B. C. Electric's Federal Charter Move Is Quashed

Commons Committee, After Long Debate, Throws Out Company's Application For Transfer to Jurisdiction of Railway Board.

Ottawa, May 2.—The British Columbia Electric Railway Company's effort to be placed under Federal jurisdiction ended in defeat when the company's application for a Federal charter was thrown out by the Commons Committee on Railways and Canals to-day.

The vote, in the committee to-day, came only after a discussion lasting for two hours in which Joseph Martin, K.C., was one of the chief figures, when he appeared as counsel for the company, which is backed by English capital.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative member for Vancouver Centre, who fathered the bill in committee, said attempts had been made to reach an agreement but these had failed. Mr. Stevens declared that objection to the bill had arisen chiefly from the supposition that declaring the roads in question to be to the general advantage of Canada, was encroaching on provincial rights.

Mr. Stevens declared there was no British Columbia legislation covering this bill. The province now had no public utilities board. The supposition was therefore not well founded.

Important System.

Mr. Stevens argued that this was by no means a local road but an important transfer road. Factory owners along the road wanted it under the Railway Commission to give them a court of appeal. The promoters of the bill were willing to insert a clause declaring it null and void if the Provincial Government should create a public utilities board within that year. The Vancouver Board of Trade and Ratepayers' Association had passed resolutions a year ago favored the placing of the company under the Railway Board. The Vancouver City Council now objected to the proposal, as did some other municipalities. Several power companies incorporated by federal acts were included in this company. The bill would not affect agreement between the railway and the various municipalities.

No Subterfuge.

L. H. Martell asked if the bill was not a subterfuge to get the British Columbia Electric Railway Company out of provincial control. Mr. Stevens denied there was any subterfuge. The company was asking for an independent arbiter in case of dispute between itself and any one of fourteen or fifteen municipalities. If a provincial board existed, this application would be unnecessary.

Hon. T. A. Crerar thought the bill opened up a dangerous precedent in that it would interfere with agreements made between the city and railway company when the original franchise was granted.

Mr. Martin.

Joseph Martin, K. C., representing the company, said the question of interference with provincial rights had not been raised in British Columbia. Some of the roads affected by this bill were under the Railway Board. The company asked that all its lines be placed either under Provincial or local control. There was not at present, however, any local utilities board. The company, said Mr. Martin, asked for Federal control until there was a provincial board.

The Vancouver City Council, now chief opponent of the bill, had signed an agreement with the company leaving control of rates under a firm of London accountants.

Mr. Church.

When Mr. Martin was dealing with the Board of Trade's stand on the matter, T. L. Church, Conservative member for North Toronto, asked Mr.

FRENCH CABINET CONSIDERS GENOA

Forms Opinions on Dispatches From Conference

Barthou Will Give His Report To-morrow

Paris, May 2.—The Cabinet devoted most of its session this morning to consideration of dispatches from Genoa. It will meet again to-morrow afternoon, after the arrival of Mr. Barthou from Genoa. It is expected in official circles that the Cabinet will pronounce formally against any discussion of measures to be taken against Germany in case of her default, until the Reparations Commission has reported such default, and also that it will give M. Barthou formal instructions to adhere to the French claim that Russia must agree absolutely to respect foreign owned property in Russia.

Barthou.

Genoa, May 2.—Vice-Premier Barthou, head of the French delegation at the Economic Conference, left for Paris at 11.15 o'clock this morning for a conference with Premier Poincare and the Cabinet. He is expected back Sunday or Monday morning. Before leaving he conferred with Premier Lloyd George.

NEW ATTACK ON PEKING REPULSED

Defenders Overcame Their Ammunition Shortage

Assailants Forced to Fall Back Slightly

Peking, May 2.—Wu Pei Fu's drive for Peking was vigorously resumed in the vicinity of Chang Sin Tien twelve miles south of the capital; yesterday afternoon, the Chihilites attacking gallantly and striving to turn both of the enemy's flanks.

The Fengtieners, under Chang Tso Lin, at first were handicapped by a shortage of ammunition, but staved off attacks until supplies were brought up from Fengtai. The Chihilites were unable to make headway against this opposition and eventually retired to Liuliho, fifteen miles to the southwest, last night.

The casualties of the Fengtieners were severe and the Chang Sin Tien station is filled with wounded. No details have been received regarding the losses of the Chihilites.

At Hun River.

There has also been brisk fighting on the Hun River at Kuan, forty miles south of the capital, the Chihilites driving General Chang Tso Lin's forces from the town.

It is reported that General Tung Chen Kun of the Chihilite forces and General Lian Chou Tung of the Fengtieners were killed.

ELECTION HELD IN SEATTLE TO-DAY

People Are Choosing Mayor and Councilmen

Ballots Cast on Street Railway Proposal

Seattle, May 2.—February weather, with a cold wind and a threat of rain, prevailed as Seattle residents went to the polls to-day to elect the Mayor, three members of the City Council, two school directors and a comptroller and treasurer and to pass upon seven measures, including the Erickson proposal that the cost of operation and maintenance of the municipal street railway system be paid from the general taxation fund.

At the same time residents of the Port of Seattle district were to elect a port commissioner and a number of waterway districts were to elect directors.

Campaign.

The campaign which culminated in the election to-day was one of the most bitter in the city's history. The Erickson measure, especially, drew heavy fire from its opponents and equally strong support from its proponents. Opponents declared it would raise taxation to a point higher than that in any other city in the United States and would demoralize business through the additional levies, while its supporters claimed it would provide a carfare of three cents or less, to be used in extensions and renewals of lines only, and would benefit business through the greater amount of traffic carried on the lines because of the lowered fares. The present carfare is 8½ cents.

Charges.

In the mayoralty contest, State Senator Dan Landon, high man at the April primaries, hurled charges of radicalism at his opponent, Dr. E. J. Brown, dentist, who promised to "clean up" the city. Both candidates opposed the Erickson measure, but advocated a five-cent carfare.

DENY RUSSIAN OIL PACT SIGNED

Shell Interests and Soviet Genoa Men Speak

Reported Shell People to Have Wide Control

Genoa, May 2.—The Genoa correspondent of The London Evening News, in a dispatch to his paper this afternoon, quotes Colonel Boyle, representing the Shell group of British oil interests and Royal Dutch interests here, as denying that an industrial agreement was signed Sunday between these interests and the Russian Soviet Government, as has been reported. Reuter's correspondent here says the Russian delegates to the Economic Conference also flatly deny having made any concession to the Shell interests.

Gigantic.

London, May 2.—A gigantic industrial agreement was signed on Sunday at Genoa by representatives of the Russian Soviet Government and the Shell group of British oil companies, telegraphs the Genoa correspondent of The Evening News.

Under the agreement, he writes, the Shell group will control all sales and, under certain conditions, all production of oil in every part of Russia for an agreed period.

The concession may be renewed by mutual consent.

Fifty-Fifty.

Fifty per cent. of the net profits will be allotted to the Soviet Government and the other 50 per cent. to the Shell group. The working of the oilfields will be administered by the British companies under the provisions of the Russia jurisdical code and a proviso that no more than 50 per cent. of the workers employed shall be foreigners.

The correspondent understands that the Shell combine has arranged to apply the agreement almost to the Caspian fields, taking charge of the pipeline from Baku to Batum, and also to develop the vast potential fields in Uralsk province.

Great Value.

Leonid Krassin, Soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce, signed the agreement at the Hotel de Genes, the decision to sign being reached, says the dispatch, only after the Russians on several occasions had played off the groups against one another to obtain better offers for the privileges, involving millions of pounds' worth of output from oilfields which next to those of the United States are the most prolific in the world. It is more than possible, adds the correspondent, that difficult complications may arise over the working of important areas in which the Standard Oil Company had concessions prior to the Soviet nationalization of the fields.

Drafted In February.

Paris, May 2.—The contract between the Russian Soviet Government and the Shell group of British oil companies, by which the latter obtains a monopoly of the transportation and sale of Russian petroleum, says a dispatch to L'Information from Genoa, was drawn up in London in February. It was signed

I made public, he adds, as soon as the attitude of M. Barthou, of the French Genoa delegation, on the question of recognition of private property rights in Russia became known.

Explanation of Malahat Drive Accident Sunday

Although he is still too ill to be bothered much with details, it is understood that James E. Goodsell informed the Provincial Police yesterday that the accident at the Sixteen Mile post on the Island Highway on Sunday arose from a collapse of a rear wheel.

Goodsell was driving a car owned by Richard Henderson of Fowl Bay Road, who was operated on yesterday afternoon at the Jubilee Hospital for the removal of a leg, crushed in the accident.

Mr. Henderson's accident has aroused the sympathy of a wide circle of friends, who appreciate his many fine qualities during his residence here.

Extend Tax Basis and Help Delinquents to Pay Up, Shortt Urges

Advises Council to Tax Improvements and Possibly Incomes; Suggests Delinquent Ratepayers and Former Owners Be Given Fifteen Years In Which to Pay Arrears; Advocates Monthly Tax Payments and Change In Fiscal Year.

Dr. Shortt's Advice to City Council

1. Extend the present basis of city taxation to include a levy on improvements and possibly on income.
2. Encourage land owners to redeem or hold their property by giving them fifteen years in which to pay up taxation arrears—this to apply to owners who are now paying up arrears under the ten-year installment plan.
3. Finance this extension scheme by the issue of serial bonds.
4. Collect city taxes in monthly payments just as telephone and electric light charges are collected.
5. Start the city's financial year May 1 so as to give new Council members an opportunity to adjust themselves to city affairs before deciding annual financial policies.
6. Issue serial bonds instead of creating sinking funds to meet maturing obligations.
7. Levy taxes each year to cover the deficits of the previous year.
8. Include in the annual estimates contingency funds to cover the anticipated shortages in tax collections instead of allowing shortages to occur and accumulate year by year.
9. Rate at their actual value the tax arrears of the city instead of writing them on the books as assets worth one hundred cents on the dollar.

To put Victoria back on its feet financially, the City Council must broaden its basis of taxation by levying on improvements and possibly on incomes, Dr. Adam Shortt advised the mayor and aldermen at a two-hour conference yesterday afternoon when he indicated in some detail the recommendations that he would make in his formal report on the city's financial position.

Not only must the Council transfer the tax burden from the overburdened landowner to shoulders more able to bear it but it must give delinquent taxpayers and former owners fifteen years in which to pay their accumulated tax arrears, Dr. Shortt declared.

In addition, it must reform its system of current financing by collecting city taxes in monthly instalments and by starting its fiscal year May 1. To prevent bank overdrafts piling up as in the past it must levy taxes automatically every year to cover the current deficits of the previous year and also to meet anticipated shortages in tax collections. The Council also must stop considering its tax arrears as assets worth 100 cents on the dollar, but must examine these arrears carefully and scale them down in the treasury books to their actual value.

While many people who were not over-burdened by city taxes undoubtedly would protest if they were called upon to help their less fortunate neighbors out of the present difficulties, it was to the interest of everyone in Victoria to prevent the city's financial position growing worse, Dr. Shortt affirmed. The community must pull together to restore the city's finances and bring back prosperity, for good times could not come to one section of the people without benefiting all, he added.

Dr. Shortt said he would compile his recommendations in a written report which he would forward to the Council after his return to Ottawa. Meanwhile, the Council, putting his preliminary suggestions into effect, plans to tax improvements and also to levy in order to cover the 1921 overdraft.

Better Than Expected.

"The City of Victoria is in a much better position, as a whole, than I had expected to find it," Dr. Shortt

BRITISH TRADERS INSIST ON LOWER FREIGHT RATES

London, May 2.—Traders throughout the United Kingdom are convinced that lower railway freight rates are absolutely necessary toward the recovery of the country's trade, and they are making a united attack on the railway companies in an endeavor to secure a reduction. Negotiations to this end having proved unavailing, the traders, through the Federation of British Industries, are approaching the Railway Rates Tribunal. They are urging a cut of 60 per cent. on the increase levied since 1914. This is the first application to the tribunal, which was instituted under the Railways Act.

LIST OF VIOLENT DEATHS IN BELFAST IS COMPILED

A postman was killed and his son wounded when they were ambushed last evening while delivering letters in the Keady district of Armagh.

STRUCK BY MOTOR LEAVING STREET CAR

Lena Mesher Knocked Down and in Critical Condition

Alighting from an eastbound street car on Fort Street at the corner of St. Charles Street, about 11.30 p. m. last night, Lena Mesher, a sixteen-year-old girl whose parents reside at 948 Balmoral Road, was struck by an automobile owned by John H. Watson, 2325 Oak Bay Avenue.

The motor car was on its way to the Vancouver boat, prior to the midnight sailing, with two prospectors who were to have left on the boat.

The girl alighted from the front of the street car and raced around the fore end, while other passengers were alighting. The motor car, coming slowly west, struck Miss Mesher and it is thought the front wheels passed over the girl. Miss Mesher was rendered unconscious, and was attended by Dr. Taylor, an eye witness of the accident, later being removed to the Royal Provincial Jubilee Hospital in the car which struck her.

Inquiries at the hospital this morning elicited the fact that Miss Mesher was in a semi-conscious state. Though a complete diagnosis has not yet been effected, it is understood that she is suffering from internal injuries and severe shock.

ITALY AND TURKEY AGREED SECRETLY

Britain Not Informed of Pact, It Is Stated

Similar to French Treaty With Nationalists

London, May 2.—The Pall Mall Gazette and Globe to-day says it has just learned that Italy, following France's example, has made a secret political pact with the Turkish Nationalist Government at Angora, "behind Great Britain's back."

"Full disclosure of this has just been made," says the newspaper, "though it has been suspected for some time. The consequences are likely to be serious."

The newspaper says Italy's withdrawal of her troops from Scala Nova and the Meander Valley, in Asia Minor, as was reported in a Constantinople dispatch of April 28, was effected by an arrangement with the Turks. The Turks were informed beforehand of this movement, it says, similar knowledge being denied to the Greeks, whose flank was left dangerously exposed. The newspaper says the Italians in return received consideration in the shape of a concession in the Meander Valley and the eastern villages of Van, Bitlis and Erzerum.

Favors.

Italy has also undertaken, it continues, to press for further favors from the Entente to Turkey, relating to Thrace, some Allied commissions of control at Constantinople and curtailment of capitulations. Italy also consented to the extension of local self-government and other privileges for her Moslem dependencies. The Angora Government, in return, pledged to refrain from anti-Italian propaganda there.

No less than 321 stores and other business establishments are operated in Victoria by Orientals and 19 by other foreigners, Mayor Marchant announced to-day after city officials had compiled these figures at his request.

"There is not a shadow of doubt that the growth of the Oriental business here had been due to a very great extent to the lax Sunday closing regulations," the Mayor asserted on giving out these figures. "I understand that about eighty out of the total of 321 Oriental stores open on Sundays."

The stores owned by Chinese and Japanese are as follows:

Minimum the Allies Will Accept From Russia Is Outlined

British Representatives at Genoa Say That If Soviet Refuses to Accept Proposals Negotiations Will End Until New Russian Government Arises.

Genoa, May 2.—It was announced by the British representatives here this afternoon that the memorandum to be handed to the Russians "embodies the maximum the powers are willing to give the Russian Government and the minimum which the powers will accept from Russia."

"If the Soviet delegates do not accept the general lines of this document," it was added, "then it is certain all negotiations with Russia will be suspended for some time, probably until another form of government arises in Russia."

Genoa, May 2.—Premier Poincare of France may come to Genoa for the closing session of the Economic Conference. President Millerand's return from Africa will make it possible for the Premier to leave the capital, and the question whether he will join the other Premiers here will be one of the subjects he will discuss with M. Barthou, head of the French delegation, who left to-day for several days conference in Paris.

The most important question to be talked over by M. Barthou and his chief, it is understood, is that of France's attitude on the non-aggression pact proposed by the British Prime Minister.

Whether M. Poincare will consent to a meeting of the signatories of the Treaty of Versailles to discuss German reparations before May 31 is another subject for the parley in Paris. Frenchmen here believe it unlikely that M. Poincare to talk reparations at Genoa.

Note to Russians.

The Sub-Committee on Russian Affairs was to meet this afternoon for final approval of the memorandum to the Russians, the details of which were completed last night. The memorandum probably will be sent to the Russians to-day.

The document provides for establishment of a mixed arbitral commission for controlling the debts owed to holders of Russian Government bonds, the chairman of which would be named by Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme Court. Mixed tribunals would be set up to deal with the question of the property of foreigners in Russia which had been nationalized. Belgium alone was against the latter feature, France abandoning her objections to Great Britain's project. The Belgians insisted on restitution of nationalization property to its former owners.

To Decide Questions.

Genoa, May 2.—The Mixed Arbitration commission to be established for controlling the debts owed by Russian Government to foreign bondholders will have power to remit interest and decide all questions affecting foreign bondholders and Russia's

TICKETS SELLING FOR BIG EXCURSION

SS. Princess Louise to Leave Friday Morning

Interest Centres in Bellingham Festival

Tickets for the big excursion to Bellingham on Friday for the Tulip Festival are being sold only by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Numerous applications have been made to the Chamber of Commerce for tickets. As the number of passengers will be limited to 800, and to save confusion and delay the entire business of handling the tickets will be done through the C. P. R. Government Street ticket office, corner of Fort Street. Owing to the very reasonable charge for the trip, the attractions which the excursion offers in the way of a charming voyage by water and a very beautiful floral celebration at Bellingham, there is a great demand for tickets. The fine steamer Princess Louise will handle the excursion and though she could carry in excess of 800 passengers, the limit has been set at that number to insure comfort and convenience for those who take the trip.

A novel feature of the celebration will be that for the first time in history of publicity a float from another city, and that an American one will distribute literature for Victoria. Anacortes business men have built a float representing the Victoria-Anacortes motor-car ferry Harvester King, and it will be one of the most striking features of the big floral and decorative parade which will be held shortly after the excursionists from Victoria reach Bellingham.

Leaving Victoria at 9 o'clock, Standard Time, the Princess Louise will arrive at Bellingham at 12.30. She will leave on the return voyage at 5 o'clock and reach Victoria at 8.30 o'clock Standard Time.

On May 24 the S. S. Indianapolis will bring 800 excursionists from Bellingham on a return visit to Victoria. Mayor Mathes and the Chamber of Commerce of Bellingham look for a large attendance from Victoria on Friday, and it is safe to say that the full complement of 800 passengers will make the trip.

The May Queen of New Westminster has been invited to participate in the Bellingham Tulip Carnival. Several cars will leave New Westminster early Saturday morning for the Tulip City and Miss Irene Carpenter, the Royal City's May Queen, who will be crowned on Friday, will go to Bellingham and will have a seat of honor beside Miss Day, the Tulip Festival Queen. The ex-Queen, her suite and attendants will accompany Miss Carpenter to take part in Saturday night's parade.

The Bellingham Festival will last for three days, May 4, 5, and 6, and there will be a large attendance from all coast cities, including, in addition to Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster.

DAYLIGHT SAVING DISPUTES IN QUEBEC

St. Johns Has Divided Into Two Camps

Sherbrooke Merchants Not Lagging Behind Council

St. Johns, Que., May 2.—A serious conflict is now arising between the City Council, the clergy and the banks on the one side and the large industrial plants here on the other, in connection with the Council's decision not to advance the city's clocks to daylight saving time, despite the majority of 92 in favor of Summer time secured at the polls last Friday and Saturday. The Council voted by a majority of three to two not to advance the time. At a City Council meeting last night it was stated that an effort would be made to force the manufacturing plants to revert to standard time.

Sherbrooke, Que., May 2.—Although daylight saving was not passed by the City Council, the majority of the manufacturers, a large number of merchants and a great majority of the offices have taken matters into their own hands and started Summer time.

Milk is childhood's finest food. Yet children often turn against milk, although you mothers know they should have more of it if they are to grow up strong and rosy with health. But even children who dislike milk love ice cream, and pure ice cream is a perfect food. It contains the nutritive qualities of rich milk and cream and other food elements.

YOU OWE IT TO YOUR KIDDIES
But when you give the children ice cream be sure that it is the BEST and PUREST made.

ROYAL DAIRY HEATHIZED ICE CREAM is the kind you should specify. Heathization is science's newest discovery in food sanitation. It is a method of making ice cream which drives out the air and replaces it with a pure, clean, germless atmosphere, infinitely purer than air.

