below last years level because reductions in wheat rye and buckwheat crops among major crops. Rice appears to be record-breaker at this date but corn is near record and no major crop tends to hold down total volume. This year's expected high production corn is due mostly to favorable yield prospects since acreage for harvest although slightly above last year about 3 per cent below average. July 1 corn stocks on farms largest on record for that date. Wheat crop about 8 per cent less than 1948 crop because extensive losses from wet weather at harvest time in southern Great Plains states and prolonged drought in northern Great Plains and Pacific Northwest. However, crop is still third largest on record. July 1 wheat stocks on farms 31 per cent less than year ago and 30 per cent less than the 10 year average.

Subj is summary Steering Comite Mtg, June 28, 1949. Fishing and aquatic industries in Jap (SC 271/19).

US proposed that par 5 be deleted on grounds it was liable to misconstruction and might be interpreted as approving removal of Jap vessels as reparations. Chi member suggested fol be substitued for present 2 B: "If in the future SCAP shld deem it necessary to extend Jap fishing and other aquatic activities beyond the area defined in par 2 A, the matter shall be referred by him to the FEC for action with a view to the adoption of a policy decision." Phil member reserved position on both Chi and US amendments, US indicated its opposition to Chi amendment. Austral, Nethd, UK and Fr members indicated they were prepared to vote against Chi amendment in order to expedite agreement on paper. USSR member indicated present wording par 2 B unacceptable.

Re US proposal to delete par 5, Indian member suggested understanding be recorded in minutes along lines fol: "The provisions of this paper are without prejudice to the views of govts on the question of removal as reparations of Jap vessels, equipment or other facilities used for fishing or other commercial aquatic activities or on the ultimate size and constitution of the Jap fishing fleet." Fishing and aquatic industries in Jap (SC 271/19).

Phil member stated that experiences and dealings with Jap people in past made it imperative for his govt to repeat stand, to permit extension of Jap aquatic and fishing areas only Eastward and not Southward towards Phil waters. He stressed that from standpoint of national security and/or for legitimate conservation measures, fishing area that cld be allowed Jap by Phil Govt was beyond 300 miles from territorial shores of Phil. In connectio with US statement of May 24, his govt believed some difficulty might arise in negot as to determination of area acceptable to member country concerned and SCAP. An area, which in opinion of member govt concerned, was too small for security reasons and/or legitimate conservation measures might be already reasonable from standpoint of SCAP. US, UK, French Zone German Civil International Telegraph Service on unrestricted basis now available to all countries of world except Japan and Austria with which latter country negotiations now under way.

Reopening Germany-Japan Telegraph Service should result in considerable traffic in view of expanding import-export programs and US activities in both countries.

International Transit Telecommunications in Germany result in accrual to Germany of several hundred thousand dollars annually; hence cannot understand situation whereby Japan restricted from handling transit telecommunications.

Direct Germany-Japan telegraph circuit will eliminate outpayment in dollars to transited administrations or private companies. Hence, on basis of the 3.45 gold franc rate Germany and Japan would each retain 1.725 gold francs. Without direct circuit, traffic routed from Germany via London would result in Germany retaining only .20 gold francs and making outpayments of 3.25 gold francs. Presumably Japan would only receive .35 gold francs. With US financial responsibilities in both Germany and Japan, telecommunications should be reestablished to avoid outpayments in dollars by either country to transit administrations or private companies.

Germany has sender-keep-all (non-accounting) arrangements with various administrations for handling International Telegraph Services. Such an arrangement could probably be agreed for Germany if desired.

Jap participation in internatl relationships (FEC 339).

NZ member stated his govt not convinced that Jap has competence in advance of conclusion of peace treaty to undertake wide internatl responsibilities comprehended under US proposal and so long as technical state of war continues it does not see way to accept proposal in present form. NZ Govt did not be able to accept participation of Jap govt, prior to conclusion of peace treaty, in arrangements of predominantly polit character. Even in case of technical conferences they feel that somewhat anomalous position wld be created if Jap Govt were to enjoy full voting rights. Nor does NZ Govt consider it wld be appropriate to deleg to SCAP full discretion over Jap future internatl relationships. While they cannot agree at this stage to proposal which wld permit Jap to participate in internatl relations of polit character, NZ Govt, having considered views advanced by US Govt. wld be prepared to consider sympathetically in FEC proposals that Jap shld be permitted to adhere to technical agreements in which Jap participation was agreed to be desirable. Shld it not be possible to agree upon satisfactory definition of such technical agreements NZ Govt wld be willing to consider each case on its merits.

