DECLINING TRADE.

Consideration of Canada's trade figures as disclosed by the official returns published in our news columns on Saturday provide ample material for national stocktaking and reflection. To put it briefly our ledger showed a turnover of something over one and a half billion dollars for the year 1921 as compared with about one billion in the last fiscal pre-war year.

THE FIRE TOLL.

In spite of the fact that the year 1921 showed a satisfactory decrease in the number of forest fires in this Province there were over thirteen hundred outbreaks of a more or less serious nature. Over sixty-eight million feet of lumber in board measurement were caught by the flames and considerably less than forty million feet of the total are salvageable.

Canada's trading account reached its record in 1921 with a total turnover of $2,568,815,294—an increase of a little more than three hundred millions over the preceding year—whereas the business for the twelve months ending January 31 last brings the figure down to within almost half a billion dollars of the 1913-14 account.

While lopping off half a billion of trade a year during the last twenty-four months is not one of the most cheerful of recent discoveries we can console ourselves with the fact that a good deal of it is represented by the natural return to normal values.

At no time in the economic history of this country has it been more desirous that a greater measure of commercial interchange should be established with the Antipodes.

NOW IN CONCORD?

After four hours conversation on Saturday Mr. Lloyd George and Premier Poincare decided to suggest one month's postponement of the Genoa Conference. With this much agreed upon they proceeded to discuss the various matters upon which each nation has hitherto taken different views.

INVITE THE TOURIST.

Although the people of British Columbia are aware of the manner in which the States of Washington and Oregon have co-operated with this Province in advertising the Pacific Northwest as the playground of this continent the City of Seattle is leading the way in a special tourist drive that has for its object the virtual "sale" of Puget Sound to the Summer and Winter tourist.

MR. MANSON ELECTED.

Conservatives and Progressives have shown wisdom in refraining from contesting the Omnica riding on the occasion of the elevation of Mr. Manson to cabinet rank. The member for the Northern constituency has shown more than ordinary solicitude for the welfare of his charge and it is safe to assume that his opponents would have looked askance at any challenge to the political existence of a good friend of Omnica—particularly a friend with a portfolio.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It is said that Mr. Lloyd George has proposed a ten-year truce in Europe. But what if France starts to collect her bill on Germany at the point of the bayonet? Saturday's conference is supposed to have assured her the right to procedure of that kind.

Every few days the people of this country read how simple it has been for some youthful operator to swindle thousands of allegedly intelligent folk out of huge sums of money on the promise of tremendous interest.

LETTERS

Letters addressed to the Editor and intended for publication must be short and legibly written. The longer an article the shorter the chance of insertion. All communications must bear the name and address of the writer, but not for publication unless the writer wishes. The publication or rejection of articles is a matter entirely in the discretion of the Editor.

SUNDAY CLOSING.

To the Editor:—In your issue of Feb. 25, I read a letter from Chas. H. Huestis, of Vancouver, B. C., pertaining to "Sunday closing." It put me in mind of the story I heard of the little boy.

SIR JULIAN ORDE ARRIVES IN CITY

A man drove up in a cheap car to some road repair work, and began breaking rock as soon as he left his car on the roadside. To three factors Sir Julian attributes the cheap price of cars, the low cost of fuel, and the good roads. He was told, he said, that tires had been used for from 12,000 to 15,000 miles of course on hard surface pavements— which he believed must be a record for longevity in the world.

MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

To the Editor:—Opinion in the City Council seems to be divided on the question of taxation on land and on improvements. Some Aldermen being strong advocates of increasing the tax on land, while others who are opposed to that would tax improvements.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

To the Editor:—Kindly insert the following as an article to the public in response to an appeal.

WHAT IS NECESSARY.

The material help necessary for the starving children, women and feeble and expectant mothers in Soviet Russia:

1.—Food.

Corn, grain, flour, cereals. Vegetables (dried and preserved). Meat and fish (smoked and preserved). Butter and fats generally. Tinned milk. Eggs. Cocoa. Sugar and sweetmeats generally. Special infant's foods.

2.—Clothing, Linen and Footwear.

Children's underlinen, shirts, breeches, pants, petticoats, underclothes, vests. Bed linen, blankets, sheets, pillow-slips, towels. Linen for expectant and feeding mothers. Linen and flannels for new-born babies, napkins, towels, washcloths, sheets and small pillows. Coats for boys and girls of all ages. Stockings and socks for boys and girls of all ages. Footwear for boys and girls of all ages. Gloves and scarves for boys and girls. Warm hats for boys and girls.

3.—Medicines.

Iodine. Quinine. Aspirin. Castor Oil. Cotton wool. Bandages. Cod liver oil. Thermometers. Ice bags. Warming pans, etc. Soap.

4.—Money.

Money with which to purchase these goods. Those that cannot do so prefer to give money, will be glad to know that the Russian Red Cross purchases direct from the manufacturers and producers. A recent purchase for the Canadian Family Relief Committee was made from Morris & Co., packers, of Chicago, 27,000 pounds of beef being bought at 6c per pound. Assurance can, therefore, be given that any funds contributed will bring the maximum quantity of goods possible to purchase on the market.

Inquiries at the Grand Army of United Veterans' rooms this morning, of which club most of the party had been members, elicited the fact that the party of five men had gathered at the club on Saturday evening. They left the club headquarters on Bastion Street at 11.30 p.m., all in good health, conducting themselves in an orderly manner. They went to the Vernon Cafe, and had a meal, leaving that place about midnight.

Mr. Webster, driver of the car, is a well known garage man in this city, being a partner in the firm of Balcom & Webster, on Government and Discovery Streets.

and, therefore, it is they who should contribute.

There are a large number of offices, stores and residences in the city, and a small tax levied on rentals would not be an inconvenience anyone and would bring in a large amount of revenue. The tax levied under such a scheme would be collected by the landlord or his agent from the tenants when he collected the rent, and would be paid by him to the City Treasurer at such times as required. While the tax would be levied on the tenant, the property would be responsible for the same. Such a tax would be fair to all, as in any building would be subject to taxation so that it would be a tax on the user, and not on the building.

(Continued from page 1.) their comment to make on the news. Some doubt is expressed in Ottawa as to the possibility of finding a basis for an action to unseat Mr. Motherwell. It is pointed out that he was returned by acclamation in his ministerial by-election. Presumably any action taken to unseat him would be based upon something which occurred at the time of the general election, but whether or not this would be considered in view of the acclamation which he received later is a question.

Five Stewarts.

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—(Canadian Press)—The Stewarts have a majority, as far as the family name is concerned, among the members-elect of the House of Commons. At present there are four Stewarts in the House, and a fifth, Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, hopes to get there by the acclamation route. According to the printed list of members-elect issued Saturday, there are Stewarts from Humboldt, Leeds, Lanark and Hamilton West already elected to membership, while the fifth representative of the clan is a candidate in Argenteuil, Quebec.

Next in strength are the Kennedys, four in number, from Edmonton West, Port Arthur, Glenarry and Stormont and North Essex. The Kings, including the Prime Minister, John W. King of North Huron, and Hon. J. H. King, the candidate in East Kootenay, stand third in the matter of family strength. Two of them are Liberals and Cabinet Ministers and the third a Progressive.

Finishing Stages For Royal Wedding At Westminster Abbey

Gorgeous Show of Gowns and Jewels Will Make Tomorrow's Ceremony Notable One; Lord Lascelles Now K.G.

London, Feb. 26.—The bridal party at the state wedding of Princess Mary to-morrow to Viscount Lascelles will drive under two arches made of motto banners. One of these is near Trafalgar Square at the top of the Mall and the other in Parliament Square. They are thirty-five feet high with thirty foot span and carrying large gold-fringed banners with mottoes: "May Your Path Unfold In Brightness" and "Westminster Wishes All Happiness to the Bride and Bridegroom."

