SAANICH COMMISSION REORGANIZES POLICE DEPARTMENT

MEN ON SURFACE OF EARTH AND IN AEROPLANES WILL OBSERVE ECLIPSE OF THE SUN

Astronomers of University of Toronto Have Set Up Delicate Instruments at Long's Corners, Near Hamilton, Ontario, to Make Records Next Saturday Morning; Aviators Will Carry Instruments Up From Mitchel Field, New York; Observer Will Make Use of Radio.

Long's Corners, Ont., Jan. 21. (Canadian Press)—Astronomers have calculated to the second just when the moon will appear to start swallowing up the sun during the eclipse of night which will happen in Ontario and the Northeastern States on Saturday morning next and they know to within a mile or so just what territory will fall within the shadow.

Although the gyrations of the moon are quite well defined, there are certain wobbles which are not quite understood and this is why the scientists leave themselves a leeway of a second here and a mile there in prophesying just when and where the face of the earth will be darkened after dawn on January 24.

The instruments which have been set up here by Professor C. A. Chant and Professor R. K. Young of the University of Toronto will record to the one-hundredth part of a second the time when the moon's rays and the sun's rays are in a straight line between the sun's rays and the earth. They will measure with an accuracy of one part in 10,000 the number of seconds the moon's rays are in a straight line between the sun's rays and the earth. They will measure with an accuracy of one part in 10,000 the number of seconds the moon's rays are in a straight line between the sun's rays and the earth.

Mitchel Field, N.Y., Jan. 21.—Elaborate plans were completed by the Air Service of the United States Army to-day for recording the phenomena of the sun's eclipse Saturday.

Twelve aeroplanes and about fifty men with special cameras and observation instruments will take part in the attempt which Major William N. Hensley, commandant, said was likely to be the most important scientific data.

The big DH-4 planes are equipped to ascend 15,000 feet, but post officers said they could make better than three miles if necessary. Major Hensley will radiocast his observations from his plane to station WJZ, which will re-radiocast them.

In the event that Saturday's dawn is unfavorable for the hour of the eclipse, Major Hensley will go up with the sunrise in a plane especially equipped for flying through fog. Another plane will be equipped with a spectroscopic camera which will be carried into its component parts, while another plane will carry a photometer, with which an attempt will be made to measure the strength of the light of the corona. Other observers will carry official timekeepers charged with recording the exact beginning and ending of the various phenomena. Stags and planets near the sun will be marked by other observers. In the event of fair weather, another set of observers will mark the action of the fitting shadows cast by the moon, known to astronomers as "jumping" shadows, during the course of the eclipse.

Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 21.—To give their employees an opportunity to see the solar eclipse next Saturday morning, all the large stores here have decided not to open for business until 9:30 a.m.

GROWERS OF FRUIT MEET IN PENTICTON

2,000 in Attendance; Victoria Among Districts Leading in Membership Showing

Saanich Grower Urged Plan of Grading Strawberries Be Adopted

Penticton, B.C., Jan. 21.—The more than 2,000 members of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association in convention here have established a membership record of over half the possible membership of all fruit growers in the Province. A Victoria and Saanich Arm are tied with 743 members each for leadership in districts. Eight districts have surpassed this year all previous membership records.

Reeve J. Kirkpatrick, in his welcome at the opening session yesterday, expressed the belief that the Oliver irrigation area would soon be one of the leading fruit producing districts of British Columbia.

President L. E. Taylor stressed the extension of the tomato growing in-

STUDIES NEW MINE PLANS IN ONTARIO; HON. C. McCREA

Toronto, Jan. 21.—Investigation of the deep mining methods in South Africa because the mines of Northern Ontario are approaching a parallel period of development is the intention of the Ontario Government, it was stated to-day by Hon. Charles McCREA, Minister of Mines.

MOTORMEN WILL DRIVE CAREFULLY DURING ECLIPSE

Toronto, Jan. 21.—Holding that to halt the street car service in Toronto during the total eclipse of the sun next Saturday morning would seriously interfere with business, the Transportation Commission has decided the cars will be operated as usual. Instructions, however, will be issued to all motormen to take extra precautions while the streets are in darkness.

NEW SCHEME FOR JANET SMITH CASE IS NOW SUGGESTED

Point Grey Police Commission May Engage Detective Agency

Vancouver, Jan. 21.—Immediate appointment of a special investigator to track down the murderer of Janet K. Smith, the Shaughnessy Heights nursemaid found shot through the head in the basement of the home in which she was working, on July 26 last year, is stated to be among the first acts contemplated by the newly-elected Police Commission of Point Grey.

Before the actual appointment is made, it is understood the Police Commission will await until a definite pronouncement on the result of the Government's investigation is made by the Attorney-General, but if this is not forthcoming within a reasonable time the new investigation will be launched.

Officials of the Scottish societies of Vancouver working on the case hold out hopes for definite action shortly, and are stated to be well satisfied with the progress made by M. B. Jackson, K.C., the special investigator appointed by the Government.

The first meeting of the Police Commission will be held to-morrow, and the situation regarding Constable James Green, who was the principal police witness at the first inquiry into the death of Janet Smith, will be reviewed. Constable Green was suspended after the second inquiry, but was subsequently reinstated by the commission then in office.

In the event of the special appointment being made, application will be made for all the evidence in the possession of the Attorney-General, it is stated.

ELEVATOR CONTRACT

Vancouver, Jan. 21.—The initial contract for the Prince Rupert grain elevator was awarded to-day when the tender of the Northern Construction Company of Vancouver for the foundation work was accepted, according to an Ottawa message. The contract figure is $225,000.

FORGERIES CONFESSED

New York, Jan. 21.—Moe Turman, son of a Chicago rabbi, president of "Young Judea" in this city and prominent in Brooklyn social circles, was reported by authorities to-day to have confessed to forging total value of $1,200,000 in the business of the Equity Finance and Service Company, of which he was managing director.

U.S. SENATE URGES NATIONS TO DISCUSS LESSER ARMAMENTS

Washington, Jan. 21.—Without discussion or a record vote, the Senate to-day accepted an amendment to the naval bill requesting President Coolidge to call another arms conference.

It had been indicated quite recently in administration quarters that President Coolidge did not consider the time ripe for such a conference and administration Senators had been expected to oppose the King amendment as untimely.

They made no immediate explanation of their failure to do so, nor was any light thrown on the developments from the White House or State Department.

EXPECTS B.C. TO LEAD WEST IN BUILDING

Activity Will Cover All Lines of Construction Work

Projects of Importance Will Give Employment to Many

Stating that housing is still short of requirements and construction along these lines will no doubt be carried on actively in the West during the year, John Sweeting, industrial agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in a report on the industrial outlook in Western Canada received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, states that British Columbia will possibly show the greatest activity.

Industrial projects in the West, he says, that have been under review for some time, the past two years, which appear likely to come to actual completion this year will aggregate a sum sufficient to materially increase the building programme throughout the continent in the months. They are projects of importance that will give employment to many people, mean a large expenditure of money and an increase in tonnage to the railways.

At the Pacific Coast large industrial plants are not yet reported, but extensive building operations in departmental stores and other works of similar nature are on the programme for actual commencement. Roads and bridge construction is due for a heavy season as contracts let and under consideration cover large expenditures. Prospects appear to be reasonable on which to calculate a definite upward trend in western construction during 1925.

"It may be said that we are entering the new year in the West with a very promising outlook in new business, extensions of trade and prospectively larger immigration. If predictions materialize, and there is good reason for so thinking, 1925 should be a year of very definite progress," Mr. Sweeting concludes.

HAIR SEALS ROB FISHERMEN'S NETS

New Westminster, Jan. 21.—Hair seals are playing havoc with the catches of steelhead salmon in the Fraser River, fishermen report. The marauders take the salmon bodily out of the nets.

1,006 CONGREGATIONS OF PRESBYTERIANS STATED VIEWS ON NEW UNION PLAN

Toronto, Jan. 21.—More than 1,000 Presbyterian congregations in Canada have voted on church union. Results tabulated by the Church Union Bureau of Information show that up to noon to-day 791 congregations had voted to enter the United Church of Canada and 215 had voted non-concurrence.

Summarized by provinces the votes are: British Columbia for union 32; against 7. Alberta for union 53; against 8. Saskatchewan for union 315; against 21. Ontario for union 260; against 162. Quebec for union 16; against 16. Nova Scotia for union 38; against 16. Prince Edward Island for union 14; against 4. Total for union 791; against 215.

THE VOTE IN ONTARIO

Owen Sound, Ont., Jan. 21.—An unusual feature of the voting on church union was brought to light when the votes for and against entering the United Church of Canada were counted at the Presbyterian Church in Priceville, Ontario, there were sixty votes for and sixty against. It is believed Priceville is the first centre in Canada to report a tie vote. The church officials are arranging for another vote to be taken. A large number of the church members did not vote.

FORMER MEMBER OF B.C. LEGISLATURE DIES AT MERRITT

J. R. Jackson, formerly member of the Provincial Legislature for Greenwood and one of the best known men in the boundary country, died suddenly in Merritt last night. News of Mr. Jackson's death reached here in a telegram to his friend, Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance. Mr. Jackson's death followed that of his brother, a well known Merritt merchant, who succumbed last Friday.

