NO TREATY IF HARDING WINS

Governor Cox Says Candidate Will Not Submit It to Senate.

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Governor Cox, the Democratic candidate for president, announced yesterday quietly resting at Travelers, his home near here, for the final speech of his campaign at Toledo tonight. Members of his family were with him most of the afternoon but late in the afternoon he tramped alone through the forest.

In a statement last night the governor asserted that the election of Senator Harding meant that the treaty would not be submitted to the senate for ratification, which, he added, would result in "controversy and confusion."

"His visits to thirty-six states, the governor declared, convinced him that the sentiment of the country favored American entry into the league."

"The events of the campaign are so clear in their significance," said his statement, "that the voter who is conscientious rather than prejudiced senses the difference between an election result which means the certain achievement of the nation's hopes on the one hand and continued uncertainty and confusion on the other."

"I am in favor of going into the league," Senator Harding is in favor of staying out. I am concerned about clarification; he is concerned about objection. These are the outstanding weak points of the campaign."

"Senator Harding says he will not submit the treaty of peace to the senate as it is, but that he will object to it. Since the president is without the right to make an alteration, this means that he will not submit it at all. This will result in one thing and one thing only—controversy and confusion."

"When the men and women go into the voting booths it is their duty to remember the pledge that was given in the name of America, and it is proper at this time to ask whether they are going to maintain the nation's honor."

Happiness of People.

"The happiness of our people is dependent in part upon their opportunity to labor. Therefore, our prosperity, as it is to be achieved, is a vital consideration. The chaotic state of things in a part of the world caused by no such labor without the backwash of the very foundation of our commercial institutions. Unless we go into the League of Nations, there is no guarantee against the waste of our resources, the maintenance of armies and navies, and unless this waste is halted, national credit overruns is out of the question."

"I have faith in the conscience of America. It has kept its pledge. It did not retreat and no moral question has ever failed when it was submitted to the judgment of the people. If we turn our thoughts to the graves of the 11,000 brave American boys who now sleep in Europe, our souls tell us what to do. The highway of civilization in that world is not unimpaired and unobscured. If we associate the philanthropic heart of the world and mold it into a concerted movement of help, our duty will have been done. Otherwise, the morality of nations has failed."

Wants Voice of America.

"Suffering humanity waits upon the voice of America. The verdict of Nov. 2 means joy or despair, world-wide."

"The governor with his party, arrived here early yesterday from Chicago, where he virtually completed his campaign, speaking on Saturday with several addresses to thousands of voters. His last words of the campaign will be spoken at Toledo."

As soon as the election is over, Governor Cox plans a long vacation on a hunting trip in Mississippi as the guest of Senator Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the Democratic speakers' bureau.

When the governor returns home from Toledo election morning, he will have travelled in his campaign a total of 21,862 miles, according to an unofficial count. During his campaign, which have been virtually continuous since his nomination on Aug. 7, Governor Cox made 234 addresses, not including innumerable other brief talks, greetings and receptions.

The coffin, over which was draped the Irish Republican flag, rested on a catafalque covered with a pall with a skull and crossbones on either side, such as is used at the obsequies of high churchmen.

The cathedral was filled and thousands of persons were massed in the adjacent streets. Two armored cars and five lorries of troops kept in the procession from the cathedral in the cemetery was solidly flanked by thousands who held their heads as the flag-draped casket, borne on the shoulders of the mayor's brothers and intimate friends, passed.

When the services at the cathedral ended the procession, formed under the supervision of the Irish volunteers, moved off slowly, the cathedral bell began tolling. This was immediately echoed by the bells of the other churches in the city.

TUESDAY FATEFUL DAY FOR STATE AND NATION; TOWNLEYISM THREATENS FORMER, AND ISOLATION THE LATTER

Election, in Some Ways, Presents Most Important Problems in Nation's and State's Histories; Judgeship Fight Grows Spectacular and Bitter; Carrs Gaining Ground Rapidly in Congressional Race; Legislative Fights Important as That for Governor.

When you go to the polls tomorrow and cast your vote in the national and state and county election, in some respects the most serious problems will be up to you to help decide that have ever presented themselves to the American public. This is especially true of the women, who are casting their first vote in a general election. Campaign orators always have it that "the greatest crisis in American history" is being dealt with. This happens in every campaign and no doubt the public, or that part of it which is not caught and excited by this claim, has grown tired of the superlatives, but in this case the national and state problems are at least equal in their effect, whatever the result.

Nationally the people must decide whether or not the nation shall take its place with the other nations of the world in a league to preserve peace, or remain isolated from the rest of the world and technically at war. That has become the main question of the campaign and it is so finely drawn as to become a moral one.

In the state, the people must decide whether or not they will be ruled by a "Townley" government, which has been a failure in the only state in which it has been tried, but by lawlessness in houses and audacity of campaign bids fair to win even in this state—at least making the prospective result seem close enough so that sane people shudder at the danger.

In brief, those are the points that must be determined tomorrow—they are up to the voter.

At almost the eleventh hour the spectacular spot of the campaign happens to be the contest for district judge to succeed Judge J. D. Bustin, and the fight between County Attorney Warren E. Greene and former Mayor Magney is reaching the bitter point. First Mr. Magney was given the endorsement of the Nonpartisan League. In his advertisement Saturday and yesterday Mr. Magney comes back with a slap at Mr. Greene, claiming that the latter is passing out circulars charging the former mayor of being a Nonpartisan League. In addition to this the Nonpartisan League's campaign committee, in an advertisement on the judgeship, claims that Mr. Greene pleaded with its committee to turn down Judge Puck before the June primaries and induce him. It's a fine pickup and not at all in keeping with the dignity of the office to which these men aspire.

From street echoes today, however, it was apparent that the character of the last-minute fight that is being made against Clarence R. Magney was being translated into sympathy that is likely to make many votes for him.

In brief, those are the points that must be determined tomorrow—they are up to the voter.

opponents, but actually they have none. At that, enthusiasm on the part of voters, or the feeling that "oh, they'll be elected anyway," could beat them. Voters are warned against this. Three men may be voted for, and it is urged that two of them be Judges Carr and Foster.

In the congressional race, it may be said at the close of the campaign that so far as learned, there has been little of anything in the way of mud-slinging. If either candidate has indulged in it, it has been in a very restrained manner. And with this knowledge, Congressman Carrs will, doubtless, feel doubly happy Wednesday when the returns show his election. It seems virtually certain now that he will succeed himself in the national house of representatives for the time being, though whether or not that will be in full flood, labor is being him his best support, and many Republicans, alienated from their party because of the anti-League of Nations attitude of Senator Harding, school by Candidate O. J. Larson of the Fifth district, are going to cast their ballots for the present congressman.

Little is heard of the contests for the legislature, and yet in view of the fact that the state is threatened by radicalism, the choice of proper men for the state house of representatives is fully as important as the choice for governor. The same Nonpartisan League danger exists in every district, and certain candidates for the legislature have the endorsement of the league and are being backed in the election. Here is the list of those known to be so endorsed in the county:

Fifty-seventh, S. T. Skrove; Fifty-eighth, Charles Eason and George O. Lockhart; Fifty-ninth, John Godwin and A. E. Jullikka. In the Fifty-seventh, Skrove's opponent is former Mayor M. B. Cullum, the incumbent representative, and with record in the last legislature which is regarded as exceptionally good, for he put up one of the best fights for Duluth and St. Louis county in the important measures that came up, that has been seen in years. In the Fifty-eighth, E. E. Peterson and Frank C. Scribner will likely be elected, for they have the backing of that element which wishes to see sanity prevail—and that element is a large one in the Fifty-eighth district. William L. Beard—Old Bill Beard of many candidacies again in the Fifty-ninth, and hundreds in and out of the district would feel personally grieved were he beaten—which is unlikely. His is a record of valiant service for the city and county, and where the people's rights were at stake. In the Sixtieth, where also is elected, it is felt that a serious mistake would be committed were M. Hiltoneck not re-elected, and the same thing is felt in the Sixty-first in regard to Charles T. Murphy.

So far as the county ticket is concerned, S. W. Gilpin has no opposition for judge of probate court, but there is a fight on for clerk of court. J. P. Johnson, incumbent, is being strongly opposed by William B. Shaver. The latter has been endorsed by the Nonpartisan League, and just what effect it will have on his candidacy is hard to forecast. It is believed that it will cut both ways, in which event, it is expected that Mr. Johnson should win. The latter's record is unusually good in office, and no good and valid reason has been advanced for turning him out, except that somebody else wants to get in.