The bridal party will step from carriages and motor cars on to a great red carpet, which extends from the altar steps to the west door, and thence, under a long red and white striped canopy with closed sides to the sidewalk. Its straight line is broken only where it diverges to the right to avoid passing over the unknown warrior's grave.

The order of ceremonial, prepared by the state chamberlain and issued this afternoon, constitutes the official guide for the movements of all participants in the wedding service.

Weather Preparations. The air ministry weather forecast of dull, rainy weather for the first few days of this week, has failed to lessen popular enthusiasm over the wedding of Princess Mary to Viscount Lascelles in Westminster Abbey. It is fairly certain that a combination of one of London's worst fogs and torrential downpours would not prevent multitudes from lining the route which is to be traversed by the state carriages bearing the bride, the groom and the bridesmaids.

Gorgeous Gowns. The carefully selected toilettes of the more than 1,000 women guests will make of the event a gorgeous show of gowns, jewels and other fineries, the furnishings of which has been a welcome stimulant to the trade of dressmakers, shopkeepers and business people in general. The hotels and restaurants are sharing in the benefits. To-night it was more difficult to find lodgings, even in the humblest of establishments, than at any time since the coronation of King George.

It is known there are dozens of trans-Atlantic visitors attracted to London by the wedding, who are endeavoring by the exertion of influence in diplomatic, court and business circles and by the expenditure of large sums of money, to secure red tickets of admission.

Some of the enterprising tenants of offices in Piccadilly and other streets which are to be traversed by Viscount Lascelles and his bride, will realize a years rental from the sale of seats in windows, so keen is the desire of the people for a glimpse of the couple. The international and revenue officials have decided that a wedding,

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

MR. AND MRS. BEAR ARE RUDLEY AWAKENED Part I.

Of course Mr. and Mrs. Bear had been asleep since the first cold day came to the woods, and they no doubt would have kept right on sleeping until the warm Spring came to tell them it was time to get up if something had not awakened them.

But I must not get ahead of the story so I will begin at the beginning and tell you all about it.

It was along about the middle of the Winter when one day out came the sun so warm and bright that Mr. Raccoon came out of his bed and decided it would be warm enough for a run over the snow.

On going through the woods whom should he meet but Mr. Fox, who was running toward the road, intending to take a look at the farmyard over the hill, for he thought that such a sunny day would be certain to bring out the hens and chickens even if the ground was covered with snow.

"Where you going?" asked Mr. Fox of Raccoon.

"O, just going," answered Raccoon with a shy wink of his eye. "Where you going, Mr. Fox?"

"O, I was just going, too," said Mr. Fox, bound to give no more than he could.

"Well, let us go together, then," said Raccoon with a laugh. "I am going to the new house I thought there might be some honey left over from last Winter."

in a cave under that tree. In fact the tree was the chimney to their home. "For in the Spring when I start the fire," said Mrs. Bear to her husband before she went to sleep, "the smoke will drive out the bees and we will have the honey for our breakfast."

"My dear," said Mr. Bear, "no one ever had such a clever wife as I have, you can think of the nice things for our comfort."

And so they went to sleep and were dreaming about the breakfast of honey and hot cakes they were to have when Spring days came to the woods, when—

AT THE END OF THE RAINBOW

By Nancibelle Hale Another Fascinating Romance by the Authoress of "A Gamble in Beauty."

Between that time and the wedding Margaret spent all her time with Judith. She helped with packing, the trousseau, the moving of furniture to town, and countless little details in connection with the sudden change.

Outwardly she was cheerful, but inwardly extremely forlorn. Judith was so happy in plans for the future that she didn't in the least mind seeing the little apartment dismantled, but with Margaret it was a different matter. As close bond of affection and intimacy had formed between Judith and herself, and the giving up of the apartment signified, Margaret thought, a loosening of this bond.

However, she did not show her chagrin, and even when, after the wedding, Judith saw tears streaming from beneath the girl's eyelids, she did not realize their real significance.

A week later, after Margaret had unsuccessfully tried to secure a number of positions, she saw an advertisement for a filling clerk, who was wanted by the manager of an agency for one of the better class automobile companies.

Margaret watched the speaker with amused interest. Expressions like "wallow of a dinner" and "Bohemian stuff" were unusual coming from Anabelle. No doubt she had got them from Laura and her friends.

This capable, slangy, genteel little woman was sure to know nothing about the incident in a way that made them amusing. Margaret thought of many things she'd like to ask her about herself, but knew that sooner or later Anabelle would tell her all she wanted to know.

She wasn't an ordinary bookkeeper. She was a lady from the top of her carefully brushed hair to the tips of her shoes. "What a wonderful character for a story she'd be," thought Margaret.

In turn there were many things Anabelle would like to have known about Margaret. She wasn't the kind who usually took $12-a-week jobs, and she knew that Margaret was about so simple a thing as filling a position that the whole of business was new to her.

Yet she wasn't down-hearted or burdened by her position. Anabelle Kellog was one of those odd little women who, at fifty, possessed the bird-like quality of never seeming to grow old. They appear to be just as chipper and spry and well groomed, just as ready to sing out with their clear, unfaltering voices, just as light, just as sparkling-eyed as ever.

She had straight black hair, graying a bit but not showing, it, snapping eyes, and a slim, determined little body. "I'm glad you're here," she greeted Margaret pleasantly. "We're simply swamped with work. Did you ever do it?"

"Not until now," Margaret was proud of that reply. It sounded a lot more capable than to flatly admit it was entirely new to her.

"It isn't hard work and you'll learn it quickly," continued Miss Kellog amiably. "But it's a pity you wore that dress. Some of these papers are frightfully dusty. Here, take my black apron of mine."

Margaret would rather not have put on the apron, also the paper cuffs which Anabelle Kellog deftly made for her. She had chosen the dress because it was at once simple and becoming and whatever good effects it was intended to produce were somewhat marred by the covering.

But there was such wholesome friendliness on the part of Anabelle that Margaret would have done almost anything she told her to do without a murmur at that moment when she felt something like stage fright and a desire to lean on an experienced prop like Anabelle.

Every one around the place called her "Anabelle," and it suited her infinitely better than "Miss Kellog." Her buoyancy of spirit, her quick mind only capable of hanging on to Margaret from the start. Her title may have been bookkeeper, but she was considerably more than that.

She practically managed all the details of the little office situated at the back of the salesroom.

"Why do it so marvelously," praised Anabelle that noon over a lunch at Childs'. Margaret had intended going to her hotel but could hardly refuse Anabelle's invitation to lunch with her. It was her first experience in a child's restaurant and she was mildly amused, though a little embarrassed and fearful lest some one she knew would see her there.

"Do you eat here every day?" she asked.

"No, sometimes I take a sandwich and some chocolate at a soda fountain. I don't care for much to eat either in the morning or at noon, but I eat a whole of a dinner. A friend and I have a little apartment near Washington Square. She's a writer, and goes in for that Bohemian stuff. Sometimes we cook dinner at home and sometimes we go out. That is, we used to. Now Laura has a beau, so things are a bit askew. I never know where I'm going to eat or whether I'll be alone or with company. A man can surely wreck the routine of a bachelor girl's flat."

Margaret watched the speaker with amused interest. Expressions like "wallow of a dinner" and "Bohemian stuff" were unusual coming from Anabelle. No doubt she had got them from Laura and her friends.

This capable, slangy, genteel little woman was sure to know nothing about the incident in a way that made them amusing. Margaret thought of many things she'd like to ask her about herself, but knew that sooner or later Anabelle would tell her all she wanted to know.

The difference between spending an advertising appropriation and investing it is as wide as the planet.

The wise advertiser in our town concentrates his campaign on this one best medium. Of course, he uses other mediums on occasion—he uses them as supplementary because he knows that this newspaper reaches all of the best people all of the time.