NZ govt notes that FEC has already provided for travel outside Jap of Jap "commercial reps" and wld wish to know more about additional benefits expected to accrue from establishment of "consular arrangements" between Jap and other countries before they cld agree to authorization of such arrangements.

USSR member stated that US proposal was unacceptable since it was in contradiction with FEC policy decision of Jun 19, 1947, basic post-surrender policy for Jap, in accordance with which the USSR member alleged the Jap govt, may, subj to the discretion of SCAP, exercise functions which are connected only with question of their internal relations and that SCAP is thus not authorized to decide by himself question of Jap participation internatl relations.

Jap membership in internatl convention of telecommunications (FEC 334).

No discussion.

Labor policy in Jap (FEC 318/20).

Chairman suggested that USSR proposal was in nature of substitution for Austral paper. USSR member insisted that his proposal was a separate and basic one and reiterated allegation that occupation auths and Jap govt had violated FEC policy decisions. US member denied this charge and pointed out that actual situation in Jap has ceased to be labor problem largely but was polit problem in which subversive minority consistently was trying to make peaceful and orderly occupation of Jap one of confusion and revolution.

Comm agreed to retain item on agenda pending consideration of final drafts of revised laws.

Jap reparations and level of industry (FEC 340).

US member placed in record dept press release of June 10, 1949.

Replacement of lost cultural objects (FEC 272/19).

USSR member again introduced amendments set forth in SC 272/13 which had been defeated at lower levels. Austral member indicated he was prepared to vote for paper.

Econmic stabilization in Jap.

Phil motion sustaining ruling of chairman accepted by vote 8 favor, 1 opposed (USSR) and 2 abstentions (US and Chi) (USSR member insisted that Sov vote against motion meant it was not carried and that therefore by result of vote Comm condemned action of chairman because under Comms voting procedure there was no difference between questions of substance and questions of procedure). Chairman stated that point of distinction between procedure and substance for voting purposes might be left to Comm.

Re radio WX 89709. Subject is fertilizer for Ryukyus.
1. Following comments are offered:
A. Port handling facilities for bulk cargo in Ryukyus are inadequate.
B. Storage is being arranged.
C. Okinawa will bag cargo in holds of ship if bags accompany shipment.
Ryukyuans understand proper use of fertilizer. They have not received the different fertilizer nutrients simultaneously.
2. Recommend that fertilizer be shipped as programmed with bags stored on bulk shipments.

Ref Nbr CC 883 action to CSUSA for CSCAD info to EUCOM from OMGUS signed Hays, recommend further consideration on sending rqst from SCAP to PROCOM-Berlin for direct Tokyo-Germany telegraph circuit in view of following:

A. Prior to the war Germany had direct rad telegraph circuits to various far eastern locations including Osaka, Hsinking, Shanghai, Manila, Bangkok and Batavia. None of these circuits have been re-established thus necessitating high percentage outpayments by Germany on originating traffic to those areas to other adms that have direct rad links, and low percentage accrual to Germany on incoming traffic from those areas.

B. Increasing economic activity in Western Areas of control of Germany with some 50,000,000 population would appear to warrant direct Japan-Germany rad circuit in view of direct rad circuits between Japan and much smaller European countries for example Switzerland with population of less than 5,000,000.

C. It is not intended at this time, to re-establish certain of the other direct rad circuits between Germany and Far Eastern Areas which existed prior to the war, hence traffic to those areas originating in Germany would be sent via Japan.

D. It may be possible to obtain agreement of certain countries adjoining Germany to use a Germany-Japan Circuit relaying their traffic to Japan and adjoining areas.

E. Prior to the war a 2.00 gold franc per full rate was in effect between Germany and Japan. By the establishment of a direct circuit it may be advisable to re-establish the pre-war rate with a resultant stimulus to traffic.

F. The re-establishment of a direct circuit will result in increasing gold franc accrual on traffic handled to both Japan and Germany.

