DEATH IN BLECTRIC CHAIR.

State Prison.

(Associated Fress.)

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 18.—John Truck was put to death in the electric chair in the state prison here this morning.

Truck's crime was committed in the town of Virgil, Cortiand county, on the might of March 14th, 1890. Neighbors discovered the house of Frank W. Miller, who lived alone, in flames. Before the burning dwelling had been entirely consumed they made out the body of a man in the ruins. Water was thrown upon the body to prevent cremation, and it was afterwards identified as Miller's. The autopsy showed that death had occurred before fire had touched the body, the skull having been crashed by a blunt instrument. It was known that Truck had spent the night before with Miller and had been in the neighborhood for several days. The next day Miller's wagon was discovered in Truck's barn in Homer, and when arrested Tuck was wearing Miller's clothes, and had his watch and his horse and wagon. He claimed to have bought the latter, but told several conflicting stories. He was convicted and sentenced to the chair.

Panama, Colombia, Nov. 18.—On Saturday General Herrers, the revolutionary commander, was notified that the period given the revolutionists in which to surrender has ended. Yesterday Admiral Casey, United States navy, received a communication from General Herrara, dated November 3rd, asking that a vessel be sent to bring him to a conference with the government officials. The Panama railroad ingboat Bolivia left here to-day having on board an officer from the United States flagship Wisconsin, for Aguadules, where Gen. Herrara is waiting. It is reported that the revolutionists will accept the amnesty decree under the same conditions as did General Uribe-Uribe. The conference will take place on board the Wisconsin. The United States marines will retire this afternoon from guarding the trains. The railroad line is now protected by about 5,000 Colombian soldisrs.

Mr. McCandless also asked that no announcement be made of his candidature, as it was still in abeyance. The announcement in the Colonist was therefore unwarranted.

Speaking this morning in regard to the whole matter. Ald. McCandless repeated that whether he would be a candidate or not for the office of mayor was still under consideration. He personally was not anxious for the position, and if the people desired any one else to oppose Mayor Hayward it was immaterial whether or not he himself took the field against him.

sides to the controversy. If counsel takes no action it is likely the commissions will. The commissioners recognize that President Mitchell is the most important witness the miners have, and they are loath to have matters hurried while he is on the stand. He being the representative of the union, his opinions are looked upon as official, also as reflecting the policy of the organization.

Mr. Maeveagh questioned Mr. Mitchell as to his efforts to prevent disorder in the anthractic region.

The examiner and the miners' representative engaged in a colloquy regarding the personal freedom of the workingmen. Mr. Mitchell said that there was no anarchists in the labor union. He asserted that no local in his union had ever expelled a man because he belonged to the National Guard, nor had any other national union. One little union in the United States had cone so, and the fact had been heralded all over the country. He was not responsibly for what other unions did, he said.

With this Mr. Macveagh finished his examination,

S. P. Wolverton, representing the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co., informed the commission, after a few remarks by Judge Gray, that the future examinations by counsel would be very hrief.

For the first time since the hearing began, the members of the commission questioned Mr. Mitchell at length.

Just as W. W. Ross, counsel for the Lackawanna road, began to examine Mr. Mitchell, recess was announced.

Referring to his trip, he said it was to be a matter of business, and not a mero parade. He could not expect that all the bitterness in South Africa would die out, but, he could hay this for the government, that they would relieve all suffering. He was bound on a new venture, and there was a possibility of failure. The government's desire was to make South Africa one united nation, united in heart as well as in name. THE COAL COMMISSION.

Halifax, Nov. 17.—R. M. S. Parisian, the first steamer to open the Canadian winter port service, arrived here on Saturday, and left for St. John after landing passengers and mails. Demand For Yearly Agreement Dis-cussed For Four Hours.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 17.—In the presence of as many persons as could be jammed into the Superior court room today, Wayne Macveagh for the Erie, and John Mitchell for the miners, continued their brilliant battle of cross-examination before the Anthracite Coal Commission. The fourth demand of the union, which calls for a yearly trade agreement, and which means a straight out-recognition of the uion, was the bone of contention, and although four hours were taken up in a discussion of the question, not much material progress the question, not much material progress was made. Mr. Macveagh attempted to show the utter irresponsibility of the union, and its unfitness to make contracts which it could not live up to. His principal argument was to the alleged boycott, and he often hard pressed the miners' president for an answer. The latter, however, slowly and deliberately gave some reply, but they did not always satisfy the inquisitor, who expressed his admiration of the ability of the witness. Mr. Macwagh weighed heavily on what he said was the reign of terror in the anthracite region during the period of the strike, and with the assistance of many documents, maintained that it would be utterly impracticable for the companies he represents to enter into an agreement with an organization that could not control its own men.

Mr. Mitchell stoutly maintained that the discipline in the region is as good as it possibly could be where 147,000 men were involved. He claimed that the strikers were not entirely responsible for the acts of lawlessness that were committed. He regretted that members ef the union had violated the law, even after they had been warned to refrain from doing so.

Replying to specific instances pointed out to him by Mr. Macveagh, where men had been determed from moins. question, not much material progress s made. Mr. Macveagh attempted London, Nov. 17.—The King of Portugal arrived at Windsor to-night from France to pay a visit to the King and Queen of England. As the present is the first occasion on which King Edward has visited the town of Windsor since his illness, the inhabitants of the royal borough gave him an elaborate reception. The other ruler at present in England, the German Emperor, had good shooting to-day on the estate of the Earl of Lonsdale, whose guest he has been at Lowther Castle since Sunday. Last Instalment in Lordon Times Deals With Raid and War.

London, Nov. 15.—The Times published this morning another page of extracts from the memoirs of Mr. Kruger, dealing with his history of the Transvaal and his own successive terms of office as president. Mr. Kruger enters at great length into the circumstances of the Jameson raid, and declares that it was only his influence and his threat to resign the presidency which prevented the burghers from attacking and shooting down all the foreign inhabitants of Johannesburg.

