VOLUME I. NUMBER 16

NARBERTH, PA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1915

PRICE TWO CENTS

NARBERTH GLEE CLUB TO GIVE MINSTREL SHOW FOR FIRE CO.

The Narberth Glee Club will give their second minstrel show Friday and Saturday evening, January 29-30, for the benefit of the Narberth Fire Co., at Elm Hall. Judging from the quality of the show which they gave November 21, this with its new members should be the best amateur performance ever given in Narberth. Tickets are selling fast, Fire Co. reports having sold over six hundred. The feature of the first part will be the boys in our championship teams; our 1914 base ball team, part members will be represented in uniform of the last year's team. Captain Gene Davis will be there with his championship foot ball team in uniform. Our coming champion basket ball team will also be there with their new uniforms.

Scotchman and Yiddish.

Mr. Walter Lupton, as a Scotchman dressed in kilts on the right end; Mr. Harold Speakman as a Yiddish gentleman on the left; also the old favorite Bill McCargo will be there as end man, also as a Yiddish character. You all know Bill and what he pulls alone is worth the price of admission.

Mr. Newton Compton

will again be a colored character, being the only colored man in the first part.

Mr. Bill Dennis, who so successfully gave the last show, will again be in charge and will be found as interlocutor. Bill says this is the best show he has ever given and in putting on a farce on "Uncle Tom's Cabin," he is attempting something new in this line.

Our VILLAGE CUT UP, Mr. Irvin Ward will sing "Stay Down Here Where You Belong," which should make a big hit. It's hard to beat Vernie Fleck on his song "It's a Long Way From Home." Speakman and McCargo will keep you laughing all the time at some of their Yiddish jokes, which are brand new and red hot. Mr. Frank Cleft will sing the big song hit, "The Pick of the Family." The good looking girls of Narberth had better look out for him on this song, as he picks them out, and Frank is some picker.

Good Looking Newt Compton

the ladies idol, will sing the famous monkey song. Aha Daba and he has the monkey movement down fine. Carl Smith, Narberth's sweet-voiced baritone, will sing, "Back to Carolina You Love." Carl gets both old and young crying on this ballad.

Between Acts.

Between the first and second parts Mr. Walter Lupton will sing "I Love a Lassie" and "Stop That Tickling, Jock," a la Harry Lauder. Mr. Lupton comes highly recommended to Narberth. Mr. Dennis says he is the best in this line on the stage to day.

Part Two.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe gave to us that beautiful story, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and Mr. Dennis is taking from it some of the leading characters and has written a farce comedy on same. Mr. Harry Brown, six foot tall, takes the part of little Eva, and Harry is surely there with that baby stuff. Mr. Warren Anderson takes the part of Topsy, and must hear Warren sing Al Jolson's big song hit, "Sister Susie's Sewing Shirts for Soldiers." We offer one hundred dollars in counterfeit money to anyone who can beat him.

HAROLD SPEAKMAN, as Eliza and her baby, will bring the house down on the second scene in Eliza's escape over the ice, real ice at that. In this scene six Narberth bloodhounds will run across the stage, followed by Simon Legree; this part taken by Frank Clift.

Uncle Tom will be taken care of by Vernon Fleck, who has proved himself beyond doubt in line with Richard Mansfield and some more of our great actors now dead.

Numerous Other Things.

Many other parts too numerous to mention will be offered for your entertainment. Watch for the big parade and the bloodhounds well known to Narberth residents.

Show starts 8.15 promptly. Admission 35 cents to all.

VIOLIN RECITAL.

The residents of our borough have a treat in store for them in the recital to be given by Henry Such, the noted violinist, on Friday evening, February 26th at Elm Hall.

Mr. Such is a wonderful musician and plays exquisitely.

His reputation alone should convince every citizen not to miss the recital. He has been soloist in the Philadelphia Orchestra and has also played before most of the crowned heads of Europe. It is a known fact that Sarasate and Wilkeleuj both called him their master pupil.

His interpretation of both the old and modern school of composition is marvelous and our people should feel honored to have an artist of Mr. Such's calibre give a recital in their home town.

I might also add that Mr. Such is most ably assisted by his talented wife, who acts as his accompanist.

NARBERTH MAN DROPS DEAD.

