HELD IN $1500 BAIL

DELGARDO, WHO SHOT TORRES FRIDAY NIGHT ARRAIGNED—VICTIM IN SERIOUS CONDITION

In Judge Whomes' court this morning Camillo Delgado was formally arraigned on a charge of wickedly and feloniously assaulting Marcelino Torres last Friday, by wounding him with a rifle shot. Delgado, who is unable to speak a word of English, had the charge read to him in English by the judge and afterward interpreted to him by Joe Oivas, the official interpreter.

Delgado appears now thoroughly to realize the serious position into which the drunken orgy of last Friday has landed him. Sobered and subdued by his imprisonment he answered mechanically the routine questions put to him in the process of arraignment and received with comprehending nods the various points in the indictment. He stated through the interpreter that he had only one witness to call.

Judge Whomes held Delgado in $1500 bail for commitment to the county jail where he will be held for examination by the district attorney. Inquiry at the county hospital this morning brought the information that Marcelino Torres, the man who was shot on Friday night, is in a very serious condition. Torres, who gave the name of Gonzales when found bleeding on the ground Friday night, was shot through the knee with a 30x30 rifle. The bullet smashed the knee almost to pieces. The hospital officials say that the bones are broken into a hundred fragments and that, in all probability, the leg will have to be amputated at the knee. If everything goes favorably Torres may recover. Meanwhile he is in danger of blood poisoning and gangrene and the chances that he may die are many.

In case of Torres' death Delgado would be charged with murder in the second degree. He will be taken to Los Angeles this afternoon.

COLUMBUS AVE. SCHOOL

At the regular meeting of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association, which will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 a hearty welcome will be extended to Mrs. H. W. Yarrick, president of the association, who has returned from attending the national convention at San Francisco. The following program will be given:

Violin solo, Mrs. Ferguson; reading by M. F. Van Loven; song by the fifth grade pupils; vocal solo, Mrs. C. H. Cunningham; piano solo, Mrs. Eugene Murman.

The association will then proceed with the annual election of officers, after which refreshments will be served. All are invited.

TO THE VOTERS OF GLENDALE

The meeting at the High School auditorium tomorrow (Tuesday) evening should be attended by all who desire to act intelligently in the proposed change of the form of our city government. Prominent local attorneys will be asked to speak regarding the legal phases of the different forms of city government as contemplated by our statutes. If we are to incur the large expense involved in getting a new local government we ought to get the best that is obtainable. We ought to act now for the larger future that lies ahead of Glendale. Many believe that to organize as a city of the fifth class would solve our problem adequately. Others prefer the present system. Still others believe that we are large enough and have arrived at a stage in our civic development where we ought to have a charter especially fitted to the needs of our community.

The meeting on Tuesday night will be educative, and will start the discussion in a way that will enable everybody interested to gain reliable information.

J. F. LILLY,
Secretary Chamber of Commerce.

BROADWAY P. T. A.

The regular meeting of the Broadway Parent-Teacher association was held at the school Thursday afternoon. Mrs. A. C. Anderson, president of the association, presided. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Loreta Morehouse, president; Mrs. R. E. Chase, vice president; Mrs. P. S. McNutt, secretary; Mrs. Mitchell, treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Grist, historian.

The program consisted of music on the Victrola and Miss Winnie Sinclair in her charming manner read Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch. The teachers of the school acted as hostesses and served refreshments.

SAID HE WAS DEPUTY

JOHN EGAN, CHARGED WITH IMPERSONATING AN OFFICER, COMES TO GRIEF

While engaged in private detective service for some party in Los Angeles, Saturday night, John Egan brought serious trouble on himself by representing that he was a deputy sheriff. Playing this important role, he demanded that the police department of Glendale assist him in breaking into a private residence in this city for the purpose of obtaining evidence in a divorce case. The divorce case is another story.

Chief Herald, who had some idea that Egan was not what he represented himself to be, refused to have anything to do with the case unless it should take the regular and legal form of a complaint made and warrant sworn out for the parties. On questioning Egan the chief's suspicions were still further roused and sending Egan about his business he telephoned in to the sheriff's office. The officials there made a search through the list of deputies but could find no party answering to the name of John Egan. They therefore instructed the chief that they would send a couple of men out to get the pseudo-deputy.

When the two officers from Los Angeles came on the scene in an automobile they saw Egan on watch on West First street. Seeing the two officers approaching, Egan thinking them to be hostile, ran at full speed away, jumping over two fences in his eagerness to escape.

The two Los Angeles officers, however, had no idea of permitting the man they were after to get away in that easy fashion. They gave chase and speedily caught up with him. In the dark and confusion of the encounter they saw Egan making motion as though to pull a gun on them and taking no chances one of them laid the self-styled deputy out senseless, hitting him a severe blow on the chin.

Egan was carried into a neighboring house and there attended to. Afterward in company with the rest of the party, for there was a large party in the other case, he was taken back to Los Angeles, where he will be charged before the sheriff with impersonating an officer.

AT THE ELKS' PICNIC

In a fine level park near Universal City the annual outing of the Elks was held under most favorable auspices. The brethren journeyed to the scene from Glendale and all other centers in autos and every other imaginable method of conveyance. Jitneys and street cars, motor cycles and even the humble bicycle conveyed the immense crowd of about 2500 persons to the scene of the great barbecue and field sports.

The Glendale contingent was conspicuous with its drill team in their handsome white uniforms. The contingent numbered about 200 in all. Forty Glendale members from Fillmore also went along and added to the jollity of the occasion.

There was a rodeo, sparring, wrestling and other games. The attraction of the day naturally was the baseball game between Orvie Overall's all-star Elk team and Frank Chance's diamond experts, playing for Universal City. After seven innings had been played the game stood even—7 to 7.

After the game the immense crowd adjourned to dinner and received a royal treat at the hands of Senor Romero, the barbecue expert. His efforts on this occasion showed all the points of a first-class artist.

Chief Sebastian of Los Angeles was present as were also some of the leading Universal City people, including Wallace Kerrigan. "Buck" Massie of the general committee was everywhere and much of the success of the great gathering was attributed to his efforts.

Bill Gillis, who made a world's record at the recent fiesta, headed his crowd of cowboys and gave a regular rodeo exhibition. Joe Paquette, who has a record as a diver as well as a reputation as a horseman, showed the crowd what expert riding means. His twenty-eight comrades of the leather did many hair-raising stunts.

The public will soon have an opportunity of seeing the various items of the day's program for Milton Loryea, Universal City's photographer, took panoramic pictures of all that went on. They will be shown first of all to the Elks themselves.

Altogether this was one of the most pleasant picnics ever enjoyed by the Elks and the fruits of the day, that is to say, the financial results, will come forth about Christmas time to gladden the hearts of a crowd of orphans.

