its obligations. The federal revenue from the fisheries of this province is but a bagatelle compared with the expenditures. It is therefore not from a desire to make profit from the exploitation of the fisheries that the Dominion government desires an amicable adjustment of the unfortunate dispute in regard to jurisdiction.

EARL GREY AND HIS SUCCESSOR.

The glamor of Canada is upon Earl Grey. The Governor-General has seen all of this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He has covered more ground than any previous occupant of Rideau Hall, and evidently the more he has seen of it the more he is impressed with its possibilities.

METEORS, COMETS AND SUPERSTITION.

The Boston Transcript says it does not appear that there hangs a tail. Not so, thereby hangs many a weird tale, as perturbed housewives in various parts of the world can testify. But the crop is falling now that the comet has changed its period of visibility from the morning to the evening.

Congratulations, Lieut. Mulcahy.

Your friends are almost legion, and they will be more than delighted to hear of your well-merited promotion.

Colonel Roosevelt continues his triumphal progress.

He was presented to a Teddy Bear by the students of Cambridge University to-day and with a degree by the professors. The Colonel took the joke in high good humor and the honors with becoming appreciation.

Stories of Mark Twain multiply.

The humorist is saddled with a statement to the effect that "the catfish is a plenty good enough fish for anybody." Perhaps it is in the neighborhood of the Missouri and the Mississippi, where they have nothing better, but we know of people in British Columbia who would take pleasure in depositing the man who brought catfish here permanently in the "drumly" waters of these classic rivers.

There is a political party in this country which believes, or affected to believe, a short time ago, that we are building too many railways in Canada. When the Grand Trunk proposition was before the country these people of little faith said one transcontinental railway was sufficient for all requirements.

Montreal Herald: The controversy over the King's oath serves at least to remind us how different is the state of the world and of Great Britain from what it was in the days when the oath was written.

In those days the Kings of England were content to regard themselves as vassals, in fact, to the King of France, and to take his money. The ablest of British statesmen were similarly tainted.

The TIMES Granted Honor Marks in Circulation

THE TIMES HAS RECEIVED from the head office of the Association of American Advertisers, a handsome certificate, confirming and authenticating its circulation statement for the year just closed.

THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN ADVERTISERS is composed of most of the national advertisers of this continent—firms which are interested above all others in ascertaining the exact number of subscribers served by each of the newspapers of America.

Alex. W. Costigan, one of the expert actuaries for the Association, visited Victoria the last week of the year, and spent two or three days in examining the circulation records in the Times Office. His exhaustive examination extended to press count, paper invoices, returns, etc., each being checked carefully and compared. As a result the Times has been accorded HONOR MARKS and a place among the limited number of daily newspapers whose circulation claims are verified and guaranteed by the A. A. A.

This certificate is accepted even before the sworn returns of publishers by the national advertisers, being made by experienced and thorough investigators, whose only object is to obtain the facts for their employers.

All advertising contracts made with the Times are based on this proved circulation in a constituency where the purchasing power of the unit is greater than anywhere else in Canada.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER. Atlantic City, N. J., May 25.—William Seyler returned home here to-day a free man, having been acquitted of the murder of Jane Adams. The police are being censured for false statements they made concerning the case and for the methods they adopted in building up evidence against Seyler.

WILL DEVELOP POWER. Farnham, Que., May 25.—Voting took place yesterday on the by-law to authorize the city council to develop water-power and it was carried. The council will spend about $100,000 in developing this power for the purpose of supplying the town with electric light, and also that they may have sufficient power to offer any industry that may locate here in the future.

FASHION NOTES

Black pipings are in great favor, being used to emphasize important lines of a costume. They serve excellently the desire for a touch of black. Rough straws are decidedly smart this season, and strange as it may seem to the uninitiated, the rougher the straw, the costlier the hat may be.

The Gibson plaits are used a great deal in children's dresses this season. By means of these plaits the necessary fullness may be admirably adjusted.

