SECTION 19. AMENDMENT. Section 15-40.1-06 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

<sup>3</sup> 15-40.1-06. Declaration of legislative intent - Educational support per ~~per~~ student - School district equalization factor - Limitations.

1. It is the intent of the legislative assembly, not considering any separate and supplemental payments as may be provided by law, to support elementary and secondary education in this state from state funds based on the educational cost per ~~per~~ student. In determining the educational cost per ~~per~~ student, the following criteria may not be used:
  - a. Expenditures for capital outlay for buildings and sites, or debt service.
  - b. Expenditures from school activities and school lunch programs.
  - c. Expenditures for the cost of transportation, including the cost of schoolbuses.
2. a. The educational support per ~~per~~ student during the first year of the ~~1991-93~~ 1993-95 biennium must be one thousand five hundred ~~fifty-two~~ seventy dollars and for the second year of the biennium the educational support per ~~per~~ student must be one thousand six hundred ~~eight~~ thirty-six dollars and is the basis for calculating grants-in-aid on a ~~per-per~~ per student basis as provided in sections 15-40.1-07 and 15-40.1-08.
- b. School districts operating high schools not meeting the minimum curriculum as provided in section 15-41-24 or the teacher qualifications in section 15-41-25 must be supported in the amount of

- c. School districts operating high schools that are not accredited pursuant to the accreditation standards adopted by the superintendent of public instruction on July 1, 1991, or that become unaccredited in any succeeding school year must be supported for the 1991-92 school year or for the first year that they become unaccredited in the amount of the educational support ~~per pupil~~ student established in subdivision a, which is the basis for calculating grants-in-aid on a ~~per-pupil~~ per student basis as provided in section 15-40.1-07, but those school districts are not entitled to the amounts resulting from applying the factors in that section. The amount of aid a school district is entitled to under this subsection for each high school that is not accredited must be reduced by two hundred dollars times the number of ~~pupils~~ students in the school for the second school year that the high school is unaccredited, and an additional two hundred dollars per ~~pupil~~ student in the unaccredited school for each additional year the school remains unaccredited. Any high school that becomes accredited is entitled to the ~~per-pupil~~ per student payments provided for in section 15-40.1-07 for the entire school year in which the school becomes accredited.
  - d. School districts operating elementary schools that are not accredited pursuant to the accreditation standards adopted by the superintendent of public instruction on July 1, 1992, or that become unaccredited in any succeeding school year must be supported for the 1992-93 school year or for the first year that they become unaccredited in the amount of the educational support ~~per pupil~~ student established in subdivision a, which is the basis for calculating grants-in-aid on a ~~per-pupil~~ per student basis as provided in section 15-40.1-08, except that the amount of aid that a school district is entitled to under this subsection for each elementary school that is unaccredited must be reduced by two hundred dollars times the number of ~~pupils~~ students in the school each year that the elementary school is unaccredited. Any elementary school that becomes accredited is entitled to the ~~per-pupil~~ per student payments provided for in section 15-40.1-08 for the entire school year in which the school becomes accredited.
3. In determining the amount of ~~payment~~ payments due school districts for ~~per-pupil~~ per student and transportation aid under this section, the amount of per student aid and transportation aid for which a school district is eligible must be added together, and from that total, the following amounts must be subtracted from the amount of such aid:
- a. The product of ~~twenty-one~~ twenty-three mills for the ~~1989-90~~ 1993-94 school year and ~~twenty-two~~ twenty-four mills for each year thereafter times the latest available net assessed and equalized valuation of property of the school district.
  - b. The amount that the unobligated general fund balance of a school ~~district's interim fund~~ district on the preceding June thirtieth is in excess of ~~the amount authorized by section 57-15-27~~ three-fourths of the actual expenditures, plus an additional twenty thousand dollars.

4. No school district may receive foundation payments beyond the October payment unless the following reports have been filed with the superintendent of public instruction:
  - a. Annual average daily membership report.
  - b. Annual school district financial report.
  - c. The September tenth fall enrollment report.

Adjustments must be made in the subsequent year according to a comparison between the average daily membership for the year for which the adjusted payment is being made and the year preceding the year for which the adjusted payment is being made, whichever is greater, for grade levels that existed in both years. The greater of the two preceding years' average daily membership must be used in computing any adjustment in a district's foundation aid payments. If any statement is disallowed in whole or in part, notice ~~thereof~~ of the disallowance and the names of students who are disallowed shall be reported to the superintendent of public instruction and to the district filing the statement. Any district may appeal to the superintendent of public instruction from the determination of the county superintendent of schools on or before September fifteenth in the year in which the determination is made. SECTION 10. If publication is delayed due to technological problems or lack of funds, nonemergency rules, unless otherwise provided, become effective on the first day of the month after the month publication would have occurred but for the delay.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 28-32-03.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

28-32-03.1. Administrative code and code supplement.

1. The office of the legislative council shall compile, index, and publish all rules filed pursuant to this chapter in a publication which must be known as the North Dakota Administrative Code, in this chapter referred to as the code. The code must also contain all objections filed with the office of the legislative council by the committee on administrative rules pursuant to section 28-32-03.3. The code must be printed or otherwise duplicated in looseleaf form. The office of the legislative council shall revise the code, or any part thereof, as often as the legislative council deems necessary.
2. The office of the legislative council shall compile and publish the North Dakota Administrative Code supplement, in this chapter referred to as the code supplement, the month after the month that rules are submitted to the office of the legislative council for publication unless technological problems or lack of funds prevent the publication at that time. Any delayed supplements must be published as soon as the technological problems are resolved or the necessary funds are available.
  - a. The code supplement must contain all rules filed with the office of the legislative council since the compilation and publication of the preceding issue of the code supplement. The office of the legislative council may establish a due date by which rules must be submitted by an agency for publication during any month.
  - b. The code supplement must contain all objections filed with the office of the legislative council by the committee on administrative rules pursuant to section 28-32-03.3.
  - c. The code supplement must be printed or duplicated in the same style as the code so as to permit changes to be inserted as pages in the code in lieu of the pages containing superseded material and to permit additions to the code.
3. The office of the legislative council, with the consent of the adopting agency, may omit from the code or code supplement any rule the publication of which would be unduly cumbersome, expensive, or otherwise inexpedient, if the rule in printed or duplicated form is made available on application to the agency, and if the code or code supplement contains a notice stating the general subject matter of the omitted rule and stating how a copy may be obtained.
4. The code must be arranged, indexed, and printed or duplicated in a manner to permit separate publication of portions thereof relating to individual agencies. ~~An agency may make arrangements with the office of the legislative council for the printing of print as many copies of such separate portions of the code as it may require. The cost of any such separate portions must be paid by the agency. If the office of the legislative council does not publish the code supplement due to technological problems or lack of funds, the agency whose rules would have been published in the code supplement shall provide a copy of the rules to~~ any person upon request. The agency may charge for the actual cost of providing copies of the rules.

Such cost must be the approximate cost of publication and distribution. However, a uniform price per page or group of pages may be established without regard to differences in the cost of publishing different parts of the code, ~~revisions thereto, and the code supplement.~~

SECTION 5. TRANSFERS. The director of the office of management and budget and the state treasurer shall make such transfers of funds between line items of appropriations for the legislative council as may be requested by the chairman of the council or the chairman's designee upon the finding by the chairman or designee that the nature of studies and duties assigned to the council requires the transfers in properly carrying on the council's functions and duties. The director of the office of management and budget and the state treasurer shall similarly make transfers of funds between the line items for the fifty-third and fifty-fourth legislative assemblies, upon request by the chairman of the legislative council or the chairman's designee upon the finding by the chairman or designee that the transfers are required for the legislative assembly to carry on its functions and duties.

10-06.1-20. Failure to file report - Penalty. Every corporation or limited liability company which fails to file any report required under this chapter or willfully files false information on any report required under this chapter is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

10-06.1-21. Secretary of state to transmit information of noncompliance. If the secretary of state finds from the annual report that the corporation or limited liability company is not in compliance with the requirements of section 10-06.1-12, the secretary of state shall transmit such information to the attorney general and the governor.

10-06.1-22. Tax commissioner to compare returns and reports. Each year the tax commissioner shall select at random at least five percent of the income tax returns filed by corporations or limited liability companies which report on income from farming or ranching operations and shall compare such returns with the annual report required to be filed with the secretary of state by section 10-06.1-17 and shall forward any apparent violations to the attorney general and the governor.

10-06.1-23. Attorney general to conduct random compliance program. Each year the attorney general shall select at random at least five percent of the total number of corporations and limited liability companies authorized by this chapter for requests for information to determine compliance with this chapter. For such purpose, the attorney general may request affidavits, share transfer records, certified copies of marriage licenses, birth certificates, deeds, leases, and such other records and documents necessary to determine compliance.

10-06.1-24. Enforcement - Penalty.

1. The register of deeds shall mail or deliver a copy of every instrument filed or recorded within thirty days after the instrument is recorded, to the attorney general if the instrument documents evidence of a lease agreement or purchase agreement pursuant to subsection 6 or 7 or if the instrument conveys the title to farmland or ranchland to a corporation or limited liability company. The attorney general shall commence an action in the district court of the county in which the substantial portion of farmland or ranchland used in violation of this chapter is situated if the attorney general has reason to believe that any person is violating this chapter. The attorney general shall file for record with the register of deeds of each county in which any portion of the land is located a notice of the pendency of the action. If the court finds that the land in question is being held in violation of this chapter, or that a corporation or limited liability company is conducting the business of farming or ranching in violation of this chapter, the court shall enter an order so declaring. The attorney general shall file any such order for record with the register of deeds of each county in which any portion of the land is located. Thereafter, the corporation or limited liability company shall, within the time set by the court not to exceed one year from the date of the court's final order, divest itself of any farming or ranching land owned or leased by it in violation of this chapter, and cease all farming or ranching operations. Any corporation or limited liability company that fails to comply with the court's order is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars and may be dissolved or terminated by the secretary of state.
2. The divestment period is deemed to be a covenant running with the title to the land against any corporate or limited liability company grantee, corporate or limited liability company successor, or corporation or limited liability company assignee of the corporation or limited liability company not authorized to do business under this chapter.
3. Any land not divested within the divestment period prescribed must be sold at public sale in the manner prescribed by law for the foreclosure of real estate mortgage by action. In addition, any prospective or threatened violation may be enjoined by an action brought by the attorney general in the manner provided by law, including enjoining the corporation or limited liability company from completing performance on the remainder of any leasehold which is in violation of this chapter.
4. Subject to the divestiture requirements of subsections 5, 6, and 7, a domestic or foreign corporation or limited liability company may acquire farmland or ranchland as security for indebtedness, by process of law in the collection of debts, or by any procedure for the enforcement of a lien or claim thereon, whether created by mortgage or otherwise.
5. Unless retention of the farmland or ranchland is permitted under subsection 6 or 7, all farmland or ranchland acquired as security for indebtedness, in the collection of debts, or by the enforcement of a lien or claim shall be disposed of within three years after acquiring ownership, if the acquisition would otherwise violate this chapter.

6. The disposition requirement does not apply to a corporation or limited liability company that has acquired title to the land through the process of foreclosure of a mortgage, or a deed from a mortgagor instead of a foreclosure, if, by the expiration of one month after what is or what would have been the redemption period of the mortgage if the mortgage had been foreclosed, that corporation or limited liability company leases to the prior mortgagor from whom it was acquired, with an option to purchase, and if documents evidencing the lease agreement have been filed with the register of deeds of each county in which the land is located. A copy of a notice of lease is sufficient evidence. The exemption in this subsection applies for only five years and then only if the property has been appraised in accordance with subsection 8. The annual lease payments required of the tenant may not exceed seven percent of the appraised value.
7. The disposition requirement does not apply to a corporation or limited liability company that has acquired title to the land through the process of foreclosure of a mortgage, or a deed from the mortgagor instead of foreclosure, if, by the expiration of one month after what is or what would have been the redemption period of the mortgage if the mortgage had been foreclosed, that corporation or limited liability company contracts for the sale of the land to the prior mortgagor from whom it was acquired, and if documents evidencing the purchase agreement have been filed with the register of deeds of each county in which the land is located. A copy of a notice of the contract for deed is sufficient evidence. An exemption under this subsection is valid only if an appraisal has been made in accordance with subsection 8, and if it is valid, the exemption is unlimited in duration. The sale price may not exceed the price determined by the appraisers.
8. If an appraisal is required, the appraisal must be made by three independent appraisers, one selected by the corporation or limited liability company, one selected by the prior mortgagor, and the third selected by the first two appraisers.
9. If a corporation or limited liability company holds land pending divestiture, and the holding is not otherwise governed by this section, the land must be leased to persons actually engaged in farming or ranching and a disposal may not be to a corporation or limited liability company unless ownership by that corporation or limited liability company is authorized under this chapter.
10. Any corporation or limited liability company continuing to violate this chapter is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars and may be dissolved or terminated by the attorney general in accordance with the laws of this state.

10-06.1-25. Private enforcement. This chapter may be enforced in the same manner as provided in section 10-06.1-24 by any corporation or limited liability company authorized to engage in farming or ranching by this chapter or any resident of legal age of a county in which the land owned or leased by a corporation or limited liability company in violation of this chapter is located. If such action is successful, all costs of the action must be assessed against the defendant and a reasonable attorney fee must be allowed the plaintiff. If judgment is rendered for the defendant, such costs and a reasonable attorney fee for the defendant must be paid by the plaintiff.

10-06.1-26. Protection of minority shareholders. If a shareholder owns less than fifty percent of the shares of a farming or ranching corporation doing business under this chapter, and if the terms and conditions for the repurchase of those shares by the corporation or by the other shareholders are not set forth in the bylaws or the instrument which transferred the shares to the shareholder, or are not the subject of a shareholders' agreement or an agreement between that shareholder and the corporation, then the disposition of such shares must be determined by this section upon the withdrawal of the shareholder. Any shareholder who desires to withdraw from the corporation shall first offer the shares for sale to the remaining shareholders in proportion to the shares owned by them. In the event not all of the shareholders wish to purchase the shares, any one shareholder may purchase all of the shares of the withdrawing shareholder. In the event no shareholder desires to purchase the shares of a withdrawing shareholder, then the corporation may purchase the shares. If the corporation chooses not to purchase the shares of the withdrawing shareholder, then the withdrawing shareholder may sell the shares to any other person eligible to be a shareholder. If the withdrawing shareholder is unable to sell the shares to any other person eligible to become a shareholder, then the withdrawing shareholder may bring an action in district court to dissolve the corporation. Upon a finding that the withdrawing shareholder cannot sell the shares at a fair price, the court shall enter an order directing that the corporation itself or any or all of the remaining shareholders pro rata or otherwise shall have twelve months from the date of the court's order to purchase the shares of the withdrawing shareholder at a fair price as determined by the court and that if the shares of the withdrawing shareholder are not completely purchased at said price, the corporation shall be dissolved and the assets of the corporation shall be first used to pay all the liabilities of the corporation with the remaining net assets to be distributed pro rata to the shareholders in proportion to their ownership of shares. For the purpose of this section, a "fair" price for the shares of the withdrawing shareholder must be determined as though the shares were being valued for federal gift tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code.

10-06.1-27. Protection of minority members. If a member owns less than fifty percent of the membership interest of a farming or ranching limited liability company doing business under this chapter, and if the terms and conditions for the repurchase of that membership interest by the limited liability company or by the other members are not set forth in the operating agreement, the instrument which transferred the membership interest to the member, or are not the subject of a business continuation agreement or an agreement between that member and the limited liability company, then the disposition of such membership interest must be determined by this section upon the withdrawal of the member. Any member who desires to withdraw from the limited liability company shall first offer the membership interest for sale to the remaining members in proportion to the membership interests owned by them. If not all of the members wish to purchase the membership interest, any one member can purchase all of the membership interest of the withdrawing member. If no member desires to purchase the membership interest of the withdrawing member, then the limited liability company itself may purchase the membership interest. If the limited liability company chooses not to purchase the membership interest of the withdrawing member, then the withdrawing member may sell the membership interest to any other person eligible to be a member. In the event the withdrawing member is unable to sell the membership interest to any other person eligible to become a member, then the withdrawing member may bring an action in district court to terminate the limited liability company. Upon a finding that the withdrawing member cannot sell the membership interest at a fair price, the court shall enter an order directing that the limited liability company itself or any of the remaining members pro rata or otherwise, shall have twelve months from the date of the court's order to purchase the membership interest of the withdrawing member at a fair price as determined by the court and that if the membership interest of the withdrawing member is not completely purchased at said price, the limited liability company shall be dissolved and the assets of the limited liability company shall be first used to pay all liabilities of the limited liability company with the remaining net assets to be distributed pro rata to the members in proportion to their membership interest ownership. For the purpose of this section, a "fair" price for the membership interest of the withdrawing member must be determined as though the membership interest was being valued for federal gift tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code.

A corporation shall convert any of the records referred to in subsection 4 upon the request of a person entitled to inspect them, and the expense of the conversion shall be borne by the person who bears the expense of copying pursuant to subsection 7 10.   4. After the proposed action has been approved by the board and, if necessary, the shareholders, the corporation shall send to all shareholders who have complied with subsection 3 and to all shareholders entitled to dissent if no shareholder vote was required, a notice that contains:
    - a. The address to which a demand for payment and share certificates must be sent in order to obtain payment and the date by which they must be received;

  5. In order to receive the fair value of shares, a dissenting shareholder must demand payment and deposit certificated shares within thirty days after the notice was given, but the dissenter retains all other rights of a shareholder until the proposed action takes effect.
  6. After the corporate action takes effect, or after the corporation receives a valid demand for payment, whichever is later, the corporation shall remit to each dissenting shareholder who has complied with subsections 3, 4, and 5, the amount the corporation estimates to be the fair value of the shares, plus interest, accompanied by:

Otherwise, a dissenter is entitled only to the amount remitted by the corporation.

The jurisdiction of the court is plenary and exclusive. The court may appoint appraisers, with powers and authorities the court deems proper, to receive evidence on and recommend the amount of the fair value of the shares. The court shall determine whether the shareholder or other shareholders in question have fully complied with the requirements of this section, and shall determine the fair value of the shares, taking into account any and all factors the court finds relevant, computed by any method or combination of methods that the court, in its discretion, sees fit to use, whether or not used by the corporation or by a dissenter. The fair value of the shares as determined by the court is binding on all shareholders, wherever located. A dissenter is entitled to judgment for the amount by which the fair value of the shares as determined by the court, plus interest, exceeds the amount, if any, remitted under subsections 6, 7, and 8, but shall not be liable to the corporation for the amount, if any, by which the amount, if any, remitted to the dissenter under subsections 6, 7, and 8 exceeds the fair value of the shares as determined by the court, plus interest.

These fees and expenses may also be assessed against a person who has acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith in bringing the proceeding, and may be awarded to a party injured by those actions.
13. The court may award, in its discretion, fees and expenses to an attorney for the dissenters out of the amount awarded to the dissenters, if any.

Policies and procedures on brokerage placement practices. Each banking institution exercising investment discretion with respect to an account must adopt and follow written policies and procedures intended to ensure that its brokerage placement practices comply with all applicable laws and regulations. Among other relevant matters, the written policies and procedures should address where appropriate:

1. The selection of persons to effect securities transactions and the evaluation of the reasonableness of any brokerage commissions paid to such persons.
2. The acquisition of any services or products, including research services, in return for brokerage commissions.
3. The allocation of research or other services among accounts, including those which did not generate commissions to pay for the research or other services.

4. The need, in appropriate instances, to make disclosures concerning the policies and procedures to prospective and existing customers.

Administration of fiduciary powers.

1. The board of directors is responsible for the proper exercise of fiduciary powers by the banking institution. All pertinent matters, including the determination of policies, the investment and disposition of property held in a fiduciary capacity, and the direction and review of the actions of all officers, employees, and committees used by the banking institution in the exercise of its fiduciary powers, are the responsibility of the board. In discharging this responsibility, the board of directors may assign, by action duly entered in the minutes, the administration of any of the banking institution's fiduciary powers as it may consider proper to assign to its directors, officers, employees, or committees as it may designate.
2. No fiduciary account may be accepted without the prior approval of the board of directors, or of the directors, officers, or committees to whom the board may have designated the performance of that responsibility. A written record must be made of all acceptances and of the relinquishment or closing out of all fiduciary accounts. Upon the acceptance of an account for which the banking institution has investment responsibilities, a prompt review of the assets must be made. The board must ensure that at least once during every calendar year, and within fifteen months of the last review, all the assets held in or for each fiduciary account where the banking institution has investment responsibilities are reviewed to determine the advisability of retaining or disposing of the trust assets.
3. All officers and employees taking part in the operating of trust activities must be adequately bonded.
4. Every banking institution exercising fiduciary powers must designate, employ, or retain legal counsel who is readily available to pass upon fiduciary matters and to advise the banking institution as to its trust activities.
5. Every banking institution exercising fiduciary powers must adopt written policies and procedures to ensure that the federal securities laws are complied with in connection with any decision or recommendation to purchase or sell any security. The policies and procedures, in particular, must ensure the banking institution may not use inside information in connection with any decision or recommendation to purchase or sell any security.

Books and accounts.

1. Every banking institution exercising fiduciary powers must keep its fiduciary records separate and distinct from other records of the banking institution. All fiduciary records necessary for reporting purposes must be maintained for such time as to enable the banking institution to furnish such information or reports with the commissioner. The fiduciary records must contain full information relative to each account.

2. Every banking institution must keep an adequate record of all pending litigation to which it is a party in concerning its exercise of fiduciary powers.
3. A banking institution must retain the records required for a period of three years from the later of the termination of the fiduciary account relationship to which the records relate or of litigation relating to the account.

Audit of trust activities. A committee of directors, exclusive of any active officers of the bank, must at least once during each calendar year and within fifteen months of the last audit, make suitable audits of the trust activities or cause suitable audits to be made by auditors responsible to the board of directors, and must ascertain whether the trust activities have been administered in accordance with law and sound fiduciary principles. The board of directors may instead of the periodic audit, adopt an adequate continuous audit system. A report of the audits and examination required under this section, together with any action taken, must be noted in the minutes of the board of directors.

Uninvested or undistributed funds. Uninvested or undistributed funds held by a banking institution in a fiduciary capacity must not be held uninvested or undistributed any longer than is reasonable for the proper management of the account. Each banking institution exercising fiduciary powers must adopt and follow written policies and procedures intended to ensure that the maximum rate of return available for trust-quality, short-term investments is obtained consistent with the requirements of the governing instrument or law. The policies and procedures must take into consideration all relevant factors, including the anticipated return that could be obtained while the cash remains uninvested or undistributed, the cost of investing the funds, and the anticipated need for the funds.

Self-dealing.

1. Funds held by a banking institution as fiduciary may not be invested in stock or obligations of, or property acquired from, the banking institution or its directors, officers, or employees, or individuals with whom there exists such a connection, or organizations in which there exists such an interest, as affects the exercise of the best judgment of the banking institution in acquiring the property, or in stock or obligations of, or property acquired from, affiliates of the banking institution or their directors, officers, or employees, unless authorized by the instrument creating the relationship or as authorized by law.
2.   - d. The prevention of cruelty to children and animals.
12. A limited liability company may pay pensions, retirement allowances, and compensation for past services to and for the benefit of, and establish, maintain, continue, and carry out, wholly or partially at the expense of the limited liability company, employee or incentive benefit plans, trusts, and provisions to or for the benefit of, any or all of its and its related limited liability companies' managers, governors, employees, and agents and the families, dependents, and beneficiaries of any of them. It may indemnify and purchase and maintain insurance for and on behalf of a fiduciary of any of these employee benefit and incentive plans, trusts, and provisions.
13. A limited liability company may participate in any capacity in the promotion, organization, ownership, management, and operation of any organization or in any transaction, undertaking, or arrangement that the participating limited liability company would have power to conduct by itself, whether or not the participation involves sharing or delegation of control with or to others.
14. A limited liability company may provide for its benefit life insurance and other insurance with respect to the services of any or all of its managers, governors, employees, and agents, or on the life of a member for the purpose of acquiring at the death of the member any or all membership interests in the limited liability company owned by the member.
15. A limited liability company may have, alter at its pleasure, and use a limited liability company seal as provided in section 10-32-24.
16. A limited liability company may adopt, amend, and repeal an operating agreement relating to the management of the business or the regulation of the affairs of the limited liability company as provided in section 10-32-68.
17. A limited liability company may establish committees of the board of governors, elect or appoint persons to the committees, and define their duties as provided in section 10-32-85 and fix their compensation.
18. A limited liability company may elect or appoint managers, employees, and agents of the limited liability company and define their duties and fix their compensation.

19. A limited liability company may accept contributions under section 10-32-56 and may enter into contribution agreements under section 10-32-58 and contribution allowance agreements under section 10-32-59.
20. A limited liability company may lend money to, guarantee an obligation of, become a surety for, or otherwise financially assist persons as provided in section 10-32-97.
21. A limited liability company may make advances to its governors, managers, and employees and those of its subsidiaries as provided in section 10-32-98.
22. A limited liability company shall indemnify those persons against certain expenses and liabilities only as provided in section 10-32-99.
23. A limited liability company may conduct all or part of its business under one or more trade names.
24. A limited liability company may have and exercise all other powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the business purposes for which the limited liability company is organized.

10-32-24. Limited liability company seal. A limited liability company may have a limited liability company seal. The use or nonuse of a limited liability company seal does not affect the validity, recordability, or enforceability of a document or act. If a limited liability company has a limited liability company seal, the use of the seal by the limited liability company on a document is not necessary.

10-32-25. Defense of ultra vires. No act of a limited liability company and no conveyance or transfer of real or personal property to or by a limited liability company is invalid by reason of the fact that the limited liability company was without capacity or power to do such act or to make or receive such conveyance or transfer but such lack of capacity or power may be asserted:

1. In a proceeding by a member against the limited liability company to enjoin the doing of any act or acts or the transfer of real or personal property by or to the limited liability company. If the unauthorized acts or transfers sought to be enjoined are being, or are to be, performed or made pursuant to any contract to which the limited liability company is a party, the court may, if all of the parties to the contract are parties to the proceeding and if it deems the same to be equitable, set aside and enjoin the performance of such contract, and in so doing may allow to the limited liability company or to other parties to the contract, as the case may be, compensation for the loss or damage sustained by either of them which may result from the action of the court in setting aside and enjoining the performance of such contract. However, anticipated profits to be derived from the performance of the contract may not be awarded by the court as a loss or damage sustained.
2. In a proceeding by the limited liability company, whether acting directly or through a receiver, trustee or other legal representative, or through members in a representative suit, against the incumbent or former managers or governors of the limited liability company.

3. In a proceeding by the attorney general, as provided in this chapter to dissolve the limited liability company or to enjoin the limited liability company from the transaction of unauthorized business.

10-32-26. Unauthorized assumption of limited liability company powers - Liability. All persons who assume to act as a limited liability company without authority are jointly and severally liable for all debts and liabilities incurred or arising as a result.

10-32-27. Transaction of business outside North Dakota. By enacting this chapter the legislative assembly recognizes the limited liability company as an important and constructive form of business organization. The legislative assembly understands that:

1. Businesses organized under this chapter will often transact business in other states;
2. For businesses organized under this chapter to function effectively and for this chapter to be a useful enactment, this chapter must be accorded the same comity and full faith and credit that states typically accord to each other's corporate laws; and
3. Specifically, it is essential that other states recognize both the legal existence of limited liability companies formed under this chapter and the legal status of all members of these limited liability companies.

The legislative assembly therefore specifically seeks that, subject to any reasonable registration requirements, other states extend to this chapter the same full faith and credit under section 1 of article IV of the Constitution of the United States, and the same comity, that North Dakota extends to statutes that other states enact to provide for the establishment and operation of business organizations.

10-32-28. Nature of a membership interest and statement of interest owned.

1. A membership interest is personal property. A member has no interest in specific limited liability company property. All property of the limited liability company is property of the limited liability company itself.
2. At the request of any member, the limited liability company shall state in writing the particular membership interest owned by that member as of the moment the limited liability company makes the statement. The statement must describe the member's right to vote, to share in profits and losses, and to share in distributions, as well as any assignment of the member's rights then in effect. The statement is not a certificated security, is not a negotiable instrument, and may not serve as a vehicle by which a transfer of any membership interest may be effected.
3. For the purpose of any law relating to security interests, a membership interest and financial rights are each a general intangible, and not a certificated security and not an uncertificated security.

10-32-29. Personal liability.

1. Subject to subsection 3, a member, governor, manager, or other agent of a limited liability company is not, merely on account of this status,

- personally liable for the acts, debts, liabilities, or obligations of the limited liability company.
2. However, all persons who assume to act as a limited liability company without authority, are jointly and severally liable for all debts and liabilities incurred or arising as a result.
  3. The case law that states the conditions and circumstances under which the corporate veil of a corporation may be pierced under North Dakota law also applies to limited liability companies.
  4. The limited liability described in subsections 1 and 3 continues in full force regardless of any dissolution, winding up, and termination of a limited liability company.

10-32-30. Termination of a membership interest.

1. A member always has the power, though not necessarily the right, to terminate its membership by resigning or retiring at any time. A member's resignation or retirement, whether rightful or wrongful, causes dissolution under subdivision e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109 unless dissolution avoidance consent is obtained from the remaining members. A member has no power to transfer all or part of the member's membership interest, except as provided in sections 10-32-31 and 10-32-32.
2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization, a member may not be expelled.
3. If for any reason the continued membership of a member is terminated and:
  - a. If dissolution under subdivision e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109 is avoided through dissolution avoidance consent, then the member whose membership has terminated loses all governance rights and will be considered merely an assignee of the financial rights owned before the termination of membership; or
  - b. If dissolution under subdivision e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109 is not avoided through dissolution avoidance consent, the member whose continued membership has terminated retains all governance rights owned before the termination of the membership and may exercise those rights through the winding up and termination of the limited liability company.
4. If a member resigns or retires in contravention of the articles of organization or a member-control agreement, then:
  - a. The member who has wrongfully resigned or retired is liable to all of the other members and to the limited liability company to the extent damaged by the wrongful resignation or retirement; and
  - b. If dissolution avoidance consent is not obtained but the business of the limited liability company is continued under a business continuation agreement, then unless otherwise provided in the business continuation agreement:

- (1) The member who has wrongfully resigned or retired has the right as against the successor organization to have the value of the resigned or retired membership interest determined and paid in cash; but
- (2) In ascertaining the value of the resigned or retired membership interest, the value of the goodwill of the business must not be considered.

10-32-31. Assignment of financial rights.

