MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Interview with Mr. SAWADA, President, Appeals Board.

1. At 1030 hours 3 July 1947, Mr. Sawada, President of the Appeals Board, accompanied by Mr. Shima, his interpreter, appeared at the Public Service Qualifications Division office and requested an interview with Major Napier. This interview was to be held for the purpose of discussing various phases of the Appeals Board's work and the problem of maintaining suitable liaison with the Government Section.

2. Mr. Sawada expressed a desire to know the policy of the PSQD regarding the filing of appeals. He was told by Major Napier that a purgee may appeal as soon as he is designated and before his twenty days of grace have expired, but that if the Appeals Board does not make a decision on his petition before the twenty days of grace have expired then the purgee must retire from office. A similar policy will be followed in the case of persons who have temporary extensions. Such persons may appeal now, but if their cases are not settled by the time that their extension expires then they must retire from office.

3. Major Napier then undertook to clarify the status of UEDA, Shunichi currently a member of the Appeals Board. Major Napier stated that this Section had been informed that UEDA was formerly Secretary to HATOYAMA, Ichiro, and that he was still an associate of HATOYAMA. Major Napier added that if this report is true UEDA will be considered administratively undesirable by the Government Section. He added that Mr. Sawada should order an investigation and submit a report as soon as possible.

Mr. Sawada said that he did not know that UEDA had been secretary to HATOYAMA, but that he had heard that UEDA was once secretary to General TANAKA, Giichi during the latter's premiership.

4. Major Napier, having viewed the report of the Appeals Board file on 27 June, noted that UEDA is only considering one case and informed Mr. Sawada that UEDA is not to continue as a member of the Appeals Board until the matter of his association with HATOYAMA is settled. Major Napier added that it would not be necessary to give the matter any publicity and that an effort should be made to spare Mr. UEDA any embarrassment. Mr. Sawada said that the Cabinet would have to be informed of the matter and Major Napier agreed to report the case himself to Justice Minister Suzuki.

5. Mr. Sawada then asked if he might make changes in the report of June 27 and bring the figures up to date. As of 30 June 1947 the Appeals Board has handled cases as follows:

Total	98 cases
Number decided	1
Number rejected	8
Number recommended for rejection	28
Number recommended for reinstatement	9
Number under deliberation	18
Number under examination	35

1-B-3

Of the number of cases recommended for rejection twenty have been received by PSQD and eight have not. Of the number recommended for reinstatement five have been received by PSQD and four have not.

6. The matter of the Appeals Board Secretariat was then discussed. Sawada stated that the principal official of the Secretariat, Mr. Morohashi, has applied for a transfer to a more desirable position. Mr. Sawada noted in this regard that he was having difficulty in finding suitable officials for his Secretariat, since the job is regarded as a temporary one and therefore will not contribute to the furtherance of a career in the government service. Major Napier informed Mr. Sawada that he wished to have a responsible official whom Mr. Sawada trusted to act as liaison man between the Appeals Board and the PSQD. He added that he would prefer an official of the first rank but would not object to an official of the second rank. Mr. Sawada then brought up the question of members of the Secretariat holding that position concurrently with some other government position. He was informed that the membership in the Appeals Board Secretariat was too important to permit such dualism.

7. Major Napier then asked Mr. Sawada what the status of the INUKAI and HARAHASHI cases was. Sawada replied that owing to the controversial nature of these cases they were both under deliberation.

8. Major Napier then noted that although the Appeals Board report of 27 June listed SAITO, Hitoshi as an appellant, the PSQD had cleared him by memorandum to the CLO, and Major Napier then showed Mr. Sawada a copy of the memorandum dated 23 June 1947.