Turbans made entirely of net, arranged in a series of remarkable folds, swirls or loops are now seen. They are decidedly smart, but very vulnerable to dust. More and more vivid are the yoke effects seen in the new skirts as the season advances. Stitching is a favorite mode of finishing the joining of plaits to the yoke.

Color in lingerie gowns is sometimes introduced in the designs of the lace or embroidery trimmings, or again in the girde or about the collarless neck and sleeves.

The coat closing at the waist line is preferred for early summer suits as it provides the deep opening which is pretty with the lingerie waist and the fashionable frill.

Fantastically colored wooden beads have a distinct place in present fashions. Tunics edged with wooden beads dyed to match the color of the gown are decidedly effective.

Two things especially the law of fashion requires this season. One is that the skirt must be short, clearing the floor about three inches. The other is that gowns must be collarless.

Modish one-piece dresses of linen, buttoned in front have low necks with Dutch or lingerie finishes. Other one-piece dresses are of Henriette, pongee, poplin, foulard and other silks.

Of the many veils that have appeared this season the spider web-like lace design that looks so well in colors to match the hat has proved the favorite.

Gold-colored straw trimmed with black is a combination of many of the most attractive modes for summer. Some of the best hat decorations are gold and silver.

Lingerie gowns, guileless of a collar, are frequently worn with a narrow black velvet band at the throat, on which may be a diamond or other jeweled ornament.

A detachable frill and detachable turnover collar is an addition to a smart white linen short waist of medium weight, which has the front covered with quarter-inch tucks.

There is a late fancy among some Parisian costumers for making the belts of the more elaborate gowns of a color in contrast to the whole color scheme of the garment.

Practical little striped gingham frocks for tiny folk of two to four years are in Russian style, or with a long French waist and full skirted skirts in bright or dark colors.

THANKS OF SISTERS

Sale of Work at St. Ann's Academy Was Well Patronized.

The Sisters of St. Ann are sincerely grateful to the good, staunch friends who so generously responded to the request on their part to patronize the sale of work in the new wing of the Academy, Monday afternoon and evening. The response surprised even the most sanguine hopes of the Sisters; for the proceeds, including drawings, etc., netted almost $600.

Heartfelt thanks are tendered to all those who in any way contributed to make the sale so profitable and satisfactory. A large centre-piece was raffled during the day and the lucky winner holds raffie ticket No. 38. If the person will present the ticket to the Sister Superior, St. Ann's Academy, the piece of work will be given.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

I heard of a new recipe for keeping young the other day.

Now don't brace yourself to be told to take a cold bath every morning, or drink ten cognacs a day, or eat only raw food, or practice athletic dancing, or join the "Don't Worry Club" and be

"So scared for fear you'll worry that you'll worry most to death."

This really is a distinctly new one. It was given by a marvellously young woman of seventy-five summers. When asked on a recent birthday how she managed to keep so young she answered promptly: "Because I have always championed at least one unpopular cause."

It seems to me there is a great deal in that sentence.

Enthusiasm for the ideal and the visionary is the heart and heart's blood of youth.

The man who refuses to let go his idealistic enthusiasm cannot grow old.

The beauty doctor insists upon tranquility to keep the face young.

For the face that may be the right course to pursue, but your mind and soul will be much better kept young by ceaseless activity, and especially activity in some great cause that puts your hand in hand with progressive humanity so that the electric current of dreams and desires for progress shall be continually buzzing through you.

"The youth who daily farther from the east Must travel, still is nature's priest, And by the vision splendid Is on his way attended: At length the Man perceives it die away, And fade into the light of common day."

So Wordsworth describes the passing of youth and thereby suggests the best way to keep youth always with you, which is to refuse to let the "Vision Splendid" the passionate reaching towards an ideal, ever slip away from you.

Beautiful Julia Ward Howe is ninety years young to-day, instead of being a useless and decrepit old woman, because all her life her heart and soul has always been alive and aflame with enthusiasm for some great cause.

For thirty-five or forty years she worked for abolition, and when fruition of her hopes made her work no longer necessary, she turned her energies towards another of freedom's causes—Woman's Suffrage.

