SELF-DETERMINATION URGED FOR IRELAND

ROUMANIANS WISH TO CONTINUE FRIENDLY WITH ALLIED POWERS

Situation Between That Country and Allied Governments Appears Brighter; Roumanians Wish to Safeguard Nation's Dignity

Paris, Sept. 13.—(Havas).—The situation between Roumania and the Allies appears to be brighter. A cordial meeting was held by Stephen Pichon, French Foreign Minister, and Nicholas Misu, Roumanian representative in Paris, and M. Vaida, one of the Roumanian peace delegation, yesterday, the Roumanians expressing the desire of Roumania to safeguard her national dignity but to uphold her avowed intention to remain in friendly relations with the Allied Powers.

President Poincare also received the Roumanian delegates yesterday. The Roumanian representatives are still without official confirmation of the reported fall of the Ministry headed by J. C. Bratiano. They say that he was still in office on September 9.

AUSTRIA ABOUT TO CREATE NEW ARMY

Only Few Officers of Old Army to Be Admitted

Basel, Sept. 13.—The new Austrian army will be a professional one and recruiting is to begin soon, according to advices from Italy. Only a small number of officers of the old army will be admitted to the new army. All candidates for enlistment, the advices add, will be obliged to give guarantees of their genuine republicanism.

The army, which will be composed mostly of infantry, with units of artillery and cavalry, will have a strong technical section.

WILL REPORT ON RAID AT GUELPH

But Commissioners Will Require Weeks; Hearing Ended at Ottawa

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—The arguments of counsel were heard at yesterday afternoon's session of the inquiry into the circumstances of the raid on the Jesuit Novitiate at Guelph. During the proceedings Mr. Justice Middleton made it clear that he and his associate commissioners, Mr. Justice Chisholm, felt that the warrant of their appointment did not justify them in going farther than to inquire into whether the Minister of Justice, the Minister of Militia or other high officials of the Government were guilty of misconduct or impropriety in connection with the administration of the Military Service Act in connection with the Guelph institution.

CHILEAN CABINET GIVES RESIGNATION

Santiago Chile Sept. 13.—The Chilean Ministry has resigned.

Early Morning Fire Destroys Buildings in Courtenay

Courtenay, Sept. 13.—Fire of unknown origin started at 5.15 a. m. today in the rear of the hardware store of C. H. Tarbell & Sons on Union Street here. It spread rapidly and destroyed the store, nothing being saved. Then the flames spread to the building of the Canadian Bank of Commerce adjoining. The contents of the bank building were quickly removed, but the building itself was completely destroyed. The street on which the bank building fronted prevented a further spread of the fire and saved the remainder of the business section of the town. The loss is estimated at $30,000, covered by insurance.

GRANT MINE HAS CHANGED HANDS

Nanoose Collieries Purchased, According to Nanaimo Report

Nanaimo, Sept. 13.—The Nanoose Collieries Company of which J. J. Grant is managing director, owners and operators of the Grant Mine, Nanoose Bay, have disposed of their interests to the Nanoose-Wellington Coal Company, of which Lewis Williams, of Seattle, is president, and with whom is associated other Washington and St. Paul capitalists, according to statement in the Nanaimo Herald of to-day's date.

DR. HUGO PREUSS GIVES HIS IDEAS

German Politician Not Pleased With Allies' Stand Regarding Austria

Berlin, Sept. 13, via London, Sept. 13.—(Associated Press).—Dr. Hugo Preuss, who drafted the new German constitution, in a statement to-day to the Associated Press severely arraigned the demand made by the Peace Conference that Germany must amend the constitution so as to prevent Austrian representation in German parliamentary affairs. "I must emphasize first," he said, "that this is not a question of law. Legally it is clear and simple. The way in which our opponents brought up the matter shows they are following entirely different purposes than the clearing up of doubtful legal questions."

MRS. F. HOHENZOLLERN IS AT AMERONGEN

Amerongen, Sept. 12.—Via London, Sept. 13.—Mrs. F. W. Hohenzollern, wife of the former Crown Prince of Germany, accompanied by her two sons, arrived here to-day and was received by her husband's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hohenzollern, former Kaiser and Kaiserin of Germany.

ITALIAN VIEW EX-KAISER CANNOT BE PUT ON TRIAL

Rome, Sept. 13.—The Allied Powers "cannot appoint judges" to try Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany, and it is impossible to ask Holland to extradite him, but he must be placed in a condition which will prevent him doing further harm, according to the report of the committee of the Chamber of Deputies which has examined the peace treaty with Germany. This report was laid before the Chamber yesterday by Luigi Luzzatti, the part dealing with Hohenzollern reading as follows: "Crimes attributed to the former Kaiser of Germany were not contemplated in any penal code. Nobody can be called to answer but for political crimes not within the purview of present treaties. The former Kaiser must be placed in a condition where he can do no further harm but the eternal ideals which guarantee public and private law must be saved."

BRITISH COLUMBIA ASSURED OF STEEL PLANT NOW SAYS JAMES H. HAWTHORNTHWAIT

In the opinion of James H. Hawthornthwaite, M. P. P., the discovery and organization of the vast limonite occurrences near the Whitewater River have assured for British Columbia blast furnaces, rolling mills and all other accessory enterprises essential to the complete operation of a great steel plant. The member for Newcastle informed The Times this morning that in the comparatively small areas acquired by different owners in the Whitewater district, and allowing an average depth of ten feet for surface-exposed ores alone, there are over fifty million tons of high-grade limonite that can be mined by steam shovel at a cost of under ten cents per ton.

D'ANNUNZIO LEADS ITALIAN TROOPS INTO FIUME; WAS FORBIDDEN

Rome, Sept. 13.—Gabriel d'Annunzio, Italian poet-exile, arrived in Fiume from Ronchi yesterday afternoon with detachments of grenadiers and Arditi provided with machine guns and armored automobiles, according to a report which reached this city. The movement was made in violation of orders from the Government.

NOT REINSTATING IDLE POLICEMEN

Fight to Finish in Boston Strike; Another Man Killed

Boston, Sept. 13.—It is a fight to the finish in the police strike here. The officers formerly held by the striking policemen are vacant. New men will be recruited. The request of Samuel Gompers that the strikers be reinstated has been refused. This is the attitude as made known to-day by Police Commissioner Curtis.

30,000 SERBIAN CHILDREN DIED IN BIG 1915 RETREAT

Washington, Sept. 13.—Of the 35,000 Serbian children sent with the Serbian army in the 1915 retreat, only 5,000 survived, according to figures verified by American Red Cross workers. Most of these returned to their homes to find themselves orphans.

STANDARD OIL PLANT ON FIRE

Firefighting Equipment Is Rushed to Scene in Long Island City

New York Sept. 13.—Five alarms have been turned in at 2.45 p.m. today for a fire which is raging in the plant of the Standard Oil Company along Newton Creek in Long Island City. The plant covers many acres. The fire is reported to have resulted from the explosion of an oil tank. All the fire-fighting machines in Brooklyn and Long Island City with some from Manhattan have been called out. The police reserves from three stations were sent to the scene, as well as ambulances from three hospitals. Property valued at approximately $1,000,000 either is on fire or is threatened.

$10,000 SWORD FOR GENERAL PERSHING

Gift Resolution in American Congress; Hoover Back in States

Washington, Sept. 13.—General Pershing to-day re-established headquarters of the American expeditionary forces at the War Department to wind up the overseas army. Appropriate to the occasion of Gen. Pershing's return to Washington, a resolution proposing the gift of a $10,000 sword was given right of way for consideration in the House to-day. Pershing's Birthday. Washington, Sept. 13.—This was General Pershing's fifty-ninth birthday. He was born September 13, 1859, when the war clouds of the struggle between the states were about to break.

DRAYTON INVITES GENERAL CLARK

Brigadier Agrees to Act as Chairman of Victory Loan Committee

Sir Henry L. Drayton, Minister of Finance, yesterday wired to Brigadier-General R. P. Clark: "I would greatly appreciate it if you can see your way clear to act as chairman for Victoria and the Island division for the 1919 Victory Loan campaign. British Columbia has made a splendid record during the war in the matter of subscribing to the Government's Victory Loan, and it is quite as important this year as in either of the past two years that the Government's loan should be an outstanding success. Your cooperation as suggested would be most helpful." Brigadier-General Clark has replied to-day: "Pleased to act as chairman for Victoria and Island division for 1919 Victory Loan campaign. My committee greatly value your appreciation of their previous work. We are prepared to make a great effort to equal, and we confidently hope to surpass, last year's total. To attain this, we assure you nothing will be left undone."

BRITISH LABOR MEN OPPOSED TO MILITARY CONTROL IN IRELAND

Trades Congress At Glasgow Declares Self-Determination Is Only Scheme Which Will Settle Irish Dispute; Resolution Passed

Glasgow, Sept. 13.—James Henry Thomas, acting together with Robert Smillie, the miners' leader, moved an emergency resolution just before the annual session of the British Trades Congress was brought to a close here to-day deprecating military rule in Ireland and declaring that the only solution of the Irish problem is through the method of self-determination, by which the Irish people could work out their own salvation. The resolution expresses profound sympathy for the trades unionist "Irish brothers in their hour of repression." This resolution carried unanimously.

Cork, Sept. 13.—The military and police raids which began yesterday in connection with the proclamation of the suppression of the Sinn Fein "Parliament" and Sinn Fein organizations throughout Ireland were continued to-day. During the morning the raiders proceeded to the house of David Kent, a Sinn Fein member of Parliament, and searched the place.

DEPORTATIONS ARE MATTER OF PROTEST

British Trades Congress Objects to Removal of Alien Trades Officials

Glasgow, Sept. 13.—The British Trades Union Congress, which had been in session here all the week, ended to-day with the passing of resolutions re-affirming the right of free speech and protesting against the arrest and deportation of alien trades union officials for alleged connection with Bolshevism. The resolution also expressed belief in the necessity for continuing control of food prices.

30,000 GERMANS REPORTED READY TO MOVE TO MEXICO

Mexico City, Sept. 13.—Thirty thousand emigrants are prepared to leave Germany for Mexico, according to Arthur von Magnus, representative of the German Government here.

SENTIMENT IN BRITAIN MAY LEAD TO GENERAL ELECTION

London, Sept. 13.—The result of the bye-election in the Widnes division of Lancashire, in which Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, the Labor leader, was elected to the House of Commons, is considered a severe blow to the Coalition Government and has revived speculation as to the imminence of another general election. The virtual unanimous vote of the British Trades Union Congress at Glasgow for the nationalization of the coal mines and the vote yesterday for the subject of the withdrawal of the British troops from Russia are regarded as evidence of a very determined attitude on the part of Labor against the Government. Irish question, which seems impossible for the Coalition Government to solve satisfactorily. It is understood that as soon as Mr. David Lloyd George returns from France he intends to summon the Inner Cabinet to discuss the whole situation.

BOLSHEVIST BOOKS BANNED IN CANADA

One by Lenine and Trotzky Is Declared Chief Offender

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—A book entitled "The Proletarian Revolution in Russia," by N. Lenine and Leon Trotzky, published by the Communist Press of New York City, has been declared by the Secretary of State to contain objectionable matter and anyone in Canada issuing or having it in his possession is liable to a fine imprisonment. "The Soviet" published at Edmonton, Alberta also has been banned. Other publications condemned by the Censor are "Gusly," a collection of national and revolutionary songs printed in Russia in New York, and "Development of Industrial Democracy," a pamphlet printed in Finnish by the Soviet Publishing Company at Detroit.

WILSON REVIEWS FLEET AT SEATTLE

Sees Warships After Speaking This Forenoon in Tacoma

Seattle, Sept. 13.—President Wilson is to go aboard the historic battleship Oregon at 3.30 p. m., accompanied by Secretary Daniels to review the United States Pacific Fleet in Elliott Bay here. At 6 p. m. the President will be the guest of honor at a public dinner, and at 8 p. m. he will speak in the Arena.

COST OF WAR

Giving the cost of the war on both sides as $158,000,000,000 and the cost to the United States as $1,000,000 an hour for two years, he said that was the cost in money for the saving of civilization. In addition there had been 7,150,000 battle deaths. These

SCHEIDEMANN FEARS MONARCHY IN RUSSIA

Cassel, Sept. 12.—via London, Sept. 13.—Philip Scheidemann, former German Premier, in a speech here today, declared there was great and grave danger of a restoration of the monarchy in Russia, where Bolshevism had strikingly prepared the ground for reaction. But whatever happened there, Scheidemann said, Germany was determined to remain a republic.

PRICE COMMITTEES WILL BEGIN WORK

Toronto and Hamilton Bodies Will Be Models For Canada

Toronto, Sept. 12.—W. F. O'Connor, vice-chairman of the Board of Commerce, announced at the resumed inquiry into the cost of living here yesterday afternoon that following sessions in Hamilton, he would return here on Wednesday and Thursday next week, when cold storage proprietors would be examined.

Mr. O'Connor stated that the fair price committees to be established in Hamilton and this city will be ready to act by that time, and the methods adopted by them should serve as models for committees to be appointed in other communities.

"There has got to be good faith," declared Mr. O'Connor, in explaining that manufacturers and dealers would sit with the commissioners when the prices would be considered.

"The cards are to be placed on the table. The actual figures are to be disclosed, and if good faith is not being kept it must be remembered that the Board of Commerce has, in Ottawa, all data for years as to costs, etc."

Embargoes.

The Vice-Chairman also declared that if the manufacturers and producers should export necessities from the country to enhance values, embargoes would be placed on the exportation of such goods.

Alderman Sam Ryding asked what could be done with cold storage warehouses. He suggested that the goods going in should be labelled and dated and to prevent wastage.

"There has been the wastage of thousands of tons of goods which have been put on the dumps," declared the alderman.

Mr. O'Connor could not see that the marking of goods would be a good thing, but he agreed that something could be done.

"How are we going to be able to decide how long these articles should be kept in?" asked Mr. O'Connor. "Take eggs, for instance. How are we to say how long these articles should be kept? They may keep for ten days or ten months."

"I think a complete reporting system from the cold storage plants, a record of what is there and what comes in and goes out would be a proper move," suggested the Commissioner.

Mr. Ryding contended that if the goods in cold storage were discharged earlier the price of the goods would be lower.

TWO MORE TREATIES APPROVED BY HOUSE

Commons Acts on Rhineland Provisions and Polish Treaty

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Following a brief discussion, the House of Commons yesterday afternoon approved of two more treaties—one in regard to the Rhineland and the other the treaty of Poland.

In the course of the discussion of the Polish treaty, Mr. Jacobs, Montreal, took opportunity to protest against the alleged massacre of Jews in Poland. "I trust," commented Mr. Jacobs, "that if Mr. Paderewski (Premier of the Polish Republic) runs up against the League of Nations he will find that he is playing with fire and not a piano."

Hon. C. J. Doherty, the Minister of Justice, was questioned whether Canada was assuming any obligations under the treaty.

"The obligations," Mr. Doherty replied, "are all on the side of Poland."

While the House was in committee on the resolution respecting provision for military occupation of the Rhineland and providing for approval of the agreement between the Allies and Germany on that subject, Mr. Doherty stated that he was really an appendage to the treaty and Canada had been called upon to sign with the rest of the British Dominions.

Mr. McKenzie, Liberal House Leader, held that Canada had no right to sign and that it was superfluous for the Canadian Parliament to be asked to give approval.

Bills.

Two bills were presented in the House, both of which were offered last session but failed to pass. J. E. Armstrong, Lambton, Ontario, introduced his bill to place the shipping on inland waters under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission.

E. J. Cartier, Montreal, again presented his bill to amend the House of Commons Act. The bill provides that a bye-election must be held within sixty days of a seat becoming vacant; that persons elected for two or more seats must declare within thirty days for which seat they will serve, with a penalty of $200 a day, and further that polling days at elections shall be public holidays.

Both bills were read a first time.

Trade Mission.

Mr. Jacobs asked if it was true that the Canadian Trade Mission in London was being abolished.

Mr. Doherty replied that no decision on the matter had been reached.

Mr. McKenzie asked what the financial position was in regard to Roumania. He had read in the press that the $25,000,000 credit was exhausted and that Canada had no security.

