JOHN M. BUNDY DIES FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT SANTA MONICA

John M. Bundy, a real estate man of 1610 W. Broadway, was killed as the result of an auto accident, which happened Sunday at the foot of Main street, Santa Monica. The accident took place at 3 a. m. As far as could be ascertained from those who witnessed the accident Bundy lost control of his machine, the steering gear of which apparently refused to work. The consequence was that the auto ran over the sidewalk at Fremont avenue, along the Pacific Electric right-of-way and struck a post, turning turtle. It is believed he thought Main street continued past Fremont and attempted to turn quickly when he saw his mistake.

The auto turned over twice and finally pinned Mr. Bundy beneath the wreckage. A watchman from the Pacific Electric and two other passersby rushed to Bundy's aid. He was conveyed to St. Catherine's hospital by Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Fransvoy of Venice, who happened to be passing in their car. By the time the hospital was reached Mr. Bundy had expired. One of his legs was broken and he also suffered dislocation of the neck.

Bundy was a real estate man and had gone down to Santa Monica in connection with a deal he was to negotiate there. He has been resident in California for ten years, nine years of which time he has spent in Glendale.

He leaves a widow but no children. His sister lives in Escondido. The body has been conveyed to Los Angeles and is now in the parlors of Bresee Bros. The funeral services will be held there Tuesday.

DISPOSING OF WASTE PAPER

Glendale, Cal., April 1st, 1916. EDITOR GLENDALE NEWS: Dear Sir:—In many of the current newspapers—yours included—there have appeared repeated notices of the scarcity of paper, and the consequent rise in price of same. Recently I sent you a check in payment for 500 copies of the "News" containing a special article, said check being $5.00 more than one sent for the same number of copies six months ago. This advance in price is but one instance of the working of the law of supply and demand.

The real reason for this communication is to inquire if there is no way of increasing the supply by cutting out the waste. In our own family, which is but a duplicate of hundreds of others, we are burning every week pounds and pounds of newspapers, wrapping paper and bags, besides magazines and small quantities of rags, simply because we do not know how otherwise to dispose of them.

I am enclosing two clippings from recent papers, showing that there is a way of utilizing waste paper as well as rags, and I recall that in the town where I formerly lived in the East, one of the Christian Endeavor societies netted quite a large sum of money by gathering up a carload of old papers and magazines from their friends and neighbors. If you could bring to the attention of the public, through your paper, some way of utilizing this constant waste, it would seem as though some enterprising individual or organization, in need of funds, might not only benefit themselves, but relieve many a housekeeper of the time spent, and the annoyance caused by the weekly "smudge" in the back yard.

Any suggestions toward a solution of this problem of unnecessary waste would, I am sure, interest many of the readers of your paper.

Following are the clippings: "The attention of the department of commerce of the United States has been called by the president of a large paper manufacturing company to the fact that there is a serious shortage of raw material for the manufacture of paper, including rags and old papers. He urges that the department should make it known that the collecting and saving of rags and old papers would greatly better existing conditions for American manufacturers. Something like fifteen thousand tons of different kinds of paper and paper-board are manufactured in the United States, and a large proportion of this after it has served its purpose could be used over again in some class of paper. A large part of it, however, is either burned or otherwise wasted. This, of course, has to be replaced by new materials."

"Pupils of the McCall school, by selling old papers and magazines, have raised $7.50 towards the fund of $10 necessary to provide prize

IRELAND AND TODD

EVANGELIST WILL BE ASSISTED BY SINGER AT M. E. CHURCH

This will be the closing week of the Revival Mission now in progress at the First Methodist church. The interest in the meetings is deepening. Evangelist Ireland will be assisted this week by Mr. S. L. Todd, tenor singer. They will constitute a strong team. Ireland has the "punch" in preaching and with Mr. Todd to lead in solo and chorus work the services this week should be full of interest. Mr. Todd will materially strengthen the already splendid chorus, under the inspiring leadership of Mrs. Cammack.

Evangelist Ireland was somewhat indisposed yesterday, but managed to preach in the morning. His sermon was one of the most effective thus far given. From the first he gripped his audience and held them in deepest attention till the end. With kindly, but keen, directness he spoke to the individual life.

"You need to read the Ten Commandments backward. That is the climatic way. You leave off at the right place 'Thou shalt have none other gods but me.' 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, with all thy mind and with all thy strength, and thy neighbor as thyself.' How can you love your neighbor as yourself? If it said 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thy wife' you could not do that. If it said 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thy mother that would be impossible. But you can love your neighbor as yourself. That means when you are weighing the groceries you will not cut the weight and say, 'Well the sack or the paper costs something.' That means that you will not let your knowledge gouge your neighbor in a real estate deal. If he has land and you know there is oil under the ground you will tell him of the oil before you offer ten dollars an acre when you know it is worth a thousand dollars an acre.

"Get God in your life and play fair. Tell people of their virtues and not always kick them for their failings. Scatter the flowers as you go along. Get right with God and you will get along with your neighbors."

As Mr. Ireland was quite indisposed at the evening hour the pastor preached. His sermon theme was "Shackling God." He spoke on the words, "They limited the Holy One of Israel."