The former president explains that particulars of the course of the war with the British and of its vicissitudes would not come within the scope of the memoirs, as he took no personal part in the fight. He describes the harassing life he led at this period, directing and advising the Boer leaders. His sleep was broken many times every night to attend to dispatches, etc. He gives minute details of the removal of the Boer government from Pretoria, and says it was a sad blow to him, especially as his wife was then so old and weak that he could not think of taking her with him. The extracts published also include a description of Mr. Kruger's journey to Europe, and the writer declares that in the matter of the peace negotiations he left everything to the discretion of the generals.

MORE HIGH GRADE ORE.

How Work Is Progressing in the Velvet

The predictions made earlier in the year that the conditions with respect to the Velvet mine would show a marked improvement, are more than being realized at the present time. It is now, with the discoveries made during September and through other developments, almost sure to become a large and profitable snipper, and that before many months are out.

saipper, and that before many months are out.

The strike and discoveries made last September in the No. 1 level of the mine by Manager Gray, in which the vein matter assayed no less than $100 in gold to the ton and which was reported in due course in London, has been followed by another interesting discovery of fairly high grade ore, this time on the No. 5 level of the mine.

The ore, according to Manager Gray, who telegraphed the discovery to the London office of the company, is of a very high grade and is said to be a fine body of ore. Mr. Gray declared that he had at the present time five feet of ore of this new ore body and that he had sent a portion of it to the smelter from which he received very good returns, the ore averaging somewhere in the neighborhood of $25 or $30 a ton. The ore is not quite as high grade as the body struck a month or more ago on the No. 1 level, some of which went almost as high as $100 to the ton.

The lawyers of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, or the Philadelphia & Reading company, will next take Mr. Mitchell in hand unless the programme is changed.

It is expected the attorneys for the non-union men will present their case to the commission to-morrow. If it is decided to hear them, it will inject an entirely new feature into the investigation, and one which was not expected the temmission.

At the beginning of the afternoon session Mr. Maeveagh again pressed Mr. Mitchell hard for a straight expression on boycotts. The attorney read a list of names of fourteen men who were killed during the strike. Mr. Mitchell said that a number of these men were killed by coal and iron police, and that of the fourteen, ten did not belong to the union. A list of the seriously injured was also put in evidence by Mr. Maeveagh.

The commission adjourned until tomorow while Mr. Macveagh was engaged in cross-examining Mr. Mitchell as to the responsibility of the miners' organization.

City Engineer Topp reported as follows:

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to submit the following report for your consideration:

Re Sewer Connections.

Herewith please find list of names of those who have not yet compiled with notices from the city solicitor. I would respectfully request instruction: I would respectfully request instruction. I would respectfully request instruction from the council as to how each individual case shall be dealt with.

Communication from T. A. LePage, sakside of Moss street, between Pailfield cand and Reicher street. The city carpenter reports and recommends a walk be laid four feet in width and also the present two plants walk be removed to Moss street, east side, from Fairfield road, south. Total estimated cost, $220.

List of property owners who have not compiled with the resolution passed by the city council on the 18th day of October, d992, re connection with sewer:

E. W. Sleightholm, lot 12, block 5, acre 7. No answer.

Capt. J. G. Cox, Chairman of Harbors and Navigation Committee, Victoria, B.C.:

Dear Sir:—Mr. President McQuade wishes to direct the attention of your committee to the report that work has been suspended on Toxo rock in consequence of funds for that purpose being exhausted.

He destrea that your mentitive ascertain what appropriations were mentited ascertain what appropriations were more than the fee yier toria harber improvement at the last session of parliament, and also what amount of such appropriation has been expended; of such appropriation has been expended; Geo. Stelly, lot 102, block 25. No answer.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, for every druggest keeps it. Use it for a month and, it it succeeds, the cost is only $5.50. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself. I have no samples, because any medicine that can affect Rheumatism quickly must be drugged to the verge of danger. I ase no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease but of the blood.

My remedy does that, even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how impossible this seems to you, I know R and I take the risk.

I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that 39 out of 40 who get those six bottles pay gladly.

I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. I will send you my book about Rheumatism, and an order for the medicine. Take it for a mouth, as it won't harm you anyway.

If it fails, it is free, and I leave the decision with you. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 77, Rachne, Wis Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

Received and referred to the finance committee.

The finance committee reported, recommending the payment of accounts aggregating $2,717.79. Adopted.

Ald. Barnard's Sewer Rental By-law was next considered in committee, read a second and third time.

Ald. Worthington then introduced the library question, asking if any reply had been received from Ottawa regarding the site of the old post office on Government street, to which question the city replied negatively.

Ald. Vincent's motion, which asked that competitive plans be called for the construction of the library on the site now owned by the city facing James Bay, was read, and came in for considerable discussion.

Ald. McCandless wanted to know what position the board would place themselves in by taking action on such a motion, in view of the resolution passed some time prior to the submission of the

GARRETSON FURNACE,

Manage: Breen Contradicts the Opinio Expressed by G. O. Bradley at Spokane.

G. O. Bradley, a representative of the Allison-Chalmers Machinery Company, of Chicago, has, in an interview published in the Spokesman-Review, of Spokane, pronounced the Garretson furnace, which has been installed at Crofton, a failure. He described the remainder of the plant as working most sotisfactorily.

James Breen, the manager of the Northwestern Smelting & Refining Company, however, denies that such is the case. The motive for these statements is probably found in a disagreement between Manager Breen and G. O. Bradley, which took place at Crofton. The firm which the latter represents funished a part of the machinery used at the smelter at Crofton. It was very late in arriving at its destination, and delayed the management of the smulter several weeks. Manager Breen expressed his disapprobation with respect to this delay to representative Bradley personally, hence the ! feeling between them became somewhat strained.

