If this assurance is not received to-morrow Mr. Woodward will resign his seat immediately.

Mr. Woodward stated to-day that he had written to the Premier announcing that if Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, persisted in his determination to sell the Capilano timber he would resign in protest. On Monday Mr. Woodward attempted to see the Premier while he was in this city but failed. Accordingly he wired to Mr. Oliver Tuesday night giving him thirty-six hours to answer him favorably.

Mr. Woodward said he had received a wire from the Premier this morning and had promptly replied, informing Mr. Oliver that he could not accede to the request made therein. He agreed, however, to grant another extension of twenty-four hours.

While the political pot is thus boiling merrily on the mainland politicians here are not idle. Hon. J. D. MacLean, Acting Premier, left to-morrow for Vancouver to meet with the members of the Government there and seek a settlement of the present difficulty.

What is the Secret of This Medicine's Wonderful Power?

Hundreds of Men and Women Say They Are Amazed At Its Wonderful Effects On Disorders of Stomach, Kidneys, Liver, Bowels and Blood—How does it Wipe Out Disease?

"It Burned Like Fire," Says James Oden—"For Five Years I've had a Bad Case of Kidney and Bladder Trouble," Says C. L. Matlick—Hundreds of Others Who Tossed About on Beds of Pain Are Now Well—Free Samples Given

MARVELOUS BANISHMENT OF PAIN AND DISEASE

If you have suffered agonies from rheumatism and neuritis during the past months; if dyspepsia has gnawed at your vitals and tortured you from day to day; if kidney and liver troubles, irritation to end your life; if poisoned and impure blood has shown its effect in boils, pimples and skin eruptions; if sleeplessness and nervousness have made you miserable and despondent; if headaches, dizziness and backaches give warning of approaching disorders; constipation, rheumatism or stomach disorders have you in their grasp; if you have tried everything under the sun to get relief and have failed, don't you think it is time you gave Dreco a chance to lift you out of the slough of misery and set you again on the path of perfect health and the full enjoyment of life, which is every man and woman's God-given right?

My wife and twelve-year-old son. It will make it interesting reading for men and women afflicted with stomach trouble, no matter how slight or serious it may seem. The story is told by Mr. James Oden, the well-known farmer of Mt. Jackson. He says: "I had a terrible case of stomach disorder and catarrh. I could not even eat the simplest food, because it would sour in my stomach and I would belch it up in my throat, and it burned like fire. I also had a bad case of catarrh, which increased my troubles. I saw in the papers how much good the new Dreco medicine was doing for other people who suffered from the same troubles as I had, and I decided to begin taking it also. I want to say publicly that Dreco is the only thing that ever brought me relief. It eased my stomach pains and it was not long before I could eat almost anything without being sorry afterwards. I did not know it would help my catarrh, but I am glad to say that I am entirely well."

"My wife was all run down and my twelve-year-old son was puny. Both of them have also taken Dreco and they are like new people. I am tickled all to pieces that I have found health for myself and family at last, and the beauty of it is the price puts it within the reach of everyone. I gained five pounds weight. Such praise as this, told in the straightforward, honest language of a farmer, cannot but convince even the most skeptical that here is a medicine for which the world has long been waiting. Dreco is made entirely of natural herbs. It contains no minerals or anything injurious to the system."

Dreco is being specially introduced in Victoria by The Vancouver Drug Co., Ltd., corner Fort and Douglas Streets. Go there to-day and ask for Mr. Vaughan, the Dreco Expert, and let him explain the merits of this great remedy. There is no charge and he will tell you honestly if he believes Dreco will benefit you. Dreco is also on sale in New Westminster and Vancouver by the Vancouver Drug Stores and in other towns as follows: Port Haney—Campbell's Drug Store. Port Moody—Graham Knight, Hammond—H. C. Betts. Port Coquitlam—J. O. Neave. Abbotsford—E. T. Weir. Chilliwack—H. D. Kipwell. Langley Prairie—R. A. Royston. Mission City—Alex. J. Stephen. Marpole—C. H. McFarlane. Sidney—J. E. McNeil. Esquimalt—A. G. Fulmer. Nanaimo—Van Houten's Rexall Drug Store. Cumberland—Lang's Drug Store. Dreco is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

PREMIER OF ALBANIA ADDRESSES LEAGUE

Bishop Noli's Ironical Remarks Caused Laughter at World Assembly

Geneva, Sept. 11 (Associated Press)—Bishop Fan S. Noli, Premier of Albania, delivered before the Assembly of the League of Nations yesterday an ironical address on world political conditions which evoked a great deal of laughter and some mild demonstrations of approval. The Premier, who was educated in Harvard University, talked for the most part about the United States. He described Boston as a city situated somewhere in Ireland, "full of O'Connors, O'Connells and Fitzgeraulds, all of them good talkers, who with other Irishmen do all of the talking in American electoral campaigns." Bishop Noli wished the "Irish Republic" had brought to Geneva some brave orators who might "talk the Assembly to death about peace." "There is no wonder," he continued, "why the Americans, Germans and Russians are not anxious to join the League of Nations. They do not appreciate our speeches. They know better."

WANTED JAPANESE NOTE "WITH TEETH"

Bishop Reifsnider Says Hanhara's Immigration Statement Caused by Hughes

Tokio, Sept. 11.—The strong, frank tone of Ambassador Hanhara's immigration note to the United States Government, in which the term "grave consequences" was used, was due to the insistence of Secretary of State Charles E. ## SAYS SOCIALISM'S IDEALS THREATENED

British Premier Writes of Tendency Toward Force Among Workers

MacDonald Makes Addition to His Well-known Book on Socialism

London, Sept. 11.—That the present day tendencies among the workers threaten the ideals of genuine Socialism is the fear expressed by Premier MacDonald in a preface he has just written for a new addition to his well-known book on Socialism. After defending Socialism as evolutionary, not revolutionary, the Prime Minister writes: "The revolutionary and materialistic frames of mind created by the war are becoming a serious menace to the Socialist spirit of common service. Profiteering has become universal. The evil is in the classes generally designated as 'profiteers,' but has infected all sections."

INJURE THEMSELVES

The Premier complains that in the legitimate struggle to remedy their hard and unjust conditions the workers are being tempted to use force. They are all interdependent members of a social unity and consequently only injure themselves by punishing those against whom they have grievances to such an extent that they injure the society to which they belong.

"The trade unionist," continues Mr. MacDonald, "has the same limitations imposed upon him in this respect as the capitalist: he can not advance his interests at the expense of society. It can not be over-emphasized that public doles, strikes for increased wages and limitation of output not only are not Socialism, but may mislead the spirit and policy of the Socialist movement."

