VICTORIA'S SORROW VOICED IN CHURCHES

In All the City Pulpits Yesterday Reference Was Made to King Edward's Death—Emblems of People's Mourning.

In every Church in Victoria yesterday morning reference was made to the event which has plunged an empire into mourning. The subject will be more fully dealt with in the course of the memorial services which will be held on the day of the King's funeral.

Several of the churches were draped in the colors of imperial mourning, purple and black. In all either funeral marches were played or the National Anthem sung, the congregations standing. The references made to the late King all breathed the loyalty of Victoria and heart-felt sorrow at King Edward's death, and many were very eloquent.

Christ Church Cathedral.

At Christ Church cathedral brief references were made to the event at both services. Bishop Perrin was present in church, having a pastoral engagement at a confirmation service in Saanich. In the morning Ven. Archdeacon Serjeant announced the death of King Edward and the accession of King George. He spoke of the grief which was felt throughout the empire, and in Victoria no less than in other parts of it, and of the splendid qualities which endeared the late monarch to his subjects.

At the evening service Rev. W. Barton was the preacher and dwelt especially on the life of the new sovereign and the responsibilities which he had to assume.

St. Barnabas.

In St. Barnabas parish church Rev. E. G. Miller dwelt upon the proclamation which has sounded forth to an empire mourning the death of a sovereign. The King is dead—Long live His Majesty King George V.—God Save the King.

It was, he said, an expression of thanksgiving in a moment of the sublimest sorrows—the prayer of a people at a time of tremendous moment, that God will guide the destinies of an empire in its most critical history, and the destiny of a man to be appointed by the spirit of the comforter, who is to rule this great people as their King. Mr. Miller continued:

"The death of our late sovereign, coming as it has at the great feast of the ascension, is to Christian people a striking coincidence. The words of the text, 'Ye also shall bear witness because ye have been with me from the beginning,' might well apply to him whom the world mourns at this time. He has been an example, not from a professional standpoint, but because he loved to worship in God's house; because he needed the strength of Jehovah in his mighty office; because he was with Christ from the beginning, being baptised in the presence of that beloved mother who reigned over this empire so acceptably. In the life and death of such a King we might profit by the pattern and example. Our ascension prayer should be that God send His Comforter to strengthen those now bereaved of husband, father, protector, and King, and comfort the nation in this its crisis with an abundance of His spiritual guidance.

"A remarkable and striking coincidence attaches to the psalm appointed to be sung to-day. Psalm 29 is that used in the order for the burial of the dead, while psalm 40 bursts out with a song of praise. It is a case of the old song sung in memory of him who is departed, and the new song in memory of him who reigns in his stead. Our hearts ascend in prayer, praise and thankfulness. There will be an ascension for him, as there will be for us. Our bodies must die, as his has died, to rise again with the appointed day to be reunited with the spirits resting in Paradise, and then to ascend into the God who placed us here to witness for Him.

"The congregation joined in singing the National Anthem, and the organist, Arthur Longfield, played the Dead March in Saul, while the congregation remained reverently standing.

Metropolitan Methodist.

In the Metropolitan Methodist church the death of the King was referred to in a message from the pastor, Rev. T. E. Helling, which was read to his people, and in the addresses of Rev. A. E. Hetherington, B. D., vice-principal of Columbian College, who occupied the pulpit.

The front of the choir-loft and of the gallery was draped in purple and black and a portrait of his late Majesty, also draped in the colors of mourning, hung at the back of the pulpit. On the hanging-deck stood bouquets of white and purple flowers.

Dr. Hetherington spoke briefly at the morning service, in addition to reading the pastor's message, dictated from his sick-bed.

Speaking in the evening Mr. Hetherington analyzed the conditions that made the King's position one of such unique power. He traced the growth of constitutional government from the time of the Seven Years' War on, based on spiritual Christianity throughout the empire and individual liberty, as opposed to the old imperialistic idea of the state as predominant and the individual nothing. This had broadened out through Queen Victoria's reign and King Edward recognized it to an even

FIFTEEN KILLED, OVER FORTY INJURED

Explosion Follows Outbreak of Fire in Powder Works Near Hull—Number of Spectators Among the Victims

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, May 9.—Probably fifteen people were killed and from 40 to 50 more or less seriously injured, some of whom may die, in an explosion at the plant of the General Explosives Co. of Montreal, in the Wrightville district on the outskirts of the city of Hull, a few minutes before 6 o'clock last evening.

"If we are loyal to God, we must be loyal to those whom He sets up as rulers. Christianity is a religion of patriotism. It has no sympathy with that fatal indifference of socialists which looks on with stony eyes at the suffering which is wrought down with sorrow, and bathed in tears of grief. This event teaches us that we are in the midst of change, and will continue to change until we shall change to change no more. It shows us that death beats with even foot at the palace of the King and the cottage of the poor. Only one tribute King Edward carries with him to the other world, and it is the greatest tribute—the love of a loyal people. While here he had their confidence, and was not afraid to walk among them unguarded and unprotected, while other monarchs surrounded themselves with guards and protectors. He was a King of Shakespeare's model, who declares: 'He is a King, a true right King, that dare do aught, save wrong; Fears nothing mortal, but to be unjust; Who is not blown up with the flatterer's puff; Of springs-sycophants, who stands unmoved, Despite the jostling of opinion.'

"We feel to-day as if we lost a strong personal friend. Among the monarchs of Europe he was the greatest and most influential. As a constitutional monarch he had no equal. He was no figure-head, for his hand held firmly, intelligently and wisely the helm of state. Some kings were called 'the great,' 'the good,' but he was called 'the peace-maker,' which is the highest characteristic of a man, or a monarch. During his reign he averted more than one war between nations, and brought, by his kingly wisdom, contending elements into harmony.

"Deep as the sorrow of the nation is, there is one whose sorrow is still deeper—the Imperial widow, that woman of many virtues, whose character is beautiful, unimpeachable, irreproachable. I ask many prayers in her behalf. She is not a stranger to the promises of God. Deep must also be the sorrow of the new King, for he must feel the great burden of responsibility which is rolled on him by the death of his father. May he realize that he is God's deputy, and that his example radiates for beyond any place he can possibly visit.

"We have sympathizing this morning with us the countries of Europe, Asia, Africa and America. Throughout the United States of America the Stars and Stripes are at half-mast, and the people sorrow with us in our sorrow, as we did with them when Lincoln and Garfield and McKinley were suddenly cut off.

"While we mourn for King Edward and sympathize with his Imperial widow, let us be loyal to the new King, for none is more loyal to the earthly monarch than he who owes allegiance to the King that is invisible and immortal. (Concluded on page 10.)

SIX INJURED.

(Special to the Times.)

Hamilton, Ont., May 9.—Six people were more or less seriously injured by a street car jumping the track on James street yesterday.

The known dead are: Donat Fabien, of Queen street, killed by falling rocks; Louis McCann, head blown off by explosion; Ferdinand Laurin, back broken; A servant killed in a house by flying rock; Rosie and Loretta Carriere, killed in their house; John Blanchfield, struck on the head by rock; Eugene Gravelle; T. Blacklet, head cut off by flying rock; T. Gagne; Wm. Sabourin.

The catastrophe was the worst in the history of the sister cities and it seems miraculous that a greater number of lives were not lost as the section bordering on the scene of the disaster is thickly populated.

The shock was felt for miles around the surrounding country, and produced throughout the cities of Hull and Ottawa a condition bordering on panic. People rushed from their houses in terror, not knowing the cause of the disturbance which caused houses miles away to rock on their foundations as though shaken by a severe earthquake and broke hundreds of panes of plate glass both in Hull and along the principal business streets of the capital.

A moment after the crash the sidewalk of Sparks, Rideau and other streets were in places a mass of shattered glass.

The primary cause of the explosion has not been definitely established, but it is known that a fire broke out in one of the several buildings of the plant and it is believed that this fire caused a number of detonators containing fulminate of mercury, the explosion of these causing the explosive stored in the magazine to go off.

The staff manufactured by the company and known as virite, does not explode with fire. Undoubtedly a great

DEATH ROLL IS INCREASING

EARTHQUAKE VICTIMS
MAY NUMBER 2,500

(Times Leased Wire.)

San Jose, Costa Rica, May 9.—Advices received from Cartago to-day say that the bodies of 900 victims of the earthquake which destroyed the city have been removed from the wreckage. An estimate of the total number of deaths to-day is placed at 2,500.

It has been learned positively to-day that Paraiso, Oriai and Pococo suffered from the shocks. The extent of the damage is not yet known, but the death list is heavy. Fully 1,000 persons are dead in Paraiso.

Heavy rains falling constantly yesterday and to-day have added greatly to the suffering of the refugees. Shelters have been provided for only a small number of the homeless, and they have been huddled together, drenched by the storm and unable to cook food in the temporary camps.

The rain is impeding the work of rescue. Soldiers and citizens who have been removing dead and injured from the wreckage of Cartago found the work made still more difficult on account of the storm.

The injured have been suffering pitifully, left in the open and soaked by the rain. Supplies are inadequate, and the supply of drinking water is short. The rain is handicapping in their efforts to care for the injured.

Fisures are opening in the ground near Cartago, and this fact has added to the fear of the inhabitants.

At least 10,000 people in Cartago are homeless, and many others in other towns and villages are without shelter.

KILLED WHEN AUTO PLUNGES INTO GULLY

(Times Leased Wire.)

Riverside, Cal., May 9.—Mrs. Mary Breedlove is dead and four other members of the family of B. E. Bush, a realty dealer, are suffering from minor injuries, the result of an automobile accident near this city.

Bush was learning to drive his new touring car. With his mother, Mrs. Breedlove, and his three children, he was spinning toward Perris late yesterday when a fatal turn of the steering wheel sent the car plunging over an embankment into a gully 75 feet below. Mrs. Breedlove was killed instantly.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Greenwood, May 8.—P. Moray died at Cascade on Saturday as the result of being crushed by a falling tree. He had a tie contract with the C. P. R., and died half an hour after the accident.

GEORGE V. FORMALLY PROCLAIMED KING

Funeral of the Late Sovereign Will Take Place at Windsor on May 20th—Body Will Lie in State in London

(Times Leased Wire.)

London, May 9.—King George V. was formally proclaimed King of England at 9 o'clock this morning. The pomp and mediaeval ceremony was adhered to, and the trappings of high officers of the kingdom who carried out the ceremony contrasted in a vivid manner with the sombre black in which the city is draped in memory of the late king.

Every person in the vast throng that heard the proclamation wore a badge of mourning. There were many wet eyes when the York herald called for cheers for the King.

According to custom the officials who bore the proclamation wore no sign of mourning. Flags were at full staff to-day in honor of King George, but will be lowered to half mast to-morrow in memory of King Edward.

Funeral on May 20th.

The body of King Edward lies to-day in the bed chamber in which he died. In appearance the late monarch appears to be sleeping, and his face shows little trace of suffering. The body rests upon the carved wooden bed in which the king died. It is clothed in a red silk robe which he wore when he passed away. The hands are clasped over the breast, the little finger of the left hand being held between the thumb and fore-finger of the right chapel awaiting burial in the sun-dial which will take place within a few days after its arrival.

The cause of the King's death, as given out by his physicians, is not generally accepted as true by the medical profession here. It is believed that apoplexy must have seized the King shortly before his death. Bronchitis rarely causes death so quickly, according to leading physicians.

In compliance with the wishes of King George the theatres re-opened this evening. They will be closed only on the day of the funeral of King Edward. In expressing the desire for a continuance of theatrical performances, the King referred to the unnecessary hardship that would be brought to numbers of unemployed should the theatres remain closed.

Anxious to Return Here.

Barritz, May 9.—"My duty lies in England, I must be there in 24 hours." These were King Edward's words to Sir James Reid, his physician, when the surgeon had urged him to make the return trip to London by easy stages. It is believed that the King had a premonition of death, and that he knew a grave crisis might arise should he die away from his native land.

Kaiser Will Attend.

Berlin, May 9.—The Kaiser to-day decided to attend the funeral of Edward VII, his uncle. The German Emperor will be accompanied by his brother, Prince Henry of Prussia. They will journey to England in the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern.

Press Comments.

(Special to the Times.)

London, May 9.—There are signs that some of the Conservatives will accuse the Liberals of responsibility for the King's death by worry brought on him through threats of the party to

POET LAUREATE'S TRIBUTE.

(Special to the Times.)

London, May 9.—Alfred Austin, poet laureate, has written the following on the occasion of the King's death, entitled "A Truce of God," with a subtitle "A King's Bequest."

What darkness deep as wintry gloom
O'er shadows joyous Spring;
In vain the vernal orchards bloom,
Vainly the woodlands sing.
Round Royal shroud,
A mournful crowd,
Is all now left of one
But yesterday a King.

Thrones have there been of baleful fame,
Reared upon wanton war,
He we have lost still linked his name
With peace at home, afar.
For peace he wrought, his constant thought
Being how to shield his realm
Against strife's baleful star.

So let us now all seek to rest
From fateful feuds release,
And, mindful of his wise bequest,
From factious clamors cease.
Treading the path he trod,
The sacred truth of God;
The path that points and leads
To patriotic peace.

hand, a characteristic pose while alive.

The expression of the face is remarkably life-like and natural. Beside the bed is a small smoking table. The materials on it have not been touched since the King took his last smoke on the morning of the day on which he died.

The coffin is being heaved from a freshly cut oak tree in the royal presbytery near Windsor. The coffin will have a lining of lead.

Official announcement was made to-day that the funeral of King Edward will be held at Windsor, May 20th. The body will lie in state at Westminster hall for three days preceding the funeral.

Tentative arrangements for the funeral were completed to-day. Lord Esher, deputy governor of Windsor Castle, who had charge of the funeral of Queen Victoria and also of the coronation of King Edward, will superintend the obsequies of the late monarch. The dead king first will be conveyed in a carriage to the railroad station for transportation to Windsor. On the casket will lie the royal crown, the royal robes and the sceptre. King George, on horseback, will follow the casket. He will be accompanied by visiting royalty.

Queen Victoria, the dowager Queen Alexandra and other royal ladies will follow the funeral train in carriages. The body will be taken to Windsor on a special train. It will be carried to the Albert Memorial chapel, the royal mourners following on foot. The body will remain in the crypt of the call on him to swamp the lords by the creation of a host of Liberal peers.

The Globe says the King was in constant consultation with his ministers, his holiday was cut short and had not the keen sense of public duty compelled him to return to England he might still be alive and well. Those who have stirred up strife within the nation who would have wrecked the constitution and who did not hesitate to attack the crown itself in pursuance of their own ends, will now realize that they must take their share of the responsibility for the death of a great king.

The Conservative Sunday Observer devotes four columns to arguing for a truce between political parties. If the King invites the statesmen of both parties to confer before the prerogative of the crown is made a direct issue in the party fight, the paper says he will be supported by an overwhelming mass of the nation.

The Observer, discussing the personality of King George, says: "The King is better understood in other parts of the empire than at home, but his subjects in Great Britain will soon know his worth, his serious self, his patriotism, his passion for imperial ideal, the directness and candor of his nature, his sympathy and courage. Owing to his self-imposed quiet role, some believe him of reactionary mind, others as likely to set his own impress on affairs. Both are absurd errors. Prince George was indoctrinated with the true meaning of Empire during his early world tours. With his fervour of his belief in the empire, His Majesty is not likely to forget that twentieth century kingship demands social service and will be in a special sense, the monarch of the masses."

TRAIN WRECKS

BUGGY ON CROSSING

One of Occupants Instantly Killed—Three Others Injured, One Seriously

(Times Leased Wire.)

Dallas, Ore., May 9.—One young woman dead, another seriously injured, and two young men badly bruised, one of them crazed with grief because of the death of his sweetheart, is the result of a runaway collision between a loaded carriage and the Dallas passenger train, near Bridwell station last night.

