(Associated Press.) North Sydney, N. S., Oct. 18.—The Manchester liner Manchester Shipper, from Hamburg bound for Montreal, with cargo and two hundred passengers, is ashore at Peter's ledge, just at the entrance to North Sydney harbor. The weather is calm and those on board are considered in no danger at present. The steamer struck late last night in dense fog.

Another Attack on Party of United States Infantry in Philippines—Ten Soldiers Slain.

(Associated Press.) Manila, Oct. 18.—Five hundred Bolero attacked a detachment of forty-six men of the Ninth Infantry at Bangajon, on the Ganada river, Island of Samar, today, killing ten and wounding six. The remainder of the company arrived on the scene in time to prevent further slaughter and routed the enemy, killing over a hundred of them. It is believed that the enemy only retired for reinforcements. As soon as the news was received at Catiogan two gun boats were dispatched, General Smith going in person to the scene.

TROOPS GATHERING ROUND BURGHERS

BOERS MAY BE CAUGHT IN A TIGHT PLACE

Large Number of the Enemy Again in Natal—Botha's Force Has Been Divided.

(Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 18.—From Springfield, Natal, a correspondent of the Times sends a dispatch which says that a large number of Boers are near Pongolabosce and Slanapies, while a commando of 500 holds a position south-east of Piet Retief. Commandant General Botha has dissolved his force, which numbered 2,000, and has left his men to escape as best they can. He himself, with a few followers, has gone north through a small unguarded space near Piet Retief. The main interest of the moment, says the dispatch, centres in the operations around Pongolabosce, where the British are gradually inclosing the Boers.

Refugee Camps.

London, Oct. 18.—Returns from the refugee camps in South Africa for September show a total white population of 100,418; deaths among the whites 2,411, of which 1,904 were children. The colored population is shown to be 318,549, among whom there were 301 deaths during the month.

Favors Arbitration.

Vienna, Oct. 18.—The underhaus today elected Dr. Kaiser as first vice-president of the house. In returning thanks, Dr. Kaiser seized the occasion to interpellate the government on its attitude in regard to the South African war. He insisted that Austria ought to intercede, to secure, through arbitration, an end of the "robber war now waged by Great Britain. That country," he added, "should be obliged to confer to the exigencies of humanity and international law."

Boers Hopeful.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Gen. James Roberson, of New York, special representative of the Boer government in this country, was one of the President's callers today, but did not speak to him about the Boer situation. He will seek, however, to go over the situation informally with the secretary of state in the hope that some steps may be taken on the part of the United States to bring about a settlement of the war in South Africa. Gen. Roberson says his latest advice indicate that the Boers may be able to secure Delagoa Bay and make it a base of operations.

ANOTHER EXHIBITION.

Wolverhampton Wishes Canada to Be Represented at Exposition There Next Year.

(Special to the Times.) Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Hon. A. S. Fisher has received a request from Wolverhampton, England, that Canada be represented at the exhibition there in 1902. Offers for space in the main building and also for a Canadian building are given. The Earl of Dartmouth is president of the exhibition. The idea of the exhibition is to illustrate the industrial and scientific progress of the British Empire and of foreign countries.

STEAMERS OVERDUE.

(Special to the Times.) Vancouver, Oct. 18.—Steamer Comox is overdue from northern British Columbia ports, and some anxiety is felt for her.

Half a dozen store burglaries and attempted housebreaking occurred last night.

CHEMISTS' NOTES.

(Special Correspondence of the Times.) Capt. M. H. Harrington arrived from Prince on Wednesday to take charge of the American ship St. David, relieving Capt. F. Pearson, who is going into another employ.

The American ship St. David is now loading for Adelaide, and the Hawaiian Isles will finish taking on board a cargo of two million feet of lumber for Port Pirie probably on Saturday.

The American bark Endeavour, 1,607 tons, now on the way up from Prince, is chartered to load here for South Africa.

Owing to an accident to one of their locomotives, all except one of the Victoria Lumber Co.'s logging camps have been closed down for a few days, but repairs having been completed, they will start up again in full force on Friday morning. The mills are running full time with a complete crew, and the management expect to keep running steadily, as there are sufficient orders in hand to keep things moving for the next six months, providing vessels can be secured.

IGNORED IN PARLIAMENT.

Why No Mention Was Made of President McKinley's Death in Australian House.

(Associated Press.) Vienna, Oct. 18.—The Arbitrator Zeitung today makes the remarkable statement that Count Goinchowski, the imperial minister of foreign affairs, is responsible for the president of the chamber of deputies not referring to the death of President McKinley on the re-assembling of parliament. The contention is that although it is customary to refer to the deaths of foreign sovereigns, President McKinley, being only an elected President, was not entitled to such a distinction.

FOR MISSIONARY WORK.

Annual Report of Board of Missions of Methodist Church—Oriental Missions.

