owner or owners of each certificate of purchase, as well as upon each person who may have acquired by purchase, an interest in all or some portion of the lands described in the certificate, and such sum must be paid together with the amount of the purchase price which is due and unpaid.

New section SEC. 10. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered 10, and to read as follows:

Notice of forfeiture Sec. 10. Immediately following the first day of July, 1937, the department of finance shall note upon its records, the forfeitures of such lands and shall forward to the recorder of each county wherein any of said lands may be situate, a notice of such forfeiture. It shall be the duty of the recorder to receive and file such notice and to record the same in a book of deeds. Such notice from the time it is filed with the recorder is constructive notice of the condition thereof to subsequent purchasers and mortgagees, and to all other persons who may thereafter attempt to acquire any interest in, or lien upon, any of the lands described in the notice.

New section. SEC. 11. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered 11, and to read as follows:

Protection from forfeiture. Sec. 11. Any person having a conveyance of the whole, or a portion equal to at least forty acres of the lands described in any such statement, but to whom the certificate of purchase has never been surrendered, may protect his lands from forfeiture by paying the amount of the purchase price due to the department of finance. He shall first, however, file with the department of finance satisfactory evidence of his possessory right to the land. Upon such payment being made before the first day of July, 1937, such lands shall be and hereby are excepted from the forfeiture prescribed in this act. Said certificate of purchase shall become null and void only as to the remaining lands therein described, and if due compliance be made with all other provisions of law governing the issuance of patents, a patent shall issue in the name of the original purchaser of such excepted land, but shall be delivered to the person by whom such payment was made, and the title thereby granted shall inure to the benefit of such person, his heirs or assigns.

New section SEC. 12. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered 12, and to read as follows:

Annulment of forfeiture Sec. 12. In the event any lands shall be forfeited under the provisions hereof upon which the total purchase price has been actually paid prior to the forfeiture but for any reason not properly credited, the person or persons having a beneficial interest in said lands, may, within one year following the date of such forfeiture, commence an action in the superior court of the county of Sacramento against the department of finance for the purpose of having such forfeiture annulled and set aside.

And if it be proven to the satisfaction of the court, at the trial of such action, that such payment was in fact made prior to the forfeiture, the court shall render judgment annulling and setting aside the forfeiture, and thereupon the plaintiff or plaintiffs in such action shall be restored to his or their former estate in said land.

SEC. 13. Those parts of all acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. Repeal.

SEC. 6. If a lease is terminated by reason of the filing of an application to purchase land suitable for cultivation, or by the sale of land or by the designation of land as bases for indemnity selection or selections, the lessee shall surrender the lease to the surveyor general and receive in exchange therefor from the surveyor general a certificate showing the proportionate amount of the annual payment to be refunded to the lessee, for the tract or tracts of land that have been disposed of by the State of California, and the state controller, upon the surrender to him of the said surveyor general's certificate, with the approval of the board of control endorsed thereon, shall issue to the lessee a warrant for the said amount payable out of the state school land fund and the state treasurer shall pay the same. If all the tracts of land described in said surrendered lease have not been disposed of by the state, the lessee shall be entitled, without the payment of any additional fee, to a new lease for the remaining tracts of land for the balance of the unexpired term of the surrendered lease, at the same annual rental per acre.

New section.

SEC. 4. A new section to be known as section 10 is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

Application
of act

SEC. 10. The provisions hereof shall also apply to all lands of the state other than school lands and the term leases shall include permits or licenses but nothing herein contained shall authorize the granting of any permits or leases on the tide or submerged lands of the state or upon any river bed or lake bed belonging thereto.

An act providing for the investigation, inspection, control and eradication of disease in poultry and live stock in counties, and for the appropriation and the expenditure of money therefor; and for agreements between counties and with the department of agriculture for such purposes, and declaring same an urgency measure.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Money for poultry and live stock control, etc

SECTION 1. Counties acting through their boards of supervisors shall have the jurisdiction and power to appropriate and expend money from the general fund of the county to carry on investigation, inspection, control and eradication of disease in poultry and live stock. And for such purposes may enter into agreements with the department of agriculture or with each other and the department of agriculture.

Agreements between counties.

SEC. 2. The counties which are parties to such agreement may provide that payments from their treasuries may be made for the purpose for which the agreement was entered into and these funds may be paid to and disbursed by the department of agriculture who shall hold such funds in trust to be expended by them in carrying on such investigation, inspection, control and eradication of disease in poultry and live stock within the respective counties parties to the agreement.

Such agreement may also provide that the department of agriculture shall have full control and supervision in carrying on the work provided for in such agreement.

Such agreement may be continued for a definite term or until rescinded or terminated and may provide for the method by which the same may be rescinded or terminated by any of the parties thereto.

Such agreement shall provide for the disposition, division or distribution of any property acquired as the result of such joint exercise of powers, and the return of any surplus moneys on hand after the purpose thereof shall be completed in proportion to the contributions made.

Urgency.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of section 1 of article four of the constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency:

It is necessary to the public health, safety and peace that counties act either jointly or severally to prevent the introduction of dangerous, infectious or communicable diseases and to eradicate them if introduced, and for the purpose of general sanitation, and inasmuch as a unity of effort in such purpose is the most effective and benefits the greater number of people and the greater area of land it is important that this act have immediate application.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered 2521a, relating to the board of state harbor commissioners, and repealing section 12 of chapter 183, statutes of 1907.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section numbered 2521a is hereby added to the Political Code, to read as follows:

San Francisco harbor:

2521a. The board on entering on the duties of their office, must also appoint a chief engineer, who shall hold office at the pleasure of said board. The salary of said chief engineer shall be fixed by the board, with the approval of the director of finance and shall be paid monthly out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund. He shall furnish the state with a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for the faithful performance of his duties, which bond must be approved by the governor of the State of California and filed in the office of the secretary of state. He shall prepare such plans and specifications as the board may direct, and if adopted, and the work ordered by the board to be done, must superintend its construction. He must give constant attention to the condition of the seawall and thoroughfare, of the sheds, wharves, piers and landings, of the streets or parts thereof under the jurisdiction of the board, and when repairs are needed must forthwith report to the board their nature and extent, and if ordered by the board must have the same done at once. He must keep himself informed as to the depth of water in the various docks and slips, and report to the board from time to time what dredging is required and if ordered by the board must have the same done. He shall do all engineering work required by the said board of state harbor commissioners, and shall be subject at all times to its control, and devote his entire time to the service of the board.

SEC. 2. The board of supervisors of any county is hereby authorized to enter into such contracts or agreements with the legislative body of any incorporated city or town. Contract.

CHAPTER 688.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code of the State of California to be numbered 3476a, relating to the cancellation by boards of supervisors of assessments or portions of assessments levied by reclamation districts on the lands within said districts.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered 3476a and to read as follows. New section

Unnecessary

3476a Whenever heretofore or hereafter any reclamation district has caused to be levied on the lands of said district any assessment and whenever it appears from any report made to the trustees of the district by the commissioners appointed to levy said assessment that said assessment or a portion thereof was levied for any particular or specified purpose or project and whenever thereafter it appears to the trustees of said district that it is not necessary to collect said assessment, or some portion thereof, for the particular or specified purpose for which it was levied, and whenever it shall also appear to the trustees of said district that the said assessment or some part thereof is greater than required to meet all obligations incurred or to be incurred for the purposes for which such assessment or part thereof was levied, then the trustees of said district may by resolution regularly adopted and spread on its minutes request the board of supervisors of the county where the greater portion of said reclamation district is situated to cancel any portion of said assessment so levied for said specified purposes or project and which is not required to be collected, as aforesaid, together with any accrued interest thereon. The trustees in said resolution shall specify the portion of the assessment levied against each tract of land which is to be canceled describing each tract of land either as described in the assessment roll or by the number of the tract as used

Hearing

Upon filing said request with the said board of supervisors the said board of supervisors shall thereupon appoint a time when it will meet for the purpose of hearing objections, if any, to said request; said objections if any, must be in writing, verified and filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors. Notice of the said hearing shall be given in the same manner and for the same time as notice of hearing objections to an original assessment. At said hearing the board of supervisors shall hear such evidence as may be offered in support of said written objections and may approve, reject, modify or amend said request in any particular. No objections to granting said request shall be considered by the board of supervisors or allowed in any other action or proceeding unless said objections shall have been made in writing to the board of supervisors within thirty (30) days after the first publication of the notice of hearing objections, if any, to granting said request. Upon the making of an order approving, rejecting, modifying or amending said request a certified copy of said order shall be attached to said assessment roll by the county treasurer in whose office said assessment roll is on file, and thereupon the secretary of said board of trustees shall indorse upon the assessment roll after each tract of land assessed the amount of the assessment as to each particular tract which has been so canceled.

Refunds

Provided, however, that if and when the owner of land in any reclamation district, in which the board of supervisors may have canceled any total assessment or a portion thereof, shall have theretofore paid the whole of such assessment levied against his land the board of trustees of said district shall issue a warrant of the district in favor of such landowner in an amount equal to that portion of his total assessment which was assessed against his lands for any particular or specified purpose or project so paid by said landowner, together with legal interest on said amount so paid by said landowner from date of such payment to date of said warrant, if the said assessment has been canceled in full; or if said assessment shall have been canceled in part only, then said board of trustees shall issue a warrant in favor of said landowner in an amount which bears the same proportion to said landowner's total assessment for such particular or specified purpose or project as the portion of the assessment for said particular or specified purpose or project so canceled in part bears to said total assessment, together with legal interest on said amount so paid by said landowner from date of such payment to date of said warrant. Any such warrant so issued shall be payable out of the general fund of said district.

The provisions of this act shall not apply to any assessment or part of an assessment for which any bonds have been issued and sold, in accordance with the provisions of section 3480 of the Political Code. Effect

All laws or acts in conflict with this section are hereby repealed.

An act granting to the city of Pacific Grove the title to the water front of said city, together with certain submerged lands in the bay of Monterey contiguous thereto.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Grant to city of Pacific Grove.

SECTION 1. The State of California does hereby cede, grant and relinquish, forever unto the city of Pacific Grove, a municipal corporation organized and existing under the laws of said state, all the right, title, interest, and estate, of said State of California, of, in, or to, all of the real estate, lands and property, contiguous to said city of Pacific Grove and bordering on or in the bay of Monterey, and bounded and described, as follows to wit:

Description.

Parcel 1: Beginning at the intersection of the southeasterly corporate limit line (produced) of said city of Pacific Grove with the mean high tide line of the bay of Monterey and running thence northwesterly along said mean high tide line to an intersection with the westerly line of Grand Avenue (produced) of said city, thence S. 80° E. 2000 feet, thence N. 69° E, to a point in the bay of Monterey where the depth of water in said bay is sixty (60) feet measured from mean low tide level, thence southeasterly along a line in said bay, which line shall be at a constant depth of sixty (60) feet of water measured from the mean low tide level of said bay to the intersection with said corporate limit line (produced); thence southwesterly along said produced line of said city limits to the place of beginning.

Parcel 2: Beginning at the point of intersection of the northerly property line of the lands of Mattie L. McDougall with the mean high tide line of the bay of Monterey, which said point bears N. 19° 23' 45" E. 665 feet and S. 70° 36' 15" E. 200 feet, more or less, from the southeast corner of Ocean View avenue and 17th street of the city of Pacific Grove; running thence from said point N. 69° E. to a point in the bay of Monterey where the depth of water in said bay is sixty (60) feet measured from mean low tide level; thence northwesterly along a line in said bay, which line shall be at a constant depth of sixty (60) feet measured from the mean low tide level of said bay to the intersection with the westerly city limit line (produced) of said city of Pacific Grove; thence S. 19° 22' W. on and along said city limits line (produced) to the point of intersection of said city limits line (produced) with the mean high tide line of the bay of Monterey; thence southeasterly along said mean high tide line to the point of beginning.

Provided, however, that the rights of any and all persons, if any exist, under any title derived from said State of California, in and to any part of said property and premises hereby ceded and granted, be and the same are, hereby reserved from the operation of this act. Provided, however, that, except as hereinafter set forth, no part of said real property shall be used, employed, leased or disposed of in any manner whatsoever for commercial, industrial or revenue producing uses or purposes.

Provided, however, that all or any part of said real property may be used, employed, leased or disposed of except as hereinafter provided, solely for public amusement and pleasure purposes including the use thereof for boat and yacht harbors, boating and yachting, swimming tanks and other like or kindred purposes.

SEC. 2. The entire water front and lands hereby granted ^{Use.} shall be held by the city of Pacific Grove and its lawful successors forever, for the use and benefit of said city, and shall not be subject to execution upon any judgment against said city; provided, however, that the following described portion of the real property hereby granted to said city and hereinabove described, may from time to time be let or leased for a term not exceeding twenty-five years, or for such less period as said city or its successors may deem to be most advantageous to said municipality, to wit: That portion of the above described lands lying within the following limits: Beginning at the intersection of the southeasterly corporate limit line of the said city of Pacific Grove with the mean high tide line of the bay of Monterey and running thence northwesterly along said tide line five hundred feet, thence leaving said tide line, north sixty degrees east to an intersection with a line projected north from the point of beginning, thence south to the point of beginning. Any lease made at any time for a term in excess of said maximum term hereinbefore prescribed shall be wholly void; provided, however, that not more than three hundred of said five hundred feet frontage of said water front last above described may be leased to any one lessee; and provided, further, that any and all vessels shall have the right to dock, land and discharge passengers or merchandise in, at and upon any wharf or pier erected or built upon property so leased as last above described upon the payment to any such lessee or lessees of reasonable dockage and wharfage fees and charges. Such fees and charges shall be regulated and prescribed in each such lease as from time to time may be determined by ordinance of said city of Pacific Grove or by statute of the State of California.

SEC. 3. Except as in this act otherwise prescribed, all valid ^{Vested rights.} rights of any and all persons, if such exist, in or to any part of said real property hereby ceded and granted to said city of Pacific Grove shall be and the same are hereby excepted and omitted from the provisions hereof.

SEC. 4. All acts and portions of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

An act to amend sections 5 and 10 of an act entitled "An act authorizing the creation, government, maintenance and dissolution of county sanitation districts, the annexation of contiguous territory to such districts, the issuance of bonds by such districts and the powers thereof," approved May 29, 1923, as amended, by providing for the sale and disposition by such districts of water, sewage effluent, fertilizer and other by-products resulting from the operation of sewage plants, and for the conservation of water, and for distributing the proceeds of the sales of bonds.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927,
p 416.

SECTION 1. Section 5 of an act entitled "An act authorizing the creation, government, maintenance and dissolution of county sanitation districts, the annexation of contiguous territory to such districts, the issuance of bonds by such districts and the powers thereof," approved May 29, 1923, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Board of
directors

Sec. 5. Such sanitation district shall be governed by a board of directors of not less than three members. The presiding officer of the governing body of each incorporated city, the whole or part of which is included in such district, shall automatically become a member of such board of directors. If unincorporated territory and but one incorporated city or part thereof be included in such district, the presiding officer and one other member of the board of supervisors of the county in which said district is organized shall be members of the board of directors, unless the population of such city or part thereof exceed that of the unincorporated territory included within such district, in which event the presiding officer of such board of supervisors and the presiding officer of the governing body of such city and one other member of such governing body shall constitute such board of directors; but whenever unincorporated territory and two or more cities or parts thereof are included in such district the presiding officer of the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is located shall be a member of such board of directors. In the event such district contains no unincorporated territory, the board of directors thereof shall consist of the presiding officers of the governing bodies of the cities wholly or in part within said district; and in event there be but two cities or parts thereof in such district, one additional member shall be selected from the governing body of each such city. In the event the whole of such district shall be unincorporated territory, the board of supervisors of the county in which the district is organized shall be and constitute such board of directors.

Whenever additional territory becomes annexed to such sanitation district under the provisions of section 4½ of this act as well as whenever any change takes place in the character of the territory within any sanitation district by the incorporation of a municipality therein or otherwise resulting in a condition which makes it necessary for a change to be made in the membership of the board of directors as hereinbefore specified, then and thereupon such change in the membership of the board of directors shall take place and become effective immediately thereafter.

The county auditor of the county in which such district is located shall be and is hereby designated as, and empowered to act as, ex officio the auditor of the district. In governing the district such board of directors shall have the following powers:

(a) To employ such sanitation experts, surveyors, counsel and other persons as may be needed to carry into effect any of the powers hereinafter given.

(b) To acquire by gift, purchase, condemnation or otherwise, in the name of the district, and to own, control, manage and dispose of any real or personal property or interest therein necessary or convenient for the construction and maintenance of, and to construct, maintain and operate within or without the district a sewerage system and sewage disposal or treatment plant, and/or to join with any other district, municipality, or other governmental agency in the construction, maintenance and/or operation of a sewerage system and/or sewage disposal or treatment plant, either within or without said district; provided, however, that no such sewage disposal or treatment plant shall be constructed or maintained in any city not within the district, except by consent granted by the unanimous vote of the governing body of such city.

(c) To sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any property of the district or any interest therein whenever the same is no longer required for the purposes of the district or the use of which may be permitted without interfering with the use thereof by the district, and to sell, or otherwise dispose of, any water, sewage effluent, fertilizer or other by-product resulting from the operation of a sewerage system or sewage disposal plant or treatment plant, and to construct, maintain and operate such pipe lines and other works as may be necessary for such purpose.

(d) To construct, maintain and operate pipe lines or other works as may be necessary to conserve and put to beneficial use any water or sewage effluent recovered from the operation of such sewerage system, plant or works by sale or disposition thereof for agricultural or industrial purposes, or by discharging or spreading such water or sewage effluent in such a manner as to percolate into the underground gravels and replenish the natural water resources.

(e) To issue bonds of the district in the manner hereinafter set forth.

(f) To cause to be levied and collected in the manner hereinafter provided an assessment upon all the taxable real property within the district sufficient to meet the obligations evidenced by the bonds and to maintain the works of the district, and to defray all other expenses incidental to the exercise of the powers herein granted.

Stats 1925,
p. 6.

SEC. 2. Section 10 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bonds
disposition of proceeds from sale

Sec. 10. The said board of directors may issue and sell the bonds of such district authorized as hereinbefore provided at not less than par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the treasury of the county. All premium and accrued interest received shall be paid into the fund to be used for the payment of principal of and interest on said bonds and the remainder of the proceeds of such sale shall be paid into the construction fund of said district, and the proper record of such transactions shall be placed upon the books of the treasurer. Said construction fund shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the resolution calling such special bond election as aforesaid, subject to the provisions in this act contained. Payments from said fund shall be made upon demands allowed by the board of directors of said district, and prepared, presented, and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the county.

SEC. 2. Section 3693 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Equalization
reappraisal

3693. Whenever the board of supervisors and assessor of any county or city and county shall determine that, in order to equalize the assessment of taxable property within the county or city and county, an appraisal or reappraisal of such property, or any class thereof, is required, such determination shall be certified by the clerk of the board of supervisors and the assessor of said county or city and county to the state board of equalization. Thereupon the county assessor, the chairman of the board of supervisors and the member of the state board of equalization from the district within which the county or city and county is situate, shall constitute a commission to conduct the work of appraising or reappraising the taxable property, or any class thereof, within the county or city and county. Save as assessments of property may be made by an assessor or his duly constituted deputy or deputies or as valuations may be made of individual parcels of property by a county board of equalization during its regular session in the month of July or extensions thereof as authorized by the state board of equalization, no property shall be valued or appraised for the purposes of taxation under authority of any county or city and county except in the manner prescribed by this section.

To carry out the purposes of this section the commission composed of the county assessor, the chairman of the board of supervisors and the member of the state board of equalization shall be empowered to employ, subject to the approval of the board of supervisors, such technical assistants as said commission shall deem necessary, but no contract shall be made with any person, firm, association or corporation by which the duty of conducting such work of appraisal or reappraisal shall be delegated to any private interests. No person employed hereunder shall be or shall be considered to be an additional deputy or assistant of any county assessor, but all work done hereunder shall be in furtherance of the power of the county board of equalization to equalize assessments. The expenses of the work of the appraisal or reappraisal of the taxable property, or any class thereof, within the county or city and county, shall be a charge against the funds of said county, or city and county, and the board of supervisors of any county or city and county in which such a commission shall function are hereby authorized and empowered to make such appropriation or appropriations of the funds of said county or city and county as may be necessary to meet the expenses of said work.

SEC. 3. Section 3700a of the Political Code is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 695.

An act to amend section 1329 of the Penal Code, relating to fees of witnesses when from without the county, or without the State of California.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1329 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1329. When a person attends before a magistrate, grand jury, or court, as a witness in a criminal case, whether upon a subpoena or in pursuance of an undertaking, or voluntarily, and it appears that he came from a place outside of the county or outside of the State of California, or that he is poor and unable to pay the expenses of such attendance, the court, at its discretion, if the attendance of the witness be upon a trial may by an order upon its minutes, or in any criminal proceeding, by a written order, direct the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer in favor of such witness for a reasonable sum to be specified in the order, for the necessary expenses of said witness, and said sum shall be a legal charge against the county.

CHAPTER 696.

An act to amend section 270 of the Penal Code, relative to omitting to provide child with necessaries.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1925,
p 544

SECTION 1. Section 270 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Omitting to provide child with necessaries

270. A father of either a legitimate or illegitimate minor child who wilfully omits without lawful excuse to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his child is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding two years or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both. This statute shall not be construed so as to relieve such father from the criminal liability defined herein for such omission merely because the mother of such child is legally entitled to the custody of such child nor because the mother of such child, or any other person, or organization, voluntarily or involuntarily furnishes such necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for such child, or undertakes to do so.

Evidence.

Proof of abandonment or desertion of a child by such father, or the omission by such father to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his child is prima facie evidence that such abandonment or desertion or omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care is wilful and without lawful excuse.

Dead or incapaci-
father.

In the event that the father of either a legitimate or illegitimate minor child is dead or unable by reason of physical or mental infirmity to furnish the necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his minor child, the mother of said child shall become subject to the provisions of this section and be criminally liable for the support of said minor child during the period of inability on the part of the father to the same extent and in the same manner as the father would have been had it not been for his physical or mental infirmity.

The provisions of this section are applicable whether the parents of such child are married or divorced, and regardless of any decree made in any divorce action relative to alimony or to the support of the child. A child conceived but not yet born is to be deemed an existing person in so far as this section is concerned.

CHAPTER 697.

An act to amend section 197 of the Penal Code, defining justifiable homicide.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 197 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Pen C

Sec. 197. Homicide is also justifiable when committed by any person in either of the following cases: Justifiable homicide by other persons.

1. When resisting any attempt to murder any person, or to commit a felony, or to do some great bodily injury upon any person; or,

2. When committed in defense of habitation, property, or person, against one who manifestly intends or endeavors, by violence or surprise, to commit a felony, or against one who manifestly intends and endeavors, in a violent, riotous or tumultuous manner, to enter the habitation of another for the purpose of offering violence to any person therein; or,

3. When committed in the lawful defense of such person, or of a wife or husband, parent, child, master, mistress, or servant of such person, when there is reasonable ground to apprehend a design to commit a felony or to do some great bodily injury, and imminent danger of such design being accomplished; but such person, or the person in whose behalf the defense was made, if he was the assailant or engaged in mutual combat, must really and in good faith have endeavored to decline any further struggle before the homicide was committed; or,

4. When necessarily committed in attempting, by lawful ways and means, to apprehend any person for any felony committed, or in lawfully suppressing any riot, or in lawfully keeping and preserving the peace.

An act to amend section 737h of the Political Code, relating to the salaries of the judges of the superior court

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927,
p. 559.

SECTION 1. Section 737h of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Superior
judge Del

county.

737h. The annual salary of the judge of the superior court in and for the county of Del Norte is five thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 699.

An act to create a state medical library under the direction of the regents of the University of California, providing for the establishment of branches of said library and for the administration, maintenance, and support of the same, and making an appropriation therefor.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

State medical library created

SECTION 1. A state medical library is hereby created in and as a part of the library of the University of California and shall be known as the state medical library, said state medical library shall have its administrative headquarters in such place as the regents of the University of California may select, and shall have two branches, one in the city and county of San Francisco and one in the city of Los Angeles. Said state medical library shall be under the supervision and control of the regents of the University of California and shall be administered and conducted by said the regents of the University of California in conjunction with the medical school of said University of California.

Organization and conduct of library

SEC. 2 The regents of the University of California are authorized to provide suitable and necessary facilities for the storage and care of books, journals, manuscripts and exhibits, and to prepare, print and distribute suitable catalogs and other printed information of said state medical library and to appoint one or more assistant librarians to have direct supervision and control over the state medical library and its branches, and to fix the compensation of such assistant librarians. Said state medical library and its branches shall be available for the use of all legally registered physicians and surgeons resident in the State of California. The regents of the University of California are further empowered to establish and conduct, subject to such rules or regulations as the said regents may fix and adopt, a book package service in connection with said state medical library, by means of which, on request, any legally registered physician or surgeon resident in the State of California, or the librarian of any medical college approved by the state board of medical examiners, may borrow for temporary use books or periodicals in said library.

SEC. 3. The regents of the University of California are authorized to purchase scientific medical books and other publications, manuscripts and exhibits, to comprise the state medical library, with the advice of the state medical advisory board, which is hereby created.

State medical advisory board.

The state medical library advisory board shall consist of the president of the University of California, the president of the state board of health, the president of the state board of medical examiners, the dean of the medical school of the University of California at San Francisco and the dean of the Los Angeles medical department of the University of California at Los Angeles, all acting ex officio. The board shall select its own chairman, vice chairman, and secretary. The state medical library advisory board shall have authority to propose rules and regulations for the management and operation of the state medical library, but the same shall become effective only upon the approval of the regents of the University of California. The members of such board shall receive no compensation, but shall receive their actual and necessary expenses incurred in performance of their duties.

SEC. 4. The branch libraries to be established in the city and county of San Francisco and in the city of Los Angeles shall be established at the medical school of the University of California, in San Francisco, and at the Los Angeles medical department of the University of California. In expending funds received for the support of the state medical library the regents of the University of California shall expend an equal amount for the support of each of said two branches. The regents of the University of California shall not be obliged to provide for the support of said state medical library or expend moneys therefor except to the extent of such appropriations as may be directly provided therefor by this act or from time to time by action of the Legislature of the State of California, and to the extent that there are available other funds constituting or arising from gifts made in support and aid of said state medical library and accepted by the said regents.

Branch libraries

SEC. 5. There is hereby appropriated and at the time this act takes effect and on the thirty-first day of July of each year thereafter, the state controller, shall transfer from the board of medical examiners' contingent fund to the regents of the University of California for the support and maintenance of said state medical library, all unencumbered moneys in the board of medical examiners' contingent fund in excess of one hundred thirty thousand dollars. The moneys hereby appropriated shall be expended by the regents of the University of California with the advice of the state medical library advisory board for the purchase of books and other publications, exhibits, and supplies for the state medical library and for the payment of expenses of the members of the state medical library advisory board, the salaries of assistant librarians, and operating expenses. Nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to prevent the regents of the University of California from charging to persons who may draw books from said state medical library through its package service the actual costs of shipment, including costs of transportation.

Appropriation

CHAPTER 700.

An act to establish a retirement system to provide for the retirement of employees of the State of California, and make an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Purpose
of act.

SECTION 1. The purpose of this act is to effect economy and efficiency in the public service by providing a means whereby employees who become superannuated or otherwise incapacitated may, without hardship or prejudice, be replaced by more capable employees, and to that end providing a retirement system consisting of retirement compensation and death benefits.

Definitions

SEC. 2. The following words and phrases used in this act, unless a different meaning is plainly indicated by context, shall have the following meanings:

SEC. 3. "Retirement system" shall mean the "state employees' retirement system" created by section 25 of this act;

SEC. 4. "Employee" shall mean any person in the employ of the State of California at least fifty per cent of whose compensation is paid out of funds directly controlled by the state, excluding all political subdivisions, municipal, public and quasi public corporations;

SEC. 5. "Member" shall mean any person included in the membership of the retirement system set forth in sections 26, 27 and 28, and not excluded in sections 29 to 40, inclusive, of this act;

SEC. 6. "Board" shall mean the "board of administration" created in this act;

SEC. 7. "Retirement fund" shall mean the "state employees' retirement fund" created and established in section 41 of this act;

SEC. 8. "State service" shall mean service rendered as an employee or officer, appointed or elected, of the state for compensation, and, for the purposes of this act, a member shall be considered as being in the "state service" only while he ^{Definitions.} is receiving compensation from the state for such service;

SEC. 9. "Prior service" shall mean the state service, as defined herein, rendered before the first day of January, 1932, certified by a prior service certificate and allowable as provided in section 49 of this act;

SEC. 10. "Continuous service" as applied to "prior service" shall mean all prior service, regardless of interruptions in such service, and as applied to service as a member shall mean uninterrupted employment by the state, except that when, for any cause whatever, a member discontinues state service but subsequently reenters such service within three years from the date of the discontinuance, such interruption shall not be deemed to break the continuity of service;

SEC. 11. "Beneficiary" shall mean any person in receipt of a pension, annuity, retirement allowance, death benefit or any other benefit provided by this act;

SEC. 12. "Compensation" shall mean the remuneration paid in cash out of funds controlled by the state plus the monetary value, as determined by the board of administration, of board, lodging, fuel, laundry and other advantages of any nature furnished by the state to a member in payment for his services;

SEC. 13. "Compensation earnable" by a member shall mean the average compensation as determined by the board upon the basis of the average period of employment of members in the same class of employment and at the same rate of pay, but such "compensation earnable" shall not exceed four hundred sixteen dollars and sixty-six cents per month;

SEC. 14. "Final compensation" shall mean the average annual compensation earnable by a member during the five years immediately preceding his retirement;

SEC. 15. "Regular interest" shall mean interest at four per centum per annum, compounded annually, plus such additional interest as the board may credit from year to year in accordance with the provisions of this act;

SEC. 16. "Normal contributions" shall mean contributions by members under the provisions of sections 65, 66 and 67 of this act;

SEC. 17. "Additional contributions" shall mean contributions by members under the provisions of section 68 of this act;

SEC. 18. "Accumulated normal contributions" shall mean the sum of all the normal contributions standing to the credit of a member's individual account, together with the regular interest thereon;

SEC. 19. "Accumulated additional contributions" shall mean the sum of all the additional contributions standing to the credit of a member's individual account, together with regular interest thereon;

SEC. 20. "Accumulated contributions" shall mean accumulated normal contributions plus any accumulated additional contributions standing to the credit of a member's account;

SEC. 21. "Pension" shall mean payments for life derived from contributions made from state controlled funds as provided in this act;

SEC. 22. "Annuity" shall mean payments for life derived from contributions made by a member as provided in this act;

SEC. 23. "Retirement allowance" shall mean the pension plus the annuity; and

SEC. 24. "Fiscal year" shall mean any year commencing with July first and ending with June thirtieth next following.

SEC. 25. A retirement system is hereby created and established to become effective January 1, 1932, and to be known as the "state employees' retirement system."

Who are members

SEC. 26. Except as herein expressly excluded from membership all employees shall become members of the retirement system as follows:

SEC. 27. From and after the date this system becomes effective, every employee who has rendered one-half year of continuous service is a member of the retirement system, and every other employee shall become a member after the completion of one-half year of continuous service;

SEC. 28. Every employee who reenters state service after the date this system becomes effective, and who, prior to such reentry has completed six months of continuous state service, shall become a member of the retirement system upon such reentry.

Persons
excluded

SEC. 29. The following employees shall not become members of the retirement system:

SEC. 30. Elective officers;

SEC. 31. Inmates of state institutions who are allowed compensation for such service as they are able to perform;

SEC. 32. Persons in state institutions principally for the purpose of training, but who receive compensation;

SEC. 33. Persons employed under contract for a definite period and for the performance of specific duties requiring professional or high technical skill;

SEC. 34. Employees serving on a part-time basis;

SEC. 35. Persons in state service on January 1, 1932, or thereafter, whose compensation equals or exceeds four hundred sixteen dollars and sixty-six cents per month, and who file with the board of administration an election not to become members;

SEC. 36. Persons directly appointed, without the nomination of any officer or board, by the governor, and who do not file with the board of administration an election in writing to become members;

SEC. 37. All public school teachers who fall within the provisions of any teachers' retirement system, except teachers in schools entirely or partially supported by state controlled funds, and whose entire compensation for full time teaching is paid directly to them by the state, at least fifty per cent of such compensation coming out of state appropriations;

SEC. 38 Teachers in schools entirely or partially supported by state controlled funds, and whose entire compensation for full time teaching is paid directly to them by the state, at least fifty per cent of such compensation coming out of state appropriations and who file requests for exemption with the board before January 1, 1932; and all state employees coming within the meaning of this act, who are beneficiaries under the pension and retirement annuities system of the University of California:

SEC. 38a Persons otherwise entitled to become members of the retirement system, but who receive some part of their compensation from the United States government and who are beneficiaries under and are contributing to the fund created by an act of congress entitled "An act for the retirement of employees in the classified civil service and for other purposes," approved May 22, 1920, and acts in amendment thereof.

SEC. 39. It shall be the duty of the head of each office or department to give immediate notice in writing to the board of administration of the change in status of any member in his office or department resulting from transfer, promotion, leave of absence, resignation, reinstatement, dismissal or death. The head of each office or department shall furnish such other information concerning any member as the board may require changes in personnel

SEC. 40. Each member and each person retired shall be subject to all the provisions of this act and to the rules and regulations adopted by the board of administration. Any person who renders less than five years of service in any period of ten consecutive years, who withdraws more than one-fourth of his normal contributions, or who is retired, ceases to be a member. No member of the retirement system created by this act shall be a member of any other retirement system that is in any part supported by public funds.

Cessation of membership

SEC. 41. A fund is hereby created and established to be known as the "state employees' retirement fund" and shall consist of all the cash, securities or other assets paid into it in accordance with the provisions of this act.

"State employees' retirement

SEC. 42. A board of administration of said retirement system is hereby created, consisting of the president of the civil service commission, the director of finance, three members elected from the active members of the retirement system, an official of a life insurance company and an officer of a bank who shall be appointed by the governor within thirty days of the taking effect of this act. Within thirty days after this act takes effect, the governor shall appoint the three members to represent the active members of the retirement system from a list of nominees presented by the employees who will be affected by the system. The first members of the board, other than ex officio members, shall so classify themselves by lot, that their terms will expire as follows: (1) one member January 15, 1933, (2) two members January 15, 1934, (3) two members January 15, 1935. Except in the case of ex officio members and the first members of the board, the term of office of members of the board shall be four years. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term by appointment by the governor from the class in which the vacancy occurs.

Administration of act

SEC. 43. The board may establish such rules and regulations as it deems proper; shall elect one of its members president, and shall appoint and fix the compensation of a secretary and other necessary employees in accordance with the classifications made by the civil service commission. It shall maintain its office in the city of Sacramento. All expenses of the administration of this act shall be a charge on the general fund of the state. The members of the board shall serve without compensation, but they shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred through service on the board out of the appropriation for the administration of this act.

fund

SEC. 44. The board shall determine who are employees within the meaning of this act and shall be the sole authority and judge under this act as to the conditions under which persons may be admitted to benefits under the retirement system and shall have exclusive control of the administration and investment of the retirement fund except as herein expressly provided. As soon as practicable after the close of each fiscal year it shall file with the governor a report of its work for such fiscal year.

allowances

SEC. 45. Subject to the following and to all other provisions of this act, and such rules and regulations as it may adopt in pursuance thereof, the board shall determine and may modify allowances for service and disability.

Service
credits

SEC. 46. It shall fix and determine how much service rendered in any fiscal year shall be the equivalent of a year of service and parts thereof, but shall credit one year for two hundred fifty or more days of service rendered by employees on a per diem basis and one year for ten months or more of service rendered by employees on a monthly basis, but not more than one year for all service in any fiscal year.

Absentees

SEC. 47. Time during which a member was absent from service without pay shall not be allowed in computing service.

Information from

SEC. 48. Each employee shall file with the board of administration such information affecting his status as a member of the retirement system as the board may require.

Prior service
certificate

SEC. 49. The board of administration shall issue a prior service certificate to each member entering the retirement system on January 1, 1932, and to each member entering the retirement system after that date if such entry is within three years after rendering state service prior to January 1, 1932, and shall certify thereon service rendered prior to January 1, 1932, excluding therefrom the first half-year of service rendered. Service certified on a prior service certificate shall be a part of the basis for the retirement allowance or benefit as provided in this act only if membership continues until retirement on a retirement allowance or until the granting of such other benefit. Such certificate shall become void and not renewable, except as provided herein, if membership is discontinued in any manner except by retirement on a retirement allowance.

SEC. 50. The management and control of the retirement system shall be vested in the board of administration, and it shall exercise the following powers and perform the following duties:

Duties of board

SEC. 51. It shall keep in convenient form such data as shall be necessary for the actuarial valuation of the retirement fund created by this act. On July 1, 1932, and at the end of every four-year period thereafter, it shall cause to be made an actuarial investigation into the mortality, service and compensation experience of the members and beneficiaries under the provisions of this act, and shall further cause to be made an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the retirement fund herein created, and upon the basis of such investigation and valuation shall recommend to the succeeding state Legislature such revision or change of the rates of contribution, the periods and conditions of state service and amounts of retirement allowances as may be deemed necessary.

Actuarial valuation

SEC. 52. At the end of each fiscal year, beginning with the second fiscal year of the operation of the retirement system, it may credit to all contributions held in the retirement fund at June thirtieth of the then current fiscal year, such interest in excess of the four per centum provided herein as it may deem proper in the light of the earnings on the retirement fund during such fiscal year. But the total interest credited to contributions during any fiscal year shall not exceed the earnings on the retirement fund during that year; and interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, compounded annually, shall be used in the calculation of benefits under any mortality table adopted by the board, regardless of any additional interest allowed on contributions under this paragraph.

Interest

SEC. 53. In addition to other records and accounts, it shall keep such records and accounts as may be necessary to show at any time:

Records and accounts

SEC. 54. The total accumulated contributions of members;

SEC. 55. The total accumulated contributions of retired members less the annuity payments made to such members;

SEC. 56. The accumulated contributions of the state held for the benefit of members on account of service rendered as members of the retirement system;

SEC. 57. All other accumulated contributions of the state, which shall include the amounts available to meet the obligation of the state on account of benefits that have been granted to retired employees and on account of prior service of members;

SEC. 58. In addition to rendering the annual report to the governor required by section 44 of this act, it shall cause to be published annually a financial statement showing an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the retirement system created by this act and a statement as to the accumulated cash and securities in the retirement fund as certified by the state controller.

Financial statement

Management of fund
Control

SEC. 59. The retirement fund shall be managed as follows:

Restrictions

SEC. 60. The board of administration shall have exclusive control of the administration and investment of said fund, subject to the restriction that no investment shall be made except upon the affirmative vote of the director of the department of finance and at least three other members of the board of administration, and subject also to the terms, conditions, limitations and restrictions imposed by the laws of the State of California upon savings banks in the making of investments by savings banks.

Deposit.

SEC. 61. The board of administration shall deposit monthly in the state treasury all amounts received by it as provided in section 67.

Custody

SEC. 62. The state treasurer shall be the custodian of the retirement fund, subject to the exclusive control of the board of administration as to the administration and investment thereof. All payments from said fund shall be drawn from the fund upon warrants drawn by the controller of the state, upon demands made by the board of administration.

Interest.

SEC. 63. Interest earned on any cash deposited in a bank by the state treasurer and income on other assets constituting a part of the said fund shall be paid into said fund as received.

Borrowing, etc., by board

SEC. 64. Except as herein provided, no member and no employee of the board of administration shall have any interest, direct, or indirect, in the making of any investment, or in the gains or profits accruing therefrom. And no member or employee of the said board directly or indirectly, for himself or as an agent or partner of others, shall borrow any of its funds or deposits, nor shall any such member or employee in any manner use the same except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by said board; nor shall any member or employee of said board become an indorser or surety as to, or in any manner an obligor for investments by the board.

Normal rates of contribution

SEC. 65. The normal rates of contribution of members shall be based on sex and age at the nearest birthday at the time of entry into the retirement system. The normal rates of contribution shall be such as will provide an average annuity at age sixty-five equal to one one-hundred-fortieth of the final compensation of members according to the tables adopted by the board, for each year of service rendered after entering the system. The actual amount of annuity receivable by any member upon retirement shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions, as provided in section 81. Until revised as a result of the actuarial valuation provided for in section 51, the rate of contribution of each member shall be that percentage of his compensation shown in the following table according to age and sex at the time of entry into the retirement system:

and 16

SEC. 66. The normal rate of contribution established for age sixty-four shall be the rate for any member who has attained a greater age before entrance into the retirement system. In like manner the normal rate of contribution established for age sixteen shall be the rate for any member who enters the retirement system at a lesser age.

Deduction of rate from salary

SEC. 67. The board of administration shall certify to the head of each office or department the normal rate of contribution for each member provided for in section 65 of this act. The head of each office or department shall apply such rate of contribution to so much of the compensation of each member as does not exceed four hundred sixteen dollars and sixty-six cents per month and shall certify to the state controller on each and every pay roll the amount to be contributed and shall furnish immediately to the board of administration a copy of each and every such pay roll; and each such amount shall be deducted by the head of each office or department and shall be remitted to the board, and shall be credited by the board, together with regular interest, to an individual account of the member for whom the contribution was made. Payment of salaries or wages less such contribution shall be full and complete discharge and acquittance of all claims and demands whatsoever for the service rendered by members during the period covered by such payment, except their claims to the benefits to which they may be entitled under the provisions of this act.

Additional benefits contributions

SEC. 68. Subject to the rules and regulations to be established and promulgated by the board of administration, any member may elect to contribute at rates in excess of those provided for in section 65 of this act, for the purpose of providing additional benefits, but the exercise of this privilege by a member shall not place on the state any additional financial obligation. The board, upon application, shall furnish to such member information concerning the nature and amount of additional benefits to be provided by such additional contributions.

Contribution of state

SEC. 69. At the end of each month the board shall determine the aggregate amounts of the compensation of all members payable (a) from the general fund of the state and (b) from all other funds out of which compensation is paid to members, on which the normal contribution for such month is calculated. There shall be paid to the retirement fund by the state from the general fund and from every other fund out of which compensation is paid to members, as its contribution to the retirement fund, the following:

"Normal service and disability
contribution"

SEC. 70. A certain percentage of such aggregate amounts of compensation paid out of such fund to members each month, to be known as the "normal service and disability contribution." Until the second actuarial valuation of the liabilities of the retirement system as provided in section 51, the amount of the "normal service and disability contribution" shall be three and eight one-hundredths per centum of such aggregate amounts of compensation. Subsequent normal service and disability contributions shall be at that rate per centum of such aggregate compensation which is adopted by the Legislature on the basis of the liabilities of the retirement fund as shown by the actuarial valuations on account of the pensions provided for in section 82, and section 86 to 89, inclusive, of this act.

SEC. 71. Nine one-hundredths of one per centum of such aggregate amounts of compensation each month to be known as the "accrued liability contribution," to provide for the liabilities of the retirement fund on account of prior service granted under sections 83 and 86 to 89, inclusive, of this act. The accrued liability contributions shall be discontinued at such time as the accumulations of such contributions, less payments on account of prior service, shall equal the present value of the liabilities of the fund on account of prior service, as determined by the board from the actuarial investigation and valuation provided for in section 51.

"Accrued liability contribution"

SEC. 72. Four one-hundredths of one per centum of such aggregate amounts of compensation each month to be known as the "minimum service pension liability contribution," to provide for the liabilities of the retirement fund on account of minimum service pensions granted under section 84. The minimum service pension liability contribution shall be discontinued as soon as the accumulation of such contribution, less payments on account of minimum service pensions shall equal the present value of the liabilities of the fund on account of minimum service pensions as determined by the board as a result of the actuarial investigation and valuation provided for in section 51.

"Minimum service pension liability contribution"

SEC. 73. Four one-hundredths of one per centum of such aggregate amount of compensation each month to be known as the "death benefit liability contribution" to provide for the liabilities of the retirement fund on account of death benefits to the estates and beneficiaries of deceased members granted under section 100.

"Death benefit liability contribution"

SEC. 74. The payments of the state into the "state employees' retirement fund," as provided in sections 65 to 73, inclusive, of this act, are hereby made obligations of the state.

Obligations of state

SEC. 75. Should the state service of a member be discontinued otherwise than by death or retirement, he shall be paid six months after the date of discontinuance, such part of his accumulated contributions as he shall demand. But if, in the opinion of the board of administration, said member is permanently separated from state service by reason of such discontinuance, he shall be paid forthwith all of his accumulated contributions. The board may, in its discretion, withhold for not more than one year after a member last rendered state service all or part of his accumulated normal contributions if after a previous discontinuance of state service he withdrew all or a part of his accumulated normal contributions and failed to redeposit such withdrawn amount in the retirement fund as provided in section 76.

Refund on leaving state service

Redeposit
of refund

SEC. 76. Any member may redeposit in the retirement fund, in one sum or in not to exceed six monthly or twelve semimonthly payments, an amount equal to that which he withdrew therefrom at the last termination of his membership. If a member, upon reentering the retirement system after a termination of his membership, does not make such redeposit, he shall reenter as a new member without credit for any service and the rate of his contribution for future years shall be the normal rate provided for in section 65, of this act at his age of reentrance; otherwise his rate of contribution for future years shall be the same as his rate prior to the last termination of his membership, and his membership shall be the same as if unbroken by such last termination.

Retirement
for service

SEC. 77. Retirement of a member for service shall be made by the board of administration as follows:

Ages

SEC. 78. On or after January 1, 1933, every member who at that time has attained the age of seventy-five years shall be retired forthwith. From and after January 1, 1933, until January 1, 1937, every member shall be retired on the first day of the calendar month next succeeding that in which he attains the age of seventy-five years. On or after January 1, 1937, every member who at that time has attained the age of seventy years shall be retired forthwith, and thereafter every member must be retired on the first day of the calendar month next succeeding that in which he attains the age of seventy years.

Twenty
service

SEC. 79. Upon attaining the age of sixty or more years and completing twenty years of continuous service under this act, among which must be included one year of service after becoming a member of the retirement system, any member may be retired upon written application to the board; and if such member selects one of the options set forth in sections 95 and 99, inclusive, of this act, the application must name a date within thirty days of the filing thereof, on which he desires to be retired.

Allowance

SEC. 80. A member upon retirement from service, is entitled to receive a service retirement allowance which shall consist of:

Annuity

SEC. 81. An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of his retirement;

Pension

SEC. 82. A pension, purchased by the contributions of the state, equal to that portion of the annuity purchased by the accumulated normal contributions of the member; and

pension

SEC. 83. An additional pension, purchased by the contributions of the state, which shall be equal to one-seventieth of his average annual compensation earnable during the last three years of prior service credited to him, multiplied by the number of years of such prior service, except that if a member retires before attaining the age of sixty-five years, the additional pension shall be reduced to that amount which the value of the pension computed as provided in this paragraph as deferred to age sixty-five, will purchase at the actual age of retirement.

SEC. 84. When a member enters the retirement system with credit for prior service, and retires after attaining the age of seventy years, if his final compensation was such that one-half thereof is in excess of the total of his pension, annuity, and additional pension for prior service, a second additional pension for prior service sufficient to cause his retirement allowance to amount to one-half of such final compensation shall be paid him on account of prior service, but in no event shall a greater second additional pension be paid than will cause the total retirement allowance, exclusive of the annuity provided by his accumulated additional contributions, to amount to the sum of four hundred eighty dollars per year.

SEC. 85. On and after January 1, 1932, a member shall be retired for disability in the following manner: Any member having to his credit ten or more years of continuous service, upon his application or upon the application of the head of the office or department in which such member is or was last employed, or any other person on behalf of such member, while such member is in state service, within four months after such member's discontinuance of state service, or while such member continuously, from the date of discontinuance of state service to the time of the application or motion, is physically or mentally incapacitated to perform his duties, may apply for, or the board upon its own motion may order, a medical examination to determine the existence of such incapacity. Upon the receipt of such application, the board shall order such medical examination. If the medical examination shows to the satisfaction of the board, that the member is permanently incapacitated physically or mentally for the performance of his duties in the state service, the board shall forthwith retire the member for disability. The board shall secure such medical service and advice as may be necessary to carry out the purpose of this section and of sections 90 to 94, inclusive, of this act, and shall pay for such medical services and advice such compensation as the board shall deem reasonable.

SEC. 86. Upon retirement for disability a member who has attained the age of sixty years shall receive a service retirement allowance as provided in sections 81 to 83, inclusive, of this act. Every other member thus retired shall receive a disability retirement allowance which shall consist of:

SEC. 87. An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of his retirement; and

SEC. 88. If, in the opinion of the board of administration, such disability is not due to intemperance, wilful misconduct or violation of law on the part of the member, a pension purchased by the contributions of the state, which, together with his annuity provided by his accumulated normal contributions, shall make the retirement allowance, exclusive of the annuity provided by his accumulated additional contributions, equal to (a) ninety per cent of one-seventieth of his final compensation multiplied by the number of years of service credited to him, if such disability retirement allowance exceed one-fourth of his final compensation; otherwise, (b) ninety per cent of one-seventieth of his final compensation multiplied by the number of years of service which would be creditable to him were his service to continue until attainment by him of age sixty-five, but in such case the retirement allowance shall not exceed one-fourth of such final compensation. In no event, however, shall the pension purchased by the contributions of the state be more than sufficient to make the disability retirement allowance, exclusive of the annuity provided by accumulated additional contributions, amount to ninety per cent of the service retirement allowance, exclusive of any annuity purchased by accumulated additional contributions, receivable by the member should he retire at the lowest age at which he would be eligible for service retirement.

Intemper-
ance, etc

SEC. 89. If, in the opinion of the board, the disability is due to intemperance, wilful misconduct or violation of law, on the part of the member, and the annuity to which said member is entitled under sections 86 to 88, inclusive, of this act, is less than two hundred forty dollars per year, the board of administration, in its discretion, may pay to said member, in one lump sum and in lieu of said annuity, his accumulated contributions.

Medical examination

SEC. 90. The board of administration, may, at its pleasure, require any disability beneficiary, under the age of sixty, to undergo medical examination. Such examination shall be made by a physician or surgeon, appointed by the board, at the place of residence of said beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon. Upon the basis of such examination the board shall determine whether said disability beneficiary is still incapacitated, physically or mentally, for service in the office or department of the state where he was employed and in the position held by him when retired for disability. If the board of administration determines that said beneficiary is not so incapacitated, his retirement allowance shall be canceled forthwith, and he shall be reinstated to the position held by him when retired for disability.

Reentry into

SEC. 91. Should a disability beneficiary reenter the state service and be eligible for membership in the retirement system in accordance with section 26 of this act, his retirement allowance shall be canceled and he shall immediately become a member of the retirement system, his rate of contribution for future years being that established for his age at the time of such reentry. His individual account shall be credited with his accumulated contributions less the annuity payments made to him. Such member shall receive credit for prior service in the same manner as if he had never been retired for disability.

SEC. 92. Should a disability beneficiary, prior to attaining age sixty, engage in a gainful occupation not in the state service or should he reenter the state service in a capacity ineligible for membership in the retirement system, the board of administration shall reduce the amount of his retirement allowance to an amount which, when added to the compensation earned by him in such occupation, shall not exceed the amount of the final compensation on the basis of which his retirement allowance was determined. Should the earning capacity of such beneficiary be further altered, the board may further alter his retirement allowance to an amount which shall not exceed the amount upon which he was originally retired, but which, subject to such limitation, shall equal, when added to the compensation earned by him, the amount of his final compensation on the basis of which his retirement allowance was determined. When such a disability beneficiary reaches age sixty, his retirement allowance shall be made equal to the amount upon which he was originally retired, and shall not again be modified for any cause.

Gainful occupation, etc

SEC. 93. Should any disability beneficiary under age sixty refuse to submit to medical examination his pension may be discontinued until his withdrawal of such refusal, and should such refusal continue for one year his retirement allowance may be canceled.

Refusal of medical examination

SEC. 94. Should the retirement allowance of any disability beneficiary be canceled for any cause other than reentrance of the state service he shall be paid his accumulated contributions, less the annuity payments made to him.

Other cancellation

SEC. 95. Until the first payment on account of any retirement allowance is made, the beneficiary may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent at that time of his retirement allowance in a lesser retirement allowance, payable throughout life with one of the following options.

Options on retirement allowance

SEC. 96. Option 1. If he dies before he receives in annuity payments provided for in section 81 and section 87 of this act, the amount of his accumulated contributions as it stood at his retirement, the balance of such accumulated contributions shall be paid to his estate or to such person, having an insurable interest in his life, as he shall nominate by written designation duly executed and filed with the board of administration;

SEC. 97. Option 2. Upon his death, his lesser retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person, having an insurable interest in his life, as he nominates by written designation duly executed and filed with the board of administration at the time of his retirement;

SEC. 98. Option 3. Upon his death, one-half of his lesser retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person, having an insurable interest in his life, as he nominates by written designation duly executed and filed with the board of administration at the time of his retirement.

SEC. 99. Option 4. Such other benefit or benefits shall be paid, either to the beneficiary or to such other person or persons as he nominates, as, together with such lesser retirement allowance, are the actuarial equivalent of his retirement allowance, and shall be approved by the board of administration.

Death in service, etc

SEC. 100. Upon the death of a member either while in the state service, or within four months after such member's discontinuance of state service, or while such member continuously, from the date of discontinuance of state service to death, is physically or mentally incapacitated to perform his duties, there shall be paid to his estate, or to such person having an insurable interest in his life as he nominates by written designation duly executed and filed with the board of administration, his accumulated contributions; and in addition, if the deceased has been a member of the retirement system for at least one year prior to death, and if, also, death was not due, in the opinion of the board of administration, to wilful misconduct or violation of law on the part of the member, there shall be so paid an amount, provided from contributions made by the state, which shall be equal to one-twelfth of the annual compensation earnable by the deceased while a member during the twelve months immediately preceding his death, multiplied by the number of completed years of service under the system, but not to exceed fifty per centum of such compensation.

Effect of workmen's compensation, etc.,
laws

SEC. 101. No modification of the benefits provided in this act shall be made on account of any amount or amounts payable to a beneficiary under this act by reason of the provisions of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety laws of California.

Mode of payment of allowance

SEC. 102. A pension, an annuity or retirement allowance granted under the provisions of this act shall be payable in equal monthly installments but a smaller pro rata amount may be paid for part of a month when the pension, annuity or retirement allowance begins after the first day of the month or ends before the last day of the month.

Allowance exempt from execution,
etc

SEC. 103. The right of a person to a pension, an annuity or a retirement allowance, to the return of contributions, the pension, annuity or retirement allowance itself, any optional benefit, any other right accrued or accruing to any person under the provisions of this act and the moneys in the fund created under this act shall not be subject to execution, garnishment, attachment, or any other process whatsoever, and shall be unassignable except as in this act specifically provided.

Power of
board

SEC. 104. If it shall be impracticable for the board of administration to determine from the records the length of service, the compensation or the age of any member, the said board may estimate, for the purposes of this act, such length of service, compensation or age.

SEC. 105. No person who has been retired for service or disability and who receives a retirement allowance under the retirement system shall be paid for any service rendered by him to the state after the date of his retirement.

No payment for state service after retirement

SEC. 106. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act, is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsection, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Constitutionality

SEC. 107. All acts and parts of acts in so far as they conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

SEC. 108. From and after the date the system created by this act takes effect, out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, there shall be paid monthly into the "state employees' retirement fund" a sum equal to three and twenty-five one-hundredths per centum of the total compensation paid members of the retirement system whose compensation is paid from the general fund of the state. The board of administration shall certify to the state controller at the end of each month the total amount of compensation paid such members of the retirement system, and the state controller shall thereupon transfer three and twenty-five one-hundredths per centum of this amount from the general fund of the state to the "state employees' retirement fund."

general fund

SEC. 109. In addition to such payments out of the general fund, there shall be paid monthly, from and after the date the system created by this act takes effect, into the "state employees' retirement fund" out of every other fund in the state treasury out of which the compensation of members is paid, a sum equal to three and twenty-five one-hundredths per centum of the total compensation paid members of the retirement system from the aforesaid fund. The board of administration shall certify to the state controller at the end of each month the total amount of compensation paid such members of the retirement system from each such fund and the state controller shall thereupon transfer three and twenty-five one-hundredths per centum of this amount from each such fund, respectively, to the "state employees' retirement fund."

special fund

SEC. 110. For the purpose of computing the total amounts of compensation of members under the provisions of sections 108 and 109 of this act, the compensation of every member who receives in excess of $416.66 per month shall be computed as $416.66 per month.

Rule of computation

SEC. 111. With the approval of the department of finance, any fund out of which payments are made under the provisions of section 109 of this act may be reimbursed to the extent of such payments by transfer of a sufficient sum for such reimbursement from another fund or funds under the control of the same disbursing officer. The disbursing officer

Reimbursement of fund

shall certify to the state controller the amount or amounts to be thus transferred, the fund or funds from which and to which the transfer is to be made, and if such certificate is approved by the department of finance the controller shall thereupon make the transfer as directed in the certificate.

Support appropriation

SEC. 112. Out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for the support of the board of administration. The board may withdraw without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars to be used as a revolving fund. At the close of the biennium or at any other time upon the demand of the department of finance, such sum must be returned to the state treasury.

CHAPTER 701.

An act making an appropriation for the construction and completion of an exposition building for the use of number one-a agricultural district association.

[Approved by the Governor June 9, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

superior

SECTION 1. The number of judges of the superior court in and for the county of Santa Barbara, State of California, is hereby increased from one to two.

SEC. 2. Within thirty days after this act becomes effective the governor shall appoint one additional judge of the superior court in and for the county of Santa Barbara, who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January, 1933. At the next general election, to be held in November, 1932, one additional judge of said superior court shall be elected in said county who shall be the successor to the judge appointed hereunder, to hold office for the term prescribed by the constitution and by law.

SEC. 3. The annual salary of each judge of said superior court shall be six thousand five hundred dollars. Salaries.

CHAPTER 703.

An act to prevent fraud and deception and to protect the general welfare by establishing standards and standard containers for certain fruits, nuts and vegetables; and to that end regulating the sale, offer for sale, shipment, transportation, loading, packing, marking and disposal of fruits, nuts and vegetables; and repealing certain acts therein named.

[Approved by the Governor June 10, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known and may for all purposes be cited as the "California fruit, nut and vegetable standardization act of 1931." Short title

SEC. 2. When used in this act the words hereinafter mentioned shall be defined as follows: "containers" shall mean any box, crate, lug, chest, basket, carton, barrel, keg, drum, sack, or other receptacle containing fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables. "Subcontainers" shall mean any basket or other receptacle used within a container. "Closed container" shall mean any containers the contents of which are hidden or partially hidden from view by a cover or wrapping of any kind. "Pack, packing or packed" shall mean the regular compact arrangement of all or part of the fruit or vegetables in any container or subcontainer. "Deceptive pack" shall mean any container or subcontainer of fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables which has in the outer layer or any exposed surface fruits, nuts or vegetables which are so superior in quality, size, condition, or in any other respect to those in the interior of the container or subcontainer, or the unexposed portion, as to materially misrepresent the contents. The pack shall be considered deceptive even though the fruits, nuts or vegetables in a container are virtually uniform in size as defined in this act, when the outer or exposed surface is composed of products whose size is not an accurate representation of the variation of size of the products in the entire container. "Deceptive" Definitions arrangement" or "deceptive display" of fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables shall mean any bulk lot or load, arrangement or display of such products which has in any exposed surface, fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables which are so superior in quality, size, condition, or in any other respect to any of those which are concealed, or the unexposed portion, as to materially misrepresent any part of the bulk lot or load. "Fruits, nuts or vegetables" shall mean the food product of any tree, vine or plant which produces edible fruits, nuts or vegetables. "Mature," excepting when otherwise specifically defined, shall mean having reached that stage of ripeness which will insure the proper completion of the ripening process after the removal of the product from the tree, plant or vine. "Overripe" shall mean having reached an advanced state of maturity which causes the product to be undesirable or unedible in a fresh state. "By-products" shall mean any product commercially processed or manufactured from fruits, nuts or vegetables, or their juices. "County" shall include in its meaning a consolidated city and county. "Mislabel" shall mean the placing or presence of any false or misleading statement, design, or device upon any container of fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables, or upon the label or lining of any such container, or upon the wrapper of any fresh or dried fruit, nut or vegetable, or upon any fresh or dried fruit, nut or vegetable, or upon any placard used in connection therewith and having reference to such fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables. A statement, design or device is false and misleading, when the fresh or dried fruit, nut or vegetable, or container to which it apparently or actually refers, does not conform in every respect to such statement. A "bulk lot" or "bulk load" of any fresh or dried fruit, nut or vegetable is any one group of specimens of such product which is not in a container and which is set apart or is separate from any other group or groups. A "placard" is any sign, label, or designation other than an oral designation used in connection with any fresh or dried fruit, nut or vegetable as a description or identification thereof. "Cross section" shall mean the section of the fruit or vegetable taken at a right angle to a straight line drawn from the stem end to the distal end thereof.

Enforcement
of act.

SEC. 3. The director of agriculture is hereby empowered, through his duly authorized agents, and the county agricultural commissioners of each county of the state, their deputies and inspectors, to enforce all provisions of this act, and shall have supervision and control over all enforcing officers of this act. The refusal of any officer duly authorized under this act to carry out the orders and directions of the director of agriculture in the enforcement of this act shall be deemed neglect of duty.

The agricultural commissioner of each county, and his deputies and inspectors, shall be, by virtue of their office, enforcing officers of this act.

SEC. 4. The director of agriculture is hereby empowered to define, promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to secure uniformity in the enforcement of this act which shall not conflict with any of the provisions of this act.

Rules and regulations.

SEC. 5. All enforcing officers under the provisions of this act shall have power to enter and to inspect every place, vehicle, or any conveyance within the county or district for which they have been appointed, where any fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables are produced, stored, packed, delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, being transported, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect all such fresh or dried fruits, nuts and vegetables and the containers thereof and equipment found in any such places, in vehicles, or conveyances when being transported, and to take for inspection, such representative samples of the produce and such containers, as may be necessary to determine whether or not this act has been violated.

Inspection

It shall be the duty of all enforcing officers mentioned in this act to carry out the provisions of this act in the territory over which they have jurisdiction and to cause the prosecution of any person, firm or corporation whom they know or have reason to believe to be guilty of violating any of its provisions. Any enforcing officer in the performance of his duties shall have the same powers possessed by peace officers of the city, county, or state, and shall have the right, while enforcing the provisions of this act, to seize and hold as evidence all or any part of any pack, load, bulk lot, consignment or shipment of fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables packed, delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in violation of this act, or any container of such product, as may in his judgment be necessary to secure the conviction of the party he knows or believes has violated or is violating any of the provisions of this act.

Powers and duties of enforcing
officers

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the district attorney and any prosecuting officer of the county, city and county, or city, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, or corporation accused of such violation, and also, at the request of the director of agriculture or his duly authorized agents, to institute and prosecute such action as may be authorized under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 7. All fruits, nuts and vegetables when being packed or placed in any container, or after packing, or when delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in bulk, or in any container or subcontainer, shall conform with the provisions of this act.

Fruit, etc.
to conform

SEC. 8. Any fruits, nuts or vegetables packed, stored, delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and their containers, shall be deemed to be a public nuisance, and shall not be moved from the place where they may be, excepting under the specific direction of a proper enforcing officer. If, after due and proper written notice of such violation is given to the packer or owner of such fruits, nuts or vegetables, such packer or owner shall refuse, or shall fail within twenty-four hours, to recondition or remark the same so as to comply with all requirements of this act, such fruits, nuts or vegetables and their containers may be seized by the director of agriculture, his deputies or any enforcing officer as herein provided, and by order of the justice, municipal or superior court of the county, city and county, or city within which the same may be, shall be condemned and destroyed, or released upon such conditions as the court, in its discretion, may impose to insure that they will not be packed, delivered for shipment, shipped, transported, offered for sale or sold in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Violations
arrest, trial, etc

SEC. 9. Whenever any person is arrested for the transportation of fruits, nuts or vegetables in violation of the provisions of this act, unless such person demands the right to an immediate appearance before a magistrate, the arresting officer shall, upon production of satisfactory evidence of the identity of the person arrested, take the name and address of such person, the number of his motor vehicle or such other information as may be necessary, and notify him in writing to appear at a time and place to be specified in such notice, such time to be at least five days after such arrest and such place to be before a magistrate of the township in which the offense with which the arrested person is charged is alleged to have been committed, or upon the demand of the person arrested, before a magistrate of the township in which is located the county seat of the county in which such offense is alleged to have been committed, whereupon such officer shall, upon the giving by such person of his written promise to appear at such time and place, forthwith release him from custody. However, in any county in which there is established a municipal court at the county seat thereof, the notice referred to herein may specify the appearance of the person arrested before any magistrate in the county.

Whenever any such person refuses to give his written promise to appear as herein provided for or demands an immediate appearance before a magistrate, he shall be taken forthwith before a magistrate of the township in which the offense with which he is charged is alleged to have been committed. He shall then be entitled to at least five days continuance of his case in which to prepare to plead or to prepare for trial but he shall not be required to plead or be tried within five days unless he waives such time in writing or in open court and gives his written promise to appear at such time and place as the court may fix for his further appearance or, upon his refusal to give such promise, upon such bail as the court may fix and he shall thereupon be released from custody.

Any person who wilfully violates his promise given in accordance with this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested. A promise to appear may be complied with by an appearance by counsel.

SEC. 10. When any markings are used on any container of any fruits, nuts and vegetables to describe the contents thereof, such markings must be plainly and conspicuously marked, stamped, stenciled, printed, labeled or branded on such container. If the marking is on a placard the placard must be placed or posted in such a position that there is no doubt as to the product it is to identify.

SEC. 11. It is unlawful to prepare, deliver for shipment, load, ship, transport, offer for sale or sell a deceptive pack, bulk lot, bulk load, load, arrangement or display of fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables, or to mislabel any container of fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables, or the label or lining of any such container, or the wrapper of any fruit, nut or vegetable, or any fruit, nut or vegetable, or any placard used in connection therewith having reference to such fresh or dried fruits, nuts or vegetables. This provision shall be construed to prohibit the repeated use of any container or subcontainer of fruits, nuts or vegetables, bearing any markings, or any designations of brand, quality or grade, unless all such markings which do not properly and accurately apply to the products repacked or replaced therein shall first be completely removed, erased or obliterated. Nothing in this act shall be construed to conflict with any California or federal laws or regulations regarding net weight or other markings on containers or subcontainers. Unless otherwise provided in this act, whenever any fruits, nuts or vegetables are packed in layers, there shall be approximately the same numerical count in each layer throughout a container or subcontainer having straight sides. All fruits, nuts and vegetables, when packed, must be tightly packed which shall mean that the fruit, nut or vegetable is compacted with sufficient solidity so that it will not move in the container.

Deceptive

SEC. 12. It is lawful for any forwarding company, person, firm or corporation, and for any common carrier to decline to ship or transport any fruits, nuts or vegetables when notified by any enforcing officer of this act that such products are found to be delivered for shipment in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and any such forwarding company, person, firm, corporation, or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or hold at the expense and risk of the latter all fruits, nuts or vegetables which upon inspection are found to be delivered for shipment in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 13. There are hereby established standards for apricots, avocados, berries, cherries, citrus fruits, dates, grapes, peaches, pears, oriental persimmons, plums and fresh prunes, "wonderful" pomegranates, quinces, walnuts, artichokes, cantaloupes, carrots, cauliflower, head lettuce, melons, onions, peas, Standards.

potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. It is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to pack, sell, offer for sale, deliver for shipment, load, ship, or transport any such products in bulk or in any container, unless they at least conform to the standard specified for such product in this act.

Apricots

SEC. 14. Standard for fresh apricots. Fresh apricots shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh, mold, brown rot, and decay; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by cuts, bruises, cracks, shot hole fungus, growth cracks, scab, hail, or other means. With the exception of shot hole fungus, damage to any one apricot shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the individual apricot. Damage to any one apricot caused by shot hole fungus shall not be considered serious unless the spots cover an aggregate area of more than one-half of an inch in diameter.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the apricots in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed apricots shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in size, between the fruits in any one container, of not more than one-fourth of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of cross section.

Avocados

SEC. 15. Standard for avocados. Avocados shall be mature but not overripe or rancid, free from insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh, mold, and decay; and free from serious damage as defined in this section, caused by cuts, bruises, growth cracks, freezing, sunburn, disease, or other means. Damage to any one avocado shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of twenty per cent, by weight, of the individual avocado.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by count, of the avocados in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed avocados shall be virtually uniform in size.

Avocados shall not be considered mature when the edible portion shows an oil content of less than eight per cent by weight.

Berries

SEC. 16. Standard for fresh berries. Strawberries, red and black cap raspberries, blackberries, dewberries, and loganberries, shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from mold, decay, and insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh and free from damage caused by sun, frost, bruises, disease, or other means.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the berries of the kind above mentioned, in any one container or bulk lot, may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

Any strawberry which has not less than two-thirds of the surface showing a pink or red color, shall be considered mature.

All strawberries shall be in the dry pint basket containing an interior capacity of approximately thirty-three and six-tenths cubic inches, section 38 to the contrary notwithstanding, and all other berries shall be in the dry pint basket as above described or in the dry one-half pint basket containing an interior capacity of approximately sixteen and eight-tenths cubic inches.

SEC. 17. Standard for cherries. Cherries shall be mature ^{Cherries} but not overripe, free from insect injury or bird pecks which have penetrated or damaged the flesh, unsealed skin breaks, mold, brown rot, decay; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by sunburn, growth cracks or splits, wrinkling, shriveling, sponginess, abnormal softening, rain, or other means. Damage to any one cherry shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the individual cherry.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the cherries in any one container or bulk lot, may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed cherries shall be virtually uniform in size, which shall mean that the average size of the cherries used in the fill shall not be smaller than would pack one row more in each direction than the cherries in the packed face. However, bunched faced or drop faced cherries shall not be considered packed.

SEC. 18. Standard for citrus fruits. Citrus fruits shall ^{Citrus fruits} be mature and free from decay; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by freezing, drying at the stem or blossom end (resulting from causes other than freezing), splits, bruises, and punctures, and in case of packed citrus fruits shall be virtually uniform in size. Damage by drying at the stem or blossom end resulting from causes other than freezing shall not be considered serious unless twenty per cent or more of the pulp shows a marked drying or desiccation. Damage from freezing to any one fruit shall not be considered serious unless it causes a drying or desiccation in twenty per cent or more of the exposed pulp as shown on a transverse cut through the center, or causes before the drying process develops a water soaked appearance, or evidence of previous water soaking, or the presence of crystals or crystalline deposit, on the two surface membranes of each of two or more segments, as shown on the separation of the segments one from another, of a section, not less than one inch or more than one and one-half inches in thickness, of the central portion of the fruit, obtained by cutting off a portion of each end—the evidence of freezing injury to show for the entire length but not necessarily the entire area of the surface membranes.

The percentage of serious damage by freezing injury or other defects in any lot of citrus fruits, packed, loose, in containers, or in bulk, may be established by inspection of a representative sample which shall consist of not less than one hundred fruits. Damage caused by splits, bruises, or punctures in any citrus fruit shall not be considered serious if the injury is well healed and free from mold or decay.

With the exception of serious damage caused by freezing or drying at the stem or blossom end resulting from causes other than freezing, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the citrus fruit in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause. In the case of serious damage by freezing injury or by drying at the stem or blossom end resulting from causes other than freezing, not more than fifteen per cent, by count, of the citrus fruit in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements.

It is further provided that any packed, wrapped citrus fruit which has been in storage or shipped by rail and which fails to meet the requirements of this standard only by reason of brown rot, blue mold, or green mold which has occurred after packing, shall not be held for violation of the provisions of this act on account of such deterioration.

Oranges.

Oranges shall not be deemed mature under the provisions of this act unless the juice contains soluble solids, as determined by a Brix scale hydrometer, equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization, and have attained at least twenty-five per cent of characteristic color before picking; provided, however, that oranges which are at least seventy per cent colored at the time of picking shall be deemed mature if the juice contains soluble solids, as determined by a Brix scale hydrometer, equal to or in excess of six and one-half parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, provided, further, that no oranges may be accelerated in color unless the juice contains soluble solids, as determined by a Brix scale hydrometer, equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization.

“Twenty-five per cent of characteristic color” in the case of oranges is defined as that color designated by the Munsell color notation as hue four green-yellow, value four, chroma three, ($\frac{4}{4}$ GY4/3), and “seventy per cent colored” as hue three yellow, value six, chroma five, (3Y6/5). Oranges shall be considered as having exceeded twenty-five or seventy per cent color if the average hue of the surface of each fruit is numerically less than four green-yellow or three yellow respectively, regardless of the other components of the color.

Grapefruit shall not be deemed mature under the provisions of this act unless the juice contains soluble solids, as determined by a Brix scale hydrometer, equal to or in excess of five and one-half parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization, and have attained at least twenty-five per cent of characteristic color before picking; provided, however, that grapefruit which are at least seventy per cent colored at the time of picking shall be deemed mature if the juice contains soluble solids, as determined by a Brix scale hydrometer, equal to or in excess of five parts to every part of acid contained in the juice; provided, further, that no grapefruit may be accelerated in color unless the juice contains soluble solids, as determined by a Brix scale hydrometer, equal to or in excess of five and one-half parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization; provided, further, that in view of differences in climatic conditions prevailing south and east of San Gorgonio pass, which results in the grapefruit grown in that area having, at maturity, a higher percentage of soluble solids to acid than the mature grapefruit grown in the area north and west of said San Gorgonio pass, grapefruit produced in the area south and east of San Gorgonio pass shall not be deemed mature unless the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of six parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization and has attained at least twenty-five per cent of characteristic yellow color before picking; provided, further, that in the event that the maturity standard fixed for that area south and east of the San Gorgonio pass should be declared void it is the intent of the Legislature that the other maturity standards prescribed in this section shall prevail; provided, further, that grapefruit produced outside of this state under climatic conditions similar to those prevailing in the area south and east of San Gorgonio pass and offered for sale in this state shall meet the same maturity standards as those prescribed for grapefruit produced south and east of said San Gorgonio pass.

“Twenty-five per cent characteristic yellow color” in the case of grapefruit is defined as that color designated by the Munsell color notation as hue ten yellow, value five, chroma three, (10Y5/3), and “seventy per cent colored” as hue seven yellow, value seven, chroma six, (7Y7/6). Grapefruit shall be considered as having exceeded twenty-five or seventy per cent color if the average hue of the surface of each fruit is numerically less than ten yellow and seven yellow respectively, regardless of the other components of the color.

Dates

SEC. 19. Standard for dates. Dates shall be free from mold, decay, worms, fermentation, and sourness.

All containers and subcontainers of dates or date by-products shall bear upon them in plain sight on the outside thereof in the English language the net weight, and in letters not less than one-half of an inch in height, the name of the state or the foreign country where the dates were produced, directly preceded by the words in like size type "grown in." In the case of any containers or subcontainers of contents of not more than three pounds net weight, this marking may be in letters of not less than one-eighth of an inch in height.

Grapes

SEC. 20. Standards for grapes. There shall be two standards for grapes. All grapes of the varieties in group A shall be considered in this act as table grapes and all other varieties juice grapes; however, grapes of all varieties must at least meet the standard for juice grapes.

GROUP A.

(White)

Almeria	Lady Finger
Aspiran Blanc	Malaga
Bicane	Ohanez
Chasselas de Fontainebleau	Olivette Blanche
Chasselas Napoleon	Olivette de Vendemian

and other similar varieties.

Standard for table grapes. Table grapes shall consist of ^{Table grapes} bunches of grapes which are mature; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by any or all of the following defects: mildew and insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh of the berry, mold, decay, severe freezing injury, raisined berries, sunburned or dried berries and waterberry or redberry. Damage to any one bunch shall not be considered serious unless more than five per cent, by count, of the berries on any one bunch are affected by any or all of the above defects.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent by weight, of the bunches in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements

Standard for juice grapes. Juice grapes shall be mature ^{Juice grapes} and free from mold, decay, waterberry, redberry and severe freezing injury.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than fifteen per cent, by weight, of the berries in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements.

If grapes meet the requirements of the standard for table grapes the containers of such grapes may be marked with the term "table grade" or "table grapes."

Any grapes which fail to meet the standard for juice grapes may be disposed of only as provided in section 39 of this act, excepting that nothing in this act shall prevent a grower of grapes from selling part or all of his crop, which may fail to meet the standard for juice grapes, to a purchaser for the sole and express purpose of being used by such purchaser for the manufacture of a by-product in the State of California; but each such sale shall be made only under written permit of an enforcing officer of this act, who may require from the grower and/or purchaser of such grapes such proof as he may deem necessary that they will be used only as herein provided.

“Mature,” in the standards for grapes shall mean that each bunch of the varieties classified above in group A shall test not less than seventeen per cent soluble solids in juice, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer; however, the varieties Emperor, Gros Colman, (Bleu Grau, Drodolabi, Fresno Beauty, Servian Blue), Pierce Isabella (Pierce, Isabella Regia, California Concord), Concord, Olivette Blanche, Ladyfinger, Rish Baba, Khandahar, Dattier de Beyrouth, Red Malaga, Khalili, Persian 23 (Dizmar) and Ribier shall test not less than sixteen per cent. “Mature” in the case of all other varieties shall mean that the average or composite test of all the grapes in any container or bulk lot shall be not less than seventeen per cent soluble solids in juice, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer; however, white varieties of the Muscat type shall test not less than eighteen per cent and the variety Burger shall test not less than sixteen per cent.

No provision of this section shall be construed to prevent placing any varieties included in group A in the standard for juice grapes nor to prevent placing any other varieties in the standard established for table grapes, but regardless of standard, any varieties included in group A shall always be tested for maturity on a bunch unit basis and all other varieties on an average or composite test of all the grapes in the container or bulk lot.

“Waterberry” means a disease characterized by a watery, soft or flabby condition of the berries. Such affected berries are low in sugar content, have tender skins and are very easily crushed.

“Redberry” means a condition closely resembling waterberry generally found in black varieties. Such grapes show a red or brownish red color in addition to the general characteristics of waterberry.

“Raisined berries” means grape berries which are fully cured, resembling raisins, which do not contain sufficient juice to drop from the berry under ordinary pressure between thumb and finger.

“Sunburned or dried berries” means grapes which show complete drying out from any cause, of part or all of any individual berries.

“Severe freezing injury” means damage affecting the pulp of the berries.

Peaches

SEC. 21 Standard for fresh peaches. Fresh peaches shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh, split pits which are open at the stem end, mold, brown rot, and decay; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by cuts or skin breaks, growth cracks, bruises, scab, rust, blight, disease, hail, or other means. Damage to any one peach shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the individual peach.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the peaches in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed peaches shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in size between the fruits in any one container of not more than three-eighths of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of the cross section.

SEC. 22. Standard for fresh pears. Fresh pears shall be ^{Pears} mature but not overripe, free from codlin moth larvae, mold, decay, black end, unsealed cuts and skin breaks; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by hail, scab or other diseases, hard end, bruises, limb rubs, frost, codlin moth larvae or other insects.

Damage to any one pear shall not be considered serious when it is caused by: (1) scab, unless the spots cover an aggregate area of more than one-half of an inch in diameter; (2) hail damage, unless it affects an aggregate area of more than one-half inch in diameter or is more than one-fourth of an inch in depth; (3) codlin moth larvae, unless it causes unhealed stings or holes, however, superficial well healed codlin moth stings shall not be considered serious; (4) thrip mark, blister mite or other superficial blemishes caused by insects, unless more than ten per cent of the surface of the fruit is affected or they cause a depression of more than one-fourth of an inch in depth; (5) other diseases, limb rubs, frost, bruises or hard end, unless such defects cause a waste of more than ten per cent, by weight, of the individual pear.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the pears in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause; however, pears which fail to meet these requirements only because of serious damage caused by hail, shall be considered as complying with this standard, if the container in which they are packed or placed is plainly and conspicuously marked, on the outside of one end thereof, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the words "hail marked."

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed pears shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in size, between the fruits in any one container, of not more than three-eighths of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of cross section.

Bartlett pears shall not be considered mature unless at the time of picking the average pressure test of not less than ten representative pears of the lot does not exceed twenty-three pounds. However, pears which show a yellowish green color as indicated by the color chart prepared by the state department of agriculture, at the time of picking shall be considered mature regardless of the pressure test. The pressure test shall be determined by means of a fruit pressure tester measuring in pounds the force required to push a rounded plunger five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter into the flesh of the fruit to a depth of five-sixteenths of an inch. The skin from the areas tested, but little of the underlying flesh, shall previously be removed. Two such determinations are to be made on each specimen selected as a sample and the average of all individual readings from the sample shall be considered as the pressure test of the lot. Pressure test readings shall be made on opposite sides, and approximately at the widest portion of the cross section of the fruit at right angles to the core. Sunburned or very highly colored areas shall be avoided in making pressure tests.

Persimmons

SEC. 23. Standard for oriental persimmons. Oriental persimmons shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from mold, and decay; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by cuts, bruises, breaking of the skin, growth cracks, hail, or other means. Damage to any one persimmon shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the individual persimmon.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the oriental persimmons in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed oriental persimmons shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in size between the oriental persimmons in any one container of not more than one-half of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of the cross section.

No oriental persimmon shall be considered mature unless the entire surface has attained an orange or reddish color.

Plums and prunes.

SEC. 24. Standard for plums and fresh prunes. Plums and fresh prunes shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from unsealed skin breaks or cuts, mold, brown rot, decay, and insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by cuts, bruises, growth cracks, sunburn, hail, or other means. Damage to any one plum or fresh prune shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the individual plum or fresh prune.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the plums or fresh prunes in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed plums and fresh prunes shall be virtually uniform in size, which shall mean a variation of size, between the fruits in any one container, of not more than one-fourth of an inch in diameter when measured through the widest portion of cross section.

SEC. 25. Standard for "Wonderful" pomegranates. Pomegranates.
 "Wonderful" pomegranates shall be mature, free from rot, and decay; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by sunburn, growth cracks, cuts or bruises, or other means. Damage to any one "Wonderful" pomegranate, except damage caused by sunburn, shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the fruit. Damage caused to any "Wonderful" pomegranate by sunburn shall not be considered serious unless twenty per cent of the seed arils of the fruit fail to show the characteristic reddish color of normal matured fruit.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the "Wonderful" pomegranates in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed "Wonderful" pomegranates shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in size, between the "Wonderful" pomegranates in any one container, of not more than one-half of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of the cross section.

Any "Wonderful" pomegranate shall not be considered mature unless the juice is at least as dark in color as the shade of red shown by the Lovibond tintometer scale, red twenty plus yellow one, when measured in a one-fourth inch cell, in addition to which the juice shall contain not to exceed one and eighty-five one hundredths per cent of acid.

SEC. 26 Standard for quinces. Quinces
 Quinces shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh, mold, and decay; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by cuts or skin breaks, bruises, cracks, scab, disease, hail, or other means. Damage to any one quince shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the individual quince.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the quinces in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed quinces shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in size, between the fruits in any one container, of not more than one-half of an inch in diameter when measured through the widest portion of the cross section.

Walnuts.

SEC. 27. Standard for walnuts. Walnuts shall be mature, free from blanks, insect larvae, insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the meat of the nut, and free from kernels which are rancid or affected by green mold; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by white mold, gray mold, shriveling, or other means. Damage to the kernel of any one walnut, when resulting from white mold, gray mold, or other means except shriveling, shall not be considered serious unless such defects cover more than twenty-five per cent of the surface of the kernel of a particular nut. Damage caused to the meat of any walnut by shriveling shall not be considered serious unless more than twenty-five per cent of the kernel of the nut is shriveled so that the meat is leathery, tough, unpalatable or decidedly shrunken.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than twenty per cent, by count, of the walnuts in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements.

All containers of walnuts shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters, in the English language, not less than one and one-half inches in height on the outside thereof, the name of the state or of the foreign country where the nuts were produced.

Artichokes.

SEC. 28. Standard for Globe artichokes. Globe artichokes shall be free from mold, decay, and insect injury or insect larvae; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by freezing or other means. Damage to any one artichoke from freezing shall not be considered serious unless the heart of the artichoke or that portion of the stem extending one and one-half inches or less, below the bottom of the artichoke, is discolored due to this cause. Damage from other means shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the edible portion of the individual artichoke.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the Globe artichokes in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, Globe artichokes, when packed, shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in size, between the artichokes in any one container, of not more than three-fourths of an inch in diameter when measured through the widest portion of cross section.

Cantaloupes.

SEC. 29. Standard for cantaloupes. Cantaloupes shall be mature but not overripe, not poorly netted, and free from mold, decay, and insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the edible portion of the cantaloupe; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by bruises, sunburn, growth cracks, cuts, sponginess, flabbiness, wilting, or other means. Damage to any one cantaloupe shall not be considered serious unless it affects the edible portion of the individual cantaloupe.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the cantaloupes in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, cantaloupes when packed, shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean that there shall be the same numerical count of uniformly sized cantaloupes in each layer throughout the container.

Mature in the case of cantaloupes shall mean that the appearance of the outside indicates maturity and the arils which surround the seed during the development of maturity have been absorbed and, in addition, that the juice of the edible portion shall contain not less than eight per cent soluble solids as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer.

SEC. 30. Standard for carrots. Carrots shall be free from decay and insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by growth cracks, doubles, disease, green discoloration, or other means. Damage to any one carrot shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of twenty per cent, by weight, of the individual carrot.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by weight, of the carrots in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements.

SEC. 31. Standard for cauliflower and broccoli. Cauliflower and broccoli shall be free from rots and worm or other insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the curd; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by freezing, sunburn, or other means. Damage to the head of any one cauliflower or broccoli shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of twenty per cent of the edible portion of the individual cauliflower or broccoli.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by count, of the heads in any one lot of containers or bulk lot may be below these requirements but no container or bulk lot of less than ten heads shall have more than twenty per cent, by count, of heads which are below these requirements.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, cauliflower and broccoli, when packed in any container, shall be properly trimmed. Properly trimmed shall mean that the number of jacket leaves shall be limited to those necessary to protect the head.

Lettuce.

SEC. 32. Standard for head lettuce. Head lettuce shall not be leafy without head formation and shall be free from slime, decay or rot affecting leaves within the head, internal insect injury, and free from seed stems which have so developed that they are apparent upon external examination; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by bursting or freezing. Damage caused by bursting shall not be considered serious unless the head is burst open or is materially misshapen from this cause. Damage caused by freezing shall not be considered serious unless it affects any portion of the head inside of the six outer head leaves.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the heads of lettuce in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section head lettuce, when packed, shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in any container of not more than ten per cent of heads which would pack a size, larger or smaller, than the size marked, and they shall be tightly packed which shall mean that it is not possible without damaging or injuring the lettuce, to place additional heads in any of the layers of heads in the container.

Head lettuce packed in ice shall be in standard container number 45, section 38 to the contrary notwithstanding; however, other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked on the outside of the end which bears any marks intended to describe the contents of such container, in letters and numbers not less than one-half of an inch in height with the inside width in inches directly preceded by the word "width" and the inside length in inches, directly preceded by the word "length."

Melons

SEC. 33. Standard for Persian melons, casabas, honeydew melons, and watermelons. Persian melons, casabas, honeydew melons and watermelons shall be mature but not over-ripe, shall be free from mold, decay, and insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the edible portion of the melon; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by growth cracks, cuts, bruises, sunburn, softness, or other means. Damage to any one of the melons mentioned herein shall not be considered serious unless it affects the edible portion of the melon.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the melons in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

"Mature" in the case of casabas, honeydew melons, and watermelons shall mean that the appearance from the outside indicates maturity and that the arils which surround the seeds have been absorbed and also, in the case of watermelons, that the flesh of the watermelons has not less than seventy-five per cent red color.

SEC. 34. Standard for onions. Onions shall be free from mold, decay, and insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the edible portion of the onion: and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by sun scald, heat, freezing, or other means. Damage to any one onion shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of twenty per cent, by weight, of the individual onion. Onions.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by weight, of the onions in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements.

SEC. 34½. Standard for fresh peas. Pods of peas shall not be poorly filled or over-mature; and shall be free from insect larvae and serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by insects, freezing, mildew or decay. Peas.

Damage to any one pod shall not be considered serious unless twenty per cent or more of the peas in the pod are affected.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent of the pods in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

Pods of peas shall not be considered "poorly filled" if one-half or more of the pod is filled with fairly well developed peas.

"Over-mature" shall mean that more than one-third of the surface of the pod is wrinkled, shriveled, or yellow.

SEC. 35. Standard for potatoes. Potatoes shall be free from mold, decay, soft and wet rots, black heart, and hollow heart; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by insect injury, freezing, sun scald, dry rots, scab, growth cracks, sunburn, second growth, cuts, bruises, grass roots, nematodes, or other means. Damage to any one potato shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of twenty per cent, by weight, of the individual potato. Potatoes.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by weight, of the potatoes in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements.

SEC. 36. Standard for sweet potatoes. Sweet potatoes shall be free from mold, decay, and soft and wet rots; and free from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by insect injury, bruises, growth cracks, or other disease, freezing, grass roots, or other means. Damage to any one sweet potato shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent, by weight, of the individual potato. Sweet potatoes.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the sweet potatoes in any one container or bulk lot may be below

these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

Tomatoes.

SEC. 37. Standard for tomatoes. Tomatoes shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from pin worm damage which has penetrated beyond the tissue making up the base of the core of the tomato, and other insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh, mold, decay, and wet or soft rots; and from serious damage, as defined in this section, caused by freezing, blossom end rot, mosaic, alkali spot, sun scald, bruises, cat faces, growth cracks, or other means. Damage to any one tomato shall not be considered serious unless it cause a waste of twenty per cent, by weight, of the individual tomato.

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the tomatoes in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

In addition to the other requirements specified in this section, packed and wrapped tomatoes shall be virtually uniform in size which shall mean a variation in size, between the tomatoes in any one container, of not more than one-half of an inch in diameter when measured through the widest portion of cross section.

Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, tomatoes when packed, in standard California lug boxes, the center and bottom layer shall have the same count, which in case wide cleats are used, and such cleats interfere with the packing of the top layer, may be not to exceed one row more in length than the top layer, and if packed on edge, one row more in width than the top layer, but which shall not be less than the count in the top layer.

Standard containers.

SEC. 38. There are hereby established permissive standard containers and standard packs for the fruits, nuts and vegetables mentioned in this section, when being packed or placed in any container, or after packing, or when delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in any container. The words "standard" or "standard container" shall not be placed on any container unless such container conforms to the requirements specified for the standard containers of such fruit, nut or vegetable. When the fruit, nut or vegetable is packed in a standard container and in conformity to the standard pack established in this section for such product, and then only, may the container be marked with the words "standard pack" or "standard container and pack."

The following are the numbers, names and dimensions of the standard containers referred to:

(1) Standard basket, approximately eight inches square on top, six and one-half inches square on bottom and four inches deep, inside measurements.

(2) Standard four quart climax basket with following dimension: length of bottom piece, twelve inches; width of bottom piece, four and one-half inches; thickness of bottom piece, three-eighths of an inch; height of basket, four and eleven-sixteenths inches, outside measurements; top of basket, length fourteen inches, width six and one-fourth inches, outside measurements. Basket to have cover six and one-fourth inches by fourteen inches, when cover is used. Same.

(3) Standard berry baskets: (a) Dry pint containing an interior capacity of approximately thirty-three and six-tenths cubic inches. (b) Dry one-half pint containing an interior capacity of approximately sixteen and eight-tenths cubic inches.

The inside length shown hereinabove for the half and three-quarters sweet potato crates, numbers 47 and 48, shall be a minimum length, with maximum outside length of these containers of twenty-four inches.

The inside length shown hereinabove for the standard containers numbers 45 and 46, shall be a minimum length, with maximum outside length of this container of twenty-four and one-half inches; and the inside lengths of these containers shall be measured between the end slats, except that if flat end posts wider than one and one-half inches are used, the inside length shall be measured between the posts.

49. Standard grape drum, containing two thousand six hundred forty-two cubic inches, fourteen inches deep, fifteen and one-half inches wide, inside.

50. Standard grape keg containing two thousand six hundred forty-two cubic inches minimum.

In standard containers numbers 31, 32, 33 and 34 the average inside length of the two compartments, between center and end pieces, shall be not less than eleven and fifteen-sixteenths inches. In standard containers numbers 35, 36, 37, and 38 the average inside length of the two compartments, between center and end pieces, shall be not less than twelve and seven-sixteenths inches.

These standard containers are hereinafter referred to by their respective numbers.

The standard containers and packs for the following fruits, nuts and vegetables hereinafter specified shall be as follows:

1. Fresh apricots, standard containers numbers 5, 6, 7, 8, 24, or 27.

2. Strawberries, standard container number 3a.

3. Red and blackcap raspberries, blackberries, dewberries and loganberries, standard containers numbers 3a or 3b.

4. Cherries, standard containers numbers 4, 10, 11, 15, 23, or 27.

5. Oranges, grapefruit and tangerines, standard containers numbers 31 or 33; lemons, standard containers numbers 35, 36, 37, or 38.

6. Standard containers for grapes when packed in sawdust, cork or similar packing material, shall be numbers 28, 29, 49, or

50. All other grapes, standard containers numbers 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 8, 26, or 27. The above standard containers are subject to the following restrictions and additions: (a) Container number 27 shall be standard for grapes only when used without cleats or when used with cleats eleven-sixteenths of an inch in depth. (b) Standard display lugs shall have a total inside depth of five and three-fourths inches, including one or more cleats on each end, which shall total one and one-fourth inches in depth with inside width of thirteen and one-half inches, and inside length of sixteen and one-eighth inches. (c) Container number 26 shall be standard for grapes only when used with a cleat on each end eleven-sixteenths of an inch in depth.

7. Fresh peaches, standard containers numbers 1, 6, 7, 8, 15, 16, 17, 18, or 27.

8. Fresh pears, standard containers numbers 6, 7, 8, 17, 19, 20, or 27. Container number 19 shall be standard only when used with three pads or cushions.

9. Oriental persimmons, standard containers numbers 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 27, or 32.

10. Plums or fresh prunes, standard containers numbers 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 14, 15, 16, 17, 24, 25, 26, or 27.

11. "Wonderful" pomegranates, standard containers numbers 33 or 34.

12. Globe artichokes, standard containers numbers 21, 22, or 30. Globe artichokes when packed as a standard pack in standard containers shall be tightly packed with a bulge and shall have a minimum net weight of 35 pounds to the standard container number 21. The following sizes may be put up as standard packs in the standard container number 21.

Size 1. Packed with not more than sixty artichokes.

Size 2. More than sixty but not more than seventy-five artichokes.

Size 3. More than seventy-five but not more than ninety-six artichokes.

Size 4. More than ninety-six but not more than one hundred twenty-five artichokes.

Size 5. Shall constitute a standard pack in the standard container number 22 and shall pack not more than one hundred twenty-five artichokes in this container.

13. Cantaloupes, standard containers numbers 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, or 44. The following counts of cantaloupes when packed, are hereby established as standard packs for the respective standard containers as follows:

Standard pack counts	Container number	Standard container name
27, 36, or 45	39	Standard cantaloupe crate
45 or 54	40	Pony cantaloupe crate
27, 36, or 45	41	Jumbo cantaloupe crate
9, 12, or 15	42	Standard cantaloupe flat
9, 12, or 15	43	Special cantaloupe flat
8, 9, 11, or 12	44	Special cantaloupe flat

14. Carrots, standard container number 45.

15. Cauliflower, standard container number 46.

16. Lettuce, standard container number 45. Head lettuce, when packed as a standard pack and so marked must, in addition to other packing requirements in this act, contain either two dozen, two and one-half dozen, three dozen, three and one-half dozen, four dozen, five dozen, seventy-five or ninety heads of lettuce per standard container number 45, with a slight bulge of crates when lidded. Each crate of three and one-half dozen count shall have each layer arranged with four rows of three, four, and four and three heads. In the case of sizes seventy-five and smaller per crate, a bridge of from three to six heads shall be permitted and in the five dozen size a bridge of four heads shall be permitted.

17. Sweet potatoes, standard containers number 27, 47, or 48.

18. Tomatoes, standard container number 27.

Fruits, etc.,
exempt.

SEC. 39. All fruits, nuts or vegetables, with the exception of dates which are provided for in section 19, of a kind specified in this act which are not wrapped or packed, and which are intended for use in the State of California in commercial processing, preserving or manufacture of by-products for resale or which are being delivered to any person, firm, or corporation in the State of California for grading, packing or reconditioning are exempt from the provisions of this act. The containers of such fruits, nuts and vegetables must not bear any false or misleading statements and such fruits, nuts or vegetables must not be deceptively packed.

Affidavit.

The owner or anyone in possession of fruits, nuts or vegetables, which are to be used or disposed of as provided in this section, must, upon the demand of any enforcing officer under this act, give to such officer a sworn statement in writing, made before a notary public, specifying that the fruit, nut or vegetable will be disposed of as provided in this section, and the name and address of the person, firm, or corporation to whom such fruit, nut or vegetable is to be delivered, and an accurate identification of such product. Within a reasonable time after the demand and receipt of such statement by the officer a written receipt must be presented to the agricultural commissioner of the county specified in the above statement as the destination of the fruit, nut or vegetable, by the person making the above mentioned statement. This receipt must contain a signed statement by the person, firm, or corporation receiving such fruit, nut or vegetable, that such fruit, nut or vegetable, giving an accurate description of it, has been received.

Violations:
penalty.

SEC. 40. Any person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC 41. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase, thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality.

SEC. 42. The following acts are hereby repealed: Repeals.
 chapter 865, statutes of 1927, entitled the "California fruit, nut and vegetable standardization act of 1927," approved June 2, 1927, as amended; chapter 224, statutes of 1901, entitled "An act to provide for the marking or branding of boxes or barrels containing citrus fruit for shipment, and fixing a penalty for the violation thereof, and for the appointment of an inspector under its provisions," approved March 23, 1901, as amended; chapter 251, statutes of 1903, entitled "An act to provide for the marking, branding, or labeling of boxes, barrels, or packages containing fruits, fresh or dried, and fixing a penalty for the violation thereof, and for the appointment of inspectors under its provisions," approved March 20, 1903, as amended; chapter 159, statutes of 1915, entitled "An act regulating the sale and shipment of citrus fruits damaged by frost, and prescribing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof," approved May 3, 1915, as amended; chapter 659, statutes of 1915, entitled "An act to establish a standard for the packing in the State of California of the kinds of fresh fruits specified in this act, for sale or for transportation for shipment, and to prevent deception in the packing; also to establish a system of inspection for the same," approved June 8, 1915, as amended; chapter 595, statutes of 1917, entitled "An act to promote the development of the California fresh fruit industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing a standard for the packing of certain fresh fruits specified therein, and to prevent deception in the packing, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof, and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 24, 1917, as amended.

CHAPTER 704.

An act providing for the formation, government and operation of harbor districts, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts of harbor commissioners, defining their powers and duties, and providing for the issuance and disposal of bonds of such harbor districts, and providing for the assessment, levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such bonds and for the ordinary annual expenses of such harbor districts.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Harbor district.

SECTION 1. Any county or portion of a county or city or portion of a city or more than one city with or without a portion of the unincorporated territory of a county in this state, the exterior boundary of which include a bay, harbor, inlet river, channel, slough, or arm of the sea, in which the tides of the Pacific ocean ebb and flow or in which tides are affected by the Pacific ocean, may be formed into a harbor district for the improvement or development of such harbor upon proceedings being had and taken, as provided for in this act.

Definitions.

SEC. 2. The use in this act of the following words are intended to mean, do mean and shall at all times and places be held and construed to have the meaning herein defined.

"Harbor."

The word "harbor" means any bay, harbor, inlet, river, channel, slough, or arm of the sea, in which the tides of the Pacific ocean ebb and flow or in which tides are affected by the Pacific ocean, may be formed. The words "harbor commission" shall bor, and shall ask that the territory included within such boundaries be formed into a harbor district for the purpose of the improvement and development of said harbor.

SEC. 4. Each signer of the petition must be a registered voter, resident and freeholder within the proposed harbor district

Qualifications of petition signers.

SEC. 5. The petition must be published for at least two weeks preceding the hearing thereof in some newspaper of general circulation printed in said proposed harbor district, if there be such newspaper so printed. If not, said petition shall be published in a newspaper in said county. With such publication there shall be published a notice signed by not exceeding three of the petitioners, setting forth the day, hour and place when and where the petition will be presented to the board of supervisors of the county for hearing, which date shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than forty (40) days from the first publication of the same, and all persons interested therein may appear at said time and place before said board of supervisors and be heard

Publication.

Evidence:

SEC. 6. At the time and place specified in the notice, the board of supervisors shall consider the petition and may continue the hearing thereof from time to time, not exceeding however, a period of ninety (90) days. At the hearing by the board of supervisors a certificate issued by the assessor of the county and filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors in the proceedings stating that the name of any signer or signers of the petition appear upon the last equalized assessment roll of the county for land assessed to any such signer or signers and located within the boundaries of the proposed harbor district shall be prima facie evidence that such signer or signers is a freeholder within said proposed harbor district and a certificate signed by the county clerk that the name of any signer or signers of the petition is a registered and unexcused elector of the county, residing within the boundaries of the proposed harbor district, shall be prima facie evidence that such signer or signers are registered voters within the boundaries of said proposed harbor district.

Notice.

served upon the owner or owners of the lands proposed to be added to or included in the harbor district; said notice may be served personally upon the owner or owners of such land or be published for the same period of time and in the same newspaper as the original petition and notice of hearing. Said notice shall state the day, hour and place at which any objections of said owner or owners will be heard and shall generally describe the lands proposed to be added to and included in said proposed harbor district.

Feasibility of work.

SEC. 8. The board of supervisors shall also investigate and determine whether or not the improvement and development work generally described in the petition is feasible and when completed will result in the improvement and development of the harbor and become a benefit to the property within such harbor district. If it shall appear and the board of supervisors shall find that it is necessary in order to make sufficient and adequate investigation upon which to determine such questions to continue the hearing beyond ninety (90) days, said board of supervisors shall have authority so to continue such hearing; provided, however, that said hearing shall be completed within six (6) months from the date of the presentation of said petition.

Findings
upon final
hearing.

SEC. 9. Upon final hearing, if it shall appear to the board of supervisors that the petition and notice of hearing have been duly published and that the petition is signed by a sufficient number of persons who possess the qualifications in this act required and that a harbor exists within the said proposed harbor district and can be improved and developed as generally described in the petition, then the board of supervisors shall cause to be entered upon the minutes of such meeting a finding of all such facts setting forth the name of the proposed harbor district as set forth in the petition, the official name or name by which such harbor is commonly known and describing the exterior boundaries of the territory to be included within said proposed harbor district. Said finding shall be conclusive evidence of the existence of every fact so found by the board of supervisors and of the due signing and publication of the petition and of the publication or personal service of all notices and shall vest the board of supervisors with authority to proceed under this act.

Election.

SEC. 10. The board of supervisors shall thereupon make and cause to be entered in its minutes an order finally determining and establishing the exterior boundaries of the proposed harbor district, and shall pass a resolution calling an election within said district for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of the formation of the harbor district. The board of supervisors shall by said resolution fix a date of the election, which shall not be less than thirty (30) nor more than sixty (60) days from the date of the passage of the resolution and shall divide the proposed harbor district into one or more voting precincts and generally describe or otherwise designate the boundaries of each voting precinct and shall designate a place within each voting precinct at which the polls will be opened for the purpose of the election on the day of the election and shall also appoint a board of election for each voting precinct, consisting of one inspector, one judge and one clerk. Every member of the board of election must be a registered elector of and residing within the voting precinct for which he or she is appointed. The resolution shall also prescribe the manner of voting for or against the formation of such harbor district, and in all particulars not recited in the resolution or otherwise provided for in this act, the election shall be held in accordance with the general election laws of the State of California, so far as the same are applicable; provided, that it shall not be necessary to mail or send out sample ballots or precinct polling cards.

Every harbor district formed under the provisions of this act shall be governed by a board of three (3) harbor commissioners, who shall hold office for the term of four (4) years from and after the first Monday following their election; provided, however, that the first board of harbor commissioners shall be elected at the same election provided for herein for the formation of said district and the commissioner receiving the highest number of votes shall hold office for the term of four (4) years from and after the third Monday in April next succeeding the formation of said harbor district, and the commissioners receiving the second and third highest number of votes shall hold office for two (2) years from the third Monday in April next succeeding their election. There shall be an election for harbor commissioners within said proposed harbor district on the second Monday in April, after the expiration of two (2) years from the formation of said harbor district and thereafter upon the same day on each succeeding second year. All candidates for harbor commissioners must be residents of the proposed harbor district and qualified electors therein and shall qualify for such election by securing a nomination paper signed by not less than twenty-five (25) nor more than fifty (50) qualified electors of said proposed harbor district, proposing such candidate for the office of harbor commissioner. Any qualified voter in such proposed harbor district may sign as many nomination papers as there are harbor commissioners to be elected at any election. At the first election herein provided for harbor commissioners, all candidates for harbor commissioners must file their nomination papers with the county clerk of the county, at least twenty (20) days before the day of said election, and all candidates for harbor commissioners at any subsequent election must file their nomination papers with the board of harbor commissioners at least twenty (20) days before the day of the election.

SEC. 11. The resolution of the board of supervisors shall invite the qualified voters residing in the harbor district to vote upon the proposition of the formation of the harbor district and the election of a board of harbor commissioners.

Ballot

The ballot to be used at the election shall be substantially in the following form:

(Name) Harbor District Official Ballot.

Instructions to voters: To vote in favor of the formation of the harbor district, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square at the right of the words "For the harbor district." To vote against the formation of the harbor district stamp a cross (X) in the voting square at the right of the words "Against the harbor district." To vote for a candidate for harbor commissioner stamp a cross (X) after the name of such candidate; provided, however, that no more persons shall be voted for than there are offices of harbor commissioner to be filled at such election.

All erasures and distinguishing marks are forbidden and make the ballot void. If you wrongfully stamp, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election and obtain another.

"For the harbor district."

"Against the harbor district."

"For harbor commissioners"

The official ballot at the first election in said harbor district shall provide voting squares after the words "For the harbor district" and after the words "Against the harbor district" and shall also have printed thereon the names of all candidates for harbor commissioner, together with three blank spaces thereunder for the purpose of permitting an elector to write in the name of a candidate, with voting squares after the name of each candidate and after said three blank spaces

Subsequent elections.

All official ballots used at any subsequent election in the harbor district shall conform, as near as practicable, to the above ballot, excepting that all reference to voting for or against the formation of said harbor district shall be eliminated therefrom; and also provided that any question or proposition authorized to be submitted to the voters of said harbor district will be placed on said ballot in addition to the names of any candidate or candidates for harbor commissioner.

Publication of resolution

SEC. 12. The resolution of the board of supervisors calling the first election herein provided for and the resolution of the board of harbor commissioners calling any subsequent election shall be published at least once a week for four (4) successive weeks in a newspaper published, printed and circulated in said proposed harbor district and one publication each week for four (4) weeks shall be a sufficient publication hereunder. The passage and publication of the resolution of the board of supervisors calling the first election and the passage and publication of the resolution of the board of harbor commissioners calling any subsequent election and the publication thereof, as provided for in this act, shall be and constitute the notice of election and no other or additional notice thereof need be given.

Notice of election, what constitutes.

SEC. 13. On the day of said election, or any election held ^{Polls} under the provisions of this act, the polls at each of the polling places designated, shall be open at the hour of six o'clock a.m. and must be kept open until the hour of seven o'clock p.m. of the same day, when the polls shall be closed, provided, that any elector within the polling place or standing in line thereat and who has not had an opportunity to vote and desires to vote, shall be permitted to vote after the hour of seven o'clock p.m. of the day of the election. When the polls are closed the board ^{Canvass.} of election in every precinct at the election to be held for the formation of said harbor district, shall canvass the votes and shall make up and certify the returns thereof as near as practicable, in accordance with the general election laws of the State of California, governing said election, and deposit the same with the county clerk in the county in which the election is held. At all subsequent elections the returns shall be deposited with the harbor commissioners.

SEC. 14. The board of supervisors at their first regular ^{Returns of election} meeting after the date of the first election herein provided for, shall canvass all of the returns of said election and shall cause to be entered in the minutes of said meeting a finding showing the number of votes cast in each precinct for the harbor district and against the harbor district and the total number of votes cast and the names of the harbor commissioners for which the votes were so cast. If from said canvass it shall appear and the board of supervisors find that a majority of the votes were cast in favor of said harbor district it shall enter that fact upon its minutes, together with a description of the boundaries of the harbor district, the name of the harbor district, the official name or names by which said harbor district is commonly known and enter an order of the board of supervisors declaring such harbor district to be duly formed ^{Order showing district's existence.} and to exist in said county in which the proceedings were had, and also make an order declaring the three (3) candidates for harbor commissioner receiving the highest number of votes to have been elected to such office and shall also cause a certificate of election to be issued to such harbor commission in accordance with such resolution. Such harbor commissioners ^{Harbor commissioners.} so elected must within ten (10) days from the date of the canvass of the returns of such election take the constitutional oath of office and enter upon the duties of his office. They shall elect one of their number as president of such harbor commission and one of their number as secretary, which president and secretary respectively, shall serve during the pleasure of said commissioners. Each of said harbor commissioners upon ^{Bond.} taking the oath of office at the first election held under this act, or at any subsequent election, shall file with the county clerk of the county in which such harbor district is situated, a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), made payable to said harbor district and conditioned on the faithful performance of their duties; said bonds to be subject to approval by the board of supervisors of such county. Said harbor

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, furnish, administer, or give away or offer to sell, furnish, administer, or give away or to have in their or his possession any cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, flowering tops and leaves of hemp or loco weed (cannabis sativa), Indian hemp, extracts, tinctures, or other preparations of hemp or loco weed (cannabis sativa) or Indian hemp, or chloralhydrate, or any of the salts, derivatives or compounds of the foregoing substances or any preparation or compound containing any of the foregoing substances or their salts, derivatives or compounds excepting upon the written order or prescription of a physician, dentist or veterinary surgeon, licensed to practice in this state, which order or prescription shall be dated by the person writing said prescription as of the date on which said prescription is written, and shall contain the name and address of the person for whom prescribed written in by the person writing said prescription, or if ordered by a veterinary surgeon it shall state the kind of animal for which ordered and the name of the owner, or person having custody, of said animal, and shall be signed and dated as of the date on which said prescription is written and said prescription or order shall be wholly written by the person writing or issuing the prescription or order. No physician shall antedate or postdate any prescription for any of the drugs enumerated in this act, and no person shall obtain or have in his possession any such antedated or postdated prescription nor any prescription not bearing the correct name and address of the person for whom such prescription was written nor any of the drugs mentioned herein obtained by any such antedated or postdated prescription, or obtained by any prescription not bearing the correct name and address of the person for whom said prescription was written. No person, other than a physician, dentist or veterinary surgeon, duly licensed to practice in this state, shall write any

prescription for any of the drugs mentioned in this section and no such physician, dentist or veterinary surgeon shall write or issue any such prescription which does not conform to all of the regulations in this act contained. Such order or prescription shall be retained on file by the person, firm or corporation who shall compound or dispense the articles ordered or prescribed, and it shall not be again compounded or dispensed. No copy or duplicate of such written order or prescription shall be made or delivered to any person other than an inspector of the board of pharmacy or of the state division of narcotic enforcement or the chief of said division of narcotic enforcement, but the original shall be at all times open to inspection by the prescriber and properly authorized officers of the law, including all inspectors of the division of narcotic enforcement and of the state board of pharmacy, and shall be preserved for at least three years from the date of the filing thereof; provided, that the above provisions shall not apply to sales at wholesale by jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers to pharmacies, as defined in section 1 of an act entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy in the State of California and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof; and for the appointment of a board to be known as the California state board of pharmacy," approved March 20, 1905, and acts amendatory thereof; nor to sales to physicians, nor by physicians to each other, nor to the sale at retail in pharmacies by pharmacists to physicians, dentists or veterinary surgeons duly licensed to practice in this state; provided, further, that all such wholesale jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers, in this section mentioned, shall keep in a manner readily accessible, the written orders or blank forms required to be preserved under the provisions of section 2 of the act of congress, approved December 17, 1914, relating to the production, importation, manufacture, compounding, sale, dispensing or giving away of opium or coca leaves and salts, derivatives or preparations, and said records shall always be open for inspection by any peace officer or any inspector or member of the board of pharmacy or the chief or any inspector of the division of narcotic enforcement, and such records shall be preserved for at least three years after the date of the last entry therein. The taking of any order, or making of any contract or agreement, by any traveling representative, or any employee, of any person, firm or corporation, for future delivery in this state, of any of the articles or drugs mentioned in this section shall be deemed a sale of said articles or drugs by said traveling representative, or employee, within the meaning of the provisions of this act; provided, further, that a true and correct copy of all orders, contracts or agreements, taken for narcotic drugs specified in this section shall be forwarded by registered mail to the division of narcotic enforcement within twenty-four hours after the taking of such order, contract or agreement, unless such order, contract or agreement is recorded as required under the provisions of section 2 of an act of congress, approved December 17, 1914, relating to the production, importation, manufacture, compounding, sale, dispensing or giving away of opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives or preparations of some wholesale jobber, wholesaler, or manufacturer permanently located in this state, as provided for in said section. It shall be unlawful for any practitioner of medicine, dentistry or veterinary medicine or any other person to administer to himself as an habitual user or administer to or furnish to or prescribe for the use of any other habitual user of the same, or of anyone representing himself as such, any cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, or chloralhydrate, or any salt, derivative or compound of the foregoing substances or their salts, derivatives or compounds; and it shall also be unlawful for any practitioner of medicine, osteopathy or dentistry to prescribe, administer to or furnish any of the foregoing substances for himself or any person not in the regular practice of his profession under his treatment for a pathology or condition other than narcotic addiction, except as hereinafter provided, or for any veterinary surgeon to prescribe, administer to or furnish any of the foregoing substances for the use of himself or any other human beings; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent any physician duly licensed as such in the State of California, from administering, furnishing or prescribing in good faith to any habitual user of narcotics who is under the professional care of such physician for a disease, ailment, or injury, other than narcotic addiction, or for the infirmities attendant upon old age, such substances as such physician may reasonably deem necessary for the treatment of such disease, ailment, injury, or infirmities, when such substances are furnished or prescribed in good faith in the course of treatment for such disease, ailment, injury, or infirmities, and are not so furnished or prescribed in order to satisfy the narcotic addiction of an habitual user of narcotics; provided, that such licensed physician shall report in writing, over his signature, by registered mail, to the office of the division of narcotic enforcement of the State of California, within five days after the first treatment, each and every habitual user of such drugs as are enumerated in this section, such report to contain the date, name and address of such patient, and the name and quantity of the narcotic or narcotics prescribed in such treatment, and such physician so treating any habitual user shall upon request in writing from the narcotic division of the State of California furnish such additional reports upon the treatment of such habitual user as said narcotic division may in writing request; and provided, further, that the above provisions shall not apply to preparations of the United States pharmacopoeia and national formulary or other recognized or established formula or to remedies or prescriptions sold or prescribed in good faith for medicinal purposes only and not for the purpose of satisfying the addiction of an habitual user of narcotics, containing not more than two grains of opium, or one-fourth grain of morphine, or one grain of codeine, or one-sixteenth grain of heroin, or ten grains of chloralhydrate, or two grains of Indian hemp or loco weed in one fluid ounce, or, if a solid preparation, in one ounce avoirdupois, except tincture opii camphorata (commonly known as paregoric) which may be sold only upon the prescription of a physician licensed to practice in this state and said prescription shall not be again refilled or dispensed. No physician, surgeon, osteopath, or other person shall prescribe, administer, or furnish any of the substances or drugs mentioned in section 1 hereof except under the conditions and in the manner in this act prescribed.

SEC. 2. Section 2 of chapter 216, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

p 333

Sec. 2. Any of the drugs mentioned in section 1 of this act employed in treating a habitue or addict for narcotic addiction must be applied or administered by a licensed physician and surgeon of this state, or a registered nurse acting under his instruction, and except during emergency treatment or where the patient's addiction is complicated by the presence of incurable disease, serious accident or injury, shall be permitted only in institutions approved by the state board of medical examiners, where the patient is kept under restraint and control, or in city or county jails or state prisons or state narcotic hospitals; provided, further, that any licensed physician treating any habitue for narcotic addiction shall not prescribe for or furnish such habitue more than eight grains of opium, or four grains of morphine, or two grains of cocaine, or any derivative of cocaine, or two grains of heroin for each daily treatment and at the end of fifteen days of such treatment the said physician shall not prescribe for or furnish to such habitue, for each daily treatment, more than four grains of opium, or two grains of morphine, or one grain of cocaine, or any derivative of cocaine, or one grain of heroin, and at the end of thirty days from the first treatment, the prescribing or furnishing of any of the drugs above enumerated shall be entirely discontinued; and the physician shall report by registered mail to said division of narcotic enforcement as required in section 1 of this act, and shall in the same manner further report in fifteen days, and in thirty days, and as often thereafter as requested in writing by said division of narcotic enforcement, the progress of the patient under the treatment so administered by him; provided, however, that any licensed physician may prescribe for or furnish or administer to his patient as the physician of such patient employed by such patient as such physician, when such patient is suffering from some disease, ailment or injury, other than narcotic addiction, and which such physician in good faith believes requires such treatment for such disease, ailment or injury, any of the drugs mentioned in section 1 hereof in such quantity and for such length of time as may be reasonably necessary. The physician so prescribing, or furnishing, such drugs to an habitual user must personally furnish, by registered mail, to the division of narcotic enforcement within five days after first prescribing or furnishing said drug, a detailed report containing the name of the patient, the character of the injury or ailment, the quantity and kind of drug used and a statement as to whether or not the patient is an addict. The physician so administering said drugs shall keep a record of the person to whom such drugs were administered, the date of such administration, and the pathology for which said drugs were administered, which record shall be preserved for two years and shall at all times be open to inspection by the inspectors of the division of narcotic enforcement and the inspectors of the state board of pharmacy. The division of narcotic enforcement may employ a licensed physician to interview and examine any patient for whom any of said drugs have been prescribed or to whom any of such drugs have been furnished or administered, and who is an habitual user of any of said drugs, and such patient shall submit to such interview and examination and shall not in any manner hinder or impede such interview or examination. The physician so employed by the division of narcotic enforcement to conduct such interview and examination shall report the results of said examination and interview to the division of narcotic enforcement, and said physician so employed may testify in any action brought under the provisions of this act or in any hearing before the state board of medical examiners and such testimony shall not be privileged. Any person violating any provision of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor. In any prosecution of a physician for a violation of this provision, proof that defendant received or had in his possession at any time, a greater amount of such drugs than the record required by this act accounts for, shall constitute prima facie evidence of his guilt.

amended

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 27 of the "warehouse receipts act" is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1919,
p 398

Sec. 27. Subject to the provisions of section 30, a warehouseman shall have a lien on goods deposited by the owner or by the legal possessor of the property or on the proceeds thereof

SEC. 2. Section 34 of the "warehouse receipts act" is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 34. If goods are of a perishable nature, or by keeping will deteriorate greatly in value, or by their odor, leakage, inflammability or explosive nature will be liable to injure other property or by reason of infestation with live weevil or other insects certified in writing by the county agricultural commissioner to be of such extent as to probably cause injury to other property, the warehouseman may give such notice to the owner, or to the person in whose name the goods are stored, as is reasonable and possible under the circumstances, to satisfy the lien upon such goods, and to remove them from the warehouse, and in the event of a failure of such person to satisfy the lien and to remove the goods within the time so specified, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertising. If the warehouseman after a reasonable effort is unable to sell such goods, he may dispose of them in any lawful manner, and shall incur no liability by reason thereof. The proceeds of any sale made under the terms of this section shall be disposed of in the same way as the proceeds of sales made under the terms of the preceding section.

premises or property owned or controlled by them for the purpose of controlling or destroying predatory animals and if, prior to or during the placing out of such poisonous substances, he shall have posted upon the property conspicuous signs located at intervals of distance not greater than one-third of a mile apart, and in any case not less than three such signs having words with letters at least one inch high reading "Warning—Poisoned bait placed out on these premises," which signs shall be kept in place until the poisonous substances have been removed. Whenever such signs have been conspicuously located upon the property or premises owned or controlled by him as hereinabove provided, such person shall not be charged with any civil liability to another party in the event that any domestic animal belonging to such party becomes injured or killed by trespassing or partaking of the poisonous substance or substances so placed.

CHAPTER 714.

An act to amend section 4307 of the Political Code, relating to county charges.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

See Ch. 255,
Stats 1931

SECTION 1. Section 4307 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

County
charges
General

4307 The following are county charges:

1. Charges incurred against the county by virtue of any of the provision of this act.

District attorney and sheriff

2. The traveling and other personal expenses of the district attorney and the sheriff incurred in criminal cases arising in the county, and in civil actions and proceedings in which the county is interested, and all other expenses necessarily incurred by either of them in the detection of crime, and in the prosecution of criminal cases, and in civil actions and proceedings and all other matters in which the county is interested, other than those crimes declared to be misdemeanors by the "California vehicle act," approved May 30, 1923, and any act amendatory therefor supplemental thereto.