1. Except as provided in subsection 3, a member's financial rights are transferable in whole or in part.
2. An assignment of a member's financial rights entitles the assignee to receive, to the extent assigned, only the share of profits and losses and the distributions to which the assignor would otherwise be entitled. An assignment of a member's financial rights does not dissolve the limited liability company and does not entitle or empower the assignee to become a member, to exercise any governance rights, to receive any notices from the limited liability company, or to cause dissolution. The assignment may not allow the assignee to control the member's exercise of governance rights.
3. A restriction on the assignment of financial rights may be imposed in the articles, in the operating agreement, by a resolution adopted by the members, or by an agreement among or other written action by members or among them and the limited liability company. A restriction is not binding with respect to financial rights reflected in the required records before the adoption of the restriction, unless the owners of those financial rights are parties to the agreement or voted in favor of the restriction.
4. A written restriction on the assignment of financial rights that is not manifestly unreasonable under the circumstances and is noted conspicuously in the required records may be enforced against the owner of the restricted financial rights or a successor or transferee of the owner, including a pledgee or a legal representative. Unless noted conspicuously in the required records, a restriction, even though permitted by this section, is ineffective against a person without knowledge of the restriction.

10-32-32. Assignment of a complete membership interest and of governance rights coupled with an assignment of financial rights.

1. A member may assign the member's full membership interest only by assigning all of the member's governance rights coupled with a simultaneous assignment to the same assignee of all the member's financial rights. A member's governance rights are assignable, in whole or in part, only as provided in this section.
2. Subject to subsection 6, a member may, without the consent of any other member, assign governance rights, in whole or in part, to another person already a member at the time of the assignment. Any other assignment of any governance rights is effective only if all the members, other than the - member seeking to make the assignment, approve the assignment by unanimous written consent.

3. When an assignment of governance rights coupled with financial rights is effective under subsection 2:
    - a. The assignee becomes a member, if not already a member; and
    - b. If the assignor does not retain any governance rights, the assignor ceases to be a member, and the unanimous written consent required under subsection 2, also constitutes the dissolution avoidance consent necessary to avoid dissolution that would otherwise ensue under subdivision e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109 on account of the assignor ceasing to be a member.
  4. When an assignment is effective under subsection 2:
    - a. The assignee is liable for any obligations of the assignor under section 10-32-56, including liability for unperformed promises that have been reflected as contributions in the required records, and section 10-32-65 existing at the time of transfer, except to the extent that, at the time the assignee became a member, the liability was unknown to the assignee, and could not be ascertained from the required records; and
    - b. The assignor is not released from liability to the limited liability company for obligations of the assignor existing at the time of transfer under sections 10-32-56 and 10-32-65.
  5. If any purported or attempted assignment of governance rights is ineffective for failure to obtain the consent required in subsection 2:
    - a. The purported or attempted assignment is ineffective in its entirety; and
    - b. Any assignment of financial rights that accompanied the purported or attempted assignment of governance rights is void.
  6. Restrictions on the transfer of governance rights may be imposed following the same procedures and under the same conditions as stated in subsections 3 and 4 of section 10-32-31 for restricting the transfer of financial rights.

10-32-33. Effective date of assignments. Any permissible assignment of financial rights under section 10-32-31 and of governance rights coupled with financial rights under section 10-32-32 will be effective as to and binding on the limited liability company only when the assignee's name, address, and the nature and extent of the assignment are reflected in the required records of the limited liability company.

10-32-34. Rights of judgment creditor. On application to a court of competent jurisdiction by any judgment creditor of a member, the court may charge a member's or an assignee's financial rights with payment of the unsatisfied amount of the judgment with interest. To the extent so charged, the judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of a member's financial rights under section 10-32-31. This chapter does not deprive any member or assignee of financial rights of the benefit of any exemption laws applicable to the membership interest. This section is the sole and exclusive remedy of a judgment creditor with respect to the judgment debtor's membership interest.

10-32-35. Powers of estate of a deceased or incompetent member.

1. If a member who is an individual dies or a court of competent jurisdiction adjudges the member to be incompetent to manage the member's person or property, or an order for relief under the bankruptcy code is entered with respect to the member, the member's executor, administrator, guardian, conservator, trustee, or other legal representative may exercise all of the member's rights for the purpose of settling the estate or administering the member's property. If a member is a corporation, trust, or other entity and is dissolved, terminated, or placed by a court in receivership or bankruptcy, the powers of that member may be exercised by its legal representative or successor.
2. If an event referred to in subsection 1 causes the termination of a member's membership interest and the remaining members give dissolution avoidance consent, then:
  - a. As provided in subsection 3 of section 10-32-30, the terminated member's interest will be considered to be merely that of an assignee of the financial rights owned before the termination of membership; and
  - b. The rights to be exercised by the legal representative of the terminated member will be limited accordingly.

10-32-36. Sharing of profits and losses. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or by the board of governors under subsections 5 and 6 of section 10-32-56, the profits and losses of a limited liability company are to be allocated among the members, and among classes and series of members, in proportion to the value of the contributions of the members reflected in the required records.

10-32-37. Preemptive rights.

1. To the extent allowed by section 9 of article XII of the Constitution of North Dakota, a member of a limited liability company has the preemptive rights provided in this section, unless denied or limited in the articles of organization or by the board of governors pursuant to subdivision b of subsection 5 of section 10-32-56.
2. A preemptive right is the right of a member to make contributions of a certain amount or to make a contribution allowance agreement specifying future contributions of a certain amount before the limited liability company may accept new contributions from other persons or to make contribution allowance agreements with other persons.
3. A member has a preemptive right whenever the limited liability company proposes to accept contributions from other persons, or to make contribution allowance agreements with other persons, pertaining to membership interests of the same series or class as the series or class owned by the member.

4. No preemptive rights arise as to contributions to be accepted from others or as to contribution allowance agreements to be made with others when the contribution is:
  - a. To be made in a form other than money;
  - b. To be made or reflected pursuant to a plan of merger;
  - c. To be made or reflected pursuant to an employee or incentive benefit plan approved at a meeting by the affirmative vote of the owners of a majority of the voting power of all membership interests entitled to vote;
  - d. To be made pursuant to a previously made contribution allowance agreement; or
  - e. To be made or reflected pursuant to a plan of reorganization approved by a court of competent jurisdiction pursuant to a statute of this state or of the United States.
5. The extent to which each member may make a new contribution, or obtain the right to make a new contribution under a contribution allowance agreement, by exercise of a preemptive right as to any class or series is the ratio that the value of that member's contributions, as reflected in the required records as pertaining to that class or series before the contribution, bears to the total value of all members' contributions reflected in the required records as pertaining to that class or series before the new contribution.
6. A member may waive a preemptive right in writing. The waiver is binding upon the member whether or not consideration has been given for the waiver. Unless otherwise provided in the waiver, a waiver of preemptive rights is effective only for the proposed contribution or contribution allowance agreement described in the waiver.
7. When proposing to accept new contributions, or to make contribution allowance agreements, with respect to which members have preemptive rights under this section, the board of governors shall cause notice to be given to each member entitled to preemptive rights. The notice must be given at least ten days before the date by which the member must exercise a preemptive right and must contain:
  - a. The extent of the member's preemptive right, being:
    - (1) In the case of a preemptive right to make a contribution, the amount of the contribution to be made; and
    - (2) In the case of a preemptive right to make a contribution allowance agreement, the amount of the contribution to be allowed under that contribution allowance agreement;
  - b. The method used to determine the extent of the member's preemptive right;
  - c. The terms and conditions upon which the member may make a contribution or make a contribution allowance agreement; and

d. The time within which and the method by which the member must exercise the right.

8. If a member does not exercise preemptive rights to make a contribution or to make a contribution allowance agreement, then for a period not exceeding one year after the date fixed by the board of governors for the exercise of those preemptive rights and to the extent of the preemptive rights not exercised, the board of governors may accept contributions or make contribution allowance agreements on terms no less favorable to the limited liability company than those offered to the member.
9. No amendment to the articles of organization that has the effect of denying, limiting, or modifying the preemptive rights provided in this section may be adopted if the votes of a proportion of the voting power sufficient to elect a governor at an election of the entire board of governors under cumulative voting are cast against the amendment.

10-32-38. Regular meetings of members.

1. Regular meetings of members may be held on an annual or other less frequent periodic basis, but need not be held unless required by the articles of organization or operating agreement or by subsection 2.
2. If a regular meeting of members has not been held during the immediately preceding fifteen months, a member or members owning five percent or more of the voting power of all members entitled to vote may demand a regular meeting of members by written notice of demand given to the president or the secretary of the limited liability company. Within thirty days after receipt of the demand by one of those managers, the board of governors shall cause a regular meeting of members to be called and held on notice no later than ninety days after receipt of the demand. If the board of governors fails to cause a regular meeting to be called and held as required by this subsection, the member or members making the demand may call the regular meeting by giving notice as required by section 10-32-40. All necessary expenses of the notice and the meeting must be paid by the limited liability company.
3. A regular meeting, if any, must be held on the day or date and at the time and place fixed by, or in a manner authorized by, the articles or operating agreement, except that a meeting called by or at the demand of a member pursuant to subsection 2 must be held in the county where the principal executive office of the limited liability company is located.
4. At each regular meeting of members there must be an election of qualified successors for governors who serve for an indefinite term or whose terms have expired or are due to expire within six months after the date of the meeting. No other particular business is required to be transacted at a regular meeting. Any business appropriate for action by the members may be transacted at a regular meeting.

10-32-39. Special meetings of members.

1. Special meetings of the members may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time, by:

- a. The president;
  - b. Two or more governors;
  - c. A person authorized in the articles or operating agreement to call special meetings; or
  - d. A member or members owning ten percent or more of the voting power of all membership interests entitled to vote.
2. A member or members owning ten percent or more of the voting power of all membership interests entitled to vote, may demand a special meeting of members by written notice of demand given to the president or secretary of the limited liability company and containing the purposes of the meeting. Within thirty days after receipt of the demand by one of those managers, the board of governors shall cause a special meeting of members to be called and held on notice no later than ninety days after receipt of the demand, all at the expense of the limited liability company. If the board of governors fails to cause a special meeting to be called and held as required by this subsection, the member or members making the demand may call the meeting by giving notice as required by section 10-32-40. All necessary expenses of the notice and the meeting must be paid by the limited liability company.
  3. Special meetings must be held on the date and at the time and place fixed by the president, the board of governors, or a person authorized by the articles or operating agreement to call a meeting, except that a special meeting called by or at the demand of a member or members pursuant to subsection 2 must be held in the county where the principal executive office is located.
  4. The business transacted at a special meeting is limited to the purposes stated in the notice of the meeting. Any business transacted at a special meeting that is not included in those stated purposes is voidable by or on behalf of the limited liability company, unless all of the members have waived notice of the meeting in accordance with subsection 4 of section 10-32-40.

10-32-40. Notice.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, notice of all meetings of members must be given to every owner of membership interests entitled to vote, except where the meeting is an adjourned meeting and the date, time, and place of the meeting were announced at the time of adjournment.
2. In all instances where a specific minimum notice period has not otherwise been fixed by law, the notice must be given at least ten days before the date of the meeting, or a shorter time provided in the articles of organization or operating agreement, and not more than fifty days before the date of the meeting.
3. The notice must contain the date, time, and place of the meeting, and any other information required by this chapter. In the case of a special meeting, the notice must contain a statement of the purposes of the meeting. The notice may also contain any other information required by the articles of organization or operating agreement or considered necessary or desirable by the board of governors or by any other person or persons calling the meeting.

4. A member may waive notice of a meeting of members. A waiver of notice by a member entitled to notice is effective whether given before, at, or after the meeting, and whether given in writing, or by attendance. Attendance by a member at a meeting is a waiver of notice of that meeting, except where the member objects at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened, or objects before a vote on an item of business because the item may not lawfully be considered at that meeting and does not participate in the consideration of the item at that meeting.

10-32-41. Electronic communications.

1. A conference among members by any means of communication through which the members may simultaneously hear each other during the conference constitutes a regular or special meeting of members, if the same notice is given of the conference to every owner of membership interests entitled to vote as would be required by this chapter for a meeting, and if the membership interests held by the members participating in the conference would be sufficient to constitute a quorum at a meeting. Participation in a conference by that means constitutes presence at the meeting in person or by proxy if all the other requirements of section 10-32-48 are met.
2. A member may participate in a regular or special meeting of members not described in subsection 1 by any means of communication through which the member, other members so participating, and all members physically present at the meeting may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. Participation in a meeting by that means constitutes presence at the meeting in person or by proxy if all the other requirements of section 10-32-48 are met.
3. Waiver of notice of a meeting by means of communication described in subsections 1 and 2 may be given in the manner provided in subsection 4 of section 10-32-40. Participation in a meeting by means of communication described in subsections 1 and 2 is a waiver of notice of that meeting, except where the member objects at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened, or objects before a vote on an item of business because the item may not lawfully be considered at the meeting and does not participate in the consideration of the item at that meeting.

10-32-42. Act of members.

1. The members shall take action by the affirmative vote of the owners of a majority of the voting power of the membership interests present and entitled to vote on that item of business except where this chapter or the articles of organization require a larger proportion. If the articles require a larger proportion than is required by this chapter for a particular action, the articles control.
2. In any case where a class or series of membership interests is entitled by this chapter, the articles of organization, the operating agreement, or the terms of the membership interests to vote as a class or series, the matter being voted upon must also receive the affirmative vote of the owners of the same proportion of the membership interests as is required pursuant to subsection 1.

10-32-43. Action without a meeting.

1. An action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the members may be taken without a meeting by written action signed by all of the members entitled to vote on that action. If the articles so provide, any action may be taken by written action signed by the members who own voting power equal to the voting power that would be required to take the same action at a meeting of the members at which all members were present.
2. The written action is effective when signed by the required members, unless a different effective time is provided in the written action.
3. When written action is permitted to be taken by less than all members, all members must be notified immediately of its text and effective date. Failure to provide the notice does not invalidate the written action. A member who does not sign or consent to the written action has no liability for the action or actions taken by the written action.

10-32-44. Quorum. The owners of a majority of the voting power of the membership interests entitled to vote at a meeting are a quorum for the transaction of business, unless a larger or smaller proportion is provided in the articles or operating agreement. In no event may a quorum consist of less than one third of the membership interests entitled to vote at the meeting. If a quorum is present when a duly called or held meeting is convened, the members present may continue to transact business until adjournment, even though the withdrawal of members originally present leaves less than the proportion otherwise required for a quorum.

10-32-45. Voting rights.

1. The board of governors may fix a date not more than fifty days, or a shorter time period provided in the articles of organization or operating agreement, before the date of a meeting of members as the date for the determination of the owners of membership interests entitled to notice of and entitled to vote at the meeting. When a date is so fixed, only members on that date are entitled to notice of and permitted to vote at that meeting of members.
2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles or by the board of governors under subsections 5 and 6 of section 10-32-56, members have voting power in proportion to the value of the contributions of the members as reflected in the required records.
3. The articles of organization may give or prescribe the manner of giving a creditor, security holder, or other person a right to vote under this section, but no prescription under this subsection may have the effect of transferring from an assignor of financial rights to the assignee the assignor's voting rights.
4. Membership interests owned by two or more members may be voted by any one of them unless the limited liability company receives written notice from any one of them denying the authority of that person to vote those membership interests.

5. Except as provided in subsection 4, an owner of a membership interest entitled to vote may vote any portion of the membership interest in any way the member chooses. If a member votes without designating the proportion voted in a particular way, the member is considered to have voted all of the membership interest in that way.

10-32-46. Voting list.

1. The manager or agent having charge of the required records reflecting the membership interests of a limited liability company, shall make, at least ten days before each meeting of members, a complete list of the members entitled to vote at the meeting or at any adjournment thereof, arranged in alphabetical order, with the address and the number of membership interests held by each, which list, for a period of ten days prior to the meeting, must be kept on file at the registered office of the limited liability company and is subject to inspection by any member at any time during usual business hours. The list must also be produced and kept open at the time and place of the meeting and is subject to the inspection of any member during the whole time of the meeting. The original membership interest records are prima facie evidence as to who are the members entitled to examine the lists or required records or to vote at any meeting of members.
2. Failure to comply with the requirements of this section does not affect the validity of any action taken at the meeting. Any manager or agent having charge of the required records who fails to prepare the list of members, or keep it on file for a period of ten days, or produce and keep it open for inspection at the meeting as provided in this section, is liable to any member suffering damage on account of such failure, to the extent of such damage.

10-32-47. Voting by organizations and legal representatives.

1. Membership interests of a limited liability company reflected in the required records as being owned by another domestic or foreign organization may be voted by the president or another legal representative of that organization.
2. Except as provided in subsection 3, membership interests of a limited liability company reflected in the required records as being owned by a subsidiary are not entitled to vote on any matter.
3. Membership interests of a limited liability company in the name of, or under the control of, the limited liability company or a subsidiary in a fiduciary capacity are not entitled to vote on any matter, except to the extent that the settlor or beneficiary possesses and exercises a right to vote or gives the limited liability company binding instructions on how to vote the membership interests.
4. Subject to section 10-32-35, membership interests under the control of a person in a capacity as a personal representative, administrator, executor, guardian, conservator, or the like may be voted by the person, either in person or by proxy, without reflecting in the required records those membership interests in the name of the person.

5. Subject to section 10-32-35, membership interests reflected in the required records in the name of a trustee in bankruptcy or a receiver may be voted by the trustee or receiver either in person or by proxy. Membership interests under the control of a trustee in bankruptcy or a receiver may be voted by the trustee or receiver without reflecting in the required records the name of the trustee or receiver, if authority to do so is contained in an appropriate order of the court by which the trustee or receiver was appointed.
6. Membership interests reflected in the required records in the name of an organization not described in subsections 1 through 5 may be voted either in person or by proxy by the legal representative of that organization.
7. The grant of a security interest in a membership interest does not entitle the holders of the security interest to vote except as provided in section 10-32-32.

10-32-48. Proxies.

1. A member may cast or authorize the casting of a vote by filing a written appointment of a proxy with a manager of the limited liability company at or before the meeting at which the appointment is to be effective. A written appointment of a proxy may be signed by the member or authorized by the member by transmission of a telegram, cablegram, or other means of electronic transmission. The telegram, cablegram, or other means of electronic transmission must set forth or be submitted with information from which it can be determined that the telegram, cablegram, or other electronic transmission was authorized by the member. Any reproduction of the writing or transmission may be substituted or used in lieu of the original writing or transmission for any purpose for which the original transmission could be used, if the copy, facsimile telecommunication, or other reproduction is a complete and legible reproduction of the entire original writing or transmission. An appointment of a proxy for membership interests owned jointly by two or more members is valid if signed or otherwise authorized by any one of them, unless the limited liability company receives from any one of those members written notice either denying the authority of that person to appoint a proxy or appointing a different proxy.
2. The appointment of a proxy is valid for eleven months, unless a longer period is expressly provided in the appointment. No appointment is irrevocable and any agreement purporting to grant an irrevocable proxy is void. A member who revokes a proxy is not liable in any way for damages, restitution, or other claim.
3. An appointment may be terminated at will. Termination may be made by filing written notice of the termination of the appointment with a manager of the limited liability company, or by filing a new written appointment of a proxy with a manager of the limited liability company. Termination in either manner revokes all prior proxy appointments and is effective when filed with a manager of the limited liability company.

4. The death or incapacity of a person appointing a proxy does not revoke the authority of the proxy, unless written notice of the death or incapacity is received by a manager of the limited liability company before the proxy exercises the authority under that appointment.
5. Unless the appointment specifically provides otherwise, if two or more persons are appointed as proxies for a member:
  - a. Any one of them may vote the membership interests on each item of business in accordance with specific instructions contained in the appointment; and
  - b. If no specific instructions are contained in the appointment with respect to voting the membership interests on a particular item of business, the membership interests must be voted as a majority of the proxies determine. If the proxies are equally divided, the membership interests must not be voted.
6. Unless the appointment of a proxy contains a restriction, limitation, or specific reservation of authority, the limited liability company may accept a vote or action taken by a person named in the appointment. The vote of a proxy is final, binding, and not subject to challenge, but the proxy is liable to the member for damages resulting from a failure to exercise the proxy or from an exercise of the proxy in violation of the authority granted in the appointment.
7. If a proxy is given authority by a member to vote on less than all items of business considered at a meeting of members, the member is considered to be present and entitled to vote by the proxy for purposes of subsection 1 of section 10-32-42 only with respect to those items of business for which the proxy has authority to vote. A proxy who is given authority by a member who abstains with respect to an item of business is considered to have authority to vote on the item of business for purposes of this subsection.
8. A member may not grant any proxy to any person who is an assignee of any member's financial rights and who is not also a member.

10-32-49. Member voting agreements.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, a written agreement among persons who are then members or who have signed contribution agreements, relating to the voting of their membership interests, is valid and specifically enforceable by and against the parties to the agreement. The agreement may override the provisions of subsections 1 through 7 of section 10-32-48 regarding proxies.
2. Any assignee of any member's financial rights may not be a party to an agreement under subsection 1, unless that assignee is also a member. A voting agreement may not relate to the consents referred to in subsection 2 of section 10-32-32, subsection 5 of section 10-32-58, subsection 3 of section 10-32-59, or subdivision e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109.

10-32-50. Member-control agreements.

1. A written agreement among persons who are then members or who have signed contribution agreements, relating to the control of any phase of the business and affairs of the limited liability company, its liquidation, dissolution, and termination, or the relations among members or persons who have signed contribution agreements is valid as provided in subsection 2.

  - a. When this chapter provides that a particular result may or must be obtained through a provision in the articles of organization, other than a provision required by subsection 1 of section 10-32-07 to be contained in the articles, or in the operating agreement, the same result can be accomplished through a member-control agreement valid under this section or through a procedure established by a member-control agreement valid under this section.
  - b. A member-control agreement may waive, in whole or in part, a member's dissenting rights under sections 10-32-54 and 10-32-55, but may not waive dissenters' rights under subdivision a of subsection 2 of section 10-32-131.
  - c. A member-control agreement may not include an agreement to give transfer consent.
  - d. A member-control agreement may include a business continuation agreement only if the articles of organization grant the members the power to enter into business continuation agreements.
2. A written agreement among persons described in subsection 1 that relates to the control of or the liquidation, dissolution, and termination of the limited liability company, the relations among them, or any phase of the business and affairs of the limited liability company, including, without limitation, the management of its business, the declaration and payment of distributions, the sharing of profits and losses, the election of governors or managers, the employment of members by the limited liability company, or the arbitration of disputes, is valid, if the agreement is signed by all persons who are then the members of the limited liability company, whether or not the members all have voting power, and all those who have signed contribution agreements, regardless of whether those signatories will, when members, have voting power. An agreement authorized under this section may allocate to the members authority ordinarily exercised by the board of governors, allocate to the board of governors authority ordinarily exercised by the members, or structure the governance of the limited liability company in any agreed fashion.
3. An agreement valid under subsections 1 and 2 is enforceable by persons who are parties to it and is binding upon and enforceable against only those persons and other persons having knowledge of the existence of the agreement. A signed original of the agreement must be filed with the limited liability company. The limited liability company shall note in its required records that the members' interests are governed by a member-control agreement entered into under this section. A member or any assignee of financial rights has the right upon written demand to obtain a copy of any member-control agreement from the limited liability company at the company's expense.

4. A member-control agreement valid under subsections 1 and 2 is specifically enforceable.
5. A member-control agreement may waive dissenters' rights, subject to subsection 3 of section 10-32-131.
6. A member or any assignee of financial rights has the right upon written demand to obtain a copy of any member-control agreement from the limited liability company at the company's expense.
7. If an agreement authorized under this section takes away from any person any of the authority and responsibility which that person would otherwise possess under this chapter, the effect of the agreement is also to relieve that person of liability imposed by law for acts and omissions in the possession or exercise of that authority and responsibility and to impose that liability on the person or persons possessing the authority and responsibility under the agreement.
8. This section does not apply to, limit, or restrict agreements otherwise valid, nor is the procedure set forth in this section the exclusive method of agreement among members or between the members and the limited liability company with respect to any of the matters described.

10-32-51. Required records and information.

1. A limited liability company shall keep at its principal executive office, or at another place or places within the United States determined by the board of governors:
  - a. A current list of the full name and last-known business, residence, or mailing address of each member, each governor, and the president;
  - b. A current list of the full name and last-known business, residence, or mailing address of each assignee of financial rights and a description of the rights assigned;
  - c. A copy of the articles of organization and all amendments to the articles;
  - d. Copies of any currently effective written operating agreement;
  - e. Copies of the limited liability company's federal, state, and local income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three most recent years;
  - f. Financial statements required by section 10-32-52;
  - g. Records of all proceedings of members for the last three years;
  - h. Records of all proceedings of the board of governors for the last three years;
  - i. Reports made to members generally within the last three years;
  - j. Member-control agreements described in section 10-32-50;

- k. A statement of all contributions accepted under subsection 3 of section 10-32-56 including for each contribution:
- (1) The identity of the member to whom the contribution relates;
  - (2) The class or series to which the contribution pertains;
  - (3) The amount of cash accepted by the limited liability company or promised to be paid to the limited liability company;
  - (4) A description of any services rendered to or for the benefit of the limited liability company or promised to be rendered to or for the benefit of the limited liability company; and
  - (5) The value accorded under subsection 4 of section 10-32-56 to:
    - (a) Any other property transferred or promised to be transferred to the limited liability company; and
    - (b) Any services rendered to or for the benefit of the limited liability company or promised to be rendered to or for the benefit of the limited liability company;
- l. A statement of all contribution agreements made under section 10-32-58, including for each contribution agreement:
- (1) The identity of the would-be contributor;
  - (2) The class or series to which the future contribution pertains; and
  - (3) As to each future contribution to be made, the same information as subdivision k of subsection 1 requires for contributions already accepted;
- m. A statement of all contribution allowance agreements made under section 10-32-59, including for each contribution allowance agreement:
- (1) The identity of the would-be contributor;
  - (2) The class or series to which the future contribution would pertain; and
  - (3) As to each future contribution allowed to be made, the same information as subdivision k of subsection 1 requires for contributions already accepted;
- n. An explanation of any restatement of value made under section 10-32-57;
- o. Any written consents obtained from members under this chapter;
- p. A copy of agreements, contracts, or other arrangements or portions of them incorporated by reference under subsections 6 through 8 of section 10-32-56.

2. A member of a limited liability company has an absolute right, upon written demand, to examine and copy, in person or by a legal representative, at any reasonable time, all documents referred to in subsection 1.
3. A member of a limited liability company who has been a member for at least six months immediately preceding the member's demand or who is the holder of record of at least five percent of all membership interests of the limited liability company has a right, upon written demand, to examine and copy, in person or by a legal representative, other limited liability company records at any reasonable time only if the member demonstrates a proper purpose for the examination. A "proper purpose" is one reasonably related to the person's interest as a member of a limited liability company.
4. On application of the limited liability company, a court in this state may issue a protective order permitting the limited liability company to withhold portions of the records of proceedings of the board of governors for a reasonable period of time, not to exceed twelve months, in order to prevent premature disclosure of confidential information that would be likely to cause competitive injury to the limited liability company. A protective order may be renewed for successive reasonable periods of time, each not to exceed twelve months and in total not to exceed thirty-six months, for good cause shown. In the event a protective order is issued, the statute of limitations for any action that the member might bring as a result of information withheld automatically extends for the period of delay. If the court does not issue a protective order with respect to any portion of the records of proceedings as requested by the limited liability company, it shall award reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees and disbursements, to the member. This subsection does not limit the right of a court to grant other protective orders or impose other reasonable restrictions on the nature of the limited liability company records that may be copied or examined under subsections 2 and 3 or the use or distribution of the records by the demanding member.
5. A member who has gained access under this section to any limited liability company record may not use or furnish to another for use the limited liability company record or a portion of the contents for any purpose other than a proper purpose. Upon application of the limited liability company, a court may issue a protective order or order other relief as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this subsection.
6. Copies of the information referred to in subsection 1 must be furnished at the expense of the limited liability company. In all other cases, the limited liability company may charge the requesting party a reasonable fee to cover the expenses of providing the copy.
7. The records maintained by a limited liability company may utilize any information storage technique, including, for example, punched holes, printed or magnetized spots, or microimages, even though that makes them illegible visually, if the records can be converted accurately and within a reasonable time, into a form that is legible visually and whose contents are assembled by related subject matter to permit convenient use by people in the normal course of business. A limited liability company shall convert any of the records referred to in subsections 2 and 3 upon the request of a person entitled to inspect them, and the expense of the conversion must be borne by the person who bears the expense of copying pursuant to subsection 6. A copy of the conversion is admissible in evidence, and is acceptable for all other purposes, to the same extent as the existing or original records would be if they were legible visually.

10-32-52. Financial statements. A limited liability company shall, upon written request by a member, furnish annual financial statements, including at least a balance sheet as of the end of each fiscal year and a statement of income for the fiscal year, prepared on the basis of accounting methods reasonable in the circumstances. The financial statements may be consolidated statements of the limited liability company and one or more of its subsidiaries. In the case of statements audited by a public accountant, each copy must be accompanied by a report setting forth the opinion of the accountant on the statements; in other cases, each copy must be accompanied by a statement of the treasurer or other person in charge of the limited liability company's financial records stating the reasonable belief of the person that the financial statements were prepared in accordance with accounting methods reasonable in the circumstances, describing the basis of presentation, and describing any respects in which the financial statements were not prepared on a basis consistent with those prepared for the previous year.

10-32-53. Actions by members. No action may be brought in this state for violations of this chapter by a member in the right of a domestic or foreign limited liability company unless the plaintiff is a member at the time of the transaction of which plaintiff complains, or the plaintiff's membership interests thereafter devolved upon the plaintiff by operation of law from a person who was a member at such time.

1. In any action thereafter instituted in the right of any domestic or foreign limited liability company by the member, the court having jurisdiction, upon final judgment and finding that the action was brought without reasonable cause, may require the plaintiff to pay the parties named as defendant the reasonable expenses, including fees of attorneys, incurred by them in defense of such action.
2. In any action now pending or hereafter instituted or maintained in the right of any domestic or foreign limited liability company by the owner of less than five percent of the membership interests, unless the membership interest of such owner has a market value in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars, the limited liability company in whose rights such action is brought is entitled at any time before final judgment to require the plaintiff to give security for the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, that may be incurred by it in connection with such action or may be incurred by other parties named as defendant for which it may become legally liable. Market value must be determined on the date the plaintiff institutes the action or, in the case of an intervenor, on the date the intervenor becomes a party to the action. The amount of the security may from time to time be increased or decreased, in the discretion of the court, upon showing that the security provided has or may become inadequate or is excessive. The limited liability company has recourse to such security in such amount as the court having jurisdiction determines upon the termination of the action, whether or not the court finds the action was brought without reasonable cause.

10-32-54. Rights of dissenting members.