And I think you might almost say it is her interest in that cause that keeps her alive to-day. Should Woman's Suffrage be granted all over the United States, I think Julia Ward Howe would die, simply because her cause would need her no longer.

It is only when men and women get to the point where they are continually looking back at the years that are gone that they are old.

Join some great movement that is continually marching forward and keeps you of necessity facing the future, and you should never grow old though you could live—

"Till the years grow old and the stars grow cold And the leaves of the judgment book unfold."

SILVER SET FOR REV. A. J. DOULL

HONORED AT HANDS OF MONTREAL FRIENDS

His Former Congregation Sorry to Part With New Dean of Christ Church Cathedral

Previous to his departure from Montreal, Rev. A. J. Doull, who is to be instituted as rector of Christ Church cathedral on Sunday morning next, and who reached the city with his family this afternoon, was the recipient of a signal mark of appreciation and esteem at the hands of his many friends in that diocese. The Montreal Gazette, in its issue of May 15th, has the following reference to the pleasing affair:

The gathering of Montrealers to take leave of the rector of the Church of the Advent, Rev. A. J. Doull, last evening at Victoria hall, Westmount, was on a scale proportionate to the new dean's popularity, his ten years in this city having endeared him to many beyond the borders of his own congregation.

The function consisted of a presentation to Rev. Mr. Doull, music and a social hour.

The presentation, which consisted of a silver coffee service, was made on behalf of the congregation by the people's warden, Mr. F. G. Minsay, who said that it was with mixed feelings of sorrow and gladness that he felt to say farewell to Rev. Mr. Doull. "Sorrow in that they were losing one who had been a true guide and counsellor during the last ten years, and happiness knowing that he had been called to a higher and more important field of labor in the Far West, and Mr. Minsay, on behalf of the congregation, congratulated him on his elevation to the deanery of Christ Church cathedral at Victoria, B. C.

Rev. Mr. Doull, who had a cordial reception, declared that he had been deeply touched and gratified at the kind words that had been said in regard to his rectorship, and also the wishes expressed for his future. He felt unable to express adequately his thanks at the presentation. When on Easter Sunday morning he had been told that the church was free from debt, he had felt that the congregation had honored him greatly, and now their kindness had been crowned by this further generosity. Mrs. Doull and her family were always ready to give the gift and memories of the happy days they had spent in Westmount.

It was ten years since he had come among them, first as curate at the Church of the Advent in the present rector of Ottawa, Rev. Canon Kittson, and then for nine years as rector. During that time many had come and gone, but he had always been able to feel that there was a solid body of men and women ready to support him. He had thus been able to assure his successor that he was coming to a parish where every member would be a real friend. That was why he felt sorry to leave them. His own boy said: "If you feel sorry, why did you do it?" (Laughter and applause.) But, seriously, he was going to the West because he thought the call was from God. He felt that he was following the line of duty. He was glad that Mr. Little had been appointed to succeed him at the Church of the Advent. The new rector would, he felt sure, be a real spiritual power in the diocese. He asked them to give his successor hearty support from the first.

The Dean of Montreal then expressed his sorrow at losing Rev. Mr. Doull from the diocese of Montreal.

Rev. Mr. Doull will leave for the West at 10.30 to-morrow evening from Windsor street station.

CHARACTERISTIC REPLY.

Joseph Martin Takes Little Interest in Wall of the Publican.

London, May 25.—The general board representing the licensed victuallers of the country has received a striking reply from Joseph Martin, M. P., in reply to its appeal for support in its protest against Chancellor Lloyd-George's alleged oppression of the liquor trade.

"Many noble lords and members of parliament," remembering the doubts of the electoral power of the liquor vote, replied sympathetically. Mr. Martin wrote:

"Yours to hand. I take very little interest in the wall of the publican. If I had my way, the restrictions on liquor sellers would be much more severe than they are, and their licenses would cost much more."

When read at a meeting of the board the letter was received with laughter and cries of "shame." The chairman said this reply of the honorable gentleman would be borne in mind by trades.