The wise business man in our town advertises judiciously and is well on his way toward becoming a "merchant prince." Princes are always interesting, so Mr. and Mrs. Resident watch our advertisements. HERCULES WILL GO TO ENGLAND

Hopper Barge to Be Sent Home; Will Carry Lumber Cargo

Another long ocean voyage is to be made by the hopper-barge Hercules No. 7, which has been tied up at this port since the completion of the Ogden Point breakwater.

The Hercules will be sent to the United Kingdom as soon as she can be made ready for the long passage and it is expected she will get away within two months.

A. G. Wilson, of Sir John Jackson, Ltd., who has been here for some time arranging for the disposal of the breakwater plant, stated to-day that it was proposed to dispatch the hopper-barge Hercules to England.

To Take Timber.

The vessel will be fitted out here and will be loaded with about 50,000 feet of heavy timbers. She will also carry a cargo of coal which will be used to fuel the vessel's furnaces during the homeward passage, which will be made via the Panama Canal.

The coal supply will be replenished either at Balboa or Cristobal, and it is possible that the craft may put into Norfolk, Va., before she sets out across the Atlantic.

The skipper has yet to be appointed. The crew will be signed on here when the vessel is about ready to sail.

Arrived in 1915.

The Hercules No. 7 was brought to this port by the Sir John Jackson, Ltd., from Singapore, where the craft had been engaged on a large marine contract. She arrived here in 1915 and was engaged in transporting rubble from Albert Head for the foundations of the breakwater.

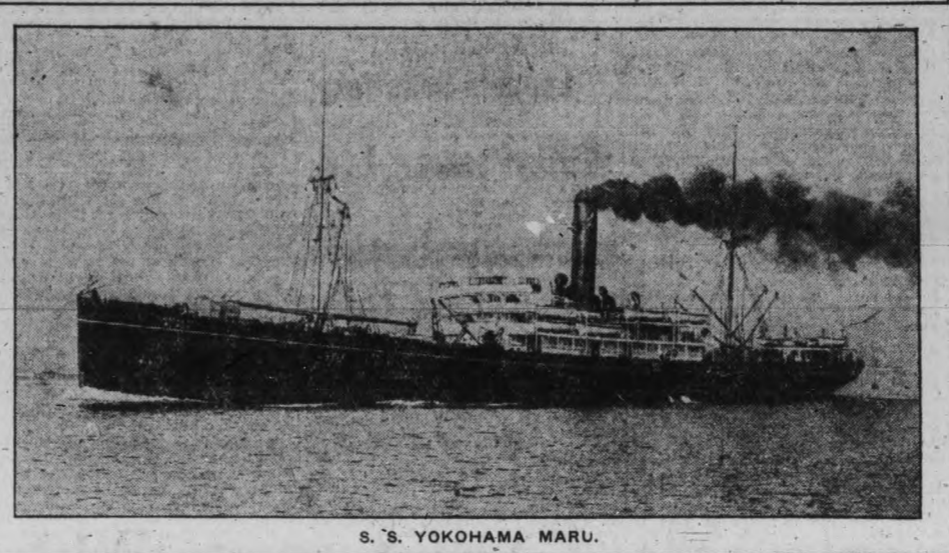

MONTEAGLE COMING ON.

The Canadian Pacific liner Monteaagle, Capt. A. J. Hosken, is scheduled to reach here March 11. She was the first of the company's ships to be delayed in the Orient by the Chinese seamen's strike.

POLITICIAN THROUGH CANAL.

The freighter Politician, of the Harrison Direct Line, sailed from Cristobal February 24, en route to San Francisco and Victoria. The freighter will arrive here about the middle of March.

Yarrows' Secure Dollar Contract; Will Rush Work

Repairs to S. S. Bessie Dollar on Modified Specifications Will Cost About $30,000; Ship Alongside Two Shifts Employed to Get Vessel Away in 12 Days.

Contract for the restoration of the wrecked superstructure of the freighter Bessie Dollar has been awarded to Yarrows, Ltd., of Esquimalt. The cost of repairs to the Bessie Dollar will be in the neighborhood of $30,000, the specifications having been modified since the calling of the initial tender.

The work done on the damaged steamship here will be permanent, although the new bridge structure will slightly differ from the original design.

It is a rush job and Yarrows, Ltd., plan to complete the contract in twelve days.

Alongside Wharf.

The Bessie Dollar, which has been lying at anchor in Esquimalt harbor since February 14, when she limped into port a badly battered victim of an enraged sea, was warped alongside the wharf at Yarrows' at 7.30 o'clock this morning, and half an hour later several gangs of men were at work stripping the wrecked steel work.

"We are not wasting any time as it is a rush job," said Norman A. Yarrow, President and Manager of Yarrows, Ltd., this morning as he watched his men take control of the ship. "The securing of this contract will be a good thing for Victoria as it will give employment to a large number of men."

Two shifts will be employed stated Mr. Yarrow, in order to get the repair work completed in contract time.

Enterprise Wins.

The enterprise of the local firm of Yarrows, Ltd., is again seen in the landing of the S. S. Bessie Dollar contract for Victoria. In tendering on the original specifications, Yarrows were the lowest bidder, with a tender of about $40,000, although competition was keen with a number of British Columbia and American firms closely figuring on the contract.

It goes to show that Victoria is the fortunate possessor of an organization that is in a position to successfully compete with any plant for any class of marine work.

The first bids, however, were rejected by the Robert Dollar Company, and for a time it appeared possible that the disabled vessel would be temporarily patched up and sent to Hongkong for permanent repairs.

Some days elapsed until the arrival of Stanley Dollar, head of the San Francisco office of the Dollar Company, who reached here on Saturday afternoon. Modified specifications were immediately submitted to the ship-repair firms, and Yarrows, Ltd., came out on top, the local firm being awarded the work.

Nature of Work.

While the new housework will not be exactly the same as the original construction, it will be permanent in character. The contract embraces the renewal of the wrecked saloon, bridge, chart room and pilot house, steel main mast and derricks. The work will be carried out to the requirements of the Canadian Steamship Inspection regulations and to Lloyd's classification. It will not be necessary to unload any of the cargo to effect repairs.

By working double shifts, Yarrows, Ltd., expect to have the entire contract complete in twelve days. The ship will then put to sea with her original cargo for the Orient.

LOGAN TO SEATTLE.

Capt. W. H. Logan, representing the London Salvage Association, went to Seattle last week in connection with the survey of the damage to the Royal Mail freighter Narenta.

"I thought I told you not to eat any porterhouse steak without my permission," said Logan to a local newspaper reporter.

"So you did, Doc, so you did," said Logan, "then why are you disobeying my order?"

"This won't delay the paying of your bill, Doc, this steak is being paid for by my friend here."

BAY STATE WILL DOCK IN MORNING

The Admiral Line steamship Bay State, inbound from the Orient, reported 642 miles out from Seattle at 8 o'clock last night. The liner will dock at the Rithet piers here early to-morrow morning.

ANOTHER ROYAL MAIL MOTORSHIP COMING

M. S. Loch Gail Will Follow Loch Katrine in Pacific Service

The new motorship Loch Gail, of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, will come out to the North Pacific Coast this year. The Loch Gail is 13,500 tons deadweight and 502 feet long, and is of the same type as the motorship Loch Katrine, which is expected here about the middle of March. Following the Loch Katrine, the Royal Mail freighter Cardiganshire will come out from the United Kingdom.

The Holland-American Line steamship Kinderdyk sailed from London February 23 for this coast. She is laden with a heavy consignment of tin plate from Swansea.

The new motorship Dinkeldyk, recently completed for the Holland-American Line, which operates to this coast in conjunction with the Royal Mail line, is scheduled to sail from London March 18. The refrigerator ship Kinderdyk and Moerdyk are also coming out from European ports.