1. Subject to a member-control agreement under section 10-32-50, a member of a limited liability company may dissent from, and obtain payment for the fair value of the member's membership interests in the event of, any of the following limited liability company actions:
  - a. An amendment of the articles of organization that materially and adversely affects the rights or preferences of the membership interests of the dissenting member in that it:
    - (1) Alters or abolishes a preferential right of the membership interests;
    - (2) Creates, alters, or abolishes a right in respect of the redemption of the membership interests, including a provision respecting a sinking fund for the redemption or repurchase of the membership interests;
    - (3) Alters or abolishes a preemptive right of the owner of the membership interests to make a contribution;
    - (4) Excludes or limits the right of a member to vote on a matter, or to cumulate votes, except as the right may be excluded or limited through the acceptance of contributions or the making of contribution agreements pertaining to membership interests with similar or different voting rights;
    - (5) Changes a member's right to resign or retire;
    - (6) Establishes or changes the conditions for or consequences of expulsion;
    - (7) Changes the statement required under subdivision e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-07; or
    - (8) Changes the statement required under subdivision f of subsection 1 of section 10-32-07.
  - b. A sale, lease, transfer, or other disposition of all or substantially all of the property and assets of the limited liability company not made in the usual or regular course of its business, but not including a disposition in dissolution described in subsection 4 of section 10-32-113, or a disposition pursuant to an order of a court, or a disposition for cash on terms requiring that all or substantially all of the net proceeds of disposition be distributed to the members in accordance with their respective membership interests within one year after the date of disposition;
  - c. A plan of merger to which the limited liability company is a party, except as provided in paragraph 1 of subdivision a of subsection 2 of section 10-32-131 and subject to subsection 3 of section 10-32-131;
  - d. A plan of exchange to which the limited liability company is a party as the organization whose ownership interests will be acquired by the acquiring organization, if the membership interests being acquired are entitled to be voted on the plan;

- e. Any other limited liability company action taken pursuant to a member vote with respect to which the articles of organization, the operating agreement, or a resolution approved by the board of governors directs that dissenting members may obtain payment for their membership interests; or
  - f. A resolution of the board of governors under subsection 2 of section 10-32-131 to implement a business continuation agreement.
2. The members of a limited liability company who have a right under this section to obtain payment for their membership interests do not have a right at law or in equity to have a limited liability company action described in subsection 1 set aside or rescinded, except when the limited liability company action is fraudulent with regard to the complaining member or the limited liability company.

10-32-55. Procedures for asserting dissenters' rights.

1. For purposes of this section:

- a. "Limited liability company" means a limited liability company whose members have obtained rights to dissent under subsection 1 of section 10-32-54 and includes any successor by merger.
  - b. "Fair value of the membership interests" means the value of the membership interests of a limited liability company immediately before the effective date of the limited liability company action referred to in subsection 1 of section 10-32-54.
  - c. "Interest" means interest beginning five days after the effective date of the limited liability company action referred to in subsection 1 of section 10-32-54, up to and including the date of payment, calculated at the rate provided in section 28-20-34 for interest on verdicts and judgments.
  - d. "Member" includes a former member when dissenters' rights exist because:
    - (1) The membership of that former member has terminated causing dissolution; and
    - (2) The dissolved limited liability company has then either entered into a winding up merger under subsection 3 of section 10-32-112 or has disposed of its assets pursuant to a business continuation agreement under subsection 2 of section 10-32-131.
2. If a limited liability company calls a member meeting at which any action described in subsection 1 of section 10-32-54 is to be voted upon, the notice of the meeting must inform each member of the right to dissent and must include a copy of section 10-32-54 and this section, and if applicable, subsections 2 and 3 of section 10-32-131. For members who have assigned some or all of their financial rights, the description must also include the procedures under subsection 8.

3. If the proposed action must be approved by the members, a member who wishes to exercise dissenters' rights must file with the limited liability company before the vote on the proposed action a written notice of intent to demand the fair value of the membership interests owned by the member and must not vote the membership interests in favor of the proposed action.
4. After the proposed action has been approved by the board of governors and, if necessary, the members, the limited liability company shall send to all members who have complied with subsection 3 and to all members entitled to dissent if no member vote was required, a notice that contains:
  - a. The address to which a demand for payment must be sent in order to obtain payment and the date by which the demand must be received;
  - b. A form to be used to certify the date on which the member acquired the membership interests and to demand payment; and
  - c. A copy of section 10-32-54, this section and, if applicable, subsections 2 and 3 of section 10-32-131.
5. In order to receive the fair value of the membership interests, a dissenting member must demand payment within thirty days after the notice was given, but the dissenter retains all other rights of a member until the proposed action takes effect.
6. After the limited liability company action takes effect, or after the limited liability company receives a valid demand for payment, whichever is later, the limited liability company shall remit to each dissenting member who has complied with subsections 3, 4, and 5, the amount the limited liability company estimates to be the fair value of the membership interests, plus interest, accompanied by:
  - a. The limited liability company's closing balance sheet and statement of income for a fiscal year ending not more than sixteen months before the effective date of the limited liability company action, together with the latest available interim financial statements;
  - b. An estimate by the limited liability company of the fair value of the membership interests and a brief description of the method used to reach the estimate; and
  - c. A copy of section 10-32-54, this section, and, if applicable, subsections 2 and 3 of section 10-32-131.
7. The limited liability company may withhold the remittance described in subsection 6 from a person who was not a member on the date the action dissented from was first announced to the public. If the dissenter has complied with subsections 3, 4, and 5, the limited liability company shall forward to the dissenter the materials described in subsection 6, a statement of the reason for withholding the remittance, and an offer to pay to the dissenter the amount listed in the materials if the dissenter agrees to accept that amount in full satisfaction. The dissenter may decline the offer and demand payment under subsection 8. Failure to do so

- entitles the dissenter only to the amount offered. If the dissenter makes demand, subsections 9 and 10 apply.
8. If a dissenter believes that the amount remitted under subsections 5, 6, and 7, is less than the fair value of the membership interests plus interest, the dissenter may give written notice to the limited liability company of the dissenter's own estimate of the fair value of the membership interests, plus interest, within thirty days after the limited liability company mails the remittance under subsections 5, 6, and 7, and demand payment of the difference. Otherwise, a dissenter is entitled only to the amount remitted by the limited liability company.
  9. If the limited liability company receives a demand under subsection 8, it shall, within sixty days after receiving the demand, either pay to the dissenter the amount demanded or agreed to by the dissenter after discussion with the limited liability company or file in court a petition requesting that the court determine the fair value of the membership interests, plus interest. The petition must be filed in the county in which the registered office of the limited liability company is located, except that a surviving foreign corporation that receives a demand relating to the membership interests of a constituent limited liability company shall file the petition in the county in this state in which the last registered office of the constituent limited liability company was located. The petition must name as parties all dissenters who have demanded payment under subsection 8 and who have not reached agreement with the limited liability company. The jurisdiction of the court is plenary and exclusive. The court may appoint appraisers, with powers and authorities the court considers proper, to receive evidence on and recommend the amount of the fair value of the membership interests. The court shall determine whether the member or members in question have fully complied with the requirements of this section, and shall determine the fair value of the membership interests, taking into account any and all factors the court finds relevant, computed by any method or combination of methods that the court, in its discretion, sees fit to use, whether or not used by the limited liability company or by a dissenter. The fair value of the membership interests as determined by the court is binding on all members, wherever located. A dissenter is entitled to judgment for the amount by which the fair value of the membership interests as determined by the court, plus interest, exceeds the amount, if any, remitted under subsections 5, 6, and 7, but is not liable to the limited liability company for the amount, if any, by which the amount, if any, remitted to the dissenter under subsection 5 exceeds the fair value of the membership interests as determined by the court, plus interest.
  10. The court shall determine the costs and expenses of a proceeding under subsection 9, including the reasonable expenses and compensation of any appraisers appointed by the court, and shall assess those costs and expenses against the limited liability company, except that the court may assess part or all of those costs and expenses against a dissenter whose action in demanding payment is found to be arbitrary, vexatious, or not in good faith.
  11. If the court finds that the limited liability company has failed to comply substantially with this section, the court may assess all fees and expenses of any experts or attorneys as the court considers equitable. These fees and expenses may also be assessed against a person who has acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith in bringing the proceeding, and may be awarded to a party injured by those actions.

12. The court may award, in its discretion, fees and expenses to an attorney for the dissenters out of the amount awarded to the dissenters, if any.
13. When an assignment of some or all of the financial rights of a membership interest is in effect, then as to that membership interest the provisions of subsections 1 through 12 must be followed subject to the following revisions:
  - a. All rights to be exercised and actions to be taken by a member under subsection 2 must be taken by the member and not by any assignee of the member's financial rights. As between the limited liability company and the assignees, the actions taken or omitted by the member bind the assignees.
  - b. Instead of remitting a payment under subsection 6, the limited liability company shall forward to the dissenter member:
    - (1) An offer to pay the fair value of the membership interests with that amount to be allocated among and paid to the member and the assignees of financial rights according to the terms of the assignments reflected in the required records; and
    - (2) A statement of that allocation.
  - c. If the dissenter member accepts the amount of the offer made under subdivision b but disputes the allocation, the dissenter shall promptly so notify the limited liability company and promptly after the notification bring an action to determine the proper allocation. The suit must be filed in the county in which the registered office of the limited liability company is located, or in the case of a surviving foreign corporation that is complying with this section following a merger or an exchange with a constituent limited liability company the suit must be filed in the county in this state in which the last registered office of the constituent limited liability company was located. The suit must name as parties the member, the limited liability company, and all assignees of the member's financial rights. Upon being served with the action, the limited liability company shall promptly pay into the court the amount offered under subdivision b and shall then be dismissed from the action.
  - d. If the dissenter considers the amount offered under subdivision b inadequate, the dissenter may decline the offer and demand payment under subsection 8. If the dissenter makes demand, subsections 9 and 10 apply, with the court having jurisdiction also to determine the correctness of the allocation.
  - e. If the member fails to take action under either subdivision c or d, then:

- (1) As to the limited liability company, both the member and the assignees of the member's financial rights are limited to the amount and allocation offered under subdivision b; and
- (2) The limited liability company discharges its obligation of payment by making payment according to the amount and allocation offered under subdivision b.

10-32-56. Authorization, form, and acceptance of contributions.

1. Subject to any restrictions in the articles of organization and only when authorized by the board of governors, a limited liability company may accept contributions under subsections 2 and 3, make contribution agreements under section 10-32-58, and make contribution allowance agreements under section 10-32-59.
2. A person may make a contribution to a limited liability company by paying money or transferring the ownership of an interest in property to the limited liability company for rendering services to or for the benefit of the limited liability company.
3. No purported contribution is to be treated or considered as a contribution, unless:
  - a. The board of governors accepts the contribution on behalf of the limited liability company and in that acceptance describes the contribution, and states the value being accorded to the contribution; and
  - b. The fact of contribution and the contribution's accorded value are both reflected in the required records of the limited liability company.
4. The determinations of the board of governors as to the amount or fair value or the fairness to the limited liability company of the contribution accepted or to be accepted by the limited liability company or the terms of payment or performance, including under a contribution agreement in section 10-32-58, and a contribution allowance agreement in section 10-32-59, are presumed to be proper if they are made in good faith and on the basis of accounting methods, or a fair valuation or other method, reasonable in the circumstances. Governors who are present and entitled to vote, and who, intentionally or without reasonable investigation, fail to vote against approving a consideration that is unfair to the limited liability company, or overvalue property or services received or to be received by the limited liability company as a contribution, are jointly and severally liable to the limited liability company for the benefit of the then members who did not consent to and are damaged by the action, to the extent of the damages of those members. A governor against whom a claim is asserted pursuant to this subsection, except in case of knowing participation in a deliberate fraud, is entitled to contribution on an equitable basis from other governors who are liable under this subsection.
5. All the membership interests of a limited liability company must:

- a. Be of one class, without series, unless the articles of organization establish, or authorize the board of governors to establish, more than one class or series within classes;
  - b. Be ordinary membership interests entitled to vote as provided in section 10-32-45, and have equal rights and preferences in all matters not otherwise provided for by the board of governors unless and to the extent that the articles of organization have fixed the relative rights and preferences of different classes and series; and
  - c. Share profits and losses as provided in section 10-32-36 and be entitled to distributions as provided in sections 10-32-60 and 10-32-61 and subdivision c of subsection 1 of section 10-32-131.
6. Subject to any restrictions in the articles of organization, the power granted in subsection 5 may be exercised by a resolution approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors present establishing a class or series, setting forth the designation of the class or series, and fixing the relative rights and preferences of the class or series.
  7. A statement executed by a manager setting forth the name of the limited liability company and the text of the resolution and certifying the adoption of the resolution and the date of adoption must be filed with the secretary of state together with the fees provided in section 10-32-150 before the acceptance of any contributions for which the resolution creates rights or preferences not set forth in the articles of organization. The resolution is effective when the statement has been filed with the secretary of state unless the statement specifies a later effective date within thirty days of filing the statement with the secretary of state.
  8. Without limiting the authority granted in this section, a limited liability company may have membership interests of a class or series:
    - a. Subject to the right of the limited liability company to redeem any of those membership interests at the price fixed for their redemption by the articles of organization or by the board of governors;
    - b. Entitling the members to cumulative, partially cumulative, or noncumulative distributions;
    - c. Having preference over any class or series of membership interests for the payment of distributions of any or all kinds;
    - d. Convertible into membership interests of any other class or any series of the same or another class; or
    - e. Having full, partial, or no voting rights, except as provided in section 10-32-17.

10-32-57. Restatement of value of previous contributions.

1. As used in this section, an "old" contribution is a contribution reflected in the required records of a limited liability company before the time the limited liability company accepts a new contribution.

2. Whenever a limited liability company accepts a new contribution, the board of governors shall restate, as required by this section, the value of all old contributions.
3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization, this subsection states the method of restating the value of old contributions that pertain to the same series or class to which the new contribution pertains:
  - a. State the value the limited liability company has accorded to the new contribution under subdivision a of subsection 3 of section 10-32-56;
  - b. Determine what percentage the value stated under subdivision a will constitute, after the restatement required by this subsection, of the total value of all contributions that pertain to the particular series or class to which the new contribution pertains;
  - c. Divide the value stated under subdivision a by the percentage determined under subdivision b, yielding the total value, after the restatement required by this subsection, of all contributions pertaining to the particular series or class;
  - d. Subtract the value stated under subdivision a from the value determined under subdivision c, yielding the total value, after the restatement required by this subsection, of all the old contributions pertaining to the particular series or class;
  - e. Subtract the value, as reflected in the required records before the restatement required by this subsection, of the old contributions from the value determined under subdivision d, yielding the value to be allocated among and added to the old contributions pertaining to the particular series or class; and
  - f. Allocate the value determined under subdivision e proportionally among the old contributions pertaining to the particular series or class, add the allocated values to those old contributions, and change the required records accordingly.

The values determined under subdivision e and allocated and added under subdivision f may be positive, negative, or zero.

4. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization, this subsection states the method of restating the value of old contributions that do not pertain to the same series or class to which the new contribution pertains:
  - a. Determine the percentage by which the restatement under subsection 3 has changed the total contribution value reflected in the required records for the series or class to which the new contribution pertains; and
  - b. As to each old contribution that does not pertain to the same series or class to which the new contribution pertains, change the value reflected in the required records by the percentage determined under subdivision a. The percentage determined under subdivision a may be positive, negative, or zero.

5. If a limited liability company accepts more than one contribution pertaining to the same series or class at the same time, then for the purpose of the restatement required by this section the limited liability company may consider all those new contributions as if they were a single contribution.

10-32-58. Contribution agreements.

1. A contribution agreement, whether made before or after the formation of the limited liability company, is not enforceable against the would-be contributor unless it is in writing and signed by the would-be contributor.
2. A contribution agreement is irrevocable for a period of six months unless the contribution agreement provides for, or unless all other would-be contributors who are a party to a contribution consent to, an earlier revocation.
3. A contribution agreement, whether made before or after the formation of a limited liability company, must be paid or performed in full at the time or times, or in the installments, if any, specified in the contribution agreement. In the absence of a provision in the contribution agreement specifying the time at which the contribution is to be paid or performed, the contribution must be paid or performed at the time or times determined by the board of governors, but a call made by the board of governors for payment or performance on contributions must be uniform for all membership interests of the same class or for all membership interests of the same series.
4. Unless otherwise provided in the contribution agreement, in the event of default in the payment or performance of an installment or call when due, the limited liability company may proceed to collect the amount due in the same manner as a debt due the limited liability company or, if the amount due remains unpaid for a period of twenty days after written notice of demand for payment has been given to the delinquent would-be contributor, the board of governors may declare a forfeiture of the contribution agreement or cancel it in accordance with this subsection. If a would-be contributor does not make a required contribution of property or services, the limited liability company shall require the would-be contributor to contribute cash equal to that portion of the value, as stated in the limited liability company required records, of the contribution that has not been made.
5. Upon forfeiture of a contribution agreement, the membership interests that were subject to the contribution agreement may be offered for sale by the limited liability company for a price in money equaling or exceeding the sum of the full balance owed by the delinquent would-be contributor plus the expenses incidental to the sale. Any excess of net proceeds realized by the limited liability company over the sum of the amount owed by the delinquent would-be contributor plus the expenses incidental to the sale must be paid to the delinquent would-be contributor or to a legal representative. The payment must not exceed the amount of contribution actually made by the delinquent would-be contributor.

6. If, within twenty days after the limited liability company offers to sell the membership interests that were subject to the defaulted contribution agreement, no prospective purchaser offers to purchase the membership interests for a money price sufficient to pay the sum of the full balance owed by the delinquent would-be contributor plus the expenses incidental to the sale, or if the limited liability company has refunded to the would-be contributor or a legal representative a portion of the contribution agreement price actually paid, the contribution agreement may be canceled and the limited liability company may retain the portion of the contribution agreement price actually paid that does not exceed ten percent of the contribution agreement price.
7. A would-be contributor's rights under a contribution agreement may not be assigned, in whole or in part, to a person who was not a member at the time of the assignment, unless all the members approve the assignment by unanimous written consent.

10-32-59. Contribution allowance agreements.

1. Subject to any restrictions in the articles of organization, a limited liability company may enter into contribution allowance agreements under the terms, provisions, and conditions fixed by the board of governors.
2. Any contribution allowance agreement must be in writing, and the writing must state in full, summarize, or incorporate by reference all of the agreement's terms, provisions, and conditions.
3. A would-be contributor's rights under a contribution allowance agreement may not be assigned in whole or in part to a person who was not a member at the time of the assignment, unless all of the members approve the assignment by unanimous written consent.

10-32-60. Sharing of distributions. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or by the board of governors under subsections 5 through 7 of section 10-32-56, distributions of cash or other assets of a limited liability company, including distributions on termination of the limited liability company, must be allocated in proportion to the value of the contributions of the members reflected in the required records.

10-32-61. Interim distributions. Except as provided in the articles of organization, a member is entitled to receive distributions before the limited liability company's termination only as specified in the operating agreement or by the act of the board of governors.

10-32-62. Distribution in kind. Except as provided in the articles of organization, a member, regardless of the nature of the member's contribution, has no right to demand and receive any distribution from a limited liability company in any form other than cash. Except as provided in the articles of organization, a member may not be compelled to accept a distribution of any asset in kind from a limited liability company to the extent that the percentage of the asset distributed to the member exceeds a percentage of that asset that is equal to the percentage in which the member shares in distributions from the limited liability company.

10-32-63. Status as a creditor. At the time a member becomes entitled to receive a distribution, the member has the status of, and is entitled to all remedies available to, a creditor of the limited liability company with respect to the distribution.

10-32-64. Limitations on distribution.

1. The board of governors may authorize and cause the limited liability company to make a distribution only if the board of governors determines, in accordance with subsection 2, that the limited liability company will be able to pay its debts in the ordinary course of business after making the distribution and the board of governors does not know before the distribution is made that the determination was or has become erroneous, and the limited liability company may make the distribution if it is able to pay its debts in the ordinary course of business after making the distribution. The effect of a distribution on the ability of the limited liability company to pay its debts in the ordinary course of business after making the distribution must be measured in accordance with subsection 3. The right of the board of governors to authorize, and the limited liability company to make, distributions may be prohibited, limited, or restricted by the articles of organization or operating agreement or an agreement.
2. A determination that the limited liability company will be able to pay its debts in the ordinary course of business after the distribution is presumed to be proper if the determination is made in compliance with the standard of conduct provided in section 10-32-86 on the basis of financial information prepared in accordance with accounting methods, or a fair valuation or other method, reasonable in the circumstances. No liability under section 10-32-66 or 10-32-86 will accrue if the requirements of this subsection have been met.
3. In the case of a distribution made by a limited liability company in connection with a redemption of its membership interests, the effect of the distribution must be measured as of the date on which money or other property is transferred, or indebtedness payable in installments or otherwise is incurred, by the limited liability company, or as of the date on which the member ceases to be a member of the limited liability company, whichever is the earliest. The effect of any other distribution must be measured as of the date of its authorization if payment occurs one hundred twenty days or less following the date of authorization, or as of the date of payment if payment occurs more than one hundred twenty days following the date of authorization. The provisions of chapter 13-02.1 do not apply to distributions made by a limited liability company governed by this chapter.
4. Indebtedness of a limited liability company incurred or issued in a distribution in accordance with this section to a member who as a result of the transaction is no longer a member is on a parity with the indebtedness of the limited liability company to its general unsecured creditors, except to the extent subordinated, agreed to, or secured by a pledge of any assets of the limited liability company or a related limited liability company, or subject to any other agreement between the limited liability company and the member.

5. A distribution may be made to the owners of a class or series of membership interests only if:
- a. All amounts payable to the owners of membership interests having a preference for the payment of that kind of distribution, other than those owners who give notice to the limited liability company of their agreement to waive their rights to that payment, are paid; and
  - b. The payment of the distribution does not reduce the remaining net assets of the limited liability company below the aggregate preferential amount payable in the event of liquidation to the owners of membership interests having preferential rights, unless the distribution is made to those members in the order and to the extent of their respective priorities or the owners of membership interests who do not receive distributions in that order give notice to the limited liability company of their agreement to waive their rights to that distribution.

A determination that the payment of the distribution does not reduce the remaining net assets of the limited liability company below the aggregate preferential amount payable in the event of termination to the owners of membership interests having preferential rights is presumed to be proper if the determination is made in compliance with the standard of conduct provided in section 10-32-86 on the basis of financial information prepared in accordance with accounting methods, or a fair valuation or other method, reasonable in the circumstances. Liability under section 10-32-66 or 10-32-86 will not arise if the requirements of this subsection are met.

6. If the money or property available for distribution is insufficient to satisfy all preferences, the distributions must be made pro rata according to the order of priority of preferences by classes and by series within those classes unless those owners who do not receive distributions in that order give notice to the limited liability company of their agreement to waive their rights to that distribution.

10-32-65. Liability of members for illegal distributions.

1. A member who receives a distribution made in violation of section 10-32-64 is liable to the limited liability company, its receiver or other person winding up its affairs, or a governor under subsection 2 of section 10-32-66, but only to the extent that the distribution received by the member exceeded the amount that properly could have been paid under section 10-32-64.
2. An action may not be commenced under this section more than two years from the date of the distribution.

10-32-66. Liability of governors for illegal distributions.

1. In addition to any other liabilities, a governor who is present at a meeting and fails to vote against, or who consents in writing to, a distribution made in violation of section 10-32-64 or a restriction contained in the articles of organization or operating agreement or an agreement, and who fails to comply with the standard of conduct provided in section 10-32-86, is liable to the limited liability company jointly and severally with all other governors so liable and to other governors under subsection 3, but only to the extent that the distribution exceeded the amount that properly could have been paid under section 10-32-64.

2. A governor against whom an action is brought under this section with respect to a distribution may implead in that action all members who received the distribution and may compel pro rata contribution from them in that action to the extent provided in subsection 1 of section 10-32-65.
3. A governor against whom an action is brought under this section with respect to a distribution may implead in that action all other governors who voted for or consented in writing to the distribution and may compel pro rata contribution from them in that action.
4. An action may not be commenced under this section more than two years from the date of the distribution.

10-32-67. Organization.

1. If the first board of governors is not named in the articles of organization, the organizers may elect the first board of governors or may act as governors with all of the powers, rights, duties, and liabilities of governors, until governors are elected or until a contribution is accepted, whichever occurs first.
2. After the issuance of the certificate of organization, the organizers or the governors named in the articles of organization shall either hold an organizational meeting at the call of a majority of the organizers or of the governors named in the articles, or take written action, for the purposes of transacting business and taking actions necessary or appropriate to complete the organization of the limited liability company, including, without limitation, amending the articles, electing governors, adopting an operating agreement, electing managers, adopting banking resolutions, authorizing or ratifying the purchase, lease, or other acquisition of suitable space, furniture, furnishings, supplies, and materials, approving a limited liability company seal, adopting a fiscal year for the limited liability company, contracting to receive and accept contributions, and making any appropriate tax elections. If a meeting is held, the person or persons calling the meeting shall give at least three days notice of the meeting to each organizer or governor named, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting.

10-32-68. Operating agreement.

1. A limited liability company may, but need not, have an operating agreement. The operating agreement may contain any provision relating to the management of the business or the regulation of the affairs of the limited liability company not inconsistent with law or the articles of organization. An act of the board under subsection 2 and of the members under subsection 3 will be considered part of the operating agreement only if the act expressly states that it is intended to constitute or revise the operating agreement.

2. An initial operating agreement may be adopted pursuant to section 10-32-67 by the organizers or by the first board of governors. Unless reserved by the articles of organization to the members, the power to adopt, amend, or repeal the operating agreement is vested in the board of governors. The power of the board of governors is subject to the power of the members, exercisable in the manner provided in subsection 3, to adopt, amend, or repeal the operating agreement adopted, amended, or repealed by the board of governors. After the adoption of the initial operating agreement, the board of governors may not adopt, amend, or repeal an operating agreement provision fixing a quorum for meetings of members, prescribing procedures for removing governors or filling vacancies in the board of governors, or fixing the number of governors or their classifications, qualifications, or terms of office, but may adopt or amend an operating agreement provision to increase the number of governors.
3. If members owning five percent or more of the voting power of the members entitled to vote propose a resolution for action by the members to adopt, amend, or repeal operating agreement provisions adopted, amended, or repealed by the board of governors and the resolution sets forth the provision or provisions proposed for adoption, amendment, or repeal, the limitations and procedures for submitting, considering, and adopting the resolution are the same as provided in subsections 2 through 4 of section 10-32-16, for amendment of the articles of organization.

10-32-69. Board of governors.

1. The business and affairs of a limited liability company are to be managed by or under the direction of a board of governors, subject to the provisions of subsection 2 and section 10-32-50. The first board of governors may be named in the articles of organization or elected by the organizers pursuant to section 10-32-67 or by the members.
2. The owners of the membership interests entitled to vote for governors of the limited liability company may, by unanimous affirmative vote, take any action that this chapter requires or permits the board of governors to take. As to an action taken by the members in that manner:
  - a. The governors have no duties, liabilities, or responsibilities as governors under this chapter with respect to or arising from the action;
  - b. The members collectively and individually have all of the duties, liabilities, and responsibilities of governors under this chapter with respect to and arising from the action;
  - c. If the action relates to a matter required or permitted by this chapter or by any other law to be approved or adopted by the board of governors, either with or without approval or adoption by the members, the action is considered to have been approved or adopted by the board of governors; and
  - d. A requirement that an instrument filed with a governmental agency contain a statement that the action has been approved and adopted by the board of governors is satisfied by a statement that the members have taken the action under this subsection.

10-32-70. Number. The board of governors consists of one or more governors. The number of governors must be fixed by or in the manner provided in the articles of organization or the operating agreement. The number of governors may be increased or, subject to section 10-32-78, decreased at any time by amendment to or in the manner provided in the articles or operating agreement.

10-32-71. Qualifications and election. Governors must be individuals. The method of election and any additional qualifications for governors may be imposed by or in the manner provided in the articles or operating agreement.

10-32-72. Terms. Unless fixed terms are provided for in the articles or operating agreement, a governor serves for an indefinite term that expires at the next regular meeting of the members. A fixed term of a governor must not exceed five years. A governor holds office for the term for which the governor was elected and until a successor is elected and has qualified, or until the earlier death, resignation, removal, or disqualification of the governor.

10-32-73. Acts not void or voidable. The expiration of a governor's term with or without the election of a qualified successor does not make prior or subsequent acts of the governors or the board of governors void or voidable.

10-32-74. Compensation. Subject to any limitations in the articles or operating agreement, the board of governors may fix the compensation of governors.

10-32-75. Classification of governors. Governors may be divided into classes as provided in the articles or operating agreement.

10-32-76. Cumulative voting for governors.

1. Each member entitled to vote for governors has the right to cumulate voting power in the election of governors by giving written notice of intent to cumulate voting power to any manager of the limited liability company before the meeting, or to the presiding manager at the meeting at which the election is to occur at any time before the election of governors at the meeting, in which case:

a. The presiding manager at the meeting shall announce, before the election of governors, that members shall cumulate their voting power; and

b. Each member shall cumulate that voting power either by casting for one candidate the amount of voting power equal to the number of governors to be elected multiplied by the voting power represented by the membership interests owned by that member, or by distributing all of that voting power on the same principle among any number of candidates.

2. No amendment to the articles or operating agreement that has the effect of denying, limiting, or modifying the right to cumulative voting for members provided in this section may be adopted if the votes of a proportion of the voting power sufficient to elect a governor at an election of the entire board of governors under cumulative voting are cast against the amendment.

10-32-77. Resignation. A governor may resign at any time by giving written notice to the limited liability company. The resignation is effective without acceptance when the notice is given to the limited liability company, unless a later effective time is specified in the notice.

10-32-78. Removal of governors.

1. The provisions of this section apply unless modified by the articles of organization or the operating agreement.
2. A governor may be removed at any time, with or without cause, if:
  - a. The governor was named by the board of governors to fill a vacancy;
  - b. The members have not elected governors in the interval between the time of the appointment to fill a vacancy and the time of the removal; and
  - c. A majority of the remaining governors present affirmatively votes to remove the governor.
3. Any one or all of the governors may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of the owners of the proportion of the voting power of the membership interests of the classes or series the governor represents sufficient to elect them. If less than the entire board of governors is to be removed, no one of the governors may be removed if the votes cast against the governor's removal which, if then cumulatively voted at the election of the entire board of governors, or if there be classes of governors at an election of the class of governors of which the governor is a part, would be sufficient to elect the governor. Whenever the members of any class are entitled to elect one or more governors by the provisions of the articles of the organization, the provisions of this section apply, in respect to the removal of a governor or governors so elected, to the vote of the members of that class and not to the vote of the members as a whole.
4. New governors may be elected at a meeting at which governors are removed.