ARRESTS AT INDORE, INDIA ARE MADE AS RESULT OF MURDER

Seven Officials and Chauffeur Are Held Following Killing of Abdul Baula

London, Jan. 21.—Seven officials have been arrested at Indore, India, including the aide-de-camp of the Maharajah of Indore, in connection with the affair in Bombay a week ago which resulted in a death of Abdul Baula, a wealthy merchant, says an agency dispatch from Bombay. The Maharajah's chauffeur was also taken into custody.

Reuter's Bombay correspondent says the eight persons arrested include two step-uncles and a stepparent of Mumtaz Begum, the dancing girl, who was accompanying Baula at the time of the shooting and who was wounded.

Meanwhile Mumtaz, who was the favorite dancing girl of the Maharajah, is lying in a hospital, carefully guarded. Her mother asked that special protection be given her in the belief the attack was part of a widespread plot.

The correspondent adds that the situation has caused great excitement and that the authorities are following every clue.

Abdul Kadir Baula was shot and killed January 13 while motoring with his manager, an Englishman named Mathews, and a Muslim woman later identified as Mumtaz Begum, a dancing girl. When the attack was staged, allegedly by a Pathan gang, four British officers nearly rushed to the rescue and succeeded in capturing one of the assailants. Mumtaz and Mathews were wounded and removed to a hospital.

Dispatches received by London newspapers from their correspondents in India have indicated a belief on the part of the police that highly placed persons in the state of Indore were connected with the attempted kidnapping of the girl.

POLICE FORCE OF SAANICH IS DISMISSED

Entire Personnel of Force Removed From Office by New Police Commission

Chief Brogan Vacates Post Saturday; Dismissed Men May be Re-engaged

The entire personnel of the Saanich police force has been served with notices of dismissal by the Saanich Police Commission, which held its first session of the year at the Royal Oak Municipal Hall last night.

Chief Peter Brogan was notified that his services would end on Saturday, January 24, in lieu of notice the board ordering that he be paid his salary for February. Sgt. A. Rankin, Constable R. S. Brown and Constable T. Hastings were informed that their dismissals would be effective from February 1st unless they were accepted for re-engagement under the re-organization plans about to be put into effect.

The commission was informed that a petition for consideration for Sergeant Rankin is being widely signed and will be presented at the next session of the commission, to be held early in February.

Applications sought for places on the re-organized force and any of the discharged officers who make application will receive consideration, the commission decided. These applications must be made to the commission not later than February 7. The new force will consist of chief of police and three constables.

The estimates for 1925 were considered and will include an appropriation for a new motor cycle to replace that used for some years by Constable Hastings.

Reeve Robert Macnicol, chairman of the commission, welcomed the new commissioner, T. K. Harrop, with a forecast of harmony during the coming year. Remarks being concurred in by Commissioner King.

MEMORY OF LENINE HONORED BY SOVIETS

Trotsky's Fall Coincides With First Anniversary of Death of His Leader

Moscow, Jan. 21.—All Soviet Russia was in mourning to-day, the first anniversary of the death of Nikolai Lenin, whose memory among the Communists is venerated as that of the founder of the Soviet regime.

Official Soviet buildings were ordered draped with red flags, fringed with crepe and all stores, theatres and restaurants were directed to remain closed. The sale of liquor was forbidden.

In the towns and villages factory work and traffic ceased for five minutes as a mark of respect. The Soviet newspapers printed long articles detailing Lenin's life and achievements, and millions of pamphlets containing his writings were circulated among the masses.

BANDS OF THIEVES PREY ON BROKERS IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Jan. 21.—Several bands of thieves headed by a Fagin are preying on Wall Street banking and brokerage houses, and at least $4,000,000 worth of stolen securities is in the hands of New York's underworld, said Alfred Tyrrell, adjuster for a large surety company, to-day. He said the company had offered a $100,000 reward for the return of $1,000,000 worth of stolen bonds.

Youths are placed as messengers in the stock exchanges and banks through forged references furnished by this Fagin," said Tyrrell.

B. C. HOUSE EXPECTED TO PASS PROVINCIAL LAWS TO REPLACE THE LEMIEUX ACT

Attorney-General of Alberta Says Bill May Be Passed at Next Session of Legislature of That Province; Federal Government Considering British Privy Council's Disallowance of Act Before Announcing Course.

That the Legislature of British Columbia will act at its next session to bring into effect legislation providing for arbitration in industrial disputes, following the decision of the Privy Council in London scrapping the Federal Lemieux Act is the general expectation among those close to the government here.

The Privy Council's decision apparently leaves it to the Canadian provinces to pass their own industrial disputes legislation, members of the Government explained to-day. That the passage of such legislation will be proposed in the Legislature at its next session is regarded as certain. If the Government does not father an act along these lines, Labor members are sure to introduce the necessary legislation and attempt to force its adoption.

"What the attitude of the Government will be of course cannot be forecast until we have seen a full text of the Privy Council's judgment," Premier Oliver explained when questioned about the matter. He mentioned that the duty of passing legislation governing industrial disputes is now put upon the provinces, the right of the Federal Government to pass laws of this kind having been disallowed.

Hon. A. M. Manson, Minister of Labor, reiterated Premier's statement, but added that the difficulty created by the Privy Council's decision might be overcome by legislation of the British North America Act.

The Provincial authorities will secure copies of the Privy Council's decision as soon as possible and decide their attitude on the question later.

CONCESSIONS IN SIBERIA TO BE GIVEN JAPANESE

Oil and Coal Development Provided For in Treaty Just Signed by Delegates

Treaty of Commerce With Soviet is to be Arranged Soon by Tokio

Peking, Jan. 21.—The treaty between Japan and Russia providing for resumption of diplomatic relations, which was signed here at midnight, consists of seven articles.

Among these is Soviet recognition of the validity of the Portsmouth Treaty, but it is understood Russia does not assume responsibility for the completion of the provisions of the treaty.

All other treaties concluded prior to 1917 will be revised or abolished at a conference to be held shortly. Both Russia and Japan promise to restrain their nationals from acts likely to endanger the order and security of the other country, and also promise to restrain persons in governmental service or receiving governmental financial assistance from such acts.

Neither party will permit in its territory organizations pretending to be the government of any part of the territories of the other party, or aliens carrying out activities for such organizations.

The Soviet agrees to give coal and oil concessions to approved Japanese on advantageous terms for a period of forty or forty-five years, and the right to exploit oil fields.

The Soviet royalties in the case of coal will amount to eight per cent, and in the case of oil from five to fifteen per cent, with forty-five per cent, where gushers are brought in. Materials required for such enterprises will be admitted free of duty.

The Soviet representatives express sincere regret for the massacre of Japanese at Nikolaievsk in 1920. The Allies have received in separate reports from the members of the Military Control Mission nearly all elements expected in the final report on the military situation in Germany, and will probably deal with the question decisively soon through the agency of the Council of Ambassadors.

REPORTS WERE GIVEN The contention of the Allies, based on preliminary reports from the Control Mission, that Germany had by no means completed compliance with the disarmament clauses of the Versailles Treaty, was set forth in the previous note to Germany as the reason why the Cologne area could not be evacuated January 10, as provided for by the terms of the Versailles Treaty, contingent upon Germany's fulfillment of the treaty's requirements in other respects.

GERMANY TO RECEIVE NOTE FROM ALLIES

Berlin's Failure to Observe Disarmament Agreement to be Pointed Out

Paris, Jan. 21.—The Allies have decided to reply to the recent German note of protest against the continued occupation of the Cologne bridgehead. The exchange of views which have been going on between the chancelleries have resulted in an approach to an agreement as to the text of the reply, which it is understood will go more into details regarding the cases of violation of the treaty disarmament clauses than the preceding note, but in a rather softer tone.

NEW UNEMPLOYMENT SOLUTION OFFERED

T. Moore Suggests Inducements to Canadian City Dwellers to Take Farms

Montreal, Jan. 21.—Unemployment insurance, offering by the Government of the same privileges for co-ordination of Canadian lands to Canadian city dwellers who desire to go back on the land on the same basis as to immigrants arriving from other countries, co-ordination of seasonal activities and stabilization of purchasing power and the carrying out of municipal and Government works over a series of years were among the suggestions to assist in solving the unemployment problem put forward by Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, in an address here yesterday.

RESTRICTIONS SUGGESTED
Some thought the solution of unemployment was to flood the country with population from Great Britain, he said. It was thought to solve the problem by taking people out of the country. To his mind, both were wrong. To-day there were thousands of unemployed men in Canada. If they could find employment for these, they would be doing more good for the country than by bringing double the number of persons into the country. This was where labor interposed with restrictions on immigration. Labor had no desire to restrict free movement of peoples, but it realized the result of immigration periods of unemployment was to reduce the standard of living, and that in its turn created more unemployment.

Distribution of population as a means of alleviating unemployment was dealt with, Mr. Moore declaring large numbers of city residents would gladly return to the land, given assistance to do so.

Evidence Destroyed By Two Accused Men

Yarmouth, N.S., Jan. 21.—When Barnley B. Smith and Alex. Ross, alias Fraser, boarded the steamship Prince Arthur at Boston yesterday, following their unsuccessful fight against extradition on a charge of having stolen two fur coats and two Victory Bonds valued at $2,000 from the store of Alex. Ross in Oxford, N.S., they were somewhat scantily clad to withstand the rigors of a winter's night at sea, and the two police officers accompanying them, Provincial Constable Spruill and Chief of Police Thompson of Oxford, being in a considerate frame of mind, handed over to them "Exhibit A" in the form of the two stolen overcoats. On the arrival of the boat here yesterday it was discovered the evidence had been destroyed. The two overcoats, it was explained, had been pushed through a porthole into the sea.

The Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, known also as the Lemieux Act, has been in effect since 1907, and has gradually been accepted as a fair court by all parties. Up to 1919, the Dominion Trades and Labor Council, in annual meetings, asked for its repeal. In 1919, at the annual meeting at Windsor, the Dominion Trades and Labor Council accepted the principle and since then has sought amendment and not repeal.

proposal of the United States for a fifteen-year term limitation upon opium smoking in the Far East came up for consideration, declared the situation critical, and that he hoped what he had to say would be considered calmly and as being necessitated by his stern sense of duty.

Lord Cecil said he recognized the deep sincerity of the United States and her anxiety to solve the opium problem. He assured the delegates he had never joined in the jibes sometimes levelled at Americans. He had recently visited the United States and had been received with the utmost kindness everywhere.

"I should be both stupid and ungrateful if I did not recognize to the full the splendid qualities of the American people," he continued, "and that their anxiety to do good is second to that of no other nation. If therefore I indulge in some criticism it is without intention to hurt the sensibilities of the United States Government or people."

MANAGEMENT OF ALBERTA FAIR REPORTS PROGRESS

Nanaimo Motors Acquires New Premises For Reconstruction
Annual Meeting of West Coast Hospital is Held

Special to The Times
Alberta, Jan. 20.—The annual meeting of the Alberta Agricultural and Industrial Association was held in the Court House on Saturday afternoon, when the reports of the retiring officers were read, and showed the association to be in very good shape considering the very adverse circumstances under which they labored during the past year. In the first place, the necessity of building a new cattle shed, as the old one had blown down during a heavy storm of the previous winter. This was built very largely by volunteer help, but in spite of that it required a cash outlay of considerably over $100 for material. These were all considerably lower than usual, and it was found necessary to run a series of whist drives to raise funds to pay off the prize money. These were all successful and enabled the association to pay 100 per cent and leave a small balance of $15.93 in the treasury.

The following officers were then elected for the current year: Hon. president—A. W. Neill, M.P., and Mayor R. J. Burde, M.P.P. patrons—Mayor L. A. Hanna (Alberta), Mayor R. J. Burde (Port Alberni), president—R. J. Hotchkiss (re-elected); vice-president—G. N. Rich; secretary—W. H. H. Prescot; directors—Messrs. G. Forrest, W. N. Strick, T. Atkinson, W. J. Stone and E. L. Gill and Messrs. T. Newell, R. Milligan, C. P. Spratt, W. T. Thomson, T. Goodall, J. Robinson and W. N. Strick.

The meeting then adjourned, after the usual discussion of how best to improve the fair.

Mr. Sidney Bell, who has been running a general store in the old Alberni Trading Company's building for the past eighteen months, has left for Central B.C., where he will engage in similar business.

The first real estate deal of any note to take place here for some time took place last week, when the Nanaimo Motors Company purchased the Alberni Trading Stores from R. P. Rihet and Company, and they have the same remodelled and opened up as a garage. The work will be rushed to completion as soon as possible, as their lease on the premises occupied by them at present expires on March 1. The deal was made through James R. Motion, the local real estate agent.

Alderman E. M. Whyte is confined to his home with an attack of influenza, but is making satisfactory progress and expects to be about again in a few days.

The annual meeting of the subscribers of the West Coast General Hospital was held yesterday afternoon in the Cohn Hotel, Alberni, with the president, F. H. Strick, in the chair, and a goodly number present.

The annual report of the financial standing of the institution is submitted by the secretary-treasurer, G. Pearce, showed it to be in a very healthy state, there being a balance on hand at January 1, 1925, of $3,109.81, made up as follows: current account, $1,669.81, and $1,500 in the savings bank. The following were elected to the board of management: Messrs. W. H. H. Prescot and G. Pearce, re-elected, and A. McDonald, who takes the place of R. H. Woods, retired. Those elected at this meeting will serve for three years.

JERSEY BREEDERS MEET

Special to The Times
Metchosin, Jan. 20.—The annual meeting of the Metchosin Jersey Breeders' Association was held on Saturday in the Metchosin Hall, the president, Gavin F. Wier in the chair. The financial report showed the association to be in good standing, and all reports considered satisfactory. The government bull, "Kiwasi Roxana Oxford," was obtained last Spring, and had given satisfaction. Record of dam was 10,500 pounds milk, 542 pounds butter fat. Record of dam of sire 10,000.

WOMAN LOST LIFE
Bridgburg, Ont., Jan. 21.—Mrs. John Totten, seventy, was so severely burned Monday when her clothing caught fire from a kitchen stove that she expired in a few minutes.

568 pounds milk, 564 pounds butter fat.
Gavin F. Wier was re-elected president and caretaker. H. Mitchell, vice-president; W. Swainson and J. M. Wright, directors; C. G. Field, secretary-treasurer.

TWO VESTRY MEETINGS HELD IN METCHOSIN PARISHES

(Special to The Times)

Metchosin, Jan. 20.—The annual vestry meeting in connection with St. Mary's Church, Metchosin, was held at the vicarage on Monday, January 19, about thirty members being present. The secretary, H. G. Pierce, read the minutes of the previous annual meeting which were duly adopted. The financial report for the year was presented by the people's warden, F. F. Prudd. This report showed all synod assessments and apportionments paid in full for 1924 and missionary apportionments. A total of $1,000.00 in the form of dollars was sent to the "Save the Children" Fund. It was gratifying to receive the report of the warden that the last note had been paid on the vicarage during the year, and that it was now free from debt. A resolution was moved by H. G. Pierce and seconded by a letter by several members of the church committee of 1921—when the vicarage was built, thanking them for making the above result possible. Also to the "William Head Mission" for its contribution of $54 towards the last note. The secretary-treasurer of the Metchosin diocesan and Dominion pledges met in all and $100 raised for local needs.

The meeting then elected officers for the ensuing year: Vicar's warden, R. B. Gibbs; people's warden, F. F. Prudd; church committee, Messrs. H. G. Pierce, F. A. (Cald) Osborn, H. Higgs, Dr. C. P. Brown; Messdames J. Kising, A. E. Taylor, J. D. Reid, F. A. Pearce, F. A. (Cald) Osborn, and Miss E. Elythe; delegates to synod, Messrs. R. B. Gibbs and H. G. Pierce, with F. F. Prudd as alternate; delegates to diocesan conference, Mrs. F. Comley, Miss F. L. Blythe and Mrs. (Col.) Osborn.

The annual meeting of the William Head Mission, which is part of the parish of St. Mary's Metchosin, was held on Friday, January 16, at William Head. The people's warden, W. Williamson, reported a small balance in hand after paying all apportionments and assessments in full. Also $54 had been sent to the vicarage for the Diocesan Mission Fund. Open offerings for the year amounted to $108.55; amount to be sent to the vicarage amounted to $128.55; proceeds of garden party amounted to $102.

An interesting report was presented by the warden of the Sunday school, which showed a wide range of interest as follows: sent to Rev. Allan Greene for compass for mission boat, $4; sent to missionary society of the Canadian Church, $10; sent to Rev. F. Ford, Leper Hospital, Kangra, India, $12; sent to the vicarage for the vicar's tree on mission boat, $10; sent to Sunday School literature, $8. The meeting then elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Warden, Messrs. W. Hawkins and W. Williamson. Delegates to synod, W. Williamson; alternative, Dr. G. Brown. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to Mrs. Cox for her work at the organ; also to the vicar for his work during the past year.

New York, Jan. 21.—Rose Mullany is one of Broadway's leading female wis. She originated that widely used bit of slang, "Be yourself!" Her latest joke is about a bootlegger who delivered a bottle of wet goods to a customer, guaranteeing it to be "spray stuff." "What war?" asked the customer. "Tong war," came back the bootlegger without a moment's hesitation.

INDIA THROUGH CANADIAN EYES PRESENTS DIFFERENT VISION TO ANTICIPATION OF LIFETIME

By A. C. Cummings, Special Correspondent of The Times.

The Times begins to-day a series, which will continue twice weekly, by an experienced correspondent, to point out some of the mysteries and mysticism of India, as observed through the recent tour of Mr. Cummings. He will in subsequent numbers examine the future of British rule in India—Is the country a potential volcano?—What the East Indians want.

First of Series

Years ago when I was a telegraphic editor on a Canadian daily newspaper, I now and then got a cable message from India. Usually it detailed the misdoings of the Asizes or Aswas on the Northwest frontier, gave the probable amount of the season's tea crop, or announced the death of whatever Akhound of Swat who happened to choose that moment to be gathered to his fathers. Naturally, no one attached any importance to it and it was the first of the news to disappear from the later editions when space was wanted. India was a distant, vague sort of place to me as to nearly all other Canadians in those days; and if ignorance of it was water I should have been Niagara!

A PERSONAL VIEWPOINT

Now I have seen India—that is, I have seen a good bit of it, for to see it all would take as many years as I have had months to spend on the undertaking. But I have seen it in a way that altogether satisfies myself. I have seen it, not as the British official or the tourist sees it, not as the "distinguished visitor" sees it, nor even as the British Member of Parliament. I have seen it as a second-class passenger, staying at small hotels and railway rest-houses, talking to the natives wherever I could make them understand me, avoiding like poison the tourist routes and the "sights" of India; and what it stood for, I sought to get at its meaning—if it had a meaning—and now I am trying to tell the reader what I discovered.