Miss Leighton, of McMinnville, is dead, and Miss N. Eunice Lewis, of Newberg, badly cut about the head. J. Scully, of Sheridan, is grief-stricken and under the care of friends. E. Whipple, also of Sheridan, escaped from the accident with only slight bruises.

Conductor Keyser, of the Dallas train, who took his train with the dead woman and injured persons to Sheridan, arrived in Dallas shortly after midnight and gave an account of the accident.

According to Conductor Keyser, the two women were en route to Sheridan, but left the train at Bridwell station to join the men in a buggy ride to their destination. The Dallas passenger train had passed. As the buggy and its occupants rounded a warehouse near the depot, the horses took fright at the approaching train and started to run across the track. The engine struck the buggy squarely in the middle. Miss Leighton's body was removed from beneath the buggy. It was badly mangled. The others escaped death owing to the fact that the force of the impact hurled them clear of the track.

The regular weekly meeting of the city council to be held this evening is expected to be of but only brief duration, the board merely meeting to pass those resolutions necessary under the sad circumstances surrounding the death of the King. Two resolutions were drawn by W. J. Dowler, city clerk, this morning. One is of condolence on the death of the King and the other of congratulatory spirit on the accession of King George V.

Mr. Justice Morrison will open the May assizes to-morrow morning. The only case to be tried is Rex vs. Penny. W. C. Morgansby is counsel for the crown.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT REGARDING SPORTS

Council Will Probably Consider 24th May Celebrations After Regular Business To-night

Some decision will be arrived at within the next twenty-four hours as to the holding of the Victoria Day sports on May 24th by the mayor and general committee.

Mayor Morley said this morning that the matter had not yet been settled. He was in communication with the premier regarding the matter, and would probably take it up to-night with the members of the City Council after the Council meeting adjourned.

It is generally expected that a postponement will take place, if not the entire abandonment of the festival, but nothing definite can be said until the mayor has conferred with the premier and the council.

Regarding the horse races which were to have commenced Monday, May 23rd, no announcement has been made. The directors of the Victoria Country club contemplated an adjournment but have not yet reached a decision.

CHIEF DAVIS' NEW AUTO AND EXTINGUISHER

Splendid Vehicle for Fire Department Has Arrived From Oshawa, Ont.

Chief Davis, of the fire department, is now the proud possessor of a handsome chemical extinguisher—automobile—the machine serving a dual purpose, that of conveying the chief to the scene of a fire with the greatest possible speed, with emergency appliances for extinguishing any small fires.

The machine, which was placed in service this morning, was manufactured by the McLaughlin-Bulck company, of Oshawa, Ont., and was secured through the Western Motor Supply Co. It cost $2,200, this high price being in consequence of the order calling for the inclusion in the vehicle of a gasoline tank and a line of hose. The price for an ordinary automobile of this type is $2,000.

The auto presents a very brilliant and attractive appearance. It is painted a bright emerald and is replete with brass adornments. The gongs and horns are of a special make, in order to enable the chief to "clear the road" when he is making a run to a fire. To-day he was out trying the machine, which is of high power and very speedy.

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF SHOOTING AFFRAY

Seattle Man is Shot Down in the Street—Assailant Surrenders to Police

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., May 9.—Ethan A. Morrison, shot and seriously wounded yesterday by Luke A. Miley, has an even chance for life, the doctors at the general hospital say today.

Enraged at the sight of his wife and 6-year-old son walking hand in hand with Morrison, Miley leaped from a street car, pulled an automatic revolver and fired at Morrison. The latter dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet wound just below the left eye. Another bullet grazed the side of his head.

Putting the revolver back in his little pocket, Miley rushed up to his little boy and seized him in his arms and carried him.

The boy was still in his arms when a policeman came. "I am the man who did the shooting, arrest me," said Miley, and he and the boy were put in a patrol wagon and taken to the police station, while Morrison was hurried to a hospital.

"It was little Donald's sixth birthday and I had planned to take him on a car ride," said Miley to-day. "I was going out to the mother's home to get him when I saw Donald coming down the street hand in hand with his mother and Morrison."

Mrs. Miley sued for divorce two years ago, but lost her case. Since then she and her husband have lived apart.

CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION.

Dr. Hodgetts Will Take Charge of Health Branch of Conservation Commission.

Ottawa, May 9.—Dr. Charles Hodgetts, head of the Ontario Provincial Health Department, will shortly take charge of the health branch of the Conservation Commission at Ottawa.

The commission plans a far-reaching campaign of education of practical endeavor in respect to the pollution of streams by sewage, municipal sanitation, the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis, etc. Dr. Hodgetts has been asked to take charge of the works. He has given most efficient service to the province for some years past and was recently offered the position of medical health officer of Toronto.

FLAG MAST HIGH IN HONOR OF KING

TAKE OATH OF FEALTY TO THE NEW MONARCH

Lieutenant-Governor and Premier Sworn To-day—Message Sent to Governor-General

The flag is mast-high to-day on the parliament buildings, the city hall and generally throughout the city in honor of King George V., who was to-day proclaimed, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Emperor of India.

Lieutenant-Governor Paterson took the oath of fealty to the new monarch shortly before noon to-day, Chief Justice Macdonald, of the Court of Appeal, administering it. A few minutes later Hon. Richard McBride, premier of B. C., took the oath before the lieutenant-governor. The other members of the executive council, some of whom are out of town on public business, will be re-sworn by the lieutenant-governor to-morrow.

An official announcement of King Edward's death was received by His Honor through the Excellency the Governor-General, through Hon. Charles Murphy, secretary of state, and later another announcement of the accession of King George. An extra of the B. C. Gazette was issued on Saturday afternoon announcing the death and a second extra will announce the accession, and will continue in office all officers and servants of the crown. Subsequent issue will contain notification of the obsequies and the period of official mourning.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor forwarded the following message to the Governor-General on Saturday afternoon:

"The death of His Majesty King Edward has caused profound grief throughout the province of British Columbia. May I beg Your Excellency to convey to His Majesty, King George, the sincere sympathy of the government and people of this province and their feelings of devoted loyalty and attachment."

The flags will return to half-mast to-morrow morning and continue so until after the funeral.

NO RESERVOIR REPAIRS NEEDED
 BIG TANK IS FILLING RAPIDLY

This Morning it Contained a Depth of 18 Ft. 4 In., and Seepage is But Insignificant

If he succeeds in filling the big reservoir to the top, as he confidently hopes he will be able to do, Angus Smith, city engineer, will recommend to the council that the projected work of effecting repairs be abandoned until such time as occasion shows the need of attention from workmen. This will prove a reassuring announcement to those who had feared a possible danger from fire this summer during the dry season owing to the depletion of the reserve water supply.

The reservoir is certainly good enough for the summer, unless something unforeseen happens," said Mr. Smith to the Times this morning. Continuing, he said he had that moment received a report from his man on watch at the reservoir that it contained 18 feet 4 inches. He explained that this is the greatest depth to which the big basin has been filled since its construction. The leakage, or "seepage," as it is technically known, now only amounts to 25,000 gallons per day. That this is a remarkable showing will be understood when it is stated that when it was filled to a height of 13 feet it leaked at the rate of 300,000 gallons per day; and the leakage to-day is almost exactly the same as it was when there was only 3 feet of water in it.

Mr. Smith explained, further, that it ought to be understood that no special effort is being made to fill the reservoir, this process being accomplished by the accumulation of the natural surplus over what is taken by the consumers of the city.

TAKE STEPS TO STOP FALSE ALARM TROUBLE

Authorities Remove Keys From Boxes—Reward Offered for Conviction of Culprits

That the municipal authorities are determined to put a stop to the epidemic of false fire alarms which has given Chief Davis and his men so much trouble of late is shown by the offer of one hundred dollars reward for the conviction of a culprit and also by the removal of keys from fire-boxes to nearby residences.

The latter measure is generally looked upon as a doubtful precaution, being merely a reversion to the former old-fashioned system employed in connection with electric alarms. A card is fastened to each box stating where the key can be obtained and, while it is generally but a few steps from the box, there are many possibilities of delay which have always proved a distinct disadvantage. It is thought, however, by the civic officials that this ringing of false alarms will be ended by this obstacle, as it will make detection almost certain.

The police are endeavoring to trace the authors of recent false alarms and, in view of the seriousness of the offence, there is no doubt that severe punishment will be meted out to them if convicted. The reward for evidence which will secure conviction has been standing for some weeks and is being advertised in the daily papers, and it is hoped that it will stimulate private citizens to assist in protecting the fire complaints are pouring in about the dust nuisance. MINISTER IMPROVING. Ottawa, May 9.—Dr. Chevrier, of Ottawa, has returned from New York, where he was in consultation with Dr. Einhorn, specialist, on the health of Hon. L. P. Brodeur, who will be able to leave the hospital in a few days and will return for convalescence at his home in St. Hilaire.

How nature does assert itself, to be sure. Certain of the more bitter of the Tories of the old land are trying hard to make political capital out of the death of the King. But they forget that there would have been no crisis, that the old Parliament would still have been doing business and that there would have been no demand for the reform of the second chamber if the Lords had sunk their personal interest in the Budget and passed it. How can there be a political truce during the period of the nation's mourning in the face of such bitter partisanship?

There is not the slightest ground for misgivings as to the attitude of King George. While the new King has, owing to the delicacy of his position as a son, refrained from an appearance of taking an active interest in public affairs, there is no doubt that he has diligently studied the situation which prevails, that he has been carefully coached by the departed monarch, and there is no question that he possesses talent of a high order which will manifest itself upon occasion.

There are tragedies in the lives of all. It is a trite saying that death is no respecter of persons. It is not the first time that the Queen Mother has been called upon to pass through the valley of the shadow, to weep for some whose lives were dearer to her than her own.

Woto was a very powerful man and used to boast about his great strength. Since being employed on the Restorer he had shown the crew many tricks as proofs. Saturday he attempted to lift a 500-pound anvil. The white men on board had tried but could not move it. The Jap, however, slowly but surely raised the great weight until it reached his thighs. Then suddenly he lost his footing and fell the anvil falling across him and crushing him.

Woto was 35 years of age and was born in Japan. The remains have been removed to the B. C. Funeral Company's parlors, Government street, pending the funeral arrangements. An inquest is being held this afternoon by Coroner Hart.

An Englishman seeing a baseball game for the first time might very properly say, "This is rounders made scientific." We took the old game, made rules, and amended it until now it stands forth as the national game of America.

Q. M. SERGT. LETTICE LEADS RIFLE SCORES

Sergt. Parker Rings in Six Bull's Eyes and Plants Seventh on Wrong Target

Among rifle shots who attend at Clover Point rifle range there is a well-defined belief that if it blows at all it will be on a Saturday afternoon when they go hunting bullseyes. That belief was confirmed on Saturday afternoon, when there was ten feet of wind blowing and the scores suffered accordingly. In certain strong winds good scores can be made, but when it is gusty, as happened on Saturday, good scores are the exception. Regt. Q. M. Sgt. Lettice was top scorer, with a well merited 94 and winner of the spoon in the first class. Among the younger first-class shots Sgt. Parker is keeping well to the front, and but for planting an inner on the wrong target at 200 yards, when he already had six bullseyes on score, would have had first place with 95. A shot on the wrong target is recorded as a miss, and

CIRCLE W. AND VICTORIA DRAW

FOURTEEN RUNS IN OPENING BALL GAME

Performers for Victoria Were Not Peerless, But Dragged Game From the Fire

The Victoria ball season opened Saturday at Royal park with a drawn game against the Circle W. team from Seattle, the score being seven runs all. Seattle did not score in the first. Murdoch, the first man at bat, however, got to third, the next one died at first, and Peden struck out two in succession. Victoria went out one, two, three. The second inning where the disaster occurred and the four Seattle runs were tallied. Against this Victoria got two in the second, and Seattle got two more in the third, and then put Victoria out one, two, three. For two innings there was nothing doing, but in the sixth Murdoch

VICTORIA WEST AND NORTH WARDS MEET

Second Exhibition Game in Victoria Lacrosse League at Royal Park To-night

This evening the North Ward and Victoria West lacrosse twelve will meet in the second game of the exhibition series at the Royal Athletic park at 6.15 sharp, when a good, fast game is expected. The Wards, it will be well remembered, won the Intermediate championship of B. C. last season, and this year's team is strengthened considerably, and they will incidentally give a good account of themselves, as they have all been training hard for the past four or five weeks. The boys from across the harbor have been saying nothing but sawing wood since their last defeat by Cloverdale, and have been practicing faithfully for a good many weeks. This evening all their lacrosse players will be on deck, and the green shirt line-up will be entirely different to that which lined up against Cloverdale a week last Saturday. They claim they are going to surprise the lacrosse enthusiasts and prove that neither the Wards nor Cloverdale can run up a fourteen to nil score again.

The game this evening is principally to get an eye on the players as to who will represent Victoria on the 24th of May against Vancouver, so all the stick-wielders will have to play up to A-1 calibre if they intend making their place on the "rep" team. It is very probable that Sam Lorimer will act as referee.

The teams will take the field as follows:

Table listing players for North Ward and Victoria West, including positions like Goal, Cover Point, 1st Defence, 2nd Defence, Centre, 3rd Home, 2nd Home, 1st Home, Outside Home, Inside Home, Reserve Home, and Reservo Defence.

On Wednesday evening next at 8 o'clock a meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of discussing matters in connection with senior camp to be held at the Gorge this summer. The date for going into camp will be decided on. All members who intend to be among the campers are requested to attend this meeting so that an idea as to how many will enjoy rustic life may be formed and preparations made accordingly.

got home, and the lucky-hard earned four needed to tie the game after Seattle got one in the seventh were secured by Victoria also in the seventh. The eighth and ninth neither side scored, second base being the longest journey for either side. Because the Seattle men had to make the boat, returning Saturday night at 5 p. m., the game was not played over the nine innings. Had another inning been played it is probable that Victoria would have won. For Thompson, the Seattle pitcher, was tiring rapidly, and Victoria all round was shaking down to business. The scores in detail are:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Includes Wattleit, I. F., Murdoch, 2 b., Moore, F. F., White, C. F., McQuade, S. B., Fryberg, C., McDiarmid, I. B., Brown, A. S., and Peden, P.

Summary—Earned runs: Circle W., 1; Victoria, 2. Two-base hits: Thompson, Wattleit, Murdoch, Moore, White, Fryberg. Sacrifice hits: Moore, Thompson. Stolen bases: Music, Thompson, Fryberg. Bases on balls: By Peden, 1; by Thompson, 2. Time of game, 1.30. Umpire, Geo. Burns.

Baseball Notes

The game was thrown away by Pete McQuade, at third base, and Catcher Fryberg in the second innings, when these two muddled a pass and allowed Peden and Holland to get across the plate. Two runs had been registered by a wild throw from the pitcher's box to short stop, which had let in Picht and Hart.

The game was magnificently saved in the seventh, when the fans rose on their hind legs and cheered as Fryberg, McDiarmid, Brown and Peden came round the sacks at intervals and galloped home, making the score even.

Peden pitched good ball. Four batted in the first, four in the fourth. In the third there should have been only three. The fifth there were four at bat. The sixth and eighth they went one, two, three, and five batted in the other two innings.

When the nine shakes down and gets wise to itself, and loses its self-consciousness, it will be a good ball team. Circle W. has only been better once this year out of seven games. Victoria should have beaten it Saturday.

The score card showed that Weary Willie would recover, while one Walter Lorimer was in charge of the melodian that rang out seven sweet chimes for Victoria, and seven harsh discords to the credit of Seattle.

We'll be round again next Saturday. Our weekly meat this time is Balcon's nine from Ballard, the historic city of shingles and smells.

Get some ginger, Watt, apply it well, rub up the third baseman with it, and brush off a few cobwebs all round. Take out a twelve by twelve timber to prop the men up to the plate while at bat, then everything will be just about all right.