9. Mr. Sawada then asked Major Napier for a decision on ~~seven~~ certain questionable cases. These were as follows:

a. YAMAKAWA, Hashio. The appellant was a professor in the Japanese Naval Academy between the years 1917 and 1919. While so employed he held Chokunin rank and for that reason was purged from the House of Peers by Japanese Government action last year. Major Napier pointed out that if the trained legal minds of the Appeals Board members had found it necessary to deliberate upon this case, he could scarcely be expected to make a decision upon a moment's notice. He added that if the reason stated was the basis for YAMAKAWA's purge, then such action seemed illogical, but noted that final decision must be predicated upon a complete review of all facts relevant to the case.

b. SATŌ, Masato. The appellant graduated from the Japanese Military Academy in 1918 and served with the army until 1922. He was purged by the Japanese Government when he filed to run for mayor of Kure. Major Napier stated that this case appeared similar to the preceding one, and that if the action were based on these facts alone, there appeared to be some strength in SATŌ's appeal.

c. HONDA, Yusuree. The appellant was commissioned in the Japanese Navy in 1915 and retired in 1922. He appears to have been dismissed from the service because he was anti-militaristic according to Mr. Sawada. He was, nevertheless, purged by the Japanese Government when he filed for a mayorality race. Major Napier noted that this case, too, closely resembled that of SATŌ, Masato.

10. In summary Major Napier told Mr. Sawada that (a) he should not countenance any undue delay in disposing of cases under deliberation; (b) he should clarify the status of Mr. Ueda as soon as possible and; (c) he should take steps to organize an adequate Secretariat immediately.

SUPREME COMMANDER FOR THE ALLIED POWERS Government Section

2 July 1947

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Delay in Submission of Reports.

1. Considerable difficulty has recently been encountered in extracting information from the Japanese Government. A number of special reports due for submission on dates well within the realm of possibility have failed to appear. An attitude of reluctance, conscious delay and, upon occasion, bland indifference has characterized the CLO personnel concerned with these reports. The nature of the excuses offered for delays and non-submission of reports cannot even be termed feeble. The following case is a particularly outstanding example of inefficiency and delay.

2. On 10 June 1947 Mr. SUMINO was handed the following written instructions and agreed to submit the reports requested:

"The following information will be submitted on or before Monday 16 June 1947.

a. Report of the number of persons purged under the old Ordinances, including the number purged under each catagory.

b. Report of the number of persons purged under the new, extended Ordinances as of 1 June 1947, including the number purged under each catagory.

c. Report of persons technically subject to the purge but not publicly purged, such as regular Army and Navy officers, princes and certain members of the former aristocracy, and any others. This report should be submitted in the form of a list including the names of the purgees, the catagories under which they fell, and whether they fell under the original or the extended Ordinances.

These reports will be submitted in triplicate."

Mr. SUMINO was reminded three times during the course of the week that the reports were expected on Monday 16 June. To all appearances he heard, understood, and acted upon these reminders.

3. On 16 June 1947 Mr. SUMINO arrived without the reports. The written instructions had been lost in the Cabinet Secretariat and Mr. SUMINO explained that he only discovered the loss when he appeared at the Cabinet to pick up the reports and submit them to GHQ. Major Snow was consulted on this unfortunate situation and it was decided that "a" and "b" above would be submitted on Tuesday 17 June, as well as a list naming the princes and their status under the purge. On 30 June Mr. SUMINO agreed to bring in a complete report on the former aristocracy including the names of those screened, not screened, those passed, barred, or removed.

4. On 17 June Mr. SUMINO appeared with the reports requested and a list indicating the number of princes, marquises, counts, viscounts, and barons in the Japanese peerage. The report stated that "presumably" all were screened as members of the House of Peers or electors thereto. The list of princes included 14 names, and was titled "Members of the Imperial Family who are former Military Officers."

5. A number of times during the next week Mr. SUMINO was reminded of the complete report on the aristocracy due 30 June. On 27 June Mr. SUMINO said he had been experiencing considerable difficulty with the Cabinet Secretariat and the Imperial Household Ministry over the members of the peerage and their status under the ordinances. He explained that about 250 aristocrats had been screened but that in some inexplicable fashion the government had forgotten to screen the remainder. Hence a delay in the submission of the report was necessary. Major Snow was again consulted and, in the light of these revelations, it was decided that the information collected on the 250 already screened would be submitted Monday 30 June and the remainder later in the week.