Merry hades is being raised in connection with the battles for the four county commissionerships at stake. These are the First, Third, Fifth and Seventh districts, and each is being fought for hard. Alex. Fraser, the present commissioner in the First, is quite likely to repeat his former victories, but John W. Schneider is certainly fighting hard for it. In his circular letter sent out to voters, Mr. Schneider's principal and almost only bid for the popular favor is that he will dispense with the services of a chauffeur and eliminate this needless expense, and further, that he will run the county auditor, for the same car covers the duties of both. He will succeed himself in his office, which would be an additional expense. Walter A. Swanson is asking that he be re-elected and that he be re-elected by this time. It is to that point it is an even break. Commissioner Swanson has been the target of the anti-League of Nations position on his excellent record in office, which his many friends might question his re-election without question.

In the Fifth district those tried and true opponents of many fights for the place, Commissioner Joseph Beck and former Commissioner Charles Kauppi are at it again, and probably it will be about as close as usual one way or the other. Those two have opposed each other so often that they must have the cards well rehearsed by this time. In the Seventh district, A. E. Dyer and William Murphy are in deadly battle to decide which one will succeed Commissioner E. S. O'Neill, who was beaten in the primaries. The only news that seeps this far down the county is that the fight is a close one, and even that may be wrong.

Senator Harding may win tomorrow, but even his publicity men admit that the drift is toward Cox and has been ever since the senator made his Des Moines speech in which he declared for the rejection of the League of Nations Covenant. Since then he has taken to sneering at the slogan of the campaign of four years ago, "He kept us out of war." Some will say that the senator is apparently ambitious to have the opposite sentiment engraved on his political tombstone, "He kept us out of peace."

If Governor Cox is not elected, as one man was heard to observe yesterday, it will not be the fault of the Republican party leaders, for they have committed enough blunders in utterance and action to beat anybody but the favored of the gods. The Harvey cartoon, now widely repudiated by the Republican leaders since they have found that it is doing fearful damage, is likened to the Burchard break in the Plains campaign years ago when the governor got referred to "tramping, Romanism and rebellion," in connection with the Democratic party, and which utterance is credited with the defeat of the plumed knight. The Harvey cartoon may turn the same trick.

The big question is: How will the women vote? Many insist that women are idealists and, that being true, that they must of necessity be, in the main, for the League of Nations. If that is so, Cox will get the great majority of 2,000,000 new voters, and that could turn the trick. Are they idealists? Will he?

The Sample Case, monthly publication of the United Commercial Travelers, comes out in its latest issue with an apology to Governor Cox for a statement made editorially in its September issue to the effect that Governor Cox had established himself as unfriendly to traveling men by an editorial which appeared in the Dayton Daily News, owned by him, in August, 1914. The Sample Case editor now finds that the editorial was written without the knowledge of Governor Cox, who, upon learning of it, insisted on the writer of the editorial, Howard Bratton, apologizing to the commercial travelers over his own signature. Mr. Bratton did so and immediately after severed his connection with the Dayton News. Mr. Bratton, editor of the Sample Case, with unusual fairness and frankness, acknowledges his own error in the editorial, and the article was published on inaccuracies furnished him and without confirming them.

The contest for governor of Minnesota grows more and more pronounced between Press and Shipstead. It is virtually acknowledged now that Mayor Hodgson of St. Paul will run third. The question is: Which of the three will be elected? Third place concerns few. That it is close, however, is admitted. Tomorrow may tell a feeling akin to panic.

In the Wisconsin industrial commission, the commission says, stability of employees will be between 3 and 4 per cent less than in August, and that total wages paid will be at least 1 per cent less.

Wisconsin has not been hit as hard as Eastern states by the unsettled condition, the commission says, stability of employees will be between 3 and 4 per cent less than in August, and that total wages paid will be at least 1 per cent less.

The commission's tabulations for July and August, which have been completed show an increase of 8 per cent in total wages and a falling off of eight-tenths of 1 per cent in total of employment in the state. This condition was due to a large increase in earnings of railroad repair shop employees for August and to higher earnings in August as a result of improvement in the operation of the steel-making facilities which enabled factories to work full time, the commission says, declaring at the same time that average earnings in September are certain to have declined. Increase in Stone Work. An increase is shown by the commission's figures in the number of employes in stone quarrying and crushing and in stone finishing, due to improvement of transportation. The woodworking industry is recovering from the strike which tied up work, as shown by the increase in the number of operatives in mills and box factories. Tanning, hosiery and other knit goods and milk products showed considerably fewer workers. Demoralized market conditions have affected these industries. The commission says that Wisconsin shoe factories were not so affected as those in the East, due to the fact that most of them make a lower priced shoe. A comparison of the total employes and of wages paid in the first quarter of 1915 with those during July and August, 1920, show that wages during that time jumped 257 per cent, while employment increased only 43 per cent. A chart prepared by months shows that there is a trend toward unemployment at the present time and that the wage level is declining.

Meat prices showed a decline in October. Washington, Nov. 1.—Wholesale prices of beef and pork declined substantially during October, said a statement issued last night by the Institute of American Meat Packers. Selling prices of carcass beef throughout the country showed an average decline of approximately 13 per cent at the end of October as compared with the first week in September, according to the statement. Fresh pork declined heavily when the wholesale prices of light pork loins, whence come pork chops, declined about 21 per cent.

Week Interior of Church. Marshfield, Or., Nov. 1.—Unknown persons last night partially wrecked the interior of the local Catholic church, while the pastor, Father H. J. McDevitt, was absent. The greatest step of damage was the removal of statues from their places and breaking them in pieces on the floor.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 1.—Industrial conditions in Wisconsin are somewhat unsettled, the industrial commission announces. Preliminary estimates for September indicate that the number of employees will be between 3 and 4 per cent less than in August, and that total wages paid will be at least 1 per cent less.

Wisconsin has not been hit as hard as Eastern states by the unsettled condition, the commission says, stability of employees will be between 3 and 4 per cent less than in August, and that total wages paid will be at least 1 per cent less.

The commission's tabulations for July and August, which have been completed show an increase of 8 per cent in total wages and a falling off of eight-tenths of 1 per cent in total of employment in the state. This condition was due to a large increase in earnings of railroad repair shop employees for August and to higher earnings in August as a result of improvement in the operation of the steel-making facilities which enabled factories to work full time, the commission says, declaring at the same time that average earnings in September are certain to have declined. Increase in Stone Work. An increase is shown by the commission's figures in the number of employes in stone quarrying and crushing and in stone finishing, due to improvement of transportation. The woodworking industry is recovering from the strike which tied up work, as shown by the increase in the number of operatives in mills and box factories. Tanning, hosiery and other knit goods and milk products showed considerably fewer workers. Demoralized market conditions have affected these industries. The commission says that Wisconsin shoe factories were not so affected as those in the East, due to the fact that most of them make a lower priced shoe. A comparison of the total employes and of wages paid in the first quarter of 1915 with those during July and August, 1920, show that wages during that time jumped 257 per cent, while employment increased only 43 per cent. A chart prepared by months shows that there is a trend toward unemployment at the present time and that the wage level is declining.

Meat prices showed a decline in October. Washington, Nov. 1.—Wholesale prices of beef and pork declined substantially during October, said a statement issued last night by the Institute of American Meat Packers. Selling prices of carcass beef throughout the country showed an average decline of approximately 13 per cent at the end of October as compared with the first week in September, according to the statement. Fresh pork declined heavily when the wholesale prices of light pork loins, whence come pork chops, declined about 21 per cent.

Week Interior of Church. Marshfield, Or., Nov. 1.—Unknown persons last night partially wrecked the interior of the local Catholic church, while the pastor, Father H. J. McDevitt, was absent. The greatest step of damage was the removal of statues from their places and breaking them in pieces on the floor.

Nature gave us natural cosmetics in Palm and Olive oils—a lotion as well as cleansers. Their action is gentle, they are mild and soothing, as Cleopatra knew.

A secret of the stage every woman should know

For years women of the stage have belied the theory that cosmetics injure the complexion. They use rouge and powder constantly, yet their skins are usually good. They look younger than other women. Actresses seem never to grow old.

The secret is simple—stage women know that cosmetics should not be left on. They keep their complexions so scrupulously clean that rouge and powder can't harm them.

How you can wash for beauty

By using your own two hands and a cake of Palmolive. Work up a thick, creamy lather and massage it thoroughly into the skin. Be sure every tiny pore and minute gland is cleansed from clogging accumulations.

Then rinse thoroughly—with your hands—until every trace of lather disappears. Apply plenty of Palmolive Cold Cream.

Do this every day and you needn't worry about a little rouge and powder. Your skin will be smooth and fine textured. Blackheads, blotches and pimples will never bother you.

A mild, gentle cleanser

Palmolive is the safe soap—the mild, gentle cleanser because it is made from Palm and Olive oils—the same precious oils Cleopatra used in the days of ancient Egypt.