Air, you know is never pure. It is often laden with all kinds of impurities. So mixing air with pure cream, sugar, fruits and flavoring used in making ice cream makes the finished product impure.

HIGHEST IN FOOD VALUES

Royal Dairy Heathized Ice Cream is highest in food values, for science has shown that air destroys vitamines, while Heathizing preserves them.

CANADA'S STATUS BETTER UNDEFINED

Dr. Adam Shortt Refers to Inadvisability of Crossing Bridges in Advance

That the absence of any written constitution of the Dominion in relation to the Mother Country, and the consequent flexibility of such relations, was one of the greatest blessings in Canada, stated Dr. Adam Shortt, C. M. G., in an instructive address to the Kiwanis Club at luncheon to-day.

The position of Canada's "Status," held the speaker, was a problem that was worrying people far too much. The Status of Canada in relation to the Motherland would work itself out from time to time as the occasion arose, and the propensity of crossing bridges before they were reached was a faulty one, giving nothing but fruitless worry in return for worry expended.

Flexibility Is Best.

Since the days of Confederation the country had weathered foreign trade tariff and imperial relation problems, mainly through having been able to argue the several questions unhampered by the interference of any written code. The constitution of the United States had succeeded through its present period of usefulness mainly by virtue of the fact that its terms were generalities, and capable of being moulded to meet the requirements of the day. Written agreements between nations became hard and unweildly five minutes after they had been signed, and were a matter of worry ever after, he said.

Of all the races of the world the Anglo-Saxon race was one which could most equitable preserve the sane balance between progressiveness and conservatism. Dr. Shortt said other nations and races had both progressive and conservative parties, but one or other predominated, leading to the unbalanced condition which found its reflection in the overthrow of governments and generally upset conditions, he stated.

The faculty of leaving the bigger things to a matter of mutual agreement, unwritten or bounded by the rigid word, was one peculiarly British, and one upon which the Empire had grown safely and well. Dr. Shortt instanced his observations with the matter of military aid. Aid was proferred by Canada to the Mother Country in the Crimean war, but not required, proferred and accepted for the South African war, when Britain paid the bill, and proferred and paid for by Canada in the late war, when the number of men sent to serve was a matter of astonishment to the heads political leadership in Great Britain.

The British North America Act defined conditions that should exist between the several provinces and the Federal Government, Dr. Shortt stated, but the B. N. A. Act had been found to be a hampering measure in many respects. National status was a matter of mutual and unwritten agreement, founded on good sense, and used only as the occasion eventuated.

The relationship could be put under two heads, legal and constitutional. The legal relationship, one of courts to courts, was a matter of record, but the constitution had not been and was better so.

In respect to this city Dr. Shortt assured his hearers that there was no cause for worry.

Do Not Meet Trouble Too Soon.

"There is no occasion for worry," he stated, "if people settle down, get to work, and pay their accounts Then get things going, and there is no reason why you should not find yourselves back to the days of pleasant prosperity, if not to the boom days of formerly. If the city of Victoria had experienced trouble in getting into the state it now is, it would not be in debt to-day. The trouble was that it was too easy Pass every bridge as you come to it but do not try to cross it in advance."

At the conclusion of his address the speaker was accorded a hearty reception.

VETERANS' CLUB BEER CHARGE HEARD

Chief of Police Tells of Finding Beer at G.A.U.V. Rooms

Charged in the City Police Court to-day on remand, with selling liquor at the G. A. U. V. rooms, Langley Street, contrary to the terms of the Government Liquor Act, Angus Caskie and Jerry Sparks were remanded for judgment on Thursday, at the termination of evidence. Frank Higgins, K.C., with R. C. Lowe, appear for the accused.

Chief Fry described the details of the evidence for the prosecution. The beer analysed at 3.80 and 3.94 weight of alcohol, or something over eight per cent. Witness saw a man come in and hand Sparks a ticket, he stated, whereupon the man was handed a bottle of beer. Others were seen receiving the same service. Later witness found tickets were being secured at the office from the accused Caskie, he affirmed. Witness stated he understood that twenty-five cents was the price paid for the ticket representing a bottle of beer. Later witness saw Caskie change places with the accused Sparks.

The defence submitted that the beer was purchased on 23 individual permits, held by individual members of the club. The beer was not being sold, but merely distributed to its owners. The 23 permits from the Government Liquor Vendor were produced and submitted in evidence. The tickets, of which Mr. Higgins, K.C., submitted one to the court, were marked "Club Service."

MASTER IN CHAMBERS AGAIN SUGGESTED

Uniformity of Practice in Chambers Would Follow, Says Local Bencher

Suggested from the bench by Mr. Justice Macdonald, of the Supreme Court, at Vancouver yesterday, the position of Master in Chambers was mooted in the chambers sitting of that court. The suggestion has been made on many occasions by the justices of the Supreme Court.

One Supreme Court judge expressed the matter in this light to The Times to-day:

"It would make for uniformity of practice in chambers. Chamber matters are not reported in detail, and one man does not know what practice is followed by the other. The appointment of a Master in Chambers would create a uniformity of practice, and is very desirable. Of course the appointment would shift the cost from the Federal to the Provincial Government, and that, I understand, is why it was opposed by Mr. Bowser when he was Attorney-General."

HARVEY DECLARED CHIEF JUSTICE OF ALBERTA

Ottawa, May 2.—(Canadian Press)—By a majority ruling the Supreme Court of Canada decided to-day that Justice Harvey is the Chief Justice of Alberta.

A party of clergymen were attending a Presbyterian conference in Scotland. Having a spare afternoon, several of them set off to explore the district.

Presently they came to a river, spanned by a temporary bridge. Not observing a notice that the structure was unsafe, they started to cross it. Thereupon the bridge-keeper ran after them in protest.

"It's all right," declared the spokesman; we're Presbyterians."

"I'm no' caring about that," was the reply, "but if ye dinna get off the bridge you'll all be Baptists!"—Tit-Bits.

HELPFUL HINTS ON SPRAYING

The manufacturers of Kero-Spray, the most effective inexpensive Spray on the market, gives the following useful hints on spraying.

Fruit trees should be thoroughly sprayed as soon as Spring weather hatches out the eggs of insects. It should be done just as the leaves break and before the bloom develops. Use Kero-Spray, applied with any good sprayer, ½ gallon makes 25 gallons of spray at a cost of $1.25. In quantities the price is $2 and special price on larger quantities.

For rose bushes, shrubs and other plants spray as soon as the leaf develops and throughout the season as the first signs of insect life appears. Kero-Spray comes in large bottles (making 5 gallons) for garden use.

Manson Desires "Safer and Better Liquor Conditions"

To get the best working of the liquor laws in British Columbia, the Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General, has called Conservative, Independent, Socialist and Labor as well as Liberal members into his confidence in connection with the changes that are to be made in the personnel and organization of the Liquor Control Board.

Mr. Manson asks particularly for the opinion of members with regard to the club situation in the Province under the present liquor administration.

Malt Liquors.

A hint is also contained in a communication which he sends to all members of the Legislature that under his control as Attorney-General he would like to see the liquor question so handled that the consumption of beer and other light liquors, if necessary, be increased at the expense of hard liquors.

To Check Bootlegging.

"I am determined to stamp out bootlegging, as far as that can possibly be done," Mr. Manson says in the statement which was made public at the Parliament Buildings to-day.

He explains that he is desirous of obtaining an amendment to the Canada Temperance Act to prohibit the importation of liquor into this country for export.

"I realize that we cannot expect the Federal authorities to give us legislation prohibiting the export trade, but if they will prohibit private importation for consumption within the Province it will very greatly assist in the administration of the act.

Club Situation Interests.

"In going thoroughly into the whole question of liquor administration I am anxious to have the assistance of members of the Legislature. I would appreciate it if you would think over the situation as it exists to-day and give me the benefit of your views.

"I suggest that you have in mind the activities of the liquor board as they have come to your attention.

"Also any tendency that you have noticed with regard to the consumption of liquor, taht is, the club situation as you see it, and whether it can be improved.

Home Liquor-Drinking Increased.

"When I speak of tendencies I would like you to deal with any tendencies towards increased consumption of liquor, particularly hard liquor in the home and of the drinking of liquor by women.

"I would also like to have your view as to whether or not our law as it stands increases the consumption of hard liquor.

Out to Give Moderation.

"Our people have asked very emphatically for moderation, and I want to give it to them in the cleanest possible manner.

"If our law needs amending so as to bring in the safer and better conditions, I want to see it amended.

"You will agree without my saying so that the matter is one of very great moment to the people of B. C. It is for these reasons I wish to have the benefit of the very best consideration you can give the matter.

"Efficiency and economy should be our two watchwords. I know that my fellow members of the Legislature will assist me in obtaining these two ends."

CITY RELIEF OFFICE CLOSED

Mayor Dismisses Staff Following Halt in Relief Measures

Following the complete halt in unemployment relief measures last Saturday, Mayor Marchant to-day informed officials who have been handling these relief measures that their services would not be required any longer. They were given the usual notice and were instructed to close up the relief offices and render a detailed account of their work.

Large numbers of unemployed men, who had been given relief work by the City up to last Saturday, are applying to Mayor Marchant for jobs. The Mayor stated to-day that he hoped that people who had work to be done would notify his offices so that the services of some of these men might be utilized.

PREMIER HUGHES ANSWERS ADMIRAL

Says Australia Leads Dominions in Naval Defence

Declares Dumaresque's Remarks Are Unfavorable

London, May 2.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Premier Hughes, of Australia said yesterday, according to a Reuter cable from Sydney, that while agreeing with many of the statements of Admiral Dumaresque criticizing Australia's naval policy, he considered the remarks unfavorable. He added that the Commonwealth of Australia spent much more on naval defence than all the other Dominions put together.

Admiral Dumaresque, on relinquishing control of the Australian fleet, delivered a farewell speech in which he said that if a levy was made on the money which Australians spent on racing and other sports there would be ample funds to make an adequate contribution to naval defence.

B. C. ELECTRIC'S FEDERAL CHARTER MOVE IS QUASHED

Martin if he had ever known the Federal Railway Board to refuse an increase.

Mr. Martin did not reply direct, and Mr. Church answered his own question by declaring, "No, you haven't. The Railway Board grants every increase asked."

Mr. Martin and L. H. Martell staged a brief debate on the propriety of amending legislation.

Mr. Martell claimed "the company asked Parliament to stultify itself and provide a bludgeon for the company to hold over the head of the Vancouver City Council."

Mr. Martin denied the company either wanted to bludgeon the people or ask Parliament to stultify itself.

A. Hayden.

Before this argument concluded, Mr. Martin's time limit was reached and Andrew Hayden, Ottawa, was called, representing the British Columbia Government, which opposed the bill.

George E. McCrossan, City Solicitor of Vancouver, said the city was not satisfied with the present six-cent fare agreement, which would expire in July. The city opposed the present bill.

Mr. Stevens asked Mr. McCrossan if he would say on behalf of the city that the Council would extend the present agreement until provincial legislation could be passed. Dr. McCrossan said Vancouver would not negotiate "while this club was over its head." The City Council demanded that the provincial rights be maintained.

Other Districts.

W. G. McQuarrie, Conservative, New Westminster, said there were a number of other representatives of other municipalities here to oppose the bill. To bring matters to a head Mr. McQuarrie moved to report the preamble of the bill "not proven."

Mr. McQuarrie read a telegram from Premier Oliver stating that his Government would provide provincial legislation to govern the matter.

T. G. McBride, Progressive, Cariboo, and L. J. Ladner, Conservative, South Vancouver, objected to interference with provincial rights.

Hon. H. H. Stevens urged letting the matter stand for a few days.

The amendment carried.

The action of the parliamentary committee in rejecting the Company's request for Federal incorporation ends a battle between the Company and the municipalities of British Columbia that has been proceeding for many months. In recent weeks representatives of Vancouver and adjoining municipalities have been in Ottawa fighting vigorously against the proposed transfer of the Company to Federal control They advanced the claim of the municipalities that this transfer would remove the operations of the Company entirely from the control of the municipalities affected. The Company, on the other hand, argued that, to attract new capital, it must be placed under the control of some permanent body like the Board of Railway Commissioners instead of being forced to negotiate separate agreements with individual municipalities.

An alternate solution of the dispute between the municipalities and the Company has appeared during the last few days in Premier Oliver's announcement that he is prepared to recommend to the Provincial Legislature the creation of a Public Utilities Commission in British Columbia to govern the operations of the electric railway and it subsidiary companies. Creation of such a tribunal, it is thought, would be satisfactory to the municipalities.

Victoria's position in the present situation is that of a passive spectator. Satisfied with its present agreement with the Company, the City Council did nothing to aid the fight against the proposed transfer of the Company to Federal control. Last night the Council decided to inform Premier Oliver that it was quite satisfied with its present street car and electric power agreement.

Japan has been advised that thus far no anti-foreign feeling prevails in China, but she is taking precautions, in common with the other powers, for the protection of her nationals.

Unsettled.

It is considered here that Sun Yat Sen, of the Southern Government, is without practical influence in the present strife, owing to differences in his Cabinet with regard to the agreement with Chang Tso Lin, so that whatever the result of the present fighting, conditions in China are likely to remain unsettled.

The Japanese troops available in case of necessity consist of a battalion of infantry at Hankow, 1,100 men distributed among Peking, Tientsin and Shanaikwan and along the Peking-Mukden railway and a battalion at Tsing Tao. # EXPRESS VIEWS ON BRITISH BUDGET

London Papers Express Feelings of Disquiet

London, May 2.—A general note of disquiet pervaded this morning's newspaper comment on the budget for the fiscal year 1922-23, which was introduced in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. The suspension of the sinking fund and the consequent prospective borrowing are treated with scarcely concealed concern and some of the commentators sharply score the Government for what they term its gambling on a potential trade revival.

Step Needed.

The Daily Chronicle, one of the Government's strongest supporters says the failure to provide for any payment of debt during the coming year would be indefensible in ordinary times. It contends, however that the present times are not ordinary and argue that such a step is needed to check the unparalleled trade depression, although grumblings in some quarters may be expected.

The Daily Telegraph admits the suspension will be widely regarded as the weakest feature of the budget but thinks that the country, having redeemed £322,000,000 of its debt in the last two years, can afford to take a rest this year. The newspaper hopes the money will be more profitably spent in fostering trade "in paying liabilities which are not urgent."

The Daily News seeks comfort in the fact that the borrowing is not to be on a very extensive scale, although this step would be very grave if it were to be interpreted as a precedent. The newspaper, while anti-Government in policy, believes the budget, in a quiet way, will be popular, notwithstanding the suspension and the borrowing, but thinks the success of the Government's schemes depends on whether there is a revival in trade.

The Morning Post fears the result will be to increase the nation's debt and can not see how the estimated revenues are to materialize. It adds: "The country is gradually bleeding to death and the Government has not made a real attempt to stop the wound. It is to be feared that the more the budget is considered the greater will be the concern for the state of the national finances."

The Westminster Gazette denounces the budget as "bad in principle and unsound practise." It especially condemns the suspension of the sinking fund and the borrowing and expects the result will be to hang around the nation's neck "a weight of debt which will handicap national development and growth in every direction."

The Times is also sharply critical, saying: "Owing to the failure of the Government to effect real economies, the remissions in the budget are less than the public had a right to expect, and such as are made will be met by fresh borrowing."

ST. LAWRENCE PLAN AGAIN DISCUSSED

Welland M.P. Gives His Estimates for Waterway

Ottawa, May 2.—The House of Commons spent a couple of hours last night discussing the St. Lawrence Deep Waterway scheme and again the debate was adjourned without a definite decision. When the St. Lawrence scheme was first laid before the House, opinion for and against was fairly evenly divided. Last night the supporters of the scheme were in the majority.

H. C. Hocker, Conservative, West Toronto, suggested the formation of an international commission with power to issue bonds.

W. M. German, Liberal, Welland, Ont., carried the suggestion a step farther. His idea was that the commission might be termed the Joint International Navigation Power Company and be given power to issue debentures, guaranteed both by Canada and the United States. He estimated the annual charges at $15,970,000, as follows: Interest, $10,-108,000; cost of maintenance, $2,-562,000; sinking fund, $3,300,000.

Electrical horsepower estimated as available under the project, at $12 per horsepower, would net $17,-578,000, or a surplus over annual charges of $1,608,000. Furthermore, he argued that the deepening of the St. Lawrence waterway would mean a saving of $60,000,000 on the building of the Welland Canal; saving of between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 a year on the Canadian National Railways, and a saving of ten cents a bushel on trans-Atlantic transportation charges on Canadian wheat.

Paul Mercier, Liberal, Westmount-St. Henry, Montreal, who moved adjournment, thought the project was a lovely dream but the country did not need the waterway.

PRAIRIE FARMERS NEED WORKERS

Men From Coast Welcomed, Says Calgary Mayor

Calgary, May 2.—With reference to a report in a Vancouver newspaper that he had protested the sending of men from the Pacific Coast to Calgary, Mayor Adams said:

REQUEST MADE FOR SOOKE FERRY

Deputation Laid Views Before Public Works Minister

(Times Correspondence)

Sooke Harbor.—A delegation which was representative of the whole Sooke Harbor district as well as Metchosin and Victoria, interviewed Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, upon the matter of a ferry between East Sooke and Saseenos. The delegation was introduced by R. H. Pooley, M.P.P. for Esquimalt, who said that this need had been now long considered and was an urgent matter for the development of this portion of his constituency.

W. Miller Higgs, hon. secretary of the Sooke Harbor Development Association, then presented the Minister with an outline of the requests which had been made to the Department of Public Works since 1913, laying before Dr. Sutherland a large map of the district which plainly showed the many miles which the settlers in East Sooke are obliged to travel with farm produce and the long distance by road they are from Sooke, whereas this proposed ferry across but a few hundred yards of water would obviate their difficulties, create greater settlement and do much towards the development of the district as a whole.

Lady Emily Walker, of the East Sooke Farmers' Institute, ably presented the position for the farming community on the East Sooke side, handing Dr. Sutherland a signed petition from the residents of East Sooke. Her statements were strongly endorsed by Alexander Gillespie, a well-known farmer upon the East Sooke side and a brother of Mr. Gillespie of the firm of Gillespie, Hart & Todd, who clearly showed what a connection between East Sooke and Saseenos would mean towards development. He was followed by Alexander Donaldson, another farmer of considerable acreage in East Sooke, who likewise urged that the ferry might be granted as it meant so much to every man who was farming on their side of the Inlet.

Traffic.

Dr. Sutherland then asked for some idea as to the amount of traffic which would be likely to go across upon the ferry.

In reply, Major George Nicholson stated that while he in no way represented the farming community, yet he could give some idea of what use would be made of a ferry service, for in connection with his hotel people were continually getting his boats every week to get to and from East Sooke. He presented to the Minister a typewritten estimate of the traffic and the value this ferry connection would be to the whole Sooke Harbor district for the transportation of pedestrians, horses and wagons, cows, sheep, farm produce, etc., as well as for the large number of automobiles which would make this circuitous drive from and to Victoria. Major Nicholson also touched upon the question of increased settlement upon the East Sooke side just so soon as there was a means for the children of families there settled being able to get the advantages of the graded school with two teachers existing in Sooke, with the advantage in the very near future of the High School course which he hoped would son be available for the children of the district.

Alfred Carmichael, of the Franco-Canadian Co., presented the case from his company's point of view.

Motorists.

R. R. Webb, secretary of the Victoria Automobile Club, made a strong appeal on behalf of motorists, stating that this short connection between East Sooke and Saseenos would mean in providing the city of Victoria with one of the most beautiful short afternoon drives to be found on Southern Vancouver Island. Such a drive meant a very great deal toward development and he sincerely hoped the Government would make this connection.

His remarks were strongly endorsed by George I. Warren, of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Richard Felton of Sooke then told the Minister how the people of East Sooke were cut off from speedy medical aid and explained how often he had traveled all the way round the Inlet via the Kangaroo Road and Metchosin to reach patients in East Sooke when he could have reached them in less than half the time had there been a connection across this narrow stretch of water which divided the inner and the outer harbors. This view Dr. Sutherland fully entered into and appreciated.