Harry Egee, who resided with Charles J. Hansell on Montgomery avenue, met with sudden death early Monday morning at the corner of Narberth and Haverford avenues, while on his way to a train.

The extremely slippery condition of the streets at the time as the result of the sleet storm caused unusual exertion, and, as Mr. Egee was afflicted with serious heart trouble, it is thought that this was a contributory cause to his death.

Mr. Egee leaves a wife and a son who reside in Canada.

WEST CHESTER Y. M. C. A. DIRECTOR APPRECIATES NARBERTH Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Last Tuesday night a long distance telephone call from West Chester, Pennsylvania, was of considerable interest. It was from a John L. Clayton, treasurer and director of the West Chester Y. M. C. A. In disguise he had made an informal call at our association the previous Saturday night. He was cordially received, witnessed the exciting basket ball game and inspected the building thoroughly. His call was just to inform us of this and to congratulate Narberth on its Y. M. C. A. and to extend best wishes in behalf of the West Chester Association.

FIRST COMMUNITY NIGHT AT Y. M. C. A.

Friday evening, February 19, will be the first community night at the Y. M. C. A. Building.

These community nights are to be conducted at regular intervals and are being arranged under the direction of W. S. Horner, general manager of the Y. M. C. A., in collaboration with Mrs. C. R. Blackall, who represents the Woman's Community Club (new name adopted by Woman's Auxillary of the Y. M. C. A.), and the Civic Association: Irving Ward, representing the Methodist Church; Harry Simpson, representing the Baptist Church, and Walter Nevin, representing the Presbyterian Church. A big night! Chalk it down and bring along your friends.

A GOOD BAND FOR NARBERTH.

A good band representing Narberth would be a most excellent advertisement for our home town as it journeyed about to entertain neighboring townspeople. It would also fulfill a need that is sure to be felt in the near future on the opening of our new park. Who can present a plan that will give us a band that shall represent Narberth's high musical standards? If there is someone who can, let him come to the front.

ROSES FOR OUR FLOWER SHOW THE FIRST WEEK IN JUNE

[The following article was written by Mr. F. Dinwiddie Walker, one of our borough residents, who is an acknowledged authority on rose culture.]

The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage is credited with the expression that "Undoubtedly the Almighty could have made a better berry than the strawberry, but He didn't—so as forcefully 'He could also have made a more sweetly scented, perfectly colored flower than the Rose, but He didn't.' I venture that more time and thought have been expended by professionals on this species in the Floral Kingdom than any other, probably a great deal more, and we must bear in mind that we do not give the intelligent care to their growing that the professionals do and therefore cannot expect to get the maximum in quantity or quality. Consider what is needed to get so-called 'perfection,' and then on the other hand, how little of these things we ever give them—

"Plenty of sunshine
Soil of the right consistency
Soil containing the proper fertilizers, and a
Temperature never exceeding 60 degrees Fahr."

With a lot of intelligent thought and care we can finally provide approximately the first three things, but it would be a rare summer indeed that would provide a temperature at all suitable. I have often worked in the rose beds when the thermometer was well over ninety in the sun, when the soil was almost cooking and the rose leaves were wilting with the intense heat. The marvel is that they could go on giving me even inferior blooms. My June, September and October blooms are infinitely finer than those in mid-summer. We are handicapped in our climate. In the cool moist climate of England the only things for the grower to provide are soil that is suitable to the variety and properly applied fertilizer. In such a climate a Hybrid Perpetual is a perpetual indeed. With us, it is a June rose. When a nurseryman claims a wealth of bloom from June to October, he may be stating what the rose will do under ideal conditions. We amateurs are too prone to believe that if we keep the grass cut and the fence painted that our back yards offer ideal inducements to roses.

