SOCIETY CIRCUS TO SWELL FUND FOR CLUB BUILDING

Women Make Plans for Big Event November 18 at Home of Elks

Now that the summer series of parties and entertainments and the big fashion show, which have been given for the benefit of the building fund of the Tuesday Afternoon club, are over the members of that organization and particularly of the ways and means committee, of which Mrs. A. H. Montgomery is chairman, are giving their undivided attention to plans for the big society circus and bazaar to be held on November 18.

Through the courtesy of the Glendale lodge of Elks their entire club house has been given over for this big event, which will be in charge of the ways and means committee with Mrs. Montgomery as general chairman.

Starting at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, November 18, and continuing until midnight this event promises to be one of the biggest and most successful things of its kind ever attempted in Glendale.

Big Street Parade Mrs. Montgomery is planning to have a big street parade at noon in which there will be circus clowns and representatives of each of the various booths and attractions at the circus.

The parcel post booth will have as its postman Mrs. Walter Jones, curator of the Shakespeare section, who will be assisted by the members of that section. At this concession packages will be purchased unopened, and the contents of them will be varied.

Mrs. Warren Roberts will be chairman in charge of the fancy needlework booth and will be assisted by the members of the music section, of which she is curator. At that booth all kinds of fancy articles will be disposed of.

Perhaps one of the most novel concessions at the circus and bazaar will be the creative booth, which will be presided over by the members of the art and crafts section with Mrs. Fred Deal, curator, as chairman. Some very unusual and clever articles are being completed for this booth, including fancy baskets, hand made flowers, candlesticks, hand decorated lamp shades, and the like.

Make Booth Plans Mrs. J. E. Sargent, curator of the literary section, will be chairman. (Continued on Page 4)

MAKE AUTO TRIP INTO 23 STATES

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Doolittle and Daughter Here on Visit After Journey

After motoring 6,000 miles through twenty-three states and part of Canada and enjoying some of the choicest scenery of the North American continent Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Doolittle and daughter, Miss Grace, have arrived in Glendale for a visit with their oldest friend, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, who brought them to Glendale late yesterday afternoon.

At Niagara Falls Leaving Charleston in May, the Doolittles motored up the Atlantic coast to their home state, New York. Of that part of their trip, they say the highways were poor until they reached Richmond, Va., when they found paved roads and motoring fine clear to New York. One of the features of their visit in New York was a visit of two days to Niagara Falls.

From New York they motored into Canada and after extensive trips they returned to Detroit, Mich., where they spent a month before starting west. It took them twenty-eight days to make the trip from Detroit to Glendale as they traveled leisurely stopping for sight-seeing and visits with relatives and friends. They report road conditions from Detroit to Iowa fine, but from Iowa on until they reached California, they encountered some wretched roads, particularly in New Mexico and Arizona.

Wonderful Scenery But, regardless of bad roads and intense heat, Mr. and Mrs. Doolittle and their daughter say they were able to describe the wonderful scenery they enjoyed en route west. They spent two days in Denver, climbed Pike's Peak, visited the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest and are now anticipating motoring to various points of interest in California.

The Doolittles hope to locate permanently in Glendale.

HIGH SCHOOL FITS YOUNG FOLK FOR BUSINESS LIFE

Commercial Department Gives Many Pupils Chance to Meet Opportunities

By ART SHERBORNE The opportunities offered to boys and girls at the Glendale Union High School to prepare themselves for the business world are being more and more appreciated each semester, according to George U. Moyses, principal of the school.

The commercial department at the school now has an enrollment of 625 in its various classes. As many students take more than one subject in this department, however, this means an enrollment of about 1,000 interested students in this section of the school.

Seven members of the faculty devote their entire time to commercial subjects. Rhea Baker, who has been connected with the local high school for the past four years, and has had wide experience in the academic and commercial field, is the head of the department. He teaches bookkeeping and business law. Preston A. Fuller's pupils in penmanship have adorned the walls of the room with samples of art work done with the arm movement.

For Business Life Miss Harriett Switzer teaches arithmetic and bookkeeping; Miss Mabel Murphy has classes in business English; Mrs. Alice H. Davies specializes in shorthand; Miss Helen Goldthwaite devotes her time to business arithmetic, and Mrs. Gertrude Ballard instructs those ambitious to learn of the intricacies of the typewriter and comptometer.

The largest enrollment is recorded in the one-year course in business arithmetic. For this subject 185 pupils have registered. The object of this course is to develop accuracy and speed in the manipulation of figures and to acquaint students with principles involved in everyday commercial life.

The beginning classes in this subject have an enrollment of 134 pupils. This semester they will study such subjects as fractions, decimals, various systems of measurement and acquire a great deal of useful information. DR. HENRY K. BOOTH EXPLAINS ROTARY AT CLUB MEET

Long Beach Pastor Makes Inspiring Talk; Plan for Athletic Contests

Other events on the program included a report by President Roy L. Kent on the conference of presidents and secretaries held at Berkeley last week-end, which he and Secretary Rene Olin attended, a report on the Kiwanis-Rotary field day for the benefit of the Verdugo Hills Scout Council and solos by K. New Power in World Arthur H. Dibbern was chairman of the group having the program for the day and in obtaining Dr. Booth, they had one of the greatest exponents of Rotary by word and action to tell the club members what its elements are.

"Rotary has meant the creation of a new power in the world," he said, in the course of his remarks. "I do not know of any influence which has greater potency." Using the club's emblematic wheel as expressive of elements, he said that "hub" was power it (Continued on Page 16)

GUY BATES POST GIVEN $50 FINE

Charged in Eagle Rock Police Court With Speeding Forty-Two Miles

It cost Guy Bates Post, famous actor and movie star, just $50 in the Eagle Rock police court this morning. The charge was that of driving his Pierce Arrow, 42 miles an hour across the Bird Rock bridge, and having no tail light.

He stood before Judge Harold Ide Curzan, looked straight at "his honor" and answered "guilty" to the charge. The amount of the fine evidently came as a complete surprise, for he asked the court if he would be permitted to pay the fine with a check.

Judge Curzan answered, "I guess you will," and the actor paid the fine and left.

Mayor Spencer Robinson remarked that the members of the city council were all in favor of the project, but found it contrary (Continued on Page 16)

Lumber Here for Erection of $500,000 Plant of Sanitarium; Roy L. Kent Secures Big Tract of Land for Industrial Center

Two big factors in Glendale's progress are noted today, the first being the announcement by C. E. Kimlin, manager of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, that 100,000 feet of rough lumber, purchased from the Paganot of Progress in Los Angeles, has been laid on the ground for the erection of their new $500,000 plant in the eastern section of the city.

Roy L. Kent of the R. L. Kent Company also announces the acquisition of a large tract of land at the foot of Colorado street on the west side of Glendale which will be turned into high grade industrial sites, with a Southern Pacific spur track more than a quarter of a mile long to serve the various industries located there.

Keen real estate observers state that Colorado street frontage now is setting a new record for increased values in Glendale, as the word that it will bridge the Los Angeles river to Riverside drive and Griffith Park and probably be paved in its entirety makes this great street stand out as the one great cross town artery.

Eagle Rock, also, will benefit by these improvements. It is stated and frontage in that city, on Colorado boulevard will rise proportionately with the Glendale market. In other lines of endeavor besides real estate, great progress is shown, the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company now completing the installation of two additional sections of switchboard which will accommodate about 2000 more subscribers to the local exchange.

Building to the extent of $650,000 or more will have been done in Glendale this September while the year's total is fast approaching $5,000,000.

Design New Creations and Hold Social Meetings, Is Explanation

Tongues have wagged too freely about the Gingham Gown Girls, assert members of that society of Eagle Rock girls. So here is the explanation.

The society was formed by a dozen young Eagle Rock women who declare that they are not to be dictated to in the matter of fashions. Dresses worn by the Gingham Gown Girls are made entirely of gingham, and the girls believe that this material will become popular in Eagle Rock as a result of their action.

Beyond social meetings, and discussions of styles, the organization limits itself to designing of new creations in gingham, and is not affiliated with the I. W. W.s, Ku Klux Klan, or any other body, it is announced.

The next meeting of the Girls is to be a party at the home of Miss Pauline Miller, 219 South Central avenue, to be held on the evening of October 14.

MONTH GROWTH OF EAGLE ROCK NOW OVER $100,000

Building Permits Indicate Progress Made in City During September

Building permits passed the $100,000 mark in Eagle Rock for September on Thursday, when the following permits were issued:

A four-room house, to be erected at 141 South Douglas, by R. F. Wade, to cost $2250.

A one-room addition, to be built on C. H. Gaylor's home, at 135 North Royal drive, to cost $300.

A one-room garage, to be built by Horace B. Curtis on the rear of the lot at 129 North Acacia avenue.

At the present rate it is probable that the permits will climb still higher before the end of the month, which will be tomorrow noon when the city hall closes on the half holiday.

CALL MEETING OF C. OF C. OFFICERS TUESDAY P. M.

Eagle Rock Chamber Is Very Much Alive; Make Plans for Coming Year

A special meeting of the newly-elected executive officers of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce has been called for Tuesday night, October 3, at 8 o'clock, in the office of the Eagle Rock Daily News, 113 East Colorado boulevard.

It is understood that this meeting has been called for the purpose of outlining new policies and plans for the coming year.

This meeting will also be the occasion for the officers to get together and plan on the different committees that must be appointed to carry on some of the important work that is to be planned.

There will be no appointments made on such committees, however, this being reserved for the next regular open meeting of the Chamber of Commerce that is to be held the last Tuesday in October. At that time it is expected that all members will be present to have a voice in such appointments, according to President Root and Secretary Van Sands, who got together Thursday morning and made plans to call this special meeting.