GLENDALE WINS, 1-0

THIRTEEN INNINGS TAKEN TO TRIM ALHAMBRA, BIDWELL WINS OWN GAME

Glendale won 1-0. That's the whole story with but one added feature. Hasty Bidwell, Glendale High School's old reliable pitcher, went a thirteen-inning session against Lifeur of Alhambra and then Hasty got tired of pitching a scoreless game. He was not the only pitcher that was tired however, for Lifeur allowed him to slam out a two-base hit. Lukens bunted and placed Bidwell on third and then Lukens started to steal second, which allowed Hasty to come home on a double steal.

It was sure some game Saturday, to say the least. The program started rather quiet like—and proved to a pitchers' battle royal. Lifeur of Alhambra depended on an outcurve a great part of the time, while Hasty Bidwell used his entire repertoire of foolers. Other than little flurries, the game remained very calm, and only once or twice did either side even threaten to score.

Inning after inning the unburned players of the prep sand lots would trek in to their benches to rest a few minutes, while three of their numbers were taken, only to beat it out again to see the same process served up to the opposition by their pitcher.

The interest in the game was intense and the crowd the best of the season. During the latter part of the game the fans showed real spirit and the fray took the aspect of one of the old-time interscholastic games.

Glendale's victory ties them with South Pasadena for the league section championship and inasmuch as the locals have defeated South Pasadena once, they should certainly be able to duplicate the feat.

Not enough can be said in praise of Hasty Bidwell. He not only pitched one of the hardest games of his life, but he won his own game. His teammates, however, were in good form and played mighty high errorless ball. Their opponents were fast men, too, and it would not have been the same story on another day probably. The lineup was as follows:

MISS LEWIS COMPLIMENTS YOUNG MATRONS

Miss Catherine Lewis of 241 South Kenwood street was hostess at two pretty affairs last week. Miss Lewis entertained on Friday at an informal luncheon in honor of Mrs. John Allen Legge, when the following ladies partook of her hospitality: Mrs. H. H. Faries, Miss Alice Grey Beach, Mrs. Albert Leighton, Miss Barbara Mitchell, Miss Anna Woodberry, Mrs. Gus Pulliam, the guest of honor and the hostess. This was a red rose luncheon, these handsome blossoms being used for decoration, and the color scheme being continued in the refreshments as far as possible. The afternoon was spent in dainty needlework and Mrs. Legge was the recipient of many dainty articles.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Lewis entertained at auction bridge in honor of Mrs. James L. Flint. The house was decorated with Ulrich Brunner roses and ferns, while in the dining-room Shasta daisies were used, the buffet being banked with these pretty flowers. Prizes were won by Mrs. Adam Underwood, who made highest score; Mrs. Everette K. Barnes, second, and Mrs. R. E. Collins, consolation, while Mrs. Flint received a pretty guest prize. The score cards were dainty pale blue and white affairs.

An elaborate collation was served to the following guests: Mrs. Richard H. Wells, Mrs. Everette K. Barnes, Mrs. Howard H. Faries, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, Mrs. John Allen Legge, Mrs. Louis Y. Sherman, Miss Hazel Wheatley, Miss George Duffet, Miss Harriet Wells, Miss Lucile Anderson, Miss Bessie Field, Miss Zetee Steele Duncan, Miss Loraine Mitchell, Miss Mattiebelle Provolt, all of Glendale; Mrs. E. R. Collins, Mrs. Adam Underwood, Mrs. Irwin V. Bunt, Mrs. Ellory Hampton, Miss Willie Kerns, Miss Marie McCoy, Miss Adelaide Smith and Miss Nina Williams, all of Los Angeles.

Miss Lewis was assisted during the afternoon by her mother, Mrs. Arthur L. Lewis; Mrs. Gus Pulliam and Mrs. Justin A. Cronkrite of Los Angeles.

WHITE SOX VS. GLENDALE

In the presence of a large crowd of Glendale and Los Angeles people the baseball game between Glendale and the Los Angeles White Sox was played yesterday. At the conclusion of the game the White Sox held to five hits and the White Sox made eight. Lawrence pitched and Mason caught for Glendale; Shores was the White Sox catcher and Rogan the pitcher.

ELECTRIC LIGHT RATES

A COMPARISON OF THE PRINCIPAL CITIES OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

For the benefit of those interested we give a comparison of the electric light rates in Southern California cities as in force April 1, 1915:

The above schedule of rates shows very clearly that with the exception of Pasadena and Los Angeles, Glendale is furnishing electricity to her citizens at a less rate than any other city enumerated in the list.

THE QUEEN'S NIGHT, THURSDAY

With so much excitement and so many on tip toe as to the final outcome in the contest for queen of Glendale's Festival of Fruits and Flowers, it has been decided that the Union High School will not have seating capacity at one performance sufficient for all who wish to see the queen crowned. It has been planned, therefore, that there shall be two performances on Queen's Coronation night, one beginning promptly at 7 p. m. and closing at 8:30 p. m., admission to which will be paid at the door, and the second performance beginning promptly at 8:30 p. m., admission to this performance being by the purchase of tickets in charge of Mrs. Frank Grosvenor and Mrs. L. W. Sinclair.

The whole valley is waiting to know which candidate will be the one crowned. Both organizations smile knowingly, and will not divulge their secrets. The mystery will not be solved till Thursday evening. From 2 to 3 p. m. Thursday will be your last opportunity to vote for these queen candidates. A polling place will be arranged at the entrance of the flower show. Don't fail to boost substantially for your favorite candidate.

PORTER CALKINS

Mr. Porter Calkins passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Johnson, at La Crescenta Sunday morning, May 23, at 5 o'clock, at the age of 82 years and 10 months. He deceased was the father of G. W. Calkins and the grandfather of Miss Coral Griffiths of Salem St., Glendale. He was a native of New York state.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at half past one at the Pulliam Parlors in Glendale, and interment will be in Forest Lawn cemetery.

GLENDALE CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Preceding the Sunday morning sermon, Rev. Edmonds read an unique and appreciative letter of thanks from one of the young Chinese who last Sunday morning made an appeal to the congregation for a contribution to a fund with which to purchase a piano for the Chinese mission school in Los Angeles. The appeal was responded to so liberally that the purchase of a "brand new second-hand" piano was made, adding greatly to the happiness of the new converts who listened to its music and whose representative wrote from the fullness of his heart.

Sunday morning's sermon was delivered by a distinguished minister in the church, Rev. W. E. Blackstone, the author of a number of tracts and at least one book on the subject of "The Second Coming," which has become a classic in church literature. The speaker's subject was "Our Hope," the text being from the epistle to Titus, 2:11, "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men."

