First Draft of Pastoral Stations Is Issued To-day

Rev. J. H. Wright, of Robson Memorial Church, Vancouver, New President of B. C. Methodist Conference.

One hundred and ninety persons responded to their names at the call of the secretary constituting the B. C. Methodist Conference at its opening general session this morning at the Metropolitan Church.

On the second ballot Rev. J. H. Wright, of Robson Memorial Church, Vancouver, was elected president for the 1921-22 period. In his opening address to the Conference the newly elected officer told the Conference that he would wear the honor in the name of the many returned men among the ministry.

He said that on his entry to the Province some twenty years since the first person to welcome him was Rev. Charles Ladner, whom he wished now to be seated on the platform.

Mr. Thompson As Secretary. The next election was that of secretary. Rev. J. Wesley Miller, of Armstrong, was again the choice. But Mr. Miller felt that as he had served the Conference a number of years, the honor should now fall upon someone else.

Mr. Miller declared his intention to still stick to clerical. "No body objects to a dog wearing a dog collar if he really is a dog" was his summary of the situation.

The Stationing Committee sat the greater part of the night, and issued a first draft later.

Liquor Sale to Start By July 1; Club Men Doubtful of Rights

Sale of liquor in British Columbia under Government Control must commence not later than July 1, the Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, Attorney-General and Acting Premier, announced shortly after noon to-day.

Hon. Mr. Farris said that this order had been given to the Liquor Board. The proclamation announcing Government control as effective will be issued by the Government as soon as the Board is ready.

At the same time, James H. Falconer, one of the Commissioners of the Board, announced that the Board expects to be able to open for business about the middle of June in main centres such as Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Nanaimo and possibly a few other places.

The six-storey Pither & Leiser liquor warehouse in Victoria has not been bought by the Board, but only leased. The price asked by the owners, $200,000 was considered too much. In Vancouver $150,000 has been paid for the Campbell Building, Healey Street, belonging to Charles E. Campbell.

The retail permit business will be gradually extended from the present Government liquor stores in Victoria and Vancouver.

Club Members Anxious. Club members are much concerned as to whether they will still be able to have liquor on their premises or drink beer in the dining room. The Liquor Board defines a "public place" as including "any place, building or passenger conveyance to which the public resort or to which the public are permitted to have access."

In the opinion of the Reparations Commission, Article 260 covers not only territories ceded by virtue of the Treaty of Versailles, but also those ceded in virtue of all treaties concluded between the Allies on the one hand and the former Allies of Germany on the other.

"The steamship Ballinger, with a number of Russians from Canada, arrived at Reval, but on account of our refusal to admit the passengers into Russia, was compelled to take them back. Give this fact the widest possible publicity, warning Russians against any attempt to reach Russia without passports issued by a Soviet representative."

ATTRACT SETTLERS TO THE PRAIRIES

Premiers to Meet Colonization Association Men.

Montreal, May 19.—Under the caption "The Land for the Settler," The Gazette in an editorial says:

"It is generally admitted that the ultimate salvation of the National Railways, if there is to be any at all, will depend upon a good bit of land in the West means more production; increased traffic on all lines of transportation and increased property for all Canada. The per capita debt, now so heavy as to be burdensome, will be reduced in proportion as the population grows. There are conditions that point to the necessity of an active immigration movement and emphasize the value of the work which is being undertaken by the Western Canada Colonization Association."

Objects. "It is perhaps unnecessary to repeat that this Association is not a money-making organization except in a broad national sense. It is a movement of men, prominent in Canadian affairs, men in the East as well as in the West, who have gathered together, out of their own pockets, sufficient capital to finance a scheme to settle the many thousands of acres of unoccupied lands now held by absentee owners, chiefly speculators, and lying within convenient distance of existing railways. The Association after a period of preparation, is now completing its plans of operation."

Basis. "In order to provide a definite basis for negotiation with prospective settlers, it is now necessary that the lands available should be listed at reasonable prices, good for a reasonable period. To this end the association has asked each of the prairie province Governments to create a land settlement board, with authority to require each owner of unoccupied land to place a sale valuation on his holdings, good for two years, such sale value to be the basis of the wild land taxation for the future. It is also desired that the absent owner should be given the opportunity to conclude the sale of his holdings to settlers, brought in by the Western Canada Colonization Association or any other colonization agency."

Favorably Received. "These proposals have been favorably received by the mercantile and financial interests of the West and by the United Farmers of Manitoba. They have received support of all the farm papers on the prairie and of the daily and weekly newspapers generally throughout the three prairie provinces. They are regarded favorably by the three prairie provinces concerned, and at the instance of Premier Norris of Manitoba, the three prairie province Premiers are to be called shortly to discuss the matter." (Concluded on page 14.)

Briand Says Treaty To Decide Problems In Silesian Area

Says French Wish Versailles Pact to Be Observed When Polish-German Boundary Line Drawn; Speaks of Lloyd George's Attitude.

Paris, May 19.—The French Government insists upon execution of the Versailles Treaty in drawing the frontier line between Germany and Poland in Upper Silesia, Premier Briand declared to newspaper correspondents. He reiterated statements he had made to newspaper men last Saturday when, answering the address of Premier Lloyd George before the House of Commons Friday, he declared that invasion of Silesian territory by Germany would not be tolerated by France.

M. Briand said he did not see the desirability of meeting Premier Lloyd George before all the documents relating to the Silesian plebiscite had been received from the Inter-Allied Commission at Oppeln.

PAPERS SUPPORT LLOYD GEORGE

London Writers Deal With Silesian Problem.

London, May 19.—Newspapers of the day today showed greater unanimity in endorsing Premier Lloyd George's declaration of the British attitude toward Poland and Silesia yesterday than they did his almost sensational statements before the House of Commons last Friday. There were in some instances references to the judiciousness of re-iterating Great Britain's viewpoint at this moment regarding a point already made sufficiently clear.

The Morning Post was alone in dissenting from the Premier's declarations, and in an editorial bearing the caption "Smashing the Entente" the newspaper maintained its antagonism against Premier Lloyd George's stand, which it declared to be "fantastic and absurd."

Criticism. "The manner in which the Premier's statement of last Friday was received by the French press was generally criticized in an editorial in the Gazette in an editorial says: "It is generally admitted that the ultimate salvation of the National Railways, if there is to be any at all, will depend upon a good bit of land in the West means more production; increased traffic on all lines of transportation and increased property for all Canada. The per capita debt, now so heavy as to be burdensome, will be reduced in proportion as the population grows. FRENCH CRITICIZE LLOYD GEORGE Writers Comment on Statements on Silesia.

Paris, May 19.—Declarations made regarding Poland and Silesia by Premier Lloyd George caused considerable criticism in French newspapers. There was little comment on the Premier's words this morning, but what there was seemed severe.

"Pertinax," the political editor of The Echo de Paris, said regarding the statement of Mr. Lloyd George: "Please give us even less if possible than you did yesterday. There is nothing in the discussion is open here raising his voice to establish the fact that he must always be right. The mist on the horizon are thicker than usual," he says, and he adds that unity between the Allies is more necessary than ever. "This is undoubtedly true, but there is nothing to prove that France should again stand the expense of that unity."

AUSTRALIANS ARE PLANNING CHANGES

Convention to Outline Constitution Revision.

Melbourne, Australia, May 18.—(Canadian Press)—The Commonwealth Parliament is to direct attention to consideration of the tariff while Mr. Hughes, the Prime Minister, is in England. Afterwards a bill will be introduced to provide for the assembly of a convention for the purpose of revising the Federal constitution.

The convention is expected to meet next year, and there is a considerable body of opinion in favor of centralizing greater authority in the Federal Legislature, of harmonizing taxation in order to prevent duplications, and of reducing the status of the State Parliaments. The convention may, however, go much farther than this, but everything depends on its composition, and its complete work is to be subject to popular ratification.

Shantung Plan Discussed At Conference in Tokio

Tokio, May 19.—According to Tokio newspapers, Shantung was the subject of discussion at yesterday's so-called Colonial Conference. Experts outlined the Government's policy of urging China open direct negotiations with Japan for restoration of Shantung, Japan to withdraw her troops from the Shantung railroad, renounce the coal and iron concessions acquired after the occupation of the region and request an arrangement for an open port at Tsing Tau instead of an exclusive Japanese settlement. As yet there has been no official announcement concerning conclusions reached at the conference.

Japanese residents in Manchuria have telegraphed the Government urging China open direct negotiations with Japan for restoration of Shantung, Japan to withdraw her troops from the Shantung railroad, renounce the coal and iron concessions acquired after the occupation of the region and request an arrangement for an open port at Tsing Tau instead of an exclusive Japanese settlement.