Support of persons jailed for crime

3. The expenses necessarily incurred in the support of persons charged with or convicted of crime and committed therefor to the county jail, and for other services in relation to criminal proceedings for which no specific compensation is prescribed by law.

the construction of levees along the west bank of the Sacramento river and adjacent thereto and maintain the same; providing for the election and appointment of officers of said levee district; defining the powers, duties and compensation of such officers; and providing for levying and collecting assessments upon the lands within said levee district," approved May 18, 1915.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917,
p. 1214.

SECTION 1. Section 7 of chapter 361, statutes of 1915 entitled "An act to create a levee district to be called and designated Sacramento river west side levee district; to prevent the overflow of flood waters from the Sacramento river from flooding on to the lands within said district by the construction of levees along the west bank of the Sacramento river and adjacent thereto and maintain the same; providing for the election and appointment of officers of said levee district; defining the powers, duties and compensation of such officers; and providing for levying and collecting assessments upon the lands within said levee district," as amended by chapter 673, statutes of 1917, is hereby amended to read as follows:

come lien.

Sec. 7. From and after the filing of the original list with the county treasurer of Colusa county, and from and after the filing of the duplicate original list with the county treasurer of Yolo county, the charges assessed upon any tract of land within each respective county shall constitute a lien thereon, and shall impart notice thereof to all persons. No subsequent act or conduct of the commissioners shall invalidate said assessment or lien, but such commissioners may be compelled by mandate or other proper proceeding to perform their duties, as required by law. The list thus prepared and filed must remain in the offices of the respective treasurers for thirty days from such filing, or longer if ordered by the board of levee commissioners, and during the time they so remain, any person may pay the amount of the charge assessed against any tract of land to the treasurer of the county in which such tract is situated, in gold coin of the United States, or in warrants of the district. At the end of thirty days the treasurers must return the lists to the board of commissioners of the district, and said assessment shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from and after the expiration of said period of thirty days from and after the filing of said list aforesaid with the said county treasurer of Colusa county. The said board, from time to time in its discretion, may, by order entered in its minutes, direct the said assessment to be collected and paid in separate installments, of such amounts and at such time, respectively, as the said board may determine. After any order has been made calling in an installment of assessment, the secretary of the said district, for the information of the landowners, shall mail to each landowner, as described in the said assessment list, if his address be known to such secretary, or, if not, then to the county seat of the county in which such land may be situated, a statement stating the amount of the call of such assessment, and stating further that said installment, if unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of such order, shall become delinquent, which said statement shall be mailed by said secretary within ten days after the date of any such order calling in any installment of such assessment. If any such installment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of the order, then said installment shall become delinquent, together with the accrued interest thereon, and ten per cent of the amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto, and collected for the use of the district; provided, further, that the commissioners must on the first day of January of each year, order the collection of a sufficient amount of said assessment to pay all warrants that have been issued and outstanding for a period of two years or more, together with the interest on such warrants. Immediately after the said installment has become delinquent, the board of levee commissioners must publish a notice at least once each week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county or counties in which any land upon which such installment may be delinquent is situated, which notice shall contain a description of the property assessed, the name of the person to whom it is assessed, or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners, if such be the fact; the amount of the delinquent installment, the amount of the interest at the date of delinquency, the amount of the penalty that has been added as above provided, and a notice that the property assessed will be sold on a date therein stated, at such time and place in said district as the board of commissioners may in said notice designate, to pay said installment with accrued interest and the penalty hereinbefore specified. At the time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the commissioners must sell said property to the highest bidder for gold coin of the United States. Out of the proceeds of said sale the commissioners must pay the amount of said installment with the accrued interest thereon and the penalty herein provided for to the county treasurer of the county of Colusa who shall place the same in the proper funds of said district, and the commissioners must pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining after such payment to said county treasurer. The commissioners may postpone said sale from time to time by a written notice posted at the place of sale. If no bid is made for said property equal to the amount of said installment, accrued interest and penalty, the district shall become the purchaser, and the said property must be struck off to the district for the amount of said installment, accrued interest and penalty. A certificate of such sale shall be executed by the commissioners of said levee district to the purchaser, or to the district, if the property shall have been struck off to the district, and said certificate of sale shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the land sold is situated, or if situated in two counties, then in the office of the county recorder of each thereof. Any person interested in said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of said sale, by paying in gold coin or in warrants of said district, to the county treasurer of Colusa county the amount of said installment with the accrued interest and penalty, and interest on the said sums at the rate of one per cent per month from the date of said sale.

lic auction

If no redemption shall be made within said one year, the purchaser, or the district, if said property shall have been sold to the district, shall be entitled to a deed executed by said commissioners, and the effect of such deed shall be to convey said property free of all liens and incumbrances, excepting state, county and municipal taxes, and the liens of assessments now levied or which may hereafter be levied by this district or by any of the reclamation districts situate within said levee district, or by the Knights Landing ridge drainage district, and the unpaid balance of said assessment of said levee district, if any, which said balance must be called in and collected in the same manner as other assessments; provided, that where said property shall have been deeded to the district and shall not have been sold by the commissioners, the same shall not be offered for sale for subsequent installments of said assessments so long as the district shall remain the owner of said property, but the commissioners may sell said property at any time at public auction to the highest bidder after notice given for the same period and in the same manner as is herein provided for sales for delinquent installments, but not for a sum less than all delinquent unpaid installments with accrued interest and penalties, except by resolution of the board of levee commissioners adopted by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of its members, and the deed executed in pursuance of such sale shall convey said property free of all incumbrances, except the lien of any assessments levied or which may hereafter be levied by this district or by any reclamation district within said levee district, or the Knights Landing ridge drainage district, and the unpaid balance of said assessment.

Land not charged to be charged later

In all cases where an assessment has been, or shall hereafter, be levied, for any purpose on the lands embraced within said levee district, if, for any reason, any tract or tracts of land shall not have been charged with said assessment, then such tract or tracts of land shall be charged in any subsequent assessment with such proportion of the former assessment as the benefits derived by said lands from the levee works, for which said former assessment was levied, bears to the whole amount of said former assessment; or a subsequent reassessment of such tract or tracts of land may be made separately for the purpose of charging said land with its proper proportion of the costs of levee protection. Such reassessment shall be made by assessors appointed by the reclamation board, as provided by this act, and must be made and approved in the same manner as other assessments. The assessors appointed by the reclamation board must make a list of the charges assessed against each tract of land; and, if there be any error or mistake in the description of the land or in the name of the owner, or if any land which should be assessed has been, or shall be, omitted from the list, or if there is any error or mistake in any other respect, the said assessors may amend or correct the same at any time before the filing of such list with the reclamation board as hereinbefore provided. Where payment is made in warrants of the district, legal interest must be computed thereon from the date thereof to the time of such payment, when said warrants must be surrendered to the county treasurer of the county of Colusa, and by him canceled.

CHAPTER 716.

Stats 1915, p 1171, amended An act to amend section 2 of chapter 620, statutes of 1915, entitled "An act authorizing any city, city and county, county, town, municipality or other political subdivision to acquire certain liens or property offered for sale for the nonpayment of certain assessments," approved June 4, 1915, relating to the disposal of such lien or property.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1915, p. 1171.

SECTION 1. Section 2 of chapter 620, statutes of 1915, entitled "An act authorizing any city, city and county, county, town, municipality or other political subdivision to acquire certain liens or property offered for sale for the nonpayment of certain assessments," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Property may be assigned, etc

Sec. 2. Any lien, or any property acquired by any city, city and county, county, town, municipality, or other political subdivision under the provisions of this act, may be released, assigned, sold or otherwise disposed of by such city, city and county, county, town, municipality, or other political subdivision in the manner prescribed by ordinance adopted by the city council or other legislative body thereof; provided, however, that no such release, assignment, sale or other disposition of any such lien or any such property shall be so made unless there shall be first paid to such city, city and county, county, town, municipality or other political subdivision, a sum of money equal to not less than the amount paid therefor, all accrued penalties and delinquencies and necessary expenses incurred; provided, however, that if any such lien or property can not after public notice as provided by law, be sold for the amounts and charges computed as herein provided, the legislative body of any such city, city and county, or county may by a four-fifths vote of such body sell any such lien or property for the best price obtainable.

CHAPTER 717.

An act to amend section 763 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to partition.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 763 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1927,
p. 1446

763. If it appears by the evidence, whether alleged in the complaint or not, that the property or any part of it is so situated that partition can not be made without great prejudice to the owners, or where property is subject to a life estate and the remainder is a contingent remainder, the court may and in the latter case must order the sale thereof; otherwise, upon the requisite proofs being made it must order a partition according to the respective rights of the parties as ascertained by the court, and appoint three referees therefor, and must designate the portion to remain undivided for the owners whose interests remain unknown, or are not ascertained; or the court, with the consent of the parties, may appoint one referee instead of three, and he when appointed, has all the powers and may perform all the duties required of three referees; and the court must appoint as referee any person or persons to whose appointment all the parties have consented, and no person shall be appointed as referee who is disqualified from acting as an appraiser under the provisions of the Probate Code. Question
partition

When the site of an incorporated city or town is included within the exterior boundaries of the property to be partitioned, the court must direct the referees to survey and appraise the entire property to be partitioned by actual lots and subdivisions then existing in the actual possession of the several tenants in common, exclusive of the value of improvements thereon, first setting apart necessary portions of the property for ways, roads and streets, as in section 764 provided, and to report such survey and separate appraisement on each lot and subdivision to the court. Site of
city.

The court may confirm, change, modify, or set aside the report in whole or in part, and if necessary appoint new referees. Action of court

When, after the final confirmation of the report of such survey and appraisement, it appears by evidence to the satisfaction of the court that an equitable partition of the whole property is impracticable, and a sale of the site of such city or town, or any portion thereof, will be for the best interests of the owners of the whole property, it must order a sale thereof; provided, that within sixty days thereafter any tenant in common or tenants in common, having improvements erected on any town or city lot or subdivision included in Sale.

such order of sale. shall have the prior right to purchase the same at such appraised valuation, and may pay into court the amount so appraised as the value thereof, and upon such payment the title shall vest in such purchaser or purchasers, and the court shall cause to be executed by such referees a deed for such lot or subdivision in fee and in severalty to such purchaser or purchasers; such further proceeding shall then be had as to the remainder of the property, and the money so paid to the court. as by this chapter provided.

Death or insanity of a party.

If, during the pendency of this section, any of the parties die, or become insane, or otherwise incompetent, the proceedings shall not for that cause be delayed or suspended, but the attorney who has appeared for such party may continue to represent such interest; and in case any such party has not appeared by an attorney, the court must appoint an attorney to represent the interest which was held by such party, until his heirs or legal representatives, or successors in interest, shall have appeared in the action; and an attorney so appointed must be allowed by the court a reasonable compensation for his services, which may be taxed as costs against the share or interest represented by such attorney, and may be adjudged a lien thereon in the discretion of the court.

relating to appropriation of waters by the state department of finance.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

p 508.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 286, statutes of 1927, entitled "An act authorizing the department of finance to appropriate waters in connection with the utilization and conservation of the water resources of the state in the development of a general or coordinated plan; authorizing the state department of finance to release or assign such appropriations; authorizing the state department of finance to request other departments, of the state or state officers to furnish service or assistance to make investigations in connection with the development of a general or coordinated plan for the utilization or conservation of the water resources of the state," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Department of finance to file on unap-
waters.

Section 1. The state department of finance is directed and authorized, pursuant to the provisions of the water commission act and the rules and regulations of the division of water rights of the department of public works, to make and file an application or applications for any water or the use thereof which in the judgment of the state department of finance is or may be required in the development and completion of the whole or any part of a general or coordinated plan looking towards the development, utilization or conservation of the water resources of the state. Any such application or applications shall be made and filed by the state department of finance with the division of water rights, department of public works within nine months after the date upon which this act shall go into effect. The priority of any such application or applications shall be as of the date this act shall become effective, and such priority shall be retained over any application made by others subsequent to said date, and which may be in conflict therewith, regardless of any requirements or provisions of the water commission act relating to diligence in the completion of applications for water or the use thereof, until October 1, 1933; provided, that any such priority or priorities may be maintained and extended by further legislative enactment: provided, further, the state department of finance, under the requirements of the water commission act and the rules and regulations of said division of water rights relating to applications for the appropriation of water may publish a notice that it intends to file upon an amount of water necessary to the development of any part or unit of such general or coordinated plan and in that event the publication of such notice shall preserve, as of the date of such publication, the priority of any application made and filed subsequently by the state department of finance with said division of water rights for the benefit of such part or unit prior to October 1, 1933; provided, further, notwithstanding anything in this act contained, the state department of finance shall have power, in its discretion, to release from priority or to assign any portion of any of the appropriations that may be filed under the provisions of this act when such release or assignment is for the purpose of development not in conflict with such general or coordinated plan; and provided further, that no such priority shall be released, or assignment made of any such appropriation that will, in the judgment of the state department of finance, deprive the county in which such appropriated water originates, of any such water necessary for the development of such county.

Priorities

CHAPTER 734.

An act to provide for the formation, management and dissolution of county fire protection districts composed of lands within one or more counties and annexations to such districts; to set forth the powers of such districts and to provide for levying and collecting taxes on property in such districts to defray the expenses thereof.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Contiguous unincorporated territory lying within one or more counties and not included in any other fire protection district and not including timber land patrolled by the state board of forestry or in accordance with the rules and regulations of said state board of forestry, may be formed into a county fire protection district in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter set forth.

District may be formed.

SEC. 2. When twenty-five per cent or more of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands lying in one body and whose names appear as such upon the last county assessment rolls shall present a petition to the board of supervisors of the county in which said land or the greater portion thereof lies, setting forth the exterior boundaries of said proposed district, and asking that the district so described be formed into a county fire protection district under the provisions of this act, the said board of supervisors shall pass a resolution declaring their intention to form or organize said territory into a county fire protection district, naming said district and describing its exterior boundaries. Said resolution shall fix a time and place for the hearing of the matter not less than thirty days after its adoption and direct the clerk of said board of supervisors to publish the notice of intention of the board of supervisors to form such county fire protection district, and of the time and place fixed for the hearing, and shall designate some newspaper of general circulation published in the county and circulated in said proposed county fire protection district, or if there is no newspaper so published and circulated, then some newspaper of general circulation circulated in said proposed district. Said notice shall be headed "Notice of the proposed formation of ----- county fire protection district in ----- county (stating the name of the proposed district and the name of the county or, if there be more than one, the name of the counties in which the proposed district is located)" and it shall state the fact that the board of supervisors of said county has fixed the time and place (which shall be stated in said notice) for a hearing on the matter of the formation of a county fire protection district. Said notice shall describe the territory or shall specify the exterior boundaries of the territory proposed to be organized into a fire protection district, which said boundaries, so far as practicable, shall be the center lines of highways. Said notice shall be published once a week for two successive weeks prior to the time fixed for the hearing in the newspaper designated by the said board.

Hearing

SEC. 3. At the time fixed for the hearing of said matter or at any time prior thereto, any person interested may file with the clerk of the board written objections to the formation of the district. At the time fixed for the hearing, or to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear the objections filed, if any, and pass upon the same. Said board may, in its discretion, sustain any or all of the objections filed and may change or alter the boundaries of such proposed district to conform to the needs of the district and to exclude therefrom any land that will not be benefited by the formation of such a district and except as hereinafter provided they shall not include therein any territory not included in the boundaries mentioned in the petition. Any owner of lands adjacent to the borders of said district may, by his written application therefor filed with such board at or before the time of the hearing of said petition, in the discretion of said board, have such lands included within such proposed district. Upon such hearing of said petition the board of supervisors shall determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements and purposes of this act, and must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support or in objection thereto. The board shall by resolution determine whether or not such a proposed district shall be formed and such determination shall be entered upon the minutes of said board of supervisors.

Election districts

SEC. 4. When, under the provisions of the preceding section, the boundaries of the proposed district shall be defined and established by said board, the board of supervisors shall make an order dividing said district into three or five divisions as nearly equal in size as practicable, which divisions shall be numbered consecutively and constitute election districts for said precinct, and one director, who shall be a resident of the precinct for which he is elected, shall be elected as hereinafter provided by each precinct; provided that, when requested in the petition, three directors who shall be residents of the district, shall be elected at large by the district. Directors

SEC. 5. Said board of supervisors shall then give notice of an election to be held in such proposed district for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be organized under the provisions of this act. Such notice shall designate a name for such proposed district and describe the boundaries of the precincts established therein, when more than one, together with a designation of the polling places and board of election for each precinct, and said notice shall be published once a week for at least three weeks previous to such election in a newspaper published or circulated within the boundaries of said proposed district and published within the county in which the petition for the organization of such district was presented. Such notice shall require the electors to cast ballots which shall contain the words "----- county fire protection district—Yes" or "----- county fire protection district ----- No" or words equivalent thereto, and also the names of one or more persons (according to the division of the proposed district as prayed for in the petition and ordered by the board), to be voted for to fill the office of director. Such election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general laws of the state, but no particular form of ballot shall be required. Holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district, and no others, shall be qualified and entitled to vote either in person or by proxy at any election held by such district. No person shall vote by proxy unless his authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing duly acknowledged before a notary public and filed with the election board. Election.

SEC. 6. Said election having been held, the said board of supervisors shall on the first Monday succeeding such election, if then in session, or at its next succeeding general or special session, proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat, and if upon such canvass it appears that a majority of all votes cast in the district (and in each portion of the counties included in the district in case lands in more than one county are included therein) are in favor of the formation of said district, the board shall, by an order entered in its minutes, declare such territory duly organized as a county fire protection district under the name theretofore designated and shall declare the persons receiving respectively the highest number of votes for directors, to be duly elected to such offices. Said board shall then cause a copy of such order duly certified by the clerk of said board to be immediately filed for record in the office of the county recorder of any county in which any portion of the Canvass of election lands embraced in such district are situated, and must also immediately forward a copy thereof to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of said counties, and no board of supervisors of the county shall, after the date of the organization thereof, allow another fire protection district to be formed, including any portion of said lands without the consent of the owners thereof. From and after such filing the organization of the district shall be complete.

Directors.

SEC. 7. The directors elected at the election herein provided for shall immediately enter upon their duties as such. They shall hold office respectively for a term of three years from and after their election and until their successors are elected and qualified; provided that the first board of directors shall at their first meeting so classify themselves by lot that one of their number shall go out of office on the second Monday of April of the year next succeeding said first election, one thereof on the second Monday of April of the second year succeeding, and one thereof on the second Monday of April of the third year succeeding. After such classification said directors shall organize as a board, shall elect a president from their number and appoint a secretary who shall each hold office during the pleasure of the board. After the first election, an election shall be held each year on the last Friday in March at which one director shall be elected. Notice of such elections shall be given by the board of directors by posting in three public places within the district for at least two weeks before the election. They shall also appoint the judges of election. Wherever practicable, the polling places used for school elections shall be designated. The elections shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the general election laws of the State of California, except as in this act provided to the contrary. The judges of election shall, within twenty-four hours after holding said election, make returns and certify said votes, and the names of the persons voted for to the said board of directors, and within five days after the returns have been received by the board of directors, they shall count the votes, determine who has been elected, and forthwith issue certificates of election to the persons elected.

Powers and duties of directors

SEC. 8. The board of directors shall have the power and it shall be their duty to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district, to make and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the administration and government of such district and for the furnishing of fire protection thereto, to make and execute in the name of the district all necessary contracts, to adopt a seal for the district to be used in the attestation of proper documents, to provide for the payment from the proper fund of all the debts and just claims against the district, to employ agents and employees for such district sufficient to maintain and operate the property acquired for the purposes of the district, to acquire real or personal property needful for the purposes of said district, and to dispose of the same when no longer needed, to construct any needed structures, to acquire, hold and possess, either by donation or purchase, in the name and on behalf of the said district any land or other property necessary for the purpose of said district, to eliminate and remove fire hazards within their district wherever practicable and possible whether on private or public premises and to that end they may clear the public highways and, where permitted, private lands, of dry grass, stubble brush, rubbish or other inflammable material in their judgment constituting a fire hazard, and to perform all other acts necessary, proper and convenient to accomplish the purposes of this act.

SEC. 9. The title to all property which may have been acquired for a county fire protection district, created under the provisions of this act, shall be vested in the district. Whenever any such county fire protection district shall be dissolved all property thereof shall be disposed of to the highest bidder, and the proceeds thereof, together with all money in the county treasury to the credit of any fund of such fire protection district, shall upon such dissolution be applied to the maintenance and repair of the highways of such district. Property of district.

SEC. 10. The board of directors of each county fire protection district shall annually on or before the 20th day of July estimate the amount of money which will be needed to defray the cost of maintenance thereof, and to meet such other expenditures as are authorized by this act in connection therewith, and shall also ascertain from the assessor or assessors the assessed value of the assessable property within the district. Said board shall then determine the amount of the tax sufficient to raise the sum estimated to be necessary; provided, that the amount of money to be raised for the purpose of establishing and equipping said district with fire-fighting facilities shall not in any one year exceed one per cent of the assessable property within the district, and the amount of money to be raised for the purpose of maintaining said district each year shall not exceed one-half of one per cent of the assessable property within the district. When so determined, the amount of said tax shall be certified to the boards of supervisors of the counties in which any portion of said district is located and such boards of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of county taxes for that year, levy the tax certified upon all the real property together with the improvements thereon in said district. Said tax when levied shall be entered upon the assessment rolls and collected in the same manner as state and county taxes. When the same is collected it shall be placed in the treasury of the county in which the greater portion of said district is located, to the credit of the current expense fund of said district and shall be used only for the purpose for which it was raised. All accounts, bills and demands against the district shall be Levy and collection

audited, allowed and paid by the board of directors by warrants drawn on the county treasurer. The county treasurer shall pay them in the order in which they are presented.

Dissolution
of district

SEC. 11. Any such county fire protection district may be dissolved by the board of supervisors which formed it as in this act provided. Upon receiving a petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the owners of land within such district, requesting the dissolution thereof, the board of supervisors shall by resolution call an election which shall be called, noticed and conducted in all respects in a manner similar to that provided for with reference to the formation of such district. If it appears that a majority of the owners of land voting at said election have voted in favor of dissolution, the directors shall cause such facts to be entered upon their minutes and shall forward a copy of such entry to the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is situated, and shall also record a copy of such entry with the county recorder. On and after such filing and recording, such district shall be deemed dissolved; provided, that if at the time of the dissolution of said district there shall be any outstanding or bonded indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonds or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected, the same as if such district had not been dissolved and disincorporated, but for all other purposes such district shall be deemed dissolved from the time of the filing of said copy of such entry with the clerk of the board of supervisors and the recording of said copy of such entry with the county recorder.

Annexation,
etc. of territory

Petition

SEC. 12. The boundaries of any county fire protection district formed under this act may be altered and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof in the following manner: The board of directors of any such district, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the territory proposed to be annexed (which said territory shall be contiguous to said district), and signed by not less than twenty per cent of the holders of title or evidences of title to lands within the territory proposed to be annexed and whose names appear as such on the last preceding county assessment roll, shall cause a notice of filing of such petition to be published in the same manner and for the same time as is required as to notices of the proposed formation of a county fire protection district under this act.

filing

The notice shall state the filing of such petition and the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petition: and it shall notify all persons interested in, or that may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district, to appear at the offices of said board, at a time named in said notice, and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the proposed change in boundaries should not be made. The time specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of time for the publication of the notice. The petitioners shall advance to the board sufficient money to pay the estimated costs of all proceedings.

The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in said notice, or at such other time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition, and all objections thereto presented in writing by any interested parties, who shall be holders of title or evidences of title to lands within the district or within the territory proposed to be annexed. Hearing

The board of directors to whom such petition is presented may require as a condition precedent to the granting of the same, that the petitioners shall severally pay to such district such respective sums as nearly as the same can be estimated (the several amounts to be determined by the board), as such petitioners or their grantors would have been required to pay such districts as taxes, had such lands been included in such district at the time the same was originally formed. Payment as condition of annexation

At such hearing, the board of directors shall hear and determine all objections and shall exclude all lands within the territory proposed to be annexed which will not be benefited by inclusion in said district. If the board of directors deem it for the best interest of the district that the boundaries of the district be changed as proposed or as such proposal may be altered by the exclusion of lands not benefited, the board shall submit the question of such change in boundaries at the next election to be held in such district and shall call an election to be held at the same time within the territory to be annexed. Notice of such elections shall be given in the same manner as that prescribed for annual elections of directors. The ballots cast at said election shall contain the words "For change of boundary" or "Against change of boundary," or words equivalent thereto. The notice of election shall describe the proposed change of the boundaries in such manner and terms that it can readily be traced. The qualifications for votes at such elections shall be the same as for other elections in the district and votes by proxy shall be allowed as in such other elections. Election on annexation, etc

The returns of the votes cast in said outside territory proposed to be annexed and in the district shall be canvassed separately and the board of directors shall cause a record of said canvass to be made and entered in its minutes. If it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of the votes cast in the district and in the territory proposed to be annexed are in favor of the change in boundary, the board shall so find and upon the filing of a certified copy of such finding under seal of the district in the office of the county recorder, said territory shall be a part of said district. Canvass of votes.
Annexation.

Destroying or injuring bridges, dams, levees,
etc

SECTION 1. Section 607 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

607. Every person who wilfully and maliciously cuts, breaks, injures or destroys any bridge, dam, canal, flume, aqueduct, levee, embankment, reservoir, or other structure erected to create hydraulic power, or to drain or reclaim any swamp, overflow, tide or marsh land, or to store or conduct water for mining, manufacturing, reclamation, or agricultural purposes, or for the supply of the inhabitants of any city or town, or any embankment necessary to the same, or either of them, or wilfully or maliciously makes, or causes to be made, any aperture or plows up the bottom or sides in such dam, canal, flume, aqueduct, reservoir, embankment, levee, or structure, with intent to injure or destroy the same; or draws up, cuts or injures any piles fixed in the ground for the purpose of securing any sea bank, or sea walls, or any dock, quay or jetty, lock, or sea wall; or who, between the first day of October and the fifteenth day of April of each year, plows up or loosens the soil in the bed or on the side of any natural water course, reclamation or drainage ditch, with an intent to destroy the same without removing such soil within twenty-four hours from such water course, reclamation or drainage ditch, or who, between the fifteenth day of April and the first day of October of each year, shall plow up or loosen the soil in the bed or on the sides of such natural water course, reclamation or drainage ditch, with an intent to destroy the same and shall not remove therefrom the soil so plowed up or loosened before the first day of October next thereafter, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail, not exceeding two years, or by both; provided that nothing in this section shall be construed so as to in any manner prohibit any person from digging or removing soil from any such water course, reclamation or drainage ditch, for the purpose of mining

CHAPTER 736.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered 4041.24a, relating to the withdrawal of county records.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section, to be numbered 4041.24a, is hereby added to the Political Code, and to read as follows:

4041.24a. Under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law, and in addition to jurisdiction and powers otherwise conferred, the boards of supervisors in their respective counties, have the jurisdiction and powers to permit non-profit incorporated historical societies to withdraw from the county records for exhibition purposes within the county any original document filed prior to January 1, 1876, when application for such withdrawal is made in writing by the authorized agent of such society, after preparing a certified copy at the applicant's expense, and filing it in place of the original.

CHAPTER 737.

An act to amend section 4 of an act entitled "An act to define collection agencies; to provide for the regulation, bonding, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for violation thereof," approved May 14, 1927, as amended.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4 of an act entitled "An act to define collection agencies; to provide for the regulation, bonding, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for violation thereof." approved May 14, 1927, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. The applicant shall file with the application a bond which shall run to the people of the State of California. Such bond shall be executed and acknowledged by the applicant as principal, and by two natural persons as sureties, in which event the bond shall be in the sum of two thousand dollars, or by a corporation which is licensed by the insurance commissioner of this state to transact the business of fidelity and surety insurance, in which event the bond shall be in the sum of one thousand dollars. If the sureties are natural persons the bond must be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county in which each resides and there shall be attached thereto the affidavit of each such sureties that he is a resident and a householder or freeholder within this state and is worth the sum of two thousand dollars, over and above all his just debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution. In either case the bond shall be conditioned that the principal, who shall be the applicant, shall and will, upon demand in writing, pay and turn over to or for the use of any customer from whom any claim is taken or received for collection the proceeds of such collection, in accordance with the terms of the agreement made between the said principal and the said customer, and conditioned that the principal will comply with all requirements of this or of any other statute now in force or hereafter enacted with respect to the duties, obligations and liabilities of collection agencies. Such bond shall cover all matters placed with said licensee during the term of said license so applied for, or renewal thereof and liability thereunder shall continue in accordance with the provisions of section 10. Such bond may be enforced in the manner provided for the enforcement of bonds and undertakings in actions or special proceedings.

CHAPTER 738.

An act to amend section 1161 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to unlawful detainer.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1907,
p 29

Unlawful detainer defined

1 Continuing in possession after expiration of term

2 Continuing in possession after default in payment
of rent.

SECTION 1. Section 1161 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1161. A tenant of real property, for a term less than life, is guilty of unlawful detainer:

1. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, of the property, or any part thereof, after the expiration of the term for which it is let to him, without the permission of his landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be; including a case where the person to be removed became the occupant of the premises as a servant or employee and the relation of master and servant or employer and employee has been lawfully terminated, or the time fixed for such occupancy by the agreement between the parties has expired; but nothing in this subdivision contained shall be construed as preventing the removal of such occupant in any other lawful manner; but in case of a tenancy at will, it must first be terminated by notice, as prescribed in the Civil Code.

2. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, without the permission of his landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, after default in the payment of rent, pursuant to the lease or agreement under which the property is held, and three days' notice, in writing, requiring its payment, stating the amount which is due, or possession of the property, shall have been served upon him and if there is a subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, also upon such subtenant.

Such notice may be served at any time within one year after the rent becomes due. In all cases of tenancy upon agricultural lands, where the tenant has held over and retained possession for more than sixty days after the expiration of the term without any demand of possession or notice to quit by the landlord or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, he shall be deemed to be holding by permission of the landlord or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, and shall be entitled to hold under the terms of the lease for another full year, and shall not be guilty of an unlawful detainer during said year, and such holding over for the period aforesaid shall be taken and construed as a consent on the part of a tenant to hold for another year.

3. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, after a neglect or failure to perform other conditions or covenants of the lease or agreement under which the property is held, including any covenant not to assign or sublet, than the one for the payment of rent, and three days' notice, in writing, requiring the performance of such conditions or covenants, or the possession of the property, shall have been served upon him, and if there is a subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, also, upon such subtenant. Within three days after the service of the notice, the tenant, or any subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, or any mortgagee of the term, or other person interested in its continuance, may perform the conditions or covenants of the lease or pay the stipulated rent, as the case may be, and thereby save the lease from forfeiture; provided if the conditions and covenants of the lease, violated by the lessee, can not afterward be performed, then no notice, as last prescribed herein, need be given to said lessee or his subtenant, demanding the performance of the violated conditions or covenants of the lease.

A tenant may take proceedings, similar to those prescribed in this chapter, to obtain possession of the premises let to a subtenant, in case of his unlawful detention of the premises underlet to him.

4. Any tenant or subtenant assigning or subletting or committing waste upon the demised premises, contrary to the conditions or covenants of his lease, thereby terminates the lease, and the landlord, or his successor in estate, shall upon service of three days' notice to quit upon the person or persons in possession, be entitled to restitution of possession of such demised premises under the provision of this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 1013 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Service by mail, how made

1013. In case of service by mail, the notice or other paper must be deposited in the United States post office, in a sealed envelope, with postage paid, addressed to the person on whom it is to be served, at his office address as last given by him on any document which he has filed in the cause and served on the party making service by mail; otherwise at his place of residence. The service is complete at the time of the deposit, but if, within a given number of days after such service, a right may be exercised, or an act is to be done by the adverse party, the time within which such right may be exercised or act be done, is extended one day, together with one day additional for every full one hundred miles distance between the place of deposit and the place of address, if served by different post offices, but such extension shall not exceed thirty days in all.

New section

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be known as section 1013a, to read as follows:

Proof of
service.

1013a. Proof of service by mail may be made by affidavit affixed to the original, or to a true copy, of the document served and filed in the cause, showing the name and residence or business address of the person making the service, showing that he is a citizen of the United States and resident in the county where the mailing occurs, that he is over the age of eighteen years and not a party to the cause, and showing the date and place of deposit in the mail, the name and address of the person served as shown on the envelope, and also showing that the envelope was sealed and deposited in the mail with the postage thereon fully prepaid, and that there is delivery service by United States mail at the place so addressed, or that there is regular communication by mail between the place of mailing and the place so addressed.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the state civil service act to be numbered 26a and to read as follows: New section

Sec. 26a. The term, disabled veteran, as used in this act means and includes any person who has served in the United States army, navy or marine corps in time of war or in any Disabled veteran defined.

expedition of the armed forces of the United States, and received an honorable discharge or certificate of honorable act of service, proof of which shall be submitted to the civil service commission at the time of examination, and who was disabled as a result of such service. Proof of such disability shall be deemed conclusive if the same be of record in the United States veterans administration.

Stats 1921,
p 958

SEC. 2. Section 27 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Preference for veterans

Sec. 27. The civil service commission shall by rule establish preference for veterans as follows: In the case of entrance examinations to establish eligible lists for policemen and watchmen, veterans who become eligible for appointment by attaining the passing mark established for the examination, and whose service as veterans exceeds three months, shall be classified on such eligible lists in the relative order of the individual ratings attained, and ahead of all nonveterans passing such examinations, and shall be eligible for appointment on the basis of such order of standing on such eligible lists.

In the case of all other entrance examinations, veterans with thirty days or more of service, and widows of veterans who were married to such veterans on or before November 11, 1918, who become eligible for appointment by attaining the passing mark established for the examination, shall be allowed an additional credit of five points, provided that disabled veterans shall be allowed an additional credit of ten points, which shall be added to the percentages attained in such examinations by such veterans, and they shall be placed on eligible lists and be eligible for appointment in the order and on the basis of the percentages attained by them in examinations after such credit of five points, or ten points in the case of disabled veterans, shall have been added. All ties shall be decided in favor of veterans; provided, however, in the case of promotional examinations, a credit of three points shall be allowed to veterans and widows of veterans who were married to such veterans on or before November 11, 1918.

The civil service commission, for specific state services or employments, as determined by the commission, may, in examination, allow general or individual preferences in rating to veterans who have suffered permanent disability in line of duty; provided, that such disability would not prevent the proper performance of the duties required under such service or employment, and provided that such disability was of record in the files of the war department as of July 1, 1920.

In the case of examination to establish eligible lists for artisans, and in which credits are allowed for experience as a journeyman, periods of service in the armed forces of the United States, whether as artisan or otherwise, shall be counted by the commission as journeyman experience.

CHAPTER 743.

An act to amend sections 7, 7a and 7b of an act entitled "An act authorizing the establishment of municipal courts, prescribing their constitution, regulation, government, procedure and jurisdiction, and providing for the election and appointment of the judges, clerks and other attaches of such courts, their terms of office, qualification and compensation and for the selection of jurors therein," approved May 23, 1925, as amended, relating to the organization of municipal courts in cities or cities and counties of the first and one-half class; to provide for the number of judges, clerks, marshals and other officers and attaches of such municipal courts and their deputies; to fix the compensation therefor.

Stats. 1925,
p. 648,
amended.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7 of an act entitled "An act authorizing establishment of municipal courts, prescribing their constitution, regulation, government, procedure and jurisdiction, and providing for the election and appointment of the judges, clerks and other attaches of such courts, their terms of office, qualification and compensation and for the selection of jurors therein," approved May 23, 1925, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1929,
p. 1336

Sec. 7. The municipal court in a city or city and county of the first and one-half class shall be constituted and the judges, officers and attaches thereof shall be as herein enumerated and shall receive the compensation herein fixed, as follows:

Municipal courts cities of first and one-half class (Los Angeles).

There shall be thirty judges, each of whom shall receive seven thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable in equal monthly installments; one clerk to be appointed by the judges of the court who shall receive five hundred dollars per month; one marshal to be appointed by the judges of the court, who shall receive five hundred dollars per month; one referee to be appointed by the judges of the court who shall receive three hundred twenty-five dollars per month.

SEC. 2. Section 7a of said act, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1929,
p. 1336.

Sec. 7a. The clerk of the municipal court in cities of the first and one-half class shall appoint the following deputies and attaches who shall each receive as monthly compensation the sum set opposite the title of their respective offices or positions:

Same clerk,
etc.

One chief deputy clerk, four hundred dollars;

One deputy clerk (chief clerk traffic department), three hundred twenty-five dollars;

One deputy clerk (chief clerk civil department), three hundred twenty-five dollars;

One deputy clerk (chief clerk criminal department), three hundred twenty-five dollars;

Three deputy clerks, two hundred fifty dollars;

One deputy clerk, two hundred seventy-five dollars;

One deputy clerk (secretary to presiding judge who shall also act as jury commissioner), three hundred twenty-five dollars;

Thirty-eight deputy clerks, two hundred twenty-five dollars;

Twenty deputy clerks, one hundred seventy-five dollars;

Eight deputy clerks, one hundred sixty dollars;

Thirty-six deputy clerks, one hundred fifty dollars;

Thirty-two deputy clerks, one hundred thirty dollars;

Four deputy clerks, one hundred twenty-five dollars.

SEC. 3. Section 7b of said act, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Same marshal, etc

Sec. 7b: The marshal of the municipal court in cities of the first and one-half class shall appoint the following deputies and attaches who shall receive as monthly compensation the sums set opposite the title of their respective offices or positions:

One assistant marshal at three hundred fifty dollars; one deputy (chief clerk) at two hundred fifty dollars;

Two deputies at two hundred twenty-five dollars;

Two deputies at two hundred dollars;

Two deputies at one hundred ninety dollars;

Forty-eight deputies at one hundred seventy-five dollars;

One deputy at one hundred sixty-five dollars;

Six deputies at one hundred fifty dollars;

Six deputies at one hundred thirty dollars;

One hundred deputy marshals (custodians), five dollars per day.

The deputy marshals serving as custodians shall be paid only for their actual services as keepers of property taken under legal process and shall be paid out of the funds deposited by the parties to the action in which such services are rendered.

In addition to the salaries in this section above provided, the marshal and deputy marshals shall be allowed their necessary incidental expenses incurred in the performance of their duty. They may be furnished with automobiles at public expense for use in the service of writs and process or may in lieu of other traveling expenses be allowed not to exceed six cents per mile for the operation of automobiles furnished by themselves while actually used on public business in the performance of their duty.

CHAPTER 744.

An act to amend sections 2, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10, 40 and 41 of an act entitled "Acquisition and improvement act of 1925," approved May 23, 1925, statutes 1925, page 849, as amended, relating to acquisition and improvement of property, limiting the amount of special assessments that may be imposed, providing that the bar of a majority protest can not be overruled, relating to the form of protests, relating to the manner of collection of special assessment taxes and providing for the acceptance of matured unpaid bonds and interest coupons in payment for property sold for delinquency in the payment of special assessment taxes of the district for which such bond was issued.

p 849,
amended.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of an act entitled "Acquisition and improvement act of 1925." approved May 23, 1925, statutes 1925, page 849, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1925,
p 849.

Sec. 2. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the legislative body of any county and the legislative body of any municipality are hereby severally authorized and empowered to order the acquisition, or improvement (as those terms are defined hereafter in this act), or both such acquisition and improvement, of any one or more of the public ways, or of property or of rights of way of the public over which they are herein invested with jurisdiction. Separate proceedings may be had and taken for such an acquisition or improvement or both such acquisition and improvement may be included within and consummated in a single proceeding. Where the latter procedure is followed, public ways already acquired, as well as the whole or a portion of those to be acquired under the proceeding, may be improved under the one proceeding. The acquisitions and improvements above provided for may comprehend and include the whole or any portion or portions, either in length or in width, of any one or more of such public ways, property and rights of way, whether the same are contiguous or otherwise and neither the various items of the improvement or improvements, nor of the acquisition or acquisitions, nor the improvement and acquisition as a whole, included in a proceeding need be contiguous or coterminous. In addition to the above authority, power and jurisdiction, there is hereby granted the following authority, power and jurisdiction: To issue and sell, or otherwise dispose of, bonds representing the cost and expenses of any such acquisitions and improvements, as in this act hereafter provided; to constitute a fund for the payment of such bonds as in this act hereafter provided and to levy and collect special assessment taxes upon districts as in this act hereafter provided; to establish such districts and determine their boundaries and to establish and fix the boundaries of zones therein, as in this act hereafter provided; to establish grades for the doing of any work or the making of any improvement authorized in this act, as in this act hereafter provided; to make transfers of money from county funds or funds of the municipality to such special funds as are in this act hereafter provided; to purchase material and furnish the same to be used in any of the improvements comprehended in this act, as in this act hereafter provided; to make direct contributions of money in part payment of the expenses of any one or more or all of the acquisitions and improvements comprehended in this act; to create and administer revolving funds to facilitate and assist in the carrying on and completing of such acquisitions and improvements, as in this act hereafter provided; and to do any and all things necessary or incidental to the accomplishment of the things which are permitted to be done under this act. The jurisdiction of the legislative body of a county shall extend over and it shall have said power and authority to acquire and improve public ways within the boundaries of such county, and also those forming the exterior boundary of any municipality or municipalities where the same join unincorporated territory of the county, and also public ways and publicly owned property lying within one or more municipalities, where, in the case of an acquisition, the proposed acquisition, in the judgment of said legislative body, is necessary or proper to complete, connect with, or render of greater use to the public any public way or ways or public property in unincorporated territory of the county already acquired or to be acquired under the proceeding; and where, in the case of an improvement, the proposed improvement, in the judgment of said legislative body, is necessary or proper to complete, connect with, or render of greater use to the public any existing improvements in or on any public way or ways or public property in unincorporated territory of the county, or any improvements to be made under the proceeding; provided, that the consent of the legislative body or bodies of such municipality or municipalities, within the boundaries of which such public ways and property lie, shall first be obtained thereto and to the assessment of the property therein, which, in the opinion of the legislative body of the county, will be benefited thereby. Likewise, the jurisdiction of the legislative body of a municipality shall be extended over and it shall have said power and authority to acquire and improve public ways within the boundaries of such municipality, and also those forming its exterior boundaries where it joins unincorporated territory of the county or the territory of another municipality, and also public ways and public property lying within unincorporated territory of a county and of one or more other municipalities, where, in the case of an acquisition, the proposed acquisition, in the judgment of said legislative body, is necessary or proper to complete, connect with, or render of greater use to the public, any public way or ways or public property within the municipality for which said legislative body functions, whether already acquired or to be acquired under the proceeding; and where, in the case of an improvement, the proposed improvement, in the judgment of said legislative body, is necessary or proper to complete, connect with, or render of greater use to the public any existing improvements in or on any public way or ways or public property within said municipality, or any improvements to be made under the proceeding; provided, that the consent of the legislative body or bodies of the county and of such other municipality or municipalities within the boundaries of which such ways and property lie, expressed by resolution, shall first be obtained thereto and to the assessment of the property therein, which, in the judgment of the legislative body of the municipality conducting the proceeding will be benefited thereby. The true intent and meaning of the above provisions for such acquisitions and improvements is that the necessary jurisdiction and power for the consummation thereof shall be vested in, and proceedings therefor may be had and taken by, the legislative body either of the county or of any municipality in which the public interest or convenience is affected thereby and that each of said legislative bodies shall have concurrent jurisdiction to initiate such proceedings; provided, that the legislative body initiating the proceeding and adopting the resolution of intention therefor, as hereinafter provided, shall thereafter have exclusive jurisdiction of the proceeding and of all acquisitions and improvements comprehended therein, for the purposes of consummating the same.

Concurrent jurisdiction

The legislative body initiating a proceeding under the provisions of this act, in addition to the authority, power and jurisdiction hereinbefore granted, shall have jurisdiction and power to include within the boundaries of an assessment district created pursuant to the provisions of this act lands lying within the boundaries of one or more municipalities and in the unincorporated territory of a county when such lands, in the opinion of the legislative body initiating the proceeding, will be benefited by the proposed acquisition or improvement or both, whether such acquisition and/or improvement lies partly or wholly within or without the municipality or municipalities or the unincorporated territory of the county, of which such benefited lands form a part; provided that the consent to the inclusion of the lands lying within a municipality shall be granted by resolution of the legislative body of such municipality; and the consent to the inclusion of lands lying within the unincorporated territory of a county shall be granted by resolution of the legislative body of such county.

SEC. 2. Section 4 of said "Acquisition and improvement act of 1925," as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Improve ments specifications

SEC. 4. The legislative body desiring to initiate proceedings for the making of any acquisition or improvement, or both an acquisition and improvement, under the provisions of this act, may, by an order to be entered upon its minutes, designate some county officer, if the legislative body be that of a county, or some municipal officer, if it be that of a municipality, or some other competent person, in either case, and direct him to prepare and furnish specifications for the proposed acquisition or improvement, or both. The said specifications, in the case of an improvement, shall include all plans, profiles, cross sections and specifications necessary therefor, together with a statement of the estimated cost of the improvement (inclusive of incidental expenses and costs of the proceeding), a description of the district to be benefited by the proposed improvement and a map or plat showing the same and also the different zones within said district (if any are necessary because of varying benefits) containing the lands to be benefited in like measure but in a different measure from those in other zones therein, with a statement as to what percentage of the sum to be raised each year for the payments on the principal and interest of the bonds should be raised from each zone, and a statement of the total assessed value of the lands within said district and in each zone therein and shall show the grades to which the contemplated improvements are to be constructed. In the case of an acquisition, the said specifications shall include descriptions of all property to be acquired, together with a map or plat showing the same, the total sum of the estimated expense of said acquisition (which expenses shall include the estimated amount of just compensation and damages, the estimated expenses chargeable to the plaintiff in the condemnation action, and the estimated incidental expenses of the proceeding) and a description of the district to be benefited by the proposed acquisition and a map or plat thereof; and the other matters relating to zones and percentages and assessed value of the lands in said district and each zone therein as above required in the case of improvements. In the event that the contemplated proceeding includes both an acquisition and improvement, all of the above requirements shall be included in the specifications; the district, zones and percentages set forth to comprehend both the contemplated acquisition and improvement. Said specifications shall be signed by the person designated and directed to prepare them and be presented to the legislative body ordering them. Said legislative body shall examine the said specifications and may approve them or order modifications or changes to be made therein. When approved by the legislative body they shall be filed with the clerk of said body. At any time before the adoption of a resolution of intention the specifications may be corrected or modified by the order of said body.

Such legislative body shall not have jurisdiction to adopt a resolution of intention in any case unless the specifications as finally corrected or modified shall show that the estimated cost of any acquisition or improvement, or both, less any amount proposed to be paid toward such cost from a source other than special assessments upon the lands proposed to be specially assessed, will not exceed one-half the aggregate assessed value of such lands, and that the net amount to be paid by special assessment in any zone in the proposed district will not exceed the aggregate assessed value of the lands in such zone, unless said legislative body shall find by the unanimous vote of all the members thereof entered upon its minutes that the proposed project is feasible, and that the lands to be assessed will be able to carry the burden of such proposed assessment. The assessed value shall be the value shown upon the last equalized assessment roll of the county or municipality, the legislative body of which is conducting the proceeding, except that where the proposed district lies partly in incorporated and partly in unincorporated territory or within the territory of two municipalities, the last equalized county assessment roll shall be used. If the assessed value of any parcel of land is not separately shown upon said assessment roll, an estimated assessed value of such parcel shall be made by the city or county assessor and such estimate shall be considered the assessed value of such parcel for the purposes of this act.

Resolution
of intention.
limitations

If a statute known as "Special assessment investigation, limitation and majority protest act of 1931" shall become law, the provisions of such statute shall apply to all proceedings under this act, except that such statute shall not operate to permit any proceeding which this section would require to be abandoned, and in no proceeding under this act may the limitations provided in this section or by said statute be exceeded except by such unanimous vote of the legislative body.

Stats 1931,
Ch 642

The limitations hereby imposed shall not apply to any proceeding in which an ordinance or resolution of intention has been finally adopted before the date when this section as amended in 1931 shall become effective.

Any error or informality in the appointment of any officer or other person to prepare specifications, or the omission of a formal order of appointment altogether, shall not invalidate or in any way affect the proceedings.

Errors and informal-ties

In case the consent of any legislative body other than the one conducting the proceeding is required, as provided in section 2 of this act, then, after the specifications shall have been approved and filed, the legislative body conducting the proceeding shall, by resolution, request such consent (or consents, if more than one is necessary), and a copy of the resolution requesting such consent, together with a copy of the specifications, shall be filed with the legislative body, or bodies, whose consent is requested. Such legislative body, or bodies, may consent by resolution.

SEC. 3. Section 5 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Resolution
of intention

Sec. 5. Before ordering any acquisition or any improvement authorized by this act, the legislative body which is to conduct the proceeding shall adopt a resolution of intention so to do, referring to the public way, in the case of a public way already acquired, by its lawful or official name, or the name by which it is commonly known, and, in the case of a public way to be acquired under the proceeding, by the name by which such public way is to be called upon its acquisition, which name shall thereby be fixed and established, and when the acquisition or improvement is of property or a right of way owned or to be acquired by the public, then by briefly describing the said property or right of way. No proceedings for any improvement taken or had under this act shall ever be held to be invalid on the ground that the public way or ways, or any portion thereof, upon which the work or improvement, or any part thereof, is to be or was done has not been dedicated or acquired; provided, the same is lawfully dedicated or acquired or an order of immediate possession and use thereof has been obtained at any time before judgment is entered in the suit involving such proceeding. In the case of an acquisition, the resolution shall briefly set forth that a public way or property or right of way, naming or otherwise briefly describing it, is to be acquired, state the purpose of such acquisition, and describe the property necessary or convenient to be taken therefor, and refer to the specifications on file for all details and for the estimated expense of the acquisition. It shall be determined in said resolution that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition therein set forth, and that said property to be taken is necessary therefor. Said resolution, in the case of an acquisition, shall be adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the members of said legislative body. In the case of an improvement, said resolution shall determine that the public interest and necessity require the improvement set forth in the resolution and shall briefly describe the improvement, it being sufficient to state in general terms the class or kind of work contemplated, (such as grading, paving, sewer-ing, or other work or improvement), and to give in general the location of the proposed improvement and refer to the plans, profiles, detail drawings and specifications therefor, or such of them as may be suitable or proper, (which shall be approved by said legislative body and be on file in the office of the clerk thereof at the time of the adoption of said resolution), for the estimated cost of the improvement, (inclusive of incidental expenses and costs of the proceeding), for a full and detailed description and location of said proposed improvement, and of the grades to which said improvement is to be constructed. Said resolution shall contain the following statement: "The notice of all persons affected is directed to the grades for the ment.

Acquisition

Statements
required

proposed improvement and to the provisions of the acquisition and improvement act of 1925 relating to grades," and in cases where the construction of the proposed improvement will result in a substantial change, (considered with reference to existing physical conditions), with respect to the relation of the elevation of any abutting property to that of the public way as it will exist upon being improved to the proposed grade, there shall be included in said statement the following: "Particular notice is directed to the fact that substantial changes in the relation of the elevation of abutting property to that of said public way, (or ways), as it, (or they), will exist after being improved, will result from the construction of the above-mentioned improvements to the proposed grades" If the doing of the work shall require a change of grade of any railroad track or tracks, the legislative body shall direct the clerk to mail to the owner or reputed owner and/or operator or reputed operator thereof, at its last known address as the same appears on the tax rolls of the city or county, the legislative body of which is conducting the proceeding, or when no address so appears then to such owner and/or operator in case of general delivery in such city or county and to the California railroad commission, printed copies of the resolution of intention within five days after the first publication thereof. Failure to mail said copies or failure of any such owner and/or operator to receive the same or any erroneous address thereon shall not affect the jurisdiction of the legislative body, but in such event the failure of the owner and/or operator of such tracks to make objection to the proposed grades shall not be deemed to be a waiver of all objections to the proposed grades or proposed change or modification of grade, nor operate as a bar to any claim for damages, if recoverable damages there be. If both an acquisition and improvement are contemplated in the same proceeding, one resolution of intention, containing the above requirements in the respective cases, shall be sufficient. Said resolution shall also contain a description of the district of the lands to be benefited by said proposed improvement or acquisition, or both, as the case may be, which shall be known thereafter and which will in this act hereafter be referred to as the "assessment district." Each proceeding under this act may, for convenience, be entitled, and such entitling shall be sufficient for all purposes: "In the matter of acquisition and improvement district No. ----- of the county, (or city, as the case may be), of -----," (giving a different number to each district for which a proceeding is had), and a like designation of the district, (omitting the words "in the matter of"), shall be a sufficient designation of the district at all times and for all purposes. The said description of the assessment district may be in general terms, referring to a plat or map approved by the legislative body conducting the proceeding, which shall be on file in the office of the clerk of such legislative body at the time of the adoption of said resolution of intention, and which shall indicate by a boundary line the extent of the territory to be included in the proposed assessment district, which said plat or map shall govern for all details as to the extent of said assessment district. Said resolution shall also contain a statement that, for the expenses of the things therein proposed to be done bonds will be issued to the total amount of the same, excepting the amount, if any, to be contributed thereto by the county or municipality in money or by the furnishing of materials therefor, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of -----, (not to exceed eight), per cent per annum, payable semiannually, the first interest payment to be made on the second day of January or the second day of July, (whichever month first succeeds the date of the bonds), next succeeding one year after the date of such bonds, and the aggregate principal of all bonds issued under the proceeding to be paid and discharged within -----, (not to exceed thirty), ----- years after the date of issuance, approximately one-----, (not less than one-twenty-ninth), ----- part of such aggregate principal to be payable annually, all in gold coin and that a special fund for the payment of said bonds will be constituted by the levy of special assessment taxes upon the lands within the assessment district, in accordance with the provisions of this act, according to the assessed value of said lands, exclusive of the improvements thereon, except as otherwise in this act provided. The first payment on the aggregate principal of said bonds will be made two years after the issuance of said bonds; provided, however, that if the legislative body so determine, it shall include in said resolution a statement that the first payment on the aggregate principal of the bonds issued will be made ----- (not to exceed five) years after the issuance thereof.

District

Title of proceeding.

maturity

The time within which the acquisition bonds and immediate possession bonds to be issued under the proceeding shall be paid and discharged may differ from the time within which the improvement bonds issued under the proceeding may be paid and discharged, in which case the resolution of intention shall state all matters as to the time within which the bonds issued under the proceeding will be paid and discharged as hereinbefore required, both for the improvement bonds and also for all acquisition bonds and immediate possession bonds, if any.

Interest

Said resolution of intention may provide that the interest rate to be paid on all acquisition bonds and immediate possession bonds, if any, which shall be issued under the proceedings shall not exceed a maximum rate to be stated in said resolution, which maximum rate shall not exceed eight per cent per annum, payable semiannually; and, if such maximum rate be provided for in the case of acquisition bonds and immediate possession bonds, without giving the final and exact interest rate at which such bonds will eventually be issued and sold, said resolution shall contain a statement thereof with respect to such bonds, in lieu of the statement hereinbefore in this section provided.

The lands upon which said special assessment taxes shall be levied shall be all those lying within the assessment district, including any lands which are the operative property of any public utility, except as otherwise provided in this section; provided, said lands shall not include any lands belonging to the United States government or the State of California, but shall include all lands belonging to a county, municipality, district, public agency, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reformatory institution, or institution for the feeble-minded or insane, included within the assessment district, whether being in use in the performance of any public function or otherwise; provided, however, that the legislative body conducting the proceedings may, in the resolution of intention, declare that any land or lands, describing the same, belonging to any county, municipality, district, public agency, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reformatory institution, or institution for the feeble-minded or insane, lying within the assessment district, or any of them, shall be omitted from the said district and from the levy and collection of the special assessment taxes thereafter to be levied and collected to cover the expenses of the acquisition or improvement, or both, as the case may be, and in the event that said lands or any of them shall by said resolution be so omitted then the total expenses of the things done in the proceeding shall be met by the levying and collection of such special assessment taxes upon and from the remaining lands within the assessment district, without regard to such omitted lands. In order that any such lands may be so omitted, however, it must be determined and set forth in the resolution of intention that such lands are in use in the performance of a public function.

If, in the judgment of the legislative body conducting the proceeding, varying benefits to be derived by the different parcels of land lying within the assessment district so require, the said district may be divided into zones according to benefits. Said district may be divided into as many zones—up to the total number of parcels of land in the district—as may be deemed necessary, and each zone shall be composed of and include all the lands within the district which will be benefited in like measure. Said legislative body shall also determine the percentage of the sum to be raised each year by the levy and collection of said special assessment taxes in said district for the payments on the principal and interest of the bonds, which will be raised from the lands in each zone. When the district is divided into such zones the resolution of intention shall so state, giving said percentages to be raised from the lands in each zone. Each zone shall be designated by a different letter or number and shall be plainly shown upon the map or plat of the assessment district filed in the office of the clerk of said legislative body and referred to in the resolution of intention, either by separate boundaries, coloring, or other convenient and graphic method, so that all persons interested may with accuracy ascertain within which zone any parcel of land is located. It shall be sufficient in all cases where the assessment district is to be divided into such zones according to benefits if the resolution of intention states that fact and refers to said plat or map for the boundaries and all details concerning the said zones.

crossings

In those cases where the improvement consists entirely of a separation of grades at any crossing of a street railroad, inter-urban railroad or railroad by any public way, or vice versa, as provided in section 50 hereof, all operative property owned or operated by the public utility which owns or operates the said railroad shall be omitted from the district and from the levy and collection of special assessment taxes therefor where any part of the cost and expense of such construction is to be, or has been, under an order of the railroad commission of this state, or pursuant to the provisions of any franchise owned or operated by such public utility, borne or paid by such public utility; but where the work of constructing such grade separation, a part of the cost of which is so borne or paid by such public utility, constitutes only a part of the improvement or improvement and acquisition included in the proceeding, the operative property owned and operated by such public utility in the district shall be separately zoned to relieve such property from the levy and collection of any special assessment taxes to cover the expense, as estimated, of the construction of such grade separation, and the percentage assigned to such zone shall represent only the proportionate part of the benefits accruing to such property from the remainder of such improvement or improvement and acquisition, exclusive of the estimated cost and expense of such grade separation.

objections

Said resolution shall contain a notice of a day, hour and place (to be fixed therein) when and where any and all persons having any objections to the proposed acquisition or improvement, or both (if both be included in the proceeding), to the proposed grades to which the improvement (if any) is to be constructed, to the extent of the assessment district, to the zones (if any) into which said district is to be divided, or to the percentages to be raised from each of said zones, or to any or all of the foregoing, may appear before the legislative body conducting the proceeding and be heard. Said time shall not be less than eighteen nor more than sixty days from the date of the adoption of said resolution. The clerk of said legislative body shall cause said resolution of intention to be published by at least two insertions. The date of the first publication shall not be less than fifteen days before the day fixed in said resolution for said hearing.

SEC. 4. Section 8 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1925,

Sec. 8. After the adoption of the resolution of intention the superintendent of work shall cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement, if an improvement is contemplated, and along the line of the property to be acquired, if an acquisition is contemplated, and on all the open streets within the district to be assessed for such acquisition and/or improvement, at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart but not less than three in all, notices of the adoption of said resolution; provided, however, that the failure to post any or all of said notices shall in no event affect the validity of the proceedings or the jurisdiction and power of the legislative body to order the acquisition or improvement, or both. Said notices shall be entitled "Notice of public improvement" in letters of not less than one inch in length; and shall, in legible characters, state the fact of the adoption of the resolution of intention, its date, and briefly and in general terms, the improvement or acquisition, or both, as the case may be, proposed, and refer to the resolution of intention for further particulars. The said notices need not contain a description of the assessment district described in the resolution of intention but may refer to said resolution therefor. Said notices shall contain a statement of the estimated cost of the proposed acquisition or improvement or both. Said notices shall contain also a statement of the day, hour and place when and where any and all persons having any objections to the proposed improvement or acquisition, or both, as the case may be, or to the grade or grades to which the improvement is proposed to be constructed, or to the extent of the assessment district, or to the zones, if any, into which such district is divided, or to the percentages to be raised from each of such zones, or to any or all of the foregoing, may appear before the legislative body and be heard. If deemed advisable and the legislative body so orders, said notices may consist of printed copies of the resolution of intention entitled as above provided, and the same shall be sufficient for all purposes of said notice, but shall include a statement of the estimated cost of the proposed acquisition or improvement or both.

The legislative body shall direct the clerk thereof to mail post card notices of the adoption of the resolution of intention to the owners of real property located within the assessment district whose names and addresses appear on the last equalized assessment roll for general taxes prior thereto or as known to the clerk (if any of said property is located within unincorporated territory then the clerk shall refer to the county assessment roll, otherwise he shall refer to the assessment roll of the city in which the property is located), but the mailing of such notices shall not be essential to obtaining jurisdiction by the legislative body and the failure so to do shall not affect in any manner the validity of any proceedings.

taken hereunder. Such post card notice shall contain a statement of the time, place and purpose of the hearing on the resolution of intention and a statement of the total estimated cost of the proposed acquisition or improvement or both together with a statement that any person interested may file protest as provided in this act. Said post card shall be mailed at least fifteen days prior to the date fixed for said hearing.

Affidavits

The legislative body shall require affidavits to be filed showing the posting of notices and the mailing of post cards before it adopts the resolution ordering the improvement.

Sec. 5. Section 9 of said "Acquisition and improvement act of 1925," as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Filing and hearing of objections

Sec. 9. At any time not later than the hour set for hearing objections as provided in the preceding section, any owner of land within the boundaries of the assessment district as set forth in said resolution may, severally, or with other such owners, file with the clerk of the legislative body conducting the proceedings written objection to the thing or things proposed to be done, whether it be an improvement or acquisition, or both, or to the grade or grades to which the improvement is proposed to be constructed, or to the extent of the assessment district, or to the zones, if any, into which the said district is divided, or to the percentages proposed to be raised from each of said zones, or to any or all of the foregoing. Upon such hearing all objections and protests to the doing of the thing or things proposed to be done shall be heard and considered. If upon said hearing it appears that the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property included within the entire assessment district, as proposed, have in writing made objection to the doing of the thing or things proposed to be done, i. e., the improvement or acquisition, or both, as the case may be, in their entirety, and to the ordering of the same, the legislative body shall, by a resolution to be entered upon its minutes, so find and thereupon such legislative body shall have no power to proceed further under said resolution of intention nor to adopt any resolution for doing the same thing or things during a period of one year next succeeding the time of such finding. In order that such objections operate as a bar, as aforesaid, they must specifically state that the objections are to the doing of the thing or things proposed in their entirety and not merely to some item, class, kind or part of the thing or things proposed to be done. If the fact be that the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property included within the entire district as proposed have not so in writing made objection going to the ordering of the thing or things proposed to be done, as an entirety, the legislative body shall so find, and may thereupon proceed with the hearing, but such finding need not be in writing and may, for the purpose of proceeding with the hearing, be a mere announcement of the body. Next shall be heard, in any order desired by such body, such objections as shall be made to the extent of the district and to the zones, if any, into which said district is divided and to the percentages to be raised therefrom as set forth in the resolution of intention, and objections to the grade or grades to which the improvement is proposed to be constructed.

The hearing may be continued from time to time by the legislative body by an order to be entered upon its minutes.

Owners of land within the meaning of this section are those, and those only, who appear to be such upon the records in the recorder's office of the county in which the district is situated on the day before the day set for said hearing, and an executor or administrator shall be deemed representative of his decedent, and a trustee of an express trust in land, other than as security for the payment of money, of the land held in such trust, and a trustee in bankruptcy of the bankrupt, and a guardian of his ward. Owners of land within the meaning of this section shall also include any person who holds a valid contract to purchase land, which fact must either be shown to be such upon the records in said recorder's office or the owner signing the protest must exhibit his contract to purchase; provided, however, that if both the owner of record and the contract purchaser shall present protests for the same land, only one protest shall be counted. The objection of any owner may be made by the signature of his agent; provided, that there must be attached to the objection the affidavit of the agent that he is duly authorized to sign said objection. Every written objection must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested sufficient to identify it, and must set forth the nature of his interest therein and, if signed by more than one objector, must be accompanied by the affidavit of one of the signers thereto that each signature thereto is the genuine signature of the person whose name is thereto subscribed. No informality or technical insufficiency in the form of any protest shall invalidate such protest if such protest shall be sufficient to identify the property in which the signer is interested, to show that such protest is based upon a ground or grounds authorized hereby and to show that such signer is entitled to file such protest.

SEC. 6. Section 10 of said "Acquisition and improvement act of 1925," as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 10. Unless the power to proceed shall have ceased, as hereinbefore provided, the legislative body shall in conclusion of the aforementioned hearing and as a determination of all questions arising thereat, by resolution to be entered upon its minutes, declare its finding that the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property included in the assessment district have not made written objection going to the entirety of the thing or things proposed to be done. Said legislative body may at the conclusion of the hearing thereon and in said resolution determine the extent and boundaries of the assessment district and may exclude from the district described in the resolution of intention any parcels of land which it may find will not be benefited by the doing of the thing or things proposed to be done. It may also change or modify the zones, if any, into which said district is divided, so that each zone shall be composed of the lands within said district which will be benefited in like measure; and it may also change the percentage of the amount to be raised in each such zone, so that such zoning and the raising of the special assessment taxes therefrom shall best, in its judgment, reflect the benefits to be derived by the parcels of land included therein. If no changes be made in the boundaries of the assessment district, as the same are set forth in the resolution of intention, or no changes are made in the zones or the percentages to be raised therefrom as set forth in said resolution, it shall be sufficient to state that the boundaries of the district, the zones and the percentages to be raised therefrom, are those set forth in the resolution of intention; but if any changes be made in the boundaries of the assessment district, the boundaries as finally determined shall be fully set forth in said resolution, and the plat or map of the assessment district on file in the office of the clerk of said legislative body and referred to in the resolution of intention shall be made to show said boundaries as finally determined, and if any changes be made in the zones referred to in the resolution of intention, the description of the boundaries of said zones, as finally determined, shall be fully set forth, and said plat or map on file in the office of the clerk of the legislative body shall be changed to show the boundaries of said zones as finally determined, and, if any changes be made in the percentages to be raised from the several zones, the resolution shall so state, giving the percentage to be raised from each zone, as finally determined. The boundaries of the district, as the same are set forth in the resolution of intention, shall not be so changed as to include within the district any territory not within its boundaries as set forth in said resolution.

Change of grades.

Said legislative body may also change or modify the grades as set forth in the plans and specifications and referred to in the resolution of intention. If no change or modification be made as to the grades, as the same are set forth in the plans and specifications and referred to in the resolution of intention, it shall be sufficient to state in the resolution adopted at the conclusion of said hearing, that the grades as finally determined, are those set forth in such plans and specifications, but if any changes are made in the grades, as set forth in the plans and specifications and referred to in the resolution of intention, such changes shall be set forth in said resolution adopted at the conclusion of said hearing.

Vote
required.

If any changes or modifications be made in the boundaries of the assessment district, the zones, the percentages to be raised from the several zones, the grades, or any or all of the foregoing, such changes or modifications shall be made by a four-fifths vote of the legislative body.

The boundaries of the assessment district, the location and extent of the zones, if any, and the percentages to be raised therefrom, so determined, shall then be established and prevail for all purposes of the proceeding and until any bonds to be issued for the expenses of the thing or things to be done shall have been fully paid and discharged, and the grades so determined shall be the grades for all the purposes of the proceeding and the improvement to be done thereunder. The findings and determination of said legislative body upon the matters of the extent and boundaries of the assessment district, the zones, if any, into which said district is divided, the percentage of the expenses to be raised from each of said zones, the grades to which the improvement is to be constructed, and the necessity for the acquisition, or improvement, or both, comprehended by the proceeding, shall be final and conclusive.

SEC. 7. Section 40 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

p. 1374.

Sec. 40. The principal and interest of the bonds issued under this act shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of America at the office of the treasurer issuing the same. The legislative body is hereby vested with power to determine, and shall in the resolution of intention determine, the number of years, not to exceed thirty, after the issuance of any bonds issued, within which the aggregate principal of all bonds to be issued in any proceeding under this act shall be paid and discharged, and to fix the rate of interest, not to exceed eight per cent per annum, payable semiannually, to be paid thereon; provided, however, that in the case of acquisition bonds and immediate possession bonds the rate stated in the resolution of intention need only be a maximum rate, which shall not exceed eight per cent per annum, payable semiannually, in which case the exact rate of interest shall be determined upon the sale of the bonds, as heretofore in this act provided. It shall be a sufficient determination and fixing of the term and interest rate of said bonds to set forth in the resolution of intention that bonds will be issued for the expense of the things to be done in any language that will fairly indicate such time, the fractional part of the principal to be paid each year, and the interest rate for improvement bonds and either the interest rate or the maximum interest rate for which acquisition bonds and immediate possession bonds will be issued. It may be provided in said resolution that the first payment of principal shall become due either two, three, four or five years after the date of said bonds. The number of installments of payments on the principal shall be indicated in said resolution of intention, and in any proceeding the number of installments of payments on the principal of improvement bonds may differ from the number of installments of payments on the principal of acquisition bonds and immediate possession bonds, if any, to be issued in said proceeding. The amount of the principal due in each annual payment need not be exactly the same, but with respect to each installment excepting the last may be made to differ not more than five hundred dollars from the amount obtained by dividing the total of the principal amount due under the bonds by the number of installments. Each installment, except the last, shall be an even multiple of one hundred and the last installment shall be for the balance of the total principal amount not provided to be paid in the previous installments

when paid

The interest payments on said bonds shall be payable semiannually on the second day of January and the second day of July of each year, except that the first interest payment shall be made on the second day of January or the second day of July (whichever month first succeeds the date of the bonds) next succeeding one year after the date of said bonds, and except that the last installment of interest shall be payable at the maturity of the bonds, in the manner indicated in the form of bond in this act set forth. It shall not be necessary, either in the resolution of intention or otherwise, to set forth or determine the days of the month on which payments of interest are to be made, nor that payments shall be made in gold coin, nor that payments shall be made at such treasurer's office, but all persons are charged with notice of the contents of this section, especially in the aforesaid particulars.

Stats 1927,

SEC. 8. Section 41 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bonds tax
to pay

Sec. 41. (1) For each district in which bonds have been issued under the provisions of this act a special fund to be named "Acquisition and improvement district No.-----of the county (or city) of ----- interest and sinking fund" (the number to be that of the district) for the discharge and payment of such bonds, whether issued for an acquisition or improvement, or both, and interest thereon, shall be constituted by the county or municipality (as the case may be) whose legislative body has conducted the proceedings, as follows, to wit: In case the district is entirely within one municipality there shall each year at the time of levying taxes for general municipal purposes be levied by the legislative body of such municipality against and upon all of the lands within said district a special assessment tax in an amount clearly sufficient, together with any moneys which are or may be in said fund, to pay all the principal which has become or will become payable and all interest which has become or will become payable on the bonds issued under the proceeding before the proceeds of another tax levy made at the time of the next general tax levy for general municipal purposes can be made available for the payment of said principal and interest. In case the district is entirely within unincorporated territory of the county, or partly within unincorporated territory of the county, and partly within one or more municipalities, or within two or more municipalities, there shall each year at the time of the general tax levy for county taxes be levied by the board of supervisors against and upon all the lands within said district a special assessment tax, in an amount clearly sufficient, together with any moneys which are or may be in said fund, to pay all the principal which has become or will become payable and all interest which has become or will become payable on the bonds issued under the proceeding before the proceeds of another tax levy made at the time of the general tax levy for county purposes can be made available for the payment of said principal and interest. The lands within any such district shall include any land which is the operative property of any public utility and include any lands belonging to any county, municipality, district, public agency, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reformatory institution or institution for the feeble-minded or insane, whether being used in the performance of a public function or not, unless declaration was made in the resolution of intention omitting any of said lands from the assessment to be made; but shall not include any lands belonging to the United States government or to the State of California. If the said district has been divided into zones and the percentage of the expenses to be raised from each such zone has been determined, as provided in this act, in that event the said amount of said special assessment tax to be levied shall be divided according to said percentages and the percentage to be raised from the lands in each zone shall be levied against and upon the lands therein as above provided.

(2) In case the district is entirely within one municipality, the assessment roll for general municipal taxes of such municipality shall be the basis for the levy and computation of said tax (except as to property not assessed thereon), and in case the district lies entirely within unincorporated territory of the county, or partly in unincorporated territory of the county and partly within one or more municipalities, or within two or more municipalities, the county assessment roll for general county taxes shall be the basis for the levy and computation of the tax (except as to property not assessed thereon). Such special assessment taxes shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for county purposes or for municipal purposes, as the case may be, and shall be levied, computed, entered, collected and enforced in the same manner and by the same persons and at the same time and with the same penalties and interest as are other taxes for county purposes or for municipal purposes, as the case may be, and all laws applicable to the levy, collection and enforcement of taxes for county purposes or for municipal purposes, as the case may be, are hereby made applicable to said special assessment tax.

Such special assessment taxes shall be collected and enforced together with, and not separately from, taxes for county purposes or for municipal purposes, as the case may be.

(3) The holder of any matured bond or interest coupon, remaining unpaid for lack of sufficient moneys in the interest and sinking fund of any district created under the provisions

bonds or interest.

Credit
memoranda

of this act, is authorized to apply the credit represented by such unpaid bond or coupon as a medium of exchange in the purchase of lands sold by the state for delinquency in the payment of special assessment taxes of the same district, in the manner hereinafter provided. Upon presentation and surrender to the treasurer of the county or municipality, (as the case may be), whose legislative body has conducted the proceedings, of such matured bonds or interest coupons, or both, the treasurer shall issue to the holder a memorandum in writing, in duplicate, indicating the amount of credit represented by such bonds or coupons to which such holder is entitled to apply upon such tax sale. In the event that such sale is conducted by the county tax collector in accordance with the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, and the holder of such credit memorandum becomes the purchaser, the tax collector shall accept the credit memorandum in lieu of lawful money for that portion of the total price for which any parcel of land is sold, equivalent to the special assessment taxes of such district, together with penalties, on account of which such sale is made; the balance of the price for which such parcel is sold shall be payable in money. The tax collector shall endorse upon said credit memorandum, and the duplicate thereof, the amount of credit applied on such tax sale and the balance, if any, not so applied.

The county treasurer shall accept, and the county auditor, in all settlements with the county tax collector, shall treat such credit memoranda, to the extent that the same have been applied upon such sales, as the equivalent of money. The treasurer shall accept the unused credit, represented by duplicate credit memoranda, as the equivalent of lawful money upon redemption by the purchaser, to the extent of the delinquent special assessment taxes of such district, together with penalties and interest, in the same manner as the tax collector is herein authorized to accept the same upon a sale. The treasurer of the county or municipality, (as the case may be), whose legislative body conducted the proceedings, shall thereupon cancel the bonds and coupons, upon the credit of which sales or redemptions have been made, if the entire amount of the credit memoranda has been applied thereto, and in the event that only a portion of the credit represented thereby has been applied upon sale or redemption, or both, then the treasurer shall endorse upon the face of such bond or coupon the fact that the same has been paid in part, to the extent of the credit so applied, and shall return the bond or coupon, so endorsed, to the holder. If no part of the credit represented by such memoranda is applied to sale or redemption, as herein provided, the treasurer shall, upon surrender of the credit memoranda, cancel the same and deliver the bond or coupon to the owner.

In the event that such sale is conducted by a municipal officer the holder of unpaid matured bonds or interest coupons shall be entitled to apply the same to the purchase of lands sold for delinquency in the payment of special assessment taxes in substantially the same manner, as herein provided for the application of such credit upon sales conducted by the county tax collector. In the event that the procedure prescribed for such municipality contemplates a sale for the full amount of all special assessments, delinquency penalties, interest and costs accruing to the time of sale and involves no redemption, then an original credit memorandum only shall be issued by the treasurer.

(4) It shall be the duty of the county assessor or the city assessor, as the case may be, to assess, exclusive of any improvements thereon, all lands heretofore in this section mentioned (if any there may be in any assessment district formed under this act) not otherwise assessed for purposes of general county taxes or general taxes of a municipality, as the case may be, against which such special assessment taxes are to be levied. The assessment of such lands (if any such there be in the district) shall be made at the same time and in the same manner and by the same persons as the assessment for general county taxes or general taxes of a municipality, as the case may be, and shall be equalized at the same time and in the same manner and by the same persons as such general county taxes or general taxes of a municipality are equalized. And the official or officials who are required to give notice of the equalization of the general county assessment roll or the general municipal assessment roll, as the case may be, shall give notice to all persons interested, for the same time and in the same manner as that given on the equalization of said general assessment rolls, of the equalization of assessments of such lands for the purpose of taxing the same to pay the principal and interest of bonds issued under this act. Said lands need not be described in said notice, but it shall be sufficient to state therein that the lands assessed include all lands in certain acquisition and improvement districts, designating them by their proper names, which are not assessed on the general county or municipal assessment roll, as the case may be, but are subject to assessment under the proceedings creating said assessment districts. At said hearing all persons interested in any lands in said districts may appear and be heard upon any matter of equalization affecting any lands within such districts, and the notice of equalization shall so state.

(5) In the event that there is included within such district any land belonging to any county, municipality, district, public agency, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reformatory institution or institution for the feeble-minded or insane, and which is being used in the performance of a public function, and no declaration was made in the resolution of intention omitting such land from the assessment to be made, or such land was acquired subsequent to the date when the legislative body conducting the proceeding obtained jurisdiction as provided in section 11 hereof, the amount of the special assessment tax levied each year against said land, as above provided, shall be an enforceable obligation against the owner of or the governing body controlling said land, and it shall be the duty of the officer or body having charge of the disbursement of the funds of the owner of said land to pay the amount of said special assessment tax levied, from any of the funds thereof available, immediately upon its becoming due. If for any reason there are no moneys in any of such funds, then the county or municipality, as the case may be, whose legislative body conducted the proceedings shall pay said special assessment tax against said land and the said owner or governing body controlling said land shall reimburse such county or municipality immediately upon the receipt of sufficient moneys in any of its available funds. In all cases in which sufficient funds are not available to make such reimbursement before the time of another tax levy, the board or officers whose duty it is to levy taxes for said owners shall include in the next tax levy an amount, in addition to moneys for all other purposes, sufficient to reimburse said county or municipality.

Funds:
transfer.

(6) The legislative body of the county or municipality, as the case may be, which conducted the proceedings for the acquisition or the improvement, or both, may annually at or prior to the time said tax levy is made, transfer from the general fund of such county or municipality or from any fund which may be used for acquisitions or improvements of a similar character to those made under the proceeding, to the interest and sinking fund above provided for, such amount as in the judgment of said legislative body should be transferred. It is the intention of this provision that further assistance in addition to that, if any, provided for in the resolution of intention and that which may be given as elsewhere provided in this act, may be given by such county or municipality toward the payment of the expenses of the thing or things done under the proceedings after bonds for said expenses shall have been issued and sold, and apart from the loans, and apart from the advances under the revolving fund elsewhere in this act provided.

sufficiency

(7) In any event, it shall be the duty of the legislative body, which is required by this section to levy the special assessment tax, to levy a special assessment tax upon all of the said lands within such district clearly sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as the same shall become payable, and said legislative body is hereby vested with power and jurisdiction to do all and singular the things which in this section aforesaid it is declared shall be done by it. Whenever any of said bonds or any payment of principal or interest thereon shall become due and there shall not be sufficient money in said interest and sinking fund to pay the same, the legislative body which conducted the proceeding may, pending the levy and collection of a special assessment tax therefor, order the amount of money necessary to pay said bonds, or payment of principal or interest so falling due, to be transferred from the general fund of the county or municipality, as the case may be, to said interest and sinking fund, and the amount of money so transferred shall be deemed a loan to said interest and sinking fund and shall be repaid to the general fund from the first money coming into said interest and sinking fund thereafter. Any money remaining in any acquisition and improvement district interest and sinking fund after all of the bonds of the district have been retired shall be transferred to the general fund of the county or municipality, as the case may be, whose legislative body conducted the proceeding and may by said body be used in repairing any public way in said districts, regardless of whether a portion or all of the district as originally formed may have been included within one or more municipalities which did not include such portions or all of the district at the time the proceedings for the same were initiated.

funds

(8) In all cases in which the proceeding is conducted by the legislative body of a municipality where the taxes are required by this action to be levied by the board of supervisors of the county, the clerk of the legislative body conducting the proceedings, in addition to transmitting to the treasurer of such municipality an attested copy of any order or orders for the issuance of bonds in the proceeding, shall transmit to the legislative body of the county a certified copy of such order or orders for the issuance of bonds, together with certified copies of the resolution of intention and of the resolutions and orders in which are set forth the boundaries of the district, the number of zones, if any, and the percentage to be raised from each zone, as said matters were finally determined, and shall also transmit to such legislative body a certified copy of the map of the assessment district showing the boundaries of the district and of the zones therein, if any, as finally determined, and upon the filing with such legislative body of said certified copies it shall thereupon have jurisdiction and the other officers of the county shall have jurisdiction and it shall be their duty to take the steps required in this section for the assessment, levy, computation, entry, collection and enforcement of such special assessment taxes.

(9) In all cases in which the legislative body of a municipality conducted the proceedings, and the county officials levy and collect the taxes, as hereinbefore provided, the proper officers of said county upon collecting the taxes aforesaid shall, not later than the thirtieth day of each month in which said taxes are collected, transmit the same to the city treasurer of the municipality, the legislative body of which conducted the proceedings, together with a statement of the amounts delinquent in each such district, if there be any delinquencies. Provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring the city officials of any municipality which has availed itself of the provisions of any law permitting the duties of city officials relating to the assessment, collection and enforcement of taxes to be performed by county officials, to perform any of the duties herein prescribed relating to the assessment, collection and enforcement of taxes which are performed for said city by county officers, and the taxes required to be levied hereunder shall be assessed, collected and enforced by the persons who perform such duties for said city.

Section 1. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require the board of supervisors of each county of this state shall have full power and authority to order the laying out, opening, extending, widening, or straightening, in whole or in part of any public street, avenue, highway, lane, alley, court or place, within the unincorporated territory of such county or within unincorporated territory of a county and the territory of one or more municipalities, or forming the exterior boundary of any municipality where the same joins the unincorporated territory of a county, and to acquire any and all property necessary or convenient for that purpose, and to cause to be done and performed any work of the character mentioned in that act of the Legislature known as the "Street opening act of 1903" as amended, and as the same shall hereafter be amended, which work and improvement shall be done in accordance with the procedure and in pursuance of the provisions of said act as amended, and as the same shall hereafter be amended, and the provisions of said act, as amended and as the same shall hereafter be amended, are hereby adopted by reference for the purposes of this act; provided, that certain words used in said act, which is adopted by reference herein, shall, for the purposes of this act, be construed as follows: the words "city" and "municipality" shall be construed as referring to "county," the words "city council" as referring to "board of supervisors," the words "clerk," "city clerk" and "clerk of the city council" as referring to "county clerk" (ex officio clerk of the board of supervisors), the words "street superintendent" and "city engineer" as referring to "county surveyor," provided, however, that the board of supervisors may appoint any competent person, with such compensation as shall be fixed in its resolution of intention, or any county officer, other than the county surveyor, as the person or officer to perform all or any portion of the duties conferred upon the street superintendent or city engineer in said act (provided that where said act requires any things or act to be "done" and "delivered" by the city engineer to the street superintendent, it shall be sufficient if said things or acts are done by the county surveyor or such other person or officer as the board of supervisors shall appoint to perform said acts, without the necessity of their being "delivered" to any other officer), the words "treasurer" and "city treasurer" as referring to "county treasurer," the words "city attorney" as referring to "district attorney," except that in counties having a freeholders' charter creating the office of county counsel, the words "city attorney" shall be construed as referring to "county counsel," and all other words relating to municipal officers or matters shall be construed as referring to the corresponding county officers or matters under this act.

SEC. 3. A new section to be added to said act and to be known as section 1a to read as follows: New section.

Sec. 1a. The board of supervisors shall have jurisdiction and power, whenever any improvements are ordered to be made under the provisions of this act whether lying wholly within unincorporated territory of a county or partly within unincorporated territory of a county and the territory of one or more municipalities or along the exterior boundary of a municipality, where such municipality joins unincorporated territory of the county, to determine that the lands to be assessed for such work or improvement, may include lands lying within the boundaries of any municipality benefited thereby, and all of such lands may be assessed and taxed therefor, under the procedure prescribed by this act, the same as though such lands were situated exclusively in the unincorporated territory of the county and with the same effect, provided, that consent to the inclusion of such benefited lands within the boundaries of any such municipality or municipalities first shall have been granted by resolution of the legislative body of such municipality or municipalities. Stats 1927, p. 1088, amended. An act to amend sections 5, 6, and 9 and to add section 8a to an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, management, alteration of boundaries, and dissolution of sewer maintenance districts in unincorporated territory of counties, defining the powers of such districts and providing for the levy and collection of taxes to defray the expenses thereof," approved May 19, 1927, statutes of 1927, page 1088, relating to sewer maintenance districts.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927, p 1088. SECTION 1. Section 5 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, management, alteration of boundaries, and dissolution of sewer maintenance districts in unincorporated territory of counties, defining the powers of such districts and providing for the levy and collection of taxes to defray the expenses thereof," approved May 19, 1927, statutes 1927, page 1088, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sewer supervision Sec. 5 The board of supervisors may appoint the county surveyor to supervise the work of cleaning, repairing, reconstructing, renewing, replacmg, operating and maintaining such sewers and their appurtenances and may enter into contracts for the purchase of water to be used in flushing such sewers and for the disposal of sewage collected within such sewer maintenance district.

Stats. 1927, p. 1088, SEC. 2. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Tax levies Sec. 6. The board of supervisors shall have power to levy a tax in each year upon the taxable property in each sewer maintenance district sufficient to defray the cost of maintaining, operating and repairing the sewers in said district and of the maintenance of said district and to meet such other expenditures as are authorized by this act in connection therewith. Such tax shall be levied and collected at the same time and in the same manner as general county taxes levied for county purposes and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the maintenance fund of such district and shall be used only in furtherance of the purposes of this act.

New section SEC. 3. A new section to be added to said act to be known as section 8a, and to read as follows:

Sec. 8a. Upon the inclusion of all the territory of any such sewer maintenance district within one or more incorporated cities either by reason of annexation proceedings or by reason of the incorporation of one or more cities all funds paid into the county treasury to the credit of such district shall be paid over by the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is located as follows: If the whole of such district is included within one incorporated city, such fund shall be paid to the treasurer of said incorporated city and administered by the legislative body of said incorporated city for the purpose of maintaining and operating the sewer or sewers theretofore maintained by said district and said district shall thereupon, by reason of such inclusion, be dissolved; if a part only of such sewer maintenance district is so included within one incorporated city and the remaining part of such district is included within one or more other incorporated cities, so that no portion of the district remains within unincorporated territory of the county, then such proportionate part of such funds shall be paid to the treasurer of each such incorporated city as the assessed valuation of the real property of the portion of the district included therein bore, before being so included, to the total assessed valuation of the real property of the district, and such funds shall be administered by the legislative bodies of said incorporated cities for the benefit of such portions of the sewer maintenance district as are included within such cities and said district shall thereupon, by reason of such inclusion, be dissolved. If less than the whole of such a sewer maintenance district shall be included within one or more incorporated cities either by reason of annexation or by reason of incorporation proceedings, the district shall continue in existence and shall continue to function except that such portion or portions of said district as may have been included within such incorporated city or cities shall from and after such inclusion, and by reason thereof, be withdrawn from said sewer maintenance district. Provided, however, that the inclusion of any of the territory of a sewer maintenance district within one or more incorporated cities shall not operate as a withdrawal of such territory from a sewer maintenance district unless and until any outstanding contract of such sewer maintenance district has expired or such contract, with the consent of the parties thereto, has been modified or canceled so as to relieve such sewer maintenance district of further obligation to pay for future maintenance within the territory so included.

Inclusion of district within incorporated territory

SEC. 4. Section 9 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1927, p 1088.

Sec. 9. The boundaries of any such sewer maintenance district may be altered and outlying contiguous territory be annexed thereto in the following manner:

Annexation of territory

The board of supervisors may by resolution fix a time and place for a hearing upon the question of the annexation of such territory to an existing sewer maintenance district, said resolution describing the boundaries of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed.

The date set for the hearing on such proposed annexation shall be at least three weeks from and after the date of the adoption of the resolution setting the hearing. The board of supervisors shall cause notice of the time, place and purpose of said hearing, to be given by post card mailed to each owner of real property within the boundaries of the territory sought to be annexed and within the district to which such territory is proposed to be annexed whose name and address appears on the last equalized tax roll. In addition the board of supervisors shall cause copies of said resolution to be posted in three conspicuous places within the annexing territory and three of said copies in conspicuous places within the sewer maintenance district to which such territory is proposed to be annexed.

At the time fixed for said hearing or to which it may be continued said board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon said proposal and any objections which may be filed to the inclusion of any property within the proposed annexation.

Determination.

Said board of supervisors shall have the power, by order entered upon its minutes, to determine that such territory or any part thereof will be benefited by annexation to said district and may order that the boundaries of said district be altered to include such benefited territory.

If the territory annexed to such sewer maintenance district shall comprise a portion of a sewer maintenance district theretofore formed under the provisions of this act, upon such annexation becoming complete by the adoption of the order of the board of supervisors as in this section provided, such territory shall thereupon be withdrawn from the sewer maintenance district of which it theretofore formed a part; provided, however, that no withdrawal of territory under the provisions of this section shall become effective unless and until any outstanding contract of the sewer maintenance district from which a portion is sought to be withdrawn has expired or such contract, with the consent of the parties thereto, has been modified or canceled so as to relieve such sewer maintenance district of further obligation to pay for future maintenance within the territory so withdrawn, and the funds remaining on hand upon the completion of such annexation shall have been apportioned between the sewer maintenance district to which the territory was annexed and the sewer maintenance district from which it was withdrawn. The division of such funds shall be prorated in the proportion that the assessed value of the real property of the territory so withdrawn bore to the total assessed value of the real property within the sewer maintenance district prior to such withdrawal.

If the territory annexed to such sewer maintenance district shall comprise all of a maintenance district formed under this act, upon such annexation becoming complete by the adoption of the order of the board of supervisors as in this section provided, the theretofore existing maintenance district so annexed shall thereupon be dissolved; provided, however, that any funds of said sewer maintenance district remaining on hand at the time of the annexation shall be transferred to the sewer maintenance district to which such territory shall have been annexed and any contracts or obligations of said previously existing sewer maintenance district shall become the obligations of the sewer maintenance district to which it has been annexed.

amended.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The title of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities or of which a municipality has possession and the right of use under the provisions of section 14 of article one of the constitution, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, properties or rights of way, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Title
amended

An act to provide for work in and upon public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, and other public property and rights of way, in whole or in part, including property over which possession and right of use has been obtained under the provisions of section 14 of article one of the constitution within municipalities, or within unincorporated territory and one or more municipalities, or lying within two or more municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, properties or rights of way; and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds.

New section

SEC. 2. A new section to be known as section 1a is hereby added to said act, to read as follows:

Authority to extend
district.

Sec. 1a. In addition to the power and authority conferred upon the city council of any municipality by section 1 of this act, and when the public interest or convenience so requires, and whenever, in the opinion of the city council initiating the proceedings, the proposed improvement is of such a character that it directly and peculiarly affects property in two or more municipalities, or in one or more municipalities and unincorporated territory, and that the purposes sought to be accomplished by such improvement can best be accomplished by a single, comprehensive scheme of improvement, there is hereby conferred upon such city council full power and authority to extend such improvement or the boundaries of the district to be assessed therefor beyond the territorial limits of such municipality, and the city council of any municipality shall have full power and authority to establish, change or modify the grade of and to order the whole, or any portion, or portions, either in length or width, of any one or more of the public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, or property or rights of way (including tidelands and submerged lands owned by any municipality in this state) within the limits of the municipality which is carrying through the proceeding in question, and also into the limits of other municipalities or extending from the said municipality through or over one or more other municipalities, or extending through or over one or more municipalities and into unincorporated territory of a county or extending along the exterior boundary between a municipality and unincorporated territory, or along the boundary between two municipalities, whether wholly or partly within or without said boundary, and is hereby vested with jurisdiction to order to be done therein, over or thereon, either singly or in any combination thereof, any of the work mentioned in this act under proceedings heretofore described; and full power and authority to include within the boundaries of an assessment district created pursuant to the provisions of this act, lands lying within the boundaries of any one or more municipalities, or in the unincorporated territory of the county in which the municipality conducting the proceeding is situated, when such lands, in the opinion of the city council conducting the proceeding, will be benefited by the proposed improvement; provided, that the consent of the legislative body of any territory proposed to be assessed shall first be obtained to the formation of the assessment district and, if any of the proposed improvement is to be constructed within such territory, to the improvement described in the resolution of intention and the assumption of jurisdiction thereover for the purposes aforesaid prior to the adoption thereof. The proposed resolution of intention shall be submitted to such legislative body, or bodies, as may have jurisdiction over the territory into which the proposed improvement or the assessment district therefor may extend. When the resolution of intention is approved and the consent of the legislative bodies whose consent is necessary by the provisions hereof is obtained to said improvement and the formation of the assessment district described therein said resolution of intention may be adopted, which consent shall, of itself, constitute assent to the assumption of jurisdiction thereover for all purposes of the proceeding.

Consent.

In the event the assessment district includes property without the territorial jurisdiction of the city council conducting the proceeding, the legislative body of the city or county having jurisdiction thereover may in its discretion, order by resolutions entered upon its minutes, a copy of which shall be transmitted to the city council conducting the proceedings, that any part of the cost or expense of said improvement shall be paid out of the treasury of the municipality or county as the case may be, and a liability for the portion of the costs set forth in said resolution shall thereby be created against said municipality or county. The street superintendent in making up the assessment as provided in section 21 hereof shall deduct from the costs and expenses, in addition to any sum or percentage payable by the city council conducting said proceeding, such part thereof as has been so ordered to be paid out of the treasury of said municipality or county. All notices provided for, to be published by the city clerk, shall be published in a newspaper published and circulated in the county.

Proportional
payment

SEC 3 Section 5 of said act as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1921,
p 222.

Sec 5. After the adoption of the resolution of intention, the street superintendent shall cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement, at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all, or when the work to be done is only upon an entire crossing or intersection or any part thereof, in front of each quarter block or irregular block liable to be assessed, notices of the passage of said resolution.

Notice of
ment

In case the work is chargeable upon a district as herein provided, copies of said notice shall also be posted on all the open streets within such district at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart on each street so posted, but no proceeding shall ever be held invalid for failure to post any street or streets therein if this provision has been substantially complied with. In every case all posting must be fully completed at least ten days before the day set for hearing protests or objections as provided in section 3 hereof.

form

Said notices shall be headed "Notice of Improvement" in letters of not less than one inch in length; and shall, in legible characters state the fact of the passage of the resolution of intention, its date, and briefly, the work or improvement proposed, an estimate of the total cost of the proposed work or improvement, and refer to the resolution of intention for further particulars. Said notices shall contain also a statement of the day, hour and place when and where any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement may appear before the legislative body and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with said resolution.

Notice
mailing

The council shall direct the clerk to mail notices of the adoption of the resolution of intention to all persons owning real property proposed to be assessed whose names and addresses appear on the last equalized assessment roll for city taxes prior thereto or as known to the clerk but the mailing of such notices shall not be essential to obtaining jurisdiction by the council, and the failure so to do shall not affect in any manner the validity of any proceedings taken hereunder. Such notice shall contain a statement of the time, place and purpose of the hearing on the resolution of intention and a statement of the total estimated cost of the proposed improvement together with a statement that any person interested may file protest as provided in this act. Said notice shall be mailed at least fifteen (15) days prior to the date fixed for said hearing. If the doing of the work shall require a change of grade of any railroad track or tracks, the legislative body shall direct the clerk to mail to the owner or reputed owner and/or operator or reputed operator thereof, at its last known address as the same appears on the tax rolls of the city or county, the legislative body of which is conducting the proceeding, or when no address so appears then to such owner and/or operator in care of general delivery in such city or county and to the California railroad commission, printed copies of the resolution of intention within five days after the first publication thereof. Failure to mail said copies or failure of any such owner and/or operator to receive the same or any erroneous address thereon shall not affect the jurisdiction of the legislative body, but in such event the failure of the owner and/or operator of such tracks to make objection to the proposed grades shall not be deemed to be a waiver of all objections to the proposed grades or proposed change or modification of grade, nor operate as a bar to any claim for damages, if recoverable damages there be. The city clerk shall upon the completion of the mailing of said notices, file with the city council an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of the compliance with the above requirements for mailing such notices.

SEC. 4. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915,
p 1465.

SEC. 6. At any time not later than the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed work as provided in section 3 hereof, any owner of property liable to be assessed for said work may make written protest against the proposed work or against the extent of the district to be assessed, or both. Such protest must be in writing and must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify the same, and be delivered to the said clerk of the city council, and no other protests or objections shall be considered. At the time set for hearing protests the city council shall proceed to hear and pass upon all protests so made and its decision shall be final and conclusive; provided, however, that when the protest is against the proposed work, and the cost thereof is to be assessed upon the property fronting thereon, and the city council finds that such protest is made by the owners of a majority of the property fronting on the proposed work, or when the protest is against the proposed work and the cost thereof is to be assessed upon the property within a district, and the city council finds that such protest is made by the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property to be assessed for said improvements, no further proceedings shall be taken for a period of six months from the date of the decision of the city council on said hearing, unless the said protests be overruled by an affirmative vote of four-fifths of the members of the city council. The words "proposed work" as used herein, shall mean and include all the work described in the resolution of intention. The city council may adjourn said hearings from time to time. Protests

Unless the power to proceed shall have ceased, as hereinbefore provided, the city council may, at the conclusion of the aforementioned hearing, by resolution entered upon its minutes, make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed assessment district and/or changes in the work proposed to be done as it shall find to be proper and advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries and the work proposed to be done, but said city council shall not have the power to modify such boundaries so as to include any territory which will not, in its judgment, be benefited by said improvement. Changes.

Said city council shall not modify such boundaries or change the work proposed to be done except after notice of its intention so to do given by one insertion in said newspaper in which the resolution of intention was published describing the proposed modification and specifying the time for hearing objections to such modification, which time shall be at least Notice of ten days after the publication of said notice. Written objections to said proposed modification may be filed with the clerk of said city council by any interested person at or before the time set for hearing the same. Said city council shall hear and pass upon such objections at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive.

Stats 1915,
p 1466

SEC. 5. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Jurisdiction,
when acquired

Sec. 7. If no protest or objections in writing have been delivered to the clerk up to the hour set for hearing provided in section 3 hereof, or when a protest shall have been found by said city council to be insufficient, or shall have been overruled, or when a protest against the extent of the proposed district shall have been heard and denied, or when modification of said proposed district and/or proposed work has been made and all objections or protests thereto have been heard and denied, immediately thereupon the city council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order the proposed improvements.

Stats. 1923,
p 108.

SEC. 6. Section 17 of said act as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Incidental
expenses

Sec. 17. Before being entitled to a contract, the bidder to whom the award was made, or the owners who have elected to take the contract, must advance to the superintendent of streets, for payment by him, the cost of publication of the notices, resolutions, orders and matters required under the proceedings prescribed in this act, and of such other notices as may be deemed requisite by the city council, together with all other incidental expenses incurred up to the time of entering into the contract. And in case the work is abandoned by the city, the incidental expenses incurred previous to such abandonment shall be paid out of the city treasury, but such expenses for which the city is liable and which shall have been paid thereby may be charged as incidental expenses against the district benefited in any new proceeding had or taken for an improvement which shall include substantially the same thing or things to be done as those included in the abandoned proceedings.

Stats 1920,
p 1661

SEC. 7. Section 21 of said act as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Assessment
to cover

Sec. 21. After the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of the street superintendent of said city, or the city engineer, if such power has been delegated to him, as hereinbefore provided, the superintendent or city engineer, if the power and duty to do so has been delegated to him as hereinbefore provided, shall forthwith make an assessment to cover the sum due for the work performed and specified in said contract (including all incidental expenses), in conformity with the provisions of the preceding section according to the character of the work done. The assessment shall briefly refer to the contract, the work contracted for and performed, and shall show the amount to be paid therefor, together with all incidental expenses, the amount of each assessment against each lot or portion of a lot, the number of each lot or portion or portions of a lot so assessed, and shall have attached thereto a diagram exhibiting each street or street crossing, lane, alley, place or court, property or rights of way on which any work has been done, showing the relative location of each lot, or portion of lot to the work done, numbered to correspond with the numbers of the assessments. The said assessment shall then be filed with the city clerk. Said clerk shall then give notice of the filing of said assessment and of a time to be therein fixed by said clerk when all persons interested in the work done, or in the assessment will be heard by the city council. Such notice shall be posted for not less than five (5) days on or near the council chamber door, and in addition be published twice in a newspaper published in such city if there be any, and if there be none, then in some newspaper published in the county in which such city is located, the first of which publications shall be not less than fifteen (15) days before the time fixed for such hearing. Such notice shall also be given by mailing a notice at least fifteen (15) days prior to the time fixed for such hearing to the owner of each lot listed according to the name and address appearing on the last equalized assessment roll for city taxes prior thereto, or as known to the clerk. Such notice shall designate the property within the assessment district belonging to said owner by street number, or some other description sufficient to enable the property owner to identify the property and a statement of the amount proposed to be assessed against such property. The city clerk shall, upon the completion of such mailing, file with the city council an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of the compliance with the above requirement for such mailing. The failure of the clerk to give such notice by mailing or of the person addressed to receive same shall not affect the jurisdiction of the council to proceed with the hearing noticed. Reference shall be made in said notices to the resolution of intention and the date of its passage or a description of the work therein mentioned and no other description thereof shall be necessary. The owners, the contractor, or his assigns, and all other persons interested in any work done under this act, or in the assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the superintendent of streets, or city engineer in relation thereto, or who claim that the work has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner or who claim that any portion of the work for any reason was omitted or illegally included in the contract for the same, or having or making any objection to the correctness of the assessment or diagram or other act, determination or proceedings of the superintendent of streets, or city engineer, shall

- Errors, etc. prior to the day fixed for the hearing upon the assessment, appeal to the city council by briefly stating in writing the grounds of appeal. Upon such appeal, the said city council may remedy and correct any error or informality in the proceedings, and revise and correct any of the acts or determinations of the street superintendent or city engineer, relative to said work; may confirm, amend, alter, modify or correct the assessment or diagram in such manner as to them shall seem just, and require the work to be completed according to the directions of the city council; and may instruct and direct the street superintendent to correct the warrant, assessment, or diagram in any particular. All the decisions and determinations of said city council, upon notice and hearing as aforesaid, shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to appeal under the provisions of this section, as to all errors, informalities, and irregularities which said city council might have avoided, or have remedied during the progress of the proceedings or which it can at that time remedy.
- Findings conclusive No assessment, warrant, or diagram, and no proceedings prior to the assessment, shall be held invalid by any court for any error, informality, or other defect in the same, where the resolution of intention of the council to do the work, has been actually published as herein provided. When no appeal is taken or when the orders and determinations of the council upon appeal have been complied with, and the council is satisfied with the correctness of the assessment, thereupon the council shall forthwith confirm the proceedings and the assessment and the street superintendent shall attach thereto a warrant bearing the date of said order of said city council.
- Proceedings when not invalid. SEC. 8. Section 24 of said act as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:
- Stats. 1927, p. 1407. Sec. 24. The warrant hereinbefore mentioned, after its delivery to the contractor or his assigns, shall be and constitute full authority to the contractor, his agents or assigns, to collect the said assessments and they shall be free to make demands upon the owners by virtue of said warrant and to demand and receive payment of the same, and give receipt therefor, provided, that they shall not receive any payments on said assessment without delivering such receipt and said contractor, his agents or assigns, immediately shall report said payments to the street superintendent, and the street superintendent shall file all reports of said payments by attaching same in the assessment book and immediately following the record of the assessment, and shall mark upon the assessment the date and fact of payment. The street superintendent also shall, upon presentation of such receipt, mark upon the said assessment note of the said payment.
- Collection of assessments SEC. 9. Section 25 of said act as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:
- Stats. 1929, p. 1663. Sec. 25. The warrant shall be returned to the superintendent of streets on or after thirty (30) days after the date of recording same, with the written statement of all payments
- Contractor's return.

received upon the assessment, signed by the contractor or his assigns. Thereupon, the superintendent of streets shall file the statement so made with the record of the warrant and assessment by attaching it in the same book and immediately following the record of the assessment. Upon such filing, the warrant shall be redelivered to the contractor or his assigns.

The said superintendent of streets is authorized at any time to receive the amount due upon any assessment and warrant issued by him and giving good and sufficient discharge therefor; provided, a bond has not issued to represent said assessment; provided, further, that when suit shall have been brought to collect the amount due upon any assessment as herein provided, the plaintiff shall file with the superintendent of streets a written notice of the pendency of said action showing the particular assessments affected by said action or actions; and after the filing of said notice, the said superintendent of streets shall not receive any money on account of said assessment, and thereafter he shall have no authority to cancel said assessment or give discharge thereof without the written consent of the owner of said assessment until judgment has been rendered in said action or the same has been dismissed and the street superintendent shall omit from the list of properties provided to be sent to the tax collector in section 27 hereof, any property upon which the assessment described in said notice is a lien. In case any warrant is lost, upon proof of such loss, a duplicate can be issued upon which collections may be made with the same effect as on the original. After the filing of the written statement of payments as aforesaid, all amounts remaining due thereon shall draw interest at the rate of one per cent (1%) per month until paid, said interest to be computed from the date of the filing of the contractor's statement and if such amount be not paid within six (6) months thereafter, there shall be added thereto a penalty of five per cent (5%) of the principal amounts then due thereon.

Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 23 and 24 and the preceding provisions of this section of this act relative to the collection of the assessments by the contractor or his assigns, the city council may, by ordinance, provide that all payments made upon any assessment and warrant within thirty (30) days from the recordation thereof, shall be made to the superintendent of streets, who shall mail a statement to each owner of real property within the assessment district whose name appears on the last equalized assessment roll, at the address appearing on said roll or on file in the office of the city clerk, or to both such addresses, if they are not the same, and that such statement shall contain a designation of the property assessed by street number, or some other description sufficient to enable the property owner to identify the property, a statement of the amount of the assessment, and the time and place of payment, the effect of failure to pay within such time and that, if bonds are to be issued, a statement of that fact, designating the act pursuant to which such bonds are to be issued; provided, that if the superintendent of streets be so authorized by ordinance to collect said assessments, said ordinance shall also provide that said superintendent of streets shall furnish to the contractor or his assigns a good and sufficient surety bond conditioned for the full and prompt payment by the superintendent of streets to the contractor or his assigns of all assessments so collected by said superintendent of streets, said bond shall be in an amount not less than ten (10) per cent of the total amount of the assessment shown on the assessment roll if such total amount does not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) and shall be in the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) if the total amount of the assessments shown on the assessment roll exceeds the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000). The premium on such bond shall be payable as a part of the incidental expenses of the proceeding.

Limitation
of actions.

SEC. 10. Section 26 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 26. No action, suit, or proceeding to set aside, cancel, avoid, annul or correct any assessment or reassessment, or to review any of the proceedings, acts, or determinations therein, or to question the validity of, or to enjoin the collection of the said assessments or reassessments, or to enjoin the issuance of bonds to represent the same, shall be maintained by any person unless such action or actions shall have been commenced within thirty (30) days after the recording of the warrant, diagram and assessment or reassessment, and thereafter all persons shall be barred from any such action or any defense of invalidity of the assessment or of bonds issued thereon or of the reassessment if such be made and of bonds issued thereon. No proceedings taken or had under this act shall ever be held to be invalid on the ground that the street, right of way, public property or any portion thereof, upon which the work or improvement or any part thereof is or was done has not been lawfully dedicated or acquired, provided the same is lawfully dedicated or acquired, or an order of immediate possession and use thereof has been obtained, at any time before judgment is entered in the suit involving such proceeding.

bonds.

SEC. 11. Section 60 of said act, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 60. Said serial bonds shall extend over a period not to exceed fourteen years from the second day of January next succeeding the fifteenth day of the next November following their date, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable, by coupon on the second day of January every year after the fifteenth day of the next November following their date, until the whole is paid; provided, that all bonds dated after October thirty-first and prior to November fifteenth shall extend over a period not to exceed fourteen years from the second day of January following their date, until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semiannually, by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year after their date, at the rate of not to exceed ten per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid. Upon such bonds dated after the fourteenth day of May of any year and on or before the fourteenth day of the following November the first interest coupon on said bonds shall become due and payable on the second day of the next succeeding January and upon such bonds dated after the fourteenth day of November of any year and before or on the fourteenth day of the following May the first interest coupon on said bonds shall become due on the second day of the next succeeding July.

Said bonds and interest thereon shall be paid at the office of the city treasurer of said municipality, who shall keep a fund designated by the name of said bonds, into which he shall place all sums paid him for the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon, together with all penalties thereon, and from which he shall disburse such sums, upon the presentation of said coupons; and under no circumstances shall said bonds or the interest thereon be paid out of any other fund. Said city treasurer shall keep a register in his office, which shall show the series, number, date, amount, rate of interest, payee and indorsees of each bond, and the number and amount of each coupon of principal or interest paid by him and shall cancel and file each coupon so paid.

Bonds:
where paid.

The owner of or any person interested in any lot or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued under the terms of this act may at any time before commencement of proceedings for sale pay off such bond and discharge the land described in the bond from the lien of the assessment, by paying to the city treasurer, for the holder of such bond, the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, with interest thereon calculated up to the due date of the next maturing interest coupon at the rate named in the bond, together with the amount of interest as shown on the next numbered interest coupon, and all penalties accrued and unpaid. Upon such payment being made to the city treasurer he shall report the same to the street superintendent, who shall forthwith mark paid on the margin of the record of the assessment, the assessment to represent which such bond was issued, and thereupon the lien of said assessment shall cease and the city treasurer shall forthwith notify the holder of the bond and call in the same. The city treasurer shall enter in his record of such bond the amount paid and the date of payment, and upon the lien of the assessment being extinguished as aforesaid, shall cancel said bond and file it in his office.

Bonds:

in the resolution of intention to do said work, and shall specify the rate of interest which they shall bear.

New section.

SEC. 13. A new section is hereby added to said act to be known and designated as section 65a and to read as follows:

Division of land for which bond issued.

Sec. 65a. In the event of the division of any lot or parcel of land for which a bond has been issued pursuant to section 63 hereof into two or more separate lots or parcels of land, such bond may be surrendered and new bonds issued to the holder of the original bond in the manner hereinafter prescribed. When it is desired that such new bonds shall be issued, an application in writing signed by the owner of any interest in any of the lots or parcels into which the original lot or parcel has been divided shall be filed with the street superintendent. Such application shall indicate how the original lot or parcel has been divided, and request the street superintendent to apportion the amount remaining unpaid on said assessment in accordance with such division, and be accompanied by a fee of five dollars ($5) for each such division, which sums shall be deposited by said street superintendent in the city treasury. The street superintendent thereupon shall apportion to each separate part of said original lot or parcel of land the proportionate part of the amount remaining unpaid on said assessment that would have been levied thereon had such lot or parcel of land been so divided at the time the original assessment was made. When such determination has been made an application signed by all persons owning an interest in the original lot or parcel of land and the holder of the original bond on such lot or parcel of land, may be filed with the city treasurer requesting that new bonds be issued for the amounts shown by the apportioned assessment in accordance with this section. Such application shall be accompanied by evidence satisfactory to said city treasurer that it is signed by every person owning any interest in said original lot or parcel of land and the holder of the original bond. When the city treasurer shall have ascertained that the application is signed by all the necessary persons he shall so advise the street superintendent, who shall thereupon amend the recorded diagram and assessment to conform to such division and apportionment and assign new assessment numbers to each separate part of the original lot or parcel of land. The city treasurer shall add to each such apportioned amount a sum equal to five per cent thereof but in no event more than the sum of ten dollars ($10) and shall make and sign a new bond of the same form as the original bond, to represent each such apportioned amount. The amount of such bond shall be equal to the sum of such apportioned amount and the amount added thereto by the city treasurer as herein prescribed, and payable in installments at the respective dates of the payment of principal and interest of the original bond, the number of such installments to be equal to the number of unpaid installments on the original bond. Provided, however, that no new bond shall be issued when such apportioned amount shall be less than twenty-five dollars, in which event the said amount shall be paid to the city treasurer in cash for the benefit of the holder of the original bond at or prior to the time of filing the application last hereinabove mentioned. Upon the surrender of the original bond the city treasurer shall deliver to such bondholder or his agent or assigns the bonds issued for such apportioned assessments together with all payments of cash which may have been made pursuant hereto.

New bonds

An act to amend section 9 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of public cemetery districts," approved June 1, 1921, statutes 1921, chapter 652, page 1103, as amended, relating to time of filing estimates of proposed expenditures. Stats 1921, p 1103, amended

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9 of an act entitled "An act to provide for organization and government of public cemetery districts," approved June 1, 1921, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 684

Sec 9. The said board of cemetery trustees shall annually, at or before the time fixed pursuant to the provisions of section 3714 of the Political Code for filing estimates of expenditures, estimate and certify to the board of supervisors of the county wherein the district is situated, or if said district is not entirely within one county, then as hereinafter provided, the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation for maintaining the cemetery of the district, and for the acquisition of property necessary for the purposes of the district during the ensuing fiscal year. If said district is in more than one county, the total estimate as provided for hereinbefore shall be divided by said board of cemetery trustees in proportion to the value of the real property of the district in each county. This value must be determined from the equalized values of the last assessment rolls of said counties. When said division of the estimate has been made, said board of cemetery trustees shall certify to the board of supervisors of the respective counties that part of the estimate apportioned to each county. The board of supervisors of each county wherein is situated a cemetery district or any part thereof organized under the provisions of this act must, annually, at the time of levying county taxes levy a tax upon all the property within said cemetery district situated in said county sufficient to raise the amount so certified to said board of supervisors by said board of cemetery trustees, to be raised by tax on the property of said district in said county. The tax so levied, however, shall Annual tax levy. District in more than one county.

not exceed two mills on each dollar of assessed valuation of the property in said district.

Stats 1909, p. 551, amended. An act to amend section 3 of an act entitled "An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain systems of street lights on public highways; to provide for the formation, government, and operation of highway lighting districts; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and the creation of ex officio boards of supervisors," approved March 20, 1909, statutes 1909, page 551, relating to formation of such districts.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915, p. 944 SECTION 1. Section 3 of an act entitled "An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain systems of street lights on public highways; to provide for the formation, government and operation of highway lighting districts; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and the creation of ex officio boards of supervisors," approved March 20, 1909, statutes 1909, page 551, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Petition for district. Notice of hearing. Sec. 3. Upon the application, by petition, of fifteen or more taxpayers and residents of said town or village presented at a regular meeting of the board of supervisors of the county in which the said town or village is situated, praying for the formation of a public highway lighting district, and setting forth the name and boundaries of the said proposed district, the board of supervisors shall fix a day and hour for hearing the same, and protests of interested parties, not less than twenty-five nor more than thirty days after the date of presentation thereof. The clerk of the board shall thereupon cause notices of the filing and hearing of such petition to be posted in three of the most public places in said district. Said notice shall be headed "Notice of the proposed formation of ----- lighting district" (stating name of the proposed lighting district) in letters not less than one inch in length, and shall, in legible characters, state the fact and date of the filing of such petition, the date and hour set for hearing such petition and protests of interested parties, specify the boundaries of the proposed district and refer to said petition for further particulars. The said clerk shall also cause a notice, similar in substance, to be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county in which the proposed district is located, and designated by said board for that purpose. Said notice must be posted and published, as above provided, at least seven days before the date set for the hearing of said petition. Any person interested, objecting to the formation of said district, or to the extent of said district, or to the proposed improvement, or to the inclusion of his property in said district, may file a written protest, setting forth such objections, with the clerk of said board at or before the time set for the hearing of said petition. The clerk of said board shall endorse on each such protest the date of its reception by him, and, at the time appointed for the hearing above provided for, shall present to said board all protests so filed with him. Said board shall hear said petition and protests at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If any of such protests be against the extent of said district, or against the inclusion of property in said district, then the board shall have power to make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it shall find to be proper and advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries, but said board shall not extend the boundaries of said district, nor shall said board modify such boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which will be benefited by said improvement, nor shall any territory which will not, in the judgment of said board be benefited by said improvement be included within such proposed district. At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none be filed, or if protests be filed and, after hearing be denied or the boundaries of the proposed district be defined and established with modifications, as above provided, then said board shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to further proceed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Protesta.

Findings
conclusive.

The said board of supervisors must, within thirty days after acquiring jurisdiction to proceed as provided above, by resolution, order that an election be held in the said proposed district for the determination of the question, and shall appoint three qualified electors thereof to conduct said election; which must be held within forty days from the date of the order.

An act to amend section 2167b of the Political Code, relating to the residence and cost of maintenance of psychopathic parole patients, and to add to the Political Code a new section to be designated section 2167c to provide for the admission of voluntary patients to the psychopathic hospital or ward maintained by the county, pursuant to section 2167, Political Code.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1925,
p 442.

SECTION 1. Section 2167b of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Title

2167b. This act shall be known as the psychopathic parole act and shall apply to persons mentally disordered and bordering on insanity but not dangerously insane.

Creation of office of psychopathic parole officer

1. The office of psychopathic probation officer may be created in any county in this state by the board of supervisors thereof. The psychopathic probation officers and deputy psychopathic probation officers to serve hereunder shall be nominated and appointed by the judge of the superior court by written order entered in the minutes of said court. The term of office of the psychopathic probation officers and deputy psychopathic probation officers shall be during the pleasure of the court and may at any time be removed by said court in its discretion. Such psychopathic officers shall devote their entire time and attention to the duties of their office. It shall be the duty of the clerk of said court before any mentally disordered or insane person is brought before the court under the provisions of this act to notify one of the probation officers of said court.

2. The said psychopathic probation officer shall inquire into the antecedents, character, family history, environment and superinducing cause of the mental disorder or insanity of every alleged mentally disordered or insane person brought before the court and shall make his report to the judge thereof, in writing or verbally in open court in chambers as directed by the judge of said court. Every psychopathic probation officer, assistant psychopathic probation officer and deputy psychopathic probation officer shall have the powers of peace officers at any time at his or her discretion: such officer may bring any mentally disordered or insane person committed to the care of such psychopathic probation officer before the court for such further other action as the court may deem proper.

Duties and powers

3. In each county where the office of psychopathic parole officer has been created under the provisions of this act, the judge of the superior court shall have power to appoint two psychopathic probation officers, and as many deputies as may be convenient or necessary may from time to time be appointed by the judge of the superior court; and, providing, further, that such deputies shall serve without compensation. Each of said psychopathic probation officers shall receive such salary as may be determined upon by the board of supervisors, and the salaries of such psychopathic probation officers shall be paid out of the county treasury of the county in which they are appointed respectively and in the same manner as county officers.

Salaries

4. The psychopathic probation officers and deputy psychopathic probation officers shall be allowed such necessary incidental expenses as may be authorized by the judge of the superior court and the same shall be a charge upon the county in which the court appointing them has jurisdiction and said expenses shall be paid out of the county treasury upon a written order by the judge of the superior court, directing the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer specifying the amount of such expenditure; provided, however, that in counties in which the office of psychopathic probation officer has been or shall be created by the board of supervisors and appointment of such officer made by said board, the necessary incidental expenses of the psychopathic probation officer and deputy psychopathic probation officers shall be county charges and claims therefor shall be audited, allowed and paid in the same manner as other county claims.

Expenses

5. If on the examination as provided by law, the court finds a person to be mentally disordered and bordering on insanity but not dangerously insane, the court may commit such persons to the care and custody of the psychopathic probation officer and may allow said persons to remain in the home of said persons subject to the visitation of a probation officer and be subject to be returned to the court for further proceedings whenever such action may appear necessary or desirable; or the court may commit the person so found to be mentally disordered or bordering on insanity but not dangerously insane, to be placed in a suitable home, sanitarium or rest haven home, subject to the supervision of said psychopathic probation officer and the further order of the court; provided, however, that the reasonable cost in a sum to be fixed by the court at the time of the commitment, shall be defrayed out of the estate of the patient so committed or shall be a charge upon his relatives liable for such maintenance; provided, however, that if the patient is found to be an indigent resident of the county, in accordance with the definition of such residence prescribed in chapter 210, statutes of 1901, entitled "An act to provide for the maintenance and support, in certain cases, of indigent, incompetent, and incapacitated persons (other than persons adjudged insane and confined within state hospitals), becoming a public charge upon the counties or cities and counties within the State of California, and for the payment thereof into a fund for the maintenance and support of such persons," approved March 23, 1901, as amended, and without funds or relatives responsible for his maintenance able to pay such charge, then the same shall be a charge upon the county in which court has jurisdiction and said expense shall be paid out of the county treasury upon a written order of the judge of the superior court of said county, directing the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer specifying the amount of such expense; provided, further, that if such patient is a nonresident of the county or if a relative or a friend of the patient is found outside of the county, of whose ability and willingness to assume the responsibility and the expense of the proper care of the patient the court is satisfied, the court may release such patient to the custody of such relative or friend and the cost and expense of transporting the patient to the home of such relative or friend or to the county or state where the patient has a legal residence shall be a charge upon the county in which the court has jurisdiction and shall be paid in the manner prescribed in this paragraph for the payment of other expenses for the care of such patients.

