P R E F A C E.

ALTHOUGH but a space of little more than two years has elapsed since the appearance of 'The Bewick Collector,' and the interval may accordingly be considered more than ordinarily brief between the issue of that work and of the present Supplement to it, there are exceptional circumstances which will be held, I think, more than sufficient to justify me in adopting the course which I am now taking.

The book was hardly published before I was well-nigh inundated by consignments from all quarters far and near, including two from America, of parcels of greater or less magnitude, whose owners solicited my judgment of their multifarious and too often uninteresting contents. Some of these were gifts, a few were for inspection only—the rest were for sale. Books, Pamphlets, Miscellaneous Engravings, Wood Blocks, crowded on each other. For many months I positively lived—so far as important duties would allow me, and frequently at a considerable outlay of labour, patience, and self-denial—among old woodcuts and their impressions. Gradually the storm cleared, the influx of boxes and parcels became less and less, and finally ceased, so that during the last few months I have had sufficient leisure to arrange and describe the result, and in this manner to make the various treasures, thus strangely yet most happily brought together from so many and distant quarters, available for the use and enjoyment of others as well as of their more immediate owner.

From an inventory which I have kept of the subjects of examination, I find that I have had before me about seven thousand Books and upwards of fifty thousand Wood Blocks. A large proportion of the latter, however, came under my notice during three journeys which I have made in various parts of England, especially the five northernmost counties, in the course of the last two years. Many scores—I might truly say hundreds—of old printing offices have I ransacked—not only in Newcastle and the neighbourhood, but in London and various other and distant places where books were published with Illustrations by Thomas Bewick—hundreds of booksellers visited and corresponded with. If, therefore, the result be inadequate or unsatisfactory, which few, I think, will allege, it is owing neither to want of zeal in the pursuit nor to stint in the employment of means.

It may not be without interest for some of my readers if I remark that the additions to my Books and to my Wood Blocks have almost invariably been made from different localities. Hardly a tenth part of the former—the additions to my Books—have been obtained from Northumberland, Durham, Cumberland, and Westmoreland; while, on the other hand, with the exception of some interesting London purchases, very few Wood Blocks of Bewick's execution have been discovered beyond the limits of those four counties. The reason lies apparently in the fact that in the search for Books illustrated by Thomas and John Bewick the extreme north of England had been thoroughly examined and exhausted; while Blocks engraved by the former, especially those for miscellaneous purposes, were done almost exclusively for his immediate neighbours, and consequently were not to be found at a distance from their several localities. The great majority of his most celebrated works for remote employers were already included in my Collection, and I have now done my best to make his own neighbourhood even more bare of his Blocks than it previously was of Books illustrated by him.

These, then, are the reasons which induce me to offer the present Supplement to all who feel interested in the Artists and their labours. Circumstances have crowded into weeks and months what is ordinarily the result of the successful labours of many and long years. And the repose which has followed the pressure of the throng, if it have not added to the result, has at least gone far to impart the certainty that little if aught more remains to be effected, and to make me feel that I shall do well, without a delay which would now be unproductive and consequently useless, to present those who have already testified their approbation of my work with the Additions which I may not unreasonably hope will supplement and complete it.

Touching the former volume, I have in the first place to tender my best acknowledgments for the very flattering reception with which it has been honoured by the public press at large. Not only has it received the hearty approbation of various of our London critics, but a goodly number of the provincial journals, including more than one in Bewick's own noble town, have been pleased to comment most favourably and handsomely on my labours. I have heard, indeed, but a single adverse criticism, and that from but one or two private objectors. It is to the effect that I have created an unnecessary labour and inflicted a gratuitous weariness on my reader by the enumeration of "another" and yet "another" duplicate of many of the articles. I beg in reply to remind such a critic that my book is professedly and designedly not only a Catalogue of the Works of the Artists but of my own Collection, and that the mention of each article is, accordingly, a very important and indeed necessary feature in such a work. And, further, I take leave to add that it is rather hard, when I have spread so rich and varied an entertainment for my guests, that I should be grudged a single and homely dish for my own special gratification.

There is, however, a further reason which will hereafter in all probability impart a public value to what is now, I own, but a private advantage. The feeling is strong within me, daily increasing in intensity, and all but arrived, if it have not quite done so, at the certainty of a fixed determination, that either the British Museum, or some other National Art Collection, shall hereafter be, as it ought, the depository of this host of artistic treasures. There the multitude of unique articles, which not only impart to it an unapproachable precedence, but remove it from even distant comparison,—the wonderful series of Books and Pamphlets, many apparently unknown beyond its limits, others of hardly less rarity, including a goodly number of volumes either the property of Thomas Bewick himself, or presented by or to other celebrated persons, or for some other reason possessed of special interest,—the matchless collection of Proofs in various states,—the immense aggregate of Miscellaneous Cuts done for public purposes and private persons, the fruits of the life-long gatherings of well-known Collectors,—and, perhaps above all, as, if possible, more than all unique and incomparable, the priceless assemblage of Wood Blocks, as well of many of the most celebrated books illustrated by Thomas and John Bewick, as of a multitude of the best performances of the elder brother for all kinds of purposes of business and amusement—would be in their rightful place, secure from casualties which in their case would be an irreparable loss to Art in general, and safely preserved for the study and admiration of generations yet to come. In the event of my Collection being deposited in such an Institution, where the possession of duplicates for careful comparison would be estimated as it deserves, the present Catalogue would acquire a greatly increased value, as not only an enumeration of the results of private and long-pursued research, and a guide to Collectors desirous of following, so far at least as possible, in the same track, but a ready key to the contents of a great Public Department of Art. So that what now appears a blemish to the critics just referred to may ultimately become a thing of special utility to them and multitudes besides.

Let me add that a far more serious objection—which, however, I have not met with—might have been advanced against my work, and for which I should have had humbly to solicit forgiveness. I am sorrowfully conscious that among the Books and Pamphlets there are more than a few—upwards of forty at least—which should never have been admitted to a place in the list. My reader, however, if he have carefully perused the notes appended to many of the articles, will not fail to recollect that I have in numerous instances expressed my doubt, and sometimes more than that, of the correctness of their attribution to either of the Artists. These doubts are now increased to certainties. I am quite sure that neither Thomas nor John Bewick had any hand in the productions referred to. And the same must be affirmed of a very large number of other publications, especially those of the London press, with which their names have of late been most improperly associated, but in which not a single line of their work is to be found.

This should be well understood, for Collectors are pertinaciously beset, and now more than ever, by all kinds of specious pretences. In various Book Catalogues, for example, I have been considerably amused by the note affixed to a number of worthless volumes—"Not in The Bewick Collector," "Not in Hugo," "Unknown to Hugo," etc. etc. Many of them were indeed "known" to me so well as to be intentionally excluded. They were certainly "not in 'The Bewick Collector,'" and it would have been simply a blunder in the book and a disgrace to its author if they had been. For they were mere pretenders to that to which they had not the shadow of a rightful claim.

I feel, accordingly, that I shall be doing the Collector a very important service, if I endeavour to prevent him from being cajoled by the practices referred to by enumerating some of the classes of books the illustrations of which are thus—to speak mildly—erroneously attributed to the Brothers Bewick. There are, indeed, hundreds of volumes which nothing but the most profound ignorance or the most shameless indifference to honest dealing can ever attempt to identify with either of the great Newcastle Masters. Disgraceful, I must say, and utterly unworthy of English tradesmen, has been the late traffick in such commodities. I warn my readers against the deception. The remedy, however, after all lies with themselves. For so long, I must be allowed to add, as Collectors are willing to be victimized, so long will worthless books "with charming engravings by Bewick"—such is the phrase —be offered for their purchase. Ready, indeed, and thoughtless must many of them be, to be so impudently, clumsily, and absurdly duped.

Passing these, however, as unworthy of further remark, I would direct my reader's attention to other works, which have, in good faith but ignorantly, been assigned to the Artists:—

1. The publications in general of Vernor and Hood. For example:—The Letters of Junius, No. (98.); Marmontel's Tales, No. (136.); Bloomfield's Farmer's Boy, Nos. (155.), etc.; Britton's Beauties of Wiltshire, No. (166.); Rural Tales, Nos. (182.), etc.; Holloway's Scenes of Youth, No. (189.); Zimmerman, No. (195.); Bloomfield's Wild Flowers, No. (245.); Bloomfield's May Day with the Muses, No. (448.); Hudibras, No. (3803.); and others mentioned in Appendix, No. V., which I have compiled with the special intention of guarding the Collector against deception. Many of the illustrations in these volumes, indeed, are of considerable excellence. They are in some cases the work of Anderson, and in others that of Austin and Charlton Nesbit. Nor, it is right to add, are Vernor and Hood to be held accountable for the error into which modern students have fallen as to the attribution of these engravings. While, whenever they could do so, they expressly stated the fact of the illustrations of their books being the work of Bewick, e. g., Dodd's Beauties of History, No. (88.); Scripture Illustrated, No. (225.), etc., they never attempted to impart a fictitious value to their property by the dishonest use of the Artist's name. This cannot be affirmed of all their brethren.

2. A large majority of the publications of J. Carnan, of St. Paul's Churchyard, of E. Newbery, also of St. Paul's Churchyard, and of J. Harris, his successor. Among others, evidently by the same artist, are the cuts in Youthful Portraits, No. (89.); Pity's Gift, No. (122.); Mrs. Pilkington's Historical Beauties, No. (123.); The Crested Wren, No. (129.); Paternal Present, No. (176.); Triumph of Goodnature, No. (177.); False Alarms, No. (3779.); and others noticed in Appendix, No. V. Most of the Cuts in these publications of Newbery and Harris exhibit very minute care in their execution, but have little or nothing of the boldness and freedom of the Artists' genuine works.

A word, before proceeding further, to some who may imagine that too much attention has been devoted to works of a trifling nature and by-gone interest. "The world is probably not aware," says Washington Irving, in his 'Biography of Oliver Goldsmith,' "of the ingenuity, humour, good sense, and sly satire, contained in many of the Old English Nursery Tales. They have evidently been the sportive productions of able writers, who would not trust their names to productions that might be considered beneath their dignity. The ponderous works on which they relied for immortality have, perhaps, sunk into oblivion, and carried their names down with them; while their unacknowledged offspring, 'Jack the Giant Killer,' 'Giles Gingerbread,' and 'Tom Thumb,' flourish in wide-spreading and never-ceasing popularity."

3. The publications of John Marshall, Aldermay Church Yard. Among many others are Life and Perambulation of a Mouse, No. (56.); Jemima Placid, No. (279.); Memoirs of a Peg Top, No. (280.); Adventures of a Pincushion, No. (334.); Life and Adventures of a Fly, No. (3767.), and others in Appendix, No. V.

The engravings in this Division are very peculiar. They appear to be the work of the same artist, and in their tasteless want of meaning can hardly be said to illustrate the books in which they occur. They consist usually of figures, in hard outline, of immoderately tall and thin personages, whose action and employment it is difficult so much as to guess. The following is a favourable example, bad as it unquestionably is, by the same hand, and its inspection will make my meaning clearer. I selected it some time since from a large and worthless stock of old Wood Blocks in London, where there can be no doubt that it was executed, and for one of the volumes of this publisher.

4. In addition to these are a number of books issued by various Houses. Among them:—Riley's Historical Pocket Library, No. (57.); Musical Budget, No. (145.); Zion's Pilgrim, No. (170.); Life of Peden, No. (171.); The Nurse, by Tansillo, No. (197.); Miss Owenson's Irish Harp, No. (226.); The Painter's Budget, No. (329.); Burdekin's Publications, Nos. (339.), (340.), (341.), (461.), etc.; Brown's Poems, No. (433.); Tom Bragwell, No. (437.); Irish Family, No. (447.); Foote's Works, No. (3778.); Misfortunes of Love, No. (3781.); Life of Turpin, No. (3782.); Rowe's Fables, No. (3801.); Evans's Juvenile Tourist, No. (3802.); Week at Harrogate, No. (3808.); and others in Appendix, No. V.

As I have previously remarked, most of those to which numbers are attached have been already mentioned in terms of suspicion, so that I would fain hope the Collector has not been seriously misled by finding them admitted to a place to which they had no well-grounded pretensions.

With a view, however, of affording him a better idea of the extent of the field which he will find himself compelled to investigate, and still more of putting him on his guard against its dangers, I have added an Appendix of several numbers, a frequent reference to which I feel assured will prove very useful and profitable.

I. A List of Books printed for T. Carnan, in St. Paul's Churchyard.

I know of but one of his publications, No. (22.), which contains any specimen of Bewick's powers.

Their illustrations appear to be older than any of his productions. The list, however, is necessarily valuable to those who are interested in this species of all but obsolete literature. Like those which follow, it has been compiled from a number of the publisher's own catalogues.

II. A List of Books printed for E. Newbery, and for J. Harris, successor to E. Newbery, at the Corner of St. Paul's Churchyard.

Only a few of these contain illustrations by either of the Brothers Bewick, some of which, however, are among the choicest productions of the younger of the two. All will be found in the Collection.

III. A List of Books printed and sold by John Marshall, Aldermary Churchyard.

I am not aware that any of these contain illustrations by Bewick, though many are popularly considered so to do, and, like those before mentioned, attempted to be sold as such.

IV. A List of Books printed and published by T. Wilson and R. Spence (and afterwards Thomas Wilson and Son), High-Ousegate, York.

A considerable number of the books in this List are not included in the 'Bewick Collector,' from the fact of their containing no examples of the Artists' work. Of a large number, containing such examples, careful descriptions have been given in that volume and the present Supplement. It should be distinctly remembered, however, that none of these cuts were done by Bewick for the York publishers, but that they were purchased by them from Messrs. Hall and Elliot, of Newcastle, and were used as occasion required for the productions of their office. In many instances, the cuts originally done for one book were forced by their subsequent owners to illustrate others, and are consequently more or less unsuitable for the purpose to which they were compelled to minister.

It will be perceived that the titles of many of the York books are identical with those of Carnan, Newbery, Marshall, and others. The illustrations, however, of the latter are different, and the work of other hands. Hence the admission of the one, and the rejection of the other.

V. A Century of Books, of various publishers, places, and dates, which have been offered to me among the multitudes referred to at the commencement of this Preface, selected from the rest for their plausible appearance and consequent ability of deceiving the Collector, but which I hold to be as really undeserving of a place in this Catalogue as other and less artistic productions. Of course the articles in this Division—this specimen list of pretenders—might have been added to largely and without difficulty. But enough, and perhaps more than enough, are given to enable the Collector to perceive the kind of books which he will certainly do well to reject. If he will carefully compare the illustrations of these volumes with those about which there is no question, executed and published at the selfsame time, he will see without difficulty how impossible it is that productions so entirely dissimilar could be the work of the same hand. The style of Thomas Bewick is always to be detected even in his most trivial performances. It is not always equal, but it is always individual. And it is at once absurd and dishonest to attribute to him works which detract from his well-earned fame, not from any desire to increase his celebrity, or to evidence the versatility of his powers, but—if the truth must be said—only with a studied intent to deceive the unwary, and dishonestly to give a fictitious value to articles which would otherwise be deservedly without a purchaser.

I may add that not only is there no sign of unwillingness to give high prices for genuine articles, but that the value of such is still rising. One of the copies, for example, of the Chillingham Bull on parchment, which I mentioned as being in private hands, has been sold within the last year for fifty guineas. Other instances hardly less conspicuous have been reported to me.

The process by which I have been enabled during the last two years to examine so many and distant productions, while it has proved by lack of results in various Divisions how complete were my previous acquisitions in such, has been the means of bringing before my notice many relics of singular interest unconnected with, or but distantly allied to, the subject before us. This is not the place, nor have I time at my present command, to enter into details. But, as specimens of the class of additions to which I refer, I annex impressions from two original Blocks which I doubt not will be duly valued. The first illustrates the old and well-known poem of 'The Friar and the Boy,' while the latter represents the Morris Dance which was so great a favourite in the olden days of 'merry England.' I am well aware—and indeed it ought to be strongly insisted on—that rudeness of execution is no certain criterion of the antiquity of a Wood Block. Many which appear to be the oldest, used in the Chap Books printed at Newcastle at various times, are known to have been engraved by the printers' apprentices in that town between the years 1770 and 1780. While a knowledge of this fact will reconcile the critic to my attribution of some in the following pages to the apparently late date to which I assign them, the primitive state of the Blocks whereof impressions have just been given is conclusive of their real and genuine antiquity.

As I may, further, presume that my reader is more than ordinarily interested in the works of the old Northern engravers and printers, I give him the benefit of another of my acquisitions which unites each of these two specialities. It is an impression (see the next page) from an original Wood Block by the celebrated Thomas Gent, printer, of York, with which he was so far contented as to annex his name to his work. The Block has been much injured by being employed as a "bearer," and otherwise maltreated. I also possess a Cut of Pontefract Castle, with "T. Gent York." engraved on the back, used at page 122 of his 'History of the Great Eastern Window in York Minster,' 8vo. York, 1757-1760; and an impression of his Book Plate, the only one that I have ever seen, in a copy of Conybeare's 'Defence of Revealed Religion,' Third Edition, 8vo. Dublin, 1732, which was formerly "e Lib. Tho. Gent, Civ. Lond. Ebor. &c.," as appears by his autograph on the title. It consists of an oval border of roughly executed foliage, enclosing the printed inscription "A.C. MDCCLXXII. Mr. Thomas Gent. Printer, Æt. 80."

I have, in the last place, the pleasing duty of expressing my grateful acknowledgments for the many kindnesses and courtesies with which I have been favoured in the course of these investigations. Numerous friends have either enriched my Collection with gifts of rare or unique treasures, or have aided me with their introduction and influence, apart from whose assistance the acquisition of many of the articles would have been simply impossible. Their names, where I have been authorized to give them, are annexed to the notices of the various objects. I have omitted them, indeed, in some instances, for the reason stated in my previous volume. But such donors, although unmentioned, will be pleased to accept this poor memorial of my gratitude, which a desire to comply with their wishes makes so inadequate and to me unsatisfactory.