Instead of the home prayer meetings this week there will be a meeting at the church each morning at 10 o'clock.

MEXICANS IN DISTURBANCE

Refugio Romerez and Pasquale Gomez were involved in a disturbance of some magnitude as regards noise Sunday. They both live in Sycamore canyon and on Sunday got into some kind of a dispute after Gomez had visited the woman at her home. She alleges that he assaulted her and he denies the charges. They are both awaiting the services of an interpreter that their respective stories and those of some witnesses may be obtained.

DOROTHY BONNELL'S CONDITION

Miss Dorothy Bonnell, who was injured in the automobile accident last Wednesday evening, still lies unconscious at the Glendale Sanitarium, but there are hopes of her ultimate recovery. The condition of Mrs. Sloan, who was also in the accident, is rapidly improving.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Tuesday; northwest to west winds.

money for the home garden contests this season in their own school. The remainder of the money is also provided for, it is understood."

—A SUBSCRIBER.

The editor of the Evening News has a large quantity of waste paper to dispose of, and when publishing a paper in Illinois he found it profitable to bale the waste paper, being able to put it on the market at from $11 to $15 per ton, but in California $2.00 per ton is the best offer he has had for baled paper, and everybody knows that price will not even pay for the cartage, to say nothing about the expense of baling. California is asleep along the line of manufacturing industries as yet.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

C., April 3.—Big navy advocates greatly enjoyed the scene in the House this morning when Representative Butler put Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, through a severe cross-examination, in the course of which the secretary did not show to advantage. Butler asked: "Do you remember having turned over to the Russian government designs and specifications of the American 14-inch guns as well as other naval effects, during your administration? Did you also reveal navy secrets to the Krupps in Germany?" Daniels replied, "I do not. I did not." He also stated that these stories would be investigated.

TO OPEN NEW STORE

GLENDALE MEAT MARKET NOW INSTALLED IN FINE QUARTERS AT 542 W. BROADWAY

Glendale Meat Market, so long established at 540 W. Broadway, is now installed in the fine new store at 542 W. Broadway. The new store will be formally opened Tuesday, when Mr. C. W. Ingledue, the proprietor, will be glad to welcome all his customers, new and old.

In his new store Mr. Ingledue has the finest meat market in this vicinity. Everything has been fitted up according to the most modern ideas and for the purpose of handling the meats in a sanitary and attractive style. The former store has been completely remodeled. The whole premises have been newly painted and rebuilt for meat market purposes.

Two large refrigerators for cold storage purposes have been installed. One of these is 7x8 feet; the other 8x11. There is also a 16-foot display wall case, where customers can see the cuts of meat and choose what they want. There is also one 5-foot case and four display meat cases in the front store.

One great feature of the store is the ice-making machine, which has a capacity of two and a half tons of ice daily. There is also a room for the manufacture of sausage and hamburger and a machine for grinding bone. The ground bone is in great demand for chicken feed.

Mr. Ingledue has perfected an up-to-date auto service, and also a motorcycle delivery service, by means of which orders will be carried in prompt delivery all over the territory adjacent to Glendale—San Fernando valley generally, Tropic, Casa Verdugo, La Canada and La Crescenta. The Glendale market has a large number of customers in this wide district but hopes to increase that number by means of the added conveniences of its modern equipment.

CHINAMAN IN ACCIDENT

Chung Wong, a Chinaman, who was driving an automobile, an old Buick, Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, along Sycamore canyon road, as he came in the vicinity of the bridge that crosses the canyon at the foot of Sinclair avenue, lost control of his machine and struck the parapet of the bridge. The machine tore away a large part of the parapet and then fell into the bed of the wash twelve feet below. In its fall the auto turned completely over and struck the Chinaman, breaking his leg, cutting a deep gash on his head and injuring him internally.

Chung Wong was attended to by Patrolman Hollenbeck, who gave what first aid could be rendered and afterward took him to the County hospital, where he now lies in a precarious condition. The old Buick was badly smashed.

ENTERTAINS FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

The attractive home of Mrs. M. P. Harrison, 245 S. Kenwood, was the scene of a delightful affair last Friday afternoon, when she entertained in honor of Miss Gertrude Wilson, whose marriage to Dr. C. R. Lusby will occur in the near future. The afternoon was spent in the tying of a comfort, which was presented to the bride-elect by the hostess. At six o'clock the guests proceeded to the dining room, where a delicious 3-course dinner was served. A charming motif of pink and white was artistically carried out in the decorations, a bowl of pink Cherokee roses centering the table. Covers were laid for the Misses Gertrude Wilson, Edna Learned, Genevieve Gannaway, Catherine Lennox, Dorothy Lee, Vera Holloway, Mrs. H. A. Wilson, Mrs. Howard Lennox and the Messrs. Dr. C. R. Lusby, Cecil Forbes, M. P. Harrison. Miss Inez Harrison assisted her mother in the serving.