6. This act shall be liberally construed to the end that its purpose may be carried out, to wit: That the humane care and custody of the mentally disordered or near-insane persons, as defined in this act, shall be provided for that restoration of such patients to a normal mental condition be as rapid as possible without committing said patient to an insane hospital. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding thereto a new provision to be designated section 2167c, to read as follows:

2167c. The superintendent or person in charge of the county psychopathic hospital, ward or rooms provided by the county pursuant to section 2167, Political Code, may receive and detain in such hospital, ward or rooms, as a boarder and patient, any person who is legally eligible to receive aid or treatment from the county as an indigent, suffering from mental disease, or who is mentally disordered and who, in the judgment of the superintendent or person in charge, is a suitable person for care and treatment or for observation in such hospital, and who shall voluntarily make a written application to said superintendent or person in charge thereof for admission into such hospital, ward or rooms for care, treatment or observation, and who is in such condition of mind, at the time of making such application for admission, as to render him competent to make such application. Any such person so received and detained shall be deemed a voluntary patient. Any person received into the county hospital, ward or rooms provided by the county pursuant to section 2167, Political Code, under such voluntary application shall not be detained therein for more than seven days after having given notice, in writing, to the superintendent or person in charge of his desire to leave such hospital. In case such voluntary patient shall be or later becomes the owner of property, real, personal or mixed, the county furnishing such care, treatment, and observation, shall be entitled to reimbursement for the cost thereof in the same manner as provided by law in the case of other persons receiving aid or treatment from the county as indigents. The board of supervisors of the county shall fix and determine a schedule of charges for the care, treatment and observation of such voluntary mental patients and reimbursement to the county shall be made upon the basis of the charges so fixed.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929,
p 1064

SECTION 1. Section 11 of the juvenile court law is hereby amended to read as follows:

Support of ward.

Sec. 11. An order providing for the care and custody of a ward of the juvenile court of a minor person concerning whom a verified petition has been filed, in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of this act, in such case where it is necessary that provision be made for the expense of support and maintenance of said ward or person concerning whom such a petition has been filed, must direct that the whole expense of such support and maintenance of said ward or person, up to the amount of not more than twenty dollars ($20) per month from the county treasury, and may direct that an amount up to thirty-five dollars ($35) per month be so paid, and in the case of any physically sick, epileptic, insane or feeble-minded ward, the court may order such additional sum or sums to be paid from the county treasury as may be necessary for the support and maintenance of said ward; provided, that the total amount so paid in the case of said physically sick, epileptic, insane or feeble-minded ward shall not exceed the sum of forty dollars per month. That all orders made pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall state the amounts to be so paid from the county treasury, which shall not in the case of any one ward or minor person concerning whom such a petition has been filed exceed thirty-five dollars in any one month, except that in the case of any physically sick, epileptic, insane or feeble-minded ward an amount not to exceed forty dollars per month may be ordered paid.

Report on ability to pay

At the time of making any order providing for the support and maintenance of a ward of the juvenile court or said other minor person, said court shall inquire into the earnings, property or estate of said ward or said other minor person, and into the ability of the parent, parents, guardian of said ward or said other minor person, or other person liable for the support and maintenance of said ward or said other minor person to pay for the expense of support and maintenance of said ward or said other minor person.

amount

If it is found that thirty-five dollars a month is insufficient to pay the whole expense of support and maintenance of said ward or said other minor person, or in the case of the physically sick, epileptic, insane or feeble-minded ward it is found that forty dollars a month is insufficient to pay the whole support and maintenance of said ward, the court may order and direct that such additional amount as may be necessary shall be paid out of the earnings, property or estate of said ward or said other minor person, or by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward or, said other minor person, or other person liable for the support and maintenance of said ward or said other minor person, to said probation officer, who shall in turn pay the same to the person, association or institution that under court order is caring for and maintaining said ward or said other minor person.

Said court shall further order, and direct that the county for its expense of support and maintenance of any such ward or said other minor person shall be reimbursed, either in whole or in part, from the earnings, property or estate of said ward or said other minor person, or by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward or said other minor person, or other person liable for the support of said ward or said other minor person, if it is found that there are earnings, property or estate of said ward or said other minor person, sufficient therefor, or that said parent, parents, guardian of said ward or said other minor person or other person liable for the support of said ward, or said other minor person is able to pay, either in whole or in part, for such expense of support and maintenance of said ward or said other minor person, and for the purpose of said reimbursement may order and direct payments to be made to the probation officer from the earnings, property or estate of said ward or said other minor person, or by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward or said other minor person, or other person liable for the support of said ward or said other minor person, the amount of which payments shall be determined by said court and which said payments shall be paid by said probation officer in turn to the county treasurer of said county on account of said reimbursement.

No order for payment shall be made in a sum in excess of the actual cost of supporting and maintaining said ward or said other minor person.

No order for the payment from the county treasury of the expense of support and maintenance of a ward of the juvenile court shall be effective for more than twelve months, and no order for the payment from the county treasury of the expense of support and maintenance of a minor person concerning whom a verified petition has been filed in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of this act, other than a ward of the court shall be effective for more than one month, and upon all said original and all subsequent hearings of the case of any ward of the juvenile court the case shall be continued on the calendar, but in no instance to exceed twelve months; provided, however, that for each person committed to any state school the county from which he is committed shall pay the state at the rate of twenty dollars per month for the time such person so committed remains in such state school or in any other state school within the state to which such person may be transferred. Each county auditor must include in his state settlement report, rendered to the controller in the months of May and December, the amount due under this act and the county treasurer, at the time of the settlement with the state in such months, must pay to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, the amounts found to be due by reason of the commitments herein referred to.

Duration of order, etc

Accounts
of officers.

For the purpose of handling the reimbursement and other payments provided for herein said probation officer shall keep suitable books and accounts and shall give and keep suitable receipts and vouchers, and if such funds shall be by said probation officer kept in a bank, said bank shall be designated by the judge of said court. The auditor of said county annually in the month of January shall audit such books and accounts and shall make a report thereon to the judge of said court and to the supervisors of such county prior to the thirty-first day of said month of January.

Parents'
control.

In all cases the court may determine whether or not the parent, parents, or guardian shall exercise any control of said ward or said other minor person and define the extent thereof.

Contempt.

Any disobedience or interference with any order of the juvenile court or of the judge thereof shall constitute a contempt of court.

Compliance with orders

It shall be the duty of the probation officer to see that such parent, parents, guardian of said ward or said other minor person, or other person liable therefor, comply with such orders, or upon failure to make any payment directed in such orders to report such failure to such court. The court may at any time set aside, change or modify any order herein provided for.

Execution
to enforce
payment.

Where said juvenile court has ordered payment of money to be made as reimbursement to the county for the expense of support and maintenance of any ward or said other minor person as herein provided for or as additional for the expense of support and maintenance of said ward or said other minor person, for said person, association or institution that under court order is caring for and maintaining said ward or said other minor person, either from the earnings, property or estate of said ward or said other minor person, or by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward or said other minor person, or other person liable for the support of said ward or said other minor person, execution may issue for such payment or payments upon the order and at the discretion of said court, upon affidavit of said probation officer showing that any payment or payments are due and have not been made.

of bass,
perch, etc.

following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills, or has in his possession any black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that in fish and game district four and three-quarters, black bass may be taken in the manner and amount provided elsewhere in this section at any time of the year.

District
No. 2.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the taking of black bass at any time in any lake exceeding seventy-five square miles in area, within the boundaries of fish and game district number two; provided, that no person may take, kill, catch or destroy more than ten black bass in such lake or lakes in any one calendar day, or have in possession more than ten black bass taken from such lake or lakes in one calendar day.

Provided, further, nothing in this section shall prohibit the taking of black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, or calico bass, at any time in any lake exceeding seventy-five square miles in area, within the boundaries of fish and game district number two; provided, that no person may take, kill, catch or destroy more than ten black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, or calico bass in any such lake or lakes in any one calendar day, or have in his possession more than ten black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, or calico bass taken from any such lake or lakes in one calendar day.

Provided, further, nothing in this section shall prohibit the possession within the boundaries of fish and game district number two of black bass taken in such lake or lakes during the open season for such lake or lakes.

Catfish

Every person who at any time, has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any catfish, between the first day of May and the thirty-first day of August, inclusive, of any year, or who at any time has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any dressed catfish, which shall measure less than seven inches in length, exclusive of any part of the head, or who at any time has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any undressed catfish less than nine inches in length, or who retains any catfish in live cars or boats that do not measure nine inches in length, or who at any time, kills or has in his possession any sturgeon, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

But every person who at any time transports or ships catfish out of fish and game district two for the purpose of barter, sale, exchange or other commercial purposes, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the taking, at any time, of catfish in any lake exceeding seventy-five square miles in area, within the boundaries of fish and game district two, and nothing in this section shall prohibit the possession, sale, barter or exchange within the boundaries of fish and game district two of catfish taken in such lake or lakes.

Fish and game commission

Nothing in this section, or elsewhere in this code, shall prohibit the state fish and game commission, or persons authorized by it from taking at all times such fish as they may deem necessary for scientific purposes, or for purposes of propagation.

CHAPTER 757.

An act to amend section 634 of the Penal Code, relating to the protection of fish and game.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 634 of the Penal Code is hereby amended as follows: See Ch. 101,
Stats 1931

634. 1. Every person who takes, catches or kills in any manner or possesses any salmon other than as provided for in this act is guilty of a misdemeanor. Protection

During the netting season there shall be no bag limit, but at other times there shall be a bag limit of two per day. For the purpose of this act tidewater on the Klamath river shall be that portion of the river between its mouth and the Douglas memorial bridge.

8. Every person who, in fish and game districts twelve and thirteen, between the first day of June and the thirty-first day of July of the same year, both dates inclusive, and every person who in fish and game district twelve "B" between the sixteenth day of June and the thirty-first day of July, both dates inclusive, and every person who in fish and game district twelve "C" between the sixteenth day of June and the fourteenth day of November of the same year, both dates inclusive, and every person who in fish and game districts twelve, twelve "B" and thirteen between the seventeenth day of September and the fourteenth day of November of the same year, both dates inclusive, except with hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as angling, takes, catches or kills any salmon, or takes, catches, kills or has in his possession, or buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any fresh salmon, or who, in fish and game districts twelve, twelve "B," twelve "C" and thirteen at any time takes, catches or kills any salmon with any net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than five and one-half inches in length, or between May sixteenth and June fifteenth, both dates inclusive, takes, catches or kills any salmon with any net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than seven and one-half inches in length is guilty of a misdemeanor.

9 Nothing in this act shall prevent the fish and game commission of this state, or persons authorized by them, from taking, at all times, and in any manner, such salmon as they may deem necessary for the purpose of propagation, or for scientific purposes.

- Definition. 10. For the purpose of this act and all acts relating thereto, only such fish as belonging to the genus Oncorhynchus shall be considered salmon.
- Penalty. 11. Any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not to exceed six months in the county in which the conviction shall be had or by both such fine and imprisonment.

CHAPTER 758.

An act to amend section 131 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the incidental expenses of probation officers and deputy probation officers.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1905,
p. 780.

SECTION 1. Section 131 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Probation
committee

131. 1. The judge of the superior court in and for each county or city and county of the state, or where there are more than one judge of said court, a majority of the judges thereof by an order entered in the minutes of such court, may appoint seven discreet citizens of good moral character, and of either sex, to be known as probation committee, and shall fill all vacancies occurring in such committee. The clerk of said court shall immediately notify each person appointed on said committee and thereupon said persons shall appear before the judge of said superior court in said county and qualify by taking oath, to be entered in the minutes of said superior court, to faithfully perform the duties of a member of such probation committee.

office

2. The members of such probation committee shall hold office for four years, and until their successors are appointed, provided that of those first appointed, one shall hold office for one year, two for two years, two for three years, and two for four years, the terms for which the respective members first appointed shall hold office to be determined by lot as soon after their appointment as may be. When any vacancy occurs in any probation committee by expiration of the term of office of any member thereof, the successor shall be appointed to hold for the term of four years; when any vacancy occurs for any other reason, the appointee shall hold for the unexpired term of his predecessor.

Compensa-
tion

3. The members of the probation committee shall serve without compensation.

Examination of societies,
etc

4. The superior court or any judge thereof may at any time require said probation committee or a probation officer to examine into the qualifications and management of any society, association or corporation, other than a state institution, applying to receive any child or children under this act, and to report to the court, provided that nothing in this section shall be construed as giving any probation committee or probation officer any power to enter any institution without the consent of such institution.

It shall be the duty of each probation committee prior to December first in each year to prepare a report in writing on the qualifications and management of all societies, associations and corporations, except state institutions, applying for or receiving any child under this act from the courts of their respective counties, and in said report said committee may make such suggestions or comments as to them may seem fit; said report to be filed in the office of the clerk of the court appointing such committee, for the information of the judges thereof.

Report of committee.

5. In counties of the first class there shall be one probation officer and not more than five deputy probation officers; in counties of the second class, one probation officer and not more than one deputy probation officer; in all other counties there shall be one probation officer. In any county or city and county additional deputy probation officers may be appointed and their appointment approved or disapproved as hereinafter provided, from time to time when in the opinion of the court it may be necessary, provided that they serve without salary.

Probation officer, deputies, etc

6. The probation officer and deputy probation officers in all the counties of the state shall be allowed such necessary incidental expenses as may be authorized by a judge of the superior court; and the same shall be a charge upon the county in which the court appointing them has jurisdiction, and the said expenses shall be paid out of the county treasury upon a warrant therefor issued by the said court; provided, however, that in counties in which the probation officer is appointed by the board of supervisors, the necessary incidental expenses of the probation officer and deputy probation officers shall be county charges and claims therefor shall be audited, allowed and paid in the same manner as other county claims.

Expenses allowed probation officers.

7. The offices of probation officers and deputy probation officers are hereby created. The appointments of probation officers and deputy probation officers to serve hereunder in any county or city and county shall be made by the probation committee of said county or city and county from discreet citizens of good moral character. The appointments by each probation committee shall be made in writing, signed by a majority of the members of such committee, and filed with the county clerk of such county, and shall be subject to and shall take effect upon approval by the judge of the superior court appointing such committee, or by a majority of the judges thereof if there be more than one; such approval to be by order entered in the minutes of said court. The term of office of probation officers and of deputy probation officers shall be two years from the date of the said approval of their several appointments. Such probation officers and deputy probation officers may at any time be removed by the judge approving their appointment in his discretion.

Appointments, by whom and how made.

deputy

8. Any of the duties of the probation office may be performed by a deputy probation officer and shall be performed by him whenever detailed to perform the same by the probation officer; and it shall be the duty of the probation officer to see that the deputy probation officer performs his duties.

Present
serve.

9. It is the intention of this act that the same probation committees, the same probation officers and deputy probation officers shall be appointed and serve under this act as under the act known as the juvenile court act, and entitled "An act defining and providing for the control, protection and treatment of dependent and delinquent children; prescribing the powers and duties of courts with respect thereto; providing for the appointment of probation officers, and prescribing their powers and duties; providing for the separation of children from adults when confined in jails or other institutions; providing for the appointment of boards to investigate the qualifications of organizations receiving children under this act, and prescribing the duties of such boards; and providing when proceedings under this act shall be admissible in evidence," and approved February 26, 1903; or under any laws amending or superseding the same.

officers to inquire into antecedents of persons arrested and to report thereon

10. Either at the time of the arrest for crime of any person over sixteen years of age, or at the time of the plea or verdict of guilty, the probation officer of the county of the jurisdiction of said crime shall, when so directed by the court, inquire into the antecedents, character, history, family environment and offense of such person, and must report the same to the court and file his report in writing in the records of said court. His report shall contain his recommendation for or against the release of such person on probation. If any such person shall be released on probation and committed to the care of the probation officer, such officer must keep a complete and accurate record in suitable books of the history of the case in court and of the name of the probation officer, and his acts in connection with said case; also the age; sex; nativity; residence; education; habits of temperance; whether married or single; and the conduct, employment and occupation and parents' occupation and condition of such person so committed to his care during the term of such probation, and the result of such probation, which record shall be and constitute a part of the records of the court and shall at all times be open to the inspection of the court or any person appointed by the court for that purpose, as well as of all magistrates and the chief of police or other head of the police, unless otherwise ordered by the court. The said books of record shall be furnished by the county clerk of said county, and shall be paid for out of the county treasury.

11. The probation officer shall furnish to each person released on probation and committed to his care, a written statement of the terms and conditions of his probation, and shall report to the court, judge, or justice appointing him, any violation or breach of the terms and conditions imposed by such court on the person placed in his care.

Terms and conditions of probation

12. The probation officers and deputy probation officers appointed under this section shall serve as such probation officers in all courts having original jurisdiction of criminal actions in this state.

To serve in all courts

13. Such probation officer and each deputy probation officer shall have, as to the person so committed to the care of such probation officer or deputy probation officer, the powers of a peace officer.

Powers of peace officers

CHAPTER 759.

An act to amend section 311 of the Penal Code, relating to lewd conduct or acts and providing penalties therefor.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 311 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

(Code Amdt. 1873-74, p. 429)

311. Every person who wilfully and lewdly, either:

1. Exposes his person, or the private parts thereof, in any public place, or in any place where there are present other persons to be offended or annoyed thereby; or,

Lewd conduct

2. Procures, counsels, or assists any person so to expose himself or to take part in any model artist exhibition, or to make any other exhibition of himself to public view, or the view of any number of persons, such as is offensive to decency, or is adopted to excite to vicious or lewd thoughts or acts; or,

3. 5. Sings or speaks any lewd or obscene song, ballad, or other words, in any public place, or in any place where there are persons present to be annoyed thereby, is guilty of a misdemeanor. The provision of subdivision five of this section shall not apply to any person participating in violation thereof only as an actor, unless and until the proper court shall have passed upon the matter and found the actor to have violated the said subdivision five of this section, except where after a complaint has been filed against the owner, manager, producer or director charging a violation of said subdivision five of this section, and pending the determination thereof an actor or actress utters the particular word or words complained against or other word or words of the same or similar import, in connection with such performance, act, play, drama, exhibition or entertainment.

CHAPTER 760.

An act to add new sections to the School Code to be numbered 5.722 and 5.723 providing for the granting of leaves of absence to certificated employees of school districts for the purpose of permitting study or travel by such employees.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the School Code to be numbered 5.722 and to read as follows:

Leaves of absence 5.722. The governing board of any school district, of any type or class, including junior college districts, shall have the power, subject to the provisions of this section, to grant any employee of the district employed in a position requiring certification qualifications, a leave of absence for not to exceed one year for the purpose of permitting study or travel by said employee which will benefit the schools and pupils of the district.

Rules and regulations No leave of absence shall be granted to any employee under this section who has not rendered service to the district for at least seven consecutive years preceding the granting of such leave, of which period at least one year shall have been so served after this act shall have taken effect, and not more than one such leave of absence shall be granted in each seven-year period. The governing board granting said leave of absence shall have the power, subject to the rules and regulations of the state board of education, to prescribe the standards of service which shall entitle the employee to such leave of absence. Said leave of absence shall not be considered as a break in the continuity of service toward retirement under this code except that such leave of absence shall not be counted as a year of service toward retirement under this code.

Compensation during leave Every employee granted a leave of absence under the provisions of this section may be required to perform such services and may receive such compensation during such leave as the governing board of the district, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools, and the employee may agree upon in writing, but such compensation shall be the difference between the salary of the employee on leave and the salary of a substitute teacher in the position which the employee held prior to the granting of such leave.

Such compensation as may be granted by the governing board to said employee on leave shall be paid in two equal annual installments during the first two years of service rendered in the employ of said governing board following the return of the employee from said leave of absence. Installments

At the expiration of the leave of absence of said employee, he shall, unless he otherwise agrees, be reinstated in the position held by him at the time of the granting of the leave of absence.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the School Code to be numbered 5.723 and to read as follows: New section

5.723. Both the governing board of any district and the district shall be freed from any liability for the payment of any compensation or damages now or hereafter provided by law for the death or injury of any employee of the district employed in a position requiring certification qualifications when the death or injury occurs while said employee is on any leave of absence granted under the provisions of this article. District's freedom from liability during leave

districts

Section 1. Any portion of a county composed of unincorporated territory and not including any forest land protected by the state board of forestry or in a manner approved by the state board of forestry, may be formed into a county fire protection district in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter set forth; provided, any city of the sixth class adjacent to said fire protection district may be embraced and included therein upon adoption of an ordinance by the board of trustees of such sixth class city declaring and determining its intention and desire to be embraced and included within said district, and the filing of a certified copy of said ordinance with the secretary of state, at Sacramento, and with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county within which such district is located, from and after which, said municipality shall be deemed a part of said district.

Stats 1927,
p 1572

SEC. 3. Sec. 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Proposal to form
district

Sec. 2. The board of supervisors of any county of the state may determine that a portion of the unincorporated territory of the county is in need of fire protection and should be formed into a fire protection district. Thereupon said board of supervisors shall fix a time and place for a hearing of the matter of the formation of such county fire protection district and shall direct the clerk of said board to publish a notice once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation, circulated in the territory which it is proposed to organize into a fire protection district, which said board deems most likely to give notice to the inhabitants thereof, of the proposed formation of such district. Such board shall also direct the clerk to cause the said notice to be posted in three (3) public places in said territory, at least ten (10) days prior to the date set for such hearing. Said notice shall be headed "Notice of the proposed formation of _____ county fire protection district in _____ county (stating the name of the proposed district and the name of the county in which the proposed district is to be located)" which heading in the said notice as posted, shall be in letters of not less than one inch in length. Said notice as published and posted shall state the fact that the board of supervisors of said county has fixed the time and place (which shall be stated in said notice) for a hearing on the matter of the formation of a county fire protection district. Said notice shall set forth the exterior boundaries of the territory proposed to be organized into a fire protection district, which said boundaries so far as practicable, shall be the center lines of highways.

Notice of hearing

Sec. 4. Sec. 5 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929, p 1021

Sec. 5. The board of supervisors of any county wherein any county fire protection district is established shall be the governing body thereof and shall have power to make and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the administration and government of such district and for the furnishing of fire protection thereto and for the elimination of fire hazards therein; to appoint agents and employees for such district sufficient to maintain and operate the property acquired for the purposes of the district and to police the district; to clear any or all town lots, homesites, villa lots or lands immediately adjacent thereto within the district of dry grass, weeds, stubble, brush, rubbish, litter or other inflammable material; to acquire real or personal property needful for the purposes of said district and to dispose of the same when no longer needed; to construct any needed structures; and to perform all other acts necessary or proper to accomplish the purposes of this act, and not inconsistent with the provisions thereof.

Powers and duties of supervisors

Sec. 5. A new section to be known as section 7a is hereby added to said act and reads as follows:

New section

Sec. 7a. Except as hereinafter provided, whenever any portion of a county fire protection district shall be included within an incorporated city by reason of incorporation, annexation or otherwise such portion of said county fire protection district shall be withdrawn from said county fire protection district; provided, however, that if any portion of a county fire protection district shall be included by incorporation, annexation or otherwise, within a city of the sixth class, such territory shall nevertheless remain a portion of said fire protection district unless and until the board of supervisors shall determine, upon a hearing held for that purpose, that the territory of the county fire protection district not included within such city of the sixth class will benefit by remaining as a county fire protection district. If it is desired that the portion of the county fire protection district included within

Withdrawal of portions within incorporated cities

Notice of
hearing

the boundaries of a city of the sixth class shall be withdrawn from said district, the board of trustees of said city of the sixth class shall by resolution request the board of supervisors to fix a time and place for a hearing on the question of such withdrawal and in said resolution shall designate the exterior boundaries of that portion of the county fire protection district within such incorporated city. Notice of such hearing shall be given by the board of supervisors by publication by one insertion in a newspaper circulated in said district which the board deems most likely to give notice to the inhabitants thereof of the proposed withdrawal and said notice also shall be posted in three public places within the county fire protection district one of which shall be within that portion of the county fire protection district within said city of the sixth class. Any person interested may appear at said hearing and object to the withdrawal of said portion from said district, or may object to the continuance of the remaining territory as a county fire protection district, and the board of supervisors shall consider all objections and shall pass upon the same. If it finds that the portion of the territory of said district not included within such incorporated city will be benefited by continuing as a county fire protection district after such withdrawal then it shall grant the request and by an order entered upon its minutes shall alter the boundaries of said fire protection district to exclude the portion thereof lying within such incorporated city. No withdrawal of territory, under the provisions of this section, shall become final unless and until any contract for furnishing water to said fire protection district shall have expired or be canceled or modified, with the consent of the parties thereto, so that the county fire protection district shall be relieved of the obligation to pay for future water supply within the territory so withdrawn. Upon the withdrawal of any territory of a county fire protection district under the provisions of this section all property acquired for the district and all funds remaining on hand shall be divided between the incorporated city and the remaining fire protection district in the proportion that the total assessed value of the real property of the territory so withdrawn bore to the total assessed value of the real property within said fire protection district prior to such withdrawal.

New section SEC. 6. A new section to be known as section 7b is hereby added to said act and reads as follows:

Consolidation of districts Sec. 7b. At any time after the establishment under the provisions of this act of two or more county fire protection districts in any county of this state, the board of supervisors of such county may determine that any two or more of such districts, whether or not the same are contiguous to each other, should be consolidated. Thereupon said board shall fix a time and place for a hearing of the matter of the consolidation of such districts and shall direct its clerk to publish a notice once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper or newspapers circulated in each of the districts which it proposes to consolidate, which said board deems most likely to give notice to the inhabitants of said districts. Such notice shall be headed "Notice of the proposed consolidation of ----- county fire protection district and ----- county fire protection district," stating the names of the district proposed to be consolidated and shall contain a statement of the time and place fixed by the board for a hearing on the matter of the consolidation of such districts. Said notice shall state that it is proposed to consolidate into one county fire protection district all of the territory within the named county fire protection districts.

Notice

SEC. 7. A new section to be known as section 7c is hereby added to said act and reads as follows:

New section

Sec. 7c. At the time and place fixed by the board of supervisors for the hearing of said matter of consolidation, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued, the board shall hear any person objecting to said consolidation. At the conclusion of said hearing said board of supervisors may refuse to consolidate any of said districts or it may order the consolidation of any or all of the districts proposed to be consolidated. If it determines to consolidate any of such districts it shall so declare by resolution and shall state therein the name by which such consolidated district thereafter shall be known.

Hearing on question of consolidation

SEC. 8. Section 9 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1923, p 431

Sec. 9. At any time after the establishment of a county fire protection district under the provisions of this act the board of supervisors may determine that territory, whether or not it is contiguous to such district, should be annexed to such district. Thereupon said board shall fix a time and place for the hearing of the matter of the annexation of said territory and shall direct its clerk to publish a notice once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper circulated in the territory which it is proposed to annex which said board deems most likely to give notice to the inhabitants of such territory. Such notice shall be headed "Notice of the proposed annexation of territory to the ----- county fire protection district in ----- county," stating the name of the district and county to which it is proposed to annex territory and shall contain a statement of the time and place fixed by the board for a hearing on the matter of the annexation of such territory to the county fire protection district. Said notice shall designate the territory proposed to be annexed.

CHAPTER 763.

An act to provide for the salaries and expenses of the building and loan commissioner, his attorney, deputies, exam-mers, accountants, appraisers and other assistants; to provide for the disposition of moneys in the "building and loan inspection fund" created by chapter 354 of the statutes of 1911, as amended; and of moneys collected under the building and loan association act; and otherwise relating to the building and loan commissioner, his assistants and employees, and to the regulation of building and loan associations.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Definitions

SECTION 1. The term "commissioner" wherever used in this act shall mean the building and loan commissioner as defined in the building and loan association act; and the term "association" wherever used in this act shall mean a building and loan association as defined in the building and loan association act.

Salary of commissioner

SEC. 2. The commissioner shall receive an annual salary of six thousand dollars, payable monthly out of the building and loan inspection fund in the state treasury, upon a warrant of the controller. The commissioner's attorney, deputies, examiners, accountants, appraisers and other assistants shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the commissioner, with the approval of the department of finance, which compensation shall be paid out of the building and loan inspection fund in the state treasury. There shall also be allowed and paid the necessary traveling expenses of the commissioner, his attorney, deputies, examiners, accountants, appraisers and other assistants, incurred while traveling in the line of their duties. The commissioner shall procure and have offices in the city and county of San Francisco and in the city of Los Angeles. The commissioner shall also provide for such stationery, printing, postage and all other necessary expenditures as may be required for the proper conduct of his office. All such salaries and expenses, shall be paid from the building and loan inspection fund.

Location of offices.

Payment of bond premiums

SEC. 3. The premium or charge for any bond given by a surety company pursuant to article thirteen of the building and loan association act shall be paid out of the building and loan inspection fund; provided that no premium or charge shall exceed one-half of one per cent per annum on the amount of such bond.

Collection of moneys assessed under Stats 1931, Ch 269

SEC. 4. The collection of all moneys assessed, as provided in the building and loan association act, for the payment of salaries and expenses or forfeitures as fines for failure to make payment of assessments, procuring licenses or making or filing reports as therein specified and due from any association coming within the provisions of said act or imposed as a penalty for violation of any order or summons, may be enforced by the commissioner by action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction; and all moneys collected or received by the commissioner under said act or this act (excluding, however, moneys belonging to associations of the business, property and assets of which the commissioner shall be in possession) shall be deposited with the state treasurer to be credited to a fund to be known and designated as the "building and loan inspection fund," which said fund shall only be used to defray the salaries and expenses provided for by this act; provided however that the commissioner shall pay to the general fund of the state treasury from the moneys received under the provisions of said building and loan association act a sum equal to all money which has been heretofore or may hereafter be appropriated or advanced out of the general fund to the use of the building and loan inspection fund on the condition or with the intention that the amount so appropriated or advanced should be returned. All moneys belonging to associations of the business, property and assets of which the commissioner shall be in possession shall be deposited by the commissioner in such state or national banks as shall be approved for such deposit by the superintendent of banks, and the commissioner shall similarly deposit in such banks all moneys, if any, in his possession at the effective date of this act which do not constitute a part of the building and loan inspection fund.

SEC. 5. All moneys in the "building and loan inspection fund" referred to in section 17, chapter 354, statutes of 1911, as amended, shall be placed in the "building and loan inspection fund" referred to in this act, and all moneys in said fund shall be subject to the disposal of the commissioner in accordance with the terms of this act. Transfer of funds.

SEC. 6. If any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality.

commission to collect statistical data of the commercial fisheries and to make investigations for the purpose of gaining knowledge for the conservation of the fisheries; providing a system for obtaining an accurate record of each variety of fish caught; providing for the registration of fishing boats and their fishing equipment, and providing penalties for violations of this act," approved May 25, 1919, and to add a new section, to be numbered 4a, thereto, relating to commercial fisheries.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 1201.

SECTION 1. Section 2 of chapter 550, statutes of 1919, entitled "An act empowering the state fish and game commission to collect statistical data of the commercial fisheries and to make investigations for the purpose of gaining knowledge for the conservation of the fisheries; providing a system for obtaining an accurate record of each variety of fish caught; providing for the registration of fishing boats and their fishing equipment, and providing penalties for violations of this act," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Record of fish, etc., by buyers,
canners, etc

Sec. 2. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of buying, canning, curing or preserving fish, or manufacturing fish meal, fish oil or fish fertilizer, or dealing in fish, mollusks or crustaceans, shall make a legible record in the form of a receipt, said record to be in triplicate carbon copies and on forms to be furnished by the fish and game commission, which shall show the name of the fisherman, the division of fish and game registration number of the boat or the name of the dealer from whom the fish, mollusks or crustaceans were received, together with the date received, the weight of the fish, mollusks or crustaceans by species, the price received by the fishermen and the name of the person receiving same.

Nature
of record

It shall be stated in the record for what use the fish are intended, whether to be sold fresh or whether they are to be canned, cured, made into fish meal or fertilizer, or any other disposition is to be made of them, or if a commercial distinction is made between different sizes or qualities of any species or variety, it must be so stated on said record or receipt, and the record shall also state if the fish were taken in foreign waters, or in the high seas off another state or foreign country. The names used in the record for designating the variety or species of fish handled must be the name which is in common usage, and the fish and game commission shall have the power to decide what is the common usage name of any variety.

The original copy of this record shall be delivered to the fisherman at the time of the purchase or receipt of the fish, the duplicate copy shall be kept by the dealer or person receiving the fish and the triplicate copy shall be delivered to the fish and game commission or any duly authorized assistant thereof.

Where a fish dealer, canner or preserver catches his own fish he shall fill out the above record as required when he purchases the fish from fisherman or dealer or if it so desires the fish and game commission may furnish a separate form for such cases. It shall be the duty of the fish and game commission to preserve all such records of the fisheries as are obtained by it in places adequately safeguarded from fire or other destructive agencies and such records are to be kept in such manner as to render them accessible for reference or research, the intention being to guard against the destruction or such neglect of the records as will detract from their future value.

When fish dealer catches own fish

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 4a, and to read as follows:

New section

Sec. 4a. Every person, firm or corporation, owning or operating any fishing boat, tender boat, pickup boat, buyer boat, barge, lighter or other vessel in the fisheries of the state shall for the purpose of identification and registration carry in plain sight on each side of such fishing boat, tender boat, pickup boat, buyer boat, barge, lighter or other vessel so owned or operated, a registration number. Such numbers shall be stamped on metal plates and shall be furnished by the division of fish and game in duplicate or in pairs and shall be known as "Division of fish and game registration number plates." Every number plate shall have displayed upon it the registration number assigned to the vessel upon which it is placed, together with the abbreviated words "Cal. Div. F. & G." Such plates shall be numbered consecutively beginning with number one and shall be issued upon application to the division. Upon the issuance of such number plates the applicant shall furnish the division with general information pertaining to such vessel upon which the number plates are to be placed, such as the name and address of the owner; name and address of the operator; type of vessel; general dimensions; home port; kind of fishery work to be engaged in; and any other information the division may require pertaining to the operation of such vessel. Registration number plates shall be constructed of durable metal that is noncorrosive to the elements and shall be securely fastened well forward to some part of the superstructure of the vessel upon which they are placed. Registration number plates as herein provided shall remain the property of the state and shall not be wantonly defaced, mutilated or destroyed. In the event that any registration number plate shall be accidentally defaced, mutilated, destroyed or lost, the person, firm or corporation owning or operating the vessel upon which such number plate has been placed, shall immediately make application for and may obtain a duplicate thereof, upon furnishing the division with such facts and the payment of one dollar for every number plate so defaced, mutilated, destroyed or lost.

Registration numbers for fishing boats

Number plates for fishing boats

In the event that any vessel carrying a division of fish and game registration number plate is lost, destroyed or sold, the owner of such vessel shall immediately report such loss, destruction, or sale to the division of fish and game. Number plates as provided herein are not to be transferred from one vessel to another. Such number plates are considered a permanent fixture upon the vessel upon which they were originally placed and are intended to be kept on such vessel during the entire time of its employment in the state fisheries.

SECTION 1. Section 832 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

832. Each coterminous owner is entitled to the lateral and subjacent support which his land receives from the adjoining land, subject to the right of the owner of the adjoining land to make proper and usual excavations on the same for purposes of construction or improvement, under the following conditions:

1. Any owner of land or his lessee intending to make or to permit an excavation shall give reasonable notice to the owner or owners of adjoining lands and of buildings or other structures, stating the depth to which such excavation is intended to be made, and when the excavating will begin.

2. In making any excavation, ordinary care and skill shall be used, and reasonable precautions taken to sustain the adjoining land as such, without regard to any building or other structure which may be thereon, and there shall be no liability for damage done to any such building or other structure by reason of the excavation, except as otherwise provided or allowed by law.

3. If at any time it appears that the excavation is to be of a greater depth than are the walls or foundations of any adjoining building or other structure, and is to be so close as to endanger the building or other structure in any way, then the owner of the building or other structure must be allowed at least thirty days, if he so desires, in which to take measures to protect the same from any damage, or in which to extend the foundations thereof, and he must be given for the same purposes reasonable license to enter on the land on which the excavation is to be or is being made.

4. If the excavation is intended to be or is deeper than the standard depth of foundations, which depth is defined to be a depth of twelve feet below the adjacent curb level, at the point where the joint property line intersects the curb and if on the land of the coterminous owner there is any building or other structure the wall or foundation of which goes to standard depth or deeper then the owner of the land on which the excavation is being made shall, if given the necessary license to enter on the adjoining land, protect the said adjoining land and any such building or other structure thereon without cost to the owner thereof, from any damage by reason of the excavation, and shall be liable to the owner of such property for any such damage, excepting only for minor settlement cracks in buildings or other structures.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1911,
p. 1192.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of an act entitled "An act providing for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent certain special assessments for public improvements, and providing for the effect and enforcement of such bonds," approved April 27, 1911, statutes 1911, page 1192, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Street opening act of 1903" defined

Section 1. The expression "street opening act of 1903" as herein used shall mean the act entitled "An act to provide for the laying out, opening, extending, widening, or straightening, in whole or in part, of public streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts, and places within municipalities, for the condemnation of property necessary or convenient for such purposes, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expenses of such improvement," approved March 24, 1903, statutes 1903, page 376, as amended, and acts amendatory thereto.

"Park act" defined

The expression "park act" as herein used shall mean the act entitled "An act to provide for the acquisition by municipalities of land for public park or playground purposes by condemnation, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of acquiring such land," approved April 22, 1909, statutes 1909, page 1066.

"Improvement bond" defined

The expression "improvement bond" as herein used shall mean a bond issued under the provisions of this act.

"Assessment," "assessment roll" defined

The terms "assessment" or "assessment roll" as herein used shall mean a special assessment made under the provisions of any of the acts herein in this section specified.

"Delinquency," "time of delinquency," "city council" defined

The term "delinquency" as herein used shall mean delinquency in the payment of an assessment made under the provisions of the acts herein in this section specified and the expression "time of delinquency" shall mean the time in said acts fixed when assessments become delinquent. The expression "city council" as herein used shall mean the legislative body of the municipality.

Council may determine issue of improvement bonds

SEC. 2. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2 The city council of any municipal corporation of the state shall have power in its discretion to determine that serial bonds shall be issued in the manner and form hereinafter provided to represent assessments of twenty-five dollars or over for the cost of any work or improvement authorized under the street opening act of 1903, park act or under any act which may hereafter become a law, providing for the acquiring of property, easements and rights of way necessary or convenient for the construction of sewers and drains by municipalities for sanitary or drainage purposes.

SEC. 3. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1921,
p 291.

Sec. 3. When said city council shall determine that serial bonds shall be issued to represent assessments it shall so declare in a resolution which may be adopted at the time of the confirmation of the assessment roll in any proceedings had or taken under any act to which the provisions of this act are made applicable, provided the notice prescribed to be given for the hearing on the confirmation of such assessment roll shall contain a statement that the question of the issuance of bonds under the provisions of this act will be determined at said hearing; said resolution shall also contain a notice that a bond will issue to represent the unpaid balance on each assessment when said amount is twenty-five dollars or over remaining unpaid thirty days after the rate of the recordation of the assessment. Said resolution shall recite the term of said bonds and also the rate of interest said bonds shall bear not to exceed seven per cent per annum. Said city council may in its discretion recite in such resolution a maximum rate of interest, not to exceed seven per cent per annum, to be paid on such indebtedness, which rate when so recited shall not be exceeded in the issuance of such bonds. SEC. 4. Section 4 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

assessments

Sec. 4. After the full expiration of thirty days from the date of the recordation of the assessment, the superintendent of streets shall make and certify to the city treasurer a complete list of all assessments when the amount remaining unpaid is twenty-five dollars ($25) or more.

When unpaid assessments become due

The principal of said unpaid assessments shall thereafter become due and payable to said treasurer in equal annual payments on the fifteenth day of each May next succeeding thirty days from and after the date of the bonds issued to represent such unpaid assessments; the number of said annual payments shall correspond to the number of serial payments provided to be made on the principal of said bonds; the interest on said unpaid assessments shall become due and payable on the fifteenth day of each May and November succeeding the filing of such list of unpaid assessments, provided that the first payment of interest shall become due and payable on the fifteenth day of the May or November next succeeding thirty days from and after the date of said bonds.

Delinquency
penalty

Should any payment of principal on said unpaid assessments or of interest thereon be not paid on the date on which the coupon or coupons representing it are payable as hereinafter provided the city treasurer shall after the close of business on said due date add to the amount of principal or interest so delinquent a penalty of five per cent (5%) of the total amount of such delinquency and at the beginning of business on the first day of each succeeding month until such delinquent payment and all penalties thereon be fully paid, he shall add an additional penalty of one per cent (1%) of the amount of such delinquency and said treasurer shall collect such penalties with and as a part of such delinquent payments.

Notice

The city treasurer shall, at least fifteen (15) days before each respective fifteenth day of May and November, until said assessment be paid in full, mail, postage prepaid, to each owner of property described in said assessment, at his last known address, as appears upon the tax rolls of said city, a notice notifying him of the amount due and the date when payment is due from him on said assessment and stating that said payment is subject to penalty if not paid on or prior to the due date of the coupons. Provided that the failure of the city treasurer to mail said notice or the failure of the property owner to receive the same shall in nowise affect the validity of any penalty or invalidate any act or proceeding.

The city treasurer, upon the filing of said list, shall prepare a separate bond representing the total of the unpaid amount of such assessment as shown thereon where the unpaid assessment or the unpaid remainder thereof amounts to twenty-five dollars ($25) or over. Said bond shall be substantially in the following form:

No.-----

Under and by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of ----- (title of this act), I, out of the fund for the above designated improvement bonds, series -----, will pay to bearer the sum of ----- dollars ($-----) with interest at the rate of ----- per cent per annum as hereinafter specified, at the office of the city treasurer, of the city of -----, State of California. This bond is issued to represent an assessment for ----- in the city of -----, as the same is more fully described in the assessment therefor. Its amount is the amount assessed in said assessment against the lot or parcel of land numbered ----- thereon and in the diagram attached thereto, and which now remains unpaid; but until paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, as the same is described herein and in said recorded assessment with its diagram, to wit: The lot or parcel of land in the city of -----, county of -----, State of California, described as follows:-----

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund, and neither the city of -----, nor any officer thereof, is to be holden otherwise for its principal or interest. The term of this bond is ----- years from July 2, 19--, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid shall be due and payable; but on the second day of July of each year, after the May fifteenth next succeeding the expiration of thirty days from and after the date hereof, an even annual proportion of its principal is due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor, until the whole is paid, with accrued interest at the rate of ----- per cent per annum.

The interest is payable semiannually on the second day of January and July of each year thereafter upon presentation of the coupons therefor, the first of which is for the interest from date to the second day of -----, 19--, and thereafter the interest coupons are for the semiannual interest.

This bond may be redeemed by the owner or any person interested in any lot or parcel of land described herein, in the manner provided in said act, at any time before maturity, and before commencement of proceedings for sale, upon payment to the city treasurer, for the holder of this bond of the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, together with the amount of interest as shown on the two interest coupons maturing first after the date of such payment and all penalties accrued and unpaid.

Should default be made in the annual payment upon the principal, or in any payment of interest, the holder of this bond is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable, and to have said lot or parcel of land advertised and sold forthwith in the manner provided by law. In case of such default, there shall be immediately added to such defaulted amount, five per cent (5%) of the amount thereof, and on the first day of each month following such default there shall be added a further penalty of one per cent to such defaulted amount. The city shall be entitled to one-half of the penalty first imposed, namely, two and one-half per cent and the other two and one-half per cent and all subsequent penalties shall be paid to the holder of the bond along with and as part of such defaulted payment.

Said bonds shall be payable to the bearer and no mistake or error in the description in the bond of the lot assessed shall affect the validity or lien of the bond, unless the mistake or error is such that the lot can not be identified, and in such event the holder of such bond may have the same corrected upon application to the city treasurer and the officers or board who or which made the assessment to represent which such bond is issued. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of regularity of all proceedings leading up thereto under said improvement act, and under this act, and of the validity of said bonds.

p. 390

SEC. 5. Section 5 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Record of
bonds

Sec. 5. The city treasurer shall enter in a book kept for that purpose in his office, a record of each bond issued hereunder, specifying the date of its issue, the amount for which issued, to whom delivered, its duration and a description of the lot against which issued. Payments of principal and interest on account of any bond issued hereunder shall be made to the city treasurer, who shall keep a separate account of all such payments (entering the same in the record herein required to be kept), and place the same in appropriate funds for the payment of principal and interest of the bonds on account of which paid, and who shall, upon the surrender of the coupons attached to said bond, pay to the holder thereof, or his order, the amount called for by said coupons out of the funds in his possession applicable thereto.

Payment of outstanding balance

The owner of or any person interested in any lot or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued under the terms of this act may at any time before commencement of proceedings for sale pay off such bond and discharge the land described in the bond from the lien of the assessment, by paying to the city treasurer, for the holder of such bond, the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, together with the amount of interest as shown on the two interest coupons maturing first after the date of such payment and all penalties accrued and unpaid. Upon such payment being made to the city treasurer he shall forthwith mark paid in his record of such bond assessment to represent which such bond was issued, and thereupon the lien of said assessment shall cease and the city treasurer shall forthwith notify the holder of the bond and call in the same. The city treasurer shall enter in his record of such bond the amount paid and the date of payment, and upon the lien of the assessment being extinguished as aforesaid, shall cancel said bond and file it in his office.

SEC. 6. A new section is hereby added to said act and to be known as section 5a, to read as follows: New section

Sec. 5a. In the event of the division of any lot or parcel of land for which a bond has been issued pursuant to section 4 hereof into two or more separate lots or parcels of land, such bond may be surrendered and new bonds issued to the holder of the original bond in the manner hereinafter prescribed. When it is desired that such new bonds shall be issued, an application in writing signed by the owner of any interest in any of the lots or parcels into which the original lot or parcel has been divided shall be filed with the street superintendent. Such application shall indicate how the original lot or parcel has been divided, and request the street superintendent to apportion the amount remaining unpaid on said assessment in accordance with such division, and be accompanied by a fee of five dollars ($5) for each such division, which sums shall be deposited by said street superintendent in the city treasury. The street superintendent thereupon shall apportion to each separate part of said original lot or parcel of land the proportionate part of the amount remaining unpaid on said assessment that would have been levied had such lot or parcel of land been so divided at the time the original assessment was made. When such determination has been made, an application signed by all persons owning an interest in the original lot or parcel of land and the holder of the original bond on such lot or parcel of land, shall be filed with the city treasurer requesting that new bonds be issued for the amounts shown by the apportioned assessment in accordance with this section. Such application shall be accompanied by evidence satisfactory to said city treasurer that it is signed by every person owning any interest in said original lot or parcel of land. When the city treasurer shall have ascertained that the application is signed by all of the necessary persons, he shall so advise the street superintendent who shall thereupon amend the recorded diagram and assessment to conform to such division and apportionment and assign new assessment numbers to each separate part of the original lot or parcel of land. The city treasurer shall add to each such apportioned amount a sum equal to five per cent thereof (but in no event more than the sum of ten dollars ($10)) and shall make and sign a new bond of the same form as the original bond, to represent each such apportioned amount. The amount of such bond shall be equal to the sum of such apportioned amount and the amount added thereto by the city treasurer as herein prescribed, and payable in installments at the respective dates of the payment of princi- Division of pal and interest of the original bond, the number of such installments to be equal to the number of unpaid installments on the original bond. Provided, however, that no new bond shall be issued when such apportioned amount shall be less than twenty-five dollars ($25), in which event said amount shall be paid to the city treasurer in cash for the benefit of the holder of the original bond. Upon the surrender of the original bond the city treasurer shall deliver to such bondholder or his agent or assigns the bonds issued for such apportioned assessments together with all payments of cash which may have been made pursuant hereto.

SEC. 7. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale of bonds after advertis-

Sec. 7. Improvement bonds, or any number of such bonds issued hereunder, except as otherwise provided in section 9 hereof, shall be sold to the highest cash bidder after advertising for bids, which advertisement shall be published for at least three times in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or if there be no such newspaper, then such advertisement shall be published once in a weekly or semiweekly newspaper so published and circulated; provided, however, that said bonds shall not be sold for less than the amounts of the assessments for which they were issued. In the event that it is provided in the resolution of intention that the bonds shall be issued at a maximum rate of interest leaving the exact rate of interest at which the bonds are to be issued and sold to be determined at the sale of such bonds, then the notice provided for in this section shall state that said bonds will bear interest at a rate not to exceed the maximum rate therefor named in said resolution, stating the same. Upon the issuance of said bonds by the treasurer, the city council shall advertise for the sale of said bonds, calling for bids therefor and fixing a time for the receipt of bids. At the time fixed for the receipt of such bids, or as soon thereafter as the city council can conveniently do so, it shall publicly open, examine and declare the same. Said bonds shall be sold to the best responsible bidder for cash therefor, and consideration shall be given to the rate of interest at which the bonds are offered to be purchased and the premium offered, if any. The rate of interest at which said bonds are sold shall not exceed the maximum rate named in the resolution of intention; and the rate of interest at which the legislative body sells said bonds shall thereupon be fixed as the rate of interest therefor, and such fixing and determination of such rate of interest shall be final and conclusive. If any bond be sold for an amount in excess of the amount for which it was issued, such excess shall be paid into the general fund of the city.

Sec. 7a. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 3 of said act, as amended by this act, and notwithstanding the provisions of any ordinance or resolution relating to the issuance of improvement bonds, as permitted by said act, passed prior to the date this act becomes effective, the city council of any city shall, at any time prior to the date of the recordation of the assessment roll for any work or improvement for which bonds may be issued under the provisions of said act, have the power to provide by resolution that bonds may be issued under and in accordance with said act as amended by this act for any work or improvement the proceedings for which shall have been commenced prior to the date this act becomes effective. Said resolution shall contain the identical provisions relative to bonds required to be set forth in the resolution required by section 3 of said act as amended by this act. Bonds issued under this section shall be issued in the manner and form prescribed in section 4 of said act as amended by this act, and such bonds shall be subject to all of the provisions of said act as amended by this act.

CHAPTER 784.

An act to repeal section 4.52 of the School Code and to repeal section 1 of chapter 433, statutes of 1929, entitled "An act relating to the formation, suspension and support of junior college districts and the powers of governing boards thereof," approved May 23, 1929 and to add a new section to the School Code to be numbered 4.52, all relating to the state junior college fund and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931, with reduction hereunder noted.

Appropriation

SEC. 4. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to the state junior college fund the sum of one million seven hundred one thousand five hundred twenty dollars ($1,701,520), or so much thereof as may be necessary for apportionment to the junior college districts of this state in the manner prescribed by the School Code during the eighty-third and eighty-fourth fiscal years.

CHAPTER 785.

An act to amend sections 1357, 1358, 1359, 1360, 1361 and 1362 of the Political Code, relating to absent voters.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927,
p. 585

SECTION 1. Section 1357 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Absent voters may procure ballots

1357. (a) Any duly registered voter, who expects to be absent from his election precinct, or unable to vote therein by reason of physical disability on the day on which any primary or general election, or any special election conducted throughout the county by the county clerk or registrar of voters, or any general municipal election (excluding any district election) conducted throughout the city or town, is held, may procure a ballot of his election precinct from the county clerk or registrar of voters of the county, or city and county, or in case of a municipal election from the city clerk of the municipality of his residence, and cast said ballot upon complying with the provisions of this chapter.

Application for ballots.

(b) Not more than twenty days nor less than five days before any of the elections mentioned in this chapter, any such voter may make his application in writing to the county clerk or registrar of voters of the county, or city and county, or in case of a municipal election to the city clerk of the municipality of his residence for such ballot.

Delivery of ballot, etc., to voter

(c) Upon receipt of such application within the time mentioned, it shall be the duty of the county clerk or registrar of voters, and in case of a municipal election the clerk of the municipality, receiving same to cause the signature thereon to be compared with the signature upon the original affidavit of registration, and if it shall appear the said signature is by the same person who signed the original affidavit of registration, he shall deliver to said applicant personally, or by registered mail at the mailing address given in said application, an official ballot of the precinct of said applicant, together with an identification envelope and a return envelope, and a small rubber stamp and stamp pad for marking said ballots; provided, however, that before delivering or mailing such ballot and supplies, the county clerk or registrar of voters, or in case of a municipal election the clerk of the municipality, shall satisfy himself from the affidavit of registration of such voter as to his or her right to a ballot, and may refuse in a proper case to deliver or send said ballot. Upon delivering or mailing such ballot the said clerk or registrar of voters shall enter the number of the ballot and the date of delivering or mailing of same upon the application of such voter, or upon the affidavit of registration of such voter; and before the election said officer shall send to the inspector of each precinct in his county, or city and county, or city, a list of the voters in his precinct applying for and receiving ballots under the provisions of this chapter.

(d) Should such voter return to his home precinct on election day, he shall not be allowed to vote until he shall have surrendered to the inspector of the election board the absent voter's ballot, mailed to him, and other supplies with which he may have been furnished. The inspector of election shall return the unused absent voter's ballot with the unused ballots of the precinct.

Voter at home on election day

(e) In case the election for which such voter applies for a ballot is the May presidential primary election, such voter shall be given the ballot of that political party only with which he declared himself affiliated as shown by his affidavit of registration, if such political party is participating in such election.

Presidential primary

In case such election is the August primary election the county clerk or registrar of voters shall deliver or mail to such voter a ballot only of such political party with which such voter is registered as intending to affiliate, as shown by his affidavit of registration. If such voter is not registered as intending to affiliate with any one of the political parties participating in said primary election, he shall be furnished a nonpartisan ballot, and no other.

August primary

(f) All supplies mentioned in this chapter and necessary for the use of the voter in preparing and returning his ballot shall be prepared and furnished by the county clerk or registrar of voters of the county, or city and county, or in case of a municipal election by the city clerk or clerk of said municipality of which such voter is a resident, and no officer shall make any charge for services rendered to any voter under the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 1358 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1923, p 588

1358. The identification envelope and return envelope provided for herein shall be of such form, size and weight as may be necessary and convenient as prescribed by the county clerk or registrar of voters and in case of a municipal election by the clerk of said municipality. The identification envelope shall have printed on its face an affidavit in the following form:

Voting prior to election

SEC. 3. Section 1359 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1359. (a) Any voter applying for and receiving a ballot as herein provided may, on any day prior to the day of election for which such ballot is to be voted, appear at the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters of the county, or city and county, or in case of a municipal election at the office of the city clerk of said municipality, in which such voter resides, and stamp and seal his ballot under the scrutiny of such officer, and in the following manner: The voter shall first display the ballot to such officer as evidence that the same is not marked, and shall then proceed to mark the ballot in the presence of such officer, but in such manner that such officer is unable to see how the same is being marked, and shall then fold said ballot and enclose the same in the identification envelope. The voter shall then make out and swear to the affidavit printed on the face of such envelope and deliver the same properly sealed to the officer before whom the ballot was marked. Said officer shall certify to the affidavit printed on the identification envelope and after writing or stamping his name across said seal shall deposit said envelope in a safe place in his office, to be kept by him and thereafter delivered to the proper canvassing board as hereinafter provided, and a certificate of such officer on the identification envelope shall state, in the last sentence thereof, such deposit of such envelope in his office, and that it has not been returned to the voter.

(b) In case said voter is absent from the county, or city and county, or city, of his residence, or on account of physical disability he is unable to go to the polling place and has not before voted for said election, he may appear before the clerk, or any registrar of voters or any notary public or any officer of the district, and city, county, or city and county, authorized by law to administer oaths within the city, city and county, county, or town, within the State of California, or in any other state within the United States in which he may be at the time of receiving his ballot, or at any time on or before the date of election but not thereafter, and stamp and seal his ballot under the scrutiny of such officer, in the manner hereinabove set forth. Such officer shall then certify to the affidavit printed on the identification envelope and inclose said envelope in the return envelope, and seal same, and, after writing or stamping his name across said seal, shall deliver said envelope to the voter to be by him returned to the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters, or in case of a municipal election to the clerk of the municipality, as the case may be.

Absent or disabled voters

SEC. 4. Section 1360 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1923, p 590

1360. All ballots cast under the provisions of this chapter must, in order that they may be counted, be received by the county clerk or registrar of voters, of the county, or city and county, or in case of municipal election by the city clerk of the municipality in which said voters are registered, within six days after the date of the election in which such ballots are to be counted.

Time limit on receipt of absent votes.

SEC. 5. Section 1361 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929, p 1526.

1361. As soon as all absent voter ballots issued have been received or returned and accounted for, and in no case later than seven days after any election mentioned herein, it shall be the duty of each board of supervisors, or canvassing board appointed by them, to canvass all of the ballots and count the same personally, or by a canvassing board, consisting of five electors appointed by them for that purpose, or in case of a municipal election by the canvassing board of such municipality. At the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, the canvass shall be made in the manner prescribed by section 21 of the direct primary law, except as hereinafter provided, and the canvass of votes for any general election shall be according to the laws now in force pertaining to such general election, except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 6 Section 1362 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Counting and disposition of absentee ballots.

1362. (a) The board of supervisors, or canvassing board appointed as hereinbefore provided, or in case of a municipal election, the canvassing board of said municipality, shall proceed to count said ballots in the following manner: they shall take up such return envelopes containing such ballots separately in the presence of a majority of the members of the canvassing board, board of election commissioners, or in case of municipal elections the canvassing board of the municipality, and of the public who may be present, and compare the signature of the voter on each of such envelopes with that on the registration affidavit of such voter, and the board being satisfied that the signature on the voter's identification envelope is the signature of such voter, shall announce in an audible voice the name of such voter, and shall then open such identification envelope without defacing the affidavit printed thereon or mutilating the enclosed ballot, and without unfolding said ballot remove the number therefrom and deposit same in the ballot box provided for such purpose. After all of the ballots are deposited in said box, the box shall be thoroughly shaken. They shall then be taken out, and the votes counted in the usual manner by the county clerk, registrar of voters or canvassing board appointed for that purpose, or in case of a municipal election by the canvassing board of said municipality, and the result of such count for each candidate voted for, and for and against each proposition voted upon, in such ballots, shall be tabulated by the board having charge of said election under the heading "absentee vote," regardless of the precincts within which such absentee voters are registered. The total of the votes cast in each precinct for each of the candidates, and for and against each proposition voted upon shall be added to the total for each candidate, and for and against each proposition tabulated under the heading "absentee vote."

The identification envelopes shall be preserved and returned to the county clerk or registrar of voters, or in case of a municipal election to the clerk of the municipality, to be retained in his office as a record for the period of one year and the ballots so counted shall be preserved in the same manner as other ballots cast at such election. If in any case a majority of the board find that the signature on any identification envelope is not the same as that appearing on the original affidavit of registration of said voter, said board shall refuse to open such envelope or count such ballot; and shall endorse the cause of such rejection on the face of said envelope and must be signed by a majority of said canvassing board; but no ballot shall be rejected for such cause after the envelope containing same shall have been opened. It shall be the duty of the county clerk or registrar of voters to keep an accurate list of all voters who have received and voted an absent voter ballot and said list and envelope shall be examined with the roster of voters provided for in subdivision 6 of section 1106 of the Political Code.

CHAPTER 786.

An act to amend section 1203 of the Penal Code, relating to probation of persons arrested for crime, after plea or verdict of guilty and the suspending of the imposition or execution of sentence during the term of probation or the imposition of jail sentence or fine or both or other conditions to fit the crime in connection with probation, and the disposition of such accusation after full compliance with the terms of probation and providing for the creation of offices of adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officer and fixing their compensation and duties and providing for adult probation boards in said counties and cities and counties.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p 1334

1203. After the conviction by plea or verdict of guilty of a public offense in cases where discretion is conferred on the court or any board or commission or other authority as to the extent of the punishment the court, upon application of the defendant or of the people or upon its own motion, may summarily deny probation, or at a time fixed may hear and determine in the presence of the defendant the matter of probation of the defendant and the conditions of such probation, if granted; if probation is not denied, the court must immediately refer the matter to the probation officer to investigate and to report to the court at a specified time, upon the circumstances surrounding the crime and concerning the defendant and his prior record, which may be taken into consideration either in aggravation or mitigation of punishment; the probation officer must thereupon make an investigation of circumstances surrounding the crime and the prior record and history of the defendant and make a written report to the court of the facts found upon such investigation and must accompany said report with his written recommendations as to the granting or withholding of probation to the defendant and as to the conditions of probation if it shall be granted and the report and recommendations must be filed with the clerk of the court as a record in the case. At such time or times fixed by the court, the court must hear and determine such application and in connection therewith must consider any report of the probation officer, and must make a statement that it has considered such report which must be filed with the clerk of the court as a record in the case. And if it shall determine that there are circumstances in mitigation of punishment prescribed by law, or that the ends of justice would be subserved by granting probation to the defendant, the court shall have power in its discretion to place the defendant on probation as hereinafter provided; if probation is denied, the clerk of the court must forthwith send a copy of the report and recommendations to the board of prison directors; further provided, however, that probation shall not be granted to any defendant who shall have been convicted of robbery, burglary, burglary with explosives, rape with force or violence, arson, murder, assault with intent to commit murder, attempt to commit murder, grand theft, train wrecking, feloniously receiving stolen goods, felonious assault with a deadly weapon, kidnapping, mayhem, escape from a state prison, conspiracy to commit any one or more of the aforementioned felonies, or any of the aforementioned felonies, and who at the time of the perpetration of said crime or any of them or at the time of his arrest was armed with a deadly weapon (unless at the time he had a lawful right to carry the same), nor to a defendant who used or attempted to use a deadly weapon in connection with the perpetration of the crime of which he was convicted, nor to one who in the perpetration of the crime of which he was convicted inflicted great bodily injury or torture nor to any defendant unless the court shall be satisfied that he has never in any place been previously convicted of a felony, nor to any public official or peace officer of the state, county, city, city and county, or other political subdivision who, in the discharge of the duties of his public office or employment, accepted or gave or offered to accept or give any bribe or embezzled public money or was guilty of extortion.

Court's power over punishment

1 The court, judge or justice thereof, in the order granting probation, may suspend the imposing, or the execution of the sentence and may direct that such suspension may continue for such period of time not exceeding the maximum possible term of such sentence, except as hereinafter set forth, and upon such terms and conditions as it shall determine. The court, judge or justice, in the order granting probation and as a condition thereof may imprison the defendant in the county jail for a period not exceeding the maximum time fixed by law in the instant case; may fine the defendant in such sum not to exceed the maximum fine provided by law in such case, or may in connection with granting probation, impose either imprisonment in county jail, or fine, or both, or neither; may provide for reparation in proper cases; and may require bonds for the faithful observance and performance of any or all of the conditions of probation. In counties or cities and counties where road camps, farms, or other public work is available the court may place the probationer in such camp, farms, or other public work instead of in jail, and subdivision twenty-nine of section 4041 of the Political Code shall apply to probation and the court shall have the same power to require adult probationers to work, as prisoners confined in the county jail are required to work, at public work as therein provided; and supervisors of the several counties are hereby authorized to provide public work and to fix the scale of compensation for such adult probationers in their respective counties. In all cases of probation the court is authorized to require as a condition of probation that the probationer go to work and earn money for the support of his dependents or to pay any fine imposed or reparation condition, to keep an account of his earnings, to report the same to the probation officer and to apply such earnings as directed by the court.

The court may impose and require any or all of the above mentioned terms of imprisonment, fine and conditions and other reasonable conditions, as it may determine are fitting and proper to the end that justice may be done, that amends may be made to society for the breach of the law; for any injury done to any person resulting from such breach and generally and specifically for the reformation and rehabilitation of the probationer; provided, that if the probationer should violate the terms and conditions of his probation and the court should deem it just or necessary to revoke such probation, then and in that event any period of time which such probationer may have served in jail or other detention place or any fine paid, under the terms and conditions of his probation, shall be taken into consideration as a part of his punishment, and he shall have a credit therefor to be deducted from his term of confinement or from the amount of any fine imposed upon final judgment. Upon the defendant being released from the county jail under the terms of probation or sooner by order of court, and in all cases where he is not confined in the county jail at the time of granting probation, the court shall place the defendant in and under the charge of the probation officer of the court, during such suspension or period of probation; provided, however, that upon the payment of any fine imposed and the fulfillment of all conditions of probation, probation shall cease at the end of the term of probation, or sooner, in the discretion of the court. In counties and cities and counties in which there are facilities for taking finger prints, such marks of identification of each probationer must be taken and a record thereof kept and preserved.

2. At any time during the probationary period of the person released on probation in accordance with the provisions of this section, any probation or peace officer may without warrant, or other process, at any time until the final disposition of the case, rearrest any person so placed on probation under the care of a probation officer, and bring him before the court, or the court may in its discretion issue a warrant for the rearrest of any such person and may thereupon revoke and terminate such probation, if the interests of justice so require, and if the court in its judgment, shall have reason to believe from the report of the probation officer, or otherwise,

Rearrest and revocation
of probation

that the person so placed upon probation is violating any of the conditions of his probation, or engaging in criminal practices, or has become abandoned to improper associates or a vicious life. Upon such revocation and termination the court may, if the sentence has been suspended, pronounce judgment after said suspension of the sentence for any time within the longest period for which the defendant might have been sentenced, but if the judgment has been pronounced and the execution thereof has been suspended, the court may revoke such suspension, whereupon the judgment shall be in full force and effect, and the person shall be delivered over to the proper officer to serve his sentence, less any credits herein provided for.

Termination
discharge

3 The court shall have power at any time during the term of probation to revoke or modify its order of suspension of imposition or execution of sentence. It may at any time when the ends of justice will be subserved thereby, and when the good conduct and reform of the person so held on probation shall warrant it, terminate the period of probation and discharge the person so held, but no such order shall be made without written notice first given by the court or the clerk thereof to the proper probation officer of the intention to revoke or modify its order, and in all cases, if the court has not seen fit to revoke the order of probation and impose sentence or pronounce judgment, the defendant shall at the end of the term of probation or any extension thereof, be by the court discharged subject to the provisions herein.

of plea

4 Every defendant who has fulfilled the conditions of his probation for the entire period thereof, or who shall have been discharged from probation prior to the termination of the period thereof, shall at any time prior to the expiration of the maximum period of punishment for the offense of which he has been convicted, dating from said discharge from probation of said termination of said period of probation, be permitted by the court to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty; or if he has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, the court shall set aside the verdict of guilty; and in either case the court shall thereupon dismiss the accusation or information against such defendant, who shall thereafter be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense or crime of which he has been convicted. The probationer shall be informed of this right and privilege in his probation papers. The probationer may make such application and change of plea in person or by attorney authorized in writing: provided, that in any subsequent prosecution of such defendant for any other offense such prior conviction may be pleaded and proved and shall have the same effect as if probation had not been granted or the accusation or information dismissed.

Adult
probation
officers

5. The offices of adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer, and deputy adult probation officer are hereby created: provided, that except as hereinafter specified the probation officers, assistant probation officers and deputy probation officers appointed under an act known as the juvenile court law and entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, or under any laws amending or superseding the same shall be ex officio adult probation officers, assistant adult probation officers and deputy adult probation officers respectively except in the case of offenses committed in any city and county and in any county or counties not operating under a freeholders' charter and having a population of more than three hundred thousand and under five hundred thousand and also in any county or counties having a population of more than one hundred thousand and under one hundred ten thousand, as the same is determined by the federal census taken in the year anno Domini 1920, in which counties and cities and counties the adult probation officers, assistant and deputy adult probation officers appointed under subdivision six of this section shall serve under this act; provided, however, that in all cases of offenses defined by section 21 of said act, known as the juvenile court law and by section 270 of the Penal Code, the same probation officers, assistants and deputies shall serve under this act as are appointed under said juvenile court law.

6. In any county having a population of more than nine hundred thousand in any city and county, and in any said county or counties having a population of more than three hundred thousand and under five hundred thousand and also in any county or counties having a population of more than one hundred thousand and under one hundred ten thousand, the judges presiding in the departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings by a majority vote shall by order entered in the minutes of the court in the criminal department or departments thereof, appoint seven citizens of good moral character to be known as the adult probation board and shall fill all vacancies occurring in such board. The clerk of said court shall immediately

Adult probation
board

notify each person appointed on said board and thereupon said persons shall appear before a judge of the superior court and qualify by taking an oath, which shall be entered in said record, to perform faithfully the duties of such adult probation board.

office

The members of such adult probation board shall hold office for four years and until their successors are appointed and qualified; provided, that of those first appointed, one shall hold office for one year, two for two years, two for three years and two for four years, the terms for which the respective members shall hold office to be determined by lot as soon after their appointment as may be. When any vacancy occurs in any adult probation board by expiration of the term of office of any member thereof, the successor shall be appointed to hold office for the term of four years. When any vacancy occurs for any other reason the appointee shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor. Any member of the probation board may be removed for cause at any time by an affirmative vote of four members of said board at a meeting called for the special purpose of considering the question of said removal and the subsequent written approval of a majority of said judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, said written approval to be filed with the clerk of the court within thirty days after the written report of the said board has been received by said judges. Written notice as to said special meeting shall be served on each of the members of said board at least ten days prior to the date therefor and shall specify the purpose thereof. The member sought to be removed shall be informed in writing of the charges against him and be given an opportunity to be heard.

Removal
for cause

Duties of
board.

It shall be the duty of the members of such adult probation board to work in cooperation with the adult probation officer to meet at stated times, to familiarize themselves with the charges against the probationers under the charge of the adult probation officer and the conditions of such probation, to exercise a friendly supervision of probationers when so directed by the court, to furnish the court and the adult probation officer information, and to render special assistance when requested by the court, and from time to time to advise and recommend to the court any changes or modification of the order made in the case of a probationer, as may be for the best interests of such person. Members of the adult probation board shall serve without compensation.

Salaries of adult probation
officers

7. In any county having a population of more than nine hundred thousand there shall be one adult probation officer and eight assistant adult probation officers who shall receive salaries as follows: One adult probation officer three hundred dollars per month; one assistant adult probation officer two hundred twenty-five dollars per month; and seven assistant adult probation officers each one hundred seventy-five dollars per month. In any city and county there shall be one adult probation officer and nine assistant adult probation officers ^{Same.} who shall receive salaries as follows: The adult probation officer three hundred fifty dollars per month; one assistant adult probation officer two hundred seventy-five dollars per month; seven assistant adult probation officers each two hundred ten dollars per month; and one assistant adult probation officer who shall act as cashier and clerk, one hundred ninety dollars per month.

In any county or counties of more than three hundred thousand and under five hundred thousand, there shall be one adult probation officer, one assistant adult probation officer and two deputy probation officers who shall receive salaries as follows: The adult probation officer two hundred fifty dollars per month; one assistant probation officer two hundred dollars per month; one deputy adult probation officer one hundred seventy-five dollars per month and one deputy adult probation officer fifty dollars per month. One deputy adult probation officer in such county shall be a woman and shall be a competent stenographer and typist of sufficient ability to perform the clerical and stenographic work of the office in addition to her other duties.

In any county or counties of more than one hundred thousand and under one hundred ten thousand, there shall be one adult probation officer and one deputy adult probation officer who shall receive salaries as follows: The adult probation officer two hundred dollars per month and one deputy adult probation officer one hundred twenty-five dollars per month; provided, however, that if in the judgment of the majority of the judges regularly sitting in or assigned to the criminal department or department of superior court in any county or city and county herein mentioned, the services of any assistant adult probation officer or deputy adult probation officer are not required, such assistant or deputy shall not be appointed until the efficiency of the probation system and number of probationers in such county or city and county require such appointment.

The salaries of the adult probation officer, assistant and deputies herein provided shall be paid out of the treasury of the county or city and county in which they are appointed in the same manner as the salaries of other county or city and county officers. The adult probation officer, assistants and deputies and members of the adult probation board shall be allowed such necessary incidental expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as required by any law of the State of California as may be authorized by a judge designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, or by the judge of a department to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned, and the same shall be a charge upon the county or city and county and said expenses shall be paid out of the county or city and county treasury upon the written order of said judge, directing the county auditor to deliver his warrant upon the treasurer for the specified amount of such expenses and the adult probation officer shall keep a list of expenses and file a copy monthly with the board of supervisors.

Appointment

8. In counties and cities and counties herein mentioned the adult probation officer, assistants and deputies herein provided shall be nominated by the adult probation board and shall be appointed by a majority vote of the judges presiding in the departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases. The term of office of the adult probation officer, assistants and deputies herein provided for shall be two years from the date of their appointment. The said officers may at any time be suspended or removed by an order of a majority of the judges presiding in the department designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings for good cause shown and on the filing of written charges by the said judge or judges by a written resolution of the adult probation board or by the chief probation officer. Upon filing such charges, said judge or judges shall make an order setting the same for hearing at a specified time and place not less than ten days nor more than twenty days after filing such charges. Notice shall be served upon the person against whom such charges are made at least five days before such hearing together with a copy of such charges.

Term.

Bond

Each adult probation officer, assistant and deputy shall give a bond in the sum of not more than two thousand dollars and approved by the judges of the superior court presiding in the departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of said office. If said bonds are furnished by a surety company licensed to transact business in the State of California, the premium thereon shall be paid out of the county treasury.

Deputies

The adult probation officer may appoint as many additional deputies as he may desire; provided, however, that such deputy shall not have authority to act until their appointment shall be approved by a majority vote of the adult probation board and by a majority vote of the judges presiding in departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases. The term of office of such deputies shall expire with the term of the adult probation officer making such appointment, but the adult probation officer may at any time in his discretion revoke and terminate such appointment. Such deputies, except as herein provided, shall serve without compensation.

Offices

Boards of supervisors of counties and cities and counties here mentioned shall provide and maintain at the expense of such county or city and county in a location in the vicinity of the county jail, suitable offices and quarters for the adult probation officer. Nothing contained in this subdivision shall apply to offenses defined by section 21 of the said juvenile court law.

9. Whenever any person is released upon probation under the provisions of this act, the case may be transferred to any court of the same rank in any other county, or city and county, of this state in which such person resides, or to which such person may remove, and such court shall thereupon commit such person to the care and custody of the probation officer of the county or city and county, to which such person has been transferred; such court shall thereafter have entire jurisdiction over such cases, with like power to make transfer whenever to such court such transfer may seem proper.

Transfer of cases to other courts

10. At the time of the plea or verdict of guilty of any person over eighteen years of age, the probation officer of the county of the jurisdiction of said criminal shall, when so directed by the court, inquire into the antecedents, character, history, family environment, and offense of such person, and must report the same to the court and file his report in writing in the records of such court. When directed, his report shall contain his recommendation for or against the release for such person on probation. If any such person shall be released on probation and committed to the care of the probation officer, such officer shall keep a complete and accurate record in suitable books or other form in writing of the history of the case in court, and of the name of the probation officer, and his act in connection with said case; also the age, sex, nativity, residence, education, habit of temperance, whether married or single, and the conduct, employment and occupation, and parents' occupation, and condition of such person committed to his care during the term of such probation and the result of such probation. Such record of such probation officer shall be and constitute a part of the records of the court, and shall at all times be open to the inspection of the court or of any person appointed by the court for that purpose, as well as of all magistrates, and the chief of police, or other heads of the police, unless otherwise ordered by the court. Said books of records shall be furnished for the use of said probation officer of said county, and shall be paid for out of the county treasury.

Report on character, etc., of prisoner

Recommendation of probation officer

11. Every probation officer, within fifteen days after the thirtieth day of June, and within fifteen days after the thirty-first day of December, of each year, shall make in writing and file as a public document with the county clerk a report to the superior court of the county or city and county in which such probation officer is appointed to serve, and shall furnish a copy of such report to each judge in said county or city and county who has released any person on probation, who at the time of such report remains on probation, and a further copy to the secretary of the state department of public welfare. Such report shall state, without giving names, the exact number of persons, segregating male and female, and segregating misdemeanors and felonies, who have been released on probation to such probation officer as such number exists, deducting all cases of expiration, discharge, dismissal, and restoration of rights, on said thirtieth day of June, and said thirty-first day of December, and such report shall further segregate such persons having been released on probation, as the case may be, in 1903, 1904, 1905, and so on, up to and including the calendar year in which such report is made and filed.

Statement of terms of probation

12. The probation officer shall furnish to each person who has been released on probation, and committed to his care, a written statement of the terms and conditions of his probation unless such a statement has been furnished by the court, and shall report to the court, judge or justice, releasing such person on probation, any violation or breach of the terms and conditions imposed by such court on the person placed in his care.

Peace officers'
powers

13. Such probation officer shall have, as to the person so committed to the care of said probation officer, the powers of a peace officer.

An act to amend section 4.821 of the School Code, relating to the increase of apportionments to elementary school districts.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Sch. C.
p. 191

SECTION 1. Section 4.821 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Increase in apportionment necessary, through increased attendance to maintain school

4.821. Whenever in any school year the average daily attendance in any elementary school district has been for a period of one school month and still is more than ten per cent larger than the average daily attendance was in that school district for the next preceding year, and by reason of such increased average daily attendance, the school district will be unable to maintain its schools for one hundred seventy days of actual teaching, the county superintendent of schools shall investigate the needs of the said district and if he finds that the said district levied the maximum district taxes for other than building purposes for the current school year and has used and is using its income wisely and economically for the maintenance of its schools as intended by the laws of the State of California, then he shall have power to increase the apportionment on average daily attendance to the said school district or districts as much as may be necessary to enable the said district or districts to maintain their schools for one hundred seventy days of actual teaching during the school year.

An act to add section 6a to chapter 176, statutes of 1919, entitled "An act providing for the prevention and suppression of forest fires," approved May 2, 1919, relating to arrests and appearances on charges of violating forest or fire laws.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered 6a is hereby added to chapter 176, statutes of 1919, entitled "An act providing for the prevention and suppression of forest fires," to read as follows: Stats 1919,
p 262

Sec. 6a. Whenever the state forester, an assistant forester, a fire ranger, or a fire warden arrests any person for a violation of the provisions of this act or for a violation of any law relating to forest or fire protection, he may in his discretion forthwith release the arrested person from custody in the manner and under the conditions set forth in this section. Method of arrest for breach of fire laws

Unless an immediate appearance before a magistrate is demanded by such person, the arresting officer, upon production of satisfactory evidence of identity, may take the name and address of the person arrested, and, if he believes such promise will be kept, may allow such person to sign a written promise to appear at a time and before a magistrate therein specified. Thereupon the arresting officer shall deliver a copy of the promise to the person making it, and shall forthwith release such person from custody. The magistrate specified in such promise must be the magistrate of the court having the jurisdiction of the particular offense upon the charge of which the arrest was made. The time specified therein must not be more than thirty days from and after the date of the arrest.

Any person who wilfully violates his promise given in accordance with this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested. A promise to appear may be complied with by an appearance by counsel.

SEC. 2. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Duty of oil and gas supervisor

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the state oil and gas supervisor so to supervise the drilling, operation and maintenance and abandonment of petroleum or gas wells or wells for the discovery of petroleum or gas in the State of California, as to prevent, as far as possible, damage to underground petroleum and gas deposits from infiltrating water and other causes and loss of petroleum and natural gas and damage to underground and surface waters suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes from the infiltration therein, or the addition thereto, of substances detrimental thereto, by reason of such drilling, operation, maintenance or abandonment of such wells. It shall be the duty of any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating any petroleum or gas well in this state wherein high pressure gas is known to exist, and any person, firm or corporation drilling for petroleum or gas in any district in this state where the pressure of petroleum or gas is unknown, to equip any such well with casings of sufficient strength, and such other safety devices as may be necessary, in accordance with methods approved by the state oil and gas supervisor, and to use every effort and endeavor to effectually prevent blowouts, explosions and fires.

well operators and drillers

Stats 1915,
p 1404

SEC. 3. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Deputies'
duties

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of each deputy to collect all necessary information regarding the oil and gas wells in the district, with a view to determining the presence and source of water in the oil sand and the location and extent of strata bearing water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes that might be affected thereby, and to make all maps and other accessories necessary to determine the presence and source of water in the oil sands and the location and extent of strata bearing water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes or surface water suitable for such purposes. This work shall be done with the view to advising the operators as to the best means of protecting the oil and gas sands and the said water-bearing strata and surface water, and with a view to aiding the supervisor in ordering tests or repair work at wells. All such data shall be kept on file in the office of the deputy oil and gas supervisor of the respective district.

Stats 1929,
p 926

SEC. 4. Section 8 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Tests and remedial

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the supervisor to order such tests or remedial work as in his judgment are necessary to protect the petroleum and gas deposits from damage by underground water, or to prevent the escape of water into underground formations, or to prevent the infiltration of detrimental substances into underground or surface water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes, to the best interests of the neighboring property owners, and the public at large. The order shall be in written form, signed by the supervisor, and shall be served upon the owner of the well, or the local agent appointed by such owner, either personally or by mailing a copy of said order to the post-office address given at the time the local agent is designated, or if no such local agent has been designated, by mailing a copy of said order to the last known post-office address of said owner, or if the owner be unknown, by posting a copy of said order in a conspicuous place upon the property, and publishing the same in some newspaper of general circulation throughout the county in which said well is located, once a week for two successive weeks. Said order shall specify the conditions sought to be remedied and the work necessary to protect such deposits from damage from underground water.

Whenever the supervisor or any deputy makes or gives any written direction concerning the drilling, testing or other operations in any oil or gas well drilled, in process of drilling or being abandoned, and the operator, owner or representative of either, serves written notice, either personally or by mail, addressed to the supervisor or his deputy at his office in the district, requesting that a definite order be made upon such subject, the supervisor or his deputies shall, within five days after such notice, deliver a final written order on such subject matter in such manner and form that an appeal may be taken at once therefrom, to the board of oil and gas commissioners of the district created under this chapter.

SEC. 5. Section 15 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

p 1594.

Sec. 15. The owner or operator of any well now drilled or drilling, or that may hereafter be drilled or drilling, in the State of California on lands producing or reasonably presumed to contain petroleum or gas shall properly case such well or wells with water-tight and adequate metal casing and, in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, or his deputy, and under his direction, shut off all water overlying and underlying oil-bearing or gas-bearing strata and prevent any water from penetrating such oil-bearing or gas-bearing strata. Such owner or operator shall likewise use every effort and endeavor to shut out from strata containing water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes and from surface water suitable for such purposes, substances detrimental thereto, and to prevent the infiltration of such substances into the strata containing water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes and into such surface water.

be cased

Whenever it appears to the supervisor that any water from any such well is penetrating oil-bearing or gas-bearing strata or that any such detrimental substances are infiltrating into underground or surface water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes from any such well, he may order a shut-off test

test

and shall designate a day upon which test shall be held. Said order shall be in written form and served upon the owner or operator of said well at least ten days prior to the day designated in said order as the day upon which said test shall be held. Upon the receipt of such order it shall be the duty of the owner or operator to hold said test in the manner and at the time prescribed in said order.

Stats 1929,
p 932

SEC. 6 Section 16 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Abandonment of well

Sec. 16. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act, before abandoning same, in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, or his deputy, and under his direction, to shut off and exclude all water from entering oil-bearing or gas-bearing strata encountered in the well and to use every effort and endeavor to protect any underground or surface water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes from infiltration or addition of any detrimental substances. Before any work is commenced to abandon any well, the owner or operator shall give written notice to the supervisor, or his deputy, of his intention to abandon such well and the date upon which such work of abandonment shall begin. The notice shall be given to the supervisor, or his deputy, at least five days before such proposed abandonment and shall contain information showing the condition of the well and the proposed method of abandonment. The owner or operator shall furnish the supervisor, or his deputy, any additional information that he may request regarding the condition of the well and the proposed method of abandonment at any time between the filing of the notice of intention to abandon such well and the completion of abandonment. The supervisor, or his deputy, shall, before the proposed date of commencing work to abandon such well, furnish the owner or operator (1) with a written report of approval of his proposal or (2) a written report stating what work or tests will be necessary before approval to abandon will be given, or (3) a written request stating what information will be necessary for the owner or operator to furnish the supervisor, or his deputy, before approval to commence work to abandon or before approval to abandon, will be given. If the supervisor, or his deputy, shall fail within the specified time to give the owner or operator a written report or request, such failure shall be considered as an approval of the owner's or operator's proposal to abandon such well, and such proposal shall, for the purposes and intents of this act, be deemed a written report of the supervisor or his deputy. Within five days after the completion of abandonment of any well referred to in this act, the owner or operator of the well abandoned shall make, in such form as the supervisor, or his deputy, may direct, a written report, in duplicate, of all work done in connection with the abandonment. The supervisor, or his deputy, shall, within ten days after the receipt of such written report of completion, furnish the owner or operator with a written final approval of abandonment or a written disapproval of abandonment setting forth the conditions upon which such disapproval is based. Failure to abandon in accordance with the approved method of abandonment; failure to notify the supervisor, or his deputy, to witness any and all tests provided to be witnessed by the supervisor, his deputy or his inspector, in such approved proposal; failure to furnish the supervisor, or his deputy, at his request, any information regarding the condition of the well, or any or either of such failures, shall be deemed sufficient grounds for disapproval of such abandonment.

SEC. 7. Section 18 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p 934

Sec. 18. It shall be the duty of the owner and operator of any well referred to in this act to keep a careful and accurate log, core record and history, of the drilling of such well, such log to show the character and depth of the formation passed through or encountered in the drilling of such well, and particularly to show the location and depth of the water-bearing strata, together with the character of the water encountered from time to time (so far as ascertained) and to show at what point such water was shut off, if at all, and if not, to so state in such log, and show completely the amounts, kinds and size of casing used, and show the depth at which oil-bearing strata are encountered, the depth and character of same, and whether all water overlying and underlying such oil-bearing strata was successfully and permanently shut off so as to prevent the percolation or penetration of such water into such oil-bearing strata and whether strata bearing water that might be suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes are properly protected from the infiltration or addition of detrimental substances from such well; such core record to show depth, character, and fluid content of cores obtained, so far as determined; such history to show location and amount of sidetrack casings, tools or other material, depth and quantity of cement in cement plugs, shots of dynamite or other explosives, results of production, and other tests during drilling operations; such log shall be kept in the local office of the owner or operator, and, together with the tour reports of said owner or operator, shall be subject, during business hours, to the inspection of the supervisor, or any of his deputies, or any of the commissioners of the district, except in the case of a prospect well as hereafter defined. Upon the completion of any well or upon the suspension of operations upon any well, for a period of six months, if it be a prospect well, or for thirty days, if it be in proven territory, a copy of said log, core record and history, in duplicate, and in such form as the supervisor may direct, shall be filed within ten days after such completion, or after the expiration of said thirty-day period, with the field supervisor, and a like copy shall be filed upon the completion of any additional work in the deepening of any such well. The Drilling log

of log

owner or operator of any well referred to in this act, or his local agent, shall file with the supervisor a copy of such log, history, and core record, or any portion thereof, at any time after the commencement of the work of drilling any such well, except a prospect well, upon written request of the supervisor, or his deputy. Such request shall be signed by the supervisor, or his deputy, and served either personally upon, or by mailing a copy of said request, by registered mail, to the last known post-office address of, such owner or operator or agent.

Well deemed complete

A well shall be deemed completed, for the purposes of this act, thirty days after the well has commenced to produce oil, water, or gas, unless drilling operations are resumed before the end of the thirty-day period.

Prospect wells

The state oil and gas supervisor shall determine and designate what wells are prospect wells within the meaning of this act, and no reports shall be required from such prospect wells until six months after the completion thereof.

Wells drilled previous to enactment

The owner or operator of any well drilled previous to the enactment of this act shall furnish to the supervisor, or his deputy, a complete and correct log, in duplicate, and in such form as the supervisor may direct, or his deputy, of such well, so far as may be possible, together with a statement of the present condition of said well.

New section

SEC. 8 A new section to be numbered 20a is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

Driller's

Sec. 20a. The state oil and gas supervisor shall require of every person, firm, association, corporation, trust or syndicate now engaged, or who or which shall hereafter engage, in the drilling of any well referred to in this act, as principal, an indemnity bond in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) for each such well being so drilled or which shall be hereafter so drilled, or a bond in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) to cover all operations of such person, firm, association, corporation, trust or syndicate in this state, executed by a reliable surety company, authorized to do business in the State of California, as surety, for the purpose of indemnifying the State of California against any and all loss, charges or expense caused by the failure of the principal named in such bond to comply with the provisions of this act. The condition of said bond shall be stated in substantially the following language:

"If said ----- the above bounden principal, shall well and truly comply with all the provisions of the act entitled 'An act to protect the natural resources of water, petroleum and gas from damage, waste and destruction; relating to the creation of a division in the department of natural resources for the prevention of such damage, waste and destruction; providing for the appointment of a state oil and gas supervisor; prescribing his duties and powers; fixing his compensation; providing for the appointment of deputies and employees; providing for the inspection of petroleum and gas wells; requiring all persons operating petroleum and gas wells to make certain reports; permitting and authorizing agreements in the interests of conservation; providing for suits by the director of the department of natural resources in the name of the people of the State of California; providing procedure for arbitration of departmental rulings; creating a fund for the purposes of the act; providing for assessment of charges to be paid by operators and providing for the collection thereof; providing for bonds required of drillers of oil and gas wells; and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act,' approved June 10, 1915, as amended, and shall obey all orders of the state oil and gas supervisor, or his deputy or deputies, lawfully made in pursuance thereof, if not appealed as provided in said act, or upon affirmance thereof by the board of commissioners having jurisdiction thereof, if appealed thereto, and shall pay all charges, costs and expenses incurred by such supervisor or his deputy or deputies in respect of such well or wells or the property or properties of said principal, or assessed against such well or wells or the property or properties of such principal, in pursuance of the provisions of said act, then this obligation shall be void; otherwise, it shall remain in full force and effect.'

An act to add three new sections to be numbered 2a, 11a, and 13a to chapter 267, statutes of 1923, entitled "An act to regulate and license the business of producing, refining or distributing gasoline, distillate and other motor vehicle fuels, providing for the collection and disposition of license taxes, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions of said act, and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 30, 1923, as amended, relating to the license taxes of unauthorized distributors and revolving funds for the state board of equalization and the department of public works, division of highways, and relating also to the refund provisions of the act.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section, to be numbered section 2a, is hereby added to chapter 267, statutes of 1923, entitled "An act to regulate and license the business of producing, refining or distributing gasoline, distillate and other motor vehicle fuels, providing for the collection and disposition of license taxes, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions of said act, and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 30, 1923, as amended, to read as follows:

Distributor without license

Sec. 2a. If any person, firm, association or corporation shall become a distributor without first securing the license required by section 2 of this act, the license tax shall be immediately due and payable on account of all motor vehicle fuel distributions made by such person, firm, association or corporation The state board of equalization shall proceed forthwith to determine as best it may the amount of such distributions and such person, firm, association or corporation shall be estopped from complaining of the amount so determined. Said board shall assess immediately the license tax on account of such distributions, adding to such license tax a penalty of one hundred per cent for failure to secure the license. Said board shall file a certificate of such assessment with the state controller who must proceed forthwith to collect the license tax due from such person, firm, association or corporation by seizure and sale of property in the manner prescribed in section 4 of this act with reference to delinquency of the payment of the monthly license tax. At the request of the controller, the attorney general shall commence and prosecute to final determination an action at law to collect the license tax and penalty, or any part thereof, assessed against any such person, firm, association or corporation. In any such suit the certificate of assessment made by the state board of equalization, or a copy thereof certified by the controller, shall be prima facie evidence that the person, firm, association or corporation is indebted to the people of the State of California in the amount of such license tax and penalties. It is expressly provided that the foregoing remedies of the state shall be cumulative and that no action taken pursuant to this section shall relieve in anywise the person, firm, association or corporation from the penal provisions of section 14 of this act.

Tax and penalty

SEC. 2. A new section, to be numbered 11a, is hereby added to chapter 267, statutes of 1923, as amended, to read as follows:

New section

Sec. 11a. Refund provisions contained herein shall not be construed to cover losses in handling, transporting or storage of motor vehicle fuel.

Refunds not to cover handling, etc., losses

SEC. 3. A new section, to be numbered section 13a, is hereby added to chapter 267, statutes of 1923, as amended, to read as follows:

See Stats 1929, p 956, also Stats 1931 (Initiative).

Sec. 13a. The state board of equalization may, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, draw from the "Fuel tax enforcement fund," a sum not to exceed five thousand dollars; and the department of public works, division of highways, may, in like manner, draw five hundred thousand dollars from the "State highway maintenance fund." The sum or sums so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary.

Stats 1915,
p. 1225,
amended. An act to amend sections 15 and 15a of the "Juvenile court law," relating to persons free from parental control and citations to be served in proceedings under the act.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1915,
p. 1225. SECTION 1 Section 15 of the "Juvenile court law" is hereby amended to read as follows:

Persons
free from
control. Sec 15. Within the meaning of this act the words "persons who should be declared free from the custody and control of his parents" shall include any person:

1. Who has been left in the care and custody of another by his parent or parents without any provision for his support, or without communication from such parent or parents, for the period of one year with the intent to abandon said person; such failure to provide, or such failure to communicate for the period of one year shall be presumptive evidence of the intent to abandon; such person shall be deemed and called an abandoned person; or

2. Who has been cruelly treated or neglected by his parent or parents, provided, that in either instance, said person shall have been a ward of the juvenile court and the parents deprived of his custody because of such cruel treatment or neglect for the period of one year continuously immediately prior to the filing of a petition praying that he be declared free from the custody and control of his parents; or

3. Whose parent or parents are habitually intemperate; provided, that said person shall have been a ward of the juvenile court and the parents deprived of his custody because of such intemperance for the period of one year, continuously immediately prior to the filing of a petition praying that he be declared free from the custody and control of his parents; or

4. Whose parent or parents are deprived of their civil rights due to the conviction of a felony, if, after investigation and service of citations as prescribed in this act upon the parent or parents who are imprisoned, the court decides that the felony of which such parent or parents was convicted is of such nature as to prove the unfitness of the parent or parents to have the future custody and control of the child, or that the term of sentence of such parent or parents is of such length that the child will be deprived of a normal home for a period of years; or

5. Whose parent or parents have been divorced on the ground of adultery, if the court, after service of citations as prescribed in this act upon such parent or parents and the presentation of all the evidence, finds that the future welfare of the child will be promoted by the order depriving such parent or parents of the control and custody of the child; or

6. Whose parent or parents have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be feeble-minded or insane; if the state director of institutions and the superintendent of the state hospital of which, if any, the parent or parents are inmates or patients certify that the parent or parents will not be capable of supporting or controlling the child in a proper manner.

SEC. 2. Section 15a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1921,
p 891

Sec. 15a. Upon the filing of a petition, as provided in section 3 of this act, alleging that there is within the county or residing therein a person who should be declared free from the custody and control of his parents, as defined in this act, or that there have occurred within the county acts constituting abandonment, neglect, cruelty or habitual intemperance, on the part of the parent or parents of such person, and praying that the superior court deal with said person as provided in this act, a citation shall issue, requiring the person or persons having the custody or control of said person or the person or persons with whom said person may be, to appear with said person at a time and place stated in the citation. The juvenile court, either of the county in which the person resides, or of the county in which he is found, or of the county in which the acts constituting the abandonment, neglect, cruelty or habitual intemperance occurred, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine such proceeding, at the election of the petitioner. Service of such citation must be made at least ten days before the time stated therein for such appearance. The parent or parents of said person, if residing within the State of California, and if their place of residence be known to the petitioner, or, if there be no parent so residing, or if the place of residence of such parent or parents be not known to the petitioner, then some relative of said person, if any there be residing within the state, and if his residence and relationship to said person be known to the petitioner, shall be notified of the proceedings by service of citation requiring him or them to appear at the time and place stated in such citation. In all cases where the parents are married and one parent has relinquished his or her child for the purpose of adoption or has signed a consent for adoption as provided in sections 224m and 226 of the Civil Code, the said child may be declared free from the custody and control of the other parent and no notice as herein provided shall be given said parent who has signed said relinquishment or consent. Service of such citations must be made at least ten days before the time stated therein for such appearance. Petition to

An act to amend section 1426 of the Penal Code, relating to proceedings in justice's court and municipal courts.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Penal C.

Proceedings to be commenced by

SECTION 1. Section 1426 of the Penal Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 1426. Proceedings must be commenced by complaint. All proceedings and actions before a justice's or police court, or a municipal court, for a public offense of which such courts have jurisdiction, must be commenced by complaint under oath, setting forth the offense charged, with such particulars of time, place, person, and property as to enable the defendant to understand distinctly the character of the offense complained of, and to answer the complaint. In charging an offense, each count shall contain, and shall be sufficient if it contains in substance, a statement that the accused has committed some public offense therein specified. Such statement may be made in ordinary and concise language without any technical averments or any allegations of matter not essential to be proved. It may be in the words of the enactment describing the offense or declaring the matter to be a public offense, or in any words sufficient to give the accused notice of the offense of which he is accused. In charging theft, it shall be sufficient to allege that the defendant unlawfully took the labor or property of another.

CHAPTER 797.

An act to amend the title and sections 2 and 4 of an act entitled "An act to create a flood control district to be called 'Los Angeles county flood control district'; to provide for the control and conservation of flood and storm waters, and for the protection of harbors, waterways, public highways and property in said district from damage from such waters, and for the construction of works and the acquisition of property therefor; to authorize the incurring of indebtedness, and the voting, issuing and selling of bonds, and the levying and collecting of taxes by said district; to provide for the government and control of said district, and to define the powers and duties of the officers thereof," approved June 12, 1915, as amended, relating to the objects and purposes of said act and the powers of the board of supervisors thereunder.

Stats. 1915,
p 1502,
amended

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The title of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: An act to create a flood control district to be called "Los Angeles county flood control district"; to provide for the control and conservation of flood, storm and other waste waters, and for the protection of harbors, waterways, public highways and property in said district from damage from such waters, and for the construction of works and the acquisition of property therefor; to authorize the incurring of indebtedness, and the voting, issuing and selling of bonds, and the levying and collecting of taxes by said district; to provide for the government and control of said district, and to define the powers and duties of the officers thereof.

amended

SEC. 2. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929,
p 1547

Sec. 2. The objects and purposes of this act are to provide for the control and conservation of the flood, storm and other waste waters of said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes by spreading, storing, retaining or causing to percolate into the soil within said district, or to save or conserve in any manner, all or any of such waters, and to protect from damage from such flood or storm waters, the harbors, waterways, public highways and property in said district.

Purposes
of act

Said Los Angeles county flood control district is hereby declared to be a body corporate and politic, and as such shall have power:

Corporate
powers

1. To have perpetual succession.
2. To sue and be sued in the name of said district in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

Corporate
power

3 To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.

4 To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise or lease, hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real or personal property of every kind within or without the district necessary to the full exercise of its power.

5 To acquire or contract to acquire lands, rights of way, easements, privileges and property of every kind, and construct, maintain and operate any and all works or improvements within or without the district necessary or proper to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act, and to complete, extend, add to, repair or otherwise improve any works or improvements acquired by it as herein authorized.

6 To have and exercise the right of eminent domain, and in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act, whether such property be already devoted to the same use by any district or other public corporation or agency or otherwise, and may condemn any existing works or improvements in said district now used to control flood or storm waters, or to conserve such flood or storm waters or to protect any property in said district from damage from such flood or storm waters.

7 To incur indebtedness, and to issue bonds in the manner herein provided.

8 To cause taxes to be levied and collected for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district in the manner hereinafter provided.

9 To make contracts, and to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of all powers vested in said district, or any of the officers thereof, by this act.

10 To grant or otherwise convey to counties, cities and counties, cities or towns easements for street and highway purposes, over, along, upon, in, through, across or under any real property owned by said Los Angeles county flood control district

11 To remove, carry away and dispose of any rubbish, trash, debris or other inconvenient matter that may be dislodged, transported, conveyed or carried by means of, through, in, or along the works and structures operated or maintained hereunder and deposited upon the property of said district or elsewhere.

12 To pay premiums on bonds of contractors required under any contract wherein the amount payable to the contractor exceeds five million dollars; provided, that the specifications in such cases shall specifically so provide and state that the bidder shall not include in his bids the cost of furnishing the required bonds.

13 To lease, sell or dispose of any property (or any interest therein) acquired in fee otherwise than by condemnation, whenever in the judgment of said board of supervisors said property, or any interest therein or part thereof, is no longer required for the purposes of said district, or may be leased for any purpose without interfering with the use of the same for the purposes of said district, and to pay any compensation received therefor into the general fund of said district and use the same for the purposes of this act; provided, however, that nothing herein shall authorize the board of supervisors or other governing body of the district or any officer thereof to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any water, water right, reservoir space or storage capacity or any interest or space therein, except as hereinafter provided by section 17 of this act.

SEC. 3. Section 4 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1915,
p 1502.

Sec. 4. Said board of supervisors shall have jurisdiction and power, and it shall be their duty to employ by resolution a competent engineer or engineers to investigate carefully the best plan to control the flood and storm and other waste waters of said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes by spreading, storing, retaining or causing to percolate into the soil within said district, and to save or conserve in any manner, any or all of such waters, and to protect the harbors, waterways, public highways and property in said district from damage from such waters; and to obtain such other information in regard thereto as may be deemed necessary or useful for carrying out the purposes of this act, and such resolution shall direct such engineer or engineers to make and file a report with said board of supervisors which shall show: Employment of engineers.

Report by engineers.

1. A general description of the work to be done.

2. General plans, profiles, cross sections and general specifications of the work to be done.

3. A general description of the lands, rights of way, easements and property proposed to be taken, acquired or injured in carrying out said work.

4. A map which shall show the location of the proposed work and improvements, and lands, rights of way, easements and property to be taken, acquired or injured in carrying out said work, and any other information in regard to same that may be deemed necessary or useful.

5. An estimate of the cost of such work, including an estimate of the cost of lands, rights of way, easements and property proposed to be taken, acquired or injured in carrying out said work, and also of all incidental expenses likely to be incurred in connection therewith, including legal, clerical, engineering, superintendence, inspection, printing and advertising, and stating the total amount of bonds necessary to be issued to pay for the same.

Such engineer or engineers employed by said resolution shall have power and authority, subject to the control and direction of said board of supervisors, to employ such engineers, surveyors and others as may be required for making all surveys or doing any other work necessary for the making of such report.

The said board of supervisors may at any time remove any or all of the engineers or employees appointed or employed under this act, and may fill any vacancies occurring among them from any cause.

CHAPTER 798.

An act to amend section 374b of the Penal Code and to add a new section thereto to be numbered section 375, relating to the deposit of nauseous, offensive or injurious substances in places of public assemblage or the manufacture or possession thereof with the intent so to deposit.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code to be numbered 375 and to read as follows:

Offensive

CHAPTER 799.

An act to amend section 30 of and to add a new section to be numbered 15e to the California irrigation district act, relating to the powers and duties of the board of directors. Stats 1897, p 254, amended

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The California irrigation district act, approved March 31, 1897, as amended, is hereby amended by adding a new section thereto to be designated section 15e, as follows: New section

Sec. 15e. The board of directors may by resolution establish special accounts from the general fund as may be necessary or convenient in the efficient and economical operation of the district and designate the person or officer to have custody of the several accounts so established and fix bond for the faithful discharge of their several duties, the cost of which bond may be paid by the district. Such special accounts shall severally be supplied from the general fund by warrant as provided by section 54, the same as in payment of any other claim against the district. The person in custody of any of said accounts shall make to the board a verified report in writing between the first and tenth of each month showing the amount of money received by him for said account since the last report and the amount and items of expenditures therefrom; said report shall be filed with the secretary of the board. No payment shall be made from any of said accounts except upon the written order of the person or one of the persons designated for the purpose by the board indicating in said order the purpose for which and the person to whom payment is to be made and with the approval in writing of the person or one of the persons designated for the purpose by the board. Establishment of special funds

SEC. 2. Section 30 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1919, p 662.

Sec. 30 For the purpose of constructing or purchasing necessary irrigation canals and works, and acquiring the necessary property and rights therefor, and for the purpose of acquiring waters, water rights, reservoirs, reservoir sites, and other property necessary for the purposes of said district, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act, or any other act under which said district is or may be authorized to acquire property or construct works, the board of directors of any such district must, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, and also whenever thereafter the board of directors shall find that the construction fund raised by the last previous bond issue is insufficient, or that the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized therefrom and it is necessary to raise additional money for said purposes, estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised. For the purpose of Improvement estimate of cost.

ascertaining the amount of money necessary to be raised for such purposes, or any of them, said board shall cause such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans to be made as shall furnish the proper basis for said estimate. Said surveys, examinations, drawings and plans, and the estimate based thereon may provide that the works necessary for a completed project shall be constructed progressively during a period of years. In the estimate of the amount of money necessary to be raised by any issue of bonds in any district, the board of directors may include a sum sufficient to pay the interest on all of such bonds for three years or less. All such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans shall be made under the direction of a competent irrigation engineer and shall be certified by him.

An act to amend section 35 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of drainage districts, for the drainage of agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the drainage of the lands embraced within such districts," approved March 20, 1903, as amended, and relating to refunding bonds of such districts.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1915,
p 1322

SECTION 1 Section 35 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of drainage districts, for the drainage of agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the drainage of the lands embraced within such districts." approved March 20, 1903, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bonds when payable

Sec. 35. If said bonds are directed to be issued as herein provided for the board of directors shall cause the same to be issued. Said bonds shall be made payable in gold coin of the United States, in twenty series, as follows, to wit: On the first day of January after the expiration of ten years, five per cent of the whole amount of said bonds, and on the first day of January of each year thereafter, an equal amount of such bonds until all shall have been finally paid; that is, five per cent of the whole issue of bonds—not five per cent of each bond, each being wholly payable when due. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first day of January and July of each year. They shall be negotiable in form, and shall be of denominations of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars. Said bonds shall in all respects conform to the form of bonds prescribed hereinbefore. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, if the proposed maturities of the bonds are set forth in the notice of election, the bonds may be made payable in such series and amounts and at such times as are stated in such notice; provided, that no bond shall be made payable more than forty years after its date.

CHAPTER 801

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered 3480c, providing, under the supervision of the state reclamation board for the formulation and carrying out of the plans to reorganize, refund and adjust the finances and obligations of reclamation districts.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered 3480c and to read as follows: New section

3480c. (1) Whenever any reclamation district shall have been in default for more than one year in the payment of any maturity of its bonds or any maturity of its interest coupons thereon, then any holder of any bond or any coupon or any warrant of said district may petition the reclamation board of the State of California to undertake to reorganize, refund and adjust the finances and obligations of the district; and under the same circumstances the reclamation board itself may initiate such proceedings. The board of trustees of a district may also file such petition at any time. Thereupon the reclamation board shall set a time and place for a hearing thereon and shall give a notice thereof not less than ten days prior to said hearing by mailing such notice to the district at its office, and by posting such notice in five public places in the district. The notice shall state how the proceeding has been started and what the purpose of it is. The place for the hearing shall be either at the office of the district or at some place within the district or at some convenient place within the county in which the district is located. On the hearing the reclamation board shall examine into the financial affairs of the district; and any one interested in any land in the district and any creditor of the district may take part in the hearing and may introduce relevant evidence. Thereupon the reclamation board shall make and enter its order determining whether it does or does not undertake to reorganize, refund and adjust the finances and obligations of the district. Reclamation districts adjustment of finances on failure to pay bonds

(2) If sixty-five per cent or more of the land in the district has been sold for delinquencies in payment of calls on assessments and remains unredeemed, then the reclamation board, either on the hearing hereinabove provided or after a hearing Hearing in said manner and after said notice, may make and enter its order that the district and its trustees and other officers shall be subject to the control of said board; and said order, duly certified, shall be filed with the board of supervisors and the county treasurer of each county within which lands of the district are located and thereafter said trustees and other officers shall follow all directions and shall observe all orders that shall be issued to them or any of them by the reclamation board concerning the performance of their duties as officers of the district, and also thereafter the reclamation board shall have the power to declare, and it may declare, vacant the office of any officer of the district and appoint another person to fill such office. Any appointee of the reclamation board to any office shall have only such qualifications as shall be prescribed by such board. An appointee of the reclamation board shall hold office only at the pleasure of such board; and notwithstanding any other provision of law said office shall not be otherwise filled either by election or by appointment until the reclamation board shall enter its order discontinuing its efforts to reorganize, refund and adjust the finances and obligations of the district. Any one who is aggrieved by any order subjecting the district, its trustees and officers to the control of the reclamation board or declaring any office vacant may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the greater part of the district is located to have said order annulled. Said action must be commenced within thirty days after said order is made; otherwise no action or defense shall thereafter be maintained attacking the legality of said order. During the pendency of said action said order shall remain in full force and effect for all purposes and the reclamation board shall be entitled to have immediate possession of all properties, records, papers, books, seal and engineering and other data belonging to the district and displaced officers shall not interfere with appointees to their places and shall not attempt further to perform the duties of the offices from which they have been removed.
Power of state reclamation board to refund and adjust, etc

Limitation on actions of those aggrieved

Provisions of plan of adjustment

(3) The reclamation board, acting either directly or through the board of trustees of the district, shall adopt a plan to reorganize, refund and adjust the finances and obligations of the district in the manner herein provided. The plan shall at least provide:

(a) For the issuance of refunding bonds hereunder and for the maturities of the refunding bonds which, however, must mature within fifty years from the date when authorized by the election herein provided;

(b) For the interest rate on said refunding bonds which may be made to vary from time to time or may be omitted for a time, but which shall not exceed six per cent per annum payable semiannually;

(c) For the deposit of the bonds to be refunded with such depository as may be designated by the reclamation board and for the time within which said deposit shall take place; and for the issuance of receipts for said bonds by said depository, which shall be known as "ownership certificates," and which shall describe said bonds and the coupons attached thereto, the amount, due dates, coupons and original numbers thereof, and which shall be transferable by delivery;

(d) For extensions of time for deposit of said bonds, but the total time allowed for deposit thereof shall not exceed two years from the date of the election herein provided;

(e) For application of moneys on hand in the bond and other funds of the district or to be received therein from any sources;

(f) For the amount of refunding bonds to be issued and for the exchange thereof for bonds being refunded either on pro rata or a bond-for-bond basis and, if deemed desirable, in the order of maturity of the original issue of bonds; and

(g) For such other things incidental to the process of refunding said bonds and not inconsistent herewith as may be proper or necessary.

The plan may provide for the sale of said refunding bonds at any specified price and the application of the proceeds. Said plan may include for refunding any outstanding warrants or other obligations of the district; but it shall be optional with the reclamation board whether or not obligations incurred for maintenance or warrants issued in payment of such obligations shall be included in the plan. Bonds, coupons, warrants, and other obligations may be refunded whether in default or not in default. Upon the adoption of such plan the reclamation board or the trustees, as such board may direct, shall call an election in the district and shall submit to the qualified voters therein the question whether or not refunding bonds shall be issued as provided by the plan. In the notices of election the terms of the plan shall be generally described. All proceedings appertaining to said election shall be in accordance with section 3480 of the Political Code as said section shall be when said election is held. Where lands have been sold to the county treasurer, as trustee, and the right to redeem has expired, said lands shall be voted by the treasurer at said or any other election held in the district. If the majority of the votes cast at said election shall be in favor of said plan, then the reclamation board shall proceed to carry said plan into effect. Except as herein specially provided, said refunding bonds shall be in terms substantially as provided in section 3480a, of the Political Code as said section shall be when said election was held; but they shall state that they are issued under this section of this act. The deposit of bonds, coupons, warrants and other obligations under the plan shall bind the depositors thereof to the terms of the plan; and whenever bonds, coupons, warrants and other obligations of the district have been fully deposited as required by said plan then:

(a) Lands that have been deeded to the county treasurer, as trustee, under sales for delinquencies shall be sold for cash at such prices as the reclamation board shall specify and moneys realized from the sale of said lands shall go into the proper bond fund, irrigation fund, warrant interest fund or general fund of the district, as the case may be;

(b) Moneys in the bond funds of the district shall be used as specified by said plan;

(c) Moneys in any warrant interest fund or irrigation fund shall be applied, first, on account of registered warrants in order of registration, and thereafter pro rata upon unregistered warrants against such fund, and any balance shall be carried into the general fund;

(d) Moneys in the general fund of the district shall be applied, first, on account of registered warrants in the order of registration, and thereafter pro rata upon unregistered warrants against such fund, and thereafter pro rata upon obligations of the district other than bonds, coupons and warrants. Thereafter the reclamation board or the trustees, as such board may direct, shall fix by order the amount of refunding bonds to be issued under the plan and shall report the amount and purpose thereof, together with said plan, to the board of supervisors of the main county in which lands of the district are located. Thereupon, by proceedings as provided in sections 3456a, 3461, 3462 and 3463 of the Political Code, an assessment shall be levied upon the lands in the district in the amount specified in said report. Said assessment shall be security for the payment of the said refunding bonds and shall be collected and applied for that purpose in the manner prescribed in section 3480 of the Political Code as said section shall be when action is taken thereunder. Whenever the assessment roll for said assessment has been filed as provided by law all assessments underlying any bond issue being refunded and underlying or being available for the payment of any outstanding warrants or other obligations being refunded shall be null and void and no further proceedings shall be taken thereunder; provided, however, that deeds may issue thereafter on any sales thereunder for delinquency where the times for issue of said deeds have then already expired or where said sales have been made to purchasers for cash and the times for redemption have not yet expired.

(4) Additional moneys for said bond fund for application under said plan may be provided by voluntary contribution and refunding bonds may be issued therefor. Unless funds are provided in the county treasury either in the manner herein specified or as may be provided by agreement to pay any bonds, coupons and registered warrants which are not deposited under said plan, the reclamation board shall not carry out said plan.

(5) Whenever any plan to reorganize, refund and adjust the finances and obligations of the district has been fully executed then the reclamation board shall enter its order releasing the district, its trustees and other officers, from all further supervision, control, or direction hereunder and certified copies of the order shall be filed with the board of supervisors and the county treasurer of each county wherein lands of the district are located

(6) Except as any thereof can not be applied hereunder, or is inconsistent herewith, the provisions of section 3480 of the Political Code as said section shall be when action is taken hereunder from time to time, are hereby incorporated herein as a part of this section of this act and are made applicable to said assessment and to said refunding bonds and are available in proceedings hereunder. Law made applicable

(7) Nothing herein contained shall limit or affect the duties and powers of the county treasurer in enforcing any assessment to meet outstanding bonds, coupons or warrants of the district.

(8) If any plan is rejected at said election then successive plans may be adopted and submitted until approval of some plan has been obtained. Successive plans

CHAPTER 803.

An act to amend section 3480a of the Political Code, providing a method of refunding reclamation district bonds now or hereafter issued or outstanding.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 Section 3480a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 1633

3480a. Any reclamation district now existing or hereafter created may refund the whole or any part of any installment or installments of the principal of any bond issue now or hereafter outstanding in manner as follows: Refunding outstanding bonds

Special election

1. Whenever in the judgment and opinion of the board of trustees of said district it would be for the best interest of said district or the landowners therein to refund any installment or installments of the principal of any outstanding bonds of the said district or any portion of said installment or installments, the board of trustees of said district may, by order entered upon the records thereof, order a special election to be held at some place in said district to be designated by the board at which said election shall be submitted to the owners of land in said district the question of whether or not any installment or installments of the principal of the outstanding bonds of said district or any part of any such installment or installments, shall be refunded. Said order for said special election shall set forth the maturities and rate of interest of said refunding bonds and the total amount of the principal thereof, and shall designate the bonds which are to be refunded. The principal of the refunding bonds shall not exceed one hundred ten per cent of the principal amount of the bonds which are to be refunded.

Notice of election

2. Notice of such special election shall be given by the board of trustees by posting notices thereof in at least three public places in the district at least twenty-one days prior thereto, and, also, by publication for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any portion of the district may be situate, and such notices shall be substantially in the following form:

“Notice of special election to determine whether or not refunding bonds shall be issued.

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the board of trustees of reclamation district No. _____ held on the _____ day of _____, 19____, a resolution and order was duly adopted by the said board calling a special election of the landowners of this district, for _____ the _____ day of _____, 19____, at _____ in the county of _____ in said district, to determine whether or not $_____ of the principal amount of the outstanding bonds of this district, dated the _____ day of _____, 19____, and maturing as follows, to wit: _____ shall be refunded by the issuance of refunding bonds of said district of the aggregate principal amount of $_____ and maturing as follows, to wit: _____.

And notice is hereby further given that _____ and _____ and _____ three landowners of said district, are hereby appointed to act as the board of election for said election.

The polls at said election will be open from ten a.m. of said day until four p.m.

Witness the name and the seal of the said district this _____ day of _____, 19____.

Reclamation District No. _____

By _____

President.

By _____

Secretary.”

[SEAL]

Affidavits
to be filed

Affidavits of publication and posting of such notices shall be filed with the county clerk of the county within which the said district or the greater part thereof is situate, together with a copy of the said order calling said election, certified by the president of the board of trustees, and attested by the secretary thereof, with the seal of the district affixed.

Who may
vote

3. At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy and shall have the right to cast one vote for each dollar's worth of real estate owned by him in the district, such value and ownership thereof to be determined from the next preceding assessment roll of the county or counties in which the lands of said district are situate, and the board of trustees of the district shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified by the proper officer and furnished to the board of election, a true and correct copy of the said next preceding assessment roll of the said county or counties, which said certified roll shall be used by the said board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the votes of the estates represented by them.

ownership

4. In the event that ownership of any property in the district is changed after the making of the last assessment roll for the district, the owner thereof shall be entitled to vote thereon upon production of the original deed or of certified copy of the record thereof in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situate. Any person not legally qualified to vote who shall make any false statement in respect to his right to vote shall incur all of the penalties provided in the Penal Code of the State of California for persons illegally voting at elections.

Illegal voting

Penalty

Proxies

5. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election. The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words: "Refunding Bonds—Yes," or the words "Refunding Bonds—No," and also the name of the person casting the ballot with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election, containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballot be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it, and the number of votes cast by each, and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of the bonds.

Ballots

Election
officers

6. If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present may appoint in his place any landholder of the district. Each member of such board of election, must, before entering upon his duties take and subscribe an official oath, which oath may be administered by an officer authorized to administer oaths or by any landholder in the district. The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock a.m. of the day of election until four o'clock p.m. At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of said refunding bonds, to the county clerk of the main county, and shall deliver a duplicate thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and shall also deliver to the said county clerk of the main county all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election. Any person interested may contest such election within twenty days after such filing of said certificate with the said county clerk by bringing suit in the superior court of the main county; otherwise the declaration of the result by the board of election shall be final and conclusive.

Contest

Issue of
bonds

7. If a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of the issuance of such refunding bonds, the board of trustees of the district shall prescribe the date and rate of interest of the refunding bonds authorized at such election and shall cause the same to be executed and delivered, together with a copy of said order of election, certified as aforesaid, to the treasurer of the said main county. Said refunding bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the board of trustees of the district and attested by the county auditor of the said main county, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity and said refunding bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum from their dates, respectively, and such interest shall be payable semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July of each year at the office of said county treasurer upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of said interest shall be attached to said refunding bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the county auditor. The principal of said refunding bonds shall be made payable on the first day of July, or the first day of January, and in such years as the trustees may prescribe, but said bonds shall, in any event, be payable serially within at least fifty years from and after their date.

Legality
of bonds

10. At any time within thirty days after said refunding bonds shall have been delivered to the treasurer of the county, an action may be commenced in the superior court of said main county by the trustees of said reclamation district in its name against the lands in said district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined that said refunding bonds are a legal obligation of such reclamation district, and in the event no such action is brought then the same may be commenced by any landowner in the district within thirty days thereafter. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the district (naming it) without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owner of land in such district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said refunding bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court, and judgment rendered declaring such matters so contested either valid or invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appeal to the supreme court within thirty days after entry of judgment. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and other interested persons.

Exchange of refunding
bonds

11. The board of trustees of any reclamation district, with the consent of the holders of any or all of the outstanding bonds of such district to be refunded as hereinabove provided, may direct the county treasurer to deliver to such holders at any time in exchange therefor bonds issued pursuant to this section and having such maturities as may be agreed upon by and between said board of trustees and the holders of said bonds to be refunded; provided, that the aggregate principal amount of the bonds issued pursuant to this section and delivered to such holders shall not exceed the aggregate principal amount of the bonds exchanged therefor and that the bonds delivered to the district shall be immediately canceled by the county treasurer. Such outstanding bonds may be so refunded pursuant to the consent of the holders thereof at any time, either before or after the final maturity date of said bonds.

12. In lieu of exchanging said refunding bonds, or any thereof, as hereinabove provided, the board of trustees may declare by resolution that it will be for the best interests of the district to sell all or any specific portion of said refunding bonds; and thereafter and on or before February first or August first of any year as the case may be prior to the date of maturity of the outstanding bonds of the district next maturing and to be so refunded, either in whole or in part, the board of trustees of the said district may declare by resolution that any portion of the said refunding bonds available for the refunding of the said outstanding bonds so next maturing shall be sold as herein provided. The board of trustees shall sell or exchange said refunding bonds only of such maturities as shall have been declared available for the refunding of particular maturities of the outstanding bonds of the district as set forth in the notice of the election for the issuance of said refunding bonds; provided, that if any district has heretofore authorized the issuance of refunding bonds and the same or any part thereof are in the hands of the county treasurer unsold the board of trustees of the district may call an election in the manner and upon the notice prescribed in this section for the issuance of refunding bonds, at which election there shall be submitted the question of whether or not such refunding bonds of any maturity shall be sold or exchanged to refund any maturity of said outstanding bonds of the district as the board of trustees in their discretion shall determine or as may otherwise be specified in the notice of such election.