In concluding a work to which from the nature of things it is absolutely impossible to make any additions of more than very secondary importance, I feel that I am bidding a partial farewell to a pursuit, which, although rightly subservient to other and much beloved yet very different subjects of study, has long possessed for me a delightful fascination, and could almost wish, for the pleasure of acquiring, that the acquisitions themselves were less complete. Of course, as I have stated elsewhere, it would be folly to pretend that such a result has been attained without a long period of very large and unhesitating disbursement. This was necessary at all times—for the objects were possessed of great interest and value from the very moment of their production—and still more so for a number of years last past, partly through the reverential regard felt by their possessors for many of them as the sole surviving relics of old and celebrated Houses, and partly through the daily increasing avidity with which every thing connected with the subject is seized upon by Collectors, oftentimes more desirous of acquiring than intelligent in the selection of the objects submitted to them. Added to which have been various rare opportunities past and over, invaluable and beyond recall, long intimacy with deceased friends and business connections of the Artists themselves, and the successive dispersion of the other famous Collections made during the lifetime of both,—precious evidences of which are thickly strewn in the former and the present volume. And, lastly, the aid of living friends, able as well as willing to help, whose influence towards the conclusion has been equally propitious. Fortunate accident and designed kindness have thus combined to aid the powerful adjunct of long and liberal expenditure. And the result is that to which I have now the pleasure of welcoming my reader, with the concluding assurance to him that it is one which no zeal to acquire, no desire to oblige, nor any amount of pecuniary outlay can ever again purchase or procure.

THOMAS HUGO.

TO

BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS.

THE observations prefixed to the similar Division of the former volume—as to the mode of description, degree of rarity, monetary value, and necessary care in selection, of the several articles—are equally applicable to the present, and to them the reader is referred.

As to their uncommon occurrence, however, it may be repeated, that many of the following articles, especially those which appear to be of least importance, are, as may indeed be inferred by the reader of the foregoing Preface, of the very highest degree of rarity; while, as to the prices demanded and paid for such of these as now and then find their way into the market (though it may be observed that few of the rarest ever do so), there would really appear to be no limit to the extravagance of either. The reader will find examples of this in many of the following pages.

* I would merely add the explanation already given, that the first number (in brackets) is the running number of the entire Collection; the second, that of the particular Division; and the third, where there is any, that of the separate Copies or Impressions. This mode of enumeration has been found so useful, both in presenting as perfect a view as possible of the Collection itself, and in enabling Collectors to identify articles at a distance without the need of lengthened description, that any change would appear to be as objectionable as it is unnecessary.

(4026.) 1. 1. A New Lottery Book Of Birds and Beasts. No. (4.).

Another very fine copy, in its original Dutch paper boards.

(4027.) 1. 2. Another similar.

(4028.) 2. Impressions From Wood Cuts In the Possession Of Thomas Saint.

Newcastle: Pilgrim Street, MCLXXII.

Small 4to. Consisting of a title and nine leaves. There is one cut on the title, and the others, fifty-three in number, are printed on each side of the leaves. Fifteen of them had already appeared in the 'New Lottery Book of Birds and Beasts,' just referred to, published by Saint the year before. Among the rest, fourteen appear to bear evidences of the hand of Thomas Bewick, while the remainder are older than his time.

Almost as fresh as when published, in its original gilt and flowered paper cover.

Of the utmost rarity. Formerly purchased for £3. 3s.

(4029.) 3. The New English Tutor: Or, Modern Preceptor. This Work is beautified with elegant Cuts, representing such Vices as Children are most addicted to, and such Virtues as should be first inculcated: Likewise several Fable Cuts, with striking Lessons, referring to each particular Passion, &c. The Third Edition. Much Improved and Enlarged. By A. Fisher, Author of the New English Grammar with Exercises of bad English.

Newcastle: Printed for the Author, and sold by L. Hawes and Co. G. Robinson, and W. Nicoll, in London; T. Slack in Newcastle, and all other Booksellers in Town and Country. M.DCC.LXXIV.

18mo. Pp. viii, 164. With ten cuts, which I believe to be older than Thomas Bewick, although generally claimed for him, and by very high authority. The original Blocks are in my possession, No. (3755.), and the following are specimens of the impressions.

The Bewick Collector.

(4030.) 4. 1. Moral Instructions Of a Father to his Son, Comprehending the Whole System of Morality. [etc.] The Third Edition.

Newcastle : Printed by and for T. Saint. MDCCLXXV. 12mo. Pp. 168. With thirty-four fable cuts, some of which are very similar in style of execution to those in the 'Youth's Instructive and Entertaining Story Teller,' 'Hastie's Reading Easy,' and other of Saint's publications illustrated by Thomas Bewick.

"The cuts [some of them] were engraved by Thomas Bewick in the first year of his apprenticeship, except that of a ship at sea, p. 167,—which was engraved by Bewick's fellow apprentice, David Martin,—Bewick at that time disliking to represent water." Miss Bewick.

Very fine copy, in old calf.

(4031.) 4. 2. Another beautiful copy, in sheep.

(4032.) 5. Select Fables, In Three Parts. Part I. After the Manner of Dodsleys. Part II. Fables with Reflections. Part III. Fables in Verse. To which are prefixed, The Life of Æsop; And An Essay upon Fable.

Newcastle: Printed by T. Saint. MDCCLXXVI.

12mo. Pp. 211, ii. With a copperplate frontispiece by Ralph Beilby, and one hundred and fourteen cuts, some, at least, of which are by Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4033.) 6. A New Epitome Of the Annals Of Great-Britain: Or, a succinct, impartial History of England, From the remotest Period of Intelligence, to the Conclusion of the last War. [etc.] The Second Edition, Enlarged and Corrected. By G. Grey.

Newcastle: Printed for the Author, and sold by T. Slack. MDCCLXXVII.

18mo. Pp. xviii, 284. With whole length portraits of the Kings and Queens, drawn by "R. P.," though generally considered to be engraved by Thomas Bewick, the original Blocks of which are in my possession. The following are those of Stephen and James I.

Fine copy, in half russia. It belonged to Mr. Thomas Bell, and has his book-plate.

(4034.) 7. A New Years Gift For Little Masters & Misses.

Newcastle : Printed by T. Saint, for W. Charnley, 1777.

Square 18mo. It consists of thirty-one cuts, enclosed in borders, most of them printed singly, and all on one page only of each leaf, without letterpress.

Among the cuts are six illustrations of the 'History of Little Red Riding Hood,' of which I possess the original Blocks. The following are specimens.

Very beautiful copy, in tree-marbled calf, gilt.

(4035.) 8. The Oxford Sausage: Or, Select Poetical Pieces, Written by the most Celebrated Wits Of The University of Oxford. A New Edition. Adorned with Cuts, Engraved in a New Taste, and Designed by the Best Masters.

Oxford : Printed for G. Robinson, in Pater-noster-Row, and F. Newbery, the Corner of St. Paul's Church-Yard, London ; W. Jackson and J. Lister, in Oxford ; and sold by the Booksellers of Oxford and Cambridge. M.DCC.LXXVII. [Price Two Shillings, sewed.]

12mo. Pp. x, 224. With cuts, some of which have much to recommend them as the early work of Thomas Bewick. Beautiful copy, in old calf, from the Fenwick Library.

(4036.) 9. Youth's Instructive and Entertaining Story-Teller; Being A Choice Collection Of Moral Tales, [etc.] The Third Edition.

Newcastle upon Tyne: Printed by T. Saint, For W. Charnley; and M. Vesey and J. Whitfield. MDCCLXXVIII. [Printed in error MDCCLXXXVIII.]

Sm. 8vo. Pp. xii, 246. With cuts differing from those in the former editions at pp. 1, 48, 130 (a reversed copy), 135, 138, 207, and 245. That at p. 207 is a large cut of a Monk seated on the Seashore, and heads "The Epistle of Abelard to Eloisa." It is mentioned under No. (3468.).

Fine copy, in old calf.

(4037.) 10. Wood Engravings From A Pretty Book of Pictures For Little Masters and Misses, Or Tommy Trip's History of Beasts and Birds, Dog Jowler, Giant Woglog, &c. &c.

Newcastle: Printed by T. Saint. 1779.

Sm. 8vo. A title and twenty-seven leaves, containing eighty cuts, printed three on the recto of each leaf, except in a single instance, where two cuts, one of them representing the Giant and Tommy Trip, occupy the page.

"The proofs from Tommy Trip in this state must be excessively rare, if not unique. I have never seen or heard of a copy in any collection of Bewick's works." Letter of Bookseller.

A matchless copy, fair as when printed, in old tree-marbled calf, gilt and tooled, with marbled fly-leaves. It cost a former possessor £7. 7s.

(4038.) 11. [A Series of Cuts, for some Toy Book, published about the year 1779.]

They are forty-three in number, and are printed, with one exception, two on the recto page of a leaf, without title or letter-press, in an 8vo volume of twenty-two leaves.

Some of them were used many years afterwards in 'Tommy Tagg's Poems,' published by Wilson and Spence, York, 1800. See under the publications of that year.

Fine copy, in old half-calf binding. It was formerly priced £3. 3s.

(4039.) 12. The Mirror; Or A Looking-Glass For Young People of both Sexes; To make them Wise, Good, and Happy. Consisting of A Choice Collection of Fairy Tales. By Mother Goose. A New Edition. Newcastle Upon Tyne: Printed by and for T. Saint. [n. d.]

18mo. Pp. iv, 186. With cuts at pp. 1, 21, 44, 59, 73, 80, 90, and 102, by "R. J.," and at pp. 109, 118, 149, 158, and 173, by Thomas Bewick. Those by Bewick are truly beautiful, and equal to his very best in the 'Tommy Trip' and other works of the period. That at p. 173 is signed "T. B. Newcastle."

Beautiful copy, in old calf.

At the end is the following catalogue of "Books printed for, and sold by, T. Saint, in Newcastle."

Youth's Instructive and Entertaining Story-Teller. Second Edition.

Moral Instructions of a Father to his Son. The Third Edition.

The Modern Cook; and Frugal Housewife's Complete Guide.

The Prettiest Book for Children: being the History of the Enchanted Castle. By Don Stephano Bunyano.

Fables of Æsop, and Others. By S. Croxall, D.D. The Seventh Edition.

A Choice Collection of Hymns and Moral Songs.

The Sugar Plumb; or Sweet Amusement for Leisure Hours.

A Pretty Book of Pictures for Little Masters and Misses; or Tommy Trip's History of Beasts and Birds.

Christmas Tales. By Solomon Sobersides.

(4040.) 13. Robinson Crusoe. [Published apparently by Saint, and about the year 1780.]

A set of six large cuts for this work, printed each on the recto page of a 12mo leaf, without letterpress or title.

They were formerly in the possession of Mr. Thomas Bell, and were purchased at his sale by Mr. Lynch, of Newcastle.

The first cut is the Figure of Robinson Crusoe, which was afterwards the frontispiece of ‘ A Supplement to the History of Robinson Crusoe,’ Nos. (19.) and (20.).

A History of Robinson Crusoe, with the same series of cuts, was subsequently published by Wilson and Spence, of York. See under the publications of the year 1802.

Fine copy, in its original blue wrapper.

(4041.) 14. Be Merry and Wise; [etc.] By Tommy Trapwit, Esq. Adorned with Cuts.

London. Printed for the Author, and sold by T. Carnan, In St. Paul’s Church Yard, 1781. (Price Six Pence.)

24mo. Pp. vi, 128. The cuts in this little book are older than Bewick, but that on the outside of each leaf of the cover, which in the present copy happily remains, is a most beautiful specimen of his skill. Each represents children at play,—one, a game of blind-man’s-buff, the other, of battledore and shuttlecock,—surrounded by a border of foliage and flowers. These borders were evidently engraved on separate blocks, pierced so as to receive any kind of insertion, similar to the famous Barber’s Cut, Nos. (2326.), (2327.), (3645.), etc., of this Collection, engraved about the time that this book was published, and the execution of which they most closely resemble.

(4042.) 15. A Choice Collection Of Hymns, And

Moral Songs; Adapted to the Capacities of Young People, on the several Duties and Incidents of Life. Adorned with elegant Wood-Cuts, to impress more lasting Ideas of each Subject upon the Mind, than can be attained by those in common Use. To which is added, Specimens Of Divine Poetry. By several Authors.

Newcastle: Printed by and for T. Saint; and Sold by W. Charnley; and J. Whitfield. MDCCLXXXI.

18mo. Pp. iv, 177, iii. With seventy-one very beautiful cuts, some of which are used in others of Saint's publications. Those at pp. 96, 102, 104, 110, 120, 129, 139, and 145, are particularly excellent, and clearly indicate that the skill of Thomas Bewick was fast arriving at perfection.

Very fine copy, in old calf.

(4043.) 16. The Real Reading-Made-Easy: Or, Foreigners' and grown Persons' Pleasing Introductor To Reading English, Whereby all Persons, of whatever Age or Nation, may soon be taught, with Ease and Pleasure, to read the English Language.

Newcastle: Printed and sold by T. Saint. 1782. Price One-Shilling.

18mo. Pp. x. Followed by "A S'upl'im'int Too thi Histire ov Robinsin Kruzo," No. (20.).

This singular book consists of Lessons in Reading on the phonetic principle. At the end are "Propozils for printing bi Subskripshin A Nu Edishin ov thi Hole Bibil," etc.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4044.) 17. Moral Instructions Of a Father to his Son, [etc. as in No. (4030.).]

Newcastle: [etc. as before.] MDCCLXXXII.

12mo. A reprint of the article referred to.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4045.) 18. A Curious Hieroglyphick Bible ; Or, Select Passages In the Old and New Testament, Represented with near Five Hundred Emblematical Figures, For the Amusement of Youth : Designed Chiefly To familiarize tender Age, in a pleasing and diverting Manner, with easy Ideas of the Holy Scriptures. To which is added, A short Account of the Lives of the Evangelists; and other Pieces, illustrated with Cuts.

London: Printed by and for T. Hodgson, in George's-Court, St. John's-Lane, Clerkenwell. MDCCLXXXIII. [Price One Shilling bound.] Entered at Stationers-Hall agreeable to Act of Parliament.

18mo. Pp. vi, 128. With a large number of cuts, some of which are most admirable, and the work, no doubt, of Thomas Bewick during his short residence in London. The frontispiece, and most of the animals,—as the “Flock” at p. 8, “Sheep” and “Oxen,” “Camels” and “Asses” at p. 13, “Ass” at p. 30, “Apes” and “Peacocks” at p. 35, “Lions” at p. 52, and “Beasts” at p. 53,—are excellent specimens of the Artist's skill ; and Samson and the “thousand Men” at p. 30, “Woman” and “House” at p. 31, “Children” at p. 32, “Horsemen” at p. 60, “Men” at p. 62, and “Doomsday” at p. 125, are hardly less beautiful.

“There is every reason to believe that Bewick, when in London, was chiefly employed by T. Hodgson. It is, at any rate, certain that several cuts engraved by Bewick appeared in a little work entitled ‘A Curious Hieroglyphic Bible,’ printed by and for T. Hodgson, in George's Court, St. John's Lane, Clerkenwell.” Chatto, in Jackson's ‘History of Wood Engraving,’ pp. 565, 566.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4046.) 19. Union Association Articles for the Insurance of Their Ships.

North Shields: 1783.

8vo, with cut on the title.

Good copy, in its original wrapper.

(4047.) 20. The New English Tutor: Or, Modern Preceptor. [etc.] The Sixth Edition: With the Author's last Corrections. By A. Fisher, Author of the English Grammar with Exercises of bad English.

Newcastle: Printed for T. Slack, in Newcastle; and sold by G. Robinson, in London; and all other Booksellers in Town and Country. MDCCCLXXXIV.

12mo. Pp. vi, 144. With the ten Cuts previously noticed.

See No. (4029.).

Fine copy, in old calf.

(4048.) 21. The Newcastle Magazine: Or, Monthly Journal. For [1785, etc.]

Newcastle: Printed by Brown and Thompson. And sold by all Booksellers in Town and Country.

8vo. With the Arms of Newcastle on the cover, by Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, half-bound in calf.

(4049.) 22. An Introduction to Spelling and Reading: Containing Lessons for Children, Historical and Practical; [etc.] By the Rev. Francis Fox, M.A. Rector of Reading in Berks. The Twelfth Edition, Corrected and Improved.

London: Printed for J. F. and C. Rivington, Booksellers to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, in St. Paul's Church-Yard. 1785.

12mo. Pp. v, 107. With an alphabet and ten Scripture cuts, the former and some of the latter of considerable excellence. I am in doubt, however, whether all of them are not older than Bewick.

Good copy, in its original calf binding.

(4050.) 23. Fables Of Æsop, And Others. Newly done into English. With an Application to each Fable. Illustrated with Cuts. By S. Croxall, D.D. The Eighth Edition.

Newcastle upon Tyne : Printed by and for T. Saint. MDCCLXXXV.

18mo. Pp. iv, 184. With cuts, some of which are older than Thomas Bewick, and others in which I feel little hesitation in expressing my belief that I see the work of his earliest years. This edition must not be confounded with those printed and published in London at and about the same period.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4051.) 24. The School Companion, Or Youth's Pleasing Instructor.

Newcastle : Printed for the [Booksellers.]

Small square 8vo. Pp. xviii, 129. With Fable Cuts at pp. 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, 12, 14.

My copy is unfortunately imperfect, the title itself being partly supplied in MS. I have never seen or heard of another.

(4052.) 25. Account of Newcastle Upon Tyne. No. (29.).

Another very fine copy, in half russia. It belonged to "E. Edwards, 1788."

(4053.) 26. The Habitable World Described, Or The Present State of the People in All Parts Of the Globe, from North to South; [etc.] By the Rev. Dr. John Trusler. Part. I.

London. Printed for the Author, at the Literary Press, No. 14, Red-Lion-Street, Clerkenwell; and Sold by all Booksellers. M DCC LXXXVII.

8vo. In twenty volumes, published from the year already mentioned to 1797, the date of the twentieth volume. The second, dated 1788, the eighth, 1790, the ninth and tenth, 1791, and the eleventh, 1792, contain cuts by John Bewick. That at vol. ii. p. 96 is signed "J. Bewick Sculp."

Fine copy, in old calf gilt.

(4054.) 27. The Death Of Abel. In Five Books. Translated from the German of Mr. Gessner, By Mrs. Collier. The Second Edition.

Newcastle: Printed by M. Brown, At the Bible, In the Flesh-Market. M.DCC.LXXXVIII.

8vo. Pp. xi, 143. With a copperplate frontispiece, which, though very indifferent, I believe to be by Thomas Bewick.

Fair copy, in half calf.

(4055.) 28. Fox against Fox!!! Or Political Blossoms Of the Right Hon. Charles James Fox: [etc.]

London: Printed for John Stockdale, opposite Burlington House, Piccadilly, 1788. Price One Shilling and Sixpence.

8vo. Pp. xvii, 74. With a frontispiece, and cut of "The Revolution Pillar," at p. 68, doubtless by John Bewick.

Very fine copy, in half calf.

(4056.) 29. Fables By the late M^r. Gay. In One Volume Complete.

London: Printed for J. Buckland, J. F. and C.

