NARBERTH SCHOOL BOARD PUBLIC SPIRITED MEN

Their Untiring Effort Is Now Manifest—Weekly There Is Something Done Worthy of Note, But Town Too Busy to See and Hear

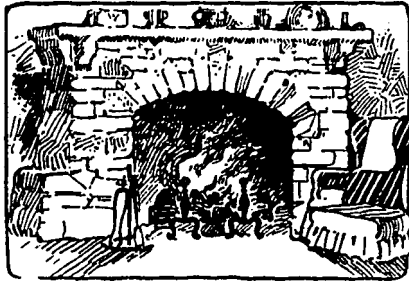

On Wednesday, September 5, 1917, the doors of the new building were swung open to the President, C. Howard McCarter, the Board of Directors, and the Faculty, who headed the long procession of pupils from the auditorium of the old building amid the cheers and songs of the Narberth school children. Mr. McCarter, in a few well-chosen words, spoke to the faculty and pupils. It was a happy moment for him, a triumphal one after years of hard work for the needed facilities.

The new building is a two-and-a-half story dressed gray stone structure, on the brow of the highest elevation in Narberth. It is modern in every detail, magnificent because of its simplicity. All money was spent on the practical, rather than the ornate, but the architectural design and all finishing, both on the exterior and interior, are so fine that the building is considered far above the average school building. The cloak rooms, dressing rooms and toilet rooms are exceptionally large and well lighted and ventilated. Provision was made for a high and well lighted basement; hence the gymnasium and other basement rooms are a distinctive feature of this building. The gymnasium floor is large enough to accommodate a full sized basket ball court; the equipment includes shower baths. The architect was Clyde S. Adams, and the general contractor was Abel Bottoms & Son, Narberth, Pa.

Too much credit cannot be given to the Narberth School Board for its untiring effort on behalf of the boys and girls of the district. Real men are never thwarted by disappointment. The veteran member of this board is President C. Howard McCarter, who

COUNCIL TAKES FIRST OFFICIAL STEP TOWARD NEW RAILROAD STATION AND TUNNEL

Members Confer With Pennsylvania Representatives at Monday Night's Meeting and Act on Burgess Henry's Suggestion—President Humphreys Appoints Special Committee to Draft Ordinance

The first official step toward the realization of the proposed improvements at the Narberth station, was taken last night by the Borough Council, at its regular meeting.

The matter was brought to Council's attention by a letter from Burgess Henry telling of the Pennsylvania Railroad's plan for a new station, the tunneling of Essex avenue under the tracks, and the erection of a new Post Office. Mr. Henry suggested the appointment of a committee of Councilmen to confer with the railroad officials with a view to drafting an ordinance which will provide for the borough's vacating portions of three streets, which action must be taken before work on the improvements can be started.

A motion by Mr. Hall and seconded by Mr. Henderson, was passed authorizing President Humphreys to appoint such a committee, of which the Borough Solicitor, Fletcher W. Stites, shall be a member ex-officio, and before the meeting adjourned Mr. Humphreys named the following members to serve: Messrs Redifer, Hall and Narrigan.

The meeting was attended by William D. McCaleb, superintendent of the Philadelphia Division, Pennsylvania Railroad, and several other railroad officials, and after being introduced by Solicitor Stites, Mr. McCaleb said he would be very glad to explain the plan so far as it had been developed, and answer any questions that the Councilmen might ask. Drawings showing the general changes to be made, which had been submitted by Mr. Henry and Mr. McCaleb, were studied by the Councilmen and a number of their questions answered by Mr. McCaleb, who pointed out that the plans as constituted at present were more in the nature of a survey of what would be done, and that details would have to be worked out later.

In answer to President Humphreys' question as to whether or not it could be stated when work would be started, Mr. McCaleb said that was contingent upon the duration of the war and the ability of the railroad to get materials and labor. For the present the railroad company, acting under the Government's suggestion, is starting no new work that is not absolutely necessary. Realizing, of course, that the duration of the war is decidedly problematical—it may be six months or two years—Mr. McCaleb said that he thought that it was wise for Council and the railroad company to get together as soon as possible, and prepare the desired ordinance and make any other arrangements that are necessary, so that when the time comes when the work can be started there will be no delays.

