MACDONALD READY FOR GENERAL ELECTION

IN HIRE TAXI AS ORDINARY VISITOR PRINCE TRAVELS TO GOLF COURSES IN VICTORIA

Appreciates the Fact That After First Cordial Demonstration of Welcome His Wishes to Be Treated as Plain Citizen are Respected; Sailing Date for Home Announced by His Private Secretary To-day.

Rising before 8 o'clock and donning golf clothes, the Prince of Wales started his two day's holiday as an ordinary visitor to Victoria to-day. By 9 o'clock he had breakfast in his rooms and by 10.30 jumped into a touring car and was whisked away to the Oak Bay Golf Course.

The Prince and his party leave Victoria for Vancouver early Tuesday afternoon. He will stay the night at Vancouver and then leave at noon of the following day. Although a special hunting license has been issued, there is no time for the Royal visitor or any of his party to bag any game on Vancouver Island or on any of the other islands.

PRINCE ARRIVES

The largest crowd that has greeted the heir to the British Throne at any place in Canada cheered him on his arrival in Victoria yesterday, and after paying their tribute on his arrival to assure him of his welcome, respected his wishes to visit Victoria as an ordinary visitor in search of rest and recreation without any of the formalities that mark his official tours.

HIRES A TAXI

The Prince naturally appreciated the wonderful reception accorded him on his arrival Sunday, members of his party stated to-day. He also sincerely appreciates the fact that his wishes have been respected more in Victoria than in any other city he has visited.

MAN KILLED, ANOTHER HURT IN CAR SMASH

Tragedy During Night Hours on Dallas Road From Overturned Automobile

Driver Pinned Beneath Car When Accident Occurs

G. Llewellyn Wood, 1327 Beach Drive, was killed, and John F. D. Tanqueray, Oak Bay Garage, was injured when a car in which they were riding overturned on Dallas Road, on the cliffside overlooking the Ross Bay seawall.

Mr. Tanqueray was arrested later, and held on a charge of driving to the public danger. An inquest will probably be held to-morrow at the B.C. funeral premises, where the body of Mr. Wood was moved after the tragedy.

PINNED BENEATH CAR The cries of Mr. Tanqueray, who was pinned beneath the car, were heard by Miss O'Brien, 67 Wellington Avenue, and Mr. White, 151 Bushby Street, who telephoned for the police shortly after 2 o'clock this morning.

According to the police the car was proceeding from the east along Dallas Road when it suddenly reversed its direction, and overturned at the roadside, near the embankment. Mr. Wood was thrown a distance of eight feet, and was dead when help arrived.

Constable Harper responded to the telephone call, and Dr. A. E. McMicking was summoned. It was found that Mr. Tanqueray had sustained a badly lacerated wrist.

The car was removed to the police station, where it is being held. The windshield is shattered, and the top when Lieutenant Smith noticed smoke is smashed in.

Mr. Wood is survived by a widow and seven children. He had been for four years in business in Oak Bay, in connection with the operation of the Oak Bay Boat House. Pending the inquest, arrangements for the funeral are delayed.

B.C. TO ASK WHY RAIL BOARD HOLDS UP RATE DECISION

Nothing Done Yet—About Original Rate Demands Referred to Board Last Year

Decisions on Crow's Nest Rate Chaos Affect General Structure Oliver Says

British Columbia will ask the Railway Board immediately what it intends to do about the Province's original demand for western freight rate equalization as distinguished from the Crow's Nest rate fight. This announcement was made by Premier Oliver to-day in a letter which he wrote to the Vancouver Board of Trade in answer to its query on the rate question.

"The inaction of the Board of Railway Commissioners in respect to the reference made to them of the evidence and arguments which were placed before the Governor-General-in-Council would appear to warrant the assumption that it is not the intention of the Board to give any further consideration to such evidence and arguments, and I think your suggestion that the Board should be asked for a ruling as to what disposition they intend to make of the matters referred to them would be quite in order," the Premier said.

The Premier explained that the recent hearing of the Railway Board on the chaotic situation resulting from the restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass rate agreement had nothing to do with British Columbia's original demand for a general equalization of Western freight rates. He recalled that the Privy Council had refused to grant the rate reduction.

LA FOLLETTE IS MAKING EXTENDED SPEAKING TOUR

Rochester, N.Y., Oct. 6.—Expressing the opinion that if an election were held now none of the presidential candidates would receive a majority of the electoral votes, Senator La Follette, in a statement issued to-day, declared he was starting on an extended campaign tour for only one purpose—to win in November.

"If I wanted the election to be thrown into Congress," he said, "I would stay in Washington and take it easy for the rest of the campaign."

Dirigible Prepared For Atlantic Flight

Washington, Oct. 6.—The German-built airship ZR-3 may take off on her transatlantic flight to the United States Thursday, the Navy Department was informed to-day in an official cablegram. The dispatch added, however, that "her departure is not probable prior to Saturday, October 11."

The picture above, taken after a recent test flight at Friedrichshafen, shows the forward car of the ZR-3, in which the pilot stands as he controls the movements of the flying monster. United States aviation officers, sent to Friedrichshafen for the purpose, have been aboard during the several test flights already made. The dirigible, built under the terms of the Versailles Treaty, is to be used only as commercial aircraft in the United States.

GIANTS TAKE THIRD GAME OF SERIES, HITTING FOUR OF WASHINGTON'S HURLERS

Giants Gained Lead in Second Inning Which Washington Never Overcame; Rosy Ryan Relief Pitcher for MacQuillan Was Batting Hero by Crashing Out Home Run in Fourth; Senators Used Four Pitchers in an Effort to Stop Terrific Hitting of Giants.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 6.—The New York Giants took the third game of the series with Washington here to-day, 6-4, and jumped into the lead in the series, two games to one. The game was replete with fielding and hitting features, Frisch, Ryan and Young producing an abundance of fielding stunts which sparkled with brilliancy.

Rosy Ryan, relief pitcher for MacQuillan, who started for the Giants, was the batting hero with a driving homer in the fourth inning. Manager Harris used four pitchers to stop the Giants. Marberry started, but he weakened and Russell, Martina and Speece followed in quick succession.

Table with columns for Washington and New York players and their statistics.

FIRST INNING Senators—Leibold went out Frisch to Terry. The big crowd gave Harris a cheer. Harris sent a long fly to Young. Rice walked. Goslin was thrown out at first by Frisch. No runs, no hits, no errors.

GIANTS—Lindstrom struck out. Goslin took Frisch's lofty fly. Young got a line single into left field. Kelly was out at first, Harris to Judge. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING Senators—Judge singled sharply over the middle bag. Bluege hit into a double play. McQuillan to Frisch to Terry. Lindstrom took Peckinpaugh's grounder and threw him out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

GIANTS—Terry singled to right. Wilson fanned. Bluege took Jackson's grounder and threw to Harris, who dropped the ball. Terry scored on Gowdy's single to left. Jackson scored on a wild pitch by Marberry. McQuillan walked. Lindstrom also walked. Frisch was hit by a pitched ball and the bags were filled. Young fanned. Two runs, two hits, one error.

MONTEAL, Oct. 6.—Leo Davis, one of the condemned Hochelaga Bank bandits, was this morning granted a stay of execution until November 5 by Mr. Justice LeTourneau on an application made by his counsel. The other five bandits, however, will be hanged on October 24.

Scientist Believes He Will Break Up Atoms

Professor Wall of Sheffield Seeking to Find Method of Releasing Atomic Energy; Progress Slow as Great Caution in Work Needed; Discussion of "Death Ray" is Revived.

London, Oct. 6.—Discussion of the subject of the "death ray" has broken out again with the declaration by Professor T. P. Wall, of the electrical research department of the University of Sheffield, that he believes he will be able soon to break up the atom and control its energy. In a work of such importance, Professor Wall explains, one has to proceed with the greatest caution and progress is slow. If the experiments he is now trying result in the release of atomic energy, the question of the possibility of directing such energy in any desired way would become of supreme importance, he added.

Professor A. M. Low, famous scientist, commenting on the attempt to release atomic energy, said: "It is a thing that is not impossible, but it strikes me as being not a little way in advance of human knowledge as it stands at present."

ANATOLE FRANCE GROWS WEAKER AND DEATH IS EXPECTED

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 6.—Declaring he had not got a square deal from the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission, and that the money he had taken was coming to him because he had not been paid enough for his services, Clarence Settell, private secretary to Sir Adam Beck, made a full confession here Saturday of forging a Hydro Electric Commission cheque for $25,000 in Hamilton on Friday. He was arrested here Friday afternoon. Settell had booked passage from New York to Buenos Aires and was to have sailed from New York Saturday.

Tours, France, Oct. 6.—The condition of Anatole France is again causing alarm. The improvement shown after the attack of angina pectoris last August has not been maintained and the writer is growing steadily weaker. The end, it is thought, is imminent.

SIR ADAM BECK'S SECRETARY ADMITS HE TOOK MONEY

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 6.—Declaring he had not got a square deal from the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission, and that the money he had taken was coming to him because he had not been paid enough for his services, Clarence Settell, private secretary to Sir Adam Beck, made a full confession here Saturday of forging a Hydro Electric Commission cheque for $25,000 in Hamilton on Friday. MACDONALD HANDS RESIGNATION TO GOVERNMENT HEAD

Oliver to Rebuild Cabinet, Following Provincial Secretary's Retirement

With Hon. K. C. MacDonald's resignation as Provincial Secretary in his hands, Premier Oliver laid plans to-day for reconstructing his Cabinet. A new Provincial Secretary, the Premier said, will be appointed within a few days. No announcement about the appointment of a new Cabinet Minister, however, will be made this week, he added. It is expected that Hon. J. D. Maclean, Minister of Finance, or some other member of the Government will assume the Provincial Secretary's duties until the end of the Fall session of the House. If a Vancouver member is taken into the Cabinet, it is expected, he will hold no portfolio and thus no by-election will be necessary.

BRITISH PREMIER IS NOT SEEKING TEST AT POLLS, BUT DOES NOT FEAR IT

Macdonald Expresses Regret National Interests Sacrificed to Party Tactics and Business of Nation Brought to Standstill While Opposition Group Taking Steps to Oust Labor Government; Premier's Followers Prepared to Meet Challenge on Big Issues.

London, Oct. 6. (Canadian Press Cable)—Interviewed by Reynolds' Illustrated News, Premier Macdonald expressed regret that national interests were being sacrificed to party tactics and the business of the nation brought to a standstill while Conservatives and Liberals conspired to turn out the Labor Government on a side issue.