FAREWELL PARTY

The Woman's Guild and the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's Episcopal church will hold a joint meeting at the home of Mrs. Hunt, 121 W. Fifth street, Wednesday afternoon. This is to be a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, who is to be married the last of this month and to remove to Selma, Cal. Mrs. Brown and her father, Mr. Edgar Baxter, will be greatly missed in church and social circles, but many good wishes will follow them into their new home and new life. Mrs. Brown is to marry the Rev. Douglas, late of Sun Dance, Wyoming. Mr. Douglas has purchased a newspaper in Selma and will devote himself to newspaper work.

LOCAL TEA GARDEN

H. J. REEDER TO OPEN PICTURESCUE ESTABLISHMENT AT CORNER FIFTH AND BRAND

Glendale will not much longer be lacking in some place for open air entertainment. H. J. Reeder, who has taken over the Russell's Purity Bakery No. 4, 1212 W. Fifth street, is about to open a Tea Garden at the corner of Fifth and Brand. This unique establishment will be opened shortly before the Flower Show is held, April 20, 21, 22, and will be put in connection with that function. Mr. Reeder, who is a member of the Garden society, having placed his establishment at the disposal of the ladies of the society.

The new "Robin Hood Tea Garden," as it is called, is now in the process of being built. Already Mr. Reeder has cleared up the lot with its 150-foot length and 50-foot frontage and has constructed on the west end of the lot a large inclosed tea room, which will have a concrete floor. The walls and roof of this room are of open lath work, hanging baskets of flowers adorn the north side and borders are planted with geraniums and other flowers. Mr. Reeder has also planted a large number of yew trees in the interior and is rapidly putting the whole place into excellent and picturesque shape.

This will be the only place of its kind in Glendale. It will afford a pleasing rest room for all people in the warm summer days. All kinds of temperance refreshments will be served and lunches of all kinds will be obtainable at any time. At one end of the main room will be a Gabel's Automatic Entertainer, from which with the aid of a nickel guests can extract the sweetest and latest of musical creations.

There will be tables where the more staid guests can play dominoes or checkers or chess if they choose. The numerous large electric lights will make the scene a sort of fairyland and add to the charm of the garden. By and by Mr. Reeder hopes to have a regular bower of floral beauty on this corner, which will attract young and old alike by its wealth of flowers and shrubs, its careful air, its restful charm and the variety of its entertainment.

The floor of the main room being of cement with spaces left for the growth of the yew trees will be cool and pleasant even in the hottest day. This should constitute a great attraction to the general public, which has often discussed the need of such a place. It will get its christening with the Flower Show and should do a large business when that novel event opens its tent doors on the corner opposite. Anyway that will be a good introduction for the tea garden to the public. It is certain that there has been a demand for such a place for a long time and Mr. Reeder deserves the support of the people for his new venture.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Rachel Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Lyons of 423 S. Louise street, reached the seventeenth milestone in her life on Friday, March 31, and in honor of this happy event her parents entertained a number of friends at dinner that evening, followed by a theatre party. The following friends of the birthday girl were seated with her and the other members of her family at the beautifully arranged table where pink roses, pink favors and a birthday cake resplendent with pink candles formed an appropriate setting for the event: Misses Frances Peckham, Helene Hollingsworth, Thelma and Virginia McMasters, Bessie Carney, Kathleen Gorman, Mrs. Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and Robert Boyd. After all had done justice to the lovely dinner they enjoyed the performance at the Palace Grand

BALANCE GOES TO JEWS

S. H. Goldstein, secretary of the Glendale Jewish Relief committee, reports that he recently sent on the balance of the subscriptions raised in Glendale for the relief of the Jews. The check amounted to $77.97. The former check was $300. In acknowledging the amount raised in Glendale the Relief Committee in New York takes occasion to thank the people of Glendale for their liberality and the promptitude of their relief. The letter asks Mr. Goldstein to extend to all who were instrumental in raising this contribution the deepest expression of appreciation from the committee. It also states that this latest sum sent will be applied to the Palestine Relief fund.

PROGRESS OF THE ALLIES

There are indications that the allies are getting ready for a great movement of troops next month. The moment the ground becomes hard enough for operations they will probably be pushed with unity of action on every front. As was foreseen the drive on Verdun has not gained the Teutons anything. It is true that they have advanced their trenches a few miles, but that is nothing to the price they have paid for it. The French generals are perfectly content to allow the Germans to throw away their troops in a series of desperate assaults in which they don't advance as far as from Brand boulevard to Glendale avenue. What these advances may effect in the way of bringing the war to an end can easily be seen.

Meantime the joint council of the Allies in Paris has probably devised some plan of action which will bear fruit one or other of these days. Russia after heavy losses in men and territory has come back. Her armies are pounding the Germans on the long line from the Baltic to the Black sea. They are driving the Turks in several places. The British are gradually extending their lines in Flanders and taking over long sections of the front from the French, thus relieving hundreds of thousands of French troops for action in the Verdun region.

The submarine campaign of Germany against the shipping of all the nations goes on steadily notwithstanding America's protest and the Germans evidently think they can defy this country with impunity. That remains to be seen. There is quite a chance that the United States may feel itself forced to sever diplomatic communications with Germany on this question. That would not necessarily mean war on the part of the United States; but it might mean war on the part of Germany.