Mr. Doherty said he would communicate with the Minister of Finance and give the information later.

Commons Committees.

The standing committees of the House of Commons held their organization meetings yesterday when the following chairmen were named: Privileges and Elections—Hon. Hugh Guthrie. Railways, Canals and Telegraph Lines—J. E. Armstrong. Miscellaneous Public Bills—Dr. Michael Steele. Standing Orders—H. M. Mowat. Public Accounts—H. B. Morphy. Banking and Commerce—W. F. Cockshutt. Agricultural and Colonization—R. C. Henders. Marine and Fisheries—E. K. Spinnery. Mines and Minerals—R. F. Green. Forests, Waterways and Water-power—R. J. Manion. Official Report of Debates—R. L. Richardson. There are only two changes from last year. Mr. Cockshutt succeeding Sir Herbert Ames as chairman of the Committee on Banking and Commerce and E. K. Spinnery replacing Hon. W. S. Fielding on the Marine and Fisheries Committee.

A COMMITTEE ON RE-ESTABLISHMENT

Bill Dealing With Gratuity Will Be Introduced in Commons

Announcement Made by Rowell; G.W.V.A. Officials Are Satisfied

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—In regard to the request of the Great War Veterans' Association for a commission to investigate the granting of a further war service gratuity, Hon. N. W. Rowell announced in the Commons yesterday afternoon that a bill dealing with the re-establishment of soldiers would be introduced in the House and a special committee appointed to consider it.

At the outset Mr. Rowell read a statement in regard to the gratuity question, which he said Sir Robert Borden had intended to lay before the House but was unable to do so owing to his illness. The statement reviewed the correspondence between Sir Robert Borden and the Great War Veterans' Association in respect to inquire into the question of further bonuses.

Comparison.

Mr. Rowell also read a comparative statement of the gratuities granted by the various Allied countries for war service. The figures given were based on the gratuity of a private with three years' service. He showed that Australia granted her married men in this class $14.15 and single $9.22; New Zealand, married, $4.55, plus $7 for each child under 16 years; single, $34.09, and Canada married men with overseas service, $600; single, $420, and with home service married men $300 and single $210.

In addition to the gratuity, said Mr. Rowell, the Government accepted responsibility for giving pensions to the widows and orphans of dead soldiers, pensions to soldiers partially disabled, retraining of soldiers partially disabled, assisting returned men to obtain employment and settling soldiers who desired it on the land.

Pensions.

He then read a comparative table of the pensions granted by various countries to the widows of soldiers. It showed that Canada granted a pension of $176 to widows, the United Kingdom, $252; New Zealand, $375; Australia, $252; the United States, $300; France, $160; Italy, $121, and Germany, $96. The figures of pensions granted to widows of soldiers in the world were not given.

A Bill.

Mr. Rowell stated that a bill to assist in the re-establishment of returned soldiers was now before the Senate, but as the Upper House had adjourned till September 22, it had been decided to introduce the bill in the House without delay and appoint a special committee to give it consideration.

Deputations.

A recent statement in the press that Sir Robert Borden had refused an interview to a deputation of Great War Veterans' Association officials was given an absolute denial by Mr. Rowell, who said the Prime Minister was glad to meet such deputations at any time.

Mr. Manion asked that it be made clear that representatives of the Great War Veterans' Association who were here in regard to the bonus demand would be heard by the special committee of the House.

Mr. Rowell replied there would be full provision for the hearing of all interested parties the same as there had been in the case of the Pensions Committee.

Satisfied.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—The Great War Veterans' Association officials in Ottawa feel that their request for a commission to deal with a further grant of gratuity to the returned men has been adequately met by the statement in the House yesterday afternoon by Hon. N. W. Rowell, when the President of the Privy Council stated that a special parliamentary committee would be formed to deal with the whole matter and make recommendations to Parliament.

C. G. McNeill, Dominion secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, said that the members of the special committee now in Ottawa to represent the Association in this matter "consider Mr. Rowell's statement a satisfactory reply insofar as the appointment of a commission is concerned."

Mr. McNeill said all Great War Veterans' Association commands had been advised to this effect by telegram and members of the committee would now turn their attention to getting together all the evidence which will be placed before the special committee of the House at this sitting.

Generosity Admitted.

In reference to Mr. Rowell's statement as to what Canada has done for her returned soldiers, Mr. McNeill emphasized that it was admitted by the Great War Veterans' Association that Canada had been exceedingly generous in her treatment of her war veterans, but there were still some deficiencies and inequalities which required remedies and to remove these inequalities was the aim of the Great War Veterans' Association officials in their present demands. The remedies could be found at comparatively little expense, Mr. McNeill said, and their application would have a great effect on the feelings of the returned men throughout the Dominion.

Profit on Sugar.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Denial is given here to rumors that the sugar refiners were responsible for the fixing by the Board of Commerce of the amount of profit allowed on retail sales of sugar. The profit was fixed by the Board, it is pointed out, after a full hearing of the parties concerned and after a complete investigation into the facts of the case.

SPEAKS OF CANADA'S GREAT RESOURCES

Marquis of Linlithgow Back in London After Visiting Dominion

London, Sept. 12.—(Reuters)—"Canada offers a field for both investment and effort, the value and importance of which are bound to grow."

These words were spoken by the Marquis of Linlithgow in an interview in which he revealed his extensive personal knowledge of Canadian life and conditions and his appreciation of the great potentialities of the Dominion. He has just returned from a visit to Canada.

"A reaping machine shearing its way through an ocean of grain, a glimpse of a busy lumber-camp, a log raft on a mighty river—these are images of the Canada of the picture paper and the poster, advertisements. They are typically Canadian and portray some of the great sources of that vast wealth which the country has in its storehouse. But in showing these pictures, the Marquis replied, and the photographer only penetrates the more familiar apartments of the great mansion. There are other treasure chambers which are now being unlooked for. My visits to Canada have made me more and more convinced that great as she undoubtedly is agriculturally, she will yet be greater industrially.

"As an expert agriculturist, would you care to say anything about Canadian methods?" he was asked.

Progressive.

"I think the Canadian farmer is a very progressive and enlightened man," the Marquis replied, "and I never forget that Scottish emigrants are the backbone of the Canadian agricultural community. The Scottish farmer at home, trained to the more conservative practices in vogue in this country, is most thorough in his methods, and when he emigrates he seems naturally to combine his native ability for taking pains with the progressive methods of the Canadian, and with two such attributes he makes good."

"Your Canadian is always ready to experiment and to introduce new devices designed to save labor and increase production. For instance I am told that the utilization of electricity in the country is rapidly increasing. That is a highly commendable development, and in furtherance of it the great waterpower resources of the country can be, I might almost say, harnessed to the plough."

"I think the land of Canada is being made to bear abundantly but I know it has not reached the limit of its capacity. The war showed what could be done under emergency conditions. The people in authority at home here are gradually aware of the tremendous help the Dominion rendered to this country during the war by sending us foodstuffs."

"You have studied the industrial development of Canada," he was asked.

Impressed.

"Yes, and it has been an illuminating business," he replied. "I am particularly impressed with the facility with which Canadian manufacturers diverted their plants to the production of munitions. That was a noble effort, and I think that that it was not a big revelation to the manufacturers themselves and to the Government. It points the way along the road to still greater expansion. I am told that practically every industry was on war work. I have some figures beside me which speak for themselves. Listen to this: Over 50,000,000 shells were made, 40,000,000 copper bands, 45,000,000 carriage cases, 20,000,000 fuses, 50,000,000 pounds of powder and 50,000,000 pounds of high explosives. Canada is making a big effort to secure a footing in markets where previously her goods were little known and where German manufacturers were supreme," the interviewer remarked.

Credits.

"I know of that," said the Marquis, "and I am glad to note the promptness with which the Canadian Government entered the field and fixed up credits with the countries which had suffered so badly in the war. The Canadian Mission in London, I believe, has rendered service in that respect and I think its success shows the value of getting into personal touch with the people with whom you wish to deal. That is the real 'direct action'."

Unity.

"Canada will play a great part in binding the Empire together. The

Commons Acts on Rhineland Provisions and Polish Treaty

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Following a brief discussion, the House of Commons yesterday afternoon approved of two more treaties—one in regard to the Rhineland and the other the treaty of Poland.

"The obligations," Mr. Doherty replied, "are all on the side of Poland."

While the House was in committee on the resolution respecting provision for military occupation of the Rhineland and providing for approval of the agreement between the Allies and Germany on that subject, Mr. Doherty stated that he was really an appendage to the treaty and Canada had been called upon to sign with the rest of the British Dominions.

Mr. McKenzie, Liberal House Leader, held that Canada had no right to sign and that it was superfluous for the Canadian Parliament to be asked to give approval.

Bills.

Two bills were presented in the House, both of which were offered last session but failed to pass. J. E. Armstrong, Lambton, Ontario, introduced his bill to place the shipping on inland waters under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission.

E. J. Cartier, Montreal, again presented his bill to amend the House of Commons Act. The bill provides that a bye-election must be held within sixty days of a seat becoming vacant; that persons elected for two or more seats must declare within thirty days for which seat they will serve, with a penalty of $200 a day, and further that polling days at elections shall be public holidays.

Both bills were read a first time.

Trade Mission.

Mr. Jacobs asked if it was true that the Canadian Trade Mission in London was being abolished.

Mr. Doherty replied that no decision on the matter had been reached.

Mr. McKenzie asked what the financial position was in regard to Roumania. He had read in the press that the $25,000,000 credit was exhausted and that Canada had no security.

Mr. Doherty said he would communicate with the Minister of Finance and give the information later.

Commons Committees.

The standing committees of the House of Commons held their organization meetings yesterday when the following chairmen were named: Privileges and Elections—Hon. Hugh Guthrie. Railways, Canals and Telegraph Lines—J. E. Armstrong. Miscellaneous Public Bills—Dr. Michael Steele. Standing Orders—H. M. Mowat. Public Accounts—H. B. Morphy. Banking and Commerce—W. F. Cockshutt. Agricultural and Colonization—R. C. Henders. Marine and Fisheries—E. K. Spinnery. Mines and Minerals—R. F. Green. Forests, Waterways and Water-power—R. J. Manion. Official Report of Debates—R. L. Richardson. There are only two changes from last year. Mr. Cockshutt succeeding Sir Herbert Ames as chairman of the Committee on Banking and Commerce and E. K. Spinnery replacing Hon. W. S. Fielding on the Marine and Fisheries Committee.

CARTER-COTTON'S LIFE SAVED BY A BOY

Vancouver, Sept. 12.—Thirteen-year-old Albert Bridges, son of E. Bridges, 1363 Burrard Street, rescued the unconscious body of F. L. Carter-Cotton from the waters of English Bay yesterday afternoon. Artificial respiration was applied and after half an hour's earnest effort the unconscious man was revived and taken to a hospital, where he now lies suffering from shock and exposure.

Young Bridges in describing the rescue last night said: "When I first saw the old gentleman he was up to his waist in the water just near the mouth of False Creek. He kept right on wading until the water was up to his nose. Then he went under. He came up two or three times. The last time just his coat was showing, and well I swam out and got him."

SPEAKS OF CANADA'S GREAT RESOURCES

Marquis of Linlithgow Back in London After Visiting Dominion

London, Sept. 12.—(Reuters)—"Canada offers a field for both investment and effort, the value and importance of which are bound to grow."

These words were spoken by the Marquis of Linlithgow in an interview in which he revealed his extensive personal knowledge of Canadian life and conditions and his appreciation of the great potentialities of the Dominion. He has just returned from a visit to Canada.

"A reaping machine shearing its way through an ocean of grain, a glimpse of a busy lumber-camp, a log raft on a mighty river—these are images of the Canada of the picture paper and the poster, advertisements. They are typically Canadian and portray some of the great sources of that vast wealth which the country has in its storehouse. But in showing these pictures, the Marquis replied, and the photographer only penetrates the more familiar apartments of the great mansion. There are other treasure chambers which are now being unlooked for. My visits to Canada have made me more and more convinced that great as she undoubtedly is agriculturally, she will yet be greater industrially.

"As an expert agriculturist, would you care to say anything about Canadian methods?" he was asked.

Progressive.

"I think the Canadian farmer is a very progressive and enlightened man," the Marquis replied, "and I never forget that Scottish emigrants are the backbone of the Canadian agricultural community. The Scottish farmer at home, trained to the more conservative practices in vogue in this country, is most thorough in his methods, and when he emigrates he seems naturally to combine his native ability for taking pains with the progressive methods of the Canadian, and with two such attributes he makes good."

"Your Canadian is always ready to experiment and to introduce new devices designed to save labor and increase production. For instance I am told that the utilization of electricity in the country is rapidly increasing. That is a highly commendable development, and in furtherance of it the great waterpower resources of the country can be, I might almost say, harnessed to the plough."

"I think the land of Canada is being made to bear abundantly but I know it has not reached the limit of its capacity. The war showed what could be done under emergency conditions. The people in authority at home here are gradually aware of the tremendous help the Dominion rendered to this country during the war by sending us foodstuffs."

"You have studied the industrial development of Canada," he was asked.

Impressed.

"Yes, and it has been an illuminating business," he replied. "I am particularly impressed with the facility with which Canadian manufacturers diverted their plants to the production of munitions. That was a noble effort, and I think that that it was not a big revelation to the manufacturers themselves and to the Government. It points the way along the road to still greater expansion. I am told that practically every industry was on war work. I have some figures beside me which speak for themselves. Listen to this: Over 50,000,000 shells were made, 40,000,000 copper bands, 45,000,000 carriage cases, 20,000,000 fuses, 50,000,000 pounds of powder and 50,000,000 pounds of high explosives. Canada is making a big effort to secure a footing in markets where previously her goods were little known and where German manufacturers were supreme," the interviewer remarked.

Credits.

"I know of that," said the Marquis, "and I am glad to note the promptness with which the Canadian Government entered the field and fixed up credits with the countries which had suffered so badly in the war. The Canadian Mission in London, I believe, has rendered service in that respect and I think its success shows the value of getting into personal touch with the people with whom you wish to deal. That is the real 'direct action'."

Unity.

"Canada will play a great part in binding the Empire together. The

TWO MORE TREATIES APPROVED BY HOUSE

Commons Acts on Rhineland Provisions and Polish Treaty

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Following a brief discussion, the House of Commons yesterday afternoon approved of two more treaties—one in regard to the Rhineland and the other the treaty of Poland.

In the course of the discussion of the Polish treaty, Mr. Jacobs, Montreal, took opportunity to protest against the alleged massacre of Jews in Poland. "I trust," commented Mr. Jacobs, "that if Mr. Paderewski (Premier of the Polish Republic) runs up against the League of Nations he will find that he is playing with fire and not a piano."

Hon. C. J. Doherty, the Minister of Justice, was questioned whether Canada was assuming any obligations under the treaty.

"The obligations," Mr. Doherty replied, "are all on the side of Poland."

While the House was in committee on the resolution respecting provision for military occupation of the Rhineland and providing for approval of the agreement between the Allies and Germany on that subject, Mr. Doherty stated that he was really an appendage to the treaty and Canada had been called upon to sign with the rest of the British Dominions.

President Wilson Makes Promise to Railway Workers in States

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—President Wilson will secure for the members of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees and the Railway Shop Laborers a standard of wages that will enable them to live in comfort unless the cost of living can be returned to normal very soon.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 13.—The United Mine Workers' convention today endorsed the Plumb plan for the nationalization of the railroads of the United States, pledged the support of the miners' organizations to secure its enactment, and invited the railroad brotherhoods to join with them in an alliance for joint action.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—The United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees and the Railway Shop Laborers expect the United States Railroad Administration eventually will grant the new working agreement desired, according to brotherhood officials this morning, who anticipated that Director-General Hines would discuss with the convention here next week the one point in dispute.

Brotherhood officials said today that the men are not satisfied with agreement of the proposed working time pay to all classes of labor in the organization at the rate of time and one-half, but that they expect a settlement on this point.

The convention in closed session yesterday adopted the Administration's suggestion, it was stated, to accept four cents an hour wage increase pending efforts to bring the cost of living to normal, thus averting the likelihood of a strike.

were "terrible facts" and he had come out to the people to see whether they had forgotten. "The country has not forgotten," he added, "and it will never permit any man who stands in the way of the fulfillment of our pledges to forget the sorrowful day when he made the attempt."