NARENTA FOUND BADLY DAMAGED

Surveyors Find Necessity For Extensive Repairs to Royal Mailer

Seattle, Feb. 27.—That the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's handsome big refrigerated steamship Narenta struck a submerged ledge of rocks on her starboard or offshore side in attempting to round Sinclair Island en route to Seattle from Bellingsham was established as a result of the survey of the big vessel in the Todd Dry Docks.

From a point about thirty-five feet aft of her prow the starboard hull plates of the big liner are broken and dented for a space extending over 120 feet, the inspection revealing one of the most extensive repair jobs in the history of marine annals on the Pacific Coast as far as purely hull damage is concerned. The sheathing of the big ship only is damaged, but to repair the vessel will necessitate the removal of the greater portion of her insulation in the vicinity of the damaged plates.

The Niagara was lifted on the dry dock Friday night and Sunday morning after the dock and the vessel had sufficiently dried out, the marine underwriters and expert repairmen from several Pacific Coast points thoroughly inspected the damage wrought by the mishap.

For a space well over 100 feet and confined principally beneath the Nos. 2 and 3 holds the big liner's hull is badly shattered, though only a few breaks are in evidence. However, where many of the plates were not actually broken, the indentations are such that will necessitate their replacement, and the total damage involves an extensive repair job.

The inspection of the damage was conducted under the supervision of Capt. W. H. Logan of Vancouver, B. C., Pacific Coast representative of the London Salvage Association, which handles ship damage inspection for the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company.

PROFESSOR TO DIG FOR $60,000,000

South Sea Island Charts Offered to American

Treasure Said to Have Been Peruvian Loot

Augusta, Maine, Feb. 27.—Maps and charts of an isolated island in the South Seas on which treasure worth $60,000,000 is said to have been buried in 1550 are in the possession of Mrs. James Brown, widow of a sea captain who died here three years ago. These are the papers which Frederick J. Mason, a newspaper correspondent of this city, has offered to obtain for Professor Homer R. Dill, of the University of Iowa, who is in search of museum material.

Captain Brown claimed to be the only man in the world who held the key to the location of the treasure.

From Peru.

Captain Brown was mate of the schooner Seafoam, in which Captain Henry Smith, of Salem, Mass., set out from Kingston, Jamaica, in 1850 to recover the fortune. Captain Smith told his mate it was loot obtained during the Peruvian insurrection in 1820, and that his father, master of the schooner Black Witch of Salem, had buried it on Cooca Island.

The expedition, Captain Brown told his friends, found the treasure and moved it to another island. There all the crew died except the captain, the steward and himself. They started in the ship's longboat for Australia, taking about $1,000,000, but on the passage the other two died. He arrived at Cochan Bay, West Australia, and was sure he was the only person who knew where the treasure was buried.

TWO ARCHDEACONS RESIGN OFFICE

Former Plan of Single Archdeacon to Be Tried in This Diocese

With self-sacrificing interest in the welfare of the work of the Anglican Church in the diocese of Columbia, the resignation of Archdeacons J. S. H. Sweet, of Victoria, and H. A. Collier, of Quatsino, from their respective archdeaconries is reported, in order that the former plan for one archdeacon for the diocese can be again adopted.

For six years, the experiment of a divided archdeaconry for the diocese of Columbia has been tried, but it is understood that the divided income made it difficult for either official to do much travelling. The efficiency of the work suffered as a result, it is said.

It is understood that Bishop Schofield is now making the appointment of one archdeacon for the diocese in the near future.

HALF HOLIDAY PETITION

The petitions which have been circulated around the city asking the City Council to submit a plebiscite on the question as to whether or not the weekly half holiday should be altered from Wednesday to Saturday lacked about two hundred names of the number necessary to bring the matter before the Council according to the report received by The Times at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon.

It was hoped, however, that this number of signatures to the petitions would be secured before 6 o'clock this evening in order to permit of the matter being brought before the City Council this evening.

IRISH BISHOPS APPROVE TREATY Dublin, Feb. 27.—The Lenten pastoral reads in the Roman Catholic churches throughout Ireland "Yesterday referred approvingly to the Anglo-Irish treaty. The Archbishop of Dublin said: "For the first time in many centuries our people have to a great extent the framing of their destinies in their own hands. In the place of the unsympathetic, wasteful and unintelligent rule of men alien to us in blood and traditions, we see in process of being evolved an Irish government which will have knowledge of our people's needs, of the Irish nation has reached a turning point in its existence."

COTTON CARS! Motor cars made of cotton! Such is the latest invention of Mr. Henry Ford, the American millionaire.

This new material consists mainly of highly-pressed cotton, which when complete will replace the steel at present used in the building of car bodies.

Mr. Ford calls his new invention "cottonoid," and believes that before very long it will be used for other purposes than building motor cars. It is extremely light and durable, nature makes it very suitable for many uses, and its inventor thinks that it will prove a boon for house building to replace bricks and stone. Trains, he believes, could be built of the same substance, thus doing away with a good deal of unnecessary weight.

For some time the stalk of the cotton plant has been successfully utilized in the manufacture of paper.

JUNIORS AFTER A TITLE.

Stockers meet Towers at the Arena to-night in the final game for the B. C. junior championship. The local boys are quite confident of winning.

Junior Hockeyists To Play For Title

Stockers Confident That They Can Defeat Towers, of Vancouver, at Arena To-night and Give Victoria a Championship — Senators and Monarchs in Second Game

With the junior hockey championship of British Columbia at stake and an exhibition game between two of the fastest senior amateur teams in the Province, the hockey season will be brought to a close at the Arena to-night.

Carl Stocker's classy bunch of juniors will face off against the Towers, of Vancouver, at 8 o'clock. The juniors have been given preference over the seniors so that they may have the fans with them over the whole route.

To-night, however, every true-blooded fan is wanted within the Arena to help cheer the local lads to victory.

If Stockers win it will be the first amateur hockey championship to be won by a local team. The Reliabes are given even chances to win.

Thinks Team Will Win. "Towers only managed to beat us by 1-0 in Vancouver and I see no reason in the world why we cannot overcome that lead," remarked Carl Stocker, manager of the local champions, this morning.

Several hundred boys are expected to attend the game. Special concessions have been made to them and John Mowat and Percy Ryan will act as the cheer leaders.

The Monarchs have a very flashy team, which ranks as one of the best individual outfits in the West. They play a similar game to the Senators, so that the game should be a thriller all the way.

Alex Strath will play goal for the Senators, with John Wickson and Ed. Allen on the defence. Owing to Copas' knee still being out of action, the Senators are quite confident of winning the game, which should be equally as fast and close as that between Towers and the Senators two weeks ago.

The game between the Senators and Monarchs, of Vancouver, is arousing much interest and will be staged immediately after the junior championship is decided.

The game should be a thriller all the way. Alex Strath will play goal for the Senators, with John Wickson and Ed. Allen on the defence.

DISTEMPER AFFECTS DOGGIES AT THE PAS

Two Teams Forced to Withdraw From Dog Derby, But Two Others Enter

The Pas, Man., Feb. 27.—(Canadian Press) — The withdrawal of two entries for the 200-mile dog derby to be held on Tuesday next, and two new entries for the prize of $2,500 are the only features in connection with the fifth annual dog classic to report over the week-end.

The Godbout-Russick team withdrew owing to the poor condition of the dogs and Billy Winton's outfit was forced to pull out on account of distemper. All his dogs are suffering from it, and they have been isolated.

The New-Comers. Stuv Bjornman, of Gladstone, Man., has arrived to compete, but he is not conceded much of a chance by backers. The other new entry is Gabrielle Campbell, brother of Albert Campbell, the international dog racer, who died recently, in Chicago.

T. Dupas has recovered from his illness and will drive the Dupas-Bancroft entry. To-day he is an even money favorite with G. B. Morgan, winner of the 1921 derby.