(Associated Press.) St. Mary's, Ont., Oct. 18.—The general board of missions of the Methodist Church of Canada has concluded its annual session here. The financial report for the year ending June 30th shows receipts of $270,322, and disbursements of $282,103. The estimated expenditure for the present year totals $272,555, included in which is $5,300 for Chinese and Japanese mission work in British Columbia. Rev. Dr. Carman was chosen chairman of the general board for the ensuing year, with Rev. Dr. A. Sutherland, general secretary, and Rev. Dr. James Henderson, associate secretary.

The appropriations this year will permit of missionaries receiving seventy-eight per cent. of salaries, instead of seventy-six per cent., the amount received last year.

RENEWED EFFORTS FOR MISS STONE'S RELEASE

German Diplomatic Agent Is Energetic Because of the Recent Murder of a Traveller.

(Associated Press.) London, Oct. 18.—The Globe this evening says it fears that the safety of Miss Ellen M. Stone is seriously compromised by the attitude of Consul-General Dickinson in refusing to pay the ransom and in demanding that Bulgaria arrest the leaders of the Macedonian committee as the real authors of the missionary's abduction.

The paper says the situation contains all the factors of a grave international complication and threatens to assume importance far beyond the personality of any individual missionary. German Official's Attitude. New York, Oct. 18.—The representative at Sanikof of the Journal and Advertiser, cables that paper as follows: "It is learned that Mme. Bakhtiew, wife of the Russian diplomatic agent at Sofia, formerly Miss Deal, of Washington, has been energetic work on behalf of Miss Stone, and the strong attitude taken by the German diplomatic agent because of the murder of a German traveller may hasten the authorities to bring about Miss Stone's release. The Bulgarian authorities are working hard to prevent the ransom from being paid on Bulgarian soil. Hence Dr. Haskell is likely to get another letter requesting payment of the ransom on Turkish territory."

EN ROUTE TO HALIFAX. Royal Party Left St. John, N. B., at Noon To-Day.

(Associated Press.) St. John, N. B., Oct. 18.—The Royal party left the morning quickly in St. John, leaving at noon for Halifax, amid the cheers of a large crowd. The train will stop at Windsor Junction for the night, resuming the journey to Nova Scotia's capital early in the morning.

No One Injured. Moncton, N. B., Oct. 18.—The train conveying the King's county cavalry to Halifax for the military display during the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall's visit to that city to-morrow, was derailed at West Chester on the Intercolonial railway at an early hour this morning. No one was hurt.

TO ERECT NEW BUILDING. (Associated Press.) Montreal, Oct. 18.—The council of the board of trade this morning decided to rebuild the old structure which was burned last January.

The marriage took place at Christ church, Yokohama, Japan, on September 4th, of Dr. Howard G. Barrie and Miss Winnifred Julia Macdonald, daughter of the late Hon. John Macdonald, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by His Rev. William O'Leary, D.D., Bishop of Tokyo, assisted by Rev. W. T. Anstey, of Yokohama. Dr. Barrie was in charge of the Y. M. C. A. work in connection with the first Canadian contingent in South Africa, and shortly after his return was appointed to take charge of the China field, with headquarters at Shanghai. Miss Macdonald left Toronto recently for the Orient to

WILL ESQUIMALT BE UNINHABITABLE?

NEW FORT MAY RENDER THE TOWN UNTEENABLE

Fortification of Signal Hill Said to Be in Contemplation During the Coming Year.

For some years it has been predicted that the extension of the NAVAL and military fortifications at Esquimalt would ultimately involve the evacuation of Esquimalt as completely as though an enemy were bombarding her. The whole ground being admiralty property the presence of residents in it is merely conditional or military exigencies. Hitherto it has affected the place but little that it was the centre of a system of fortification, and excepting for the slight concussion occasionally caused by the discharging of big guns at the forts or on the ships no inconvenience was experienced.

Now, however, the prediction alluded to seems likely to be realized, for it is said that the war office is about to undertake the fortification of Signal Hill, which overhangs the village of Esquimalt. The hill is a big bluff which commands a view of the harbor, of the Strait and of the other points where batteries have been constructed. It is from this latter peculiarity that it derives its name, for from it signals can be easily discerned from Macaulay Point, Rod Hill or from the harbor itself.

For some time past, it is understood, a corps of sub-marine miners has been engaged under the direction of Capt. Bowdler, R. E., on a work which will rob the cognomen of much of its significance. They have been installing telephonic communication with one another at fortified points, that at Rod Hill, being accomplished by means of a sub-marine telephone. By means of this modern means of communication the use of the more cumbersome system of signalling will be obviated and the chain of forts placed in ready communication with one another.

Its usefulness will be even more marked when the battery contemplated for Signal Hill is completed. The preliminary surveys for this work, it is understood, were made during the visit of Colonel Biscoe and staff some time ago and construction finally determined upon. Active construction will be undertaken this winter, and it will probably be two or three years before the commanding rock is converted into a fortification.

The battery will have to be hewn out of the solid granite, which involves an immense amount of labor and expense. In the newly constructed fortress, there will be accommodation for two-hundred-ton guns, larger than any now in use by the war office at this station. It is the presence of these pieces of ordnance which will make the naval village uninhabitable, for the vibration attending their discharge would wreck windows and plaster at least in the contiguous dwellings.