It is no an easy task. It is like trying to tell the history of Christianity in a newspaper column or explaining Einstein's theories in a half-hour talk. I cannot do either and so I will not attempt to wrest the heart out of India's mystery in these articles. Yet I hope to be able, at least, to impart something of the country's mind and soul and that is what matters. Some day India will be a self-governing Dominion of the British Commonwealth and then the other Dominions will have to reckon with her. The best preliminary to that reckoning will be understanding and sympathy if that is possible.

WHAT IS INDIA?

What is India? It is a parent of human society unparalleled in the world. It is a continent of peoples, languages, religions, laws, social and intellectual activities, all intermingled, contrasted or in violent opposition. Nothing that you can say of one part of the vast structure but may be contradicted by some other part. In India there is not one civilization but a dozen, and they do not lie in strata like rocks, but overlap in the most amazing ways. These civilizations are of every age known to history and they exist side by side, each living its own life and proliferating in its own fashion.

Yet for all its diversity India is fundamentally a land like other lands. Life in it is what life has been for the human race since it abandoned the nomadic habits of tens of thousands of years, and settled down to grow rice and wheat for its daily food, to hunt and fish, to raise families, to suffer, to love, to face the mysteries of birth and death, to men and women, to suffer, to love, to other men because they worship strange gods or adopt strange customs. At the bottom, in all of them, there is the same humanity, and even India, with all its diversity, one realizes this at once.

A LAND OF VILLAGES

It is dawn in one of the thousand little villages in which nine-tenths of the population of India lives to-day as it has lived for centuries. The sun is not yet up, but a flaming intensity that in a few minutes makes iron too hot to touch. The cattle sleep in the dust of the village street, small beasts with a limp, and the shoulders over which the yoke of the plough or of the covered cart is placed, rise and walk away. A few dogs bark; the villagers awake and come out of their little mud-built homes thatched with leaves, and go to the fields for sowing time or harvest. Their brown bodies covered usually only with a loin-cloth, show up like bronze statues walking. A moment spent at the village shrine to ask whatever deity guards the village for his favor during the day, and they set to work. The women get food ready, take the washing to the river or pool and beat the dirt out upon flat stones at the edges. The water-buffaloes, if the village boasts of any, wallow in the mud with the children all naked as the day they were born. If it is in the rice-growing lands of Southern India the men lift water from the wells by means of a long pole fixed like a see-saw, and with a earthen bucket going down to the water, which is poured into banked up patches of ground until the whole district seems to be a series of pools stretching to the horizon. It is into these pools that the villagers cast their seed, and, in water days at a time, tend the growing plants on which their food supply depends.

In the evening when the quick darkness of the tropics comes, the workers return; the lights soon die out in the huts, for oil is expensive and Indian villagers are incredibly poor, and when the stars come out in the blue-black sky, everyone is asleep, tired out with the labors of the day.

During the hot season in May and June, before the welcome rains waken the land from its stupor of heat, the villagers have nothing to do for the earth is dried up by the blazing fervor of the sun and only at night with the coming of a breeze from the parched plains, does life become at all possible. This is the season that the peasant gives up to religious festi-

AN EFFECTIVE LAW

THE DECLARATION OF the judicial committee of the Privy Council that the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act is unconstitutional because it invades the rights of the provinces in certain particulars has created a sensation throughout the Dominion.

It was introduced in the House of Commons and piloted through the various stages in 1907 by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, then Minister of Labor, but actually it was the handiwork of Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, then deputy head of Mr. Lemieux's department.

The chief provisions of the Act are generally known, especially the one which prohibits a strike or lock-out before an investigation is held by a board appointed by the Minister of Labor on the application of one of the parties to a dispute.

According to the judicial committee of the Privy Council the Act is unconstitutional because in certain aspects it is an infringement of rights exclusively assigned to the Provinces by the British North America Act.

VICTORIA DAY

MAYOR PENDRAY should be assured of the assistance of our citizens in his efforts to make the Victoria Day celebration this year an event which will eclipse all those that have gone before and add new laurels to Victoria's reputation as one of the most attractive resorts on the Pacific Coast.

His Worship's idea is a week's festival. Well and good. It should be borne in mind, however, that it will require a very ambitious programme to provide a new interest for each day.

What should be guarded against is a programme drawn out over six or seven days which has not enough action for three. Better fill three or four days to the brim than stretch a list of attractions over a week.

WORDS OR ACTIONS

CHANCELLOR LUTHER's first statement in the German Reichstag is at least a conciliatory gesture to the Allied nations and a courageous if veiled challenge to the disturbing elements—not excepting Luther's actual and potential supporters—in present day German political life.

his address will not mean a very great deal until the Government which he has chosen to lead gives expression to its will by directing the general public to support as far as possible the principles which form the substance of the programme he announces.

Chancellor Luther has made a start which he can follow up if he has any control over his Government. The political combination of the Reichstag contains a sufficient number of voting members to support a Cabinet lead in respect of the two principles which conform to his now announced policy.

WANT MORE HELP

ALTHOUGH OFTEN finding it difficult to obtain the sort of sympathy that helps the local branch of the Tuberculous Veterans' Association of Canada is making efforts to bring home to the people of this neighborhood what they should do in their own interest and what they could do to assist those who are already marked down by the white plague.

In order to educate the general public to a fuller appreciation of the steps which have been made to prevent and treat tuberculosis in Canada, what to do to prevent a recurrence of the malady when it has once been arrested, this organization has arranged for Dr. A. S. Lamb, Medical Health Officer for British Columbia, to address a public meeting to-morrow evening in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

The subject is a vital one. Tuberculosis takes off too many British Columbian citizens every year. A large percentage of them might have recovered if they could have been given proper treatment in time.

TRADE FIGURES

CANADA'S EXPORT trade figures for the year 1924 must be very disconcerting to those people who seem to imagine that the country is on its way to the bow-wows. They furnish a strange but striking contrast to the official view of Canadian conditions as expressed by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and likewise answer all The Montreal Star's doleful inquiries about the ultimate destiny of the country if "something is not done about it" right away.

Some public men, quite a number of important newspapers, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and the propaganda-manufacturing politician declare that unemployment has increased in Canada since the present Government took office at Ottawa because its tariff policy has been responsible for the closing down of a large number of industrial establishments which are supposed to have suffered through the competition of freer trade.

Mr. Meighen once said that he had a list of over one thousand of such establishments which had put up their shutters through no other reason than this. When he was asked to produce it he found it inconvenient to do so.

faction in the annual trade returns than the Leader of the Opposition could give them. The figures for 1924 will likewise be taken by the majority to mean that there is decidedly nothing wrong with the country as long as it continues to sell more and buy less.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON "HATS"

SOMEBODY has discovered that the character of a person can be determined by the tilt of his hat.

If it is tipped over the left eye it indicates incipient imbecility, and a tilt over the right eye means that one is the very devil of a fellow.

Personally, in a cap I feel like a working man, in a stiff derby I am a groom, and in a soft hat, which is called a Homburg, might be mistaken for a burglar or a detective.

Certain it is that at present a man does not feel well dressed unless he has a hat on of some kind. It is also certain that the removing of the hat and uncovering of the head is a gesture of respect that most women insist upon.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Science is organized knowledge. Every unpunished delinquency has a family of delinquencies. Mental power cannot be had from ill-fed brains.

unity with union. The relationship among His followers for which Lord prayed was the kind of relationship that subsists between the three persons of the Godhead—all distinct, with distinct functions and glorified, yet all enjoying a unity in glory, fellowship and purpose.

LOBBYING PARLIAMENTS It was claimed by the Principal that when that unity in love, fellowship and purpose becomes perverted among us organic union "will be inevitable."

SAYS UNION COMPROMISE "The Basis of Union is deserving of neither the lavish praise nor the severe criticism heaped upon it."

REPAIRING NOTICE BOARD "An extraordinary statement frequently repeated is that union will make no real difference in the vast majority of our congregations."

THE UNION OF 1875 To the Principal's statement that the proposed Union "is only a part of a greater movement in which the Presbyterian Church in Canada found its own birth through the union of nine separate bodies," it was pointed out that all of those nine unifying bodies were Presbyterian churches, owning the Westminster Confession of Faith as their subordinate doctrinal standard and presbyterianism as their form of government.

THE ELDERSHIP "Among the changes that the Presbyterian Church will have to undergo on entering the United Church will be the disappearance of the eldership as we now have it, the removal of ordination from the Presbytery, limitation of the right of a congregation to call its own minister, submission to the decisions of a settlement committee without right of appeal and most serious of all the absence of subscription to any creedal statement on the part of ministers."

DISRUPTION "The agony of disruption is upon the Presbyterian Church to-day. For that agony we who wish the Church to remain are no more responsible than were the people of Belgium for the ravishing of their country in 1914."

heir of long and glorious traditions, in goodly fellowship with a vast multitude of like faith throughout the world, still holding as her subordinate standard the Westminster Confession of Faith, and humbly depending upon the guiding and sustaining grace of God will seek His glory in service to the nation and the world. Such an investigation would be conducted by a Government auditor.

Sergeant Boulton made a ruling said with a view to a finding of opium paraphernalia, including weighing scales and lamp.