REASONABLE REWARD

"Socialism calls on men to give unattained service in return for a reasonable reward measured in terms of life, and nobody should be more impatient than the Socialist with the fact that a man can not be expected to give service before he gets a reward. The Socialist, therefore, looks with some misgivings on the recent developments in the conflicts between capital and labor. They are contrary to this spirit, he believes. They are immoral, uneconomic and will lead to disaster."

BRITISH STRONGLY AID ARBITRATION

Parmoor Says Premier Sincere in His Statements to League Assembly

Geneva, Sept. 11.—Great Britain stands by the League of Nations covenant, which provides for military and naval assistance by all the signatories to preserve peace. This declaration was made last night by Lord Parmoor, representing the British Government, after the disarmament commission debate on arbitration, security and disarmament. In a statement to representatives of the press of the world, Lord Parmoor affirmed that Great Britain means what she said when, through the lips of her Prime Minister, Ramsay MacDonald, she declared her readiness to submit all disputes to arbitration. He added that the words "all disputes" included those usually characterized as questions affecting vital interests and national honor. Lord Parmoor qualified his statement, however, by remarking that the terms "vital interests" and "national honor" were exceedingly vague, but went on to say that a way must be found to handle every possible case of conflict between nations.

JAPAN'S LOSSES

Although remaining faithful to the new policy of decreasing military burdens, Japan eventually hopes to make good the armament losses she suffered in the great earthquake and fire of last year and declares a communication received by the League of Nations from the permanent Japanese delegation to Geneva.

CHINA'S ATTITUDE

Fang Tsai-Pou, head of the Chinese delegation, said his nation adhered to the principle of arbitration. He paid an eloquent tribute to the memory of Woodrow Wilson, who, he said, would have rejoiced at the steps toward peace with justice already taken by the League.

SEIPEL ATTENDED

Chancellor Seipel of Austria received a great ovation when President Motta called attention to the Chancellor's presence and congratulated him upon his recovery after the attempt on his life. Subsequently Chancellor Seipel issued a statement declaring that his judgment nothing would stop the great efforts started in Geneva to assure compulsory arbitration. He declared Austria had no desire to break away from the League of Nations financial control, but he in-isted the plan needed modification so as to harmonize with the progressive movement of Austrian finances.

A BIG INDUSTRY

THE FINANCIAL POST of Toronto devoted its whole editorial page on August 29 to a discussion of the value to Canada of the tourist business. In its leading article The Post points out that what it terms "this industry" now represents an annual financial turnover approaching $150,000,000. It contends, however, that Canadians are not yet making the best of their opportunities, and claims that it would be easily possible to increase the proportions of the business to $300,000,000 a year by selling Canada's tourist attractions to the world. What other industry, it asks, presents anything like the possibilities for satisfactory profits in relation to the costs involved and the consumption of our raw materials?

Canada, The Financial Post says, should endeavor to double the income from the tourist industry in 1925. The topic is of live interest at the moment. It should be possible to get action. If plans are delayed until interest in the matter again revives in the Spring, it will be too late to accomplish anything next year. It is largely a matter of co-ordinating publicity efforts to the common end of selling Canada as a tourist attraction rather than particular districts or particular services, although these, of course, must be enumerated in the selling campaign. Provincial organizations would perhaps be the most effective, and the practical suggestion is made for the appointment of provincial commissions with funds voted by the governments, and co-operating with the various districts in their advertising campaigns to the extent of financial grants where the publicity work done fits into the general programme. To secure the necessary funds, the gasoline tax is suggested. This has worked very successfully in Quebec. Thus the foreign tourist who uses the roads contributes to the provincial treasury, and if desired, the auto owners at home can be given a measure of relief by a reduction in the annual license fee.

The second phase of the tourist business is to sell service and goods to the visitors. They will be found to be free spenders, for the most part, when satisfactory accommodation is given or when they are shown the advantage of making purchases here. This not only applies to Canadian products, but to English and European specialties which come into this country under lower tariffs than those of the United States. The fact that visitors returning to the States are allowed to take in new goods to the value of $100 as "souvenirs," and antiques free of duty, is an important factor in the possibilities of the retail trade.

Now is the time, The Financial Post concludes, to lay plans to put the tourist industry on a $300,000,000 basis in 1925. If the railways, the governments, boards of trade, and various business organizations will cooperate, something important can be accomplished.

SHOULD BE PRESSED

It was our impression that the Legislature had long ago gone on record, if not by way of formal resolution, by informal agreement during many discussions of the subject, as entirely favorable to the construction of the remaining link in the transprovincial highway as soon as the engineers had reached a conclusion as to the best route to be followed. The announcement issued by the Public Works Department yesterday rather conveys the impression that the Government will call for tenders and let the House decide whether one of them shall be accepted or whether the scheme shall be scrapped altogether. It is obviously the duty of the members to deal with the matter as they think best; but we are of the opinion that any legislative action considered necessary should be initiated and vigorously sponsored in all stages by the Government.

In the course of the dozens of speeches which have been delivered in the House and on the public platform the only controversial point to which any attention has been paid has been one of purely sectional interest. Proponents of the northern, or Fraser Canyon route, and advocates of the southern, or Hope-Princeton route, have been going to the mat ever since the question was revived in 1916 and it was only on the distinct understanding that the Public Works Department would not be swayed by anything save the considered opinion of its own technical experts that the rival factions reluctantly agreed to leave the matter in the Government's hands entirely.

There is now no longer any controversy; the engineers have declared the Fraser Canyon route, while a little more costly than the southern project, to be the most practical proposal from all other angles. That being the case there would seem to be nothing to prevent the Government from taking the initiative.

ONLY HALF DOING IT

NATURALLY the Department of Immigration at Ottawa welcomes the investigation which a party from Great Britain headed by Miss Margaret Bondfield, M.P., will make into any phase of Canadian development or conditions of farm labor. Canada has nothing up her sleeve; she presents opportunities to-day upon which it is about one thousand per cent. easier to realize than it was twenty or thirty years ago. She asks that every new settler be prepared for hard work and possess cheerfulness and patience.

Cable dispatches now announce that the party will sail for Canada on September 13, but add that the investigation will not take its members beyond Winnipeg. The Immigration Department, while willing to put itself out to afford the investigators every possible facility, intimates, and quite rightly to, that to insure a proper review of conditions in Western Canada the trip should not end a mile East of the Rockies. We would go further than this and point out with equal emphasis that conditions in Western Canada can not be adequately judged until British Columbia has been inspected.