'Flu Puts Cook and Mackay in Bed and First Game Is Off

Seattle Refuses to Take Advantage of Vancouver's Misfortune and Will Not Take Ice In Play-off Series To-night; Teams Will Play First Game Friday Night; Harris Out of Game For Season.

Vancouver, Feb. 27.—Just when the stage was all set for the start of the 1922 P. C. H.-A. championship play-off to-night, Old Man Hard Luck stepped into the picture yesterday, with the result that to-night's fixture at the Arena between Vancouver and Seattle is postponed until Friday, when the teams will hook up in Seattle.

The reason for the eleventh hour postponement is that Mickey Mackay and Captain Lloyd Cook, two of the main cogs in the Millionaire machine, are under doctor's orders with attacks of influenza, while Fred Harris, another regular, is in the General Hospital suffering from the injury he received in Seattle last Wednesday. Mackay and Cook were resting nicely last evening, but Harris is definitely out of the game for the season. He went under an operation on Saturday and was coming along nicely yesterday.

OUT OF THE GAME FOR THE SEASON

Cook's case is worse than Mackay's. Captain Lloyd has been suffering from cold for some time but failed to look after it rightly, while Mackay got to the seat of the trouble immediately, with the result that there is little fear of him getting worse.

The Vancouver team was prepared to carry on and play to-night's fixture, using substitutes to fill the breach, but Pete Muldoon held a conference with his Seattle players yesterday and they were unanimous in their decision not to take an unfair advantage of the Millionaires. From Captain Happy Holmes to the mascot they would not, under the circumstances, meet the Vancouver team in a makeshift approach to anything of the kind. This information was imparted over the long distance telephone to President Frank Patrick last evening.

C.P.R. Hold Wests to Draw In Spirited Soccer Game

Through their inability to come to a decision in their game at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon the Victoria West and C.P.R. elevens will have to face one another next Saturday afternoon. The clubs, fighting for a chance to get into the finals of the Jackson Cup, provided a most spirited exhibition Saturday and played thirty minutes overtime without either side being able to score. It was the longest game drawn in the history of the series.

The Wests were expected to win over the railroaders on account of their past showings but they were defeated on Saturday. The Wests were expected to win over the railroaders on account of their past showings but they were defeated on Saturday.

Chelsea's Victory Came As Surprise

Cardiff Lost to London Team For First Time in History—Tottenham's Chances Now Considered Very Good For Victory Over Cardiff in Cup Tie Game Next Saturday

London, Feb. 27.—(Canadian Press Cable) — The biggest surprise of the association football games Saturday afternoon was the defeat of Cardiff by Chelsea on the latter's field, for the first time in the history of the meeting of these two teams, and since Tottenham showed excellent form against Everton, supporters of the cupholders have renewed hopes of a successful issue to next Saturday's cup tie game at Cardiff.

Liverpool's hold on the leadership of the first division was strengthened by their 4-0 defeat of Arsenal, who are now in danger of relegation to the second division.

Burnley defeated Bolton Wanderers, and although Aston Villa gained a fine victory over Huddersfield, the Lancashire men regain second place in the first division.

Preston North End was defeated badly at home by West Bromwich, who, with Manchester City were the only victorious away teams in the division.

Manchester United could not beat Birmingham and their situation is now desperate. Bradford City, the companion at the foot of the table, have not won a match since December 17.

Leaders Hang On. Notts Forest and Fulham had a rare tussle for the leadership of the second division, but the former have too strong a lead to be overtaken now. Stoke gave further evidence of their determination to cling to second place by defeating Derby County, but West Ham are still in the running and did well to defeat Notts County.

One of the most surprising results of the day was Bury's four-goal victory over Hull City.

Darlington's defeat by Staleybridge in the northern section of the third division means the surrender of the leadership there to Stockport County. Southampton, in the southern division, yielded pride of place to Plymouth.

Good Weather For Change. Forty-two league games produced 162 goals and home teams were successful in 127. Play was favored by brilliant springlike weather.

Canadians Have No Hope. Montreal, Feb. 27.—Canadians kept in time with the St. Patricks on Saturday night by easily winning in their fixture with Hamilton by a score of 6 to 1, while the Toronto team was winning over Ottawa, but there is little solace in that to the habitues for the season is growing too short, or rather there are now too few games to be played in which to beat out St. Patricks for second place, and the right to play off with Ottawa for the title. Each team has three more games to play, and Canadians, by winning all three, one with each team, can tie St. Pats if that team wins only one game of their remaining three, or beat them out if they drop the remaining games, an almost impossible hope.

The first game of the finals will be played March 4. The winner of these finals will play with the winner of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association, junior series, and the Quebec junior series, for the right to journey to Winnipeg to endeavor to bring back the O. H. A. memorial cup, taken West by the Falcons last season.

DID PAIN DISTURB YOUR SLEEP?

THE pain and torture of rheumatism can be quickly relieved by an application of Sloan's Liniment. It brings warmth, ease and comfort and lets you sleep soundly.

Little Willie had been very naughty—so much so, in fact, that after having reproved him several times his mother was at last forced to punish him severely.

"What's the matter, sonny?" he cried. "Oh, nothing," responded Willie uneasily. "Come, don't be frightened," said the father, in coaxing tones.

SICILIANO-NORTH LABEL SUIT BEGINS SERIES OF ACTIONS

"When pressed to state whether these statements are true or false he will do neither," Mr. Higgins declared. "The defendant has made this charge against the plaintiff, which he has alleged is true and then when faced with it under oath he doesn't know whether it is true or untrue. We propose to show that the defendant did not search the Police Commission's record regarding this offence, but he searched the records regarding Constable Harper."

"We don't ask vindictive damages," Mr. Higgins stated, "but evidence will be produced that the plaintiff and the detectives asked the defendant to hold an investigation into these various rumors and stories, and they refused to give an investigation."

The evidence read by Mr. Higgins dealt at length with the preliminary arrangements for the Royal Victoria Theatre meeting. In this evidence Mr. Higgins endeavored to make Mr. North admit that he knew that Siciliano was employed as a detective at the time of the meeting.

The Royal Victoria Theatre last December. She read the extract from her report in which Mr. North was quoted as accusing Mr. Siciliano of having a couple of little girls out at the Burnside Road Hotel.

Mr. Higgins proceeded to read evidence taken at the examination of Mr. North for discovery some days ago. A large notice announcing the Hall-North Royal Victoria meeting was entered as an exhibit.

UNDERSTOOD INCIDENT OCCURRED

Mr. North says in his evidence that he had prefaced his Burnside Hotel story with an explanation that he misunderstood that this incident had occurred or that it had been "rumored."

When Mr. Higgins had finished reading the discovery examination evidence, Miss Unwin was recalled for further cross-examination by Mr. Henderson. She read her shorthand notes taken at the Royal Victoria Theatre meeting. Some confusion arose over the notes and the transcript and the judge was evidently irritated over Mr. Henderson's comments.

Mr. North replies when Mr. Higgins pins him down concerning the truth of the Burnside Hotel story. "I can't say whether anything is true about which I know nothing but rumor."

Mr. Babcock called. Hiram C. Babcock, cemetery expert, the first witness was asked by Mr. Higgins how he happened to go to the Royal Victoria meeting. When Mr. Babcock hesitated, the court suggested, "In short terms, he walked there. I suppose."

"CANADA, TO-DAY," 1921-22

This is the sixth issue of the popular annual published from the offices of "Canada, to-day," London illustrated weekly, 110 St. Martin's Lane, W. C. 2, at 2s. 6d.

Its standard of usefulness and attractiveness will be found fully up to that attained in previous years, entitling it to take its place along with its predecessors as the leading standard reference book on the Dominion of Canada.

The story of Canada to-day—its progress, prosperity and opportunities—is told in a series of special articles, the volume comprising 128 pages.

In this way, everybody who desires to know anything regarding Canadian affairs or conditions, can easily, by turning to the index, find out the information he requires.