Rivington, B. and B. White, T. Longman, B. Law, T. Carnan, G. G. J. and J. Robinson, T. Cadell, S. Bladon, R. Baldwin, J. Sewell, J. Johnson, H. L. Gardner, J. Bew, W. Goldsmith, J. Murray, W. Lowndes, J. Scatcherd and J. Whitaker, G. and T. Wilkie, and E. Newbery. M DCC LXXXVIII.

12mo. Pp. viii, 232. With a frontispiece, representing a Tragic Mask, and sixty-eight cuts, by John Bewick.

The first edition of this celebrated book. The second is No. (63.). Few volumes can show such an array of celebrated publishers as that which decorates the title-page of this.

Fine copy, in old calf.

(4057.) 30. The New Robinson Crusoe; An Instructive and Entertaining History, For the Use of Children of Both Sexes. Translated from the French. Embellished with Thirty-two beautiful Cuts. Second Edition.

London: Printed for John Stockdale, opposite Burlington House, Piccadilly. M DCC LXXXIX. Entered at Stationers' Hall.

12mo. In four volumes. Vol. I. pp. 173. Vol. II. pp. 156.

Vol. III. pp. 137. Vol. IV. pp. 177. Most of the cuts, if not all, are by John Bewick, and many of them bear his name.

The work was a mere reprint of the edition of the previous year.

Very fine copy, bound in two vols. in old calf.

(4058.) 31. The Life Of John Howard, Esquire; LL.D. and F.R.S.

Newcastle Upon Tyne: Printed By W. Thompson. M,DCC,XC.

8vo. Pp. 186. With a most beautiful vignette on the title,—the “W. T.” of the printer, surrounded by flowers, palms, etc.,—by Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4059.) 32. [A Hieroglyphic Bible. Published about the year 1790?]

18mo. Pp. 136.

The title is wanting. The cuts are generally similar to those in No. (4044.).

(4060.) 33. 1. A Battledore. [Without printer, place, or date; but probably printed at York, and about the year 1790.]

12mo. With eighteen cuts, some of which—“Flowers,” “Ox,” “Chrystal Stream,” and “Thrush,”—are similar in style to the early and undoubted works of Thomas Bewick, in ‘Hastie’s Reading Easy,’ and similar publications.

(4061.) 33. 2. Another copy.

(4062.) 34. Ancient Songs. No. (54.).

Another very beautiful copy, in old calf.

(4063.) 35. The Bee, Or Literary Weekly Intelligencer, [etc.] By James Anderson, LLD, [etc.]

Edinburgh: Printed by Mundell and Son, Parliament Stairs. MDCXCXI.

Sm. 8vo. Eighteen vols. A periodical, containing various cuts of animals, plants, etc., by Thomas Bewick, published from 1791 to 1794.

Fine copy, in old calf.

(4064.) 36. Pieces Of Ancient Popular Poetry. No. (58.).

Another beautiful copy, in half russia.

(4065.) 37. The Looking-Glass For the Mind; Or, Intellectual Mirror. A New Edition, With Seventy-four Cuts, Designed and Engraved on Wood By Bewick. No. (66.).

Another good copy, in old calf.

(4066.) 38. A List of Books, Published By the Rev. Dr. Trusler, At the Literary-Press, No. 62, Wardour-Street, Soho. 1792.

12mo. Pp. 12. With a specimen of the cuts in his 'Proverbs,' and two leaves from the 'Progress of Man and Society,' with cuts by John Bewick.

Good copy. Taken from the end of a copy of one of Dr. Trusler's publications.

(4067.) 39. The Vanity and Vain Glory Of Mortals; Or The Pride and Folly Of Man; Explained in the Six Several Stages of his Life.

Printed & Sold by T. Evans, 79, Long-Lane. [n. d.]

12mo. Pp. 8. With eight cuts, five of which have much of the appearance of John Bewick's early work.

Good copy, in paper cover.

(4068.) 40. The Works Of Aristotle, In Four Parts. [etc.] A New Edition.

London: Printed for, and sold by all the Booksellers. 1792.

18mo. Pp. 491. With cuts at pp. 94, 95, 96, and 97, by Thomas Bewick.

Fine copy, in old calf.

(4069.) 41. Fables By the late Mr. Gay. In One Volume Complete. The Plates beautifully cut in Wood, by T. Bewick of Newcastle.

Edinburgh: Printed for W. Coke, Leith. M DCC XCII.

12mo. Pp. viii, 252. With a copperplate engraving of Gay's monument, by Ralph Beilby; and sixty-seven Fable cuts and thirty-five vignettes, the latter frequently repeated throughout the volume, by Thomas Bewick.

A re-issue of Saint's edition of Gay's Fables, 1789,—No. (14.) of this Catalogue,—with a new title.

A poor, but perfect, copy, with excellent impressions of the cuts, in old calf.

(4070.) 42. Select Fables of Æsop And other Fabulists, In Three Books. By R. Dodsley. A New Edition. London. Printed for Will^m. Osborne & J. & H. Mozley, Gainsborough. [n. d.]

12mo. Pp. xlvi, 228, 12.

The Fable cuts are older than Bewick, but the vignettes, especially that at p. 228, are most probably by him.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4071.) 43. The New Whole Duty of Man, Containing The Faith as well as Practice Of A Christian: [etc.]

Newcastle Upon Tyne: Printed by M. Brown. M.DCC.XCIII.

8vo. Pp. x, 550, 38. With a copperplate frontispiece, representing the Law and the Gospel, "Engraved by Beilby & Bewick."

Very fine copy, in old calf.

(4072.) 44. Tales for Youth. No. (72.).

Another copy, in its original calf.

(4073.) 45. General View Of the Agriculture Of the County of Northumberland, With Observations On the Means of its Improvement. By Mr. John Bailey, of Chillingham, And Mr. George Culley, of Fenton, in Northumberland.

London: Printed by C. Macrae. M DCC XCIV.

4to. Pp. 63. With a ground plan, on wood, of Farm Buildings at p. 13, which is attributed to Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4074.) 46. The Universal Spelling-Book; Or, A New and Easy Guide To the English Language. [etc.] By Daniel Fenning. A New Edition, Carefully Corrected.

London: Printed for A. Millar, W. Law, and R. Cater; and for Wilson, Spence, and Mawman, York. M.DCC.XCIV.

12mo. Pp. xii, 156. With a frontispiece and a number of cuts, of the correctness of the attribution of which to Thomas Bewick

I entertain considerable doubt.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4075.) 47. The Florist's Companion. No. (74).

Another fine copy, in old calf.

It formerly belonged to T. E. Headlam, Esq., M.D., of Newcastle, and has his book-plate.

(4076.) 48. 1. The Poetical Works Of Oliver Goldsmith, M.B. [etc. as in No. (79).]

Hereford: [etc. as before.] 1794.

12mo. Pp. 95. With six cuts. Exactly similar to the article referred to, except that it bears the imprint of the previous year.

Fine copy, in its original marbled paper cover.

(4077.) 48. 2. Another very fine copy, in old calf.

(4078.) 49. Kings of England. Characters Of the Kings and Queens of England; Selected from The Best Historians. To which is added, A Table of the Succession of each, from Alfred to the present Time. With Heads, by T. Bewick, Newcastle.

London: Printed for E. Newbury, St. Paul's Church-yard; and Vernor and Hood, Birchin Lane, Cornhill. 1795.

18mo. Pp. viii, 204. I believe that in this little volume the cuts were used for the first time, which were afterwards, on the removal of their plain line borders, continually employed in the various editions of Dr. Goldsmith's Abridgment of English History.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4079.) 50. The Cries of York. For the Amusement Of Little Children. In Twenty-three Elegant Cuts.

Stockton: Printed by Christopher and Jennett. [n. d. but about 1795.]

Square 18mo. Without letterpress. The cuts are printed on both sides of the leaves.

Excellent copy, in its original paper cover, as it left the publishers.

(4080.) 51. The Hive Of Modern Literature: A Collection of Essays, Narratives, Allegories, and Instructive Compositions; Calculated to instil into the Youthful Mind the Principles of Morality, Friendship, Honour, Truth, Justice, and the other Virtuous Dispositions, Which fortify it against the Allurements Of Vice and Youthful Propensities, too Apt to grow into Incurable Habits.

Newcastle: Printed for S. Hodgson, and G. G. and J. Robinson, Paternoster-Row, London. [n. d.]

12mo. Pp. viii, 287. With the celebrated cut of the Hive—already given at p. 371—on the title, and others at pp. iv, 83, and 90, the original Blocks of which are in my possession.

The first edition of this well-known book, afterwards published with a large number of illustrations by Bewick and Clennell.

Fine copy, in calf gilt.

(4081.) 52. The Picture Book; Or, York Toy.
York; High Ousegate. [n. d. about 1795].

Square 18mo. Pp. 30. With an oval, surrounded with palm, bay, and flowers, bearing the letters "W S M" (for Wilson, Spence, and Mawman) in ornamented capitals, on the title; and thirty-two cuts, in broad borders which edge each of the pages.

Fine copy, in its original Dutch paper cover.

The following was its description in a bookseller's catalogue, in March, 1867, where it was priced £3. 3s.

"This is a charming little Toy Book, with 32 very pretty cuts within borders, which are beautiful specimens of JOHN BEWICK'S early, distinct, and truthful style of engraving. I have not seen a copy of this choice little gem in any of the numerous and varied BEWICK COLLECTIONS which I have had the gratifying pleasure to inspect."

(4082.) 53. Poems By Goldsmith And Parnell.
No. (78.).

Another very beautiful copy, in its original boards, with edges uncut.

(4083.) 54. A Curious Hieroglyphick Bible; Or, Select Passages In the Old and New Testaments, [etc.] The Thirteenth Edition.

London: Printed and Sold by Robert Bassam, No. 53, St. John's-Street, West-Smithfield: (by Assignment, from the Executors of T. Hodgson,) H. D. Symonds, Paternoster-Row, Scatcherd and Whitaker, Ave-Maria-Lane, and may be had of all the Booksellers. MDCCXCVI. (Price One Shilling bound.) Entered at Stationers-Hall agreeable to Act of Parliament.

18mo. Pp. vi, 136. With a very beautiful frontispiece and a large number of admirable cuts. See No. (4045.), of which it is a reprint.

Good copy, in its original half calf binding.

(4084.) 55. The Death of Abel.

York: Printed by Wilson, Spence, and Mawman.
1796.

18mo. Pp. 160. With twelve cuts.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4085.) 56. Nixon's Cheshire Prophecy, At large.
[etc.] Also his Life.

J. Ferraby, Printer, Market-Place, Hull. [n. d.]

18mo. Pp. 24. With cut on the title, which appears to be the work of Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4086.) 57. Cinderilla.

J. Ferraby, Printer, Market-Place, Hull. [n. d.]

24mo. Pp. 31. With eight cuts, which resemble the early works of Thomas Bewick. Most of them are included in the miscellaneous collection which constitutes the "New Year's Gift," No. (4034.).

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4087.) 58. The Pleasant and Delightful History
Of Jack and the Giants. Part the First.

Printed by J. Ferraby, Market-Place, Hull. [n. d. but about 1796.]

18mo. Pp. 24. With a cut on the title and six others, four of which appear to be early works by Thomas Bewick.

Fair copy, in old paper cover.

J. Ferraby was a noted printer of ballads, chap books, and children's books, at Hull. I possess a number of his publications, and some of the Blocks with which he embellished them, but cannot attribute any to Bewick, except the three described above.

(4088.) 59. The Sugar-Plumb; Or, Sweet Amusement For Leisure Hours: Being an Entertaining and Instructive Collection of Stories. [etc.] Embellished with Curious Cuts.

London: Printed for the Booksellers in Town and Country. (Price Six Pence.) [n. d.]

18mo. Pp. viii, —. With the same series of cuts as that afterwards used by Wilson and Spence in their edition of this book, of which a subsequent notice will be found.

Imperfect copy.

(4089.) 60. General View Of the Agriculture Of the County of Northumberland, With Observations On the Means of its Improvement; Drawn up for the Consideration of the Board of Agriculture And Internal Improvement, By J. Bailey and G. Culley.

Newcastle: Printed by Sol. Hodgson; And Sold by Mess. Robinson, Paternoster-Row, and G. Nicol, Pall-Mall, London. 1797.

8vo. Pp. viii, 168. With a wood-cut Plan of Farm Buildings, at p. 27, said to be by Thomas Bewick.

Fine copy, in half calf. In the same volume are bound the 'Agricultural Surveys of Cumberland and Westmorland,' and Bailey's 'Essay on the Construction of the Plough,' 8vo, Newcastle, 1795.

(4090.) 61. The Children's Miscellany: In which is included The History of Little Jack; By Thomas Day, Esq., Author of The History of Sandford and Merton. A New Edition, Embellished with Twenty-eight Cuts, by Bewick, And a Frontispiece.

London: Printed for John Stockdale, Piccadilly. 1797. [Price 3s. 6d. bound.]

12mo. Pp. v, 325.

Good copy, in old calf.

18mo. With fifty-four cuts.

Good copy, in its original paper boards.

(4093.) 64. The Fables Of Mr. John Gay. Complete in Two Parts. With Cuts by T. Bewicke, of Newcastle.

York: Printed by Wilson, Spence, and Mawman. Anno 1797.

18mo. Pp. vii, 252. The precursor of the various editions published by this firm and their successors, and described in the present Catalogue, which were little else but simple reprints.

Fine copy, in old calf.

(4094.) 65. The Seasons. By James Thomson.

York: Printed by Wilson, Spence, and Mawman.

18mo.

Imperfect copy.

(4095.) 66. Poems by John Gay: [etc.]

Manchester, Printed and sold at the Office of G. Nicholson, 9, Spring-gardens. Sold also by T. Knott, 47, Lombard-street; and Champante & Whitrow, Jewry-street, London. Anno 1797.

Sm. 18mo. Pp. 56. With cut on the title, used in articles subsequently described, of the authenticity of which I am very far from certain.

I have "Poems of Thomas Parnell, D.D.," "An Essay on Man. By Alexander Pope, Esq.," "The Grave. By Robert Blair.," "Moral Tales.," "The Economy of Human Life. By Robert Dodsley.," and others, issued by the same firms, and illustrated with cuts on their titles; but I do not believe any of them to be the work of either Thomas or John Bewick.

(4096.) 67. Holy Bible. With Notes by Matthew Henry.

Newcastle: Printed by M. Angus. [n. d.]

Folio. With Portrait of "The Rev^d. Matthew Henry, V.D.M.,"
"Engraved by Beilby & Bewick."

(4097.) 68. Specimens Of Wood Engraving By Thomas and John Bewick.

Newcastle: Printed by M. Angus. Side. MDCCXCVIII.

4to. Consisting of a title and eleven leaves. On the former is Mrs. Angus's beautiful cut described under No. (93.); and the leaves, which are printed on one side only, contain twenty-two cuts. The twentieth also has already been mentioned, No. (3539.), the original Block of which is in my possession.

Fine copy, in its original bronze paper cover. I have known but one copy for sale, which was priced £3. 3s.

(4098.) 69. The Looking-Glass For the Mind; [etc. as in No. (66.)] The Seventh Edition.

London: Printed by J. Crowder, For E. Newbery, the Corner of St. Paul's Church-Yard. M,DCC,XCVIII. (Price Three Shillings and Sixpence.)

12mo. Pp. viii, 271. A reprint of the article referred to above. Beautiful copy, in tree-marbled calf.

(4099.) 70. A Tour Through The Island of Mann In 1797 and 1798; [etc.] By John Feltham. Embellished with a Map of the Island and other Plates.

Bath, Printed by R. Cruttwell; And Sold by C. Dilly, Poultry, London; Jones, Liverpool; Brown, Bristol; Ware, Whitehaven; Woolmer, Exeter, &c. 1798. [Price Seven Shillings.]

8vo. Pp. viii, 294. The cuts on the title and on page 93 are possibly, but not probably, by Thomas Bewick.

Fine copy, in its original boards.

(4100.) 71. Sotheran's York Guide; Including A Description Of the Public Buildings, Antiquities, &c. &c. In and about That Ancient City. Illustrated with Nine Copperplates.

York: Printed by Wilson, Spence, and Mawman,

For H. Sotheran and Son, St. Helen's-Square: Sold by R. Baldwin, Paternoster Row, London; H. Hargrove, Knaresborough; and by All the Booksellers in Town and Country. Anno 1799. (Price Two Shillings.)

8vo. Pp. 80. With a beautiful cut of the Arms of the City of York, with flowers, bay, palm, etc., on the title, by Thomas Bewick.

Fine copy, half-bound.

(4101.) 72. The Picture Book. [On the cover is added, Containing upwards of Six Hundred Engravings On Wood.]

Stockton: Printed by Christopher and Jennett. [On the cover, Price One Shilling.] [n. d. but about 1799.]

Small 8vo. Pp. 80. Containing a most extraordinary assemblage of cuts, many of which are by Thomas Bewick, and extremely beautiful.

A bookseller, who in 1866 priced it £7. 7s., thus describes this pamphlet:—

“THE MOST INTERESTING BEWICK GEM I ever saw or possessed. It contains 600 of the MOST CHARMING LITTLE CUTS by THOMAS BEWICK, including FABLE CUTS, TRADESMEN'S CUTS, the LARGE CUT of the EXECUTION, ORNAMENTAL ALPHABETS, VERY SMALL CUTS of ANIMALS and TREES, about the size of a shilling, PORTRAIT of OLD JENKINS the YORKSHIRE MISER, RACING CUTS, ELEGANT BORDERS of FLOWERS, COATS of ARMS, BIBLE CUTS, etc. Some few in the volume are by Green, but the others are by THOS. BEWICK, with his signature. This is the ONLY COPY known ever to have occurred for public sale. It is unknown to, I believe, all Bewick Collectors, and was given by the hands of Mr. Jennett, the publisher, many years ago, to the gentleman from whom I had it.”

I have lately had the good fortune to secure some of the most beautiful of the original Blocks, of which the following impressions are characteristic specimens.

Others will be found in the Division "Wood-Blocks."

Good copy, as new, in its original paper cover.

(4102.) 73. Cato, A Tragedy, By Joseph Addison. Manchester, Printed and Sold by R. & W. Dean, 9, Spring-gardens. Sold also by Sael & Co., 192, Strand, and T. Knott, Lombard-street, London; and all other Booksellers. 1799.

18mo. Pp. iv, 58. With cut on the title, "T. Bewick, sculp." Good copy, half-bound in calf.