This part of Canada obviously offers the man with enterprise as much as the grain belt of the Prairies. Even the settler with moderate capital may come to British Columbia and get into the mixed farming business with the early prospect of a profit on his undertaking as well as a good living. If Miss Bondfield, who is, of course, parliamentary secretary to the Minister of Labor in the MacDonald Government, and her colleagues, including Labor's representative on the Overseas Settlement League, desire material for a comprehensive report the tour of investigation should include British Columbia.

CANADA GETTING VALUE

IN the Canadian Pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition Canada's capacity for manufacturing furniture of the very highest class and most artistic design is demonstrated by four different rooms furnished down to the last detail. While no single particular has been overlooked in any of them it is interesting to note that in the drawingroom alone there is represented the products of no fewer than seventy Canadian industries.

Imagine the consternation which an exhibit of this kind created among the hundreds of thousands of people whose conception of Canada, her climatic conditions and standards of living, bordered on the fantastic and almost conveyed the impression that, in the minds of many who really ought to have known better, Canadians lived in wigwags! Even the expert decorator in one of London's greatest furnishing establishments, a concern with branches and buyers in many parts of the world, was astounded at what he saw in this one exhibit.

It has apparently continued to make an impression on visitors to Wembley. A cable dispatch to The Montreal Star yesterday intimates that a very considerable demand already has been made for Canadian furniture as a direct result of this one entry—from Kincardine, Ont., by the way. A sister of King Faud of Egypt was so struck by the display that she ordered and paid for a large consignment which will go forward to her palace at Cairo. This is not all: a Ceylon official was sufficiently impressed to order a big shipment to be sent out to a Colombo furniture firm for display, paying the whole cost out of his own pocket. Nor is the demand confined to high class goods, for a London firm has given an order for 100 cases of knock-down furniture which will be placed on sale in the metropolis. Thus is the advertising value of the Exhibition worth something to Canada.

THE OLD LAKE PORT

"Here" in The Toronto Star The old port stands serene, aloof, in the bend of the rocky shore. While the days drift by and the breezes blow and the great ships come no more. The spires still stand in silent rows where the great docks used to be. But the planks have gone that once men trod when trade flowed ceaselessly.

There are houses there where some old folk dwell, in sight of the waters blue. Who have done their bit and have won their rest, with no more work to do. Old ships themselves, they have voyaged far, a harbor at last to win. And never abroad they'll sail again till the ship of death comes in.

They point with pride to the crumbling wharves where the great ships used to lie. And they tell of the days when the port was new ere the world had passed it by. They tell of the feats of the sailor men who came in the days long since. And they speak of wrecks on the reef out there where the gleaming whitecaps shine.

But that is past and the old port rests and basks in the Autumn sun. As a warrior old who takes his ease when the battle of life is won. And the waters lap the rotting pilings or break on the curving shore. So the old port drowns and rests and dreams of ships that will come no more.

It is announced that there is to be no "arrangement" between Liberals and Conservatives in the Yale and North Okanagan constituencies. No Liberal ever took the suggestion seriously; Federal by-elections in Quebec and the Oliver Government's victory in Nelson furnish ample reasons why.

In his endeavors to gain admission for Germany's veterans into the Inter-Allied Federation of Ex-Service Men General Sir Ian Hamilton argues that 5,000,000 veterans could form themselves into the world's strongest anti-war body. There is force in his argument; the men who had to do the fighting have a good case. It may be too soon, however, to get unanimous approval of a plan to join hands with former enemies.

Speaking at Montreal in the St. Antoine election campaign Mr. Meighen said: "When this Dominion girds up its loins and prepares to make commercial war upon the United States and commercial war upon Great Britain, then we will be in a position to look after our workmen." Which leads The Toronto Star to suggest that "it is to be hoped that Canada's commercial war with the Mother Country will be a long time in starting." At least Mr. Meighen's utterance was foolish and incorrect.

Dr. Frank Crane on "Nature"

(Copyright)

WHEN we speak of Nature we do not speak of what we can see, but of something behind that which we see.

Nature is in no hurry. It is only mankind that hurries.

There are many things very beautiful in Nature, but many things grotesque, such as the monsters of the sea.

When painters reproduce a little bit of Nature they are highly gratified, yet Nature paints the most superb pictures constantly, whether there are those to see them or not.

All that lives comes from Nature. She seems to be rhythmic as to her lives. She produces plants in their season, and men in their generations, but the race continues.

Very little first-class literature has been written under the direct inspiration of Nature. Nature is usually too strong for the writers.

It is characteristic of Nature that it goes on while life stops. Nature has her ebb and flow, but it is eternal. It was here before we arrived; it will be here when we have gone.

There is nothing moral nor immoral in Nature. She has her own morality. There is infinite variety in Nature, and yet the strictest adherence to law.

There is abundance, generosity and waste in Nature, yet there is no waste. The leaves of the tree return to soil from which they came. Whatever Nature produces may fall in its object, but it succeeds in some other object.

Nature produces nothing that is alive and also straight. Her sign manual is the curved line for living things. Among dead things I do not know of anything straight which Nature produces.

Nature is discordant and minor; and yet those who are accustomed to listen to her know that she is deeply musical.

The most beautiful object of Nature depend upon water, for it is water that makes the clouds, the colors of the sunset and of the sea.

All obey Nature, yet is she not masterful or petulant.

Two of the greatest men who ever lived have had for their motto "Return to Nature." One was the Frenchman, Rousseau, and the other was the Chinaman, Lao Tzu.

Lao Tzu said: "The highest goodness is like water, for water is excellent and benefiting all things, yet it does not strive. It occupies the lowest place which men abhor."

We do not understand Nature because we do not understand water.

Lao Tzu says again: "There is something chaotic, yet complete, which existed before heaven and earth. It stands alone without change, reaching everywhere without suffering harm. It must be regarded as the mother of the universe. Its name I do not know. Endeavoring to describe it I call it Great."

When Cartier Arrived in Canada

JACQUES CARTIER, skilful commander, pilot and veteran explorer, sailed from France on May 20, 1534, on his third and last voyage to Canada. This time he represented, as the King of France, but one of the King's spoiled courtier nobles, Le Sieur de Roberval, whom the King had been pleased to commission as Lieutenant-General of all the regions opened up by the previous explorations of Cartier. Roberval made a sorry mess of his part of the preparations for the expedition and fooled away his time along the northwest coast of France, indulging in a little congenial prying at the expense of old English merchantmen. Cartier, very glad to be deprived of the supervision of this foolish, domineering, gentleman of birth, sailed without him with five ships.