It is Love's Labor lost indeed to plant a rose in soil entirely unsuited to its requirements and hope by nursing and care to make it thrive. No necromancy could ever induce that wonderful tea rose "Peace" to bloom in a stiff heavy clay soil. For such a rose and for all tea roses the soil must be loamy. I mean by that, so sandy that it will not bake solid in the dry summer, so that when you pick up a lump as large as a lemon you can easily crush it to powder in your hand. The hybrid tea, like the Killarney and Segond Weber need a stiffer soil than that—quite a little stiffer, and the hybrid perpetuals flourish best in a soil that is quite stiff. I am sorry that soil consistency (upon which so much depends in rose growing) cannot be explained in definite terms of analysis, for the variety of the hybrid tea extends from the borders of the perpetual to the borders of the tea in their requirements of soil, so that any rules are only general, in most cases correct but with many exceptions. This is the whole story of one man's success with, and loyalty to, the Killarney, for instance, while his neighbor gives up Killarneys in despair.

If you will realize that in Narberth many of the gardens, or the ground that we hope to make into a garden, is, owing to the new grading, a number of feet below where the soil was originally—the soil was hauled away—the expanse of clay, gravel, stone and lime that is left for us to make a "garden" in, wouldn't grow a rag weed, while his near neighbor had his ground filled in to bring it up to grade, so that in spots all over the garden there was dumped a load of splendid top soil next to a load of ashes and refuse. The merciful sod hides the eyesore, but when the flower beds are all laid out and planted there is going to be a difference in the luxuriance in the different parts of the flower bed. Naturally, most post-mortems that I have held showed that the patient died from lack of nutrition owing to its being planted in material entirely unsuited to it. All we can ever hope to get from such plantings is the exercise of digging the hole and pulling up the dead plant.

If you have the soil in your garden, then I have found a compromise on Mrs. Elly's directions will give first rate results. The rose bed ought to be 20 inches deep (any shape you choose to make it.) At the bottom put six inches of black rotten manure, throw back 12 inches of earth and then about one-quarter of an inch of bone meal, then the last two inches of earth. Do this in September or early October and don't plant in it until the next spring. Don't raise the top of the rose bed above the surrounding sod. If you do, the rain will run off and so will the water from the hose.

When we water roses, the idea is to get the water on the roots, not the foliage, so sink the bed a little below, like a shallow saucer, then the puddle will form around and over the roots and finally sink in the ground that the roots live in, and not off in the grass or in the side yard drain.

If you haven't the kind of soil that suits the kind of roses you want to plant, then dig the trench and get the earth brought to you. A hurry-up bed, which isn't so permanent, can be made by putting the prepared manure in the lower six or eight inches of the trench, mixed thoroughly with the soil, the upper twelve inches not to have any manure in it—but after the roses are planted and actually begun to grow, then give them liquid fertilizer, always thoroughly watering them first—a couple of hours after that, pouring a half bucket of manure water to each rose. As often as once a week all summer will bring a splendid growth.

PLANNING IMPROVED POST OFFICE FACILITIES.

The postmaster has invited the Civic Association to co-operate with him and the post office department in devising a plan for better post office facilities.

Several ways of making the much needed improvements are to be considered and a committee will be appointed in a short time to take up the question from every viewpoint.

WHAT IT MEANT.

"What is the meaning of that big 'D' on the dustbin?" asked the new servant.

The haughty footman replied, "Damsel, the 'D' displayed on the dustbin denotes that the despairing domestics of this detached domicile desire that the deserving dustmen during their daily diversions will deem it their delightful duty to dislodge deliberately and deftly the dirt and dust deposited in that disagreeable dustbin."—Tit-Bits.

EDITORIAL NOTES

OUR COMMUNITY CENTER.

The Y. M. C. A., under its new management, purposes to broaden its scope so that it may classify under the above heading.

The social interests of a borough of our size cannot be so diversified, but that this will mean the intermingling of new comers with old-time residents, and if hearty co-operation seconds the attempt, our Y. M. C. A. Building will take its place in every activity for Community Union.

There should not be a disinterested person in so worthy an undertaking as this one is.

Yes, a real flower show for Narberth, with real prizes too. Let all who have any space at all for flowers, begin to get ready for the show. The first Saturday in June will come apace, so begin your planning. We are going to show one more worthwhile thing that Narberth can do. SPLENDID! Write Mr. Fletcher Stites for full particulars.

We surely feel that it is a great privilege to have Mr. Henry Such, of London, England, give us a violin recital. Mr. Such is in the same class with Elman and others of note. On February 26 he will play in Elm Hall, under the auspices of the Civic Association. Mrs. Such will accompany her husband.