(4103.) 74. The Pleasing Instructor, Or Entertaining Moralist, Consisting of Select Essays, Relations, Visions, and Allegories, Collected from The most Eminent English Authors. To which are prefixed New Thoughts on Education. A New Edition, With Additions and Improvements. [By A. Fisher.]

Penrith: Printed by A. Soulby, And Sold by Crosby and Letterman, No. 4, Stationer's Court, Ludgate-Street, London. [n. d. but about 1800.]

12mo. Pp. xii, 372. With a frontispiece and four other cuts, which, from a comparison with some of his acknowledged works, appear to be by John Bewick.

Good copy, in its original calf.

(4104.) 75. The Beauties of History ; Or, Pictures of Virtue and Vice ; [etc.] By the late W. Dodd, LL.D. The Third Edition.

London : Printed by T. Maiden, Sherbourne Lane, For Vernor and Hood, E. Newbery, J. Cuthell, Darton and Harvey, J. Scatcherd, Lackington, Allen & Co. and J. Walker. 1800.

24mo. Pp. 64. With a frontispiece and twelve cuts. I possess the original Blocks of those at pp. 14, 24, 33, 53, and 62. Impressions of those at pp. 14 and 53 are here given, and one of that at p. 33 is to be found under No. (3619.).

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4215.) 180. The History Of Tommy Careless, Or, The Misfortunes Of A Week. Embellished with Cuts.

London: Printed for J. Harris, successor to E. Newbery, the Corner of St. Paul's Church-Yard. 1809. By J. Crowder, Warwick Square. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 31. With a frontispiece and seven cuts. Of that at p. 22 I possess the original Block.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4216.) 181. The Foundling; Or, the History Of Lucius Stanhope. Embellished with Cuts.

London: Printed for J. Harris, Successor to E. Newbery, at the Corner of St. Paul's Church-Yard; by J. Crowder, Warwick-square. 1809. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 31. With a frontispiece and seven cuts, of the authenticity of which I have great doubt.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4217.) 182. The Lay of the Reedwater Minstrel. No. (243.).

Another very fine copy, in its original boards.

(4218.) 183. The Gentle Shepherd; A Scots Pastoral. By Allan Ramsay.

Edinburgh: Printed by and for Oliver and Boyd, Netherbow. [n. d. The cover bears date 1809.]

18mo. Pp. 71. The frontispiece is certainly not by Thomas Bewick, but a vignette on the wrapper is possibly his work. It also occurs at p. 157 of the 'Scottish Minstrel,' published by the same house, No. (143.), etc.

Good copy, in its original paper wrapper.

(4219.) 184. The Antiquities Of The Anglo-Saxon Church. The Second Edition. By The Rev. John Lingard.

Newcastle: Printed by Edward Walker. Sold by J. Booker, and Keating and Co. London. 1810.

8vo. Similar to No. (249.), with the exception of the imprint.

The following is an impression from the original Block in my possession, representing the Preaching of S. Augustine.

Fine copy, half-bound.

(4220.) 185. The Historie of Frier Rvsh : how he came to a house of Religion to seeke service, and being entertained by the Priour, was first made vnder Cooke. Being full of pleasant mirth and delight for young people. Imprinted at London by Edw. All-de, dwelling neere Christ-Church. 1620.

London: Reprinted by Harding and Wright, St. John's-Square; For Robert Triphook, 37, St. James's-Street. 1810.

4to. Pp. 38. With a fac-simile of an old woodcut on the title, said to be by Thomas Bewick.

Fine copy, half bound in calf. It formerly belonged to "John Caley., Greys Inn. F.A.S. 1810." who has written on the fly-leaf some particulars of this curious production.

(4221.) 186. The New English Tutor, Or, Modern Preceptor. [etc.] The Thirteenth Edition: With the Author's Last Corrections. [etc.] By A. Fisher, Author of the English Grammar, with Exercises of Bad English.

Newcastle: Printed by S. Hodgson. And Sold by the Booksellers in General. 1810.

12mo. Pp. vii, 121. With the cuts of the previous Editions.
Good copy, in old calf.

(4222.) 187. The New Museum Of Natural History. With Engravings on Wood by Bewick.

Edinburgh: Published by Oliver & Boyd, Netherbow. 1810.

12mo. Pp. 100. With cuts which, though positively stated to be by him, certainly do not add to Bewick's fame.
Good copy, in its original boards.

(4223.) 188. A Treatise On the Choice, Buying, and General Management Of Live Stock; [etc.] Second Edition, Revised, Corrected, and Enlarged. Embellished with beautiful Wood Engravings of some of the most profitable Breeds. By the Author of The Complete Grazier.

London: Printed for B. Crosby and Co. Stationers'-Court, Paternoster-Row; And sold by Ridges, Newark; Poole, Taunton; Wood, Wakefield; [etc.] 1810. (J. G. Barnard, Printer, Skinner-Street.)

8vo. Pp. viii, 232. With many cuts of stock, some of which are by Thomas Bewick, and very beautiful.
Good copy, in its original boards.

(4224.) 189. Fables Of Æsop, And Others: Translated into English. With Instructive Applications; And a Print before each Fable. By Samuel Croxall, D.D. Late Archdeacon of Hereford. The Twentieth Edition, Carefully Revised and Improved.

London: Published and Sold by all the Booksellers, and by Thomas Wilson and Son, Printers, High-Ousegate, York. 1810.

Sm. 8vo. Pp. xxiv, 336. With many cuts previously used in the Select Fables of 1784, No. (24.), among many which are older than Bewick.

Beautiful copy, in tree-calf.

(4225.) 190. Yorick's Budget; Or, Repository Of Wit, Humour, and Sentiment. [etc.]

London: Published by Vernor, Hood, and Sharpe; R. Scholey; And T. Tegg.

Newcastle on Tyne, Printed and Sold by J. Mitchell. 1810.

12mo. Pp. iv, 260. With an admirable cut on the title by Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4226.) 191. The Indian Cottage, Or A Search after Truth. By M. Saint Pierre, [etc.]

Newcastle on Tyne, Printed and Published by J. Mitchell, And sold by all the Booksellers in the United Kingdom. 1810.

12mo. Pp. 72. With a beautiful frontispiece, a cut on the title, and another at p. 17, by Thomas Bewick.

Very fine copy, in its original boards.

(4227.) 192. The Fables Of Mr. John Gay. Complete in Two Parts. [etc.] With Cuts by T. Bewick, of Newcastle.

York: Printed by and for T. Wilson and Son. High-Ousegate. 1810.

12mo. Pp. 252. A reprint of the edition of 1806.

Fine copy, in old calf.

(4228.) 193. The Poetical Fabulator. No. (257).

Another copy, in its original cover.

(4229.) 194. Original Miscellaneous Poetry, On different Incidents. By Veterinary, Doctor Marshall, South-Street, Durham. [etc.]

Barnard-Castle; Printed by John Soulby, And sold by Crosby and Co. Stationer's-Court, London; Mundell and Stevenson, Edinburgh; Fauer, Dublin; and by all the Booksellers, in the United Kingdom. 1810.

12mo. Pp. 36. With a few insignificant cuts, some at least of which are believed to be by Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4230.) 195. Reading Exercises For the Use of Schools, [etc.] By The Rev. David Blair. The Sixth Edition, Corrected.

London: Printed for Richard Phillips, Bridge Street, Blackfriars. [etc.] 1811. W. Flint, Printer, Old Bailey, London.

8vo. Pp. iv, 212. With a number of cuts, a few of which, representations of animals, have certainly much to recommend them as the work, in part at least, of Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4231.) 196. Robin Hood; Or, A Complete His- tory Of all the Notable Exploits Performed by Him and his Merry Men. [etc.]

York: Printed by and for Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1811. (Price One Shilling.)

18mo. Pp. iv, 106. With cuts, one or two of which may be the early productions of Thomas Bewick, though the accuracy of this attribution is questionable.

Fine copy, in its original boards.

(4232.) 197. The Northumbrian Minstrel. No. (267.).

Another very fine and clean copy of the three parts, in their original paper covers.

(4233.) 198. The Grave, A Poem. By Robert Blair. To which is added Gray's Elegy In a Country Churchyard.

Alnwick: Printed by and for W. Davison, and Sold by A. K. Newman, & Co. London, J. and J. Robertson, & Oliver & Boyd, Edinburgh. 1811.

18mo. Pp. xii, 46. With a frontispiece and two cuts, of which I possess the original blocks. An impression of the first has already been given under No. (4206.), of which this edition is a reprint.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4234.) 199. A Garland Of New Songs, Containing, 1. Be Quick, for I'm in Haste. [etc.]

W. Appleton, Printer, Darlington. 1811.

12mo. Pp. 8. With cut of a Swan, thought to be by Thomas Bewick, on the title.

Good copy, uncut.

(4235.) 200. 1. A Spelling-Book, Wherein the Pronunciation and Spelling Of the English Tongue Are reduced to a very few Principles, or General Heads. For the Use of English Schools. By John Warden, Teacher of English in Edinburgh. A New Edition, With considerable Additions and Improvements.

Newcastle: Printed at the Shakespeare Printing-Office, By E. Humble and Son, Mosley-Street. 1812.

12mo. Pp. viii, 180. With admirable cuts of the Horse, Cow, Deer, Cat, Dog, Lion, and Bear, by Thomas Bewick, at pp. 148-154. That of the Deer was afterwards, if not before, used for the head of a Bar Bill, and occurs in this Collection, Nos. (2623.)-(2625.). The original Blocks are in my possession. Impressions of "The Horse" and "The Cow" are here given, and one of "The Deer" will be found in the Department "Bar Bills."

Beautiful copy, in half-russia.

(4236.) 200. 2. Another copy, in old calf.

(4237.) 201. The New Testament Of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, Translated out of the Latin Vulgat: Diligently compared with the Original Greek: And first published by The English College of Rhemes, Anno 1582. [etc.]

Newcastle Upon Tyne: Printed by Preston & Heaton. 1812.

12mo. Pp. vi, 412. With a very beautiful cut of Our Lord on the Cross, on the title, by Thomas Bewick.

Fine copy, in old calf.

(4238.) 202. The Hive Of Ancient & Modern Literature: [etc.] The Fourth Edition, Illustrated with a Number of Engravings on Wood, by T. Bewick and L. Clennell, both of Newcastle.

Newcastle: Printed by and for S. Hodgson, and the Booksellers in general. 1812.

12mo. Pp. vii, 338. With the cuts of the previous editions, of which I possess the original Blocks. That on the title has already been given at page 371.

Good copy, in old calf.

(4239.) 203. Choice Emblems, Natural, Historical, Fabulous, Moral, and Divine. [etc.] Written for the Amusement of a Young Nobleman. The Eleventh Edition.

London: Printed for J. Harris, Corner of St. Paul's Church-Yard; Longman and Co. Pater-Noster Row; Scatcherd and Co. Ave-Maria Lane; and Rivingtons, St. Paul's Church-Yard. 1812.

18mo. Pp. xxi, 226. The cuts added in the third edition are, perhaps, the work of John Bewick. A reprint of No. (13.), etc. See the note to that Number.

Good copy, in half-calf.

(4240.) 204. A Description Of more than Three Hundred Animals, Including Quadrupeds, Birds, Fishes, Serpents, and Insects, [etc.] A New Edition, Carefully Revised, Corrected, and considerably Augmented. By A. D. M[cQuin]. H.F.S.A.

London: Printed for B. and R. Crosby, and Co. Stationers'-Court, Ludgate-Street, And Sold by all the Booksellers in the United Kingdom. 1812.

8vo. Pp. xx, 364. With numerous woodcuts, of some of which I possess the original Blocks, and imagine them to be by Thomas Bewick. Most of them are certainly not by him, and perhaps none are.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4241.) 205. The Parents' Best Gift.

York: Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 62. With a frontispiece and thirteen cuts.

Imperfect copy.

(4242.) 206. The Sister's Gift; Or, the Naughty Boy Reformed. Published for The Advantage of the rising Generation.

York: Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 30. With a frontispiece and seven cuts.

Good copy, in its original cover, on which are two cuts.

(4243.) 207. 1. Entertaining Fables For The Instruction of Children. Embellished with Cuts. To which is added, The Trial of an Ox for killing a Man. Also A Moment's Advice to Children, and Young People.

York: Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812. Price One Penny.

24mo. Pp. 31. With a frontispiece and seventeen cuts.
Good copy, in its original cover, on which are two cuts.

(4244.) 207. 2. Another copy, in its original cover.

(4245.) 207. 3. Another copy.

(4246.) 208. History Of Sir Richard Whittington And His Cat. Adorned with Cuts.

York: Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 30. With a frontispiece and twelve cuts.
Good copy, in its original cover, which has two cuts.

(4247.) 209. The London Cries, For the Amusement Of all the Good Children Throughout the World. Taken from Life.

York: Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 31. With a frontispiece and twenty-seven cuts.
Good copy, in its original cover. The two cuts which embellish the latter are, in my opinion, the only specimens of Bewick's work which the little volume contains.

(4248.) 210. The History Of Little Tommy Two-Shoes, Own Brother to Mrs. Margery Two-Shoes. Adorned with Cuts.

York : Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, 1812.
(Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 28. With a frontispiece and nine cuts, the authenticity of which, as well as of the two on the cover, is, in my judgment, very doubtful.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4249.) 211. The Affecting History Of the Babes in the Wood. Embellished with Cuts.

York : Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 31. With a frontispiece and eight cuts.

Good copy, in its original cover, on which are two cuts.

(4250.) 212. 1. Cinderella; Or, the History Of the Little Glass Slipper.

York : Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 30. With a frontispiece and eight cuts, two of which, together with two that ornament the cover, are to be attributed to Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4251.) 212. 2. Another copy, in its original cover.

(4252.) 213. The History Of Little Francis: Intended for the Instruction of Boys and Girls not Six Feet High. To which is added, Learned, Religious, and Moral Lessons for all the Little Gentry in the Kingdom. With Cuts by Bewick.

York : Printed by Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812. (Price One Penny.)

24mo. Pp. 30. With a frontispiece and eight cuts.

Good copy, in its original cover, on which are two cuts.

(4253.) 214. Rhymes Of Northern Bards; [etc.]
No. (302.).

Another copy, in its original boards, and lettered at the back in the handwriting of Mr. W. Garret. It formerly belonged to Mr. Thomas Bell, and has his bookplate.

(4254.) 215. Elegant Poems: Containing, Pope's Essay on Man, Blair's Grave, Gray's Elegy, Goldsmith's Traveller, And Goldsmith's Deserted Village.

Gainsborough: Printed by and for Henry Mozley.
1812.

18mo. Pp. 119. With a frontispiece.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4255.) 216. The History Of Alnwick, The County Town Of Northumberland.

Alnwick: Printed by and for W. Davison. 1813.

12mo. Pp. 142. With a view of Alnwick Castle for the frontispiece, of which I possess the original Block.

Fine copy, in its original boards.

(4256.) 217. The Honey-Jug; Containing A Variety of Pleasant Stories, For Youthful Amusement. With cuts by Bewick.

York: Printed by Thomas Wilson and Sons, High-Ousegate. 1813. (Price Twopence.)

24mo. Pp. 31. With a frontispiece and twelve cuts.

Good copy, in its original cover, on which are two cuts.

(4257.) 218. The House That Jack Built; To which is prefixed the History of Jack Jingle; [etc.]

Edinburgh: Printed and Published by G. Ross.
1813. Price One Penny.

24mo. Pp. 19. With a frontispiece and eleven cuts. In my opinion, although I give them the benefit of a doubt, they are copies, more or less clever, of those by Thomas Bewick, but are not by the Artist himself.

Good copy, in its original paper cover.

I possess a number of Ross's Children's Books, including

Cock Robin.

Master Jackey And Miss Harriot.

Tom Thumb's Play-Book.

Jacky Dandy's Delight.

The Royal Fabulist.

Nursery Songs.

The Golden Present.

etc. etc. etc.

But I consider even the most clever of their illustrations to be copies, and nothing more.

(4258.) 219. Ballads, In the Cumberland Dialect,
By Robert Anderson. [etc.]

Alnwick: Printed by W. Davison, Bondgate Street.
Sold by all Booksellers. [n. d.]

18mo. Pp. xvi, 224. With a few cuts, used in other publications, and of which I have the original Blocks.

Good copy, in its original cloth boards.

(4259.) 220. Newcastle Reprints. A volume containing the following:—

1. Biographical Memoirs of William Ged. No. (365.).
2. Santander's Origin of Printing. No. (367.).
3. Willett's Origin of Printing. No. (369.).
4. Hodgson's Origin of Stereotype Printing. No. (370.).

All are on large paper, with the autograph attestation to each by the printer of the number of copies printed. Of the three first-named pieces, thirty copies were printed on this large paper, and of the fourth thirty-six copies.

A very beautiful royal 8vo volume, handsomely half-bound in calf.

(4260.) 221. Newcastle Reprints. A volume containing the following :—

1. Cheviot. No. (351.).
2. The Marriage Of the Coquet and the Alwine. No. (352.).
3. An Account Of The Great Floods. No. (359.).
4. An Exact Narration Of the Life and Death Of the Reverend and Learned Prelate, and Painfull Divine, Launcelot Andrewes, Late Bishop of Winchester.
5. A Short View Of the Long Life and Raigne Of Henry the Third, King of England. No. (355.).
6. A Memoir On The Origin of Printing. By Ralph Willett. [etc.] No. (369.).
7. Observations On the Origin of Printing, In a letter to Owen Salisbury Brereton, Esq. By Ralph Willett, Esq. F.R. and A.SS. Newcastle: Printed by S. Hodgson, Union-Street. MDCCLXIX. With autograph presentation "To Thomas Davidson, Esq^r. from J. Murray. Newcastle, September 27th, 1819.", and autograph note inserted.

Very fine copies. The volume, which is half-bound in calf, belonged to Thomas Davidson, Esq., Clerk of the Peace for the county of Northumberland, whose book-plate is inserted, and to whom these original copies were presented.

“It contains the most rare and valuable of all the Newcastle Typographic Publications. The Ordinary Selling Price of the Life of Bishop Andrewes is One Guinea, Cheviot 10s. 6d., but seldom or ever to be had even at these Prices for Love or Money.”—MR. R. ROBINSON, 1866.

(4261.) 222. The First Report Of a Society for Preventing Accidents In Coal Mines, [etc.] Illustrated by Plans and Sections, By John Buddle.

Newcastle: Printed by Edward Walker, Pilgrim-Street. 1814.

8vo. Pp. iv, 28. Figure VII., on page 11, is attributed to Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in paper wrapper.

(4262.) 223. Davison's Halfpenny Books. No. (310.).