"The remedy for all of this proposed as a fulfillment of the nation's promises, asserted Mr. Wilson, was the League of Nations, which alone permanently could overthrow autocracy and quiet disorder. A new kind of disorderly autocracy was growing up, he said, in such movements as that which had overturned Russia.

"I am an enemy of the rulership of any minority, however constituted," he continued. "Minorities often have been right, but they cease to be right when they use disorderly means. The League, asserted Mr. Wilson, will be an almost complete insurance against war. Even if it were only a ten per cent. insurance, it would be worth while. The war just ended never could have begun under the League because Germany did not dare discuss or arbitrate her case under the covenant. Nor would she have dared invade Belgium under the covenant.

Without the League, said Mr. Wilson, the treaty would be "house of cards," which "any breath of power" could overturn. With the League it would be "as strong as Gibraltar." Regretting delay in acceptance of the treaty, Mr. Wilson declared American industry would be chilled and ruined unless there is action. Every real American, he said, should be willing to make the sacrifice to underwrite civilization, "because it is the true American spirit to give until it hurts."

Reasserting his hope that no attempt would be made to qualify the treaty, the President predicted that some day men would look back with surprise that anyone should have opposed it.

out any chance for the constitution to take precedence over the treaty.

No Contradiction

"Article 61, paragraph 2 (providing for the admission of Austrian members into the German Assembly) does not stand as a formal contradiction of the peace terms, this fact being recognized by the signing of the terms by the Allied and Associated Governments. In the German counter-proposals to the original peace terms the German Government explained, in discussing this point, that Germany did not desire to violate the Austrian frontier, but that if Austria desired to bring about a state of unity with Germany, the latter could not oblige herself to oppose the wishes of the German brothers in Austria, for in that case the right of self-determination of peoples would count against Germany. The Allied and Associated Governments merely recognized in their answer that Germany did not want forcibly to violate the Austrian frontier. Thus the peace treaty was signed. Article 61 does not forcibly violate the Austrian frontier.

Called "Brusque"

"Further, if the Entente raised serious objections to harmless Paragraph 2 of Article 61, there were ample opportunities to reach a correct understanding with Germany. Instead of that the Entente chose a most sudden and brusque manner to ward us and offered terms for which there was no trace of legality, the purpose being to compel Germany to alter her constitution as to immaterial points.

One Thought

"I do not believe in the opinion widely current among Germans that the statesmen of the Entente and the United States are filled with anger and hate and have allowed themselves to be drawn into a planless and purposeless policy. This policy, however, can have but one thought and plan—to make in a manner to consolidate a democratic republic in Germany. The forcible prevention of a union and Austria and Germany is the blow in the face for all the solemnly proclaimed principles of the Entente.

"President Wilson once said that the peace that ended the world war must approximate that made at the Congress of Vienna. The Vienna Congress believed it could by measures of force make firmer the so-called legitimacy of the monarchial principle. That was a bad mistake, but how light as a feather it weighs against the madness of the Versailles peace, on which through just those means democracy and international law were to be attained. From the madness of Vienna the United States has at least kept itself free, but in Versailles."

Weak, Nervous Children Quickly Gain Strength Under Following Plan

Nervousness, just like weakness, is a family predisposition. We inherit tendencies to disease just as we inherit physical resemblances. The strain of study, social duties, work at home—these all tend to make nervous troubles among children. No wonder that St. Vitus Dance, Epilepsy, and constant headaches have become alarmingly common. Pale, nervous, listless young people are met everywhere.

It is nothing short of criminal for parents to neglect signs of weakness in their children. By ignoring the slightest symptoms of nervous or mental strain, you may condemn your child to life-long invalidism. If any member of your family complains of headaches, fear of going into dark places, give them that wonderful tonic, "Ferrozone." Strength of body and mind, hardy nerves, ability to study with comfort, all the attributes of health quickly follow the use of Ferrozone. It establishes strength, color, endurance, vim—does this by filling the whole system with nourishment and tissue-forming materials. It's because we know the enormous good that Ferrozone will do, because we are sure every child and even grown folks, will be permanently benefited, that we urge you to give it a trial. All dealers sell Ferrozone in 50c boxes, six for $2.50, or direct by mail from The Catarrhose Co., Kingston, Ont.

Anti-Profitteering Law in States Has Severe Penalties

Washington, Sept. 13.—The House bill extending the Food Control Act to penalize profiteering as requested by President Wilson and Attorney-General Palmer as a means of reducing the cost of living throughout the United States, was passed by the Senate late yesterday. In addition to the penalties of a $5,000 fine and two years' imprisonment for profiteering, hoarding, destroying or monopolizing of food and other necessities or "making any unjust or unreasonable rate of charges," the bill extends the law to include wearing apparel and containers of food, feeds and fertilizers, and agricultural machinery. The life of the proposed law would terminate upon the proclamation of peace.

Parliamentary Committee.

London, Sept. 13.—(Reuter's)—Exceptional interest centres in the direct action controversy in the ranks of labor, as shown at the Trades Congress at Glasgow. In the election of the new Parliamentary Committee it was regarded as significant that the Miners' Federation failed to secure representation, although in the past year it has had two members. One of its defeated candidates formerly was a member of the committee. Two other members, including a member of Parliament, Havelock Wilson, were defeated.

It is understood that in the personnel of the new committee there are five members favoring direct action and eleven opposed to it.

UNIVERSITY EVENT IN NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, Sept. 13.—Persistent rain prevented holding any of the open air events of the Dalhousie Centenary celebration yesterday, except the procession from the old college site to the new campus and the dedication of the stones of the original building on the City Hall square. There were men in the procession who carried the banner of the year 1860. In the afternoon there were read addresses at the college on Dalhousie's past and future, followed by theatricals. At night there was a reunion of Dalhousians with supper, a smoker and dance. The celebration is to close to-day, all the events being scheduled for the open air, but the weather has not been promising.

Statement by Henderson.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, in an interview here on his success in Widnes, said his victory was an emphatic condemnation of the Coalition Government's policy and of the cynical political compromise upon which the Government rests. "I believe," he continued, "that the origin of the demand for a policy of direct action lies in the fact that the present Parliament is felt to be wholly unrepresentative of the nation and is dominated by reactionary influences. This has involved the country in proceedings which are the negation of democracy. It is shown in developments in Russia, Hungary and near home, in Ireland, where the situation obviously is grave. Widnes is a warning the Government can not afford to ignore."

Coal.

The report makes complaint that the share of coal which Germany is to give Italy is conditioned upon the possibility of Germany to produce it, so that Germany, naturally, will give none to Italy, although the amount of coal allotted to France was made compulsory by the treaty.

Army Expenses.

The report urges a maximum diminution of military expenses and expresses the hope that the League of Nations will facilitate the admission of the countries responsible for the war, including Germany.

Labor.

It also says that at the coming International Labor Conference at Washington legislation should be framed which will prevent any state from permitting workmen to labor under conditions which would be injurious to workers of other nations.

MOTORBOAT DRIFTED ON LAKE ONTARIO

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Eight young people started out from the foot of Morley Avenue, this city, to Scarborough Bluffs in a motor boat Thursday evening for the purpose of holding a picnic on the bluffs and were missing Thursday night and all of yesterday. Fears were entertained that they had all been drowned in Lake Ontario, but last night word came from St. Catharines, Ontario, that the party had been picked up by the steamer Dalhousie City, ten miles off Port Dalhousie. There were four young women and four young men in the drifting motor boat, very much exhausted from long exposure and lack of food and more or less drenched, but shortly after being rescued they appeared to have completely recovered.

WOMAN DROWNED IN FRASER RIVER

New Westminster, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Moran, who lived across the river from this city, was drowned in the Fraser yesterday, and Norman Gunderson, a fisherman, had a narrow escape from a similar fate when both were preoccupied into the water as their empty fish cases with which their boat was loaded shifted and knocked the pair into the water.

Mrs. Moran was in the water scarcely five minutes, yet efforts to resuscitate her were unavailing. Two other women were in the boat and they succeeded in pulling the two people from the water.

OBREGON READY TO FIGHT THE STATES IF CLASH COMES

Nogales, Ariz., Sept. 13.—General Alvaro Obregon, former Minister of War in the Carranza Cabinet and a candidate for President in 1920, announced today that he would take the field against the United States in event of armed intervention by the United States.

THE BOARD'S RESOLUTION.

The resolution adopted by the Victoria School Board last night regarding the work of the High School in the light of the recent matriculation examination is rather perplexing, to say the least.

The report of the Municipal Inspector, which embodied a statement from the Principal of the High School, declared that in the special circumstances which existed during the school term the results of the matriculation examination were far from satisfactory.

Why, then, the resolution we have quoted? Trustee Perry, who moved it, said there was no accusation in it. But, obviously, the Municipal Inspector's report leaves no occasion for it, and its mere adoption, if it does not involve a direct accusation, certainly carries the implication that the reports of the Municipal Inspector and the Principal do not dispose of the matter to the satisfaction of the Board.

Perhaps an explanation lies behind the allusion in the resolution to the report of the Provincial Inspector of High Schools. This report, made to the Department of Education, has not been given out for publication, being intended, no doubt, for the annual review of the Department for submission to the Legislature.

The resolution suggests that the Board is trying to straddle both reports and that it is sure of neither. This is not fair to either the Provincial Inspector of High Schools or to the Municipal School Inspector or to the teaching staff of the school.

KING VICTOR'S GRACIOUS ACT.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy has performed a popular act in assigning all the Crown properties for the benefit of the former fighting men of his country. These lands are very extensive and are situated all over Italy.

King Victor is essentially a democratic monarch. He was one of the earliest figures to reach the scene of the calamity at Messina a few years ago. For hours he worked with the rescue parties. Human kindness forgot its purple robe.

This most recent act of His Majesty may forge another link of common understanding between King and people. It is small wonder that the introduction of the enabling bill into the Chamber of Deputies by Premier Nitti was greeted with the utmost enthusiasm.

CANADA AND THE TREATY

There have been no developments in the constitutional relations between Great Britain and the overseas Dominions such as to require the ratification of the peace treaty by each Parliament before it can be made binding for all.

If the British Parliament had declined to ratify the treaty no part of the Empire could properly be regarded as having ratified it, no matter how strongly its Parliament may have approved of the instrument; and that is exactly how the Government of every foreign power would have viewed the matter.

nels Canada will have to initiate her business with other Governments. What the Canadian Parliament has done is merely to approve of the peace treaty. It was only proper that it should have had an opportunity of doing so, for the Canadian people are entitled to know the terms of the settlement of an issue for which they made heavy sacrifices.

NOT A GOOD DIAGNOSTICIAN.

It has been said that the public memory is short. This depends largely upon whether the people want to forget or not. Political promises and pronouncements have an unfortunate knack of acting as particularly aggressive reminders—especially if they have remained unfulfilled.

In his travels about the Province the Leader of the Opposition says he has found no one ready to say a good word about the present administration. This was the sentiment he thought he detected about his opponents three years ago. We are afraid that as a diagnostician Mr. Bowser is quite unreliable.

NATIONALIZING AMERICA'S INDUSTRY.

For more than a decade the annual assembly of the British Trades and Labor Congress has gone on record in favor of the nationalization of the vital industries of the country. At the conference in Glasgow now in session the arguments of years have culminated in a plain hint to the nation.

As in Britain, there will be a cleavage of opinion. The mining industry on the other side of the border is firmly entrenched and capital will not be lacking for the development of opposition to the workers' demands. By the same token, the United Mine Workers of America boasts a vast membership whose resort to the strike weapon might easily imperil the present industrial standing of the United States.

In both America and Great Britain the people have had an example of railway administration in the hands of the state. That experience apparently has not tempered the attitude of the workers. We are of the opinion, however, that if the followers of Smillie in Britain, and Plumb in the United States, were to give one industry a trial in the field of national ownership and operation under normal conditions, before committing the workers of both countries to a wholesale policy, the chances of general support to practical proposals for industrial reform would be greatly improved.

SUPPRESSING THE SINN FEINERS.

No doubt a loud howl will ascend from the champions of the "Irish Republic" in many quarters over the activities begun by the British authorities against the Sinn Fein organization. The wonder of it is, however, that the open sedition which expressed itself first in the proclamation of an "Irish Republic," with a flag of its own, the establishment of an "Irish Congress, and, lately, in a carnival of murders and lawlessness, was not suppressed before.

The toleration with which these measures have been viewed no doubt has encouraged many people in Ireland, and sympathizers elsewhere, to regard Irish independence as something more substantial than a dream—which it is not—and has resulted in the spread of the insurrectionary movement. We may be sure of an outburst from the shining lights of the Sinn Fein movement south of the international boundary line, whose devotion to the cause of Irish independence, however, has not been sufficiently ardent to inspire them to repudiate their American citizenship and return to Ireland and share in the activities they are so zealously, and, safely, promoting at long range.

These agitators are quite aware, of course, that if Ireland had been a state of the Union the Sinn Fein organization would not have been permitted to get very far; that a proclamation of independence would have had the same effect upon the Washington Government as the unfurling of the flag of the Confederacy had in 1861, or the attempted resistance of certain elements in one of the states to the application of conscription in the recent war—conscription which the "tyrannical British Government," to quote one of them, did not apply to Ireland.

BORAH WISHES TO WRECK THE LEAGUE

American Senator Describes Wilson as Dodger and Cheater

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 13.—Senator William E. Borah, frankly declaring to his wish not merely to amend, but to wreck the League of Nations covenant, addressed a large audience here last night. He described the League as a dodger and cheater, a Wilson as a dodger and cheater, and a subject to whom "England need only make suggestions" to secure compliance with her wishes.

When he touched the case of Ireland he grouped it with that of other small nationalities, subjects of the various Allies. Not one, he said, had received its freedom at the hands of the Peace Conference. Delegates of the League of Nations, he said, had been refused even an opportunity to appear before the Peace Council.

Spokane, Sept. 13.—Appealing directly for Republican support of the peace treaty, President Wilson asked in an address here yesterday that Republicans should "not allow yourselves for one moment, as I do not allow myself for one moment, as God knows my conscience, to think of the redemption of the world."

BRITISH COLUMBIA ASSURED OF STEEL PLANT NOW, SAYS JAMES HAWTHORNTWAITE

Character would provide for the provincially-owned railway system. The member for Newcastle explains that these limonite ores when brought to the coast can be used as a flux for the high-grade magnetite and make the available also for the production of steel of the highest qualities.

The member for Newcastle explains that these limonite ores when brought to the coast can be used as a flux for the high-grade magnetite and make the available also for the production of steel of the highest qualities. "Conditions at the world-over," Mr. Hawthornthwaite proceeded, "are now such as to place the nation or state in a position to enter into the conversion of a self-sustaining basis, at least in the production of the necessities of life. More pronounced will this be in the years to come if only because transportation problems have reached a virtual insuperable stage. All this leads to one thing: the decentralization of manufacture so as to place as far as possible the least expenditure of state labor—the most valuable of all commodities.

"Naturally I would like to see the Government take hold of this project and carry it through to a successful issue," continued the member for Newcastle. "I may say frankly, however, if the Government cannot, by reason of its inability to secure the large amount of money required, see its way to undertake the task, that with ordinary encouragement, more particularly in the matter of assisting or providing transportation—no difficulty whatsoever will be encountered in commencing operations at once by the introduction of outside capital.

"If the same energy is employed in prosecuting this enterprise as was developed and expended in carrying on the war," emphatically declared Mr. Hawthornthwaite, "it should be possible to have the plant well under way inside of thirty days. Where the rolling mills and subsidiary plants will be placed is, of course, a matter for careful discussion and investigation. But I am of the opinion that there can be no question that Ladysmith offers an ideal location for the establishment of blast furnaces. Two great corporations are engaged in that neighborhood in mining the finest coke producing coals found on the Pacific Coast. A coking plant in connection with these mines could be readily and economically established which, together with the blast furnaces, would provide employment for several thousand men.

The London Fur Trade

How the Industry Fell into British Hands.