KING GEORGE TO GIVE LOWTHER, EX-SPEAKER TITLE

London, May 19.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Some curiosity is aroused here on the deferment of the announcement of a peerage for Rt. Hon. J. W. Lowther, formerly Speaker of the House of Commons. It is understood Mr. Lowther, who is about to visit Canada to present the Speaker's chair, preferred to reach the Dominion holding the name, but has carried through the last year he was Speaker of the House of Commons and that he will accept the peerage on his return.

THE NEW PRESIDENT

The new president has been 20 years in the Conference. He went overseas with his young son, enlisting as a private, and was promoted to a chaplaincy. He later took a post-graduate course in Edinburgh before returning to British Columbia.

MOVE TO REDUCE RAILWAY COSTS

Canadian Lines to Readjust Wage Schedules

Winnipeg, May 19.—Canadian railways will be affected by the cut in railway wages announced by the United States Railway Labor Board, according to local officials of the various railway labor organizations. Coming almost simultaneously with this decision is the announcement of the Canadian railways of an intention to revise the existing wage schedule, official notice of which was received by the unions affected here.
A dispatch said it had been stated at the offices of the Canadian Railway Association in Montreal yesterday that notices had been issued by the Canadian railways to the employees that the time had come for a general revision of wages and working conditions. This means a downward readjustment of wages, and abolition of the present conditions imposed on the carriers by the terms of the McAdoo award. Notices of revision of existing wage and working term agreements have been sent out by the railways, and these will be handled by the Railway Association of Canada on behalf of all the railways.

Conferences.
C. P. Riddell, secretary of the Railway Association, stated in Montreal yesterday that no immediate action was looked for, but that primary steps were being taken by the railways, which would be followed by conferences between the executives of the railways and representatives of the men.

Owing to a combination of trade depression and high costs, both the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific Railway shops were it was stated, contemplating another ten-day holiday.
Opposition.
Fort William, Ont., May 19.—A meeting of railroad workers of the Twin Cities is to be called within the next few days. It was hinted last night that plans will be made to fight any attempt at wage reductions.

EASTERNS WILL HAVE LIQUOR VOTE

St. John, May 19.—(Canadian Press)—There is no indication as yet as to when the Province of New Brunswick may expect a referendum vote on the question of the importation of liquor. The resolution requesting the Federal authorities to request the Legislature without a dissenting voice. There were only two speeches made in connection with the matter. It is thought, however, that there will be no poll until the Fall. Premier W. E. Foster will be in England most of the summer, and residents of the Province are not anxious to vote during the vacation months when the poll would not be as representative as it might at another time. The plebiscite may be held in October. At any rate it is not likely that it will be held before that time.

MANITOBANS ARE BUILDING ROADS

Winnipeg, May 19.—Manitoba will spend $2,325,000 on good roads and aid to municipalities this year, Hon. C. D. McPherson, Minister of Public Works, has announced. Road building is proceeding at full pace throughout the Province, he said, and many contracts are being let by municipalities.

SWALLOWS RADIUM.

Quincy, Ill., May 19.—Six thousand dollars' worth of radium which was accidentally swallowed by a patient in a hospital here was recovered by surgeons in two hours by a stomach incision. The patient was an elderly man being treated for throat trouble, and while the radium container was being applied he involuntarily gulped and swallowed it.

UNRESTRICTED TRADE URGED BY HOOVER

"Open Door" Is U. S. Secretary's Desire
New York, May 19.—Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, sounded a warning last night before the National Association of Manufacturers that combinations of exporters and importers in various countries again are seeking to dominate certain trades, which movement, if not remedied, can become a menace to world peace.
He made a plea for maintenance by all nations of the open door in world commerce, asserting there are many growths and tendencies to-day that make for the direct or indirect closing of the open door.
He declared the world is slowly making toward economic stability. If Europe can keep the peace for another year, he said, there will be no further cause for American charity.

MORE INTEREST IN NAVY LEAGUE URGED

Ontario Branch Faces Problems, Jarvis Says

Toronto, May 19.—Lack of public interest, a depleted treasury and a greater cost of maintenance were the problems facing the Ontario division of the Navy League of Canada, President Jarvis stated in an address at the annual meeting of the provincial general committee here last night. However, President Jarvis said he was sanguine for the future of the organization when its aims and objects and usefulness were fully understood by the people.

RELEASE OF DEBS URGED BY UNION

St. Louis, Mo., May 19.—A resolution requesting the immediate release of the Russian prisoners of war, and amnesty to all persons whose political beliefs formed the basis of their persecution, trial and imprisonment was adopted at the fifteenth biennial convention of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union yesterday.
The convention voted down a resolution advising recognition of the Russian Soviet by the United States and deferred action on a proposal that an appropriation be made to aid Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of participation in the San Francisco bomb explosion.

WOULD MAKE CHANGE FOR EX-SOLDIERS

Winnipeg, May 19.—Administration of the Soldier Settlement Board in Canada should be in the hands of individual provinces rather than under Federal control, for Provincial Government officials in charge of the Departments of Agriculture have a much wider knowledge of provincial conditions than can possibly prevail in Ottawa, said Col. Hamenley, for many years a member of the British House of Commons, representing the Woodstock division of Oxfordshire, during an interview while visiting this city.
Col. Hamenley is interested in bringing out Imperial ex-service men to Canada to settle on the land.

INTELLECTUALS IN RUSSIA STARVING

It is believed that Mr. Long accepted the offer of peerage with hesitancy, his inclinations being entirely for the retention of his seat in the Commons. His personality in public life is one acceptable to all parties. SEA-DOGS CAUSE FISHERMEN LOSSES

St. John, N. B., May 19.—(Canadian Press)—Sea-dogs are playing havoc with the fishing business in the mouth of the St. John River and adjoining waters. They are more numerous this season than for some time past and their attacks upon nets and weirs are more disastrous, fishermen say, than ever before.

A sea-dog is a good-sized seal and quite capable of making a great hole in a fishing net. Some nets have almost been ruined by the animals.
Not only are the sea-dogs damaging the fishing industry, but their presence in the waters is driving away schools of fish from the vicinity.

RESEARCH WORK WAS DISCUSSED

Ottawa, May 19.—(Canadian Press)—Establish a national research institute was given second reading in the Senate yesterday.
In commenting on it, Senator Casgrain suggested creation of a Senate committee of men interested in research to advise the Advisory Council of Research. He thought the institute should devote itself primarily to economy in food and forest products.

ARCHBISHOP SEES MORAL SLACKNESS

Halifax, May 18.—That the quick spirit permeating the lives of young people to-day is but one manifestation of the general slackness of moral principle that is gripping humanity and destroying its vitality was one of the assertions made by Archbishop Worrell in his charge to the Anglican Synod at its opening session here yesterday afternoon.
Parade and pleasure seemed to be all that counted, he declared, remarking further that "unpaid motorists carrying people away from unpaid churches in the summer resorts which are regarded as escapes from religious discipline."

CONSTANTINOPLE NEUTRAL ZONE

Constantinople, May 18.—Neutrality regulations have been put into operation by the High Commission here.
The proclamation declaring that Constantinople, the Straits and the Gulf of Ismid must be considered neutral territory, was handed to the Sultan's Government and Greek officials here. It requires that Greek warships must withdraw from the waters covered by the Allied order, and that irregular bands in Thrace and around the Gulf of Ismid must be suppressed. As the Allied troops are few, and there is a distinct Bolshevik movement in Asia Minor, proposals have been made to the Commission that General Wrangel's army, which has been here since it was driven out of the Crimea, be given the task of policing the Straits and Constantinople.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE SALES TAX

Ottawa Government Hears From Boards of Trade

Montreal, May 18.—In connection with protests against the proposals of the Minister of Finance, as outlined in the budget, for the imposition of the sales tax, various branches of the Montreal Board of Trade have been busy passing resolutions of dissatisfaction and forwarding them to Sir Henry Drayton. In addition to the Wholesale Grocers' Guild and the Produce Merchants' Association, the Montreal Wholesale Drygoods Association yesterday adopted a resolution supporting the principle of setting out in invoices the amount of the sales tax apart from the costs, and directed its secretary to send copies of this resolution to the drygoods sections of the boards of trade of Toronto, Winnipeg, Quebec and Halifax for further consideration and action.