Subj is Summary Steering Committee, May 24, 49 Fishing and Aquatic industries in Jap (SC 271/14) request for US interpretation of para 2 B, US member pointed out that under existing circumstances US agrees to broad general principle that each member nation of FEC may define on reasonable basis area in highseas within which it has direct concern for security reasons or for enforcement of legitimate conservation measures with respect to entry into that area of Jap vessels for fishing or other commercial aquatic activities. United States acceptance of this broad general principle is however on assumption that it will be applied within rule of reason, and that no state will claim a direct concern over area which would not be generally accepted as reasonable if such case should arise wherein nation insists on direct concern over area which has no possible relationship to national security or to legitimate conservation measures, and if SCAP cld not through negotiation secure a modification of position taken by member nation, he would be forced to exercise discretion implied in para 2 B, with reference to extension of Jap fishing into such part of area claimed as could have no reasonable relation to that nation's national security or legitimate conservation interests. If SCAP in exercise of such discretion prejudices what FEC member country continues to regard as its own direct concern, it is recognized that each country may request FEC to review action of SCAP or resort to diplomatic approaches to other FEC member countries for general consideration of question.

Chi member suggested that US interpretation be drafted in form of amendment as US interpretation not in accord with text. He said there was no issue of "unrestricted right to strike", but only of a "right to strike" by workers in govt enterprises. He also said all "essential services" were not govt enterprises. He explained that in Austral there is "system of compulsory arbitration" but this system and right to strike do not mutually exclude each other. US member replied US not in position support Australian proposal as now worded and that neither paper nor effect of paper on present labor legislation in Japan had been adequately discussed.

He pointed out that trade union policy decision was statement of gen principles which SCAP was to interpret and en force and that SCAP in his interpretation of directive had acted within proper limits of his executive discretion. He added that for FEC now to pass policy that workers in govt enterprises have normal, unrestricted right to strike wld discredit SCAP. He stated US apprehensive Australian resolution wld first and foremost require permanent legislation which wld authorize govt worker to strike in essential industries. He concluded that on basis of info available it was his understanding that not 1 of member govts of FEC was willing by law and/or practice to give unrestricted right to strike to workers in govt enterprises.

Australian member insisted his proposal did not call for "unrestricted" right to strike as right to strike in Japan was governed by actions of SCAP. He pointed out that practice of compulsory arbitration in his country did not exclude right to strike and that no distinction was made between workers in private enterprise and workers in govt enterprise. He could not accept contention his govt was trying to impose on Japanese something which it was not prepared to impose on its own people. He concluded he could not associate himself, with suggestion of USSR member that SCAP had deliberately violated FEC policy decisions. In view of rather strong objection to US proposal to refer paper to Working Comite, paper was retained on FEC agenda, but also referred to comite for priority for patent application in Jap (FEC 333/7).

USSR member expressed disagreement with New Zealand views presented at last meeting. He inquired of US member whether the US considers rejection by comm of policy means absence of action on part of comm and whether this gives US right to issue interim directives.

US member stated that he had already stated position of his govt on this point. The chairman ruled that this item be removed from agenda. The present Party Congress will take the form of a giant pep rally at which members will be exhorted to work harder, to glorify Prime Minister Gottwald and above all to strengthen the discipline within the ranks of the Communist Party.

3. Burma FYI.

Although the reported withdrawal of the Karens from Insein removes immediate pressure on Rangoon, it appears to be a strategic move which will permit Ban reorganization. If the Karens now decide to consolidate all their aval strength, they may become more difficult to subdue. The possibility exists that the Govt will attempt a peace effort in the future.

4. CFM.

The initial strength of our pos in Paris should be fully exploited and we should exploit as well the outstanding weaknesses of the Sov pos by means of aggressive analysis of Vishinsky's statements. The first few days of the conference provide an excellent example of this kind of strategy:

(1) Vishinsky faces a consolidated front of the Western Powers and may not "hope" for any division of which he could take advantage as at previous CFMs;

(2) Manifestly the Western Powers, not the Sov Union have a prog which appeals to the democratic forces in Germany. The Western Powers not merely "want" a Central Govt, common economic planning, a relaxation of occupation controls, a schedule for the gradual restoration of German independence, etc but they have effected or are effecting all these features in the party of Germany under their control. If the Soviets are as anxious to appeal to German hopes as they were at previous CFMs, the best they could do would be to follow the example of the Western Powers for their Zone of Germany;

