple. Coming to California he tried to buy in Hollywood and other places, but had to come to Glendale to find what he wanted. He is a pronounced optimist and is mightily pleased to be located in a city with so bright a future.

FROM SNOWS TO SUNSHINE

Mrs. J. D. Walther, who arrived in Glendale Monday evening to visit her daughter, Mrs. R. A. Puffer of 452 Vine Street, left Chicago last Friday evening at 6 o'clock in the midst of the worst snow storm they had had in years, she says. No street cars were moving and it was with the utmost difficulty she reached the station. Mrs. Walther says the flu situation in Chicago has not been exaggerated by the newspapers. While there are thousands of cases, the deaths are comparatively few. This is Mrs. Walther's first visit to California and the change from bleak Chicago is most delightful.

THE ADMIRAL SIMS CONTROVERSY

GENERAL PERSHING REFUSES TO DISCUSS STATEMENTS MADE IN HOUSE YESTERDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 28.—General Pershing today refused to discuss the statements made in the House yesterday that Admiral Sims "had given misinformation to congressmen regarding the operations and management of the army." Pershing returns to Los Angeles tonight.

NEW SENTENCE AGAIN POSTPONED

DEFENSE ASKS FOR FURTHER TIME TO PREPARE AFFIDAVITS IN SUPPORT OF NEW TRIAL MOTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—The sentencing of Harry New for the alleged murder of Freda Lesser was continued today until tomorrow. This is the third continuance. The defense asked for further time in which to prepare affidavits in support of its motion for a new trial.

It was learned that one point on which a new trial will be asked is an allegation that the District Attorney offered to permit New to plead guilty to manslaughter.

HORSE RACING AND GAMBLING

THEY WILL BE OBJECT OF NEXT OFFENSIVE BY REFORM FORCES IN CONGRESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Reform forces in Congress are quietly organizing an offensive against horse racing and gambling. They expect to drive out these evils as they have liquor. The fight will not begin in the open until a sufficient force is mustered to assure victory, it is understood, but the work of lining up the votes is in full swing.

ITALIAN RAILWAY STRIKERS

ABANDON "ABSURD DEMANDS FOR WAGE INCREASE" AND ASK FOR RECOGNITION OF UNION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, Jan. 28.—Newspapers here today said that the Italian Railway strikers had agreed to abandon their demands for "absurd increases in wages" and now ask only the recognition of their union. The strike situation is little changed.

TREATY DEADLOCK

POINTS OF AGREEMENT REACHED AT BIPARTISAN CONFERENCE REVEALED AT WASHINGTON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Information on the status of the bipartisan treaty conference obtained today showed that when the Johnson-Borah group served notice that it would not accept a compromise, an agreement had been reached on seven points, and a tentative agreement had been reached on five points. It was the Johnson-Borah declaration that interrupted the conferences, leaving the situation uncertain. The points on which agreement had been reached were: The preamble; reservation 3 whereby Americans will not accept mandates without the consent of Congress; reservation 4 covering domestic affairs; reservation 8 relating to the power of liberation commissions; reservation 10 on the limitation of armament; reservation 11 on the treatment of covenant-breaking states; reservation 12 relating to the rights of American citizens.

Tentative agreements had been reached on article 10 of the league of nations covenant; withdrawing from the league the Monroe Doctrine; the payment of league expenses; and a reservation designed to equalize the voting power. There were three points left on which no agreement had been reached.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

CHICAGO PACKING HOUSES TO OPEN AND CLOSE EARLIER DURING SPRING AND SUMMER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Packing houses here have announced that they will open an hour earlier and close an hour earlier during the spring and summer in order to save daylight without changing the clocks. The order affects 60,000 employees.

EMBASSADOR TO MEXICO

RESIGNATION OF HENRY FLETCHER OFFICIALLY REPORTED BY SECRETARY LANSING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Secretary of State Lansing made an official announcement today of the previously reported resignation of Henry Fletcher as Ambassador to Mexico.

"AMERICANIZATION"

ADDRESS BEFORE TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB BY DISTRICT CHAIRMAN

An excellent program rewarded those who came out to the regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, the membership being well represented. The usual business session was held at which announcements of a series of teas and of other benefits for the club house fund including a proposition for each member to earn one dollar in the course of the coming six weeks and then report in rhyme at a special tea how she did the stunt. The executive board figures if all members respond it will mean $400 for the treasury with comparatively slight effort and besides afford a lot of entertainment in the doing and in the telling.