FEWER "DRY" POLICE IN STATES

Washington, May 19.—Federal prohibition forces will be reduced more than two-thirds for forty days beginning Friday, because of a lack of funds to pay them. DOCTOR TALKS TO VISITING MINISTERS

Dr. Ernest Hall Gives Vigorous Characteristic Address

A lodge room packed to capacity, with auditors looking in at all the openings, gave evidence to all of the popular interest in Dr. Ernest Hall's address on "The Man and the Church."...

Kicking Out the Devil

The main play of the speech was upon the conservative position in thought. Dr. Hall belongs to the liberal school of thought, and told his auditors that "the devil" had been banished as an active agent in disease...

"A Vicious System"

As a sample on the question of unemployment, said the Doctor: "How many ministers who have come to the realization of the economic fact that unemployment is inevitable under our present system of private ownership and production for profit, have said so from the pulpit?..."

Regarding the popular interest in religion his words were: "If you do not agree that the man in the street recognizes the value of Christ's message let me tell you that in this city I asked a crowd that packed the Labor Hall for a show of hands as to those who believed in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man as taught by Jesus, at least 98 per cent. voted favorably."

Mr. Bell's Address. George Bell had a three minute comment on the note of "no pessimism."

CONFERENCE PRESIDENT

REV. B. COURTLAND FREEMAN

...and pointed out the positive and progressive programme working so successfully in many institutions throughout the country devoted to reform work—though "only palliative reform" as the Liberals aver.

His other topics consisted, in brief, the political sins of church members who had hanged the reform champions because of their divergent political interests, the economic basis of house shortage and the attendant sensuality of which it was the indirect but potent cause, the misdemeanors of the ministry who persist in "an irrational and wholly erroneous interpretation, especially of the Old Testament."...

This evening the annual report of Columbian College will be presented by the Principal, Rev. Dr. Sanford, the public session being under the auspices of the Educational interests of the church. At this time it is usual to present the report of the Board of Ryerson College, The Theological College, and the Brotherhood of Man as taught by Jesus, at least 98 per cent. voted favorably."

PRESIDENT KLINCK ON CHURCH'S PLACE Says Triple Alliance of Greed, Pessimism and Aggression Going Strong. The annual Lay Banquet call was responded to by having the school-room seated to capacity. The after-dinner speech of President Klinck to the Methodist Conference was marked by expressions of keen sympathy with the minister and the church's task and by evidences of first hand contact. His subject was "The Church as a Factor in National Building." He said in support of less clamor for more preaching that he himself had often wished that the ministry would "cast their pearls with less prodigality on Sunday" and thus afford the auditor time for digestion. The world, he thought, was more unselfish than it was ten years ago, but distinctly more selfish than it was two years ago. The question "Why didn't Christianity prevent the war?" he took as one of the greatest of prevention was never propounded as to why big business or education or science had not accomplished it. The answer, he said, had been explained by Dean Brown, who said that the reason it didn't was because "We didn't have enough Christianity on hand, and what we had on hand wasn't of the right sort." Reactionaries Stronger. The forces of reaction, he said, were stronger than for a half century past. The triple alliance of greed, pessimism and aggression are going strong. He referred to the all popular suspiciousness of the "man in the street." President Klinck referred to the popular interest evidenced in the church's business by the crowd attending the debate in the Empress Theatre, Vancouver, occasioned by the statement of one of the professors of the University that "Religion is the opium of the people." The claim had been made by radicals that "the church is the opium of the people." The church must stand in closest relation with all the forces spiritual now vitalizing society. It must have a regard for the recreational life of young people—"Play as well as pray." As to its relationship to politics he said: "The Government of this Province is not at Victoria, nor of the country at Ottawa." It is just where the people themselves are. The church must furnish leaders, but these leaders are most frequently leaders in disguise. As to education for religious leadership he asked "How can the Gospel run, have free course and be glorified when only one in a thousand speaks it?" and asked if some churches might not be described as "churches for the suppression of the Gospel." Applying a quotation of Sherwood Eddy he said "Canada is being called upon to-day to say by what principle she intends to live." Is it selfishness or service?

QUALIFIED ISOLATION.

While the Allied Supreme Council is preparing to deal with the Upper Silesian imbroglio the press on both sides of the English Channel is doing a good deal of speculating on its own. But it is somewhat surprising that any section of the British press should be disappointed over the decision of the United States to have nothing to do with the latest European rumpus.

Upper Silesia in a child of the Treaty of Versailles and the United States is no party to that document although the executive head of the nation at the time of its execution affixed his signature on behalf of the American people. But there is no reasonable ground for complaint in the attitude displayed by the United States in respect of Europe's lesser troubles.

None the less there is no reason on earth why the American people should be bothered about the escapades of a band of insurgents in Silesia. The Treaty prescribes for the case in point. If the subscribers to that memorable document do not choose to enforce its provisions they cannot attach any blame to the nation which has accepted no responsibility. The Harding Administration is firmly behind the Allies. When Germany attempted to intrigue it on the subject of reparations the debtor nation quickly discovered the amount of sympathy she could expect from the United States.

LOGANBERRIES.

When the loganberry growers of Vancouver Island consented to increase their output it was on the understanding that the juice making concerns in Oregon would be prepared to take practically every ounce of the surplus crop. With the prospect of this market in sight production has been increased and this year's output promises a large supply that will not be needed locally.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We are still waiting to hear the nature of the suspicion that has been aroused in connection with the advocacy of technical education.

Sundry German patriots are engaged in the propaganda business and one of their first efforts is an attempt to show that Germany was not responsible for the war.

THE CURE FOR THE ILLS OF THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD DOES NOT LIE IN RAISING UP A NEW RACE OF EXPERTS IN TECHNICAL THEORIES WHO MAY FIND NOTHING UPON WHICH TO EXERCISE THEIR KNOWLEDGE WHEN THEY SEEK TO EARN THEIR LIVELIHOODS.

Our morning contemporary gives expression to the foregoing sentiments in its arguments against the extension of technical training in British Columbia. It is not easy for us to suppose that it is intended to be serious.

HOW DARE HE?

As might have been expected The Morning Post is all alone in its suggestion that the recent speech and subsequent explanation of Mr. Lloyd George upon the Silesian question is a short cut to the destruction of the Entente. But the old Tory school and that mildewed type of diplomacy are getting a good many rude jolts these days.

AERIAL PATROL.

If the Forest Branch of the Provincial Department of Lands is able to curtail the cost of fighting forest fires and reduce the effects of the Summer hazards by inaugurating a system of patrol from the air it will have rendered a service to the public treasury in material and kind.

forts upon the scientific methods of fire fighting with greater success and with more satisfactory and quicker results than would be possible by any other means. There always will be forest fires no matter what procedure is employed to detect them in their early stages and to fight them when discovered; but the tremendous material loss and the expense involved in limiting it justifies the trial of any system that appears to promise greater protection for one of our most valuable natural possessions.

One of the Aldermen thought it was a good idea to provide the inmates of the Aged Men's Home with a dollar's worth of car tickets because "the expenditure of the money will save more than one dollar's worth of shoe leather a week."

Seelys towards which character and work no criticism has been launched. It is well worth while to recall what was once a piece of secret history, but is now secret no longer.

When things looked black in March, 1918, Lord Reading, at the instigation of the Prime Minister, sent him a memorable telegram, stating the necessities of the Allies. At the same time he saw President Wilson and urged him to expedite the despatch of the American troops to France. The President replied: "I will send 40,000 men per week if you can ship them."

Lord Reading cabled this to Mr. Lloyd George, who said for Sir Joseph and asked him if he could provide the transport. Sir Joseph, in his quiet, terse, Scots way, replied: "I will see that I can do. When must you have an answer? (Will this afternoon do?)" Mr. Lloyd George replied in the affirmative. In the afternoon Sir Joseph called again at Downing Street, and delivered himself of this laconic little speech, which meant so much to the world: "Prime Minister, I can do what you want. You can leave it to me." Needless to say, he was as good as his word. He could be accomplished by the British Mercantile Marine and the British Navy, and he used his knowledge to purpose.

Winnipeg, May 19.—A reduction of fifteen cents an hour will be made in the wages of local bridge and structural iron workers as a result of the Joint Council of Industry's decision presented to officials of the union last night. The previous wage agreement called for $1.25 an hour. The men have agreed to abide by the ruling.

WHAT THE CLUBS ARE DOING

Kiwianians Visit Bakery
The baking of bread, once a household art, is now a science to which the inventor and the chemist have contributed and are still contributing. Realization of this was brought home to members of the New Westminster Kiwanis Club Tuesday, when they held their weekly luncheon in the Tenth Street plant of Shelly Brothers, the guests of the firm, and heard an excellent talk on the subject by the president of the firm, W. C. Shelly, followed by an inspection of the plant.