THE "FRENCH" PREMIER

Scanning the political horizon from and doughty political antagonist, Captain Clive Phillips Wolley, thinks he discerns a definite issue for the Grits and Tories of Canada to appeal to the country on. The Captain, on the authority of the Montreal Star, believes that Canada has been disgraced by her present Ministers. According to a cable reliable newspaper with distinct Tory bias, during the proceedings of the Coloniel Conference "not a single Canadian cussiln appeared on the agenda. Every other colony, even Newfoundland, insisted on increased contributions towards adian Ministers not only declined contributions, but submitted a memorandum nning the whole movement of Might we be permitted to point pion that the Montreal Star is not the most reliable source in the world from which to select texts for political sermons. VICTORIA AND THE POLE.

Captain Bernier is willing to confer upon Victoria, for a consideration, the 'honor and glory" of building and fitting out the ship in which he proposes to sail in search of the north pole. He has already collected a considerable sum to-wards the expenses of his expedition, and there is little doubt that he will succeed in the preliminary object of his ambition. Whether he is likely to attain the summit of it is another matter, about which there must necessarily be some misgivings. A great many expeditions have been fitted out, none of which reached the pole, although it is claimed the results have been of considerable scientific importance. But Capt. Bernier believes mistakes have hitherto been made in selecting the starting point of northern expeditions. He maintains a more open highway, more favorable which are lacking in the old and off-tried routes. These theories must be put to if the present scheme falls to the ground. The fitting out of such an important expedition would for a time concentrate the attention of the world upon us. If the vessel were built and provision ber of visitors. The benefits would be direct and indirect, various and numerous. Would fifteen thousand dollars be

Dr. McInnes has had considerable experience in political affairs, but no amount of experience can qualify a man to successfully guide two political parties. A double net in pedestrianism would be gafer and easier of accomplishment.

During the life of Goldwin Smith his brain was at the service of Cornell University, and undoubtedly good service it did. THE SAD LITTLE FACE.

S. E. Kiser.

A sad little face looks out at me. From a frame that is odd and worn; The face of a child torigon—
A strange little child that I used to know, Far sway where the bills shap blue—
Who dreaused of a great words may a gon, and of wonders that he would on?

O, strange little boy, why were you sad?
Did you dread th that far-off day.
The hear-threaking hours that I have had a sad little face looks out at me.

LACK OF CURRENCY.

To the Editor:—As the subject discussed under the above caption in your issue of November 14th is one of universal interest to the civilized world, but, unfortunately, is one which the magnification of the world with the magnification of the stress of modern sexistence, give but a tithe of the study to which its importance entities it, with your permission I will endeavor to make clear certain inaccuracles which appear in the letter of Mr. Ledingham, on action of his fellows and himself became more complicated, on account of this definition of the word capital being incorrect. Your correspondent stay, whereas, as a matter of fact, capital is only that portion of days labor stored up, or accumulated, which is devoted to the assistance of increased production. The food or cloching, or other necessaries of life to the laborer are not capital, which is devoted to the assistance of increased production. The food or cloching, or other necessaries of life to the laborer are not capital, which is devoted to the massistance of increased production. Again, at wealthy man's yaelt, or the other appurwhich had followed attempts to impose taxation upon people who were without representation in the legislative bodies which were invested with powers of expenditure. They were alive to the necessity of approaching some subjects cantiously and dealing with certain questions tenderly. But it is, not true that they refused to consider the position of Canada in relation to the matter of Imperial defence. They did nothing or said nothing to stamp this country as the "meanest of the nations which go to make up Great Eritain." We know nothing about notices of motion or suggestions for discussion, and neither does the Montreal Star, but we do know that the Canadian representatives at the Conference offered to relieve Great Britain of the expense of maintaining garrisons at Halifax and Eaquimalt, They undertook to place on a footing of thorough efficiency the citizen soldiery of the Dominion. That may not be advancing with the leaps and bounds Tories out of office approve of, but it is at least a good long step in the right direction. We presume Captain Wolley is thoroughly familiar with the political history of Canada. Would be be good amount of exertion, are as much laborers as the tinier of the soil or the mechanic. The non-producers referred to are the land-owners, who, by denying access to the land, without which labor can produce nothing, except a consideration be paid them for the privilege, despoil the laborer of a portion of the produce of his labor, giving nothing in exchange therefor. The title to land dates back in all cases originally to either possession by force or priority of occupation. The title derived from force would only be good as long as the owner of the title were stronger than others desiring the land, and priority of occupation gives no better title to possession. Because one man got into a theatre first, would he have a right to demand from all who came in after him a consideration for entering, it being understood that all had paid the same rights in the theatre? All that he would be entitled to would be choice of position. If, for the sake of simplicity, we consider that Eritish Columbia consists of 1,000 acres, and one man came had allow, he would be entitled to the would be considered that the columbia consists of 1,000 acres, and one man came had allow, he would be entitled to the visual of the came; suppose so more men equal rights came; suppose so the hood. What right, human or divine, has the man who was there first to levy tribute on the occupiers of the land who came after him? All that he would be in the price of the land who was there first to levy tribute on the occupiers of the land who came after him? All that he would be in the price them for their land would be the price he paid for it, provided he purchased it, the interest on the money so laid out, the value of the insprovements made by him, and interest thereon, and if he insists on more he is despoiling the laborer of a portion of the produce of his labor. What is then the remedy to be applied for the cure of this cancerous monopoly of land which is draining the very life-blood of the majority of the cells composing the social organism? Make it —A small house took in "Hello Bill" at the Victoria theatre last night. The play is funny enough, being full of ridiculous situations that provoke the most staid into laughter. It would have sandwiched admirably between a production like "Camille" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," being an excellent antidote to the blues. James F. Macdonald, as as William Fuller, S. S. Wiltsie as Mr. Cutting, and Mr. Cogliser as General William Fuller were the three principal fun makers. The lady members of the company were very ordinary, one of them being painfully so. She was evidently a new-comer, for her lines were delivered with that sporadic uncertainty, that put the audience on the constant, qui vive for a collapse. There is nothing intellectual about "Hello Bill," as may be surmised from the billboards and the name, but it is entertaining after a fashion.