Musical numbers of the program were contributed by Miss Hazel Linkogel, whose violin solos were supported by piano accompaniments by Mrs. Pearl Curran. Miss Linkogel astonished and delighted her audience, many of whom were women of highly cultivated musical taste capable of appreciating her interpretations which were the more remarkable because of her youth. Her first and leading number was De Bériot's Seventh Concerto. At its close she responded to an ovation of applause with "The Old Refrain," by Kreisler, a dainty bit of melody that brought tears to the eyes of more than one listener.

Mrs. Gottschalk, District Chairman of Americanization, was the speaker of the afternoon and her subject, quite naturally, was "Americanization."

She told of the confused ideas many people have of what the word really means, of the fixed conviction in many minds that it is some thing with which to combat "red" propaganda, and she wisely laid the foundation for her talk by quoting a series of definitions as follows:

"Americanization is an interpretation of the attitude, ideals and standards of life of the American people, to those who come here from abroad. (Continued on Page 5)

P. T. A. EXECUTIVES

A meeting of the executive board of the Cerritos Avenue Parent-Teacher Association was held Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Percy Priaulx at which plans for the meeting of the association to be held next week were discussed. The program will be in charge of Miss Small, patriotic chairman of the association. She announced that it will probably include a flag drill and patriotic songs and recitations by children of the third and fourth grades, and that the Boy Scout Commissioner, Mr. De Groot, had agreed to give an address.

A cake sale at the school as a benefit for the grakonola fund was planned, and the patriotic chairman of the Federation, Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, reported plans simmering for a mid-February patriotic program to be given at the High School, to which the children of all the schools in the city, and Boy Scout organizations will contribute, and which will probably be addressed by a representative of the Glendale Post of the American Legion.

ENGINEER DALEY WILL USE SURPLUS FUNDS FOR EXTRA WORK ON WASH

G. E. Daley, in charge of flood control work in this vicinity, has managed to keep the outlay for work done so far, below the limit of funds provided for this section, so will use the extra money in additional improvements to the upper portion of Verdugo Wash. He has the work well along toward the San Fernando Road now, and is also filling in the gap between Brand and Central Avenue, which he had to leave until after the P. E. Burbank line track was moved out of the channel on to the north bank. Mr. Daley is now having plans prepared for the straightening of Sycamore Canyon Wash east of Verdugo Road, and the confining of its waters between protection levees. The city will have charge of the work down the new boulevard, but Mr. Daley and his men will look after straightening and improving the Wash which skirts the city on the southeast and which carries off all of the storm waters of Sycamore Canyon.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Thursday. No important change in temperature.

JENSEN INTERESTS

PURCHASE OF CLUNE'S PASADENA THEATRE MAKES STRING OF FIVE PLAYHOUSES

The big theatrical interests of Henry C. Jensen and his son, Robert Jensen of this city, have been extended recently by the purchase of the interests of W. H. Clune and C. A. Pederick in Clune's Pasadena Theatre, which has long been a leading playhouse in that city. Possession will be transferred February 1, when Mr. Pederick will become the manager of Clune's Broadway Theatre in Los Angeles.

Under a lease of the property the Jensens control the new Raymond Theatre, now under construction in Pasadena, and it is understood that this will be used for the traveling road shows which have been a feature of the Clune programs under a Klaw & Erlanger contract transferred with the sale of the theatre, Clune's being reserved for film dramas.

Architects and builders are now busy with the plans for remodeling Clune's which will not only appear in a new dress February 1, but will also bear a new name. A complicated and very beautiful lighting system will be installed, and there will be changes in the roof and in the floor arrangements which will effect quite a transformation.

The purchase of this theatre, with the new Raymond, the two Los Angeles houses they operate and the Palace Grand here, will give the Jensens a string of five high class playhouses. It will place them in a position of advantage in the securing of rare attractions and carrying out of the wise policies which have built up their theatrical patronage.

P. E. OFFICIALS CONSULT WITH CITY TRUSTEES

Vice President H. C. Titcomb, Chief Engineer E. C. Johnson and General Passenger Agent Smith of the Pacific Electric are in Glendale today looking over the transportation situation in general and getting data on the proposed southeast loop, to extend from the present terminal on East Broadway down the new Sycamore Canyon Boulevard, then southwest to Cypress and Brand to join the main line. The city trustees hope at this time to secure definite information as to when construction may commence.

HOME AFTER 43 YEARS

DR. WHITNEY AND WIFE CLOSE MISSIONARY TASK OF NEAR HALF A CENTURY

Dr. H. T. Whitney and wife, who spent 43 years in China as missionaries under the American Board of the Congregational Church, are back in the homeland to spend their declining years and Glendale is their choice for an abiding place, though this is the first time they have been in our city.