The definition of grace is that of something of great value bestowed entirely without merit. If we could comprehend and realize the difference between law and grace we would undoubtedly accept this great gift that is freely offered to all and the great question comes directly to us today—Have we accepted this grace?

In speaking of his favorite theme, the preacher quoted the promise given by the ascending Savior: "If I go I will come again," and a number of other texts which establish clearly the fact of his second appearance on earth. He differed, however, from those who attempt to fix the time of his coming. There are many dates and periods fixed in the Bible, but they have particular reference to the Jewish people and are not of vital interest to us, while a great deal of harm has been done by the attempt to foretell the time of the coming.

Mr. Blackstone has been in many parts of the world and expects next September to return to China, where he formerly spent several years in missionary work. In alluding to the great war, he expressed his firm belief that the United States was created for a special and particular part which it is to play in the world's history.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Britton Ross, pastor of the Melrose Baptist church, Oakland, preached at both services of the local Baptist church yesterday. A profound impression for good resulting in the conversion of a young man and a lady as well as the awakening of the saints attended the mission of the visiting pastor. A more effective gospel preacher would be hard to find. Out of a deep experience the preacher taught most effectively the great fundamentals of the Christian life. We prophecy a great future for Rev. Britton Ross. At the morning service Rev. W. J. Gordon of Arizona led in prayer and Rev. H. B. Welinger of Indiana read the morning lesson.

The Northern Baptist convention continues this week till Wednesday. Baptists are urged to attend at least a few of the sessions of this historic gathering. Commencing today the First Methodist church, Los Angeles, will be the meeting house.

It is planned for the Baptist Gospel team to attend the Union Rescue Mission Saturday night where the members will have full charge of the service. Car leaves at 6:45. Important announcements for next Sunday.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"Lord, lay not this sin to their charge, and when he had said this he fell asleep." Are there any more beautiful words than these in all literature? Every time we read them they appear to grow in sweetness and beauty, and make the life and death of Stephen, "the first martyr," shine with a glory which constantly grows brighter. This subject as presented by Mr. Francis at yesterday morning's service was well handled and, of course, was of great help to every auditor. The forgiving spirit of Stephen is the greatest example in history excepting only that of Jesus Christ himself.

We know only a little of the life of Stephen, but his tragic death and his masterful address before his accusers, in which he sets forth God's entire plan of redemption through his chosen people, are gems of revelation which are of inestimable value to every believer. How could the gospel be presented in a single chapter with so much clearness as it is here?

PAGEANT OF NATIONS

GLENDALE SCHOOLS TO PRESENT UNIQUE AND ORIGINAL PROGRAM

On Wednesday afternoon beginning at one o'clock, the annual patron's day and May festival will be observed at the High School, to which the public are cordially invited.

The buildings will all be open, and exhibits of work done in manual training, mechanical drawing, fine arts and domestic arts will be seen in the quarters of each of these departments.

At two o'clock in front of the main building the following program will be given, the main features of which were also made in the High School, as the idea of the pageant was worked out by Miss Turner, the director of physical culture, and the music largely was composed by the pupils of the harmony classes.

All the great nations of the world come, together to choose a queen of the May, but since each wants the queen from his own country they cannot agree. They decide to summon before them the most likely maidens from each nation and to make their choice from among them. But the maidens come and go and still they cannot agree.

The spirit of Gloom enters and surrounds them. The spirit of Childhood pleads with them, but to no avail. Gloom, convinced that all will end in war and disaster, begins to stir her attendants to rejoicing, when the spirit of Peace comes to announce that she knows of a queen from the palace of Love situated in Every Nation. She is fairer than all others and is waiting to be crowned Queen of the World. The nations decide to let her come before them and when they see her they immediately prepare for the coronation.

BRIDE-TO-BE IS HOSTESS

Miss Marie Quinch of 420 West Fifth street entertained the Philathea girls of the Presbyterian church and a few out-of-town friends at her home on Saturday afternoon. This was in the nature of an announcement party, although the invited guests were in possession of the happy secret which Miss Quinch had to divulge weeks ago. A guessing game was indulged in, Miss Margaret Doyle of Darlington, Wis., winning first prize and Mrs. Moe second. The guests then were privileged to view the bride's trousseau and the many pretty things that she has prepared to make her new home a charming place. Dainty refreshments were served and the guests were delighted with the souvenirs, pictures of the hostess and her intended, mounted on pink hearts with dainty covers and attached with ribbon were cards containing the names—Marie Quinch and W. F. Fowler.

Those who wished Miss Quinch much happiness on this occasion were Mrs. Horsch, teacher of the Philathea class, and the following Philathea girls: Misses Jennie Horsch, Mina Robertshaw, Fern Porter, Elsie Wilson, Elizabeth Chandler, Alice Frank, Laura Harkness, Helen Wallace, Vera Grant, Mae McIver, and the following out-of-town guests: Mrs. Leslie Moe, Mrs. Ethel Wilde, Misses Jean McPherson of LeRoy, N. Y.; Margaret Doyle of Darlington, Wis.; Lela Vaught of Riverside; Hazel Irwin of Los Angeles; Emma Hall and Lila Hall, Pasadena; Genevieve Doyle, Ila Doyle and Leona Doyle, Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Quinch of 420 W. Fifth street entertained yesterday Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams and Miss Rickerd of Shullsburg, Wis., who were former playmates and school chums of Mr. Quinch.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, MAY 24, 1915

GLENDALE'S COMING FAIR

Loyal citizens will, with one heart and mind, work for the abounding success of Glendale's approaching Fiesta of Fruits and Flowers. Let each one advertise the great event on every side. The three days this week—May 27, 28 and 29—will constitute a memorable epoch in the history of this city. In every way let every citizen work for its success.

All praise be given the ladies who have given their time and their energies to the engineering of this fiesta! To them belongs a great part of the credit for both the idea and for its carrying out. They have advertised it and written about it and spoken about it in all the neighboring cities and whatever may be the outcome, they are deserving of the highest praise and gratitude for their disinterested labors.

It is understood that there will be a very large number of floats in the parade. The competition has been keen and the result will be a parade of the most interesting order. It should attract visitors from far and near and should be of permanent value to Glendale.

ITALY AND AUSTRIA

It seems almost certain that Italy and Austria have been at war for some days past. Germany and Austria have been profiting largely by the delay afforded them by Italy and have pushed preparations for a campaign that is likely to give the Italians a task of no insignificant magnitude. Germany has had an excellent and favorable field in Italy in which to exercise the peculiar diplomatic finesse on which she as well as the other real European continental powers pride themselves. Germany's ambassador in Italy has been playing an astute game for delay and has managed to give his country and Austria time enough to get in readiness on the frontiers.