AUTO ACCIDENTS ON THE INCREASE

In 1915 the number of automobiles increased 1080 per cent over 1910. The increase in auto accidents as compared with 1911 was 1220 per cent in persons killed, 2557 in the number of persons injured and 1080 per cent in the number of machines damaged. All this suggests the need of some legislative action that will save the careless driver from himself and also save the careful driver from the careless driver.

It is seriously suggested that there should be a stringent examination for a chauffeur's license before anyone is permitted to handle an automobile. This, of course, would militate against the sale of autos and would be strongly opposed by the manufacturers. There is really need, however, of some restriction on the driving of autos or more stringent enforcement of the rules of the road and speeding laws.

At railroad crossings there was a notable increase of accidents in this state last year. It appears that in the generality of the cases examined the drivers of autos had neglected to observe the commonest precautions that would have saved them from maiming or death. It is stated that the ordinary driver when he has got up speed on his machine dislikes greatly to slow down for anything. The great speed goes to his head and he speeds on and lands in eternity.

These cases are particularly to be deplored when some carelessness on the part of a driver, such as getting on the wrong side of the road, lands a whole party of valuable people in a deplorable smash. It is certain from all indications that sane owners and users of automobiles are favoring greater restrictions on those who use automobiles. It is a matter of self protection for the reasonable driver who is at the mercy of the amateur and careless driver.

MEETING THE MALARIA PROBLEM

California has a certain percentage of malaria, as have the greater number of the States in the Union. The percentage of malaria, however, is not very large and in Southern California is quite small. This, however, is not the case in those counties where there is a great deal of stagnant or semi-stagnant water and the malaria problem is one that will continue to occupy the attention of this and all other states except the parts of the western country where there are arid regions.

According to a United States Public Health service report 4 per cent of the inhabitants of the South have malaria. They have it in various forms and in 1914 no fewer than 204,881 cases were reported to the United States Public Health service. The department examined 13,526 blood specimens from the South during the year 1914 and of these 1797 showed malarial infection. The infection rate among white people was more than 8 per cent and among colored people 20 per cent. In two counties in the Yazoo valley 40 out of every 100 inhabitants presented evidence of the disease. After the Public Health service got busy in those districts the rate was reduced from 15 to 4 per cent in many of them.

It has been discovered that the disease often does not continue from season to season. More than 200 Anopheline mosquitoes in malarious districts were dissected without finding a single infected mosquito and it was not until May 15, 1915, that the first parasite was discovered in the body of a mosquito. It was therefore decided that the mosquito often does not carry the infection through the winter.

By treating human carriers with quinine previous to the middle of May infection from chronic sufferers reaching mosquitoes and being transmitted by them to other persons may be prevented.

In order to combat this great evil every precaution must be taken. Quinine used under proper advice can prevent the infection; but the greatest preventive is the destruction of the mosquito. This can be effected by covering their breeding places with a film of oil, thus preventing the larvae from coming to the surface and getting abroad. The stocking of shallow ponds and waters with the surface-feeding minnow is a great preventive. Those minnows devour millions of the mosquito larvae. The draining and grading of marshy places is another preventive. When all these have been put into use it will be possible in almost any part of the country to kill out malaria.

NEW BYRDCLIFF POTTERY

The popularity of pottery in the decoration of country homes has brought forward many new kinds of ware, in odd shapes and colors. These are mostly found in special exhibitions, private studios and small galleries. The new Byrdcliff pottery is exquisite in coloring, taking its name from the little New York town where it is made. Lovely lilac and blue tints appear in it, but the special color peculiar to the wares is withered rose, an indescribable shade of old pink. Many odd shapes are seen in the pieces designed for lily bowls, flower vases and for other decorative uses. The Bowl Shop pottery from Boston shows a number of gray porringers for the nursery with blue gander patterns running around them.

MAKING A CLOTHESLINE BOX FOR MOTHER

Every boy knows how annoying it is to his mother to find her clothesline full of knots and kinks or perhaps so soiled on wash day that it must be cleaned before using. By providing her with a clothesline box you will be sure to please her. With it her line will not only be found ready for instant use but it will be clean and will last much longer.

Make a box having an inside measurement about six by four inches, and about 10 inches deep, says the Ottawa Citizen. Within this, midway between top and bottom, fit a spool or reel of wood to wind the line upon. Arrange a small crank on the outside of wood or iron. Just within the circle of the crank's travel bore about six small gimlet holes in which to insert a pin or nail for the purpose of locking the reel when the line is stretched. A large wire spike makes an excellent pin. The pin may be attached to the box with a string so that it will be always handy.

Next, fit the top with a hinged lid, making it overlap a little to shed the water. When finished fasten the box at a convenient height from the ground to the post or building from which your mother starts her line. Use hooks or rings to hold the line to the different supports. In this way you can stretch the line as tight as desired by turning the crank and hold it so by inserting the pin behind it. If desired the box may be made a little longer and a hinged door fitted to the lower part to provide a space for clothespins.