A charge of being in possession of cod fish in closed season was filed against Hop Yick in City Police Court yesterday by Inspector Nicholson of the Dominion Fisheries. ### EXPLAINS TERMS OF LABOR BILL

Esquimalt Liberals Take Action on Oriental Question

The provisions of the Eight Hour Day Act were ably set out last night by J. B. Clearhue in an address before a rally of the Esquimalt Liberal Association. A record attendance was called to order by Mrs. F. Campbell, president. At the close of the address F. R. Carlow and others took part in a debate on the Oriental question, the successful result being the passing of a resolution urging preferential treatment for white labor in the Province.

Mr. Clearhue traced the growth of hours of labor legislation which he said made rapid strides all over the world since the cessation of hostilities and the post-war conventions on kindred subjects between nations. The 1921 act had been passed in B.C. in conformity with the international undertaking to which Canada subscribed. He said the original intention of the act was to provide for the white people by removing the unfair competition now existing, and that such protection as deemed necessary for the assistance of the industry of agriculture, by exempting such industry from the minimum wage in respect to the clearing of land and general farm labor, be provided for. And that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Premier and Cabinet Ministers of the Provincial Government and to the secretary of every service club in the cities of Victoria and Vancouver asking for their endorsement of such a bill.

OUTLINES WORK OF REALTY BOARDS IN VALUATIONS

A. H. Barnhisel of Tacoma Addresses Realtors on Appraisals

The Victoria Realty Board was addressed at the Chamber of Commerce to-day by A. H. Barnhisel of Tacoma, vice-president for Washington of the Northwest Realty Estate Association. Mr. Barnhisel dealt with appraisals at the request of the Realty Board.

The wide scope of appraisals was touched upon, this including valuation of buildings, expectancy of commercial life, leases and the values existing in land.

"What is a basic element in the conduct of a realtor, what comprises a raw deal? Is it not a wilful or ignorant representation of property value?"

"Does not this bring up the question of who shall operate in property management, or who shall pass on property values?" he asked.

COMMITTEES HOLD CONFIDENCE

The speaker dealt with subdivision of business, residential or agricultural properties, stressing the growing importance of the appraisal committees appointed by the Real Estate Boards, and also the development in realtors of a keen sense of true values.

RURAL VALUES IMPROVING

Mr. Barnhisel recalled that Roger Babson had pointed out that rural properties have in recent years been at a standstill in values. He pointed out that in this period communities have become equipped with roads and automobiles, and forecasted doubling or quadrupling of rural values while the city properties hitherto, rising in price would show a decrease in comparative values.

Mr. Barnhisel pointed out that the Federal Government of the United States has recently decided to accept valuations by local Board committees of appraisal. "This should apply in your provinces as well as to the south of the line, and you see what a strong position it gives the Boards in the various cities," he said.

MONEYMAKING PLAN

"In Cleveland appraisal fees are turned in to the Realty Board and last year no less than $17,000 was so earned," Mr. Barnhisel outlined some of the difficulties which had to be adjusted in making involved valuations.

"This appraisal activity by boards is becoming increasingly a standard work of local organizations," he said.

Turning to the work of increasing valuation knowledge among the average realtors, Mr. Barnhisel said many boards organize their valuation committees on a three-year basis, one-third the membership being new men each year.

DEPRECATES CITY GOVERNMENT BY RETIRED CITIZENS

Alternative Plan Suggested By Real Estate Board

The efforts of Fred Landsberg to secure support from the Victoria Real Estate Board for proposals for reorganization of the city's administration system, took a new turn at today's luncheon of the board at the Chamber of Commerce.

A special committee composed of J. H. Gillespie, F. Landsberg, H. Cuthbert Holmes and D. Leeming, presented a resolution designed to take the place of Mr. Landsberg's sweeping proposals, at the same time supporting his advocacy of a city manager system.

The resolution was laid over for consideration at the next meeting and is as follows:

"We are of the opinion that the present form of city government takes an active part on the part of aldermen than active business men can afford, at any rate for more than one term of office. Past experience bears out our contention.

"At the same time we are of the opinion that the city is best governed by active business men, and that the present system tends to throw the government into the hands of the retired man or the professional politician who may or may not be fit.

"We understand that under the city manager form of government very much less time is required of the aldermen and for that reason we find that it could be expected that active business men would offer themselves for the council.

"We recommend that this board take an active part in securing data and place itself in the position to present a concrete plan for city manager government."

It is the intention to submit the annual loan by-law to the aldermen about Friday, as more large payments have to be made on behalf of the City Council shortly. To-day was the date for the half-yearly interest payment, and also when the securities due in January matured.

"Does not this bring up the question of who shall operate in property management, or who shall pass on property values?" he asked.

COMMITTEES HOLD CONFIDENCE

The speaker dealt with subdivision of business, residential or agricultural properties, stressing the growing importance of the appraisal committees appointed by the Real Estate Boards, and also the development in realtors of a keen sense of true values.

RURAL VALUES IMPROVING

Mr. Barnhisel recalled that Roger Babson had pointed out that rural properties have in recent years been at a standstill in values. He pointed out that in this period communities have become equipped with roads and automobiles, and forecasted doubling or quadrupling of rural values while the city properties hitherto, rising in price would show a decrease in comparative values.

Mr. Barnhisel pointed out that the Federal Government of the United States has recently decided to accept valuations by local Board committees of appraisal. "This should apply in your provinces as well as to the south of the line, and you see what a strong position it gives the Boards in the various cities," he said.

MONEYMAKING PLAN

"In Cleveland appraisal fees are turned in to the Realty Board and last year no less than $17,000 was so earned," Mr. Barnhisel outlined some of the difficulties which had to be adjusted in making involved valuations.

"This appraisal activity by boards is becoming increasingly a standard work of local organizations," he said.

Turning to the work of increasing valuation knowledge among the average realtors, Mr. Barnhisel said many boards organize their valuation committees on a three-year basis, one-third the membership being new men each year.

Alternative Plan Suggested By Real Estate Board

The efforts of Fred Landsberg to secure support from the Victoria Real Estate Board for proposals for reorganization of the city's administration system, took a new turn at today's luncheon of the board at the Chamber of Commerce.

A special committee composed of J. H. Gillespie, F. Landsberg, H. Cuthbert Holmes and D. Leeming, presented a resolution designed to take the place of Mr. Landsberg's sweeping proposals, at the same time supporting his advocacy of a city manager system.

The resolution was laid over for consideration at the next meeting and is as follows:

"We are of the opinion that the present form of city government takes an active part on the part of aldermen than active business men can afford, at any rate for more than one term of office. Past experience bears out our contention.

"At the same time we are of the opinion that the city is best governed by active business men, and that the present system tends to throw the government into the hands of the retired man or the professional politician who may or may not be fit.

"We understand that under the city manager form of government very much less time is required of the aldermen and for that reason we find that it could be expected that active business men would offer themselves for the council.

"We recommend that this board take an active part in securing data and place itself in the position to present a concrete plan for city manager government."

It is the intention to submit the annual loan by-law to the aldermen about Friday, as more large payments have to be made on behalf of the City Council shortly. To-day was the date for the half-yearly interest payment, and also when the securities due in January matured.

A. H. Barnhisel of Tacoma Addresses Realtors on Appraisals

The Victoria Realty Board was addressed at the Chamber of Commerce to-day by A. H. Barnhisel of Tacoma, vice-president for Washington of the Northwest Realty Estate Association. Mr. Barnhisel dealt with appraisals at the request of the Realty Board.

The wide scope of appraisals was touched upon, this including valuation of buildings, expectancy of commercial life, leases and the values existing in land.

"What is a basic element in the conduct of a realtor, what comprises a raw deal? Is it not a wilful or ignorant representation of property value?"

"Does not this bring up the question of who shall operate in property management, or who shall pass on property values?" he asked.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and about as easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and save easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

BILL IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, Jan. 21.—A new provincial act to take the place of the now disallowed Industrial Disputes Investigation Act of Canada may be passed at the coming session of the Legislature of Alberta, it is stated by Attorney-General Brownlee, by way of comment upon the action of the Privy Council in London.

At various times in the past an act of such a character has been discussed, but in view of the fact that Dominion-wide legislation was already in effect there did not seem to be need or reason for adding a provincial measure.

No Need to Tolerate Gray Hair any Longer

You Can Restore the Former Shade with Kolor-Bak

The clean, colorless liquid, known as Kolor-Bak, has enabled thousands of men and women to take years from their appearance by restoring the original shade to their gray hair.

The following is a letter typical of many written in praise of this remarkable preparation.

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and becoming grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared."
"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original shade. I look ten years younger. No wonder I'm so thankful for Kolor-Bak."

Authorities state that hair turns gray when for any reason it fails to receive the proper amount of coloring matter from the cells in the scalp. No matter what the cause of the grayness, it is amazing to see how quickly Kolor-Bak brings back the former shade. It is the best known substitute for the natural pigmentation.

Kolor-Bak is not sticky, greasy, messy or unpleasant to use. It is just a clean, colorless liquid containing ingredients known to be beneficial to hair and scalp—as easy to use as water. Results often appear in a week.

It not only restores the former shade to the hair, it banishes dandruff, prevents itching of the scalp and stops falling of the hair.

No samples of your hair required—no tests necessary—as this one clean, colorless liquid is effective on any gray hair. Money back instantly if desired results do not appear.

LATE W. H. BEWELL HAD BEEN ACTIVE IN PUBLIC WELFARE

With the death of W. H. Bewell of Prospect Lake a few days ago, there passed away a man who was for many years a well-known resident of Manitoba. Born at Greenbank, Ontario, in 1856, he early became interested in public life, and as a schoolmaster he taught in the public schools for thirteen years, and served several years on the Municipal Council of Whitby, Ontario.