An amazing feature of the affair was a mock presentation to Mr. Shelly, who is going to Edinburgh to attend the International Rotary convention, of a complete Highland outfit. The presentation was made by Mayor Johnston in a humorous speech, and he pressed Mr. Shelly to don the kilt there and then.

The gathering was held on the top floor of the big building in which the Mayor's office is located. Arrangements had been made to hold it when the stock of flour was low. The strictly utilitarian nature of the room was camouflaged by decorations of lilac, and wonderfully good results were obtained. Kiwanian Bert Thomas, local manager of the bakery, was congratulated on the success of the arrangement.

Prince Rupert Rotary
D. B. Morkill, the mining engineer, who is on his way to Stewart for the season, and who addressed the Prince Rupert Rotary Club en route, spoke of the spirit of the north.

"Mining activity depends largely on the price of the metals," he said. "The price went down last year but this condition will soon be corrected. The price of silver a little over a year ago was $1.30 an ounce and people said it would never go below a dollar. It dropped to fifty cents and now there are people who say it will never get back to a dollar, but it is steadily moving up and I look to see it go to eighty or ninety cents in the near future."

Discussing the Premier mine, Mr. Morkill said it had turned out bigger than anybody expected. He thought in ten years from now it would be bigger yet. Last season they shipped a million dollars worth, getting the ore out on sleighs. This was not a silver mine, as many people supposed, but a gold mine. There was rich silver mixed in the high grade.

The installation of the huge tramway would make it possible to ship much more ore and lower grade. This mine is the leading property of the district simply because more work has been done on it than on other properties.

THE CEMETERY
To the Editor:—There seems to be a misapprehension in the minds of some as to just what is intended in my proposal to the Inter-Municipal Cemetery Committee. This, apparently, arises from the fact that they have not read what I offered, and I think a matter of some importance to them.

My proposal was, and is, that I will provide a modern burial park, to be the absolute property of the Cemetery Trustees, and at all times with-

In their sole control, at least so far as I am concerned, as follows:
For the purchase price, $100,000, in municipal debentures, issued at market price, and bearing current rate of interest; and also $1 per burial space sold during the five-year period; 35 cents per burial space per annum for care and upkeep of the 10,000 burial spaces, and supervision; to be payable quarterly.

I am willing to undertake:
To produce to the Board of Cemetery Trustees a title in fee simple free from encumbrances, duly recorded.

To develop the said 10,000 burial spaces of the burial park during the period stipulated above, and to use my best skill, knowledge and ability to carry same on along modern lines.

To undertake that the ratepayers of the various municipalities owning the park will not be called upon to pay any portion of the purchase price, nor any portion of the interest, sinking fund or perpetual upkeep, by the debentures, as to all the other outgoing, solely out of revenue derived from the burial park.

To have burial spaces in the said park ready for interments within 60 days from date of signing or execution of agreement.

The agreement to be for the period of five years.

Thanking you for your valued space,

C. HIRAM BARBOCK.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts About Your Name: Its History, Its Meaning, Whence It Was Derived, Its Significance, Your Lucky Day and Lucky Jewel. By Mildred Marshall. (Copyright, 1921, by The Wheelwright Syndicate, Inc.)

MYRTLE.

Myrtle is both a floral and an appellative growing out of ancient Greek mythology. The fragrant white flowering shrub which adorns so many trim gardens is the modern product of the evergreen which bloomed on the Helianthus hills and occupied a place of honor in the gardens of Olympus. The ancients believed the myrtle to be sacred to Venus, goddess of love, and the superstition carried over into new world nomenclature, so that the fortunate possessor of the name of Myrtle is thought to possess the secret of love and attraction. Certainly, if she wears a sprig of Venus's symbol above her heart she will be irresistible, according to the "ancient belief."

Despite the charming fancy which accounts for its derivation, Myrtle is more often regarded as a floral name by etymologists. Its greatest vogue is undoubtedly in England, though of late years it has attained great popularity here, unfortunately losing much of its dignity in transit. The emerald is Myrtle's talismanic stone. It promises her success in love and protects her from a deceitful lover. The gift of prophetic vision is said to come to the bearer of the emerald. Tuesday is her lucky day and 6 her lucky number.

Miss Hazel Walker, a forthcoming June bride, was the raison d'être of a miscellaneous shower, arranged in her honor by Mr. and Mrs. Head of North Quadra Street. The affair which brought together some thirty friends of the bride-to-be, was charmingly conceived, an enormous rosebud containing the numerous gifts. Streamers of pink and green, tipples with sprays of apple blossom hung from the light and formed a canopy under which the presentation of gifts took place. Many lovely specimens and cut glass and silverware were also presented to the bride from parcels too large to be contained in the rosebud. Music and games and the delectable refreshments completed a very enjoyable evening.

Nursing Sister Hazel B. MacDonald, daughter of Coun. and Mrs. MacDonald, is paying a visit to her parents, Vancouver Heights, following a post-graduate course taken at St. Luke's Hospital, New York. Miss MacDonald is a graduate of the Vancouver General and the Royal Jubilee Hospitals, of Vancouver and Victoria respectively, and was one of the first to volunteer for overseas service. She first served with the Royal Army Medical Service and later with the C. A. M. C. After a brief visit she will proceed to San Francisco to stay with a brother before returning to the East.

The Sidney Athletic Association held its third annual ball on Tuesday evening in Bequest Hall, when some hundred and fifty guests assembled to dance to the melodious strains of Perry's orchestra. The North Saanich Women's Institute served a most delectable supper during the evening on tables decked with fragrant lilac blooms. The ladies responsible for this important interlude were Mesdames B. Deacon, Mopphelm, Whitney and Hearn; and an energetic and capable floor committee in charge of the dancing included Messrs. Hill, Dickson, Burton, Patchell, Robertson and Hambley.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

HOW MEADOW MICE LEARNED TO SWIM

A very—very long—long time ago there lived in a meadow a little mouse named Tip, because his family discovered that the tip of his nose was always poked into every place that his eyes could not reach. He was a very wise little fellow and did a great deal for his family and all that came after him, as you will soon learn.

One day Tip Mouse went down to the bank of the river that ran through the meadow where he lived with his brothers and sisters and his father and mother. Of course he should not have gone to the river, but it proved in this particular case that it was a good thing he did.

Right near the bank waddled Mm. Duck and all her ducklings, and Tip's eyes opened wide when he saw them all go down the bank and swim away on the water.

"I wish I could do that," sighed Tip. "Why don't you then?" said old Granny Duck, who happened to over-hear the wish.

"I'm afraid I should go down to the bottom of the river and be drowned," replied wise Tip Mouse. "I will teach you to swim," said old Granny Duck. "Just jump on my back and don't be afraid. I won't let you drown."

Tip Mouse did not feel at all safe on the back of Granny Duck, but he knew if he could learn to swim he would be the envy of all the meadow mice and that was worth trying for he thought.

Granny Duck took him out to the middle of the river and then she ducked her head, and shook her back and tumbled Tip off into the water.

He splashed and he kicked and pawed, but somehow he managed to keep his little head above the water. He forgot all about Granny Duck, he was so scared, and splashing and pawing he made his way to the bank, where he scrambled up more dead than alive.

Granny Duck came swimming along beside where he sat. "You will swim if you keep that up," she said. "That is the only way to learn. I always took my children right out to the middle of a pond and they had to swim."

"But I am not a duck," replied Tip Mouse. "I am sure I would have drowned if I had not reached the bank."

"Of course you would have drowned if you had not kept swimming," said Granny. "but you did, now try it again and see how easy it is."

Tip crawled down to the water edge and before he knew it Granny gave him a punch with one wing and away he went swimming and growing braver every minute.

Tip taught all his brothers and sisters to swim, and the ducks tell the story and say that was the way the first meadow mouse learned to swim long, long ago, and while no meadow mouse ever says it is so, not one of them has ever denied it, so it must be true.

WILL AID DESERVING CASE AT LUXTON

Mrs. R. H. Pooley can always be relied upon to provide a programme effective with the most sparkling talent of the hour, and her plans for this evening's concert at Luxton promise a wealth of attractions, including as they do, items by Mrs. Dorothy Rochford, Miss Dorothy Stuart Robertson, Major Davis, R. B. MacKenzie, and Mr. Hobday.

The entertainment will take the form of a benefit concert and dance, and will be held in the Luxton Hall. Its object should especially recommend itself, this being the rehabilitation of a returned soldier, recently married, whose home, unprotected by insurance, was entirely burned out a fortnight ago.

A delectable supper has been provided and the promoters hope that a very large attendance will crown their efforts and make the evening a financial success.

