The Christian Index, published at Fenwick, Ga., contains, in one column, the three following advertisements:

Excursion!—Will be held at the late residence of Mrs. Perkins, 24, of Greene county, on Wednesday, the 1st day of March next, 1848.

Second edition of the very popular and useful book just from the press. This volume has been recommended by the most eminent religious preachers, and their highest recommendation is worth more than a hundred testimonies from above.

VINCENT SANFORD, NICHOLAS PARKER, Esq's, Jan. 15, 1848.

Rev. Daniel Barker, of the Wesleyan Church, Washington city, and of the Independent Church, Savannah.

Notes—Will be sold on the first Tuesday in February, next, in the town of Greensboro, Greene county, a tract of land containing one hundred and three acres, where James H. Ball lived as a slave.

JOHN H. HOLTZWALD, Adm'r, Dec. 2, 1847.

The sale of 417 one hundred and sixty negroes, 44 males and boys, 230 and 300 girls, stock, hogs, cattle, corn, &c., will be on Friday, the 10th of December, at the plantation of John Jones, near Warsaw, South Carolina.

WILLIAM JONES, Jr., Adm'r, Dec. 2, 1847.

From the Laurens (S. C.) Herald of the 23d inst. appears a notice of a slave trader.

There was quite a sensation in our village on Monday last, caused by the appearance of two strangers, who had in their possession a male and female white slave.

Another—A few miles further on the same road, a mother, a wife, a sister, was separated by Slavery, from all the ties of affection, and was left to the great South Sea, in a prison-house, to all the horrors of a life of wretchedness, and to the most degrading and degrading of all the conditions of a life of wretchedness, and to the most degrading and degrading of all the conditions of a life of wretchedness.

Selections.

From the Pennsylvania Freeman.

Our friend, Dr. David Peck, a highly respectable young physician, who has lately removed to his residence among us, with a view of practicing in the profession, has been invited to attend a meeting of the Medical Society of this county.