13. Said resolution shall direct the treasurer of the county to sell said refunding bonds on a date which shall not be less than five days nor more than ten days, prior to April first or October first of such year, as the case may be. Said resolution also shall declare whether or not, in the judgment of the board of trustees, said refunding bonds may be sold for less than the par value thereof, plus accrued interest. Resolution as to sale

14. If said board of trustees shall, in said resolution, determine that said bonds may be sold for an amount less than the aggregate par value of the said refunding bonds directed to be sold, and that it is necessary or advisable that an amount be made available sufficient for the payment of interest upon said refunding bonds directed to be sold from the date of the sale thereof to the date of maturity of the bonds to be refunded out of the proceeds of the sale thereof, then said board of trustees shall, by said resolution, direct that a warrant be forthwith drawn against the general or maintenance fund of said district in favor of the county treasurer as trustee of the bond fund thereof and delivered to said county treasurer, in a principal amount made up of the sum of items, as follows, to wit: Sale for less than par

(a) The excess, if any, of the par value of the bonds directed to be sold over and above the amount for which said board of trustees shall have determined in said resolution said bonds may be sold; provided, however, that said excess shall not, in any event, exceed ten per cent of the par value of said bonds directed to be sold. Warrant against
general fund

(b) An amount sufficient to pay interest at the rate provided in said refunding bonds from the date of sale thereof to the date of the maturity of the bonds to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the refunding bonds directed to be sold. Said items (a) and (b) are hereby expressly declared to be incidental expenses of said district as incidental expenses are defined in section 3456 of the Political Code.

Assessment
for incident-tal expenses

15. Thereafter, in the next succeeding assessment call levied by the district for maintenance purposes, there shall be included therein an amount equal to the sum of said items, and said amount shall be assessed against the several tracts of land of the district in the same proportion as the original assessment, or any subsequent reapportionments thereof, which secures the payment of said bonds, and as and when collected, said amount shall be placed by the said treasurer to the credit of said maintenance fund, in reimbursement of said fund for the warrant drawn as hereinabove provided in subdivision 14 of this section.

16. In lieu of drawing a warrant against the general fund of the district in the manner and for the purposes provided in subdivisions numbered 14 and 15 of this section, the board of trustees of the district may raise the amounts contemplated by said subdivisions in the manner following, to wit:

Supplemental assessments

(a) Said board of trustees shall declare whether or not in the judgment of said board, it is necessary or advisable that a supplemental assessment be levied against the lands of the district for the purpose of raising the amounts required under the provisions of subdivisions 14a and 14b of this section, or either thereof, and whether or not a sufficient assessment should be levied for either or both of said purposes, and if, in said resolution said board shall determine that it is for the best interest of the district that such supplemental assessment shall be levied, then such supplemental assessment shall be levied in the manner following, to wit:

Assessment
lists

(b) The board of trustees shall prepare and certify an assessment list for said supplemental assessment in the form prescribed by section 3461 of this code. The amount of said supplemental assessment shall not exceed ten per cent of the principal of the refunding bonds to be sold, plus the amount if any to be raised by such supplemental assessment to pay interest on said refunding bonds to the date of maturity of the bonds to be refunded as aforesaid. The amount of said supplemental assessment shall be spread only upon the tracts of land in the district upon which an assessment is then outstanding for payment of the bonds to be refunded and shall be spread on said tracts in proportion to the amounts then assessed against said tracts under said outstanding assessment.

of list

(c) Said list when completed shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county. The board of supervisors shall appoint a time when it shall meet for the purpose of hearing objections to said supplemental assessment and notice of such hearing shall be given by publication for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said county. At any time before the date of such hearing any person interested may file written objections to such supplemental assessment stating the ground of such objections, which statement shall be verified by affidavit of such person or some other person who is familiar with the facts. At said hearing the board of supervisors may correct any errors appearing in said supplemental assessment and shall then make an order approving said supplemental assessment and shall endorse such order upon said assessment list, which said endorsement shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and attested by the clerk thereof. Such decision of said board of supervisors except as hereinafter provided, shall be final and thereafter said assessment list shall be conclusive evidence that the said supplemental assessment has been made and levied according to law. The list shall then be filed with the county treasurer, or if the district is situated in more than one county then the original list must be filed in the county where the greater portion of the lands of said district is situated and copies thereof certified by the treasurer must be filed with the treasurer of each of the other counties. No objection to such supplemental assessment shall be considered by the board of supervisors or allowed in any other action or proceeding unless such objection shall be made in writing to the board of supervisors as above specified.

(d) Any person aggrieved by the decision of the board of supervisors may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the greater part of such district is situated to have said supplemental assessment corrected, modified or annulled. Such action must be commenced within five (5) days after said assessment list has been filed in the office of the county treasurer. If said action shall not be commenced within five (5) days, no action or defense shall thereafter be maintained attacking the legality of said supplemental assessment in any respect. Actions

(e) After said approved assessment list has been so filed the charges therein specified shall be a lien upon the parcels of land so assessed and shall impart notice thereof to all persons. Said supplemental assessment shall be called for immediate payment and shall become delinquent by declaration made in said resolution at a specified date at least five days prior to the date fixed for the sale of said refunding bonds; and at least thirty days time to pay said supplemental assessment shall be given to the landowners between the date of call and the date of delinquency. Said supplemental assessment shall not bear interest and shall be payable only in gold coin of the United States. Notice of said supplemental assessment and of said call thereon must be personally served upon each owner of land in said district or in lieu of personal service must be sent through the mail addressed to said owner at his place of residence if known, or entered upon the assessment roll of the county and if not known, at the place where the principal office of the district is situated or be published once a week for two weeks successively in some newspaper of general circulation and devoted to the publication of general news within the district and if no such newspaper be published within the district then publication may be made in some Lien newspaper published in the county seat of the county where the greater portion of said district is situated. Upon delinquency a penalty of ten per cent shall be added. If the landowners in any district shall voluntarily pay to the treasurer of the county, on the call of the board of trustees without the levy of such supplemental assessment, the amount required by the board of trustees for the aforesaid purposes as prorated on the lands in the district as herein provided then no such supplemental assessment shall be levied.

Delin-
quencies

(f) If a sale of said refunding bonds is consummated by payment of the purchase price thereof and the delivery of the bonds then the board of trustees of the district shall proceed to enforce payment of any delinquencies in the said supplemental assessment in the manner set forth in section 3466 of this code, and the provisions of said section 3466 shall apply to all subsequent proceedings in enforcing collection of said supplemental assessment.

(g) In the event said board of trustees shall elect to raise said amounts through the levy of a supplemental assessment as in this subdivision 16 provided, then said board of trustees shall not direct that a warrant be issued against the general or maintenance fund of said district in favor of the county treasurer as contemplated by subdivision 14 of this section, but that instead, such warrant shall be issued against the fund created by the supplemental assessment levied and collected pursuant to this subdivision.

bonds

17. For the sale of said bonds the said treasurer shall give notice by publication at least once a week for at least two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the main county, that he will sell a specified amount of said refunding bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of said sale, and asking for sealed proposals for the purchase of said refunding bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed for said sale, which shall be in any event at least ninety-five days prior to the date of maturity of the principal of said outstanding bonds to be so refunded by the sale of said refunding bonds, the county treasurer shall open the bids and award the said refunding bonds, or any designated number thereof, to the highest responsible bidder, but at a price in no event less than ninety per cent of the full face value of said refunding bonds. The county treasurer may, and upon written request of a majority of the trustees, must, reject any and all bids. Any sale by the county treasurer shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchaser and all subsequent holders of said refunding bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. A proper record of such transaction shall be made upon the books of the county treasurer and the proceeds of the sale of the said refunding bonds shall be placed in the county treasury to the credit of the bond fund of the district, and the said proceeds shall be used and applied only in payment, in whole or in part, of the principal of the outstanding bonds to be refunded by the said refunding bonds so sold.

18. If the refunding bonds so offered for sale shall not be sold the same may again be offered for sale from time to time prior to their fixed maturity or may be exchanged for outstanding bonds as hereinbefore provided. All refunding bonds, which remain in the hands of the county treasurer after the outstanding bonds to be refunded thereby have been paid in full and discharged, shall be forthwith canceled by said county treasurer and shall never be an obligation of the district.

Unsold
bonds

19. If the amount for which any portion of said refunding bonds shall be sold, exclusive of accrued interest thereon, if any, shall be insufficient to enable the county treasurer out of the proceeds of such sale to pay in full the principal and interest accrued on said bonds so next maturing, then said county treasurer shall use the proceeds of the said supplemental assessment or of said warrant theretofore delivered to said treasurer pursuant to the provisions of subdivision 14 of this section, as the case may be, in so far as shall be necessary, to the payment of any such deficiency. Said county treasurer shall also pay, out of the proceeds of said supplemental assessment or of said warrant, to the purchaser of said refunding bonds at the time said purchaser shall take delivery thereof, interest at the rate provided in said refunding bonds from the date said sale is completed by the payment to the county treasurer of the purchase price thereof until the date when, pursuant to the terms of said refunding bonds and the coupons thereto attached, interest thereon shall begin to accrue thereon. If a supplemental assessment shall have been levied and collected pursuant to the provisions of subdivision 16 hereof, any surplus which shall remain in said supplemental assessment fund after the principal and interest on said bonds so next maturing shall have been paid in full shall be refunded by the county treasurer proratedly to the persons who shall have paid the same.

Procedure

of any deficiency on maturity.

20. The principal and interest of refunding bonds shall be based on and payable out of the assessment or assessments upon which the bonds so refunded were payable, in accordance with the provisions of section 3480 of this code.

21. Any refunding bonds heretofore or hereafter issued pursuant to the provisions of this section are hereby expressly declared to be issued as a step in the process of liquidating the original bond issue that is to be paid and discharged out of the proceeds of the sale of such refunding bonds. In the event any reclamation district shall have heretofore caused its bonds to be issued and thereafter, shall have been consolidated so as to become a part of a new district, the original district issuing such bonds shall be deemed as still in existence for the purpose of liquidating such original bond issue, either by making calls on the assessment securing said bond issue, from time to time as required, or by causing refunding bonds to be issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this section. Any refunding bonds heretofore authorized or issued by any such original reclamation district, if authorized and issued pursuant to the provisions of this section, as in force at the time, are hereby expressly declared to be valid and subsisting obligations of such original reclamation district, and to be secured by the assessments against the lands of said district that secured the bonds to be discharged out of the proceeds of the sale of said refunding bonds.

22. No act done or proceeding taken under the section of the Political Code of which this act is amendatory prior to the effective date hereof shall be invalidated hereby, and all proceedings commenced prior to the effective date hereof shall be completed in accordance with the provisions of this act, and all acts and proceedings taken after the effective date of this act whether relating to the authorization, issuance, exchange, sale, or delivery of bonds, or other thing, shall be valid and legally binding if taken in accordance with the provisions of this act.

An act to amend chapter 586, statutes of 1913, known as the "Water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, by amending sections 37, 37a, 37c and 37f thereof and by adding thereto two new sections to be numbered 37g and 37h, all relating to the distribution of water in accordance with the rights thereto as determined by court decree or written agreement.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1921,
p. 543.

SECTION 1. Section 37 of chapter 586 of the statutes of 1913, known as the "Water commission act," as amended by chapter 365 of the statutes of 1921 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Division of state into water
districts

Sec. 37. The state water commission shall divide the state into water master districts to be so constituted and adjusted as to insure the most practical and economical supervision of the distribution of water on the part of the state, and shall have authority to make such reasonable regulations to secure distribution of water in accordance with the determined rights as may be needed. Said water master districts shall be created from time to time as rights to water or the use thereof shall be ascertained and determined, either under the procedure provided for in this act or other procedure provided by law, or by agreement in writing entered into by the respective claimants, or by permits and licenses of the state water commission issued subsequently to any adjudication rendered under such procedure, or subsequently to any such agreement; provided, however, that any such agreement shall first be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which is situated any such water rights, or rights to the use of water, and in the office of the county recorder of each county in which is situated the land, or any portion thereof, on which any such water is, or is entitled to be used. Such districts may be changed from time to time as convenience of administration may require.

SEC. 2. Section 37a of chapter 586, statutes of 1913, as added by chapter 365 of the statutes of 1921 is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1921,
p. 543.

Sec. 37a. Upon written request of the owners or governing bodies of at least fifteen per cent of the conduits, ditches, pipe lines and other means of diversion lawfully entitled to directly divert water from the streams or other sources of water supply in any water master district, the state water commission may, if in its discretion necessity therefor exists, appoint a water master and if necessary in its discretion one or more deputy water masters for such water master district and shall have authority to incur expense and make expenditures as may be necessary to provide for the administration of such district and the distribution of water therein. Any duty or authority in this act vested in a water master may be exercised by the water master directly or through the agency of a deputy water master. The state water commission may from time to time discontinue water master service in any water master district, if necessity therefor ceases, and revive the same whenever and as frequently as necessity exists. The water master shall be properly qualified and shall perform the duties imposed on him by this act as an employee under the general supervision and control of the state water commission. It shall be the duty of the water master to divide the waters of the streams, or other sources of supply, among the several conduits, ditches, pipe lines and other means of diversion (all of which are hereafter referred to as conduits) and reservoirs taking water therefrom, and to so adjust or close the headgates of conduits and regulate the controlling works of reservoirs, as may be necessary to insure a distribution of the water thereof among the water users entitled to its use, according to the rights of such water users; provided, that any person who may be injured by the action of any water master, shall have the right to apply to the superior court of the county in which the injury takes place, for an injunction; such injunction to be issued only in case it can be shown at the hearing that the water master has failed to distribute the water according to the rights as determined by decrees of court or agreements or permits or licenses of the state water commission as provided in section 37 of this act. Whenever, in the pursuance of his duties, the water master shall regulate a headgate to a conduit or the controlling works of a reservoir, it shall be his duty to attach to such headgate or controlling works a written notice properly dated and signed setting forth the fact that such headgate or controlling works has been properly regulated and is wholly under his control, and such notice shall be a legal notice to all parties interested in the diversion and distribution of the water of such conduit or reservoir.

Stats 1921,
p. 543.

SEC. 3. Section 37c of chapter 586, statutes of 1913, as added by chapter 365 of the statutes of 1921 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Owners to maintain diversion dams, head-gates and measuring devices

Sec. 37c. The owner or owners of every conduit subject to regulation by a water master as provided by section 37a of this act shall construct and maintain to the satisfaction of the state water commission a substantial and serviceable diversion dam or works in the channel of the stream from which the water is diverted and also a substantial and serviceable headgate in the conduit through which the water is diverted at or near the diversion dam or works, said headgate to be of such construction that it can be locked and kept closed by the water masters, and every such owner or owners shall construct and maintain, such water flow measuring devices at such points along such conduit as may be required and approved by the state water commission for the purpose of assisting the water master in determining the amounts of water which are being diverted and applied to beneficial use. The owner or owners of every reservoir located across or upon the bed of a natural stream or of a reservoir which requires the use of a natural stream channel, subject to regulation by a water master as provided by section 37a of this act shall construct and maintain such measuring devices below such reservoir in said stream, and above such reservoir on each and every stream or source of supply discharging into such reservoir, as may be required and approved by the state water commission for the purpose of assisting the state water commission or water master in determining the amount of water to which appropriators are entitled, and the amounts of water which appropriators are diverting, storing, and applying to beneficial use. If the owner or owners of any conduit shall refuse or neglect to construct and maintain the diversion dam or works, headgate or measuring devices herein provided for after thirty days' notice by the state water commission so to do, the water master may close such conduit, and the same shall not be opened or any water diverted from the source of supply, under the penalties prescribed by law for the opening of headgates lawfully closed until the requirements of the state water commission, as to such diversion dam or works, headgate or measuring devices have been complied with, and if the owner or owners of any reservoir located across or upon the bed of a natural stream, or of a reservoir which requires the use of a natural stream channel, shall neglect or refuse to construct and maintain the measuring devices herein provided for after thirty days' notice by the state water commission, the water master may open the sluice gate or outlet of such reservoir and the same shall not be closed, except by order of the state water commission, under the penalties of the law for changing or interfering with headgates, until the requirements of the state water commission as to such measuring devices are complied with.

SEC. 4. Section 37f of chapter 586, statutes of 1913, as added by chapter 591 of the statutes of 1927 is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1927,
p. 1024.

Sec. 37f. Water masters appointed under the provisions of this act shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the state water commission, but not to exceed fifteen dollars per day, and shall receive in addition thereto necessary travel expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. One-half of the cost of administration of a water master district and the distribution of water therein shall be paid by the state, as hereinafter provided, and the other one-half thereof shall be paid by the owners of the rights to divert or store water within the respective water master districts created as in this act provided. The state water commission shall upon the creation of a water master district file in the office of each county recorder wherein a portion of said district is situate a certified copy of the order creating said district and a description by forty-acre subdivision or other smallest subdivisions of the public land surveys of all of the lands within said district which are within the county wherein said description is so filed and from time to time the commission shall file supplemental or revised descriptions of said lands as the same shall be changed. Such county recorder shall keep in his office a file for each district of such orders and descriptions as pertain thereto. On or prior to January 1, 1932, the state water commission shall file such certified copies of the orders and the descriptions aforesaid as pertain to water master districts then in existence. The state water commission shall, between the first day of January and the first day of March of each year, prepare a statement for each water master district, which shall contain a budget showing the amount of money estimated to be necessary to pay the cost of administration of such district and the distribution of water in such district for the current calendar year, including expenses theretofore incurred for the payment of which funds are not available, including the cost of an annual water master report covering the current calendar year to be prepared at the end of said year, including a reasonable estimate for contingencies, and including any other costs of administration of such district or of distribution of water therein, and which statement shall also contain an apportionment of one-half the amount of said budget among the owners of the various rights to store or divert water within such district in the following manner, to wit: One-tenth of said one-half of the amount of said budget shall be apportioned equally among the respective ownerships of all such water rights, and the remaining nine-tenths of said one-half thereof shall be apportioned among the ownerships of said respective water rights Compensation and expenses of water masters.

in accordance with the quantity of water which the owner or owners of the respective water rights may be entitled to store or divert within such district; provided, however, that in all cases of rights to divert the direct flow of a stream, without storage, for power development or other nonconsumptive use, where the entire flow so diverted, with the exception of reasonable transportation losses, is returned to the same stream system above the next lower diversion, the owner or owners of such rights shall share on account of such rights only in the equal apportionment of said one-tenth of said one-half of the amount of said budget, and shall not share in so far as such rights are concerned in the apportionment of the remaining nine-tenths of said one-half of said budget; and provided, further, that in all cases where rights exist to store or divert water for use for more than one purpose, the amount to be paid by the owner or owners of such rights shall be based upon the total amount of water said owner or owners may be entitled to store or divert, and said owner or owners shall not be required to pay more than one amount on the same water so stored or diverted notwithstanding use for more than one purpose. In making such apportionment to owners of the right to store water, three hundred fifty acre-feet of storage capacity which such owner is entitled to use shall be considered the equivalent of the right to divert one cubic foot per second of the direct flow of a stream. A certified copy of the statement for each water master district shall be transmitted by the state water commission, prior to the fifteenth day of March of each year to the state controller and a like copy to the tax collector of the county in which such district is situated, or, if any such district be situated in more than one county, then a certified copy of the statement for such district shall be so transmitted to the tax collector of each county in which any part of such district is situated. The certified copy of such statement sent to the state controller and to the proper tax collector or tax collectors shall be filed by said officials in their respective offices and shall at all times during business hours be available for public inspection. The state water commission shall file the original of each such statement in its office and the original of each such statement shall there be open to public inspection at all times during business hours. Also the state water commission shall after the filing of such statement with such county tax collector or tax collectors and on or before the fifteenth day of March of each year, serve each such owner named in such statement with a true copy thereof. Such service may be made personally or by mail as provided by section 1013 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or the state water commission may, in its discretion, and in lieu and instead of such service, serve the same with like effect by publication and in such case shall cause publication of a copy of each such statement to begin on or before the fifteenth day of March of each year in a newspaper having a general circulation and published within the county or each county wherein such district or any portion thereof is situated, but in case there is no newspaper published within the county or a county wherein a portion of such district is situated, then publication shall be in a newspaper having a general circulation within such county wherein no newspaper is published. Publication of such statement shall be made at least once a week for three consecutive weeks and proof thereof shall consist of a copy of such statement as published, attached to and made a part of the affidavit of the publisher or foreman of the newspaper publishing same, which proof of publication shall be filed in the office of the state water commission. The owner or owners of each such right to store or divert water shall pay to the tax collector of the county in which the works for the diversion of water under such right are located the amount so apportioned to the owner or owners of such water right, and unless such payment is made on or before the last Monday in April of the year in which such apportionment was made, such payment shall become delinquent and ten per cent thereof shall be added thereto as a penalty for delinquency in the payment thereof. If the owner of any such right to store or divert water be a county, city and county, municipality, district or other political subdivision, public corporation or state agency, the amount so apportioned together with the penalty aforesaid in case of delinquency, shall be a legal charge against the general fund thereof, or such fund as may be provided for the maintenance and operation of its public works. If the owner of any such right be a public utility as defined in the "Public utilities act" of this state, the amount so apportioned, together with the penalty aforesaid in case of delinquency, shall be a lien against any money of such public utility. If the water stored or diverted under any such right be for private use, then the amount so apportioned, together with any penalty added as herein provided, shall be a lien upon all the property used in the storage or diversion, conveyance or distribution of the water stored or diverted under such right and the land on which such water is or is entitled to be used, and said lien shall attach as of the date of filing the said statement in the office of the county tax collector as herein provided. The liens herein declared shall be superior to all other liens against the property in question except liens for taxes and assessments levied by authority of law, and at any time after thirty days after any payment due hereunder shall have become delinquent the state water commission may institute in the name of the people of the State of California an action to foreclose any such lien or to compel the payment of any aforesaid legal charge against any county, city and county, municipality, district or other political subdivision, public corporation or state agency, and may call upon the district attorney of the county in which any such action may properly be brought to prosecute the same, in which case it shall be the duty of said official to bring and prosecute such action and enforce the sale of the property on which any aforesaid lien exists, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the delinquent amount, penalty and all costs incurred in the action. Any judgment rendered in such action shall not be satisfied, nor the lien removed until such charges are paid or the property sold for the payment thereof. Such action shall be instituted in the county in which such lands or property is or are situated, in a court of competent jurisdiction, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the actions herein provided for. In all cases where a water right is owned by two or more parties, then such parties shall pay such portions of the amount apportioned to such water right as may be in proportion to their respective interests in such water right, and the statement prepared by the state water commission, as herein provided, shall contain an apportionment of the amount to be paid by the various owners of any such water right. A fund is hereby created in the state treasury to be known as the state water master service fund which fund shall be divided into separate accounts to the credit of the various water master districts now in existence or hereafter created from time to time, as in this act provided. Each tax collector in whose office has been filed any such statement as herein provided for shall keep as a permanent record of his office a receipt book to be furnished such tax collector by the state water commission in such form as it shall determine, and, at the time any payments are made as herein provided such tax collector shall execute a receipt for the amount so paid in quadruplicate, which shall refer to the statement herein provided for by number, or other intelligent manner, sufficient to identify the same, and shall deliver the original thereof to the party so paying, and shall immediately forward one copy thereof to the state controller and one copy thereof to the state water commission. Upon issuance of any such receipt, the tax collector shall note on the margin of the statement which is on file in his office for said water master district for that year, opposite the name of the party so paying, the fact of such payment, and the amount and date thereof, together with a statement that the lien thereof against any lands and property of such party is thereby released and discharged. From and after such payment any lien herein provided for against the lands and property of the party so paying shall be released and discharged. Each tax collector to whom any payments shall be made as herein provided shall at least once each month transmit the amount or amounts so paid to him to the state treasurer, who shall place the same in the state water master service fund and credit it to the account of the proper water master district. The state water commission shall file with the department of finance on or before the first day of March of each year a certified copy of each water master district statement herein provided for, and on receipt thereof the department of finance shall provide for the transfer of one-half the amount of each budget therein contained from the general support funds of the state water commission to the state water master service fund to the credit of the respective water master districts for which such budgets were prepared. All expenditures for the supervision of the distribution of water in any water master district shall be paid from that portion or account of the state water master service fund credited to that district, upon claims approved by the state water commission and otherwise audited and approved as may be required in the case of other claims against the state. Any money remaining in the state water master service fund at the end of any year shall be available for use the following year for the respective water master districts to which credited.

CHAPTER 807.

An act to amend section 365f of the Political Code, relating to the power of the California highway commission to acquire lands for highway and other purposes and to construct and maintain state highways and other improvements incident thereto.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 365f of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1925,
p 383

Sec. 365f. Power of commission to acquire or lease property. The California highway commission, in the name of the people of the State of California, may purchase, condemn or receive by donation or dedication or lease any right of way, rock quarry, gravel pit, sand or earth borrow pit, land necessary or proper for offices, shops, storage yards, lands adjoining or near such highways for parks, and also lands and trees within three hundred feet on each side of the center line of any state road or state highway for culture and support of trees, when in the judgment of said commission the acquisition of said lands and trees, or either, shall be for the benefit of a state highway in aiding in the maintenance and preservation of the roadbed thereof, or aid in the maintenance of the attractiveness or the scenic beauties thereof, and also may likewise acquire lands for the construction and maintenance of drainage ditches in connection with the highways, and said commission may likewise acquire all other lands which said commission shall deem necessary for the construction, use or maintenance of state highways. Said commission may in like manner acquire, construct and maintain stock trails paralleling and adjoining or near any state highway in such portions of the state as said commission shall deem necessary or proper.

Power of commission to acquire or lease property

Stock trails

and said commission shall post notices upon said trails and upon said highway at the entrances of said trails directing all persons to drive all untethered stock upon said trails, and any person who shall drive any untethered stock upon any state highway or permit any untethered stock to be upon any state highway which is so paralleled by said stock trails shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, in addition thereto said person shall be liable for all damage done to said highway or to any person or property upon said highway by any stock. Said commission may likewise acquire land adjoining any state highway or road for the purpose of maintaining an unobstructed view of any portion of said highway that would interfere with the safety of persons traveling thereon.

Highways through municipalities

Whenever the natural course of a state highway or state highway system runs or passes into or through any municipality or contiguous municipalities the California highway commission shall have authority to complete such state highway or state highway system as a continuous highway or system and connect the portions of such highway or system on either side of such municipality and shall have authority to determine the location of such connecting portion either through or around the municipality as the commission may determine will be of the greatest benefit to traffic upon such state highway. For the purpose of so completing any state highway or state highway system, the California highway commission shall have authority to acquire the necessary rights of way either within or without the corporate limits of a municipality by purchase, condemnation, or donation and to construct or improve such connecting portion to the same width and to the same standard as the state highway on either side of such municipality and the expense of any said acquisition, construction or improvement may be paid out of any funds appropriated or available for the acquisition of rights of way, construction or improvement of said state highway or portion of the state highway system.

Municipal aid in construction of highways

The legislative body of any municipality upon request of the California highway commission shall have authority to acquire any land or right of way by purchase, condemnation or donation needed for state highway purposes and lying within such municipality and the title to any said land or right of way may be taken in the name of the state or municipality and said municipality may also aid in the construction or improvement of any state highway therein by contributing any part of the expense thereof to the California highway commission out of any municipal funds available for the construction or improvement of streets within said municipality

CHAPTER 808.

An act to add a new article to chapter VI of part III of division III of the School Code to be known as article VII, embracing sections 3.415 and 3.416, relating to the attendance of students upon junior colleges.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new article is hereby added to chapter VI of part III of division III of the School Code, to be known as article VII, embracing sections 3.415 and 3.416, and to read as follows:

Article VII—Junior College Contracts.

3.415. Students residing in a junior college district may attend junior college in another junior college district only after terms shall have been agreed upon by the governing boards of the junior college districts concerned. Such terms shall include the payment by the junior college district of residence to the junior college district of attendance for each unit of average daily attendance of such students an amount equal to the average current expenditure per unit of average daily attendance in such junior college district of attendance.

3.416. The average daily attendance of students residing in one junior college district and attending junior college in another junior college district shall be kept separate and shall be credited to the junior college district of residence.

CHAPTER 809.

An act to add a new section to the Civil Code to be known as section 453q, relative to the registration of life insurance policies issued by assessment companies.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code, to be known as 453q, and to read as follows:

Sec. 453q. Corporations licensed to do business under this chapter may register life insurance policies issued by them, and make and maintain a deposit, under the provisions of and in the manner provided by section 634 of the Political Code of this state, provided that a full legal reserve must be maintained in connection with said life insurance policies at rates based upon the American experience table of mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, and that the reserve required to be maintained under the provisions of section 453h of this code may be included in and computed as part of said deposit.

CHAPTER 810.

An act to amend section 452c of the Civil Code, relating to mutual benefit and life associations, minimum membership thereof, time in which such membership shall be obtained, notification of commissioner in event membership falls below minimum, disposition of association in event of failure to obtain membership within required time limit, and time limit within which corporations organized under the provisions of chapter four, title two, part four, division one of the Civil Code shall obtain and maintain required minimum membership.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1929,
p. 983

SECTION 1. Section 452c of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Membership of mutual benefit associations

452c. Every such corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under the provisions of this chapter, except such associations referred to in section 452f, must maintain a minimum membership of one thousand members in good standing, and should said membership at any time fall below said minimum, said association shall immediately notify said insurance commissioner of said fact, and within ninety days thereafter, of such further extension of time as may be granted by said commissioner, increase its membership to the minimum provided in this section, or submit to the revocation of its certificate of authority by the insurance commissioner, whereupon it shall be the duty of said association to liquidate and dissolve the same under the supervision of said commissioner, or to merge or reinsure its business as herein provided; provided, however, that corporations organized under the provisions of this chapter shall have until June 30, 1932, within which to obtain said membership.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to authorize the counties of the State of California to establish retirement systems for their employees," approved May 20, 1919, by adding a new section thereto to be designated section 3½, relating to the exclusion of certain employees.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be designated section 3½, to read as follows:

Exclusion of participants in other

Sec. 3½. In the event that any other retirement or pension system shall be provided and established by law under which any persons eligible for membership under this act may be eligible and in the event that any such employees do become members or participants in any other pension or retirement system then and in that event any such members shall automatically cease to be members in the retirement system provided by this act and there shall be refunded to such persons the amount of their deposits as in the case of persons upon separation from the service.

An act to amend section 141½ of the "California vehicle act," approved May 30, 1923, relating to liability of an owner or driver or person responsible for the operation of a vehicle, for the injury or death of a guest. Stats. 1923, p. 517, amended.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 141½ of the "California vehicle act," approved May 30, 1923, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p. 1580.

Sec. 141½. Any person who as a guest accepts a ride in any vehicle, moving upon any of the public highways of the State of California, and while so riding as such guest receives or sustains an injury, shall have no right of recovery against the owner or driver or person responsible for the operation of such vehicle. In the event that such person while so riding as such guest, is killed, or dies as a result of injury sustained while so riding as such guest, then neither the estate nor the legal representatives or heirs of such guest shall have any right of recovery against the driver or owner of said vehicle by reason of the death of the said guest. If such person so riding as a guest be a minor and sustain an injury or be killed or die as a result of injury sustained while so riding as such guest, then neither the parents nor guardian nor the estate nor legal representatives or heirs of such minor shall have any right of recovery against the driver or owner or person responsible for the operation of said vehicle for injury sustained or as a result of the death of such minor. Liability for injury to guests

Nothing in this section contained shall be construed as relieving the owner or driver or person responsible for the operation of a vehicle from liability for injury to or death of such guest proximately resulting from the intoxication or wilful misconduct of such owner, driver or person responsible for the operation of such vehicle; provided, that in any action for death or for injury or damage to person or property by or on behalf of a guest or the estate, heirs or legal representatives of such guest, the burden shall be upon plaintiff to establish that such intoxication or wilful misconduct was the proximate cause of such death or injury or damage. Intoxication or wilful misconduct

defined.

For the purpose of this section the term "guest" is hereby defined as being a person who accepts a ride in any vehicle without giving compensation therefor.

An act to amend section 1510 of the Penal Code relating to the duties of the coroner.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927,
p 435

SECTION 1. Section 1510 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Coroner's jury
when called

1510. When a coroner is informed that a person has been killed, or has committed suicide, or has suddenly died under such circumstances as to afford a reasonable ground to suspect that his death has been occasioned by the act of another by criminal means, he must go to the place where the body is, cause it to be exhumed if it has been interred, and make an investigation and if the circumstances warrant it he shall hold an inquest and summon not less than nine nor more than fifteen persons, qualified by law to serve as jurors, to appear before him forthwith, either at the place where the body of deceased is, or at some other convenient place within the county to be designated by the coroner at his discretion, or at the request of the district attorney to inquire into the cause of the death. No such person is exempt from jury duty except at the discretion of the coroner. No person shall be summoned as juror who is related to the decedent or is charged with or suspected of the killing, nor shall anyone be summoned who is known to be prejudiced for or against him, but no person selected or summoned to appear as a juror is subject to be challenged by any party.

amended

An act amending section 1 of an act entitled "An act to authorize and empower boards of supervisors to levy a tax for advertising, exploiting, promoting and aiding measures designed to preserve, aid or develop the agricultural, horticultural, viticultural and water resources and advantages of their several counties," approved April 17, 1929, relating to investigation of matters affecting the economic welfare of counties and their inhabitants.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929,
p 250.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of an act entitled "An act to authorize and empower boards of supervisors to levy a tax for advertising, exploiting, promoting and aiding measures designed to preserve, aid or develop the agricultural, horticultural, viticultural and water resources and advantages of their several counties," approved April 17, 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1. The board of supervisors of the several counties within the State of California, are hereby authorized and empowered to levy a special tax not to exceed four cents on the one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of all property within the county to be used in the State of California for advertising, exploiting, promoting and aiding measures designed to preserve, aid or develop the agricultural, horticultural, viticultural and water resources and advantages of their several counties and thereby to increase and develop the trade and commerce of, and induce immigration to their said counties; and also to be used under the direction of the board of supervisors in investigating, making studies, gathering statistics and maintaining records as to matters affecting the economic welfare of the county and its inhabitants.

Such tax when levied according to the provisions of this section shall be in addition to any tax which may now or hereafter be authorized to be levied for the purpose of creating a fund to be used as authorized under the provisions of sections 4041 and 4056b of the Political Code. Nothing herein contained shall prevent any county from creating a bonded indebtedness under the provisions of section 4088 of the Political Code for the purpose of obtaining funds with which to build, construct or furnish an exposition building or buildings for exhibiting and advertising its resources.

CHAPTER 815.

An act to amend section 37 of an act entitled "An act providing for the incorporation of public utility districts in unincorporated territory, authorizing such districts to incur bonded indebtedness for the purpose of the construction of works and the acquisition of property, and to levy and collect taxes to pay the principal and interest on bonds and for carrying on their operations, and providing for the powers, management and government of such districts, and imposing certain duties and functions in connection with such districts upon certain county officers," approved May 31, 1921, relating to books of account of public utility districts.

the acquisition of property, and to levy and collect taxes to pay the principal and interest on bonds and for carrying on their operations, and providing for the powers, management and government of such districts, and imposing certain duties and functions in connection with such districts upon certain county officers," approved May 31, 1921, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Accounts

Sec. 37. The books of account of the district shall be kept in such manner as to show the true and complete financial results of the ownership and operation of each public utility, the actual cost of each public utility, all costs of maintenance, extension and improvement, and all operating expenses of every description. The accounts of the district shall be examined at least once a year by an expert accountant, who shall report to the directors the result of his examination, and who shall be employed and selected in such manner as the directors may direct, and who shall receive for his services such compensation, to be paid out of the income or revenues of the district, as the directors may prescribe.

Expert examinations

Every two years the directors of the district may employ, and upon petition of fifteen per cent of the electors of said district therefor, must employ, at an expense of not to exceed the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars at any one time, to be paid out of the income and revenues of the district, as the board of directors may prescribe, an expert who shall be qualified to, and who shall with all due diligence, examine and report upon the system of accounts kept by the district; all the contracts of whatsoever kind made and entered into by the board of directors within the two years immediately preceding; the management of the utilities of the district, the operation of the same, the service furnished, and the rates charged by the district; the properties and investments of the district; all official acts of the board of directors relating to acquisition, construction, completion, extension, improvement, and betterment of the public utility or utilities of the district; the efficiency and adequacy of each public utility, and of the property used in connection therewith or with the operation thereof, the reasonableness of the service and commodities furnished, and of the rates and charges therefor; and generally all the business and affairs of the district relating to the ownership, management and operation of each public utility of the district. Said expert shall in his report make such recommendations and suggestions as to him shall seem proper and required for the good of the district, and the efficient and economical or advantageous management and operation of the public utility or utilities of the district, and of the business and affairs of the district relating to such management and operation; and he shall in his said report make such recommendations and suggestions as to the system of accounts kept, or in his judgment to be kept, by the district, in connection with each public utility, the classification of the public utilities of the district and the establishment of a system of accounts for each class, the manner in which such accounts shall be kept, the forms of accounts, records, and memoranda kept or to be kept, including accounts, records, and memoranda of receipts and expenditures of money, and depreciation and sinking fund accounts, as in his judgment may be proper and necessary.

Said expert shall be selected by the railroad commission of the State of California, and his selection shall be by said commission certified to the board of directors of the district, together with the name and address of the expert so selected, and several such experts may be so selected and certified. The board of directors of the district shall at least four months before the time of each biennial district election in writing request said railroad commission to make such selection and certification, and said railroad commission shall make and transmit the same to the board of directors making such request within two weeks after the receipt of such request by said railroad commission. Within ten days after the receipt of such selection and certification the board of directors of the district shall by resolution entered on its minutes employ the expert, or one of the experts, so selected and certified, fix the amount of his compensation either absolutely or on a per diem basis, and notify said expert of such appointment. The expert so employed shall enter upon the discharge of his duties at least ninety days before the date of the biennial district election, and shall complete his examination and file his report at least thirty days before the date of the biennial district election, then next impending. Said report shall be made to the electors of the district, in duplicate, one of said duplicates to be filed with the board of directors of the district, in the office of the clerk of the district, and one of said duplicates shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein the district, or the greater portion thereof in point of population, is situated. Such county recorder shall file, index and keep said report as a public record in his office, and shall make no charge for such filing.

An act to amend section 1204 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to preferred labor claims, raising the preference under assignments for the benefit of creditors and receiverships to not exceeding two hundred dollars for each worker for work done within ninety days and providing procedure for the enforcement of such claims.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1204 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1907, p 321

Preferred creditors when assignment of property is made

1204. When any assignment, whether voluntary or involuntary, and whether formal or informal, is made for the benefit of creditors of the assignor, or results from any proceeding in insolvency or receivership commenced against him, or when any property is turned over to the creditors of a person, firm, association or corporation, or to a receiver or trustee for the benefit of creditors, the wages and salaries of miners, mechanics, salesmen, servants, clerks, laborers, and other persons, for personal services rendered such assignor, person, firm, association or corporation, within ninety days prior to such assignment, or the taking over of such property, or to the commencement of the proceeding when a court action is involved, and not exceeding two hundred dollars each, constitute preferred claims, and must be paid by the trustee, assignee or receiver before the claim of any other creditor of the assignor, insolvent, or debtor whose property is so turned over, and must be paid as soon as the money with which to pay same becomes available. If there is insufficient money with which to pay all such labor claims in full the money available must be distributed among the claimants in proportion to the amount of their respective claims. The trustee, receiver or assignee for the benefit of creditors shall have the right to require sworn claims to be presented and shall have the right to refuse to pay any such preferred claim, either in whole or in part, if he has reasonable cause to believe that such claim is not valid but must pay any part thereof that is not disputed and withhold sufficient money to cover the disputed portion until the claimant in question has a reasonable opportunity to establish the validity of his claim by court action, either in his own name or through an assignee.

This section is binding upon all the courts of this state and in all receivership actions, except those based on a prior recorded lien, the court must order the receiver to pay promptly out of the first receipts and earnings of the receivership, after paying the current operating expenses, such preferred labor claims.

An act to amend sections 950 and 951 of the Probate Code, relating to preferred labor claims, raising the preference in claims against the estate of deceased persons to not exceeding two hundred dollars for each worker for work done within ninety days prior to such death and providing procedure for the enforcement of such claim.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Probate C
1931

SECTION 1. Section 950 of the Probate Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

950. The debts of the decedent, the expenses of administration and the charges against the estate must be paid in the following order: Debts of decedent, order of payment

- (1) Expenses of administration;
- (2) Funeral expenses;
- (3) Expenses of last illness;
- (4) Family allowance;
- (5) Debts having preference by the laws of the United States;

(6) Wages, to the extent of two hundred dollars, of each employee of the decedent, for work done or personal services rendered within ninety days prior to the death of the employer. If there is not sufficient money with which to pay all such labor claims in full the money available must be distributed among the claimants in accordance with the amount of their respective claims;

(7) Mortgages and other liens, in the order of their priority, so far as they may be paid out of the proceeds of the encumbered property. If such proceeds are insufficient for that purpose, the part of the debt remaining unsatisfied must be classed with general demands against the estate;

(8) Judgments rendered against the decedent in his lifetime, in the order of their date;

(9) All other demands against the estate.

SEC. 2. Section 951 of the Probate Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Probate C 1931

951. As soon as he has sufficient funds in his hands, after retaining sufficient to pay the expenses of administration, the executor or administrator must pay the funeral expenses, the expenses of the last illness, the family allowance, and wage claims to the extent of two hundred dollars of each employee of decedent for work done or personal services rendered within ninety days prior to the death of the employer; but he is not obliged to pay any other debt or any legacy until, as prescribed in this article, the payment has been ordered by the court. Claims of employees, when to be paid

CHAPTER 822.

An act to amend sections 1206, 1207 and 1208 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to preferred labor claims, raising the preference in claims under attachments, garnishments and executions to not exceeding two hundred dollars for each worker for work done within ninety days prior to the levy and providing procedure for the enforcement of such claims.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929,
p 432

Preferred creditors in cases of levy of attachment, gar-nishment and

SECTION 1. Section 1206 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1206. Upon the levy of any attachment, garnishment, or execution, not founded upon a claim for labor, any miner, mechanic, salesman, servant, clerk, laborer or other person who has performed work or rendered personal services for the defendant within ninety days prior to the levy, may file a verified statement of his claim therefor with the officer executing the writ, file a copy thereof with the court which issued the writ, and give copies thereof, containing his address, to the debtor and creditor, or any attorney, clerk or agent representing them, or mail same to them by registered mail at their last known address, return of which by the post office undelivered shall be deemed a sufficient service if no better address is available, and such claim, not exceeding two hundred dollars, unless disputed, must be paid by such officer, immediately upon the expiration of the time for dispute of the claim as prescribed in section 1207, from the proceeds of such levy remaining in his hands at the time of the filing of such statement or collectible by him on the basis of the said writ.

labor claims

The court issuing such writ must make a notation on its docket of every preferred labor claim of which it receives a copy and must endorse on any execution or abstract of judgment issued subsequently in this case that it is issued subject to the rights of a preferred labor claimant or claimants thereunder and giving the names and amounts of all such preferred labor claims of which it has notice.

Disputed claims

If any claim is disputed within the time, and in the manner prescribed in section 1207, and a copy of the dispute is mailed by registered mail to the claimant or his attorney at the address given in his statement of claim and the registry receipt is attached to the original of the dispute when it is filed with the levying officer, or is handed to the claimant or his attorney, the claimant, or his assignee, must within ten days thereafter commence an action against the debtor for the recovery of his demand, which action must be prosecuted with due diligence, or his claim to priority is forever barred. If the claim is disputed by the creditor a copy of the complaint in such action must be served on the creditor, who may appear in such action as an intervener, without leave of court, and may demur or answer to the complaint within the time allowed the defendant by law, serving copies of such demurrer or answer on the plaintiff and defendant, or their attorneys, and may at the trial contest the amount or validity of the claim in spite of any confession of judgment or failure to appear or to contest the claim on the part of the defendant.

The officer must retain in his possession until the determination of such action so much of the proceeds of the writ as may be necessary to satisfy the claim, and if the claimant recovers judgment, the officer must pay the same, including the cost of suit, from such proceeds, immediately after the said judgment becomes final.

Proceeds of writ

SEC. 2. Section 1207 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1907,
p 322.

1207. Within five days after receiving a copy of the statement provided for in the next preceding section, either the debtor or the creditor may file with the officer a verified statement denying that any part of such claim is due for services rendered within ninety days next preceding the levy of the writ, or denying that any part of such claim, beyond a sum specified, is so due. If a part of the claim is admitted to be due, and the claimant nevertheless brings suit and does not recover more than the amount so admitted, he can not recover costs but the costs must be adjudged against him, and the amount thereof deducted from the sum found due him.

Dispute of claim, or some portion thereof

SEC. 3. Section 1208 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1907,
p 322

1208. If the claims presented under section 1206 and not disputed, or, if disputed, established by judgment, exceed the proceeds of the writ not disposed of before their presentation, such proceeds must be distributed among the claimants in proportion to the amount of their respective claims; provided, however, that the costs incurred by the senior attaching plaintiff or judgment creditor in such action must first be taken care of.

Distribution
of proceeds

If sufficient money to pay in full all preferred labor claims filed under an attachment, garnishment or execution does not become available immediately upon the expiration of the time for dispute of such claims under section 1207, any of the said claimants, or their assignees, shall have the right to proceed directly against the money or other property levied on in individual or joint actions by themselves or their assignees against the defendant, and the attachment, garnishment or execution under which the preferred claims were filed shall be considered set aside as far as such claimants, or their assignees, are concerned so as to enable them, or any of them, or any of their assignees, to proceed directly against any or all of the money or other property in question by means of their own attachments, garnishments or executions; provided, however, that any money collected on behalf of any such labor claimant, or his assignee, on the basis of such new attachment, garnishment or execution shall be shared in by the other preferred labor claimants who have filed claims that have not been disputed, or, if disputed, established by judgment, in proportion to the amount of their respective claims, deducting only the costs in the action brought by the said labor claimant, or his assignee, and the costs in the original action brought by the senior attaching plaintiff or judgment creditor.

Notice to preferred labor claimants of intention to release attachment, etc

If such senior attaching plaintiff or judgment creditor requests a release of his original attachment, garnishment or execution, and the preferred labor claims filed under same are not released, the officer who levied the writ must first mail notices of such request to release to each of the labor claimants who have filed claims, or their attorneys, which notices must specify that unless the said claimants bring attachment actions of their own and levy on the money or property in question within five days from the date thereof the said money or property will be released from the attachment, garnishment or execution; provided, however, that such officer may instead collect sufficient money on the basis of the original writ to pay off the preferred labor claims in full and then release the said attachment, garnishment or execution, but in no case shall he release same without first taking care of the labor claims until the said five day period has expired, unless his costs, keepers' fees or storage charges have not been immediately taken care of by some of the parties involved. In any case it shall be lawful for a garnishee to pay over to the officer levying the writ any money held by him without waiting for execution to be levied and the said officer's receipt for the money shall be a sufficient quitance, and the said officer must collect such money and immediately pay off the established preferred labor claims in all cases where it is possible to do so without additional court proceedings on his part.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929, p 1108 SECTION 1. Section 1 of the "California nautical school act," approved June 3, 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Nautical school maintained at San Francisco

SECTION 1. A state nautical school to be known as the California nautical school shall be maintained at the port of San Francisco, for the purpose of giving instruction in the science and practice of navigation, seamanship, steam, diesel and electrical engineering to male pupils from the several counties of the state, who shall have the qualifications of good moral character, education and physical fitness, which may be required by the board of governors of said school. The board shall appoint and may remove a superintendent of the school and all necessary instructors and other employees; determine their powers, duties and compensation; fix the terms upon which students shall be received and instructed therein and suspended, discharged or graduated therefrom; make all regulations necessary for the procurement or purchase of supplies and materials therefor while the vessel is cruising and for its management and control and shall provide from time to time for cruises in and from San Francisco harbor. The board may appoint as superintendent of said school and as instructors therein such officer or officers as may be designated for that purpose by the secretary of the navy. The term "port of San Francisco" as used in this act shall be deemed to include all of San Francisco bay.

SEC. 2. Section 6 of the "California nautical school act," Stats 1929, p 1108, approved June 3, 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

 Sec. 6 Within two weeks after their appointment in the first instance the members of the board of governors of the state nautical school shall meet in the office of the state superintendent of public instruction at Sacramento upon a notice calling such meeting, issued by the state superintendent of public instruction. The board of governors shall provide, maintain, manage and control a state nautical school pursuant to the provisions of this act. The board may receive from the federal government or from other sources and use for the accommodation of the school, a vessel or vessels detailed or furnished by the federal government or from other sources with all their apparel, charts, books and instruments of navigation, and a reservation or reservations with all buildings and equipment thereon. The board shall provide all necessary books, charts, instruments, apparatus and supplies required in the work of such school and for the proper accommodation, comfort, recreation and keep of the superintendent, instructors, crew and pupils. The board is authorized to secure in the city and county of San Francisco suitable rooms and accommodations necessary for carrying on the work of the board.

SEC 5. Section 10 of the "California nautical school act," approved June 3, 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 10 The board may annually expend for the purposes of such school any funds which the Legislature may appropriate, and also any funds which may be received from the federal government for the purpose of aiding in the maintenance thereof. All such moneys shall be expended according to law on vouchers, certified by the superintendent or in his absence from the state, by the chairman of the board of governors and approved by the executive member of the board. The board shall, before each regular session of the Legislature, prepare and submit to the governor a budget or estimate of the sum required for the maintenance and support of the school and its cruises for the ensuing biennium. The board shall cause to be kept full and detailed accounts of all such expenditures and shall make a complete report thereof, with a list of all the work of the school annually to the governor. The board may appoint a secretary of the board, determine his duties and fix his compensation, and he shall hold the office of secretary at the pleasure of the board.

Sec. 6. Section 13 of the "California nautical school act," approved June 3, 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Application to federal government for vessel,
etc

Sec. 13 The governor is hereby authorized to make application in writing to the federal government to furnish a suitable vessel with all her apparel, charts, books and instruments of navigation and a reservation or reservations with all buildings and equipment thereon to be used for the benefit of the school authorized by this act.

Amended

An act to amend section 7 of chapter 21, statutes of 1883, entitled "An act to establish and support a bureau of labor statistics," approved March 3, 1883, as amended, relating to the powers and duties of the commissioner and providing penalties for violation of the said section.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7 of chapter 21, statutes of 1883, as amended by chapter 10, statutes of 1889; chapter 228, statutes of 1919; chapter 257, statutes of 1923 and chapter 231, statutes of 1929, entitled "An act to establish and support a bureau of labor statistics," approved March 3, 1883, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. The commissioner, and his representatives duly authorized by him in writing, shall have the power and authority to take assignments of wage claims and incidental expense accounts and advances, mechanics' and other liens of workers, claims based on "stop orders" for wages and on bonds for labor, claims for damages for misrepresentation of conditions of employment, claims against employment agencies or their bondsmen, claims for unreturned bond money of workers and claims for penalties for nonpayment of wages, without being bound by any of the technical rules with reference to the validity of such assignments, such as the rule requiring the consent of the husband or wife of a married claimant, the filing of a lien for record before it is assigned, or the assigning of a claim for penalty after the said claim has been incurred, and to prosecute actions for the collection of wages, penalties, and such other demands of persons who, in the judgment of the commissioner or his said representative, are financially unable to employ counsel, in cases in which, in the judgment of the commissioner, or his said representative such claims are valid and enforceable in the courts, to file preferred claims, mechanics' liens and other liens of workers in the name of the said commissioner, or his said representative, or in the names of the said workers, whenever the facts have been investigated by the commissioner or his said representative and found to support the claims, which must be alleged in the preferred claim or lien filed in all cases where same is filed in the name of the commissioner or his said representative; to join various claimants in one preferred claim or lien as well as to list them with the data regarding their claims in an exhibit and join them, in case of suit, in one cause of action in all cases where no valid reason exists for making separate causes of action for each individual worker; to issue subpoenas, to compel the attendance of witnesses and parties and the production of books, papers and records, and to administer oaths and to examine witnesses under oath, and to take the verification or proof of instruments of writing and to take depositions and affidavits for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act and all other acts now or hereafter placed in the bureau for enforcement. When civil action is brought by the commissioner, or his duly authorized representative, no court costs of any nature shall be payable by the said commissioner, or his said representative, in connection with same and any sheriff or constable requested by said commissioner, or his said representative, to serve the summons in the said action upon any person, firm, association, or corporation within his jurisdiction or levy an attachment, garnishment or execution in the said action upon any money or property of any defendant within his jurisdiction, shall do so without costs to the said commissioner, or his said representative, except for keeper's fees, mileage fees and storage charges; provided, however, that he must specify when such summons or other process is returned, what costs he would ordinarily have been entitled to for such service, and such costs and the other regular court costs that would have accrued were the action not an official action shall be made a part of any judgment recovered by the said commissioner, or his said representative, and shall be paid by him if sufficient money is collected by him to cover same over and above the wages or other demands actually due the claimants on whose behalf he sued, and not otherwise.

Seal

The commissioner shall have a seal inscribed "Department of Industrial Relations—State of California" and all courts shall take judicial notice of such seal. Obedience to subpoenas issued by the commissioner or his duly authorized representatives shall be enforced by the courts in any county or city and county and it shall be a misdemeanor offense to wilfully ignore said subpoenas, provided, that the said subpoenas do not call for an appearance at a distance greater than twenty-five miles.

Access to places of labor

The commissioner and his representatives shall have free access to all places and works of labor, and any principal, owner, operator, manager, superintendent, or lessee of any mine, mill, ranch, factory, hospital, office, laundry, place of amusement, restaurant, hotel, workshop, manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, construction camp or other place of labor, or any agent or employee of such principal, owner, operator, manager, superintendent, or lessee, who shall refuse to said commissioner, or his duly authorized representative, admission therein, or who shall, when requested by him, wilfully neglect or refuse to furnish him any statistics or information, pertaining to his lawful duties, which may be in his possession or under the control of said principal, owner, operator, lessee, superintendent or manager, or agent thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars.

amended

An act to amend section 4 of an act entitled "An act regulating private employment agencies, providing for a license for the operation thereof and a fee therefor, providing forms of receipts and registers to be used and kept, prohibiting any charge for registering or filing application for help or employment, prohibiting the dividing of fees, providing for the refunding of fees and expenses in the event of failure to procure employment, and granting the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics the power to prescribe rules and regulations to carry out the purpose and intent of this act," approved June 3, 1913, as amended, relating to suspension and revocation of licenses.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927,
p 554

SECTION 1. Section 4 of an act entitled "An act regulating private employment agencies, providing for a license for the operating thereof and a fee therefor, providing forms of receipts and registers to be used and kept, prohibiting any charge for registering or filing application for help or employment, prohibiting the dividing of fees, providing for the refunding of fees and expenses in the event of failure to procure employment, and granting the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics the power to prescribe rules and regulations to carry out the purpose and intent of this act," approved June 3, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Investigation of applicant

Sec. 4. Upon receipt of an application for a license the commissioner of labor may cause an investigation to be made as to the character and responsibility of the applicant and of the premises designated in such application as the place in which it is proposed to conduct such agency. The commissioner of labor or his deputies may administer oaths, subpoena witnesses and take testimony in respect to matters contained in such application and in respect to complaints of any character against the applicant for such license, and upon proper hearing

Conditions

may refuse to grant a license. Each application shall be granted or refused within thirty days from date of filing. No license shall be granted to a person to conduct the business of an employment agency in rooms used for living purposes, or where boarders or lodgers are kept, or where meals are served, or where persons sleep, or in connection with a building or premises where intoxicating liquors are sold or consumed, or in connection with pool halls or soft drink parlors. No license shall be granted to a person whose license has been revoked within three years from the date of application. Each license shall run to and including the thirty-first day of March next following the date thereof and no longer, unless sooner revoked by the commissioner of labor, and may be renewed each year upon the filing of an application for renewal, renewed bond and the payment of the annual license fee, but the commissioner may, if he chooses, demand that a new application and bond be submitted.

Term and renewal

The commissioner of labor shall have the power and authority to revoke or suspend any license when it is shown that the licensee or his agent has violated or failed to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or when such licensee has ceased to be of good moral character, or when the conditions under which the license was issued have changed or no longer exist or when the licensee or his agent has violated or has wilfully and knowingly aided or abetted any person, firm, company or corporation in the violation of any provision or in the failure to comply with any requirement of section 3664aa of the Political Code or of section 50½ of the public utilities act; nothing in this act contained, however, shall interfere with the right of employers to arrange with such licensees for the transportation of laborers to their prospective places of employment. Before revoking or suspending any license the commissioner shall notify, in writing, the holder of such license of the charges against him and afford an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel in reference thereto. The commissioner or his deputies may administer oaths, subpoena witnesses and take testimony at the hearing and shall not be bound by the technical rules of evidence in conducting such a hearing. Obedience to the subpoenas issued by the commissioner of labor or his deputies shall be enforced by the courts in any county or city and county. The rulings of the commissioner shall be presumed to be prima facie reasonable, and his findings of fact shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive and shall be set aside by the courts only on the following grounds:

Revocation
or suspension of license

1. That the commissioner of labor acted without or in excess of his powers.

2. That the determination was procured by fraud.

The decision of the commissioner of labor either refusing, suspending or revoking a license under this act shall be subject to review in accordance with the provisions of chapter one of title one of part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, pertaining to writs of review or certiorari, at any time within thirty days after notice of same is given to the party affected thereby.

An act to amend sections 1184 and 1184d of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to mechanics' liens.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1184 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1921,
p. 144

1184. Any of the persons mentioned in the preceding section, except the contractor, and all persons, firms and corporations, excluding the contractor, performing work or furnishing materials, or both, upon any public improvement, including highways, streets, wagon roads, viaducts or sewers, may at any time, prior to the expiration of the period within which claims of lien must be filed for record, as prescribed by the provisions of section 1187 of this code, give to the owner a notice that they have performed labor or furnished materials, or both, to the contractor or other person acting by the authority of the owner, or that they have agreed to do so, stating in general terms the kind of labor and materials and the name of the person to or for whom the same was done or furnished, or both, and the amount in value, as near as may be, of that already done or furnished, or both, and of the whole agreed to be done or furnished, or both, and any of said persons who shall on the written demand of the owner refuse to give such notice shall thereby deprive himself of the right to claim a lien under this chapter. Such notice must be verified by the claimant, or by some person acting in his behalf, and may be given by delivering the same to said owner personally, or by leaving it at his residence or place of business with some person in charge, or by delivering it to his architect, if any; provided, however, that in all cases in which said work is being done under a contract with the state, or with any public board, commission, or officer

1 Each municipal court shall have original jurisdiction of all civil cases and actions, arising within the city or city and county in which such municipal court is established, of the following classes: Municipal courts civil jurisdiction

(a) All cases at law in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or where the value of the property in controversy, amounts to two thousand dollars or less.

(b) All actions of forcible entry or forcible or unlawful detainer, where the rental value is two hundred dollars or less per month, and where the whole amount of damages claimed is two thousand dollars or less.

Same

(c) All actions to enforce and foreclose liens on personal property, where the amount of such liens is two thousand dollars or less.

(d) All actions to enforce and foreclose liens of mechanics, materialmen, artisans and laborers, where the amount of such liens is two thousand dollars or less; provided that where an action to enforce and foreclose such a lien is pending in the superior court and affects property, which is also affected by a similar action pending in the municipal court in the said county, or where the total amount of such liens sought to be foreclosed against the same property aggregate an amount in excess of two thousand dollars, the municipal court, upon motion of any interested party, shall order such action pending therein to be transferred to the proper superior court. Upon the making of such order, the same proceedings shall be taken as are provided by section 399 of the Code of Civil Procedure, with respect to the change of place of trial.

2. Each municipal court shall have original jurisdiction of all cases specified in subdivisions (a), (b), (c) and (d) of subdivision 1 hereinabove, arising within the county wherein such municipal court is established, outside the boundaries of any city therein, wherein a municipal court is established.

3. Each municipal court shall have original jurisdiction of all cases specified in subdivisions (a) and (c) of said subdivision 1, arising outside the county, or city and county, in which such municipal court is established (except cases arising within a city or city and county in this state wherein another municipal court is established), in which all proper defendants therein, who are residents of the State of California, reside, and any property involved is located, within the county or city and county wherein such municipal court is established; provided that each municipal court shall have original jurisdiction of all cases specified in this subdivision, in which a proper defendant therein resides or has a regular place of business, and any property involved is located, within the county or city and county in which such court is established, and in which the demand, exclusive of interest or the value of the property or the amount of liens on personal property involved, does not exceed three hundred dollars.

4. Each municipal court shall have jurisdiction of all cases in equity, when pleaded as defensive matter or by way of cross-complaint in any case properly pending in such municipal court.

5. In cities or cities and counties wherein a municipal court is established, and wherein an inferior court has been established and its jurisdiction determined as provided by law, such municipal court shall have concurrent jurisdiction with such inferior court to the extent of its jurisdiction.

6. Each municipal court shall have original jurisdiction, concurrent with that of justice's or other inferior courts in the county in which such municipal court is established, of all civil cases of which such justice's or other inferior courts are given jurisdiction except civil cases of which such justice's or other inferior courts are given exclusive jurisdiction, and excepting cases cognizable in such court, sitting as small claims courts.

CHAPTER 835.

An act to amend section 831d of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to pleadings and practice in municipal courts.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 831d of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 856.

831d. The rules of pleadings and practice applicable to the prosecution of civil actions and enforcement of judgments in the superior court of this state shall apply to and govern the prosecution and maintenance of civil actions and enforcement of judgments in the municipal courts of this state, except as follows: Municipal courts rules of pleading and practice.

(1) In cases tried by the court without a jury, the court shall not be required to make any written findings of fact and conclusions of law where the matter involved is three hundred dollars ($300) or less, exclusive of interest and costs, and in all other cases written findings of fact and conclusions of law shall be deemed to be waived unless they shall be expressly requested by one of the parties at the time of the trial.

(2) Where the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy does not exceed three hundred dollars, the defendant, at his option, in lieu of demurrer and other answer, may file a general written denial verified by his own oath and a brief statement similarly verified, of any new matter constituting a defense or counterclaim.

(3) The prevailing party in the municipal court, including the prevailing party on appeal therefrom, and the defendant upon dismissal of the action as to such defendant, is entitled to his costs and necessary disbursements in the action, or on appeal, as the case may be, and also of any proceedings taken by him in aid of an execution upon any judgment rendered therein.

(4) When an answer is filed in an action to recover upon a debt or upon a liquidated demand, including an action to enforce or foreclose a lien or mortgage, if it is claimed that there is no defense to the action, on motion of the plaintiff, after notice of the time and place thereof in writing served on the answering defendant at least ten days before such motion, supported by affidavit of any person or persons having knowledge of the facts, the answer may be stricken out and judgment may be entered, in the discretion of the court, unless the defendant, by affidavit or affidavits, shall show such facts as may be deemed by the judge hearing the motion sufficient to entitle him to defend.

(5) The affidavit or affidavits in support of the motion must contain facts sufficient to entitle plaintiff to a judgment in the action, and the facts stated therein shall be within the personal knowledge of the affiant, and each affidavit shall show affirmatively that the affiant, if sworn as a witness, can testify competently thereto.

(6) The affidavit or affidavits in opposition to said motion shall be made by the defendant, or by any other person having knowledge of the facts, and together shall set forth facts showing that the defendant has a good and substantial defense to the plaintiff's action (or to a portion thereof) upon the merits. The facts stated in each affidavit shall be within the personal knowledge of the affiant, shall be set forth with particularity, and each affidavit shall show affirmatively that the affiant, if sworn as a witness, can testify competently thereto. When the party resisting the motion appears in a representative capacity, such as a trustee, guardian, executor, administrator, or receiver, then the affidavit in opposition by such representative may be made upon his information and belief.

(7) If it appear that such defense applies only to a part of the plaintiff's claim, or that any part is admitted, the plaintiff may have judgment entered forthwith for so much of his claim as such defense does not apply to, or as is admitted, on such terms as may be just, and the cause of action may be severed accordingly. A judgment entered under this section is an appealable judgment, as in other cases.

The sections of this code numbered 895, 1033, 1034, 1035, 1036 and 1037 are hereby made applicable to proceedings in municipal courts.

An act amending section 7 of an act entitled "An act providing for the formation, government and operation of harbor districts for the improvement or development of harbors, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts, the issuance and disposal of the bonds thereof, and the assessment and levy of taxes for the payment of such bonds, principal and interest, and for the ordinary expenses of such districts."

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927.
p 362

SECTION 1 Section 7 of an act entitled "An act providing for the formation, government and operation of harbor districts for the improvement or development of harbors, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts, the issuance and disposal of the bonds thereof, and the assessment and levy of taxes for the payment of such bonds, principal and interest, and for the ordinary expenses of such districts," approved April 20, 1927, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. The board of supervisors at the hearing shall have the right, power, and authority to change the exterior boundaries of the proposed harbor district, as set forth in the petition, by excluding therefrom such lands as in the judgment of the board of supervisors would not be benefited by the improvement or development of the harbor. Harbor districts exclusion and addition of lands

The board of supervisors shall also have the right, power, and authority to change the exterior boundaries of the proposed harbor district, as set forth in the petition, by adding to the proposed harbor district and including therein such other contiguous lands as in the judgment of the board of supervisors will be benefited by the improvement or development of the harbor; provided, that no land shall be added to or included in the proposed harbor district until notice is served upon the owner or owners of the lands proposed to be added to or included in the harbor district.

The notice may be personally served upon the owner or owners of such lands or be published for the same period of time and in the same paper as the original petition and notice of hearing.

The notice shall state the day, hour, and place at which said owner or owners will be heard and shall generally describe the lands proposed to be added to and included in the harbor district. Notice.

CHAPTER 837.

An act to add a new section to the School Code to be numbered 2.990, relating to the powers and duties of governing boards of school districts.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the School Code to be numbered 2.990, to read as follows:

2.990. The governing board of any elementary school district having an average daily attendance therein of one thousand or more pupils and an assessed valuation of twenty million dollars or more may, and upon petition signed by twenty-five per centum of the heads of families resident in the district, must call an election to determine whether or not, the board shall have the rights, powers and duties of a city board of education and the district shall for all purposes be deemed to be a district governed by a city board of education. New section See also Ch 1178, Stats 1931. Elementary district board change in powers.

Notice and proceedings of such election shall be in accordance with the provisions of this code relating to the election for school trustees, so far as applicable, and there shall be elected at such election, to take office if the change in the rights, Election powers and duties of the board is approved by majority vote of the qualified electors in the district, two additional members to the board, one to hold office until the last Friday of March next succeeding the election and one to hold office until one year after the last Friday in March next succeeding the election and until the election and qualification of their respective successors who shall hold office for three years. Thereafter, if the change in the rights, powers and duties of the board is approved, the number of school trustees for any such elementary school district shall be five, and they shall be elected in the same manner and for the same term as provided by law for trustees of elementary school districts, except that two trustees may be elected at the same time when the terms of their predecessors terminate in the same year. If the change is approved by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the district, the board shall have the rights, powers and duties of a city board of education, and the district shall for all purposes be deemed to be a district governed by a city board of education.

CHAPTER 839.

An act to amend section 542 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the method of levying an attachment upon real or personal property.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927,
p 852

SECTION 1. Section 542 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Attachment of real and personal property

542. How real and personal property shall be attached. The sheriff to whom the writ is directed and delivered, must, upon receipt of instructions in writing, signed by the judgment creditor, or his attorney of record, and containing a description of the property and in the case of real property, a statement as to whether or not it is registered under the land title law, an initiative act adopted by election November 3, 1914, execute the same without delay, and if the undertaking mentioned in section 540 of this code be not given, as follows:

Real
property

1. Real property, standing upon the records of the county in the name of the defendant, must be attached, by filing with the recorder of the county a copy of the writ, together with a description of the property attached, and a notice that it is attached, and by leaving a similar copy of the writ, description and notice with an occupant of the property, if there is one; if not, then by posting the same in a conspicuous place on the property attached.

2. Real property, or an interest therein, belonging to the defendant, and held by any other person, or standing on the records of the county in the name of any other person, must be attached by filing with the recorder of the county a copy of the writ, together with a description of the property, and a notice that such real property, and any interest of the defendant therein, held by or standing in the name of such other person (naming him), are attached; and by leaving with the occupant, if any, and with such other person, or his agent, if known and within the county, or at the residence of either, if within the county, a copy of the writ with a similar description and notice. If there is no occupant of the property, a copy of the writ, together with such description and notice, must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property. The recorder must index such attachment when filed, in the names, both of the defendant and of the person by whom the property is held or in whose name it stands on the records.

3. Personal property, capable of manual delivery, must be attached by taking it into custody. Personal property

4. Stocks or shares, or interest in stocks or shares, of any corporation or company, must be attached by leaving with the president, or other head of the same, or the secretary, cashier, or other managing agent thereof, a copy of the writ, and a notice stating that the stock or interest of the defendant is attached, in pursuance of such writ. Shares or stocks

5. In cases where the sheriff is instructed to take into possession personal property capable of manual delivery, whether the same is to be placed in a warehouse or in custody of a keeper, the sheriff may require, as a prerequisite to the taking of such property, that in addition to written instructions the attaching party or judgment creditor, or the attorney of record of each, deposit with said sheriff a sum of money sufficient to pay the expense of taking and keeping safely said property for a period of not to exceed five days, and that in the event that a further detention of said property is ordered after the period for which the fees have been deposited, the sheriff may, from time to time make a written demand upon the plaintiff or his attorney for further deposits to cover estimated expenses for periods not to exceed five days each. The demand above provided to be given to his attorney may be given by serving the same as provided in section 1011 of this code, or by depositing such notice in the post office in a sealed envelope, as first class registered mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person on whom it is served at his last known office or place of residence. In the event that the money so demanded is not paid within five (5) days after service of said demand given as herein provided, the sheriff may release the property to the person or persons from whom the same was taken. There shall be no liability upon the part of the sheriff to take or hold personal property unless the provisions of this section shall have been fully complied with. Personal property fee for keeping

6. Debts and credits and other personal property, not capable of manual delivery, must be attached by leaving with the person owing such debts, or having in his possession, or under his control, such credits and other personal property, or with his agent, or in the case of a corporation, with the president of the corporation, vice president, secretary, assistant secretary, cashier, or managing agent thereof, a copy of the writ, and a notice that the debts owing by him to the defendant, or the credits and other personal property in his possession, or under his control, belonging to the defendant, are attached in Debts and credits pursuance of such writ, except in the case of attachment of growing crops, a copy of the writ, together with a description of the property attached, and a notice that it is attached shall be recorded or registered the same as in the attachment of real property; provided, however, that debts owing to the defendant by a banking corporation or association, building and loan association or title insurance company, maintaining branch offices, or credits or other personal property whether or not the same is capable of manual delivery, belonging to the defendant and in the possession of or under the control of such banking corporation or association, building and loan association or title insurance company, must be attached by leaving a copy of the writ and the notice with the manager or any other officer of such banking corporation or association, building and loan association or title insurance company at the office or any branch thereof situated within the boundaries of the municipal corporation in which is located the office or branch at which the account evidencing such indebtedness of the defendant is carried, or at which such banking corporation or association, building and loan association or title insurance company has credits or other personal property belonging to the defendant in its possession or under its control; and no attachment shall be effective as to any debt owing by such banking corporation or association, building and loan association or title insurance company if the account evidencing such indebtedness is carried at an office or branch thereof situated outside of the boundaries of the municipal corporation in which such service is made unless such office or branch thereof has also been served. No attachment shall be effective as to any credits or other personal property in the possession or control of any such office or branch situated outside of the boundaries of the municipal corporation in which such service is made unless such office or branch shall itself be served.

Torrens
registration

7 If real property sought to be attached is registered under said land title law, an additional copy of the writ, together with a description of the Torrens title certificate, a description of the property and a notice that it is attached shall be filed with the registrar of titles of the county.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Board of accountancy

Section 1. Within thirty days after the passage of this act the governor shall appoint five persons, at least three of whom shall be competent and skilled public accountants who shall have been in practice as such in this state for not less than five consecutive years, to constitute and serve as a state board of accountancy. The members of such board shall, within thirty days after their appointment, take and subscribe to the oath of office as prescribed by the Political Code, and file the same with the secretary of state. Except as herein provided, the term of office of such members shall be four years and they shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of their successors. The terms of the members of the board in office when this amendment takes effect shall expire as follows: one member, September 15, 1931; one member, January 15, 1932; two members, January 15, 1933; one member, January 15, 1934. Such terms shall expire in the same relative order as to such members as the terms for which they hold office before this amendment takes effect, except that members whose terms would have expired on the same day shall determine their relative order by lot. The terms commencing September 15, 1931, shall expire January 15, 1935. Vacancies occurring under the provisions of this section shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term. All appointments made after the first year must be made from the roll of certificates issued and on file in the office of the governor

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. There is hereby created a state board of registration for civil engineers, hereinafter called the "board," consisting of three (3) members to be appointed by the governor within sixty (60) days after the date upon which this act becomes effective. All members of the board shall be civil engineers. Except as herein provided, the term of office of such members shall be four years and they shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of their successors. The terms of the members of the board in office when this amendment takes effect shall expire as follows: one member, September 15, 1931; one member, January 15, 1933; one member, January 15, 1934. Such terms shall expire in the same relative order as to such members as the terms for which they hold office before this amendment takes effect, except that members whose terms would have expired on the same day shall determine their relative order by lot. The term commencing September 15, 1931, shall expire January 15, 1935. Vacancies occurring under the provisions of this section shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term. The governor may remove any member of the board for misconduct, incompetency, or neglect of duty. Each member of the board shall be a citizen of the United States and a civil engineer of at least twelve (12) years active experience and of good standing in his profession and shall be at least thirty (30) years of age, and shall have been a resident of this state for at least five (5) years immediately preceding his appointment. Each member of said board, except the members first appointed hereunder, shall be registered as a civil engineer under this act. Each member of the board shall receive twenty-five dollars ($25) per day for the time actually spent in traveling to and from and in attending sessions of the board and its committees, and each member shall receive all necessary expenses incident to the performance of his duties under this act.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 140, statutes of 1929, entitled "An act regulating the business of embalmers and funeral directors and the transportation of and traffic in dead human bodies, creating a state board therefor, providing penalties for violations thereof, and repealing the act entitled 'An act to establish a state board of embalmers, defining the duties thereof, providing for the better protection of life and health, preventing the spread of contagious disease, regulating the practice of embalming in connection with the care and disposition of the dead and providing penalties for the violation thereof,' approved April 16, 1915, as amended," approved April 20, 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

embalmers

Section 1. There is hereby created a board to be known as the state board of funeral directors and embalmers, consisting of five members, with a minimum of five consecutive years' experience, immediately preceding their appointment, in the preparation and disposition of dead human bodies and in the practice of embalming, appointed by the governor to four-year terms, and removable by him for incompetency or improper conduct. During their respective terms under the provisions of the act hereby repealed the present members of the state board of embalmers shall continue to serve and act as members of the board hereby created.

Stats 1929

SEC. 2. Section 2 of chapter 140, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Meetings,
etc

Sec. 2. The said board shall meet annually, and at such other times as it may determine, and shall elect from its members, each for a term of one year, a president, a vice president, a secretary, and a treasurer. The salary of the secretary shall be fixed by said board with the approval of the department of finance. Each member other than the secretary shall receive as compensation for his services the sum of ten dollars for each day's actual attendance upon a board or committee meeting, and each member shall be reimbursed for his traveling expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties hereunder.

SEC. 3. Section 3 of chapter 140, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p 258.

Sec. 3. The term "funeral director," as herein used, is a person, partnership, corporation, association, or other organization engaged in or conducting, or holding out himself or itself as engaged in or conducting as an established business, the business of (a) preparing, other than by embalming, for the burial or disposal and directing and supervising the burial or disposal of dead human bodies, (b) providing for or maintaining a place for the preparation for the disposition or for the care of dead human bodies, and (c) who shall, in connection with his or its name or business, use the words "funeral director," or "undertaker" or "mortician," or any other title implying that he or it is engaged in the business of a "funeral director," as herein defined. An "established business," as the term is used herein, shall be understood to mean a place of business conducted at a specific street address or location devoted exclusively to the care and preparation for burial or transportation of human dead bodies and consisting of (a) a chapel wherein funeral services may be conducted, (b) a preparation room equipped with tile or cement floor, necessary drainage and ventilation, and containing necessary instruments and supplies for the preparation and embalming of human dead bodies for burial or transportation, and (c) a display room containing a suitable stock of funeral caskets and shipping cases. The said board may adopt such rules as may be reasonable and proper to define what shall be deemed to be necessary drainage and ventilation, and what instruments, supplies and merchandise shall be deemed to be necessary and suitable in such place of business. Funeral

The term "embalmer," as herein used, is a person engaged, or holding himself out as engaged, in the practice of disinfecting or preserving dead human bodies, or preparing for the transportation by a railroad, express company, or common carrier of human bodies dead of contagious or infectious disease. Embalmer

The term "apprentice" as herein used is a person engaged in the science of embalming under the instruction and supervision of a regularly licensed embalmer of and practicing in the State of California. Before such apprenticeship shall begin, the person desiring to so engage must register with the board on such forms as it shall prescribe, and a certificate of apprenticeship shall thereupon be issued to him. The fee for registration as an apprentice shall be one dollar. On or before January first of each year of said apprenticeship, a renewal fee of one dollar shall be paid to the board. Apprentice If said renewal fee is not paid within thirty days from the date due, a penalty of five dollars for delinquency shall attach and become a part of the total fee due said board for such renewal. No person shall be permitted to register as an apprentice who has not attained his eighteenth birthday, nor shall anyone be permitted to qualify for a license as an embalmer unless he shall hold a high school certificate or its equivalent and unless he has attained his twenty-first birthday.

New section

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to chapter 140, statutes of 1929, to be numbered section 3a, to read as follows:

One funeral director to establishment.

Sec. 3a. Not more than one person, partnership, corporation, association, or other organization engaged in business as a funeral director shall transact business in one specific establishment.

Stats. 1929, p. 258.

SEC. 5 Section 5 of chapter 140, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Applicants qualifications

Sec. 5. In order to qualify for a license as an embalmer, the applicant must be over twenty-one years of age, of good character, must hold a certificate from a high school, or its equivalent, must have first completed a two-year course of training under an embalmer licensed and engaged in practice as an embalmer in this state, and must have completed a full course of instruction in an embalming school of the class A type as rated by the "Conference of Embalmers Examining Boards of the United States, Inc."

Examination

The board shall require the applicant to pass an examination, which shall include the subjects of: embalming; anatomy, including histology, embryology and dissection; pathology; bacteriology; hygiene, including sanitation and public health; chemistry, including toxicology; and restorative art, including plastic surgery and demisurgery.

Application fee

The application must be in writing, and verified, on a form provided by and addressed to said board, and must be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars and by affidavits of at least two reputable residents of the county in which the applicant proposes to engage in the practice of an embalmer to the effect that the applicant is of good character.

Embalmers licensed in other states

Said board shall have authority, from time to time, to examine the requirements for the issuance of licenses to embalmers in other states of the United States, and to cause a record to be kept of those states in which standards for embalmers, not lower than those provided in this act, are maintained. Said board is hereby empowered to arrange for the issuance of reciprocal licenses in this state to licensed embalmers from other states so recorded; and said board, upon presentation to it by any person of satisfactory evidence that such person holds an unexpired license issued to such person by the proper authorities in any state, recorded as herein provided, which state grants full and equal reciprocal rights and privileges to licensees of this state, and that such person is of good character, shall upon the payment of a fee of fifty dollars ($50.00), no part of which shall be refunded by the board, issue to such person a license as an embalmer in this state; provided that in case any doubt exists as to the qualifications as an embalmer of any such person the board may, before issuing a license, require such person to submit to the regular examination provided in this act.

SEC. 6. Section 7 of chapter 140, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p. 258

Sec. 7. The business of a funeral director must be conducted and engaged in at a fixed place or establishment; and no funeral director shall open or maintain a place or establishment at which to engage in or conduct, or hold out himself or itself as engaging or conducting, the business of a funeral director, unless first licensed so to do by said board. Location of business

An application for such license shall be in writing, and verified, on a form provided and addressed to said board. The applicant, or in case the applicant is an association, corporation or partnership, the president or corresponding officer appearing therefor, must be at least twenty-one years of age, a regularly licensed embalmer of the State of California and of good character. The application must specify the address at which the applicant proposes to engage in or conduct a place of business as a funeral director, and must be accompanied by the affidavits of at least two reputable residents of the county in which the applicant resides, or proposes to engage in or conduct a place of business as a funeral director, to the effect that the applicant, or the president or corresponding officer, if the applicant is an association, corporation or partnership, is of good character. The applicant shall also furnish the board satisfactory proof that the establishment in which he intends to conduct business as a funeral director is or will be constructed and equipped in all respects as an established business as defined in section 3 hereof. License, application

The application must also be accompanied by a fee of twenty five dollars, and by a bond to the people of the State of California, duly executed by a surety or sureties approved by said board, in the amount of two thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of applicant's duties as a funeral director. Fee, bond

Any person damaged by the failure of a funeral director to faithfully perform said duties, or to comply with the provisions of this act, or with the rules of said board enacted under section 15 hereof, shall have the right in his own name to commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction against the funeral director and such surety company for the recovery of the amount of such damage. It shall be the duty of said board to see that such bond remains and is kept good. Action on bond

If the applicant for such license proposes to engage in or conduct said business at more than one place the applicant must make separate applications and procure separate licenses therefor. Licenses for two or more establishments

Any funeral director desiring to change his place of business must make application therefor on forms furnished by the Change of place of business board at least thirty days prior to time that said change in location is to take effect. The application for such change of location must be accompanied by a fee of five dollars.

Stats 1929,

An act granting certain tidelands and submerged lands of the State of California to the county of Santa Barbara in said state upon certain trusts and conditions.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Tidelands
grant to Santa Barbara county

SECTION 1. There is hereby granted to the county of Santa Barbara, and to its successors all of the right, title and interest of the State of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all that portion of the tidelands and submerged lands extending from Sandy Land point to Rincon creek in the county of Santa Barbara, to be forever held by Santa Barbara county and by its successors in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

Use

(a) Said lands shall be used by said county and by its successors solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor and for the establishment and construction of bulkheads or breakwaters for the protection of lands within its boundaries, or for the protection of its harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, ways and streets, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion or accommodation of commerce and navigation, and the protection of the lands within said county. And said county or its successors shall not at any time grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof to any individual, firm, or corporation for any purposes whatever. But the county or its successors may grant franchises thereon for a period not exceeding fifty years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for a period not exceeding fifty years for purposes consistent with the trust upon which said lands are held by the State of California, and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

Harbor

(b) Said harbor shall be improved by said county without expense to the state and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the State of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof for any vessel or other water craft or railroad owned or operated by the State of California.

Rates, etc.

(c) In the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a) no discrimination in rates, tolls or charges, or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said county, or by its successors. The absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor with the right of convenient access to said water over said lands for said purpose is hereby reserved to the people of the State of California.

(d) That there is excepted and reserved to the State of California all deposits of minerals, including oil and gas, in said land, and to the State of California, or persons authorized by the State of California, the right to prospect for, mine, and remove such deposits from said land.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1913,
p 1097.

SECTION 1. Section 3 of chapter 598, statutes of 1913, entitled "An act to regulate the practice of optometry; to provide for the appointment of a board of optometry, define its duties and powers and prescribing a penalty for the violation of this act," approved June 16, 1913, is amended to read as follows:

Board of optometry.

Sec. 3. A board is hereby created to be known as the state board of optometry which shall consist of three members appointed by the governor. No person shall be eligible to appointment who is not a registered optometrist of the State of California and actually engaged in the practice of optometry at the time of such appointment. Except as herein provided, each of the members shall hold office for a term of four years or until his successor is appointed and qualified. The terms of the members of the board in office when this amendment takes effect shall expire as follows: One member, September 15, 1931; one member, January 15, 1933; one member, January 15, 1934. The members on such board when this amendment takes effect shall determine by lot the order of expiration of their terms. The term commencing September 15, 1931, shall expire January 15, 1935. Vacancies occurring under the provisions of this section shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term. No person shall be eligible to membership in the said state board of optometry who shall be a stockholder in, or owner of, or a member of the faculty of or of board of trustees of any school of optometry or who shall be financially interested directly or indirectly in any concern manufacturing or dealing in optical supplies at wholesale. No member of the board shall be financially interested in any purchase or contract in which the board is interested. No member of the board shall be financially interested in the sale of any property or optical supplies to any prospective candidate for examination before the board.

SEC. 2. Section 7 of chapter 598, statutes of 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of place of business.

Sec. 7. Before engaging in the practice of optometry, it shall be the duty of each registered optometrist to notify the board in writing of the place or places where he is to engage, or intends to engage, in the practice of optometry and of any changes in his place of business, and any notice required to be given by the board to any registered optometrists may be given by mailing to such address, through the United States mail, postage thereon prepaid.

Each registered optometrist shall annually, between the first day of January and the first day of February of each year, pay to the director of the department of professional and vocational standards, Sacramento, California, a fee of ten dollars, for a renewal of his registration certificate, and shall keep such certificate conspicuously posted in his office or place of business at all times. Failure, neglect or refusal of any person who is a regularly licensed optometrist to pay in advance on or before February first of each year, said license fee of ten dollars, during the time his license remains in force, shall ipso facto work a forfeiture of his license and it shall not be restored except upon a written application therefor and the payment to said board of the sum of twenty-five dollars, in addition to all delinquent annual license fees, except that such person shall not be required to submit to any examination.

Annual registration fee.

From each annual renewal license fee of ten dollars there shall be paid to the University of California by the director of the department of professional and vocational standards, Sacramento, California, on or before the tenth day of March of each year, the sum of eight dollars, said sum to be used at and by said University of California solely for the advancement of optometrical research, and the maintenance and support of a department at said University of California, in which the science of optometry shall be taught. The balance of each said annual renewal fee amounting to two dollars as required hereby, shall be paid into the state treasury. Any registered optometrist who shall temporarily practice optometry outside or away from his regular registered place of business shall deliver to each client or person there fitted or supplied with glasses a receipt which shall contain his signature and show his permanent registered place of business and the number of his certificate, together with a specification of the lenses furnished and the amount charged therefor.

Payment to University of California.

selected from the membership of the board of directors of the state agricultural society and another, from the membership of the state board of agriculture. Each member within thirty days after his appointment shall execute an official bond to the State of California in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. The members of the commission shall receive no compensation for their services but each shall be allowed their actual, necessary traveling expenses incurred in the performance of their duties hereunder. The governor shall designate the chairman of the commission and shall fill vacancies occurring for any cause in the membership thereof. Each and all the commissioners appointed hereunder are hereby authorized to be absent from the state for such period, or periods, as may be necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act, and they are hereby granted leave of absence from the state for a longer period than sixty days.

Powers.

SEC. 2 The commission shall have the exclusive charge and control of the expenditure of all moneys appropriated by the State of California for the purposes hereof, including the acquisition, collection, transportation, and maintenance of an exhibit or exhibits of the resources and products of the State of California at the Chicago world's fair centennial celebration to be held at Chicago, Illinois, in 1933, and shall have power to employ and fix the compensation of such expert, clerical and other assistants as may be necessary.

Appropriation.

SEC. 3 Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, to be expended in accordance with law upon order of the chairman of the commission in carrying out the provisions of this act, including the acquisition, collection, transportation and maintenance of an exhibit or exhibits of the resources and products of the State of California at the Chicago world's fair centennial celebration to be held at Chicago, Illinois, in 1933. All expenditures hereunder are exempt from the provisions of section 669 of the Political Code.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917, p. 1398.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of an act entitled "An act to establish a legislative counsel bureau and making an appropriation therefor," approved May 23, 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Creation of bureau; selection of counsel

Section 1. A bureau is hereby created to be known as the legislative counsel bureau, which shall be in charge of a chief, who shall be a civil executive officer and who shall be known as the legislative counsel of California. He shall be selected as soon as may be after the passage of this act and biennially thereafter before the first Wednesday after the first Monday after the first day of January in each odd-numbered year by the Senate and Assembly in joint session. The legislative counsel in office at the time of the approval of this act shall, until an election is held under this act, hold the office of legislative counsel of California created by this act, subject to removal by the Legislature. If a vacancy should occur while the Legislature is not in session, a committee consisting of the speaker of the Assembly, the speaker pro tempore of the Assembly, the president pro tempore of the Senate and the chairman of the finance committee of the Senate shall select the legislative counsel to serve until the Legislature in joint session makes a selection for the office. The legislative counsel shall be chosen without reference to party affiliations and solely on the ground of fitness to perform the duties of his office.

An act to provide for the investigation and study of methods for the control of pear blight (Bacillus amylovorus) under the direction of the regents of the University of California, and for the dissemination of the knowledge gained through such investigation and study, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931, with reduction hereunder noted. In effect immediately.]

[I object to the item of $20,000 in section 1 of Assembly Bill No. 1876, and reduce the amount thereof to $15,000. With this reduction I approve the bill. Dated June 12, 1931. JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of twenty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended in accordance with Appropriation control of pear blight law under the direction of the regents of the University of California for and in an investigation and study of methods of control of pear blight (Bacillus amylovorus) and the dissemination among the fruit growers of the state of the knowledge gained through such investigation and study.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety within the meaning of section 1 of article four of the constitution of the State of California, and as such it shall take effect immediately.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

There are nearly one hundred thousand acres of pears in California according to statistics issued by the state department of agriculture, which places this industry among the large agricultural enterprises of the state. This acreage is distributed very widely throughout California, and the devastation caused by blight during 1930 was so serious that the loss compares with the tremendous suffering that resulted from the foot and mouth disease epidemic a few years ago. Unless relief is obtained, the prosperity of this basic industry will not only be threatened, but thousands of fruit growers with large investments at stake will actually be forced out of business. After a most careful survey on the part of state authorities, it has been estimated that the total cost of the disease and its control during the season of 1930 amounted to $2,268,260 made up of the following items:

- (1) Crop reductions $1,125,260.
- (2) Actual cost of blight control $825,000.
- (3) Expenditures of county funds $18,000.
- (4) Expenditures in blight control during the fall of 1930 $300,000.

This tremendous drain on the industry is of state-wide significance, and a very careful program has been worked out by authorities of the University of California at a series of state-wide conferences with producers, which will be given authority by this act. The figures are extremely conservative, are based on a most careful analysis of the problem and must be made immediately available if this unusual and virulent outbreak of blight is to be stopped before it wipes out the pear industry of the State of California.

An act to amend section 2524 of the Political Code, relating to the jurisdiction, powers and duties of the board of state harbor commissioners or its successor.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2524 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1919,
p 343

2524. The commissioners shall have possession and control of that portion of the bay of San Francisco, together with all the improvements, rights, privileges, easements, appurtenances connected therewith, or in anywise appertaining thereto, for the purposes in this article provided (excepting such parcels thereof as are held by the lessees, or their assigns, on valid leases, which parcels so held it is hereby made the duty of the commissioners to take possession of, together with the improvements thereon, as soon as said leases terminate, and also to see that the lessees, or their successors or assigns, do not exercise rights and privileges that are not conferred by said leases), bounded as follows, to wit: Commencing at the point where the easterly line of the Presidio reservation intersects the water-line front, as established by the board of state tideland commissioners; thence easterly along said water-line front to the center of Webster street; thence southerly along the center of Webster street to the center of Lewis street; thence easterly along the center of Lewis street to the center of Polk street; thence easterly along the center of Jefferson street to the center of Tonquin street; thence easterly along the center of Tonquin street to the center of Larkin street; thence southerly along the center of Larkin street to the center of Jefferson street; thence easterly along the center of Jefferson street to the center of Powell street; thence southerly along the center of Powell street to the center of Beach street; thence easterly along the center of Beach street to the center of Dupont street; thence southerly along the center of Dupont street to the center of North Point street; thence easterly along the center of North Point street to the center of Kearny street; thence southerly along the center of Kearny street to the center of Francisco street; thence easterly along the center of Francisco street to the center of Montgomery street; thence southerly along the center of Montgomery street to the center of Chestnut street; thence easterly along the center of Chestnut street to the center of Sansome street; thence southerly along the center of Sansome street to the center of Lombard street; thence easterly along the center of Lombard street to the center of Battery street; thence southerly along the center of Battery street to the center of Greenwich street; thence easterly along the center of Greenwich street to the center of Front street; thence and regulate, from time to time, the rates of dockage, wharfage, cranage, tolls and rent; and collect such an amount of revenue therefrom as will enable the commissioners to perform the duties required of them by authority of this article. The commissioners shall construct such number of wharves as the wants of commerce shall require, and shall locate such wharves at such points and upon such lines as the board may deem most suitable for the best interests of commerce, and shall repair and maintain all the wharves, piers, quays, landings and thoroughfares the wants of commerce may require, and generally to erect all such improvements as may be necessary for the safe landing, loading and unloading, and protection of all classes of merchandise, and for the safety and convenience of passengers passing into and out of the city and county of San Francisco by water. And for the purpose of repairing said wharves, piers, quays and landings, the commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase or construct pile drivers, and the necessary machinery to be used therewith, and employ men for operating the same; nor shall any such wharf be constructed upon such place or line as will cause any slip or dock to be less than one hundred thirty-six feet wide at the most narrow point between the wharves.

Piles.

The commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase or construct works for preserving piles and timber, and the necessary machinery to be used therewith, and operate said works, and for that purpose to employ men and purchase chemicals, or such other materials as may be necessary for the preserving of piles and timber. The purchase of chemicals can be made without advertising for proposals therefor. When they determine that a new wharf shall be erected, or any other necessary improvement constructed, or repairs made, or dredging machines, pile drivers, scows, steam tugs, or any necessary machinery or material obtained, the costs of which shall exceed three thousand dollars, they shall advertise for sealed proposals for a period not less than ten days, in one or more of the daily newspapers in the city and county of San Francisco. Every proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check for an amount equal to five per cent of the amount of such proposal, such check to be made payable to the order of the secretary of said board; conditioned, if the proposal is accepted and the contract awarded, and if the bidder shall fail or neglect to execute the contract and give the bond required within six days after the award is made, in that case, the said sum mentioned in said check shall be paid into the state treasury by said secretary, as liquidated damages for such failure and neglect, as a portion of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund. Such advertisement shall contain a general description of the work to be done, the material to be used, the place where to be used, and must refer to specifications, which must contain a full and accurate description of the work to be performed, the material to be used, and where it is to be used; which specifications shall be kept in the office of the secretary of the board in such manner that all persons may inspect the same during the usual business hours of all days except Sundays and holidays. On a day named in the advertisement, the commissioners shall open the bids in the presence of such bidders as are present, and award the contract to the lowest bidder, who shall furnish sufficient sureties to guarantee the performance of the work. If, in the opinion of the commissioners, the bids are too high, they may reject them, and advertise anew in like manner as before. If, in the opinion of the commissioners, the second bids are too high, they may reject them likewise, and enter into contract with responsible parties without giving further notice. Any contract entered into without giving public notice and receiving bids, must be at least ten per cent lower than the lowest rejected bid. The board may construct such harbor embankment or seawall as shall be necessary to protect the harbor of San Francisco, and dredge such number of slips and docks as the commerce of the port of San Francisco may require, to a depth that will admit of the easy and free ingress and egress of all classes of watercraft that load and discharge cargoes at the wharves, piers, quays, landings, and thoroughfares in the harbor of San Francisco; to perform which dredging the board of state harbor commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase or construct dredging machines, scows, steam tugs, and the necessary machinery, and employ men for operating the same. When any portion of the premises described in this article shall be dredged, the sand, mud, or other substance shall be deposited in a place designated by the board, in not less than fifteen fathoms of water.

Provided that the board of state harbor commissioners may enter into an agreement with the owner of any property, lying adjacent to the waterfront property under the jurisdiction of the state harbor commission, for the purpose of determining the precise location of any seawall, thereafter to be built, adjacent to or upon such privately owned property and may accept grants of land from such private property owners in consideration thereof. When such agreement has been entered into between the owner of the property adjacent to the waterfront property under the jurisdiction of the harbor commission, and the State of California through the state harbor commission in pursuance to the language of this act, such determination of the location shall be binding on all succeeding boards of harbor commissioners.

All classes of water craft that uses or makes fast to any wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare, and lands upon or loads therefrom any goods, wares, or merchandise, shall be liable and must pay the commissioners such rates of dockage as shall be fixed by authority of this article; and all such water craft as shall discharge or receive any goods, wares, or merchandise, while moored in any slip, dock or basin within the jurisdiction of the commissioners, shall pay one-half the regular rates of dockage. wharf, pier, quay, landing, thoroughfare, slip, dock, or basin, unless forced to do so by stress of weather, without first paying the dockage due from such vessel, shall be liable to pay double the regular rates. The charge for wharfage and tolls shall be a lien upon all goods, wares and merchandise landed upon any of the wharves, piers, quays, landings or thoroughfares upon the premises described in this article; and the commissioners, their agents or lessees, may hold possession of any such goods, wares, or merchandise so landed as aforesaid, to secure the payment of such wharfage and tolls; and for the purpose of such lien are deemed to have possession of such goods, wares and merchandise so landed until such charge for wharfage and tolls are paid. The commissioners shall have power to make reasonable rules and regulations concerning the control and management of the property of the state which is intrusted to them by virtue of this article, and said commissioners are hereby authorized and required to make, without delay, and from time to time, and publish not less than thirty days in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city and county of San Francisco, all needful rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of the state or of the United States in relation to the mooring and anchoring of vessels in said harbor, providing and maintaining free, open, and unobstructed passageways for steam ferryboats and other steamers navigating the waters of the bay of San Francisco and the fresh-water tributaries of said bay so that such steamers can conveniently make their trips without impediment from vessels at anchor or other obstacles. And said commissioners may also make all needful rules and regulations governing the removal of such vessels from the wharves and other landings, and from slips and docks as are not engaged in receiving or discharging cargo, prescribing the time during which goods, wares, and merchandise landed upon any wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare shall be permitted to remain thereon, and may divide the same into several classes, and may, by such rules and regulations, provide that in case any such goods, wares, or merchandise remain upon any wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare beyond the term so prescribed, the respective wharfinger may, under the order of the commissioners, remove and deposit the same in a suitable place, at the charge, risk, and expense of the owner thereof. When any goods, wares, or merchandise shall have remained upon any wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare more than twenty-four hours, the commissioners may, in their discretion, charge such additional rates for each subsequent day as in their opinion is just and equitable. The commissioners may, in their discretion, set apart and assign for the exclusive use of the water craft used by the officers of the federal government, such convenient and safe landings as such officers may require, together with suitable premises near such landings as may be set apart and assigned for their use, upon which premises such officers may cause to be erected offices and storehouses to suit their convenience; and the commissioners shall charge a reasonable compensation per month for the use of such landings and office and storehouse premises; set apart and assign a suitable and proper locality for the use of the harbor police of the city and county of San Francisco, and also a suitable place for a boathouse station, for the exclusive use of the quarantine and health officers of said city and county, without compensation; set apart and assign, for the exclusive use of steam ferry-boats, suitable slips, in which such structures may be erected as will secure the safe and convenient landing of passengers and safe landing and delivery of freight; set apart and assign suitable wharves, berths, or landings for the exclusive use of vessels; to construct suitable sheds, gates and other temporary structures as may be necessary for the safe and convenient landing of passengers and safe landing and delivery of freight; and set apart and assign, for the sole and exclusive use of the fishermen of the city and county of San Francisco, such place or places as the said commissioners shall deem proper, sufficient, and adapted for the requirements and necessities of said fishermen: provided, the premises set apart by said commissioners shall be used only for the legitimate business of said fishermen, and for no other purpose; and provided, said commission shall charge said fishermen for the use thereof such rates as said commission shall fix from time to time. The commissioners may assign suitable places for the landing of horses, cattle, sheep, swine; and when such places have been assigned, it shall be a misdemeanor for a commander of any water craft to land any greater number than ten at any one time from any water craft at any other place. The commissioners may set apart, for the uses and purposes of dry docks and marine railways, such portions of the waterfront northwesterly of the northerly end of Kearny street, and southerly of the easterly end of Solano street, as the wants of commerce may require. The commissioners shall not have the right to renew any lease, or to lease any premises under their control for any purpose whatever, except as otherwise specially provided, but they may permit any property under their control to be used by any corporation, firm, association, person, or company, but in no case shall any corporation, firm, association, person, or company enjoy the use of any of the property under the commissioners' charge, except such use as shall be terminated as herein provided; and the said commissioners may condemn, purchase, and pay a reasonable compensation for such structures as may have been erected upon the said premises, which structures, in the opinion of the board and engineer may be useful for such commercial purposes as this article is intended to promote. No person or company shall land or remove any goods, wares or merchandise, or other things, upon or from any wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare situated upon the premises described in this article; nor shall any corporation, firm, association, company or person collect dockage, wharfage, cranage, or toll within the boundaries of the premises described in this article, without first obtaining permission to do so from said commissioners. Any use permitted of the property by the commissioners may be terminated at any time by them, on thirty days' previous notice to the party or parties so using the same. Said board may, when the wants of commerce require, lay down such number of tracks along and on any portion of said waterfront as may be necessary to meet such wants, and permit the use thereof to any corporation or association, or any person or persons, under such rules, regulations, and at such compensation as said board may determine; and make such agreements with persons, firms and corporations owning spur or industry tracks relative to the use by the state of such tracks as said board may determine to be necessary; provided, that no special privileges shall be awarded thereon to any corporation, association, person or persons; provided, that nothing herein shall apply to or restrict the use of any premises leased for terminal facilities under or by reason of an act of the Legislature entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend section 6 of an act entitled 'An act concerning the waterfront of the city and county of San Francisco,' approved March 15, 1878, and to confer further powers upon the board of state harbor commissioners," approved March 17, 1880,' approved March 19, 1889, conferring further powers upon said board," approved March 26, 1895, and which has not been declared forfeited by the board of harbor commissioners; and provided, further, that switches from said railroad track or tracks may, with the permission of said board, and under the limitations and conditions of this act, be constructed by corporations, or any person or persons, leading to any warehouse or place of business. Nor shall any person or company place, or cause to be placed, any obstructions in that portion of the bay of San Francisco described in this article, nor upon any wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare, without the consent of the board. Whenever any wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare in the harbor of San Francisco shall be incumbered, or their free use interfered with, by goods, wares, merchandise, or other substance, whether loose, or built upon, or fixed to any such wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare, it shall be the duty of the commissioners to notify, in writing (which service may be served by a wharfinger, or the secretary or assistant secretary of the board), the owner, agent, or occupant, or person placing or keeping such obstruction thereon, to remove the same within twenty-four hours after the serving of such notice; and in case of failure to comply with such notice, and remove such obstructions, the owner, agent, occupant, or person notified shall be liable to pay the commissioners the sum of twenty-five dollars for each and every day during which such obstruction shall remain upon any such wharf, pier, quay, landing, or thoroughfare; and the commissioners shall have power, in their discretion, to remove any such incumbering substance, and store the same in any suitable, convenient, and safe place, and a sum equal to the amount of the expenses of the removal, together with all other necessary charges, shall be paid by the owner of such incumbering substance to the commissioners, and such sum and necessary charges shall be a lien on such substance until paid. Dockage shall not be collected on any vessel lying at anchor outside of dock, wharf, or slip. Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorizing the board of harbor commissioners to construct any railroad along and upon any open canal extending inland from said waterfront. But said harbor commissioners may, when a waterfront railroad shall be constructed by them, construct the same across the outlet of such open canal.

SEC. 2. Wherever the term "board of state harbor commissioners," "board," "commissioners" or any other term designating the board of state harbor commissioners is used in this act, it shall be deemed and construed to mean and include any successor to the board of state harbor commissioners. An act to amend section 24 of the state bar act, approved March 31, 1927, as amended, relating to admission to practice law, and to repeal sections 275, 276, 276a, 277, 279, 280 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Stats. 1927, p. 38, amended.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24 of the state bar act, approved March 31, 1927, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 1965.

Sec. 24. Any citizen of the United States, of the age of at least twenty-one years, of good moral character, who is, and for at least three months prior to the date of the filing of his application continuously has been a bona fide resident of this state, and who possesses the necessary qualifications of learn- Admission to bar qualifications.

ing and ability, as hereinafter provided, is entitled to admission to practice law in this state.

With the approval of the supreme court, and subject to the provisions of this act, the board shall have power to fix and determine the qualifications of applicants for admission to practice law in this state, provided that educational requirements fixed by the board shall not exceed (1) graduation from a four-year high school, or proof satisfactory to the examining committee that the applicant is possessed of the equivalent of a four-year high school education in point of intellectual competency and achievement, and (2) graduation from a law school requiring substantially the full time of its students for three years, or graduation from a law school requiring a part only of its students' time for four years, or proof satisfactory to the examining committee that the applicant has otherwise diligently and in good faith studied law for at least four years.

The board shall have power to constitute and appoint an examining committee which shall have power to examine all applicants for admission, to administer the requirements for admission to practice, and to certify to the supreme court for admission those applicants who fulfill the requirements and successfully pass the examination.

Fees.

With the approval of the supreme court the board shall have power to fix and collect fees to be paid by applicants for admission to practice, which fees shall be paid into the treasury of the state bar.

Attorneys from other states.

In the case of an applicant who has been admitted to practice law outside of this state it shall be left to the discretion of the examining committee to determine whether or not the applicant shall be required to take an examination.

Upon certification by the examining committee that the applicant has fulfilled the requirements for admission to practice law the supreme court may admit such applicant as an attorney at law in all the courts of this state and may direct an order to be entered upon its records to that effect, and a certificate of such admission thereupon shall be given to him by the clerk of the court.

Repeal.

SEC. 2. Sections 275, 276, 276a, 277, 279, 280 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and all other laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

bers included, of the Code of Civil Procedure of California, all relating to corporations.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new title one consisting of chapters numbered ^{New title.} consecutively from 1 to 16, inclusive, is hereby substituted for the existing title one of part four of division first of the Civil Code of the State of California. The new title so substituted, shall supersede all of the existing title one of said part four and also sections numbered consecutively 1227 to 1235, both numbers included, of the Code of Civil Procedure of California. All parts and provisions of this new title which are the same as parts or provisions now contained in the title and sections superseded shall be considered as continuations of the latter and as having been the law from the time when the latter were enacted; but all parts and provisions of the title and sections hereby superseded which are not contained in this new title are hereby repealed.

The repeal effected by this act shall not affect the existence ^{Construc-} of any corporation formed, nor impair or take away any exist-^{tion.} ing cause of action against any corporation, its stockholders, directors or officers, for any liability incurred prior to the time when this act shall go into effect. Section headings contained in said new title shall not be deemed to govern or limit the scope or meaning of the sections therein contained.

SEC. 2. The new title one hereby substituted for said existing title one is as follows:

TITLE I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL CORPORATIONS.

- Chapter I. General provisions.
- Chapter II. Formation of corporations.
- Chapter III. Issue of shares; options; consideration; capital.
- Chapter IV. By-laws.

- "Directors" includes persons designated in the articles as such and persons designated, elected or appointed by any other name or title to act as directors and their successors.
- "Directors," when used in relation to any power or duty requiring collective action, shall be construed to mean "board of directors"
- "Mortgage" includes a deed of trust to secure a debt, or any pledge or form of security.
- "Written" includes printed, typewritten, engraved, lithographed, telegraphed, cabled, radiogramed, photographed, photostated, telephotographed, or other form of transmitted and recorded messages.
- "Redemption price" means the amount payable on shares of any class on the redemption of the shares.

“Liquidation price” means amounts payable on shares of any class upon dissolution, liquidation, consolidation, merger or sale of entire assets of the corporation.

Section headings shall not be taken to govern or limit the scope of the sections of this title.

“Shares” and “shares of stock” shall be construed to include membership in nonstock corporations where the context so requires.

“Treasury shares” means shares issued and thereafter acquired by the corporation, but not retired.

A “series” of shares means a subdivision of a class of shares, which shall not be construed to constitute a separate class for the purpose of voting or consent unless specifically so designated.

279. General application. The provisions of this title are applicable to every private corporation, profit or nonprofit, stock or nonstock, now existing or hereafter formed, and the outstanding and future securities thereof, unless such corporation be expressly excepted from the operation thereof, or there be a special provision in relation to any class thereof inconsistent with some provision of this title, in which case the special provision prevails. General application

The existence of corporations heretofore formed or existing shall not be affected by the enactment of this title nor by any change in the requirements for the formation of corporations nor by the amendment or repeal of the laws under which they were formed or created. Existing corporations.

280 Reserved powers; saving clause. This title of the Civil Code, or any chapter or section thereof, may at any time be amended or repealed. Neither the enactment of this title nor the amendment or repeal thereof, nor of any statute affecting corporations, shall take away or impair any liability or cause of action existing or incurred against any corporation, its shareholders, directors or officers. Saving clause.

CHAPTER II.

FORMATION OF CORPORATIONS.

285. Formation and purposes. A corporation may be formed under this title by the execution of articles of incorporation by three or more persons, and the filing thereof, in the manner herein provided, for any lawful purpose or purposes. Formation and purposes.

287. Election to continue existence under the code. Any corporation existing on the first day of January, 1873, formed under the laws of this state, and still existing, which has not already elected to continue its existence under the provisions of this code applicable thereto, may, at any time hereafter, make such election by the unanimous vote of all its directors, or such election may be made at any annual meeting of the stockholders or members, or at any meeting called by the directors especially for considering the subject, if voted by stockholders representing a majority of the voting shares, or Election to continue existence under the code by majority vote of the members, or may be made by the directors upon the written consent of that number of such stockholders or members.

Certificate of action:
filing.

A certificate of the action of the directors, signed by them and their secretary, when the election is made by their unanimous vote, or upon the written consent of the stockholders or members, or a certificate of the proceedings of the meeting of the stockholders or members, when such election is made at any such meeting, signed by the chairman and secretary of the meeting and a majority of the directors, must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and thereafter the corporation shall continue its existence under the provisions of this code which are applicable thereto, and shall possess all the rights and powers, and be subject to all the obligations, restrictions, and limitations prescribed thereby.

Certified
copy.

The secretary of state shall forthwith issue a certified copy of said certificate and transmit said copy to the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation was situated at the time said corporation was incorporated which copy shall be filed by said county clerk upon payment of the fee prescribed by law.

Corporations existing prior to code.

288. Corporations existing prior to code. No corporation formed or existing before twelve o'clock, noon, of the day upon which this code takes effect, is affected by the provisions of part four of division first of this code, unless such corporation elects to continue its existence under it as provided in section 287; but the laws under which such corporations were formed and exist are applicable to all such corporations, and are repealed, subject to the provisions of this section.

Articles of incorporation.

290. Articles of incorporation. Articles of incorporation shall state:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The purposes for which it is formed.
3. The county in this state where the principal office for the transaction of the business of the corporation is to be located.

4. If the corporation is to be authorized to issue only one class of shares of stock, the total number of shares which the corporation shall have authority to issue and the aggregate par value, if any, of all shares, and (a) the par value of each of such shares, or (b) a statement that all such shares of stock are to be without par value; or if the corporation is to be authorized to issue more than one class of shares, the total number of shares which the corporation shall have authority to issue and the aggregate par value of all shares that are to have a par value, and (a) the number of shares of each class that are to have a par value, and the par value of each share of each such class, and/or (b) the number of shares of each class that are to be without par value.

5. If the shares are to be classified, or if any class of shares is to have two or more series, a statement of the preferences, privileges and restrictions granted to or imposed upon the holders of the respective classes or series of shares, and of the number of shares constituting each series, and, except as to matters and things so stated, no distinction shall exist between said classes or series of shares or the holders thereof; provided, however, that in lieu of a statement of the dividend rate, redemption price and/or liquidation price of shares of any class or of any series of any class or the number of shares constituting any series, the articles may authorize the board of directors, within the limitations and restrictions stated therein, to fix or alter, from time to time, the dividend rate or the redemption or liquidation price of any class or of any series of any class, or the number of shares constituting any series of any class, or all or any of them, in respect of shares then unissued.

6. The names and addresses of the persons, not less than three, who are appointed to act as the first directors. The number of persons so named shall constitute the number of directors until changed by amendment to the articles or by a by-law adopted pursuant to authority contained in the articles.

7. Any provisions which may be desired.

(a) Granting, with or without limitations, the power to levy assessments upon the shares or any class thereof;

(b) Granting to shareholders preemptive rights to subscribe to any or all issues of shares or securities;

(c) Otherwise regulating the business of the corporation and the powers of directors or shareholders, in a manner not in conflict with law.

8. If the corporation is not to be authorized to issue shares of stock, or if it is not formed with a view to pecuniary gain or profit to its members, it shall be so stated.

The authorized number and qualifications of its members, the different classes of membership, if any, the property, voting and other rights and privileges of each class of membership, and the liability of each or all classes to dues or assessments, may be set forth either in the articles or in the by-laws.

290a. Certificate of approval. Before any corporation subject to the bank act may file with the secretary of state its articles, or an amendment to its articles, or an agreement for consolidation or merger, there must be attached thereto the certificate of approval of the superintendent of banks. Certificate of approval.

291. Corporate name. The secretary of state shall not file articles which set forth a name which is likely to mislead the public or which is the same as, or resembles so closely as to tend to deceive, (1) the name of a domestic corporation, or (2) the name of a foreign corporation which is authorized to transact business in this state, or (3) a name which is under reservation, except to the applicant therefor. Corporate name.

Any applicant therefor may, upon payment of a fee of two dollars, obtain from the secretary of state a certificate of reservation of any name not within any of the above prohibi- Fee.

tions, and upon the issuance of such certificate the name stated therein shall be reserved for a period of thirty days.

The use by a corporation of a name in violation of this section may be enjoined notwithstanding the filing of its articles by the secretary of state.

Words
"bank,"
etc.

The secretary of state shall not file articles setting forth a name in which the words "bank," "trust" or "trustee" or related words appear, unless the certificate of approval of the superintendent of banks is attached thereto.

Execution
and filing
of articles.

292. Execution and filing of articles. Each person named therein as a director shall, and any other persons may, sign the articles. All signatures thereto shall be acknowledged before an officer designated by the laws of this state as one before whom acknowledgments may be made. Any certificate of an acknowledgment taken without the state must be authenticated by the certificate of an officer having the requisite official knowledge of the qualifications of the officer before whom the acknowledgment was made.

If the articles conform to law, the secretary of state shall file them in his office and shall indorse the date of filing thereon. The corporate existence shall begin upon the filing of the articles and shall continue perpetually, unless otherwise expressly provided by law.

Filing of
copy.

A copy of the articles certified by the secretary of state, and bearing the indorsement of the date of filing in his office, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the corporation is to have its principal office.

Filing copy
of articles in county where real property
is held.

293. Filing copy of articles in county where real property is held. Every corporation shall file a copy of its articles, certified by the secretary of state in the office of the county clerk of every county in the state in which it holds real property, except where certified copies have heretofore been filed, or where original articles are on file under an act in force at the time of filing thereof. If any corporation acquires any real property in a county in which its articles, or a certified copy thereof, have not been so filed, it shall within ninety days thereafter file with the clerk of said county a certified copy of its articles. The copies filed with the several county clerks have the same force and effect in evidence as the originals.

Failure to file.

No corporation failing to comply with the provisions of this section can maintain any action or proceeding in relation to such real property, its rents, issues, or profits, until such certified copy of its articles is filed in the county in which such property is located.

CHAPTER III.

ISSUE OF SHARES; OPTIONS; CONSIDERATION; CAPITAL.

Issue and classes of shares.

294. Issue and classes of shares. Stock corporations may, when authorized by their articles, issue one or more classes, series or kinds of shares, any of which classes may be with par value or without par value, or of different par values for different classes and with full, limited or no voting rights, and with such designations, preferences as to the rates of dividends payable thereon, as to the terms on which the same may be redeemed and as to the amount which shall be paid to the holder in case of liquidation, voluntary or involuntary, or any other distribution of assets, and with such other preferences, restrictions, options, conversion rights and other special rights as are stated or authorized in their articles.

295. Certificates of determination of preferences. Before any corporation shall issue any shares of any class or of any series of any class of which the dividend rate and/or redemption price or liquidation price or the number of shares constituting any series are not set forth in its articles, but are fixed in a resolution adopted by the board of directors pursuant to authority given by its articles, a certificate setting forth a copy of such resolution and the number of shares of such class or series shall be made by its president or a vice president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary and acknowledged by such officers, and shall be filed with the secretary of state and a copy thereof certified by the secretary of state shall be filed with the county clerk of the county where the principal office is located.

of determination of preferences

296. Options and conversion rights. Subject to the provisions of its articles, a corporation, in connection with the issue, subscription or sale of any shares or securities or independently thereof, may grant (a) rights to convert the same into shares of any class or classes or (b) options to purchase or subscribe for shares of any class or classes, upon such terms and conditions as may be deemed expedient. The corporation may issue stock purchase or subscription warrants or other evidences of such option rights, setting forth the terms, provisions and conditions thereof, and such options may be transferable or nontransferable and separable or inseparable from other securities of the corporation.

Options and conversion rights.

The authority to grant any such rights or options, if the terms and authority thereof are not set forth in the articles, shall be exercised by a resolution adopted by the board of directors setting forth in full the terms and provisions of such rights or options.

Same authority to grant

If, at the time of granting such options or conversion rights, the corporation be not authorized by its articles to issue all the shares required for the satisfaction thereof, if and when exercised, at least the number of shares required to be issued upon the exercise of such options or conversion rights shall be authorized by an amendment to the articles.

Same: number of
shares

The contract, certificate, warrant or other instrument evidencing such options or conversion rights shall set forth in full or summarize or incorporate by reference all the terms and provisions thereof. The corporation shall at all times reserve sufficient shares to meet the exercise of all options or conversion rights at the time outstanding.

Terms of option

Preemptive
rights

297. Preemptive rights. Unless otherwise provided in the articles, the board of directors may issue shares, option rights, or securities having conversion or option rights, without first offering the same to shareholders of any class or classes.

Employee stock purchase plan.

297a. Employee stock purchase plan. A corporation may, upon such terms and conditions as the articles or by-laws may authorize, provide and carry out a plan for the issue and sale of its unissued shares, or of issued shares purchased, or to be purchased or acquired, to the employees of the corporation or to the employees of subsidiary corporations or to a trustee on their behalf, and for the payment of such shares in installments or at one time, and for such consideration as may be fixed, and may provide for aiding any such employees in paying for such shares by compensation for services or otherwise. And such plan may include, among other features, the fixing of eligibility for participation therein, the class and price of shares to be issued or sold under the plan, the number of shares which may be subscribed for, the method of payment therefor, the reservation of title until full payment, the effect of the termination of employment, an option or obligation on the part of the corporation to repurchase the shares upon termination of the employment, restrictions upon the transfer of the shares, the time limits and termination of the plan. Any shares subject to preemptive rights under the provisions of the articles may be issued and sold under such plan without prior offering to shareholders entitled to preemptive rights, but only with the written consent or vote of the holders of two-thirds of the shares entitled to exercise preemptive rights with respect thereto.

Payment of consideration
for shares.

298. Payment of consideration for shares. No shares of stock, with or without par value, shall be issued except in consideration of money paid, labor done, or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received by the issuing corporation, or amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital upon the issuance of shares as a dividend.

Subdivision
of shares.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to forbid or limit the power of a corporation to split up or subdivide its shares into a larger number of shares without transferring surplus to stated capital.

Partial issue
of shares.

Any corporation, if authorized in its articles or by-laws, may issue the whole or any part of its shares or its certificates for shares prior to full payment under such restrictions as are imposed by this title.

Subscription or issue price for shares

299. Subscription or issue price for shares.

Par value
shares.

The value of the consideration to be received by a corporation for the issuance of shares having par value shall be at least equal to the par value thereof; provided, however, that the corporation may issue at less than par, as fully paid up, shares having par value, or may issue securities convertible into fully paid shares having par value, or issue securities with an option to purchase fully paid shares having par value at a price less than the par value of the shares issuable on conversion or on the exercise of such option, if the board of directors determine that such shares can not be sold at par, or that such securities can not be sold unless made convertible into par value shares at the price fixed, less than par, or without the option to purchase par value shares at the price fixed, less than par.

Subject to any limitations in the articles or by-laws, the consideration to be received by a corporation for the issuance of shares without par value or upon the exercise of conversion or option rights shall be such as may be determined to be reasonable by the board of directors.

No par value shares.

300. Banking corporations without capital stock. Every corporation that has been or may be created under the general laws of this state, doing a banking business therein, and which has no capital stock, may elect to have a capital stock, and may issue certificates of stock therefor, in the same manner as corporations formed under the provisions of chapter one, article one, of the Civil Code, relating to the formation of corporations; provided, that no such corporation shall use or convert any moneys or funds theretofore belonging to it, or under its control, into capital stock; but such funds or moneys must be held and managed only for the purposes and in the manner for which they were created. Before such change is made, a majority of the members of such corporation present at a meeting called for the purpose of considering the proposition whether it is best to have a capital stock, its amount, and the number of shares into which it shall be divided, must vote in favor of having a capital stock, fix the amount thereof, and the number of shares into which it shall be divided.

meeting, etc.

Notice of the time and place of holding such meeting, and its object, must be given by the president of such corporation, by publication in some newspaper printed and published in the county, or city and county, in which the principal place of business of the corporation is situated, at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the holding of the meeting. A copy of the proceedings of this meeting, giving the number of persons present, the votes taken, the notice calling the meeting, the proof of its publication, the amount of capital actually subscribed, and by whom, all duly certified by the president and secretary of the corporation, must be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and clerk of the county where the articles of incorporation are filed.

Notice.

Thereafter such corporation is possessed of all the rights and powers, and is subject to all the obligations, restrictions, and limitations, as if it had been originally created with a capital stock; and provided, further, that no bank in this state shall ever pay any dividend upon so-called guaranty notes, nor upon any stock, except upon the amount actually paid in money into said capital upon such stock, and any payment made in violation of this provision shall render all officers and directors consenting to the same jointly and severally liable to the depositors to the extent thereof.

Valuation of consideration
for shares.