10-32-79. Vacancies.

1. Unless different rules for filling vacancies are provided for in the articles or operating agreement:
  - a. Vacancies on the board of governors resulting from the death, resignation, removal, or disqualification of a governor may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining governors, even though less than a quorum; and
  - b. Vacancies on the board of governors resulting from newly created governorships may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the governors serving at the time of the increase.
2. Each governor elected under this section to fill a vacancy holds office until a qualified successor is elected by the members at the next regular or special meeting of the members.

10-32-80. Board of governors meetings.

1. Meetings of the board of governors may be held from time to time as provided in the articles of organization or operating agreement at any place within or without the state that the board of governors may select or by any means described in subsection 2. If the board of governors fails to select a place for a meeting, the meeting must be held at the principal executive office, unless the articles or operating agreement provide otherwise.
2. A board of governors meeting may be conducted by:
  - a. A conference among governors using any means of communication through which the governors may simultaneously hear each other during the conference constitutes a board of governors meeting, if the same notice is given of the conference as would be required by subsection 3 for a meeting, and if the number of governors participating in the conference would be sufficient to constitute a quorum at a meeting. Participation in a meeting by that means constitutes presence in person at the meeting; or
  - b. By any means of communication through which the governor, other governors so participating, and all governors physically present at the meeting may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. Participation in a meeting by that means constitutes presence in person at the meeting.
3. Unless the articles of organization or operating agreement provide for a different time period, a governor may call a board meeting by giving ten days' notice to all governors of the date, time, and place of the meeting. The notice need not state the purpose of the meeting unless the articles or operating agreement require it.
4. If the day or date, time, and place of a board of governors meeting have been provided in the articles or operating agreement, or announced at a previous meeting of the board of governors, no notice is required. Notice of an adjourned meeting need not be given other than by announcement at the meeting at which adjournment is taken.
5. A governor may waive notice of a meeting of the board of governors. A waiver of notice by a governor entitled to notice is effective whether given before, at, or after the meeting, and whether given in writing, or by attendance. Attendance by a governor at a meeting is a waiver of notice of that meeting, except where the governor objects at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened and does not participate in the meeting after the objection.

10-32-81. Absent governors. If the articles of organization or operating agreement so provide, a governor may give advance written consent or opposition to a proposal to be acted on at a board of governors meeting. If the governor is not present at the meeting, consent or opposition to a proposal does not constitute presence for purposes of determining the existence of a quorum, but consent or opposition must be counted as a vote in favor of or against the proposal and must be entered in the minutes or other record of action at the meeting, if the proposal acted on at the meeting is substantially the same or has substantially the same effect as the proposal to which the governor has consented or objected.

10-32-82. Quorum. A majority, or a larger or smaller proportion or number provided in the articles of organization or operating agreement, of the governors currently holding office is a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the governors present may adjourn a meeting from time to time until a quorum is present. If a quorum is present when a duly called or held meeting is convened, the governors present may continue to transact business until adjournment, even though the withdrawal of a number of governors originally present leaves less than the proportion or number otherwise required for a quorum.

10-32-83. Act of the board of governors. The board of governors shall take action by the affirmative vote of a majority of governors present at a duly held meeting, except where this chapter or the articles require the affirmative vote of a larger proportion or number. If the articles require a larger proportion or number than is required by this chapter for a particular action, the articles control.

10-32-84. Action without a meeting.

1. An action required or permitted to be taken at a board of governors meeting may be taken by written action signed by all of the governors. If the articles so provide, any action, other than an action requiring member approval, may be taken by written action signed by the number of governors that would be required to take the same action at a meeting of the board of governors at which all governors were present.
2. The written action is effective when signed by the required number of governors, unless a different effective time is provided in the written action.
3. When written action is permitted to be taken by less than all governors, all governors must be notified immediately of its text and effective date. Failure to provide the notice does not invalidate the written action. A governor who does not sign or consent to the written action has no liability for the action or actions taken thereby.

10-32-85. Committees.

1. A resolution approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board of governors may establish committees having the authority of the board in the management of the business of the limited liability company only to the extent provided in the resolution. Committees may include a special litigation committee consisting of one or more independent governors or other independent persons to consider legal rights or remedies of the limited liability company and whether those rights and remedies should be pursued. Committees other than special litigation committees are subject at all times to the direction and control of the board of governors.
2. Committee members must be individuals. Unless the articles or operating agreement provide for a different membership or manner of appointment, a committee consists of one or more persons, who need not be governors, appointed by affirmative vote of a majority of the governors present.

3. Sections 10-32-80 through 10-32-84 apply to committees and members of committees to the same extent as those sections apply to the board of governors and governors.
4. Minutes, if any, of committee meetings must be made available upon request to members of the committee and to any governor.
5. The establishment of, delegation of authority to, and action by a committee does not alone constitute compliance by a governor with the standard of conduct set forth in section 10-32-86.
6. Committee members are considered to be governors for purposes of sections 10-32-86, 10-32-87, and 10-32-99.

10-32-86. Standard of conduct.

1. A governor shall discharge the duties of the position of governor in good faith, in a manner the governor reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the limited liability company, and with the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances. A person who so performs those duties is not liable by reason of being or having been a governor of the limited liability company.
2. A governor is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, in each case prepared or presented by:
  - a. One or more managers or employees of the limited liability company whom the governor reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented;
  - b. Counsel, public accountants, or other persons as to matters that the governor reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence; or
  - c. A committee of the board of governors upon which the governor does not serve, duly established in accordance with section 10-32-85, as to matters within its designated authority, if the governor reasonably believes the committee to merit confidence.
3. Subsection 2 does not apply to a governor who has knowledge concerning the matter in question that makes the reliance otherwise permitted by subsection 2 unwarranted.
4. A governor who is present at a meeting of the board of governors when an action is approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the governors present is presumed to have assented to the action approved, unless the governor:
  - a. Objects at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened and does not participate in the meeting after the objection, in which case the governor is not considered to be present at the meeting for any purpose of this chapter;

- b. Votes against the action at the meeting; or
  - c. Is prohibited by section 10-32-87 from voting on the action.
5. A governor's personal liability to the limited liability company or its members for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a governor may be eliminated or limited in the articles of organization. The articles may not eliminate or limit the liability of a governor:
- a. For any breach of the governor's duty of loyalty to the limited liability company or its members;
  - b. For acts or omissions not in good faith or that involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law;
  - c. Under section 10-32-66;
  - d. For any transaction from which the governor derived an improper personal benefit; or
  - e. For any act or omission occurring before the date when the provision in the articles of organization eliminating or limiting liability becomes effective.
6. In discharging the duties of the position of governor, a governor may, in considering the best interests of the limited liability company, consider the interests of the limited liability company's employees, customers, suppliers, and creditors, the economy of the state and nation, community and societal considerations, and the long-term as well as short-term interests of the limited liability company and its members including the possibility that these interests may be best served by the continued independence of the limited liability company.

10-32-87. Governor conflicts of interest.

1. A contract or other transaction between a limited liability company and one or more of its governors, or between a limited liability company and an organization in or of which one or more of its governors are governors, directors, managers, officers, or legal representatives or have a material financial interest, is not void or voidable because the governor or governors or the other organizations are parties or because the governor or governors are present at the meeting of the members or the board of governors or a committee at which the contract or transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified, if:
- a. The contract or transaction was, and the person asserting the validity of the contract or transaction sustains the burden of establishing that the contract or transaction was, fair and reasonable as to the limited liability company at the time it was authorized, approved, or ratified;
  - b. The material facts as to the contract or transaction and as to the manager's interest are fully disclosed or known to the members and the contract or transaction is approved in good faith by the holders of a majority of the membership interests, but membership interests owned by the interested governor may not be counted in determining the presence of a quorum and may not be voted.

- c. The material facts as to the contract or transaction and as to the governor's interest are fully disclosed or known to the board of governors or a committee, and the board of governors or committee authorizes, approves, or ratifies the contract or transaction in good faith by a majority of the board of governors or committee, but the interested governor is not counted in determining the presence of a quorum and may not vote; or
- d. The contract or transaction is a distribution described in subsection 1 of section 10-32-64 or a merger or exchange described in subsection 1 or 2 of section 10-32-100.

2. For purposes of this section:

- a. A governor does not have a material financial interest in a resolution fixing the compensation of the governor or fixing the compensation of another governor as a governor, manager, employee, or agent of the limited liability company, even though the first governor is also receiving compensation from the limited liability company; and
- b. A governor has a material financial interest in each organization in which the governor, or the spouse, parents, children and spouses of children, brothers and sisters and spouses of brothers and sisters of the governor, or any combination of them have a material financial interest.

10-32-88. Managers. The managers of a limited liability company must consist of a president, one or more vice presidents as may be prescribed in the operating agreement, a secretary, and a treasurer, each of whom must be elected by the board at such time and in such manner as may be provided in the operating agreement.

10-32-89. Duties of managers and agents. All managers and agents of the limited liability company, as between themselves and the limited liability company, have such authority and must perform such duties in the management of the limited liability company as may be provided in the operating agreement, or as may be determined by resolution of the board not inconsistent with the operating agreement.

10-32-90. Other managers. Any other managers, assistant managers, and agents, as necessary, may be elected or appointed by the board of governors or chosen in such other manner as may be provided in the operating agreement.

10-32-91. Multiple managerial positions. Any number of managerial positions or functions of those positions may be held or exercised by the same person. If a document must be signed by persons holding different positions or functions and a person holds or exercises more than one of those positions or functions, that person may sign the document in more than one capacity, but only if the document indicates each capacity in which the person signs.

10-32-92. Managers deemed elected. In the absence of an election or appointment of managers by the board of governors, the person or persons exercising the functions of the principal managers of the limited liability company are deemed to have been elected to those offices.

10-32-93. Contract rights. The election or appointment of a person as a manager or agent does not, of itself, create contract rights. However, a limited liability company may enter into a contract with a manager or agent. The resignation or removal of the manager or agent is without prejudice to any contractual rights or obligations.

10-32-94. Resignation, removal, and vacancy.

1. A manager may resign at any time by giving written notice to the limited liability company. The resignation is effective without acceptance when the notice is given to the limited liability company, unless a later effective date is specified in the notice.
2. A manager may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by a resolution approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the governors present, subject to the provisions of a member-control agreement.
3. A vacancy in an office because of death, resignation, removal, or disqualification must be filled for the unexpired portion of the term in the manner provided in the articles or operating agreement, or determined by the board of governors, or pursuant to section 10-32-92.

10-32-95. Delegation. Unless prohibited by the articles or operating agreement or by a resolution approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the governors present, a manager elected or appointed by the board of governors may, without the approval of the board, delegate some or all of the duties and powers of an office to other persons. A manager who delegates the duties or powers of an office remains subject to the standard of conduct for a manager with respect to the discharge of all duties and powers so delegated.

10-32-96. Standard of conduct. A manager shall discharge the duties of an office in good faith, in a manner the manager reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the limited liability company, and with the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances. A person exercising the principal functions of an office or to whom some or all of the duties and powers of an office are delegated pursuant to section 10-32-95 is considered a manager for purposes of this section and sections 10-32-53 and 10-32-99.

10-32-97. Loans, guarantees, and suretyship.

1. A limited liability company may lend money to, guarantee an obligation of, become a surety for, or otherwise financially assist a person, if the transaction, or a class of transactions to which the transaction belongs, is approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the governors present and:
  - a. Is in the usual and regular course of business of the limited liability company;
  - b. Is with, or for the benefit of, a related limited liability company, an organization in which the limited liability company has a financial interest, an organization with which the limited liability company has

- a business relationship, or an organization to which the limited liability company has the power to make donations;
- c. Is with, or for the benefit of, a manager or other employee of the limited liability company or a subsidiary, including a manager or employee who is a governor of the limited liability company or a subsidiary, and may reasonably be expected, in the judgment of the board of governors, to benefit the limited liability company; or
  - d. Has been approved by the owners of two-thirds of the voting power of persons other than the interested person or persons.
2. A loan, guarantee, surety contract, or other financial assistance under subsection 1 may be with or without interest and may be unsecured or may be secured in any manner, including, without limitation, a grant of a security interest in a member's financial rights in the limited liability company.
3. This section does not grant any authority to act as a bank or to carry on the business of banking.

10-32-98. Advances. A limited liability company may, without a vote of the governors or its members, advance money to its governors, managers, or employees to cover expenses that can reasonably be anticipated to be incurred by them in the performance of their duties and for which they would be entitled to reimbursement in the absence of an advance.

10-32-99. Indemnification.

1. For purposes of this section:
- a. "Limited liability company" includes a domestic or foreign limited liability company that was the predecessor of the limited liability company referred to in this section in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.
  - b. "Official capacity" means:
    - (1) With respect to a governor, the position of governor in a limited liability company;
    - (2) With respect to a person other than a governor, the elective or appointive office or position held by a manager, member of a committee of the board of governors, the employment relationship undertaken by an employee, or agent of the limited liability company; and
    - (3) With respect to a governor, manager, employee, or agent of the limited liability company who, while a governor, manager, or employee of the limited liability company, is or was serving at the request of the limited liability company or whose duties in that position involve or involved service as a governor, director, manager, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another organization or employee benefit plan, the position of that person as a governor, director, manager, officer, partner,

- trustee, employee, or agent, as the case may be, of the other organization or employee benefit plan.
- c. "Proceeding" means a threatened, pending, or completed civil, criminal, administrative, arbitration, or investigative proceeding, including a proceeding by or in the right of the limited liability company.
  - d. "Special legal counsel" means counsel who has not represented the limited liability company or a related limited liability company, or a governor, manager, member of a committee of the board of governors, employee, or agent whose indemnification is in issue.
2. Subject to the provisions of subsection 5, a limited liability company shall indemnify a person made or threatened to be made a party to a proceeding by reason of the former or present official capacity of the person against judgments, penalties, fines, including, without limitation, excise taxes assessed against the person with respect to an employee benefit plan, settlements, and reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees and disbursements, incurred by the person in connection with the proceeding, if, with respect to the acts or omissions of the person complained of in the proceeding, the person:
- a. Has not been indemnified by another organization or employee benefit plan for the same judgments, penalties, fines, including, without limitation, excise taxes assessed against the person with respect to an employee benefit plan, settlements, and reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees and disbursements, incurred by the person in connection with the proceeding with respect to the same acts or omissions;
  - b. Acted in good faith;
  - c. Received no improper personal benefit and section 10-32-87, if applicable, has been satisfied;
  - d. In the case of a criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe the conduct was unlawful; and
  - e. In the case of acts or omissions occurring in the official capacity described in paragraph 1 or 2 of subdivision b of subsection 1, reasonably believed that the conduct was in the best interests of the limited liability company, or in the case of acts or omissions occurring in the official capacity described in paragraph 3 of subdivision b of subsection 1, reasonably believed that the conduct was not opposed to the best interests of the limited liability company. If the person's acts or omissions complained of in the proceeding relate to conduct as a director, officer, trustee, employee, or agent of an employee benefit plan, the conduct is not considered to be opposed to the best interests of the limited liability company if the person reasonably believed that the conduct was in the best interests of the participants or beneficiaries of the employee benefit plan.

3. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent does not, of itself, establish that the person did not meet the criteria set forth in subsection 2.
4. Subject to the provisions of subsection 5, if a person is made or threatened to be made a party to a proceeding, the person is entitled, upon written request to the limited liability company, to payment or reimbursement by the limited liability company of reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees and disbursements, incurred by the person in advance of the final disposition of the proceeding:
  - a. Upon receipt by the limited liability company of a written affirmation by the person of a good faith belief that the criteria for indemnification set forth in subsection 2 have been satisfied and a written undertaking by the person to repay all amounts so paid or reimbursed by the limited liability company, if it is ultimately determined that the criteria for indemnification have not been satisfied; and
  - b. After a determination that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this section.

The written undertaking required by subdivision a is an unlimited general obligation of the person making it, but need not be secured and must be accepted without reference to financial ability to make the repayment.

5. The articles of organization or operating agreement either may prohibit indemnification or advances of expenses otherwise required by this section or may impose conditions on indemnification or advances of expenses in addition to the conditions contained in subsections 2 through 4 including, without limitation, monetary limits on indemnification or advances of expenses, if the conditions apply equally to all persons or to all persons within a given class. A prohibition or limit on indemnification or advances may not apply to or affect the right of a person to indemnification or advances of expenses with respect to any acts or omissions of the person occurring before the effective date of a provision in the articles of organization or the date of adoption of a provision in the operating agreement establishing the prohibition or limit on indemnification or advances.
6. This section does not require, or limit the ability of, a limited liability company to reimburse expenses, including attorney's fees and disbursements, incurred by a person in connection with an appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when the person has not been made or threatened to be made a party to a proceeding.
7. All indemnification determinations must be made:
  - a. By the board of governors by a majority of a quorum. Governors who are, at the time, parties to the proceeding are not counted for determining either a majority or the presence of a quorum;
  - b. If a quorum under subdivision a cannot be obtained, by a majority of a committee of the board of governors, consisting solely of two or more

- governors not at the time parties to the proceeding, duly designated to act in the matter by a majority of the full board of governors including governors who are parties;
- c. If a determination is not made under subdivision a or b, by special legal counsel, selected either by a majority of the board of governors or a committee by vote pursuant to subdivision a or b or, if the requisite quorum of the full board of governors cannot be obtained and the committee cannot be established, by a majority of the full board of governors including governors who are parties;
  - d. If a determination is not made under subdivisions a through c, by the members, excluding the votes of membership interests held by parties to the proceeding; or
  - e. If an adverse determination is made under subdivisions a through d or under subsection 8, or if no determination is made under subdivisions a through d or under subsection 8 within sixty days after the termination of a proceeding or after a request for an advance of expenses, as the case may be, by a court in this state, which may be the same court in which the proceeding involving the person's liability took place, upon application of the person and any notice the court requires.
8. With respect to a person who is not, and was not at the time of the acts or omissions complained of in the proceedings, a governor, manager, or person possessing, directly or indirectly, the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of the limited liability company, the determination whether indemnification of this person is required because the criteria set forth in subsections 2 and 3 have been satisfied and whether this person is entitled to payment or reimbursement of expenses in advance of the final disposition of a proceeding as provided in subsection 4 may be made by an annually appointed committee of the board of governors, having at least one member who is a governor. The committee shall report at least annually to the board of governors concerning its actions.
9. A limited liability company may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of a person in that person's official capacity against any liability asserted against and incurred by the person in or arising from that capacity, whether or not the limited liability company would have been required to indemnify the person against the liability under the provisions of this section.
10. A limited liability company that indemnifies or advances expenses to a person in accordance with this section in connection with a proceeding by or on behalf of the limited liability company shall report to the members in writing the amount of the indemnification or advance and to whom and on whose behalf it was paid not later than the next meeting of members as part of the annual financial statements furnished to members pursuant to section 10-32-52 covering the period when the indemnification or advance was paid or accrued under the accounting method of the limited liability company reflected in the financial statements.

11. Nothing in this section may be construed to limit the power of the limited liability company to indemnify other persons by contract or otherwise.

10-32-100. Merger - Exchange - Transfer.

1. With or without a business purpose, a limited liability company may merge:
  - a. With another limited liability company or a domestic corporation pursuant to a plan of merger approved in the manner provided in sections 10-32-101 through 10-32-106; and
  - b. With any foreign corporation or foreign limited liability company pursuant to a plan of merger approved in the manner provided in section 10-32-107.
2. A limited liability company may acquire all of the ownership interests of one or more classes or series of another limited liability company or domestic corporation pursuant to a plan of exchange approved in the manner provided in sections 10-32-101 through 10-32-106.
3. A domestic corporation may acquire all of the ownership interests of one or more classes or series of a limited liability company pursuant to a plan of exchange approved in the manner provided in sections 10-32-101 through 10-32-106.
4. A foreign corporation or foreign limited liability company may acquire all of the ownership interests of one or more classes or series of a limited liability company pursuant to a plan of exchange approved in the manner provided in section 10-32-107.
5. A limited liability company may sell, lease, transfer, or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its property and assets in the manner provided in section 10-32-108.
6. A limited liability company may participate in a merger only as permitted by this section.

10-32-101. Plan of merger or exchange.

1. A plan of merger or exchange must contain:
  - a. The name of the limited liability company and each other constituent organization proposing to merge or participate in an exchange, and:
    - (1) In the case of a merger, the name of the surviving organization, which may be the limited liability company or the other constituent organization; or
    - (2) In the case of an exchange, the name of the acquiring organization;
  - b. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger;
  - c. The manner and basis for converting or exchanging ownership interests:
    - (1) In the case of a merger, the manner and basis of converting the ownership interests of the constituent organizations into securities of the surviving organization or of any other organization or, in whole or in part, into money or other property; or

(2) In the case of an exchange, the manner and basis of exchanging the ownership interests to be acquired for securities of the acquiring organization or any other organization or, in whole or in part, for money or other property;

d. In the case of a merger, a statement of any amendments to the articles of organization or articles of incorporation, as the case may be, of the surviving organization proposed as part of the merger; and

e. Any other provisions with respect to the proposed merger that are considered necessary or desirable.

2. The procedure authorized by this section does not limit the power of a limited liability company to acquire all or part of the ownership interests of one or more classes or series of any other organization through a negotiated agreement with the owners or otherwise.

10-32-102. Plan approval.

1. A resolution containing the plan of merger must be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board members present at a meeting of the governing board of each constituent organization and must then be submitted to the members of each constituent organization at a regular or a special meeting. Written notice must be given to every owner of that organization, whether or not entitled to vote at the meeting, not less than fourteen days nor more than sixty days before the meeting, in the manner provided in section 10-19.1-98 for notice of meetings of shareholders in the case of a domestic corporation and in the manner provided in section 10-32-40 for notice of meetings of members in the case of a limited liability company. The written notice must state that a purpose of the meeting is to consider the proposed plan of merger or exchange. A copy or short description of the plan of merger or exchange must be included in or enclosed with the notice.

2. At the meeting a vote of the owners must be taken on the proposed plan. The plan of merger is adopted when approved by the affirmative vote of the owners of a majority of the voting power of all ownership interests entitled to vote. Except as provided in subsection 3, a class or series of ownership interests of the organization is entitled to vote as a class or series if any provision of the plan would, if contained in a proposed amendment to the articles of organization or articles of incorporation, as the case may be, entitle the class or series of ownership interests to vote as a class or series and, in the case of an exchange, if the class or series is included in the exchange.

3. A class or series of ownership interests of the organization is not entitled to vote as a class or series solely because the plan of merger or exchange effects a cancellation of the ownership interests of the class or series if the plan of merger or exchange effects a cancellation of all ownership interests of the organization of all classes and series that are existing immediately before the merger or exchange and owners of ownership interests of that class or series are entitled to obtain payment for the fair value of their ownership interests under section 10-19.1-87 or 10-32-55, as the case may be, in the event of the merger or exchange.

4. Notwithstanding subsections 1 and 2, submission of a plan of merger to a vote at a meeting of shareholders of a surviving corporation is not required if:
  - a. The articles of the corporation will not be amended in the transaction;
  - b. Each holder of shares of the corporation that were outstanding immediately before the effective date of the transaction will hold the same number of shares with identical rights immediately after that date;
  - c. The number of shares of the corporation entitled to vote immediately after the merger, plus the number of shares of the corporation entitled to vote issuable on conversion of securities other than shares or on the exercise of rights to purchase securities issued by virtue of the terms of the transaction, will not exceed by more than twenty percent, the number of shares of the corporation entitled to vote immediately before the transaction; and
  - d. The number of participating shares of the corporation immediately after the merger, plus the number of participating shares of the corporation issuable on conversion, or on the exercise of rights to purchase, securities issued in the transaction, will not exceed by more than twenty percent, the number of participating shares of the corporation immediately before the transaction. "Participating shares" are outstanding shares of the corporation that entitle their holders to participate without limitation in distributions by the corporation.

    - (2) A statement that a vote of the shareholders is not required by virtue of subsection 3 of section 10-19.1-98 or that a vote of the members is not required by virtue of subsection 4 of section 10-32-102.
2. The articles of merger must be signed on behalf of each constituent organization and filed with the secretary of state, together with the fees provided in section 10-32-150.

3. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate of merger to the surviving organization, or its legal representative. The certificate must contain the effective date of merger.

10-32-104. Merger of subsidiary into parent.

1. A parent owning at least ninety percent of the outstanding ownership interests of each class and series of a subsidiary may merge the subsidiary into itself without a vote of the owners of either constituent organization. A resolution approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors or managers of the parent present must set forth a plan of merger that contains:
  - a. The name of the subsidiary and the name of the parent; and
  - b. The manner and basis of converting the ownership interests of the subsidiary into ownership interests of the parent or of another organization or, in whole or in part, into money or other property.
2. A copy of the plan of merger must be mailed to each member, other than the parent, of the subsidiary.

  - c. The date a copy of the plan of merger was mailed to the owners, other than the parent, of the subsidiary.
4. Within thirty days after a copy of the plan of merger is mailed to the owners of the subsidiary, or upon waiver of the mailing by the holders of all outstanding ownership interests, the articles of merger must be signed on behalf of the parent and filed with the secretary of state, together with the fees provided in section 10-32-150.
5. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate of merger to the parent or its legal representative. The certificate must contain the effective date of merger.

10-32-105. Abandonment of plan of merger.

1. After a plan of merger has been approved by the owners entitled to vote on the approval of the plan as provided in section 10-32-102, and before the effective date of the plan, it may be abandoned:
  - a. If the owners of ownership interests of each of the constituent organizations entitled to vote on the approval of the plan as provided in section 10-32-102 have approved the abandonment at a meeting by the affirmative vote of the owners of a majority of the voting power of the ownership interests entitled to vote and, if the owners of a constituent organization are not entitled to vote on the approval of the plan under section 10-32-102, the governing board of that constituent organization has approved the abandonment by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board members present;

- b. If the plan itself provides for abandonment and all conditions for abandonment set forth in the plan are met; or
  - c. Pursuant to subsection 2.
2. If articles of merger have not been filed with the secretary of state and the plan is to be abandoned, or if a plan of exchange is to be abandoned, a resolution abandoning the plan of merger or exchange may be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board members present, subject to the contract rights of any other person under the plan.
  3. If articles of merger have been filed with the secretary of state, but have not yet become effective, the constituent organizations, in the case of abandonment under subdivision a of subsection 1, the constituent organizations or any one of them, in the case of abandonment under subdivision b of subsection 1, or the abandoning organization in the case of abandonment under subsection 2, shall file with the secretary of state together with the fees provided in section 10-32-150, articles of abandonment that contain:
    - a. The names of the constituent organizations;
    - b. The provision of this section under which the plan is abandoned; and
    - c. If the plan is abandoned under subsection 2, the text of the resolution approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board members present abandoning the plan.

10-32-106. Effective date of merger or exchange and effect.

1. A merger is effective when the articles of merger are filed with the secretary of state or on a later date specified in the articles of merger. An exchange is effective on the date specified in the plan of exchange.
2. When a merger becomes effective:
  - a. The constituent organizations become a single entity, the surviving limited liability company or corporation, as the case may be;
  - b. The separate existence of all constituent organizations except the surviving organization ceases;
  - c. As to any limited liability company that was a constituent organization and is not the surviving organization, the articles of merger serve as the articles of termination and, unless previously filed, the notice of dissolution;
  - d. As to rights, privileges, immunities, powers, duties, and liabilities:
    - (1) If the surviving organization is a limited liability company, the surviving limited liability company has all the rights, privileges, immunities, and powers, and is subject to all the duties and liabilities of a limited liability company organized under this chapter; and

(2) If the surviving organization is a domestic corporation, the surviving domestic corporation has all the rights, privileges, immunities, and powers, and is subject to all the duties and liabilities of a domestic corporation;

e. The surviving organization, whether a limited liability company or a domestic or foreign corporation, possesses all the rights, privileges, immunities, and franchises, of a public as well as of a private nature, of each of the constituent organizations. All property, real, personal, and mixed, and all debts due on any account, including subscriptions to shares and contribution agreements, as the case may be, and all other choses in action, and every other interest of or belonging to or due to each of the constituent organizations vests in the surviving organization without any further act or deed. Confirmatory deeds, assignments, or similar instruments to accomplish that vesting may be signed and delivered at any time in the name of a constituent organization by its current officers or managers, as the case may be, or, if the organization no longer exists, by its last officers or managers, as the case may be. The title to any real estate or any interest in real estate vested in any of the constituent organizations does not revert nor in any way become impaired by reason of the merger;

f. The surviving organization is responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the constituent organizations. A claim of or against or a pending proceeding by or against a constituent organization may be prosecuted as if the merger had not taken place, or the surviving organization may be substituted in the place of the constituent organization. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of a constituent organization are impaired by the merger; and

g. The articles of organization or articles of incorporation, as the case may be, of the surviving organization are considered to be amended to the extent that changes in its articles, if any, are contained in the plan of merger.

3. When a merger becomes effective, the ownership interests to be converted or exchanged under the terms of the plan cease to exist in the case of a merger, or are considered to be exchanged in the case of an exchange. The owners of those ownership interests are entitled only to the securities, money, or other property into which those ownership interests have been converted or for which those ownership interests have been exchanged in accordance with the plan, subject to any dissenters' rights under section 10-19.1-87 or 10-32-54, as the case may be.

10-32-107. Merger or exchange with foreign organization.

1. A limited liability company may merge with or participate in an exchange with a foreign corporation or a foreign limited liability company by following the procedures set forth in this section, if:

  3. If the surviving organization in a merger will be a domestic limited liability company, it shall comply with all the provisions of this chapter.
  4. If the surviving organization in a merger will be a foreign corporation or foreign limited liability company and will transact business in this state, it shall comply, as the case may be, with the provisions of chapter 10-22 with respect to foreign corporations or with the provisions of this chapter with respect to foreign limited liability companies. In every case the surviving foreign corporation or foreign limited liability company shall file with the secretary of state:

instruments for the payment of money or other property, as the board of governors considers expedient, in which case no member approval is required.

2. A limited liability company, by affirmative vote of a majority of the governors present, may sell, lease, transfer, or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its property and assets, including its goodwill, not in the usual and regular course of its business, upon those terms and conditions and for those considerations, which may be money, securities, or other instruments for the payment of money or other property, as the board of governors considers expedient, when approved at a regular or special meeting of the members by the affirmative vote of the owners of a majority of the voting power of the interests entitled to vote. Written notice of the meeting must be given to all members whether or not they are entitled to vote at the meeting. The written notice must state that a purpose of the meeting is to consider the sale, lease, transfer, or other disposition of all or substantially all of the property and assets of the limited liability company.
3. Confirmatory deeds, assignments, or similar instruments to evidence a sale, lease, transfer, or other disposition may be signed and delivered at any time in the name of the transferor by its current managers or, if the limited liability company no longer exists, by its last managers.
4. The transferee is liable for the debts, obligations, and liabilities of the transferor only to the extent provided in the contract or agreement between the transferee and the transferor or to the extent provided by this chapter or other statutes of this state.