These natural cleansers were a historic toilet luxury, adorning the sumptuous baths of classic days. Now their scientific combination in Palmolive achieves the greatest luxury of modern times.

The Cost of a Hole in the Ground

COMMENTING upon the rise in the price of gasoline, a man who is unfamiliar with petroleum production writes:

"The Lord, who put the oil in the earth, charges no more for it than he ever did. It comes for nothing out of the ground when you dig a hole."

This is true, if it comes out of the ground without help. The greatly increased cost lies in digging the hole, casing it, caring for the oil when it comes out, and transporting and handling it on its way to the refinery.

Petroleum Age in its September issue says: "The cost of drilling and equipping a well at the present scale of prices for material and labor runs from Five Thousand Dollars for a shallow sand pumper to Seventy-five Thousand Dollars for the deep wells. A general average covering the entire country would run about Twenty Thousand Dollars per well.

One item which is often overlooked is the cost of drilling wells which fail to produce oil. It is estimated that from 20 to 30 per cent of all wells put down are dry holes.

Yet, in spite of all discouragements, which included shortage of casing, difficulties of transportation, and the increasing expense of labor, on July 31st, 1920, there were eleven thousand wells drilling or under way east of the Rocky Mountains, with completions averaging about three thousand wells a month. Probably thirty-six thousand wells will be completed during 1920.

The total expense, including investment in drilling tools, lease equipment and labor, is roughly estimated at one billion dollars.

Deducting two hundred fifty million dollars (25 percent) for salvage on equipment susceptible of further use, the net investment in new production for the year will be seven hundred fifty million dollars.

It is apparent that oil does now come "for nothing out of the ground."

Oil is usually discovered in spots remote from rail centers. The cost of pumping and transporting it to the refinery is a heavy charge. At the refinery charges begin to pile up, for refining oil is a true manufacturing process involving application of chemistry, the use of specialized machinery, and human labor.

All of these factors add to the cost of a product which Nature has given us.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been steadfastly applying the trained power of its organization to increasing the yield of gasoline from crude, and in achieving economies by large scale operations in refining and distributing its products.

NEW GRAND—You never can guess a Vaudeville audience. But whenever the New Grand, it's just about certain that they will be given a hearty reception. This is true in the case of the Royal Harmony Five, who headline the bill for the first half of the week.

These singers, all of whom have been grand opera in Italian and also one of two light ballads. The stage settings and costumes are bright and attractive, making the act one of unusual interest.

Whitman, billed as juvenile, appear as school kids, and they lead their audiences chuckling and laughing. The act abounds in juvenile comedy and some very attractive song numbers are introduced.

When Frear, Dargrett and Frear come upon the stage, one gets the impression he is to see a baseball game. It is only their clever way of introducing an athletic turn. Baseball bats, bats and other gymnastic apparatus are used and considerable good comedy is injected at timely intervals.

The Leather Trio, two girls and a young man, open with a witty acrobatic act, both clever and skillful.

Hawthorne and Cook, two breezy fellows, perform without rhyme or reason, but their nonsense is put over with a punch.

The picture bill is varied and attractive. There is another episode of "The Third Eye," news of the world, cartoons, comedies and flickertails.

Sousa's Band Different.

The name of Lieut. John Philip Sousa is a household word, and he has certainly done more to educate the great masses in music than any other living man. Sousa's band music is different from other band music because Sousa's instrumentation is more elaborate than that of any other band, and his resources for producing effects are much more elaborate than is usual with either bands or orchestras.

When he appears here next Saturday, Nov. 6, for matinee and night, he will bring his great organization which is bigger and better than ever before. Mrs. Stephen H. Jones, who is responsible for his appearance here, promises the children of Duluth an opportunity never before offered to children in America.

Symphony Concert.
One of the most delightful features of the "Peer Gynt" production, in which Edward Mansfield appeared a few years ago, was the rendering of Solvøig's song. This wonderful bit of music set out as one of the gems of art. Yesterday the New Garrick Symphony orchestra at its afternoon concert rendered the "Peer Gynt" suite with such feeling and such fine interpretation that it will stand out as one of the best things ever done by this splendid group of musicians. In addition to this suite there was a varied list of musical gems, all of which were greatly enjoyed by the large audience.

Conductor Helmer, who is familiar with Ibsen's great poetic drama, "Peer Gynt," can appreciate the delicate shades and blending of emotions in the "Peer Gynt" suite as the music is fitted to the poetic figure of this famous character. One of the Norwegian dramatist and poet. Much credit should be given to Charles Helmer and his musicians for their capable interpretation of this world and beautiful suite.

Conductor Helmer had selected some thing to suite all tastes and the result of the program was equally enjoyable. There was the beautiful serenade by Ibsen, "Midsommer Nat," a new fox trot, "Whispering," and "Clarice" by Lord and other tuneful and diverting numbers.

PHOTOPLAYS

NEW GARRICK—Pauline Frederick in "Madame X."
STRAND—"Humoresque" with Alma Rubens.
ZULU—Tom Mix in "The Untamed."
NEW LYRIC—Bert Lytell in "The Price of Redemption."

NEW GARRICK—An incomparable program! No term less laudatory could fairly describe the combination bill, which yesterday alternately moved to tears and then to laughter the members of the large audience to which Pauline Frederick in "Madame X" and Harold Lloyd in "High and Dizzy" were shown. The two pictures are the features of a program scheduled for all week at the New Garrick, and it is nothing more than an admission of real worth to say it is doubtful if a better drama than the one or a better comedy than the other has ever been offered Duluthans. As a pictorialization of the unkind way of mother-love, "Madame X" is at the top, and great and strong as it was as a stage production, the filmization has made it even more appealing. Miss Frederick, always artistic and one of the best of the present day emotional stars, displays great talent. The story is of a wife unjustly suspected of unfaithfulness and driven from home to drop to the very depths of life, to return twenty years after, and committing a murder to save those she loved, finds her own son her defender.

NEW LYRIC—It is a truly colorful matinee. Bert Lytell brings Bert Lytell back to the New Lyric screen, a story of India and of London titled, "The Price of Redemption." A story of army life in India is certain to be crammed with action, and this picture based on L. A. Wylie's big story, "The Temple of Dawn," makes action rampant. Founded upon the redemption of a man forced down to the gutter after he has assumed a stigma to save another, the story has been so illustrated with incident and climax that many will say it is the best thing which Bert Lytell has ever done. There are many thrills, among the biggest of which is the rescue of a garrison besieged by Indian rebels, with the star in the role of the hero, a British officer, "Shuffle the Queens," a Christie comedy, a dandy laugh-ketter. There are other interesting short subjects. The program will remain up to and including tomorrow night.

NEW ASTOR—"The Son of Tarzan," a sequel to "Tarzan of the Apes" and "The Revenge of Tarzan," and not only the very latest of the series of stories by Edgar Rice Burroughs, but claimed by critics to be the most unusual and most exciting, is coming to the New Astor tomorrow. On the same program will be William S. Hart in "The Devil's Double," but despite the quality of the bill the usual popular prices will prevail. Gordon Griffith, who was young Tarzan in "Tarzan of the Apes" and "The Revenge of Tarzan," as a boy, thrills of jungle life and combats of wild beasts, with a romance never touched by the other Tarzan stories are said to be reached in this, which is a picture for old and young alike. Today for the last times Douglas Fairbanks is appearing in "His Picture in the Paper."

ZELDA—One of the strangest companionships known in popular literature forms the basis of the story of "This Intimate" a Tom Mix Western which was made by William Fox, and which is the attraction of the evening. A remarkable trio, bound together by their primitive instincts, include an eerily though lovable sort of superman, a fiery stallion and a demon dog. Because of their isolation from others of their kind by barriers of their own unusual traits, these three find companionship in one another. Pauline Starke, an appealing little leading woman, plays opposite the star. The "bad man" was in the hands of George Seigmann, one of the best known of screen villains.

STRAND—There's just one reason why "Humoresque" which opened yesterday to the most enthusiastic audiences the Strand has ever known, takes its place among the big pictures of the day. It is a great picture because it is a human picture. It brushes away the superficialities and goes straight to the heart. You're surprised at the smile on your face, but smile you do. The witness on your face is a tear. You didn't know you were crying. That's "Humoresque"—humor and pathos with a mother-love that is wonderful. A picture with a greater appeal has never been made. It is a picture all Duluth will want to see, not once but many times. Vera Gordon as the mother will be remembered for a long time. The entire cast is, indeed, a fine one.

GOOD MONTH FOR COURT

Fines and Forfeited Bail Net Large Sum in October.