"My select committee to which I would appeal is not ten members of the House of Commons, but 20,000,000 electors," said the Premier.

"While I do not seek an election, I am not afraid of it. By creating a condition of things, which no government can accept, they compel us to give up at a time when, I think, every patriotic motive should induce them to maintain the status quo. By taking from the Government the authority it requires to conduct the business of the nation both at home and abroad, they force an election. On the big issues—the Government's policy regarding Russia, Geneva or anything they like to raise—we are ready to meet their challenge."

BEAVERBROOK'S VIEWS London, Oct. 6. (Canadian Press Cable)—Lord Beaverbrook, writing in his paper, The Sunday Express, is dead against an early general election. All that could happen, he writes, would be the transference of a certain number of seats from the Conservative to the Liberals or from the Liberals to the Conservatives, with twenty or thirty losses by the Labor party.

Lord Beaverbrook argues that the Conservatives and Liberals ought to defeat the MacDonald Ministry on the issue involved in the dropping of the sedition charge against Editor Campbell, of The Workers' Weekly, which would, in itself, involve an election. Premier MacDonald, says the writer, would have no right to ask for one seeing that the blunder which brought on his Government's downfall was simply one of personnel, or at the most of executive policy.

If, however, the Premier should insist on asking the sovereign for dissolution it would be open to the majority in the Commons to petition the King not to grant such dissolution. Then it would be perfectly open to the King to send for any Conservative leader. The Conservatives, the biggest individual party in the House, would be assured of sufficient Liberal support to make a decisive change, either in issues at stake or of public temper, showed that an election would be both useful and necessary.

LOAN OPPOSED Concerning the proposal for dissolution over the Russian treaty, Lord Beaverbrook declares that the country, through the House of Commons and the press, has already shown its opposition to the Government's policy in Russia, so why be threatened with "a perfectly futile election to prove that the country agrees in this issue with the House which was elected less than twelve months back."

ACCUSED IS FIRM ON STORY OF ACCIDENT

Dr. Boak Remains Unshaken By First Three Hours of Cross-examination

Crown Indicates That Rebuttal Evidence Will be Called

That there was no arrangement made to meet in the inter-tenure's room at the Jubilee Hospital after the accident, and that nothing had been "cooked up" or decided upon as a story at such a meeting was the assertion of Dr. Eric W. Boak, resuming the stand in his own defence this morning at the tenth day of the Assizes Court hearing of Rex versus Boak. Three hours of cross-examination featured the morning session, with Dr. Boak still on the stand at the luncheon adjournment.

The accused took the stand as twenty-first witness for the defence, and incidentally the seventy-sixth person to take the stand in the extended hearing. That rebuttal evidence would be called, as stated in statements made by the defence was indicated by Crown counsel to-day. Unprecedented crowds witnessed the hearing. The public commenced to arrive at 8 a.m. and many brought luncheon baskets so that they would not lose "ring-side" seats for the afternoon session.

Dr. Boak reaffirmed in detail his evidence in chief. Mr. Jackson asserted discrepancies appeared in the story now given, and that at the inquest. Witness stated that there had been no change in his story, though of necessity what he now said was given in greater detail. Many matters asked at his trial had not been asked or put to him at the lower courts.

Witness reasserted that his lights and the lights of the Duck car were on at the time of the passing on the road. He saw clear down the road, and saw nothing ahead until suddenly a black car, or shadow, loomed up in the ditch. "Shadows" or "shadow" witness said he could not describe the sight beyond a black mass, which suddenly loomed up ahead. He had been ditched by a dog (Concluded on page 3)

War Memorial Effort Grows Steadily Each Day

First of the efforts to collect substantial donations for the Victoria War Memorial fund through the agency of the public offices and mercantile offices of the city, the committee is in receipt of a collection of $122 from the Lands and Forest departments at the Parliament Buildings.

The committee had a cheque late Saturday to which a tragic interest attaches. On Saturday, Wood, who was killed in an automobile accident this morning, having called, and made a handsome donation by cheque to the fund.

The collections are coming in steadily, and while the aggregate is not as yet a large one, it is steadily growing. Every effort by institutions and individuals is welcomed by the committee, which is planning efforts to stimulate collections in the near future.

NEW PULP PLANT AT PORT ALBERNI

Effort May Lead to Industrial Development of the Albernis

Effect on Great Central Lake Level Under Consideration

Plans of a syndicate to build a pulp plant at Port Alberni, and to develop hydro-electric energy at Stamp Falls, and Great Central Lake, are receiving the careful scrutiny of the Lands department and Nanaimo Railway, Land Commissioner Newton J. Ker stated to-day.

Mr. Ker pointed out that the application of the syndicate has a three-fold character, firstly the building of a pulp mill on the flats at Port Alberni, secondly the electrical development of Stamp Falls, by a dam in the canyon, using the canyon itself as a natural reservoir, and thirdly the erection of a dam at the outlet of Great Central Lake.

The application is for about 250,000 acre feet, or 2,000 cubic feet per second, and it is the third question which is particularly occupying the attention of the railway company's land department. Raising of the level of the lake eight, or ten feet, threatens the flooding of the Great Central Lake branch of the railway, and the damaging of many acres of timber.

PLANS
Definite announcement of the Prince's future plans were made by Captain Lascelles to-day.
Arrangements have been made for him to visit Chicago, Detroit, Toronto, Ottawa, and Montreal before sailing for England. Leaving Vancouver on the same train that he used all the way through from New York he will start for Winnipeg over the C.P.R. line Wednesday. He will stop off at Calgary to play golf and will arrive at Winnipeg Friday. His Royal Highness will travel by way of Duluth to Chicago arriving there on October 13. The visit of the Prince of Wales to Chicago is in response to a long standing invitation from Mr. Louis Swift and his stay in that city will be entirely of a private order, the Prince having entrusted the arrangements for his day's sightseeing to Mr. Swift. Detroit will be visited on October 14 and the Prince will arrive in Toronto October 15, and in Ottawa the following day. His arrival in Montreal is planned for Oct. 19 and after a two days' stay there His Royal Highness will proceed to Massachusetts to be the guest of Bayard Tuckerman, Jr. and hunt with the Myopia Club. The Prince will sail from New York on the White Star liner Olympic on October 25.

B.C. TO ASK WHY RAIL BOARD HOLDS UP RATE DECISION
Council had referred to the Board certain of British Columbia's rate demands, but the Board had taken no action whatever on them. The Premier expressed the belief that the Board would rule on the Crow's Nest rate, situation argued before it in September, before going into the original rate question.
"I think, he added, that the decision of the Board in the Crow's Nest rates matter will probably have some effect on the general rates structure, but to what extent it is impossible for me to approximate.

FOURTH INNING
Senators—Rice walked. Frisch made a wonderful catch of Goslin's high fly, ruling back to centre field to get it. Judge stashed a hit into left for two bases. Rice going to third. Bluege walked, filling the bases. Rice scored on Miller's sacrifice fly. Wilson. Judge held second. Ruel walked. The bases were filled. Tate batted for Marberry. Judge scored when Tate was given a base on balls. The bases were filled. Wilson took Leibold's foul. Two runs, one hit, no errors.
Giants—Russell went into the box for the Senators. Leibold gathered in Gowdy's long drive. Ryan got a home run into the upper right field stand. Rice made a wonderful one-handed catch of Lindstrom's drive, crashing into the concrete stand. Frisch singled over to second. Goslin took Young's hoist. One run, two hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING
Senators—Harris lofted to Kelly, who raced to centre field to make the catch. Frisch threw out Rice. Frisch robbed Goslin of a hit for the second time, going out into right field to take the "Goose" Texas Leaguer. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Giants—Kelly lashed a hit into left for one base. Bluege took Terry's skystrape. Wilson forced on Harris to Bluege. Miller took Jack Goslin's high fly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

ACCUSED IS FIRM ON STORY OF ACCIDENT
before, and the thought ran into his head that this was a dog.
The actual passing of the Duck car, he said, had been made with four feet of clearance between the two cars. Witness had his car with two wheels on the pavement and two off. The vehicle was travelling between twenty and thirty miles an hour, but not faster. It was under full control until after the right swerve and then he was still able to steer it. The model had four-wheel brakes. The object in the way ahead loomed up as witness was driving around a slight curve and the lights bore around as the car head turned.
Witness—What I thought I saw was the black mass or shade of a dog looking at me as if it were an animal crouched to spring out.
Mr. Jackson—There has been no mention of a dog until Friday last.
Witness—I was not asked.
Witness continued, in answer to questions, that he had no doubt now that what he saw was the two bodies lying at the roadside.
Crown counsel spent some time with the witness as to his immediate actions after the crash. Witness said he ran up the railway embankment and towards the cattle guards. He changed witness with the statement that he had run back to his own car.
WAS CURIOUS
Witness reiterated that he had been curious to see what caused him to swerve and had gone back along the road to look. He saw nothing. He did not go back as far as the culvert, he said. Turning to the examination of the bodies Crown counsel charged witness with the statement that they were "absolutely cold." Witness replied he had meant cold in the sense of cold in death.
Witness said again that one of his headlights worked after the crash and he turned them out, he was positive about one dimmer being lit. The accused contended he made two examinations of the bodies. He noticed blood on the head of Mr. Ballantyne. The student Lewis, suggested Crown counsel, had seen no blood on the face of that body. Witness replied he could not say what another saw. He did not know if he were the first to examine the bodies or not, but he rushed over as soon as the bodies showed up in the service car light.
Witness said, in answer to further questions, he looked at his speedometer twice after the accident. Once his car was travelling twenty miles an hour, and the second time at between twelve and fifteen miles an hour. This latter time was when he saw two sets of three cars northbound, and blinded by their headlights, he said. These might be the cars Dr. Leeder turned over due to the accident. Beyond that he saw two people walking in the road.

WITNESS SAID
In further answers, witness said his car at the scene of the accident included some distance a tilting angle in the ditch. Here he avoided a telephone post and directed the car up over the ditch as he was afraid it would turn over due to the tilt. While under control it was not out of control in that he could still steer it, he said.
Witness, shown a photograph of his car after the accident, said he agreed that the bulb lights were gone in the photograph, but they had been there that night, he said. Told of an item of $1.50 for bulbs in his repair bill witness said he had not yet seen the bill. Witness reiterated he had tried his engine before the crash but made no effort to get the car out.
It was at this stage that Mr. Jackson produced a statement as to what he had seen at the scene. It developed that the statement was incorrectly copied from a dictaphone and should have been "at that time," he said. Mr. Jackson took the dictaphone and should have been "at that time," he said. Mr. Jackson took the dictaphone and should have been "at that time," he said.