The following should be added as of special merit:—

1. The English Alphabet.
2. The Picture Alphabet.
3. The House That Jack built.
4. The Book of Wild Beasts.
5. The British Picture Book of Birds.
6. The History of Monkeys.
7. Juvenile Song Book.
8. The Guess Book, A Collection of Ingenious Puzzles.

Good copies, in their original state.

(4263.) 224. Natural History of British Quadrupeds—British Birds—Water Birds—Fishes—Reptiles, Serpents, and Insects—Foreign Quadrupeds—Foreign Birds. Nos. (284.)—(297.).

Another copy of each, very fine and clean, in their original covers.

(4264.) 225. A New Family Herbal: [etc.] By Robert John Thornton, M.D. [etc.]

London: 1814.

8vo. A reprint of the edition of 1810, No. (253.).

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4265.) 226. Mother Bunch's Fairy Tales. Published for the Amusement Of all those Little Masters and Misses, Who, By Duty to their Parents, and Obedience To their Superiors, Aim at becoming Great Lords and Ladies. Embellished with Engravings.

Glasgow: Published by J. Lumsden and Son. (Price Sixpence.) [n. d. but about 1814.]

Square 24mo. Pp. 71. With a frontispiece.

Fine copy, in half-morocco.

I am in great doubt of the correctness of the attribution to Thomas Bewick of the cuts in Lumsden's publications, but not sufficiently assured of the want of genuineness of some to refuse them a place in this Catalogue.

(4266.) 227. A Selection of Stories; Containing the History Of the Two Sisters, The Fisherman, The King and Fairy Ring, And Honesty Rewarded. Embellished with Copperplates.

Glasgow, Published and Sold by J. Lumsden & Son. Price Sixpence. [n. d. but about 1814.]

Square 24mo. Pp. 60. With five cuts.

Fine copy, in half-morocco.

(4267.) 228. Christmas Tales For the Instruction Of Good Boys and Girls, By Mr. Solomon Sobersides. Embellished with Engravings.

Square 24mo. Pp. 61. With cut at p. 61.

Fine copy, in half-morocco.

(4268.) 229. 1. Gammer Gurton's Garland, [etc.] No. (315.)

Another copy, in its original cover.

(4269.) 229. 2. Another copy, in its original cover.

(4270.) 230. Beauty And The Beast. A Tale. For the Entertainment of Juvenile Readers. Ornamented with Elegant Engravings.

Glasgow : Published by J. Lumsden & Son. Price Sixpence.

18mo. Pp. 48. With cut, thought to be by Thomas Bewick, at page 48.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4271.) 231. An Elegy On the Death and Burial Of Cock-Robin.

Glasgow : Published and Sold, Wholesale, By Lumsden and Son. (Price One Penny.) [n. d.]

24mo. Pp. 14. With thirteen cuts.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4272.) 232. The Waggon Load Of Amusement.

Glasgow : Published and Sold, Wholesale, By Lumsden and Son. (Price One Penny.) [n. d.]

24mo. Pp. 14. With twenty-one charming cuts.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4273.) 233. The History of Selima and Azor.

Derby: Printed by and for Henry Mozley, Brook-Street. [n. d.]

24mo. Pp. 47. With a frontispiece and five cuts, three of which appear to be the work of Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4274.) 234. Divine Songs, In Easy Language, For the Use of Children. By I. Watts, D.D.

Edinburgh: Printed and Sold by G. Ross. Price Two-Pence. [n. d. but about 1814.]

24mo. Pp. 31. With a frontispiece and eight cuts.

Good copy, in half-calf.

12mo. Pp. v., 108. With the cuts mentioned under No. (4049.), of which it is a reprint.
Good copy, in old calf.

(4278.) 238. A Tour through Sweden, Swedish-Lapland, Finland, and Denmark. In a Series of Letters. By Matthew Consett, Esq. Second Edition.

Stockton: Printed by Christopher and Jennett. 1815.

8vo. Pp. viii., 148. With a frontispiece of "The Lapland Sledge," on wood, by Thomas Bewick. It faced page 86, and was the only woodcut, in the previous edition.
Good copy, in its original boards.

(4279.) 239. Fabliaux or Tales, Abridged from French Manuscripts Of the XIIth and XIIIth Centuries By M. Le Grand, Selected and Translated into English Verse, By the late G. L. Way, Esq. With A Preface, Notes, and Appendix, By the late G. Ellis, Esq. A New Edition, Corrected. In Three Volumes.

London: Printed for J. Rodwell, (Successor to Mr.

Faulder,) New Bond Street, By S. Hamilton, Weybridge, Surrey. 1815.

Sm. 8vo. A reprint of the edition of 1796-1800, No. (95.), with the same cuts.

Fine copy, in red morocco.

(4280.) 240. A Copy of A Letter, Written by Our Blessed Lord & Saviour, Jesus Christ. [etc.]

[Marshall, Printer.]

12mo. Pp. 8. With the cut of an Evangelist, already mentioned, No. (3282.), as illustrating a Christmas Carol, issued by the same Printer.

Good copy, uncut.

(4281.) 241. Divine Songs, Attempted in Easy Language, For the Use of Children. By I. Watts, D.D. [etc.]

Louth: Printed and Published by B. Fotherby, Mercer-Row, And sold by all Booksellers. Price Sixpence. [n. d. but about 1815.]

18mo. Pp. 46. With a frontispiece of doubtful authenticity.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4282.) 242. A Garland Of New Songs. Containing Blow high, blow low. [etc.]

M. Angus & Son, Printers, Newcastle. [n. d.]

12mo. Pp. 8. With an early cut, by Thomas Bewick, on the title, of which the following is an impression from the original Block, obtained, as those which follow, from Angus's Office, the whole of the Bewick cuts of which have passed, through the hands of Mr. Emerson Chamley and Mr. Dodd, into my possession. This cut is also used on the title of No. (15) Poor Jack. [etc.], presently mentioned.

In many numbers, of eight pages each, sometimes bearing the imprint, "Newcastle: Printed by M. Angus & Son, Side." Among others, those containing (1.) Thomas Clutterbuck and Polly Higginbottom. (4354.) 311. 2. Another good copy.

(4355.) 312. The Royal Battledore.

Printed by C. Croshaw, Pavement, York. Price
One Penny.

12mo. With eleven cuts, most of them already mentioned.

Good copy, in its original state.

(4356.) 313. Weightman's New Battledore.

York: Printed by T. Weightman, 44, Goodram-gate. Price One Penny.

12mo. With twenty cuts, nine of which are the same as those in No. (4060.).

Good copy, in its original state.

I have other Battledores, published by R. & J. Richardson, High-Ousegate, and T. Weightman, Goodramgate, York; Thomas
Richardson, Derby; R. Harrild, Great East Cheap; S. Bennett,

Market Place, Nottingham; J. Rosewarne, Belper; and others; but, though not without an interest of their own, they have no claim to a place in the present Catalogue.

(4357.) 314. 1. The Infant's Alphabet. Neatly embellished with Cuts.

York: Printed & Sold by C. Croshaw, Pavement.
Price One Penny.

32mo. With twenty-eight cuts, most of them used in the foregoing articles.

(4358.) 314. 2. Another copy.

Several of the same cuts are used to adorn the covers of various toy-books of the same publisher, as The History of Goody Two-Shoes, The History of Jack the Giant Killer, The Interesting History of Charlotte & Francis, The History of Whittington And His Cat, etc. etc.

(4359.) 315. 1. The Juvenile Scrap-Book.

Square 12mo. With one hundred and ninety-seven cuts, including nine on the outside of the cover.

Fine copy, in its original cover.

(4360.) 315. 2. Another fine copy.

An eminent London bibliopolist describes this little book as follows:—

“EXTREMELY RARE, £2 12s 6d

“This beautiful BEWICK gem is of the HIGHEST RARITY, the cuts being full of life and character. Amongst the AMUSING CONTENTS may be mentioned, Jack, Mermaid, Giant, Murder, Bed, Horse, Shepherd, Boat, Rabbit, Woodman, Robber, Ship, Gardeners, Goat with Dog Riding on his back, Ghastly Skeletons (treated in the most curious manner), Smoking Dog, the Bull Finch, a large Cut, and Finis.

“The publisher believes this very rare volume to be almost priceless to the BEWICK COLLECTOR, being PERFECTLY CLEAN THROUGHOUT."

I am sorry that I cannot endorse this enthusiastic description. In deference to my friend's authority, I allow the volume a place in this Supplement, but I do not believe that Thomas Bewick cut a single line in one of the cuts which illustrate—I can hardly say, embellish—it.

(4361.) 316. A List Of the Knights and Burgesses, Who have represented the County and City of Durham, In Parliament. Fifty Copies Printed.

Durham: Printed by Francis Humble. 1826.

4to. Pp. vi, 41. The work was by Sir Cuthbert Sharp, and is illustrated with a cut, by Thomas Bewick, at the head of the Preface, which he had previously used in his 'Bishoprick Garland,' No. (490.), and elsewhere. Possibly that also at page 28 is by him, but I am in great doubt of its being genuine. The original Block is in my possession, and an impression follows. I believe it to be by Isaac Nicholson.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4362.) 317. Narrative Of the Adventures Of A Greenwich Pensioner. [etc.]

Newcastle: Printed by R. T. Edgar, Pilgrim Street. 1826.

12mo. With cut by Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original paper cover.

(4363.) 318. The English Portion Of The Library Of the Ven. Francis Wrangham, M.A. F.R.S., Archdeacon of Cleveland.

Malton: Printed by R. Smithson, Jun. Bookseller and Stationer, in Yorkersgate. 1826. (Only Seventy Copies.) Unpublished.

8vo. Pp. x, 645. With cuts at pp. 128 and 181, said to be by Thomas Bewick.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4364.) 319. The Antiquarian Trio, [etc.] To which is added A Finale, Called The Poet's Favourite Tree, By the Rev. Archdeacon Wrangham; with A brief Description of Hunmanby.

Scarborough: Printed and published by John Cole, Library, Newborough Street, 1826.

8vo. Pp. ii, 27. With Bewick's View of Hunmanby Church, at page 24.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4365.) 320. Splinters, [etc.] No. (477.).

Another fine copy, in half-morocco.

(4366.) 321. The History And Antiquities Of Filey, In the County Of York. By John Cole. [etc.]

Scarborough, Printed and Published by J. Cole 1828.

8vo. Pp. vi, 160. With Bewick's View of Hunmanby Church, at p. 150.

Very fine copy, on large paper, in its original cloth boards.

(4367.) 322. Sykes's Tracts: Verses on Alnwick Castle, Hermitage of Warkworth, Quakers' Burial Ground at Cullercoats.

Printed for John Sykes, Bookseller, At Johnson's Head, 179, Pilgrim Street, Newcastle. MDCCLXXXIX.

8vo.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(4368.) 323. The Gentle Shepherd, A Scots Pastoral, In Five Acts. By Allan Ramsay.

Alnwick: Printed and Sold by W. Davison. 1830.

18mo. Pp. 60. With a frontispiece and cut on the title, used in other publications, of which I have the original Blocks.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(4369.) 324. Transactions Of the Natural History Society, Of Northumberland, Durham, And Newcastle upon Tyne.

Newcastle: Printed by T. & J. Hodgson, Union Street, For Emerson Charnley, And Longman & Co., London. 1831.

4to. With the Seal of the Society, by Thomas Bewick, on the title. An impression is given under No. (2189.). The second volume was published in 1838, with a similar title.

Good copy, half-bound in calf.

(4370.) 325. A List Of the Knights and Burgesses Who have represented the County and City of Durham In Parliament. Second Edition.

Sunderland : Printed by Marwood and Co. Herald Office. 1831.

4to. Pp. xi, 55, 8. With the cuts of the former edition, No. (4361.).

Good copy, in blue cloth boards.

(4371.) 326. Robin Hood : A Collection Of all the ancient Poems, Songs, and Ballads, Now extant Relative to that celebrated English Outlaw. To which are prefixed Historical Anecdotes of his Life. By Joseph Ritson, Esq. [etc.] Second Edition.

London : William Pickering : J. and G. Todd, York. 1832.

2 vols. Small 8vo. Vol. I. pp. cxxxv, 148. Vol. II. pp. vi, 261. With the cuts of the first edition, No. (86.), of which this is a very beautiful reprint.

Good copy; in its original boards, and uncut.

(4372.) 327. Service's Metrical Legends Of Northumberland. No. (489.).

Another copy, in its original boards.

(4373.) 328. Markham's Spelling Book. No. (495.).

Another copy, in cloth boards.

(4374.) 329. The Hermit of Warkworth, A Northumberland Tale. In Three Parts. By Dr. Thomas Percy, Bishop of Dromore.

Alnwick : Stereotyped and Printed by W. Davison, 22, Bondgate Street. And Sold by all Booksellers. [n. d.]

12mo. Pp. vi, 44. With the cuts previously used, the original Blocks of which are in my possession. Davison was in the habit of protecting his blocks by the use of stereotypes, for which care I have much reason to thank him. See note to No. (298.).

(4375.) 330. The Jolly Huntsman's Garland.
Printed by W. A. Mitchell, Newcastle. [n. d.]

Sm. 8vo. Pp. 14. With three cuts attributed to Thomas Bewick. Fine copy, in its original cover.

(4376.) 331. A Treatise On Wood Engraving, Historical and Practical. With upwards of Three Hundred Illustrations, Engraved on Wood, By John Jackson.

London: Charles Knight and Co. Ludgate Street, 1839.

Imp. 8vo. Pp. xvi, 749. With a large number of cuts, most of which, as stated on the title, are by Jackson. Among the rest, engraved by Charlton Nesbit, Luke Clennell, John Thompson, Robert Branston, and William Harvey, is a solitary one, at page 634, stated to be "by Thomas Bewick." Of this I have the pleasure of possessing the original Block, and the following is an impression from it.

Fine copy, in half morocco.

(4377.) 332. 1. Obituary Of Charles Newby Wawn, Esq. No. (396.).

Another fine copy, on large 4to paper, in its original paper cover.

A presentation to "Thomas Bell, Esq. from John Fenwick."

Fine copy, on large 4to paper, in its original paper cover.

(4380.) 333. 2. Another fine copy, on large 4to paper, in its original paper cover.

(4381.) 334. The Hermit of Warkworth, A Northumberland Tale, [etc.] Illustrated with Engravings by Bewick, From Designs by Craig.

Alnwick : Printed by W. Davison, Bondgate Street. MDCCCXLI.

Sm. 8vo. Pp. xii, 88. With cuts used by Davison in the former editions of this Poem, and others of his publications. The frontispiece is the View of Warkworth Hermitage, given at p. 449 of the 'Bewick Collector,' from the original Block in my possession. The present copy is printed on thick and large paper, and is one of the best specimens of Davison's press.

Good copy, in its original cloth boards.

(4382.) 335. Obituary: Resolutions [etc.] No. (397.).

Another fine copy, on large 4to paper, in its original paper cover.

(4383.) 336. Fables, By John Gay. With upwards of One Hundred Embellishments.

Alnwick : Printed by W. Davison, Bondgate Street.
1842.

Large 12mo. Pp. xii, 216. With many of the vignettes which illustrate Davison's other publications. The cuts to the Fables are free versions rather than copies of those which ornament the editions of Saint, and Wilson and Spence, and are not by Bewick.

Good copy, in its original cloth boards.

Sm. 4to. Pp. xvi, 124. A reprint of the famous 'Tommy Trip,' with cuts from the original Blocks, which—although they have been retouched, especially those used by Charnley in the 'Select Fables' of 1820—still retain very much of the beauty of their original state.

Good copy, in half-morocco.

“For this elegant Reprint of an exceedingly rare and interesting little tome, right precious and dear to the heart of the genuine Bewick Collector, we are indebted in the first place to the liberality of our talented townsman, Robert White, Esq. The worthy living depository of so much of the traditionary lore of the 'North Countrie,' Mr. White, who is in possession of a copy of the original work, kindly placed the same in the hands of Mr. Edwin Pearson, the bookseller, who has evinced much good taste in the getting up of this very limited edition.”—Newcastle Courant Newspaper, 25 Oct., 1867.

ADDITIONS
 PROOFS, ETC., OF THE CUTS
 IN
 THE 'HISTORY OF QUADRUPEDS.'

(4413.) 1. A Series of eight Quadrupeds, similar to those described under Nos. (534.), (535.), and (536.).

They consist of the Bull, Giraffe, Elk, Wild Boar, Weasel, Bull Dog, Mastiff, and Water Rat, as they appear in the first edition. It is, doubtless, to these impressions that Bewick refers in his Letter in the 'Monthly Magazine' of November, 1805, where he says, "As the cuts [of the Quadrupeds] were engraved, we employed the late Mr. Thomas Angus, of this town, printer, to take off a certain number of impressions of each, many of which are still in my possession."

(4414.) 2. A Series of the Quadrupeds, and Vignettes belonging to that Work, taken off without the letter-press, one on a page.

Svo. In old calf. It formerly belonged to Mr. Thomas Bell, of Newcastle, and has his bookplate. It cost a subsequent possessor ten guineas.

I have been told that these brilliant impressions were taken off for Mr. John Bell during the printing of the fifth edition of the book in 1807. Almost all have above and below them the marks of the letter-press without ink, similar to what I have already described in my notices of those curious and most beautiful proofs of the Birds, Nos. (663.) to (668.).

(4415.) 3. A Series of fifty-three of the Quadrupeds, with marks of the type, etc., of a similar character to those of the last article.

Svo. In shagreen calf. Bound together with the Proofs of the Birds noticed under No. (4419.).

It formerly belonged to Mr. J. T. Brockett.

(4416.) 4. 1. The Improved Cart Horse. (No. 546.) Another impression. Proof on paper.

(4417.) 4. 2. Another. A cutting from Charnley's Book Catalogue, 1817.

(4418.) 5. The Common Bull. No. (557.). Another impression. On a card.

ADDITIONS
 TO
 IN
 THE 'HISTORY OF BRITISH BIRDS.'

(4419.) 1. A Series of twenty-eight of the Birds, and of thirteen Vignettes, most of which are of a character similar to those described under Nos. (663.) to (668.).

Among them are splendid impressions of the Hen-harrier, Domestic Cock, Pheasant, Turkey, Peacock, Pintado, Partridge, Quail, Water Hen, and Tame Duck—the loveliest gems of the 'British Birds.'

8vo. In shagreen calf. Bound together with the Proofs of the Quadrupeds noticed under No. (4415.).

(4420.) 2. The Office Proofs of the First Volume of the Birds. "Price 1*l.* 1*s.* in Boards. 1797."