Among the edifices most materially affected by the work would be St. Paul's church and the rectory adjoining it, both of which are at the foot of Signal Hill. These would have to be moved along with the other buildings.

The completion of a fortress on Signal Hill will give the military authorities a chain of forts in the form of a triangle, which would be mutually protective, in case one of them was threatened. The detachment of sub-marine miners, which as mentioned in the Times several weeks ago is leaving England for this station, will doubtless be employed on this work.

THE CUMBERLAND MINE.

Preparatory Work Towards Resuming Operations to Begin Shortly—Situation at Extension.

(Special to the Times.) Nanaimo, Oct. 18.—A. D. Sheperd got back here last evening on his return trip from Cumberland. F. Little remained behind and will return by the "Thistle" tomorrow. R. Dunsmuir is with Mr. Sheperd. They state that the flooding of No. 4 has been nearly completed. Inside of about a week they expect to open the stoppings and commence the preparatory work towards commencing active operations in the upper levels which have been unaffected by the fire.

Regarding the Extension mines, they admit that the country around them has been explored for the purpose of ascertaining the extent of the prospects. No definite action has been taken, however, with regard to opening any other stoppings. They think that within a few days the fan shaft at No. 3 will be fully equipped so that the mine may be cleared of any gas which has accumulated in the mine. The stoppings will then be carefully examined and if satisfactory, that is if no fire is found, No. 2 will be approached from that slope. The damage done in No. 2 will, they expect, occupy but little time in repairing.

Mr. Sheperd is very favorably impressed with Vancouver Island. He expects by the near future to return to Nanaimo, and will, after a short stay here, go up to Cumberland again to fully inspect the interests there.

T. Hooper, architect, of Victoria, returned from Cumberland today. His mission to that place was in connection with the fitting up of the second story of the school building for the government. He took the work off the hands of the contractor.

OFFICIAL REPORTS BY THE PHYSICIANS

REGARDING TREATMENT OF LATE PRESIDENT

Surgeons Tell of Operations and Search for the Bullet and Why It Was Discontinued.

New York, Oct. 17.—The New York Medical Journal for Saturday, October 19th, will contain the full official report of the surgeons who attended the late President William McKinley in Buffalo.

The report describes in detail the events immediately following the shooting which are already familiar to the public. Then follows a description of the operation in all its technical minutiae. The utmost care was used to prevent infection of the abdominal cavity and the wound, by the most approved and modern methods of surgical cleanliness.

Disadvantages Under Which He labored when suturing the wounds in the stomach, with falling light of a September afternoon. Later on in the operation, a movable electric light was used with advantage.

The operation on the stomach now being finished, Dr. Mann introduced his arm so as to palpate carefully all the deep structures behind the stomach. No trace of the bullet could be found.

The report then continues in the history of the case after the operation. The progress of the illness is given out by day and the bullet is given out by the attending physicians as incorporated in the report.

night there was some improvement in the pulse after An Injection of Salt Solution in the subcutaneous tissues. On the eighth day, the President was described as very serious, as he did not respond to stimulation.

Stimulants and injections of salt solution, coffee and broth were given, but without much effect. At 5 o'clock oxygen was given, and continued for some time; at 10 p. m. he lost consciousness, and continued to sink until he died at 2:15 a. m. on September 14th.

In speaking of criticism that the bullet should have been used to locate the bullet, Dr. Mann says in his report: "We were often asked why, after the operation, we did not use the X-rays to locate the bullet."

A Spot of Discoloration, which showed that the sloughing process had gone backwards in the track of the bullet. The gangrenous cavity found behind the stomach involving the pancreas, and the surrounding lesser omentum to the muscles of the blind pocket.

Examination of the heart muscles showed that it was affected with well-marked fatty degeneration, and in some places the muscle fibres were green or dark brown granular, demonstrating a diseased condition of the cardiac muscle.

Solely to Lowered Vitality in the parts. The appearance of the gangrenous tissues shows that the gangrene took place shortly before death.

THE LEONORA SMELTER TO BE BUILT AT ONCE

Will Have a Capacity of 300 Tons—Old Heineze Operators Behind the Enterprise.

The 300-ton smelter to be erected by Henry Grant and his associates on Osborne Bay, opposite Mount Sicker, and to which the Leonora railway is now being extended, will, it is predicted, be in operation north less than six months.

The plan which has been under consideration by James Breen for the erection of a smelter in the Boundary country has not been brought to an end.

Mr. Breen, however, is going ahead with plans for building a smelter. He and David Fotheringham, long associated with him in smelting enterprises, and Herrmann Bellinger, superintendent of the Heineze smelters, at Butte, have completed plans for building a smelter on the east coast of Vancouver Island.

TRAVERSED WILDS. The Journey of Upper Stewart Enumerators—Penetrated the Rocky Mountains.

The two census enumerators for the district of the Stewart river above the mouth of the McQuesten have returned to Dawson, George Garwood and Sam Hourie were selected by Major Woodside for the trip.

