Post Back of Project; Promise to Work Hard for Bonds for New High School

Prior to the adjournment of the meeting, Clarence Edwards, member of the athletic committee, announced that a baseball team is being formed to represent the Post and that an initial workout will take place this afternoon at the high school grounds.

The present plan is to enter the team in the southern California division of the state American Legion baseball league, the winner of which will be given free transportation to the annual state convention in July, where they will play for the state championship.

All ex-service men who desire to go out for the team are urged to be present at the high school campus this afternoon or to get in touch with Clarence Edwards or Albert G. Wheeler.

Fiance of Michael Collins Is Described by Her Cousin Who Is Studying in U. S.

Miss Kitty Kiernan Michael Collins
Miss Kathleen de Rohan

By MARGERY REX.
Written for International News Service

NEW YORK.—"I knew her when" How often we hear people say this proudly of someone who is a well-known figure of the day?

We have really found someone who knows a great deal about the young woman who is engaged to marry one of the great political personages of the hour, Michael Collins, head of the Provisional Government of Ireland. Recently the engagement was announced of the popular Irish leader and Miss Kitty Kiernan, of Granard, County Longford.

Our "find" is Miss Kathleen de Rohan, cousin of Miss Kiernan and a resident of New York City for the present, while she pursues her studies in dress design. Miss de Rohan, an attractive, fair-haired young woman, discussed her cousin's romance, that has blossomed through the turbulent winds that have blown over Ireland during the past few years.

Prettier Than Pictures

"What is she like?" Miss de Rohan repeated after us. "Well, not very much like the photographs of her you've probably seen. Tall, stately, with wonderful blond hair and blue eyes. She's young and lovely, but the pictures make her appear so much older and so mature looking."

"Collins met her first in 1919, although their families had been acquainted for a long time. He's the likable, brilliant type the Irish call 'a broth of a boy.' Only twenty-six or seven, he has fought every bit of his way ahead in life and conquered opposition."

"They have been engaged almost a year, and it was to Kitty that Collins referred as 'the woman he loved' when he answered the sarcastic taunt of the Countess Markiewicz that 'Michael Collins will probably expect to marry Princess Mary now.'

"Her parents died when Kitty was about thirteen. Later one of her sisters died in Switzerland. Her people owned the Grenville Arms hotel, in Granard, and controlled a good portion of the business in the town, including a prosperous grocery and provision store."

"In 1920 a District Inspector of the Royal Irish Constabulary was shot in the hotel. The Sinn Feiners were suspected, and the inn was burned to the ground, as well as nearly everything else the Kiernans owned. Still Kitty has some money of her own, and, I believe, well-to-do."

"I remember our happy days together when we went to the convent in Granard. We both studied Gaelic and were wrapped up in love of country, just as we have been during the past few years to an even greater degree. Kitty worked in the Irish White Cross, the nurses' branch of the Sinn Fein."

"Our first cousin, Paul Cusack, a rebel and hunger-striker, was released from prison in 1919. We used to laugh a lot about the way boys and girls were distributed in our families. Mrs. Kiernan, Kitty's mother, had six girls and one boy, and her sister, Mrs. Cusack, had six boys and one girl."

"Women Don't Get Chance"

"Some of our towns are so remote that women don't get the chance to buy themselves the kind of clothes they would like. There is a demand for reasonably-priced, good-looking

Jessica Dixon Heads Vaudeville at Glendale

Jessica Dixon, "the overseas girl," who sang to more than 200,000 soldiers in England, France and Germany, and Frank Freeman, that minstrel fellow, headline the vaudeville at the Glendale Theatre tonight. Miss Dixon has been starred in musical comedy and is well known here. Laurie Clifford and girls present "Fun on the Gold Links"; Arita and Wiki Bird are natives instrumentalists from the South Seas; Shirley and Bell sing and talk, while Williams and Bernice are exponents of trapeze and acrobatic novelties. It is all star variety.

"Big Game," starring May Allison, is the film feature. It is the story of a wife who accompanies her husband on a Canadian adventure. She discovers him to be a coward and when a fierce guide endeavors to appropriate her, the husband asserts his latent will to recover her love.

Wanda Hawley in "Her Face Value" is the feature for Sunday, while Benoni and Krake again will perform at the evening recital with Paul Carson at the organ.

Glenn R. Dolberg Is Church Choir Soloist

Glenn R. Dolberg of Dolberg's photographic studio at 206 West Broadway has accepted a position as baritone soloist with the choir of the Temple Baptist church in Los Angeles. He is one of a quartet of soloists at that church. A special cantata is to be given at that church tomorrow night, in which he will have a solo part. Mr. Dolberg was formerly with the choir of the First Methodist church of Los Angeles and previous to that with the First Methodist church of Minneapolis.

M'ADOO TO BE CANDIDATE?

WASHINGTON, April 15.—William Gibbs McAdoo expects to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1924. Back of that simple fact, already well known to Democratic leaders here, lies one of the contributing causes for Woodrow Wilson's spectacular break with Joseph P. Tumulty, for twelve years his secretary and most devoted follower, according to neutral Democrats today. The manner in which the innocently worded "message" from Wilson was presented at the Jefferson day banquet by Mr. Tumulty created the impression intentionally or otherwise, that the former president was endorsing the nomination of ex-Governor Cox.

It was the desire of Mr. Wilson to "scotch" this impression quickly and effectively, rebuke his former secretary for presuming to speak for him politically and at the same time "even up" an old score which his long illness had prevented. Mr. Tumulty's friends attributed the sensational action of the former president today to the "petulance of a sick man."

HURRICANE HITS ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 15.—A squall of hurricane intensity that blew up out of the southwest almost without warning, held sway over the city for five minutes yesterday. Dozens of plate glass windows were broken in the downtown district.

The squall was accompanied by a murky cloud that entirely shut out daylight, while rain fell in solid sheets, or five minutes inky darkness prevailed. Automobiles and street cars ran with their headlights on, and office buildings were ablaze with light.

CONDITIONS GROW BETTER

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Agricultural conditions in western and middle western states have improved 100 per cent during the past six months, Eugene Meyer, managing director of the war finance corporation, declared here today upon his return from a 10,000-mile trip through this territory.

Meyer reported that the farmers had greater buying power, were producing their crops cheaper, that money was easier to obtain, that prospects for big crops were good, that labor was cheap and that banks were in good condition.

KING TO GREET DELEGATES

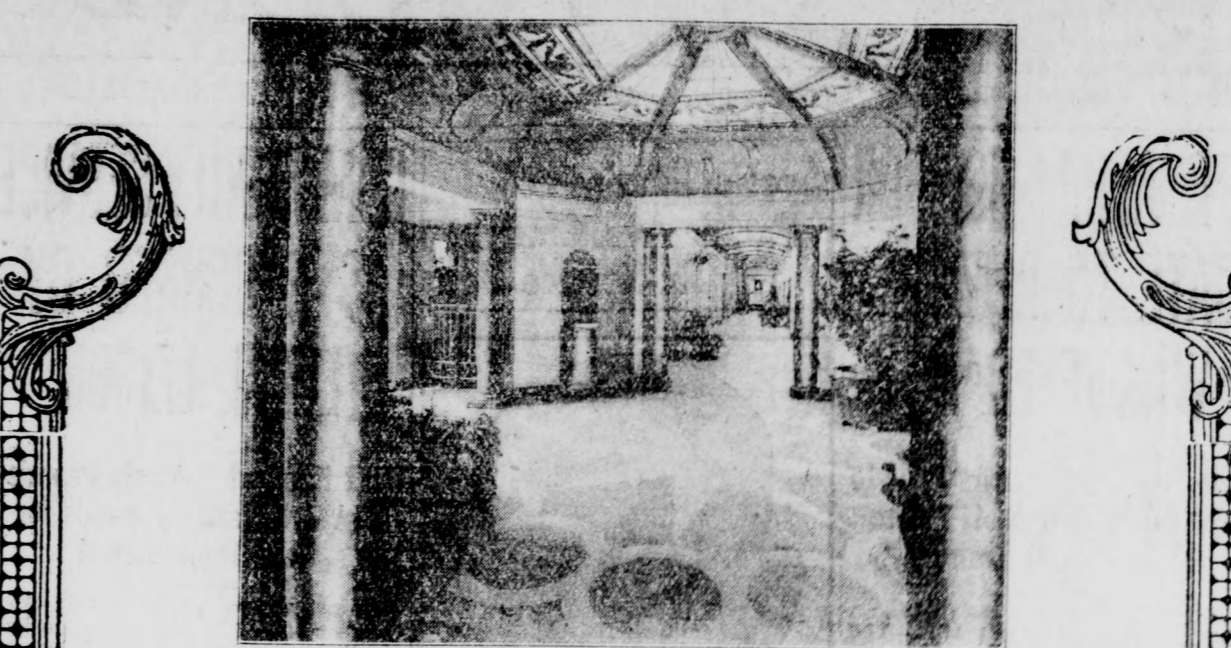

GENOA, April 15.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy will come to Genoa on an Italian warship on April 21 to greet the delegates to the International Economic conference, it was learned today from the Italian delegation. The king will hold a reception on board the ship. The aggressive and unyielding attitude of the Russians continues the outstanding feature of the conference. There are indications, however, that the Russians will become more conciliatory, due to the mediation efforts of Premier Lloyd George of England and the Italians. So far the Germans have given no trouble to the convening powers.

The British premier has taken the leadership in a movement to reconcile the Russians and the allied powers through an agreement embodying proposals that have been put forth by both sides. Lloyd George is sympathetic to the Russians' demand that an agreement be drawn up by the Washington conference. He is in favor of a treaty similar to that drawn up by the Washington conference, limiting naval armaments and guaranteeing the peace of the Pacific for ten years.

HOLD ALL EXCEPT JAIL

SLIGO, Ireland, April 15.—Mutinous troops of the Irish republican army today hold all the buildings in Sligo except the jail. They are patrolling all the streets. Loyal troops occupy the jail, which has been turned into a fortress with sentries posted on the roof. Leaders of the rebels declare that Arthur Griffith of the Irish provisional government will not speak tomorrow. The loyal leaders were just as emphatic in saying that Griffith will speak.

