Gen. ARTHUR to be weigher of cotton, vice Alexander Pope, deceased.

The attention of the public is called to the sale of some valuable property said Estate, to take place at 12 o'clock, this day, at Hewlett's Exchange Coffee House, by Fernandez & Whiting. The property is that surrendered by J. M. Fernandez, to the use of his creditors; sale positive. For description of property, terms, &c. we refer our readers to handbills, which are issued.

The Battalion of Artillery of Orleans fired yesterday, at noon, a salute of Two Hundred guns, in honor of the glorious triumph of the DEMOCRATS over the WIGS of the State of New York. Born to the great state which knows how to maintain Republican principles against the pretensions of Aristocracy!

Further returns of the New-York elections show an aggregate majority for the Jackson ticket of TWELVE THOUSAND VOTES. For congress, democratic members, 33, bank, twice 9, and one district not yet heard from. In the last congress 26 Jacksonmen, and 14 bank tories.

GREAT MEETING OF DEMOCRATS.

The Democratic party of the city of New Orleans assembled last evening in great numbers at Davis's Hall Exchange. On motion Madame Lefebvre was called to the chair, Gen. Labatut, Dr. Ker, Gen. Planche, and Joseph Trioux, were appointed Vice Presidents, and H. Pedesclaux and J. J. Mathes appointed secretaries.

Dr. Ker having, in a brief address, explained the object of the meeting.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That ten persons be nominated to draft resolutions, expressive of the sense of the meeting; whereupon, the President named Messrs. Wm. Christy, H. B. Conran, D. Augustin, W. P. C. Duplessis, Richard M. Carter, Robert J. Ker, P. Soulé, J. High, B. Marigny, and J. J. A. Planche, &c. to compose said committee.

Several addresses were then made by Wm. Christy, Bernard Marigny, Richard M. Carter, and Hamilton Pouts.

The chairman of the committee to draft resolutions, R. M. Carter, reported the following which were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That we sincerely rejoice with the Democratic party in the city of New York, for having withstood and gloriously triumphed over the designs of traitors to the cause—who, fostered into existence by the favor and distinction of the people, attempted, when in office, to betray the trust reposed in them by their constituents, and to join in the crusade against the principles and measures of our venerable chief magistrate.

Resolved, That the Democratic party in this State have hailed with joy the firm and independent stand taken by the Democracy of the States of Maine, Ohio, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Georgia against the corrupting influence of the U. S. Bank, and that in there recent triumphs they have given further pledges of their devotion to the cause of political measures which will prove in at benefit to the Country as large.

Resolved, That our confidence in the patriotism and the wisdom of the measures of our revered Chief Magistrate undiminished, and that we tender to him our congratulations upon the fact that, the verdict of the People has affixed its seal of disapprobation upon the conduct of his enemies.

Resolved, That the recent triumphs achieved by the Democratic party in the state of Maine, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Georgia, and New-York, speak, in strong language, the approbation of the American people, of the measures and principles of the administration of the general government, and clearly prove that their confidence in it is quite undiminished.

Resolved, That, although the opposition denounced the course of the President towards the Bank of the United States to be unconstitutional and opposed to the wishes of the People, we view the recent elections as having furnished incontrovertible evidence that the democracy of the United States approve with their whole heart and are still ready to support the measures of the President as directed against that dangerous institution.

Resolved, That the Democratic party of the City of New Orleans, tender to their friends of the State of New York, their sincere congratulations on their unparalleled triumph over a most powerful monied coalition—and that, they sensibly feel that this victory gives further assurance to the Democratic party of the United States that the powerful State of New York, will always be found on the side of the People in all great contests with Federalism, Consolidation, Nullification and Bank Monopolies.

Resolved, That in consideration of the arduous struggles of the democratic party and of its glorious triumphs over its enemies and especially in the City and State of New York we would respectfully recommend that a committee of be appointed by the chair to devise suitable means and to take suitable measures for celebrating our victories, and that we would respectfully suggest to that committee the propriety of selecting the Battle Ground below the City as an appropriate place for such celebration.