(3) The first and indispensable prerequisite for any such action would be Sov consent to free elections in Eastern Germany so that the Eastern German population would be represented in an overall German Govt. So far, all of Vishinsky's proposals evade this issue and are obviously intended to disguise Sov unwillingness to make this basic concession. We must watch Vishinsky's future statements for any further similar diversionist moves and expose them as such;

(4) Vishinsky has also revealed Sov unwillingness to relinquish basic occupation controls; apparently he even wants to subject all of Germany to revived controls including those of the Sov Union (his proposal for resumption of ACA machinery.) The Overnight Guidance Number 134 May 20, 1949 4 PM.

1. Eisler: In connection with Justice Department action before the Supreme Court today, note that Eisler is considered a fugitive from justice and clearly not a political refugee. He was convicted for swearing falsely and knowlingly that he was not a member of any subversive organization, that he was not known by any other name than Eisler, and for failing to state his previous residence in the US. The government brought an indictment against him as it would have done if he had made a false statement of any other pertinent matters.

2. Portugal: The Portugese Chamber is reported to have unanimously recommended approval of the North Atlantic Pact. Look for a special session of the Assembly to ratify the pact shortly.

We should report news of ratification as it becomes available, particularly to signatory countries which have not yet ratified the pact.

FYI: Senate consent to ratify will probably be forthcoming prior to Jun 15, and it is considered desirable that ratifications still pending be deposited in time for the treaty to enter into force simultaneously for all signatories.

3. El Salvador: Since the National Railway strike has ended and train service has been resumed in El Salvador, we should not pick up any press rumors about complications which developed in the course of the strike or official action which lead to its termination.

4. Japanese prisoners of war: In playing the USSR announcement that 95,000 Japanese PWs will be repatriated before November, the following points can be stressed:

1. These are the first PWs to be returned since November 1949, despite the agreement of December 19, 1946 which stipulated that 50,000 PWs would be repatriated per month and despite SCAP offers to assist the Soviet Union in overcoming alleged navigation difficulties:

2. Should the present USSR undertaking be carried out before November 1949, it would still be a violation of the ... Repatriation Agreement, according to which all Japanese PWs (estimated at about 1,500,000 when the agreement was concluded) should have been returned to Japan by December 1948:

3. When the Russians suspended repatriations last Nov., there was some 400,000 PWs still remaining in the USSR. If the Russians claim that 95,000 are all that remain, then more than 300,000 are still to be accounted for.

5. ECLA: Representatives of 20-4 countries will attend the May 21 meeting of the UN Economic Commission for Latin America in Havana. The US position with respect to 2 of the issues which will be raised is as follows:

(1) Regarding the possibility that ECLA may adopt a resolution on its functions under the .4 Program, we feel that the proper UN body to make recommendations will be the ECOSOC and what it would be premature for ECLA to spellout its role in implementing the technical assistance program;

(2) Regarding the possibility that ECLA may establish a standing committee of government representatives in various fields including agriculture, we remain opposed to unnecessary proliferation of inter-government bodies unless definite tasks are envisaged which they can reasonably be expected to perform.

6. Special guidance on CFM: In special guidance No 12, distributed with overnight guidance 133, the first sentence in H-4 should be eliminated and replaced by the following:

Subj is summary FEC Mtg, May 12, 1949 Jap membership in Internatl Convention of Telecommunications. (FEC 334).

Phil member requested postponement Jap participation in Internatl Relations (FEC 339).

Re US proposal to Fr member stated his govt wld like to make clear that basic post-surrender policy did not provide that FEC be progressively deprived, as regards control of Japs on relations, of powers given it by Moscow agreement. Result of Amer proposal, as now worded, wld be to give SCAP discretionary powers in field of Jap fon relations, thus depriving govts represented at FEC of right to be heard on these matters. Such discretionary powers cannot, however, be delegated to SCAP by FEC as neither comm nor individual govts possess such powers. In order to meet wishes of Amer Govt and Facilitate Task of occupation authorities, Fr Govt wld be willing to envisage extension of powers given to SCAP by policy decision, Jun 19, 1948 on attendance at Inter-Governmental Conferences subj fol conditions:

A. In each case, SCAP shld notify comm-for its info-of any decision taken re Jap participation in Internatl non-polit conferences;

B. Any commitments which might be subscribed by Jap Govt in bilateral or multilateral agreements of technical character shld be ultimately submitted to FEC for approval.