The first section covers such features as Canada's Government, population, climate, products and manufactures. The second, entitled "Life and Work in Canada," deals with agriculture, homesteading, fruit-growing, professions, openings, women's work, city life, education, cost of living, wages and hours of labor, etc., and also the various kinds of sport, a synopsis of the big game hunting, shooting and fishing regulations and open seasons in each province, being given.

The "Emigration and Settlement" section is introduced by an article from the pen of J. Obod Smith, F. R. S., Superintendent of Emigration for Canada, and useful information is given to the intending emigrant regarding such matters as immigration regulations, best passages, soldiers' settlement, specially conducted parties, and hostels for women immigrants.

Features and conditions in the nine Provinces of Canada are described in detail in special articles, supplemented by lists of the principal cities, field crops and officials, in each case. There is also a specially prepared gazetteer arranged alphabetically, giving a short description of the cities and towns with populations of 1,000 and over.

Much interesting and useful financial and commercial information is given in a further section, the subject dealt with including, for instance, Canada's financial position, incorporation of companies, Canadian income tax, the chartered banks, trust companies, oil in Northern Canada, export and import trade, and Customs. Particulars are also given regarding the Canadian railways and steamship services, supplemented by table of distances and fares.

A special feature of "Canada To-Day," as usual, is the very large number of excellent illustrations, covering practically every side of life in the Dominion. There are over 100 of these, and also a double-page map.

The new guard was not familiar with a certain railway run in Wales. Came a station which rejoiced in the name Lanfairfechanpwyllgogerych. For a few minutes he stood looking at the signboard in mute helplessness. Then pointing to the board, and waving his other arm toward the carriages, he called, "If there's anybody there for here, this is it!"

PEARL WHITE'S NEW PICTURE IS SUCCESS

"The Mountain Woman" is Presented at Variety

Entertainment of the highest quality is offered in "The Mountain Woman," Pearl White's latest William Fox picture, which will start Monday at the Variety Theatre. Because of the volume of favorable notices this picture has received, as well as the immense popularity of Pearl White in this section, the theatre was booked.

Miss White's title as "queen of the screen" never was more secure with her admirers than after "The Mountain Woman" was shown. Following so closely her picture, "The Thief," which was expected of this production, it fulfilled every hope in this direction, and proved a worthy follower to "The Thief."

HOOT GIBSON WAS FORMER COWBOY

Is Starring at Columbia in "The Fire Eater"

In the San Fernando Valley outside Los Angeles, on the very spot where Universal City now stands, in one of the first five-reel motion pictures ever made, Hoot Gibson, Universal star, did his first and last day's extra work in 1910. He was a member of Dick Stanley's congress of rough riders, which visited Los Angeles in that year. Although only sixteen years old, he possessed a reputation as a daredevil of the saddle.

On the closing day of his show, the entire company of riders was hired by the Selig Polyscope Company to participate in "The Rustlers," a multiple-reel venture which was termed "pretentious." Out to the spot where Universal City was to rise under Carl Laemmle's direction in 1914, the troupe of horsemen went and enacted scenes for the picture. The first day Hoot was merely one of the riders. The second day he was picked out and given a bit to do.

In 1912 Gibson entered the big round-up at Pendleton, Oregon, and won the world's championship. The result of his years of training before the camera is apparent in "The Fire Eater," which is playing at the Columbia Theatre. Reeves Eason directed this Universal special attraction and Louise Lorraine plays the feminine lead.

"DUMB BELLS" BEGIN HERE TO-NIGHT

Popular Revue Will Make Final Appearance at Royal

The final lap of a seven leagued coast-to-coast tour which the "Dumbbells" started at Halifax the week before Christmas will be reached this evening when they open a three days' engagement at the Royal Victoria Theatre in this city and in Canada their original overseas revue, "Biff, Bing, Bang."

The old military revue, with occasional changes of musical numbers, has served the famous third division "Dumbbells" for five years, two of them as entertainers of their comrades in France and three as a regular theatrical attraction. During that time they have climbed to the highest pinnacle of fame in the theatre world.

In order to prove their versatility they have decided to place the original show in both balls and step out in an entirely new kind of musical entertainment at the end of this three days' engagement. The new show is "The Dumbbells of 1922," and its path should be rosy. In the meantime don't forget that this is the last of "Oh, Oh, Oh, It's a Lovely War" and all the other lovely things about the war, which the "Dumbbells" gave so cleverly satirized.

BEBE DANIELS STARS IN FEATURE

"The March Hare" Will Be Produced at Dominion

Exhibitors and film fans all over the country will bear witness that never has Reelart depended for the success of its pictures solely upon the personality of Reelart stars. Reelart productions have always been carefully staged with "hand-picked" supporting casts. In "The March Hare," the latest Bebe Daniels release, which will a six-day engagement here for one week, opening to-day at the Dominion Theatre, an unusually able cast has been assembled in support of the popular Miss Daniels.

For leading man Reelart secured that nonchalant comedian, Harry Myers, whose loyal performance in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" has been one of the notable screen hits of the year.

Equally able for the role assigned her in "The March Hare" is Helen Jerome Eddy, cleverest of all the younger character actresses. Another dependable character actress is Mayn Kelso, who was seen with Miss Daniels in "Ducks and Drakes," a former Elmer Harris play, and again plays an "aunt" role in "The March Hare."

Sidney Bracey, Melbourne McDowell, Frances Raymond, Grace Morse and Herbert Sherwood are other members of this admirable cast, and under the direction of Major Maurice Campbell they have produced one of the most delightful light comedy-dramas of the season.

Miss Daniels as usual plays the role of a fascinating little mad-cap who drives everybody to distraction with her pranks. In this play she is cast as a dashing young heiress who makes a wager that she can live for a whole week in New York City on seventy-five cents. Her adventures furnish the star some of the most amusing episodes in which she has ever figured on the screen.

VALENTINO DANCED HIS WAY TO SUCCESS

Hero of Ingram's "The Four Horsemen" at Capitol

Rudolph Valentino, the celebrated young dancer who has the leading male role in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," a Rex Ingram production for Metro, now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, found his way to fame and fortune through his nimble feet.

When you see Mr. Valentino in this screen adaptation of the world-famous novel of Vicente Blasco Ibanez by June Mathis and notice his finished actor, the sure swagger of the cafe scenes laid in the Argentine, the polish of his manner in interpreting the student and lover in Paris, it will be your unquestionable opinion that here is a man initiated in theatrical ways as a child.

But it was neither as a dancer nor as actor that Mr. Valentino hoped to take fortune by storm. It was in the more humble sphere as a prospective agriculturist that he came to the United States, at the age of eighteen, a graduate from the Royal Military College of Agriculture at Genoa, Italy.

But things happened swiftly for him in New York. Soon he was busy teaching Broadway's regulars his graceful steps. He appeared at Reelart's dancing attraction of Bonnie Glass, following this engagement with one in the Winter Garden and a long term contract in vaudeville.

From dancing to motion pictures was an easy step. His first picture with Mae Murray in "The Big Little Person," by Rex Ingram, in his painstaking search for the type to portray the pleasure-loving South American hero of "The Four Horsemen" saw Valentino, he chose him for the part.

FIRST TO SECURE NOTABLE PLAY

Princess to Produce "The Girl From Out Yonder"

At last the patrons of the spoken drama in Victoria will have an adequate opportunity of seeing for the first time in this City that wonderful new play "The Girl From Out Yonder." This comedy drama is being played in this City, even before the privilege was granted Vancouver, where this production is scheduled to occupy the boards at the Empress theatre within a few weeks.

"We are indeed to be congratulated upon being able to secure the early privilege of producing this play here," says Manager Earl Moore, of the Princess, "as this play has only recently been released for stock, and is being sought after by stock managers throughout the West."