Mr. McCaleb also made it clear that the war and the matter of materials and labor did not enter into the question of the new Post Office. This much-needed improvement will be started as soon as the borough of Narberth, the Post Office Department and the railroad company can reach an amicable agreement as to the type of building to be erected and the amount of rental the Government is willing to pay. The delay now is due to the fact that the rental that the Post Office Department is willing to pay for a building is not enough, Mr. McCaleb said, to justify the railroad company, at this time—on account of the increased cost of building materials—in erecting a building that will conform with the Borough's Building Ordinance. As soon as this difficulty is adjusted, Mr. McCaleb said, the railroad was ready to start work immediately.

"However," added Mr. McCaleb, smiling, "I don't know that it is so necessary that we build a new Post Office at Narberth as I heard to-day that you were soon going to get a system of house deliveries!"

Whereat Mr. Hall caused a general laugh by assuring Mr. McCaleb that "your hearing in this matter is, apparently, very much better than ours."

In the meanwhile the citizens of the borough are hoping that whichever it is that they are going to get—a new Post Office, or house deliveries, or possibly both, that they will get it soon. Cold weather is coming on and if some relief is not obtained before winter sets in, the danger of being crushed to death while trying to get into the Post Office, will be augmented by the equally harrowing prospect of being frozen to death on the sidewalk while trying to get in.

And if a further Editorial expression may be permitted in the news columns, we wish to say that while we appreciate that Postmaster Haws and his assistants are doing all that they can under the circumstances to accommodate the public, and that we know full well that Uncle Sam and the railroad company have their hands full—in the meanwhile the well-nigh insufferable daily "drives" on the Post Office continue with unabated fury.

Our Town believes it voices the opinion of at least 99 44-100 per cent. of all the people of Narberth when it says: Can't the present difficulties in the way of a new Post Office be adjusted immediately and the new building started and finished before winter?

The Council meeting was attended by a number of the borough's residents, indicating clearly the general interest in the contemplated improvements.

At 8.45 o'clock Sunday evening the Narberth Fire Company was called to the residence of Mr. Stevens 111 Chestnut avenue. The company was so quick on the scene that the fire was confined to the cellar, where it originated. The fire was caused by ashes falling from a fire place into an ash chute in the cellar igniting a barrel of excelsior, which had communicated to the joists.

This shows that the boys are still on the job and waiting to serve at all times.

The Y. M. C. A. boys thank the Evangel Circle of King's Daughters for their donation of $6.

UNIQUE PRAYER MEETING AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Mr. Henry C. Gara, who was asked to conduct the regular prayer meeting at the Presbyterian Church last Wednesday, arranged for a meeting at which officers of various organizations should give addresses, limited to three minutes in length, on "How can we, as a Church, and as Individuals, during the coming season, be helpful?" to various Narberth organizations. Through the courtesy of Miss Frieda R. Schuebel, Secretary of the School Board, we are enabled to present a brief summary of these talks, prepared by her from notes taken at the meeting.

To Our Government and Country. Ed. S. Haws, U. S. Postmaster

Many of our people do not realize that we are now passing through a very serious time in the history of our country, but as the boys begin to march away, and later, when lists of casualties begin to come back, all will realize that we are at war, and very serious war.

We are fortunate to have at the head of our Government a man who sizes up to the situation, in whom the Nation has entire confidence.

Our President has amply demonstrated his ability to express correctly the "sense" of our people. This has recently been demonstrated in his reply to the Pope. But the President needs our help, and we may be helpful to him by being loyal to our country, in every act and word.

As a church we may be helpful by demonstrating our absolute loyalty to our Government, by encouraging all plans for conducting the war, such as food and fuel conservation, etc. As individuals, by purchasing Liberty Bonds, supporting the Red Cross by work and contributions, which includes the making by women and girls of things for our soldiers to make them comfortable when exposed to severe weather, doing these things to the full extent of our ability. By doing them we will be helping our soldiers to fight and win this war, which must be won if our liberty is to be preserved.

To Our Civic Association. A. J. Loos (See full report in another column.)

To Our State. Fletcher W. Stites, State Representative

Churches may be helpful to the State by realizing the wonderful majesty and might of this commonwealth. We are living in a State of nine millions of people. One tenth of the men now in the ranks of the United States are of our commonwealth. One tenth of the men who will fight the great war will go forth from Pennsylvania. We should deem it important to send up to represent us good men, and men who will have the power to fight the liquor traffic.