Mr. Whitney-Griffiths, of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute, urged the institution of this ferry in the interests of increased production, for which there was little encouragement in East Sooke under existing conditions. Mr. Van der Byl, secretary of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute, attended the delegation with Mr. Whitney-Griffiths to emphasize this important view of the question.

Regulations.

The delegates having ably stated their various arguments, Dr. Sutherland pointed out the Federal regulations which governed any action of the Provincial Government in the matter of this ferry service. While he could make no promises he could not fulfill, he would do his best. He would not hold out much hope for this year, but would not say definitely that the ferry would not be granted.

R. H. Pooley, M.P.P., thanked the Minister for the patient and careful hearing he had given the delegation upon every side of the question and hoped some way might be found to give this great benefit to the Sooke Harbor district. A suggestion for a privately owned and operated ferry with a Government subsidy was left with the Minister. Of that he said he had not thought, but would give it his consideration.

TWO BASKETBALL GAMES AT SOOKE

(Times Correspondence.)

Sooke Harbor—For to-morrow evening basketball games have been arranged between the Sooke teams (A team and ladies' team), and like teams of the Hudson's Bay Company, Victoria. This event is being looked forward to with a good deal of interest. After the games the teams and their friends will proceed to the Sooke Hall for a dance, the music for which will be supplied by the Hudson's Bay Orchestra, and the company will provide refreshments for the entertainment. A large crowd is expected, both from Victoria and the Sooke Harbor district.

Naval Brigade.

An excellent parade of the Sooke Subdivision of the Boys' Naval Brigade took place Saturday, when in view of the arrival of the new boat just been presented to the Subdivision, boat's crews were selected from the Port and Starboard watches under Leading Seaman C. Nicholson and T. Barbour, Leading Seaman and Signalling Instructor G. Willett took in hand a number of the smaller boys in semaphore instruction, while Lieut. S. Giles took each boat's crew out in his boat in turn for rowing instruction. So keen are the local boys in their work that no fewer than five come all the way from Otter Point, a distance of five to six miles, for these parades, and with the new boat which is expected to arrive this week, a useful season's work is looked forward to.

MEMORY OF SOOKE WAR HERO HONORED

(Times Correspondence.)

Sooke Harbor—A wreath of beautiful Spring flowers was placed at the base of the Sooke Cenotaph yesterday, the fifth anniversary of the death of one greatly respected in the Sooke district, Alec Hughes, Lance-Corporal in the 2nd Canadian Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders, whose mortal remains were laid to rest in the military cemetery at La Chaudiere, France, not far from where he fell in action. H. Alec Hughes was a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Hughes, of Hillcrest, Newton Abbotts, Devonshire, England, and his brother, the Rev. Thomas Hughes, was for some time curate of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria.

John A Murray, J. P., of Sooke, has kept as complete a list as possible of the days of the year when the men from Sooke gave their lives in the Great War and year by year he and his family have undertaken to keep the memory of the great sacrifice made by these brave men fresh in the minds of all.

Prepare Programme.

Sooke Harbor—An entertainment has been arranged to take place at the Sooke Hall on Friday, May 5, a 8 p. m., in aid of the funds of Holy Trinity church. Mrs. A. P. Rayment, Mrs. A. Reid, of Sooke, and Mrs. Ashe, of Metchosin, will put on an exceedingly amusing little sketch. The Metchosin Concert Party has again very kindly promised its assistance and all will remember the delightful entertainment they gave some little time ago. A dance will follow the entertainment at which Mrs. Vogel, of Otter Point, and Mrs. R. Campbell, of Sooke River, have kindly promised to supply the music.

FLOWER SHOW A SPRING EVENT

Many Beautiful Exhibits at Alberni; Pleasant Dance

(Times Correspondence.)

Alberni—The daffodil show held in the Clarke Hall on Friday afternoon was the first of a series of shows to be staged during the summer months under the auspices of the newly-formed Alberni District Horticultural Society, and a great success, far exceeding the expectations of the most optimistic of its members. There was a large number of entries in practically every one of the thirty-one classes, and George Fraser, of Ucluelet, who did the judging, had a hard time to decide the winners in a large number of the classes owing to the excellent exhibits. The following were the prize winners in the various classes:

Yellow trumpets, class 1—Mrs. Prescott, 1st; Mrs. Stephens, 2nd; Mrs. J. Thomson, 3rd.

Yellow trumpets, class 2 — Mrs. Hodgson, 1st; Mrs. Doyen, 2nd; Mrs. Blakemore, 3rd.

Table vase, class 1—Dr. Hilton 1st; Mrs. Hodgson 2nd.

Table vase, class 2—Miss Le Suer 1st.

Hand bouquet—Mrs. Morgan 1st; Miss Jarvis 2nd.

Mr. Swayne had a very fine display of pansies, but the show not having a class for them, no award was made. Dr. Hilton had a very fine display of daffodils, etc, which was a treat to look at. Special mention also should be made of the magnificent display from Mrs. Maitland-Dougall's garden at Ucluelet, of over forty varieties of daffodils. These were not entered in the competition, but were just on display.

To conclude the day a dance was held in the evening under the auspices of the Society and the spacious new hall was filled to overflowing with a happy throng, who voted the show and dance as one of the most successful and enjoyable events ever held in the district. The local orchestra, which supplied the music, helped in no small measure to make this event a success. The committee in charge was composed of Dr. Hilton, president; Mrs. Hodgson, vice-president; Mrs. Garrard, secretary-treasurer; and Mesdames Freeze, Dopson, Campbell and Miss Campbell, E. M. Whyte and Rev. H. A. Bain were fully congratulated on the success of their efforts.

The society plans to hold a tulip show during the present month.

ALBERNI TO HAVE BOY SCOUT TROOP

(Times Correspondence).

Alberni:—At an enthusiastic meeting in the Court House, Alberni, Mr. Ross Sutherland, the Provincial Commissioner of the Boy Scouts, addressed a large number of parents and others interested in the movement, and as a result a committee of local citizens was formed for the purpose of organizing a troop in Alberni as soon as possible. The following were appointed as the local committee, with power to add to their number: Rev. G. A. Bawshaw, chairman, and Mayor Jas. R. Motion, Ald. E. M. Whyte, Rev. H. A. Bain, C. B. Hayne, H. A. Hoard and J. B. Watson.

At the conclusion of the meeting a very hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Sutherland for his able address, and also for his assistance in the formation of the Scout movement here.

The Mayor occupied the chair and E. M. Whyte acted as secretary.

JAM FACTORY IS DUNCAN PLAN

Cowichan Co-operative Fruitgrowers to Make Decision

(Times Correspondence).

Duncan:—The directors of the Cowichan Co-operative Fruit Growers' Association met to discuss further the jam factory proposition. They decided that the time is ripe and the plan feasible. They are calling a general meeting of all fruit growers of the district to be held on Thursday evening, May 4, to go fully into the matter. The directors will recommend that the plan be accepted, and if this is done, a jam factory will be in operation at Duncan in time to handle this year's crop.

COWICHAN CRICKET TEAMS TO PLAY

(Times Correspondence).

Duncan:—The Cowichan Cricket Club will open its season on Saturday next, May 6, on the grounds which the Cowichan Cricket and Sports Club has acquired through the support and generosity of a number of good sports of the district. A match has been arranged for that date between the Captain's XI. vs. the next 15. All prospective members are asked to turn out and will be given a game.

On May 13 the Five C's, of Victoria, will play the Cowichan team at Duncan.

Ladysmith—Before one of the largest crowds that has witnessed a football match this season, the local second division team lost to the South Wellington Seniors in the play-off for the Braskman-Ker Cup by the score of 1-0. The one and only goal was scored by Beddington in the first half, shortly after the game started. Ladysmith was awarded a free kick in the second period, Pollick taking the kick, but failing to convert. The play throughout was very fast, with few fouls, although the Ladysmith lads did not show the speed they had done on former occasions. Mr. Jones, of Cumberland, refereed the game in a very able manner.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK

HEART WAS SO BAD.

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets irritable and nervous, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night.

To all women whose heart is weak and whose nerves are unstrung we would recommend

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Bezanson, Loganville, N. S., writes:—"As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me.

"My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep. I would take smothering spells, and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."

ELECTION ACT CHANGE ADOPTED

Ottawa, May 2.—The House of Commons yesterday afternoon adopted after brief discussion a resolution, introduced by Fernand Rinfret, Liberal, St. James, to amend the Dominion Election Act to provide that a person moving from one electoral district to another during the two months preceding the issuance of an election writ will not be disfranchised.

EMPIRE SETTLEMENT ACT.

Simplicity itself constitutes the chief features of the Empire Settlement Act which is now before the British House of Commons. Its prime provision empowers the Secretary of State, in association with the government of any part of His Majesty's Dominions, or with approved private organizations either in the United Kingdom or in any part of such Dominions, to formulate and co-operate in carrying out agreed schemes for affording joint assistance to suitable persons in the United Kingdom who intend to settle in any part of the Dominions.

Two methods of giving effect to the principle embodied in the bill provide that an agreed scheme under its provisions may be either a development or a land settlement scheme; or a scheme for facilitating settlement in or migration to any part of the Dominions by assistance with passages, initial allowances, special training or otherwise. Provision is also included with respect to the contributions to be made, either by way of grant or by way of loan or otherwise, by the parties to the agreed scheme towards its expenses. Permission for such an arrangement is governed by the proviso that

(a) The Secretary of State shall not agree to any scheme without the consent of the Treasury, who shall be satisfied that the contributions of the government or organization with whom the scheme is agreed towards the expenses of the scheme bear a proper relation to the contribution of the Secretary of State; and

(b) The contribution of the Secretary of State shall not in any case exceed half the expenses of the scheme; and

(c) The liability of the Secretary of State to make contributions under the scheme shall not extend beyond a period of fifteen years after the passing of this Act.

The final and last provision of the measure sets out that the aggregate amount expended by the Secretary of State under any scheme or schemes under the Act shall not exceed £1,500,000 during the current financial year, or £3,000,000 in any subsequent financial year.

From the foregoing details it will be gathered that every opportunity is presented to the various Dominion Governments to co-operate with the authorities in the Motherland. The bill contains all the essentials for successful emigration. But our Government at Ottawa must satisfy itself that Canadian immigration regulations do not conflict with subsequent development of any phase of the act. The term "suitable persons" must lend itself to more than one interpretation.

THE POOR T. B. AGAIN.

Novel and varied ways in which the poor T.B. is almost hounded from pillar to post are revealed from time to time. And he may continue to expect partial ostracism until an awakening sense of public responsibility shall come to his aid. We are reminded of the difficulties which bar his path to a measure of care that will give him some hope of recovery from the dreaded malady by a communication which has been sent to the City Council of Kamloops by a number of residents and householders who have discovered a sanatorium right in their very midst and quite naturally object to its proximity to their back doors. In their petition for its closure as a curative establishment they take pains to point out that it "is a menace to the public health and a nuisance to people living in the vicinity of such a place." Members of the Council reminded the petitioners that the establishment in question is visited by all the medical men of the city and each patient properly looked after.

In other words the T. B. who patronizes the private institution that is obviously uncomfortably near to the centre of a populous community must get out and realize that not even his training as a consumptive, his rules for self-care and a well learned lesson to apply in protecting those with whom he may come in contact, can be allowed to work in his favor. It is not necessary to point out, of course, that a private sanatorium for the treatment of T. B. should not be permitted to operate in a residential quarter of any Canadian City. In advocating better provision we should support those who have appealed to the Kamloops City Council for protection. We merely cite the incident as one more proof of the woeful inadequacy of the provision for the reception and care of tuberculous cases in this Province and the almost clandestine procedure that has to be resorted to because the State does not seem to give a hang for the T. B.

BUILDING IN VICTORIA.

Although Victoria may not be at the peak of a building boom it is comforting to learn that activity in this direction is greater at the present time than it has been for several years. It is all the more interesting because of the fact that the permits issued last month show a large increase in the number of dwellings as compared with the corresponding month of last year. From the numerical standpoint the number of permits is less than for the same period of 1920; but the higher figure at that stage can be traced to the fact that the programme was less concerned with houses than with garages. On that basis of reckoning recent activity presents a more encouraging prospect

THE FARM "PUPIL."

It is well that Agent-General Wade has nipped the farm pupil game in the bud before too many tenderfeet were lured from their native surroundings to become "pupils" of certain British Columbia farmers upon payment of a premium. This Province's representative in London took occasion to make inquiries in respect of two advertisers recently and discovered that they were merely after cheap labor and ready to collect as large a fee as possible in return for negligible "tuition."

One would have thought that the days of exploiting the greenhorn had long passed and that Ontario's thirty-year-old lesson had been well learned. No farmer with a healthy conception of his honored and important calling would stoop to the tactics which automatically link him up with the emigration shark on the other side of the Atlantic. The Dominion and Provincial Governments may be relied upon to give the show away for the unscrupulous ones. In the meantime Agent-General Wade is taking the right course to keep British Columbia's slate clean.

MENNONITES IN MEXICO.

Recent reports had it that the Mennonites who left Manitoba for Mexico are thoroughly dissatisfied with their lot in the Southern Republic and desire to return to Canada. Almost immediately afterwards the whole narrative was contradicted and described as manufactured propaganda against these people. It now appears that there is a good deal of trouble among those who have settled in Mexico, so much so that a special investigating body has left the Prairie Province with the object of discovering just what can be done for the complainants. While all this may be very interesting from this range it suggests the possibility that if conditions are not as favorable as the Mennontes demand they will commence a trek Northwards to their old homes. This phase of the question emphasizes once more the fact that many a British subject who has "broken his journey" on his way West from the Motherland by a sojourn in the United States has been barred admission to Canada. Surely our immigration regulations, with their discretionary authority, will not permit the return of members of a sect which is all for extracting every privilege of citizenship without regard for the acceptance of companion obligations.

NOTE AND COMMENT

By the time the Conservative Convention takes place in June the Leader of the Opposition will have marshalled his forces in sufficient volume to enable him to carry the day. The recalcitrants must feel somewhat ashamed of themselves when they read of the manner in which the majority refuses to cast the veteran leader of the Party on one side.

Sir Charles Ryall, medical officer in charge of the London cancer hospital, says that there is hope of discovering a remedy for cancer by reason of the fact that the disease has been produced experimentally on animals. But it is important to know that he describes the report of alleged Continental "cures" as "grossly untrue." The world will soon know when the real cure has been found.

It is now suggested that Premier Poincare may go to Genoa for the closing sessions of the Conference. This would be a good move on his part and it might take place at the moment when all the loose threads of the deliberations are ready for gathering up into proper order. It would disappoint many of the disturbers who would prefer to see the Entente destroyed and Great Britain and France nagging at one another. It is a pity that it was not possible for him to be there at the outset. He has not assisted the gathering by his long range attention. But much can be repaired in a few hours.

MR. STANELAND'S PLEDGE.

To the Editor:—The position of Commissioner Staneland seems to be getting confused in the matter of his action should be plebiscite result in a vote in favor of the Lord's Day Act not being enforced.

According to the press reports of the retailers' meeting on Friday last, one would be lead to believe that Mr. Staneland would feel obliged to attempt to enforce the Act, even if the vote was against such action.

I cannot help thinking that the gentleman must have been misquoted, for at the mass meeting held Tuesday, April 18, Mr. Staneland pledged himself in the most emphatic way that he would act in accordance with the wishes of the people as they may be expressed at the plebiscite. As chairman of the mass meeting, I had to exercise the authority of the chair to get Mr. Staneland an attentive hearing, and when he made the promise to abide by the wish of the people, someone asked for guarantees, and, as chairman, I announced that no guarantees were required, as a public man making such an emphatic promise in a public meeting, would carry out his promise.

I can quite understand that Mr. Staneland may find himself in a position where he believes that he cannot keep his oath of office and his word of honor, and if such contingency should arise his only course as a man of honor, would be to resign his police commissionership and keep his promise to the people. In the promise he made to the mass meeting he nailed his colors to the mast, and I for one, believe he will keep them there.

C. T. CROSS,
Chairman of Mass Meeting.
Victoria, B. C., May 1, 1922.

WHY A PLEBISCITE WITHOUT A RESIGNATION?

To the Editor.—The Lord's Day Act, a Federal law, was sought to cover certain conditions. Mothered by the church, it sought to cover almost everything, including the farmers, exempting themselves as a matter of course. The farm interests are of such interest to the country, as it is essential to get seed in the ground and get the crops out, irrespective of the Lord's Day, holiday or any other day.

After passing the Act, covering all and sundry conditions except those who were not apathetic and were equally zealous as its devotees, 'the buck" was passed up to the provinces, they in turn passing it up to the municipalities, and rightly, as it localizes, and allow the people of a municipality to carry out its dictates only in so far as conditions justify, it being elastic, as well as being controlled by the Attorney-General, as a veto on minority rule. (By way of parenthesis, it would be a good thing if many more city measures were subject to like conditions.)

We appoint by majority certain individuals to carry out our wishes under time contract, with emoluments, either monetary, honorary or both. Basically, they occupy the position of our employees, amenable to the wishes of the majority at times very emphatically expressed upon the platform.

The Lord's Day Act, being elastic, has in the near past been carried out to the satisfaction of the great majority of the people as evidenced by the support of our labor, retail, wholesale and property owners' organizations, representing over four-fifths of our people, while present conditions seem to have emanated (I was about to say fanatically) from the vestry by a few individuals, whose environment is cramped in the extreme.

If any of our Police Commissioners are employers, I wonder what he would do if any employee followed out his own wishes, disregarding the orders, expressed or implied, of such employer; peremptory discharge him, not subject to a plebiscite of other employees?

It has been reported that one of our Commissioners has stated that in the event of a plebiscite being held and the majority being adverse to present conditions, he would still adhere to his present stand in the matter. If such information is correct, then with his well-known probity, integrity and business intelligence, he cannot do otherwise, honorably, than resign and have such a dictatorial stand affirmed by the electorate.

LADY RHONDDA WINS SUIT FOR RESTORATION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

London, May 2.—Viscountess Rhondda's undefended petition for the restoration of conjugal rights against her husband, Sir Humphrey Mackworth, was granted yesterday. Such a petition is a usual preliminary to divorce action.

Viscountess Rhondda, daughter of the late Viscount Rhondda, is one of England's most noted business women, and since her father's death she has sometimes been referred to as "the coal queen of Great Britain." Early in March she was granted a petition to sit in the House of Lords, being the first woman to achieve this distinction.

BANQUET OF THE MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS OF C.G.I.T.

The annual Mother's and Daughter's Banquet of the C. G. I. T. Groups of Wesley Methodist Church was held last Friday evening. About one hundred and twenty-five sat down to a daintily prepared supper. The tables were very pretty in their floral decorations arranged in the colors of the different Groups. Miss Ethel Anderson was chairman of the programme. Mrs. Daniels gave an address of welcome. Reports of their year's work were presented by the Three Groups, viz.: Daughters of the King, Chums, and Joy. Mrs. Jost and Mr. Hunken acted as judges and awarded first place to Group "B," the "Chums."

A toast list was proposed by girls of the Groups and responded to by guests, as follows: To King and Canada, Miss E. Anderson; "Our Guests," Edna Raynor, Mr. Foxwell; "The Church," Joyce Rees, Rev. J. F. Dimmick; "Our Mothers," Mary Clark, Mrs. Raynor; "The Sunday School," Irmgarde Gillam, Mr. A. J. Daniels; "Our C. G. I. T. Programme," Madge Daniels, Miss DeWolfe.

Solos were contributed by Mrs. Lewtas, Mr. Geo. Guy and Miss N. Jones, all of whom responded to encores; a jolly sing song was conducted by Miss DeWolfe and an address was impressively given by Mrs. Bishop, president of Y. W. C. A. photograph work.

Mr. Daniels, on behalf of the Sunday School, presented Mrs. Guy with a nicely framed photo of the graduating Groups of last year and a certificate of honor from the Dominion Executive which was won by her Group.

A striking feature of the occasion was the very capable manner in which all the girls delivered their addresses.

The evening closed with the singing "O Canada."

SCHOLARSHIP PLAN FOR ORPHANAGE WAS ENDORSED

The proposal of the foundation of a scholarship for girls leaving the Orphanage was made by the Native Daughters of Canada, Post No. 3 to the ladies' committee of the Protestant Orphanage at the meeting of that body yesterday afternoon and endorsed with sincere appreciation. Mrs. Brentzen, Chief Factor of the Post, presented the offer and at the same time handed to the committee two copper plates suitably engraved to be attached to the two spinning wheels recently given to the institution.