Dr. Whitney went to China as a medical missionary in 1877, accompanied by his wife, and was stationed in the Foo Chow district, which then had but one mission station, with a hospital and dispensary. Dr. Whitney has established four other stations since, with like equipment, and has had a general oversight of the five. He says the work has been very successful, resulting in thousands of converts. Denominationalism is unknown on the mission field. All are simply Christians there and work together most heartily. Dr. and Mrs. Whitney are natives of Massachusetts but the only voting residence they have ever acquired was in Santa Cruz, Cal. One of their furloughs, which they took every seven years, brought them to the homeland in 1898 and on account of the Boxer rebellion they were kept here three years, spending that time in Santa Cruz. Dr. Whitney lost his eyesight two years ago, from cataracts, and had to quit his work, but was unable to return home till very recently. His eyes were operated on in San Francisco and he is now slowly regaining his sight. He has bought Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylord's place at 1134 East Lexington Drive for his son, J. S., who is living in Portland, Ore. He is coming here on account of his wife's health.

The younger son lives in Los Angeles, but he and his parents expect to buy a home in Glendale very soon.

South Pasadena is to try the plan of having a city manager, instead of letting a whole roomful of managers try to manage 'er.

EFFECTIVE SETTLEMENT POSSIBLE

The return of the railroads by the government to the owners will under existing conditions, make necessary a much more effective settlement of railroad problems than has ever yet been secured. The subject must now be dealt with comprehensively. The roads have been reduced to comparative helplessness largely as a result of previous attempts at national legislation. Their value as business enterprises must be restored in order to secure the great sums of capital constantly demanded for their improvement.

If these two requirements can be met—first, the certain operation of the railroads, and next a scientific and prompt adjustment of rates so that they may become attractive for private investment—our railroad system will not be a mendicant, asking for government aid, but it will stand erect again upon its feet and will bring back to memory the time when it was the crowning industrial glory of the American people.—Boston Transcript.

BAKER REJECTS OVERSEAS MEN

Consistent with his past record of inefficiency, inability and unfairness, Secretary Baker now takes the attitude that the officers of the American army who led our troops into battle in France, winning distinction and honor and, as Mr. Baker would probably put it, "made the world safe for democracy," are not entitled to hold the advanced rank they held overseas as much as are the officers who served at home and only held emergency rank. His defense is that their appointments were for the emergency and when their work overseas ceased the emergency was over so far as they were concerned. He also attempts to place the blame on Congress for not increasing the size of the army and therefore making it possible for him to hand out advanced rank commissions wholesale. Of course he will not admit that injustices have been committed in the free-for-all demotion of the officers who did the real fighting. Neither would he discuss the question as to whether General Pershing had had an interview with Chief of Staff March regarding the matter of demotion of overseas men. Newt Baker is apparently running a race with Joey Daniels for unpopularity. The one destroys the morale of the army by unfair distribution of permanent high ranks and the other tears the heart out of the navy by distributing medals according to his personal whims instead of upon the war records of the men. Could the administration of our fighting forces be in a much worse muddle? We blush to reply.—Long Beach Telegram.

BANK MONEY IS AT WORK

The Muskogee Times-Democrat narrates a sad story ament a certain Mrs. Murphy, who went to her fruit jar bank one day and found that someone had taken the savings of many years, to-wit, eight hundred dollars.

The money in the fruit jar was idle. It was out of circulation. It was rendering no service to anyone.

Yet there are hundreds of persons in every community who are handling money in the same foolish unproductive way.

Whatever is said about banks, money placed in them is more safe and a basis of credit.

Bank deposits add to the credit of the individual, the bank and the community, in resources and stability.

Always a certain percentage of deposits are loaned out to carry on industries, business enterprises and to employ labor.

On top of this banks are reaching out to help the farmer enlarge his herds, improve his equipment and increase production.

FILIPINO WOMAN TO THE FRONT

The Filipino woman is destined to be in the world's spotlight more than ever before as a result of the news just received by cable from Manila to the effect that the Philippine senate has passed the equal suffrage bill giving women full political rights with men. This would indicate that the Filipina may beat her sisters to the ballot box.

The Filipina has many admirers who predict she will make good if she gets the vote, just as she has made good in the very important role she has occupied in the family and business life of the Philippines ever since the introduction of Christianity in the islands three centuries ago.

"America's advent in the Philippines discovered a wonderfully interesting, responsive little being, the Filipino woman," writes one American concerning the Filipina. "Mothering the only Christian people in the far east, she holds a place of authority, love and respect in family and social life that is not accorded to women in countries neighboring the islands, or in India, China or Japan."