The first stopping place of the two enumerators was at McQuesten. Next they went up to Fraser Falls, which is a hundred miles farther up the Stewart.

The trip of Messrs. Garwood and Hourie was made in a canoe after leaving the steamer Prospector below the falls. There is a second falls far up the south fork which they are now like Fraser Falls and in neither of them could a boat live any more than it could fly.

A fifteen-foot vein of free milling quartz which can be traced for miles has been struck opposite No. 43 below on Hunker by George Mablin and a tunnel opened on the property 18 feet. Mablin thinks he has struck it rich and leaves immediately for the outside with samples of the rock from a number of the claims in the vicinity, and will attempt to bond or float the group. Mablin has also arranged to have a ton lot of ore from the new find run through the new quartz mill on the Klondike near the Ogilvie bridge. This will be the first ore crushed in the mill. The strike was made August 18th, and he has been quietly working on it since. The foot walls are a kind of sandstone mixed with mica schist, and the hanging walls are a sort of black granite. The vein lies in the ground at an angle of 45 degrees and runs northeast by southwest. The ledge was wet the last day Mablin worked on it.

James Wishart, late of this city, had a hearing in Dawson a few weeks ago on the charge of stealing $120. Wishart was exonerated.

THE KAGA LABELED BEFORE SAILING

SHE AND THE AORANGI SAIL OUTWARD TO-DAY

San Francisco Firm Prefers Patronizing C.P.R. Line to Doing Business With Home Companies.

A steamer will leave the outer wharf for the Antipodes this evening, and sail for the Orient this morning. Both are loaded to their capacity. The cargo of the Kaga Maru, which sailed for China and Japan, has already been given. She left at 9.30 o'clock, repairs to her injuries sustained in the collision a few days ago having been completed in the couple of days she has since the accident spent at Seattle.

On the other hand Capt. Ekstrand's statement of the occurrence is as follows: "On account of the heavy fog that had been hanging over the harbor all day, I decided not to go out until it cleared up a bit. About 3 o'clock the mist began to thin and casting off the lines, we steamed slowly away from the Great Northern pier. Banks of fog swept into our path every few moments and for this reason I held a course as near shore as possible to avoid the harbor craft. We were about a mile out from the pier and within three ship-lengths of shore when there suddenly sounded a whistle to my starboard. We kept the whistle going continually and fearing the other vessel was close in, I hugged the shore as closely as possible, watching intently for a sight of the approaching ship, but did not see her until the vessel appeared through a bank of fog directly ahead. The captain of the Elba evidently sighted me at about the same time for reverse bells were given on both ships at once. The intervening space was too small, however, and as I could not get any closer to shore without beaching my ship, the crash was met on our starboard forecastle. The reversing of the engines lessened the momentum greatly and saved any serious damage.

A good number of passengers will embark here on the Aorangi, including Mrs. C. C. Ballantyne and family, F. B. Probstel and family, Mrs. Thornton and two children, Mrs. Simpson and child and G. Lehman. Other passengers are Thomas Fleming, J. P. Probstel and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, General Hodge, J. M. Ross, Mr. Belk, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burston, Misses G. McKenzie, Mr. Singlehurst and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. English, Mrs. Ball and party, Mr. and Mrs. Mason, Henry Lillman, Miss Boyd, Miss B. Boyd, Mrs. Turner, Mr. Eastwood, C. T. Thompson, Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Potter, Mrs. Eastwood and children, Mr. Buckley, Mr. Hickor, Henry Johnson, James Johnson, Mrs. Ramsay, F. Man, R. H. Seymour, Mr. McDougart, Thomas Schneider, James Dan, W. Admittwaite, E. Butler, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Sigate, Mrs. Southam, Mr. Giddings, Mr. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and child, Mrs. Manning and child, Mrs. Smith and children, P. Tappin, William Madders, J. Sheffield, A. Sheffield, C. Cole and party.

Another Canadian Line. Sir Christopher Furness, head of the great Furness line of steamships, and one of the leading figures in the British steel industry, is on his way to the coast. He is making a tour of inspection of the shipbuilding yards, and steel, iron, and coal industries of this continent. Expects have already gone over the ground, and reported to him, and he is now making a personal inspection of the ground covered in the reports submitted to him. Sir Christopher is chairman of the Weirside and South Durham Steel Companies, which are among the largest in England. Important developments in connection with Canada's steel industry are expected as an outcome of Sir Christopher's visit, and it is possible that a new line of Furness steamers will go into service next season between Canada and Great Britain.

Regarding the ultimate outcome of the industrial competition between the United States and England, Sir Christopher said when interviewed at Montreal: "America will never send us any such steel, but I regard her competition for the world trade as somewhat serious for England, in those countries where we have so long had a monopoly. At present American steel may perhaps be carried to England more cheaply than it can be produced here, but later this will be an impossibility, as English steelmakers are improving their machinery in accordance with modern requirements. We have cheaper methods of treating the ore, using coke entirely, and are waking up and making a general reorganization of their methods. Very shortly we will be able to produce it as cheaply as it is made in the United States."