However, the limited liability company is not dissolved and is not required to be wound up by reason of any event that terminates the continued membership of a member if either there are at least two remaining members or a new member is admitted as provided in section 10-32-06 and the existence and business of the limited liability company is continued by the consent of all remaining members under a right to do so stated in the articles of organization and the consent is obtained no later than ninety days after the termination of the continued membership.

2. A limited liability company dissolved by one of the dissolution events specified in subsection 1 must be wound up and terminated under the following dissolution provisions:
  - a. When a limited liability company is dissolved under subdivision a of subsection 1 by reason of the expiration of its limited period of duration, the limited liability company must be wound up and terminated under sections 10-32-112 through 10-32-115 and sections 10-32-117, 10-32-118, and 10-32-131;

  - e. When a limited liability company is dissolved under subdivision e of subsection 1 by reason of a termination of the continued membership of a member, the limited liability company must be wound up and terminated under sections 10-32-112 through 10-32-115 and sections 10-32-117, 10-32-118, and 10-32-131.

10-32-110. Voluntary dissolution and termination by organizers. A limited liability company that has not accepted contributions may be dissolved and terminated by the organizers in the manner set forth in this section.

1. A majority of the organizers shall sign articles of dissolution and termination containing:
  - a. The name of the limited liability company;
  - b. The date of organization;
  - c. A statement that contributions have not been accepted; and
  - d. A statement that no debts remain unpaid.
2. The articles of dissolution and termination must be filed with the secretary of state together with the fees provided in section 10-32-150.
3. When the articles of dissolution and termination have been filed with the secretary of state, the limited liability company is terminated.
4. The secretary of state shall issue to the terminated limited liability company or its legal representative a certificate of termination that contains:

  - b. The date the articles of dissolution and termination were filed with the secretary of state; and
  - c. A statement that the limited liability company is terminated.

10-32-111. Voluntary dissolution by members. A limited liability company may be dissolved by the members when authorized in the manner set forth in this section.

1. Written notice must be given to each member, whether or not entitled to vote at a meeting of members, within the time and in the manner provided in section 10-32-40 for notice of meetings of members and, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting, must state that a purpose of the meeting is to consider dissolving the limited liability company and that dissolution must be followed by the winding up and termination of the limited liability company.
2. The proposed dissolution must be submitted for approval at a meeting of members. If the proposed dissolution is approved at a meeting by the affirmative vote of the owners of a majority of the voting power of all membership interests entitled to vote, the limited liability company is dissolved.

10-32-112. Filing notice of dissolution - Effect.

1. If dissolution of the limited liability company is approved pursuant to section 10-32-111, or it occurs under subdivision a or e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109, the limited liability company shall file with the secretary of state, together with the fees provided in section 10-32-150, a notice of dissolution. The notice must contain:

- a. The name of the limited liability company; and
  - b. If the dissolution:
    - (1) Is approved pursuant to subsection 2 of section 10-32-111, the date and place of the meeting at which the dissolution was approved and a statement that the requisite vote of the members was received, or that members validly took action without a meeting; and
    - (2) Occurs under subdivision a of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109 by the expiration of the limited liability company's duration, a statement of the expiration date; or

2. When the notice of dissolution has been filed with the secretary of state, and subject to section 10-32-116, the limited liability company shall cease to carry on its business, except to the extent necessary for the winding up of the business of the limited liability company. The members shall retain the right to revoke the dissolution in accordance with section 10-32-116 and the right to remove governors or fill vacancies on the board of governors. The limited liability company existence continues to the extent necessary to wind up the affairs of the limited liability company until the dissolution is revoked or articles of termination are filed with the secretary of state.
  3. As part of winding up, the limited liability company may participate in a merger with another limited liability company or with a domestic or foreign corporation under sections 10-32-100 through 10-32-107, but the dissolved limited liability company may not be the surviving organization.
  4. The filing with the secretary of state of a notice of dissolution does not affect any remedy in favor of the limited liability company or any remedy against it or its governors, managers, or members in those capacities, except as provided in section 10-32-114, 10-32-115, or 10-32-128.

10-32-113. Procedure in winding up.

1. If the business of the limited liability company is wound up and terminated by merging the dissolved limited liability company into a successor organization:
  - a. The procedures stated in sections 10-32-100 through 10-32-107 must be followed;
  - b. Sections 10-32-114 through 10-32-116 and sections 10-32-128 and 10-32-129 do not apply; and

- c. Once the merger is effective, a creditor or claimant of the terminated limited liability company, and all those claiming through or under the creditor or claimant, are barred from suing the terminated limited liability company on that claim or otherwise realizing upon or enforcing it against the terminated limited liability company, but the creditor, claimant, and those claiming under the creditor and claimant, may, if not otherwise barred by law, assert their claims against the surviving organization of the merger.
2. If the business of the limited liability company is to be wound up and terminated other than by merging the dissolved limited liability company into a successor organization, the procedures stated in subsections 3 through 5 must be followed.
3. When a notice of dissolution has been filed with the secretary of state, the board of governors, or the managers acting under the direction of the board of governors, shall proceed as soon as possible:
  - a. To give notice to creditors and claimants under section 10-32-114 or to proceed under section 10-32-115;
  - b. Subject to any business continuation agreement, to collect or make provision for the collection of all known debts due or owing to the limited liability company, including unperformed contribution agreements; and
  - c. Except as provided in sections 10-32-114, 10-32-115, and 10-32-128, to pay or make provision for the payment of all known debts, obligations, and liabilities of the limited liability company according to their priorities under section 10-32-131.
4. Notwithstanding section 10-32-108, when a notice of dissolution has been filed with the secretary of state, the governors may sell, lease, transfer, or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the property and assets of a dissolved limited liability company without a vote of the members.
5. All tangible or intangible property, including money, remaining after the discharge of the debts, obligations, and liabilities of the limited liability company must be distributed to the members in accordance with section 10-32-131.

10-32-114. Winding-up procedure for limited liability companies that give notice to creditors and claimants.

1. When a notice of dissolution has been filed with the secretary of state, and the business of the limited liability company is not to be wound up and terminated by merging the dissolved limited liability company into a successor organization under subsection 3 of section 10-32-112, then the limited liability company may give notice of the filing to each creditor of and claimant against the limited liability company known or unknown, present or future, and contingent or noncontingent. If notice to creditors and claimants is given, it must be given by publishing the notice once each week for four successive weeks in an official newspaper as defined in chapter 46-06 in the county or counties where the registered office and the principal executive office of the limited liability company are located and by giving written notice to known creditors and claimants pursuant to subsection 31 of section 10-32-02.

2. The notice to creditors and claimants must contain:

- a. A statement that the limited liability company has dissolved and is in the process of winding up its affairs;
- b. A statement that the limited liability company has filed with the secretary of state a notice of dissolution;
- c. The date of filing the notice of dissolution;
- d. The address of the office to which written claims against the limited liability company must be presented; and
- e. The date by which all claims must be received, which must be the later of ninety days after published notice or, with respect to a particular known creditor or claimant, ninety days after the date on which written notice was given to that creditor or claimant. Published notice is considered given on the date of first publication for the purpose of determining this date.

3. If the business of the limited liability company is being continued under a business continuation agreement, the notice to creditors may also contain all of the following:

- a. A statement that the business of the dissolved limited liability company is being continued by a successor organization;
- b. The name and address of the successor organization;
- c. An undertaking by the successor organization to assume all the liabilities of the dissolved limited liability company; and
- d. A statement that creditors of the dissolved limited liability company do not need to file claims against the limited liability company in order to preserve their rights to enforce those claims against the successor organization.

Neither the existence of a business continuation agreement nor the giving of the information described in this subsection affects a creditor's or claimant's right to proceed against the dissolved limited liability company.

4. With respect to a limited liability company that gives notice:

- a. A limited liability company that gives notice to creditors and claimants has thirty days from the receipt of each claim filed according to the procedures set forth by the limited liability company on or before the date set forth in the notice to accept or reject the claim by giving written notice to the person submitting it. A claim not expressly rejected in this manner is considered accepted.

- b. A creditor or claimant to whom notice is given and whose claim is rejected by the limited liability company has sixty days from the date of rejection, or one hundred eighty days from the date the limited liability company filed with the secretary of state the notice of dissolution, whichever is longer, to pursue any other remedies with respect to the claim.
  - c. A creditor or claimant to whom notice is given who fails to file a claim according to the procedures set forth by the limited liability company on or before the date set forth in the notice is barred from suing the dissolved limited liability company on that claim or otherwise realizing upon or enforcing it against the dissolved limited liability company, except as provided in section 10-32-128. If the dissolved limited liability company gave the additional information referred to in subsection 3, nothing in this section bars the creditor or claimant from seeking to enforce its rights against the successor organization.
  - d. A creditor or claimant whose claim is rejected by the limited liability company under subdivision b is barred from suing on that claim or otherwise realizing upon or enforcing it whether against the dissolved limited liability company or any successor organization, if the creditor or claimant does not initiate legal, administrative, or arbitration proceedings with respect to the claim within the time provided in subdivision b.
5. Articles of termination for a limited liability company that has given notice to creditors and claimants under this section must be filed with the secretary of state along with the fees provided in section 10-32-150 after:
- a. The ninety-day period in subdivision e of subsection 2 has expired and the payment of claims of all creditors and claimants filing a claim within that period has been made or provided for; or
  - b. The longest of the periods described in subdivision b of subsection 4 has expired and there are no pending legal, administrative, or arbitration proceedings by or against the limited liability company commenced within the time provided in subdivision b of subsection 4.
6. The articles of termination must state:
- a. The last date on which the notice was given and that the payment of all creditors and claimants filing a claim within the ninety-day period in subdivision e of subsection 2 has been made or provided for, or the date on which the longest of the periods described in subdivision b of subsection 4 expired;
  - b. That the remaining property, assets, and claims of the limited liability company have been distributed in accordance with section 10-32-131, or that adequate provision has been made for that distribution; and
  - c. That there are no pending legal, administrative, or arbitration proceedings by or against the limited liability company commenced within the time provided in subdivision b of subsection 4 or that adequate provision has been made for the satisfaction of any judgment, order, or decree that may be entered against it in a pending proceeding.

10-32-115. Winding-up procedure for limited liability companies that do not give notice to creditors and claimants.

1. Articles of termination for a limited liability company whose business is not to be wound up and terminated by merging the dissolved limited liability company into a successor organization under subsection 3 of section 10-32-112 and that has not given notice to creditors and claimants in the manner provided in section 10-32-114 must be filed with the secretary of state after:

- a. The payment of claims of all known creditors and claimants has been made or provided for; or
- b. At least two years have elapsed from the date of filing the notice of dissolution.

2. The articles of termination must state:

- a. If articles of termination are being filed pursuant to subdivision a of subsection 1 that all known debts, obligations, and liabilities of the limited liability company have been paid and discharged or that adequate provision has been made for payment or discharge;
- b. That the remaining property, assets, and claims of the limited liability company have been distributed in accordance with section 10-32-131 or that adequate provision has been made for that distribution; and
- c. That there are no pending legal, administrative, or arbitration proceedings by or against the limited liability company or that adequate provision has been made for the satisfaction of any judgment, order, or decree that may be entered against it in a pending proceeding.

3. If the limited liability company has paid or provided for all known creditors or claimants at the time articles of termination are filed, a creditor or claimant who does not file a claim or pursue a remedy in a legal, administrative, or arbitration proceeding within two years after the date of filing the notice of dissolution is barred from suing on that claim or otherwise realizing upon or enforcing it.

4. If the limited liability company has not paid or provided for all known creditors and claimants at the time articles of termination are filed, a person who does not file a claim or pursue a remedy in a legal, administrative, or arbitration proceeding within two years after the date of filing the notice of dissolution is barred from suing on that claim or otherwise realizing upon or enforcing it, except as provided in section 10-32-128.

10-32-116. Revocation of dissolution.

1. Except as provided in subsections 4 and 5, winding up proceedings commenced pursuant to section 10-32-111 may be revoked before the filing of articles of termination.
2. Written notice must be given to every member entitled to vote at a members' meeting within the time and in the manner provided in section 10-32-40 for notice of meetings of members and must state that a purpose of the meeting is to consider the advisability of revoking the dissolution. The proposed revocation must be submitted to the members at the meeting. If the proposed revocation is approved at a meeting by the affirmative vote of the owners of a majority of the voting power of all membership interests entitled to vote, the dissolution is revoked.
3. Revocation of dissolution is effective when a notice of revocation is filed with the secretary of state together with the fees provided in section 10-32-150. After the notice is filed the limited liability company may cease to wind up and resume business.
4. If a dissolved limited liability company is being wound up and terminated by being merged into a successor organization under subsection 3 of section 10-32-112, and the plan of merger has been approved under section 10-32-102, then the dissolution may be revoked under this section only after the plan of merger has been properly abandoned under section 10-32-105.
5. When dissolution occurs under subdivision a, b, or e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109, revocation is prohibited.

10-32-117. Effective date of termination and certificate of termination.

1. When the articles of termination have been filed with the secretary of state, the limited liability company is terminated.
2. The secretary of state shall issue to the dissolved limited liability company or its legal representative a certificate of termination that contains:
  - a. The name of the limited liability company;
  - b. The date the articles of termination were filed with the secretary of state; and
  - c. A statement that the limited liability company is terminated.

10-32-118. Supervised voluntary winding up and termination following a voluntary dissolution. After an event of dissolution has occurred and before a certificate of termination has been issued, the limited liability company or, for good cause shown, a member or creditor may apply to a court within the county in which the registered office of the limited liability company is situated to have the dissolution conducted or continued under the supervision of the court as provided in sections 10-32-119 through 10-32-128.

10-32-119. Judicial intervention and equitable remedies, dissolution, and termination.

1. A court may grant any equitable relief it considers just and reasonable in the circumstances or may dissolve, wind up, and terminate a limited liability company:
  - a. In a supervised voluntary winding up and termination pursuant to section 10-32-118;
  - b. In an action by a member when it is established that:
    - (1) The governors or the persons having the authority otherwise vested in the board of governors are deadlocked in the management of the affairs of the limited liability company and the members are unable to break the deadlock;
    - (2) The governors or those in control of the limited liability company have acted fraudulently, illegally, or in a manner unfairly prejudicial toward one or more members in their capacities as members, governors, managers, or employees of a closely held limited liability company;
    - (3) The members of the limited liability company are so divided in voting power that, for a period that includes the time when two consecutive regular meetings were held, they have failed to elect successors to governors whose terms have expired or would have expired upon the election and qualification of their successors;
    - (4) The limited liability company assets are being misapplied or wasted; or
    - (5) An event of dissolution has occurred under subdivision a, d, or e of subsection 1 of section 10-32-109 but the limited liability company is not acting to wind up its affairs;
  - c. In an action by a creditor when:
    - (1) The claim of the creditor has been reduced to judgment and an execution on the judgment has been returned unsatisfied; or
    - (2) The limited liability company has admitted in writing that the claim of the creditor is due and owing and it is established that the limited liability company is unable to pay its debts in the ordinary course of business; or
  - d. In an action by the attorney general to dissolve the limited liability company in accordance with section 10-32-122 when it is established that a decree of termination is appropriate.
2. In determining whether to order relief under this section and in determining what particular relief to order, the court shall take into consideration the financial condition of the limited liability company but may not refuse to order any particular form of relief solely on the grounds that the limited liability company has accumulated or current operating profits.
3. In determining whether to order relief under this section and in determining what particular relief to order, the court shall take into - consideration the duty that all members in a closely held limited liability company owe one another to act in an honest, fair, and reasonable manner in the operation of the limited liability company and the reasonable expectations of the members as they exist at the inception and develop during the course of the members' relationship with the limited liability company and with each other.

4. In determining what relief to order, the court shall take into account that any relief that results in the termination of a member's membership interest will cause dissolution of the limited liability company. If the court orders relief that results in dissolution of the limited liability company, the court shall make appropriate orders providing for the winding up and termination of the dissolved limited liability company.
  5. In deciding whether to order winding up through liquidation, the court shall consider whether lesser relief suggested by one or more parties, or provided in a business continuation agreement, such as any form of equitable relief, or a buyout or partial liquidation coupled with the continuation of the business of the dissolved limited liability company through a successor organization, would be adequate to permanently relieve the circumstances established under subdivision b or c of subsection 1. Lesser relief may be ordered in any case where it would be appropriate under all the facts and circumstances of the case.
  6. If the court finds that a party to a proceeding brought under this section has acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or otherwise not in good faith, it may in its discretion award reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees and disbursements, to any of the other parties.
  7. Proceedings under this section must be brought in a court within the county in which the registered office of the limited liability company is located. It is not necessary to make members parties to the action or proceeding unless relief is sought against them personally.

10-32-120. Judicial intervention procedures.

1. In proceedings under section 10-32-119, the court may issue injunctions, appoint receivers with all powers and duties the court directs, take other actions required to preserve the limited liability company assets wherever situated, and carry on the business of the limited liability company until a full hearing can be held.
2. After a full hearing has been held, upon whatever notice the court directs to be given to all parties to the proceedings and to any other parties in interest designated by the court, the court may appoint a receiver to collect the limited liability company assets, including all amounts owing to the limited liability company by persons who have made contribution agreements and by persons who have made contributions by means of enforceable promises of future performance. A receiver has authority, subject to the order of the court, to continue the business of the limited liability company and to sell, lease, transfer, or otherwise dispose of all or any of the property and assets of the limited liability company either at public or private sale.

3. If the court determines that the limited liability company is to be dissolved with winding up to be accomplished by liquidation, then the assets of the limited liability company or the proceeds resulting from a sale, lease, transfer, or other disposition must be applied in the following order of priority to the payment and discharge of:
  - a. The costs and expenses of the proceedings, including attorneys' fees and disbursements;
  - b. Debts, taxes, and assessments due the United States, the state of North Dakota and their subsections, and other states and their subsections, in that order;
  - c. Claims duly proved and allowed to employees under the provisions of title 65. However, claims under this subdivision may not be allowed if the limited liability company carried workers' compensation insurance, as provided by law, at the time the injury was sustained;
  - d. Claims, including the value of all compensation paid in any medium other than money, duly proved and allowed to employees for services performed within three months preceding the appointment of the receiver, if any; and
  - e. Other claims duly proved and allowed.
4. After payment of the expenses of receivership and claims of creditors duly proved under subsection 3, the remaining assets, if any, must be distributed to the members in accordance with subsection 1 of section 10-32-131.

10-32-121. Qualifications of receivers and powers.

1. A receiver must be an individual or a domestic or foreign organization authorized to transact business in this state. A receiver shall give bond as directed by the court with the sureties required by the court.
2. A receiver may sue and defend in all courts as receiver of the limited liability company. The court appointing the receiver has exclusive jurisdiction of the limited liability company and its property.

10-32-122. Action by attorney general.

1. A limited liability company may be involuntarily dissolved, wound up, and terminated by a decree of a court in this state in an action filed by the attorney general when it is established that:
  - a. The articles of organization were procured through fraud;
  - b. The limited liability company was organized for a purpose not permitted by section 10-32-04;
  - c. The limited liability company failed to comply with the requirements essential to organization under this chapter;
  - d. The limited liability company has failed for thirty days to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state; or

- e. The limited liability company has acted, or failed to act, in a manner that constitutes surrender or abandonment of the limited liability company privileges or enterprise.
2. An action must not be commenced under this section until thirty days after notice to the limited liability company by the attorney general of the reason for the filing of the action. If the reason for filing the action is an act that the limited liability company has done, or omitted to do, and the act or omission may be corrected by an amendment of the articles of organization or the operating agreement or by performance of or abstention from the act, the attorney general shall give the limited liability company thirty additional days in which to effect the correction before filing the action.

10-32-123. Filing claims in judicial intervention proceedings.

1. In proceedings referred to in section 10-32-119, the court may require all creditors and claimants of the limited liability company to file their claims under oath with the court administrator or with the receiver in a form prescribed by the court.
2. If the court requires the filing of claims, it shall fix a date not less than one hundred twenty days from the date of the order as the last day for the filing of claims, and shall prescribe the notice of the fixed date that must be given to creditors and claimants. Before the fixed date, the court may extend the time for filing claims. Creditors and claimants failing to file claims on or before the fixed date may be barred, by order of court, from claiming an interest in or receiving payment out of the property or assets of the limited liability company.

10-32-124. Discontinuance of proceedings for winding up through liquidation. If the court has determined that the limited liability company is to be dissolved, with winding up to be accomplished by liquidation, and subsequently the court determines that the grounds for dissolution no longer exist or that the grounds for ordering winding up through liquidation no longer exist, the court shall make whatever orders are just and reasonable under the circumstances.

10-32-125. Decree of termination.

1. If the court has ordered a dissolution, or the court has intervened under subdivision a of subsection 1 of section 10-32-119, or has ordered or caused a dissolution under any other provision of that subsection, then after the affairs of the dissolved limited liability company have been appropriately wound up the court shall enter a decree terminating the dissolved limited liability company.
2. When the decree terminating the limited liability company has been entered, the limited liability company is terminated.

10-32-126. Filing decree. After the court enters a decree terminating a limited liability company, the court administrator shall cause a certified copy of the decree to be filed with the secretary of state. The secretary of state may not charge a fee for filing the decree.

10-32-127. Deposit with state treasurer of amount due certain members. Upon termination of a limited liability company, the portion of the assets distributable to a member who is unknown or cannot be found, or who is under disability, if there is no person legally competent to receive the distributive portion, must be reduced to money and deposited with the state treasurer for disposition pursuant to chapter 47-30.1. The amount deposited is appropriated to the state treasurer and must be paid over to the member or a legal representative, upon proof satisfactory to the state treasurer of a right to payment.

10-32-128. Claims barred and exceptions.

1. A person who is or becomes a creditor or claimant at any time before, during, or following the conclusion of dissolution proceedings who does not file a claim or pursue a remedy in a legal proceeding within the time provided in sections 10-32-114, 10-32-115, 10-32-119, and 10-32-120 or has not initiated a legal proceeding before the commencement of the dissolution proceedings, and all those claiming through or under the creditor or claimant, or forever barred from suing on that claim or otherwise realizing upon or enforcing it, except as provided in this section.
2. At any time within one year after articles of termination have been filed with the secretary of state pursuant to section 10-32-114 or subdivision b of subsection 1 of section 10-32-115, or a decree of termination has been entered, a creditor or claimant who shows good cause for not having previously filed the claim may apply to a court in this state to allow a claim:
  - a. Against the limited liability company to the extent of undisposed assets; or
  - b. If the undisposed assets are not sufficient to satisfy the claim against a member, the member's liability is limited to a portion of the claim that is equal to the portion of the distributions to members in liquidation or termination received by the member, but a member's liability may not exceed the amount that the member actually received in the termination.
3. All known contractual debts, obligations, and liabilities incurred in the course of winding up and terminating the limited liability company's affairs must be paid or provided for by the limited liability company before the distribution of assets to a member. A person to whom this kind of debt, obligation, or liability is owed but not paid may pursue any remedy before the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations against the managers and governors of the limited liability company who are responsible for, but who fail to cause, the limited liability company to pay or make provision for payment of the debts, obligations, and liabilities or against members to the extent permitted under section 10-32-66. This subsection does not apply to dissolution and termination under the supervision or order of a court.

10-32-129. Right to sue or defend after termination. After a limited liability company has been terminated, any of its former managers, governors, or members may assert or defend, in the name of the limited liability company, any claim by or against the limited liability company.

10-32-130. Omitted assets. Title to assets remaining after payment of all debts, obligations, or liabilities and after distributions to members may be transferred by a court in this state.

10-32-131. Disposition of assets upon dissolution.

1. Except when the business of a dissolved limited liability company is being continued under subsection 2 or when the dissolved limited liability company is being wound up and terminated under subsection 3 of section 10-32-112, the assets of the dissolved limited liability company must be disposed of to satisfy liabilities according to the following priorities:
  - a. To creditors, including members who are creditors, to the extent otherwise permitted by law, in satisfaction of liabilities of the limited liability company other than liabilities for interim distributions to members under section 10-32-61 or termination distributions under section 10-32-60;
  - b. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization, to members and former members of the limited liability company in satisfaction of liabilities for distributions under section 10-32-60 or 10-32-61; and
  - c. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization, to members first for a return of their contributions, as restated from time to time under section 10-32-57, and secondly respecting their membership interests in the proportions in which the members share in distributions.

A limited liability company may offset any amount due a member under this subsection by any amount owed to the limited liability company by the member and by the amount of damages, if any, suffered by the limited liability company as a result of that member's breach of a member-control agreement.

2. If a business continuation agreement exists, then after dissolution the board of governors shall resolve to implement the business continuation agreement and the assets of the dissolved limited liability company must be disposed of according to that agreement, except:
  - a. Members and former members have dissenters' rights as provided in sections 10-32-54 and 10-32-55, but:
    - (1) No dissenters' rights exist if the business of the dissolved limited liability company is being continued pursuant to a business continuation agreement made after the dissolution; and
    - (2) Any dissenters' rights that do exist are limited by subsection 3.
  - b. If the business of the dissolved limited liability company is being continued, but not through a merger under subsection 3 of section 10-32-112, the dissolved limited liability company shall comply with either section 10-32-114 or 10-32-115.

3. If a person has agreed in a business continuation agreement to waive dissenters' rights and nonetheless asserts dissenters' rights under subsection 2:
  - a. Those rights must be honored; but
  - b. Unless the business continuation agreement provides otherwise:
    - (1) In determining the fair value of the membership interest, the value of the goodwill of the business of the dissolved limited liability company must not be considered; and
    - (2) The payment due the dissenter is subject to an offset equal to:
      - (a) Any amount owed to the limited liability company by the member;
      - (b) The amount of damages, if any, suffered by the limited liability company as a result of the dissenter's breach of the business continuation agreement; and
      - (c) The amount of damages, if any, suffered by the limited liability company as a result of any breach by the dissenter of any other member-control agreement or part of a member-control agreement.

10-32-132. Service of process on limited liability company and nonresident governors.

1. The registered agent must be an agent of the limited liability company and any nonresident governor upon whom any process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the limited liability company or governor may be served. Acceptance of a governorship includes the appointment of the secretary of state as an agent for personal service of legal process, notice, or demand.
2. A process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon a limited liability company may be served either:
  - a. Upon the registered agent of the limited liability company;
  - b. Upon a manager of the limited liability company; or
  - c. Upon the secretary of state as provided in this section.
3. If neither the limited liability company's registered agent nor an officer of the limited liability company can be found at the registered office, or if a limited liability company fails to maintain a registered agent in this state and a manager of the limited liability company cannot be found at the registered office, then the secretary of state is the agent of the limited liability company upon whom the process, notice, or demand may be served. The return of the sheriff, or the affidavit of a person not a party, that no registered agent or manager can be found at the registered office must be provided to the secretary of state. Service on the secretary of state of any process, notice, or demand is deemed personal service upon the limited liability company and is made by filing with the secretary of state an original and two copies of the process, notice, or demand, along with the fees provided for in section 10-32-150. The secretary of state shall immediately forward, by registered mail, addressed to the limited liability company at its registered office, a copy of the process, notice, or demand. Service on the secretary of state is returnable in not less than thirty days notwithstanding a shorter period specified in the process, notice, or demand.

4. A record must be maintained in the office of the secretary of state of all processes, notices, and demands served upon the secretary of state under this section, including the date of service and the action taken with reference to it.
5. Nothing in this section limits the right of a person to serve any process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon a limited liability company in any other manner permitted by law.

10-32-133. When a member is not a proper party. A member of a limited liability company is not a proper party to a proceeding by or against a limited liability company except when:

1. The object of the proceeding is to determine or enforce a member's right against, or liability to, the limited liability company; or
2. The proceeding involves a claim of personal liability or responsibility of that member and that claim has some basis other than the member's status as a member.

10-32-134. State interested in proceedings. If it appears at any stage of a proceeding in a court in this state that the state is, or is likely to be, interested in the proceeding or that it is a matter of general public interest, the court shall order that a copy of the complaint or petition be served upon the attorney general in the same manner prescribed for serving a summons in a civil action. The attorney general shall intervene in a proceeding when the attorney general determines that the public interest requires it, whether or not the attorney general has been served.

10-32-135. Governing law.

1. Subject to the constitution of this state, the laws of the jurisdiction under which a foreign limited liability company is organized govern its organization and internal affairs and the liability of its members. A foreign limited liability company may not be denied a certificate of authority to transact business in this state by reason of any difference between those laws and the laws of this state.
2. A foreign limited liability company holding a valid certificate of authority in this state has no greater rights and privileges than a domestic limited liability company. The certificate of authority does not authorize the foreign limited liability company to exercise any of its powers or purposes that a domestic limited liability company is forbidden by law to exercise in this state.

10-32-136. Name. A foreign limited liability company may apply for a certificate of authority under any name that would be available to a domestic limited liability company, whether or not the name is the name under which it is authorized in its jurisdiction of organization.

10-32-137. Admission of foreign limited liability company - Transacting business and obtaining licenses and permits. No foreign limited liability company may transact business in this state or obtain any license or permit required by this state until it has procured a certificate of authority from the secretary of state. No foreign limited liability company may transact in this state any business that is prohibited to a domestic limited liability company organized under this chapter. A foreign limited liability company may not be denied a certificate of authority because the laws of the state or country where the limited liability company is organized differ from the laws of this state. Nothing in this chapter authorizes this state to regulate the organization or internal affairs of a foreign limited liability company.

10-32-138. Application for certificate of authority.

1. An applicant for the certificate shall file with the secretary of state an application executed by an authorized person and setting forth:

- a. The name of the foreign limited liability company and, if different, the name under which it proposes to transact business in this state;
- b. The jurisdiction of its organization;
- c. The name and business address of the proposed registered agent in this state, which agent must be an individual resident of this state, a domestic corporation, or a foreign corporation having a place of business in, and authorized to do business in, this state; and
- d. The address of the principal executive office of the foreign limited liability company.

2. The application must be accompanied by payment of the fees provided in section 10-32-150 together with a certificate of good standing or a certificate of existence duly authenticated by the organizing officer of the state or country where the limited liability company is organized and the consent of the designated registered agent for service of process to serve in that capacity.

10-32-139. Issuance of certificate of authority. If the secretary of state finds that an application for a certificate of authority conforms to law and all fees have been paid, the secretary shall:

1. Endorse on the application the word "filed" and the date of the filing;
2. File the application, the certificate of good standing or certificate of existence, and the consent of the registered agent; and
3. Issue to the limited liability company or its representative, a certificate of authority to transact business in this state.