Resolved, That the editors of democratic papers throughout the U. States be requested to give publicity to these proceedings, and that a copy of the same properly authenticated be communicated to the President, and that a committee of five be appointed by the chair to carry the last clause of this resolution into effect.

On motion of Robert J. Ker, resolved, That the officers of this meeting make the appointments hereafter of the several committees named in the proceedings.

On motion, the thanks of the meeting were tendered to J. Davis for the use of his room.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

The Northern Mail arrived yesterday bringing us regular dates.

We find later intelligence from England which will be found below.

CITY COUNCIL.

Sitting of Sunday, 23d Nov. 1834.

Present the Recorder, Messrs. Bermudez, Labatut, Montegut, Pedesclaux, Mercier, Dixon, McCready, Caldwell, McFarlane and Hyde.

The Recorder informed the Council that the object of the meeting was to receive the Bust of Napoleon, presented by Dr. Antommarchi.

The different persons invited to the ceremony having taken their seats, the Recorder addressed Dr. Antommarchi, in the following manner:

DOCTOR ANTOMMARCHI.

Sir,

As the organ of the City Council I have been charged by the committee, with the honor of tendering you the thanks in the name of the Inhabitants of this City for the present which you have just made to the City of New Orleans, through its representatives, of the likeness of Napoleon, taken after death.—To that large portion of our citizens who are descendants of the illustrious nation, of which the original of this likeness was the chosen ruler, the features of one so intimately connected with the glory and greatness of France, must always be interesting:—whilst marked as those features are with the expression of repose,—of the repose which belongs to the grave, they must evidence to every beholder a striking exemplification of the great moral and religious lesson of the instability of all things human. Other portraits of this great man, whose towering genius and mighty mind stands acknowledged by the world, represent him in all the peculiar energy of his great career,—the arbiter of the destinies of millions,—but that represents him penetrated by the universal destroyer, subjected to the inevitable doom of mortality.

The master mind which inspired and matured so many mighty projects;—the intellect which presided over the framing of a system of legislation, destined to be co-extensive and co-eval with civilization itself; has left its habitation, and the great Napoleon, the impersonation of an era of science no less than of conquest, has become as the clod of the valley.

As republicans, Sir, the inhabitants of this City, and no doubt the whole of the American Nation, duly appreciate the genius and extraordinary mind with which Napoleon was gifted:—As Louisianians, governed, in a great degree by a code, of which he furnished the model, Napoleon the legislature is richly entitled to our admiration and gratitude:—We, likewise owe him something on account of the acquisition which the United States made of Louisiana.

Permit me, Doctor, to reiterate our thanks for the present, and in the name of my fellow citizens, to welcome you to New Orleans.

To which Dr Antommarchi made the following reply:

"I offer my sincere thanks to the Honorable Orator and I am grateful, gentlemen, for the noble and generous reception with which the citizens of Louisiana have honoured me.

"I am happy, gentlemen, to have it in my power to offer to this City, as a mark of my entire gratitude, the bust of the illustrious and majestic Emperor Napoleon, which I myself took at St. Helena, after his decease.

"This great image, gentlemen, is destined to perpetuate among you, as well as amongst all the nations of the universe, great remembrances, and the sacred fire which inspired you with the love of honor, of glory, and of our country.

"This day, gentlemen, is one of the proudest of my life, whose dates will descend to the latest posterity."

Immediately after the close of the ceremony, the hotel-de-ville [illegible] gave a salute of one hundred and one guns.

LATER FROM ENGLAND.

The Liverpool packet ship Virginian, Capt J. Harris, arrived yesterday from Liverpool. She brings us London dates of the 10th and Liverpool of the 11th October. They are totally destitute of any intelligence of interest. The accounts from the Basque provinces on the Northern Spanish frontier and from Navarre are as copious as ever, yet they give us vague and undecisive, merely detailing marches and counter marches, and describing obscurely, paltry conflicts, that we think it useless to lay them before our readers. We are sorry however, to perceive that the tracts of both belligerents are marked by outrages on the defenceless inhabitants, and by a wanton destruction of human life. In alluding to this subject, the London Times says "Every law, divine and human, civil and military, is set at defiance; and the slaughter more resembles the carnage of wild beasts than the strife of men. No mercy is given, no mercy is shown to age or infancy. Both parties vie with each other in the atrocity of their crimes, and recriminations of outrage."