FOUR RULES FOR RIGHT READING

A hint to readers that will, perhaps, prove far more helpful than five-foot bookshelves and pigskin libraries, is contributed by Laura Spencer Porter to the February Woman's Home Companion. "Let us take Gibbon's practice," she says, "as a valuable first rule, measuring our own ideas, our experience, our knowledge, or, it may be, our ignorance of the subject of any given great book.

"And as a second rule let us find out from some good reference book or biography the main facts about the life of the author we are reading and something about the times in which he lived.

"As a third rule, let us make notes on all that we read seriously, notes, I mean, as we go, for it is but poor flattery to let a friend do all the talking and to make no comment on what he says. This practice of making notes is, I do believe, very essential to a right use of books. I know there are those who think it a bad thing to mark a book; but to have too nice an eye in this matter is to value paper more than friendship. Let us mark especially the places that give us fresh thought, stimulus, pleasure; let us mark those with which we agree and those with which we disagree, stating our own views clearly.

"As a fourth rule: Just as soon as we feel that we know even two or three great books, let us compare them with each other. Very much as fine people agree on fundamentals, so we shall find these great authors agreeing, as a rule, in essentials, yet all expressing themselves how differently. Moreover, it is just in these differences of expression that the main distinctions of style lie, and it is in noting them carefully that we shall better appreciate the personality of a writer. Read Stevenson's discourse, for instance, on 'Crabbed Age and Youth' and compare it with Bacon's compact essay, 'Of Youth and Age.' How in the very wording and manner of speaking the two men seem almost to appear before one!"

FAMOUS DIAMOND EXHIBITED IN NEW YORK

The finest of known blue white diamonds in the world has been mounted and exhibited in New York. It weighs 150 carats and is almost square in shape; it is set in a claw of platinum, mounted as a pendant on a necklace of diamonds. Just above the diamond and attaching it to the necklace is set a large, dark blue sapphire of abnormal size. The interest of the gems ornamentally is merged in their interest as minerals, for they are really too large and heavy for beauty.

"BOWL OF DEATH"

The latest thriller for amusement parks and similar institutions is a so-called "bowl of death," which turns from a horizontal to a vertical position and then back again as the rider drives his motorcycle at high speed around the rim. A picture of this device appears in the Popular Mechanics Magazine. The bowl is made up of segments of perforated steel, is 15 feet in diameter and is hemispherical in shape except for a flat section at the center and a sharp inward curve at the rim designed to furnish the rider some degree of protection against the danger of running off the edge. When the motorcyclist begins his ride the bowl is horizontal, with the open side up. As soon as the machine attains sufficient speed to ride on the vertical edge of the bowl is slowly swung to a position in which the open side is vertical.

"Lady, could you help me? I'm one of them Belgian refugees."
"Land sakes," said the kind old lady, "until I saw you I had no idea there was any justification for Germany's treatment of those people."

PRACTICAL HELPERS

At the lunch hour period today a little boy not more than five years of age was hauling, on Broadway, a small wagon, on which was loaded a half dozen or more soap and cracker boxes. An elevated place in the walk near the fire house disturbed the equilibrium of the boxes and they began tumbling off. Just then Miss Elizabeth Porter of the City clerk's office and Miss Minnie Cross of the Public Service Department happened along, and soon they were busy getting the little teamster's load adjusted that he might continue his journey. The little fellow's face showed clearly that he appreciated the assistance given him by these ladies.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A large audience at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning heard the minister, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, discourse on the subject, "A Great Fact and a Great Act," based upon the text of Romans 5:8, "But God commendeth His love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." The great fact is that while we were yet sinners, God sent His Son to die for us, proving His great love, and the Great Fact is that Jesus died on the cross. Upon this fact hangs all Christianity, for you cannot separate Christianity from the cross. It is the fortress that defends the city and if the fort can be taken it carries with it possession of the city which it defends.

In writing these words in the text Paul did not express his own opinion, he was writing under the inspiration of God himself. The great need of the world today is to emphasize God; we accept Him in a general way, but do not put Him into our daily life. Love at its best lives for others, at its worst it lives for self. Life at its best is Jesus Christ, at its worst it is devotion to self. Liberty at its best is the willingness to sacrifice for others. Peace is always a compromise; as long as sin exists there can be no peace, for sin must be punished, there can be no real love without the punishment of sin. But Jesus came to take our sins upon Himself, to become the scapegoat, but we must accept Him and cast our burdens on Him. The essential thing is not merely to be respectable, to live a merely "good" life, but to accept this great gift that was placed upon the cross.

About 150 men are working at the San Fernando Reservoir, raising the walls of the dam to hold the large quantity of water that will be accumulated for the summer's use. With the prospect of irrigating probably 30,000 acres of valley land this summer, the reservoir will have to be well filled up.—San Fernando Valley Press.

LAST MEETING BEFORE SHOW

Every member of the Glendale Garden society is expected to attend the meeting of the society on Thursday night, April 6. The meeting will be held as usual in the Chamber of Commerce hall. It will be the last meeting before the Flower Show and there are many important matters to discuss and arrange. Everybody is invited to attend and to take an intelligent interest in the work of the society. It is hoped that there will be as good an attendance as at the last meeting. This should prove a very interesting meeting. The usual social half hour before the meeting will be enjoyed.