NEW YORK—Just by way of settling a long standing debate, Charley Paddock and Loren Murchison, the most hurried individuals now striding a cinder path, are to meet in a series of races ranging in distance from fifty yards to the furlong.

This we have been given to understand by men who keep an index finger on the pulse of amateur athletics. The proposition is being pushed by members of the Illinois A. C. Murchison's home club, and the challenge, it is said, has found Paddock in a receptive mood. A neutral track would be the scene of this spiked shoe novelty, a backwash of a rivalry that dates back to the final heat of the 100-metre dash at the Olympic games.

Murchison never will forget that incident if he lives to be as old as an alligator's grandfather. Six men were on the mark for the race, namely, Paddock, Murchison, Scholz and Kirksey, Americans, Edwards, the British negro, and Ali Kahn of France.

They had been given the word to get down, then the "set" when a clerk on the course called to Paddock that his hands were encroaching on forbidden ground.

In America the interruption is tantamount to an order for the runners to relax, and Murchison acted accordingly. He had both hands off the ground and was half rising when the gun went off. He, therefore, was left on the mark as no sprinter had ever been left before.

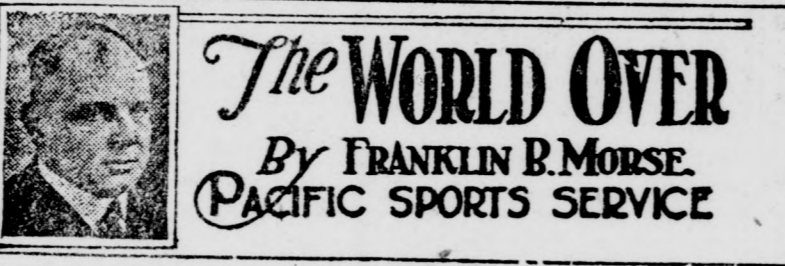

Murchison has been gunning for Paddock since that affair, all of twenty months ago, but just why he should blame his misfortune on the flying Californian is no more clear than a stained glass window. He might do better to take an inventory of himself and carefully examine the fact that, of the six finalists, he was the sole starter to be thrown off by the clerk's warning.

However, that has nothing to do with the proposed series of sprints, which would be most unusual and certainly would attract nation-wide attention.

Murchison, to our way of thinking, is the finest stylist in the sprints the world over. The great Howard Drew, a picture runner if ever we saw one, had nothing on Murchison in this respect.

He may lack some of Paddock's downright speed, but in getting away from the mark and in leg action he stands alone. Therefore, because style is a big factor in the shorter of the sprinting distances, it would not be at all surprising if Murchison "took" the California speedster at any distance that might be arranged under 100 yards.

Indeed, he even might go so far as to head off Paddock at the century, just as he did at the Olympic tryouts at the Harvard stadium, but beyond that distance, we would be disposed to fear the worst for Murchison.

The World Over

There seems to be fashions in dogs as well as in anything else. For some time past the fashion for sporting spaniels and Newfoundland dogs has distinctly gone out of vogue and dog fanciers say that these two breeds are the most difficult to get an assortment of when it comes to a bench show.

The spaniel has become rare on the Pacific coast, so much so, that a well bred dog of this variety in a show stands out by reason of his scarcity. The recent death of William Bay, of San Francisco, has been a disappointment to the lovers of the spaniel as he did more than anyone else to breed this class of dog and keep alive the interest in it. Bay's dogs were known from coast to coast.

The American spaniel club has found difficulty in getting together dogs for their shows in recent years. George Greer prominently identified with the affairs of the club ascribes the reason to the scarcity of the dog as well as to the fact that those who own them are so scattered over the country that it is impossible to get them together. Naturally, he is an enthusiast in regard to the breed.

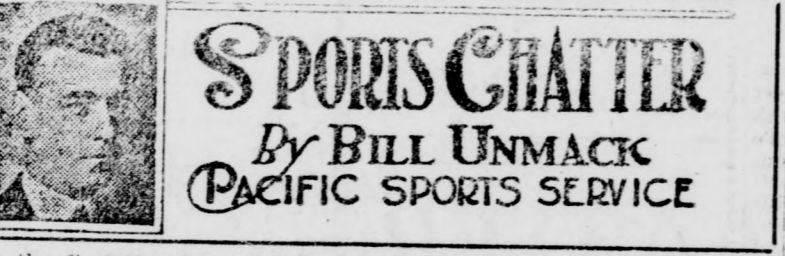

"They are good field dogs and good pals. I have kept many cockers and not one of them would go to bed until I arrived home; no matter how late the hour, the spaniel always was sitting on watch at the door."

There is little question that the Airedale is having his day at the present time. No dog seems to be in greater demand, and the recent acquisition of "Laddie Boy" by President Harding, no doubt has given an added impetus to the popularity of this breed. Time was, a decade or more ago, that the fox terrier had the cult, but his star is in the descendant, while that of the Airedale is mounting.

The meeting of the football rules committee did not occasion coaches or players the necessity of relearning the game. Annually, there is a sigh of relief when it happens that tinkering with the rules does not uproot the existing conditions.

The one radical change was that which has to do with abolishing the insipid try for goal from in front of the posts, and the fact that some diversity has been given to this play has met with the popular approval. Just what is going to happen will not be known until next season. Some say that the drop kick will be almost entirely used, others say it will be a placement while still others maintain that a forward pass play probably will be the popular manner in which this one point will be tried for.

All of which means that all may be right in their surmise and a diversity of plays used instead of the innocuous incident that has been the practice in the last few years. Furthermore, the situation may develop a brand new play suited particularly to this particular occasion. There is only one point to be gained no matter what play is used, but it will be interesting to see what the change in the rule may bring forth.

For the first time in the history of golf in this country a full blooded Chinese will be a participant in tournaments all over this country during the coming season. Charles Chung, 19 years old, runner-up of the Hawaiian golf championship last year, is the aspirant for honors on the links of the country.

Young Chung will have company, as Francis Brown, a millionaire sugar planter and the man who best of the Chinese in the final round of the Hawaiian championship, is also to tour this country and enter the tournaments with his team-mate and runner-up. Both players are members of the Honolulu Golf club and they will be accompanied by "Doc" Adams, the best known golf writer and authority in the Islands, who also will probably participate in a number of the tournaments.

Hawaii has given the world of its best on the swimming side of sports. Duke Kahanamoku, Bill Harris, George Culina, the Keaoiah brothers, Helen Moses are only a few of the world-famous swimmers who have helped advertise the Hawaiian Islands. Are Chung and Brown going to accomplish in golf for Hawaii what these other stars did in the water?

Brown and Chung are unexcelled in the Islands in their game, and their ambitions are now bringing them to this country to participate in the American open golf titles at the Skokie Country Club, Chicago, starting July 11, and the national amateur championship at Brookline, Mass., starting September 4.

Charlie Chung holds various records in the Islands, including the record for the Hawaiian golf links, which is the hardest course in the chap, well-mannered, likeable and with a personality that easily makes him a favorite throughout the country. He has never been away from Honolulu, where he was born.

Francis Brown is one of the leading men of the Islands. He is a millionaire and big business man and makes golf and polo his hobbies. In his college days he was an all-round athlete and swimmer. He went overseas in the ambulance division and was awarded the Croix de Guerre for gallantry in action. He is short in stature, a student of golf and a stickler for technique when playing a championship match. He will be accompanied on his tour by his wife.

The Hawaiian party will arrive in San Francisco in June and participate in one or two of the coast tournaments and then go east. Their main objective is the national championships and their friends and supporters in the Hawaiian Islands are of the opinion that the people of the "mainland" will find a couple of surprise packages when the great net of Hawaiian champions take their clubs in hand and start after honors.

WILSON - TUMULTY SPLIT
WASHINGTON, April 15.—Woodrow Wilson's blunt and unqualified repudiation of the so-called "Wilson message," delivered to the National Democratic club banquet in New York Saturday night by his former secretary, Joseph H. Tumulty, brought open confirmation today of the fact known to inside Democratic circles in the capital for months—that a decided coolness exists between Mr. Wilson and his former aide.

Back of Mr. Wilson's public disavowal that Mr. Tumulty is spokesman in things political, lies a story of two years' steadily growing estrangement. This condition would have brought about an open split before Mr. Wilson left the White House, his friends said today, had it not been for the long illness of the former president and the embarrassments that such a course would have brought during his trying last days in the White House.

Propose to Restrict German Air Forces

By FRANK E. MASON
Written for International News Service
PARIS, April 15.—French and British military and air authorities are holding informal conversations regarding the new steps which they affirm must be taken to prevent Germany from the development of a fleet of airplanes. According to the treaty of Versailles the restrictions placed upon German airplanes and airships building expire May 5, 1922.

"It is certainly not in the least reassuring that on the fifth of May Germany recovers the right to build airships in whatever quantity pleases her so long as it is of aeronautic material classed as commercial, and to export and import the ships and material freely," declares the Echo de Paris, which goes on to demand that immediate steps be taken to prevent this danger occurring.

"The Allies have not yet been able to agree, either upon the method of permanent control to be maintained in Germany, nor upon the definitions of commercial and war material, nor upon the technical restrictions to be placed on the building to prevent all possibility of the airplanes ever being converted into war machines. Regulations must be made for all probable or possible industrial progress in this field. The French government should realize the worry which this situation creates and the impatience with which the country awaits decision which will assure absolute guarantees."

DATES FOR ECONOMY RUN TO YOSEMITE NOW MAY 12-13

Changes Made Necessary Result of Call of Open Road Week, Is Announced

The date for the annual Camp Curry economy run was found to interfere with the "Call of the Open Road" week and the necessary change was made by officials of the run. The new dates are May 12 and 13 instead of May 5 and 6.

Many Los Angeles and nearby dealers and distributors have already announced their intention of entering a car in the run and are busy tuning up and testing cars in order to be ready in advance. The list last year included twenty-one cars, twenty of which finished within the time limit set at Camp Curry. The camp is located in the floor of the Yosemite valley.

The run has become recognized by the eastern automotive engineers and factory executives as the big contest of the year, and experts have kept close watch on the results with the view of obtaining data on securing greater economy and efficiency in gasoline consumption.

This Motor Car Has Run Million Miles Is Claim of Owner

Can a motor car run a million miles?
James Hutton of Detroit claims that his one cylinder 1904 model has actually covered that mileage.