10-32-140. Amendments to the certificate of authority. If any statement in the application for a certificate of authority by a foreign limited liability company was false when made or any arrangements or other facts described have changed, making the application inaccurate in any respect, including but not limited to a change in the name or address of the registered agent required to be maintained by section 10-32-141, the foreign limited liability company shall promptly file with the secretary of state an amendment to the certificate of authority, executed by an authorized person correcting the statement.

10-32-141. Registered agent and certain reports. A foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state shall:

1. Appoint and continuously maintain a registered agent in the same manner as provided in section 10-32-12; or
2. File a report upon any change in the name or business address of its registered agent in the same manner as provided in subsection 3 of section 10-32-13.

10-32-142. Merger of foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state. Whenever a foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state is a party to a statutory merger permitted by the laws of the state or country under which it is organized, and the limited liability company is not the surviving organization, the surviving organization shall, within thirty days after the merger becomes effective, file with the secretary of state a certified statement of merger duly authenticated by the proper officer of the state or country where the statutory merger was effected. It is not necessary for any foreign organization, which is the surviving organization in a merger, to procure either a new or amended certificate of authority to transact business in this state unless the name of the organization is changed thereby or unless the organization desires to pursue in this state purposes other than those which it is authorized to transact in this state.

10-32-143. Certificate of withdrawal. A foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state may withdraw from this state upon procuring from the secretary of state a certificate of withdrawal. In order to procure the certificate, the foreign limited liability company shall file with the secretary of state an application for withdrawal, together with the fees provided in section 10-32-150, which must set forth:

1. The name of the limited liability company and the state or country under the laws of which it is organized;
2. That the limited liability company is not transacting business in this state;
3. That the limited liability company surrenders its authority to transact business in this state;
4. That the limited liability company revokes the authority of its registered agent in this state to accept service of process and consents to that service of process on the limited liability company by service upon the secretary of state in any action, suit, or proceeding based upon any cause of action arising in this state during the time the limited liability company was authorized to transact business in this state; and
5. A post-office address to which a person may mail a copy of any process against the limited liability company.

1. The certificate of authority of a foreign limited liability company to transact business in this state may be revoked by the secretary of state upon the occurrence of either of these events:
  - a. The foreign limited liability company has failed to appoint and maintain a registered agent as required by this chapter, file a report upon any change in the name or business address of the registered agent, or file in the office of the secretary of state any amendment to its application for a certificate of authority as specified in section 10-32-140; or
  - b. A misrepresentation has been made of any material matter in any application, report, affidavit, or other document submitted by the foreign limited liability company pursuant to this chapter.
2. No certificate of authority of a foreign limited liability company may be revoked by the secretary of state unless:
  - a. The secretary has given the foreign limited liability company not less than sixty days' notice by mail addressed to its registered office in this state or, if the foreign limited liability company fails to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state, addressed to the office required to be maintained pursuant to section 10-32-12; and
  - b. During the sixty-day period, the foreign limited liability company has failed to file the report of change regarding the registered agent, to file any amendment, or to correct the misrepresentation.
3. Upon the expiration of sixty days after the mailing of the notice, the authority of the foreign limited liability company to transact business in this state ceases. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate of revocation and shall mail the certificate to the principal executive office of the foreign limited liability company.

10-32-145. Transaction of business without certificate of authority.

1. A foreign limited liability company transacting business in this state may not maintain any action, suit, or proceeding in any court of this state until it possesses a certificate of authority.
2. The failure of a foreign limited liability company to obtain a certificate of authority does not impair the validity of any contract or act of the foreign limited liability company or prevent the foreign limited liability company from defending any action, suit, or proceeding in any court of this state.
3. A foreign limited liability company, by transacting business in this state without a certificate of authority, appoints the secretary of state as its agent upon whom any notice, process, or demand may be served.
4. A foreign limited liability company that transacts business in this state without a valid certificate of authority is liable to the state for the years or parts of years during which it transacted business in this state without the certificate in an amount equal to all fees that would have been imposed by this chapter upon that limited liability company had it duly obtained the certificate, filed all reports required by this chapter, and paid all penalties imposed by this chapter. The attorney general shall bring proceedings to recover all amounts due this state under the provisions of this section.

5. A foreign limited liability company that transacts business in this state without a valid certificate of authority is subject to a civil penalty, payable to the state, not to exceed five thousand dollars. Each governor or, in the absence of governors, each member or agent who authorizes, directs, or participates in the transaction of business in this state on behalf of a foreign limited liability company that does not have a certificate is subject to a civil penalty, payable to the state, not to exceed one thousand dollars.
6. The civil penalties set forth in subsection 5 may be recovered in an action brought within the district court of Burleigh County by the attorney general. Upon a finding by the court that a foreign limited liability company or any of its members, governors, or agents have transacted business in this state in violation of this chapter, the court shall issue, in addition to the imposition of a civil penalty, an injunction restraining the further transaction of the business of the foreign limited liability company and the further exercise of any limited liability company's rights and privileges in this state. The foreign limited liability company must be enjoined from transacting business in this state until all civil penalties plus any interest and court costs that the court may assess have been paid and until the foreign limited liability company has otherwise complied with the provisions of this chapter.
7. A member of a foreign limited liability company is not liable for the debts and obligations of the limited liability company solely by reason of the company's having transacted business in this state without a valid certificate of authority.

1. The following activities of a foreign limited liability company, among others, do not constitute transacting business within the meaning of this chapter:
  - a. Maintaining, defending, or settling any proceeding;
  - b. Holding meetings of its members or carrying on any other activities concerning its internal affairs;
  - c. Maintaining bank accounts;
  - d. Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange, and registration of the foreign limited liability company's own securities or maintaining trustees or depositories with respect to those securities;
  - e. Selling through independent contractors;

- f. Soliciting or obtaining orders, whether by mail or through employees or agents or otherwise, if the orders require acceptance outside this state before they become contracts;
  - g. Creating or acquiring indebtedness, mortgages, and security interests in real or personal property;
  - h. Securing or collecting debts or enforcing mortgages and security interests in property securing the debts;
  - i. Holding, protecting, renting, maintaining, and operating real or personal property in this state so acquired;
  - j. Selling or transferring title to property in this state to any person; or
  - k. Conducting an isolated transaction that is completed within thirty days and that is not one in the course of repeated transactions of a like manner.
2. The term "transacting business" as used in this section has no effect on personal jurisdiction under the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure.
  3. For purposes of this section, any foreign limited liability company that owns income-producing real or tangible personal property in this state, other than property exempted under subsection 1, will be considered transacting business in this state.
  4. The list of activities in subsection 1 is not exhaustive. This section does not apply in determining the contracts or activities that may subject a foreign limited liability company to service of process or taxation in this state or to regulation under any other law of this state.

10-32-147. Action by attorney general. The attorney general may bring an action to restrain a foreign limited liability company from transacting business in this state in violation of this chapter.

10-32-148. Service of process. Service of process on a foreign limited liability company must be as provided in section 10-32-132.

10-32-149. Annual report of limited liability company and foreign limited liability company.

1. Each limited liability company, and each foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state, shall file, within the time prescribed by subsection 3, an annual report setting forth:
  - a. The name of the limited liability company and the state or country under the laws of which it is organized.
  - b. The address of the registered office of the limited liability company in this state, the name of its registered agent in this state at that address, and the address of its principal executive office.
  - c. A brief statement of the character of the business in which the limited liability company is actually engaged in this state.

- d. The names and respective addresses of the managers and governors of the limited liability company.
2. The annual report must be submitted on forms prescribed by the secretary of state. The information provided must be given as of the date of the execution of the report. The annual report must be signed as prescribed in subsection 45 of section 10-32-02, or if the limited liability company is in the hands of a receiver or trustee, it must be signed on behalf of the limited liability company by the receiver or trustee. The secretary of state may destroy all annual reports provided for in this section after they have been on file for six years.
  3. The annual report of a limited liability company or foreign limited liability company must be received by the secretary of state on or before November fifteenth of each year, except that the first annual report of a limited liability company or foreign limited liability company must be received on or before November fifteenth of the year following the calendar year in which the certificate of organization or certificate of authority was issued by the secretary of state. The secretary of state must file the report if the report conforms to the requirements of subsection 2. If the report does not conform, it must be returned to the limited liability company for any necessary corrections. If the report is filed before the deadlines prescribed in this subsection, penalties for the failure to file a report within the time provided do not apply, if a report is corrected to conform to the requirements of subsection 2 and returned to the secretary of state within thirty days after the annual report was returned by the secretary of state for correction. The secretary of state may extend the annual filing date of any limited liability company or foreign limited liability company, if a written application for an extension is received on or before November fifteenth.
  4. Each limited liability company or foreign limited liability company that fails or refuses to file its annual report for any year within the time prescribed by subsection 3 must pay an additional fee of fifty dollars. A limited liability company that fails to file its annual report, along with the statutory filing and penalty fees, within six months after November fifteenth, ceases to exist and is considered involuntarily terminated by operation of law. The secretary of state shall revoke the certificate of authority to transact business of any foreign limited liability company which fails to file its annual report, along with the statutory filing and penalty fees within six months after November fifteenth. The secretary of state's determination that a certificate of authority must be revoked under this section is final.
  5. After the date established under subsection 3, the secretary of state shall notify any limited liability company or foreign limited liability company failing to file its annual report that its certificate of organization or certificate of authority is not in good standing and that it may be terminated or revoked pursuant to subsection 4. The secretary of state must mail notice of termination or revocation to the last registered agent at the last registered office of record. If the limited liability company or foreign limited liability company files its annual report after the notice is mailed, together with the annual report filing fee as prescribed by section 10-32-150 and the late filing penalty fee as prescribed by subsection 4, the secretary of state will restore its certificate of organization or certificate of authority to good standing.

6. A limited liability company that does not file its annual report, along with the statutory filing and penalty fees, within six months after the date established in subsection 3, ceases to exist and is considered involuntarily terminated by operation of law. The secretary of state shall note the termination of the limited liability company's certificate of organization on the records of the secretary of state and shall give notice of the action to the terminated limited liability company. Notice by the secretary of state must be mailed to the last registered agent at the last registered office of record.
7. A foreign limited liability company that does not file its annual report, along with the statutory filing and penalty fees, within six months after the date established by subsection 3, forfeits its authority to transact business in North Dakota. The secretary of state shall note the revocation of the foreign limited liability company's certificate of authority on the records of the secretary of state and shall give notice of the action to the foreign limited liability company. Notice by the secretary of state must be mailed to the foreign limited liability company's last registered agent at the last registered office of record.
8. A limited liability company that was terminated for failure to file an annual report, or a foreign limited liability company whose authority was forfeited by failure to file an annual report, may be reinstated by filing a past-due report, together with the statutory filing and penalty fees for an annual report and a one hundred twenty-five dollar fee. The fees must be paid and the report filed within one year following November fifteenth for the past-due report. Reinstatement under this section does not affect the rights or liability for the time from the termination or revocation to the reinstatement.

  - e. Each manager or governor of a limited liability company, domestic or foreign, who fails or refuses within the time provided by subdivision a of subsection 2 to answer truthfully and fully all interrogatories propounded to that person by the secretary of state is guilty of an infraction.

- f. Interrogatories propounded by the secretary of state and the answers thereto are not open to public inspection. The secretary of state may not disclose any facts or information obtained from such interrogatories or answers except insofar as may be permitted by law or insofar as is required for evidence in any criminal proceedings or other action by this state.
3. If the secretary of state rejects any document required by this chapter to be approved by the secretary of state before the same may be filed, then the secretary of state shall, within ten days after receipt of the document, give written notice of the rejection to the person who delivered the document, specifying the reasons for rejection.
- a. From such rejection such person may appeal to the district court of the county in which the registered office of such limited liability company is, or is proposed to be, situated by filing with the clerk of such court a petition setting forth a copy of the document sought to be filed and a copy of the written rejection of the document by the secretary of state.

STALKING PROHIBITION

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 12.1-17 and a new section to chapter 14-07.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the crime of stalking and to notification of the crime of stalking when a protection order is issued; and to declare an emergency.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

Stalking.

1. As used in this section:
  - a. "Course of conduct" means a pattern of conduct consisting of two or more acts evidencing a continuity of purpose. The term does not include constitutionally protected activity.
  - b. "Stalk" means to engage in an intentional course of conduct directed at a specific person which frightens, intimidates, or harasses that person, and which serves no legitimate purpose. The course of conduct must be such as would cause a reasonable person to experience fear, intimidation, or harassment.
2. No person may intentionally stalk another person.
3. In any prosecution under this section, it is not a defense that the actor was not given actual notice that the person did not want the actor to contact or follow the person; nor is it a defense that the actor did not intend to frighten, intimidate, or harass the person. An attempt to contact or follow a person after being given actual notice that the person does not want to be contacted or followed is prima facie evidence that the actor intends to stalk that person.
4. In any prosecution under this section, it is a defense that a private investigator licensed under chapter 43-30 or a peace officer licensed under chapter 12-63 was acting within the scope of employment.
5. If a person claims to have been engaged in a constitutionally protected activity, the court shall determine the validity of the claim as a matter of law and, if found valid, shall exclude evidence of the activity.
6. a. A person who violates this section is guilty of a class C felony if:

- (1) The person previously has been convicted of violating section 12.1-17-01, 12.1-17-01.1, 12.1-17-02, 12.1-17-04, 12.1-17-05, or 12.1-17-07 or a similar offense in another state, involving the victim of the stalking;
- (2) The stalking violates a court order issued under chapter 14-07.1 protecting the victim of the stalking, if the person had notice of the court order; or
- (3) The person previously has been convicted of violating this section.

b. If subdivision a does not apply, a person who violates this section is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 14-07.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Notification of stalking law. When an order is issued under section 14-07.1-02 or 14-07.1-03, the order must include or have attached to it a copy of section 1 of this Act.

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 12.1-20 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Admissibility of evidence of victim's manner of dress in sex offense cases. In any prosecution for a violation of this chapter, or for an attempt to commit an offense defined in this chapter, evidence of the manner in which the victim was dressed at the time of the commission of the offense is not admissible unless the court determines the evidence:

1. Is material to a fact at issue in the case and the inflammatory or prejudicial nature of the evidence does not outweigh its probative value; and
2. Is relevant and admissible. This determination may be made only after an offer of proof by the proponent; a finding by the court that the offer of proof is sufficient; a hearing out of the presence of the jury, if any, during which the victim may question the offer of proof; and, if the court finds the evidence is relevant and is not legally inadmissible, an order by the court stating what evidence may be introduced and the nature of questions to be permitted.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1078
(Judiciary Committee)
(At the request of the Supreme Court)

INDIGENT DEFENSE COST AS PROBATION CONDITION

AN ACT to create and enact a new subdivision to subsection 3 of section 12.1-32-07 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to conditions of probation; to amend and reenact subdivision e of subsection 3 of section 12.1-32-07, sections 12.1-32-08, and 29-07-01.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to conditions of probation and reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses; to provide an effective date; and to provide an expiration date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

- e. Make restitution or reparation to the victim of the defendant's conduct for the damage or injury which was sustained, or perform other reasonable assigned work. When restitution, reparation, or assigned work is a condition of probation, the court shall proceed as provided in subsection 1 or 2, as applicable, of section 12.1-32-08.

<sup>2</sup> SECTION 2. A new subdivision to subsection 3 of section 12.1-32-07 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Reimburse the costs and expenses determined necessary for the defendant's adequate defense when counsel is appointed for the defendant. When reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses is imposed as a condition of probation, the court shall proceed as provided in subsection 3 of section 12.1-32-08.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 12.1-32-08 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

12.1-32-08. Hearing prior to ordering restitution or, reparation order, or reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses - Conditions.

1. Prior to imposing restitution or reparation as a sentence or condition of probation, the court shall hold a hearing on the matter with notice to the prosecuting attorney and to the defendant as to the nature and amount thereof. The court, when sentencing a person adjudged guilty of criminal activities which have resulted in pecuniary damages, in addition to any other sentence it may impose, shall order that the defendant make restitution to the victim or other recipient as determined by the court, unless the court states on the record, based upon the criteria in this subsection, the reason it does not order restitution or orders only partial restitution. In determining whether to order restitution the court shall take into account:
  - a. The reasonable damages sustained by the victim or victims of the criminal offense, which damages must be limited to those directly related to the criminal offense and expenses actually incurred as a direct result of the defendant's criminal action. This can include an amount equal to the cost of necessary and related professional services and devices relating to physical, psychiatric, and psychological care. The defendant may be required as part of the sentence imposed by the court to pay the prescribed treatment costs for a victim of a sexual offense as defined in chapters 12.1-20 and 12.1-27.2.
  - b. The ability of the defendant to restore the fruits of the criminal action or to pay monetary reparations, or to otherwise take action to restore the victim's property.
  - c. The likelihood that attaching a condition relating to restitution or reparation will serve a valid rehabilitational purpose in the case of the particular offender considered.

The court shall fix the amount of restitution or reparation, which may not exceed an amount the defendant can or will be able to pay, and shall fix the manner of performance of any condition or conditions of probation established pursuant to this subsection. Any payments made pursuant to such order must be deducted from damages awarded in a civil action arising from the same incident. An order that a defendant make restitution or reparation as a sentence or condition of probation must, unless the court directs otherwise, be filed, transcribed, and enforced by the person entitled to the restitution or reparation in the same manner as civil judgments rendered by the courts of this state may be enforced.

2. The court may order the defendant to perform reasonable assigned work as a condition of probation, which assigned work need not be related to the offense charged, but must not be solely for the benefit of a private individual other than the victim.
3. a. Prior to imposing reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses as a condition of probation, the court shall hold a hearing on the matter with notice to the prosecuting attorney, the defendant, and the defendant's probation officer concerning the nature and amount of costs and expenses to be reimbursed. It is a rebuttable presumption that reasonable reimbursement of costs and expenses consists of fifty dollars per hour for appointed counsel services plus reasonable expenses. The court may not impose reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses as a condition of probation unless the court finds the defendant is or may be able to pay them. In determining the amount and method of reimbursement, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendant and the nature of the burden that reimbursement of costs and expenses will impose.

- b. A defendant who is required to reimburse indigent defense costs and expenses as a condition of probation and who is not willfully in default in that reimbursement may at any time petition the court that imposed the condition to waive reimbursement of all or any portion of the costs and expenses. If the court is satisfied that reimbursement of the amount due will impose undue hardship on the defendant or the defendant's immediate family, the court may waive reimbursement of all or any portion of the amount due or modify the method of payment.
- c. If at any time the court finds that the defendant is able to reimburse costs and expenses and has willfully failed to do so, the court may continue, modify, or enlarge the conditions of probation or revoke probation as provided in subsection 5 or 6, as applicable, of section 12.1-32-07.

29-07-01.1. Payment of expenses for defense of indigents - Reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses.

1. Lawyers appointed to represent needy persons must be compensated at a reasonable rate to be determined by the court. Expenses necessary for the adequate defense of a needy person, when approved by the judge, must be paid by the county ~~wherein~~ in which the alleged offense took place if the action is prosecuted in county court, by the state if the action is prosecuted in district court, and by the city ~~wherein~~ in which the alleged offense took place if the action is prosecuted in municipal court. The state shall also pay the defense expenses in any felony action prosecuted in county court pursuant to subsection 9 of section 27-07.1-17. The city shall also pay the expenses in any appeal taken to district court or county court from a judgment of conviction in municipal court pursuant to section 40-18-19.
2. A defendant with appointed counsel, subject to subdivisions a through c of this subsection, shall reimburse the county, state, or city such sums as the county, state, or city expends on the defendant's behalf, ~~unless otherwise ordered by the court.~~
  - a. At the time counsel is appointed for a defendant, the appointing court shall advise the defendant of the defendant's potential obligation to reimburse the appropriate governmental entity the amounts expended on behalf of the defendant.
  - b. Within ninety days after its judgment of conviction or after conclusion of an appeal of its initial judgment of conviction, the court that appointed counsel for the defendant shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney of the amount of indigent defense costs and expenses the defendant is obligated to reimburse if able to do so. It is a rebuttable presumption that reasonable reimbursement of costs and expenses consists of fifty dollars per hour for appointed counsel services plus reasonable expenses. Following receipt of notice under this subdivision, the defendant is entitled to a hearing at which the basis for the amount to be reimbursed must be demonstrated. In determining the amount of reimbursement and method of payment, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendant and the nature of the burden that reimbursement of costs and expenses will impose.

- c. A defendant who is required to reimburse indigent defense costs and expenses and who is not willfully in default in that reimbursement may at any time petition the court to waive reimbursement of all or any portion of the costs and expenses. If the court is satisfied that reimbursement of the amount due will impose undue hardship on the defendant or the defendant's immediate family, the court may waive reimbursement of all or any portion of the amount due or modify the method of payment.
3. The state's attorney of the county or prosecuting attorney of the city wherein in which the alleged offense took place, if reimbursement has not been received, shall seek civil recovery of any such sums amounts expended on the defendant's behalf any time the state's attorney or city attorney determines the person for whom counsel was appointed may have funds to repay the county, state, or city within six years of the date such amount was paid on that person's behalf. A person against whom civil recovery is sought under this subsection is entitled to all exemptions accorded to other judgment debtors. The state's attorney may contract with a private sector collection agency for assistance in seeking recovery of such funds. Before referring the matter to a collection agency, the state's attorney shall notify the person who is the subject of the collection action.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT. Section 29-07-01.1 of the North Dakota Century Code as amended by section 110 of chapter 326 of the 1991 Session Laws of North Dakota is amended and reenacted as follows:

29-07-01.1. Payment of expenses for defense of indigents - Reimbursement of indigent defense costs and expenses.

1. Lawyers appointed to represent needy persons shall must be compensated at a reasonable rate to be determined by the court. Expenses necessary for the adequate defense of a needy person, when approved by the judge, shall must be paid by the state if the action is prosecuted in district court, and by the city wherein in which the alleged offense took place if the action is prosecuted in municipal court. The city shall also pay the expenses in any appeal taken to district court from a judgment of conviction in municipal court pursuant to section 40-18-19.
2. A defendant with appointed counsel, subject to subdivisions a through c of this subsection, shall reimburse the state or city such sums as the state or city expends on the defendant's behalf, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

- a. At the time counsel is appointed for a defendant, the appointing court shall advise the defendant of the defendant's potential obligation to reimburse the appropriate governmental entity the amounts expended on behalf of the defendant.
- b. Within ninety days after its judgment of conviction or after conclusion of an appeal of its initial judgment of conviction, the court that appointed counsel for the defendant shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney of the amount of indigent defense costs and expenses the defendant is obligated to reimburse if able to do so. It is a rebuttable presumption that reasonable reimbursement of costs and expenses consists of fifty dollars per hour for appointed counsel services plus reasonable expenses. Following receipt of notice under this subdivision, the defendant is entitled to a hearing at which the basis for the amount to be reimbursed must be demonstrated. In determining the amount of reimbursement and method of payment, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendant and the nature of the burden that reimbursement of costs and expenses will impose.
- c. A defendant who is required to reimburse indigent defense costs and expenses and who is not willfully in default in that reimbursement may at any time petition the court to waive reimbursement of all or any portion of the costs and expenses. If the court is satisfied that reimbursement of the amount due will impose undue hardship on the defendant or the defendant's immediate family, the court may waive reimbursement of all or any portion of the amount due or modify the method of payment.
3. The state's attorney of the county or prosecuting attorney of the city wherein in which the alleged offense took place, if reimbursement has not been received, shall seek civil recovery of any such sums amounts expended on the defendant's behalf any time the state's attorney or city attorney determines the person for whom counsel was appointed may have funds to repay the state or city within six years of the date such amount was paid on that person's behalf. A person against whom civil recovery is sought under this subsection is entitled to all exemptions accorded to other judgment debtors. The state's attorney may contract with a private sector collection agency for assistance in seeking recovery of such funds. Before referring the matter to a collection agency, the state's attorney shall notify the person who is the subject of the collection action.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE. Section 5 of this Act becomes effective on January 2, 1995.

SECTION 7. EXPIRATION DATE. Section 4 of this Act is effective through January 1, 1995, and after that date is ineffective.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1047
(Legislative Council)
(Interim Legislative Audit and Fiscal Review Committee)

CRIME VICTIMS PROGRAM TRANSFER

AN ACT to transfer the administration of crime victims reparations program from the workers compensation bureau to the division of adult services of the department of corrections and rehabilitation; to amend and reenact subsection 5 of section 12.1-34-02, subsection 1 of section 27-20-51, sections 27-20-52, 28-22-19, and subdivision m of subsection 1 of section 28-32-01 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the crime victims reparations program; and to repeal chapter 65-13 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the crime victims reparations program.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. Definitions. As used in sections 1 through 18 of this Act, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires:

1. "Bodily injury" means any harm that requires medical treatment and results in economic loss and includes pregnancy and nervous shock.
2. "Claimant" means a victim, a dependent of a deceased victim, or a representative of either, who claims reparations under sections 1 through 18 of this Act.
3. "Collateral source" means a source of benefits or advantages for economic loss otherwise reparable under sections 1 through 18 of this Act which the claimant has received, or which is readily available to the claimant. Social service benefits are not a collateral source unless the claimant was receiving those benefits prior to the injury.
4. "Criminally injurious conduct" means conduct that occurs in or outside this state, results in bodily injury or death, and is punishable by fine, imprisonment, or death, or would be so punishable but for the fact that the person engaging in the conduct was a minor or lacked capacity to commit the crime under the laws of this state. The term does not include conduct arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle except when intended to cause personal injury or death or when the division determines that the conduct arose out of the use of intoxicating liquor or controlled substances as provided in section 39-08-01 or the conduct was followed by failure to stop or to give information and render aid as provided in sections 39-08-04 and 39-08-06.
5. "Dependent" means a natural person wholly or partially dependent upon a victim for care or support and includes a child of a victim born after the victim's death.

6. "Division" means the division of adult services of the department of corrections and rehabilitation.
7. "Economic loss" means economic detriment consisting only of allowable expense, work loss, replacement services loss, and, if injury causes death, dependent's economic loss and dependent's replacement services loss. Noneconomic detriment is not loss. The term includes economic detriment caused by pain and suffering or physical impairment.
  - a. "Allowable expense" means reasonable charges incurred for reasonably needed products, services, and accommodations required due to the injury, including those for medical care, rehabilitation, rehabilitative occupational training, and other remedial treatment and care. The term includes a total charge not in excess of one thousand five hundred dollars for expenses in any way related to funeral, cremation, and burial. The term does not include that portion of a charge for a room in a hospital, clinic, convalescent or nursing home, or any other institution engaged in providing nursing care and related services, in excess of a reasonable and customary charge for semiprivate accommodations, unless the excess represents costs of other accommodations that are medically required.
  - b. "Dependent's economic loss" means loss after a victim's death of contributions of things of economic value to a victim's dependent, not including services the dependent would have received from the victim if the victim had not suffered the fatal injury, less expenses of the dependent avoided by reason of the victim's death.
  - c. "Dependent's replacement services loss" means loss reasonably incurred by a dependent after a victim's death in obtaining ordinary and necessary services in lieu of those the victim would have performed for the dependent's benefit if the victim had not suffered the fatal injury, less expenses of the dependent avoided by reason of the victim's death and not subtracted in calculating dependent's economic loss.
  - d. "Noneconomic detriment" means pain, suffering, inconvenience, physical impairment, and other nonpecuniary damage.
  - e. "Replacement services loss" means expenses reasonably incurred in obtaining ordinary and necessary services in lieu of those the victim would have performed, not for income but for the benefit of the victim or the victim's family, if the victim had not been injured.
  - f. "Work loss" means loss of income from work the victim would have performed if the victim had not been injured, and expenses reasonably incurred by the victim in obtaining services in lieu of those the victim would have performed for income, reduced by any income from substitute work actually performed by the victim or by income the victim would have earned in available appropriate substitute work the victim was capable of performing but unreasonably failed to undertake.
8. "Victim" means a person who suffers bodily injury or death as a result of criminally injurious conduct, the good faith effort of any person to prevent criminally injurious conduct, or the good faith effort of any person to apprehend a person suspected of engaging in criminally injurious conduct. The term does not mean a person who suffers bodily injury or death as a result of operating a motor vehicle, when, at the time of the injury or death, the person was not in compliance with applicable state laws and rules concerning motor vehicle insurance coverage and the person was at least partially at fault for causing the accident.

SECTION 2. Award of reparations. The division shall award reparations for economic loss arising directly from criminally injurious conduct if satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the requirements for reparations have been met.

SECTION 3. No award paid to inmates. The division may not make an award of any kind under sections 1 through 18 of this Act to a victim convicted of a crime and injured while confined in any state, county, or city jail, prison, or other correctional facility.

SECTION 4. Powers and duties of the division.

1. In addition to its other powers and duties, the division shall:

- a. Establish and maintain a principal office and other necessary offices within this state, appoint employees and agents as necessary, and prescribe the duties and compensation of the employees and agents.
- b. Adopt and enforce rules necessary to implement sections 1 through 18 of this Act. All fees on claims for legal, medical, mental health, and hospital services, and the manner in which economic loss benefits are calculated, must be in accordance with the schedules of fees adopted by the division.
- c. Prescribe forms for applications for reparations.
- d. The duty to hear and determine all matters relating to claims for reparations, and the power to reinvestigate or reopen claims without regard to statutes of limitations or periods of prescription.
- e. Publicize widely the availability of reparations and information regarding the filing of reparations claims.

2. The division may:

- a. Request from prosecuting attorneys and law enforcement officers investigations and data to enable the division to determine whether, and the extent to which, a claimant qualifies for reparations. A statute providing confidentiality for a claimant's or victim's juvenile court records does not apply to proceedings under sections 1 through 18 of this Act.
- b. Take notice of judicially cognizable facts and general, technical, and scientific facts within its specialized knowledge.

SECTION 5. Gifts, grants, and bequests - Gift fund. The division may accept on behalf of the state all gifts, grants, or bequests of property tendered to the state for any purpose pertaining to the activities of the division in implementing sections 1 through 18 of this Act. The crime victims gift fund is established as a special fund in the state treasury. All gifts, grants, and bequests of property or money, and any interest occurring thereon, must be placed in the crime victims gift fund. Subject to legislative appropriation, the fund may be used and disbursed by the division in accordance with the terms of the donation or, if there are no terms, for costs and expenses incurred by the division in the implementation of sections 1 through 18 of this Act.

SECTION 6. Application for reparations - Awards - Limitations on awards.