Germany faces the new situation along with her ally, Austria, apparently undaunted and talks of calling out 2,000,000 men to meet the new enemy. It is certain, however, that the entering of Italy into the war will mean a serious weakening of Germany's present line-up in Russia and perhaps even in the west. It will also, in all probability, mean the entrance of Bulgaria, Roumania and Greece into the conflict on the side of the allies. "Wheresoever the carcass is there will the eagles be gathered together."

EUROPEAN DISREGARD OF AMERICA

Notwithstanding all that has been said and written about the power of the United States, it is abundantly manifest that while the spirit of the nation is as high and its courage as great as in 1776, the directors of its preparations for offense and defense have permitted it to fall behind in the matter of armaments to such an extent that the word or warning of the American people is counted a negligible entity by the nations of Europe.

Witness Germany's inhuman act in sending the Lusitania to the bottom of the ocean regardless of the fact that so many Americans were on board.

Look again how all Europe is acting at the present crisis. Each country is looking out for itself. Italy expects to join the allies and then that combination will draw in Greece, Bulgaria and Roumania. Under such circumstances, while a polite ear may be turned from the din of battle to America's representations, it is almost a certainty that the powerful coalitions of Europe will disregard the voice of this country more and more.

The United States is discovering that to hold the hegemony of the neutral states, each one of which is armed to the teeth, it must have an army equal to the needs of its vast territory and a fleet capable of defending its enormous coast line.

VICTORIES OF PEACE

Seven lines in an evening paper tell that the Corwin, sixty miles out from Nome, with 160 passengers and the first mail of the season, is battling against ice fields that have surrounded it. Most of the readers of the paper will pass over that item with scant understanding that there is a story of heroism that far outranks the tales of gallant deeds done on the blood-stained fields of Europe. The Corwin gets no glory and but a small percentage of profit for her venturesome voyage; yet year after year the little steamboat will be found battling through the ice to Nome.

Picture to yourself one of those fortresses such as Przemysl, which has once in the course of this war been taken from the Austrians by the Russians and now is looking forward with anxiety to the likelihood of another siege when the Austro-German forces try to recapture it. The troops in that fortress will look forward for many a weary day expecting to see the artillery and cavalry of the Russian army advancing to their relief. Thousands will lose their lives in the struggle for Przemysl. The fields around the fortress already watered by the blood of German, Austrian and Russian, will be burned and whatever wretched means of sustenance the first siege spared will be destroyed. Think of the kind of expectancy with which the people and garrison of Przemysl look forward for the advent of either the Russian or German army.

Look away north to Nome, that little outpost by the Bering sea, 2500 miles from Seattle and civilization; shut off by the iron bands of the Alaskan winter from the possibility of succor in case of disaster by fire or flood. Think of the long and terrible winter its inhabitants have endured. Look at them as day after day toward the close of May they stand by the shore of the Bering sea and strain their eye to catch a vision of the little Corwin, the relief boat, threading her way through the ice to lift the strain of the heavy eight months that have passed.

Which is the nobler mission of the two? The devastating army marching to the siege or relief of Przemysl or the dauntless little steamboat daring the dangers of the ice floes to bring comfort and relief to the anxious hearts of those who have bravely held the fort during the savagely cold days of the arctic winter, with its inevitable blizzards and its 60-below temperature? Year after year the Corwin has been the first boat to reach Nome in summer. When the ice melts in the end of May, the Corwin is always to be found battling her way into the Bering sea and with a pilot skill gained throughout sixteen years of service in arctic waters has invariably reached Nome in safety.

That is the best heroism of all. It is no easy task to follow the ice channels of the Bering sea in the latter end of May. Many vessels have been lost attempting it; it takes six weeks for the voyage by the inland passage; but the Corwin never shirks the work and the people of Nome, lifting their anxious eyes to see the first streak of smoke on the horizon that tells them that the long vigil is over, will march to the shore "with music and with laughter and with voice of shouting loud" to hail the gallant vessel and her gallant crew. Verily peace hath her victories. It is better far to save life than to destroy it.

THE PLAGUE OF FLIES

One of the plagues with which God visited the land of Egypt, at the hand of Moses, was "flies." Anyone who has seen what flies can become in the way of a plague, even at the present day, among the natives in such cities as Cairo or Alexandria, can have an idea what the ancient Egyptians suffered. Even in modern American cities the fly, the common house fly, is a pest that can make life well nigh intolerable.

Worse than all is the well-known fact that the flies that are bred by the millions wherever animals are kept—cows, horses, goats, sheep—are the surest carriers and spreaders of disease known to modern medical science. One of the greatest services ever bestowed on humanity was the heroic self-sacrifice of American men who gave themselves up for experiment in connection with the endeavor to find out the origin of yellow fever and malaria. Now it is definitely known that two different mosquitoes carry the infection of those formidable diseases. By screening the houses on the Panama canal zone the American Medical Commission has been able to reduce the death rate from malarial fever and also from yellow fever to next to nothing.

That is what can be done by a carefully organized campaign against the mosquito. In the case of the house fly a similar result might be reasonably expected. The passing of the horse from the public streets and the exclusion of other animals from the confines of a city would go far to lessen and ultimately to reduce to a negligible quantity the army of flies whose name is certainly "legion," which now infests our streets and public places and makes life miserable for man and beast alike.

One of the names given to Satan in the Bible is "god of flies." That title had a peculiar significance in the days of the kings of Israel and Judah. In the city of Jerusalem in the days of the Crusades it is narrated that there was a loathsome pool of water in the Holy City, called the "pool of flies." There the plague of flies, fattening on the neglected corpses of the poor and of the assassinated, was so astounding that we are told "the sound of their wings when they rose on being disturbed was as the rush of a mighty storm on the wings of the wind."

Modern cities have, perhaps, nothing so bad as that, but they have knowledge now of the evils that come from the fly and the knowledge makes the evil seem the greater the longer it is tolerated. By all means "swat the fly," get after him and his ilk, with every deadly weapon you can command and the city will be the cleaner and your own repose will be the sweeter and your life more comfortable.

THE BRITISH CONSCIENCE

Francis Jeffrey, the famous editor of the Edinburgh Review, in last century, once wrote in connection with the persecution and condemnation of Lord Byron, by public opinion, that every now and then the British conscience woke up and demanded a victim. It mattered not who the victim might be. A victim was demanded and the first unfortunate being who might come under the public gaze would inevitably be sacrificed to appease the British conscience. It looks as though the British were still at their old practices. The British conscience demands a victim at present for the failure of their army and navy to bring the war to a close in short order.

As there is no other suitable scapegoat in sight, Lord Kitchener, the secretary of war, has to bear the burden, and is likely to be turned out into the wilderness. It is not likely that Kitchener will heed much the criticism of the public or of his colleagues. He has been accustomed to such criticism all his days, but it will certainly hurt him badly to read in the Pall Mall Gazette the hint that he is getting too old for his job.

