Said petition shall generally describe the lands, tidelands and submerged lands and coastal waters intended to be used for the proposed recreational harbor

Filing of petition

SEC. 3. Each signer of the petition shall be a registered, qualified elector, within the proposed harbor district.

Such examination shall be made from the records of registration and the certificate of the county registrar of voters or of the county clerk, as the case may be, shall be final as to the qualifications of such signers.

The board of supervisors shall receive said certificate and if same shows that the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, registered within the proposed harbor district, the said board of supervisors shall have authority to proceed as is hereinafter provided.

SEC. 7. In any case where all of the lands intended to be included within the proposed harbor district as described in the petition are included within the territory of one or more municipalities, and no part of same includes unincorporated territory, then the petition, instead of being filed with the county clerk and ex officio clerk of the board of supervisors of the county, may be filed with the clerk of the city of one of the cities whose territory is included within such proposed harbor district, and the legislative body of such city in which said petition shall be filed shall have the same powers and issue the same notices and be authorized hereunder to the same extent and in the same manner as is provided for boards of supervisors.

involved

SEC. 8. This act shall not operate to divest in any manner or to any extent any existing harbor board or governing body of any existing harbor district of any authority or jurisdiction to act in relation to the harbors and properties now under the control or management of such harbor board or harbor authority without the consent of such board or other authority. However, in any case where the control or management of any portion of the shore line or tidelands, or submerged lands, have been granted to any municipality by the state, then it shall be deemed within the power of such city under said legislative grant to permit a county or any other city within the proposed harbor district to assume jurisdiction hereunder to create, improve, develop, operate and govern a harbor, including some or all of said shore line or tidelands, or submerged lands, under the provisions of this act, and the act of said city or cities in so acquiescing and permitting such control to be vested in the board of supervisors, or some other municipality, is hereby approved and the right so to do granted.

Control and management of lands

In any case where, under freeholders' charter, any city whose territory or a portion thereof is included within the proposed harbor district, and the management of whose harbor matters or affairs relating to the shore line or tidelands or submerged lands forming a part of the exterior boundary line of such city is vested in a board of harbor commissioners or other governing body, then such city and such governing body is hereby authorized to permit the board of supervisors or legislative body of another city to do the things herein provided relative to the formation of harbor districts, and by so doing the control, after the creation of such harbor district, shall vest in the governing body of such harbor district rather than in the governing body of the charter city relinquishing its powers to administer such harbor and such harbor district.

Requisites for hearing by supervisors, etc

SEC. 9. Before the board of supervisors of the county of the legislative body of any city within the proposed harbor district may conduct the hearing of any petition filed under this act, there must be on file in the office of the clerk of such county or clerk of said city, a resolution of the legislative body of the city or cities whose territory, or a portion thereof, is included within the proposed harbor district, reciting that a copy of the petition, identifying same, has been filed in its or their legislative records, that it has been considered and that said legislative body requests the board of supervisors or legislative body of such other municipality to act upon said petition and consenting to the jurisdiction of said board, or legislative body of another city, so to act in behalf of the city represented by said legislative body.

Application for report of division of state lands

The chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state is hereby authorized and instructed, upon application by the board of supervisors of the county within which such proposed harbor district is situate, or upon application of the legislative body of any city assuming jurisdiction to act hereunder to render a report, approving or disapproving the location of the proposed recreational harbor, and to determine whether the segregation of the tidelands and submerged lands and coastal waters thereby intended to be devoted to recreational use by the people, under the provisions of this act, will result in undue interference with commerce or commercial navigation or commercial fisheries.

Notice of filing
application

Upon the filing of said application for report in the office of the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state, he shall cause to be prepared and issued over his signature a notice which shall state the fact of the filing of the application, shall generally describe the tidelands, submerged lands and coastal waters to which same relate and the fact that it is intended to create or improve thereon and in connection therewith a recreational harbor within the meaning of this act and fixing a time and place for a public hearing thereon to aid the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state in making his recommendation upon the application so filed. Such notice shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state of the State of California and thereupon said secretary of state shall cause true copies of said notice to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation within the proposed harbor district and at least twenty full days prior to the date fixed for the public hearing which may be held in a public place either in the city of Sacramento or at some designated place within the proposed harbor district as fixed by the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state.

Hearing by division of state land

Said hearing shall be noticed by the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state to be held not sooner than thirty days after receipt of the application for hearing by him nor later than sixty days thereafter. Accompanying said application shall be the sum of one hundred dollars which may be paid out of the general fund of the county or city making such application, or which may be contributed by any person. The payment of said sum shall be a prerequisite to the filing of such application and same shall be received by the State of California for the purpose of defraying the costs of publishing the aforesaid notice and of conducting said hearing for which purpose the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state and secretary of state may respectively requisition such fund and authorize the expenditure thereof.

At the time and place specified in the said notice, the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state shall be present and hear all protests which may be made against a favorable report by him upon the application. At such hearing, the public, including shippers, commercial fishermen and littoral and other property owners shall be heard. Said hearing may be continued from day to day until all protestants who before the date of the hearing have filed protests in writing in the office of the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state, have had an opportunity to be heard. Protests

If, after said hearing, the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state shall, in the exercise of his discretion, find that the application should be granted and that the segregation of the described tidelands, submerged lands and coastal waters for recreational purposes so defined by this act, will not unduly interfere with commerce or commercial navigation or commercial fisheries and that the exclusion of commerce, commercial navigation and commercial fisheries from said lands and water will best serve the needs and conveniences of the people of the state to accommodate their recreational use of such lands and waters, he shall promptly submit such report and finding to the director of finance for approval and transmittal to the governor of the State of California. If the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state report upon such application be unfavorable, he shall submit the report to the director of finance and should the director of finance approve said report the same shall be promptly filed in the office of the secretary of state of the State of California. Submission of report to director of finance and governor

Upon the receipt by him of a favorable approved report from the director of finance the governor of the State of California shall promptly consider same and either approve or disapprove the application and report, and such action witnessed over his signature in a certificate along with the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state report, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state of the State of California. Filing of report with secretary of state

The secretary of state shall thereupon transmit a certified copy of said report and governor's certificate approving or disapproving same to the clerk of the board of supervisors or clerk of the city which originally filed the application.

Approval by governor

If the governor shall have approved the report of chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state recommending the granting of the application, thereafter, subject to the completion of proceedings under the act to form a recreational harbor district, the tidelands, submerged lands, coastal waters and harbor areas in said application described shall be deemed impressed, by due process of law, with the consent of the state, with a recreational character, as herein defined.

Purpose of procedure

The foregoing procedure is hereby prescribed for the purpose of providing for the people of the state, tidelands, submerged lands, coastal waters and portions of the coast which may be set aside under the provisions of this act, for their recreational use, free from the dangers and inconveniences incident to harbors used for commercial navigation and commercial fisheries.

The present and rapidly increasing population of the state and particularly that portion thereof upon the coastal plains makes it necessary for the state to provide, as is here done, for the preservation and conservation of the right of the people to safely and conveniently resort to the coast and coastal waters for recreation.

The board of supervisors shall not act to fix a time and place for hearing the petitioner until resolutions, and the certified copies of the report and finding of the chief of the division of state lands in the department of finance of the state and the certificate of the governor, as provided above, are filed in the office of the county clerk and ex officio clerk of the board.

Investigation by board of supervisors

SEC. 10. The board of supervisors shall also investigate and determine whether or not the improvement or development work generally described in the petition is feasible and when completed will result in the improvement or development of the harbor and whether the estimated cost thereof and the incidental expenses in connection therewith is the reasonable and necessary cost of such improvement or development work and incidental expenses, and for the purpose of such investigation and determination may submit the project for the improvement and development work described in the petition to engineers for examination and report, and to defray the cost of such reports and examinations out of the general fund of the county.

If it shall appear and the board of supervisors find that it is necessary in order to make sufficient and adequate examination upon which to determine such questions, to continue the hearing beyond ninety days, the board of supervisors shall have power for the purposes of such investigation to continue the hearing for such a period of time as the board of supervisors may see fit, not longer, however, than six months from the date of the presentation of the petition. The board of supervisors shall not be bound by the improvement or development work described in the petition, or by the estimated cost thereof set forth, but may find that other or different improvement or development work should be done, and may determine a different estimated cost thereof.

SEC. 11. for the creation, improvement, government or operation of the harbor, and the determination by resolution of the board of governors that the lands described therein are necessary or proper for the creation, improvement, government or operation of said harbor shall be conclusive. The board of governors may acquire said lands so provided to be acquired by said resolution by agreement with the owner or owners thereof, which said agreement before the same shall be effective, shall be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county within which the harbor district is located, and in the application for the approval of any such agreement or agreements, the board of governors shall present to said court the appraisal of the lands so to be acquired by said agreement or agreements, and said appraisal shall be made by any three competent and responsible appraisers of real property within the county, and said court may, before approving or disapproving the said agreement or agreements, call in another or other appraisers of its own choosing. In the event that the board of governors and the owner or owners of the property intended to be acquired can not agree upon the price or terms upon which said lands so required shall be purchased by the harbor district, or in the event that the superior court will not approve any agreement or agreements between said board and the owner or owners of said property, then and in that event, the board of governors shall institute an action in the superior court of the State of California, in and for the county in which said harbor district is situated, in the name of the harbor district as party plaintiff, naming as defendants the owners of and all persons interested in the lands sought to be acquired. Said action shall recite the passage of the resolution under which said board proceeded to acquire said lands and shall allege the fact that the acquisition of said lands is necessary or proper for the creation, improvement, government, operation or enjoyment of the harbor; and in this particular, it is herein provided that as to recreational harbors, land for bathing and park use in or near any portion of the shore of the Pacific ocean or any bay or estuary thereof, or which may be deemed necessary to gain access thereto, may be acquired for the recreation of the public, and that such park purpose is a proper purpose under this act.

Acquisition of land by court action

Said complaint shall request that the court fix the amount required to be paid to the owners of said land therefor and for any damages incurred by such others on account of the said taking, and at any time within six months after the judgment or verdict rendered in said case or within six months from the date of the final judgment, if an appeal has been taken therefrom, the board of governors of the district may pay to such owner or owners or deposit in court for their account the amount fixed by said judgment and required to be paid for said lands with interest thereon from date of judgment at the rate of seven per cent per annum and thereafter same shall be the property of the harbor district. However, should the board of governors deem it necessary or advisable to obtain immediate possession of the lands sought to be taken under said proceedings, then upon the filing of the complaint, as hereinbefore provided (which said complaint shall recite such necessity for immediately taking possession of said lands), the court shall appoint three competent responsible appraisers of real property within the county who shall appraise the lands sought to be taken and, in addition thereto, consider and fix the damages which the owner of said land is likely to incur on account of such taking, and they shall make their report to the superior court of the county. The superior court shall thereupon determine tentatively and for the purpose of fixing the sureties to be given, the value of the lands sought to be taken, and, in addition thereto, the damages which the owner thereof will be likely to suffer on account of such taking and the board of governors may thereupon deposit in the office of the clerk of the court a sum equal to the said value and damages as so fixed by the court, and upon payment of said money into court the board of governors may thereupon take possession of the lands described in the complaint.

Payment of value and damages

The preliminary fixing of values and damages as hereinbefore provided, prior to the trial of the issues, shall not be conclusive upon the owner of the lands taken when the cause is tried to determine the value of the lands taken and damages, if any, suffered by the owner on account of such taking, and such owner may require that the judge presiding at said trial shall not be the same judge who fixed the value and damages tentatively in the preliminary proceeding.

For the purpose of this section, the board of governors is authorized to draw a requisition upon the harbor district funds in the county treasury for the purpose of making the deposits required to be made hereunder in order to obtain possession of land sought to be taken in advance of a determination as the result of the trial of the question of such value or damages. At any time after the moneys have been deposited in court, as provided herein, in advance of a trial, the owner of the lands possession of which is immediately sought, may accept the moneys so deposited in court by the harbor district in full satisfaction of all claims for the value of said lands and damages suffered by such owner on account of the taking thereof, and thereupon the proceeding to acquire said lands by court action shall be determined and the rights of the parties fixed and foreclosed.

Among other things, the complaint shall state the effect of the resolution ordering the acquisition but need not set up any other proceedings had or taken before the bringing of the action. Said resolution shall be conclusive evidence, in such action, of the public necessity of the proposed acquisition and the improvement thereby effected, and that the property sought to be condemned is necessary therefor, and also that the same is located in the manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury; and, in the event that immediate possession of any lands sought to be taken is stated in the resolution of the board of governors ordering the acquisition to be necessary, then such statement of necessity shall be likewise conclusive.

Elections to determine incurring of additional indebtedness

SEC. 39. The board of governors may from time to time determine that additional funds should be provided by the issuance of bonds for extensions or additions or improvements to the harbor or works created hereunder, and in that event, may call elections within the harbor district for the purpose of deciding whether or not such additional expenses should be incurred and bonds voted to pay therefor. The resolution calling for such election shall recite the purposes for which said moneys are intended to be used, generally describing the work to be done, the property to be acquired and the probable cost thereof. Bonds shall provide for their retirement within a period of forty years from date and shall bear interest at a rate not in excess of six per cent per annum, said interest to be payable semiannually. The bonds shall be payable in the same manner as is provided for the payment of the bonds to be originally issued hereunder. A call for said election within said district shall be published at least once for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation within the harbor district and no further or other notice of said election shall be given, nor need any sample ballot be mailed to any of the electors within said district.

Election shall be held at a time not sooner than thirty days after the last publication of the election notice and the form of the ballot shall be substantially the same form as is provided to be used hereunder for the original election on bond issue within said district. When and if bonds are voted and authorized by the electors within the district, same shall be a charge against the land in said harbor district and not a charge against any of the improvements therein and shall be paid in the same proportions as fixed by the assessment zones theretofore filed in accordance with the provisions of this act and relating to the original bond issue. The vote at said bond election shall be canvassed as is provided for in such original election to be held hereunder, and if a majority of the electors voting thereat vote in favor of said bonds, same shall be considered approved and authorized, and in that event, the board of governors shall issue the said additional bonds and same shall be signed by the chairman of the board of governors, attested by the clerk, and the coupons attached to said bonds shall be signed by the treasurer of the county within which said harbor district is situated.

Aid from federal government, state, etc

SEC. 40. The board of governors is hereby authorized to accept aid from the government of the United States of America and from the State of California and from any political subdivision thereof and from any person or persons; and in this particular, any county, within which a harbor district formed hereunder is situated and any city comprising any portion of such harbor district may, out of its general fund, provide such sum or sums as in the opinion of the legislative body of said county or city may be required, necessary or expedient to be so provided in aid of said harbor or its extension or maintenance.

SEC. 41. The board of governors may use any lands acquired or owned by the harbor district for road or highway purposes, and if, in the opinion of said board, it shall be necessary or expedient to deed any of the lands owned by the harbor district for said road or highway purposes, then in that event, upon resolution of said board, said deed may be authorized to be given to the political subdivision entitled thereto and the chairman of the board of harbor governors and the clerk of said board shall be thereby authorized to execute such deed and deliver the same to the proper authority representing the grantee therein named.

SEC. 42. The board of governors shall have such other and further powers as may be necessary for the proper execution of its duties as the constructing, operating and regulating authority of said harbor and the works and lands adjacent and appurtenant thereto.

SEC. 43. All bonds issued under this act shall be the obligation of the harbor district and so long as any of said bonds shall be outstanding and unpaid, the board of supervisors of the county shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy and in the manner for such general tax levy, provide, levy and collect annually until said bonds are paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of the county set aside for that purpose to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on said bonds, a special assessment tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due at the time for fixing the next general tax levy. The tax herein required to be levied shall be levied upon all of the lands within the harbor district and therein taxable for county purposes excepting personal property and improvements upon said lands, and said taxes shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other county taxes are collected, and be used for no other purpose than the payment of said bonds and accruing interest.

The board of supervisors shall, at the same time and in the same manner, have power to levy upon the lands in the harbor district a tax sufficient to pay the ordinary annual expenses of the harbor district. The taxes so levied to meet the charge of said bonds and expenses, as herein provided, shall be levied upon the lands within the respective zones of the harbor district, as a special assessment tax charge each year in accordance with the resolution and assessment map on file in the office of the county auditor. Such levy as to each zone within the harbor district shall be based upon the assessed valuation placed upon the parcels of land within each zone by the county assessor of the county within which said harbor district is situate and a sum sufficient to meet the proportional annual charge upon said zone.

The legality of investments heretofore lawfully made pursuant to the provisions of this section, or of any law of this state as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by any amendments to this section or this act; nor shall any such amendments require the changing of investments once lawfully made under this act.

Any bonds authorized by this section as a legal investment for savings banks may be carried on the books of said bank at their investment value, based on their market value at the time they were originally bought, unless the superintendent of banks shall require any or all of the bonds which may thereafter have a market value less than the original investment value to be written down to such new market value which shall be done gradually if practicable and in such manner as he may determine or he may, by a plan of amortization to be determined by him, require such gradual extinction of premium as will bring such bonds to par at maturity.

Book value of bonds

When it shall be necessary to prevent loss to any savings bank on an obligation owned or on a debt previously contracted in good faith, it may, with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, purchase or acquire bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of California and operated exclusively therein notwithstanding such bonds do not conform to the requirements in this section contained; provided, any bond so purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by any bank within five years after such purchase or acquisition.

An act authorizing the establishment, maintenance, and operation of recreation districts.

[Approved by the Governor, June 19, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Public recreation districts

SECTION 1. Whenever a board of county supervisors shall receive a petition signed by at least fifteen per cent of the electors enumerated upon the great register as residing within the district in such county, definitely described in such petition, requesting that the said district be organized as a public recreation district as hereinafter referred to, the board shall fix a time and place, for hearing the same and protests of interested parties not less than twenty-five nor more than thirty days after the date of presentation of the petition. Notice of the filing and hearing of such petition shall be posted in three of the most public places in the district. Such notice shall state the fact and date of the filing of such petition, the time and place for hearing the petition and protests of interested parties, specifying the boundaries of the proposed district and referring to said petition for further particulars. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall also cause a notice similar in substance to be published at least once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the proposed district, or if there is no such newspaper within the boundaries of the proposed district, in a newspaper within the county in which the proposed district is located and designated by said board for that purpose. Said notice must be posted and the second of said publications must be made at least seven days before the date set for the hearing of said petition.

SEC. 2. Any person interested, objecting to the formation of the district, to the boundaries thereof, or to the inclusion of his property in said district may file a written protest setting forth such objections with the clerk of said board at or before the time set for the hearing of said petition. Said board shall hear said petition and protests at the time appointed or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned and pass upon the same. The board shall have power to make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it shall find to be proper and advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries. The board shall not extend the boundaries of said district nor modify such boundaries so as to exclude from the proposed district any territory which will be benefited by the projects proposed by the district, nor shall any territory which will not be benefited by said projects be included within the proposed district. At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none be filed, or if protests be filed, and after hearing, such protests are denied or the boundaries of the proposed district are defined and established with modifications as above provided then said board shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to further proceed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. After making and entering an order defining and establishing the boundaries of the proposed district, the board of supervisors shall forthwith call and give notice of an election to be held in the proposed district to determine whether or not the proposed district shall be organized. Notice of the election shall be given in the same manner as notice of the hearing upon the petition and protests against the same as hereinbefore provided. Only those persons owning land in the district shall be entitled to vote at said election and each owner of land in said proposed district shall be entitled to cast one vote for each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation of land owned by said voter in said district. If, upon such election, it appears that a majority of the votes cast in such district favor the establishment of such recreation district, such district shall be created under the provisions of this act.

Trustees SEC. 4. Such public recreation district shall be managed by five trustees, appointed by the board of supervisors from the voters residing in said district. The trustees shall hold office for four years, and their successors shall be appointed in the same manner as other appointments are made by said board.

Swimming pool SEC. 5. Said trustees may erect one or more dams across a stream or river for the purpose of constructing a swimming pool in the district, and shall make proper rules and regulations for the management of the district under their control.

Taxes SEC. 6. The said trustees shall, on or before the tenth day of July of each year, certify to the county board of supervisors in a written statement, the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation for maintaining the swimming pool or swimming pools of the district. The board of supervisors shall keep said statement available to inspection by the public up to and including the first day of August of each year. Unless objection be made to the board of supervisors to said statement by one per cent or more of the registered voters in the district and not less than ten voters in any event on or before the first day of August of any year, the statement shall become final. If such objection is made, however, the board of supervisors shall call a public meeting at some place within the district.

Notice Notice of said meeting shall be given by mail to each of the protestants and shall also be posted in three public places within the district. Such meeting shall be held at least ten days before the time set for the levy of county taxes. Any person objecting to the statement may appear at said meeting and present his objections. The board of supervisors shall hear the protests and objections to the statement and may revise the statement in whole or in part. At said meeting the board shall settle the statement and determine the amount of money to be raised for the district but the revision of said statement shall not be such as to increase the total amount thereof. Upon the settlement of the statement, the supervisors shall thereupon include in the annual taxes levied a tax upon all the property within such recreation district sufficient to raise the amount demanded by the trustees or settled by the board of supervisors.

Disposition of money's SEC. 7. The tax so collected, together with all other moneys received by the trustees, shall be paid into the county treasury, and constitute a separate fund to be expended solely for the purposes of the district upon warrants signed by not less than three of the trustees.

Annual report of trustees SEC. 8. The trustees shall, as soon after the first day of July in each year as is practicable, file with the board of supervisors a report, setting forth all their doings during the preceding year, and containing an itemized account of all their receipts and disbursements up to and including the thirtieth day of June, together with proper vouchers therefor.

Footings. Footings for any mausoleum, or columbarium hereafter erected shall be of concrete, reinforced with steel as required structurally, and shall comply with all other provisions of this act.

Loads.

Loads. All live and dead loads shall be carried by the walls or columns direct to the footings.

The total load on footings shall not exceed the safe soil bearing as determined by test.

Footings shall be designed for total loads, but relative sizes of footings shall be governed by the dead loads only, with a proper reduction of the allowable soil bearing value.

Crypts shall be designed for a total load of six hundred (600) pounds each, and such load shall be considered as live load, in connection with the preceding paragraph.

Possible earthquake stresses shall be considered in all structural design.

Walls

Walls. Any mausoleum or columbarium load-carrying walls hereafter erected shall be constructed with only the following materials, singly or in combination: Concrete, cut stone, cast stone, granite or marble, all reinforced, anchored, and supported, as hereinafter provided under the various specific headings, in such a manner as to insure an enduring and lasting structure. In any new building, or in any alteration or addition to any existing building for use for the permanent interment of the remains of deceased persons constructed subsequent to the passage of this act, all bearing walls shall be of granite, marble or reinforced concrete. If such building exceeds twenty-five feet in height, bearing walls shall be of reinforced concrete. Where any wall is constructed against a bank of earth or rock or other porous material the exterior face of such wall above the footing shall be thoroughly and efficiently waterproofed before backfilling is done.

materials above specified. All cast clips shall be countersunk into the joint surface and set in plaster.

Settings Marble floor work shall be set in a full bed of non-staining cement mortar, the proportion of cement to sand to be one to two and tamped to a uniform bearing true to line. All stone of any description shall be set on an even bed of mortar except lug sills and similar work exposed to uneven pressure which shall be bedded only at the ends. Mortar joints shall be of uniform thickness not to exceed three-sixteenths ($\frac{3}{16}$) of an inch and must be raked out to a depth of three-quarters ($\frac{3}{4}$) inch as the work progresses.

Pointing. On completion of granite, cut stone or cast stone work all joints shall be brushed, cleaned thoroughly, wet and carefully filled with mortar, solidly packed in and pointed. Mortar for pointing shall be composed of one part lime putty, two parts white Monterey sand, or its equivalent, and two parts of nonstaining Portland cement.

Mortar. The mortar for setting all stone work shall be composed of not less than one part nonstaining Portland cement, to three parts of clean, white, coarse sand, tempered with lime putty.

All veneering work shall be bonded or tied to the structural steelwork and masonry as follows: Corners, belt courses, copings, pilasters, bases, caps, sills, architraves, and other ornamental and special work which may have projecting members shall have sufficient bearing on the walls to balance independent of anchors. Sills shall extend not less than three (3) inches back of the window sill proper and shall have a fillet to receive the sills. All veneering shall be anchored by placing one-quarter inch diameter anchors at the top of each stone and these anchors must set into seats in the stone not less than one (1) inch in depth and must extend into the concrete work not less than six (6) inches, and the face of the concrete must not be less than three (3) inches back of the stone unless dowel type of anchors are used. All dowel anchor slots shall be made of twenty-two gauge copper-bearing galvanized iron. There shall be two anchors for each stone one foot six inches or over in length and one anchor for smaller stones and anchors shall be placed not over one foot from the ends of the stone. All anchors shall be dipped in hot asphaltum.

Buildings to be of class "A" construction. Any mausoleum or columbarium hereafter constructed shall be of class "A" fireproof construction. All footings, bearing walls, beams, columns, floor slabs and other structural members shall be designed and constructed with a safety factor of four. All floors shall be designed for live load of not less than one hundred (100) pounds per square foot.

Ordinances governing construction

Ordinances governing construction. Unless otherwise specifically provided for in this act, all details of construction such as structural strength, fireproofing, ventilation of rooms and hallways, plumbing, lighting, and all other details commonly specified under class "A" construction, shall be in accordance with the ordinances and specifications governing class "A" construction in the cities of San Francisco or Los Angeles, and shall be directly in accordance with such ordinances and specifications of that city above named which is the lesser distance from the site of the mausoleum or columbarium, to be constructed; provided, however, that if the proposed site is within the jurisdiction of an incorporated municipality having ordinances and specifications governing class "A" construction, that the provisions of the local ordinances and specifications shall not be violated.

Class "A"
defined.

Class "A" construction defined. Class "A" designated as "fireproof" or "skeleton" construction shall include every building wherein all external or internal loads or strains are transferred to the foundations by means of a reinforced concrete carrying frame or by means of a skeleton or framework of steel, the columns, beams and girders of which are riveted to each other at their respective juncture points. Provided, however, that buildings not exceeding twenty-five (25) feet in height and constructed of granite or marble shall be considered as of class "A" construction when they fulfill all other provisions of this act.

Fireproofing

Fireproofing. Every building, vault or structure for use for the permanent interment of the remains of deceased persons shall be constructed throughout of noninflammable material, and all steel work shall be covered with not less than two (2) inches of concrete; provided, however, that steel framework for elevators, windows, doors, skylights and other similar openings need not be encased in concrete, but shall be treated with an efficient preservative.

Roofs.

Roofs. The roof of every building coming under this act shall be constructed of reinforced concrete, granite, tile or marble. The upper surface of all reinforced concrete roofs shall be covered with asphaltum, or other fire resisting material.

with steel; crypt floor slabs must not be less than three (3) inches and shall be reinforced with steel to conform to slab specifications of class "A" construction. (In no case shall the concrete walls of a crypt or niche be so constructed as to be subject to any of the load strains of the building structure, except where crypt or niche walls intersect or are a part of structural walls.) In mausoleums where air ventilation is used and crypts are situated adjacent to an outside building wall below ground level an air space not less than eighteen inches wide shall be provided between such outside wall and the crypt walls and such air space shall be supplied with ventilation and shall have one or more doorways not less than fifteen (15) inches wide by five (5) feet high.

ARTICLE I.

FORMATION OF THE CONTRACT.

Section 1721. Contracts to sell and sales.

Section 1722. Capacity; liabilities for necessaries.

1721. (1) A contract to sell goods is a contract whereby the seller agrees to transfer the property in goods to the buyer for a consideration called the price. Contracts to sell and sales.

(2) A sale of goods is an agreement whereby the seller transfers the property in goods to the buyer for a consideration called the price.

(3) A contract to sell or a sale may be absolute or conditional.

(4) There may be a contract to sell or a sale between one part owner and another.

1722. Capacity to buy and sell is regulated by the general law concerning capacity to contract, and to transfer and acquire property. Capacity liabilities for necessaries

Where necessaries are sold and delivered to an infant, or to a person who by reason of mental incapacity or drunkenness is incompetent to contract, he must pay a reasonable price therefor.

Necessaries in this section mean goods suitable to the condition in life of such infant or other person, and to his actual requirements at the time of delivery.

ARTICLE II.

FORMALITIES OF THE CONTRACT.

Section 1723. Form of contract for sale.

Section 1724. Statute of frauds.