October was a profitable month for the Duluth police court, according to a report of receipts given out this morning by Ed A. Thompson, clerk of court. Receipts totaled $6,843.50, an increase of $2,874.00 over the receipts of October, 1919.

Both the up-town court and the West Duluth branch court took in $2,874.00 for the city in fines and forfeitures last month than during the same month a year ago. The West Duluth totals were $1,727 for last month and $2,399.50 for October, 1919. The total for the Duluth court last month was $3,116.50 and in October, 1919, it was $2,419.14.

All records for a single day's receipts were broken on Oct. 11. On that date the up-town court took in $866.50, while at West Duluth the sum taken was $216.50. Court officials say that in the palmiest days of the court in former years receipts never touched such an enormous figure.

CLEAR WAY FOR NEW UTILITIES BUILDING

With the introduction of an ordinance at the council meeting this afternoon, authorizing the letting of the contract for the plumbing and electrical work on the new water and light department building, the last opposition to the building will be overcome and the work will go forward at once, according to P. G. Phillips, commissioner of utilities. The contract for the construction of the building was let some time ago, but was held up through opposition by other members of the council. Their attitude changed when they were shown the need of the new building at once. It will be located on the lower side of West First street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues.

The council also considered a new ordinance to license all plumbers. This ordinance was introduced by Commissioner Farrell, who in explaining his action said the city had a plumbers' ordinance previous to the adoption of the building code, but this had become inoperative. The new ordinance will provide a fee for all plumbers in addition to having their work inspected by the city plumbing department.

FOR PEACE, VOTE FOR COX.
"I think," says Ellhu Root, "that the American objections (to the League of Nations) can be met and obviated without interfering with the scheme of the League or impairing its usefulness."

Where is a single word from Senator Harding pledging himself even to attempt doing what Mr. Root says can be done?
On the other hand there are many words from him that pledge him to do the contrary thing—to "scrap" the League of Nations—
even to the extent of promising NOT to send the treaty and the Covenant to the senate for its action if he is elected.

Why change?
To stem the rapidly rising tide of public sentiment for the League of Nations and Governor Cox, the effort to bewilder the people by harping on the fiction of "Democratic incompetence" is being fruitlessly renewed.

Here is the complete answer to that, from the Ohio State Journal, a Republican newspaper:

One needs to read the stories of the desperate plight of millions of people in European countries to get a right view of the happy conditions that surround the people of the United States.
This country has foodstuffs in quantities almost unlimited and with prices falling downward, and the people of the war-stricken lands abroad are on bread rationing, so Herbert Hoover has made public. Here there are money, medical skill and supplies to meet any sudden need.
Abroad there is lack of funds, lack of adequate medical skill and supplies.

Here there is employment at the best compensation in the history of the country, so those who face war prices may yet fight their way to victory and care abundantly for those dependent upon them. Abroad there is want, is scarce, labor opportunities meager in most places, while in soviet Russia labor has been nationalized, men and women being sent where some government agency decides, paid what governmental officials fix, and what they may earn, what they may eat, what they may purchase or wear, all are dictated by soviet officials.

Economically, there is no land in the world that has conditions comparable to those in this country. We have abundant justification for being the happiest people on earth. We have conditions that vex and annoy, but they are curable, and they are not of major conditions. It takes a view of European troubles and shows us, relatively, how happy is our condition.

Why change?
THE FORGOTTEN HALF OF ARTICLE X.
The members of the League undertake to RESPECT and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and independence of all members of the League. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat of danger of such aggression the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled.—
Article X of the Covenant of the League of Nations.

Virtually all of the discussion of Article
X has related to but one feature, the obligation to "preserve" the integrity and independence of League members.
Hardly anybody has talked of the other and more important factor in Article X;
the pledge which every member takes to RESPECT the integrity and independence of League members.

Article X is exactly what the president declared it to be in his masterly argument to the pro-League Republicans last week,
"the specific pledge of the members of the League that they will unite to resist exactly the things which Germany attempted,
no matter who attempts them in the future." It is that, and that is a primary essential of any league or association for peace. Any league or association that lacks it is not worth the paper its Covenant is

I don't believe in his heart President Wilson regrets his wounds. I fancy he realizes that no man could die in a greater cause. But I do sometimes wonder if it ever seems to him strange that when a man has been seriously wounded in his country's service, he should be met with sneers and calumnies from his countrymen.
—Joseph P. Tumulty, private secretary to the President.

written upon. But it is far more than that.
There is danger that people will overlook the vitally important fact that by joining the League of Nations more than forty countries have solemnly bound themselves never again to commit that pillar of territory which is the seed of all great wars.
Mr. Harding, when Borah and Johnson and Hearst are not listening, seems willing to leave the impression with friends of the League of Nations that he is for "an association" of nations without an Article X.
That is, he aims to lead America into an alliance with nations that are NOT pledged to refrain from that species of international burglary that caused the great war and all great wars.
Who, with sound mind and eyes open,
will follow him into such a trap?
THE League of Nations, with its Article X to bind all nations not to commit the international burglary that makes war, is the only safe road to peace.

A vote for Cox is a vote for the League of Nations and organized world peace.

DON'T FORGET AMENDMENT NO. 1.
No voter should take it for granted, because everybody around him seems to be for Amendment No. 1, that the victory is won and this new charter of freedom from mud and bad roads is already ratified.

On the contrary, it needs every last vote, because failure to vote counts precisely the same as a vote against it, and many will fail to vote on it—more than will vote against it.
So no voter, whatever he may do on other issues, should forget to vote for Amendment No. 1 on the pink ballot; for without this amendment good roads for Minnesota are IMPOSSIBLE.

Not only that, but unless this amendment is ratified Minnesota cannot get its full share of Federal aid for building its roads.
Not only that, but unless Amendment
No. 1 is ratified by the state, St. Louis county taxpayers will have to pay for seven million dollars' worth of roads to which they are committed by a project that anticipated the ratification of the amendment.

Amendment No. 1 provides a way to build seven thousand miles of good roads without costing anybody a cent. The expense is to be met out of license fees on motor vehicles, and the owners of the motor vehicles will save more than the additional expense by the lessened cost of upkeep that will result.

Amendment No. 1 lifts from the counties
the burden of maintaining all state roads, thus leaving their resources free to develop other local roads.

Whatever you do, don't fail to vote "Yes"
on Amendment No. 1.

BEWARE THE ENEMIES OF PEACE.
Dr. Charles W. Eliot in an address the other day to the students of Harvard scathingly analyzed, exposed and arraigned the hypocrisy of the recent statement of thirty-one eminent Republicans, headed by Ellhu Root, advocating the election of Senator Harding. He showed that by omitting and ignoring the essential facts—for instance, about Article X—they had made a case against the Paris Covenant which falls to the ground when these facts are made clear.

And at the close of his penetrating and convincing reply to the Republican Brahmins who, in hypocritical masquerade as friends of peace and the League of Nations, advocate the election of a man who is the willing tool of every bitter enemy of peace and the League, Dr. Eliot left this thought, which every voter should carry with him to the polls:

The conclusion of the statement of the thirty-one eminent Republicans contains the attractive phrase, "advance the cause of international cooperation to promote peace."
Where does that noble idea come from? From the preamble of the League of Nations Covenant?
If the new voter or the doubtful voter who loves the real America as he loves his mother or his wife will take into his mind and heart that preamble to the League Covenant, he will not vote to place the control of the government of the United States in the hands of the associate senators who defeated ratification.

How to Reach Some People Buffalo Express: If Irving Berlin would only set it to music, doubtless a lot of us would get better acquainted with Article X.

Mr. Taft and the League

Editorial in the Baltimore Sun.

Most individuals with healthy human feelings will sympathize with Mr. Taft. Through the Republican party he received the highest office within the gift of the American people.
He naturally feels grateful to that party. He cannot bring himself to vote against it or refuse to give it his support. Col. Roosevelt, who was not so generous, could do such a thing, but he cannot. Therefore he is for Harding and he tries to justify his position as best he may.

But he believes the League of Nations the greatest issue before the American people.
He knows that it is a practical method proposed for the attainment of that splendid object. His original preference was for the ratification of the League Covenant as it came from Paris unaltered. Failing that, he was willing to accept reservations that did not nullify the purposes of the organization.

In other words, his stand on the League is precisely that of Governor Cox. It is diametrically opposed to that of Senator Harding.
Yet his sense of obligation to the Republican party is so strong that he is constrained to support the man whose views he abhors and to oppose the man whose views he admires and to the greatest question before the people he is constrained to submit.

