METHODOLOGY

In compiling the OWI Population Survey, the following methodology was employed:

I. The principal sources consulted for statistics on population were:

1) Most recent census reports, consulates and foreign government agencies.

2) Standard statistical publications and reference works including

The Statesman's Year-Book, 1942
Statistical Year-Book of the League of Nations, 1940-41
Population Index
National Catholic Almanac, 1942
Huebner's "Weltstatistik, 1939" and other statistical abstracts.

3) More detailed information for specific territories was obtained from the following:

Pelzer, Karl J., "Population and Land Utilization"
Lattimore, Owen, "Inner Asian Frontiers of China"
Keesing, Felix M., "The South Seas in the Modern World"
Chinese Yearbook, 1938-39
Japanese Yearbook, 1941
Official Yearbook of the Union of South Africa, 1941 and other official handbooks.

II. The methodology employed for arriving at populations varies according to the country covered. If an actual census was taken in any year since 1939, that figure has been used. If no official estimate was available for any year since 1940, an estimate has been calculated on the basis of the average yearly rate of increase since the previous census. In this computation two factors are involved, either a) inter-censal rates of increase, or b) vital statistics (birth and death rates). All figures have been rounded out to the nearest thousand.

III. In regard to the occupied countries of Europe, Statistics refer to the pre-war populations as of 1939, except in the case of certain countries (Belgium, Netherlands, Lithuania, Rumania, Yugoslavia), as indicated in the footnotes.

N.B. An asterisk () denotes an estimate based on the general consensus of a number of competent authorities and references consulted.*

I BRITISH ISLES

Eire	2,990,000 (1)

Ukrainian S.S.R.	30,960,000
Uzbek S.S.R.	6,282,000
White Russian S.S.R.	5,568,000

(1) Preliminary returns, Census of January 1939.

(2) Includes the following areas administered either directly or indirectly from Moscow: a) Territories: Azov-Black Sea, Far East, Krasnouarsk, North Caucasus, West Siberia; b) Regions: Chelyabinsk, East Siberia, Gorku, Ivanovo, Kalinin, Kirov, Kuibyshev, Kursk, Leningrad, Moscow, Voronezh, Western, Yaroslavl; c) Autonomous Soviet Socialist Republics: Bashkir, Buruat-Mongolia, Chechen-Ingush, Chuvash, Crimea, Daghestan, Kabardino-Balkaria, Kalmuck, Komi, Morii, Mordva, North Osetia, Tatar, Udmurt, Volga German, Yakut; and d) Autonomous Regions: Adyael, Cherkess, Jewish, Karachayev, Khakass, Oirat.

VII NORTH AFRICA

Algeria	8,117,700 (1)
Canary Islands	654,000 (2)
Libya	900,000*
Malta	270,000
Morocco, French	6,790,000 (3)
Morocco, Spanish	845,000 (4)
Rio de Oro and Ifni	40,000*
Tangier	90,000*
Tunisia	2,845,000 (5)

- (1) Estimate, March 1942, based on postcensal rate of increase of 2% per annum.
- (2) Census of December 1940.
- (3) Estimate, March 1942, based on annual rate of increase since 1936 Census of 1.31%.
- (4) Estimate, December 1941.
- (5) Estimate, March 1942, based on annual rate of increase of 1.58%.

VIII WEST AFRICA (1)

Angola	4,500,000*
Belgian Congo	10,435,000*
Ruanda-Urundi	3,800,000*
Cameroons, French	2,650,000
Cape Verde Islands	174,000
Fernando Po and Islands	40,000
French Equatorial Africa	3,500,000*
Chad	1,463,000
Gabon	420,000
Middle Congo	764,000
Ubangi-Shari	853,000

Portuguese Guinea	420,000*
Sao Tome & Principe Islands	50,000*
Sierra Leone	2,000,000*
Spanish Guinea (Rio Muni)	153,000

- (1) To a large extent, population figures for West Africa are more or less hypothetical. No reliable enumeration of the natives has ever been conducted, and therefore these figures are mostly rough estimates. An attempt has been made to bring the population estimates up-to-date, using as a basis latest colonial census reports for British (1931), French (1936), and Portuguese (1934) possessions.
- (2) Official estimate of Liberian Government. Other estimates vary 1 to 3 millions.