1723. Subject to the provisions of this act and of any statute in that behalf, a contract to sell or a sale may be made in writing (either with or without seal), or by word of mouth, or partly in writing and partly by word of mouth, or may be inferred from the conduct of the parties. Form of contract for sale

1724. (1) A contract to sell or a sale of any goods or choses in action of the value of five hundred dollars or upwards shall not be enforceable by action unless the buyer shall accept part of the goods or choses in action so contracted to be sold, or sold and actually receive the same, or give something in earnest to bind the contract, or in part payment, or unless some note or memorandum in writing of the contract or sale be signed by the party to be charged or his agent in that behalf. Statute of frauds

(2) The provisions of this section apply to every such contract or sale, notwithstanding that the goods may be intended to be delivered at some future time or may not at the time of such contract or sale be actually made, procured, or provided, or fit or ready for delivery, or some act may be requisite for the making or completing thereof, or rendering the same fit for delivery; but if the goods are to be manufactured by the seller especially for the buyer and are not suitable for sale to others in the ordinary course of the seller's business, the provisions of this section shall not apply.

(3) There is an acceptance of goods within the meaning of this section when the buyer, either before or after delivery of the goods, expresses by words or conduct his assent to becoming the owner of those specific goods.

ARTICLE III.

SUBJECT MATTER OF CONTRACT.

Section 1725. Existing and future goods.

Section 1726. Undivided shares.

Section 1727. Destruction of goods sold.

Section 1728. Destruction of goods contracted to be sold.

Existing and future goods

1725. (1) The goods which form the subject of a contract to sell may be either existing goods, owned or possessed by the seller, or goods to be manufactured or acquired by the seller after the making of the contract to sell, in this act called "future goods."

(2) There may be a contract to sell goods, the acquisition of which by the seller depends upon a contingency which may or may not happen.

(3) Where the parties purport to effect a present sale of future goods, the agreement operates as a contract to sell the goods and as soon as the seller acquires the goods the property therein shall pass to the buyer without further act if the parties so intend unless the agreement otherwise provides.

Undivided shares

1726. (1) There may be a contract to sell or a sale of an undivided share of goods. If the parties intend to effect a present sale, the buyer, by force of the agreement, becomes an owner in common with the owner or owners of the remaining shares

(2) In the case of fungible goods, there may be a sale of an undivided share of a specific mass, though the seller purports to sell and the buyer to buy a definite number, weight or measure of the goods in the mass, and though the number, weight or measure of the goods in the mass is undetermined. By such a sale the buyer becomes owner in common of such a share of the mass as the number, weight or measure bought bears to the number, weight or measure of the mass. If the mass contains less than the number, weight or measure bought, the buyer becomes the owner of the whole mass and the seller is bound to make good the deficiency from similar goods unless a contrary intent appears.

1727. (1) Where the parties purport to sell specific goods, and the goods without the knowledge of the seller have wholly perished at the time when the agreement is made, the agreement is void. Destruction of goods sold

(2) Where the parties purport to sell specific goods, and the goods without the knowledge of the seller have perished in part or have wholly or in a material part so deteriorated in quality as to be substantially changed in character, the buyer may at his option treat the sale:

(a) As avoided, or

(b) As transferring the property in all of the existing goods or in so much thereof as have not deteriorated, and as binding the buyer to pay the full agreed price if the sale was indivisible, or to pay the agreed price for the goods in which the property passes if the sale was divisible.

1728. (1) Where there is a contract to sell specific goods, and subsequently, but before the risk passes to the buyer, without any fault on the part of the seller or the buyer, the goods wholly perish, the contract is thereby avoided. Destruction of goods contracted to be sold

(2) Where there is a contract to sell specific goods, and subsequently, but before the risk passes to the buyer, without any fault of the seller or the buyer, part of the goods perish or the whole or a material part of the goods so deteriorate in quality as to be substantially changed in character, the buyer may at his option treat the contract:

(a) As avoided, or

(b) As binding the seller to transfer the property in all of the existing goods or in so much thereof as have not deteriorated, and as binding the buyer to pay the full agreed price if the contract was indivisible, or to pay the agreed price for so much of the goods as the seller, by the buyer's option, is bound to transfer if the contract was divisible.

ARTICLE IV.

THE PRICE.

Section 1729. Definition and ascertainment of price.

Section 1730. Sale at a valuation.

1729. (1) The price may be fixed by the contract, or may be left to be fixed in such manner as may be agreed, or it may be determined by the course of dealing between the parties. Definition and ascertainment of price.

(2) The price may be made payable in any personal property.

(3) Where transferring or promising to transfer any interest in real estate constitutes the whole or part of the consideration for transferring or for promising to transfer the property in goods, this act shall not apply.

(4) Where the price is not determined in accordance with the foregoing provisions the buyer must pay a reasonable price. What is a reasonable price is a question of fact dependent on the circumstances of each particular case.

Sale at a valuation

1730. (1) Where there is a contract to sell or a sale of goods at a price or on terms to be fixed by a third person, and such third person, without fault of the seller or the buyer, can not or does not fix the price or terms, the contract or the sale is thereby avoided; but if the goods or any part thereof have been delivered to and appropriated by the buyer he must pay a reasonable price therefor.

(2) Where such third person is prevented from fixing the price or terms by fault of the seller or the buyer, the party not in fault may have such remedies against the party in fault as are allowed by chapters IV and V of this act.

ARTICLE V.

CONDITIONS AND WARRANTIES.

Section 1731. Effect of conditions

Section 1732. Definition of expressed warranty.

Section 1733. Implied warranties of title

Section 1734. Implied warranty in sale by description.

Section 1735. Implied warranties of quality.

Effect of conditions

1731. (1) Where the obligation of either party to a contract to sell or a sale is subject to any condition which is not performed, such party may refuse to proceed with the contract or sale or he may waive performance of the condition. If the other party has promised that the condition should happen or be performed, such first mentioned party may also treat the nonperformance of the condition as a breach of warranty.

(2) Where the property in the goods has not passed, the buyer may treat the fulfillment by the seller of his obligations to furnish goods as described and as warranted expressly or by implication in the contract to sell as a condition of the obligation of the buyer to perform his promise to accept and pay for the goods.

Definition of expressed warranty

1732. Any affirmation of fact or any promise by the seller relating to the goods is an express warranty if the natural tendency of such affirmation or promise is to induce the buyer to purchase the goods, and if the buyer purchases the goods relying thereon. No affirmation of the value of the goods, nor any statement purporting to be a statement of the seller's opinion only shall be construed as a warranty.

Implied warranties
of title

1733. In a contract to sell or a sale unless a contrary intention appears, there is—

(1) An implied warranty on the part of the seller that in case of a sale he has a right to sell the goods, and that in case of a contract to sell he will have a right to sell the goods at the time when the property is to pass;

(2) An implied warranty that the buyer shall have and enjoy quiet possession of the goods as against any lawful claims existing at the time of the sale;

(3) An implied warranty that the goods shall be free at the time of the sale from any charge or incumbrance in favor of any third person, not declared or known to the buyer before or at the time when the contract or sale is made.

(4) This section shall not, however, be held to render liable a sheriff, auctioneer, mortgagee, or other person professing to sell by virtue of authority in fact or law, goods in which a third person has a legal or equitable interest.

1734. Where there is a contract to sell or a sale of goods by description, there is an implied warranty that the goods shall correspond with the description and if the contract or sale be by sample, as well as by description, it is not sufficient that the bulk of the goods corresponds with the sample if the goods do not also correspond with the description. Implied warranty in sale by description.

1735. Subject to the provisions of this act and of any statute in that behalf, there is no implied warranty or condition as to the quality or fitness for any particular purpose of goods supplied under a contract to sell or a sale, except as follows: Implied warranties of quality.

(1) Where the buyer, expressly or by implication, makes known to the seller the particular purpose for which the goods are required, and it appears that the buyer relies on the seller's skill or judgment (whether he be the grower or manufacturer or not), there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be reasonably fit for such purpose.

(2) Where the goods are bought by description from a seller who deals in goods of that description (whether he be the grower or manufacturer or not), there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be of merchantable quality.

(3) If the buyer has examined the goods, there is no implied warranty as regards defects which such examination ought to have revealed.

(4) In the case of a contract to sell or a sale of a specified article under its patent or other trade name, there is no implied warranty as to its fitness for any particular purpose.

(5) An implied warranty or condition as to the quality or fitness for a particular purpose may be annexed by the usage of trade.

(6) An express warranty or condition does not negative a warranty or condition implied under this act unless inconsistent therewith.

ARTICLE VI.

SALE BY SAMPLE.

Section 1736. Implied warranties in sale by sample.

1736. In the case of a contract to sell or a sale by sample: Implied warranties in sale by sample.

(a) There is an implied warranty that the bulk shall correspond with the sample in quality. Implied warranties in sale by sample.

(b) There is an implied warranty that the buyer shall have a reasonable opportunity of comparing the bulk with the sample, except so far as otherwise provided in section 1767 (3).

(c) If the seller is a dealer in goods of that kind, there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be free from any defect rendering them unmerchantable which would not be apparent on reasonable examination of the sample.

CHAPTER II.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY AND TITLE.

Article I. Transfer of property as between seller and buyer. Sections 1737-1742.

Article II Transfer of title.

ARTICLE I.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY AS BETWEEN SELLER AND BUYER.

Section 1737. No property passes until goods are ascertained.

Section 1738. Property in specific goods passes when parties so intend.

Section 1739. Rules for ascertaining intention.

Section 1740. Reservation of right of possession or property when goods are shipped.

Section 1741. Sale by auction

Section 1742. Risk of loss.

No property passes until goods ascertained

1737. Where there is a contract to sell unascertained goods no property in the goods is transferred to the buyer unless and until the goods are ascertained, but property in an undivided share of ascertained goods may be transferred as provided in section 1726.

When property passes

1738. (1) Where there is a contract to sell specific or ascertained goods, the property in them is transferred to the buyer at such time as the parties to the contract intend it to be transferred.

(2) For the purpose of ascertaining the intention of the parties, regard shall be had to the terms of the contract, the conduct of the parties, usages of trade and the circumstances of the case.

Rules for ascertaining intention

1739. Unless a different intention appears, the following are rules for ascertaining the intention of the parties as to the time at which the property in the goods is to pass to the buyer.

Rule 1

Rule 1. Where there is an unconditional contract to sell specific goods, in a deliverable state, the property in the goods passes to the buyer when the contract is made, and it is immaterial whether the time of payment, or the time of delivery, or both, be postponed.

Rule 2

Rule 2 Where there is a contract to sell specific goods and the seller is bound to do something to the goods, for the purpose of putting them into a deliverable state, the property does not pass until such thing be done.

Rule 3

Rule 3. (1) When goods are delivered to the buyer "on sale or return," or on other terms indicating an intention to make a present sale, but to give the buyer an option to return the goods instead of paying the price, the property passes to the buyer on delivery, but he may revest the property in the seller by returning or tendering the goods within the time fixed in the contract, or, if no time has been fixed, within a reasonable time.

(2) When goods are delivered to the buyer on approval or on trial or on satisfaction, or other similar terms, the property therein passes to the buyer—

(a) When he signifies his approval or acceptance to the seller or does any other act adopting the transaction;

(b) If he does not signify his approval or acceptance to the seller, but retains the goods without giving notice of rejection, then, if a time has been fixed for the return of the goods, on the expiration of such time, and, if no time has been fixed, on the expiration of a reasonable time. What is a reasonable time is a question of fact.

Rule 4. (1) Where there is a contract to sell unascertained or future goods by description, and goods of that description and in a deliverable state are unconditionally appropriated to the contract, either by the seller with the assent of the buyer, or by the buyer with the assent of the seller, the property in the goods thereupon passes to the buyer. Such assent may be expressed or implied and may be given either before or after the appropriation is made. Rule 4

(2) Where, in pursuance of a contract to sell, the seller delivers the goods to the buyer, or to a carrier or other bailee (whether named by the buyer or not) for the purpose of transmission to or holding for the buyer, he is presumed to have unconditionally appropriated the goods to the contract, except in the cases provided for in the next rule and in section 1740. This presumption is applicable, although by the terms of the contract the buyer is to pay the price before receiving delivery of the goods, and the goods are marked with the words “collect on delivery” or their equivalents.

Rule 5. If the contract to sell requires the seller to deliver the goods to the buyer, or at a particular place, or to pay the freight or cost of transportation to the buyer, or to a particular place, the property does not pass until the goods have been delivered to the buyer or reached the place agreed upon. Rule 5

1740. (1) Where there is a contract to sell specific goods, or where goods are subsequently appropriated to the contract, the seller may, by the terms of the contract or appropriation, reserve the right of possession or property in the goods until certain conditions have been fulfilled. The right of possession or property may be thus reserved notwithstanding the delivery of the goods to the buyer or to a carrier or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer. Reservation of right of possession or property when goods are shipped.

(2) Where goods are shipped, and by the bill of lading the goods are deliverable to the seller or his agent, or to the order of the seller or of his agent, the seller thereby reserves the property in the goods. But if, except for the form of the bill of lading, the property would have passed to the buyer on shipment of the goods, the seller's property in the goods shall be deemed to be only for the purpose of securing performance by the buyer of his obligations under the contract.

(3) Where goods are shipped, and by the bill of lading the goods are deliverable to the order of the buyer or of his agent, but possession of the bill of lading is retained by the seller or his agent, the seller thereby reserves a right to the possession of the goods as against the buyer.

(4) Where the seller of goods draws on the buyer for the price and transmits the bill of exchange and bill of lading together to the buyer to secure acceptance or payment of the bill of exchange, the buyer is bound to return the bill of lading if he does not honor the bill of exchange, and if he wrongfully retains the bill of lading he acquires no added right thereby. If, however, the bill of lading provides that the goods are deliverable to the buyer or to the order of the buyer, or is indorsed in blank, or to the buyer by the consignee named therein, one who purchases in good faith, for value, the bill of lading, or goods from the buyer will obtain the property in the goods, although the bill of exchange has not been honored, provided that such purchaser has received delivery of the bill of lading indorsed by the consignee named therein, or of the goods, without notice of the facts making the transfer wrongful.

auction

1741. In the case of a sale by auction :

(1) Where goods are put up for sale by auction in lots, each lot is the subject of a separate contract of sale

(2) A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer announces its completion by the fall of the hammer, or in other customary manner. Until such announcement is made, any bidder may retract his bid ; and the auctioneer may withdraw the goods from sale unless the auction has been announced to be without reserve.

(3) A right to bid may be reserved expressly by or on behalf of the seller.

(4) Where notice has not been given that a sale by auction is subject to a right to bid on behalf of the seller, it shall not be lawful for the seller to bid himself or to employ or induce any person to bid at such sale on his behalf, or for the auctioneer to employ or induce any person to bid at such sale on behalf of the seller or knowingly to take any bid from the seller or any person employed by him. Any sale contravening this rule may be treated as fraudulent by the buyer.

Risk of loss.

1742. Unless otherwise agreed, the goods remain at the seller's risk until the property therein is transferred to the buyer, but when the property therein is transferred to the buyer the goods are at the buyer's risk whether delivery has been made or not, except that :

(a) Where delivery of the goods has been made to the buyer, or to a bailee for the buyer, in pursuance of the contract and the property in the goods has been retained by the seller merely to secure performance by the buyer of his obligations under the contract, the goods are at the buyer's risk from the time of such delivery.

(b) Where delivery has been delayed through the fault of either the buyer or seller the goods are at the risk of the party in fault as regards any loss which might not have occurred but for such fault.

ARTICLE II.

TRANSFER OF TITLE.

- Section 1743. Sale by a person not the owner.
 Section 1744. Sale by one having a voidable title.
 Section 1745. Sale by seller in possession of goods already sold.
 Section 1746. Creditors' rights against sold goods in seller's possession Section 1747. Definition of negotiable documents of title.
 Section 1748. Negotiation of negotiable documents by delivery.
 Section 1749. Negotiation of negotiable documents by indorsement.
 Section 1750. Negotiable documents of title marked "not negotiable."
 Section 1751. Transfer of nonnegotiable documents.
 Section 1752. Who may negotiate a document.
 Section 1753. Rights of person to whom document has been negotiated.
 Section 1754. Rights of person to whom document has been transferred.
 Section 1755. Transfer of negotiable document without indorsement.
 Section 1756. Warranties on sale of document.
 Section 1757. Indorser not a guarantor.
 Section 1758. When negotiation not impaired by fraud, mistake or duress.
 Section 1759. Attachment or levy upon goods for which a negotiable document has been issued.
 Section 1760. Creditors' remedies to reach negotiable documents.

1743. (1) Subject to the provisions of this act, where goods are sold by a person who is not the owner thereof, and who does not sell them under the authority or with the consent of the owner, the buyer acquires no better title to the goods than the seller had, unless the owner of the goods is by his conduct precluded from denying the seller's authority to sell.

Sale by a person not the owner.

(2) Nothing in this act, however, shall affect:

(a) The provisions of any factors' acts, recording acts, or any enactment enabling the apparent owner of goods to dispose of them as if he were the true owner thereof.

(b) The validity of any contract to sell or sale under any special common law or statutory power of sale or under the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

1744. Where the seller of goods has a voidable title thereto, but his title has not been avoided at the time of the sale, the buyer acquires a good title to the goods, provided he buys them in good faith, for value, and without notice of the seller's defect of title.

Sale by one having a voidable title.

1745. Where a person having sold goods continues in possession of the goods, or of negotiable documents of title to the goods, the delivery or transfer by that person, or by an agent acting for him, of the goods or documents of title under any sale, pledge, or other disposition thereof, to any person receiving and paying value for the same in good faith and without notice of the previous sale, shall have the same effect as if the person making the delivery or transfer were expressly authorized by the owner of the goods to make the same

Sale by seller in possession of goods already sold

Creditor's rights against sold goods in seller's possession

1746. Where a person having sold goods continues in possession of the goods, or of negotiable documents of title to the goods, and such retention of possession is fraudulent in fact or is deemed fraudulent under any rule of law, a creditor or creditors of the seller may treat the sale as void.

Definition of negotiable documents
of title

1747. A document of title in which it is stated that the goods referred to therein will be delivered to the bearer, or to the order of any person named in such document is a negotiable document of title.

Negotiation
of negotiable
documents
by delivery

1748. A negotiable document of title may be negotiated by delivery:

(a) Where by the terms of the document the carrier, warehouseman or other bailee issuing the same undertakes to deliver the goods to the bearer, or

(b) Where by the terms of the document the carrier, warehouseman or other bailee issuing the same undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the document has indorsed it in blank or to the bearer.

Where by the terms of a negotiable document of title the goods are deliverable to bearer or where a negotiable document of title has been indorsed in blank or to bearer, any holder may indorse the same to himself or to any other specified person, and in such case the document shall thereafter be negotiated only by the indorsement of such indorsee.

Negotiation
of negotiable
documents
by indorsement

1749. A negotiable document of title may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are by the terms of the document deliverable. Such indorsement may be in blank, to bearer or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be again negotiated by the indorsement of such person in blank, to bearer or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiations may be made in like manner.

Negotiable
documents
of title marked "not negotiable"

1750. If a document of title which contains an undertaking by a carrier, warehouseman or other bailee to deliver the goods to the bearer, to a specified person or order, or to the order of a specified person, or which contains words of like import, has placed upon it the words "not negotiable," "non-negotiable" or the like, such a document may nevertheless be negotiated by the holder and is a negotiable document of title within the meaning of this act. But nothing in this act contained shall be construed as limiting or defining the effect upon the obligations of the carrier, warehouseman, or other bailee issuing a document of title or placing thereon the words "not negotiable," "nonnegotiable," or the like.

Transfer of nonnegot-iable instruments

1751. A document of title which is not in such form that it can be negotiated by delivery may be transferred by the holder by delivery to a purchaser or donee. A nonnegotiable document can not be negotiated and the indorsement of such a document gives the transferee no additional right.

Who may negotiate a document

1752. A negotiable document may be negotiated by any person in possession of the same, however such possession may have been acquired, if by the terms of the document the bailee issuing it undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of such person, or if at the time of negotiation the document is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery.

1753. A person to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated acquires thereby:

Rights of person to whom document has been negotiated

(a) Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the document to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value and also such title to the goods as the person to whose order the goods were to be delivered by the terms of the document had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and

(b) The direct obligation of the bailee issuing the document to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the document as fully as if such bailee had contracted directly with him.

1754. A person to whom a document of title has been transferred, but not negotiated, acquires thereby, as against the transferor, the title to the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferor.

Rights of person to whom document has been transferred

If the document is nonnegotiable, such person also acquires the right to notify the bailee who issued the document of the transfer thereof, and thereby to acquire the direct obligation of such bailee to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the document.

Prior to the notification of such bailee by the transferor or transferee of a nonnegotiable document of title, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of such bailee may be defeated by the levy of an attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferor, or by a notification to such bailee by the transferor or a subsequent purchaser from the transferor of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferor.

1755. Where a negotiable document of title is transferred for value by delivery, and the indorsement of the transferor is essential for negotiation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferor to compel him to indorse the document unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made.

Transfer of negotiable document without indorsement

1756. A person who for value negotiates or transfers a document of title by indorsement or delivery, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a document of title unless a contrary intention appears, warrants:

Warranties on sale of document

(a) That the document is genuine;

(b) That he has a legal right to negotiate or transfer it;

(c) That he has knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the document, and

(d) That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose, whenever such warranties would have been implied if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a document of title the goods represented thereby.

Indorser not a guarantor

1757. The indorsement of a document of title shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the bailee who issued the document or previous indorsers thereof to fulfill their respective obligations.

When negotiations not impaired by fraud, mistake or duress

1758. The validity of the negotiation of a negotiable document of title is not impaired by the fact that the negotiation was a breach of duty on the part of the person making the negotiation, or by the fact that the owner of the document was deprived of the possession of the same by loss, theft, fraud, accident, mistake, duress, or conversion, if the person to whom the document was negotiated or a person to whom the document was subsequently negotiated paid value therefore in good faith without notice of the breach of duty, or loss, theft, fraud, accident, mistake, duress or conversion.

Attachment or levy upon goods for which a
document
issued

1759. If goods are delivered to a bailee by the owner or by a person whose act in conveying the title to them to a purchaser in good faith for value would bind the owner and a negotiable document of title is issued for them they can not thereafter, while in the possession of such bailee, be attached by garnishment or otherwise or be levied under an execution unless the document be first surrendered to the bailee or its negotiation enjoined. The bailee shall in no case be compelled to deliver up the actual possession of the goods until the document is surrendered to him or impounded by the court.

1760. A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a negotiable document of title shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction by injunction and otherwise in attaching such document or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which can not readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process.

CHAPTER III.

PERFORMANCE OF THE CONTRACT.

- Section 1761. Seller must deliver and buyer accept goods.
- Section 1762. Delivery and payment are concurrent conditions.
- Section 1763. Place, time and manner of delivery.
- Section 1764. Delivery of wrong quantity.
- Section 1765. Delivery in installments.
- Section 1766. Delivery to a carrier on behalf of the buyer.
- Section 1767. Right to examine the goods.
- Section 1768. What constitutes acceptance.
- Section 1769. Acceptance does not bar action for damages.
- Section 1770. Buyer is not bound to return goods wrongly delivered.
- Section 1771. Buyer's liability for failing to accept delivery.

Seller must deliver and buyer accept goods

1761. It is the duty of the seller to deliver the goods, and of the buyer to accept and pay for them, in accordance with the terms of the contract to sell or sale.

Delivery and payment are concurrent conditions

1762. Unless otherwise agreed, delivery of the goods and payment of the price are concurrent conditions; that is to say, the seller must be ready and willing to give possession of the goods to the buyer in exchange for the price and the buyer must be ready and willing to pay the price in exchange for possession of the goods.

1763. (1) Whether it is for the buyer to take possession of the goods or for the seller to send them to the buyer is a question depending in each case on the contract, express or implied, between the parties. Apart from any such contract, express or implied, or usage of trade to the contrary, the place of delivery is the seller's place of business if he have one, and if not his residence; but in case of a contract to sell or a sale of specific goods, which to the knowledge of the parties when the contract or the sale was made were in some other place, then that place is the place of delivery. Place, time and manner of delivery.

(2) Where by a contract to sell or a sale the seller is bound to send the goods to the buyer, but no time for sending them is fixed, the seller is bound to send them within a reasonable time.

(3) Where the goods at the time of sale are in the possession of a third person, the seller has not fulfilled his obligation to deliver to the buyer unless and until such third person acknowledges to the buyer that he holds the goods on the buyer's behalf; but as against all others than the seller the buyer shall be regarded as having received delivery from the time when such third person first has notice of the sale. Nothing in this section, however, shall affect the operation of the issue or transfer of any document of title to goods.

(4) Demand or tender of delivery may be treated as ineffectual unless made at a reasonable hour. What is a reasonable hour is a question of fact.

(5) Unless otherwise agreed, the expenses of and incidental to putting the goods into a deliverable state must be borne by the seller.

1764. (1) Where the seller delivers to the buyer a quantity of goods less than he contracted to sell, the buyer may reject them, but if the buyer accepts or retains the goods so delivered, knowing that the seller is not going to perform the contract in full, he must pay for them at the contract rate. If, however, the buyer has used or disposed of the goods delivered before he knows that the seller is not going to perform his contract in full, the buyer shall not be liable for more than the fair value to him of the goods so received. Delivery of wrong quantity.

(2) Where the seller delivers to the buyer a quantity of goods larger than he contracted to sell, the buyer may accept the goods included in the contract and reject the rest, or he may reject the whole. If the buyer accepts the whole of the goods so delivered he must pay for them at the contract rate.

(3) Where the seller delivers to the buyer the goods he contracted to sell mixed with goods of a different description not included in the contract, the buyer may accept the goods which are in accordance with the contract and reject the rest, or he may reject the whole.

(4) The provisions of this section are subject to any usage of trade, special agreement, or course of dealing between the parties.

Delivery
in installments

1765. (1) Unless otherwise agreed, the buyer of goods is not bound to accept delivery thereof by installments.

(2) Where there is a contract to sell goods to be delivered by stated installments, which are to be separately paid for, and the seller makes defective deliveries in respect of one or more installments, or the buyer neglects or refuses to take delivery of or pay for one or more installments, it depends in each case on the terms of the contract and the circumstances of the case, whether the breach of contract is so material as to justify the injured party in refusing to proceed further and suing for damages for breach of the entire contract, or whether the breach is severable, giving rise to a claim for compensation but not to a right to treat the whole contract as broken.

Delivery to a carrier on behalf of the buyer

1766. (1) Where, in pursuance of a contract to sell or a sale, the seller is authorized or required to send the goods to the buyer, delivery of the goods to a carrier, whether named by the buyer or not, for the purpose of transmission to the buyer is deemed to be a delivery of the goods to the buyer, except in the cases provided for in section 1739, rule five, or unless a contrary intent appears.

(2) Unless otherwise authorized by the buyer, the seller must make such contract with the carrier on behalf of the buyer as may be reasonable, having regard to the nature of the goods and the other circumstances of the case. If the seller omit so to do, and the goods are lost or damaged in course of transit, the buyer may decline to treat the delivery to the carrier as a delivery to himself, or may hold the seller responsible in damages.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed, where goods are sent by the seller to the buyer under circumstances in which the seller knows or ought to know that it is usual to insure, the seller must give such notice to the buyer as may enable him to insure them during their transit, and, if the seller fails to do so, the goods shall be deemed to be at his risk during such transit.

Right to examine the goods

1767. (1) Where goods are delivered to the buyer, which he has not previously examined, he is not deemed to have accepted them unless and until he has had a reasonable opportunity of examining them for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are in conformity with the contract.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed, when the seller tenders delivery of goods to the buyer, he is bound, on request, to afford the buyer a reasonable opportunity of examining the goods for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are in conformity with the contract.

(3) Where goods are delivered to a carrier by the seller, in accordance with an order from or agreement with the buyer, upon the terms that the goods shall not be delivered by the carrier to the buyer until he has paid the price, whether such terms are indicated by marking the goods with words "collect on delivery." or otherwise, the buyer is not entitled to examine the goods before payment of the price in the absence of agreement permitting such examination.

1768. The buyer is deemed to have accepted the goods when he intimates to the seller that he has accepted them, or when the goods have been delivered to him, and he does any act in relation to them which is inconsistent with the ownership of the seller, or when, after the lapse of a reasonable time, he retains the goods without intimating to the seller that he has rejected them

What constitutes acceptance

1769. In the absence of express or implied agreement of the parties, acceptance of the goods by the buyer shall not discharge the seller from liability in damages or other legal remedy for breach of any promise or warranty in the contract to sell or the sale. But, if, after acceptance of the goods, the buyer fails to give notice to the seller of the breach of any promise or warranty within a reasonable time after the buyer knows, or ought to know of such breach, the seller shall not be liable therefor.

Acceptance does not bar action for damages

1770. Unless otherwise agreed, where goods are delivered to the buyer, and he refuses to accept them, having the right so to do, he is not bound to return them to the seller, but it is sufficient if he notifies the seller that he refuses to accept them.