WENT TO HOSPITAL
Witness said he went to the hospital to inquire as to the condition of a patient upon whom he was to operate on the day following. He reached the hospital at about 11:30 a.m., but said he left within a short time of his arrival.
In the intern's room the accident had been the topic of conversation but nothing was said. Witness believed he had mentioned the possibility of appearing at the inquest but only in general terms.
Witness denied emphatically that Dr. Duck was said to have broken down at the scene, or that it was admitted by any of the party that the Boak car had accomplished the killing. Witness heard no statements of that nature, and had heard nothing of the kind spoken of at the meeting. As far as he was concerned, he said, it was not a "meeting," but an accidental gathering without prearrangement.
Pressed by Crown counsel as to whether he had blood on his hands after the body examinations witness stability, weakness and mischief" of the three-party system for what has happened.

When Asquith, he writes, put the Labor party in he meant to turn it out again at his selected hour. He has allowed a decent interval to elapse, but he and his party could not be expected to continue indefinitely or much longer a support that Laborites could not in any way reciprocate either in the Commons or constituencies.
GREENWOOD'S ATTITUDE
London, Oct. 5 (Canadian Press cable)—Sir Hamar Greenwood has written to the Central Cardiff Liberal Association declining to become a candidate in that constituency in the next election on the ground that Conservative and Liberal candidates are already in the field and consequently his candidature would only accentuate the differences among the anti-Socialist parties, which differences "are inimical to the best interests of the Empire."
Sir Hamar considers that the best way to defeat Socialism is for the anti-Socialists to become united on a common policy of opposing attacks on constitutional liberty and of developing the resources of the British Commonwealth.

perhaps due principally to the fact that too little work was done by the undergraduates themselves. Many of them entered without any definite object in view. Sir Arthur did not attribute failure to campus activities, investigation having shown that the percentage of success among leaders in student activity was usually high. Athletics, generally speaking, were reported by the director of physical education to have had a beneficial influence. Sir Arthur condemned methods of teaching which made study collateral to lectures, and also condemned the use of lectures repeated year after year. "The lecture," he said, "should lead the student through the subject, should expand, should illustrate, should endeavor to put life and interest into what otherwise would be uninteresting."

can be put in baskets, my dear Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "How about a lunch, let us say?" "Do you want me to put up a lunch for you in that basket?" asked Nurse Jane. "If you please," spoke the bunny, making a low and polite bow. And when the cup and saucer saw Mr. Longears bowing they saw, right away, how it was done, and then they knew how to do it. "I wish you would put me up a little lunch in the basket, Nurse Jane," went on the bunny, "and I would like a piece of peach pie, I am going off adventuring and I love peach pie." "You shall have it," laughed Nurse Jane. So she put a fine lunch for Uncle Wiggily in the basket, and away he hopped over the fields. Pretty soon Uncle Wiggily reached a green, mossy dingy dell, where some of the trees were shaking themselves to get rid of the leaves. For soon winter would come, when nearly all the trees, except those of the Sunny South, lose their leaves. "I shall sit in this green mossy dingy dell and eat my lunch," said Uncle Wiggily. He opened the basket Nurse Jane had packed for him, and soon he was eating a carrot sandwich. Then he ate a bit of turnip cake, and at last he came to the peach pie.

The sketch which was produced was very amusing. The plot hinged around the love affairs of the squire's daughter, who was in love with the curate. The only place the couple could meet was in old Martha's cottage. Luckily the old lady was of a sleepy disposition, so they managed to meet there often. Unknown to Martha, the parts were well played and the curate was a splendid representation of a very amorous and timid young clergyman. Monica was also very shy and coy. Unfortunately during one of their meetings a neighbor came into give Martha her tea and the curate had to hide in a cupboard while Monica hid in another room. The neighbor enlightened Martha as to the goings on, and Martha was very indignant that her name should be compromised, and her cottage used as a meeting place. With the neighbor's departure, Martha feigned sleep and caught the couple kissing farewell and told them of her indignation. However, the curate stole a kiss from Martha which appeased the old lady. Mrs. Raymond took the part of Martha, and made an excellent shaky old lady. Dr. R. Felton acted the part of the timid young clergyman, while P. W. de P. Taylor took the part of the squire. The part of Monica was acted by Mrs. McBride, while Mrs. J. Hawkins was the kind neighbor who came to give Martha tea.

Two gaily dressed sellers of candies and "cip" in embroidered Chinese costumes, Miss D. Spencer and Miss I. Sherman, did a lively trade. A very excellent supper served under the direction of Mrs. Leggett, while the waiters who were also the guests, proved equal to their task which they accomplished in a most businesslike fashion. The inspiring music of Mr. Heaton's Orchestra is always an attraction and some very effects were noticed, a banjo being added to their number. On October 21, there will be another opportunity of hearing their orchestra when the annual Trafalgar Day will take place at the C.A.A.C. Hall.

IRISH IMPORTS ARE MORE THAN EXPORTS

Total Trade in First Six Months of This Year $276,778,465

Dublin, Oct. 6.—The total value of the imports of the Irish Free State during the first six months of this year was about $167,331,000, while the value of the exports was $109,387,465. Of the exports, Great Britain took nearly $11,500,000, and Northern Ireland a little more than $13,000,000. The United States was third on the list of recipients of Free State products, the total being $483,000. From the United States the Free State took goods to the value of $8,954,755, or nearly twenty times as much as it sold to the United States.

SPEAKS OF METHODS OF INSTRUCTION

Sir Arthur Currie, Principal of McGill University, Makes Annual Report

Montreal, Oct. 6.—Sir Arthur Currie, in his annual report as Principal of McGill University, this afternoon made important references to the result of present systems of instruction, pointing out that less than one-half of the students who entered in 1920 graduated in 1924. He attributed this wastage, first to the deficient instruction in schools due to the small salaries paid teachers. These salaries were insufficient, he said, to attract the high caliber students, but the wastage was

BEDTIME STORY Uncle Wiggily and the Peach Pie

(By Howard R. Garis)

Uncle Wiggily, one day hopped into the dining room, where Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy was teaching a cup and saucer how to make a polite bow when they came to the table. The rabbit gentleman carried a basket on one paw. "My goodness," laughed the duck-lady housekeeper. "Are you going over to see Mrs. Cluck Cluck, the hen lady, and get some eggs, Uncle Wiggily?" "What makes you think I am going after eggs?" asked the bunny. "Well, you have a basket, haven't you?" Nurse Jane wanted to know. "Yes, but other things than eggs when, all of a sudden, he bit down hard on a stone. "Ouch!" he cried as he almost cracked a tooth. "Nurse Jane forgot and left a peach pit in her pie. Wow! What a hard stone." However, Uncle Wiggily didn't swallow it, and, taking the peach pit out of his mouth, he put it on one side—I mean he put the stone to one side—not his mouth. Uncle Wiggily was just eating the last of the peach pie, and he was politely washing his paws in a nearby spring of water, when all of a sudden, there was a rustling in the bushes and out popped the sly weasel. A weasel is always after rabbits, when he can get them. "What have you been doing? Uncle Wiggily?" snarled the Weasel. "I have been eating peach pie," answered the bunny.

Is there any left for me? asked the Weasel

"Is there any left for me?" asked the Weasel. "I am sorry to say there is no peach pie left for you," politely answered the rabbit. "Then if I have no peach pie to eat I shall nibble your ears," snarled the Weasel. He was just going to do this, when Uncle Wiggily thought of the peach stone. "Here! Take this!" cried the brave rabbit, and he threw the stone at the Weasel. "Plop!" it hit the bad chap in the eye. "Wow! Wow!" howled the Weasel, and away he ran through the woods. "Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny rabbit. "It's a good thing Nurse Jane left a stone in her peach pie. It saved my ears from being nibbled." Then the rabbit gentleman hopped back home, very happy because he had had such a jolly adventure. And the Weasel's eye was sore for a week. But it served him right. And if the rain doesn't splash in through the keyhole and get the umbrellas all wet I shall next tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the chocolate pudding.

MEET THIS WEEK

Annual Conference of Islands District Institutes; Fine Programme

The annual conference of the Islands District of the Women's Institutes will be held at the Parliament Buildings on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. The event has unusual significance, for this year marks the first occasion on which the Institutes have financed their own conference.

Addresses of welcome will be given by Dr. D. Warnock, superintendent of Institutes, and by Mrs. William Peden, president of the board of directors, to which Mrs. Robson of Vimy Institute, will reply. Mrs. Geo. Henderson, chairman of the advisory board, will be chairman for the opening session, the delegates choosing their presiding officer each session following. Mr. Henderson will also report on the activities of the Islands' Institutes.

FINE PROGRAMME
 An interesting programme has been prepared by the directors, which is almost entirely devoted to institute reports and informal discussions on the various committees, which are part of every institute, including: child welfare, Mrs. Booth, Esquimalt; education and better schools, Mrs. H. Harrison, Parksville; legislation, Mrs. Mason Hurley, Shawnigan; immigration and settlement, Mrs. Pedon, Victoria; agriculture, Mrs. Deacon, Sidney; publicity, Mrs. Baker, Luxton; community settlement, Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Victoria. A question box will be in charge of Mrs. Service and Mrs. Laurie.

Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Provincial convener of institute work and method, will assist in the discussion on that subject, and Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, secretary of British Columbia institutes, will give the annual report of the institutes. C. A. Lucas, superintendent of the Saanich Health Centre, will give an illustrated address on Wednesday afternoon and will have a model of the Health Centre.

SOCIAL EVENTS
 Social events will include a luncheon tendered the delegates by the Victoria W.I. on Wednesday, and an entertainment by the Esquimalt W.I. on Thursday evening. David Spence Limited will extend a welcome and a luncheon to the visitors on Thursday, while Lake Hill W.I. has prepared a social for Friday evening.

KUMTUKS TO HOLD BIG BRIDGE PARTY

Function Saturday Mah Jong Arranged

The Kumtuks Club will hold their first social gathering of the season on Saturday, October 11, at the Empress Hotel. The affair will take the form of a bridge and mah jong party at the Hudson's Bay Company's store, commencing at 3 o'clock precisely. Reservations may be made with Miss Wigley, 525-526, Miss Elsie Richardson, 617-618, Miss Shaw, or Mrs. H. P. Hodges, 575 or 692. Afternoon tea guests will be welcomed at 5 o'clock.

GRAND POPPY BALL ARMISTICE NIGHT

Poppies to Commemorate Anniversary Work of Red Cross Workshop

In connection with their other activities during the armistice period, the Alexandra Club for the evening of November 11 (Armistice Day) will hold a grand poppy ball in the club on that occasion.

