Texas Fact!

The Texas soil, long noted for its fertility, has lost some of its productivity. We seldom hear of any record-breaking achievements relating to farm products anymore. We recall one instance that, while not unusual, illustrates our meaning. It concerns a cucumber grown by a south Texas farmer. He shipped it to Dallas and it only took 11 flat cars. They

Secretary Brannan Speaks.

Speaking before members of the USDA Club in the auditorium of First Methodist Church, the Honorable Charles F. Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, emphasized his belief in the integrity and high moral standards of Department of Agriculture employees by stating that in his opinion the standards were as high as they have ever been in history. "Over the last four years," Mr. Brannan stated, "we've had about 150 investigations of one kind or another, from outside sources such as the congress, GAO, and others. Out of these there was not one recommendation that either civil or criminal action of any kind be instituted against one employee." Earnestly he added, "I hope that brings you the same kind of pride it does me!"

"We ought to remind ourselves," he continued, that we are not perfect; but we have been our own most severe critic. We have been our own investigator."

Mr. Brannan pointed out that the processes of democracy are undergoing the most severe stress in the history of the United States. He warned against mistaking rumor for fact...Against taking our news from the headlines alone. "Be informed," he said, referring to matters pertaining to, and affecting our work.

He noted the difference between the Hoover Com-

Disaster Loans For Entire State

The 97 counties in Texas hitherto eligible for disaster loans from the Department's emergency loan fund administered by Farmers Home Administration, were joined by the remaining 157 under a recent order by Secretary Brannan designating the entire state as a disaster area. The order will bring FHA aid to many drought-stricken farmers.

Gems...

A group of African prisoners of war were shuffling along under guard. Listless, shoulders stooped, they were the picture of dejection---all but one. Shoulders squared, head erect, his dignity was in striking contrast to the others.

"What's happened to that fellow?" an officer asked. The sergeant's reply was illuminating: "He's the son o' a king, and he never forgets it!"

Do you sometimes forget that you, too, are a son of a King---"The mightiest of all"?

Clarence Fertsch Selected "Member of The Month" For February

The "Member of the Month" citation for February was given to Mr. Clarence J. Fertsch, employed in the Area Finance Office of Farmers Home Administration, for his continued and varied activity in the field of community service. In recommending his selection to the USDA Club Board of Directors Chairman V. S. Twaddell emphasized that his Work of the Department Committee was particularly impressed by the fact that Mr. Fertsch, through his long-continued efforts on behalf of the Community Chest, Red Cross, YMCA and other worthwhile community welfare organizations, has become known as "Mr. Agriculture among those agencies, and the man to contact when plans for a new drive are projected. Since this activity reflects in a favorable way upon the Department of Agriculture as a whole, his selection is both a happy and a well-merited one.

Born in Hallettsville, Texas, Clarence enrolled in Texas University for a course of business study after his graduation from Hallettsville High School. He also attended Massey Business College in Houston before taking a position with the Treasury Department, office of disbursement, in San Antonio. After the office was moved to Dallas he continued his work with Treasury until March 31, 1939, and then the next day went to work for Farm Security Administration holding the same position of senior accounting clerk. He is presently employed as a unit supervisor in FHA's fund accounting section, and always has time for a slow smile and a cheery word for anyone who drops by.

Clarence also finds time to be active in the United Lutheran Church of Dallas. His special pet project, however, is "boys" and his "special drive" among co-workers for the YMCA makes it possible for many underprivileged boys to enjoy the privileges and benefits of a Y membership at a fraction of the regular price, and at no cost to the boys themselves.

used 65 winches (watch that "i" Mr. printer!) to load it. There were the usual medium-sized warts on it which necessitated moving all the telephone posts back 29 feet on each side of the right-of-way, as well as structural changes in the bridges along the route. Through an oversight the stem was left dragging along behind and it was the last train to run over the railroad--the dragging stem destroyed it as fast as it was pulled along--clear into Dallas. As a result of this unscheduled ditching job Houston became a deepwater port and Dallas has been smelling salt water ever since, while bridging the depression with a half dozen viaducts and calling it the Trinity River. The produce firm of Lettuce Havitt stored the cucumber in their refrigerated warehouse and it caused all their produce as well as the ice-making machinery to freeze solid. (That's how the expression "cool as a cucumber" got started") and from that incident stems our giant "quick-freeze" industry. I don't recall what happened to the cucumber but the peeling was used to resurface a main-traveled highway and after 50 years it shows no wear, to speak of. The conductor who made up the train was fired, and some unkind skeptics will claim the Editor made this up, But IT'S A TEXAS FACT!

mission, and the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, the last of which has been somewhat critical of Agriculture's cooperation in carrying out the Hoover recommendations regarding USDA. He said that in almost every case where regulations permit the Hoover recommendations have been complied with. On the subject of economy he said that of course he was for it as much as any other taxpayer, but rightly and intelligently applied. "We are doing more work--more different things--than we did ten years ago with a much smaller number of employees and at a lower budget cost." Of the present investigations he asserted flatly "We will come out of them with increased prestige!"

Mr. Brannan keynoted his address with these words: "We have the right to stick our chins out and say 'I'm proud to be in public service...and to be in the Department of Agriculture!'" He concluded by saying that the problems confronting the Department will be met forthrightly and intelligently. He expressed his thanks to USDA employees in this area for their cooperation in carrying out the USDA program for the farmer. He was introduced by Mr. John Bolish, USDA Club president.

Mr. Secretary is one of the few career employees to attain such eminence in government service, and one of the most able administrators to hold the reins of Agriculture. Born in Denver August 23, 1903, he attended Denver public schools, graduated from the University of Denver Law School in 1929. He entered government service in 1935 with the Resettlement Administration, appointed Director of Region Ten of the succeeding Farm Security Administration in 1941 he held that position until April, 1944 after which he went to Washington as Assistant FSA Administer. Following this he was appointed to Assistant Secretary and then Secretary of Agriculture June 2, 1948. He is the originator of the Brannan Plan, with which we are all familiar.