There are some speedy boys on the ball team. Those bases looked awful short the way they went round in the seventh after an uphill fight.

received a beauty from Picht. Centre field caught centre field.

Another splendid catch was that of Murdoch at short, who disposed of Whyte, with a one handed leap in the air, coming to the ground with the ball in his glove.

Murrah saw visions of heroism in the ninth and tried to steal when he had no chance. Wattleit had put a high one to left field, Murrah got to first and failed to steal second, and Moore died on first. Had Murrah stayed in the game, Whyte, next at bat, might have landed an out liner good enough for three bags.

Murrah and Whyte are about the only two who stood up to the Seattle pitcher's onslaughts. Fryberg was scared stiff and backed away from them, and neither Wattleit or McDiarmid seemed able to get at home with them. Stupid up to them, boys.

Murrah had a narrow escape in the sixth when he slipped into a squeeze between second and third. He was nailed for sure if too many Seattle cooks hadn't got in and spoilt their own game. They tumbled between them and Murrah took the sack, and afterwards stole home.

Peden struck out nine, or an average of one per inning. Thompson, the Circle W. pitcher, struck out but three. There was one man on each side walked.

When Wattleit dropped Picht in the second innings it kind of started things going. That catch would have altered the game and made a win for Victoria.

On the whole Victoria did remarkably well to get a draw after four runs behind in the seventh. Victoria has a strong hitting team, and the score shows they were just as good as Seattle. They were a shade worse on errors though.

George Burns is an umpire of skill, merit, discretion, good lungs, firm judgment, masterly manner, beautiful countenance, and bears a decided resemblance to 'Ald' Russ Humber. Long live George.

REMARKABLE PROPHECY REGARDING CANADA

Extracts From Diary of United States Senator Seward, Written 53 Years Ago

Fifty-three years ago, Hon. W. H. Seward, then U. S. senator from New York, made a summer trip to Canada and sailed from Quebec to spend two months cruising in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and along the coast of Labrador. During his trip he kept a diary from which a wonderful prophecy about Canada has just been unearthed by Busy Man's Magazine. The prophecy in part reads as follows:

"Hitherto, in common with most of my countrymen, as I suppose, I have thought Canada, or to speak more accurately, north of the United States, easily detachable from the parent state, but incapable of sustaining itself, and therefore ultimately, nay, right soon, to be taken in by the Federal Union, without materially changing or affecting its own condition or development. I have dropped the opinion as a national conceit. I see in British North America, stretching as it does across the continent from the shores of Labrador and Newfoundland to the Pacific, and occupying a considerable belt of the temperate zone, traversed equally with the United States by the lakes, and enjoying the magnificent shores of the St. Lawrence, with its thousands of islands in the river and gulf—a region grand enough for the seat of a great empire. In its western fields to the west, its broad ranges of the chase at the north, its inexhaustible lumber lands—the most extensive now remaining on the globe—its valuable fisheries and its yet undisturbed mineral deposits. I see the elements of wealth, I find its inhabitants vigorous, hardy, energetic, perfected by the Protestant religion and British constitutional liberty. I find them jealous of the United States and of Great Britain, as they ought to be; and therefore when I look at their extent and resources I know they can neither be conquered by the former nor permanently held by the latter. They will be independent as they are already self-sustaining. Having happily escaped the curse of slavery, they will never submit themselves to the domination of slaveholders, which prevails in and determines the character of the United States. They will be a Russia behind the United States, which to them will be France and England. But they will be a very different Russia from that which fills all southern Europe with terror, and by reason of that superiority they will be the more terrible to the dwellers in the southern latitudes.

"The policy of the United States is to propitiate and secure the alliance of Canada while it is yet young and in the curioux of its future. But on the other hand the policy which the United States actually pursues is the infatuated one of rejecting and spurning vigorously, perennial and ever-growing Canada, while seeking to establish feeble states out of decaying Spanish provinces, on the coast and in the islands of the Gulf of Mexico.

"I shall not live to see it, but the man is already born who will see the United States mourn over its stupendous folly, which is only preparing the way for ultimate danger and downfall. All southern political stars must set, though many times they rise again, with diminished splendor. But those which illuminate the pole remain for ever shining, forever increasing in splendor."

BOY SHOT TO DEATH BY UNKNOWN MAN

Killed in Hallway of an Apartment House at Bakersfield, Cal.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Bakersfield, Cal., May 9.—A coroner's jury to-day returned a verdict of death from a gun-shot wound, inflicted by a person unknown, in the case of Eddie Lasada, the Southern Pacific call boy, who was shot to death in the hallway of an apartment house early Sunday morning.

Lasada had been sent to summon T. E. Bean, a brakeman, for duty. In front of Bean's door he was shot twice and died instantly. Bean testified that he was awakened by the first shot and saw a man standing in his door, which was partly opened, shooting down the hallway. When the man had fired three shots, he disappeared. Lasada substituted for the regular call man Sunday morning.

CREAM CHEESE SANDWICHES.

The best of sandwiches are made of cream cheese—the yellow cheese which is known as "store" cheese being the best—and olives stuffed with red peppers. Grade a pound of the cheese and cut the olives into the smallest possible particles. Moisten the cheese with the liquid from the olives and let it soak enough to spread easily, but do not make it too soft and oozy. Put in the chopped olives and stir thoroughly into the cheese, spreading on slices of browned white bread.

Shares in Canadian Northern Coal and Coke Co. Are Being Rapidly Taken Up

Before it is too Late, Acquire an Interest in a Coal Company Holding 17,280 Acres of Coal Land With the Small Capitalization of $125,000

In coal, British Columbia possesses one of its greatest assets. The commercial and industrial future is closely interwoven with this commodity. Coal has never been associated with the feverish romance of the more precious metals, owing to the fact that by development, the actual quantity of coal can be definitely determined and shares valued accordingly. Shares sold for a few cents in the original Crow's Nest Company. Development proved the value of the property and shares advanced to $500 a share.

TRANSPORTATION IS ONE OF THE ESSENTIAL FEATURES

Coal, to be profitable to the investor, must be in a position to reach the point of consumption at a minimum cost, or at any event to compete with other competitors.

The opening up of a new territory, through the recent railway legislation, brings into immediate view territory which heretofore was almost valueless, from a commercial standpoint.

Through business foresight, a local company has been organized to acquire at the first cost, a valuable coal area on the main line of the Canadian Northern Railway, the construction of which, as the reader knows, will commence within a specified time. This area consists of 27 square miles (17,280 acres), and is as far as known, the only available coal land on the main line between Yellow Head Pass and Vancouver.

The announcement has also been made that the location line of the G. T. P. from Tete Jaune Cache to the Coast has been fixed with the government. The railway passes right through the property, thus giving two lines of communication, not near the property, but through it.

The property is of a formation that will be excelled by no other for practical mining purposes inasmuch as its geological construction is without what is termed faults.

The quality of the coal indicates its suitability for coking purposes, upon which the future mineral wealth of the province is largely dependent, as the ores require almost in their entirety to be smelted, and the rapidly increasing activity in mining development is creating a vast market for coke.

Before acquiring this property and expending money on exploration work, it was carefully examined and reported on by Charles A. Sanford, B. Sc., M. E., a qualified mining engineer of wide experience in coal mining.

VALUE OF THE PROPERTY

It is difficult to place an exact value on 17,280 acres of coal lands with the excellent transportation facilities available to this property.

One seam of coal six feet in thickness would give 102,650,000 tons of coal available.

Considerable development work was done on the property last summer, with satisfactory results.

The coal is a clean, hard bituminous of exceptional quality.

LOW CAPITALIZATION MEANS PROFIT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

It is astonishing how seldom people inquire into the capitalization of a company, or realize what a high capitalization means when it comes to receiving dividends.

The capital of the Canadian Northern Coal & Coke Company is $125,000, of which it is estimated that only $90,000 will be required. This will acquire the property, consisting of 17,280 acres, pay all organization expenses, engineer's reports, government fees, and also provide the great expense of purchasing the machinery and development.

This means that you are buying an interest in an organized company backed by responsible men, who are capable of handling the property to the best advantage on a basis of $5 an acre. The possibilities of this investment should be appreciated by any man who can, from the study of present conditions, have any perception of the future.

Consider carefully the opportunity that is now offered you to obtain an interest in this enormous area of coal lands. Consider what is the meaning of twenty-seven square miles, and what its future value will be to those who own an interest at $90,000. Anyone who is acquainted with the future value of our natural resources recognizes in coal the most certain investment. The recent action of the world's greatest capitalists in this direction speaks for itself. Call at this office for further information.

PURPOSE OF THE COMPANY

50,000 treasury shares are offered to provide funds to complete the development work.

If the company had been capitalized at $1,000,000, and with its great assets this would not have been high as stock companies go, shares would have had less than one-tenth of their present value, and an opportunity is afforded to those who now buy shares in the original company to participate in the profits that will accrue, when the capital stock is increased from $125,000 to $1,000,000, or more, when on development the true value of the property is estimated, when the company will be recapitalized or the property sold at its true worth, thus the great profit will be to those who now buy shares in the original company.

A SQUARE DEAL IS OFFERED TO EVERY INVESTOR

The officers and directors of the company are well known and responsible men, whose names signed to the prospectus of the company will guarantee that the statements made therein are a fair and correct presentation of its possibilities. The following are the officers and directors:

PRESIDENT:
M. E. CARLIN, ESQ., Capitalist, Victoria, B. C.

SECRETARY-TREASURER:
H. G. ASHBY, ESQ., of Messrs. Croft & Ashby.

VICE-PRESIDENT:
D. W. HANBURY, ESQ., of Hanbury, Evans & Co., Vancouver and Victoria, B. C.

DIRECTORS:
M. E. CARLIN, ESQ., Capitalist, Victoria, B. C.
S. MACLURE, ESQ., Architect, Victoria, B. C.
A. G. McDONALD, ESQ., Mine Owner, Kamloops, B. C.
D. W. HANBURY, ESQ., of Hanbury, Evans & Co., Vancouver and Victoria, B. C.
HENRY CROFT, ESQ., Consulting Engineer, Victoria, B. C.

The company has no liabilities, everything is paid for and a substantial balance in the bank to its credit. Every officer or shareholder has invested money in the company and paid for his interest. There is no watered stock. No fees are received by the directors or officers, nor are any salaries paid.

The stock that is offered to the public is treasury stock and the proceeds will be spent in development work, which will be proceeded with at once.

Twenty-seven square miles of coal lands, with transportation, at a capitalization of $125,000, of which $90,000 is expected, will not be required, will be an investment whose value on development at an early date will be many thousand per cent. of its present selling price.

The preliminary exploration work has demonstrated the value of the property, and development will be proceeded with at once. The company, therefore, has no hesitation in soliciting applications for shares. As the issue is limited, it would be advisable for those desirous of obtaining stock to make application at once.

The prospectus and a map of the property will be mailed upon application.

Fuller investigation is respectfully invited. The company has no liabilities or cash payments to be met for the purchase price of the property.

The money that is being raised by the sale of the treasury shares is to complete the development work. This is an investment offered upon a basis that will be appreciated by the practical investor.

The price of the shares is 25 cents, fully paid and non-assessable, on terms of half cash, balance in three months.

MARMION HERE FROM ARDROSSAN MADE VOYAGE IN SEVENTY-NINE DAYS

Whole Ship's Company, With Exception of Capt. Smith, Will Remain Here

Steamer Marmion, the new boat purchased recently by the Vancouver Portland Cement Company, arrived in port yesterday and is at present moored at Raymond's wharf, Belleville St. She made the voyage from Ardrossan in 79 days, and shortly before arriving here ran short of fuel, being forced to put into Astoria to coal up. She remained there 20 hours and then proceeded to this port.

Speaking of his voyage Capt. Smith said that the Marmion was without doubt the finest sea vessel he had ever been on. She danced over the waves without shipping any sea. When only 12 hours out from the Clyde they ran into the big gale which did so much damage on the coast of the United Kingdom. She put back into Kingston, Ireland, and remained there 36 hours before proceeding. The voyage was uneventful with that exception. Coming up the coast they experienced about ten days strong northwest wind which delayed them somewhat and caused them run out of coal. The only other ports of call were St. Vincent, Puntas Arenas and Coronel.

The Marmion brought from the Old Country a quantity of furniture for the daughter of the new owner who is soon to marry Mr. Todd, of this city.

The vessel is 140 feet long, with a beam of 24 feet and a gross registry of 340 tons. Her engines can develop 630 horse-power, and propel her at a speed of ten knots. The compound engines are in splendid condition, having been in charge of the son of the skipper, Chief Engineer Charles Smith. A Cochrane was the mate. All the ship's company, with the exception of Capt. Smith, will remain on this coast, entering the service of the different shipping firms operating here. This will help to relieve the stringency, especially in the matter of officers.

The Marmion is 17 years old, having been built by Scott & Co., of Bowling on Clyde. She was formerly operated by the Nobel Explosives Company in carrying dynamite and other explosives to the points within easy reach of the United Kingdom. She will prove a valuable addition to the coasting boats plying in and out of this port.

JURY DISAGREES.

Tacoma Woman Accused of Being Implicated in Murder of Husband Will Be Tried Again.

Tacoma, Wash., May 9.—Mrs. Martina Kvalshaug, whose second trial ended like the first, in a disagreement of the jury, yesterday, will be tried again, probably in June, for alleged complicity with Charles F. Newcomb in the murder of her husband.

The jury, which was discharged yesterday afternoon after 24 hours of deliberation, stood 8 to 4 in favor of a complete acquittal of the woman according to statements of the jurymen. At one time it stood 9 to 3 for acquittal.

In the woman's first trial, which ended last November, the jury was evenly divided between conviction of first degree murder and acquittal. That jury deliberated all night, but could not agree.

Prosecuting Attorney McMurray stated to-day that while the expense to the county is enormous, he will insist that the woman be tried a third time, and will ask that a jury be called in June, if possible. The cost of the two mistrials has been $20,000.

TRIAL OF HEINZE.

New York, May 9.—Federal Judge Hough to-day dismissed the 1909 indictments against F. Augustus Heinze, on trial here charged with violation of the federal banking laws. Judge Hough ruled for the defense after the conclusion of the cross-examination by the defence of the government's accountants.

Attorneys then began arguing the motion for the dismissal of the two indictments still pending.

ROOSEVELT'S TOUR.

Berlin, May 9.—The Kaiser has approved of Col. Roosevelt's suggestion that because of mourning for King Edward, he would not visit the Kaiser at the palace.

Roosevelt will be entertained by the Kaiser, at an invitation to be issued tomorrow. That will be the only time during Roosevelt's stay in Berlin that he will be the emperor's guest.

MOTOR CYCLE RECORDS.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—Jake Deroster, the "Terrible Frenchman," to-day holds all world's records for motor cycles from one mile to 100.

At the Del Rey motor drome, Deroster drove his motor over the century in 86 minutes 14 45 seconds. He made the first mile in 14 1/2 seconds. He was compelled to stop twice for gasoline, and wheeled his motor through nearly all the final mile. It is believed his records will be made official.

FATALLY INJURED.

Mexico City, May 9.—Harper B. Lee, a Harvard graduate and one of America's famous matadors, is dying to-day at a hospital in Guadalajara from injuries received in a bull fight yesterday.

Lee killed the bull and bowed his acknowledgments of the praise of the crowd before he collapsed.

SAVED BY DOG.

After extinguishing a destructive fire at a drapery establishment in High street, Sunderland, the fire brigade was called to the Queen's hotel, Hordley. The manager and his wife had been awakened by the barking of a small dog, and finding their escape by the staircase cut off they had got out on to a ledge supporting a signboard, whence they were rescued by means of a fireescape.

The Acousticon

Enables the Deaf To Hear

To mingle with society, attend to business, visit places of worship and amusement. With the Acousticon a deaf person may resume the same business and social position he occupied previous to his affliction.