At the start the library will consist of about 60,000 volumes, and provision has been made in the plans for the addition of many more. On the third floor will be the seminar rooms, and one of the best equipped art rooms on the coast.

Indirect lighting will be used throughout, having been declared the best for study purposes. The heating system will be internal and independent of the central system.

Eagle Rock Firm Goes Out of Business; Attach Part of Stock

Deputy Constable Edward McCarty was busy Thursday packing two big cases with what remains of the haberdashery stock of the firm of Wilson & Vaughan, who, during August, conducted a haberdashery and clothing store at 119 East Colorado boulevard, Eagle Rock.

Mr. McCarty represents Justice Emery's court in Burbank before whom an attachment against the Eagle Rock firm was filed by L. Boteler of Los Angeles alleging an indebtedness against the firm of $167.77.

As Mr. McCarty explains it, under the law he has been placed in custody of the store until the case is called for trial, but today received orders to pack it in stock preparatory to placing it in storage to await the outcome of the attachment suit.

The removal of the stock Thursday marks the finish to the brief existence of the partnership. Wilson is in jail serving on a sixty-day sentence, imposed upon him by Judge Follette in Los Angeles for transporting liquor, and Vaughan has taken up his residence in Los Angeles where it is understood he is now employed. Nothing now remains in the store but the fixtures, which, it is understood, under the terms of the lease, revert to the owner of the building.

Plans are being made now to equip a regular candy factory for the manufacture of the new orange bar and the other confections.

Several other candy bars are being made for wholesale distribution already at The Poppy Shoppe. A new one, which Mr. Jones says will be the best of its kind on the market, is now almost ready for the public. It is expected to take the youngsters by storm.

Plans are being made now to equip a regular candy factory for the manufacture of the new orange bar and the other confections.

ARE PLANNING DANCE The ladies of the St. Dominic church, Eagle Rock, are planning on a dance, to be given at the Woman's club some time about the middle of October, according to Miss Mary Coffey, who is employed in the Eagle Rock city hall.

COLLEGE LIBRARY FIND MISSING BOY

Occidental Will Have New Building Up and Ready in One Year

Occidental college's new $125,000 library is to be completed and ready for use at the beginning of school next fall, according to announcement made yesterday by officials of the college.

According to previous plans the structure was not to be completed within so short a time, but details have been altered so that it can be used during the next school year.

The concrete structure has been designed to harmonize with the other college buildings. The interior will be modeled after that of the library at Brown university.

To Have Three Floors The building will have three floors, the basement to serve as a receiving and indexing room where new books will be received, and classified. Reading rooms will be located on the main floor with reference books in adjoining rooms.

At the start the library will consist of about 60,000 volumes, and provision has been made in the plans for the addition of many more. On the third floor will be the seminar rooms, and one of the best equipped art rooms on the coast.

Indirect lighting will be used throughout, having been declared the best for study purposes. The heating system will be internal and independent of the central system.

NEW CANDY BAR IS INVENTED HERE

Charles E. Jones to Market Sweet Out of Oranges; Applies for Patents

The sunshine of California is crystallized in an original orange candy bar about to be put on the market by Charles E. Jones, whose retail store at 125 North Brand boulevard is known as The Poppy Shoppe.

So far as Mr. Jones knows, no one has ever succeeded in making a successful candy out of oranges. That he has succeeded is attested by the compliments of confectionery epicures who have sampled the new bar. This is made solely out of oranges and sugar and contains no adulteration or coloring matter. Its purity makes it one of the best of sweets for children.

Applies for Patents Harry Walker, candymaker for The Poppy Shoppe, discovered a method of making this candy bar after some experimentation at the request of Mr. Jones. Patents have been applied for on this process.

Several other candy bars are being made for wholesale distribution already at The Poppy Shoppe. A new one, which Mr. Jones says will be the best of its kind on the market, is now almost ready for the public. It is expected to take the youngsters by storm.

Plans are being made now to equip a regular candy factory for the manufacture of the new orange bar and the other confections.

RECORD OF AUTO TRAFFIC TIEUP

Parents Leave Lad on Desert With Other Youths, Located by Accident

Lost in the desert near Victorville, Marion Dairy, the 6-year-old nephew of Claude Bramble, city marshal of Eagle Rock, has been found and restored to his parents after a most amazing experience.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dairy, left their home in Springfield, Ill., about six weeks ago on an overland trip by auto to California. Marion accompanied them and as their car passed through the various states on its long trip to the Pacific coast, many different motorists were met on the road, and at night in camp Marion would overhear stories, often much exaggerated, about the "terrible trip" that must be encountered in the desert by all motorists before they reach the land of the orange groves.

Desert Before Them At last they reached the Colorado river—the desert lay before them. The car was carefully looked over, an emergency supply of water taken on, and the party started out.

About half way across the desert, miles away from any town, a rear axle snapped and nothing remained except to go in search of help or wait for some passing tourist to come to their aid.

It wasn't long before a Ford came in view. It stopped. It is the unwritten law of the desert that aid will be given without the asking, and the two young men in the Ford readily volunteered to drive Mr. Dairy into the next town and procure a new axle.

The Ford was pretty well loaded with excess baggage, so Mr. Dairy suggested that Marion, who wouldn't take up much room, ride in with the boys and the garage man could bring him back with the new axle.

Leaves His Parents This looked like the best thing to do, so the boys started out with Marion, leaving the parents to await his return.

In due time the boys reached the town and got the new axle, but, instead of having the garage man bring it back to the stranded car, they returned themselves, and Mr. Dairy put it in.

By this time they had all become fast friends, and Marion, who had become greatly attached to the boys, asked his parents to let him ride in the boys' car for a change. The parents consented and they all started out.

Mr. Dairy's car was not working its best and he stopped to adjust it. This took longer than he anticipated and in just a few moments the Ford was lost to sight in a cloud of sand.

Become Alarmed It was not until then that the parents realized Marion was gone, and with two strange boys whom they had never seen before, and didn't even know their names. Their suspicions turned to alarm and then to fright and all haste was made to catch up with the other car.

They speeded up, but could not even come in sight of it. Minutes westbound tourists, but no one had seen the car or the boys they described.

They became frantic, and it appeared the best thing to do was to keep right on coming toward Los Angeles, in the hope that the boys would stop somewhere along the trail.

They made inquiries all the way in, and finally reached Los Angeles without finding the slightest trace of the boys. They came out to Eagle Rock to the Bramble home and spent the night.

Search Under Way There was only one possible clue; the boys had mentioned that they lived in Highland Park, so the next morning, accompanied by Mr. Bramble, they drove to Highland Park on the forlorn hope that they might find some trace of their son.

They reached Highland Park, drove up and down a few streets, and then began to realize how ridiculous it was to expect to find the boy in this manner. There now remained just one thing to do, and that was to notify the Los Angeles police, and they started for the nearest police station.

Within a block they ran into a traffic jam, and there, on the other side of the intersection, was the very car and the very boys they were looking for—but Marion was not with the boys.

Marion was safely at home and in bed asleep and the boys had just started out for Eagle Rock parents.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dairy were so ticked that they didn't even think to scold the boys. Marion had been experiencing the time of his life and when interviewed this morning, as he sat in the seat of the Eagle Rock police car alongside of "Uncle Claude" had little to say about his experience.

Fifth Year Course at Occidental Now

The permission granted this year by officials of Occidental college allowing a fifth year course of study leaves no doubt as to the favor it has gained in students who desire to take the extra year course.

Miss Griffith, secretary to Dr. Remsen DuBois Bird states that there are thirteen fifth year students who are now working for teachers' certificates.

It is anticipated that this department of the college will grow materially, and eventually attract a large body of students.

EAGLE ROCK MAN FORMER FIREMAN

Big Booster for City Where He Now Makes His Home; Lived in St. Louis

One of the big boosters for Eagle Rock is Edward McCarty, of 156 East Ellenwood drive, and while practically a newcomer to the city, Mr. McCarty's faith in the ultimate expansion of the place he has chosen for his home knows no bounds.

"I looked all around this section when I came out here from St. Louis, but there was something about Eagle Rock that appealed to me more so than any other place I visited," declares Mr. McCarty.

He was only in Eagle Rock a short time when he purchased a home on Ellenwood drive, and intends to make this his permanent home.

Mr. McCarty's former home was in St. Louis, where for 24 years, 5 months and 8 days he was a member of the St. Louis fire department.

Frequent Party Changes During that time the political government of the city was constantly changing from one party to another, but no matter what party held the reins of city government in hand, meant little to McCarty, and he was steadily promoted from a raw recruit fireman on up until he became a captain in that large metropolitan fire department.

He is said to have helped fight some of the most spectacular fires in the history of the city, including the terrible holocaust of the Missouri Athletic club in which many lives were snuffed out, and in which one of his closest friends met his death.

Mr. McCarty was pleased to learn that the new officers of the Chamber of Commerce have promised action that should result in civic betterment, and indicated his willingness to become a member of that body.

Rival Factions of N. Y. Democrats Fight

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Charles F. Murphy, the sphyx-like leader of Tammany hall, still held the key to the Democratic gubernatorial puzzle this morning with the time for nomination of the entire state ticket only a matter of hours away.

A series of all-night conferences between the Tammany leaders, the up-state backers of ex-Governor Al Smith and the down-state friends of William R. Hearst, the New York publisher, failed to bring any definite announcement from Tammany headquarters that divergent elements of the party have been brought together. The negotiations were still in progress this morning, however.

Friends of the ex-governor say that Smith "will accept no compromise." They expressed confidence that the nomination will yet fall to the ex-governor.

Those who have urged the nomination of Mr. Hearst, among them Mayor Hylan and John H. McConoy, the Brooklyn leader, were more confident this morning than at any time that the publisher will be selected to head the ticket.

"It is a difficult situation," said Mayor Hylan early today after emerging from a conference with Murphy. "But I believe Mr. Hearst will be nominated."