Buyer is not bound to return goods wrongfully delivered 1771. When the seller is ready and willing to deliver the goods, and request the buyer to take delivery, and the buyer does not within a reasonable time after such request take delivery of the goods, he is liable to the seller for any loss occasioned by his neglect or refusal to take delivery and also for a reasonable charge for the care and custody of the goods. If the neglect or refusal of the buyer to take delivery amounts to a repudiation or breach of the entire contract, the seller shall have the rights against the goods and on the contract hereinafter provided in favor of the seller when the buyer is in default.

Buyer's liability for failure to accept delivery

RIGHTS OF UNPAID SELLER AGAINST THE GOODS.

Article I. Definition and remedies of unpaid seller Sections 1772-1773.

Article II. Unpaid seller's lien Sections 1774-1776.

Article III. Stoppage in transitu Sections 1777-1779.

Article IV. Resale by the seller. Section 1780.

Article V. Rescission by seller Sections 1781-1782.

ARTICLE I.

DEFINITION AND REMEDIES OF UNPAID SELLER

Section 1772. Definition of unpaid seller.

Section 1773. Remedies of an unpaid seller.

1772. (1) The seller of goods is deemed to be an unpaid seller within the meaning of this act:

Definition of unpaid seller

(a) When the whole of the price has not been paid or tendered.

(b) When a bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument has been received as conditional payment, and the condition on which it was received has been broken by reason of the dishonor of the instrument, the insolvency of the buyer, or otherwise.

(2) In this part of this act the term "seller" includes an agent of the seller to whom the bill of lading has been indorsed, or a consignor or agent who has himself paid, or is directly responsible for, the price, or any other person who is in the position of a seller.

Remedies of an unpaid seller

1773. (1) Subject to the provisions of this act, notwithstanding that the property in the goods may have passed to the buyer, the unpaid seller of the goods, as such, has:

(a) A lien on the goods or right to retain them for the price while he is in possession of them;

(b) In case of the insolvency of the buyer, a right of stopping the goods in transitu after he has parted with the possession of them;

(c) A right of resale as limited by this act;

(d) A right to rescind the sale as limited by this act.

(2) Where the property in goods has not passed to the buyer, the unpaid seller has, in addition to his other remedies, a right of withholding delivery similar to and coextensive with his rights of lien and stoppage in transitu where the property has passed to the buyer.

ARTICLE II.

UNPAID SELLER'S LIEN.

Section 1774. When right of lien may be exercised.

Section 1775. Lien after part delivery.

Section 1776. When lien is lost.

When right of lien may be exercised

1774 (1) Subject to the provisions of this act, the unpaid seller of goods who is in possession of them is entitled to retain possession of them until payment or tender of the price in the following cases, namely:

(a) Where the goods have been sold without any stipulation as to credit;

(b) Where the goods have been sold on credit, but the term of credit has expired;

(c) Where the buyer becomes insolvent.

(2) The seller may exercise his right of lien notwithstanding that he is in possession of the goods as agent or bailee for the buyer.

Lien after part delivery

1775. Where an unpaid seller has made part delivery of the goods, he may exercise his right of lien on the remainder, unless such part delivery has been made under such circumstances as to show an intent to waive the lien or right of retention.

When lien is lost

1776. (1) The unpaid seller of goods loses his lien thereon:

(a) When he delivers the goods to a carrier or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer without reserving the property in the goods or the right to the possession thereof;

(b) When the buyer or his agent lawfully obtains possession of the goods;

(c) By waiver thereof.

(2) The unpaid seller of goods, having a lien thereon, does not lose his lien by reason only that he has obtained judgment or decree for the price of the goods.

ARTICLE III.

STOPPAGE IN TRANSITU.

Section 1777. Seller may stop goods on buyer's insolvency.

Section 1778. When goods are in transit.

Section 1779. Ways of exercising the right to stop.

1777. Subject to the provisions of this act, when the buyer of goods is or becomes insolvent, the unpaid seller who has parted with the possession of the goods has the right of stopping them in transitu, that is to say, he may resume possession of the goods at any time while they are in transit, and he will then become entitled to the same rights in regard to the goods as he would have had if he had never parted with the possession.

Seller may stop goods on buyer's insolvency.

1778. (1) Goods are in transit within the meaning of section 1777:

When goods are in transit.

(a) From the time when they are delivered to a carrier by land or water, or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer, until the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, takes delivery of them from such carrier or other bailee;

(b) If the goods are rejected by the buyer, and the carrier or other bailee continues in possession of them, even if the seller has refused to receive them back.

(2) Goods are no longer in transit within the meaning of section 1777:

(a) If the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, obtains delivery of the goods before their arrival at the appointed destination;

(b) If, after the arrival of the goods at the appointed destination, the carrier or other bailee acknowledges to the buyer or his agent that he holds the goods on his behalf and continues in possession of them as bailee for the buyer or his agent; and it is immaterial that a further destination for the goods may have been indicated by the buyer;

(c) If the carrier or other bailee wrongfully refuses to deliver the goods to the buyer or his agent in that behalf.

(3) If goods are delivered to a ship chartered by the buyer, it is a question depending on the circumstances of the particular case, whether they are in the possession of the master as a carrier or as agent of the buyer.

(4) If part delivery of the goods has been made to the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, the remainder of the goods may be stopped in transitu, unless such part delivery has been made under such circumstances as to show an agreement with the buyer to give up possession of the whole of the goods.

Ways of exercising the right to stop

1779. (1) The unpaid seller may exercise his right of stoppage in transitu either by obtaining actual possession of the goods or by giving notice of his claim to the carrier or other bailee in whose possession the goods are. Such notice may be given either to the person in actual possession of the goods or to his principal. In the latter case the notice, to be effectual, must be given at such time and under such circumstances that the principal, by the exercise of reasonable diligence, may prevent a delivery to the buyer.

(2) When notice of stoppage in transitu is given by the seller to the carrier, or other bailee in possession of the goods, he must redeliver the goods to, or according to the directions of the seller. The expenses of such delivery must be borne by the seller. If, however, a negotiable document of title representing the goods has been issued by the carrier or other bailee, he shall not be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to the seller unless such document is first surrendered for cancellation.

ARTICLE IV.

RESALE BY THE SELLER

Section 1780. When and how resale may be made.

When and how resale
made

1780. (1) Where the goods are of perishable nature, or where the seller expressly reserves the right of resale in case the buyer should make default, or where the buyer has been in default in the payment of the price an unreasonable time, an unpaid seller having a right of lien or having stopped the goods in transitu may resell the goods. He shall not thereafter be liable to the original buyer upon the contract to sell or the sale or for any profit made by such resale, but may recover from the buyer damages for any loss occasioned by the breach of the contract or the sale.

(2) Where a resale is made, as authorized in this section, the buyer acquires a good title as against the original buyer.

(3) It is not essential to the validity of a resale that notice of an intention to resell the goods be given by the seller to the original buyer. But where the right to resell is not based on the perishable nature of the goods or upon an express provision of the contract or the sale, the giving or failure to give such notice shall be relevant in any issue involving the question whether the buyer had been in default an unreasonable time before the resale was made.

(4) It is not essential to the validity of a resale that notice of the time and place of such resale should be given by the seller to the original buyer.

(5) The seller is bound to exercise reasonable care and judgment in making a resale, and subject to this requirement may make a resale either by public or private sale.

ARTICLE V.

RESCISSION BY THE SELLER.

Section 1781. When and how the seller may rescind the sale.

Section 1782. Effect of sale of goods subject to lien or stoppage in transitu.

1781. (1) An unpaid seller having a right of lien or having stopped the goods in transitu, may rescind the transfer of title and resume the property in the goods, where he expressly reserved the right to do so in case the buyer should make default, or where the buyer has been in default in the payment of the price an unreasonable time. The seller shall not thereafter be liable to the buyer upon the contract to sell or the sale, but may recover from the buyer damages for any loss occasioned by the breach of the contract or the sale.

When and how the seller may rescind the sale

(2) The transfer of title shall not be held to have been rescinded by an unpaid seller until he has manifested by notice to the buyer or by some other overt act an intention to rescind. It is not necessary that such overt act should be communicated to the buyer, but the giving or failure to give notice to the buyer of the intention to rescind shall be relevant in any issue involving the question whether the buyer had been in default an unreasonable time before the right of rescission was asserted.

1782. Subject to the provisions of this act, the unpaid seller's right of lien or stoppage in transitu is not affected by any sale, or other disposition of the goods which the buyer may have made, unless the seller has assented thereto.

Effect of sale of goods subject to lien or stoppage in transitu

If, however, a negotiable document of title has been issued for goods, no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transitu shall defeat the right of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such document has been negotiated, whether such negotiations be prior or subsequent to the notification to the carrier, or other bailee who issued such document, of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transitu.

CHAPTER V.

ACTIONS FOR BREACH OF THE CONTRACT.

Article I Remedies of the seller. Sections 1783-1785.

Article II. Remedies of the buyer. Sections 1786-1790.

ARTICLE I.

REMEDIES OF THE SELLER.

Section 1783. Action for the price.

Section 1784. Action for damages for nonacceptance of the goods.

Section 1785. When seller may rescind contract or sale.

1783. (1) Where, under a contract to sell or a sale, the property in the goods has passed to the buyer, and the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to pay for the goods according to the terms of the contract or the sale, the seller may maintain an action against him for the price of the goods.

Action for the price

(2) Where, under a contract to sell or a sale, the price is payable on a day certain, irrespective of delivery or of transfer of title, and the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to pay such price, the seller may maintain an action for the price, although the property in the goods has not passed, and the goods have not been appropriated to the contract. But it shall be a defense to such an action that the seller at any time before judgment in such action has manifested an inability to perform the contract or the sale on his part or an intention not to perform it.

(3) Although the property in the goods has not passed, if they can not readily be resold for a reasonable price, and if the provisions of section 1784 (4) are not applicable, the seller may offer to deliver the goods to the buyer, and, if the buyer refuses to receive them, may notify the buyer that the goods are thereafter held by the seller as bailee for the buyer. Thereafter the seller may treat the goods as the buyer's and may maintain an action for the price.

Action for damages for nonacceptance of goods

1784. (1) Where the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to accept and pay for the goods, the seller may maintain an action against him for damages for nonacceptance.

(2) The measure of damages is the estimated loss directly and naturally resulting, in the ordinary course of events, from the buyers' breach of contract.

(3) Where there is an available market for the goods in question, the measure of damages is, in the absence of special circumstances, showing proximate damage of a greater amount, the difference between the contract price and the market or current price at the time or times when the goods ought to have been accepted, or, if no time was fixed for acceptance, then at the time of the refusal to accept.

(4) If, while labor or expense of material amount are necessary on the part of the seller to enable him to fulfill his obligations under the contract to sell or the sale, the buyer repudiates the contract or the sale, or notifies the seller to proceed no further therewith, the buyer shall be liable to the seller for no greater damages than the seller would have suffered if he did nothing towards carrying out the contract or the sale after receiving notice of the buyer's repudiation or countermand. The profit the seller would have made if the contract or the sale had been fully performed shall be considered in estimating such damages.

When seller may rescind contract or sale

1785. Where the goods have not been delivered to the buyer, and the buyer has repudiated the contract to sell or sale, or has manifested his inability to perform his obligations thereunder, or has committed a material breach thereof, the seller may totally rescind the contract or the sale by giving notice of his election so to do to the buyer.

ARTICLE II.

REMEDIES OF THE BUYER.

Section 1786. Action for converting or detaining goods.

Section 1787. Action for failing to deliver goods.

Section 1788. Specific performance.

Section 1789. Remedies for breach of warranty.

Section 1790. Interest and special damages.

1786. Where the property in the goods has passed to the buyer and the seller wrongfully neglects or refuses to deliver the goods, the buyer may maintain any action allowed by law to the owner of goods of similar kind when wrongfully converted or withheld.

Action for converting or detaining goods.

1787. (1) Where the property in the goods has not passed to the buyer, and the seller wrongfully neglects or refuses to deliver the goods, the buyer may maintain an action against the seller for damages for nondelivery.

Action for failing to deliver goods.

(2) The measure of damages is the loss directly and naturally resulting in the ordinary course of events, from the seller's breach of contract.

(3) Where there is an available market for the goods in question, the measure of damages, in the absence of special circumstances showing proximate damages of a greater amount, is the difference between the contract price and the market or current price of the goods at the time or times when they ought to have been delivered, or, if no time was fixed, then at the time of the refusal to deliver.

1788. Where the seller has broken a contract to deliver specific or ascertained goods, a court having the powers of a court of equity may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the buyer, by its judgment or decree direct that the contract shall be performed specifically, without giving the seller the option of retaining the goods on payment of damages. The judgment or decree may be unconditional, or upon such terms and conditions as to damages, payment of the price and otherwise, as to the court may seem just.

Specific performance

1789. (1) Where there is a breach of warranty by the seller, the buyer may, at his election:

Remedies for breach of warranty.

(a) Accept or keep the goods and set up against the seller, the breach of warranty by way of recoupment in diminution or extinction of the price;

(b) Accept or keep the goods and maintain an action against the seller for damages for the breach of warranty;

(c) Refuse to accept the goods, if the property therein has not passed, and maintain an action against the seller for damages for the breach of warranty;

(d) Rescind the contract to sell or the sale and refuse to receive the goods, or if the goods have already been received, return them or offer to return them to the seller and recover the price or any part thereof which has been paid.

(2) When the buyer has claimed and been granted a remedy in any one of these ways, no other remedy can thereafter be granted.

(3) Where the goods have been delivered to the buyer, he can not rescind the sale if he knew of the breach of warranty when he accepted the goods, or if he fails to notify the seller within a reasonable time of the election to rescind, or if he fails to return or to offer to return the goods to the seller in substantially as good condition as they were in at the time the property was transferred to the buyer. But if deterioration or injury of the goods is due to the breach of warranty, such deterioration or injury shall not prevent the buyer from returning or offering to return the goods to the seller and rescinding the sale.

(4) Where the buyer is entitled to rescind the sale and elects to do so, the buyer shall cease to be liable for the price upon returning or offering to return the goods. If the price or any part thereof has already been paid, the seller shall be liable to repay so much thereof as has been paid, concurrently with the return of the goods, or immediately after an offer to return the goods in exchange for repayment of the price.

(5) Where the buyer is entitled to rescind the sale and elects to do so, if the seller refuses to accept an offer of the buyer to return the goods, the buyer shall thereafter be deemed to hold the goods as bailee for the seller, but subject to a lien to secure the repayment of any portion of the price which has been paid, and with the remedies for the enforcement of such lien allowed to an unpaid seller by section 1773.

(6) The measure of damages for breach of warranty is the loss directly and naturally resulting in the ordinary course of events from the breach of warranty.

(7) In the case of breach of warranty of quality, such loss, in the absence of special circumstances showing proximate damage of a greater amount, is the difference between the value of the goods at the time of delivery to the buyer and the value they would have had if they had answered to the warranty.

Interest and special damages

1790. Nothing in this act shall affect the right of the buyer or the seller to recover interest or special damages in any case where by law interest or special damages may be recoverable, or to recover money paid where the consideration for the payment of it has failed.

An act to amend section 12 of chapter 690, statutes of 1913, entitled the direct primary law, as amended, relating to direct primary elections.

[Approved by the Governor June 19, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1919,
p 381

SECTION 1. Section 12 of the direct primary law is hereby amended to read as follows:

Primary elections official ballots

Sec. 12. 1. All voting at primary elections within the meaning of this act shall be by ballot. A separate official ballot for each political party shall be printed and provided for use at each voting precinct; but all such party ballots must be alike in the designation of candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices. The ballots must have a different tint or color for each of the political parties participating in the primary election. There shall also be printed and provided a nonpartisan ballot of a different tint and color from all the others (or white, if all the others are colored), which shall contain only, but in like manner, all the candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices to be voted for at the primary election; and one of the nonpartisan ballots shall, at the primary election, be furnished to each registered qualified elector who is not registered as intending to affiliate with any one of the political parties participating in said primary election; but to any elector registered as intending to affiliate with any political party participating in the primary there shall be furnished, not a nonpartisan ballot, but a ballot of the political party with which said elector is registered as intending to affiliate.

It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county or of the registrar of voters in any city and county to provide such printed official ballots to be used at any August primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for in such county or city and county at the ensuing November election and at any May presidential primary election. It shall be the duty of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality to provide such printed official ballots for any primary election other than the August primary election or the May presidential primary election. Such official ballots to be used at any primary election shall be printed on official paper, furnished by the secretary of state, in the manner provided by section 1196 of the Political Code, and in the form hereinafter provided. The names of all candidates for the respective offices for whom the prescribed nomination papers have been duly filed shall be printed thereon.

Immediately under the name of each candidate and not separated therefrom by any line may appear, at the option of the candidate, one of the following designations:

a. Words designating the city, county, district or state office which the candidate then holds.

b. If the candidate be a candidate for the same office which he then holds, the word "incumbent."

c. The word designating the profession, vocation or occupation of the candidate. The profession, vocation or occupation so designated shall be the same as appears in the affidavit of registration of such candidate; provided, however, the word "incumbent" shall be used only under subsection b herein.

In all cases words so used shall be printed in eight point roman bold-face capitals and lower case type.

2. Official primary election ballots used at any primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at any presidential or general state election, except as provided in subdivision five of this section, shall be as long as the herein prescribed captions, headings, party designations, directions to voters and lists of names of candidates, properly subdivided according to the several offices to be nominated for, may require; and no official primary election ballot shall be less than six and one-half inches wide.

3. Across the top of the ballot shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than forty-eight point, the words: "Official primary election ballot"; providing, that on a nonpartisan ballot said words may be printed in gothic capital type not smaller than twenty-four point. Beneath this heading shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twenty-four point, the party designation if it be a party ballot; or, in the case of a ballot containing the names of no candidates except candidates for a judicial, school, county, or township office, the words "Nonpartisan ballot." Beneath the party designation or the words "Nonpartisan ballot," as the case may be, insert the respective number of the congressional, senatorial, or assembly district in which the ballot is to be voted, in black-faced type, as large as the width of the ballot shall make possible. In the case of official primary election ballots to be used at any primary election held for the nomination of candidates other than those to be voted for at a presidential or a general state election, and on which, in accordance with the provisions of this act, the names of candidates may be printed in a single column or in two parallel columns, as the case may be, the words "Official primary election ballot" shall be printed thereon in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twenty-four point. The party or nonpartisan designation shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than eighteen point. The instructions to voters shall be printed in ten point gothic type.

Instructions to voters

4. At least three-eighths of an inch below the district designation shall be printed in ten point gothic type, double leaded, the following instructions to voters: "To vote for a person whose name appears on the ballot, stamp a cross (X) in the square at the right of the name of the person for whom you desire to vote. To vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write his name in the blank space provided for that purpose."

Candidates' names

5. The instructions to voters shall be separated from the lists of candidates and the designation of the several officers to be nominated for by one light and one heavy line of rule. The names of the candidates and the respective offices shall, except as may be hereinafter otherwise provided, be printed on the ballot in four or more parallel columns, each two and one-half inches wide. The number of such parallel columns shall be exactly divisible by two, and such parallel columns shall be equally divided on the ballot for party and nonpartisan tickets by a solid black line, extending down from the printed lines separating the instructions to voters from the list of names of candidates to the bottom margin of the ballot. In the case of a primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at a presidential or general state election, the order of precedence shall be as follows, that is to say: In the column to the left, under the heading State shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for state offices, except judicial and school offices, and for members of the state board of equalization. In the second column, under the heading Congressional shall be printed the groups of names for United States senator in congress, if any, and for representative in congress. Next, under the heading Legislative shall be printed the groups of names for state senator, if any, for member of Assembly, and for election as delegate to the state convention from a "hold-over senatorial district," if any. Finally under the heading County Committee shall be printed the names of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee of the party. In the case of primary elections where state officers are not to be nominated, at the left of the solid black dividing line there may be only one column. In the parallel columns to the right of the solid black dividing line shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for nomination to judicial, school, county, and township offices in the following order: Under the heading Judicial shall be printed all the names of candidates for judicial offices, in the order of chief justice supreme court, associate justices supreme court, judge of district court of appeals, judge of superior court and justice of the peace. Next, under the heading School shall be printed all the names of candidates for school offices in the order of state superintendent of instruction, superintendent of schools, and school district officers, if any. Next, under the heading County and Township shall be printed the groups of candidates for all county and township offices except judicial or school offices. In the case of primary elections where county officers are not to be nominated, at the right of the solid black dividing line there may be only one column. The nonpartisan ballot provided for in subdivision one of this section shall be identical as to offices and names of candidates with that portion of the party ballot which is printed to the right of the solid black dividing line hereinabove described. The tally sheets furnished to election officers shall have the names of offices and candidates arranged in the order in which said names of offices and candidates are printed on the ballots according to the provisions of this section and subdivision. In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city, city and county or municipal offices only, the groups of names of candidates may be printed in two parallel columns and the order of precedence shall be determined by the legislative body of such city or municipality or by the board of election commissioners of any such city and county.

precedence

Tally sheets.

6. The group of names of candidates for nomination to any judicial office, school office, county office, or township office shall include all the names receiving the requisite number of signatures on a nomination paper for such office, and shall be identical for each such office on the primary election ballots of each political party participating at the primary election, but the groups of names of candidates for all other offices on the ballots of each political party shall comprise only the names of the candidates for nomination by such party.

Candidates for judicial offices, etc.

7 The order in which the list of candidates for any office shall appear upon the primary election ballot shall be determined as follows:

Order of lists of candidates

(a) If the office is an office the candidates for which are to be voted on throughout the entire state, including United States senator in congress, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first assembly district; and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged. If the office is that of representative in congress, or is an office the candidates for nomination to which are to be voted on in more than one county or city and county, but not throughout the entire state, except the office of state senator or assemblyman, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for that assembly district which is lowest in numerical order of any assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on; and thereafter for such succeeding assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on, the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged. In transmitting to each

Office to be voted on throughout entire state county clerk or registrar or voters the certified list of names as required in section 10 of this act, the secretary of state shall certify and transmit the list of candidates for nomination to each office according to assembly districts, in the order of arrangement as determined by the above provisions; and in the case of each county or city and county containing more than one assembly district he shall transmit separate lists for each assembly district. Except for the office of state senator or assemblyman, the order in which the names filed with the secretary of state shall appear upon the ballot, shall be for each assembly district the order as determined by the secretary of state in accordance with the above provisions, and as certified and transmitted by him to each county clerk or registrar of voters.

Office to be voted on throughout but wholly within one county or city and county

(b) If the office is an office to be voted on throughout, but wholly within one county or city and county, except the office of representative in congress or state senator or assemblyman, the county clerk of such county or the registrar of voters of such city and county, shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first supervisorial district; and thereafter for each supervisorial district, the name appearing first for each such office in the last preceding supervisorial district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged; provided, there are no more than five assembly districts in such county, or city and county. If there are more than five assembly districts in such county, or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall so arrange on the ballot the order of names of all candidates for such office that they shall appear in alphabetical order for that assembly district in such county, or city and county, which is lowest in numerical order, and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district in such county, or city and county, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding assembly district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

Office of state senator, etc

(c) If the office is that of state senator or assemblyman, or delegate to the state convention from a "hold-over senatorial district," or member of a county central committee, or any office except the office of representative in congress to be voted on wholly within any county or city and county but not throughout such county or city and county, the names of all candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

Municipal office, etc

(d) If the office is a municipal office in any city or town whose charter does not provide for the order in which names shall appear on the ballot, the names of candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

8. In publishing the names and addresses of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been filed, as required in section 10 of this act, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall publish the names in the order in which they will appear upon the ballot; provided, that in counties or cities and counties containing more than one assembly district the order of names of candidates shall be that of the assembly district in such county or city and county which is lowest in numerical order.

9. Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be preceded by the designation of the office for which the candidates seek nomination, and the words "vote for one" or "vote for two" or more according to the number to be elected to such office at the ensuing election. Such designation of the office to be nominated for and of the number of candidates to be nominated shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic type, not smaller than ten point. The word or words designating the office shall be printed flush with the left-hand margin and the words "vote for one" or "vote for two" or more, as the case may be, shall extend to the extreme right of the column and over the voting square. The designation of the office and the direction for voting shall be separated from the names of the candidates by a light line.

Designation of office and direction for voting

10. The names of the candidates shall be printed on the ballot without indentation, in roman capital type not smaller than eight point, between light lines or rules three-eighths of an inch apart. Under each group of names of candidates shall be printed as many blank spaces, defined by light lines or rules, three-eighths of an inch apart, as there are to be candidates nominated for such office. To the right of the names of the candidates shall be printed a light line or rule so as to form a voting square three-eighths of an inch square. Each group of names of candidates shall be separated from the succeeding group by one light and one heavy line or rule. Each series of groups shall be headed by the word "state," "congressional," "legislative," "county and township" or "municipal" or other proper general classification, as the case may be, printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twelve point. The left-hand side of the first column of names on the ballot, and also the right-hand side of the last column of voting squares on the ballot shall be bordered by a broad printed line one-twelfth of an inch wide. The binding or stitching of each package of ballots shall be on the left side thereof. The ballots shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub not over one and one-half inches in width, and separated therefrom by a perforated line from top to bottom, one-half inch to the left of the broad printed line along the left border of the ballot. Upon this stub shall be printed the number of the ballot only. On each ballot a perforated line shall extend across the top of the ballot one inch from the top thereof. The same number as appears on the stub shall be printed above such perforated line within two inches of the perforated line on the left side of the ballot, and above this number shall be printed in parenthesis in small type as follows: "(This number to be torn off by inspector)"; and one-half inch to the right of this ballot number there shall be a short perforated line extending from the perforated line along the top of the ballot to the top edge of the ballot. Immediately above said perforated line shall be printed in black-face lower case type, at least twelve point in size, and enclosed in a parenthesis, the following: "(Fold ballot to this perforated line, leaving top margin exposed.)" Above this printed direction and midway between it and the top edge of the ballot, shall be printed in black-face capital type, at least twelve point in size, if possible, and with the four middle words underlined or otherwise made prominent, the following: "Mark crosses (X) on ballot only with rubber stamp; never with pen or pencil." The number on each ballot shall be the same as that on the corresponding stub, and the ballots and stubs shall be numbered consecutively in each county; provided, that the sequence of numbers on such official ballots and stubs for each party shall begin with the number one. The official ballots of each political party shall be made up in stub books, each book to contain ten, or some multiple of ten, ballots, in the manner provided by law for official election ballots, and except as to the order of the names of candidates shall be printed in substantially the following form:

CHAPTER 1077.

An act to amend section 1188 of the Political Code, relating to independent nominations.

[Approved by the Governor June 19, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1188 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1927,
p 583

1188. A candidate for any public office including presidential electors either as individuals or by group as provided in section 1197 of this code, for which no nonpartisan candidate has been nominated at any primary election may be nominated subsequent to said primary election, or in lieu of any primary election, in the manner following: A nomination paper containing the name of the candidate to be nominated, or, in the case of presidential electors, the names of the candidates either as individuals or by group, with other information required to be given in the nomination papers provided for in the direct primary law then governing primary elections, shall be signed by electors residing within the district or political subdivision for which the candidate is to be presented, equal in number to at least five per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding general election in the state, district or political subdivision for which the nomination is to be made subject to the restrictions contained in said direct primary law. Nomination
primary. The provisions of said direct primary law as therein applied to nonpartisan offices, when the nomination to be made under this section is for an office for which nominations are made at the August primary election, or for electors of President and Vice President of the United States, and the provisions of that law as therein applied to primaries other than the August primary election and the May primary election, when the nomination to be made under this section is for a municipal office or for any office to which that law does not apply, shall substantially govern as to the manner of the appointment of verification deputies, the form of nomination papers and the securing of signatures thereto, and fastening together of sections of the nomination paper containing such signatures and the filing thereof with the county clerk and the certification thereto by the county clerk and transmission thereof to the secretary of state or to the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality, as the case may be, the filing of the candidate's affidavit, the payment of filing fees and all other things necessary to get the name of the candidate under this section upon the ballot, except that such provisions shall be directed toward getting the candidate's name on the ballot for a general or municipal election or a special election and not on the ballot for nomination at a primary election. Application of direct primary law.

Additional matter on nomination paper

In addition to the other matter required to be set forth on the candidate's nomination paper, it must also be set forth that the candidate and each signer thereof did not vote at the primary election immediately preceding at which a candidate was nominated for the public office mentioned in said nomination paper; provided, that this statement shall be omitted in case no candidate was nominated at said primary election for the public office mentioned in said nomination paper. Upon the filing of a sufficient nomination paper and affidavit by any candidate nominated under the provisions of this section and the payment of the filing fees as hereinbefore provided, the name of such candidate shall go upon the ballot at the ensuing general or municipal election according to the provisions of section 1197 of this code.