This fact was brought to light in a recent celebration commemorating the anniversary of an automobile manufacturing company. Mr. Hunter's car led the parade which was composed of cars of nearly every vintage and model from the early one-cylinder to the present day eight cylinders manufactured by the concern.

In commenting upon his relic, Mr. Hutton said that he honestly believed that it would run as long as there is any ground to run upon and added that he thought it would never wear out.

The car has been in Mr. Hutton's possession since 1910. He has no definite figures as to the exact mileage the car has traveled, but estimates it as about 300,000 miles. For the last twelve years the car has been used for delivery and power to operate a carpet cleaning machine and Mr. Hutton estimates the motor runs on an average of 200 miles a day. The transmission has been replaced once since 1910.

What kind of a car is it? Well, that would be advertising, wouldn't it?

ASSOCIATION HELPS MOTOR BACK EAST! HEADLIGHT TESTS THROUGH STATE

Northern Counties Are Covered by Inspectors; Adjusting Stations Established

The blinding, glaring headlights of automobiles at night are a thing of the past legally, and will be actually when the new organization appointed to install branch inspection stations starts to function extensively, according to a letter from the California Automobile Trade Association to its members.

According to the association, they have been authorized to appoint headlight adjusting stations where motorists can drive in and get their headlights adjusted and be given a certificate to show that the necessary requirements were met on the date stamped on their ticket. This certificate of adjustment will be recognized by the state motor department and by police officers of various cities.

Takes Up His Ticket

If the arresting officer finds a man with his lights out of adjustment, he takes up his ticket and sends him to the nearest station for another examination. Two illuminating engineers, L. E. Voyer and J. T. Templeton, have been appointed by the association to educate the men who will adjust headlights and to inspect the stations to be appointed. After a station has been appointed, if it is found that their work is not satisfactory, their appointment will be revoked, according to the association.

These men appointed have already covered Alameda and Contra Costa counties and are pushing the work in order to have motorists observe the headlight law throughout the state.

CLEAR VISION

To secure a clear view ahead through the glass of the windshield in rainy and snowy weather is vitally important to the safety of the motor car and its occupants. Many schemes are used to keep the glass clear in wet weather, but perhaps the old-fashioned alcohol and glycerine mixture which is carried in a small bottle and rubbed on the glass as needed is best. If the bottle containing the solution is wrapped in a cloth and stowed in the side pocket it will always be ready for use and a cloth to apply it will be at hand.

UNIFORM HIGHWAY SIGNS

Adoption of a system of uniform highway marking throughout New England is to be undertaken this season, and it is expected that the plan will be extended to cover the whole United States. It will displace the present varied system of color bands and other signs in the different states, so that the motorists traveling through a number of states will not be confused in keeping to the right road.

I'm going to read the daily Health Again talks by Dr. Otey beginning in this issue on page 3. Are you?—Advertisement. 4-17

BEATS RAIL, BOAT SAYS OFFICIAL

Local Representative of Auto Club Says Suggestion Is Based on Inquiries

Shipping cars by rail and boat to the east is surpassed by those motor- ing back by a margin of 15 to 1, according to N. B. Towman, local representative of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Mr. Towman bases his information upon the inquiries which come to the local office and, as is customary at this time of the year, the demand for road conditions to the east far exceed the inquiries for freight rates. The following rules set down for the guidance of motorists as a preventive against accident and arrest and for the comfort for all touring, meet the approval of Mr. Towman and have his endorsement.

- ### Follow These Rules
- Don't speed.
 - Don't fail to have your headlights properly adjusted.
 - Don't go to fires in your automobile.
 - Don't "hog" the road, keep to the right.
 - Don't allow bicycle riders to hang on your vehicle.
 - Don't use "cut-outs" in the city.
 - Don't fail to give arm signal properly before making a turn.
 - Don't try to steal the other fellow's right way.
 - Don't cut corners.
 - Don't turn in the middle of the block—anywhere.
 - Don't fail to give arm signal when leaving curb or on slowing down.
 - Don't fail to give strict attention to the road and to other cars—inattention to driving duties causes many accidents.
 - Don't drive on the wrong side of the street.
 - Don't try to beat a street car to an intersection—it is dangerous to yourself as well as to the pedestrian and to other motorists.
 - Don't pass a standing street car.

Ray Houle Is Proud Of Studebaker Record

Twenty thousand miles of smooth riding without tampering with a single bolt or nut is a local record set by Ray Houle, road contractor, with his residence in Burbank, according to D. H. Packer of the Packer Auto Company.

Mr. Houle has business in several small towns ranging in distance of a hundred miles of each other and it is necessary for him to make these trips almost every day. While making one of these trips during the past week Mr. Houle thought it advisable to have his carbon removed.

He stopped into the above mentioned company and the work was done. The deposits of carbon were found to be very small, according to Mr. Packer, and when the owner of the Studebaker Light Six remarked that this was the car's first dose of the monkey wrench and pliers, since it became his property, a rush was made for the speedometer. And, behold, there were sure enough a little over 20,000 miles tabulated.

In addition to the many, many miles piled up by his Studebaker within six months, more than twenty-two miles to the gallon of gasoline is her record, according to Mr. Packer. When asked by an onlooker what he thought of the Studebaker, Mr. Houle stated that "in my estimation, it is the only car in the world." This car was sold by the Packer Auto Co., local Studebaker distributors, and Mr. Packer stated that this is only one of the many good reports coming in from their many customers.

SEDIMENT TRAP

Most present day gasoline tanks are fitted with a sediment trap, which usually is located at the place where the pipeline leaves the screen and a cup is provided to catch foreign matter. The car owner should make it a practice to clean this sediment trap out twice a month during active operation. The present grade of motor fuel is not strictly pure, and foreign matter rapidly accumulates in this catchall.

TESTING PLUGS

When a spark plug is suspected of not operating, remove it from the cylinder without disconnecting the wire terminal and lay the metal part of the plug on the engine. By turning the engine over slowly the electrical current will then be completed by the commutator, and if the spark plug is working a spark will jump between the two points. If not, it is good indication that the plug is foul and needs cleaning or else is short-circuited and worthless.

THE EMPTY RADIATOR

When refilling an empty radiator with water, open the petcock at the bottom of the radiator or the one located at the water pump. Pour water into the cooling system until it runs freely from the open petcock. Close the cock and proceed with the filling. This plan eliminates the possible chance of an air lock in the system.

EVERYBODY USING THEM

Registration lists give a quick picture of the many uses of the motor car. A sample 100 names from the Massachusetts list include: One visiting nurse association; two grocery companies; one ice cream company; one bricklayers' union; two banks; one candy factory; one tabulating machine company; one spark plug dealer, and one packing company.

Buy Your Car While Buying Is Good

"KEEP the wheels turning toward prosperity" is a slogan all of the older folks have heard before. In the automobile industry the wheels are turning as they never were before.

Walk around Glendale's automobile "row" and casually chat with the dealers and you will find they are having difficulty in getting cars, so great is the demand.

The prosperity which has been prevalent here is sweeping eastward and the people who have gone without cars for several years back in Illinois, Iowa and Indiana are now unloading their purse strings for the purchase of machines at their new low prices.

So it is that California is going to feel the cramp of production, and many Glendale people are going without the automobile they have planned on getting this year unless their orders are placed at the earliest possible moment.

Real, practical, honest value is being put in the 1922 models of almost all makes, and beyond a reasonable doubt, the depreciation is less now than ever before in the history of the industry.

Standardization is taking place, prices are at rock bottom, demand is greater, more cars are a necessity, confidence has been restored. There you have the reasons for buying while the buying is good.

Read what the motor car dealers have to say in The Glendale Evening News Automobile Section today.

Do You Walk? Here Is New Rule Proposed

Pedestrians and motorists have been getting so mixed up lately on the highways that a radical change in pedestrianism is about to be launched on the public by the authorities.

All pedestrians using the highways should walk opposite to the rolling lines of vehicle traffic! That in a nutshell, is the latest recommendation to be made by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Auto club officials representing the safety bureau of the organization are suggesting throughout the state that all persons who must walk along the roads and highways should keep to the left. In other words, the hikers should move just contrary to the movement of the vehicles.

The reason for this is given by the club officers in the fact that pedestrians can then see what is approaching them and get out of the way. If the pedestrian is walking with his back to approaching vehicles then he cannot see what is rolling upon him from the rear.

At the same time it is easier for the motorist because he won't have to continually dodge pedestrians who do not hear his approach. Old hoboes, says the club, always walk in the opposite way to the movement of vehicle traffic. They have learned by many years on the road that this is the best way to avoid accidents.

There is nothing in the state law to prevent pedestrians from adopting this new method of procedure, and it is strongly recommended by the Auto club. In fact, the new method may at some near date become a part of the state law, so there you are!

Safe Drivers to Get Label, Plan of Club

Safe automobile drivers throughout southern California are going to be labeled.

If you are a safe driver, Mr. Motorist, you will carry a green and white label in the lower right hand corner of the windshield of your car, according to the latest plan of the safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

But you will do more than this to further the club's big campaign to cut down recklessness of motorists in the southern counties. You will also sign a pledge when you are given your emblem which commits you to safe driving.

This plan is to be put into operation simultaneously in the thirteen southern counties of the state through the county offices of the Auto club. More than 68,000 motorists are going to be supplied with the new "stickers." Here is what the pledge says:

"In return for the southern California safe-driver's windshield emblem, furnished by the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, I agree to drive carefully at all times, familiarize myself with the city and state traffic regulations and then observe them.

"I will do all I can to set a good example by being courteous on the road and I further agree that when I dispose of this car I will remove the safe driver's emblem."

These windshield emblem stickers and the pledges will be available next week at the Auto club headquarters and at any club branch office. Motorists may obtain them upon request, and they will also be distributed in an effort to further the general safety movement in this part of the state.

AUTO PLANTS SHOW HEAVY CALL FOR CARS IS HERE

Evidence of Prosperity Comes In Reports From Factories, Telling of Big Orders

A survey of conditions in the automobile manufacturing center of Detroit, during the past week shows that the pessimist should seek some business other than the automobile to find food. Factories are reported to be oversold on some models and are turning down orders.