At the same time William H. Keller, the Syracuse leader, informed questioners:

"I see no reason to change my prediction that Governor Smith will be nominated."

Reds and Whites In Siberia Start Fight

TOKIO, Sept. 29.—Advices from Siberia state fighting has already started between the red forces and the whites, the former preparing to take the city of Vladivostok as soon as it is evacuated by the Japanese. Spassk is about to fall to the Chita forces these advices stated.

Thorough investigation has revealed that press charges that the general staff in Siberia disposed of a large quantity of arms to the Dietrichs government in Vladivostok and to Chang-Tso-Lin, Chinese war lords, are substantially correct and may result in a cabinet crisis.

Italy Calls Upon Allied Powers to Aid

ROME, Sept. 29.—Italy today informally requested the allied powers to prevent the Greek revolutionary forces from attempting to hold Thrace against Turkish occupation. Italy fears that if the Greek army in Thrace tries to keep out the Turks, the Balkans will be menaced with a new war. Advices from Athens quoted members of the Greek revolutionary committee as saying that the Thracian front was being strengthened and that the chiefs of the new Greek government were in duty bound to the nation to defend Thrace.

to law to make a contribution from the city treasury.
Contrary to Law
City Manager W. H. Reeves read the following decision on the subject prepared by Ray Morrow, assistant city attorney:
"It is not within the powers of any municipality in the state of California to make any gift of public money or of anything of value to aid a private enterprise, and the legislature of the State of California is prohibited by the constitution from authorizing any city to make such a gift to any individual or corporation."
"In the case of Higgins vs. San Diego Water Company, the latest California case on the subject, where it was alleged that the city of San Diego was attempting to expend municipal funds in aiding in the construction of a railroad by an indirect contract for that purpose, the court held that such a contract, if made directly, would have been void—not because there is anything unlawful in an agreement for the construction of a railroad, but because it was unlawful to use the revenues of the city to subsidize a railroad—and if this could not be done directly, it could not be done indirectly."

LET IT FALL

A doctor who treats nervous diseases told me the other day of a trying case which he managed to cure in a simple way.

The patient had that strange but not uncommon mania which expresses itself in an unwillingness to go outside of one's home. Although a young woman and in fairly good physical health she simply could not be persuaded to go out like other people.

The doctor began his treatment by probing to the root of the case and persuaded her to tell him why she did not want to go out. The reason was this: She was so dominated by an unreasonable and overwhelming fear that if she went out on the street something was going to fall on her, some tall building, a telegraph pole or a wall.

If you had been the doctor, how would you have treated it?

Perhaps you would have tried to show her the folly of her idea, to convince her that nothing was going to fall. If you had it would have done no good. That had been done before. And the doctor knew enough about people in such states of mind to know the uselessness of trying to get at them that way. So he tried another tack.

He surprised his patient, who had been argued with and laughed at, by saying just this:

"Well, suppose it does. Let it fall."

"She was losing all her life, he went on to point out, by this attempt to save it. Granted that was that danger, what of it? She might as well die that way as live forever cooped up. Suppose, instead of trying to escape those old walls she made up her mind not to worry any more about them and just to take for her motto "Let it fall."

Of course, the cure was not effected immediately, but by the aid of that motto she did come, in the course of time, out of the shadow of her absurd phobia.

As you have already perceived, clever Reader Friend, I have not told about this cure for the benefit merely of people who will not go out doors because they are afraid something is going to fall on them.

I suppose there is one such to every million who could find some help in that motto "Let it fall."

What better way is there of facing any uncontrollable misfortune than that? You can't stop it, you can't get away from it. All right then, let it fall. You have done what you can, you have no further responsibility. Then let it fall if it is going to, and half the time, or more, it won't.

And if it does, there are few things in life that when they come hurt as much as the constant fear of them.

Do what you can, of course, to avert any evil, but, having done that, sit back and say "Let it fall" and see if it does not make the dark days more endurable.

More Bottle Talk

There are some other little things that I want to tell you about my bottle. I don't stop talking about my bottle pretty soon you will think I am the original of Don Marquis' Old Soak.

You know now that I have one bottle a day of the mixture made of one-half certified milk and one-half water, boiled together for three minutes and stirred constantly. I have one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cane sugar in it and I must say that while the sugar is put in our food simply for the food value of it, I can see that I am going to develop a sweet tooth, for I sure do like it better with a little sugar in it. I shall need watching when I get to the right when I can get into the sugar bowl and jam pots. Don't tell my Mama.

You will want to know how Mama knew just about how much of the mixture to give me. Well, a rough rule to go by is this: We babies usually can take one ounce to one and one-half ounces more to the milk than we are months old. As I am two months old now, my Cherie makes up about three and one-half ounces for my one feeding.

I can stay on this half milk and half water and one level teaspoonful of sugar for two or three months longer. Mama will gradually increase the milk and water, adding about one-quarter of an ounce every week, so that by the end of the month I shall be getting one ounce more. The sugar she won't increase after she reaches one teaspoonful, as that will be sufficient for the one feeding for two or three months.

I told you how Mama washes my bottle and the nipple and now I shall tell you how she tests the temperature to see if it is just right for me. She lets a few drops fall on the inner side of her wrist and if it feels comfortably warm on her wrist, then it is the right temperature. She never tests it by putting the nipple in her mouth or by putting her finger in it, no matter how well she has washed her hands before she prepares my daily bottle.

Speaking about testing the milk by putting the nipple in the mouth makes me think of what Doctor told us about what the primitive peasant women of the Balkans do.

HOME MANICURE

From time to time I receive requests for complete manicure directions. Manicuring is a very simple art with which every woman who pretends to take care of herself should be familiar. It requires neither a great deal of time nor an expensive equipment, and only a moderate amount of skill.

You will need a long flexible steel file with a pointed end, a bowl to hold water, an orange-wood stick, some emery papers, a buffer, polishing paste, a tiny jar of cream or vasoline, perhaps a small bottle of special bleach.

First of all, file the nails to a becoming shape, not too long and pointed, not too short and round. Then soak them for several minutes in the bowl of warm, soapy water to which a little lemon juice has been added. Dry them and clean under the nail with the point of the file bringing up all the rough loose pieces of skin. File these off with a bit of emery board. You now begin the important part of the manicure, which is the treatment of the cuticle. We all agree that it shouldn't be cut, yet there are times when it can't be helped. The manicure is not successful if the cuticle is not left smooth and even.

With the point of the file, scrape from the nail all the bits of dead skin loosened by the soaking, clip the ragged bits from round the edges of the nail and, pressing the skin back as far as possible, clip off the little pieces that collect in the corners, otherwise these will form hangnails. You will always have to use the scissors on the very edge of the nail, where it joins the flesh at these corners, since it is never possible to get the file in here.

Book Reviews

"Out for Character" in twenty-six chapters, written by twenty-six of the world's thoughtful and great to warn men and women of the sure penalties of evil living, is a new book which has recently been released by the Virphor Publishing company of Philadelphia. Every teacher of the young and minister of the gospel will find a vital use for this book in their profession and young men the challenges to high-mindedness and young women will respond to the sensible thing to do is to learn from race experience. Nature's bill must be paid on demand and the demand comes sure and swift. There is a hollow-eyed, dough-faced vacancy when the laws of health are defied.

Among those who have contributed to this vital message in this book are Clarence A. Barbour, Ray Lyman Wilbur, E. Y. Mullins, Ozora S. Davis, Bishop Quayle, Bishop Brewster and Bishop Darlington. Reverend Doctors Frank Ballard, James I. Vance, William Wirt King, F. B. Meyer, Samuel Z. Batten and A. Z. Conrad and others of like eminence in the educational and professional world.

They Say That

When nations or individuals come to a conference to adjudicate troubles or disagreements or difficulties, does not each one come with the idea chiefly of getting as much as possible for himself or the nation or people he may represent? He may not say so much plainly or openly. Here and there undoubtedly may be one who has higher motives. But, generally speaking, isn't some such idea lying smugly but watchfully ready to spring forth at the psychological moment to claim or take its own.

Suppose each one came with an utterly unselfed thought. Suppose all idea of person or nation or class were utterly cast out. Would there not be at once a communion of thought that would at least presage an harmonious getting-together?

Suppose, in this unselfed thought the only desire was for pure justice, pure honesty, pure welfare of humanity as a whole, would it not be easier to work the problem out?

Suppose there was neither French nor German in the thought of those struggling to settle this problem, but only unselfed thought of people's welfare.

Suppose there was neither employer nor employe in the thought of those engaged in the various strike conferences, but only the unselfed thought of making broad, pleasant channels for service, usefulness and happy living.

Suppose there was no thought of "my wrongs" and "your brutality" in the minds of man and wife deciding upon the divorce court, but only the unselfed desire to make an harmonious home and joyous family life.

Wouldn't such thinking help tremendously to solve some of these things?

Oneness of thought is necessary for the successful settling of many problems before the world today. The unselfed thought in which personality is left out is the truest basis for this oneness. The getting together in which there is neither "me" nor "thee," "my rights" nor "my profits," but justice, honesty, truth, will evolve a solution that will stand and which in the end will bring the kind of rights and profits to "me" and "thee" that will bless.

Practical Housekeeping

By Florence Austin Chase

Food taken at a stated time constitutes a meal. It may consist of a single food material, as bread, or a single dish, as soup, or it may contain many kinds of food and many dishes. When the day's ration consists of a single thing it is no trouble in arranging the bill of fare, for all meals are alike. But, as soon as we have two foods, we may consider whether they will digest better if eaten together or separately, and which way they will please the palate better. Balanced meals do not necessarily afford attractive menus. Macaroni and oat-pudding could make a fairly well-balanced meal except for the lack of ash constituents, but no one would call such a combination pleasing. The substitution of a little cheese and an orange for the oatmeal, a meal containing about the same fuel value and proportion could be arranged and it would certainly appeal more to the appetite, and furnish better proportions of ash constituents.