300a. Valuation of consideration for shares. The board of directors shall state by resolution its determination of the fair value to the corporation in monetary terms of any consideration other than money for which shares with or without par value are issued. Any determination of the fair value to the corporation of the considerations other than money accepted, or agreed to be accepted, for shares shall be conclusive in any action against directors or shareholders in which it is claimed that the fair value to the corporation of such consideration was less than the amount for which the shares were authorized to be issued, if such determination was entered in the minutes and on the books of account of the corporation, unless the party asserting such claim prove that such determination of value was made by the directors knowingly or without reasonable investigation at an amount greater than the fair value of such consideration to the corporation.

Stated
capital and paid-in surplus

300b. Stated capital and paid-in surplus. Every stock corporation shall have and carry upon its books a stated capital, which shall consist of the aggregate par value of the outstanding shares and treasury shares having par value, and the aggregate amount or value of the agreed consideration received or to be received by the corporation for its outstanding shares and treasury shares without par value, except such portion of the consideration for shares without par value expressly designated by the directors prior to the issue of such shares to be paid-in surplus. In the absence of such designation, all the consideration for shares without par value shall be credited to stated capital.

Par value
shares.

In case par value shares are issued for less than par as fully paid up, the discount or difference between the par value and the agreed consideration for the shares shall be charged against the par value of the shares, and the net consideration carried as stated capital represented by such shares.

No par value
shares.

In case of the issue of shares without par value preferred as to assets on liquidation in event of dissolution or otherwise, there shall be credited to paid-in surplus no more than the excess of the consideration received over the lowest aggregate liquidation price of such shares. Stated capital shall also include any amounts transferred from surplus account to stated capital.

Agreed consideration

The agreed consideration shall be construed to mean the amount received or to be received by the corporation from the subscriber or person to whom the shares are originally issued before deducting the charges and expenses of organization and compensation for the sale or underwriting of its shares.

Stated
capital

The amount of stated capital of a corporation shall not be changed upon conversion of shares, split up or consolidation of shares or otherwise, unless proper proceedings to that end are taken in conformity with this title.

CHAPTER IV.

BY-LAWS.

301. Adoption of by-laws. A corporation may adopt, amend or repeal by-laws either at a meeting by the vote of shareholders entitled to exercise a majority of the voting power, or by the written assent of such shareholders. Until by-laws are adopted by the shareholders, the board of directors may adopt by-laws. The authority to adopt, repeal and amend by-laws may by the vote of shareholders entitled to exercise a majority of the voting power, or by the written assent of such shareholders, be delegated to the board of directors subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such by-laws or to revoke such delegation of authority in like manner.

Adoption of
by-laws.

The by-laws may require the vote or written assent of the shareholders entitled to exercise more than a majority of the voting power, for the amendment and/or repeal thereof or of particular by-laws and the adoption of new by-laws. The power of the shareholders to adopt, repeal or amend by-laws fixing the number of directors may not be delegated to the directors.

302. Certification and inspection of by-laws. Every corporation shall keep in its principal office for the transaction of its business the original or a copy of its by-laws as amended or otherwise altered to date, certified by the secretary, which shall be open to inspection by the shareholders at all reasonable times during office hours.

Certification
and inspection of
by-laws.

303. What may be regulated in by-laws. The by-laws of a corporation may make provisions not in conflict with law or its articles for:

What may be regulated in by-laws.

1. The time, place and manner of calling, conducting and giving notice of shareholders' and directors' meetings. The by-laws may dispense with notice of all regular meetings of shareholders or directors.

2. The requirements for a quorum for a shareholders' meeting, which shall be not less than a majority of the shares entitled to vote in case of a stock corporation.

3. The manner of execution, revocation and use of proxies.

4. The number and qualifications and duties of directors; the time of their annual election; the requirements of a quorum for a directors' meeting, in no case less than one-third of the authorized number of directors nor less than two. The number of directors may be changed by a by-law fixing or changing the number, duly adopted by the shareholders if authority for such by-laws be given in the articles.

5. The appointment and authority of an executive committee and other committees of the board of directors.

6. The appointment, duties, compensation and tenure of office of officers other than directors, and the compensation of directors.

7. Special qualifications of persons who may be shareholders and reasonable restrictions upon the right to transfer or hypothecate shares.

8. The method of publication of notices of meetings of the shareholders or board of directors when publication is required; the mode of determination of shareholders of record; and the making of annual reports and financial statements to the shareholders or dispensing therewith.

9. The issue of certificates for shares prior to full payment.

10. The qualifications of members and different classes of memberships of nonstock corporations, and the property, voting and other rights, interests or privileges of each class.

11. The admission, election, or appointment, suspension or expulsion of members.

12. The transfer, forfeiture and termination of membership, and whether the property interest of members shall cease at their death and the mode of ascertaining the property interest, if any, at death or termination of membership.

13. The time and manner in which profits arising from the business may be divided or distributed among members of nonstock corporations for profit. Cooperative corporations for profit may in their articles or by-laws provide for the distribution of the profits arising from the business in whole or in part among certain classes of persons other than the members or shareholders, if any, and the persons to whom and the manner in which such distribution may be made.

14. The fees of admission, transfer fees, dues and assessments to be paid by members or different classes of members of nonstock corporations and the method of collection. Such dues or assessments or both may be authorized upon all classes of membership alike, or in different amounts or proportions or upon a different basis upon different classes of membership, and memberships of one or more classes may be made exempt from either dues or assessments or both.

The amount and method of collection of such dues or assessments or both may be fixed in the by-laws, or the by-laws may authorize the board of directors to fix the amount thereof from time to time, and make them payable at such times or intervals, and upon such notice, and by such methods as the directors may prescribe. They may be made enforceable by action or by forfeiture of membership, or both, upon reasonable notice.

15. The manner of voting by members of nonstock corporations and whether they have the right of cumulative voting.

16. Any other proper and lawful regulations.

CHAPTER V.

DIRECTORS; MANAGEMENT.

Powers of directors.

305. Powers of directors. Subject to limitations of the articles and of this title as to action to be authorized or approved by the shareholders, all corporate powers shall be exercised by or under authority of, and the business and affairs of every corporation shall be controlled by, a board of not less than three directors who need not be shareholders unless the articles or by-laws so require. Directors named in the articles shall hold office until the next annual meeting and until their successors are elected either at an annual meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose. Directors other than those named in the articles shall be elected annually by the shareholders and shall hold office until their successors are elected.

306. Vacancies in the board of directors. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum, unless it is otherwise provided in the by-laws, and each director so elected shall hold office until his successor is elected at an annual meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose.

Vacancies in the board of directors.

A vacancy or vacancies shall be deemed to exist in case of the death, resignation or removal of any director, or if the shareholders shall increase the authorized number of directors but shall fail at the meeting at which such increase is authorized, or an adjournment thereof, to elect the additional directors so provided for, or in case the shareholders fail at any time to elect the full number of authorized directors.

Vacancies when existing.

The shareholders may at any time elect directors to fill any vacancies not filled by the directors, and may elect the additional directors at the meeting at which an amendment of the articles or by-laws is voted authorizing an increase in the number of directors.

Vacancies how filled.

If any director tender his resignation to the board of directors, the board shall have power to elect a successor to take office at such time as the resignation shall become effective.

Resignations.

No reduction of the number of directors shall have the effect of removing any director prior to the expiration of his term of office.

Directors: reduction.

307. Quorum of directors. A majority of the number of directors as fixed by the articles or the by-laws, shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business unless the by-laws provide that a different number shall constitute a quorum, which in no case shall be less than one-third the fixed number of directors, nor less than two.

Quorum of directors

Every act or decision done or made by a majority of the directors present at a meeting duly held at which a quorum is present, shall be regarded as the act of the board of directors, unless the articles or by-laws require a greater number. In the absence of a quorum a majority of the directors present may adjourn from time to time until the time fixed for the next regular meeting of the board.

307a. Notice of directors' meetings. Notice shall be given of the time and place of directors' meetings as fixed in the by-laws. Unless otherwise provided in the by-laws, all meetings shall be called by the president, or, if he is absent or is unable or refuses to act, by any vice president or by any two directors.

Notice of directors' meetings

Except in the case of regular meetings notice of which has been dispensed with by the by-laws, written notice of the meetings of board of directors shall be delivered personally to the directors, or sent to each director by letter or by telegram, and, unless otherwise provided in the by-laws, at least seven (7) days before the meeting. If in any case the address of a director is not shown on the records or is not readily ascertainable, notice shall be deemed to be given him by mailing notice addressed to him at the city in which the meetings of the directors are regularly held. Notice of adjournment of a meeting need not be given to absent directors, if the time and place are fixed at the meeting adjourned.

Waiver of
notice of directors'
meetings

307b. Waiver of notice of directors' meetings. The transactions of any meeting of the board of directors, however called and noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had at a meeting duly held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present sign a written waiver of notice or a consent to holding such meeting or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Officers.

308. Officers. After their election the directors shall meet and organize by the election of a president, a vice president, a secretary and a treasurer. A corporation may have such other officers as may be deemed expedient, who shall be chosen in such manner and hold their offices for such terms as may be prescribed by the by-laws. Any two or more of such offices, except those of president and secretary, may be held by the same person. Any vice president, assistant treasurer or assistant secretary respectively may exercise any of the powers of the president, the treasurer, or the secretary respectively as provided in the by-laws or directed by the board of directors, and shall perform such other duties as are imposed upon him by the by-laws or the board of directors.

Executive
committee.

The by-laws may provide for the appointment by the board of directors of an executive committee, and other committees and may authorize the board to delegate to the executive committee, subject to the control of the board, any of the powers and authority of the board except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal the by-laws. Any such executive committee shall be composed of members of the board and shall act only in the intervals between meetings of the board and shall be subject at all times to the control of the board of directors.

Place of
meetings

309. Place of directors meetings. Meetings of the board of directors shall be held at the principal office of the corporation or at any place within or without the state designated in the by-laws or designated from time to time by resolution of the board or by written consent of all members of the board. Any meeting shall be valid wherever held, if held by the written consent of all members of the board of directors, given either before or after the meeting and filed with the secretary of the corporation.

310. Removal of directors. (1) The entire board of directors or any individual director may be removed from office by a vote of shareholders holding a majority of the outstanding shares entitled to vote at an election of directors. In case the board or any one or more directors be so removed, new directors may be elected at the same meeting.

Removal of
directors.

Unless the entire board be removed, no individual director shall be removed in case the votes of a sufficient number of shares are cast against the resolution for his removal, which if cumulatively voted at an election of the full board would be sufficient to elect one or more directors.

Removal of individual
directors.

(2) The board of directors may declare vacant the office of a director:

(a) If he be declared of unsound mind by an order of court, or finally convicted of felony;

(b) If within sixty days, or such other time as the by-laws specify, after notice of his election, he does not accept such office either in writing or by attending a meeting of the board of directors and fulfill such other requirements of qualification as the by-laws specify.

(3) The superior court of the county where the principal office is located may at the suit of any shareholder or shareholders holding at least ten per cent of the number of outstanding shares with or without voting rights remove from office any director or directors in case of fraudulent or dishonest acts or gross abuse of authority or discretion with reference to the corporation, and may bar from reelection any director so removed for a period prescribed by the court. The corporation shall be made a party to such actions.

Suit by shareholder.

311. Fiduciary duty of directors. Directors and officers shall exercise their powers in good faith, and with a view to the interests of the corporation.

Fiduciary duty of
directors.

No contract or other transaction between a corporation and one or more of its directors, or between a corporation and any corporation, firm or association in which one or more of its directors are directors or are substantially interested, shall be either void or voidable by reason of the fact that such director or directors are present at the meeting of the board of directors or committee which authorizes or approves such contract or transaction, or that his or their votes are counted for such purpose, if (a) the fact of such participation shall be disclosed or known to the board of directors or committee, and noted in the minutes, and the board or committee shall authorize, approve or ratify such contract or transaction in good faith by a vote sufficient for such purpose without counting the vote or votes of such director or directors; or

Transactions between directors and corporation.

(b) If the fact of such participation shall be disclosed or known to the shareholders, and they approve or ratify such contract or transaction in good faith, by a majority vote of holders of shares entitled to vote; or

(c) If the contract or transaction be as to the corporation just and reasonable at the time it was authorized or approved.

Such interested director or directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at such meeting.

CHAPTER VI.

SHAREHOLDERS' MEETINGS AND VOTING RIGHTS.

Shareholders'
meetings.

312. Shareholders' meetings. Directors of every corporation shall be elected annually at a meeting of the shareholders, known as the annual meeting. Such meeting shall be held at eleven o'clock a.m. on the first Tuesday in April at the principal office of the corporation, unless a different place or time is provided in the by-laws.

When the annual meeting is not held, or the directors are not elected thereat, directors may be elected at a special meeting held for that purpose, and it shall be the duty of the president, vice president or secretary, upon the demand of any shareholder entitled to vote, to call such special meeting.

Special shareholders'
meetings.

313. Special shareholders' meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purpose or purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors, or by any two or more members thereof, or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-tenth of the voting power of the corporation, or by such other officers or persons as the by-laws may authorize.

Upon request in writing by registered mail to the president, vice president or secretary, or delivered to such officers in person, by any persons entitled to call a meeting of shareholders, it shall be the duty of such officer forthwith to cause notice to be given to the shareholders entitled to vote of a meeting to be held at such time as such officer may fix, not less than ten nor more than sixty days after the receipt of such request. If such notice shall not be given within seven days after the date of delivery or date of mailing of such request, the person or persons calling the meeting may fix the time of meeting and give the notice in the manner provided by law or in the by-laws.

Notice of shareholders'
meetings.

314. Notice of shareholders' meetings. Notices of meetings, annual or special, shall be given in writing to shareholders entitled to vote by the secretary or an assistant secretary or other person charged by the by-laws with that duty, or, if there be no such officer, or in case of his neglect or refusal, by any director or shareholder.

A notice may be given by the corporation to any shareholder, either personally or by sending a copy of the notice through the mail or by telegram, charges prepaid, to his address appearing on the books of the corporation or supplied by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder supplies no address, notice shall be deemed to have been given him if mailed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated, or published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county of said principal office.

Notices of all meetings of shareholders shall be sent to each shareholder entitled thereto not less than seven days before such meeting, unless the by-laws provide otherwise.

Notice of any meeting of shareholders shall specify the place, the day and the hour of the meeting, and, in the case of special meetings, the general nature of the business to be transacted.

When a meeting is adjourned for thirty days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given as in the case of an original meeting. Save as aforesaid, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of an adjournment or of the business to be transacted at an adjourned meeting other than by announcement at the meeting at which such adjournment is taken, unless the by-laws otherwise provide.

315. Contested elections. Upon the application of a shareholder of a domestic or foreign corporation aggrieved by the election or appointment of a director at a meeting of shareholders or directors, the superior court of any county where such meeting was held or where the principal office in this state is located, shall have the power to hear and determine the validity of such election or appointment. The court may determine the person entitled to such office, order a new election to be held, or direct such other relief as may be just and proper.

Upon filing the petition, and before any further proceedings are had, the court shall enter an order fixing a date for hearing, which date shall be within five days unless for good cause a later date is fixed, and requiring notice of the date for the hearing and a copy of the petition to be served upon the corporation and upon the adverse party, or those who may be affected, in the manner in which a summons is required to be served, or if the court shall so direct, by registered mail; and the court may make such other or further requirements as to notice as may appear to be proper under the circumstances.

316. Quorum of shareholders. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business unless the by-laws in the case of a nonprofit corporation provide a different number.

Shares, the voting of which at said meeting has been enjoined or which for any reason can not be lawfully voted at said meeting, shall not be counted to make up a quorum for said meeting.

In the absence of a quorum any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted.

The shareholders present at a duly called or held meeting at which a quorum is present may continue to do business until adjournment notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Consent to shareholders' meetings.

317. Consent to shareholders' meetings. The transactions of any meeting of shareholders, however called and noticed, shall be as valid as though had at a meeting duly held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present either in person or by proxy, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the shareholders entitled to vote, not present in person or by proxy, sign a written waiver of notice, or a consent to the holding of such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Any action which, under any provision of this title, may be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if authorized by a writing signed by all of the holders of shares who would be entitled to vote at a meeting for such purpose, and filed with the secretary of the corporation.

Determination of shareholders of record.

318. Determination of shareholders of record. Unless the articles or by-laws otherwise provide, the board of directors may fix a time, in the future, not exceeding thirty days preceding the date of any meeting of shareholders, or the date fixed for the payment of any dividend or distribution, or for the allotment of rights, or when any change or conversion or exchange of shares shall go into effect, as a record date for the determination of the shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at any such meeting or entitled to receive any such dividend or distribution, or any such allotment of rights, or to exercise the rights in respect to any such change, conversion, or exchange of shares, and in such case only shareholders of record on the date so fixed shall be entitled to notice of and to vote at such meeting or to receive such dividend, distribution or allotment of rights, or to exercise such rights, as the case may be, notwithstanding any transfer of any shares on the books of the corporation after any record date fixed as aforesaid. The board of directors may close the books of the corporation against transfers of shares during the whole or any part of such period.

Place of shareholders' meetings.

319. Place of shareholders' meetings. Meetings of the shareholders shall be held at the principal office of the corporation or at any place within or without the state designated in the by-laws or by written consent of all the shareholders entitled to vote thereat, or designated by the board of directors pursuant to authority in the by-laws.

Any meeting shall be valid wherever held if held by the written consent of all the shareholders entitled to vote thereat, given either before or after the meeting and filed with the secretary of the corporation.

Elections—cumulative voting

320. Elections—cumulative voting. Elections for directors need not be by ballot except upon demand made by a shareholder at the election and before the voting begins or unless by the by-laws so required.

Every shareholder entitled to vote at any election for directors of any corporation for profit shall have the right to cumulate his votes and give one candidate a number of votes equal to the number of directors to be elected multiplied by the number of votes to which his shares are entitled, or to distribute his votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

The candidates receiving the highest number of votes up to the number of directors to be elected shall be elected.

The right of cumulative voting for directors shall not extend to members of nonstock corporations or to members or shareholders in cooperative corporations unless it be so provided in their articles or by-laws.

320a. Voting rights. Only persons in whose names shares entitled to vote stand on the stock records of the corporation on the day three days prior to any meeting of shareholders, or, if some other day be fixed for the determination of shareholders of record, then on such other day, shall be entitled to vote at such meeting. In the absence of any contrary provision in the articles or in any statute relating to the election of directors or to other particular matters, each such person shall be entitled to one vote for each of said shares.

Where written consents are given with respect to any shares they shall be given by and accepted from the persons in whose names such shares stand on the books of the corporation at the time such respective consents are given, or by their proxies; provided, that any shareholder giving a written consent, or his proxy, or his transferee or personal representative, or their respective proxies, may revoke the same prior to the time that written consents of the number of shares required to authorize the proposed action have been filed with the secretary of the corporation.

320b. Voting by fiduciaries, corporations, etc.

(1) Shares standing in the name of any person or persons as pledgee, trustee or other fiduciary may be voted and all rights incident thereto may be exercised by such pledgee, trustee or other fiduciary in person or by proxy without proof of authority.

(2) Shares standing in the name of a person adjudged incompetent may be voted and all rights incident thereto may be exercised by his guardian, in person or by proxy, and of a deceased person by his executor or administrator, in person or by proxy.

(3) Shares standing in the name of a minor may be voted and all rights incident thereto may be exercised by his guardian, in person or by proxy, or in the absence of such representation by his guardian, then by such minor in person or by proxy.

(4) Shares standing in the name of a corporation may be voted or represented and all rights incident thereto may be exercised on behalf of such corporation by any officer of such corporation authorized so to do by resolution of its board of directors or by its executive committee or by its by-laws, or by any person authorized so to do by proxy or power of attorney duly executed by the president or vice president and secretary or assistant secretary or by authority of the board of directors.

Voting by joint holders.

320c Voting by joint holders. Shares standing in the names of two or more persons shall be voted or represented in accordance with the vote or consent of the majority of such persons.

If only one of such persons is present in person or by proxy, he shall have the right to vote all such shares, and all of the shares standing in the names of such persons shall be deemed to be represented for the purpose of determining a quorum.

This section shall apply to the voting of shares by two or more administrators, executors, trustees or other fiduciaries, unless the instrument or order of court appointing them shall otherwise direct.

Proxies

321. Proxies. Every person entitled to vote or execute consents shall have the right to do so either in person or by an agent or agents authorized by a written proxy executed by such person or his duly authorized agent and filed with the secretary of the corporation.

Executors, administrators, guardians, trustees or any fiduciary may give proxies, waive notice of and consent to any meeting of shareholders, or authorize by a writing any action which could be taken by shareholders.

Duration of term of proxy.

No proxy shall be valid after the expiration of eleven (11) months from the date of its execution unless the shareholder executing it specifies therein the length of time for which such proxy is to continue in force, which in no case shall exceed seven (7) years from the date of its execution. Any proxy duly executed shall be deemed not to have been revoked, and to be in full force and effect, unless and until an instrument revoking said proxy, or a duly executed proxy bearing a later date, is filed with the secretary of the corporation. Notwithstanding that a valid proxy may be outstanding, the powers of the proxy holder or holders shall be suspended, except in the case of a proxy coupled with an interest, which shall state that fact on its face, if the person or persons executing such proxy shall be present at the meeting and elect to vote in person.

Two or more persons as proxy.

In the event that any instrument of proxy designate two or more persons to act as proxy, then, in the absence of any provision in such proxy to the contrary, such persons shall have and may exercise authority as between themselves and with respect to such shares in the same manner as is provided in this title with respect to situations where shares stand on the records of the corporation in the names of two or more persons.

Death of maker.

A proxy shall not be revoked by the death or incapacity of the maker unless, before the vote is counted or the authority is exercised, written notice of such death or incapacity is given to the corporation.

321a. Voting trusts. Shares of stock in any corporation may be transferred to a trustee or trustees in order to confer upon them the right to vote and otherwise represent such shares. Voting trusts.

A duplicate of the voting trust agreement may be filed in the office of the corporation, and if so filed shall be open to inspection by any shareholder, or holder of a voting trust certificate, or his agent upon the same terms as the stockbooks of the corporation are open to inspection.

If the voting trust agreement be so filed, the corporation shall take notice of its terms and the limitations on the authority of the trustees thereunder.

Any trust, the sole or principal purpose of which is the voting or representing of shares, may be terminated at any time by the holders of a majority in interest of the beneficial interests therein unless otherwise specified therein. No such voting trust shall be made irrevocable for a period of more than twenty-one years.

321b. Inspectors of election. In advance of any meeting of shareholders the board of directors may appoint inspectors of election to act at such meeting or any adjournment or adjournments thereof. Inspectors of election

If inspectors of election be not so appointed the chairman of any such meeting may, and on the request of any shareholder or his proxy, shall make such appointment at the meeting.

The number of inspectors shall be either one or three. If appointed at a meeting on the request of one or more shareholders or proxies the majority of shares present shall determine whether one or three inspectors are to be appointed. Number.

In case any person appointed as inspector fails to appear or fails or refuses to act, the vacancy may be filled by appointment made by the board of directors in advance of the convening of the meeting, or at the meeting by the person or officer acting as chairman. Vacancies

If there be three inspectors of election the decision, act or certificate of a majority shall be effective in all respects as the decision, act or certificate of all.

The inspectors of election shall determine the number of shares outstanding and the voting power of each, the shares represented at the meeting, the existence of a quorum, the authenticity, validity and effect of proxies, receive votes, ballots, or consents, hear and determine all challenges and questions in any way arising in connection with the right to vote, count and tabulate all votes, or consents, determine the result, and do such acts as may be proper to conduct the election or vote with fairness to all shareholders. Duties.

The inspectors of election shall perform their duties impartially, in good faith, to the best of their ability and as expeditiously as is practical.

Report On request of the chairman of the meeting or of any shareholder or his proxy the inspectors shall make a report in writing of any challenge or question or matter determined by them and execute a certificate of any fact found by them. Any report or certificate made by them shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

CHAPTER VII.

LIABILITY IN CONNECTION WITH THE ISSUE OF SHARES.

Subscription liability to corporation

322. Subscription liability to corporation.

Subscriber.

(1) Every subscriber to shares and every person to whom shares are originally issued shall be liable to the corporation for the full consideration agreed to be paid for such shares.

Transferee.

(2) Any transferee of shares who has acquired such shares in good faith, without knowledge that they were not paid in full or to the extent stated in the certificate for such shares, shall not be liable for any amount beyond that shown by such certificate to be unpaid on the shares represented thereby; and any holder who derives his title through such a transferee and who is not himself a party to any fraud affecting the issuance of such shares shall have all the rights of such former holder.

(3) Every transferee of partly paid shares who acquired them under a certificate showing the fact of part payment, and every transferee of such shares (other than a transferee who derives title through a holder in good faith without knowledge, and who is not a party to any fraud affecting the issuance of such shares) who acquired them with actual knowledge that the shares were not paid in full or to the extent stated in the certificate therefor, shall be personally liable to the corporation for calls made or for installments of the amount unpaid becoming due until he transfers them to one who becomes liable therefor.

Discharge of transferor.

(4) When a shareholder makes a transfer of shares in good faith, which is duly registered on the corporate books, to one who becomes liable therefor, he is thereby discharged from liability to the corporation for the portion of the subscription price which remains uncalled for at the time of registration, unless it is otherwise provided in the certificate or agreed by contract in writing. After a transfer has been registered there shall be no lien upon the shares for calls already made or installments of the price due at the time of transfer and registration, except as reserved in the certificate.

This section shall not be construed to release the transferor of shares from liability to the corporation under written contracts for the payment of the subscription or purchase price of the shares.

Subrogation of shareholders.

322a. Subrogation of shareholders. Any shareholder who because of his proportionate stockholder's liability under statutes heretofore in effect and not in discharge of his obligation to pay the full consideration agreed to be paid for his shares, has heretofore made or shall hereafter make any payment in discharge in whole or in part of any debt or liability of the corporation shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to the claim of the creditor against the corporation.

323. Liability of fiduciaries and pledgees. Except when he has voluntarily invested the estate or trust funds in such shares, no person holding shares as pledgee, executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, receiver, or in any representative or fiduciary capacity, shall be personally liable as a shareholder by reason of so holding such shares for the subscription price of his shares, or otherwise, or for any call for the unpaid balance of the subscription price, but the estate and funds in the hands of such fiduciary or representative shall be liable, and the shares shall be subject to sale therefor.

Liability of
and pledgees.

324. Calls and collection of unpaid subscription price. When no provision as to the time or times of payment of the consideration for the issue of shares is made in the agreement of subscription or purchase, shares shall be paid for on the call of the board of directors or of any receiver or any trustee in bankruptcy of the corporation. Thirty days' notice of the amount called and of the time and place of payment shall be given either personally, or by registered mail addressed to each shareholder at his last address, as it appears on the books of the corporation, and if it does not so appear, at the place where the principal office of the corporation is located. When any shareholder fails to pay any installment of the subscription price or any call upon his shares which he is obligated to pay, at the time when such payment is due, the corporation, its receiver or its trustee in bankruptcy may collect the amount due by action, or by sale or forfeiture as in case of assessments upon fully paid shares.

Calls and collection of unpaid
price.

325. Liability to creditors on partly paid shares. No action shall be brought by or on behalf of any creditor to reach and apply the liability, if any, of a shareholder to the corporation to pay the amount due on his shares unless final judgment shall have been rendered in favor of such creditor against the corporation and execution returned unsatisfied in whole or in part, or unless such proceedings would be useless.

Liability to creditors on partly paid
shares

All creditors of the corporation, with or without reducing their claims to judgment, may intervene in any such creditor's action to reach and apply unpaid subscriptions, and all or any shareholders who hold partly paid shares may be joined in such action and several judgments may be rendered for and against the parties to said action or in favor of a receiver for the benefit of the respective parties thereto. All amounts paid by any shareholder in such action shall be credited on the unpaid balance due the corporation upon his shares.

Creditors'
intervention

325a. Remedies for fraud. Nothing in this title shall be construed as in derogation of any rights or remedies which any creditor or shareholder may have, against any promoter, shareholder, director, officer or the corporation because of participation in any fraud or illegality practiced upon him by any of such persons or by the corporation in connection with the issue or sale of shares or other securities; or in derogation of any rights which the corporation may have by rescission, cancellation or otherwise because of any fraud or illegality practiced on it by any of such persons in connection with the issue or sale of shares or other securities.

Remedies
for fraud

CHAPTER VIII.

CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS OF SHARES.

Certificates for shares.

326. Certificates for shares. All stock corporations must issue certificates for shares, when fully paid, which shall state:

Contents

(1) The name of the registered holder of the shares represented thereby;

(2) The number, designation, if any, and class or series of shares represented thereby;

(3) The par value, if any, of the shares represented thereby, or a statement that such shares are without par value;

(4) If the corporation is authorized to issue shares of more than one class or series a general statement of the rights, preferences and restrictions granted to or imposed upon the shares of all classes or series or a summary thereof, with a reference to the articles therefor, or a statement of the authority of the board of directors to fix the preferences of classes or series of shares not yet issued;

(5) If redeemable, a statement of that fact and the redemption price;

(6) If convertible, a general statement of the essential terms and period for conversion;

(7) If the shares are subject to liens or restrictions upon transfer or the voting power the fact shall be indicated;

(8) If the shares are assessable, the fact shall be plainly stated on the face of the certificate.

Transferee: rights as determined by certificate.

Subject to the provisions of sections 322, 330.15 and 334a of this title no restriction of the right to transfer shares stated in the articles or by-laws, and no power of assessment, and no liens on shares for assessments or for the unpaid subscription price or other lien in favor of the corporation, shall be effective against a transferee of such shares unless stated on the face of the certificate.

Certificate: signatures on.

Every certificate for shares issued by a corporation must be signed by the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary, or must be authenticated by facsimiles of the signatures of its president and secretary or by a facsimile of the signature of its president and the written signature of its secretary or an assistant secretary. Before it becomes effective every certificate for shares authenticated by a facsimile of a signature must be countersigned by a transfer agent or transfer clerk and must be registered by an incorporated bank or trust company, either domestic or foreign, as registrar of transfers.

Death of signer.

In case any officer or officers who shall have signed, or whose facsimile signature shall have been written, printed or stamped on any certificate or certificates for shares, shall cease to be such officer or officers of such corporation, because of death, resignation or otherwise, before such certificate or certificates shall have been delivered by such corporation, such certificate or certificates shall nevertheless be conclusively deemed to have been adopted by such corporation by the use and delivery thereof and shall be as effective in all respects as though signed by a duly elected, qualified and authorized officer or officers, provided it is or they are countersigned and registered as above provided.

326a. Certificates for partly paid shares. Corporations may provide in their by-laws for issuing certificates prior to full payment under such restrictions as their by-laws may provide with respect to the transfer of such partly paid shares on the books of the corporation. The certificates shall state the amount remaining unpaid and the terms of payment thereof.

Certificates for partly paid shares

327. Transfer on the books. Upon surrender to the secretary or transfer agent of the corporation of a certificate for shares duly endorsed or accompanied by proper evidence of succession, assignment or authority to transfer, it shall be the duty of the corporation to issue a new certificate to the person entitled thereto, cancel the old certificate and record the transaction upon its books.

Transfer on the books

328. Proof of genuineness of transfer. When a transfer of shares on the books is requested and there is a reasonable doubt as to the rights of the person seeking such transfer, the corporation or its transfer agent, before entering the transfer of the shares on its books or issuing any certificate therefor, may require from such person reasonable proof of his rights, and, if there remain a reasonable doubt in respect thereto, may refuse a transfer unless such person shall give adequate security, or a bond of indemnity executed by a corporate surety or by two individual sureties, satisfactory to the corporation as to form, amount and responsibility of sureties. If not satisfactory to the corporation, the surety or sureties shall justify before a judge of any court of record in the county where the transfer is sought and he shall determine the amount of the security or bond, and the responsibility or sufficiency of the sureties, after opportunity has been given the corporation to examine the surety or sureties as to their financial responsibility. The bond shall be conditioned to protect the corporation, its officers and/or its transfer agent or agents and/or registrar or registrars, against any loss, damage, expense or other liability to the owner of the shares by reason of the registration of the transfer.

genuineness of transfer

Bond

If any such proof, security or bond be not furnished when required, as herein provided, neither the corporation nor any officer thereof shall be liable for refusing to enter the transfer on the books of the corporation.

328a. Adverse claims to shares. If shares standing in the name of any person be claimed by a third person the corporation may nevertheless transfer the shares on its books at the instance of the one presenting the certificate therefor, duly endorsed by the registered holder, without liability to the adverse claimant, unless the adverse claimant shall give written notice of his claim, and unless within five days after giving such notice such claimant shall give adequate security or bond of indemnity, executed by a corporate surety or two individual sureties, satisfactory to the corporation as to form, amount and responsibility of sureties. If not satisfactory to the corporation the surety or sureties shall justify before a judge of a court of record of the county where the transfer is sought and he shall determine the amount of the security or bond, and the responsibility or sufficiency of the sureties, after opportunity has been given the corporation and the person demanding the transfer to examine the sureties. The bond shall be conditioned to protect the corporation, its officers, transfer agents and registrars, and the record holder, if other than the claimant, and the person demanding the transfer, against damage, expenses or other liability by reason of the refusal to make the transfer. The adverse claimant shall commence an action within sixty days to establish his rights in such shares or the certificate therefor. The corporation, its officers and transfer agents shall be exempt from liability to an adverse claimant who fails to give the written notice or the security or bond or commence an action as provided in this section, if the corporation, its officers and/or transfer agent make a transfer at the instance of the holder of a certificate duly endorsed.

Transfers by trustees.

328b. Transfers by trustees. Whenever certificates for shares or other securities of a corporation are to be or have been issued or transferred to a person or corporation as trustee on the books or records of the corporation, whether or not such certificates or other securities or the instrument of transfer describe the trust or identify any beneficiary, it shall be presumed in favor of such corporation and its transfer agent that such trustee has the power to accept and transfer title to such certificates or other securities and there shall be no duty upon the corporation or its registrar or transfer agent to inquire into or determine the existence or validity of any trust or the terms thereof, or whether the trustee is committing a breach of obligation or exceeding his authority. The corporation shall be liable for registering a transfer of such certificates or other securities only if registration is made with actual knowledge of a breach of trust or its invalidity or if it has been enjoined therefrom by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Transfers by married women

328c. Transfers by married women. Shares of stock in domestic or foreign corporations standing on the books of a corporation in the name of a married woman may be transferred by her, her agent or her agents, without the signature of her husband in the same manner as if she were unmarried, and, likewise, dividends may be paid to her, and she may enjoy and exercise all the rights of a shareholder.

328d. Transfers to and by foreign executors, administrators and guardians. If a certificate for shares or a registered bond or other security standing in the name of a deceased person, minor ward, or incompetent, not a resident of this state, is presented for transfer, accompanied by letters testamentary, or of administration, or of guardianship, issued by a court of the decedent's or the ward's domicile, or a certified copy thereof, together with such other instrument or order of court or certified copy thereof as may be required under the law of the decedent's or ward's domicile to authorize a transfer, the shares or bond or other security shall be transferred to the executor or administrator or guardian, or at his order, in pursuance of his authority to make transfers, until there shall be filed with the corporation or its transfer agent a certified copy of an order appointing an ancillary or local executor, administrator or guardian in this state.

Transfers to and by foreign executors, administrators and guardians

No such transfer shall be made except upon the written consent of the state controller or person by him authorized to issue such consent under the inheritance tax laws of this state.

Consent of state controller

328e. Transfers by minors. A corporation shall not be or become liable to a minor in whose name shares are of record on its books because of their transfer on its books at the instance of such minor or the recognition of or dealing with such minor as a competent shareholder, whether or not such corporation shall have had notice, actual or constructive, of the nonage of such minor.

Transfers by minors

329. Lost or destroyed bonds. Whenever a bond, debenture, equipment trust certificate or other security of a domestic corporation or of any foreign corporation doing business in this state has been lost or destroyed, the owner thereof may bring an action against such corporation and all known claimants in the superior court of the county in which is located its principal office or place of business, for the purpose of obtaining a new or duplicate bond or instrument.

Lost or destroyed bonds.

The plaintiff must set forth in a verified complaint (1) the facts and circumstances relating to the loss or destruction of the bond or instrument; (2) that he has not assigned, indorsed, transferred, hypothecated or in any way disposed of said bond or instrument except to a party defendant; (3) that he does not know of any person, firm or corporation that claims any interest in said bond or instrument, or may claim one, who is not specifically named as a defendant.

Complaint

Summons must be issued and served on all defendants as in other civil actions. If anyone appears and answers or intervenes in the action the trial must proceed as in other civil cases and the court must enter such judgment as from the facts established may be proper; but if no one appears within the time allowed by law after the service of such summons the court must hear such evidence as may be offered in support of the allegations of the complaint and make and file its decision thereon.

Summons

New bond The court shall order such corporation, upon payment to it of all costs incurred by it (including the expenses of the execution and issue of the duplicate bond or other instrument), and without costs against the corporation or mortgagee or trustee, to issue to the plaintiff a new or duplicate bond or instrument upon the said plaintiff giving adequate security or an indemnity bond to the said corporation, its registrar, and the said mortgagee or trustee, with sureties approved by the court, against damage, expense or other liability which may be suffered by them by reason of the issuance of said duplicate instrument or by the original instrument still remaining outstanding.

Uniform stock transfer act. 330. Uniform stock transfer act. Sections 330.1 to 330.22, both inclusive, are herein designated as "Uniform stock transfer act," and wherever in said sections reference is made to "the transfer act," said reference shall be deemed to refer to such "Uniform stock transfer act."

Certificates transfer of title. 330.1. How title to certificates and shares may be transferred. Title to a certificate and to the shares represented thereby can be transferred only—

Indorsed certificate (a) By delivery of the certificate indorsed either in blank or to a specified person by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby; or

Certificate and assignment. (b) By delivery of the certificate and a separate document containing a written assignment of the certificate, or a power of attorney to sell, assign or transfer the same or the shares represented thereby, signed by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby. Such assignment or power of attorney may be either in blank or to a specified person; or

Indorsement by trustee, etc. (c) By delivery of the certificate with an assignment indorsed thereon or in a separate instrument signed by the trustee in bankruptcy, receiver, guardian, executor, administrator or other person duly authorized by law to transfer the certificate on behalf of the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby.

The provisions of this section shall control although the charter or articles of incorporation or by-laws of the corporation issuing the certificate, or the certificate itself, provide that the shares represented thereby shall be transferable only on the books of the corporation or shall be registered by a registrar or transferred by a transfer agent.

Powers of representatives. 330.2. Powers of representatives. Nothing in the transfer act shall be construed as enlarging or diminishing the powers of an infant or other person lacking full legal capacity, or of a trustee, executor or administrator, guardian, trustee in bankruptcy, or other fiduciary, to make a valid indorsement, assignment or power of attorney.

Registered holder. 330.3. Corporation not forbidden to treat registered holder as owner. Nothing in the transfer act shall be construed as forbidding a corporation—

(a) To recognize the exclusive right of a person registered on its books as the owner of shares to receive dividends and to vote as such owner; or

(b) To hold liable for calls and assessments a person registered on its books as the owner of shares.

330.4. Title derived from certificate extinguishes title derived from a separate document. The title of a transferee of a certificate under a power of attorney or assignment not written upon the certificate, and the title of any person claiming under such transferee, shall cease and determine if, at any time prior to the surrender of the certificate to the corporation issuing it, another person, for value, in good faith, and without notice of the prior transfer, shall purchase and obtain delivery of such certificate with the indorsement of the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner thereof, or shall purchase and obtain delivery of such certificate and the written assignment or power of attorney of such person, though contained in a separate document.

Title derived from certificate effect.

330.5. Who may deliver a certificate. The delivery of a certificate to transfer title in accordance with the provisions of section 330.1 of the transfer act is effectual, except as provided in section 330.7 of the transfer act though made by one having no right of possession and having no authority from the owner of the certificate or from the person purporting to transfer the title.

Who may deliver a certificate.

330.6. Indorsement effectual in spite of fraud, duress, mistake, revocation, death, incapacity or lack of consideration or authority. The indorsement of a certificate by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby is effectual except as provided in section 330.7, though the indorser or transferor—

Effect of indorsement.

(a) Was induced by fraud, duress or mistake to make the indorsement or delivery; or

(b) Has revoked the delivery of the certificate, or the authority given by the indorsement or delivery of the certificate; or

(c) Has died or become legally incapacitated after the indorsement, whether before or after the delivery of the certificate; or

(d) Has received no consideration.

330.7. Rescission of transfer. If the indorsement or delivery of a certificate—

Rescission of transfer.

(a) Was procured by fraud or duress; or

(b) Was made under such mistake as to make the indorsement or delivery inequitable; or

If the delivery of a certificate was made—

(c) Without authority from the owner; or

(d) After the owner's death or legal incapacity, the possession of the certificate may be reclaimed and the transfer thereof rescinded, unless—

(1) The certificate has been transferred to a purchaser for value, in good faith, without notice of any facts making the transfer wrongful; or

(2) The injured person has elected to waive the injury or has been guilty of laches in endeavoring to enforce his rights.

Any court of appropriate jurisdiction may enforce specifically such right to reclaim the possession of the certificate or to rescind the transfer thereof and, pending litigation, may enjoin the further transfer of the certificate or impound it.

Effect of rescission on subsequent transfer.

330.8. Rescission of transfer of certificate does not invalidate subsequent transfer by transferee in possession. Although the transfer of a certificate or of shares represented thereby has been rescinded or set aside, nevertheless, if the transferee has possession of the certificate or of a new certificate representing part or the whole of the same shares of stock, a subsequent transfer of such certificate by the transferee, mediately or immediately, to a purchaser for value in good faith, without notice of any facts making the transfer wrongful, shall give such purchaser an indefeasible right to the certificate and the shares represented thereby.

Unindorsed
effect of delivery.

330.9. Delivery of unindorsed certificates imposes obligation to indorse. The delivery of a certificate by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner thereof, without the indorsement requisite for the transfer of the certificate and the shares represented thereby, but with intent to transfer such certificate or shares, shall impose an obligation, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, upon the person so delivering, to complete the transfer by making the necessary indorsement. The transfer shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. This obligation may be specifically enforced.

Ineffectual transfer:
effect.

330.10. Ineffectual attempt to transfer amounts to a promise to transfer. An attempted transfer of title to a certificate or to the shares represented thereby, without delivery of the certificate, shall have the effect of a promise to transfer, and the obligation, if any, imposed by such promise shall be determined by the law governing the formation and performance of contracts.

Warranties on sale of certificate

330.11. Warranties on sale of certificate. A person who, for value, transfers a certificate, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a certificate, unless a contrary intention appears, warrants—

- (a) That the certificate is genuine;
- (b) That he has a legal right to transfer it; and
- (c) That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the certificate or show that the certificate has been illegally issued.

In the case of an assignment of a claim secured by a certificate, the liability of the assignor upon such warranty shall not exceed the amount of the claim.

Pledgee,
etc., of certificate:
payments to.

330.12. No warranty implied from accepting payment of a debt. A mortgagee, pledgee, or other holder for security of a certificate who, in good faith, demands or receives payment of the debt for which such certificate is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt, or from any other person, shall not by so doing be deemed to represent or to warrant the genuineness of such certificate, or the value of the shares represented thereby.

330.13. Issue of new certificates. Except where a certificate is lost or destroyed, a corporation shall not be compelled to issue a new certificate for shares until the old certificate is surrendered to it. Issue of new certificates.

330.15. Effect of liens. A corporation shall be under no obligation to transfer shares upon its books or to issue a new certificate for shares which are subject to the lien of an attachment or execution unless and until the lien shall be discharged, but the corporation may in its discretion issue a new certificate with the notation thereon of the fact that it is claimed that the shares are subject to the lien of an attachment or execution. Effect of liens

A corporation may require as a condition of the transfer of shares upon its books the payment of all calls previously made or installments of the purchase or subscription price due at the time of registration, if such calls or installments are a lien thereon effective as against the person demanding registration, and of all assessments which have been levied and made a lien upon such shares.

330.16. Alteration of certificate does not divest title to shares. The alteration of a certificate, whether fraudulent or not, and by whomsoever made, shall not deprive the owner of his title to the certificate and the shares originally represented thereby, and the transfer of such a certificate shall convey to the transferee a good title to such certificate and to the shares originally represented thereby. Alteration of certificate.

330.17. Voluntary replacement of lost or destroyed instruments. Every corporation may issue a new certificate for shares or a new bond, debenture, equipment trust certificate or other security in the place of any such instrument theretofore issued by it, or by any corporation of which it is the lawful successor, alleged to have been lost or destroyed, and the directors authorizing the issue of such new instrument may, in their discretion, require the owner of the lost or destroyed instrument, or his legal representative, to give the corporation a bond or other security, in an adequate amount, as indemnity against any claim that may be made against such corporation. A new instrument may be issued without requiring any bond or security when, in the judgment of the directors, it is proper to do so. Lost instruments: voluntary replacement.

330.18. Compulsory replacement of lost certificates. Whenever a certificate for shares issued by a domestic corporation or by a foreign corporation maintaining an office or agency for the transfer of shares in this state has been lost or destroyed, the owner thereof may bring an action against such corporation and all known claimants in the superior Same compulsory replacement court of the county in which is located its principal office, for the purpose of obtaining a new certificate.

Complaint. The plaintiff must set forth in a verified complaint (1) the facts and circumstances relating to the loss or destruction of the certificate; (2) that he has not assigned, indorsed, transferred, hypothecated or in any way disposed of said certificate except to a party defendant; (3) that he does not know of any person, firm or corporation that claims any interest in said certificate, or may claim one, who is not named specifically as a defendant; (4) a description of the certificate, giving so far as known the number of the certificate and the number of shares, and the name of any person in whose name the same may be registered.

Summons Summons must be issued and served on all defendants as in other civil actions. If anyone appears and answers or intervenes in the action the trial must proceed as in other civil cases and the court must enter such judgment as from the facts established may be proper; but if no one appears within the time allowed by law after the service of such summons the court must hear such evidence as may be offered in support of the allegations of the complaint and make and file its decision thereon.

New certificate The court may order the issuance of a new certificate and the cancellation of the one lost or destroyed.

Bond The court shall order, as a condition of the judgment, that the plaintiff shall deposit adequate security, or deliver to the court such bond, approved by the court, as will be sufficient to protect and indemnify the corporation, its transfer agents and registrars, and also any person having any rights under the certificate alleged to be lost or destroyed, against loss, expense or liability.

Effect of replacement. The issue of a new certificate, under an order of court as provided in this section, shall not relieve the corporation from liability in damages to a person to whom the original certificate has been or shall be transferred for value without notice of the proceedings or of the issuance of the new certificate or the fact that he has purchased a lost certificate.

Rights of holder of original certificate. The sole right and remedy against the corporation of any person claiming rights under the old certificate canceled by decree of the court shall be a claim for damages for conversion as of the date of the issue of the new certificate, and in an amount not greater than the amount of any such bond or security, which claim shall be barred at the expiration of the period prescribed for the commencement of an action for conversion of personal property.

Definition of indorsement 330.19. Definition of indorsement. A certificate is indorsed when an assignment or a power of attorney to sell, assign or transfer the certificate or the shares represented thereby is written on the certificate and signed by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby, or his legal representative, or when the signature of such person is written, without more, upon the back of the certificate. In any of such cases a certificate is indorsed though it has not been delivered.

330.20. Definition of person appearing to be the owner of certificate. The person to whom a certificate was originally issued is the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner thereof and of the shares represented thereby, until and unless he indorses the certificate to another specified person, and thereupon such other specified person is the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner thereof until and unless he also indorses the certificate to another specified person. Subsequent special indorsements may be made with like effect.

Apparent owner defined.

330.21. Other definitions.

Other definitions.

(a) In the transfer act, unless the context or subject-matter otherwise requires—

“Certificate” means a certificate for shares in a domestic or foreign corporation.

“Delivery” means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another.

“Person” includes a corporation or partnership or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

“To purchase” includes to take as mortgagee or as pledgee.

“Purchaser” includes mortgagee and pledgee.

“Shares” mean a share or shares of stock in a domestic or foreign corporation.

“State” includes state, territory, district and insular possession of the United States.

“Transfer” means transfer of legal title.

“Title” means legal title, and does not include a merely equitable or beneficial ownership or interest.

“Value” is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or preexisting obligation, whether for money or not, constitutes value where a certificate is taken either in satisfaction thereof or as security therefor.

(b) A thing is done “in good faith,” within the meaning of this act, when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not.

330.22 The application of the transfer act. The provisions of the transfer act shall apply to certificates for shares whether issued before or after the taking effect of the transfer act, and to transfers made in this state whether of certificates for shares of domestic or foreign corporations, and also, so far as applicable, to voting trust certificates and stock purchase or subscription warrants which shall be transferable in the same manner and with the same effect as certificates for shares.

Application of transfer act

330.23. Transfers pursuant to judgment or court order. The setting aside, modification, or reversal of a judgment or order of court pursuant to, and in accordance with which, a transfer of a certificate for shares or a registered bond or other security has been registered by a corporation or its transfer agent shall not subject the corporation, its transfer agent or registrar to any liability whatsoever, unless, prior to the registration of the new certificate, registered bond or other security, written notice was served upon the corporation or its transfer agent in the manner provided for the service of summons in section 411 of the Code of Civil Procedure, stating that an appeal or other further court proceeding had been or was to be taken from or with regard to such judgment or order of court. After the service of such notice neither the corporation nor its transfer agent shall have any duty to register the requested transfer or deliver the new certificate, or registered bond or other security until the corporation or its transfer agent shall have been given a certificate of the county clerk of the county in which such judgment or order of court was given or made, showing that the judgment or order of court has become final.

Transfers pursuant to judgment or court order.

Mutual
companies

330.24. Mutual water companies. Any corporation organized for, or engaged in, the business of selling, distributing, supplying or delivering water for irrigation purposes, or for domestic use, may, in its by-laws, provide that water shall only be so sold, distributed, supplied or delivered to owners of its shares, and that such shares shall be appurtenant to certain lands when the same are described in the certificate issued therefor; and when such certificate shall be so issued and a certified copy of such by-laws recorded in the office of the county recorder in the county where such lands are situated the shares of stock shall become appurtenant to the said lands and shall only be transferred therewith.

CHAPTER IX.

ASSESSMENTS.

Assessments,
how levied

331. Assessments, how levied. (1) Shares issued by stock corporations are not assessable except as provided in this article. If the articles expressly confer such authority upon the corporation or the board of directors, and subject to any limitations therein contained, the directors may in their discretion, levy and collect assessments upon all shares of any or all classes made subject to assessment by the articles. This authority is additional to that of making calls for the unpaid subscription price of shares.

Nonstock
corporations

(2) Nonstock corporations may levy dues or assessments or both upon their members, if such authority is conferred either by the articles or by their by-laws, and subject to any limitations therein contained. Such dues or assessments or both may be levied upon all classes of membership alike, or in different amounts or proportions or upon a different basis upon different classes of membership and memberships of one or more classes may be made exempt from either dues or assessments or both, in the manner and to the extent provided either in the articles or the by-laws.

Amount
of levy

The amount of the levy and method of collection of such dues or assessments or both may fixed in the articles or by-laws, or the articles or by-laws may authorize the board of directors to fix the amount thereof from time to time, and make them payable at such times or intervals, and upon such notice, and by such methods of collection as the directors may prescribe. They may be made enforceable by action or by forfeiture of membership, or both, upon reasonable notice.

(3) Any corporation organized for or engaged in the business of selling, distributing, supplying or delivering water for irrigation purposes or domestic use, and not as a public utility and which provides in its by-laws that water shall only be sold, distributed, supplied, or delivered to owners of its shares and that such shares shall be appurtenant to certain lands described in the certificate issued therefor, may levy assessments upon its shares, whether or not fully paid, unless otherwise provided in its articles or by-laws. If any shares of any such corporation which have been made appurtenant to any land as provided in this code, become delinquent in the payment of assessments, the right to receive water or dividends thereon may be denied, and they may be sold and transferred without said lands as if not appurtenant thereto, and the purchaser shall acquire the right to receive water as provided in the articles or by-laws of the corporation, or they may be forfeited to the corporation.

332. Resolution levying assessment, what to specify. Every resolution of a stock corporation levying an assessment must specify the amount thereof, to whom and where payable; fix a day, at least ten days subsequent to the actual service or publication of the assessment notice on which the unpaid assessments shall be delinquent, not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the time of passing the resolution levying the assessment; and a day for the sale of delinquent shares not less than fifteen nor more than sixty days from the date the shares become delinquent. Said resolution shall also fix the hour and place of sale which must be in the county where the principal office of the corporation is located.

Resolution
levying assessment, what to specify.

333. Notice of levy and sale. Upon the passing of the resolution levying an assessment by a stock corporation, the secretary shall cause to be personally served or to be mailed and published a notice thereof in substantially the following form:

Notice of levy and sale

(Name of corporation in full. Location of principal office.)

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the board of directors held on the (date) an assessment of (amount) per share was levied upon the shares of the corporation payable (to whom and where). Any shares upon which this assessment remains unpaid on the (day fixed) will be delinquent, and unless payment is made in the meantime, the said shares, or so many of said shares as may be necessary, will be sold at the (particular place) on the (date) at (the hour) of such day, to pay the delinquent assessment, together with five per cent penalty. (Name of secretary with location of office.)

334. Service of notice. The notice shall be personally served upon each shareholder, or, in lieu of personal service shall be sent through the mail addressed to each shareholder at his last address, as it appears on the books of the corporation, and if it does not appear, at the place where the principal

of notice

office of the corporation is located, and shall be published once in some newspaper of general circulation published at the city or town of the principal office of the corporation. If there be no newspaper published in the city of the principal office of the corporation, then the publication must be made in some newspaper of the county if there be one, and if there be none then in some newspaper published in an adjoining county.

Lien for assessments

334a. Lien for assessments. The liability for an assessment shall attach and the assessment shall be a lien upon the shares assessed from the time of personal service or the publication of the notice of assessment, unless the articles or by-laws provide for such liability and/or lien from the time of the resolution levying the assessment. A transfer of the shares on the books after the lien of an assessment has attached shall be a waiver of such lien.

Extension of time of delinquent stock sale;
notice.

335. Extension of time of delinquent stock sale; notice. The date of sale of delinquent shares fixed in any resolution levying an assessment may be extended from time to time for not more than thirty days at a time by order of the directors entered on the records of the corporation, or when delinquent sale is restrained by order of a court. Notice of such extension shall be given by announcement by the secretary, assistant secretary, or other person authorized to conduct such sale, made at the time of sale last theretofore fixed.

Sale.

336. Sale. At the place and time appointed in the notice of levy and sale, the assistant secretary, secretary or any officer or an attorney of the corporation, shall, unless otherwise ordered by the directors, sell or cause to be sold to the highest bidder for cash so many shares of each shareholder of the assessed shares of stock as may be necessary to pay the assessment and charges thereon according to the notice; if payment is made after delinquency and before the sale, the shareholder shall pay a penalty of five per cent in addition to the assessment. The person offering at such sale to pay the assessment and penalty for the smallest number of shares is the highest bidder, and the stock purchased must be transferred to him on the stock books of the corporation on the payment of the assessment and penalty. No corporation shall be required to accept an offer for a fraction of a share. If no bidder can be found to pay the amount due on the shares, together with the penalty of five per cent thereof, the shares shall be declared forfeited to the corporation in satisfaction of the assessment and penalty thereon, and shall have the status of authorized but unissued shares. The only remedy for the collection of any assessment on fully paid shares shall be by sale or forfeiture unless the remedy by action is expressly authorized in the articles but calls or installments of the unpaid balance of the subscription price may be collected when due either by action or, after the notice hereinbefore provided, by sale or forfeiture.

Surrender of old
certificate

337. Surrender of old certificate. After a sale or forfeiture of shares for nonpayment of an assessment or of a call for the unpaid balance of the subscription price, the delinquent shareholder shall surrender his certificate for shares to the corporation for cancellation. This duty may be enforced by order or decree of court and the delinquent shareholder shall be liable for damages to the corporation for failure to surrender the certificate for cancellation upon demand without good cause or excuse.

338. Assessments shall not be invalidated. No assessment is invalidated by a failure to make publication of the notice hereinbefore provided for, nor by the nonperformance of any act required in order to enforce the payment of the same; but in case of any substantial error or omission in the course of proceedings for collection, all previous proceedings, except the levying of the assessment, are void, and publication must be begun anew.

Assessments shall not be invalidated.

339. Action for recovery of stock, and limitation thereof. No action shall be sustained to recover stock sold for delinquent assessments, upon the ground of irregularity in the assessment, irregularity or defect of the notice of sale, or defect or irregularity in the sale, unless the party seeking to maintain such action first pays or tenders to the corporation, or the party holding the stock sold, the sum for which the same was sold, together with all subsequent assessments which may have been paid thereon and interest on such sums from the time they were paid; and no such action shall be sustained unless the same is commenced by the filing of a complaint and the issuing of a summons thereon within six months after such sale was made.

Action for recovery of stock, and limitation thereof.

340. Affidavit of publication. Certificate of sale. The publication of notice required by this chapter may be proved by the affidavit of the printer, foreman, or principal clerk of the newspaper in which the same was published; and the certificate of the secretary or assistant secretary is prima facie evidence of the time and place of sale and any postponement thereof, of the quantity and particular description of the stock sold, and to whom, and for what price and of the fact of the purchase money being paid. The certificate must be filed in the office of the corporation, and copies of the same, certified by the secretary thereof, are prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.

Affidavit of publication. Certificate of sale.

CHAPTER X.

POWERS.

341. Powers of corporations. Every corporation heretofore or hereafter organized has power:

Powers of corporations.

- (1) To sue and be sued in any court;
- (2) To adopt, use and at will alter a corporate seal, but failure to affix a seal shall not affect the validity of any instrument;
- (3) To acquire, hold, lease, encumber, convey or otherwise dispose of real and personal property within or without the state and to take real and/or personal property by will, gift or bequest;

(4) To appoint such subordinate officers or agents as the business of the corporation may require, and to allow them suitable compensation;

(5) When authorized in its articles, to issue shares, and to sell such shares for the nonpayment of assessments;

(6) To enter into any obligations or contracts or to do any acts incidental to the transaction of its business, or expedient for the attainment of the purposes of the corporation;

(7) To make by-laws;

(8) To borrow money and to issue bonds, debentures, notes, and evidences of indebtedness, and to secure the payment or performance of its obligations by mortgage, deed of trust, pledge or otherwise;

(9) To qualify to do business in any other state, territory, dependency or foreign country and to conduct business within or without the state;

(10) To acquire, subscribe for, hold, own, pledge and otherwise dispose of and vote shares of stock, bonds and securities of any other corporation, domestic or foreign.

No corporation shall be deemed to possess the power to issue bills, notes or evidences of debt for circulation as money.

Purchase
by a corporation of its own shares.

342. Purchase by a corporation of its own shares. No corporation shall purchase or agree to purchase, or cause or permit any corporation which it controls to purchase or agree to purchase, or employ or assist any person or corporation to purchase or agree to purchase for its account any of its shares except as follows:

(1) To collect or compromise in good faith, a debt, claim or controversy with any shareholder;

(2) From shareholders who by reason of dissent are entitled to be paid the fair cash value of their shares;

(3) From one who as an employee other than as an officer or director has purchased such shares from the corporation under an agreement reserving to the corporation the option to repurchase or obligating it to repurchase;

(4) To eliminate fractional shares;

(5) To purchase shares subject to redemption at prices not exceeding the redemption price thereof;

(6) To carry out provisions of its articles authorizing conversion of its shares; and

(7) Subject to limitations, if any, contained in its articles, only from earned surplus.

A corporation shall not purchase its own shares of any class in any case when there is reasonable ground for believing that the corporation is unable, or, by such purchase, will be rendered unable, to satisfy its debts and liabilities when they fall due. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a corporation from acquiring its own shares by gift or bequest or upon a merger with or distribution of the assets of another corporation.

Effect of acquisition
of shares.

342a. Effect of acquisition of shares. When a corporation acquires its shares under authority of section 342 (7) of this code, the earned surplus shall be reduced by an amount equal to the purchase price thereof, but the stated capital shall not be affected thereby. When a corporation acquires its shares by gift or bequest or upon the distribution of the assets of another corporation, such shares shall be restored to the status of authorized but unissued shares, and the stated capital shall not be reduced thereby.

When a corporation acquires its own shares under authority of any of the subdivisions other than (7) of section 342 of this code, such shares shall be restored to the status of authorized but unissued shares; provided, however, that if the articles prohibit the reissue of such shares, the authorized number of shares of the class to which such shares belong shall, upon such redemption, purchase, conversion or exchange, be reduced to the extent of the shares so retired.

342b. Treasury shares. Treasury shares shall not carry voting or dividend rights and shall not be counted as outstanding shares for voting purposes. Unless otherwise provided in the articles such shares may be disposed of for such consideration as the board of directors may fix, and the amount of such consideration received shall be added to stated capital or paid-in surplus, in accordance with section 300b of this code.

343. Sale or transfer of entire assets. No corporation may sell, lease, convey, transfer, exchange or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its property and assets except under authority of a resolution of its board of directors, approved by the vote or written consent of the shareholders entitled to exercise a majority of the voting power on such proposal before or after the adoption of the resolution by the directors. Such sale, lease, exchange, transfer or disposition may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such considerations, which may be money, property, shares of stock and/or other securities of any corporation or corporations, as its board of directors may deem for the best interests of the corporation. Written notice of the directors' resolution and the date of adoption thereof shall be mailed to each shareholder, whether entitled to vote or not, within five days after the adoption of the resolution. The articles may require on such proposal the vote or consent of a larger proportion of the shareholders and the separate vote of a majority or a larger proportion of any class of shareholders of record.

343a. Plan of distribution of shares or securities upon sale of assets. The directors and shareholders, in authorizing and approving a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the property and assets pursuant to section 343 of this code, may also authorize and approve a plan for the distribution of all or a part of the consideration to be received, including shares or other securities of any corporation or corporations, domestic or foreign.

Shareholders who approve such sale or other disposition and such plan of distribution, and shareholders who do not Shareholders who approve.

dissent therefrom and do not exercise their rights as dissenting shareholders as hereinafter provided, shall be deemed to have waived and surrendered such distributive rights as they may have upon a liquidation or dissolution or winding up of the corporation and to have agreed to accept in lieu thereof, and to have accepted, the shares or securities or other considerations to which they are entitled under such plan of distribution.

Dissenting shareholders.

Dissenting shareholders, whether or not entitled to vote, shall be entitled to compensation under the conditions hereinafter provided.

Effect of distribution.

Any distribution under such plan shall be subject to the provisions of this title, including but not limited to those as to reduction of stated capital, distribution of surplus after reduction of stated capital and to the manner of dissolving and winding up of corporations.

Conveyance or transfer of entire assets.

343b. Conveyance or transfer of entire assets. Any deed or instrument conveying or otherwise transferring all, or substantially all, the assets of a corporation may have annexed to it the certificate of the secretary or an assistant secretary of the corporation, setting forth the resolution of the board of directors and stating the fact of approval thereof by the vote or written consent of the shareholders as provided in the preceding sections. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of the facts authorizing a conveyance or other transfer of the entire assets and conclusive evidence in favor of any innocent purchaser or incumbrancer for value.

Corporate
mortgages.

344. Corporate mortgages. The board of directors may authorize any mortgage, deed of trust, pledge or other hypothecation of all or any part of a corporation's property, real or personal, for the purpose of securing the payment or performance of any contract, note, bond or obligation. Unless the articles otherwise provide, no vote or consent of shareholders shall be necessary to authorize such action by the board of directors.

Effect of ultra vires
acts.

345. Effect of ultra vires acts. The statement in the articles of the objects, purposes, powers and authorized business of the corporation shall have the effect as between the corporation and its directors, officers or shareholders, of an authorization to the directors and a limitation upon the actual authority of the representatives of the corporation. Such limitations may be asserted in an action by a shareholder or at the suit of the state, to enjoin the doing or continuation of unauthorized business by the corporation and/or its officers in cases where third parties have not acquired rights thereby, or to dissolve the corporation, or in an action by the corporation or by the shareholders suing in a representative suit, against the officers or directors of the corporation for violation of their authority.

No limitation upon the business, purposes or powers of the corporation or upon the powers of the shareholders, officers or directors, or the manner of exercise of such powers, contained in or implied by the articles or by chapter fifteen of this title, shall be asserted as between the corporation or any shareholder and any third person.

Any contract or conveyance made in the name of a corporation which is authorized or ratified by the directors, or is done within the scope of the authority, actual or apparent, given by the directors, except as their authority is limited by law other than by chapter fifteen of this title, shall bind the corporation, and the corporation shall acquire rights thereunder, whether the contract be executed or wholly or in part executory.

This section shall extend to contracts and conveyances made by foreign corporations in this state and to all conveyances of real property situated in this state by foreign corporations.

CHAPTER XI.

DIVIDENDS; INCREASE AND REDUCTION OF STATED CAPITAL.

346. Cash or property dividends. A corporation may declare dividends in cash and/or in property only as follows Cash or property dividends.

(1) Out of earned surplus;

(2) Despite impairment of stated capital, out of net profits earned during the next preceding accounting or dividend period which shall not be less than six months nor more than one year in duration;

(3) Out of paid-in or contributed surplus and/or surplus arising from reduction of stated capital only upon shares entitled to preferential dividends; provided that the shareholders receiving such dividends shall be given notice of such source prior to or concurrently with payment thereof;

If the value of the net assets has been impaired, through depreciation in the value of its properties, losses, depletion, or otherwise, to an amount less than the aggregate amount payable to holders of shares having any preferential claim to assets upon liquidation following dissolution or otherwise, no dividends shall be declared or paid except upon such shares until the value of its net assets has been restored to such highest aggregate amount. Impaired assets.

No dividends shall be declared under the preceding paragraphs when there is reasonable ground for believing that its debts and liabilities would thereupon exceed its assets, or that it would be unable to meet its debts and liabilities as they mature.

No dividends shall be declared out of the mere appreciation in the value of its assets, not yet realized.

A corporation engaged solely or substantially in the exploitation of mines, oil wells, gas wells, patents or other wasting assets, or organized solely or substantially to liquidate specific assets, may distribute the net income derived from the exploitation of such wasting assets or the net proceeds derived from such liquidation without making any deduction or allowance for the depletion of such assets incidental to the lapse of time, consumption, liquidation or exploitation; subject, however, to adequate provision for meeting liabilities and fixed preferences Mining, etc., corporations.

of outstanding shares as to assets on liquidation, and to notice to shareholders that no deduction or allowance has been made for such depletion.

Share
dividends.

346a. Share dividends. The board of directors may declare dividends in shares of the corporation only as follows:

(1) Out of earned surplus;

(2) Out of paid-in or contributed surplus and/or surplus arising from reduction of stated capital; provided that notice shall be given to shareholders receiving such dividends of the source thereof prior to or concurrently with payment thereof.

Upon declaration of a share dividend the amount of surplus out of which such dividend is declared shall be transferred to stated capital. If a dividend is declared in shares having a par value, the aggregate par value of such shares shall be transferred from surplus to stated capital.

Nonpar
shares.

If the dividend is declared in shares without par value, then if such shares are preferred shares they shall be valued at the redemption or liquidation price or the lower of two or more redemption or liquidation prices if there be several; or if such shares are common shares they shall be valued on the basis of the estimated fair value of such shares upon issue, the aggregate of which shall be transferred from surplus to stated capital. Notice shall be given to the shareholders of the amount per share transferred from surplus upon the declaration of such dividend in shares without par value.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to forbid or limit the power of a corporation to split up or subdivide its shares into a larger number of shares without transferring surplus to stated capital; provided, however, that upon the issue of additional shares without par value the shareholders be given notice of the book value of each share prior to the split-up or subdivision, and the book value of each share subsequent to each split-up or subdivision.

Dividends
on partly paid shares.

346b. Dividends on partly paid shares. Dividends on partly paid shares may be declared and paid upon the basis of the percentage of the consideration actually received thereon.

Application of surplus to deficit.

346c. Application of surplus to deficit. A corporation may, by action of its board of directors, apply any part or all of any paid-in or contributed surplus or any surplus created by reduction of stated capital to the reduction or writing off of any deficit arising from losses or diminution in value of its assets. In case any such action is taken under this section a disclosure thereof shall be made in the next annual statement of the corporation and reported at the next annual meeting of the shareholders.

Redemption
of shares.

347. Redemption of shares. A corporation may, if so authorized by its articles, issue a class or classes of shares which are, at the option of the corporation, subject to be redeemed by the corporation on such terms and conditions as shall be stated in the articles, or in a resolution providing for the issue of such shares adopted by the directors pursuant to authority in the articles.

The corporation may apply to the redemption or purchase of such shares, any surplus and/or an amount out of its stated capital equal to (a) the aggregate par value of shares so redeemed or purchased having a par value, and (b) the redemption or purchase price of such shares without par value and the stated capital shall be reduced by the amount of capital so applied, provided that if the cost of such shares exceeds the stated capital in respect thereof, the excess shall be treated as having been paid out of earned surplus, or if there be no such surplus then existing, out of any other surplus.

No redemption of shares shall be made if there is reasonable ground to believe that the assets of the corporation remaining after such redemption would be insufficient to pay all the debts and liabilities of the corporation as they mature except such debts and liabilities as have been otherwise adequately provided for, or if the net assets would be reduced to an amount less than the aggregate amount payable to holders of shares having prior or equal claim to assets upon dissolution or otherwise.

Redemption. limitation
on.

348. Reduction of stated capital. A reduction of stated capital may be authorized by a resolution of the board of directors approved by the vote or written consent of the holders of shares representing a majority of the voting power. The resolution of the directors shall set forth the amount of reduction of stated capital and the method by which outstanding par value shares, if any, shall be adjusted to the new stated capital.

Reduction of stated
capital.

No such reduction shall be made in the stated capital of the corporation to an amount less than the aggregate amount of its debts and liabilities plus the aggregate par value of all shares having par value, and the greatest aggregate liquidation price of preferred shares without par value to remain outstanding after such reduction.

348a. Adjustment of shares to reduction. Adjustment of outstanding par value shares to correspond with stated capital as reduced may be effected:

Adjustment
of shares
to reduction.

(1) By the surrender by each or any holder of all or a part of his certificates for shares and the issuing to him in lieu thereof of certificates for a different number of shares, or shares of a different par value pursuant to an amendment of the articles;

(2) By redemption or purchase of shares subject to redemption in accordance with the provisions of this title;

(3) By the change of shares of one or more classes having par value into shares without par value pursuant to an amendment of the articles;

(4) In any other way not repugnant to law.

348b. Distribution of surplus after reduction. If the amount of stated capital be reduced, and there be a surplus of assets over debts and liabilities plus the amount of stated capital as reduced any surplus resulting from reduction shall be transferred to a special surplus account and may be applied by the directors as follows:

Shares:
one class.

(1) If there be but one class of shares outstanding, such surplus may be distributed pro rata in cash or in kind to the shareholders.

Preferred
shares subject to redemption.

(2) If there be preferred shares, which are subject to redemption, then such surplus may be applied to the redemption or purchase of such preferred shares at not to exceed their redemption price, or to the payment of dividends upon preferred shares, in the order of priority of such shares.

Preferred
shares not subject to
redemption.

(3) If there be no preferred shares which are subject to redemption, such surplus may be applied to the purchase of any preferred shares which are not subject to redemption upon reasonable terms, not exceeding the lowest liquidation price thereof, under a pro rata offer to all the holders of such shares, or to the payment of dividends upon preferred shares in the order of their priority.

Resolution for distribution.

(4) In any case, such surplus may be distributed pursuant to a resolution adopted by vote of the holders of two-thirds of the shares of each class outstanding, regardless of limitations on the voting power of any of such classes. If the shareholders or directors do not dispose of such surplus or any part thereof in any of the ways hereinabove authorized, such surplus shall be subject to disposition by the board of directors in the same manner as surplus paid in by the shareholders.

financial statement before distribution.

At least fourteen days before any such distribution of surplus of assets upon reduction of stated capital, except by way of redemption or purchase of shares subject to redemption, or by way of dividends upon preferred shares or by way of share dividends, there shall be filed with the secretary of state a certificate signed and acknowledged by its president or vice president and also by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer and signed by a majority of the board of directors, containing a financial statement setting forth the condition of the corporation's affairs as shown by its books of account, the amount of its debts and liabilities and the estimated fair present value of its assets, and that the board of directors has determined that the proposed distribution of assets will not reduce the value of the assets of the corporation taken at their fair value to an amount less than the aggregate of the debts and liabilities of the corporation, plus the amount, as reduced, of the stated capital. After such certificate is filed with the secretary of state, a certified copy thereof shall be filed in the office of the county clerk in the county in which the corporation has its principal office.

Increase of stated
capital.

348c. Increase of stated capital. The stated capital of the corporation may be increased from time to time by resolution of the board of directors directing that a portion of the surplus of the corporation be transferred to the stated capital account.

CHAPTER XII.

CORPORATE RECORDS AND REPORTS—INSPECTION.

352. Corporate minutes. Every corporation shall keep a book of minutes at the principal office, or such other place as the board of directors may order, of all meetings of its directors and shareholders or members with the time and place of holding, whether regular or special, and, if special, how authorized, the notice thereof given, the names of those present at directors' meetings, the number of shares or members present or represented at shareholders' or members' meetings and the proceedings thereof.

Corporate minutes

353. Books of account. Every corporation shall keep and maintain adequate and correct accounts of its properties and business transactions, including accounts of its assets, liabilities, receipts, disbursements, gains, losses, capital, surplus, and shares. Any surplus including earned surplus, paid-in surplus and surplus arising from a reduction of stated capital shall be classified according to source and shown in a separate account. The books of account shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any director.

Books of account.

354. Share register. Corporations for profit shall keep at the principal office, or at the office of the transfer agent, a share register, or a duplicate share register, showing the names of the shareholders and their addresses; the number and classes of shares held by each; the number and date of certificates issued for the same; and the number and date of cancellation of every certificate surrendered for cancellation.

Share register.

355. Inspection of corporate records. The share register or duplicate share register, the books of account, and minutes of proceedings of the shareholders and directors of every corporation shall be open to inspection upon the written demand of any member or shareholder or holder of a voting trust certificate at any reasonable time, and for a purpose reasonably related to his interests as a shareholder, and shall be produced at any time when required by the demand of ten per cent of the shares represented at any shareholders' meeting.

Inspection of corporate records.

Such inspection may be made in person or by agent or attorney, and includes the right to make extracts. The right of the shareholders to inspect the corporate records may not be limited in the articles or by-laws.

Demand of inspection other than at a shareholders' meeting shall be made in writing upon the president, secretary, assistant secretary or general manager of the corporation. Every such demand, unless granted, shall be referred by him to the board of directors.

357. Investigation by order of court. Upon refusal of a lawful demand for inspection or upon petition of the holders of ten per cent (10%) of the issued and outstanding shares, the superior court of the county in which the principal office or in which the records are located may enforce the right of inspection with just and proper conditions, or may appoint one or more competent inspectors or accountants to audit the books and records and to investigate the property, funds and affairs of any corporation, and to report thereon in such manner as the court may direct.

It shall be the duty of all officers and agents of the corporation to produce to the inspectors or accountants so appointed all books and documents in their custody or power, under penalty of punishment for contempt of court.

All expenses of the investigation or audit shall be defrayed by the applicant unless the court shall order them to be paid or shared by the corporation.

Annual
report.

358. Annual report. The directors of every corporation shall cause to be sent to the shareholders not later than one hundred twenty days after the close of the fiscal or calendar year, a balance sheet as of the closing date of the last such year, together with a statement of income and profit and loss, for the year ended on that date, unless such reports be expressly dispensed with in the by-laws. These financial statements shall be certified to by the president, secretary, treasurer or a public accountant.

Contents.

Such annual report shall give a summary of assets and liabilities; the amount of dividends paid or declared during the past year; the condition as to surplus or deficit and how acquired or created; the number of shares issued and outstanding; together with any such particulars as are necessary to disclose the general nature of liabilities and assets of the corporation; and the names and addresses of all its principal officers and directors. When any assets are stated at values other than cost to the corporation, the bases of such values shall be indicated.

The statement of income and profit and loss shall be prepared in the form ordinarily used by accountants for the particular kind of business carried on by the corporation.

Where any of the assets of the corporation consist of shares in or amounts owing from a subsidiary company or subsidiary companies the aggregate amount of those assets, distinguishing shares and indebtedness, shall be set out in the balance sheet separately from all the other assets. Where a corporation is indebted to a subsidiary company the aggregate amount of that indebtedness shall be set out in the balance sheet separately from other liabilities.

There shall be a statement showing how far and to what extent profits and losses of a subsidiary corporation have been taken into account in arriving at the profit and loss of the holding company as disclosed in its accounts.

Financial statement to shareholders.

359. Financial statement to shareholders. Shareholders holding at least five per cent of the number of shares of any corporation other than a bank, a building and loan association, an insurance company, a public utility, or a nonprofit corporation, may make a written request to the officers of the corporation for a statement of its affairs in case no full or adequate statement has been given in written form to its shareholders within six months.

The statement shall be in the form prescribed for the annual report and shall be certified in like manner and delivered to the person or persons making the request within thirty days thereafter, and a copy thereof shall be kept on file in the principal office of the corporation for twelve months, and at all times during business hours shall be exhibited or mailed to any shareholder demanding an examination thereof. Except upon order of court, for good cause shown, the corporation shall not be required to prepare more than one such statement in any one year. The superior court upon application, for good cause shown, may extend the time for delivering such financial statement. Form.

The corporation shall, upon the written request of any shareholder, mail to him a copy of the last profit and loss statement and balance sheet, together with a copy of the report, if any, of the company's auditors on said balance sheet.

CHAPTER XIII.

ORGANIC CHANGES; MERGER, CONSOLIDATION AND AMENDMENTS.

361. Merger and consolidation of corporations. Any two or more corporations may be: (a) merged into one of such constituent corporations, which is herein designated as "the surviving corporation"; or (b) consolidated into a new corporation, which is herein designated as "the consolidated corporation," as follows: Merger and consolidation of corporations.

(1) The board of directors of each corporation by resolution shall approve an agreement which shall set forth the terms and conditions of merger or consolidation, and the mode of carrying the same into effect, as well as the manner and basis of converting the shares of the constituent corporations into the shares of the consolidated or surviving corporation. The agreement may also provide for the distribution of cash, property, or securities, in whole or in part, in lieu of shares to shareholders of the constituent corporations or any class of them; provided, however, that upon such distribution of cash, property or securities, the liabilities of the consolidated or surviving corporation, including those derived by it from the constituent corporations, plus the amount of the stated capital of the consolidated or surviving corporation, shall not exceed the value of the assets of such consolidated or surviving corporation. Approval by board.

If the agreement is for a consolidation, it shall state the matters required to be stated in articles of incorporation, and these statements shall be deemed to be the articles of incorporation of the corporation created by the agreement. Statements in agreement

If the agreement is for a merger, it shall state any matters with respect to which the articles of the surviving corporation are amended, and the articles shall be deemed to be amended accordingly upon the filing thereof with the secretary of state.

Signatures. (2) The agreement shall be signed by the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary of each corporation, and acknowledged by the officers executing the same on behalf of their respective corporations.

Approval by shareholders. (3) The agreement must be approved by the vote of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued and outstanding shares of each class, even though their right to vote be otherwise restricted or denied, of each of the constituent corporations, at a meeting duly called upon notice of the time, place and purpose thereof, mailed to the last known post-office address of each shareholder at least twenty days prior to the date of such meeting. There shall be mailed with the notice of such meeting a statement of the general terms of the proposed agreement. In lieu of the vote of such shareholders of any of said corporations it may be approved with like effect by the written consent of such shareholders, upon at least twenty days' notice to all shareholders, which consent or consents shall be filed with the secretary of such corporation. Different series of the same class of shares shall not be construed to constitute different classes of shares for the purposes of voting or consent by classes.

The approval of the shareholders may be given either before or after the approval of the agreement by the board of directors.

Certificate: contents. After such approval by the directors and shareholders has been given, the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary of each corporation shall execute a certificate, which shall be verified by their oath and shall set forth:

(a) The time and place of the meeting of the board of directors;

(b) A copy of the resolution adopted thereat;

(c) The vote in favor of such resolution;

(d) The time and place of the meeting of the shareholders, and the total vote by which such resolution was approved, or, if the approval was by written consent, the number of shares represented by the consents and the fact that such consents have been filed with the secretary of the corporation;

(e) The total number of outstanding shares of each class.

Amendments to agreement.

(4) Any amendment to the agreement may be adopted, and the agreement so amended may be approved, by like vote at such meeting, or like written consent of the shareholders of any of the constituent corporations, and if the agreement so amended be approved by like vote at such meeting, or like written consent of the shareholders of the other constituent corporation or corporations, and by the board of directors of each of the constituent corporations, the agreement so amended shall be signed and acknowledged and shall have certified therewith the approval of the directors and of the shareholders in the same manner as provided for the original agreement, and shall then be considered the merging or consolidating agreement.

(5) The agreement so approved, executed and acknowledged and the certificates of its approval shall be filed with the secretary of state, and shall thereupon become effective, and the several parties thereto shall be one corporation. A copy of said agreement, certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed with the county clerks of the counties in which the principal office of each corporation is located and a copy thereof, so certified, shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which each corporation holds real property. A copy of such agreement certified by any public official shall have the same force in evidence as the original, and, except as against the state, shall be conclusive evidence of the performance of all conditions precedent to such consolidation or merger, and the creation or existence of the new or surviving corporation.

Filing of agreement

(6) The surplus appearing on the books of the constituent corporations, to the extent to which it is not capitalized by the issue of shares or otherwise, may be entered as earned or paid-in surplus, as the case may be, on the books of the consolidated or surviving corporation, and may thereafter be dealt with as such.

Surplus

(7) Upon the merger or consolidation, as provided herein, the separate existence of the constituent corporations shall cease, except that of the surviving corporation in case of merger, and the consolidated or surviving corporation shall succeed, without other transfer, to all the rights and property of each of the constituent corporations, and shall be subject to all the debts, liabilities and duties of each, in the same manner as if the surviving or consolidated corporation had itself incurred them.

Cessation of separate existence

All rights of creditors and all liens upon the property of each of said former corporations shall be preserved unimpaired, limited in lien to the property affected by such liens immediately prior to the time of the consolidation or merger.

Rights of creditors.

Any action or proceeding pending by or against any of such constituent corporations may be prosecuted to judgment, which shall bind the new or surviving corporation, or the new or surviving corporation may be proceeded against or substituted in their place.

Actions pending.

361a. Consolidation or merger of domestic and foreign corporations. The merger or consolidation of any number of domestic corporations with any number of foreign corporations may be effected if such foreign corporations be authorized by the laws of the state or government under which they are formed to effect such a merger or consolidation.

Domestic and foreign corporations: consolidation.

In the consolidation or merger agreement the laws of any jurisdiction under which one of the consolidating or merging corporations was organized may be selected as the laws which shall govern the consolidated or merged corporations, and such merger or consolidation, provided the laws of such state provide for compensation for shareholders who dissent from such consolidation or merger, or provided such consolidation or merger be approved by the unanimous vote or consent of the shareholders of the corporations involved, entitled to vote or dissent.

Law regulating.

Filing of agreement.

The agreement of consolidation or merger must be filed in this state in the manner required in section 361 before such consolidation or merger shall become effective in this state.

Restrictions.

The provisions of this section shall not permit the merger or consolidation of one or more corporations organized under the laws of this state, with one or more foreign corporations where the laws of this state prohibit the doing by a foreign corporation in this state of the business being done or to be done by such foreign corporation or corporations so merging or consolidating.

Consolidation, conveyance of real estate.

361b. Conveyance of real estate upon merger or consolidation. Whenever a foreign corporation having any real property in this state shall consolidate or merge with another foreign corporation pursuant to the laws of the state or government in which it was incorporated, and the laws of such state or government provide substantially that the making and filing of the agreement of consolidation or merger shall operate to vest in the corporation formed by such consolidation, or the corporation into which the other or others are merged, all the real property of the constituent or merging corporation, the filing for record in the office of the recorder of any county in this state in which any of the real property of such constituent or merging corporations is located of a copy of such agreement of consolidation or merger, certified by the secretary of state or other official of the state pursuant to the laws of which such consolidation or merger is effected, shall operate to vest in the corporation formed by such consolidation, or the corporation into which the other or others are merged, all interest of the consolidating or merging corporation in and to the real property located in said county.

Amendment of articles.

362 Amendment of articles. By complying with the following provisions, a corporation may amend its articles for any or all of the following purposes:

Purposes.

(1) To adopt a new name, subject to the restrictions contained in section 291 of this code;

(2) To change or add to its powers or purposes; or to set forth different or additional powers or purposes;

(3) To change the location of its principal office or place of business to any other county or city and county within the state; provided, that no amendment need be made to change the principal office from one location to another in the same county or city and county;

(4) To remove any provision of its articles limiting its term of existence and to provide for perpetual existence;

(5) To increase or decrease the authorized number of its shares of any class, issued or unissued, or the par value thereof; or to increase or decrease the authorized number of shares of any series, issued or unissued;

(6) To provide for the classification of its shares, or for the subdivision of any class or classes of shares into series, in which event there must be set forth a statement of the number of shares of each class or series and of the preferences, privileges and restrictions granted to or imposed upon the holders of the respective classes or series of shares;

(7) To change the statement, as to shares issued or unissued, of the classification of shares and/or of the subdivision of any class of shares into series, and/or of the preferences, rights, privileges or restrictions of the shares of any class or series, or to repeal such statement of classification of shares, or subdivision of any class of shares into series;

(8) To authorize the board of directors, within limitations and restrictions stated in the amendment, to fix or alter, from time to time, the dividend rate or the redemption or liquidation price of any class or of any series of any class, or the number of shares constituting any series of any class, or all or any of them, in respect of shares then unissued;

(9) To change shares having par value into the same or a different number of shares without par value; to increase or reduce the par value of shares; to change shares without par value into the same or a different number of shares with or without any par value;

(10) To create classes of par value shares along with classes of shares without par value, or to create classes of shares of different par values; or to restrict, limit, create or enlarge the voting rights of certain classes of shares, or to grant to any class or classes of shares preemptive rights to subscribe for shares, or to enlarge or restrict or revoke existing preemptive rights of any class or classes of shares;

(11) Generally, to add to, omit from, remove or otherwise alter the provisions thereof in any respect lawful at the time of the amendment and not inconsistent with the law under which the corporation exists.

No corporation shall amend its articles to alter the statements which appear in the original articles of the names and addresses of the first directors or of the number of shares subscribed and by whom.

362a. Vote required to amend articles. A resolution providing for any amendment of the articles must be adopted by the vote of a majority of the directors of the corporation, and must be approved by the vote or written consent of shareholders or members holding at least a majority of the voting power either before or after the adoption of the resolution by the board of directors. Such resolution must establish the language of the proposed amended articles by providing that the articles shall be amended so as to read as therein set forth in full, or that any provision thereof, which shall be identified by stating the numerical or other designation given it in the articles or by stating the language thereof, be amended so as to read as therein set forth in full, and/or that the matter stated in the resolution be added to or stricken from the articles.

Vote required to amend articles.

Change in
shares

If the purpose of an amendment of the articles is to change the preferences or restrictions of any class or series of issued shares, or to authorize the corporation to levy assessments on fully paid shares, then in any such case the amendment must be adopted by the vote or consent of the holders of at least two-thirds of the issued shares of each class regardless of limitations or restrictions on the voting power thereof. Different series or subdivisions of the same class of shares shall not be construed to constitute different classes of shares for the purpose of voting or consent by classes except when such series is adversely affected by an amendment in a different manner than other shares of the same class.

Change in
directors.

If the purpose of an amendment is to change the number of directors or to authorize the corporation to change such number by amending its by-laws the board of directors shall not be entitled to vote thereon and the requirement of section 362b that the certificate of amendment shall show the action of the board of directors shall be inapplicable to such an amendment.

Approval of change, what to contain

The resolution or consents of such shareholders approving any amendment must contain a copy of the resolution of the directors or shall establish the wording of the proposed amended articles by providing that the articles shall be amended so as to read as therein set forth in full, or that any provision thereof, which shall be identified by the numerical or other designation given it in the articles or by stating the wording thereof, be amended so as to read as therein set forth in full, and/or that the matter stated in the resolution or consent be added to or stricken from the articles, and state the fact of approval thereof.

Certificate of amendment.

362b. Certificate of amendment. After such approval has been given, the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary shall execute a certificate, which shall be verified by their oath and shall set forth:

Contents.

(1) The time and place of the meeting of the board of directors;

(2) A copy of resolution adopted thereat;

(3) The vote in favor of such resolution;

(4) The time and place of the meeting of the shareholders or members and the total vote by which such resolution was approved, or, if the approval was by written consent, the number of shares or members represented by the consent and the fact that such consents have been filed with the secretary of the corporation and that such vote or consent set forth the wording of the resolution of the board of directors or of the proposed amendment of the articles;

(5) The total number of issued and outstanding shares, the holders of which are entitled to vote on amendments to the articles; provided, that two-thirds of the incorporators of any stock corporation which has accepted no subscriptions for shares since the filing of its articles or two-thirds of the incorporators of any nonstock corporation which has admitted no new members since the filing of its articles, may adopt any such amendment by executing a certificate stating, respectively, that no subscriptions for shares have been accepted by the corporation, or that no new members have been admitted, since the filing of the articles, and that the signers thereof, thereby adopt the amendment therein set forth. Such certificate must establish the language of the amended articles in the same manner as must a resolution by the board of directors, as hereinabove prescribed, and shall be verified by the oath of each signer thereof.

The certificate shall be submitted to the secretary of state, who shall file the same and put an indorsement of filing thereon if he finds that it shows a compliance with the provisions of this section. Thereupon, the articles of incorporation shall be deemed amended in accordance with such certificate and a copy of such amendment and the certificate thereto, certified by the secretary of state, shall be evidence of the performance of the conditions necessary to the adoption thereof.

Filing of certificate

A copy of said certificate certified by the secretary of state shall be filed with the county clerk of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located and in every county in which the corporation holds real property.

362c. Extension of existence. Every corporation formed under the laws of this state for a limited period may at any time prior to the expiration of the term of its corporate existence extend such term by an amendment to its articles removing any provision limiting the term of its existence and providing for perpetual existence.

Extension of existence

Such amendment may be made if authorized or approved by the vote or written consent of shareholders holding at least a majority of the voting power and by resolution of the board of directors either before or after the vote or consent of the shareholders.

CHAPTER XIV.

LIABILITIES AND REMEDIES.

363 Unlawful dividends and distributions. Except as provided in this title, the directors of a corporation shall not authorize or ratify the purchase by it of its shares with corporate funds nor declare or pay dividends nor authorize or ratify the withdrawal or distribution of any part of its assets among its shareholders.

Unlawful dividends and distributions

In case of any wilful or negligent violation of the provisions of this section, the directors under whose administration the same shall have happened, except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered on the minutes of the meeting at which such action was authorized, or who were not present at the time, shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation and to shareholders and subscribers for the full amount of any loss sustained by the corporation, the shareholders, and/or subscribers.

Liability of directors.

In case of the insolvency of the corporation the directors shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation or its Same when corporation insolvent.

receiver, liquidator or trustee in bankruptcy to the full amount of any loss sustained by the shareholders or creditors by reason of such unauthorized dividend, withdrawal or distribution.

Contribution among directors.

Any director against whom a claim is asserted under or pursuant hereto, except in case of participation in a fraud, shall be entitled to contribution from other directors who are liable, pro rata according to the number of such directors. Any two or more directors may be sued in the same action.

When directors not liable.

A director shall not be held to have been negligent within the meaning of this section if he relied and acted in good faith upon a balance sheet or profit and loss statement of the corporation represented to him to be correct by the president or the officer of the corporation having charge of or supervision of its accounts, or certified to be correct and according to the books of the corporation by a public accountant or firm of public accountants selected with reasonable care.

Liability of shareholders for improper dividends.

364. Liability of shareholders for improper dividends. Any shareholder who knowingly receives any dividend or distribution of assets not authorized by this title shall be individually liable to the corporation for the amount so received by him, with interest from date of receipt, in the event that the corporation is unable to meet its debts and liabilities as they mature. Any two or more shareholders may be sued in the same action.

Unauthorized purchases of shares.

365. Unauthorized purchases of shares. Except when shares are purchased in accordance with this title, shareholders selling to the corporation shares issued by the corporation shall be and remain liable to the corporation, or to its receiver or its trustee in bankruptcy to the extent of payments made therefor and for the unpaid balance of the subscription price due thereon, if any, for the payment of existing liabilities of the corporation at the time of such sale.

Loans to officers or shareholders or on corporation's shares

366. Loans to officers or shareholders or on corporation's shares. No corporation shall make any loan of money or property to, or guarantee the obligation of, and director or officer of such corporation directly or indirectly. No loan shall be made to any shareholder without security or upon the security of the shares of the corporation, and no corporation shall take as security for any debt a lien upon a transfer of any shares of its stock, unless such lien or transfer shall be to secure payment of a debt previously contracted.

Loans when may be made

Any loan or guaranty prohibited by this section may be made by the vote or written consent of the holders of two-thirds of the shares of all classes regardless of limitations on voting rights, other than the shares held by the benefited director, officer or shareholder; or if permitted under any statute regulating banks, building and loan associations, credit unions or other special class of corporations.

Loans: liability for.

If any such loan be made, the director, officer or officers who make it or assent thereto shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation as guarantors until the repayment or return of the sum or value so loaned with interest thereon.

Any officer or director who shall be held liable under this section shall be entitled to contribution from any other officer or director who shall participate in authorizing, making or allowing such loan, and shall be subrogated to any or all rights of the corporation against the borrower.

Loans: contribution between
officers.

367. Liability for false statements and entries. Any officers, directors, employees, or agents of a corporation, who: (1) make, issue, deliver or publish any prospectus, report, circular, certificate, financial statement, balance sheet, public notice or document respecting the corporation or its shares, assets, liabilities, capital, dividends, business, earnings, or accounts which is false in any material respect, knowing it to be false, or who knowingly participate therein; or (2) make or cause to be made in the books, minutes, records or accounts of a corporation any entry which is false in any material particular, knowing such entry is false; or remove, erase, alter or cancel any entry therein with intent to deceive, shall be liable jointly and severally for all the damage resulting therefrom to the corporation and/or any person injured thereby who relied thereon.

Liability for false statements
and entries.

368. Penalty for failure to comply with various requirements. Every corporation which shall neglect, fail or refuse: (a) to keep or cause to be kept or maintained the share register or the books of account required by this title to be kept or maintained; or (b) to prepare or cause to be prepared or submitted the financial statements required by this title to be prepared or submitted; or (c) to transfer shares upon its books or to issue a certificate or certificates therefor to the transferee as provided in this title, shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars and the further penalty of ten dollars for each day up to a maximum of one thousand dollars, beginning three days after written request, that such failure or refusal shall continue, to be paid to the shareholder or shareholders jointly making such request therefor and damaged thereby, if suit therefor shall be commenced within ninety days after making such written request.

Penalty for failure to comply with various requirements

This remedy shall be in addition to any remedy by injunction or action for damages or by writ of mandate for the non-performance of acts and duties enjoined by law upon the corporation or its directors or officers.

Scope of remedy.

The court in which any such action is brought may reduce, remit or suspend such penalty on such terms and conditions as it may deem reasonable when it is made to appear that the neglect, failure or refusal was inadvertent or excusable.

Reduction
of penalty.

369. Compensation of dissenting shareholders. At any time until the expiration of the twentieth day after authorization has been given by the shareholders of a corporation in the manner provided in this title for the corporation to merge or consolidate, any holder of either voting or nonvoting shares who has not theretofore approved such merger or consolidation, either by vote or written consent, may make written demand upon the corporation for the payment to him of the

Compensation of dissenting shareholders.

fair cash value of his shares as of the day prior to that on which the directors' authorization was given.

Demand.

Such demand shall state the number and description of the shares held of record by such shareholder and shall contain a request that the corporation state what it claims to be the fair cash value of such shares as of said day.

Indorsement of certificates

Upon making such demand, the certificate or certificates representing such shares shall be duly indorsed by the shareholder and deposited either with the corporation or with a bank or trust company in this state for delivery to or upon the order of the corporation upon payment of the fair cash value of such shares, as determined in accordance with this section. The corporation shall be notified of any such deposit with a bank or trust company and the name and address of such bank or trust company.

Offers to purchase

Within five days after the receipt by the corporation of such demand, the corporation shall mail to the demanding shareholder at his last known address a written offer to purchase his shares, at a price or prices deemed by the corporation to represent the fair cash value thereof as of said day. Any demanding shareholder, who does not within twenty days after the mailing of such offer transmit by registered mail or deliver his written rejection thereof to the corporation at its principal office, stating what he claims to be the fair cash value of such shares, shall be conclusively taken to have accepted such offer and shall be bound thereby.

Acceptance.

Determination of value.

Either one or more of those rejecting the offer as herein provided, or any interested corporation, may petition the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located, to determine the fair cash value of such shares. Such determination shall bind the corporation and all parties to the proceeding and all shareholders rejecting such offer who have been notified by mail of such proceeding, whether or not they intervene therein.

Appraisers.

The court shall appoint three impartial appraisers to value the shares. The award of a majority of the appraisers, if not opposed within ten days after it has been filed in court, shall be confirmed by the court and, when confirmed, shall constitute a final judgment. If opposed, such opposition shall be tried summarily and judgment rendered thereon by the court.

Costs.

The costs of such appraisal, including a reasonable fee to the appraisers to be fixed by the court, shall be borne by the corporation unless in the opinion of the court the action of any shareholder in rejecting such offer of the corporation has been arbitrary, vexatious or in bad faith, in which case, costs shall be assessed in the discretion of the court.

Payment.

Any judgment shall be payable only upon the surrender to the corporation of the certificates for shares described in such judgment, and shall be a liability of the corporation and/or its successor or successors in interest.

Any party shall have the right of appeal from such judgment of the court, provided the appeal be taken within ten days after notice of rendition and entry of the judgment. Appeal

Unless such proposed merger or consolidation shall be abandoned as herein provided, any demanding shareholder shall cease to be a shareholder as to such shares, as of the date on which the corporation mails its offer as aforesaid and shall have no rights with respect to such shares after said date, except the right to receive payment therefor as herein provided. Status of shareholder as affected by offer to purchase.

In the event that the corporation shall fail to pay the amount of said judgment within five days after the same shall become final, said judgment may be collected and enforced in the manner prescribed by law for the enforcement of judgments. Interest shall be paid the shareholder on the amount of the award at the rate of seven per cent from the date on which the corporation mails its offer as aforesaid. Enforcement of payment

The rights and remedies of any shareholder at law or in equity to object to or litigate as to any such merger or consolidation shall be and are hereby limited to the right to receive the fair cash value of his shares in the manner and upon the terms and conditions provided in this section, except suits to test whether the number of legal votes or consents of shareholders required by statute to authorize or approve the proposed action of the corporation has been given. Shareholders limitation of rights.

If litigation shall be instituted to test the sufficiency or regularity of the votes or consents of the shareholders in authorizing such merger or consolidation, the effect of the demand for compensation shall be suspended and dissenting shareholders shall be entitled to vote and to receive dividends declared until the final determination of such litigation. Demand for compensation as affected by litigation

After the authorization by directors and shareholders as aforesaid of any such merger or consolidation directors may, in their discretion, abandon such merger or consolidation subject to the rights of third parties under any contracts relating thereto, without further action or approval by the shareholders of the corporation, and nothing contained in this title shall be deemed to limit such right of abandonment. Abandonment of merger.

370. Proof of existence. In any action at law, other than one in the nature of quo warranto, the original articles or certificate of incorporation of a corporation, or a copy of either thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state, shall be conclusive evidence of its formation and prima facie evidence of its corporate existence. Proof of existence

370a. Proof of existence of foreign corporations. In any action or proceeding, civil or criminal, in any court of this state, a copy of the articles or certificate of incorporation of a foreign corporation duly certified by the secretary of state or other proper official of the state under the laws of which such corporation purports to be incorporated shall be prima facie evidence of the incorporation, existence and powers of such corporation, but such presumption may be rebutted by Proof of existence of foreign corporations a statement under oath by such secretary of state or other official, or otherwise by competent evidence.

A certified copy of the articles or certificate of incorporation of a foreign corporation issued by the secretary of state or other officer of this or any other state in whose office the incorporation papers are filed as required by law shall be admitted in evidence by all courts and shall be prima facie evidence of the corporate existence and capacity of the corporation.

Proof of corporate
proceedings

371. Proof of corporate proceedings. The original or a copy of the by-laws or of the minutes of any incorporators', shareholders', members', directors', or executive committee or other meeting of any corporation, certified to be a true copy by a person purporting to be the secretary or an assistant secretary thereof, shall be received in the courts of this state as prima facie evidence of the adoption of such by-laws and of the due holding of such meetings, and of the facts or actions stated therein.

Judicial
notice of foreign law

372. Judicial notice of foreign law. In any action or proceeding, the court shall take judicial notice without proof in court of the constitution and statutes applying to foreign corporations, and any interpretation thereof, the seals of state and state officials and notaries public, and of the official acts affecting corporations of the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the state, territory or country under the laws of which said corporation purports to be incorporated.

Designation of person upon whom process may be served.

373. Designation of person upon whom process may be served. Every domestic corporation may file with the secretary of state a designation of a natural person, residing at a stated address in this state, as its agent for the purpose of service of process, and the delivery to such agent of a copy of any process against such corporation shall constitute valid service on such corporation. Such corporation shall file with the secretary of state notice of any change in the address of the person thus designated, and may revoke any such designation by filing notice thereof with the secretary of state.

secretary
of state

If such designation has not been filed with the secretary of state, or if process against any domestic corporation can not, with the exercise of due diligence, be served upon the person designated or in any other manner provided by law, service may be had upon such corporation by delivering to the secretary of state, or to any person employed in his office in the capacity of a deputy, duplicate copies of such process, together with a fee of five dollars, which shall be included in the taxable costs of the suit, action or proceeding. Upon the receipt of such process and fee, the secretary of state shall forthwith give notice of the service of such process to the corporation at its principal office in this state, and shall forward to such office, by registered mail with request for return receipt, a copy of such process. The defendant shall appear and answer within thirty days after the secretary of state gives notice as aforesaid.

The secretary of state shall keep a record of all process served upon him under this or any other law of this state, and shall record therein the time of such service and his action with reference thereto.

This section shall not apply to banks, trust companies, insurance companies or any corporation subject to the jurisdiction of the railroad commission.

374. Corporate seals as prima facie evidence of execution. Contracts, conveyances, certificates for shares and other instruments purporting to be executed by a corporation, foreign or domestic, and bearing a seal which purports to be the corporate seal, setting forth the name of the corporation, and the state and date of incorporation, engraved, lithographed, printed, stamped, impressed upon or affixed to the instrument, shall be deemed prima facie evidence that any such instrument is the act of the corporation, that it was duly executed and signed by persons who were officers or agents of the corporation acting by authority duly given by the board of directors, and that the seal is the duly adopted corporate seal of the corporation, and that it has been affixed as such by a person duly authorized so to do, and such instrument shall be admissible in evidence without further proof of execution.

375. Constitutionality. If any provision of this act, or the application thereof to any existing or future corporation or person, or to any foreign corporation or as to any shares or securities issued by any corporation, shall be held invalid as to any such corporation or the rights of any person therein, the remainder of the act and the application thereof to other corporations now existing or subsequently created shall not be affected thereby.

CHAPTER XV.

WINDING UP AND DISSOLUTION.

399. Continuation of corporation after dissolution. All corporations, whether they expire by their own limitation, by forfeiture of existence by order of court, or are otherwise dissolved, shall nevertheless continue to exist for the purpose of winding up their affairs, prosecuting and defending actions by or against them, and of enabling them to collect and discharge obligations, to dispose of and convey their property, and to collect and divide their assets, but not for the purpose of continuing business except in so far as necessary for the winding up thereof. No action or proceeding to which a corporation is a party shall abate by the dissolution of such corporation.

Any assets inadvertently or otherwise omitted from the winding up shall continue in the dissolved corporation for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto upon dissolution of the corporation, and on realization shall be distributed accordingly.

399a. Corporations heretofore dissolved. Nothing in this title shall be taken to have terminated the authority, powers or liability of directors or other persons as trustees of the creditors, stockholders or members of any corporation whose term of existence has heretofore expired or which has heretofore been dissolved and whose corporate existence has not been continued by law for winding up the affairs of such dissolved corporation.

Continuation of dissolution
proceedings

They shall have authority to sue for and recover all assets and property of the corporation, defend suits, collect and pay debts and liabilities, sell the assets thereof and after paying debts and liabilities, to distribute the remaining assets to the shareholders, and in general shall have full powers to settle the affairs of the corporation.

Trustees
organization, etc.

The trustees shall organize by the election of a president, vice president and secretary. Instruments of conveyance shall be executed in the name of the dissolved corporation by the president or vice president, and secretary or an assistant secretary, or by authority of a majority of the directors or trustees. Any act authorized or consented to by a majority of the trustees shall be valid and binding as if authorized and consented to by all the trustees. A majority of the remaining trustees may accept resignations of trustees and fill vacancies in the office of trustee.

Deeds, etc

Any deed executed in the name of a corporation, heretofore dissolved, by the president or a vice president, and the secretary or an assistant secretary, or by authority of a majority of the directors or trustees after dissolution thereof, duly recorded, in the proper book of records of the county in which the land or any portion thereof so conveyed is situated, for a period of three years, shall have the same force and effect as if executed and delivered prior to such dissolution or suspension.

Voluntary
winding up

400. Voluntary winding up. If it is deemed advisable and for the benefit of any corporation that it be wound up and dissolved, it may elect to terminate its business, wind up its affairs and/or voluntarily dissolve as follows:

Proceedings

(1) By consent in writing executed by shareholders entitled to exercise a majority of the voting power and filed with the secretary of the corporation; or at a meeting called for the purpose, by a resolution adopted by the votes of shareholders entitled to exercise a majority of the voting power, declaring that the corporation elects to wind up and/or dissolve; or

(2) (a) If the corporation has been adjudged to be a bankrupt; or

(b) Has not begun the business for which the corporation was created, it may elect to wind up and/or dissolve by resolution of the board of directors.

(3) If the period, if any, fixed for the duration of the corporation has expired or it has been otherwise dissolved, without extension of its existence, it shall be the duty of the directors to terminate the business and wind up its affairs.

Certificate
of notice

A certificate giving notice that the corporation has elected to wind up and/or dissolve, signed and acknowledged by the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary or by at least three shareholders authorized to do so, or by a majority of the directors, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and of the county clerk of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located.

A notice of the election to wind up and/or dissolve shall be mailed to shareholders whose addresses appear upon the records of the corporation and to known creditors and claimants, except in the cases provided for in subdivisions (2) and (3) of this section. An affidavit of such mailing shall be filed with the secretary of state and with the county clerk of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located. Election

400a. Commencement and effect of winding up proceedings. Proceedings for winding up shall be deemed to commence: Commencement and effect of winding up proceedings

(1) At the time of the adoption of the resolution for winding up, or the written consent thereto, if the proceeding is voluntary;

(2) At the time of the making of the order for winding up, if the proceeding is involuntary.

When a proceeding for winding up has commenced the corporation shall cease to carry on business, except in so far as may be necessary for the beneficial winding up thereof.

401. Directors: powers and duties. The board of directors, in event of either voluntary or involuntary winding up or dissolution, shall continue to act as a board and shall have full powers to wind up and settle its affairs. Directors: powers and duties.

They shall have, without prejudice to the generality of their authority, the power and duty in the name and on behalf of the corporation:

(1) To sue, in the name of the corporation, for all sums due or owing to the corporation, or to recover any of its property;

(2) To carry out contracts, and collect, pay, compromise and settle debts and claims for or against the corporation; and to defend suits brought against the corporation;

(3) To sell and convey, at public or private sale, the assets and property of the corporation, on such terms and conditions as they shall deem best, and execute bills of sale and deeds of conveyance in its name;

(4) To collect as much as may be necessary of any amounts remaining unpaid on subscriptions to shares, or overpayments that may be made in winding up;

(5) To discontinue the conduct of the business except in so far as necessary for the winding up thereof;

(6) To fill vacancies, in the board of directors, elect officers, employ agents and attorneys to liquidate or wind up its affairs;

(7) In general, to make contracts and to do any and all things in the name of the corporation which may be proper or convenient for the purposes of winding up, settling and liquidating the affairs of the corporation.

401a. Final distribution to shareholders. The directors, after the determination by them that all the known debts and Final distribution to shareholders.

liabilities of the corporation have been paid or adequately provided for, shall distribute the corporate assets among the shareholders according to their respective rights and preferences. Such distribution shall not be made until after the expiration of the period for the presentation of claims, if such period has been prescribed by order of court. Distribution may be made either in money or in property or securities, if this can be done fairly and ratably, and in conformity with the provisions of the articles and rights of the shareholders.

A distribution among shareholders in accordance with the terms and conditions and on the basis set forth in a plan of distribution authorized and approved by the directors and shareholders as provided in section 343a or 401c, shall be deemed to be a fair and ratable distribution and a distribution in accordance with the respective rights and preferences of the shareholders and in conformity with the provisions of the articles.

Partial distribution to shareholders.

401b. Partial distribution to shareholders. A corporation in process of winding up may distribute a portion of its assets among the shareholders before all the known debts and liabilities of the corporation have been paid not less than fourteen days after the filing of a certificate signed by all the directors that the corporation is being wound up as authorized in this title and that it is not engaged and does not propose to engage in business other than that incidental to such winding up. The certificate shall set forth the number and par value if any of the issued and outstanding shares; the total fair value of the assets; the total amount of the existing indebtedness and liabilities, and shall state that after the proposed distribution the assets of the corporation taken at their reasonable value will be amply sufficient to pay and discharge all the existing debts and liabilities of the corporation and all future anticipated indebtedness. At least fourteen days before any such partial distribution of assets is made the certificate shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a copy certified by the secretary of state shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located.

Sale of assets for securities by liquidating corporation

401c. Sale of assets for securities by liquidating corporation. In winding up the affairs of any corporation, the directors or other persons in charge thereof, upon paying or adequately providing for the liabilities and obligations of the corporation, may sell, exchange or dispose of all or any part of the remaining assets to a corporation, domestic or foreign, for a consideration including shares of stock and/or other securities of such corporation, if such sale, exchange or other disposition has been approved by the vote or written consent of the holders of shares entitling them to receive more than half of the value of such remaining assets. The directors may distribute such consideration or its proceeds among the shareholders in proportion to their interests therein, subject however, to the provisions of section 369 of this title as to dissenting shareholders.

402. Liability for unpaid debts. After final distribution of the corporate assets by the directors, any creditor, whose claim has not been paid in full may sue the corporation, its directors, and any or all of its shareholders in one proceeding and compel the corporation either to pay any amount due or to set aside the distribution and recover from the shareholders ratably to the extent of the property and assets distributed to them, according to the inverse order of the priorities of the different classes of shares, so far as needed to satisfy the liabilities of the corporation and the costs of the proceeding. Directors who shall have authorized the same shall be personally jointly and severally liable to creditors for amounts or values distributed to shareholders without payment or adequate provision for payment of known debts and liabilities.

Liability for unpaid debts.

The directors shall be deemed to have adequately provided for all debts and liabilities of the corporation if upon any sale or other disposition of substantially all of the property and assets of the corporation pursuant to sections 343 and 401c of this code, a financially responsible purchaser or transferee shall assume all of the contracts, debts, liabilities and obligations of the corporation.

402a. Service of summons or process. Summons or process against a dissolved corporation may be served by delivering a copy to an officer, director or person having charge of its assets, or if no such person can be found, to any person who is, or at time of dissolution was, an agent for service of process. If no such person can be found, summons or process may be served upon the secretary of state or the assistant secretary of state with the effect and as provided in section 373 of this code.

Service of summons or process.

403. Supervision of the court over winding up. If a corporation is in the course of winding up or dissolution, the corporation or any one or more of its shareholders may by petition apply to the superior court of the county where the principal office of the corporation is located at any stage of the proceedings, to order and adjudge as to the following matters in and for the winding up of the affairs of the corporation:

Supervision of the court over winding up.

(1) The presentation and proof of all claims and demands against the corporation, whether due or not yet due, or contingent, or unliquidated or sounding only in damages, and the barring from participation of creditors and claimants failing to make and present claims and proofs as required by any order.

Presentation of claims.

All creditors and claimants may be barred from participation in any distribution of the general assets if they fail to make and present claims and proofs within such time as the court may direct which shall not be less than four nor more than six months after the first publication or service of notice

Failure to present.

to or upon creditors. If it is made to appear that the claimant had not received notice by reason of being out of the state, his claim may be filed or presented at any time before distribution is completed.

Service
of notice.

The court may prescribe the manner of service of notice, either by publication, mailing or otherwise, of the time fixed for the filing or making proof of claims. In general the court in making its orders shall follow the same procedure, as nearly as convenient, as in the presentation, payment and suit upon claims against the estates of deceased persons.

Secured
claims

Holders of secured claims may prove for the whole debt in order to realize any deficiency. If such creditors fail to present their claims, they shall be barred only as to any right to claim against the general assets for any deficiency in the amount realized on their security. Holders of unmatured claims may, if permitted by order of court, participate in the distribution of the assets of the corporation with the other creditors to the extent of the present value of such claims, unless adequate provision shall have been made for their payment when they fall due. Such an acceleration of maturity shall be effective only as against a corporation being wound up. A just estimate may be made by mutual consent of the present value of such debts or claims as may be subject to any contingency or sound only in damages or for some other reason do not bear a certain value.

Rejected claims suit

Suits against the corporation on claims which shall have been rejected or which have not been acted upon shall be commenced within thirty days after the rejection thereof and notice of rejection given.

Other matters

(2) The settlement or determination of all claims of every nature against such corporation or its property or any of it, or the amount of money or assets required to be retained to pay or provide for the payment of such claims, or any claim, or the amount of money or assets available for distribution among shareholders from time to time, making new parties so far as shall be deemed proper for the determination of all questions and matters.

(3) The determination of the rights of shareholders and of all classes of shareholders in and to the assets of the corporation.

(4) The presentation and the filing of intermediate and final accounts of the directors and hearings thereon, and the allowance, disallowance or a settlement thereof, and the discharge of the directors from their duties and liabilities.

(5) The appointment of a referee to hear and determine any or all matters with such power or authority as the court or such judge may deem proper.

(6) The filling of any vacancies in the number of directors which the directors or shareholders are unable to fill.

(7) The removal of any director if it is made to appear that he has been guilty of dishonesty, misconduct, neglect or abuse of trust in conducting the winding up, or if he be unable to act. The court may order an election to fill the vacancy so caused.

(8) The notice to be given of any hearing or any order Any notice, if so ordered, may be given by mail

403a. Vacancies in office of director. A vacancy occurring by death, resignation or failure or inability to act or otherwise in the office of director during the dissolution or winding up, voluntary or involuntary, may be filled by vote or written consent of the holders of shares representing a majority of the voting power, and until such action of the shareholders by a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum, subject to the power of removal and appointment of the directors by the court as provided in this title.

Vacancies in office of director

403b. Determination of identity of directors. Upon the dissolution of any corporation whether by forfeiture of charter, expiration of term of existence, dissolution by order of court or otherwise, or after the commencement of dissolution or winding up proceedings, whether heretofore or hereafter occurring, if the identity of the directors, or their right to hold office is in doubt, or if they are dead or unable or fail or refuse to act or their whereabouts can not be ascertained, any director, trustee, creditor, shareholder or member, or their assigns or successors in interest, whether of record or not, may petition the superior court in and for the county in which the principal office of such corporation was located at the time of dissolution or commencement of dissolution proceedings, setting forth the facts of dissolution or a commencement of dissolution or winding up proceedings and the names and addresses of the persons who were directors of such corporation so far as known to the petitioner, or the fact that they are dead, unknown or unable to act in the winding up of the affairs of the corporation, with a request that the court appoint directors or trustees to act in the winding up of the affairs of the corporation.

Determination of identity of directors

Appointment of trustees.

Upon the filing of such petition, the court shall prescribe by order the giving of such notice as may be reasonable by posting, publication, mailing, personal service or otherwise, to the corporation and to the known directors and officers and persons named in such petition as directors of the corporation at the time of its dissolution, or to the persons having charge of its assets.

Petition notice, etc

Any person claiming to be a director or trustee or receiver for such corporation, or named in such petition, may answer such petition and may be heard thereon by the court.

Answers

The court shall have power to remove from office any director whose identity or whereabouts can not be determined, or who has failed or refused to act or who has left the state, or who for any other reason should be removed, and to appoint some fit and proper person nominated by the person petitioning, or by a majority of the persons interested as shareholders or creditors, to act as director or trustee in winding up the affairs of the corporation.

Removal of directors

The provisions of this section shall not impair or affect any remedy or proceedings otherwise provided by law for winding up the affairs of a corporation.

Order or certificate of dissolution.

403c. Order or certificate of dissolution.

(1) When a corporation has been completely wound up, and all its known debts have been paid, and its known property distributed, the court, if application is made to the court, may make an order declaring the corporation wound up and dissolved. If the proceeding is out of court, a majority of the directors shall sign and acknowledge a certificate stating that the corporation has been completely wound up and is dissolved.

Filing of order.

(2) A copy of such order certified by the clerk of court shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and of the county clerk in which the principal office of the corporation is located unless the original order is on file therein. Such certificate of winding up shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a copy, certified by him, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located. Thereupon all corporate activities shall terminate except for purposes of further winding up if needed.

Unclaimed shares and debts

403d. Unclaimed shares and debts. Deposit of distributive shares of unknown claimants or shareholders. In case the holders of shares are unknown or shall fail or refuse to accept their distributive shares in the property or assets of the corporation or their whereabouts can not be ascertained after diligent inquiry, or in case the ownership of any shares is in dispute, the board of directors shall deposit the distributive shares of such claimants or shareholders with some savings bank or trust company of good standing in the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located, at interest if possible, for the benefit of those who may be lawfully entitled thereto. Such distributive shares shall be paid over by such bank or trust company to the lawful owners of the said shares, their representatives or assigns, upon satisfactory proof of title being made.

Deposit.

Distribution

If no claimants have appeared or been found after three years the property so unclaimed shall be distributed pro rata among those others who were shareholders at the time of distribution and their successors. Such unclaimed property may be distributed at any time among the known and existing shareholders upon a suitable bond or security being given to a bank or trust company for the payment of any claimants who may appear and establish their claims against the corporation within three years.

Unclaimed
deposits or dividends

If a corporation is being wound up or dissolved and there is any unclaimed deposit or dividend or any debt owed by it to any person whose whereabouts is unknown to the directors or trustees or other persons conducting the winding up, they shall deposit the amount due such person in the state or county treasury or with some bank or trust company in this state accompanied with a statement of the name of the person making such deposit or entitled to such dividend or debt, the time when the deposit was made or the dividend declared, or debt created, and any information possessed as to the residence of the person entitled to the deposit or dividend or debt.

All unclaimed deposits or dividends or debts so paid into the state or county treasury or deposited with some bank or trust company shall be deposited at interest if possible for the benefit of those who may appear and establish their claim thereto within three years, after which time any such deposits shall be dealt with in the same manner as deposits of distributive shares of unknown claimants or shareholders as provided in this section.

Deposit at Interest, etc

404. Involuntary winding up. A petition for involuntary winding up of a corporation other than one subject to the bank act, the public utility act or the building and loan act may be filed in the superior court of the county where the principal office is located either by a majority of the directors or by a shareholder or shareholders, who have been registered holders for a period of not less than three months, of not less than twenty-five per cent of the number of outstanding shares or by any shareholder under subdivision (4) of this section.

Involuntary
winding up.

The court may, upon filing of a petition duly verified, entertain proceedings for the involuntary winding up of a corporation, when it is made to appear:

(1) That the corporation has abandoned its business for more than one year;

Causes for winding up

(2) That there is internal dissension and that two or more factions of shareholders in the corporation are so deadlocked that its business can not longer be conducted with advantage to its shareholders;

(3) That the directors or those in control of the corporation have been guilty of persistent fraud or mismanagement or abuse of authority, or persistent unfairness toward minority shareholders, or that its property is being misapplied, wasted or lost by its directors or officers;

(4) That the period for which the corporation was formed has terminated without extension of the period of existence.

404a. Procedure and jurisdiction. Upon the filing of a verified petition for involuntary winding up, the court shall enter an order requiring the corporation to show cause why the corporation should not be wound up. A certified copy of the petition and of the order to show cause shall be served on the corporation as a summons is served in civil actions.

Procedure
and jurisdiction

At any time prior to the trial of the action any shareholder or creditor may intervene therein. The court may direct that a copy of the order shall be personally served upon any of the creditors or published for such time as it may prescribe.

Intervention of creditor or shareholder

The superior court of the county of the principal office shall have jurisdiction of said petition and of the proceedings thereon, and may make such orders for dissolution and winding

Order of dissolution,
etc

up as justice and equity shall require, including those providing for the presentation of claims of creditors and the barring from participation of creditors and claimants failing to make claims and present proofs as required, as in case of proceedings for voluntary dissolution.

Directors to wind up

Unless other persons are appointed by the court on good cause shown to conduct the winding up, the board of directors shall conduct the winding up of the affairs of the corporation, subject to the supervision of the court. They or the directors appointed by the court shall have such powers and authority in general as in case of voluntary dissolution and may, subject to any restrictions imposed by the court, exercise all their powers through the regular officers without any order of court.

Action by state to forfeit corporate existence.

404b. Action by state to forfeit corporate existence.