From time to time many new organizations have been formed in connection with the British textile trade. Among the recent additions of the more notable is the London Fur Trade Association, the objects of which include:

The consolidation and regularization of the trade generally, so that London may remain, as at present, the centre of the raw fur industry, and may increase in importance as a centre for dressed, dyed, or manufactured furs.

To form a representative body which can speak for the trade on all matters.

To assist in generally raising the tone of the industry by encouraging instruction in the arts of sorting, dressing, dyeing, manufacturing, instituting or supporting classes, and, if necessary, schools for teaching the arts and practices of all sections of the fur trade; awarding scholarships, and by all means endeavoring to raise the level of skill and knowledge by which the trade is conducted.

Historical Details.
How the industry fell into British hands is described in the following historical sketch which appeared in the recent Drapery and Textile Trade Supplement to The London Daily Mail:

All Sections Enrolled.

To those familiar with the London fur trade and the conditions which have prevailed for many years it is surprising that the formation of the association has been so long delayed. On the other hand, it has to be admitted that circumstances have rendered it exceedingly difficult to establish the requisite measure of unity necessary to ensure the success and permanent value of an organization of the kind. These difficulties have, however, been surmounted, with the result that the organization has started on its career with a membership consisting of many of the leading houses.

The story of the inception of the new association is not uninteresting. The formation of the organization may be said to be the outcome of a suggestion made recently by Mr. F. E. Ingrams, of the Hudson's Bay Company. Speaking at a dinner held following the resumption of the London fur sales—the sales were discontinued soon after the outbreak of the war—Mr. Ingrams said: "Those present had to thank the Germans that for the first time in the history of the trade they were seated round a common board, at what he hoped would prove to be the first annual inter-Allied and associate fur trade dinner. The times through which they had passed, and the trust he placed in the formation of a British Fur Trade Association. It might be difficult to bring a trade with so many ramifications into line, but if the representatives of the various branches would meet in the same friendly spirit in which they had done recently such an association should result to the advantage of the trade in general."

Mr. Ingrams' expectation has been realized, and he has, it should be added, been elected first president of the newly formed body, with Mr. E. Poland, C. Lamson, and B. Blunt as vice-presidents. Mr. W. Martin as honorary treasurer, and Mr. C. M. Blunt as general secretary.

Great Britain's connection with the fur trade dates back many centuries, and in the development of the industry the Hudson's Bay Company has played a very prominent part. It was in 1610 that Henry Hudson discovered what was afterwards known as "Frobisher Bay" on the northeast coast of North America. It was the last discovery of the famous English navigator, for his crew mutinied, sent him adrift in a small boat, and he was never seen again. In 1664 Charles II. granted the States of New York, New Jersey, and Delaware to his brother, the Duke of York, and the fur trade of New Amsterdam, which belonged to the Dutch, then fell into English hands.

Two Dissatisfied Employees.

At that time Canada was French territory, and in 1663 the charter granted to La Compagnie des Cent Assoies by Louis XIII. was ceded to the Crown and a new association was formed known as La Compagnie des Indes Occidentales, which received its charter from Louis XIV. Two employees of the old company, Radisson and Groselliers, dissatisfied with their prospects under the new regime, proposed to extend their independent trade to Hudson's Bay, and sought financial assistance from Boston, where they learned of the discoveries of the English navigator Hudson and the fate of those of Frobisher, Davis and Groselliers. They were persuaded to visit England and offer his services to the King, but went to France first. Failing in his quest, he turned in 1667 to Prince Rupert, and the following year the Nonsuch of 40 tons, visited Hudson's Bay. In 1669 a larger ship, the Eagle, was commissioned, and in 1670 King Charles granted to his cousin Prince Rupert a charter under the title of the Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudson's Bay.

Under the charter authority was given to engage in the fur trade with the North American Indians. The addition of Canada to the British Dominion opened the way for adventurers from the Great Lakes, whose success led to the formation in 1783 of the Northwest Fur Company, of Montreal, between whose agents and those of the Hudson's Bay Company there were many struggles, often of a sanguinary character. In 1821 the two rivals joined forces, and in 1833 the Hudson's Bay Company obtained a practical monopoly of the region in which they carried on operations. The monopoly was, however, abolished in 1857. Finally their territory and other rights were bought out by Canada for £200,000 and every twentieth section of land in the fertile belt allotted to them. The company, as all connected with the trade know, continued and still continue their fur trading, and many of their stores have developed into great modern emporiums.

A very stout old lady, bustling through the park on a hot day, became aware that she was being closely followed by a roughly-dressed lad.

"What do you mean by following me in this manner?" she indignantly demanded.

The boy sunk back a little. But when the lady resumed her walk he again took up his position directly behind her.

"Look here," she exclaimed, wheeling angrily, "if you don't go away at once I shall call a policeman."

The unfortunate lad looked at her appealingly. "For goodness sake, mad lady, have mercy on me, and don't call a policeman. Y're the only shady spot in the whole park."

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BUMBLE BUG

Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis.)

One evening, when Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane were sitting in the hollow stump bungalow, talking about lollypops, ice cream cones and the like of that, all of a sudden there sounded a loud bumping, thumping noise.

"My goodness me sakes alive and some string bean soup!" cried Nurse Jane, almost jumping out of the chair. "What's that?"

"I'm sure I don't know," answered Uncle Wiggily. "If this was winter I'd say it was Jackie-or-Pestle-Bow Wow, throwing snowballs at my windows."

"Oh, it can't be that!" said Nurse Jane. "I'll turn the light up higher so we can see."

She turned the firefly-lightning bug lamp up, so it gave more light, and there, buzzing about the room was a big yellow bug. Every now and then he would hit his head against the wallpaper with a thumpity-bump-lump and it was this that was making the strange sound.

"Oh, what a funny chap!" said Uncle Wiggily, as he watched the odd creature zooming around the room, bumping into walls and pictures and the player piano—everything, in fact.

"Look out! Maybe it's a big yellow bee!" cried Nurse Jane. "It looks like a bee that has gotten in here by mistake, and can't get out. It might sting you."

"Not at all, old dear! Not a all!" buzzed the zooming chap, as he hit his head against the ceiling with a boom like a little bass drum. "Not at all! I'm a bumble bug but not a bumble bee. I don't sting."

"Then what do you do?" asked Uncle Wiggily in a kindly voice. "Well, you just come down here and tell us all about it? Why do you go around banging your head against the walls? Doesn't it hurt?"

I.O.D.E. WAR WORKERS' BADGES PRESENTED

Municipal Chapter Accomplished Much Business at Thursday's Meeting

In recognition of her long and devoted service as a member of the Field Comforts Committee, Mrs. Moore was presented with an Auxiliary War Workers' badge at the meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., held yesterday afternoon.

The chapter resumed its meetings after a vacation of two months, with the regent, Mrs. A. F. Griffiths in the chair. It was announced that the Auxiliary Workers' badges have been applied for and will be presented as they arrive to all qualified members of the committee.

Miss Thain, another faithful worker, received a badge last week. Reports were received from the Echoes Secretary, Mrs. Love, and from Miss Coke, the Municipal Educational Secretary. The latter stated that nine schools had been adopted by the chapters, and suggested that where possible the larger chapters adopt more than one school, to ensure them all receiving the historical pictures.

Mrs. Moore was appointed joint-convenor to pack the supply of socks to be sent to the men of Admiral Jellicoe's ship. The committee will meet at headquarters on Monday afternoon from 2 till 5 o'clock for this purpose.

In response to a letter from the S. P. C. A. it was decided to ask their representatives to speak at the meeting of the chapter on October 23. The meeting voted the sum of $5 towards the expenses incurred with the recent Overseas Club meeting at which Commissioner Jones spoke. Members were asked to attend the meeting to be held at headquarters on Saturday morning in connection with Flower Guild tag-day.

VANCOUVER I.O.D.E. HEAR MRS. GORDON

Asks Provincial Executive For Support of Work For Veterans

Vancouver, Sept. 13.—Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Victoria, who has recently received a federal appointment in the interests of the welfare of soldiers' dependents, gave a five-minute talk at the executive meeting of the Provincial Chapter, I. O. D. E., which was held yesterday morning at 413 Granville Street, with the president, Mrs. B. C. Boyle, in the chair.

Mrs. Gordon asked that the order continue its interest in the families of the men who went overseas, both those of this country and the others from overseas who are coming to Canada as the land of their adoption. Her officers present were Mrs. C. G. Pennock, Mrs. F. L. Bayfield and Mrs. O. L. Boynton who has been organizing some new chapters with the provincial president.

Mrs. B. M. Hasell of the provincial executive, is over from Victoria for the session. Plans for reconstruction work of the order will be considered at to-day's session.

BOARD ELECTS NEW TEACHERS TO STAFF

Technical and Manual Training Considered at Board Meeting Last Night

Five new teachers were elected to fill vacancies on the school staff at the meeting of the Board of School Trustees last night, the following being appointed: The Misses Ross, Richards, Bradshaw, Sprinkling and Lester. The matter of the election of a teacher to fill the sixth vacancy on the staff was left in abeyance.

Manual Training.
Reporting for the special committee on manual training, Trustees Deaville announced the recommendations of this body to the effect that the building which was erected for manual training at Quadra Street be forthwith equipped and opened as a manual training center and that as soon as the new four-room annex to be erected at the Sir James Douglas School is in use, a manual training center be opened there in the building originally erected for this purpose. In support of these recommendations a letter was also read from W. H. Bains, this being received and filed.

Technical Education.
Mrs. Spofford, reporting for the committee on the proposed technical education at the High School, recommended that the course for girls include the following subjects: English composition, literature, Canadian history, French, arithmetic and mensuration, drawing and design, household science, physiology, bookkeeping, physics and chemistry; household arts, such as sewing, dressmaking, millinery and art handicraft, vocal music and physical culture. For boys, the subjects would be English composition and literature, Canadian history, French, mathematics, arithmetic, mensuration, algebra, practical geometry, physics and mechanics, drawing and design, shopwork, including wood and metal work, drill, and physical culture. It was further stated that the extra teachers necessary for these courses would mean an additional expenditure of $7,700, of which half would be Government.

Bonus for Long Service.
On the matter of the proposed bonus for teachers of long service, Trustee Mrs. Spofford gave the following report: "Your committee recommends that all teachers who have taught continuously for twenty-five years and whose salaries do not exceed a maximum of $1,500 per year be given an increase of $100 per year. Although Trustee Perry as a member of this special committee had appended his name to this report, he withdrew his support at last night's meeting and moved an alternative resolution suggesting that instead of recognizing long service by a bonus, a special grant be given to those teachers whose records showed a high percentage of success. In the absence of a seconder to the resolution, it was lost.

Mistake in Tender.
Owing to a mistake of $2,200 in the tender accepted at Wednesday night's School Board meeting for the annex to Sir James Douglas School, the award has now been transferred to Thomas Ashe, whose tender was for $18,724.

After reporting to the Board the decision of the Senate of the University of British Columbia with reference to the arts course at the High School, Municipal Inspector Paul was accorded a vote of thanks for his efforts in this direction.

For the Business Girl

In future there will always be an important section of the population consisting of self-supporting women. They may or may not have dependents. In any case these workers should make provision during the wage-earning period for the time of life when self-support shall no longer be possible.

If the business girl has anyone dependent upon her a life policy should be taken. But if she is providing only for her own future as many are, an endowment policy is preferable. This form of policy includes assurance for a given number of years with the condition that if the assured survives this term she herself shall receive the amount stated in the policy. It is, therefore, a savings bank account as well as an assurance.

Mutual Life endowment policies have proven a particularly satisfactory form of investment for thousands of Canadians. The facts that all the profits of this company belong to the policyholders and that unusual care is exercised in the investment of our funds have brought gratifying returns to the holders of such policies.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Good progress is being made by H. H. Sawyer and associates with their 100-ton mill for the "Carmit Mine," 40 miles west of Greenwood. This gold property has a showing five feet wide exposed for 1,200 feet. The foundations are being put in for a five-drill steam compressor, which has been ordered from Nelson. J. Geary is the engineer of construction.

The Providence Mine, of the Greenwood district, has started up its water-liner machines, and is using air from the Long Tunnel compressor plant. This property has a high grade silver ore, and the lessee, A. J. Morrison, netted $7,500 from a car recently shipped to the Trail smelter.

A suit for $10,000 for commission on the sale of the Hidden Creek mining property to the Granby Company was filed in the Supreme Court by Mr. Justice Murphy. The plaintiff is R. P. Williams, a dealer in mining machinery of Vancouver and the defendant is the executor of the late M. K. Rogers of New York. Mr. Williams says in 1908 Mr. Rogers, as owner of the Hidden Creek property, agreed to pay him a commission of $10,000 if he could negotiate successfully a sale of the Granby Company. In this he succeeded, but did not get his commission. The defence is that Mr. Rogers had left the property to Mr. Hodgins and that the plaintiff has already been given judgment against Hodgins.

A new chimney of ore on the Electric Point lead property south of the international boundary, near Waneta, was recently discovered, and is now being explored for development, according to word received in Nelson. The property is owned by the Electric Point Mining Company, which has several shareholders in Nelson. The mine lead ore belt is being developed on the Canadian side, where Waldeser & Reeves have opened a large low-grade vein on the low divide between the Upper Salmon River and the Bend d'Oreille.

According to a statement made to the Nelson News by J. W. Evans, manager of the Mountain Chief Mining Company, a shipment of 200 tons of ore from the Mountain Chief copper mine at Benata is now being made to the Consolidated Smelter at Trail. This is the first shipment under the present ownership, which has been developing the property continuously since last February.

The task of surveying the 4,000-foot extension proposed for the Granite-Poorman tram, to connect with the workings of the Eureka mine, has been completed, and a contract will be immediately let for the construction of the new line. It is stated by H. H. Vincent, president of the Vincent Development Company which is handling the development of the combined Eureka-Granite-Poorman property for the Inland Mining Company.

SHORT OF MONEY FOR ROAD WORK

Aldermen Careful Over Expenditure of Repair of Streets

As the city has no money for such purposes, the aldermen in the streets committee yesterday decided that nothing could be done to fix up Highview Street, south of Finlayson Street. R. Burns, of 302 Highview Street, a returned soldier, complained that nothing had been done to improve his road during his fightings in France, while other persons who stayed at home had their roads looked after. He added that it will be impossible for him to get in supplies during the wet weather by other means than packing them, if something were not done soon.

The city engineer has been out looking over the situation and informed the aldermen that there was a rough trail there obstructed by a large quantity of rocks and stumps which someone had left there. The engineer said it was his intention to have this rock removed, and this the aldermen will permit him to do, but they will not allow him to spend any money.

G. J. Bagshaw applied yesterday for a motor roadway into his nursery at 1770 Chandler Avenue. The conditions there are to be investigated by the engineer and the chairman of the streets committee.

Because it will be cheaper to repair a road on private property than put through a new city road, the aldermen decided to spend $100 in regrading and refinishing the road leading to the Brackman-Ker Milling Company's plant at the end of Erie Street. City Engineer Preston said that it might take $200 to do the work, but it was pointed out that the city at present has not very much money for such things, although the road was reported to be in bad condition, cutting the tires of motor cars that attempted to use it. The Brackman-Ker Company informed the aldermen that the city had done nothing for the road since 1911.

Lessee Costello who took over the old pumping station of the city on North Quadra Street and the brick and rubble which is impeding his operations there. He asked the aldermen for the privilege of being given six months' notice to vacate before the proceeds of the "scrap" be allowed the aldermen thought that the city should only bind itself to a sixty days' notice, as the property might be sold anytime.

At the last meeting of the Court-ney branch of the G. W. V. A. in the Agricultural Hall, Comrade Bailey was elected president in place of Comrade Bates, resigned, and Comrade Stubbs was elected secretary in place of Comrade Perrot, resigned. Comrade Fraser, of Union Bay, who had but recently been elected to the post of vice-president, was re-elected. A. R. Merrix, Diocesan organizing secretary in connection with the Anglican forward movement, will be in Courtney from to-day to September 18.

On Sunday Mr. Merrix will speak at the following services: St. Andrew's, Sandwick, at 11 a. m.; Lazo Mission at 3 p. m. and at Holy Trinity, Cumberland. On Monday special meetings will be held at St. John's Church, Courtney, at 3 p. m. and at 8 p. m. The meeting at 3 p. m. will be for the members of the local branch of the Woman's Auxiliary. Others are invited as well. The evening meeting will be open to all members of the Church of England in the district.