The meeting is to take the form of a Plant party, as it is styled. Each member is expected to bring some plant of flower or seed and after these have been seen by all present members will exchange their products. Mr. Caruthers, the secretary of the society will explain the proposed plans for the Flower Show tent and will exhibit a diagram of the tent and the manner in which it is to be arranged for the exhibits.

It is gratifying to learn that Mr. Paul Hurst, who has considerable experience in the matter of building platforms, will take charge of the platform and make it a fitting part of its floral surroundings. Arrangements are also being made to have a couple of fountains playing inside the tent and among the flowers.

MISS SMITH ENTERTAINS

Miss Beth Smith's cosy bungalow on South Brand boulevard was quite charming in its decorations of the vari-colored nasturtiums, Saturday afternoon, when Miss Lillie Schick graciously entertained a happy coterie of young girl friends. Various guessing contests claimed the attention of the guests, and in the "Penny Contest," Miss Fannie Hagin secured the first prize, a pretty Japanese basket, while Miss Lillie Schick was awarded the consolation, a silk bag containing just fifteen pennies. In another contest demonstrating the agility and gracefulness of the contestants, Miss Marjorie Imler captured the prize.

Saturday being the first day of April and recognized as All Fools Day, Miss Smith could not refrain from practicing just a few of the many pranks, and her guests entered into the spirit of the jokes and pranks with equal alacrity and enthusiasm.

Dainty Easter baskets, containing delicious confections, served as favors for the guests, who were Miss Catherine Phillips, Miss Lillie Schick, Miss Fannie Hagin, Miss Marjorie Imler, Miss Evangeline Hunchberger, Miss Esther Schremp, Miss Margaret Boucher, Miss Hope Armstrong, Miss Jeannette McLennon, Miss Ernestine Lyon and Miss Mona Butler.

FORMER GLENDALE GIRL MARRIED

Coming as a happy culmination of a pretty romance, was the marriage of Miss Lucia Bettannier of Pasadena and Mr. Albert F. Hubbard of Escondido, which was solemnized Saturday noon, in the Church of the Angeles, in Garvanza. Mrs. Hubbard, whom many Glendale and Tropic friends remember when she, with her parents, were residents here, is a graduate of the Glendale Union High school and later was teacher of sloyd and manual training in the Tropic Grammar school. The wedding ceremony which was solemnized Saturday was witnessed by a number of Glendale friends, who motored over to the Church of the Angeles and later partook of the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. Bettannier,

MRS. NANNO WOODS TELLS HOME-CROFTERS ALL ABOUT COMING FLOWER SHOW

In pursuance of her mission to arouse interest everywhere in the work of the Glendale Garden society and the coming Free Flower Show, Mrs. Nanno Woods, president of the society, went to Littlelands Friday night to give the Homecrofters an idea of the great event that is being prepared to take place in Glendale, April 20, 21, 22. The Homecrofters showed their interest in the subject by turning out in large numbers.

Bolton hall, the general meeting place of the community, was well filled with an audience of more than sixty people, who evinced the deepest interest in what Mrs. Woods had to tell them of the work of the Glendale Garden society. The Homecrofters are experts in the care of gardens and small acreage. Each of the families in Littlelands has sufficient ground on which to grow enough produce to support itself without recourse to outside means of subsistence, beyond the ordinary necessities of a household.

They had many questions to ask Mrs. Woods concerning the effect of the campaign the Garden society is carrying on in Glendale. All of these questions Mrs. Woods answered clearly and showed that the interest stirred up in the community was very great and that the Free Flower show would stimulate still further the efforts of the community in gardening and the cultivation of the backlots.

At the close of the meeting, which was presided over by Mr. Ashby, the gathering tendered a vote of thanks to Mrs. Woods for her interesting address and also passed a resolution to send a first-class flower, fruit and vegetable exhibit to the show.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the different Sunday School superintendents of the Glendale-Tropico district this evening in the Central Christian church. This meeting is being held for the purpose of discussing arrangements for the Older Boys' and Girls' Sunday School convention to be held April 8 and 9 in the Presbyterian and First Methodist churches of Glendale.

A year or two ago a certain farm adviser in a California county made a big hit with orchardists and saved them from considerable loss by bridge grafting fruit trees that had been girdled by gophers and showing others how to do it. This is a very unique process and one which can prove very profitable. It is described in a new Farmers' Bulletin, No. 710, which all fruit growers can obtain free by application to the United States Department of Agriculture.

DEPOSIT OF MAGNESITE

A massive deposit of magnesite of unusual character that has recently been brought to the attention of the United States Geological Survey promises to yield a large and readily available supply of this material. The deposit lies in Clark county, Nev., in the valley of Muddy River, one of the tributaries of Virgin River, a few miles above the town of St. Thomas. The material has been known for some time as kaolin, and successful experiments for utilizing it as a porcelain clay are reported to have been made, though they have not yet resulted in the exploitation of the deposit. The recognized outcrops have been located as mining claims, and some preliminary exploration and development work has been done. A side track on the St. Thomas branch of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad, about 3 miles northeast of the northernmost group of claims, offers a readily available railroad connection, and the station has been named Kaolin, from this deposit. The so-called kaolin is stated by the Geological Survey to be in fact magnesite, a part of a regularly stratified series of sedimentary strata exposed by stream channels that cut across a low ridge at the upper edge of Muddy Valley. The deposit forms a chalky-looking bluff, dazzlingly white in the bright sunlight. The material is porcelain-white, fine grained, and massive, is remarkably free from foreign material, but is not so hard as the more typical magnesite, and crumbles more rapidly on exposure to the weather.