(1) The attorney general may bring an action against any corporation or purported corporation, in the name of the people of this state upon his own information, or upon complaint of a private party, to procure a judgment annulling, vacating or forfeiting corporate existence upon the ground that:

Grounds

(a) The corporation has seriously offended against any provision of the statutes regulating corporations, or has fraudulently abused or usurped corporate privileges or powers; or

(b) The corporation has violated any provision of law whereby it has forfeited its right to exist.

Correction of errors.

(2) If the cause of action be a matter or act which the corporation has done or omitted to do that can be corrected by amendment of its articles or by other corporate action, then such suit shall not be maintained unless and until the attorney general, thirty days prior to the institution of such suit, shall give the corporation written notice of the matter or act done or omitted to be done, and the corporation has failed, neglected or refused to institute proceedings to correct the same within said thirty-day period.

Court order.
Receivers
etc

(3) In any such action, the court may grant the relief asked for, or such other or partial relief as to it seems just and expedient; and the court may also appoint a receiver or receivers for winding up its affairs or may order that such corporation be wound up by its board of directors as in case of voluntary dissolution.

Filing copy
of decree.

404c. Filing copy of decree. Whenever a corporation is dissolved or its existence forfeited by decree or judgment of court, a copy of the decree or judgment, certified by the clerk of court, shall be forthwith filed in the office of the secretary of state and in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the principal office of the corporation was located, unless the original is already on file therein.

CHAPTER XVI.

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS.

Articles and statement
to be filed

405. Articles and statement to be filed. In this chapter the term "foreign corporation" means a corporation not in incorporated under the laws of this state. The term "articles" includes the articles or certificate of incorporation or of association filed for the purpose of creating the corporation with the secretary of state or proper official of the state, territory, or government, under the laws of which such corporation is created, and any amendments thereof, and any certificates supplemental thereto, or any charter, statute, or governmental act creating it, and any charter, statute or governmental act amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto.

No foreign corporation shall transact intrastate business in this state or enter into repeated and successive transactions of its business in this state, other than interstate or foreign commerce, until it has filed with the secretary of state a copy of its articles duly certified by the secretary of state or other proper official of the government under the laws of which it was created, together with a verified translation of any part thereof in a foreign language, and a statement setting forth:

(1) The location and address of its principal office;

Statements to be filed

(2) The location and address of its principal office within this state;

(3) The name of some person residing within the state upon whom process directed to such corporation may be served, and his complete business or residence address, which must be in the county in which the principal office of the corporation in this state is to be located;

(4) Its irrevocable consent to such service, and to service of process on the secretary of state, in the event that the agent so designated or his successor is no longer authorized to act or can not be found at the address given. A copy of such articles, and any translation thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state of this state, must be filed with the county clerk of the county in this state in which the principal office of the corporation is located, and with the county clerk of any other county in this state in which the corporation owns real property.

There shall be paid to the secretary of state a fee of one hundred dollars for filing such certified copy of the articles and a fee of five dollars for filing such statement.

Fee.

Corporations organized for educational, religious, scientific or charitable purposes, and not issuing shares, and foreign nonprofit corporations, shall pay a fee of five dollars for filing their articles.

Religious, etc., corporations

405a. Restrictions on name. No foreign corporation having a name which is likely to mislead the public or having the name of a domestic corporation or a name which is under reservation for a proposed corporation, or the name of a foreign corporation which is authorized to transact business in this state, or having a name so similar to that of any such corporation or to any such reserved name as to tend to deceive, shall be entitled to transact business in this state or to qualify to do so by complying with the provisions of this chapter until it obtains an order from a court of competent

Restrictions on name jurisdiction permanently restraining the other corporation from doing business in this state under such name and unless it files with the secretary of state a copy of such order of court, duly certified by the clerk of said court.

Designation, change and resignation
of agent.

406. Designation, change and resignation of agent. No foreign corporation which has filed with the secretary of state a designation of an agent for the service of process, pursuant to the requirements of any law in force at the time of such filing, need file with the secretary of state the statement provided for in section 405, except for the purpose of designating a new agent. A statement of the new business or residence address of its agent, or of the new location of its principal office or its principal office within this state may be executed by any foreign corporation or by the agent of such foreign corporation, and filed with the secretary of state, whereupon the secretary of state shall endorse such new address or location upon the designation on file in his office, together with the date of filing of such statement.

New agent

Any foreign corporation may designate a new agent for the service of process by filing with the secretary of state a statement setting forth its revocation of the designation of the person last named as such agent and containing the name of the new agent and all other matters required by section 405, and any foreign corporation may revoke any designation of such agent, without naming a new agent, by filing with the secretary of state a statement of such revocation.

Resignation
of agent

Any person who has been designated by a foreign corporation as such agent may file with the secretary of state a signed statement that he is unwilling to continue to act as the agent of such corporation for the service of process, the execution of which statement must be duly acknowledged, and, upon the filing of such statement with the secretary of state, the capacity of such person as such agent shall terminate and the secretary of state shall forthwith give written notice, by mail, to such corporation of the filing of such statement, and the effect thereof, which notice shall be addressed to such corporation at its home office.

Service of process.

406a. Service of process. Process directed to any foreign corporation may be served on the person so designated as its agent for service of process or authorized to receive service of process, or the president or other head of the corporation, a vice president, a secretary, an assistant secretary, the general manager in this state, or the cashier or assistant cashier of a bank; in the event that no agent so designated can be found at the address given with due diligence, or if no person has been designated and if no one of the foregoing officers or agents of the corporation can be found after diligent search, then on the secretary of state. A copy of such designation, certified by the secretary of state, is sufficient evidence of the appointment of such agent for the service of process.

Whenever process against a foreign corporation is served upon the secretary of state such service shall be made by delivering to the secretary of state, or to an assistant or deputy secretary of state, duplicate copies of such process, and a fee of five dollars, and, if the corporation has not filed with the secretary of state the statement required by section 405, there shall also be delivered to the secretary of state a statement of the address of such corporation to which notice, and a copy of such process, shall be sent. Upon receipt of such process and fee the secretary of state shall forthwith give notice to the corporation by telegraph, charges prepaid, both to its principal or home office and to its principal office in the state, of the service of such process, and shall forward to each of such offices by registered mail, a copy of such process, or in case he has no record of such corporation or such offices, then such notice shall be telegraphed and such copies shall be mailed to the corporation, at the address given in the statement delivered to the secretary of state at the time of such service. The corporation shall appear and answer within thirty days after the secretary of state gives notice as aforesaid. The certificate of the secretary of state, under his official seal, of such service shall be competent and sufficient proof thereof. The secretary of state shall keep a record of all process served upon him and shall record therein the time of such service and his action in respect thereto.

Service on secretary of state.

Notice of service.

406b. Change of office or agent. If a foreign corporation shall change the location of its principal office in this state, it shall file with the secretary of state a certificate setting forth the new location. If such new location be in a different county, the corporation shall appoint an agent for service of process and any such certificate shall designate his name and complete address which shall be in the county to which the principal office of the corporation in this state is changed.

Change of office or agent.

If a designated agent dies or removes from the county, the corporation, within thirty (30) days thereafter, shall file with the secretary of state a certificate setting forth the name and complete address of a newly designated agent.

407. Exemptions from application of chapter. The requirements of this chapter as to foreign corporations shall not apply to corporations engaged solely in interstate or foreign commerce.

Exemptions from application of chapter.

No foreign corporation need comply with the requirements of this chapter merely because a subsidiary corporation owned or controlled by it is engaged in the transaction of intrastate business in this state.

408. Penalties on corporations. Any foreign corporation required to comply with the provisions of this chapter, which transacts intrastate business in this state without complying therewith shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor to exceed one thousand dollars, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction. Prosecution under this section may be brought by the attorney general or by any district attorney, and if brought by the latter, one-half of the fine collected shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which the conviction was had, and one-half to the state treasurer. If brought by the attorney general, the entire amount of fine collected shall be paid to the state treasurer to the credit of the general fund of the state.

Additional penalty.

In addition to the penalty herein provided, no such foreign corporation shall maintain any action or proceedings upon any intrastate business or transaction in any court of this state until it shall have complied with the provisions of this chapter, and shall have paid to the secretary of state a penalty of two hundred fifty dollars in addition to the fees due for filing the copy and statement required by section 405, and shall file with the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, receipts showing the payment of said fees and penalty and all franchise taxes and any other taxes on business or property in this state that should have been paid for the period during which it transacted intrastate business. In case of the wilful or persistent violation of the provisions of this chapter the court may also adjudge a forfeiture to the other party of one-fourth of the amount of the recovery that may be obtained in any such action or proceedings.

Penalty on agents

409. Penalty on agents. Any person who transacts business in this state on behalf of a foreign corporation which is not authorized to transact business in this state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars.

Withdrawal from state

411. Withdrawal. A foreign corporation which has qualified to transact business in this state may withdraw and surrender its right to engage in business within this state, by filing in the office of the secretary of state a certificate executed and acknowledged by its president or vice president, and secretary or treasurer, setting forth:

Certificate contents.

(1) That it surrenders its authority to transact intrastate business in this state.

(2) That it consents that process against it in an action upon any liability or obligation incurred within this state prior to the filing of the certificate of withdrawal may be served upon the secretary of state.

(3) A post-office address to which the secretary of state may mail a copy of any process against such corporation that may be served upon him.

The revocation of authority to transact business shall not affect any action pending at the time. The mere retirement from transacting business within this state without filing a certificate of withdrawal shall not revoke the appointment of any agent upon whom process may be served within this state.

Liabilities of directors.

412. Liabilities of directors. The directors of a foreign corporation transacting business in the state shall be liable to the corporation, its shareholders, creditors, receiver or trustee in bankruptcy for the making of unauthorized dividends or distributions or false certificates, reports or public notices according to the laws of the state of incorporation. Such liabilities may be enforced in the courts of this state.

413. Construction and application. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to repeal, alter or amend the provisions of section 616 of the Political Code, or to prevent any foreign insurance company from carrying out the provisions of contracts made before the surrender of its right to engage in intrastate business in this state, nor the right to carry out contracts made with citizens of other states who may subsequently become citizens of or residents in this state.

The provisions of this chapter requiring the filing of copies of articles with the secretary of state and with county clerks shall not be applicable to foreign corporations which, prior to the eighth day of March, 1901, complied with the provisions of the act entitled "An act to amend 'An act in relation to foreign corporations,' approved April 1, 1872," approved March 17, 1899, but any such corporation and any other corporation which is qualified to do intrastate business in this state, upon the adoption, hereafter, of any amendment to its articles or any certificate supplemental thereto, or any act amendatory of or supplemental to the act creating it, must forthwith file with the secretary of state a copy thereof, certified by the proper official of the government under the laws of which it was created, and a verified translation thereof, if in a foreign language, and must file a copy thereof, certified by the secretary of state, with the county clerk of the county in which its principal office in this state is located and with the county clerk of any other county in which it owns real property.

SEC. 3. Any vote, consent, certification or action by directors, officers, shareholders, or members of a corporation or by any such persons on behalf of the corporation, or any articles of incorporation executed by persons desiring to form a corporation, which are in accordance with the provisions of this act, if duly taken, given or made before this act becomes effective with a view to complying with the requirements of this title, and if required to be filed in any public office of this state, may be duly filed under this act on or after the date when this act has become effective.

5. If against a county, city or town: to the president of the board of supervisors, president of the council or trustees, or other head of the legislative department thereof.

Suit against corporation whose charter forfeited

6. In all cases where a corporation has forfeited its charter or right to do business in this state, or has dissolved, by delivering a copy thereof to one of the persons who have become the trustees of the corporation and of its stockholders or members; or, in a proper case, as provided in section 402a of the Civil Code.

All other cases.

7. In all other cases to the defendant personally.

CHAPTER 864.

An act to repeal chapter 34, statutes of 1921, entitled "An act concerning corporations of this state and the issue to employees and to persons actively engaged in the conduct of their business of their stock," approved April 2, 1921, relating to the issue of shares of stock to employees. Stats. 1921, p. 32, repealed.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 34, statutes of 1921, entitled "An act concerning corporations of this state and the issue to employees and to persons actively engaged in the conduct of their business of their stock," approved April 2, 1921, is hereby repealed. Stats. 1921, p. 32, repealed.

CHAPTER 865.

An act adding chapter three to title nine of part two of the Code of Civil Procedure, consisting of sections 724a to 724e inclusive and repealing sections 388 to 393 inclusive of the Civil Code, relating to the sale of franchises on execution.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new chapter is hereby added to title nine of part two of the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered chapter three, to consist of sections 724a to 724e inclusive, and to read as follows: New chapter.

CHAPTER III.

SALE OF FRANCHISES.

724a. Franchise may be treated as property, and sold under execution.

724b. Purchaser to transact business of corporation; redemption.

724c. Purchaser may recover penalties, etc.

724d. Corporation to retain powers after sale.

724e. Sale, where made.

724a. For the satisfaction of any judgment against any person, company, or corporation having any franchise other than the franchise of being a corporation, such franchise, and all the rights and privileges thereof, may be levied upon and sold under execution, in the same manner, and with the same effect, as any other property. Franchise subject to execution.

724b. The purchaser at the sale must receive a certificate of purchase of the franchise, and be immediately let into the possession of all property necessary for the exercise of the Purchaser to transact business of corporation

Redemption powers and the receipt of the proceeds thereof, and must thereafter conduct the business of such corporation, with all its powers and privileges, and subject to all its liabilities, until the redemption of the same, which redemption may be had as provided in this code in the case of redemption from sales of real estate on execution.

Purchaser may recover penalties, etc. 724c. The purchaser or his assignee is entitled to recover any penalties imposed by law and recoverable by the corporation for an injury to the franchise or property thereof, or for any damages or other causes, occurring during the time he holds the same, and may use the name of the corporation for the purpose of any action necessary to recover the same. A recovery for damages or any penalties thus had is a bar to any subsequent action by or on behalf of the corporation for the same.

Corporation to retain powers after sale. 724d. The person, company, or corporation whose franchise is sold, as in this chapter provided, in all other respects retains the same powers, is bound to the discharge of the same duties, and is liable to the same penalties and forfeitures, as before such sale.

Sale, where made. 724e. The sale of any franchise under execution must be made in the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business, or in which the property, or some portion thereof is situated.

Repeal. SEC. 2. Article four of chapter three of title one of part four of division one of the Civil Code, consisting of sections 388 to 393, inclusive, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 866.

An act to amend section 560 and to repeal sections 565, 569, and 570 of the Penal Code, relating to directors and officers of corporations.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

CHAPTER 870.

An act to amend sections 653bb, 653cc, 653hh, 653ii, 653jj, 653kk, 653mm, 653qq, 653tt, and 653vv of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California, relating to nonprofit cooperative marketing associations, and to add to said title twenty-three new sections to be known as section 653hh (1), section 653hh

(2) and section 653yy of the Civil Code of the State of California.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 653bb of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1923,
p. 223.

653bb. Definitions. As used in this act: Definitions

(a) The term "agricultural products" shall include horticultural, viticultural, forestry, dairy, live stock, poultry, bee and any farm products.

(b) The term "member" shall include actual members of associations without capital stock and holders of common stock in associations organized with shares of stock.

(c) The term "association" means any corporation organized under this act; and

(d) The term "person" shall include individuals, firms, partnerships, corporations and associations.

Associations organized hereunder shall be deemed "non-profit," inasmuch as they are not organized to make profit for themselves, as such, or for their members, as such, but only for their members as producers.

(c) For the purposes of brevity and convenience, this act may be indexed, referred to and cited as "The cooperative marketing act."

SEC. 2. Section 653cc of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1923,
p. 223.

653cc. Who may organize. Five (5) or more persons, a majority of whom are residents of this state, engaged in the production of agricultural products, may form a nonprofit, cooperative association, with or without shares of stock, under the provisions of this act. Who may organize.

SEC. 3. Section 653hh of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1929,
p. 1386

653hh. Articles of incorporation. The articles of incorporation of any such association shall state: Articles of Incorporation

(a) The name of the association.

(b) The purposes for which it is formed.

(c) The county in this state where the principal office for the transaction of the business of the corporation is to be located.

(d) The number of directors thereof, which must be not less than three (3) and may be any number in excess thereof; the term of office of such directors; and the names and residence of those who are to serve as directors for the first year, or until election and qualification of their successors.

(e) If organized without shares of stock, whether the voting power and the property rights and interest of each member shall be equal or unequal; and if unequal, the general rule or rules applicable to all members by which the voting power and the property rights and interests, respectively, of each member may and shall be determined and fixed; and providing for the admission of new members who shall be entitled to vote and to share in the property of the association with the old members, in accordance with such general rule or rules.

(f) If organized with shares of stock, the number of shares which may be issued and if the shares are to have a par value, the par value of each share, and the aggregate par value of all shares; if the shares are to be without par value, it shall be so stated.

If the shares are to be classified, a description of the classes of shares and a statement of the number of shares of each kind or class and the nature and extent of the preferences, rights, privileges and restrictions granted to or imposed upon the holders of the respective classes of stock; and except as to the matters and things so stated no distinction shall exist between said classes of stock or the holders thereof. One class of stock shall always be known as common stock and voting power may be restricted to holders of common stock.

Stats 1923,
p 226.

SEC. 4. Section 653ii of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Amendments to articles of incorporation

653ii. Amendments to articles of incorporation. The articles of incorporation of any association incorporated under this act may be altered or amended in the manner and for the purposes prescribed in section 362 of this Civil Code and by the general corporation laws of this state covering domestic corporations.

Stats 1927,
p 569

SEC. 5. Section 653jj of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

By-laws

653jj. By-laws. Each association incorporated under this act shall within thirty days after its incorporation, adopt for its government and management, a code of by-laws, not inconsistent with this act. A majority vote of the members or shares of stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote, or the written assent of a majority of the members or of stockholders representing a majority of all the shares of stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote, is necessary to adopt such by-laws and is effectual to repeal or amend any by-laws, or to adopt additional by-laws. The power to repeal and amend the by-laws, and adopt new by-laws, may, by a similar vote, or similar written assent, be delegated to the board of directors, which authority may, by a similar vote, or similar written assent, be revoked. Each association, under its by-laws, may provide for any or all of the following matters:

Meetings

(a) The time, place and manner of calling and conducting its meetings. Meetings of members or stockholders shall be held at the place as provided in the by-laws; and if no provision be made, then in the city where the principal place of business is located at a place as designated by the board of directors. Meetings of the board of directors may be held at any place within or without the state fixed by a quorum thereof unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or by-laws.

(b) The number of stockholders or members constituting a quorum. Quorum of members

(c) The right of members or stockholders to vote by proxy or by mail or both; and the conditions, manner, form and effects of such votes; the right of members or stockholders to cumulate their votes and the prohibition, if desired, of cumulative voting. Proxies

(d) The number of directors constituting a quorum. Quorum of directors

(e) The qualifications, compensation and duties and term of office of directors and officers and the time of their election. Directors

(f) Penalties for violations of the by-laws. Penalties

(g) The amount of entrance, organization and membership fees, if any; the manner and method of collection of the same; and the purposes for which they may be used. Fees

(h) The amount which each member or stockholder shall be required to pay annually, or from time to time, if at all, to carry on the business of the association; the charge, if any, to be paid by each member or stockholder for services rendered by the association to him and the time of payment and the manner of collection; and the marketing contract between the association and its members or stockholders which every member or stockholder may be required to sign. Additional fees and compensation.

(i) The amount of any dividends which may be declared on the stock or membership capital, which dividends shall not exceed eight (8) per cent per annum and which dividends shall be in the nature of interest and shall not affect the non-profit character of any association organized hereunder. Dividends.

(j) The number and qualification of members or stockholders of the association and the conditions precedent to membership or ownership of common stock; the method, time and manner of permitting members to withdraw or the holders of common stock to transfer their stock; the manner of assignment and transfer of the interest of members and of the shares of common stock; the conditions upon which and time when membership of any member shall cease; the automatic suspension of the rights of a member when he ceased to be eligible to membership in the association; and the mode, manner and effect of the expulsion of a member; the manner of determining the value of a member's interest and provision for its purchase by the association upon the death or withdrawal of a member or upon the expulsion of a member or forfeiture of his membership, or at the option of the association, the purchase at a price fixed by conclusive appraisal by the board of directors; and the conditions and terms for the repurchase by the corporation from its stockholders of their stock upon their Membership disqualification as stockholders. In case of the expulsion of a member, and where the by-laws do not provide any procedure or penalty, the board of directors shall equitably and conclusively appraise his property interest in the association and shall fix the amount thereof in money, which shall be paid to him within one year after such expulsion.

Stats. 1927,
p. 568.

SEC. 6. Section 653kk of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Directors:
election.

653kk. Directors: Election. The affairs of the association shall be managed by a board of not less than three (3) directors, elected by the members or stockholders from their own number.

District representation.

The by-laws may provide that the territory in which the association has members shall be divided into districts and that directors shall be elected from the several districts. In any such case, the by-laws shall specify the number of directors to be elected by each district, the manner and method of reapportioning the directors and of redistricting the territory covered by the association. The by-laws may also provide that primary elections shall be held to nominate directors. Where the by-laws provide that the territory in which the association has members shall be divided into districts, the by-laws may also provide that the results of the primary elections in the various districts shall be final and must be ratified at the annual meeting of the association. The by-laws may also provide that the territory in which the association has members shall be divided into districts, and that the directors shall be elected by representatives or advisors, who themselves have been elected by the members or stockholders from the several territorial districts. In any such case, the by-laws shall specify the number of representatives or advisors to be elected by each district, the manner and method of reapportioning the representatives or advisors and of redistricting the territory covered by the association. The by-laws may also provide that directors shall be elected for terms of from one to five years; provided, that at each annual election the same fraction of the total number of directors shall be elected as the year bears to their term of office. The by-laws may also provide that one or more directors may be nominated by any public official or commission or by the other directors selected by the members. Such director shall represent primarily the interest of the general public in such associations. The directors so nominated need not be members or stockholders of the association; but shall have the same powers and rights as other directors. Such directors shall not number more than one-fifth of the entire number of directors.

Terms.

Representation of general
public.

An association may provide a fair remuneration for the time actually spent by its officers and directors in its service and for the service of the members of its executive committee.

The by-laws may provide for an executive committee and may allot to such committee all the functions and powers of the board of directors, subject to the general direction and control of the board.

When a vacancy on the board of directors occurs other than by expiration of term, the remaining members of the board by a majority vote, shall fill the vacancy, provided that when the by-laws provide for an election of directors by districts, the vacancy shall be filled by the election of a director from the district in which the vacancy occurs; or the board of directors may call a special meeting of the members or stockholders in that district to fill the vacancy.

Filling of vacancies

SEC. 7. Section 653mm of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1923, p. 228.

653mm. Stock. Membership certificate. When issued. Limitations on transfer and ownership. When a member of an association established without shares of stock has paid his membership fee in full, he shall receive a certificate of membership.

Stock Membership certificate.

Payment for stock. No association shall issue a certificate for stock to a member until it has been fully paid for. The promissory notes of the members may be accepted by the association as full or partial payment. The association shall hold the stock as security for the payment of the note; but such retention as security shall not affect the member's right to vote.

Payment for stock.

Limit. An association, in its by-laws, may limit the amount of common stock which one member may own.

Limit

Transfer restricted. The by-laws shall prohibit the transfer of the common stock or membership certificates of the associations to persons not engaged in the production of the agricultural products handled by the association; and such restrictions must be printed upon every certificate of stock subject thereto.

Transfer restricted

Association may buy in common stock. The association may, at any time, as specified in the by-laws, except when the debts of the association exceed fifty (50) per cent of the assets thereof, buy in or purchase its common stock at the book value thereof, as conclusively determined by the board of directors, and pay for it in cash within one (1) year thereafter.

Association may buy in common stock

Liability for debts. No member or stockholder shall be liable for the debts of the association to an amount exceeding the sum remaining unpaid on his membership fee or his subscription to the capital stock, including any unpaid balance on any promissory note given in payment thereof.

Liability for debts

SEC. 8. Section 653qq of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1923, p. 230

653qq. Issue of preferred stock in payment for property. Purchasing business of other associations, persons, firms or corporations—payment—stock issued. Whenever an association, organized hereunder with preferred shares of stock, shall

Issue of preferred stock in payment for property purchase the stock or any property, or any interest in any property of any person, firm or corporation or association, it may discharge the obligations so incurred, wholly or in part, by exchanging for the acquired interest, shares of its preferred stock to an amount which at par value would equal the fair market value of the stock or interest so purchased, as determined by the board of directors. In that case the transfer to the association of the stock or interest purchased shall be equivalent to payment in cash for the shares of stock issued.

Stats 1923,
p. 231.

SEC. 9. Section 653tt of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Interest in other corporations or associations

653tt. Interest in other corporations or associations. An association may organize, form, operate, own, control, have an interest in, own stock of, or be a member of any other corporation or corporations, with or without capital stock, and engaged in preserving, drying, processing, canning, packing, storing, handling, shipping, utilizing, manufacturing, marketing or selling of the agricultural products handled by the association, or the by-products thereof.

Warehouse receipts as collateral

Warehouse receipts as collateral. If such corporations are warehousing corporations, they may issue legal warehouse receipts to the association against the commodities delivered by it, or to any other person and such legal warehouse receipts shall be considered as adequate collateral to the extent of the usual and current value of the commodity represented thereby. In case such warehouse is licensed or licensed and bonded under the laws of this state or the United States, its warehouse receipt delivered to the association on commodities of the association or its members, or delivered by the association or its members, shall not be challenged or discriminated against because of ownership or control, wholly or in part, by the association.

Merger and consolidation

Merger and consolidation. Any two or more corporations organized hereunder may be merged into one such constituent corporation or consolidated into a new corporation, such merger or consolidation to be made in the manner prescribed by the general laws of the State of California covering domestic corporations.

Stats 1923,
p. 231.

SEC. 10. Section 653vv of title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Associations heretofore organized

653vv. Associations heretofore organized. Any corporation or association organized under previously existing statutes for the purpose of cooperatively marketing agricultural or horticultural products as defined in this act shall be deemed organized and existing under and by virtue of the terms of this act and all of the provisions of the terms of this act, and any of the restrictions and benefits thereof shall apply in all of their terms to such corporation. The repeal of any acts under which such corporation or association has been incorporated shall not dissolve such corporation or association, but such corporation or association shall continue in existence as if organized under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 11. A new section is hereby added to title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California, to be numbered 653hh (1) and to read as follows:
653hh. (1) Nonpar value stock—issuance of. If an association organized hereunder issues nonpar value stock, the issuance of such stock shall be governed by the terms of all general laws covering the issuance of nonpar value stock in domestic corporations.

SEC. 12. A new section is hereby added to title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California, to be numbered 653hh (2) and to read as follows:
653hh. (2) Articles of incorporation must be signed, acknowledged and filed in the manner prescribed by the general laws of this state for domestic corporations.

SEC. 13. A new section is hereby added to title twenty-three of part four of division one of the Civil Code of the State of California, to be numbered 653yy, and to read as follows:
653yy. Corporate securities act not to apply. No corporation organized or existing under or by virtue of the terms and provisions of this act shall be subject in any manner to the terms of the corporate securities act of the State of California as approved May 18, 1917, and all amendments thereto and any and all corporations organized under and by virtue of the terms of this act may and shall issue their membership certificates or stock or other securities as provided herein without the necessity of any permit from the commissioner of corporations of the State of California.

CHAPTER 871.*

An act to revise title twelve of part four of division first of the Civil Code, embracing sections 593 to 606, inclusive, relating to nonprofit corporations.

[Approved by the Governor June 12, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title twelve of part four of division first of the Civil Code, embracing sections 593 to 606, inclusive, is hereby revised to read as follows:

TITLE XII.

NONPROFIT CORPORATIONS.

Article I—General Provision.

593. Formation and purposes. A nonprofit corporation may be formed by any number of persons, not less than three, for any lawful purposes such as religious, charitable, social, educational, recreational, cemetery or for rendering services, which do not contemplate the distribution of gains, profits or dividends to the members thereof, and for which individuals lawfully may associate themselves, subject to laws and regulations applicable to particular classes of nonprofit corporations or lines of activity. The carrying on of business at a profit incidental to the main purposes of the corporation and the distribution of assets to members on dissolution shall not be deemed forbidden to nonprofit corporations.

* A cross-reference table showing the origin of each section appears in the appendix to this volume.

Incorporation of unincorporated associations.

594. Incorporation of unincorporated associations. A nonprofit corporation may be formed for the purpose of incorporating an existing unincorporated association. As used herein the term unincorporated association shall signify and include: society, library, school, college, club, church, trustees of a charitable trust, chamber of commerce or any other unincorporated association or organization.

Articles of incorporation. Contents

595. Articles of incorporation. Contents. The articles of incorporation shall state:

1. The name of the corporation
2. The purposes for which it is formed and that it is a corporation which does not contemplate pecuniary gain or profit to the members thereof.
3. The county in this state where the principal office for the transaction of the business of the corporation is to be located.
4. The names and addresses of three or more persons who are to act in the capacity of directors until the selection of their successors and who may be given such titles as may be deemed appropriate, but who shall be subject to all laws of this state relating to directors except as otherwise in this title provided. The number of persons so named shall constitute the number of directors of the corporation, until changed by an amendment to the articles or by a by-law adopted pursuant to authority contained in the articles.
5. The authorized number and qualifications of its members, the different classes of membership, if any, the property, voting and other rights and privileges of each class of membership, and the liability of each or all classes to dues or assessments and the method of collection thereof, may be set forth either in the articles or in the by-laws.

6. The name of the existing unincorporated association, if any, which is being incorporated.

7. If desired, any lawful provision for the regulation of the affairs of such corporation, including restrictions upon the power to amend all or any part of the articles of incorporation.

Articles—execution and filing.

596. Articles—Execution and filing.

1. The persons who are to act in the capacity of first directors must subscribe the articles of incorporation, and the signatures of any other persons desiring to associate with said persons for the purpose of forming such corporation may also be subscribed thereto, and such execution shall be acknowledged before an officer designated by the laws of this state as one before whom an acknowledgment may be made. Any other signatures to the articles must be acknowledged in the same manner. Any certificate of acknowledgment taken without the state must be authenticated by the certificate of an officer having the requisite official knowledge of the qualification of the officer before whom the acknowledgment was made.

2. In the case of the incorporation of an unincorporated association which has a presiding officer, president or other head, and a secretary or an acting secretary, clerk, scribe or other similar officer, the articles of incorporation need be subscribed and acknowledged only by such officers, and there shall be attached thereto an affidavit by said officers that such association has duly authorized its incorporation, and that the officers have executed the articles by authority of such association.

3. The articles shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing in his office and if they conform to law he shall file the same and place thereon an endorsement of the date of filing.

4. The secretary of state shall not file articles of incorporation which set forth a name which is likely to mislead the public or which is the same as or resembles so closely as to tend to deceive,

(1) The name of a domestic corporation, or

(2) The name of a foreign corporation which is authorized to transact business in this state, or

(3) A name which is under reservation with the secretary of state for another corporation.

The use by a corporation of a name in violation of this section may be enjoined, notwithstanding that its articles may have been filed by the secretary of state.

5. A copy of the articles certified by the secretary of state and bearing the endorsement of the date of filing in his office, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the corporation is to have its principal office.

6. When filed, the articles or certified copies thereof shall have the same force and effect in evidence as do the properly certified articles of a stock corporation.

597. Duration and powers. Upon the filing of the articles by the secretary of state the corporation shall be created and shall continue to exist perpetually, unless otherwise provided by law, and shall possess the following powers:

1. To sue and be sued;

2. To contract and be contracted with;

3. To receive property by devise or bequest, subject to the laws regulating the transfer of property by will, and to otherwise acquire and hold all property, real or personal, including shares of stock, bonds and securities of other corporations;

4. To act as trustee under any trust incidental to the principal objects of the corporation, and to receive, hold, administer, and expend funds and property subject to such trust;

5. To convey, exchange, lease, mortgage, encumber, transfer upon trust or otherwise dispose of all property, real or personal;

6. To borrow money, contract debts, and issue bonds, notes and debentures, and secure the same;

7. To do all other acts necessary or expedient for the administration of the affairs and attainment of the purposes of the corporation.

By-laws.

598. By-laws. By-laws may be adopted, amended or repealed (1) by any means provided in the articles or by-laws; (2) by the directors, subject always to the power of the members to change or repeal such by-laws; (3) by the vote or written assent of a majority of the members entitled to vote, or the vote of a majority of a quorum at a meeting duly called for the purpose according to the articles or by-laws.

By-laws
recording;
contents.

All by-laws shall be recorded in a book which shall be kept in the principal office of the corporation and may contain, among other things, provisions for:

1. The time and manner of calling, giving notice of and conducting regular and special meetings of members or directors, which may be held outside the state. The by-laws may dispense with notice of all regular members' and directors' meetings.

2. The place of holding such meetings

3. The requirements of a quorum of directors or members, which may be greater or less than a majority.

4. The admission, election, appointment, withdrawal, suspension and expulsion of members.

5. The transfer, forfeiture and termination of membership, and whether the property interest of members shall cease at their death or the termination of membership and the mode of ascertaining the property interest, if any, at death or the termination of membership.

6. The number, time and manner of choosing, qualifications, terms of office, official designations, powers, duties and compensation of the directors and other officers; the making of annual reports and financial statements to the members.

7. The manner of voting by members and whether cumulative voting and proxy voting shall be allowed.

8. The appointment and authority of executive or other committees of the board of directors.

9. The qualifications of members and different classes of memberships, and the property, voting and other rights, interests or privileges of each class.

10. The fees of admission, transfer fees, dues and assessments to be paid by members or different classes of members and the methods of collection thereof. Such dues or assessments or both may be authorized to be levied upon all classes of membership alike, or in different amounts or proportions or upon a different basis upon different classes of membership and memberships of one or more classes may be made exempt from either dues or assessments or both.

The amount and method of collection of such dues or assessments or both may be fixed in the articles or by-laws, or the articles or by-laws may authorize the board of directors to fix the amount thereof from time to time, and make them payable at such times or intervals, and upon such notice, and by such methods as the directors may prescribe. They may be made enforceable by action or by the sale or forfeiture of membership, or both, upon reasonable notice.

Collection of dues and assessments

599. Directors Except as otherwise provided by the articles of incorporation or the by-laws, the powers of a nonprofit corporation shall be exercised, its property controlled and its affairs conducted by a board of not less than three persons herein referred to as directors. The articles or by-laws may provide for the number and tenure of office of the directors and may specify their powers, duties, compensation and the manner in which they shall be chosen.

Directors

Unless otherwise provided in the articles or by-laws, any vacancy in the board of directors caused by death, resignation or any disability shall be filled by a majority of the remaining members thereof, though less than a quorum.

600. Members—Membership book A nonprofit corporation shall have such memberships or classes thereof as may be specified in the articles or by-laws, but unless otherwise provided there shall be but one class of members whose rights and interests shall be equal.

Members
Membership
book

Where neither the articles nor by-laws of a nonprofit corporation heretofore or hereafter incorporated provide for members thereof as such, and in any case in which any nonprofit corporation has, in fact, no members, other than the persons constituting its board of directors, by whatever name they may be called, the persons for the time being constituting its governing body or board shall, for the purpose of any statutory provision or rule of law relating to nonprofit corporations, be taken to be the members of such corporation and exercise all the rights and powers of members thereof.

The corporation shall keep a membership book containing the name and address of each member and in any case where membership has been terminated such fact shall be recorded in the book, together with the date on which the membership ceased.

601. Members—Reduction below stated number. Whenever the members of a nonprofit corporation having a stated number of members shall be reduced below such number by death, withdrawal or otherwise, the corporation shall not on that account be dissolved; but it shall be lawful for the surviving or continuing members, or member, to fill vacancies and continue the corporate existence, unless it is otherwise provided in the articles or by-laws.

Members
Reduction

thereof

articles or by-laws and unless otherwise provided therein or secured under the law under which the corporation was formed, all the rights of a member in the corporation, or in its property, shall cease on death or other termination of his membership.

No member may transfer his membership or any right arising therefrom, unless it is so provided in the articles or by-laws.

Voting

603. Voting. Unless otherwise provided in the articles or by-laws every member of a nonprofit corporation shall be entitled to one vote and may vote or act by proxy. The manner of voting may be by ballot, mail or any reasonable means provided in the articles or by-laws. No member may cumulate his votes unless it is so provided in the articles or by-laws.

Membership certificates.

604. Membership certificates. A nonprofit corporation shall not issue shares of stock, but membership in such corporation may be evidenced by certificates. Upon the face of such certificates there must be printed in clear type a statement that the corporation is not one for profit.

Liability of directors and members

605. Liability of directors and members. Neither the members nor directors of a nonprofit corporation shall be personally liable for the debts, liabilities or obligations of the corporation.

Meetings

605a. Meetings. Meetings of members or directors of nonprofit corporations shall be called and held as may be ordered by the directors, or as may be provided in the articles or by-laws.

Incorporation of unincorporated associations.

605b. Incorporation of unincorporated associations. If an unincorporated association is incorporated hereunder, the members thereof shall be members of the corporation so created, unless they file their dissent in writing with the secretary thereof.

Supervision by attorney general.

605c. Supervision by attorney general. A nonprofit corporation which holds property subject to any public or charitable trust shall be subject at all times to examination on behalf of the state to ascertain the conditions of its affairs and to what extent, if at all, it may fail to comply with trusts which it has assumed or may depart from the general purposes for which it is formed. Such right of examination shall pertain ex officio to the attorney general. In case of any such failure or departure the attorney general shall institute, in the name of the state, the proceedings necessary to correct the same.

Application of general corporation law.

605d. Application of this title and of the general corporation law. A nonprofit corporation may amend its articles, or dispose of all or substantially all its assets, or it may be dissolved and/or wound up in the same manner and with the same effect as a stock corporation under the general corporation law existing at the time thereof.

Application of general nonprofit corporation law

The provisions of article one of this title, which shall be known as the general nonprofit corporation law, shall extend to all nonprofit corporations now existing or hereafter formed.

so far as applicable, unless there be a special statutory provision in relation to any class thereof inconsistent with the provisions of this title, in which case the special provision shall prevail.

The provisions of the general corporation law, title one of part four of division first of the Civil Code, as now existing or as hereafter amended, substituted, revised or added to, shall apply to corporations formed under this title, except as to matters specifically covered by this title. For this purpose the term "shareholder" or "holder of shares" shall include "member," and the term "shares" or "shares of stock" shall include memberships in nonprofit corporations.

Terms.

605e. Disposition of assets. Upon the dissolution or winding up of a nonprofit corporation, after paying or adequately providing for the debts and obligations of the corporation, the directors or persons in charge of the liquidation shall divide any remaining assets among the members in accordance with their respective rights therein; provided, however, that if the corporation holds its assets on any trust, such assets shall be disposed of in such manner as may be directed by decree of the superior court of the county in which the dissolved corporation had its principal office, upon petition filed for that purpose by the attorney general or any party concerned in the liquidation.

Disposition of assets.

Article II—Corporations Sole.

605g. Formation. A corporation sole may be formed hereunder by the bishop, chief priest, presiding elder or other presiding officer of any religious denomination, society or church, for the purpose of administering and managing the affairs and property of such religious organization.

Corporations sole Formation.

605h. Articles of incorporation. The articles of incorporation shall state:

Articles of incorporation.

1. The name of the corporation.
2. That the officer forming the corporation is duly authorized by the religious organization to take such action.
3. The county in this state where the principal office for the transaction of the business of the corporation is to be located.
4. The manner in which any vacancy occurring in the office of the bishop, chief priest, presiding elder or other presiding officer is required to be filled by the rules, regulations or constitution of the denomination, society or church.
5. If desired, any lawful provision for the regulation of the affairs of such corporation, including restrictions upon the power to amend all or any part of the articles of incorporation.

The articles shall be subscribed and verified by the bishop, chief priest, presiding elder or other presiding officer forming the corporation and shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing in his office. If they conform to law he shall file the same and place thereon an indorsement of the date of filing.

A copy of the articles of incorporation, certified by the secretary of state and bearing the indorsement of the date of filing in his office, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the corporation is to have its principal office

When filed, the articles or certified copies thereof shall have the same force and effect in evidence as do properly certified articles of other nonprofit corporations.

Perpetual existence
and powers

605i. Perpetual existence and powers. Upon the filing of the articles with the secretary of state the corporation sole shall be formed and shall have perpetual existence, notwithstanding vacancies in the incumbency thereof, and during the period of any such vacancy, such corporation shall have the same capacity and right to receive and take any gift, bequest, devise or conveyance of property, either as grantee for its own use, or as trustee, and to be or be made the beneficiary of a trust, as though there were no vacancy. No agency created by a corporation sole by a written instrument which in express terms provides that the agency thereby created shall not be terminated by a vacancy in the incumbency of such corporation, shall be terminated or affected by the death of the incumbent of such corporation or by a vacancy in the incumbency thereof, however caused.

Powers

A corporation sole shall have all the capacity and powers possessed by a natural person, and may take and hold by gift, purchase, devise or bequest any real or personal property and dispose of the same, subject, however, to the laws regulating the transfer of property by will.

Corporations
sole heretofore formed

605j. Corporations sole heretofore formed. Any corporation sole heretofore formed and existing under the laws of this state may elect to continue its existence hereunder by filing a certificate to that effect, under its corporate seal, if any, and the hand of its chief officer, or amended articles of incorporation in the form required herein; and from and after the filing of such certificate or amended articles, such corporation shall be entitled to all the privileges and subject to the duties, and provisions herein expressed.

Access to books

605k. Access to books. Any judge of the superior court in the county in which a corporation sole has its principal office shall at all times have access to the books of such corporation.

Amendment
of articles

605l. Amendment of articles. The chief officer of a corporation sole may at any time amend the articles of incorporation of said corporation by changing the name of said corporation or the term of its existence or its territorial jurisdiction or the manner of filling any vacancy in the office thereof, and may by amended articles of incorporation make provision for any act or thing for which provision is authorized in original articles of incorporation of corporations sole by any law of this state.

The chief officer of the corporation shall draft or have drafted and shall subscribe and verify a statement setting forth the provisions of the amendment and stating that such amendment has been duly authorized by the religious organization governed by the corporation.

The amendment shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing in his office and if it conforms to law he shall file the same and place thereon an indorsement of the date of filing. Thereupon the articles shall be deemed amended in the manner set forth in the statement.

A copy of the amendment, certified by the secretary of state and bearing the indorsement of the date of filing in his office, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the corporation has its principal office or in which it holds real property.

When filed, the amendment or certified copies thereof shall have the same force and effect in evidence as do properly certified articles of a nonprofit corporation.

605m. Dissolution. A corporation sole may be dissolved and its affairs wound up voluntarily as follows: Dissolution

1. The chief officer of the corporation shall execute, subscribe and verify a declaration of dissolution which shall set forth: the name of the corporation; the reason for its dissolution or winding up; that such dissolution has been duly authorized by the religious organization governed by the corporation sole and the name or names and address or addresses of the person or persons who are to supervise the winding up of the affairs of the corporation.

2. The declaration shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing in his office and if it conforms to law he shall file the same and place thereon an indorsement of the date of filing. Thereupon the corporation shall cease to carry on business, except for the purpose of adjusting and winding up its affairs.

A copy of the declaration certified by the secretary of state and bearing the indorsement of the date of filing in his office, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the corporation has its principal office.

605n. Disposition of assets. After the debts and obligations of the corporation are paid or adequately provided for any assets remaining shall be transferred to the religious organization governed by the corporation sole, or to trustees in its behalf, or disposed of as may be decreed by the superior court of the county in which the dissolved corporation had its principal office upon petition filed for that purpose by the attorney general or any person connected with the organization Disposition of assets.

606. Twenty-five or more persons may organize a nonprofit corporation for the purpose of receiving, acquiring, holding, managing, administering and expending property and funds for charitable and eleemosynary purposes, including the assistance and support of charitable and eleemosynary institutions, associations and undertakings. Nonprofit corporations for charitable and eleemosynary purposes

Such corporation shall, as an incident of its purpose and without any necessity for expressing the same in its articles Powers.

of incorporation, have the following powers which it may exercise in full measure without the necessity of obtaining any order of court of authorization, approval or confirmation:

Trustee.

1. To act as trustee under charitable and eleemosynary trusts, receiving, holding, managing, administering and expending property and funds in accordance with the respective trusts upon which the same are acquired and held.

Receipt,
management,
etc., of
property.

2. To receive, hold, manage, administer and expend property and funds upon the general charitable and eleemosynary trust that the same, either as to principal or income or both, shall be applied to the assistance and support of such charitable or eleemosynary institutions or objects, and at such times and to such extent as the corporation may in its judgment deem most conducive to the public welfare. No bequest, devise, gift or transfer of property or funds to such corporation for a charitable or eleemosynary purpose shall be invalid because of indefiniteness or uncertainty as to the purposes of the beneficiaries thereof, but, to the extent to which such indefiniteness or uncertainty exists, the same shall be resolved by the corporation in the manner which, in its judgment, is most consonant with the purpose of the donor and most conducive to the public welfare.

Taking property for charitable purposes.

3. Subject to the provisions of section 1313 of the Civil Code, to take property and funds by will, gift or otherwise and with or without specification of any charitable or eleemosynary purpose, but in case no charitable or eleemosynary purpose is specified, the property or funds so received shall, nevertheless, be held upon the trust that the same shall be used for charitable and eleemosynary purposes. Such corporation shall not have the power to take or hold property or funds for any purpose other than a charitable or eleemosynary one.

Property in own name.

4. To hold, in its own name and right, real and personal property of every nature and description without limitation as to extent, character or amount and with all the powers of control, management, investment, change and disposal incident to the absolute ownership of property or funds by a private person, subject only to the terms of particular trusts and to the general trust that all its properties and funds shall be held for charitable and eleemosynary purposes.

Borrowing
money.

5. To borrow money, either upon or without security, giving such promissory notes or other evidences of indebtedness and such pledges, mortgages or other instruments of hypothecation as it may be advised.

Officers and agents

6. To appoint and pay officers and agents to conduct and administer the affairs of the corporation, but no member of the board of trustees shall receive any compensation.

By-laws.

7. To adopt by-laws prescribing the duties of the officers and agents of the corporation, the detail of its organization, the time and manner of its meetings, and any and all detail incident to its organization and the efficient conduct and management of its affairs.

8. To do any and all things which a natural person might do necessary or desirable for the general purpose for which the corporation is organized.

Powers of natural person

The exercise of the powers of the corporation, with the right to delegate to officers and agents the performance of duties and the exercise of powers, shall be vested in a board of trustees of not less than nine nor more than twenty-five persons; provided, that the articles of incorporation may prescribe that the matter of controlling, managing, investing and disposing of the property of the corporation for the purpose of earning an income therefrom, as distinguished from the matter of applying property and funds to charitable and eleemosynary purposes, shall be exclusively in a finance committee consisting of not less than three members of the board, designated or appointed in some particular manner; and provided, also, that the matter of controlling, managing, investing and disposing of the property of the corporation for the purpose of earning an income therefrom may be delegated either in whole or in part to one or more trust companies or banks duly authorized to conduct a trust or banking business in this state.

trustees

The articles of incorporation shall specify how the trustees shall be chosen and their terms of office, which shall not exceed six years. It shall be permissible that some or all of the trustees be chosen by specified associations or corporations or by those who are officers thereof and by public officials. As the articles of incorporation may prescribe, the board of trustees may constitute the corporation, or the corporation may have a membership distinct from the board of trustees. In the latter case the by-laws shall prescribe the terms and qualifications of membership.

Trustees,
how chosen

The corporation shall be subject at all times to examination on behalf of the state to ascertain the condition of its affairs and to what extent, if at all, it may fail to comply with trusts which it has assumed or may depart from the general purpose for which it is formed. Such right of examination shall pertain ex officio to the attorney general. In case of any such failure or departure the attorney general shall institute, in the name of the state, the proceedings necessary to correct the same. Except as specially approved by the attorney general there shall be no accumulation of income by such corporation for a period longer than five years.

Examination
by state

The expenses of the corporation may be apportioned to the extent necessary against the various trust funds and property held by it, in the manner which seems just and equitable to the corporation, and the meeting of such expenses shall be deemed a charitable or eleemosynary purpose.

The articles of incorporation of each such corporation shall set forth:

Articles of incorporation.

(a) Its name;

(b) That it is a nonprofit corporation organized solely for general charitable and eleemosynary purposes under section 606 of the Civil Code of California;

(c) The county in this state where the principal office for the transaction of the business of the corporation is to be located;

(d) The number of trustees, their terms of office and how they are to be chosen;

(e) The names and residences of the members of the first board of trustees;

(f) Any other matter which it is provided herein may or should be set out in the articles of incorporation.

Saving clause

SEC. 2 This revision shall not affect the existence of any corporation heretofore formed, nor take away or impair any cause of action now existing against any corporation, its members, directors or officers, for any liability incurred prior to the time this act goes into effect.

Construction

In so far as this act does not add to, take from or alter any of the provisions of the title hereby revised it shall be construed as a continuation of such provisions.

Section headings herein contained shall not be taken to govern or limit the scope or meaning of the sections of this title

CHAPTER 872.

An act relating to deer-tight fences and providing for state cooperation in the construction thereof.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

State aid for deer-tight fences

SECTION 1 Any person who believes that his crops or growing trees are in danger of being damaged by deer, may apply to either member of a committee consisting of (1) the farm adviser, or if there be no farm adviser, then the agricultural commissioner, of the county, and (2) the nearest officer of the fish and game commission, to have the committee determine whether or not the likelihood of such damage and the agricultural character of the land covered by the crops or growing trees would justify the protection of said crops or growing trees by the construction of a deer-tight fence, to the cost of construction of which the state would contribute not over ninety cents a rod. If the committee can not agree, the inheritance tax appraiser for the county shall be added to the committee, and the decision of two members shall control. It is hereby made the duty of the officers named in this section to serve on the committee as herein provided.

Committee
to determine justification of deer-tight fences.

SEC. 2. If the committee herein described determines that the construction of the deer-tight fence is justified, it shall certify its decision to the state controller giving the name of the owner of the land and of the person whose crops or growing trees are involved, describing briefly the land covered by said crops or growing trees, giving the length in rods of the fence approved by the committee, and naming the amount, not exceeding ninety cents a rod, which said committee approves as the state's share of the cost of constructing the fence.

SEC. 3. A deer-tight fence is defined for the purpose of this act as a suitably enclosing fence at least eight feet high with six feet of woven wire surmounted by two strands of barbed wire, with good posts not over twelve feet apart, and with properly closing gates. Deer-tight fence defined

SEC. 4. When the fence is completed the committee herein described shall examine the same, and if it finds that the fence is deer-tight as herein defined, the person at whose expense the fence was built may present a claim to the state controller, verified by the committee, for a sum not exceeding ninety cents for each rod of fence built, nor exceeding the amount approved by the committee as the state's share in certifying its approval of the building of the fence. Claims arising under this act shall be payable in accordance with law out of any moneys in the fish and game preservation fund, not exceeding ten thousand dollars in any calendar year. The fish and game commission shall determine the priority of the approval of any application made hereunder. Claim against state

CHAPTER 873.

An act making an appropriation to pay the claim of W. R. Whyte against the State of California.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of thirteen thousand three hundred seventy-five dollars ($13,375) is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the claim of W. R. Whyte against the State of California. Special appropriation

CHAPTER 874.

An act to amend section 2322x51 of the Political Code, relating to the salary of the agricultural commissioner in counties of the fifty-first class.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SEC. 2. Section 258 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

258. The superior court of any city and county, and the superior court of every county having a population of nine hundred thousand inhabitants, or more, may appoint not exceeding eight commissioners, and the superior court of every other county in the state may appoint one commissioner, to assist said court in disposing of its business connected with administration of justice. Each person so appointed shall be designated as "court commissioner" of such county, or city and county, as the case may be. Every court commissioner must be a citizen of the United States, a resident of this state, and shall hold office during the pleasure of the courts appointing him. The judges of the superior courts of two or more counties may appoint the same person as court commissioner.

The appointment of a court commissioner shall be made by order entered in the minutes of the court.

SEC. 3. Section 261 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p 1411.

261. In any county or city and county having a population of nine hundred thousand or over in which the superior court shall appoint eight court commissioners, each commissioner shall receive a salary of forty-eight hundred dollars per annum. The salaries in this section provided for shall be paid in monthly installments out of the salary fund of the county or city and county, or if there be no salary fund, then out of such fund as other salary demands against the county or city and county are paid, and shall be allowed and audited in the same manner as other salary demands against said county or city and county are required by law to be allowed and audited. CHAPTER 877.

An act to provide for the funding and refunding of the indebtedness of, and for the issue and sale or exchange of funding bonds and the retirement of outstanding bonds of districts organized under and in pursuance of the acquisition and improvement act of 1925, and to provide for payment of such bonds and for proceedings to test the validity of the refunding proceeding, and for such funding or refunding to levy assessments and reassessments and enforce the liens thereof.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever the owners of all of the unpaid bonds issued for any acquisition and improvement district Refunding formed under the provisions of the "Acquisition and improvement act of 1925" and all of the owners of lands to be assessed to pay the principal and interest of said bonds shall in writing filed with the legislative body which conducted the proceedings for the acquisition or improvement, or the acquisition and improvement, in which said bonds were issued, agree that said bonds and any unpaid loans to the interest and sinking fund of said district may be refunded as in this act provided, then such legislative body, if it shall find that the public interest, convenience and necessity require that said unpaid bonds and unpaid loans be refunded, shall proceed to levy a reassessment upon said lands and to issue new bonds for the refunding of such unpaid bonds and unpaid loans, all as in this act provided. Said agreement shall state the period over which said refunding bonds shall extend.

Definitions.

The words "unpaid bonds" as used in this act, shall be deemed to include all unpaid interest coupons of such bonds.

The words "unpaid loans" or "unpaid loans to the interest and sinking fund of said district" as used in this act, shall be deemed to mean all sums transferred from the general fund of the county or municipality to the interest and sinking fund of said district under the authority of that portion of section 41 of said acquisition and improvement act of 1925 which substantially states that the amount of money so transferred "shall be deemed a loan to said interest and sinking fund," which have not been repaid.

The words "owners of land" or "landowners" as used in this act, shall include a trustee of an express trust in land, other than as security for the payment of money, of the land held in such trust, a trustee in bankruptcy of the lands of the bankrupt, a guardian of the lands of his ward, and an executor or administrator of the lands comprising the estate of the decedent, and any of such persons is authorized to sign any agreement or petition provided for in this act.

SEC. 2. Whenever twenty per cent or more of the interest payable in any one calendar year, or twenty per cent or more of the principal payable in any one calendar year, upon bonds issued for any district formed under the provisions of the acquisition and improvement act of 1925 is due and unpaid because of the delinquency of all or any portion of the property assessed to pay such principal or such interest, or both, and such principal or such interest has been due and unpaid for a period of at least thirty days, the legislative body which conducted the proceedings for the issuance of such bonds may determine that the public interest, convenience and necessity require that the unpaid bonds of such district and any unpaid loans to the interest and sinking fund of said district be refunded and that it is the intention of said legislative body to refund the same, and that a reassessment for the refunding of such bonds and loans be made and levied as in this act provided; provided, however, that no such bonds or loans may be refunded or a reassessment for the refunding thereof be made unless and until all owners of the unpaid bonds of said district have filed with said legislative body an agreement in writing assenting to the refunding of such bonds and loans and the making of said reassessment, and stating the names of the person or persons to whom the refunding bonds and any moneys collected on the reassessments or in the interest and sinking fund of said district shall be paid and delivered and the amount and proportions in which the same shall be paid and delivered. Said legislative body shall also state in the resolution declaring its intention to refund said unpaid bonds and unpaid loans the period over which said refunding bonds shall extend. After said legislative body has declared its intention to refund such unpaid bonds and unpaid loans and the owners of such unpaid bonds have agreed in writing to such refunding, no payment of delinquent assessments thereafter shall deprive said legislative body of jurisdiction to proceed with said refunding, and notwithstanding the payment thereafter of any or all of such delinquent assessments said legislative body shall proceed to refund all unpaid bonds of said district and all such unpaid loans as in this act provided.

SEC. 3. Whenever the owners of a majority of the area of the lands to be assessed to pay the principal and interest of bonds issued for any acquisition and improvement district formed under the provisions of the acquisition and improvement act of 1925 file with the legislative body which conducted the proceedings for the issuance of said bonds a petition requesting that the unpaid bonds of said district and any unpaid loans to the interest and sinking fund of said district be refunded in accordance with the provisions of this act, said legislative body may determine that the public interest, convenience and necessity require that said bonds and loans be refunded and that a reassessment for the refunding of such bonds and loans be made and levied as in this act provided; and may proceed to levy a reassessment and issue refunding bonds as in this act provided; provided, however, that no such bonds or loans may be refunded or a reassessment for the refunding thereof made unless and until all owners of the unpaid bonds of said district have filed with said legislative body an agreement in writing assenting to the refunding of such unpaid bonds and unpaid loans and the making of said reassessment, and stating the names of the person or persons to whom the refunding bonds and any moneys collected on the reassessments or in the interest and sinking fund of said district shall be paid and delivered and the amount and proportions in which the same shall be paid and delivered. When fifty per cent or more of the special assessment tax levied in any year for the payment of the interest or the principal and interest of outstanding bonds of any district formed under the provisions of said acquisition and improvement act is delinquent and has been delinquent for at least ninety days if said legislative body determines that the public necessity, convenience and interest require the refunding of the unpaid bonds and unpaid loans of such district, it shall proceed therewith as provided in this act; provided all owners of the unpaid bonds of said district file the agreement in writing provided in this action. And if, in such case of fifty per cent or more unpaid special assessment tax, the owners of a majority in area of the lands upon which the special assessment tax was levied petition for such refunding and all owners of unpaid bonds file their said agreement assenting thereto, such legislative body shall proceed with such refunding and reassessment under the provisions of this act. If seventy-five per cent or more of said special assessment tax levied in any year upon the lands in any such district is delinquent and has been delinquent for at least ninety days, said legislative body shall proceed to refund the unpaid bonds and unpaid loans of such district under the provisions of this act and to levy the reassessment therefor; provided all owners of the unpaid bonds of such district file the agreement in writing provided in this section. In its resolution determining that the public interest, convenience and necessity require the refunding of such bonds and loans, said legislative body shall also state the period over which the refunding bonds shall extend.

Where district lies within a municipality

SEC. 4 If in any case the acquisition and improvement district for which the bonds are to be refunded lies entirely within a municipality, all agreements and petitions to be filed with a legislative body under sections 1, 2 and 3 of this act shall be filed with the legislative body of such municipality, and such legislative body shall conduct the refunding proceedings notwithstanding that it may not be the legislative body which conducted the original proceedings for the issuance of the bonds of said district. If in any case the assessment district lies entirely within the unincorporated territory of the county, said agreements and petitions shall be filed with the legislative body of the county and it shall conduct such refunding proceedings notwithstanding that the original proceedings for the issuance of bonds of said district were not conducted by said legislative body. In any case in which the assessment district lies within two or more municipalities, or partly within unincorporated territory of a county and partly within one or more municipalities, the legislative body which conducts the refunding proceedings shall obtain the consent of the legislative body or bodies of the other municipality or municipalities or county in which part of the district lies to the refunding of said unpaid bonds and unpaid loans and the levying of a reassessment therefor. Such consent shall be expressed by resolution, a certified copy of which shall be filed with the legislative body which conducts the refunding proceedings, prior to the order or direction to prepare a diagram of the property to be reassessed. It is the intent of this section that in all cases of annexation of territory to municipalities or consolidation of municipalities or exclusions of territory from municipalities or the dissolution of municipalities, the authority, powers, duties and obligations which would, under this act, have been vested in or imposed upon the legislative body which conducted the original proceedings for the issuance of the bonds of the acquisition and improvement district shall be and are vested in and shall be exercised by the legislative body which by reason of such consolidation, annexation, exclusion or dissolution is the successor of said legislative body which conducted the original proceedings.

SEC. 5 If the refunding proceedings are to be conducted by the legislative body of a city, said legislative body shall direct the city engineer, or some other competent person who shall be designated "engineer of work," to prepare a diagram of the property included within the district to be assessed to pay the principal and interest of said unpaid bonds; and if the refunding proceedings are to be conducted by the legislative body of a county, said legislative body shall direct the county surveyor to prepare such diagram. If in the original proceedings for the formation of said district and the issuance of bonds thereof, any lots, pieces or parcels of land therein were excepted from the levy of the special assessment tax to pay the principal and interest of said bonds, said lots, pieces and parcels of land shall be shown upon said diagram but no reassessment shall be levied thereon. Said diagram shall show each separate lot, piece or parcel of land in said district and the dimensions of each said lot, piece or parcel of land and the relative location of the same to the work done or to the acquisition made, or to both said work and acquisition if the original proceedings included both acquisition and improvement. When said diagram is completed, the county surveyor, if the legislative body of the county conducts the refunding proceedings, or the superintendent of streets if the legislative body of the city conducts the refunding proceedings, shall proceed to make the reassessment as herein provided.

The total amount for which said reassessment shall be made shall include the principal amount of all bonds issued for said district in the original proceedings, with interest thereon at the rate stated in such bonds from the date of such bonds to the date of the hearing on the reassessment, as stated in the notice of hearing provided in section 9 hereof. and the estimated expenses of the reassessment and refunding proceedings which shall include the expense of making the reassessment and of issuing the refunding bonds. The person or persons to whom the cash amounts collected upon the reassessments are to be paid, and to whom the refunding bonds are to be delivered, shall pay to the city treasurer or the county treasurer, as the case may be, the amount of such estimated expenses of the proceedings prior to or concurrently with receiving such refunding bonds or cash collected.

Said reassessment shall be made upon all such lots, pieces or parcels of land within the assessment district, as were to be assessed under the original proceedings to pay the principal and interest of the bonds issued therein and the total amount to be reassessed shall be apportioned upon said lots, pieces or parcels of land in proportion to the assessed value thereof, as shown by the city assessment roll (if said roll would be the basis for the levy and computation of the special assessment tax to be levied to pay the principal and interest of such bonds), or by the county assessment roll (if said roll would be the basis for the levy and computation of the special assessment tax to be levied to pay the principal and interest of such bonds), last equalized at the date of the hearing on the reassessment as specified in the notice provided for in section 9 hereof. If the assessment district was divided into zones and percentages were fixed for such zones, then the total amount to be reassessed shall be apportioned among the respective zones in accordance with the percentages fixed for such zones, and upon the lands within any zone in accordance with the assessed value of said lands as shown upon said assessment roll. In any case in which a lot, piece or parcel of land upon which a reassessment is to be levied is not assessed as a separate parcel upon said assessment roll, upon request of the county surveyor or of the superintendent of streets, as the case may be, the city assessor or the county assessor, as the case may be, shall make and file with said superintendent of streets or county surveyor, an assessed value for such parcel and such assessed value shall be subject to objection or protest and to change or modification at the hearing herein provided and as made or as changed at such hearing shall be deemed the assessed value of such parcel for the purpose of the reassessment and refunding proceedings, and the reassessment shall be apportioned upon such parcel in proportion to such assessed value. The reassessment apportioned as in this act provided is hereby determined to be in accordance with the benefits derived and to be derived from the acquisition or improvement or acquisition and improvement to pay the costs and expenses of which the bonds to be refunded were issued.

SEC. 6. When said reassessment has been made upon the various lots, pieces and parcels of land to be reassessed, there shall be credited upon such reassessment any sum paid for any lot, piece or parcel of land upon assessments theretofore levied to pay the principal and interest of bonds of said district. In case any such lot, piece or parcel of land was a portion of a larger parcel of land for which a payment was made, the portion of such payment to be credited to said smaller lot, piece or parcel of land shall be the proportion of such payment that the assessed value of said smaller lot, piece or parcel of land bears to the total assessed value of all of the parcels which comprised said larger parcel of land, as said assessed value is shown upon the aforesaid assessment roll, or as made by the city assessor or county assessor under the provisions of section 5 of this act. In any case not covered by the foregoing provisions if, in order to credit to any smaller lot, piece or parcel of land its proportion of a payment for a larger parcel of land of which said smaller parcel of land formed a part, it is necessary to make an assessed value for any parcel or parcels of land, whether within or without the district, at the request of the county surveyor or of the superintendent of streets, as the case may be, the city assessor or the county assessor. as the case may be, shall make and file with the said superintendent of streets or county surveyor an assessed value for such parcel, and such assessed value shall be subject to objection or protest and to modification or change at the hearing herein provided and as made or as changed or modified shall be deemed the assessed value of such parcel for the purpose of the reassessment and refunding proceedings

SEC. 7. The lots, pieces and parcels of land upon which such reassessment shall be levied shall include all parcels of lands in the assessment district upon which an assessment would have been levied to pay the principal and interest of the bonds issued in the original proceedings, and shall include all public property in such district that may lawfully be assessed under the provisions of the acquisition and improvement act of 1925 and that was not omitted in the resolution of intention adopted in the original proceedings for the issuance of the bonds which are to be refunded.

Lands to be reassessed

SEC. 8. Said reassessment need not be in any particular form, but shall briefly refer to the district for which said reassessment is to be made by its number or other suitable designation, and shall contain a brief reference to the work or improvement done or acquisition made, or both if both were included in one proceeding, and shall show the total amount for which said reassessment shall be made. Such reassessment shall also show the amount of each reassessment against each lot, piece or parcel of land and the description thereof, and shall have attached thereto a plat or diagram showing the public way or public property, right of way or easement on which any of said work was done or which was acquired in the proceedings, or both, and the relative location of each such lot, piece or parcel of land to such work done or acquisition made, or both, and each such lot, piece or parcel of land shall be numbered to correspond with the numbers of the reassessments. Said reassessment shall also show the sum or sums credited upon any reassessment for any lot, piece or parcel of land and the net amount of the reassessment to be levied against, and to constitute a lien upon, any such lot, piece or parcel of land said reassessment shall be filed with the clerk of the legislative body.

What reassessment shall show.

SEC. 9. When said reassessment has been filed with the clerk, the legislative body shall direct said clerk to give notice of the filing of said reassessment and of a time and place when and where all persons interested in such reassessment will be heard by said legislative body. Such notice shall be substantially in the following form (filling blanks):

Filing of reassessment

Form of notice of hearing

Notice of hearing on proposed reassessment for refunding of unpaid bonds and unpaid loans of acquisition and improvement district No. _____ of the (city or county) of _____.

Notice is hereby given that a reassessment for the refunding of the unpaid bonds and unpaid loans of the above-entitled district has been filed with the clerk of the _____ (naming the legislative body) of _____ (city or county) of _____, and may be examined by any person interested. The work and improvement or acquisition or both (use whichever of the foregoing words applies) to pay the costs and expenses of which said bonds were issued, is described in general terms as follows: (Here insert a statement in general terms of the location and extent of the work and improvement or acquisition, or both, as stated in the resolution of intention in the original proceedings, and refer to said improvement or acquisition in place).

The district of the lands benefited by said _____ (work and improvement or acquisition, or both) is described in general terms as follows: (Here insert description in general terms of the district as shown upon the plat or diagram attached to the reassessment, excepting therefrom any lands not to be reassessed).

Reference is hereby made to the diagram contained in said reassessment for the extent of said assessment district, and said diagram shall govern for all details as to the extent thereof. Said diagram shows each lot, piece or parcel of land reassessed, and said reassessment shows the amounts proposed to be reassessed upon each such lot, piece or parcel of land.

Notice is further given that it is proposed to levy said reassessment for the refunding of said unpaid bonds and unpaid loans of said district. The total amount of the proposed reassessment is the sum of $ _____. The sum of $ _____ has been paid upon the annual special assessment taxes levied upon the lands in the district and is credited upon such reassessment to the respective parcels of land for which same was paid. The amounts to be paid upon the reassessment proposed to be levied are in the total sum of $ _____.

Notice is further given that on the _____ day of _____, 19____, at the hour of _____ o'clock ____m., at the chambers of the _____ (designating the legislative body) of the _____ (city or county) in the city of _____, is the time and place the said _____ (designating the legislative body) will hold the hearing upon said reassessment. Protests or objections to said reassessment, or to any proceedings taken in said matter, or to any part thereof, or to any specific reassessment, upon any ground whatsoever, may be filed in writing with the clerk of _____ (designating the legislative body) at or before the time of said hearing. Upon the confirmation and recording of said reassessment the respective amounts reassessed shall be immediately due and payable. The reassessment proceedings are under, and serial bonds shall be issued in the manner and form provided in (here set out the title of this act) to represent each reassessment remaining unpaid after the expiration of thirty days from the date of recording said reassessment. Such bonds shall bear interest at the rate of ----- per cent from the date of recording of such reassessment and shall be payable in ----- installments extending over a period of ----- years from the second day of January next succeeding the fifteenth day of the next November following their date.

SEC. 10 If the legislative body of a city is conducting the proceedings for such refunding, said notice shall be published by at least two insertions in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in such city, and if there is no newspaper of general circulation published in such city, then in a newspaper published in the county in which said city lies. If the legislative body of a county is conducting such proceedings for refunding, said notice shall be published by at least two insertions in a newspaper of general circulation published in said county. Copies of such notice shall also be posted upon all open streets within the district of lands proposed to be reassessed. Such notices shall be not more than three hundred feet in distance apart and not less than three of such notices shall be posted. The heading upon such posted notices shall be in letters at least one-half inch in height. The posting and publication of such notices must be completed at least fifteen days prior to the date of hearing stated in such notice. The affidavits of publication and posting shall be filed in the office of the clerk of said legislative body.

SEC. 11. Protests or objections to the said reassessment or to any of the reassessments upon the respective lots, pieces or parcels of land reassessed or to any action or determination in the making of said reassessment or in the proceedings for said reassessment and refunding, including objections to the amounts of the reassessments, to the credits allowed upon the various parcels of land for which payments have been made or to the validity or legality of any of the proceedings for said reassessment and refunding may be made in writing and filed with the clerk of said legislative body at or before the time fixed for the hearing on said reassessment. Such protests or objections may be made by any person interested in the reassessment and refunding proceedings. It is the intent of this section that protests or objections upon any ground whatsoever may be made as provided by this section. Such protests or objections need not be in any particular form, but if protest against or objection to the regularity or legality of the proceedings for the reassessment or refunding is made, such protest must clearly set forth the particular alleged irregularities or invalidities. Any objection or protest upon any ground whatsoever not made at the time and in the manner hereinbefore provided shall be deemed to be waived voluntarily by any person who might have made such a protest or objection, and the proceedings for the said reassessment and refunding may not thereafter be attacked upon any ground not stated in an objection or protest so filed, and any landowner or any person otherwise interested in any lands within the said district or in the reassessment and refunding proceedings shall be estopped to attack the said reassessment and refunding proceedings upon any ground not stated in a protest filed by him in accordance with the provisions of this section. At the time fixed for the hearing any person interested may appear and be heard upon any of the matters set forth in his protest or objection. Protests and objections may be taken up in such order as the legislative body deems advisable and any evidence offered thereon by any property owner or person otherwise interested in the proceedings for said reassessment and refunding shall be heard by said legislative body. Said legislative body may also hear any evidence offered in support of the said reassessment and refunding proceedings. The determination of said legislative body upon any of the matters presented in any of said protests or objections and upon all matters involved in said reassessment and refunding proceedings and upon the reassessment shall be final and conclusive. Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time by an order entered upon the minutes of the legislative body, provided that the hearing must be finally completed within sixty days from the date thereof stated in the published notice of hearing. At the said hearing said legislative body shall have power to revise, correct or modify the said reassessment in such manner as may be just and in accordance with the facts in respect of the property to be reassessed, the amounts of the respective reassessments, the credits allowed for the various parcels of land for which payments have been made, the incidental expenses of said reassessment and refunding proceedings and any other matter affecting the regularity or validity of said reassessment. Said reassessment may be confirmed as filed or as revised, corrected or modified. Confirmation of said reassessment shall be made by resolution of the legislative body entered upon its minutes and such resolution shall declare the findings of said legislative body. If no changes are made in any of the matters contained in said reassessment, it shall be sufficient in said resolution to declare that said reassessment is confirmed, but if any changes are made such changes shall be mentioned in said resolution of confirmation and said resolution shall declare that the said reassessment as revised, corrected or modified by the said changes is confirmed. Said legislative body shall also have power at said hearing to correct any of its previous actions, determinations, resolutions or orders and any of the proceedings for the reassessment and refunding. Any resolution confirming the said reassessment as filed, or as revised, corrected or modified, shall also determine that the reassessment and refunding proceedings have been regularly and legally taken. The findings and determinations of said legislative body upon all matters herein mentioned and upon all matters in connection with said reassessment and refunding proceedings shall be final and conclusive upon all persons and in all actions or proceedings as to all matters expressly found and determined and as to the regularity and sufficiency of the reassessment and refunding proceedings, and said resolution confirming the said reassessment shall be conclusive evidence that said reassessment and all proceedings prior thereto are valid and sufficient. No defect in the form of such reassessment and no omission, failure or neglect of, or action or determination of any officer, body or person in the reassessment and refunding proceedings and no error in the amounts to be reassessed upon any of the lots, pieces or parcels of land and no error in the amounts of the credits upon said reassessments shall invalidate the said reassessment or any of the reassessments therein contained, and each of the reassessments in said reassessment shall become a lien upon the property upon which the same is levied, notwithstanding any error, defect or omission therein or in any of the proceedings therefor and notwithstanding that the proceedings for the making of said reassessment are not in full conformity with the requirements of this statute, and any action or determination necessary or convenient in the making of said reassessment or reassessment proceedings not expressly set forth in this statute is hereby authorized and the same when made shall be valid and sufficient.

SEC. 12 If the refunding proceedings are conducted by the legislative body of a city, said reassessment as confirmed shall be recorded with the superintendent of streets of said city. If the refunding proceedings are conducted by the legislative body of a county, said reassessment as confirmed shall be recorded with the county surveyor of said county. When so recorded, the several amounts reassessed upon the lots, pieces or parcels of land in said reassessment shall be a lien thereon as of the date of such recordation. Such lien shall continue until said reassessment and all interest and penalties thereon are paid or until it is discharged of record. Such lien shall be subordinate to all special assessment liens imposed upon the same property prior to the date of such recordation, but the lien of said reassessment shall be superior to and have priority over all special assessment liens created against the same property subsequent to the date of such recordation. Any foreclosure of said reassessment lien or sale of property for said lien shall convey the said property to the purchaser free and clear of all encumbrances, except general taxes and special assessment liens imposed upon the same property which are by the terms of this section expressly made superior to said reassessment lien. From and after the date of the said recording of said reassessment all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents thereof. The amounts assessed in said reassessment shall be payable to the said superintendent of streets or county surveyor with which said reassessment is recorded, and said superintendent of streets or county surveyor is authorized to receive the amount due upon any reassessment and give a good and sufficient discharge therefor, provided a bond has not been issued to represent such reassessment. The officer with which said reassessment is recorded shall give notice by publication for ten days in a daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county in which the lands reassessed lie or by three successive insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed in such county that said reassessment has been recorded in his office and that all sums assessed therein became due and payable upon the recordation of said reassessment, stating the date of such recordation and that the payment of the said sums is to be made to him within thirty days after the date of such recordation. Said notice shall also contain a statement that for any assessment not paid before the expiration of said thirty days, a bond will issue in the manner and form provided in this act and shall state the period over which said bond or bonds shall extend and the rate of interest which shall be payable thereon. Notice shall also be given by mailing a post card to the owner of each lot, piece or parcel of land reassessed according to the name and address appearing on the last equalized assessment roll for county taxes prior thereto or as known to the superintendent or surveyor; provided that a failure of the superintendent or surveyor to give such notice by mailing or of the person addressed to receive the same shall not affect the validity of the proceedings or the validity of the lien of any reassessment or of any bond issued thereon. Upon payment of any reassessment, the superintendent of streets or the county surveyor with which the said reassessment is recorded shall mark upon the said reassessment note of the said payment and shall cancel the said reassessment, and upon request, said superintendent of streets or county surveyor shall also give a receipt to the person paying the said reassessment. Any reassessment upon public property shall be paid by the officer or board having charge of the disbursement of the funds of the owner of such property, and said reassessment shall be an enforceable obligation against the owner of or the governing body controlling the said property. If for any reason there are no moneys available for the payment of said reassessment, then the board or officer whose duty it is to levy taxes for the said owner of said public property shall include in the next tax levy an amount, in addition to moneys for all other purposes, sufficient to pay said reassessment and the interest thereon from the date the reassessment is recorded at the rate to be stated in the refunding bonds, and when the moneys received from said tax levy are available, said reassessment and such interest thereon shall be paid by the officer or board having charge of the disbursement of the funds of the owner of such land. Any reassessment upon public property not in use in the performance of a public function may be foreclosed in the manner provided in section 27 of the "Improvement act of 1911" as amended; provided, however, that the notice to be given upon the tax bill need not be given or made and that such action may be brought at any time after thirty days after the recording of such reassessment, and in any such foreclosure action the said reassessment and diagram with proof of nonpayment shall be prima facie evidence of the right of plaintiff to recover in the action. Said action shall be brought in the name of the city or county the legislative body of which levied said reassessment upon the request of any person entitled to any portion of the moneys to be derived from said reassessment. The person requesting that said foreclosure action be brought must advance the plaintiff's costs and expenses thereof and said action may be brought by any competent attorney appointed by the legislative body which levied said reassessment. In any case in which the reassessment is levied by the legislative body of a county, the same shall be foreclosed as hereinbefore provided, except that the various officers designated in said section 27 shall be the corresponding county officers as designated in the county improvement act of 1921 as amended. No refunding bond shall issue against public property, and the list of unpaid reassessments to be filed with the treasurer shall not include any unpaid reassessment upon public property.

SEC. 14. After the full expiration of thirty days from the date of recording said reassessment, the superintendent of streets, if the reassessment was recorded with him, shall make and certify to the city treasurer a complete list (except for reassessments upon public property) of all reassessments therein unpaid. If the reassessment was recorded with the county surveyor said county surveyor shall make and certify to the county treasurer a complete list (except for reassessment upon public property) of all reassessments therein unpaid. The principal of each of said unpaid reassessments

on said list shall thereafter become due and payable to the treasurer with whom said list is filed in equal annual payments on the fifteenth day of each November succeeding the recordation of the reassessment until fully paid. The number of said annual payments shall correspond to the number of serial payments provided to be made on the principal of the bonds issued to represent said unpaid reassessments. The interest on said unpaid reassessments shall be payable on each fifteenth day of May and November succeeding the recordation of such reassessments, the last interest payment coming due forty-five days before the last annual payment of the principal of the bonds issued to represent said unpaid reassessments. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid at the office of the said treasurer, who shall keep a fund designated by the name of said bonds into which he shall place all sums paid him for the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon, together with all penalties thereon, and from which he shall disburse such sums upon the presentation of the interest and principal coupons, and under no circumstances shall said bonds or the interest thereon be paid out of any other fund. Said treasurer shall keep a register in his office which shall show the series number, date, amount, rate of interest, payee and indorsees of each bond and the number and amount of each coupon of principal or interest paid by him, and shall cancel and file each coupon so paid. An even annual proportion of the principal sum of each bond shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January every year after the fifteenth day of the next November following their date until the whole of said principal is paid.

Payment to owners of

bonds.

SEC. 15. All moneys collected on the reassessments, all moneys in the interest and sinking fund of the district for which the bonds are refunded, and all refunding bonds shall be paid and delivered to the owners of the original bonds as provided in their agreement or assent on file with the legislative body; provided, however, that prior to said payment and delivery or concurrently therewith, said bond owners must pay to said legislative body the incidental expenses of the refunding proceedings as stated in the reassessment and all unpaid loans which are refunded in such proceedings and deliver up the unpaid refunded bonds for cancellation, and same shall forthwith be canceled. When the said payments are made and refunding bonds delivered as provided in said agreement or assent, all unpaid special assessment taxes levied to pay principal and interest of the bonds refunded and all penalties and interest thereon shall be deemed canceled and annulled, and the clerk of the legislative body which conducted such refunding proceeding, shall notify the proper city officials or the proper county officials or both as the case may be that the bonds of said district have been refunded and that said special assessment taxes, penalties and interest are canceled and annulled, and such officials shall thereupon proceed to make the necessary entries, showing the cancellation thereof.

SEC 16. The said treasurer shall, at least fifteen days before each respective fifteenth day of May and November until the said reassessments be paid in full, mail, postage prepaid, to each owner of property described in said reassessment at his last known address as it appears upon the tax rolls of said city or county, as the case may be, a postal card notifying him of the amount due and the date when payment is due from him on said reassessment, and stating that said payment is subject to penalty if not paid on or prior to the due date of the coupons; provided that the failure of the said treasurer to mail said cards or the failure of the property owner to receive the same shall in nowise affect the validity of any penalty or invalidate any act or proceeding. Should any payment of principal of said unpaid assessments or of interest thereon be not paid on the date upon which the coupon or coupons representing it are payable, the said treasurer shall, after the close of business on said due date, add to the amount of principal or interest so delinquent a penalty of five per cent of the total amount of such delinquency, and at the beginning of business on the first day of each succeeding month, until such delinquent payment and all penalties thereon be fully paid, he shall add an additional penalty of one per cent of the amount of such delinquency, and said treasurer shall collect such penalties with and as a part of such delinquent payments

SEC 17. The treasurer shall, upon the filing of said list of unpaid assessments, make out, sign and issue to the owners of said unpaid bonds as provided in the agreement or assent on file a separate bond representing upon each lot, piece or parcel of land upon the list the net amount of the reassessment against the same as thereon shown. If said lot, piece or parcel of land is described upon said assessment and diagram by its number or block, or both, and is also designated by its number or block, or both, upon the official map of said municipality or upon any map on file in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said municipality is situated, or for which the legislative body conducting the reassessment proceedings is the board of supervisors, then it shall be in said bond a sufficient description of said lot, piece or parcel of land to designate it by said number or block, or both, as it appears on said official or recorded map. Each of said bonds shall bear interest at the rate stated in the original bond issue from the date of the recording of the reassessment until the said bond is fully paid, and coupons for the various payments of interest on each of said bonds to the date of the maturity of such bonds shall be attached to each such bond. Said bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

Acquisition and improvement district No.----- of the ----- (city or county) of ----- refunding bond.

No ----- Series ----- $-----

Under and by virtue of an act of the Legislature of the State of California entitled (here quote title of this act). I, out of the fund for the above designated acquisition and improvement district No ---- of the ----- (city or county) of ----- refunding bond, series -----, will pay to -----, or order, the sum of ----- dollars ($-----). with interest at the rate of ----- per cent per annum, all as is hereinafter specified, and at the office of the treasurer of the ----- of -----, State of California.

This bond is issued to represent a reassessment for the refunding of unpaid bonds (add, and unpaid loans, if any) in the matter of acquisition and improvement district No. ----- of the ----- (city or county) of ----- . Said reassessment is recorded in the office of the ----- (county surveyor or superintendent of streets). Its amount is the amount assessed in said reassessment against the lot or parcel of land numbered therein, and in the diagram attached thereto, as number -----, and which now remains unpaid, but until paid, with accrued interest, is a lien upon the property affected thereby, as the same is described herein and in said recorded reassessment with its diagram, to wit, the lot or parcel of land in said ----- (city or county) of -----, State of California, described as follows:

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund and neither the ----- (city or county) nor any officer thereof is to be holden for payment otherwise of its principal or interest. The term of this bond is ----- years from the second day of January next succeeding the fifteenth day of the next November following its date, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid shall be due and payable; but on the second day of January of each year following the fifteenth day of the next November, after its date, an even annual proportion of its whole amount is due and payable, upon presentation of the coupon therefor, until the whole is paid, with all accrued interest thereon at the rate of ----- per centum per annum.

Terms

Interest.

The interest is payable semiannually, to wit, on the second days of January and July in each year hereafter, upon presentation of the coupons therefor, hereto attached, the first of which is for the interest from date to the next school day of -----, and thereafter the interest coupons are for semiannual interest.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all proceedings, acts and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done and performed and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

This bond may be redeemed by the owner or any person interested in any lot or parcel of land described herein, in the manner provided in said act, at any time before maturity, and before commencement of proceedings for sale or foreclosure, upon payment to the ----- (city or county) treasurer, for the holder of this bond, of the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, with interest thereon calculated up to the due date of the next maturing interest coupon, and all penalties accrued and unpaid, together with interest for six months at the rate named in said bond.

Redemption
by owner.

Should default be made in the annual payment upon the principal, or in any payment of interest from the owner of said lot or parcel of land, or anyone in his behalf, the holder of this bond is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable, and to have said lot or parcel of land advertised and sold forthwith, in the manner provided by law, or the lien of the reassessment foreclosed. In case of such default, there shall be immediately added to such defaulted amount five per cent of the amount thereof, and on the first day of each month following such default there shall be added a further penalty of one per cent of such defaulted amount. The ----- (city or county) shall be entitled to one-half the penalty first imposed, namely, two and one-half per cent, and the other two and one-half per cent and all subsequent penalties shall be paid to the holder of the bond along with and as a part of such defaulted payment.

Sale upon default.

Dated at said ----- (city or county) of ----- ----- this ----- day of -----, in the year one thousand nine hundred and -----.

Treasurer of the ----- (city or county) of -----, State of California.

Said bonds shall be payable to the party to whom they issue, or order. Said bonds shall be dated as of the date of the recording of said reassessment and shall extend over a period not to exceed twenty-eight years from the second day of January next succeeding the fifteenth day of the next November following their date, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum of each bond shall be payable, by coupon, on the second day of January every year after the fifteenth day of the next November following their date, until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semiannually, by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year after their date, at the rate stated in the bonds to be refunded and if more than one issue of bonds is refunded in the same proceeding at the average rate of interest of all of the bonds to be refunded considering the rates of interest, the amounts of bonds and the maturities of such bonds; provided further, that such average rate shall be that whole number per cent or one-half per cent (such for example as five or five and one-half or six or six and one-half or seven or seven and one-half per cent), nearest to the actual average. In the absence of actual fraud the rate of interest fixed by said legislative body shall be final and conclusive. Upon any of such bonds dated after the fourteenth day of May of any year and on or before the fourteenth day of the following November, the first interest coupon shall become due and payable on the second day of the next succeeding January, and upon such bonds dated after the fourteenth day of November of any year and on or before the fourteenth day of the following May, the first interest coupon on said bonds shall become due on the second day of the next succeeding July. Said legislative body shall also determine the period over which the refunding bonds shall extend.

The said refunding bonds or any thereof shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of all of the proceedings for the issuance of such refunding bonds and the levying of the reassessment therefor and of the legality and validity of the lien of said reassessment

Records to be kept by treasurer

SEC. 18. The treasurer shall, in addition to his other duties, keep a record of all bonds issued by him, of all payments on said bonds with the dates thereof, and of all penalties accruing thereon, and he shall report all payments of coupons or penalties upon said bonds with the dates thereof to the superintendent of streets or the county surveyor, as the case may be, who shall forthwith indorse the same upon the margin of the record of the reassessment to the credit of which the same are paid, and until paid the said reassessment with accrued interest thereon and penalties, if any, shall be and remain a lien upon the property affected thereby and shall have priority and superiority as hereinbefore defined in this act. Whenever payment either upon the principal or of the interest upon any bond issued hereunder has not been made when the same has become due, the holder of the bond may foreclose the said bond as herein provided, or may demand in writing that the treasurer proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land described in said bond as hereinafter provided. The owner of or any person interested in any lot, piece or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued under the terms of this act may at any time before commencement of proceedings for sale or foreclosure, pay off such bond and discharge the land described in the bond from the lien of the reassessment by paying to the said treasurer for the holder of such bond the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, with interest thereon calculated up to the due date of the next maturing interest coupon at the rate named in the bond, and all penalties accrued and unpaid, together with interest for six months at the rate named in such bond. Upon such payment being made to the treasurer, he shall report the same to the superintendent of streets or the county surveyor, as the case may be, who shall forthwith mark paid on the margin of the record of the reassessment, the reassessment to represent which such bond was issued, and thereupon the lien of said reassessment shall cease and the treasurer shall forthwith notify the holder of the bond and call in the same. Said treasurer shall enter in his record of such bond the amount paid and the date of payment and upon the lien of the reassessment being extinguished, as aforesaid, shall cancel the said bond and file it in his office.

SEC. 19. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer one month prior to the date it is provided by law or by ordinance or charter of the municipality that taxes are due, or, in case taxes are collected by the county, for the city on or before the fourth Monday in September of each year to certify to the city tax collector, or, in case the city taxes are collected by the county, to the county tax collector, a list of the properties within said city upon which any payment either of principal or interest has not been paid when due upon any bond issued by said city treasurer under this act. The tax collector shall cause to be pasted or attached to or stamped or printed upon the tax bill or tax receipt a notice which shall in substance be as follows:

Notice of delinquency.

Notice of Delinquency.

There is a street improvement bond chargeable against this property, payment upon which is delinquent, which must be paid to the city treasurer without delay to avoid foreclosure.

In case the county collects city taxes, the notice herein provided to be attached to or pasted to the tax bill or tax receipt shall, if the county tax collector so requires, be prepared by the city treasurer and shall be forwarded to the county tax collector on or before the dates herein provided for forwarding said list, and the city treasurer shall, if the county tax collector so requires, stamp or attach said notices to the tax bill or receipt. If the refunding bonds are issued by the county treasurer, the county treasurer shall certify the list herein required to the proper tax collector and the notice shall show that payment is to be made to the county treasurer. In case the assessment district is partly within one or more cities and partly within unincorporated territory of the county or partly within two or more cities, the city or the county treasurer, whichever issued the refunding bonds, shall certify such delinquent list to the county tax collector who shall cause the said notice to be given.

SEC. 20. In the event of the nonpayment of any installment of the interest or principal and by way of a separate, distinct and cumulative remedy, the holder of any refunding bond upon which any payment either upon the principal or of the interest has become delinquent may, at any time after three months after the date it is provided by law or ordinance or charter of the city, the treasurer of which issued the bond, that taxes are due, or in case the bond was issued by the county treasurer or taxes are collected by the county for the city, at any time after four months next succeeding the fourth Monday of September, following the date of delinquency of principal or interest and prior to the expiration of four years after the due date of the last installment upon any bond or of the last principal coupon attached thereto, file and maintain a suit to foreclose the lien of the bond and recover the amount due thereon; provided, however, that suit may be brought at any time following the expiration of thirty days after the service of personal demand for payment as herein provided upon the owner of the premises. Such demand shall be served in the manner provided by law for the making of personal service of summons; if suit be brought costs for the service thereof shall be allowed in an amount equivalent to the fees prescribed by law for the service of summons. Said demand shall be in substantially the following form:

Demand for Payment of Street Improvement Bond.

Demand for payment

You are hereby notified that bond No. _____ series No. _____ for an improvement in the _____ (city or county) of _____ is delinquent. Unless the amount of the unpaid principal on said bond together with interest and penalties is paid to the _____ (city or county) treasurer on or before thirty days after the service on you of this demand, the date of such service being this _____ day of _____, 19____, the undersigned will institute suit to foreclose the lien of said bond in the manner prescribed by law.

Form of demand for payment

The complaint in such suit shall be sufficient if a true copy of the bond be therein set forth and appropriate allegations be made therein regarding the payments made upon the principal and interest of such bond. If personal demand for payment be made as herein provided the complaint shall so allege. Such suit shall be brought in the superior court within whose jurisdiction the city is by which the said bond has been issued or the superior court of the county, the treasurer of which issued the bond, and in case the owner of the lot, piece or parcel of land covered by said bond can not with due diligence be found, the service of summons in such action may be had in the manner prescribed in the codes and laws of this state.

Allegations of complaint

Evidence

The said bond, together with proof, either orally by the said treasurer of the said city or county or by a certificate signed by him showing the nonpayment of any of the principal or interest upon said bond, shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the plaintiff to recover in said action; provided, that if personal demand for payment be made proof of service of the demand as herein provided shall be required. The court in said suit shall have the power to adjudge and decree a lien against the lot or parcel of land covered by said bond and to cause said premises to be sold as in other cases of the sale of real estate by the process of said court to satisfy and discharge such bond and lien, and the amount of interest and penalties due shall be calculated in the same manner set forth in this act up to the date of the judgment. On appeal, the appellate courts shall have the same power to adjudge and decree a lien and order such premises to be sold as is conferred on the court from which an appeal is taken. The court having jurisdiction of said cause shall also fix and allow a reasonable attorney's fee for the prosecution of said suit.

The plaintiff in the suit may also recover the cost of any abstract or report of search of title procured in good faith, in order to determine ownership, such search to be by a reputable abstractor or title company, and such cost not to exceed five dollars per lot, and such abstract or report of search with affidavit of payment to be filed in the action. Costs

Such premises, if sold, may be redeemed as in other cases. Such action shall be governed and regulated by the provisions hereof, and also, when not in conflict herewith, by the codes of this state.

A written notice of the pendency of any action for recovery on a bond shall be filed with the treasurer. After the filing of such notice the treasurer shall not receive any money on account of said bond and he shall have no authority to cancel the entries on said bond in his register or give a discharge of said bond without the written consent of the owner thereof until judgment has been rendered in such action or the same has been dismissed. Lis pendens.

Should suit be brought for recovery on any bond prior to the time provided herein, the plaintiff shall not recover in such suit and the defendant in such suit shall be entitled to have and recover such attorney fees as the court may deem reasonable, in addition to all taxable costs.

SEC. 21. Whenever payment either upon the principal, or of the interest, upon any bond issued under this act has not been or shall not be made when the same has become, or shall become due, and the holder of the bond demands in writing that the treasurer proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land described in said bond as being that upon which the assessment represented by said bond was levied, then said treasurer shall proceed as provided in the next section. Advertisement and sale of property.

SEC. 22. The treasurer shall publish by two insertions in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the city in which said bond was issued, or if no newspaper is published in said city, then in some newspaper having general circulation therein, a notice which shall be substantially (filling in all blanks) as indicated following, to wit: In the matter of acquisition and improvement district No. ----- of the ----- (city or county) of ----- Publication of notice of sale

Notice of sale of property delinquent for nonpayment of refunding bond No. -----, series No. -----, issued for an ----- (acquisition or improvement or acquisition and improvement). Default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons (here fill in date and amounts of the coupon or coupons which have not been paid) and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the city treasurer of the city of ----- proceed to advertise and Form of notice.

sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in the said bond. Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the _____ day of _____, 193__, at the hour of _____ o'clock __m., of said day, sell at public auction the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary at (here state the place of sale, which shall be at the office of said treasurer or at some public place in said city) unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of the publication of this notice are paid; and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond, together with costs of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to wit: (here set forth the description of the lot or parcel of land as contained in the bond). The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof, $_____ dollars; due on account of interest, $_____ dollars (here set forth the interest calculated and compounded semiannually up to the day on which the notice is dated at the interest rate named in said bond upon the unpaid principal for the full period for which no interest has been paid); due on account of penalties, $_____ dollars. Total amount due on said bond (here set forth the total of the foregoing items).

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publications made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due accruing up to date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and one dollar for the issuing of certificate of sale. The _____ (here name newspaper) is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

Dated _____, 19___

Treasurer of the city of _____

The day named in the notice shall not be less than fifteen (15) days from the date of the first publication of the notice.

If the bond was issued by the county treasurer of a county, the county treasurer shall publish the aforesaid notice in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county, and wherever the words "city treasurer" or "treasurer of the city" appear in said notice such words shall be changed to "county treasurer" and "treasurer of the county," and wherever the word "city" appears in such notice, the word "county" shall be substituted therefor

Affidavit of publication

SEC. 23 An affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper in which the notice was published, or of someone in behalf of said publisher, setting forth a copy of the publication and stating that the publication was made in the said newspaper on specified dates shall be filed with the city treasurer or the county treasurer, as the case may be, and shall be primary evidence of the due publication of the notice.

SEC. 24. The treasurer shall collect the sum of one dollar ^{Sale.} as hereinbefore mentioned for the issuance of the certificate of sale, which sum shall belong to, and be subject to the disposition of the city or county, as the case may be; any person interested in the lot or parcel of land described in the notice of sale may at any time prior to the sale, pay the whole amount of principal of said bond remaining unpaid, the interest thereon compounded semiannually up to the date of such payment, at the rate named in said bond upon such amount of said principal remaining unpaid for the whole period for which interest has not been paid, and all penalties which have accrued, together with the cost of the publication of the notice of sale; in such event the payment being made, the bond shall be canceled; but if such payment be not made, the sale shall be made as advertised; the lot or parcel described in the bond shall be sold to the purchaser who shall take the least amount of said lot or parcel and pay all of the sums specified in the notice of sale given by the treasurer. In the event that through error or otherwise the total amount for which said sale shall be made is less than that which may be required by the provisions hereof, and the holder of the bond is the purchaser at the sale and elects to accept the certificate of sale hereinafter mentioned, or if he accepts from the treasurer such sum derived from said sale made to some other purchaser, then the fact that the sale may have been made for less than the amounts specified herein shall not affect or invalidate the sale, and such receipt of said certificate or said sum shall be a waiver on the part of the holder of said bond, and the said ^{Waiver by holder of bond} deficient amount of sale shall be the amount upon which redemption from the sale shall be calculated to all effects the same as if the sale had been made for the full amount authorized hereby

SEC. 25. The treasurer, before delivering any certificate, ^{Record of sale} must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number, and series of the bond, a description of the land sold corresponding with the description of the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, the amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margin of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the record of the bond the words, "Canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale.

SEC. 26. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall ^{Delivery of certificate} become vested with a lien on the property, so sold to him, to the extent of his bid, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the treasurer of the purchase money, including costs herein provided for, inclusive of moneys paid for taxes,

Recordation
of duplicate

street improvement assessments, or other tax or statutory lien or to redeem from sale as hereinafter specified, and the fee of the recorder for recording the certificate of sale, with interest thereon at the rate of one per cent per month from the date of sale; the treasurer shall issue for each sale an original and a duplicate certificate of sale reciting therein the date, number and series of the bond under which the sale was made, describing the land sold, and giving the date of sale, purchaser's name, amount paid, and the number of the certificate. He shall deliver the original certificate to the purchaser and shall record the duplicate in the office of the recorder of the county in which the land sold is situated. At any time after delivery to him by the treasurer of said certificate of purchase the legal holder thereof may pay any general taxes, street improvement assessments, or any other tax or statutory lien upon the property described in said certificate of purchase which may be prior to his or redeem said property from any sale made in collection or enforcement of such general taxes, foreclosing street improvement assessments or other tax or statutory lien and the treasurer, upon production by the holder of said certificate of purchase of the official receipt for the amounts so paid by him shall make an endorsement upon said certificate of purchase showing that said receipts have been so produced stating the nature of the lien paid, and the amount thereof and he shall make a like entry upon the book as provided in section 25 of this act, and shall collect the amount thereof as a part of the amount represented by said certificate of purchase together with interest thereon at the same rate as provided in the certificate of purchase.

Redemption

SEC. 27. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided; redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the treasurer he must mark the word "Redeemed," the date and by whom redeemed on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made, and credit the amount paid to the purchaser named in the certificate, and pay the same to such purchaser, or his assignee, upon the surrender of the certificate of sale, and upon satisfactory proof of an assignment thereof, if any.

Purchaser's deed

SEC. 28. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by section 27 hereof for its redemption, the treasurer, or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser or his assignee, must make to said purchaser, or his assignee, a deed to the property, reciting in the deed, substantially, the matter contained in the certificate, and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption; the treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the city or county treasury, as the case may be, for the use of the city or county after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignees, must, thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of the redemption, or thirty days before his application for a deed, serve upon the owner or agent of the property purchased, if named in such certificate, and upon the party occupying the property, if the property is occupied, a written notice, stating that said property or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the bond lien, the date of sale, the date, number, and series of the bond, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely, until such notice shall have been given and said deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties and costs in this act required. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the expiration of the time for redemption, or thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed; and no deed to the property sold, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be issued by the treasurer to the purchaser of such property, until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifty cents for his service of such notice and the making of said affidavit, which sum of fifty cents shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid.

SEC. 30. At any time within thirty days after the recording of the reassessment, any person interested in any of the bonds to be refunded or in any of the lands reassessed may bring an action in the superior court of the county the legislative body of which conducted the reassessment proceedings, or the county in which the city the legislative body of which conducted the reassessment proceedings lies, to determine the validity or invalidity of such reassessment. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Said summons shall contain a general description of the boundaries of the district of the lands upon which said reassessment is levied. Jurisdiction shall be complete within ten days after the full publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. Anyone interested may at any time before the expiration of said ten days appear and by proper proceedings contest the validity of such reassessment or uphold the same. Such action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Either party shall have the right to appeal to the supreme court at any time within thirty days after the rendition of such judgment, which appeal must be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking such appeal. The motion for a new trial of any such proceeding must be heard and determined within ten days from the filing of the notice of intention.

The court hearing the said proceeding, in inquiring into the regularity, legality or correctness of such reassessment, must disregard any error, irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said action or proceeding. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the Code of Civil Procedure which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act are applicable to the proceeding herein provided for. The costs of the legal proceedings provided for in this section may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or taxed to the losing party in the discretion of the court. After said reassessment has been recorded, it shall not be contested in any way other than at the time and in the manner specified in this section, and in any such action all findings, conclusions and determinations of the legislative body which conducted the reassessment proceedings shall be conclusive in the absence of actual fraud.

decree.

SEC. 31. If in any action or proceeding any reassessment or any refunding bond is held illegal or invalid, then the unpaid bonds refunded and for the refunding of which the reassessment was levied shall be deemed to be in full force and effect from the date of such final judgment or decree, and if said unpaid bonds have been canceled or destroyed, the proper officials of the city or county which issued the original bonds shall issue new bonds of the same tenor, force and effect as such canceled or destroyed unpaid bonds, and all of the provisions of the acquisition and improvement act of 1925 relative to the payment of bonds issued thereunder and the levy, collection and enforcement of special assessment taxes therefor shall apply to such unpaid bonds or to any bonds issued to replace such unpaid bonds. Until all unpaid bonds issued under the provisions of the acquisition and improvement act of 1925 for any district organized under said act have been fully paid or have been legally refunded under the provisions of this act, it shall be and remain the duty of the legislative body empowered and directed to levy the special assessment taxes for the payment of such bonds to proceed under the provisions of said acquisition and improvement act of 1925 as amended to levy the said taxes provided in said acquisition and improvement act of 1925 in accordance with the provisions of said act and said special assessment taxes shall be levied, collected and enforced as is provided in said act.

SEC. 32. This act and all of its provisions shall be liberally construed to the end that the purposes hereof may be made effective. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases thereof be declared unconstitutional.

Stats 1923, p. 1067, amended. An act to amend the act known as "Palo Verde irrigation district act," approved June 21, 1923, as amended, by amending section 28 thereof, relating to levy of taxes.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

See Ch. 51, Stats 1931. SECTION 1. Section 28 of an act known as "Palo Verde irrigation district act," approved June 21, 1923, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Annual tax levy

Sec. 28. On or before the first Monday after the eighteenth day of August of each year the board of trustees, taking as a basis the detailed statement required in section 26 of this act and the valuation of the lands and improvements thereon within the district and the personal property within said levee district in accordance with the district assessment roll, must levy a tax sufficient to raise the amount set forth in said detailed statement, which tax shall be levied as follows:

1. A rate shall be fixed for raising the amount necessary to meet the principal and the accruing interest on the outstanding bonds of said levee district, which said rate shall be levied upon and in accordance with the assessed value of the lands, improvements and personal property within the boundaries of said levee district.

2. A separate rate shall be fixed for raising the amount necessary for the maintenance, repair and operation of the levees constructed by said levee district, which said rate shall be levied upon and in accordance with the assessed value of the lands, improvements and personal property within the boundaries of said levee district.

3. A separate rate shall be fixed for raising the money necessary to meet the principal and accruing interest on the bonds of said drainage district, which said rate shall be levied upon and in accordance with the assessed value of all lands within said drainage district.

4. A separate rate shall be fixed for raising the amount necessary for maintenance, repair and operation of the drainage and reclamation system installed or constructed by said drainage district, which said rate shall be levied upon and in accordance with the assessed value of all lands within said drainage district.

5. A separate rate shall be fixed for raising the amount necessary to maintain, repair and operate the irrigation system of the district, which said rate shall be levied upon and in accordance with the assessed value of all lands within the boundaries of this district.

6. A separate rate shall be fixed for raising the amount necessary to meet the principal and accruing interest on the bonds of this district, which said rate shall be levied upon and in accordance with the assessed value of all lands and improvements thereon within this district.

7. A separate rate shall be fixed for raising all other amounts set forth in said detailed statement required in section 26 of this act, which said rate shall be levied upon and in accordance with the assessed value of all lands and improvements thereon within this district.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, it shall be mandatory for the board of trustees to make the tax levy each year for said rates numbered 1, 3, and 6, of this section in accordance with the estimates made as to the requirements under said rates under the provisions of section 26 of this act.

There shall be four funds of said district kept by the county treasurer: the levee district bond and interest fund; the drainage district bond and interest fund; the irrigation district bond and interest fund; and the general fund. Moneys collected from the levies for principal and accruing interest on the bonds of the levee district, drainage district and irrigation district shall be placed in the appropriate funds and used only for said respective purposes. All other moneys collected from the other levies shall be placed in the general fund.

Funds of district.

All properties acquired by this district after its organization and all construction work and improvements in the way of providing, maintaining and operating protection work or reclamation work in the entire district shall be deemed to be and are hereby declared to be for the benefit of all lands and improvements within the district and the cost thereof shall be apportioned and raised by taxation uniformly over the entire district in accordance with the assessed value of the real estate and improvements thereon within the district, but all construction work and improvements in the way of maintaining and operating the irrigation system in the entire district shall be deemed to be and are hereby declared to be for the benefit of all lands (excluding improvements) within the district and the cost thereof shall be apportioned and raised by taxation uniformly over the entire district in accordance with the assessed valuation of the lands (excluding improvements) within the district.

In ascertaining the above mentioned rates of taxation, fifteen per cent shall be deducted for anticipated delinquencies from the aggregate value of the property to be levied on in respect to each separate rate, as shown by the assessment roll of the district, and then the sum necessary to be raised shall be divided by the remainder of the proper aggregate assessed value. The secretary of the board must forthwith compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment roll the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid on the respective properties therein enumerated.

Determination of rate of taxation

CHAPTER 882.

Stats 1929,
p 910,
amended

An act to revise chapter 529, statutes of 1929, entitled "An act to provide for needy blind persons, not inmates of any institution supported in whole or in part by the state or any of its political subdivisions, making appropriation therefor and prescribing penalties for the violation of the provisions of the act," approved May 28, 1929.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929,
p 910

SECTION 1. Chapter 529, statutes of 1929, entitled "An act to provide for needy blind persons, not inmates of any institution supported in whole or in part by the state or any of its political subdivisions, making appropriation therefor and prescribing penalties for the violation of the provisions of the act," is hereby revised to read as follows:

Appropriation to counties

Section 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to each and every county or city and county in the state, maintaining, supporting, or caring for, as hereinafter provided in this act, any needy blind person, resident of such county or city and county, and not an inmate of any institution supported in whole or in part by the state or any of its political subdivisions, aid not in excess of three hundred dollars per annum for each such needy blind person, who is being maintained, supported and cared for by such county or city and county.

"Needy blind person" defined.

Sec. 2. As used in this act, the term "needy blind person" shall be construed to mean any person who by reason of loss or impairment of eyesight is of such condition that he is unable to provide himself with the necessities of life and who has not sufficient income of his own to maintain himself as further set forth in section 5 of this act.

Support by friend or relative

Free board and lodging supplied to an applicant by a friend or relative not responsible for his support or who is financially unable to support said applicant, because of the applicant's necessity therefor, shall not be a ground for refusing aid or for granting a less amount than would have been granted if such free board and lodging were not supplied; provided, however, that said free board and lodging, if continued while the applicant is receiving aid hereunder, may be deducted from the amount of aid granted.

Sec. 3. In order that any person who may have become blind while a resident of the State of California may be entitled to aid under the provisions of this act, such person must be sixteen years of age and a resident of the county or city and county in which his application is filed for a period of six months immediately preceding the filing of his application; and in order that any person, who became blind while he was not a resident of the State of California, may be entitled to aid under the provisions of this act, such person must be sixteen years of age and a resident of the county or city and county, in which his application is filed, for a period of one year immediately preceding the filing of his application and a resident of the State of California for a period of ten years immediately preceding the filing of his application; provided, however, that no applicant shall receive such aid while he is an inmate of any institution supported in whole or in part by the state or any of its political subdivisions; provided, however, that if any applicant receiving aid under the provisions of this act, have residing within the state a spouse, parent, adult child, grandparent or adult grandchild pecuniarily able to support said applicant, the district attorney, or other civil legal officer of the county or city and county granting aid may, on behalf of said county or city and county, maintain an action in the superior court of the county or city and county granting such aid, against said relatives, in the order named, to recover for said county or city and county such portion of said aid granted as the court may find said relative or relatives pecuniarily able to pay; provided that the receipt of aid by the applicant hereunder shall not be contingent upon such recovery by said legal officer. Such sums so recovered shall be credited by the county in its semi-annual settlement with the state; and provided, further, that no one shall receive aid under this act who owns property, the county assessed valuation of which, less all encumbrances thereon of record, is in excess of three thousand dollars; and provided, further, that in estimating the income of an applicant under this act property owned by such applicant not bearing an income nor used as his actual residence shall be deemed to yield an income of five per cent per annum on its valuation as determined by the county assessor or assessors less all encumbrances thereon of record; and provided, further, that no person shall be eligible to receive aid under this act who publicly solicits alms in any part of the state. The term "publicly solicits" shall be construed to mean either the wearing, carrying or exhibiting of signs denoting blindness for the securing of alms, or the carrying of receptacles, for the purpose of securing alms, or the doing of the same by proxy; or stationary or house to house begging; or any other means of publicly seeking alms; and provided, however, that no applicant shall be denied the aid provided for in this act by reason of the fact that such applicant is attending or intends to attend any public high school in this state, the University of California, or any other institution of higher learning in this state.

Applications for aid.

Sec. 4. To receive aid under this act, the applicant shall file his application with the county clerk of the county or city and county in which he resides, accompanied by an affidavit, signed by himself, stating, if known, his age, sex, counties of residence during the preceding ten years, his financial resources and income, the name and address of his spouse, parent, adult child, grandparent or adult grandchild, degree of blindness, how long blind, what employment and education he has had and his general physical condition and such other statistical data as may be deemed necessary by the department of social welfare.

The county clerk shall forthwith transmit such application to the county board of supervisors of such county or city and county.

Investigation

The county board of supervisors shall immediately investigate into the merits of all applications for aid under this act. The county board of supervisors shall be free to select its own investigators. Any county board of supervisors may request the field workers or the home teachers of the industrial home for the adult blind to investigate and report upon the qualifications of any applicant for aid under this act. The field workers or the home teachers of the industrial home for the adult blind may, without expense to the county, make such investigations and submit their reports to the county board of supervisors together with their recommendations as to what action should be taken by the county board of supervisors.

When aid may be granted

Sec. 5. No certificate of qualification for aid under this act shall be granted until the county board of supervisors shall be satisfied that the applicant is entitled to aid from the evidence of two reputable citizens of California that they know the applicant to be blind, and that he has the residential qualifications to entitle him to the aid asked for, and from the evidence of a duly licensed and practicing physician that the applicant is blind. The physician shall describe the condition of the applicant's eyes and testify to his blindness. The evidence of each person shall be in writing, and signed by him, and he shall be subject to cross-examination by the county board of supervisors or any other persons.

Procedure.

If the county board of supervisors is satisfied upon such testimony that the applicant is entitled to aid hereunder, it shall, without delay, issue an order therefor, in such sum as it finds needed, not to exceed six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid monthly, in advance, out of such county funds as may be designated by the board of supervisors on warrant of the county auditor of the county or city and county; provided, however, that the yearly income of the applicant from all sources taken together with the aid granted by the county board of supervisors shall not exceed one thousand dollars per annum.

The board of supervisors of each county or city and county shall file in the office of the chief of the division for the blind in the department of social welfare a record of the action of such county or city and county in granting or refusing to grant aid to each blind applicant.

Any blind applicant, who is dissatisfied with the action of the county board of supervisors regarding his application for aid, may appeal to the state board of control. The chief of the division for the blind in the department of social welfare shall set such appeal for hearing before the state board of control and shall give all parties concerned written notice of the time and place of such hearing. At such hearing the applicant may appear in person and/or by counsel of his own choosing.

The state board of control shall consider the appeal, and shall award such aid as it deems proper; provided, that said award shall not exceed six hundred dollars per annum, and that the total yearly income of the applicant together with the award shall not exceed one thousand dollars. The county board of supervisors shall then pay to such blind person the sum awarded by the state board of control.

Sec. 6. The county board of supervisors shall investigate, annually or oftener, the qualifications of the blind persons receiving aid hereunder, and may increase or decrease the allowance within the limits prescribed in this act, or, if said board is satisfied that any person so on the list is not entitled to aid hereunder, said board shall entirely remove him from said list and shall forthwith notify the county auditor and the chief of the division for the blind in the department of social welfare of such action; provided, however, that the person receiving aid shall have the right of appeal to the state board of control from such action.

Sec. 7. The board of supervisors of each county or city and county in this state is hereby authorized and empowered to levy, in addition to the taxes now levied by law for other purposes than these herein provided, a tax not exceeding two-tenths of one mill per dollar on the assessed value of the property of their respective counties or cities and counties, to be levied and collected as now provided by law for the assessment and collection of taxes, for the purpose of creating a fund for the aid of the needy blind of their respective counties or cities and counties.

Sec. 8. Any person qualified for and receiving aid hereunder, in any county or city and county of the state, who removes to another county or city and county in the state, shall be entitled to aid under the provisions of this act after one year of residence in the county or city and county to which he has removed; and the removal of any person receiving aid hereunder from one county or city and county to another within this state shall not work a forfeiture during such one year period of the state aid previously awarded under this act. Any blind person who leaves his county for the purpose of attending an institution of learning located in California shall not be deemed, for the purposes of this act, to have moved from his county.

Financial
report

Sec. 9. The board of supervisors of each county or city and county shall, at times to be named by the state department of social welfare, certify to said department the sums of money paid out to blind persons under the provisions of this act during the preceding six months. Such certified claims shall be audited by the state department of social welfare and the state controller. The state controller shall draw warrants therefor in the sum of one-half the amount paid out by said county or city and county to blind persons under the provisions of this act during the period for which the claim is made, and the amount of such warrants shall be paid by the state treasurer to the treasurer of said county or city and county. Any claim certified by the county board of supervisors pursuant to this act shall be disallowed only on the ground that the aid was granted contrary to the provisions of this act.

Rules and regulations

Sec. 10. The department of social welfare shall have power to make purely administrative rules and regulations to enforce this act, which rules and regulations shall not conflict with the provisions of this act. Said department shall create a division which shall be devoted exclusively to carrying out the provisions of this act, which shall be headed by a chief, who is a trained social worker experienced in work for the blind, said chief to be appointed by the governor and to hold office at his pleasure.

Record of applicants.

It shall be the duty of the chief of the division for the blind in the department of social welfare to keep in the office of the division a complete list of all applicants for aid under this act and to prepare application blanks for use of applicants for aid, which shall be printed by the state printer and supplied to the county clerk of each county and city and county.

The county clerk shall mail without charge application blanks for aid under this act to any resident of his county immediately upon request therefor.

All papers and records on file in the office of the chief of the division for the blind in the department of social welfare and all papers and records pertaining to the administration of this act on file in the office of any county clerk or elsewhere shall be open to inspection at any time during business hours by the applicant or his attorney or agent.

Supervision
by division for the blind

Sec. 11. The chief of the division for the blind in the department of social welfare is hereby authorized on behalf of the state at any time to inquire into the management of aid to blind persons hereunder by any county or city and county; and shall notify the controller of all claims granted contrary to the provisions of this act, specifying in each case the section or sections of this act deemed violated.

Any county or city and county refusing, upon due demand, to permit such inquiry or refusing to comply with any of the provisions of this act, shall not thereafter receive any aid or reimbursement from the state under the provisions of this act until it has complied with all the requirements hereof.

Sec. 12. Any person who, in order to secure for himself or another the aid provided in this act, makes a false statement under oath, shall be deemed guilty of perjury. Unlawful acts

Sec. 13. It shall be unlawful for any person concerned with the administration of this act to dictate how any applicant shall expend the aid granted to him. Same

Sec. 14. No blind person shall be deemed a pauper by reason of receiving aid under this act, and this act shall be construed separate and apart from the pauper act. Paupers

Sec. 15. The purpose of this act is to relieve blind persons from the distress of poverty, to enlarge the economic opportunities of the blind and to stimulate the blind to greater efforts in striving to render themselves self-supporting. Purpose

Sec. 16. The provisions of this act are to be liberally construed to effect its objects and purposes. If any section, subsection or subdivision of this act is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. An act to amend section 53 of the California irrigation district act, relating to contracts. Stats 1897,
p. 254,
amended.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 53 of the California irrigation district act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1919,
p. 668.

Sec. 53. Before the construction of any work to be paid for with the proceeds of the sale of bonds, or a special assessment levied in accordance with section 34 or section 59 of this act, the board of directors shall give notice, by publication thereof three times, to wit, once a week for three successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county in which the office of the district is located, or, if no newspaper is published therein, then in such publication as the board may deem advisable, calling for bids for the construction of such work, or of any portion thereof; if less than the whole work is advertised, then the portion so advertised must be particularly described in such notice. Said notice shall set forth that plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the board, and that the board will receive sealed proposals therefor and that the contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder, or bidders, but that any or all bids may be rejected, stating the time and place for opening said proposals, which, at the time and place appointed, shall be opened in public; and as convenient thereafter the board shall let said work, either in portions or as a whole, to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders; but the board may reject any bid or bids or may reject all bids and readvertise for proposals or may proceed to construct the work under its own superintendence; provided, that in case of emergency or urgent necessity for any such work, the board of directors, by unanimous vote of those present at any regular or special meeting, may award contracts therefor without advertising for bids, but the cost of such work shall not exceed five hundred dollars and such additional amount as shall be equal to five cents for each acre of land in the district. Contracts for the purchase of material to be furnished or used by the district in any such work shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders after such notice as the board of directors may deem proper. Any person or persons to whom a contract may be awarded shall enter into a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, payable to said district for its use, for at least twenty-five per cent of the amount of the estimated contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract. The work shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the engineer of the district and be subject to approval by the board.

CHAPTER 884.

An act to amend section 413 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the publication of summons.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1873-

Manner of publication
of summons

SECTION 1. Section 413 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

413. The order must direct the publication to be made in a newspaper, to be designated, as most likely to give notice to the person to be served, and for such length of time as may be deemed reasonable, at least once a week; but publication against a defendant residing out of the state, or absent therefrom, must not be less than two months, except in proceedings instituted pursuant to the provisions of chapter four, title three, part three, of this code. In case of publication, where the residence of a nonresident or absent defendant is known, the court or judge must direct a copy of the summons and complaint to be forthwith deposited in the post office, directed to the person to be served, at his place of residence. When publication is ordered, personal service of a copy of the summons and complaint out of the state is equivalent to publication and deposit in the post office, and in either case the service of the summons is complete at the expiration of the time prescribed by the order for publication.

CHAPTER 885.

An act to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered 1179a, relating to proceedings for forcible entry, forcible detainer or unlawful detainer.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered 1179a, to read as follows: New section.

1179a. In all proceedings brought to recover the possession of real property pursuant to the provisions of this chapter all courts, wherein such actions are or may hereafter be pending, shall give such actions precedence over all other civil actions therein, except actions to which special precedence is given by law, in the matter of the setting the same for hearing or trial, and in hearing the same, to the end that all such actions shall be quickly heard and determined. An act to amend section 1723 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the termination of certain interests in property.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1723 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 1018

1723. Whenever title to or an interest in real property is affected by the death of any person, any person who claims any interest in such real property, which interest is affected by the death of such person, may, and a surviving joint tenant Establishment of fact of death or surviving joint tenants must. file in the superior court of the county of which the decedent was a resident at the time of his death, or if the decedent was a nonresident at the time of his death, in any county in which any part of such real property is situated, a verified petition setting forth those facts, and particularly describing the real property and his interest therein.

The clerk must set the petition for hearing by the court and give notice thereof by causing a notice of the time and place of the hearing to be posted at the courthouse in the county where the court is held, at least ten days before the hearing, provided the court may order such further notice to be given as in his judgment may seem proper.

The court shall take evidence for or against the petition and may render judgment thereon establishing the fact of such death, which judgment shall be prima facie evidence of the fact of such death.

Any inheritance tax which becomes payable by reason of such death must be paid before such decree is made, and one of the inheritance tax appraisers provided for by law must be appointed by the court in every such proceeding to determine what if any inheritance tax is payable unless another proceeding is pending in which the taxability of the transfer involved in such proceedings may be determined. If the said inheritance tax appraiser reports that no inheritance tax is payable he shall be paid by the petitioner or petitioners for his services and expenses a reasonable amount to be fixed by the court in which said proceeding is pending.

A certified copy of the decree may be recorded in the office of the recorder of each county in which any part of the land is situated.

CHAPTER 888.

An act to amend section 4316 of the Political Code, relating to county officers and their deputies.

An act to amend chapter 801, statutes of 1929, entitled "An act regulating the practice of civil engineering," approved June 14, 1929, by amending sections 1, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, and 17 thereof, relating to the purpose of the act and to the registration of practitioners thereunder, and by adding a new section thereto, to be numbered 1a, embracing a definition of terms. Stats 1929,
p. 1645

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 801, statutes of 1929, entitled "An act regulating the practice of civil engineering," is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p 1645

Section 1. In order to safeguard life, health, property, and public welfare, any person practicing, or offering to practice civil engineering in any of its branches in this state shall hereafter be required to submit evidence that he is qualified so to practice, and shall be registered as hereinafter Registration required

provided, and from and after twelve months after this act becomes effective, it shall be unlawful for any person to practice or offer to practice as a civil engineer in this state, unless such person has been duly registered or specifically exempted as required by the provisions of this act.