To Our Councils. Charles E. Humphreys, President

We should take more interest in town affairs. Exercise good judgment in picking out the man you want to represent you. Have confidence in his judgment. Help him along, do not criticize him for those things you do not understand. Attend the meetings of Council. Get familiar with Borough Affairs. Understand why certain things are done in certain ways.

Our Fire Company. Mr. Charles V. Noel, Chief Engineer

We need the support of more men. People of the borough should not rely on twenty-six men at all times to risk their lives in putting out fires. The small sum of $3 a year will help its support buy new hose, and keep things going. There have been on an average of forty-four fires a year during the last three years. Five men of the Fire Company already have answered the call of our country. Lots of boys are willing to stay at home and take care of properties, but we have no money to pay for their keeping.

To Our Board of Health. Mr. Charles V. Noel

Exercises the same care in winter as in summer in keeping garbage cans or other refuse receptacles as clean as possible. Try not to have refuse lay around. By doing so we will prevent the contagious diseases that usually spring from dirt and decayed food.

To Our Narberth Guard. Captain B. T. White

The Narberth Guard is a side issue of home defense. Its object is to give young men some insight on the important things required of a soldier, be-

The opening of the new school building last week marks another epoch in Narberth school history. It is a monument to the men who have untiringly worked for the youth of our town. The glories of a school director are few, but it must be gratifying to the gentlemen of our board to know the results of their labor in behalf of the greatest problem in America, will be measured by the lives of the coming generation.

The new elementary building is an example of modern school architecture, which stands for beauty in its simplicity and its completeness in appointments. The structure will speak for itself to all citizens who will take time to become acquainted with it.

For some years Narberth has sorely been in need of more school room, and now with the school organization of the "six-six plan," the school plant is ideal. The entire old building, now to be called the high school building, is occupied by the Junior and Senior high school—the upper six grades; the elementary grades, one to six, occupy the eight rooms of the new building. But there are sixty little tots in the first grade to be divided into two groups. The School Board will soon find themselves again looking ahead. Had the gentlemen not been farsighted five years ago, our town would be confronted with an embarrassing proposition. When the board comes before the public again, it is hoped all citizens will remove their near vision spectacles.

Our Board of Education deserves our congratulations and support. Men who have retired from the board have played their part also. Every director has been an enthusiastic worker, led by the untiring president, Mr. C. Howard McCarter, who has been on the board since its conception twenty-two years ago. Mr. Ridge has served for many years. They well deserve the appreciation of the citizens which they are enjoying, and the smiles of five hundred Narberth boys and girls.

In the last issue of Our Town, there was a slight error in the article regarding the coming primaries.

Mr. Carroll Downes has not resigned from the Board of Education. As a matter of fact, his term expires in November and his successor must be selected at the primaries September 19 and elected at the regular election in November. Mr. Downes' nomination papers for school director were filed and then withdrawn when he decided to become a candidate for Burgess. This is probably where the mistake was made.

Mr. Marsh is a candidate to succeed Mr. Downes as school director for the six-year term and Mr. Henry Rose for the four-year term to succeed himself.

Narberth, Pa., September 10, 1917.
To the Editor of Our Town:

Information has reached me that a report is being circulated around town that I am opposed to the plan of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the proposed improvements in the vicinity of the station and that I will use my position as President of Council to impose such conditions that the railroad company will abandon the project.

I wish to emphatically deny this and to brand the statement as a deliberate falsehood.

There is no one in Narberth who would be more pleased to see a tunnel under the railroad at Essex avenue, a new station built, and the old freight yard removed than I, and I will further state that as President of Council, I have talked at various times to each and every individual member of the body and I have as yet to find one member who is opposed to the plan.

I pledge myself to use whatever influence I may have to hurry the completion of this project.

C. E. Humphreys.

JUDGE JOHN FABER
MILLER'S OPINION OF
NARBROOK PARK

In His Decision in the Case of Mr. Pope Against the Narberth Civic Association, Recently Handed Down in Favor of the Association, Judge Miller Makes the Following Statement:

"The land in question was conspicuously located, especially with reference to the Main Line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which extends through or near the borough. It was low and unsightly. It was the wholly disinterested and public-spirited purpose of the defendant association to acquire that tract and so develop it as to change it into a thing of beauty. It was not its intention ultimately either to expend or to make money in so doing. . . . All the money required was to be obtained by the sale of forty-three lots, and, after the entire tract had been paid for out of the proceeds, the whole balance was to be expended in its development and beautifying. The contract with the plaintiff, was, therefore, not executed until all the lots had been disposed of. As a consequence, the defendant started out with a definite sum of money to be expended by them. The more they spent on one branch, the less they had remaining for the rest. This was understood by all the parties when the contract between them was executed."