Will Meet Council To-Night-Compari son With Washington State Fair.

The executive committee of the Agricultural Association will meet the city council this evening in connection with the request that the corporation square the deficit arising out of the recent exhibition. A petition to this effect is now in circulation, and is receiving many signatures. In regard to the exhibition Secretary Beaumont Boggs makes some interesting comparisons with the Washington state fair. In point of attendance the Victoria show easily surpassed the one on the other side, the gate receipts being as follows: Washington, $5,141: Victoria, $5,788. In some particulars their returns are more satisfactory than those of the Victoria fair, but in others the showing of the local exhibition was considerably better. They expended nearly twice as much money on horse races as was appropriated here. There is a substantial difference in the financial assistance received. Washington gets a grant of $5,000 against Victoria's $3,000. In premiums Victoria is abead with $5,035, against Washington's $4,008. The Victoria exhibition, therefore, in point of attendance and premiums was superior to that of the Washington state, whose financial rescurces are much superior. The accounts have been audited and will be submitted to-night. The executive committee of the Agri-

Other Tonnage.

The prospect for idle ships in port is not a cheerful one. These vessels are generally British, and have usually to depend on a lumber or grain charter. From present indications, however, the buik of the wheat will this year be carried by French vessels which accept rates British carriers cannot consider, and depend on the bounty they receive to make up the shortage.

An illustration of this aspect of things was afforded a few days ago when the French barque Jean, 1,705 tons, accepted a charter to carry wheat to European ports for 12 shillings and 6 pence. Previous seasons have seen grain charters as high as 35 shillings.

For several days ships have been offered at San Francisco at 15 shilling to even accept them at that figure. The French barque Jeanne Cordonnier, of 1,708 tons, broke the price asked by accepting a charter at 13 shillings 9 pence to fond wheat and barley for the Interest Charter.

LABOR TROUBLES

STRIKES OF THE LAST TWENTY YEARS

Causes Which Generally Won and Those Which Usually Lost-Notable Successes.

years the strike as a remedy for real or fancied ills of labor, has enjoyed higher average of success than of This can hardly be said to be borne out by the statistics available. The department of labor at Washing-The department of labor at Washington, with the largest possible equipment for the collection of such data, has not cast up its footings since 1901. Then, however, it went over the field for twenty years and compared the results of all such upheavals, classifying them under the heads of success, partial success, and failure. Success and partial success belong for present purposes in the same category, since the incompleteness of the success in any given instance may have been due either to mutual sacrifices or to the fact that the strikers demanded in the first instance more than they exto the fact that the strikers demanded in the first instance more than they expected or hoped to get, in order to leave a debatable margin for negotiations. The only figures, therefore, necessary to scrutinize now are and, comparing the first with the last year of the period we find that, whereas 32 per cent, failed in 1881, 33 per cent, failed in 1900. Still, between the two extremes there is a wide variation. In 1897 and 1890 the failures were only 15 and 18 per cent, respectively; in 1891 and 1892 they rose to 54 and 53 per and 1892 they rose to 54 and 53 per cent.

It is a fact not without its suggestions that when times were hardest and when they were most prosperous the strikers seem to have made their notable record of successes. This is doubtless to be accounted for, on the one hand, by the fact that employers in flush, times are too eagerly busy to let ordinary questions of wages and hours interrupt their activities; and, on the other by the prevailing distress, leaving the employers no alternative but to make terms or go to the wall. This, the wave line, which marks the successful strikes through the twenty-year period mentioned, takes a sudden drop in 1883 and another in 1895, a third in 1899, a fifth in 1897 and a sixth in 1899. In short, the restlessness of the labor element, and their persistancy in pushing their claims, seemed to reach the greatest height in years when the general trade atmosphere was either Very Gleeful or Very Gloomy

Very Gleeful or Very Gloomy and to have maintained the best balance a those years when everybody was pur-uing a normal course in business and fitending quietly to one day's affairs fiter another's. This last is obviously he most wholesome industrial condi-

A more significant deduction, perhaps, may be made from the statistics regarding strikes ordered by organizations and those not so ordered. The number of strikes ordered by organizations increased, with several irregularities, from 222 in 1881 to 1,164 in 1900, while the percentage of failures also increased, though very slightly—from 28 to 30 per cent. On the other hand, the strikes not bracked by organizations increased in the same period from 240 to 615, maintaining some approach to regularity in this size.

same period from 249 to 615, maintaining some approach to regularity in this rise, while the percentage of failures, which is 1881 was 43, was 63 in 1900.

The coal and coke industries, being masong the most heavily-manned in the country, lead the whole list in the number of persons—all of one sex, by the way—engaged in the strikes for thirteen of the twenty years, though the data on this point for the first six years are isacking. They lead also in the number of persons thrown out of employment by such disturbances. In the building trades take first place and

the building trades take first place and clothing the second, and then come coal and coke, the metal and tobacco trades following close behind. The prominence given by the late great coal strike to the question of labor organization lends interest to the fact that, whereas the strikes ordered in the coal and coke industries in twenty years by organizations number 1,303, the number not so ordered reached 1,209, a pretty fair second; the organizations carried their point wholly in only 19 per cent. of these cases, while the strikes not ordered by organizations were entirely successful in 33 per cent.; the former, however, succeeded partly in,19 per cent. and the latter in only 10 per cent.

One more comparison, to many minds doubtless the most interesting of all, should be made before leaving the subject. This has to do with the causes of strikes during twenty years, and the degree to which these have been approved by the result. Between one-quarter and one-third of all the troubles

-or, more exactly, about 29 per cent.—
have grown out of a demand for increased wages alone. In more than half the instances the increase demanded has been granted, and in more than twothirds either all or part. The next record is held by the mixed demands for increase in wages and reduction of hours, which were causes of nearly one-eighth of the strikes and successful about five times out of six; and the next by the question of hours alone, which for nearly one-eighth of the strikes, but in which the strikers succeeded only shout three times out of five. Three causes appear to have been invariably shout three times out of five. Three causes appear to have been invariably triumphant.