CHAPTER 1078.

An act to amend sections 595 and 1054 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to postponement of trials and extensions of time in superior and inferior courts.

[Approved by the Governor June 19, 1931. In effect August 14, 1931.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1911,
p 1418

SECTION 1. Section 595 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Motion to postpone

595. A motion to postpone a trial on the ground of the absence of evidence can only be made upon affidavit showing the materiality of the evidence expected to be obtained; and that due diligence has been used to procure it.

The trial of any action, whether in a superior or inferior court, and irrespective of the date of the filing thereof or when it became at issue, shall be postponed when it appears to the court in which such action is pending that either a party thereto, or any attorney of record therein, or a principal witness, is actually engaged in attendance upon a session of the Legislature of the State of California as a member thereof; and such action shall not, without the consent of the attorney of record in such action, be brought on for trial before the expiration of thirty (30) days next following final adjournment of the Legislature.

Affidavit.

The court may require the moving party, where application is made on account of the absence of a material witness, to state upon affidavit the evidence which he expects to obtain; and if the adverse party thereupon admits that such evidence would be given, and that it be considered as actually given on the trial, or offered and overruled as improper, the trial must not be postponed.

Mining claims

In actions involving the title to mining claims, or involving trespass for damage upon mining claims, if it be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that, in order that justice may be done and the action fairly tried on its merits, it is necessary that further developments should be made, under ground or upon the surface of the mining claims involved in said action, the court shall grant the postponement of the trial of the action, giving the party a reasonable time in which to prepare for trial and to do said development work.

SEC. 2. Section 1054 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1915, p. 203.

1054. Out of the gross amount deposited in said "Motor vehicle fuel fund" the state treasurer shall transfer, upon order of the controller, the amounts heretofore or hereafter appropriated by the Legislature for the support of the fuel tax division of the state board of equalization into the "Fuel tax enforcement fund," which fund is hereby created; provided, however, that before ordering the transfer of the amounts so appropriated the controller shall offset against said amount the amount of the registration fees credited to said "Fuel tax enforcement fund" under section 2 of this act during the biennial period next preceding the period for which said appropriations are made. The amounts so transferred by the controller into said "Fuel tax enforcement fund," together with the amount of the registration fees credited to said fund under section 2 of this act, shall be used by the state board of equalization to pay the expenses of the enforcement of the duties of said board under this act, such moneys to be available to the state board of equalization on warrants drawn by the controller upon demands made by said board and allowed and audited as provided by the rules of the state board of control. One-half of all moneys remaining in said "Motor vehicle fuel fund" after the payments into the "Fuel tax enforcement fund" shall have been made and the refunds herein provided for shall have been paid, is hereby appropriated to the counties of this state and shall be paid to the counties as hereinafter provided. The payments to the counties shall be based upon the number of vehicles registered in each of the counties as determined by the places of residence of the owners to whom the registration certificates for such vehicles have been issued by the state during the current year, and it is hereby made the duty of the motor vehicle department to furnish to the state controller a record of the number of such registrations by counties.

The board of supervisors of any county, or city and county is hereby empowered to expend any portion of the amounts paid to the said county, or city and county, and deposited in the special road improvement fund or other road fund thereof, as herein in this section directed, in and for the construction of public highways outside of its corporate limits; provided, however, that the construction thereof is authorized by ordinance or resolution of the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county, in which said highway is to be constructed. In the event that any such county has not established such a road fund, its proportion of such fund shall be retained by the state until provision for such a road fund has been made, and it shall then be paid over to such county.

Payment to counties

In the months of January, April, July and October of each year, the controller shall ascertain the gross amounts received and the net receipts remaining after the payment of the refunds for which provision is made in section 11 of this act during the preceding three months, and thereupon the controller shall draw his warrant upon the "Motor vehicle fuel fund" in favor of each county in the state for the amount to which each such county is entitled. The controller shall not draw such warrant in favor of any county which shall not have established such a road fund as is herein required or which shall be delinquent in its annual report to the state department of public works as hereinafter required.

Whenever such report shall not have been duly filed in the manner and form herein provided for at or before the time herein specified, the state controller shall not draw his warrant in favor of the treasurer of such county until said report has been filed.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent a board or the city forester at any time from planting, maintaining or removing one or more trees in streets of the municipalities by private arrangement for reimbursement with the owner of any lot or parcel fronting the property upon which said planting, maintenance or removal is to be done, nor to prevent a board or the city forester from expending funds which it may have on hand for any purpose whatsoever for the planting, maintaining or removing of one or more trees, and such board or city forester is hereby given authority to so expend such funds if in its judgment such expenditures will not embarrass or affect the efficient discharge of its duties as such duties may be defined by this act, or any other law or ordinance, or by city charter, and are advisable and for the best interests of the public. Any planting, maintaining or removing done under the circumstances specified in the preceding sentence shall not require the initiation of the proceeding specified in this act, or any other proceeding whatsoever, or any formal action by said board or the city council.

If the proposal includes the maintenance of trees which are already planted, or are proposed herein to be planted, then the said resolution shall provide for the maintenance thereof for the period specified in said proposal, but in any event not to exceed five years. The city council may, in its discretion, order in said resolution of intention, or thereafter, that a certain portion or percentage or all, of the costs and expenses of said improvement, the amount of which shall be specified in said resolution, shall be paid out of the treasury of such municipality from such funds as the city council may designate. Property owners are hereby given the right to object to said improvement by filing with the city council a written protest, specifying the objections at any time before the time fixed for the hearing thereof; the resolution of intention shall fix the time when the city council shall hear and pass upon said protests.

If said council decides to proceed, it shall, by resolution, order said improvement to be made according to the resolution of intention, or according to such alterations or changes as it may deem best. After any such hearing, the city forester, under the direction and supervision of the board shall abandon said work or proceed with it, according to the decision of the city council. Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, all further proceedings on any such improvement shall be barred, if owners owning a majority of the front footage involved in the improvement object to the same, and the proceeding can not in such case be renewed for a period of six months, and must be renewed by the enactment of another resolution of intention.

SEC. 14. Assessment and levy. If said improvement is ordered to be made, the city council shall thereupon levy the assessment for the total amount required to pay for said improvement, less any sum that may be allotted by the city council therefor in its resolution of intention or otherwise, upon the respective lots or parcels specified in the diagram referred to in section 7. Upon the levying of such assessment, the clerk of said council shall transmit to the city tax collector the diagram and assessment upon which said levy is based.

assessments

SEC. 16. Assessment roll. Assessments payable immediately. Lien. Publication of notice of record of assessment roll. Delinquent assessments. Upon the receipt of the diagram and assessment referred to in section 7 hereof, the tax collector shall record the same in a suitable book to be kept for that purpose, and append thereto his certificate of the date of such recording, and such record shall be the assessment roll. From the date of such recording all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of such assessment roll. Immediately upon such recording, the several assessments contained in such assessment roll shall become due and payable, and each of such assessments shall be a lien upon the property against which it is made, paramount to all other liens except liens for state, county and municipal taxes, and shall only be discharged by payment of the assessment or by redemption of the land after sale for delinquency. The tax collector shall, upon the recording of such assessment, give notice by publication for five days in a daily newspaper, published and circulated in said city, or by two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated. If there be no such newspaper, the said notice shall be given by posting the same in three public places in the municipality. Said notice shall provide that said assessments have been recorded in his office, and that all sums assessed therein are due and payable immediately, and that payment of said sums must be made to him within thirty days after date of the first publication or posting, which date shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall also contain the statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of the said thirty days shall be delinquent, and thereupon ten per cent of the amount of each such assessment shall be added thereto. When payment of any assessment is made, the tax collector shall mark opposite such assessment the word "paid," with the date of the payment thereof, and shall give a receipt therefor. Upon the expiration of said period of thirty days, all assessments then unpaid shall become delinquent, and the tax collector shall mark each such assessment "delinquent," and shall add ten per cent to the amount thereof.

SEC. 17. Sale of property upon which assessments are delinquent. The tax collector shall, within thirty days after the date of such delinquency, begin the publication of a notice of sale of the property upon which the assessments have not been paid, which publication must be made by two consecutive insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in the city. If there be no such newspaper, the notice thereof shall be given by posting the same in three public places in the municipality. The dates fixed for the sale of the property upon which assessments have not been paid shall be not less than five days, nor more than ten days after the last publication of said list, or after the completion of posting—as the case may be. The list so published must contain a description of each lot or parcel of land delinquent, and opposite each description the name of the owner in the assessment roll, and the amount of the assessment and costs due, including the cost of advertisement, which cost of advertisement shall not exceed the sum of fifty cents for each parcel of land separately assessed. He shall append to and publish with said delinquent list a notice that unless each assessment delinquent, together with the penalty and cost thereon, is paid, the property upon which the assessment is a lien will be sold at public auction, at a time and place to be specified in said notice.

Sale of property upon which assessments are delinquent

At any time after such delinquency and prior to the sale of any parcels of land assessed and delinquent, any person may pay the assessment thereon, together with the penalties and costs due thereon, including the cost of advertising, if such payment is made after the first publication of notice of sale or posting of said notice.

At the time and place fixed therein the tax collector shall proceed with such sale, commencing at the head of the list of lands contained in such notice and continuing in the numerical order thereof until all the property is sold; provided that he may postpone, or continue, the sale from day to day until the sale is completed. The tax collector shall separately sell each parcel of land described in such notice, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to realize the amount assessed against the same, together with the penalties and costs as aforesaid, and fifty cents for a certificate of sale. In case there is no other purchaser the same shall be struck off to the city as purchaser.

SEC. 18. Certificate of sale. The tax collector shall issue for each sale an original and duplicate certificate of sale, referring to the proceedings, describing the parcel sold, and giving the name of the purchaser and the amount for which said parcel was sold. The original certificate he shall deliver to the purchaser, and the duplicate he shall keep on file in his office.

Certificate of sale

of property.

SEC. 19. Redemption of property. At any time before the expiration of one year from the date of the sale, any property sold under the provisions of the preceding sections may be redeemed by the payment to the tax collector of the amount for which the property was sold, with an additional penalty of twenty per cent of said amount. Said redemption money shall be paid by the tax collector to the person holding the original certificate of sale upon his delivering up the same and receipting for the amount received from the tax collector therefor. Upon redemption of any parcel of land the tax collector shall enter the fact and date of such redemption upon the duplicate certificate of sale thereof.

Notice to owner and deed to property.

SEC. 20. Deed to property. Notice to owner. Owner must pay for service of notice. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date of sale, the tax collector must execute to the purchaser, or his assignee on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in this certificate, also any assignment thereof, and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The tax collector shall receive, from the applicant for a deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the municipality is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor. The purchaser or his assignee must, at least thirty days before he applies for a deed, serve upon the owner of the property, and upon the occupant of such property, if the same is occupied, a written notice setting forth a description of the property, that said property has been sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which it was sold, the amount necessary to redeem at the time of giving notice, and the time when such purchaser or assignee will apply to the tax collector for a deed. If the said owner can not be found, after due diligence, said notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon said property at least thirty days before the time stated therein, at which the application for a deed will be made. The person applying for a deed must file with the tax collector an affidavit or affidavits showing that notice of such application has been given, as herein required, and if the notice was not served on the owner of the property personally, that due diligence was used to find said owner; which affidavit or affidavits must be filed by the tax collector in his office. If redemption of the property is made after such affidavits are filed, and more than eleven months from the date of sale, the person making such redemption must pay, in addition to the other amounts required, three dollars for the service of notice and the making of such affidavits, which amount shall be paid over to the purchaser or his assignee in the same manner as other sums paid for redemption. No deed for any property sold for delinquent assessment shall be made until the purchaser or his assignee has complied with all the provisions of this section and filed with the tax collector the proper affidavits.

SEC. 21. Deed prima facie evidence. The deed of the tax collector shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all matters recited therein, and of the regularity of all proceedings prior to the execution thereof, and of title in the grantee.

SEC. 22. Collection and disbursement of fund for improvement. The funds collected by the tax collector under the proceedings herein provided for, shall be paid by said tax collector, as fast as collected, to the treasurer of the city, who shall place the same in a special fund designated by the name of the improvement proceeding, and payment shall be made out of said special fund only for the purpose provided for in this act. To expedite the making of any such improvement, the city council may at any time transfer into said special fund, out of any money in the general fund, such sums as it may deem necessary, and the sums so transferred shall be deemed a loan to such special fund, and shall be repaid out of the proceeds of the assessments provided for in this act.

bursement

SEC. 23. Work to be done by city forester. The city forester, under the direction of the board, shall do or cause to be done, all of the work ordered to be done by the city council, and the payments out of the fund specified in the preceding section, shall be made to the board by the city treasurer from time to time as required by the board for the prosecution and completion of the work.

Work to be done by city forester.

If, in the opinion of the board, it is desirable to let contracts for all or any part of any improvement ordered by the city council to be made as herein provided, the city forester, under its direction, shall let the same to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice published by two insertions in any daily, or one insertion in any weekly, newspaper published in the city, or in the event there be no such newspaper, the said notice shall be posted for five days at three public places in the city. Such work shall be done under the city forester's supervision.

If the contractor abandons the work, or fails to proceed with the same as rapidly as required by his contract, the city forester may relet the work in the same manner as in the first letting, or complete or cause the same to be completed in such other manner as he may deem advisable, and retain the amount of any expense incidental to the reletting, out of any funds due or to become due to the contractor, and also hold him and his sureties responsible for such cost and expense, and for any damages resulting from such abandonment or failure, on his bond.

SEC. 24. Application of act. This act shall in no wise affect the tree planting acts of 1893, 1913, 1915 or any other acts on the same subject, or acts supplementary or amendatory thereof. It is hereby intended to provide an alternate system of proceedings for making the improvements provided for by this act. When any proceedings are commenced under this act, its provisions, together with any amendments subsequently adopted, and no other, shall apply to all such proceedings, and any provisions contained in said acts or any acts in conflict with the provisions hereof shall be void and of no effect as to the proceedings commenced under the provisions of this act.

If any provision of this act is contrary to or in conflict with the provisions of the city charter of any municipality to which this act applies, or such provision of such city charter requires any matter or thing herein specified to be done in a particularly described manner, then such provisions of such city charter shall take precedence over the provisions of this act, and be controlling, anything contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding.

tutionality

SEC. 25. Construction. Title. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to promote the objects thereof, and no publication or notice other than that provided for in this act, shall be necessary to give validity to any proceedings had hereunder. Should any part, paragraph, section or subsection hereof be hereafter declared to be unconstitutional, such findings shall in no way affect the constitutionality or validity of any other such part, paragraph, section or subsection hereof, and the Legislature hereby expressly declares that it would have passed such other part, paragraph, section, or subsection, regardless of the validity or constitutionality of such other part, paragraph section or subsection.

An act to provide for the funding and refunding of the indebtedness of districts organized under and in pursuance of the "Road district improvement act of 1907" and to provide for the levy of assessments and reassessments for such refunding, and to enforce the liens of said assessments and reassessments, and for the issue and sale or exchange of refunding bonds and the retirement of the unpaid bonds of said districts, and to provide for the payment of bonds and for proceedings to test the validity of such refunding and reassessment.

[Approved by the Governor June 19, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

The words "owners of land" or "landowners," as used in this act, shall include a trustee of an express trust in land other than as security for the payment of money of the land held in

SEC. 2. Whenever twenty per cent or more of the interest payable in any one calendar year, or twenty per cent or more of the principal payable in any one calendar year, upon bonds issued for any district formed under the provisions of the road district improvement act of 1907 is due and unpaid because of the delinquency of all or any portion of the property assessed to pay such principal or such interest, or both, and such principal or such interest has been due and unpaid for a period of at least thirty days, the legislative body of the county in which such district lies may determine that the public interest, convenience and necessity require that the unpaid bonds of such district, and any unpaid loans to the interest and sinking fund of said district, be refunded and that it is the intention of said legislative body to refund the same, and that a reassessment for the refunding of such bonds and loans be made and levied as in this act provided; provided, however, that no such unpaid bonds or loans may be refunded, or a reassessment for the refunding thereof made, unless and until all owners of the unpaid bonds of said district have filed with said legislative body an agreement in writing assenting to the refunding of such bonds and loans and the making of said reassessment and stating the names of the person or persons to whom the refunding bonds and any moneys collected on the reassessments or in the interest and sinking fund of said district shall be paid and delivered and the proportions in which the same shall be paid and delivered. After said legislative body has declared its intention to refund such unpaid bonds and unpaid loans, and the owners of such unpaid bonds have agreed in writing to such refunding, no payment of delinquent assessments thereafter shall deprive said legislative body of the jurisdiction to proceed with said refunding and notwithstanding the payment thereafter of any or all of such delinquent assessments said legislative body shall proceed to refund all unpaid bonds of said district and all such unpaid loans as in this act provided.

legislative body may determine that the public interest, convenience and necessity require that said unpaid bonds and unpaid loans be refunded and that a reassessment for the refunding thereof be made and levied as in this act provided, and may proceed to levy a reassessment and issue refunding bonds as in this act provided; provided, however, that no such unpaid bonds or unpaid loans may be refunded, or a reassessment for the refunding thereof made, unless and until all owners of the unpaid bonds of said district have filed with said legislative body an agreement in writing assenting to the refunding of such unpaid bonds and unpaid loans and the making of said reassessment, and stating the names of the person or persons to whom the refunding bonds and any moneys collected on the reassessments or in the interest and sinking fund of said district shall be paid and delivered and the proportions in which the same shall be paid and delivered. When fifty per cent or more of the special assessment tax levied in any year for the payment of the interest or the principal and interest of unpaid bonds of any district formed under the provisions of said road district improvement act of 1907 is delinquent and has been delinquent for at least ninety days, if said legislative body determines that the public interest, convenience and necessity require the refunding of the unpaid bonds and unpaid loans of such district, it shall proceed therewith as provided in this act; provided all owners of the unpaid bonds of said district file the agreement in writing provided in this section; and if, in such case of fifty per cent or more unpaid special assessment tax, the owners of a majority in area of the lands upon which such special assessment tax was levied petition for such refunding and all owners of unpaid bonds of such district file their said agreement assenting thereto, such legislative body shall proceed with such refunding and reassessment under the provisions of this act. If seventy-five per cent or more of said special assessment tax levied in any year upon the lands in any such district is delinquent and has been delinquent for at least ninety days, said legislative body shall proceed to refund the unpaid bonds and unpaid loans of such district under the provisions of this act and to levy the reassessment therefor; provided all owners of unpaid bonds of such district file the agreement in writing provided in this section. In its resolution determining that the public interest, convenience and necessity require the refunding of such bonds and loans, said legislative body shall also state the period over which the refunding bonds shall extend

Said diagram shall show each separate lot, piece or parcel of land in said district and the dimensions of each such lot, piece or parcel of land and the relative location of the same to the work done. When said diagram is completed, said county surveyor shall proceed to make the reassessment as herein provided.

The total amount for which said reassessment shall be made shall include the principal amount of all bonds issued for said district in the original proceedings with interest thereon at the rate stated in such bonds from the date of such bonds to the date of the hearing on the reassessment, as stated in the notice of hearing provided in section 7 hereof, and the estimated expenses of the reassessment and refunding proceedings, which shall include the expense of making the reassessment and of issuing the refunding bonds. Said reassessment shall be made upon all such lots, pieces or parcels of land within the assessment district as were to be assessed under the original proceedings to pay the principal and interest of the bonds issued therein, and the total amount to be reassessed shall be apportioned upon said lots, pieces or parcels of land in proportion to the assessed value thereof as shown by the county assessment roll last equalized at the date of the hearing on the reassessment as specified in the notice provided for in section 7 hereof. In any case in which a lot, piece, or parcel of land upon which a reassessment is to be levied is not assessed as a separate parcel upon said assessment roll, upon request of the county surveyor, the county assessor shall make and file with said county surveyor an assessed value for such parcel and such assessed value shall be subject to objection or protest and to change or modification at the hearing herein provided and as made or as changed at such hearing shall be deemed the assessed value of such parcel for the purpose of the reassessment and refunding proceedings, and the reassessment shall be apportioned upon such parcel in proportion to such filed assessed value. SEC. 5. When said reassessment has been made upon the various lots, pieces and parcels of land to be reassessed, there shall be credited upon such reassessment any sum paid for any lot, piece or parcel of land upon assessments theretofore levied to pay the principal and interest of bonds of said district. In case any such lot, piece or parcel of land was a portion of a larger parcel of land for which a payment was made, the portion of such payment to be credited to said smaller lot, piece or parcel of land shall be the proportion of such payment that the assessed value of said smaller lot, piece or parcel of land bears to the total assessed value of all of the parcels which comprise said larger parcel of land, as said assessed value is shown upon the aforesaid assessment roll or as made by the county assessor under the provisions of section 4 of this act. In any case not covered by the foregoing provisions, if, in order to credit to any smaller lot, piece or parcel of land its proportion of a payment for a larger parcel of land, of which said smaller parcel formed a part, it is necessary to make an assessed value for any parcel or parcels of land situated within or without the district, at the request of the county surveyor, the county assessor shall make and file with said county surveyor an assessed value for such parcel or parcels and such assessed value shall be subject to objection or protest and to modification or change at the hearing herein provided and as made or as changed at such hearing shall be deemed the assessed value of such parcel for the purpose of the reassessment and refunding proceedings.

SEC. 6. The lots, pieces and parcels of land upon which such reassessment shall be levied shall include all parcels of land in the assessment district upon which an assessment would have been levied to pay the principal and interest of the bonds issued in the original proceedings. Scope of re-assessment

The determination of said legislative body upon any of the matters presented in any of said protests or objections and upon all matters involved in said reassessment and refunding proceedings, and upon the reassessment, shall be final and conclusive. Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time by an order entered on the minutes of the said legislative body, provided that the hearing must be finally completed within sixty days from the date thereof stated in the published or posted notice of hearing. At said hearing, said legislative body shall have power to revise, correct or modify said reassessment in such manner as may be just and in accordance with the facts, in respect of the property to be reassessed, the amounts of the respective reassessments, the credits allowed for the various parcels of land for which payments have been made, the incidental expenses of said reassessment and refunding proceeding, and any other matter affecting the regularity or validity of said reassessment. the amounts to be reassessed upon any of the lots, pieces or parcels of land, and no error in the amounts of the credit upon said reassessments shall invalidate said reassessment or any of the reassessments therein contained, and each of the reassessments in said reassessment shall become a lien upon the property upon which the same is levied notwithstanding any error, defect or omission therein, or in any of the proceedings therefor, and notwithstanding that the proceedings for the making of said reassessment are not in full conformity with the requirements of this statute, and any action or determination necessary or convenient in the making of said reassessment or in the reassessment and refunding proceedings not expressly provided for in this statute is hereby authorized and the same, when made, shall be valid and sufficient.

SEC. 10. Said reassessment, as confirmed, shall be recorded with the county surveyor of said county. When so recorded, the several amounts reassessed upon the lots, pieces or parcels of land in said reassessment district shall be a lien thereon as of the date of such recordation. Such lien shall continue until it is discharged of record. Such lien shall be subordinate to all special assessment liens imposed upon the same property prior to the date of such recordation, but it shall be superior to and have priority over all special assessment liens created against the same property subsequent to the date of such recordation. Any foreclosure of said reassessment lien or sale of property for said lien shall convey said property to said purchaser free and clear of all encumbrances, except general taxes and special assessment liens imposed upon the same property which are by the terms of this section superior to said reassessment lien. From and after the date of the said recording of said reassessment, all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents thereof. The county surveyor shall give notice by publication for ten days in a daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county in which the lands reassessed lie or by three successive insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed in such county that said reassessment has been recorded in his office and that all sums assessed therein became due and payable upon the recordation of said reassessment, stating the date of such recordation and that the payment of the said sums is to be made to him within thirty days after the date of such recordation. Said notice shall also contain a statement that for any reassessment not paid before the expiration of said thirty days a bond will issue in the manner and form provided in this act and shall state the period over which said bond or bonds shall extend and the rate of interest which shall be payable thereon. Such notice shall also be given by mailing a post card to the owner of each lot, piece or parcel of land reassessed according to the name and address appearing on the last equalized assessment roll for county taxes prior thereto or as known to the county surveyor; provided that the failure of the surveyor to give such notice by mailing or of the person addressed to receive the same shall not affect the validity of the proceedings or the validity of the lien of any reassessment or of any bond issued thereon. Upon payment of any reassessment, the county surveyor shall mark upon said reassessment note of the said payment and shall cancel said reassessment, and upon request, said county surveyor shall also give a receipt to the person paying said reassessment. Any reassessment upon publicly owned property may be foreclosed in the manner provided in section 27 of the "Improvement act of 1911," as amended; provided, however, that the notice to be given upon the tax bill need not be given or made, and that any foreclosure action may be brought at any time after thirty days after the recording of such reassessment, and in any such foreclosure action said reassessment and diagram with proof of nonpayment shall be prima facie evidence of the right of plaintiff to recover in the action. Said action shall be brought in the name of the county, the legislative body of which levied said reassessment, upon the request of any person entitled to any portion of the moneys to be derived from said reassessment. The person requesting that said foreclosure action be brought must advance the costs and expenses thereof, and said action may be brought by any competent attorney appointed by the board of supervisors which levied said reassessment. SEC. 11. No action, suit or proceeding to set aside, cancel, void, annul or correct any reassessment hereunder or to review any of the proceedings, acts or determinations made in the proceedings for said reassessment and refunding or to question the validity of or enjoin the collection of said reassessment or any reassessment therein or to enjoin the issuance of any bond or bonds to represent the same shall be maintained by any person unless such action, suit or proceeding shall have been commenced within thirty days after the date of recording of said reassessment, and thereafter all persons shall be barred from any such action, suit or proceeding or any defense of the invalidity of said reassessment or any of the reassessments therein contained or any bonds issued thereon.

Annual payments on reassessment

SEC. 12. After the full expiration of thirty days from the date of recording said reassessment the county surveyor shall make and certify to the county treasurer a complete list of all reassessments therein unpaid, except assessments upon public property. The principal of each of said unpaid reassessments shall thereafter become due and payable to the treasurer in equal annual payments on the fifteenth day of each November succeeding the recordation of such reassessment until fully paid. The number of said annual payments shall correspond to the number of serial payments provided to be made on the principal of the bonds issued to represent said unpaid reassessments. The interest on said unpaid reassessments shall be payable on each fifteenth day of May and November succeeding the recordation of such reassessments, the last interest payment coming due forty-five days before the last annual payment of the principal of the bonds issued to represent said unpaid reassessments. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid at the office of said treasurer, who shall keep a fund designated by the name of said bonds into which he shall place all sums paid him for the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon, together with all penalties thereon and from which he shall disburse such sums upon the presentation of the interest and principal coupons, and under no circumstances shall said bonds or the interest thereon be paid out of any other fund. Said treasurer shall keep a register in his office which shall show the series, number, date, amount, rate of interest, payee and endorsees of each bond and the number and amount of each coupon of principal or interest paid by him, and shall cancel and file each coupon so paid. An even annual proportion of the principal sum of each bond shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January every year after the fifteenth day of the next November following their date until the whole of said principal is paid.

SEC. 13. All moneys collected on the reassessments, all moneys in the interest and sinking fund of the district for which the bonds are refunded, and all refunding bonds shall be paid and delivered to the owners of the bonds refunded, as provided in their agreement or assent on file with the legislative body; provided, however, that prior to said payment and delivery or concurrently therewith said bond owners must pay to said legislative body the incidental expenses of the refunding and reassessment proceedings, as stated in the reassessment, and all unpaid loans which are refunded in such proceedings and deliver up the unpaid refunded bonds for cancellation, and same shall forthwith be canceled. When the said payments are made and refunding bonds delivered, as provided in said agreement or assent, all unpaid special assessment taxes levied to pay principal and interest of the bond issue refunded and all penalties and interest on said special assessment taxes shall be deemed canceled and annulled and the clerk of the legislative body shall notify the proper county officials that the bonds of said district have been refunded and that said special assessment taxes, penalties and interest are canceled and annulled, and such officials shall thereupon proceed to make the necessary entries showing the cancellation thereof.