A new conspiracy is said to exist against the Government of Madrid, but the details are not given. The discussion of the Spanish Cortes in regard to the National debt, is the great object of solicitude with the speculators in bank of London and Paris, where large amounts of the stock are held, but as this is a matter possessing little or no interest to the American reader, we have passed it without notice.

There is no late news from Portugal.

The King of the French is still at Fontainebleau, where a most expensive series of entertainments are giving forward to which every person of note in the Capital has been invited. The object of the King in thus departing from his usual habits of life, is stated to have removed an opinion which has been industriously propagated by his enemies, that a prop faulty to economy prevented his indulgence in a mode of life becoming his station.

The Emperor of Russia was at the point of paying a visit to the Court of Berlin, for which extensive preparations are making. Political objects are attributed by some to this visit, though it is probably induced by nothing more than the ties of relationship which connect the two families.

An ambassador from Turkey had arrived in England, and as is usual in such cases, his presence had excited much curiosity.

In Liverpool, two destructive fires have taken place.—One in Launceston bay at the store of Thomas Dover & Co. and the other in Jordan street, Park Lane.

IRELAND.

Mr. O'Connell is employing himself in the preparation for a strenuous efforts to procure the abolition of tithes in Ireland. He intends, says the Dublin Register, to give notice of a bill for next session—

"That the payment of tithes, and all composition rent, modus, or other satisfaction thereof, or substitution therefor, shall totally and for ever cease." He would extinguish tithes and compel the landlords to contribute to make good to the public a reasonable share of the property which the exoneration of these lands from tithes would confer on them. He would compensate the lay impropriators and the beneficed clergymen. We see no possible objection to his proposition. Tithes cannot last. They will not last through the next session; and if O'Connell is the instrument of abolishing them, this would be the proudest, boast any patriot could ever make—that he obtained the Caite emancipation—that he abolished tithes!

FRANCE.

Our French news principally relates to Spanish affairs which we shall transfer to its more appropriate head. The intelligence peculiar to that kingdom is scanty.

A report prevailed, says the Courrier Francais, that Marshal Gerard, who is the only minister that accompanied the King to Fontainebleau, has determined to make an amnesty for political offenders a cabinet question, as it regards the other main stays, and has declared to his friends that he would return from Fontainebleau with an act of amnesty; or without a ministerial port-folio.

The late Mademoiselle Georgain, the celebrated actress, has left a million of francs to her natural son, whose father was Marshal Oudinot. Count Tarono, in his exile, was relieved by Madame R. and has recovered his estate in Spain, amounting to 7 or 8 millions, which it is supposed will also be left left to the son of the above-named actress.

SPAIN.

The war, or rather the butchery, between the government and Carlist parties, continues to be carried on with no definitive results in the northern parts of Spain. It is evident that both parties are feeble in force, but mutually excited by a spirit of exasperated vengeance. In their frequent conflicts no quarter is given on either side. The weaker party is massacred by the stronger, and neither age nor sex is spared.—It assumes every feature of civil war in its most ferocious aspect, and is unnecessarily worse than the sanguinary contest that was so long carried on in Portugal. We cannot but hope that measures will be resorted to by the neighboring powers to put an end to this bloody warfare.

On the whole the Queen's party seems to have the advantage. On the 28th of September whilst El Pastor and Cordova were driving the Carlists out of the Bastan, Zumalacarregui, with his four battalions, was engaged with the division of Oraa a d part of the column of Lorenzo. The action commenced at 9 o'clock in the morning, and continued until 4 in the afternoon. It took place at Salinas de Oro, within five leagues of Pampeluna. The troops of the Queen attacked the Carlists, and blood flowed during seven hours without interruption. The latter at last gave way, leaving 500 killed and wounded on the field.