Special features are being planned and a good orchestra will be engaged. Tickets, including supper, will be available at a popular price, and the same will be available shortly.

This poppy ball is being held under the auspices of the following organizations: Army and Navy Vets, British Campaigners, Canadian Legion, Auxiliary of the Veterans of France, Tuberculosis Veterans' Association.

The committee now have their supply of poppies on hand in Victoria. Every poppy has been made by disabled men, and seventy-five per cent of the poppies have been made up by the men in the Red Cross workshops, Victoria.

Further information re armistice activities can be had by telephoning 6452-1 or writing P.O. Box 1, Victoria.

Liberal Women's Forum.—The meeting of the Liberal Women's Forum has been postponed from Friday of this week until Friday, October 17, when it is hoped Premier Mackenzie King will be the speaker.

A rummage sale is to be held by the Sunshine Club of Victoria Chapter No. 17, O.E.S., on Saturday, October 11, in the Masonic building, opposite the Hudson's Bay. Clothing, hats, shoes and other articles will be on sale.

Reeve Presents Gold Medal.—On Friday a pleasing annual ceremony was performed at the Esquimalt High School when Reeve Lockley presented his gold medal for highest standing, for year 1923-24, to Miss Donella Whiting. The reeve, in a few well-chosen words, made clear his interest in the progress of education in the municipality, and was thanked by Major Siman, the chairman of the school board.

ANOTHER DANCING PARTNER OF PRINCE—Among the interesting and interested spectators at the Woodbine races were Commander and Mrs. J. K. L. Ross of Montreal. The commander owns one of the most successful strings of race horses on the continent, is shown above with Mrs. Ross, viewing one of their favorites stepping home first to the wire. Mrs. Ross, and the Prince of Wales' dancing partner several weeks ago at the dance given in honor of H.R.H. by Mrs. Ambrose Clark, at her Long Island home.

Other Women's Teeth

are whiter, clear, glistening—why not yours?
 Remove the dingy film that's clouding them—you'll be surprised that your own teeth are as pretty as anyone's—make this unique test.

That most of us have pretty teeth without ever revealing them, is the remarkable assertion of many high dental authorities.

This is why:
 Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a film. A film which you cannot see with your eye, but which absorbs discolorations and hides the natural color of your teeth.

Remove it and your teeth take on a new beauty. Maybe you have really beautiful teeth without realizing it.

Film is charged too with most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs breed in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

So, besides loss of tooth beauty, film is a serious danger to healthy teeth. You must remove and combat it. It is ever present, ever forming.

Old-time dentifrices were unable to combat it successfully. So most people had unattractive teeth no matter how often they cleaned them. And tooth troubles were a serious problem.

Now modern science has discovered a new way. A tube-type tooth paste called Pepsodent that acts to curdle film, then harmlessly to remove it. No soap or chalk, no harsh grit dangerous to enamel.

Mail the coupon for a 10-day tube free. Or, buy a full size tube at any druggist's today. See what beauty lies beneath the film on your teeth.

BRO. BARNABAS TO SPEAK ON WELFARE

Head of Boys' Work Roman Catholic Church to Address Conference

Brother Barnabas, who is in charge for the Roman Catholic Church of boy work throughout Canada, will be one of the visiting speakers at the Social Welfare Congresses to be held in Toronto, Ontario, on October 12 and 14.

Brother Barnabas is vice-president of the National Conference of Catholic Charities, and had an important part in the survey and reorganization of Catholic Charities in the City of New York. To this day executives of the Russell Sage Foundation say of Toronto, "Oh yes, Brother Barnabas went there." Toronto is also indebted to him for having brought about the survey of Catholic charities out of which so much good is growing.

Brother Barnabas is an executive secretary of the Boy Life Bureau of the Knights of Columbus, is at present engaged in organizing their boy work activities in the United States and Canada. He has already established a course in boy leadership at an important American university, and is determined to provide trained leaders and workers before commencing the work among boys which he has been engaged to direct.

That Brother Barnabas is possessed of the dynamic force and almost superhuman endurance to be found only in a few great and good men, is the opinion of all who know him.

Chapter's Tag Day For Milk Fund Netted $1,103

Warm endorsement by the public of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter's work in distributing milk to ill-nourished children took a practical form on Saturday when the tag day in aid of the fund netted the sum of $1,103. The collection was headed by a handsome donation of $200 from the Lieutenant-Governor and cheques from Mr. Todd and Mr. Gillespie. The Mongin and the Victoria College students; to the Melrose Paint Company for the use of its store and assistance; to The Times and The Colonist for generous advertising, and to the public generally, who contributed so widely, and to Messrs. M. A. Grogan, Sherratt and Murray for counting the receipts.

The chapter will hold a bridge and mah jong party at the Empress Hotel on Friday of this week. Tables may be reserved with Mrs. Colgate, 4432 R, or Mrs. Foot, 6256 R.

TWIN CITIES WOULD SEND MAJORITY GUESTS

Profitable Field For Victoria Advertising Writer States

That Victoria could draw on the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul for large numbers of tourists if more funds were available for advertising purposes is indicated in a letter received by Publicity Commissioner George L. Warren from Frederick R. Angell of St. Paul. Mr. Angell was a visitor to Victoria during August, and in a letter written since his return home states: "The purpose of my visit was to express my admiration for your city and to express wonder that more in the way of advertising its advantages was not being done through the States. We in the Twin Cities scarcely hear of Victoria. The only way that we ever do hear of it is from some enthusiastic visitors like myself who have been there for a few days. It would seem to me that were your city properly pushed that you could get an immense amount of tourist travel which now goes to Southern California, for according to my way of thinking, you have very much more to recommend in your locality as a place for people to come and enjoy outdoor life than has Southern California. Moreover, this part of the country is where you can easily draw from as the traveling time from here to you is not great, and as the railroads going from the central West to you have such splendid trains and service that it is not for many years I was a salesman, and know that the best article produced in the world will not sell itself, and must have energy and push behind it in order to have people realize the merit of a good article. I do not, of course, know that you are not pushing the merits of your city, but from my own experience during my residence for many years in Chicago, Indianapolis and here it has not been forcibly brought to my attention, I am inclined to think that it has not been pushed hard enough, or in the right way in the right locality. You can hardly expect much from the New England or Central States as you are so far away, but through Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska, it would seem to me that a properly put on advertising campaign would be very beneficial to your growth and prosperity."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Their friends, Professor Heaton's orchestra supplying the music. The spacious hall and lounge were attractively arranged with autumn foliage, Mimosas, daisies and dahlias, while in the dining-room, where dancing took place, beautiful Oriental embroideries and Chinese lanterns added to the coziness. Supper was served in the tea-room at tables prettily centered with flowers. During the supper interval Mrs. Aldous and Madame Valda danced a gypsy dance with grace and vivacity wearing striking costumes. Mrs. Aldous singing the refrain. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gillan, Major and Mrs. Powers Potts, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. McConnan, Mr. and Mrs. K. McCarter, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Branton, Dr. and Mrs. MacCallum, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. CUSTOMS CRAFT MAKES GOOD LIQUOR HAUL AND REPULSES ATTACK OF HI-JACKER BOAT

Captain Bittancourt and Provincial Police Officer, Aboard Winnimac, Grab Bootleggers' Launch, Eva B, and Seven Hundred Cases of Liquor; Hi-Jackers Besten Off in Gun Duel.

Canadian Customs and Provincial Police officers made another big seizure of liquor from a bootlegger's craft, the Eva B, Sunday, according to information received here today from Capt. A. E. Bittancourt, who had charge of the government launch, Winnimac, when she took the cargo of 700 cases.

An attempt by hi-jackers to recapture the liquor from the Government agents was foiled by the men aboard the Winnimac, when she lay moored at Ganges Harbor.

Captain Bittancourt, his son, the engineer of the Winnimac, and Provincial Constable J. N. Rogers are the men who made the capture.

"I have no definite information relative to details," said F. W. Davey of the Customs Department today.

MARINERS URGE FOR ANOTHER DIRECTION-FINDING STATION ON WEST COAST OF ISLAND

Pachena Equipment Given High Praise by Navigators and Many Think Station to Give Out Cross Bearings Would Be Useful; Baychimo Used Pachena Station on Southward Journey to Victoria.

Shipping companies whose vessels operate about the coast waters of Vancouver Island are agitating for a second Canadian Direction Finding Station on the West Coast in addition to that at Pachena.

The places suggested for this second station are Amprittie Point or further into the Straits, at Sherringham Point, or even as close to Victoria as Race Rocks.

When the station was opened last year only very temporary arrangements were made for the accommodation of the equipment and the staff.

When the station was opened last year only very temporary arrangements were made for the accommodation of the equipment and the staff.

Possibly the first steamer to use the equipment after the recalibration was the Hudson Bay Company's steamer Baychimo, bound for Victoria from Arctic regions.

"Capt. A. A. Cornwall of the Baychimo called today to report proceedings of his return voyage, he was most enthusiastic about the results of the wireless bearings received from Pachena Station.

EXPRESS SERVICE MOST EFFICIENT

Canadian Officials Boast of Finest Results in World. Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Railway express service in Canada is the safest and most efficient in the world.

The Customs officers here are very pleased with the success of Capt. Bittancourt's little expedition.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 8 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

Graphic details of the manner in which the Dominion Express Company carries money to remote parts of the world for its clients were given by John Blackhall of Toronto.

British Trade Unions Gaining New Members

London, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press Cable)—The financial report to the annual conference of the Labor Party, which is to open here to-morrow, will show an increase in the affiliation dues from trades unions and kindred organizations of £7,500 in the last year.

The expenditure on general account in the last year was £17,000 less than the previous year, this being due chiefly to the smaller cost of carrying The Daily Herald, the labor organ, which for some time has been published at a loss.

CITIZEN OF U.S. WAS MURDERED IN MEXICAN CITY

Washington, Oct. 6.—The murder of William B. Massey, an American citizen at Tomo, Mexico, was reported to the State Department today by James B. Stewart, United States consul at Tampico.

Having found a widow and two children, he was terminal superintendent of the Metropolitan Oil Company.

The report said the Mexican local authorities had arrested Joaquin Saenz, a Mexican, for the murder.

London, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press Cable)—The loss sustained by the guarantors of the Wembley Exhibition is at least £4,000,000, according to The Sunday Express.

The question of reopening the fair again next year, says The Express, is still in the balance, but now that Canada has withdrawn from the project and the other Dominions are doubtful of success, the policy of throwing in some more millions in the hope of recovering the vast losses lacks essential support.