Mr. Taft must settle with his own conscience the question of his attitude in the present crisis. He is not a man who can be led by the party. He is a man who can be led by his own conscience. He is a man who should like to point out that the considerations affecting his decision do not apply to the rank and file of the Republican party.
They are under no personal debt of gratitude to the party. Mr. Marburg, Herbert Patton, President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard, Prof. Fisher, and a host of other Republicans and Independents who appreciate the tremendous importance of the League issue have frankly recognized this and are supporting Governor Cox. The logic which has dictated their course must appeal to millions of the country, not to the few who have cast his personal vote as he will, but he cannot carry with him those who believe as he does about the League of Nations.

How It Will Be Told

Life: Returning travelers report that folks in Europe have pretty generally forgotten that the A. H. F. ever came over there.

That's quite natural and all right. The sentiment of enthusiasm in Europe for the United States was necessarily unstable, and its early passing should not be regretted.
But it is a pity should have slumped so in the reorganization of the world, but it was quite hopeless to try to live up to the reputation our armies had won for us on Armistice day, and the sooner our reputation was adjusted to our merits and means the better.

History will take care of us. It will say that the United States did magnificently in the great war that was asked of it; that afterward, inheriting the mantle of E.
Roosevelt of Wilson's accomplishment, was able with the help of Johnson and Borah and the rest of the League of Nations to establish and suspend proceedings. But that

FOR PEACE, VOTE FOR COX.

"I think," says Ellin Root, "that the American objections to the League of Nations can be met and obviated without interfering with the scheme of the League or impairing its usefulness."

Governor Cox is pledged, with all his strength and sincerity, to accomplish precisely that end. Where is a single word from Senator Harding pledging himself even to attempt doing what Mr. Root says can be done?

WHY CHANGE?

To stem the rapidly rising tide of public sentiment for the League of Nations and Governor Cox, the effort to bewilder the people by harping on the fiction of "Democratic incompetence" is being frantically renewed.

Here is the complete answer to that, from the Ohio State Journal, a Republican newspaper: One needs to read the stories of the democratic blight of millions of people in European countries to get a right view of the happy conditions that surround the people of the United States.

Not only that, but unless this amendment is ratified Minnesota cannot get its full share of Federal aid for building its roads. Not only that, but unless Amendment No. 1 is ratified by the state, St. Louis county taxpayers will have to pay for seven million dollars' worth of roads to which they are committed by a project that anticipated the ratification of the amendment.

Amendment No. 1 provides a way to build seven thousand miles of good roads without costing anybody a cent. The expense is to be met out of license fees on motor vehicles, and the owners of the motor vehicles will save more than the additional expense by the lessened cost of upkeep that will result.

Amendment No. 1 lifts from the counties the burden of maintaining all state roads, thus leaving their resources free to develop other local roads. Whatever you do, don't fail to vote "Yes" on Amendment No. 1.

I don't believe in his heart President Wilson regrets his wounds. I fancy he realizes that no man could die in a greater cause. But I do sometimes wonder if it ever seems to him strange that when a man has been seriously wounded in his country's service, he should be met with sneers and calumnies from his countrymen.

—Joseph P. Tumulty, private secretary to the President.

written upon. But it is far more than that. There is danger that people will overlook the vitally important fact that by joining the League of Nations more than forty countries have solemnly bound themselves never again to commit that pillage of territory which is the seed of all great wars.

Mr. Harding, when Borah and Johnson and Hearst are not listening, seems willing to leave the impression with friends of the League of Nations that he is for "an association" of nations without an Article X.

That is, he aims to lead America into an alliance with nations that are NOT pledged to refrain from that species of international burglary that caused the great war and all great wars!

Who, with sound mind and eyes open, will follow him into such a trap? THE League of Nations, with its Article X to bind all nations not to commit the international burglary that makes war, is the only safe road to peace.

A vote for Cox is a vote for the League of Nations and organized world peace.

THE HERALD'S ELECTION SERVICE.

As usual, The Herald will provide the returns from the election promptly, correctly and completely. Every possible provision for collecting the returns rapidly and accurately has been made.

Tomorrow night the returns from the national and state election as they come in over the Associated Press and special wires will be flashed on a screen across First street from The Herald building, and everybody is invited to take advantage of this free display.

Wednesday's editions of The Herald will provide the general, state and local returns as rapidly as they are available, and—again as usual—the first complete and authentic returns will be found in The Herald.

DON'T FORGET AMENDMENT NO. 1.

No voter should take it for granted, because everybody around him seems to be for Amendment No. 1, that the victory is won and this new charter of freedom from mud and bad roads is already ratified.

On the contrary, it needs every last vote, because failure to vote counts precisely the same as a vote against it, and many will fail to vote on it—more than will vote against it.

So no voter, whatever he may do on other issues, should forget to vote for Amendment No. 1 on the pink ballot; for without this amendment good roads for Minnesota are IMPOSSIBLE.

Not only that, but unless Amendment No. 1 is ratified by the state, St. Louis county taxpayers will have to pay for seven million dollars' worth of roads to which they are committed by a project that anticipated the ratification of the amendment.

Amendment No. 1 provides a way to build seven thousand miles of good roads without costing anybody a cent. BEWARE THE ENEMIES OF PEACE. Dr. Charles W. Elliot in an address the other day to the students of Harvard scathingly analyzed, exposed and arraigned the hypocrisy of the recent statement of thirty-one eminent Republicans, headed by Ellin Root, advocating the election of Senator Harding.

The conclusion of the statement of the thirty-one eminent Republicans contains the attractive phrase, "adherence to the cause of international cooperation to promote peace."

Mr. Taft and the League

Editorial in the Baltimore Sun.

Most individuals with healthy human feelings will sympathize with Mr. Taft. Through the Republican party he received the highest office within the gift of the American people. He naturally feels grateful to that party. He cannot bring himself to vote against it or to refuse to give it his support.

But he believes the League of Nations the greatest issue before the American people. He knows that it is a practical method proposed for the attainment of that splendid object. His original preference was for the ratification of the league as it came from Paris, unaltered. Failing that, he was willing to accept reservations that did not nullify the purposes of the organization.

In other words, his stand on the league is precisely that of Governor Cox. It is diametrically opposed to that of Senator Harding. Yet his own obligation to the Republican party is such that he is constrained to support the man whose views he abhors and to oppose the man with whose views he is in complete sympathy.

Mr. Taft must settle with his own conscience the question before him. He is not Mr. Taft, but he is the only judge of his duty. We should like to point out that the considerations affecting Mr. Taft's vote are not the rank and file of the Republican voters of the country, nor to mention the independent voters. They are under no personal debt of gratitude to Mr. Taft.

Life: Returning travelers report that folks in Europe have pretty generally forgotten that the A. E. F. ever came over there. That's quite natural and all right. The sentiment of enthusiasm in Europe for the United States was necessarily unsteady, and its early passing should not be regretted.

History will take care of it. It will say that the United States did magnificently in the great war which was asked of it. It is a pity we should have stumbled so in the reorganization of the world, but it was quite hopeless to try to live up to the reputation our armies had won for us on Armistice day, and the sooner our reputation was adjusted to our merits and means the better.

To a New Voter

From the New York Evening Post.

When you cast your first ballot next Tuesday you may be, in age, only 21 or may be 60. You may be a grandson or grandmother. But in either case you are fortunate in the circumstances of your entrance upon active citizenship.

You are free from the ties of party and class party in the individualism and conscience. It has been justified by our experience as a nation. Adherence to party even in the face of strong temporary provocation may be justified by the larger good that comes from unshaken party tradition.

Why are men deserting Harding? Because they find it impossible to forget. They cannot forget that he happened to be president during the last four years and what has happened in this country during the last six years. They cannot forget the agony of Europe. They cannot forget the death of millions and the high resolves which that agony stirred in the hearts of the American people.

Health Talks

By William Brady, M. D.

Physical Education in Schools Twenty minutes each day are devoted to education of the usually neglected muscles below the eyebrows," writes a Pittsburgh public school teacher. And in addition, she informs us, "there is a ten or fifteen minute period of why and wherefores listed in the curriculum as hygiene."

The great trouble with hygiene, in the Pittsburgh curriculum, is that the school authorities harbor a notion that it is an insignificant or unimportant subject to be sandwiched in between more essential subjects such as geography and history. They don't try to teach arithmetic or history in ten or fifteen minute periods of why and wherefores in Pittsburgh, Ill. votes.

But that twenty minutes of physical education each day is something like. They're beginning to realize that it is not only a part of the curriculum, but a part of the child's life. The teacher goes on: "Every session has its recess of fifteen minutes, which means thirty minutes a day at which time the playground becomes a circus ring."