LONG SEA TRIPS

The seas are always full of long overdue crafts, says the Los Angeles Times. On March 2, 1910, the four-masted bark Invernesshire sailed from Hamburg for Santa Rosalia, in the Gulf of California. In the course of her passage, she was forced to put into the Falklands to refit, and sailed again on her interrupted voyage on Sept. 27, 1910. From that time she was neither seen nor heard of until she arrived safely at her destination on Feb. 2, 1911, 338 days out from her original port of departure. This voyage almost compares with the performances of the lumbering craft of earlier navigators. On Nov. 19, 1587, the Desire, under the command of Thomas Cavendish, "a gentleman of Suffolk," set sail from the headlands of California for the Channel. At break of day on June 8 of the following year, she fell in sight of the islands of St. Helena. On July 3 she crossed the line and, taking hold of the brave trade winds to the limit of 40 degrees north latitude, she reached the port of Plymouth on Sept. 7, 1588. The sailing master of the Desire is worthy of record that running merely along before the wind under all the sail she could carry, his vessel compassed 140 miles between noon and noon, a boast which would excite the modern mariner to laughter. Among some extraordinary voyages made by deep sea sailing craft within recent years there may be mentioned that of the Beacon Rock, engaged on a short coasting trip between the two Australian ports. After all hope of her arrival had been abandoned, she turned up at Talcahuano, Chile, some 6000 miles from her intended destination. Being in light trim and consequently with no grip on the water, she had been unable to make any progress against head wind, and her master had been compelled to square yards and make a fair wind of it across the broad Pacific.

THE BRITTLE STAR FISH

One of the most curious of all the folks who live in the sea is the queer little brittle star, as he is called. With his tiny round body and long waving arms (legs, the children call them), he looks so much like the seaweed where he lives that it takes sharp eyes to find him at all. And then, after we have poked about among the seaweed until we have spied him out and drawn him carefully up in our net, what do you think he will have done? Why, probably, he will just have kicked his little "legs" all off. That is the way he has earned his nickname of brittle star, for he has a regular habit of kicking his legs off like this. Whenever he gets too tangled up in the seaweed or disturbed in any way which he does not like, snap go his little legs, either into pieces or all off completely, whichever he chooses. And it does not seem to trouble him in the least to do this, for he grows new ones again apparently with no effort at all. If we watch very carefully, we are quite likely to find some little fellow with his legs grown out to different lengths. And that will be because he has kicked off one or more at various times, and then begun to grow new ones in their places. Probably no one would call the queer little brittle star very pretty, but he has some beautiful little cousins who live way down in the warm waters of the south. Such lovely colors these little southerners wear! Rich, beautiful reds and yellows and greens and blues, sometimes even combinations of colors.

RE-ENTER VELVET RIBBON

Velvet ribbon, which has not been used to any extent on dresses for some years past, is evidently coming into its own again. One of the newest models is an afternoon frock of taffeta trimmed with vertical bands of narrow black velvet ribbon, placed both on bodice and skirt in graduated lengths. The skirt was very full and hung in four deep points, the velvet ribbon being zigzagged accordingly. The waist, which was cut surplice effect and formed a pointed bodice in front, was trimmed with strips of the velvet ribbon in such a way as to give the effect of a double pointed girdle. A graduated flounce ruffle, just below the dropped shoulder carried out the popular cape effect. The frock was a soft grayish beige in color, the velvet ribbon a delicate pastel blue.

BARBECUED ROAST OF LAMB

A leg of lamb, prepared as for "barbecuing," is far more appetizing and tender than one baked in the usual manner. Remove the outer layer of fat, and sprinkle well with salt, black pepper and paprika. Make a smooth paste of two teaspoons of mustard and a little vinegar, then add two cups of vinegar. Place the lamb in the roaster and pour in the vinegar and mustard, adding enough water to make the usual amount of liquid for basting. Cut one lemon in thin slices and lay over the top of the roast. Bake in a covered utensil and baste frequently. Have the oven at moderate temperature, and allow from two to two and a half hours for roasting.

STEAMED GRAHAM BREAD

Ingredients: Four cups of sifted graham flour, sifted four times; one cup of molasses, two cups of sour milk, two teaspoons of salt, two even teaspoons of soda, and one cup of raisins. Dissolve the soda in two or three teaspoons of hot water, and pour into the sour milk and molasses. When it stops effervescing, stir in the flour and add the raisins, which have been dredged in flour. Bake in well greased pans or molds. Steam three hours with the cover on; then set in a hot oven for 20 minutes to dry and brown.