Imp. 8vo., with occasional leaves in royal 8vo. The last leaf has the advertisement of the third edition of the Quadrupeds. The volume is roughly printed on coarse paper, and is still in its original uncut state. It was given by Bewick to Mr. R. Wingate, whose name, as also that of Thomas Wingate, is written in several places, with various sketches of animals and birds, inside the cover, and who has coloured several of the figures with his usual ability. The Jay and the Mountain Finch are specially excellent, and the entire volume is a most interesting relic of the earliest days of the celebrated work whose history it illustrates.

BRITISH LAND BIRDS. No. (117.).

(4421.) 3. Title. Proof on paper. From Mr. W. Garret.

BRITISH WATER BIRDS. No. (117.).

(4422.) 4. Title. Proof on paper. From Mr. W. Garret.

ADDITIONS
 TO

HISTORY OF ENGLAND.

(4495.) 65. The Series of twenty-seven large Portraits of the Sovereigns. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

Specimens will be found amongst the “Wood Blocks.”

(4496.) 66. A Series of Alphabet Cuts, having a great resemblance to those in 'Hastie's Reading Easy,' No. (II.), etc., but executed, as it appears to me, a little later.

Taken off on coarse blue paper, and mounted in an imp. 8vo volume, which, after lying about the office for a considerable time, Bewick gave as a scrapbook to Mr. G. Watson, sen., of Gateshead, when a child. It afterwards passed into the possession of S. Longstaffe, Esq., of Gateshead, and from him became my property.

(4497.) 67. Another Series of Alphabet Cuts, larger than the foregoing, but also bearing a general resemblance to those in 'Hastie's Reading Easy.'

On coarse white paper. Mounted in the same volume.

(4498.) 68. A Set of Alphabet Cuts on two Blocks. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

Of these clever little cuts impressions are annexed.

(4499.) 69. A Set of Alphabet Cuts on one Block. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4500.) 70. A Set of twenty-four Alphabet Cuts. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

(4501.) 71. Part of an Alphabet, sixteen letters. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

(4502.) 72. "M" for Merchant. Alphabet Cut. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4503.) 73. Boys gathering Apples. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4504.) 74. Boys gathering Apples. On white

India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

Both of these, I presume, were done for Spelling Books.

(4505.) 75. A Series of fifty-seven Cuts in rectangular borders, for book illustrations. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

Specimens will be found among the "Wood Blocks."

(4506.) 76. A Series of sixty-two Vignettes, for book illustrations. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

Specimens will be found among the "Wood Blocks."

(4507.) 77. Eleven book-illustrations, in square borders, similar in style of execution to those which occur in Saint's publications.

Among them are cuts for the 'History of a Fly,' 'Cock Robin,' etc.

On coarse paper, of various colours. Mounted in the volume previously noticed.

(4508.) 78. "T B" formed by the bodies of two posture-makers.

On coarse white paper. Mounted in the same volume.

(4509.) 79. Six London Cries, in scroll borders.

On coarse white paper. Mounted in the same volume.

(4510) 80. A pair of large Fable Cuts of the Fox and the Stork, $4\frac{1}{10}$ inc. by $2\frac{6}{10}$ inc., each occupying an oval in a square, the corners filled with beautiful flowers on a black ground.

On white paper. Mounted in the same volume.

(4511.) 81. "Gardening." A Large Cut for the covers of copy books.

(4512.) 82. John Gilpin. With extract from Cowper's poem. For the cover of a copy book.

(4513.) 83. A Series of fourteen Vignettes, printed two on each leaf of an 8vo pamphlet.

The two first represent a man driving a pig from market, and a dog rescuing a drowning child. Among the rest are a man shooting a hare, a post chaise stopping at a gate with post boy paying toll, jockeys weighing, sportsman loading his gun, etc. They were apparently intended for the illustrations of some book, and printed about the year 1820.

Though they are not wanting in ability, the attribution of these cuts to Bewick is very far from certain.

(4514.) 84. Two Fable Cuts, 'The Shepherd's Boy, and Old Man and Death. In octangular borders. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

(4515.) 85. Robinson Crusoe, bringing off boxes, casks, etc., from the wreck. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4517.) 87. A Plough and a Pitchfork. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

Done for some agricultural work.

(4518.) 88. A line of Music. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4519.) 89. Two pages of different kinds of handwriting, used in various Spelling Books. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

(4520.) 90. A Mariner's Compass. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4521.) 91. A Series of thirteen Plans of Coal Mines, etc., to illustrate the working of the same. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

(4522.) 92. A Series of fifty Geometrical Diagrams. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

23. WEAR BANK, SUNDERLAND.

(4593.) 34. Their note for One Pound. No. 10511.
With view of Sunderland Bridge. Dated 15th February, 1815. Copperplate.

Said to be by Thomas Bewick.

[I have notes, among others, of Barnard Castle Bank, Stockton and Cleveland Bank, Tees Bank, and Sunderland and Wearmouth Bank, etc.; but the attribution of these to Bewick is very problematical.]

24. UNION LODGE.

Four Hands. No. (2231.).

(4594.) 35. Another impression. Proof on paper.

25. WOOLCOMBERS' COMPANY.

(4595.) 36. Their Arms. On white India paper.

A portrait of Wilson, the pedestrian, at the head of an Account of his various Performances.

ADDITIONS
RACING CUTS.

FOR the greater number of the articles in the present Division I have to thank an old and well-known Sportsman in the North of England, who, during fifty years past, had collected these memorials, not for their artistic excellence, but as records of other, and to him more interesting, triumphs.

(4614.) 1. Racing Cut. Small. Three Horses, to the left. Probably older than Bewick.

Racing Cut. No. (2271.), etc.

(4615.) 2. 1. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1816." "G. Angus, Printer, Side, Newcastle." At the head of a List of the Horses and Prizes.

(4616.) 2. 2. Another impression. "Newcastle

Races, 1819." "G. Angus, Printer, Newcastle." At the head of a similar List.

(4617.) 2. 3. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1821." "G. Angus, Printer, Newcastle." At the head of a similar List.

(4618.) 2. 4. Another impression. "Chester-le-Street Easter Races." "Atkinson, Printer, Chester-le-Street." At the head of a List of Prizes to be run for on the 19th and 20th of April, 1824.

Racing Cut. No. (2284.), etc.

(4619.) 3. 1. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1816." "G. Angus, Printer, Side, Newcastle." At the head of a List of the Horses and Prizes.

(4620.) 3. 2. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1822." "G. Angus, Printer, Newcastle." At the head of a similar List.

(4621.) 3. 3. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1824." At the head of a similar List.

An impression is given under No. (2286.).

Racing Cut. No. (2287.), etc.

(4622.) 4. 1. Another impression. At the head of a "List of Horses, &c., Entered to run on the Town Moor, Newcastle Upon Tyne, in June, 1804." "M. Angus and Son, Printers, Newcastle upon Tyne."

(4623.) 4. 2. Another impression. "Willington Races." "Printed by E. Humble, Mosley-Street, Newcastle." At the head of a List of Prizes "to be Run for, at Willington, on Whitsun Tuesday, May 27th, 1817."

(4624.) 4. 3. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1822." "G. Angus, Printer, Newcastle." At the head of a List of Horses and Prizes.

(4625.) 4. 4. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1823." "G. Angus, Printer, Newcastle." At the head of a similar List.

An impression is given under No. (2292.).

Racing Cut. No. (2293.), etc.

(4626.) 5. Another impression. At the head of "A Humoursome and Interesting Dialogue between a Lady and Gentleman." "Catnach, Printer, 2, Monmouth Court, 7 Dials."

The impression shows that the block is cracked in four or more pieces. No portion, after a long and minute search through all the stock of Catnach's office, has been recovered. It has not been seen for a number of years, and has doubtless perished.

Racing Cut. No. (2295.), etc.

(4627.) 6. 1. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1815." "Marshall, Printer, Old Flesh Market, Newcastle." At the head of a similar List.

(4628.) 6. 2. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1825." "J. Marshall, Printer, Newcastle." At the head of a similar List.

Racing Cut. No. (2310.), etc.

(4629.) 7. 1. Another impression. Date and place cut off.

(4630.) 7. 2. Another. "Lambton Park Meeting, 1825." "Newcastle: Printed by W. Boag, Foot of Dean Street." At the head of a similar List.

(4631.) 7. 3. Another similar.

Racing Cut. No. (2313.), etc.

(4632.) 8. Another impression. "Newcastle Races, 1815." "Marshall, Printer, Old Flesh Market, Newcastle." At the head of a similar List.

Racing Cut. No. (2317.), etc.

(3633.) 9. Another impression. "Newcastle. King's Meadow's Races & Regatta, 1830." "W. Boag, Printer, Newcastle." At the head of a List of various Amusements on the 19th, 20th, and 21st of May, in that year.

Racing Cut. No. (2320.), etc.

(4634.) 10. Another impression. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4635.) 11. 1. Racing Cut. "Car-Hamilton Races." "K. Anderson, Printer, Side, Newcastle." Three Horses, to the left. At the head of a List of Prizes "To be Run for, over Car-Hamilton, on Monday the 6th of June, 1803."

(4636.) 11. 2. Another impression. "Stanhope Races, 1812." "K. Anderson, Printer, Newcastle." At the head of a List of Prizes "To be Run for, at Stanhope in the County of Durham, on Thursday the 21st of May."

(4637.) 12. Racing Cut. "Newcastle Races, 1826." "W. Boag, Printer, Newcastle." Three Horses, to the right. At the head of a List of Horses and Prizes.

(4638.) 13. Racing Cut. Three Horses, to the left. Place and date cut off.

I fear that this may be later than any work of Thomas Bewick, but it is so like his as to deserve the benefit of the doubt.

(4639.) 14. Racing Cut. Two Horses, to the left. Probably older than Bewick. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4640.) 15. Racing Cut. Small. Two Horses, to the right. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession. I give an impression.

(4641.) 16. Racing Cut. Small. Two Horses, to the right. Very similar to the last. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4642.) 17. Racing Cut. Small. Two Horses, to the left. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4643.) 18. Racing Cut. Small. Three Horses, to the right. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4644.) 19. Racing Cut. Small. Three Horses, to the right. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4645.) 20. Racing Cut. Three Horses, to the left. In a border. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

The gentleman whom I have to thank for this addition informed me that it had been in his family for a great number of years, and that it was believed to be the first effort of Thomas Bewick in the line in which he was afterwards so unrivalled.

(4646.) 21. Racing Cut. Three Horses, to the left. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4647.) 22. Racing Cut. Three horses, to the left. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession. An impression follows.

(4648.) 23. Racing Cut. Three Horses, to the left. Very similar to the last. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

(4651.) 26. Racing Cut. Four horses, to the left. On white India paper. From the original Block in my possession.

SONGS WITH CUTS BY THOMAS BEWICK.

Out of an immense collection of Songs printed in the North of England, the following selection should be added to the series already given. I am, however, very far from certain of the claims of some of them:—

(4969.) 21. "A New Song. The Rigs of Newcastle Fair." "G. Angus, Printer, Newcastle."

With cut of The Miller on Horseback. An impression has been given under No. (4283.).

(4970.) 22. "Tom Starboard and Faithful Nancy." London—Printed by J. Catnach, and Sold Wholesale and Retail at No. 60, Wardour-Street, Soho-Square."

With cut of a Ship at sea.

(4971.) 23. "A New Song, called The Rump-Steak Lady." "Catnach, Printer, 2, Monmouth-Court."

With the cut of a Swan swimming, mentioned under No. (2632.).

The Block has not been seen for many years, and although I have searched for it long and carefully among the stock of Catnach's office, I have been unable to find it. See the note to No. (4626.).

(4972.) 24. "A Funny Dialogue, Between a Fat Butcher, and a Mackarel, In Newport Market Yesterday." "Catnach, Printer, 2 Monmouth-court."

With the same cut of a Swan swimming.

(4973.) 25. "The Lily of the Valley." "Catnach, Printer, 2, Monmouth court, 7 Dials."

With cut of the Arms of the Duke of Northumberland. See No. (217.), note. This Block also has been long out of sight, and cannot be found.

(4974.) 26. "Nature's Gay Day." "J. Catnach, Printer, 2, & 3, Monmouth court Seven Dials."

With cut of "Lads and their Lasses tripping lightly away."

(4975.) 27. "The Fairy Boy." "J. Paul & Co., Printers, 2 & 3, Monmouth Court, 7 Dials."

With cut of a Boy reading to a party of children.

(4976.) 28. 1. "The Christmas Goose." "Printed by W. S. Fortey, Monmouth Court, Seven Dials."

With cut of a Duck, of which I have the original Block.

(4977.) 28. 2. Another impression of the cut. On white India paper. From the same.

I am not certain of its correct attribution, but the work is of great merit, as the following impression will prove.

(4978.) 29. "Skewball."

With a small Horse-Racing Cut, of which I have the original Block. See No. (4642.).

(4979.) 30. "The World on Credit." "C. Crosshaw, Printer, Coppergate, York."

ANIMALS.

“The Remarkable Kylee Ox.” No. (3388.), etc.
(5007.) 1. Another impression. On white India paper.

“Durham Cow. 5.” No. (3410).
(5008.) 2. Another impression. On coarse blue paper.

(5009.) 3. “Durham Ox. 8.” A reversed copy of that in No. (247.). On coarse blue paper.

(5010.) 4. White Pony. A reversed copy of that in Reay’s Sportsman’s Friend. On coarse blue paper.

Above the cut is written “Barton Valuations, 1815.”

These were intended for covers of copy and account books.

(5011.) 5. A Stag. Signed “T. Bewick, Newcastle.” Copperplate. A copy of that at page 260 of the ‘Select Fables’ of 1820.

(5012.) 6. A Series of Nine Cuts of Animals, each enclosed in a square border.

Horse, Bear (signed “T B”); Wild Boar, Chamois, Fallow Deer (signed “T Bewick”), Sheep, Otter, Raven, and Wood Pigeon (signed “T. Bwk.”). Fine impressions. On white India paper.

They are thus noticed in a Catalogue of Mr. E. Pearson:—

“NINE VERY RARE BEWICK WOOD-ENGRAVINGS. TWO BRITISH BIRDS, and SEVEN BRITISH QUADRUPEDS, with Borders. These beautiful cuts are nearly $2\frac{1}{2}$ by $3\frac{1}{4}$ inches in size, and are exceedingly beautiful. One is signed ‘T. Bewicke,’ another ‘Bwk.’ They have been in the possession of the descendants of the Foreman to Wilson and Spence’s Printing Offices, York, for the last 50 years. I have not seen impressions of them in any Bewick Collection. Small 4to, uncut, toy wrappers, £5 5s., very interesting and choice impressions.

“WILSON AND SPENCE, YORK, about 1789.”

Although several of these cuts are, as stated, signed by Bewick, they are, on the whole, unworthy of him. The Horse and Otter are singularly indifferent. I cannot, therefore, endorse the expressions either of admiration of the work, or of the correctness of the attribution of these cuts to Thomas Bewick. Several of them, nevertheless, indicate considerable ability in their author, whom I take to have been a pupil rather than the great Master himself.

(5013.) 7. A Series of Eleven Cuts of Animals. On white India paper. From the original Blocks in my possession.

They consist of the Kyløe Ox, Lancashire Bull, Group of Sheep, Lion, Nondescript Animal in the ‘History of Quadrupeds,’ Bull Dog, Greyhound Fox, Hare, Kangaroo, Goldfinch, and Carp. Impressions of the Lion and the Bull Dog will be found among the “Wood Blocks.”

VARIOUS.

(5014.) 1. A remarkably clever copy of the Vignette “Man watering”; British Birds, First Ed. vol. i. p. 42. Copperplate. Proof on a folio page of foolscap paper.

From the collection of Mr. Lynch, of Newcastle.

(5015.) 2. A Party of four Smokers, one of them said to be a portrait of Bewick himself. Proof on white India paper.

“Said to be engraved by Thomas Bewick. He used to meet a select few at the ‘House of Commons,’ Newcastle.” MS. note on the paper on which the impression is mounted.

ADDITION

DRAWINGS.

(5016.) 1. The Letter "T" in German Text, before a shield bearing the Arms of Newcastle.

On the paper is written, in an old hand, "Drawn by T. Bewick. G. R."

ADDITIONS
WOOD BLOCKS.

THE causes which have led to the goodly Additions described in some of the foregoing Departments have been even more full of beneficial results in this of the Wood Blocks—the most precious and invaluable of all. My thanks, in the first place, are due to the generosity of friends, who have either given me their treasures, the collections of lives, or have afforded me introductions, hardly less valuable, to quarters from whence I have acquired what was otherwise unattainable. Then, in the second, through the inducement offered to numerous printing Firms to contribute their stores by purchase to the aggregate already so comprehensive—added to some fortunate accidents in the course of my varied investigations, as detailed in the Preface—I have been enabled to make most interesting additions to the list already given. I have also, both in person and by correspondence, instituted many and strict inquiries, not only in London and his own locality, Newcastle, Gateshead, Hexham, Alnwick, Durham, Sunderland, North and South Shields, etc., but also in various provincial towns south of his neighbourhood, where some of Bewick's productions were used by the publishers in those places,—as York, Knaresborough, Richmond, Penrith, Ludlow, Gloucester, etc. etc.—and have in a number of instances succeeded in recovering the Blocks, while in others I have satisfied myself that they either cannot be found, or, as in some cases, have unquestionably perished. The reader who is familiar with the list which was given in the previous Volume and connects it with the one which follows, bearing also in mind the facts now stated, will thus be aware that, with the exception of those in the possession of the Bewick family, there can be no considerable number of the original Blocks, especially of those executed when the Artists had arrived at eminence and for works of mark and importance, outside the limits of my own Collection. After those of the 'Quadrupeds,' 'British Birds,' and 'Æsop,' to which I have just alluded, the Blocks of their most celebrated and important Book-Illustrations are here associated; while a very large number of their occasional works, done for private persons and miscellaneous purposes of various kinds, have been traced to their hiding places, the concealment of which has been the sole cause of their escaping the fate of so many of their companions, and are now added to numbers which before seemed but little likely to admit of increase, and preclude the hope of future additions of any extent or importance. It hardly need be said that these results, excepting those for which, as already stated, I have to thank the kindness of friends, have been obtained at a very considerable cost of time, patience, labour, travel, and money. To add, indeed, to the difficulty of acquisition, many of them were estimated at a fabulous value from the fact of their being the sole surviving relics of old and celebrated Firms, and hoarded by their possessors accordingly. But the completeness and value of the product so acquired are most satisfactory, and more than compensate for those necessary expenditures, apart from which the present result was simply impossible.