Halifax, N. S., May 25.—Gas exploded in the furnaces of the I. C. R. power house at the station in this city and set fire to the building, badly damaging the roof. The fire had been banked before, and the force of the explosion blew out all the windows, the flames settling fire to the roof. Commander Cochrane, of H. M. S. Cornwall, which is lying in the stream, saw the fire and instantly despatched a squad of thirty jack tars to assist the fire department. The fire was extinguished without more damage than the loss of the roof.

NO IMPOSITION ON VICTORIA PUBLIC

Local People Charged Higher Rate Than Vancouverites Because It Was Their Day

There was a good deal of dissatisfaction expressed by a number of the excursionists who went to Vancouver for the holiday in having to pay $2.70 for their tickets when the Vancouver people coming here were charged only $2. Inquiries at the C. P. R. offices, however, discovered the fact that the cheap rate to this city was put on for the express purpose of benefiting the city, and there was no discrimination intended.

The special rate of two dollars was put on when it was decided to hold a regular Empire Day celebration in the city. Later when the committee decided to drop the celebration the C. P. R. officials thought it unwise to make any change in the rates. The rate was for those returning the same day only, whereas the rate from here to Vancouver was good for several days. Doubtless those Victorians who had to pay the higher rate will realize that it was all for their own good.

WERE NOT SLIGHTED.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth on Reception Accorded Canadian Ministers in London.

London, May 25.—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth is leaving for The Hague as what he calls business manager of the Canadian side of the fisheries tribunal. Mr. Aylesworth indignantly denied the published allegations that the Canadian representatives had been slighted in connection with the King's funeral.

"We were royally treated, like princes. Indeed, nothing could have been more courteous than the way we were considered."

Referring to the remarkable change in the general English official and unofficial attitude to Canada, Mr. Aylesworth added:

"The Dominion overseas nowadays are listened to and considered in a way they were not in olden days. Perhaps we are more worthy of consideration than we used to be. Young nations are very different from young colonies. As for the colonial office, I have nothing but kind words to say of its officials."

NEW CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP ENTHRONED

The Most Rev. Dr. Neil MacNeil Takes Charge of Large Archdiocese

Vancouver, May 25.—With the ornate ritual of the Church of Rome, the Most Rev. Dr. Neil MacNeil was enthroned to-day as archbishop of Vancouver. The ceremony took place in the Church of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary, which was crowded by a devout congregation. The advent of Archbishop MacNeil will inaugurate a new era of progress in Catholicism throughout the province. The archdiocese is one of the largest in the Dominion. His sway will extend from the Pacific to Alberta, and from Prince Rupert to Crow's Nest Pass.

His lordship is about 60 years and possesses a strong personality. Prior to his appointment to his eastern bishopric his grace experienced the joys and sorrows of an editor's life, having presided for some time over the destinies of a Catholic periodical.

JUDGE ON GRAND JURY.

New Westminster, May 25.—Addressing the grand jury at the opening of the spring assizes here yesterday, Mr. Justice Clement said that in his opinion the usefulness of the grand jury in criminal court proceedings had passed.

He also thought that in view of our modern system of popular government the same statement applied to views of the grand jury as to our public institutions. In earlier days the work of the grand jury in this regard was necessary, but he thought the better plan now was to take up such matters with our parliamentary representatives, who were readily found and most approachable.

What Other People Think

FIRE ALARM KEYS.

To the Editor: Will you kindly allow me a little space to register a decided protest against the present system of keeping keys of the fire alarm boxes in neighboring houses?

Last evening I passed one of the boxes while it was raining and it was necessary to light matches to see the address. Of course, it will often be possible to wait until the fire gets going and then get the information desired by the light of the fire itself, but that is surely not desirable.

Now, Mr. Editor, we have a fully paid fire department and as they all remain their positions we must suppose that they are, from the chief down, satisfied and are not participating in the distribution of any charity fund. Therefore, as they are fully paid for their time to work for the city, would it not be better if they did that work and were called out every day to answer a false alarm than that the houses and even the city itself be endangered to save some trouble, as it now seems? I have talked to several ratepayers about this and am writing this letter at the request of several, who have promised to follow it up.