"That was the most unkindest cut of all." It may go far enough, too, to induce Kitchener to resign; even as the first sea lord, Baron Fisher, did a few days ago. War is often a sore thing on great reputations.

SENIOR C. E. PARTY

The Senior C. E. society of the Glendale Presbyterian church entertained the junior members of the society with a party at the church rooms Saturday evening, May 22. An interesting program, which included games and refreshments, was arranged by the junior committee of which Miss Helen Wallace is chairman. Miss Wallace was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Chandler, Miss Clyde Brooks, Miss Mabel Hodges, Miss Winnifred Taylor, Jr. and Mrs. Stafford, Mr. Hal McNutt and Mr. Joseph Wilson. Mr. D. E. Stafford, president, and Mr. C. E. Widney, vice president, were among those present. Every one, especially the little ones, had a jolly good time.

FOUR YEARS OLD

On Saturday, May 22, 1915, Master George Byron Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Watson of 1450 West Second street, reached the fourth anniversary of his birth and the event was duly celebrated with a really truly birthday party when he entertained a number of his little friends. There were all the accompaniments of a beautiful party and the children enjoyed all sorts of games under the shade of the trees. Refreshments were served and the young host generously shared the pretty birthday cake in all its glory of four lighted candles with the admiring guests. Mrs. Watson was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Chart Landreth of Whittier, in entertaining the following happy youngsters:

Georgia Rand, Evelyn Dutton, Billy Phelon, Gordon Campbell, Marian Ellis, Pauline Wilson, Cecil Wilson, Hazel Wilson, Charles Frank, Helen Wilson, Dick Martin, Garland Murdock. George Byron was the recipient of many pretty gifts that will long be treasured mementoes of his fourth birthday.

KALEM ADDS TO STAGE

These are busy days at the Kalem moving picture studio on Verdugo road. Mr. Horne has had his hands full superintending the enlargement of the stage that has been going on now for some time. A large body of carpenters has been at work on this enlargement, which is now practically completed, giving the Kalem people the largest hotel set on the coast. The new stage will also afford ample opportunity to the company to produce dramas of all kinds on a large scale. The whole stage and surrounding territory has been fitted up with powerful electric lights and electric lighting is available at all points.

Mr. Horne is starting the production of a four-reel rube comedy drama with Miss Tannahill of New York, assisted by a large New York company.

Mrs. M. Stanton, 1015 Lomita avenue, entertained a merry party of twenty friends at her home Saturday evening in honor of the twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Latter, 316 Boynton street, Tropic. A pleasant evening was spent with music and games. In the course of the evening Mr. and Mrs. Latter were presented with a handsome casserole as a souvenir of the occasion.

The people of Italy cannot claim that a tyrannical government forced them into war.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kranz and little daughter Barbara spent the weekend at their bungalow at Hermosa Beach.

Mrs. Mary O'Neill and her son Joe of 1568 Pioneer drive have gone to San Diego to see the exposition. They will remain there two weeks.

There will be a meeting of the St. Margaret Guild this evening at the home of Miss Irene G. Read, 401 North Central avenue.

Dr. D. R. Dungan of 831 Lomita is spending several days viewing the marvels of the San Francisco exposition.

Dr. and Mrs. Al Brown of San Fernando and Archie Brown and wife visited at the home of Riley Lyons on Louise street Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Daugherty and daughter Louise of Riverside are visiting the home of their cousins, Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Mottern, 340 S. Central avenue, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Davis (Michelle Le Grand) have sold their handsome residence at 1725 W. 43d street, Los Angeles, and will move to 320 Orange street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Weaver were guests at a birthday dinner in Mrs. Weaver's honor given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Weaver, 301 South Kenwood street.

Mrs. H. J. Skelton, who had been visiting at the home of Mrs. M. L. Potter, 321 Everett street, for several weeks, left for San Diego and El Centro Friday of last week and will return to Glendale Saturday.

Mr. Robert Oliver, 1411 West Colorado boulevard, entertained an old school friend, Mr. Fred Jones, of Charleston, Mo., on Sunday. The two young men spent a pleasant day and recalled old times.

Mrs. Cosgrove of Colton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. G. Jackson, 1446 West Third street. She expects to spend about three weeks here and will spend some time visiting neighboring points of interest.

Mrs. H. L. Le Grand, 1442 West Third street, entertained the following guests at dinner yesterday: Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kinser, Mrs. Robert Antibus and Miss Claire Hall.

Mrs. Edgar Galloway of Hillsdale, Mich., who is paying a visit to her sister, Mrs. Harry Howe, 1546 Burchett street, has gone up to San Francisco for a brief visit and to see the exposition. She will return to Glendale and after remaining here a few days will go back to Michigan.

An error was made in the personnel of the reception committee as it appeared in an issue of The News last week. The name of Mr. Julius Kranz should have been given in place of Mr. P. A. Kranz, while the name of Mr. P. A. Kranz should be listed in the committee in charge of the free auto rides for out-of-town guests.

ENTERTAIN OLD FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Palmer of 116 W. Colorado boulevard had as dinner guests Sunday Miss Eleanor Nare and Miss Helen Textor, who are delegates from the Delmar avenue Baptist church of St. Louis, Mo., to the Northern Baptist convention being held in Los Angeles. During the convention Miss Nare was elected Field Secretary of the Baptist Woman's Foreign Missionary society with headquarters in Chicago. Other guests of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer were Mrs. Tarling and daughter. The afternoon was spent in showing the guests some of the beauties of this part of Southern California and this renewing of old friendships was indeed delightful.

It was in '70 and '71 that one of these wicked plans to starve people was operating to the great discomfort of Paris.

AT THE CHURCHES

showed that even the infidel and skeptical world accepts Jesus as a well authenticated character of pure life and wonderful teaching, and if they tacitly acknowledge his lordship why is it that so many men who have no hesitancy in confessing that they believe him divine will refuse to yield to his authority?

The Men's class had a business meeting at the home of C. E. Hutton on Tuesday evening, at which it was decided to tender a banquet to the women in the near future. It was decided to give this next Tuesday evening, but on account of the mass meeting at the High School on that evening it has been postponed. Due announcement will be made.

A strong effort is being made to increase the attendance and efficiency of the prayer meeting. If you haven't been attending this service you are missing the most delightful part of your religious experience. Make the effort and attend this week. W. B. Kirk will be the leader.

Prof. Dungan is spending a few days at the San Francisco exposition, and will take in the state convention of the California Drys as a delegate on his way home next week.

GREAT SUNDAY

Yesterday, Whit Sunday, was a day long to be remembered in the history of the First English Evangelical church of this city. The Sunday school showed an increase of 300 per cent over the attendance at Easter and many more scholars are to be enrolled soon.