Opinion of Fr Govt, such formula, while taking into account juridical considerations which cannot be overlooked, Wld have advantage of keeping statute of occupied Jap in line with present statute of Germ economic stabilization in Jap. No discussion level of economic life in Jap (FEC 242/32, FEC 297/10).

USSR Member urged that US present its position. US Member indicated he had statement to make under other business priority for patent applications in Jap (FEC 333/7).

USSR Member in reply to US statement of Apr 26, 1949 again attacked legality of interim directive and alleged that US accepts only those actions of FEC Which it considers acceptable to US, but that When FEC does not approve policy decided by US, US states that FEC is unable to act and under one or another pretext, orders SCAP to implement to policy desired by it.

NZ Member again suggested this item might Well be removed from agenda after lapse of Week other business.

US Member made statement on Jap reparations and level of industry Which Was transmitted to SCAP by Dept of Army in WCL 39888, May 12, 1949.

Only comment was from Phil Member Who stated his del Was stunned by this announcement. They still believed in validity of reasons Which prompted statement on Potsdam Declaration that Wld permit exaction of just reparations in kind in Jap and still hoped that Comm can Work out or develop policy decisions that Will implement Potsdam Declaration.

UK Member stated UK supports US position that no further policies re deconcentration program are needed although he maintained vigilance and care shld be exercised in redistributing assets of Zaibatsu in accordance With relevant principles of basic post-surrender polics.

US Member invited attention to statement SCAP on second anniversary of Jap Constitution.

Overnight Guidance Nbr 132 May 18, 1949 4 PM.

1. NAP: There will be a considerable time lag between termination of the Senate Fgn Relations Committee Hearings on the North Atlantic Pact and Senate ratification. While ultimate ratification seems likely, it is particularly important at this time for media to explain the congressional routine which accounts for the lag and to keep the subj of NAP alive in the interim.

2. Spain: A major demonstration is expected to accompany the Franco Speech on the UN attitude towards Spain. There is no reason for output to carry news of such manifestations.--

On the Spain loan, we should pick up comment plugging our line that Spain is at present considered a poor economic risk.

3. WFTU: No union affiliated with the British Trade Union Congress is expected to accept invitations to the forthcoming WFTU Congress in Milan. Should this expectation hold true, we shall be able to underline the failure of Communist wedge-driving efforts to split the TUC on the WFTU issue.

4. Hyderabad: With the Hyderabad case before the Security Council, the US representative will maintain the pos taken in discussions by the subj at Paris last yr. Do not, however, look for detailed reiteration of US views at the Security Council Meeting.

5. Argentina: Significant progress on settlement of the meat-packing issue is reported and Argentine signature of an agreement seems likely. Since the issue itself was not publicized, we can play down news of settlement.

6. Japanese Reparations: In view of serious Far Eastern concern re the revised reparations policy, media should take advantage of every suitable occasion to hammer home the line that US promises and actions in Japan are on behalf of and in the interest of all Far Eastern Nations. FEC Programs of Democratization and Reform in Japan can only succeed if tolerable economic conditions obtained in that country. The US is naturally reluctant to have to provide approx a half billion dollars worth of Civil Relief Supplies to Japan annually but has been willing to do so in order to make possible the success of FEC Programs which alone can lead to a peaceful Japan. Since the US cannot support Japan indefinitely, it must assist the development of a self-supporting Japanese economy at the earliest possible time. Further reparations from a deficit economy would obviously be inconsistent with this objective. Japan has been completely disarmed, and the US is determined that Japanese capacity to make war should not be permitted to re-emerge.

7. Pacific Pact: Treatment of Secretary Acheson's statement on the subject of a Pacific Pact should emphasize the implication that the US does not oppose such a pact on principle but on the basis of practicability. Acheson's view of Nehrus appraisal of present Pacific Pact possibilities should be given widest coverage, particularly in Far Eastern output.