The Guard meets for drill Thursday evening at 8 P. M., and Sunday morning at 9 A. M. The latter time was selected for the reason that it would be more convenient for many of the men. It is thought most fellows can come out on Sunday mornings for a little military exercise, and the men of Narberth who have not yet enlisted in the Guard are invited to do so. No obligations other than to protect our home community and aid in drilling those who may be called to the colors now and in months and years to come. At a time like the present when our country is in a serious war, it is the duty of all citizens to show their patriotism and encourage these efforts by getting in the ranks, even if it should amount to a slight inconvenience. You can surely come either Thursday evening or Sunday morning. There is also an opportunity for those who would help in a financial way—the Guard is a permanent organization in our town, and uniforms suitable for cold weather will soon be needed, also proper flags for use when on parade and in doing certain work in extended order practice. Are you with us? If so, demonstrate it when the opportunity offers. You will get full credit for what you do. A citizen is pretty far gone when he fails to demonstrate his patriotism. In years to come you will be asked by your children or grandchildren, perhaps, "what did YOU do in the great World War?" What will you tell them?

"Loyal."

How Can We, As A Church and As Individuals, Be Helpful to Our Civic Association?

A Three-Minute Talk by A. J. Loos at Narberth Presbyterian Church

The Narberth Civic Association, being a non-partisan association, and one that aims to benefit the whole community, irrespective of creed or political parties, deserves the support of all organizations and every individual in the town. The material welfare of our citizens is in the hands of the Council, the Board of Health and the School Board. The members of these bodies are not paid, doing their work from public-spirited motives, as a service to the whole community. The time they can devote to these duties is necessarily limited. Consequently, matters that need attention are sometimes overlooked, or things are done that do not entirely meet with popular approval.

The Civic Association is in no sense a rival to our official bodies, but was formed to supplement their work, and aid them in every way possible, by keeping them in close touch with the wishes of the citizens, and by doing such things as are outside of their province.

The church, as an organization, can help the Civic Association by endorsing any movement looking to the betterment of the community. Announcement should be made from the pulpit of any effort to improve the borough morally, socially or materially. The Trustees should recognize the value of the paper published by the Civic Association as a medium of publicity for all church activities. The space freely given in Our Town would cost from $50 to $100 per annum, if spent for circulars and letters, which would not be one-half as effective. Every church in town should contribute from $15 to $25 per annum towards the support of the paper, for this publicity service.

The individual members of the church can help materially by taking active part in the work of the association, attending its meetings, and paying a small annual membership fee $1. They should also pay the small subscription price of the paper, $1 per annum, and take pains to communicate to the local editor any items of personal interest. These local items are read with the greatest attention. They can help further by taking part in discussions on matters of community interest in the columns of the paper. They can also help by their prayers, not forgetting that prayer without works is no more effectual than works without prayer.

Individuals can also help by refraining from destructive criticism, or asking the question, "Why don't they do so and so?" Such criticism, and the question "Why don't they?" usually comes from those who take no active part in anything. Remember that each one of you is a citizen of this community, and that it is your duty to do something towards its uplift. You can help by substituting for the usual "Why don't they?" the question, "Why don't we?", and then get busy and do it, or help it along. Remember, that as members of this of some other church, more is expected from you than from those who

SCHOOL NOTES

A hearty welcome to our new boys and girls.

We are glad to see so many strange faces among us. It is good to rub up against pupils from other schools. Our aim shall be to show every one of them that our school stands for the square deal.

School life was teaming on Tuesday morning. As usual the office was busy, but everybody who stopped at the open door heard a hearty "good morning," "glad to see you again," or at least a nod and smile. In the halls boys and girls and teachers were trying to drown each other's voices.

Promptly at 8.40 the piano in assembly called the pupils thither. A hearty cheer rang out when President McCarter and Mr. Melchior stepped to the platform. After devotional exercises Mr. McCarter addressed the audience. Everybody felt welcome and happy.