There is no use having the chief make the run from the station to Burdette avenue in one minute, as he proudly intones, but because the people in the houses adjoining the boxes are sound sleepers. Yours for a useful fire department first; after that if possible, a thing of beauty.

"PROGRESS."

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT AND POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

To the Editor: During the inquiry before Judge Lampan there was revealed to the general public a condition of affairs in a certain section of the city that called very urgently for action on the part of the authorities.

A considerable interval has now elapsed since the judge made his report to the provincial government. The expectation that the report would result in the removal of the abuses that had been allowed to grow up in our midst has, so far at least, not been realized. Lawlessness still reigns undisturbed in what is euphemistically termed the residential district. The law of Canada continues to be a dead letter in certain parts of the city. Owners and keepers of disorderly houses, members of Chinese syndicates and their white associates, are still permitted to draw large incomes from vice through the action of a faction of the police authorities.

It was not proved at the inquiry that money had been paid for the privilege of breaking the law with impunity. On the contrary, the evidence established the fact that there was no need to pay money to anyone, as the privilege was freely granted. During the inquiry and since, an effort has been made by certain specialists to create the impression that since there was no evidence that the police commissioners or the officers acting under their authority had been bribed by the law-breakers, that therefore they were blameless. One writer has even went so far as to say that the result of the inquiry cannot but be regarded as a triumph for Chief Langley and his staff. Those who recall the evidence can appreciate at its real value what kind of triumph it was. The police commissioners, or at least a majority of them, enabled the chief and his staff to obtain this triumph, not by any means by any means more exacting than to let the offenders alone, with the exception of a few regulations designed to hide their real character. In this we see that protection rather than suppression is the keynote of the policy that has and is being pursued by the authorities. Have they any legal right so to act? It is safe to say that no one will say they have. The truth is that neither the police commissioners or their officers have any dispensing power by which they can set the law of Canada aside and establish or continue to tolerate what they may deem a better substitute, and any such claim is contrary to the oath they take and subscribe on their appointment.

That the authorities are conscious that they occupy a false position in regard to this matter is clearly shown by their failure either to control or prohibit the sale of large quantities of liquor on these premises. The result is that every city by-law that is passed with a view to curtail or restrain the liquor trade in the interests of the community, is to a great extent frustrated through the policy of non-interference in the restricted district.

Judge Lampan, having made his report to the provincial government, it has now official knowledge of the law administration of the law on matters covered with the only fungus which has vitally affecting the health and general well-being of the city. The government appoints two of the police commissioners and has thus a controlling voice in dictating the moral policy of the city. Over and above this, the attorney-general is charged with the responsibility for the enforcement of the law. Every law-abiding citizen has a right to call on him to do his duty, so that offenders shall not be permitted any longer to ignore the law, but be made to observe it.

ELECTOR. STEWART'S PROGRESS.

To the Editor: As a pioneer I have been here a month, I have sized up the situation somewhat and thought that a short description of the men, matters and scenery of the camp might interest your readers.

The Stewart townsite is situated on a level gravel flat deposited by the overflow of Bear river. By the growth of cottonwoods I should say that it is twenty years since the last flood. I have no data to go on as to the next one.

Mountains about 5,000 feet high overshadow the town on the east side, and the American or Alaska boundary line threatens it on the other.

Daylight comes at 4 a. m. and lasts till 10 p. m., and the sound of hammers can be heard all of that time. The town certainly has a building boom. Fifth avenue is in the lead with Fourth a strong second.

Lots in the business portion range in price from $1,500 to $5,000; on Fifth there are, outside of the government lots, none for sale by the townsite people; they are renting solely, the usual rental being $50 per month.