WHEN NARBERTH MAY HAVE FREE MAIL DELIVERIES.

The law permits the employment of letter carriers for the delivery and collection of mail at any place, containing within its corporate limits a population of not less than 10,000, or at any post office which has produced gross revenue of not less than $10,000 during the fiscal year preceding the date on which such service is established. Included in this gross revenue are the receipts from the rental of post office boxes.

Receipts at Narberth post office for 1914 were over $7000. Three thousand dollars to go. If you want free delivery, do your part.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

WHY IS IT, FELLOW CITIZENS?

To the Editor of Our Town:

May I say a few words in consequence of the letter published in last week's issue, entitled "The Other Side"—said "other side" being anti-suffrage? Kindly note that I say "IN CONSEQUENCE" and not "in answer," for I have long since refrained from answering those who are "anti" anything.

A brief foreword is perhaps in order. Suffrage is a national question; but it is also a Pennsylvania question, and in consequence thereof, it is a Narberth question. That's the reason I am addressing this letter to Our Town and not to The London Times.

In the first place, let me state a question which always puzzles me, whenever woman suffrage is under discussion, and which is: Why is it, that some people oppose so bitterly the enactment of a law to legalize the right of women to vote?

That may seem very unsophisticated on my part, but let me explain. To pass a woman suffrage law does not mean that a woman will be compelled to vote, any more than the U. S. Constitution compels a man to vote. If a man doesn't want to vote he is at perfect liberty to stay in his office or home. So it will be with women. But to say that a woman shall not vote, if she wants to, reminds me of a very, very profound remark made not long ago by a so-called statesman, to the effect that "it is not what women want but what THEY OUGHT TO WANT."

Do you get that: Not what she wants, but what she ought to want!

What your correspondent had to say about laws governing the hours of labor in States where women have the vote, doesn't interest me one whit. For the sake of argument, I am willing to admit that it is all absolutely true, and still I can't see what the action of some women has to do with the abstract question of all women having the legal right to vote.

Don't, I beg of you, tell me that a "woman's place is in the home." You may refer to me as one of "those women's rights guys," but I have one ounce of charity in your soul, please don't tell me that stuff about the place in the home.

Of course, if you honestly believe that way, way back in the dim past—back even before the beginning of recorded history, it was all doped out, that along about 1864 or '84 or some other more or less recent date, there should spring up a race of supermen who would make such a tremendous success at governing themselves and their cities, that they would just naturally be so wise that they could say to all women, "It's not what you want, but what you ought to want," why that's a different matter. In the presence of such a magnificent electorate I doubt very much whether I'd have the audacity to even think of voting.

Yes, that sounds like "bunk," but if it isn't the answer to my question, what is? Why do some people oppose woman suffrage?

Yours very truly,
E. A. Muschamp.

Editor Our Town:

I note with much interest Mr. Stites' suggestion that we have a Flower Show, naming the 5th of June, Saturday. I sincerely hope the suggestion finds favor with the majority of the residents for I am convinced that we would all get much pleasure and profit from it.

F. Dinwiddie Walker.

To the Editor of Our Town:

Through Our Town I would like to talk, for just a few minutes, to the mothers and fathers of Narberth, and ask their co-operation in a matter that vitally concerns everyone of us.

On Monday night, last week, just before midnight, a boy telephoned to the fire company a fake "false" alarm. An investigation of the origin of the "alarm" showed that the boy that telephoned to the fire company acted upon the suggestion of older boys. The whole affair, from the boys' viewpoint, was a joke.

As wise and keen a student of human nature as W. S. Gilbert, who made millions laugh over his "Pinafore" and "The Mikado," once said, "Old heads on young shoulders we must not expect to find," which is nearer the truth of the matter than to merely say "boys will be boys." Boys can be boys, and at the same time refrain from such acts as turning in false fire alarms or "putting younger boys up to such tricks." A frank, friendly talk between parent and son will come pretty near driving such notions out of a boy's head.

If our fire auto or horse-drawn truck were to upset one of these times while responding to a false alarm, and kill one or two of the members of the company, and that is exactly what has happened in every big city in the country at some time or other as well as small towns, all our grieving and "wishing we hadn't" would be in vain. Note what happened at Bryn Mawr on last Thursday in which three men were injured while responding to a similar alarm.