8. Point 4: The Acheson remarks on the Point Four Prog provide a useful peg for comment along the lines of special guidance on technical aid. Commentary should stress the clear indication that the US will not use the program for pol purposes.

Re: Press coverage Jap reparations stoppage. All Chi and England papers today carry front page articles announcing US decision stop further deliveries war reparations by Japan. Detailed AP news story from Washington accompanied some papers by articles from Japan hailing announcement and from London stating news received by auths there with resignation rather than approval. Only editorial comment thus far in either England or Chi press appears in "China Press" which says US decision "must surely strike dismay among other nations who had participated in bringing the Pacific war villain to subjection and who now see their just recompense vanishing away." It is true that this will reduce costs of US occupation but the other countries which have "suffered under the weight of Jap oppression cannot help but feel differently towards the present move." Japan has a right to her place in the sun although she has caused agonized sufferings to millions. "But is it right today that while other countries, who have never been guilty of aggression, should be oppressed by econ problems now, Japan should have her path paved so smoothly?"

to a momentum of recovery and an increase in the will to resist aggression.

3. Balkan Concilliation Talks.

Evatt has announced that he will make a statement before GA adjournment on latest developments concerning conciliation talks between Greek and her northern neighbors. The Greek Govt has informed Evatt that it accepts his latest proposal for a joint Greco-Albanian border commission with only a slight change which does not, in view of Dept, alter the substance of the proposal. The substance of the satellite replies not know. This Evatt statement is likely to be the last in connection with present conciliation effort. We should do everything possible to insure that the Greeks are given full credit for their cooperative and objective attitude. Media should make much of the fact that Hungarian voters have in effect been openly instructed by govt how to vote in forthcoming Sunday elections. Hungarian papers have stated that it is not the govt but the popular front which has been explaining how "yes" votes are to be cast. The Hungarains say it is illogical to expect a political party to explain to the electorate how to vote against it. It is of course obvious that there is no other political group in the race, that the popular front is the govt and that there is no one to show the voter how to express opposition even if he should dare indicate such an expression of his true sentiments. We should not fail to reiterate that the forthcoming Hungarian vote is not an election but in reality a plebiscite of the Hitler type. We should ask where the opposition party candidates are and how it is possible to hold an "election" without a choice of candidates.

Pending further developments, continue to give factual treatment to news about Bao Dai and developments in Indo China. If an Asian country makes an appeal to Vietnam nationalists for support of the Buondai regime, play it fully. Media are cautioned to give no indication of official US position vis-a-vis the Bao Dai experiment until further notice.

6. Treatment of US Stand on Jap reparations-for German media only:

If it is considered desirable to discuss the US cut off of further reparations from Japan as announced on May 12 by McCoy, media in Germany should:

A. Draw a parallel between this move and the finalization of West German reparations set forth in the Three Power Agreement announced on Apr 13, indicating that these decisions on reparation matters in Japan and Germany have economic planners of both areas a firm basis for long range estimates and programs.

B. Mention "advance reparations" voluntarily distributed to recipient countries by SCAP, but avoid indication of amounts.

C. Play up the parts of McCoy announcement which stress US initiative thruout FEC sessions and US proposals to relinquish our share of reparations to other recipients.

D. Softpeddle the fact that any sizeable reparation removals from Japan will not take place.

7. Paraguay:

While persistent rumors continue that a revolution engineered by Paraguayan exiles in Argentina will be attempted before President Mola's inauguration on Saturday, it is the opinion of our Embassy in Paraguay that no such attempt will be launched in the immediate future.

Fishing and aquatic industries in Jap (SC 271/14). US member stated that he was without instrs as to his govts interpretation of Para 2.

Replacement of lost cultural objects (SC 272/12. . .

Re Chi statements on Apr 19 and 26, US member clarified US position that matter of replacement lost cultural objects by other similar cultural objects "cannot properly be dealt with during the occupation." He stated that has long been accepted in international law and practive that cultural objects occupy special status and it is believed that Chi Del will agree Jap cultural objects cannot legally be appropriated as war booty or as reparations. He pointed out it is felt that, view of body of world opinion which long placed cultural objects in class apart, questions of replacement of lost cultural objects with similar Jap objects be considered in connection with peace settlement, and that replacement program shld not be enforced by victorious powers during occupation period. All historic precedents for such replacements been provided in peace treaties. He concluded further believed that program of forcible removals of Jap art treasures for replacement purposes, if it shld be ultimately decided upon, wld arouse less bitterness and resentment among Jap and less criticism by world opinion, if it were agreed in connection with peace settlement than if it were arbitrarily imposed during military occupation.