Water comes at present from creeks and wells, but the town expects soon to have waterworks and electric light. The wharf is about a mile from the town. The trip across is by small boat at $1 per seat, and then one-half mile walk across mud flats. It is no trick the morning after steamer day to pick up from the mud a pair of two or three-heeled shoes. The town has one hotel complete and running and two large ones building. There are about six restaurants and several rooming houses, three large general stores and several cigar, fruit, etc., shops. One butcher shop and one drug store. We have real estate men galore, two lawyers, one doctor, one undertaker with four coffins, no Chinamen, no laundry.

Outside papers sell for 10 cents, magazines 25 cents, whisky 15 cents, the latter being fresh and nice. None of your old musty stuff. We have a new paper also, but owing to lack of compositors they are too busy setting up ads. to give us much news.

Carpenters are getting $5 per day, laborers 50 cents per hour, teamsters $4 a day and teams of four which there are about 20, get $2 an hour, and the hotel gets nearly the whole check.

The Mackenzie and Mann surveyors are here, but the ordinary layman does not know what they are doing. They are putting up stakes though with stereotypical on.

There are about 500 men on Bear river staking snow claims. In fact, the hills bordering Bear river are staked solidly to the head—about 15 miles in places three deep. There will be a lot of fun when the snow disappears. Probably fifty men have taken provisions over the morning's frozen snow to the head of Bear river and are now working down the slope to the head of the town, about twenty miles more. There are rumors of placer there.

Several companies start sending up men and supplies to the season's work. Tugs with lumber scows come in daily. We have about four passenger boats a week and about 300 of population added to our total by them.

There are behind this boom three or four fairly proven mines and a score of promising prospects. If Mr. Mann builds this projected road, and we have reason to believe that he will, there will be a stir here equal if not superior to that of Rossland in its halcyon days.

E. S. TOPPING. Stewart, May 18, 1910.

MUSHROOMS.

To the Editor: With reference to the case of fungus poisoning recently reported in the Times, may I, as a mushroom-grower of fourteen years' experience, offer a few remarks by way of caution to the unwary and of reassurance to those who, for fear of fatal consequences, unnecessarily deprive themselves of one of the most wholesome, and delicious of the "fruits" of the earth?

In nine cases out of ten—in fact, in every case which has come to my personal notice—the only fungus which has carried its mischief to the point of fatality, or even sickness, has been the deadly Amanita Phalloidea. This "toad-stool" (which, I believe, is found in most parts of the world), has a cap of yellowish color (sometimes entirely white and sometimes inclines to green covered with the only fungus which has carried its mischief to the point of fatality, or even sickness, has been the deadly Amanita Phalloidea. These lots cost $200 each; $25 cash and the above amounts work out to $10 per month per lot. They are cheap enough, but their cheapness is not by any means their best feature.

They are in a location so high that you can look over the church spires of the city and see the mountains across the Straits beyond them.

They are all cleared and cultivated, having been used for a vegetable garden.

The lots furthest away are not over fifteen minutes' walk to the car line. They are twelve minutes walk to the Gorge.

They lie between two roads where the trams are almost sure to pass the door.

There are only about four blocks left, over three-quarters having already been sold.

The remaining lots are the best of the subdivision, although two blocks further from the car.

BUILDING BRIDGE ACROSS THE SKEENA

Structure Will Be Rushed to Completion—Tramway at Kitse-las Canyon

Hazelton, May 25.—Road Superintendent Williscroft has brought the cables for the suspension bridge across the Skeena, which arrived at Rupert too late to be brought up the river last fall, on the steamer Port Simpson, together with equipment and tools for government work. Williscroft says the Skeena bridge will be rushed to completion and that road work will be in full swing in a short time.

A party of seven arrived on the steamer Omineca, bound for the Morice river to look over the coal measures. T. E. Jefferson and F. M. Dockrill are with the party and Mr. Dockrill states that they have two diamond drill outfits with them to be used in proving the value of their property. One is a steam power machine weighing six tons, and the other is a hand power affair.