A Dangerous Place.
Nothing has been done to the Comox wharf yet, says The Comox Argus, and it is day by day becoming more unsafe. The appropriation has been made and a Government official has been up to look the contract over; but he went away and nothing more has been heard of him or anyone else. There is a good deal of freight being unloaded here now and the weight of the trucks makes the crazy old structure quake. Many prudent people will not use the wharf any more; and it is certain that if the Government does not hurry up they will have a compensation case on their hands.

Going to Kamloops.
George W. Rowland, of Nanaimo, will become manager of the new laundry department at the Tranquille Sanitarium, Kamloops. On his way to Kamloops he will attend along with Wm. Fallon, the Northwest Moose Association convention in Vancouver.

Port Alberni and Prince.
Capt. Hendy, of Military District No. 11, who is in charge of the details of the Prince of Wales' forthcoming visit to points on Vancouver Island, has advised the City Council that His Royal Highness has accepted the invitation to a civic luncheon at the Seumas Hotel on the day of his visit to that city on September 27. Mayor Exton will issue a limited number of invitations to citizens who hold positions of a public character.

PRINCE'S GUARD OF HONOR.
The guard of honor for the Prince of Wales is taking an effective soldierly appearance, the men looking exceptionally well in Highland dress. There are still a few vacancies, and men are invited to apply at the Drill Hall at seven o'clock on Monday, for the purpose of drawing their uniforms. Training parades will be held at eight o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Good Looks in Glasses May Not Be Enough

Many modern glasses are in themselves good looking, but they cannot be chosen indiscriminately. The close attention of someone understanding the SUITABILITY of the style to the individual, and interested in the subject, is needed in the selection of frames, lens shape and size which are right for you.

STRAIN'S EYEGASSES make new friends day by day, and keep old ones year by year, by virtue of this very feature—SUITABILITY. It is a study with all our opticians.

SAANICH TO PROTEST LIBRARY EXCLUSION

Meeting at Tillicum Road to Be Addressed by Provincial Member and Councillors

Residents of Saanich are planning to take action to make effective protest against being shut out of the Victoria Public Library.

What action residents of the municipality will take has not been decided as the Saanich Municipal Council has refused to pay Victoria the full sum of money asked by the Public Library authorities for the use of the Library by the residents of the outside municipality.

To see what can be done, residents of Saanich will hold a protest meeting at the Tillicum School to-night, when the speakers will include F. A. Pauline, M.P.P., provincial member for the district; Councillors Henderson, Watson and Dooley. Reading residents of Saanich have come to realize that the way things are now they have absolutely no library accommodation at all, except the limited reference library services at the Parliament Buildings.

MAJOR BROCK BACK AFTER EXTENSIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS

Major H. W. Brock, dean of the faculty of science at the University of British Columbia, returned to the city Friday morning after an absence of over three years, the greater part of which he has spent on service in the Far East. Major Brock was the popular organizer of the "D" Company of the 19th Western Universities Battalion, with which he served as second in command until it was broken up to supply officers and drafts for the Canadian Corps.

After the battalion had been split up in England, Major Brock was attached to headquarters, where he was engaged in educational work amongst the soldiers, which work ultimately was organized into what was later known as the Khaki University. He was then sent out to Palestine, where he was attached to the staff of General Allenby, who was in command of operations in that area. He returned to England in the spring of this year.

After Influenza—WINCARNIS will quickly bring back your strength

ONLY those who have suffered from influenza can fully know the awful state of weakness that follows in its train. You feel melancholy, mean and miserable, and are liable to contract more serious illnesses.

It is then you need the revitalizing influence of Wincarnis.

For Wincarnis is a Tonic, a Restorative, a Blood-maker and a Nerve Food all in one. It possesses a four-fold power. It creates new strength, it helps make new blood, it builds up new nerve force, and it surcharges the whole body with a new vitality. That is why Wincarnis makes you feel well so quickly. The benefit begins from the very first. You can feel it doing you good from the first dose, and it isn't a mere flash in the pan, not a mere "whipping up" of the vitality, but a vigorous health that makes you glad to be alive.

The ingredients of Wincarnis are recommended and used by the medical profession in daily practice all over the world. They consist of the very elements of which our bodies are constituted, and in Wincarnis they are found in their most assimilable form. Ask your Doctor.

Testing The Mellowness of the Soap. This—And Then An Evening Out. THE Jones' have invited you to a little social affair; hubby hurries home—eats and helps with the dishes. You take the washing while he does the drying; you're finished in a "jiffy," leaving hubby guessing how it's done. Then, you tell him that WHITE SWAN WASHING POWDER did the trick.

"Saves Your Hands" You show him the smoothness of your hands; no redness, no puckering of the skin; telling him that unlike other washing powders it is mellow and minus any "skin-bite." Without the slightest fear of embarrassment in playing the piano or dealing cards, etc., the most delicate hands are quite presentable. This, because of the use of a certain ingredient used in the making of WHITE SWAN WASHING POWDER to counteract any trace of free caustic. If your hands are delicate, order from your grocer.

Use Only Quantity Directed. For economy and proper results, use only the amount of washing powder given on the wrapper. W. J. Pendray & Sons, Ltd. Victoria, B.C.

CONSECRATION OF BISHOP AT SEATTLE

Right Rev. Dr. Lander, Bishop of Hongkong, China who has been spending some months in Victoria, went over to Seattle to attend the formal consecration of Rev. Ernest Vincent Shaylor, Bishop of the Diocese of Nebraska, which took place Thursday morning. Dr. Shaylor has been rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Seattle, for the past ten years, and is well-known in this city, having preached here on numerous occasions.

AMONG DOUKHOBERS

Work among the Doukhobers in the interior of the province was reported to be making progress by the use of Bibles printed in their own tongue, and it was also reported that they were becoming more favorably impressed toward education as some 250 of their children were being taught in schools by eight Canadian teachers.

Chadwick announces the re-commencement of the popular "services of praise" in St. John's Church to-morrow evening at 7.30 o'clock. These services were greatly enjoyed by very large congregations last year, and the announcement that they will be continued this year will be welcomed by a great many. The "service of praise" commences with the regular choral evensong of the Prayer Book after which a number of well-known hymns are sung, in which the congregation joins with especial heartiness.

WOMEN DISCUSS FORWARD MOVEMENT

Columbia Women's Auxiliary in Busy Session Yesterday. The first meeting of the Diocesan Board of the Columbia Women's Association after the summer holidays was held yesterday in Christ Church Cathedral schoolroom a week earlier than usual to permit of preparations for the Church's Forward Movement being taken in hand by all the branches. In the absence of Mrs. Beison, the Diocesan President, who is visiting in Regina, Mrs. Quantin, first vice-president, took the chair and welcomed the members in the name of the Cathedral branch, who acted as hostesses.

TEEN-AGE CONFERENCES

During October will be held conferences for both girls and boys of the 'teen age; these will be inter-denominational and under the supervision of a special committee. The noon hour address was given by Rev. E. AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY

Royal Victoria—Orpheum vaudeville.
 Pantages—Vaudeville.
 Columbia—Carlyle Blackwell and June Elvidge in "The Way Out."
 Romano—Evelyn Greeley and Montagu Love in "Three Green Eyes."
 The Dominion—Douglas Fairbanks in "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo."
 Variety—Florence Reed in "Her Code of Honor."

DOMINION

There is an all-star cast of remarkable magnitude in the new World Picture, "Three Green Eyes," which will be shown at the Romano for the last time to-day. Carlyle Blackwell, Montagu Love, Evelyn Greeley, June Elvidge and Johnny Hines are the stars, and they are all seen in roles of a particularly congenial nature. "The Green Eyes" was adapted for the screen by Wallace C. Clifton from a famous play. It is a modern story, telling an unusually likable tale and presented in a particularly appealing manner. It tells the story of three young couples, and of the manner in which happiness comes to all of them after a time in which it looked as though they were all going to be exceedingly unhappy.

COLUMBIA

"The Way Out" is the title of a new World Picture with two famous stars which will be shown at the Columbia for the last time to-day. The stars are Carlyle Blackwell and June Elvidge, and the story is a modern one, with the climax occurring on a bloody battlefield in France. The story is really startling and unusual. The way out of the serious tangle into which the lives of the lives of the principal characters have gotten furnishes the most absorbing sort of screen entertainment. The hundreds of thousands of friends of Mr. Blackwell and Miss Elvidge will be entranced by their work in this new picture.

VARIETY

William Desmond, the Irish-American film star, heads the cast which supports Florence Reed, star of "Her Code of Honor." With Mr. Desmond, Alec Francis, Marcelle Roussillon, Robert Fraser and Irving Cummings in the roster, that much abused appellation "all star cast" seems for once justly employed in the case of this latest United feature picture. Marcelle Roussillon, who is seen in support of Florence Reed in "Her Code of Honor," hails from the Palais Royal, Paris, and has toured extensively with prominent French stars. Her itinerary includes France, Belgium, Egypt and Turkey. Last season Miss Roussillon played the vampire role in Ethel Barrymore's "The Off Chance" at the Empire Theatre, New York. "Her Code of Honor" will be shown at the Variety for the last time to-day.

PANTAGES

Next week's bill at Pantages Theatre brings to Victoria perhaps the most sensational collection of Japanese and distinctly Oriental tricks and pastimes that have ever been presented on a stage in this country. The Uyena Japs, a family of Nipponese wonder-workers, will present the headline attraction. The stunts offered by the Japs are well nigh marvelous to the Occidental, who, not understanding the customs of the nation which produced the artists wonder at the skill displayed. The Venetian Gypsies offer a singing and dancing turn unusual in that it presents a portrayal of a night in a Romany encampment, showing all the sports enjoyed by the wandering tribes of nomads. Siber and North, two of vaudeville's best artists in a comedy offering entitled "Bashful-ery" will occupy a featured spot on the bill. These two comedians are known in the continent over as two of variety's most original and likeable personalities. Lady Alice's Pets, a trained troupe of prize cats, will be a constant delight to children and grown-ups. The sagacity of the animals as shown by the tricks they perform is remarkable. Besides two other acts, the opening episode of "The Carter Case," the famous Craig Kennedy serial picture, will be offered by the Pantagescope.

"A SONG ROMANCE"

AT THE ROYAL

Clever Feature Heads Entertaining Orpheum Bill This Week

Song, instrumental music, dancing and a touch of comedy drama are mingled to compose a finely balanced bill at the Royal Victoria Theatre for this week's Orpheum programme, the opening of which last evening was performed before a capacity audience.

"A Song Romance," the offering of Amelia Stone and Arman Kaliz, proved to be an extremely diverting conception, put on by the company with a grace of finish that would have raised it to the headline class even if it had been less cleverly constructed. It is a series of songs dealing with romances of several sorts which culminate in the romance supreme to the young woman and man—the discovery of their mutual love. Miss Stone's appearance and costumes, but most of all her manner and voice, piquant and well modulated, are admirably suited to her part, and M. Kaliz is no less happily placed both as to lines and voice. The excellent playing of the piano accompaniments by Paul Parnell and the tasteful stage dressing add greatly to the effect of the act.

"When He Came Back," a sketch, introduced Mrs. Gene Hughes to Orpheum patrons here. The young man, an American back after serving with the Allied air forces in France, brought a French bride, to the complete discomfiture of his mother, but the grandmother (Mrs. Hughes), whose creed was that no one grows older she should really become younger, displayed such depths of resource that her daughter's opposition was transformed into a radiant welcome. Mrs. Hughes's light comedy acting had the best support from Benton Resler, Estelle Thebaud, the French bride, and Mable Wright.

Sybil Vane explained, in the course of a tiny speech in response to prolonged applause, that her present tour is her first experience in vaudeville. In the past undoubtedly the loss has been vaudeville's, not Miss Vane's, as her singing is of a kind vaudeville patrons would be pleased to hear more of. She is gifted with a soprano of good range and a most pleasing quality, which she uses with fine discretion.

The instrumental music of the bill was provided by Maleta Bonconi, a violinist, whose mastery of technical detail and crisply mellow tone were displayed to excellent advantage in her selection of compositions. The "Seven One Boys" are a minstrel show in miniature, solos, choruses and a little dancing being their features, and there was dancing also in the opening act of the bill, which included four descriptive dances prettily executed by the Misses Nada Belle and Ollie Wood. Humorous patter and songs by a comedian composed the act which followed.

The bill was concluded with an instalment of the all-Canadian Weekly moving pictures.

"MY HONOLULU GIRL"
AT ROYAL VICTORIA
MONDAY AND TUESDAY

There is just one beautiful thing after another in Norman Friedenwald's musical oddity which is coming to the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, September 15 and 16. Its alluring appeal finds response alike from music lover, laughter lover, and beauty lover. It combines about everything to arouse public enthusiasm, a pretty Hawaiian love story, bewitching melodies from dreamy Honolulu that will be long remembered, fantastically gowned beauties, a troupe of native Hawaiians, and a truly wonderful cast of musical-comedy favorites.

Aside from the magnificent stage pictures is the wide variety of musical ensembles and song numbers that are presented. Dreamy waltzes, lively one-steps, tantalizing tangos, whirling eccentric dance tunes and modern ballads, all blend into a carefully arranged melange that pleases from start to finish.

"My Honolulu Girl" has a distinct Hawaiian atmosphere embellished with native Hawaiians, in native dances, songs and customs of beautiful Honolulu. An exact reproduction of the famous bathing beach at Waikiki, and a vivid production of the Volcano Kilauea in eruption are big scenic surprises.

Among the big cast of musical comedy favorites will be found Eddie Low Kramer, an eccentric comedian of twenty-two carat variety; Madeleine LaFare, a shiny-shining comedienne; Sam Burton; Kathryn Purcell, and Miss Billie Emerson, a popular comic opera prima donna. A big chorus of Fifth Avenue beauties charmingly gowned adds to the magnificent production of "My Honolulu Girl."

British Columbia Man, Suffering from Asthma since Childhood is Cured by simple Herb Remedy.

This wonderful remedy—Wonder Health Restorer—has for years been accomplishing similar wonderful cures in all parts of the continent. Thousands of testimonials are available giving the heartfelt thanks of sufferers from Rheumatism and Sciatica, Stomach troubles, Nervous Diseases, Heart Affections, Kidney complaints, Asthma and Lung troubles. In simple, homely words these tell personal stories of the wonderful work Wonder Health Restorer does.

Wonder Health Restorer contains nothing but distilled herbs—there's not a trace of alcohol in it—neither does it contain drugs in any form. Its healing properties are assimilated by the blood and sent to every organ of the body.

No advertisement can begin to tell the real merit of this remedy. Ask for the pamphlet giving you in their own words the stories of those who have tried it.

Read this Letter—Judge for Yourself

1363 11th Ave. East, Vancouver.
 August 29th, 1919.

I wish to express my appreciation of your marvelous remedy, known as, "The Wonder Cure," which was incidentally recommended to me by Mr. W. L. MacDonald, of this city.

It would be unkind of me to use this Wonder Health Restorer knowing as I do how much I benefited by it in the short space of four weeks, and not in some way express my gratitude and further reveal to suffering people at large that something of a genuine Health Restorer is actually on the market.

I have suffered with Bronchial Asthma since childhood, and periodically I have developed such bad colds that it had become necessary for me to take hospital treatments. I have spent many sleepless nights, which in consequence made my daily duties a burden, but since I have used this remedy I can say without fear of contradiction, that I have slept perfectly and feel as fit as any man. I cannot say too much about the tremendous value of this "Wonder Cure" to the people of Victoria and other cities throughout the Dominion, and although I personally do my best to make it known among my friends I feel, if this wonderful medicine were more extensively advertised, it would do the people of this city a kindness which they will not readily forget.

I cannot fully express my thanks for the very valuable assistance your remedy has been to me, and I will be glad to recommend its use to any sufferer.

I remain, yours truly,

SEVEN THOUSAND FEET OF JOY

the Bank of Nova Scotia directorate who were in Victoria this week in the course of an inspection with the general manager.