Marie Morrisey Drawn from actual photograph

Last night's audience mystified Tries vainly to detect difference between voice of famous contralto and RE-CREATION BY Edison's New Phonograph

Those present at Keller's Auditorium last night saw Marie Morrisey walk onto the stage. They saw her take her position next to a beautiful cabinet. They saw her lips give voice to the opening lines of Happy Days. Then suddenly her lips were still—but the song kept flowing on.

How came this? They were hearing Miss Morrisey's voice, yet Miss Morrisey was not singing. The entire audience gasped as it slowly realized that it had been unable to distinguish between Miss Morrisey's voice and the RE-CREATION of that voice by the New Edison.

This was the daring test undertaken last night at Keller's Auditorium by Thomas A. Edison. He sought to prove that no difference exists between the voice of the living artist and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. The musically cultured of Glendale were invited to pass judgment. No test could have been more exacting.

Miss Morrisey made comparison after comparison. The mystified audience tried vainly to catch a difference between the original rendition and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one could tell one from the other.

It was a triumph whole and complete for the New Edison.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The instrument used in last night's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $295. It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

The New Edison alone of all phonographs is capable of sustaining this test. Until Mr. Edison knew it would do so, he regarded his work as unfinished.

Ask some one who was present last night. Learn the amazing truth. Then come in and let us prove it personally to you.

CHANDLER SIX

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Thousands Choose The Chandler Dispatch

MANY admirers of the Chandler Six choose the Chandler Dispatch. For two years this model has outsold all other cars of the so-called sport type. Its popularity is one of the high spots in motordom.

The new series Dispatch is a snappy, handsome car, seating four adults in perfect comfort. It is of most beautiful design and finish; mounted on the standard Chandler Chassis, famous for its mechanical excellence.

You are asked to pay much more for cars which might perhaps be compared with the Chandler. And cheap cars sell for but little less.

SECOND TERM SCHOOL

The second term of school will open on Monday, February 9, 1920. It is very important that every child should enter school on the first day and should thereafter be regular and punctual in his attendance. Any absence may be a serious menace to the child's standing in his classes.

School Age

The legal age for entering school is six years. However, an allowance of three months is made. This means that in order to enter the first grade a child would have to be six on or before May 9, 1920. No exceptions are made to this rule. No beginner will be admitted after the close of the first month of the term.

Kindergartens

Kindergartens will be opened at the Columbus Avenue, Colorado Street, Broadway, Cerritos Avenue, Pacific Avenue, Central Avenue and Doran Street Schools. The law states the kindergarten age to be from four and one half to six years. This law is interpreted to mean that the child will have to be four and a half before the end of the third month of school, i. e., in this case, on or before May 9, 1920. No allowance is made for over age. Any child who is six years old or older on the day the term begins will not be admitted to the kindergarten. Such child may of course enter school if the parents so desire. In order that the parent may have a choice between the kindergarten and the school, the child must be between five years and nine months and six years old on the day the term begins.

Parents are advised to send their children to kindergarten until they are at least four years and nine months old for the following reasons: First, we have a kindergarten course of only one year, and if a child finishes that before he has attained to school age he will either have to drop out for a half year or take the same work again in the kindergarten; second, a child of five will get much more out of the kindergarten work than a child at four and a half.

THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE

A camera man, working for the educational department of a film company, met an old farmer coming out of a house in one of the Middle States, and explained his presence on the place thus:

"I have just been taking some moving pictures of life on your farm."

"Did you catch any of my laborers in motion?" asked the old man curiously.

"Sure, I did." The farmer shook his head reflectively, then said, "Science is a wonderful thing!"—New York Times.

DUTY OF MUSICIANS

MRS. MATTISON B. JONES SETS FORTH THEIR OBLIGATIONS TO STATE AND NATION

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, who now resides on Brand Boulevard, was guest of honor at the Music Section of the Hollywood Woman's Club Wednesday. In the morning there was a recital program in which most interesting numbers were given by Mrs. Compton of Chicago, who presented compositions by a rising Chicago composer. After dinner speakers at the midday luncheon were Carrie Jacobs Bond, the song writer, who made one of her charming, original talks, and Mrs. Jones, who is second vice president of the California Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. Jones represented the federation in the absence of its president, Mrs. Frankel, and dwelt on the work to be done by music clubs in developing musical taste in America. She spoke of the government's recognition of music as a factor in promoting harmony and patriotism. Mrs. Calvin Whiting of this city is the corresponding secretary of the Federation.

In the afternoon Mrs. Bond gave a delightful program of her own compositions, and there were numbers by a wonderful young pianist from the East, Miss Pallas, who has played with the St. Louis Orchestra and the Boston Symphony. She gave a group of McDowell selections and Liszt numbers. The Hollywood Music Section has a regular enrollment of sixty members and a most appreciative audience was present.