STEAMSHIP COMBINE. Considerable interest is being manifested by shipping men in the aims, objects and purposes of the Shipowners' Association, and says the Tacoma Ledger. One of the most active members in the movement states that the shipowners were organizing for defensive purposes; that they wished to be in a position to resist what they might consider unreasonable demands of labor unions. The case of the Garonne, which had to put back to port solely upon the say of her engineers, several days after she had sailed for Nome, was cited.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE JOURNALISTS

CORRESPONDENTS ARE PLEASSED WITH TRIP

Intelligent Comment on Canada and Its People and the Lessons of the Royal Visit.

John A. Ewan, the Globe's special representative with the Royal party, has collated the opinions of a number of the English newspaper men with the party on a most interesting way. The opinions of these veteran journalists of Canada and the significance of its reception to the Heir Apparent are given in the following letter to the Globe: "Accompanying the Duke on this trip are half a dozen men who have seen more of the world, seen more of the great events of our time, than 999 out of 1000 of the rest. Among them are the chroniclers of the time. Among them are the Mr. F. F. Knight of the London Morning Post, Mr. Douglas Storey of the London Herald, and Mr. Wm. Maxwell of the London Standard. These gentlemen have not only seen a great deal of the world, but have looked at it with specially observant eyes, and endeavored to come to a published judgment as to their observations. They have been quite evidently making some 'copy' out of their Canadian brethren on this trip, for it has been noted that they have promoted a discussion among the French and English journalists of our party, and subsequent events justify a suspicion that some of the London journals in the next few weeks will contain the judgment of experienced newspaper men as to the merits of various of our problems. Profiting by this hint, your correspondent thought that it would not be uninteresting to obtain from these gentlemen some brief expressions of what impressions their western trip had made upon them."

Mr. William Maxwell. Mr. Maxwell, who was first interviewed, has crowded a great deal of activity into the last few years. For example, he accompanied Lord Dufferin at the battle of Omdurman, and participated in the march to Khartoum, for which he possesses the Khedive's medal and clasp. Immediately after the close of the war he undertook a horseback ride through the deserts east of the Nile, and subsequently meeting the Emperor of Germany and accompanying him on his historic tour through Palestine and Syria. He attended the peace conference at the Hague, and proceeded straight from there to South Africa on the outbreak of the Boer war. He was with the Duke in London, and on the relief of that place joined Lord Roberts' army and accompanied it from Bloemfontein north to Lydenburg and then to Koomatipoort. He came out to Delagoa Bay, when he saw Kruger, and thence he returned to Pretoria. Returning home, he represented his paper in the war incidental to the death and funeral of the Queen, went almost directly from there to the festivities incidental to the wedding of Queen Wilhelmina and the Duke of Orange, and to describe the enthronement in the House of Lords of King Edward VII. He has now travelled nearly 50,000 miles, visiting the great colonies and recording the greatest of them in particular. He is given in order to indicate the qualifications that Mr. Maxwell and his companions possess for forming a judgment of what they see with their eyes. Speaking to me of the trip across Canada, Mr. Maxwell said: "Since we last met in Pretoria, I have been running hither and thither to the uttermost ends of the earth. One of the four survivors of the six correspondents who started from England by the steamer Majestic, and who accompanied the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire on their tour of the empire, I have become rather satiated with curiosity and the novelty of fresh sights."

DUKE OF PIPE'S FREIGHT. After receiving 300 cases of salmon and some other cargo at the outer wharf the steamer Duke of Devonshire yesterday evening for China and Japan. Much of her cargo includes miscellaneous merchandise such as electrical supplies, printing paper, groceries, 20 hogsheads of leaf tobacco, 20,000 pounds of tin-foil, butter and butterine, photographic goods, in addition to which the cargo includes 500 bales of cotton, 1,186,000 yards of domestics and sheetings for Shanghai, 105,480 sacks of flour and 15,800 gallons of bottled beer, the latter for Manila. The cargo is consigned to Yokohama, Kobe, Hongkong, Shanghai and the other usual oriental ports of call, that destined for Manila to be transferred at Hongkong.

OFFICERS EXONERATED. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer states that Capt. Charles W. Ames, the master, and all other officers of the vessel are exonerated from any blame in the matter of the loss of the steamer ship Charles D. Lane which was wrecked July 13th, on the rocks of Nanivak Island in Behring Sea. Their exoneration came in a decision of Capt. W. J. Bryant and C. C. Cherry of the local board of United States inspectors of hulls and boilers who found an incorrect government chart responsible for the wreck. This chart threw the Lane about eighteen miles off her course, finally bringing her up on Nuivak island's rocky shore.

MAMMOTH CARRIERS. To-morrow one of the two largest vessels ever built in the Western hemisphere will be launched from the Newport News shipyards. These are the steamships Siberia and Korea. They have each 18,000 tons displacement, which gives them a carrying capacity of about 12,000 tons. The contract calls for a speed of eighteen knots, but it is expected that they will develop in excess of knot ships. They are being constructed for the Pacific Mail Company at a cost of $2,000,000 each, and will sail in the Oriental trade.