In 901 establishments strikes were directed against long hours and the task system; in 750 against reduction of wages and working overtime; and in 800 to obtain increase of wages, Saturday half-holiday and the privilege of working for employers who were not members of a masters' association. All these strikes for twenty years were wholly successful. The three classes of strikes in which the successes were fewest were 750 for increase of wages and against the use of material from non-union establishments, not a single one of them being successful; 1,649 for the recognition of a usion, in which only about oneighth succeeded; and 4,078 in sympathy with strikes elsewhere, nearly three-quarters of these having failed entirely. So it may be said, that in the main, the struggles of twenty years have developed greater liberality in the relations of labor and capital—a healthy trend as far as it goes.—The New York Evening Post.

Paine's Celery Compound CURES RHEUMATISM

THE ONLY MEDICINE THAT PRE-VENTS A RETURN OF THE TERRIBLE DISEASE.

Rheumatism, which does its terrible work in the muscles, joints and tissues, is caused by uric acid which gathers in the blood. To get rid of this poisonous acid which produces the irritations, pains, agonies, inflammations and swellings peculiar to rheumatism. Paine's Celery Compound should be used without delay. No other medicine gives such prompt, cheering and happy results. It is the only medicine that prevents a returns of the dreaded disease. Paine's Celery Compound braces the nerves, the blood is cleared of all irritating poisons, tissue and muscle are built up and the digestive organs perfectly toned. Do not treat with indifference the slightest symptoms; early use of Paine's Celery Compound will prevent weeks and months of suffering. Mr. G. J. McDonald, Cornwall, Ont., writes as follows:

For three years I suffered terribly from rheumatism. It seemed to me that I was forced to endure all the agonies and pains that a mortal could possibly experience from the disease. While suffering, I tried many of the advertised medicines, also doctors' prescriptions, but never found a cure until I procured a supply of Paine's Celery Compound. It worked like a charm, and seemed to strike at the very root of my trouble. I am now cured; all pains are banished, and in every respect I am a new man."

LEAGUE MEETING

LEAGUE MEETING.

This evening there will be a meetin of the Victoria District Association Football League in the V. A. C. rooms at o'clock. Some matters of importance with come up for consideration, among whice will be the arranging of a series of game between the Capital City and Victor West intermediate teams for deciding the championship for the present season. protest entered by the North Ward tea will also be considered.

GAME TO-NIGHT.

The fourth game of the intermediate league series will be played this evening between the J. B. A. A and Victoria West teams at the latter's hall. The Victoria West team at present stand ahead of the J. B. A. A. boys, having won the only game they played so far this year. Play will commence at 8 o'clock or shortly after. The following are the teams:

J. B. A. A.—A. Belyes (captain) and F. Bone, forwards; R. Power, centre; J. Pinlayson and J. Donaldson, guards; S. Nason and A. Foote, spare men. Victoria West—A. Stephens and L. Balley, forwards; F. Baker, centre; J. Dakers and W. Bloomfeld, backs; Hutcheson and Russell, spare men.

GAME ON SATURDAY,

On Saturday evening next the regular senior lengue match will be played between the Capital City and Fernwood teams. The Fernwood team is composed of the same players as last year, with the exception of the Fairall brothers, who will be replaced by Peden and Noot. The Capital City team, although not probably being as strong in the defence as the Fernwoods, will have a forward line likely to prove speedy and accurate in shooting.

CRICKET.
FAMOUS PLAYER DEAD. FAMOUS PLAYER DEAD.

The death, which occurred some three weeks since, is announced in the English press of Arthur-Appleby, J. P., once well known to all Old Country cricketers as Engshad's best fast amateur bowler. Mr. Appleby on this qualification rendered good service for the Gentlemen against the Players of England, and as a mainstay of Lancashires County eleven, in which he successfull inscolars ever frequently and concessfull inscolars ever frequently and concessfull inscolars in cricket in general, and in the fortunes of his old country in particular. He siso took an active part in public life as a respected member of the county founced, and his death will be widely regreeted, as that of a good fellow, fine sportaman and generally useful man.

ANOTHER ELEVEN.

An effort is being made by the members of the Victoria Hockey Club to form a second eleven from those players who do not belong to the senior team. If successful, it is likely that games will be arranged with other local teams in the near future, and that before the season is over several matches will be played with a Vancouver intermediate aggregation. With this in view it is requested that all members of the club attend practice regularly so that the full number required to form a team may be available with as little delay as possible.

RUGHY FOOTBALL,

COLLEGIATE WON.

The game played on Saturday morning between the Collegiate and High schools, which was disputed, has been awarded the Collegiate team by a score of 10 points to 9. A decision was reached by arbitration, members of the senior Victoria eleven acting as arbitrators.

VESSEL'S ROUGH TRIP YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Queen City May Bring News of South Bend To-Morrow-Pitcairn Island. ers Signal Ship.

In crossing from the Sound to Victoria yesterday afternoon the steamer Majestic, which arrived last evening just after the Times went to press, had a wild time. Once out in the open the steamer dipped terribly, and with the prevailing high winds received a bad shaking. Off San Juan the worst of the squalls were met. The vessel was plunging in a dreadful manner, and water was pitched clean over her pilot house. Seas were washing in on the main decks through the chock and anchor holes, and were making the deck in a slushy condition, when orders were given for the holes to be closed. John Guslie, one of the deck hands, undertook the work. In order to accomplish the task he had to go out on the gnard of the steamer, gripping a steel, line which stretches around the ship for just such a contingency. He was in the act of plugging the hole when a monster swell came along and burjed nearly the whole bow. As the vessel rose to the wave poor Guslie was not in sight. The great force of the rushing water had carried him with them, Clad in heavy oil skins he stood poor chance in a struggle for life. The freight clerk of the steamer shid he had seen him rise once, but soon disappear.

