Thriving Movement

Overview

The Thriving Movement portfolio is critical for the Foundation to foster community growth, sustainability, and diversity.

Progress and Challenges

Attract and retain a larger and more diverse editor base (ARMDEB) deployed V1.0 of the new reply tool on Wikipedia Arabic, Dutch, French & Hungarian. 500+ editors enabled the tool, 85% of these using feature within 7 days. IP Masking completed volunteer consultations on Meta, Swedish & French WP, and has improved CheckUser software in preparation for masking IPs on projects.

Due to global school closures, Reading Wikipedia pilots are on hold and the Edu team has pivoted to a COVID-19 response plan.

Key results for Community Leadership Development have been fully completed. The outcomes will inform the development of the online learning platform, gender equity project & community network project as well as support community facing work.

UCoC local language consultations are underway in 19 languages and on track for finalization by EOFY. #WikiforHumanRights pilot launched as proof of concept for topic based campaigns.

Attract and Retain a Larger and More Diverse Editor Base

Objective:

Build useful, delightful, and newcomer-friendly features, in order to attract and retain a larger and more diverse editor base.

Progress during the pandemic is a bit slower, but our teams are moving forward with a positive spirit.

- Talk page reply tools have been released as a beta feature on four Wikipedias.
- Newcomer tasks is using new topic matching from ORES, and is being deployed on more wikis.
- Community Tech has released a new security-minded feature, Password Reset Update.
- Wikipedia Library is preparing to release proxy & bundle access to our library content, making it easier for active contributors to access the sources they need.

Project: Talk page reply tools

At the end of Q3, the Editing Team deployed V1.0 of the new Replying tool as a Beta Feature on four partner Wikipedias: Arabic, Dutch, French and Hungarian.

In the week since the tool became available, 500+ editors have enabled it. A sample of these editors shows 85% are using the feature 7 days after first trying it.*

In Q4, the team will begin analyzing the adoption and impact of the feature and introduce a new "visual" mode to make it possible for people to participate on talk pages without needing to know about or use wikitext.

This metric excludes people who did not make any qualifying edits on their 7th day after trying the feature.*

IP Masking

Objective:

In order to protect our users from misuse of personally identifiable information and our communities and content from vandalism, spam, and harassment, make IP addresses accessible to as few people as possible while ensuring that admins, stewards, and checkusers remain able to effectively perform their duties.

- The team has defined a new set of moderation tools that will allow vandalism-fighters to continue to do their work in the absence of IPs.
- We've held consultations with volunteers on Meta, Swedish & French Wikipedia thus far. We are reaching out to Tamil Wikisource, Punjabi Wikipedia, Arabic Wikipedia and Chinese Wikipedia next.
- The team is kicking off exploratory work on the proposed tools.
- In the meantime, we have been working on providing enhancements to CheckUser tool, which will be vital in the absence of IPs. New Checkuser version has been deployed for internal testing. We will be opening it up for community members to test in the coming weeks.

Improving CheckUser tools

Background: CheckUser is a critical piece of software in the fight against vandals and bad actors on our projects. Improving this tool is important in preparation for masking IPs on our projects. This project is directly in line with the Thriving Movement metric - By 2023, at least 80% of affiliates, user groups, and on-wiki roles, such as admins, bureaucrats and stewards, will report having the support they need to sustain their roles.

Goal: Our goal is to reduce the amount of time and effort it takes to extract information from CheckUser and conclude the results of a vandalism investigation.

What we did: Anti-Harassment Tools team has spent Q3 making some radical improvements to the tool and putting it through a series of user tests to guide our work. The new features are now available on testwiki.

Next steps: In Q4, we plan to rollout the improvements on all projects and gather feedback from checkusers and stewards.

Movement Diversity

Objective:

By June 30, 2020 we will design 4 key programs to improve offline movement diversity in the following areas: gender, age, language, region

Parts of this deliverable (Youth and Regional Growth) remain suspended following the CE transition. Reading Wikipedia in the Classroom and a refactored Gender Equity strategy made good progress in Q3 but were disrupted by COVID-19.

- Reading WP: hired 6 local coordinators to work with schools in Bolivia, Morocco and the Philippines; initiated partnership building with local education administrators; and designed data collection tools for needs assessment
- Due to global school closures, Reading WP pilots are on hold and Edu team has pivoted to a COVID response plan
- The proposed FY 20/21 Gender Equity Initiative (cross-dept, anchored in Legal) had good momentum in annual planning but the timeline will likely need to be revised in light of further APP pause (see more in drilldown).
- Per C-level and Thriving Movement Task Force guidance, Youth Engagement program has been de-prioritized and Regional Growth strategy referred to the C-team to consider in relation to Movement Strategy implementation.

Target quarter for completion: Gender hire Q4 FY19/20, Reading WP pilot Q2 FY20/21

Drill Down: Movement Diversity

The situation

Our review suggests that pushing diversity on four axes is unlikely to succeed with the current Foundation configuration and delay in building regional liaisons.