MARINE NOTES. Commencing again this week the steamer Majestic is running through to Tacoma three trips a week. Since the steamer met with a mishap to the machinery a month ago she has been making Seattle her sound terminus. She sails now from Tacoma every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Two of the fleet which have been in the Roads awaiting crews will probably get away to sea to-day. They are the lumber laden ship Admira, together with the salmon ship Blythwood. The shipping masters' office is beset with callers to-day who are being paid off.

NEVER DREAMED That Coffee Caused the Trouble.

"How to stop the use of coffee was a question. The doctor told me I had a coffee liver. I knew I was a wreck, physically and nervously, but I never dreamed that coffee was the cause of the trouble. I could not drink milk, and tea was as bad for me as coffee.

Hot water was nauseating. I therefore turned to Postum Food Coffee, got a package and made it according to directions and found it just the thing I needed. Husband had no faith in it, so I made coffee for him and Postum for myself. For three years I used Postum and the change it has wrought is wonderful. Instead of being thin, sallow, nervous, weak and miserable, I am plump, with clear complexion, pink cheeks, and seem to have the endurance and vitality of a young woman of twenty, although I am fifty that age. Husband, after seeing the change Postum has made, finally asked me not to make coffee for him any more, as he preferred Postum. It has been a Godsend to our family." Myra J. Fuller, 1023 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Douglas Storey. Mr. Douglas Storey, though quite a young man, has travelled extensively. He was for three years editor of the Standard and Digger News, Johannesburg, three years of the stormiest political times that the Transvaal has seen. He was at length put across the border for wounding Boer susceptibles in his paper. After eighteen months at home he returned to South Africa for the purpose of accompanying the Boer forces in the interest of the London Daily Mail. For publicists know South Africa better than Mr. Storey. His present headquarters are New York. Talking with Mr. Storey, he said in substance: "One should, indeed, confess to himself a dull observer did not the attraction of an unfamiliar country impress itself upon him in the course of a journey of five thousand miles. In Canada from the Atlantic ocean to the Pacific coast we have breathed the air of a free country, a country that has within it all the elements of an empire, the essentials of a nation. Since the landing of H. R. H. the Duke of Cornwall, Canada has proclaimed her loyalty enthusiastically, wholeheartedly. But what has impressed me most in her welcome has been its mainly self-respect. Nowhere has the enthusiasm of her reception degenerated into subservience. She remembered she is a colony, not a dependency, a country peopled with men of a like intelligence to the men of the mother country, governed by men of an equal education, a similar knowledge of affairs. In this lies the strength of Canada, the greatness of the British Empire. There are colonies that clutch feebly to the Union Jack, that tremble if they find themselves for a moment loosened by the exigencies of their own development. From this familiar support of ours is not the pride of a mother of nations. Her children must be strong as herself, robust as are Australia and Canada. True loyalty to the colony embraces true devotion to the crown, and everywhere throughout the far corners of the Dominion Canadian sympathies with 'Briton' inspired by the same instincts of personal honor and of national sentiment. This is the more notable when one recalls the strange panorama of development presented to us from Cape Breton to Vancouver Island. The reception at Quebec impressed upon all of us the genius of Canada, the courtly gentlemen of old France, the addresses in French, the prevalence of priestly garments. Ottawa showed us the attainments of the Dominion, the stately mansions, the broad, well-ordered streets, the noble buildings, the statement of a vast confederation of colonies. Quebec and Montreal and Winnipeg have presented to us universities and colleges with an equipment and a course inferior to nothing in Europe. Winnipeg has revealed the possibilities of Canada with its wheat sheaves, its fairland development, its wealth and its progress. Calgary has demonstrated the raw material, the white man and the red, the rough foundations of an empire, and has shown many lands, Canada in its homeliness, its magnificence of physical beauty and its capacity for development appeals the most. There is no emblem next to my own Scotch thistle I would more readily wear than the made leaf of Canada."