In the construction of the menu for the day or meal, we must consider not only food values and time of day and combinations which shall be digestible, but flavor, color, texture, and temperature of our foods. The study of digestible combinations belong to the science of nutrition. The harmonious blending of tastes, colors, odors, and the like is an art. Just as there are pleasing combinations of sound, so there are harmonious of flavor; certain dishes seem naturally to "go together." Habit has a good deal to do with food combinations. A Chinaman would not eat sugar on rice; a Japanese would not cook beans with molasses as the Bostonians do.

Some of our eating habits are worth preserving and cultivating. Fresh fruit for breakfast stimulates the appetite and helps to prevent or overcome constipation. A mild or oved cereal is better relished before we have heavy meats or other highly seasoned food. Soup at the beginning of the meal puts the stomach in better condition to digest the food that follows.

Ice cream at the end of a meal is less liable to chill the stomach than at the beginning. Bread and butter afford a good combination of fat and carbohydrate. Crackers help in the breaking up of the cheese into particles easy to digest.

Attention to the art of menu making not only helps to make the diet easier to digest, but also better balanced. Foods which are similar in color, flavor and texture, like potatoes and rice, are not artistic in combination, and it is better to substitute for one of them, a green vegetable, or meat or butter, in which case we can get a better balance, as more ash, protein, or fat would then be included with the starch of the rice or potato.

In menu making it is a great mistake to consider each meal by itself alone. If we do so, some days are likely to be very high in fuel value, while others may be very low. Then, too, the impression left from one meal carries over to the next. We do not care to see on the dinner table the same foods that we saw at a luncheon. Our love of variety is one of nature's ways of seeing to it that we get different kinds of food stuffs in our diet. Variety stimulates appetite, but this does not necessarily mean a great variety in one meal. The truest variety is obtained by a few well-selected dishes at each meal. If we do not exhaust our resources on one meal we shall be able to have a greater range of foods in the course of a week.

NEW STORE WILL OPEN HERE SOON

Central Varieteria Novel Way of Selling Goods at Big Saving

A new store to be known as the Central Varieteria is to open soon in a new store building on Central avenue facing Broadway, according to an announcement being made by Alva Snyder, the owner and manager.

The first big sale is to be held on October 7, according to Mr. Snyder.

The new store will work on a "welcome to help yourself" basis. It is announced, although a clerk will always be ready to aid customers desiring help in selecting their purchases.

A variety of goods will be carried and there will be no price limits. The store is being arranged in such a manner that the customers will pay as they leave, although there will be no gates, as is common in most stores working on a similar basis. Comes from Indiana. Mr. Snyder has been in California for several years and is now residing on Arden avenue. Before coming west Mr. Snyder was in the retail hardware business near Indianapolis, Ind. Under the plan which the Central Varieteria will be operated a great saving will be made which will, in turn, be passed on to the public, it is announced. The goods will be arranged in attractive displays on tables and shelves.

"I believe the Central Varieteria will fill a great need in Glendale," said Mr. Snyder, discussing the coming opening.

Russ Pact German Aim, Says Tourist

DEFIANCE, Ohio.—"The German object now is to align with Russia," declared William Kehnast, veteran hardware merchant here, recently returned from a trip to his birthplace in Germany. "The Russians have their embassy in Berlin. I heard rumors that if France bears down too hard on the German people there might be trouble," continued Mr. Kehnast.

"The majority of the German people do not want any more wars. They blame the last Kaiser for not being better informed. They said that what they need is another Bismarck, who today commands more respect—and did while living—than Kaiser Wilhelm II. They say that Bismarck, before entering the recent World War, would have taken Russia over on his side.

"Americans get the blame for Germany's losing the war. They said: 'We licked the French and English and had the victory won until you Americans came across.' "Yes, I said, 'when our boys came you met men worthy of your steel.' This they acknowledged. They spoke of our soldiers in the highest terms." Mr. Kehnast said smoke is issuing from the chimneys of all large German factories and that, despite the depreciated currency, a majority of the people seem prosperous and are working hard to restore the former commanding position of the country.

James Stillman Loses In Divorce Contest

CARMEL, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Daniel J. Gleason, referee in the divorce action brought by James A. Stillman, multi-millionaire banker, against his wife, Mrs. Anne Stillman, today filed his report rejecting the banker's contentions. Mr. Stillman had denied the legitimacy of Mrs. Stillman's little son, Guy, while asking a divorce.

The decision was a sweeping victory for Mrs. Stillman, exonerating her of any misconduct with Fred Beauvais, Canadian guide, who the banker had named as co-respondent.

At the same time the referee said that the evidence showed that the plaintiff had been guilty of misconduct with a woman known as Florence Leeds and whom Mrs. Stillman had named in her counter-accusation. The illicit relations between Stillman and Mrs. Leeds were said to have taken place at various places in New York state and Florida between October, 1917 and January, 1921.

Beauty spots at Verdugo Woodlands

Building, buying and public improvement activity is now at a high pitch at Verdugo Woodlands.

The main sewer is completed—and the laterals are now ready to lay—the first sewer system in the residential district of Glendale.

Gas is now assured.

Water pipes are being laid all over the valley.

Street paving, with cement curbs and gutters will be commenced upon completion of underground improvements.

The present low prices of property may be sharply advanced at any moment without notice.

Glendale's beautiful public park—recently purchased—adjoins Verdugo Woodlands. The purchase of this park is an overwhelming recognition of the unsurpassed beauty of this picturesque green valley.

Go out and look over the situation. Don't let the best thing in residence property in Southern California get away from you, when it is right in your own town. Remember—choice wooded sites as low as $950.

The tract office at Canada Boulevard and Glorietta Avenue is open every day. Gentlemanly salesmen to give you accurate information.

F. P. Newport Company, second floor, Central Bldg., 108 W. Sixth St., Los Angeles. Phone 60175. Glendale 51-J-4. Motor by way of Glendale Avenue to Verdugo Road, to Canada Blvd. Tract office open every day.

Factories and Sites

A new industrial district is now being developed at the foot of Colorado street with over a quarter mile frontage on Colorado street, served by a drill track through the property from end to end, from which may be taken a large number of individual spur tracks.

We are prepared to locate large or small industries on a long term lease, which makes it possible for a prospective manufacturer to put his money into buildings and equipment without the necessity of purchasing the land.

Manufacturers will find here conditions that will be as ideal as is possible to find any place in Southern California and will have the advantage of cheap power, water, fuel gas and fuel oil.

They will find themselves on the main line of the Southern Pacific and on the main highway leading from Los Angeles to the north.

We believe we will be able to locate here, under our plan, a group of industries that will add very materially to the wealth and prosperity of Greater Glendale.

OPPORTUNITY

In the Heart of the Whitest Spot

THE rapid growth of Glendale is opening up investment opportunities in an ever-widening circle around the downtown area. It is only a question of a short time when this expansion will bring outlying properties within the radius of the downtown area, thus materially increasing their values.

And when a city assumes the proportions of Glendale, property values increase with regular periodic strides. The men who make money in Glendale are those who have faith in Real Estate.

You have read remarkable stories of fortunes made here; you have heard of the wealthy who started on shoe-string capital; you realize it took faith and foresight, but have you got it TODAY, AS OPPORTUNITY SMILES?

* * * * *

Glendale twelve years ago had a population of 2,500; TODAY IT IS 35,000. Kansas City a half century ago had only 32,000; TODAY IT IS A HALF MILLION AND MORE! The story of progress and development reveals a swiftly moving panorama of action and achievement. In this short space of time, fortunes have been piled up with amazing rapidity; commerce has grown apace, until the entire Southland now feels the daily throb of this Wonder City of Homes—"Glendale, the Fastest Growing City in America."

It is vain to point to a few particular instances of success, where school teachers have made hundreds of thousands of dollars; how piano boxes provided the beginning for big businesses; when our presently prominent citizens were comparatively poor men.

No one thing, person or influence is responsible for the remarkable development in Glendale, although there have been certain outstanding figures. No boom or overnight sensation has furnished the formula for success here, the Deals in Real Estate, but for the most part his time is devoted to the duties of Mayor of Glendale.

He is a member of the Glendale Realty Board and his advice is sought in many of the largest deals.

His knowledge of this city gives the investor a good reason to select Spencer Robinson as his buying agent.

Mayor Robinson maintains offices at 612 East Broadway, Glendale, California, opposite the City Hall.

P. S.—He did not write this ad, but he pays for it. Which means he desires to turn a few deals to fatten the Thanksgiving turkey.

Telephone Service

In order to keep pace with the tremendous growth of Glendale the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company is installing two additional sections of switchboard which will provide facilities for 1150 additional answering jacks, if one party lines, 1150 telephones; if two party lines, 2300 telephones.

This will furnish positions for six additional operators and provide facilities for the telephone orders now being held for central office equipment.

Installation will be completed very shortly.

In the building of the city faith and work have been the driving forces, the same forces that are exerting themselves today for a new railroad, a new hotel, a sewer system, improved streets, more schools, better church edifices and a wholly American City in the center of science, music, art and other higher education.

This is the story which is told, in part, daily in the columns of The Glendale Evening News, with the object of pointing out and proving to the readers the many present-day opportunities for investment profits in Real Estate.

Four out of five Glendale citizens, heads of families, own their own homes. It is comparatively easy for any person to own a home here. It is a city with plenty of breathing spots close by, few flats, lots of shade trees, the Green Verdugo Hills, modern improvements and the highest type of citizenship.

Just a little constructive imagination, plus faith and action, is all that is necessary to transform any piece of vacant property into a profitable investment. Make a quiet investigation and you will be surprised at the number of sound paying properties which may be purchased profitably in this vicinity. Property here will continue to grow up around you, proving to you that the people who ACT are the people who PROSPER.