To achieve meaningful impact, we have instead been focusing on the gender component, which requires commitments from Legal, Product, Communications, T&C, and Advancement to a multi-pronged initiative through which we hope to fill knowledge gaps and diversify our contributor base.

The impact

We will not hit our first and third key results. These key results need to be revisited and updated to reflect the Foundation's capacities and evolved resourcing plans.

The second KR, Reading Wikipedia in the Classroom, will be moved to Worldwide Readership in next year's annual plan, re-focused on growing awareness and content interactions via key influencer pathways (i.e. education systems).

The recommendation

For success, this multi-pronged gender equity initiative requires a lengthy preparation time. We had originally recommended a March 2021-March 2022 primary content campaign, but with COVID-19 challenges now propose Aug 2021-Aug 2022, with an important inflection point in March 2021 to begin preparing existing community to recruit, onboard, and retain more diverse volunteers.

Community Leadership Development

Objective:

Improve learning and leadership development programming for our communities in order to support a diverse and inclusive movement.

Learning Days/Conference Program: Mentorship and strategic support is being provided to local organizers to move trainings online and ensure continued community connectivity i.e Brazil and India

Online Learning Research and Pilot: Outreach has begun for 3-5 movement populations, confirmed cohorts include admins, gender project community facilitators, campaign organizers and digital security volunteers.

Education Greenhouse: Completed online course successfully with 126 total participants (original target 50), with an average of 40 participants monthly, and 13 participants earning completion certificates.

Movement Leadership Framework Project: 53 total completed interviews to date and counting, code book created and synthesis began to formulate around 3 primary themes: Access, Community Practice & Skill development

Diverse Content

Objective:

By June 30, 2020 design and initiate a suite of projects that lower barriers to diverse content creation across the movement.

Q3 saw good progress on both GLAM and Campaigns:

- Wikimedia Sverige delivered a strong technical proposal for GLAM batch upload and statistics tools to anchor an intended WMF-WMSE partnership agreement next FY.
- Community Programs completed two campaign experiments this quarter: #1lib1ref January and #WikiForHumanRights.
- Both had strong results and have helped design a process for WMF-internal collaboration on strategic topic campaigns that could be activated at greater scale in the proposed Gender Equity Initiative:
 - #1lib1ref: >8,000 edits in nearly 60 languages by more than 731 editors (36% YoY growth)
 - #WikiForHumanRights: 721 articles edited in more than 12 languages by 210 editors.

Target quarter for completion: Q4 FY19/20

#WikiForHumanRights campaign pilot

Can Wikimedia facilitate global community content campaigns on high-impact topic areas with UN-level partners?

- 721 articles edited in more than 12 languages by 210 editors; at least 8 in-person events across 6 countries
- Designing cross-dept collaboration needed for bigger campaigns
- Learning partner expectations
- Gauging community response
- Diagnosing internal capacity gaps

A dark graphic with white and yellow text. The main title is '#WikiForHumanRights Edit-a-thon Uganda'. Below it, the text reads 'Join us now through 30 January, to improve and add articles about human rights in Uganda on Wikipedia.' At the bottom, a quote says '“To claim your rights, you need to know your rights”'. To the right of the text is a stylized white fist holding a rainbow pencil. Surrounding the fist are various icons: a blue person icon, a red group icon, a yellow star, a purple scales of justice icon, a green heart icon, and a white document icon. The background is dark with small colorful dots.

Address Knowledge Gaps

Objective:

Build the taxonomies of knowledge gaps for measuring and prioritizing knowledge gaps in order to help the Wikimedia Movement thrive

We are building a Knowledge Gap Index that can be utilized by decision makers to inform their decisions about what areas to further invest in.

By building the taxonomy of knowledge gaps we are taking the first step to be able to build the Knowledge Gap Index.

We have identified three main branches to focus on: content, contributors, and readers.

Target quarter for completion: Q4 FY19/20

Address Knowledge Gaps

Key Results

	Y1 Goal	Q1 Status	Q2 Status	Q3 Status
Build three or more taxonomies of knowledge gaps (the list of taxonomies: content, readership, contributorship, usage, and primary causes) Baseline: {0}	3	0.5	1.5	1.7
Provide a comprehensive write-up of the taxonomies developed during the year and present internally. Baseline: {0}	100%	25%	30%	30%

Drill Down: Address Knowledge Gaps

The situation

We dedicated roughly 3 weeks of the quarter to this key deliverable with 2.5 FTEs.

Unplanned work: developing metrics for the different branches of the taxonomy identified as well as discussing and defining normative measures.

We did a deeper search about possible future formal collaborators as not all expertise needed for it in FY21+ exist within the team.

The impact

Progress was slower than expected.

Slower progress than expected for finishing the branches of the taxonomy.

Slower progress than expected for finishing the branches of the taxonomy.

The recommendation

Create space for the team to work at the highest capacity available (without compromising the other key deliverable commitments).

Maintain flexibility towards unpredicted iterations as needed due to the high complexity involved in the project.

Same as above.