CARNIVAL BALL TO BE WONDERFUL AFFAIR

Mdte. Charlebois and Mr. Le Messurier, of Vancouver, to Assist with Programme

That there will be at least one thousand guests at the Queen of the Carnival Ball is now practically assured and everything points to a success that will completely outdistance anything of a like nature held in the city before.

Ernest Le Messurier and his talented accompanist from Vancouver will present their lightning cartoon act.

Mdte. Charlebois to Assist. Another announcement of great interest is that Mdte. Charlebois, formerly of the Russias Ballet, and an exceedingly talented lady will assist.

She will dance in the earlier part of the programme and will take the solo dance in the Oriental extravaganza.

The artists who are assisting are now busy rehearsing their parts, and assurance is given that the programme will undoubtedly be one of the finest ever presented here. A busy staff is now preparing the elaborate "props" that are to be used in the various extravaganzas.

Reservations are rapidly being made and those who intend patronizing this affair are advised to secure their tickets without delay. Permission has been granted to former military officers to wear uniforms on this occasion.

To add to the gaiety of the occasion serpentine will be sold, the proceeds going to swell the War Memorial Funds. Dainty souvenir programmes outlining the various cabaret acts will be available, also dance programmes.

Excellent Supper Arrangements. A running buffet will be served in the main dining room. Tables will be arranged in the form of a large horseshoe, beautifully decorated with stative, white tulips, purple iris, and broom; while from vase to vase will run streamers of ribbon and fern, while masses of broom will be advantageously displayed in the dining room. The table of the Carnival will entertain the official guests will be placed in the alcove and will be beautifully decorated.

The catering is in the hands of the hotel staff, and will be all that is to be desired. For those who desire to play the part of spectators special provision is being made in the ball room, and it is expected that a large number will attend to witness the gorgeous and elaborate programme.

A NIGHT OF FUN

Three K's to Entertain Under Auspices of Ladies' Auxiliary.
One of the most popular entertainments given by local talent will take place at the Christ Church School-room on Friday at 8 p. m. when the Three K's popular comedians will perform under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the G. W. V. Their programme consists of darkly minstrels whose facial grimaces are unsurpassed, a ventriloquist turn, which is one continual scream, and some clever conjuring which mystifies the audience. The classical element in their singing is superb. The results of this entertainment will go to swell the general funds of the G. W. V. A. which have been greatly depleted through the administration of relief; and now that Mrs. Ricketts the president and her colleagues have taken the matter up, much success is anticipated. Tickets may be obtained at the Secretary's office, 712 Fort Street, telephone 3777. Evening telephone, 1863.

A GAMBLE IN BEAUTY

BY NANCIBELLE HALE

ONE LOVE STORY YOU NEVER CAN FORGET.

The Romances of Two Sisters, Both Beautiful, One Demure, the Other Vampish—With Thrills in Every Chapter and an Unexpected Denouement.

CHAPTER III.

"Oh, Miss Varia, you look that lovely!" Annie exclaimed earnestly, standing back and eyeing the girl. "Do I, Annie? I do so want to look nice today. Vampish, wasn't it?"
In her soft blue suit lined with gray, with the high collar and cuffs of squirrel and the duvety hat, Varia was charming.
Her cheeks were just touched with rose, and her blue eyes were the color of cornflowers.
"Good-bye, Annie," she said; "no, kiss me!" and she drew Annie's rough cheek to her own. "I'll be Mrs. Amory the next time you see me!" She went to the window as she heard a motor car in the street below.
Lifting the dewy bunch of violets that had come that morning from John Amory, she untwisted the paper and, catching them up, ran down the stairs.
"Good-bye! By everyone!" she called, waving back to the servant that crowded in the doorway. She vaguely saw Sarah's wrinkled black face, and Jenny, the waitress, and Annie, frankly moaning with envy.
"Now, Dad!" she stepped into the limousine and her father got in after her, and as he settled down beside her, she slipped her hand into his.
"We've plenty of time," Varia's father said slowly. "I've told Martin to drive through the park. A man's daughter doesn't get married every day."
Varia looked up at him, at his beetling white brows and those gray eyes that could be so stern, at his red face with the white moustache and his high, aristocratic nose.
"But it's not going to be goodby, Dad, dear."
"Well, it's not going to be, it's got to be," he said, looking straight ahead. "But what I want to say is this, I never showed any favoritism, but you've always been the one"—he stopped and shook out his snowy handkerchief and blew his nose, "you're like your mother was when I married her against her father's wishes."
"You see, Dad, we all do it!" she laughed softly.
"No, child, but you don't know what you're doing. Take longer about it. I'll give you a year abroad, I'll go with you myself. I can stop business for a while. We'll roam wherever you fancy takes you. Come, Varia, that's a chance!" he looked at her eagerly.
"You want me to be happy?"
Her father answered, gruffly, "Of course."
"This is my happiness," Varia answered softly.
"Look at her again," he saw her face radiant with joy, her eyes, dewy as the violets she held, the look of a child waking from a blissful dream.
He lifted the speaking tube. "Martin, the Little Church Around the Corner," he commanded. Then he sat with a snow between his white brows, his arms crossed, silent, as the car glided smoothly through the sunset morning streets.
The car stopped at the curb. Varia stepped out. An old woman in a faded black shawl stopped and looked at her curiously, but Varia was only looking at the church to which a few leaves of ivy, defying the Winter, still clung.
As though in a dream, she found herself stepping up the steps on her father's arm. The sunlight shot down through a high window and cast a violet stain on the dark floor. There at the altar stood John Amory, for her, and the minister in his sober black.
How solemn it was! How still—how awe-inspiring! Varia caught her breath as she heard herself repeating those wonderful words:
"—to have and to hold from this day forward, for better for worse—"
As she felt the ring slip down over her finger, she saw John's face so white, so stern, almost the face of a stranger. It seemed:
"—that it was all over and, with her hand tucked in John's arm, she was standing on the sunny steps.
"I wanted to do something for you children," her father said in that new gruff voice. "Just a breakfast at the Plaza. I asked Adam and John's friend, Jim Cather, and Molly Stillwell. Just the young folks. Varia, he stopped and kissed her and she felt the tickle of his white moustache as it brushed her cheek.
"Oh, Dad, but aren't you coming?" Varia begged.
"He shook his head grimly and they saw him marching off down the street.
Still in her dream-world, with John at her side, Varia found herself getting out at the Plaza. Her cheeks were shining but she stopped at the entrance of the Rose Room to say "John, there's just one thing I want to do when I'll be back."
In the enclosed telephone booth she gave her number with dry lips.
"Not until she heard a familiar voice that drew her 'Hello' did her excitement abate.
"Is this you, Nina? Yes, Varia. I was married this morning to John Amory. I want you to know the gift of all, Nina dear, to wish me—"
"Where am I? At the Plaza. I hoped you would be home. You un-

FLEET FOOT to Business
IF you ask a man why he wears FLEET FOOT shoes to business, nine times out of ten he says, "because they are so comfortable."
FLEET FOOT shoes are comfortable. The fine rubber soles and heels take up the jar of walking. The canvas uppers are light, cool and easy on the feet. The shapes are designed by experts who know how to put good style into shoes that fit the feet snugly, yet are light and flexible.
Most men wear FLEET FOOT right through the summer. They have several pairs. Sensible oxfords for business—sport models for bowling, golf or tennis—a smart pump for evening wear—and perhaps heavy FLEET FOOT shoes for gardening or working around the house.
FLEET FOOT are so economical that you can have two or three pairs for the price of one pair of leather shoes.
Wear them this summer—put the whole family in FLEET FOOT.
The name FLEET FOOT in the style of lettering shown above, is stamped on every genuine FLEET FOOT Shoe—look for it.
FLEET FOOT shoes are sold by the leading shoe dealers everywhere.

HERE TO ADDRESS ORGANIZATIONS ON AIMS OF NEW ORGAN

E. Cannon, of Vancouver, is visiting Victoria at present and discussing with various local organizations the aims and policies of "The Empire Weekly," a weekly paper which is being published in the Terminal City to counteract the anti-British tendencies which, it is asserted, have manifested themselves in different parts of Canada. Mr. Cannon states that the policies of the paper enjoy the endorsement of the British Empire League, which now has branches in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster.

"At no time in the history of Western Canada in general, and British Columbia in particular, and Vancouver especially, has there been a more imperative need for an organ that will be the mouthpiece of those citizens who have stood loyally to their guns in fair and foul weather." "The Empire Weekly" states in its first issue.