With the half-million dollar sanitarium now under way, with the high school's $600,000 building program soon to start, with a great new industrial district being developed along the San Fernando road, with a live Chamber of Commerce and a dozen other civic organizations functioning your OPPORTUNITY is here—NOW!

TELL OF FAIR TO BE GIVEN SOON AT RIVERSIDE

Management Makes Special Effort for Features in Departments

It has been the special effort of the management of the Southern California fair, which will be held at Riverside, October 10 to 15, to present a complete fair in all departments. From automobile to the swine show, every division will be thoroughly representative. Educational features will abound this year at the Southern California fair, and that boy and girl with their products for school and ranch will be very much in evidence. At present the boys from the agricultural department of the high schools are busily engaged in constructing buildings and planting the crops for the miniature farm in which all departments of a well-balanced farm with dairy, poultry, swine and crops pertaining to these lines in three-year rotation, together with the home garden, orchard and flower garden will be shown. The livestock judging contest by the high school teams from all parts of the southern section of the state will be the leading affair of the kind in the state. Horses, dairy cattle, beef cattle, hogs and mutton sheep will be judged. The various high schools will enter teams of three with an alternate and they will be judged in team work. There will be a large showing of stock in the "Junior Fair." The juniors will also have a big poultry and rabbit show. The Riverside County Farm-Bureau is preparing a very complete dairy demonstration in which every phase of both proper and improper methods will be exemplified. Animals and the best modern equipment will be used in this demonstration.

Agricultural Exhibition
The agricultural exhibition will be the largest ever attempted in the south, in which seven counties outside of Riverside will be in evidence. The entire agricultural department display as shown at the state fair will be in evidence, with some special additions from Southern California. The United States department of agriculture is making a large display.

The automobile show will be the most complete with a wide variety of cars, in their best display style will be shown. Connected with this will be the "Power on the Farm" division with a big show.

The vocational department of the various high schools of the south will make a big exhibit of both methods of instruction and a representative showing of the productions of the pupils in various departments.

Agricultural Exhibition
The agricultural exhibition will be the largest ever attempted in the south, in which seven counties outside of Riverside will exhibit their products and every community of Riverside county will be in evidence. The entire agricultural department display as shown at the state fair will be in evidence, with some special additions from Southern California. The United States department of agriculture is making a large display.

The livestock shown has again outgrown its former quarters and additions to pens and pens are being built. The largest showing of dairy cattle in the state will be had this fall at Riverside. Entries of dairy cattle from Arizona, Nevada and Oregon will be added to exhibits from nearly all parts of California. These entries include Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys, Ayrshires, Dairy Shorthorns, Dutch Belted and Brown Swiss.

The swine show at Riverside this fall also promises to be in both numbers and breeds the show of last year, which up to that time was the record show of the south. At this time we are preparing for some 500 entries in this department. There will also be the largest showing of sheep ever held.

The poultry show promises to eclipse in size and importance any previous show held at Riverside, and we believe Riverside holds the championship for poultry shows in the south. We will also have a big rabbit and caviar show. The goat show will excel in grade of animals any previous show made at Riverside, which holds the world record for exhibition of milk goats. The fine arts and domestic arts department, the Indian crafts exhibit, the Kennel club show and the wonderful exhibit in the industrial department will excel any previous effort.

But an agricultural fair must abound in entertainment features and the entertainment program at Riverside this fall is the most complete ever offered by that or any other fair in the state. The new grandstand will double the capacity of the previous one, and the program will be in proportion. The horse racing promises to be fully up to the standard of previous years. Riverside holds the record of having the fastest track in the state and the horsemen seem to appreciate our effort to build up the racing game, and are backing us and making great sacrifices to make this meeting a thrilling relay race for women and one for men will be run each day. Music and a wide variety of entertainment will be furnished both afternoon and evening throughout the week.

COAL PRODUCTION
Great Britain's coal production this year will be between 240,000,000 and 245,000,000 tons, the greatest for nine years.

AGED PAMPHLET OF INTEREST IN NEAR EAST CONFLICT

C. L. Walton of This City Has Historical Document Relative to Turks

Moslems are once more flaunting the crescent flag in the faces of Christians. C. L. Walton, of 1003 East California avenue, lives a long way from the scene of the uprising, but he treasures a large pamphlet published in London in 1800, as part of an historical atlas, intended as a section of a loose leaf text-book, which sheds some light on the present situation.

"If the oriental annals be searched, they will prove that the Turks were long famous before they planted the crescent in Constantinople," asserts the author. "Towards the year 1000, Turkish chiefs assumed the title of Sultans."

The brutality of the Turks is illustrated by the following notes from a genealogical table of the Ottoman family:

Shed Much Blood
"Orchan, strangled his elder brothers, extended the conquests of his father, got a footing in Europe and married the daughter of the Emperor of Constantinople—1358.

"Mahomet II, first emperor of Constantinople, which he stormed in 1453, subdued all Greece and is said to have destroyed two empires, twelve kingdoms and taken twenty towns."

"Selim I, the Feroocious, poisoned his father, strangled his elder brother—1520.

"Amurat III has his brother strangled; beats the Persians—1595.

"Mahomet III begins his reign by strangling nineteen brothers and drowning ten wives of his father. Before his death he had his eldest son and his mother strangled—1604.

Genis-Khan, whose name is not in the Glendale city directory, because he lived about 1100 A. D., receives the following press agenting:

"His courage, his talents and his fortune rendered him in the end master of the greatest monarchy which ever existed in the universe. It comprehended 5400 miles from east to west and 3000 miles from north to south. He published a civil and military code for the wandering tribes when he had subdued and departed at their head for farther conquests. He was on his way to reduce the southern part of China when he died, 1226, at the age of 70 years."

Builds Up Empire
Tamerlane or Timur, the lame, also received a word or two of commendation as follows:

"Born without dominions he created himself an empire more extensive than that of Alexander." The Crusaders are the topic of the following paragraphs:

"At the summons of an enthusiastic hermit, who recounted the hardships of his pilgrimage to Jerusalem, innumerable multitudes of every rank and age prepared themselves in France, Germany, Italy and England, exclaiming that they must rescue the holy places from the profanation of the Infidels.

Wear Red Cross
"They distinguished themselves by a red cross, which they wore upon the shoulder. They departed in crowds, marched in disorder, pillaging and ravaging the Christian lands before they reached those of the Mussulman. At length they poured like a torrent upon her for the first time those emigrations and devastations with which she had so often afflicted Europe.

"Such was the origin of the Crusaders, which by an inconceivable mania enrobed Europe near 200 years, and it is said cost her more than 2,000,000 souls and 200,000,000 sterling. They excited a general fermentation, a universal agitation, which probably ended in promoting order and repose in Europe by purging society of turbulent spirits."

Though it resembles a small automobile, a Delaware inventor's vehicle is propelled by the driver's feet operating pedals.

HIGH SCHOOL FITS YOUNG FOLK FOR BUSINESS LIFE

Commercial Department Gives Many Pupils Chance to Meet Opportunities

(Continued) reading the family electric light and water meters and checking up on the bills sent out by the public service department.

Get Early Training The advanced classes in business arithmetic have fifty-one students. This term they will study percentages and all of its applications. Boys will learn how to calculate betting averages and football standings and girls will learn how to divide the ingredients of their cooking recipes with mathematical accuracy. Later on they will take up the calculation of interest, and the application of trade discount.

Rapid calculation drills are held during the entire year's work. On the days set for this work special pads published for these drills are distributed to the students. Each sheet contains a number of problems, which grow progressively harder as the term advances. A pupil is given a limited time in which to struggle with the columns of figures and then his work is checked both for speed and accuracy.

"It is surprising how they will develop in rapidity and so on," remarked Mr. Baker, who takes especial pride in the progress of students in these drills. "We had some students last year who made an average for the whole semester of 93 per cent."

Enlarge Vocabulary Jazz and spirited marches expelled from the throat of the commercial department's Vireola frequently stimulate the muscles of the 120 pupils who now devote a period of a day to a combination of penmanship and spelling. Each day twenty-five new words are written over and over again until engraved in the mind of each student. At the end of the year each student should have a vocabulary of at least 4000 words. These must not only be written legibly and spelled correctly, but must be pronounced and defined correctly, too.

"The large new International dictionary lists 400,000 words," remarked Mr. Baker. "The academic dictionary has 70,000 words. Of course, many of these are technical words only used in certain professions or occupations. Many people's vocabulary is limited to 500 words, and some people don't use more than 300 words. Shakespeare had a vocabulary of 15,000 words."

Zaner's certificates are obtained for all students who acquire sufficient proficiency in penmanship. These certificates, which are neatly engraved are only given by Zaner School of Penmanship in Ohio for samples of penmanship which come up to certain standards. Most of the certificates are treasured very highly because they represent many hours of patience and perseverance.

Interest Increases After two years of regular work in the English department of the high school, students are permitted to enroll for the half-year class in commercial English. This class has an enrollment this year of twenty-eight pupils. Topics discussed include grammar and the construction of business letters.

The bookkeeping course has four classes this year and a total enrollment of eighty-seven pupils. "More students are taking this subject than ever before in the history of the school," asserted Mr. Baker. "I am pleased that so many boys are taking it. Heretofore there have been about three times as many girls as boys. The division ought to be nearly equal."