Duncan Ross says the tramway to be used in transferring freight around the canyon at Kitse-las is well under way and will be completed by the time it is needed. A cable tram reaching from the water's edge on the lower side to the top of the hill is being put up, to be run by a winding engine. Wagon boxes will be loaded from steampans, taken to the top of the hill by the cable tram and placed on waiting wagons and hauled down hill to the upper side of the canyon. By using this device fifty or sixty tons of general freight can be easily handled in a day.

Reports from the Skeena are that ground is being broken for the new tunnel, 200 feet lower than the one driven during the winter and spring, and one is being taken out for the hundred ton shipment.
Recent arrivals from Bulkley valley say the roads are in fine condition, better than in any previous year at the same time.

WASHINGTON AWARDED RACE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY SHELL IS SWAMPED

Winners Were Leading by Four Lengths When Rivals Met With Mishap

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., May 26.—Taking the lead at the jump, the University of Washington eight-oared crew defeated the Stanford University crew over a three-mile course in 18:22 3/4.

The Stanford shell swamped at the two mile line with the Washington crew four lengths ahead and increasing the lead every minute. The Washington shell continued and was awarded the race.

Washington started with a 42 stroke, and after taking the lead, settled down to a steady swing of 34. Stanford got off with a 40 stroke, later dropping to 32.

In an attempt to run the race yesterday afternoon, both shells swamped. The Washington crew was ahead at the time, and the race was awarded to them over the protest of Stanford. Washington refused to accept the victory, however, and postponed their departure to Wisconsin 12 hours in order to run the race over again this morning. The Stanford men were picked up by a launch following in the wake of a life preserver was provided before the only one in their shell who was unable to swim.

The lake was still rough this morning, which accounts for the slow time, two minutes slower than what is considered a good record over the distance.

OBITUARY RECORD

On Saturday last at the family residence in Vancouver the death occurred of Mrs. Maria Shaw, relict of the late George T. Robinson. Deceased had resided in the Terminal City for 16 years and during that time she made many friends. She was also well known in this city.

Bishop Perrin will conduct the services both at the church and the graveside.

The death occurred last evening at the residence of Ald. A. McKeown, 1905 Yates street, of Zoe Will-Edith, the one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hurst and a grand daughter of Ald. McKeown. TWENTY-FOUR FEET OF ORE

RICHEST STRIKE MADE ON PORTLAND CANAL

Third Vein at Stewart Property Widens to 24 Feet, and is Richer Than Ever

A vein of solid ore 24 feet thick and tremendously rich is the latest strike in the Stewart mine on Portland Canal. This latest find is over two hundred feet below the surface. At the surface the outcroppings show about seven feet, but this has widened out until it has reached a thickness of 24 feet. Those who have visited it say that the interior glitters like a jeweller's shop with free milling gold, native silver and other ores, all of which are very rich.

This latest find sets at rest any doubt as to the stability of the Portland Canal mines. The tunnel in question was driven in from the bottom of a gulch over two hundred feet deep. There are three veins on that side of the gulch, all of which carry good showings, and have been proved to the same depth, and on the other side of the gulch there are two more veins; one of which has been proved at a good depth, and the other stripped at the surface.

Several tunnels have been driven in to the side of the gulch, but the first of these went only to the first and second veins, the third being rather back. Then it was decided to drive a tunnel from the bottom of the gulch horizontally, which could be used for shipping purposes as well as to prove the amount and quality of the ore. The third vein was struck some days ago just where they expected to find it, showing that the lead was true. A message was received later that they had penetrated the vein to a distance of 16 feet, and were still in ore. This was exciting, but as the directors of the mine had no object to gain in boosting up the stock, they said nothing about it except to their friends. Then yesterday came a wire message saying that the vein had been proved to be 24 feet thick and the ore just as rich, if not richer, than at the surface. Whether this increase of thickness continues is not known, and will not be known for some time, as the operations in the mine are being continued above the tunnel instead of below.

This tendency to widen out has been shown in the other veins, but not to such an extent. The second vein was found to be two feet wider than at the surface. There was a great deal of anxiety shown as to the third vein, and the directors would have been perfectly satisfied if it had held its seven feet, as expected. The striking of 24 feet was a great surprise, no one suspecting that it would have reached this width.