The committee discussed plans in connection with the tag day on June 17. The resignation of Mrs. George McGregor was received with regret.

The following donations were very gratefully acknowledged: Mrs. George Stewart, Keating, clothes; Cloverdale, 100-lb. sack sugar; L. A. of the Reformed Church, cake and candy; B. C. Poultrymen's Co-operative, case of eggs; Mrs. Payne, toys and books; Mrs. J. A. Rithet, toys; First Presbyterian Sunday School class, Alive wires, cakes; Mrs. G. McTavish, 5 dozen buns; Mrs. Higgins, 5 dozen buns; Mrs. Lang, 6 dozen buns; Hudson's Bay Co., 4 dozen buns; Mrs. Watkins, dripping; Native Sons of B. C., Post No. 1, cake and sandwiches; Y. ## DANCE TO TERMINATE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Victoria Ladies' Basketball League is anticipating an enjoyable time when members culminate their successful season with a delightful dance, which is to be held in the Elks Hall to-morrow night, commencing at 9 o'clock. The presentation of the league cup is to take place at this function, which is sure to be a popular one.

Hunt's orchestra has arranged an excellent programme of dance music, while a buffet supper will be served during the evening. Miss De Wolfe, who is president of the league and who was largely responsible for its success, will present the cup to the winner of the league, the Victoria High School team, which won the trophy without losing one game.

This is the first year that the league has been in existence, being formed early in the season as the first City Ladies' Basketball League. The young ladies are so elated with the first success that they intend to enlarge the league next year, with addition of some new teams. It was through the combined efforts of the players that they bought the silver cup, which trophy is put up for competition each year. A committee is in charge of the affair and an enjoyable time is assured all who attend.

The owner of a car of doubtful vintage concluded that it needed overhauling.

After the garage assistant had walked around it several times, he remarked, "That's a good horn you have. Let's jack it up and run a new car under it."—Tit-Bits.

BUDGET BEFORE BRITISH COMMONS

London, May 2.—Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon the budget for the fiscal year 1922-23, embodying estimates of £910,775,000 revenue, and £910,069,000 expenditures. The expenditures include £25,000,000 for contingencies.

Reductions in taxation, for which there had been strong agitation, came as expected. One shilling in the pound is taken off the income tax, four pence off the duty on tea, which reduces this duty from 1 shilling 8 pence on the pound, and a corresponding reduction of one-third off the duties on coffee, cocoa and chicory.

The reduction in the income tax is a concession to the upper and middle strata of the community, while the other reductions are particularly for the large section of the population whose incomes are below the income tax paying level.

The important surprise which the Chancellor gave the House was the announcement of a temporary change of policy regarding the payment of debts.

After showing that the external debt, now standing at nearly £11,000,000,000, had been reduced by £274,000,000 since March, 1919, he gave it as his opinion that the turning point had come, and the taxpayer should not be asked to redeem any debt this year.

A GRAZING CASE.

(Times Correspondence).

Duncan, May 2.—On Friday morning before Magistrate Davie two charges were laid by City Constable Merry against J. Mottishaw. The first was for permitting cattle to graze on Whistler Street, and was dismissed.

The second charge under the Public Morals Act was for using "blasphemous and grossly insulting language" to the city constable. On this charge Mr. Mottishaw was fined $25 and costs.

Mr. Mottishaw through his lawyer, Mr. Jacobs, offered to apologize if the case were withdrawn. The city constable, Merry, regretted that he could not accede.

It is against the city by-laws to allow cattle to graze, even when tethered, upon the streets, and the defendant used the language for which he was charged when the constable cautioned him about doing this.

W. P. Thompson, of Quamichan Lake, who has been in the Duncan Hospital for some weeks suffering from pneumonia is improving and expects to be out in two weeks.

TRIUMPHAL HOME-COMING FOR GREAT CANADIAN SOPRANO

Eager Throng Greets Mme. Lugrin-Fahey on Her Return to Victoria

Gifted Singer Prepares for Public Re-appearance on Friday

Mme. Winnifred Lugrin-Fahey, Canada's leading soprano, arrived home yesterday to find that Victorians are just as enthusiastic about their most talented singer to-day as they were when she left here to charm music lovers all over eastern Canada. Strikingly indicative of the esteem in which Mme. Lugrin-Fahey is held in this, her native city, was the warm welcome accorded her as she landed here yesterday afternoon by a large number of her friends who crowded the C.P.R. wharf to greet her. It was a triumphal home-coming for the gifted artiste and showed how eagerly her re-appearance in public on Friday, after an absence of two years, is awaited.

Mme. Lugrin-Fahey drove immediately to her family home in Esquimalt, where she will prepare during the next few days for her recital in the Royal Victoria Theatre Friday. During the next few weeks she will fulfill a number of engagements in Coast cities in British Columbia and the United States and later will spend a vacation in Victoria.

Delighted to be Home.

"I am more delighted than I can say to be back in Victoria, which will always be home to me," Mme. Lugrin-Fahey said at the Lugrin home last night. "More particularly I am happy to be here in the full glory of the Spring season, which far surpasses the East even at its best. It is a great joy, when, returning after so long an absence to find that one has not been forgotten. The welcome and innumerable kindnesses I have received in the East have been most gratifying, and have proved a great inspiration to me, but after all the West—Victoria—is home.

"There is a widespread love of music in the East," Mrs. Lugrin-Fahey observed. "It seemed as one appearance in a city would make it necessary to return there again for another engagement and this has made me very happy. But I find an inspiration out here that does not exist anywhere else. I feel I have something to give when I sing here. It was, of course, a great hardship to leave my family in the East, but they could not leave Toronto now in the middle of the school term."

Mme. Lugrin-Fahey said she was delighted that Mrs. A. J. Gibson was to act as her accompanist at her recital on Friday. "I cannot say how pleased I am that Mrs. Gibson is to accompany me," she remarked. "I have had many splendid accompanists in many different places, but none who surpassed Mrs. Gibson. Victoria is indeed fortunate in having her here."

Brings New Songs.

The programme of Friday's recital, she said, would consist of songs which she had never sung here before. In addition there will be several numbers for which requests have been made by admirers of Mme. Lugrin-Fahey's voice. It will be impossible, however, to include all the songs for which requests have been made.

How the brilliant Victorian took eastern musical audiences by storm is indicated by this criticism, which was written by E. R. Parkhurst, Musical Editor of The Toronto Globe, who heard Mme. Lugrin-Fahey in Hamilton a few weeks ago:

The offering was a concert selection from Verdi's great opera, "Aida," in which the following talent took part: Soloists, Mme. Lugrin-Fahey, soprano; Mildred Bryars, contralto; Paul Costello, tenor, and Louis Kreidler, bass; the Elgar Chorus, 160 voices, and the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, 75 players.

Mme. Lugrin-Fahey's Triumph.

Mme. Lugrin-Fahey, the Aida, represented the triumph she recently made at Toronto in the part. The carrying power of her voice was needed to-night in the big ensemble climaxes, the orchestra being so much stronger than at the Toronto production. The beautiful soprano solo, "Ritorna Vincitor," was omitted in order to shorten the concert, but Mme. Lugrin-Fahey found a compensating medium for her expressive gifts in the lovely romanza in the third act, "Oh Patrio Mio," as also in the highly romantic duet with Amonasro.

REVIEW USEFUL WORK OF CENTRE

Cowichan Electoral District Organization Carrying Out Valuable Ideas

(Times Correspondence)

Duncan, May 3.—The annual meeting of the Cowichan Electoral District Health Centre was held on Friday afternoon in the Cowichan Women's Institute with the president, Mrs. Moss, O. B. E., in the chair. Officers chosen at that meeting and the executive meeting that followed were Mrs. Moss, president; the Rev. E. M. Coolie, of Chemainus, vice-president, Mrs. Whidden, secretary; Mrs. Pitt, treasurer; all unanimously re-elected and to the executive. In addition were Miss E. A. Clarke, of Shawnigan Women's Institute to represent Shawnigan District; Mrs. Steen, of Cobble Hill Women's Institute, to represent Cobble Hill; Mrs. Owen, of South Cowichan, Red Cross, to represent South Cowichan; Mrs. Brettingham, North Cowichan Red Cross; Mrs. F. S. Leather, of the I. O. D. E., to represent North Cowichan; a member appointed by the Consolidated School Board.

In addition to these members elected to the executive there were present Miss Wilson, of the Hospital Board and King's Daughters; Mrs. Hodding, from the Cowichan Children's Aid; Miss Cheeke, from the I. O. D. E., of Cobble Hill, and a few others on the general committee.

The general committee consists of representatives from every society giving financial aid to the Health Centre and meets quarterly. The executive committee of nine or under meets monthly.

The annual report prepared by the president and secretary was read by Mrs. Whidden, and shows a steady growth in the work. It tells in part that Miss Eldora Bray was appointed second nurse in November. A few weeks ago the head nurse, Miss Hardy was transferred to Kelona to organize health nursing there, and Miss Edith E. Farrar, who has a wide training in the United States, Canada and Costa Rica in public health and various other phases of nursing, has come to take charge in Cowichan.

Miss Hardy's report of eleven months speaks of the gradual education of the public as to the duties of the Public Health nurse. During her eleven months pre natal visits had been paid to 33 expectant mothers, 363 visits to give advice had been made, 110 babies had been examined at the baby clinic established in Duncan in rooms kindly lent by the Cowichan Women's Institute.

Use of Clinics.

At these clinics mothers receive expert advice by both doctor and nurse on the care and feeding of infants, and records are kept for the sake of the child's history. Doctors Popert, Primrose, Wells and Swan were thanked for generously giving their time and advice free at these clinics.

Health talks have been given by the nurses at the various women's organizations, and also by the president, Mrs. Moss on child welfare, Dr. H. E. Young, of the provincial department, has delivered a most inspiring address on the value of prevention.

When it is understood that the public health nurses inspect nearly all the schools in the district once a month. It will be more easily realized that the health of the community is bound to improve.

By the inspection of defects found and reported epidemics may be checked.

The "follow up" work, i. e., the visits which the nurse pays to the parents to try to get them to understand their school child is the most valuable part of the work. seven hundred children are on the nurses' books at present, including children under the Consolidated Board (Duncan, Chemainus, Crofton, Genoa Bay, Westholme) and Cowichan Lake, Cowichan Station, Glenora, Cobble Hill and Shawnigan Lake. The health centre charges $1 per pupil per annum for ten monthly inspections.

It is to be hoped that the remaining schools of the district, both public and private, will avail themselves of the advantages of inspection at an early date.

Little Mother's Leagues.

Little Mother's Leagues have been started at Duncan, Cowichan Station and Cobble Hill in connection with the Girl Guides. The Health Centre have provided a life sized baby doll for demonstration purposes.

Talks on health matters are given in all the schools and health literature distributed.

A. J. Thomas, D. D. S., of Victoria, on behalf of the Provincial Department of Health, has made a survey of the dental condition of pupils attending the rural schools of the district, and a similar survey will be made in Duncan during the present week. When finished dental clinics under the Health Centre will be established at Duncan and outlying points.

The report then went on to deal with Indians as they affect public health.

Indian Health.

For months past the committee have exercised their minds with regard to Indian locations. Efforts have been made through W. E. Ditchburn, Chief Inspector of Indian Agencies, to secure a public health nurse to work exclusively among the Indians of Cowichan. C. H. Dickie, M. P., has promised to take up the matter at Ottawa.

Co-operation with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is an accomplished fact. Co-operation is also encouraged with the B. C. University nursing service, and five of their nurses have taken a course of field training in rural work under the direction of Miss Hardy and Miss Farrer. The car of the Health Centre has travelled 4,266 miles in eleven months.

Nursing fees and donation from patients have helped out the financial balance sheet which showed a small balance in hand, and is very satisfactory to the committee.

Districts visited during the year have been: Duncan, Chemainus, Crofton, Cowichan Lake, Shawnigan Lake, Cobble Hill, Genoa Bay, Cowichan Station, Glenora, Westholme, Somenos, Tzouhalem and Maple Bay.

The organization in Cowichan of Health Centre work is now clearly defined and straight sailing.

ADVANCE GOOD ROADS MEETING FOR ONE DAY

Good Roads' Association Gathering Now Set June 12 to 15

The date of the ninth annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association has been advanced one day in order to make it concurrent with the Provincial meeting of the Western members of the Engineering Institute of Canada. The good roads convention will now be held at the Empress Hotel, here, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 12, 13, 14 and 15, while the meeting of the Engineers will be held at the Vancouver Hotel, Vancouver, on June 16 and 17. The members of the Engineering Institute will attend the Good Roads Convention here and the delegates to the latter will, at the conclusion of their labors, return to Vancouver and assist at the Engineering meeting, it being realized that the two organizations have much in common, and can be of much assistance to each other.

A Double Value.

The holding of the Good Roads convention in Victoria this year will serve a double purpose—it will demonstrate the national character of the Association, which has now held conventions from the Atlantic Coast to the Pacific, and it will give a splendid opportunity to the people of the Eastern Provinces and of the Middle West to see the innumerable beauties of the far Western Province under the most favorable conditions. Apart from the scenic attractions of Vancouver and its surroundings, there is nothing more delightful than the steamer trip from there to the capital of the Province on Vancouver Island, dotted as it is with emerald islands lapped by an azure sea.

Special Rail Rates.

The special Summer tourist fares will be in effect so that the railway fares will be much less than the ordinary rates. The return fare from Halifax will be $170.75, Charlottetown, P.E.I., $169.55; St. John, N.B., $163.25; Quebec City, $142.45; Montreal, $132.30; Ottawa, $126.55; Toronto, $109.55; with pro rata rates through the Prairie Provinces to the Coast. These fares will be on either the Canadian National Railway or the Canadian Pacific Railway, while those delegates wishing to return via San Francisco can do so at an approximately additional cost of $20, or via Prince Rupert for an additional $13. These are big reductions and many of the delegates have already announced their intention of taking their wives with them so as to take advantage of the opportunity offered of seeing the Rockies and the Golden West.

Large Attendance Promised.

The Canadian Good Roads Association officials have already been assured that every Province in the Dominion will send official delegates to the Convention, while many of the Municipalities that have participated in past conventions, and realized the great value of the papers and discussions that take place at them on highway problems, are sending their officials to Victoria, feeling that the expense incurred will be more than offset by the savings they can later effect in road construction and maintenance through the knowledge gained at the convention.

An Extra Day.

The President of the Association, the Hon. S. J. Latta, Minister of Education in the Saskatchewan Government, will preside at most of the sessions, and so important are the subjects chosen for discussion that the Executive have for the first time extended the convention from three to four days. Every kind of roadway will come under review and the best means of constructing them explained by men who are at the head of their profession in the chief cities of Canada and the United States, while the pressing problems of maintenance, rendered so urgent because of the rapid growth of the automobile and the commercial trucks, will have special attention paid to it. The convention is being held in co-operation with the Good Roads League of British Columbia, and other Western organizations of a similar character, and in conjunction with it there will be special conferences of highway officials, Municipal officers and local and Provincial Good Roads Associations, for the interchange of knowledge and ideas, with a view to securing uniformity of action as far as possible.

Delegates from the Maritime Provinces will travel by special Pullman to Montreal and there join up with another reserved car, while Ontario delegates will make similar arrangements, the different parties joining up en route and making practically a Good Roads special by the time it reaches Vancouver.

ALICE ADAMS

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON

INSTALLMENT NO. 3

Alice went outdoors and began to search out the violets. She found twenty-two, a bright omen, since the number was that of her years—but not enough violets. There were no more.

She glanced at the lawn next door, which offered no favorable prospect; then went into the house. Presently she came out again, went to a trolley line and took a car to the outskirts of the city where a new park had been opened.

When she got home in a drizzle of rain at five o'clock she was tired all over, but she had three hundred violets. Her mother moaned when Alice showed them to her.

"Oh you poor child! To think of your having to work so hard to get things that other girls only need lift their little fingers for!"

"Never mind," said Alice, huskily. "I've got 'em and I going to have a good time to-night!"

"You've just got to!" Mrs. Adams agreed intensely sympathetic. "I may have to get dinner before I finish the dress, but I can get it done in a few minutes afterward, and it's going to look right pretty. Don't you worry about that! And with all these lovely violets"——

At dinner Mrs. Adams began laughing cheerfully. "I wonder how much longer it took me to cook this dinner that it does Walter to eat it?" she said. "Don't gobble, child! There's no hurry."

"Is for me," he said. "Got date."

"I know you have, but there's plenty of time."

He smiled in benevolent pity. "You know, do you? If you made any coffee—don't bother if you didn't. Get some downtown."

Mrs. Adams laughed again. "Why, what nonsense, Walter, I'll bring your coffee in a few minutes; we're going to have some lovely peaches."

"Doe' want 'ny canned peaches," said the frank Walter. "G'-night."

"Walter, it doesn't begin till about 9 o'clock at the earliest."

He paused, mystified. "What doesn't?"

"The dance."

"What dance?"

"Why, Mildred Palmer's dance, of course."

"I told you a week ago I wasn't going to that ole dance," he returned, frowning.

"Walter," she exclaimed. "Of course you're going. I got your clothes all out this afternoon and brushed them for you. They'll look very nice and"——

"See here," Walter said decisively. "Don't get any wrong ideas in your head. 'I'm just as liable to go up to that ole dance at the Palmers' as I am to eat a couple of barrels of broken glass."

His mother replied with some asperity: "It seems very strange that you always object to going anywhere among our friends, Walter."

"Your friends," he said, rising from his chair. "Your friends," he repeated, going to the door. "Oh, yes. Certainly. Good night!"

And looking back over his shoulder to offer a final brief view of his derisive face, he took himself out of the room.

Mrs. Adams hurried after the truant, catching him at the front door with his hat and raincoat on.

Walter"——

"Told you had a date downtown," he said gruffly. She caught his arm and detained him.

"Walter, you must listen, Walter, please," she entreated. "Please don't make me so much trouble!"

"Look here," he said. "I get you, all right. What's the matter of Alice going to that party by herself?"

"She just can't."

"Why not?"

"It makes things too mean for her, Walter. All the other girls have somebody to depend on after they get there."

"Well, why hasn't somebody asked her to go? She ought to be that popular, anyhow, I sh'd think—she tries enough!"

"I don't understand how you can be so hard," his mother wailed, huskily. "You know why they don't run after her the way they do the other girls she goes with, Walter. 'It's because we're poor, and she hasn't got any background."

"'Background?'" Walter repeated. "'Background?' What kind of talk is that?"

"You will go with her to-night, Walter" his mother pleaded. "You don't understand how hard things are for her and how brave she is about them, or you couldn't be so selfish! She went clear out to Belleview Park this afternoon, Walter, and spent hours and hours picking violets to wear. You will!" ——

Walter's heart was not iron, and the episode of the violets may have reached it. "Oh, blub!" he said, and flung his soft hat violently at the wall.

His mother beamed with delight. "That's a good boy, darling! You'll never be sorry you" ——

"Cut it out," he requested. "If I take her, will you pay for a taxi?"

"Oh, Walter!" And again Mrs. Adams showed distress. "Couldn't you?"

"No, I couldn't, I'm not going to throw away my good money like that. What's the matter you payin' for one?"

"I haven't any money."

"Well father" ——

She shook her head dolefully. "I got some from him this morning, and I can't bother him for any more; it upsets him. He's always been so terribly close with money" ——

"I guess he couldn't help that," Walter observed. "We're liable to go to the poorhouse the way it is. Well, what's the matter our walkin' to this rotten party?"

"In the rain, Walter?"

"Well, it's only a drizzle and we can take a street car to within a block of the house."

Again his mother shook her head. "It wouldn't do."

"Well, darn the luck, all right!" he consented, explosively. "I'll get her something to ride in. It means 75 cents."

"Why, Walter!" Mrs. Adams cried, much pleased. "Do you know how to get a cab for that little? How splendid!"

"Tain't a cab," Walter informed her crossly. "It's a tin Lizzie, but you don't haf to tell her what it is till I get her into it, do you?"

Mrs. Adams agreed that she d'dn't.