The lure of the West called him to Rossar, near Winnipeg, Man., and there a grain and dairy farm was established and successfully operated until his retirement to reside at Prospect Lake a few years ago. It was, however, in his public life, and as an organizer that the late Mr. Bewell was best known. He was for six years affiliated with the order of the Sons of Temperance, a strong organization in Eastern Canada, and was for thirteen years Worthy Grand Scribe for the Canadian branch of that order, a position which he resigned on moving out West. He organized the Provincial Association of school teachers, and was president for three years (1918 to 1921) and served on the executive until 1920. Also he was a most active member of the Advisory Board of Education for Manitoba from 1910 until 1920.

On December 22 last, Mr. and Mrs. Bewell celebrated their golden wedding at Prospect Lake. Mr. Bewell was apparently in his usual health, until it was found on the morning of January 12 that, while asleep, he had passed away. Besides his wife, five sons, three daughters and two brothers, a host of friends in British Columbia, on the prairies, and in the East, will sincerely mourn the loss of William Horne Bewell.

OAK BAY SCHOOL TRUSTEE RESIGNS

Policy Conflicts With Majority of Voters, Herbert Carmichael States

Because he believes the majority of the voters cast in the Oak Bay municipal election are against the policy that he proposed in regard to Oak Bay schools, School Trustee Herbert Carmichael, elected for a two-year term last year, was tendered his resignation. Mr. Carmichael has set forth his views in the following communication to the Oak Bay Council:

"At an election of trustees in Oak Bay on January 17, an expression of opinion was asked from the ratepayers as to whether or not they were in favor of charging high school fees. The result of the poll showed that very many of the voters had bracketed candidates holding opposing views, thus voting for opposite sides of the same question. The result cannot be interpreted as an intelligent decision of the electorate. However, as the majority of the voters are against the policy that I proposed, I think it only right that this view should be fully expressed on the board, and I have, therefore, tendered my resignation, to take effect at once."

CITY TEMPLE FORMS MEN'S ASSOCIATION

City Temple Brotherhood Formally Created at Meeting This Week

The City Temple Brotherhood was formed at a gathering at the Victoria City Temple this week under Rev. Chas. Davies. A provisional committee was struck to act for the next three months until the details of organization be worked out. In addressing the meeting, Dr. Davies said that the number of men attending church had grown from pre-war days until to-day, when over twice as many men were in regular attendance at church as when in former days. There was need, he said, for organization to make the most of the man-power behind the church, and the Temple Brotherhood was designed to that end.

"Too many people come to church and remain strangers for years, and the only time any one ever looks them up is when the church wants money. Months go by and people sit by each other in the pew and scarcely know one another. Fellowship and fraternity have been so long lacking in church life that many churches have been regarded as religious club houses," concluded Dr. Davies.

WILL REQUIRE TO BORROW LESS

City is in Better Financial Position Than Twelve Months Ago

It is not expected that the city will require to borrow so large a sum, as in 1924, during the current financial year. There has been an increased sum prepaid in taxes, as compared with twelve months ago, and also the current account of the city is in a better financial status than at the same period of 1924. The amount of the current account for 1924 was $460,000 and later $560,000, but of the second credit $250,000 was sufficient. Probably the annual loan by-law will be set at the same figure as the earlier part of the year, but the supplementary one will be considerably less in the Fall. For several years two by-laws, instead of one, have been adopted during the year.

Former Victoria Family Bereaved

The Rivers, Manitoba, Gazette, of last week tells of the death of nine-year-old Malcolm Martin, younger son of the Rev. A. A. Martin and Mrs. Martin, both of whom are well known in Victoria, particularly among former prairie people, as a result of the meningitis here during the war period. Capt. Martin, as a padre, was a leader in army Y.M.C.A. work centering in this city, and he went overseas from here. Later he returned, and was in charge of part of the Y.M.C.A. work, specializing on the Chinese labor corps at the Williams Head concentration and quarantine camp.

Malcolm had been sick only a few days. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. S. L. Nash. "He was one of the happiest and most cheerful little figures around town," says the Gazette. "In the Union Sunday School he was one of the most popular scholars. On Sunday evening a memorial service was held in the church. Rev. Dr. Bruce Kennedy of Oak River preached, and the singing of "Face to Face," by James A. McKenzie came as a benediction to the bereaved."

ANCIENT ORDER

The master workman and officers of Vancouver lodge No. 5, Ancient Order of United Workmen, request that all members make a special endeavor to be present at its next meeting on Friday evening, January 23, in the K. of C. Hall, 592 Government Street, at 8 o'clock. A special feature will be a memorial service in memory of those members who passed to the great beyond during 1924, and of the demise of the founder of the order, John Jordan Upchurch.

Vancouver, Jan. 21.—Paul Stromkins, who is stated to have made a deposition implicating others in the murder of Captain William Gillis and his son William aboard the tug gasoline tug "Evelyn," is being held in Queen's prison pending trial. It is expected his appearance before the court will not take place for several weeks and a strong guard is being kept over the man.

"DAVID COPPERFIELD" RECALLS DICKENS' PEN AT COLISEUM

You will cry one minute and laugh the next. In the big film production of the famous Charles Dickens novel, "David Copperfield," there is a world of bright and cheerful comedy as expounded in the merry life of the unctuous Mr. Micawber, while on the other hand there are dark clouds that hover over the house of David Copperfield.

The same, familiar characters that Dickens created in his popular novel

SABATINI'S GREAT STORY MAKES THRILLING FILM

Take it from Milton Sills and Lloyd Hughes of the cast of Frank Lloyd's production, "The Sea Hawk," which First National is presenting at the Royal Theatre, the galley slave's lot is not a happy one. In Rafael Sabatini's colorful story of Barbary corsairs were two ships whose motive power, aside from sails, was that of the oarsman. The Moorish galleons in this picture was propelled by 200 men chained to the galley.

Milton Sills, who plays the role of Sak-el-Bahr, the Sea Hawk, in the photograph, got a taste of the life of the galley slave. Lloyd Hughes, who acts the role of Lionel Tressilian, also had a taste of the oars.

On the days that the big galley sequences were filmed Mr. Sills rose at 5.30 a.m., spent an hour with the make-up man having a coat of tan rubbed over his body, and took his place at one of the big fifty-foot oars, chained by the leg to the floor of the galley, and bent his strength to the oar for half a day. Only an athlete could have stood up under it. He nearly froze as the ship was being tugged out to deep water, for the old time galley slave wore no clothes save a breech-clout.

There were from three to six men at each of the oars, and at each stroke they threw their entire weight against the handle of the oar. Mr. Sills says it is the most strenuous exercise he ever had and is of the opinion that a man who was condemned to the galley for six months, as was Sir Oliver Tressilian, the character he portrays, would not only develop the body of steel as depicted by Sabatini, but would become so enraged against the Christian world that he would be as glad to embrace Mohammedanism to escape such a fate as was the hero of the picture. The making of the galley sequences were more trying and exhausting than any screen fight in which the star has ever appeared.

Lloyd Hughes, in addition to being chained to the galley and sweating at the oar, was called upon by the plot to be fitted with a cat-o'-nine-tails. An expert with the whip was engaged to lash him roundly without making his blows actually tell on the actor's bare back. The "expert," however, made a miscalculation and the lash left several deep welts on Hughes' back. It was necessary to summon a physician to treat the wounds. And the next day Hughes was thrown overboard for a long swim in the icy-cold ocean.

are typically impersonated upon the screen by capable players. One of the best known, perhaps, was the illustrious Mr. Micawber, whose sayings in the Copperfield novel have become a byword wherever the English language is spoken. This elaborate production is showing at the Coliseum Theatre.

"IN LOVE WITH LOVE" IS SPECTACLE WITH VIVACIOUS CAST

With Marguerite de la Motte as the principal in the Capitol Theatre offering this week "In Love With Love," one of the most pleasant romantic comedies that has appeared here for some time is assured the theatre-going public by the management.

The romantic element is the sustaining note and is treated with a mock-seriousness which gives it color and appeal, capably mounted and acted.

The theme of the play is a good one and involves the actors all of different characters, which needless to say proves many humorous situations. Although the picture lacks in dramatic notes, the romance and comedy have made its appearance in other cities a big success.

Until other plays the lead is taken in first week "In Love With Love" by three—Allen Forrest, Harold Goodwin and Allan Sears star as the three suitors and their characteristics of various roles in which they appear offers unique comparisons.

The qualifications of the three lovers are so widely different that the audience certainly expects not only humor but some very tense situations, which are all provided in this pleasant and delightful film.

LON CHANEY GOES WITHOUT MAKE-UP IN DOMINION FILM

A screen version of Leonid Andreyev's powerful dramatic play, "He Who Gets Slapped," is playing at the Dominion Theatre to-night. A great deal of interest surrounds this picture for several reasons. Possibly the greatest one is that it is almost the only attempt to picture Russian literature. Andreyev's play scored a sensational hit when produced on the stage in New York by the Theatre Guild, with Richard Bennett playing the title role, but it never played outside that city.

Interest attaches to the picture because of the fact that it is the second production of the noted Swedish director and actor, Victor Seastrom, brought out by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company a year ago, and by other critics and by other directors as one of the greatest producers of the screen. Seastrom made a decided impression with his first work, "Intolerance."

It is thought "He" will give the European an even greater opportunity to display his screen technique and flair for drama than did his first vehicle.