At the hour for church services, 11 a. m., the church began to fill up with members, friends and strangers until the record-breaking audience of the congregational history was present, including the 31 "Lutheran Boosters" from the First Lutheran church of Los Angeles.

With Prof. Laitinger at the organ pace was set for the many good things for that memorable hour.

The congregation was made glad to witness the half dozen new members with the knowledge of more still to follow in the near future. The splendid messages of good will and fellow interest expressed by the visiting brethren from Los Angeles filled a need even a far larger audience merited. All expressed themselves as well pleased with the most auspicious outlook for our Lutheran church in this city. We find there are many of the Lutheran household of faith in this vicinity who should avail themselves of the church of their fathers.

After services the Los Angeles visitors repaired to the parsonage, 340 South Central avenue, where they were welcomed and partook of a good dinner, which they had brought with them. Later they returned to the city well repaid for their visit to the "Jewel City."

In the absence of the pastor at Long Beach next Sunday Mr. Fisher of the First Lutheran church, Los Angeles, will bring the message of the day on the subject, "The Layman a Working Factor in the Church."

ALSTON-WRIGHT NUPTIALS

A pretty wedding in which many Glendale people are interested was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver E. Wright, 1649 Ruth street, North Glendale, Saturday evening when their daughter, Miss Ruby Frances Wright, and Mr. John Ransom Alston were united in marriage in the presence of about forty of the relatives and near friends of the young couple. The decorations were very pretty and appropriate, the color scheme being pink and white, carnations, Cecil Brunner roses and ferns being used to beautiful effect both in the living room and dining room.

Promptly at 7:30, the hour set for the ceremony, Mrs. William Alston, the mother of the groom, who is a very talented musician, began playing the wedding march and the young couple, with the officiating minister, Rev. John Henry Troy of the First Baptist church of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Alston, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, as matron of honor and best man, entered the living room and took their places before the fire place, which had been banked with ferns and studded with roses and carnations.

Rev. Troy read the beautiful ring service, which was most impressive. Both bride and groom were attired in traveling garb, the bride wearing a blue suit with hat and all accessories to harmonize. Shortly after the reception which followed the ceremony at which all had an opportunity to congratulate the newly wedded pair, refreshments were served and the bride and groom departed for one of the near by beaches to spend their honeymoon. On their return they will go to housekeeping at 1008 Maple avenue, where their home is in readiness for them and where they their home is in readiness for them, will be at home after June 10.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Alston are well known in Glendale, where they have lived for many years, the groom being a young cement contractor formerly of Lake George, N. Y. His bride won many friends while in the employ of the Parker & Sternberg Furniture company, who will wish her much happiness in her wedded life.

Roosevelt remarks that there are worse things than war, without taking time to mention any of them.

VALLEY NEWS

Theo Last and wife, who came here from Holland, Mich., winter before last in company with Peter DeGroot, Mrs. Last's brother, and wife to spend the cold months, have come back to Glendale to stay and are now living at 1512 Ivy street. Mr. DeGroot died a few months ago.

Mrs. Carrie Adams of 463 Pacific avenue accompanied her son Harold on a business trip to Riverside and San Bernardino last Thursday, they leaving Glendale at 5:30 a. m. and getting back at 11 p. m.

Mr. Frank Benedict, who lives with his daughter, Mrs. A. W. Kenyon, at 1500 Oak street, is quite a remarkable man in his way. Though past 91 years of age he is hale and hearty and works hours in his garden every day with no apparent discomfort. He lay sick all last winter in Tucson, Arizona, but since coming to Glendale has not been ill a day.

Morris Setrick and wife are building a handsome bungalow on a lot cut off from the west end of their acre of ground at Central and Oak drive.

TROPICO
The gracious hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin was accepted by several Los Angeles friends at their pretty vine-covered home on Acacia street yesterday when they entertained Miss Sue M. Packard, Miss Jeannette Kelo, Miss Catherine Roos, Miss Ethel Williamson, Miss Lottie Marsh and Miss Edna Rall. Others who enjoyed the dinner party with this bevy of prettily gowned and charming young ladies were Major J. J. Weiler and Robert N. Taylor, as well as roguish little Jim Griffin, interesting son of the host and hostess. The house was fragrant with the perfume of roses which nodded and peeped from vines over hanging doors and windows of the Griffin home, and the pretty interior decorations of myriads of sweet peas. The dining table was centered with a low cut bowl of lavender Canterbury bells and ferns. Each of the fair guests is an accomplished musician and following dinner a very enjoyable musical occupied the afternoon hours. Miss Catherine Roos rendered several piano selections. Miss Ethel Williamson and Miss Catherine Roos gave several instrumental duets and there were also vocal solos, duets and sextettes. The guests who so charmingly entertained their host and hostess were so delighted with the artistic beauty of the home, the surroundings and the hospitality of the Griffin home that they lingered until after luncheon and then with arms laden with fruits and flowers returned to their several homes in Los Angeles, where the noisy hum of the great city was forgotten in the pleasant memories of a most charming day enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. Griffin.

Mrs. Della Haggood, past department chaplain of the Woman's Relief Corps of California and Nevada, Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, president of the Kensington club, Mrs. William W. Dutton, senior vice president of N. P. Banks W. R. C., and Mrs. Geo. Peck, treasurer of N. P. Banks corps, returned Saturday evening from a two-weeks sojourn in San Jose, Santa Cruz and San Francisco. While in San Jose they attended, as delegates, the department convention of the Corps. In Santa Cruz with Mrs. Avid Imler they were the guests of Mrs. H. E. Gulvin, who formerly resided in Glendale. After visiting the Panama-Pacific exposition they attended as delegates the state convention of the Pythian Sisters, which was in session. It is superfluous to say that these ladies had a most delightful visit of two weeks in the northern cities.

Mrs. Ruth Van Court and daughter, Doris Van Court, have returned to Los Angeles after a pleasant visit of several days as the guests of Mrs. Van Court's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dutton of Virginia place.

A STRONG VAUDEVILLE BILL
Paul Pereira and his famous string quintette are at Pantages for the week starting with today's matinee. The Portuguese violinist has been out of vaudeville for some time, and his appearance on the variety stage is merely incidental to a trip east, where he is engaged to appear at Atlantic City for the summer months. The piquant beauty, Gertie Van

Dyck, appears in pianologue. The remainder of the program is comedy. The Dollie Sisters, otherwise known as Alma Grace Tuelcher and Theresa Pape, are comedienne of the daintiest type. Anderson and Beeman are comedians on roller skates.
A special feature of the week will be "A Burglar's Christmas Tree," with James F. Dolan in the title role. Dolan is the originator of the polite burglar type which is popularly represented by Raffles. He is supported by Ida Lenharr and Hugh Mack. Reed brothers, eccentric comedians, are the closing number of the program. They appear in an original farce, "The Eccentric Waiter."