Mailing notice of amount due

SEC. 14. The said treasurer at least fifteen days before each respective fifteenth day of May and November until the said reassessments be paid in full shall mail, postage prepaid, to each owner of property described in said reassessment at his last known address as it appears upon the tax rolls of said county a postal card notifying him of the amount due and the date when payment is due from him on said reassessment and stating that said payment is subject to penalty if not paid on or prior to the due date of the coupons; provided that the failure of the said treasurer to mail said cards or the failure of the property owner to receive the same shall in no wise affect the validity of any penalty or invalidate any act or proceeding. Should any payment of principal of said unpaid reassessment or of interest thereon be not paid on the date upon which the coupon or coupons representing it are payable, the said treasurer shall, after the close of business on said due date, add to the amount of principal or interest so delinquent a penalty of five per cent of the total amount of such delinquency, and at the beginning of business on the first day of each succeeding month until such delinquent payment and all penalties thereon be fully paid he shall add an additional penalty of one per cent of the amount of such delinquency and said treasurer shall collect such penalties with and as a part of such delinquent payments.

Form of refunding bonds

SEC 15 The treasurer shall upon the filing of such list of unpaid reassessments with him make out, sign and issue to the owners of said unpaid bonds, as provided in the agreement or assent on file, a separate bond representing upon each lot, piece or parcel of land upon the list the net amount of the reassessment against the same as thereon shown. If said lot, piece or parcel of land is described upon the said reassessment and diagram by its number or blocks, or both, and is also designated by its number or block, or both, upon any map on file in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said district is situated, then it shall be in said bond a sufficient description of said lot, piece or parcel of land to designate it by said number or block or both, as it appears on said recorded map. Each of said bonds shall bear interest at the rate stated in the original bond issue from the date of the recording of the reassessment until the said bond is fully paid, and coupons for the various payments of interest on each of said bonds to the date of the maturity of such bonds shall be attached to each such bond. Said refunding bonds or any thereof shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of all of the proceedings for the issuance of such refunding bonds and the levying of the reassessment therefor and of the legality and validity of the lien of said reassessment.

Record of payments

SEC. 16. The treasurer shall, in addition to his other duties, keep a record of bonds issued by him, of all payments on said bonds with the dates thereof, and of all penalties accruing thereon, and he shall report all payments of coupons or penalties upon said bonds, with the dates thereof, to the county surveyor, who shall forthwith endorse the same upon the margin of the record of the reassessment to the credit of which the same are paid, and until paid the said reassessment with accrued interest thereon and penalties, if any, shall be and remain a lien upon the property affected thereby and shall have priority and superiority, as hereinbefore defined in this act.

Such demand shall be served in the manner provided by law for the making of personal service of summons. If suit be brought costs for the service thereof shall be allowed in an amount equivalent to the fees prescribed by law for the service of summons. Said demand shall be in substantially the following form:

Unless the amount of the unpaid principal on said bond together with interest and penalties is paid to the county treasurer on or before thirty days after the service on you of this demand, the date of such service being this _____ day of _____, 19___, the undersigned will institute suit to foreclose the lien of said bond in the manner prescribed by law.”

The complaint in such suit shall be sufficient if a true copy of the bond be therein set forth and appropriate allegations be made therein regarding the payments made upon the principal and interest of such bond. If personal demand for payment be made as herein provided, the complaint shall so allege. Such suit shall be brought in the superior court of the county in which said district lies, and in case the owner of the lot, piece or parcel of land covered by said bond can not with due diligence be found, the service of summons in such action may be had in the manner prescribed in the codes and laws of this state. The said bond, together with proof, either orally by the said county treasurer or by a certificate signed by him showing the nonpayment of any of the principal or interest upon said bond, shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the plaintiff to recover in said action; provided that if personal demand for payment be made, proof of service of the demand as herein provided shall be required. The court in said suit shall have the power to adjudge and decree a lien against the lot or parcel of land covered by said bond and shall cause said premises to be sold as in other cases of the sale of real estate by the process of said court to satisfy and discharge such bond and lien, and the amount of interest and penalties due shall be

The court having jurisdiction of said cause shall also fix and allow a reasonable attorney's fee for the prosecution of said suit.

Attorney's fee

The plaintiff in the suit may also recover the cost of any abstract or report of search of title procured in good faith, in order to determine ownership, such search to be by a reputable abstractor or title company, and such cost not to exceed five dollars per lot, and such abstract or report of search with affidavit of payment to be filed in the action.

Cost of abstract

A written notice of the pendency of any action for recovery on a bond shall be filed with the treasurer. After the filing of such notice the treasurer shall not receive any money on account of said bond and he shall have no authority to cancel the entries on said bond in his register or give a discharge of said bond without the written consent of the owner thereof until judgment has been rendered in such action or the same has been dismissed.

Notice of pendency of suit

Should suit be brought for recovery on any bond prior to the time provided herein, the plaintiff shall not recover in such suit and the defendant in such suit shall be entitled to have and recover such attorney fees as the court may deem reasonable, in addition to all taxable costs.

Penalty for premature suit

SEC. 19. Whenever payment either upon the principal, or of the interest, upon any bond issued under this act has not been or shall not be made when the same has become, or shall become due, and the holder of the bond demands in writing that the treasurer proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land described in said bond as being that upon which the assessment represented by said bond was levied, then said treasurer shall proceed as provided in the next section.

In the event that through error or otherwise the total amount for which said sale shall be made is less than that which may be required by the provisions hereof, and the holder of the bond is the purchaser at the sale and elects to accept the certificate of sale hereinafter mentioned, or if he accepts from the treasurer such sum derived from said sale made to some other purchaser, then the fact that the sale may have been made for less than the amounts specified herein shall not affect or invalidate the sale, and such receipt of said certificate or said sum shall be a waiver on the part of the holder of said bond, and the said deficient amount of sale shall be the amount upon which redemption from the sale shall be calculated to all effects the same as if the sale had been made for the full amount authorized hereby.

SEC. 23. The treasurer, before delivering any certificate, must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number, and series of the bond, a description of the land sold corresponding with the description of the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, the amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margin of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the record of the bond the words: "canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale. He shall deliver the original certificate to the purchaser and shall record the duplicate in the office of the recorder of the county in which the land sold is situated. At any time after delivery to him by the treasurer of said certificate of purchase the legal holder thereof may pay any general taxes, street improvement assessments, or any other tax or statutory lien upon the property described in said certificate of purchase which may be prior to his or redeem said property from any sale made in collection or enforcement of such general taxes, foreclosing street improvement assessments or other tax or statutory lien and the treasurer, upon production by the holder of said certificate of purchase of the official receipt for the amounts so paid by him shall make an endorsement upon said certificate of purchase showing that said receipts have been so produced stating the nature of the lien paid, and the amount thereof and he shall make a like entry upon the book as provided in section 23 of this act, and shall collect the amount thereof as a part of the amount represented by said certificate of purchase together with interest thereon at the same rate as provided in the certificate of purchase.

Redemption

SEC. 25. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided; redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the treasurer he must mark the word "redeemed," the date and by whom redeemed on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made, and credit the amount paid to the purchaser named in the certificate, and pay the same to such purchaser, or his assignee, upon the surrender of the certificate of sale, and upon satisfactory proof of an assignment thereof, if any.

Treasurer's deed to purchaser

SEC. 26. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the expiration of the time for redemption, or thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed; and no deed to the property sold, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be issued by the treasurer to the purchaser of such property, until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifty cents for his service of such notice and the making of said affidavit, which sum of fifty cents shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid.

SEC. 27. The deed, when duly acknowledged or proved, is primary evidence of the regularity of all proceedings theretofore had, and conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, as of the date of the expiration of the period for redemption, free of all encumbrances, except the lien for state, county and municipal taxes, and special assessment liens having priority thereover under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 28. At any time within thirty days after the recording of the reassessment, any person interested in any of the bonds to be refunded or in any of the lands reassessed may bring an action in the superior court of the county, the legislative body of which conducted the reassessment proceedings, to determine the validity or invalidity of such reassessment. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Said summons shall contain a general description of the boundaries of the district of the lands upon which said reassessment is levied. Jurisdiction shall be complete within ten days after the full publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. The costs of the legal proceedings provided for in this section may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or taxed to the losing party in the discretion of the court. After said reassessment has been recorded, it shall not be contested in any way other than at the time and in the manner specified in this section, and in any such action all findings, conclusions and determinations of the legislative body which conducted the reassessment proceedings shall be conclusive in the absence of actual fraud.

invalidity

SEC. 29. If in any action or proceeding any reassessment or any refunding bond is held illegal or invalid, then the unpaid bonds refunded and for the refunding of which the reassessment was levied shall be deemed to be in full force and effect from the date of such final judgment or decree, and if said unpaid bonds have been canceled or destroyed, the proper officials of the county which issued the original bonds shall issue new bonds of the same tenor, force and effect as such canceled or destroyed unpaid bonds, and all of the provisions of the road district improvement act of 1907 relative to the payment of bonds issued thereunder and the levy, collection and enforcement of special assessment taxes therefor shall apply to such unpaid bonds or to any bonds issued to replace such unpaid bonds.

insurance and safety act of 1917," approved May 23, 1917, as amended.*

[Approved by the Governor June 19, 1931 In effect August 14, 1931]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927,
p. 1213 SECTION 1. Section 26 of the "Workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917" is hereby amended to read as follows:

Subrogation
procedure

Sec. 26 The term "employee" as used in this section, shall include the person injured and any other person in whom a claim may arise by reason of the injury or death of such injured person and the terms "compensation," "injury," "person," and "insurance" shall be defined as set forth in this act. The term "employer," as herein used shall include "insurance carrier" as defined in this act. The death of the employee, or of any other person, shall not abate any right of action established by this section. The claim of an employee for compensation shall not affect his claim or right of action for all damages proximately resulting from such injury or death against any person other than the employer; and any employer having paid, or having become obligated to pay compensation, may likewise make a claim or bring an action against such other person, and in the latter event the said employer may also recover in the same suit said damages of said employee in addition to the amount of compensation he has paid and/or become obligated to pay. If either such employee or such employer shall bring an action against such third person, he shall forthwith notify the other in writing, by personal service or registered mail, of such fact and of the name of the court in which such suit is brought, filing proof thereof in such action, and, if the action be brought by either, the other may, at any time before trial on the facts, join as party plaintiff or must consolidate his action, if brought independently. If the suit be prosecuted by the employer alone evidence of any amount which the employer has paid and become obligated to pay by reason of said injury or death shall be admissible, and such expenditures or liability shall be considered as proximately resulting from such injury or death, in addition to any other items of damage proximately resulting from such injury or death, and after recouping himself for such special damages, together with a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court, said employer shall pay the excess to the injured employee or other person entitled. If the employee joins in or prosecutes such suit, either the evidence of the amount of disability indemnity or death benefit paid or to be paid by the employer or the evidence of loss of earning capacity by the employee shall be admissible, but not both, but proof of all other items of damage to either said employer and employee proximately resulting from such injury or death shall be admissible and shall be deemed part of the damages. The court shall first apply out of the entire amount of any judgment for any damages recovered by the employee a sufficient amount to reimburse the employer for the amount of his expenditures for compensation. If the employer has not joined in the action or has not brought action, or if his action has not been consolidated, the court shall, on application of the employer, allow as a first lien against the entire amount of any judgment for any damages recovered by the employee the amount of the employer's expenditures for compensation, and the court shall, upon further application at any time before said judgment is satisfied, allow as a further lien the amount of any expenditures of said employer for compensation subsequent to the original order. After payment of the employer's lien, said employer shall be relieved from the obligation to pay further compensation to or on behalf of said employee under this act up to the entire amount of the balance of said judgment, if satisfied, without any deduction; provided, however, that no satisfaction of such judgment in whole or in part, shall be valid without providing said employer with notice and a reasonable opportunity to perfect and satisfy his lien as herein provided. No release or settlement of any claim for damages under this section shall be valid without the written consent of both employer and employee; but the consent of both the employer and employee filed in court in writing, together with the approval of the court, shall be sufficient in any action or proceeding where such approval is required by law; provided, further, that no release or settlement under this section after suit and before judgment shall be valid and binding without notice to both employer and employee with opportunity to said employer to recover the amount of compensation he has paid and/or become obligated to pay, the entire amount of such settlement, or of any settlement without suit, to be subject to the employer's full claim for reimbursement for his compensation expenditures or liability. The commission is empowered to and shall allow a credit to the employer to be applied against his liability for compensation the amount of any recovery by the employee for his injury, either by settlement or after judgment, that has not theretofore been applied to reimburse the employer. ^{Same}

(2) Proceedings for the collection of the death benefit provided by subsection (c) of said section 9 must be commenced within one year from the date of death, and in any event within two hundred forty weeks from the date of the injury, and can only be maintained when it appears that death ensued within one year from the date of the injury, or that the injury causing death also caused disability which continued to the date of the death and for which a disability payment was made, or an agreement for its payment made, or proceedings for its collection commenced within the time limited for the commencement of proceedings for the recovery of the disability payment.

(c) The payment of compensation, or any part thereof, or agreement therefor, shall have the effect of extending the period within which proceedings for its collection may be commenced, six months from the date of the agreement or last payment of such compensation, or any part thereof, or the expiration of the period covered by any such payment; provided, however, that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to bar the right of any injured employee to institute proceedings for the collection of compensation within two hundred forty-five weeks after the date of the injury upon the grounds that the original injury has caused new and further disability; and the jurisdiction of the commission, in such cases, shall be a continuing jurisdiction at all times within such period.

(d) If an injured employee, or in the case of his death, one or more of his dependents, shall be under twenty-one years of age or incompetent at any time when any right or privilege accrues to such person under the provisions of this act, a general guardian, appointed by the court, or a guardian ad litem or trustee appointed by the commission or a commissioner may, on behalf of any such person, claim and exercise any such right or privilege with the same force and effect as if no such disability existed; and no limitation of time provided by this act shall run against any such person Guardian for minor or incompetent.

under twenty-one years of age or incompetent unless and until such guardian or trustee is appointed. The commission shall have power to determine the fact of the minority or incompetency of any injured employee and may appoint a trustee to receive and disburse compensation payments for the benefit of such minor or incompetent and his family.

Refusal to submit to medical treatment

(e) No compensation shall be payable in case of the death or disability of an employee if his death is caused, or if and so far as his disability is caused, continued, or aggravated, by an unreasonable refusal to submit to medical treatment, or to any surgical treatment, the risk of which is, in the opinion of the commission, based upon expert medical or surgical advice, inconsiderable in view of the seriousness of the injury.

Previous disability does not affect later disability

(f) The fact that an employee has suffered a previous disability, or receives compensation therefor, shall not preclude him from compensation for a later injury, or his dependents from compensation for death resulting therefrom, but in determining compensation for the later injury, or death resulting therefrom, his average annual earnings shall be fixed at such sum as will reasonably represent his annual earning capacity at the time of the later injury.

Payments due employee

(g) Any payment, allowance or benefit received by the injured employee during the period of his incapacity, or by his dependents in the event of his death, which by the terms of this act was not then due and payable or when there is any dispute or question concerning the right to compensation, shall not, in the absence of any agreement, be construed to be an admission of liability for compensation on the part of the employer, or the acceptance thereof as a waiver of any right or claim which the employee or his dependents may have against the employer, but any such payment, allowance or benefit may be taken into account by the commission in fixing the amount of the compensation to be paid.

Affirmative defense

(h) The running of the period of limitations prescribed by this section is an affirmative defense and operates to bar the remedy and not to extinguish the right of the employee. It may be waived, and failure to present such defense prior to the submission of the case for decision shall be a sufficient waiver.

Serious and wilful misconduct of employer

(i) Proceedings for collection of compensation on the ground of serious and wilful misconduct of the employer under provisions of section 6 (b) must be commenced within twelve months from date of injury, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding. No payment of compensation or agreement therefor, or filing of application for compensation benefits under other provisions of this act shall extend such period of limitation.

SECTION 1. Section 224 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1927.
p 1196

224. A legitimate child can not be adopted without the consent of its parents if living, nor an illegitimate child without the consent of its mother if living, except that consent is not necessary in the following cases: Consent to adoption

1. When a father or mother has been judicially deprived of the custody and control of such child by order of the juvenile court, declaring such child to be free from the custody and control of his parents as provided in the "Juvenile court law," approved June 15, 1915, or any act or acts superseding or amending the same.

2. Where the father or mother of any child has deserted the child without provision for its identification.

224m. The father or mother may relinquish a child for adoption by a written statement signed before two subscribing witnesses and acknowledged before the secretary or assistant secretaries of an organization licensed by the state department of social welfare to find homes for children and place children in homes for adoption. Such relinquishment, when reciting that the person making it is entitled to the sole custody of the minor shall when duly acknowledged before such officer be prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and such person's sole right to relinquish. Relinquishment for adoption

In cases where a father or mother of a child resides outside the State of California and such child is being cared for and is placed for adoption by an organization licensed by the state department of social welfare to place children for adoption, such father or mother may relinquish the child to that organization by a written statement signed by such father or mother before a notary on a form prescribed by the organization, and previously signed by the secretary or assistant secretary of the organization, which signifies the willingness of such organization to accept the relinquishment.

The relinquishment authorized by this section shall be of no effect whatsoever until a certified copy is filed with the state department of social welfare.

Stats 1937,
p 1197

SEC. 3. Section 226 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Petition for adoption

226 Any person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose petition the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides and the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the state department of social welfare at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the action. In all cases in which consent is required, except in the case of an adoption by a step-parent where one natural parent retains his or her custody and control of the child, unless a society licensed by the state department of social welfare to find homes for children and place children in homes for adoption joins in the petition for adoption, the consent for adoption must be signed in the presence of an agent of the state department of social welfare on a form prescribed by such department and filed with the clerk of the superior court, in the county of the petitioner's residence.

Consent

consent

Such consent, when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to the sole custody of the minor child, shall, when duly acknowledged before such agent, be prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and such person's sole right to consent.

Duty of department of social welfare.

In all cases of adoption in which no agency licensed to place children for adoption is a party, except in the case of an adoption by a step parent where one natural parent retains his or her custody and control of the child, it shall be the duty of the department of social welfare to ascertain whether the child is a proper subject for adoption and whether the proposed home is suitable for the child, prior to accepting the consent of a natural parent to the adoption of the child by the petitioner.

Appeal

If the department of social welfare refuses to accept the consent of the natural parent, for adoption, on the ground that the best interests of the child will not be promoted by the proposed adoption, said parent may appeal from said refusal to the superior court of the county in which the petition is filed, in which event the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the department of social welfare which shall within ten days file a report of its findings as to refusal to accept consent. After the filing of said findings, the court may allow the signing of consent in open court.

In all cases in which consent is not necessary and no society licensed to place children for adoption is a party to the petition, the state department of social welfare must, prior to the hearing of the petition, file its consent to the adoption with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the petition is filed. Such consent shall not be given by the department of social welfare unless the child's welfare will be promoted by the adoption.

Where consent of parent unnecessary

Except in the case of the adoption of a child by a step-parent where one natural parent retains his or her custody and control of the child, it shall be the duty of the department of social welfare to submit to the court a full report of the facts disclosed by its inquiry with a recommendation regarding the granting of the petition.

Duty of department of social welfare

In case of an adoption of a child by a step-parent where one natural parent retains his or her custody and control of said child, the consent of either or both parents may be signed in the presence of and filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county where the petition is filed and the clerk shall file a certified copy of such consent to adoption with the state department of social welfare.

Adoption by step-parent

If the father or mother of a child to be adopted resides outside the State of California, his or her consent may be signed before a notary and in such case the consent of the department of social welfare will also be necessary.

Consent of nonresident parents

A parent who is a minor shall have the right to sign a consent for the adoption of his or her child and such consent shall not be subject to revocation upon such parent reaching his or her majority.

Minor parents

SEC. 4. Section 227 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1927, p 1197

227. The person or persons desiring to adopt a child, and the child proposed to be adopted, must appear before the court. The court must examine all persons appearing before it pursuant to this section, each separately, and if satisfied that the interests of the child will be promoted by the adoption, the party or parties adopting shall execute or acknowledge an agreement in writing that the child shall be treated in all respects as the lawful child of the party or parties, and the court shall thereupon make an order awarding the custody of the child to the adopting parent or parents. The petition, relinquishment, agreement and order must be filed in the office of the county clerk and shall not be open to inspection by any other than the parties to the action and their attorneys and the state department of social welfare except upon the written authority of the judge of the superior court.

Also, the court may, in its discretion, refer such a suit to the state water commission for investigation of and report upon any one or more or all of the physical facts involved, in which event, said commission may, in its discretion, base its report solely upon its own investigation or investigations or in addition thereto may hold a hearing or hearings and take testimony and the report filed by the commission upon such a reference for investigation by it shall be prima facie evidence of the physical facts therein found; provided, however, that the court shall hear such evidence as may be offered by any party to rebut such report of the state water commission or such prima facie evidence.

Report

The report of the state water commission as referee may contain such an opinion upon the law and the facts as may be deemed proper by it in view of the issues submitted and shall set forth such findings of fact and conclusions of law as may be required by the court's order of reference. Before filing its report the commission shall announce it in the form of a draft of which it shall give notice, together with a copy of its opinion and findings of fact and conclusions of law, to the parties or their attorneys by mail. Within thirty days after the aforesaid date of mailing any party may file objections with the commission to the draft so announced and after such objections have been considered by the commission or a hearing held thereon if deemed advisable by the commission, it shall file its report as referee with the clerk of the court and give notice by mail of the filing of its report to the parties or their attorneys. The report of the state water commission as referee shall be subject to review by the court upon exceptions thereto filed with the clerk of the court within thirty days after date of the filing thereof, provided that no exception shall be considered except in the court's discretion, or for good cause shown, unless it shall appear that the matter of the exception had theretofore been presented to the commission in the form of an objection.

Said total expense shall be equitably apportioned by the commission against the parties to the suit and a statement thereof and of said apportionment shall be included in the commission's report to the court. The apportionments so made and reported shall be paid by the respective parties, or their successors in interest, in the amounts so allocated, after the filing of said report and within thirty days after mailing of notice by the commission to the respective parties or their attorneys, provided, however, that upon application in writing by any party aggrieved within said thirty-day period, the court shall after expiration of said time set a hearing for the determination of any objection or objections to the expense of a reference or to the apportionment thereof and the clerk of the court shall, at least ten days prior to the date of such hearing, give notice thereof by mail to all parties or their attorneys. Parties failing to object to the expense of a reference

Upon the hearing of an objection or objections to the expense of a reference or the apportionment thereof the court shall determine the issues involved relative to the expense of a reference and the apportionment thereof and enter a final order determining said expense and its allocation as the court may deem equitable. All apportionments shall be paid after entry of such an order of the court and within thirty days after notice of said order mailed by the commission to the parties or their attorneys. Execution shall issue in favor of the commission and against any party delinquent upon application therefor by the commission in like manner and with like effect as in instances of writs of execution upon a final judgment. If the funds available for use by the commission are inadequate to permit of its advancing the expense of a reference, or if in the opinion of the commission the payment of the expense of any reference under the procedure above set forth will not be reasonably certain, it shall in any such instances refuse to undertake a reference unless and until adequate provision shall be made by the parties and approved by the court whereby payments shall be made to the commission to meet its expenses.

The terms “cemetery association” and “association” are herein used interchangeably and shall mean any corporation now or hereafter organized which is or shall be authorized by its articles to conduct any one or more or all of the businesses of a cemetery.

“Directors” as herein used, means the board of directors, board of trustees or other governing body of the cemetery association.

The term “plot owner,” “owner,” or “lot proprietor” as herein used, means any person in whose name a burial plot stands of record, as owner, in the office of the association, or who holds from such association a deed or certificate of ownership.

SEC. 3. Authority to corporations. Any private corporation, now or hereafter organized, and authorized by its articles so to do, may establish, maintain, manage, improve, and/or operate a cemetery and conduct any one or more or all of the businesses of a cemetery, either for or without profit to its members or stockholders.

SEC. 4. Cemeteries must incorporate. It shall be unlawful for any corporation, copartnership, firm, trust, association, or individual to engage in or transact any of the businesses of a cemetery within this state except by means of a corporation duly organized for such purpose.

SEC. 5. No crematory without provision for completion of permanent interment. No crematory shall conduct, or shall hereafter be constructed, established, or authorized to conduct, any business unless there be in connection therewith in the same fireproof building or structure or in a separate fireproof building within the same burial park within which the same is situated, either a columbarium amply equipped for the permanent deposit therein of cremated remains of the bodies cremated thereat, or a burial park or mausoleum wherein the cremated remains may be placed in completion of the permanent interment thereof, and all cremated remains not removed for permanent deposit elsewhere must be permanently interred in either a grave, crypt or niche within a reasonable time after date of such cremation.

Acquisition
of property

SEC. 6. Acquisition of property. Cemetery associations may take by purchase, donation or devise, property, consisting of lands, mausoleums, crematories and columbariums, and/or other property within which the permanent interment of the dead shall be authorized by law. Such cemetery association may execute a declaration acknowledged by the president and secretary or other authorized officer or officers, so as to entitle it to be recorded, describing said property and declaring its intention to use said property or any part thereof for interment purposes, which declaration it may file for record in the office of the recorder of the county wherein the property is situated, and from the date of such filing the same shall be constructive notice of the use for which such property is intended.

Dedication.

SEC. 7. Dedication. Every cemetery association, from time to time as its property may be required for interment purposes, shall:

(a) In case of land, survey and subdivide such land into sections, blocks, lots, avenues, walks and/or other subdivisions; make a good and substantial map or plat thereof showing said sections, lots, avenues, walks and/or other subdivisions, with descriptive names or numbers; and/or (b) in case of a mausoleum and/or crematory and columbarium it shall make a good and substantial map or plat thereof on which shall be delineated the sections, halls, rooms, corridors, elevators and/or other divisions thereof with their descriptive names and numbers; and shall file such map or plat in the office of the recorder of the county in which such property or some part thereof is situated, and shall also file for record in such county recorder's office a written certificate or declaration of dedication of the property delineated, on said plat or map, dedicating the same exclusively to cemetery purposes. Which certificate or declaration shall be in such form as the directors or officers may prescribe, and shall be subscribed by the president or vice president and the secretary of the association, or such other person or persons as the board of directors may authorize and acknowledge so as to entitle it to be recorded; and upon the filing of said plat and the filing of said certificate for record, the dedication of said property shall be complete for all the purposes of this title, and thereafter such property shall be held, occupied and used exclusively for a cemetery and for cemetery purposes. Provided, however, that when reservation is made therefor in the certificate or declaration of dedication, any part or subdivision of the property so mapped and platted may, by order of the directors, be resurveyed and altered in shape and size and an amended map or plat thereof filed, so long as such change does not disturb the remains of any deceased person interred therein. Such filed map and recorded declaration shall constitute and be constructive notice to all persons of the dedication of such property to interment purposes.

It shall be the duty of the county recorder of the county in which such map is filed to number and file such map or plat and to index the same in the general index, giving reference to date of filing and number so that the same may be easily found, for which service the recorder shall receive a fee of one dollar.

It shall also be the duty of the county recorder of the county in which such declaration of dedication is filed to record the same in the official records of his office and index the same in the general index for which service the recorder shall receive a fee of one dollar.

SEC. 8. Dedication supreme until removed by court. After such property is so dedicated to cemetery purposes neither the dedication, nor the title of a plot owner, shall ever be affected by the dissolution of the association, or by nonuser on its part, or by alienation of the property, or by any incumbrances thereon, or by sale under execution, or otherwise, and such dedication shall not be deemed or held invalid as violating any existing laws against perpetuities or the suspension of the power of alienation of title to or use of property, but such dedication is hereby expressly permitted and shall be and shall be deemed to be in respect for the dead, a provision for the disposition of the bodies of deceased persons, and a duty to, and for the benefit of, the general public; and said property shall be held and used exclusively for cemetery purposes, unless and until the dedication shall be removed by an order and decree of the superior court of the county in which the same is situated, in a proceeding brought therefor, as in this act hereafter provided upon notice and proof satisfactory to the court that all bodies have been removed therefrom, or that no interments were made therein, and that the same is no longer used or required for interment purposes.

SEC. 9. Dedicated cemetery property exempt from condemnation and public improvement assessment. After such dedication, and as long as said property shall remain dedicated to cemetery purposes, no railroad, street, road, alley, pipe line, pole line, or other public thoroughfare or utility whatsoever shall ever be laid out, through, over or across any part thereof without the consent of the directors of the cemetery association owning and operating the same, or of not less than two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the owners of burial plots therein, and all of such property, including roads, alleys, and walks therein, shall be exempt from public improvement assessments, and shall not be liable to be sold on execution or applied in payment of debts due from individual owners of burial plots therein.

SEC. 10. Sale of property for interment purposes. After filing the map or plat and recording the certificate or declaration of dedication, and subject to its rules and regulations and/or to such limitations, conditions and restrictions, as may be inserted in or by reference made a part of the instrument of conveyance, the cemetery association may sell and convey the burial plots to purchasers. All lots, sections or parts thereof, the use of which has been so conveyed by deed or certificate of ownership as a separate plot, shall be indivisible except with the consent of the cemetery association, or as shall be provided by law. All conveyances made by the cemetery association shall be signed by the president or the vice president and the secretary or other officers authorized by the cemetery association.