Among those who came here were Hon. MacCallum Grant, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, and Charles Archibald, president of the bank. Both left for the East last evening. Mr. Grant yesterday called on Lady Barnard at Government House, and of the beautiful grounds he voiced the highest praise to The Times last evening. "The only thing we boast about the Government House at Halifax is its antiquity," he remarked. "There is little difference between the cost of a large establishment here in maintenance as compared with Nova Scotia." Mr. Grant spoke of the tremendous development in harbor work at Halifax to provide for Atlantic bottoms, and to secure the trade of the West Indies. He says that the city is rapidly being restored from the effects of the great explosion.

Mr. Archibald has visited Victoria at intervals for many years. He is delighted with the progress made since his last tour, and thinks the city has an unrivalled opening from the standpoint of a residential city.

Both regarded shipbuilding as a temporary industry and expressed the hope that industries of a permanent character would be established to retain the people here.

J. W. Allison, vice-president of the bank, was also a visitor but left before his colleagues. All are prominent business men in the maritime province.

It was at the dentist's, and Pota was the object in the chair; a miserable, dejected, forlorn object. The operation was ended, and the dentist was cleaning his forceps and smiling at the result of his muscular efforts. "I must charge a guinea," he said at length to the suffering patient, whom he had treated with more force than skill. The unlucky victim turned upon his persecutor: "What? A guinea? Why, you promised to charge me only five shillings!" "Yes," agreed the tooth-tugger, cheerfully "that in truth was my contract price for the performance." "Well!" queried the tormented one. "But you yelled so loudly that you've scared away three other five shilling patients!"

HAS WAY TO STOP LEAKING RADIATORS

George Woods Tells of Liquid
That Is Positive Antidote
and Non-Injurious to Car

Possibly the greatest bugbear of the owner of a car that is beginning to show signs of wear, is the leaky radiator and to this motor equipment specialists have been devoting a great amount of their attention.

George Woods in Victoria is one who has been working to discover an antidote for leaky radiators. He is a member of the firm of Lillie & Woods, motor accessory experts, 1316 Douglas Street. After studying the situation Mr. Woods has brought here a liquid known as Radiator Neverleak, which he says stops all leaks.

"It will positively stop all ordinary leaks in automobiles' radiators in from five to ten minutes," said Mr. Woods to-day, explaining the properties of the liquid. It makes a permanent repair by forming a coating the thickness of paint on the outside of break, which coating will dry over night, and is not again soluble by heat, cold, water or alcohol.

"Radiator Neverleak is entirely different from all other preparations offered for stopping leaks in radiators. It is a liquid which mixes readily with water, is guaranteed to contain no acid or any injurious chemical, and it will not clog or impair the cooling system.

"After adding the Radiator Neverleak to the water in your radiator and the leaks have been stopped, it is not necessary to change the water. Leave it in, because the Neverleak will not evaporate or lose its strength and is, therefore, always ready to automatically close up new leaks that may occur.

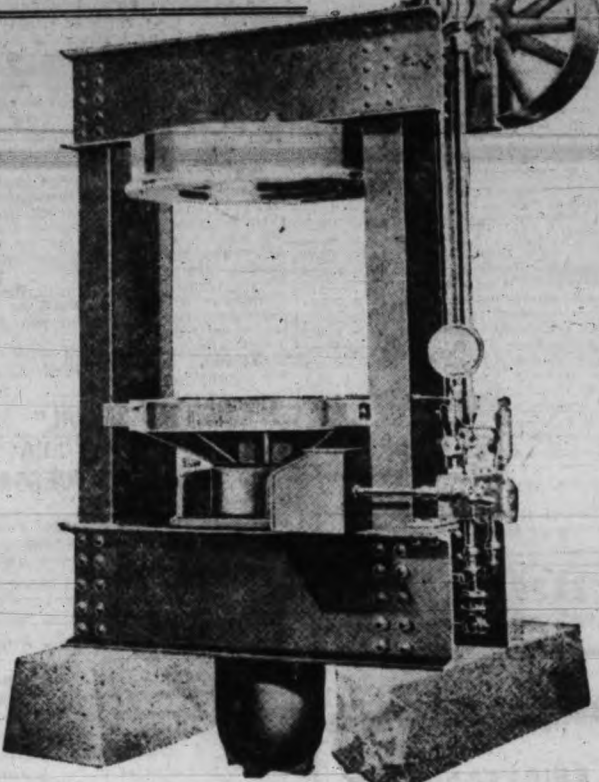

"Think of the simplicity of it! Just add a few ounces and run the engine for five to ten minutes. That's all. You save the expense and bother of dismantling your radiator and you guard against future leaks. Radiator Neverleak also tends to prevent rusting and the formation of scales throughout the cooling system.

"Alcohol, but nothing else, may be used as an anti-freeze with Radiator Neverleak, with perfect safety.

"If any anti-freeze article, other than alcohol, has been used in your radiator, the water must be drained off and the radiator thoroughly flushed, and filled with clean water before putting in Radiator Neverleak. This is necessary because of the strong chemicals used in some of the anti-freeze articles on the market.

When kerosene is used as fuel in the motor tractor it will be found necessary in many cases to change the oil in the crankcase after every 20 hours of running. This is because of the tendency of kerosene to condense, when it is not properly heated, whereupon it mixes with the oil and destroys its lubricating qualities.

New Tire Press Installed
by McDonald & Nicol

This is the 200-ton-tire press just installed by McDonald & Nicol at their new truck service station, 717-723 Fisgard Street, above Douglas and opposite the Hudson's Bay Company's new store. This is the Victoria service station of the Dunlop Rubber Company.

The big press, which is the only one on Vancouver Island, is hydraulically operated and its primary power taken from an electric motor. The first heavy truck wheel to have its rubber tire changed in the latest way came into the service station Thursday evening. The old tire was taken off and the new tire put on in seven minutes. Under the old system of tire changing this operation took half a day or more.

"With motor truck transportation as one of the largest factors in the present day commercial sphere, truck owners have been keen and quick to realize that time lost while a truck is undergoing repairs represents also the loss of good many dollars," said Mr. Nicol to-day. "Consequently their patronage has been given and is being given to those service stations where the best service is secured in the shortest possible time."

"The hydraulic tire press is the outcome of a need of quicker and more thorough method of equipping trucks with heavy duty tires. While the demountable type of tire has met with the demands of truck work in localities where tire presses are not available, with the increasing appreciation of its service-advantage, there arose a demand for a pressed-on type of tire.

The underlying principle of the pressed-on tire is the forcing together of the wheel and tire into practically inseparable unit by means of the hydraulic press.

"This press operates very much like a huge vice, consisting principally of two heavy steel platens set opposite each other and capable of being brought together with a force of two hundred tons.

Tremendous Pressure.
"The truck wheel is laid flat on the lower platen of the press and the tire is set lightly on top, ready to be pressed on. As the power is turned on, the lower platen rises until it pushes the wheel and tire against the upper platen.

"Under tremendous pressure, the lower platen creeps up three-quarters on an inch per minute pressing the tire over the wheel until they become a single unit that cannot be separated except by the same force that joined them.

"Tire service station using this process can fully equip a truck with tires in a very short time, producing no delay in the operation of the truck; and if a truck pays from $30 to $50 a day through full time operation, it is readily seen that this saving of time is worth considering.

Wheel Made Tight.
"Moreover, the wheel is made as tight as is consistent with strength. By forcing the tire directly on the wheel the extra expense of money, time and effort to shrink on an intermediate band, or to attach bolts, lugs, flanges, rings or other complex weighty fastening devices such as is found in demountable tires of all makes is eliminated.

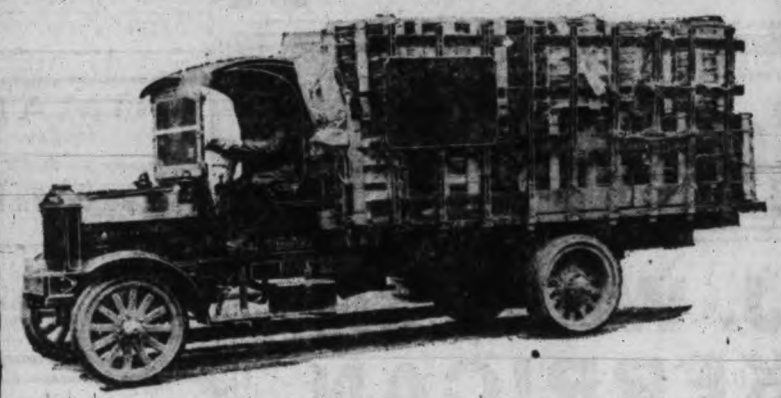

"In addition to these substantial features, the fact that the tire is pressed on to the permanent band makes it possible to use oversize equipment without extra wheel work change."

BACKING CAR AGAINST CURB WEAKENS TIRES

When cars are backed sharply against curbstones or strike road obstructions at high speed the innermost layers are sometimes stretched beyond their elastic limit, and the fabric threads or cords break. The tire is weakened at this point and under the strain of active use other plies begin to give away. Eventually the tube is caught and pinched by the jaws of the fabric break and a blowout necessarily follows. Generally such tires can be repaired. With a Goodyear rim patch a temporary repair can be effected until it is possible to have a permanent repair vulcanized. A repair of this kind usually enables a tire to deliver many additional miles of service.

In cases where the vacuum tank has become empty for some reason, it is a simple matter to fill it again by turning over the engine a few times

WONDERS MAY BE DONE WITH WORN TIRES, SAY EXPERTS

Local Rubber Men Have Made Extensive Study of Construction of Casings

Just what can be done with a worn tire is the study that C. Fisher and Allen Lynn have been pursuing at the Central Vulcanizing Station, Douglas and Broughton Streets, next to the Strathcona Hotel.

They have perfected their work to such an extent that they are now able to treat tires that a short time ago were considered beyond redemption and turn them out retreaded and strengthened for a second life of usefulness. Some of the results turned out at this station have been described as noteworthy by tire experts, who have examined them.

"There is a great deal of skilled hand labor needed about tire building," explained Mr. Fisher to-day. "Processes formerly performed by hand are now done with the assistance of machines which by uniform laying on of the material have greatly improved the qualities of the tire."

"The first tool used in building a tire is the solid core, on which is laid the several plies of friction duck, each layer is stretched and formed around the core until the total number of plies of canvas have been put on. After one-half of the total number have been stretched to place, the hard composition strip forming the bead is set on.

"Then the following layers go completely over this hard rubber bead. The cushion, a layer of pure rubber, comes next, and on this, the breaker strip, a loose woven piece of friction duck. The cushion makes a more perfect adhesion between the tire body and the breaker strip, and the last named saves the body of the tire from bruises and cuts that might otherwise do serious damage.

"The tread, or wearing surface comes last. This receives all the road wear, therefore, it is made quite thick and of such compounded rubber that it wears better than a pure rubber gum. After the building operation is completed the tire is vulcanized and cured.

"Vulcanizing is a hardening process brought about by applying a high degree of heat to rubber that contains a certain amount of sulphur. Without the sulphur the rubber would not harden.

"The curing or vulcanizing is done in proper molds, heated to a temperature of 275 degrees to 300 degrees Fahrenheit or 40 to 45 pounds, steam pressure. The action of this steam is to melt the sulphur and reduce the rubber to a very soft plastic condition. A further prolongation of the heat brings about the tough springy condition with which every one is familiar. After vulcanizing, the tire is inspected, trimmed, painted on the inside surface and laid away to age for several weeks, and then is ready for the market.

"Tire Troubles. "Surface cuts allow dirt and moisture to reach the body and canvas. This is by far the most frequent cause of tire trouble. Motorists do not pay sufficient attention to the daily depreciation that goes on in their tires through neglecting to have repaired the many small cuts and gashes.

"These gashes can be made by glass and sharp stones. The internal pressure on the tire causes these cuts to open up and permit the admittance of moisture and dirt. The moisture quickly rots the cotton ducking while the dirt acts like fine emery and works the rubber loose from the canvas.

"Therefore, in dry and wet weather, these open gateways to the heart of the tire lead to the quick destruction of its usefulness."

TRUCK THAT IS THE ENVY OF MANY VICTORIA MERCHANTS

Only recently put in service on the streets of Victoria, this big Commerce truck has attracted the attention of practically every business house in the city that employs motor trucks and also those that are contemplating the introduction of motor trucks to handle their business efficiently.

The foregoing truck is being operated by A. P. Slade & Co., wholesale produce and fruit distributors. It was delivered to them by the Milliken-Dowser Motor Co., View and Vancouver Streets.

Already the truck has made a name for itself. It is a two ton machine with the most modern equipment such as electric light and impulse starter.

The great features of the machine, however, are the large pneumatic tires with which it is equipped. With such equipment, the truck although engaged in heavy work, skips around the streets of Victoria as nimbly as a spry roadster. It can take care of twice the number of delivery orders that the ordinary solid tire truck is capable of. And it is especially adapted for handling perishable commodities as there is no more vibration on the body of this truck than there is in the passenger car. The big tires absorb the shocks which are costly both to the working parts of a truck itself and also to the load which it carries.

Besides its speedy work and joint-proof carrying ability, the truck is proving itself the most economical of trucks on tires, including those trucks with pneumatic tires. The 26 x 6 pneumatic cords are high class, and, in the ordinary conception, expensive tires. The Slade truck, however, has so far covered 2,000 miles with its heavy loads, with many stops and turns and continual bumping over car tracks, but there is as yet no perceptible wear on the big cords. They are good for 25,000 miles at least.

"In increasing the daily radius of operation, pneumatic cord tires enable trucks to maintain their usual rate of speed most of the time. They do increase the minimum speed of trucks and the average speed of units, formerly on solids, usually is considerably higher as a result. Cushioning and traction save that slowing down over bad stretches that is necessary on solid tires. Pneumatic tires are most active in traffic, quicker at the getaway and sometimes squeeze in and out of tight loading and unloading spaces impossible for solids.

"Some users say that they handle twice as many loads, others that they do their hauling in half the time on these tires. Of course, when you figure comparisons between solids and pneumatics, charging against the solids the lay-up due to repairs and tie-ups due to bad weather, you find that the pneumatics, sometimes do 100 or 200 or 300 per cent more hauling.

"The high resiliency and easy rolling qualities, experience proves, reduces the fuel and oil consumption with pneumatic cord tire equipment. It has been noticed there is least variation in the amount of fuel consumption over bad and good roads. This fluctuates greatly in solid-tire trucks.

"In no case should we overlook the driver as a factor in this situation. It has been found that truck drivers after riding on pneumatic cord tires have refused to work on trucks equipped with solids. Users report that the big pneumatic cord tires improve the working spirit of drivers, causing them to take more pride in their accomplishments and to be far more willing to work overtime if necessary. He is willing to give his pneumatic cord tires more care to keep them on his truck.

"The pneumatic cord tire has a broad wearing surface, plus a positive grip on ground surface. The non-skid feature of the pneumatic cord tire enables uninterrupted travel through sand, snow, mud or on ice. Such conditions cause hard edge solids to slip and stall. Consequently the pneumatic-tired truck has greater earning power, for it can be used all year, in general service and off the road hauling particularly in farm service. Users records give a concrete idea of the traction advantages."

"We conscientiously endeavor to place every car on the road in a condition as near new as possible. All the work is done in our own factory and we are able to give personal supervision to make sure that everything is as is claimed.

"Our aim in this great drive is to meet the situation caused by the scarcity of new cars by providing the public with reputable used cars sold under a thirty-day guarantee."

"Out in the show rooms after Mr. Cartier had explained the object of the drive, the reporter found a wide assortment of high grade cars such as the Dodge, McLaughlin, Studebaker, Packard, Oldsmobile, Overland and Gray-Dort as well as smaller cars of other staple lines. Each car had received the expert attention of the Cartier renovating factory and was ready to go out under the thirty-day good as new guarantee.

Charles C. Gates, consulting engineer, and president of the Gates Rubber Company, was the first man to realize that the sturdy quality of the fabric carcass, instead of the limited wearing quality of the rubber tread, ought to determine the life of a tire.

He has made it so with the Gates Half-Sole Tire, which he invented. He has put 5,000 to 15,000 additional miles of service into the same tire you have been throwing away merely because the tread was worn.