Club organization is the special work which has been delegated to Mrs. Jones in the Federation of Music Clubs, and in an article which she has prepared for the federation bulletin, she answers the two queries: "Why organize new music clubs?" and "When and how shall they be organized?" She says:

"California has been termed 'the Italy of America.' We have music lovers and professional musicians in every county, city and town in the state. If all were united into clubs and federated with the State and National Federation of Music Clubs, what an impetus would be given to the cause of music!"

"Many learned of the true value of music for the first time during the war. Music is an international language and as an asset to our country it is now our patriotic duty to organize and work for the cause of music and musicians in America."

"We also learned during the war the true value of co-operation. Musicians should weld themselves together for the good of the whole. Merely a union of musicians, however, is not conducive to complete growth for the cause of music. Musicians should unite into clubs and these clubs should become federated."

"The ideal music club is made up of both professionals and music lovers with an active and associate membership of men and women. There should be a junior auxiliary for boys and girls. There should be a student section and a choral section. Each club should appoint chairmen for the following work: Community music, state festival, library—extension, young professional contests, public school music, publicity and printing. Each club in each community should strive to bring at least one big artist to the town and produce at least one big musical event a year, as well as to co-operate with the state music festival plans and the national plans. If all her splendid musicians and music lovers will co-operate systematically, California will indeed become the Italy of America."

A tame canary at Long Beach escaped from its cage and was mourned for lost, but it soon came again. It had found that cuttle-fish bone and bird seed served free twice a day didn't fit one for catching bugs and worms and sleeping in lonesome trees among hoot owls and scampering squirrels. If Dickie had stuck it out, and hadn't been caught by some sneaking cat, he might have developed into a real bird. But in giving up and going back to cuttle-fish bone and bird seed he smothered the last spark of Nature struggling within his anatomy and will henceforth never be anything higher than a canary.

IN MY GARDEN

My garden is all planted o'er,
The borders have been freshly dug,
The green shoots are a pleasure for—
The slug!

The fruit is forming on the stalk,
But, woe is me! no care avails,
When on my pear-trees proudly stalk—
The snails!

The mignonette and fragrant pea
Throw in the air their tender germs,
But wriggling round their roots I see—
The worms!

My cherished rose-tree—horror!—
that's
A sight that saddens sorry eyes;
Covered its leaves with tiny gnats—
And flies!

Of slug, and snail, and worm, and gnat,
In vain I am a ruthless killer—
Still there's that horrid cat, cat, cat—
Erpillar!

"HERE'S TO YOU, GASOLINE ENGINE"

Master and magician of energy—servitor of mankind—here's to you. Out of man's insatiable desire to move you were brought forth.

Man moved by his own animal energy; creeping, walking, running, pulling upon blades dipped in water. And man met man.

He captured the energy of other animals; he harnessed the horse, the ass, the bullock, and the ox, the dog in remote places of intense cold, the camel in regions of intense heat, the goat of the plains, the elephant of the jungle, the swift reindeer under the midnight sun, the llama under the southern cross. Tribe touched tribe.

He drifted in craft down slow currents of mighty rivers; in frail shells he dared the rush of torrents; in belying sails he caught the winds of heaven; he traversed the seas. Continent touched continent.

He felled towering trees, and dug from the ground the black refuse of bygone cycles of growth decay; he mastered the mysteries of fire and steam; he applied them to mighty engines; he made trivial the vast expanses of the seven seas; he laid upon the continents the tracery of steel roads. Unsatisfied, he sought new forces.

He created you. He created you out of his desire.

You gave to him motion that did

Some day they will make Southern California their home, and beautiful Glendale will be their choice.

Mrs. Albert D. Pearce of 459 Milford Street has recently welcomed her mother, Mrs. Charles F. Lewis of Pentwater, Mich., who has come to spend the remainder of the winter with her. At the time she left Michigan, the mercury registered 14 degrees below zero. Southern California naturally looks and feels good to her and she is revelling in sun baths. She was here five years ago.

W. F. Nash and wife, who recently sold their fine residence at 646 North Maryland which they built for a home two or three years ago, are living at the Central Hotel until the apartment they have rented at 319 North Maryland is vacated, which will be next week some time. They have bought a lot on Maryland, one block below their former home, and will build later. Mr. Woodside, who bought their home, came here from Alhambra. He works for the Moreland Truck Company in Burbank.