JURY FIND DEATH BY ACCIDENT IN CYCLING TRAGEDY

Late A. Andrew Thorne Was Cycling With Head Down

Coroner E. C. Hart presided at an inquest held to-day at the B. C. Funeral Parlors to inquire into the death of the late Andrew Thorne, a thirteen-year-old pupil of the Collegiate School, who on Tuesday met his death following collision with a motor truck at the corner of Richmond Road and Fort Street.

The jury after hearing the evidence of the occurrence from A. D. Muskett, headmaster of the school; William Fairall, driver of the truck; and John Neary, who was passing by in an automobile at the time, returned a verdict of accidental death.

Mr. Muskett identified the boy as one of his pupils, and stated that he had been normal in every way and quite capable of taking care of himself.

Mr. Neary, who heard a slight crash while his car was proceeding east on Fort Street some twenty feet from the corner of Richmond Road told of stopping his car. He said the truck slowed down to a stop and on investigating found the boy in a pool of blood beneath the vehicle. The rear wheel of the truck had passed over his head. The whole occurrence from the crash until they found the boy dead lasted about three seconds, stated Mr. Neary.

Circumstances of Fatality.

Mr. Fairall, who was driving a two-ton coal truck at the time, told the circumstances that led up to the accident. He had first seen the boy approaching at a high rate of speed, cycling with his head down between the handlebars, east on Fort Street and approaching the triangular corner at Richmond. Witness had slowed his truck down to less than four miles an hour then to make the turn on to Fort Street and was about to do this when he noticed the boy, then some 60 feet away. Fairall applied his brakes, which were in excellent working order and slowed the truck down still further, thinking that the boy would pass on ahead, as he would have had plenty of time to do. When about thirty feet away the boy apparently lost control and the truck, losing his control of the bicycle in the moment. His feet left the pedals, and he tried to turn the bicycle to Richmond. There was twenty feet of space between the curb on Richmond, but the boy had lost control of the machine, which was running headlong for the centre of the truck at that time. The boy then passed out of sight behind the driver's hood, and apparently struck just in front of the rear wheels. The driver could not say anything about the actual occurrence from the time he lost sight of the boy, as the hood shielded the view.

He stopped the truck within six feet of the time of impact and around to find the boy lying dead underneath.

With Mr. Neary the driver lifted the body on to the truck and took it to the Jubilee Hospital, where a doctor pronounced life extinct. The driver then telephoned for the chief of police and tried to get Mr. Muskett, who he was informed was playing cricket in the hospital grounds.

In instructing the jury Coroner Hart warned them that nobody could be indicted unless gross carelessness had been shown. He said that evidence if there had been any neglect it had been on the part of the unfortunate victim of the accident.

Alfred Rylands, Alfred Mindum, John McGachie, Paul Carrier, S. Gilshorpe and Alexander Elliott composed the jury.

Capitals Annex Their First Series of Year

Broke Even With Tacoma Yesterday; Victoria Infielder Gave Tigers First Game, While Wallace's Brilliant Pitching and Bankhead's Fine Fielding Won Second Tussle; Yakima Here To-day.

First Game—Tacoma, 6; Victoria, 1.
Second Game—Victoria, 5; Tacoma, 2.

When the Capitals grabbed the second game of the double-header at the Stadium yesterday afternoon they succeeded in winning their first series of the season. Over in Vancouver in the opening series the Blankenship boys were overwhelmed. In Tacoma last week the Caps showed improvement and broke even on the six-game series. In the three games played with the Tigers here the locals took two. Now it remains to see how the series with Yakima will go. The "Crabapples" open here this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock and will play eight games.

Yesterday the best the Capitals could do was to break even in the double-header with the Tigers. The first game was tossed away by the infield which contributed five errors in the sixth and seventh innings.

Errors Worried Easter.
Easter was picked on by Manager Blankenship to do the flinging for the Capitals, and went along nicely for five innings. Then the infield started to wobble. This worried Easter and he could not keep the ball away from the grooves. Tacoma started to hit and Blankenship ordered Easter to the duck-pond and Washington finished the game.

Cross twirled a very effective game for Tacoma and let the Capitals down with a double which was collected by Rego and made to count for doubles. One of Rego's out turned in the only run the Capitals secured.

The Trouble Starts.
In the sixth Tacoma tied the score on Dempsey's error, a hit and a fielder's choice. When the Tigers straggled to the bat in the seventh things happened quickly and fast. Handley booted the Sox driver and Easter missed Easter's throw to catch Cable off second. O'Brien slapped a single to right and Gomez followed with another to the same place. Rego let the return to the plate get past him and the base-runners advanced. Grantham made Easter swing his deep centre and cleaning up the bases.

The Tigers scored again in the eighth on a double by Choriton and Stevens' single.

A Pretty Game.
The second game was the nicest of the series. It produced some excellent pitching and the fielding was just brilliant. Not a Bankhead was the star in the field, grabbing two high balls in deep centre. In the ninth his one hand spear in a long fly near the boards in centre field saved Tacoma from scoring two runs.

Lean Bob Wallace, the former Los Angeles flinger, went the whole route for Victoria. He used a fast-breaking curve ball which had the Tigers helpless. In the first seven innings Wallace yielded but two hits and no runner got passed first base. In the first five innings but fifteen men faced him. Tacoma scored their only run in the eighth when a base on balls, an error and a single sent two runners across the plate.

Eley Went Quickly.
The Capitals got the run-getting bug into their heads early, and they were helped along by the erratic pitching of Eley. In the first inning Eley seemed to have a barrel of stuff, but in the second he heaved the ball all over the Stadium. He gave two bases on balls, made three wild pitches and was kicked for single, all of which gave the Capitals three runs. Manager Mullen did not allow Eley to linger any longer on the mound. O'Brien, a huge right-hander, went in and for five times the Caps got neither hits nor runs.

Two Homers For Locals.
The stands were electrified in the eighth by the hitting display of the Blankens. With two away Bankhead hit the first home run over the new right field fence. Handley, not to be outdone, clouted a long drive into Bellevue Street at right centre. Dempsey tried hard to tickle the boards, but the best he could do was

 Has Dempsey been overrated? After viewing his battle with Bill Brennan, in Madison Square Garden on the night of December 14, and then seeing the motion picture of the affair, even a novice is bound to admit that Dempsey is not infallible, and to look forward with some temerity to the meeting between "The Man Killer" and Georges Carpentier, scheduled for sometime, somewhere this year. It ought to be one of the rules of the Boxing Commission that all championship battles be filmed, for it is only on the unfailing evidence of the camera, that disputes can be

"Look pleasant, please," urged Director David W. Smith whimsically, addressing a handsome black horse, who was supposed to be enjoying this, you know.
 The horse looked pleasant enough, but he did not toss his head proudly as he was supposed to do. He seemed eager to please, and he had learned to like Mr. Smith, but he did not quite get the idea, although he was a well bred and highly intelligent animal. He was supposed to be expressing gratification over the name, "Black Beauty," which had just been given him by Mrs. Gordon. Instead, he registered attentive interest and thoughtful perplexity as David Smith spoke to him. The camera was clicking.
 "That's all right, keep on!" cried the director. "This will go for scene hundred-sixty one. Black Beauty is listening to Sir Oliver's story. All right! cut! Hey! Camera!"
 For the Black Beauty horse, acting in an altogether equine fashion, as Anna Sewell described him more than forty years ago, had suddenly pricked up his ears and registered pleased interest in Director Smith's excitement. The occasion was when Gonzales, the big blustering sergeant, made a vicious lunge at him with a real rapier that just missed him by a hair's breadth. It penetrated three inches deep in a wine cask nearby. The audience certainly gathers much amusement over that scene in the picture. "Doug stated, 'but it was no amusement to see me when I came along, glittering weapon hurled at me.'"

VARIETY

Douglas Fairbanks, starring in "The Mark of Zorro," now showing at the Variety Theatre, stoutly declares that a real genuine thriller was dished to him when the picture was being filmed. LITTLE THEATRE

A few nights ago a passer-by on Oak Bay Avenue saw the sign "House Full" outside the Little Theatre where "Erminie" was being played. Being apparently of a sceptical turn of mind he suggested to his companion that he should call the bluff of the management by asking for seats. Approaching the box office he asked for a couple of seats and was told by the fair presiding genius that the house had been sold out before the rise of the curtain. He refused to be convinced and declared in an audible aside to his companion that this was all advertising camouflage. However his curiosity had been piqued and he then endeavoured to book for the following evening and was told that he could only get two seats at some distance apart. So popular has "Erminie" proved to patrons of the Little Theatre that it has been decided to extend the run of the production until Saturday next. The capacity of the Little Theatre (as its name implies) is limited and with the almost unprecedented advance sale of seats it is certain that many intending patrons will be disappointed through neglecting to book until too late.
 Seats may be booked daily at Kent's Edison Store between the hours of 9 and 6 and after 7 p. m. at the theatre. A telephone has now been installed at the Little Theatre, No. 7218X.