In some instances the volume of business has increased 100 per cent over corresponding periods last year. Orders for March showed big gains over February and far beyond March of last year. Certain makers were taken by surprise and were not prepared for the rush. As a result closed cars of some models are going to be scarce as the season grows onward.

Work on Open Models

This fact came to light when the third big plant suspended the manufacture of closed cars for the time being in order to turn the entire factory resources to the production of open models. As a consequence, this factory will decline closed car orders from now until further notice. This is the third instance reported within a short time.

Open car orders have been piling up so fast in the factories that the suspension of closed car manufacture was absolutely necessary, and if there is not a marked decrease in the demand for open models, several other plants will have to follow this same course, stated the reports.

ROD RATTLES

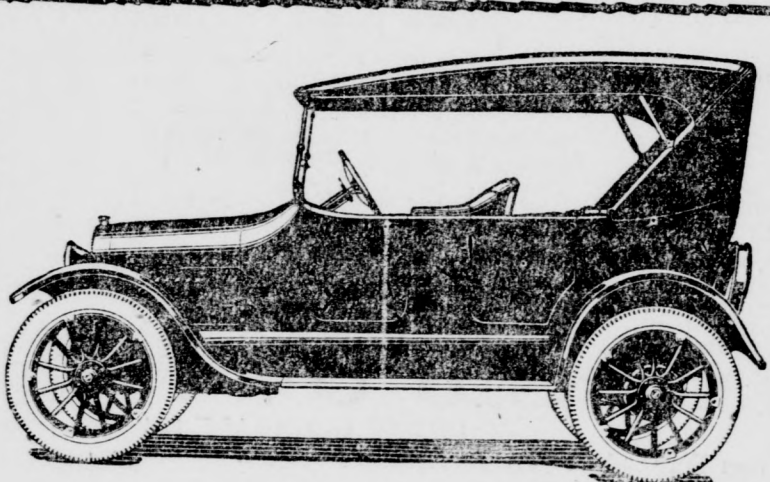

Brake rods or other rods beneath the car sometimes slap against each other or against other metal parts. To locate this trouble have one person drive the car while another sits on one of the forward fenders and listens for the noises. If the horn is gripped tightly and the rattles cease it is reasonable to blame the horn.

DRIVING THROUGH MUD

When driving through deep mud, the most important thing to remember is to go slowly, if an accident to the car and to others that may be passing by is to be avoided. Play safe, and travel through the mud in low gear. If the car stops, back a few feet, engage a forward speed and drive ahead again.

LOW HIGHWAY COST

After deducting the amount paid by automobiles in license fees, one and-tenth cents per day was the cost of the American highway to the individual man, woman and child in this country last year.

Rated High all Over the World

Almost everywhere abroad—east or west—you will find a decided preference for the Hupmobile as representative of the best that America produces.

Why do foreign lands rate the Hupmobile so high? For precisely the same reasons it is rated high at home—its recognized value, its recognized ability, its low costs and its long life.

Most of all, perhaps, for its splendid self-reliance, which makes the Hupmobile a favorite for travel through wild and sparsely settled regions.

It is this quality of self-reliance which above all its other remarkable attributes, has won the lasting admiration of motor car buyers everywhere.

Tire Industry Looks to Very Active Trade

With the automobile tire manufacturers, the past month has been a period of quiet, according to the predictions, says a dispatch from Akron, O. April, however, meant the opening of the buying season to the motorists for the real motoring season will mean the rapid depletion of stocks in the dealers' storerooms and consequently, rush orders to the manufacturers.

For that reason the industry has been looking forward to the first two weeks in this month as the turning point in the present season and is making preparations for a rapid increase. With the industry running about 85 per cent of normal at present, it is likely that the coming summer will see operations go to normal and perhaps above, it is reported.

Western Auto Supply to Open Store Here

With the opening of five new stores within a week, one being in Glendale at 205 S. Brand boulevard, the Western Auto Supply Co., will have a chain of forty-seven stores throughout the West, according to W. J. McKinnon, special agent for the Aetna Life Insurance Co., which company takes care of all the insurance of the auto concern.

Mr. McKinnon went on to say that this auto firm is but a comparative youngster and on account of the volume of business done, it has been necessary to open stores in practically all the principal cities in the West. Those opened in the past week are in Pasadena, Santa Monica, Santa Rosa, San Francisco and the one in Glendale.

The Glendale store is not yet open for business, but will be very soon, it is announced.

Club Accident Policy Approved, Is Report

The new service of personal accident policies offered to the members of the Automobile Club of Southern California have met with general success, according to a report from the club this morning. This service was created to answer numerous requests from members of the organization desiring protection against injury or death sustained through the operation of privately owned vehicles.

The trip policy by which a member may protect himself or family while on a trip, has been received with unusual interest, the report stated.

Dr. Albert Vack Is Satisfied With Nash

After looking the automobile field over most thoroughly and owning four different cars in the past year, Dr. Albert Vack, chiropractor, 105 South Maryland avenue, returned from a trip to Venice and other resorts on the coast with all sorts of enthusiasm. He said he had found the car for which he had spent many weary hours in search. It was "another" Nash.

On this trip to the beaches Dr. Vack was accompanied by his wife, and another car containing Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Fields, 607 Sunset boulevard, Los Angeles, spent a most enjoyable day and Mr. Fields, as well as the doctor, are firm believers in the Nash, they both being owners.

Mrs. Vack, when asked what her husband thought of his Nash Sport, replied that he "swears by it and not at it." Upon returning from the beaches, Mr. and Mrs. Vack joined by Mr. and Mrs. Hartman had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Fields at their home and spent a most enjoyable evening.

Dr. Vack uses his car almost every day, he having patients in the nearby towns and he stated it is surprising what mileage the Nash gets out of gas and oil, and the ease with which it climbs the hills is really astonishing. Another thing that puzzles the doctor, he stated, is why the Nash does not get the least bit warm when gliding over the long and steep hills which he crosses daily. Dr. Vack purchased his car through the Glendale Nash Sales, 112 South Maryland avenue.

Sees Picture of Car and Sale Soon Made

No more is it necessary to produce the article and then spend many hours convincing your man with the good-points of the car if you happen to be selling the right car, said Ray L. Galvin of the local Buick agency. J. J. Nesom, 125 West Elk avenue, was shown a catalogue containing a picture of the Model 54, Buick special roadster some weeks back and immediately placed an order for one. The car has arrived and has been turned over to its new owner and, according to Mr. Galvin, happiness is in the heart of Mr. Nesom.

Mr. Nesom is the first man to get a delivery of this special roadster in this territory. The car is factory equipped with wire wheels and with a special paint job. This car has been put through several tests and has gone over the top with honor in all of them, said Mr. Galvin. Tanner & Hall, local Buick agents, 237 South Brand boulevard, are experiencing difficulties in securing closed models as there is a shortage of these cars, said Mr. Galvin. However, business in general is on the upward trend and the other models are moving out.

M. J. Cook Tells of Bursum Bill Battle

With the assurance that the Bursum Bill, which provides retirement pay for disabled emergency officers of the National Army and National Guard, will be reported out of the present committee and entered on the floor to be discussed, M. J. Cook, local automobile salesman and World War veteran, smiled with delight as he read these lines in a letter to him from L. S. Day, Secretary to the Disabled Emergency officers of the World War.

Mr. Cook has spent many months traveling around speaking in the interest of this bill. He stated that the various patriotic organizations, including the American Legion and several others have given this bill their endorsement. In quoting the letter Mr. Cook said that Mr. Ray assured him that J. Kahn, California Representative and Chairman of the House Military Affairs, said that he would report the bill out of his committee at an early date. The bill passed the Senate on February 21 by a vote of 50 to 14.

Mac-Dry Battery to Be Distributed Here

Munro & Pohlen, 1026 East Colorado street, Pasadena, who have been specializing in storage batteries of the dry type for some time, have succeeded in securing the distribution and retail rights in the territory for the "Mac-Dry" battery which is manufactured in Los Angeles. They will place a number of agencies shortly, they state.

The product of the Golden State is a storage battery of the latest type, and, unlike so many home products which the public is asked to buy on account of state pride, this battery is superior in every way and, in addition to that, the expense of the freight is saved, the agents said.

Other information about the Mac-Dry battery which the agents gave out is that they are in use in the Los Angeles City Police ambulances, police cars, water department and many other corporations. The battery contains no liquid to spill and is sold with a three-year guarantee, and the fact that it does not need any attention for months at a time, it is believed by the manufacturers, as well as the agents, to be the battery of the future for automobiles, trucks and practically every place where a storage battery is used.

BUSINESS GOOD, SAYS OFFICIAL
"Business is good throughout the state and improving every day." This is the message brought back by Robert W. Martland, secretary-manager of the California Automobile Trade association, who has just returned from a month's trip of investigation which covered several thousand miles of California roads.

"We believe the Hupmobile to be the best car of its class in the world."

Nash Leads the World in Motor Car Value

It is interesting to observe to what lengths Nash goes in painstaking shop practice, because it bears directly upon the quality that has earned Nash cars their nation-wide esteem.

To make certain that Nash cylinders are absolutely true, a stream of cold water is circulated through the water jackets as the barrels are machined. This prevents heat being generated by the operation of machining, and it is heat that expands the cylinder and causes the variations in size which distinguish inferior cylinders from Nash cylinders.

Westinghouse Station Busy In New Home

Regardless of the tapping of the hammers as the carpenters bring to completion a building at 306 South Glendale avenue, for the Westinghouse Battery service, the company is doing business and the buzz of electricity can be heard above the hammers.

The battery company formerly was in business at 233 South Brand boulevard but, on account of building operations, took a lease on the present property and is constructing a building to meet requirements, according to A. H. Wishart of the company. A machine for the testing of any electrical apparatus on an automobile, which was made by a man in their shop, is being used by the company. According to Mr. Wishart they have had several requests from other battery service stations to build these machines for them.

Robert W. Maitland Says Business Is Good

"Business is good throughout the state and is improving every day," is the message brought back from various parts of the state by Robert W. Maitland, secretary-manager of the California Auto Trade Association.

Mr. Maitland just returned from a month's trip covering several thousand miles of California roads and states that there is a spirit of optimism among the men of the automobile industry.