By 9.15 business had begun and when school closed at noon every pupil had met for three classes and had lessons assigned for the next day. Wednesday found a full schedule working.

Of course, the big event of the day was the opening of the new building. That was a happy hour for directors, faculty and pupils. Very informal and non-pretentious, but full of "pep" were the minutes that marked the dawn of a new era in our schools.

There are now 145 pupils enrolled in the junior and senior high school and 39 in the elementary department. There are many still to report.

Parents who have denied themselves the pleasure of a longer sojourn by the sea are happy to know they had their children at school for the opening day. It is to be regretted that more parents cannot understand the handicap to their children and the inconvenience to the school caused by returning late.

The lunch room seems more popular than ever. Every pupil can now be accommodated at neat attractive tables.

The following list of teachers, their grades or departments and room numbers may be helpful to students and parents:

Tennis Tournament Will Be Continued This Saturday

Rain again interfered with the Red Cross Tournament last Saturday. The courts were too wet to permit playing, even late in the afternoon.

But unless the weather jinx repeats this Saturday, there will be a number of good matches on the courts at Essex and Elmwood avenues. Members who have matches to play are urged to be on hand promptly at 2 o'clock.

During the past week—between showers—a number of matches have been played. Owen Humphreys defeated Collwyn Humphreys, 7-5 and 6-3. In the doubles tournament Kirkpatrick and Staples qualified for the finals by defeating the Humphreys brothers, 6-2 and 6-3.

A full report of all the matches played since Labor Day will be published in next week's issue.

The improved International Uniform Lessons will be introduced in the Junior, Intermediate and Senior Departments. Every teacher and officer will be in their places this Sunday. Owing to the enlistment of several young men teachers their places have been taken by Mr. Emmett, the physical instructor in the public schools, and Mr. Schaeffer, the Y. M. C. A. secretary. Every class and department is fully supplied with teachers and several substitutes. The winter campaign is on. We are ready. Are you? Come and encourage the school. Elaborate plans are being developed for a great drive on Rally Day. You will like our school.

NARBERTH GUARD

Ten Reasons Why You Should Be a Member of The Locality

1. IT IS YOURS. The association was designed particularly for your use and benefit. An everyday place of recreation and improvement for men and boys. A progressive community has provided it. All for you. Why not use it?
2. IT IS PLANNED CAREFULLY. It recognizes the whole nature of man and intelligently seeks to meet his varied needs of body, mind and spirit, and thus builds symmetrically a whole man.
3. IT WILL PAY. Yes, in dollars, it will pay, by clearing your brain and training it; by enlarging your capacity for work and enabling you to enjoy doing it; by increasing your earning power.
4. IT WILL RETURN YOU DIVIDENDS from the use of your leisure hours. Physical health, mental stimulus, moral vigor, spiritual satisfaction—the real joy of life.
5. IT GIVES YOU OPPORTUNITY. In addition to the good you personally get, you can help the other fellow by giving yourself in unselfish service along altruistic lines of effort, in the promotion of which the association is expert. It is a co-operative organizing uniting and assisting in many forms of community work.
6. IT BRINGS YOU INTO GOOD COMPANIONSHIP. Friendships of the right kind are not always easy to acquire. You have the best opportunity to be a friend and gain a friend when you are a member of the association.
7. IT IDENTIFIES YOU WITH SUCCESS. Every man is inspired by being in a successful enterprise. This association is achieving success, and is part of a world-wide movement recognized by the brainiest and best of the earth as a success. By joining you become a member of a world wide brotherhood.
8. IT IS DEMOCRATIC, not inquiring whether you are rich or poor, where you live or what your employment, asking only whether you have practical needs which it can help you to meet, and whether you are disposed in turn to help others.
9. IT IS NON-SECTARIAN. What church you like is none of our business. We would like you to be in the army that loves and serves Christ, but we are not concerned what regiment you join. The enjoyment of the association is open to any decent man or boy, regardless of religious belief.
10. THE COST IS LOW. When you pay your dues and fees you pay only about one-third of what it actually cost in products the privileges you enjoy.
Support your local institution this fall and take out a membership for your boy and one for yourself. A hearty welcome awaits all. Further particulars gladly given on request.

fore the war was declared. But the officers are surprised and disappointed that only a few men have taken part in the drilling. No organization is a success without co-operation. Every man in the borough should assist in the work of the Guard.