Well, after that, it wouldn't be necessary to explain to any one the danger of turning in a false alarm.

I'm putting this matter as forcibly as I know how, not because I have any desire to censure any individual, but simply to call the attention of everyone to the utmost necessity of regarding fire alarms as a most serious matter. I hope the fathers and mothers of Narberth will impress this fact on their sons. I have enough faith in boys to believe that they will do the square thing if the matter is clearly and seriously explained to them.

Charles V. Noel, Chief.

THE PARCELS POST.

Of all the great business enterprises now being conducted in this country, the parcels post is unique, far-reaching and economical. It has had a stupendous growth in the two years of its operation in serving the public. It is the most beneficial public utility business now in existence. The history of its development is an eye-opener and the amount of money it has saved the general public up to this time is beyond the average man's imagination.

In the annual report of the Postmaster-General, covering the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, he states: "The marvellous growth and development marks the recent history of the parcels post; although in operation less than two years this service has expanded from an experimental facility of limited advantages into a universal transportation agency; there is every reason to believe that the postal service is now handling more than 800,000,000 parcels annually. The growth of the service has exceeded all expectations, and is highly gratifying."

The parcels post department of the postal system stood the strain of a large Christmas business without a break in the machinery or the delay in the delivery of packages. The success that has followed the development of this branch of the public service is winning many converts to the sound idea that the people are just as capable of running what is essentially their own business as the private individual is.

Edward S. Haws, Postmaster.

SCHOOL MATTERS OF INTEREST.

Concluded.

Special Days

"The Thanksgiving and Christmas services were well attended by parents and friends. The rooms were appropriately decorated and were a source of interest to the visitors. The exercises, or services, were of a character not commonly found in school exercises. The addresses were delivered by Rev. Swift and Rev. Koppel. The donations to the Salvation Army Home for Children and to the University Settlement were liberal. The spirit of the pupils throughout was highly commendable.

"A series of illustrated lectures is being arranged. Two have been given one by Miss Snyder, on Germany, and one by Rev. Van Ness, on the "Holy Land." The latter just preceded the Christmas day exercises.

"Pupils have been encouraged to bring plants and money for pictures to awaken interest in the beautifying the building. We believe the esthetic and the ethical should be developed. They go hand in hand. Window boxes covered with bark, have been made by boys. Pictures, copies of the masters, have been procured. Studies have been procured that can be interpreted by the pupils.

Short Paragraphs From Reports

From the various reports we glean a few short paragraphs dealing with some old essentials:

"We are urging more care in letter writing and in simple forms, both written and oral, of English composition. 'Tis true, and 'tis pity that 'tis true,' that the great majority of pupils leave high school unable to express their thoughts, in good English.

"Spelling in the high school is a commendable feature of the previous year's work. We shall certainly continue it.

"Penmanship is to be given daily in all grades below the high school, under careful supervision; and under no condition is it to be omitted from the daily schedule.

"Teachers are requested to have pupils memorize the familiar national hymns. The average American, it is said, cannot sing through one national hymn.

"Grades will profit by frequent reviews and rapid tests in accuracy in arithmetic."

We are glad to note that the development of the teachers is being cared for: the report says:

"No teacher can be efficient unless she studies and strives in other ways toward self-improvement. There is no pedagogical library in our schools, and, although the individual teacher will provide herself with some pedagogical works out of her meagre salary, she cannot afford what she should have. There are also few reference works for pupils or teachers. We therefore urge that a Pedagogical Library be started. The teachers will donate fifteen dollars for this purpose."

(We learn that the board appropriated an equal amount.)

"A systematic reading of educational magazines has also been recommended to the teachers. Several pedagogical journals are being provided for the teachers' rest room. Six standard periodicals appear on the high school reading shelf."

In a subsequent issue will be published extracts from the list of recommendations and suggestions which have been approved by the board. They will set forth some of the policies of the school administration.

One thousand four hundred boys and girls enrolled in the Public Industrial Art School of Philadelphia study for two hours every day drawing, designing, modeling and carving.

ON THE 8.14

And Elsewhere in Our Town

The other day a fellow commuter made a remark that reminded me of a favorite expression of a teacher in drawing that I once had. This teacher used to say: If you look for a straight line, you'll see a straight line; if you look for a curved line, you'll see a curved line.