A little before 9 o'clock Alice stood in front of her long mirror, completed, bright-eyed and solemn. Her hair, exquisitely arranged, gave all she asked of it; what artificialities in color she had used upon her face were only bits of emphasis that made her prettiness the more distinct; and the dress was a white cloud of loveliness. Finally there were two triumphant bouquets of violets; one she wore at her waist and the other she carried in her hand.

Miss Perry insisted that Alice was a vision. Adams, when Alice paid a brief visit to his room to bid him goodnight, chuckled feebly. "Well, well, well! You look mighty fine—mighty fine! Have a good time. Have a good time, dearie."

"I mean to!" she cried. "I mean to!"

"You'll just be a queen to-night," her mother whispered as he held Alice's wrap. "You mustn't doubt yourself."

"Well, there's one thing," said Alice, "I think I do look nice enough to get along without having to dance with that Frank Dowling! What's that, mama?"

"It's—it's your father's raincoat, I thought you'd 'put it on over"——

"But I won't need it in a taxicab."

"You will to get in and out—it's drizzling."

"Oh, well," Alice consented; and, as she climbed into the vehicle Walter had provided, she better understood her mother's solicitude.

"What on earth is this, Walter?" she asked.

"Haven't you got eyes?"

"It's too dark."

"It's a second-hand tin Lizzie," said Walter. "A flivver. The feller owes me some money and this is the only way I'd ever get it off him."

"Is he a garage-keeper?"

"Not exactly! It belongs to old J. A. Lamb himself. He keeps it for their coon chauffeur. I rent it from him."

"Walter!" she gasped.

"Sure I do! Oh, the car's clean enough," he said. "This coon, he's as particular as any white man; you needn't get so upset about it."

"I don't understand," she said in a low voice, "I don't understand how you know such people."

"Such people as who?"

"As—colored chauffeurs."

"The trouble with you," he retorted, "you don't know there's anybody in town except just this silk-shirt crowd. They make me sick.

Alice clutched Walter's arm in a panic; they were just at the driveway entrance. "Walter, we mustn't go in there."

"What's the matter?"

"Leave this awful car outside."

"I don't care where we leave it," he said. "Sit still till I lock her." That done, he offered Alice his hand.

"Wait," she said, and, divesting herself of the raincoat, handed it to Walter. "Please leave this with your things in the men's dressing room, Walter."

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

THE BRAVE PRINCE.

There once lived a King who had two sons. They were twins, but though they were born on the same day Prince Harmon was big and strong, while his brother Prince Seglar was small and a weakling.

The question was, which was to become King after their father was gone. For while Prince Seglar was a few minutes older than his brother he was not so well fitted as his big strong brother, Prince Harmon.

Besides that, all the Princesses were in love with the handsome Harmon and no one wanted the sickly Seglar for her husband.

At last the King to decide this question went to the Witch of the Mountains, who lived in a cave not many miles away from the Palace, and asked her how he could choose his successor.

"To the bravest son you should give your crown," said the Mountain Witch.

"Oh, then it is settled how," said the King, "for of course big, strong and handsome Harmon is the braver son, little Seglar would never be brave in danger."

"Not so fast, your Majesty," said the Witch. "That you must prove, for you have said you wish to decide in a fair manner and this you cannot do until you prove which is the braver."

"But how shall I find out?" asked the King. "There is no battle for them to go into, no dangers to face."

"Leave that to me if you wish to know the truth about your sons," said the Witch. "By midnight tonight you shall learn the truth and decide which son shall become King after you.

With this promise the King had to be content, for though he was King he dared not command a witch with magic power to do more than she offered to do. And so with his train of servants the King returned to his Palace wondering in what strange manner the old Witch would show him upon which head he should place the crown.

That night when the Palace was still and all were asleep, through the clouds came the old Witch on her magic broomstick. Flying down into the garden of the Palace she placed the broomstick under an overhanging rock by the river which ran through the garden.

Then taking her black cat she began a wild dance around the Palace scattering a magic power as she went.

In a few minutes the Palace seemed to be in flames and out rushed the frightened servants and with them Prince Harmon and Prince Seglar.

"The King, the King," cried someone. "Who will save the King."

All the servants ran toward the river to escape the flames and Prince Harmon, though big and strong, ran with them. But his brother, Prince Seglar, wrapping his cloak about his head dashed through the fire and into the Palace to save his father.

When the King, led by Prince Seglar, came out of the Palace the fire bing his eyes and wondering where had disappeared and as he stood rubeveryone had gone, the old Witch hobbled up to him.

"Your Majesty," she said, "the big and strong are not always brave. Prince Harmon ran to a place of safety with your servants and left you in danger, but your weakling son was brave enough to risk his life to rescue his father. Which shall be King?"

Before he could answer her the Witch was sailing away on her broomstick far above his head, but the King heard her cackling laugh and heard her call out, "The strongest are not always the bravest; long live brave Prince Seglar."

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

MOTORISTS CAUGHT LIKE FLIES IN TRAP

Parking Regulations a Mystery, R. Dunn Tells Police

Iron policemen are to be placed along curbs where motorists are not supposed to park, Chief Fry announced when Robert Dunn, junior, on behalf of motorists took up at police headquarters the question of parking rules in the downtown parts of the city.

Mr. Dunn urged that the police take steps to inform motorists which are prohibited parking areas and which are not. Under the present system, he pointed out, no one knows which is a non-parking area until he is brought up in court and fined. He explained that there are no markings on the street to indicate where motors must not park, and that policemen are not on the job to keep persons out of the danger areas.

"Those non-parking areas are just like fly-traps," said Mr. Dunn. "They are open ready to receive cars, and there is neither sign nor person to tell you you are not allowed to park. But after you have been there and come back for your car, you see a policeman grinning at you and realize you are caught like a fly in a trap."

The police department promised the matter would be remedied and motorists informed just where they can and cannot park. They explained that chalk signs were put on pavements but were washed out.

PLANTING WHEAT ON THE PRAIRIES

Weather Favors Work of Farmers There

Winnipeg, May 2. — (Canadian Press)—With excellent weather conditions during the past week, wheat seeding is fairly general in all three prairie provinces, states the weekly crop report issued by the agriculturdepartment of the Canadian Pacific Railway to-day.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan have experienced fairly heavy frosts at night, but the ground has not been frozen sufficiently to stop work, the report states.

"It is many years since moisture conditions were so favorable," the report says. "In some districts of Manitoba 85 per cent. of wheat seeding has been completed and there is ample seed to complete the work. Fall rye is showing up splendidly. In the district covered by the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway seeding has commenced at many points and will be in full swing within the next two days. Warmer weather is required, however, to promote growth.

"Reports from Saskatchewan state there is still considerable water on low land. Grasshoppers are hatching out in Southern Manitoba, Southeast Saskatchewan and Southeast Alberta, in practically the same areas as were affected last year. With large supplies of poison on hand, the authorities and farmers are actively co-operating in a campaign for their extermination."

MINERS STARTING SEASON'S WORK

Developments in Northern British Columbia Region

Vancouver, May 2.—Grant Mahood, one of the pioneers of the Salmon River gold camp at the head of the Portland Canal, announced yesterday that the American Mining and Milling Company will, under his direction, conduct extensive development work on its claims seven miles north of the Premier Mine during the coming Summer. The company has already shipped in sixteen head of heavy horses, wagons and other equipment and Mr. Mahood stated that he expected to have the property on a producing basis before the end of the season.

Application for the completion of four and a half miles of trail has been made to the Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, in order to facilitate operations on this company's property and on the Big Missouri, which has been bonded by Woods, Trites and Wilson, the owners of the Premier, for $175,000. This syndicate also contemplates doing extensive development work on the property formerly bonded by Sir Donald Mann.

New Alaska.

Pat Daly, the discoverer of the famous Premier Mine, one of the greatest gold producers in the history of mining on the Coast, is preparing to work the New Alaska during the Summer.

Stewart, which has been served during the Winter months by the smaller vessels of the Grand Trunk Pacific fleet, will be visited by the Prince Rupert for the first time this season on May 14. Grant Mahood stated yesterday that the ship would be crowded with miners going in to open their season's activities when she leaves here on May 11. The snow is pretty well gone in the town of Stewart and is disappearing rapidly in the hills behind where the workings are located, he said.

BAR RED FLAG FROM THE STREETS

May Day Parades; Eastern Canadian Authorities Act

Hamilton, Ont., May 2.—A number of unemployed persons paraded here, headed by women carrying red flags yesterday afternoon. The sight of the flags was a signal for the police to move and they went into the crowds. Men attempted to fight them, but the drawn clubs of the police were used with such effect that a number of men were clubbed and four men and a woman were arrested. The red flags had on the Bolshevik devices.

In Montreal.

Montreal, May 2.—Apart from the capture of a red flag by police yesterday afternoon, the May Day demonstration here followed conventional Socialistic lines and was not attended by any unusual incidents.

About 2,000 took part in the procession.

In Toronto.

Toronto, May 2.—The only noteworthy incident of the May Day celebration in Toronto was the arrest of Trevor Maguire, business manager of "The Worker," charged with having used seditious language at a meeting of radicals in Queen's Park yesterday afternoon, when Maguire, the police say, referred to the British Empire as the British Vampire.

Last night the radicals at a meeting in the Labor Temple passed a resolution denouncing the action of the police in arresting Maguire, who was described as a returned soldier.

About forty union bricklayers quit yesterday, presumably through the insistence of employers that 92½ cents an hour should be the wage rate commencing May 1.

On Strike.

Fredericton, N. B., May 2.—Journeymen plumbers went out on strike in Fredericton yesterday as a result of a dispute with their employers over wages.

In Agreement.

Edmonton, May 2. — Edmonton bakers and master bakers met yesterday and came to a satisfactory agreement for 1922-23.

Negotiating.

Calgary, May 2.—A further meeting of employers and job printers will take place to-day regarding the proposed 15 per cent. reduction of wages. The master printers offered 90 cents an hour to-day, but the men are holding out for 92½ cents.

In Vancouver.

Vancouver, May 2.—Four hundred unemployed invaded the wholesale district yesterday afternoon and demanded food doles from big produce companies operating there. There was no violence, and the crowd finally dispersed at the order of the police.

The demonstration began with the visit by a smaller delegation of unemployed earlier in the day to the City Hall, where the Council was asked either to extend relief work or grant permission to the unemployed to canvass merchants and wholesalers for food and supplies.

A number of women took part in the demonstration.

SUMMER SERVICE BY G. T. P. BOATS STARTS ON SUNDAY

Capt. C. H. Nicholson Looks For Excellent Tourist Season

SS. Prince George Refitted at Cost of $40,000

"We expect to have an excellent tourist season," said Capt. C. H. Nicholson, manager of Canadian National coastwise fleet on the Pacific, in speaking to-day of the inauguration of the semi-weekly Summer service by G. T. P. steamships in the Northern British Columbia and Southern Alaska trade.

Capt. Nicholson is in the city today on business in connection with the administration of the company's steamship department and during the forenoon he inspected the car-ferry Canora which is now undergoing her annual overhaul at Esquimalt.

Effective on Sunday.

"The semi-weekly schedule goes into effect on Sunday with the departure of the steamship Prince George northbound from Seattle, and the departure of the steamship Prince Rupert, southbound from Prince Rupert," said Capt. Nicholson. "The company has spent $40,000 in the refit of the Prince George and she is now in the finest of shape for the season."

The Prince George was overhauled this Spring in drydock at Prince Rupert and following her arrival at Vancouver her interior furnishings were completely renovated at considerable cost. The interior decoration scheme is most elaborate and new carpets have been laid in various parts of the ship. The steamship Prince Rupert had a similar refit last year.

Capt. Morehouse is in command of the Prince George, while Capt. D Donald will this season be in command of the Prince Rupert.

The Prince George will be here on Sunday morning from the north and will leave at noon (local time) for Seattle, sailing from Seattle at midnight and from Vancouver on Monday night for the north. The Prince Rupert, sailing from Prince Rupert on Sunday next will arrive here next Wednesday morning, proceeding to Seattle the same day.

New Tourist Route.

The company's plans to encourage tourist business to the Queen Charlotte Islands this season, according to Capt. Nicholson. The Queen Charlotte Islands offers all the scenic advantages of the northern British Columbia coast and special steamship facilities are being offered by the company with the S. S. Prince John. The Prince John inaugurates the Queen Charlotte Islands service on Saturday next. She will steam direct for ports of the Queen Charlotte Islands, thence to Prince Rupert and returning via the Queen Charlotte group to Vancouver.

CUNARD LINER MAURETANIA

The Mauretania arrived at Cherbourg from New York at 3.46 a. m. on Monday, May 1, having covered the total distance of 3,242 nautical miles in less than six days at an average speed of 25.14 knots. The liner took her departure from Ambrose lightship at 1.50 p. m., Tuesday, April 25.

SNOHOMISH MET BAD WEATHER OFF VANCOUVER ISLAND

American Cutter Returns After Making Seal Herd Patrol

Seattle, May 2.—Completing her first cruise in the annual seal patrol between the Columbia River and Dixons Entrance, Southeastern Alaska, the coastguard cutter Snohomish, Lieut. R. R. Waesche commanding, arrived in Port Angeles Saturday for coal and supplies. She will leave port in a few days to resume the patrol. The seal herds are now on the way from the southern reaches of the Pacific to the Pribilof Islands in Bering Sea. On the annual patrol the Snohimish protects the seals from attack by "pirates."

On the cruise just completed, the Snohomish sighted a number of seals off the Washington coast between the Columbia River and Cape Flattery. Very few were seen off the coast of Vancouver Island, however, the bulk of the migration being due later.

Bad Weather Encountered.

Bad weather generally was encountered for three days off the British Columbia coast, and the cutter slipped into Dixons Entrance just in time to escape a southeast gale which blew for a short time but with great intensity.

A number of Canadian and American fishing vessels were boarded and searched for evidence of seals and sealing weapons, but none was found. The Canadian fishermen readily complied with the cutter's request in accordance with the agreement between this country and Great Britain and as an added assurance that there was no objection on their part, presented the boarding crew with a number of fine halibut and black cod, refusing to accept any payment.

Only the Indians are permitted to kill the seals and they must operate from canoes with spears, as the use of motorboats and firearms is in contravention with the international agreement for the protection of the herds.

Indian Villages Visited.

Several Indian villages along the Vancouver Island coast were visited, but apparently these Indians had not yet started sealing operations. The Quillayutes, Ozette and Makah Indians along the Washington coast have been sealing for a week or more with indifferent results.

The Snohomish while on this duty is alert to answer calls for assistance from vessels in distress, and while off the Columbia River a request was received from the master of the steamship Julia Luckenbach, bound for Puget Sound ports, to transfer one of his men who was suffering with a broken knee cap, to the hospital at Astoria, Oregon. This request was complied with.

HUGH GALLAGHER OF ADMIRAL LINE HAS EXPERIENCE

Seattle, May 2.—Appointment of Hugh Gallagher, one of the most widely known shipping men in the country, to be assistant general manager of the Admiral Line, with headquarters at San Francisco, is announced by A. F. Haines, vice-president and general manager. The title of district manager which was Gallagher's previous designation, is abolished.

Returning from a tour of world ports in 1905 after seeking first hand knowledge, Gallagher embarked on his shipping career when he became associated with the shipping department of the Standard Oil Company, serving for three years in the Philippines. He joined the Alexander organization in 1914 and has been with the Admiral line and its predecessor, the Pacific-Alaska Navigation Co. continuously since then. He was also for a period general eastern agent for the company with headquarters in New York, relinquishing that post to become manager of the California district.

In addition to service on innumerable committees of the American Shipowners' Association and National Merchant Marine Association he has frequently appeared before U. S. congressional committees in the interest of national maritime legislation.

SEATTLE NOW HAS WOMAN SHIPOWNER

Mrs. Eva Rouse Purchases Barge and Arranges Charter

Seattle, May 2.—Probably becoming the only woman shipowner of Seattle, Mrs. Eva Rouse, widow of Alvin G. Rouse, has purchased, it was announced to-day, the covered scow W. T. & B. No. 1 from G. W. Hume & Co. and has chartered the vessel for five months to the Shively Tow Boat Company. Other women hold stock in shipping companies, but Mrs. Rouse is believed to be the only woman who is an individual owner in this port.

She is a native of Iowa, but settled in Ballard fourteen years ago, becoming the bride of Mr. Rouse, founder and head of the Rouse Towing Company. Mr. Rouse died two years ago and Mrs. Rouse last year sold her holding in the towing company to the Foss interests. Its fleet at that time consisted of six towboats and two scows.

"The purchase of the covered scow W. T. & B. No. 1 means that I am getting back into business," she said to-day.

As conditions warrant and as opportunity offers, she will acquire other vessels. She is regarded as one of the best informed women of Puget Sound as regards the towboat and scow business, having taken an active interest in the Rouse Towing Company for ten years.

The covered scow W. T. & B. No. 1 is of 145 tons, with a length of 90.5 feet, a beam of 28 feet and a depth of 7 feet.

ANOTHER SPLENDID MOTORSHIP IS NOW NEARING THIS PORT

M. S. Dinteldyk, of Holland-American Line, Expected Latter Part of Month

The new motorship Dinteldyk, owned by the Holland-American Line, and a sister ship to the Royal Mail Line's new motorship Loch Katrine, recently here, is expected to arrive here about May 20, according to Findlay, Durham & Brodie, local agents for the joint service of the Royal Mail and Holland-American lines.

The Dinteldyke has European freight for Victoria and Vancouver and will come here before shifting to Puget Sound ports. The Dinteldyk and her sister ship, the Loch Katrine, are the two largest motorships afloat. Four additional motorships of the same size and type are under construction for the joint service, two being built for the Royal Mail and two for the Holland American Line.

When these vessels are placed in commission the Royal Mail and Holland-American joint service to the North Pacific will boast six of the largest and most modern ships propelled by internal-combustion engines in the world.

The Dinteldyk has passed through the Panama Canal, and is now on her way up the coast to San Francisco, where she will call before coming on here.

Following the Dinteldyk in this service will be the Royal Mail steamship Cardinganshire. The Cardiganshire is a well-known carrier in the North Pacific service.

PROSPECTOR AT YOKOHAMA AHEAD OF FREIGHTER

Vancouver, May 2.—The race between the steamers Canadian Freighter and Canadian Prospector of the C. G. M. M. fleet to Yokohama has ended with the Prospector arriving first in port, but the Freighter having cut down the lead very materially. The Prospector, Captain Watson, is a coal burner. She sailed from here on April 4 with a full cargo. In order to avoid boisterous weather on the North Pacific she went by the southern route. Captain Bisset of the oil-burner Canadian Freighter, sailed April 11 and took the shorter course of the great circle. The Prospector reached Yokohama April 28, and the Freighter arrived May 1. There are now three C. G. M. M. steamers at Yokohama, the two just mentioned and the Canadian Importer. The steamer Canadian Traveler has left Port Sudan for Cuba where she will load for Vancouver.

RUSH TO FARM RICH SUMAS LAND

Reclaiming Not Completed, Yet Men Plough Already

Area Looks Safe This Summer, Barrow Says

Farmers and landholders at Sumas are now busy erecting shacks and other buildings, ploughing and getting tractors on the land, secure this year from inundation, according to the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, who is back at the Parliament Buildings to-day after a tour over the whole Sumas area.

The Vedder River was diverted two weeks ago from its natural channel into the broad canal with high banked sides which electrical and steam dredges have been scooping out. This canal is three miles long.

About 20,000 out of the total of 30,000 acres which the British Columbia Government is reclaiming, is now out of danger.

"The people who are developing that rich land there now figure that they are not going to get drowned this year and believe they can now go ahead with their work in security," said Mr. Barrow.

"Work at Sumas has advanced sufficiently to protect this land unless there should be an extraordinarily heavy flood this year."

The whole Sumas project will be completed in about twelve months.

"The immensity of the Sumas undertaking impresses one who goes over it," Mr. Barrow went on. "For fourteen miles long and five miles wide this rich level area stretches out. As for quality of the land, there is nothing better out-of-doors."