Accounts from Bayonne state that the health of Gen Mina was but slowly improving, so as to make it a matter of some doubt whether he would be able to resume the command of the army in Navarre before it becomes too late in the season for active operations. Rodil was at Zabiri on the 30th, preparing to return to Pampeluna. He did not intend to withdraw from the army until the arrival of Gen. Mina.

PORTUGAL.

This kingdom is no longer the theatre of stirring events. All is calm and tranquil. The following remarks by a London paper give we think a very just picture of the present posture of re affairs:—

The death of Don Pedro will have little effect on the course of Portuguese affairs. The young Queen will get married with all convenient speed, and the son of Eugene Beauharnois, when seated with her on the throne of Portugal, is likely to be—at the very least—quite as efficient a protector of the young liberties of Portugal as Don Pedro was or would have been. Perhaps, on the whole, it may be just as well for Portugal that, at this time, Don Pedro should have died. Ambition is a ratching disorder—the very epidemic of royalty—and it is probable enough that had health and strength permitted, Don Pedro might have made an attempt to appropriate to himself the diadem which he recovered for his daughter. This might have caused a civil war. The crisis is now over, and Portugal has a breathing time. Very much is to be done—for the condition of the people is lamentable. They are poverty-stricken—they are "out of heart,"—They are burthened with excessive taxation—and the strictest economy must be used in the expenditure of the public revenues. Indeed, to effect permanent good in Portugal, the whole system of finance should be remodelled, and this without delay.

NEW GRENADA.

From the private correspondence of the New-York Courier and Enquirer.

CARTHAGENA, Sept. 28th, 1834.

I write this letter, doubtful whether it will reach its destination, although our mutual friend L—— promises it shall. My object is to give you all the news we have. I will begin with the scandalous robbery of the mail from Bogota, and near the gates of this city. Your astonishment will be great when you hear that the authors of this most daring act, are the Generals Luque, and Hilario Lopez, (the latter, as you know, is our Governor.) Several of their servants were apprehended, who have all declared that they acted upon the orders received from their worthy masters. Only $21,000 were stolen from the mail. The affair makes much noise, but will be passed over as former ones, in silence, and as long as we have military men to govern us, it cannot be otherwise.

The troops have all voted at the late election, and that by the decision of the President of New Grenada, in consequence all the cuartels of the place have been elected deputies to Congress. At Rio Hacha, the administrator of the customs (Laza) not being liked (on account of his villany,) was appointed a Deputy to the Chamber of Representatives. You may judge from this, of the republican ideas and of the liberty reigning in this unfortunate country. To get rid of a rogue they elect him a representative of a province.

Some days ago, a French frigate of 50 guns, arrived here from France, having previously touched at Martinique, and is now waiting for Admiral de Mackeau, who is momently expected with a small fleet of vessels of war; also Mr. Aldophe Barrot, the Consul, who is to be reinstated in his former situation, in presence of three companies of French artillery; and on hoisting the tri-colored flag at his residence, it will receive a royal salute of twenty one guns from each of the different fortifications; the French government having refused to desist in the slightest degree from the demands made by the Admiral, when he came here last year. It appears that our Chiefs take it easy after all their boasting and proclamations, as preparations are making to receive the French Commander of the forces, with all the pomp due to his rank.

As we must now consider the French question settled, and the new tariff is to be put in force very soon, I have not the least doubt that business will revive.

THE VISION.

BY LYMAN WALLBRIDGE TRACY.

This was written in 1830, and if the reader will cast on the History of Greece since that time, he will see that the predictions contained in this "Vision" have been fulfilled.