WOMEN TO ELECT
The meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club tomorrow afternoon will be the annual business meeting and is the day for the election of officers for the coming year. The meeting will be called at 2:30 and will be in charge of parliamentary law section, Mrs. P. S. McNutt, chairman. The subject is amending the by-laws according to the notice given at the last meeting. One of the important amendments to be discussed is the changing of the entrance fee from $3 to $5. Miss Eileen Grist will sing a solo accompanied by her sister, Miss Esther Grist.
The polls will be open from 1:30 to 3:30 and the following names presented by the nominating committee will be balloted upon:
Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, president.
Mrs. Dan Campbell, first vice president.
Mrs. E. H. Willisford, second vice president.
Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, Mrs. O. W. Tarr, recording secretary.
Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, Mrs. Arthur Brown, corresponding secretary.
Mrs. Warren Roberts, treasurer.
Mrs. C. E. Harmon, Mrs. Lee Clotworthy, director.

EXHIBIT FRUIT
Not much has been said of the fruit exhibit to be given in connection with the Festival of Fruit and Flowers, but that does not signify that this part of the festival is to be neglected. Mrs. Jones, general chairman of the fiesta, has been at work endeavoring to work up this feature and she has secured the promise of exhibits from the chamber of commerce of San Fernando and a big display of citrus fruits from the ranch of Mr. Wiggins who is president of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce and who owns a large ranch near San Fernando. It is up to the people of Glendale to get busy now and make this exhibit worthy of the valley. Citrus exhibits will be received from any private grower or any chamber of commerce in the valley. The prize offered for the best display of miscellaneous fruit is a special for local growers.
The judges will be Messrs. F. P. Wood and W. H. Fowler of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, the third one to be chosen later to be a local man.
No finer fruit is raised anywhere than in this locality and the people of this community should take advantage of this opportunity to show what we can do along this line.

FOR THE COMFORT OF THE OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS
Glendale will be a cordial hostess to many guests from out of town at her Festival of Fruits and Flowers. Many things have been arranged for their pleasure and physical comfort. The exhibit of Fruits and Flowers will be a great drawing feature. Word has been brought that any one of our local people making entries of cut flowers in any class except Class 11 (which calls for baskets and vases) will have vessels provided for their entries, if they notify Mr. Lilly of the chamber of commerce. They must state what their entries will be, so that sufficient and suitable provision may be made for containers. There will be two delicious home cooked cafeteria dinners served for the convenience of out of town guests as well as local people on Friday and Saturday nights. Light lunches will be served on Thursday at the Masonic hall, while on Friday and Saturday the lunch booth will be located on Fifth and Brand boulevard. Sandwiches, coffee, tamales, cornucopias and soda waters will be on sale. Mrs. H. Lee Clotworthy and Mrs. E. W. Kinney are in charge of this department. A little room has been nicely fitted up in the Masonic Temple which will be used for the information bureau for all, and the headquarters for the free auto rides which a large committee of public spirited Glendale boosters will provide. The following men constitute this committee: A. T. Cowan, chairman; H. E. Bartlett, G. B. Woodberry, P. A. Kranz, J. G. Hunchberger, John Pirtle, W. E. Edmonds, J. F. Lilly, H. W. Walker, F. W. Pigg, Dr. T. C. Young, Oliver Clark, Dr. A. L. Bryant, Dr. Rudy, J. H. Flower, George T. Paine, Stephen Packer, A. W. Beach, Dr. Nat Green.

A VINDICATION
To the Editor:
My attention has been called to an article that appeared in the News of the 19th inst entitled "Look Out For Garbage," in which it was intended to show that a city ordinance had been violated and the offenders (two lone, defenseless women) had been summarily dealt with.
The contents of the article brought to my mind very vividly a poem which I read when a boy and which now adorns a page in my scrap book and was named "Sweep Before Your Door," in other words, merely an accentuation of the old saying, "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

On the 20th another article appeared to the effect that the ladies in question had been arrested and sentenced by Judge Whomes to each pay a fine of $5, but that sentence was suspended for three days in order to give them an opportunity to "comply with the ordinance," which if not done the fine would be renewed and five days added in the city jail.

Now the facts to my personal knowledge are these: The ladies who have been the target of this villification and notoriety arrived in Glendale from Seattle in March to make this city their home, and rented furnished apartments at 425 Cedar street, where they have been residing ever since. They knew nothing of the existence of such an ordinance and even if they had known it was the duty of the landlord from whom they rented to furnish all accessories. If the ordinance mentioned (No. 247) is to be enforced let it fall upon every one alike, regardless of their social or financial position, but a quiet walk through some of the alleys of this city leads me to the conclusion that "there are others" among the "higher ups."

This is certainly an appreciative welcome to our beautiful city, and one that should be emulated and encouraged. While the garbage perhaps was not placed in the sort of receptacles required by said ordinance I ask, in all candor, what proportion of the garbage cans in use are? The same ordinance also provides that the garbage shall be removed from the alleys of the city "at least once each week, and disposed of in such a manner as not to become a nuisance or menace or danger to public health." In this particular case, the garbage had not been removed for at least three weeks. Who committed the greater crime, the ladies or the city? Now to enumerate:

1. This widespread notoriety and trouble would never have been noticed had there been a male occupant at the foregoing premises.
2. The ladies were not arrested, as per your news item, nor was there any warrant issued for their arrest. Trusting you will do me the favor and justice to the ladies involved by publishing this statement, I am yours for right and justice.

NORTH GLENDALE
Miss Alpha Clement of 1321 North Pacific avenue was the guest of friends on a motor trip to Universal City, Sunday, and enjoyed dinner in the evening at the Alexander Grill in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eckles of Polk, Neb., who have spent the winter in California, most of which time has been spent in North Glendale visiting their son, Dr. J. E. Eckles of 920 N. Central avenue, expect to leave for their home in a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Eckles have made many friends while here who regret to see them go and who wish them a safe journey.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jocelyn of 1641 Ruth street are entertaining as their house guest Mr. Jocelyn's sister, Mrs. Sarah Kearns of Redlands, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander of Sixth street, Burbank, were North Glendale visitors Sunday and enjoyed a Spanish dinner at La Ramada.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson of 1636 Ruth street entertained as their guest for the day, Sunday, Mr. Wilson's brother, Mr. Burt Wilson of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fryer of 1424 North Pacific avenue enjoyed attending the Temple Baptist church in Los Angeles Sunday morning and after the services were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Langley of Boyle Heights, well known former residents of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clement of 1321 North Pacific avenue are entertaining as their house guest Mr. Clement's sister, Mrs. R. D. Greer of Ontario, Cal., who leaves shortly for an extended visit with relatives in Oregon.