FRIENDLY HELP IS AIDING MANY

To Investigate Matter of Able-bodied Unemployed Seeking Relief

The monthly meeting of the Friendly Help Association was held at the rooms in the Market Building this morning, twenty-two members being present. It was reported that 142 families were given assistance during April, representing 514 persons: Sixty-three families had groceries, 26 had fuel; 25 had milk; 42 had meat; and 70 had clothing. The question of continuing the supply of milk to the thirty-three families formerly supplied by the Civic Relief Office came up before the meeting and an advisory committee consisting of Mrs. Hay, Mrs. Pilgrim and Mr. Earle was appointed to assist the secretary in investigating this matter: The attention of the meeting was called to several instances where men receiving assistance from the Association had turned down jobs on account of the wages offered being low, and a committee was appointed to investigate as to whether further assistance should be refused these people. It was pointed out that work was now opening up and the necessity of supplying able-bodied men with groceries, etc. should not be so great.

The question of waste foods from the hotels, cafes, came before the meeting and an investigation into this was also recommended.

A standing vote of sympathy was passed to Mrs. Porter and her family in their sad bereavement.

The secretary was requested to write to Mr. and Mrs. Burkholder, the latter being a charter member of the Association, conveying the congratulations of the Association to them on the occasion of the celebration of their golden wedding.

The response to the appeal for Hot-Cross buns was magnificent, and the Association wish to thank all who so kindly sent them. There were several anonymous donors, whom it was impossible to thank and the Association wishes to express its appreciation to them all, particularly to the unknown friend who sent twelve dozen through Clay's.

KIWANIANS HONOR PLAYERS CLUB OF UNIVERSITY OF B.C.

Dean Colman, of the University of B. C., with the Hon. Dr. MacLean, spoke briefly in response to a call from the chair at the Kiwanis Club luncheon to-day.

J. W. Spencer presided, with Kiwanian D. Macfarlane as chairman of the entertainment committee. Two attendance prizes, donated by George Brown, were presented to the guests.

Members of the cast of "Mr. Pim Passes By" were guests of the club, being roundly applauded for their aid in staging the play.

TO PROMOTE PRAIRIE PICNIC THIS SUMMER

The Victoria Prairie Club, after a very successful Winter's work has now closed its rooms in the Arcade Building for the season.

The members are more than satisfied with the results of their efforts to make the organization one of usefulness from civic, moral and socia' standpoints. The club rooms have been frequented during the Winter months by both members and visiting prairie people; the latter having appreciated the privilege and opportunity of thus being enabled to cultivate friendly and social intercourse and to make use of prairie and local newspapers provided by the Society.

Notable success attended the three public entertainments held by the club, when hundreds of prairie people and friends gathered.

The opinions of non-members were unanimously complimentary, that the members were doing well in providing such enjoyable functions.

The membership of the organisation has of late been augmented by the inclusion of a ladies' auxiliary, which in the future will be further developed, and with more suitable and commodious quarters the club is looking forward with hopeful anticipation of largely increasing its scope of actions another season.

The members have decided to hold a prairie picnic during the Summer to which all prairie people and their friends will be invited, and which will doubtless prove a great success.

BRIDGE PARTY.

The bridge and five hundred party in aid of the Fairfield Boy Scouts' Summer camp to be held at Mrs. Charles Gardner's, 1013 Fairfield Road, to-morrow evening, promises to be highly successful as quite a number of bridge tables have been reserved in addition to the five hundred. Players will please bring their own cards and bridge scores. There will be prizes and refreshments served.

To Give Entertainment.—Ward Three Liberals will entertain members and friends at the Liberal Club to-morrow night. Commencing at 8 o'clock a splendid programme of musical and other features will be given, followed by a dance. A good orchestra will be in attendance, and popular artists will take part. Members are asked to send in refreshments early, in order that the ladies may have everything prepared with the least amount of trouble. A surprise in connection with the refreshments is in store for those who attend.

DOMINION

One of the most delightful photo-plays shown here in many weeks is "Three Live Ghosts," a Paramount picture produced by George Fitzmaurice, which was presented with no inconsiderable success at the Dominion Theatre last night. The story deals with three lads who after being reported "missing," escape from a German prison camp and on reaching London prove themselves to be live ghosts indeed. The featured players Anna Q. Nilsson and Norman Kerry, both well known to Paramount audiences. The picture is artistic and the supporting cast all that the most exacting taste could demand.

CAPITOL

More sprightly than in "Enchantment," more entrancingly beautiful than in "The Bride's Play" is Marion Davies in her newest picture, "Beauty's Worth," which delighted last night's audience at the Capitol Theatre. This Cosmopolitan-Paramount picture will remain all week.

Directed by Robert G. Vignola, "Beauty's Worth" delightfully pictures the transition of a quiet and shy little Quakeress into a gorgeously gowned and much sought-after society belle. Miss Davies, in the role of the Quakeress, proves that she can be as lovely in severe and unattractive garb as in the latest creations of Paris and New York.

The change wrought in Prudence Cole (Miss Davies) is the skilled handiwork of a famous artist, Cheyne Rovein (Forest Stanley), who discerns in the girl a rare beauty to which others, and especially the young flirt whom she loves, have been blind. He astounds the guests at a fashionable hotel by presenting Prudence in a charade performance that is as artistic and exotic as anything ever seen on stage or screen.

Besides Mr. Stanley those who support the star are: June Elvidge, Truly Shattuck, Lydia Yeamans Titus, Hallam Cooley, Antrim Short, Thomas Jefferson, Martha Mattox, Aileen Manning and John and Gordon Dooley—a cast that is about as fine as could be assembled. The story was written by Sophie Kerr and Luther Reed did the scenario.

Very highly appreciated were the popular songs rendered by Walter Beaton, baritone, who opened a return week's engagement at the Capitol last evening.

"PENROD" BEGINS TO-DAY AT ROYAL VICTORIA

SHOWING OF "PENROD" BEGAN TO-DAY

Royal Film Stars Wesley Barry in Booth Tarkington Series

The motion picture is just commencing to find its sphere of entertainment. When producers can create pictures like the ebullient "Penrod," Marshall Neilan's First National attraction that opened a run at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-day, it can be said that the screen is fulfilling its mission of one hundred per cent. entertainment.

For Marshall Neilan it must be added that this producer, who has never made a failure has reached a new pinnacle of his career with "Penrod." He has caught the spirit of Booth Tarkington's inimitable characters of American boyhood and impressed them upon the screen for all eternity. With all its faithful delineation of youthful type it has preserved the humor of the Indiana author's stories. If you have never laughed before in your life you'll laugh at the amateur theatricals of "The Children's Pageant of the Table Round" and you'll have a fellow feeling with Penrod, who has to wear Dad's cast off red flannel underwear as part of his costume.

When you've assimilated the pangs of puppy love that assail Penrod you'll recall some of your own juvenile inroads onto the path of romance. And there are other familiar figures; the ever present threat of an over zealous guardian of the curfew law, the French dancing master, the tyrannical school ma'am and the social elite of a typical American village.

Freckles Barry is rising to higher screen laureis with each picture. His delineation of Penrod is delightful for its naive freshness and the natural ease with which he falls into the role. The cast is too large to enumerate. Marjorie Daw, who has been seen in many previous Marshall Neilan pictures, is very appealing in the role of Penrod's sister and about forty adults and juveniles give Freckles Barry capable support.

SUPERLATIVE ATTRACTION COMING

Louise Lovely Will Appear at Royal Victoria

Manager Denham, of the Royal Theatre has booked for the Royal one of the most unique attractions ever given to local theatregoers. Louise Lovely will appear personally with her own company in two big stage presentations and as the star of her latest feature picture. Never before has a screen star given the public an entertainment so varied. First, Miss Lovely will present her headline vaudeville act, a high class playlet, entitled "Their Wedding Night." In this she is supported by Wilton Welch, the noted English actor. Originally, Miss Lovely played this act over the Orpheum Circuit and throughout England, Australia and the Continent. The beautiful stage and screen star will be seen in the part of a young bride who has married a titled Englishman. The bride is a millionaire's daughter, and the husband thinks she has married him only to elevate herself into a place in society. The playlet is filled with smart and very interesting situations. Miss Lovely gives a delightful performance.

The second big attraction is the great novelty stage presentation of "A Day at the Studio," in which Miss Lovely shows on the stage the inner workings of a Motion Picture Studio, and how the "Movies" are actually made. She carries her own cameraman and will make motion pictures of some young lady selected at each performance. At matinees, Miss Lovely will take several children from the audience and play a scene with them before the camera. It will give local aspirants to "movie" fame, a great opportunity to see if they are adapted to the art of the screen.

MOOSE ARE GUESTS AT PRINCESS THEATRE

Large Attendance at "Moose Night" Entertainment

The enthusiastic throng which attended the "Moose Night" at the Princess Theatre last evening, augurs well for the bringing of the Moose convention to this city in 1923. Proceeds from this entertainment will help the fund considerably, and it is hoped that sufficient money can be raised to bring some five thousand representatives to this city next Summer. This year's convention is being held at Walla Walla, and a good representation must be made by Victorians at this convention if they should desire to have the gathering in this city in 1923, stated D. S. Tait in explaining the reason of the function.

The patronage was all that could be expected, the members of the Lodge No. 1390 bringing many friends to the delightful play, which is so full of gripping moments, namely, "Within The Law." This play was the share of the Princess players, but many other noted artists also offered their services in a very commendable manner. Miss Eva Hart, Victoria's charming singer, was heard in many delightful selections, "Come Sweet Morning" being the first one. It followed later by "Cuckoo" and singing as an encore "My Cherubie." The additional artists provided a versatile programme, toe dancing being a popular number, as also was the Scottish and Irish dances which were rendered by the same party. This last number was carried out in a very capable and dainty manner by little Miss Ada Broadbent, who is only fourteen years of age. Another vocalist who won much applause and admiration from the audience was W. Draper, who possesses a deep rich tenor voice. He was heard to excellent advantage in "Down The Vale" and "Beneath Thy Window."

Mrs. A. J. Gibson accompanied Miss Hart.

The convention committee, under whose auspices the function was held, are to be congratulated for their efforts, and as a result the campaign funds should be considerably enhanced.

The theatre was gaily decorated for the occasion with large moose heads and bunting and looked well.

SONG TO COLLEEN MOORE

Arthur Fried, composer and song writer, has dedicated a new song, called "Colleen," to Goldwyn's new leading woman, Colleen Moore, recently seen in two Rupert Hughes pictures, "The Wall Flower" and "Come On Over."

The song was written around Miss Moore's role of Moyna Killilea in "Come On Over," which Goldwyn appropriately released for showing during St. Patrick's Day week.

Harms, Inc., one of New York's large music publishing firms is bringing out the song.

COLLEGE PLAYERS AGAIN CHARM

Big Theatre Packed for U.B.C. Production

F. G. C. Wood, who was educated in Victoria, became a lecturer in Victoria High School and then assistant professor of English in the University of B. C., last night scored the greatest triumph of his career as the producer of college plays when he presented the U. B. C. players at the Royal Victoria Theatre in "Mr. Pim Passes By."

The play was brought to Victoria by the Victoria Kiwanis Club and the receipts went to aid in the Club's fund for the building of the new Jubilee Hospital.

Lieutenant-Governor Nichol and a party from Government House, the Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General and party, and the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, saw and applauded the work of the University Players' Club. The theatre was sold out.

Professor Wood and his players staged the play with a more artistic and professional setting than any of the previous annual productions of the club. Women in the audience last night were enraptured with the gowns worn with such charm and grace by Miss Betty V. Somerset, arts '24. The serenity and ease with which Miss Somerset went through her role won the admiration of her audience. Miss Georgina MacKinnon, arts '22, as the coy and vivacious young daughter in the house who is just going through the first thrills of her first engagement, threw her whole self into the character and made her character adorable.

Miss Somerset, Miss MacKinnon and the other co-eds in the cast, Miss M. Kirsteen Leveson, arts '23, and Miss Muriel Evans, arts '24, were presented with bouquets from over the footlights at the end of the second act.

Wells W. Coates, science '22, was admired for his work, Jack V. Clyne, arts '23, for the patience he showed in handling the difficult role of a Buckinghamshire "J. P." who is just beginning to turn crusty. Neil M. McCallum, science '23, in heavy disguise, played the title role of Carraway Pim.

Between acts George McGregor, president of the board of the Jubilee Hospital, thanked the University players on behalf of the hospital, Victoria and the Kiwanis Club. Dean Coleman of the faculty of arts and sciences spoke on behalf of the players expressing their appreciation at their reception.

Internal and External Pains are promptly relieved by DR THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL

NOT TO BE FOOLED

Jimmie paid his first visit to a farm the other day.

All his life he had lived in the heart of a great city. And then he suddenly came in sight of a haystack.

He stopped and gazed earnestly at what appeared to him as a new brand of architecture.

"Oh, Mr. Yowles," he said to the farmer, pointing to the haystack, "why don't you have doors and windows in it?"

"Doors and windows?" smiled the farmer. "That ain't a house, Jimmie, that's hay."

"Don't try to fool me, Mr. Yowles," was the scornful rejoinder. "Don't you suppose I know that hay don't grow in heaps like that?"

Another Rookie Slab Artist In Star Role

Baseball History Made By Harry Shriver, Making His Debut With Brooklyn; Phillies Only Made Three Hits and First Baseman Had But One Put-out and No Assists in Game; St. Louis Leads American Leagues; No Homers For Williams

New York, May 2.—Baseball history again was made yesterday by the work of a rookie pitcher—this time Harry Shriver, of Saginaw, in his debut for Brooklyn—who played a leading role in the proceedings.

Shriver's performance in blanking the Phillies 2 to 0, with three lonely bingles, excelled the debuts of Mathewson, Johnson and other pitching stars. The unique feature of the game, however, was the fact that Post, Dodger first sacker, had only one put-out, a catch of a line drive in the ninth, and no assists.

Only once before in the 46 years of National League pastiming has this record been equalled. That was on August 30, 1918, when Bill Hinchman, of the Pirates, had but one put-out, and that on the last man in the ninth, in the second game of a double-header with Boston.

The Real Record.

Jiggs Donohue, formerly of the Chicago White Sox, holds the American League record with no put-outs and only one assist back in 1906.

The St. Louis Browns were perched on top of the American League as a result of slugging out their fourth straight victory over the Cleveland Indians, while the Yankees were outplayed for the third straight by Boston 5 to 2. It was a Yankee cast-off pitcher, Alex. Ferguson, who helped push the New Yorkers down the ladder. Ferguson held the champions to four hits, and chalked up his second victory of the season. Mays was hit hard and timely by the Red Sox.

Giants Forged Ahead.

The Giants mauled three Boston twirlers and won their third straight 10 to 3, gaining in the league race as Chicago was idle.

A triple by Pinch Hitter Rohwer in the eighth inning gave the Pirates a 7 to 6 verdict over Cincinnati.

The Philadelphia Athletics caught the home-run fever and trounced Washington, and the White Sox made a clean sweep of their series with Detroit, aided by the Tigers' loose fielding.

Homerun Kings Opposed.

Gotham fans are looking forward to May 20, as the date which will not only mark the end of Babe Ruth's exile, but also the appearance of Kenneth Williams for the first time, who is a new home-run sensation, thus giving the rival batters a shot at the same target.

Williams failed to increase his string of nine home runs yesterday, but is still three ahead of the 1921 schedule of Ruth, who made his sixth on May 2.

JACK BLOOMFIELD IS NEW BRITISH CHAMP

Defeated Drake for Light Heavyweight Championship in Nine Rounds

London, May 2.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Jack Bloomfield, of Islington, beat Harry Drake, of Windsor, last night, in their scheduled 20-round bout for the cruiserweight championship of Great Britain.

Although Drake did well with his left in long range work, it was soon evident that Bloomfield was much the stronger and the latter landed several powerful hooks and uppercuts. He had the better of the infighting.

A moment before the bell rang at the end of the ninth round Bloomfield sent a right to the jaw and Drake, badly dazed was hardly able to reach his corner. His seconds threw in the sponge.

BASKETBALL

Well-Balanced Teams Played Hard to Win Last Game of Season.

Last evening at the Redfern Street Hall two basketball teams, one representing the Hampshire Road Methodist group of the C. G. I. T., and the other the St. Columba group, gave their followers many thrilling moments. While the final score stood 11 to 1, the play was more even than this score would indicate.

The teams were:

St. Columba—Forwards, Misses E. Kilpatrick and C. Riach; centre, R. Campbell; guards, R. Young and M. Adam.

Hampshire Road—Forwards, Misses E. Collett and M. Thackeray; centre, A. Sandiford; guards, M. Chattel and M. Sandiford.

R. Buckett gave general satisfaction as referee.

K. of C. BASEBALL.

The K. of C. baseball team will hold a practice at the Stadium tonight and Thursday evening of this week, at 6.30 o'clock.

All players are requested to be on hand, as there is only a week before the first game.

SUBURBAN TEAMS ARE AFTER TITLE

Saanichton and Jordan River Basketballers Will Play Here To-morrow

The last of the basketball season has not yet been heard of and all the cups have not been won either, for the Jordan River quintette contemplates staging a final issue, before retiring from the Winter sport. At the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday night they will meet the Saanichton team for the suburban district championship, with which goes the Vancouver Power Company's silver cup. A fast preliminary is also scheduled for the evening's programme when the provincial champions, the First Presbyterians will meet the Huskies. The first game will commence at eight o'clock.

Reports from the West Coast lead local fans to believe that a good game is in store for them to-morrow night as the tournaments up that way have been keenly contested. At present the trophy is residing at Jordan River, but that club will have to fight hard if they wish to retain it and title for another year. They are champions of the West Coast, while the Saanichton squad won the Suburban District league.

Have Played Here Before.

Both teams have been seen in action in this city before, having been contestants in the City and District league, but they were unable to meet each other then owing to the knock-out system used. Strong teams will be sent to the city to fight to a finish. The Jordan River team will introduce some new material on its line-up. Here are the lads who will step on the floor wearing the Jordan colors: Walker, Elliott, Cummings, Leddingham, MacVicar and Holmwood. The Saanichton fighting squad will be: R. Crawford, J. Lannan, Buckle, Mike Lannan and W. McNally.

The first game of the fixture, in which the Huskies are arrayed against the First Presbyterian aggregation, should be a hummer. The Huskies started play a little late in the season but they picked up steadily throughout and can be expected to put up a pretty neat fight although they can hardly be expected to win against such renowned opponents. Tommy Nute is acting as pivot for the squad, while Brindley and Tommy Peden have secured berths on the wings. Stan Moore and Jones are down for the guard position. Lewis Fatt will take over the vacant spot on the bench for a spell.

The First Presbyterian boys are relying on their same line-up to pull them through and will page the following lads: Whyte, Webster, A. McKinnon, Forbes, and Little. Streeter and Hudson will act as reserves.

DEMPSEY RECEIVES EXCHANGE IN BALES

Champion Finds That American Dollars Go a Long Way in Germany

Paris, May 2.—Jack Dempsey, prior to his departure for Berlin, refused an offer of $1,000 for a three-round exhibition match in a Paris ring, it has become known. While this offer far exceeded any made previously for such a brief appearance, the heavyweight's answer was that it was useless to speak of any amount less than $5,000.

Berlin, May 2.—"I'm a millionaire in Germany," chuckled Jack Dempsey, world's champion pugilist yesterday as the paying teller of the Deutschsbank gave him a bale of marks in exchange for American dollars.

The champion was up early and started on a shopping expedition, which wound up with the purchase of a police dog, jewelry, opera glasses and an assortment of other souvenirs.

Some Fist.

Germans who shook hands with him expressed amazement at the size of his hands. "What an awful fist," exclaimed a political leader who stood in line in the lobby of the Hotel Adlon waiting for a cherished introduction of the fighter.

Dempsey is only filling social engagements during his visit to Germany, and to-day said that he was stopping his dieting regulations.

Dempsey will return to London in a few days to see Carpentier and Kid Lewis box on May 11. The talk of a return bout between Dempsey and Carpentier is gaining in momentum and something will be patched up yet.

DERBY BETTING

LAYTON LEADS IN MATCH.

Sedalia, Mo., May 2.—Johnny Layton, of Sedalia, world's three-cushion billiard champion, held a good lead over Charles McCourt, of Pittsburgh yesterday as a result of play last night in the first block of their 180-point match for the championship. Layton took the block by a score of sixty to forty-four in 82 innings. They will play the second block to-night.