The wind was high—the sea ran high,
No star-light smiled upon the sky;
The roaring winds soon left the plain,
Carrying onward o'er the main.
From heaven's arch, burst on my sight,—
A being of seraphic light,
And o'er the mighty watery way
He showed me Greece, and seemed to say:
"Behold those isles, of name bright,
Once brilliant with a heavenly light,—
A land that endless fame has rung
The clime where atonic Homer sung:
Where genius waved his towering fires—
And muses touched their sweetest lyres,
Where spirits bold with vengeful hand
Declared vindicate the rights of man.
Though Greece once sunk in awful gloom,
Has risen from her ancient tomb—
Though now the modern Grecian sun,
Has triumphed o'er the Ottoman—
Yet other tyrants come the hour,
Yes! other tyrants lust for power,
And thou these tyrants will decree,
That modern Greece shall not be free!"

He said, and quick as lightning flew
Above to the etherial blue;
And darkness o'er the spreading plain
Assumed again her dismal reign.

NEW YORK MARKETS, NOVEMBER 10.

We have heard of few transactions in staples since Saturday's report. Pot Ashes has suffered a decline. Sales have been made at 94.06.

LIVERPOOL MARKET, October 11.

We have a steady demand for Cotton this week, and with the exception of low Americans, which may be bought upon rather better terms, prices of all kinds have been fully supported. Speculators have taken 3500 American and 1000 Surat, and exporters 250 American. The import is 5908 bags, and the sales are 15,100 bags, viz: 200 Sea Island 16d. to 2s. 20 stained do 9 1-2 to 12d; 3640 Bowads 7 3-4 to 9 3-4d; 3500 New Orleans 7 3-4 to 16d; 3750 Alabama, &c. 7 5-8 to 9 1-2; 830 Pernams 12 to 13 1-2; 560 Bahia 11 to 12 1-4; 590 Maranham 10 1-4 to 12 5-8d; 40 Surinam 12 1-2d; 100 Barbadoes 10 1-4 to 16d; 1610 West India 7 3-4d to 11d; 650 Egyptian 15d. to 16d; and 520 Surats 6 1-4d. to 7 1-4d. per lb.

LONDON MARKET, October 10.

West India Produce.—This produce is generally dull of sale. The advices from the islands continuing to come favorable as to the state of the Negroes, grocers and retail dealers show no disposition to purchase, and holders are equally indifferent about selling. Sugar scarcely maintains its price, and Coffee is decidedly lower. Rum is 2s. 2d, but there is nothing doing in it.

Indigo—The sale is proceeding, and the lots selling from 4d. to 2d. under the last sale's prices.

Cotton—The extensive demand for this raw material is in some degree checked. We believe that speculators had overbought themselves.

PENMANSHIP.

MESSRS. DOLBEAR & BROTHERS respectfully give notice that they have returned and re-opened their WRITING ACADEMY at No. 8 Chartres sueet, where Penmanship in all its variety is taught.

Lessons will be given through the day, and until 10 o'clock in the evening. Ladies who prefer it, can receive lessons at their own residence. By this system—the Carstairian—a more rapid business style may be acquired in two weeks than usually effected in years by the old method.

Ladies and gentlemen are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens written by persons of various ages in this city and elsewhere.

All those who had not time to finish their lessons last season, can do so now free of charge.

They would also inform those who have applied to them for copies of the system, that the next edition will be out in the course of the winter.

In order to give transient persons who have not had an opportunity to examine for themselves—the opinion of those who have, the following report is presented. For others see Circulars.

NEW ORLEANS, 12th May, 1834.

On the invitation of Mr Dolbear, a teacher of Penmanship in our city, upon the Carstairian system; we have carefully examined specimens of the writings of his pupils, whose ages range from 8 to 50 years, written through an entire course of instruction; and after having done so, it is with the highest satisfaction that we can testify to the RAPID if not UNPARALLELED progress which they have made.

From the specimens seen, and the examination of the system made, we cannot withhold the expression of a current opinion, that the system is greatly superior to any hitherto taught. It is write legibly, elegantly, rapidly, and in good taste be an accomplishment, useful or desirable, it is upon the principles of this system that it is to be acquired. We therefore anxiously solicit of the public a liberal patronage in favor of an instructor, whose qualifications are of the highest order, and whose labors promise to be exceedingly useful to this and other communities.