When the accident was reported Capt. Carter turned his ship about, and a search was instituted for the missing young man. It was a hunt under great difficulties, but was nevertheless as thorough as the water would permit. A lifeboat was prepared for lowering on the first sight of the drowning man be ing obtained, and other preparations were made for prompt action. But all efforts proved in vain, and the steamer was obliged to continue her way to port minus the member of her crew.

Guslie was a young man and had been employed on the steamer for about the last 18 months. So far as known he belonged to Seattle.

Yesterday was the first trip of the Majestic since her recent overhauling.

Yesterday was the first trip of the Majestic since her recent overhauling, and it was a trip which many on her will remember.

GOOD TIDINGS EXPECTED.

GOOD TIDINGS EXPECTED.

To-morrow or next day when the steamer Queen City reaches port from Cape Scott and West Coast she will bring either good or bad tidings to the owners of the sealing schooner South Bend, Captain Cole, the only vessel of the Behring sea fleet still out. The steamer will have news either that she is on the coast or that she has not yet zeached there, which report will be the reverse of what is expected and what is hoped for. It was believed that the schooner was the one which Captain Foster, of the steamer Mamie, sighted off Quatsino several weeks ago, and which was then believed to be heading for Kyoquot.

for Kyoquot.
It is possible also that the Queen City It is possible also that the Queen City will have some news of the wreckage on the coast. Advices from Port Townsend state that Captain Paulsen, of the four-masted schooner Transit, which reached port Saturday evening, after a fair passage of 16 days from Hilo, reported evidence that some lumber laden craft had apparently jettisoned her deck-load. On Friday last the Transit passed through an immense quantity of new lumber, thirty miles W. S. W. of Tatoosh island. No marks were observed on the lumber,

No marks were observed on the lumber, which was mostly 2x4, 2x6, and 2x12.

This lumber is bound to find its way to the island coast, and has probably reached there by this time.

ISLANDERS SIGNALLED.

The British ship Howth, on arrival at San Francisco from Newcastle, Australia, last week reported that on the night of September 25th the vessel passed close to Pitcairn Island. Captain Martin noticed a signal fire burning on a lofty hilltop. Three time the beacon flared against the sky and was answered with lanterns from the ship. The signal was repeated from the hilltop, and Captain Martin ordered his vessel hove Captain Martin ordered his vessel hove to until morning, when he intended to send a boat ashore. At dawn it, came on to blow, and the Howth was driven far from the island. Captain Martin is still wondering what the inhabitants of the length signed desired of him.

IF THE CAP FITS, ETC.

To the Editor:—Six years ago having left England and finding Canada a home of promise, I settled in the East. For the first two years of my residence there I studied the political conditions without taking part in the political struggles, and since then I have invariably voted the Liberal ticket. In doing so, I supported a gentleman of French-Canadian descent, who has proved himself to be one of the leading statesman of the Empire. In England I consistently supported Lord Beaconsfield, whom I considered the prototype of the great Pitt, yet I do not remember that any political opponent, who had any claim to the title of gentleman, ever sneered at me as a follower of a Hebrew! Englishmen who honor their flag, honor those over whom the flag waves. Petty envy of a higher intellect excites but the disgust of every

BRITISH EDUCATION BILL.

BRITISH EDUCATION BILL.

To the Editor:—I regret that I have not had time to reply to the very fair and temperate letter of Dr. Hands in your issue of Wednesday last. He somewhat naively grants all that Nonconformists contended for, viz., that all public school teaching should be secular. This is the crux of the situation in Great Britain. The Ecclesiastical party, seeing their hold upon the rising generation loosened, are making desperate efforts to retain and increase their control upon the people. The Nonconformists declare that the teaching of religion is not a function of the state; that conscience must neither be bound nor biased; and that the parent should have the absolute right to have his child trained in the school of religious thought that he desires. The Anglican despot, on the other hand, under the guise of religious teaching, seeks to enforce through the public school the tenets of his particular creed.

The founders of our common school system in this province very wisely settled it upon a secular basis, and in order to strengthen this position rigidly excluded ministers of all denominations from the trustee board. Can any one doubt the wisdom of such a course, saving, perhaps, the extreme religious bigot?

The Nonconformist in England through tenturies struggled for equal rights—not special privilege, nor equal privilege—but equal right can hardly realize that the strife has scarcely ceased that abolished church rates, opened the national universities to all creeds, permitted the marriage ceremony to be performed in all churches, unlocked the

Such rapid recovery from serious gunshot wounds are rure in the annals of local surgery.

GREENWOOD.

The infant child of D. Sherman, an employee at the B. C. Copper Company's smelter, died on Thursday. The mother of the child died here two months ago, after a lingering illness.

Paul Johnson, general manager of the Greenwood smelter, has gone to Spokane in connection with the proposed addition of some further facilities for carrying out the work of the smelter.

Many complaints are heard regarding the slaughter of game reported to be going on up the main Kettle river and the west fork, above Rock creek. A short time ago nearly 100 grouse were brought in to Greenwood at one time, and sold to whoever would bny them. This was the third lot received from up the west fork in a few weeks, the two previous lot having each consisted of between 40 and 50 birds. Now it is deer the vandals are slaughtering, apparently without let or hindrance.

PHOENIX.

District Superintendent of Schoola Wilson visited Eholt a few days ago, and as a result a government public school building will be erected there in the near future. At present the school is what is known as an assisted school, and there are over 50 children of school age in that locality.