He was welcomed by the Indians at Stadacona, now Quebec, but he observed, "It was all dissimulation, as afterwards appeared." Cartier knew the reason, and his conscience pricked him. Five years before he had enticed aboard and carried off as specimens to France, several Indians from this neighborhood, chiefs among them. They had been ill-treated by the officers of the King, and after slavery in the galleys for offending the laws they could not understand, all but one or two were dead. Cartier lied most fluently about their great access of fortune in fair France, but he was conscious of his failure to impress their countrymen. So he placed his settlement and his fort farther up the river than before, at what is now Cap Rouge, some distance from the Indian encampments.

Which is sailors and his fall-bird colonists were landing stores and erecting the houses and defences, Cartier grew impatient. He wanted to find out more about the rapids which he had seen at his feet, as six years back he had thrilled at the glorious view from his Mount Royal. So, delegating his authority, he landed on the upward journey, he was unable to ignore the patent distrust of the savages, though they dissembled it beneath fair words and signs of joy.

ON the morning of September 11, Cartier now stands Montreal. He moved his boats at the foot of the St. Mary's current, at the spot where now the ocean steamships dock at covered wharves. One of the boats he double-manned, and was rowed past the site of the present city. At the foot of the Lachine rapids he could go no further. Leaving the boat, he and his men took to the beaten track which he found running close to the water's edge, now the Lower Lachine Road. On this trail he found a town of Indians, who were very friendly and gave him a hearty welcome which Cartier felt was hollow. By an arrangement of small sticks upon the ground they showed him that there was no more to be had far above. Cartier accepted their information that the river was not navigable to the country of the Saguenay which he was seeking, and went no further. In all probability he did not get so far as Lake St. Louis.

It was late in the day and his men had been without food since early morning. He resolved not to wait to climb once more the mountain with the flaming foliage, though we can be certain that he cast up longing glances at it. He was feeling more and more uneasy about the attitude of the Indians. He writes, "A man must not trust them for all their fair ceremonies and signs of joy, for if they had thought they had been lying for us, then would they have killed us, as we understood afterwards." So, with his men he hurried back to the boats before dark, and happy he was to reach them without misadventure. He dropped at once down the river to find his little colony huddled in the nearly-completed palisade for fear of the Indians who prowled about at a distance and resisted his advances.

Cartier never returned, and not again for over sixty years did a great French explorer stand on the superbly beautiful site of Montreal.

A LOG'S JOURNEY FROM THE WOODS TO THE MARKET IS ATTENDANT WITH MANY RISKS

Lengthy Period Between Felling the Tree and Marketing the Log

FAR from being the simple affair that some people imagine, modern logging is a complicated scientific operation entailing enormous expenditure and involving big risks of severe losses by land and sea.

At one typical B. C. camp it cost $200,000 in cash for camps and equipment before a stick was cut for sale. At this operation, after felling and bucking, the logs are yarded to a spar tree, the rigging of which is a spectacular and expensive business. Then they are loaded on heavy cars owned by the company and carried to a lake, where they are dumped into the water, made into round booms and towed to a landing on the opposite shore. Here they are again lifted out of the lake and once more loaded on different cars and transported several miles to salt water.

Logs Handed by Many Workers

During the first part of this journey to market, these logs are handled over again by different groups of workers: the exacting nature of whose occupation calls for skill and alertness.

At the booming grounds the logs are made up into flat rafts for the final tow to their destination. As this journey is frequently over rough seas and through dangerous channels for days together, the importance of secure rafting is evident. Frequently a period of six months or more elapses between the time logs are dumped into salt water and the date they are sold for manufacture and during this time they are liable to attack by teredo and loss of all commercial value.

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

DUCHESS OF ATHOLL

Much local interest lies in the announcement made in Montreal yesterday to the effect that the Duchess of Atholl, M.P. for Kilmora and West Perth in the British House of Parliament, and Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the British Cabinet, have accepted invitations to visit Canada this fall under the auspices of the National Council of Education. As the council is under agreement to provide speakers for the Canadian Clubs, it is more than probable that the Victoria Women's Canadian Club will have the pleasure of hearing distinguished women. No itinerary has yet been announced for their visit.

Show Prizes Distributed—The monthly meeting of the Garden City Women's Institute was held on Thursday at the Marigold Hall. The prizes awarded at the recent Flower Show were distributed, and plans for the social activities of the coming season were discussed. The first card party of the season will be held on Friday evening, Sept. 12, at 8 o'clock, the committee in charge being Mrs. Fryatt and Mrs. Munro. Arrangements are being made for a moving picture show in the near future.

BRITISH PUBLIC HEALTH PROGRAMME NOT EQUAL TO B.C.

Mrs. C. A. Lucas of Saanich Health Centre Back From England

Was Impressed by Canada's Exhibit

That British Columbia's public health programme has no equal in Great Britain is the considered opinion of Mrs. C. A. Lucas, superintendent of the Saanich War Memorial Health Centre, who returned to Victoria yesterday after an absence of two months in the Old Country. While in Britain Mrs. Lucas visited public health nursing centres in London, Surrey, Westmoreland, Chester, Liverpool, Birkenhead and at several places in Wales, so that her judgment is by no means a hasty one, but represents the results of careful study.

NO EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMME

In the Old Land practically all the public health nursing is conducted from the hospitals, instead of from centres devoted purely to this branch of health work. The great fundamental difference between the system in England and that in British Columbia lies in the attention paid by the B.C. programme to preventive and educational work, whereas the Old Country system is almost entirely confined to the curative. According to Mrs. Lucas the British cord of public health work is really distinct nursing and social service. There are no definite sessions reserved for nurses, baby clinics are supervised by sick babies, rather than by well babies, as is the practice here, and educational work is practically nil.

SUNLIGHT TREATMENT

Mrs. Lucas found much to interest her in the heliotherapy institutions which have been started in the Old Country where the curative properties of sunlight in London, conducted by Dr. Owen Shrothore, there is such an institution where a large number of deformed and ailing children lie in veranda-like wards, where the sun's rays are directed almost entirely to the body.

CASTS MADE BY NURSES

The children, she says, all seemed happy, but it was impossible to estimate the value of the treatment as it covers a period of years in many cases. Mrs. Lucas was shown the cast-making equipment, where nurses in training make all the plaster casts used in the treatment. Mrs. Lucas was enabled to visit these two interesting experiments through the introduction of Dr. Wace of Victoria, who is deeply interested in the undertaking, and she brought back with her much interesting data on the subject which will be presented to the Department of Health for its information.