The commuter said, "This little paper—this Our Town—is a revelation to me."

"No, thanks," I said, interrupting him, "write and tell the editor, I'm not receiving bouquets to-day."

"That's not what I mean," he added. "I'm not trying to hand you any stuff about it being another New York Sun. What I mean is that I had no idea there was so much interesting local news in our borough until the paper was started and I began reading it. What's more, I know something about Narberth now and I'm beginning to think that it's a whole lot better place than I imagined it was, even when one of your real estate men was trying to induce me to move out."

Moral: If you look for news you'll find it.

This is positively no advertisement, nor is it what is known in the editorial offices of newspapers as a "B. O. M."—Business Office Must! And oh, how the editors love those "B. O. M.'s!" But I hasten to assure you, faithful reader—you notice, I trust, that I use the singular and not the plural, so as to be in a position to refute any charges of exaggerated circulation—that the business manager and the advertising manager have no say, whatever, as to what goes in this column. I may feel the predestined urge, or the subconscious vibration that guides me along the straight and narrow pathway of advertising patronage, but, on the other hand, I am a free agent to do as I please. In this particular instance, I please to suggest, that, if you have any relatives or friends who formerly lived in Narberth, you send in a subscription for Our Town and copies will be mailed regularly each week to that relative or friend. Already this has been done by a number of our readers and we have also received subscriptions from a number of former Narberth folks who learned about Our Town from relatives and friends still living in the borough.

Hats off to our ex-burgess, Mr. Stites, for starting the ball a-rolling for the First Annual Flower Show of the Narberth Garden Club.

There's a vast difference between a healthy love of flowers and that "a single flower, against a background of nothing; that is Art" business.

Beside the marvelous colorings of Nature's brush and palette, man's puny efforts at decorating canvases are about on a par with a comparison of one of those cubist pictures in Wanamaker's to a glorious sunset as seen from the Narberth avenue bridge!

But hold, we're not trying to outdo Tennyson and Walt Mason at one stroke. The object of the game, as Dan Daly used to say, is to remind you of the proposed flower show and awaken as much interest as possible in the project.

Whooper up everybody! Make Narberth's first flower show as fine as the first pageant. You'll hear more about the show later.

Thank you, the station grounds look a little better. But there is still room for improvement. We folks here in America are not the worst in the world—at least, we're no worse than any of the other humans, but we are infernally careless and thoughtless at times. Many of our most serious national ills can be traced to the same source from which springs the station nuisance.

Yours hoping,
Chief Wingebone, Jr.

News of the Churches

EVANGEL BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. Emerson L. Swift, Pastor.

The attendance at the Bible School each Sunday shows a fine interest in the work that is being accomplished this new year. Dr. H. R. Kirby, of Assam, will give his illustrated talk to the school the first Sunday of February. The Berean and Helping Hand Classes extend a hearty welcome to both women and men at 9.45 A. M. Service of worship at 11.00 A. M. Subject of the sermon, "A Blessing in the Small Cloud."

Union Young People's service at 7.00. Union preaching service at 7.45. As this is the world's temperance Sunday the service will be devoted to this cause. Rev. John Van Ness, of the Presbyterian Church, will preach on this subject. We extend a general invitation to the people of the borough to attend.

The King's Daughters will hold their monthly meeting at the church Wednesday next at 10.30. In the evening at 8.00 will occur the monthly covenant meeting of the church.

We urge all who have either new or aroused convictions as to their duty to Jesus Christ and his commands to put them in practice and attend the services of our church next Sunday. Do this and you will receive his rich blessing.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Rev. Chris. G. Koppel, Pastor.

Sunday, January 31, 9.45. Sunday School Assembly. Bible study classes for men and women. 11.00, Annual Missionary service. Inspiring address by Miss Roraback, a missionary from the West. The Pipe Organ Committee reports progress. Cash and pledges amount to $1250.

Young Men Join Church.

Three young men united with the church last Sunday. Gathered with them at the channel, stretching across the front of the church, was a group of members. The service was very impressive, warming the hearts of all present. Twenty-four men and young men are among the recent accessions to the church.