James H. Kennedy, chief engineer of the V., V. & E., accompanied by A. W. Hogeland, of St. Paul, who is at the head of the Great Northern engineering department, were in Phoenix on Wednesday, it being the latter's first visit to the Boundary. After seeing the iron laid to the depot site in Columbia, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Hogeland drove to Phoenix thereby being able to inspect a large part of the Fourth of July creek survey of the Phoenix branch of their long expected railway. While in Phoenix over night they took occasion to note the location of the proposed depot site on the Idaho claim, as well as the surveys to the various mines on both sides of the hill. They also vized up the surfacel improvements and capabilities of shipping ore by the Granby and Snowshoe mines without looking up the local officials of those properties.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

The first fatal accident in connection with the building of the bridge across the Fraser river at this city occurred on Monday afternoon, when John Scott, engineer of the power scow, fell overboard and was drowned. Scott is thought to have gone to the edge of the scow for a breath of fresh air, and becoming faint, fell overboard. A boat with two men was nearby, and though the men did not see him fall, they heard the splash and went to the rescue; but Scott did not come to the surface again. He was a native of the Maritime provinces, where his parents reside. He was 27 years of age, and unmarried. His sister, Mrs. Shields, lives near here. The body was not recovered owing to the swift under currents and depth of the water.

TWO CHINESE ARE

ONE OF THEM IS THE WIFE OF LOOK DEN

The Other is a Chinese Gambler-Be-Heved They Know Something About the Attack.

The Chinaman, Look Den, who was attacked while in bed early resterday morning is still alive. Late dast night he was bereft of one of his nurses, his senior wife Ah. Ti or Di See being gathered in by the police on suspicion of having had a hand in the attempted murder of her invalid husband. She shares the suspicion with one Pong Wong, the proprietor of the gambling house at 37 Fiscand street, who was taken into custody by Detectives. Palmer and Perdue in the afternoon. He was sitting at his table when the detectives called and told him they wanted to see him. He changed countenance slightly, but quickly assumed that stoicism and inscrutability from which the most consummate physiognomist can learn nothing. He want to the relice station quietly engage, where he will remain until the mystery is sifted and the police determine whether it is worth while taking action against him.

He has been interesting himself in Look Den's domestic affairs to an unvarranted and decidedly immoral extent according to some of his associates, and he is suspected of having had something to do with the terrific onslaught on his sieeping countryman. If he did, somehody must have opened the door to let him?r. Certainly the door was never prized open, because the double spring leck that secured it was uninjured in any way. True, a mark had been made to indicate that an implement had been pressed against the woodwork, but it is too plainly artificial to bear out the story of the Chinese in the house that the door was prized open. Acting on the assumption that somebody allowed the would-be assassin to get in, the police quite naturally sized up the personnel and character of the household. The finger of suspicion pointed towards Di See, Look Den's elder wife, so they put her wife arrest.

If this woman had anything to do with the attack on her defenceless husband, her hypocrisy is starting. When a Times representative called at the scene yesterday morning both she and Mrs. Look Den, minor, were in the injured man's room waiting on him. True, Mrs. Look Den, minor, were i ome budding contradiction.

It is said that the relations between the Chinese tailor and wife number one are not been altogether felicitous. The method is understood to have expressed the Chinese tailor and wife number one have not been altogether felicitous. The husband is understood to have expressed himself very emphatically and freely about the senior partner of his domestic enterprise, while she heartily reciprocates his sentiments toward her. She halls from San Francisco, where it is respected her social caste among the yellow-haed inhabitants of that city was not of the best, while rumor in Chinatown has it that she is not persona grata to the beet society in the local Chinatown. Look Den married her in the Ray City. He has been a paralytic for the past cighteen months, and was barely able to get around. Even had he awakened when attacked he would not have been able to put up much of a defence. If his assailant used a hatchet as suspected, recistance might have resulted in instant death. He is able to speak, and was questioned yesterday by the detectives. They elicited nothing definite from num, but it is belived he knows more than he wants to fell. Hd has doubtless said enough to justify the action already taken by the police in the matter.

An affair of this sort always produces great excitement in Chinatown. It is the choice morsel of gossip for the afternoon tea parties, the prime subject of discussion in the optum dens when the frequenters are not too busy with their pipes, while the devotees of fan tan, plegow and the other games attractive to Assaties find it a fruitful topic for the exchange of views. The latter are especially interested because one of their number is now lying in jail under suspicion of being implicated. Doubtless the Chinese have theories of their own, lat they keep their opinions to themselves, or rather among thinselves.

The difficulties encountered by the police in unrayelling a crime in Chinatown. The difficulties encountered by the police in unrayelling a crime in Chinatown the Chinese. Some time ago a couple of Asiaties in a row on Government street proceeded to carve and brain each other with apparent joyous abandon, much to the entertainment of the large number of their countrymen who congregated on the scene. Both assailants were taken into custody in a very dilapidated condition, one with several kuffe wounds and the other a badly battered head. The one that was stabbed accused the other of having done it. Owing to the condition of both the case lung fire a long time, but was ultimately called. Strange to relate when in the witness box neither knew anything about the fracas. The man who hurled an accusation against the other not only denied that he had been stabbed by him, but went further and disclaimed having ever said so. No witnesses could be found. Out of the large group who witnussed the affair no one knew anything about it. They all arrived on the scene in the middle of the fight, and consequently didn't know who was the agreesor. Finding it impossible to sift the trouble and secure a conviction the police threw up the case in disgust.

The attack on Look Den is being investigated by local Chinese secret societies. Last night representatives of the Free Mason Society, board of trade and other organizations assembled in the injured man's room and held a regular court of inquiry. They questioned the victim, who had regained his speech, and tock down evidence in the most approved style. It is altogether likely that they will discover the culprit, and if the latter does not give himself up to the police they will punish him or her after their own fashion.

Two Hundred Delegates Attend National Convention at Buffalo

(Associated Press.)

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 18.—About 200 delegates from all parts of this country and Canada are in attendance at the national convention of the Brotherhood of St. Paul, now being held in this city. The convention, which opened this afternoon with a meeting of the executive committee in Riverside church, where all the sessions are to be held, will adjourn to-morrow night with a mass meeting.