1. An applicant for an award of reparations shall apply in writing in a form that conforms substantially to that prescribed by the division.
2. A claim for reparations must be filed within one year after the date of injury or death. When the division cannot determine with certainty the date of injury, then the date of injury is the first date that a reasonable person should have known that the injury resulted from criminally injurious conduct. The division may extend the time for filing when it determines that the interests of justice so require. There is no appeal from a decision of the division not to extend the filing time, not to reopen, or not to reinvestigate a claim.
3. Reparations may not be awarded to a claimant who is the offender or an accomplice of the offender, nor to any claimant if the award would unjustly benefit the offender or an accomplice.
4. Reparations may not be awarded unless the criminally injurious conduct resulting in injury or death was reported to a law enforcement officer within seventy-two hours after its occurrence or the division finds there was good cause for the failure to report within that time.
5. The division, upon finding that the claimant has not fully cooperated with appropriate law enforcement agencies, may deny, reconsider, or reduce an award of reparations.
6. Reparations otherwise payable to a claimant must be reduced or denied:
  - a. To the extent the economic loss upon which the claim is based is recouped from other persons, including collateral sources;
  - b. To the extent the division deems reasonable because of the contributory misconduct of the claimant or of a victim on whose behalf reparations are claimed; and
  - c. To the extent the division deems reasonable when it is determined that a victim was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or a controlled substance at the time the criminally injurious conduct occurred and the victim's intoxication was a factor causing the criminally injurious conduct.
7. Reparations for work loss, replacement services loss, dependent's economic loss, and dependent's replacement services loss may not exceed three hundred dollars per week.
8. Reparations payable to a victim and to all other claimants sustaining economic loss because of injury to or death of that victim may not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars in the aggregate.

SECTION 7. Informal hearing - Rehearing. After an informal hearing on the papers submitted, at which the claimant need not be present, the division may accept, deny, or reduce a claim or set it for rehearing. If a claim is reduced or denied by the division, the claimant may request a rehearing or appeal the decision. The claimant must be notified of the right to rehearing or appeal.

SECTION 8. Evidence of physical condition.

1. There is no privilege, except privileges arising from the attorney-client relationship, as to communications or records relevant to an issue of the physical, mental, or emotional condition of the victim in a proceeding under sections 1 through 18 of this Act in which that condition is an element.
2. If the mental, physical, or emotional condition of a claimant is material to a claim, the division may order the claimant to submit to a mental or physical examination by a doctor or psychologist, and may order an autopsy of a deceased victim. The order may be made for good cause shown upon notice to the person to be examined and to all persons who have appeared. The order must specify the time, place, manner, conditions, and scope of the examination or autopsy and the person by whom it is to be made, and must require the person who performs the examination to file with the division a detailed written report of the examination or autopsy. The report must set out the examining person's findings, including results of all tests made, diagnoses, prognoses, and other conclusions and reports of earlier examinations of the same conditions.
3. On request of the person examined, the division shall furnish that person with a copy of the examination report. If a deceased victim is autopsied, the division, on request, shall furnish the claimant a copy of the autopsy report.
4. The division may require the claimant to supplement the application with any reasonably available medical or psychological reports relating to the injury for which reparations are claimed.

SECTION 9. Enforcement of division's orders. If a person refuses to comply with an order under sections 1 through 18 of this Act or asserts a privilege, except privileges arising from the attorney-client relationship, to withhold or suppress evidence relevant to a claim, the division may make any just order including denial of the claim, but may not find the person in contempt. If necessary to carry out any of its powers and duties, the division may petition the district court for an appropriate order, but the court may not find a person in contempt for refusal to submit to a medical or physical examination.

SECTION 10. Award and payment of reparations.

1. An award may be made whether or not any person is prosecuted or convicted. Proof of conviction of a person whose acts give rise to a claim is conclusive evidence that the crime was committed, unless an application for rehearing, an appeal of the conviction, or certiorari is pending, or a rehearing or new trial has been ordered.

2. The division may suspend the proceedings pending disposition of a criminal prosecution that has been commenced or is imminent, but may make a tentative award under section 14 of this Act.

SECTION 11. Attorney's fees. As part of an order, the division shall determine and award reasonable attorney's fees, commensurate with services rendered, to be paid by the state to the attorney representing the claimant. Additional attorney's fees may be awarded by a court in the event of review. Attorney's fees may be denied on a finding that the claim or appeal is frivolous or that the appeal was unsuccessful. Attorney's fees are not allowable for assisting a claimant in filing a claim. An award of attorney's fees is in addition to an award of reparations and may be made whether or not reparations are awarded. No attorney may contract for or receive any larger sum than the amount allowed.

SECTION 12. Subrogation - Actions - Allocation of expenses.

1. If reparations are awarded, the state is subrogated to all the claimant's rights to receive or recover benefits or advantages, for economic loss for which and to the extent only that reparations are awarded, from a source that is, or, if readily available to the claimant, would be, a collateral source.
2. As a prerequisite to bringing an action to recover damages related to criminally injurious conduct for which reparations are claimed or awarded, the claimant shall give the division prior written notice of the proposed action. After receiving the notice, the division shall promptly:
  - a. Join in the action as a party plaintiff to recover reparations awarded;
  - b. Require the claimant to bring the action in the claimant's individual name, as a trustee in behalf of the state, to recover reparations awarded; or
  - c. Reserve its rights and do neither in the proposed action.

If, as requested by the division, the claimant brings the action as trustee and recovers reparations awarded by the division, the claimant may deduct from the reparations recovered in behalf of the state the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, allocable by the court for that recovery.

3. If a judgment or verdict indicates separately economic loss and noneconomic detriment, payments on the judgment must be allocated between them in proportion to the amounts indicated. In an action in a court of this state arising out of criminally injurious conduct, the judge, on timely motion, shall direct the jury to return a special verdict, indicating separately the awards for noneconomic detriment, punitive damages, and economic loss.

SECTION 13. Manner of payment - Nonassignability and exemptions.

1. The division may provide for the payment of an award in a lump sum or in installments. The part of an award equal to the amount of economic loss accrued to the date of the award must be paid in a lump sum. An award for allowable expense that would accrue after the award is made may not be paid in a lump sum. Except as provided in subsection 2, the part of an award that may not be paid in a lump sum must be paid in installments.

2. At the request of the claimant, the division may commute future economic loss, other than allowable expense, to a lump sum, but only upon a finding by the division that:
  - a. The award in a lump sum will promote the interests of the claimant; or
  - b. The present value of all future economic loss other than allowable expense, does not exceed one thousand dollars.
3. An award for future economic loss payable in installments may be made only for a period as to which the division can reasonably determine future economic loss. The division may reconsider and modify an award for future economic loss payable in installments, upon its finding that a material and substantial change of circumstances has occurred.
4. An assignment or agreement to assign a right to reparations for loss accruing in the future is unenforceable, except:
  - a. An assignment of a right to reparations for work loss to secure payment of alimony, maintenance, or child support; or
  - b. An assignment of a right to reparations for allowable expense to the extent that the benefits are for the cost of products, services, or accommodations necessitated by the injury or death on which the claim is based and are provided or to be provided by the assignee.
5. No funds may be placed in reserve by the division on any claim.

SECTION 14. Tentative awards. If the division determines that the claimant will suffer financial hardship unless a tentative award is made, and it appears likely that a final award will be made, an amount may be paid to the claimant which must be deducted from the final award or repaid by and recoverable from the claimant to the extent that it exceeds the final award.

SECTION 15. Reconsideration and review of decisions.

1. The division, on its own motion or on request of the claimant, may reconsider a decision making or denying an award or determining its amount. The division shall reconsider at least annually every award being paid in installments. An order on reconsideration of an award may not require refund of amounts previously paid unless the award was obtained by fraud.
2. The right of reconsideration does not affect the finality of a decision of the division for the purpose of judicial review.

SECTION 16. Reports. The division shall prepare and transmit biennially to the governor and the legislative assembly a report of its activities, including a brief description of the facts, the amount of reparations awarded in each case, and a statistical summary of claims and awards made and denied.

SECTION 17. Confidentiality of records. Juvenile or law enforcement records obtained under chapter 27-20 may be released to the parties, their counsel, and representatives of the parties in proceedings before the division and must be sealed at the conclusion of the proceedings. All other records of the division concerning the application for or award of reparations under this chapter are confidential and are not open to public disclosure. Inspection of these records, however, must be permitted by:

1. Law enforcement officers when necessary for the discharge of their official duties.
2. Representatives of a claimant, whether an individual or an organization, who may review a claim file or receive specific information from the file upon the presentation of the signed authorization of the claimant.
3. Physicians or health care providers treating or examining persons claiming benefits under this title, or physicians giving medical advice to the division regarding any claim, at the discretion of the division.
4. Any person who is rendering assistance to the division at any stage of the proceedings on any matter pertaining to the administration of sections 1 through 18 of this Act.
5. Juvenile or law enforcement records obtained under chapter 27-20 may be released to the parties, their counsel, and representatives in proceedings before the division and must be sealed at the conclusion of the proceedings.

SECTION 18. Filing false claim or false statements - Penalty. Any claimant who knowingly makes a false claim, or a false statement in connection with any claim, is guilty of a class A misdemeanor. In addition to any other penalties provided by law, the claimant who violates this section forfeits any compensation paid under sections 1 through 18 of this Act and must reimburse the program for any benefits paid.

SECTION 19. AMENDMENT. Subsection 5 of section 12.1-34-02 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

5. Services available. Victims and witnesses must be informed by the prosecuting attorney and arresting law enforcement agency of all appropriate and available public or private programs that provide counseling, treatment, or support for victims and witnesses, including rape crisis centers, victim and witness assistance programs, elderly victim services, victim assistance hot lines, social service agencies, and domestic violence programs. 27-20-52. Law enforcement records. Law enforcement records and files concerning a child shall be kept separate from the records and files of arrests of adults. Unless a charge of delinquency is transferred for criminal prosecution under section 27-20-34, the interest of national security requires, or the court otherwise orders in the interest of the child, the records and files shall not be open to public inspection or their contents disclosed to the public; but inspection of the records and files is permitted by:

SECTION 2. Consumer credit counseling service - Contract requirements. Any agreement between a consumer credit counseling service and a debtor for counseling and assistance must be in writing and signed by both parties. The consumer credit counseling service shall give the debtor a copy of the signed agreement. The agreement must disclose the total amount that may be retained by the consumer credit counseling service if the contract is fully performed, the terms upon which the debtor may cancel the contract, and all debts that are to be managed by the counseling service, including the name of each creditor and the amount of each debt. A consumer credit counseling service may not enter an agreement with a debtor unless a thorough written budget analysis indicates that the debtor can reasonably meet the requirements of the financial adjustment plan and that the debtor will be benefited by the plan.

SECTION 3. Consumer credit counseling service - Surety bond or other security. A consumer credit counseling service entering an agreement with a debtor who resides in this state shall file with the attorney general a surety bond or other security in an amount equal to the largest sum accrued in the service's trust account during the prior year, or five thousand dollars, whichever is greater. The bond or other security must be payable to the state of North Dakota and must be acceptable to the attorney general for the use and benefit of debtors making payments to a consumer credit counseling service and suffering damages caused by the consumer credit counseling service.

SECTION 4. Consumer credit counseling service - Trust accounts. A consumer credit counseling service shall deposit in a trust account in a financial institution, within one business day of receipt, any payments received from or on behalf of a debtor. A debtor's payments must be identifiable in the trust account. Funds in the trust account may not be commingled with any other funds. The consumer credit counseling service shall credit any interest accrued as a result of payments deposited in a trust account to debt management education programs.

received from or on behalf of a debtor, disbursements made on behalf of the debtor, fees collected, and funds held in escrow. The consumer credit counseling service shall make available to each debtor, upon request, a copy of the debtor's statement of account. All books, records, and accounts must be retained by a consumer credit counseling service for at least six years after the final entry of any recorded transaction.

SECTION 6. Fees - Payments - Cancellation. A consumer credit counseling service may charge an origination fee of up to fifty dollars, which may be subtracted from the intital amount paid by the debtor to the counseling service. The consumer credit counseling service may withdraw and retain as partial payment of the service's total fee up to fifteen percent of any sum deposited by the debtor for distribution. The remainder must be disbursed to the listed creditors in accordance with the parties' agreement. Disbursement must be made within forty-five days after deposit by the debtor. Before an automatic termination, either party may cancel the agreement without cause upon giving to the other party thirty days' written notice of an intent to cancel. In the event of a cancellation, the consumer credit counseling service shall notify the debtor's creditors within thirty days.

SECTION 7. Prohibitions - Investigation - Civil penalty. A consumer credit counseling service may not take a confession of judgment or a power of attorney to confess judgment against the debtor, or appear as the debtor in any judicial proceeding. The attorney general may, upon the attorney general's own motion, and shall, upon receipt of a complaint, investigate any alleged violation of law by a consumer credit counseling service. For that purpose, the attorney general may subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, take testimony, and require the production of books, documents, and other records. The attorney general may institute a civil action in the name of the state in the district court for an injunction prohibiting any practice in violation of this Act. The court, upon notice to the defendant of not less than five days, and upon proof that the defendant has engaged in a practice in violation of this Act may enjoin the defendant from engaging in any practice in violation of this Act. It is a discriminatory practice for an employer to fail or refuse to make reasonable accommodations for an otherwise qualified person with a physical or mental handicap or because of that person's religion. This chapter does not prohibit compulsory retirement of any employee who has attained sixty-five years of age, but not seventy years of age, and who, for the two-year period immediately before retirement, is employed in a bona fide executive or high policymaking position, if the employee is entitled to an immediate nonforfeiture annual retirement benefit from a pension, profit-sharing, savings, or deferred compensation plan, or any combination of those plans, of the employer of the employee, which equal, in the aggregate, at least ~~twenty-seven~~ forty-four thousand dollars.

CHILD CUSTODY DETERMINATIONS

AN ACT to amend and reenact section 14-05-22 and subsection 1 of section 14-09-06.2 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to consideration of evidence of domestic violence by courts in determining rights to custody and visitation of children.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 14-05-22 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

1. In an action for divorce, the court, before or after judgment, may give such direction for the custody, care, and education of the children of the marriage as may seem necessary or proper, and may vacate or modify the same at any time. Any award or change of custody must be made in accordance with the provisions of chapter 14-09.
2. After making an award of custody, the court shall, upon request of the noncustodial parent, grant such rights of visitation as will enable the child and the noncustodial parent to maintain a parent-child relationship that will be beneficial to the child, unless the court finds, after a hearing, that visitation is likely to endanger the child's physical or emotional health.
3. ~~In awarding custody or granting rights of visitation, the court shall consider evidence of domestic violence. If the court finds credible evidence that domestic violence has occurred, this evidence creates the rebuttable presumption that awarding custody or granting visitation to the abusive party is not in the best interests of the child. The court shall furthermore give direction for the custody of children of the marriage and grant rights of visitation in a manner that best protects the children and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm. As used in this section, "domestic violence" means domestic violence as defined in section 14-07.1-01. The court also shall consider the interaction and interrelationship, or the potential for interaction and interrelationship, of the child with any person who resides in, is present, or frequents the household of a parent, and who may significantly affect the child's best interests. The court shall consider that person's history of inflicting, or tendency to inflict, physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or the fear of physical harm, bodily injury, or assault, on other persons. If the court finds that a parent has perpetrated domestic violence and that parent does not have custody, the court shall allow only supervised child visitation with that parent unless there is a showing by clear and~~ convincing evidence that unsupervised visitation would not endanger the child's physical or emotional health.

4. If any court finds that a parent has sexually abused the parent's child, the court shall prohibit all visitation and contact between the abusive parent and the child until the court finds that the abusive parent has successfully completed a treatment program designed for such sexual abusers, and that supervised visitation is in the child's best interest. Contact between the abusive parent and the child may be allowed only in a therapeutic setting, facilitated by a therapist as part of a sexual abuse treatment program, and only when the therapist for the abusive parent and the therapist for the abused child agree that it serves a therapeutic purpose and is in the best interests of the child.
5. In any custody or visitation proceeding in which a parent is found to have perpetrated domestic violence, all court costs, attorneys' fees, evaluation fees, and expert witness fees must be paid by the perpetrator of the domestic violence unless those costs would place an undue financial hardship on that parent.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Subsection 1 of section 14-09-06.2 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

1. For the purpose of custody, the best interests and welfare of the child is determined by the court's consideration and evaluation of all factors affecting the best interests and welfare of the child. These factors include all of the following when applicable:
  - a. The love, affection, and other emotional ties existing between the parents and child.
  - b. The capacity and disposition of the parents to give the child love, affection, and guidance and to continue the education of the child.
  - c. The disposition of the parents to provide the child with food, clothing, medical care, or other remedial care recognized and permitted under the laws of this state in lieu of medical care, and other material needs.
  - d. The length of time the child has lived in a stable, satisfactory environment and the desirability of maintaining continuity.
  - e. The permanence, as a family unit, of the existing or proposed custodial home.
  - f. The moral fitness of the parents.
  - g. The mental and physical health of the parents.
  - h. The home, school, and community record of the child.
  - i. The reasonable preference of the child, if the court deems the child to be of sufficient intelligence, understanding, and experience to express a preference.

- j. ~~The existence Evidence of domestic violence. In awarding custody or granting rights of visitation, the court shall consider evidence of domestic violence. If the court finds credible evidence that domestic violence has occurred, the court shall cite specific findings of fact to show that the custody or visitation arrangement best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm this evidence creates a rebuttable presumption that a parent who has perpetrated domestic violence may not be awarded sole or joint custody of a child. This presumption may be overcome only by clear and convincing evidence that the best interests of the child requires that parent's participation as a custodial parent. The court shall cite specific findings of fact to show that the custody or visitation arrangement best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence. If necessary to protect the welfare of the child, custody may be awarded to a suitable third person, provided that the person would not allow access to a violent parent except as ordered by the court. If the court awards custody to a third person, the court shall give priority to the child's nearest suitable adult relative. The fact that the abused parent suffers from the effects of the abuse may not be grounds for denying that parent custody. As used in this subdivision, "domestic violence" means domestic violence as defined in section 14-07.1-01.~~
- k. The interaction and interrelationship, or the potential for interaction and interrelationship, of the child with any person who resides in, is present, or frequents the household of a parent and who may significantly affect the child's best interests. The court shall consider that person's history of inflicting, or tendency to inflict, physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or the fear of physical harm, bodily injury, or assault, on other persons.
- l. Any other factors considered by the court to be relevant to a particular child custody dispute.

The clerk shall maintain records listing the amount of the payments, the date when the payments must be made, the names and addresses of the parties subject to the order, and any other information necessary for the proper administration of the order. The clerk of court shall serve the affidavit by first-class mail upon the person owing the duty of support. Upon the filing of the affidavit, the child support continues pursuant to subsection 1, ~~unless,~~ if the person owing the duty of support files a motion with the court, within twenty days subsequent to service of the affidavit, requesting a hearing before the district court, the court shall determine if the requirements of subsection 1 are met and shall enter an order accordingly.
3. This section applies to child support orders concerning children described in subsection 1, regardless of the date of entry of the order, provided that the affidavit described in subsection 2 is filed not later than ninety days after the child graduates from high school or reaches age nineteen, whichever comes first.
4. This section does not preclude the entry of an order for child support which continues after the child reaches age eighteen, if the parties agree or if the court determines the support to be appropriate.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT. Subsection 3 of section 14-09-08.4 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

3. If a child support order sought to be amended was entered at least one year before the filing of a motion or petition for amendment, the court shall order the amendment of the child support order to conform the amount of child support payment to that required under the child support guidelines, whether or not the motion or petition for amendment arises out of a periodic review of a child support order, and whether or not a material change of circumstances has taken place, unless the presumption that the correct amount of child support would result from the application of the child support guidelines is rebutted. If a motion or petition for amendment is filed within one year of the entry of the order sought to be amended, the party seeking amendment must also show a material change of circumstances.

SECTION 6. AMENDMENT. Subsection 3 of section 16 of chapter 148 of the 1989 Session Laws of North Dakota, as amended by section 1 of chapter 152 of the 1991 Session Laws of North Dakota, is amended and reenacted as follows:

If a motion or petition for amendment is filed within one year of the entry of the order sought to be amended, the party seeking amendment must also show a material change of circumstances.

SECTION 7. AMENDMENT. Section 14-09-08.5 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

2. The notice to the obligor must inform the obligor of the duty to furnish the information required by section 14-09-08.6 and that a failure to furnish the required information may result in the entry of an order compelling the furnishing of the information. The notice must also inform the obligor that the review determination will be mailed to the obligor following the review. The notice must be accompanied by ~~a copy of the income withholding statutes~~ and an income report form, together with instructions for the accurate completion of the income report form.

SECTION 8. A new subsection to section 14-09-08.6 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

If an application to the court made pursuant to subsection 3 has not resulted in the production of information concerning the obligor's income sufficient to accomplish the review, the child support agency may base its review determination on the assumption that the obligor's income has increased at the rate of ten percent per year since the child support order under review was entered or last modified.

SECTION 9. AMENDMENT. Section 14-09-08.8 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

<sup>1</sup> 14-09-08.8. Motion for amendment of amount for child support - How made - Presumption where obligor's income unknown.

2. The court may determine the motion based upon the files and records, and evidence received in consideration of the motion. If the child support agency certifies that, despite diligent efforts to secure reliable information concerning the obligor's income, the obligor has not produced such information, and if the obligor provides the court with no reliable evidence concerning the obligor's income, it is presumed that the obligor's income has increased at the rate of ten percent per year since the child support order was entered or last modified.

SECTION 10. AMENDMENT. Section 14-09-08.11 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

14-09-08.11. Eligible child - Coverage to continue. A minor child that an obligor is required to cover as a beneficiary under section 14-09-08.10 is eligible for insurance coverage as a dependent of the obligor until the child's eighteenth birthday or until further order of the court. child meets all the other usual qualifications for insurability and payment continues on the policy or contract premiums. Insurance companies and nonprofit health service corporations licensed in this state shall provide coverage for minor children of an obligor who has been ordered to obtain dependent health insurance under the terms and conditions applicable to coverage for newly born children, as though the date of the order issued under section 14-09-08.10 was the day of the child's birth, and further provided that coverage must be provided to the same extent the general public is covered as long as the minor child meets all the other usual qualifications for insurability and policy or contract premiums are paid. A determination that legal custody will be with a parent other than a parent who pays policy or contract premiums, or on whose behalf payment of policy or contract premiums is made, may not be a basis for cancellation of the minor child's accident and health insurance policy or health service contract.

SECTION 11. AMENDMENT. Section 14-09-08.12 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

14-09-08.12. SECTION 12. AMENDMENT. If House Bill No. 1021 does not become effective, subsection 3 of section 14-09-09.7 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

3. There is a rebuttable presumption that the amount of child support ~~which~~ that would result from the application of the child support guidelines is the correct amount of child support. The presumption may be rebutted if a preponderance of the evidence in a contested matter establishes ~~that factors not considered by the guidelines will result in an undue hardship to the obligor or a child for whom support is sought, applying criteria established by the public authority which take into consideration the best interests of the child, that the child support amount established under the guidelines is not the correct amount of child support.~~ A written finding or a specific finding on the record must be made if the court determines that the presumption has been rebutted. The finding must:
  - a. State the child support amount determined through application of the guidelines;
  - b. Identify the criteria that rebut the presumption of correctness of that amount; and
  - c. State the child support amount determined after application of the criteria that rebut the presumption.

SECTION 13. AMENDMENT. Section 14-09-09.13 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

14-09-09.13. Procedure - Notice to obligor. If immediate income withholding under section 14-09-09.24 has not been implemented and an obligor is delinquent, if an obligee's request for income withholding is approved, or if a court changes its finding that there is good cause not to require immediate income withholding, the clerk of court shall serve a notice and a copy of ~~this chapter section 14-09-09.14~~ on the obligor by first-class mail. The notice must be sent within five working days of the appropriate date under subsection 7 if the obligor's address is known to the clerk on that date or, if the address is unknown on that date, within five working days after the clerk is informed of the obligor's address. The notice must state:

1. That the obligor is delinquent in the payment of child support, that a request for withholding has been made by the obligee and approved by a child support agency, or that there is no longer good cause not to require immediate income withholding, as the case may be, and the obligor is therefore subject to an income withholding order on all income.
2. The amount of child support owed and the amount of arrearage, if any.
3. The total amount of money that will be withheld by the income payor from the obligor's income in each month and that the amount is the sum of both of the following:
  - a. The obligor's current monthly support obligation.
  - b. The amount the obligor is ordered to pay toward any outstanding arrearage, or if no order to repay an arrearage exists, then an amount equal to twenty percent of the obligor's current monthly support obligation, if any, or equal to the most recent monthly support obligation if there is no current monthly support obligation, for application towards any arrearage subject to the limitations of section 14-09-09.16.
4. That the income payor may withhold an additional sum of three dollars to cover the income payor's expenses.
5. That if not contested pursuant to section 14-09-09.14, the income withholding order will be issued immediately, without further order of the court.
6. That the obligor may contest the issuance of the income withholding order by filing a written request for hearing within ten days of the date of the notice made under this section.
7. That if the obligor contests the income withholding order pursuant to section 14-09-09.14, a hearing will be held and the court will determine and issue an order consistent with the requirements of section 14-09-09.14.
8. That the income withholding order applies to any current or subsequent income payor or period of employment.
9. The date the income of the obligor is subject to income withholding, which is the earliest of:
  - a. The date the obligor requests income withholding.

- b. The date on which an approved income withholding request is made by the obligee.
- c. The date the child support obligation becomes delinquent.

SECTION 14. AMENDMENT. Section 14-09-09.16 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

14-09-09.16. Service of income withholding order on income payor. The clerk of court shall serve the income withholding order and a copy of ~~this chapter sections 14-09-09.3 and 14-09-09.15~~ on the income payor in the manner provided for service of a summons in a civil action and upon the obligor by first-class mail to the obligor's last known address, within fifteen days of the date of the notice made pursuant to section 14-09-09.13 or 14-09-09.20, unless the obligor has contested that notice within ten days of the date of that notice. If a hearing was held under section 14-09-09.14 or 14-09-09.21, the income withholding order and the copy of this chapter must be served within five working days of the date of the court's determination. If the obligor is subject to immediate income withholding under section 14-09-09.24, an income withholding order and a copy of this chapter must be served on any known income payor within five working days of the issuance of the judgment or order which requires the payment of child support. Subject to the provisions of section 14-09-09.17, if service of an income withholding order has been or may have been properly made under this section, an income withholding order and a copy of this chapter must be served on any subsequently identified income payor within five working days after the clerk is informed of the name and address of such an income payor. An income withholding order may also be issued and served at the request of the obligor. The income withholding order shall state all of the following:

1. That the obligor is properly subject to an income withholding order and that the income payor is therefore required to withhold an amount, determined under subsection 3 of section 14-09-09.13, from the obligor's income at the time the obligor is paid for transmittal to the clerk of court within ten working days of the date the obligor is paid, together with a report of the date upon which the amount was withheld from the obligor's income.
2. That the income payor may also withhold and retain an additional sum of three dollars per month from the obligor's income to cover expenses involved in transmitting payment.
3. That the amount to be withheld, including amounts to cover expenses involved in transmitting payment, may not exceed fifty percent of the obligor's disposable income from this income payor, but a payment of an amount less than the ordered amount must be accompanied by a written calculation disclosing any of the obligor's income and disposable income which is payable by the income payor.
4. That the income payor shall begin withholding no later than the first pay period that occurs fourteen days after service of the income withholding order.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 15-22-25 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-22-25. Biennial plan required - Two or more counties may have a common county superintendent of schools - Appeals.

1. The board of county commissioners of two or more counties may agree to jointly employ a county superintendent of schools to perform the functions of the office for the counties involved. Any county which has less than one thousand persons over five and under eighteen years of age, as determined by the superintendent of public instruction for the previous school year, must combine with another county or counties for the purpose of jointly employing a county superintendent of schools. The board of county commissioners of such a county shall develop a plan to cooperate with another county or counties to employ a county superintendent of schools. If the board of county commissioners of each county cannot agree to share a county superintendent of schools, the superintendent of public instruction may require a county to participate in a plan to jointly employ a county superintendent of schools. Any plan to share a county superintendent of schools must be approved by a majority of the presidents of the school boards of each county affected by the plan and must be confirmed by the superintendent of public instruction. If a majority of the presidents of the school boards in each county cannot agree to the plan, both the presidents of the school boards of the counties affected and the boards of county commissioners of the counties affected shall submit a plan to the superintendent of public instruction for resolution. The decision of the superintendent may be appealed as provided in subsection 3. The plan must describe the amount and quality of educational services to be provided to school districts in the counties by the county superintendent of schools. The plan must be reviewed, and amended if necessary, by the boards of county commissioners and submitted to the presidents of the school boards for approval and to the superintendent of public instruction for confirmation biennially. The superintendent of public instruction may exempt a county from jointly employing a county superintendent of schools if the superintendent determines that, due to the geographic size of the county or the duties required of the county superintendent of schools in that county, sharing a county superintendent of schools would not be feasible. Each county jointly employing a county superintendent of schools must share the salary and other expenses attributable to the county superintendent of schools. ~~The costs must be apportioned among the counties sharing the county superintendent of schools based on the number of persons over five and under eighteen years of age in each county according to the approved biennial plan.~~

2. The board of county commissioners of any county that elects not to share a county superintendent of schools with another county, or that has been exempted from sharing a county superintendent of schools by the superintendent of public instruction, must submit a plan biennially to the school boards of the school districts located within the county. The plan must describe the amount and quality of educational services to be provided to school districts in the county by the county superintendent of schools. The plan is approved if a majority of the presidents of the school boards in the county approve the plan and the plan is confirmed by the superintendent of public instruction. If a majority of the presidents of the school boards in the county cannot agree to the plan, both the presidents of the school boards and the board of county commissioners shall submit a plan to the superintendent of public instruction for resolution. The decision of the superintendent of public instruction may be appealed as provided in subsection 3.
3. If the superintendent of public instruction does not confirm a plan that has been approved locally, the superintendent of public instruction shall submit the plan to the state board of public school education for final resolution. A majority of the presidents of the school boards in a county or a board of county commissioners aggrieved by a decision of the superintendent of public instruction may appeal the decision to the state board of public school education. A decision of or resolution by the state board of public school education under this section is final. The superintendent of public instruction may not serve on the board when the board is resolving disputes under this section.

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 15-22 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

The proposal must be submitted to each county committee for its approval. If the reorganization proposal is approved by a majority of the members of one of the two county committees, or the members of one or more of the special committees fail or refuse to meet with the committee or committees from other counties, the county superintendent of the county in which the largest number of pupils who would be affected by the proposed new district reside shall submit the reorganization proposal to the state board for approval or disapproval. If the reorganization proposal fails to receive the approval of any county committee, it may not be presented to the state board for review. If the school districts are situated in more than one county but the major portions of both such school districts are situated in the same county, the county committee of that county shall consider the matter.