NO MORE RESERVATIONS FOR BILLY SUNDAY'S MEETINGS.

The Sunday Campaign Committee reports that it is impossible to grant further reservations, the local committee having decided that, in view of the fact that the tabernacle is inadequate to accommodate the overwhelming and tremendous crowds of Philadelphians who wish to attend the services, there will be no reservations of any nature made for out-of-town delegations.

FROM ALL ANGLES.

Narberth Main Line League leaders won their ninth consecutive victory last Saturday when they defeated the strong Overbrook by the score 40 to 18.

"Bill Durbin, the iron man." Bill certainly deserves that title. He played for Haverford School against the George School on last Saturday afternoon, and then in the evening he played a hard game with Narberth against Overbrook.

In conjunction with the league game, the Juniors defeated Ardmore Juniors in a very rough game by the score 37 to 22. This makes the tenth consecutive victory for the Juniors. Their games thus far have been:

- Narberth Juniors, 25; N. H. S., 17.
- Narberth Juniors, 35; N. H. S., 16.
- Narberth Juniors, 28; Ardmore, 9.
- Narberth Juniors, 42; Upper Darby, 18.
- Narberth Juniors, 40; Milton A. C., 26.
- Narberth Juniors, 22; Upper Darby, 9.
- Narberth Juniors, 39; Cynwyd, 24.
- Narberth Juniors, 44; Budd A. C., 16.
- Narberth Juniors, 49; Haverford, Boys' Club, 13.
- Narberth Juniors, 37; Ardmore, 22.

This makes a total of 361 points against their opponents' 160, a great record. Much praise is due the Junior organization for the work they have accomplished this year as they organized the team without the aid of anyone, and they have received very little coaching.

Another Narberth Victory.
Last Wednesday Narberth High School defeated Upper Darby to the tune of 30 to 23. Captain McCarter was a big factor in this victory. He not only scored the majority of the points, but his dribbling and passing far exceeded that of the rest of the team. A little teamwork would greatly add to the strength of the High School team.

Jack Jefferies, the husky guard of the Junior team, distinguished himself in the game against Ardmore last Saturday. He scored six field goals and held his opponent to 2.

Monk McKinney, the last Narberthite to enroll in Haverford School, is expected by his many friends to make the base ball team. Go to it, Monk. We wish you the best of success.

In the early part of February, the Narberth team will journey to Wildwood and play the local team there. Wildwood has a very strong team, so a good game is expected.

Meyer, the Girard College star, was noticed in the Overbrook lineup last Saturday. His foul shooting was the feature of the game.

Someone said refereeing a basket ball game was a soft job. Ask Dr. Hoffman.

In a recent game "Whitey" Humphreys struck his head against one of the lockers in the dressing room. The witnesses of this dreadful accident expected a long stream of profanities; but Whitey in a painful voice merely said, "Billy Sunday."

"Ladies' Night" at the Y. M. C. A. No, this isn't German, but real English. A night has been set aside for the use of the gymnasium for the young ladies of the night. Last Friday night was the first scene of this new activity.

Important Notice.
Next Saturday evening there will not be any game as there is a minstrel show at Elm Hall for the benefit of the Fire Company. This game will be played off at a later date.
Signed, Le Bonbon Enfant.

MAIN LINE BASKET BALL LEAGUE

Narberth clinched the Main Line Basket Ball title Saturday evening by defeating Overbrook, 40-18. The game was well played by the home team, Captain Durbin's dribbling brought applause several times from the spectators. L. Davis was the leading scorer, having seven field goals and seven fouls to his credit, thereby scoring half of the home team's points. The guarding of Fleck, L. Jeffries and Humphreys was responsible for the low score, only five goals being made against them. Line-up:

Narberth. Overbrook.
E. Davis.....forward.....F. Burrill
Durbin.....forward.....F. Myers (Speakman)
L. Davis.....center.....C. Esling
V. Fleck.....guard.....G. Kramer

Narberth	7	0	1.000
Ardmore	4	3	.572

Notes.
E. Davis played his usual good game.

No game next week on account of minstrel show. By the way, don't forget the show for the benefit of the Fire Company, Friday and Saturday nights.

Another pennant for Narberth. This is the third one in succession—base ball, foot ball and basket ball.