Mr. E. F. Knight. Mr. Knight, who is a barrister by profession, has found in journalism an occupation more congenial to his taste for variety and adventure. It will be remembered that at the battle of Belmont Mr. Knight was struck in the right arm by an expansive bullet and the limb was so injured that it had to be amputated. It is certainly remarkable how light-heartedly Mr. Knight endures his deprivation. He says it was his thirtieth campaign and he could scarcely be expected to be wholly lucky. A typewriter takes the place of the facile pen of other years. Many readers of the Globe will recall another of Mr. Knight's earlier adventures. He was commissioned by the London Times to represent it in Havana during the Spanish-American war. He was furnished with all the needed credentials to enable him to land in Cuba, but the ordinary means of getting there were cut off. He conceived the plan of engaging the captain of a steamer to set him afloat in a small boat off the coast of Cuba. The captain, however, would not venture nearer the shore than seven miles, and Mr. Knight set off in his little craft. He had not gone more than a couple of miles when he was upset. He remained on the upturned boat for 24 hours. The wind at length changed direction and blew him near enough shore to enable him to swim the remainder of the distance. A Spanish galleon captain was waiting for him and promptly put him under arrest. After a short time in prison, however, he was released on the cable representation of the British authorities. Speaking of his long trip with the Royal party Mr. Knight said that it is possible for him to make anything but the most general observations about it; the attempt to get anything like an intimate view of the British Empire within eight months is almost a hopeless one. Of one thing he could speak without qualification, namely, the comforts of railway travel on this side of the Atlantic. Nowhere else was there anything which would compare favorably with it. Industrially he was impressed with the great extent of the wheat fields of Manitoba and the Territories, and with the lumber industry both on the Ottawa river and on the Pacific coast. The occurrence of cities like Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Port Arthur, Rat Portage, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria, strung across the continent, indicates how widespread is the Dominion that is being founded in this quarter of the globe. He continued: "I may say that if I had to live anywhere outside of England my first choice should be Victoria, B. C. I have seen a great deal of mountain scenery in my life, and among it ranges with loftier peaks than the Rockies or the Selkirk, but there is none that I know of that can compare with those for gorgeous color of the autumnal vegetation. The beautiful weather that has prevailed, with scarcely an exception, has also greatly contributed to the pleasure of the trip across Canada."

PIONEER OF VICTORIA LAID AT REST TO-DAY

Funeral of the Late Mrs. H. S. Mason —The Deceased Came to This City in 1853.

The late Mrs. H. S. Mason, whose funeral took place this afternoon, was one of the best known pioneers of Victoria, having come from the Old Country here when but a child. Her death is mourned by a wide circle of friends, whose respect she has won by her many acts of kindness.

She came from London, England, when about 10 years of age, on the old Hudson Bay steamer Otter, which sailed from that port for Victoria in December, 1852, arriving at this station in 1853. She was accompanied by her twin sister, and among the passengers was H. Gilde, who, together with Capt. Lewis, are now the only survivors of those who came to Victoria on that memorable trip.

When Miss Thorn first arrived in Victoria there was only a Hudson Bay post to mark the spot where now stands the capital of British Columbia.

Miss Thorn was married in Victoria to H. S. Mason, who died some time ago, and her sister, who is also dead, was married to a naval instructor. Her brother, Cornelius died in the States, while her father died shortly after her arrival. Thus on the death of Mrs. Mason the last of the family of pioneers is extinct.

In this connection it might be stated that the birthplace of Mrs. Mason was Woodwich, England, not Cornwall, as published.

The funeral took place this afternoon from the late residence, No. 8 Church street, at 2:15 p.m., and at 2:30 from the Reformed Episcopal church. Suitable services were conducted at the church and grave by Rev. Dr. Wilson. The following acted as pallbearers: Colonel Wolfenden, P. H. Brown, S. Y. Woodton, G. E. Wootton, G. B. Martin and R. B. McKicking.

THE QUADRA'S TRIP.

Ottawa Government Has Not Yet Intimated Whether Or Not She Will Be Sent to Kingcombe.

No reply has as yet been received from Ottawa by the department of Marine and Fisheries in regard to the proposition that the D. G. S. Quadra be dispatched to Kingcombe Inlet to punish the Indians there who some time ago attacked a posse of constables and rescued some of their tribesmen who had been taken prisoner.

The Quadra has to pass close in Alert Bay, and the little digression from the ordinary route into the seat of trouble will not involve much delay or trouble. It is hoped that the proposition will be endorsed by the government at Ottawa, as the proposed trip forms almost the only way in which the troublesome Indians can be reached and punished without enormous expense.

SARDOU TRAGEDY BY BRUNE COMPANY

"THEODORA" PRESENTED HERE LAST EVENING

Mrs. Brune the Bright Particular Star of the Aggression—"Cleopatra" to be Played To-night.

"Theodora," one of the famed dramas from the pen of the greatest of living dramatists, Victoria Sardou, was presented at the Victoria theatre last evening by the Brune company.

The Sardou tragedies afford scope for the brilliant dramatic talent. They are replete with scenes of such intensity that those watching them are constantly under a severe mental strain.

Frederick Warde, the well known actor, for one time replied in response to a query as to why a silly farce comedy draws a larger house than a splendidly presented tragedy or romantic drama.

"Theodora" is the story of the circus comedienne whom the whim and possibly the affection of Justinian if he was capable of possessing any elevates to the dignity of the Empress.

SALMON COUNTRY'S BRIGHT OUTLOOK
GOLD DRIFTS FROM DOWN BETWEEN FORKS
Eight or Nine Streams Said to Be All
Good Producers—Interesting News
Concerning Victorians.

A most interesting account of the work done in the Big Salmon district during the past year is told by J. W. Elliott, of this city, who has just arrived from that country, and who was one of the passengers on the Hating at the time she struck on Lasquet Island.

Last year Commercial City was unheard of, Livingston Creek being then the centre of population. To-day the place has two hotels, one of which is owned by M. McCabe, of this city.