Thomas, Colonial Secretary, when asking Parliament for an increase of the Government guarantee for the exhibition, ventured to assert that "not one cent of the increased guarantee" would be required.

A high official of the exhibition expresses the opinion that the excess of expenditures over receipts, as far as can be estimated at present, will not exceed £1,000,000. He states that the call on the guarantors of the exhibition, assuming that it will be closed finally this Fall instead of being continued another year, should not be more than forty per cent of the loss.

PREMIER OLIVER SPEAKS TO VICTORIA BUSINESS MEN

Contributes to Discussion on Freight Rates at Meeting of Directors of Victoria Chamber of Commerce To-day.

Hon. John Oliver was a guest at the Chamber of Commerce Director's luncheon to-day, and in the course of discussion on freight rates gave interesting information on the fight waged before the Railway Commission at Ottawa for the suspension of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement, and the elimination of the mountain scale discrimination.

Unfamiliar with freight rates a tax would be over a period of years, Mr. Blair stated. A general meeting of the Great War Veterans Association will be held Tuesday evening. A building permit has been issued for an addition at 515 St. John's Street, for the James Bay Garage.

NEWS IN BRIEF
 A general meeting of the Great War Veterans Association will be held Tuesday evening. A building permit has been issued for an addition at 515 St. John's Street, for the James Bay Garage. Routine business will be transacted at the monthly meeting of the City School Board next Wednesday evening.

DISASTROUS TO B.C.
 Mr. Oliver reviewed the effect of the restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement and said it could only be described as disastrous to British Columbia. He compared rates from British Columbia to eastern points under the agreement and particularly pointed out the heavy burden it imposed on the fruit industry of the Province.

Why You Should Hear My Farewell Lecture on "HEALTH WITHOUT DRUGS"
 1—Because "HEALTH WITHOUT DRUGS" means disease prevention, fewer Hospitals and Asylums and consequently a reduction in taxation.
 2—Because drugs, serums, vaccines, surgery and hospitalization cost 500,000 British Columbians $8,000,000 annually.
 3—Because it is infinitely more profitable to the individual and the country to keep people well and at work.
 The knowledge of how to restore and maintain "HEALTH WITHOUT DRUGS" TRANSCENDS IN IMPORTANCE ANY KNOWLEDGE OF WHICH YOU MAY BECOME POSSESSED. I spent YEARS IN RESEARCH WORK and I will spend the balance of my life in an endeavor to make my discoveries known to others.

FRANCE AGREES GERMANY SHOULD JOIN THE LEAGUE

Paris, Oct. 6.—The French Government to-day handed German Ambassador von Hoesch its reply to the recent German note regarding the admission of Germany to the League of Nations. The reply is presumed to favor the admission of Germany in principle and to conform to the demand Premier Herriot has already expressed, to the effect that Germany should comply with the regulations governing admission to the League.

PRINCE RECEIVES FROM VICTORIANS HEARTIEST GREETINGS ON ARRIVAL

Reached Here on Princess Louise Last Evening. Hundreds Throng to Canadian Pacific Marine Depot To Cheer Heir to Throne.

The Prince of Wales last evening received from Victorians another of those warm welcomes of which he has encountered so many in the present visit to the Dominion, thoroughly demonstrative of the affection which Canada has for the heir to the throne, who has now a home among them.

THE CROWD
 It was an orderly, good tempered and exceedingly patriotic crowd which awaited the arrival of the steamer.

THE ARRIVAL
 When the steamer came alongside, just before dark, there was some delay while the baggage was being handled. Then when the party came along the elevated gangway to the depot entrance the crowd surged for the ward, most conspicuous of the banners aloft being those of the Boy Scouts, the Prince's well-known interest in scouting assuring him from local scouts an enthusiastic welcome.

Zane Grey Writes of Western Indian Fight in Fox Film

Tom Mix and Marion Nixon Star in Capitol Production

Zane Grey, who wrote the stirring Western tale "The Last of the Duanes," the latest Fox production starring Tom Mix, was born in Zanesville, Ohio. His father was a backwoodsman, hunter and farmer in his youth, later becoming a doctor. His mother was a direct descendant of the Zanes, famous on the frontier. One of the author's ancestors, Colonel Ebenezer Zane held Fort Henry, now Wheeling, West Virginia, against the Indians for twenty years. Because of his services in withstanding two sieges, Colonel Zane received from General Washington a grant of 16,900 acres. The Colonel founded Wheeling, Martin's Ferry, Zanesville and several other towns.

Zane Grey went to the University of Pennsylvania and played baseball on the college team. He was a member of the Orange Athletic Club in New Jersey. Later he played professional baseball with Newark of the Eastern League.

This writer of Western life has hunted and fished across the continent, in Canada, Mexico and Central America. He has followed the paths of the old plainsmen, camped close by the trails of buffalo and wild horses and bunked with cowboys on the roundup. By his ancestry and by his experience Zane Grey is qualified to write of the West. His word pictures have the convincing reality that comes only from actual knowledge. He has the art of telling a story forcefully, thrillingly. The medium of the screen adds to Grey's skill a greater scope of vision which heightens the realism.

Tom Mix, born to the saddle, portrays the leading character in the film version of "The Last of the Duanes." He is not an amateur, but a cowboy, but a cowboy going through a role that he has lived all his life. This combination of author, actor and story does much toward making the photoplay one of genuine entertainment. The Capitol Theatre will show "The Last of the Duanes" for six days starting today.

Playing opposite Tom Mix is the delightful Marian Nixon. Her fresh, pliant beauty adds greatly to the romantic element of the picture. But she is generous with her charms and those who see her in this Fox production will be doubly gratified.

"Romance" is Being Shown This Week at Playhouse Theatre

Film Brought Highest Price and Caused Two Years Bidding For Screen Rights

There has probably never been a single story that was ever written for the stage or screen that has caused so much comment as has that of "Romance," by Edward Sheldon, one of America's greatest writers, which has been screened by United Artists Corporation and in which Miss Doris Keane, America's most famous emotional actress, plays the role of the operatic singer, the same as she has on the stage in New York, Chicago, Boston and London, during the past six years.

The right for this play passed into Miss Keane's and her manager, Charles Dillingham's hands from Winthrop Ames and Lee Shubert. At the time the play was bought by Miss Keane the money paid was without doubt the largest amount in actual cash ever given for the rights of any American play.

Miss Keane believed in it; so did Mr. Sheldon and when it came to New York, it was the season's greatest success; it followed with two seasons in Chicago; one in Boston and nearly three straight years in London.

It is a matter of record that the most active bidding that has ever taken place for the purchase of a story for its screen rights in the motion picture industry, developed in connection with the purchase of "Romance," now showing at the Playhouse.

Miss Keane, who owned the play, had actually been pestered for two years for the screen rights; she considered but few until negotiations were opened with United Artists Corporation, who purchased it and at the same time contracted for the services of Miss Keane to appear in the leading role, as she did on the stage.

The Johnson Musical Comedy Company, now playing at the Playhouse, will this week present the musical success, "Little Miss Fluff," with an entirely new chorus of pretty girls. Special dance and singing numbers will be rendered. Joey Johnson is without doubt the best comedian that has been seen in Victoria lately, and patrons are assured of a really first-class evening's entertainment.

PORTO RICO SHOWS INCREASE IN TRADE

San Juan, Porto Rico, Oct. 6.—The trade of Porto Rico for the year ended June 30 reached a total of $177,665,184, according to a report of the collector of customs just completed, showing an increase of more than $12,000,000 over last year. The island's trade for the year was approximately eleven times that of 1900, when it was $16,000,000 and showed an increase of $38,000,000 since 1914, the last pre-war year.

For the first time since 1907 there was an unfavorable balance of trade against the island amounting to a little more than $1,000,000. The share of the total trade between Porto Rico and the United States was ninety-one per cent., a decline of one per cent. from the previous year.

Total purchases from the United States were $159,521,021, a total value of imports of $89,869,632. Exports to the United States were valued at $30,754,978, and to foreign countries $7,521,585, making a total value of exports $38,276,563.

There was an increase of forty-two per cent. in the exports to foreign countries, indicating that the island is growing as a distributing point for nearby countries of the Caribbean. There was also an increase of fifty per cent. in the number of vessels entering and clearing from Porto Rican ports during the year.

'The Signal Tower' Dominion Showing of Railroad Story

Virginia Valli Seen With Excellent Cast in Universal Film

Proneness to over-emphasize the manner in which humans with whom the world is acquainted intimately as a class has been held to be a fault in most sage or screen delineations of life, but this criticism cannot be applied to "The Signal Tower," Universal-Jewel, starring Virginia Valli, which was given its first showing in the Dominion Theatre to-day. For once, at least, the screen has given its devotees real human beings, and, evidently, exaggeration is taboo among the working materials of the Dominion Theatre to-day. For once, at least, the screen has given its devotees real human beings, and, evidently, exaggeration is taboo among the working materials of the Dominion Theatre to-day.

Virginia Valli has done some fine things before the screen, but never has she appeared more as if she were going through an ordinary routine of daily existence without thought of "acting" than in her present vehicle. Here, she takes the part of a young wife who lives for her husband and their child in the home of a signal tower along the line of rails running through a lonely forest.

Of course there is a big theme—a powerful theme in fact—in "The Signal Tower." The spectator is filled with understanding, just by reason of the innate humanness of the glimpse of "just living."

"The Signal Tower" is not a "spectacle production" in the way of numbers of cast and hugeness of "sets," but if there be any more majestic setting for a story than the giant redwood forests of Northern California, or any more appealing setting than happy life in a humble home, then neither has been found by producers of motion pictures. Whether photography can be said to enhance such settings is a debatable question, but if it can, then the cameramen who filmed "The Signal Tower" have done it.

"The Signal Tower" truly is a faithful story and picture. Rockcliffe Fellowes is convincing as the husband, and Wallace Beery is at his best as the boarder.

The cast includes Sally Tolliver, Virginia Valli; Dave Tolliver, Rockcliffe Fellowes; Sonny Tolliver, fox trot; "Charley, My Boy," shimmy one-step. They will introduce during the evening a number of novelty features that have not been heard before in Victoria, and there is no doubt they will be a very welcome addition to the programme of pictures provided.

Mary Pickford as Dorothy Vernon at Columbia Theatre

Filmom's First Star Returns in Stirring Presentation of Elizabethan Days

Without exception the members of the cast of Mary Pickford's latest photoplay for United Artists Corporation, "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," which comes to-day to the Columbia Theatre, constitutes an even greater aggregation of stage and screen stars than any list of players that ever supported her in any of her previous picture offerings. It is said:

Miss Pickford in the role of Dorothy Vernon is again the grown young woman. This character, however, is wholly different from that of the little street singer so exquisitely portrayed in "Rosita," the picture in which Miss Pickford first assumed a grown-up role.