Louis E. Jackman and family of Oakland, Cal., have purchased the property at 1239 South Glendale Avenue and will take possession on Monday. At present they are living in Los Angeles and after having looked around Southern California for a place to locate permanently decided on Glendale as "the place," and seem well satisfied with their selection of a home. We are indeed glad to welcome this family to our city.

Mrs. Charles Hutchinson of 246 North Orange Street who underwent an operation at a Los Angeles hospital Monday, came through the ordeal in excellent condition and is believed to be making a very satisfactory recovery. Mr. Hutchinson expects she will be well enough to be brought home in two or three weeks. Mrs. Hutchinson is curator of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club by whose members she will be greatly missed. During her absence the gatherings of the section will take place at the home of Mrs. Frank Ayars on North Central Avenue.

HE ROBBED HIMSELF

The reported robbery of a big Los Angeles grocery company's truck at Riverdale Drive and San Fernando Road Monday forenoon by four Greeks, turned out to be a hoax. The driver of the truck drew suspicion upon himself by contradictory statements and finally confessed that he had secreted the goods reported stolen from him so he could sell them to raise money to get married on.

INVENTORS HAVE HARD ROWS TO HOE

That able thinker and doer, Herbert Newton Casson, efficiency engineer, once pointed out that the public "has always held fast to its old-fashioned discomforts" until persuaded to let go.

"There was no demand for the railroad," said Herbert Newton Casson, "and for years many people believed that thirty miles an hour would stop the circulation of the blood. There was no demand for the steamboat, and when Brunel drove the first steamboat on the Thames he became so unpopular that the London hotels refused to give him a room. There was no demand for the sewing machine, and the first machine that Howe put on exhibition was smashed to pieces by a Boston mob. There was no demand for the telegraph, and Morse had to plead and beg before ten congresses before he received any attention. There was no demand for the airplane, and Westinghouse was called a fool by every railroad expert, because he asserted that he could stop a train with wind. There was no demand for gaslight, and all the candle burners sneered at Murdoch for trying to have a lamp without a wick. There was no demand for the reaper, and McCormick preached his gospel of efficient harvesting for fourteen years before he sold his first 100 machines.

"When Bell first showed his telephone at the Philadelphia Centennial it was endorsed by the greatest scientists of America and England. It was tested and proved. But the average man called it a 'scientific toy' and refused to either use it or finance it. Bell preached telephony for a year before the public paid in the first twenty-dollar bill,—and that was only thirty-six years ago—and the telephone business of today represents 1500 millions of capital.

"No, it is true, as learned theorists have said, that every great invention springs into life because it is demanded by the nation. It springs into life and nobody wants it. It is the Ugly Duckling. Everybody prefers 10 cents to it, until a few salesmen take it in hand and explain it."

Indistinguishable, at times ceasing her own vocalization to let them "carry on. In the third number she sang in duet with the record. Enthusiastic applause followed every number.

Mr. Lyman then took the stage playing on the piccolo in unison with his Edison record of "The Whistler and His Dog," by Arthur Pryor. It was a very charming performance which won deserved applause. He then played in a similar way with the record of "Amid the Odor of Roses," (Steckmest) with the wooden flute, a performance no less pleasing.

Edison's recreation of Second Hungarian Rhapsody as a piano solo, proved most interesting, particularly to the pianists in the audience.

Miss McRrisey then gave Gounod's "Flower Song" in unison with Edison's re-creation, the enthusiasm of the audience reaching its climax, as "re-creation," was exceptionally perfect and beautiful. This was followed by Carrie Jacobs Bond's "Just a Wearyin' for You," and by Strelzki's "Happy Days," in which the vocalist sang an obligato to the number with charming effect.

The Edison re-creation of a violin solo by America's distinguished violinist, Albert Spalding, in "Meditation," from Thais, and the re-creation of Arthur Middleton's interpretation of the rollicking "Young Tommy" were enjoyed, and then Miss Morrisey and Mr. Lyman accompanied an Edison record of "The Barcarolle," from Tales of Hoffman by Offenbach, as played by a concert orchestra. It was a wonderful exhibition of the phonograph as an accessory, and a very beautiful number.

Mr. Lyman then delighted his audience again by furnishing a silver flute obligato to the fine Edison rendition of "Thou Brilliant Bird," by Miss Anna Case, high soprano. This revealed how closely the flute can be made to approximate the human voice in a manner which astonished the audience and drew spontaneous applause testifying to its interest and pleasure.

