JEROME BAYON. STATE PRINTER.

So prevalent it seems, is the dread of the scourge, that it has invaded all classes of society. The proclamation, t which we allude, forbids all physicians and surgeons, leaving not only the city; but the immediate vicinage, withou ority, under the penalty of a severe fine! The proto nedical tribunal have imposed a stated tariff on the pric medicine, and, with the sanction of the intendant have enacted heavy penalties against all extertion or exer bitance. Much as we admire our own government of laws we can find enough in the recollections of the shameful ex ctions, and inhuman cupicity, to reconcileus to such arbi trary measures. Both doctors and dauguists are enjoine to extend their assistance to the poor without remune the government will, no doubt, compensate the former heir services, and the latter for their drugs.

A Washington berrespondent of the Boston Atlas thu summarily dispuses of all the talent and intellect in the summarily disposes of all the talent and intellect in the country to make room for Mr. Webster.—"It cannot be dispussed, the truth is too pulpable to be covered or discolored, that surrounded as he is with individuals of distinguished alents, at the head of whom stand Cley, Tyler, and Freninghuysen, he is a mankanong boys, a giant in the finished of the isoston Senator as he cast has eye over this indiscreet, intended in the country of the isoston senator as he cast has eye over this indiscreet, intended in the country of the country of the distinguished individual himself or to the country;—and least of all, will be thank this Washington letter-writer for thus deliberately holding him up as a subject for the mirth and ridicule of the whole nation.

There are said to be fair specimens of the depreciations of the value of estates in the Island; and as they were brought to the hamner, the mortgage having been were brought to the hammer, the mortgage having bee sued up, would not have brought much more than sufficien to pay the costs of court.—N. Among the number of those who retire from public lif with the present session, are some who have long been distinguished in the annals of legislation. There is a Senstor from Ohis by the anne of Ruggles, who has served eighteen years in that body, than whom a more useful, hones and patriotic man, that State does not possess. The Hon. John W. Taylong of New-York, now takes his leave of Washington, after the wing been honored with the confidence of his constituents for an uninterrupted period of twenty years.