The part of Sir John Manners is played by Allan Forrest, who recently worked in Jackie Coogan's "In the Palace of the King."

Anders Randolph, who appeared in "The Bright Shawl," takes the part of Sir George Vernon, and Marc McDermott, well known on stage and screen, makes an admirable Sir Malcolm Vernon, cousin of Dorothy, to whom she has been betrothed against her will.

Queen Elizabeth is interpreted by Clare Eames, well known for her brilliant work as England's famous queen.

Estelle Taylor, popular screen star, who has just finished with Cecil De Mille in "The Ten Commandments," was chosen as Queen Mary.

Mme. Carrie Daumery, widow of the famous violinist, Ysaye, has the part of Lady Vernon, mother of Sir Malcolm, and Lord Burley, counselor to Queen Elizabeth, is ably handled by Eric Mayne, who did notable work in "Susanna" and "The Light That Failed."

Lottie Pickford Forrest, sister of the star, and who has not been seen on the screen for more than two years, is cast as Genry Faxon, maid and confidante of Dorothy Vernon, and the part of Perkins, servant and retainer of Sir John Manners, is played by Malcolm Waite.

In the role of the Earl of Rutland is Wilfred Lucas, while Courtenay Foote portrays the Earl of Leicester. Each of these two players has had extensive experience.

"I must have been born unlucky." "What makes you say that?" "Well, I went to a Rugby football match once. There were thirty players on the field, a couple of thousand people on the benches, a thousand in the grand stand, and the ball hit me."

Winsome Elaine Hammerstein in 'Drums of Jeopardy'

All-star Cast Appearing in Film This Week at Coliseum Theatre

Although the dainty and winsome Elaine Hammerstein is the star of "Drums of Jeopardy" now playing an extended engagement at the Coliseum Theatre, she is supported by players who are in reality stars in their own right. Wallace Beery who portrays the character of Karlov, the secret agent of the Russian Government, has been starred in many offerings in the past. He has appeared in innumerable successes, his latest big parts being in "Douglas Fairbank's Robin Hood" and in "Richard the Lion-Hearted." In "Drums of Jeopardy" he does his unusual impressive work. Jack Mulhall, who takes the leading male role opposite Miss Hammerstein, was one of the first of the featured leading men having taken these parts even before the days of the feature-length photoplay.

play. He has been starred in his own right in a number of pictures and in "Drums of Jeopardy," by his convincing, inspired portrayal of the Russian prince, he lives up to the great reputation he has made for himself.

Other prominent artists who appear in this photoplay are David Torrence, who with his brother Ernest Torrence have created a standard among character artists in motion pictures; Maude George, a favorite of many years standing, who has been starred in pictures of her own and Eric Mayne, well known character actor.

Romeo and Juliet

Starring Ben Turpin, the Cross-eyed Comedian

GREEN ROOM NOTES

The Selwyns have hearkened to the pleas of the few large cities that have not seen the beautiful portrayal of Juliet given by Jane Cowl and, in association with Adolph Klauber, have arranged that she go on a short tour in "Romeo and Juliet" before "New York sees her in a new play this season. Rollo Peten will again play Romeo and the supporting cast is to be selected from the other members of Miss Cowl's permanent company, all of whom appeared in the original New York production of "Romeo and Juliet" when it enjoyed the longest consecutive run of any Shakespearean play ever produced. Miss Cowl began her season in Toronto, on September 15 and will visit a number of other cities before going to Chicago this month, where she will be seen in other of her repertoire plays in addition to "Romeo and Juliet."

The story that the "base residents of Hollywood, Culver City and other movie capitals are so used to seeing pictures made that they pay no attention to street-chases, mob scenes, is a myth.

They do not tire of seeing pictures made any more than the farmer in the field tires of seeing the Twentieth Century Limited pass. He will always stop work to watch it go by, and so do people living where pictures are made every day.

The engagement of Frank Loomis as house manager of the Astor Theatre, New York, during the world premier run of "Captain Blood," was a reminder of the youth of the picture industry. Mr. Loomis was manager of the Criterion Theatre, New York, when Vitagraph took it over a few years ago—the first house on Broadway ever to be devoted exclusively to "the movies."

R. William Neill, who directed "Broken Laws" for Mrs. Wallace Reid, has by a combination of birth and racial descent, all the qualities that go to make up an ideal director.

Mr. Neill was born in Dublin, Ireland, but is of Spanish parentage. His real name is Roland DeGostrie. He assumed the name of Neill almost thirty years ago and it is doubtful if anyone in this country knows his antecedents or real name.

For ten years "Roy" Neill, as he was then known was stage manager at the Alcazar Theatre in San Francisco, which at the time housed the famous Belasco Stock Company. He made his debut in motion pictures as assistant to Thomas H. Ince when he produced his famous war spectacle, "Civilization."

When Mrs. Reid, searching for a director who would be in sympathy with her plans for a picture on law observance, interviewed William Neill, she immediately recognized his creative genius and engaged him to direct "Broken Laws." The results have surpassed her hopes. The famous English actor Percy Hutchinson and his London company arrived aboard the S. S. Metagama at Montreal Friday. Mr. Hutchinson will not open his tour until October 13 at Ottawa, the intervening time being consumed with getting the London production of "Bull Dog Drummond" assembled for the Canadian tour under the direction of Theatrical Enterprises Ltd.

"ISLE OF SPICE" WAS TALK OF TOWN FOURTEEN YEARS AGO

It is just fourteen years since "The Isle of Spice" was the talk of the town after a record run at the old Victoria Theatre. No musical comedy of that time left such an enviable reputation behind it, and small wonder when the beautiful music combined with the wonderful situations contained in it are taken into account. Nor is it going to lose any of its charm and humor in the able hands of Reginald Hincks and his talented company who are re-rehearsing night and day for its presentation at the Royal Theatre for the week commencing Monday, October 13. A fine cast has been chosen and the costumes and scenic effects are to be of the most elaborate scale. Taken altogether the theatre-going public can be assured of a real treat in store for them.

PERCY GRAINGER

After leaving Percy Grainger's piano recital I had in mind to start this review with an analytical attempt trying to show why Grainger is a great pianist, a truly great pianist. I realize now that it would be ludicrous to theorize upon his "greatness." He verily inspired a large audience, not merely a few besides myself who always went away musically and personally uplifted. He fully doubted his programme, I think, so intent was the desire of hearing him play more. Of course he gave pleasure, but he did more. He helped us to a vision, helped us to hear more between single tones, and between single chords than we had heard for a long time. He helped us to realize again what piano playing is, and how music for the piano can sound, just as Kreisler or Isyze are a revelation on the violin. Truly Grainger does bring back to us that unalloyed vision of music for the pianoforte. Listen to his Bach. Why do we not hear more Bach generally, I never was able to fathom. I know that there are few who do have the Bach style Grainger seems to possess, as it were, second nature to him. Lo, his Bach is not only ecstatic, it is heroic. And what is this "heroic" quality but a more brightly-burning spark of the divine in man? And that is why Grainger inspires. Because he has the vision. His Bach playing is pianistic perfection.

One may take technic for granted with him. One can but smile at his manner of playing octave runs. But that element alone does not make his Bach ring true; consciously or not, he plays Bach with an "organ in mind," especially in this instance, the D Major Prelude and Fugue for organ, arranged for piano by Busoni.

Even a Grainger review must have its limitations under the auctory of the editor. Just so much, then, of his arrangements of folk-songs and of folk-dances, which are done in music, uniting the singing love of the people with the highest standard of technical means in music. They are inspiring again because their form does not predominate their contents, the message of the folk-music. To hear him play them reveals their simplicity of charm, for under his fingers the elegy of Ireland, or the buoyant air of the Highland bagpipes speak from the heart of the one people to that of another. Thus Grainger is a universal musician, one who through the power of his individuality is among the few who claim that yet unconfessed degree of "doctor humanitas causa."—From Saturday Night, Los Angeles, Cal., April 28, 1923, by Bruno Usher.

GREATLY IMPRESSED WITH THE WEST

Rev. Frank Charters, D.D., the scholarly Montreal clergyman, very much amused the audience at the complimentary luncheon on Saturday afternoon by telling a story of a recent visit to Inverness, Scotland, where a storekeeper had referred to a relative as having migrated to that "outlandish" place, Victoria, B.C. Now that the delegates had visited the outlandish place, they realized that the hospitality became more marked as they proceeded Westward. It had been a wonderful reception all across from Winnipeg, he stated.

A most successful meeting was the description of J. A. Cameron of Montreal, sovereign commander, who continued with the party through to Portland, for which point about forty left yesterday afternoon. He stated that the result of the visit, the first occasion to hold a convention West of Winnipeg, where they met thirteen years ago, would probably be to hold further meetings on the Pacific coast. It was very satisfactory that they had added to the supreme council so well-known a Mason as J. E. Miller, who had previously been an honorary member. This assured that British Columbia and Victoria in particular would be represented in the inner circle of the Rite.

J. R. Seymour, the British Columbia deputy, was cordially thanked for his participation in the arrangements, which had brought about so satisfactory a gathering.

DAY OF ATONEMENT

The Day of Atonement, in Hebrew Yom Kippur, falls this year on October 8. It is celebrated with a profoundly impressive ritual service on the evening of Oct. 7 and all day of Oct. 8. Observant Jews fast on this day and sedulously refrain from all labor or secular matters, considering it a "Sabbath of Sabbaths." The fast occurs on the tenth day of the month of Tishri, according to the lunar Jewish calendar and is prescribed in Leviticus 16 and 23, where it is entitled a Sabbath of solemn rest. No other feast or fast except the Sabbath Year is designated so significantly.

On this day as on no other the synagogues are crowded with worshippers, gratified to afflict the soul. It is small wonder that this fast holds the reverence and inspires the awe of scattered Israel. It is so deeply personal and yet so powerfully communal that it seems to cleanse the soul of the worshipper as well as that of the community. Its observance dates back beyond historic record. Fortunately, some part of its observance in pre-Christian times is preserved in the Mishna. On that day the High Priest, attired in simple white instead of the gorgeous sacerdotal vestments of his office, made atonement for himself, his family and the whole house of Israel and entered the Holy of Holies, where "behind the veil" he solemnly invoked the demands of God. At the sound of the divine name the throngs of worshippers fell prostrate, exclaiming, "Blessed be His glorious name forever and ever, to be answered with the assurance, "Ye are pure."