The picture is also unique in that it brings Lon Chaney to the screen in one of his "straight" characterizations, one in which he is not called upon to use his wizardry of make-up, or his gruesome talent of assuming some physical deformity. Chaney plays the strongest parts as "He," the tragic circus clown.

Norma Shearer and John Gilbert play the romantic lead with such names as Tully Marshall, Marc McDermott, Ford Sterling, Clyde Cook, Paulette Goddard, Harvey Clark, George Davis, Ruth King and Brandon Hurst in the supporting cast.

CHANDLER BREAK SCARES MARKET BUT STEEL GOES UP

New York, N.Y., Jan. 21 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Ltd.)—The market drifted in a rather easy way during the greater part of the session, but values stiffened in the closing hour under the leadership of United States Steel, which again sold up to a price paragon to the high levels reached since the upward movement got under way last November. The iron age review if anything was of a favorable interpretation and this probably had something to do with the fresh buying in United States Steel in particular. During the forenoon, the motor shares were under pressure, some of the trade reports in Chandler Motors apparently being prompted by fears that some unfavorable dividend action may be taken at the company's next meeting.

New York, Jan. 21 (By B.C. Bond Corporation Direct Wall Street Wire)—The Wall Street Journal stock market edition this afternoon says:

To-day's session strengthened the belief that the market was correcting its internal position through a series of interest-bearing movements in various sections of the list. Transactions again showed a marked disposition to shrink on price recessions. This behavior was particularly impressive in view of the general bearishness prevailing in the speculative community. Widespread alarms were given regarding the imminence of a technical break.

That basic business conditions are sound was confirmed by the weekly reviews of the steel trade. Iron Age points out that the "outstanding feature is still the high rate of mill operations, accompanied by an unimpeded flow of material into all the channels of consumption."

An important and significant factor was the advance by Chesapeake and Ohio of a $2 a ton in the price of plates and bars for second quarter delivery. These higher levels will undoubtedly be used to stimulate specifications that existing first quarter contracts.

Railroads continued to purchase cars and track materials. Penna R.R. ordered 100,000 tons of rails and N.Y. Central is ordering 100,000 tons being of special interest.

Another prominent influence was the aggregate of some 36,000 tons of off-steel booked during the week.

Announcement that United States Steel Corporation had fixed $125 a share as the price at which to offer stock to employees under the annual subscription plan, against a price of $100 a year ago, stimulated fresh buying around 11 o'clock. Steel reached new highs on the rally at 125 and other industrial leaders scored further gains. This advance was checked, however, by an outbreak of selling in the market which dropped to new low ground on the movement at 28 1/2, unsettling the whole motor group.

HIGHER OIL PRICES LIKELY

Buying of the oil shares, especially Marland, Phillips, and Standard Oil issues were probably the most impressive feature of the market. It is beginning to dawn upon traders that Waltham production is not going to be a factor in the oil trade as was expected. Tuesday's production was only 138,000 barrels compared with the peak of 167,000 barrels January 15, and many wells are going to water. With consumption of crude oil and gasoline increasing, a drastic decline in Waltham production is expected to be followed by more general advances in crude oil and gasoline prices. Waltham's output now amounts to only 53 per cent of its total, and with the season of big gasoline consumption not many months away, the outlook for the oil industry and oil stocks is brighter than it has been in a long time.

Wall Street has never known a break in the general list to be advertised. While, it is going to drop they go about it without much ado. For more than a week, the speculative community has been living in fear of a decline. Commission houses have been preaching caution and bear operators have been putting out extensive short orders. The stage has been set for a sweeping downward movement which would give traders who firmly believe that prices will ultimately reach much higher levels a chance to replace their sold-out holdings. Instead of distribution, leading financial interests have been accumulating additional shares, a development which many authorities expect to be reflected in further violent upturns in February and March with the volume returning beyond anything so far seen since the upswing became aggressive after the election.

St. Joseph Leads Advance to New High Ground at 4 1/2, was accompanied by talk of an increase in the $2 dividend. But the real basis for this strength was the fact that current earnings are running at better than $1,000,000 monthly. Cash holdings now total $5,000,000. Companies like St. Joseph, American Smelting and American Metal, which do a big

Market Tired, N.Y. House Thinks

New York, Jan. 21 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Ltd.)—"The market was tired as a result of the heavy selling in the afternoon. The market was generally quiet, with a few scattered transactions. The price of steel was a factor in the market, and the price of oil was also a factor.

LUMBER DEMAND TENDENCY BETTER

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 21.—The current weekly review of the lumber market by The Lumber Manufacturer & Dealer, recognized market authority in the industry, says: "More sunshine and moderate temperatures during the past week or ten days have undoubtedly contributed, in a degree, to the improving tendency of the demand for lumber. In some sections the buying, and inquiry, as they relate to softwood yard stock, have noticeably quickened. Kansas City reports a rather sudden accession of orders for Southern pine in which line yards are fairly well represented. Southern Pine Association statistical reports show that the revival of demand started close on the heels of the holidays, and has been approximately equalled by increases in production and shipments.

Baldwin Declared Worth Over $250

New York, Jan. 21.—Mr. Boel, of Noyes and Jackson, to-day gave out a statement in which he said: "I am a big bull on Baldwin. I consider it worth over $250 a share. Baldwin has hidden assets which will come to light some day. The stock is 'way behind the market and is in a wonderful technical position. It is a little lower, but it will be much higher in my opinion in six months."

PUZZLING CIRCUMSTANCES
 "You were thinking how quickly your fine actor changes his affections, I dare say," he sneered. "An admirable specimen—making love to another man's wife behind his back—and not even having the decency to conceal it from the crowd!"
 "Oh, please don't, Dick, I'm so tired—what difference does it make what Mr. Cullum does?"
 "You're in love with him still?"
 "Jervis ground out. 'By Heaven, you're in love with him still!'"
 "Doris made no reply. She was too weary to protest. Nothing mattered any more."
 Jervis saw red with rage. He seized Doris, crushed her to him and kissed her despite her struggles. "The next moment he lay dazed on the gravelled path and Craig Cullum stood over him with murder in his eyes."
 Doris lay face downward on the bed in Mariana's guest room and stifled her sobs in a lacy pillow. "When Craig Cullum's blow had sent Jervis reeling on the gravelled path, she had released her from her hateful hold, she had fled. Up the stairs, through the silent hallways, to the sanctuary of the room assigned her, she sped, without a backward glance to ascertain the sequel to that dramatic scene in the garden."
 She knew that she must give way to the overpowering wretchedness that had engulfed her from the moment that she discovered this new and terrifying Craig Cullum at Mariana's house party. Her pride had kept her up thus far, but even it was not strong enough to drive her further.

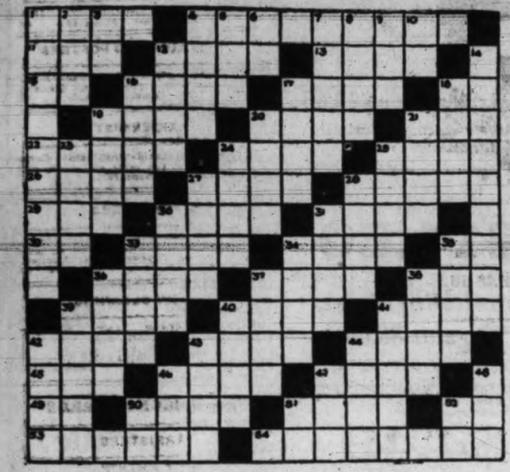

She could hear, through the casement windows that stood ajar, laughter and shrill cries and splashing from the lake at the foot of the garden. The house party was enjoying its night swim. The garden itself, below her window, where she had left Dick Jervis lying on the gravelled path with Craig Cullum standing over him, was ominously quiet. She didn't care. Nothing mattered any more. She wished she could die.

Dir up the four-letter words in your dictionary. You may have use for them in this puzzle.

Cross-word Puzzle 009

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE
 Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

would please the little rabbit girl. Just about this time Uncle Wiggily was on his way home. And the bunny gentleman said to himself: "I have lost my door key. I shall have to ring the bell for Nurse Jane to let me in. I hope none of the bad chaps have found my key or they might get in, hide behind the door and wait for me. I hope that doesn't happen."
 But a bad chap had found the bunny's key. The Wolf had found it, and as the key had Uncle Wiggily's name on it the Wolf knew whose it was. Smiling hungrily the Wolf hopped to the hollow stump bungalow. "I'll let myself slowly in with Uncle Wiggily's key," whispered the Wolf to himself. "Then I'll hide behind the door before Nurse Jane gets there, and I'll have some good earbobs of that rabbit. I'll get him this time."
 So the Wolf went lippy-lop to the bungalow and opened the front door hair curl. I'll tell you next about though he made very little noise.

The Wolf went lippy-lop.

Baby Buntly heard the key rattle in the hole. "Oh, there comes Uncle Wiggily," she whispered to Nurse Jane. "I'll slip out in the hall and shout 'Boo!' at him—like we did when he was here." Softly, softly, the bad Wolf opened the door. It was dark in the hall and Buntly couldn't see very well, but, of course, she thought it was Uncle Wiggily coming in. "Boo!" cried the little rabbit girl, as loudly as she could. "Boo! Boo! I'm a goblin. I'm a boo-booer! Woo! Woo! Wah!"
 "Oh, my goodness!" cried the Wolf, dropping the key. "What in the world is this? Some other bad chap must have gotten in here ahead of me—a big bad chap, who may nibble me. I'd better run."
 And out he ran, and Nurse Jane, coming in just then to light the hall, so Uncle Wiggily wouldn't stumble, after Buntly had scared him—Nurse Jane and the little rabbit girl saw the Wolf running away.
 "Oh! what do you know about that?" cried Buntly. "I scared the Wolf away. How glad I am." And just then along came Nurse Jane, as he saw Buntly she didn't get a chance to boo him. "I'm glad, I'm glad I booted the Wolf," laughed the little girl rabbit, and the bad chap didn't stop shivering all that night.
 And if the hammer doesn't hit the finger nail on the head and make its bang, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the tomato.