TELLS HOW TO GET MOST OUT OF FORD

Users of Ford trucks are naturally interested in getting the last possible ounce of wear and use out of their Ford trucks.

How to do so is explained with commendable thoroughness in a little booklet entitled "Getting the Most From Your Ford Truck," just published by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Canada, Limited, represented here by Mitchell & Hemmelford, View and Blanshard Streets.

The dangers of overloading, careless driving, overspeeding and irregular inspection are explained very fully in this booklet, showing how they materially cut short the life of a truck and its tires.

Copies of these booklets are being placed in the hands of dealers everywhere for distribution to Ford truck users.

DEALER LAUNCHES "DRIVE" TO MEET CAR SHORTAGE

Local Man Fills Gap Caused By Inability of Factories to Meet Demands

A great September "drive," for the distribution of guaranteed used cars, was launched in Victoria to-day by Cartier Bros. at their headquarters 724 Johnson Street.

At the show rooms, renovating factory and paint shop there was great activity and bustle early this morning as J. A. Cartier and his staff worked under high pressure to get the cars turned out in time to meet the demands of the motor car buyers who have been waiting for the opening of this big drive to pick up at an accommodating price used cars, guaranteed as good as new in every way except what the buyers pay for them.

The keen demand that there is now in Victoria for good used cars because of the dearth of new cars, has kept the Cartier institution putting forth greater and greater efforts to meet the situation. And at the same time, because the market for used cars has developed so of late and become such an extensive and important business, it has forced upon Mr. Cartier more than ever the necessity of making certain that every car that is turned out with his guarantee is in absolutely perfect condition. This is positively necessary for the permanency of such a business.

"Realizing the call that there is for new cars which it is impossible to fill," said Mr. Cartier to-day, when a reporter was able to steal a few moments of his time to get the latest news of the drive, "we have put forth extra efforts in inspecting and replacing all parts of the gear and accessories of each car that comes into our plant and which shows the least indication of needing renewal. After the motors are overhauled in our machine shops, the car goes to the renovating factory where the tops and cushions are overhauled and any necessary painting done and the tires given attention."

"We conscientiously endeavor to place every car on the road in a condition as near new as possible. All the work is done in our own factory and we are able to give personal supervision to make sure that everything is as is claimed.

TIRE PRICES HIGH, BUT MILEAGE COST CAN BE REDUCED

New Inventions Make Up For Slow Decline in Prices, Says A. McGavin

The change in the price of tires can be but slight in the immediate future, but tire mileage can be enormously increased, according to A. McGavin, of the Gates Half-Sole Institute, 1009-11 Blenheim Street.

McGavin has been looking into the motor car tire market conditions and the possibilities of meeting high prices.

"Declines in the cost of raw materials, reduce tire prices, but such reductions never can exceed five to fifteen per cent," he said today.

"Basic cost of the tire construction and other elements entering into the manufacture of tires are established. Only slight fluctuations can occur. Therefore the change in price can be but slight."

"But mileage cost has been cut in half. Not a saving in material costs or labor, but by a radical and entirely new principle of tire construction, which is the result of the research and inventions of Charles O. Gates, E. M.

"The Gates principle is simple. After your tire has given you all the mileage you can safely demand of it, when the rubber is worn thin, but the fabric is still serviceable, your casing is incorporated with a new factory-built Gates Half-Sole Tire, giving you a tire with these exclusive mechanical advantages: double fabric strength double cushion resiliency, extra side walls, extending over the beads and under the rim.

"It is this principle of sturdy, reinforced construction that makes possible a positive, guaranteed performance and a guarantee of full standard tire mileage yet Gates Half-Sole Tires, guaranteed puncture proof, cost only half as much as ordinary tires of corresponding size.

"This truly is the greatest reduction ever made in the cost of tire mileage.

"But economy is not the only great Gates advance. To ride on tires that are puncture-proof appeals to every experienced motorist. The sturdiness in size and design of tires of double fabric, cushions and side walls, appeals to the man who takes pride in the appearance of his car.

"A million Gates Half-Sole Tires in use throughout the country are proof of popularity and performance."

FORDS MUST HAVE ACCURATE FITTING

If Utmost in Performance Is to Be Secured, Says Expert

Contrary to the opinion of the general public and even the owners, the parts of a Ford engine are fitted down to within 2,000th part of an inch. This statement will come as a surprise to many persons who have been in the habit of thinking that engines, often joking, that any sort of fitting does for a Ford.

But that it is accurate is certain when it is made known that such an authority on the Ford as Arthur E. Dandridge of 749 Broughton Street, Mr. Dandridge is possibly the greatest authority on the Ford car on the Pacific Coast of Canada. His whole life work has been devoted to the study of this popular small car. For two years he was head mechanic at the Ford Motor Agency, London, and for twelve years after that he has been in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Canada, where he has been a Ford consultation authority.

"It will surprise most people but it is nevertheless accurate, that the bearings in a Ford engine to run perfectly quiet must be fitted with a 2,000th part of an inch," said Mr. Dandridge today.

This accurate result can only be accomplished by special tools and delicate measuring instruments. Realizing the delicateness of the work required on the Ford car to get the best results, we put all our bearings to this exact test before they are assembled ready for the Ford car.

"From experience we have learned that about seventy per cent of ignition troubles on a Ford engine can be traced directly to incorrectly fitted bearings, which cause the magnets to rotate at uneven distances from the spoils. Charging the magnets will only remedy the defect temporarily.

The thoroughness with which Mr. Dandridge handles Ford cars entrusted to his skill can be appreciated when it is learned that he sends his customers complete rear ends for their cars when that part of the machine is in trouble and the customer can run his car on this rear end while repairs are being made to the originals. Mr. Dandridge makes the change in rear ends while the Ford owner waits.

SEARCHES CITY FOR USED CARS

Gus Masters Goes to Much Trouble to Meet Demands of Waiting Buyers

The big demand for used cars in Victoria because of the serious shortage of new machines through the inability of the motor car factories in the east to fill their orders, has resulted in Gus Masters putting forth extra efforts in order to relieve the situation.

Forecasting how the situation was to develop here Mr. Masters a few weeks ago started a search in every part of the city to gather in as many used cars as possible. This he found an increasingly difficult job as the number of cars has rapidly decreased in proportion to the demand.

As soon as he would get in a good car and give it an overhauling so that it could be put on the road with a clean bill of health, it would be snapped up. The result was that the tendency was for the cars to go out of the big garage at View and Vancouver Streets faster than they could be replaced.

This week, however, Mr. Masters ran into luck and made a discovery of a number of high grade cars, the owners of which he was able to induce to sell at a price which would be a bargain to the waiting buyers under his guarantee. These cars Mr. Masters was working on last night to get them ready for the week-end rush of buyers.

PLIMLEY SECURES AT LAST ANOTHER OF CHANDLERS COOLING SYSTEM OFTEN CONNECTED BY WORN OUT HOSE CONNECTION

When engines, which normally keep cool even in hot weather or suspect the condition of the rubber hose which connects the radiator with the water jacket. There are two such pieces of hose, but it is the top one which usually "goes bad," because it carries the hot water from the top of the engine into the radiator. The bottom hose carries the cooled water either to the pump, if there is a pump, or directly back to the engine, if the engine uses the thermo-siphon cooling system.

Cars which use pumps for water circulation have smaller pipes and consequently smaller hose. These hose thermo-siphon cooling systems. Hot water gradually disintegrates the rubber and cotton of the hose, and when the inner lining of the hose breaks down into a mush, it frequently stops up the hose connection can be done in a few minutes by any one who can use a wrench or screw-driver, and is an operation which does not need the skilled aid of an expert.

Sometimes engines which cool properly in winter heat up when the first warm days come. In engines of the pump circulation type, this is due to the pump circuitry. This is caused by a hitherto unsuspected freezing of the pump, which has resulted in broken pump wheel blades. Dismounting the pump and taking it to pieces is the only way to remedy this trouble. The remedy is a new impeller in the pump.

TAKE PRIDE IN CAR URGES W. H. HUGHES

Condition of Automobile Often Reflects Habits and Refinement of Owner

"The personal equation enters largely into the general appearance of a car," says W. H. Hughes, of the Island Simonizing Station, 532-534 Yates Street.

"If one is of clean and well ordered habits, of wholesome self-respect and has due regard for good taste, it will surely be reflected no less in his car than in his attire and personal aspect. Nothing reveals quite so much the impression of shiftiness and cheap regard for the everyday amenities of life as absence of individual refinement. If a man can afford to own a car he should feel obligated by self-respect as well as by downright economy, to see that it is always maintained in the best condition consistent with ordinary wear.

"This is not only a matter of personal satisfaction, but as a matter of heavy credit to the materiality to his life and usefulness of the machine. So far as business is concerned, the effect is frequently not without its decided advantages in creating favorable opinion in the newly met stranger.

"Travel stained and muddy body, oil encrusted surfaces and unkempt top are abominations than can and should be promptly corrected. It is a part of this nature that contract to owners who are particular about the appearance of their cars."

GODOWSKI'S TRIBUTE TO LOCAL ARTISTE

Mrs. Green to Make Concert Tour Under Maestro's Direction

Of all the pupils who have studied under Leopold Godowski throughout Canada and America, to Mrs. Gertrude Hunter Green belongs the proud distinction of being selected by the maestro as his best pupil. Mrs. Green has been attending his master classes and so impressed in Godowski with her exceptional ability that he has arranged for her to make a special tour next year. Early in the year Mrs. Green will take a special course of study under Godowski at New York, after which she will embark upon the proposed professional concert tour.

LOS ANGELES BUYS PIANOS FOR SCHOOLS

Heavy Demand Shows Board Appreciates Volume of Music

The purchase by the Board of Education of 210 pianos for the schools—180 for public schools and 30 for high schools—is the substance of a recent wire from Los Angeles. This action on the part of the education fathers of one city is pretty practical evidence of the firm hold the question of instrumental music in the schools is taking. And it is no fad, no passing whim, no experiment. More music on the school curriculum is the outcome of investigation, thought and improvement. Educators are becoming agreed that the systematic study of the piano, violin or any instrument of the symphony orchestra, takes equal rank with mathematics, science and languages as a study, educationally. The inspector of a district which included one school where instruction in the piano and in the violin was given excellent attention among the children in classes had this report to make: "The teachers, who are on the staff of that school, tell me that the whole tone of their rooms has changed since the pupils have been able to express themselves in music. The boys and girls are cleaner, happier and more obedient."

The principal of a large public school told a newspaperman not long ago that proper credit should be given for music work done in and out of school. It should count towards promotion just the same as any other subject. "I have always felt," he said, "that the boy who can play the violin or the girl who can sing has the power to give joy to others; or the student who can hum Rubinstein's 'Mélodie,' or recognize the 'Soldiers' Chorus,' or the 'Anvil Chorus,' Schubert's 'Serenade,' or the 'Hallelujah Chorus'—this being highly educated and better prepared to live completely, than those who cannot do these things. I believe in the classes of the modern world, where people when studying England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, etc., teach geography more effectively to those who do not. Music should be correlated with every subject with which it has any connection." The community makes no better investment than the money it spends in teaching of music in the schools.

PHONOGRAPH AS TEACHING ASSET

How many of us have quite realized the possibilities—the uses—to which the modern phonograph may be put? For instance, probably few have ever thought of employing it as a teacher. Yet that is the most recent manner in which it is being used. Not only have the authorities in charge of certain schools placed phonographs in their classrooms for the purpose of assisting in the marching and singing, but also with the avowed object of teaching advanced subjects in music. In such cases, it has become indispensable to the students who wish to take up music as their life profession, for it may be used to illustrate and lead a class studying harmony, counterpoint, the canon and fugue.

These subjects may have seemed a trifle dry to some students, but with the aid of the talking machine, any student may approach such studies from quite a different angle, one that is of practical benefit from the start. The practical side will at once become apparent, when we remember that in a great deal of listening, so here is the first step in training the musical faculties; for music is not so to be thoroughly enjoyed unless our sense of hearing is keen. Early training is the basis of successful study of all theoretical branches of music.

Agree Training. Unless the student has had long and frequent lessons from a first class teacher, he has very little chance to apply his harmony lessons to his organ training. When he attends a class where a good teacher has a phonograph and a black board for assistants, the circumstances change in a matter of minutes. Records have been prepared which allow of classes being formed in any town, and where advanced musical subjects may thus be taught. In future, those who have had regrets that they have not been able to attend some great musical conservatory, need sigh no more. For the organist providing he is a trained man, can form a class which will be of intense interest when the new records for such studies are put on the talking machine for the first time. Not only may the local teacher use this method, but school teachers who are now qualified in music, may pass the hint on to their respective schools, and cleverly agitate the fact that the phonograph as an educator, has possibilities that have hitherto been undreamt of.

HISTORY OF BELGIAN SCHOOL OF VIOLIN

Many of Most Famous Artists of To-day Are Its Disciples

George J. Dyke, of this city, the well-known musician, and a disciple of the Belgian school of the violin has written for The Times an interesting resume of the history of the school. Mr. Dyke gained much of his advice and historical data from Ovide Musin, a pupil of the great Belgian teacher and violinist, Henri Leonard. He writes: "When we speak of a school as being French, Belgian, Italian, or Russian, what is meant by the term? A school means the disciples of a man of genius, superior knowledge, and of new ideas, the value of which he demonstrates and teaches to his pupils, who in turn hand down their knowledge to succeeding generations. If schools exist then it is true that a Belgian school exists and has existed from ancient masters who went from the Low Countries to Italy, Spain, France, Russia, Austria and Germany, where they demonstrated their advancement and knowledge in science and art, in music composition, in singing, and in the playing of musical instruments. In these different countries they founded their schools, which became the source of our modern development irrespective of any nationality. In the 19th and 20th centuries the artistic generative force of the ancient masters is evident by the great number of Belgian musicians and teachers throughout the world whose names have added lustre to the renowned schools of the 14th, 15th and 16th centuries."

Of the modern school there are such names as Gretry, Daussoigne, Mehul, Francois, Prune, Jacques, Dupouy, Kreisler, and De Bériot. Henri Leonard, Cesar, Frank, Viouxtempa, Uersts, Radoux, Wery, and many others who have propagated the art of music to those who were not acquainted with it in the realm of violin playing.

The greatest teachers of the modern French school at Paris were Belgians from Liege. For instance, Lambert Marie, of Liege, a professor at Paris for forty-seven years, gave to posterity such celebrated pupils as Henri Wieniawski, Camille Uro and Fritz Kreisler. De Bériot, of Liege, Remy (Professor at the Conservatoire National de Paris), and Musin were pupils of the Liege Conservatoire. Henri Marteau a distinguished pupil of Leonard succeeded to the post of the great Joachim in Berlin. Henri Leonard, Martin Marsick and Masart, were disciples of De Bériot.

Charles De Bériot who was born at Louvain, Belgium, 1802 and died in that historic town in 1870, was called the father of violin playing because of a special manner of using the bow, first demonstrated by that grand master. This manner gives a greater elegance, freedom and ease to the player. It was said of De Bériot that it was a pleasure simply to hear him tune his violin. His compositions are known by violinists the world over. Leonard, the celebrated chief of the Belgian school for the reason that he so perfectly combined the science and art of bowing to produce a more voluminous and ringing tone. His fine books of tuition cover the whole field of violin instruction, from A to Z in a concentrated form, comprising every essential. Leonard was the first to play that classic overture, Opus 10, in Berlin, with the illustrious composer himself conducting the orchestra.

The following list gives the names of some of the most famous teachers and pupils:
Charles De Bériot taught Henri Viouxtempa, Lambert and Uersts; Auguste Rouma taught Henri Leonard; Lambert Massart taught Henri Wieniawski, Camille Uro and Fritz Kreisler; Henri Viouxtempa taught Ysaie and Hubay; Henri Leonard taught Martin Marsick, Cesar, Thompson, Ovide Musin, Guillaume Remy, Henri Marteau, and Henri Schradieck; Martin Marsick taught Jacques Thirbaud and Carl Flesch; Cesar Thompson taught Adolphe Betti, Alfred Thompson of the celebrated Flonzaley Quartet. Guillaume Remy became professor at the Conservatoire National at Paris, while Lambert Uersts taught Hugo Heerman.