Now that is something like. Every session has its fifteen minute recess. Old city teachers and middle-class school principals, please study the Pittsburgh plan. The teacher isn't quite through yet: "When weather prohibits play out of doors the windows are opened and gym rooms used. "Some children cartwheel and others somersault home. . . . Come to 'Hilton Reformatory' and see our healthy youngsters chinning, walking on their hands, jumping double and performing other stunts which I have not time to enumerate."

What's the matter with Pittsburgh below the eyebrows? Nothing much. Physical education hasn't progressed appreciably in our public schools the past few years. It has been pushed forward on paper but it is still a bore to the uneducated teacher and more or less a joke to the children who are obliged to "take" it. It will always remain a bore just as long as the instruction is left to some physically uneducated teacher or as long as a woefully inadequate staff of instructors in this vital department is deemed sufficient for the thousands of school children.

What a farce it is for the geography or arithmetic teacher to read over a syllabus or listen to a few chalk talks on physical education and then attempt to serve as physical instructor! It is heart-breaking to see such a performance, the instructor making a sorry bluff at the exercises in her corner and other trappings and the children with tongue in cheek trying hard not to laugh at the ridiculous spectacle.

North Dakota business men opposing Townley are reported showing little sympathy because of the Nonpartisan league's threat to drive them out of the state if he is defeated. As the Grand Forks Herald puts it, most of them feel that they will have cause for worry only if he is successful.

A Minneapolis woman complains that "men are trying to make us their equals by discourtesy." The common courtesies due to women are being given up by many men. Women always will be treated courteously by most men but through a contrary streak in human nature those who are most courteous in claiming their dues usually get the least.

Editor Artikson of the Tribune News says that he can appreciate the attitude of some men with an ulterior purpose toward the League of Nations but cannot understand how an inefficient, tender-hearted woman can vote to continue the wars of the world. "Maybe she is being misled by some of our politicians," he adds. The Tribune editor never made a letter guess.

The Ferguson Falls committee, under the leadership of Chairman Elmer Anderson, so fully administered the $25,000 fund contributed by the sympathetic people of the state for the relief of those who lost their property in the cyclone that swept that section of the Grand Forks district that it completed work with a $45,526 balance. Everybody donated. It is said, was given consideration to the charity of the state which had suffered a loss of about $100,000. The committee is a help to the state as well as to the communities in which they are located. Why not recognize it by assisting them with that balance? It will be practically impossible to return it to individual subscribers anyway.

Claret has decided to add several blocks to his handsomely furnished "white" way. Twenty Years Ago From The Herald of This Date, 1900. Charles F. Jones, secretary and agent to the late millionaire, William Marsh Rice, made a desperate effort early this morning to commit suicide in his cell in the Tombs at New York. Jones was committed to the Tombs with Alvin Karpis on Sept. 24, on the charge of forging Dr. Rice's name to several checks. It is claimed by the district attorney's office that Jones yesterday made a voluntary statement in which he accused a grayish color shortly before he died and that Patrick had failed to tell him that Rice's name was on the checks which the latter had demanded.

A Word Regarding Lower Prices. It's a happy fact that prices on blouses have dropped—the decline commenced last November—in April the largest break in prices was recorded—since then the declines have been gradual. BUD'S have been pricing their blouses with the spirit of the market—every decline was immediately responded to in the way of general markdowns. We can't see further reductions in silk blouses. BUD'S prices today are comparatively lower than before the war. Silk blouses today at BUD'S prices are the cheapest commodity in the U. S. A.

DESIRE FOR CHANGE WAS CONTROLLING

It is difficult to explain the important relationship between a stabilized Europe and expanded markets for American goods (instead of turbulent Europe and canceled orders because of lack of credit) when in the background of so many minds is the impression created by the constant hammering of the Republican party against the Wilson cabinet for its alleged lack of interest in domestic reconstruction since the armistice.

The desire for a change of personnel at Washington was the dominant issue in this campaign. It did not even extend to a clear understanding of a change of policies. The Republicans offered very few constructive suggestions and were content to center attention on the weaknesses of the incumbent party. The Democrats also indulged in a destructive campaign or attack on the defensive. Neither party clearly outlined a reconstruction policy. The Democrats are being turned out of power for failing to put into effect a change in cabinet after the war ended, and for failing to preserve enough of the war machinery to effect a transition during the reconstruction period without being brought back into being so higher than it was during the war itself.

The writer's conclusion after many weeks of study from an independent viewpoint is that not so much is expected from Senator Harding as from the ten men with whom he will surround himself in the cabinet. It is expected that he will have a vested interest in power and not an all-out devotion to anything but the selfish and profit-making of the Democrats.

Of course, it is none of the business of the writer to say whether the impression of Democratic inefficiency which has been so assiduously spread by the Republicans is a just one. Anyone who was in Washington during the war knows how difficult it was for any administration to do the job that was done, how many were the inevitable repetitions and restrictions, and how unfortunate it is that the Democrats should have four years of their physical collapse the Republicans managed to carry on a continuous offensive through their speakers in the house and senate. That is what is winning the election. It is the writer's firm belief that the Republicans could have won the presidency this time without any organization or headquarters. The die was cast when the nominations were made. The nation has been set for a change for a long time.

Mistakes of Campaign. Governor Cox himself has been an incidental figure in the whole thing. Many people believe him a better administrator than Senator Harding, but will not vote for him because of their party feeling. Moreover, the Democratic campaign has been unfortunately handled by Governor Cox himself. He should have insisted upon the retention of Homer Cummings as national chairman, because the latter did have some semblance of an organization ready for action the day after the San Francisco convention, and even though Cummings himself might not have been in active charge the effect of depositing him was a serious blow at the morale of the whole Democratic party. It took weeks of precious time to get many Wilson Democrats back into line.

Moreover, although hindsight is better than foresight, many Democrats admit that Governor Cox's talk about a slash fund and efforts to "buy the presidency" may have been based upon proof convincing to themselves, but which was insufficient to prove the Republicans guilty with the public. It should never have been started by the Democrats' nominee for the presidency, but by his campaign manager or some body else in the Democratic ranks.

Hard Job for Cox. Homer Cummings was the man who wanted the whole campaign pitched on the league issue. George White, who has done a wonderful piece of work against heavy odds, was not able to learn the ropes and get into action quickly enough to head off the Republican opposition. Moreover, Governor Cox did not seem enough make himself clear on the war question and tackle domestic questions. Only late in the campaign did he outline that he would not have the same kind of cabinet as the last few years. But he too, had embarrassments—the Republicans would have been quick to take advantage of any cabinet break with the administration. It was a hard job for the governor of Ohio, and his best friends will be sorry that he had to be offered up as the sacrifice in this campaign.

Future. The question of whether or not other weakness in the Democratic campaign. The desire to re-elect Governor Al Smith of New York has occupied Tammany more than anything else. Similarly in other states the Democrats have been interested in their own local or congressional tickets. The desire to re-elect the Democratic ticket because he has done nothing to smother the Harding battles, too. Senator Nicholson, Republican, should be in Colorado. Senator Brandegee may be beaten in Connecticut by Congressman Linnegar if the Harding majority doesn't carry Brandegee in the state. Senator Nugent, Democrat, has a splendid chance for re-election in Idaho. Former Senator Taggart, Democrat, probably will defeat Senator Jim Watson in Indiana. Senator Cummins, Republican, in Iowa, and Senator Geckman, Kentucky, Democrat, will retain their seats, though the Kentucky race is close. Missouri is quite likely to defeat Senator Brandegee in the state. Senator Wadsworth, Republican, of New York, is a sure winner, as Tammany is helping him and neglecting the Democratic candidate. Dr. Ladd, Republican, will win in North Dakota, as will Frank Willis, Republican, succeed

Washington, Nov. 1.—The $157 national banks of the country reported a gross revenue of $1,105,000,000 or 24 per cent on their capital for the fiscal year ending last June 30, said a statistician yesterday by John Skelton Williams, controller of the currency.

WRONG STATEMENT BY ROOSEVELT'S SISTER

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 1.—United States Senator G. M. Hitchcock last night issued the following statement: "I notice in press dispatches a very grave misstatement regarding the so-called Lodge reservations by Mrs. Douglas Robinson, sister of Theodore Roosevelt. It is that when he was ill, Senator Lodge visited the hospital and obtained Roosevelt's approval to 'every one of the Lodge reservations.'"

The fact, Mr. Hitchcock said, is that the conference met to begin consideration of the treaty. At that time the League of Nations Covenant was not written, nor was it even known that it would be written.

Mr. Roosevelt died Jan. 6, 1919; the fact that he was ill at the time of the conference is a matter of public knowledge.

STATE MAY BUILD OWN CEMENT MILL

Good Roads Amendment No. 1 Will Give Needed Authority, According to Attorney General; Counties and Cities Gain; Plants Will Supply All Road Building and Other Public Needs.