6. On 30 June 1947 Mr. SUMINO did not come to the Government Section. On 1 July, in the early afternoon, Mr. SUMINO appeared but failed to bring the required report. He remarked upon a sore throat which had forced him to remain at home on 1 July. He also explained that the report called for had been sent by the Imperial Household Ministry late in the evening of 30 June and that Mr. KOBAYASHI at the Cabinet Secretariat had requested that it be held, checked, and submitted 2 July. Major Snow remarked upon the delays encountered and said that Government Section would expect the report before noon on Wednesday 2 July.

7. On Wednesday 2 July, at approximately 1545 Mr. SUMINO appeared with a table entitled: "Report relative to the peers who are deemed to fall under the Memorandum." It is inadequate, incomplete, and contains only one item of the information requested. Mr. SUMINO said that the Cabinet would submit another report at a later date. The date upon which that report can be expected will be reported by Mr. SUMINO on 3 July 1947.

MEMORANDUM FOR : Director-General of the Cabinet Secretariat.

SUBJECT : Judicial Process and Police Power Plan.

1. In conformity with the Constitution of Japan which provides that it shall be the supreme law of the nation, a preliminary draft of a revision of the Code of Criminal Procedure has been submitted to this Headquarters by the Japanese Government. The purpose of the proposed revision is to eliminate those portions of the Code which, being contrary to the provisions of the Constitution no longer have legal force or validity, and simultaneously to insert into the Code new articles protecting the rights of the people and implementing the principles of democracy embodied in the Constitution. As such, the proposed revision represents a monumental achievement.

2. Consideration of the proposed revision of the Code has raised, however, important issues concerning the administration of justice in Japan which must be resolved quickly if the proposed revision is to operate in effect as is contemplated by its terms. For the strengthening of democratic tendencies in the judicial system of Japan requires not only the revision of procedural rules and regulations but also the reorganization of institutions charged with the administration of justice. The Japanese Government has heretofore recognized the urgent necessity for reconstruction of the judicial system in the Court Organization Law and in the Public Procurators' Office Law enacted at the last session of the Diet.

3. Other major issues of organization of the structure of instrumentalities in the judicial process still, however, remain unsettled. These include: (a) the internal organization of the Ministry of Justice; (b) the relationship of the Ministry of Justice to other ministries and Cabinet Boards; (c) the relationship of the Ministry of Justice to other law enforcement agencies of the national, prefectural and local government; (d) the relationship of the procurators and their investigatory staffs to other investigatory and inspecting staffs, including officials having judicial police power; and (e) the relationship of all these governmental instrumentalities to the people in the execution of the judicial process.

4. It is therefore requested that there be prepared for the consideration of the Supreme Commander a judicial process and police power plan. In order that such plan can be considered concurrently with the proposed revision of the Code of Criminal Procedure it should be submitted as soon as possible but not later than 1 September 1947. The judicial process plan should be so designed as to fix and determine the relationships mentioned in the preceding paragraph, and other relevant relationships arising therefrom, in a manner consistent with the principlesof separation of the judicial process from the administrative, of local home rule and of personal liberty and individual dignity.

MEMO FOR: The Deputy Chief, Government Section.

SUBJECT: Reorganization of the Japanese Police System Submitted by The Public Safety Division.

1. The record of dictatorships, more especially those of recent years, is notorious with the use of centralized police forces in the ruthless liquidation of opposing elements. It would, therefore, seem elementary that the very first requisite in the reorganization of the Japanese police system would be decentralization. The subject plan pays lip service to decentralization at some vague future date but accepts with very little change in substance the over-centralized police system as it has been developed in Japan during the years of growing dictatorship. The proposed plan has many praiseworthy points and in stressing those points there is danger of overlooking the fatal difficulty, namely, retention of complete centralized authority.