To Our School, Principal William T. Melchior

One of the duties of Narberth is to develop the children morally, physically and mentally. The latter two are largely dependent upon the former. This church can help the school therefore by preaching and acting out the Gospel; by continuing its policy of supporting the school administration, as do also the sister churches, and by having at least some preaching especially for the young. Discourses to the adults upon the whole, do not enthrall youth. The Sunday school is good, but does not take the place of the church.

Individuals of the church may aid by acting the Golden Rule in dealing with the Board of Education, the Faculty and the children of other people. Investigation of any question, including the hearing of the other side, is of all importance. Visit the school; consult with authorities. Remember your child should be compared by you to the standard of the Gospel, not to the status of your neighbor's child. You may become too self-satisfied. Pray for the schools, for the other fellow's boy and girl. "Keep your temper; no one else wants it!"

To Our Boy Scouts, W. Arthur Cole, Scoutmaster

The Boy Scout Organization is world-wide. There are 3000 scouts in the United States alone. Church members can be helpful first, by setting an example to the scouts, second, by offering the scouts opportunities to do service, third, by giving some of our time to the helping of the officers and leaders in order to carry on the great work.

To Our Y. M. C. A. Charles W. Schaeffer, Secretary

The time has arrived when the Y. M. C. A. needs the co-operation of the church. Every Christian is or ought to be interested in and assisting in the important duty of placing in the hearts and minds of our young people the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Ministers should take an active interest in the various departments, and recommend the Y. M. C. A. to the boys and girls of the church and Sunday school. This will strengthen the organization as well as the moral and spiritual life of the community.

To Our Sunday School, Robert L. Beatty, Superintendent

The needs of the church and Sunday school are known to almost everyone. We need more teachers in our schools. Many people sit back and wait until they are asked to teach or do other work. Don't hide your light under a bushel. It is your duty as well as your privilege to put yourself in a position where you can be used.

To Our Men's Bible Study Class

These are days of big questions and there are a tremendous amount of things to be decided. The trouble with the Bible Class is that the men don't come out. We always arrange to have several of the men of the class in church at opening time to give a cordial welcome. Mr. Gara is always there. We all try our best to make it pleasant and profitable. Mr. Foster teaches the lesson as he sees it. Men say they have been benefited a great deal. Why don't more men come out on Sunday mornings and find something helpful?

To Our Missionary Societies, Mrs. Samuel W. Foster, President

We should pray for missions, give to missions, and talk missions. The attitude of the church toward missions is summed up in the above.

Ladies' Aid Society, Mrs. Edward S. Haws, President

There are a great many women in our congregation who are not members of the Ladies' Aid Society. Won't the men influence their wives to become active members? Our next meeting will be the fourth Tuesday of this month which will be a good time for them to join, as it is the first meeting of the season. We will probably need help during the coming season, of the men, so don't disappoint us. To the general congregation I would say that whenever you see or hear any announcement of any kind from the Aid Society, find out all about it and then let us all be ready to do our part.

To Our Y. P. S. C. E. Miss Helen Duff, Secretary

Prayer changes things. Lots of things need changing in the Y. P. S. C. E. The society will have wonderful results if backed by the earnest prayers of the people in the church. The old officers are leaving. The new officers, some of whom have had no experience, will need your prayers and help. And do not forget those encouraging words, they are so helpful. The power, beauty and fascination of Jesus is all that anyone needs to be an example in this life and show others the way to Christ.

To Our Pastor, Rev. L. M. Keim

Among the first things that are necessary to aid the pastor is to attend the services of the church. One of the most discouraging things for the pastor is to prepare his sermons plan his work and then find he is not supported. The people are not there. His power depends on his being able to reach the congregation. Much effort has gone for naught. He is greatly hampered. Another important thing is the contribution, so that the pastor may feel his work is not hampered for lack of funds. Contributions of money and time. After we have had the message we should do as he says. Encourage the pastor. Tell him you are benefited by his sermons.

To Our Sister Churches, Mr. H. S. Hopper

What the church wants is deeds, not creeds. Creeds are beautiful. There is nothing more beautiful than the Apostle's Creed. But it is deeds—what you do—that count. The churches of this community should work together and pray together for the purpose of winning souls to Christ, promote spiritual relationship as well as social activity among the members of the churches, for the uplift and betterment of the community.