Come in any time at your convenience and let us tell you about this wonderful invention. It is an electrically operated instrument, constructed in exact accordance with nature's laws as to the transmission, multiplying and clarifying of sound waves. It is the only instrument which solves the problem of the deaf hearing in a positive and scientific manner.

It has in many cases actually restored the hearing.

It has brought new life and happiness to multitudes of deaf people throughout the world—some of them in houses of royalty.

It has enabled thousands of devout souls to engage in Church services and listen to the Word.

It has opened the doors of theatres and lecture halls to many who had found it not worth their while to enter them.

It keeps Corporation Presidents at the head of the directors' table, enabling them to hear all that is spoken along the board.

It helps thousands to make a livelihood in business from which they otherwise would have been debarred.

Mr. Jos. J. Giles, of Biggs, Butte Co., Cal., says: "The Acousticon I purchased from you gives me perfect satisfaction. My hearing has been defective for the last thirty years, due to heavy artillery firing on sea and land. With the Acousticon I can hear ordinary conversation and also music on the piano, organ or violin, something I have not heard before in years. The instrument does all that is claimed for it, and I heartily recommend it to all whose hearing is in the least defective.

Besides hundreds of other such testimonials on file at head office, the inventor of the "Acousticon" received a Gold Medal and a letter of appreciation from our Dowager Queen Alexandra and late King Edward. The Acousticon was also awarded the Gold Medal at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, St. Louis, 1904.

USE OF ENGLISH.

Mr. Hertzog recently held a meeting with the education conference at Bloemfontein regarding the use of English as a medium of instruction in the schools. Since the last conference between Mr. Hertzog and a number of representative opponents of his educational act, out of which the controversy arises, and which ended abortively at the beginning of this month, these English-speaking delegates have had conferences with the Governor and Mr. Gunn, director of education, as the result of which they adopted a resolution expressing satisfaction with Mr. Gunn's assurances that Mr. Hertzog was prepared to modify his attitude on the question. At the meeting recently, however, Mr. Hertzog laid down limitations as to the use of English, which led the conference to adopt a resolution to the effect that it was unable to offer any further advice or suggestion.

BEST SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Speaking on the prospects of reopening the best sugar mill at Maffra, Australia, Dr. Maxwell, the well-known Queensland expert, said that at Maffra seventy-six experimental plots in various parts of the district had been laid down, and the return he estimated at about fifteen tons to the acre. In California, with the aid of irrigation, the return was about ten to eleven tons. To reopen the mill an assurance of from 7,000 to 10,000 tons per year was required, and the government had been assured of 10,000 to start with. The government, therefore, proposed to open the factory in 1911.

In the police court this morning, Carl Duke, E. M. Sparkman, G. Overton and George Plummer, drivers for local firms, were fined $5 each for driving over Rock Bay bridge at a pace faster than a walk. The fines were paid. Wong Jung was remanded until to-morrow. He is charged with keeping an opium joint in Theatre alley.

SUMMER SERVICE FOR COAST STEAMERS

Princesses Royal and May Will Run to Skagway—City of Nanaimo Leaves Tuesdays

The summer schedule for the northern steamers has been arranged and details will be given out soon. Princess May and Princess Royal will, as before announced, leave here every Friday night for Skagway, calling at Prince Rupert going north, but not at Stewart.
Princess Beatrice will leave Vancouver for Prince Rupert every Thursday at 11 p. m., extending the trip to Stewart every fortnight. At present she leaves every Wednesday.
Steamer Amur will continue to make fortnightly trips to Queen Charlotte Islands, the next commencing May 17th.
Queen City will leave here every Tuesday at 3 p. m.
City of Nanaimo will leave for Comox every Tuesday at 8 a. m.
Teas continues to run as at present.
E. J. Chamberlin, general manager of the G. T. P., and Capt. Nicholson, marine superintendent, arrived from Seattle this afternoon on the Princess Victoria.

CAPTAIN TROUP RETURNS HOME REFUSES TO DISCUSS RECIPROCAL POLICY

Business Prospects at Prince Rupert and Stewart Are Excellent.

That the possibilities of obtaining wireless connection with the rest of the world from the town of Stewart or that neighborhood are very slight, was the word brought by Captain Troup, who has been to that place recently. Tests were made all up the canal by the operator of the steamer Princess May, but they were able to get no answer from any of the stations. It was thought that they might have been able to get Ikeda Head but they did not.
It is Captain Troup's opinion that the Ikeda station is not as good a one as Triangle Island. The steamer found difficulty in getting a response from Ikeda, whereas they were picked up at once by Triangle Island, and messages were at once relayed on to this port and an answer returned. The captain is also of opinion that Stewart will always be out of range on account of the high mountains and tortuous channel of the canal.
The success or otherwise of his visit to Prince Rupert with Mr. Marpole, of the C. P. R., and E. J. Chamberlin, and Captain Nicholson of the Grand Trunk, Captain Troup refused to discuss. It was understood that their business was to arrange a mutual agreement for the C. P. R. to secure wharfage at Prince Rupert and the Grand Trunk to obtain a similar concession at Vancouver. Time will tell whether they came to an agreement or not.
Captain Troup, in talking of the general prospects, said he found every one busy. The C. P. R. steamers here all they could do at the present time. But Victoria, he thought, was not securing as much of the trade as she might. Prince Rupert was building up fast and would soon be a large town.
At Stewart there was great activity. Building was proceeding as fast as material could be got in and the prospect of its being a large and thriving mining town was extremely good. Everyone was most optimistic. The wharfage at that place at present was very poor as it was impossible to reach it from the land side except at low tide. There was, however, he understood some arrangement for Mackenzie & Mann to provide wharfage in connection with the reclamation scheme which they are carrying out. At the present time this place was getting only a fortnightly service from his company, but he was trying to make arrangements to give them something better in the near future.
Captain Troup said he found a curious combination at Stewart. The weather was very fine. The streets of the town were dusty, but on the flats there was three feet of snow still lying.
Speaking of the matter of schedules Captain Troup said that in consequence of representations made to him by the local business men, he had changed the time of the sailing of the City of Nanaimo for Comox from Monday mornings until Tuesdays. She would, after this week, leave at 8 instead of 7, and at the end of the week would make a trip to Vancouver.

When the ship William H. Smith was dismantled off the Oregon coast last winter, Capt. Murray reported that he had sighted a four-masted schooner struggling in the storm just before the tempest broke in its greatest fury and blasted his own craft, and it was feared that the vessel had gone down in the series of gales which nearly demolished the Smith.
The identity of the four-masted schooner was received in Seattle from Capt. Ernest Seal, master of the schooner David Evans, stating that it was his command that was near the Smith during that storm. The Evans sailed from Grays Harbor for Talara bay about December 1st, and twelve days later put into Puget Sound in distress, sailing southward again on January 3rd. Capt. Seal's letter is dated Paitia, April 5th.
His letter says: "Tell Capt. Murray that the four-master ahead of him just before he lost his spars was the George E. Billings. By 10 o'clock that night we were under bare poles. No canvas would stand the strain, and I took it all in."
"The Evans took a sea that shifted her deck load, smashed her cabin skylight, washed away the chicken coop, buried the sea rail and flooded the cabin and all of the storerooms, where about five tons of water were about and spoiled a good many stores. It was pitch dark and there was not a dry match to light a lamp or candle aboard ship. Worst of all, I lost all my Sunday dinners when the chicken coop, with fourteen chicks in it, went overboard.
"I had lain down to get a few minutes' rest and had fallen asleep when we shipped the sea. I woke up floating about among the charts and bedding. The furniture and clothing and everything was adrift, and it was so cold I could not draw my breath."
"For a few seconds it seemed to me that I must be afloat among the deck load and the ship, broken up. After awhile I caught my footing and reached the deck and got spare sail to cover up the broken skylight to keep the green seas from breaking down into the cabin."
"The following night we were under three-reefed sails and jibs. About 5 a. m. we ran down on what I thought was a water-logged vessel. We found it to be the George E. Billings, hove-to under reefed mizzen and foremast-sail. By daylight he made sail. We kept in sight eleven days altogether. I was forty days to the equator and ninety days to Paitia."

BIG FREIGHTS

Teas Could Not Take All Offering When She Left Yesterday for West Coast.
Steamer Teas left for the West Coast yesterday with her holds and decks crowded with freight and with a large crowd of passengers. Even then she had to leave behind a quantity of freight which was consigned to the contractors at Alberni. She will go as far as Quatsino, on her return the Teas will go over to the mainland and load up with supplies for Alberni, not calling at any other ports either going or coming, and not calling here on her way out. Any local freights offering with her will wait until the next trip, when she goes to Holberg on Quatsino Sound, leaving on the 20th.

VICTORIA'S SORROW
VOICED IN CHURCHES

Reformed Episcopal.

Rev. Thomas W. Gladstone, at the Church of Our Lord, took as his text, "In the year that King Uzziah died I saw the Lord high and lifted up," from Isaiah 6 VI-1.

Comparing the latter days of the Biblical ruler with that of the late King Edward, the preacher said that Uzziah had, in the latter part of his reign, forgotten the dignity and limitations of his position. How different was the passing of King Edward, who died when in the fullness of favor and the love of his subjects. Uzziah had been a great king but a greater than he had passed away. Continuing Mr. Gladstone said:

"He saw his empire increase and prosper more than any before him; the development of science, of commerce and of knowledge; the subjugation of the forces of nature to the power; the opening of new lands and all that went to make the period of his life a memorable one. His empire was one such as the Caesars never conquered and Alexander never dreamed of. Since his death the telegraph had flashed it to the ends of the earth, but dusky couriers are still riding over deserts, or threading deep jungles or skimming in their juncos across the scattered islets bearing the sorrowful intelligence, "The Great White Father is Dead."

"His Majesty had borne the motto, 'I serve' as Prince of Wales, and he did serve and earnestly tried to do his duty as King. Never did he forget that he was a constitutional monarch. He was a philanthropist and ever ready to honor those who served the nation well. Before Queen Victoria the monarchs of England had been tolerated more than loved. Of the best of them it could only be said that his royal virtues were negative and that his highest virtues were not royal. In her time and during the reign of King Edward the throne was everywhere respected and the unshaken loyalty of the people helped to bind together the empire. The blessings we enjoy from this prolonged period of loyalty were without parallel in history. Let us thank God that 72 years ago, He placed on the throne of Britain a pure and good woman and that her son has trodden in her footsteps.

"However, history mark this year it will be to many most memorable as the year that King Edward died, rather than the year that King George came to the throne.

"May God give to him who has been so suddenly called to the highest place in this great empire, in the very prime of his manhood, many years to reign over his people, and may each year increasingly show that he inherits the powers and abilities of his father and grandmother; and may his influence with other nations tend, as their influence did, to the maintenance of peace and the overthrow of oppression."

St. Andrew's Cathedral.

At all four masses in St. Andrew's cathedral yesterday, references were made to the Emperor's sorrow.

At the 8 o'clock service Rev. Father O'Hara touchingly referred to the many qualities of the late ruler. As families have their hours of sorrow so have nations and, on this occasion it was a great nation that was plunged into grief, he said. Measured by the standards which history provided King Edward was a great and good ruler, wise and prudent in council, kind to his people, peace-loving and the advocate of peace.

Rev. Father Leterme, at high mass, emphasized the greatness of the loss which the Empire had sustained. The church always called upon its people to be faithful to their rulers, and it was the duty of all to remember the greatness of Edward and pray for the welfare of his successor.

His Lordship Bishop MacDonald made a brief comment upon the sadness of the occasion at the 9 o'clock service, and in the evening preached at length upon the same subject. He dwelt upon the significance of the King's request for the prayers of his people and said that it was a most gratifying and beautiful happening in this time when the lack of piety was so marked, and the princes of the world were generally known for the rationalism of their lives.

Bishop MacDonald dealt with two phases of King Edward's life, his character as a man and his career as a King; and said that he was not only a great ruler but a man of many noble traits and qualities. He exhorted his hearers to join with fervor in the prayer for the new King and to remember with respect and love the sovereign they had lost.

Congregational.

Under the caption, "A Humble Tribute of Loyalty and Regard," Rev. Herman A. Carson, of the First Congregational church, using as the text the words, "Blessed are the Peacemakers, for they shall be called the sons of God," said:

"In the wise Providence of Almighty God He hath taken our beloved sovereign lord, Edward VII, and a nation of over four hundred millions of the human race mourns. The fateful news that flashed around the world on Friday evening last was no sudden death of the nation paused, staggered, and stood still to think, to recover balance and readjust itself to changed conditions.

"And now, separated as we are two days from the event, we recognize that Edward VII. has but obeyed the law of God and of all flesh. It is true, it is absolutely true, that the 'captains and kings' the queens, the mothers, the fathers, the sons and daughters, all are on the moving, changing, throbbing stage of life, which is constantly passing on those who have finished their exercises.

"Shakespeare has said in a moment of pessimism: 'The evil that men do lives after them, the good is often interred with their bones.' But I submit that the optimism of Christianity coupled with the optimism of the twentieth century, believes that errors of sense and judgment corrected may be turned into stepping stones that lead to new life and victory and true accomplishments. Never has there been a better illustration of this truth than in the life of Edward VII. In the memories that will persist this will be paramount, that he was a man among men, the darling of the people. Early in life he began to show interest in the things of the people. His education, his traveling, and all the years of preparation were calculated to fit him to reign as a wise ruler when that day arrived.

"He was thoughtful, democratic and possessed a sportsmanlike spirit. These qualities, plus generosity and charitableness, tended to enshrine him in the heart of the people for all time. He probably knew the weaknesses, the hardships, the sins, the ideals and the obstacles which the people faced better than any sovereign who has ever reigned, and consequently was the most sympathetic and constitutional monarch of all time. During the greater part of his career he was at school, being prepared for the august duties and exalted position which he filled for only nine eventful years.

"Those years were freighted with great accomplishments. Not mere fragrant memories remain but real attainments that can never be eradicated. As a statesman and politician he saw far and clearly. In domestic politics he never championed the interests of any class or section of the people, while at the same time he encouraged all lines of legislation that tended in the direction of giving the people an opportunity to expand, develop and live. In foreign affairs he was an astute uncommissioned diplomat. He was steady and strong and victorious because he knew the art of statecraft the best of all.

"But greater far than all these will be known in history as Edward the Peacemaker. It was in this role that the highest qualities of wisdom and genius were manifested. For this delicate task of unostentatious diplomacy he had been prepared by long years of travel, observation and activity. One of the very first acts of his reign was to conclude an honorable peace with South Africa. Never before was a broken and prostrate people treated as the South Africans were on that occasion. The financial assistance given for the reconstruction process would have bankrupted many a weaker people, and justice and equality and constitutional government were signal virtues in the new life of the people. He regarded an appeal to force to settle international disputes as a relic of barbarism and ever sought to avoid war.

Witness his splendid alliances which have been consummated during his time. France, the old-time foe, now a friend; Italy, Spain and the Northern Kingdoms friendly; India, more satisfied and growing; Japan, the giant of the East, friendly; and last of all the United States and Great Britain realizing more clearly than ever before that their interests and that of humanity are identical. At home he understood his people and the need of great constitutional changes, and the people understood him and loved and trusted him. To-day they mourn, but not as those who have no hope for we remember the Master's words, 'Blessed are the Peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God.'

Mr. Carson concluded with the beautiful words of "Crossing the Bar."

St. James' Church.

At St. James' church Rev. J. H. S. Sweet preached an appropriate sermon, taking as his text, "What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter." He said, in part:

"Our thoughts to-day are of a very mingled character, and at first it seems hard to determine in which direction they should be the most turned, and yet in the midst of the great, almost overwhelming sorrow in our hearts to-day, we must not altogether lose sight of the great event in the life of our blessed Lord which the church celebrated on Thursday last. But just for a little while we must come down to earth to dwell, if only for a moment, on the great loss of which our hearts are so full to-day. 'The King is dead.' He for whom we have prayed so often in this church—may, whose name, as our sovereign, was only just getting familiar to the lips and ears—has been called away, has been taken from an earthly throne to God's everlasting Kingdom.