ROWING SEASON BEGINS

Plans were being completed today for the selection of the California varsity eight to compete with Washington and Stanford next month on the Oakland estuary. A training table will be established during the week when preliminaries for the drawing of the eight oarsmen will begin. Fifteen men will be given a chance to participate in the tryout.

TO ADJUST FREIGHT RATES

Many inland California cities are today preparing for an adjustment of terminal freight rates, as a result of the ruling of the United States district court that the interstate commerce commission's order affecting San Francisco and a few other cities does not hold. The commission's order is held up by an injunction. It has been ordered that Sacramento, San Jose, Stockton, Santa Clara and many other interior cities shall have terminal rates on the westbound transcontinental freight.

NEW DREDGING RECORDS

Three new high records for Panama Canal dredging in the cut were established on February 18 in the 24-hour period from midnight to midnight. The new 15-yard dipper dredge Cascades excavated and loaded into scows on that day a total of 23,305 cubic yards of rock and earth. This is believed to be the world's record for a day's work by any kind of excavating machine in hard material. Taking its weight at 3000 lbs. to the cubic yard (approximately 110 lbs. to the cubic foot), the weight of the material dug by the Cascades was approximately 35,000 tons. What is claimed to be the heaviest train ever hauled by one locomotive, from Baltimore to Philadelphia, consisting of 55 cars of coal, carried 4102 tons. The output of the Cascades on Feb. 18 weighed more than the contents of eight such trains.

MANY INVENTIONS

It is reported that the United States patent office issues an average of 200 letters patent per day to American inventors, that each year the number of inventions in the United States increases. Many of the important inventions of the last 30 years are said to have been made by Americans; these include such things as the telephone, the incandescent lamp and Wright's aeroplane.

DURUM WHEAT

The production of durum wheat last year in Minnesota and the Dakotas, as estimated by the department, was about 37,900,000 bushels as compared with 18,900,000 in 1914 and 21,529,000 bushels in 1913. The yield per acre averaged 19.3 bushels, whereas other spring wheats averaged 17.4 bushels, or about 1.9 bushels less. In February the price to producers was about 107.7 cents per bushel—7.4 cents less than other spring wheats. Notwithstanding the lower price, the average value per acre for durum was $20.77, against $20.04 for other spring wheats.

A NARROW LITTLE LANE

A narrow little lane that goes Unevenly between two rows Of humble cottages—all gray As mosses long and soft a-way In southern woods, or webs that stir From rafters old; a tender blur Of old maid's pink; and crass, gay green Where marsh grass pricks a path between The sandy soil; on without bend, The little road, then at the end— The sea a-glitter, and the sky, One burning lapis lazuli; The sand a haze of amber light, And one far sail, clear shadeless white! —Anne Cleveland Cheney.

ONE'S RELATIONS WITH OTHERS

I have grown to believe that... one's relations with others should be direct and not diplomatic; that power leaves a bitter taste in the mouth; that meanness and hardness and coldness are the unforgivable sins that conventionality is the mother of dreariness; that pleasure exists, not in virtue of material conditions, but in the joyful heart.—A. C. Benson.

SCOUTS MUST KNOW 8 KNOTS

An official ruling in regard to knotting requirements for tenderfoot rank has just been announced, says Boys' Life. Hereafter the candidate will be required to tie any four of the eight knots for which the examiner may call. This means that the boy must know how to tie each of the eight knots perfectly, since there will be no way of telling which four of the eight the examiner will name.

FRIENDS

How good to lie a little while And look up through the tree! The sky is like a big kind smile Bent sweetly over me. The sunshine flickers through the lace Of leaves above my head, And kisses me upon the face Like mother before bed. The wind comes stealing o'er the grass To whisper pretty things; And though I cannot see him pass, I feel his careful wings. —Abbie Farwell Brown.

REPAIRING BIG RENTS

Holes in the knees of stockings are usually good-sized. Especially after the stockings have been washed it seems almost hopeless to try to darn them. They may be mended easily, however, if, after the stocking is taken off, you wet the place where it is torn, then lay the stocking over a radiator or some flat surface, where it will dry quickly, and pull the threads together with your fingers while it is still wet. This restores the stocking to its original shape and makes the hole very small, as the threads almost meet. Darn as soon as dry, and you will accomplish the work in one-quarter of the time it would otherwise take.

SUNRISE ON THE HILLS. I stood upon the hills, when heaven's wide arch Was glorious with the sun's returning march, And woods were brightened, and soft gales Went forth to kiss the sun-clad vales. The clouds were far beneath me; bathed in light, They gathered midway round the wooded height, And, in their fading glory, shone Like hosts in battle overthrown. The veil of cloud was lifted, and below Glowed the rich valley, and the river's flow Was darkened by the forest's shade, Or glistened in the white cascade; Where upward, in the mellow blush of day, The noisy bittern wheeled his spiral way. I heard the distant water dash, I saw the current whirl and flash, And richly, by the blue lake's silver beach, The woods were bending with a silent reach. Then o'er the vale, with gentle swell, The music of the village bell Came sweetly to the echo-giving hills; And the wild horn, whose voice the woodland fills, Was ringing to the merry shout, That faint and far the glen sent out. —Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.