ROYAL VICTORIA

In addition to appearing in the chic costume of a French maid, Constance Tailmage will be seen in some very smart and up-to-the-minute styles in her latest Associated First National release, "Lessons in Love," which will be the attraction again to-day at the Royal Victoria Theatre. For clever aerial performers who startle the audience with a succession of amazing turns on the trapeze. The three artists in this act are graceful aerial contortionists and figure in some sensational feats.

 The vocal and instrumental contributions of The Paramount Four are well received. The members of this troupe are musicians of marked ability and their efforts in this direction, combined with their vocal accomplishments, make the turn especially attractive.
 Les Morse captivates everybody in her single act which she is pleased to style "Do You Remember." She has a classy repertoire of classical and popular and jazz selections which, contributed by such a dainty maiden, are bound to please.
 Lots of wholesome comedy is provided by Benny Harrison and Ross Robinson and the team is assured a generous hand.
 An added attraction is put on by Mowatt and Mullen, appearing in a classy juggling novelty. Pantages show this week is worth seeing.

BLACK BEAUTY DRAWING CONTEST

There is a keen rivalry among the children for the three prizes given for the best drawing of the famous horse "Black Beauty." Quite a large number of drawings have already been received at the box office at the Dominion Theatre. And as there are only two days more before the contest closes, to-day and Friday, all children are advised to hurry up and get their picture in the running.

DATES SET FOR PERFORMANCE

Will Produce Greek Play, "Danae," on June 27, 28 and 29

In order that the best and most suitable date should be selected for the Pastoral Play at Gonzales, the authors invited those who are taking charge of the various departments, to meet at the Empress Hotel for tea on Tuesday to discuss the situation from the weather standpoint. Among those present were: Mrs. Adams Beck, Mrs. H. R. Beaven, Mrs. Fred Bell, Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green, Miss Hickman, Lady Percy, Mrs. F. B. Pemberton, Mrs. R. H. Pooley, Messrs. Kenneth Angus, Norman Buckle, L. Bullock-Webster, Gordon Cameron, A. D. Ford, H. F. Hewett and R. B. Mackenzie.
 It was unanimously decided that the most suitable dates would be June 27, 28, 29, with a matinee on the last day.

KIPLING FILM

L. E. Ouimet, president and general manager of Specialty Film Import Limited, announces that Kipling's first picture "Without Benefit of Clergy" is practically finished at the Bruntton Studio in Los Angeles, and that furthermore, has been fortunate enough to secure the Canadian showing rights of this, and succeeding pictures. From private information which he has received, there is no doubt that "Without Benefit of Clergy" is one of the most notable productions in the history of moving pictures. The utmost care has been taken with the production, the Oriental setting for accuracy of detail, color, lighting and general fidelity to truth have never been equalled, while the story itself, being a Kipling effort, has naturally an emotional appeal that is unending.

Fifty Dollars a Month
 (Guaranteed to you by the Canada Life)

You know of men well up in years who are still "drudging along". They cannot stop if they would, but must go on to the end of their days working for a living. You can avoid that.

How Fifty Dollars a Month looks to the Average Man

Age 20—Happy on Fifty Dollars a month.

Age 21—Fifty Dollars a month is not enough.

Age 35—Thinks he can easily afford to "spend" Fifty Dollars a month

Age 50—Things are not going as well as they were.

Age 55—Strange how these assets have depreciated! Fifty Dollars a month is good interest on $10,000, and not to be despised.

Age 60—He finds Fifty Dollars a month pension, added to what income is left, brings happiness.

Why Not Pension Yourself?

Why not "take stock" of your present financial position—to size up your personal affairs and decide on a plan for the future?

Our New Pension Plan

guarantees that upon reaching a certain age in life, you will receive a monthly cheque for $50.00, $100, $200, $250—as you may now decide—and this monthly payment cannot cease as long as you live.

An Income for Life

Think what it may mean to you to be certain of an income right up to the end of life, when you consider that 97% of people in their later years are partially or wholly dependent upon others for support.

When they were younger they did not have the chance now offered you. It was not then possible to secure such a convenient and certain provision as this Monthly Pension Plan.

And This is Not All

Suppose some day before you reach age sixty you meet with a mishap and become totally and permanently disabled through accident, illness or any cause. (Such a thing has happened soon after men have secured this new policy of the Canada Life.) Immediately, the payment of further premiums would be cancelled. The Canada Life would become responsible for sending you $50.00, $100, $200, $250, a month, as arranged, for the rest of your life.

There are many other benefits.
 An average deposit of only a few dollars a month will return you $50.00 a month later on.

VANCOUVER ISLAND NEWS

Presentation Made.

Nanaimo—A presentation and address was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Wilson by the members of the executive of the Wallace Street Methodist Sunday School at their home Monday evening as a token of appreciation of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson's services to the school. The address was read by R. J. Covey, superintendent of the school, while Miss E. K. Rogers presented Mr. and Mrs. Wilson with a beautiful cut glass berry bowl.

Fatal Accident.

Nanaimo—A fatal accident occurred in the mine of the Granby Consolidated Mining Company at Cassidy Wednesday morning, when David Robertson, a miner, was instantly killed by a fall of rock. The victim of the accident was working with his father-in-law, A. Vacheres, who, however, escaped injury. Deceased, who was from Nanaimo, leaves a widow and two children to mourn his death.

Chautauqua Begins.

Duncan—a big crowd in the afternoon and a packed house in the evening greeted the opening series of Chautauqua week in Duncan Wednesday, when the programme included selections by the Bell Ringers' Male Quartette, and a most inspiring and intensely interesting address by Miss Arthur C. Lait, "Canada at Cross Roads," was included in the evening programme.

Board of Trade.

Nanaimo—Officers for the year were elected at the annual meeting of the Nanaimo Board of Trade as follows: President, F. H. Kidd; vice-president, J. C. Dinkin; secretary, T. B. Booth (re-elected); treasurer, T. H. Bird (re-elected). The nomination of committees was left in the hands of the four elected officers, the recommendation to be presented at the next meeting, which will take the form of a luncheon.

President Harvey Murphy reported on the activities of the Board during the last year.

Secretary Thomas B. Booth read the financial statement, showing the Board to be on a sound financial basis.

W. T. Firth, secretary of the G. W. V. of Nanaimo, wrote the Board asking its support in securing a further loan for British Columbia under the "Soldiers' Housing Scheme," and asking that Senator Planta be communicated with on the subject.

A communication was received from W. H. Dawes, of Sidney, secretary of the Vancouver Island Association of Boards of Trade, asking if the Nanaimo Board favored placing before the coming convention a resolution by the Victoria City Council to the effect that Vancouver Island be made a separate Province. The letter was received and the secretary of the Board will be sent stating that the Nanaimo Board was not in favor of this at the present time.

Ten thousand acres of raw farm lands were taken up in the Vermilion district, Alberta, during the year 1920. This district produced over $200,000 worth of cream last year and shipped out $278,000 worth of cattle. The bank clearings for the town of Vermilion in 1919 and 1920 amounted to $2,570,000. The cattle there came through the Winter in splendid shape, and farmers are putting in this Spring a larger crop acreage than ever before, a Vermilion correspondent informs The Last West.

When his wife boosted the rent for his room from $4 to $5 a week it was too much for Royal W. Smith, of Stamford, so he left her. This is his explanation answering her suit for separation.

RAILWAY PROBLEM MUST BE SOLVED TO SAVE CANADA

A. C. Flumerfelt Says Government Railways Cannot Succeed

Canadian railways cannot be expected to do anything but lose millions of dollars a year, Canada's railway problem overshadows every other problem before the nation to-day and some means must be found to solve it if the country is to be saved from disaster.

Pointing to maps to show how the three great Canadian transportation routes in Canada which do not produce sufficient freight to cover their expenses, Mr. Flumerfelt said that they cannot be successful the way they are built.

He declared that the section of country lying between Winnipeg on the west and Sudbury on the east, was the capable of supporting a great railway line, and yet three lines passed through it. It was necessary, he asserted, that these lines should be consolidated into one road in this section.

Turning from the staggering debts which face Canadians in connection with the railway operations, Mr. Flumerfelt stated that the average Canadian had to pay through taxation and otherwise $6.50 a year to support the railway system.