Property

SEC. 11. Property rights. All lots, plots and burial space so conveyed shall be presumed to be the sole and separate property of the person or persons named as grantee in the instrument of conveyance; provided, however, that the wife or husband shall have a vested right of interment of his or her body in any burial plot so conveyed to the other, which right shall continue as long as he or she shall remain the wife or husband of the plot owner or shall be his or her wife or husband at the time of such plot owner's demise. No conveyance or other action without the joinder therein or by written consent attached thereto shall divest such husband or wife of such vested right of interment; provided, however, that a final decree of divorce between them shall terminate such vested right of interment unless it shall be otherwise provided by such decree of divorce.

In all conveyances to two or more persons as joint tenants each joint tenant shall have a vested right of interment of his or her remains in the plot so conveyed. Upon the death of a joint tenant, the title to the burial plot theretofore held in joint tenancy immediately vests in the survivor or survivors, subject to the vested right of interment for the remains of the deceased joint tenant owner.

A vested right of interment as in this section provided may be waived and shall be terminated upon the interment elsewhere of the remains of a person entitled thereto under this section.

Inalienable
by Interment.

SEC. 12. Inalienable by interment. Whenever an interment is made in a burial plot which has been transferred by deed or certificate of ownership to an individual owner and said owner dies without making specific disposition of such burial plot in his will, or by a written declaration filed and recorded in the office of the cemetery association, upon the death of such owner the whole of such burial plot thereby becomes inalienable and shall be held as the family burial plot of the owner, in which one grave, niche or crypt may be used for the owner's interment, one for the surviving husband or wife, if any, of the owner who by law has a vested right of interment therein, and in those remaining, if any, the parents and/or children of such deceased owner, in the order of need, may be interred without the consent of any person claiming any interest therein. In the event there shall be no parent or child surviving such deceased person, the right of interment therein shall go to the next heirs at law of said deceased owner as specified by the statutes of descent. Any surviving wife or husband, and any parent, child or heir of such deceased owner may waive his or her right to interment in said plot in favor of any other relative of such deceased owner, or of his wife, and upon such waiver the body of the person in whose favor the waiver is made may be interred therein.

If no interment shall have been made in a burial plot which has been transferred by deed or certificate of ownership to an individual owner by the association, or if all the bodies shall have been lawfully removed therefrom, in the absence of the specific disposition thereof by the owner's last will and testament, the whole of said burial plot, except the one grave, niche or crypt which must be reserved to the surviving husband or wife of the owner, shall upon the death of said owner descend in regular line of succession to the heirs at law of the owner.

SEC. 13. Inalienable by conveyance. A cemetery association may take and hold any plot conveyed or devised to it by the plot owner so that thereafter it will be inalienable, and the interments therein shall be restricted to such person or persons as may be designated in the conveyance or devise.

Inalienable
by conveyance

SEC. 14. Representative for joint ownership plot. When there are several owners of a burial plot, or of rights of interment therein, such owners may designate one or more persons to represent said plot and file written notice of such designation with the cemetery association; in the absence of such notice or of written objection to its so doing, the cemetery association shall not be liable to any owner for interring or permitting an interment therein upon the request or direction of any registered coowner of such plot.

tive for

SEC. 15. Rules and regulations. The cemetery association may make, adopt and enforce rules and regulations for the use, care, control, management, restriction and protection of its cemetery, and of all parts and subdivisions thereof; for restricting and limiting the use of all property within its cemetery; for regulating the uniformity, class and kind of all markers, monuments, and other structures within said cemetery and subdivisions thereof and/or prohibiting the erection of monuments, markers and/or other structures in or upon any and/or all portions of such property; for regulating and/or preventing monuments, effigies and structures within any and/or all portions of the cemetery grounds and for the removal thereof; for regulating or preventing the introduction and/or care of plants or shrubs within such grounds; for the prevention of interment in any part thereof of a body not entitled to interment therein; for preventing the use of burial plots for purposes violative of its restrictions; for regulating the conducts of persons and preventing improper assemblages therein; and for all other purposes deemed necessary by the board of directors for the proper conduct of the business of the association and the protection and safe-guarding of the premises, and the principles, plans and ideals on which the cemetery was organized; and from time to time may amend, add to, revise, change and/or modify such rules and regulations. Such rules and regulations shall be plainly printed or typewritten and regulations

maintained subject to inspection in the office of the association or in such place or places within the cemetery as the directors may prescribe. The directors may prescribe penalties for the violation of any rule or regulation which penalties may be recoverable by the association in a civil action.

General perpetual care

SEC. 16. General perpetual care. Every cemetery association which has established and is now maintaining, operating and conducting a cemetery, and every association which shall hereafter establish, maintain, operate and/or conduct a cemetery, within this state pursuant to this act, is hereby authorized to establish, maintain and operate an irreducible fund for the general perpetual care of its cemetery and to place its cemetery under perpetual care. The principal of all funds for perpetual care shall forever remain irreducible and inviolable and shall be maintained separate and distinct from all other funds. The principal of such fund shall be invested, from time to time reinvested, and kept invested as authorized by law for the investment of such funds, and the income arising therefrom shall be used solely for the general care, maintenance and embellishment of the cemetery for which the fund is established, and shall be applied in such manner as the board of directors may from time to time determine to be for the best interest of the cemetery for which such fund is established.

Plans in
in deed

In establishing its perpetual care fund, the association may from time to time adopt plans for the general care, maintenance and embellishment of its cemetery, and charge and collect from all subsequent purchasers of burial plots therein such reasonable sum or sums as, in the judgment of the board of directors of the association, will aggregate a fund, the reasonable income from which will perpetually provide such care, maintenance and embellishment. Upon payment of the purchase price and the amount fixed as a proportionate contribution for perpetual care, there may be included in the deed of conveyance or by separate instrument an agreement perpetually to care in accord with the plan so adopted for such cemetery and its appurtenances to the proportionate extent the income received by the association from such amount will permit. Such association also, upon the application of an owner of any plot, and upon the payment by him of the amount fixed as reasonable and proportionate therefor, may enter into a like agreement with him for the like care of his plot and its appurtenances.

Trustees of perpetual care fund

The board of directors may by resolution appoint a board of trustees of not less than three in number as trustees of its perpetual care fund. The members of the board of trustees shall hold office subject to the direction of the board of directors. The directors of the association may be the trustee of its perpetual care fund. When such fund is in the care of the board of directors as such board of trustees the secretary of the association shall act as its secretary and keep a true record of all of its proceedings. No sum in excess of five per cent (5%) of the income derived from such fund in any year shall be paid or allowed as compensation to the board of trustees for its services as such trustee.

Such trustees must, annually, and within thirty days after Report. the end of the calendar or fiscal year of said association, make, render to and file with the association a true and correct report in writing, verified by the oath of one or more of such trustees, which report shall show the actual financial condition of the trust, as shall be required by the association.

A cemetery association which has established a perpetual care fund may also take, receive and hold therefor and as a part thereof or as incident thereto any property, real, personal or mixed, bequeathed, devised, granted, given or otherwise contributed to it therefor.

The perpetual care fund authorized by this section and all Status of perpetual care fund sums paid therein or contributed thereto are, and each thereof is, hereby expressly permitted and shall be and be deemed to be for charitable and eleemosynary purposes. Such perpetual care shall be deemed to be a provision for the discharge of a duty due from the person or persons contributing thereto to the persons interred and to be interred in the cemetery and likewise a provision for the benefit and protection of the public by preserving and keeping cemeteries from becoming unkept and places of reproach and desolation in the communities in which they are situated. No payment, gift, grant, bequest or other contribution for such general perpetual care shall be or be deemed to be invalid by reason of any indefiniteness or uncertainty of the persons designated as beneficiaries in the instruments creating said trust, nor shall said fund or any contribution thereto be or be deemed to be invalid as violating any law against perpetuities or the suspension of the power of alienation of title to property.

SEC. 17. False representation a misdemeanor. Every person, firm and/or corporation who shall sell, offer for sale or advertise any cemetery plot under representation that such plot is under perpetual care, before a perpetual care fund has been established for the cemetery in which such property so sold, offered for sale or advertised is situated, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. False representation a misdemeanor

SEC. 18. Perpetual care for old cemeteries. Whenever a majority of the lots, as platted or laid out in any cemetery heretofore established or any part thereof, has been sold without the owner having made provision for the establishment of an adequate perpetual care fund for the perpetual care, maintenance and embellishment of such cemetery or such part thereof, the avenues, walks, driveways, alleys, streets and parks therein may be vacated or altered and replatted into lots which may be sold for interment purposes in the following manner: Perpetual care for old cemeteries

Application for the alteration or vacation of any alley, street, avenue, walk, driveway and/or park and for the replatting of the same, or any portion thereof for cemetery lots in such cemetery shall be made to the superior court in Procedure the county in which the property or some portion thereof is situated. Such application may be by the association owning or operating the cemetery or should there be no association operating the cemetery, by a group of twenty or more persons owning lots or plots therein. Such petition shall be verified and shall specify the facts of such ownership and shall state the reasons for the proposed change and what provisions have theretofore been made for the perpetual care of said cemetery, and there shall be presented therewith a plat of said cemetery together with the proposed replat which shall have clearly indicated thereon the proposed changes. Such petition shall be filed with the clerk of said superior court as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure for filing petitions for the probate of estates, and the clerk shall fix the time for the hearing thereof, and shall set the same for hearing not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the date of filing, and notice thereof shall be given by publishing a copy of such notice in a newspaper of general circulation nearest such cemetery in the county in which such property is situated, once a week for a period of three consecutive weeks prior to the date of hearing and copies of such notice shall also be posted in three conspicuous places within the cemetery. Such notice shall be addressed to all persons owning lots in said cemetery or interested therein but need not name them, and shall set forth in a general way the proposed changes, the reasons stated in the application for making the same, the time when the hearing of the petition will be had, and shall state that a plat showing the proposed changes is on file with the clerk of said court.

Notice

At the time specified for the hearing, the court shall hear and consider any evidence introduced in favor of such changes and all objections thereto and may allow such proposed change and replat in whole or in part or may order and allow modifications thereof.

Hearing

The association or other person directed by the court shall accept such newly created lots and shall sell and convey such lots only for interment purposes at a price not less than the price fixed by the court. Not less than seventy per cent (70%) of all funds derived from the sale of such lots shall be placed in an irreducible and perpetual fund and the interest therefrom shall be used for the perpetual care, maintenance and embellishment of such cemetery.

Prior rights of adjacent owners

The vacation of an alley, roadway, walk, driveway, street or parking adjacent to a privately owned plot shall vest no interest in the owner of such plot to the vacated portion; but such adjacent owner shall, for ten days after the date of the order of vacation, have the right to purchase the new lot or plot at the price fixed by the court therefor, or if there be more than one adjacent lot owner then the new lot or lots will be sold to the one offering the highest price therefor. In allowing damage to any lot owner for such vacation, the court shall take into consideration the benefit to be received from perpetual care.

The provisions of this section are hereby declared to be a necessary exercise of the police power of the State of California in order to preserve and keep existing cemeteries as resting places for the dead and to preserve cemeteries from becoming unkept and places of reproach and desolation in the communities in which they are located. The taking of roads, walks, avenues, driveways, streets and parks for the purposes and by the method in this section specified, regardless of the private character of the association or person applying therefor, is hereby declared an exercise of the right of eminent domain in behalf of the public health, safety, comfort, pleasure, protection and historic instruction to present and future generations. Provided, however, that the authority herein granted shall not apply to cemeteries which have been abandoned and/or in which interments have been prohibited by law.

Declaration of policy

SEC. 19. Investment of perpetual care funds. Perpetual care funds shall not be used for any other purpose than to provide through the income only therefrom the perpetual care stipulated in the resolution, by-law or other action or instrument by which the fund was created or established, and it shall be the duty of the board of directors of the association in charge thereof, and its duly appointed trustee or trustees to invest, reinvest and keep such funds invested in bonds of the United States or the State of California, or of any county, city and county, or city of the State of California, or in first mortgages or first trust deeds on improved real estate, or in centrally located income producing improved real estate in any city or city and county in this state, or in bonds legal for investment for savings banks in this state, or in investment certificates in any building and loan association organized, existing and doing business under the laws of this state.

Provided, however, that where any deceased leaves an estate in this state, the reasonable cost of his or her interment, burial plot and memorial, proportionate to the value of said estate and appropriate to his or her station in life while living together with interest thereon from the date of such interment, shall be a lien upon his or her said estate and payable as a preferred claim out of said estate; and provided further that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prohibit any relative or friend of said deceased from assuming the duty of interring said deceased or from paying the expense thereof.

Estate allowance

SEC. 22. Estate allowance. The superior court may allow out of the estate of a decedent a reasonable sum together with interest thereon from the date of such interment, for a suitable burial plot and/or memorial for such decedent proportionate to the value of the estate and the standard of living the decedent had followed, and in addition thereto, a reasonable sum for perpetual care thereof.

Records of interments

SEC. 23. Records of interments. A record shall be kept of every interment in the cemetery showing the date the body was received, the date of interment, the name and age of the person interred, when these particulars can be conveniently obtained, and the plot and the grave, niche, crypt, or vault therein, in which such interment was made. Such person or persons shall deliver to the cemetery association operating the cemetery from which such remains were removed, a true, full and complete copy of such record.

SEC. 24. Removals. If the consent of any such person or of the association can not be obtained, permission by the superior court of the county where the cemetery is situated shall be sufficient. Notice of application to the court for such permission must be given, at least ten days prior thereto, personally, or at least fifteen days prior thereto if by mail, to the cemetery association, and to the persons not consenting, and to every other person or association on whom service of notice may be required by the court. Provided that this provision shall not apply to or prohibit the removal of any remains from one plot to another in the same cemetery or the removal of remains by the cemetery association from a plot for which the purchase price is past due and unpaid, to some other suitable place. Neither shall this provision apply to the disinterment of remains upon order of court or coroner.

in the name of the cemetery association, to pay all such damages as have been occasioned by his unlawful act or acts, which, when recovered shall be applied in payment for the reparation and restoration of the property so injured or destroyed. Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to the removal or unavoidable breakage or injury, by the cemetery association, of anything placed in or upon any portion of such cemetery in violation of any of the rules or regulations of the cemetery association owning or operating the same, or to the removal of anything placed in said cemetery by or with the consent of the association which has become in a wrecked, unsightly or dilapidated condition.

SEC. 28. The provisions of that certain act of the Legislature approved June 5, 1923, relating to the abandonment of cemeteries and parts thereof, entitled "An act authorizing the board of supervisors or other governing body of any incorporated city, or city and county having a population of more than one hundred thousand persons, to order the disinterment and removal of all human bodies interred in any cemetery of more than five acres in extent, or from a part thereof, situate within the boundaries of such city, or city and county, and directing the reinterment of such bodies in cemeteries outside the limits of such city, or city and county, or the depositing of the same in a mausoleum or columbarium, whenever the further maintenance of such cemetery or part thereof as a burial place for the human dead threatens or endangers the health, safety, comfort or welfare of the public, and providing a mode of procedure under and by which such removals may, when so ordered, be made by the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person governing or controlling such cemetery lands, or by the relatives or friends of those whose bodies are buried therein, and providing for the sale, mortgage or pledge of cemetery lands from which the human bodies are removed"; and the provisions of section 10 of said act, as amended by an act of the Legislature approved June 14, 1929, are hereby continued in full force and effect, and said act as amended is hereby approved, adopted and enacted as section 28 of this act, as fully as if copied herein. Nothing contained herein shall affect proceedings heretofore commenced for the disinterment, removal and reinterment of the remains of the dead under the provisions of said act approved June 5, 1923, as amended by said act approved June 14, 1929, but all such proceedings heretofore commenced may be prosecuted regardless of any provisions of this act, and the bodies of the dead in the cemeteries of the class mentioned in said act approved May 20, 1923, as amended, may be disinterred, removed and reinterred pursuant to the provisions of said last mentioned act; provided, however, that the time prescribed by any municipal ordinance heretofore enacted pursuant to the provisions of the above-mentioned act for the disinterment and removal of bodies from any such cemetery, is hereby extended for the period of two years from the date of approval of this act by the governor. Such time may be further extended by the superior court of the county, in which such cemetery is located, upon good cause shown upon application for such extension by the person, corporation, association or corporation sole owning or controlling such cemetery. When by any law or ordinance the bodies buried in any cemetery must be removed therefrom and reinterred elsewhere, no county, town or political subdivision wherein the reinterment of disinterred remains takes place, shall charge for any permit or levy a tax of any nature for the reinterment, cremation or replacing in a mausoleum of such disinterred remains.

Said engineer shall ascertain and determine the practicability, feasibility, and utility of the proposed project set forth in said petition, and for that purpose may make, or cause to be made, all necessary studies, examinations, surveys, plans, and estimates of cost, and in connection therewith said state engineer may employ all necessary engineers, attorneys, and other assistants, or acquire and use estimates, surveys, and reports theretofore made, for the accomplishment of said purposes, and the cost thereof shall not in the aggregate exceed a sum in dollars equal in amount to one-fourth the number of acres in such proposed district and shall be deemed a part of the expense of said project, and said state engineer shall issue warrants therefor which warrants shall be considered and treated in all respects as warrants of the district and which shall be payable out of the funds of said district when the organization thereof has been completed, and the same, if necessary, may be included in any bond issue authorized for the purposes of said district. If said district shall, as a result of any election hereinafter provided for, be not organized, any warrants so issued by said state engineer shall be a charge upon the undertaking, or undertakings, hereinbefore and in section 3 of this act provided for, and shall thereupon become due and payable by the sureties therein named, and the holders of said warrants shall have a cause of action against said sureties thereon.

Before levying any such additional assessment the board of directors shall pass a resolution declaring its intention so to do and in such resolution shall appoint a time not less than two weeks and not more than four weeks from the passage of such resolution of intention at which the matter of levying such additional assessment will be considered in open meeting. A copy of such resolution of intention shall be published once a week for at least two weeks before the time so appointed in a newspaper of general circulation in each county in which land within the district is located. At the time so appointed the board shall meet and in open meeting consider the matter of levying such additional assessment and hear any objection thereto and at or after such meeting may upon approval of the state engineer levy such additional assessment, if in its judgment the best interests of the district so require. Every assessment levied under this section shall constitute a lien upon the lands affected thereby, until the full amount thereof is paid, which lien shall be prior to all other liens, except state, county and municipal taxes and assessments, or taxes levied or assessed by or under statutory authority, and shall be collected in the same manner as other assessments provided for in this act.

Examina-

Sec. 16. The board of directors shall upon the organization of a resort district as in this act provided, proceed to make or cause to be made, all such examinations, surveys, detailed plans and specifications, and estimates of costs as may be necessary or requisite to enable said board of directors to ascertain and estimate the requirements and works necessary for the purpose of said resort district, and the probable cost and expense thereof, and to make a report thereof as hereinafter provided, in which connection said board may use and adopt all previous estimates, surveys, reports and other data it may have acquired or which are available to it, adapted to that purpose, and may employ all necessary engineers, attorneys and other assistants for the accomplishment of said purposes, and the cost thereof shall be deemed a part of the expense of said project, and such board may issue warrants therefor, which shall be payable out of the funds of said district and may be included in any bond issue authorized for the purposes of said district.

Acquisition
of property.

If the board of directors proposes to acquire any property of any kind or character, or any interest or easement therein for the purposes or use of said resort district by purchase or lease, or in any manner other than by condemnation proceedings, that fact shall be stated in their said report and a true copy or copies of any instrument or instruments evidencing

Property of public utility excluded.

Said board of directors may at their option segregate and divide the plans, specifications and estimates of cost into one or more units of construction, and may in said plan provide that one or more individual units of construction shall not be entered upon immediately, but shall be authorized and undertaken in such order and at such future time as the board of directors shall thereafter determine. Upon the completion of said examination and study of the proposed project by the said board of directors, the said board shall prepare and file in the office of the state engineer, and a true copy thereof in the office of the secretary of said board, a report thereof, in which said report shall be set forth in full and in detail the character and nature of the proposed works, a description of the rights to lands it will be necessary to acquire to carry said project to completion, accompanied by detailed plans and specifications, and a detailed estimate of the cost of said project, including the acquisition of all rights, necessary to the completion and operation thereof. The board of directors shall attach to said report a recommendation that said projects shall be carried out in accordance with the plans and specifications in said report contained, or that said project be abandoned. Such report when completed shall be signed by a majority of the board of directors, and entered in full upon the minutes of said board. If said board shall determine to segregate and divide the plans, specifications and estimates into more than one unit of construction, such plans, specifications and estimates shall be complete as to each unit, and the board shall in its report specify the particular unit or units the construction of which shall be immediately entered upon the particular unit or units reserved for future action. Report of proposed works

SEC. 17. If the said board of directors recommends that said project be abandoned the state engineer shall make such further investigation of said project as is in his judgment desirable and shall within sixty days after the filing of said report make and enter upon the records kept by him an order either (a) approving and confirming the said report and recommendation and declaring said project abandoned, which said order shall be without prejudice to the presentation of another petition covering the same matter, or (b) approving and adopting the said report but taking no action with respect to the said recommendation, and calling another election to be held in the district for the purpose of determining whether or not the recommendation of said board of directors shall be adopted or rejected. In the event the said Report by state engineer as to advisability of project.

Election

order so made and entered by the state engineer shall call an election, said state engineer shall within thirty days after the entry of said order give notice of such election. Said notice shall be published once a week for at least three weeks previous to such election in each county in which any land in the district is situated. Said notice shall require ballots to be cast, which shall contain the words "Completion of project—Yes" or "Completion of project—No." For the purposes of said election the state engineer at the time of calling said election shall in his order designate voting places and appoint three land holders of the district to act as a board of election at each voting place. Such election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the provisions of this act relating to general resort district elections, but no particular form of ballot shall be required. The qualification of voters at said election shall be the same as prescribed for the original election on organization of district, and the votes cast at said election shall be canvassed in the same manner as votes cast at said original election, and the result of such election shall be declared and entered of record in the minutes of the board. If such result shall show more than one-half of all the votes cast are "Completion of project—No," or that more than one-half of the qualified voters who voted at said election voted "Completion of project—No," the state engineer shall make and enter in his records an order declaring said project abandoned, and requiring all persons, except the holders of warrants issued pursuant to the provisions of this act and which have been duly presented for payment, having claims against said district, or proposed district, to file them with the necessary vouchers within three months from the making of said order in the office of said state engineer. Notice of said order requiring presentation of claims stating the time and place thereof shall be published in the county in which the office of the district is located by said state engineer once a week for four successive weeks, the first publication of which said notice shall be made within ten days after the making of said order. After all warrants issued under the provisions of this act which have been duly presented for payment and all claims that have been duly presented and have been allowed and approved by said state engineer or the board of directors of said district, have been paid, said state engineer shall forthwith cause a copy of said order declaring said project abandoned, duly certified by said state engineer, to be filed for record in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any portion of the land embraced in said district is situated, and from and after such filing said district shall be deemed dissolved and all liens which may have attached to any of the lands therein under any provisions of this act shall be discharged and any undertaking given pursuant thereto shall be annulled and of no further effect. If the canvass of the votes cast at such election show more than one-half of all votes cast are "Completion of project—Yes” and also shows that more than one-half of the qualified voters who voted at said election voted “Completion of project—Yes” said state engineer shall thereupon appoint the commissioners provided for in section 18 of this act and thereafter such proceedings shall be taken and followed as are provided in said section 18 and subsequent sections of this act.

SEC. 18. If the board of directors recommends that said project be carried out in accordance with the plans and specifications in its said report contained, the state engineer shall make such further investigation of such project as is in his judgment desirable and shall as soon as possible after the expiration of sixty days after the filing of said report make and enter upon the records kept by him an order either approving and confirming said report and recommendation or disapproving the same. Pending final approval or disapproval by the state engineer, the board of directors may amend, modify, or supplement their report and the plans, specifications and estimates and other matters accompanying the same, either on their initiative or in response to suggestions by the state engineer.

Further investigation by state engineer.

Immediately after making and recording such order, the state engineer shall call a district election for the purpose of determining whether such recommendation and report shall be adopted, such election to be noticed, held, and conducted and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as possible as provided in section 17 of this act, the notice of election to state whether such report and recommendation is approved or disapproved by the state engineer.

If the result of such election shows that more than one-half of all votes cast are “Completion of project—No” or that more than one-half of the qualified voters who voted at said election voted “Completion of project—No,” the project shall be deemed abandoned and proceedings shall be thereafter taken as provided in section 17 in case of abandonment. If the result of such election shows a majority of all votes cast are “Completion of project—Yes” and also shows that a majority of the qualified voters who voted at said election voted “Completion of project—Yes,” said report and recommendation shall be deemed to be adopted by the district. In case of the adoption of said report and recommendation the state engineer shall forthwith appoint three (3) commissioners whose duty it shall be to assess the cost of the project, or in the event said board shall have divided the project into units of construction, the cost of the unit or units specified for immediate construction, upon the benefited lands within the district, and the said cost shall be apportioned in accordance with the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land held in separate ownership in said district by reason of the expenditures of said sums of money, and the completion of the project, or such unit or units thereof as have been specified for immediate construction, such assessment to be in gold coin of the Election.

Commissioners to assess cost of project.

United States; and provided, further, that where any such tract of land consists of more than one section such apportionment to such tract of land shall be made according to legal subdivisions thereof or to other boundaries sufficient to identify the same in subdivisions not greater than one section in area, but any failure or defect in complying with this requirement shall not invalidate said apportionment or said assessment. One of said commissioners shall be a civil engineer, and none of said commissioners shall have any interest in any land in the district either directly or indirectly, and each commissioner before entering upon his duties shall take and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested directly or indirectly in any land in the district and that he will perform the duties of commissioner to the best of his ability, and said commissioners shall be paid as compensation for the services rendered by them such sum, or sums, as the state engineer shall fix and determine, which shall be considered a part of the cost of the project, and said state engineer may issue warrants therefor, which shall be payable out of the funds of said district and may be included in any bond issue authorized for the purposes of said district. The said commissioners shall receive from the board of directors of the district a copy of the detailed plans, specifications, and estimate of the costs of the project, which have been duly filed with the state engineer. The said commissioners shall thereupon prepare and certify to the state engineer in triplicate rolls which shall contain:

Oath of commissioners

Assessment rolls

(1) A description of each tract held in separate ownership by legal subdivisions, governmental surveys or other boundaries sufficient to identify the same; provided, however, that if any area composed of more than one tract held in separate ownership is not assessed because the lands therein will not be benefited by the expenditure of the funds to be raised by the assessment, a description of such area as a whole without a description of each tract thereof shall be sufficient;

(2) The number of acres in each tract;

(3) The name and address of the owner of each tract, if known, and if unknown, that fact, but no mistake or error in the name of the owner or supposed owner of the property assessed, and no mistake in any other particular, shall render the assessment thereof invalid;

(4) The rate per acre of such assessment upon each tract assessed or if no assessment is made upon any tract, or area composed of more than one tract, a statement of that fact;

(5) The total amount of the assessment as computed;

(6) Any other statement which may be required by the state engineer and as to which notice is given in writing to the commissioners at the time of transmitting the plans and specifications and costs of the work for the district before mentioned.

The roll shall be separately made for lands lying within different counties contained within said district. Said rolls when completed shall be accompanied by the written report of the commissioners wherein is set out with particularity the exact nature and quantum of the benefits so assessed. In such report lands embraced within a comprehensive area or a political subdivision of the state may be referred to generally as lands lying within such area or subdivision without further description.

Said rolls when completed shall be duly certified by said commissioners and forthwith by them filed in the office of the state engineer. Said state engineer shall forthwith transmit two copies of said rolls to the board of directors of said district, who shall file one copy in their records and thereupon transmit to the county treasurer of each county within such district that portion of the roll relating to the lands within such county. Thereafter the directors of the resort district in which the lands described in said rolls are situated shall become and constitute a board, in the nature of a board of equalization, which shall be known and designated as the "adjustment board" and whose functions shall be to consider and act upon objections, if any, presented as herein provided to the assessment made by said commissioners. For that purpose said adjustment board shall thereupon appoint times and places not less than thirty days after said rolls have been filed in the records of said board of directors when and where it will meet within each county wherein lands of said district are situated for the purpose of hearing objections to said assessments, and notice of such hearing shall be published at least once a week for two successive weeks in each county in which any land within said district may be situated. Said objections, if any, must be in writing verified and filed with the state engineer, and shall set forth the grounds of such objections. Such verification shall be made by the affidavit of the objector or some other person who is familiar with the facts. Said adjustment board may postpone such hearings from time to time. At such hearings the adjustment board shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the correctness of such assessment, and may modify, amend, or approve the said assessment in any particular and may reapportion the whole or any part thereof; provided, however, that no assessment shall be increased except after personal notice or notice by registered mail given to the owner, if known, by depositing in the post office at the place in which the office of said district is located, in a sealed envelope addressed to each of such owners at his last known, if any, place of residence or business, otherwise at the county seat of the county in which any portion of his lands are situated, with full postage paid, at least two weeks before said hearing, or if unknown by publication at least once a week for two successive weeks in the county in which said land in the district may be located, and upon a hearing of objections thereto if made.