The meeting was opened by a prayer offered by Mr. Braden, and Rev. L. M. Keim pronounced the benediction. Several hymns were sung. The attendance was nearly 100, and the closest attention was paid to all of the speakers.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING OPENED

has been on the board since its organization twenty-two years ago. His interest and efforts in behalf of the school are almost unlimited. His policy is to place the matters of the school before his personal or business affairs. Mr. Will K. Ridge, chairman of the Instruction Committee and treasurer, has faithfully served for many years. He and Mr. McCarter are called "friend" by every boy and girl in Narberth. The other members of the board at this time are Mr. Carroll Downes, vice president; Mr. Henry Rose, secretary, and Mr. Robert J. Dothard, chairman of Property Committee. Mr. Dothard, who is superintendent of Office Buildings of the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., was well chosen to his position at so important a time. During the construction of the building Miss Mary S. Melchoir was secretary to the board. Upon her devolved most of the tedious clerical work.

School Organization
The schools are organized under the six-six plan now becoming so popular throughout the country. It has been in operation for two years and is proving more than satisfactory to all parties concerned. The elementary department consists of six grades and occupies the new building. The high school department makes use of every room in the old building. The Narberth High School promotes pupils by subject and offers a full college preparatory course. It has certificate privileges in colleges of first rank, such of Smith, Wellesley, Dartmouth and Mt. Holyoke. Its pupils have passed the Bryn Mawr examinations, but just as much attention is paid to the well-rounded practical course for every boy and girl. Besides the regular departments, this school is proud of its domestic science and domestic art courses, and also of its music, art and physical culture. A well-qualified physical instructor devotes all of his time to the physical welfare of the children. A special afternoon class in domestic science for mothers offered a popular course last year. The school is equipped with a kitchen, pantry, serving room and lunch room.

When, in 1895, the borough of Narberth, Pennsylvania, was incorporated, it became necessary to organize a school district. An agreement was made whereby the school building, formerly belonging to Lower Merion but now within the borough limits, be purchased. The school affairs of the borough of Narberth began in the following manner:

Copy of Minutes
"Narberth, Pa., June 10, 1895, the first elected board of school directors of the borough of Narberth met for temporary organization this evening in the Land Office at the corner of Haverford and Essex avenues. Those present were Messrs. Jones, Bucher, Warner, Hunter and McCarter. On motion, Dr. Jones was chosen as temporary chairman, and Mr. McCarter temporary secretary. The president in a few well-chosen words thanked the members of the board for the honor conferred upon him and before proceeding further with the business of the board he invoked the Divine Blessing upon the board and school. An interesting resolution was the following: Resolved that the secretary of our board be authorized to notify the Lower Merion High School of our organization and to indicate our readiness to assume charge of the school property of our borough at the expiration of the present school year."

The school was opened with one teacher, Miss Aili Plank; salary, $600. There were thirty-seven pupils; but because one teacher would be responsible for all grades, the board passed the following resolution: "Resolved, that it is the sense of our board that the highest efficiency of our school demands the division of the grades, and the employment of an assistant teacher." Miss Maud Moses was later elected to this position.
Enlargement of the School Building
During the next ten years the school had grown to the extent requiring seven teachers, hence in June, 1906, the school board advertised for bids for the enlargement of the school building. In the following year this building was completed. The addition consisted of three class rooms, an office, and a ladies' rest room, and a large auditorium. The entire plant now consisted of seven class rooms. Within a few years the building was crowded and by 1913 the board took measures to enlarge the building. The board failed to authorize the necessary bonding of the district until 1916.

On July 15, of said year, a special election was held for the purpose of increasing the indebtedness of the School District of the Borough of Narberth, to the extent of $58,000. This amount was to pay off a floating indebtedness, alter and renovate the old building (including installation of new heating system) and to erect a new building.
The plans agreed upon for the old building included two additional class rooms, additional lighting for the rooms of the original old building, new heating system, new toilet rooms and equipment. The new building was to be an elementary building erected on the school property immediately adjoining the old building. It was to consist of eight class rooms, a teacher's rest room, gymnasium, (with full equipment, including shower baths and all modern appointments). The alterations to the old building were completed for the opening of school last year.