WEMBLEY THRILLS

Wembley thrilled Mrs. Lucas with its vastness and magnificent organization. She was particularly proud of the Canadian building, which she declares to be a marvel of organization and effectiveness. During the four days on which she visited the exhibition, Mrs. Lucas was impressed by the comments of the crowd, it being conceded on all sides that the Canadian exhibit was by far the finest in the whole exposition—finest in its conception and far ahead of the other Dominion exhibits in that Canada had taken the precaution to ensure an adequate staff of attendants to explain the various features.

HEALTH EXHIBIT POOL

After all the splendid arrangements of the Canada building, Mrs. Lucas was much disappointed at the inadequacy of the British health exhibit. She found it housed in a dark corner of the Industrial Building, and was "horrified" at the diet cards proposed for children of various ages. There was no literature for distribution, and, altogether, the exhibit furnished additional evidence of the Old Country's neglect of health education, which devoted ninety per cent of its public health programme to education. The so-called child-centre proved to be a creche in which the babies were cared for by a graduate nurse while the mothers visited the exhibition.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion Mrs. Lucas told The Times representative yesterday that she came back to the health centre more than ever fired with enthusiasm over its programme for the public weal, and proud of the splendid support which is given by the public of British Columbia to any measure tending to improve the health and well-being of its children.

CREW SAVED AFTER DESPERATE FIGHT WITH ICE FLOES OF FROZEN ARCTIC

By H. C. CLAY
Seattle, Sept. 11.—The long, cold arm of the Arctic is reaching down for victims and staunch ships are fighting a battle with frigid death.

Inset—Alice Supple, girl teacher, among those on board the Maid of Orleans, one of the boats which were missing in Alaskan waters. Below: The motor schooner Lady Kindersey.

The motor schooner Lady Kindersey, trapped in the ice pack with twenty-two men on board, the mystery of the schooner Maid of Orleans, with an American girl as passenger, and the thrilling duel of the coast-guard cutter Bear are high marks in his grim log of desperate ocean adventure.

The schooner, which sailed from Seattle June 25, was in command of Captain Christian Klingsberg, veteran of Victoria Land, which lies in the far reaches of the North beyond the Bering Sea, and 1,000 miles northeast of Point Barrow.

STEAMER SALVOR IS AGAIN AFLOAT

Skookum 2, Pacific Salvage Company's Vessel, Successfully Floats Ship

Reports received at the offices of the Pacific Salvage Company here this morning stated that the company's Vancouver salvager craft Skookum 2 had succeeded in floating the stranded ship Salvor, which ran ashore several days ago on Wilan Point, near Campbell River.

According to officials of Tarrowa Ltd. here to-day, it is possible that the owners of the Salvor may send that ship here for survey and repairs, but as she operates out of Vancouver and as her owners have their headquarters there, it is just as likely that she may go to the mainland city Skookum 2, to take any further orders which she may be called upon to execute.

T. R. Kirkwood, president of the Kirkwood Line, Limited, is in this city looking over his business connections following the establishment of a branch office of the Kirkwood Line at Vancouver.

In an interview Mr. Kirkwood said that it was his hope that the growth of shipping between the east and west coasts of the Dominion would warrant the placing of more vessels on the service which links Victoria, and other western ports, with Montreal, Quebec, and cities of Ontario, and the other maritime provinces in the East.

Mr. Kirkwood expects to be in this city some days. To keep in closer touch with Victoria and Vancouver merchants and shippers, we have opened an office in Vancouver, said Mr. Kirkwood this morning.

COWBOY ARTISTS GIVE SEA RODEO

First Event of Its Kind Was Startling Success Aboard Laconia

New York, Sept. 11.—The sea's first rodeo was held on the Cunard liner Laconia, on her last voyage from Liverpool to New York.

"Texas" Walker and "Skeeter" Bill Robbins gave a rodeo at the Wembley Exhibition, London, which at first struck the British people as being cruel, and then became a craze when they found out that riding bucking horses and steers was more dangerous to the riders than to the animals.

So much did the British grow to like the sport that Messrs. Walker and Robbins sailed for this country to organize a rodeo on a large scale, with at least 500 head of horses and steers and 100 cowboys and cowgirls.

On the way over the Laconia's officers persuaded them to give as much as they could of their show on the ship, and so it happened that the sea's first rodeo was given on the Laconia.

The show was held in the afternoon and the cowboys gave a fine exhibition of rope throwing. "Skeeter" Bill Robbins, who has written a book of poetry called "Rhymes of the Rodeo," and who has written a book and complimented, followed his cowboy stunts by readings from his own poems, and held spellbound his audience of 500 people.

When Guada Warne, who is Mrs. Walker, was called upon she was wearing a $200 Paris gown. The show was unexpected, but she soon rose to the occasion. Taking a knife she slit the gown down the centre, wrappings and tying half of it around each limb, thus giving it the appearance of cowgirl pants. Then she hoped everything in sight, including the ship's officers and the Captain's tiger, Guada Warne is the world's champion rope artist.

When Mr. Walker noticed the ruined gown he mused: "50 good dollars gone to bang."

"Well, I've been waiting some time to get rid of this gown and I'm glad your sea rodeo provided the way," replied Mrs. Walker, who is far too pretty for any husband to growl at.

The enlarged rodeo will soon return to England, where it is expected to run for at least a year. "Texas" Walker and "Skeeter" Bill Robbins began their wild west life with Buffalo Bill, and are now the leaders in their line.

SIR HAROLD SMITH

DIED IN LONDON

Brother of Lord Birkenhead; Was Forty-eight Years Old

London, Sept. 11 (Canadian Press Cable)—Sir Harold Smith, ex-M.P., brother of Lord Birkenhead (Frederick Edwin Smith) and in many ways a pale shadow of his more distinguished brother, died here to-day. Sir Harold was born in 1876. Lord Birkenhead was born in 1872. Both brothers had to make their own way at an early age after having received an Oxford University education. Sir Harold in the early stage of his career entered the common trade and later took a course in law and became a barrister of the Middle Temple. He was an active politician about the time Lord Birkenhead began to come to the front as a politician, and he gained some fame at the bar when Lord Birkenhead was at the head of the legal profession. There was a striking resemblance physically between the two brothers and they married sisters.

Sir Harold was a Conservative member of the House of Commons for several years. He was defeated in the last general election.