Said adjustment board, after said hearings, must make an order approving such assessment as finally fixed or modified, which order shall be filed with and entered in the records of the state engineer, and the apportionment and determination of said adjustment board shall be final and conclusive, and no action or defense shall ever be maintained attacking the same in any respect. Two copies of said assessment roll as finally fixed and approved by the adjustment board shall be forthwith certified by the secretary, and the secretary shall file one copy in the records of the board of directors, and thereupon immediately transmit to the county treasurer of each county within such district that portion of the roll relating to the lands within such county together with a copy of the order of approval of such assessment roll by said adjustment board. Thereafter said assessment roll shall be conclusive evidence before any court or tribunal that said assessment has been made and levied according to law.

Lien.

When the secretary shall file with the county treasurer of a county within such district the said assessment list or roll as finally approved as hereinbefore provided the charges assessed thereby upon the several tracts of land within the county shall constitute a lien thereon which shall be prior to all other liens except state, county and municipal taxes, and assessments or taxes levied or assessed by or under statutory authority and shall impart notice thereof to all persons. Where bonds of such district have been issued upon any such assessment no act or conduct on the part of such board of directors, or any officer herein mentioned, shall invalidate any such assessment after the same shall have become a lien in the manner herein provided.

Units of construction

In the event of the division of the project into units of construction, and the specification of one or more units for future construction, the board of directors shall at such time as it shall determine upon the construction of any such unit or units, pass a resolution to that effect and cause a certified copy thereof to be transmitted to the state engineer. At such time the board may amend the plans, specifications and estimates of costs of such unit or units by making such changes therein, modifications thereof, and additions thereto, as it shall deem desirable, and in the event of any such change, modification, or addition, the board shall cause to be filed with the state engineer, the plans, specifications and estimates of costs of such unit or units as amended. Upon receipt by the state engineer, of such certified copy of resolution and such amended plans, specifications and estimates of cost, if any, the same proceedings for levying, approving and collecting an assessment to meet the cost of the unit or units to be constructed shall be had as hereinbefore provided for an assessment to meet the cost of the unit or units first constructed.

Reapportionment of assessments

SEC. 19 When any tract of land upon which any assessment provided for by this act has been levied shall be subdivided into smaller parcels, the board of directors of the district shall, upon the written request of the owner of such tract or of any of such smaller parcels and after hearing, reapportion the said assessment in such manner as will in the judgment of the board charge each of said smaller parcels with a just portion of such assessment. Supplementary assessment rolls, showing such reapportionment, shall be made and shall be made separately for lands lying within different counties. Said board of directors shall thereafter file copies of said supplementary assessment rolls with the state engineer and shall also file with the county treasurer of each county in which any portion of said tract so subdivided is situated the supplementary assessment roll relating to the lands in such county, and from and after such filing the said assessment shall be an assessment upon each of said smaller parcels in accordance with such reapportionment and not an assessment upon said tract as a whole; and such supplementary assessment rolls shall be deemed to be a part of and amendatory of the assessment roll or rolls theretofore filed for all purposes. Such reapportionment shall in no wise affect the assessment except as to the lands included in the supplementary assessment rolls.

SEC. 20 The assessment list of each county must remain open for payment in full in the office of the county treasurer of the respective counties within the district for a period of thirty days; and during the time they so remain any person may pay the amount of the charge assessed against any tract of land to the county treasurer in gold coin of the United States or in warrants of the district drawn by the state engineer or the board of directors, or the proper officers thereof.

Payment of assessments

SEC. 21 At the end of thirty days the county treasurer must make return to the board of directors of the district of all assessments paid. All unpaid assessments shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum. Thereafter all unpaid assessments and accrued interest shall be collected when and as called, and paid to the treasurer of the county or counties, who shall collect and hold such moneys to the credit of the district. Unless bonds shall have been authorized as hereinafter provided, all such payments shall be made in such amounts or installments and at such times respectively as the said board, from time to time, in its discretion, by order entered in its minutes, may direct. Upon making any order fixing and calling such installments or amount, the secretary shall also enter in the minutes of the board, and certify to each county treasurer for signature and mailing or publication in the counties in which any lands within the district are situated a notice in substantially the following form:

Unpaid assessments, interest.

Penalty for delinquency

If any such installment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of said sixty days from the date of the order, then the said installment of said assessment shall become delinquent, together with the accrued interest thereon and a penalty of ten per cent of the amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto and collected for the use of the district.

Publication of notice of delinquencies

Immediately after the said installment has become delinquent the said county treasurer or county treasurers must prepare and as soon as the same is complete publish once a week for two consecutive weeks in each county wherein lands of the district are situated, in one notice a list of all delinquencies in such county, which notice shall contain a description of the property assessed, the name of the person to whom it is assessed or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners, if such is the fact, the amount then due on said property, and a notice that the property assessed will be sold on the date therein stated in front of the courthouse of said county to pay the amount then due on said property. The date of said sale shall not be less than ten days after the date of the last publication of said notice. At the time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the county treasurer must sell said property to the highest bidder for gold coin of the United States. Out of the proceeds of said sale the county treasurer must deposit the amount due on said property as shown in said notice to the proper fund of the said district. The county treasurer must pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining after said deposit to the credit of the district, after first deducting any expense of sale. Except where bonds have been issued upon an assessment the board of directors may direct the county treasurer to postpone said sale from time to time, for not less than ten nor more than thirty days at one time, by a written notice posted at the place of sale.

Certificate of sale

If no bid is made for said property equal to the amount due thereon, it must be struck off to the district for the said amount so due. A certificate of such sale shall be executed by the county treasurer to the purchaser, or to the district if the property shall have been struck off to the district, and this certificate of sale shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of said county. Any person interested in said property may redeem the same at any time within three years after the date of said sale, by paying to the county treasurer the amount for which the said property was sold, and interest on the said sum at the rate of one per cent per month from the date of said sale, which amount shall be credited to the proper fund of said district.

If no redemption shall be made within said three years, the purchaser or the district, if the property shall have been sold to the district, shall be entitled to a deed executed by the county treasurer or his successor in office, and the effect of such deed shall be to convey said property free and clear of all liens and incumbrances except state, county and municipal taxes, assessments or taxes levied or assessed by or under statutory authority and any resort district assessment or portion thereof remaining unpaid at the date of said sale, each installment whereof may be called and collected as herein provided. The board of directors may sell such property sold to the district at any time at public auction after notice given for the same period and in the same manner as is herein provided for sale of delinquent assessments, but not for a sum less than the amount for which said property was sold, with interest at seven per cent per annum, and the deed executed in pursuance of such sale shall convey said property free of all incumbrances except as hereinabove provided for said deed by the county treasurer.

SEC. 22. Whenever after completion of the works of a district in whole or in part, it becomes necessary in the opinion of its board of directors to raise any sum for the maintenance, repairs or operation of its works or for the conduct and management of the district or its works, the board of directors shall first cause to be prepared and when prepared, adopt a report showing the stage to which the said works have been completed and paid for, the sum or sums that will be required for the maintenance or repair or operation of said works, or for the conduct or management of the district or its works, with reasonable particularity, together with any plans and specifications for any work to be done, and an estimate of the aggregate cost thereof, a copy of which said report with the said plans and specifications shall be placed on file with the secretary of said board, and a notice of the filing of said report stating the purpose of the same, and where the same may be inspected by any person interested, and fixing a time within which protests against the adoption of said report and the levying of any assessment thereunder may be filed, and the time and place when a hearing on such protests will be had. Such hearings shall be public, and held at the ordinary place of business of the board of directors of said district within said district, at which said hearing all protestants shall be permitted to appear in person or by attorney and present their objections to such report, if any. At the conclusion of such hearing said board may adopt such report or modify the same or cause a new report to be made and prepared to be again set for hearing as in the first instance, or abandon either in whole or in part the levying of any assessment pursuant to such report. If after such hearing said board shall determine that such assessment be necessary, said board may make an order of supplementary assessment. Such supplementary assessment shall be spread between the respective tracts of land in the proportions which the total amounts assessed against such tracts by the original and all subsequent assessments for construction purposes bear to one another. The order making such supplementary assessment shall be entered in the minutes of the board, shall state the total amount necessary to be raised and shall fix the rate of assessment which shall be the percentage of the total amount assessed by the original and all subsequent assessments for construction purposes which is required to produce the amount necessary to be raised. Upon the making of such order, the board shall cause to be prepared a supplementary assessment roll showing by description each tract assessed, the total of assessments against the same for construction purposes, the rate of assessment and the amount assessed against the same by such supplementary assessment in dollars and cents computed at such rate. Upon the completion of such supplementary assessment roll, the board shall file with the county treasurer of each county wherein are situated lands subject to such assessment, a copy of so much of such assessment roll as pertains to the lands within that county, and thereupon such assessment shall constitute a lien upon each tract shown to be assessed by the copy of the assessment roll so filed for the amount assessed against it, such lien to be of the same character and to have the same incidents as the lien of an original assessment for purposes of construction. At any time within sixty (60) days from the filing of the copy of the assessment roll as aforesaid, the same may be amended by the board of directors to correct errors either on its own initiative or at the instance of any landowner affected, such amendment to be made by indorsement upon the assessment roll by the county treasurer upon the certification of the error to him by the board of directors. Such supplementary assessment shall be collected in the manner herein provided for the collection of original assessments and the board of directors may call the same as a whole or in installments from time to time, as it may deem best.

Errors

The original assessment levied for construction purposes and all assessment rolls for such assessment or for supplementary assessments for such purposes shall continue in force as the basis for allocating and spreading assessments for maintenance repair or operation of the works of the project or for the management and conduct of such works or of the district. All provisions of this act with respect to the levy and collection of assessments shall, so far as appropriate, be applicable to such supplementary assessments.

Tolls and charges

For the purpose of the care, operation, management, repair or improvement of such portions of the project as are in use, including salaries of officers and employees, and all other operating and maintenance expenses, the board may in lieu (either in part or in whole) of levying assessments as in this section provided for, fix rates of tolls and charges for services rendered by the district, and collect the same from all persons receiving the benefit of such services, such tolls and charges to be proportional as nearly as possible to the service rendered.

Whenever any tolls or charges for services rendered by the district provided for by this act have been fixed by the board of directors, it shall be lawful to make the same payable in advance, and in case any tolls or charges remain unpaid for a period of thirty days after the same become payable, the same shall become delinquent and a penalty of ten per cent shall be added thereto and such delinquent tolls and charges shall bear interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum. The board of directors may, after any toll or charge becomes delinquent, file in the office of the county recorder of the county in which are situated the lands as to which such tolls or charges are delinquent, a list showing the names of the owners of such lands, if known, and if not known, a statement of that fact, a description of such lands sufficient for identification and the amounts of tolls and charges which are delinquent, and upon the filing of such list the tolls and charges so listed, together with the penalties and interest thereon, shall become a lien upon the lands as to which such tolls and charges are delinquent in the same manner and of the same character as the lien of a district assessment. The board of directors of any resort district may at any time after any toll or charge provided for in this act has become delinquent, direct that proceedings be not taken to enforce the lien therefor, and in place of such proceedings bring suit in the name of the district against the delinquent to enforce collection of such delinquent toll or charge. In such suit the district may recover the amount of such toll or charge, together with penalties and interest, and costs of suit.

SEC. 23. In the event that the original assessment for the project or any unit thereof is insufficient to provide for the completion of the project or of such unit, the board of directors shall levy and collect a supplementary assessment or assessments to cover the estimated cost of completion thereof. Each such supplementary assessment shall be spread between the different tracts of land in the proportion which the amounts assessed against such tracts by the original assessment bear to one another. Such supplementary assessment shall be made by order entered in the minutes of the board, which order shall state the total amount necessary to be raised and shall fix the rate of assessment which shall be the percentage of the total amount assessed by the original assessment which is required to produce the amount necessary to be raised. Upon the making of such order, the board shall cause to be prepared a supplementary assessment roll showing by description each tract assessed, the amount assessed against the same by the original assessment, the rate of assessment and the amount assessed against the same by such supplementary assessment in dollars and cents computed at such rate. Upon the completion of such supplementary assessment roll, the board shall file with the county treasurer of each county wherein are situated lands subject to such assessment a copy of so much of such assessment roll as pertains to lands within that county and thereupon such assessment shall constitute a lien upon each tract shown to be assessed by the copy of the assessment roll so filed for the amount assessed against it, such lien to be of the same character and to have the same incidents as the lien of the original assessment. At any time within sixty (60) days from the filing of the copy of the assessment roll as aforesaid, the same may be amended by the board of directors to correct errors either on its own initiative or at the instance of any landowner affected, such amendment to be made by endorsement upon the assessment roll by the county treasurer upon the certification of the error to him by the board of directors. Such supplementary assessment shall be collected in the manner herein provided for the collection of original assessments, and the board of directors may call the same as a whole or in installments from time to time, as it may deem best.

Acquisition of additional property

The board of directors may also determine upon the acquisition of property or for the construction of work not contemplated in the report and recommendation, with accompanying plans and specifications, originally adopted in accordance with the provisions of section 18. In such event, the same proceedings for the preparation and adoption or rejection of the report and recommendation as to the acquisition of such additional property or construction of such additional work, and in case of the adoption of such report and recommendation, the levying and collection of the assessment or assessments to meet the cost thereof, shall be taken in connection with the property and work to be acquired or constructed as hereby provided shall be taken in connection with the acquisition or construction of the property or work contemplated by the original project.

Excess
funds

In the event the cost of any unit is less than the funds collected therefor, the excess shall be held and used for the benefit of such unit only and shall be applied to the bond fund of such unit, if any, and if there be no bond fund then to the maintenance and operation of such unit.

Issuance

SEC. 24. Whenever in any resort district any assessment has been levied and assessed upon the lands of said district and remains unpaid in whole or in part, and, in the judgment and opinion of the board of directors of said district, it shall be for the best interest of the district or the landowners therein to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the costs of the proposed project, the indebtedness of the district, or any other lawful charge, or when a petition signed by the owners of more than one-fourth in assessed value of the lands of the district, requesting it is filed with the secretary of said board, the board of directors of such district shall by order entered upon the records of said board order a special election to be held in said district, at which special election shall be submitted to the owners of assessed land in said district the question whether or not bonds of said district shall be issued in an amount equal to the amount of such assessment, or the part of such assessment remaining unpaid, which said amount shall be entered by said board of directors in its records and stated by them in the order for such special election.

The notice of such special election must state in addition ^{Special election} to other statements required to be made therein, the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued. Only owners of lands which have been assessed as provided herein shall be qualified to vote at such election. Such election shall be conducted, save and except as in this section otherwise specifically provided, in accordance with the provisions of this act relating to other elections in the district.

The county clerks of the respective counties shall immediately upon receipt of the ballots, papers, and documents from the board of election certify to the board of directors at its office a statement of the result of said election held in each of said counties with a statement of the number of votes for and in favor of the proposition of "Bonds—Yes" and opposed "Bonds—No." The board of directors shall thereupon in a certificate in writing recorded in their minutes declare that the proposal to issue bonds has carried or has been defeated, and stating therein the vote cast throughout the entire district, and a duplicate of such certificate shall be immediately transmitted to the state engineer.

If a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor ^{Form of bonds} of the issuance of bonds, the board of directors of the district shall cause bonds in the amount stated in the order for the election to be executed and delivered, together with the assessment list segregated as to counties within said district, to

Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the board of directors of the district and attested by the treasurer of said district, and shall be numbered consecutively in order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six and one-half per cent per annum payable semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year at the office of said treasurer, and at any other place within the United States which may be designated by said board, upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the treasurer of said district. Upon a sale of any of the bonds provided herein the treasurer of the district is hereby authorized to accept in payment for said bonds, either in whole or in part, outstanding warrants of such district at their face value, together with the accrued interest thereon.

Interest

Where bonds of the district have been authorized to be issued on such assessments all unpaid assessments shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of the bonds issued thereon until such bonds shall have been fully paid and discharged, and the interest due at any time on said unpaid assessments may be called without calling any installment of the said assessment. The word installment as used in this section shall be construed as applying to interest as well as to principal as the case may be.

At least ninety days before any interest date of the bonds, the treasurer of the district shall certify to the county treasurer of each county in which lands of the district are situated an estimate of the amount of money and the percentage of the assessment together with the interest thereon, or only of the interest, necessary to pay interest and principal or the interest maturing on such interest date after crediting thereon the funds in the treasury applicable to the payment thereof to be collected by such county treasurer, and shall add thereto fifteen per cent of such aggregate sum to cover possible delinquencies, and each said county treasurer shall thereupon cause to be published, once a week for two successive weeks in the county of which he is county treasurer, a notice substantially in the following form:

Notice is hereby given that an installment of assessment (describing it) or (amount or proportion thereof including interest thereon or only for interest) is payable within thirty days from date by all assessed land-owners of said district in the county of (name of county) to the treasurer of said county. All or any part of said installment of interest which remains unpaid on the (day fixed) will be delinquent, together with accrued interest thereon, with ten per cent of such installment and interest added as penalty.

Publication

If no newspaper is published in said county, such publication shall be made in a newspaper published in an adjoining county. If any part of such installment or any interest thereon shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of said notice it shall become delinquent and ten per cent of the unpaid amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto and collected by said county treasurer.

Notice of delinquent installment.

When any installment shall have become delinquent, said treasurer shall, within ten days, publish in said county once a week for two successive weeks a notice containing a description of each parcel of land assessed in the district in said county wherein such installment is delinquent, as such description appears on the assessment list, the name of the person to whom it is assessed, to unknown owners, if such is the fact; the amount of the installment delinquent on such parcel, the amount of interest thereon reckoned to the day of sale, the amount of said ten per cent penalty thereon, and a notice that each of said parcels will be sold at public auction by said county treasurer in front of the courthouse of said county, at a specified day and hour, which shall not be less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the date of delinquency, to pay said delinquent installment, with said accrued interest and penalty. At the time stated in said notice, the county treasurer shall sell each parcel of land described in said notice to the highest bidder, unless prior thereto he shall have received payment in full of said delinquent installment, together with interest and penalty. No bid for any parcel shall be accepted less than the aggregate sum then due on said installment thereon with interest and penalty, and such sale shall be made for cash, except the treasurer may receive from any purchaser at their face value in lieu of cash bonds of said district or their interest coupons, issued on said assessment and then matured or to mature within sixty days after such sale. Any bond or coupon so received in payment shall be by the county treasurer forthwith canceled and filed in the office of the treasurer of the district. If the entire amount of such bond or coupon tendered in payment shall not be required to complete payment of the purchase money, the county treasurer shall endorse thereon as paid the amount of such purchase money credited thereon. If no bid is made for any parcel at such sale equal to the amount of the installment delinquent thereon, with interest and penalty, the county treasurer shall bid in and sell said parcel to himself and his successors in office, as trustee of the bond fund of said district, as purchaser, for the amount of said installment, interest, and penalty. The county treasurer shall execute to each purchaser, including himself as trustee a certificate of sale, and shall record a duplicate in the county recorder's office. Any person interested in the said property may redeem the same at any time within three years after the date of sale by paying to the county treasurer for such purpose a sum equal to the purchase price stated in the certificate, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of sale to such redemption. If no redemption shall be made within three years, the said county treasurer upon demand and surrender of such certificate of purchase, shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, a deed of conveyance of the parcel of land described in such certificate, which deed shall convey to the grantee therein named the said land free and clear of all encumbrances, except state, county and municipal taxes, assessments or taxes levied or assessed by or under statutory authority, and any water storage district assessment, or portion thereof, remaining unpaid at the date of said sale each installment whereof may be called and collected as herein provided, except that no parcel sold and conveyed to the district shall thereafter be subject to sale by the county treasurer for delinquent installments. Every deed by a county treasurer purporting to be executed under this section shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters therein recited, and of ownership by the grantee of the lands therein described. The county treasurer of each county shall credit to the bond fund of the district all moneys collected by him by sale or otherwise, upon assessments against which bonds shall have been issued, including interest and penalties, and he shall likewise credit to said fund the amounts of purchase money paid in bonds or coupons on sales made under said assessment. Each county treasurer shall charge to the general fund of the district, or to the bond fund if he has no money to the credit of the general fund, the expense of publication of notices and of recording certificates of sale, and shall notify the treasurer of the district thereof. The county treasurer shall transmit to the treasurer of the district all canceled bonds and coupons received in payment on any delinquent sale, and a memorandum of all sums endorsed as paid upon account of purchase money on any bonds or coupons, specifying the same. All moneys collected by any county treasurer upon account of an assessment on which bonds shall not have been issued shall be similarly accounted for to the treasurer of the district, and shall be credited to the general fund of the district. Any parcel of land bid in and purchased by any county treasurer as aforesaid, as trustee of the bond fund of the district, may be sold and conveyed by him or his successor in office at any time after the expiration of said redemption period of three years, at public or private sale and with or without notice, to any person paying him the amount for which said parcel was bid in by said treasurer at delinquent sale, with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum, compounded yearly, from the date of said delinquent sale, and also the amount of all subsequent installments then delinquent, with accrued interest and penalties thereon. Such payment may be made either in cash or in matured bonds and coupons issued on said assessment, taken at their face value, and such treasurer shall execute a deed to such purchaser upon such sale, conveying said property free of encumbrances, except as hereinbefore provided for deeds where no redemption is made. If any land so held by a county treasurer as trustee of the bond fund of a district shall remain unsold after the final installment of the assessment shall have been collected by payment or sale, then each such treasurer shall sell all said land so held by him at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, notice of which sale shall be given by publication once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county in which said land is situated, and shall deposit the proceeds of such sale in the treasury of the county to the credit of the bond fund of the district. Any balance remaining in such bond fund, after payment in full of the principal and interest of all outstanding bonds of the district, shall be by the treasurer transferred to the general fund of the district. The county treasurer of each of the several counties shall report all transactions of delinquencies and sales to the treasurer of the district who shall keep a record thereof in the office of the district.

Said board may also enter into, and do any acts necessary or proper for the performance of any agreement with the United States or with any state, county, district, public corporation, or municipality of any kind, for a purpose appertaining to or beneficial to the project of the district. SEC. 44. If an election is not held as herein provided, then upon the filing of a petition with the secretary of the board of directors of such district, signed by the owners of more than fifteen per cent of the total assessed valuation of the lands within the district, requesting that a special election be called for the election of such officers, the directors of such district shall thereupon call a special election thereof for the election of such officers, such election to be held within not less than fifteen, nor more than thirty days after the filing of such petition.

SEC. 46. The holder of any elective office of any district may be removed or recalled at any time by the voters; provided, he has held his office at least six months. The procedure to effect such removal or recall shall be as follows: A petition demanding the election of a successor to the person sought to be removed shall be filed with the secretary of the board of directors of such district, which petition shall be signed by qualified voters constituting at least twenty-five per cent of the highest vote cast within such district for candidates for the office, the incumbent of which is sought to be removed, at the last general election in such district at which an incumbent of such office was elected; and said petition shall contain a statement of the grounds on which the removal or recall is sought, which statement is intended solely for the information of the voters. Any insufficiency of form or substance in such statement shall in no wise affect the validity of the election and proceedings held thereunder. The signatures to the petition need not all be appended to one paper. Each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence. Each such separate paper shall have attached thereto an affidavit made by a qualified voter of the district and sworn to before an officer competent to administer oaths, stating that the affiant circulated that particular paper and saw written the signatures appended thereto; and that according to the best information and belief of the affiant, each is the genuine signature of the person whose name purports to be thereunto subscribed and of a qualified voter of the district. Within ten days from the date of filing such petition, the secretary of the board shall examine and from the records of qualified voters ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of such qualified voters, and he shall attach to said petition his certificate showing the result of said examination. If by the said certificate the petition is shown to be insufficient, it may be supplemented within ten days from the date of such certificate, by the filing of additional papers, duplicates of the original petition except as to the names signed. The secretary shall, within ten days after such supplementing papers are filed, make like examination of a supplementary petition, and if a certificate shall show that all the names to such petition, including the supplemental papers, are still insufficient, no action shall be taken thereon; but the petition shall remain on file as a public record; and the failure to secure sufficient names shall be without prejudice to the filing later of an entirely new petition to the same effect. If the petition shall be found to be sufficient, the secretary shall submit the same to the board of directors without delay, whereupon the board shall forthwith cause a special election to be held within not less than thirty-five nor more than forty days after the date of the order calling such election, to determine whether the voters will recall such officer; provided, that if a general resort district election is to occur within sixty days from the date of the order calling for such election, the board may in its discretion postpone the holding of such election to such general election or submit such recall election at any such general election for officers of such district occurring not less than thirty-five days after such order. If a vacancy occur in said office after a recall petition is filed, the election shall nevertheless proceed as in this section provided. One petition is sufficient to propose a removal and election of one or more elective officials. One election is competent for the removal and election of one or more elective officials. Nominations for any office under such recall election shall be made in the manner prescribed by section 37 of this act.

On such ballots, under each such question there shall also be printed the names of those persons who have been nominated as candidates to succeed the person recalled, in case he shall be removed from office by said recall election, but no vote shall be counted for any candidate for said office unless the voter also voted on said question of the recall of the person sought to be recalled from said office. The name of the person against whom the petition is filed shall not appear on the ballot as a candidate for the office. If a majority of those voting on said question of the recall of any incumbent from office shall vote "no," said incumbent shall continue in said office. If a majority shall vote "yes," said incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed from such office, upon the qualification of his successor. The election shall be conducted, canvass of all votes for candidates for said office shall be made, and the result declared in like manner as in a regular election within such district. If the vote at any such recall election shall recall the officer, then the candidate who has received the highest number of votes for the office shall be thereby declared elected for the remainder of the term. In case the person who received the highest number of votes shall fail to qualify within ten days after receiving the certificate of election, the office shall be deemed vacant and shall be filled according to law. If the vote at any such recall election shall not recall the officer, no further petition for the recall of such officer shall be filed before the expiration of six months from the date of such first recall election.

Where property has been conveyed prior to the election and such change of interest does not appear by such assessment roll the original deed of conveyance, or a copy thereof duly certified by the county recorder of the county wherein the same has been recorded, or otherwise authenticated, shall be sufficient evidence to entitle the holder thereof to vote the acreage therein described. Any person not legally qualified to vote who shall make any false statement in respect to his right to vote shall incur all of the penalties provided in the Penal Code of the State of California for persons illegally voting at elections. The certificate of the register of the United States land office for the district in which the lands are situated, or of the surveyor general of the State of California, shall be sufficient evidence of possessory right in any lands entered under the laws of the United States or of the State of California. Said assessment rolls and said lists shall be used by the election boards in determining the qualifications of voters and the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast.

Section 116. The City Manager shall submit to the Council, at the time he submits the annual budget, the draft of an appropriation ordinance providing for the expenditures proposed for the ensuing fiscal year of the various departments, commissions and offices of the City and of the expenditures of any board required to be provided for from the annual tax levy. Such budget shall be prepared in such detail as to the aggregate sum, and the items thereof allowed to each department, office, board or commission as the Council may deem advisable. Such budget may also provide for an emergency fund in such amount as the Council may deem advisable, which fund shall not be allotted to any particular department, office, board or commission, except as hereinafter provided. Upon such submission of the proposed appropriation ordinance to the Council it shall be deemed to have been regularly introduced therein. The Council shall provide for public hearings on the budget and the proposed appropriation ordinance either before a committee of the Council or before the Council sitting as a committee of the whole. Following the public hearing the proposed appropriation ordinance may be changed or amended and shall take the same course in the Council as other ordinances, but shall not be finally passed before the first or after the third Monday of August. Upon its introduction the appropriation ordinance shall be forthwith published in the manner provided for the publication of other ordinances. The corrected list for each tax shall be the assessment roll of said tax for said year, and it shall be certified by the City Auditor and ex-officio Assessor as being the assessment roll of said tax. The City Manager shall render to the Council such assistance as it may require in the computation of the tax rate and in otherwise preparing for the said annual tax levy.

Provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to interfere with or change the provisions of Section 124½ of this Charter relative to the transfer of any of the functions of the City regarding assessment and taxation or the assumption thereof by the County of Alameda, or of the reassumption thereof by the City, or of the exercise of any of the powers of the Council pursuant to said section

Provided that in time of emergency when so declared by the Council and approved by the City Manager such transfers may be made by resolution adopted by six affirmative votes.

At the close of each fiscal year any unused balance of an appropriation shall revert to the fund from which appropriated and shall be subject to reappropriation, but appropriations may be made by the Council, to be paid out of the income of the current year, in furtherance of improvements or other objects or works which will not be completed within such year, and any such appropriation shall continue in force until the purpose for which it was made shall have been accomplished or abandoned. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be construed to interfere with or change the power of any board to make its own appropriations and otherwise deal exclusively with such funds or income as may be placed under its control or jurisdiction by other provisions of this Charter.

At the same time with the execution of the contract, the contractor shall execute to the City and deliver to the Auditor a bond in the form named in the notice for proposals with two or more sufficient sureties to be approved by the Council, or board, as the case may be, or shall deposit with the Auditor a certified check upon some solvent bank for the said amount, for the faithful performance of the contract. No surety on any bond other than lawfully authorized surety companies shall be taken unless he shall be a payer of taxes on property not exempt from execution or subject to homestead claim, the assessed value of which over and above all encumbrances is equal in amount to his liabilities on all bonds on which he may be surety to the City, and each surety shall certify and make an affidavit (for which a form shall be printed upon said bond), signed by him, that he is assessed upon the last assessment roll of the City, in his own name, for property in an amount greater than his liabilities on all bonds on which he is surety to the City, and that the taxes on such property so assessed are not delinquent

The Council, or the board, as the case may be, may extend said time, but in no event shall the time for the performance of any contract be extended for more than ninety days beyond the time originally fixed for its completion, except by the unanimous vote of the Council, or board, as the case may be.

Such notice shall distinctly and specifically state the work contemplated or supplies to be furnished. Provided, however, the Council or Board may reject any and all bids, if deemed excessive, and readvertise for bids, or provide for the work to be done under its direction, or the supplies to be purchased in the open market; but in no case shall such supplies be bought at a price as high as the lowest bid received from a responsible bidder. In case no bid is received, the Council or Board may likewise provide for the work to be done under its direction or the supplies to be purchased in the open market.

Provided, always, the Council or any Board may, through the medium of interdepartmental requisitions, arrange for the performance of public work or the purchase of supplies under the direction of one or the other, or of the City Manager, as the case may be.

That Chapter II of Article II of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco be amended by adding thereto two new sections to be known as Sections 6a and 6b, respectively, to read as follows:

Section 6a. Any person, firm or corporation (hereinafter called declarant) engaged in operating a street railway in the City and County of San Francisco, may, at any time within twelve months after this section takes effect, make and file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of said City and County a written declaration of surrender to the City and County of San Francisco of all rights, franchises, privileges, permits or resolutions theretofore granted to or held by declarant, or its predecessors in interest, to operate said street railway under said rights, franchises, privileges, permits and resolutions over the streets, avenues and highways in the City and County of San Francisco set forth in said declaration of surrender, and in consideration and by reason thereof, declarant shall, upon making and filing such declaration of surrender as aforesaid, immediately and automatically by operation of law and without further act on the part of such declarant or by the City and County, have and hold, in place thereof, an operating permit from the City and County giving and granting unto such declarant, its successors or assigns, the right, until such operating permit is revoked in the manner hereinafter set forth, to operate its cars by means of the overhead electric system, by cables running under the ground and moved by stationary engines, or electric motors, or by such other means as the law may permit, and buses, over the streets and highways in the City and County set forth and enumerated in said declaration of surrender, whether under then existing franchises, or otherwise, and to conduct in the City and County the same railway business theretofore conducted therein by such declarant and, for that purpose, to have the use of the streets, roads, highways and avenues in the City and County and of the same or like tracks, roadbeds, and other structures and rights of way therein, but upon all the terms and conditions contained in the rights, franchises, privileges, permits, and resolutions existing as of February 15th, 1929, and in the orders, resolutions and ordinances referred to in such declaration of surrender except that the term or condition as to the period of duration of any right, franchise, privilege, permit or resolution applicable to any operating permit or to any right thereunder, shall be for twenty-five years from the date of the filing of the declaration of surrender by declarant herein referred to. Said permit shall apply only to streets, avenues or highways over which the declarant operated its railway at any time during the calendar year in which the election for the adoption of this amendment by the people of said City and County was held for that and/or other purposes.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the franchises granted under the following named ordinances of the City and County, namely, Ordinance Number 288 (New Series) approved October 17, 1907, and Ordinance Number 425 (New Series) approved May 12, 1908, commonly known as the Parkside franchises, and Ordinance No. 1196 (New Series) approved June 14, 1910, commonly known as the Gough Street franchise, and Ordinance Number 1460 (New Series) approved January 23, 1911, commonly known as the franchises

Parnassus and Ninth Avenue franchise, nor to that portion of the franchise granted under Order No. 1532, approved November 28, 1879, for the operation of a railway on Howard Street from Steuart Street to Twenty-sixth Street, nor to that portion of the franchises granted under Order No. 1890, approved December 27, 1886, for the operation of a railway commencing at the intersection of Post Street with Market Street, thence along and upon Post Street to Leavenworth Street.

Such declaration of surrender shall be executed by the declarant and acknowledged and certified in the manner provided by law for the conveyances of real property. Upon the presentation to the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of such declaration of surrender executed, acknowledged and certified, as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors to file the same and to endorse thereon the fact and date of such filing and to sign such endorsement, and to deliver to the declarant a true and correct copy of such declaration of surrender so filed with him, with his certificate attached thereto signed by him and attested by the seal of the City and County to the effect that the same is a true and correct copy of the declaration of surrender so filed with him and stating therein the date of such filing and the name of the declarant executing such declaration and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein recited.

Every permit, given and granted as in this section provided, shall be for the period of twenty-five years, as hereinbefore stated, and shall be subject always to the right of the City and County at any time to acquire and possess the operative railway property of the holder of said permit upon paying the fair value therefor, hereinafter referred to as compensation.

The compensation to be paid for the property to be acquired, as aforesaid, shall be fixed and determined by agreement by and between the owner of such property and the Board of Supervisors, authorized by ordinance, or by the owner of such property and any other governmental body with legal and proper authority, and, in case of their failure to agree, the said compensation to be paid as aforesaid shall be fixed in any manner provided by law, whether by condemnation proceedings in the exercise of the power of eminent domain or otherwise. The compensation herein referred to shall not include any claim for going concern value or any other like intangible by any declarant.

Whenever the City and County desires to acquire said railway property, the City and County shall give the holder of said permit written notice, duly authorized by ordinance, of its intention to take over and acquire said properties on a date to be stated in said notice, but in no event less than three months nor more than fifteen months from the date of said notice; and, upon payment or tender of said compensation on the date so noticed, together with compensation for the cost of any additions or betterments to said property since the date of filing said declaration of surrender, said permit shall be thereby revoked and the holder thereof shall immediately deliver said property to the City and County, and transfer the same by appropriate deeds of grant, bargain and sale, and other assurances of title.

Failure of the City and County to pay or tender said compensation, as aforesaid, shall not prevent said City and County from thereafter, at such time as it shall deem proper, taking proceedings to purchase, acquire and possess said operative properties, as in this section provided.

None of the provisions of this Charter concerning or relating to the granting of franchises to operate street railways shall be applicable to the permits given and granted under the provisions of this section or under the provisions of section 6b of this Chapter or to any right thereunder, it being the purpose and intention of said two sections to provide for permits and rights thereunder which can be used and exercised by the holder thereof, its successors or assigns, without reference to any of the terms or conditions under which franchises may be granted under this Charter, until such time as the City and County shall purchase, take over and acquire the operative railway property of such holder.

Section 6b. The Board of Supervisors shall have power to grant by ordinance to any holder of a permit, secured as provided in Section 6a of this Chapter, supplemental permits authorizing such holder, its successors or assigns, to construct and operate in conjunction with its existing lines upon, over or under any of the streets, roads, highways, and avenues of the City and County, an extension or extensions of an existing street railway or bus line in the same manner and subject to the same terms and conditions under which the said line from which it is proposed to make the extension, is operated, when such supplemental permit is granted. Every such supplemental permit shall expire concurrently with the permits granted upon the filing of the declaration of surrender provided for in Section 6a of this Chapter, and shall be subject always to the aforesaid right of the City and County to acquire and possess the operative railway property of the holder of such supplemental permit as provided in Section 6a of this Chapter. No line of street railway in the City and County, or any portion thereof, operated under authority of any permit, authorized by the provisions of this Chapter, shall be abandoned unless the holder of such permit shall, by written petition to the Board of Supervisors, request authority to make such abandonment, and unless the Board of Supervisors, upon receiving such a petition, shall authorize such abandonment by ordinance and shall first find that the public interest will not be injured or suffer by such abandonment and shall so recite in the ordinance authorizing such abandonment.

WHEREAS, Agricultural and economic conditions in said valley are critical and relief is necessary; and

WHEREAS, It appears that unless federal aid is extended, said valley faces inevitable disaster and ruin, with serious and widespread consequences; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly, That the congress of the United States of America be hereby memorialized and earnestly urged to enact said bill, and that the President, the Vice President and the secretary of the interior be likewise memorialized and urged to support said bill; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the Assembly be hereby directed to transmit this resolution forthwith to the senators and representatives from this state in the congress of the United States, and to the President, the Vice President, and the secretary of the interior of the United States.

CHAPTER 14.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 4—Relative to the reimbursement of the State of California for moneys actually expended in aid of the government of the United States during the war between the states.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 22, 1931.]

Federal reimbursement for state civil war expenditures.

WHEREAS, The State of California has not been reimbursed for moneys actually expended by the state for costs, charges and expenses incurred in enrolling, equipping, transporting and paying its volunteer troops during the war between the states in response to the urgent calls of and under proper requisitions made by the commanding general of the military department of the Pacific under direct authority of the President and the secretary of war, upon the understanding that all such costs, charges and expenses actually incurred in raising troops for the United States would be reimbursed to the state, as shown by the letter from the secretary of state, Hon. Wm. H. Seward, addressed to the governor of California dated October 14, 1861, wherein he stated:

“The President has directed me to invite your consideration to the subject of the improvement and perfection of the defenses of the state over which you preside and to ask you to submit the subject to the consideration of the Legislature when it shall have assembled. Such proceedings by the state would require only a temporary use of its means. The expenditures ought to be made the subject of conference with the federal authorities. Being thus made with the concurrence of the government for general defense, there is every reason to believe that congress would sanction what the state should do and would provide for its reimbursement; and

WHEREAS, The record shows that the expenditures by the State of California on behalf of the United States were made with the knowledge, cooperation and approval of the commanding general of the department of the Pacific representing the federal authorities; and

WHEREAS, The expenditures made by the State of California for, and on account of the United States and as its most urgent calls, are set forth by the comptroller general of the United States under date of August 14, 1930, in pursuance of a resolution of the senate passed May 28, 1930, as follows:

Grand total sum actually expended by and not repaid the State of California on July 1, 1889, stated in the account set forth in the report of the secretary of war made in pursuance of resolution of the senate of February 27, 1889, printed in Senate Executive Document No. 11, 51st congress, 1st session----- $4,420,891 16

Plus, interest certified by the treasurer of the State of California as actually paid by said state on the sums so advanced and expended from July 1, 1889, to December 31, 1929, $571,104.17 interest on moneys borrowed through the sale of state bonds issued under authority of the act of the Legislature of the State of California of April 27, 1863; and $1,470,150 interest on moneys similarly borrowed to carry out the provisions of the act of the Legislature of said state of April 4, 1864----- $2,041,254 17

Balance due the State of California----- $6,462,145 35
(Senate Document No. 220, 71st congress, 3d session); and

WHEREAS, No part of the sum so actually expended for the benefit of the United States and at its request has been reimbursed the State of California, although the costs, charges and expenses, including interest (the supreme court of the United States in the New York case, 160 U. S. 598, having held interest paid by a state on moneys borrowed a proper cost or charge) incurred by other states in aid of the government during the war between the states have been paid said states; and

WHEREAS, The validity, equity and justness of these expenditures made by the State of California in aid of the federal government in times of great stress have often been admitted and never successfully disputed; and

WHEREAS, The senate after thorough investigation has repeatedly passed bills providing for the reimbursement of the State of California, and the committees of the house of representatives have likewise favorably reported bills for such reimbursement; and

WHEREAS, The seventieth congress, after many years of consideration, passed the President approved an act providing for the reimbursement of the state of Nevada for costs, charges and expenses incurred in aid of the government during the war between the states identical in character and authorized under exactly similar circumstances as were the expenditures made by the State of California; thus recognizing the validity and merit of such expenditures; and

WHEREAS, It is deemed appropriate to quote, from among the many statesmen in congress who have considered and assisted in establishing the justice of the reimbursement of California, three United States senators who, on account of their prominence, experience and rank, are most competent to speak again in behalf of our state, namely:

“Senator Hawley of Connecticut (chairman of the committee on military affairs): There is no sort of question as to its justice.”

“Senator Eugene Hale of Maine (chairman of the committee on appropriations): The senate is committed to these state claims by vote, by sentiment, and it is only a question of time when they will pass.”

“Senator Teller of Colorado (chairman of the committee on claims): If there are any claims that are just and proper which the United States ought to pay, this is one of them. It is as sacred an obligation, in my judgment, as the national bonds;” and

WHEREAS, The State of California has been so long deprived of its rights respecting these expenditures upon part of which it is still paying interest, and as the state is now in such urgent need of the sum due from the United States, that it is believed if the attention of the congress is again invited to this obligation, it will appreciate the justice of the state’s request for reimbursement at this time; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, the Senate concurring. That we respectfully request our senators and representatives in the congress of the United States to use all honorable means to secure the enactment by that body of a law providing for the reimbursement of the State of California in accordance with the accounting rendered by the comptroller general of the United States hereinabove referred to, and that his excellency, the governor of the State of California, be requested to forward to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, and to each of our senators and representatives in congress a properly certified copy of this resolution.

CHAPTER 15.

WHEREAS, The passage of this bill will do much to hearten the farming community of this state and aid materially in restoring their confidence; and

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, jointly, That the Legislature of the State of California urges the passage of this bill at the present session of congress, and that the President of the United States be requested to attach his signature thereto so that it may become a federal law; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of the Senate be and is hereby directed to telegraph copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, the speaker of the house of representatives and Honorable Bertrand H. Snell, chairman of the rules committee of the house of representatives, and to mail copies of this resolution to the senators and representatives of California in the congress of the United States.

WHEREAS, A special commission was appointed to report upon the necessity of a bridge across San Francisco bay from the city and county of San Francisco to the county of Alameda; the practicability of such a bridge from an engineering and a financial viewpoint; and the most suitable location therefor, considered in relation to the needs of national defense and the interests of navigation, and

WHEREAS, The California toll bridge authority and the state department of public works of the State of California propose to construct such a bridge under laws of the State of California declaring it to be the policy of said state to own all toll bridges situated upon or along any part of the highways of said state, with the end in view of eliminating all toll charges thereon as soon as possible, and resolutions.

4. Whenever the word "bill" is used in these rules it shall include constitutional amendments, joint and concurrent resolutions.

JOINT AND CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS.

5. Joint resolutions are those which relate to matters connected with the federal government. All other resolutions relating to matters to be treated by both houses of the Legislature are concurrent resolutions.

RESOLUTIONS TREATED AS BILLS.

6. Joint resolutions, concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments shall be treated in all respects as bills; except that they shall be read but one time in each house and that they shall not be deemed bills within the meaning of section 2 of article four of the constitution, and shall not be referred to the committee on introduction of bills, and shall not require a vote to authorize their introduction. As in the case of bills, they shall be engrossed in the house in which they originate before being voted upon.

PREPARATION AND INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

TITLE OF BILL.

Preparation and introduction of bills.

7. The title of every bill introduced shall convey an accurate idea of the contents of the bill and shall be indicative of the scope of the act and the object to be accomplished. In amending a code section, the mere reference to the section by number shall not be deemed sufficient.

DIVISION OF BILL INTO SECTIONS.

Bills which are not amendatory of existing laws shall be divided into short sections, where this can be done without destroying the sense of any particular section, to the end that future amendments may be made without the necessity of setting forth and repeating sections of unnecessary length.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW TO BE MARKED BY AUTHOR.

9. In case of a bill amending a code section or a general law, any new matter shall be underlined and any matter to be omitted shall have a single horizontal line through the center. When printed the new matter shall be printed in italics and the matter to be omitted shall be printed in canceled or "strikeout" type.

COMMITTEE ON REVISION AND PRINTING TO EXAMINE BILLS
WHEN INTRODUCED.

10. Unless otherwise ordered by the house in which the bill was introduced, all bills before being printed shall be immediately sent to the committee on revision and printing, which shall examine the bill, with the aid of the legislative counsel bureau. The committee shall have authority to correct any clerical error such as in orthography, adding or correcting the enacting clause, mistakes in numbering sections and references thereto, errors in grammar, phraseology, or in the form of the bill; but the attention of the author shall be called to any changes made. No bill which bears the stamp of the legislative counsel bureau showing that before introduction it has been examined as to form, shall be sent to the committee on revision and printing. Whenever any provision of these rules shall refer to the committee on revision and printing such reference shall be deemed to mean the Senate committee on printing or engrossment, enrollment and printing provided for by the Senate rules or by the law.

Note—The submission of bill copy to legislative counsel bureau for approval of form before introduction will expedite its course

BILLS INTRODUCED TO INDICATE CHANGES IN EXISTING LAWS.

11. The committee on revision and printing shall see to it that rules 7 and 9 of these joint rules are observed by the author, and that the bill shall not be sent to the printer until the provisions of these rules have been carried out

If they refuse to recede, the presiding officer shall appoint a committee of three (3) on conference and the secretary or the chief clerk shall immediately notify the other house of the action taken and request the appointment of a like committee. Two of the members comprising such committee from each house shall be selected from those voting with the majority on the point about which the difference has arisen, and the other member from each house of such committee shall be selected from the minority, in the event there is a minority vote. The first Senator named on the free conference committee shall act as chairman of the committee from the Senate, and the first Assemblyman named on such committee shall act as chairman of the committee from the house, and the chairmen thus selected shall arrange the time and place of all meetings and prepare or direct the preparation of reports. REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FREE CONFERENCE.

42. The report of the committee on free conference shall not be subject to amendment, and if either house refuse to adopt such report the conferees may be discharged and other conferees appointed.

It shall require the affirmative vote of not less than four of the members constituting the committee to agree upon a report.

No member who has served on a committee on free conference shall be appointed a member of another committee on free conference on the same bill.

WHEN CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT IS IN ORDER.

43. The presentation of the report of a committee on free conference shall always be in order, except when the journal is being read or a question of order or a motion to adjourn is pending, or during roll call, and, when received, the question of proceeding to the consideration of the report, if raised, shall be immediately passed upon, and shall be determined without debate.

Said Pension Board shall have charge of the disbursements from such fund as hereinafter provided, and such other and further duties as are necessary or requisite for carrying out the purposes intended by this proposed amendment, and all of the sections herein set forth. The members of said Pension Board shall serve without compensations, and shall hold office for a period of two (2) years from the date of their appointment or election until their successors are qualified. Such resolution shall operate as an appropriation of funds to the amounts and for the purposes set forth in the budget so adopted.

Section 10. Transfer of Appropriations: At any meeting after the adoption of the budget or budgets, the Council, by a vote of four members, may amend or supplement such budget or budgets, so as to authorize the transfer of unused balances appropriated for one purpose to another purpose, or to appropriate available revenues not included in the annual budget.

Section 17. Public Service Sinking Fund: A fund to be known as the Public Service Sinking Fund is hereby created, to which fund shall be credited from the receipts of the Public Service Department a sufficient amount each year to cover the total amount of payments falling due that year, for principal and interest of all bonds issued for the acquisition, improvement or extension of public utilities operated by the City. The Council shall fix from time to time the percentage of the receipts of the Public Service Department required to cover the principal and interest of such bonds, and such percentage of said receipts shall be credited by the City Treasurer to said Public Service Sinking Fund; provided, however, that if, in the opinion of the Council, the total amount necessary for said Sinking Fund can not conveniently be taken from the receipts of said Public Service Department, nothing in this section shall affect or impair their power, after so declaring, to levy such taxes as may be necessary to provide for interest and principal of such bonds.

That the undersigned make this certificate in the phraseology above mentioned because the same is the phraseology required by the Constitution of the State of California; that such Constitution requires that the certificate shall show that until the day fixed for election upon such Charter, the legislative body of said City shall advertise in one or more papers of general circulation published in said City, a notice that such copies of said Charter in pamphlet form may be had upon application therefor. That in the opinion of the undersigned officials, the words "until the day fixed for election," the word "notice" and the word "advertisement" called for legal conclusions upon the part of the certifying parties. That the facts upon which the said legal conclusions in this certificate are based are as follows: That on or about the 8th day of September, 1930, the City Clerk of said City received said copies of said proposed Charter, printed in pamphlet form in her office at the City Hall in said City. That on said day and at said place there was present a representative of the Ventura County Star, which was then and there a newspaper of general circulation printed and published and disseminated in said City of San Buenaventura. That said City Clerk then and there advised the said reporter of the fact that such copies of said proposed Charter in pamphlet form were in her office and were available for distribution, and then and there suggested and requested that such reporter cause to be published in said newspaper a story or a notice (and the said City Clerk does not remember which word was used) to the effect that such pamphlet copies of the proposed Charter were in the office of said City Clerk available for distribution and might be had upon application therefor. That subsequent to said conversation and on the 8th day of September, 1930, in the said Ventura County Star, a statement appeared which read as follows: "Copies of Ventura's proposed home rule Charter, in booklet form, may be obtained free at the office of the City Clerk, Ruth Meilandt, at the City Hall." That thereafter, and on or about said 8th day of September, 1930, and prior to the date fixed for the election upon such Charter, the exact time being unknown to said City Clerk, a representative of the Ventura Free Press, a newspaper of general circulation within said City of San Buenaventura, and then and there printed, published and disseminated within said City, called at the office of said City Clerk of said City of San Buenaventura, and the said City Clerk communicated to the said representative the fact that such copies of the proposed Charter in pamphlet form were at the office of said City Clerk and were available for distribution, and that such copies might be had upon application therefor. That said City Clerk does not recollect having asked or directly suggested to said representative of the Ventura Free Press at such time and place or at all that a notice should be published to the effect that said pamphlet Charters were available. That in truth and in fact the said Ventura Free Press did, on or about the 20th day of October, 1930, publish a statement reading in part as follows: "Copies of the Charter may be obtained at the office of the City Clerk, and it is urged that the people read the Charter."; that notice was given as follows in newspapers of general circulation in said City that said copies of said Charter could be had and secured at the office of said City Clerk upon application therefor, to-wit, in the Ventura County Star on September 9, 1930, appeared the following: "If you desire authoritative information as to what the charter means, what it might be expected to accomplish, how it compares with the city of the fifth class government we now have, or any other pertinent phase of the subject, address your query to The Star and it will be forwarded to this disinterested expert (referring to Dr. Cattrell above) for reply. P. S. Copies of the charter in pamphlet form are now to be had for the asking at the city clerk's office."; in said Ventura County Star on September 16th, 1930, appeared the following: "Seven weeks are to elapse before the issue is decided at the polls. This allows plenty of time for every citizen to read the charter for himself (pamphlet copies are to be had free of charge at the city clerk's office) and to obtain satisfactory answers to every question which may arise in his mind." In said Ventura County Star under date of October 4th, 1930, appeared the following: "If you haven't read the proposed charter for yourself, there's a free copy waiting at the city clerk's office. Don't take somebody's unsupported word for what it contains, if you are in doubt about any provision; just look the matter up for yourself. A month from today you are to vote on it." That in said Ventura County Star on October 20th, 1930, appeared the following: "Copies of the charter may be obtained ^{Same} at the office of the city clerk, and it is urged that the people read the charter." That fifteen hundred copies of said Charter were printed and kept for distribution at the office of said City Clerk. That until the day fixed for said election, information was widely disseminated in said City that said copies of said Charter could be obtained on application at the office of said City Clerk in numerous public addresses, and that all of said copies of said printed Charter in pamphlet form were applied for at the office of said City Clerk prior to the date of said election and distributed by said City Clerk to persons making application therefor, with the exception of less than fifty copies which remained in the office of said Clerk undistributed at the time of said election. That said Charter, in its entirety, was published by order of said legislative body of said City, on the 29th day of August, 1930 in the Ventura County Star and on the 30th day of August, 1930 in the Ventura Free Press, both being then and there newspapers of general circulation printed and published in said City; that the City Attorney of said City, under his official title, published articles setting out and explaining said Charter section by section, making an analytical comparison between said sections and the present general law under which said City is now governed, said articles being published in the following dated issues of said Ventura Free Press, a newspaper of general circulation printed in said City, to-wit: October 10th, 11th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 20th, 21st and 22nd, 1930.

That on or about the 6th day of October, 1930, however, a citizen of the City of San Buenaventura appeared before the said City Council at a regular session thereof and protested as follows; as appears upon the minutes of said Council in Minute Book 6 at page 369: "Mrs. Clara A. Forrester appeared before the Council requesting that the date of election on proposed City Charter be set ahead in order to give the citizens of the City ample time to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the Charter. She was informed, however, that such action would not be within the province of said Council." That said protesting citizen was then and there advised that copies of said Charter in pamphlet form were available in the office of the City Clerk of said City and could be had upon application therefor, and that thereafter and under date of October 7th, 1930, the Ventura Free Press published an account of such protest before the City Council in the following language: "CAN'T DEFER CHARTER VOTE SAYS COUNCIL. Impossible to grant request presented by taxpayer. Voting on the proposed new charter for the City can not be put off to a date later than November 4, the city council last night advised Mrs. R. T. Forrester, 319 North Ventura Avenue, who accompanied her petition for postponement with the declaration that only one side of the question had been given the voters and that the electorate should be fully informed. Under the law, the election had to be called within a certain number of days after the charter draft was filed with the council, Mayor Randall explained, and therefore additional time can not be granted the voters who wish to study the provisions. CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT. Mrs. Forrester said it took her four days to digest four lines on page 10 of the charter pamphlet and that 'only a lawyer can understand some of the provision.' 'It is not fair to ask the people to vote on such a serious matter without giving them time to digest it,' she said. 'If it is such a wonderful thing the people ought to be advised, and a copy of the charter placed in the hands of every voter. There should be public forums where the 'cons' as well as the 'pros' are told.'

Councilman Albro said there is no question but that the people should be given both sides of the question, but he had no advice for the petitioner other than that she study the charter and read the newspapers."

That the City Clerk was never instructed by the City Council, the same being then and there the legislative body of the City of San Buenaventura, to notify any newspaper that such printed pamphlet copies of the proposed Charter were available for distribution. That none of the publications of said fact that said printed charters were available for distribution were ordered by the City as a paid advertisement nor was the City billed therefor as a paid advertisement.

That in the event such facts as hereinabove set forth justify the legal conclusion that until the day fixed for the election of such Charter, the legislative body of said City did advertise in one or more papers of general circulation published in said City, a notice that such copies might be had upon application therefor, then and in such event the State Legislature are to interpret the certificate herein contained in such light. That in the event, however, the Legislature is of the opinion that the facts stated do not establish such conclusions, the Legislature shall interpret the said certificate and the conclusions therein contained as aforesaid as being the conclusions of the signers of this certificate supported by no other evidence than that contained in the said statement of facts.

I, Ruth E. Meilandt, City Clerk of the City of San Buenaventura, County of Ventura, State of California, hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct statement of the proceedings relating to the ratification of said charter by the qualified electors of said City of San Buenaventura, and that the charter as above set forth, is a full, true and correct copy as the same was prepared, proposed and ratified.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of the City of San Buenaventura this 21st day of January, 1931.

[SEAL]

RUTH E. MEILANDT,
City Clerk of the City of San Buenaventura, County of Ventura, State of California.

Mayor of the City of San Buenaventura.

Sec. 218. The Water Commission shall have the power, subject to the provisions of this Charter and to such ordinances of the City as are not in conflict with the grants of power herein made to this Department:

Any interest or increment received on the money in any such special fund shall be paid into such special fund and become a part thereof. The foregoing provisions of this Section shall apply to all such bonds now outstanding or hereafter issued; provided, however, that payments out of revenue, as above provided, of the principal and interest of bonds hereafter issued for securing water from new sources, shall be required only to the extent determined by resolution of the Commission, approved by a majority vote of the Council, prior to the submission to the electors of the City of the proposition of authorizing such bonds.