In response to requests for the concluding numbers on the program, Miss Morrisey substituted songs for which she has just made Edison records which will soon be upon the market. These were sung without the phonograph. Miss Gertrude Champlain of Glendale furnishing the piano accompaniment—a most artistic performance by the way. The songs were: "In An Old Fashioned Town," and "Star of Me." The opportunity to hear Miss Morrisey at her full power was greatly appreciated and crowned a delightful evening which the guests of Messrs. Salmacia discussed eloquently as they left the hall, expressing their appreciation of the treat they had enjoyed. They agreed that the climax of the evening's entertainment was, when the room was darkened in the middle of one of Miss Morrisey's selections, and the listeners were left with no means but their ears of determining when they were hearing her voice in double volume, and when it reached them only from the New Edison. At first every one doubted his own ability to judge, but as her previous proofs were forgotten in the spell of the song, they became more and more convinced that no instrument could sing as this voice was singing, and that Miss Morrisey was making no more pauses in her own performance. Suddenly the lights were snapped on. The audience was astonished to discover that Miss Morrisey was not there at all and that the New Edison had furnished the song alone.

"AMERICANIZATION"

It is also a movement for a fuller realization of all the opportunities of those who live in America."

Several definitions from John Collier were quoted such as: "Americanization is simply citizenship study."

"Americanization is community service work carried over from the war."

"Americanization is the rebuilding of democracy."

An explanation of Americanization which seemed to her strong, was: "Americanization is but the American aspect of the world problem today, and the world's problem is: trying to understand each other; trying to adjust the different racial bodies called upon to live together, and the effort to preserve for posterity all the good traits and fine culture represented by all these different racial peoples."

"It is something more than teaching English to foreigners," she declared. "It seems to me it is something more than any of these definitions. It seems to me to stand for the aroused conscience of a people who for 300 years have been living together in the most favored spot in the world. We were living too carelessly and happily to pay much attention to others, and it took a world war to arouse us to a realization of our isolation and to show us that things were not exactly right in this beloved land, and so, with our American verve we have not sat down and cried over things we have found wrong, but have risen to the emergency saying: 'We will wipe it out if there is something wrong here. It is the aroused conscience of the na-

HOW CHINA SUFFERS FROM AMERICAN PROHIBITION

With a population four times as great as ours, but with social and economic conditions at least four times worse than ours, China is about to have fastened upon it the tentacles of the brewery octopus whose grip on the United States has just been pried loose. Here are some of the signs:

The receiver of a brewery in Vancouver has asked permission of the Canadian courts to remove the plant to China.

The breweries of Milwaukee engaged one of its ex-mayors to study the situation in China with a view to beginning operations in that country.

American brewers are said to be negotiating with the English interests to open the door to China, because of certain alleged treaty advantages held by the English.

A Honolulu brewery has already been removed to China, according to the International Reform Bureau.

A California brewer has gone to China to arrange for the construction of a two-million-dollar plant.

According to newspaper reports several brewers are planning to transfer their activities to the great cities of China.

During the past summer 140 Chinese university students, meeting in Columbus, earnestly discussed this situation; and 120 of them formed themselves into a Chinese students' Prohibition Association, assessing themselves to help carry on a fight against the aggression of the American brewers in their native country.

man sweat is poured out like the blood of life. Famine's scythe periodically sweeps down its thousands; and even under normal conditions little children by the million die annually of starvation or malnutrition—in some parts of China nearly half the children dying before they are six months old.

With jaw sagging and mouth open from weariness, with faces overstrained and haggard, with eyes staring and pain-pinched, men and women struggle along at their daily labor, because they haven't had enough to eat.

And the brewers would rob these of bread so that China might enjoy the blessings of beer!

It isn't a question of a "capitalistic class" exploiting the poor—there simply isn't food enough to go around.

The normal death rate in China is between fifty and sixty per thousand as against fourteen per thousand in the United States. That is, it is about four times as great in China as it is in our own country.

Those who survive the terrible devastation that befalls little children must be of sturdy stock, possessing elements which should make them strong for the tasks of life.

But now the American brewer would break down the virility of the adult Chinese through the use of beer, for beer-drinkers' lives are shortened an average of four years each for those who consume only two ounces of alcohol per day, and many more years for those who consume larger quantities of alcohol—according to the reports of the Medico-Actuarial Mortality Investigation recently made by the leading life insurance companies of America.—Charles Stelzle in November World Outlook.

AID FOR STARVING EUROPE

PRESIDENT WILSON URGES SECRETARY GLASS TO AGAIN APPEAL TO CONGRESS FOR APPROPRIATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The president has requested Secretary of the Treasury Glass to make another appeal to Congress to appropriate $150,000 to feed Poland and other European nations where the food situation is serious.