New section.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to chapter 801, statutes of 1929, to be numbered 1a, and to read as follows:

"Civil engineering" defined

Sec. 1a. The term "civil engineering" shall mean that branch of professional engineering which deals with any or all of the following studies and/or activities: the economics of, the use and design of, materials of construction and the determination of their physical qualities, the supervision of the construction of engineering structures; the investigation of the laws, phenomena, and forces of nature; and appraisals and valuations; in connection with fixed works for any or all of the following divisions and/or subjects: irrigation, drainage, water power, water supply, flood control, inland waterways, harbors, municipal improvements, railroads, highways, tunnels, airports and airways, purification of water, sewerage, refuse disposal, foundations, framed and homogeneous structures, buildings and bridges.

Said term shall include city and regional planning in so far as any of the above features are concerned therein, and geodetic, cadastral, municipal and topographic surveying, but nothing in this act contained shall be construed to repeal, alter or modify that certain act entitled "An act to define the duties of and to license land surveyors, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to define the duties of and to license land surveyors,' approved March 31, 1891," approved March 16, 1907.

Stats. 1907, p. 310.

"Civil engineer" defined.

The term "civil engineer" shall mean one who practices or offers to practice civil engineering in any of its branches.

"Responsible charge of work" defined.

The phrase "responsible charge of work" shall mean the control and direction of the investigation, design, and construction of works involving some feature of civil engineering, and requiring initiative, skill, and independent judgment.

Stats. 1929, p. 1645.

SEC. 3. Section 11 of chapter 801, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Engineers from other states, etc

Sec. 11. The board shall, from time to time, examine the requirements for the registration of civil engineers in other states, territories and countries and shall record those in which, in the judgment of the board, standards not lower than those provided by this act, are maintained. The board is hereby empowered to arrange for reciprocal registration in this state of civil engineers from other states, territories or countries so recorded under terms mutually agreed upon. The board, upon the presentation to it by any person, of satisfactory evidence that such person holds an unexpired certificate of registration issued such person by proper authorities in any state, territory, or country, recorded as herein provided, which state, territory or country grants full and equal reciprocal registration rights and privileges to registrants of this board, shall, upon the payment of a fee of five dollars ($5) to be retained by the board, issue to such person a certificate of registration under this act.

SEC. 4. Section 12 of chapter 801, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p. 1645.

Sec. 12. (a) It shall be the duty of the board to inquire into the identity of any person not registered as provided in this act and practicing as or claiming to be a civil engineer. The board shall have the power by a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote to suspend for a period not to exceed two years, or to revoke the certificate of any civil engineer registered hereunder who has been convicted of a felony or who has not a good character or who has been found guilty by the board of any deceit, misrepresentation, violation of contract, fraud or gross incompetency in his practice, or guilty of any fraud or deceit in obtaining his certificate. Revocation and reissuance of certificates

(b) Proceedings for the suspension or revocation of certificate of registration shall be begun by filing with the secretary of the board written charges against the accused, such charges shall be in detail, and sworn to under oath by the complainant. The board shall designate a time and place for a hearing and shall notify the accused of this action and furnish him a copy of all charges at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of hearing. The accused shall have the right to appear personally or by counsel, to cross-examine witnesses or to produce witnesses in his defense. The board shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of necessary papers and documents.

The board may reissue a certificate of registration to any person whose certificate has been revoked; provided, two (2) or more members of the board vote in favor of such reissue for reasons the board may deem sufficient.

SEC. 5 Section 13 of chapter 801, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p. 1645.

Sec. 13. (a) Any certificate issued under the provisions of this act shall remain in effect until the thirtieth (30th) day of June following the date of issuance. Renewal

(b) Every civil engineer registered under this act who desires to continue the practice of his profession beyond the thirtieth (30th) day of June following the date of issuance of his original certificate shall on or before the thirtieth (30th) day of June of each year pay to the secretary of the board a fee of five dollars ($5) to be retained by the board, for which fee a renewal certificate of registration for the current year shall be issued. Certificates of registration which have expired for failure to pay renewal fee may be reinstated within one year under rules and regulations prescribed by the board. An unsuspended, unrevoked or unexpired certificate and endorsement of registry, made as provided in this act, shall be presumptive evidence in all courts and places that the person named therein is legally registered.

Stats. 1929,
p. 1645.

SEC. 6. Section 14 of chapter 801, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Registrant's
seal

Sec. 14. Each registrant hereunder may, upon registration, obtain a seal of the design authorized by the board, bearing the registrant's name, number of certificate, and the legend "registered civil engineer." Plans, specifications, plats, reports and other documents issued by a registrant may be stamped with the said seal during the life of the registrant's certificate, but it shall be unlawful for anyone to stamp or seal any plans, specifications, plats, reports, or other documents with said seal after the certificate of the registrant named thereon has expired or has been suspended or revoked, unless said certificate shall have been renewed or reissued.

Stats 1929,
p. 1645

SEC. 7. Section 15 of chapter 801, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 8. Section 16 of chapter 801, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Persons
exempted

Sec. 16. The following shall be exempt from the provisions of this act:

(a) Officers and employees of the United States of America practicing solely as such officers or employees.

(b) A subordinate to a civil engineer registered under this act or a subordinate to a civil engineer exempted under this act, in so far as he is acting in such capacity.

(c) Any architect registered in this state under the provisions of any act to regulate the practice of architecture, in so far as he practices architecture, in its various branches.

(d) Any person, firm or persons, or corporation furnishing, either alone or with subcontractors, labor and materials (with or without plans, drawings, specifications, instruments of service or other data covering such labor and materials), for store fronts, interior alterations or additions, fixtures, cabinet work, furniture or other appliances or equipment, or for any work necessary to provide for their installation, or for any alterations or additions to any building necessary to or attendant upon the installation of such store fronts, interior alterations or additions, fixtures, cabinet work, furniture, appliances or equipment.

(e) Any person not a resident of the State of California, qualified as a civil engineer, offering to practice but not practicing civil engineering in this state who does not have or maintain a regular place of business in this state.

(f) Any person practicing civil engineering in this state who does not maintain a regular place of business in this state and who does not practice for more than sixty days in any one calendar year, providing that such person shall be qualified as a civil engineer and shall, before engaging in such practice, notify the board in writing of his intention so to do, stating in said notice the approximate date when he intends to commence such practice and the approximate length of time he expects to continue in such practice. In which event the secretary of the board, after having determined that the applicant is qualified, and after the payment by the applicant of a fee of ten dollars ($10) is hereby empowered to issue a temporary license to practice for a period of not to exceed sixty (60) days.

(g) Any person, firm or corporation holding a license as real estate broker or real estate salesman, when making appraisals and valuations of real estate properties, while engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of a real estate broker or a real estate salesman, within the meaning of the California real estate act.

SEC. 9. Section 17 of chapter 801, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929,
p 1645

Sec. 17. (a) Any person, who is not legally authorized to practice civil engineering in this state according to the provisions of this act and shall so practice, or offer to practice except he be exempt under this act, and any person presenting or attempting to file as his own the certificate of registration of another, or who shall give false evidence of any kind to the board, or to any member thereof, in obtaining a certificate of registration, or who shall falsely impersonate or use the seal of any other practitioner, of like or different name, or who shall use an expired or revoked certificate of registration, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall for each such offense of which he is convicted be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment not to exceed three months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Penalties

Duty of enforcement

(b) It shall be the duty of the respective officers charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances to prosecute all persons charged with the violation of any of the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the secretary of the board, under the direction of the board, to aid such officers in the enforcement of this act.

CHAPTER 892.

An act relating to the extermination of rats by mosquito abatement districts.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Mosquito abatement district may elect to destroy rats

SECTION 1. Any mosquito abatement district hereafter organized under the laws relating to such districts, and any such district heretofore organized which elects to come under the provisions of this act by a vote taken at an election called and conducted as provided for elections for a tax to raise additional funds for such districts, may provide for the destruction and extermination of rats in said district, and may include suitable sums for the purpose in its expense estimates, which sums shall be raised in the manner provided by law for the raising of other sums for such district.

Supervision.

SEC. 2. The board of trustees of any mosquito abatement district shall supervise and manage the destruction and extermination of rats by said district, and the officers, agents, and employees of said district shall have power to do all necessary and proper acts for such destruction and extermination.

CHAPTER 893.

Stats 1915, p 1011.

An act to amend section 7b of chapter 584, statutes of 1915, entitled "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of mosquito abatement districts in any part of the state, to facilitate the extermination of mosquitoes, flies and other insects; and to provide for the assessment, levy, collection and disbursement of taxes therein," approved May 29, 1915, as amended, relating to mosquito abatement district tax levies.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929, p 1676.

SECTION 1. Section 7b of chapter 584, statutes of 1915, entitled "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of mosquito abatement districts in any part of the state, to facilitate the extermination of mosquitoes, flies and other insects; and to provide for the assessment, levy, collection and disbursement of taxes therein," as added by chapter 804, statutes of 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7b. The board of supervisors of each county wherein is situated a mosquito abatement district or any part thereof must annually, at the time of levying county taxes, levy a tax to be known as the "_____ mosquito abatement district tax," sufficient to raise the amount reported to them by the district board of trustees as herein provided. The board of supervisors must determine the rate of such tax by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the total assessed value of the taxable property of the district within the county as it appears on the assessment roll of the county, and then dividing the sum reported to said board of supervisors by the board of trustees as required in that county to be raised, by the remainder of such total assessed value, provided that the maximum rate of the tax must not be greater than fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property of the district in that county.

CHAPTER 894.

An act to amend sections 5 and 11½ of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works and public utilities; for the issuance, sale and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements, and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements," approved April 20, 1915, as amended, relating to the amount of bonds that may be issued by such district, and the disposition of a surplus if one remains after the completion of the municipal improvement for which bonds were voted.

valid to all intents and purposes; and the bonds heretofore issued and sold are declared to be and shall be, in the actual form in which such bonds have been issued, the legal and binding obligations of and against such district; and the bonds heretofore authorized to be issued which may be hereafter issued and sold, are declared to be and shall be the legal and binding obligations of and against such district; and the full faith and credit of such district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of all said bonds.

Levy and collection
of taxes.

SEC. 2. The legislative branch of such municipal corporation shall at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually each year until said bonds are paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of said municipal corporation set apart for that purpose, sufficient to meet all sums coming due for the principal and interest on such bonds, a tax upon the taxable property in such district sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds for that year and such portion of the principal thereof as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of such bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually each year sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected and be used for no other purpose than for the payment of said bonds and the accruing interest thereon.

Exceptions

SEC. 3. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds which have been sold for less than par, nor to legalize any bonds the issuance of which has not received the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipal improvement district voting at an election held for the purpose of determining whether such indebtedness should be incurred, nor to legalize any bonds which mature at a date more than forty years from the time of their issuance.

amended

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931, with reduction hereunder noted.
In effect August 14, 1931.]

[I object to the item of $50,000 in section 5 of Senate Bill No 259, and I reduce the amount to $45,000. With this reduction, I approve the bill. Dated. June 15, 1931. JAMES ROLPH, JR, Governor.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The title of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Title
amended.

An act creating a commission to codify, consolidate, revise or compile the statutes of California and to report thereon to the Legislature at the fiftieth session thereof, and making an appropriation therefor.

SEC. 2. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929,
p 1427

Sec. 2. Within ten days after the appointment of the commission it shall meet and organize by selecting one of its members chairman.

Organiza-
tion

It shall be the duty of the commission hereby created to immediately enter upon a revision of all the laws of this state including those enacted at the present session of the Legislature. The work of revision shall comprehend the preparation of a statutory record showing the status and disposition of all acts and parts of acts heretofore adopted; the codification, consolidation, compilation or revision of all statutes in force and the express repeal of all statutes heretofore repealed by implication, held unconstitutional by the supreme court of this state, or which will be rendered obsolete by the proposed revision if adopted; and whenever necessary the correction of errors in form or substance including such restatement as will best serve clearly and correctly to express the existing provisions of law, and the suggestion of such substantive changes in the existing law as may be deemed proper. The commission shall prepare a report embodying therein among such other things such legislative measures proposed by it as may be calculated to effect the adoption or enactment of such revision.

Duties

SEC. 3. Sec. 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929,
p 1427

Sec. 3. The material of the state library shall be made available to said commission, and all offices of the state, and all departments, commissions, and bureaus, and other official state organizations, and all persons connected therewith shall

Cooperation
officers, etc

give said commission full information, and reasonable assistance in any matters of research requiring recourse to them, or to data within their knowledge or control. The commission may cooperate with any of the bar associations of the state, or the American Bar Association in any manner suitable for the fulfilment of their purposes. It is hereby made the duty of the board of governors of the state bar to assist said commission, in any manner the commission may request within the scope of the powers or duties of the said commission. It shall further be the duty of the commission to confer and cooperate with any legislative committee on revision of the law.

Stats 1929,
p. 1427.

Sec. 4. Section 4 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Distribution
of report

Sec. 4. The commission shall submit its report, including its recommendations as to revision of the laws in bill form, to the governor and the Legislature at the fiftieth session of the Legislature, and shall distribute the report to the governor, the members of the Legislature, and the heads of all departments of the state. Said report shall be accompanied by exhibits of various changes, modifications, improvements, and suggest enactments prepared or proposed by it with a full and accurate index thereto.

Stats 1929,
p. 1427

Sec. 5. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Secretary

Sec. 6. The legislative counsel shall be the secretary of the commission and the commission shall have power to employ and fix the compensation of such clerical and other assistants as may be necessary. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to be expended in accordance with law by the commission in carrying out the provisions of this act.

Appropriation

CHAPTER 930.

An act to amend section 138 of the Civil Code, relating to orders respecting custody and maintenance of minor children of the marriage in actions for divorce.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats, 1905,
p. 43

SECTION 1. Section 138 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Custody of minors during action for divorce

138. In actions for divorce the court may, during the pendency of the action, or at the final hearing or at any time thereafter during the minority of any of the children of the marriage, make such order for the custody, care, education, maintenance and support of such minor children as may seem necessary or proper, and may at any time modify or vacate the same. In awarding the custody the court is to be guided by the following considerations:

(1) By what appears to be for the best interest of the child in respect to its temporal and its mental and moral welfare; and if the child is of a sufficient age to form an intelligent preference, the court may consider that preference in determining the question;

(2) As between parents adversely claiming the custody, neither parent is entitled to it as of right; but other things being equal, if the child is of tender years, it should be given to the mother; if it is of an age to require education and preparation for labor and business, then to the father.

CHAPTER 931.

An act to amend section 1197 of the Political Code, relating to election ballots.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1197 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1919,
p. 372

1197. There shall be provided at each polling place, at each election at which public officers are voted for, but one form of ballot for all the candidates for public office, and every ballot shall contain the names of all the candidates whose nominations for any office specified on the ballot have been duly made and not withdrawn, as provided by law together with the title of the office arranged to conform as nearly as practicable to the plan hereinafter set forth. One form of ballot.

2. The order in which the list of offices shall appear on the ballot shall, as to state offices and district offices, when the district includes more than one county, be determined by the secretary of state, and shall as nearly as may be practicable be the same for all counties. The order in which the list of county offices or district offices embracing one county or less, shall appear on the ballot, shall be determined by the county clerk. Order of list
of officers

The order in which the list of candidates for any office shall appear upon the ballot shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the office is an office the candidates for which are to be voted on throughout the entire state, including United States senator in congress, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first assembly district; and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged; provided, State officers, etc.

however, that the names of candidates for the office of electors for president and vice president shall be arranged in groups as presented in the several certificates of nomination, and the secretary of state shall arrange such groups for the first assembly district in the alphabetical order of the names standing at the head of each of such groups as the first name therein and, thereafter, for each succeeding assembly district, the group appearing first shall be placed last, the order of the groups remaining unchanged; but the order of the names within each of the several groups shall remain the same as presented in the several certificates of nomination and shall remain the same for all assembly districts. A blank column one-half inch wide shall be left upon the ballot opposite each group of names of candidates for electors for president and vice president, and to the right of the column of voting squares for the individual names and separated from it by a light dotted line, which blank column shall contain a square in which may be stamped a cross (X) which shall be counted as a vote for each and every name in the group opposite. Lengthwise along this blank column shall be printed in heavy face type "a cross (X) stamped in this square shall be counted for each name of the group to the left." The line separating any group of names from any other group shall be heavier than any line separating the individual names in each group, and shall extend across the blank column provided for in this paragraph. Below the top line of this extension shall be printed in small heavy face type the words "top of group," and above the bottom line of the extension, the words "end of group."

Officers voted for in more than one county

If the office is that of representative in congress, or is an office the candidates for nomination to which are to be voted on in more than one county or city and county, but not throughout the entire state, except the office of state senator or assemblyman, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for that assembly district which is lowest in numerical order of any assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on: and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

Certifying list to county clerk.

In certifying to each county clerk or registrar of voters the list of names as required in section 23 of the primary election law, the secretary of state shall certify and transmit the list of candidates for each office according to assembly districts, in the order of arrangement as determined by the above provisions; and in the case of each county or city and county containing more than one assembly district, he shall transmit separate lists for each assembly district. Except for the office of state senator or assemblyman, the order in which the names so certified shall appear upon the ballot, shall be for each assembly district the order as determined by the secretary of state in accordance with the above provisions, and as certified and transmitted by him to each county clerk or registrar of voters.

(b) If the office is an office to be voted on wholly within one county or city and county, except the office of representative in congress or state senator or assemblyman, the county clerk of such county or the registrar of voters of such city and county, shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order, which order shall be the order of names upon the ballots; provided, there is no more than one assembly district in such county, or city and county. If there is more than one assembly district in such county or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall so arrange on the ballot the order of names of all candidates for such office that they shall appear in alphabetical order for that assembly district in such county, or city and county, which is lowest in numerical order, and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district in such county, or city and county, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding assembly district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

(c) If the office is that of state senator or assemblyman, the names of all candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

(d) If the office is a municipal office in any city or town whose charter does not provide for the order in which names shall appear on the ballot, the names of candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

If the nomination of a candidate for any office shall be made by petition, filed within the time and manner provided by law, but subsequent to the determination of the order in which names of candidates shall appear on the ballot, the name of such candidate with the word "Independent" printed to the right thereof, shall be placed on the ballot next below the names of the other candidates for the same office; provided, however, that in the case of judicial officers and school officers the word "Independent" shall be omitted.

3. The order in which all questions and propositions (including proposed laws and constitutional amendments), which are to be submitted to the vote of the electors, shall appear upon the ballot shall be determined by the secretary of state. The attorney general shall provide and return to the secretary of state a ballot title or designation by which all such questions, propositions, proposed laws and constitutional amendments shall be designated upon the ballot; provided, however, any person who is interested in any question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment, the petition as to which is being circulated for the purpose of having the same submitted under an initiative petition, as provided in section 1 of article four of the constitution, to a vote of the electors, or any proposed constitutional amendment to be submitted to a vote of the electors, may, at any time prior to one hundred thirty days before the election at which such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment is to be submitted to a vote of the electors, file a copy of said question, proposition, proposed law or proposed constitutional amendment with the secretary of state, together with a request that a ballot title be prepared for the same; such request shall be accompanied with the address of the person or association of persons proposing such measure. The secretary of state shall forthwith transmit a copy of said question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment to the attorney general. Within ten days after the same is filed with him, said attorney general shall provide and return to the secretary of state a ballot title for said measure. The ballot title may be distinguished from the legislative or other title of the measure and shall express in not exceeding one hundred words, the purpose of the measure. In making such ballot title, the attorney general shall give a true and impartial statement of the purpose of the measure and in such language that the ballot title shall not be an argument or likely to create prejudice either for or against the measure. Immediately upon receipt of the ballot title as prepared by the attorney general, the secretary of state shall mail to any and all persons who may have requested the preparation of such ballot title, a notice addressed to such person or persons at the address accompanying such request, stating that the attorney general has made and returned such ballot title, which notice shall also contain a copy of the ballot title as prepared by the attorney general. Any person who is dissatisfied with the ballot title prepared by the attorney general for any such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment may, after the same has been returned to the secretary of state as hereinbefore provided, and within ten days after said notice shall have been mailed by the secretary of state, as above provided, file in writing with the secretary of state his objections, who shall forthwith file a copy of such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment, together with the title thereof as so prepared by the attorney general and the said objections thereto, with the board of title commissioners, which board shall consist of the three justices of the district court of appeal of the State of California, in and for the third appellate district, who shall be ex officio title commissioners for the purposes of this act and which board is hereby created; said board shall fix a time at which any person may be heard either for or against the objection so made and shall notify all persons of the time so set and thereupon said board of title commissioners shall proceed to consider the said title prepared by the attorney general and the objections filed thereto, and shall prepare a title by which such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment shall be designated upon the ballot. Said title commissioners shall certify the said designation to the secretary of state within ten days after said written objections have been received by them. The determination by the said board of title commissioners shall be final and conclusive.

Statement
of purposes.

Objections

Title commissioners

Such questions, propositions, proposed law and constitutional amendments shall be designated on the ballot by the said ballot title certified to the secretary of state by the said attorney general, or in case a different title has been prepared, certified and filed by the said board of title commissioners, then such title shall be the title and designation by which any such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment shall be designated upon the ballot.

4. All ballots shall be not to exceed twenty-four inches in length, and shall be three inches in width, and as many times such width as may be necessary to contain the names of all candidates nominated, with proper blank spaces to allow the voter to write in names not printed on the ballot, and also a separate column or columns of sufficient width for statements of all questions, propositions or constitutional amendments submitted to vote of the electors. Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be headed by the designation of the office and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, according to the number to be elected to such office; such designation of the office and of the number of candidates to be voted for shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic type, not smaller than ten point. The word or words designating the office shall be printed flush with the left-hand margin and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, as the case may be, shall extend to the extreme right of the column and over the voting square. The designation of the office and the directions for voting shall be separated from the names of the candidates by a light line. The names of the candidates for such office shall be printed in eight-point roman type (capitals) in proper order below the designation of the office, and in the same line in which the name of the candidate is printed and at the right of the name, or immediately below the name if there shall not be sufficient space to the right thereof, shall be printed in eight-point roman type (lower case) the designation of the political party or parties by or on behalf of which such candidate has been nominated, the first political party so designated being the party with which such candidate was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as ascertained by the secretary of state from the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of the county clerk in the county in which such candidate resides; provided, that when a candidate has been nominated by petition, the word, "Independent," shall be printed to the right of his name, and provided also, that as to candidates for judicial offices, and school offices the designation of the political party or parties, or the word "Independent," if there be an independent candidate, shall be omitted. The name of the candidate and the designation of the political party or parties by which he has been nominated shall be printed in a space three-eighths of an inch in depth, and shall be defined by light horizontal ruled lines, with a blank space on the right thereof three-eighths of an inch square, which blank space (called the voting square) shall be made use of by the voter to designate, by stamping a cross (X) therein and after the name of the candidate, his choice of particular candidates.

Names of candidates

5. The names of the candidates for an office shall not be separated from each other on the ballot by names of candidates for any other office, and the list of candidates for each office shall be separated from the lists of candidates for other offices by a double rule, above and below such list. Each series of the lists of candidates for the several offices shall be headed by the word "State," "Congressional," "Legislative," "County," or "Municipal" or other proper general classification, as the case may be, printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twelve-point, each such word being separated from the names of the candidates beneath by a three-point line.

Additional designations

Immediately under the name of each candidate and not separated therefrom by any line may appear, at the option of the candidate, one of the following designations:

a. Words designating the city, county, district or state office which the candidate then holds.

b. If the candidate be a candidate for the same office which he then holds, the word "incumbent."

c. The word designating the profession, vocation or occupation of the candidate. The profession, vocation or occupation so designated shall be the same as appears in the affidavit of registration of such candidate; provided, however, the word "incumbent" shall be used only under subsection b herein.

In all cases words so used shall be printed in eight point roman bold-face capitals and lower case type.

Border.

6. The left-hand side of each column of names on the ballot, and also the right-hand side of each column of voting squares, shall be bordered by a broad printed line one-twelfth of an inch wide. The ballot shall be so printed as to give each voter a clear opportunity to designate, by stamping a cross (X) in a blank enclosed space hereinbefore designated as the voting square on the right of and after the name of each candidate whose name is printed on the ballot, his choice of particular candidates, or his choice of each and all of a group of candidates as provided in subdivision two of this section. The binding or stitching of each package of ballots shall be on the left side thereof. The ballot shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub not over one and one-half inches in width and separated therefrom by a perforated line from top to bottom, one-half inch to the left of the broad printed line along the left border of the ballot. Upon this stub shall be printed the number of the ballot only. On each ballot a perforated line shall extend across the top of the ballot one inch from the top thereof. The same number as appears on the stub shall be printed above said perforated line within two inches of the perforated line on the left-hand side of the ballot, and above this number shall be printed in parenthesis, in small type, as follows: (This number is to be torn off by Binding, etc.

Form of ballot.

inspector); and one-half inch to the right of this ballot number there shall be a short perforated line extended from the perforated line along the top of the ballot to the top edge of the ballot. Immediately above said perforated line shall be printed in black-face lower case type at least twelve-point in size, and enclosed in a parenthesis, the following, "(Fold ballot to this perforated line, leaving top margin exposed)." Above this printed direction, and midway between it and the top edge of the ballot, shall be printed in black-face capital type at least twelve-point in size, and, with the four middle words underlined or otherwise made prominent, the following: "MARK CROSSES (X) ON BALLOT ONLY WITH RUBBER STAMP; NEVER WITH PEN OR PENCIL." The number on each ballot shall be the same as that on the corresponding stub, and the ballots and stubs shall be numbered consecutively in each county. All ballots printed by county clerks or registrars of voters other than the separate ballots containing the names only of candidates for city and county offices, printed by the county clerks or registrars of voters of consolidated cities and counties, shall have printed immediately below the perforated line along the top of the ballot, and above the instructions to voters, the words in capital type at least twelve-point in size the words "GENERAL TICKET," followed by the respective number of the congressional, senatorial, and assembly district in which the ballot is to be voted; and all ballots printed by county clerks or registrars of voters of consolidated cities and counties containing the names of city and county offices, and also all ballots printed by the clerk, registrar of voters, or secretary of a legislative body of any incorporated city or town, shall have printed in the same manner below the perforated line the words "MUNICIPAL TICKET." All municipal ballots shall be printed upon paper of a different tint from that of the general ballot.

7. All of the ballots of the same sort prepared by any county clerk or registrar of voters, or clerk or secretary of a legislative body, or other person having charge of the preparing of such ballots, for the same polling place, shall be precisely the same size, arrangement, quality and tint of paper, and kind of type, and shall be printed with black ink of the same tint, so that without the numbers on the stubs it shall be impossible to distinguish any one of the ballots from the other ballots of the same sort; and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and character.

8. If two or more officers are to be elected for the same office for different terms, the terms for which each candidate for such office is nominated shall be printed on the ballot as a part of the title of the office. If at a general election an office is to be filled for a full term, and also for a vacancy in another term the list of candidates for the full term shall be placed on the ballot under the designation of the office with the words "Full Term" printed immediately thereafter, and the list of candidates to fill the vacancy shall be placed on the ballot under the designation of the office with the words "Short Term" printed immediately thereafter.

Propositions column.

9. Whenever any question, proposition or constitutional amendment is to be submitted to the vote of the electors, there shall be printed at the right of the last column of names of candidates, another column, or columns of sufficient width, with voting squares, in which such question, proposition or constitutional amendment shall be designated, which designation shall consist of a statement prepared as herein provided for, and opposite such question, proposition or constitutional amendment to be voted on, in separate lines, the words "Yes" and "No" shall be printed. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes," his vote shall be counted in favor of the adoption of the question, proposition or constitutional amendment; if he shall stamp a cross (X) after the printed word "No," his vote shall be counted against the adoption of the same.

10. On the top of the face of the ballot the following directions shall be printed:

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS:

Instructions to voters.

To vote for a candidate of your selection, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square next to the right of the name of such candidate. Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected, stamp a cross (X) after the names of all the candidates for that office for whom you desire to vote, not to exceed, however, the number of candidates who are to be elected. To vote for a person not on the ballot, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the blank space left for that purpose.

To vote on any question, proposition or constitutional amendment, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the word "Yes" or after the word "No." All marks, except the cross (X) are forbidden. All distinguishing marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void.

In elections when electors of President and Vice President of the United States are to be chosen, there shall be placed upon the ballot in addition to the instructions to voters as above provided, an additional instruction as follows: "To vote for all or a group of persons, stamp a cross (X) in the square opposite such group," this instruction appearing immediately before the words: "To vote for a person not on the ballot."

If you wrongfully stamp, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election and obtain another.

10. Except as to the order of the names of candidates, the ballots shall be printed substantially in the following form:

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

To vote for a candidate of your selection stamp a cross (X) in the voting square next to the right of the name of such candidate. When two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected stamp a cross (X) after the name of all the candidates for that class for whom you desire to vote, not to exceed however the number of candidates who are to be elected. To vote for a group of persons stamp a cross (X) in the square opposite such group. To vote for a person not on the ballot, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the blank space left for that purpose. To vote on any proposition or on any local amendment, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the word "Yes" or after the word "No." All marks except the cross (X) are forbidden. All discrepancies, marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void. If you wrongly stamp, tear or deface the ballot, return it to the Inspector of Elections and obtain another.

CHAPTER 932.

An act to amend section 457 of the Civil Code, relating to bonds of railroad corporations

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 457 of the Civil Code is hereby ^{C C. 1972.} amended to read as follows:

457. The directors may confer on any holder of any bond ^{Convertible bonds.} the right to convert the principal thereof into stock of such corporations upon such conditions and under such regulations as they may prescribe.

CHAPTER 933.

An act to amend the School Code of the State of California by adding section 4.982 thereto, relating to school bonds.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the School ^{New section.} Code of the State of California to be numbered 4.982 and to read as follows:

4.982. No error, irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the taxpayers within such ^{Legality of school bonds.} district or the electors voting at any election at which bonds of any district of any kind or class are authorized to be issued hereunder shall invalidate the election or any bonds authorized thereby.

CHAPTER 934.

An act to add a new section to be numbered 4½ to chapter 397, ^{Stats 1911, p 730, amended} statutes of 1911, entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities or of which a municipality has possession and the right of use under the provisions of section 14 of article one of the constitution, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, properties or rights of way, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," relating to the laying of water pipes and mains in public streets in cases where the water is supplied by a public agency other than the city ordering the improvement.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to that certain act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities or of which a municipality has possession and the right of use under the provisions of section 14 of article one of the constitution, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, properties or rights of way, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, to be known as section 4½, to read as follows:

Proceedings
for improvements to domestic water supply

Sec. 4½. In every case where the work proposed to be done includes the laying of conduits, pipes, hydrants, or any appliance for the supplying or distributing of a domestic water supply, and the distribution of such domestic water supply in the territory in which the improvement is contemplated is under the management and control of a municipal water district, a municipal utility district, a public utility district, a metropolitan water district, or any public agency other than the city or municipality ordering any work done or improvement to be made which is authorized by this act, the said conduits, pipes, hydrants, or other appurtenances for supplying or distributing such domestic water supply shall be installed under the following proceedings, which must be taken prior to the adoption of the resolution of intention, to wit:

Resolution

Before requiring the plans, specifications and estimates provided for in section 8 of this act the city council shall pass a resolution requesting the public agency having charge of the supplying and distribution of the domestic water supply in the district about to be improved to furnish to the city council plans and specifications for adequate and appropriate conduits, pipes, hydrants and other appurtenances necessary for that purpose. It shall thereupon become the duty of such public agency to furnish said plans and specifications so required, and said plans and specifications shall be submitted to the city council for its approval. The city council may adopt said plans and specifications, but may not modify or change the same except with the consent of the public agency furnishing said plans and specifications, and if no agreement can be reached the said conduits, pipes and other appurtenances for supplying said water shall be omitted from the contemplated improvement. If the said plans and specifications are adopted by the city council it shall be the duty of the city engineer to incorporate said plans and specifications in the plans and specifications furnished by him to the city council, as required by section 8 of this act, and the said plans and specifications shall thereupon be deemed incorporated in the plans and specifications for doing the work, and the public agency which supplies said plans and specifications may at all times maintain an inspector over the work and improvement to see that the plans and specifications which it has furnished have been complied with, and the cost of such inspection shall form a part of the incidental expenses of the work and be incorporated in the assessment as a part thereof.

Plans, etc.

After the work has been completed, and accepted the said pipes, conduits and other appliances for supplying or distributing water so installed shall be and become a part of the system of the said public agency so supplying the water, and shall at all times thereafter be used, operated, maintained, and managed by it as a part of such system.

tions

SEC. 2. Section 5½ of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1925,
p. 291.

Sec. 5½. On or after January first of each year each registered nurse shall renew his or her certificate and pay the required renewal fee of one dollar ($1.00). Every certificate that is not renewed will expire on the first day of March of each year and may not be renewed except upon the payment of the lapsed fee, but in no event shall such payment exceed the sum of two dollars.

Renewal fee

Within sixty (60) days after March first of each year a list of registered nurses who have renewed their certificates for that year shall be published.

CHAPTER 942.

An act to amend section 394 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the place of trial of actions or proceedings to which a county, city and county, city, or public or municipal corporation, is a party, and providing for the attendance of witnesses, payment of costs, and the assignment of judges in certain cases.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1929,
p. 193.

Venue of actions to which city or county is a party

SECTION 1. Section 394 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

394. An action or proceeding against a county, or city and county, may be commenced and tried in such county, or city and county, unless such action or proceeding is brought by a county, or city and county, in which case it may be tried in any county, or city and county, not a party thereto. Whenever an action or proceeding is brought by a county, city and county, or city, against a resident of another county, city and county, or city, or a corporation doing business in the latter, the action or proceeding must be, on motion of either party, transferred for trial to a county, or city and county, other than the plaintiff, if the plaintiff is a county, or city and county, and other than that in which the plaintiff is situated, if the plaintiff is a city, and other than that in which the defendant resides or is doing business or is situated. Whenever an action or proceeding is brought against a county, city and county, or city, in any county, or city and county, other than the defendant, if the defendant is a county, or city and county, or, if the defendant is a city, other than that in which the defendant is situated, the action or proceeding must be, on motion of the said defendant, transferred for trial to a county, or city and county, other than that in which the plaintiff, or any of the plaintiffs, resides, or is doing business, or is situated, and other than the plaintiff county, or city and county, or county in which such plaintiff city is situated, and other than the defendant county, or city and county, or county in which such defendant city is situated; provided, however, that any action or proceeding against a city, county, or city and county for injury occurring therein, to person or property or person and property caused by the negligence or alleged negligence of such city, county, or city and county, or its agents or employees, shall be commenced and tried in such county, or city and county, or if a city is a defendant, in such city or in the county in which such city is situated. In any action or proceeding, the parties thereto may, by stipulation in writing, or made in open court, and entered in the minutes, agree upon any county, or city and county, for the place of trial thereof. When the action or proceeding is one in which a jury is not of right, or in case a jury be waived, then in lieu of transferring the cause the court in the original county may request the chairman of the judicial council to assign a disinterested judge from a neutral county to hear said cause and all proceedings in connection therewith. When such action or proceeding is transferred to another county for trial a witness required to respond to a subpoena for a hearing within the original county shall be compelled to attend hearings in the county to which the cause is transferred. If the demand for transfer be made by one party and the opposing party does not consent thereto the additional costs of the nonconsenting party occasioned by the transfer of the cause, including living and traveling expenses of said nonconsenting party material and witnesses found by the court to be material and called by such nonconsenting party not to exceed five dollars per day each in excess of witness fees and mileage otherwise allowed by law, shall be assessed by the court hearing the cause against the party requesting the transfer. To the extent of such excess, such costs shall be awarded to the nonconsenting party regardless of the outcome of the trial. This section shall apply to actions or proceedings now pending or hereafter brought.

Expenses of witnesses

amended.

An act to amend section 27 of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917, as amended, by extending the limitation of time for the filing of proceedings for compensation where a release or compromise agreement has not been approved by the commission.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1923,
p. 771

SECTION 1. Section 27 of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Right to compromise

Sec. 27. (a) No contract, rule or regulation shall exempt the employer from liability for the compensation fixed by this act, but nothing in this act contained shall be construed as impairing the right of the parties interested to compromise, subject to the provisions herein contained, any liability which may be claimed under this act on account of such injury or death, or as conferring upon the dependents of any injured employee any interest which such employee may not divert by such compromise or for which he, or his estate, shall, in the event of such compromise by him, be accountable to such dependents or any of them.

agreement
when valid

(b) The compensation herein provided shall be the measure of the responsibility which the employer has assumed for injuries or death that may occur to employees in his employment when subject to the provisions of this act, and no release of liability or compromise agreement shall be valid unless it provide for the payment of full compensation in accordance with the provisions of this act or unless it shall be approved by the commission.

Filing of copy of agreement.

(c) A copy of such release or compromise agreement signed by both parties shall forthwith be filed with the commission. When such release or compromise agreement is filed with the commission and approved by it, the commission may of its own motion, or on the application of either party, without notice, enter its award based upon such release or compromise agreement.

agreement.

(d) Every such release or compromise agreement shall be in writing duly executed and attested by two disinterested witnesses, and shall specify the date of the accident, the average weekly wages of the employee, determined according to section 12 hereof, the nature of the disability, whether total or partial, permanent or temporary, the amount paid or due and unpaid to the employee up to the date of the release or agreement or death, as the case may be, and, if any, the amount of the payment or benefits then or thereafter to be made, and the length of time that such payment is to continue. In case of death there shall also be stated in such release or compromise agreement the date of death, the name of the widow, if any, the names and ages of all children, if any, and the names of all other dependents, if any, and whether such dependents be total or partial, and the amount paid or to be paid as a death benefit and to whom such payment is to be made.

(e) Where a release or compromise is made for an amount less than the full compensation or benefit to which an employee, or his dependents, may be entitled under this act, the limitation of time provided by subsection (b) (1) and (b) (2) of section 11 of this act in which such employee or his dependents may file proceedings for the collection of the benefits provided by section 9 of this act is hereby extended to two years from the date of the injury, unless said release or compromise agreement shall have been approved by the commission. of actions

CHAPTER 945.

An act to amend section 29 of the "Workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917," as amended, by providing that in prosecutions for violations of said act under this section, the burden of proof shall rest upon the defendant to show compliance with said act. Stats 1917,
p 331,
amended

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 29 of the "Workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917," approved May 23, 1917, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p 551

Sec. 29. (a) Every employer as defined in section 7 hereof, except the state and all political subdivisions or institutions thereof, shall secure the payment of compensation in one or more of the following ways: Securing payment of compensation
methods

1. By insuring and keeping insured against liability to pay compensation in one or more insurance carriers duly authorized to write compensation insurance in this state.

2. By securing from the commission a certificate of consent to self-insure, which may be given upon his furnishing proof satisfactory to the commission of ability to carry his own insurance and pay any compensation that may become due to his employees, the commission may, in its discretion, require such employer to deposit with the state treasurer a bond or securities, but not both a bond and securities, approved by the commission, in an amount to be determined by the commission. Such certificate may be revoked at any time for good cause shown after hearing had, such good cause including among other things, the impairment of the solvency of said employer, the practice by such employer or his agent in charge of the administration of its obligations under the workmen's compensation act of any of the acts denounced by sections 596 (b) or 633 of the Political Code, with respect to the conduct of insurance companies, their officers or agents. So long as the certificate of consent to self-insure has not been revoked, and the self-insurer has deposited with the state treasurer such bond or securities, the self-insurer shall not be required or obliged to pay into the state compensation insurance fund any sums covering liability for compensation, excepting life pensions; but shall be permitted, and such permission is hereby given the self-insurer, to fully administer any and all such compensation benefits assessed against the said insurer.

Proceedings
where payment is unsecured.

(b) If any employer shall fail so to secure the payment of compensation, any injured employee or his dependents may proceed against such employer by filing an application for compensation with the commission, and, in addition thereto, such injured employee or his dependents may bring an action at law against such employer for damages, the same as if this act did not apply, and shall be entitled in such action to the right to attach the property of the employer, at any time upon or after the institution of such action, in an amount to be fixed by the court, to secure the payment of any judgment which may ultimately be obtained. Such judgment shall include a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except in so far as they may be inconsistent with this act, shall govern the issuance of and proceedings upon such attachment; provided, that if as a result of such action for damages a judgment is obtained against such employer in excess of the compensation awarded under this act, the compensation awarded by the commission, if paid, or if security approved by the court be given for its payment, shall be credited upon such judgment; provided further, that in such action it shall be presumed that the injury to the employee was a direct result and grew out of the negligence of the employer, and the burden of proof shall rest upon the employer, to rebut the presumption of negligence. In such proceeding it shall not be a defense to the employer that the employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence, or assumed the risk of the hazard complained of, or that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow servant. No contract, rule or regulation shall be allowed to restore to the employer any of the foregoing defenses.

Penalties

(c) Failure to secure the payment of compensation as hereinbefore provided shall constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months or both. In case of the wilful failure by an employer to secure the payment of compensation as herein provided, the amount of compensation otherwise recoverable for injury or death as provided in this act shall be increased ten per cent. any of the provisions of this act as to maximum payments or otherwise to the contrary notwithstanding; provided, however, that said increase of award shall in no event exceed one thousand dollars. Failure of the employer to secure the payment of compensation as herein provided shall be prima facie evidence of wilfulness on his part.

(d) The commission may require any employer to furnish a written statement at any time showing the name of his insurance carrier or the manner in which the employer has complied with the provisions of this section. Failure of the employer for a period of ten days to furnish such written statement shall constitute presumptive evidence that such employer has failed or neglected in respect to the matters so required. In any prosecution under this section, the burden of proof shall be upon the defendant to show that he has secured the payment of compensation in one of the two ways set forth in paragraph (a) hereof.

Employer to furnish statements

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Division of forestry to purchase lands

SECTION 1. The state division of forestry of the department of natural resources by and with the approval of the department of finance is hereby authorized to purchase land for look-out sites and other administrative purposes.

CHAPTER 953.

An act to amend section 3489 of, and to add section 3489b to the Political Code, relating to the reorganization of, and the inclusion of lands in, swamp land or reclamation districts.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1911,
p. 655.

SECTION 1. Section 3489 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Reorganization and consolidation of districts

3489. Reclamation districts formed, organized or created into districts under special or general laws heretofore or now in force, may reorganize and consolidate in the manner following: Whenever the owners of a majority of the acreage of the land in each of two or more reclamation districts desire to consolidate and reorganize, they may do so by filing a notice with the county recorder of the county in which the greater portion of the lands of the combined district is situated, setting forth that they desire to consolidate and reorganize.

Notice.

The notice must give the exterior boundaries of the said districts, the name and number of each of them, the number of acres of land that each contains, and must be signed by the persons owning the majority of the acreage of the land in each district, and shall designate the number of acres owned by each signer and the district in which the same is situated. The county recorder shall record said notice in a book kept for the purpose of recording papers in relation to reclamation districts. He shall make a certified copy of said notice, and forward the same to the state land register, who shall designate a number for the reorganized district, after which time the district shall be known by such number, and shall be under the operation of and governed by the provisions of this code, and all proceedings thereafter shall be the same as though said district was organized upon an original petition and granted by the board of supervisors.

Provided, however, that such consolidation and reorganization shall in no manner invalidate the indebtedness of the original districts; and all the laws, rules and regulations for the assessing, levying and collecting taxes or assessments in said districts shall remain and be in full force and all assessments and collections required for the payment of the then outstanding indebtedness in said districts, shall be the same as though they had not consolidated and reorganized until such indebtedness shall be paid and liquidated; provided, however, that the provisions of this code relative to assessments and issuing and sale of bonds are hereby made applicable to such districts.

Indebtedness of original districts

Provided, that the reorganization and consolidation of any two or more districts under the provisions of this act shall not be so construed as to legalize any indebtedness or any act of any of said districts or the officers thereof, prior to the act of reorganization and consolidation; provided, further, that no land not included in some of the original districts shall be included in the reorganization and consolidation without the consent of the owner.

Effect of reorganization.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code of the State of California to be numbered 3489b and to read as follows:

New section

3489b. The owners of a majority of acres of land in compact form, capable of being embraced in a swamp land or reclamation district, and not a part of another district desiring to have their lands included within a swamp land or reclamation district may apply in writing to the board of trustees of such district to have their lands included within such district.

Application for inclusion of lands

Upon the filing of such application, the trustees of such district shall file with the board of supervisors of the county in which the district, or greater portion thereof is situated, a petition to include said lands within said swamp land or reclamation district.

Said petition must also set forth the following:

Petition contents

(1) A description of the lands sought to be included within the boundaries of such district.

(2) A description of the exterior boundaries of such district after the lands described in said petition are included therein.

(3) The names of each and every owner of a record of the lands sought to be included within the exterior boundaries of such district.

(4) The benefits said lands will derive from the works of reclamation of such district.

(5) The amount each or any tract of said lands should be charged under any existing assessment or assessments for the construction of works of reclamation unpaid at the time of the filing of said petition.

(6) The amount said lands or any part thereof should be charged under any previous assessment or assessments for works of reclamation which assessment or assessments have been paid in full prior to the time of the filing of said petition.

(7) In the event an assessment has been levied on the lands of such district pursuant to subdivision b of section 3456 of the Political Code of the State of California, prior to the filing of said petition:

(a) The assessment value per acre of each tract sought to be included in such district.

(b) The total assessment valuation of each of said tracts sought to be included in such district.

(8) The sum of money that would be due for calls theretofore made and paid on any assessment or assessments still a lien upon the lands in such district.

(9) The sum of money that would be due upon said lands sought to be included, upon any assessment or assessments theretofore levied in such district and which have been paid in full prior to the filing of said petition.

(10) The sum due upon a call for the current year made before the hearing of said petition upon an assessment for maintenance and repairs, on each tract of land sought to be included.

Request There shall be attached to and made a part of said petition a written request to have the lands included within such district, and a consent to the statements contained in said petition signed by the landowners making the request to have said lands included in said district.

Hearing Upon the filing of said petition with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which the district or the county in which the greater portion thereof is situated, said clerk shall give notice of the filing of said petition and of the time when the said petition will be presented to the board of supervisors, and when the board of supervisors will consider objections, if any, to said petition for the inclusion of said lands. The hearing upon said petition by said board of supervisors shall be held not less than fifteen (15) days after the day said petition is filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors.

Notice. Said notice shall be given by said clerk by posting copies thereof in three (3) public places in the county in which said district, or in the county in which the greater portion thereof, is situated. Said notice shall be in substantially the following form:

“Notice to the Landowners of Reclamation District No.-----

Notice is hereby given that there has been filed with the county clerk of the county of -----, a petition for the inclusion, within the boundaries of Reclamation District No. ----- of the following described tract of land situate, lying and being in the county of ----- and more particularly described as follows, to wit:

That the board of supervisors of the county of ----- will hold a meeting at its office in the city of -----, county of -----, State of California, on the ----- day of -----, 19--, at ----- o'clock --m. at which time any person interested may appear and object to the inclusion of said lands within said Reclamation District No. -----.”

That at said hearing the board of supervisors shall hear such evidence as may be offered in respect to said petition and shall thereafter grant or deny the said petition or may grant said petition as to a part of the lands sought to be included and deny said petition as to the remainder of said lands sought to be included.

The order of said board of supervisors granting said petition shall:

Order after hearing
contents

(1) Describe the exterior boundaries of such district after the inclusion of any of the lands described in said petition.

(2) State the amount of the assessment levied on each tract of said lands being included within the boundaries of such district under any and all existing, outstanding and unpaid assessment or assessments for the construction of works of reclamation.

(3) Prescribe the sum to be paid by the owners of the respective tracts of said lands being included within the boundaries of such district upon calls made on assessments theretofore made and paid upon other lands in said district.

(4) State the assessment valuation per acre and the total assessment valuation of each tract of said lands being included within the boundaries of such district under any existing assessment for repairs and maintenance theretofore levied in such district under the provisions of subdivision b, section 3456 of the Political Code of the State of California.

(5) Prescribe the sum to be paid by the owners of the respective tracts of land being included within the boundaries of such district for calls made during the year in which said petition was filed under assessments for repairs and maintenance.

(6) Prescribe the sum to be paid by the owners of the respective tracts of land being included within the boundaries of such district upon the assessment or assessments for reclamation work theretofore levied and wholly paid prior to the inclusions of said lands within such district.

(7) Prescribe the sum due upon each tract of said lands being included within the boundaries of said district upon a call made upon an assessment for maintenance and repairs.

(8) If it be deemed advisable, require the payment of any sums on account of the assessment or assessments in such installments as said board may determine. The amount and time of payment of the installments shall be specified in said order.

Payment of
assessments

The owners of the tracts of land sought to be included and described in the order of the board of supervisors shall within thirty (30) days pay to the county treasurer of the county in which such district or the greater portion thereof is situated the sums of money fixed in said order as being due upon assessments, if any such sums are due, and upon the presentation to the board of supervisors of the receipt of the county treasurer showing the payment of said sum, said board shall make its order including said lands within such district and shall set forth in said order a description of the exterior boundaries of such district after the inclusion of said lands.

Recordation
of order,
etc.

Upon the board of supervisors making the order including lands within such district, the board of trustees of such district shall file a certified copy of said petition, together with a certified copy of the order of the board of supervisors including said lands within such district, in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said lands are situated and also with the registrar of the state land office. The board of trustees of such district shall file with the county treasurer or other officer having custody of the assessment list or lists of such district certified copies of the petition and orders of the board of supervisors and it shall be the duty upon such filing of the county treasurer or other officer having custody of the assessment lists to enter said lands and amounts set forth in the order of, and fixed by the board of supervisors upon the assessment list or lists of such district.

Assessments
are lien

Upon the filing of the certified copy of the petition for inclusions of lands in such district, together with a certified copy of the order of the board of supervisors including said lands, all assessments on said land as fixed by the board of supervisors shall become a lien upon said lands and shall be collected in the same manner as assessments are collected in swamp land and reclamation districts; provided, however, that if the order of the board of supervisors shall direct that the amount due at the time of the inclusions of the lands shall be payable in installments, then in the event of default of the payment of any installment the same shall become delinquent and shall be subject to the same penalties and collectible in the same manner as any other swamp land or reclamation district assessments.

Disposition
of payments.

All payments made to the county treasurer pursuant to the order of said board of supervisors shall be credited to the proper fund or funds of such district.

Any proceeding under this section shall not be deemed to invalidate or act as a reapportionment of any existing assessment or assessments in such district. ^{Effect}

CHAPTER 954.

An act to amend section 4 of chapter 277 of the statutes of 1907, entitled "An act to create a fund to be known as the United States forest reserve fund and to provide for the payment out of such fund to the treasuries of the several counties entitled thereto of certain moneys received from the government of the United States, and also to regulate the manner of expenditure by the counties of the moneys so paid," approved March 18, 1907, as amended, relating to the apportionment of moneys received by counties from the United States forest reserve fund. ^{Stats 1907, p 346, amended}

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4 of chapter 277 of the statutes of 1907, entitled "An act to create a fund to be known as the United States forest reserve fund and to provide for the payment out of such fund to the treasuries of the several counties entitled thereto of certain moneys received from the government of the United States, and also to regulate the manner of expenditure by the counties of the moneys so paid," approved March 18, 1907, as amended by chapter 96 of the statutes of 1927, is hereby amended to read as follows: ^{Stats 1927, p 185}

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the county auditor of any county receiving a payment of money under the provisions of this act, immediately to apportion such money by placing fifty per cent thereof to the credit of the unapportioned county elementary school fund of such county, and fifty per cent to the credit of the general road fund. The money thus added to the unapportioned county elementary school fund shall be apportioned by the county superintendent of schools in the same manner as other county school fund moneys, and the moneys so added to the county general road fund shall be used for the same purposes as other general road fund moneys; provided, however, that fifty per cent of the money thus apportioned to the credit of the unapportioned county elementary school fund shall upon the request of the county superintendent of schools be transferred to a fund to be known as the forest reserve school fund; which shall be used by the county superintendent of schools for the benefit of school districts of such county lying within or adjacent to the United States forest reserve, such fund being available for any purpose for which county funds may be spent. ^{County auditor to apportion money.}

An act to amend section 1 of chapter 834 of the statutes of 1927, relating to acceptance of the workmen's compensation act.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927,
p. 1681

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 834 of the statutes of 1927 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Workmen's compensation for agricultural laborers

Section 1. Any employer and his employees engaged in farm, dairy, agricultural, viticultural or horticultural employments or in stock or poultry raising, not subject to the compensation provisions of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917, as amended, shall, from and after the date this act takes effect, be conclusively presumed to have accepted the compensation provisions of said act and amendments thereto and to have included in their contract of hire or apprenticeship, express or implied, a mutual agreement to accept said provisions, unless either such employer or employee shall, prior to the occurrence of any injury, have given notice of rejection of said provisions of said act in the manner herein provided.

Exception

This section shall not apply to any such employer and employee where the pay roll of such employer for the preceding calendar year has not exceeded five hundred dollars.

CHAPTER 956.

Stats 1919,
p. 942,
amended

An act to amend sections 4, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 17, 18, 25, 26, 27 and 29 of "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation, reorganization, dissolution and alteration of boundaries of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, septic tanks, and other sanitary disposal of sewerage matter; the acquisition of property thereby, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levying, collection, custody, and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance, disposal and retirement of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds," approved May 25, 1919, relating to sanitary districts.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1919,
p. 942

SECTION 1. Section 4 of "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation, reorganization, dissolution and alteration of boundaries of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, septic tanks, and other sanitary disposal of sewerage matter; the acquisition of property thereby, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levying, collection, custody, and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance, disposal and retirement of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds," approved May 25, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. The board of supervisors, at least fifteen days prior to the election, shall select one, and may select five, polling places within the proposed district, and make all suitable arrangements for the holding of such election. They must appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, who shall constitute the officers of said election; if none are so appointed or if those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. The ballots shall contain the words, "for a sanitary district," or "against a sanitary district," as the case may be, and also the names of the persons to be voted for at said election. At such election there shall be elected a sanitary assessor and five persons for members of the sanitary board. Such election, and all subsequent elections in said district, shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the provisions of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations shall not apply. Every qualified elector, resident within the proposed district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the election above provided for. If a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of a sanitary district, the board of supervisors shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes of said board an order that a sanitary district of the name and with the boundaries stated in the petition (setting forth such boundaries) has been duly established, and said order shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act or by law, and of the existence and validity of the sanitary district. If a majority of the votes cast shall be against a sanitary district, the board shall by order entered in its minutes, so declare; no other proceeding shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of one year from the date of the presentation of the petition to said board.

SEC. 2. Section 7 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1919,
p 942

Sec 7. There shall be an election for sanitary assessor at the first election at which members of the sanitary board are elected, and at the same time, place and manner; and the person then elected shall hold office for four years next thereafter, and until the election and qualification of his successor. The person elected assessor at the election at which the district was formed shall hold office until the election and qualification of his successor; provided, that if at any time a vacancy occur in the office of assessor, the sanitary board shall appoint a suitable person to fill such vacancy until the next election at which an assessor may be elected under the provisions of this act.

Stats 1921,
p 1427.

SEC. 3. Section 8 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

List of property
in district

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the sanitary assessor to make out, before the first Monday in August of each year, a list of all the tangible real and personal property within the district; he shall list the tangible real and personal property in any annexed district separately. Such list shall contain a general description of the property said description shall be identical with said descriptions of the same properties as contained on the county assessment list for the current year, an assessment of the value thereof, the name or names of the owner or owners, and such other matters as may be ordered by the sanitary board and such matters as shall be necessary to make such list conform to the provisions of the general laws of the State of California. The land shall be assessed separately from the improvements thereon.

When in the judgment of the assessor any property within the boundaries of a sanitary district can not be fully served or benefited by the sewer system installed, in such sanitary district he shall assess such property, according to benefits received by said property from said sewer system within said sanitary district.

Mistake shall not invalidate
assessment

No mistake in the name of the owner of any of the real or personal property assessed, or any informality in the description, or in other parts of the assessment, shall invalidate the same. The sanitary assessor shall verify said list by his oath, before some officer authorized to administer oaths, and shall deposit the same with the sanitary board on the first Monday of August of each year, or as soon thereafter as is practicable. He shall have power to administer all oaths and affirmations necessary or proper in the performance of his duty as assessor, and shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the order of the board. He shall also perform such further duties and do such further acts as may be ordered or required by the sanitary board.

SEC. 4. Section 9 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Election and term of sanitary board

Sec. 9. The five members of the sanitary board elected at the election at which the district was organized shall, at their first meeting, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, so classify themselves, by lot, that two of them shall go out of office upon the election and qualification of their successors, which election shall be held in the month of September of the fourth year following that in which the district was organized.

The other three shall go out of office upon the election and qualification of their successors, which election shall be held in the month of September of the second year following that in which the district was organized. The successors shall hold for a term of four years and until the election and qualification of those who are to succeed them.

The members chosen at any election subsequent to that at which the first five members were elected, shall hold office for a term of four years, and until the election and qualification of their successors.

The members of the board of any sanitary district organized under this act before the month of September in the year 1931 shall hold office until the month of September in 1932. Before this time they shall so classify themselves, by lot, that two of them shall go out of office upon the election and qualification of their successors, which election shall be held in the month of September in the year 1932. The other three shall go out of office upon the election and qualification of their successors, which election shall be held in the month of September in the year 1934. The members chosen at any election held subsequent to the month of September in the year 1931 shall hold office for a term of four years and until the election and qualification of their successors.

Each of the members of the sanitary board shall receive for each attendance of the meeting of the sanitary board, five dollars, and shall receive no other compensation. No member of the sanitary board shall receive pay for more than one meeting in any calendar month, except the secretary who shall receive thirty dollars per month whether he be a member of the board or not. All elections for officers, after the formation of the district shall be held on the first Monday after the second Tuesday in the month of September. Not less than twenty days before the day of such election the sanitary board must give notices of said election by posting notices thereof in five public places in the sanitary district, which notices must specify the time and place of election, the hours during which the polls will be kept open, and the officers to be elected. They shall select one, and may select five, polling places within the district; shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Said election officers shall constitute the election board. If no election officers are so appointed, or if those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. Such election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the requirements of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations of candidates shall not apply. Every qualified elector resident within the district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the election. At such election the last great register of the county shall be used, and any elector whose name is not upon such great register shall be entitled to vote upon producing and filing with the board of election a certificate, under the hand and seal of the county clerk, showing that his name is registered and uncanceled upon the great register of such county, provided that he is otherwise entitled to vote.

Canvass
of vote

The officers of the election must publicly canvass the votes immediately after the closing of the polls, and must certify the result within twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls to the sanitary board. Said board shall within five days after the election canvass said returns, and shall make, sign and deliver certificates of election to the person or persons elected.

SEC. 5. Section 11 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Equalization
of assessments

Sec. 11. On the first Monday of August each year, at the hour of 7.30 o'clock p.m., the sanitary board shall meet at its usual place of meeting within said district, and proceed to organize itself into a board of equalization, and if the sanitary assessor has returned the assessment list for said year said board shall proceed to equalize the property so assessed and returned by said sanitary assessor. If said assessment list has not been returned by said sanitary assessor said board must adjourn from day to day until said assessment list has been returned, and for the purpose of adjournment one or more of the members of said board present may make said adjournment and announce the same. Upon the assessment list having been returned by the assessor, said board of equalization shall proceed to equalize the property listed on said assessment list, and said board shall continue in session as a board of equalization until the property upon the entire list returned by the assessor shall have been examined, rectified and equalized, with such reasonable intermissions during the day and from day to day as may be expedient. The board shall have power to hear complaints as to the proceedings of the assessor, and to adjudicate and determine the controversy thereon, and may of its own motion raise an assessment, after such reasonable notice to the party whose assessment is to be raised, as may be ordered by the board. After the examination and rectification of the assessor's list shall have been completed, the board shall, by resolution, fix the rate of taxation for sanitary purposes, designating the number of cents on each one hundred dollars to be levied for each fund and shall designate the fund into which the same shall be paid; but no more than fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars shall be levied for all the sanitary purposes of any one year, besides what shall be required for the payment of the principal and interest of such year upon outstanding bonds. After the entry in the minutes of the resolution fixing the rate of taxation the sanitary board shall cause the assessor to compute the amount of the tax upon each piece of real and personal property, and enter the same upon the assessment list in a suitable place. The list, when so completed, shall be verified by the assessor and signed by the president and secretary; and the amount of the tax shall thereupon become a lien upon the property upon which it is assessed, and shall have the effect of a judgment against the person of the owner thereof, and every such lien shall have the force and effect of an execution duly levied against all the property of the delinquent; and the judgment shall not be deemed satisfied or the lien extinguished until the taxes are paid or the property sold to satisfy the same, and no statute of limitations shall apply. No bonds shall be voted for or issued at any one time, which in the aggregate shall exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of such district; whether it be made up of one issue of bonds or of several issues.

officer of the sanitary district shall immediately forward a copy of the redemption certificate to the county recorder and the county recorder shall inscribe or stamp upon the margin of the certificate of sale of said property then on file in his office, the word "redeemed," together with the date, the amount paid, and the name of the party redeeming said property; and further provided, that whenever the tax collector issues a deed to the purchaser of any property sold for delinquent sanitary taxes, the said tax collector shall forward a copy of the deed to the county recorder, and the county recorder shall then inscribe or stamp upon the margin of the certificate of sale of said property then on file in his office, the words "deeded to," together with the date, and the name of the party to whom said deed was issued. In the event that property upon which sanitary district taxes have become delinquent is, on account of such delinquency, sold by the tax collector, and a deed therefor is issued to any person other than the State of California, the party who was of record as the owner of such property at the time of such sale and of such issuance of such deed, is hereby granted the right to redeem said property from the tax title purchaser thereof, at any time within a period of five years from and after the issuance of such deed, by the payment to the said tax title purchaser of the amount for which the said property was to him sold by the tax collector and an additional premium which shall not be greater than one hundred per cent of the said purchase price. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person or persons who have purchased at a delinquent tax sale any property which is sold for delinquent sanitary taxes, to demand for its redemption any sum greater than the amount which is by this act specified; or to refuse to redeem any such property to the party who was the owner thereof at the time of such delinquent tax sale, when proper tender is made, within five years after date of such sale, of an amount which is not greater than the amount which is by this act permitted.

Sec. 7. Section 13 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 13. The tax collector shall pay over to the county treasurer all moneys collected by him for sanitary purposes, as fast as the same shall be collected, and the said treasurer shall keep the same in the county treasury as follows: In a fund called the bond fund of sanitary district (naming it) he shall place and keep the moneys levied by the sanitary board for such fund; and no part of the money in this fund shall be transferred to any other fund, or be used for any other purpose than the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds of the sanitary district, and for the retirement of bonds which had been issued by a district which formerly formed a part of the sanitary district as hereinafter provided for, so long as any such bonds shall be unpaid; in a fund called the running expense of sanitary district (naming it) he shall place and keep the moneys levied by the sanitary board for such fund. The whole or any part of the money in the running expense fund may be transferred to the bond fund, or to the other fund hereinafter provided for, upon the order of the sanitary board and it shall be the duty of the treasurer to comply with such order. The treasurer shall pay out moneys from either of said funds, or from the fund hereinafter mentioned, only upon the written order of the sanitary board, signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary, which order shall specify the name of the person to whom the money is to be paid and the fund from which it is to be paid, and shall state generally the purpose for which the payment is made, and such order shall be entered in the minutes of the sanitary board. The treasurer shall keep the order as his voucher, and shall keep a specific account of his receipts and disbursements of money for sanitary purposes. He shall also keep an accurate account of all interest earned upon any of the funds mentioned in this section, or any other increase therein. All such interest and increase may be used only in the manner provided for the fund from which it shall have accrued. The sanitary board may require the treasurer, by order duly entered upon the minutes of the board, to place such funds of the sanitary district in a bank situated within such sanitary district; and the treasurer must comply with the order of the board. The treasurer and sureties upon his official bond shall be liable for the due performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act.

Sec. 17. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election, the board shall select one, and may select five, polling places within the district, appoint one inspector and two judges of the election for each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. If no election officers are appointed, or if those appointed are not present at the time for opening the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. The vote must be by ballot (without references to the general election law in regard to form of ballot). The ballot shall contain the words "Bonds—Yes" and "Bonds—No," and the persons voting at said bond elections shall put a cross (X) upon their ballots with pencil or ink after the words "Bonds—Yes" or "Bonds—No" (as the case may be) to indicate whether they have voted for or against the issuance of bonds.

The elections shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided.

Every qualified elector resident within the district for the length of time necessary to enable him to vote at a general election shall be entitled to vote at the elections above provided for. After the votes shall have been announced the ballots shall be sealed up and delivered to the secretary or president of the sanitary board, which board shall on the seventh day after the election, at eight o'clock p.m., meet and canvass the returns of the election, and if it appears that two-thirds of the votes cast at said election were in favor of issuing such bonds, then the board shall cause an entry of that fact to be made upon its minutes. Such entry shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided by this act or by law, and of the facts stated in such entry. If, at such election, two-thirds of the votes cast be in favor of the issuance of bonds as proposed by the sanitary board, the said board shall thenceforth have full power and authority to issue and dispose of bonds as proposed in the order calling the election; provided, that the total amount of bonds so issued shall not exceed ten per cent of the assessed value of all real and personal property of the district, as shown by the last equalized assessment book of the county.

Form of
bonds

Sec. 18. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be of such denominations as the sanitary board may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars. Said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the county treasurer of the county wherein said district is situated, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, which interest shall be payable semiannually in like gold coin. Not less than one-fortieth part of the total issue of bonds shall be payable each year, on a day to be specified by the sanitary board, but no bonds shall be payable in installments, but each bond issued hereunder shall be payable in full on the date specified therein by said board. Each bond shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the sanitary board, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one, and shall have coupons attached referring to the number of the bond to which they are attached, which coupons shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of said board. The bonds must be disposed of by the sanitary board in such manner and in such quantities as may be determined by said board in its discretion, but no bond must be disposed for less than its face value. The proceeds of such sale shall be deposited with the county treasurer and shall be by him placed in the fund to be called the sewer construction fund of ----- sanitary district (naming it); the proceeds of such sale shall be placed at interest by the treasurer and the interest earned thereon together with any other increase thereof shall be used only as provided in this section. The interest at which such funds are placed shall not be less than that earned by county funds; the money and all increase thereof in such fund shall be used for the purpose indicated in the order calling the election upon the question of the issuance of the bonds, and for no other purposes; provided, that if after such purposes are entirely fulfilled any balance remain in such fund, such balance may, upon the order of the sanitary board, be transferred to either of the other funds provided by this act. The sanitary board may order the proceeds of such sale placed in a bank situated in the sanitary district, as provided in section 13 of this act.

SEC. 12. Section 25 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1921,

All proceedings shall be had in accordance with the provisions of said acts and the amendments thereto provided, however, that the words "city council" and "Council" used in said act shall be understood to mean sanitary boards. The word "city" and "municipality" shall be understood to mean sanitary districts. The word "clerk" and "city clerk" shall be understood to mean "secretary" of the sanitary board. The words "superintendent of streets" and "street superintendent" and "city engineer" shall be understood to mean the engineer of such "sanitary district." "Tax collector" shall be understood to mean the county tax collector, and the terms "treasurer" and "city treasurer" shall be understood to mean any person or official who shall have charge of and make payment of the funds of such sanitary district. The term "right of way" shall mean any parcel of land through which a right of way has been granted to the sanitary district for the purpose of the constructing and maintaining a sewer therein; and provided, further, that all the powers and duties conferred by the said provisions of said act and acts amendatory and supplementary thereto upon city councils, superintendents of streets, clerks and city clerks and treasurers and engineers, are hereby conferred and imposed upon the respective officers and board above specified.

SEC. 13. Section 26 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 26. The boundaries of any sanitary district may be altered, and outlying contiguous territory in the same county as such sanitary district annexed thereto in the manner following: A petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the qualified electors of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed as shown by the last equalized assessment book of the county in which said sanitary district is situated, designating specifically the boundaries of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed, and the assessed valuation thereof as shown by said last equalized assessment book, and stating that such territory is not within the limits of any other sanitary district, and asking that such territory be annexed to said sanitary district, shall be presented to the sanitary board thereof, together with a duly executed bond for the sum of not less than one hundred dollars, to be approved by said sanitary board and filed with the secretary of the sanitary board as security for the payment by said petitioners of the reasonable costs of the election hereinafter provided for, in the event that at said election less than a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the annexation of the proposed territory to the sanitary district. When such petition is presented and a bond approved and filed as above provided for, the sanitary board must within thirty days thereafter order that an election be held for the purpose of determining whether or not such proposed territory shall be annexed. The order must fix the day of such election, which must be within sixty days from the date of the order, and must show the boundaries of the proposed district. This order shall be entered in the minutes of the sanitary board and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and of the fact that each of the petitioners was at the time of the signing of the petition and the presentation thereof a resident and freeholder within the limits of the proposed district to be annexed.

Order for
election

A copy of such order shall be posted for four successive weeks prior to the election, in five public places within the district and the district proposed to be annexed, and shall be published for four successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published in the district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published in the county. It shall be sufficient if the order be published once a week. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election, the board shall select one and may select five polling places within the sanitary district, and shall select one and may select five polling places within the district proposed to be annexed, appoint officers of election, and make all necessary and proper arrangement for holding the election. Upon the ballots to be used at such election there shall be printed the words, "For annexation to the sanitary district," and "Against annexation to the sanitary district," and there shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such propositions. The election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Every qualified elector resident within the district and the district proposed to be annexed for the length of time necessary to enable him to vote at a general election shall be entitled to vote at the election above provided for. upon the completion of such canvass said sanitary board shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes showing the whole number of votes cast in such sanitary district, the whole number of votes cast in the district proposed to be annexed, the whole number of votes cast in each in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast in each against annexation; and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all of the votes cast in such sanitary district and a majority of all the votes cast in the district proposed to be annexed, are in favor of annexation the secretary, or other officer performing the duties of secretary of the sanitary board of such sanitary district shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes of said board and endorsed on said petition an order approving said petition, and said petition shall thereupon be transmitted and filed with the board of supervisors of the county in which such sanitary district is situated. Such entry shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided by this act or by law, and the facts stated in such entry. Said board of supervisors, at its next regular meeting after filing of said petition, shall by an order alter the boundaries of said sanitary district and annex thereto the contiguous territory described in said petition. Such order shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of all prior proceedings leading up to such annexation and recited in said order, and from and after the same such territory shall become and be a part of such sanitary district. If at said election less than a majority of the votes cast in either the sanitary district or the district proposed to be annexed be in favor of annexation of the proposed territory to the sanitary district, the signers of said petition shall, within ten days after the canvassing of the votes of said election, pay to the sanitary board a sum of money covering the reasonable cost of said election, and if said sum of money is not so paid within ten days, as aforesaid, the sanitary board shall have the right of action under said bond to recover the reasonable cost of said election, and the sanitary board shall, by order, disapprove said petition and enter the same in the minutes of said board, and no other proceedings shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of one year from the presentation of said petition, except to collect the cost of said election as herein provided.

At any time after the annexation of such contiguous territory, the sanitary board may issue bonds for the construction of sewers therein in the manner and for the purposes prescribed and specified in sections 14 to 21, inclusive, of this act; provided, however, that only qualified electors resident within said annexed territory shall be entitled to petition or vote in said proceedings; and provided, further, that taxes for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds shall be limited to the taxable property situate within such annexed contiguous territory; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the powers or alter the procedure elsewhere in this act provided for the issuance of bonds by an entire district and payable out of taxes levied upon all the taxable property therein, whether the boundaries of the district remain as originally established or have been altered by the annexation of contiguous territory.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

See Ch 119,
Stats 1931

SECTION 1. Section 694h of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Board of agriculture
members

694h. The state board of agriculture is hereby expressly continued in force; provided, however, that after the date upon which this act becomes effective said board shall consist of nine members, eight of whom shall be appointed by the governor. The governor shall not appoint more than one such member from any one congressional district nor more than one from any one county; nor shall he appoint more than one such member from, nor as a representative of, any one branch of the agricultural industry.

Qualifications

The members of the board shall be residents and citizens of the State of California. The eight appointive members shall be specially qualified for this service through actual farm business or economic agricultural training. The ninth member of said board shall be the president of the board of directors of the state agricultural society, and shall also be the president of said state board of agriculture and an ex officio member of the regents of the University of California. The members shall serve without pay, but shall be allowed necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties, which expenses shall be paid from the appropriation for the support of the department of agriculture.

Except as herein provided, the term of office of the eight appointive members of the board shall be four years and they shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of their successors. The terms of the eight appointive members of the board in office when this amendment takes effect shall expire as follows: two members September 15, 1931; two members January 15, 1932; two members January 15, 1933; two members January 15, 1934. Such terms shall expire in the same relative order as to such members as the terms for which they hold office before this amendment takes effect, except that members whose terms would have expired on the same day shall determine their relative order by lot. The terms commencing September 15, 1931, shall expire January 15, 1935. Vacancies occurring under the provisions of this section shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term.

The board shall hold meetings at least once in every month in the office of the director of agriculture at Sacramento. Such meetings shall be held within the week preceding the regular monthly meeting of the governor's council. Special or adjourned meetings may be held at the place of regular meeting, or at such other places in the State of California as the chairman may deem necessary. Meetings of the board shall also be called by the chairman at any time upon the written request of four members of the board.

An act to amend section 134 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the time when judges shall be available.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1907,
p. 681.

SECTION 1. Section 134 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Nonjudicial days

134. No court, other than supreme court, must be open for the transaction of judicial business on any of the holidays mentioned in section 10, except for the following purposes:

1. To give, upon their request, instructions to jury when deliberating on their verdict;

2. To receive a verdict or discharge a jury;

3. For the exercise of the powers of a magistrate in a criminal action, or in a proceeding of a criminal nature.

Injunctions and writs of prohibition may be issued and served on any day.

Bail, etc.,
on holidays

4. In all counties with a population of two hundred fifty thousand or over, the presiding judge of the superior court shall appoint or designate some judge or judges to be available nights and Sundays and holidays for the purpose of issuing and approving bail and original writs and signing orders on bonds and for any other legal matters concerning the fixing of bail or issuing release for a person's property and title thereto.

CHAPTER 974.

An act to amend sections 988a, 988b and 988g of the Code of Civil Procedure, and to add a new section to said code to be numbered 988i, all relating to appeals from municipal courts in civil cases.

[Approved by the Governor June 15, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929,
p. 856.

SECTION 1. Section 988a of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Appeal from municipal court bill of exceptions.

988a. A party appealing or intending to appeal from a municipal court, may have a bill of exceptions settled or a transcript prepared and certified for use on such appeal in the same manner as is or may be provided by law for bills of exceptions or transcripts to be used on appeal from the superior courts.

Petition to superior court

If the judge in any case refuses to settle a bill of exceptions, or to certify to a transcript, in accordance with the facts, the party aggrieved by such refusal, may apply by petition to the superior court to prove the same, or any changes, corrections or additions therein or thereto necessary to make it accord with the facts. The application may be made and acted upon in such mode and manner and under such regulations as may be prescribed by rules adopted for that purpose. The bill, when proved, or the transcript, when prepared, or such changes, corrections or alterations, when proved, must be certified by the judge of the superior court by whom said application is determined, and filed with the clerk of the superior court, and when so filed, shall have the same force and effect as if settled and certified by the judge who tried the cause.

Notwithstanding any provisions of the sections above referred to, it shall not be necessary in any such bill of exceptions or transcript to copy any exhibit or any notice, affidavit, order or other paper or document on file with the municipal court but the same may be merely referred to in such bill of exceptions or transcript by any designation sufficient to identify it.

SEC. 2. Section 988b of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p 856

988b The record on appeal from a municipal court shall consist of: Record on appeal
contents

(1) The notice of appeal, and if the record is prepared under section 953a of this code, the notice required by that section;

(2) The judgment roll if the appeal is from a judgment, or an order vacating or refusing to vacate the judgment;

(3) The order appealed from, if the appeal is from an order, also any written motion or notice of motion which is granted or denied by such order, and all affidavits filed in support of or in opposition to such motion;

(4) Any bill of exceptions settled or any transcript certified for use on such appeal and all exhibits, notices, affidavits, orders, papers and documents properly referred to and identified in such bill of exceptions or transcript.

Copies of those parts of the record on appeal which are entered in the docket or minutes of the municipal court and the originals of all other parts thereof, with the certificate of the clerk of the municipal court or of the attorneys of the respective parties that they are such copies and originals respectively, shall be transmitted to the superior court. Copies of record

If it appear that there is any paper or record in the custody of the clerk of the municipal court which was before said court but which is not included in the record on appeal, and that an examination of such paper or record will assist in the determination of the appeal on its merits, the superior court may, on motion of either party or on its own motion, require the production of such paper or a certified copy of such record, and the same shall thereupon be deemed a part of the record on appeal. Other papers

Stats 1927,
p 122.

SEC. 3. Section 988g of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Certification of judgment on appeal.

988g Upon the final determination of an appeal by the superior court, the clerk of said court must remit to the municipal court a certified copy of the judgment of the superior court and of its opinion, if any, and also all original exhibits, notices, affidavits, orders, papers and documents which were sent to said superior court in connection with said appeal, except the notice of appeal and the bill of exceptions or transcript. The clerk of the municipal court must file such certified copy of the judgment and opinion of the superior court, must attach the same to the judgment roll if the appeal was from a judgment, and must enter a note of the judgment of the superior court stating whether the judgment or order appealed from has been affirmed, reversed or modified, in the margin of the original entry of such judgment or order, and also in the register of actions.

New section

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered 988i and to read as follows:

Superior court may make findings
of fact

988i. In all cases where trial by jury is not a matter of right or where trial by jury has been waived, the superior court may make findings of fact contrary to or in addition to those made by the municipal court. Such findings may be based on the evidence adduced before the trial court either with or without the taking of evidence by the superior court. The superior court may for the purpose of making such findings of fact or for any other purpose in the interests of justice, take additional evidence of or concerning facts occurring at any time prior to the decision of the appeal, and may give or direct the entry of any judgment or order and make such further or other order as the case may require. The mode of procedure for taking such additional evidence may be regulated by the rule making authority. This section shall be liberally construed to the end among others that wherever possible causes may be finally disposed of by a single appeal and without further proceedings in the trial court except where the interests of justice require a new trial.

Additional
evidence

Effect

SEC. 5. The amendments made by this code to sections 988a, 988b, and 988g shall apply to all appeals where no bill of exceptions has been settled and no transcript has been certified at the time this act takes effect, and the said new section 988i shall be applicable to all appeals whether pending at the time this act takes effect or thereafter taken.

amended

An act to amend section 24 of chapter 690, statutes of 1913, entitled "An act to provide for and regulate primary elections, and providing a method for choosing the delegates for political parties to state conventions and for nominating electors of President and Vice President of the United States, and providing for the election of party county central committees, and to repeal an act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also to repeal an act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said direct primary law, and also to repeal all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, relating to party conventions, membership and organization of state central committees and county central committees.

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24 of chapter 690, statutes of 1913, ^{Stats 1929,} entitled "An act to provide for and regulate primary elections, and providing a method for choosing the delegates for political parties to state conventions and for nominating electors of President and Vice President of the United States, and providing for the election of party county central committees, and to repeal an act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also to repeal an act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said direct primary law, and also to repeal all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act," as amended by chapter 834, ^{p 1767} statutes of 1929, is hereby amended, to read as follows:

Sec. 24. 1. Party conventions of delegates chosen as hereinafter provided may be held in this state, for the purpose of promulgating platforms and transacting such other business of the party as is not inconsistent with the provisions of this act. ^{Party conventions authorized.}

2. The state convention of each political party shall consist of one delegate for each of the following elective officials and the total number of delegates shall be the aggregate number of the following elective officials: ^{Composition of state conventions}

- (a) The governor,
- The lieutenant governor,
- The treasurer,
- The controller,
- The attorney general,
- The secretary of state,
- All members of the state board of equalization,

(b) All senators and representatives in congress from California, and

- (c) All members of the state Legislature.

The state convention of each political party shall meet at Sacramento at ten o'clock of the morning of the third Thursday in September next following the date upon which the ^{Meeting of state conventions} primary election preliminary to the general November election is held and shall be composed of the following delegates:

Hold-over
delegates

(a) Each elective official hereinabove named who was nominated and elected as a candidate of such party and whose term of office extends beyond the eighth day of January next following the primary election, or the appointee or successor to fill a vacancy in the office of any such official. Each such delegate shall be known as a "hold-over delegate."

Nominee
delegates.

(b) Each candidate of such party in whose behalf nomination papers were filed and who was nominated at the primary election by such political party for the office of each such elective official. Each such delegate shall be known as a "nominee delegate."

Appointive
delegates.

(c) One delegate appointed for each of the elective officials hereinabove named, not represented by a "hold-over delegate" nor by a "nominee delegate," of such party. Each such delegate shall be chosen and appointed in the manner hereinafter provided in this section for filling vacancies in the state convention, and shall be known as an "appointive delegate."

Eligibility.

Membership in the state convention shall not be granted to any party nominee for a congressional office, state office, or office of senator or assemblyman who has become such by reason of his name having been written on a ballot, and who has not had his name printed on the primary ballot by having had a nomination paper filed in his behalf, as provided in section 5 of this act; nor shall membership in such convention be granted to the nominee of any party if such nominee has not stated his affiliations with such party in his affidavit of registration used at such primary election; and, in every such case, a vacancy in the membership of such convention shall be deemed to exist; and any such vacancy thereby existing, or existing because no nomination for such office has been made, or for any other cause, shall be filled as hereinafter provided. Each candidate who has received the nomination of more than one party for a congressional, state, or legislative office shall procure from the registrar of voters or clerk of the county in which he resides, a certificate stating the party with which such candidate was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as shown by the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of such registrar of voters or clerk of the county; and this certificate shall be the credential of such candidate to membership in the convention of his party.

Appointive
delegates.
how and when chosen

In the event that there is no "hold-over delegate" nor "nominee delegate" of the party, as herein defined, for any of the elective offices hereinabove named, or in the event that any nominee is disqualified for membership in the convention for any reason herein stated, or in the event that any delegate dies prior to the convention, then in every such case a vacancy shall be deemed to exist in the membership of the state convention of the party and a delegate shall be chosen and appointed to fill such vacancy as follows:

(a) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district situated wholly within the limits of a single county or city and county, by appointment by the newly elected county central committee of such party in such county or city and county

(b) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district comprising two or more counties, by appointment by the newly elected county central committee of such party in the county wherein the disqualified or deceased delegate resided, if the vacancy is caused by disqualification or death, or wherein the "hold-over delegate" or "nominee delegate" of the opposing party resides, if the vacancy is due to any other cause.

(c) If such vacancy occurs as to a delegate for a United States senator from California or as to a delegate for any of the state officials hereinabove named, by appointment by the state central committee of such party.

(d) If such vacancy occurs as to a delegate for any representative in congress from California, by appointment by the state central committee of such party of a qualified registered elector who resides within the congressional district to be so represented.

Such delegate so appointed shall present to the convention credentials signed by the chairman and the secretary of the committee making the appointment, and he shall file with the secretary of state not later than two o'clock of the afternoon of the convention, his appointment of three members of the state central committee, in writing signed and acknowledged in the form hereinafter prescribed.

Credentials of appointive delegates

As soon as practicable after the primary election the secretary of state shall prepare a list of the names of all delegates to the convention qualified under the provisions of this act, and the secretary of state shall thereupon send a notice by mail to each such delegate which shall inform the delegate that he is a delegate to the state convention, that the convention meets at Sacramento on the third Thursday in September of the then current year, that said delegate must appoint three qualified electors to be members of the state central committee, and that said appointment of three members of the state central committee must be made in writing in the form hereinafter prescribed, signed and acknowledged before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths in this state and must be filed in the office of the secretary of state not later than two o'clock of the afternoon of the third Thursday in September of the then current year, and the secretary of state shall enclose with such notice one copy of the following form for appointment of members of the state central committee:

 Notary Public

Composition of state central committee

The new state central committee shall consist of all delegates to the state convention, together with such members as are appointed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Each delegate to the state convention shall appoint three qualified electors which appointments when so made shall become absolute. Such appointments shall be made in writing signed and acknowledged by the delegate before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths and delivered to the secretary of state not later than two o'clock of the afternoon of the third Thursday in September. The secretary of state shall deliver said appointments so received by him, to the permanent chairman of the state convention as soon as possible after said hour of two o'clock and he shall require the chairman's receipt therefor.

Organization meeting of convention

The convention shall be called to order at ten o'clock of the morning of the third Thursday in September by the retiring chairman of the state central committee and shall at once proceed to the election of a temporary chairman by roll call read from the alphabetical roll submitted by the secretary of state, and shall likewise elect such other temporary officers as the convention may determine. The temporary chairman shall appoint a committee consisting of one delegate from each congressional district which shall serve as the committee on credentials of the convention, and shall appoint such other committees as the convention may direct.

Adoption
 of state platform

The convention shall, upon election of permanent officers, adopt a state platform for its party, which said state platform of each political party shall be adopted at such time that it shall be made public not later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the following day.

In each year of the general November election at which electors of President and Vice President of the United States are to be chosen, the convention shall also nominate as the candidates of its party as many electors of President and Vice President of the United States as the state is then entitled to, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue certificates of nomination to the electors so nominated, and to cause the names of such candidates for elector to be placed upon the ballots of the ensuing November election.

Presidential electors.

Upon receipt by the chairman of the convention from the secretary of state of the appointments of members of the state central committee the convention shall determine the membership of the state central committee in accordance with the provisions of this act. In case the convention finds that any delegate to the convention has failed to file his appointment of members of the state central committee with the secretary of state within the time prescribed, the convention shall make such appointments of the requisite number of electors residing within the district represented by each such delinquent delegate. The secretary of the convention shall certify the names and post-office addresses of the members of the state central committee, as determined by the convention, to the secretary of state within thirty-six hours after the convening of the convention and the permanent chairman shall deliver the appointments received for by him to the secretary of state within said thirty-six hours, which appointments shall be kept and filed by the secretary of state and shall be open to public inspection. Within twenty-four hours after receiving said certified list of names of members and said appointments the secretary of state shall send a notice by mail to each member of the state central committee, as certified by the secretary of the convention, which shall inform him that he is a member of the committee, that the committee will meet at Sacramento on the second Saturday following the meeting of the convention, that the meeting may be attended either in person or by proxy, that every proxy must be filed in the office of the secretary of state not later than ten o'clock of the morning of the meeting of the committee and that said proxy must be in writing signed and acknowledged before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths and the secretary of state shall enclose with such notice one copy of the following form of proxy for attendance at the meeting of the state central committee:

Organization of state central committee

PROXY FOR ATTENDANCE AT THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE MEETING AT SACRAMENTO, IN THE YEAR 19---

Proxy for attendance at meeting of state central committee

I ----- duly qualified to sit as a member of the state central committee meeting at Sacramento in the year 19-- by virtue of (being a delegate to the state convention) (my appointment thereto by -----; said appointment having been duly filed in the office of the secretary of state on the ----- day of

Notary Public

Every member of the state central committee who desires to attend the first meeting of the committee by proxy must designate his proxy in the form hereinbefore prescribed, which must be signed and acknowledged before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths and he must cause the proxy to be delivered to the secretary of state not later than ten o'clock of the morning of the first meeting of the committee.

List of members of committee.

The secretary of state shall deliver to the retiring chairman of the state central committee as soon as possible after ten o'clock of the morning of the first meeting of the new state central committee a certified, alphabetical list of the names of the members of the state central committee, and a certified alphabetical list of the names of the persons duly designated as proxies by members of the new committee, together with all proxies received by him prior to ten o'clock of said morning; and he shall require the retiring chairman's receipt for said proxies.

The new state central committee shall convene at Sacramento at ten o'clock of the morning of the second Saturday following the meeting of the state convention.

Roll call.

The retiring chairman of the state central committee shall call the committee to order at ten o'clock of the morning of the first meeting and as soon as practicable thereafter shall cause the roll to be called from the list of members and proxies hereinbefore provided to be certified by the secretary of state; whereupon the only business in order shall be the election by roll call of a temporary chairman.

The temporary chairman upon election shall appoint at once a committee on proxies and credentials consisting of one member from each congressional district selected from among the members of the committee certified by the secretary of state. A quorum of the state central committee shall be a majority of the entire membership, represented either in person or by proxy.

Proxies to be recognized by the secretary of state and by the committee on proxies and credentials appointed as aforesaid must be signed and acknowledged before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths and must be in the form hereinbefore in this act prescribed. Revocation or change of proxies shall be recognized by the committee on proxies and credentials upon a request made by the member in person before said committee and at no other time in any other manner. No proxy shall be recognized prior to election of a permanent chairman unless filed in the office of the secretary of state not later than ten o'clock of the morning of the state committee meeting.

Revocation of proxies,
etc.

The chairman of the state central committee shall not succeed himself, and the chairmanship shall alternate each biennium between the northern and southern territories.

Robert's rules of order, except as may be herein modified, shall govern the proceedings at the convention and at all meetings of the state central committee.

3. Each state central committee may select from its membership an executive committee, to which executive committee it may grant all or any portion of its powers and duties. It shall choose its officers by a roll call vote and each committee and its officers shall have the power usually exercised by such committees and the officers thereof in so far as may be consistent with this act. The various officers and committees now in existence shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until their successors are chosen in accordance with the provisions of this act. Each state central committee may remove any member thereof who during his or her term of membership affiliates with, or registers as a member of another party or who gives support to or avows a preference for a candidate of another party or candidate who is opposed to a candidate nominated by the party which such member represents. Each state central committee shall conduct party campaigns for the party to which it belongs and in behalf of the candidates of such party; appoint committees and appoint and employ campaign directors and perfect such campaign organizations as by it may be deemed suitable or desirable and for the best interest of the party.

Executive
committee
of state
committee.

4. The executive committee of the state central committee of each political party shall, in conjunction with each nominee for congress affiliated with such party, select a congressional committee for the district in which such nominee is a candidate. Such committee shall consist of not less than fifteen nor more than thirty-five members, and shall have charge and conduct of the campaign of such nominee, subject to the supervision of the state central committee of such party.

5. At each August primary election there shall be elected in each county or city and county a county central committee for each political party, which shall have charge of the party campaign under general direction of the state central committee or of the executive committee selected by such state central committee.

County
committees.

In any city and county the county central committee of such party shall be elected by each assembly district and shall consist of five members from each assembly district in such city and county. Said county committee in such city and county shall have the power to increase its membership by a majority vote of the committee.

Composition of county
committee

In each county containing twenty or more assembly districts the county central committee of such party shall consist of seven members from each assembly district.

In any county containing more than six and less than fifteen assembly districts, the county central committee of each party shall be elected by each assembly district and shall consist of five members from each assembly district therein.

In all counties containing not more than six nor less than five assembly districts the county central committee of such party shall be elected by assembly districts and shall consist of one member for each seven hundred votes or fraction thereof in each such assembly district cast for such party's candidate for governor at the last general election at which a governor was elected.

In all counties containing less than five assembly districts the county central committee shall be elected by supervisor districts, and the number to be elected from any supervisor district shall be determined as follows: The number of votes cast in such supervisor district for such party's candidate for governor at the last general election at which such governor was elected shall be divided by one-twentieth of the number of votes cast for such governor in such county; and the integer next larger than the quotient obtained by such division shall constitute the number of members of the county central committee to be elected by such party in said supervisor district.

In each county and city and county the nominee of the party for state senator or the incumbent state senator and the nominees of the party for the assembly shall be ex officio members of the committee.

The county clerk or registrar of voters in each county or city and county shall, between the first Monday and the second Monday of June next preceding the primary election, compute the number of members of the county central committee allotted to each assembly district or supervisor district, as the case may be, by the provisions of this subdivision.

Election for county
committee

Each candidate for member of a county central committee shall appear upon the ballot upon the filing of a nomination paper according to the provisions of section 5 of this act, signed in his behalf by the electors of the political subdivision in which he is a candidate, as above provided; and the number of candidates to which each party is entitled, as hereinbefore provided, in each political subdivision, receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected; but no candidate for county committeeman shall be declared elected unless he shall have received votes equal in number to the minimum of signatures to the nomination paper which would have been required to place his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for member of the county committee. Each county central committee shall meet in the courthouse at its county seat on the second Tuesday in September following the August primary election, and shall organize by selecting a chairman, a secretary and such other officers and committees as it shall deem necessary for carrying on the campaign of the party.

6. No person shall be eligible for appointment or election to the state, county or district committee of any party who is not registered as affiliated with such party at the time of such appointment or election. In the event of the appointment or election to any party committee of an ineligible person, or whenever any member of any such committee dies, resigns or becomes incapacitated to act, or removes from the jurisdiction of the committee, or ceases to be a member of such committee's party, a vacancy shall exist, which shall be filled by appointment by the committee in which such ineligibility or vacancy occurs. _____

CHAPTER 1004.

An act to amend sections 6.260, 6.262, 6.264 and 6.523 of, and to add sections 2.1223, 6.274, 6.275, 6.276 and 6.561½ to the School Code, relating to the public school system.

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the School Code to be numbered 2.1223 and to read as follows:

New section.

2.1223. Every superintendent of schools in this state must, on or before the twentieth day of July in each year, make a report under oath to the superintendent of public instruction, showing the number of books purchased by any city or district in his county with moneys from the library fund, the number of copies of each title and the price paid for all copies of each title. If he fails to make a full and correct report as required under the provisions of this section he forfeits one hundred dollars of his salary; and the county auditor whose duty it is to draw the warrant for the salary of the superintendent of schools shall deduct this amount from the warrant upon receiving notice from the superintendent of public instruction to the effect that the superintendent of schools has failed to make the report above referred to.

Sch. C,
p. 307

SEC. 2. Section 6 260 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Adoption of textbooks

6 260. The state board of education shall adopt and may cause to be published by the superintendent of state printing, one or more textbooks and teachers manuals, as it may deem necessary, in each of the studies prescribed for the elementary schools of this state, or it shall adopt and may cause to be published by the superintendent of state printing two or more textbooks and teachers manuals, as it may deem necessary, in each of the studies prescribed for the elementary schools of this state, wherein any book to supplement the basic text is used. The studies above mentioned shall not include morals and manners and art, for each of which a teachers manual may be adopted. Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring the state board of education to adopt more than one textbook or teachers manual in any subject where one such textbook or manual would be sufficient to cover the needs in the subject prescribed; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting district boards of school trustees, city boards of education and county libraries from ordering and purchasing such supplementary textbooks as may be required.

Elementary schools
defined.

The term elementary schools as used in this chapter includes all public schools, excepting junior high schools, in which instruction is given in the first to the eighth grades inclusive, or in any one or more of such grades etc., misdemeanor.

SEC. 2. Every person who hunts, pursues, takes, kills or destroys, or has in his possession any species of wild bird or mammal or fish or parts thereof, or any firearms, traps or other means for killing or taking wild birds or mammals or fish in the San Francisco game refuge, except under written permit from the division of fish and game, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Penalty.

Every person found guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county in which conviction shall be had, not less than twenty-five days nor more than one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines and forfeitures collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid to the division of fish and game for deposit in the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the division of fish and game and its deputies and also the district attorney and of the sheriff and all other peace officers of San Mateo county to enforce all the provisions of this act and to institute and assist in prosecutions for violations thereof.

SEC. 4. Nothing in this act shall prohibit the possession of firearms or fishing equipment by persons traveling through said refuge on public roads when such firearms are taken apart or encased and unloaded or such fishing equipment is encased, and nothing shall prohibit the possession of legally killed and possessed game or fish when carried openly by persons traveling through said refuge on public roads, between one-half hour before sunrise and one-half hour after sunset.

SEC. 5. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the full use of the designated properties for water supply purposes nor prohibit any duly authorized employee of the San Francisco water department from carrying out such reasonable measures as may be necessary for the protection of the water supply and the prevention of pollution of the streams or reservoirs.

An act to amend section 2290 of the Political Code, relating to children of parents who have been committed to a state hospital or to prison.

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2290 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2290. The provisions herein made for the support of orphans, half-orphans, abandoned children, or children of a father who is incapacitated for gainful work by permanent physical disability, or is suffering from tuberculosis in such a stage that he can not pursue a gainful occupation, shall be held to include children of a parent who has been deprived of civil rights by reason of commitment to a state hospital or to any prison, whether of this or any other state or of the United States, and foundlings and other dependent illegitimate infants who may have been or shall become dependent upon any regularly established foundling asylum or county, without

State aid regard to the time in which such infants have been dependent upon such institution or county; and the relief herein provided shall be given for any fraction of a year, pro rata; and provided, further, that for each abandoned or dependent illegitimate infant, who now is or shall become dependent upon such foundling asylum or county there shall be paid by the state the sum of fifteen dollars per month from the time it becomes dependent upon such institution or county until such infant's decease, or until it is adopted or reaches the age of two years, after which age such institution or county shall receive the same sum for such infants as for full orphans.

CHAPTER 1012.

An act to provide for the removal or destruction of abandoned or neglected orchard trees, vines, shrubs, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops.

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Diseased and neglected or abandoned plant life declared public nuisance

SECTION 1. Any and all neglected or abandoned trees, vines, shrubs, plants, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops which because of the existence therein or thereon of injurious or destructive insect pests, or other animal pests, or plant diseases, or other conditions constitute a menace to the horticulture or agriculture of the county, district, or vicinity, or which are host plants of or provide a favorable and likely harbor for such pests or diseases, which, if they became established upon such neglected or abandoned host plants or crops, would be a menace to agriculture are hereby expressly declared to be a public nuisance and it shall be unlawful to maintain the same, and all remedies which are or may be given for the prevention or abatement of nuisance shall apply thereto.

County agricultural commissioner: inspection

SEC. 2. Whenever the county agricultural commissioner of any county shall determine by inspection that there exist on any property or premises within his jurisdiction any trees, vines, shrubs, plants, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops which are or have been neglected or abandoned, which, because of the existence therein or thereon of injurious or destructive insect pests or other animal pests or plant diseases, or other conditions constitute a menace to the horticulture or agriculture of the county, district or vicinity, he shall make a complete report of his inspection to the district attorney, setting forth in such report a description of the property or premises upon which the neglected or abandoned pest hosts exist, naming the pest or pests or other conditions which in his opinion are dangerous to the horticulture or agriculture of the county, district or vicinity, and, if in his judgment his findings justify, he shall state in such report that the removal or destruction of

Report to district attorney

the neglected or abandoned trees, vines, shrubs, plants, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops will provide the best means for the elimination of such menace to the horticulture or agriculture of the county, district or vicinity.

SEC. 3. Whenever the district attorney receives from the county agricultural commissioner such a report, he shall prepare from said report and from the findings therein a petition to the superior court of the county praying for an order to cause the removal or destruction of the neglected or abandoned trees, vines, shrubs, plants, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops. Such petition shall set forth a description of the property or premises, the name of the owner or owners, or person or persons in charge or possession thereof, the name of the pest or pests or other conditions which constitute a menace to the horticulture or agriculture of the county, district or vicinity.

district
attorney

SEC. 4. Upon the filing with said court of such petition by the district attorney, a citation shall be issued by said court requiring the owner or owners, or person or persons in charge or possession of the property to appear at a time and place specified to show cause why such neglected or abandoned trees, vines, shrubs, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops should not be removed or destroyed. A copy of said petition, together with a copy of said citation, shall be served by the agricultural commissioner or by any person deputed by him for that purpose upon such owner or owners if he or they can after due diligence be found within the county and, if not found, then upon the person or persons in charge or possession of the property, not less than ten days prior to the date specified in such citation. If such owner or owners or person or persons in charge or possession of the property can not after due diligence be found within the county, then a copy of such petition and citation shall be served by posting in a conspicuous place upon the property or premises. When any such citation is issued, said commissioner may cause a copy thereof to be filed for record in the office of the county recorder of the county within which said property is situated, and may cause a copy thereof to be mailed to the person or persons who appear of record to be the owners of any mortgage, trust deed, lien, contract, option, bond, or other incumbrance on said property, at the last known place of residence of said incumbrancer.

SEC. 5. On the day on which such citation is made returnable for hearing the cause, the court shall hear the cause and in precedence of all matters excepting injunctions and excepting older matters of the same character and such matters as may be otherwise given precedence by law. The superior court of the county shall thereupon decide whether or not the said neglected or abandoned trees, vines, shrubs, plants, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops shall be destroyed or removed. If the court be satisfied that the injurious insect pests or plant diseases or other conditions set forth in the petition exist on the property or premises and that the removal or

SEC. 6. If the order by the superior court shall not have been complied with within the time specified in the order, it shall be the duty of the county agricultural commissioner to cause the removal or destruction of the neglected or abandoned trees, vines, shrubs, plants, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops mentioned in the order of the court. The county agricultural commissioner shall keep an account of the cost of such removal or destruction and shall render an itemized report thereof to the board of supervisors, which cost shall be a county charge which the board of supervisors shall allow and pay out of the general fund of the county. Any and all sums so paid from the date of payment shall be and become a lien on the property from which said trees, vines, shrubs, plants, or parts thereof, or agricultural crops have been removed or destroyed in pursuance of this act. Notice of such lien shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the said property is situated within thirty days after the right to the said lien has accrued and a copy of said notice of lien shall be mailed to the person or persons who appear of record to be the owners of any mortgage, trust deed, lien, contract, option, bond, or other incumbrance on said property at the last known place of residence of said incumbrancer, and if the place of residence of said incumbrancer be unknown to said commissioner, then said fact shall be stated in said copy so mailed and it shall be addressed to the county seat of the county wherein said property is situated. Such lien shall take precedence over and be prior and superior to all mortgages, trust deeds, liens, contracts, options, bonds, or other incumbrances upon the land or property excepting only the lien of taxes and the lien provided for in section 2322a of the Political Code.

certificate annexed to said copy, stating the foregoing ordinance is a true and correct copy of an ordinance of such city, and giving the number and title of said ordinance, and stating that the same has been published or posted according to law. Said record copy, with said certificate, or the original ordinance, shall be prima facie evidence of the contents of the ordinance and of the due passage and publication of the same, and shall be admissible as such evidence in any court or proceeding. Said records shall not be filed in any case, but shall be returned to the custody of the city clerk. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the proof of the passage and publication of ordinances in the usual way. Each of the foregoing books, except the records of the board of trustees and the board of equalization, shall have a general index, sufficiently comprehensive to enable a person readily to ascertain matters contained therein. The city clerk shall also keep a book, marked "Demands and warrants," in which he shall note every demand against the city, and file the same. He shall state therein, under the note of demands, the final disposition made of the same; and if the same is allowed and a warrant is drawn, he shall also state the number of the warrant, with sufficient dates. This book shall contain an index, in which reference shall be made to each demand. Upon the completion of the assessment roll for any of the taxes of the city, and levying of the tax thereon, the city clerk shall apportion the taxes upon such assessment roll, and shall deliver it to the officer charged with the duty of collecting taxes. It shall not be necessary to make a duplicate assessment roll. He may appoint a deputy, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible, and he and his deputy shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, to take affidavits and depositions to be used in any court or proceeding in the state, and to certify the same. He and his deputies shall take all necessary affidavits to demands against the city, and certify the same without charge. He shall be the custodian of the seal of such city.

He shall make a quarterly statement in writing, showing the receipts and expenditures of the city or town for the preceding quarter, and the amount remaining in the treasury. He shall at the end of every fiscal year make a full and detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the preceding year, and a full statement of the financial conditions of the affairs of the city or town, which he shall cause to be published. He shall perform such other services as this act and the ordinances of the board of trustees shall require.

Penalty

Any wilful violation of the provisions of this section shall be a ground for removal from office, and shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and punished as such.

CHAPTER 1016.

An act making an appropriation for the construction and equipment of an armory at the city of San Jose.

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation San Jose armory

SECTION 1. The sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the construction and equipment of an armory at the city of San Jose; but if, within one year after this act takes effect, the city of San Jose shall have failed to donate to the state, free and clear of all encumbrances, an armory site satisfactory to the adjutant general, he may select any other city in this state in which to erect an armory, if the latter city donates to the state, free and clear of all encumbrances, an armory site satisfactory to him.

CHAPTER 1017.

An act to amend section 3898b of the Political Code, relating to and providing educational opportunities for children of veterans, defining the powers and duties of the veterans' welfare board in relation thereto and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3898b of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p. 1124

3898b. (1) In the state treasury there is hereby created a fund to be known as the "veterans' dependents' education fund." At the end of each fiscal year any balance remaining unencumbered in the tax land fund shall be transferred to the veterans' dependents' education fund, and all moneys that may be in the latter fund from time to time are hereby appropriated, without reference to fiscal years, to be expended in accordance with law by the veterans' welfare board in providing instruction, educational counsel, textbooks, quarters and other assistance for dependents of veterans, as herein defined. Veterans' dependents' education fund

(2) The word "veteran" as in this section used means and includes any person who was killed in action or died from other causes in the world war from April 6, 1917, to July 2, 1921, while serving in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States. Definitions

The term "dependent of a veteran" as in this section used means and includes the child of a veteran as herein defined.

A dependent of a veteran applying for aid under the provisions hereof must be over sixteen and not more than twenty-one years of age and must have lived in the State of California for five years immediately preceding the date upon which the application is filed.

(3) A dependent of a veteran who desires to continue his education may apply to the veterans' welfare board, and if in the opinion of the board the educational needs of the applicant can be satisfactorily met in educational institutions in this state the board shall assume state wardship over the education of the applicant. The board shall have the power within its discretion to provide educational counsel for applicants, and where necessary to assist them in securing admission to suitable institutions of learning; provided, that private tuition schools shall be chosen only when suitable opportunity is not available in public or semipublic institutions. Application

The board shall also, within its discretion, and in so far as the fund may permit, have power to provide: For the payment of transportation charges once each year from the home of the student to and from the institution of learning; for the payment of tuition and other fees if there be such; for the Powers of
board.

purchase of necessary books and supplies; for the monthly payment of an allowance to cover all or a part of the living expenses of the student in an amount which shall not exceed fifty dollars per month for each month during which the student is in actual attendance upon a day school, absence during the month on account of illness to be included as a part of such attendance.

Limitation of expenditures

The amount expended on account of any one applicant under the provisions of this section shall not exceed four hundred fifty dollars for any one year.

The board shall consider such applications in the order in which they are received; however, should the funds available be insufficient to meet the obligations, should it assume wardship over all worthy applicants, the board shall assume wardship over such applicants as are most urgently in need of further education.

CHAPTER 1018.

An act to add a new section to the Civil Code to be numbered 48a, relating to libel.

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered 48a, and to read as follows:

Libel by mistake

48a. In any action for damages for the publication of a libel in a newspaper, if the defendant can show that such libelous matter was published through misinformation or mistake, the plaintiff shall recover no more than actual damages, unless a retraction be demanded and refused as hereinafter provided. Plaintiff shall serve upon the publisher at the place of publication a notice specifying the statements claimed to be libelous, and requesting that the same be withdrawn.

Retraction

If a retraction or correction thereof be not published in as conspicuous a place and type in said newspaper as were the statements complained of, in a regular issue thereof published within two weeks after such service, plaintiff may allege such notice, demand, and failure to retract in his complaint and may recover both actual, special and exemplary damages if his cause of action be maintained. If such retraction be so published, he may still recover such actual, special, and exemplary damages, unless the defendant shall show that the libelous publication was made in good faith, without malice, and under a mistake as to the facts.

CHAPTER 1019.

An act authorizing the establishment, maintenance and operation of memorial districts for the acquisition of sites for, and the acquisition, construction, operation, maintenance, and management of, halls, buildings and meeting places for veterans and organizations of veterans; and authorizing the leasing, conveying, or making available, of public lands in certain instances to memorial districts for such purposes.

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A memorial district may be established, maintained, governed, supported, and operated, in the manner and for the purposes herein provided, and may exercise the powers and jurisdiction herein expressly granted or necessarily implied. Memorial districts

SEC. 2. No district formed under the provisions of this act shall include within its boundaries territory not wholly situate within the same county or city and county but within this limitation such a district may include within its boundaries any incorporated territory of the county together with any contiguous unincorporated territory thereof, or such a district may be comprised entirely of contiguous incorporated territory or entirely of contiguous unincorporated territory. Boundaries.

SEC. 3. By petition filed with the county clerk, (or registrar of voters), registered electors residing within the boundaries of proposed memorial district, equal in number to at least eight per cent of the number of votes cast in the proposed district for the office of governor at the last general election at which a governor was elected prior to the filing of the petition, may propose the formation of a memorial district under the provisions of this act, except that, if incorporated territory is included within the proposed district together with unincorporated territory, the petition must be signed by registered electors residents of the incorporated territory and of the unincorporated territory equal in number, in each respectively, to at least eight per cent of the votes cast in each, respectively, for governor at the last general election herein described. Proceedings for formation

SEC. 4. The petition shall be addressed to the board of supervisors of the county or city and county within which the proposed district is situated and must be signed by the number of qualified registered electors specified in section 3 of this act, and must propose, petition and set forth, as is appropriate: Petition contents

(a) The formation of a memorial district under the provisions of this act;

(b) The calling by the board of supervisors of a special election to vote upon the question whether or not the proposed district shall be formed, and to elect the first board of directors of the district;

(c) The name of the proposed district, as "----- memorial district";

(d) An accurate description of the boundaries of the proposed district specifying what portion of the territory within such boundaries is incorporated territory, and what portion thereof is unincorporated territory.

The petition may be filed in sections but each section must fully comply with all of the requirements specified herein for a petition except that each section need not contain the total number of signatures herein prescribed for a petition.

Petition presentation to supervisors

SEC. 5. Whenever such a petition is filed with the county clerk (or registrar of voters) it is the duty of the county clerk (or registrar) within ten days after the filing thereof with him to find and certify whether or not the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified registered electors of the proposed district and of the incorporated and unincorporated portions thereof as prescribed in section 3 hereof and to present the petition with his certificate as to the result of his find attached thereto, to the board of supervisors at the first regular meeting of the board held after ten days from the date of filing of the petition with the county clerk (or registrar of voters).

Sufficiency
determined

SEC. 6. Whenever such a petition with the certificate of the county clerk (or registrar of voters) attached thereto is presented to the board of supervisors at a regular meeting thereof it is the duty of the board at that meeting to ascertain whether or not the petition in all respects complies with the requirements of sections 2, 3 and 4 of this act, except, only, that the certificate of the clerk (or registrar) shall be taken to constitute conclusive evidence of the sufficiency or insufficiency of the signatures to the petition.

Special
election

SEC. 7. If the petition complies with the requirements of sections 2, 3 and 4 hereof, it is the duty of the board at such meeting by resolution or ordinance to call a special election to vote upon the question of formation of the proposed district and to elect the members of the first board of trustees thereof. The special election shall be called to be held upon a date not later than the sixtieth day after the regular meeting of the board at which the petition was presented. At the special election, the proposition submitted shall be "Shall the proposed ----- memorial district be formed?", and there shall be elected at the same election a board of directors of the district consisting of five members.

Election
how conducted

SEC. 8. The special election shall be called, noticed, held and conducted, election officers appointed, voting precincts designated, candidates nominated, ballots printed, polls opened and closed, ballots counted and returned, returns canvassed, results declared, certificates of election issued, oaths of office administered, and all other proceedings incidental to and connected with the election shall be regulated and done, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 477 of the statutes of 1919, as amended and in effect at the time this act takes effect, entitled "An act to provide for and regulate municipal elections in cities of the fifth and sixth class," approved March 27, 1919. For the purposes of this act specified in this section the board of supervisors and the county clerk, respectively, shall possess all the powers and must perform all the duties which boards of trustees and city clerks, respectively, possess, and with which such boards and clerks, respectively, are charged, under the provisions of the act herein cited; and for the same purposes the term "city," "municipal election," "board of trustees," and "city clerk," respectively, appearing in the act herein cited shall be read and construed to mean and include "proposed memorial district," "proposed memorial district election," "board of supervisors," and "county clerk," respectively.

SEC. 9. If a majority of the votes cast at the special election are cast in favor of formation of the district the county clerk must within ten days after the board of supervisors has declared the result of the election, cause to be recorded in the office of the county recorder a full and complete certified copy of the statement of results entered on the minutes of the board in accordance with the provisions of the act cited in section 8 hereof together with a full and complete certified copy of the petition for formation of the district filed with the clerk (or registrar) and by him presented to the board with his certificate attached thereto as herein prescribed, except only that the signatures on the petition need not be so certified and recorded. Such certified copies when recorded in the office of the county recorder shall, after sixty days from the date of the special election, constitute conclusive evidence against all persons, firms, associations and corporations except the State of California, of the regular and sufficient formation of the district and establishment of the boundaries thereof as set forth in the petition and of the regularity and sufficiency of all proceedings preliminary to the formation and establishment of the district.

Recordation
of election results

SEC. 10. Every memorial district formed under the provisions of this act shall constitute a public corporation and as such shall have power:

Powers of
district

- (a) To have perpetual succession;
- (b) To sue and be sued in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction;
- (c) To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure;
- (d) To provide and maintain memorial halls, assembly halls, buildings, or meeting places for the use of veteran soldiers, sailors and marines who have honorably served the United States in any of its wars or campaigns recognized by the provisions of subdivision 4 of section 3612 of the Political Code of the State of California and/or for the use of patriotic, fraternal or benevolent associations of such persons;

Same

(e) To purchase, receive by donation, take by condemnation, lease or otherwise acquire, real or personal property necessary or convenient for the construction or maintenance of such halls, buildings and meeting places and to improve, preserve, manage and control the same;

(f) To purchase, construct, lease, build, rebuild, furnish, refurnish or repair any and all such halls, buildings and meeting places upon sites owned or leased by the district or otherwise made available to the district; and to provide all necessary or proper custodians, employees, attendants and supplies for the proper maintenance, care and management thereof;

(g) Whenever deemed advisable, to furnish sites for such halls, buildings, or meeting places, to be built either by the district or by or for patriotic, fraternal or benevolent associations of such veterans, the funds for such sites to be supplied by the district or from other sources;

(h) To enter into agreements with county, municipal, school, park, or other public authorities, or agencies, conveying, leasing, or otherwise making available to the district either gratuitously or for compensation, sites upon county, municipal, school, park, or other public lands, for the construction, maintenance and management thereon by the district of such assembly or memorial halls, buildings or meeting places; and to construct and maintain thereon and manage such halls, buildings or meeting places;

(i) To cause to be levied and collected in any year a special tax not to exceed three mills on the one dollar of assessed valuation of all the taxable property in the district, exclusive of any tax which may be required to pay the principal of and interest upon any bonded indebtedness of the district, such special three mill tax to be in addition to all other taxes provided for by law upon the taxable property of the district and to be paid into a special fund in the county treasury to be known as the "----- memorial district fund" and to be paid out for the purposes hereof by the county treasurer upon warrants drawn by the county auditor in payment of claims against the district certified by the president of the board of directors, as herein prescribed;

(j) To cause to be levied and collected in any one year a special tax sufficient as prescribed in section 18 hereof to pay the principal of and interest upon all bonded indebtedness of the district incurred as herein provided, such special tax to be in addition to all other taxes provided for by law or by the provisions of this act and to be paid into a special fund in the county treasury to be known as the "----- memorial district bond retirement fund" and to be paid out by the county treasurer upon warrants of the county auditor drawn solely for the payment of interest upon, and the principal of, bonds of the district, until such time as all bonded indebtedness of the district and all interest thereon is retired and paid in full, at which time any balance remaining in such a district bond retirement fund shall be transferred to the district fund by order of the county auditor upon unanimous request of the board of directors made to the auditor in writing certifying that all bonded indebtedness of the district and all interest thereon has been paid in full;

(k) To incur, through the board of supervisors, in the manner herein prescribed, bonded indebtedness on behalf of the district for the purpose of exercising any of the powers of the district or accomplishing any of the purposes of this act;

(l) To combine with the county within which the district is located or with any incorporated city or town wholly within the county, in the accomplishment of any of the purposes of this act and to that end to hold jointly with any such county, city, or town, any property acquired or made available for such purposes, and to expend money in conjunction with such county, city or town in accomplishing any of the purposes hereof;

(m) To adopt, alter, and readopt, reasonable rules and regulations for the use of such halls, buildings and meeting places by veterans or by organizations thereof, and when deemed advisable but subject to such rules and regulations and incidental to such uses, to allow such halls, buildings and meeting places to be used for lawful purposes consistent with the objects hereof, by persons or organizations other than veterans, either free of charge or for stated compensation to aid in defraying the cost of maintenance thereof,

(n) To call upon the district attorney for legal advice and assistance in all matters concerning the district;

(o) To refund or retire any indebtedness that may exist against the district;

(p) To make contracts, to employ labor and do all acts necessary or convenient for the full exercise of any of the powers of the district.

SEC. 11. Board of supervisors, legislative authorities of incorporated cities and towns, governing bodies of school districts, and bodies or authorities having control or jurisdiction of county, municipal, school, park, and other public lands within this state are hereby authorized on behalf of the county, municipality, school district, park area or other public agency, respectively, to convey, lease, or otherwise make available to memorial districts organized hereunder, either gratuitously or for compensation, sites upon lands under their control or jurisdiction, for the erection and maintenance thereon by memorial districts of assembly or memorial halls, buildings and meeting places, whenever in the reasonable discretion of the board of supervisors, legislative authority, governing body, or other body having such control or jurisdiction, such sites can be so conveyed, leased or made available without inconvenience to the interests of the county, city,

Acquisition
of sites

school district, park or other public agency, making the conveyance or lease or otherwise making the site available to the memorial district.

Powers how exercised

SEC. 12. The powers of the district herein enumerated, except as herein expressly otherwise provided, shall be exercised by the board of directors of the district.

Election of
directors

SEC. 13. An election to be known as the general memorial district election shall be held in every district formed under the provisions of this act on the fourth Tuesday in March of the third March following the special election held to vote upon the formation of the district, and on the fourth Tuesday of March in every fourth year thereafter. Every such election shall be held and conducted in all respects the same as the special election provided for in section 8 of this act except that the board of directors of the district and the secretary, respectively, shall possess the powers conferred upon, and shall discharge the duties charged to, the board of supervisors and the county clerk, respectively, by the provisions of section 8 of this act; and except that the terms "city," "municipal election," "board of trustees," and "city clerk," respectively, appearing in the act cited in section 8 of this act shall be read and construed to mean and include "memorial district," "general memorial district election," "board of directors," and "secretary of the board," respectively. A new board of directors of five members shall be elected at each general memorial district election. Such other officers may be elected and such propositions submitted at the general election as are herein or may by law be authorized to be so elected or submitted.

Directors
term

SEC. 14. The board of directors shall consist of five members who must be registered electors residing within the district or proposed district at the time of their election and shall be elected by the qualified electors of the district as herein provided. The directors first elected shall serve from the time of their election and qualification until the election and qualification of their successors at the first general memorial district election. Members of succeeding boards of directors elected as prescribed in section 13 of this act shall serve from the time of their qualification until four years from the time of their election and until their successors are elected and qualified. Any vacancy in the office of director shall be filled by appointment by the remaining directors, the appointee to hold for the unexpired term and until the election and qualification of his successor. Members shall serve without compensation but shall be entitled to actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

Meetings.

SEC. 15. The board of directors first elected in any district formed hereunder shall hold its first meeting in the meeting room of the board of supervisors commencing at ten o'clock a.m. on the first Monday following the date of declaration by the board of supervisors of the result of the special election at which the board of directors was elected. It shall choose one of its members president and shall elect a secretary and shall provide for the time and place of holding meetings and the manner in which special meetings may be called and may establish rules for proceedings of the board.

SEC. 16. The president shall sign all contracts on behalf of the district and shall certify to the county auditor all lawful demands against the district payable from the "----- memorial district fund" and from the "----- memorial district bond fund" as herein prescribed, which demands have first been approved by at least three members of the board of directors, and shall perform such other duties as may be imposed by the board. The secretary shall countersign all contracts on behalf of the district and perform such other duties as the board may prescribe. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business but all official acts of the board must receive the affirmative vote, signature or approval, as the case may require, of at least three members of the board. Contracts

SEC. 17. The moneys in the several funds of the district shall be paid out by the county treasurer only upon warrants drawn by the county auditor against the appropriate district fund. The county auditor shall draw his warrants against the "----- memorial district bond retirement fund," if that fund contains sufficient moneys, and if not, then, against any other funds of the district in payment of all valid and outstanding bonds of the district at maturity and of interest coupons thereon when due, upon presentation to him of such bonds and coupons by the owners thereof. He shall also draw his warrants against the "----- memorial district fund" and against the "----- memorial district bond fund," as the case may be, in payment of lawful claims against the district certified to him by the president of the board of directors of the district. Warrants.

SEC. 18. The board of directors must, annually, at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required by county purposes, furnish to the board of supervisors and to the auditor, respectively, estimates in writing of the minimum amount of money required as prescribed in section 28 hereof, for the payment of the principal of, and interest upon, all bonded indebtedness of the district; and also of the minimum amount of money required by the district for any other purposes, and the board of supervisors must annually at the time and in the manner of levying other county taxes and until all bonded indebtedness of the district is fully paid, levy and cause to be collected by the county tax collector a tax sufficient for the payment of the principal of and interest upon all bonded indebtedness of the district as prescribed in section 28 hereof, to be known as the "----- memorial district bond retirement tax"; and the board of supervisors must in like manner and until all other expenses and claims are fully paid, levy and cause to be collected by the tax collector a tax sufficient for the payment of all Tax levy such other expenses and claims, to be known as “----- memorial district tax.” The “----- memorial district tax” levied in any one year shall not in any case exceed the rate of three mills on each dollar of the assessed valuation of all taxable property of the district, exclusive of any tax which may be required to pay the principal of and interest upon any bonded indebtedness of the district.