DR. SUTHERLAND EXPLAINS TO ROTARIANS HOW MOTOR LICENSES BUILD HIGHWAYS

Motor and Gasoline Taxes Produce Over Million Dollars; Twenty-year Bond Issues Financed by Sinking Funds; Increased Income Foretells New Big Issue.

Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, speaking at to-day's luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Chamber of Commerce, dealt with road building as a provincial problem and its bearing upon taxation.

He pointed out that 16,000 miles of road had to be maintained to serve less than one quarter of the Provincial population, with over sixty-miles of wooden bridges to be repaired or renewed, the life being, on the average, only fifteen years.

Primary and secondary highway problems were touched upon, these totalling nearly 350 miles, and with 33,052 automobiles and 4,421 trucks, the cost of maintenance is very heavy.

The program of permanent financing of roads for six years ago will not be complete for several years, and have caused many problems of regrading and relocation.

Dealing with financing methods, Dr. Sutherland said permanent financing has all been paid for out of capitalized motor licenses, and this year, in addition, of capitalized gasoline tax.

The motor tax, as taxes this year, are expected to net payments of $308,000 for municipalities and $397,000 for the Government. The charges on present roadbuilding bond issues being $442,000, a surplus of a quarter million will be available, which will warrant issuance of a further bond building issue of $1,500,000.

"We can only build roads to the limit of funds available, and I think we should limit the loads on trucks to the capacity of the roads we can afford to build," Dr. Sutherland said.

He explained the sections of heavy grades were left unsurfaced because of the danger of softening the road in concrete pavement at $35,000 a mile on such a stretch, you can realize what is going to happen to your taxes.

Dr. Sutherland said taxpayers could greatly help in maintaining roads if they would use a little judgment. "Last year, when the frost was coming out of the ground, on one section a truck, in one trip, did damage costing the Province $14,000 to repair."

Dr. Sutherland touched upon the need of trails for settlers and prospectors. The one thing this Province needs is the opening up of new lands and farming resources of the interior.

In thanking Dr. Sutherland for his address, President Beasley pledged the support of the Victoria Rotary should the Minister consider organizing public opinion for the better understanding of the problems of his department.

Capt. E. S. Evans and A. F. Bennett, Winnipeg-Victoria Canadian highway pathfinders, were the guests of the club, Mr. Joseph Patrick, President of the Canadian Club, urged the attendance of all the business men of Victoria to-morrow at the Canadian Club luncheon to the travelers.

City Sends Experts Abroad to Study Traffic Problems

Berlin, Sept. 11.—Street traffic in Berlin has increased to such an extent that the city authorities are chiefly due to the larger number of automobiles now in use, that the city authorities have sent experts abroad to study the ways of handling traffic in other cities.

New York and other American cities will be visited by the traffic chiefs, as well as London and Paris. It is planned to establish a signal similar to the slain woman whose body was found in a shallow grave near the camp.

He represented to Secretary Gioia that a woman friend wanted to cross from Chicago by road, and that he had asked her to attempt to win the Winnipeg-Victoria medal, so he applied for credentials, and secured them before he went East.

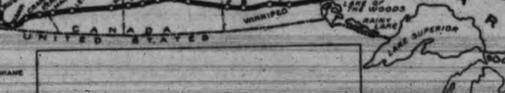

Subsequently he disappeared from the scene, as car and man have vanished completely. It seems probable they were on their way to Winnipeg to compete when the hand of fate stretched out and took the woman from this world under circumstances which are yet to be investigated.

SLAIN WOMAN MIGHT HAVE WON COVETED GOLD MEDAL

A curious link with the mysterious murder of a woman near an automobile camp in Illinois is told in connection with the successful effort to cross Canada from Winnipeg to Victoria by the Lincoln Highway Association pathfinders.

This case is the one in which George Cummings, formerly of Victoria, is a fugitive from justice. It appears that Cummings, who claimed to have crossed Canada with a small car last year, while en route here, made a formal application at the offices of the Canadian Highway Association here for credentials on behalf of a woman in the State of Michigan. This woman is suspected to be the person whom he married, and whose identity is alleged to be

PRINCE OF WALES JOINS FOX HUNT

Shares in Sport on Long Island; Injured Eye Better.

Syosset, N.Y., Sept. 11.—The Prince of Wales expected to-day to do some fox-hunting, his first taste of the English sport as transplanted to the country estates of Long Island.

Here it is known as cub hunting at this season, the game being young foxes born in the Spring. Several rides to hounds have already been made by members of the Meadowbrook Hunt Club, and the sounds of hunting horns and baying hounds have rung across the home occupied by the Prince.

The Prince's right eye was slightly injured in a polo game Monday, but was so improved to-day that he discarded the dark glasses he had put on to protect it.

Much interest attached to-day to the announcement made by Tex Rickard that the heir to the British throne would attend the Firpo-Willis fight to-night. Several days ago the Prince's secretary said he would not attend the affair, but, according to Rickard, the Prince has asked for and obtained five tickets.

Letters from feminine admirers of the British heir, ranging from pert sub-libs to stately dowagers, most of them requesting photos and autographs of the Prince, continue to arrive despite Captain Lascelles' announcement that such requests can not be complied with.

The Prince went yesterday to the estate of J. Pierpont Morgan, where he was shown a herd of Guernsey cattle.

Preceding the visit to the Morgan estate, the royal visitor had luncheon with Mrs. Harrison Williams. In the evening he was the guest of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt at a dinner.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The Prince of Wales will not travel across Canada under an incognito as he did on his last visit, but will retain his court rank, and will be known as the Prince of Wales, in Canada, on a holiday.

The fact that he will not drop his title does not mean, however, that he intends to deviate in any way from his original plans. He will make no official visits of any kind en route from New London, Conn., to High River, Alberta. The schedule as it has been arranged by the Canadian National Railways calls for no stop of more than fifteen minutes at any point in Canada or the United States.

Paris, Sept. 11.—President Jorjania of the Republic of Georgia telegraphed to President Motta of the Assembly of the League of Nations yesterday protesting against the execution by the Soviet authorities of forty-three Georgians as leaders in the revolutionary movement against the Soviet regime.

M. Jorjania asserted that these men, including the Minister of Agriculture, had been imprisoned long before the present revolution broke out in Georgia and that the Moscow Government, merely was killing off its political adversaries. He asked M. Motta to inform the League about the situation and he expressed the hope that the League would take action.