RECOGNITION SERVICE FOR ENLISTED MEN

In honor of the large number of enlisted men in the congregation of the Methodist Church a service of recognition is to be conducted this Sunday morning, September 16.

A Church Honor Roll, embossed in the National colors, with the names of the men inscribed, will be presented and placed in a suitable place in the church.

The sermon for the occasion is to be preached by the pastor, Mr. Koppel, upon the subject, "The Spirit of 1917." There will be patriotic music with Miss Prescott as soloist.

In the evening the pastor will inaugurate for the fall season, "Pleasant Sunday Evenings." Choice music with organ recitals, soloists and a chorus choir, live-wire sermon subjects, and hearty congregational singing assures the congregation of pleasant evenings in the House of Prayer.

This Sunday evening is as follows: Organ recital for fifteen minutes by the church organist, Mrs. Boyd. Soloist, Mrs. Joseph Barkley. Choice congregational hymns led by the chorus choir. Subject to the sermon, "The Tragedy of a Lie."
The Little Church on the Hill welcomes you at 7.45 o'clock.

THE SCHOOL BOARD ENJOYS AN OUTING

(By Number Seven)

Now that the handsome new building on the hill is almost complete and the months of anxiety and hard work about over, our School Directors decided (after receiving permission from their wives) to celebrate the occasion, and incidentally indulge in a much-needed rest, by taking a short trip to nearby foreign lands—not at the expense of the local taxpayers, however. Having the welfare of the school at heart, it was planned to visit several points of interest on the way in order to gather ideas that might be of advantage to our School administration.

Hence, on Wednesday, the 5th inst., the citizens of Philadelphia were gratified by the sight of a handsome touring car wending its way towards Market Street Ferry, occupied by the dignified and fine looking body of men who so efficiently administer the affairs of our local educational institution. The first objective was Stratford, where it was intended to visit the shrine of the famous Bard of Avon, but the Directors were chagrined to find they had visited the wrong Stratford. The next stop was Berlin, but on arriving there it was found that the personage whom it was desired to interview on scholastic matters, William Hohenzollern, was not a resident of Berlin, N. J., but some other Berlin. As a matter of fact, he is at Potsdam, for which the Directors do not give a hang. Our readers should make a note of this, so that they may not commit the same error, as there is more than one Berlin and they seem to differ in everything but the name. However, our Directors soon recovered from their disappointment and resumed their journey after partaking of the hospitality of the inhabitants of the region, continuing their way across the desert, which was interspersed with occasional oases, they arrived at the City of Magnolia, which they recognized at once by the odor. It was quite plain that the odor and the name were not synonymous, however.
It is not our intention to burden our readers with all the details of the voyage, hence suffice to mention two or three incidents that stand out prominently. At Angora it was noted that the only goat in the party was as yet intact, although rather wabby. A short stop was made at a honey farm and the whole party was combed and stung double city prices. At the town of Port Republic it was easily recognized how the place obtained its name, inasmuch as there must have been two feet of water in the puddle.

Evening found our heroes at New Gretna, a coaling station on Great Bay. This was a place of great interest to these Wise Men of Narberth, because of the schools of fish and schools for teaching of fish stories that flourished there. The Main Line Fishing Club had made the place famous in Narberth, owing to the fact that its members had taken the full college course.

Next day saw our local educators on the raging main—only it wasn't raging. Several schools of fish were inspected and it was agreed as a matter of reciprocity that specimens from each of them be "selected" to inspect the interiors of the Directors and their families and friends. The next day was Friday.

A remarkable coincidence about the whole affair is this: As you, no doubt, keen reader (all of our readers are keen) have suspected right along, this is a fish story and we apologize in the remote event that we have deceived you. Well, the school tax rate this year is .013, the number of fish that were selected was about 130, at least so it has been reported by the honorable anglers and of course it goes without saying that they caught 130 fish. Notice the similarity in the figures. This may have been merely an accidental transposition and, while Ye Scribe is not what you might term a knocker, he is somewhat of a fisherman himself, and the figures were not transposed with a view to camouflage. Believe what you will, but your humble servant feels that the figures in the tax rate were intended to apply also to the total of the fish that were caught.

Thursday evening found the expedition safely at home and the borough can breathe freely again. One of the party, having political aspirations, assumed all expenses, whereupon it was voted unanimously that he was "all right" and that a perfectly lively time had been enjoyed.

- The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.
As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 3 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