More cars have been sold this year than there were at same time last year and registrations show a great gain, said Mr. Maitland and this means there are a lot of new owners in the field as well as people trading their used cars in for new ones. He stated that the new automobile headlights requirements and the proposed stations is being met with the hearty approval of automobile owners.

G. T. Smith Tells of Big Demand for Cars

Dr. W. J. Wolley of La Crescenta is the proud possessor of a new Willys Knight touring car and, according to G. T. Smith, local agent for the Overland, 228 South Brand boulevard, the doctor is literally taken from his feet with the performance of his car.

Mr. Smith is finding difficulties in getting cars to supply the demand since the recent drop in price, and he stated that the factory branch at Los Angeles, which supplies this district, is only carrying about 20 per cent of its normal stock. He said that the factory is overstocked and that it is practically impossible to get some models of cars. Mr. Smith does not confine his sales to Glendale solely, he having delivered two Knights in Los Angeles within the past week, he said.

The shortage of Willys Knight cars is shown by the fact that the local agency has the only Knight sedan in Southern California not owned privately, Mr. Smith said. Believing that the time is near when it will be impossible to get any new cars at all, Mr. Smith is bringing cars from the factory branch at the rate of eight in a bunch, to be sold in and around Glendale.

New Model Hupmobile For Professional Folk

The new model roadster-coupe hupmobile, which has been creating a lot of interest all over the country, has reached Glendale and is on display at the temporary show rooms of Bartlett & French, 603 South Brand boulevard, and Mr. Bartlett said that the people have been showing great interest in this model locally.

The car is built with the weight and conveniences of a roadster with the comfort of a closed car. It is especially adapted to the use of salesmen and doctors and men who have to use a car in their business. The point is that when the salesman, or other business man, gets out of his car to talk to another man, he will not be blown to pieces or have dirt gritting between his teeth, Mr. Bartlett declared.

J. W. Lawson Opens New Apartment House

A new apartment house containing sixteen single room, kitchen and bath, apartments has been opened by J. W. Lawson at 225 North Brand boulevard. The public is invited to inspect the apartments.

The apartments are furnished complete with aluminum cooking utensils, wall beds, built-in desks, ice boxes and china closets. Upon entering the apartment house, one is confronted with a marble lobby and the lighting system, as explained by Mr. Lawson, furnishes light in the halls all night. An automatic water heater, with a large tank supplies all the apartments.

Psenner-Doll Concern Puts Out Radio Sets

Radio sets are being manufactured in Glendale by the Psenner-Doll company, 601 South Brand boulevard, they having completed four sets recently and are busy on more. At present their operations are held up on account of the shortage of material. They have recently installed a new winding machine for fine winding of coils, Mr. Psenner said.

FOR A CLEAN FLOOR

A labor-saving way of keeping the rear compartment of the Ford car clean is to cut out pieces on either side of the car where the cross pieces are placed, each cutout being just the width of one of the floor boards. Next bore a hole in the floor board, just big enough to get the finger in, so that it is a simple matter to lift the floor board out whenever necessary to sweep out dirt, mud and general litter as need arises.

TO STRAIGHTEN AXLE

A method of straightening a front axle that has been bent in a vertical plane is to take two lengths of 4 by 4 inch joist, long enough to reach from the upper side of the axle, just outside of each spring plate, to a cross timber of the ceiling or roof of the garage. Then, if the jack is placed beneath the axle at the bend enough pressure may be applied by means of it to force the axle back into shape.

OVERCOMING DIRTY 'GAS'

When filling a gasoline tank, a simple, but frequently forgotten, precaution is to carefully wipe off the mouth of the can before filling, to remove any dust or dirt that may have lodged there.

WHY AUTOS SQUEAK

One of the principal reasons why many motorists neglect to lubricate their cars properly is the inaccessibility of many of the bearings and parts that need periodic greasing.

The epidemic of home runs at the Polo grounds continued yesterday, Bancroft and Snyder furnishing the big wallops in the Giants' massacre of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Phillies' winning streak died a-borning when Rube Marquard turned them back yesterday by way of getting the Boston Braves started on the right foot.

Miller Huggins indulged himself in some mild speculation as to his chances of getting Amos Strunk from the White Sox during the off day in Washington. The proposition, according to Huggins, involves the sending of "Chick" Fawcett and presumably some others to the Comiskey breakfast.

Errors by Joe Dugan, ex-Mackman, gave his old team mates a victory over the Boston Red Sox, while Elmer Myers, another Athletic discard, was hit hard in the pinches. The Athletics fielded sensationally, an infield shift which sent Pep Young, former Tiger, to second, and Jimmy Dykes to third being seemingly one of Mr. Mack's happiest thoughts of recent date.

Rain got the popular decision in five major league cities; two in the national and three in the American league.

The way the powerful Buick Valve-in-Head motor "steps out" and responds to the throttle is a joy to Buick owners.

There's no lost motion and when you give Mr. Valve-in-Head the "Forward, March!" he just gets up and goes.

A mighty good feature that. On the open road, in traffic, on hills, everywhere you drive, there's always a time and place where you require a quick, sure getaway. That's where Valve-in-Head leaves them all in the rear rank.

J. H. Hollister Joins Oakland Agency Here

J. H. Hollister, who for the past three and a half years has been selling Oakland automobiles at Whittier, came to Glendale and was so much impressed with the progressiveness of the city he immediately got in touch with the local Oakland agency and applied for a position on the force.

Mr. Green, local Oakland agent, 115 West Harvard street, after talking with Mr. Hollister, put him on the force. Mr. Green, when asked about the business conditions, said that the worst thing he had to contend with is the getting of the cars to deliver, more so with the roadster and closed types than with touring. He has delivered ten Oakland models of the model '21-22 since the first of March. In his estimation there are just ten more life long friends as this model car is the best the Oakland manufacturers have ever put out, he said.

Subjects Offered Athletic Feature

Wild west, travel, nature study, romance, adventure, mystery, diplomacy, drama, art, psychology, history, fish stories, holidays, sociology or chess. Which of these subjects and many others is your preference?
Whatever it may be there will be plenty of books dealing with these topics to be found among the new books which have recently been released for distribution at the public library on Harvard street. Among the volumes are the following:
"Let 'Er Buck," by Charles Wellington Furlong. The story of the passing of the Old West. A book which will delight everyone who loves out-of-door life and good sportsmanship.

"Where the Strange Trails Go Down," by E. Alexander Powell. A world of bizarre delights will be found in this fascinating book. The author traveled in Siam, Cambodia, Borneo, Java and the little islands of the Archipelago seeking the unusual.
"Homing with the Birds," by Gene Stratton-Porter. Intimate glimpses into the family life of the birds.
"Brand Blotters," by William Mac-Leod Raine. A thrilling story of love and hate, greed and revenge.
"Bucky O'Connor," by William MacLeod Raine. The hero of this book is an officer of the Arizona rangers.

"More That Must Be Told," by Sir Philip Gibbs. The author writes of conditions in Europe since the War.
"United States in Orient," by "American Diplomat" in the Orient," by John W. Foster. In showing the part the United States has taken and the position it now occupies in respect to the political, commercial and race questions in the Orient.
"Down the Columbia," by Lewis R. Freeman. A description of the author's adventures along this great river.
"The Practice of Diplomacy," by John W. Foster.

"The Cruise of the Dream Ship,"
by Ralph Stock. Ralph Stock chuckles with mirth all the way from Devon to the South Sea Islands. With his sister, called Peter, and his friend, Steve, he puts out to sea in a second-hand Norwegian built auxiliary cutter.
"Batiks and How to Make Them,"
by Pieter Myer. Hand-decorated textiles are, perhaps, the most satisfactory form of applied art. The author describes in simple language the way in which wonderful results can be obtained by using beeswax, dye and a little skill.

"The Go-Getter," a story that tells how to be one, by Peter B. Kyne.
"Swinburne," an estimate by John Drinkwater.
"Recreations of a Psychologist," by G. Stanley Hall. A collection of stories, reminiscences and sketches.
"Putnam's Vegetable Book."
"The Life of Jean Henri Fabre," by the Abbe Augustin Fabre. An authoritative biography of the great scientist.

Milk and Its Products
"Manual of Milk Products," by William A. Stocking. A reference book covering the entire subject of milk and its products.
"The New World," by G. Murray Atkin. The portrayal of character is the chief consideration of this novel.
"Tales of Fishes," by Zane Grey.
Stirring fishing adventures told from the experience of the author. This narrative includes descriptions of the catching of bonefish, dolphin, shark, pearlfish and wahoo, as well as the giant swordfish.

"Mothers' Day," from "Our American Holidays," compiled by Susan T.
Rice and edited by Robert H. Schauf-fler. A book which tells the origin and practice of the day.
"Smiling Pass," a sequel to "Smiles," a Rose of the Cumber-
lands, by Eliot H. Robinson.
"Two Children of the Foothills,"
by Elizabeth Harrison.
"Handicaps of Childhood," by H.
Addington Bruce. In this book the various aspects of the child's consciousness are analyzed and carefully detailed in relation to the corrective measures necessary for leading the child to a right conception of himself and of his world about him.
Such topics as mental backwardness, sulkiness, jealousy, selfishness, bashfulness, stammering, night terrors and children's reading are discussed.

Divided in Three Parts
"Sociology," Its Development and Application, by James Quayle Dealey. The first part of the book shows the relation of social science to the broad field of knowledge. The second part explains social origins and traces the development into the present social organization. The third part is a study of the factors in social progress.
"Selling Service with the Goods,"
by Warren O. Woodward and George A. Frederick. A complete analysis and synthesis on the planning, designing, construction and installation of window display.
"Winesburg, Ohio," by Sherwood
Anderson. Tales of Ohio small-town life.
"Capablanca's Chess Fundamentals," by J. R. Capablanca, champion chess player of the world, in which he explains the general principles of chess.
"William Shakespeare," a four-act
drama in blank verse, by Clemence Dane.
"Number 87," by Harrington Nest. The author has conceived a situation in which a scientist happens upon one of the secrets of nature and proceeds to apply its result to problems of present day interest, with tremendous far-reaching effect.