"Some time will yet have to elapse before we shall be in a position to realize all that he was to our nation. He was a good King. He ever tried as far as possible to follow in the footsteps of Queen Victoria, of blessed memory, in his concern and interest for the well-being of the people over whom, in the providence of God, he was called to rule. He was greatly beloved of all classes, and he will be greatly missed. He moved about in public eye more, perhaps, than any sovereign before him. While every inch a King, he was always approachable and took the deepest interest in even the minutest details that affected his people's welfare. He was the best of Kings."

Continuing, the preacher referred to the respect and esteem in which the late King was held by every foreign, as well as by his own nation. Many sovereigns had some characteristic epithets attached to their names, and if we except the late Queen, who earned the title of Victoria the Good, none had received a more coveted title than Edward the Seventh, who was known as "The Peacemaker." The British Empire mourned its King; the whole world lamented the death of one whose influence was always used for peace.

Continuing, Mr. Sweet said: "The King is dead. Long live the King. Thus do we pass from the dead to the living. Those who sit upon the throne may pass away, but the throne remains. Your prayers are asked for him who succeeds to it. He comes at a most critical time and has a difficult path before him, not one that he, with his retiring disposition, would have chosen for himself. But the King of kings who has called him to the throne of Britain will give him all necessary grace. May all the best and ennobling traits of his ancestors rest upon him. May the spirit of Victoria the Good, the faithful diplomacy of Edward the Peacemaker, and the loving care and thought for others of his royal mother, be in some measure reflected in his character. May he have a long and prosperous reign and may he, when he himself shall feel the end approaching, say, as his father said, 'I think I have done my duty.'

St. Andrew's Presbyterian.

Rev. W. Leslie Clay, of St. Andrew's, who was attending a meeting of the synod, came over from Vancouver especially for the occasion, and returned to the mainland early this morning. In the course of his remarks he venturied the opinion that King Edward would go down in history as one of the greatest men of the age on account of his characteristics as peace-maker. It was a great thing to be known throughout all time as "Edward the Peacemaker."

Emmanuel Baptist.

Rev. W. Stevenson, of Emmanuel Baptist church, gave an impassioned address. He referred to the death of Uzziah, that old king of Israel, as being an epoch in that it removed the wisest ruler that had lived since the time of Solomon. He then drew a parallel between those times when the Israelites had been delivered politically and religiously to the present days of reform. He expressed the hope that the death of King Edward would have the effect of inducing many young men to devote themselves to the service of the Empire.

His first thought on hearing the sad news, Mr. Stevenson said, was one of strong sympathy with the Empress Dowager, who was one of the most beautiful and charming characters in the Empire; the second thought was the loss that the Empire had sustained in the removal of so wise a head, and the third thought was for the young monarch who had so suddenly been called to fill the responsible position. The burden of the work had fallen at a time when the wisdom of an older king was especially needed. A great political fight was in progress, and it needed a man of mature judgment to handle the delicate questions which would arise.

Reference was also made to the bluff good heartedness of the late King, of his charitable instincts, of the great interest taken by him in all the work of the slums and everything which could be done to raise those who were down.

St. John's.

At St. John's church Rev. Percival Jents, the rector, made a brief but touching reference to the death of the King at the morning service. In the evening Rev. A. J. Stanley also spoke of the many noble British characteristics of the late Sovereign, and of the intense interest he had always shown in everything affecting the welfare of his people.

Victoria West Methodist.

Though not taking the form of a memorial service—which will come later—Rev. A. E. Roberts at Victoria West last night preached an impressive sermon on the death of the King. Witnessing his splendid leadership on the day of the coronation, he said, "Fear God and Honor the King!" He said the loyal people of Victoria, who yielded to no community in the Empire in their fidelity to the crown and flag, mourned sincerely what seemed at first thought a most irreparable loss which had befallen the Empire. Indeed, he said, he dwelt at length on the deserved reputation which his late Majesty enjoyed as being "The Peacemaker." It would remain for the historians of the future to do the dead monarch his full measure of justice as one who had striven, with a success which we were not now permitted to appreciate to the full, to avert wars.

Continuing, Rev. Mr. Roberts pointed out that the blow had fallen with greater force than in the case of the demise of the ever-beloved Queen Victoria. Her death had not been unexpected. Her subjects were, in a sense, prepared for it, but when King Edward was called home, the summons came with startling suddenness. But one of the outstanding features of the sad event was that Great Britain possessed one of the best forms of government in the world. Notwithstanding that the King passed away during a most pressing political crisis, on the instant King George was accepted as his illustrious successor. No panic could be possible under the British system of government—a fact which was very comforting in this sad hour.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Late estimates on the percentage of recoveries under the new emollient treatment for Bright's Disease are as follows: Where patient is much weakened and crises may be expected in from five to ten days, probably more than in any other case, 25 per cent. recover. Where physicians aid with efforts to restrain fatal symptoms this percentage is increased. In cases where patients have from thirty to sixty days of life the efficiency is very much higher.

Where patients do not wait until bed-ridden probably three-fourths yield.

And in cases that take the new emollient treatment on the appearance of the disease nearly nine out of ten respond.

Albumen Casts and dropsy do not prevent recovery. The point is that the Renal Inflammation should be attacked before the heart and physical system are broken down.

The new emollient treatment is known as Fulton's Renal Compound. It can be had in Victoria at D. E. Campbell's drug store.

We desire every patient to write us who is not getting the usual improvement by the third week. Literature mailed free. Jas. J. Fulton, Co., 45 Battery Street, San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

STOCKS ADVANCE.

London, May 9.—British financiers today both in the cotton and stock exchanges worked bravely to prevent the big falling off in values that was anticipated. As a result of their efforts every stock listed showed gains of from a half point to a point and a half.

Business at the exchanges was very brisk. Stock offered by panicky holders was snapped up as soon as it appeared on the market, and by the strong supporting buying the values were kept from slumping.

Brokers representing immense banking and business interests and American financiers had unlimited buying orders. The result was that the market ruled strong, following the lead of Saturday's short session in the New York exchange.

British consols rose 1/2 over Friday's close of 81 1/2.

The TIMES Granted Honor Marks in Circulation

The Association of American Advertisers (New York City) has examined and certified to the circulation of this publication. Only the figures of circulation contained in its report are guaranteed by the Association.

No. De Rosier Secretary.

THE TIMES HAS RECEIVED

from the head office of the Association of American Advertisers, a handsome certificate, confirming and authenticating its circulation statement for the year just closed.

THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN ADVERTISERS is composed of most of the national advertisers of this continent—firms which are interested above all others in ascertaining the exact number of subscribers served by each of the newspapers of America.

Alex. W. Costigan, one of the expert actuaries for the Association, visited Victoria the last week of the year, and spent two or three days in examining the circulation records in the Times Office. His exhaustive examination extended to press count, paper invoices, returns, etc., each being checked carefully and compared. As a result the Times has been accorded HONOR MARKS and a place among the limited number of daily newspapers whose circulation claims are verified and guaranteed by the A. A. A.

This certificate is accepted even before the sworn returns of publishers by the national advertisers, being made by experienced and thorough investigators, whose only object is to obtain the facts for their employers.

All advertising contracts made with the Times are based on this proved circulation in a constituency where the purchasing power of the unit is greater than anywhere else in Canada.

SAVING BY THE MORTGAGE ROUTE

As an incentive to thrift and a general all-round safeguard against extravagance there is nothing to beat a mortgage. New Paper for Fort George

Mr. E. A. Hagen, of Revelstoke, is in the city, guest at the Hotel St. Francis...

The Vancouver World of April 25th, written of the new project as follows:

To Establish Paper.

Attracted by the great future, which they believe to be in store for this new territory, there are now in Vancouver two gentlemen with a plan by which the development of Fort George as the coming central city of the province...

Ring Up Fort George

The installation of a telephone system shows how rapid the development of this commercial capital of a new empire.

"We are to have a telephone connection with Blackwater Crossing, Wm. West, representative of the Kootenay-Alberta Telephone Company, is at present on the trail between here and Blackwater looking over the ground with a view to laying everything in readiness to string wire when it arrives on the first boat."

NO RULING YET FOR THE NANAIMO SPORTS

Secretary of Amateur Union Says His Statement Was a Personal Opinion

Sporting Editor Times.—Much as I dislike to appear so often in the public press on this vexed question, which should not require so much discussion, I am compelled to make my position clear in connection with recent published statements on the amateur question.

The point I want to hasten to clear up is that when you asked me for a statement as to the position of amateur athletes competing at Nanaimo if money prizes were received by some contestants, that my reply was a statement of personal opinion and interpreting the rules, not a ruling. I have no power to make a ruling. It is not my province, and I want to sincerely repudiate any such suggestion.

When I phoned you Mr. McLeod's message from Nanaimo that positive money prizes would be given on the 24th, you asked me for a statement as to the position of the B. C. A. A. U. I stated quite plainly over the phone that I was quite prepared to accept the word of Mr. McLeod and that the meet was sanctioned and accordingly our athletes were protected. Further, that if it transpired afterward that some men received money on amateur athletics could not be impeached because they ran in good faith and the B. C. A. A. U. sanction protected their standing. Surely this is clear. Any amateur would certainly be suspended who knowingly ran against a professional or if he knew a money prize was to be given.

The value of an amateur sanction is purely the token of an authority control that protects the standing of competing athletes, and that we shall certainly do.

There is no new ruling, and whether it be running or soccer or baseball no deviation will be made.

It certainly is not good form or courteous to question the motives of the committee of a neighboring city when its secretary states positively that no money prizes will be given and when we know the meet is properly sanctioned.

To say as the article in the Times of May 4th says, that "according to the official statement of the Victoria secretary this morning, the Victoria athletes will be allowed to run for trophies against men who may run for money," is decidedly wrong and is a strained perversion of even the printed statement. What the soccer players were refused is not granted to the field athletes and any such insinuation is unfair and unwarranted.

The statement in the issue of the 24th inst. "This rule as a precedent will have to be allowed for all sports in future," is very silly and unworthy of the judgment of a good sporting editor. Now, let us dispense with these unnecessary discussions and play the game like men. There is no valid argument for pro-fame amateur mixing, and the strongest and safest public opinion is for their separation and the propagation and cultivation of clean athletics that fit boys and men better physically, mentally and morally for business and the battle of life. Now, let us all play a clean game together for healthy amateur sports.

A. J. BRACE, Secretary.

This matter was brought before the attention of athletes because of the fact that the prize list sent to Victoria for distribution contained only money prizes, and because of the controversy which took place about two years ago between the up-island officials who ran the sports, and the supporters of amateurism in Victoria, and in which the written statement was made by an up-island man that their athletes would not compete for anything but money prizes.

Mr. Brace says his statement regarding the proposition of Victoria amateur athletes to run at Nanaimo sports without fear of being professionalized should be found after that some of the competitors have accepted money, is not a ruling, but only his "personal opinion and interpretation of the rules." Therefore, it will be well for all athletes who propose going to Nanaimo to compete on May 24th to obtain a definite ruling on this point beforehand.

However, Mr. Brace was asked for a ruling and gave it. It was taken down word for word over the phone. The final words were: "Then that is official" and the reply was: "Yes." Mr. Brace says he is quite prepared to accept Mr. McLeod's word. It is hardly plain how his willingness to believe everything he is told is going to protect the amateurs of Victoria, if the B. C. A. A. U. (not the Victoria branch) comes along later and finds a ruling by which the Victoria athletes could be professionalized for having competed where money was accepted by some of the competitors.—Sporting Ed., Times.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS

The boxing bouts for to-night have been postponed indefinitely. The session was under the auspices of the J. B. A. A. The postponement is on account of the death of King Edward VII.

A gentleman signing himself "Young Jones" would like to arrange a boxing match with Balthis of Victoria. Neither Baylis, the runner, nor Bailey, the boxer, spell their names quite like this, but doubtless Mr. Jones knows who it is he wants. Young Jones is at Hosmer, B. C.

OLYMPIC GAMES AT STOCKHOLM

1912 Date of Next Events—Preliminary Details Receiving Attention

Stockholm gets the next Olympic games. They will be held in 1912. Four years later the games will be held at Berlin and four years later still the athletes of the world will assemble at Rome. The games were revived in 1896 when they were held at Athens, since which date they have been held at intervals of four years in Paris, St. Louis and London.

The general arrangements for the games are made by the international Olympic committee of which Baron Pierre de Coubertin of Paris is the pioneer and president. Preliminary details for 1912 are already receiving the consideration of the Swedish Olympic committee, of which the Crown Prince is the honorary president. The chairman and secretary of that body are respectively Colonel Black and Mr. Kristan Hellstrom, of Stockholm.

The great event at Stockholm will be the marathon race over a course of 42 kilometers. In the vicinity of the city the roads are not so level or so good as those to the west of London, where the last Marathon was run. As the games will take place probably in June, the weather will be hot and at such a time a race of this character is always trying to Englishmen.

In the Greek pentathlon were included leaping, quoit and javelin throwing and wrestling. The Swedes intend to enlarge this to what they term the tickack, with ten contests, comprising running, hurdle racing, discus and javelin throwing, putting the shot, and jumping. The awards will be made on the point system, so that the competitors of the highest average merit in all the events will win.

Sport in Sweden is not so comprehensive as in England, and the general resources of the country are, of course, nothing like so great. Therefore, some of the events associated with the British Olympic, such as motor boat racing, lawn tennis, and archery, will not find a place in the Swedish programme. That will be drawn up with the leading idea of preserving the ancient Greek model.

In the first instance, the Swedish committee will draft the programme, and it will come up for the approval of the international Olympic committee, which is to meet at Budapest in May. Nothing will be done by the British Olympic Association until after that meeting.

One of the most interesting things in the Swedish athletic world is the Idrottsmarken, a badge awarded to men who show their all-round physical fitness by passing tests in running, swimming, cycling, jumping, etc. It is a coveted distinction, and the rivalry it has created has done much to promote athletic fitness and the true sporting instinct in Sweden.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

Gila, Ariz., May 9.—Carl Myers, eight years of age, is dead to-day from a bullet fired by his brother George, 12. George fired to kill a rattlesnake, the bullet striking the younger boy in the back. The boys were the sons of Frank Myers, a mining man of Boston, who arrived here three weeks ago.

What Other People Think

EDWARD THE PEACEMAKER.

To the Editor.—At one time of his life Louis XV. was actually called the "well-beloved." When we think of the ignoble career of that monarch, whose excesses were so largely responsible for the tragedy known as the great French Revolution, the inappropriateness of the term of "well-beloved" is simply amazing.

The story is told of that former "well-beloved" who feared death so much that in his presence the courtiers never mentioned the obnoxious word—that one day while hunting in the forest of Fontainebleau he met some poor man carrying on a humble bier the corpse of a fellow pauper. "What is that?" said the King. "A dead body" was the reply. "Of what did he die?" "Of hunger," Louis clasped his hands and rode in haste away.

Not of Edward VII. could such a tale be told. He would have waited to ask about the man's family, his circumstances, etc., and we may be sure that the kindly interest shown in the victim of starvation would not have ended there. In one occasion our well-beloved, as Prince of Wales, was walking with a friend along the "sweet, shady side of Pall Mall" when a poor little crossing-sweeper, not recognizing his future sovereign, held out his hand to ask a fee of the two well-dressed gentlemen who had just passed over the clean-swept path the boy had made. Something prepossessing in the small face and frank manner caught the Prince's attention. He stopped, asked a few questions, placed in the child's hand a coin of larger value than had ever before lain there, and then passed on with his friend.