Minnesota will be authorized to build and operate state plants to make cement for road and other public purposes, through the addition of Good Roads Amendment No. 1.

An opinion to that effect, given recently by C. Louis Weeks, deputy attorney general, is proving an important factor in the good roads campaign and gaining for Amendment No. 1 the solid assistance of thousands of advocates of state-ownership.

"The talked of plant has a strong bearing on people's attitude towards Amendment No. 1," said Senator Lyver Lee of Glenwood, who asked for the opinion. Senator Lee, it will be remembered, was one of ten members of the last legislature who voted against the bill to submit Amendment No. 1 on the pink ballot Nov. 2.

DECLARES HARDING NOT FRIENDLY TO LABOR

New York, Nov. 1.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement yesterday, said an investigation conducted on Senator Harding's views and practices in the industrial life of his home city, proves "his duplicity in relation to his claim of friendship for the working people and gives a full picture of his ardent championship of industrial enslavement."

The investigation upon which Mr. Gompers said his statement was based, was conducted by John H. Frey, editor of the International Molders' Union Journal, and Chester M. Wright, assistant-editor of the American Federalist.

The statement asserted the Manufacturers' association of Marion is organized primarily to prevent the organization of wage earners, determines the maximum wage to be paid the employees of any of its members and provides that no employee can secure employment from any other than his present employer without the consent of the employer.

MINNESOTA CAMPAIGN FACTS—SULLIVAN—SHIPSTEAD—MALLON

DR. HENRIK SHIPSTEAD

The News Tribune of Tuesday, October 26, carried an anonymous article in its "Open Forum" column attacking Dr. Henrik Shipstead's war record. To date it has failed to print an answer to same that was mailed by special delivery rebuking this unfair attack and requesting the party thereto to face Dr. Shipstead at the Woodman hall on the evening of the 27th. This is a sample of the campaign methods of the opposition. In justice to Dr. Henrik Shipstead, we wish to enlighten the public as to his war record. Dr. Henrik Shipstead was chairman of several Liberty Loan drives in his district during the war; also chairman of red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army, Seven Sisters and Lutheran church drives. He held a commission in the Dental corps of the U. S. army and was awarded a medal by the State of Minnesota for his services during the war. The News Tribune is so fair in campaign matters that it uses poison gas as means to an end.

Another instance of unfair tactics by the News Tribune towards Geo. H. Mallon, independent candidate for lieutenant governor: Mallon was a recent honor guest of the City of Cleveland on the occasion of the American Legion convention. When the Associated Press reported the names of the various heroes that had been honored at this convention, the News Tribune had it that Mallon was from Kentucky instead of Minnesota. Evidently it is afraid that Mallon may get a few votes owing to his war record. The News Tribune does not want it known that Geo. H. Mallon, although a married man, volunteered for the officers' training camp at Fort Snelling; that he had to undergo an operation and laid three weeks in the hospital, and was graduated a captain of infantry, after which he served eighteen months in the trenches, where he and his men covered themselves with glory. The News Tribune does not want the public to know that Geo. Mallon accounted for several of the enemy with his bare fists; that he was immortalized in the Fifth Liberty Loan as the soldier from Minnesota who fought for us with his fists; that he and nine men captured 100 prisoners; 10 machine guns and 6 cannon; that he was decorated with the Legion of Honor, the Croix de Guerre with palm, was given a citation by the other Allied governments and was awarded the Congressional medal for distinguished service.

The opposition has vilified and abused the Independent candidate for attorney general, Thomas V. Sullivan, a real people's lawyer—a fearless descendent of a race that has shed more blood and tears on behalf of liberty in every land under the sun. He stands for fearless enforcement of the law; is against using the government and courts on behalf of employing and big business interests to oppress or suppress farmer and labor organizations. A fighter, stands four-square for the common people.

These candidates were called snakes in the grass during the primary election by the Volunteer Citizens' Committee of Duluth.

Shorty runs into Teebo!

Dear Pete:

Atlanta, Ga. Wednesday.

Checked up our old dormitory pal "Snapper" Teebo this morning waiting on an appointment down Peachtree Street. "Snapper" wanted to know a book full about my visit to the Camel factories. "Tell us, old apple seed," says Snapper, "you're on the inside!" "Snapper" still has that mighty annoying way of saying, "But that doesn't surprise me!" Some day I'll sock him—maybe that will be a surprise!

Anyhow—when I explained about the millions of Camels R. T. Reynolds Tobacco Co. made daily what does the old bird sputter but: "Why, Shorty, they'd have to make that many to supply the demand! Camels have the quality smokers want! And they have the most wonderful mellow mild body and the most refreshing flavor ever created in a cigarette! Of course they make Camels by millions; of course they buy enough revenue stamps from Uncle Sam every work day to build a duplicate of the Winston-Salem post office! Why not? Smokers will have Camels!"

But "Snapper" finally got to spilling some real nobby Camel selling stuff! "Shorty," says he, "write the Reynolds folks for me that I travel and talk some with the world in a year's time. And I want to put it on record that in all the times I've pulled Camels out of my pocket to supply somebody's shortage I've heard enough good things said about 'em to fill a volume—'That's my brand', 'Camels are a wonderful cigarette', 'Like getting money from home', etc!"

And, Shorty, what's the answer? Why—Camels quality and Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos meet the universal taste! That's it! Get me right, boy! They all open their shutters for Camels! You'll find that all over the nation! And, that's the hole story, old golf ball! Pete, you pet phonograph, did you ever hear a better record?

Sincerely Shorty.

RULES ISSUED FOR ELECTION

No Electioneering Near Polls; Early Voting Urged to Prevent Rush.

Owners of automobiles are warned not to make a practice of carrying voters to the polls tomorrow, by Fred D. Ash, city clerk. It is a violation of the corrupt practice act and punishable by a heavy fine and imprisonment, he declares. The opinion was called forth by the remark that in a certain district a number of men were intending taking the women voters to the polls to insure their voting tomorrow. While the intention of these automobile owners to violate the law, their interest in getting the entire vote out, preventing the city clerk calls attention to the section of the law that specifies that it is illegal to provide a conveyance to bring voters to the polls.

Mr. Ash also calls attention to the fact that the distribution of literature or the soliciting of votes for either a candidate or amendment at the polls. Well-intentioned hustlers for the different amendments which are to be voted upon tomorrow are contemplating being at the polls to urge every one to vote. They must cast their ballot for the good roads amendment and City Clerk Ash is warning them against working too close to the polls, 100 feet being the closest they can get to the polls.

The clerical force of the city clerk was at the office this morning ready to give out the ballot boxes and supplies to the judges as they called. The need of getting down early was necessary by the fact that all the ballots had to be counted out this morning. They had to be left in the vault over Sunday on account of the danger of fire and the vault was not large enough to hold the ballot boxes. In former elections, the ballots were counted ahead of time and placed in the boxes, which were stored in the vault over Sunday. In this year, with the large number of additional districts and the larger boxes, there was room for only a part of them. The large ballot boxes will be used in this election, each having three compartments, to correspond with the different colored ballots. These boxes are only used in general elections, said Mr. Ash.

With the increase in the number of election districts this year, it will be necessary to employ 504 judges and clerks to look after the voting and to count the ballots after the polls close. The law provides for three judges and two clerks and after the polls close an additional judge and clerk will be on duty to assist in the work.

Mayor T. W. Hugo has issued an appeal to employers to allow their employees to leave their work and vote early as possible. With one of the largest votes ever to be cast in the city, there is a possibility of some congestion at the polls during the last few hours of voting. To offset this, voters are urged to vote as early as possible. Some difficulty was experienced on registration days by many of the women delaying their visit to the polls until late in the afternoon, when a great many of the men, leaving work came to vote, resulting in a big rush at the last minute. If this happens tomorrow it may result in some of the voters losing their vote, as the judges and clerks will be taxed to the utmost to care for the large number who are expected to cast their ballots, said Mr. Ash.

WHY A PASTOR IS FOR THE LEAGUE!

Leading Denver Minister States Boldly the Reasons for His Belief in Farmers' Organization

The Rev. Mr. Lackland is pastor of the Grace Methodist church of Denver, Colo., one of the largest and most powerful churches of the city. Mr. Lackland has always been a leading fighter for social justice for both farmers and workers. Through his influence at the present Colorado Methodist conference 24 ministers of that church delivered sermons immediately prior to the Colorado primaries, answering lying attacks made against the Nonpartisan League.

BY REV. J. S. LACKLAND
I am for the Nonpartisan League, first, because it stands for home owners. Men will not be patriotic for apartments or boarding houses. They will be for homes that they own. If yellow journals that scream about the Nonpartisan League were as desirous of revealing some of the rent and realty profiteers that advertise so lavishly they would be nearer the hearts of the common people.