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sports Editor The Evening News
With the annual all-southern California track and field meet scheduled to take place Saturday, April 22, prep school coaches and their stars, from San Diego to Oxnard, will spend the majority of their time next week preparing for the affair, which is always the premier track event of the Southland track season.
The entry list is expected to contain approximately 200 athletes representing at least thirty schools.
According to advance dope on the various squads it would appear that the championship will have the following schools as serious contenders:
Lincoln and Manual Arts of the Los Angeles City League, Chaffey and Riverside of the Citrus League, Monrovia of the Central League, Harvard Military Academy and Huntington Beach. The latter named team was freely predicted by numerous experts to be the ultimate southern California champs, but its defeat last week by the Harvard cadets in the San Fernando valley meet proved to be a severe setback to its titular ambitions.
Lincoln School Favorite
The Lincoln High school stars, by their overwhelming victory for the Los Angeles city championship, are the outstanding favorites for first honors. The team is composed of a number of the members of last year's championship aggregation and is out to repeat. Manual Arts and Hollywood, who finished second and third, respectively, in the all-city meet, are given an outside chance for a victory.
A large amount of local interest in the meet will be directed toward the performance of Shaw, colored phenom of Monrovia. Although his favorite event is the quarter mile dash, Shaw is usually among the leaders in the high jump hurdles and the two shorter dashes. With two more athletes of the Shaw caliber, Monrovia would be practically certain of first place.
Following are the results of the three most important high school
meets held this season:
Los Angeles city meet—Lincoln
45, Manual Arts 31, Hollywood 26,
Polytechnic 17. Los Angeles high 14 1/2, San Diego 8, Jefferson 4, Pasadena 4, Long Beach 0.
San Fernando Valley meet—Harvard Military Academy 23, Huntington Beach 23, Monrovia 20, Claret
16, Owensmouth 15, Oxnard
14, San Fernando 10, El Monte 6,
Taft 5, Covina 2, Ventura 2, Bonita
2.
Citrus League—Chaffey 38, Riverside 37 1/2, Pomona 30 1/2, San Bernardino 23, Redlands 13.

Just Another Example of Our Ability to Care for Individual Requirements of Home Builders.

A practical, novel, convenient idea in modern home construction is reflected from this illustration.
The garage with bed room or sleeping porch above is built in connection with home, and because of its general compact arrangement makes it a favorite plan for home builders to adopt to build from.
The exterior has been divided into rooms that offer maximum conveniences.
The foundation is of concrete, exterior painted white with dark green trimmings. Moss green stained roof, and the dark red brick with white mortar joints produces a most pleasing contrast and a very attractive home.
In all the world there is no other service more complete, more practical than the one we have secured for you and we ask that you avail yourself of the really worth-while service we are prepared to render.

HOMES

reflect America's independence,

Are You An Independent American?
DO YOU OWN YOUR OWN HOME?

If Not, Now Is the Time to Build or Buy One.

Families everywhere are thinking, planning, building or acquiring homes. They have come to know that the ownership of a home stands for true Americanism, Independence, Protection, Contentment and Happiness, and creates in the minds of future Americans, your kiddies, Thrift, Honor and Love. Your teachings will be their guidance. What about their future? Are they to be renters or home owners? Knowing the advantages of Home Ownership to yourself and those most near and dear to you, and the fact that your rent money will care for home payments, transforming your present loss into a profitable investment, coupled with the inborn desire you have for ideal home environments, should be an incentive for you to make the start now.

Timely Advice

Big businesses and financiers are putting up buildings as fast as materials can be delivered to them. More commercial buildings and factories are under construction today than ever before.

Those who reason and study conditions know that now is the time to build.

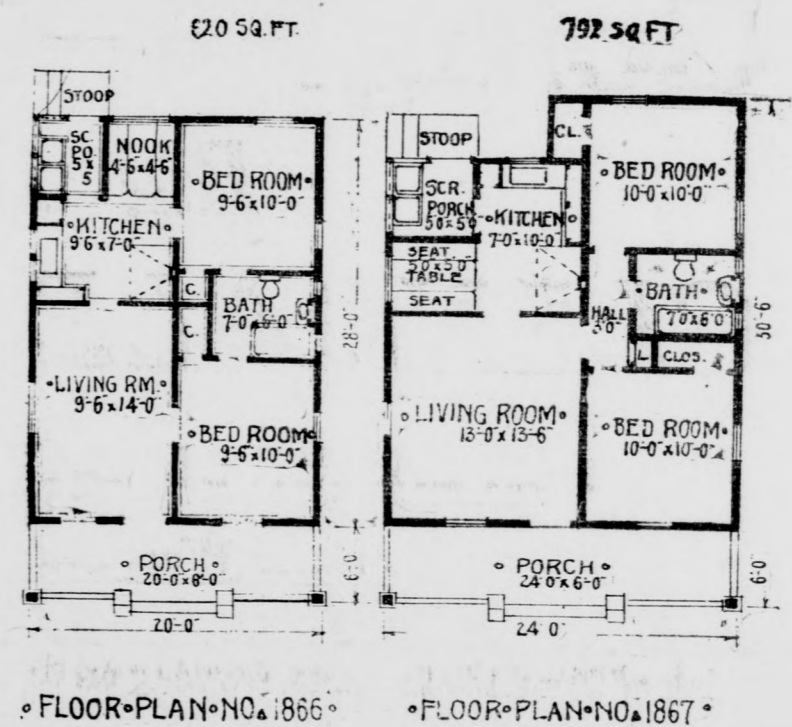

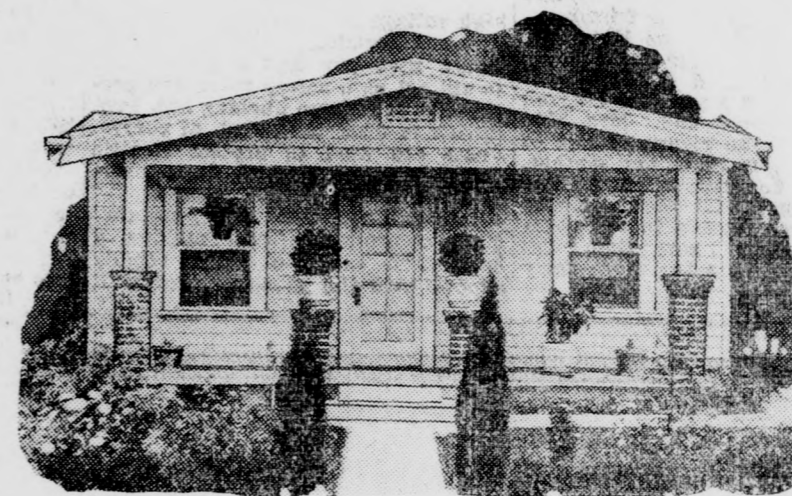

Does the fact that these men are spending billions of dollars for new buildings at this time mean anything to you, Mr. Renter? We believe it does, and our recommendation is that you select plans and arrange to have a home built at the earliest possible time while materials and competent labor are available.

You can't make money by waiting—now is the time to build.

PLANS 1866-1867

You will find in this distinctive little home plan idea many features not usually incorporated in a home so small, and conveniences that make it one of the most popular arrangements we have shown so far. Its simplicity of construction makes it inexpensive to build and the alternate floor plans with the varied division and sizes of rooms should indeed make it easy for you to adopt one of them to your needs.

We are anxious to be of every possible assistance to you and any additional information desired will be gladly given. Address Home Building Editor.

Radio Set Shortage Continues, Is Report

By GEORGE VAN SANDS
Radio Editor The Evening News

I have received a great many inquiries and phone calls from our readers wanting to know why it is when there is this big shortage of radio equipment on the market, dealers and manufacturers advertise such equipment for sale apparently leading prospective purchasers to believe no such shortage exists.

It is a fact that magazines and newspapers carry such advertisements, and, of course, there are quite a number of necessary parts to a receiving set on which there is no present shortage, but at the same time several of the most essential parts to a receiving set are absolutely impossible to buy at this time.

Had the pleasure of meeting the manager of the largest radio supply house on the west coast yesterday, and he informed me that his firm right at this time was actually discouraging the sale of equipment for the reason that it was a physical impossibility to fill their present orders, and that he did not look for any relief before the next thirty days. Talked with a dealer here in Glendale this morning; he had just one detector tube left that he was using on his own outfit, and told me that within the last few days he had been offered all the way from $10 to $25 for this tube, the regular retail price of which is $5. Another Glendale firm who are manufacturing small sets showed me fifteen sets already sold that were being held up for the want of bakelite on which to mount them. One of the best condensers on the market is manufactured in Los Angeles, and they are so far behind with orders that they will not even make any promise of delivery.

Dealers can take your orders, but, with the exception of the crystal detector type of receiver, can not make delivery of complete receivers. Naturally, orders will be filled in rotation, and those contemplating the purchase of a receiving set would make no mistake in placing their order with any responsible concern and in this way would be assured of the quickest possible action.

SEEK NOTORIOUS ROBBER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Police today sought Richard A. Palmer, known nation wide as a hotel thief, and who escaped from San Quentin prison February 23 as the robber who Wednesday night held up Mrs. Aubrey B. Vibbert, 33, wealthy New York widow, and robbed her of $1500 worth of diamonds while Miss Charlotte King of Chicago looked on, helpless to assist her friend.

Mrs. Vibbert and Miss King had just stepped into their room when the robber appeared in the doorway. He carried a gun and ordered them to make no sound. Mrs. Vibbert pleaded for the return of one of her rings, a gift from her mother, and the robber responded to her plea. Cutting the telephone wire he locked the two women in the room and it was not until some time later that they were able to secure their release.

NEW APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN
RADIO ENGINEER, CUTTING AND WASHINGTON RADIO CORP.

How exasperating it is to have someone play with your pet radio receiver in your absence and burn out the filament of your best vacuum tube. Or, perhaps in connecting up the receiver, you accidentally get a high voltage battery connected to the filament terminals. You probably would wish you had a fuse which would act as a safety valve and prevent the tube from burning out. Protection is what is needed, of course. Fuses are used to protect electric house lighting circuits from overloads; why not in this case?

Recognizing this need, certain manufacturers are now making a fuse which can be very readily slipped over the prong or prongs of a vacuum tube, which are connected to the tube filament. Nothing could be simpler. It is advisable to use two fuses for each tube, one on each filament prong.