Another time our then Prince of Wales and Alexandra, his fair consort, were just ending a short cruise in the royal steam yacht somewhere about the Isle of Wight. An excursion steamer was in the act of discharging her hundreds of holiday makers at the principal wharf of the town, and the royal visit was not expected so soon. At once the disembarkation of the many was suspended and the excursion boat was about to draw off into mid-stream to "give" place to the royal yacht. But upon the order of the latter that the landing of the excursionists should not be hindered, and the Prince's party waited till the last of them had landed. Courtesy towards those who hold a less exalted position than his own was not the least of our "well-beloved's" many endearing qualities.

Unlike the previous reign, his was one of peace. When the huge blunder called the Boer War had drawn to that conclusion in which the King had played no small part, and the trio of brave Boer generals, Delany, Botha and De Wet, were welcomed at the palace, as the "peacemaker" held out the right hand of good fellowship to these sturdy Republicans, he tactfully said, not "Let me introduce you to the Queen," but to "my wife."

The United Kingdom will mourn the passing of this honest, kindly "first gentleman of Europe"—how superior to him who bestowed upon himself that title—who kept so religiously and well his coronation oath. Aye, the United Kingdom, for it is an open secret that for the "disfranchisement" Bill he had also a soft place in his generous heart.

And France, too, where he was ever popular, and was affectionately called "le bon Roi Edouard," will not quickly forget him who, during one of the saddest trials which have ever afflicted a high-spirited and keenly sensitive nation, said that all his heart was with her.

The allegations made by the British Tory press that the monarch's demise was accelerated by the present political situation in the Motherland may be dismissed with the contempt they deserve. When King Edward came to the throne it was no secret that the reign was expected by those who really knew him to be a brief one. That it should have lasted more than nine years is due to the skill of his physicians and his own excellent constitution.

Perhaps the man just at this time most to be commemorated is the Royal Prince who, by right of inheritance, has succeeded to the place which his father filled so worthily. What will this lesser-known man make of his career as monarch? It will be "difficult" to come after King Edward. E. C. SMYTH, Victoria, B. C., May 7th.

STRAWBERRY AND PEACH WEEVILS.

To the Editor.—In response to the numerous reports made to me regarding the depredations of beetles, really weevils, on strawberries, peaches, raspberries, etc., I would refer to the last bulletin (No. 20), at page 16 of which will be found descriptions of the various weevils and recommendation for remedies. Copies of this bulletin, I presume, are to be obtained at the department of agriculture. On referring the matter to Mr. Hewitt, Dominion entomologist at Ottawa, he says: "The best method of attacking them is that of shaking the insects in the same manner as is adopted in the case of the plum-eucullid. (See bulletin.) As the larvae feed at the roots of the plants they are extremely difficult to reach, but you might experiment with such insecticides as kerosene emulsion or ground fumigation with carbon bisulphide."

In connection with remedies, I take this opportunity of warning people against the use of preparations of copper sulphide, mended. Such preparations (Bordeaux mixture and others) are fungicides, not insecticides, and their use on the roots of plants will probably have the effect of killing them.

There are at least three varieties of weevils which infest plants in this province, viz., black vine weevil (Otitryncus sulcatus), strawberry weevil (Anthrenus signatus), and the peach weevil which Dr. Hewitt informs me is called Collyrochryus ovatus. The first two both attack strawberries. J. R. ANDERSON, Victoria, B. C., May 5th, 1910.

FAMOUS DETECTIVE DEAD.

LACK OF HORSES IN CANADIAN WEST

Shortage May Retard Work Planned for Season by Contractors and Farmers

The question of getting a sufficient supply of horses for carrying on the work planned in the Canadian west for this season is becoming a vital one, says the Winnipeg Free Press. Contractors, farmers and dealers have already brought in over 24,000 animals by way of Winnipeg, since January 1st, but the demand is by no means filled. Prices have climbed to a figure never before equalled in Canada, but it is simply a case of bidding in a short market where there is not enough to go round.

The Free Press has spoken to a number of the more prominent dealers in the city and they agree that there is a decided shortage in all classes of work horses. Reports from Ontario and western Quebec indicate that those fields have been swept clear of animals and still the demand holds more vigorously than ever. The dealers have sent their agents through the eastern territory, and contractors with heavy prairie sections on their hands have also sent agents east for horses. They report that they were able to get a few, but not nearly enough. It was not a question of price, but an actual shortage. Of those they did manage to secure many were scrubs and not at all up to the work which would be demanded of them.

Several westerners have recently given voice to the statement that this shortage will have a tendency to delay the development of the country this season. Contractors will not be able to push the railway lines forward as rapidly as they desire, and in some instances work which was to have been completed this season will, of necessity, have to be laid over till next year, so, too, with the farmers. They have figured on breaking a considerable amount of sod, but being unable to get the necessary horses, they must reduce their acreage. Many of the settlers arriving this year from the United States and Great Britain have brought money with them, expecting to buy horses on this side. They are unable to do so, or must pay so much for their horses that they are unable to get as many teams as they anticipated so they also are cutting down on the work. The implement men, too, are against the problem, and the demand for steam outfits cannot be met in some districts, demonstrating that there is apparently no immediate avenue of escape.

FRENCH CABINET APPEARS DOOMED

EARLY FALL OF MINISTRY PREDICTED

National Debt Continues to Grow and Old Age Pension Scheme is Unpopular

(By William B. Sims, Paris Correspondent of the United Press.)

Paris, May 8.—The Briand cabinet will fall within two weeks after the elections, according to the more pessimistic political politicians. There is too much social unrest, the national debt is getting beyond all control, the legislators are too inclined to shirk work, the old age pension as passed is too unpopular with the masses, the wherewithal necessary to meet the pension is too hazy, and lastly the government is not and never has been greatly admired by the labor classes and not much more by the bourgeois and the other extreme, the royalists.

It is probably a slight exaggeration to say the government will not survive two weeks after the elections. But no one would be greatly surprised should it fall at any time. The slightest disturbance in either chamber of deputies or the senate causes a swaying and tottering mighty close to collapse. Time and time again, correspondents of foreign newspapers, sitting in the press gallery, have had their telegraphic bulletins announcing the fall of the cabinet already written out, addressed, signed and ready for instant filing.

Over the budget the government reeled like a drunken man; it staggered perilously after the Dues $2,000,000,000 embezzlement was announced; and when someone asked why France was so far behind Germany in the dirigible line, fears were caused for the moment.

Julius Roche, an authority on financial subjects, whose voice has been heard so many times in the French parliament, though an admirer of present political leaders, in speaking of the present financial status of France, voiced the gravest concern.

"However much grief I may cause my friends in saying so," he declared, "the truth remains that since Radical-Socialist rule since 1906, the following increases in the national budget have been recorded. On the expenses of the budget, $100,000,000; on the debts of the state, $1,010,000,000; on France's total debt, $1,081,000,000.

"These are only increases. I am sad to be compelled to state that the total indebtedness of France to-day amounts to more than $10,027,000,000. Evidently there is gross mismanagement of public funds, according to Deputy Roche. For continuing, he says: "In France, in spite of the heavy burdens imposed by the state, the departments and communes have much less local expenditure than in England. Our government is centralized more than in England, so the local debts of departments and communes are much less. Yet this has been rapidly rising under the present governmental pressure."

Roche made comparisons with other countries—the United States, Germany, etc.—to the great disadvantage of France. These things ought, he says, "to open the eyes of those who, for the sake of their Jacobin policy persist in closing them, denying the most positive material facts and perils which their improvidence is accumulating over us and over them."

There is a reason for the phenomenal sale of Parisian Sage in Canada during the past three years.

And the reason is plain to all. Parisian Sage does just what it is advertised to do.

Ask D. E. Campbell about it. He will tell you that he rigidly guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

There is no reason whatever why any man or woman should fail to take advantage of the above generous offer.

But one thing that has made Parisian Sage so famous is its peculiar power to turn the harsh, unattractive hair that many women possess into luxuriant and radiant hair in a short time. Women of refinement the country over are using it and it never disappoints.

Sold everywhere, and in Victoria by D. E. Campbell for 50 cents a large bottle.

CHARGED WITH WRECKING BANK IN OREGON

Former Cashier Will Plead "Mental Irresponsibility Bordering on Insanity"

Portland, Ore., May 8.—"Mental irresponsibility bordering on insanity," will be the defence made by J. W. Scriber, former cashier of the defunct Farmers and Traders National bank of La Grande, Ore., when he comes up for trial on five indictments in the United States court. The indictments charge him with wrecking the institution and with forging certificates for more than $70,000.

Although he will contend he was not mentally responsible at the time the bank was wrecked, Scriber is now preparing "in his defence himself." He appeared in the Federal court here and informed Federal Judge R. S. Bean, presiding, that when the bank was turned over to the comptroller of the currency, he (Scriber) gave up everything he possessed and that he is now penniless and unable to stand the costs of trial.

THE MAN BEHIND PRESIDENT TAFT

Secretary Knox is the man behind President Taft, writes Dr. Macdonald in the Toronto Globe. He is the premier of the cabinet. He sits at the president's right hand. In matters of policy his word goes far. And those who stand near the president, but not for his administration, are sometimes disposed to blame the secretary of state as the evil genius of the cabinet. Knox is a silent man, and silence is a warrant for charging depth and cunning. The president's very openness and unreserve of speech is a certificate of straightforwardness and honesty of character. The secretary of state has to bear the reproach of all the deputations whose advice he does not follow, and of all the newspaper correspondents whose thirst for information he does not slake.

Secretary Knox was a Pittsburg lawyer of national reputation when he was called to be attorney-general in McKinley's cabinet. The choice was a surprise. Knox was called a "corporation lawyer." The epithet was fitting if it meant that he had held important briefs for great syndicates and trusts. But that training and experience stood him in good stead when, as attorney-general, he took the brief of the people against the trusts. His experience in politics, but he is still more a great lawyer than a great politician. He may not have the diplomatic gift of either of his two immediate predecessors, Elihu Root and John Hay. He has a business man's clear idea of what he wants, and he goes after it without craft or indirectness. If he dealt with you at all he wants all cards on the table.

The first time I called at Mr. Knox's office he was engaged in tariff negotiation with the French ambassador. The secretary of state insisted on the full list of minimum duties. The ambassador, on advice from Paris, had resisted item after item. There had been many conferences. The secretary was having his way. Already ninety-six per cent of the list had been surrendered, and on this morning the excitable little ambassador was making his last stand. His high tones were heard in the waiting-room and hallway. But the secretary won.

I have the suspicion that secretary Knox was not greatly alarmed over the prospect of a tariff war with France. A tariff war with Canada was quite another matter. Neither on that occasion nor at any later time did he manifest any other desire than that a settlement satisfactory to both sides should be reached. He made it quite plain that to him as to the president, the situation as regards Canada was unique. They may not agree on details, but this is true, that President Taft, Secretary Knox and Secretary MacVeigh agree in this, that the time has come for a change in policy as regards trade between these two countries. They do not accept the high-tariff traditions of their predecessors. Secretary Knox the most reserved of the three, speaking in private, gave ample warrant for saying that his subsequent letter to the Hon. W. S. Fielding expresses the deliberate conviction and the directing principle of the present administration at Washington on the question of better trade relations with Canada.

Japan's postal service is the cheapest in the world. Letters travel for two cents about seven-tenths of a penny.

VANCOUVER MURDER TRIAL ADJOURNED

Hearing of Charge Against Julia Lewis Will Commence Anew on Tuesday

Vancouver, May 8.—For the first time in the history of criminal jurisprudence in British Columbia, the jury in a murder trial, half completed, has been discharged and the case adjourned, to be commenced anew, out of a sense of profound sorrow and respect for the death of the sovereign.

On Tuesday the trial of Julia J. Lewis for the murder of Peter Scurry will be re-commenced. Court and crown and defence Saturday agreed that it would be inconsonant with the sad news of the empire's loss to go on further with the present trial.

"I have communicated with the attorney-general as I have no doubt your lordship has, since adjournment Friday in consequence of the death of His Majesty," said A. D. Taylor, K. C., "and I would now move for the further adjournment of this court. I would suggest, until Tuesday. Rather than detain this jury until that date, on behalf of the crown I am prepared to begin this trial over again. As counsel for the defence agrees to this I would therefore move that the jury be discharged."

Gordon M. Grant and Elmer Jones, for the prisoner, bowed agreement to this, and Mr. Justice Murphy so directed.

Kidney Troubles Attack Victoria Men and Women, Old and Young

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years—Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain. Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child. Is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. Elora, Ont. testimony proves it. Mrs. C. W. Stockford, of Elora, Ont., says:

"Our little boy had a heavy puffing around the eyes. I gave him Booth's Kidney Pills and the puffiness was soon gone. Mr. Stockford also used this remedy for a sort of a spring fever which was greatly strengthened and invigorated by its use. Altogether we think well of Booth's Kidney Pills and join in a good recommendation and endorsement of this valuable curing remedy."

FORT GEORGE

THE HUB OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Destined to Be One of the Largest Commercial Centres in the Province

A LREADY there are two banks which have added Fort George to their list of branches. A telephone company is in the field constructing a line into Fort George. A newspaper has been established and in circulation there for some time. A power company has just been formed to supply the coming city with power, water and light. Sawmills, stores, hotels, school house and a theatre are being established and in a few months Fort George will be a humming city in the making, and by the time the Grand Trunk Pacific gets there in 1912 there will be a good sized city established.

We have secured the handling of part of this townsite for Victoria and the opportunity to buy in a commercial centre like Fort George is bound to be, may never occur to the Victoria public again and our advice is to seize this opportunity and buy now. It doesn't cost much and is easily carried

WILL ENFORCE LAW.

New Westminster, May 7.—The law against lighting fires in the New Westminster district without a permit between May 1st and the commencement of the rainy season in the autumn will be rigidly enforced this year according to Government Agent Fletcher, of this city, and any person in the district found lighting fires without first securing permission will be prosecuted.

In the New Westminster district there will be four deputies who will have power to grant permits and enforce the law. They will also be assisted by old reliable road foremen as last year. These road foremen are all old hands.

Last summer there were comparatively few serious fires in this district, partly on account of unusually wet summer and partly because of the rigid system of inspection maintained. Should the present summer prove dry a close watch will be kept on all parts of the district and the man who lights a fire to clear land or for other purposes without a permit from a fire ranger may look out for trouble.

The majority of the settlers, according to Mr. Fletcher, recognize the value of this law regulating fires and are willing to co-operate with the fire wardens in seeing that it is carried out.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME.

Nelson, May 7.—Two women in a dwelling on Lake street had a narrow escape from death, when fire, starting from an unknown cause, broke out. The house was destroyed. The house was worth about $600, and was uninsured, and about $400 worth of furniture was destroyed with it.

The Chinese emporium adjoining suffered about $200 damage from fire, while the damage to the stock may prove heavy, from the water seeping from the floor of the garret upon silk goods in cases in the store below. The part of the building used as dwelling quarters suffered chiefly.

RETURNS FROM ENGLAND.

New York, May 7.—Former Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland, is in New York on his way home after a month in England. Johnson went abroad for his health, which he declared was benefited. Johnson was questioned concerning a report that he had given up politics.

"I stay in politics until I die," he said. "I'm much better than when I left New York, although I'm far from being well. Anyway, I am so much better that I could not stay abroad any longer. I'll remain in New York a few days, then go on to Cleveland."

In Norway the average length of life is shorter than in any other country on the globe.

A MONEY MAKER

Hillside property, with its prospects, is held ridiculously low, we think.

Just now we have what we consider a splendid speculative investment in a good property there. The southwest corner of Hillside avenue and Graham street.

The frontage on Hillside is 135 feet, on Graham 153 feet. This means for subdivision 3 lots of 45 feet each, one of them a corner on Hillside, by 103 feet deep, and one lot on Graham, next the corner, 50 feet by 135 feet.

To buy at to-day's prices and hold 6 months, means a return of 50 per cent. To hold for a year means to double your money invested.

At least that is what we think. You may think its possibilities greater. Many do.