Pro Lacrosse Matters On Mainland Are Crossed Up

Vancouver, May 2.—Bob Springer, manager of the Terminal lacrosse team, snared four stars for his 1922 Minto Cup hunters yesterday, when he signed Ray Carter, Enstace Gillanders, Jake Davis and Everett McLaren, to Terminal contracts. With Bun Watson already in the fold, Springer has five stars around whom he figures he can build up a team strong enough to take the famous lacrosse silverware away from the banks of the Fraser River, where it has nestled since last Fall, when Tommy Gifford's Salmonbellies regained the mug after losing it in 1920.

A wire was dispatched to Dot Crookall in Sheldon, Wash., yesterday asking him his plans for the season. It is likely that the elongated goal-getter will be seen in a green and white jersey when the season opens. Billy Walsh is in town and may be induced to sign a contract. Bill Chambers, with the Westminster Senior Amateurs last season, is being sought by the Terminals.

The first practice of the season will be called some time this week.

New Westminster, May 2.—Pat Feeney called his first practice of the Minto Cup holders yesterday and thirteen men turned out at Queen's Park last night for the initial workout of the lacrosse season. After the workout, the boys got together and decided that the team would remain intact and play the series with Jack Pattison's Terminals.

Grumpy Spring, leader of the "Senior Amateurs" was not out to practice.

Vancouver, May 2.—Two professional lacross leagues may be in operation here this Summer if developments which started over the week-end come to maturity.

In addition to the B. C. Lacrosse Association, whose seasor. starts on May 24, there may be another two-team circuit, to consist of a New Westminster team which is already being formed by Grumpy Spring and the Vancouver Club, headed by Con Jones.

A meeting of the former players of the latter organization, which played during the early part of last season with Victoria, is being held to-night when it will be finally decided as to whether or not they will enter the new league.

Jones Talks Little.

Seen this morning, Mr. Jones stated that he was ready to place the Vancouver Club in an inter-city league if prospects appeared good for successful operation. "I am pretty sure I can get a good team together," he declared. "I understand that none of the men who played for me before have been signed by the Terminals, therefore I am sure I can give the public good lacrosse. I do not propose, however, to import any eastern players. Only local men will be on the Vancouver Club's team."

The creation of a new professiona' aggregation in New Westminster is in the hands of Grumpy Spring, who, it is stated, feels upset by the attitude shown towards himself by the interests now in control of the Salmonbellies. Among those he is reported to have been in touch with are: Willis Patchell, Wally Coutts George Atkinson, Roy Coulson, Jimmy Gunn, Jim Sclater, Ab. Brown and others.

CARPENTIER WILL MEET THE WINNER

Georges Says He Will Fight Victor of Greb-Tunney Bout This Summer

New York, May 2.—Prospect of Georges Carpentier's return to the United States this Summer to defend his light-heavyweight title, has enlivened interest in the contest May 23 between Harry Greb and Gene Tunney, American light-heavyweight champion, which will decide the Frenchman's challenger.

Indications that Carpentier is anxious to meet the winner of the Greb-Tunney encounter here are contained in a cablegram received from Georges by Matchmaker Frank Flourney.

Carpentier's request for a proposition by cable was responded to by Flourney, but the promoter did not reveal its details.

The date for the Greb-Tunney contest has been advanced from May 26 to May 23.

WEDNESDAY CRICKET LEAGUE WILL OPEN

Two Matches Will Be Played To-morrow Afternoon; Teams Are All Ready

Garrison Will Meet Five C's and Spencer's and Broad Street Will Play

Victoria's second cricket league will make its debut to-morrow afternoon.

The Wednesday cricketers are all set for their initial matches and the four teams which battled so vigorously for the championship last year will be seen in action again. Weiler's, the fifth team in the league, a newcomer, drew the bye for the opening day and will be able to spend the afternoon getting the Beacon Hill pitch into shape.

The Garrison will entertain the Five C's at Work Point and Spencer's will be pitted again Broad Street at the Jubilee grounds.

Look For Good Season.

Little is known as yet as to the exact strength of the various teams, although the managers say they feel sure the brand of cricket will be much better than last year. The teams are to be allowed to use two Saturday league players and this should bolster the play considerably, provided the clubs intend to take advantage of the rule.

The Wednesday League has a great many followers. The sfore folks who enjoy their weekly half-holiday in mid-week are always on the lookout for some form of sport. In the Summer they are supplied with cricket and in the Winter with football, while many other sports organizations in this city try to arrange their schedules so as to catch the folks who are idle on Wednesday.

To-morrow's matches will start at 2.30 o'clock.

The Broad Street eleven will consist of the following: P. Richardson, captain, W. Cowan, J. Donaldson, D. Fletcher, R. Barber, G. Freeman, W. H. Robbins, J. Davis, A. E. Adams, G. Nawthorne, F. B. Richardson and F. N. Ackroyd.

TAYLOR AND BLACK IN SPLENDID FORM

Won Both Matches at Colwood Yesterday; Best Ball 66 in Each Game

British Columbia pro golfers are going to provide plenty of very keen competition for the many outsiders who will come here for the P. N. W. open championship, which is to be staged at the Colwood links early in June.

Yesterday four of the prominent pros. were trying out over the course and they turned in splendid scores. Phil Taylor, the Oak Bay pro, and Dave Black, from the Shaughnessy Club, of Vancouver, were in great form and in both the morning and afternoon they took the measure of Alex Duthie, the Jericho pro, and Jimmy Huish, of Berquitlam.

In the morning round Taylor and Black won by five and four and in the afternoon they breezed home to the tune of three and two.

SIDNEY ATHLETIC BODY PAYS TRIBUTE

J. BRUCE BURTON

Sidney, May 2.—J. Bruce Burton was the recipient of a testimonial last week at the regular meeting of the Sidney Amateur Athletic Association held in the Social Club rooms, in recognition of his hard and untiring efforts on behalf of the club, and more particularly of the lacrosse team. Mr. Burton has been secretary-treasurer of the S. A. A. since 1918, and as this year he felt the pressure of other work too great he reluctantly gave up the secretarial work. The president, Geo. Ijill, called on P. N. Tester to present the testimonial to Mr. Burton in the name of the members of the association. Mr. Tester paid tribute to Mr. Burton's many well-known qualities, and to his energy and ability exercised on his work as secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Burton in thanking the members said that anything he had done to help the good cause of athletics alone was both a pleasure and a duty, and he offered to give the association and the new secretary-treasurer any assistance within his power.

RETAILERS PUZZLED TO GAUGE DEMAND OF CONSUMERS

Determine What Is Wanted, But Shoppers Stampede Other Way

New York, May 2.—Figuring out what a customer will do under a given set of circumstances is the most difficult problem in the retail trade to-day, according to leading merchants and department store executives here. Gauging public demand is difficult, but a few have been able to do it, even under the adverse circumstances now prevailing.

Most of the merchants admit that Spring business so far has been disappointing. By this they do not mean that consumers are abstaining from buying. On the contrary, it is clearly proved by statistics that a greater volume of merchandise is moving through retail channels now than was the case a year ago, or even two years ago. The disappointment comes when the merchant looks at his sales totals, in dollars, and compares them with his total expense, in dollars, of doing business.

Inadequate Return.

In most cases this comparison looks decidedly unfavorable to the merchant. Again this does not mean that he is not making a profit. Most of the large department stores last year showed a profit, but merchants insist that it does not represent an adequate return upon their invested capital.

The trouble appears to be that the cost of doing business has not declined in proportion to the prices of merchandise. Efforts to reduce store expenses have been almost futile. The only alternative in preserving the ratio between the cost of doing business and income is to increase the income, or at least try to hold it up to the high figures that prevailed in the last two or three years. This can only be done by keeping up a large volume of sales.

To this desire of the merchant to keep up his volume are attributed many of the queer phases of the retail business at present. It is the firm conviction of many merchants that the multitude of special sales that have been the run in the last few months in an effort to stimulate volume have had an unsettling effect upon the consumer. Some of them feel that the consumer's idea of prices has been distorted, chiefly because much of the sale merchandise has been of low grade and accordingly low priced.

This is well illustrated in a frequent experience in rug and furniture departments, managers of such sections aver. It is not infrequent for the prospective purchaser, after ascertaining the price of a rug or a suite of bedroom furniture, for instance, to state that he saw similar merchandise advertised at another store at a cheaper price. The salesman is then confronted with the problem of proving by argument that the merchandise in his store is of better quality than that of the other store. Frequently he cannot do this to the customer's satisfaction, with the result that he loses the sale, at least for the time being.

Visits Other Stores.

The customer probably then visits other stores and tries to carry along in his mind definite qualities for price comparisons. "It is a fact," said the manager of one such department "that customers are doing more shopping around before making an actual purchase than ever before. All this widespread advertising has unsettled their minds and they really do not know which store is offering the best values. So they go from one to the other to inspect the merchandise and try to decide for themselves where they will get the most in value for what they spend. On the floor here our salesmen tell me that the majority of customers can tell them what similar merchandise is selling for in other stores. This proves that they have been shopping around considerably."

There is plenty of evidence that more "shopping," that is, comparing prices and qualities in different stores, is being done to-day than at any time in the recent past. A survey made by an engineer for a large chain of retail shoe shops recently disclosed that over 70 per cent of the people have no set place in which to buy their footwear. They are classed as floaters; that is, they buy their shoes wherever price or style happens to attract them. Undoubtedly this is true of other lines of merchandise as well.

The big stores, however, seem to be weaning away much of the trade that formerly went to the small neighborhood specialty shops. This is due, in part, to the fact that the big stores by virtue of the larger buying power and ability to obtain concessions of merchandise, offer from time to time bargains that the smaller shops cannot offer. Then, too, there has been a large number within the last year which has cut down their number considerably. The trade that formerly went to them is gravitating to the big department stores and the large specialty shops in the town shopping section.

Small Stores Closing.

A dress manufacturer here said last week that the number of accounts among New York stores on his books has decreased 20 per cent in the last year, due to the going out of business of many of the smaller retail stores. His total volume of business, however, has shown no decrease, because he is selling larger amounts to the bigger stores.

With trade gravitating to the larger stores, however, it is not all easy sailing for the big departmental establishments. Consumers are showing some queer tendencies. They seem to know what they want and what price they desire to pay. They cannot be drawn into buying merely by the bait of low prices. Most of the department stores report that staple merchandise is moving slowly. Business in cotton, silk and woolen goods by the yard, with the exception of those goods that have a style value at present, have been slow movers, although some remarkably low prices have been named on them. Also it is difficult to dispose of heavy stocks of merchandise that has lost its style value, no matter how low a price is put upon it.

Style has become much more important and more goods have jumped into the style class. The old standard blue serge suit that could be counted upon to swell the Spring business in men's clothing is almost a dead letter now, clothing retailers assert. Although the merchants know, and the majority of customers as well, that the popular tweeds, homespuns and other woolens that go into the sports clothes that lead demand at present will not give satisfactory wear, such clothing enjoys a good demand to the detrimental of better wearing staple goods.

Sells Costly Goods.

Public demand is for lower prices yet the public is not doing its shopping in a manner that will secure the best for its money, in the opinion of many merchants. Some of them admit that they gauged wrong on the trend of popular favor. The chief executive of one department store said that, much to his surprise, the demand for medium priced merchandise has not held up.

"I thought," he said, "that economic conditions portended a demand for good medium priced merchandise this Spring. I felt that our customers, or most of them, at least, would want clothing, shoes and similar goods of the type that represents the best value for the money, not highly styled, but made of good materials. In looking over our sales records I find that our best moving merchandise has been the extreme in style and frequently the extreme in high prices. High priced hosiery, jewelry, toilet goods, expensive millinery and gowns, all have sold better in this store than the medium priced goods I can't explain it, but it is a fact."

In another store that caters to customers of a lower financial status than the store just mentioned, the cheapest merchandise has been in greatest favor. Its bargain basement department has been the busiest sections of the entire store. Special sales and low prices, in the opinion of an executive of the store, have drawn those customers who have little money to spend and who buy only what they actually need.

MAY WHEAT DELIVERIES WELL TAKEN TO-DAY

(By Burdick Bros., Ltd.)

Chicago, May 2.—The wheat market was pretty much of a repetition of yesterday's market, with continued firmness displayed in both the near and distant futures. May wheat showed a net advance for the day of 7½c over the previous close. The cash markets were all quoted firm and this tended to add to the buying fever that has been quite pronounced the past few days, and the deliveries of May wheat, which have been of very large volume, have lodged in strong hands.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, May 2.—Although prices were stronger in sympathy with American markets, the local wheat market was quiet an l steady throughout the session to-day. May showed a spread of 1⅜c for the day and closed 1⅜c higher, while July only spread ⅝c and closed ⅝c higher. There was a fair trade in oats, more especially in the July future. Considerable shifting of hedges from May to July was reported in barley. A fair trade was going on in flax and rye. The undertone appeared to be firm, with prices steady to stronger. There was only an indifferent demand for the light offerings on the cash markets. Wheat premiums were unchanged to ⅛c higher.

Inspections totalled 984 cars, of which 410 were wheat.

B. C. FRUIT AREA REPORT ENCOURAGING

Fruit Crop Promises to Be Good Yield

It has been estimated that the fruit crop of the Penticton District which is a large producing area of British Columbia will be about 80 per cent of last year's crop, which was a record in the history of the fruit-growing district. Two years ago the crops was light, but the following year was the reverse and farmers think that this year's production will be a duplicate of the 1919 harvest which was an exceptionally bountiful one.

Orchardists now say that their trees give promise of a prolific season, being well up to and probably better than 1919. Apricots are now already in bloom in many of the orchards, while apples, it is claimed, will be 75 per cent. of last year's output. But the soft fruit is expected to bring the general fruit average up to 80 per cent. of last year's output. Despite the fact that Spring is late the orchards are progressing rapidly. There has been an exceptionally heavy fall of snow in the mountains this Winter and cool nights are holding back the water, so that a steady supply for irrigation purposes is anticipated this year. This will aid the growth and production of the orchards considerably, together with the campaign of early spraying and extensive pruning which is at present under way in that vicinity.

It was rumored in the adjacent municipalities of Victoria that the cherry blossoms had been nipped by frost Friday but the reports were not authentic. The farmers of the Saanich peninsula state that an average yield is expected this year in Bing and Royal Anne cherries. A record year is being looked for by fruit growers in cooking cherries, but definite statements cannot yet be given owing to the fact that the blossoms for Olivets have not yet opened. May 8 is the date anticipated for these blossoms to make their appearance. The quotations on the retail market to-day are as follows:

BALDWIN UP TO 120 TO-DAY

(By Burdick Bros., Ltd.)

New York, May 2.—Trade in the equipment shares, with Baldwin making a high of 120, featured to-day's market. Studebaker was strong and sold up to 122½ near the close. Oil shares were not so active as of late but held all of their recent gains with a few exceptions. Trade was of more narrow proportions, with activity confined to special groups. Optimism seems to prevail as to the outcome of the conference at Genoa, and this is having a good effect on security values.

NEW ARRIVALS ON WHOLESALE ROW

Three new arrivals were listed on the wholesale quotations at the opening of trading on Lower Yates Street this morning. Early Hothouse tomatoes were introduced along the row, this being their first appearance, although they have been obtainable previous to this. But the consignments are now of a commercial size, and are replacing the imported variety which has been holding the market for some considerable time. Another arrival is that of Crystal wax potatoes, which have not been heard from for a long time and was received along the row with open arms. The Crystal Wax is selling at 45 cents a crate.

Selling again to-day was another shipment of strawberries which are improving in color, as the season progresses. This fruit is demanding $5 a crate at present. Ontario cheese registered a change on the market this morning, dropping two cents, retailers now picking up this produce at 23 cents. The quotations have been revised as follows:

"Advertising Is to Business as Steam Is to Machinery."
A MESSAGE TO BUSINESS MEN.
Not one man in ten becomes a successful business man.
Why?
Because nine men out of every ten follow the crowd. The man who does not follow the crowd is the man who succeeds. There is no elbow room in a crowd. There is no room to work. Pick out a dozen successful business men. You will find that every one, or nearly every one, succeeded because he hewed his own individual path. In other words, he created something with the aid of ADVERTISING. There is no greater builder in the world than that of ADVERTISING, and ADVERTISING is the sole business of this office.

Business Chest Measure

Have you ever tried to wear a coat that is several sizes too small? Comfortable—not! If your advertisement expenditure is cut too small for your business chest measure your business will do exactly what you would do in a too-small coat. It will shrink out of sight where no one will notice it. Let your business throw out its chest and see that its clothes (advertisements) are big enough to grow in.

A BY-LAW

To Raise the Sum of $110,000.00 as an Additional Loan Required for the Construction of the Johnson Street Bridge.

Whereas the amount of money raised under By-law No. 2080 of the Corporation of the City of Victoria entitled "Johnson Street Bridge By-law, 1920" is not sufficient to meet the requirements for the construction of the said Johnson Street Bridge;

And whereas it is deemed desirable to raise the said additional amount by the sale of debentures repayable over a period of twenty-eight years, instead of by levying the whole of the said additional amount in one year by a special rate on all the rateable land, or land and improvements, in the municipality;

And whereas for the purpose aforesaid, it is necessary to borrow the said sum of one hundred and ten thousand dollars $110,000.00) on the credit of the Corporation, and to issue debentures therefor bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. (6%) per annum, which is the amount of the debt intended to be created by this by-law;

And whereas it is expedient to make the principal of the said debt repayable in such yearly sums during the period of twenty-eight (28) years as are shown in Section 2 of this By-law;

And whereas it will be necessary to raise in each year, during the period of twenty-eight (28) years, the sums as shown in Section 2 of this By-law, to pay the said yearly sums of principal and interest as they become due;

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable land and improvements of the Municipality according to the last revised assessment roll is $65,779,568.00;

And whereas the amount of the existing debenture debt of the Corporation (exclusive of local improvement debts, secured by special rates or assessments) is $10,431,078.10, and no part of the principal or interest is in arrear;

Therefore the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:

1. That for the purpose aforesaid there shall be borrowed on the credit of the Corporation at large the sum of one hundred and ten thousand dollars ($110,000.00) and debentures shall be issued therefor in one consecutive issue, in sums of not less than $100.00 each, except one debenture in the issue of each year, which may be for an odd amount, all of which debentures shall have coupons attached thereto for the payment of interest.

2. The debentures shall all bear the same date and shall be issued within two years after the day on which this by-law is passed, and may bear any date within such two years, and shall be payable in twenty-eight (28) annual instalments during the twenty-eight (28) years next after such date, and the respective amounts of principal and interest payable in each of such years shall be as follows:

COURT DECLINES TO ARBITRATE

Esquimalt's Two Prosecutors "Agree" to Disagree; Trial of Geo. J. Cook Proceeds

After a preliminary skirmish in which it was "agreed" to disagree, the proceedings of the Esquimalt Police Court proceeded yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Jay with E. V. Finland acting as prosecutor for the Chief of Police, and G. H. Sedger holding a "watching brief" for the municipality. Both counsel addressed the court, but Magistrate Jay stood firm and refused to be drawn into the tangle.

Charged on two counts, that of selling liquor and with permitting drunkenness in his house, George J. Cook was remanded after the taking of some evidence until a further session of the court this afternoon. R. C. Lowe acted for the defence, entering a plea of not guilty.

Case For Porsecution.

Chief Herbert Dawley entered the box for the prosecution. Witness testified that George Horan had been sworn in as a special constable and instructed on April 15 to proceed to the home of the accused at 528 Constance Avenue. Horan approached the house with a man named Prior, in sight of the witness. Prior was admitted, and later Prior came out and Horan went in. Subsequently Horan came out again and walked down the street with Cook. Meeting the Chief by arrangement in his office the special constable delivered over a bottle of brandy, for which he had paid with the sum of $10, in marked money given him by the Chief for that purpose, stated witness. The witness had been informed by Police Commissioner Spencer that the accused was suspected of selling liquor.

George Horan stated he was to be paid at the rate of $4 a day, and that he had worked one day, but had not yet been paid. As to the actions of the accused, witness stated he had visited the house with Prior, but had not been allowed to enter with his companion. The accused, stated witness, would admit only one at a time. He had gone in to the house later and paid $2.50, getting two drinks of rum in the bathroom, and coming away with a "Mickey." The "Mickey" was a small quantity of brandy.