BEDTIME STORY
Uncle Wiggily and Buntly's Boos
 (By Howard R. Garis)

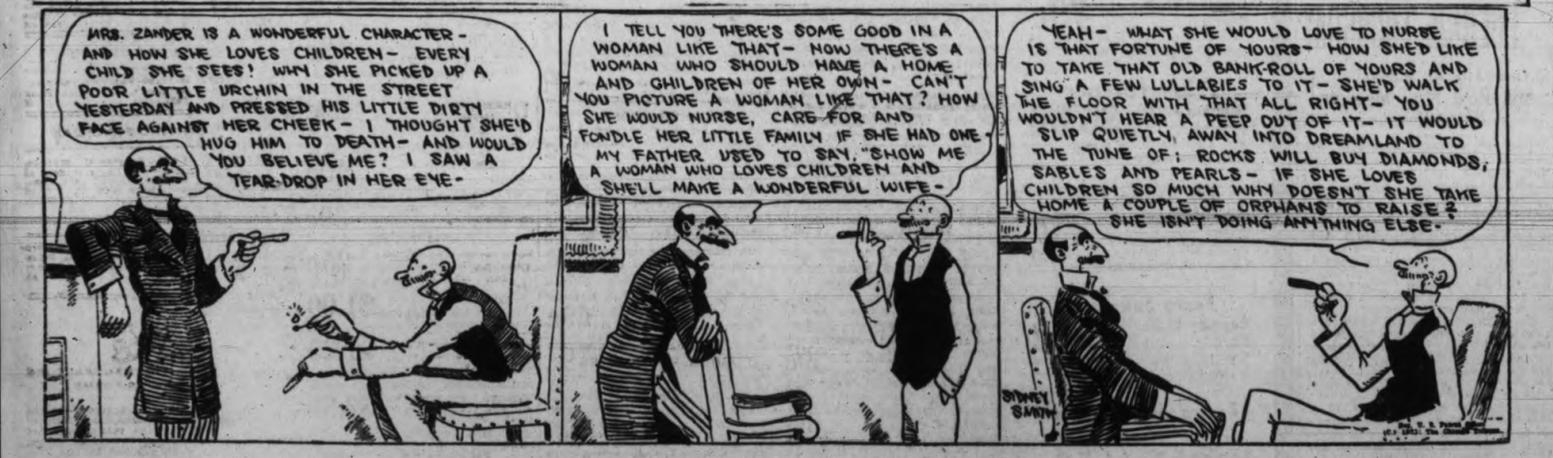

Baby Buntly, the little rabbit girl, was visiting Nurse Jane and Uncle Wiggily in the hollow stump bungalow one day. Just now the rabbit gentleman wasn't at home—only Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, who was reading the paper.

"Nurse Jane!" called Buntly, after she had played with her dolls on the floor for a time. "Nurse Jane!"
 "Well, Buntly, what is it, dear?"
 "I like you, Nurse Jane."
 "Do you, Buntly? That's nice." Nurse Jane kept on reading. Then Buntly said again:
 "Nurse Jane!"
 "Yes, dear, what is it?"
 "Do you like me, Nurse Jane?"
 "Of course I do, my dear."
 "Well, you didn't say so. Anyhow, if you like me, Nurse Jane, could I hide behind the door and holler 'Boo' at Uncle Wiggily when he comes home? Could I please holler 'Boo' at him?"
 "Crying 'Boo!' was Buntly's pet trick. Whenever she visited Uncle Wiggily in the hollow stump bungalow, she always hid behind the door and holler 'Boo' when he entered. And Uncle Wiggily was always frightened almost to death when Buntly jumped out at him. At any rate it seemed so. Uncle Wiggily would jump up and gasp and cry:
 "Oh, the goblins will get me if I don't watch out!"
 Then Buntly would laugh like anything!
 "Please may I holler 'Boo' at Uncle Wiggily?" she asked again.
 "Oh! yes, I guess so," answered Nurse Jane, knowing how much it

COMMISSIONER BACK FROM TOUR

During his recent tour Indian Commissioner W. E. Ditchburn gave considerable attention to the emergency situation which arose when the recent fire at the Kamloops Indian school destroyed the girls' dormitory, dining room and other quarters. The new building was in an advanced stage toward construction, and into it the girls were moved, leaving the boys in the old premises. A large quantity of material for the new school had been delivered to equip the new building, some of which was burned in the fire, so that the commissioner had to proceed to issue fresh orders for material. The girls are now housed in the central part of the new building.

Old Victoria friends of Lieut. H. F. Helmings, who is now Indian agent at Kamloops, having been transferred last year from Cranbrook, will be glad to hear that he has improved in health. Mr. Ditchburn found a heavy snowfall at Kamloops and other places, reported to be the heaviest for thirty years. Interior residents are looking for a good season when the snow melts, as promising an abundance of water of which there has been a serious shortage for several Summers.

PREPARING WAY FOR CELEBRATION OF VICTORIA DAY

Old Committee Dissolves, After Clearing up Liabilities Organization of New Governing Body to be Made Jan. 29

While disinclined to attempt to dictate to the new May Day celebration committee, which will be constituted at a meeting to be called by Mayor Pearday on January 29, the outgoing committee at its final meeting last evening, resolved to recommend that the celebration would begin on May 22, Children's Day, and conclude May 27. The extension of the event, which had originally been planned for May 23, 24 and 25, will be dependent upon what support is forthcoming for the financing of the project, beyond the usual period, from the Canadian Pacific Railway, in connection with the opening of the Crystal Garden. His Worship undertook to get in touch with the company, and ascertain its views.

TO ORGANIZE FOR 1925 In order that the scheme can be put in hand at once, and the estimate of cost prepared in time to be taken up with the city's estimates, it was decided to call the general meeting to appoint the executive body as soon as possible. The meeting authorized an invitation through the press to all societies to send their delegates, while the Mayor undertook to make a personal request to the chief societies to select three representatives to the meeting.

It is probable that the Children's Day and sports will be on Friday, May 22, the regatta on May 23, a sacred concert on May 24, and the street parade on the afternoon of the holiday, May 25. It is suggested that there be staged a pageant of an historical character, details of which are at present undetermined. Provision will have to be made for the central feature, the opening of the Crystal Garden, the date of which has not yet been intimated.

The plan of the celebration was outlined by former Alderman Harvey, chairman of last year's celebration, and by Mayor Pearday. He said the Canadian Pacific Railway Company was anxious to see the best use made of the new steamers, and to have a large celebration. He recommended the whole plan being placed in charge of a carnival manager, who would devote his whole time for two or three months to organize the details.

CLEAR LIABILITIES The meeting last evening was called to dissolve the committee of 1924 after receiving a statement of the accounts. When the last meeting was held the association was nearly $400 in debt, but thanks to subscriptions all liabilities had been honored, and a balance of $27.48 remained. As the celebration committee had over $300 balance from 1923, the new committee to be chosen begins with less than its predecessor, and a much more expensive programme before it. Nearly $5,000 was required last year for a three-day programme, of which the queen contest raised nearly half the amount. In 1923 $17,000 was spent on the celebration, which all members declared had been extravagantly managed. Last year close touch was kept on expenditure, and several committees had a small surplus, but the revenue in others did not reach the estimates.

Thanks were accorded Mr. Harvey, and to Secretary G. T. Bywater, who had solicited the subscriptions which had cleared the deficit.

TWO NEW REEVES PRESIDE THURSDAY

Councils of Municipalities Will Hold First Meetings Since Election

Two new Reeves will preside over councils for the first time and three new councils will hold their first meetings to-morrow. Reeve R. P. Stubbins will preside over the Esquimalt Council at 8 o'clock. Reeve Herbert Anselm will preside at the Oak Bay Council meeting. The newly elected municipal councils in British Columbia will also meet in accordance with the statutory provision that initial sessions of municipal councils be held the first Thursday after the day of elections.

Reeve Robert Maenick again presides over the destinies of the Saanich Council with two new faces on the council, Councillor William Stubbins, succeeding W. H. Robertshaw and Councillor E. D. Murphy, who defeated F. Simpson.

At Oak Bay Thomas Ashe, E. C. Hayward, Capt. C. F. L. Money, and H. L. Wilson are all new councillors with Councillors W. H. Mearns and H. L. N. Edwards, the only 1924 representatives. Councillor Evan Burnett and Councillor C. H. Smith are the new members of Esquimalt Council.

VICTORIA GOAT

At the annual meeting of district members of the B.C. Goat Breeders' Association held on January 19, M. C. Hooper was elected chairman, Major J. P. Hibben, vice-chairman and Mrs. E. Simmonds, secretary for the ensuing year.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, including several new members, and everyone is looking forward to a successful season. Several matters of interest and importance were discussed, and recommended for adoption at the annual general meeting of the provincial association to be held in Vancouver on January 24.