The fuse material is contained in a little cartridge, which has a brass cap on each end. One cap has a hole, into which the prong will slip, while the other is a flat surface, which makes contact with the socket contact piece. Any tube sockets can be used.

The fuses are made for carrying capacities of 1/2, 1, 1 1/4, 1 1/2, 2, 2 1/2, and 3 amperes. They can be used for protecting delicate measuring instruments (meters) or anywhere else that protection is desired with low carrying capacity. They are really good insurance, and most probably are already finding a wide market.

VALVE ATTACHMENT

The valve sleeve of an automobile tire is designed to prevent moisture from entering the tire through the valve opening of the rim. It also excludes dust and grit, and tends to prevent the tire from being thrown from the rim in case of a blowout or other difficulties, when the car is in motion.

Miss Lois Webb, Soon To Wed, Honor Guest

Miss Lois Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Webb of 127 West Chestnut street, has been honored at several social events during the past week in compliment to her approach marriage to B. W. Sherwood of this city. On Thursday night she was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Miss Dorothy Jane Bolt of 611 North Central avenue. A color scheme of pink and green was carried out in the decorations and refreshments and a social evening of games and music was enjoyed.

The guests included Miss Lois Webb, Miss Myra Johns, Miss Gladys Peckham, Miss Harriet Barnes, Miss Edith Hageman, Miss Ha Mae McClammy, Miss Helen Vrendenberg, Miss Elizabeth Allen, Miss Elaine Hudson, Miss Helen Sherwood, Miss Jane Snyder, Mrs. J. Curreit, Mrs. Mrs. Marshall Pearson, Miss Pearl Pollock and Miss Dorothy Jane Bolt.

On Monday night Miss Webb was the guest of honor at a china shower given by Mrs. Marshall Pearson and Miss Pearl Pollock at the home of the latter, 115 Arden avenue.

OVERHAULING THE CAR

It is customary to overhaul a motor at least once a year. The valves are ground, carbon removed, bearings refitted and worn parts rebushed or replaced. Added to this, an attractive coat of paint usually constitutes a general overhauling.

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

ELECTROMAGNETIC INDUCTION

If a circuit containing a coil of wire is placed so that the coil is in close proximity to a coil in a second circuit we may refer to the first coil as the "primary" and the second as the "secondary." If an electric current flows in either circuit it will, of course, flow through the coil in the circuit. An alternating electric current is one which alternately increases and decreases in strength and reverses its direction of flow. We are just now principally interested in the fact that the current strength does alternately increase and decrease. Suppose that such a current flows in the primary coil. The magnetic field surrounding that coil increases and decreases with the current strength. That is, it expands and contracts periodically with the increases and decreases. In expanding and contracting the magnetic field cuts across the turns of wire in the secondary coil. Due to this expansion and contraction, the field which surrounds the secondary coil is constantly varying, and an electromotive force will be created in it by "electromagnetic induction." If the coil is in a closed circuit an electric current will be forced to flow because of this electromotive force or pressure. The current in the secondary coil and circuit is said to be "induced" by the alternating current flowing in the primary coil and circuit. If the number of turns of wire in the secondary coil is greater than the number of turns in the primary coil, the voltage (electromotive force) in the secondary is greater than that in the primary, and we have what is known as a "step-up transformer." Such transformers are in daily use in radio work, as well as electric power work. If the secondary turns are fewer than the primary turns, we have a "step-down transformer," and the secondary voltage is lower than the primary.

The interesting thing is that, by electromagnetic induction, a current can be forced to flow in a secondary circuit. Also, that if the source of power is an alternating current we can either step the voltage up or down at will by using a suitably constructed transformer. It quite often happens that an alternating current at 15,000 to 20,000 volts is desired in a radio circuit. A generator to furnish this high electromotive force would be impractical, so an alternating current is fed into the primary of a transformer at, say, a pressure of 110 volts and produces a pressure of the desired high voltage in the transformer secondary.

In the case of an alternating current transformer it is quite customary to wind the primary around an iron core and to wind the secondary over the primary. An insulating tube or layer of insulating material is used to separate the primary from the secondary winding.

JOHNSON IN TARIFF FIGHT

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California today flung himself into the thick of the fight being waged by the Republican "agricultural tariff bloc" to insure the earliest possible enactment of this session of the pending tariff bill with its high "protective" rates on agricultural products. "It is the first tariff bill to be really generous to the West," Senator Johnson said. "As a whole it gives better and higher protection to California products than ever before."

The "big five" directing the "bloc's" tariff activities consist of Senators Johnson, McNary of Oregon, Gooding of Idaho, Capper of Kansas and Nicholson of Colorado. After meeting to carefully consider the agricultural schedules of the bill as it was reported by the Republican majority in control of the senate finance committee, they decided the measure is "in the main satisfactory" but the demand of the "bloc" for substantial increases in certain agricultural rates should be pressed hard in the senate.

ATTENTION TO TUBES

Use strips of cotton flannel when rolling up a tube. Sprinkle a talcum powder into a thick cloth bag before placing the roll therein.

FIND TRACES OF POISON

ROCKFORD, Ill., April 15.—An analysis of the contents of the stomach of Miss Grace M. Hoffman, 17, a student at Rockford college for women, who died early Thursday under mysterious circumstances, was being made today by Kenneth Jones, city chemist. Traces of strychnine already have been discovered and the analysis will be continued to determine the nature of other contents of the stomach.

Miss Hoffman, whose home was at West Branch, Iowa, was found in convulsions in bed by her roommate, Miss Evelyn Sexauer of LaCrosse, Wis. Dr. Robert Borland, the college physician, was summoned but Miss Hoffman died shortly afterward without making a statement. A post mortem examination was conducted by Dr. Clarence Boswell, county physician, and the vital organs turned over to City Chemist Jones.

A PAINT TIP

The automobile owner who intends to do any repainting work before the summer months should see that all exposed oil holes are stuffed with felt or waste to prevent their being painted over and so choked. The latter condition will result in failure of oil to reach the bearings when the car is again being operated.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: What instrument can be put with a crystal set to improve range and volume?—E. B. W., Glendale.

Answer: As you do not state just what you are now using with your crystal set am not in position to suggest anything that might improve it. Write me fully as to just how your set is made up, and I can then possibly offer some suggestion that will give you the information desired. Let me add, however, that any type of crystal set has its limitations and you must not expect too much from that type of receiver.

Question: My aerial consists of two wires in an unfinished attic. Is it necessary to ground such an aerial against lightning?—G. W., Glendale.

Answer: It is not necessary.

Question: Do the aerial and the tuner have to be made of the same kind of wire, and is No. 22 wire the best? Does the sliding rod have to be made of brass or can it be made of wood, and how do you make a variable condenser?—X. Y. Z.

Answer: (1) Aerial can be of any size wire, preferably No. 14 hard-drawn copper.

(2) Yes.

(3) Sliding rods must be made of metal, preferably brass.

(4) Variable condenser is made of aluminum plates. If you are connected with manual training school work, it can be made in machine shop. Watch The News for full instructions later.

Question: Will you please tell the size and amount of turns of wire to use on vario-meter, primary and rotor winding? Please state size and amount of turns of wire to be used on loose coupler?—J. L. K., Glendale.

Answer: (1) There is only one winding in vario-meter. Use No. 22 cotton covered wire.

(2) Loose coupler should be wound from end to end in one layer, using No. 22 enameled copper wire on primary winding and No. 22 silk covered on secondary. Amount of wire will depend on size and length of your loose-coupler.

Question: Will you please tell me how to make a .001 and .0005 fixed condenser?—C. A. H., Glendale.

Answer: It will not pay you to make it. You can buy them for 25 cents.

PLAN TO STOP STRIKERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—An effort towards preventing future paralysis of the country's production through strikes was made in legislation presented to the house by Representative Huddleston, Democrat, of Alabama. Huddleston introduced a bill to give the attorney general authority to have a receiver appointed to operate any mine where production was suspended.

leadership of E. B. Stout of Pasadena. The rite of baptism will commence the evening service.

Arrange Special Program

A special musical program has been arranged by the choir for the evening service. "Sing Hallelujah Forth" will be sung by a quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Blaikie of 1113 Viola street and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cotton of 1137 San Rafael avenue.

Rev. Brink will preach at the evening service on the topic, "Alive for Evermore." The choir will sing two anthems, "The Gloria from the Twelfth Mass" by Mozart, and the other, "Christ Is Risen" by Adams.

Children will be christened and new members will be received into the congregation of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church Sunday morning.

Special Easter services will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the English Lutheran Mission.

Rev. E. Michel will preach upon the subject, "Christ Is Risen, Our Faith Sealed."

"Does the fact that Christ arose from the dead prove that He was the Son of God?" will be answered by C. A. Tingalls, pastor of the Pentecostal Assembly at 633 East Colorado street.

No Evening Service There will be no evening service at the Congregational church.

A Sunday school program will be given at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Charles A. Parker of 212 North Orange street; C. A. Comford of 301 South Central avenue, and H. W. Varick of 307 West Wilson avenue compose a quartet which will sing at the morning service.

The subject of the sermon by Rev. C. M. Calderwood will be, "The Christ of Today."

"The Open Sepulchre" will be the subject of the morning sermon by Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church.

At Catholic Church Special music has been prepared for the two masses to be celebrated at the Holy Family Catholic church tomorrow in observance of Easter.

The first mass will occur at 7:30 a. m. when the children's choir under the personal direction of Miss Ada Gies of 823 North Brand boulevard will sing seasonal carols and anthems.

The second mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a. m. by the Rev. James S. O'Neill. Oliver Emerson's "Festival Mass in E Flat" will be sung by the choir which now numbers thirty-five voices.

The last twilight recital for the benefit of the organ fund will start at 4 o'clock in the Glendale theatre.

ception of members and preparatory members. The sermon subject will be "The Resurrection." Evening: At 6 o'clock, special American Legion night. Social teaup hour in charge of the pastor and his wife.

The program will include vocal selections by Comrade Keamoku Louis, accompanied by D. S. Hollingshead, humorous readings by Mrs. Donald Magill late of Washington, D. C., piano selections by D. S. Hollingshead, and vocal selections by Mrs. Dr. W. W. Warriner, and community singing. Refreshments will be served.