Witness had paid with a marked $10 bill, and had received change from the hands of the accused, he stated.

"How long have you been a stool pigeon?" asked R. C. Lowe in cross-examination.

"Since April 15 last," replied witness.

"To Get Cook!"

"You had instructions to get Mr. Cook, by any means whatever?"

"Yes, by any means," replied the witness, adding in response to further questioning that he had applied for the work a year ago, and had been taken on at the date stated for the work of "getting" the accused.

Formerly witness said he had been engaged as a special constable at the Willows racetrack, and was a caretaker of the Mosaic Tile Company premises.

Alfred Prior, called to corroborate the testimony of Horan, did so in part, alleging further that he, too, had been served with liquor by the accused.

Wong Kee Sue, charged with being an alien in possession of firearms, namely a 32.40 Marlin rifle, was acquitted, evidence showing that the rifle was in the custody of his employer, Wong Yeun, who is a British subject. W. A. Brethour appeared for the accused.

PROPERTY OWNERS FAVOR COLLECTION

Esquimalt Ratepayers in Support of Council on Garbage Question

At a largely attended meeting of the Esquimalt Protective Property Owners' Association held last night in the Rex Theatre, Esquimalt, with Mrs. James Palmer in the chair, a resolution favoring the projected system of municipal garbage collection and disposal was passed.

This action, at variance with the statements of E. H. Anderson, who addressed the Council recently on the point, was carried by an overwhelming majority. Mr. Anderson had waited on the Council and made the statement that the association was "utterly opposed" to the garbage suggestions. This was repudiated warmly at the meeting last night, where it was stated Mr. Anderson had no authority to represent the association.

The association passed a resolution favoring the appointment of a public prosecutor who was a resident of the district and a competent man for the work, not stating any names, but merely the desirable qualifications.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

TO LOOK OVER FIELD.

The new mill of the Kleanza Co. Limited, at Usk, will be completed and in operation before June, according to John Willman, president and general manager of the company.

In speaking on mining developments of the company this season Mr. Willman said that George McKay, a mining expert at present employed in Utah, would be coming to Usk in June, for the purpose of examining and reporting on the company's mining properties, with a view to further development and the instalation of a concentrating plant. The completion of the hydro-electric plant at Kleanza Creek will be dependent upon the report received.

On Goat River.

Bill Vincent, who has spent the past Winter with Jerry Morgan prospecting on the Goat River, was in the city last week for supplies. He and his partner are now prospecting on one of the Goat River tributaries and report encouraging prospects. The report that Japanese miners had constructed a wingdam on Goat River preparatory to commencing sluicing operations he declares as unfounded.

Opinion on Cedar Creek.

The value of gold discoveries at Cedar Creek is still very uncertain, according to a letter received by Dr. J. F. Hogan, of this city, from Dr. F. Vere Agnew, of Williams Lake. Writing under date of April 6, Dr. Agnew says:

"As regards Cedar Creek, it is impossible to say at present how it will turn out. One rich discovery has been made, and gold has been found on three or four other claims in quantities sufficient to justify the most sanguine expectations, but that is all so far.

"The country around here has been blindly staked, mountains, valleys and everything, for a considerable distance, but what lies underneath the four feet or so of snow that covers the ground, nobody can tell yet, and it will be another month yet before any work can be started to find out.

"There is no doubt that a lot of people will come in during the next few months, but whether they will make money or go out broke is on the knees of the gods. Further, they will be scattered all over creation. It doesn't take many of these 80-acre leases to cover a deal of ground.

Coquahalla District.

F. J. Crossland, consulting engineer, who returned Saturday from a trip through the Coquahalla district reports that the amount of snow there is far above the normal, the oldtimers stating that they had never before seen so much snow at this time of the year.

Mr. Crossland, who travelled over a large tract of ground through the divide into the Siwash Creek drainage, stated that the gold occurrences in the district were good. He said that if the mines at present situated there were properly worked he was of the opinion that they could be made paying propositions.

"One of the greatest things which struck me was the number of closed stamp mills in the district," he said. "There are half a dozen such mills which have been abandoned owing to want of proper and economical management. If they were properly worked I believe they could be made to pay. This district is essentially a gold belt."

SUNDAY PLEBISCITE MAY 12 WILL NOT BIND POLICE BOARD

Mayor Refuses to Agree to Abide By Ballot

Council Files Church Meeting's Resolution; Inaccurate, Says Todd

Victoria electors will decide by ballot on May 12 whether they want the present strict Sunday closing regulations enforced longer, but they have no assurance from the Police Commission that their wishes will be put into effect.

The City Council last evening decided to submit a Sunday closing plebiscite, along with the new Johnson Street Bridge Loan By-Law, after Mayor Marchant, Chairman of the Police Board, had refused to state whether he and the other Police Commissioners would abide by the result of the plebiscite or not.

"Will the Police Commission abide by the plebiscite?" Alderman Leeming demanded.

"I'll ask them when I see them—I shall be pleased to do so," the Mayor retorted.

"But surely the Commissioners knew what they would do when they asked for a plebiscite," Alderman Leeming insisted.

"You have a communication—what do you want to do with it?" the Mayor asked abruptly, disregarding these questions.

"But this question deserves a better answer than that!" Alderman Woodward interjected. "Did the Police Board pass any resolution on the subject?"

"I am not aware of any," the Mayor replied. "It may be fairly stated in a general way that a plebiscite may be taken on this subject as it could be on the question of taxing improvements, without any binding effect on the Commissioners or the Council."

"Well I would give my word I would abide by the result of a plebiscite on the improvement tax," said Alderman Woodward.

"We would want that in writing," remarked Alderman Andros.

State Facts, Urges Todd.

The Council received and filed without discussion the resolution passed at the Metropolitan Methodist Church meeting Sunday demanding the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act. This action was taken after Alderman Todd had protested against the language of the resolution. "No one is attempting to overthrow the Sabbath as suggested in the resolution," he asserted. "The gentlemen who framed this resolution should stick to the facts in future."

The Council had before it a large petition asking for a Sunday closing plebiscite. The Council's decision to submit a plebiscite is subject to the legal sufficiency of this petition, which will be checked up by City Clerk E. W. Bradley.

MR. BOWSER ENDORSED

Victoria Conservatives Back Him Up in Leadership Decision.

W. J. Bowser, K. C., was endorsed last night by the Central Conservative Executive in his announced intention to retain the leadership of the party until the Conservative Provincial convention meets.

Kamloops Conservatives two weeks ago asked Mr. Bowser to resign now so that there will be no leader when the leadership question comes up. Mr. Bowser replied that the leadership was a trust given to him by the convention and that it is his duty to hand that trust back unsullied to the convention and to no other organization. This is the stand the Victoria Conservatives have endorsed.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO LEVY TAX ON IMPROVEMENTS HERE

No Plebiscite on Tax Issue This Year, Majority Rules

Weary Aldermen Postpone Tax Rate Decision; Ask Advice

Improvements will be taxed in Victoria this year and the electors will not be given an opportunity to vote on the levy.

The City Council decided this definitely last night after hearing Dr. Adam Shortt's statement in favor of improvement taxation, but it left the tax rate undecided. It had been planned to pass the annual budget and fix the tax rate on land and improvements, but at 11 o'clock debate on the subject had just started, so the Mayor and aldermen deferred action, until their next meeting.

Alderman E. S. Woodward started the improvement tax debate when the Mayor returned for the Council's reconsideration of the large petition asking for a plebiscite on the proposed levy. Alderman Woodward urged that the prayer of the petitioners should be granted immediately, or at least that a plebiscite should be submitted at the next annual election. Until the voters had decided the issue themselves, he said, the present taxation system should stand.

Use Shortt's Influence.

"It is no news to me that Dr. Shortt is in favor of a tax on improvements," he said. "My friends the enemy can use all the force of his advice if a plebiscite is taken."

The Council lined up in a 6-5 vote against granting the request of the petitioners as follows:

In favor of granting the request of the petitioners:

The Mayor and Aldermen Woodward, Dewar, Harvey and Andros.

Against granting the plebiscite:

Aldermen Patrick, Leeming, Hayward, Todd, Perry and Gillespié.

Later on in the evening Alderman Joseph Patrick's motion, placing the Council on record as favoring taxation of improvements was carried on this vote:

For the Patrick motion: Aldermen Patrick, Leeming, Hayward, Todd and Perry.

Against: The Mayor and Aldermen Woodward, Harvey, and Andros.

Alderman Gillespie, who is known to favor improvement taxation, and Alderman Dewar, who is against it were out of the room at the time of the vote, but as they were "paired" the ballot was not halted on account of their absence.

The Council discussed the current finance situation for a short time, but finally, just before adjournment, asked the Finance Committee to advise it how to refund sinking fund shortages and bank overdrafts.

TO ARBITRATE CITY FIREMEN'S WAGES

Firemen and Council to Name Representatives

City firemen's wages will be adjusted by a board of arbitration appointed by the consent of the City Council and the firemen themselves, as was forecast in these columns last week. The Council agreed to this plan last evening after hearing that the firemen intended, if necessary, to ask the Federal Minister of Labor to appoint a board of conciliation to consider their wages.

The board which will go into the wage dispute will consist of three members—one appointed by the Council, one by the firemen and a neutral chairman. The Council's representative will be appointed by the Civic Public Utilities Committee.

Alderman Perry was asked to serve and, although he declined at first to act, he later agreed. On account of his reluctance, however, the appointment of a Council representative was left to the Public Utilities Committee.

Alderman Hayward pointed out that firemen's wages were the only city wages cut this year, although the work of the firemen was most hazardous.

SAYS BRIDGE MONEY WILL BE SUFFICIENT

Loan of $110,000 Enough, Bar Accidents, Says Preston

Unless unforeseen difficulties arise, the sum of $110,000, provided for in the new Johnson Street Bride By-Law, will be sufficient to complete the bridge, the City Council was formally advised by City Engineer, F. M. Preston, last night.

In the $110,000, Mr. Preston explained, an amount of $10,000 was included for contingencies as well as $25,000 for the purchase of land needed in the construction of the bridge.

"Unless anything unforeseen arises $110,000 will be sufficient," Mr. Preston wrote. At the same time, Mr. Preston added, Bridge Engineer Motley, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, always added one hundred per cent. to his estimate of bridge construction costs.

Some members seemed to think that, if the bridge land cost more than $25,000, the $100,000 might not be sufficient. As the new Bridge Loan By-Law had already been advertised, however, it was impossible to increase the sum.

At the suggestion of Alderman A. E. Todd, chief critic of the bridge project, the Council decided to publish an appeal to the ratepayers to support the new Bridge Loan By-Law."

EXTEND TAX BASIS AND HELP DELINQUENTS TO PAY UP, SHORTT URGES

commenced. In Eastern Canada, he said, cities would have gone into bankruptcy long ago if they had been confined to the narrow limits of taxation in force in Victoria. As an illustration of the broader taxation in force in the East, he stated that in Ottawa he paid land taxes, improvement taxes and municipal income taxes. On his Ottawa land, 100 by 100 feet in extent, and on his home he paid about $600 to the city annually, he said. In addition, he paid $120 in municipal income taxes. If his home were in Victoria, however, he would have to pay about $220 in City taxes annually.

Dr. Shortt then quoted exhaustive figures to show the city's present financial position in comparison with other British Columbia cities.

Inflated Assessment.

"The assessment of Victoria is four times the sales value of your property," Dr. Shortt proceeded. "The cream of your reverted property is sold easily, but you must remember that you have large quantities of land which will not find such ready purchasers, and in your accounts arrears of taxes are put down as assets of 100 cents on the dollar, as are the reverted lands themselves. If you keep on in this way and can sell only the cream of your reverted lands, you are heading towards a terrible deficit. You seem to be getting a good deal of revenue from your reverted lands, but, as I said before, you are selling only the cream. You are piling up a huge bill which the city has nothing to pay with but taxes. When a situation like that is produced you can readily understand its effect on Victoria's chances of being considered as coming back. This condition is worse than in any other city in British Columbia, and yet the City has ample resources to take care of these charges and there need not have been any of these deficits at all. Why, if we had this system in Ontario cities they would have been bankrupt long ago.

Two Curses.

"There have been two curses in this city—first, reckless local improvements. It is like a man buying a Rolls-Royce when he only needs and can only afford a Ford. When he finds he can't pay for it there's no use for him to say that he was charged too much for the Rolls-Royce. It was worth what he paid for it, but the point is he cannot afford it. When I look at your improvements I say that you have bought a Rolls-Royce when you should have bought a Ford. You have got good value for your money. But now you have to pay for it.

"Very naturally people who escape payment do not wish to be dragged into this business of paying. Indeed, were I a holder of improved property and were considering the matter from a purely selfish standpoint I would kick like a steer against further taxes, but the fact is this: The others who are bearing this cost are paying them not out of the land, the values of which is very low now, but out of their other assets."

Let Them Pay.

"They are the people who demanded the Rolls-Royce why shouldn't they pay for it?" Alderman Woodward demanded.

"Not so," replied Dr. Shortt, who answered Alderman Woodward's question later. "Now the fact is," he continued, "that land holders are paying their taxes out of their pockets and not out of their land. The question is should they have to finance Victoria when there are other people with handsome incomes and big business in buildings? I am not discussing the single tax question, for this is a questio nof the financial condition of Victoria.

"The most fatal thing that brought about these conditions was the moratorium which struck the West. I appreciate the position of the man who doesn't wish to be dragged into this, but if the whole property of the city is involved it is a different matter. The position of these people is that of a man who sees a fire down the street and who says he is not interested in it because it is not hurting his house; but if that fire is spreading up the street would it not be better to stop it before it is burning up the walls of his home?

Extend Tax Basis.

"I will propose in my report that the city of Victoria, to recover her financial position, should extend its taxation basis, bring in all the resources she can get and try to stop this fire which is spreading up the street, destroying one man's property after the other. If you do not come to the rescue, you will find that you are not getting off with just the loss of revenue. You are going to see your capital go under, so it is to your interest surely to try and help the city before it reaches a still worse condition.

"How are you going to do this? My first proposition is that you broaden the basis of taxation, transfer some of the load to those who can better bear it than the people who are now giving up their property. As for wiping out old obligations, I have nothing but commendation for the work of the Local Improvement Commission, but it is a different matter when it comes to the legitimate charges. If you are going to force the present process forward two things will happen: You will get a smaller and smaller proportion of your revenue, and shoulder a larger and larger proportion of absolute debt until the city reaches a far worse conditon than now, but if you can, by any means whatever, encourage people to resume possession of their property or to hold it while waiting for the return of better conditions, you will have gone a long way towards the solution of your problems.

Sink or Rise Together.

"You will never find the prosperity that comes to one section of the community and leaves the other stranded. The economic community is bound so closely together that conditions of prosperity or depression affect the whole. Half the community or half the world, for that matter, cannot go forward, ignoring the other half. You cannot have a corporate body like a city, in which one element is going up and the other goes down.

"My proposition is simple, and it is not a panacea. Many people cannot resume possession of their property under any conditions, but you can encourage others to resume ownership and still others to hold on to their land if you extend the period of payment of arrears, say, for fifteen years on these reverted lands, because it is hopeless to try and pay back this money in ten years when the life of many public works which this money is paying for is from thirty to forty years.

The Psychological Angle.

"Then you must consider also another important thing, the psychological element of the situation. A few years ago, in the boom days, no businessman in the West could see anything but continued prosperity. Now they can see no daylight at all. But there is no occasion for this talk of disaster. By giving people a real chance to hold their land and pay their taxes you will afford them encouragement. You will introduce a psychological element which will be of great value. A fifteen-year extension—this to apply also to lands now being paid for under the ten-year instalment plan which will not see the end of the public improvements of the city whose life is very long would help a great deal.

Extend Payment Time.

"I will have to recommend in my report that in the case of these millions of dollars worth of reverted lands that you adopt some such system as extending the time of payment; that you send out circulars to the former holders asking them whether they would be willing to pay the accumulated taxes over a period of fifteen years. As for people who are faced with huge local improvement charges, give them an opportunity of extension also, so as to prevent their land from reverting, and fix the interest on these payments at a minimum, to help them to meet the charges. I suggest that you should finance this scheme by serial bonds. The interest on these payments, of course, would be governed by what the city could sell these bonds for, but you should not grasp this opportunity to add, say, one per cent in interest simply to make some money."

"What Dr. Shortt proposes is exactly what was provided for in the relief bill of 1918," Alderman Todd declared, "but the Council changed its mind at the last minute, so that the people were forced to meet instalments under the ten-year plan every year."

Monthly Tax Collections.

"If you demand a very large sum of money from people all at once it is hard for them to pay it," Dr. Shortt pursued, "but if you take it gradually they meet it by adjusting their other expenditures accordingly. Thus it is desirable that your taxes should be paid monthly and it is also desirable that you should change your fiscal year as the Dominion Government has done. Under your present system a lot of new men come into your Council in January with a number of ideas about bringing the millenium into effect, and it takes them some time to discover that the job is not so easy as they thought. They should have time to adjust themselves to conditions and get some of their theories off their stomachs. Thus it would be best for the city to start its year on May 1. If this were done, things would not be disarranged in the first four months of the year, because the Council would have settled down to policies carefully considered and modified by the experience of the old members. For instance, if you fixed your financial year as starting on May 1 this year the first four months of next year would be all part of it and things would go on normally from January 1 to May 1, 1923.

Would Ease Burden.

"As for monthly tax collections, if people got into the habit of paying their taxes in monthly instalments they would grow to consider them in the light of regular and serious contributions towards the cost of services rendered. Those who could and who wished to do so could pay their taxes in a lump sum on May 1 when they would be due. Your present system of borrowing money from the bank until your taxes are collected in the Fall is disastrous on account of the huge bank borrowings which it involves.

"Big corporations have found that the monthly collection of charges, such as light and telephone bills, is infinitely more satisfactory than the old system of annual payments. If people paid their taxes month by month they would have no nightmare at the end of the year. They would not come to a point when they would be faced by a huge charge and would despair of paying it. Adjusting themselves to monthly payments, they would give up a few cocktails and a few movies during the year and at the end of it they would face no crisis. True, this system does involve some extra book-keeping, but this expense is not great when you consider the returns that are secured by it.

Sinking Fund Wrong.

"I have little to say about sinking funds, except that sinking funds are bad in principle. Serial bond issues form much the best system of meeting obligations.

Face Situation.

"It is true that anticipated tax collection shortages cannot be levied against, but you should face the situation each year by providing for the anticipated shortages in your contingency funds. You should not represent this as a fund against uncollected taxes, but in the light, as I say, of a contingency fund."

"Instead of these contingency funds, why not levy for the deficit to cover the deficits of the past year?" asked Alderman Todd.

"The deficits of the past year," Dr. Shortt asserted, "should enter automatically into the obligations of the present year. Whatever is over or under each year should be credited or debited to the next year's financing. But don't dodge the issue by refusing to look ahead and take into consideration what you know is bound to happen."

Questioned on the advisability of levying a municipal income tax here, Dr. Shortt said income taxation was universally fair. It was argued that the Federal, Provincial and municipal governments could not all collect income taxes, but he could not see that this contention was reasonable. The money came out of the same pockets in any case, he remarked.

Collecting Taxes.

"Would you favor making the payment of taxes on land a personal responsibility and obligation?" Mayor Marchant asked.

"All taxation experts agree that a municipality can only reasonably take the land and improvements on which taxes are delinquent," said Dr. Shortt, "and if the municipality sells this land and improvement for less than they are worth it should not go after a man's other assets."

Alderman Leeming recalled a question which he had asked Dr. Shortt a few days ago, as follows:

"Is it sound to include in the year's revenue the amount expected from arrears in taxes?" Dr. Shortt had replied "Yes, provided all the unpaid bills and debts of the last year for current account are included in the estimates."

"I believe," Dr. Shortt concluded, "that a committee of your City Council should confer with officials and consider what is the actual value of your tax arrears instead of considering them as worth one hundred cents on the dollar. Your assets are out of joint and mislead the people. Other municipalities fix the real value of these arrears."

Was Troubled WITH HER STOMACH For Five Years

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millerdale, Sask., writes:—"I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful to your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better.

"I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I had four doctors attend me, but they did me no good. I was in no pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

"This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken, however, he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out a little every day, but could not go alone I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout.

"I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework.

"You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."