Staggering Load. "No Government railway—except those of Germany—has been a success since the Government railways will ever be one," the speaker went on.

The people of Canada now own 22,000 miles of railway and you realize the burden this entails when you recall that the Grand Trunk Railway, running through the most populous part of Canada, has never paid dividends on its common stock.

Mr. Flumerfelt outlined the three main plans which have been advanced by railway men to solve the railway problem and declared that, in his opinion, the best of the three is the one proposed by Lord Shaughnessy.

The speaker pointed out that the people of British Columbia were losing $2,500,000 a year on the Pacific Coast Eastern, which would not serve more than 10,000 people outside of those in Vancouver, he said.

Two motorists were sentenced to a week in jail at Kitchener for driving while intoxicated.

HALCYON DAYS ESQUIMALT DURING THE SEVENTIES

By T. J. D.

The arrival of a Canadian fleet of war-ships, with the near approach of "Victoria Day," brings back many recollections of Esquimalt before Confederation, when warships of the "English" government spent a great deal of their time, at anchor in the safe and commodious harbor.

It was usual to have one particular celebration, during the year, when the road to Esquimalt was lined with persons, on foot and in all manner of conveyances—including the two large busses, owned by Messrs. W. J. Bowman, and another lively stable keeper, the late J. W. Williams.

Esquimalt was then in its balmy days. The one street, occupied principally by houses of entertainment for the officers and "blue-jackets," was decorated from end to end, and a long wooden wharf, with finials attached, was crowded with spectators.

The navy band provided music, at the grounds of the officers' club, where the "elite" received invitations to spend the day. The city band, under the late Prof. W. Haynes, occupied positions at the Esquimalt wharf.

Professor Budlong Puts Tanlac To Test

PROF. C. J. BUDLONG, Manchester, N. H.

"It's an actual fact, I'm in good health for the first time in thirty years and I owe my present splendid condition to Tanlac and nothing else," was the emphatic statement of Prof. C. J. Budlong, well-known and highly respected citizen of Manchester, N. H., residing at 42 School Street.

"Practically all my life I had had rheumatism, and when I say rheumatism I mean every word of it. It wall all over my body and especially had in my feet and legs and there were times when I couldn't get from my bed to my chair without help. And from the time I was a boy I couldn't sit down and get a good meal without being in misery afterwards and I would have terrible attacks of palpitation and dizziness.

"I had a stubborn case of constipation, was troubled awfully with blinding headaches and hardly knew what sleep was. My suffering had almost made a complete nervous wreck of me and I was so weak I wasn't worth a nickel as far as work was concerned. I thought my troubles had a life-long grip on me and was about as discouraged as a man ever gets.

"Well, before I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac I realized it was different from anything I ever tried. It suited my case exactly. And now for almost the first time since I can remember I can eat anything I want and digest it. I haven't an ache or a pain and have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I just feel good all over and am full of life and energy these days. Everywhere I go I talk Tanlac. It hasn't an equal."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell and all druggists.

WATER EXCURSION ATTRACTS CROWD OF SEVEN HUNDRED

Chamber of Commerce Outing to Port Angeles a Great Success

"We should have more of them." "The finest thing in the world to enliven people and renew their interest in the development of industries." "A great success from many points of view." These were some of the remarks heard from among the 670 Victorians who journeyed to Port Angeles yesterday on the Chamber of Commerce excursion to the industrial plants across the straits.

The Canadian Pacific Railway steamship Princess Adelaide lay at her dock decked out in flags yesterday noon while the crowd streamed aboard. She pulled out shortly after 1 o'clock, the weather conditions improving as the day progressed, so that when the vessel docked at Port Angeles the sun was shining brightly.

Mayor Fisher and prominent business men of Port Angeles and a large crowd of people turned out to welcome the excursionists on their arrival. The Commercial Club had taken pains to arrange all details for the entertainment of the visitors, and there were many automobiles and friendly owners ready to take them around the city and to the various points of interest, including the big pulp mill.

During the stay in Port Angeles an informal dinner was held at the Merchants' Hotel, at which Mayor Fisher presided, and all details for the excursion were arranged. The Chamber of Commerce and a large number of people turned out to welcome the excursionists on their arrival. The Commercial Club had taken pains to arrange all details for the entertainment of the visitors, and there were many automobiles and friendly owners ready to take them around the city and to the various points of interest, including the big pulp mill.

The return trip was a very lively one indeed. The orchestra was in attendance, and a splendid programme of music was furnished on board. On the return voyage lists of names and while as were passed around, and while as everyone getting as much fun out of it as possible. The Adelaide docked in Victoria shortly after 9.30.

Welcomed by Band.

The Elks were particularly in evidence in connection with the reception, and in addition to serving afternoon tea to the ladies of the party during the hours of 3 to 5 o'clock, the splendid band of the Port Angeles Elks appeared on the docks before the boat pulled out for Victoria, and entertained the large crowd with operatic selections.

Favorable comment was heard on all sides regarding the success of the outing, and the enterprise of the Chamber of Commerce in arranging the excursion. President J. H. Beatty, vice-president B. C. Nicholas, and directors and members turned out in full force. The business acquaintances formed as a result of the voyage will prove beneficial.

Visited Pulp Mill.

Among the industrial features of Port Angeles visited yesterday, without question, the big pulp mill of the Washington Pulp and Paper Company was of greatest interest. The output of this plant is 50 tons per day. The plant is owned by the Zellbach interests, and the output is nearly all shipped to San Francisco.

The existing unit represents an investment of $1,500,000 and begun a year ago last month was completed and in operation in January last. In several hundred men are employed, only newsprint is turned out, and there is an inexhaustible quantity of fine spruce back of Port Angeles to furnish the raw material.

Fruit Canning Industry.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, which operates an excellent service between Port Angeles and Port Townsend, has a line of railway running into the timber area, and while the excursionists were in Port Angeles a huge trainload of immense spruce was brought down for the pulp mill.

Of considerable interest to Victorians in view of the talk of establishing a loganberry industry here was the cannery at which loganberries, strawberries and fruit and vegetables of all kinds are handled.

Industrial Development.

It is where the spit joins the mainland that the plant of the pulp mill is located. A coopeage plant is now under construction on the spit, together with a new mill, and a salmon cannery has been in operation there for some time.

Industrial Development.

The Puget Sound Mills & Timber Company employs 435 men apart from the office staff. The Crescent Box Board Company is running three shifts and the Co-operative Shingle Mill and the Pilon Lumber & Shingle Mills add considerably to the city's payrolls.

Industrial Development.

Just east of Port Angeles lies the big sawmill built by the United States Government during the war, and which, with its costly machinery and equipment has stood idle since completion owing to the fact that the necessity of the Government using it. The vast project, including plant, logging railways and other facilities cost over eight million dollars, and the Government is now waiting for the interests to take it over and operate it. Rumor has it that a whole plant may be bought for about two million dollars.

Industrial Development.

The Port Angeles people are looking forward to a more frequent interchange of visits between their city and Victoria, which lie only eighteen miles apart, and the Chamber of Commerce excursion has gone a long way toward building up a feeling of interest and friendliness which both cities propose to nourish.

CANON EXPLAINS SALARY INCREASE TO TRADES COUNCIL

But Labor Men Still Hold Raise Unjustifiable

Canon Hinchcliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, appeared before the Trades and Labor Council last night and endeavored to explain his attitude toward the action of the Provincial Legislature in increasing Ministers' salaries and Members' indemnities—an increase for which he voted. While some of the labor delegates present agreed that the Canon's explanation was satisfactory so far as he personally was concerned, all speakers were emphatic in declaring the salary boost quite unjustified.

The second member for Victoria explained that he had been induced to vote for the salary increase because he had been led to believe that the former indemnity was not sufficient to allow rural members to visit their constituencies frequently. He said that he did not feel that he, as a member for a large centre, needed any increase, but he considered it important that members from country constituencies should have sufficient money to cover thoroughly the districts they represented.

Mr. Hinchcliffe added that he had attended the meeting with the idea of asking a first-hand knowledge of the work of the Trades and Labor Council.

Increase Unjustified.

While they appreciated his action in attending the meeting, delegates united in censuring the "salary grab." E. S. Woodward, Secretary of the Council, said that he considered the Canon's explanation, so far as it concerned him personally, quite satisfactory. If, as the Canon had been informed, the increased indemnities had been used by members to take them about their constituencies he would have raised no objection to the raise. As a matter of fact, however, the increases had been made to cover the alleged high cost of living in Victoria. He saw no justification for the action of the legislature, he declared.