Property
taxable.

SEC. 19. The taxes herein required to be levied shall be levied on all the taxable property in the territory comprising the district and shall be collected by the county tax collector at the same time and in the same manner and form as county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the “----- memorial district bond retirement fund” or to the credit of the “----- memorial district fund,” as the purpose of the tax determines. The taxes shall become delinquent at the time the county taxes become so and shall bear like penalties for delinquency. All such taxes shall be a lien upon all the taxable property in the territory comprising the district, and shall be of the same force and effect as the liens for county taxes and their collection shall be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for county taxes.

Tax liens

Bonds.

SEC. 20. Bonds of the district may be issued, sold, and the proceeds thereof expended as herein prescribed for the purpose of raising money to exercise any of the powers of the district specified in section 10 hereof or to accomplish any of the purposes of this act, whenever two-thirds of the registered electors of the district who vote upon any proposal to issue bonds, submitted as herein prescribed, vote in favor thereof.

election.

SEC. 21. The board of directors of any memorial district may whenever in its judgment it is advisable and must upon petition of eight per cent of the registered electors of the district, submit to the electors of the district the question whether or not bonds of the district shall be issued and sold for such lawful purposes as are set forth by the board of directors in the notice calling the election at which the question is submitted.

Same general or
election

SEC. 22. The question may be submitted either at a special bond election called for that purpose or at a general memorial district election, except that if called upon petition of the electors of the district the question must be submitted not later than the ninetieth day after the filing of the petition therefor with the secretary of the board of directors. The notice calling the election shall be entered in the minutes of the board of directors and in addition to other requirements of the act governing the general memorial district election and cited in section 13 hereof shall contain a statement of the purpose or purposes of the proposed bond issue, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, and the rate of interest, not exceeding six per cent, to be paid thereon.

Special election notice.

SEC. 23. If the question whether or not bonds of the district are to be issued, is submitted at a special election, the special election shall be noticed, called, conducted, governed, and regulated, in the same manner in all respects as is prescribed in section 13 hereof for the general memorial district election.

SEC. 24. If upon canvassing the returns of the election at which the question of issuance of the bonds was submitted it appears that two-thirds of the votes cast at the election were cast in favor of issuing the bonds of the district the board of directors shall cause that fact to be entered upon its minutes and shall at once certify to the board of supervisors all of the proceedings of the board of directors in connection with the proposed bond issue, including the purpose thereof, the amount thereof and rate of interest to be paid thereon, and the result of the special election held to vote thereon.

Certification

SEC. 25. Thereupon the board of supervisors, by an order entered in its minutes, shall provide for the issuance and sale of bonds of the district in the amount approved by the electors of the district at the election and shall provide for the payment of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds into the county treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the "----- memorial district bond fund" to be used for the purposes specified in the order of the board of directors calling the special election and to be expended upon warrants of the county auditor as herein prescribed.

Issuance
of bonds.

SEC. 26. The supervisors shall issue and sell the bonds of the district in the manner and form prescribed by section 4088 of the Political Code as amended and in effect at the time this act takes effect, and under and subject to the conditions therein specified regarding the denominations, maturities and interest rates of county bonds.

Manner of issuance
and sale.

SEC. 27. In case any officer whose signature or counter-signature or attestation appears on any memorial district bonds or coupons thereof, issued under the provisions of section 4088 as herein provided, shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser thereof, such signature or counter-signature or attestation appearing either on the bonds or the coupons, or on both, shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of such bonds; and the signature upon the coupons of the person who is auditor at the date of such bonds, shall be valid although the bonds themselves may be attested by a different person who is auditor at the time of delivery of such bonds.

investment

SEC. 29. Whenever the bonds of a memorial district issued pursuant to the provisions of this act have been investigated and certified by any officer of this state now or hereafter authorized to make such investigation and certification, and by the authority of such certification have been declared to be legal for investment by savings banks of this state, then such bonds may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by savings banks, building and loan companies, trust companies, insurance companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators or by any public officer or officers of this state or of any county or other municipal or corporate body within this state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

Dissolution
of districts

SEC. 30. The question of dissolution of any memorial district may be submitted to the electors of the district by the board of directors thereof on its own motion and must be submitted by the board upon petition signed by at least eight per cent of the registered electors of the district, at either the general memorial district election or at a special election called for that purpose. If submitted upon petition of the electors of the district the question must be submitted not later than the ninetieth day after the filing of the petition with the secretary of the board of directors. If submitted at a special election the election shall be called, conducted, governed, and regulated, in the same manner as the general memorial district election herein provided for.

Dissolution
disposition
of property

SEC. 31. If two-thirds of the qualified electors of the district voting upon the question of dissolution of the district vote in favor thereof the district shall be dissolved. Upon such and any other dissolution, the property of the district lying within the corporate limits of any city or town shall vest absolutely in the incorporated city or town; and if the whole or a portion of the property of the district is without the corporate limits of an incorporated city or town, the whole or the portion of the property of the district that lies without the corporate limits of the city or town shall vest in the board of supervisors of the county. If, however, at the time of such election for dissolving the district there be any outstanding bonded indebtedness of such district, then in such event the vote to dissolve the district shall dissolve the same for all purposes excepting only the levying and collection of taxes for the payment of such indebtedness and for the payment of the expenses of assessing, levying and collecting the same, and the expenses of maintaining the property of such district in good order and repair, and from the time such district is thus or otherwise dissolved until such bonded indebtedness with the interest thereon is fully paid, satisfied and discharged the legislative authority of the incorporated city or town, when the property of the district lies wholly within the corporate limits of an incorporated city or town, and, in every other case, the board of supervisors is hereby constituted ex officio the board of directors of the dissolved memorial district. And it is hereby made obligatory upon such board of supervisors or legislative authority to levy such taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary in order to raise money for the payment of such indebtedness and the interest thereon, and for the purpose of maintenance of the property of the district in good order and repair, and as ex officio board of directors, the board of supervisors or legislative authority, as the case may be, shall fulfill and compel fulfillment of any and all contracts made by the memorial district and shall maintain and protect all rights acquired by the district.

SEC. 32. This act shall be known and may be cited and referred to as the "Memorial district act." Short title

CHAPTER 1020.

An act to provide for the creation, organization and government of water conservation districts, defining their powers and prescribing the method of exercising the same, reenacting and continuing in force the provisions of chapter 166 of the statutes of 1929, known as the "water conservation act of 1929," and validating and confirming all proceedings had and taken under the provisions of said act resulting in the organization of water conservation districts, and continuing such districts under the provisions of this act with the powers herein conferred. Stats. 1929,
p 307,
reenacted

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Water conservation districts may be organized and established by the board of supervisors of any county in this state as herein expressly provided, when the conditions Organization of water conservation
districts

stated in this act are found to exist, and may exercise the powers herein expressly granted, or necessarily implied. Such districts may be entirely within unincorporated territory or partly within unincorporated and partly within incorporated territory, and within one or more counties of this state.

Whenever either five hundred, or five per cent, or more of the qualified electors of a proposed water conservation district comprising the whole or a part or parts of one or more watersheds of any stream or streams of water or unnavigable river or rivers, or territory adjacent to such watershed or watersheds, or deriving such district's water supply, in whole or in part, from such stream or streams, or river or rivers, or the subterranean supply of waters therefrom, shall desire to conserve the waters of such stream or streams or unnavigable river or rivers, they may propose the organization of a water conservation district under the provisions of this act, and, when so organized, such district shall have the powers, rights and duties conferred, or which may be conferred, by law, upon such water conservation districts. All electors residing within the proposed district, whose names appear on the register of voters of the last general election, or at any time within forty days preceding the presentation of a petition for the organization of a water conservation district under the provisions of this act, shall be presumptively qualified signers of said petition and bona fide electors of said district.

Petition,
who may sign, etc.

Powers of
districts.

SEC. 2. Any water conservation district organized and established as herein provided shall have power:

1. To have perpetual succession;
2. To sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided herein, or by law, in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction;
3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure;
4. To take by grant, appropriation, purchase, gift, devise, condemnation, or lease, and to hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of, real and personal property of every kind, within or without the district, necessary to the full exercise of its powers and to the accomplishment of the purposes of this act;
5. To make surveys and investigations of the water supply and resources of the district; to conserve and store water by acquiring dams, dam sites, reservoirs and reservoir sites, canals, ditches and conduits, and constructing dams and reservoirs for the storage of water and by spreading and sinking water, to build, construct, or acquire the necessary dams, dam sites, reservoirs and reservoir sites, canals, ditches and conduits, spreading basins, sinking wells and sinking basins therefor; to maintain, operate and repair any of the constructions herein named; to appropriate, acquire and conserve water and water rights, for any useful purpose; to sell or otherwise dispose of any water that may be stored or appropriated, owned or controlled by the district, to commence, maintain, intervene in and compromise, in the name of the district, and to assume the costs of, any action or proceeding involving or affecting the ownership or use of water or water rights within the district, used or useful for any purposes of the district, or of common benefit to the lands situated therein; to commence, maintain, intervene in, defend and compromise actions and proceedings to prevent interference with or diminution of the natural flow of any stream or streams or unnavigable river, or rivers, including the natural subterranean supply of water therefrom, which may be used or useful, for any purpose of the district, or a common benefit to the lands within the district or its inhabitants; and to commence, maintain, and defend actions and proceedings to prevent any such interference with the aforesaid waters as may endanger the inhabitants or lands of the district;

6. To have and exercise the right of eminent domain, in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to be used for dams, dam sites, reservoirs, reservoir sites, canals, ditches and conduits, spreading basins, sinking wells or sinking basins, or otherwise necessary to accomplish the purposes of this act, or to operate or to make use of the same;

7 To vote bonds, cause assessments to be levied, cause elections to be held for the voting of bonds, or on the question of special assessments, and if said special assessments are voted, to cause the same to be levied, as herein provided, for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district, and for the purpose of raising money to further accomplish the purposes of this act in the manner herein provided;

8. To make contracts, to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers herein granted.

SEC. 3. In order to propose the organization of a water conservation district a petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof, are situated, signed by not less than five per cent or five hundred electors within such proposed district, which petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such district, and shall pray that the same be organized under the provisions of this act, and propose a name by which such district shall be known. The territory to be included within the district need not be contiguous. The petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of said board of supervisors, and shall have been published once a week for at least three weeks before such presentation in some newspaper printed and published in the county where the petition is presented, together with a notice stating the date of the meeting of said board at which the petition will be presented; and if any portion of the proposed district lies within another county, or counties, then said petition and notice shall be likewise published in a newspaper printed and published in each of said counties. Such petition may consist of any number of separate instruments, and, when contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published, but the names of all the petitioners shall be published the same as if appended to the original petition. All such copies of petition, filed prior to the hearing of said petition, shall be considered by the board of supervisors the same as though filed with the petition first placed on file. Where a vote to create a district is lost, no petition for the formation of a district comprising any portion of the same territory shall be presented or considered for a period of twelve months thereafter.

Hearing

SEC. 4. When such petition is presented, the board of supervisors shall hear the same, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time. If any hearing or continued hearing shall be continued to a time more than sixty days from the date of the order making such continuance, a notice of such continued hearing shall be published, in some newspaper or newspapers printed and published in each of the counties in which any portion of the proposed district lies, once a week for at least two weeks immediately prior to the time appointed for such continued hearing. On the final hearing said board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as may be deemed advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries. But said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from said proposed district any territory which would be benefited by the formation of such district; nor shall any land be included within such proposed district which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by the organization of such district. Any person whose lands would be benefited by such district may, upon his application and in the discretion of the board of supervisors, have such lands included within such proposed district. Upon such hearing of such petition the board of supervisors shall determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements of sections 1 and 3 of this act, and for that purpose must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support thereof or in opposition thereto. No defect in the contents of the petition, or in the title to or form of the notice, or signature, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon, provided such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. The determination of the board of supervisors shall be entered upon the minutes of said board.

Divisions
of district

SEC. 5. When, under the provisions of the preceding sections, the boundaries of the proposed district are defined and established, said board shall make an order dividing said district into three or five or seven divisions, as requested in the petition. Such divisions shall be as nearly equal in area as practicable and shall be numbered consecutively, and one director, who shall be an elector of the division, shall be elected from each division by vote of the electors of the division in which such director resides. No person may be elected a director who shall not be a qualified elector of the district, and who shall not be a resident of the county, or of one of the counties in which the district is situated.

SEC. 6. Said board of supervisors shall then call an election within the proposed district for the determination of the question whether such proposed district shall or shall not be organized, and also to elect the number of directors which shall be prescribed pursuant to the next preceding paragraph of this act. Said board of supervisors shall divide said district, and the divisions thereof, into convenient precincts and fix a polling place in each precinct; provided, there shall be at least one precinct in each division of the district, where the district is divided into divisions. The board of supervisors shall appoint an inspector, a judge and two clerks for each of the precincts thus established to conduct said election. The inspector, judge and clerks of election in each precinct shall constitute the board of election for such precinct. The inspector shall be chairman of the election board, and may administer all oaths required in the progress of an election, and appoint judges and clerks, if, during the progress of the election, any judge or clerk cease to act. Any member of the board of election may administer and certify oaths required to be administered during the progress of the election. If the board of election, or any member thereof, fails to appear at the opening of the polls on the morning of the election, the electors of the precinct present at that hour may appoint a board or supply the place of an absent member thereof. The election must be held within forty days from the date of the order calling the election, and within one hundred twenty days of the date of filing said petition.

Election

Such election shall be called by publication of notice thereof in a daily or weekly paper in each of the counties in which the district is situate, if there be one, at least once a week for three weeks previous to such election, and by posting notice thereof in three public places. Such notice shall designate a name for such proposed district, and describe the boundaries thereof and designate the respective election precincts and the polling place in each, and the election officers, and the time of the election, and the hours during which the polls will be kept open, provided, that the polls must be opened not later than eight o'clock a. m. and kept open until seven o'clock p. m.

Notice of election

The board of supervisors shall require the clerk of said board to provide and furnish ballots for said election. No particular form of ballot shall be required except that the same shall contain the words "Water conservation district—Yes" or "Water conservation district—No," or words equivalent thereto, and shall also contain the names of candidates for the position of director of the district who shall have been endorsed by a petition to said board of supervisors containing the names of ten or more electors of the district, petitioning that the names of candidates designated in the petition be placed upon the ballot to be voted on at such election; provided, that, such nominating petitions for a director in any division must be signed by ten or more electors entitled to vote in such division; and provided, that, in any case, such petitions be filed with the board of supervisors calling said election within fifteen days from the first publication of the notice calling said election. The ballots shall contain instructions that the voters shall write or print or stamp a cross after the words that indicate his choice. The ballots shall contain as many blank spaces for the names of directors as there are directors to be elected, and the writing of the name of any qualified person in any of said spaces shall be deemed to be a vote for such person.

General
laws govern

Said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of this state so far as applicable, and except as herein otherwise provided. The election officers shall publicly count the votes immediately after the close of the election, and make a report of the result of said election to the board of supervisors within five days subsequent to the holding thereof.

Canvass
of votes

SEC 7. The said board of supervisors shall, on the first Monday succeeding such election, if then in session, or at its next meeting, general or special, proceed to canvass the votes cast at such election, and, if upon such canvass it determines that a majority of all the votes cast are "Water conservation district—Yes," the board shall by an order entered in its minutes declare such territory duly organized as a water conservation district, under the name theretofore designated, and shall declare the persons receiving, respectively, the highest number of votes for director to be duly elected to such offices.

Order organizing district

Recordation
of order

SEC 8. The board shall then cause a copy of such order, duly certified by the clerk of said board of supervisors to be immediately filed for record in the office of the county recorder of any county in which any portion of the lands embraced in such district shall be situated, and must also immediately forward a copy thereof to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of said last mentioned counties. From and after such filing, the organization of the district shall be complete.

Contest of
election

SEC 9 Such election on organization may be contested by any person holding property within the proposed district liable to be assessed for the raising of funds to carry out the purposes of the district. The directors elected at such election shall be made parties defendant. Such contest shall be brought in the superior court of the county where the petition for organization is filed; provided, if more than one contest be pending, they shall be consolidated and tried together. The court having jurisdiction shall immediately try such contest, and determine, upon the hearing, whether the election was fairly conducted and in substantial compliance with the requirements of this act, and enter its judgment accordingly. Such contest must be brought within twenty days after the canvass of the votes and declaration of the result by the board of supervisors. The right of appeal is hereby given to either party to the record within thirty days from entry of judgment. The appeal must be heard and determined by the supreme court within sixty days from the time of filing the notice of appeal.

SEC. 10. The directors elected at the election hereinbefore provided for shall immediately enter upon their duties as such upon qualifying in the manner hereinafter provided. Such directors shall hold office respectively until their successors are elected and qualified. Organization of directors

SEC. 11. The directors of any district who shall be thus elected, on the first Tuesday after their election, after they shall have qualified, shall meet and classify themselves by lot into two classes, as nearly equal in number as possible, and the term of office of the class having the greater number shall expire at the next general February election in this act provided for; and the term of office of the class having the lesser number shall terminate at the next general February election thereafter. After such classification, said directors shall organize as a board, shall elect a president from their number, and appoint a secretary, who shall each hold office during the pleasure of the board. The secretary need not be one of the directors. The salary of the secretary and the amount of the bond to be given for the faithful performance of his duties shall be fixed by the board of directors. The bond of the secretary of the district shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the district is organized and then filed with the district. Organization of directors, secretary

SEC. 12. In each district organized as herein provided an election shall be held on the first Tuesday in February of each odd numbered year, after the organization of the district, at which directors for the district, as provided in sections 5 and 6 of this act, shall be elected to fill the offices of the directors whose terms of office shall then expire, in accordance with the provisions of this act. Vacancies occurring in the board of directors, by reason of death, resignation or otherwise, shall be filled by appointment by the supervisors of the county where such district is organized. A director so appointed shall hold such office for the unexpired term of his predecessor. The person receiving the highest number of votes for the office to be filled at such election is elected thereto. Within ten days after receiving their respective certificates of election, or notice of appointment, each person who shall be elected or appointed to the office of director shall qualify as such by taking and subscribing an official oath and filing a bond as herein provided. Each director shall execute an official bond in the sum of one thousand dollars which shall be approved by the judge of the superior court of the county where the organization of the district was effected, and shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of such county, and then, together with his official oath, filed with the secretary of the board of directors. All official bonds herein provided for shall be in the form prescribed by law for the official bonds of county officers. Election of directors

SEC. 13. On the first Tuesday in March next following the election, the directors shall meet and organize as a board, elect a president and appoint a secretary, who shall each hold office during the pleasure of the board. The full term of office of Official bond directors is hereby fixed at four years. The office of the board of directors of any such district may be established by said board of directors at some proper and convenient place within or near the district, but after the office is once established, it shall not be changed without giving notice thereof by posting in three public places in the district and by publishing a similar notice at least once a week for thirty days in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where such district is organized.

Organization, office and terms of directors

Annual
directors

SEC. 14. At a meeting of the board of directors of the district, to be held not less than twenty days before the time for any biennial election of officers, the board shall divide the district into convenient election precincts, appoint election boards, and do all things applicable thereto for the holding of such election, in the manner herein required to be done by the board of supervisors for the holding of an election on the question of formation of district. The clerk of the board of directors shall cause notice of such election to be given by having such notice published and posted in the manner required by this act for giving notice of election on formation of district, excepting that the notice shall be published once a week for not less than two weeks and posted for not less than fifteen days prior to the election. A notice shall also be posted in a conspicuous place in the office of the board of directors. Such notice shall designate the directors to be elected, the term for which each is to be elected, the respective election precincts and the polling place in each, the election officers, the time of the election and the hours during which the polls will be kept open. No particular form of ballot shall be required to be used. The clerk shall, however, furnish ballots which shall contain the names of the candidates for the offices who shall be endorsed by petition signed as hereinbefore provided and filed with the clerk of the board of directors within seven days after the first publication of the notice of election. The ballot shall contain as many blank spaces as there are directors to be elected. The election shall be conducted in the manner herein required for the conduct of elections on the formation of districts.

elections.

SEC. 15. As soon as all the votes are read off and counted, a certificate shall be drawn up on each of the papers containing the poll lists and tallies, or attached thereto, stating the number of votes each one voted for has received, and designating the office to fill which he was voted for, which number shall be written in figures and in words at full length. Each certificate shall be signed by the election officers. One of said certificates with the poll list and the tally paper to which it is attached shall be retained by the inspector, and preserved by him at least six months. The ballots shall be strung upon a cord or thread by the inspector during the counting thereof in the order in which they are entered upon the tally list by the clerks; and said ballots together with the other of said certificates, with the poll list and tally paper to which it is attached, shall be sealed by the inspector in the presence of the judges and clerks and endorsed "election returns of (naming the precinct) precinct" and be directed to the secretary of the board of directors and shall be immediately delivered by the inspector, or by some other safe and responsible carrier designated by said inspector, to said secretary, and the ballots shall be kept unopened for at least six months, and if any person be of the opinion that the vote of any precinct has not been correctly counted he may appear on the day appointed for the board of directors to open and canvass the returns and demand a recount of the vote of the precinct that is so claimed to have been incorrectly counted

SEC. 16. No list, tally paper, or certificate from any election, shall be set aside or rejected for want of form if it can be satisfactorily understood. The board of directors must meet at its usual place of meeting on the first Monday after each election to canvass the returns. If, at the time of the meeting, the returns of each precinct in the district in which the polls were opened have been received, the board of directors must then and there proceed to canvass the returns; but if all the returns have not been received, the canvass must be postponed from day to day until the returns have been received, or until six postponements have been had. The canvass must be made in public and by opening the returns and determining the vote of the district for each person voted for and declaring the result thereof.

SEC. 17. The secretary of the board of directors must, as soon as the result is declared, enter in the records of the board a statement of such result, which statement must show: (a) the whole number of votes cast in the district and in each precinct thereof if there be more than one precinct; (b) the names of the persons voted for; (c) the office to fill which each person was voted for; (d) the number of votes given in each precinct to each of said persons; (e) the number of votes given in each division for the office of director. The board of directors must declare elected the persons having the highest number of votes given for each office. The secretary must immediately make out and deliver to each of such persons a certificate of election, signed by him and authenticated with the seal of the board.

SEC. 18. The board of directors shall hold regular meetings in their office on the first Tuesday in March, June, September and December, and such special meetings as may be required for the proper transaction of business. Special meetings may be ordered by the president or by a majority of the members of the board, specifying in writing the business to be transacted, which call for such special meeting shall be entered in the minutes of the board. Three days' notice to any member not joining in the order must be given by the secretary, by mailing same to him at his last address, and only the business specified in the order must be transacted at such special meeting. All meetings of the board must be public, and a majority of members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A minute of all proceedings of the board shall be kept by the secretary, and all records of the board shall be open to public inspection during business hours. The board of directors shall, on the first Tuesday in March of each year, make and render a verified statement of the financial condition of the district, showing particularly the receipts and disbursements of the last preceding year, together with the source of such receipts and purpose of such disbursements. Such statement shall be placed on file in the office of the district and be open to public inspection during office hours.

Powers
and duties of directors

SEC. 19. The board of directors shall have the power and it shall be its duty to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district; to make and execute all necessary contracts; to adopt a seal for the district to be used in the attestation of proper documents; to provide for the payment, from the proper fund, of all the debts and just claims against the district; to cause such work to be done and to acquire such property as it shall deem necessary or advisable to accomplish the purposes of the district, and to estimate the cost thereof, together with rights of way for the purpose of ingress to and egress from the works of the district; to appoint and employ such engineer or engineers and such attorney or attorneys as the board may deem necessary or advisable to accomplish the purposes of the district; to employ and hire such men, teams, tools, implements, machinery and equipment as the board of directors may deem expedient or advisable to perform the work which it shall deem necessary or advisable to accomplish the purposes of the district; and generally may perform all acts as shall be necessary to fully carry out the purposes of this act.

SEC. 20. In addition to those herein conferred, the district through its board of directors may exercise the following powers:

Additional
powers.

(a) The board of directors of the district, whenever it may deem it to be to the advantage of the district so to do, may enter into contracts with municipalities, sanitary districts or other incorporated bodies, either within or without the district, providing for the delivery to the district of sewage and/or storm water produced by or coming from such incorporated bodies, and to treat, purify and reclaim the same for beneficial use, and to store, distribute, sell or otherwise dispose of the water and by-products resulting from such treatment, purification or reclamation. The district may construct and operate the works necessary therefor, and may acquire and/or construct and maintain pipe lines, flumes, ditches and reservoirs suitable or adaptable for the prevention of the wastage of water. Whenever the district shall receive a revenue from the sale of water and by-products in excess of the cost of operating and maintaining the works authorized in this subsection, it may, for the purpose of enlarging, extending or improving such works, issue its certificates of indebtedness payable out of such excess revenues, and pledge the same for the payment of the indebtedness so created.

(b) The board of directors of the district may enter into contracts with municipalities, water districts, counties, cities and counties, the State of California, or the government of the United States, under such terms as may be mutually advantageous, for the acquisition and/or construction of the works authorized by this act to be acquired or constructed, and each of the parties to such contract may contribute to the cost of such acquisition and/or construction such sums of money as may be therein agreed upon. Such contracts shall provide for the operation and maintenance of the property thus acquired and for the distribution and sale of any water that may be stored or controlled by the parties thereto. Any surplus revenue derived from such sale, after paying the cost of the operation and maintenance of the property, may be distributed to the parties to the contract in such proportions as may be agreed upon, or used for extensions and improvements.

SEC. 21. No claim shall be paid by the treasurer until allowed by the board of directors, and only upon a warrant of the county auditor drawn upon an order signed by the president and counter-signed by the secretary of the board of directors. Claims.

SEC. 22. Each member of the board of directors shall receive ten dollars for each day's attendance at the meetings of the board and actual and necessary expenses and a per diem not exceeding ten dollars per day, while engaged in official business under the order of the board. Compensation of directors

SEC. 23. No director or any other officer named in this act shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board of directors, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; and for any violation of this provision, such officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and conviction therefor shall work a forfeiture of his office, and he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Secret profits
Penalty

SEC. 24. The board of directors shall have no power, except as herein provided as to certificates of indebtedness, special assessments, and the issuance of bonds by the district, to incur any debt or liability whatever, in excess of the express provisions of this act; and any debt or liability incurred in excess of said express provisions, except as to certificates of indebtedness, special assessments, and the issuance of bonds, shall be and remain absolutely void; except that for the purposes of organization, or for any of the purposes of this act, the board of directors may incur, before the collection of the first assessment, an indebtedness not exceeding in the aggregate an amount equivalent of twenty-five (25) cents for each acre of land in the district, and it may cause warrants of the district to issue therefor bearing interest at seven per cent Indebtedness

(7%) per annum from date of issue until the treasurer shall have available funds for the payment thereof. The expenses of organization, including the fees of attorneys and others employed to conduct the organization proceedings, shall be deemed to be a charge upon the district, and be payable by the district.

boundaries

SEC. 25. The board of directors, when it deems it advisable or for the best interests of the district and for the convenience of the electors thereof, may at any time, but not less than sixty days before an election to be held in the district, change the boundaries of the divisions of the district; provided, such changes shall be made to keep each division as nearly equal in area as may be practicable. Such changes of boundaries of the divisions must be shown on the minutes of the board. Before any such change of the boundaries of the divisions shall be made, the board of directors shall give notice of its intention to make a change or changes therein. Such notice shall specify, in a general way, the changes which the board proposes to make and a time and place at which any owner of land in the district may appear before the board and object to the making of the proposed change or changes, or petition that a change be made otherwise than as proposed, and at which the board will hear any such objection or petition. Such notice shall be published at least once a week for two weeks, before the time appointed for the hearing, in some newspaper or newspapers published in each of the counties in which any part of the district is situated. At the time and place appointed for such hearing, or at the time and place to which such hearing may be adjourned, the board shall hear all such objections and petitions which may be presented to the board, and, thereupon, the board may make such change or changes in the boundaries of the divisions as it may determine to be for the best interests of the district.

Condemnation
proceedings

SEC. 26. In case of condemnation proceedings, the board shall proceed in the name of the district, under the provisions of title seven, part three, of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state, which said provisions are hereby made applicable for that purpose, and it is hereby declared that the use of the property which may be condemned, taken or appropriated under the provisions of this act, is a public use, subject to regulation and control of the state in the manner prescribed by law.

Title and management
of property.

SEC. 27. The legal title to all property acquired by the district under the provisions of this act shall immediately and by operation of law vest in such district, and shall be held by such district in trust for and as hereby dedicated and set apart for the uses and purposes set forth in this act. Said board is hereby authorized and empowered to hold, use, acquire, manage, occupy and possess said property as herein provided. The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to take conveyances or other assurances for all property acquired by it under the provisions of this act, in the name of such water conservation district, to and for the uses and purposes herein expressed, and to institute and maintain any and all actions, proceedings, and suits at law or in equity, necessary or proper in order to fully carry out the provisions of this act, or to enforce, maintain, protect or preserve any and all rights, privileges and immunities created by this act, or acquired in pursuance thereof. And in all courts, actions, suits or proceedings the said board may sue, appear and defend in person or by attorneys, and in the name of such water conservation district.

SEC. 28. The board of directors must, on or before the fifteenth day of August of each year, furnish the board of supervisors and the auditor of the county wherein the district is situated, or if such district is not entirely within one county, then, as hereinafter provided, to the supervisors and auditors of each county in which any portion of the district is situated, an estimate in writing of the amount of money needed for the purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year. This amount must be sufficient to raise a sum of money which shall be sufficient to pay the incidental expenses of the district, and the costs of the work of spreading and sinking waters which the board of directors may deem advisable to be done during the ensuing year; the estimated costs of repairs to and maintenance of any property or works of the district, the estimated amount necessary for the payment of the costs of any action or proceeding which may be taken by the district, including the cost of employment of attorneys and engineers; and if bonds have been voted by the district the board of directors shall include in said estimate an amount sufficient to pay the interest due or that will become due on all outstanding bonds of the district on the first day of the next ensuing January, and the first day of the next ensuing July, or that the board of directors believes will become due on either or both of said dates on bonds authorized but not sold; also sufficient to pay the principal of all bonds of the district that have matured or that will mature before the close of the next ensuing calendar year; and also if said district shall have voted a special assessment as provided in section 35 hereof, the board shall include in said estimate the amount of the installment of said special assessment to be levied each year; and such estimate may also include such an amount as the board of directors may deem advisable to expend in the acquisition or construction of settling basins, wells, dams, reservoirs and other works for the storing, spreading and sinking of waters, together with canals, ditches, conduits and necessary rights of way for use of all such works; provided, however, that if at the time of making said estimates herein referred to the district shall not have voted a special assessment as provided for in section 35 hereof and said district shall not have voted bonds as in this act provided, then the assessment levied during any year for the raising of said funds shall not exceed one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) mills on each one hundred cents of the assessed values of the

of expenses

lands within the district, according to the last assessment rolls, but if a special assessment has been voted or if bonds have been voted by the district then the assessment for the payment thereof shall be in excess of the one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) mills on each one hundred cents of the assessed values of the lands within the district.

Prorating
of expenses

SEC. 29. When a district is in more than one county the total estimate as provided for in the preceding section shall be divided by the board of directors in proportion to the value of the land of the district in each county. This value must be determined from the equalized values of the last assessment rolls of such counties, as revised by the board of supervisors. When such division of the estimate has been made, the board shall furnish the supervisors and auditors of the respective counties a written statement of the part of the estimate apportioned to that county.

Levy of assessments

SEC. 30. The board of supervisors of each county wherein is situated a district, or any part thereof, organized under the provisions of this act, must, annually, at the time of levying county taxes, levy an assessment to be known as the "-----" (name of district) water conservation district assessment," sufficient to raise the amount reported to them as herein provided by the board of directors. The supervisors must determine the rate of such assessment by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the total assessed value of the land in the district within the county, as it appears on the assessment roll of the county, and then dividing the sum reported by the board of directors, as required to be raised, by the remainder of such total assessed value; provided, that if a fraction of a cent occur on a valuation of one hundred dollars, it shall be taken as a full cent.

Computation
of assessments

SEC. 31. The assessment so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment roll by the county auditor, and if the supervisors fail to levy the assessment provided in the preceding section, then the auditor must do so. Such assessment shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as state and county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of said district.

Procedure
re assessments

SEC. 32. The provisions of the Political Code of this state, prescribing the manner of levying and collecting assessments and the duties of the several county officers with respect thereto, are, so far as they are applicable and not in conflict with the specific provisions of this act, hereby adopted and made a part hereof. Said officers shall be liable upon their several official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act.

Custody
of funds

SEC. 33. If the district is in more than one county, the treasury of the county where the district was organized shall be the repository of all the funds of the district. For this purpose, the treasurers of any other counties wherein is situated a portion of said district, must, at any time, not oftener than twice a year, upon the order of the board of directors, settle with said board and pay over to the treasurer of the county where the district was organized all moneys in their possession belonging to the district. Said last named treasurer is authorized and required to receive and receipt for the same, and to place the same to the credit of the district. He shall be responsible upon his official bond for the safe-keeping and disbursement, in the manner herein provided, of these and all moneys of the district held by him.

SEC. 34. The treasurer shall pay out the moneys of the district only upon warrants of the county auditor, drawn upon order of the board of directors signed by the president and attested by the secretary. Upon presentation of any matured bond, or any matured interest coupon on any bond of the district, the treasurer shall pay the same from the bond fund. If funds are not available for the payment of any such matured bond or interest coupon, it shall draw interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of its presentation for payment until notice is given that funds are available for its payment, and it shall be stamped and provision made for its payment, as in the case of a warrant for the payment of which funds are not available on its presentation. The treasurer shall report in writing at each regular meeting of the board of directors and as often thereafter as requested by the board the amount of money on hand, the amount of receipts since his last report, and the amounts paid out; such reports shall be verified and filed with the secretary of the board.

Duties of treasurer.

SEC. 35. The board of directors may at any time call an election and submit to the qualified electors of the district the question whether a special assessment shall be levied for the purpose of raising money to be applied to any of the purposes of this act or of any act supplementary hereto. Such election must be called upon the notice prescribed, and the same shall be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects in conformity with the provisions of section 6 of this act. The notice must specify the amount of money proposed to be raised, and the purpose or purposes for which it is intended to be used, and it may state that said assessment shall be levied in two, three or four annual installments and specify the amount of the installment to be levied in each year. At the election the ballots shall contain the words "Assessment—Yes" or "Assessment—No," or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—Yes," the board of directors shall at the time of the annual estimate under section 28 hereof, include in said estimate the amount voted, or if the notice of election shall have provided for levying said assessment in annual installments, the board of directors shall, at the time of the annual estimate in each of the years specified in said notice include in said estimate the amount of the installment provided in said notice to be raised in said year. Said special assessment shall be levied as generally provided by sections 29, 30, 31 and 32 of this act and Special assessments.

Notice, election, etc.

when collected shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which the district was organized for the purpose or purposes specified in the notice or notices calling the respective elections at which they were voted.

Bonded indebtedness

SEC. 36. The district may incur a bonded indebtedness for any purpose for which the board of directors is authorized to expend the funds of the district in the manner in this act set forth.

Report

The board of directors, whenever the interest of the district shall require, may cause a report to be made to the effect that the acquisition of certain property or works or the construction of such works is convenient or necessary to serve or fulfill the purpose for which the district exists and that the cost of such property or works can not be paid for out of the annual revenue of the district. Such report shall be in such detail and be accompanied by such exhibits as will disclose the purpose sought to be accomplished and the means to be employed therefor. Such report shall be printed in convenient form for distribution to the electors of the district.

Election

After the printing of said report the board of directors by resolution adopted by a majority of the members of the board may call an election to be held in the district for the purpose of authorizing the incurring of a bonded indebtedness by the district. Such resolution shall specify the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be incurred, the amount of bonds which it is proposed shall be issued, the rate of interest and the number of years, not exceeding twenty-five, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run until maturity. It shall further provide for submitting the question of the incurring of such indebtedness to the qualified electors of the district at an election called for that purpose, and the words to appear upon the ballot shall be "Bonds—Yes," and "Bonds—No," or words of similar import, together with a general statement of the amount and purpose of the bonds to be issued. Several propositions may be submitted at the same election. None but qualified electors of the district shall be permitted to vote at such election.

election

A notice shall be given of such election by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district once a week for at least three weeks if published in a weekly or semiweekly newspaper or for at least ten days if published in a daily newspaper and the first publication shall be at least thirty days prior to the day fixed for the election.

Such notice shall state the time and place for holding the election, the names or numbers of the election precincts, which may be the election precincts established by the board of supervisors on the election for the organization of the district or a consolidation of such precincts for the purpose of such bond election or as designated and established as provided in section 14 of this act, the location of the polling places and the names of the election officers appointed to conduct such election. Such notice shall also state the amount of the debt that it is proposed to incur, a brief statement of the purpose thereof and refer to the report hereinbefore provided to be made for further particulars, the number of years the bonds or any part thereof are to run before the maturity thereof and the maximum rate of interest such bonds shall bear.

The manner of holding and conducting such election, the selection of officers to conduct the same, the designation of precincts and polling places, the preparation of ballots and the receipt, counting and return of the same, and the canvassing and determining the results thereof shall be as provided for the election of directors as provided in this act as nearly as practicable, and in particulars not so provided shall be in accordance with the general laws of the state relative to elections whereat propositions are submitted and voted upon. In the event that such election has been fairly held and conducted, no informality nor omission to perform a prescribed duty shall be held to invalidate or affect the legality of any bonded debt authorized to be incurred.

Conduct of election

If two-thirds of the votes cast upon the proposition shall have been marked and counted "Bonds—Yes" or appear to favor the proposition submitted, then such proposition shall be deemed to have been accepted by the voters and to authorize the incurring of a bonded debt and the issuance of bonds therefor to the amount of and for the purpose stated in the proposition.

Thereafter the board of directors of the district may issue the bonds of the district for the whole or for any part of the amount of the indebtedness so authorized, and may, from time to time, provide for the issuance of such amounts as the necessity therefor shall appear, until the full amount of such bonds authorized shall have been issued. Each separate issue shall be given a serial number or letter.

Issuance of bonds

The board of directors shall, by a resolution adopted by a majority of its members, prescribe the form of the bonds and the form of the coupons attached thereto and fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal shall become due and payable. The payment of the first installment may be deferred for a period not longer than five years from the date of the bond, and not less than four per cent of the principal sum shall be paid each year at and following the date when the first installment becomes due and payable. The bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable semiannually.

The denomination of the bonds shall be stated in the resolution providing for their issuance, but shall not be less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars. The principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the treasurer of the county or such other place as may be designated or at either place at the option of the holder of the bond.

The bonds shall be dated, numbered consecutively, and be signed by the president of the district and attested by the secretary with the official seal of the district. The interest coupons shall bear the actual or facsimile signature of the president of the district.

The bonds as the same shall be issued may be sold at such times and in such amounts as the board of directors shall deem expedient, after a notice inviting bids therefor shall have been given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district for a period of at least ten days prior to such sale. A certified check payable to the district for at least five per cent of the amount of the bonds offered shall accompany each bid conditioned that the bidder will accept and pay for the bonds bid for if awarded to him, otherwise such check shall be forfeited to the district and the amount thereof paid into the treasury. In case no bids are received the bonds offered may be sold at private sale.

Disposition
of proceeds

The proceeds arising from the sale of bonds shall be paid into the treasury of the district and placed to the credit of a special fund and expended only for the purpose for which the indebtedness was created.

It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of the county or counties within which the district is situated to provide for the levy and collection of an assessment tax upon the lands within the district as in this act provided sufficient and in season to pay any installment of principal and all interest on the bonds that may become due during the year following the levy of such assessment tax.

At any time the board of directors may apply to the commission authorized by law to approve bonds of irrigation and other districts for certification as legal investments for savings banks or for other purposes specified in the act creating such commission and when such certification shall have been given, the bonds of the district shall be acceptable for investment and surety purposes to the same extent as are county or municipal bonds.

Inclusion of lands, etc

SEC. 37. The boundaries of any water conservation district organized or existing under the provisions of this act may be changed to include additional land within such district as hereinafter in this act provided, and the inclusion within any district of any land not contiguous thereto shall be deemed to effect a change of the boundaries of said district; but no change in the boundaries of any district shall impair or affect its organization or its right in or to property or any of its rights or privileges of whatsoever kind or nature, nor shall it affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge for or upon which it was or might become liable or chargeable had such change of its boundaries not been made.

Petition for inclusion by holders of title

SEC. 38. The holder or holders of title, or evidence of title, or a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, to any tract of land may file in the office of the board of directors of any water conservation district a petition praying that said tract of land be included within said district; provided, that if there is more than one holder of title or evidence of title to said land, the petitioners must include the holders of the title or evidence of title of at least one-half of the area of said land. If any petitioner is the owner of an undivided interest in said land, or any of it, he shall be deemed to be the owner of such proportion of the area of the land in which he has an interest as his interest bears to the whole of such land. Each signature to such petition shall be acknowledged or proved as provided by law for signatures to an instrument to entitle it to be recorded.

SEC 39 The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of said petition to be given and published in the same manner and for the same time as notices of elections for the issuance of bonds are required in this act to be given and published. The notice shall state the purpose of the petition and describe the boundaries of the tract of land proposed to be included and give the names of the petitioners, and it shall notify all persons interested in or that may be affected by the proposed inclusion of said land within the district to appear at the office of said board at a time named in said notice for the hearing of said petition and objections thereto and show cause in writing, if any they have, why said land or any of it should not be included as proposed in said petition. The time to be specified in the notice for the hearing of said petition and any objections thereto shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of said notice. The petitioners shall advance to the secretary sufficient money to pay for the publication of said notice, which shall be refunded to said petitioners in case said petition is granted in whole or in part.

Notice of
petition

SEC. 40. The board of directors at the time and place mentioned in said notice, or at such other time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be postponed, shall proceed to hear the petition and all the objections thereto presented in writing by any person showing cause as aforesaid why said proposed change of boundaries of the district should not be made. The failure by any person interested in said district or in the matter of the proposed change of its boundaries, to show cause in writing as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent on his part to a change of the boundaries of the district as prayed for in said petition, or to such a change thereto as will include a part of said lands. The filing of such petition with said board as aforesaid shall be deemed and taken as an assent on the part of each and all of such petitioners to such a change of said boundaries as may include the whole or any portion of the lands described in said petition.

Hearing

SEC 41 The board of directors to whom such petition is presented may require, as a condition precedent to the granting of the same, that the petitioners shall severally pay to such district such respective sums, as nearly as the same can be estimated (the several amounts to be determined by the board), as said petitioners or their predecessors in interest

Payment of share of assessment

would have been required to pay to such district as assessments had such lands been included in such district at the time the same was originally formed.

Inclusion of land, proceedings,
etc

SEC. 42. If the board of directors, after the hearing provided for in section 40 hereof, shall determine that said petition complies with the requirements of section 38 hereof and that the inclusion within the district of the tract of land described in said petition, or some portion or portions thereof, will be for the best interests of the district and if no protest against the inclusion of such land is made as provided in section 43 hereof, or if such protest be made and enough signatures be withdrawn therefrom so that said protest is no longer sufficient, the board shall order the boundaries of the district to be changed so that said tract of land, or such portion or portions thereof as the board shall deem it for the best interests of the district to include, shall be included in the district, and if the board determines that only a portion or certain portions of the tract of land described in said petition should be included said petition shall be dismissed unless the petitioners include a majority of the holders of title or evidence of title of said portion, or of each of said portions, of said tract, representing also at least one-half the area of said portion, or of each of said portions, or unless, within sixty days from the time such determination is made, there shall be filed with the board the consent in writing, acknowledged or proved as required in section 38 hereof, of a majority of the holders of title or evidence of title of said portion, or of each of said portions, of said tract of land, representing also at least one-half of the area of said portion or each of said portions. The order shall describe the boundaries of the land so included within the district, and if said land adjoins any portion of the district the order shall also describe that portion of the boundary of the district which coincides with the boundary of the land so included, and for the purposes of said order the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of said boundaries as may be deemed necessary. If more than one petition for the inclusion of land has been presented, the board may in one order include within the district any number of separate tracts of land. Any public land of the United States of America may be included within any water conservation district by such order of the board of directors on any petition therefor, except as may be provided otherwise by the laws of the United States.

Protests
inclusion

SEC. 43. If a protest against the inclusion of such lands, signed by not less than three per cent of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district, and holding the title or evidence of title to not less than three per cent in value of the lands within the district according to the last equalized assessment roll of the county within which said lands are situated, shall have been presented to the board of directors and upon the hearing of said matter said protest shall not be withdrawn, or after the withdrawal therefrom of any signatures it shall still be signed by not less than three per cent of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district and holding the title or evidence of title to not less than three per cent in value of the lands within the district according to the last equalized assessment roll of said county within which said lands are situated, or if the board of directors deem it not for the best interests of the district to include therein the lands described in said petition for inclusion, or any of them, the board shall adopt a resolution stating the facts and describing the boundaries of the tract of land proposed to be included in the district; but before calling the election provided for in the next section the board may require an undertaking, with sufficient sureties from the petitioners for the inclusion of said land conditioned that the petitioners or the sureties will pay all the costs of holding such election in case such inclusion shall be denied.

SEC. 44. Upon the adoption of the resolution mentioned in the last preceding section, the board shall order that an election be held within said district, to determine whether the boundaries shall be changed as mentioned in said resolution; and shall fix the time at which such election shall be held, and cause notice thereof to be given and published. Such notice shall be given and published, and such election shall be held and conducted, the returns thereof shall be made and canvassed, and the result of the election ascertained and declared, and all things pertaining thereto conducted, in the manner prescribed by said act in case of an election to determine whether bonds of a water conservation district shall be issued. The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words "for change of boundaries," or "against change of boundaries," or words equivalent thereto. The notice of election shall describe the proposed change of the boundaries in such manner and terms that it can readily be traced.

Election to determine change of boundaries

SEC. 45. If a majority of all the votes cast at such election shall be against such change of the boundaries of the district the board shall order that said petition be denied, and shall proceed no further in said matter. But if a majority of such votes be in favor of such change of the boundaries of the district, the board shall thereupon order that the boundaries be changed in accordance with said resolution adopted by the board. The said order shall describe the entire boundaries of said district and for that purpose the board shall cause a survey of such portions thereof to be made as the board may deem necessary.

SEC. 46. Upon a change of the boundaries of a district being made, a copy of the order of the board of directors ordering such change, certified by the president and secretary of the board, shall be filed for record in the recorder's office of each county within which are situated any of the lands of the district, and thereupon the district shall be and remain a water conservation district, as fully and to every intent and purpose as if the lands which are included in the district by the change of the boundaries, as aforesaid, had been included therein at the original organization of the district.

Recordation of result

SEC. 47. Upon the filing of the copies of the order, as in the last preceding section mentioned, the secretary shall record in the minutes of the board the petition aforesaid; and said minutes, or a certified copy thereof, shall be admissible in evidence with the same effect as the petition.

Petition
may be signed by executor,
etc

SEC. 48. A guardian, executor or administrator of an estate, who is appointed as such under the laws of this state, and who, as such guardian, executor or administrator, is entitled to the possession of the lands belonging to the estate which he represents, may, on behalf of his ward or the estate which he represents, upon being thereunto authorized by the proper court, sign and acknowledge the petition in this act mentioned, and may show cause, as in this act mentioned why the boundaries of the district should not be changed.

Equalization
of divisions

SEC. 49. In case land is included within any district as aforesaid, the board of directors thereof shall, but not less than thirty days before any election in such district, re-establish the boundaries of the divisions and election precincts within such district, so as to include such lands therein and so as to make such divisions as nearly equal in area as may be practicable. In case of the inclusion of any land less than thirty days before an election within such district, the inhabitants of the land so included shall not be entitled to vote at such election.

Dissolution
of districts

Petition

SEC. 50. Any such district may be dissolved by the board of supervisors in the county in which it is organized in the manner following: Upon receiving a petition signed by ten per cent of the electors of the district, or by the owners of one-half of the lands comprising the district, requesting the dissolution of the district, the board of supervisors shall publish a notice once a week for two weeks in some newspaper in the county in which the district was organized, and also in each county in which any part of the district lies, giving notice that such petition has been filed with said board of supervisors, and that the board will hear said petition, and all objections thereto, at the next regular meeting of said board after the expiration of the time of publishing said notice (specifying the date), and directing all persons interested therein to show cause at such time, if any they have, why such district should not be dissolved. At the time appointed for such hearing, or at any time to which the same may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon said petition, and may grant or deny the same, and, if its decision shall be against the dissolution of the district, such decision shall be final and conclusive.

Special
election

If such petition be granted, the board of supervisors shall, by resolution, provide for and order the holding of a special election in such district, and shall submit to the qualified electors of the district the proposition whether or not the district shall be dissolved. The resolution shall recite the filing of the petition for dissolution, and the approval of the same by the board of supervisors, and fix a time for the holding of such election. Such election shall be noticed, conducted, and the returns thereof made and canvassed, in the same manner as is provided in this act for the election upon the question whether or not the district should be organized, excepting that the ballots to be used at said election shall contain the words, "Dissolution of district—Yes" or "Dissolution of district—No," or words equivalent thereto. If votes representing sixty per cent of the total number of votes cast are cast in favor of the dissolution of such district, then the board of supervisors shall enter an order to that effect upon its minutes, declaring such district dissolved, and upon the entry of such order said district shall be dissolved, provided, however, if there shall be any outstanding indebtedness of such district, at the time of the dissolution thereof, the board of supervisors shall levy assessments for the payment of such indebtedness in like manner as though such district had not been dissolved, until all such indebtedness shall be fully paid, and shall cause such obligations to be paid according to their tenor out of the moneys raised from such assessments.

Upon the dissolution of any such district, any and all real property belonging to the district, shall become and be the property of the county in which the same is situate; and the personal property belonging to the district shall be sold by the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was organized, and the proceeds from such sale, together with all moneys of the district, remaining after the payment of all of the obligations of the district, shall be paid into the general funds of the counties in which any part of the district lies in the same proportions that the assessed values of the lands (according to the last assessment rolls) within the district in each of said counties bear one to the other.

SEC. 51. This act shall be liberally construed to carry out the purposes and intent hereof.

SEC. 52. In case any section or sections, or a part of any section, of this act shall be found to be unconstitutional, the remainder of the act shall not be invalidated thereby, but shall remain in full force and effect.

SEC. 53. This act shall not be construed as repealing the existing conservancy act of California, approved May 16, 1919, or any part thereof or any other existing law of this state, but shall be treated as, and shall be in effect, an alternative act thereto.

SEC. 54. It is hereby declared that this act is a reenactment of chapter 166 of the statutes of 1929, and known as the "Water conservation act of 1929," and is to be construed as a continuation of said act.

"Independent contractor "

(b) Any person rendering service for another, other than as an independent contractor, or as expressly excluded herein, is presumed to be an employee within the meaning of this act. The term "independent contractor" shall be taken to mean, for the purposes of this act: any person who renders service, other than manual labor, for a specified recompense for a specified result, under the control of his principal as to the result of his work only and not as to the means by which such result is accomplished. A working member of a partnership receiving wages irrespective of profits from such partnership shall be deemed an employee within the meaning of this section.

Partner receiving wages.

(c) The term "casual" as used in this section shall be taken to refer only to employments where the work contemplated is to be completed in not exceeding ten working days, without regard to the number of men employed, and where the total labor cost of such work is less than one hundred dollars. The phrase "course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer" shall be taken to include all services tending toward the preservation, maintenance or operation of the business, business premises or business property of the employer. The words "trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer" shall be taken to include any undertaking actually engaged in by him with some degree of regularity, the trade name, articles of incorporation or principal business of the employer to the contrary notwithstanding.

"Casual."

(d) Watchmen for nonindustrial establishments, paid by subscription by several persons, shall not be held to be employees within the meaning of this act. In other cases where watchmen, paid by subscription by several persons, have at the time of the injury sustained by them taken out and maintained in full force and effect insurance upon themselves as self-employed persons conferring benefits equal to those conferred by this act, the employer shall not be liable under this act.

Watchmen

(e) It shall not be a defense to the state, or any political subdivision or institution thereof, or public or quasi public corporation, that a person injured while rendering service for it was not lawfully employed by reason of the violation of any civil service or other law, rule, or regulation respecting the hiring of employees.

Employees
of state

(f) Workmen associating themselves under a partnership agreement, the principal purpose of which is the performance of the labor on a particular piece of work, shall be deemed employees of the person having such work executed, and, in the event the average weekly earnings are not otherwise ascertainable, shall be deemed to be employed at an average weekly wage of twelve dollars; provided, however, that if such workmen shall have taken out and maintained in full force and effect insurance, in an insurance carrier as defined in this act, insuring to themselves and all persons employed by them benefits identical with those conferred by this act, the person for whom such work is to be done shall not be liable as an employer under this act.

CHAPTER 1022.

An act to amend article IX of chapter I of part III of division 4 of the School Code, embracing sections 4380 to 4384, inclusive, and to repeal chapter 709, statutes of 1929, all relating to financial reports of school districts

[Approved by the Governor June 16, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Sch. C.,
p 169

SECTION 1 Article IX of chapter I of part III of division 4 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Article IX—Financial Reports of School Districts.

Annual
statements of school
districts

4380. On or before the first day of August of each year the governing board of each school district of every kind and class must prepare and keep on file for public inspection a statement of all receipts and expenditures of the district for the preceding fiscal year and a statement of the estimated total expenses for the district for the ensuing fiscal year.

Itemized
statement

4381 The statements must be itemized according to the form of budget prescribed for the school districts of this state by the superintendent of public instruction

Budget

4382. The budget of such governing board for the then current fiscal year submitted as prescribed by this chapter must be a part of such statement.

Publication of proposed budget.

4383. Except in districts where no district tax is levied, and elementary districts having but one teacher employed, the proposed budget for the ensuing school year as prepared by the trustees under the provisions of this code, or a summary thereof containing such items as may be applicable to the particular district, shall be published by the county superintendent of schools at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published within the district, or if there is no newspaper in said district, then in a newspaper published nearest to said district, prior to its adoption. The cost of such publication shall be a proper and legal charge against the school district or districts for which the publication is made, and shall not exceed the rate fixed by the board of supervisors for official advertising. Such publication shall be made between the eighth and fifteenth days of July of each year, and shall contain a notice that a public hearing will be held before the board of trustees of the school district, in some schoolhouse in said district, between the fifteenth and twenty-second days of July of said year, at which time and place such hearing shall be held and any taxpayer in the district may appear and object to said proposed budget or any item thereof; and said budget shall not be finally adopted by said trustees until after said public hearing has been held.

Penalties.

4384. Any violation of this article or a failure to comply with its provisions by the county superintendent of schools or by the governing board of any school district is punishable under section 176 of the Penal Code of the State of California

SEC. 2. Chapter 709, statutes of 1929, entitled "An act relating to the annual publication of financial reports of school districts," approved June 6, 1929, is hereby repealed.

Repeal.

CHAPTER 1023.

An act declaring the bridge across the Yuba river at the city of Marysville and the bridge across the Feather river between the city of Marysville and the city of Yuba City to be state highways and parts of the state highway system.

[Approved by the Governor June 17, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That certain bridge, and the highway thereon, which extends across the Yuba river from the city of Marysville on the north to the California state highway on the south, and also that certain bridge and the highway thereon, which extends across the Feather river between the city of Marysville and the city of Yuba City, are hereby declared to be parts of the state primary highway system and classified as parts of route three of such system which extends from Sacramento to the Oregon state line. They are hereby placed under the supervision of the department of public works, and it shall be the duty of the department to thereafter maintain the same; provided, however, in the case of said bridge and highway thereon across the Feather river, the state hereby assumes only such obligation of maintenance as may be now imposed upon the counties of Yuba and Sutter under any existing contract with any railroad company for the maintenance thereof, and the department of public works, acting by and through the California highway commission, may by resolution of said commission at such time as it may deem it to be necessary and proper, relinquish the state's interest, created hereby, to the counties of Yuba and Sutter and thereupon the state's control and jurisdiction of said bridge and highway thereon shall entirely revert in said counties.

Certain

way system.

CHAPTER 1024.

An act providing for the building of a causeway across the Tisdale by-pass in Sutter county, State of California, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by the Governor June 17, 1931, with reduction hereunder noted
In effect August 14, 1931]

[I object to the item of $35,000 in Senate Bill 205 and reduce the amount thereof to $20,000. With this reduction I approve the bill. Dated June 17, 1931. JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Tisdale
causeway.

SECTION 1. The department of public works is authorized and directed to immediately take such steps as may be necessary to locate and build a causeway with approaches across the Tisdale by-pass. The site of said bridge shall be located by the department of public works and said site may be at the Tisdale weir or not more than one mile distant therefrom.

Appropriation

SEC. 2. The sum of thirty-five thousand dollars, not otherwise appropriated in the state treasury, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the building of said causeway revised

An act to amend the title of and to revise that certain act entitled "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the State of California," approved April 5, 1917, as amended

[Approved by the Governor June 17, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Title
amended

SECTION 1. The title of that certain act entitled "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the State of California," is hereby amended to read as follows:

"An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the State of California, and providing for the issuance of bonds and the levy and collection of all taxes, assessments and other moneys necessary for the retirement and payment thereof, and for the payment of the costs of all acquisitions and improvements and other expenses hereunder."

SEC. 2. Said act is hereby revised to read as follows:

Short title

Section 1. Short title of act. This act shall be known as, and whenever cited, referred to, or amended, may be designated as the "Joint highway district act" and by such design-nation shall be sufficiently identified in any proceeding hereunder or in any court action or proceeding or legislative enactment in which this act is referred to.

Sec. 2. Districts for highway purposes. Joint highway districts, to be composed of two or more counties in the State of California, may be created, organized and governed for the purpose of constructing public highways and appurtenances thereto (including tunnels incident to highway purposes) in the manner as in this act provided. The word "county" as used in this act shall be deemed to mean and shall include any "city and county."

Joint highway
districts.

Sec. 3. General powers of districts. Any joint highway district organized or reorganized under the provisions of this act shall through its board of directors have power—

General powers of
districts.

To lay out, construct, improve and maintain highways as specified in this act. Where highways are acquired or constructed beyond the boundaries of the district, the consent of the governing body controlling the territory through which the same are proposed, shall be first obtained.

To levy and impose taxes and assessment taxes upon property within the boundaries of the district and issue bonds as in this act provided.

To accept in the name of the district all gifts, donations or contributions from any source whatsoever made to further the purposes of this act, and the counties composing any district organized hereunder may convey to such district such public highways or rights of way as may be utilized as a part of or in connection with any highway or highways authorized to be constructed, improved or maintained under the provisions of this act.

To exercise the right of eminent domain for the purpose of acquiring lands or rights of way for any of the purposes authorized under the provisions of this act; and for such purposes the board of directors of any district organized hereunder shall first adopt a resolution declaring that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition of the lands or rights of way which shall in said resolution be set forth and described and shall be declared to be necessary for such purposes. The adoption of said resolution as aforesaid shall be conclusive evidence of the following, viz:

(1) Of the public necessity of the construction or improvement for which such condemnation is proposed.

(2) That the condemnation and acquisition of such property or rights of way is necessary therefor.

(3) That the proposed improvement and construction and property or right of way to be condemned are planned and located in the manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury.

To acquire and use such personal property as may in the opinion of the board of directors be necessary for the exercise of the powers herein granted.

To employ such labor and services as may be necessary in the opinion of the board of directors for the exercise of the powers herein granted.

To arrange for the safe-keeping of all funds belonging to the district and to this end shall appoint a treasurer and depositary and exact from such treasurer and depositary such surety bonds or other security as may be proper in the opinion of the board of directors.

To sue and to be sued.

To adopt a seal.

Any district organized hereunder shall have and exercise the powers expressly granted in this act together with such powers as are reasonably implied therefrom and necessary and proper to carry out the objects and purposes of this act.

Resolution
initiating proceedings

Sec. 4. Resolution proposing organization of district. The board of supervisors of any county may initiate proceedings proposing the creation of a joint highway district under the provisions of this act to be composed of two or more counties of the state, by the adoption of a resolution reciting the following:

(1) That the public interest requires the construction or improvement of one or more public highways and the acquisition of any necessary rights of way therefor, stating generally the location and extent thereof.

(2) The names of the counties proposed to be included in the proposed district and which will be benefited by the construction or improvement of the proposed highway or highways.

(3) That it is proposed to create a joint highway district under the provisions of this act composed of the counties so named.

When adopted, certified copies of such resolution shall be transmitted to the several clerks of the boards of supervisors in each of the counties named in the said resolution other than that in which the proceedings are initiated.

Upon the adoption of such resolution the board of supervisors of the county adopting the same shall name and appoint a member of said board of supervisors to represent said county upon the board of directors of the joint highway district proposed to be organized.

Approval by supervisors

Sec. 5. Approval by boards of supervisors. Upon receipt of a copy of the resolution adopted as provided in section 4 hereof, the boards of supervisors of the several counties affected and to whom the same may be directed, shall consider the advisability of creating and organizing a joint highway district as proposed in said resolution, and upon determining the facts involved therein shall severally adopt resolutions either rejecting or approving the proposal to create such joint highway district. Each resolution of approval shall in addition to the matter otherwise required therein also name and appoint the member of the board of supervisors of the county adopting such resolution, to represent such county upon the board of directors of the proposed joint highway district. A certified copy of such resolution of approval shall be forthwith transmitted to the clerk of the board of supervisors initiating the proceedings.

Sec. 6. Confirmation of district organization. The board of supervisors of any county initiating proceedings for the creation of a joint highway district shall after the receipt of a copy of resolution approving proposal to form such joint highway district as provided in section 5 hereof from the board of supervisors of each county proposed to be included within any such joint highway district (the passage of the resolution herein provided in section 4 hereof by the board of supervisors of the county initiating proceedings shall constitute a sufficient approval in behalf of said county) adopt a resolution declaring the creation and organization of a joint highway district and setting forth the names of the counties composing said district. A certified copy of said resolution shall be transmitted to and filed with the secretary of state of the State of California, whereupon the said joint highway district shall be deemed created and organized and shall exercise all of the powers granted in this act and shall constitute and be a public corporation under the name and designation of "Joint Highway District No. ----- of the State of California." All districts organized under the provisions of this act shall be numbered in the order of their creation, such number to be assigned to said district forthwith upon the organization thereof by the secretary of state, and the secretary of state shall keep and maintain in his office a list and register showing the joint highway districts organized under the provisions of this act. The secretary of state shall furnish and transmit to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county adopting the initial resolution for the organization of any district hereunder, a certificate of the organization of the same and upon receipt of such certificate such clerk shall within ten (10) days after the receipt of the same notify the clerks of the several boards of supervisors of the counties constituting said district advising them of the fact of such organization, and said clerk shall within said time, also notify the director of public works of the State of California and each supervisor appointed as a member of the board of directors of such district of such fact and of the time and place of the first meeting of the board of directors of such district. Such time and place of meeting to be fixed and determined by said clerk, but the said time of meeting shall be within thirty (30) days after the date of mailing notices thereof.

Sec. 7. Board of directors. All joint highway districts organized under the provisions of this act shall be managed by, and the powers herein conferred upon such district shall be exercised by a board of directors appointed as herein provided. The members of such board of directors shall serve during the pleasure of the appointing power. The members of the board of directors shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be allowed the actual expenses incurred by them in connection with the discharge of their duties under the provision of this act. The term of office of any member of the board of directors shall immediately cease and determine upon the termination of the term of office of such director as a member of the board of supervisors of a county within the district, except that this provision shall have no application to a member appointed by the director of public works of the State of California as hereinafter provided. In the event that an even number of counties comprise any joint highway district, an additional member of the board of directors shall be chosen and appointed by the directors already named in behalf of the several boards of supervisors, and if such directors shall fail to make such appointment within thirty (30) days after the date set for the first meeting of the board of directors, it shall be the duty of the secretary of the board of directors, or any member thereof, to notify the director of public works of the State of California of such fact and it shall thereupon become the duty of such director of public works to appoint such additional member of the board of directors within thirty (30) days after receiving notification as aforesaid. Such additional director shall be a member of the board of supervisors of any county within such district or any owner of real property residing within the boundaries thereof. In the event of any vacancy occurring on the board of directors of any district the appointive power appointing such director shall forthwith appoint a successor to fill such vacancy.

Organiza-
board

Upon the organization of any district under the provisions of this act it shall be the duty of the persons named and appointed as members of the board of directors thereof to meet at the time and place fixed for the initial meeting thereof as hereinabove provided. A majority of the members of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum, and in the absence of a quorum, any lesser number of directors may adjourn the meeting from time to time until organization of the board of directors has been completed. At the initial meeting of the board of directors above referred to, the members thereof shall proceed to organize by selecting from among its membership a president, vice president and secretary who shall severally perform such duties as may be from time to time prescribed by the board of directors.

Meetings
of board

The board of directors shall fix a place or places within the district for the transaction of business, and may hold meetings from time to time in any place that will, in the opinion of said board, best serve the interest or convenience of the said board of directors and the public. A majority of the members of the board of directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board shall have power to make all necessary rules relative to the orderly transaction of its business and the business of the district.

Sec. 8. Additional officers and employees. The board of directors shall appoint a treasurer and a district engineer, and may appoint an assistant secretary. The board of directors may employ such clerical, legal or additional engineering service as may in its discretion be required, and fix the compensation to be paid to any officers, persons or employees of the district, provided, however, that no officer of any county shall receive any compensation for services rendered in behalf of the district in any capacity whatsoever.

The treasurer of the district shall be a resident therein and a person competent in the handling of financial matters. Such treasurer shall furnish a bond to the district in form and amount satisfactory to the board of directors before entering upon the duties of his office. The treasurer shall have charge and custody of all of the funds of the district and he and his bondsmen shall be responsible for the safe-keeping of the same. The treasurer shall deposit all funds of the district in a depository to be designated by the board of directors. The treasurer shall make report of the funds in his possession as required by the board of directors, and shall perform all the duties required of him under the provisions of this act, together with such additional duties as may from time to time be prescribed by the board of directors.

The district engineer shall be a duly qualified civil engineer, licensed to practice as such under the laws of the State of California. He shall perform all of the engineering services and duties required of him under the provisions of this act and such additional services as the board of directors may determine and require.

The assistant secretary, if one be appointed, shall perform such duties as the board of directors may determine, and shall perform all of the duties and functions of the secretary under the direction of the secretary, or in his absence.

Sec. 9. Contingent fund. Immediately following the organization of any joint highway district under this act, it shall be the duty of the several boards of supervisors of the counties composing such district to provide such district with a sufficient contingent fund to enable such district and its officers to perform the functions and duties in this act prescribed. The proportionate contributions of the several counties within the district may be suggested to the several boards of supervisors thereof by the board of directors of the district and the board of directors shall from time to time report to said boards of supervisors its requirements and in general its expenditures. The boards of supervisors of the counties within the district may contribute to said contingent fund from any moneys or funds of the several counties not otherwise appropriated, including any moneys received by such counties as a result of any tax or license upon motor vehicles or motor vehicle fuels, whether the same are received through the State of California or otherwise. The State of California may contribute to the contingent fund such or any amount that it may desire out of any moneys or funds usable for joint highway district purposes. The State of California may, through the director of public works, designate the purposes for which any money contributed to the contingent fund may be used and the purposes named may be any which are authorized under the provisions of this act.

Purposes of contingent
fund

Sec. 10. Purposes of contingent fund. The contingent fund provided to be created in section 9 hereof may be used for any purpose necessary to create and maintain the organization of the district, to make reconnaissance, preliminary and final location surveys, and all necessary or proper engineering, legal or clerical work incident to the organization and operation of the district, or the laying out, construction or improvement of any highway or highways to be constructed under the provisions of this act. The contingent fund may also be used for the purpose of procuring any and all necessary lands or rights of way usable for the purposes for which any district is created.

Preliminary surveys and report

Sec. 11. Preliminary surveys and report. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of any district organized hereunder, as soon as practicable after the organization of such board of directors, to cause the route of the highway or highways proposed to be constructed or improved by the district, to be tentatively located. For this purpose the board of directors may employ all necessary engineering and other assistance and shall cause such preliminary surveys to be made as in the judgment of the board of directors may be required. All engineering work performed in any district organized hereunder shall be under the direction and control of the district engineer duly appointed by the board of directors. The district engineer shall make a preliminary report to the board of directors setting forth the result of his preliminary surveys and showing the tentative route of the highway or highways proposed to be constructed or improved together with an estimate of the approximate cost of construction, the incidental expenses thereof and the estimated cost of the acquisition of any necessary property or rights of way therefor. In his report the district engineer shall also recommend an apportionment of the construction and other costs among the several counties that are members of the district and the State of California, if any contribution is to be requested from the state. The district engineer shall also in his report recommend a method or methods for financing the project. Upon the completion of said report the district engineer shall cause the same to be filed with the secretary of the board of directors of the district.

Report by
directors

Sec. 12. Report by board of directors. As soon as is practicable after the filing of the engineer's report provided for in section 11 hereof, the board of directors of the district shall give full consideration to the same and shall formulate a report of the project or projects for which the district is organized. Said report shall contain the following:

1. A general description of the approximate route and location of the highway or highways proposed to be constructed or improved;

2. The estimated cost of said construction or improvement;

3. The general location and extent of any property or rights of way necessary for the said construction or improvement or of the unit proposed for immediate construction, together with the estimated cost of obtaining the same;

4. A statement and recommendation of the portion or unit of the project which the board of directors recommends for immediate construction, which may be the whole or any part of the project proposed.

5. A statement of the estimated cost of any unit or units proposed to be immediately constructed in the event that the board of directors determines upon the construction of any unit less than the whole.

6. A statement of the method of financing proposed by the board of directors.

7. A statement of the amount of contribution to be requested of the State of California, if any.

8. A statement of the proportionate amounts of the cost of the unit or units proposed to be borne within the several counties composing the district, after deducting the contribution of the State of California, if any.

9. If a unit is proposed for immediate construction that is less than the whole project, a statement of a proposed program for the construction of other units to complete the project.

Sec. 13. Approval by state of contribution to district. If the report above provided for contains a request for a contribution from the State of California, a certified copy of the said report shall immediately upon its adoption by the board of directors be transmitted to the director of public works of the State of California. Thereupon the department of public works of the State of California shall consider the report so filed and may with respect to said contribution reject the request for such contribution or approve the same, and may reject or approve the said report in whole or in part, or may suggest modifications thereof. The said department of public works shall through its proper officers, boards or commissions, pass upon the said request for contribution and the said report within ninety (90) days after the receipt of any such report by the said director of public works. The failure to act within said period shall operate as a rejection in behalf of the State of California. If the whole or any part of the project proposed in the report is approved and a contribution by the State of California is recommended, the state highway commission of the State of California shall thereupon adopt a resolution setting forth the amount of such contribution, the time and manner of payment thereof and the purposes for which the same shall be used. Upon the adoption of any such resolution by the said state highway commission and the approval of the report, or such portion thereof as may be proper, by the director of public works

director of the department of public works, the State of California shall be committed and obligated to make the contributions specified, out of any funds which may now or hereafter be available for joint highway purposes and the director of public works shall issue a certificate and transmit the same to the secretary of the district showing the decision of his department upon the said report, setting forth the amount of contribution, if any, and the terms relative to the payment thereof. The board of directors may amend its preliminary report provided for in section 12 hereof to conform with any suggestions or recommendations of the department of public works or the state highway commission.

Report to counties in district

Sec. 14. Report to counties in district. Upon the receipt of the certificate from the director of public works provided for in section 13 hereof, or if no contribution is requested from the State of California, then upon the adoption of the report, the board of directors shall transmit certified copies of their preliminary report provided for in section 12 hereof to the several boards of supervisors of the counties composing the district. Upon receipt of said report the several boards of supervisors shall forthwith consider the same and shall within sixty (60) days after receipt of the same, by resolution adopt or reject the said report. Failure of any board of supervisors to so act within said time shall be deemed a rejection, but such rejection or a rejection by other means shall be without prejudice to the submission of a new or amended report by the board of directors of the district at any time. Each board of supervisors shall cause a certified copy of its resolution adopting or rejecting said report to be sent to the secretary of the board of directors of the district.

Publication
of notice
of hearing
report

Upon receipt of said report the clerk of each board of supervisors shall cause a notice to be published twice in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the county receiving said report, which notice shall set forth the fact that said report has been received and is on file for public inspection, and shall also designate the time at which the board of supervisors will consider said report, at which time all interested persons may present any protests or suggestions which they may have to offer concerning the same. The last publication of said notice shall be at least twenty days prior to the date of said hearing.

Limit on obligation of counties and state

Sec. 15. Limit on obligation of counties and state. No county within any district organized under the provisions of this act shall be obligated or committed hereunder unless and until the board of supervisors thereof shall have approved the report of the board of directors of the district provided for in section 12 hereof and unless and until said report shall have been approved by the boards of supervisors of all other counties in the district. The proportions of contribution provided for in said report shall not be exceeded without the consent of the board of supervisors of each county in the district. The obligation of the State of California for any contribution as provided for in section 13 hereof shall be contingent upon the approval of the several counties comprising the district, of the balance of the costs of the project or particular unit thereof proposed to be immediately constructed.

Sec. 15a. Optional election provision. At any time prior to the approval of the report provided for under section 12 hereof, by the board of supervisors of any county within a district organized under this act, proceedings may be taken as in this section provided. Upon the petition of five per cent (5%) of the registered electors of any county, or without such petition if any board of supervisors elects so to do, the matter of the participation of the county in any issuance of bonds proposed in the report above referred to, shall be referred to a vote of the qualified electors of the county. The matter may be submitted at a special election for that purpose or may be consolidated with any other election involving the entire county. All laws governing county elections shall apply to such election in so far as they may be applicable. The notice of election, in addition to the matters otherwise required, shall refer to the report above referred to, a copy of which shall be on file in the office of the county clerk. If at said election a two-thirds majority of the electors voting thereon do not approve the proposition, the county shall not participate in the issue of bonds proposed unless the same or any amended proposition is thereafter approved by the electors as in this section provided. This section, and the procedure herein set forth, shall have no application to the bonds to correct invalidity provided for under section 30 hereof. In the event that any county proceeds under the provisions of this section, the time for the approval of the report above referred to by the board of supervisors of such county, shall be extended to and including thirty days from and after the date of canvassing the returns upon any election held hereunder.

Sec. 16. Final plans and specifications. After receiving the certificate of commitment for contribution by the State of California, if any, and certified copies of the resolutions of all the boards of supervisors of all of the counties comprising the district, approving the report provided for in section 12 hereof, the board of directors of said district shall be empowered to proceed with final surveys, the preparation of final plans and specifications, the award of contract or contracts and the acquisition, construction and improvement of the highway or highways constituting the project reported under section 12 hereof or such unit thereof as is proposed for immediate construction. To this end the board of directors is empowered, and it shall be its duty, to cause all necessary final surveys, plans, specifications and detailed drawings to be made and prepared by the district engineer. Upon completion thereof the surveys, plans, specifications and detailed drawings shall be filed with and approved by the board of directors of the district. Said final surveys, plans, specifications and detailed drawings shall include a final estimate of cost and shall not be approved by the board of directors of the district except that such final estimate does not exceed by more than ten per cent (10%) the estimate named in the preliminary report of the district engineer or unless and until the increase in estimated costs be approved by the board of supervisors of each county comprising the district, and the director of the department of public works of the State of California, provided any amount is to be contributed by the state. Upon the adoption of the final surveys, plans, specifications and detailed drawings by the board of directors, a certified copy thereof shall be transmitted to the director of public works of the State of California for his approval.

Construction

contract

Call for bids

Sec. 17. Construction work by public contract. All construction work under the provisions of this act shall be done by contract let and awarded to the lowest regular responsible bidder upon the same after advertisement for bids therefor shall have first been made by publication twice in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated within the district to be designated by the board of directors or the secretary thereof. The first publication of the notice inviting bids shall be not less than ten (10) days prior to the time fixed for receiving such bids. The notice inviting bids shall be upon such terms and conditions as the board of directors of the district may determine and shall require that each bid be accompanied by a check payable to the joint highway district in an amount not less than ten per cent (10%) of the aggregate amount of the bid accompanying the same and certified to by some responsible bank within the State of California, or by a cashier's check in said amount so payable issued by a responsible bank in the State of California. All bids shall be delivered to the secretary of the board of directors of the district not later than the hour fixed for receiving the same and shall thereafter be publicly opened by the said secretary in the presence of the board of directors assembled in public session. No bid shall be considered unless accompanied by a certified check satisfactory to the board of directors. The board of directors may reject any and all bids should it deem this necessary for the good of the district and may also reject the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the district, any county composing said district, or the State of California, or any bidder who is unable to satisfy the board of directors of the ability, financially or otherwise, of said bidder, to perform the contract for the proposed construction work. All bids other than the lowest regular acceptable bid of a responsible bidder shall be rejected by the board of directors.

Contract
and bonds

Sec. 18. Contract and bonds. The bidder to whom any contract is awarded under the provisions of this act shall execute a contract in a form approved by the attorney for the district within twenty (20) days after the date of the award of such contract by the board of directors. Before being entitled to a contract the successful bidder shall execute bonds for the faithful performance of the contract and for the payment of all claims for labor and material thereunder in the manner provided by law and in the form approved by the attorney for the district. All of said bonds shall be executed by the bidder and by a corporate surety duly authorized to do business as such under the laws of the State of California and in amounts which shall not be less than fifty per cent (50%) of the aggregate contract price for each bond. All contract bonds furnished as provided in this section in addition to the other requirements herein provided shall be approved by the president of the board of directors of the district and the district engineer prior to the execution of contract in behalf of the district. The president or vice president and secretary or assistant secretary shall sign and attest all construction contracts under the provisions of this act. All construction contracts under this act shall contain a provision that a maximum of eight (8) hours shall constitute a day's labor and three dollars ($3) shall be the minimum amount paid for such day's labor performed upon any construction work hereunder. In the event that any bidder to whom a contract shall be awarded under the provisions of this act shall fail to enter into contract and execute bonds as herein provided, the board of directors of the district shall declare the check accompanying the bid of such bidder to be forfeited and upon cashing same the proceeds shall be placed to the credit of the construction fund of the district. The board of directors may thereupon award the contract to the next lowest responsible and acceptable bidder, or may call for new bids.

Approval of bonds

Hours and wages

Sec. 18a. Financing of projects. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of any joint highway district organized under the provisions of this act to provide for the financing of any projects to be constructed hereunder in one or more of the methods in this act prescribed. Upon the award of contract for the construction of any project or unit thereof under the provisions of this act, the board of directors of the district shall be obligated to provide for the payment of the cost thereof unless such provision shall have already been made prior to such award of contract.

Financing of projects

Sec. 19. Levy for costs. A levy shall be made within and upon the several counties composing any joint highway district organized under the provisions of this act to provide for the payment of the costs and expenses of any acquisitions of property or rights of way, construction or improvement under the provisions hereof. The board of directors of any district is empowered to make such levy as hereinafter provided. Said board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth in general terms the project or portion thereof, to defray the costs and expenses of which the proposed levy is to be made and giving the amount of money proposed to be raised by such levy which amount may be the total estimated amount payable

Levy for costs

Adoption of resolution

under any contract awarded for construction or improvement, or for any portion thereof, or for any excess of cost over the amount of any past levies already made for the same purpose. From the amount of any such levy shall first be deducted any amount contributed or to be contributed thereto by the State of California under the provisions of this act and the balance of the said levy shall be distributed among the several counties composing the district in the proportions set forth in the report of the board of directors adopted pursuant to section 12 hereof. Said resolution shall specifically set forth the sum of money levied within and upon each county within the district and shall briefly recite the facts requiring the levy. After the adoption of such resolution a certified copy of the same shall be forthwith transmitted to the clerks of the several boards of supervisors of the counties composing the district whereupon the said counties shall be obligated to pay the amount of said levy in the manner herein provided and unless other provisions for financing are made. At least one-fifth ($1/5$) of the total amount levied within and upon each such county shall be paid into the treasury of the district by such county within ninety (90) days after the resolution providing for the levy has been adopted by the board of directors of the district. The board of supervisors of each such county is hereby authorized to and obligated to make such payment and may make payment of the entire amount of the levy made but not less than one-fifth ($1/5$) of the total thereof. For the purpose of any such payment the board of supervisors of the several counties within the district may utilize any moneys or funds of the several counties not otherwise allocated or appropriated, including any moneys received by such counties as the result of any tax or license upon motor vehicles or motor vehicle fuels whether through the State of California or otherwise.

supervisors

Financing deferred amounts

Sec. 20. Financing deferred amounts. If the board of supervisors of any counties within the district shall not pay the entire amount of any levy made under the provisions of section 19 hereof within the time therein prescribed, the board of directors of the district shall provide for financing the same in not to exceed four (4) annual installments additional to the one prescribed in said section 19. Any one or more of the methods of financing in this act prescribed may be used by the board of directors.

Extension of bond term

Sec. 20a. Extension of bond term on large projects. In the event that the report required under section 12 hereof shall show that the project proposed, or any unit or units thereof, is estimated to cost in excess of the sum of one million dollars, the board of directors shall have power to provide that any bonds issued under this act shall be extended over a period of not to exceed fifteen (15) annual installments, in which event the initial payment from and within each county within the district shall be not less than the sum obtained by dividing the total amount payable hereunder in each county by the number of installments in which the bonds will be paid.

Sec. 21. Revenue bonds. The board of directors of any district organized hereunder may cause revenue bonds to be issued upon the security of the anticipated unpaid installments of any levies made within and upon the counties within the district in the manner following, to wit: Said revenue bonds shall be payable out of a fund of the district to be designated "Joint highway district No. ----- of the State of California revenue bond fund" and into which shall be paid all sums necessary for the retirement of any bonds issued hereunder. The board of directors shall prescribe the denominations of such bonds which shall mature serially in convenient amounts not necessarily equal. Such bonds shall bear such rate of interest not to exceed six per centum per annum as may be determined by the board of directors and shall be in substantially the following form (filling in blanks as appropriate):

REVENUE BOND.

Joint highway district No. ----- of the State of California $ ----- Bond No. ----- Series -----

Form of revenue bond.

Under and by virtue of an act of the Legislature of the State of California known as the "Joint highway district act," the treasurer of Joint highway district No. ----- of the State of California will pay to the bearer, out of the fund hereinafter designated, at the office of the treasurer of said district, on the ----- day of -----, 19--, the sum of ----- dollars, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin at the rate of ----- per centum per annum, payable semiannually on the second day of January and the second day of July of each year from the date hereof (except the last installment thereof, which shall be payable at the maturity of this bond), upon presentation and surrender, as they respectively become due, of the proper interest coupons hereto attached. the first of which is for interest from date hereof to the next date of interest payment, and the last for interest to maturity hereof from the last preceding date of interest payment. This bond is issued under and in conformity with the provisions of the above mentioned "Joint highway district act" and amendments thereto, relative to the issuance of revenue bonds and is a primary obligation of the joint highway district above named.

This bond is payable out of the "Joint highway district No. ----- of the State of California revenue bond fund," in accordance with the provisions of said "Joint highway district act."

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all proceedings, acts and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done and performed, and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

In witness whereof the board of directors of said joint highway district has caused this bond to be signed by the treasurer of said district, attested by the secretary of said board, and the official seal of said district to be affixed hereto, this ----- day of -----, 19--.

Treasurer of joint highway district

No. ----- of the State of California

Secretary of the board of directors.

Payment
of bonds

Said bonds shall be dated as of the date of the resolution or order of the board of directors authorizing their issuance, and the interest thereon shall be payable in the time and manner herein provided and as provided in the bond form above set forth. The board of directors may use any available moneys of the district, not already allocated to some other purpose, for the payment of any interest or principal due or past due on any revenue bonds of the district, and may advance moneys of the district for such purposes and in the event of such advancement shall be entitled to reimbursement in the amount thereof out of any levies thereafter made or any moneys thereafter collected and applicable to the payment of such bonds.

Any number of series of revenue bonds may be issued under this section for any portion or portions of a single or different projects in any district organized and existing under the provisions of this act.

Signatures,
coupons,
etc

All revenue bonds issued under this act shall be signed by the treasurer of the district, attested by the secretary of the board of directors thereof and shall have the official seal of the district attached thereto. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be in such form as the said treasurer shall determine subject to the provisions of this act and the determination of the board of directors, and the signature on said interest coupons shall be that of said treasurer and may be either written or engraved or printed facsimile. The principal and interest of any revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of America at the office of the treasurer of the district issuing the same. Said revenue bonds shall be serial in character and an approximately even proportion of the total amount of each issue shall be payable annually; provided, that the amount of the principal due in each annual payment need not be exactly the same but with respect to each installment excepting the last may be made to differ not more than five hundred dollars ($500) from the amount obtained by dividing the total of the principal amount due under the bonds, by the number of installments which shall not exceed four; the last installment shall be for the balance of the total principal amount not provided to be paid in the previous installments.

The revenue bonds shall be issued at such times and manner and in such amounts as may be required to meet the requirements for the payment of demands of the district as may be determined by the board of directors. The bonds so issued shall be sold in such amounts and at such times and in such manner as the board of directors may determine, or they may be delivered to any contractor performing any work or improvement for the district, at par, in satisfaction of any sum due upon any contract therefor.

Revenue bonds how and when issued

The state board of control or director of finance of the State of California is hereby authorized to purchase such bonds and pay for them out of any surplus money in the state treasury which, in its judgment, is not required for governmental purposes prior to the maturity of such bonds. The boards of supervisors of the several counties within the district shall likewise have authority to purchase such bonds with any surplus funds under their control.

Purchase of bonds by counties and state

Sec. 21a. Bonds legal investments. All bonds which may be issued under the authority of this act shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, and trust companies, and for state school funds, and whenever any money or funds may by any law now or hereafter enacted be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or irrigation districts within the State of California, such money or funds may be invested in any bonds issued under this act, and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or irrigation districts within this state may by any law now or hereafter enacted be used as security for the performance of any act or the deposit of any public moneys, any bonds issued under the provisions of this act may be so used.

Bonds legal investments

Sec. 22. Tax levy for payment of revenue bonds. The board of directors of any joint highway district organized under the provisions of this act is hereby empowered and it shall be the duty of such board to levy a tax annually within said district sufficient to meet the principal and interest of all outstanding revenue bonds coming due in each fiscal year.

Tax levy for payment of revenue bonds

The treasurer of each district organized or reorganized hereunder shall annually determine the amount of money necessary to be raised for the payment of principal and interest coming due in such year upon any revenue bonds issued hereunder. To such amount shall be added a sum sufficient, in the judgment of said treasurer, to cover anticipated delinquencies and the resulting sum shall be levied upon all of the property in the several counties composing the district taxable for county purposes, according to the percentages and proportions established for each county as provided in section 12 hereof. All taxes of any joint highway district organized under the provisions of this act shall be collected in behalf of such district by the proper county officers in the several counties within said district in the same time, form and manner as is or shall be hereafter provided for the collection of county taxes, and the treasurer of the joint highway district shall, prior to the fifteenth day of August in each year transmit to the board of supervisors of each county within the district a statement of the total sum to be collected within such county in such fiscal year in behalf of the district and it shall thereupon be the duty of the board of supervisors of each county in the district and of the other proper fiscal officers thereof, to cause said amount so certified by the district treasurer to be collected upon and from the taxable property within such county and the total amount of such collections shall be transmitted to and deposited with the district treasurer not later than the first day of each month following the collection of the same. All taxes of any district organized under the provisions of this act shall become due and payable in the same time and manner as county taxes are due and payable and shall become delinquent at the same times and in the same proportionate amounts and bear the same proportionate penalties and interest after delinquency as do county taxes, and all laws applicable to the levy, collection and enforcement of county taxes are hereby made applicable hereto where not in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Collection of taxes

Penalty for delinquency, etc.

The board of supervisors of any county within the district, upon receiving the report of the district treasurer showing the amount to be raised within said county for the current year, may pay said amount out of any moneys of said county applicable to the purposes of this act as set forth in section 19 hereof, and not otherwise appropriated. Upon such payment being made, no levy of district taxes need be made for the year covering such payment, within the county paying the same.

Funding bonds

Sec. 23. Funding bonds. As a separate and cumulative method of financing, the board of directors of any district organized hereunder may cause bonds to be issued in the manner hereinafter provided to cover the costs and expenses of the whole or any part of any acquisitions of property and work and improvement done or made under the provisions of this act. In the event that the board of directors propose to issue funding bonds as herein provided, they shall first adopt a resolution setting forth their intention so to do, which resolution shall also contain the following:

Resolution for issuance of funding bonds

1 A general description of the boundaries of the district to be charged with the payment of any funding bonds which are proposed to be issued. Said district may embrace the whole or any portion of any joint highway district organized and existing under the provisions of this act, and said district shall be divided into zones composed of the counties, or portions thereof, composing such district. It shall be a sufficient description of the boundaries of any such funding district and the zones therein, if the same are clearly shown upon a map or plat attached to said resolution.

2. A description in general terms of the location, character and cost of the acquisition of property or construction work.

for the expenses of which or any portion thereof it is proposed to issue funding bonds as herein provided.

3. A statement of the amount for which it is proposed to issue funding bonds, together with a statement of the maximum time for which such bonds are proposed to be issued (which shall not exceed five (5) years from the date of the order providing for the issuance of the same), and the rate of interest which such bonds shall bear, not to exceed six per centum (6%) per annum.

4. A statement of the percentage of the total amount of the annual sums which it is proposed to levy against and upon the lands within the several zones in such funding district for the payment and retirement of such funding bonds, together with interest thereon. Such percentages shall not exceed the proportionate amounts chargeable within and against the several counties within the district as such amounts are set forth in the resolution of the board of directors provided for in section 12 hereof. Said resolution shall also fix a time and place of hearing upon the matter of the proposed issuance of funding bonds, as set forth in said resolution.

Sec. 24. Hearing upon funding bonds. Upon the adoption of the resolution provided by section 23 hereof, by the board of directors, the secretary thereof shall cause a notice of the time and place of hearing to be published twice in a newspaper of general circulation published at the county seat of each county embraced within the boundaries of the proposed funding district. The newspapers in which such publication shall be made may be designated by the board of directors or in the absence of such designation by the secretary thereof. The time fixed for such hearing shall not be less than fifteen (15) days after the completion of the publications herein provided for. A copy of the notice of hearing above mentioned shall be transmitted by the secretary of the board of directors to the several boards of supervisors of the counties comprising the joint highway district, not less than thirty (30) days prior to the time fixed for hearing. No county or portion of a county shall be included within any funding district, for any amount which has previously been paid by such county into the district treasury upon any amount previously levied within and upon such county.

Upon such hearing or at any time to which the same may be adjourned, any and all persons interested may appear and in writing set forth any objections they may have to the boundaries of the proposed funding district or the zones therein, to the proposed issuance of funding bonds or upon the question of benefits to be derived by any parcel or parcels of land within the proposed funding district, or the amount thereof.

The board of directors shall hear and determine all protests or objections presented at such hearing. Said board shall have power at such hearing to alter the boundaries of the proposed funding district or change the amount for which funding bonds are proposed to be issued, but may not enlarge the boundaries of such district or increase the amount of bonds proposed to be issued. At the conclusion of such hearing, the board of directors shall finally determine the boundaries of such funding district and the zones therein and shall determine the amount of funding bonds to be issued, and the proportions of the same to be charged against each such zone, which amounts shall not exceed the benefits to be derived by the lands within said district from the project for which said bonds are to be issued. All decisions, findings and determinations of the board of directors upon notice and hearing as aforesaid, shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to present protests or objections at such hearing, in the absence of actual fraud.

Protests,

If the owners of more than twenty-five per cent in area of the property within any funding district shall at such hearing object in writing to the issuance of funding bonds, the board of directors shall have no power to cause such funding bonds to issue.

Following such hearing the board of directors, if it determines to issue funding bonds, shall cause its findings in relation thereto to be transmitted to the boards of supervisors of the several counties within the district. If any such board of supervisors makes objection to the issuance of such funding bonds within thirty-five (35) days after receiving notice thereof, the board of directors shall have no power to cause the same to be issued, but such board of directors may take new proceedings in the same manner as provided in the first instance covering an amended proposition for the issuance of funding bonds for the same or any different project or any portions thereof. If no objections are made by any board of supervisors as in this section provided, the board of directors may cause funding bonds to be issued as herein provided.

Sec. 25. Form of funding bonds. Funding bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be in substantially the following form (filling in blanks as appropriate):

Treasurer of joint highway district

Attest:

No. ----- of the State of California.

Secretary of the board of directors.

Said funding bonds shall be dated as of the date of the resolution or order of the board of directors authorizing their issuance, and the interest thereon shall be payable in the time and manner herein provided and as provided in the bond form above set forth. The board of directors may use any available moneys of the district, not already allocated to some other purpose, for the payment of any interest or principal due or past due upon any funding bonds of the district, and may advance moneys of the district for such purposes and in the event of such advancement shall be entitled to reimbursement in the amount thereof out of any levies thereafter made or any moneys thereafter collected and applicable to the payment of such bonds. Interest.

All funding bonds issued under this act shall be signed by the treasurer of the district, attested by the secretary and shall have the official seal of such district attached thereto. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be in such form as the said treasurer shall determine subject to the provisions of this act and the determination of the board of directors, and the signature of said interest coupons shall be that Signatures, coupons,
etc

of said treasurer and may be either written or engraved or printed facsimile. The principal and interest of the bonds issued under this act shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of America at the office of the treasurer of the district issuing same. Said funding bonds shall be serial in character and an approximately even proportion of the total amount of each issue shall be payable annually; provided, that the amount of the principal due in each annual payment need not be exactly the same but with respect to each installment excepting the last may be made to differ not more than five hundred dollars ($500) from the amount obtained by dividing the total of the principal amount due under the bonds, by the number of installments; the last installment shall be for the balance of the total principal amount not provided to be paid in the previous installments.

Funding bonds when issued and how.

The funding bonds shall be issued at such time and manner and in such amounts as may be required to meet the payment of the demands of the district, as may be determined by the board of directors. The form, denomination, rate of interest, time, place and manner of payment and all matters relating to such issuance shall be determined by the board of directors of the district, in accordance with the provisions of this act; provided, that the rate of interest shall not exceed six per centum per annum.

The funding bonds so issued may be sold in such amounts and at such times and in such manner as the board of directors may determine, or they may be delivered to any contractor performing any work or improvement for the district, at par, in satisfaction of any sum due upon any contract therefor. The state board of control or director of finance is hereby authorized to purchase such bonds and pay for them out of any surplus money in the state treasury which, in its judgment, is not required for governmental purposes prior to the maturity of such bonds. The boards of supervisors of the several counties shall likewise have authority to purchase such bonds with any surplus funds under their control.

Payment of funding
bonds

Sec. 26. Payment of funding bonds. For each district in which funding bonds shall have been issued under the provisions of this act a special fund to be designated "Joint highway district No. _____ of the State of California funding bond redemption fund No. _____" (The same to be consecutively numbered within each district as created.) for the discharge and payment of such bonds and interest thereon shall be, and is hereby, constituted in and for each such district issuing funding bonds under the provisions of this act.

Annual
statement of district
treasurer

The treasurer of the district shall annually transmit to the several boards of supervisors within the district and prior to the fifteenth day of August in each year, a statement showing the amount to be raised in such year by the levy and collection of special assessment taxes upon the lands within such county which are within any funding district and not devoted to any public use, or otherwise exempt from taxation for county purposes, and for the payment of principal, interest and delinquencies upon any funding bonds of the district. Such statement shall show the percentages of the amount to be levied upon the lands in such county in accordance with the zones established by the board of directors of the district, as in this act provided, and the engineer of the district shall cause to be prepared and filed in the office of the clerks of the boards of supervisors in each county within the district, a map or plat showing the boundaries of the lands in each county which are within any funding district formed under the provisions of this act and shall also show the boundaries of the zones therein and the percentage provided for each. The special assessment taxes in this section provided for payment of funding bonds under this act shall be independent of and distinct from any levies otherwise provided in this act where bonds are not issued or where revenue bonds are issued and such special assessment taxes shall be levied, collected and enforced by the proper officers of the several counties within the district, in behalf of the joint highway district and in the same manner and by the same persons and at the same time and with the same penalties and interest as are taxes for county purposes, and all laws applicable to the levy, collection and enforcement of taxes for county purposes are hereby made applicable to said special assessment taxes where not in conflict with the provisions of this act, except that such special assessment taxes shall be levied and collected upon land only, exclusive of the improvements thereon. It shall be the duty of the boards of supervisors of each county within any joint highway district organized and existing under the provisions of this act to annually cause to be levied upon the lands within each county as herein provided the amounts reported to them by the treasurer of such district, which amounts shall be clearly sufficient to pay the principal and interest coming due or past due in such year upon any funding bonds of the district together with a sufficient amount to cover delinquencies.

Special
assessment
taxes.

The provisions herein contained respecting the issuance of funding bonds shall be cumulative and shall not affect any of the other provisions or sections of this act relative to other bonds or levies. Any number of series of funding bonds may be issued under this section for any portion or portions of a single or different projects in any district organized and existing under the provisions of this act.

Construction.

Sec. 27. Curative provisions. All bonds issued in pursuance of the provisions of this act shall by their issuance be conclusive evidence of the regularity, validity and legal sufficiency, of all proceedings, acts and determinations in any wise pertaining thereto, had or made under this act, and after the same are issued no assessment tax or tax or other charge levied or collected for the purpose of paying the principal or interest on any bonds issued hereunder shall be held to be invalid or illegal or set aside or refunded, by reason of any error, informality, irregularity, omission or defect in any of the proceedings, acts or determinations in anywise pertaining to the issuance or payment of said bonds, nor shall any action or proceeding be thereafter commenced or maintained to cancel or set aside said bonds or to prevent the payment thereof or the levy or collection or enforcement of any assessment tax, tax or other charge made for such payment.

Limitation on indebtedness.

Sec. 28. Limitation on indebtedness. No bonds shall be issued by any district hereafter organized or reorganized under the provisions of this act in an amount which will aggregate at any time an obligation in excess of ten per centum (10%) of the assessed value of the aggregate total taxable property within the district as shown by the then current taxation assessment rolls of the several counties within the district. The taxable property within any county shall not at any time be obligated for all joint highway district purposes, in any amount in excess of the following limitations, viz: in counties having a total assessed value of all taxable property therein of one hundred million dollars or less, not more than three per cent thereof; in counties having a total assessed value of all taxable property therein of more than one hundred million dollars, the ratio shall be not more than two per cent thereof.

Construction fund.

Sec. 29. Construction fund. All moneys of the district applicable to the payment of construction costs shall be placed in a fund of the district to be designated "construction fund," the moneys in which shall be disbursed by the treasurer of the district as ordered by the board of directors. Such fund may be used to pay all construction costs authorized under the provisions of this act, all necessary engineering, legal and other operating costs of the district, including salaries of officers, agents and employees, and also for the payment of the cost of the purchase and acquisition of all necessary property and rights of way required for any project authorized under the provisions of this act.

Bonds to correct invalidity

Sec. 30 Bonds to correct invalidity. Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction shall determine that any contract purporting to have been made, or any proceedings, steps or actions purporting to have been taken, levy made, or any bond or bonds issued under this act, is or are void, invalid or for any reason unenforceable, or if such court shall for any cause enjoin the issuance or payment of any bonds issued or proposed to be issued under the provisions of this act, said court shall also determine whether any work or improvement has been done or performed or services rendered by any person in behalf of and to the benefit of the district under any invalid contract or proceeding or under any contract pursuant to which bonds were issued or proposed to be issued, and if so what part, if any, is of a kind that is lawful under the provisions of this act. If the court shall find that any such work or improvement has been done or made, or services rendered, or acquisitions of necessary rights of way or property which is of a kind that is lawful under the provisions of this act, then the court shall order the board of directors of the district to take proceedings as in this section provided for the issuance of bonds to cover the costs of the same. The board of directors of the district may also utilize the provisions of this section without order of court wherever necessary to correct any invalid acts or proceedings coming within the scope of this section.

It is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of this section to make the costs and expenses of all work or improvements made or to be made, or services rendered, and all necessary acquisitions or property or rights of way, had, done or performed under an attempted compliance with and exercise of the powers and rights conferred by the provisions of this act, payable by the property benefited or to be benefited thereby, by the issuance of bonds as in this section provided, to defray the costs and expenses thereof. Effect

Upon a decree of court or upon its own order as herein provided, it shall be the mandatory duty of the board of directors of the district to cause bonds to be issued as in this section provided. The board of directors shall cause a report on the bond issue proposed under this section to be made and filed by the district engineer or other competent person appointed by said board for such purpose. Said report shall set forth in general terms what the proposed bond issue is to cover, together with the total amount of the same. Such total amount shall not exceed the original charge made against the district for the items included, plus a reasonable interest thereon not to exceed six (6) per centum per annum. Said report shall also contain a description of the lands benefited by the items for which the bonds hereunder are proposed to be issued, a description of the zones, if any, into which such district is to be divided, and the amounts proposed to be made chargeable against and upon each of such zones, which amounts shall not exceed the percentages of the total sum established for the several counties within the joint highway district under section 12 hereof, also a description of the bonds to be issued for the total amount set forth in said report. The bonds provided for in this section shall in terms and form conform substantially to the provision contained in this act relative to funding bonds and shall be payable in not more than five annual installments. The annual amounts required for the payment of principal and interest on any bonds issued under the provisions of this section, shall be levied and collected in the same manner as is in this act provided with relation to funding bonds. Report of proposed bond issue to correct invalidity

The report above referred to shall be filed with the secretary of the board of directors, and upon such filing said secretary shall fix a time and place of hearing thereon and give notice thereof. Notice of such hearing shall be published at least twice in one or more newspapers of general circulation to be Publication of notice of hearing.

selected and designated by such secretary, and which shall be published and circulated within the boundaries of the district set forth and described in the report above referred to. The last publication of such notice of hearing shall be not less than twenty days prior to the date set for such hearing.

Hearing.

At the time fixed for the hearing upon said report, or at any time to which said hearing may be adjourned or continued, any person interested may appear and be heard upon any of the matters set forth in said report. The board of directors shall have power to confirm said report and to revise, correct or modify the same, in such manner as said board may deem just and in accordance with the facts as said board may find them. At the conclusion of the hearing said board shall adopt a resolution declaring its findings and determinations upon said report, and the same shall be final and conclusive upon all persons and in all proceedings or actions as to all matters so found and determined. If no changes are made in the said report, it shall be sufficient for said board to declare that said report is confirmed and the same shall thereupon become the findings and determinations of the board. Upon the adoption of the resolution of the board of directors above provided for, the treasurer of the district shall immediately cause bonds to be issued under the provisions of this section in the amount and manner provided in said resolution. Said bonds shall be dated as of the date of said resolution. Said bonds shall by their issuance be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings prior thereto under this act and after the same are issued, no tax, assessment tax, or other charge or levy, levied or collected for the purpose of paying the principal or interest on said bonds shall be held to be illegal, invalid or set aside or refunded by reason of any error, informality, irregularity, omission of defect in any of the proceedings prior to the issuance of said bonds, nor shall any action or proceeding be commenced or maintained after sixty (60) days from and after the date of their issuance to cancel or set aside said bonds or prevent the payment thereof, or the levy, collection or enforcement of any taxes, assessment taxes or other charges or levies for such payment. Said bonds shall be issued and delivered to the person or persons entitled thereto

Issue of bonds.

Control of highways.

Sec. 31. Control of highways under construction by district. During the course of the construction or improvement of any highway or project by any district under the provisions of this act the said highway or project shall be under the control of the board of directors of the district and such board of directors shall have the right to make all necessary regulations concerning the use of any highway under the control of the district which are not in conflict with general laws and may exclude from such highway such vehicular or other traffic as may, in the opinion of the board of directors, be detrimental to the public safety or will result in injury to the roadway during the progress of construction or improvements thereon, or otherwise. All laws relating to the use of state highways in this state shall be applicable to any highways under the control of any district organized hereunder.

Sec. 32. Highways on completion to revert to counties. Highways to revert to counties.
 Upon the completion of construction or improvement of any highway or portion thereof by any district organized hereunder, the board of directors of the district shall adopt a resolution declaring such completion and transmit a copy of the same to the board of supervisors of the county in which such highway or portion of highway is situated. Upon receipt of such resolution by such board of supervisors, the control of such highway or portion thereof shall revert to the county in which the same is situated and become a part of the county system of highways therein and such county shall be liable for the future maintenance and care thereof.

The board of directors shall not adopt any resolution declaring completion under this section unless and until it shall first obtain from the director of public works of the State of California, a certificate showing that the highway, or portion thereof, proposed to be surrendered to the county within which the same is situated, has been duly constructed, improved or completed in accordance with the plans and specifications previously adopted therefor. Resolution of completion.

Sec. 33. Condemnation of rights of way by counties in behalf of district. Condemnation by counties
 The board of directors of any district organized hereunder may request the proper officers of any county situated within the district to condemn and acquire property or rights of way within such county necessary for the project or projects for which the district is created. When so requested, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of the county so requested to undertake the condemnation and acquisition requested by the board of directors of the district and the cost thereof shall be a proper deduction from any levy made by the district upon or within such county. Any excess in such cost over and above the amount of any such levy shall be paid to the county by the district out of its proper funds provided for that purpose. The proceedings required to be taken by any county or county officers under the provisions of this section shall include the taking of immediate possession of any property or rights of way necessary for district purposes.

Sec. 34. Control of state moneys. Control of state moneys.
 In case it shall be determined that any sum of money authorized to be expended from the state treasury of the State of California shall be expended as required by section 22 of article four of the constitution of the State of California, then the advisory board of the state engineering department, or corresponding body or person in the department of public works, shall have the exclusive management and control of such expenditure, if the boards of supervisors of the several counties concerned assent to the relinquishment and transfer of such management and control, but such advisory board or other officer may in its or his discretion delegate its or his powers to the board of directors of the joint highway district and said joint highway district is hereby declared to be a state institution within the meaning of said constitution. The board of directors of the district may vest in the state engineering department or the department of public works, authority to supervise the work of construction, or so much thereof as it may, in its discretion, determine.

Cooperation with federal government.

Sec. 35. Cooperation with federal government. In case the governmental authorities of the United States should desire to include any highway or project constructed or to be constructed under the provisions of this act in any scheme of national defense and use or assume the use of the same for military or other purposes, the board of directors of the district, either directly or through the proper board or officers of the State of California, may enter into negotiations respecting the same and may enter into and consummate such contracts or agreements in relation thereto as may be mutually satisfactory.

Dissolution
of districts.

Sec. 36. Dissolution of districts. Upon the completion of any project or projects for which any district is organized under the provisions of this act and upon the payment and retirement of all outstanding bonds and obligations of any district, the same shall be dissolved by resolution of the board of directors thereof. It shall be the duty of the secretary of the board of directors to call such meeting for dissolution, or any member of the board of directors may call the same, or any board of supervisors within the district may demand the calling of such meeting and the dissolution of the district. A copy of the resolution of dissolution shall be transmitted to the secretary of state and to the boards of supervisors of the several counties composing the district. Any property or moneys belonging to such district at the time of dissolution shall by the board of directors thereof be distributed to the several counties composing the district in the proportions in which such counties have contributed to the expense and operation of such district.

Resolution.

Repeal of conflicting provisions.

Sec. 37. Repeal of conflicting provisions. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed except that all joint highway districts organized or existing prior to the effective date of this act may continue their operations and the discharge of their obligations pursuant to the provisions of all laws appertaining to such districts in effect prior to the effective date of this act.

Reorganization of existing districts

Sec. 38. Reorganization of existing districts under this act. All joint highway districts heretofore organized and existing or tentatively organized prior to the effective date of this act, may reorganize under the provisions of this act in the manner following: The board of directors of the district or tentative district proposing to reorganize under the provisions of this act may adopt a resolution declaring their intention so to do and transmit the same to the boards of supervisors of the several counties composing the district for approval. If the boards of supervisors of all of the counties composing such district shall consent to such reorganization, the board of directors of the district shall adopt a resolution setting forth such consent and shall declare the district or tentative district to be reorganized under the provisions of this act, whereupon such reorganization shall be complete and said district shall thereafter conform to all of the provisions of this act and shall have all of the powers and duties provided therein. A certified copy of such resolution declaring reorganization shall be transmitted to the secretary of state of the State of California.

Sec. 39. Construction of act. This act and all of its provisions shall be liberally construed, to the end that the purposes thereof may be effective. No error, defect, irregularity, informality and no neglect or omission of any officer or person, in any procedure taken hereunder, which does not affect the jurisdiction of the board of directors of the district to proceed, shall render void or invalidate any proceeding hereunder, any bonds issued or levied, taxes or assessment taxes levied or imposed hereunder.

If any section, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, the same shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each portion thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

nals or lights upon or adjacent to highways and to the enforcement of this act.

[Approved by the Governor June 18, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Title
amended

SECTION 1. The title of that certain act of the Legislature known and cited as the "California vehicle act," approved May 30, 1923, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"An act regulating traffic on streets and highways and to regulate the use and operation of vehicles; to provide for the registration and identification of motor vehicles, trailers and semitrailers and for the payment of registration fees therefor; to provide for the licensing of persons operating motor vehicles; to prohibit certain persons from operating vehicles upon the public highways; to prohibit the possession or use of or injury to a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner thereof, and to prohibit the offer to or acceptance by certain persons of any bonus or discount or other consideration for the purchase of supplies or parts for motor vehicles, or for work or repair done thereon; to provide for records to be kept by persons operating public garages and for notices to be given by owners of private garages; to provide penalties for violations of provisions of this act, and to provide for the disposition of fines and forfeitures imposed thereon; to limit the power of local authorities to enact or enforce ordinances, rules or regulations in regard to matters embraced within the provisions of this act; to provide for the disposition of registration and license fees, fines and forfeitures collected hereunder; to provide for the organization, powers and duties and for the maintenance of the division of motor vehicles; to provide for carrying out the objects of this act, and to make appropriation therefor; to provide for the time this act shall go into effect, and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act."

Stats 1927,
p. 1421

SEC. 2. Section 7 of the California vehicle act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Semi-trailer"
defined

Sec. 7. "Semitrailer."

(a) Every vehicle of the trailer type having one or more axles and two or more wheels so designed and used in conjunction with a motor vehicle that some part of its own weight and that of its own load rests upon or is carried by another vehicle.

(b) Any motor unit composed of a tractor so constructed as not to carry any independent load and a semitrailer permanently joined to the tractor shall be deemed to be one vehicle.

New section.

SEC. 3. Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be numbered 7½, to read as follows:

Sec. 7 $\frac{1}{2}$. "Pole or pipe dolly." Every vehicle of the trailer type having one or more axles not more than forty-eight inches apart and two or more wheels used in connection with a motor vehicle solely for the purpose of transporting poles or pipes and connected with the towing vehicle both by chain, rope or cable and by the load without any part of the weight of said dolly resting upon the towing vehicle. All of the registration provisions of this act shall apply to every pole or pipe dolly. "Pole or pipe dolly" defined.

SEC. 4. Section 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1929, p. 509.

Sec. 7 $\frac{1}{2}$. "Special mobile equipment." Any vehicle or unit of special maintenance or construction equipment not designed or intended for use as a transportation unit, which is used in connection with construction work, or for agricultural purposes, and which is occasionally or incidentally moved over the public highways from place to place or from job to job, shall be classed as "special mobile equipment." The term "special mobile equipment" shall also include dollies, other than a pole or pipe dolly, well-boring apparatus, street improvement and ditch digging apparatus, wood saws and fumigating and spraying apparatus; provided, that all such apparatus and special mobile equipment are not self-propelled. It shall be unlawful to move any special mobile equipment over or leave upon the public highways unless there shall be permanently attached to, or painted in a conspicuous place upon each unit of such special mobile equipment, a sign in letters not less than two inches in height giving the name and address of the owner. "Special mobile equipment."

SEC. 5. Section 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1929, p. 509.

Sec. 8 $\frac{1}{2}$. "Authorized emergency vehicle." (1) Every vehicle publicly owned and operated by a police or fire department or traffic law enforcement officer in responding to emergency calls or in traffic patrol duty. "Authorized emergency vehicle."

(2) Any motorcycle, whether publicly or privately owned when operated by a police or traffic law enforcement officer in enforcing the provisions of this act.

(3) Any motor vehicle, whether publicly or privately owned, operated in responding to emergency fire calls by a state or county forest ranger or fire warden on salary and directly in charge of fire protection work upon behalf of the state or in any county or by the chief or assistant chief of an organized fire department.

(4) Any fire fighting equipment designed and operated exclusively as such by an oil company and used in responding to emergency fire calls and in combating fires.

(5) Any publicly owned ambulance and any privately owned ambulance used in responding to emergency calls when authorized by permit issued by the superintendent of the California highway patrol.

(6) Any emergency repair vehicle of a public utility corporation used in responding to emergency calls when authorized by the superintendent of the California highway patrol.

Stats 1923,
p 517.

SEC. 6. Section 21 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Highway"
defined

Sec. 21. "Highway" or "public highway." Every highway, road, street, alley, lane, court, place, trail, drive, bridge, viaduct or trestle laid out or erected as such by the public or dedicated or abandoned to the public, or intended or used by or for the general public, except such portions thereof as are used or prepared for use by pedestrians as sidewalks. The term "highway" or "public highway" shall apply to and include driveways and paths upon the grounds of universities, colleges, and institutions when and during such time or times as such driveways and paths are open to public traffic by permission of the governing board or officer charged with the control and direction of any such university, college or institution. The term "highway" or "public highway" shall not be deemed to include private driveways, roads or places used by the owner, his guests and those having business with the owner and not intended to be otherwise used, or otherwise used by the general public.

Stats 1923,
p 517.

SEC. 7. Section 29 of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Powers and duties of division of motor vehicles.

Sec. 29. Powers and duties of the division of motor vehicles.

(a) It shall be the duty of the division of motor vehicles and all officers thereof to observe and enforce the provisions of this act and of any and all other acts respecting the use or operation of vehicles upon public highways.

Traffic direction.

(b) In addition to any other powers and duties imposed upon the California highway patrol, the officers of such patrol are hereby authorized to direct all traffic in conformance with the provisions of this act, provided that in the event of a fire or other emergency or to expedite traffic or to insure safety, officers of the highway patrol may direct traffic as conditions may require, notwithstanding the provisions of this act.

Inspection
of vehicles

(c) Whenever any officer of the California highway patrol who is on duty for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this act has reasonable cause to believe that any motor vehicle being operated upon the highway is not equipped as required by this act or is otherwise being operated in violation of this act, such officer shall have authority to direct the operator of such motor vehicle to stop and submit to an inspection of such vehicle, its equipment and the registration plates and certificate thereon or may require a test of the light or brake equipment upon such vehicle.

Inspection
in garage.

(d) Any officer of the California highway patrol or any inspector of the division shall have the right to inspect any motor vehicle in any public garage or repair shop for the purpose of locating stolen motor vehicles and investigating the title and registration of motor vehicles and, for such purpose, the owner of any such garage or repair shop shall permit any such officer or inspector without let or hindrance, to make an investigation as herein authorized.

(e) Officers of a county highway patrol maintained by any county or city and county organized under a freeholders' charter, shall have the same powers within their respective counties as are by this section conferred upon officers of the California highway patrol. Local officers.

(f) It shall be unlawful for any person to wilfully refuse or to wilfully fail to comply with any lawful order, signal or direction of any officer of the California highway patrol or other officer referred to in this section when on duty for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this act. Compliance with orders of officers

(g) For the purpose of determining the scope of employment of any officer of the California highway patrol under the workmen's compensation act, any such officer shall be deemed to be on duty and acting within the scope of his employment when actually exercising any of the powers or performing any of the duties imposed or authorized by this act at any time during the twenty-four hours of the day. Scope of employment.

SEC. 8. Section 35 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1923, p. 517.

Sec. 35. Distribution of synopsis of act. The division shall publish a brief synopsis of this act, also separately a synopsis of the provisions of title nine of this act containing regulations as to operation of vehicles, and shall furnish without charge a copy of the synopsis of said title nine and any other provisions of the act deemed desirable with each original motor vehicle registration. Synopsis of act distribution

SEC. 9. Section 36 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1927, p. 1423.

Sec. 36. Application for registration. (a) Every owner of a motor vehicle, trailer or semitrailer which shall be operated upon the public highways of this state shall for each such vehicle owned, except as herein otherwise provided, apply to the division for the registration thereof. Application for registration.

(b) Application for the registration of a vehicle herein required to be registered shall be made upon the appropriate form furnished by the division and shall contain the name and address of the owner and legal owner, also a description of the vehicle, including the name of the maker, the motor number, the serial number and model, the date first sold by the manufacturer or dealer to the consumer and such further description of the vehicle as shall be called for in the form, and such other information as may be required by the division. Form and contents.

(c) In the event that the vehicle to be registered should be a specially constructed, reconstructed or an imported vehicle, such fact shall be stated in the application, and upon the registration of every imported motor vehicle which has been registered theretofore in any other state or country, the owner shall surrender to the division all number plates, seals, certificates of registration or other evidences of such Special or imported vehicles.

former registration as may be in the applicant's possession or control.

Exceptions

(d) The provisions of this act requiring the registration of certain vehicles shall not apply to special mobile equipment nor to implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, moved or otherwise propelled upon the public highways nor to any vehicle otherwise subject to registration hereunder which is operated or moved upon a public highway under the terms of a permit from the state department of public works, such operation being only for the purpose of crossing any highway or highways from one property to another.

Stats 1925,
p. 401.

SEC. 10. Section 41 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Certificates
of registration and ownership

Sec. 41. Certificates of registration and ownership. Upon the registration of a vehicle the division shall issue a certificate of registration to the owner and a certificate of ownership to the legal owner, or both to a person who is both owner and legal owner, which certificate shall meet the following requirements:

Form

(1) Both the certificate of registration and the certificate of ownership shall contain upon the face thereof the date issued, the registration number assigned to the owner and to the vehicle, the name and address of the owner and legal owner, the date first sold by the manufacturer or dealer to the consumer, the make of the vehicle, the number of cylinders, the manufacturer's serial number, the type of body and such other statements of facts as may be determined by the division. Whenever a motor vehicle registered hereunder has previously been registered in any other state or country, the certificate of registration, and certificate of ownership or any renewal thereof, issued for such motor vehicle by the division shall be of a different color and distinguishable from the certificates of registration and ownership issued for motor vehicles first registered in this state and shall contain a statement of facts naming the state or country in which the vehicle was previously registered and the original date of registration when the same can be ascertained.

(2) The reverse side of the certificate of ownership only shall contain forms for notice to the division of a transfer of the title or interest of the owner or legal owner and application for registration by the transferee.

Container

(3) Whenever a vehicle is first registered hereunder the division shall issue a suitable container with the certificate of registration issued for such vehicle. Every owner upon receipt of a certificate of registration shall write his signature thereon in pen and ink in the space provided and shall place the same in the container furnished therewith or theretofore furnished and shall securely fasten the same in plain sight within the driver's compartment of the vehicle for which such certificate is issued, or in the event the vehicle is a motorcycle, a trailer or semitrailer, shall fasten the certificate of registration thereto in plain sight or carry such certificate in the tool bag or other convenient receptacle attached to such vehicle.

Signatures

SEC. 11. Section 43 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p. 509.

Sec. 43. Display of plates. (a) Number plates assigned to a motor vehicle other than a motorcycle shall be attached thereto, one in front and the other in the rear; the number plate assigned to any motorcycle or other vehicle required to be registered under the provisions of this act shall be attached to the rear thereof. Display of plates

(b) Every number plate shall at all times be securely fastened to the vehicle to which it is assigned so as to prevent the plate from swinging and at a minimum distance of sixteen inches from the ground, in a position to be clearly visible, and shall be maintained free from foreign materials and in a condition to be clearly legible.

SEC. 12. Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be numbered 45 $\frac{1}{2}$, to read as follows: New section

Sec. 45 $\frac{1}{2}$. Report of transfers and liability of owners. Whenever the owner of a motor vehicle registered under this act shall sell or transfer his interest in and the possession of said motor vehicle to another, said owner shall immediately notify the division of motor vehicles of such sale or transfer, giving the date of same, the names and addresses of such owner and of the transferee, and such description of the vehicle as may be called for in any official form provided for such purpose by the division; provided, however, that in the event said notice be given or in the event of failure to give said notice, an owner who has made a bona fide sale or transfer of such motor vehicle and delivered possession thereof to a purchaser and who has made proper endorsement and delivery of the certificate of ownership as provided in this act, shall not by reason of any of the provisions of this act be deemed the owner of such motor vehicle so as to be subject to liability under the provisions of section 1714 $\frac{1}{2}$ of the Civil Code of this state. Report of transfers and liability of owners

SEC. 13. Section 47 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929,
p. 509

Sec. 47. Nonresident permits. (a) A nonresident owner, except as otherwise provided in this section, owning any foreign vehicle which has been duly registered for the current calendar year in the state, country or other place of which the owner is a resident, and which at all times when operated in this state has displayed upon it the number plate or plates issued for such vehicle in the place of residence of such owner, may operate or permit the operation of such vehicle within this state, or into or through this state in interstate transportation, without registering such vehicle under the provisions of section 36 of this act or paying any fees to this state, provided such nonresident shall comply with the provisions of subdivision (b) of this section as the same may be applicable to such nonresident.