According to Jewish thought, the act of fasting and the ritual are not the potent factors of the day. The important thing is the individual's own resolution to know his shortcomings and to amend them. As the Talmud points out, the inhabitants of Nineveh were not pardoned, according to the narrative of Jonah, because they put on sackcloth and ashes but because they repented. The great ritual is a reminder of God's mercy and grace, the fasting is a denial of the demands of the flesh until man's spirit may regain the mastery in the guidance of his conduct. Atonement, reformed life, the new spiritual strength are achieved through God's grace sound through prayer and self-denial.

Sin is a terrible taskmaster and the shaking off of its bonds requires great effort. Hence we find the Jews emphasizing the struggle against it not only in all their prayers but especially in the solemn fast-day of atonement. Not only do they seek guidance and help against personal sin but also against that of the whole community. It is significant that on the Day of Atonement the ancient Israelites were commanded to blow the trumpet, "shofar," as a sign of the year of Jubilee, when all debtors and slaves were to be released. "Proclaim liberty throughout the land to all the inhabitants thereof," is the Bible phrase, one well-known to all Canadians. Hence the Day of Atonement is dedicated to human freedom from the greatest of all slavery, the domination of sin.

NEW SCHOOL INSPECTORS

Regina, Sask., Oct. 6.—Appointments of four new members of the provincial school inspection staff were announced to-day by Hon. E. J. Latta, Minister of Education. The new provincial inspectors are: Dr. G. B. Stillwell, M.A.; D. Paed of Moose Jaw, who will be inspector of high schools; Fred W. Bates, B.A., M.Sc., at present employed by the Department of Education; J. A. MacLennan, B.A., principal of St. Mary's School, Regina; and E. T. Gough, B.A., principal of the Humboldt High School.

Challies, Director of Waterpower of Canada, Resigns

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—J. B. Challies, C.E., Director of Waterpower and Reclamation in the Department of Interior, has resigned from the Government service and will join the Shawinigan Water and Power Company of Montreal.

Mr. Challies has been Director of Waterpower since 1919 and chief engineer of the hydrometric survey since 1918.

I Paid $5

For these powders once

By Edna Wallace Hopper I was asked to offer women my aids to youth and beauty, and I did. They are, I believe, the greatest in existence, for I searched the world to get them.

Then countless women asked me about powders. I am an actress and a movie star. We in our world care nothing for expense. Anything which adds to our beauty is worth many times its cost. So I have long paid $5 per box, as have others, to obtain the very utmost in a powder. Each lot was made to my order.

Now I have asked the makers to supply these identical powders, in quantities, at prices all could pay. I have agreed to market them to women who desire them. Thus I was able to supply these same powders at nominal prices. I owe that to the kindness of the makers.

I use a heavy cold-cream powder, based on my Youth Cream. It clings and stays. This I call my Youth Cream Powder. But many women like a powder light and fluffy. So I have this powder made in two forms.

The Owl Drug Co. now supply my Youth Cream Powder and my light Face Powder. Both come in three shades—white, flesh and brunette.

There may be greater powders in the world, but I have never found them, and I have consulted the greatest experts. I know that anyone who compares them with ordinary powders will be amazed and delighted.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send you something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 556 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

WHAT TORNADO DID TO STEEL TRESTLE—This was a 120-foot steel bridge before the tornado came. But it might have been so much cardboard for all the wind cared. It was a railroad trestle on the Soo line, near Withee, Wis. Fifty were killed in the storm.

LATEST IN STYLES—Smart creations from the boulevards of Paris or Fifth Avenue in New York have been more numerous this Fall than last Spring meeting in Toronto. Above is shown a smart gown of the prevailing mode for the younger set. White fox is maintaining its popularity this season despite the invasion of many new shades of this popular fur.

frightfully warm, m'sieur. Could I trouble you for a glass of water. The heat makes me faint."
 Latour sprang to get her the water and Julie offered to go for ammonia salts. The visitor was very pale, but she dismissed their solicitude with a light laugh, and unfurling a tiny fan, fluttered it with admirable poise.
 "Please don't be alarmed, I'm quite all right. But I shall be thankful to get back to Switzerland next week. I find Washington intolerable in Summer."
 Latour made fresh tea and the three of them had a cosy little party. Julie found herself curiously drawn to the woman with the wise, sad eyes. She wondered if at last she was beginning to overcome her deplorable aversion with strangers. Or was it that her interest was aroused because Mrs. Danforth came from Cranston and had known her father?
 When the visitor rose to go, Julie rose also.
 "I must be going too," she told Latour. "I forgot to leave food for Peter and the poor darling will be starved."
 "Peter?" the older woman's brow raised. "Peter is your son?"
 Julie shook her head. "My cat," she explained shyly, "and my chaperone incidentally. You see, my husband is spending the Summer in the West."

KAMLOOPS CITIZEN DIED IN VANCOUVER

J. A. Lavery Built Colonial Hotel, Landmark of Interior City
 Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Joseph A. Lavery, proprietor of the Colonial Hotel, Kamloops, and pioneer resident of the Kamloops district, died in St. Paul's Hospital here Saturday. Mr. Lavery, who was sixty years old, built the first hotel in the interior capital, the building now being considered one of the old landmarks. He came to Vancouver only one month ago.
 Born in St. Jean, Quebec, he came to the Province forty years ago. He is survived by a widow, three daughters, Mrs. J. C. Gerow, Miss Myrtle and Miss Ethel all of Kamloops, and two sons, Arthur and Clifford, also of Kamloops. Four brothers also survive him, George of Kamloops, August L. of Westminister, and Gilbert and Sullust of Montreal.

 The funeral was held at 9 o'clock this morning at Mount Royal View Cemetery, where the body was cremated.
 Two cinema managers met one morning, and the following conversation ensued:
 "I hear you sacked your orchestra last night."
 "Yes, it was like this. It was the great scene in the big picture. The hero stood in the dock, and just as the judge was putting on the black cap, to pronounce sentence of death, the band began to play. 'Where did you get that hat?'"

The Surprising Sex

By MILDRED BARBOUR—A "hor of 'Love Stakes,' Etc.
A NEW ACQUAINTANCE
 The Summer season at the university was over. Julie was taking her French lesson at Latour's studio. It was a very hot day and the sun beat down unmercifully on the lowered awning and the street outside drowsed in mid-afternoon languor. The postman's bell startled them. Latour sprang up.
 "May I be excused, Madame, while I go to secure the mail?"
 He came back presently, his lean, olive-skinned face wearing a peculiar expression.
 "Viola, madame!" he laid a letter in her lap.
 She picked it up. It bore, in one corner, the letterhead of the magazine to which he had sent his manuscript.
 "Will you open it for me? You shall break me the bad news," he said boyishly.

ON THE CREST OF THE SELKIRKS

High up on the crest of the lofty Selkirk with half a dozen of the finest mountain peaks in the world hunching their snow-clad shoulders about its rows of trim brown houses, the picturesque town of Glacier on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway through British Columbia. Three and a half miles distant from this little construction centre, which has virtually been called into being through the lining of the Connaught Tunnel, hangs the great Illcillewaet Glacier on the slopes of Mount Macdonald and two miles nearer nestles Glacier House, the annual mecca of thousands of Summer tourists.
 Few of the surrounding peaks at Glacier are less than 9,000 feet in altitude. The famous Choops, Mount Sir Donald, Ross, Eagle and Abbott Peaks encircle the little settlement. In winter-time a blanket of snow enfolds town and mountains alike. In Spring the brilliant yellow slide hills follow the ever-receding snow line as it climbs higher and higher up the mountain sides. Life is enlivened in the summertime by the crowds of guests who throng Glacier House and Autumn transforms the scene again with generous splashes of orange and crimson and russet.
 Common interest in the great engineering project under way has brought about a very definite community spirit at Glacier. For almost every youngster's daddy works in the big tunnel in one or other of the various branches of work which the lining demands, and every household in regulated by a schedule of working hours which begin at 5 a.m. and end at 1.15. Half a hundred children attend the little brown school-house and various clubs for the grown-ups provide interests of a recreational and cultural nature.
 Engineers, fomenen, carpenters, machinists, drillers, electricians, laborers and train crews make up the wage earners among the 500 residents of Glacier. Single men live in a well-ordered camp. Here, as in the little houses where the men with families live, all the conveniences of a modern city are enjoyed including electric lights and running water piped from a nearby mountain stream.
 The lining of this five-mile tunnel, the longest on the American continent, with a steel reinforced concrete jacket, represents one of the most interesting engineering projects now under way anywhere in the world.
 Beneath 6,000 feet of mountain the Connaught Tunnel cuts under Mount Macdonald between the stations of Connaught and Glacier. With the opening of this underground shortcut in 1916 the Canadian Pacific Railway overcame the many difficulties which the old Rogers Pass route had presented. Track curvature to an amount corresponding to seven complete circles was eliminated; the summit attained by the railway was reduced by 552 feet; the track was shortened by four and a half miles and more than four miles of snow sheds which had been necessary on the slopes of Mount Macdonald were dispensed with. The lining of the "big hole" was begun in 1920 and when this work is completed the Connaught Tunnel will stand as one of the finest and most complete engineering jobs in the universe. Undertaken in the name of safety, the Connaught Tunnel has always been a "safety first" proposition. Throughout its construction days, during the eight years it has been in operation and the four years that it has already taken to line it, it has been singularly free from accident.
 Nearly 600,000 sacks of Canadian cement will have gone into the lining of the Connaught Tunnel when it is finished. Practically all the machinery used in the lining process came from a western Canadian plant and the Sydney E. Jenkins Company, B.C., Limited, construction engineers, are in charge of its lining.
 The tunnel's concrete jacket is completed in sections twenty-two feet long, each section taking about four or five days to prepare, when it is sometimes necessary to do considerable blasting, one day to fill with concrete and three days in which to set. Six complete sets of forms are at about three feet and tunnel which means a completed section for every working day in six weeks, or a total of 132 feet in six days.
 More than 100 powerful flood lamps illuminate the tunnel at these six working points. Owing to the remarkable ventilating system, which in itself is one of the most interesting and important features of the tunnel, working conditions are excellent. At the western portal two great steel fans driven by two 500-horse-power, four-cylinder semi-Diesel engines turn at the rate of 255 revolutions in a minute driving a brisk breeze through the five-mile length of this great underground passage. The ventilation thus created makes it possible for trains to pass through the tunnel with practically no discomfort to passengers and for workmen to remain at their tasks for eight consecutive hours without detriment to health or vigor.
 One comes upon many surprising things in the course of a walk through this great double-tracked

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts
 Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some forms, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.
 The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.
 Jad Salts can not injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

PLANTING ALPINE SHRUBS

If properly treated shrubs can be made a splendid feature of any rockery; careful planting and selection needed.
 By JOHN HUTCHISON, F. R. H. S.