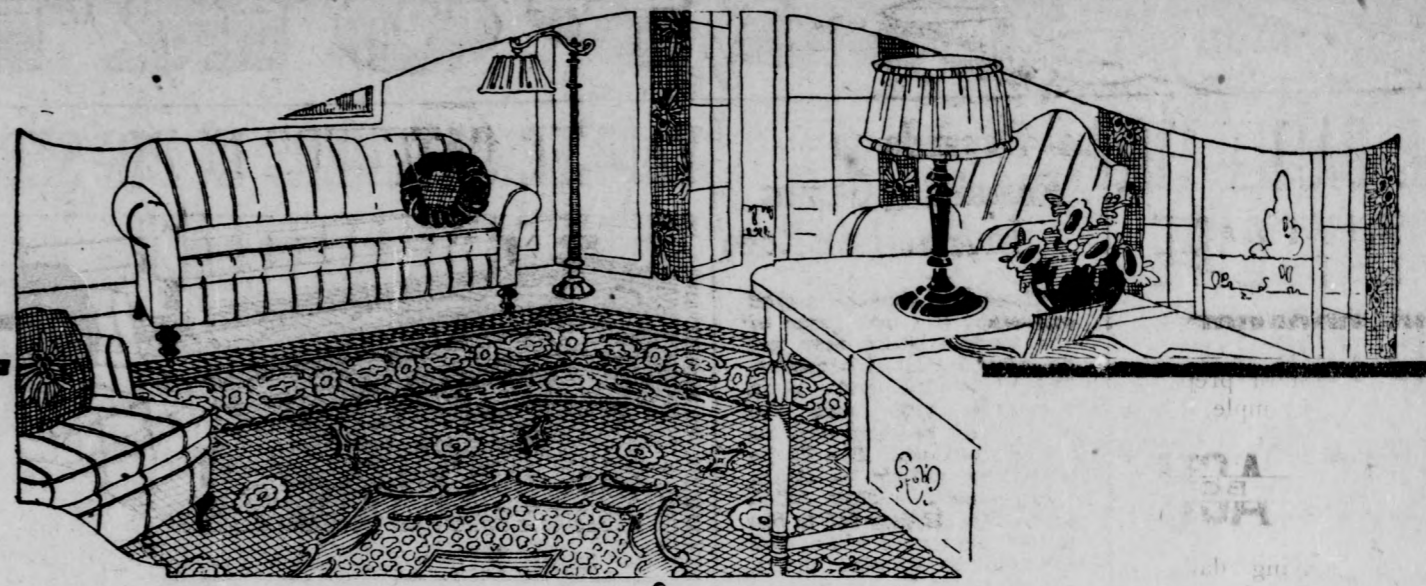

As soon as a student has studied the fundamentals of bookkeeping he is given an imaginary job in the bookkeeping department of a retail grocery. The pay may be imaginary but the work is not. Each pupil is given a set of books to keep relative to this business. At intervals he must juggle his cash book until the accounts balance. At the close of the semester he must take an inventory and find out whether or not the firm has been operating at a profit or a loss.

New Applications During the period between the first and second semesters it is presumed that the student becomes dissatisfied with his job and joins the bookkeeping department of a hay, grain and fuel company. Here he learns a number of new applications of bookkeeping.

After studying briefly the formation of various kinds of corporations, the student, at the commencement of the second year's work, starts to keep a set of books for a wholesale grocery company. Cost accounting is studied the second semester and students are acquainted with the mystery of printing estimates.

A Commercial bank occupies a corner of the room by suitable partitions containing the regular grill windows. Students take turns acting as its cashier and teller. When the pupils open a set of books they are given the firm's passbook and are required to make the proper cash deposits and withdrawals during the day's business. They are taught the meaning of "N. P." and "N. S. F." scribbled across the back of checks, too.

Future Stenographers Shorthand is studied under both the intensive and extensive system. Two classes cover the same amount of work but one takes longer assignments each lesson and finishes the work in one year while the other class goes more slowly and takes two

Russ Not Preparing to Aid Turks, Claim

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Fear of British officials that reorganization of the red Russian army means Russian military aid for the Turks was groundless, it was declared today by Alex Rothe-stein, representative of the Moscow government in London. "Russia has not taken any military steps in the Near East peace," said Rothe-stein. "So long as Russia is invited to the Near East peace conference and there is no interference with Russian trade we do not think Constantinople worth the blood of a single Russian soldier. Russia is not preparing to help Turkey."

Love Ship Tossed But Reaches Port

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—Angry waves tossed a "love ship" near here recently, but none of the romances was shattered. When the passengers on board the stranded motor yacht Ella May, of New Haven, were rescued it was found that there were eleven couples on board. Though the little craft with its precious cargo of bridal couples battled the waves throughout the night the party was chipper and safe when rescued the next morning.

Mayor Is Arrested; Traffic Violation

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—It is even hard for mayors to keep up with traffic ordinances. Mayor Theodore Warrick, of Morgantown, drove into the city the other day and parked his car in front of the Masonic temple in Jefferson street. It violated the city traffic ordinance, and soon he was placed under arrest by Rev. W. Leven Pritchard, local traffic officer, who told him to appear before Mayor W. W. Conway in police court. Mayor Conway discharged Mayor Warrick with a warning.

years to attain proficiency in this subject. The two year course now has an enrollment of twenty-eight pupils in the first year's class and eleven students in the second year's class. The intensive class includes eighteen pupils, all of whom are quite ambitious to become stenographers. At the end of the first year students are expected to be able to take ordinary dictation at a speed of 100 words a minute. During the second year they are expected to develop a speed of from 125 to 150 words a minute.

Filing systems and office procedure occupy the last portion of the shorthand course. Stenographers are taught not only how to file a letter but how to find it again.

The typewriting room is equipped with thirty-five machines of three standard makes. Five classes have a registration of 115 pupils. ninety-eight are in the first year's drills and seventeen in the second year's work. Each one is allowed the use of a typewriter with a "blind" keyboard and is allowed to struggle through "R-T-Y-U", "R-T-Y-U", "R-T-Y-U" to "Now is the time for every good man to come to the aid of his party" until at last he is able to insist that "The yellow dog chases the red fox over the brown fence while the black cow munches the green grass under the blue sky."

Visit County Jail! A comptometer is now in use at the high school and twelve pupils are being taught the intricacies of its operation. They are also being taught how to operate a machine with speed and accuracy.

The county jail is visited by all students who enroll for commercial law. No, they are not committed here but they are taken there on a tour of inspection at the same time they are taken to Los Angeles to attend a court session in order to try to learn what judges do on the benches.

Business law is a subject which is open only to seniors. Twenty-five of them are taking it this year. Contracts are the source of the principal discussion. They are taught not only how to make contracts but how to break them. However, emphasis is laid in this work not only to the legal aspect of cases but to their moral aspect as well.

Credits and loans, insurance contracts, negotiable instruments, partnerships, joint stock companies and corporations are all studied in detail. Students are required to solve many problems in practical law. No attention is paid to criminal or domestic relations cases.

Although he admits that it is impossible to calculate the precise value of the commercial training offered at the high school in dollars and cents, Rhea Baker, head of the department, calls attention to the fact that a number of young men and women are now occupying better positions than they would have been able to have obtained without the opportunities offered at Glendale Union high school.

WAR MOTHERS TO HOLD FOOD SALE

Mrs. George Hastings Will Be In Charge of Affair All Day Tomorrow

Plans for a food sale to be held on Saturday at the Gregg Hardware company, 107 North Brand boulevard, were perfected on Wednesday afternoon at the regular weekly meeting of the Lester Myer chapter of the American War Mothers.

Mrs. George Hastings was appointed by the president, Mrs. J. B. Sherwood, to be in charge of the affair, which is to be conducted throughout the day.

In the absence of Mrs. H. L. Hoek, who is in the east on a pleasure trip, the secretary's chair was occupied during the meeting by Mrs. Samuel Dick.

After a brief discussion, in which the chapter went on record as endorsing the coming ten million dollar bond issue, Mrs. W. E. Heald was appointed as a committee of one to obtain speakers to appear before the various parent-teacher organizations in the city prior to the election on November 7.

Former King Taken On Secret Journey

ATHENS, Sept. 29.—Constantine, abdicated king of Greece, former Queen Sophie, Prince Nicholas and Prince Andre were secretly taken on board a warship and have departed for some unknown destination, it was reported today.

The temporary revolutionary triumvirate composed of Colonel Gonatas, Colonel Pastiras and Captain Plocas are meeting almost continuously discussing plans for the military defense of Thrace against the Turks and the recall of former Premier Venizelos.

Political circles believe that the reign of King George will be brief and that a republic will be established. Revolutionary leaders are in communication with Venizelos in France. The former premier may be the first Greek president if the republican faction is successful.

Reports are current that three former ministers have been arrested, Gounaris, Stratos and Protapadakis. Constantine's ministers are keeping out of sight. On the other hand, the leaders of the revolution are getting the heartiest reception whenever they appear in public. They are pelted with flowers.

REAL BATTLE FOR SUNDAY'S GAME, IS PROMISE

Merchants Will Meet Rivera Club on Local Battle Grounds, Says Cobb

Glendale Merchants will tackle "Rube" Ellis and his Rivera Club Sunday at the local grounds, it was announced this morning by Manager Cobb of the Merchants.

This will be the second clash between the two teams. In the first game Glendale was the victor with a 2 to 2 score. Now it looks as though a real battle will take place for "Rube" is said to have announced his intention of taking a game from the local boys, while Glendale's team is just as certain that such a thing will not take place.

It is understood that several stars have made application to Manager Cobb to join the local team, but it is said that the team is hindered because of the lack of jobs open in Glendale for the boys. Among those who have expressed a desire to come here is Vern Blankin, the second fastest runner in the country, having lost to Paddock by three inches.

Chance to Help Any merchant or manufacturer desiring to secure help, and at the same time help along the team, is being urged to get in touch with Manager Cobb.

It is announced that several changes in the lineup will occur Sunday. The probable lineup follows:

Flanders, 1f. Griffin, 1r. Meyers, 2b. Kire, c. Bell, 1b. Seiser, 3b. Cobb, cf. Wilson, ss. Heidler will pitch with Harris and Agoston in reserve.