With five rich leads going to unknown depths the future of the Stewart mine and with it all the other Portland Canal properties in the neighborhood, has been settled beyond any shadow of a doubt. The Little Joe O. K. Fracture has struck one of the veins 1,500 feet lower, and Portland Canal and Glacier Creek are on the same lead. Each of these latter has proved the richness of the veins on their properties. Probably the ore bearing quartz extends even farther, but this has not yet been proved.

The tunnel which has just been driven in on the George E. claim. The tunnel runs into the side of the gulch to a distance of 130 feet, passing through all three veins. The work of driving and stopping has already commenced for the purpose of preparing the mine for shipping, and in the fall the ores from this mine will be on their way to the smelter.

HEALTH OFFICER WANTS REFORM

the centre of the building and here also would be stationed the matron, who would thus be able to keep an eye on every ward.

In contrast to this proposed modern method, Dr. Hall says that present conditions at the hospital are the reverse of economical. For instance, patients are confined in a series of detached quarters. This necessitates the building of separate fires in each quarter, and the handling of all material requires more help than would be the case were the pavilion plan followed. Dr. Hall is of the opinion that the cost of the improved structure would be met by the saving in labor and time over the old methods.

Asked if he was prepared to make a recommendation to the board of health as to choice of matron from the list of applicants handed to him some time ago, the medical health officer replied in the affirmative. He would recommend the selection of a lady who, in his opinion, possessed every qualification for the office. She is a trained nurse and will therefore be able to give patients at the isolation hospital that scientific attention so necessary.

Dr. Hall is much impressed with the need of means being taken to beautify the premises at the isolation hospital and render the environment more attractive. On this point he said: "Why, do you know that the only flowers to be seen about the whole place are a few bushes of broom, and these are in the premises occupied by the caretaker and his wife, which cannot be visited by the patients. Now this is not as it should be. Most of the patients, for a week or more before they are discharged, are able to be up and about, and to have the place unattractive as at present is contrary to the whole aim of science in the treatment of disease. I shall recommend that the park superintendent be instructed to go out and transplant the premises and see what he can do in this way of working an improvement."

Actresses were unknown in the earliest times, men performing the female parts.

REPULSED BY REVOLUTIONISTS

Five hundred Madriz troops engaged in the last charge. They were the men landed by the gunboat Venus, and reinforced by a small detachment of the attacking army.

There were many outpost skirmishes to-day, but it is believed there will be no general attack before to-morrow.

The greater part of the Madriz troops have fallen back towards Rama, where they are resting. Estrada is endeavoring to strengthen his entrenchments and secure reinforcements.

May Be Declared Pirate. Washington, D. C., May 26.—The Nicaraguan gunboat Venus may be classed as a pirate, following list issued by the state department to-day was notified officially of the action of the commander of the Venus. Secretary of State Knox is considering what action may be taken by the government.

The fact that the Esterozo, although flying a Nicaraguan flag, is an American vessel, complicates the situation.

FEELING RUNS HIGH AGAINST PRISONERS

Armed Duputies Guard Jail Where Five Men Accused of Murder Are Confined

(Times Leased Wire.)

Prairie City, Ore., May 25.—Fearing that mob violence might be attempted on the persons of five men who go on trial to-day for the lynching of Ollie Snyder here last Christmas, armed deputy sheriffs guarded the county jail at Canyon City during the night. Several guards with loaded rifles are on duty in the sheriff's office to protect the prisoners.

The men charged with being responsible for Snyder's death are: Deputy Sheriff Joe Casaday, Emmet and Earl Shields, Ben Hinton and Bert Green.

The charge will be murder in the first degree. An effort has been made to obtain counsel to assist in the prosecution of George Hader, a prominent attorney of Long Creek, has offered to contribute $500 toward the employment of James E. Fenelon, of Portland, to assist in the prosecution of Casaday, but the district attorney will refuse Mr. Fenelon's services unless he appears also in the other cases. The people are aroused and feeling against the accused men is intense.