IX SOUTH AFRICA

Basutoland	619,000 (1)
Bechuanaland	283,000 (1)

Turkey	17,870,000 (7)

- (1) The figures inserted for Arabia are very rough estimates, but represent the combined opinions of leading Arabicists.
- (2) Estimate, March 1942, based on annual rate of increase of 1.12% since 1937 Census.
- (3) Foremost scholars on Ethiopia agree that it is very difficult to give an accurate estimate of the total population. According to various authorities, the population ranges between 5½ and 13 millions. Official Ethiopian estimate of 1935 gives 5,500,000 while the Italians figure 9,300,000 as of 1939.
- (4) Official estimate, October 1942, according to a radio broadcast from Ankara, Turkey.
- (5) Official Estimate, June 1941, including 90,000 refugees who have entered the country illegally.
- (6) Census - January 1942, exclusive of nomadic tribes.
- (7) Preliminary results, Census of October 1940.

Tannu Tuva	80,000*
Thailand	16,650,000 (9)

- (1) Official estimate, June 1941.
- (2) Because of lack of sufficient data, the total population of China cannot be accurately established. Various authoritative estimates differ widely, some surveys placing the population as low as 350 millions and others as high as 600 millions. Population experts seem to agree that the figure is probably 450 to 475 millions, including Manchuria. Figures indicated include the 24 provinces of China proper, Mongolia, and Tibet.
- (3) Provinces of Inner Mongolia (Chahar, Ninghsia, and Suiyuan) - total population 5,200,000.
- (4) Russian estimate of population -- probably most reliable.
- (5) Estimate, January 1942. The figures for the provinces are estimates based on the 1936 census, taking into consideration the abnormal population pressure in Annam and Tonkin.
- (6) Preliminary returns, Census of October 1940.
- (7) Territory leased to France in 1899, under the administrative jurisdiction of the Governor-General of Indo-China.
- (8) Preliminary returns, Census of October 1940.
- (9) Estimate, March 1942, computed on basis of an annual rate of increase of 2.96%.

Samar	471,000
Sulu Archipelago	247,000
Portuguese Timor	480,000*
Sarawak	500,000*

(1) Estimate, December 1941, based on annual rate of increase of 2.10% since December 1940 official estimate of 70,476,000. This latter figure was computed on the basis of an annual increase of 1.5% since the 1930 census and is believed to be inaccurate inasmuch as the average rate of growth during the period 1920-30 exceeded 2% per year. The current population is probably more than 75 millions.

(2) Census - January 1939.

XV AUSTRALIA

Total Population	7,890,000 (1)
Australian Capital Territory	13,000

- (1) On account of the political, geographic and ethnic complexity of the South Sea Islands, only the most prominent areas have been indicated. Among the scattered islets omitted are Ducie, Elizabeth, Lord Howe group, etc. (Great Britain), Baker, Howland, Johnston, Palmura, Jarvis and Wake Island (U.S.), Easter Island (Chile), and Canton and Enderbury (jointly held by U.S. and Great Britain). Population statistics obtained from recent government records may be considered accurate with the exception of the large Melanesian areas (New Guinea, Solomons, etc.) where an efficient enumeration of the indigenous tribes has never been undertaken.
- (2) Prior to the Japanese occupation the administrative seat was located at Rabaul, New Britain. Territories controlled under mandate from the League of Nations were: a) North Eastern New Guinea, b) Bismarck Archipelago, c) Solomon Islands (northern group including Bougainville, Buka, etc.).
- (3) Southeastern section of New Guinea administered directly by the Commonwealth of Australia.
- (4) Under joint mandate to Australia, Great Britain and New Zealand. Prior to the war, the island was governed by Australia.