Recall rights - Consortia - Teacher contracts not renewed.

1. When the contract of a teacher employed by a school district involved in reorganization pursuant to chapter 15-27.6 is not renewed under the provisions of subsection 5 of section 15-47-38 because of a reduction in force, the teacher is entitled to first preference for any open teaching positions in the reorganized school district for which the teacher is qualified by certification. The right of recall continues until July first of the year that is two years subsequent to the date of the nonrenewal. Among teachers who have recall rights and who are qualified by certification, the teacher with the longest continuous service within a school district involved in the reorganization is entitled to first preference. In the event that teachers entitled to recall under this section have equal continuous service within a district involved in the reorganization, then the academic preparation beyond a bachelor's degree must be used to determine which teacher is entitled to first preference under this section.

2. The teacher may exercise rights under this section by providing the reorganized school district with a written demand for recall rights within thirty days of the current school district's written notice of nonrenewal. The teacher shall inform the reorganized school district of any changes in the teacher's address during the period of the teacher's recall rights. When an open position exists within the reorganized school district, the reorganized school district shall send written notice of the open position, including details of the position's requirements to all teachers who are qualified for the position by certification. A written notice must contain, in descending order of preference, the names of teachers entitled to recall rights. Any teacher who fails to accept recall rights in writing, within fourteen days after the teacher has received a letter by certified mail, is deemed to have waived recall rights against that position. The open position must be offered to the teacher who is entitled to preference under this section and who has accepted recall rights for the open position.
3. The recall rights of any teacher who accepts less than full-time employment in a reorganized school district continue for the time period contained in subsection 1 for consideration to fill any open position that offers compensation in excess of the teacher's compensation for less than full-time employment.

Every high school district must receive at least as much in total payments as it would have received if it had the highest number of pupils in the next lower category. Such payments may not be made unless four or more units of standard high school work approved by the superintendent of public instruction are offered during the current year, only certificated teachers have been employed, and the other standards prescribed by this chapter have been met. Payments must be made to the high school district in which the student is enrolled for graduation and units of approved vocational education in accordance with the provisions of chapter 15-20.1, and other courses approved by the superintendent of public instruction, earned in another high school district must be included to meet the minimum four required units. SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 15-40.2-09 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

<sup>3</sup> 15-40.2-09. Attendance in public schools or institutions of bordering states, when permitted - Continuation of attendance when district annexed or reorganized. Students may attend a school in a bordering state under the following circumstances:

1. ~~determined as provided in section 15-40.1-07 or 15-40.1-08 based on the weighting factor of the student's district or residence. The remainder of the pupil's tuition as determined under section 15-40.2-10 shall be paid by the district of the pupil's residence. Foundation aid payments for students attending out-of-state schools must be made to the district of residence. However, the district of the student's residence is entitled to reduce the tuition payment to an out-of-state school by an amount commensurate with the tuition costs the district would be entitled to as compensation for a student from the out-of-state district enrolled in its school. Transportation payments for students attending school in a bordering state must be determined as provided in section 15-40.1-16.~~

This section shall not be construed to require the district of residence to provide ~~pupil student~~ transportation, or payments in lieu thereof, for ~~pupils for whom the payment of tuition has been approved~~ students attending out-of-state schools.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 15-40.2-10 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-40.2-10. The superintendent of public instruction, by certificate to the office of management and budget shall authorize payments from the appropriation for state payments to school districts pursuant to chapter 15-40.1 for the attendance of pupils in bordering states, and the office of management and budget, within the limits of legislative appropriations, shall make such payments. The balance of the tuition payment by the pupil's district of residence shall not exceed the amount established by reciprocal agreement less the amount paid from the state foundation aid program to the school district or institution in the bordering state. A school district may, upon notification to the superintendent of public instruction, enter into an agreement with a school district in a bordering state for the education of elementary and high school students. The agreement, which replaces the provisions of the master reciprocal agreement, may provide for the payment of tuition at an amount agreed upon by the school district of residence and the school district of the bordering state. However, the tuition may not exceed the amount established under the reciprocal master agreement, nor may it be less than the per student foundation aid plus tuition apportionment in the student's school district of residence. For purposes of foundation aid, a student attending school in a bordering state under such an agreement is deemed to be in attendance in the student's school district of residence. The student's school district of residence is liable to the school district in the bordering state for payments as provided in the agreement.~~

(Representatives Huether, Boucher, Dalrymple, Gates, Goffe, Wardner)

SCHOOL OPEN ENROLLMENT

AN ACT to establish a statewide open enrollment program allowing elementary and high school students to attend school in a district other than their school district of residence.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. Open enrollment - Procedure. A student's parent or legal guardian who wishes to enroll the student in a North Dakota school district other than the student's district of residence shall, not later than January first of the school year preceding the year of enrollment, apply to the school board of the student's district of residence, on forms provided by the superintendent of public instruction, for approval to enroll the student in a district other than the student's district of residence. By February first of the school year preceding the year of enrollment, the school board of the district of residence shall act on the application, notify the parent or legal guardian of the board's decision within five days, and if the application is approved, immediately transmit the application to the admitting district. By March first, the board of the admitting district shall approve or disapprove the application. The board of the admitting district shall notify the board of the district of residence and the student's parent or legal guardian within five days regarding its decision. Notice of intent to enroll in the admitting district obligates the student to attend the admitting district during the following school year, unless the school boards of the resident and the admitting districts agree in writing to allow the student to transfer back to the resident district, or the student's parents or guardians change residence to another district. All applications must be reviewed in the order that they are received. A student whose school district of residence does not offer the grade level in which the student requires enrollment may not participate in open enrollment. A child placed at a group or residential care facility or a residential treatment center in accordance with section 15-40.2-08 is not eligible for open enrollment under this section.

SECTION 2. Grounds for disapproval - Exception. Except as provided in section 4 of this Act, the board of the district of residence may deny an application under section 1 of this Act only if the application will result in a reduction of the number of students enrolled in the district by more than twenty percent of the average daily membership the previous school year. However, if denying an application would result in the enrollment of children from the same nuclear family in different school districts, the school board of the district of residence may not deny the application. A student attending school in another district and having tuition paid as provided for in section 15-40.2-06 during the 1993-94 school year may enroll in a school district other than the student's school district of residence under the provisions of this Act, without being considered a student in average daily membership the previous year in the student's school district of residence.

SECTION 3. Enrollment - Foundation aid - Tuition apportionment. Once enrolled in the admitting district, the student remains enrolled in the admitting district until the student graduates, moves, the student's parent or legal guardian applies for enrollment in another school district, or the student's parent or legal guardian notifies the student's school district of residence that the student will attend school in the school district of residence the following year. Payment for foundation aid shall be made in accordance with chapter 15-40.1. For purposes of tuition apportionment payments, a student whose application is approved under this section is considered a resident of the admitting district. Except as specifically provided in this Act, the provisions of chapter 15-40.2 do not apply to students involved in open enrollment.

SECTION 4. Enrollment - Students with disabilities - Additional costs. If an application under section 1 of this Act is approved for a student with a disability, the school board of the district of residence shall pay to the admitting district the costs incurred by the admitting district in providing education and related services to the student with a disability up to a maximum each school year of two and one-half times the state average per student elementary or high school cost, depending on the student's enrollment level. The state is liable for any costs in excess of this amount.

SECTION 5. Open enrollment - Transportation. The district of residence of a student participating in open enrollment under this Act has no obligation to provide transportation. However, the district of residence may enter into a transportation arrangement with the admitting district as provided in section 15-34.2-02.

SECTION 6. Local school boards - Standards. Each school board shall adopt standards for the acceptance and rejection of applications for open enrollment as provided in section 1 of this Act. The standards may include the capacity of a program, class, grade level, or school building. The standards may not include previous academic achievement, participation in extracurricular activities, disabilities, English language proficiency, or previous disciplinary proceedings. The school board of the admitting district may determine that the district may not accept applications for open enrollment under this Act. A school district participating in an open enrollment program may not give or offer to give a student remuneration, or directly or indirectly exert influence upon the student or the student's family, in order to encourage participation in the open enrollment program for the purpose of having the student participate in varsity athletic activities. However, any student who participated in varsity athletic activities during the 1992-93 school year, at a school in a district other than the student's district of residence or at a school outside the boundary within which the student would normally attend school may continue to participate in varsity athletics at that school for the duration of the student's high school career.

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 15-47 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to nonrenewal of superintendents' contracts; and to amend and reenact section 15-47-26 and subsections 2 and 5 of section 15-47-38 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the definition of a teacher and nonrenewal or discharge of a teacher.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 15-47-26 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-47-26. "Teacher" defined. The term "teacher", as used in ~~sections 15-47-27 and section 15-47-28, must be construed to include~~ includes all teachers, principals, and superintendents in all public school districts within this state, and all persons employed in teaching in any state institution, except institutions of higher education. The term "teacher", as used in ~~section sections 15-47-27 and 15-47-38, must be construed to include~~ includes all teachers, and principals, ~~superintendents, assistant superintendents, and chief administrators of multidistrict special education units and area vocational and technology centers in all public school districts within this state, and~~ all persons employed in teaching in any state institution, except institutions of higher education. For purposes of the sections above referenced, the term "teacher" does not include teachers who are replacing teachers on leave of absence or sabbatical leave or, for purposes of nonrenewal, teachers who are in their first year of teaching and teachers who are employed after January first as to that school year. A teacher hired after January first has all the rights provided in section 15-47-27.1 except that only one evaluation is required during that school year.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Subsections 2 and 5 of section 15-47-38 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code are amended and reenacted as follows:

2. The school board of any school district contemplating discharging a teacher for cause prior to the expiration of the term of the teacher's contract shall notify the teacher in writing of that fact at least ten days prior to the date of contemplated discharge. The teacher must be informed in writing of the time and place for a special meeting of the school board to be held on the question of the teacher's discharge prior to a final decision on the matter. The teacher must also be informed in writing of the teacher's right to demand a specification of the reasons for discharge, which must, upon receipt of the demand of the teacher, be furnished not less than five days prior to the meeting to be held on the question of the teacher's discharge. The reasons must be sufficient to justify the contemplated action of the board and may not be frivolous or arbitrary. At the meeting with the board, if the teacher has informed the board in writing at least two days prior thereto that the teacher will contest the charges brought against the teacher, the board must sustain the charges with evidence produced at the hearing with witnesses who are subject to cross-examination by the teacher or the teacher's representative. A witness, if a minor, must be accompanied by a parent or parents, legal guardian, or legal counsel, if requested by the minor or the minor's parents. The teacher may then produce witnesses as may be necessary to refute the charges, which witnesses are subject to cross-examination. All procedures relative to evidence, subpoena of witnesses, oaths, record of testimony, decision, rehearing, appeals, certification of record, scope and procedure for appeals, appeals to the supreme court, and other administrative procedures must be conducted in accordance with chapter 28-32. The meeting must be an executive session of the board unless both the school board and the teacher requesting the meeting shall agree that it is to be open to other persons or the public. The teacher may be represented at the meeting by two representatives of the teacher's own choosing; and the teacher's spouse, or one other family member of the teacher's choice, may also attend the meeting if the teacher so desires. In addition to board members, the business manager of the school district, and, ~~unless the subject of the contemplated discharge,~~ the superintendent, the school board may be represented by two other representatives of its own choosing at such executive session. If the teacher so requests, the board must grant a continuance of not to exceed seven days unless good cause is otherwise shown. No cause of action for libel or slander may be brought for any statement expressed either orally or in writing at any executive session of the school board held for the purposes provided for in this section.

5. The school board of any school district contemplating not renewing a teacher's contract, as provided in section 15-47-27, shall notify the teacher in writing of such contemplated nonrenewal no later than April fifteenth. The teacher must be informed in writing of the time, which may not be later than April twenty-first, and place of a special school board meeting for the purpose of discussing and acting upon such contemplated nonrenewal. The teacher must also be informed in writing of the reasons for nonrenewal. The reasons given by the school board for its decision not to renew a teacher's contract must be drawn from specific and documented findings arising from formal reviews conducted by the board with respect to the teacher's overall performance. Each district shall have an established system through which written evaluations are prepared for every teacher employed by the district as provided in section 15-47-27. The reasons given by the board for not renewing a teacher's contract must be sufficient to justify the contemplated action of the board and may not be frivolous or arbitrary but must be related to the ability, competence, or qualifications of the teacher or the necessities of the district such as lack of funds calling for a reduction in the staff. At the meeting with the board the teacher may then produce such evidence as may be necessary to evaluate the reasons for nonrenewal, and either party may produce witnesses to confirm or refute the reasons. The administrator shall substantiate the reasons with written or oral evidence presented at the meeting, unless the administrator is the subject of the contemplated nonrenewal, in which case the board shall substantiate the reasons with written or oral evidence presented at the meeting. All witnesses are subject to questioning for the purposes of clarification. At the meeting, the board shall discuss the evidence presented. If the reasons for nonrenewal have not been substantiated, the nonrenewal proceedings will be dismissed. The meeting must be an executive session of the board unless both the school board and the teacher agree that it is to be open to other persons or the public. The teacher may be represented at the meeting by any two representatives of the teacher's own choosing; and the teacher's spouse, or one other family member of the teacher's choice, may also attend the meeting if the teacher so desires. In addition to board members, the business manager of the school district, and, ~~unless the subject of the contemplated nonrenewal,~~ the superintendent, the school board may be represented by two other representatives of its own choosing at such executive session. At the meeting, if the teacher so requests, the teacher must be granted a continuance of not to exceed seven days. No claim for relief for libel or slander lies for any statement expressed either orally or in writing at any executive session of the school board held for the purposes provided for in this section. The determination not to renew a contract if made in good faith is final and binding on all parties. Final notice of the determination not to renew a contract must be given in writing by May first as provided in section 15-47-27.

5. If a school district governing body intends to discharge a superintendent, the superintendent must be served with a detailed and written description of the reasons given by the school board for the proposed dismissal. Following service of the written description, the superintendent must be granted a hearing before the governing body for which reasonable advance notice is required. If a superintendent chooses to be accompanied by an attorney, the legal expenses attributable to that representation must be incurred by the superintendent.
6. The superintendent may produce necessary witnesses to refute charges made by the board against the superintendent or reasons given by the board for its proposal to discharge the superintendent. The witnesses are subject to cross-examination.
7. 11. No claim for relief for libel or slander may accrue from any statement expressed orally or in writing at an executive session of the school board held for the purposes provided in this section.
12. A school board dismissing a superintendent for cause shall report the dismissal to the teachers' professional practices commission. The school board by unanimous vote may suspend the superintendent from regular duty if such action is deemed desirable during the dismissal process. If the superintendent is dismissed, the board may determine the superintendent's salary or compensation as of the date of suspension. If the final decision is favorable to the superintendent, there may be no abatement of salary or compensation.
13. The school board of a school district contemplating the contract nonrenewal of a superintendent who has been employed in the school district as a superintendent for at least two consecutive years, shall notify the superintendent in writing of the contemplated nonrenewal no later than April fifteenth. The school board shall inform the superintendent in writing of the time, which may not be later than April twenty-first, and the place of a special school board meeting for the purpose of discussing and acting upon the contemplated nonrenewal. The school board shall inform the superintendent in writing of the reasons for nonrenewal. The reasons may not be frivolous or arbitrary, must be related to the ability, competence, or qualifications of the superintendent, must be sufficient to justify the contemplated action of the board, and must be drawn from specific and documented findings arising from the formal and written evaluations of the superintendent's performance as required in subsection 2 of this section, except when the nonrenewal results from a necessary reduction in staff. At the board meeting, the superintendent may produce evidence necessary to evaluate the reasons for nonrenewal, and either party may produce witnesses to confirm or refute the reasons. The school board shall substantiate the reasons or cause the reasons to be substantiated with written or oral evidence presented at the meeting. All witnesses are subject to questioning for purposes of clarification. The superintendent may be represented at the meeting by two persons chosen by the superintendent. The superintendent's spouse or one other family member may also attend the meeting. If the superintendent chooses to be accompanied by an attorney, the legal expenses attributable to that representation must be incurred by the superintendent. In addition to the board members and the business manager of the school district, the school board may be represented by two persons chosen by the board. If the superintendent requests, the board shall grant the superintendent a continuance not to exceed seven days. No claim for relief for libel or slander accrues from any statement expressed orally or in writing at an executive session of the school board held for the purposes provided in this section. The school board shall give the superintendent final notice of the determination not to renew a contract by May first.

14. AN ACT to amend and reenact sections 15-59-01, 15-59-02.1, 15-59-04, 15-59-04.1, 15-59-05, 15-59-05.2, 15-59-06, 15-59-06.2, 15-59-07, 15-59-07.2, 15-59-10, 15-59.3-01, 15-59.3-02, 15-59.3-03, 15-59.3-04, 15-59.3-05, 15-59.3-06, and 15-59.3-07 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to special education and boarding home care for children with disabilities.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

15-59-01. Definitions. As used in this chapter:

1. ~~"Exceptional child" means a natural person who has reached the age of three years by midnight August thirty first and has not reached the age of twenty one years by midnight August thirty first, who, because of mental, physical, emotional, or learning characteristics, requires special education services. This may include a handicapped child or a gifted child.~~
2. ~~"Gifted child "Child who is gifted" means a gifted and talented child identified by professional, qualified persons, who, by virtue of outstanding abilities, is capable of high performance and who requires differentiated educational programs and services beyond those normally provided by the regular school program in order to realize his or her contribution to self and society.~~
3. ~~"Handicapped child" means a child who is mentally retarded, hard of hearing, deaf, deaf blind, speech or language impaired, visually handicapped, seriously emotionally disturbed, specific learning disabled, orthopedically impaired, otherwise health impaired, autistic, or traumatic brain injured who by reason thereof requires special education and related services or who has been excused from attending or participating in special education pursuant to subsection 4 of section 15-34.1-03.~~
2. "Child with disabilities" means a child who has reached the third birthday, and has not reached the age of twenty-one years by midnight of August thirty-first, who because of mental, physical, emotional, or learning characteristics requires regular or special education and related aids and services designed to meet individual education needs. This includes children who are mentally retarded, hard of hearing, deaf, deaf-blind, speech or language impaired, visually impaired, seriously emotionally disturbed, specific learning disabled, orthopedically impaired, otherwise health impaired, autistic, or traumatic brain injured.

- 4- 3. "Learning disability" means a disorder in one or more of the basic psychological processes involved in understanding or in using spoken or written languages, and which may be manifested in disorders of listening, thinking, talking, reading, writing, spelling, or arithmetic. The term "learning disability" includes, but is not limited to, such conditions as perceptual ~~handicaps~~ impairments, brain injury, minimal brain dysfunction, dyslexia, and developmental aphasia, but does not include learning problems due primarily to visual, hearing or motor handicaps, mental retardation, emotional disturbance, or environmental disadvantage.
- 5- 4. "Special education" means classroom, home, hospital, institutional, or other instruction to meet the needs of handicapped children with disabilities, transportation, and corrective and supporting services required to assist ~~exceptional~~ children with disabilities in taking advantage of, or responding to, educational programs and opportunities.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-02.1 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-02.1. Legislative intent - Special education. This statement of legislative intent is provided to define more clearly the relationship between the state, school districts, and parents of ~~handicapped~~ children with disabilities in the provision of special education and related services. "Related services" means transportation and such developmental and corrective or supportive services required to assist a ~~handicapped~~ child with disabilities to benefit from special education.

The school administrator or ~~his~~ the administrator's appointed representative or director of special education other than the child's teacher is responsible for bringing together professionals and parents to share assessment information related to all areas of suspected disability, develop an individualized education program plan for the ~~handicapped~~ student with disabilities, and make recommendations for required special education and related services.

The legislative assembly believes that in order to assure equality of services which are provided for by limited state funds, the department of public instruction will be required to approve a contract for services based on an individualized education program developed for each ~~handicapped~~ student with disabilities placed in a private school program or in programs outside the student's original special education unit.

The legislative assembly believes that when money is distributed to a school district for special education personnel, the department of public instruction should give consideration to the units of services provided by the district, the district's special education program costs, and the district's special education program needs.

The legislative assembly recognizes that a ~~handicapped~~ student with disabilities whose individualized education program so requires is entitled to an educational program in excess of one hundred eighty days per year if regression caused by an interruption in educational programming, together with a student's limited recoupment capacity, renders it impossible or unlikely that the student will attain the level of self-sufficiency and independence from caretakers that the student would otherwise be expected to reach in view of the ~~handicapping condition~~ disability. All summer programs attended by these students must have approval of the department of public instruction before receiving foundation aid or state special education reimbursement.

In the case of handicapped students with disabilities who require boarding care away from the family residence in order to receive special education and related services in an approved program, it is the intent of the legislative assembly that the instructional costs and costs of related services, including boarding care, be borne by state special education funds and school district funds.

"All handicapped children with disabilities have the right to a free appropriate education" means that all handicapped students with disabilities have the right to special education and related services which must be provided at no cost to parents. "At no cost" means specifically designed instruction provided without charge but does not preclude expenses normally incurred or charged to parents of nonhandicapped children who are nondisabled. Parents will assume such costs for a handicapped child with disabilities as they would if the child was ~~not~~ handicapped nondisabled. Personal items, including, ~~but not limited to,~~ hearing aids, eyeglasses, routine medical expenses, physical exams, medications, and all items necessary for a nonhandicapped child who is nondisabled, will be the financial responsibility of the parent.

School districts must require use of family insurance, or similar third party payments, in whatever amount is allowed, as long as there is no financial loss to the child or the child's parent, for determining a child's medically related ~~handicapping condition~~ disability or other required related services which results in the child's need for special education. It is the school district's responsibility to assume costs not covered by the insurer or similar third party in the above situation.

The school district in which a handicapped student with disabilities resides is responsible to provide transportation for the student as prescribed in the student's individualized education program.

Costs of transportation for the student to attend an approved special education program are the responsibility of the school district with aid from the department of public instruction.

The district of residence may use any reasonably prudent and safe means of transportation at its disposal to carry out the requirements of the individualized education program. Such means may include, ~~but not be limited to,~~ a regularly scheduled schoolbus, public or commercial transportation where appropriate, charter or specially contracted transportation, or transportation provided by a ~~handicapped student's~~ the parent of a child with disabilities or other responsible party at school district expense.

If the transportation between the district of residence and the educational facility is provided by the parents, the reimbursement to the school district from department of public instruction funds must be for mileage costs only and may not include per diem costs for meals, lodging, lost wages, or other costs of any kind.

As the department of human services has authority under chapter 25-16 to provide early intervention services to meet the needs of handicapped children with disabilities ages zero through two years, the legislative assembly recognizes this provision and requires the department of public instruction, the state department of health and consolidated laboratories, and the department of human services to cooperate in planning and coordinating programs for these children.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-04 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-04. School districts to provide special education. School districts shall provide special education to ~~handicapped~~ children with disabilities in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and in so doing may act jointly with one or more other districts and shall cooperate with the director of special education and with the institutions of the state. Each school district shall submit a plan ~~with~~ to the superintendent of public instruction for implementing special education in the district. Special education services to ~~handicapped~~ children with disabilities three to six years of age shall be fully implemented by July 1, 1985. School districts may provide special education to ~~gifted~~ children who are gifted in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and in so doing may act jointly with one or more other districts and shall cooperate with the director of special education.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-04.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-04.1. Records. Every school district shall make and keep a current record of all school age ~~handicapped~~ children with disabilities who are residents of the school district.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-05. Powers and duties of the director of special education. The superintendent of public instruction shall establish general state policy within the provisions of this chapter and shall endeavor to ensure a cooperative special education program coordinating all available services. ~~He~~ The superintendent of public instruction shall cooperate with private agencies, soliciting their advice and cooperation in the establishment of policy and in the coordination and development of special education programs. In accordance with the provisions of this chapter, the director of special education shall prescribe rules and regulations for the special education of ~~exceptional~~ children with disabilities and for the administration of this chapter. ~~He~~ The director of special education shall assist the school districts of the state in the inauguration, administration, and development of special education programs, and ~~he shall~~ establish standards and provide for the approval of certification of schools, teachers, facilities, and equipment.

SECTION 6. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-05.2 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-05.2. Interagency cooperative agreements for the provision of educational-related services to ~~handicapped~~ students with disabilities. The department of public instruction shall cooperatively develop and implement interagency agreements with appropriate public and private agencies, including the department of corrections and rehabilitation, the state department of human services, and the state department of health and consolidated laboratories, for purposes of maximizing available state resources in fulfilling the educational-related service requirements of Public Law 94-142 [89 Stat. 773] and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended.

SECTION 7. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-06 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-06. State cooperation in special education. ~~Exceptional children~~ Children with disabilities who are enrolled in approved programs of special education must be deemed to be regularly enrolled in the school district of residence and must be included in the determination of elementary and high school per-pupil payments from the state foundation aid program whether or not such pupils are regularly attending school in the school or school district receiving such payments. A prorated state foundation aid payment for a student to attend a public school program for ~~handicapped~~ students with disabilities, approved by the superintendent of public instruction, may be made provided that the individualized education program for the child is written during the last quarter of the school term and specifically requires that the child attend a summer special education program. In the case of a student who is enrolled in a nonpublic school but who is attending a public school special education program, payments must be made to the appropriate public school district in relation to the proportion of a normal schoolday as such student participates in such special education program. For the purposes of this section, a normal schoolday must be deemed to consist of six hours. Upon the determination by the director of special education that the school district has made expenditures for each ~~exceptional child with a disability or child who is gifted~~ in such program equal to the average expenditures made in such district for elementary or high school students, as the case may be, the director by vouchers drawn upon funds provided by the legislative assembly for such purpose may provide reimbursement to such school or school district. The amount the school district is required to expend must be reduced proportionately if a child attends the school for less than an entire year. If any school district within a special education unit has any ~~handicapped~~ elementary or high school student with disabilities who, in the opinion of a qualified psychologist, a medical doctor, district superintendent, and the district or multidistrict director of special education, is unable to attend the public schools in the special education unit because of a ~~handicapping-condition~~ disability, such school district shall contract with an in-state public school outside the special education unit in which the student is a legal resident which will accept such student and has proper facilities for the education. No school district may enter into a contract with any in-state public school for the education of any student because of a ~~handicapping-condition~~ disability, unless the curriculum provided by such school and the contract has been approved in advance by the superintendent of public instruction. The contract must provide that such school district agrees to pay to the in-state public school as part of the cost of educating such student an amount for the school year equal to two and one-half times the state average per-pupil elementary or high school cost, depending on whether the enrollment would be in a grade or high school department; provided, that such payment may not exceed the actual per-pupil cost incurred by such in-state public school. The school district's liability must be reduced proportionately if the student attends the in-state public school for less than an entire year. The superintendent of public instruction, upon notification by the admitting district and upon verification by the superintendent that tuition payments are due the admitting district and are unpaid, shall withhold all payments from the state for foundation aid to the district of residence until the tuition due has been paid. The transportation must be furnished as provided by rules of the department of public instruction. The remainder of the actual cost of educating the ~~handicapped~~ student with disabilities not covered by other payments or credits must be paid from funds provided by the legislative assembly for such purpose.

SECTION 8. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-06.2 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-06.2. Cost of special education - Liability of school district. If allowable costs for special education and related services for an ~~exceptional~~ a child with disabilities in a special education program, as determined by the superintendent of public instruction, exceed the reimbursement provided by the state, the school district is liable to pay for each such student an amount over the state reimbursement up to a maximum each school year of two and one-half times the state average per-pupil elementary or high school cost, depending on whether the enrollment would be in a grade or high school department. The two and one-half times amount includes the amount the school district is required to pay in section 15-59-06. The state is liable for one hundred percent of the remainder of the cost of education and related services for each such ~~handicapped~~ student with disabilities.

SECTION 9. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-07 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-07. Contracts for ~~handicapped~~ children with disabilities to attend private or out-of-state public schools. If any school district in this state has any ~~handicapped~~ elementary or high school student with disabilities who in the opinion of a qualified psychologist, a medical doctor, and the district superintendent is unable to attend the public schools in the district because of a physical or mental ~~handicap~~ disability or because of a learning disability, such school district shall contract with any accredited private nonsectarian nonprofit corporation within or without the state or an out-of-state public school which has proper facilities for the education of such student, if there are no public schools in the state with the necessary facilities which will accept such student. No school district shall enter into a contract with any private nonsectarian nonprofit corporation or out-of-state public school for the education of any student having a physical ~~handicap~~ or learning disability, unless the curriculum provided by such school and the contract has been approved in advance by the superintendent of public instruction. The contract ~~shall~~ must provide that such school district agrees to pay to the private nonsectarian nonprofit corporation or the out-of-state public school as part of the cost of educating such student an amount for the school year equal to two and one-half times the state average per-pupil elementary or high school cost, depending on whether the enrollment would be in a grade or high school department; provided, that such payment ~~shall~~ may not exceed the actual per-pupil cost incurred by such private nonsectarian nonprofit corporation or out-of-state public school. The transportation ~~shall~~ must be furnished and reimbursed as provided by rules and ~~regulations~~ of the department of public instruction. The rules ~~and regulations~~ of the department of public instruction ~~shall~~ have the force and effect of law on other state agencies and public school districts. The school district of which the applicant is a resident ~~shall~~ must be reimbursed by the state special education fund for not more than the number of round trips home per year provided for in the individualized education program at a rate not to exceed that paid state officials. The remainder of the actual cost of educating the ~~handicapped~~ student with disabilities not covered by other payments or credits ~~shall~~ must be paid from funds appropriated by the legislative assembly for special education notwithstanding limitations cited in section 15-59-06. The district of residence ~~shall be~~ is entitled to the per-pupil foundation payment. The reimbursement herein provided to the contracting district from the state special education funds ~~shall be~~ is in lieu of any other foundation aid to which the district might otherwise be entitled.

SECTION 10. AMENDMENT. Section 15-59-07.2 of the 1991 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

15-59-07.2. Reimbursement by the superintendent of public instruction for special education boarding care costs. The superintendent of public instruction, within the limits of legislative appropriations, shall reimburse local school districts for eighty percent of the costs of room and board paid on behalf of ~~handicapped children with disabilities~~ placed in facilities outside their school district of residence for special education services not available within their school district of residence. Reimbursements ~~shall~~ must be made regardless of whether the child has been placed in a facility within the state or outside the state. Any special education room and board costs in excess of those payments made by the superintendent of public instruction are the responsibility of the local school district. The placement of ~~handicapped children with disabilities~~ in public or private facilities will be made by school districts. The parent or guardian of a child with disabilities or the adult with disabilities is encouraged to submit a written request to the appropriate school administrator or director of special education regarding the relief sought prior to a proceeding. In any administrative or judicial proceeding to enforce that right, the court may, in its discretion, award reasonable attorneys' fees and costs to a parent, guardian, or ~~handicapped adult with disabilities who prevails in that proceeding.