This being the first game since the "pep" meeting this week, it is expected that the local boys will put up a hard battle Sunday.

Clem Johnson and Harry Wills Meet

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Clem Johnson, much advertised negro heavyweight boxer from Guam, will meet Harry Wills in a bout scheduled to go fifteen rounds at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Johnson has been given the official O. K. by the boxing commission, representatives of which looked him over in a private trial in a gymnasium to present a reputation of the Tut Jackson fight.

In the semi-final bout, Floyd Johnson, the California heavyweight, will meet Whitey Allen over the 12 round distance.

AMERICAN LEAGUE Boston, 3; New York, 1. Washington, 9-4; Philadelphia, 6-12. Only games scheduled.

NATIONAL LEAGUE No games played.

"Personally, I look for a man like Mays, with his puzzling delivery, to give the Giants trouble. Jones, I understand, is not going well, but he is another type, the change of pace artist, that would bother the Giants. I do not figure either Shawkey or Hoyt to be very effective."

There is slightly more fact than fancy in what this old timer says. The Giants are a free-swinging team that takes very kindly to fast ball pitching. Consider Dazzy Vance of the Dodgers as an example. Pitching for a second division team, Dazzy has won eight games, six of them situ outs. Yet he has not been able to finish a game against the Giants. Grover Alexander, once star pitcher of the Cubs, is another speed ball artist who fared very poorly against the Giants.

Of the opposite school, the venerable Babe Adams has annoyed the Giants with his change of pace from first to last. Johnny Couch of the Reds, is another, and Aldridge of the Cubs is a third. They have "mixed them up," preventing the free-swinging Giants from taking a toe hold for every delivery.

Rusie holds that in the modern game, with the lively ball and slugging a paramount issue, pitching does not exert the influence it once did. Therefore, taking into account the Giants' greater speed and more consistent hitting, he looks for the National league representatives to come home on the bit.

It is all good, plausible reasoning, but the sentimental sides of it must be reckoned. Rusie and Brothers are National leaguers, and think kindly of John McGraw. It is barely possible that an old-time American leaguer can advance arguments just as glib in favor of the Yankees. That is baseball and always will be.

Lot Depends on Remaining Games In American Race

There is a chance—a slim one—that the first game of the world's series may not be played next Wednesday. This chance depends upon what the Yanks and the Browns do in their remaining three games. The Yanks need one victory to clinch the pennant. They failed yesterday. If they fail in the next three games while the Browns are winning theirs, the American league pennant race will result in a tie with each team having ninety-three victories and sixty-one defeats with a percentage of .604.

If the race should result in a tie the Browns and Yanks would have to play a series of three games to decide the ultimate winner. If this event occurs the opening game of the world's series would have to be postponed.

The Yanks meet the Red Sox today while the Browns play the White Sox. A victory for the Yanks or a defeat for the Browns will upset all the possibility of a tie and the Yanks will clinch the flag. If the Yanks should lose and the Browns win the same conditions would prevail for tomorrow's game.

TENNIS IS MAKING GREAT STRIDES IN UNITED STATES

VERNON AND SEALS IN TIGHT RACE FOR PENNANT

American Boys Will Soon Be Far Ahead of Their Foreign Opponents

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Tennis has made such remarkable advancement among American boys that European experts predict the United States will have to work almost on a handicap basis in the international tournament in 1930.

While the boys of the United States are far more advanced in the game than the youngsters of other countries, the tennis governing body here is doing more and more to promote a development of the "kids game."

William M. Dunklin, a tennis enthusiast of Forest Hills, has offered a $250 challenge cup for the New York boys' championships and he is willing to offer another cup for the national championship and one for a world's international championship.

Through the interest taken by George Agutter, its profession instructor, the West Side Tennis Club of Forest Hills is leading the way in the development of boy players.

Picks Four Stars Four boys now playing at the club—Johnny Millen, 14; Stewart Gaynes, 13; Ogden Phipps, 13, and Johnny Pittman, 14, are so good that Agutter says he will match them against any four boy players in the world.

Through an inter-sectional, inter-city or inter-state boys' match, Agutter hopes to be able to start an annual tournament that will class with the All-Corners' championship in the men's class.

Much of the credit for the rapid progress made by American boys is due to William T. Tilden, the national champion. Tilden has always taken an interest in boys and he has developed some of the best young players of today. Tilden's pupils are to have all the marks of a coming champion if he is not close to that point now.

France is giving attention to the development of young players and in Henri Cochet, youthful member of the Davis cup team, will be heard of in the future.

Australia, England and Spain are still falling back on veteran players and the British are slipping badly in international tennis.

Young Chaps at Golf Golf is also becoming more and more of a young fellow's game. Gene Sarazen, the 21-year-old American champion, and Walter Hagen, British open champion, express the opinion that the day is close at hand when the young players will be supreme on the golf course.

Sarazen's victory at Skokie in a field of veteran stars is expected to have a big psychological effect on the game of some of the other young players.

The old song about the declining era of age is sung annually around the baseball parks but more than songs are needed to get Ty Cobb, Walter Johnson, Babe Adams, Jake Daubert and some of the way of the kid, quite a spurge in the professional boxing ring around New York until the commission wisely stepped in and put a ban on boys under the age of 20.

Lately impartial, also acted to protect old age by making 38 years the limit. Jack Britton and Johnny Kilbane will soon be as bashful of their years as some of the fair ones who never pass 17.

Many Seek Jobs as Hermits in Woods TAUNTON—England seems to possess quite a number of would-be hermits.

A short time ago this advertisement appeared in a number of newspapers:

"Wanted, a hermit to inhabit remote cottage in big woods, available at once. Small rent to one not afraid of foxes and poachers."

Next day there were 150 applicants for hermitism from every part of England.

The cottage belongs to the Duke of Devonshire, and contains two rooms and bakehouse downstairs and three bedrooms upstairs, garden, orchard, stable, and well of water. "Approach bad and garden wild."

The successful applicant came from Cardiff and he now has the cottage at a rental of five pounds a year.

REALTY MEN WILL MEET OCTOBER 7 NEAR FRESNO

Huntington Lake Scene of Affairs; Many Important Matters Come Up

The board of directors and legislative committee of the California Real Estate association will hold their quarterly meeting October 7 and 8, at Huntington Lake, seat of the world's greatest power dam. They will meet at the call of President C. C. Tatum, and arrangements for the meeting are in charge of President Herbert Levy of the Fresno Realty Board. A large number of prominent realtors will attend the conference. The train for the lake will leave Fresno at 8 a. m. Saturday, October 7, and many directors will arrive in the city Friday night. The Hotel Fresno will be the headquarters of the state association on Friday, according to Glenn D. Williams, state secretary, who announced that while many of the visiting delegates would arrive in Fresno on the early morning trains Saturday, many realtors would also motor to Fresno on Friday.

Thirty amendments are to be voted on this fall. Fifteen of these proposed legislative changes or additions affect real estate, the state association announced. Among the measures which the members of the association have declared in favor of are the soldiers' legislation, the state budget and the transportation measure. The association is on record against single tax and also against the proposed $500,000,000 water and power bond issue. This last measure, if carried, would tend to stop the wheels of industry, progress would be retarded and prosperity affected damagingly, President Tatum declared.

To Discuss Lawyers' Bill
Arguments on the lawyers' bill will be heard. Realty legislative changes will be discussed at the conference, over which Chairman William H. Akin will preside. Among those who will attend this conference, it is expected, are State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser and former State Real Estate Commissioner Freeman H. Bloodgood. Other notables will include William May Garland, former president of the national association of real estate boards. Among the past presidents of the state association coming to Huntington Lake will be Fred E. Reed of Oakland, C. C. Juster of Berkeley, Mabry McMahan of San Francisco, Daniel W. Carmichael of Sacramento, W. W. Mines of Los Angeles and George J. Wren of Modesto.

A feature of the program Saturday evening will be President Tatum's report of his visit to Honolulu, where he organized the realty board farthest west. The Fresno Realty Board has extended invitations to the San Joaquin Valley realty boards to be strongly represented at the conference. Board officers throughout the state have also been invited, and it is anticipated the trip will be one of the big events of the realty year. Returning from Huntington Lake, the train for Fresno leaves at 12:15 p. m.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Extend the Glad Hand Sports Take First Place 'The Mucker' in Serial Richardson's Promises

By Gil A. Cowan

Great are the glories of Glendale sung by strangers in our midst.

With the largest number of newcomers en route for southern California this winter, it behooves each and every citizen to be an optimist of the first water.

Smile, extend the glad hand, boost your home town and make our eastern cousins happy that they are here. Let us get them located right in the hub of the Golden State.

And, wherever you may roam, remember there is no place like home. Home means the Green Verdugo Hills, from the Arroyo Seco on the other side of Eagle Rock to the Hollywood Hills on the west.

When one speaks of Glendale, it is only symbolic of this entire vicinity, which is equally choice whether it be Montrose, Burbank, Eagle Rock or Tujunga. Glendale is the hub of the wheel for the homemakers in these communities, although we will have to admit that Eagle Rock and Burbank are mighty substantial spokes.

For the next few days the sporting news will vie with the Terrible Turk for the attention of the reading public. The football season is at hand, the world series is about to commence and there are enough events of local interest to make The Evening News sporting page sparkle with the writing and wit of a half dozen satellites.

David J. Walsh, international News service sports editor, heads the list; Wood Cowan will picture the events; Fred Orrin writes for the U. S. sports service at New York; Bill Unmack and Franklin Morse are the Pacific sports writers; and "Doc" McGillis is on the job covering local athletics, not to mention the dozen other little features which go into the columns of your "home town paper."