I am for the Nonpartisan League because it has been giving the workingman a square deal. They told the lobby of the State Federation of Labor to go home and not only gave them what they asked but more than they asked. The workmen's compensation law is the best in the United States today. In addition they have passed an eight-hour bill for women, a coal inspection bill, a limitation on the issuance of injunctions, full train crews, union label on state printing and many others.

I am for the Nonpartisan League because it stands for the consumer. I am for the Nonpartisan League because it has taken a genuine interest in the public schools. Governor Lynn J. Frazier's hobby is better schools and he has gone throughout the state advocating consolidated schools. These schools are the true community centers. In fact, the Nonpartisan League itself is an extension course in practical economics and citizenship, which is causing thousands of men who cared nothing for civic duty to realize that the community can not be saved unless they co-operate intelligently.

I believe absolutely in the patriotic Americanism of the people of North Dakota. If it is an American or Britisher for the state to own a bank then the staid Republicans should so class Alexander Hamilton, who drew up plans and advocated "The Bank of the United States."

LEAGUE PROGRAM IS "REAL CHRISTIANITY"

As a churchman, believing in the social creed of the church, which stands for "equal rights and complete justice for all men in all stations of life; for the fullest possible development of every child; for the abatement and prevention of poverty; for the right of all men to opportunity for self-maintenance; for a new emphasis upon the application of Christian principles to the acquisition and use of property;" I can not see how any church that is not socially color blind can help but welcome the crusade of the Nonpartisan League.

In St. Paul a convention representing thousands of farmers, stated as its aim: (1) The working of the government responsive to the will of the people; (2) to eradicate special privileges; (3) to raise the standards of citizenship.

If this be Bolshevism then every true American who cares for the freedom for which our forefathers died will be so branded. The true colors for such principles are not red, but red, white and blue, and the opponents of such ideals should boldly announce themselves as sailing under the black flag of piracy.

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Election returns will be received tomorrow evening in the parlors of the Methodist church and at other places where women voters can assemble and hear the returns read.

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no sight so black. Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance. When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember its just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use. Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

These Two Women Saved from Operations. Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my household. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic and I would have to have an operation. That was a awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. ## CONTEMPT FOR PROGRESSIVES

Shown by the Republican Managers, Says Franklin Roosevelt.

New York, Nov. 1.—The final presidential statement by Franklin D. Roosevelt was issued yesterday. It is as follows:

"Four months of a long uphill fight have come to a close. Seldom before in American political history have candidates on one national ticket had to face such a carefully organized opposition. It has been an opposition appealing to all that is negative and most that is evil in human nature. We started out against fearful odds. The nation was in a state of unrest—a let-down following the tension of war. This state of mind was capitalized by Republican campaign managers. In addition to this they sought to influence the prejudices of foreign-born citizens. Finally, it is well known that the whole support of the present Republican machinery politicians in the United States which, after twenty years, can still best be described as the executors and legacies of the political will of Mark Hanna.

Opposed to Progressivism.

"Starting with the Chicago convention the Republican managers have shown a cynical and contemptuous disregard of everything that progressives have stood for in both parties.

"It has been difficult to bring both sides of the campaign before the voters because of the simple fact that a larger majority of the newspapers have passed into Republican control.

"Governor Cox and I have made a very sincere effort to point out the basic rather than the superficial issues of the campaign. If the voters realize that this is a deep-seated struggle between two different conceptions of government—that is, it is the old fight between the progressively minded men and the reactionists, the result on election day will furnish an overwhelming surprise to the old-fashioned prognosticator.

"Lastly, the whole conduct of the campaign in regard to the single national issue of the League of Nations is in line with the foregoing. On the one side a clear-cut program for the future for the carrying out of the highest purpose of our participation in the war, for the progressive accomplishment of a new purpose—on the other side a backward going policy which

FIRST STORM OF WINTER DUE; SNOW, COLD, GALE PROMISED

Duluth is in for a regular session of winter, with snow, gale-like winds and a considerable drop in temperature, according to H. W. Richardson, local weather observer. This afternoon the program is expected to open with a rather heavy fall of snow, continuing tonight and tomorrow. The wind will reach gale-like velocity from the northeast, but tonight it will shift to west and to northwest by Tuesday morning.

The temperature will drop tonight to about 25 deg. and hover around 20 deg. tomorrow. Snow buries and continued cold is the forecast for tomorrow.

Storm warnings were ordered up at 6 o'clock last night.

Snow Slide Kills Four.

Twin Bridges, Mont., Nov. 1.—Four men are dead and one seriously injured as a result of a snow slide at the Baudette mine, fifteen miles northeast of this city late Saturday. The men, who were in the sorting head of the mine, were killed when the building was demolished by an avalanche of snow which crashed down upon the cabin from the mountain above.

Democrats for Preus.

Baudette, Minn., Nov. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Practically every Democrat in Baudette has announced his intention of supporting J. A. O. Preus for governor to defeat the Townie nominee. This does not mean that they have deserted their party, as they are still supporting the national ticket, but in state affairs they see the menace of Nonpartisan control, and they will vote for Preus.

Recog. Stampage Sale.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 1.—The state treasury was enriched approximately $500,000 as a result of one of the most successful sales of state-owned stampage at public auction in the office of J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, it is announced. The stampage was assessed at a valuation of about $222,540. More than 100 buyers attended the auction. Many bids ranged as high as 460 per cent more than the assessed valuation. The prices paid were unprecedented.

RE-ELECT CONGRESSMAN CARSS

Mr. Carss has put up a clean campaign, free from abuse and personal attacks. He has carried his message to the voters in an honest and straightforward manner, so much so that even his opponents admit that he is a fair fighter.

The voters of the Eighth district know that Congressman Carss has made good. They are familiar with his record and know that he voted right on every question that came before Congress; that record has not been attacked. It cannot be attacked. He has been American through and through. He has voted and worked for labor. He has supported the people's side on every question. When issues between Privilege and the People came up he voted just as the average man would have him vote. That is why voters generally are supporting him for re-election to Congress.

Mr. Carss is better equipped to represent his district in Congress than he was two years ago. He has had the experience now that he did not have then. He made good during his first term. He will do better during his second term.

Our friends are warned to beware of eleventh-hour rorbacks. Do not be carried away by bandwagon methods. The landslide will be for Congressman Carss if every voter does his or her duty tomorrow. He is for labor and all the people. He is for America now as he was during the war. No nationalities—no races—no classes—WE ARE ALL ONE PEOPLE—AMERICANS!

COAL DEALERS WILL PROTEST

Large Companies Will Not Fill Orders; Protest Meeting Called.

Public indignation meeting will be held this evening at the West Duluth hotel-club rooms, 317 North Central avenue, to protest against alleged discrimination against West Duluth by coal dock companies of the city. It is charged that the companies are delivering coal on cars for outside points and to their customers uptown but refuse to do anything for the West Duluth people. The dealers in West Duluth are said to be back of the meeting tonight and invite the public to attend.

Coal dealers of West Duluth say that they have so far received only from one-third to one-half of what coal they ordered and that at present they are given no assurance as to when they will receive the balance. One coal dealer charged that the Pittsburgh Coal company officials had stated that there was plenty of coal on its dock but that the company did not propose to load any of it on cars for West Duluth dealers.

One dealer has had eight cars of coal ordered from one of the local companies since April 1 and has not yet got a single carload. "The company which received the order has plenty on the docks but so far has only given this dealer promises." It is charged that the coal companies are delivering coal on cars for outside points and to their customers uptown but refuse to do anything for the West Duluth people. The dealers in West Duluth are said to be back of the meeting tonight and invite the public to attend.

The team captained by Carl E. Staky got second place with a total of eighty-eight members. S. M. Strain took third place and Dr. E. W. E. Roemer fourth. The total membership enrolled for the West Duluth "Y" will be close to 200 without counting the junior memberships. ## PLANS FOR PROPOSED NEW BETHANY HOME

The directors of Bethany Children's home will meet in the office of Andrew Johnson in the Palladio building, Wednesday morning, to devise means of meeting the present expenses of the temporary home. They also will consider plans for raising funds for the new home.

It is estimated that the new home will cost $75,000. It will not be built upon the site of the old home which was recently destroyed by fire if another may be procured because of its proximity to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad tracks. The new home will include many new features in this kind of a building and will be capable of housing 150 children. There will be a baby ward, gymnasium, manual training room, kindergarten and two rooms for use as a hospital.

It is costing $1,000 a month to maintain fifty children in the temporary home. Otto Swanstrom is chairman of the board of directors.