In line with this policy of the very best obtainable, "The Girl From Out Yonder" is being produced at far greater expense than any other heretofore secured.

A most adequate opportunity is being given the lady members of the popular stock company to display their various abilities in especially emotional and at times comical roles. Miss Neitz is given full scope to demonstrate her ability as never before and she will prove to even the most sceptical that she ranks second to none before seen in Victoria as an emotional actress, par excellence.

In all of the members of the company are seen in roles entirely different from any interpreted by them in the past, and a real treat is in store for any and all who patronize this week's attraction at the Princess.

The Princess players became international in character to-day, when they inaugurated at Port Angeles a two day "stand," with four days (Wednesday to Saturday) in Victoria. He acknowledges the courtesy of the immigration and customs officials in facilitating the transfer of his company and scenery across the Strait, and believes that the new proposal will be beneficial both to Victoria and Port Angeles.

Aeronautics provide thrills aplenty even when in ordinary use, but in Mack Sennett's "Molly O" the Associated First National Pictures attraction, starring Mabel Normand, which is coming to the Royal Victoria Theatre for an engagement of six days, beginning Monday, March 6, the climax is reached when the villain is making a get-away with the heroine in a "blimp" and is overtaken by the hero in an aeroplane.

Forrest Halsey is preparing the script for a new vehicle for George Arliss to follow "The Ruling Passion," his adaptation of Earl Derr Biggers Saturday Evening Post story.

SAN CARLO CO. IN THREE OPERAS

Celebrated Company at Pantages in Notable Offerings

After a prima donna soprano has sung in many opera houses in Europe and America, gathering artistry and some fame in each one, until at last the "big night" arrives and the audience rises up and acclaims her the greatest of coloratura sopranos, and after many other cities and a trail of sold-out houses have added their tributes to the same effect—then to have someone come along and nonchalantly tell her she has "a very nice voice"—should it not make her mad?

Yet Mario Valle, baritone of the San Carlo Grand Opera Company which is scheduled to appear at the Pantages Theatre to-night and to-morrow, with a special matinee on Tuesday of "Martha," tells of an occasion when this happened to Mme. Galli-Curci.

"But it didn't make her mad at all," says Mr. Valle, "she simply laughed and the rest of us who were sitting around at rehearsal and heard it laughed with her."

It was a new tenor, just arrived from Italy, who said it. He had heard of Mme. Galli-Curci casually in Italy where she was known only before she developed into the great artist she is now.

Coming to America, he failed to hear of her triumphs here and in South America, probably because he did not speak or understand English. In Chicago, he was introduced to her in the same commonplace manner in which he met other and less important members of the company. At the rehearsal she sang in mezzo-voice, or with the half-voice as artists do to save their voices from unnecessary exertion. This new tenor detected possibilities of what she might be able to do with the full voice and consequently told her, very kindly, graciously, and perhaps by way of encouragement, that she had "a very nice voice." She took it in thoroughly good humor and thanked him with a graceful courtesy.

TO FIGHT DARWIN IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Dr. Straton Started at Spread of Belief in Monkey Ancestry

New York, Feb. 27.—The fight in Kentucky against the teaching of Darwinism in public schools may be paralleled by a similar religious crusade in this city starting with a protest by the executive committee of the Fundamentalist Movement in the Baptist Church against the teaching of evolution in the public schools as established fact.

Dr. John Roach Straton, a member of the executive committee of the Fundamentalist Movement, said yesterday that he was preparing to urge such a protest at the next meeting of the executive committee, which will occur shortly. The issue of Darwinism against the Old Testament may possibly be taken in hand by Commissioner of Accounts Hirschfeld, now investigating a protest against propaganda in history texts used in the city schools.

Dr. Straton said that he and many other pastors objected, not to the explanation of the theory, but to the fact that evolution was commonly set forth dogmatically as if universally received and established.

"The Fundamentalists organized primarily to fight Darwinism, rationalism and other forms of infidelity in our Baptist schools—and in our own pulpits," said Dr. Straton. "The problem of un-Christian teaching in the public school is the same.

"I have always protested against such teaching, but I had no idea the schools were teaching the theories of Darwin as conclusively proved and established. The shock that woke me in came when my own son, a high school boy, who has always believed the Bible, came home one day with figures about the antiquity of man and with theories in conflict with the Bible. I said:

"My son, where did you get that?"

"He told me it had been taught to him. I only had to go to the library and take down a few books to show him that the theories as to the age of the earth and the antiquity of man contain the wildest guesses. Professor Ramsay, for instance, says the world is ten billion years old. Lyell makes it something like ninety million years. Other estimates range from ten billion to a few thousand years.

"Some people say they will believe the Bible if it agrees with science. But with what science? That which teaches that the world is ten billion years old or only a few thousand years old and that man has inhabited the earth for only 7,000 years. My son quickly saw he had been misled, but many fathers have not the books handy or the time to controvert such teachings in the schools.

"The latest and best thought of science rejects Darwinism. Many teachers preach Darwinism, but they are behind the times.

"The children of Christian families here and in other parts of the country are being taught one thing in their Sunday schools and the opposite in the public schools. It is time, I believe, for the Fundamentalists to widen the scope of their work, because this subject has not only a religious bearing, but a bearing on morals.

"If a boy thinks that he is not a child of God, but the descendant of a monkey, he is liable to conduct himself as a brute and to acquire a beset conception of life."

RING WITH A ROMANCE.

Sir Rider Haggard has presented to the British Museum a gold ring which has an interesting history says the London Times. He first saw it 57 years ago, attached to the watch-chain of the head master of his preparatory school, who had received it from a friend who had travelled much in America. The friend's story was that, while travelling in Peru, he had opened a grave-mound, in which he found a stone table with 13 mummified-figures seated round it. On the finger of the principal figure was this ring, which the discoverer withdrew; and the bodies, according to his story, crumbled into dust. It was the legend attached to this ring which, according to Sir Rider Haggard, first turned his imagination towards the invention of stories of adventure; and readers of "King Solomon's Mines," will recognize in it the origin of a striking episode of that book.

ROMANCE OF ST. DUNSTAN'S.

"St. Dunstan's" has gained world-wide fame as one of the most beneficent charities arising out of the war. Many people are under the impression that St. Dunstan, the great statesman-precursor of Saxon days, must be the patron saint of blind men. The story of the way the house near Regent's Park actually came by its name is much more prosaic. In 1330 the city church of St. Dunstan's was pulled down. It had a great deal overhanging the street, and two figures of "savages," as they were called, which banged the quarters upon a bell.

The "Savages."

The clock was one of the sights of London, and visitors from the country could always be seen gazing upwards, waiting for the fun to begin.

and, when it did, expressing amazement at the wonderful mechanism. Incidentally, when Dickens was a boy, it was a favorite haunt of the disciples of Fagin the Jew, for so engrossed were the spectators that thieves had an easy time and picked pockets with impunity.

The notorious Marquess of Hertford, when a child, was taken by his nurse to St. Dunstan's Church to see the "savages." In his determined way, he vowed to possess them for his own. His vow was accomplished without contravening the law, for when the church was demolished he bought the clock, the dial, the bells, and the "savages" for £200, had them taken to his Regent's Park villa, and named the place St. Dunstan's.—Tit-Bits.

"GYPSY PASSION" an unusual French motion picture production, selected by the critic of The New York Times as being "among the leaders" of the big film productions of 1921, has been acquired by Vitagraph, and will be released by that company in March. This is an adaptation of Jehu Richepin's story of gypsy life, with its passionate loves and hates. The original Richepin story was called "Miarika, the Child of the Bear," and one of the big scenes of a picture rich with action is a most realistic bear fight.

Zena Keefe will soon return to the screen as star of Selznick pictures.