President Wilson, in a letter to Glass, expressed regret that Congress has not already authorized the loan. He declared:

"It is unthinkable to me that we should withdraw from these people who are in such mental and physical distress, the assistance which can be rendered by making available in credit a small portion of our exportable surplus food." In concluding his letter the president said:

"This prosperous republic ought not to bear any part of the responsibility for the moral or material chaos that must result from unwillingness on our part to aid those less fortunate than ourselves."

TRADE DEPENDS ON SHIPS

Present promise of permanent success for American shipbuilding should impress upon the people of the country the importance of always adhering to the policy of promoting and guarding American industry first, even though the industry be of direct interest to only one section. Farmers in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains have an indirect interest in the success of the American merchant marine, just as the shipbuilder has an indirect interest in the prosperity of the man who grazes sheep on the western range. In industry, as in nationality, "united we stand, divided we fall." Prosperity for one promotes the prosperity of all, and the greater the number of prosperous industries, the greater will be the prosperity of the nation.—The Manufacturer.

FOREIGNERS IN U. S. EASY PREY TO AGITATOR

A phenomenon which has been noted lately is the fact that immigrants in this country of certain nationalities which at home are apparently quite conservative—Finns, Lithuanians and Letts, for example, appear to be much addicted here to bolshevism, I. W. W. ism, communism and other red "isms." The Finns, in particular, have kept themselves at home, in spite of the proximity of Petrograd, on an even keel; but in this country the Finns are accused of supplying a large contingent to the revolutionary parties. What is the cause of the apparent predominant radicalism of these people in a country where the prevailing sentiment is on the other side? The reason is apparently hit upon by a conservative Finn in a letter to a New York paper. It is that the Finns in America are widely scattered and frequently lonely. If someone comes into a community where they are found and starts a Finnish I. W. W. branch, or a communist local, these people will join it simply to be with the rest and to hear smart things said in their own tongue. It may be all quite new to them, but they take it up, possibly with zeal, because it is a thing which has come to relieve the homesick monotony of their lives.

It is probable that this is a controlling reason in the red tendencies of a great many people of Slavic or other tongues whose people learn English with difficulty and who are constantly thrown upon their own devices. These people have been seeing blue for a long time—the blue of isolation and neglect—and now some ingenious rascal comes along who teaches them to see red. The revolutionary organizer is all pervading among these un-Englishized foreigners. He becomes, in such communities, a "social force" of great danger.

This condition certainly justifies abundantly the efforts of those who are seeking to spread among the alien population the use of the English language, and in general to encourage the progress of Americanization. If the American Finn or Lithuanian has other interests—if he has had a chance to become connected with and interested in the life of the community in which he lives—if he has American friends whom he likes and knows and in whom he has confidence—he is much less likely to fall a victim to the blandishments of the I. W. W. organizer.—Boston Transcript.

RECOGNIZING A STONE WALL

"We could have whipped the coal operators, but we could not whip the strongest government on earth," said Secretary Green of the United Mine Workers, to the convention of that organization, defending the course Acting President Lewis took in calling off the strike. "We knew," he added, "we had reached the limit." And the convention, by a vote of 1639 to 221, recognized the logic of the statement, affirmed the agreement and agreed to abide by the findings of the arbiters as to wages and conditions.

Other leaders of organized labor, fighting the provisions of the Cummins railroad bill which seeks to provide peaceful substitutes for strikes in the adjustment of grievances on the part of the railroad workers, or opposing Governor Allen of Kansas, in his effort to set up a system of industrial judiciary for a like purpose within that commonwealth, might wisely take counsel with Messrs. Green and Lewis.

They can't whip, or even terrorize the government, which is the strongest government on earth, because it is representative of the people behind it. The strike policy has reached its limit and the fact should be recognized. The public has been tolerant. Often it has sympathized with legitimate demands for just treatment as to wages and working conditions, but its attitude towards the resort to strikes as a method of securing justice is changing, and labor leadership is short-sighted which would forfeit that sympathy by persistent defiance of the public desire for industrial peace.—Exchange.

Wonderful Opportunities in the Automobile Field

The history of American industries shows nothing which can compare with the rapid growth of automobile manufacturing. In the past few years a wonderful industry has been developed. In the United States alone there are over 500 factories at work on automobile construction, representing a capital of about $2,000,000,000. Besides there are about 32,000 dealers in the United States employing several hundreds of thousands of men and women.

The development of automobile delivery trucks and light wagons is proceeding rapidly and every year sees the introduction of new makes in large numbers.

The demand from factories, garages, and salesmen for trained men is a direct result of this marvelous growth. The supply of such men is small—their pay correspondingly high. This is the field of opportunity you can enter through the sure, easy Home-Study Courses of the