At 7:30 o'clock p. m., Chaplain Preston will address the Legion men on the subject, "Two Kinds of Warfare." Choir will provide special music. All ex-service men and their ladies are cordially invited to both services.

After an unusual attendance at St. Mark's during Lent the parish is looking forward to a glorious Easter. The Queen of Festivals, "The Legend of the Easter Egg," has been prepared a beautiful program of music, and the church will be appropriately decorated in white and green.

The program for the day is as follows: Holy Communion, 8 a. m. Instruction for Confirmation by Dr. Cornell, 9:15 a. m. Church school, 9:45 a. m. Sermon and holy communion, 11 a. m.

It is hoped that the offerings for the day will remove the last dollar of debt remaining on the parish. Subject of the Easter sermon, "What the Resurrection Means to Us," Bishop Stevens will visit St. Mark's on Sunday after Easter, April 23, and at the morning service will administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation and preach the sermon.

A cordial invitation is extended to all. CENTRAL AVENUE METHODIST S. Central at Palmer. The 100 per cent family church.

Easter--The Day of Inspiration

EASTER SUNDAY—the annual church festival day commemorating Christ's resurrection—will be observed tomorrow, beginning with exercises at earliest dawn on the hilltops and concluding with services starting at sunset.

It is the one day of the year dedicated to the salvation of the soul of man, for the Saviour died that we might live. It is a day of inspiration and many a humble worshipper will journey late tonight or early tomorrow to the hilltop from which they will see the dawn of a new life in Christ arisen from the grave.

In every church special programs have been arranged for morning and evening services. The Easter music will be an attraction. The invigorated faith of the sermons preached by the pastors will be well worth hearing.

With prosperity prevailing, gardens blooming, crops ripening, and the city growing as never before, Glendale bids fair to have a most joyous Eastertide.

sonal direction of Mr. Harry Girard, organist and choirmaster, assisted by the Holy Family choir, which now numbers thirty-five voices. Oliver Emerson's Festival Mass in E Flat will be rendered and the offertory will be Jules Granier's Hosanna, sung by Mr. Girard.

Ridge Route Journey Proves Alluring Now

Glenn D. Willaman, managing director of the California Real Estate association, accompanied by Mrs. Willaman and Gil A. Cowan, city editor of The Glendale Evening News, motored to Bakersfield late yesterday afternoon in the former's new Buick touring car which made the Ridge Route without a shift of gears.

Not having been run more than 200 miles, it took a little over five hours to make the 123 miles without injuring the engine, but the performance was perfect. At this time of the year the verdure of the hills is most alluring and the snow-topped peaks lend a chill to the altitudinous ozone.

Late in the afternoon seems to be the ideal time to go north on the ridge as traffic is lighter than in the morning. Stops may be made at Hotel Durant on Lake Castaic or in Bakersfield for the night if the party is continuing through to San Francisco.

Mr. Cowan returned to Glendale this morning while Mr. Willaman continued to Selma and Porterville on realty board business. Both called at the Bakersfield Morning Echo office where they were employed in 1917.

Is Matrimony Failure? T. D. L. Answers That In Comedy Production

The T. D. & L. theatre last evening fairly shook with laughter. At one time it was the women; then a few seconds later the men and then at odd intervals it was both together. This sequence of incidents so happened because the picture that was being screened fitted itself to these outbursts of spontaneous laughter. It was a Paramount Special comedy, "Is Matrimony a Failure," filmed with an all star cast and directed by James Cruze.

The laughter which arose then can readily be understood from the title and from the thousand and one little household incidents so recognizable to the individual members of the audience. When one of the male players on the screen scored a minor victory, the male members of the audience chortled and when the women players scored a big victory every few seconds, then the fair sex among the lookers-on applauded vigorously. As for the youngsters present they recognized what was going on as a reproduction of what they see so often in their own homes and were highly enthusiastic.

Presenting a big and vitally important problem in a manner which makes it at once as entertaining as it is instructive, is the accomplishment of the Paramount picture, "The Cradle," Ethel Clayton's latest starring creation, which comes to the T. D. & L. theatre tomorrow.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Good Publicity Seeker Greatest Outdoor Sport At Bat For Last Time Coming Week Is Heavy

By Gil A. Cowan
SHAWNEE, Okla., takes a unique method of obtaining publicity. The secretary of their Chamber of Commerce, E. R. Waite, sends out the following letter to the editors of the newspapers in this country:

"Shawnee, Oklahoma, is a live city because it believes in advertising! 'Some cities are awake, some asleep and some dead.' 'If you want to know the condition of a city that you may chance to be in, don't ask the real estate men for they will want to sell you something before you know whether or not the city is worth staying in. Don't ask the merchants because they are a mixed lot and you might strike a dead one.' 'The easiest way to find out about the city is to get copies of the newspapers of the city and look at the advertising columns. They will tell you everything you want to know.' 'When you see that the merchants, the real estate men, the manufacturers, the small businesses, the banks, the hotels and other enterprises of the city are not well represented in the papers of the city, you need go no further; that city is not healthy. Its business men are not wide awake and progressive. It is deficient in all that goes to make prosperity. That city is no place for you.' 'What you want is a live place to live in, not a dead one to die in!' Now how could one help but print that advice, when it expresses one's own idea exactly.

Golf may lure the busy business man. So may shows. The baseball bug is active as ever, but— Motoring is the one great outdoor recreation for southern Californians. Any old afternoon it is a real pleasure to get out on the highway and drive and drive and drive. It matters little where you go, it matters little what you know, for the enjoyment of seeing things is a privilege enjoyed by all except those who are blind. Yet, for a fact, there are some so blind they cannot see—cannot see the road clear to the ownership of a machine. Talk to the Glendale dealers and ask them how easy it is to have a car of your own.

"Cap" Anson is dead! Such was the news which was flashed from Chicago late yesterday afternoon. One of the most famous of old-time ball players had crossed "home plate" safe following several days' illness. Hundreds of baseball fans here will remember "Cap" Anson, who held a position in the sporting world that was unique. What he wrote thousands read and believed. What he did was watched by this same following. "Cap" carried the crowd and they will be sorry to learn of his death.

A busy week is ahead for the Glendale booster. There is the Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting, a general get together, a forum meeting, a trade excursion and other events which should keep the busy business man a little busier than usual. The trade excursion promises to be one of the biggest things put over this year. Coming as it does on Wednesday, there is every opportunity for the merchant and professional man to get out and get acquainted with the people who live in Glendale's vicinity.

Miss Alice Frank Is Honored at Luncheon

Mrs. R. W. Meeker of 1320 East Colorado street entertained with a luncheon and bridge party at the assembly room in Hollywood today in honor of Miss Alice Frank, who is to become the bride of Harry A. James on April 18. The guests were members of the wedding party. Decorations of purple and white iris were used. The place cards were of little brides. The nut baskets were decorated with little wedding bells and lilies of the valley, and the score cards were in the shape of silver slippers.

Special Easter Sale of Lots Announced

Haddock-Nibley Co., 400 Hibernian building, Los Angeles, owners of "The Wonder Tract," are putting on a special Easter Sunday pre-opening sale of valuable lots located in the green, grassy slopes of Glendale Heights. The company is extending the public a special invitation to spend Easter Sunday looking over the ten lots which will be offered at a special low price for the opening. According to the realtors, the lots are located in the path of growing Glendale, toward Los Angeles. They state that thirty new houses are going up in Glendale Heights with some of them nearing completion already. The lots face on Adams street and they assert that the lots are highest value for the money in realty in southern California.

ORDERS FOR RED ARMY

MOSCOW, April 15.—Leon Trotsky, commissar for war in Russian soviet government, has issued a general order to the red army saying that Russia will not demobilize any of her soldiers until the "bourgeoisie" and capitalist powers agree to limit land armaments.

U. S. FAR IN REAR OF EUROPE WITH ARMY EXPENSE

For Every Dollar America Is Spending, France Puts Out Seven, England Four

By HARRY L. ROGERS, Written for International News Service WASHINGTON—For every dollar per capita which the United States is spending today on her army France is spending seven and Great Britain is spending four, according to figures made public by the general staff of the United States Army.

Figuring the population of the United States at 135,000,000 and the amount expended on the army at $343,155,363, War Department officials estimate the per capita expenditure at $3.22. This contrasts with $22.52 per capita for the French army $12.35 per capita for the British Empire forces, $6.70 per capita for Italy, and $3.38 for Japan.

Considered from the point of view of national wealth, the United States is far in the rear of other nations of the world in the amount expended for the military establishment. With an estimated wealth of $350,000,000,000, the United States is expending 10-100 per cent upon her army, while the British Empire, with an estimated wealth of $800,524,500,000, is spending 45 per cent; France, with $100,000,000,000, is spending 93 per cent; Italy, with $30,000,000,000, is spending 82 per cent, and Japan, with $25,000,000,000, is spending 76 per cent.

These figures leave out of account the fact that the American soldier is the highest-paid soldier in the world, and that, in proportion to man-power the American army is scarcely superior to many of the comparatively insignificant Balkan States.

Warning in Army Report
After enumerating the essential purposes for which the army must be used, if the National Defense act of 1920 is to be carried out, the report of the General Staff says: "Any further reduction in the enlisted strength will at once force a decision as to which of the missions of the army must be altered, curtailed or abandoned altogether." Officials of the War Department are particularly concerned over suggestions that appropriations for the maintenance of instruction to the National Guard and the Reserve Corps, both officers and enlisted personnel, of the army be heavily slashed. If these appropriations are cut down, they contend, the whole spirit of the National Defense act, which they regard as the first definite statement of military policy for the United States, will be lost, and the whole value of the experiences of the World War will be dissipated.

Frank Booth to Take Up New Business Here

Frank Booth of 318 East Broadway is making arrangements to dispose of his established grocery business of over twelve years' standing and embarking in the real estate, insurance and brokerage and auctioneering business.

In the near future, Mr. Booth expects to build a two or three store building on the property owned by him on the southwest corner of Kenwood street and Broadway. One of these stores he will occupy as his headquarters after he and Mrs. Booth have taken a well-earned rest.

Fifteen years' residence in Glendale will enable Mr. Booth to advise prospective buyers right. This fact, combined with his business training, will fit him well for his new business venture, his many friends here point out.