Subj is summary Steering Committee meeting, Apr 19, 49.
Agarian reform in Japan (SC 335/4).
US Member proposed following alternative to US amendments to Par 3 C: "To these ends, the FSC approves the basic principles underlying the measures set forth in Par 2 above and the implementation of an Agrarian reform program embodying those principles." Amendment failed receive support other members and Par 3 C referred to AD HOC Comite.
Fishing and Aquatic Industries in Japan (SC 271/10).
UK Member said he could not support US paper (SC 271/7) since provision authorizing SCAP extend present fishing areas very vague. UK could accept paper along lines SC 271/10. He also felt that re Par 6 SCAP be authorized take preventive steps against offenders reported to him and proved to have sailed in prohibited areas and that irrespective any action taken by member govts, permission to fish be withdrawn from offending person and those responsible for his activities. Canad amendment to delete "informed SCAP it has" from Par 2 B of SC 271/10 supported by Chi, Fr, and Neth Members. Sov amendment that Par 2 B of SC 271/10 be amended to read: "No extension of Japanese fishing or other commercial aquatic activities beyond the foregoing area should be permitted without prior authorization by the FEC" defeated by vote 9 opposed, 1 favor and 1 abstention (Chi).
Labor Policy in Japan (SC 318/7).
In lengthly statement US Member stated US from beginning taken lead in endeavoring create independent, free, and democratic labor movement; that this proposal had not been adquately discussed; that there should be clarification expressions "workers".

Pls approach FONOFF and indicate US Govt most desirous obtain internatl support its proposed policy introduced FEC Apr 21 "In view of the fact that one of the basic objectives of the occupation of Jap is to encourage the development in Jap of respect for the rights of other nations and to facilitate the progressive resumption by Jap of its normal internatl responsibilities:

"The FEC decides as a matter of policy that SCAP, subject to his discretion and continued control, should permit Jap to participate with other nations or groups of nations in such internatl relations, conventions, meetings, consular arrangements or other bilateral or multilateral accords as Jap may be invited to enter into, accede to, attend or participate in and as SCAP shall consider to be in the interests of the occupation."

Upon introduction policy USREP made statement including fol points which you may wish to emphasize Potsdam Declaration envisaged establishment responsible Jap Govt. In basic post surrender policy FEC countries agreed to help Jap develop econ and cultural intercourse with other countries and bring Japs into permanent peaceful relationship with all nations. Also agreed ultimate objective establish Democratic and peaceful Jap Govt which will carry out its internatl responsibilities and respect rights of other states.

Since Democratic and responsible Jap Govt now established FEC countries should take leadership in supporting gradual and progressive resumption by Jap of internatl responsibilities under guiding hand SCAP. Realistic approach necessary in view delay peace treaty and lapse of almost 4 years since surrender.

Jap need benefits and guidance of direct contacts with other govts and people. Participation by Jap in internatl relations will thus foster basic objectives and help dissipate vestiges of wartime hatred and bitterness. Furthermore allied nations and peoples will gain knowledge of new Jap thru direct contacts.

SCAP has informed US such policy will further his objectives. Policy also desirable for improvement relations between Jap and all other countries.

You may also point out to FONOFF that this is a problem which should not be approached from standpoint legal technicalities involving long and fruitless debate, but rather from standpoint of broad political implications of situation in Jap and in world at large. Peace continues to be denied Japs without blame on their part. There is growing uneasiness among Japs who face increasing hardship. The heavy burden upon limited US resources continues. Foregoing policy will be one step to decrease tension and to promote Jap trade and thus alleviate US burden. Japs will either move toward sound friendly relationships with non Communist powers or into association Communist power system in Asia. To abandon Jap to latter and unreasonably to deny them entrance into relationships with our nations and peoples would be to undo our costly victory in the Pacific.

Please keep dept informed results your efforts to gain support for proposed policy.