2. It is likely that very few if any members of the Government Section could qualify as police experts and it is likely that such an allegation will be made against any criticisms which are made by this section, hence I believe our comments should be largely confined to those points which are in direct conflict with the democratization of the overall Japanese Governmental System.

3. With only a hasty examination of the plan, the following comments are made:

a. It is noteworthy that the report and recommendations of the late Lewis J. Valentine are included as a TAB but rather generally it is disregarded in the plan itself. Mr. Valentine's first recommendation was "control of metropolitan police department by removing from the Home Ministry and placing under control of an elected municipal executive." He gave as his reason "police departments should be under the control of public officials elected by and answerable to the people." This reads like very sound democratic doctrine. Note also that Mr. Valentine didn't say this should be done at some distant future date. He also recommended that the directing head of police departments should not be "professional policemen" but should be specifically "civilians" and be subject to appointment and dismissal by the elected executive of the municipality. This follows what Americans have come to consider sound practice as for instance the War and Navy Departments are headed by men who are not "professional army and navy personnel but are traditionally civilians responsible entirely to the President. The plan proposes that the head of the department, once appointed, should be virtually beyond reach of the regularly elected executives in the Japanese Government.

b. The plan indicates great apprehension about the ability of prefectural and local officials presently to demonstrate ability to handle this responsibility. This plan, which would practically throw a national espionage system over the prefectural and municipal governments, could effectually prevent those governments from ever reaching the point where they would be considered qualified to take over the police system in their communities.

c. The plan also reverts to the use of powerful regional officials which follows the Japanese wartime practice used to press national authority more effectively upon the people. Note that the regional director will be charged with maintaining liaison with prefectural governors and other officials by interference keeping the prefectural superintendent from official contact with the governor. This appears to be a carefully prepared plan to isolate the governor with respect to the conduct of police affairs.

d. So far as police training is concerned, there should be no practical difficulties in arranging such a program even though decentralization is accomplished.

e. It is comparatively easy to work out a program for financing the police force on a decentralized basis by the allocation of national funds which can be conditioned upon the maintenance of certain standards by local authorities.

f. In several places the plan vaguely mentions the necessity for a national protective force in view of the non-existence of a Japanese military establishment. Does the P.S.D. really mean to look upon a national police force as a substitute for an army and a navy which have been outlawed by the Japanese Constitution?

4. Not knowing the purpose of it but with the possibility that it may represent the psychological approach to this question by those who prepared the plan, attention is directed to paragraph 3, sub-paragraph h, which I quote: "The world-wide misconception of what the Japanese police actually represents (brought about by our own thoughtless indictments) and the consequent critical attitude of the world in whatever reforms are introduced in Japan." This is included as one of the number of "principal determining factors" in determining the position and plan of the Public Safety Division. Does this mean that we, the United States, have wrongfully attacked the iniquities of the Japanese police system? If so, probably we should be honest enough to apologize.

Chief, National Government
Division.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Police Plan

1. Reference is made to Memorandum for the Record dated 8 July, which records discussions which took place on 7 July between Mr. Suzuki, Minister of Justice, and Messrs. Kades, Oppler, Aka and Reid of Government Section.

2. It is strongly urged that the direction of whatever police and investigating power be allowed to remain with the national government should be centered in an administrator directly responsible to the Prime Minister rather than to the Minister of Justice or any other Minister.

3. The tendency to establish a complete distinction between judicial and administrative police seems to me to be a particularly unfortunate one and can lead only to a violent division of authority between two separate police forces. It is held that procurators should be assigned a very limited number of investigatory personnel which should be completely seperate and distinct from the general police force. However, since such men would consider themselves as being part of the general peace preservation plan and procedure, they would find it easily possible to obtain fullest ecoperation and help from regular police personnel on matters which required more work than they themselves could handle.