GATHERING OF CHINESE. Thought Their Countryman Was to

There was a mixed gathering in the spectatora' section of the police court this morning, Chinese largely predominating. The Orientals expected that their countryman and woman, who are being held by this police on suspicion of having stacked Look Den yesterday morning, would make their debut before the magistrate. They were consequently on hand in force. The Asiatic portion of the audience, slways extremely taciturn when questioned by the police, were very garrulous among themseives, and carried on subdued (7) consciences, and carried on subdued (7) conversation during the early part of the proceedings, which made it difficult for the witnesses to be heard. It was necessary to order them out of the room, and they went agreeably enough when told that there was no Chinese case to-day.

The hearing of the two Swedes, Oleson and Oarlson, charged with supplying intoxicants to the Indian woman Maggle and her daughter Mary Anne, was resumed. Oleson, gave evidence, denying that they had given liquor to the little girl. The three, Carlson, himself and the klootchman, had drunk together, but not the little girl. The case was adjourned until this afternoom. Two hack drivers were charged with individual of the hired vehicle by-law in driving the them. One of the accused endeavore to prove an aibl, but failed. The case was adjourned until this afternoom. Two hack drivers were charged with the city consider the atomy weather anights an extensation where faingths an extensation wince. Several of them in conversation where faints to keep their lights are blown out on stormy nights. If these can't stand the wind, the hackmen argue, how can the authorities expect their small lamps to do it?

James Dupen and wife, of Calgary, are at the Dominion. They have decided to take up their residence in this city, where Mr. Dupen will conduct a clothes renovating establishment. He was formerly a member of the crew of the Royal yacht Osborne, and in 1890, when making the last vorage with the yacht with the Prince of Wales, now King Edward, on board, he was granted permission to use the three plumes as his sign. He has therefore used it ever since.

Little is known in Australia of the life history of this most destructive pest, the damage for our potato crop in Victoria alone is almost beyond calculation. An Adelaide authority says that in the larva state the grubs cause the destruction of hundreds of tons of potatose every year by boring them and thereby inducing putridity. I have also on good authority that in certain districts of Algiers during a single season three-fourths of the potato crop has been destructed. In Tasmania, I also found at times great destruction is done to the potato crop by the great of the potato crop by the potato crop by the potato crop by the potato crop by the pest.

LIFE IN KENTUCKY. Iwo Dozen Men Assassinated in Variou

SCENE AT WESTMINSTER.

How John O'Donnell Raised a Row in the Imperial House of Commons.

was on his feet when Mr. Balfour moved the closure.

At the same time the Speaker rose, but Mr. O'Donnell remained speaking, his lips moving, but his voice inaudible. There rose in indescribable din. The Nationalists howled "Gag, gag"; "Shame, shame!" The Ministerialists cried "Order!"

A strang thing happened. Mr. O'Donnell, in spite of the wild clutch that Mr. Patrick O'Brien made at his coat tails, tore himself away and walked down the gangway from his seat, and, after some wild gesticulations, in less time than it takes to write, was standing by Mr. Balfour's side, both hands clenched, beating time to some apparently violent piece of invective, all that could be heard being "I despise you; I despise you."

The Speaker was still standing, and Mr. Balfour, with head averted, appealed to him.

But the Sergent-at-Arms had been caught in the whir/pool of members who were hurrying in, and could not come to the rescue.

Lord George Hamilton, Mr. Ritchie and Sir A. Aclarid-Hood, who were near Mr. Balfour, leaned forward to shield their leader, but before any one could grasp the situation, Mr. O'Donnell had retreated to his seat, still hurling abuse. Mr. Balfour remained quite unmoted during the scene, His face was averted for the moment while he appealed to the Speaker to send for the Sergeant-at-Arms, and then, furning round, he faced the wildy gesticulating Irishman and regarded him with a bland smile.

No one on the treasury bench moved, for although Mr. O'Donnell's gestures appeared menacing from above, he cut a harmless figure, to those immediately concerned. His, friends were making such a noise that even at such close quarters his words hardly reached Mr. Ralfour.

What he did say in effect was: "You have gagged me in Ireland, and you shall not gag me in the lobby said that Mr. O'Donnell meant, no harm, and was only carried away by, his feelings.

At the time that the scene happened Mr. Balfour was, not in his usual places. Having come in to move the closure, he took the first available seat nearly opposite the Speaker.

One of the most curious incidents in the scene was the entry of Sir William Walroad, who, walking rapidly from the bar of the House, to reader assistance if necessary, passed, between the figure of Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Balfour to take his seat on the treasury bench.

After some semblance of quiet had been restored, the Speaker read from a slip of paper handed to him by Mr. Balfour a motion for Mr. O'Donnell's suspension. This was carried by an overwhelming majority of 341 to 51.

Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Balfour to take him the chamber.

He had mysteriously disappeared, and could not be found. As a matter of precaution, the Speaker called upon him to withdraw, but he had already done so of his own free will. The Nationalists called for the police, but the police were not needed.—Lond protect the children. Soon the entire block on Johnson street, between West Fifteenth street, was jammed with yelling women and children.

The neighborhood is densely populated, and within 16 minutes after the trouble began at least 1,000 persons had gathered. A detail of police attacked the crowd, and after a few of the leaders had been dragged to a patrol box, in order to frighten them, there was a break in the ranks, and the strike was called off. J. B. Marcum, of Jackson, against whose life numerous plots are said to have been directed, is in Lexington, Ky., en route to Frankfort to argue a case before the Court of Appeals. In fear of assassination, he left his home by the rear just before train time, accompanied by his two sisters and his wife, who proceeded with him by a circuitous route to the depot.

Marcum is a trustee of the state college, attorney for the Louisville & Evansville road, United States commissioner in his district and attorney for several Southern Kentucky corporations. Until he took this trip he had only left his house twice since last June. Within the last few days he has been afraid to leave his room, he says, having been warned by a friend that two men had been stationed in a house commanding a view of his porch and were to shoot him when he followed his con-