The Alpine garden, which will be the feature of many a beauty spot created this Autumn, should be something more than a mere rockery; but still, even in the smallest rock garden, room may be found for one or two of the dwarf shrubs.
 When properly planted—and they are best planted in the Fall—dwarf shrubs are a great aid to the beauty of any rock garden. The type has so arranged that both plants and shrubs should be planted in the time when the various shrubs bloom, or carry their berries, and how they will group with the other plants in the rock garden. In one spot, for instance it may be desirable to have a splash of color at some particular season of the year, in which case it should be so arranged that both plants and shrubs bloom at the same time. In some other part of the rock garden it may be the gardener's wish to have two periods of bloom. If this is the case it is well to arrange them so that the plants shall make the show of color at an early date, and that the color scheme shall be carried on later by the shrubs. In the case of the Azalea, three dwarf shrubs may be made threefold by having a Spring-flowering shrub followed by the bloom of Alpine plants and later the color may be kept up by the berries of the shrub which has already bloomed. As nearly all dwarf shrubs have to be imported it is well to make a selection early so that the nurseryman or dealer may be able to get them during the proper planting season, which is from November till March. The earlier the better.
SOME DWARFS
 Where something very dwarf indeed is required Andromeda tetragnona, a very minute species, from Lapland, will be found useful. It never grows taller than six inches and has heath-like foliage and large, solitary, white bell-shaped flowers. This plant likes partial shade, but in half shade. It has crimson-purple foliage and looks well against a background of green.
 One would scarcely expect to find a suitable shrub for the rock garden among the Buddleias, but Buddleia variabilis Nannoensis exactly fits the case. Introduced from Chinese Tibet, it is a miniature of the well-known variety, and seldom exceeds two feet in height, with wiry stems that terminate in long spikes of lavender-purple flowers.
 The genus Cistus (better known as the sun rose), is rich in splendid material for the purpose under discussion. Probably the best is Cistus florentinus, for its large white flowers, semi-prostrate habit, and dwarf, compact growth make it very attractive. If one wants something of stronger color from the same family, Cistus purpureus will meet the case, although its habit is more upright and must have a protected situation, where it will not be badly cut with frost.
AZALEAS AND RHODODENDRONS
 If one is able to supply peat or, at any rate, deep leaf-mould, the Azaleas and dwarf Rhododendrons make splendid subjects for the rock garden shrubbery. The Azaleas like a cool corner, but that does not mean that they should be unduly shaded. Specially good forms of the Azalea for the rock garden are Azalea amoena and its varieties in beautiful shades of red and scarlet, and Azalea Hindoo, with its masses of single fiery-red flowers. In some places the Kurume Azaleas have been found hardy, but they are expensive still, and it may be as well to let them

MAYOR RECEIVES RELIEF REPORT Assistance From Foreign Countries to Japanese Stricken Area Recorded

Conveying the thanks of the Imperial Japanese Government to Victoria for assistance at the time of the earthquake in six prefectures of Japan on September 1, 1923, Consul I. Gonyo of Vancouver has sent Mayor Hayward a copy of the report of the Emergency Relief Bureau, Tokyo. It shows that almost sixty million yen were poured into the coffers of the workers, of which one-third came from foreign countries, and one-sixth from the Emperor's Privy Purse. Total expenditures for alleviating suffering have amounted to 25,274,855 yen up to the end of March, and there is nearly four and a half million yen left to carry on the work. The families which suffered from the calamity in seven prefectures numbered no less than 592,000, and the total number of sufferers was over 2,740,000, the dead and missing exceeding 130,000, says the report. "The disaster was so appalling a character that the local authorities found it impossible to afford unaided the necessary relief. Accordingly the Government, in the course of energetic efforts to set the popular mind at rest and to maintain peace and order in the affected area, took steps to organize an Emergency Relief Bureau, composed of officials from various Government offices, and in cooperation with the local self-government bodies in Prefectures, towns and villages as well as with auxiliary Government offices, they did everything possible to meet the urgent needs of the sufferers in regard to food, medical treatment, clothing and housing accommodation. They also took other measures necessary for the improvement of the situation brought about by the earthquake, prompt action being taken for the restoration of traffic, communication and business activities in general and also in respect of other matters directly concerned with the daily life of the people."

FOREIGN GIFTS The monetary contributions of foreign countries, received by the Emergency Relief Bureau before the end of March this year, totaled 120,450,710 yen. This, together with the 37,837,710 yen and negotiable securities of face value of 1,307,510 yen representing contributions received at home in the same period, was placed under strict control. The expenditure was decided upon before the end of March last, and was mainly for provisions, clothing, fuel, construction of small houses, medical attendance, hospitals, public nurseries, temporary boarding-houses, construction of permanent dwelling-houses for the sufferers and other undertakings for their benefit, as well as for monetary aid to public bodies organized for the execution of various undertakings rendered necessary by the disaster.

MONEY SPENT "The total amount of the expenditure already made or decided upon at the end of March last, and at the same date, deducting that amount, there was still available a sum of 4,433,292 yen in cash representing the remaining monetary contributions and the value of contributed articles, and a sum of 1,307,510 yen in negotiable securities, the calculation being made at their face value. These resources will be used to meet the cost of maintenance of various establishments instituted for the benefit of the sufferers and other items of expenditure necessary for the carrying through of the relief work. If any surplus should remain after these requirements have been met, it is proposed to apply it in aid of the above-mentioned public bodies formed to carry out various undertakings to meet the exigencies arising from the earthquake disaster, and for whose formal organization the necessary steps are now in progress. In conclusion, we wish to record, on behalf of the Japanese Government and people, an expression of sincere thanks for the generous sympathy and hearty assistance extended to us by foreign countries."

BILLS FOR BIRDS "Don't you envy the birds," asked Miss Gusher, "rising before dawn to seek their breakfast among the flowers?" "No." "But—so care-free!" Miss Gusher persisted. "No grocer to pay; no landlord—"

GONZALES AND QUIMPER'S CLAIM ON POSTERITY Some Reasons For Commemorating Names in the Vicinity of Foul Bay

The reasons for selecting Gonzales Hill as the location of the proposed cairn and monument by the Historic Sites and Monument Board of Canada, as briefly reported in The Times on Saturday, is set out in a statement made by G. C. Pemberton, with special allusion to the discussion on the proposed change of the name of the Foul Bay and Foul Bay Road. It will be recalled Mr. Pemberton suggested through these columns that if a change were made Quimper Bay and Point would be appropriate. "I thought this would be a fitting name," he states, "in view of the fact that Gonzales Hill has been recognized as an official landmark on the early explorers of the Straits of Juan de Fuca because Quimper named Gonzales Point, Lopez Island and the historic Canal de Haro after him first."

ALL NOW READY "It was felt that Victoria was lagging behind in the matter of securing recognition of her historic pre-eminence. It was proposed at one of the meetings of the Historical Society of British Columbia that a landmark to the early explorers of the Straits should be established in this vicinity. Thanks to Judge Howay this has been accomplished and all that now remains is to select the spot on which to erect a cairn and affix a tablet. Then the dedication can take place. Oak Bay Corporation has offered twenty-five square yards in their park. If the Geographic Board sees fit to change the name I think that of Quimper would be suitable in connection with the official landmark. "In reference to the changing of the name of Foul Bay Road to Gonzales Avenue, if this is deemed advisable it could easily be accomplished by the name of the streets in Oak Bay Municipality, starts from Maquinna Avenue and extends to Crescent Road and could thence proceed along Crescent Road and up Foul Bay Road to Lansdowne Road. If the present Foul Bay Road is at any time extended through the Hudson Bay Company's land, it will probably touch Gordon Head Road; thus, if Foul Point were changed to Quimper Point Gonzales Avenue could be made to extend from Maquinna Road at Quimper Point right through to Gordon Head. The change of the name of Foul Bay Road can only be made, I suppose, if desired by the property owners and will need the consent of the municipal councils of Oak Bay and Saanich. "Gonzales Avenue was so called on Map 1250, filed by the Gonzales Realty Company Limited. Two portions of a street stretching from Foul Bay Road to Rockland Avenue have since, I believe, been called Gonzales Avenue on Plans Nos. 2664, 2666, and 2669."

ORGANIZING STAND BY PRESBYTERIANS Newly Formed Church Association to Fight Provincial Union Legislation

The Presbyterian Association of British Columbia, in view of the bill to be presented to the Legislature next month, is appointing a legal committee to watch the legislation. It has established offices at Room 30, Imperial Block, Vancouver, and several meetings have already been held. The president, Rev. R. G. MacBeth, D.D., was in the chair and W. J. White was secretary. Rev. W. Leslie Clay, D.D., of Victoria, is vice-president and W. M. Fraser, treasurer. At the opening session the meeting reaffirmed its adherence to the standards of the Presbyterian Church and expressed determination to maintain that church both in Canada and abroad. Trustees had been appointed in Toronto to receive contributions for the maintenance of the Presbyterian Church and large augmentation fund was being raised to assist Presbyterians in all fields, where those who did not enter the United Church desired to continue the services of their own church. It was stated that the Parliament at Ottawa had so amended the bill that now all congregations had the right to vote as to whether they would enter the United Church or not. The vote would be taken by ballot one time within six months before the act came into force next June. It was well known, the report stated, that hundreds of congregations would not enter the United Church and several hundred ministers had signed a pledge to continue as Presbyterian ministers to carry on the work. Presbyterian synods and

General Assembly would be formed. The finance committee will raise $5,000 to carry on the work in British Columbia, to hold meetings, to circulate literature and to inform the people through the press and otherwise.

THE AUTHOR'S ERROR

"I read that book you wrote about ancient history," said Lowbrow, "and I can't say much for it; there are too many mistakes in it." "How's that?" inquired the surprised author. "Well, one thing made me laugh. You said a fellow named Epicurus was born in 348 B.C., and then a little farther on you said he died 279 B.C. That kills him off before he was born."

HOW PRAIRIE TOWN GREETED PRINCE—Practically every man, woman and child in the village of Alaska, on the boundary line between Alberta and Saskatchewan, were at the depot when the special train carrying the Prince of Wales made a brief stop while on the way west. The school children were given the post of honor near the Prince's car and gave him a vociferous cheer when he appeared on the rear platform.