We can sell the entire block, 135x153 on the following terms:

$1,435 cash; $783 in 1 year; $782 in 2 years.

$3,000

NOTE—That means $22.22 a foot frontage for a choice corner.

HOUSEHOLD TOPICS

A sandwich which is about equally divided in popularity and unpopularity with the visitors of one of the pretty tea rooms has a filling of minced ham and salt cucumber pickles.
A popular dessert in the place is a banana cut in half lengthwise and the space between filled with ice cream, which is topped with a cherry.

Not every housekeeper knows yet that every bone on the meat plate which has a joint contains gelatine, which may be brought out by boiling and which adds nutriment and deliciousness to the soup. For the benefit of the uninitiated, it might be added that the cartilage or gristle is the source of the gelatine and should be husbanded the soup kettle.

For baked tongue, wash and soak the tongue over night. In the morning rinse it thoroughly and put it over the fire in cold water and boil until tender. Then peel off the skin, sprinkle it with bread crumbs and paprika, and brown in a hot oven.

To make salmon cutlets, make a sauce of a level tablespoonful of butter, a heaping tablespoonful of flour, and a cupful of milk. Cook until it thickens, season with a dash of nutmeg, salt and pepper and add a cupful of the flaked fish which has been freed from skin and bones. Spread the paste on a platter and let it get very cold. Then form in flat cutlet shapes, dip in egg and bread crumbs and fry in deep fat. Send to the table with slices of lemon sprinkled with minced parsley and serve with mayonnaise.

The cold roast of any kind may serve as a currie dish for a next day's meal. Make a sauce of three level tablespoonfuls of butter, the same quantity of flour, a teaspoonful of curry powder, two cupfuls of meat stock or of hot water flavored with meat extract, and a small onion minced fine. When the sauce is limpid add about two pounds of meat that has been cut into small pieces and cook for a quarter of an hour. Serve in a border of rice.

A bunch of celery in one small family serves for three meals in as many guises. On the first day it is used uncooked, the finest stalks being selected. The next day there is creamed celery, made of the tougher stalks cut into short lengths, boiled tender and covered with a rich white sauce. The next time, celery soup comes in, the toughest ends and parts of the roots being cooked and the liquor strained and turned into a thin white sauce.

Cook three cups of canned asparagus (reserve the choice tips to serve in the soup), two slices of onion with a clove in each, six slices of carrot, half a teaspoonful of spiced herbs and half a cup of boiling water, covered closely, until the water is evaporated. Press the asparagus through a sieve, add a quart of chicken or veal broth, and salt as needed. Make a white sauce with one-fourth a cup of butter and flour, half a teaspoonful each of salt and paprika, and two cups of milk. When ready to serve, gradually stir the asparagus mixture into the cream.

sauce. For the richer soup, add at the last the beaten yolks of two eggs mixed with half a cup of cream.

Have ready a quart mould of ice cream, frozen very firm, and a piece of sponge cake, about an inch thick and an inch wider and longer than the mould of cream. Dispose a piece of paper on a meat or cutting board, upon this set the cake and unmould the ice cream upon the cake. The cake should come out half an inch beyond the mould of cream, on all sides. With a silver knife spread a thin layer of meringue over the ice and the cake to completely cover them. Then with pastry bag and tube cover the thin layer with meringue. Dredge the whole with granulated sugar and set the ice cream, just as it is, on the board into a hot oven, to brown the edges of the meringue. It will take about five or six minutes. Turn the board as is needed to color the meringue evenly. By means of the paper slide the browned ice cream to a platter and serve at once.

LADIES OF MACCABEES.

Convention of Provincial Members of Order to Be Held in Victoria.

Mrs. Janet C. Kemp, Vancouver provincial commander of the Ladies of the Maccabees, is in the city and will remain until after the provincial convention, which opens on May 20th. Several prominent officers of the order will be here, including Miss Bina M. West, national record keeper, regarding whom Mrs. Kemp says:

"Bina M. West, supreme record keeper of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World, is a Michigan woman, identified with an organization that originated in Michigan, U. S. A., and aims to unite in one great body the women of the world. Miss West is a beautiful woman, and beautiful is her character. She loves all women and all that pertains to women's work, and is a brilliant financier. If she were not a true lover of women she would long ago have passed into the management of some great life insurance company where her salary would have been equal to the salary of the president of the U. S. A. It may be years before Miss West will be able to visit this province again. She will speak in the Victoria theatre on the evening of May 20th."

"Miss West is deeply devoted to her mother and her mother regards her as the most beautiful woman in the world, as is the fashion of mothers to do, and accompanies her on this journey."
The arrangements for the provincial tour are entirely in the hands of Mrs. Kemp, who has recently returned from an international meeting at Salt Lake City.

NEW GRAND THEATRE.

"A Yard of Music" heads the bill at the Grand this week, which opens this afternoon, and in it Boulton and Tilson will show a farm-yard scene where all the instruments are farm implements and an automobile. The originality of the design is only equalled by the excellence of the music which those players are credited with producing. Music from all parts of the house will be heard by an arrangement of bells connected to a piano on the stage.
Song, dance and chatter by Wolfe, Moore and Young, a team of musical grills with college and topical songs, the Trocadero four in a combination singing act, Fields & Co., equitribists of note, and Juhasz, the comedy magician, are the names of the other turns, there being a lengthened bill this week. The illuminated song and the moving pictures will be on the bill also.

ECZEMA MUST YIELD TO THE Wonderfully Soothing, Healing Influence of

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

There is one thing you can depend on Dr. Chase's Ointment to do every time, and that is to cure eczema. There is no more severe test to which an ointment can be put, and because Dr. Chase's Ointment triumphed over eczema it has become the standard Ointment.

When another ointment is praised it is said to be as good as Dr. Chase's. And this illustrates the high position held by this preparation.

Mrs. Oscar Vanocott, St. Antoine, Sask., writes: "I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment to be a permanent cure for eczema and other skin diseases. One son while nursing broke out with running, watery sores all over his head and around the ears. Many salves were prescribed to no effect. The child's head became a mass of scabs and he suffered agony until I had become weak and frail, would not eat and we thought we would lose him."

"Providentially we heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and it soon thoroughly cured him. He is seven years old now and strong and well. An older boy was also cured of eczema by this Ointment and we hope more people will learn about it so that their poor little ones may be saved from suffering."

Do not be satisfied with the experience of others, but put Dr. Chase's Ointment to the test when occasion arises. Try it for chafing and irritation of the skin, for chapped and cracked hands, for chills and frost bites, for sores and burns. It is delightfully soothing and healing. 50 cts. a box, all dealers; or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

FATAL EMBRACE.

The singular death of a baby named Maggie Fiori's Ridgewell, nine weeks old, whose parents live in Blandford road, Beckenham, Kent, was the subject of an inquest recently. The mother said that she went out, leaving the baby in the cradle and two elder children in bed. When she came back half an hour afterwards she found her baby dead. Her daughter told her that the boy slapped the baby, and then, because she cried, took her in his arms and hugged her. The boy had not interfered with the baby before, but had quarrelled with the other children. He was rather a pugnacious boy. The medical evidence that death was due to suffocation, the jury returned a verdict of death from misadventure.

The popular belief that a drowning person rises to the surface three times is unfounded.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

They sank into my living room chairs as wearily as if they had each just completed a day's house-cleaning.

"And we've only shopped about two hours, and been to less than half a dozen stores," they said in wonderment at their weariness, "what on earth can be the matter with us?"

They are distinctly healthy young persons under ordinary conditions, so I also wondered until, after due rummaging for elusive hints, they gave their hints over to me to be borne into the hall.

And then I wondered no longer. Both were mountains of straw. One mountain was surmounted by a flower garden, the other by an aviary. Each weighed at least two or three pounds, and they were both so large that I knew it must have taken perpetual balancing to keep them on straight, and concentrated attention to steering to get them through the crowds.

With that weight on their heads and that care on their minds, why shouldn't they have been more tired than usual? And speaking of hats, what about yours?

Can't that hat, by any chance, have anything to do with the fact that you get tired so easily lately?
Isn't that a possibility worth considering?

Not long ago a certain minister saw a ten-line notice about a young girl who tried to commit suicide by turning on the gas jet in her lodging house hall bedroom, but had been resuscitated and carried to a hospital.

A great many people besides that minister presumably also saw the notice, read it, passed on to the next item and thought no more about it. But the minister saw, instead of just a news item, a human being who had been in such great trouble that she was even willing to go to—

"The undiscovered country from whose bourne No traveller returns," and he went to the hospital named in the news item to see if there was anything he could do.

He discovered that the girl had attempted to commit suicide to escape from a life of shame into which very cruel circumstances had led her.

He found her honest employment. He found her reputable friends. Today she is an honest and happy woman.

Almost every day we read in the paper of men and women who have found life so very undesirable that they have tried to leave it, but have failed in their attempts.

Would it be so very Quixotic to suggest that some of us might do as this man did—make it our business to see if there was not something we could do to make life endurable for some of these discouraged people?
I wonder.

"We have but a few yards left. It may be gone to-morrow," said the salesman, as he gave the rose colored silk a twist that made it look even more attractive than before.

Up to that moment I hadn't been sure I wanted it, but the instant I heard of its possible unavailability, my doubts flew, and in a trice the salesman's sissors were snipping through billows of rose.

Wonder if there isn't a hint in that for the lady whose suitor hesitates inconveniently long before he takes the plunge?
There's nothing makes you sure you want a thing like being a bit uncertain about being able to get it.

Isn't a vague suggestion, a delicately conveyed suspicion of unavailability just as efficient in courtship as salesmanship?

CANADIAN HOME JOURNAL.

No doubt the easiest way to travel along through life is to take any old canned food that's dished out to you. If you are pretty strong and get lots of exercise it will probably not cost you a tremendous lot in doctor bills or shorten your life more than a few years. But just read that article in the May number of the Canadian Home Journal, the first of the series on "Foods—Pure and Adulterated," and you'll begin to examine more closely some of the stuff you are putting in your poor "tummy."

This May number deals with a number of different interesting subjects. Money allowances for wives. No wonder the girls prefer to earn their money and spend it as they please to begging the head of the family for a few coppers. If you've an unattractive place get into the swing of modern times and fix it up; get your grey matter working and you can probably do it at very little expense; it really takes less money than brains. Collier Stevenson has some suggestive ideas and pictures that may help.

The "Mother's Day" movement has spread rapidly in the United States. The Home Journal is leading the movement in Canada for the observance of the second Sunday in May as "Mothers' Day."

TO SMOKE A PIPE. "Both a tobacco and a coal fire should burn the same way." said an old pipe smoker the other day. By that I mean that they should burn in a slightly cone-shaped mound, evenly on all sides and the middle, until it is down to the ashes. That is the reason that so many pipe smokers never get the good out of their tobacco and throw more than half of it away.

"It is a usual superstition with pipe smokers that a pipe is not good and sweet and even-burning until it has 'cooked' as 'caked' about the sides. This is rank fallacy. It is a matter of fact that some smokers 'cake' a pipe much sooner than others, for some reason with which I am not acquainted, nor have I ever heard any plausible argument as to the exact reason. But a man who wants a good smoke should keep his pipe always, poking down the interior of the bowl must be kept smooth. Otherwise the tobacco will only burn in the centre and will not be consumed towards the rim. When it is lighted the tobacco will smoulder down through the centre and finally go out, with only half the charge actually smoked. Poking down the unburned tobacco on top of the coal only makes the smoke rank and causes the pipe to become foul.

"Any man who knows how to build a good fire in his furnace and keep it in good condition during a cold snap should have no difficulty in applying the same logic and method to his pipe. And it stands to reason that if it is the proper way to burn coal it is also the proper way to burn tobacco. It will cut down the bills a good deal if you smoke all the tobacco and don't waste it. And, better still, it will enable the smoker to have a sweet, cool, even smoke."—New York Times.

ADJOURNS NELSON ASSIZE. Chief Justice Stays Proceedings on News of King's Death.

Nelson, May 8.—At assizes on Saturday morning, Chief Justice Hunter, after stating that the news of the king's death had not reached him on Friday until after the court had risen for the day, promptly adjourned the assizes until to-day. His lordship also made a brief address dwelling on the nation's loss and referring to the king's great power and influence for good over the whole world.

All new public buildings, banks, stores, etc., displayed the Union Jack at half mast.

EASTERN MEN FOR MILLS IN KOOTENAY

Nearly Two Thousand Will Be Brought West—Lack of Help Hinders Operations

Nelson, May 7.—From 1,500 to 2,000 men will probably be brought in by the mountain lumbermen from the timber districts of Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick. Their families will come later, and all may be expected to become permanent settlers and to contribute to the upbuilding of the Kootenay," said W. A. Ainslie, on his return from an important conference with the East Kootenay mill men of Fernie. He continued: "Within thirty days after making suitable transportation arrangements we will have 500 men here and the rest will be brought out just as soon as they can be gathered together. Judging from the present outlook, the mills will be able to absorb 4,000 to 5,000 in the course of a few years. We need more men very much, lack of men is restricting operations, and we can not get them in the west. We want all we have now and more too. After we have got 1,500 or 2,000 if we can still get more, we may get them to fill the places of the Hindus who are leaving. Instead of taking on other Hindus in their place. The experiment has already been made in several cases on a smaller scale. The Fraser river mills have brought out a large number of Eastern lumbermen. They, in turn, brought out their families, and even their clerks with them. At Rosland, Mr. Deschamps has successfully been trying the plan of bringing men out and placing them on land with their families. The men who work in the lumber camps and sawmills of the Ottawa, for instance, are men with families. Most of them marry and have farms which they clear. They will want to make homes here too.

"The men we have in view are accustomed to clearing land, and while we can guarantee them work all the year around, it is probable that most or many of them will prefer to take up a little land somewhere and make a home out of it. Their families would raise poultry and garden produce and contribute in that way to the wealth of the community as they now do to the wealth of eastern districts. Their boys and girls would find profitable employment in picking fruit. Though they would not bring much wealth, they are an excellent class of people and they would create wealth. The C. P. R. gives a $10 rate for harvesters from 2,000 miles east of Moosejaw. In order to help out the supply of labor required to harvest the grain crops. We are asking them to bring men 2,500 miles for $20 in order to help out the supply of labor to harvest the lumber crop."

Mr. Ainslie anticipates that the C. P. R. will co-operate in the scheme to this extent, and that the undertaking will be of enormous importance to the development of Kootenay.

VERNON YOUTH ACCIDENTALLY SHOT Clement Howden Killed by the Discharge of Rifle He Was Carrying. Vernon, May 7.—A fatal accident occurred here whereby a youth named Clement Howden met with a tragic death. The distressing fatality seems to have been the result of careless handling of firearms, and though the exact details may never be known, the circumstances are sufficiently clear to leave no doubt as to the manner in which the unfortunate young man came to his untimely end.

WILL RUSH WORK OF TRACK LAYING General Manager Chamberlin, of G. T. P., Returns From Visit to Prince Rupert. Vancouver, May 7.—Important statements respecting the progress of railway construction in the north were made by E. J. Chamberlin, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway on his arrival on the steamer Princess Mary from Prince Rupert this afternoon. "I am very well pleased with the situation. The rails are now laid out to a point nine miles from Prince Rupert, and there we are temporarily held up owing to the heavy tideslip across a narrow channel. Ferry slips have been built and material will be ferried across the gap. Meantime bridge construction work is ready to start," said Mr. Chamberlin commenting on his inspection trip. "Two months will see the bridge completed. Meantime we will proceed with tracklaying beyond the gap. I feel confident that the track will be laid north as far as Copper River, the end of the first hundred-mile section, by the end of July, when a train service will be established. Navigation on the Lower Skeena is now open as far as Kitasnoo Canyon above Copper River. This will enable contractors to pour in supplies for the construction gangs engaged on the second 100-mile section. This latter section will be rushed. We are assured that it will be graded this fall as far as a point 100 miles below Hazelton. When the tracklaying gang reaches there late in the fall two months' delay will occur before the bridge across the Skeena can be built. By that time the heavy work beyond extending to Telkwa will be finished and ready for the tracklayers. It is a certainty that the late winter months will see trains running direct from Hazelton to the end of the upper section, 200 miles from the coast."