The country Mr. Elliott describes as extremely rich. He says that the creek of the river there is a stream from which creeks descend in nearly all directions, and which were mined for gold has proved exceedingly rich.

In all there are eight or nine of these streams, of which Livingston, Summit and Lake are the only ones exploited so far. Livingston has been worked for two or three years, and has yielded handsomely.

Mr. Elliott states that the whole country is splendidly adapted for this kind of mining, for at the foot of the mountains there are great areas of flat country which have been found to be very rich.

Commercial City, for instance, has been built on one of these flats which is as level as a table, and some five hundred acres square.

TROUBLE OVER THE
NEW COMMISSIONER

FRICION BETWEEN THE TWO GOVERNMENTS

Ottawa Thinks the Official Unnecessary
But the Attorney-General Says
He's Here to Stay.

The appointment of John P. Babcock, late chief deputy of the fish commission of California, as fish commissioner for British Columbia seems likely to accentuate the friction which has arisen between the Provincial and Dominion authorities over the control of the fisheries of British Columbia.

Questioned last evening in regard to the matter, Hon. Mr. Eberts stated that the writer's chief objection to the appointment seemed to lie in the fact that the new commissioner had been in the employ of an alien state and that his connection with the fisheries of this province might be injurious to them.

The Attorney-General thinks the position of the Ottawa department in the matter entirely unwarranted. The government, he says, looked for the best man possible to fill the position which they proposed to create, and the nomination of Mr. Babcock was strongly supported by R. P. Pithet and others who knew personally of his services in the fisheries of California.

Further, the Attorney-General pointed out it was absurd to contend that the Dominion authorities were more vitally interested in, or more likely to protect the fisheries of British Columbia than the province itself, to whose coffers the industry contributed so heavily.

At any rate," he said last night, "Babcock, I expect, will arrive to-morrow morning, and he is here to stay."

FISH-COMMISSIONER HERE.
John Babcock Arrived From the South
This Morning.

John Babcock, recently appointed fishery commissioner by the provincial government, arrived from California this morning, having travelled by the overland route. He was in the company of the attorney-general a great portion of the morning, but all arrangements as to his future course will probably be decided upon at a meeting between Mr. Babcock and the executive on Monday morning.

From the sketch of the new appointee's career, which appeared in these columns, it will be gathered that in the field of fish culture he is eminently well qualified. His experience in the propagation of salmon in the Californian waters has been much commented on by those interested in the industry, and in appointing him commissioner the government evidently felt assured that they had secured the right man for the position.

In an interview courteously given a Times representative at the Union Club to-day, Mr. Babcock pointed out that he was unable to say what methods he intended employing until he had studied the field. He must ascertain the habits of the fish, their spawning times and places, and he would then be in a position to judge where hatcheries should be located.

"I wish you to make it plain," said he emphatically, "that I am not a scientist, but a fish culturist."

Continuing, he said that he was induced to come here largely because this was the best field in the world for a man interested in the subject. He would proceed to master the life of the fish here as speedily as possible, and while doing so lay out a scheme for the propagation of the fish, which he understood was one of the province's greatest industries.

He said he was engaged for three years, and would probably be in the field the greater part of the time, and if the public would suspend judgment until he had an opportunity to make a demonstration he felt they would be satisfied with the result. At present the field was to him a closed book.

Mr. Babcock is an intellectual looking gentleman of medium height and delicate manner. He has the appearance of a successful and capable man, and has evidently thoroughly mastered his subject. Until Monday he will be unable to say when he starts on his duties. He is registered at the Driford.

Jeffries, the committee, who met with Victorians kindness, which should never be forgotten; his sincere thanks to all those who in any way contributed to the fund, especially to Meyer Hayward, the Victoria press E. & N. Railway, Messrs. Doney and Rhodes for the use of Caledonia grounds, the Fifth Regiment Band, Mr. Macdonnell, of the Savor, also to Mr. Leason, of the Victoria hotel, and Mr. Jones, of the Dominion hotel, who both offered to accommodate the baseball boys free of charge. MOORE BRIDGES, LESS PEARLS.
Mr. Barrig Gould says that in old times pearls were found in the Severn, and British pearls were much esteemed. Horses and cattle were driven across the fords, and they trampled on, bruised and broke the nearest shells that lay there; then the crushed mussels in their pain, exuded the matter that formed the pearls. Now that bridges have been built to span the river no more pearls are found in it, for though there are mussels still in the shallow water they remain only mussels; they produce no longer pearls, because they are no longer bruised and broken.

USE OF OATMEAL DECLINING.
Whether Scotsmen generally are getting off their porridge in the morning, or oatmeal cakes are becoming less common, it is hard to tell, but experts, after looking carefully into the matter, gave it as their opinion that the consumption of oatmeal is falling off in Scotland, or, at least, is not keeping pace with the increase in population. Possibly the "long le and the tea breakfast" are not so much continued to Sunday as they used to be, and "haleome parritch" is no longer the distinctive national dish in the country of Burns and Scott.—Scottish American.