ORGAN RECITAL
A violoncello and organ recital will be given by Miss Maud Scruby and Dr. J. E. Watson in Christ Church Cathedral to-morrow after the evening service. Miss F. Barton will assist in a vocal number. The following is the programme:
1. Aria (violinello) .....
2. Legende and Finales (organ) .....
3. O. Dr. Those Feet (vocal) .....
4. (a) Largo from Sonata in G minor (with organ and cello obligato) .....
(b) With All Your Hearts, .....
Mendelssohn (cello by request.)

SPECIALIZE.
Do not listen to praise of the vulgar and ignorant. Be your severest critic, and seek to come as near as possible to your ideal. Pursue this ideal even when it is in contrast with the common taste. Set for yourself some colossal task. Even if you do not succeed in attaining it, the effort alone will benefit and improve your art.
"Do not forget that great mastery of any subject is obtainable only at the price of long and persistent study. Specialize, if possible, in line thinking. The world does not give credit for too many accomplishments," says an expert.

CHORAL SOCIETY TO LOSE ITS PIANIST

Resignation of Miss Lotus Griffiths Received With Regret

Rehearsals of Smart's cantata, "The Bride of Dunkerton," which is to be presented by the Victoria Choral Society during the coming season, were commenced at the meeting held in St. John's Hall on Tuesday evening, J. D. Town, the new conductor, allotted the parts in the production which is to be the principal feature of the Society's first concert. Dr. J. F. Houghton, president of the Society addressed the members during the evening referring with regret to the resignation of Gidrend Hicks, the honorarium conductor, who has achieved such excellent work in past seasons. A second resignation, that of Miss Lotus Griffiths, whose marriage is to be the principal feature of the coming season, has left vacant the position of club accompanist, a role which Miss Griffiths has filled with distinction. The next rehearsal is to be held on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in St. John's Hall. Although several new members joined last night there is still room for more, and tenors are particularly needed to make the proper balance in the parts. Sons and Daughters of the Webb, M.I.S.M., England, has very kindly volunteered to act as accompanist for the Choral Society in place of Miss Lotus Griffiths. Madame Webb will continue her duties at the meeting of the choir Tuesday evening.

"CANADA'S SONS AND GREAT BRITAIN IN THE WORLD WAR"

By Canadians, of Canadians, for Canadians.

Preceded by an inspiring introduction by General Sir Arthur Currie, Commander of the Canadian Corps, this story of "Canada's Sons and Great Britain in the World War" by Madam George G. Nasmith has so many things to commend it that the reviewer's task is, where to begin? The praise of men of Canada, at Ypres and the Somme has been sung almost an old story. But there is new thrill after reading the magnificent tribute paid to the men under his command by the General who led the Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

It has been thought that nothing new could be said about the war, but there is a freshness and charm about the Colonel's book that will win readers. Of course he has the advantage over other historians in that he was on the fighting line. His personal impressions of Ypres at the moment of the first gas attack by the Germans, his "mad" attacks, the detailed narration of just how the Canadians smashed the Hindenburg Line; his vivid portrayal of the series of irrepressible attacks that made the Canadian name; the British army—these are the vital things that only a man on the spot, a soldier as well as a trained writer, could set down with a realism that fascinates.

Relieved by humorous touches—there was comedy as well as tragedy—Colonel Nasmith takes the reader into the different theaters of war, giving brief scenes from the operations of the Russian, Italian, American and other armies that help to a general understanding of the whole huge drama, but keeping the centre of the stage for Canada's Sons and Great Britain.

There are something like a hundred illustrations in the book. Some of these are portraits; some are photographs made by official photographers; some are reproductions of sketches made at the front. There are many battle scenes, and a number of human-interest pictures that convey a vivid impression of the actual work of winning the war. Many maps and diagrams illuminate the text. Particularly well illustrated is Colonel's great chapter, called "From Amiens to Mons with the Canadians," in which he takes the reader into the thick of the fighting, describes the break-up of the German armies, and makes you enter into the riotous joy of victory at the taking of Mons. Interspersed in these pages are a number of maps that show graphically the advances made by Canadians from day to day. This book is published by The John C. Winston Co., Limited, Toronto.

FORMER VICTORIA MUSIC TEACHER TO STAND AT POLLS

Mrs. Adney (Nee Sharpe) a Candidate in Carleton, New Brunswick

FOUNDED MUSIC CONSERVATORY HERE

Particular interest to Victorians attaches to the announcement published in yesterday's columns of The Times to the effect that Mrs. Minnie Bell Adney, a music teacher and a daughter of the founder of the Women's Sharpe Orchard and Nurseries, near Woodstock, N.B., has announced herself as a candidate in the coming federal bye-election in Carleton-Victoria. Old-time residents of this city will remember Mrs. Adney when, as Miss Minnie Bell Sharpe, she conducted a successful music conservatory in this city. With Mrs. Luks Pither (then Miss E. J. Walker) Miss Sharpe established the Victoria Conservatory of Music on Yates Street, in what was formerly the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Spencer. This conservatory was the leading music centre in the city and members of some of the best-known Victoria families received their early musical education at this school, where the then Miss Sharpe taught piano and singing. She later married an artist named Adney and left Victoria for the east about twenty years ago. Mrs. Adney's election card published in the Carleton County papers, says she will support the Union Government, but stands for reduction in the cost of living and eradication of corruption and profiteering from Canadian public life, besides a fuller measure in the recompense for returned soldiers.

FORMER VICTORIAN'S PUPILS IN RECITAL

Excellent playing by several junior pupils of Mrs. Henry C. W. Boak, formerly Miss Ethel Lawson, of Victoria, maintaining the traditions of the bed of gold and silver medalists that have qualified her for her capture of the world, was the subject of a recital given at the large company of guests attending Mrs. Boak's "at home" at Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver, on Saturday afternoon at the Vancouver World. There was also delightfully finished singing by Mrs. James Ekman, whose voice, a high soprano, is of charming timbre. Miss Ida Morison, of Victoria, played the accompaniments.

Crimson roses and hydrangeas decked the drawing room and o'clock tea was served by Mrs. Boak's niece, Mrs. Walter Maclean, now resident in Vancouver after war service overseas, and Mrs. Moore, of Fort George, the latter smartly garbed in navy blue taffeta and putty colored Russian blouse of satin, fur trimming and back picture hat. Assisting them were Miss Mary Bell Irving, Miss Gladys Heritage, Miss Helen Kirk, Miss Maude Beveridge and Miss Ida Withers.

The programme was as follows:
Piano:
(a) Study in A.....F. Le Couppay
(b) Gavotte ..... Earnshaw
Miss Bessie Salisbury.
Violin:
(a) Romance in C.....Wolfemann

PRACTICE NEEDED.
Occasionally, singers may be found who are naturally gifted with a well-voiced voice, the kind of organ that the famous diva Patti designated as "the gift of God," and with it good breathing powers, fair musical knowledge and temperament. They are indeed fortunate. But this good fortune is not the only thing required for success. Success can only come from hard work and careful study, in addition to such gifts. Many a student has been ruined by careless study, by listless attention. A naturally talented singer may by spasmodic attempts at study, sing very acceptably at times, but he (or she) will never attain the highest that he is capable of, nor will he always have his vocal reserves at command, unless he has acquired the mastery which accrues to vocal development, and breathing which has been perfected by steady practice. Constant practice is the price of success especially where the voice is concerned, and music of all the arts is the hardest taskmistress, and one who must be assiduously wooed.

THE INSTRUMENT OF QUALITY Sonora CLEAR AS A BELL

tone—!

—brilliant, clear and so wonderfully natural—the tone of the Sonora Phonograph is a revelation to those who hear it. No other phonograph possesses a tone of such quality. At the Panama-Pacific Exposition this was proved beyond a doubt, for the highest award for beauty of tone was given to the Sonora. The Sonora is as appealing to the eye as its tone is pleasing to the ear. Furthermore, it plays any make of record without additional attachments. This in itself is a great advantage, one worth considering if you are about to invest in a phonograph. See and hear the Sonora models at this store—any time.

LADYSMITH TO HAVE TOWN BAND

Ten or twelve years ago Ladysmith had a brass band that was second to none on Vancouver Island. For one cause or another it was found necessary to disband and some of the instruments mysteriously disappeared from the old Leader Hall, where they had been stored. Many of them were broken and otherwise damaged, but the most expensive ones were removed from the building by private individuals. All these years Ladysmith has had to get along without a local band, depending for the most part for its music for celebrations on the more enterprising towns on the island. It was not for want of first-class musicians, for there are many here, but simply no one made a move in the direction of re-organization. Now it is proposed to change all

WHEN YOU HEAR The New Edison

RE-CREATE a song or instrumental piece, you never think of it as a mechanical or artificial reproduction. On the contrary, the RE-CREATION breathes the living personality of the artist and appeals to your musical taste as though the living artist was standing right before you.

REPORTS OF HIGH SCHOOL CONDITIONS AGAIN DISCUSSED

School Trustees Refer to Two Reports of Provincial Inspector

PRINCIPAL SMITH GIVES EXPLANATION

The process of investigation of the alleged unsatisfactory results of the recent matriculation examinations at the Victoria High School reached a further stage at the meeting of the School Board last night. Trustee Perry reminded the meeting that he had some time ago asked for the Municipal Inspector's report. To this request he last night added a further request for the report of the Provincial Inspector to be left in the hands of the secretary of the School Board, where it could be available for perusal by the trustees. Reference was made to the existence of two reports from the Provincial Inspector as to conditions at the High School, the second of which, although submitted within a few days of the first, showed a marked difference, it being alleged that the first was more distinctly critical than the second.

Trustee Perry. After making the somewhat cryptic remark that "the term is now started and the teachers are engaged for another year, so we cannot do anything," Trustee Perry moved the following resolution: "That the Municipal Inspector be requested to communicate with each teacher on the High School staff the nature of his latest report on his or her work as well as that of the Inspector of High Schools; further, that each teacher who has been reported on unfavorably in any or either of these reports by either inspector be notified that the Board will expect marked improvement in his or her work next term, otherwise it will be compelled to take action."

Considerable discussion followed. Trustee Mrs. Andrews voiced her opinion that the resolution assumed the nature of a threat. She thought that no steps should be taken unless last year's report were also submitted to the Board, as she declared, the Provincial Inspector in his recent report made frequent reference to that of last year.

In reply to Mrs. Andrews' reference to a "threat," Trustee Perry declared that there was no accusation in the resolution, but he thought that each teacher concerned should be acquainted with the criticism contained in the Provincial Inspector's report. The motion then carried.

Municipal Inspector's Report. Municipal Inspector Paul then submitted his report as follows: "The following is the report of the Municipal Inspector of Schools on the results of the recent matriculation examinations of the Victoria High School:

Inspector's Report. August 20, 1919. To the Chairman and Members of the Victoria City Board of School Trustees: Madames and Gentlemen,—In obedience to your instructions, I have the honor to make the following report on the results of the recent matriculation examinations of the Victoria High School: For the sake of clearness I have made out the tables given below, showing the number of candidates from our local High School at the senior and junior examinations respectively, the number of those who passed, the number who were granted

BABY COVERED WITH ECZEMA

When 4 Days Old. Cross and Cried. Cuticura Heals.

"My baby brother had eczema which began when he was about four days old. It came in little pimples and then a rash, and he was covered. He was so cross that he could not sleep, and he cried. "This lasted about two months before we used Cuticura. It helped him, so we bought more, and he was all healed after we had used two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment." ed supplemental examinations, and the number who failed. I have further classified the failures in another table showing the subjects in which they failed and the teachers of those subjects. I shall conclude with such remarks on the examination generally as may guide the board in making a just estimate of whether the results indicate a falling off in the efficiency of the High School or not.

Reason of Failures.

| From the above tables it will be seen that in the Senior Matriculation examinations, 23 candidates were responsible for twenty-three of the failures, and five candidates who were granted supplementals were responsible for seven failures.   |
| In the Junior Matriculation examination, eighteen candidates were responsible for fifty-eight failures and the twenty-six who were granted supplementals were responsible for thirty-three failures in the senior examination, two came from outside centres and had never taken the junior examination, and the attendance of the other four was very poor owing to sickness.  |
| One who was granted a supplemental did not come to school till after Christmas and another never took the B. C. Junior examination. Of the eighteen who failed completely in the Junior examination four were S. O. S., and nearly every one of the rest were prevented by sickness from regular attendance. Some of those who were granted supplementals also suffered from similar disabilities. The history of each of those candidates is in my possession, and at the service of any member of the Board who may be interested to see it.  |
| But it was not only the pupils who made failures in the examinations who suffered under the disability of sickness or whose attendance was prejudicially affected by the closing of the school owing to the scourge of influenza which was laid on this city in the Fall of last year and the early part of this year. The whole school was similarly handicapped in its studies, not only by being closed from October 8, 1918, till the end of the year—the last week before the Christmas holidays being negligible for obvious reasons—but the epidemic of influenza persisted throughout the months of January and February of this year. The serious nature of the handicap under which the school suffered is shown from the fact that the percentage of attendance for the school year was only 65.5. I need not dilate on this subject further than to say that the efficiency of the pupils' studies has never in the history of the school been more seriously impaired, and that from causes that could not be foreseen or prevented. |
| Analysis of Failures. It is true that the limits were cut so as to make the work to be accomplished more in agreement with the time lost. But in my opinion that cut was not sufficient for Victoria,   | which suffered more from the consequences of the epidemic than other centres. To sum up, nineteen per cent. of the pupils who wrote at both examinations were responsible for eighty-eight per cent. of the failures in the various subjects. Those pupils failed entirely. Twenty-five per cent. (those to whom supplementals were granted) were responsible for the remaining twelve per cent. of the failures. In most cases the physical condition of the pupils can be shown to account for their failures.

Victoria suffered more than any other city in the Province from last time owing to the epidemic of influenza. The cut in the limits does not seem to have been sufficient in the case of this city.

Conclusion. Under the circumstances the results are far from unsatisfactory. There were only nineteen per cent. of the pupils who absolutely failed. The results of the Supplemental examinations may not materially increase that number. A comparison with the results of other centres would be misleading, even if such comparison were against Victoria. As I have pointed out, the circumstances here were very different.

E. B. PAUL, Municipal Inspector of Schools, Victoria, B. C., August 20, 1919.

With this report was read the following explanatory letter from Principal Smith of the High School: For your information I have made a search of the records of the matriculation results back to and including the year 1912. The enclosed table will show you the numbers writing, numbers passed, and the percentage for the several years. The average percentage for eight years works out to 53.5 and the percentage passed this year is 54.3. This, you will see, is above the average, and, further, has been exceeded on only two occasions. Several circumstances arose last year which interfered with the success of the year's work. First, twenty-five pupils were excused to go to work on farms at times varying from May 1 to June 15, 1918. These pupils were promoted under the terms of the Soldiers of the Soil movement, and while their standard in school was good enough to justify their promotion, they naturally suffered somewhat in efficiency through the prolonged absence from school. Some of the pupils did not return until late in September, as the Department of Education permitted them to continue on the land until September 30.

Effect of Epidemic. Secondly, schools were closed on a few minutes' notice on October 8, 1918, and with the exception of six days in December, they were kept closed up to January, 1919. This meant that the pupils had to get over their year's work from January to June instead of from September to January. A certain amount of the prescribed work was cut off, but it was in no way commensurate with the amount of time lost as far as Victoria was concerned.

Thirdly, the worst period of the epidemic, as far as the schools were concerned, was during the months of January and February, when the attendance of the pupils was at its lowest in the case of some classes. The after-effects of the epidemic naturally made itself felt on the efficiency of the pupils concerned.

Fourthly, the pupils who wrote in the examination and failed twice went up for the examination against my advice, and I could have told them that they had not the slightest chance of passing. It seems to me that it is now time that the recommendation of the principal and teachers should have some weight in determining whether pupils shall write in the examination or not.

The Value of The Press.

A comment from Trustee Deaville to the effect that the press should be requested to publish the above reports in view of the allegations that had been made as to the conditions at the High School, drew the remark from Trustee Perry that he had made his deductions as to the alleged unsatisfactoriness at the High School from the reports published in the press.