Miss Mary Wilhelm of Sawtelle was a week-end guest of her niece, Mrs. O. E. Wright of 1649 Ruth St.

PAUL BROOKS, TIMES SCHOLARSHIP CONTESTANT
Paul Brooks is climbing fast in the annual scholarship contest of the Los Angeles Times. He entered the contest only last Tuesday and by Saturday noon the total number of points had passed the twenty-one thousand mark. He has succeeded in doing this all alone and if those who are subscribers of the Times will save the voting coupons and others wishing to aid him by turning in their subscriptions will do so by phoning to 1006W their co-operation will be much appreciated. His residence is at 211 S. Jackson street, Glendale.

Friends of Paul think that he will make a good showing in the contest, although he has entered two weeks late.

FOOTHILL CLUB
The Foothill club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. F. J. Wheeler, 1330 N. Maryland, and this hospitable lady was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. E. B. Wyman and Mrs. Leo Wheeler. The decorations were of myriads of bouquets of Caroline roses and Ulrich Brunner roses which lent their beauty and fragrance for the enjoyment of the guests. A musical program consisting of vocal selections by Mrs. Eugene Hart of Clinton, Mo., who sang very sweetly "The Perfect Day" and "In the Dark and in the Dew," piano solos by Mrs. R. W. Masters, a talented pupil of Brahms van den Berg, who gave selections by Wienanski and Edouard Shutt in a manner worthy of her famous instructor, was a truly delightful treat. Five hundred was enjoyed during the afternoon and the players were soothed with music on the Victrola during the games and refreshed with delicious punch. Winners of the prizes were Mrs. Menzo Williams, first prize; Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, second prize, and Mrs. C. E. Davison, guest prize.

Refreshments were served, the ices being cleverly moulded in the form of playing cards.
Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Eugene Hart of Clinton, Mo., Mrs. C. E. Davison, Mrs. H. O. Wilson, Mrs. Pascal Borden Johnson, all of Los Angeles; Mrs. George Vivrett of Pasadena, Miss Margaret Vivrett of Montreal, Canada, Mrs. R. W. Masters and Mrs. Elmer Masters of Glendale.
Mrs. Menzo Williams, assisted by Miss Ellen Williams, will entertain the Foothill club on Friday, June 18.

STREET PARADE TO BE BIG SUCCESS
Plans for Glendale's street parade on next Saturday afternoon are fast assuming completion and if the efforts of two enthusiastic committees count, this parade promises to excel in both magnitude and beauty anything yet attempted in Southern California, except perhaps the Pasadena and Los Angeles parades. The listing committee, of which Mr. Clem Moore is chairman, reports over fifty entries with prospects of at least 100.
The prize committee composed of Messrs. J. N. McGillis, chairman; G. B. Woodberry and H. A. Wilson, have arranged the prizes into five classes and five cash prizes of $20 each, one proposed for the floats winning first place in their respective divisions, as follows:
(a) For the best float entered by a business firm.....$20
(b) For the best float entered by a Woman's club.....$20
(c) For the best float entered by a public school.....$20
(d) For the best float entered by a fraternal organization....$20
(e) For the best float entered by any private citizen.....$20
In addition to the above cash prizes the committee has secured many valuable prizes of merchandise which will be awarded among the various divisions. The following prizes are offered:
By the Los Angeles Olive Growers' association, 1 gallon Sylmar olive oil.
Pacific Coast Biscuit company, 5 dozen packages "Swastika" Snow Flake crackers.
Mr. A. T. Cowan, one year's subscription to Evening News.
Kahy-Beck Co., 4 large tins crackers.
Newmark Bros., 3 lb. can Newmark coffee.
Stetson Barrett Co., 3 lb. can Red Hussar coffee.
Joannes Bros., 3 lb. can Ben Hur coffee.
Glendale Broom Co., 1 broom.
Mr. H. J. Sherman, 1 sack Empress flour.
Morehouse & Co., 1 doz. bottles salad mustard.
Mr. Wm. H. Hyatt, 5 bottles Hyatt's grape juice.
Cero Manfg. Co., 50 packages "Cero" and 50 bottles salad dressing.
Union Oil Co., 5 gals. Motoreze oil.

SABBATH SCHOOL OFFICIALS HAVE MEETING
Friday evening, May 21, the officers and teachers of the Presbyterian Sabbath school gathered at 6:30 in the lecture room of the church where supper was served to 40. Three teachers were out of town and three unable to come. The object of this gathering was to bring officers and teachers together to talk over plans for improving the school or to present any difficulties.
The tables were beautifully decorated with a lavish supply of exquisite red roses. At the close of the supper, while the workers were still seated at the table, the superintendent, David Black, acted as chairman of the occasion, and with a well-timed anecdote or allusion to the work of the different officers called each one to speak along their particular branch of work. The teachers were next called upon for remarks.
The growth of the school has been gratifying. Four years ago the average attendance was about 130. It is now 327. Then the primary department occupied a little platform in the corner of the old church and at the time the new church was dedicated it was found necessary to build a bungalow to accommodate the growing department which at the present time is almost crowded with its many classes, some Sabbaths having almost as many as 110 or 116 present. The superintendent, Mrs. Stauffardson, is assisted by an efficient corps of 10 teachers and a secretary who is also pianist.

(Another Good Reason)

THE management of the Bank of Glendale adheres to the principle that the banking institution that most carefully safeguards its business in order to protect its depositors is the bank that most merits public confidence.
There is a GUARANTEE OF SAFETY in the strict rules that govern this bank's conduct. The laws under which we are organized do not permit an officer to borrow $1.00 of the bank's funds.
This Bank is not only under state supervision, but is regularly examined by Los Angeles Clearing House.
We are surrounded with every precaution known to safe banking.

Besides the class rooms arranged in the new church it was found necessary to finish a room in the tower to accommodate the large class of young men. Vacant space which had been left in which to place a pipe organ when the time was ripe was made into a class room which is occupied by a class of young ladies numbering over 30.
The large brotherhood class uses the old church building for their study period, but all classes assemble together for opening exercises and for lack of room it has become necessary now to assemble in the church auditorium for the opening exercises. The aim of the Sabbath school is that every member become a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ and unites with His church. A part of the program not arranged by the superintendent was a surprise planned by the teachers and officers. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, after expressing her thoughts in rhyme, in behalf of the officers and teachers presented Mr. Black with a beautiful seal ring, thus showing their love for him and appreciation of his ability and faithfulness as a superintendent of this Sabbath school, which office he has filled for over four years.
One of the good effects the influence of great events throughout the world is having upon the American people is to drive out pettiness of spirit in politics and in other national life. We have greater solidarity and better poise today as a people than we ever had before.