To enable the reader to judge in some measure of the beauty of many of these acquisitions, I have furnished him throughout the volume with impressions from a selection of the original Blocks. Truth, however, obliges me to add, that the action of the modern rolling-press is but poorly adapted for taking fine impressions from Cuts engraved in Bewick's peculiar style, with the lower and more delicate portions of which the ink never comes in contact. The impressions, therefore, rarely do justice to my Blocks, which in most instances are in as good a condition as when first executed. Hence I think I may reckon on the gratification of the reader, when I inform him that a very beautiful Volume is in preparation, which is intended to contain impressions of some eighteen hundred of my Blocks, taken off by the old process, and thus presenting a worthy counterpart of these lovely works of Art, which, as was said of one of the many series included in the Collection, "will be a monument of fame" to the Artist brothers, "of more celebrity than marble could bestow."

ADDITIONS TO WOOD BLOCKS FOR BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS.

FISHER'S NEW ENGLISH TUTOR. No. (4029.).

(5017.) 1-10. The entire Series of Ten Cuts. Obtained from Mr. Hodgson.

Specimens have been given under No. (4029.).

GREY'S EPITOME OF THE ANNALS OF GREAT BRITAIN.
No. (4033.).

(5018.) 11-34. The Twenty-four Figures of the Sovereigns. Obtained from Mr. Hodgson.

Specimens will be found under No. (4033.).

HASTIE'S READING EASY. No. (11.), ETC.

(5019.) 35-70. The entire Series of Thirty-six Cuts. From Mr. Dodd, of Newcastle, successor to Mr. Emerson Charnley, to whom they came from the Angus family.

Specimens have been given under Nos. (1619.) and (4428.).

NEW YEAR'S GIFT. No. (4034.).

(5020.) 71-76. Six Cuts, illustrating the Story of Little Red Riding Hood.

Specimens have been given under No. (4034.).

HARGROVE'S KNARESBOROUGH. No. (38.), ETC.

(5021.) 77-81. The entire Series of Five Cuts. From Mr. Blenkhorn, Hargrove's successor at Knaresborough. The following is an impression from the beautiful Cut of the Arms of Knaresborough Priory, the Cornwall Arms, perhaps the finest cut that Bewick ever executed for a provincial publisher.

I possess a considerable number of Hargrove's Wood Blocks, executed for his various topographical works, but do not attribute them to either Thomas or John Bewick. Many of them are undoubtedly the productions of Green, and some apparently of Anderson.

LOOKING GLASS FOR THE MIND. No. (66.), ETC.

(5022.) 82-100. A Series of Nineteen Cuts, namely, that on the title; the large Cuts at pp. 38, 75, 122, 132, 187, 202, 257, and 263: and the Vignettes at

pp. iv, 37, 53, 117, 174, 201, 223, 241, 256, and 262.

After a very careful search which I have been permitted to make through the more ancient stock of Messrs. Griffith and Farran, the successors of Newbery and Harris, I have been able to select sixty-one Blocks, which will be found enumerated under the various heads to which they are referable. It is understood that at the time of Mr. Harris's decease the greater part of the old stock was disposed of, some of which found its way to the North of England, and was ultimately purchased by myself from a tradesman long resident in Northumberland. It is from that purchase that I have been able to furnish the various specimens of the Illustrations of Newbery and Harris's publications which have been given in the earlier pages of this and the previous volume. The Blocks which remained in their successors' possession were happily the choicest of the whole, and reserved, I presume, for that special reason. They constituted, as will be seen, a perfect series of the cuts done for the 'Tales for Youth,'—the finest and best examples of John Bewick's work for juvenile publications,—a considerable number belonging to his next best volume—the 'Looking Glass for the Mind,'—and others of hardly less interest. And the very large price demanded and paid for them was on account of their being, in the words of their former owners, "all the valuable relics of the old Firm."

Specimens have been given under No. (4438.), and at page 199.

SPORTING MAGAZINE. No. (71.).

(5023.) 101. Horse Racing. Used on the cover, and at the head of 'The Racing Calendar.' One of the most celebrated productions of John Bewick, which, although subject to hard usage for a number of years, yet preserves much of its original excellence. Obtained in London.

An impression follows.

TALES FOR YOUTH. No. (72.), ETC.

(5024.) 102-131. The entire Series of Thirty Cuts. They are the finest examples of the skill of John Bewick employed in juvenile publications. Purchased of Messrs. Griffith and Farran, successors to Newbery and Harris, of St. Paul's Churchyard. See note to 'Looking Glass for the Mind' above.

Specimens have been given under No. (4442.).

KINGS OF ENGLAND. No. (4078.).

(5025.) 132, 133. Cut of 'Ancient Britons' on the title, and Portrait of King George III. Purchased of Messrs. Griffith and Farran, Successors to Newbery and Harris, St. Paul's Churchyard.

THE OECONOMIST. No. (127.).

(5026.) 134, 135. The Series of Two Cuts. From Mr. Dodd, and formerly belonging to the Angus family.

An impression of the Cut on the titles, Mr. Bigge's well-known Cut of 'Liberty,' has already been given under No. (1966.).

THE PICTURE BOOK. No. (4101.).

(5027.) 136-173. A Series of Thirty-eight Cuts. They were originally in the possession of Messrs. Christopher and Jennett, of Stockton-on-Tees, and from them appear to have passed to Cornelius Croshaw, of the Pavement, York, who disposed of them to the gentleman who sold them to me.

Specimens will be found under No. (4101.), and others follow.

THE NEW SONGSTER. No. (139.).

(5028.) 174, 175. The Two Cuts on the Frontispiece. From Soulby's office, Penrith, where the book was printed.

THE VOCAL MISCELLANY. No. (141.).

(5029.) 176. Cut on the Title. From Humble's office, Newcastle.

THE PLEASING INSTRUCTOR. No. (4103.).

(5030.) 177. Cut on the Title. From Soulbey's office, Penrith, where the book was printed.

ELMINA. No. (4108.).

(5031.) 178. The Frontispiece. From Messrs. Griffith and Farran, Successors to Newbery and Harris, St. Paul's Churchyard.

THE FORSAKEN INFANT. Nos. (4111.), (4452.).

(5032.) 179-187. The Series of nine Cuts. Done for Mozley, of Gainsborough and Derby.

A specimen will be found under No. (4452.).

REAY'S SPORTSMAN'S FRIEND. No. (163.).

(5033.) 188. The Bay Pony. I have to offer my grateful thanks to T. H. Wilson, Esq., for the possession of this very beautiful work of art.

An impression has been given at p. 139.

FISHER'S GRAMMAR. No. (4134.).

(5034.) 189. Facsimile of Signature. From Hodgson's office, Newcastle, where the book was printed.

PICTURE OF NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE. No. (218.).

(5035.) 190, 191. View of Newcastle on the title, and Figure of a Roman Altar at page 152 of the Second Edition. From Akenhead's office, Newcastle, where the book was printed.

An impression of the former will be found under No. (4458.).

WARDEN'S SPELLING BOOK. No. (4235.).

(5036.) 192-198. The entire Series of seven Cuts.

From Humble's office, Newcastle, where the book was printed.

Specimens have been given under Nos. (4235.), (4817.).

FLOWERS OF BRITISH POETRY. No. (281.).

(5037.) 199. "Meditation by Moonlight." From Sunderland.

An impression will be found at page 209.

DAVISON'S SPECIMENS OF WOOD BLOCKS. No. (298.).

Various Cuts enumerated under other heads.

RHYMES OF NORTHERN BARDS. No. (302.).

(5038.) 200, 201. The Cuts at pp. 149, 174. From Angus, Charnley, and Dodd's office, Newcastle.

These Cuts, and the others similarly described, were successively in the office of the publishers named.

GARLAND OF NOTHUMBERLAND HEROES. No. (303.).

(5039.) 202. Cut on title. From Angus, Charnley, and Dodd's office, Newcastle.

(5060.) 323. Large Cut. Boys gathering Apples. For a 'Reading Easy.' From Gloucester. No. (4504.).

(5061.) 324-380. A Series of fifty-seven Cuts in rectangular borders, for Book Illustrations. From Newcastle, Durham, Hexham, North Shields, South Shields, Sunderland, York, Darlington, North Allerton, Penrith, Appleby, Whitehaven, Whitby, etc. etc. etc. Nos. (4505.) and (4514.).

The following are specimens.

(5062.) 381-442. A Series of sixty-two Vignettes, for Book Illustrations. From the same localities. No.
(4506.).

The following are specimens.

It may be questioned whether all of them should be attributed to Thomas Bewick, but of the great beauty of many there can, fortunately, be no doubt. Take, for example, the following cut of the Chillingham Bull, and the Fishing Scene introducing the distant view of Durham Cathedral.

Some of them are copies, or possibly the first draughts, of vignettes in the 'Quadrupeds' and 'British Birds,' and it is difficult to say which are to be preferred.

Another specimen will be found at page 151 of the present Supplement.

(5063.) 443. Robinson Crusoe. From Hodgson's office. No. (4515.).

(5064.) 444, 445. Figures of a Plough and a Pitchfork. From Hodgson's office. No. (4517.).

ADDITIONS TO WOOD BLOCKS FOR NEWSPAPER CUTS.

(5271.) 717. Heading of the Newcastle Courant Newspaper. No. (3011.).

An impression has been given under No. (4920.).

I am indebted for the possession of this most noble series of Blocks to the kindness of my friends the Messrs. Blackwell and Rutherford, proprietors of the Newcastle Courant. They were executed, as required, for the celebrated Newspaper of that name, and for the gratification, as the Artist was well-aware, of his friends and neighbours. By singularly good fortune these interesting relics were preserved in the office, when they might at any moment have been destroyed as useless, until, after upwards of sixty years, they have been allowed to enrich my Collection, and to take their place by the side of so many other treasures similarly rescued from accident, and transferred to what may be hoped to be a safe asylum.

PORTRAITS OF THOMAS BEWICK.

Thomas Bewick. Meyer after Ramsay. No. (3879).
(5355.) 1. Another impression. On vellum.

Only seven printed. An error occurs in my description of this portrait under the No. cited. It is on copper, and not on steel. The artist, who was a nephew of John Hoppner, R.A., died soon after the completion of the work.

Given me by Mr. E. Pearson.

(5356.) 2. 1. Thomas Bewick. Meyer after Ramsay. A photographic reduced copy. From Mr. E. Pearson.

(5357.) 2. 2. Another.

MISCELLANIES.

(5358.) 1. Cover for the Mourning at Thomas Bewick's Funeral.

“Mr. James Burnett Mourner for the Funeral of the late Mr. Tho^s. Bewick. Mr. Burnett is requested to join the Funeral Procession at Ovingham on Thursday the 13th Nov^r. Inst. about 1 o'clock.”

(5359.) 2. Autograph Letter of W. C. Trevelyan, Esq. dated “Wallington October 29th [1820] to “Mr. Bewick, St. Nicholas Ch. Yd. Newcastle on Tyne”, containing various orders, and communicating an extract from a letter from Norfolk on the Kestrel's hawking after cockchafers.

Mr. Brand's Bookplate. No. (3949.).

(5360.) 3. 1. Another impression.

(5361.) 3. 2. Another.

(5362.) 4. Letter of Mr. J. T. W. Bell, with cuttings from the Newcastle Newspapers, announcing the sudden death, and giving a sketch of the life of Mr. W. Garret.

(5363.) 5. Portrait of E. H. Baily, sculptor.

(5364.) 6. 1. “A Book Of Wood-Cuts. Cut & Printed by Wm Garret Newcastle.”

8vo. A pamphlet consisting of a title and fifteen leaves, each of the latter containing a rough woodcut.

Given me by Mr. Garret.

(5365.) 6. 2. Another copy.

Purchased of Mr. Rutland, Newcastle.

(5366.) 7. On Illicit Love. Written among the Ruins of Godstow Nunnery, near Oxford. By John Brand, A.B. Of Lincoln College, Oxford.

4to. Pp. 20. With a view, on the title, of Godstow Nunnery, engraved on copper by Ralph Beilby.

Fine copy, half bound in green morocco.

(5367.) 8. An Address To the Subscribers For the History and Antiquities Of the County Palatine Of Durham: With a Sketch of the Materials from whence The intended Publication is compiled. By William Hutchinson, F.A.S. 1784.

4to. Pp. 10. With an engraving on copper of a seal, said to be by Ralph Beilby, Bewick's master.

Good copy, in its original cover.

(5368.) 9. Mr. E. Pearson's Book Catalogues. On large 4to paper.

Several of these are embellished with impressions from the original Blocks, lent to the publisher for the purpose of illustration. Among them are those of "The Foolish Stag," Mr. Bigge's cut of "Liberty," and two of Saint's woodcuts. All of these Blocks are now in my possession.

WORKS OF PUPILS.

View of St. Nicholas' Church, Newcastle. By Charlton Nesbit. No. (3975.)

(5369.) 1. Another very beautiful impression. From Mr. Robert Robinson, of Newcastle.

INSERENDA.

BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS.

(5371.) 1. "The Newcastle Journal" Newspaper [for 1776.].

It contains, besides the cuts mentioned in No. (3032.), some clever advertisement cuts of Fighting Cocks, Stolen or Strayed, etc.

(5372.) 2. The History Of the Castle, Town, and Forest Of Knaresborough, With Harrogate, And its Medicinal Waters. [etc.] The Third Edition, Improved. By E. Hargrove.

York: Printed by W. Blanchard and Co. for the Author. M.DCC.LXXXII.

18mo. Pp. iv, 144. With cut of the Cornwall Arms, the Arms of the Priory of Knaresborough, at p. 51. The Cut is now in my possession, and an impression will be found under No. (5021.).

Good copy, in old calf.

(5373.) 3. The Honours of the Table, Or, Rules for Behaviour during Meals; [etc.] The Second Edition.

London. Printed for the Author, at the Literary-Press, No. 62, Wardour-street, Soho; and all Book-sellers in Town and Country. M,DCC,XCI.

12mo. Pp. 120. With various engravings of joints, poultry, fish, etc. At the back of the title is the Trusler Coat of Arms, mentioned in his Memoir, No. (210.), pp. 12, 13.

Very fine copy, in its original cover.

(5374.) 4. On the Conduct of Man to Inferior Animals, &c. No. (97.).

Another very fine copy, in old calf.

(5375.) 5. A Father's Legacy to His Daughters. By the late Dr. John Gregory, of Edinburgh.

Manchester, Printed and sold at the Office of G. Nicholson, 9, Spring-gardens. Sold also by T. Knott, 47, Lombard-street; and Champante & Whitrow, Jewry-street, London. Anno 1797.

18mo. Pp. 38. With cut on the title.

Fine copy, in old calf.

(5376.) 6. Moral Philosophy, &c. On the Duties of the Young, by Dr. Hugh Blair. [etc.]

Manchester, Printed at the Office of G. Nicholson, No. 9, Spring-gardens. Sold by T. Knott, No. 47, Lombard-street; and Champante & Whitrow, Jewry-street, London. Anno 1798.

18mo. Pp. 56. With an "Emblematic Vignette in the Title-page, designed by Mr. W. M. Craig and engraved by Mr. T. Bewick."

Good copy, half bound.

This together with the foregoing article forms a volume which belonged to "Elizabeth Pigot, 1808." The lady was a friend of Lord Byron, and is given as the authority for some verses on the flyleaf being in the poet's autograph.

(5381.) 11. Miscellaneous Poems.

Manchester Printed at the Office of W. Shelmerdine and Co. No. 5, Hanging-Ditch. [n. d.]

12mo. Pp. xii, 145. With a few insignificant cuts, the authenticity of which is very doubtful.

(5382.) 12. Wood Engravings From Tommy Trip. No. (4037.).

A doubt has been expressed of the genuineness of these impressions, but, as it appears to me, without any foundation. They were purchased of Mr. Lynch of Newcastle, and were in the old stock of his predecessor Mr. Farren.

Another fine copy, in old calf.

(5383.) 13. Songs, Comic and Satyrical. By George Alexander Stevens. A New Edition, Corrected.

London: Printed for G. Kearsley, at Johnson's-Head, No. 46, Fleet-Street, [etc.] M,DCC,LXXXVIII.

12mo. A reprint of No. (7.). With the cut of the 'Poculum Poculorum,' at p. 7.

Good copy, in old calf.

(5384.) 14. Captain Cook's Voyages Round the World. [etc.]

Newcastle: Printed by M. Brown, At the Bible, in the Flesh-Market. M.DCC.XC.

8vo. 2 vols. Vol. I. pp. xxvi, 1022. Vol. II. pp. 796. With many copper-plates, among which are some with the inscription "Beilby & Bewick Scul'."

Good copy, in old calf.

(5385.) 15. A Compendious History of England, [etc.]

London: Printed for G. G. and J. Robinson, W. Bent, and J. Scatcherd. 1794.

12mo. Pp. xii, 249. With full length portraits of the Sovereigns, which appear to be the work of John Bewick. They are improved copies of those used in Carnan's publications.

Good copy, in old calf.

(5386.) 16. Fables By the late Mr. Gay. In One Volume Complete.

London: Printed for T. Longman, B. Law, [etc.] E. Newbery, and J. Walker. 1796.

12mo. Pp. viii, 232. A reprint of Nos. (4056.), (63.), etc.

Fair copy, in old calf.

(5387.) 17. The British Champion; Or, Honour Rewarded. [etc.]

York: Printed for Wilson, Spence, & Mawman.

[Price Fourpence.] [n. d.]

18mo. Pp. 95. With a frontispiece and forty-two cuts, several of which are repeated. Very similar to No. (4091.).

Fine copy, in its original Dutch paper boards.

(5388.) 18. The Hermit: Or, The Unparalleled Sufferings and Surprising Adventures Of Philip Quarll, [etc.] With a Curious Frontispiece. The Tenth Edition.

London: Printed for the Booksellers. M,DCC,XCVII.

12mo. Pp. 240. With a frontispiece attributed to John Bewick, but in my opinion with little or no proof.

Good copy, in old calf.

(5389.) 19. The History Of the Castle, Town, and Forest Of Knaresbrough, [etc.] The Fifth Edition.

York: Printed by Wilson, Spence, and Mawman, [etc.] 1798.

12mo. Pp. 4, 382. With the cut of the Cornwall Arms at p. 82.

Good copy, half-bound.

(5390.) 20. The New Harrogate Guide: [etc.]

Knaresbrough: Printed at Hargrove's Office; And Sold by J. Hargrove, Harrogate, and Knaresbrough; Longman, Hurst and Co. London; And by the Booksellers of York, Leeds, &c. &c. [n. d.]

12mo. Pp. 135. With several Cuts said to be by Thomas Bewick, of which I possess the original Blocks.

Good copy, in its original paper cover.