Another feature in The Glendale Evening News, which is well worth comment, "The Mucker," a recent novel by Edgar Rice Burroughs, author of the Tarzan tales, will be started in serial form tomorrow night. Do not miss the opening chapters of this story, folks.

Following are a few remarks from the Hollywood Daily Citizen on the subject in which every voter of this state is vitally interested:

"The state machine politicians have joined the ranks of those who have found out that Friend William Richardson, Republican nominee for governor, is independent."

"Succeeding in dominating the convention that selected the men who will direct the Republican party campaign in California, the machine politicians are informed by Mr. Richardson that he will have none of them and that his newspaper friends will conduct his campaign for the final election, just as they conducted it at the primaries."

"Whereupon a great political storm breaks loose in California. Some are attempting to say that the so-called progressives of California will switch their support to Woolwine."

"Others are loud in vowing vengeance on Richardson. 'We think the politicians are taking themselves too seriously. 'We think the politicians are quite unmindful of the fact that it will take something other than mere politics to swing the votes of the people.'

"In the first place where would the state central committee gain anything for principle by supporting the democratic nominee because the Republican nominee insists that he will have his campaign conducted by the men who are in sympathy with his principles and his purposes?"

"Let's admit for the purpose of this immediate argument that Richardson has committed a breach of party loyalty in refusing to allow a gang, which he promised to kick out of control in the state government, to run his campaign."

"But what breaches of party loyalty would be committed if the state organization leaders should come out and support a Democrat?"

"That idea is impossible. 'Richardson refuses to let Al McCabe run his campaign. 'Richardson promised to kick McCabe out of politics. 'Richardson saw the effects of McCabe running the politics of the state when Stephens was governor."

"He promised to change the very conditions for which McCabe has been responsible. 'He either had to violate his pledges right at the start or he had to take the very action he did take, namely, that of refusing to submit himself to the leadership of an organization controlled by McCabe."

"One thing the politicians should know by this time and that is that Richardson is independent. 'The Old Guard in California tried before the primaries to break down that independence with tempting offers of campaign contributions which were politely but firmly refused."

"Just as the Old Guard has no control of Richardson, so the old state machine has no control of him. 'If he is elected governor, and he will be, for the people and not the politicians have the most votes, he will be free to inaugurate his policies of economies, having no political debts to pay, no friends for whom he must provide positions."

"This is the type of public servant we should have. 'If this type is so unusual that it causes a great political storm, let's welcome the storm. 'It's the best thing that ever happened for the politics of California."

"In the meantime let's not worry about the politicians controlling our votes or dictating the way we should go. 'It is our happy privilege to be able to go to the polls and mark our ballots according to the dictates of our conscience."

"BIGGER AND BETTER"

Duke, Age 70, Tells How to Live Long

LONDON—John D. Rockefeller monopolizes American advice on how to grow old gracefully, but there are some English recipes which are interesting.

Longevity in England is more commonplace than in America, for under the influence of "bitters" and "ale" and a climate that hardens the vitality, it is not unusual for the English span of life to carry well over four score years.

Some English opinions on "how to grow old" are presented herewith:

The Duke of Rutland, K. G.; age 70.

Be born with good health. Have a sound liver.

Take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise, regulated by the nature of one's daily employment. Have week-end exercise, moderately taken—overdoing this is as bad or worse than underdoing it.

Always have a hobby for home consumption, and work steadily at it. This keeps the liver going.

Be moderate in smoking, eating and drinking. If possible, keep your nerves and temper in an equable state. This is a counsel of perfection rarely attained by anyone.

Bishop C. J. Ridgeway, age 82. Moderate eating and drinking. Healthy exercise. Steady work. "Mens sana in corpore sano." General O'Moore-Creagh, V. C.; age 74.

Keep body and mind up to the proper mark by giving each a due measure of relaxation and exercise. Be temperate rather than abstemious. Rise and go to rest early. Avoid medicine.

JOINS STUDENT BODY
The campaign to secure paid-up memberships in the student body yesterday noon was unusually successful, according to George U. Moyle, principal of Glendale Union High school. He estimated that over 85 per cent of the pupils and faculty joined. There are now 1350 students enrolled while a total of 1437. This means that the student body has a membership of over 1221.

COUNCIL OF TEACHERS
The council of the Southern section of the State Teachers' association, which will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Olive school, Los Angeles, will be attended by George U. Moyle and George Lockwood of the high school faculty. Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, will address the meeting on "Needed and Pending School Legislation."

MESSAGE BY AIR
A form of message with vibrating air currents has been developed by a Swiss physician for treating patients whose condition would make even the lightest contact of hands painful.

tried before the primaries to break down that independence with tempting offers of campaign contributions which were politely but firmly refused.

"Just as the Old Guard has no control of Richardson, so the old state machine has no control of him. 'If he is elected governor, and he will be, for the people and not the politicians have the most votes, he will be free to inaugurate his policies of economies, having no political debts to pay, no friends for whom he must provide positions."

"This is the type of public servant we should have. 'If this type is so unusual that it causes a great political storm, let's welcome the storm. 'It's the best thing that ever happened for the politics of California."

"In the meantime let's not worry about the politicians controlling our votes or dictating the way we should go. 'It is our happy privilege to be able to go to the polls and mark our ballots according to the dictates of our conscience."

Sawyer's group at the home of Mrs. Frankie Webb, 303 North Louise street and those of Mrs. Marshall's group at her home, 525 South Central avenue. The members will start their first lesson then on the study of Babylonia and Assyria.

UNFOUNDED WAR RUMOR

LONDON, Sept. 29.—An unfounded rumor that England had declared war against Turkey caused price slumps on the London and Liverpool markets today. British officials said they could not account for the rumor.

OLD FASHIONED CUPBOARDS
or beautiful china closets are equally in evidence in our display of fine mill-work. Come in all finishes, are easily put together without outside help and are so reasonably priced that no purse is too modest to be without them.

Safe Cracker, 86, Will Try It Again

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—I'm 86, but I'm not through opening safes yet. Such is the proud boast of Harry Morton, alias Muldoon, aged crook, now in jail here. Old man Morton admits he is the "oldest and best" safe cracker in the country.

It is a rather ironical fact that the man who is confident he can "crack any safe in the country" is doing time for forging several small checks.

"A man should stick to his own stuff," Morton said. "Why should an expert safe man like me monkey around with checks?"

Morton has done four "stretches" in penitentiaries. The first conviction came in 1876. About two months ago the aged criminal was released from his fourth prison term at the Leavenworth, Kans., federal prison.

DR. BOOTH TALKS AT ROTARY CLUB

self sent out through the eight little spokes.
"Four concern themselves with what we get from each other," he said, and pointed out that the big business men, who comprise Rotary, learn what relaxation really means. Second, they find an enlarged horizon, a greater vision. Third, the glow of friendship makes their meetings worth while. Fourth, they find hidden values in other men, realizing their true worth.

Other Four Spokes

The other four spokes of the wheel represent a transformed outlook, a transfigured vocation, a joy in service, and last, but not least, an abundant life.

Explaining the latter, Dr. Booth said that an abundant life means that you have lived to the full measures of your capacity and opportunities; that you are helping to make the world better.

President Kent's report on the school for officers at Berkeley also was a message of inspiration and he related how Anaheim reported and other cities reported carrying on great work for the crippled children, as well as boys' work and other endeavor. Fifty-two Rotary clubs were represented and a memorable feature of the visit to the University of California campus was getting an insight to the chimes of the clock tower.

Field Day Tickets

A. R. Eastman, chairman of a special committee to confer with the city school board on the subject of crippled children, reported satisfactory progress.

George B. Karr named committees and passed out tickets for the field day and baseball game to be held at the Glendale Merchants' grounds, Park avenue and San Fernando road, Saturday afternoon, October 7, the Rotarians and Kivansians to play a few opening innings, followed by honest-to-goodness game by semi-professionals.

Each member of the two clubs is expected to dispose of ten tickets at 50 cents each, the entire proceeds to be given the Boy Scouts, who will sell beverages, etc., on the occasion.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT

The second weekly public concert to be given by the popular Elks band will take place tonight on Broadway between Orange street and Brand boulevard, and an interesting program has been arranged by R. E. Kenny, director. A large crowd is anticipated, according to C. M. Burke, manager.

PYTHIAN SOCIAL IS BIG SUCCESS

Cards and Dancing Offer Plenty of Entertainment to Large Crowd

Knights of Pythias last night once more showed their gallantry. Their monthly social in their hall on the northwest corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway was well attended and Attorney G. H. King, who was master of ceremonies, made a special effort to see that everyone had a good time. That he succeeded was proved by the late hour at which the affair concluded.

Although several card tables were in service, the dance floor was most popular. Here an unusual atmosphere of sociability prevailed. Introductions were exchanged freely and everyone was made to feel right at home. Waltzes were alternated with fox-trots.

Lots of Harmony

The Shrine club orchestra furnished the rhythm. This was directed by A. M. Kelly of 216 South Glendale avenue, violinist. Other members were: Earl Floyd of 401 West Lexington avenue, saxophone; Mike Kaufman of Hollywood, piano; and Roy Hitt of Los Angeles, banjo.

Among the popular pieces played by the orchestra were: "Georgette," "Stumbling," "No Use Crying," "Where the Volga Flows" and "Carolina Rolling Stone." "Three o'Clock in the Morning" and "Time After Time" were greatly approved as moonlight waltzes.

Besides Attorney King, members of the committee in charge were: E. S. Melzer of 269 East Maple street, and M. J. Edwards of 525 Myrtle street.

TO CLEAN GLASSES

Brushes mounted on a spiral shaft that is revolved by a spring as they are passed down form a new device for cleansing drinking glasses quickly.

SUPPORT FOR HATS

A celluloid support that can be inserted in the sweat band has been invented that holds hats erect and prevents them losing their creases.