4. There seem to be irrefutable arguments against requiring the national government to place itself in a completely helpless position with respect to the control of peace preservation forces in the event of riot or other internal disorder beyond the capacity of local prefectural authorities to control. A casual examination of the recent past in Japan shows that government by assassination was a fairly general practice. It seems to me that with no law enforcement means at their command a Prime Minister and his Cabinet could easily be eliminated by subversive elements who could, without trouble, organize and train a small but effective force of shock troopers and then by assassination seize control of the government while police were sleeping peacefully in their prefectural capitals. I should like to meet this possibility by arranging for a positive plan by which the Prime Minister might make a definite call upon prefectural governments for the assignment of police personnel to be used by the national government in such an emergency.

1. Reference is made to:

a. General Orders No. 10, General Headquarters, SCAP, dated 23 June 1947, Paragraph II, Sub-paragraph 2, which state as follows:

"It will be the function of the Government Section to:

a. Investigate, study and advise the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers in general with respect to the structure of civil government in Japan, and in particular with respect to:

(1) Relationship of civil government to military affairs and the control of military forces.

(2) Relationship of the Japanese Government to subordinate governmental agencies or subdivisions (including regions, prefectures and municipalities), the methods and degree of centralized control, and the nature and extent of feudal and totalitarian practices.

(3) Relationship of the Japanese Government and subordinate governmental agencies or subdivisions to the people (including the degree and type of representation of the people in government).

(4) Relationship of government to business, the methods and degree of control by the Japanese Government and subordinate governmental agencies or subdivisions over business (including financial regulations, subsidies, and other devices for the control and manipulation of industry).

(5) Relationship of the laws, policies, practices, procedures and other factors in the personnel administration of the Japanese Government to democratic precepts and the integrity and efficiency of administration.

b. Make recommendations for:

(1) The demilitarization of the Japanese Government and all subordinate governmental agencies and subdivisions.

48 (Continued)

(2) The decentralization of the Japanese Government and the encouragement of local responsibility.

(3) The elimination of the feudal and totalitarian practices which tend to prevent government by the people.

(4) The elimination of those relationships between government and business which tend to continue the Japanese war potential and to hamper the achievement of the objectives of the occupation.

(5) The revision and supplementation as necessary of the laws, policies, practices, and procedures affecting personnel administration of the Japanese Government for the purpose of assuring conformity to democratic precepts and the making of a maximum contribution to the integrity and efficiency of administration; and the implementation of decisions made with respect to this subject matter by the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers."

b. Staff Memorandum No. 29 (SCAP), dated 20 March 1947, Paragraphs 4 and 5, which state as follows:

"4. Staff Responsibility. The Government Section is charged with staff responsibility for all matters relating to the Diet and will advise the House of Representatives and the House of Councillors on bills proposed by or to the Diet for enactment into law.

5. Coordination. No proposed legislation, whether in the form of a bill or other act of government (except Ministerial ordinances, instructions, or regulations under existing laws) will be approved by any staff section without coordination with the Government Section."

c. Staff Memorandum No. 13 (SCAP) dated 11 January 1947, Paragraph 3, Sub-paragraphs a, b and c, which state as follows:

"a. The Government Section is charged with staff responsibility under the reference directives for all matters relating to the removal and exclusion of Japanese personnel from national and local elective and appointive posts and influential political and economic positions."

"b. It will advise the Japanese Government relative the administration of SCAPIN 548 and SCAPIN 550 and the ordinances and plans submitted by the Imperial Japanese Government implementing the same.

c. All interpretations, opinions, instructions and questionnaires with attached record cards relating to the application of the reference directives, will be given to or received from the Imperial Japanese Government by the Government Section."

2. The present inadequate communication facilities between this Section and the Japanese Government have militated against the prompt discharge of these staff responsibilities, and have made it difficult to operate at maximum efficiency in compliance with the reference order and memoranda.

3. It is, therefore, urgently requested that direct-wire telephone facilities be installed with the least possible delay between:

a. The Office of the Deputy Chief, Government Section, Room 612, Dai Ichi Building and the Office of the Chief Cabinet Secretary No. 1, 2 chome, Nagata-cho, Chiyoda Ku, Tokyo.