GETS FIVE YEARS. Nelson, May 7.—At the assize court before Chief Justice Hunter, the grand jury threw out the bill in the case of Rex vs. Matthews, accused of setting fire to the C. P. R. tug Ymir last fall. Wayson was placed on trial charged with attempting to kill Frank Phillips here on December 23th. It was proved that the accused bought a revolver and cartridges, loaded up and went after Phillips, presenting the weapon and pulling the trigger twice, the cartridges fortunately failing to explode. The accused appeared to be suffering from a delusion that he had a claim against Phillips which he could not collect himself or obtain the services of any local lawyer to collect. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy. The accused made a speech after the verdict, and was sentenced to five years at New Westminster penitentiary. The prisoner will be examined for his sanity on reaching the coast.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT AT OTTER POINT Muir Creek Bridge Completed—Fishing Companies Preparing for Season's Work. (Special Correspondence) Sooke, May 7.—A very interesting programme was given at a concert held at Otter Point on the evening of the 4th with the object of raising money to purchase supplies for the Sabbath school. The missionary in charge acted as chairman. Twenty-one dollars were raised in voluntary offerings. The following vocal and instrumental contributions were made: Quartette, "Juanita," Misses Harris, Anderson, Stewart and Clark; solo, Percy Clark; character sketch, Emmanuel Throp; solos, Misses Anderson and Harris; chorus by school, Misses Lavinia Anderson, Lily Clark and Helen Davidson; song, Mrs. Henry Clark; instrumental selections, Miss Lena Clark. Mr. K. Stewart acted as accompanist. Refreshments concluded the proceedings. Mrs. Harris, superintendent of the school, proved an excellent hostess and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Through the efforts of Miss Mann, teacher of the school, aided by a social, up-to-date seating has been secured. The fishing companies at this point are now busy installing their traps for the opening of the salmon season and have work well under hand. The bridge over Muir creek has been completed and good progress is being made with that over Taguel creek. Miss Livingstone recently delivered a helpful and entertaining address before the Women's Institute.

CHEMAINUS RECREATION CLUB NOW OPEN Bowling Alleys Prove Attractive—Ship Belfast Loading Lumber for South America. (Special Correspondence) Chemainus, May 7.—The barque Eliza this morning completed loading a cargo of lumber for Antofagasta, at the mills here, and will tow down to Royal Roads on Sunday for a crew. The ship Belfast arrived at Chemainus last night from Tacoma to load a cargo of lumber for Valparaiso. Barque Curzon is due at Chemainus from Valparaiso. She will load a cargo for the West Coast of South America. The Chemainus Recreation Club has its new club building in full running order now. The bowling alleys especially are proving a great attraction to the members. A great deal of interest is being shown in a contest of ten games between the V. L. M. Co.'s store team and a team from the office. Four teams have been rolled, and the office team is now somewhat in the lead. W. A. Dawson, logging superintendent for the lumber company, who met with an accident a short time ago, and is confined to the hospital here, is progressing favorably, and is expected to be about again in a week or so. In the meantime Frank Gibbon is acting as logging superintendent.

MAY DAY CELEBRATION AT NEW WESTMINSTER Thousands of Children Spend Enjoyable Afternoon—Festivities Equal Former Years. New Westminster, May 7.—Favored by splendid climatic conditions, yesterday's May Day celebration provided splendid amusement for about 2,000 children, who thronged Queen's park, where the revels are held annually. The festivities were fully equal to those of any previous year, the parade being over half a mile long and well provided with music. At the park provision had been made for all the children, automobile rides and Maypole dances forming the entertainment of the little ladies, while the ladies devoted their attention more particularly to sports held on the oval. Grouped on the dais surrounding the central Maypole were Queen Mary Keary and her maids of honor, Misses Armstrong and Malins, and ex-Queen Helen Hale and her ladies in waiting, Misses Naomi Rolph and Ruby Fletcher. During the afternoon four thousand bags of candy were distributed to the youngsters, in addition to about two thousand yards of ribbon distributed to the girls without regard to age. After the Maypole dance the new queen, accompanied by her court, paid a visit to the city hospital and the provincial asylum for the insane, this being an annual affair. Most of the children left the park about 5 o'clock, expecting to return in the evening, but on the way back the procession was met with the news that King Edward VII. had passed away. A hurried meeting of the full committee met in the Russell hotel and after a short discussion it was unanimously decided that it would be impossible to go on with the festivities. All thoughts of a ball in the evening were abandoned. In the meantime the banquet given every year by the retiring queen was held in the Hotel Russell. Arrangements had all been completed and as it was not a public function it was not thought necessary to postpone it.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE. Creston, May 7.—A very narrow escape from a watery grave was the thrilling experience that befell T. Birt.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher I used to stand up for my rights, like every dead game sport, and I was always mixed in fights, and paying fines in court. "No man," I used to fiercely cry, "on me can wipe his shoes;" and then RIGHTS with fiercely glaring eye, I'd hunt for bugaboos. The man OF MAN who lived across the yard would view me with a frown; he had his sacred rights to guard, and did the job up brown. Between us we had painted red the figtree and the vine; one day I punched that neighbor's head, the next day he punched mine. The neighbors wearied of our fights, which were becoming stale, and they ignored our sacred rights, and rode us on a rail. And then we both acquired some sense; the hint was understood; and now we lean upon the fence, and chat, as neighbors should. My martial character is gone, and I have no regret; I'd rather be imposed upon, than storm, and fuss, and fret. But since I ceased to worry o'er those blooming rights of mine, there's no demand for strife or gore, and life seems quite benign. I find, in this queer worldly game, that if I yield my share, the other chap will do the same, and likely beat me there. Oak Mason the general manager for P. Burns and Co. here, and George O. Laurie, a few days ago when they attempted to cross the Kootenay river on their way to the Cloverleaf ranch. It seems that when they got to the ferry there was a lot of timber, including a large poplar tree, lying on the cable. The weight of this mass of wood weighed the cable down in the water. This was about 75 feet from shore. They went out with the ferry as close as possible to the jam and worked with poles for about three hours and succeeded in getting everything loose but the big poplar tree, on which there were numerous limbs that seemed to wind about the tree so that it could not be got loose, and just about the time that they were making headway with it another large tree, roots and all, came down stream and jammed right into the tree they were working on. At this juncture the cable broke, but the cable was still attached to the ferry so the two men with great presence of mind caught the cable and wound it up on the drum of the ferry and pulled back to shore by means of the cable. If the cable had not parted just where it did the ferry would have been carried down the river. At the point in the river where the accident happened the water is fully 100 feet deep and the river is 200 yards wide.

WILL BUILD BARRACKS. Prince Rupert, May 7.—The Salvation Army has decided to establish a branch of their work in Prince Rupert, and will begin at once the construction of a barracks as soon as the plans are completed. The building will seat at least 300 people. Captain Blackburn of Esquimalt, will likely be in charge here. Col. Mapp and Major Morris of staff headquarters, Toronto, have gone to Hazelton, where they intend arranging for another branch of the army. On the return of Col. Mapp and Major Morris to Prince Rupert they will let the contract for the local barracks.

NORTH VANCOUVER GRADES. Vancouver, May 7.—Mayor May, of North Vancouver, has received a letter from Mayor Gily of Seattle, promising that City Engineer R. H. Thompson will be allowed to come to North Vancouver to look into the street grades. Mr. Gill states in his letter that the services of the Seattle engineer are to be free of cost to North Vancouver, as a gift from the city of Seattle to the younger metropolis on the north shore of Burrard Inlet. Mayor May expects that Mr. Thompson will arrive on May 12th, and he will spend three or four days in North Vancouver looking into the grade situation and furnishing expert advice as to the best method of grading and paving the streets. Without content, we shall find it almost as difficult to please others as ourselves.—Greville. The world's annual output of fine gold is worth $4 millions, and the British Empire supplies $1,000,000.

NEW SOCIETY FORMED IN GREAT BRITAIN

All Members Take a Pledge to Maintain Supremacy of Britain at Sea

Those who wish to pull down or neglect the navy have a new and a dangerous enemy to face—an organization with simple aims, which has been quietly growing as men have become impressed with the necessity of keeping the navy not only strong, but strongest, says the London Express. Their policy is contained in these words, spoken by Mr. Balfour in the House of Commons during the naval debate on May 26th last:
"May I ask, could there be a better way of keeping the navy out of party politics than to have some formula on which both sides are agreed, some ideal to which both parties could work, some general formula accepted by the Radical party in power, equally accepted by the Unionist party when in power, which would ensure continuity of naval policy, and make it certain that all would strive together, at whatever sacrifice, to keep the navy up to its necessary strength?"
"That was the enormous advantage of the two-power standard, so long as it was totally accepted by both sides of the House."
"Let us have a new standard—twice, let us say, the naval strength of the next largest single power."
The Duke of Fife, president of the Islanders, the vice-presidents are the Duke of Argyll and the Duke of Sutherland. Lord Esher is the chairman.
"The policy which the Islanders have pledged themselves to secure," their card of membership says, "is that by which two British ships shall be laid down for every one of the next strongest European power."
Members, however, do more than merely affirm the need for this standard of safety. They make the following promise:
"I will endeavor each year to perform some act, however small, for my country which will increase her commercial prosperity, maintain her maritime supremacy, and strengthen her moral influence among the nations."
Thus the new organization is triply devoted to the cause of patriotism. A further duty, however, is laid on the members—that of enrolling as many members as possible.

BARRIE AIDS WIFE TO WED NEW LOVE

Gives Her Beautiful Home and Settles Income on Her for Life
The romance of John Ruskin, his wife and Sir John Millais, of the wonder stories of real life in which Ruskin gave his wife to Millais, his friend, and still held that friendship dear, has been outdone by James M. Barrie, the author and playwright, says a London dispatch. Mr. Barrie, with all his fantasy, could not have conceived a more fantastic situation than that in which he figures.

The decree of divorce which he sought from his wife after he had discovered her infatuation for Gilbert Cannon, a young dramatic critic, was made absolute here. Barrie had entreated his wife to return to him, offering any terms she might demand, but Mrs. Barrie would not listen to him. Then he sued and obtained a decree. Even after that he found his great love for his wife as strong as ever, and made overtures for a reconciliation, holding out the most extravagant inducements. They were rejected.

With an absolute decree of divorce in his possession, the attitude of Barrie towards his wife and the young man who had won her from him, underwent a complete change, and he appears in the role of a fairy godfather to the couple.

Much to the surprise of his friends, who believed that the final separation from Mrs. Barrie would find him a morose and heartbroken man, he has taken the attitude of generous patron of his wife and young Cannon. He seems to be eagerly seeking the crumbs of happiness which may fall to him by aiding the couple to a speedy wedding and giving them a fair start in life in the hope that he may count them friends and have the pleasure of visiting them and enjoying their companionship.

Just after the divorce decree became absolute, Barrie voluntarily turned over to his former wife the deed to a beautiful home at Franhams and settled an income of $750 a year on her for life. He also had made arrangements to facilitate the marriage of Cannon and Mrs. Barrie, and practically will act as the best man at the wedding.
Neither Mrs. Barrie nor Cannon would talk about their future, but went away together in a motor car. Barrie also disappeared, and it is understood that the wedding is to occur in some out-of-the-way place, in keeping with Barrie's arrangements.
Barrie's suit for divorce was a surprise to all but the intimate friends of the author of so many tender stories and plays, and attracted world-wide attention. Universal sympathy was expressed for Barrie, who really began the divorce proceedings at the earnest solicitation of his wife.
The evidence at the hearings aroused even more sympathy for Barrie. The testimony of witnesses left the court no other course than to grant Barrie the divorce. It was shown that Cannon had shamefully abused the hospitality of Barrie. When Barrie learned the facts the shock almost prostrated him.
Barrie married in 1894 Miss Mary Ansell, the actress, who appeared in his first play, "Walker, London," produced seventeen years ago. After the marriage Mrs. Barrie retired from the stage, and the tender-hearted, whimsical Barrie tried his best to make her happy, but failed.

OCEAN PRESSURE.

The pressure of water in the great depths is tremendous, crushing all objects that are not constructed to withstand it. All deep-sea instruments are made to resist sea pressure, which is about a ton to the square inch with each mile of depth. At the greatest depth known there would, therefore, be a pressure of nearly six tons to each square inch of surface. This is, of course, a very different condition from that under which terrestrial creatures live, the air pressure at the surface of the earth being 14 pounds to the square inch of surface. The greatest depth ever reached by a human being in a diving suit is only two hundred feet, where the water pressure is eighty-eight pounds to the square inch. At the bottom of the sea a piece of tarred rope becomes so compressed by the water that its diameter is greatly reduced. Not many years since it was thought that nothing could live at the bottom of the sea on account of pressure. Deep-sea animals, however, have tissues sufficiently watery to equalize the crushing weight of the seas. It is likely that the soft forms which we handle so carefully on deck are, at the bottom, as firm-fleshed as those of shallow water, but whatever solidity of body they have at the bottom is doubtless due to compression. Animals dredged from deep water are always dead, and doubtless die during the early stage of their journey upwards.

Out of 16,000,000 tons of salt produced in the world in a year, the British Empire provides 3,500,000 tons.

ADVISES WIVES TO FLIRT WITH HUSBANDS

Secret of Domestic Bliss Declares Lady McLaren—Other Views on Subject

Lady McLaren asserts that wives should flirt—with their husbands. And as Lady McLaren is the author of the "Women's Charter," as they term the nine bills bearing on the liberties and rights of women which Sir Charles McLaren sponsored in the British House of Commons, her affirmation that this home flirtation proposition is the secret of domestic bliss has attracted more than passing attention and discussion.

"Every man," said she, "wants a wife who is never too overburdened to hook her frock straight and wear a clean collar and laugh and flirt with her husband."
"Many husbands and wives, after a few years of matrimony settle down into a sort of dull, colorless respectability," said Lady Freubridge, the well-known novelist, in approving Lady McLaren's contention. "Frankly, they lose interest in each other; they need waking up. A clever wife could prevent just such a catastrophe by judiciously flirting with her husband. But by flirting I do not mean the reviving of the kittenish airs and graces of 'sweet seventeen.' An attempt of that kind might have exactly an opposite effect."
"I mean she should flatter him occasionally, tell him that he is a very good fellow, show him plainly that her love and affection for him are even stronger than in their courtship days. It is a well-known fact to love is much better than to be in love. The former is a full-grown tree, the latter a little sapling planted in the earth. Happy husbands and wives realize this truth, and flirtation keeps them young hearted and gay. Indeed, I believe in wives flirting with their husbands."

"Flirting between husband and wife would bore them both to death," insisted a prominent non-vivant, one of the cynics of a West End club, who exacted a pledge that his name would not appear in print. "I don't think it is fair to expect the roses and raptures of love to outlive the first years of married life. After a few years of matrimony no woman's heart beats quickly when she hears her husband's foot upon the stair. And I don't see what good is going to be gained by her pretending that it does. Thus, flirting would bore both husband and wife. It would be an empty, hollow farce. It would be lamb without mint sauce."

"I certainly believe with Lady McLaren that wives should flirt with their husbands," said a well-known authoress. "But there should be a stipulation that such flirtations should be held in private. Husbands and wives who persist in carrying out flirtations at 'at homes' and at dinners should be tabooed from society. Such people sit and talk with each other, dance together and generally ignore every one else. There are many ways of flirting. For instance, a man may bring his wife a bunch of flowers and thus do more good towards restoring domestic happiness than hours of conversation. I do not advocate the silly 'kissing and cuddling' of courtship days, but an occasional caress between husband and wife banishes the worries and discontents of life."