(5391.) 21. The Oracles: Containing Some Particulars of the History Of Billy and Kitty Wilson; [etc.]

London: Printed for E. Newbery, at the Corner of St. Paul's Church-Yard, By E. Rider, No. 36, Little-Britain. [Price Sixpence.] [n. d.]

18mo. Pp. 124. With thirteen cuts to which I give the benefit of a doubt. They are exactly similar in style to those of No. (4108.), of which a specimen is given at p. 31, and are I believe the work of Lee, to whom without doubt the great majority of the cuts in Newbery's publications, ordinarily attributed to John Bewick, are to be referred.

Very fine copy, in its original Dutch boards. It belonged to "Mary Burchell, Feb^r. 15th. 1803."

(5392.) 22. Poems and Ballads.

Huddersfield: Printed by Brook and Lancashire, for J. Todd, York; [etc.] [n. d.]

12mo. Pp. 63. With cuts used by the same publishers in Melmoth's Beauties of British Poetry, No. (174.), whose claim to be the work of Thomas Bewick is very doubtful.

Good copy, in old calf.

(5393.) 23. An Excellent Collection of Popular Songs: viz. 1. The Gypsie Laddie. [etc.] [n. d.]

Edinburgh: Printed for the Booksellers in Town and Country.

12mo. Pp. 8. With cut on the title of the Piper, occurring at page 26 of Crosby's Caledonian Musical Repository, No. (144). Good copy, as published.

(5394.) 24. Fables Of Æsop And Others: [etc.] By Samuel Croxall, D.D. [etc.] A New Edition.

London: Printed for J. Brambles, A. Meggitt, and J. Waters, By H. Mozley, Market-Place, Gainsborough. 1804.

12mo. Pp. xxiv, 336. With cut on the title, said to be by Thomas Bewick. Good copy, in old calf.

(5395.) 25. Scarronides, Or Virgil Travestie, [etc.] By Charles Cotton, Esq. The Thirteenth Edition.

London: Printed by J. Galton, Little Eastcheap; And Sold by The Booksellers in Town and Country. 1804.

12mo. Pp. 122. With the four large cuts. Good copy, in its original boards.

(5396.) 26. The Waes o' War; Or, The Upshot O' the History o' Will and Jean. In Four Parts. [etc.]

Newcastle upon Tyne: Printed by J. Mitchell, Dean-Street. 1804.

12mo. Pp. 23. With a cut at p. 19, used by J. Mitchell in others of his publications.

Good copy, in its original paper cover.

(5397.) 27. Impressions of Wood Blocks in the possession of J. Mitchell of Newcastle. [n. d. but about 1805.]

8vo. Consisting of seventy-six leaves, with two hundred and twenty-nine cuts, printed on one page only of each leaf, without title or pagination. It contains the cuts of Relph's Poems, the 'Charms of Literature,' and other publications of Mitchell's Press. Many of the original Blocks of this most rare book are now in my possession.

Fine copy, in its original cover. It formerly belonged to Mr. Thomas Bell, and has his book-plate.

(5398.) 28. The York Herald [for 1805].

This Newspaper contains several cuts of Fighting Cocks, similar in character to Nos. (3138.), (3143.), (3149.), [etc.].

(5399.) 29. A Modern Delineation Of the Town & Port Of Kingston Upon Hull : [etc.]

Hull : Printed by and for W. Turner, Silver street ;
And sold by all the Booksellers in Hull, & the County of York. 1805.

12mo. Pp. ii, vi, 114, vi, xiv. With a few insignificant cuts.

Good copy, in its original boards.

(5400.) 30. The Economy Of Human Life. By Robert Dodsley.

Printed and sold by G. Nicholson, Poughnill, near Ludlow. [etc.] 1805.

18mo. Pp. 39. With a cut on the title, "designed by Mr.

W. M. Craig, and engraved on wood by Mr. T. Bewick."

(5403.) 33. Flowers of British Poetry. No. (281.).

Another very fine copy, in its original boards.

(5404.) 34. The Leeds Intelligencer [for 1807, etc.].

This Newspaper has the Arms of Leeds for a Heading, probably by Bewick. Among the various Cuts for Advertisements, in the rest of which it would appear that he had no hand, is one for the Newcastle Fire Office, similar to those described under Nos. (2151.), (2154.), (2157.), etc., which is doubtless his work.

(5405.) 35. A Compendious History of England, [etc.]

London: Printed for J. Johnson, [etc.] 1807.

12mo. Pp. xii, 274. A reprint of No. (5385.).

Good copy, in old calf.

(5406.) 36. Scarronides: Or, Virgil Travestie. [etc.]

Good copy, in its original boards.

(5407.) 37. Furnass' Practical Surveyor. No. (236.).

Another very fine copy, in its original boards and uncut, as it left the publisher.

(5408.) 38. A History Of the Earth And Animated Nature: [etc.] Embellished with upwards of One Hundred Elegant Copper-Plates Engraved on Purpose Representing some Hundreds of Figures. In Two Volumes.

Alnwick: Printed at the Apollo Press, By and for W. Davison. And Sold by all the Booksellers in England and Scotland. 1810.

12mo. Vol. I. pp. viii, 278. Vol. II. pp. vi, 272. The engravings on copper are not by Bewick, but the volumes contain four vignettes, used in the Poems of Burns and others of Davison's publications, of which I possess the original Blocks.

Fine copy, in old sheep.

(5409.) 39. British Picture Book, Of Beasts, [etc.] Alnwick: Printed by and for William Davison.

12mo. This and the two following contain a selection of the copperplate engravings of the previous article, and the covers are embellished with various cuts from Davison's Natural Histories and other works.

Good copy, as published.

(5410.) 40. British Picture Book, Of Birds, [etc.] Alnwick: Printed by and for William Davison.

12mo. With Bewick's cuts on the cover.

Good copy, as published.

(5411.) 41. Alnwick Picture Book, [etc.] Consisting of Beasts, Birds, &c. [etc.]

Alnwick: Printed by and for William Davison.

12mo. With Bewick's cuts on the cover.

Good copy, as published.

Edinburgh: Published by Oliver & Boyd, Caledonian Press, Netherbow. 1811.

Large 12mo. Pp. 286. Apparently the same as No. (144.), with a different title.

Very fine copy, on large paper, in its original boards, and uncut.

(5414.) 44. Dr. Goldsmith's Abridgment Of his History of England, [etc.]

Gainsborough: Printed by and for Henry Mozley. 1812.

12mo. With the large Heads of the Sovereigns, as in Nos. (299.), (3797.), and (4302.).

The original Blocks, which are in my possession, are those enumerated under Nos. (4495.), (5053.), but the oval line borders have been removed.

Good copy, half-bound.

(5415.) 45. The Poetical Works Of Oliver Goldsmith. No. (271.).

Another fine copy, in its original paper cover.

(5416.) 46. Divine Songs, Attempted in Easy Language, For the Use of Children. By I. Watts, D.D. [etc.] Adorned with appropriate Wood Cuts, by T.

Bewick, of Newcastle, to impress more lasting ideas of each Subject on the Mind, than can be attained by those in common Use.

York : Printed by and for Thomas Wilson and Son, High-Ousegate. 1812.

18mo. Pp. vi, 72. With thirty-eight cuts.

A very beautiful copy of this rare little book, a reprint of No. (4112.), in purple morocco, gilt.

(5417.) 47. Fables Of Æsop And Others: [etc.]

(5444.) 73. 2. Another copy.

Imp. 8vo. One of a few copies taken off on large paper. It contains several engravings by Thomas Bewick, as well as others not by him, together with a fresh title and the imprint "London. Printed by J. Davy & Sons, 137, Long Acre. 1868."

PROOFS OF CUTS IN MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS.

(5445.) 1. A Large Folio Volume, thus described in pp. 10 and 11 of the last Article:—

"BEWICK'S (T. AND J.) EARLIEST AND RAREST WOOD ENGRAVINGS. TWELVE HUNDRED WOOD ENGRAVINGS by Thomas and John Bewick, engraved for Thomas Saint of Newcastle, and Wilson and Spence of York, previous to the years 1784 and 1810, including all the beautiful Cuts used in New Lottery Book of Beasts and Birds, 1771, Child's Horn Book, 1770, Moral Instructions, 1772, Select Fables, 1776, Youth's Instructive and Entertaining Story Teller, 1778, A Pretty Book of Pictures, or Tommy Trip's History of Beasts and Birds, 1779, Gay's Fables, 1779, Select Fables, 1784, with the borders to each cut (a most beautiful series of cuts), Philip Quarll, Robinson Crusoe, Little Jack, Cock Robin, Red Riding Hood, Cries of London and York, Robin Hood's Garland, Poetical Fabulator, Holy Bible in miniature, Full-length Kings and Queens of England, with heraldic shields, Fairing or Golden Toy, the Picture Book, Goody Two Shoes, Death of Abel, Watts' Divine and Moral Songs, Happy Family, Tommy Tagg's Poems, Patty Primrose, several editions of Æsop's Fables, Dodsley in Miniature, The Happy Family, Lessons of Truth, Morning Amusements or Tales of Quadrupeds, Afternoon Amusements or Tales of Birds, Christmas Tales, York Toy, Peter Painter's Pretty Picture Book, and a whole host of Juvenile Toy Books now almost extinct; "and though many of these publications were of an extremely trivial nature, the Wood Engravings with which they were embellished caused them at this early period (1770 to 1810) to have an extensive sale," they have delighted thousands of "Little Masters and Misses" in years gone by, and are nearly unknown to the "Bewick Collector" of the present day, but will be instantly recognized and admired on examination as the early handy-work and designs of these great Masters.

1200 beautiful Cuts, the earliest designs and handy-work (unaided by pupils) of these great artists. "Set No. 1" of only seven sets printed (see vellum guarantee on title), portrait and cuts, neatly mounted in handsome folio volume, EXCESSIVELY RARE."

Purchased at Mr. E. Pearson's Sale, 10th June, 1868.

TRADESMEN'S NEWSPAPER CUTS.

(5446.) 1. John Craike, Woollen Draper. A curtain. Dated Newcastle, June 2. 1801.

(5447.) 2. J. and W. Middleton, Linen Drapers. A cornice and curtain. Dated Sunderland, Nov. 18. 1801.

BAR BILLS.

(5448.) 1. Henry Sunderland, Turk's Head Inn, Bigg-Market, Newcastle. A Turk's Head in a circle within a square, the corners black.

NEWSPAPER CUTS.

(5449.) 1. Heading of the Newcastle Courant. A cutting. Dated August 8. 1801.

This is the cut given under No. (4674.), and should have been placed among the series of headings. It was used in the Courant in the year 1801, as well as by Mr. Blackwell for his invoices.

(5450.) 2. Heading of the Newcastle Courant. No. (4929.). A cutting. Dated Feb. 13. 1830.

(5451.) 3. 1. Heading of the Newcastle Advertiser. Arms of Newcastle. A cutting. Dated March 21. 1801.

(5452.) 3. 2. Another impression. A cutting. Dated June 6. 1801.

(5453.) 4. Blank oval for the insertion of a letter. In a tree by a river-side, on the bank of which is inscribed "Tyne."

NOTE

On the variations in individual copies of the same Editions of the 'Quadrupeds' and 'British Birds.'

There are several variations observable in individual copies of the 'Quadrupeds' and 'British Birds.' For example, in the 1st vol. of the 1st Ed. of the latter work, 1797, the back of the last leaf, as I have stated in the B. C., p. 47, is sometimes blank, sometimes with an advertisement of the Third. and sometimes with one of the Fourth Ed. of the 'Quadrupeds.' In some copies also of the same volume, the Sea Eagle is with, and in others without, "Wycliffe 1791". Other instances are known to Collectors.

The late Mr. W. Garret furnished me with the explanation of this difficulty. He was the foreman, it will be remembered, of the House from which the work was published, and was an eyewitness of Bewick's frequent practice of altering the forms when his volumes were in press, whenever he thought that some alteration was desirable, or had some later information to communicate. As related in Mr. Chatto's sketch of him in Jackson's 'Hist. of Wood Engraving,' p. 600, "When any of his works were in the press, the first thing Bewick did each morning, after calling at his own shop, was to proceed to the printers to see what progress they were making, and to give directions to the pressmen about printing the cuts." It was during these visits that the alterations were made. The discovery, therefore, of the variations referred to does not militate against the genuineness of any volume in which they are found to occur.

The most direct proof of the actual issue of the copies of the 1st vol. of the 'Birds,' 1st Ed., is the un-inked state of the cut at p. 285. Three days after that of publication, all the copies remaining unsold were daubed with ink at the page referred to, in the endeavour to obliterate an offensive vignette.

Dublin, Printed by J. Jones, 90, Bride-Street. 1801.

12mo. Pp. xii, 239. With copies of the original cuts.

I introduce this volume into the present series with the view of suggesting to some, who are in the habit of referring to either Thomas or John Bewick the very indifferent cuts which accompany a multitude of volumes published during the last hundred years, the untenable nature of such attribution. In the present case, there was no endeavour to deceive. The cuts are expressly stated to be the work of a "young Irishman, a native of Dublin;" and the publisher avows his intention, if the present attempt should meet with encouragement, to reprint a number of other London publications. Let Collectors be assured that hundreds of volumes offered to them as "with cuts by Bewick" have really no more connection with him than the volume now described.

24mo. Pp. 14. With a frontispiece and twenty-six cuts, including two on the cover.

87. The Ladder to Learning: [etc.] By Mrs. Trimmer.

London: Printed for J. Harris, Successor to E. Newbery, at the Juvenile Library, Corner of St. Paul's Churchyard. 1817.

18mo. Pp. vi, 223.

88. A Guide To the English Tongue. In Two Parts, [etc.] By The Rev. Thomas Dyche. A New Edition, Carefully Revised and Improved, By The Rev. Thomas Smith.

London: Printed for Scatcherd and Letterman; G. Wilkie, Baldwin, Cradock, and Joy; [etc.] 1818.

12mo. Pp. viii, 156. With a frontispiece portrait of Dyche, two pages of Copies for Writers, and fifteen Fable cuts.

89. A Collection of Armorial Bearings, Inscriptions, &c. In the Parochial Chapel of Saint Andrew, Newcastle upon Tyne.

Newcastle : Printed by Edward Walker. MDCCCXVIII.
8vo. Pp. viii, 32. The plates are by Armstrong and Walker.

90. The Cries of London : Or, Picture Exhibition. [etc.]
York : Printed and Sold by E. Peck, Lower-Ousegate. (Price
One Penny.) [n. d.]
24mo. With a frontispiece and twenty-two cuts.

91. Ballads of Archery, Sonnets, etc. By the Rev. James William Todd.

London : Printed for R. H. Evans, Pall Mall ; And W. Ginger, College Street, Westminster. 1818.
12mo. Pp. xxxii, 175, 33.

92. The Natural History of Quadrupeds. [Birds, Fishes, and Insects.] For the Entertainment and Instruction of Children. With Numerous Cuts.

London : Printed for Baldwin, Cradock, and Joy. Paternoster Row. 1819. Price 2s. 6d.

The 'Fishes' have, in addition to the foregoing imprint, 'and N. Hailes, Piccadilly.'

18mo. In four vols. Four of the cuts of the Quadrupeds,—the Horse, Bull, Urus, and Thibet Musk,—have the name of J. Bewick, but I do not believe that they are by him. The second is palpably a forgery, and I have no doubt that all are so. Some of the best are copies of Bewick's Quadrupeds and Birds.

93. The Life and Perambulations of a Mouse. By M. P. In Two Volumes.

London : Printed for Baldwin, Cradock & Joy, Paternoster-Row ; [etc.] 1819.
18mo. Pp. 59.

94. A Collection Of Armorial Bearings, Inscriptions, &c. In the Church of St. Nicholas, Newcastle on Tyne, [etc.]

Newcastle : Printed by Edward Walker. MDCCCXX.
8vo. 2 vols. Vol. I. pp. xxvii, 90. Vol. II. pp. 84. The illustrations are by Richardson, Armstrong, and Walker.

95. An Abridgment of Natural History. By Dr. Goldsmith.
London : C. Cradock and W. Joy, Paternoster Row. [n. d.
but 1820?]
12mo. Pp. xvi, 376. With figures of Animals, copied from Bewick's cuts.
96. A Picture of Whitby And its Environs. By the Rev. Geo.
Young, A.M. [etc.]
Whitby : Printed and sold by R. Rodgers : [etc.] 1824.
12mo. Pp. viii, 310. With cuts by Green and others.
97. The Cries of York. (In Two Parts.) For the Amusement
Of Young Children. Decorated with Cuts from Life.
York : Printed by J. Kendrew, Colliergate. [n. d.]
Square 18mo. Pp. 15. With a frontispiece and twelve cuts.
98. The Cries of York, For the Amusement Of Young Children.
Decorated with Cuts.
York : Printed by J. Kendrew, Colliergate. [n. d.]
24mo. Pp. 31. With a frontispiece and twenty-six cuts, several of which are those of the former edition, but the borders have been removed.
99. The Cries of London. For the Amusement And Instruction of Good Children. Decorated with Cuts from Life.
York : Printed by J. Kendrew, Colliergate. [n. d.]
Pp. 23. With twenty-one cuts.
Of all the cuts in Kendrew's publications, of which I have a very large number, none are attributable to Bewick. Those of the three little books above noticed are the best, but Bewick had no hand in them.
100. Fables of Æsop, And Others : [etc.] By Samuel Croxall, D.D. The Twenty-Third Edition.
London : Printed for C. J. G. and F. Rivington ; Longman and
Co. ; [etc.] 1831.
Sm. 8vo. Pp. xxiii, 336. Many of the old cuts have been retouched by Charlton Nesbit, who engraved the frontispiece.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Messrs. L. REEVE & Co. have the pleasure of announcing that they have made arrangements to issue, by Subscription, a series of Impressions of about Two Thousand Wood Blocks engraved for the most part by THOMAS and JOHN BEWICK. Among them will be found the engravings of a large number of the most celebrated works illustrated by these Artists, and an unique assemblage of Cuts for Private Gentlemen, Public Societies, and Companies, Amusements, Newspapers, Shop Cards, Invoices, Bar Bills, and other miscellaneous purposes. The volumes referred to are in general rare and costly, while of most of the miscellaneous engravings, very few impressions are known to exist.

An Introduction, including a Descriptive Catalogue of the Blocks, will be furnished by the Rev. T. HUGO, the possessor of the Collection.

The Work, of which a very limited number will be printed, will be executed in the best possible style, and will form a very handsome volume in Royal Quarto.

L. REEVE & Co., 5, HENRIETTA ST., COVENT GARDEN.