WILL EXPLAIN HOW SPECTROSCOPE IS USED IN ASTRONOMY

The Royal Astronomical Society will hold its next lecture in the auditorium of the Girls' Central School, Tuesday, at 8 o'clock. These lectures are held for the purpose of fostering interest in the advances of astronomy and local science. They are open to the public without charge and the public is cordially invited to attend.

LOCAL RESIDENT IS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Grasley-Bick, mezzo-soprano, well-known to local concert platforms, is quite busy in concert engagements at Vancouver and other cities. She recently sang at the Port Angeles Choral Society Concert, where a luncheon was given in honor of her visit by the ladies of the Choral Club. Mrs. Grasley-Bick has also been singing at the Sunday band concerts in Vancouver, and a special concert at Point Grey. Since leaving Victoria she has filled many engagements.

AN EASY WAY OUT. Jud Tunny says there's a big advantage in using long words. Anybody would rather take what you say for granted than be put to the trouble of looking in the dictionary.—Washington Star.

RHEUMATISM vs. T.R.C.'s

Rheumatism and similar troubles invariably yield to this T.R.C.'s (Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules) treatment. Many doctors and many hundreds of druggists from coast to coast will confirm this truth. The hundreds of testimonial letters in our files show that T.R.C.'s have successfully treated Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, Sciatica and neuralgia of all kinds. But the best evidence is your own experience. If you suffer we want you to try this guaranteed non-injurious remedy at our expense. Druggists sell T.R.C.'s $1.00 per box. For free trial write T.R.C. Co., 56 Calverton St., Toronto. Sold by Bowes, The Owl and Vancouver, Drug Stores and the Fernwood Pharmacy.

Mrs. Wilson-Jones Shows True Artistry; Other Features

That Victoria music-lovers enjoyed themselves at the Capitol last evening there can be no possible doubt. The special event was a "Ratario Evening" arranged by the G. W. V. A. band, the vocal numbers in the well-prepared programme comprising many arias from favorite well-known operas and judging from the sincere hearty plaudits of those present, and there was a very large turnout of people, the unusual programme was thoroughly appreciated. The solo and quartette (a) "While My Watch I am Keeping," and (b) "Lovely Appear Over the Mountain" from Gounod's "Reder" were splendidly sung by Mrs. A. W. Stokes, who took the solo parts in the place of Miss Winifred Bell absent owing to a severe cold. Mrs. Styles Sehl, contralto, and Messrs. George Paterson, tenor and Robert Frith, basso. The voices blended delightfully, and there was evidence of much careful preparation. The singers met with a hearty reception and had to repeat the quartette.

Mrs. Wilson-Jones. Artistic to a degree is Mrs. Wilson-Jones. Her interpretation and authoritative style are irresistible and her singing exerts an irresistible appeal. The aria "O For the Wings of a Dove," from Mendelssohn's sacred cantata, "Hear My Prayer," revealed the voice of remarkable range and beautiful quality. Her reception was quite flattering, and her singing of "The Lost Chord" (Sullivan), in response to an enthusiastic recall was a treat indeed.

Mrs. Styles Sehl. Mrs. Styles Sehl made a distinct impression. She possesses a voice of lovely contralto quality, and she sings with a delightful sweetness of tone and with a keen musical sense. The aria "He Shall Feed His Flock," from the "Messiah" was given with the historic pathos associated with this divine melody. She, too, received well-merited applause, and responded with the selection "Leave It With Him," a song with a plaintively haunting refrain.

Handley Wells. Handley Wells has already met with many approbations, and last evening won additional honors. Elijah's great aria "It is Enough," considered the finest baritone aria since the time of Handel, and occurs in the second part of Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah." Mr. Handley Wells in selecting this wonderful solo made no mistake. He sang it with fine tone and telling effect. His resonant voice met the imperative musical demands of the aria at all times, and the whole rendering was marvellous. In response to the loud applause which followed he gave Margerton's "Tommy Lad."

W. R. Davis. There was no mistake made on the part of the audience when Mr. W. R. Davis appeared. A former member of the G.W.V.A. Band, and on a visit here, it was "meet and proper" he should be heard. His success was instantaneous. He is a piccolo player of rare ability, and his solo, "Silver Bells" (La Thiere), simply "brought down the house," so well and brilliantly was it rendered, the enthusiastic encore "Little Dove" was inevitable. In compliment to his appearance at this concert the familiar and ever popular overture "William Tell" was selected and included in the programme in which the flute and piccolo are specially employed.

"William Tell" was presented nearly one hundred years ago (1823). The overture depicts Alpine life, and is a "symphony in four parts." The introduction gives a picture of sunrise in the mountains and is entitled "Dawn." The second part is "The Storm." The adagio, part is "The Calm," depicts the shepherd's thanksgiving after the storm, and the brilliant coda "Finale," depicts the march of the Swiss troops. The audience was given an excellent reading, and the audience gave loud and long expressions of their delight at the spirited closing of the number, "The Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 2" (Liszt), was another example of careful preparation and was in fact one of the best bits of playing so far given in the Winter series of concerts. The bandmaster and men were "en rapport" and the reading by Mr. Miller was a delight in the extreme. The audience specially relished this number and recalled the bandmaster again and again, those present insisted on the playing of the number. Mr. A. Gibson again accompanied throughout with much distinction.

PLANS FOR HOPE-PRINCETON ROAD

To Build 35 Miles This Year of Important Highway Link

Road Engineer W. K. Gwyer has informed The Penticton Herald that thirty-five miles of the trans-provincial highway between Hope and Princeton will be built this year. This will be constructed in two sections, one being the first 25 miles east of Hope, and the other a section of ten miles westward from the miles east of Princeton which is the present end of the road which is 3 1/2 miles from Princeton. Thus by the end of the construction season the trans-provincial highway will be 18 1/2 miles west from Princeton and 25 miles east from Hope, leaving a gap of 25 miles in the centre which is to be finished in 1923. The end of that year should, therefore, see the coast connected up with the interior by motor road.

There is a possibility that tenders for the Hope-Princeton sections will be called in the next two weeks. The work to start as soon as the season opens there. The Hope-Princeton road is to be of secondary construction, 12 feet wide on the straight stretches and 18 feet wide at the turnouts. The road engineer stated that the gap of 19 miles between the Christina lake and Rossland sections of the trans-provincial road would also be completed this year. The completion of this roadway will give the Okanagan and Similkameen direct road connection with Nelson.

FATHERS AND SONS

HOLD ANNUAL MEET

Banquet at Y. M. C. A. Great Success; Over 500 Attend

The Fathers and Sons banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night was the greatest success of its kind yet held in the city. Over five hundred parents and boys attended and the programme was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Mayor Marchant, R. W. Mayhew, of the Rotary Club; J. W. Spencer, president of the Kiwanis Club; Harold Beckwith, president of the Marchant Club; and Colonel Lorne Ross, toastmaster, were among those present. One of the sons, proposed the toast to "Our Dads." H. S. Pringle replied on behalf of the fathers, the sons, and said: "I am proud to be a son of a father who is always a proud father for the son when he finds that his clothes fit." "Our Sons" was proposed by William Maynard. He pointed out the need of high ideals, with, of course, embraced kindness and consideration toward others. Wesley Bremner, secretary, took up a great tendency to commercialize the gathering that he was rather doubtful on the point himself. In a very happy though a strain the speaker advised boys and their fathers to always be good chums.

"Our Sons" was proposed by George Knox, and the guests rose and sang "O Canada." Rev. W. P. Freeman gave an interesting address on "Chums." Speaking of sport, Mr. Freeman declared that there was a great tendency to commercialize the otherwise clean, manly pastimes. Babe Ruth's salary of $50,000 for playing baseball last year was a record. Mr. Graham and Harold Cross gave brief addresses.

DO YOUR BOWELS MOVE REGULARLY, OR DO THEY BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt at once, from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, accumulates in the whole system, by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleedings or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles. Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N. S., writes: "For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicine, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation." Price, 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