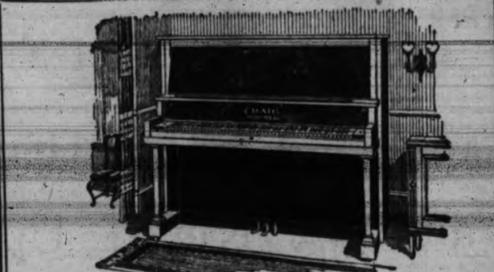

Twenty Killed in Kauai Strike Fight

Many Injured in Hawaiian Sugar Plantation Struggle Are in Hospitals

Guards Now Under Orders to Shoot if Strikers Come Near

Honolulu, Sept. 11.—Twenty persons dead, unnumbered injured lying in hospitals, officers under orders to shoot strikers if they approached, distracted widows with children moving from jails to hospitals and morgues in search of missing strikers—this was the aftermath to-day of a clash between sugar cane strikers and workers Tuesday at Hanalei, island of Kauai.

Those killed included sixteen Filipinos and four policemen. The situation seemed under control yesterday while the funeral of many of the victims was being held and to-day only a few Filipinos could be seen in the vicinity of the outbreak. They were not recognized as strikers, however, as all the strikers who were not killed in the fight-

The proposed abolition of basketball games under boys' rules and the withdrawal from the Thompson Cup series in which the High School girls have figured for several seasons has stirred up a storm of opposition among High School girls players that threatens to create a deadlock between the girls and the athletic instructor.

Of the two hands Firpo's crushing right is the best known. It has flattened many men for the ten strokes, and is the only one that has ever put Dempsey's down. Firpo uses it as a club and when it hits the curtains usually come down for the one who collects.

Best Weapons of Heavyweights Who Meet To-night

It will be necessary for the Tillicum and Cranleigh House to meet again to decide the championship of the Western Cricket League. Yesterday afternoon they tried to settle the argument at Beacon Hill, but the time limit was reached before the Tillicum had finished their innings and a draw resulted.

ALBIONS WIN MATCH

In the new Wednesday League the Albions triumphed by 94 runs to 81. It was a bowler's day and there was very little hard hitting. Three Albions reaped the double figures, while two of the Bays entered the 'teens.

AUSSIES WELCOMED TO CANADA—When the party of forty-nine Australian cadets on a tour of the world arrived in Toronto they were given a warm welcome by city and provincial officials, and the Board of Trade. Left to right: Capt. C. H. Brough, officer in charge of the visiting members of the Young Australian League; Max R. Gibson, drum major of the visiting Australian cadets; Scout Sidney Bates of Toronto, one of the first to greet Capt. Brough on his arrival.

RESCUED FROM RAFT ADRIFT IN OCEAN—After five days in the mid-Atlantic, lacking food and water, six shipwrecked sailors afloat on an improvised raft were rescued by the Munson liner Southern Cross. They managed to keep alive by catching some blackfish, eating the flesh raw and drinking the blood to quench their thirst.

ANOTHER NEEDLESS AUTO CRASH—Photo shows just another of the auto wrecks which could have been avoided if the driver had been careful. At St. Helena, California, two men were going at the rate of forty-five miles an hour in their car when a nother came out of an intersection and they were precipitated into the ditch. The car rolled over three times and was on fire before it finally stopped.

PROVINCIAL TREASURER RELEASED—After fifteen days' confinement in Toronto jail, following his return from California, Charles A. Matthews, junior, former Deputy Treasurer of Ontario, was released on bail of $33,000. Left, Matthews is shown with his mother, whom he met at the Crown Attorney's office. Right, he is coming down the steps of the jail, smiling over his first taste of freedom.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP—A. F. W. Plumpire, son of Canon Plumpire of Toronto, who ranked first for the third Edward Blake scholarship in mathematics proficiency, and also was awarded the first Edward Blake scholarship in mathematics.

FRATERNALISM—President Coolidge, on the White House steps, addresses the National Fraternal Congress on the relationship of fraternalism to civic progress.

IN HURRICANE'S TEETH—Her sick bay filled with injured, her decks stripped of lifeboats, her port holes smashed in and her cabins flooded, the White Star liner Arabic limped into port after ploughing through a three-day hurricane in North Atlantic waters. Fifty-two of her passengers and crew were under medical attention when she docked in New York. Several had to be removed to hospitals. Here may be seen some of the havoc the gale wrought with the boat. Notice how the sides of the lifeboats are caved in.

LUCKY—Tom Owen, a sailor on the Arabic, was washed overboard then hurled back on deck by the same wave when the liner struck a hurricane in the North Atlantic. Several other members of the crew also had narrow escapes, but none so close as his.

JACK'S DAD WEDS AGAIN—Hyrum Dempsey of Salt Lake City (left), whose son, Jack, is quite a well-known character nowadays, may be getting along in years—but he has young ideas. When his pugilistic scion fought Tommy Gibbons in Shelby, Mont., a year ago last July 4, Hyrum had a ring-side seat. And he wanted to look his best. So he stepped into a barber shop and got a manicure. But that was just the beginning. Hyrum, who admits he is sixty-seven, fell in love with the manicurist, Lottie Dexter Blasinger (right), just twenty-six. Now comes word of their marriage.

HAVE CHAMPION BABY—Proud but modest in the reflected glory won for them by their seventeen-months-old son, Richard, are Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor of Toronto, shown above with the baby who carried off the sweepstakes prize at the Canadian National Exhibition.

There will be no substantial changes either in the classes or in the fees in the Victoria Evening classes conducted under the City School Board, according to the schedule submitted to the board last evening by Municipal Inspector G. H. Deane.

Mr. Deane stated that careful attention was given to the classes, which were cancelled as soon as the attendance unreasonably fell off. Trustee Smith raised the question of increasing the fee for the class on pottery, which was a special class existing for the purpose of encouraging the development of the use of B. C. clays.

On Trustee Beckwith's suggestion the fee was left open until the municipal inspector had had an opportunity of consulting with the Department of Education.

Mr. Deane stated that the school fees were about the same as those charged in Vancouver.

OPPOSE VACCINATION

In connection with a young girl at the Girls Central School, the parents appealed to the board against compulsory vaccination. While deciding to invite the opinion of the school health officer on the question, the trustees stated the matter was outside their jurisdiction, if orders were issued by the provincial health department.

The writers informed the board that all steps would be taken to protect the health of the child, and comply with all school regulations, but they protested against her vaccination.

OAKLANDS PLAYGROUND

Notice of the reserve of lots on Lionel and Morley Streets by the city reverted lands committee for playground purposes for Oaklands School was received. The Parent-Teacher Association of the school will be notified.

NON-RESIDENT PUPILS

Formal notice was received from Esquimalt School Board that it would not be responsible for Esquimalt

CONCERTS AT SCHOOLS

Regulations of the use of the High School auditorium for entertainments was advocated by Trustee Beckwith when an application was filed by Drury Pryce on behalf of the Victoria Orchestral Society for three concerts, in November, February and May, with a concert for the general public in the evenings of the selected dates. It was decided to grant permission under the usual terms.

SAYS SCOTTISH PEOPLE SATISFIED

Trustee Beckwith Found School Board System Approved in Scotland

Trustee J. L. Beckwith, who has recently returned from a tour through the Old Country, told the City School Board last evening that in Scotland the system of school boards, elected for educational purposes specifically, had proved the best and no desire for a change was expressed.

He said that in view of the criticism of separate bodies to control education, and the fact that in British Columbia that the work should be conducted through committees of the municipal councils, he pointed out that in Scotland the Council raised the funds as in this Province, and that full control of expenditure rested with the school boards.

He believed that the experience of Scotland, which had always a high educational standard, would be of encouragement to the separate boards in British Columbia.

Mr. Beckwith mentioned that he had discussed the subject of educational control in Glasgow, and found that the system he had indicated worked out well, nor was it operating with difficulty to the city and burgh councils.

ANOTHER PHASE OF NON-RESIDENT PUPILS QUESTION

Pupil From Sooke Resides in Oak Bay, and Comes to City High School

Problems of non-resident pupils in the city high school have been presented in various forms for many years, but the municipal inspector presented a rather novel form of the problem to the school board last evening.

Outside the adjacent municipalities, two of which formed their own high schools, the trustees considered the city charge too high for their pupils, and the third of which pays a per capita allowance for their students, there have usually been a few students from unorganized districts. Either they have lived at home, and traveled to and fro to the school, or else they have placed themselves with relatives or boarded them in the city, thereby obtaining a temporary domicile, and in some indirect way the community has benefited.

The municipal inspector submitted another phase of the problem when he stated that a pupil from Sooke was attending the city high school, and residing in Oak Bay.

HONOR ODD FELLOW

Honorable Veteran Jewel Presented by Ontario Lodge to Bro. H. T. Fitzsimmons

An interesting ceremony took place at the meeting of Victoria Lodge No. 1 L.O.O.F. on Monday evening, when Bro. Fred Davey, grand secretary of British Columbia, presented a honorable veteran jewel to Bro. H. T. Fitzsimmons of this city on behalf of Brock Lodge No. 9, Brockville, Ontario. Members of the order who have held continuous membership in it for fifty years, are entitled to wear this jewel, and it may be worn in any branch of the order in lieu of the regular regalia.

This jewel is made of gold and represents the globe encircled by a laurel wreath, and suspended by a bar with the letters L.O.O.F. raised on it. This jewel is numbered "61," indicating that that number has been issued to the members in Ontario, and is inscribed on the back, "Presented to Bro. H. T. Fitzsimmons by Brock Lodge No. 9, Brockville, Ontario, August, 1924."

Brock Lodge is said to be the oldest Oddfellows' Lodge in the Dominion, being instituted on March 5, 1845.

Bro. Fitzsimmons' father was a member of this lodge before him and also an uncle to Fitzsimmons, who held the position of Grand Master of Ontario in 1874. Bro. Fitzsimmons has been absent from Brockville and had been unable to visit the Lodge for a number of years. He therefore fully appreciates the kind and fraternal feeling that prompted the members to remember him and send him this handsome gift, although so far removed from them by time and distance. He expressed himself to this effect when acknowledging the presentation.

French Teachers Aid Communism

Paris, Sept. 11.—The United Federation of School Teachers of France, in session in this city, has resolved that school children should be taught revolutionary principles. In the discussion that preceded the vote, different orators declared teachers should take matters in their own hands and begin their class strife propaganda with the little ones, discarding old text books and "bringing the children to understand that modern society is filled with the germs of industry." The federation comprises about 5,000 teachers who previously belonged to the federation which affiliated with the French Federation of Labor, and which separated from #### that body when the Communists split with the Socialist Party.

The ranks of the Communist teachers will be considerably swelled in the amnesty bill passed by the Chamber is adopted by the Senate. This bill reinstates teachers who have been dismissed for subversive action, or for any other reason, and provided for their promotion to posts they would in the ordinary course have reached had they not been dismissed.

LIFE-SAVING BOAT

To the Editor:—It is very much regretted if the article appearing in Wednesday's Colonist with reference to a life-saving boat for local waters could be construed to impute any mercenary motives to the pilots or pilot associations. Let me hasten to assure Capt. Shadforth that nothing of the kind was thought of in the discussions of the Navy League Committee. The matter being a question of public welfare a communication was addressed to the Provincial Police on the assumption that they would be the proper authorities to carry out any remedial or protective measures in the neighboring waters.

and recommending that the pilot boat or some other suitable craft be asked to undertake this necessary work. The pilot boat was favored by reason of the well-known qualifications of these boats and their crews and the fact that they are on duty at all times. In addition, the pilots have a central station right on the waterfront to which information of accidents could be transmitted in fact, all the facilities for giving the maximum of relief in the minimum of time. To establish a life-saving station with equal facilities would require a considerable outlay, while here appeared to be an almost perfect organization for the work right at hand. While it is well known that the pilots would do all in their power to render aid at any time, it would be unreasonable to ask any private organization to permanently place its time and equipment at the demand of the public without some consideration being offered for the services rendered.

The generous offer contained in Capt. Shadforth's letter of yesterday to The Times has greatly simplified matters for the authorities or for a life-saving society should one be formed here in the future, and I am sure will be much appreciated by the citizens of Victoria and others who use our waters for business or pleasure.

THOS. KENNELLY, Secretary Victoria Branch Navy League of Canada, 301 Pemberton Bldg., Victoria, B.C., Sept. 11, 1924.

To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Blotches

It is said that creams containing animal grease cause hair to grow. You run no risk of acquiring superfluous hair from using ordinary mercolized wax. There is nothing better for a discolored skin, as the wax actually absorbs the offensive cuticle. The latter is naturally replaced by a clear, smooth, healthy complexion, full of life and expression. It's the sensible way to discard a freckled, tanned, over-red, card a freckled, pimply skin. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drugist's and apply nightly like cold cream, erasing in the morning with soap and water. Soon you will observe a most remarkable transformation.
